PARENTS DEFEND ORGANIZATIONS OF SCHOOL STUDENTS

Voice Approval of Societies at Regular Meeting of School Board

"SOME OF FINEST PUPILS BELONG," SAYS H. B. TROUT

William H. Plank Sends Informal Resignation As Member of H. S. Faculty

The existence of secret societies in the Palmyra High School was a subject of much discussion by parents and School Board members alike at the regular monthly meeting of the Board held last Thursday night.

Several parents were present to defend their sons or daughters membership in the clubs now existing among high school students. The Palmyra School Board recently barred students from membership in any secret organization, such membership being contrary to the state law.

Herbert Trout defended the sorority now in the school, saying that the organization often met at his home and that, in his opinion, some of the finest girls in the high school were members of the club.

Defends Fraternity

Defense of the fraternity to which many of the high school boys belong was undertaken by Fred Green, who read aloud in parts the by-laws of the group, hoping to show that the Board could not in any way find fault with an organization governed by such rules. A. Harold Zavoth also spoke in favor of the offending societies.

Charles Mervine, a member of the Board, said each high school student is entitled to the same thing, and when the society requires every member to be a pupil in the high school it brings the school into a bad light by making it appear as if the school authorities recognized a secret society. Such recognition is against the State law.

Frank Durgin, president of the board, questioned the parents as to whether or not the meetings were held behind closed doors. Should such a condition exist, the society must be termed a secret organization. When he received a negative answer, he closed the discussion by telling the interested persons that worry for the future existence of the societies was groundless.

A communication from Dr. Dean B. LeFaivre requested the full support of the school board in the campaign the Board of Health is making to prevent the spread of contagious diseases. Members of the board favored the motion that principals and teachers make report of those diseases of which they felt the board of health was not aware.

Plank Resigns

The informal resignation of one of the high school teachers was received, together with a request from another teacher for a leave of absence for a one-year period. William H. Plank, a member of the faculty for three years, in his communication advised the board not to consider him for a position next year. He also expressed his thanks for the support rendered him by the board in his past undertakings. The clerk was instructed to write Mr. Plank thanking him for his appreciation, and wishing him "God-speed" and good luck in the future. Miss Vida Fairchild asked for a year's leave of absence, to be spent in studying for a degree. This matter was held over for future discussion.

A report from Prof. C. P. Dengler, school supervisor, announced several dates of importance, chiefly to the senior class. He said the commencement exercises would be held Thursday, June 18, with Dr. Broome, superintendent of the Philadelphia schools, already procured as the speaker. The annual trip to Washington by the Palmyra seniors will be taken April 27, 28 and 29.

He also said that an investigation conducted by a member of the Home Economics department shows a unit-kitchen type of organization, something suggested as an improvement in the Palmyra schools, has been the most satisfactory. This type of organization is also highly recommended by the State department.

Attendance Higher

An attendance report showed a slightly higher percentage than last month. A total enrollment of 1235 school students was listed, with a 91.4 per cent attendance average. The high school showed the highest average, 95.2 per cent of the 423 students attending.

Since the proposed twilight baseball league has been without a place to play, the board was asked to set terms for the use of the high school athletic field. After considerable discussion, it was decided to rent the field for the summer months at a cost of $50. The season would last from May 1 to September 1, and league officials must make arranbements for proper caretaking of the grounds, and also arrange their schedule so that no dates between twilight league and high school games would conflict.

Consideration was also given to the application of the high school year-book staff that the school board place a full page ad in the publication, the "Tilicum."

Easter Services

Sacred Heart Church

Attention is called to the time of the services on Sunday morning—11 a. m. instead of 11:15 a. m.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"UNREALITY" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, April 5, 1931.

The Golden Text is: "The things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are not seen are eternal." (II Corinthians 4:18).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And Jesus went about all the cities and villages, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing every sickness and every disease among the people." (Matthew 9:35).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "If the Scientist reaches his patient through divine Love, the healing work will be accomplished at one visit, and the disease will vanish into its native nothingness, like dew before the morning sunshine" (p. 365).

CARD PARTY AND DANCE

Saturday night the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Riverton Fire Company is giving a card party and dance. Aside from the usual clever arrangement of these parties, the ladies have secured, through the assistance of Director W. E. McFadden, to have Marty Regan from the Emmont Welch minstrels and Earl Raleigh, the Philadelphia singing "cop" of radio fame, who will add their contribution to the evening's entertainment. Mr. and Mrs. Mecker and the McGonagle boys of Philadelphia, will also be the guests of the boys that night. Everyone is urged to be present and enjoy the splendid evening planned.

Calvary Presbyterian

Charles T. Bates, Minister

Calvary Presbyterian Church will observe Easter with special Easter music and message at the morning service of worship at 11 o'clock next Sunday. All departments of the Church School will meet at 10 a. m. Vesper Service at 5 p. m. with Easter music and message. Christian Endeavor at 7 p. m.

The evening Thursday, will be the Holy Communion and reception of members.

Tomorrow evening, Friday, at 8 p. m. a special service commemorating the death of our Saviour.

The Golden Hour Circle will meet Friday evening, April 10th at 8 p. m. in the church parlor.

A Men's Bible Class will be formed which will meet for the first time Sunday, April 12th, at 10 a. m. in the transept of the church auditorium. The pastor will teach the class, Marlen E. Shockley is the leader and Robert M. Martin, the organist. All the men of the congregation and those not in attendance at any other church school are cordially invited to join this class.

The Annual Congregational Meeting of Calvary Presbyterian Church will be held on Wednesday, April 8th, at 8 p. m. for the purpose of electing three members of the Board of Trustees to serve for three years, three members of the Auditing Committee to serve for one year, and the transaction of such other business as may come before the meeting.

All organizations connected with the church are expected to present their financial reports for the year at this time.

S. I. W. FIELD, Secretary.
Board of Trustees.

MORAVIAN CHURCH

REV. ALBERT HARKE

Maundy Thursday commemorates the institution of the Lord's Supper, that most sacred and spiritual feast of the Christian Church. Our Communion service is at 8:00 p. m., at which time the thirteen young people who made their public profession of faith on Palm Sunday, will partake of their first communion.

Good Friday is another sacred memory day commemorating our Lord's death on Calvary. Our special service will be at 2:30 p. m.

The women came early on the first day of the week to demonstrate their sorrowing love for their dead Master, but were overwhelmed with joy by the miracle of Easter, the resurrection of Jesus.

We come early, at the dawn of Easter day to the house of worship to confess anew our faith in the crucified, but now risen and living Christ. Then out in "God's Acre" we express our assurance in the resurrection of all that sleep in Jesus, and seek renewed comfort in the bereavements that have come during the year. This early service begins at 5 o'clock on Easter morning.

At 10:40 a. m. Easter liturgy and sermon by the pastor.

Easter evening at 7:30, the Primary department of the Sunday School will present a short Easter program, after which the choir will render the Easter cantata, "Life Eternal."

FOUR CANDIDATES FOR FREEHOLDER

Two Independents Enter Field To Oppose Stout and McCormick

Two independent candidates have entered the contest for the Republican nomination for Freeholder, opposing Charles R. Stout, of Florence Township, and James C. McCormick of Burlington Township, incumbents, who are candidates for renomination with the endorsement of the combined Republican county organization.

The independent candidates are H. Blanchard Earnest, Riverside tipperal director, who was also a candidate last year, and L. R. Adams, member of the Burlington Township Committee.

Mr. Stout who made his formal announcement last week, bases his candidacy on his record as Director of Roads, a position which he has held for many years, during which the present splendid road system in Burlington County has been developed.

Mr. McCormick has served one term on the board and has been Director of Bridges. He also points to the efficient manner in which he has conducted his office and the many savings which he has effected for the benefit of the taxpayers of the county.

WANT PLACE FOR YOUNG OFFENDERS

Burlington County Arranging With Camden For Use of Detention Home

What to do with juvenile offenders is the question which is puckering the brows of Burlington County Freeholders.

According to law, boys and girls under 16 years of age when arrested for whatever offense may not be committed to a county jail or local lockup.

Burlington county has no place where such offenders may be held awaiting trial, and during the past week Freeholder J. Lloyd Wright visited the Camden County home for the purpose of making arrangements to have juveniles taken care of by the Camden County institution.

At the meeting of the Burlington County Board of Freeholders last Friday Mr. Wright reported on his visit and stated that the Camden board would act on the proposition the following Tuesday.

To avoid a dangerous crossing where Routes 40 and S-40 converge at Ong's Hat, the state highway commission has proposed that a slight deviation be made in the New Lisbon-Four Mile road, which will require the building of about 2194 lineal feet of new gravel road, 30 feet wide, at state expense.

J. L. Hughes, assistant commissioner of immigration at Washington, sent a communication to the board in which he made clear that the county is not required to help aliens in need of public aid, and advised that they could be deported, if in this country less than three years, and the government would pay the transportation.

In making repairs to the Browns Mills-New Lisbon road, County Engineer Smith reported it had been deemed advisable to straighten out a curve near Browns Mills, but it would be necessary to acquire about ten feet of land owned by Samuel and Jemima Fidelli at a cost of about $200, and he recommended that this be done. The matter was referred to the county solicitor.

The auditors report was received and accepted.

The following bills were ordered paid: Finance, $79,826; roads, $6174.70; bridges, $1590.09; buildings, $11,358.18; public affairs, $2742.12; total, $101,691.09.

CORRECTION

We should like to take this opportunity to correct the statement made in the P. T. A. article in The News, issue of March 19, to the effect that Palmyra was one of five standard associations in Burlington county. The announcement had been made at the Southern County Council and was to the effect that Palmyra was one of five associations in the county to receive a certificate for Summer Round-up Work, which is one of the requirements of a standard organization.

NOVELTY CLOCK CONTEST

An opportunity for the lucky people to win valuable prizes is offered by Schwering's Hardware Store this week. An eight-day clock, started last Saturday noon will be left to run without winding. The person submitting the closest guess as to the stopping time of the clock has a choice of several prizes on display in the window. Adults and children alike are invited to make their guesses, with the luckiest persons taking home the prizes.

Bail was fixed at $1,500 for Art O'Brien of Salem, Ore., who stole 18 cents.

AL. VANSCIVER WINS THIS WEEK

Lived Near Old Toll Gate in 1888 and Drank From Old Pump

Albert Vansciver, chief of the railroad section crew from Morris Junction to Riverside wins the Memory Teaser this week.

The letter of Mrs. Storicks, published below, contained more information, but was not received by Monday night, the date limit set.

Edward S. Wood also recalls the old toll gate and writes an interesting letter about it.

Riverton,
March 26, 1931.

Editor of The New Era:

The picture of the house shown in The New Era Memory Teaser this week was the old toll gate house at Five Points, between the Burlington Pike and Church Road.

The toll gate was tended by Mr. Louis Heiter in 1888. Mr. and Mrs. Heiter made their home there.

Mrs. Heiter was the mother of Frank and Henry Storicks.

I lived on the Burlington Pike near this toll gate in 1888 and had many a drink of water from the old pump there.

Yours truly,
ALBERT VANSCIVER.
7th and Cinnaminson street,
Riverton, N. J.

Editor New Era:

Referring to your recent photograph of the old toll gate at Five Points, I believe the last toll gate keeper was Sam Lloyd, although there was a man by the name of Horner who was there about that time.

The keeper had a little store in connection with the office where candy was kept in jars and plug tobacco was kept in black plugs and cut off in lengths with a knife very much like the present paper shears.

The toll gate was naturally a point of gossip and a good deal of the local news of the community was spread from that point.

Very truly yours,
EDWARD S. WOOD.
Riverton, N. J.

Dear Editor The New Era:

I am writing about the toll gate at Five Points, Burlington Pike. My husband, Frank Storicks, knows all about it I guess.

When 18 years old he lived at John (William?) Morgan's, that brick house on Highland avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Heiter, his mother and step-father, went there to live.

They were there about 30 years, then mother died and Mr. Heiter went to the Old Men's Home, 38th street, Philadelphia.

He lived about 3 years and has been dead for the past 23 years.

I spent many a good time there with my children, one son, Felix Storicks, deceased, and one daughter Mrs. Sallie Horner, now living at Newark, N. J.

Mr. Henry Heiter, Cinnaminson, is a son, and there were two daughters, one is Mary O'Neal, East Riverton, and Kate Hephner, Five Points is the other.

My husband, Frank Storicks, was disabled two years ago when he was crushed at Joseph Evans' coal yard January 28, 1929, so I am keeping him by taking boarders.

Please let me hear from you and send a copy if you publish this. My son, Harry Storicks, sent the copy of the paper with the old toll gate.

Yours,
MRS. TILLIE STORICKS,
1800 W. 3rd Street,
Chester, Pa.

PORCH CLUB NOTES

On Tuesday, March 31 the Dramatic Section presented two plays to a large and enthusiastic audience of club members and their friends. The Choral Section opened the program by singing two selections. These were followed by the play, "Matrimony Preferred" which is an amusing little skit showing how the bridge table conversation of three married friends, acted by Mrs. J. D. Clark, Mrs. Stuart B. Clark and Mrs. Edward W. J. Hunn influenced the unmarried hostess, Mrs. Howard S. Coe to accept her suitor. Three different attitudes toward matrimony are cleverly contrasted and the performance was splendidly done. This play is distinguished as it is the play that won the prize in 1929 in the Dramatic Contest of New Jersey's Club Women.

"Many Happy Returns of the Day" was equally as attractive but very different in type. In it the principal character portrayed by Mrs. H. W. Shreve, sees her past in visions of herself as she was at the ages of ten, twenty and thirty. Miss Dorothy Sargent, Mrs. Gorham P. Sargent and Mrs. Maurice G. Belknap acted the parts of the birthday visions. Mrs. Nathan Lane, Jr., acted as the heroine's best friend and Mrs. George M. Ruoff represented the maid. It is a character study and the unfolding and development of a personality by the comparison of the past with the present was delightfully done by all that took part.

Refreshments were served after the performance.

Makes First Arrest

JOHN ROBINSON
Latest addition to Riverton Police Force, who picked up professional crook last Friday.

ROBINSON NABS AGED BURGLAR

Riverton's Youngest Officer Picks Up Man Old in Crime

Officer John Robinson, Riverton's cub patrolman, distinguished himself as an alert policeman when he arrested single handed Joseph De Lange, a 74 year-old burglar with a 35-year record of crime.

The arrest was made about 3:30 a. m., Friday. Robinson, driving alone slowly up the police car with the lights out, came upon De Lange at the corner of Fourth Street and Linden avenue. De Lange upon being spotted attempted to run but was soon overhauled and taken to police headquarters by Robinson. A search of his person revealed a jimmy and a quantity of paper and string.

At a hearing before Police Recorder Cecil A. Bowers De Lange was committed to Mt. Holly on a charge of vagrancy and possession of burglar tools.

County Detective Ellis H. Parker immediately recognized him as the man he arrested 19 years ago for burglary, at which time he received a sentence of from eight to thirty years in prison.

The career of De Lange is one interspersed with romance, tragedy and crime. De Lange was born in Switzerland in 1856 and remained in Europe until he reached the age of twenty-four. During that time he served in the French army. Embarking at Liverpool, England, in 1880, he came to Canada where he worked at many positions until he became an engineer on a Canadian railroad at a salary of $275.00 month. Later he bought a stable in Canada and amassed a small fortune.

At this point in his career he became engaged to marry but several days before the wedding was to have taken place the girl broke the engagement. According to De Lange some enemy of his was supposed to have poisoned the mind of the girl's mother against him.

In an attempt to drown his sorrow he sold his business in Canada and came to the United States where he squandered the money he had accumulated and at the age of forty embarked on a career of crime. As a protege of Jim Osborne, notorious criminal, he soon learned to be a proficient second-story man, always working alone and never toting a gun. He knew the value of jewels and clothing and on many occasions stole valuable loots. Bedrooms with the victims sleeping peacefully a few feet from him. He was never known to confess a crime unless actually caught on the "job," and modestly admits that the largest "haul" he ever made amounted to $2,400.00. Of his thirty-four years in crime he has spent twenty-four behind the bars.

He denies any robberies in Riverton and insists he was merely taking a stroll through town.

PHI NU CLASS

The subject for this Sunday's lesson is the ever beautiful story of the Resurrection. It teaches the joy of living. The joy of spring and the renewal of life around it are ever present reminders of the resurrection of Jesus. His arising from the dead sustains our faith and hope of man kind.

The regular monthly meeting will be held the second Monday in April at the home of Mrs. Robert Gowell, 211 Cinnaminson street, Riverton.

An earnest request is made for a full attendance on Easter Sunday.

BEER SEIZED, 13 ARRESTED AFTER RAID ON ARCADIA

Deputy Sheriff Leads Party in Descent on Cinnaminson Avenue Grill

PATRONS PAY FINE OF $10 AND COSTS

Four Customers Are Girls; Nine Found in Place Are From Philadelphia

A raiding party of eleven persons, including State Police, raided an alleged liquor selling establishment near Palmyra last Saturday night and arrested thirteen persons, including the bartender and an assistant.

The eleven patrons who were arrested were forced to pay a fine of $10 each and costs when arraigned before Justice of the Peace Bowers of Riverton.

Alexander Smith, proprietor and bartender, and James Gaines, assistant, were released under $500 bail to appear before Supreme Court Justice Howard Stackhouse.

The place raided was the Arcadia Cafe on Cinnaminson avenue, across from Morgan Cemetery, just outside the limits of Palmyra borough. The raiding party found six half-barrels of alleged high powered beer in the house when they entered it late Saturday night. The Arcadia Grill is extensively advertised as an establishment for serving chicken and steak dinners.

Most of the patrons gave addresses outside of Palmyra. One Palmyra man was caught and another man gave Riverside as his address, but the others all gave Philadelphia as their home. Smith and Gaines also said their homes were in Palmyra.

Those arrested by the raiders were Mr. and Mrs. J. Cranmer, Thomas Hayes, George Wickard, Helen and Irene Howard, John Thompson, Grace Stone and Elmer Smith, all of Philadelphia; William MacIntire of Palmyra and John Yankowski of Riverside.

Those assisting under Sheriff Charles Carslake in the raid were Corporal Wood, Troopers Turnbull, Seidle, Forkin and Rohmer of the Delance State Police, Sergeant Cox, Troopers Rutter, Speed and Irwin of the Columbus barracks, Constable Smith of Mount Holly and Constable Schadle of Columbus.

FIRE COMPANIES AND LEGIONNAIRES HOLD ANNUAL GATHERING

Post Frederick M. Rodgers, No. 126 American Legion of Palmyra will hold its "final month" meeting at the Legion Home Tuesday evening, at eight o'clock.

After a short business session the members of the Post will go to the Riverton Fire House, where George Decker and the members of the Co. F. boxing and wrestling team will entertain them.

The members of the Palmyra and Riverton Fire Companies are also invited to enjoy the evening with the Legionnaires.

The members of the Post and the Fire Companies look forward to this event with keen interest.

K. of C. RALLY

The Knights of Columbus are holding a rally throughout Burlington County including Merchantville, Haddon Heights, at the Knights of Columbus Home, Palmyra, Tuesday evening, April 7.

There will be entertainment, an address by a prominent citizen of Philadelphia, and reports of K. of C. activities all over the county.

There will also be suitable exercises in celebration of paying off $2,250 on the mortgage on the K. of C. Home, Palmyra.

BIG MONEY SAVING SALE

E. A. MECHLING YW BANQUET SPEAKER

Burlington County Business Girls Join In Nation-Wide Meeting

Edward A. Mechling, of Moorestown, addressed the business girls of the Burlington County Y. W. C. A. at their annual Nation-Wide Banquet, on Tuesday evening of last week at the First Methodist Episcopal Church in Mount Holly.

Mr. Mechling mentioned world peace, prohibition, industrial conditions and unemployment as situations where definite convictions are needed. In the realm of better interracial understanding, he emphasized the need for living ones convictions rather than talking about them.

"The theme for the banquet was, 'Each man is a tiny faucet that taps the infinite reservoir of God! What if they turned the faucet full-stream? What if millions were aware? What if tomorrow they built in their dreams the City of Brothers in laughter and prayer?'"

Beatrice Shadell, of Mount Holly, spoke of the development of the nation-wide banquet idea from its beginning in 1928. This year over two hundred and seventy-five associations in the United States held similar banquets with fourteen foreign countries participating. Interesting messages from many of these associations were read by Dorothy French, of Moorestown.

Vesper Service

"Life in many ways resembles a river flowing," said Mrs. Stella Morris at a Girl Reserve Vesper Service given Sunday afternoon, March 29, at the Church Street Y. W. C. A. club room in Moorestown by the High School Girl Reserves of the Y. W. C. A. Mrs. Morris gave a delightful talk on "Life," reminding the girls of the life of plants and animals.

"People, in their own lives," she said, "suffer without being harmed, just as a piece of clay is pinched and moulded into a better shape by the potter."

Mrs. John Ranson sang "Keep on Hoping" and was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Earl Williams, the club adviser. Camella Moore, the president, was in charge of the services.

Vocational Information

This week Y. W. C. A. bulletin boards are being placed in all high schools for the purpose of spreading information about vocations. The Senior Club Committee of the Y. W. C. A., of which Hannah Severns is the chairman, is responsible for the purchase of the boards and will keep accurate and up to date information on them.

Y. W. C. A. Club Notes

Marlton Girl Reserves, under the leadership of Miss Elizabeth Tomlinson, have elected as officers president, Edna Horner; secretary and treasurer, Edna Middleton; reporter, Marie Wood; pianist, Evelyn Snyder. The club met Friday at the home of Evelyn Snyder. Besides music and devotions, the program included the making of silhouettes by the girls.

Mrs. Ruth Carhart was the speaker and singer at the meeting of the Palmyra Girl Reserve club Thursday evening, March 26. She instructed the girls in the art of "part" and "round" singing.

TONS OF BIG TROUT FREED IN STREAMS

New Jersey Leads Nation in Planting Game Fish of Catchable Size

Seventy-five tons of recently distributed trout will be waiting in New Jersey streams for rod and reel sportsmen when the angling season opens April 15. Scintillating flashes of living color, as, during recent weeks, they have flipped from wardens' pails into their new watery habitat, these rainbows and browns and brook trout form part of this State's greatest restocking project yet conducted from its world famous fish hatchery at Hackettstown.

A half-million trout make up this piscatorial tonnage. They run in size from six to fifteen inches and over. In New Jersey's 1,000 miles of streams, that means an average of 500 adult fish to the mile added to the natural increase of fish left over from plantings of previous years. Another quarter-million trout, under legal catching size, are being placed in the 400 miles of brooks that are trout stream feeders.

For a decade New Jersey has led all states in the distribution of adult trout and its new record this year is far beyond that of any rival commonwealth.

LOCAL ORCHARDISTS TO GET FREE SPRAY SERVICE

Local fruit growers who do not receive the free spray service of the Burlington County Extension Service, with its timely and accurate information on spraying to control fruit insects and diseases, are urged by Charles A. Thompson, county agricultural agent, to apply immediately to him for this service. It is already time to wage the annual fight against the insects and diseases which will threaten the county's fruit crop, he warns, and delay in taking measures of control is likely to result in lowering both the size and the quality of the crop.

McCORMICK ENTERS FREEHOLDER RACE

Burlington Township Man Appeals to Voters on His Record as Director of Bridges

To the Voters of Burlington County:

I hereby announce my candidacy for the Republican nomination for the office of member of the Board of Chosen Freeholders of Burlington County at the Primaries on May 19, 1931.

At the General Election three years ago you intrusted me with this very important office and after being sworn in on January 1st, 1922, I was appointed Director of Bridges, to which duties, and other duties of the board, I have devoted my entire time, having given over to my son the management of my farm.

During my incumbency I have conscientiously attended to every detail of my office, with a careful weighing of every problem that has come before the board.

Real economy has been my aim. I have effected a saving in the bridge department by a reduction of the bridge budget, at the same time adding to and improving the tools, machinery and other equipment used by the repair gang.

Thus I submit to you, the voters of the county, my candidacy and earnestly hope that my work during the past few years will warrant your support at the primaries on May 19th.

JAMES C. McCORMICK.

BURLINGTON HI-Y VISITS TRENTON

Senior Boys Enjoy Educational Trip Through Places of Interest

Members of the Burlington Senior Hi-Y Club spent Friday on an educational trip to Trenton, accompanied by Secretary Guy C. Hendry, of the County Y. M. C. A.

A letter of introduction from his father, conveyed by Howard Eastwood, Jr., to Col. Edward Stone, head-keeper of the state prison, resulted in a trip through that institution. From there the party went to the Central Y. M. C. A., enjoying the various games afforded by the boys' department, and a swim before lunch.

Immediately following the noon meal Charles A. Green, general secretary of the Trenton Y. M. C. A., spoke informally to the fellows, sharing with them his earlier life experiences and convictions as to the part they really play in later success.

The club then visited the Trenton Times, where they were given the privilege of a tour of the complete plant, with an experienced guide, who explained every step in the process of turning out a daily.

The last place visited was the new Museum in the State House Annex.

Change Convention Plans

Although held in Burlington for the past two dozen years, and early in May, the annual County Y. M. C. A. convention, this year, will come a month later, June 12, and will be held at Camp Ockanickon, by vote of the county general board, at its March meeting. A special convention committee has the planning of this affair in charge, which will take into account the fact that 1931 marks the twenty-fifth year of Y. M. C. A. Camp Ockanickon.

Ockanickon In Demand

A surprising number of reservations are booked at the Burlington County Y. M. C. A. headquarters for the use of Camp Ockanickon during the spring season up until the time the boys are encamped there. Sunday School picnics, young people's conferences, Y. M. C. A. groups, men's Bible classes, women's clubs and organizations of a similar character have already filled out application forms and filed them with the registrar of camp dates, Secretary Guy C. Hendry.

The completion of the new Nature Study log cabin within a week or so will make available another place where such parties can be housed.

OCEANOGRAPHIC INSTITUTE TO HAVE BRANCH IN N. J.

Announcement was made at New Brunswick that in the New Jersey Agricultural Experiment Station will be located the department of marine microbiology of the newly organized Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution, which has been made possible by a $2,500,000 gift of the Rockefeller Foundation. Dr. S. A. Waksman, microbiologist of the New Jersey experiment station, has been appointed a research associate of the oceanographic institute, and as such he will be head of its department of marine microbiology. H. W. Reuszer, experiment station research assistant in soil microbiology, has been appointed a research assistant of the new department, effective July 1.

UNDERWOOD TAKES UP WORK IN COUNTY

New Assistant Farm Agent Established Fine Record for Work in Pennsylvania

At a recent meeting of a committee from the Burlington County Board of Agriculture, Russell E. Underwood was appointed Assistant County Agent and took up his duties last week.

Mr. Underwood was born and brought up on a farm in Clearfield County, Pa., and for four years after graduating from Pennsylvania State College in 1918, acted as farm superintendent for the Whyle Coal Company, of Westmoreland County, Pa. Then for a year and a half he was farm manager for Dr. Jordan, former secretary of agriculture of Pennsylvania. In 1923 he took a position as County Agricultural Agent in Adams County, Pa. This is one of Pennsylvania's largest and best fruit counties as well as one of the largest vegetable counties in that state. Mr. Underwood continued as County Agent in that county until about a year ago when he took a position as eastern representative of a commercial concern.

Mr. Underwood comes to the work in Burlington County well qualified to carry on his activities and should meet with success in this county.

ASK DREDGE PERMIT

Company Would Remove Material at Delanco

The Eastern Sand and Gravel Company, of Philadelphia, has applied for a Federal permit to dredge material for commercial purposes in Delaware River from two areas lying between the center line of the ship channel and low water line on the New Jersey shore, with limits measured along the center line of the channel approximately as follows:

From about 300 feet upstream from the pier at the foot of Union avenue, Delanco, to about 700 feet below this pier, and from about 1,700 feet to 2,700 feet below the same pier.

NUMBER OF FARMS IN N. J. ON DECLINE

While Acreage Decreased, Census Figures Show Values on Increase

According to a bulletin recently issued by the Bureau of the Census, showing both State and County Statistics, there was a decrease in the number of farms in New Jersey from 29,702 in 1920 and 29,671 in 1925 to 24,378 in 1930. The total number of farms in New Jersey includes 5,732 having from 50 to 99 acres, 5,424 from 20 to 49 acres, and 4,946 of from 100 to 174 acres. There were 107 farms having 500 acres and over.

Of the 25,378 farms in the State in 1930, as reported in the census, 20,771 were operated by owners, 659 by managers, and 3,948 by tenants. The land in farms decreased from 2,282,585 acres in 1920 and 1,924,545 acres in 1925 to 1,758,027 acres in 1930. The value of farm land and buildings increased from $250,323,986 in 1920 and $262,536,810 in 1925 to $298,845,113 in 1930. The value of farm implements and machinery in 1930 was $27,076,085 as compared with $23,452,261 in 1925 and $25,459,205 in 1920.

The total number of horses and colts on farms on April 1, 1930, was 92,269. The total, exclusive of colts born after January 1, 1930, was 39,100. Horses and colts on farms numbered 57,137 on January 1, 1925 and 72,621 on January 1, 1920.

The total number of cattle on farms on April 1, 1930 was 174,699. The total, exclusive of calves born after January 1, 1930, was 152,137. Cattle on farms numbered 153,492 on January 1, 1925 and 179,459 on January 1, 1920.

The total number of swine on farms April 1, 1930 was 128,466. The total exclusive of pigs born after January 1, 1930, was 94,411. Swine on farms numbered 55,854 on January 1, 1925 and 139,232 on January 1, 1920.

The total number of chickens over 3 months old on farms April 1, 1930, was 4,096,656. Chickens of all ages numbered 4,113,622 on January 1, 1925 and 2,534,371 on January 1, 1920.

Crops were harvested in New Jersey from 776,954 acres in 1929, as compared with 907,754 acres in 1924. The total for 1929 includes 228,402 acres of hay cut with a production of 327,962 tons; 130,616 acres of corn harvested for grain with a production of 3,978,926 bushels; 53,579 acres of wheat harvested with a production of 1,100,937 bushels; and 36,963 acres of potatoes harvested with a production of 4,733,520 bushels. In 1929, the vegetables grown in the open for sale, with a value of $17,939,850, were harvested from 130,449 acres. The four most important vegetables were tomatoes, valued at $5,802,896, harvested from 41,860 acres; asparagus, valued at $1,691,678, harvested from 8,669 acres; sweet corn, valued at $1,596,164, harvested from 22,100 acres; and snap or string beans, valued at $1,128,281, harvested from 11,522 acres.

THE FAMILY DOCTOR

By JOHN JOSEPH GAINES, M.D.

SMOOTH DIET

I am glad to hear authors and intelligent physicians talking about the "smooth diet" for their chronic, constipated cases; there has been such an exhaustless stream of "roughage" advice. For a long time the patient entering his doctor's office has been filled chock full the roughage fad. This regardless of what is the real trouble in the sluggish bowel-wall.

A colon may be ulcerated, or narrowed from past disease. The X-ray is available now for accurate diagnosis; and roughage is absolutely contradicted in such conditions. It is safe to say that one-half the patients that get the roughage advice get the very wrong thing for them.

Only one class of cases are benefitted by coarse diet namely the patients that have perfectly normal digestive tracts other than over-loaded, habitually constipated colons. And these, I believe are in minority, among the patients that come to my office.

The contracted or ulcerated colon is made worse by roughage. No patient whose bowel is obstructed by a nest of hemorrhoids and is constipated thereby can ever be cured by a diet of roughage. He needs a good proctologist who will quickly set him right.

What is the smooth diet? Well, the soft green vegetables, such as "greens" and spinach; wilted lettuce and perfectly prepared cabbage, or cauliflower, mushes and boiled rice, mashed potatoes, even baked potato, if perfectly cooked; eggs properly prepared; butter and a regulated amount of white bread; stewed fruits, ripe or dried; orange or grape-fruit, free from fiber; jellies, "jello," starch puddings, sweet potato, baked, boiled or stewed meats in moderation. Just plain milk and bread may make an evening meal. If "whole milk." Of cake, the plain cookie in moderation should suffice. No more sugar should be used than is necessary to make food palatable. The same of salt and pepper. All these should be well born, if there is no actual, organic disease. Breakfast wheat-cake are smooth diet; but there should be no over-loading with syrup. Omit any of the above that disagree.

Mary E. Hartshorne

Mary E. Hartshorne, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Hartshorne, of South Church street, Moorestown, died on Friday.

Funeral services, with the Rev. Frederick B. Morley, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church, in charge, were held on Saturday afternoon. Interment was made in Asbury Cemetery.

While a heavy frost lay on the shore of Plymouth, Eng., 60 persons went in bathing, defying the lowest water temperature of the year.

FIELD CLUB MAY PRESENT GROUNDS TO THE BOROUGH

Municipal Park and Recreation Centre Considered by Committee

COULD BE GOVERNED BY PARK COMMISSION

Citizens Discuss Plans Favorably at Meeting Called By Mayor

The Palmyra Field Club is planning to present its athletic and playgrounds field to the Borough.

A meeting of citizens interested in town athletics and recreation for the children was held in P. O. S. of A. Hall last Friday evening at the call of Mayor George N. Wimer, at which the proposition was discussed and plans considered for the development of athletics and playgrounds.

The Field Club is one of Palmyra's oldest organizations. It was an outgrowth of the Palmyra Y. M. C. A., more than twenty-five years ago, when a separate athletic association was formed to carry on athletic movements which had been initiated by the Y. M. C. A. of that period.

The Field Club flourished for many years and developed successful baseball, football, basketball and tennis teams which kept the name of Palmyra high in sporting circles of South Jersey. It also maintained club rooms and fostered many enjoyable social events.

Prominent Leaders

Prominent among the leaders of the organization were such men as Frank L. Durgin, Sr., Jacob P. Warner, James T. Weart, Leonard R. Baker, George N. Wimer, Russell Blackburne, F. A. Mathews, Sr., and many others.

The World War virtually ended the active career of the club, although sporadic efforts were made to revive interest during the past ten years. Of late only the board of directors has remained, who occupied themselves chiefly with the by no means easy task of keeping the taxes and mortgage interest on the grounds paid, with the hope in mind that ultimately the property would be turned over to the borough as a permanent park and athletic field.

A few years ago a man prominent in the affairs of Palmyra and Riverton came to the rescue of the Directors and gave several thousand dollars with which all of the indebtedness against the grounds was paid off. Playground equipment was also purchased and erected.

Administration Problem

But the problem of administering the grounds to the best advantage has not yet been solved and borough management is now suggested.

Most of those who attended the meeting Friday were heartily in favor of turning the grounds over to the borough, probably to be managed by a park commission which could be created by a borough ordinance.

This committee represents the four different interests involved in the plans.

Others who attended the meeting were William A. Donaghy, Walter D. Lamon, Thomas Schwink, Russell Blackburne, William Jenkins, Frank Chambers and George J. Spencer.

FORD SCHOOL

Fortnum Mechanics Learn More and More About Their Cars

A school for Ford automobile mechanics is being conducted this week at the Lester S. Fortnum agency in Palmyra. Three factory experts are teachers and they have with them models of every different mechanical part of the car with which they are explaining all the things that may go wrong and how to make repairs and adjustments.

Representatives of Mr. Fortnum's Palmyra and Bridgeboro organizations as well as from neighboring Ford dealers and individual fleet owners are attending the school which is being held in the evenings with an average of 40 to 45 "pupils."

MEN'S CLUB WILL BE STARTED IN PALMYRA

First Meeting Will Be Held in Y. M. C. A. Building Next Thursday Evening at Eight o'Clock

Feeling a very definite need in Palmyra and Riverton for a Men's Fellowship Club, the Young Men's Christian Association Board of Directors, through its men's activities committee, has planned an organization meeting to be held in the Y. M. C. A. building, Broad street and Garfield avenue, Palmyra, next Thursday evening April 9, at 8:00 o'clock.

The men in the community who are taking a leading part in the organization of this club are William T. J. Purnell, William McConnell, Mayor George N. Wimer, Clinton B. Gardner and William H. Plank. These men are all very well known by the townspeople and any club backed by them is assured a most successful career.

Every man in the two towns is most cordially invited to be present. The above-named committee will submit its report and routine business of this new organization will be discussed at that time.

The committee urges all to be present, to join as charter members. Refreshments will be served.

BIBLE CLASSES HOLD MEETING

The Rev. Samuel H. Laird, of Collingswood, Delivers Inspiring Address

Nearly 275 men attended the meeting of the Burlington County Federation of Men's Bible classes held in the Central Baptist Church of Palmyra and Riverton, Sunday.

The meeting was called to order by George N. Wimer, Mayor of Palmyra, and after the roll call, the chairman, Thomas C. VanOsten, was introduced.

Prayer was offered by the Rev. Harold L. Creager, pastor of the First Lutheran Church of Palmyra and Riverton. The singing of hymns, led by Alfred C. VanOsten, accompanied by G. Lincoln Ridley, at the console, and a fifteen piece orchestra, was most heartily joined in by the men.

The Hon. Howard Eastwood, Burlington County Prosecutor, who was to have been the speaker, was unable to be present, owing to illness. The committee in charge was most fortunate in obtaining the services of the Rev. Samuel H. Laird, of Collingswood, who delivered a most inspiring address.

The topic of his address was "For Me, to Live, Is Christ." The benediction was pronounced by the Rev. Ira S. Pimm, rector of the Epworth M. E. Church, of Palmyra.

This was the April meeting of the Federation, but was held a week earlier, owing to the fact that Easter falls in the first Sunday in April. The May meeting will be held in Mount Holly.

The committee in charge of this meeting was very much pleased by the splendid attendance, and wishes to take this opportunity to thank all those who helped in any way to make the meeting a success.

The State convention of the Federation of Men's Bible Classes will be held in Camden on Saturday and Sunday, April 11 and 12.

GIRLS IN SMALL BUS AS IT IS OVERTURNED

Young Women, Employees of Collins Nurseries, Escape With Cuts And Bruises

Three young women, employed by Collins Nurseries, Moorestown, were Kings Highway early Saturday afternoon cut and bruised, when the small bus owned by the nurseries, overturned when it was struck by a Camden truck at Pleasant Valley avenue and Broadway.

Marjory Reamer, of Mount Holly, and Miriam Juliana, South Washington avenue, Moorestown, were taken to the office of Dr. Howard C. Curtis for treatment after the accident and were then allowed to go to their homes.

The Collins' machine, driven by Franklin Gosnell, North Church street, Moorestown, was struck by a truck owned by the Davis Brake Company, 1123 Knight avenue, Camden, and driven by Russell Firth, 2930 High street, Camden.

Firth, who was arrested by Officer Walter A. Errickson, was released under $200 bond by Recorder Joseph W. Johnston, pending hearing which will be held on this Friday.

PROGRESS SHOWN BY TWIN-CITIES 'Y'

Building Improvements and Full Time Secretary Cited By Directors

With the announcement of the coming Y. M. C. A. drive for funds to be conducted the last part of this month, comes the question from many people as to the real value of the organization in the Twin Cities, and they wonder just what it accomplishes.

In the fiscal year that ended on March 31, the Palmyra-Riverton "Y" has advanced rapidly. The workings of the organization have grown to such a degree that the former part-time secretary, William H. Plank, and his assistant, H. Edson Hicks, found the program too full for part time work, and they vacated their posts in favor of Wilton E. Mount, now full time general secretary of the organization.

One who seldom visits the Palmyra Y. M. C. A., would find a new interior in the building since this time last year. The walls of the gymnasium have been repainted, together with the woodwork in the other rooms, the "gym" walls have also been relined, the old antiquated kitchen equipment has been removed and the room fixed up as a conference room, an electric radio has been installed and the walls have been newly papered.

Furniture donated by various townspeople have given a homelike aspect to the lobby on the first floor of the building. Numerous magazines, newspapers and books supply an ever new source of entertainment for those who like to read. Games provide an evening's enjoyment to those who have no such liking for reading. The most widely used room of all, however, is the gymnasium on the second floor.

Throughout the day and early evening a large group of boys can be found amusing themselves at the various rooms provided for their different forms of entertainment.

A lot in the back of the building offers room for baseball, marbles, top spinning and games of like nature. A backstop on the far end of the lot provides protection for property of nearby citizens.

Recently a prominent local business man said, "The Y. M. C. A. is a going concern' doing a great deal for the boys of the communities." Backers of the organization feel that it is all that and more. The latest project undertaken by the "Y" is the formation of a Men's Club, calculated to enlist those who enjoy good music and good speakers, but who do not wish to go out of town to hear them. The club is thus seeking to extend its influence over the persons of all ages, and directors hope to make the Palmyra branch a veritable community center where all can feel at home.

U. S. MARINES

The United States Marine Corps is now taking enlistments of young men between the ages of nineteen and thirty-five years; height, sixty-four inches. Further information can be had by writing or calling Sergeant L. W. Little, Room 508, Post Office Building, 9th and Market streets, Philadelphia, Pa.

UNABLE TO PAY FINES, MAN IS SENT TO JAIL

Howard Hemmingway Gets 30-Day Jail Sentence After Arrest Monday Night

A 30-day jail sentence was imposed on Howard Hemmingway, of Palmyra, when he was found to be unable to pay fines amounting to $150. He was sentenced Monday by Police Recorder William L. Fichter, and was taken to Mount Holly jail the following day.

The fines came after his arrest for four motor vehicle law violations. A fine of $100 was imposed when Hemmingway was found to be driving the automobile after his license had been revoked; another assessment of $25 was made when the machine was found to have fictitious license plates; a third tax of $15 was made for driving without a license and the final fine of $10 was imposed for driving without a registration card.

To Sing "Crucifixion" At Lutheran Church

Service To Begin Promptly at Eight O'clock Tomorrow Evening; Public Cordially Invited

Tomorrow evening, Good Friday, at the first Lutheran Church of Palmyra and Riverton, the combined choirs of that church and the Roslyn Presbyterian Church will sing Stainer's "Crucifixion."

This is one of the well known musical settings of the Passion, which, though it is so familiar, never fails to make a new and deep emotional appeal each time that it is heard.

The service will begin promptly at eight o'clock. A cordial welcome awaits all who attend.

George Hess

Funeral services were held Monday evening at eight o'clock for George Hess, of Riverside, husband of Margaret L. Hess, who fell dead at his home Friday morning. Coroner William P. Young, of Burlington, found that death was caused by an acute heart attack.

Services were held from his late home, 131 Fillmore street, Riverside, with the Rev. R. O. Payne, of Virginia, officiating. Interment was made in Berryon Cemetery, Carlstadt, near the scene of his childhood. H. B. Earnest had charge of the funeral.

Mr. Hess was born in New York City, November 18, 1860, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hess. They moved during his infancy to Carlstadt where he attended grammar and high schools and then attended the Cooper Institute in New York. For many years his occupation was that of an artist and engraver. He conducted schools of engraving at Mount Holly and Burlington, later coming to Riverside to take charge of the engraving department of the Keystone Watch Case Company. He worked there until about eighteen years ago when he was employed by Henry A. Dreer, Inc., of Riverton, where he worked until his death. He was a resident of Riverside for more than thirty years.

The deceased is survived by his widow, Mrs. Margaret Scheer Hess, and a son, the Rev. George Hess, of the Methodist Diocese. A host of friends mourn his departure.

Mr. Hess was a member of the Riverside Lodge, Loyal Order of Moose and the Dreer Beneficiary Association.

WOMAN'S CLUB TO MEET MONDAY

Two Plays To Be Presented by Ladies in the High School Auditorium

Mrs. David Wass, chairman of the entertainment committee of the Palmyra Woman's Club has announced a very interesting program for the meeting of the club to be held Monday afternoon in the Palmyra High School auditorium.

The business meeting will begin at 2:30 o'clock, and the entertainment will start promptly at 3:30 at which time, guests of members will be admitted.

Two one act plays will be presented, under the direction of Mrs. R. Selby Williams. "Cats Claws" and "A Superior Character."

The members of the cast in "Cats Claws" are: Mrs. R. S. Williams, Mrs. Albert Parker and Mrs. Helen Warren. The furniture for this play will be provided by H. Pinsky and Son Company, of Riverside.

This play will be presented again by these ladies, who will represent the Palmyra Club in "The Little Theatre Tournament," to be held at New Brunswick, April 20 to 25, at which time twenty-seven of the New Jersey Federated Clubs will compete.

The cast of "A Superior Character" includes Mrs. Anna Blackburn, Mrs. Helen Warren, Mrs. Elizabeth Voorhis, Mrs. Winnie Day, Mrs. Esther Miller, Mrs. Margaret Ryan, Mrs. Conrad Friday, Mrs. H. B. Williams, Mrs. Evelyn Weart and Mrs. Raymond Anderson.

Music will be furnished by club members.

Palmyra Mothers Hear Interesting Speaker at Special P. T. A. Meeting

Miss Anabel Cadwallader, of the State Department of Health, Addresses Interested Group of Women in Library of High School Friday Evening

A large group of interested mothers and women folk of Palmyra attended the special meeting called by the Child Study Committee of the Parent-Teachers' Association of Palmyra, in the library of the High School Friday evening.

Miss Anabel Cadwallader, who is connected wit hthe Bureau of Venereal Disease Control, of the New Jersey State Department of Health, in various capacities, was the speaker of the occasion.

The ladies were delighted to find that Miss Cadwallader was not only ready to offer them sound scientific information, but also the understanding and sympathy that come from a wide experience and a genuine liking for people.

She told the ladies that every year there are reported to her department more cases of venereal disease than of measles, whooping cough, scarlet fever, or any other of the common communicable diseases, and that education of the growing child is the most effective means of prevention.

Present-day mothers, because of their early training, are not always well equipped to give their children the information they need.

Miss Cadwallader told clearly and simply a number of stories of plants, fishes, birds and the higher animals which might be used to prepare the child's mind for a wholesome understanding of his own birth and later development.

"The important thing," said Miss Cadwallader, "is to answer each question the child asks, when he asks it, as accurately and as briefly as possible. Then when he has another question he will probably bring it to you. As long as you keep his confidence, you are able to help him."

Miss Cadwallader also outlined the physical changes of adolescence, and stressed the importance of preparing the child for this stage of development, by describing the changes and explaining their significance before they occur.

Uncertainty and misunderstanding, with their attendant fears and unhappiness, are a cruel and unnecessary burden for the growing boy or girl to bear. The adolescent has enough adjustments to make to his strange adult world without that.

Some of the other problems of the high school age, mental, emotional and social, will be discussed at the child study group meeting next Wednesday evening, April 8, at eight o'clock. This meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Horace Ross, 913 Washington avenue, Palmyra.

Many mothers have been reading books on psychology and child training lent to the P. T. A. by the Burlington County Library, and will be ready to make brief reports of helpful suggestions found in them. Anyone who is interested is most cordially invited to be present at this meeting, and to contribute any significant bit culled from books, magazines, or personal experience, to the general fund of information.

HOLY WEEK

The most significant period of the Christian year is this, Holy Week. Holy Week, the week before Easter, begins with Palm Sunday.

Palm Sunday celebrates Christ's triumphal entry into Jerusalem and the strewing of palm branches in his path by the multitudes.

Maundy Thursday commemorates the Last Supper and the washing of the disciples' feet; also Christ's agony in Gethsemane and his betrayal by Judas.

Good Friday represents the day of the crucifixion and is celebrated in Catholic and Anglician churches with great solemnity.

Easter Even is the name given to the entire day of twenty-four hours between Good Friday and Easter, a period for prayer and religious contemplation.

In the early history of the church, Easter was observed on various dates by different bodies of Christians, but the Council of Nice in the year 325 fixed it as the first Sunday following the full moon occurring on or next after the vernal equinox, March 21.

Easter Sunday may come as early as March 22 or as late as April 25, and its date governs all ecclesiastical days from Ash Wednesday, the beginning of Lent, to Trinity Sunday, eight weeks after Easter.

MAIN STREET LOOKS AT BROADWAY

BY ERNEST CAMP JR

BLIND PLAYERS

When the curtain went up at a Broadway theatre a few nights ago, playgoers witnessed a most unusual performance — remarkable because every member of the cast was blind.

The uninitiated observer would have been unaware that the players acting before him, all girls, were sightless, so smooth was the performance. The audience wondered how two persons, coming onto the stage, from opposite entrances, managed to walk unerringly toward each other and shake hands without lost motion.

GUIDED BY CARPETS

The answer was that the stage hands had carefully laid strips of carpet so that the actresses might follow certain paths. All stage furniture was placed according to a rigid chart worked out during rehearsals. Two weeks were spent learning locations of stage settings alone.

The leader of the group said that the girls are so interested in dramatics—one of the most difficult activities they could choose—because it gives them a chance to appear in public and show how nearly the handicap of blindness can be overcome by well-studied preparations.

They call themselves the Lighthouse Players. Most of the members live in girls' clubhouses, and are independent and self-supporting. One teaches dancing and elocution, several others are stenographers. They sew, cook and make some of their own clothes, and wish that they could see the dresses they make, but more especially—the lights of Broadway.

DAMAGES AND COSTS

Vandalism in Central Park—including such acts as making off with "Keep Off the Grass" signs, defacing signs, trampling around on newly sown grass, injuring trees by tearing off branches or cutting into the bark—gets to be rather expensive after a while.

In the past three years such acts have cost more than $200,000. It is estimated that 80 men are needed to patrol the park to preserve its beauties for those who seek relief from the city's turmoil in its fairly wide open spaces.

W. E. K.

OPEN SPACES

It is, incidentally, about the only place in the city where one can gaze up at the sky without peering between the rising walls of buildings. The trees and grass, turning green with the approach of spring, afford a welcome change of scenery from the gray mountains of buildings at which one is forced to look in other parts of the city.

But even at that, Central Park does suggest a "walled-in" breathing space, for stately apartment houses rise to skyscraper heights on all sides. Some are strikingly beautiful at night, with their illuminated towers and myriads of lighted windows.

CHEERFUL LITTLE EYEFUL

Not much longer will patients in hospitals here wake to find themselves staring at walls of gray or doubtful white.

The Department of Hospitals says that wards and operating rooms will soon be completely transformed by employing brighter and more cheerful colors for interior decoration.

Some of the hues that will greet sufferers' eyes are apple-green and tan-red, yellow and blue, gray and light purple.

THE EYES HAVE IT

Which may or may not have anything to do with the prediction made in an oculists' journal, that the vision of a confirmed New Yorker is only half as strong as that of a Patagonia (where IS Patagonia?) native.

Not ever having been to Patagonia, (see preceding paragraph) we can't contradict that statement, but it's a safe bet that, would a Patagonian be brought here, he'd have to use all of his twice-as-good eyesight to spot a seat in a subway where seemingly none existed, read ten lines of a newspaper over somebody else's shoulder or glimpse a traffic cop around a corner.

Echo answers: "Eye, eye, sir!"

Doings of the Girl Scouts

By VIRGINIA BEEGLE

The regular Monday night meeting of the Riverton Girl Scouts was held at the home of Mrs. Horace Ross, 913 Washington avenue, Palmyra. Mrs. Ross is the captain of the troop.

The Puckwajinnies, the Pleiades, and all the rest were very busy most of the evening in their patrol corners, training the new girls, who are getting ready for Tenderfoot tests.

Every girl who joins the group, must attend at least four meetings, before she is eligible to take her tests and be enrolled as a tenderfoot.

Of course, no one wants to wait longer than the required four weeks for her pin, so every girl is working at top speed.

The girls who were enrolled a month ago, are making progress toward second class badges.

Practice Signalling

They are planning a practice hour in second class signalling at the next meeting, which will be held Monday at 7:30 p. m., at the home of Mary Rhoades, the Senior Patrol Leader, 30 Henry street, Palmyra.

Nearly a dozen of the girls are attending the First Aid classes conducted by Dr. Arthur J. White. The class meets promptly at eight o'clock on Tuesday evenings at the doctor's office, Fifth street and Morgan avenue, Palmyra, and will continue until the Scouts have completed the work for their First Aid Merit badges. Those who are twelve years old or more, will also be able to win Junior Red Cross certificates.

The troop is looking forward to a week-end camping trip during the latter part of April. The Court of Honor paid an inspection visit to the camp Sunday afternoon and now is ready to make detailed plans for the trip.

Patrol Leaders

A committee of patrol leaders, Ruth Brown, Thelma Cromwell, Rose Lu Goldman, Elizabeth Showell and Mary Rhoades, chairman, will make a complete schedule of work and play from the arrival at camp Friday afternoon, to the departure Sunday evening.

Evelyn Sprenkel, who won the prize given by the Palmyra Woman's Club last year, for the best work done in the Domestic Science department of the eighth grade, is chairman of a committee to plan the menus, and estimate the cost of necessary food—a very important job!

Virginia Beegle is in charge of the entertainment committee and the equipment committee is headed by Adelene Ross.

The troop committee, which meets Tuesday afternoon, April 14th, at Mrs. Ross's home, will be responsible for transportation, health and safety.

The committee is happy to welcome as a new member, Mrs. Joseph Evans, through whose kindness, the camping trip is made possible.

RIVERTON SCOUTS MAKE PROMOTIONS

Kinsey Advanced To Assistant Junior Scoutmaster; Hunn Successor

The Riverton scouts have been steadily progressing for the past few weeks. The events of greatest interest during March were: the Troop swim over at the Moorestown Community House on March 13th, at which practically all the members of the Troop were present, and second; promotions and assignments of N. C. O.'s. At the swim tests were passed and a good time was had by everybody.

On March 20th several new promotions were announced by Mr. Garwood. Senior Patrol Leader Kinsey was promoted to the grade of Junior Assistant Scoutmaster and assigned as Platoon Commander of the Blue Platoon, in the place of Junior Assistant Scoutmaster McNulta who was obliged to resign because of the fact that he could not attend meetings regularly. Patrol Leader Edward Hunn was promoted to the grade of Senior Patrol Leader to take the place of Khiery as Senior Patrol Leader of the Grey Platoon. Scout Dunlap was promoted to Troop Quartermaster. Scout Knight was made Treasurer. Scout Edwards was made Scribe. Scout Teeple was promoted to Patrol Leader of the Moose Patrol. Scout Hubbs to Patrol Leader of the Stag Patrol and Scout Warren to Patrol Leader of the Eagle Patrol. The Patrol Leaders of the three other patrols, viz. Cobra, Lion, and Tiger remained the same. These are Scouts Tom Cee, Hebrew and Upland.

The Troop is continuing to grow and it will not be long before enrollment must cease.

Under the able direction of Mr. William Cook, signalling is progressing rapidly. The troop should render a good accounting of itself at the annual County Scout Meet in the spring.

After 35 years a rule against smoking has been lifted by the Atlanta Woman's Club. Mrs. T. M. Pincher, the president, said the girls were smoking in the clubrooms regardless of the rule, so it was thought best to repeal it rather than make a rumpus over the matter.

HEREDITY

Talent runs in families, says Arthur D. Howden-Smith, who has written the biographies of several famous Americans. He points to the Adams family, which has given the country two Presidents, one or two famous diplomats and the present Secretary of the Navy, as well as one great philosopher and several bankers. Another talented family is that of Roosevelt, with one President to its credit and three members now in public service, one as Governor of New York, another as Governor of Porto Rico and a third as Ambassador to Austria. The DuPonts of Delaware have an unbroken record of high ability both in business and statesmanship, as the Morgans have in banking through four generations. The first Cornelius Vanderbilt seems to have transmitted his driving energy and much of his engineering talent as well as his business ability to all of his eleven children and most of their descendants. The La Follettes as a family have made a great start towards establishing a "dynasty."

In Europe families like those would constitute the ruling class. But for every representative of a talented family in active public life here, we have a thousand who came up by their own unaided efforts, including such outstanding examples as Chief Justice Hughes, Alfred E. Smith and Herbert Hoover.

GRAFT

Whether there is any more graft and corruption on the part of politicians in the big cities, in proportion to population, than there is in many smaller communities, is a question to which nobody can give a satisfactory answer. It does not always take the same form, but it is curious how prosperous many rural sheriffs, supervisors and selectmen become.

Several cities which have abolished the old system of electing their administrative officials, employing a city manager instead, report that not only is the expense to the taxpayers much lower but that public money does not flow nearly so rapidly into private pockets.

This is a good time for taxpayers to be inquisitive about how their tax money is spent.

MARRIAGE

The action of the Federated Council of Churches of Christ in America in declaring that there is nothing incompatible with the Christian religion in birth control, brings out sharply the contrast between Protestant and Catholic teachings about marriage and its concomitants.

The Catholic church teaches that marriage is a sacrament and that to interfere with any of the natural consequences of marriage is against the will of God. The Protestant sects uniformly deny that.

The Plymouth colonists, to whom almost all American Protestantism traces, had no minister at all for several years, but even after they had one they decided that the church had nothing to do with marriage, which was purely a civil contract, and it was not until 60 years or so after the settlement of New England that any marriage was performed in the colony by a minister.

These two divergent points of view account for the differences of opinion in respect of divorce, also. If marriage is regarded as a civil contract it can be dissolved by the civil power; if it is a God-given sacrament only God can dissolve it. So long as there are two opposing opinions on the subject, held by such large numbers on both sides, marriage, birth control and divorce will be debatable subjects.

HARVESTER

Just one hundred years ago, in 1831, the first harvester was demonstrated by Cyrus Hall McCormick before a group of farmers of Rockledge County, Virginia.

McCormick's invention has been called the pivot on which the industrial revolution turned. By making it possible for fewer people working on the farms to feed more people in the towns, it released labor from agriculture to work in the engineering industries.

Where it took three-quarters of the population, a century ago, to feed themselves and the other one quarter, now all of the people can be fed by the labor of only one-tenth of their number.

The overproduction of agricultural commodities, from which the whole world is suffering today, is due to failure to control the agricultural machine's output. Many remedies are proposed. The one which seems most likely to cure the situation, if it can be applied, is the Farm Board's program of limitation of acreage in the staple crops.

FLYING

More air-miles of travel were paid for by the people of the United States in the past year than in any previous twelve-months. Business men and others are getting the habit of flying from city to city to save time. Between Washington and New York, for example, the fastest trains take five hours. The airplane does it in two. A New York business man, having to see the Income Tax Unit of the Treasury, for instance, can leave the city at half past seven in the morning, be at the Treasury before ten, and if he is not detained, can take a plane back at twelve, arriving at his office a little after two, with a lot of time left in the business day.

The combined rail-and-air routes between East and West are growing in popularity. The plane flies you as far as it can go in a day. Then you take the train for a night's sleep in a Pullman, pick up another plane in the morning for another day's flying.

It costs more to fly than to travel by rail, but the cost is coming down and the safety of flying is increasing.

Because of hard times, Norman Emmons, a convict who fled from the Leesburg, N. J., prison farm three years ago, recently returned of his own accord.

WAY OF LIFE

BY BRUCE BARTON

I was talking recently with Ted Clark who was secretary to Mr. Coolidge at the White House. He told me about one of the famous Gridiron dinners, at which a character was made up to represent the "Front Page." The poor fellow was emaciated and despondent; he complained that Coolidge had ruined him by making so little news.

Ted said: "I think that one of the best and truest tributes that could be paid to Coolidge would be to say 'He took the government of the United States off the front page.'"

He went on to tell half a dozen dramatic incidents which might easily have become national issues if Coolidge had been minded to make a fuss about them. But he handled them so quietly that the public knew nothing about them.

The newspapers are the greatest single educational influence in our lives. By throwing the fierce glare of their search-light in all directions they have been a powerful aid in abolishing secret diplomacy. They have encouraged big business to come out into the open and they are a constant and tremendous deterrent to crime.

But under our system of government they put an unwilling premium upon the performance of the self-advertiser and the demagogue.

Our Senators are no longer chosen as they used to be, by responsible party organizations in the state legislature. They are nominated in popular primaries.

The easy way for a Senator to keep his voters from forgetting his name is to make them think he is important in Washington. And the easy way to achieve this seeming importance is to attack something, or investigate something, or become otherwise noisy and conspicious.

But be not discouraged.

I have stood in the laboratory where Edison worked so many years to give the world electric light. I have seen the old shed where Kettering first began the experiments which culminated in the self-starter for automobiles. I have visited the tiny village where, in a modest house, Charles Darwin wrote the book that changed the trend of scientific thought. On the gate post is a tablet which this inscription:

"Here Darwin lived and thought for forty years, and here on April 19, 1882, he died."

We can put up patiently with quite a lot of Senators, so long as we know that, back in ten thousand quiet homes and shops and offices, there are Edisons and Ketterings and Darwins.

Elizabeth Ferrell

Elizabeth Ferrell, formerly of Philadelphia, who was visiting her sister, Mrs. Kathryn Graef, of Masonville, died very suddenly on Sunday morning.

Funeral services were held from the funeral parlor of Philip McChesney, West Main street, Moorestown, on Wednesday morning, with high mass of requiem at the Church of Our Lady of Good Counsel, at 9 o'clock. Interment was made in New Cathedral Cemetery, Philadelphia.

Miss Ferrell was a high school teacher in Philadelphia for many years. She is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Kathryn Graef, of Masonville, and Mrs. Louise Merembeck, of Miami, Florida.

Police Judge Betram of Camden, does not think highly of snoopers and tattlers, as one Charles Bubeck has found out. Bubeck spread the report that he had seen a young couple kissing, and the girl concerned had him arrested. The judge said to Bubeck: "What business was it of yours? Ninety days."

FLASHES FROM THE Y. M. C. A.

Marble Champ To Be Named Wednesday

The Evening Bulletin Marble championship will be conducted for the Westfield Friends School, Wednesday, April 8. This is the first contest ever to be held at this school. The winner and runner-up in these events will shoot in the local tournament to be held on the Y. M. C. A. playground. Wilton E. Mount, local secretary of the Y. M. C. A., will conduct the school tourney. He will be assisted by some of the older "Y" boys.

Black Hawks Meet In Lutheran Church

Because of the crowded program of the boys' activities in the Y. M. C. A. building, the Black Hawks' group will meet in the Lutheran Church, Tuesday nights. This group is composed of Riverton lads twelve and thirteen years old. Robert Hahn is president of the group.

"Y" Boys Council To Meet Friday

The newly formed Boys Council, which is composed of the presidents of the ten boys' groups, will meet in the Y. M. C. A. building tomorrow evening at four o'clock, to further discuss "Y" activities for the spring months. This group will do most of the programme planning for the local organization.

Preparing For National Boys' Week

Boys all over the country are anxiously awaiting the arrival of National Boys' Week. This year it will be held from April 25 to May 3. Plans are already under way for an interesting time for the fellows of the "Twin Towns." In the past, the Palmyra-Riverton Rotary Club have been sponsors of activities. Edward B. Jessup is the chairman of the boys' committee of that organization. A more detailed account of the program will be found in a later edition of this paper.

Boys Buy Basketballs

In order to carry a share of the expense in keeping the local "Y" well equipped with athletic goods, the various groups have voted a sum of money to the board, with which they may purchase additional equipment. New basketballs have been purchased. Although basketball season is at a close, games are held every day at the "Y" and groups continue competition in the evenings.

Freshman Hi-Y Holds Successful Sale

The cake sale given last Friday by the Palmyra Freshman Hi-Y, under the leadership of Edson Hicks, was most successful. Owing to the inclement weather, it was necessary for the boys to phone for orders and deliver the cakes. Some of the members sold as high as five cakes. The sale was held to raise money for the spring activities of the group.

Camp Ockanickon opens June 17, for an eight weeks' period, under the leadership of "Chief" Ross Musselman, secretary of the Gloucester County Y. M. C. A. This year, in addition to a longer vacation period, other interesting features have been planned, which are fully described in the attractive bulletin just issued. Anyone desiring information about camps is requested to call Riverton 604, and the local "Y" secretary will gladly tell you of "Y" camps, and also other camps, which are recommended for your youth. Palmyra and Riverton are very fortunate in having such a splendid camp so near.

MOORESTOWN

James T. Ryan, formerly of Moorestown, son of D. J. Ryan, is now serving his second year in the United States Army and is at present assigned to Machine Gun Company of the newly organized Mechanical Force, stationed at Fort Eustis, Virginia. Service with the Mechanical Force promises to be among the most interesting and valuable in the Army for the instruction, education and entertainment of the personnel, comprising it, from the viewpoint of the mechanical and tactical work to be done by the force.

Mr. and Mrs. William Gleason entertained six guests at dinner at their home on Plum street, on Sunday evening.

Miss Dorothy Sipp, of Maple Shade, entertained the members of her club on Tuesday evening of last week. Among those present were Alice Carey, Gertrude Wurst and Carolyn Elston, of Moorestown; Marion LeVans, of Merchantville; and Irene Martin, Vera Hohwald and Mary Hahn, of Maple Shade.

Miss Kathryn Bird, of Philadelphia, is spending her Easter holiday as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Whitmer, of Bridgeboro road.

A meeting of the executive committee of the Burlington County Women's Democratic Club was held at the home of Mrs. Amor Gaunitt, of Jobstown, on Wednesday evening of last week.

Mrs. Samuel R. Matlack, of West Main street, is entertaining a group of girls at Camp Darkwater, on the Rancocas Creek, Saturday.

Miss Helen Brown is spending her vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Brown, of Chester avenue.

Roy D. Cole, of East Main street, entertained the girls who were employed last summer as waitresses at his Green Tree Restaurant, Ocean City, at dinner on Monday evening. Among those present were Virginia Harris, of California; Ruth Evans, of Medford; and Mary Whitacre, Leah Spear, Edna White and Ruth Mullowney of Moorestown.

Mrs. Joseph W. Jarrett, of Schooley street, will entertain guests at dinner on Friday and Saturday evenings.

Miss Helen Lippincott is spending her Easter vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William D. Lippincott, of East Main street.

Mrs. Samuel Workman entertained the members of her card club at bridge on Thursday evening at her home on East Second street.

The second annual daffodil dance will be given at the Moorestown Field Club on Friday evening, April 10 from 9 until 1 o'clock. Music will be furnished by Irving Casper, in person, with his Weyman Five orchestra. This the club's "welcome to spring," and will undoubtedly prove a delightful social event. The committee in charge includes Mrs. John C. Borton, Mrs. H. Robb Hathaway, Mrs. Horace T. Greenwood, Jr. and Mrs. F. Morse Archer, Jr., chairman.

Three new members were present at the Friday evening meeting of the Lenni-Lenape Moorestown Hi-Y group, including Edward Greik, William Stewart and Edmund Maguire. Each filled out membership applications. Committee appointments were made including committee on banking account, William Dowaline, committee for entertainment, Donald Vining and James Cottrell, committee for constitution, William Downing and James Cottrell. Few changes were made in the constitution made up by William Dowling, James Cottrell and Frederick Eckart. The club decided to have Indian names for the officers. Next week's program will be on the Indians who formerly inhabited this region.

The annual banquet for the employees of C. A. Lippincott and Bro., Inc., and of Moorestown Motor Company, was held at Log Cabin Lodge, Medford Lakes, on Wednesday evening of last week. There were thirty guests present. The evening was spent in playing games, and a very delightful evening was spent by all.

Joseph Wolf, a student of New York University, is spending the Easter holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Miller Wolf, of East Main street.

Miss Dorothy Mullowney returned to her home on Linden street on Thursday, from Montclair Normal School, to spend the Easter vacation with her mother, Mrs. Dorothea Mullowney.

A rummage sale will be held by the Sunshine Class of the Methodist Episcopal Church on Thursday, April 9, at 11 East Main street, beginning at 1 o'clock.

Miss Elizabeth Dubois, formerly of Moorestown, now living in Lakeville Court, left Florida on Sunday for Moorestown, where she will spend a few days with Mr. and Mrs. C. Harry Dudley, of East Central avenue.

TRI-HI CLUB ACTIVITIES OF THE WEEK

The weekly meeting of the Palmyra Tri-Hy Club was held last Thursday evening.

The business meeting which was held in the early part of the evening included discussions about the proposed cake sale, the county meeting to be held at Riverside, April 9, and about an ad for the "Pilleum." A communication was also received from the Mount Holly group regarding a basketball game.

The cake sale which was to be conducted last Saturday was postponed indefinitely, and a suggestion that the Palmyra club make scenery for the county meeting was favored by the girls.

The group was fortunate in procuring an excellent speaker for last week's meeting. Mrs. Ruth Cathart, in addition to being a good talker, proved herself to be a student of music. She instructed the girls in the art of "part" and "round" singing.

In accordance with the musical program previously arranged, each girl was called upon to give a quotation which had something to do with music. One member, somewhat sentimental, said "A poet was a man with music in his soul."

The group is planning to attend the Methodist Church as a unit at tonight's service which will include the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper. The church attendance will take the place of the regular meeting.

EDITORIAL

Happiness and Joy are two of the essential things in life. How would we feel and what would we do if everything was dreary and so solemn but happiness makes the world joyful and peppy.

While working it is by happiness and joyfulness that people earn their wages and salary. If the whole office was gloomy and down in the dumps how could anyone get his work done? Smiles and happiness make the world go around.

Over in France during the World War when the "boys" were almost discouraged someone would strike up a tune or start joking and the "boys" would be happy again.

Two of the greatest composers in the history of music Handel and Beethoven were handicapped when they were stricken blind and deaf but they continued composing and giving the world joy and happiness. That is the way all of us should be, not wearing a disgruntled expression but a happy and joyful face and try to spread it to others that are gloomy and sad. You will find it is much easier to get along in life.

MR. MOUNT SPEAKS

On Monday, March 16 the assembly program was very entertaining. Mr. Cooper made his announcements and presented a final penmanship certificate to Philip Mathews. Mr. Mount, the secretary of the Y. M. C. A. gave a talk on the four C's of life. Clean Scholarship, Clean Athletics, Clean Speech and Clean Life. Before Mr. Mount started his talk he said if all the apples in Michigan (the home state) were made into one big apple and placed in the Atlantic Ocean a person could walk from New York to London on it; and if all the cows in Michigan were made into one big cow, it could eat grass at the equator and break icicles with its tail on the North Pole. He then said that in the college where he studied there was a boy who during examinations would always have a book to look up the translation of the German. A year or two later he happened to be in a large building where he saw the same boy as a bookkeeper. He wondered whether he was still cheating his way through life. He then said he heard of a football player who thought he was such a good player that he didn't have to go to bed early so he stayed up late and had a good time. The next day his team had the ball fairly near the goal when he took the ball and ran the opposite direction because he was tired and didn't know which way he was going. This showed that he wasn't a good sport. Then he said the men he traveled with had such a good vocabulary that they didn't need to swear. Mr Mount said that all of these made a clean life.

GOAL THROWING CONTEST CONCLUDED

The goal throwing contest is over for this year. The idea of this contest was to see how many times the ball could be put into the basket out of 13 attempts.

David Reed was high man with 8 for a score; Ralph Hunn won second place with 6 successful throws and Jack Geiss, Robert Hahn and Harry Turner tied for third place with 5 to their credit.

Mrs. Bowers has been holding practice to choose a first team. Captain Gootee is ready for a friendly game with boys of his age and grade. Manager Philip Mathews will take charge of all arrangements subject to Mrs. Bowers's approval.

A professor whom Marcel Dauprey of New York hired to coach his 7-year-old son is being sued for damages by his employer because he told his pupil there was no Santa Claus.

30 YEARS AGO

(Issue of April 5)

Mrs. Alfred Smith is moving into her new store on Main street, where she will have a much better chance to display to advantage her excellent stock of high grade goods.

The annual meeting of the Riverton Country Club was held last Tuesday in the new club house, which will be formally opened about the first day of May. The report of the treasurer showed the club to be in good financial standing. The membership is now 180. The following governors were elected, who will in turn hold a meeting on the 9th of April to elect officers: Edward H. Ogden, John C. W. Frishmuth, Ezra Lippincott, William D'Olier, F. S. Groves, J. S. Bloren, Weston Donaldson, Charles C. Rianhard, J. Lawrence Lippincott, Samuel R. Lippincott, Edgar Lippincott, C. C. Miller, Thomas Roberts, Jr., Robert Biddle, Jr., and J. S. Coale. The grounds will be closed after April 8 until further notice to put the course in order for the opening of the golfing season.

The New Era gratefully acknowledges the receipt of "Under the Red Cross" and other poems written by David Henry Wright, A. B., LL. B. Its contents embrace various themes of thought, quaintly expressed.

Alverton, April 2.

To The Editor of The New Era:

I occasionally receive communications about borough affairs, criticising adversely some action of the borough government and variously signed, "Citizen," "Resident," "Progress," etc. These leters have received no consideration, nor will they while their author continues to hide his identity behind a nom de plume.

If our people have suggestions to make concerning our local government (and I sincerely wish many of them had), or desire to criticise adversely any action of the administration, a communication properly signed and addressed to the mayor or any member of council, will receive instant and careful attention.

Respectfully,
D. A. MACCARROLL, Mayor.

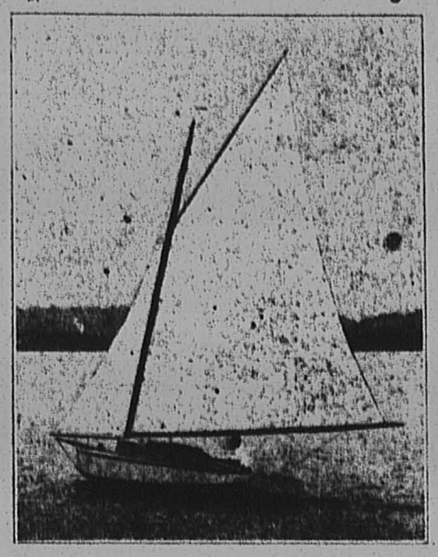

Samuel W. Smith, a well-known farmer of Moorestown, narrowly escaped death Wednesday. While driving up Chester avenue his horses took fright at a bicycle, and he lost control of them. They dashed at breakneck speed toward the railroad and notwithstanding his efforts to turn them aside they dashed directly in front of an approaching train. The engine struck the rear of the wagon, demolishing it and throwing Smith into the street, with the wreckage of the wagon on top of him. When extricated from the mass he was badly bruised about the head and body. The horses escaped uninjured.

RACING STORY IS PLOT OF 3-ACT PTA COMEDY

Palmyra Organization to Stage Show In High School April 10 and 11

Those who have seen the races at Pimlico, Latonia or Havre de Grace can imagine something of the theme of the "Hottentot," the three act play to be presented in Palmyra April 10 and 11. This steeplechase event is sponsored by the Palmyra Parent-Teachers Association and will have its showing in the High School.

The cast for this "racy" comedy includes members of former stage shows, which have made a huge appeal to Palmyra audiences. Coached by Frank A. Mathews, Jr., who also appears in the cast, the roles of the various personages are filled by Ruth Lutz, Madeline Zeller, Muriel Burgman, Melvin Burr, Chris Davis, Ted Hudson, Robinson MacMullin, John Althouse, George T. Long and George W. Rogers.

The committee in charge says the race for the tickets has started and urges those fans who like good entertainment to see their "bookies" and get their pasteboards lest they be "left at the post" when the "barrier" is raised at eight thirty o'clock on the evenings of April 10 and 11.

SHRUBS FOR THE HOME GARDEN

Shrubs, says Mr. W. O. Bird, of I. N. Simon & Son, 436 Market street, are one of the most important features of the home grounds. They may be used for foundation-planting, for screening unsightly places, for corner-planting, as specimen plants in the lawn or the border and as an effective background. They can also be used for dividing or boundary plantings.

Shrubs are an important feature in the decoration of the home grounds and, with the possible exception of trees, no other class of plants adds more to the value of the home. Shrubs are of the easiest culture, requiring little care, having few insect enemies, and lasting a lifetime if planted properly. Early spring planting, when the plants are dormant, is recommended. The ground should be prepared by incorporating a liberal quantity of well-decayed stable manure.

This is important as the plants are to remain in their position indefinitely. Set the plants well down and trim off all broken and damaged roots before planting, giving a thorough soaking to fill up any air spaces at the roots. The choice of varieties is up to the individual, there being a large number of varieties from which to select.

TROLLEY LEAVES RAILS

Several passengers in a north-bound Trenton trolley car escaped injury when the vehicle jumped the tracks and crashed into a pole at the switch on Broad street and Weart Boulevard, late Tuesday night. Trolley traffic was held up for about a half hour while the car was put back on the track, but the vehicle which had caused the hold-up was able to proceed after the accident.

THOUSANDS ARE PAYING TRIBUTE

No Wonder Seven Million Bottles of Konjola Were Used in 2 Years.

There is gratitude in every word expressed by Mr. Charles H. Jessup, 1908 E. 69th street, Cleveland, Ohio. He says of Konjola: "I was so ill that I could not breathe when lying down and was forced to sit in a chair. From December to March I could do no work whatever. I took eight bottles of Konjola and today I am as sound as a dollar. I rest well, have regained my lost weight and feel better than I have in years."

Mr. Charles H. Jessup

Equally grateful is the expression of Mrs. E. Dawson, 2036 West 31st street, Cleveland, Ohio. She has this to say: "I was run down and unable to sleep because of nervousness. I was constipated and suffered misery after meals. Neuritis attacked my arms and shoulders. Headaches and backaches were fearful. Today, after taking Konjola, I am relieved of all these miseries and feel better than I have in a long time."

Mrs. E. Dawson

Konjola contains no alcohol or harmful drugs.

PALMYRA MAIDS WIN FIRST SWIM OF LOOP SEASON

Take Initial Meet of Year in Defense of Title at Camden Pool

WINNER DECIDED BY LAST EVENT OF CLOSE MATCH

S. J. GIRLS' SWIM LEAGUE

	W.	L.	Pc.
Haddon Heights	1	0	1.000
Collingswood	1	0	1.000
Palmyra	1	0	1.000
Woodbury	0	0	.000
Pitman	0	1	.000
Merchantville	0	1	.000
Gloucester	0	1	.000

Palmyra High Girls took their first step toward defending their title in the South Jersey Swim League, when they nosed out Pitman in an exciting match Friday afternoon, by the score of 31-28.

The match, which was held at the Camden Y. W. C. A. pool, was closely contested throughout, the winner of the meet depending on the last event, the 80-yard relay. Palmyra, with three of last year's veterans on the relay quartet, copped the race and the meet by going the distance in 51 4-5 seconds.

The Palmyra victory enables last year's champs to enter a triple tie for first place in the percentage tables. Haddon Heights and Collingswood both won their initial meets last week. The scoring this year to determine the champion team is done by the total points scored during the season. In this respect Palmyra is in third place in the league standings, as Haddon Heights captured 54 points to take the meet with Gloucester by default, while Collingswood were winners of 45 points to take their match.

It was the Pitman team which last year almost nosed the "Pals" out of the title, presenting the most vigorous opposition which the Palmyra maids encountered all season. With a veteran lineup back in school this year, the Pitman lassies again had hopes of driving Palmyra out of the championship race, and narrowly missed giving Palmyra its first upset in four years. Should the "Pals" cop the diadem again this season, it will be the fourth title for the wearers of the Red and White.

Palmyra's victory came as the result of the "Pals" ability to place their swimmers in second and third place positions. Pitman copped first place in four of the seven events, but second and third place winners gathered enough points to keep Palmyra in the running.

The relay team which won the meet consisted of Nellie Showell, Mary MacAnulty, Virginia Zayotti and Cecelia Baker. Other Palmyra point winners were the Misses Mildred Meyers, Dot Meltzner, Irene Parry, Irene Sipple and Dorothy Wise.

Miss Christine Emery was the high point getter for Pitman, with Vera Stackhouse and Peg Mavis sharing place honors.

20-Yard Novice—Won by Showell, Palmyra; second, Wise, Palmyra; third, Garrison, Pitman. Time, 13 3-5 seconds.

20-Yard Free Style—Won by Baker, Palmyra; second, Yeager, Pitman; third, Zayotti, Palmyra. Time, 11 3-5 seconds.

20-Yard Breast Stroke—Won by Stackhouse, Pitman; second, MacAnulty, Palmyra; third, Sipple, Palmyra. Time, 19 4-5 seconds.

Diving—Won by Emery, Pitman; second, Henry, Pitman; third, Parry, Palmyra.

20-Yard Back Stroke—Won by Emery, Pitman; second, MacAulty, Palmyra; third, Meltzner, Palmyra. Time, 16 4-5 seconds.

Back Stroke for Form—Won by Peg Mevis, Pitman; second, Meyer, Palmyra; third, Marie Mevis, Pitman.

80-Yard Relay — Won by Palmyra (Showell, MacAulty, Zayotti, Baker); second, Pitman. Time, 51 4-5 seconds.

TWILIGHT LEAGUE TO BE STARTED HERE IN NEAR FUTURE

Several Palmyra men, who are very much interested in promoting athletics at home, are hoping to start a Palmyra Twilight Baseball League in the near future.

As there is only a short time left for organization, all clubs, fraternities, or groups of men, who might be interested, are urged to write to the Sports Editor of The Palmyra News.

Many of the organizations in the town have already signified their intention of joining the league.

All communications should be addressed to The Palmyra News, 15 East Broad street, Palmyra. Attention: Sports Editor.

MINGIN AGAIN TO HEAD CO. LEAGUE

All Other Officers Reelected As Circuit Organizes With Six Clubs

Organization of the Burlington County Baseball League for the 1931 season, was held last Friday night at the county court house in Mount Holly.

Lawrence Mingin, of Medford, who has guided the destinies of the county circuit for the past two years will again be at the helm, as he was unanimously elected president to succeed himself. The other officers who were also re-elected to their posts are: T. Percy Baker, of Florence, vice-president; Charles Hansbury, Mount Holly, secretary; Frank Smyth, Medford, assistant secretary, and Edward Ridgway of Burlington, treasurer.

Five clubs who finished the season last year and Burlington comprise the league to date. They are Florence, last year's champions, Medford, Delanco, Moorestown and Riverside.

Vincentown also applied for admittance to the circuit and will be admitted providing another team can be secured to make an eight team circuit. Mount Holly, Palmyra and Maple Shade are under consideration and one of these names will be given a franchise if they decide to come into the league.

A committee on by-laws was also appointed consisting of Basil Shoti, of Burlington; Fred Kettler, of Riverside; Ed Robbins, of Florence; Charles Galbraith, of Medford; Charley Young, of Delanco, and Harry Bowman, of Moorestown.

The publicity committee will consist of T. Percy Baker, fo Florence; William Rossell, of Mt. Holly and Charles Hansbury, of Mt. Holly. The next meeting is scheduled for April 7 at the court house with the passing of the by-laws and schedule as the most important business.

WOMEN'S BOWLING LEAD DEADLOCKED

PALMYRA WOMEN'S BOWLING LEAGUE

	W.	L.	Pc.
Luckies	10	8	.556
Chesterfields	10	8	.556
Murad	9	9	.500
Fatima	7	11	.388

Lucky Strikes fell from undisputed possession of first place in the women's bowling league when they dropped three games to the third place Murad five. They proved to be the "hard luck" team of the night when they lost the first game by 14 pins and the second match by eight. The third victory for the Murads was more decisive, the "Turks" leading by 50 pins at the finish.

Chesterfield jumped into a first place tie when it took two games from the last place Fatima's. Fatima, in winning its one game, rolled the high game of the evening, toppling 665 pins.

Mrs. Lloyd won an Easter egg by rolling the high individual score for the night, spilling a game of 156.

Lucky Strike and Chesterfield are now in a tie for the lead, one game in front of Murad and three games ahead of Fatima.

PALMYRA NOTES

Mrs. S. S. Buchholz, of Charles street, entertained the Dramatic Club of the Lutheran Church on Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. William Randall and daughter, Ann, of Public road, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bowen, of Pear street, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Comly Randall, of Prevost, Pa., Sunday.

Mrs. William Powers, of Parry avenue, entertained friends at her home Saturday evening.

Mrs. Ross Evans, of Riverton, Mrs. Mary King, Miss Florence Saar, Mrs. Edith Kilpatrick and Mrs. George N. Wimer, all of Palmyra, attended the luncheon given by the Women's Republican Club, of Burlington County at the Moorestown Community House yesterday. The meeting was held to make it possible for the members of this organization to study the modern way of handling Juvenile Delinquency. Charles A. Gates, assistant secretary of the National Probation Association was the speaker of the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. William Opfer, of Spring Garden street, will spend the Easter holidays in Atlantic City.

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the fortieth of a series of articles by the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles presented by this paper as part of the campaign of education to familiarize New Jersey motorists with the regulations which govern their conduct on the road.

40. EFFICIENT DRIVING

The demands for safety in the operation of an automobile are more stringent than the demands of the law, and rightly so. Laws are primarily to insure justice. A full appreciation of safety saves lives and limbs, no matter who is to blame.

Reckless driving is not a demonstration of skill, although the conduct of many motorists would make it appear that the reverse is the general belief.

A moment or two saved by reckless speeding is not efficiency, for speeding tomorrow may result in a smash that will lay up the car for several days and the driver for several months. I have said before and I now repeat that speed alone is not invariably dangerous, and I have pointed out that a speed of twenty miles an hour under certain conditions may be far more hazardous than a speed of sixty miles an hour under other conditions.

The trouble with so much of our speeding is that it is senseless, profitless and needless. We hurry to get ahead of a train, a street car or another automobile, saving only a moment or two at the ultimate destination. The gain is not worth the danger of accident, particularly when we waste time so lavishly in other ways. I read a pamphlet issued by the National Safety Council recently which developed this point admirably. It is worth pondering.

Dangerous at Dusk

The best drivers are especially careful at dusk or twilight. There is then neither enough daylight nor sufficient artificial light to make objects distinguishable at ordinary distances.

Slow up for all turns in the road. Blind corners are dangerous. When it is impossible to see what is coming from around the corner, be prepared to stop. These are precautions at which many motorists scoff. But they scoff at the peril of their very life.

When installing chains, put them on both wheels. Only one chain may result in a serious accident.

There are ruts at the bottom of almost every hill. Hitting these ruts at too high a speed may cause the driver to lose control of his car. Drive slowly at bridges and at culverts. A bad rut or a stone in the road may throw your car against the structure.

Passing Other Cars

When attempting to pass another vehicle going in the same direction, start turning out to the left at least seventy-five feet to the rear. If you get up too close your view of the road ahead is obstructed and you may turn directly in front of another car coming toward you. When you have passed a car do not cut back into the road nor slow down too soon.

Clean windshields give you a clear view ahead. Every car should have a windshield wiper which will prevent snow or rain from obstructing the driver's view.

Small children should preferably sit in the rear of the car. They should never be held in or between the arms of the driver.

Safe driving demands full and undivided attention and complete freedom of movement of the arms and legs. For this reason overcrowding of the front seat is dangerous.

Be sure to signal when driving toward or away from the curb. This is an injunction all too frequently ignored, to the bitter cost of many car owners.

HINTS FOR THE HOME

By Nancy Hart

BIRD'S NEST PUDDING

On each dessert plate or at each plate at the beginning of dinner, place a small bird's nest of candied orange peel in which there are some candy eggs. The eggs can be made of uncooked fondant, rolled in ground pecan or walnut meats or dipped in chocolate. Make the fondant by mixing an unbeaten white of egg, a pinch of cream tartar, two tablespoons of cream and enough confectioners' sugar to make a stiff cream. Then mold into little eggs and roll in the nuts or else chill for two hours after molding and dip in melted chocolate. To make the nests make candied orange peel as follows: Cut the thin outer peel of two or three oranges into shreds and soak for twenty-four hours in cold salt water, with two tablespoon of salt to a quart of water. Rinse, cover with fresh cold water and boil until tender. Make a syrup of two cups of sugar to a cup and a quarter of water and when it boils add the peel and simmer gently until the peel looks clear and the syrup thickens. Take out a little at a time and roll in granulated sugar. Let it dry and form into little nests.

BRAN BISCUITS

1-2 cup bran
1 1-2 cups flour
5 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons sugar
1-2 cup water
2 tablespoons shortening.

Mix thoroughly bran, flour, baking powder, salt, sugar; add sufficient water to make soft dough; add melted shortening; roll out lightly to about 1-4 inch thick on floured board; cut with biscuit cutter. Bake in hot oven 12 to 15 minutes.

CUSTARD SAUCE

Put the milk on to boil in a double boiler. Beat the eggs and sugar together until light and creamy, then stir them into the boiling milk and stir over the fire until they begin to thicken, no longer or the sauce will curdle. Take from the fire, add the vanilla and turn out to cool.

CHOCOLATE ICING

Grate a square and a half of unsweetened chocolate and add to it five tablespoons of sugar and three of water. Stir over the fire until smooth and glossy, beat and spread over the cake.

SUGAR ROLLS

Form rolls of bread dough and put each in a muffin pan. Soak a lump of sugar in orange juice and push it into the center of the roll. Let them rise to the desired height and put them in the refrigerator for the night. In the morning bake and serve for breakfast.

THAT IT DOESN'T WORK BOTH WAYS

SAVED MONEY may some day be spent, but this statement cannot be reversed. Spent money never can be saved—by the spender!

But the money you spend, which ought to have been saved, will circulate until it reaches the hands of someone who does save—then he will be using the dollar you'll need.

My Dear Mr. Bowen:

Enjoyed my paper so much today, and think I recognize the dear little house in the Memory Teaser, as one in which I have, when a child, spent many happy days. I think it was in 1872 or 1873 we moved into the little house and my father tended the toll gate at that time.

The house stood near the bridge and we were very much excited when Mr. Henry Vanvane came to move the house to Five Points. We had the time of our life, and enjoyed the ride as much as we do the automobile of today.

My father was a very conscientious man and very often after he had closed the gate to collect the toll, the driver would slip around the gate which displeased him very much. One team went right through the gate and my father chased it to the bridge. We thought it great fun and laughed and clapped our hands and came very near getting the strap, but by the time father came back he was his own dear self and we were happy again.

We walked to Westfield school, rain or shine. Mr. Oliver Parry was our teacher, and was dearly loved by all the children. Sometimes our shoes were well soaked by the time we arrived, but with no serious results, as my father was a shoemaker and we always had good, strong shoes.

Timothy Morton and family occupied the store that Collins Haines operates today and they made many friends, who appreciated the honest manner in which they conducted their business.

If the little house is not the old toll gate at Five Points, I have had many pleasant memories this afternoon and will wait very anxiously for the proof next week.

Yours truly,
MRS. S. R. COLE,
125 3rd Avenue, N. E.
St. Petersburg, Fla.

PORCH CLUB NOTES

Following the monthly business meeting, held April 7th, Mrs. J. A. Swenson, State Federation Chairman of Legislature, spoke on current bills coming up before the Legislature in Trenton. She touched on many laws in the making that are of interest to women. She laid special stress on the Old Age Pension, the School Bill, the removal of ugly roadside signs and the regional planning.

Mrs. E. H. Barnes, district vice president, also spoke. She is an old friend of the Riverton Porch Club.

Next Mrs. Harper told of the fresh air fund for children. She was sent to the club by The New York Herald Tribune to explain the fresh air fund work which has been carried on for thirty years by the Herald-Tribune. The object is to provide fresh country air and a home influence for poor children from New York. If an individual will volunteer to include a child in the household for two weeks the Herald-Tribune will provide transportation both ways and if for any reason it is not convenient to keep that child for the full two weeks the Herald-Tribune will send for him immediately. This has proven a great uplift for many children as a visit to the country and in a refined home is an exceptional experience.

The Current Events Class will meet April 14th at 10 a. m. The usual quotations will be omitted. A half hour will be devoted to current news and a half hour to reviews of books of the month. The main feature of the morning will be a talk by Mr. E. N. Cooper, principal of the Riverton Public Schools, on modern education.

PHI NU CLASS

The subject of the lesson for April 12 needs no introduction. The story of the Prodigal Son is told in all lands and tongues. It is the most beautiful word picture ever painted. What is your reaction to the title of this parable? Is it in your opinion rightly named, or do you believe the "Forgiving Father" is a more suitable one? Come out and let us have your thoughts on the matter.

The regular monthly meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Robert Gowell, 211 Cinnaminson street, Riverton, Wednesday evening, April 15th, instead of Monday, on account of the teacher training course meeting on that night.

PUBLICITY COMMITTEE.

JOHN T. HEALLEY

John T. Healley, aged seventy, died at his home, 437 Elm avenue, Riverton, last Monday morning after a short illness. He is survived by his widow, Bedelia E. Healley.

Services were held this morning at Sacred Heart Church, Riverton, with Solemn High Requiem Mass and interment was made in the St. Paul Cemetery, with Funeral Director Jerome J. Zisak in charge.

Second Annual Convention of State Bible Classes To Be Held in Camden

The Rev. Lester H. Clee, of Newark, Will Address Great Men's Gathering at Convention Hall on Saturday; Ladies Are Also Invited

The second annual convention of the State Federation of Men's Bible Classes of New Jersey will be held in Camden, Saturday and Sunday.

The business session and group meetings will be held at the Centenary Tabernacle M. E. Church, Fifth and Cooper streets, at 2:00 p. m.

Group meetings will be led by outstanding Bible Class leaders and will cover men's work in churches, such as leadership, federation activities, city and county publicity, music, class organization and welfare activities.

A street parade, with nearly 8,000 Bible Class men in line, will start at 6:15 o'clock at Second and Cooper streets, and will terminate at Camden Convention Hall, where a monster mass meeting will be held at seven o'clock sharp. The Rev. Lester H. Clee, of Newark, N. J., will deliver an address at that time. The Rev. Mr. Clee teaches a Bible class, which boasts of nearly 1,200 members.

Ladies of the state are invited to attend the convention. A special committee of Camden ladies will look after the visitors. A two and a half-hour sight-seeing tour has been arranged for them. This tour will include the interesting places of both Camden and Philadelphia.

The men of Palmyra and vicinity are urged to turn out for this great parade. Classes from Burlington County are assigned to the first section of the Third Division and will form on Third street, north of Cooper street, facing Cooper.

Several very well-known New Jersey bands, as well as some Philadelphia bands have offered to give their help to make this convention a success. Some Philadelphia Bible classes will also be present.

It has been arranged to have seats reserved in Convention Hall for the men who will parade.

The men of this community are cordially invited to attend this great convention, so that Palmyra may have a good representation.

FIRE CO. CARD PARTY MEETS WITH SUCCESS

The card party and dance held in the Riverton fire house last Saturday night under the auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary was a complete success.

Director McFadden, a live wire and unofficial entertainer of the company had a number of his friends from Philadelphia present and among the newcomers were Mr. and Mrs. Bradley, also of Philadelphia.

Everyone seemed to thoroughly enjoy themselves and McFadden expressed the regrets of the company that Mr. and Mrs. Mecker and Mr. and Mrs. Paterson were not present to enjoy the fun. Mrs. Mecker being confined to her home through illness and Mr. and Mrs. Peterson being in Washington, D. C., on a business trip.

PLAYERS SET FOR "THE HOTTENTOT"

Full Houses Expected at Performances on Friday and Saturday

Those who have never attended a horse race will be given an opportunity to feel the excitement caused by the racing ponies when they attend the performance of "The Hottentot" tomorrow and Saturday nights.

This three-act comedy is sponsored by the Palmyra Parent-Teachers' Association and will be staged in the High School auditorium. The plot of the story deals with the amusements of the rich, featuring the old sport of steeplechasing.

One of the girls enters a horse of her own at the last minute, only to see the steed fall far behind in the race and then finish "in the money" due to the fine qualities in both horse and jockey.

The cast includes members of casts of former plays who have been successful in entertaining the local public. The roles which the various members assume, and the order in which they appear, follows:

"Swift," Melvin Burr; "May Guilford," Muriel Burgman; "Larry Crawford," Chris J. Davis; "Peggy Fairfax," Ruth Lutz; "Carol Chadwick," Madeline Zeller; "Alec Fairfax," Ted Hudson; "Ollie Guilford," S. Robinson MacMullin; "Perkins," John A. Althouse, Jr.; "Sam Harrington," Frank A. Mathews, Jr.; "McKesson," George W. Rogers; "Reggie Townsend," George T. Long.

The action of the play takes place near New York City, the scene of the first two acts being laid in the Guilfore's country home. The last act, in which the horse race is run, has a hillside clearing as a background, with a part of the fence lining the edge of the steeplechase course on the stage.

Frank A. Mathews, Jr., is coaching the play while Frank Kates is directing the stage effects. Mrs. D. M. Wass and Mrs. William A. McCamy handling the publicity and the tickets respectively.

Reserved seats for the show were placed on sale Wednesday at the Talk-About Shop.

ROTARY DELEGATES

E. N. Cooper and H. B. Conover Official Delegates at Easton

The District Convention of the 50th District of Rotary will be held in Reading, Pa., from April 18 to 21.

The following will attend: President Clement B. Lewis, Secretary Joseph Seel, Dr. C. S. Mills, Ross E. Mattis, Elwood Thum, H. B. Conover, alternate delegate and E. N. Cooper, official delegate. Others whose names are not known at this time will also probably attend.

The address given last week was by Dr. Sullivan who spoke on "Community Service."

GRAY

Our meeting was called to order by our president, Sherman Cootee. Then Ed Paulus led us in prayer.

After this we had a short discussion on old and new business and then went into the gym for our evening of fun.

We chose teams and had a good game of indoor baseball. After this we had a short game of basketball and then adjourned.

K. OF C. ENTERTAINS COUNTY CHAPTERS

John McGill, State Deputy of Pennsylvania, Was Principal Speaker. Musical and Refreshments

One hundred and fifty Knights of Columbus were the guests of St. Joseph's Council last Tuesday night.

The visitors were from all of the Burlington County Councils, also Merchantville and Haddon Heights.

The principal speaker of the evening was John McGill, state deputy of Pennsylvania. Other speakers were District Deputies Rabe, McGuire, Endebrook and the Rev. Joseph A. Rigney.

Entertainment consisted of a musical program with A. J. Pfaff as song leader. A very tasty spread made up the refreshments.

AUXILIARY NOTES

All members are invited to attend a covered dish supper to be held in the Post F. M. Rodgers Legion Home Wednesday evening, April 15, at 7:00 p. m., sharp. This supper will be in conjunction with the regular monthly meeting which will also be held this same evening. Members are urged to be present as this should prove to be a very enjoyable evening.

A meeting of the executive committee will be held in the Legion Home this evening. Members of this committee are urged to be present.

The usual Easter work through the Rehabilitation and Child Welfare programmes was carried on again this year. Cards sent to ex-service men in hospitals and cards and eggs sent to children of ex-service men who have been cared for through these committees.

"Poppy Time" is almost here. Materials have been ordered and all members are urged to get in touch with the unit and arrange to help put this programme over in the biggest way possible. More details as to the making and selling of the poppies will be announced as soon as a definite plan has been completed.

SAMUEL P. RUFF DIES SUDDENLY

Heart Attack Proves Fatal To Well Known Moorestown Groceryman

Samuel P. Ruff, widely known resident of Moorestown, died shortly after 11 o'clock Saturday night at his home on Linden street. His death was sudden, due to heart trouble, although he had been ill at various times for the past year.

Funeral services were held Wednesday morning from his late residence at 8 o'clock, and at 9 o'clock from the Church of Our Lady of Good Counsel, Moorestown, with the Rev. Father Rudden, rector, officiating. Philip McChesney was funeral director in charge. Interment was in Mount Carmel cemetery.

Mr. Ruff was known to nearly everyone in this community, having lived here all his life, and having operated a grocery store on East Main street, for forty years. He was treasurer of Relief Engine Company and Relief Association for forty years. He also was a member of the Knights of Columbus.

Surviving the deceased are his wife, Mrs. Margaret Ruff, and three children, Elmer Ruff, Samuel Ruff, and Mrs. William McKenna, all of Moorestown.

FIREMEN PLAN TWO SAT. NIGHT DANCES

Everybody Is Urged to Be Present to Enjoy The Special Features April 18th and 25th

A big and unusual treat is in store for those who support the firemen at their dance, April 18 and 25. Saturday night, both of 'em.

The Rainbow Ramblers of Burlington will furnish the music, and they are always good. But as an added attraction Marty Regan, Philadelphia's singing cop will be there to entertain, and how he can entertain!

Of course refreshments will be served and for just a little bit of money you will get two of the most enjoyable evenings you have ever known and help the boys at the same time.

COMMON WEEDS MENACE GARDEN PLANTS' HEALTH

Most gardeners do not realize that weeds are frequently the source of the disease outbreaks which destroy choice flowering plants and shrubs, said Dr. R. P. White, research specialist in diseases of ornamentals at the New Jersey Agricultural Experiment Station, in a radio talk from WOR, Newark, Saturday afternoon. "Many weeds harbor destructive plant diseases, which are spread by various means to gardens," he explained. "A group of diseases known as stem rot, root rot, or wilt, which occur on asters, delphiniums, and many other annual and perennial garden plants also attack and are frequently harbored by such common weeds as wild radish, pigweed, and wild carrot.

ARMSTRONG WINS MEMORY TEASER

Local Fireman and Sportsman Sailed Before the Mast in Race Against "Fiona"

This week's Memory Teaser Contest was won by Walter Armstrong, Riverton's fire chief and ardent follower of local sports.

His letter, published below gives a detailed account of the "one designer"—Fiona," which was pictured last week as a Memory Teaser.

Many of the active and inactive followers of the aquatic sports that Riverton used to know so well will recall with a thrill the sharply contested races that engaged the "Fiona" in our waters, as told by "Walt."

To the Editor of Memory Teaser Contest:

The cut in this week's paper is a picture of the sailboat "Fiona" owned by J. H. Hillman. This boat was built in Atlantic City in 1902 and was delivered here under her own canvas by Lawton Faunce, better known to his many friends as "Dick."

She was a jib and mainsail rig and showed such excellent sailing qualities that some members of the yacht club decided to have boats built of the same type. Nine of these boats were built, and known as the "one-design boats." Some of them are in good shape yet.

Mr. Hillman sold the "Fiona" to John Perkins, of Beverly, in 1905. Mr. Perkins, finding it difficult to race with the new boat, decided to convert it into a catboat, which he did that year. The "Fiona" proved to be very fast in this class, the result being many close races sailed between the "Fiona" and the "Sea Gull" owned by Lee Cook, who was one of the best boatmen on the Delaware. There was always a crowd on hand and plenty of excitement when these two boats raced. They were pretty evenly matched and the finish was always close.

The yacht races were among the leading events of our Fourth-of-July celebration. The "Fiona" was a Beverly boat but was always invited here on Decoration Day and Fourth of July. The Riverton Yacht Club was always a guest of the Beverly Yacht Club on Labor Day, which was Beverly's big day.

These boats (the one-designers) were very hard to handle, having so much sail that it required a six-man crew with each man handling two heavy sand bags. Jones, of Beverly, sailed the "Fiona" and Walter Leaming, the painter, who is well-known in Riverton, was a member of the crew. I cannot name the other three members outside of Mr. Perkins.

I had the honor of being a member of the "Sea Gull's" crew, and sailed in a good many races with Captain Lee Cook against the "Fiona." The members of the "Sea Gull's" crew were: Lawton Faunce, Charles Cooper, Horace Cooper, Cooper Thomason, Walter Armstrong and Captain Lee Cook. The "Sea Gull" is now a thing of the past, having been out of the water so long that it just went to pieces.

The "Fiona" is still owned by Mr. Perkins and can be seen lying at anchor near the bridge at Delanco. Mr. Perkins has a motor in it and uses it for duck shooting.

"MOTHER MINE"

Play Will Be Presented Next Thursday in Methodist Church

"Mother Mine," a three-act play, will be presented in the Methodist Church Thursday evening, April 9.

The members of the Epworth League are sponsoring the play and have procured the same cast which carried the play through to a successful run in Burlington several weeks ago.

Admission may be obtained through the presentation of a ticket, costing thirty-five cents, or pay the sum at the door on the night of the performance.

ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Woodward Knight of Riverton, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Edith May Knight to Mr. David Edward McKnight, son of Mr. and Mrs. David McKnight, of Palmyra.

MEETING OF TWILIGHT LEAGUE

All men interested in joining the proposed Palmyra Twilight Baseball League are urged to attend the meeting to be held at the Palmyra Police Headquarters tomorrow evening at eight o'clock sharp.

TIME TO PAINT

In preparation for the spring painting, the Etris Hardware management urges Sherwin-Williams paint. Porch and deck paints sell for 95 cents per quart while the rapid-drying enamelloid costs $1.70 for a quart can. These prices are lower than the prices of $2.30 and $1.90 respectively, erroneously as advertised for the same paints last week.

Handcuffing one man to the front bumper of a stolen car so his four companions could not attempt a getaway without running over him, Constable Alfred Hodgson of Lindsay, Canada, single-handed arrested five men.

COAL CONTRACT GOES TO CAMDEN

Local Bidder Asked 15c a Ton More and $1200 Will Go Out of Town

Only two coal dealers submitted prices to the Riverton Board of Education last Monday night for supplying coal next winter. They were J. S. Collins & Son, Inc., Riverton, and R. McAllister, Camden.

Some of the members of the board expressed surprise that so few bids were tendered and District Clerk Fred P. Hemphill said that he had advertised in the newspaper and sent letters to coal dealers hereabouts stating when and where bids would be received.

After some discussion a motion was passed awarding the contract to Mc Allister.

When the bids were submitted to the school board some doubt arose as to who should receive the contract, and both bids were referred to the business committee for recommendation.

The price submitted by McAllister was 15c less per ton than the one submitted by J. S. Collins & Son, Inc.

Mr. Steedle strongly urged awarding the contract to the local dealer, pointing out that the Collins concern paid taxes in the borough and employed a considerable number of people whose salaries were spent in the home community.

Mr. Warren agreed with Mr. Steedle that it seemed a shame to send the money out of town.

Mr. Hemphill, however, said that since bids had been advertised for he felt that the award should be made to the lowest bidder, although he acknowledged that it was not necessary under the law to do so. Mr. Hemphill then announced that the committee's recommendation was that the contract be awarded to McAllister. A motion to that effect was passed with no dissenting vote.

The education committee recommended that Miss Lucas, who now teaches music and physical training, teach music only next year, giving two full days a week, and that Mr. LePevre be employed to teach physical training two days a week. His salary is $1600 a year of which Riverton will pay $640 a year.

The committee also recommended that contracts be renewed with Miss Meribah Gardner, Miss Julia H. Griscom, Mr. E. H. Griffith and E. N. Cooper, supervising principal.

These recommendations were adopted.

Mrs. Gladys B. Bowers tendered her resignation to take effect at the end of the school year in June. It was accepted with regret. Mrs. Bowers has taught in the Riverton School ten years.

Mr. Cooper submitted his monthly report.

The following bills were ordered paid:

Public Service Elec. & Gas Co.	$31.29
New Jersey Bell Tel. Co.	6.85
Standard Duplicator Co. stencil paper	18.57
Citizens Bk. & Trust Co., interest note	13.75

ENGAGEMENT

Mrs. John T. Dorrance announced the engagement of her daughter, Miss Ethel M. Dorrance to Tristram C. Colket, of Haverford, Pa., April 8th.

Miss Dorrance, who lives in Radnor, Pa., was a former residence of Riverton.

APPRECIATION

Mrs. Eli Brown desires to thank her many friends for the cards and flowers sent during her recent illness.

YMCA DIRECTORS WILL BANQUET AT CLUB NEXT WEEK

Dinner on Tuesday To Formally Open Annual Finance Campaign

COUNTRY CLUB SET FOR SCENE OF FESTIVITIES

Elmer Hahn Will Head Drive; Nathan Lane To Act as Toastmaster

The annual finance campaign of the Palmyra-Riverton Y. M. C. A. will open formally at a dinner to be held at the Riverton Country Club Tuesday evening.

Nathan Lane, Jr., president of the board of directors, will act as master of ceremonies during the dinner. Walter Wood, general secretary of the Philadelphia Y. M. C. A., will be the speaker of the evening. William Atkinson, captain of the soliciting team which won first honors in the Camden Y. drive, will also be present and give the local members some pointers on the method of conducting a successful campaign. Mr. Atkinson is also president of the Camden Y. Men's Club.

Elmer Hahn, general chairman of the campaign, announces the ten team captains have obtained most of the members of their prospective teams. The leaders of the teams are Nathan Lane, Jr., Leon C. Guest, Victor Ritschard, Herbert Parsons, William McConnell, William H. Plank, Clinton H. Gardner, William Purnell, Joseph Seel and John Metzgar.

The second issue of the "Triangle" bulletin published by the Palmyra-Riverton Y. M. C. A. will be out Monday, and will contain a detailed account of just what the local association has accomplished during the past year and an outline of the plans for the coming year.

The board of directors have made a careful study of the expenses of the local organization, and finds a cost of approximately $12 annually for the entertainment of every boy attending the Y. During the past year the local association has served the boys of the community but definite plans have been made to serve the men and the girls of the two towns. A full-time secretary has been employed to work with the Y. program and to co-operate in every manner possible with worthwhile projects of the community.

The leaders believe wholeheartedly in their slogan which they are adopting for the campaign. What does a profit a community if it becomes wealthy but loses its youth?

HARRISON A. STONE

Harrison A. Stone, twenty-two months old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Stone of 509 Vine street, Palmyra, died at the Municipal Hospital, Camden, Friday night. Interment was made in Morgan Cemetery, Saturday morning, under the direction of Frank A. Shover. The Rev. George Lockett of the Central Baptist Church, Palmyra, officiated at the grave.

FIREMEN INJURED IN CRASH AT RANCOCAS

Truck Strikes Bridge Abutment On Way to Field of Burning Grass

Five firemen were injured when the driver of a chemical truck of the Rancocas Fire Company lost control of the vehicle on the way to a grass fire between Centerton and Rancocas Park Friday afternoon.

The truck, believed to have been thrown after striking a hole in the road, crashed into the stone abutment. The truck stopped on the brink of the creek.

Herbert Bensel, 30, driver of the truck, suffered a deep laceration of left leg, caused by the broken steering rod, and was weakened by loss of blood. He was taken to Burlington County Hospital.

The most seriously injured was Earnest F. Janney, 45, who was riding on the rear of the truck. The impact threw him against the chemical tanks, nearly severing his nose. He also suffered injuries of the left eye and crushed molar bone. His face was badly lacerated. Janney may loose the sight of the eye. He is a well known electrical contractor and a prominent citizen of Rancocas.

Henry Poole, 24, and Barney Rogers, 23, were slightly injured and after treatment were able to return to their homes. Raymond Kimble, 19, suffered a contusion of left knee and body bruises.

The alarm was turned in by Walter Jessup, who resides on a farm near Rancocas. He saw this field of grass on fire, jumped into his car and rode to the scene, and after discovering the blaze to be making rapid progress toward some houses, he returned to Rancocas and summoned the firemen.

When Louis Horovitz of Chicago was discovered peering into a subway turnstile with an officer's badge on his coat and a toy pistol in his hand, he told policemen that he was studying to be a detective.

NICARAGUA RELIEF

Red Cross Extends Aid to Victims of Disaster

Letters have been received by the Burlington County Chapter of the Red Cross from the national organization, at Washington, concerning the recent earthquake in Nicaragua March 31st.

Upon receipt of news of the disaster President Hoover immediately designated the Red Cross to coordinate all American relief efforts and directed the State, War and Navy Departments to co-operate to the fullest extent with the Red Cross in bringing prompt aid to the stricken people.

The National Red Cross at once made an initial cash grant available for emergency needs and will authorize additional relief if necessary.

While it will probably not be necessary to raise a relief fund in the United States, the local chapter is authorized to receive and forward to Washington voluntary contributions for this purpose, which may be sent to the county treasurer, Miss Mary W. Samson, 24 W. Union street, Burlington.

On Friday evening, May 8, at eight o'clock, Y. W. C. A. clubs from all parts of Burlington County will gather for their annual festival of music at the Moorestown Community House.

The program is under the direction of Mrs. William Grobler, of Moorestown, who is the county chairman of music in the Y. W. C. A. Assisting Mrs. Grobler in training the clubs are Miss Dorothy Burr, of Pemberton; Miss Mildred Collin, of Delanco; Mrs. Clarence Davenport, of Mount Holly; Miss Cecilia Hutchinson, of Bordentown; Miss Rosa Mosby, of Mount Holly; and Mrs. Earl Williams, of Moorestown.

Clubs from all parts of the county will participate in special songs and dances and there will also be community singing directed by Mrs. Grobler.

Club Notes

Maple Shade Girl Reserves held an international Easter party Thursday evening, April 2. The games played were chosen from those in use in other countries, and Elizabeth Stein, the president, told of Easter customs in other lands.

Medford High School Girl Reserves met at the home of Bertha Heppersett, Wednesday evening of last week and held a discussion on "Impartial in Judgment." A false-true test showed various points of view on many of the issues of the day, from disarmament to unemployment.

The Girl Reserve Junior Council will meet at the Y. W. C. A. in Burlington, Saturday afternoon, April 11, from two to five o'clock. Besides singing, devotions, business and games, the program will include a play, "Lalah of the Mountains," by the Delanco girls, and a talk by a foreign student on life in some other country. Girls of the Captain Lawrence School will act as hostesses.

BRISTOL BRIDGE OPENS MAY 2

Burlington Plans Big Celebration in Honor of Event

The Burlington-Bristol Bridge celebration committee was organized at a meeting of representatives of the Bristol Rotary and Exchange Club and the Kiwanis Club and Chamber of Commerce last week at the hall of the Elks home in Bristol.

The purpose of this group is to stage some fitting celebration at the time of the official opening of the Burlington-Bristol Bridge to the public. This event is now scheduled, tentatively, for Saturday, May 2nd,—depending on road completion.

The meeting was called to order by G. C. McKann, Jr., secretary of the Burlington Chamber of Commerce, who stated its purpose and presided over the preliminary discussion regarding the bridge and its possibilities.

The first business transacted was that of organization and election of officers. Wm. H. H. Fine, of Bristol, was elected general chairman of the entire bridge celebration committee. Other officers elected were W. C. Jones, vice chairman for Burlington; Edgar J. Spencer, vice chairman for Bristol, and G. C. McKann, Jr., secretary of the committee.

One of the first features of a celebration to be discussed was a joint dinner meeting of the service clubs of both cities on the night following the formal opening of the bridge. After considerable discussion the bridge celebration committee decided to communicate with the Rotary and Exchange Clubs of Bristol, and the Kiwanis and Young Men's Clubs of Burlington asking them to take this plan up at their next meeting and, if the plan appealed to them and they were willing to join in such a meeting, to appoint two of their members to form a committee of eight from the four clubs to have complete charge of all arrangements for the meeting.

After some discussion it was decided to issue a general invitation to all fraternal organizations and fire companies of both cities to take part in the celebration and especially the parade which is being planned. Interested parties are being asked to get in touch with any one of the four officers named above.

Due to the difficulties of working up float units on such short notice and due also to the long distance planned for the parade to cover, it was decided to make this feature of the celebration strictly a vehicular affair.

Considerable thought and discussion was given to various features of the parade with the final result that it was decided to form a parade in each city, marching it to the respective ends of the bridge, at which time the official dedication ceremonies will be held on the center span of the structure. Following these ceremonies each parade will proceed over the bridge and into the neighboring town. Details of these parades have been left in the hands of the members of the committee from each town.

FAVORS HOME GARDEN FOR RECREATION AND PROFIT

The home vegetable garden offers the opportunity to many families of materially reducing food budgets, C. H. Nissley, New Jersey extension service horticulturist, asserted at New Brunswick Saturday, in a statement urging a more general planting of home gardens in the state this year. Records kept on a large number of New Jersey home gardens, he said, revealed that on 50 by 50 feet plots the average value of the vegetables grown, after all expenses were deducted, was $47.38, and that on quarter-acre plots the average net value of the vegetables was $134.14 for each plot. Detailed directions for the guidance of amateur gardeners are contained in New Jersey extension service bulletin 85, "The Home Vegetable Garden," a free copy of which may be obtained by any New Jersey resident by writing to his county agricultural agent or to the Mail Clerk, College Farm, New Brunswick.

BIBLE CLASS MEN MEET AT CAMDEN

Second Annual Convention of State Federation Will Be Held April 11-12

Bible class men of the state of New Jersey are looking forward to the greatest gathering of their forces ever held, when they meet at Camden this Saturday and Sunday, April 11 and 12, for their second annual convention.

The first meeting of this nature was held at Elizabeth last spring, and the inspiration gathered there has been the means of spreading the activities of the New Jersey State Federation of Men's Bible Classes to many of the counties that were not organized at that time.

South Jersey is practically a unit, so thorough has been the work of State Vice President Neil L. Jamieson since the last convention, and meetings are held in one or more counties each Sunday afternoon of the month.

The convention headquarters will be at Hotel Walt Whitman. The business session will be held at Centenary Tabernacle M. E. Church, at 2 p. m.

Immediately following the group meetings and business session, supper will be served at the nearby hotels.

At 6.30 there will be a parade of the delegations by counties, each headed by a band. The route will be short, about a half hour's marching from the scene of the afternoon meeting to the City Convention Hall, where the monster mass meeting will be held at 7:15.

HEARING DELAYED ON 'OPEN DOOR' FOR BUSES

Citizens Join Schlitz and Penn-Jersey Co. Fight For Interstate Rights

Two bus loads of citizens went to Trenton on Tuesday of last week to fight for "open bus doors" between Moorestown and Philadelphia. One bus was from the Schlitz line and the other from the Penn-Jersey Company, both of whom seek intrastate transportation rights.

However, nothing was done at Trenton. The hearing was postponed until late in April. There are possibilities that the New Jersey Public Utility Board will hear the case in Camden on that date instead of Trenton.

If the Joseph Schlitz Bus Company and the Penn-Jersey Company, which is a part of the Public Service Co-Ordinated Transportation Company, are successful in getting permission to open their doors, lower rates will no doubt become effective.

According to Joseph Schlitz, president of the Joseph Schlitz Bus Company, Inc., the reduced fare will not only benefit Maple Shade commuters, but Moorestown and Lenola riders as well. Mr. Schlitz said that he would give Maple Shade and Lenola a ten-cent fare and Moorestown 15 cents to Camden. The Public Service now collects five cents more for the same service.

Permission has been granted Schlitz by all the towns between Moorestown and Camden to allow his buses to operate on an intrastate schedule. They are Camden, Merchantville, Moorestown and Maple Shade.

Pathfinder tells of a Washington lawyer who defended his client against a charge of breaking a contract. Opposing counsel declared there was a gentleman's agreement. The defendant's lawyer retorted: "How can they have a gentleman's agreement when only one is a gentleman?"

TWO MILLION FOR CAMPBELL'S 'ADS'

Representative of Camden Company Tells of Its Advertising Program

The growth of a simple idea and effective use of advertising is responsible for the great success of Campbell Soup Company, declared R. M. Budd, of the advertising department of the Camden company in an address before the Moorestown Rotary Club at its regular weekly luncheon meeting in the Community House last Thursday at noon.

Dr. J. T. Dorrance was solely responsible for the simple idea which was so excellently perfected. Dr. Dorrance, in studying in Germany for his Ph. D. degree, was impressed by the important part soup played in the life of the average peasant. In fact, it seemed to be the main food.

Feeling that soup should play an important part in everyone's life, he set out to reduce the mass product to a water contest, to facilitate packing and distributing.

With the soup idea in mind, Dr. Dorrance obtained a position with the old Joseph Campbell Company at Camden in 1896. In 1898 he persuaded the heads of the company to abandon the products they were then canning in favor of soups. The first year 500,000 cans were packed. During the rush tomato season, said Mr. Budd, that would represent only a few minutes of work, for at the height of the season 230,000 baskets of tomatoes are used in a day.

The growth of the Campbell advertising program has come up from the first year's campaign, early in this century, in which $4200 was spent in New York street car advertising, to an expenditure of about $2,000,000 in magazines alone last year. The company spends approximately $11,000 a week for a page in the Saturday Evening Post, and this figure does not include the heavy expenditures for art work, special plates and other expenses. Mr. Budd showed the various processes to which an advertisement is put through before it becomes a page in the Saturday Evening Post.

John G. Pettit, chairman of the ladies' night committee, gave a report on the event, which was successfully held the week previous. The club gave Mr. Pettit and his committee a rising vote of thanks for their fine work.

Emmor Roberts, chairman of the "On-to-Reading" committee, urged that as many of the members who possibly can, should attend the Fiftieth District Rotary Conference at Reading April 19 to 21.

William F. Overman, who had been in Florida recuperating from a recent illness, was welcomed back to the club.

Convicted on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon, Bert Gunn of Mobile, Ala., was sentenced to 90 days in jail and fined $250.

PLANE TALKS

By Lt. H. H. LONGAKER

Founder, Burlington County Aero Club

Saturday afternoon, April 11, will mark the opening of the National Aircraft Show being held at the Detroit City Airport. We told you last year about the million dollar hangar, 1013 feet long by 200 feet wide and this year an additional 30,000 sq. ft. is needed.

Light planes will play a very important part at the show this year, most of the manufacturers making a determined effort to get every man and his brother in the air this spring and summer.

During the spring maneuvers of the Air Corps in which almost seven hundred airplanes will take part, the Bellanca Airport at New Castle, Del., will be used by 105 ships from the afternoon of May 28 until the morning of May 30. Several other airports in this vicinity will be used and we will announce these as soon as the Air Corps decides definitely which ones they will use and how many ships the other fields can accommodate.

The Burlington County Aero Club will hold another dance. This one will be held on the evening of April 29 in the Riverside Fire Hall. An excellent eight-piece orchestra has been secured. Dress will be informal and the admission charge very nominal.

For the next two weeks this column will be written at the National Aircraft Show in Detroit. We will try to give you the very latest aviation news and interesting sidelights of the show.

JURY COMMISSIONER

Dr. L. B. Hollingshead Named to Succeed F. A. Braddock

Announcement was made on Tuesday that Dr. Lyman B. Hollingshead, of Pemberton, has been appointed Jury Commissioner for Burlington County, replacing Frank A. Braddock, deceased, of Medford.

Mr. Braddock, due to a long illness preceding his death, was succeeded by two temporary appointees, William D. Cowperthwait, of Medford, and Mrs. Amor J. Gaunt, of Springfield, in order mentioned, but Dr. Hollingshead is named for a new term of, three years. The salary is $750 a year.

The new appointee is one of the county's leading Democrats. Last year he conducted an unsuccessful campaign against Senator Clifford R. Powell, for state senator.

It is said the doctor had the unanimous endorsement of the Democratic state and county committeemen, and also the hearty support of Senator Powell.

Under the law the Jury Commissioner must be of the opposite political faith from that of the sheriff, who serves jointly with the Commissioner in preparing the jury lists.

The body of Mrs. Douglass Mansfield's pet dog which was killed at Jacksville, Penn., was enclosed in a special satin-lined casket before its burial.

181 PHILADELPHIA GAMBLERS CAUGHT

Detectives and Police Make Big Haul in Riverside Park

One hundred and eighty-one Philadelphia gamblers were arrested and fined last Friday when Burlington county detectives and state police raided "The Riverview Yacht Club on the bank of the Delaware River in Riverside Park.

The building was formerly operated as a hotel under the name of "The American House" but had been vacant for several years.

Shortly before 4 p. m. Friday several automobiles loaded with the troopers and detectives arrived at the building, which resembles an old time farmhouse, and were quickly stationed at all doorways and windows.

County Detective Arthur Carabine who led the raiders, then broke in a side door leading directly into a side room where more than 100 men congregated at tables and ordered everybody to stand along the wall.

Several of the gamblers attempted to escape through windows and other doors but surrendered without resistence when they learned that all exits were guarded.

Much Paraphernalia

Carabine then led some of the raiders to the second floor where several "craps" tables were lined with players. The players in this room were arrested and also nearly 100 others found in a large room on the third floor where direct wires to race tracks, a ticker, charts and other racing paraphernalia were confiscated by the raiders.

When the police arrived they found three large buses in the rear of the building and 67 automobiles, mostly with Pennsylvania tags, parked in the vicinity.

Those arrested were loaded into the three buses, all of which made two trips, and taken to the Riverside town hall, where they were booked by Justice of the Peace Jacob Blankmeyer on a disorderly conduct charge.

Later Blankmeyer and Justice of the Peace William McCaffrey, assisted by State Troopers Rudder and Jackson, made each prisoner identify him self and fined him $6.

All but nine of those arrested were able to pay their fines and those not having the money were released after a man known only as "Callahan" paid $54 for their freedom.

No Names Given Out

The police only asked for the last name of each defendant and did not question them regarding their addresses. The list of those arrested was not made public.

The three buses were quickly filled after the hearing and the gamblers were taken back to Philadelphia.

In the meantime the state troopers refused to release any of the 67 automobiles that had been parked in the neighborhood until the owner was able to show his registration cards and driver's license. All cars were identified within two hours after the raid.

In searching the premises following the raid Carabine and the troopers discovered three revolvers, fully loaded, under three different tables. Several empty whisky bottles also were found, although no liquor was found in the building.

The first floor of the building was divided into four rooms. One room, the largest, contained 15 small tables, on which were found quantities of food and several glasses containing ginger ale.

The floor of the first room was littered with scraps of paper on which had been written prices paid on various horses running at the tracks. The room also contained a music device as is seen in cafes and which operated by inserting a coin.

On one side of the main room were two smaller rooms, one containing a bar with everything complete for the serving of liquor and beer with the exception of the liquor. Several cases of ginger ale, soft drinks and milk, all on ice, were found in the bar-room.

Next to the bar-room was a well equipped kitchen. Several pots and pans on a large gas stove contained a variety of meats and vegetables while other foodstuff was placed on a large table in the centre of the room.

The fourth room contained but a single table and an expensive radio set, also a few chairs, and had probably been used as an office for the operators of the establishment.

On the second floor three rooms contained four craps tables, the green covers listing the prices paid by the "house" being apparently new and unworn.

On the third floor a large room was partitioned at one end into an office where bets were placed on the horses. Charts were on each of three walls and behind the partition was a battery of telephone connections with head sets, and a ticker.

Six Were Hiding

Lieutenant Keating and Sergeant Eugene Hausling, who were in charge of the state police participating in the raid, discovered six men hiding in the building after the balance had departed in the buses. Two of these were located in the cellar, three in telephone booths and the other behind the bar. All were taken to Riverside and dealt the same fate as the balance arrested.

Carabine said the place has been under surveillance for the past two weeks and that he timed the raid so as to be able to catch the greater number of customers.

The warrant under which the raid was made named a "Clement Goodwin" as the proprietor of the establishment. No one by that name was arrested, according to Carabine, and a search will be made for the man.

The detective said the buses picked up prospective gamblers in central Philadelphia and brought them to the "yacht" club to bet on horse races. Following the races the men were returned to Philadelphia in the same manner. Most of those arrested were well known in Philadelphia, Carabine said.

$250,000 FIRE SWEEPS SEASIDE PARK BEACH

Two Big Hotels and Several Homes Destroyed; Incendiarism Suspected

Fire starting at 1.30 Easter Monday destroyed the Manhasset Hotel, a four story structure facing the beach between Fourth and Fifth avenue, Seaside Park.

The Gladwyn Hotel was also badly damaged before firemen got the blaze under control six hours later.

The summer homes of former State Treasurer William T. Read, Camden, and former Judge Edward C. Waddington, Woodstown, were a total loss.

In addition to the Read and Waddington cottages on Fifth avenue, across from the Manhasset, the homes of Roy Weaver, son of the late Mayor John Weaver, of Philadelphia, and John B. Showell, of 4318 Chestnut street, Philadelphia, were in ruins.

The residences of Robert E. Jones, Easton, Pa., formerly district attorney of Northampton county, and Mrs. George H. Thatcher, 138 South Thirteenth street, Philadelphia, were damaged.

Officials insisted all evidences pointed to an incendiary having started the fire in the Manhasset, which was being prepared for occupation.

Four firemen were overcome by smoke and fully 50 others were treated on the scene for minor cuts and injuries by physicians.

TESTIMONIAL DINNER FOR HARRY A. MOORE

Arrangements have been completed for the testimonial dinner to be given in the fire house, Riverside, April 21, in honor of former Governor A. Harry Moore, Democratic candidate for Governor at the forthcoming election. The dinner is sponsored by the Burlington County Democratic committee. Frank S. Absalom, of Florence, chairman of the county committee, and chairman of the general committee in charge of arrangements for the testimonial dinner to Moore, reports that more than 300 tickets have been sold for the affair.

COUNTY NOTABLES TO HONOR POWELL

400 To Attend Testimonial Dinner in Camden April 30

Four hundred or more notables of Burlington County and South Jersey will attend the testimonial dinner given State Senator Clifford R. Powell at Hotel Walt Whitman, Camden, Thursday night, April 30.

George deBenneville Keim, of Edgewater Park; Judge Charles A. Rigg, of Burlington; State Treasurer Albert C. Middleton, of Moorestown; Morris P. Perinchief, of Mount Holly, and James T. Weart, of Palmyra, comprise the executive committee.

Daniel R. Lemmon, of Brown's Mills, is chairman of the general committee. Arthur Smith, of Burlington is vice chairman. Others are: Philip S. Irons, Jr., of Mount Holly, secretary, and George C. Zeller, of Bordentown, treasurer.

Rev. Roland J. Beazley, State Senate Chaplain, will give the invocation. Howard Eastwood, Burlington, Burlington County prosecutor, will be toastmaster.

Speakers will be Hon. Winfield S. Price, mayor of Camden; Judge Charles A. Rigg, of Burlington; Charles R. Stout, of Florence, chairman of the Burlington County Republican Committee; Thomas L. Hausom, a member of the Public Utilities Commission; George deBenneville Keim, of Edgewater Park, member of the Republican National Committee; A. Crozier Reeves, Senate majority president; David Baird, Republican candidate for governor of New Jersey, and Edward Casper Stokes, former governor of New Jersey.

Members of the dinner committee and the towns of Burlington county they represent, are: Daniel R. Lemmon and William H. Reeves, Pemberton Township; Lloyd Kempte, Pemberton Borough; William Gray, Bass River; Charles Thomas, Washington Township; J. Lloyd Wright and Herbert S. Bowker, Medford; Charles Albright and Alvin Warrington, Marlton; John H. Sterner, Sr., Lumberton, Evan F. Benners, George B. Ferrier, Walter Middleton and Fred Lippin cott, Moorestown; Carl C. GUEST AT EASTER PARTY IS SLAIN

Riverside Man Confesses Fatal Shooting After Drunken Brawl

The Easter holidays were marked by a tragedy in Riverside when John Walnowskis, 55 years old, of 532 Taylor street, was found shot to death early Easter Monday.

The body was discovered by Mrs. Walnowskis, lying on the porch of Joseph Homentokski, of Taylor street, not far from the Walnowskis home. The victim had left his home Sunday evening to attend a party at Homentowski's house, the wife said.

Patrick Homentowski, 17 years old, and his father, Joseph, 68 years old, were taken to Mount Holly for questioning. The elder Homentucki is said to have confessed to Detective Ellis Parker that he killed the man in a drunken brawl.

Walnowskis' body was sprawled on the porch of the Homentuski home when found. It had been covered by a large piece of canvas. Mrs. Walnowskis said she first believed her husband to be asleep and made attempts to rouse him.

One bullet, it was shown by an autopsy made at the Earnest Funeral Home by County Physician Daniel F. Remer, entered the left chest, touched the edge of the heart and made exit through the left side of the back. A second pierced the left jaw and passed out through the back of the neck. The third bullet entered the back and was found close to the right thigh.

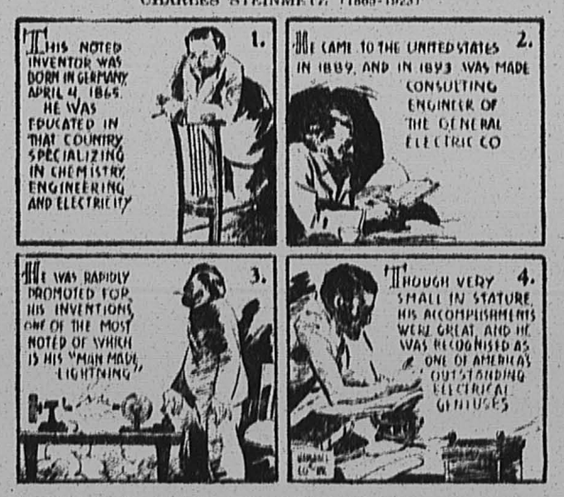

In order to win a bet from a friend, Henry Head of Statesville, N. C., ate 18 cottage rolls, a half pound of weiners, three bananas and drank one quart of whole milk and a bottle of "pop."

All but nine of those arrested were able to pay their fines and those not having the money were released after a man known only as "Callahan" paid $54 for their freedom.

No Names Given Out

The police only asked for the last name of each defendant and did not question them regarding their addresses. The list of those arrested was not made public.

The three buses were quickly filled after the hearing and the gamblers were taken back to Philadelphia.

In the meantime the state troopers refused to release any of the 67 automobiles that had been parked in the neighborhood until the owner was able to show his registration cards and driver's license. All cars were identified within two hours after the raid.

In searching the premises following the raid Carabine and the troopers discovered three revolvers, fully loaded, under three different tables. Several empty whisky bottles also were found, although no liquor was located in the building.

The first floor of the building was divided into four rooms. One room, the largest, contained 15 small tables on which were found quantities of food and several glasses containing ginger ale.

The floor of the first room was littered with scraps of paper on which had been written prices paid on various horses running at the tracks. The room also contained a music device as is seen in cafes and which operated by inserting a coin.

On one side of the main room were two smaller rooms, one containing a bar with everything complete for the serving of liquor and beer with the exception of the liquor. Several cases of ginger ale, soft drinks and milk, all on ice, were found in the bar-room.

Next to the bar-room was a well equipped kitchen. Several pots and pans on a large gas stove contained a variety of meats and vegetables while other foodstuff was placed on a large table in the centre of the room.

The fourth room contained but a single table and an expensive radio set, also a few chairs, and had probably been used as an office for the operations of the establishment.

On the second floor three rooms contained four craps tables, the green covers listing the prices paid by the "house" being apparently new and unworn.

The third floor a large room was partitioned at one end into an office where bets were placed on the horses. Charts were on each of three walls and behind the partition was a battery of telephone connections with head sets, and a ticker.

Six Were Hiding

Lieutenant Keating and Sergeant Eugene Hausling, who were in charge of the state police participating in the raid, discovered six men hiding in the building after the balance had departed in the buses. Two of these were located in the cellar, three in telephone booths and the other behind the bar. All were taken to Riverside and dealt the same fate as the balance arrested.

Carabine said the place has been under surveillance for the past two weeks, and that he timed the raid so as to be able to catch the greater number of customers.

The warrant under which the raid was made named a "Clement Goodwin" as the proprietor of the establishment. No one by that name was arrested, according to Carabine, and a search will be made for the man.

The detective said the buses picked up prospective gamblers in central Philadelphia and brought them to the "yacht" club to bet on horse races. Following the races the men were returned to Philadelphia in the same manner. Most of those arrested were well known in Philadelphia, Carabine said.

$250,000 FIRE SWEEPS SEASIDE PARK BEACH

Two Big Hotels and Several Homes Destroyed; Incendiarism Suspected

Fire starting at 1.30 Easter Monday destroyed the Manhasset Hotel, a four story structure facing the beach between Fourth and Fifth avenue, Seaside Park.

The Gladwyn Hotel was also badly damaged before firemen got the blaze under control six hours later.

The summer homes of former State Treasurer William T. Read, Camden, and former Judge Edward C. Waddington, Woodstown, were a total loss.

In addition to the Read and Waddington cottages on Fifth avenue, across from the Manhasset, the homes of Roy Weaver, son of the late Mayor John Weaver, of Philadelphia, and John B. Stowell, of 4318 Chestnut street, Philadelphia, were in ruins.

The residences of Robert E. Jones, Easton, Pa., formerly district attorney of Northampton county, and Mrs. George H. Thatcher, 138 South Thirteenth street, Philadelphia, were damaged.

Officials insisted all evidences pointed to an incendiary having started the fire in the Manhasset, which was being prepared for occupation.

Four firemen were overcome by smoke and fully 50 others were treated on the scene for minor cuts and injuries by physicians.

TESTIMONIAL DINNER FOR HARRY A. MOORE

Arrangements have been completed for the testimonial dinner to be given in the fire house, Riverside, April 21, in honor of former Governor A. Harry Moore, Democratic candidate for Governor at the forthcoming election. The dinner is sponsored by the Burlington County Democratic committee. Frank S. Absalom, of Florence, chairman of the county committee, and chairman of the general committee in charge of arrangements for the testimonial dinner to Moore, reports that more than 200 tickets have been sold for the affair.

Police officials at Irvington, N. J., recently booked Roland Skeleton on a loitering charge on complaint of Miss Nettie Coffin, who told them since she had declined his attentions he had been appearing regularly at her home, trying to see her.

After seven years of living in a section of his home apart from his wife, Chester A. Jones of Beacon, N. Y., is seeking an annulment in court.

GUEST AT EASTER PARTY IS SLAIN

The Easter holidays were marked by a tragedy in Riverside when John Wainowskis, 55 years old, of 532 Taylor street, was found shot to death early Easter Monday.

The body was discovered by Mrs. Wainowskis, lying on the porch of Joseph Homentokski, of Taylor street not far from the Wainowskis home. The victim had left his home Sunday evening to attend a party at Homentowski's house, the wife said.

Patrick Homentowski, 17 years old, and his father, Joseph, 66 years old, were taken to Mount Holly for questioning. The elder Homentuski is said to have confessed to Detective Ellis Parker that he killed the man in a drunken brawl.

Wainowskis' body was sprawled on the porch of the Homentuski home when found. It had been covered by a large piece of canvas. Mrs. Wainowskis said she first believed her husband to be asleep and made attempts to rouse him.

One bullet, it was shown by an autopsy made at the Earnest Funeral Home by County Physician Daniel F. Remer, entered the left chest, touched the edge of the heart and made exit through the left side of the back. A second pierced the left jaw and passed out through the back of the neck. The third bullet entered the back and was found close to the right thigh.

In order to win a bet from a friend, Henry Head of Statesville, N. C., ate 18 cottage rolls, a half pound of weiners, three bananas and drank one quart of whole milk and a bottle of "pop."

AND IT STILL RISES

During 1930 fire losses were appreciably greater than in 1929. And, if the present trend continues, 1931 will register another large advance. According to the National Board of Fire Underwriters the loss for January totaled $44,090,449—an increase of $1,746,414 over the same month last year.

At a time when business depression and unemployment are two paramount issues, the tragedy of fire becomes more than ordinarily apparent. We can build another structure to replace the one ruined—but we cannot compensate for lost opportunity, for lost jobs, for lost business. Every fire amounts to throwing a wrench into the wheels of progress.

The United States has proven itself to be particularly callous to fire. It listens to the lesson of fire prevention and observes a "Fire Prevention Week"—then continues to countenance hazards that lead to disaster. One wonders how many billions in property values and how many thousands of lives will be destroyed in the future before we, as citizens, do the little things, go to the petty expense, that would make fire prevention a reality instead of a hope.

HISTORICAL FILMS

Citizens of the future will see history enacted, as well as read about it, if a plan proposed by Will H. Hayes, head of the moving picture industry, is put into effect.

He suggests that space be provided in the new Archives Building to be built in Washington for the storage of many thousands of moving pictures of events which will have a permanent historical interest.

Many such films are now being preserved in various vaults throughout the country, beginning with the inauguration of President McKinley, and including pictures made during the World War.

With proper care negatives as now made will last for many years, and duplicates may be made from time to time when originals begin to show signs of deterioration. Attempts are being made whereby the life of films may be prolonged indefinitely.

Think what it will mean to posterity to be able to witness on the screen historical events exactly as they were enacted centuries ago.

Dr. John Erskine declares that a child should learn to play an instrument individually, and not in company with others. Says he: "If a child learns to play an instrument in company with another child his ego will be suppressed in a desire to blend harmoniously with the other." We doubt that this applies to those who happen to take up the saxophone, but perhaps the doctor referred only to musical instruments.

TODAY and TOMORROW

ELECTRICITY

The late Charles P. Steinmetz, the most original thinker in the field of applied science that we have ever had in America, once said that the time would come when electric current would be so cheap that it would not pay to read meters. A flat rate of a trifle per month, the way water is paid for now, will be all that domestic current will cost, beyond doubt, some day.

The latest invention for reducing the cost of generating electricity is the mercury boiler. The liquid metal mercury, is used instead of water to drive the first of a series of turbines; the rest of the series are driven by steam generated by the cooling of the mercury. W. L. R. Emmett, a General Electric Company engineer, has been working away at the mercury boiler for twenty years in his Hartford laboratory. Already he has proved that it can be operated for a small fraction of the cost of steam.

VITAMINS

Nobody knows yet precisely what vitamins are, but new facts about where they come from and what they do are being discovered almost every day. The latest discovery is that common colds are more likely to attack persons who do not get enough of Vitamin A in their diet. This is the vitamin which is found in whole milk, certain fruits and in the green vegetables. It, in turn, is directly traceable to the effects of sunlight on growing things.

Vitamin D, another of the essentials for a balanced diet, and without which perfect health is not attained, is the subject of a business deal involving a million dollars. Scientists at the University of Toronto discovered a way of irradiating wheat flour so that ordinary bread made from it would contain more of this vitamin. A baking concern in the United States has offered a million dollars for the right to use this process in making bread commercially.

The knowledge even of the existence of vitamins is only ten years old. Much is yet to be learned about them, but what has been learned so far points to a revolution in our eating habits in the course of another generation or two, and to the control of diseases which still baffle the doctors.

MANGANESE

The most curious discovery which modern medical research has made is that unless a mother's food contains a trifling percentage of the metal manganese she has no interest in her babies.

Fortunately there is manganese in infinitesimal amounts in almost every item of daily food, but in the rare instances where maternal affection is absent doctors now know what to do for it; they simply can make sure that the mother is getting a proper ration of manganese, and assimilating it.

It has long been known that every element in Nature is present in the normal human body. Since the human body is the product of its environment, it is natural to suppose that it must partake in some degree of everything else on earth. The oxygen in the air is not put there because humans need it to breathe, as the old philosophers taught, but our bodies are organized to breathe oxygen because that is the active element of the air in which we have developed. And we are finding out that a large proportion of human ills are due to some bodily defect which prevents the full utilization of the elements which are taken into the body, or to the absence of some essential elements in the usual diet.

LEARNING

Rabbi Naftali Fried, a Bohemian Jew, has been appointed librarian of the Pope's Hebrew library in the Vatican. He will live in the papal palace, but under the strictest rules of the orthodox Jewish religion; he will not work on Saturdays, his food will be prepared according to the Mosaic law, and he will have special religious services for a small Jewish congregation in a synagogue set up in the headquarters of the Roman Catholic Church.

Learning knows no religious or racial distinctions. Truth is truth, in whatever tongue it speaks. Men of real learning have no prejudices against any other man of learning merely because he speaks a different language, dresses differently or worships his God by a different ritual. When Dr. Einstein, one of the world's most learned men, visited America, how many people thought of him as a Jew? All unfied to welcome and honor him because of his learning; his religion and race did not matter.

EXPLORERS

In the heart of the South American jungles rises Mount Roraima, in Venezuela. The high plateau from which this mountain springs has never been visited by white men. Three great scientific institutions, the American Museum of Natural History, the American Geographical Society and the New York Botanical Gardens are sending a joint expedition into this region next Summer to find—what?

Gold, which was the object of the early Spanish explorers of South America? Oil? Rubber? Diamonds? Not any of those is the purpose of this quest. Merely knowledge. Scientists are concerned only with discovering facts. It is up to engineers and business men to make use of the facts after they have been found.

It is hardly likely that these explorers will find in this region, popularly known as the "Lost World," any living examples of prehistoric monsters, such as the late Conan Doyle imagined might still survive in the South American fastnesses. But they may find the true answers to many questions affecting the everyday life of everybody. It is even possible they will find a territory in which great numbers of civilized people could subsist with less effort than most of us have to put forth, once it were made accessible. Nobody knows.

Thomas W. Gluck, of Los Angeles recently sued his wife for a divorce, complaining that her love for him caused her to stick so closely to his side that he was unable to attend to business.

Sunday School Lesson

International Sunday School Lesson
April 12
JESUS TEACHES HUMILITY
Luke 14:7-14; 18:15-17
Rev. Samuel D. Price, D. D.

Practically every day items are taught throughout the Bible. In this lesson it becomes a book on social etiquette. Some man thought to get credit for himself by inviting Jesus to a feast, since He at that time was the news headliner in that part of the world. Jesus is always studying us, even as He observed the scramble for the seats of distinction around that table. The people of the Far East follow literally what Jesus advised as fitting. An invited guest will not take the seat of honor which he knows will be assigned to him but takes the place nearest the door.

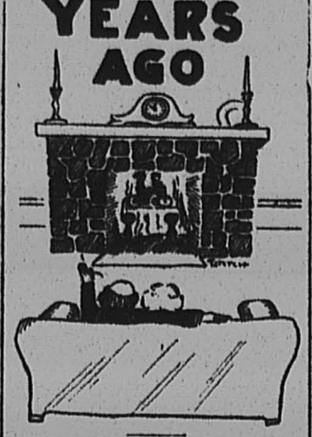

Further admonition was given when any host was urged to be a real philanthropist in sending out his invitations and not a mere social climber who wants a return invitation. There are multitudes of worthy poor who are hungry: these should be asked to come to the table of bounty. Constantly the Bible is presenting a choice social standard that mankind will be blessed in following.

Children are given their chance only where the principles of the Gospel are in practice. Contrast child life in any land where the Sunday School is but little known with that in which the Bible School is making its greatest advance. When mothers brought their little ones to the Kindly Man that He might give them His blessing even the disciple barred the way until the command was uttered "Suffer little children to come unto me, for of such is the kingdom of God." Christianity aims to stop the exploiting of children that their best interest may be safeguarded, for the boys and girls of today become the men and women of tomorrow. The alternative Easter Lesson is based on I Corinthians 15:1-8; 50-58.

BULL SALE TO BE HELD SATURDAY, APRIL 25

A committee of dairymen are cooperating with the county agent again this year to plan for the second annual purebred bull sale. The sale wil will be held on Saturday afternoon, April 25, at 1.30, in the old New Jersey fruit packing house next to the cold storage plant in Mount Holly. There will be approximately 12 bulls sold, ranging in age from a few months up to a year and a half, of both the Guernsey and Holstein breed. In order to be listed in this sale, the bulls must have production records back of them.

COUNCIL MEETING

The regular meeting of the Borough Council was held last evening with all the members present and the Mayor in the chair.

A petition from Louis Corner was read, asking for an increase from $1.40 to $1.50 per day for men working on the streets, claiming he had to pay $1.40 and the wear and tear on his tools was a loss to him. After some discussion the request was granted.

Mayor MacCarroll re-appointed the following members of the Board of Health: C. C. Rianhard, and A. J. Briggs, two years; J. S. C. Davis, Dr. Alex Marcy, Jr., and Walter G. Wilson, three years each.

A bid of 40c per lineal foot for brick walk and 3 1-2c per lineal foot for wood curbing on Elm avenue was read from Louis Corner.

Delinquent taxes are due the borough as follows:

1899	540.84
Total	$1940.98

The sewer committee was given permission to procure a map of the Main street sewer and a plan for a sewer system on the other streets. The committee wishes to present the plans to the state Sewer Committee for their approval, after which they intend to bring the matter to a head with the idea of having a complete system in Riverton.

Parker-Reese Nuptials

The wedding of Miss Anna Catherine Reese, to Mr. T. Guy Parker, solemnized in Christ Church last Wednesday evening, the Rev. R. Bowden Shepherd officiating, was the event of the season.

The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Reese, long residents of Riverton, and was charmingly gowned in satin and chiffon, carrying roses and lilies of the valley. She was given away by her father.

Mr. Parker, the groom, is in the importing business in New York City and has his country residence at Glen Ridge, New Jersey.

Professor Fithian, of Camden, was organist.

The bridesmaids were Josephine Collines, of Camden; Miss Ida Fisher, of New York; Miss Margaret James, Riverton; Miss Helen Walnut, of Riverton; Miss Elsie Earnshaw, of Overbrook, Pa.; Miss Jessie McNeal, of Burlington.

The ushers were Messrs. Clavert Brewer, New York; Gerald Parker, Glen Ridge; Oscar Winship Heartt, New York; W. S. Kimball, New York; Guy M. McCoy, New York; John H. Reese, Riverton.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, and during the evening the bridal couple left for an extended tour. They will be at home to their friends after the first of May.

NEW BANK OPENED

The new banking house of the Burlington County Safe Deposit and Trust Company, on Main Street Moorestown, was formally opened to the public today, with appropriate ceremonies, cards having been issued inviting the friends of the institution to the inspection.

The building was erected by the J. S. Rogers Company, of Stanwick.

The officers of the Trust Company are: William M. Paul, president; D. B. Griscom, vice president; William W. Stokes, treasurer and secretary; Charles Ewan Merritt, solicitor; directors, Wm. M. Paul, Alfred H. Burr, N. Newlin Stokes, M. D.; Henry W. Doughton, John C. Hopkins, Charles Ewan Merritt, Howard Parry, David D. Griscom, Isaac W. Stokes, William R. Lippincott, Clayton Conrow, William J. Irick, Albert Hansell, William Matlack, C. S. Ridgway, Joseph Evans.

Louis Flanagan, of Philadelphia, spent Friday with A. G. Cook.

John Lafourcade and wife were guests of Mrs. C. W. Carter on Friday.

Willie McDevitt is filling the position of office boy for the River Shore Gas Company.

Robert Wells and wife, f Sewickley, Pa., were in Rivertn to attend the Parker-Reese wedding.

Cards are out for the wedding of Miss Bertha Lippincott and H. C. Parrish, on April 24th.

Miss Constance E. Tricker and Jessie M. Coddington were married in Camden by Rev. Charles Bowden, on December 4, 1899.

(Mr. and Mrs. Coddington, who live on Elm avenue, hove four children, Miss Elizabeth, Messrs. Charles, Paul and Jesse).

WAY OF LIFE
BY BRUCE BARTON

I was talking recently with Ted Clark who was secretary to Mr. Coolidge at the White House. He told me about one of the famous Gridiron dinners, at which a character was made up to represent the "Front Page." The poor fellow was emaciated and despondent; he complained that Coolidge had ruined him by making so little news.

Ted said: "I think that one of the best and truest tributes that could be paid to Coolidge would be to say: 'He took the government of the United States off the front page.'"

He went on to tell half a dozen dramatic incidents which might easily have become national issues if Coolidge had been minded to make a fuss about them. But he handed them so quietly that the public knew nothing about them.

The newspapers are the greatest single educational influence in our lives. By throwing the fierce glare of their search-light in all directions they have been a powerful aid in abolishing secret diplomacy. They have encouraged big business to come out into the open, and they are a constant and tremendous deterrent to crime.

But under our system of government they put an unwilling premium upon the performance of the self-advertiser and the demagogue.

Our Senators are no longer chosen, as they used to be, by responsible party organizations in the state legislature. They are nominated in popular primaries.

The easy way for a Senator to keep his voters from forgetting his name is to make them think he is important in Washington. And the easy way to achieve this seeming importance is to attack something, or investigate something, or become otherwise noisy and conspicious.

But be not discouraged.

I have stood in the laboratory where Edison worked so many years to give the world electric light. I have seen the old shed where Kettering first began the experiments which culminated in the self-starter for automobiles. I have visited the tiny village where, in a modest house, Charles Darwin wrote the book that changed the trend of scientific thought. On the gate post is a tablet which this inscription:

"Here Darwin lived and thought for forty years, and here on April 19, 1882, he died."

We can put up patiently with quite a lot of Senators, so long as we know that, back in ten thousand quiet homes and shops and offices, there are Edisons and Ketterings and Darwins.

Roy Marsh of Erie, Pa., facing a non-support charge, testified in court that his wife "treated him rough" and on one occasion forced him to sleep in the barn.

The bandit who broke into the office of the Hoffman Machinery Company in Buffalo, N. Y., took in addition to a safety box, containing $5b, the office pet, a female cat named Sixty Cycles.

MAIN STREET LOOKS AT BROADWAY
BY ERNEST CAMP JR

CHURCH SEATS AT PREMIUM

New York City church-goers had their annual trouble of finding seats for Easter services. Manhattan has more than 2,000 churches, an average of one to about 800 people, and on the big day nearly everybody goes.

St. Patrick's Cathedral ran out of reservations several weeks before Easter and all Protestant houses of worship, many of which make no attempt to reserve seats in advance except to regular pew-holders, had for overflow crowds.

People in smaller communities are inclined to think of New York City men as an ungodly lot, but a few Sundays spent in the metropolis would speedily disabuse their minds of that idea. In fact, the city's ministers have always been a foremost influence in its life. One has but to run over in one's mind such famous preachers as Henry Ward Beecher, DeWitt Talmadge, Dr. Rainsford, Dr. Parkhurst and, at the present time, John Haynes Holmes, Dr. Reisner and Bishop Manning, to realize the quality of spiritual leaders the big city asks and demands.

SOME CHURCH ECONOMICS

Churches in small communities rarely have to contend with one of the great troubles that confront houses of worship in great cities—the constant shift in population. Lower Manhattan is full of famous churches whose congregations have practically moved in a solid block to the suburbs, leaving them stranded without the families on whose support they depended in former years.

As all the families do not move to the same suburb, the church is unable to follow them, and it is then they have to resort to various expedients in order to keep open the House of the Lord.

In some cases, like that of the Second Congregational Unitarian Society, founded in 1825, it has slowly turned into the present Community Church of which Dr. John Haynes Holmes has been pastor for the past 24 years. The church now is strictly undenominational and has a membership of some 2,000, hailing from 32 different countries and numbering among its constant worshippers Catholics, Protestants, Jews, Buddhists, Mohammedans, Hindus, Zoroastrians and Bahaists.

The church lives up to the Golden Rule more than any other part of the Bible perhaps, and spreads its many energies among the fields of welfare work. It is now putting up its fifth church structure, a 26-story building at Park Avenue and 35th street.

CURIOUS CHURCH CHANGES

Shifting of population in New York and other large cities has led to some curious deals in ecclesiastical property. A quarter of a century ago the Italians attempted to make the Bronx their exclusive stamping ground. Hundreds of families moved out there and in a short time numerous churches were built to cater to their spiritual needs.

A few years ago the Jewish population, finding the lower East Side getting too crowded, also decided to move north. They went in droves and it was not long before the former Italian residents found themselves in an insignificant minority in certain of their chosen districts.

Their churches began to empty as their congregations moved away and it was not long before some of the churches found themselves unable to meet their fixed charges.

A few years ago a Jewish congregation made overtures to one of these Catholic churches whose worshippers had moved out of the district and wound up by taking over the church property and turning it into a synagogue.

In Chicago, years ago, a Protestant church was turned into a livery stable for the same reason, later becoming a garage which recently was torn down and made over into an office building.

YOU, TOO, CAN BE HAPPY AGAIN!

See What Konjola Did For These Former Sufferers—Read Their Words.

An example of Konjola's power is seen in the experience of Mr. E. M. Van Pelt, 438 N. E. First avenue, Miami, Fla., who says: "I was badly run down from loss of appetite and constipation. I could not work for weeks at a time. Harsh laxatives gave but temporary relief. I took five bottles of Konjola and my appetite returned to normal. Constipation was corrected and I rapidly gained in weight and vitality."

Mr. E. M. Van Pelt

No less significant is the experience of Mrs. Albert Freed, Brooks and Chestnut streets, Louisville, Ky., who says: "I was extremely nervous and lost weight and strength steadily. Rheumatism and neuritis bothered me and my stomach became weak. Konjola restored my stomach to normal and relieved the pain of rheumatism and neuritis. I gained 29 pounds and am in excellent physical condition today."

This evening the birthday meeting of the Woman's Home Missionary Society will be held at the home of Mrs. Coward, 400 Lippincott avenue, Riverton.

The pastor is conducting two Probationer's Classes for those who are seeking admission into the church. The junior class meets on Friday afternoon at four, the intermediate and senior class on Monday evening at seven. Thirty-eight young folks have already joined these classes.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"ARE SIN, DISEASE, AND DEATH REAL?" will be the subject of the Lesson Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, April 12, 1931.

The Golden Text is: "The Lord will take away from thee all sickness, and will put none of the evil diseases of Egypt, which thou knowest, upon thee." (Deuteronomy 7:15).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Fear thou not; for I am with thee; be not dismayed; for I am thy God: I will help thee; yea, I will uphold thee with the right hand of my righteousness." (Isiah 41:10).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Suffering sinning, dying beliefs are unreal. When divine Science is universally understood, they will have no power over man, for man is immortal and lives by divine authority" (p. 76).

FIRST LUTHERAN

Rev. Harold L. Creager

After Easter, what? Is Easter a mere temporary spurt of religious enthusiasm or the true climax expression of an abiding power and permanent devotion?

Those are questions that the Christian world ought very seriously to ask itself—not only because they are tremendously important in reference to the way in which the church undertakes to do its task, but also because the world which the church is trying to win is also asking them.

Effective influence is possible only through the presence and activity of an ever-living Christ. In an effort to face this great question the sermon next Sunday morning will be on the theme, "Keeping Christ Risen."

Friday evening the Men's Brotherhood will sponsor the second boys' night, with games and fun and fellowship for all the boys of our Sunday School and Church.

BAPTIST

Rev. George Lockett, B. D., Pastor

Easter Sunday services were all well attended, beginning with the Sunrise service at 6:30 a. m.

The morning service at 11:00 a. m. brought a large congregation, extra chairs being required. At this service there was preaching, baptisms and Communion. Ten new members were received. The choir rendered special music. In the evening the choir sang "The Holy City," by Gaul.

The Grenfell B. Y. P. U. will meet tomorrow evening at seven o'clock. The subject is "Growing Christians," and the leader will be Miss Mary Wells. Children of the intermediate age are urged to be present.

Sunday services as usual. Sunday School at 10:00 a. m.; morning worship at 11:15 a. m. Sermon subject, "Things Men Live By."

Children's Church service in the Primary department.

B. Y. P. U. service at 6:45 p. m. Evening worship at 7:45 p. m. Sermon subject, "The Argument from Experience." Gospel hymn song service.

EPISCOPAL

Rev. G. J. McCormack Rector.

What conviction and power is the possession of a true Christian, when we make the story of the Resurrection our own.

No longer to decorate our doors with dismal crepe, no longer to lament and mourn when we follow to the grave, the quiet sleeping body of one who a little while ago inhabited this world—but on the contrary to go cheerfully about our business, thus bearing witness to an unbelieving world our certainty of the resurrection.

We need again and again to be reminded of the certain victory of Jesus, that this story of Easter is not an artistic creation that has come by way of Calvary.

It is the most solidly attested fact in the whole wide story of the human race. Let us sing with St. Paul, "Now Is Christ Risen from the Dead and Become the First Fruits of Them That Slept."

There will be a special meeting of the St. Agnes Guild tomorrow evening.

The Central Division of the New Jersey branch of the Woman's Auxiliary of the National Council will hold a meeting in Trinity Church at Princeton, Wednesday, April 15 at 10:30 a. m. The speaker will be Mrs. Claude L. Pickens. Her subject will be "China."

Vestry meeting in the Parish House Monday evening.

Wednesday, April 15, a card party will be given in the Parish House under the auspices of the Woman's Auxiliary. Playing will begin promptly at eight o'clock.

Advance notice is given of a church supper to be held in the Parish House on Saturday, April 25.

Services Sunday after Easter: 10.00 a. m., Sunday School; 10.45 a. m. morning prayer and sermon, "Outside the City Walls." 8.00 p. m., evening and sermon, "A Grain of Wheat."

Calvary Presbyterian

(Charles T. Bates, Minister)

Calvary Presbyterian Church will hold its morning service of worship Sunday at 11 o'clock, all departments of the Church School at 10 a. m. and vesper service at 5 p. m. The Christian Endeavor Society will meet at 7 p. m.

A Men's Bible Class is being started this Sunday and will meet at 10 a. m. in the transept of the church. The pastor will be the teacher. Martin D. Sheckley, the leader and Robert M. Martin will have charge of the music. All men of the congregation and those of the community not associated with any other Church School are cordially invited to join this class.

The Golden Hour Circle will meet tomorrow, Friday, April 10, in the church parlor at 8 o'clock.

Midweek Service, Wednesday, at 8 o'clock.

The Christian Endeavor Society will hold a "Box Supper" in the Social Hall of the church on Friday, April 17, at 8 o'clock. The boxes of lunch will be auctioned off, the purchaser sharing the contents with the one who packed it. The Christian Endeavor invites all young people of the congregation to attend this social.

PALMYRA NOTES

The Ladies' Aid of the First Lutheran Church will hold a rummage sale May 9.

Miss Margaret McCamy of Highland avenue, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. McCamy, returned to the New Jersey State College for Women at New Brunswick, yesterday after spending the holiday with her parents.

All members of Camp No. 3 P. O. of A., are urged to be present at the initiation this evening.

The Ladies' Aid of the First Lutheran Church will sell soup in the basement of the church on Saturday April 18. Phone orders to Riverton 551-J.

Mrs. Dean H. LeFavor, wife of Dr. Dean H. LeFavor of Morgan avenue, and Mrs. Helen Comin, of Burlington, left Monday on a motor trip to Glouster, Ohio, where they will spend about three weeks with Dr. LeFavor's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. M. LeFavor.

Mrs. E. E. Compton, who has been ill for the past several weeks, is much improved.

The Palmyra Woman's Club will hold its regular business meeting in Society Hall Monday afternoon, April 20. Mrs. William D. Weikel will be the speaker. Her subject will be "Gardens."

The Philathea Class of the Central Baptist Sunday School tendered the Rev. and Mrs. George Lockett a reception in honor of their fifth wedding anniversary in the Sunday School room Monday evening. An entertainment consisting of readings by Miss Helene Johnson, selections by the Women's Glee Club, a sketch "Barnacle Bill," by Bruce Beahn and Alan Taylor and selections by Miss Anna McConnell made the evening a most enjoyable one. The Rev. and Mrs. Lockett were presented with a beautiful chair and Mr. Lockett's mother received a lovely hydrangea. Refreshments were served. The reception was well attended by members and friends of the church.

Miss Jane Price, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rowland Price of Columbia avenue, returned to Ursinus College Tuesday, after spending the holidays with her parents.

Miss Jessie Ada Franklin and her pupils will give an entertainment in the Sunday School room of the Central Baptist Church on Friday evening, April 10, at eight o'clock. This entertainment is being given under the auspices of the Junior Department. There will be readings, music and a play. A silver offering for the benefit of the building fund will be taken.

Mr. and Mrs. William DeHadway enjoyed the week-end in Atlantic City.

Twenty-four ladies attended the covered dish luncheon given by the Ways and Means Committee of the O. P. S. at the home of Mrs. Rowland Price of Columbia avenue, Tuesday afternoon.

Gene Mervine of Washington, D. C. returned home Sunday after spending the week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles K. Mervine of Delanoey avenue.

The Palmyra branch of the Needlework Guild of America will hold its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. J. Elwood Greenwalt, of 34 Henry street, at 10:30 a. m., Tuesday. Box luncheon. A large attendance is urged, as preparations for the cake sale to be held April 17 will be made at that time. The ladies will also make plans for the annual convention of the Guild which will be held in the Bellevue-Stratford, Philadelphia, April 30, May 1 and 2.

The Women's Guild of the Epworth M. E. Church will hold its regular meeting in the Guild room of the church Thursday evening, April 16. The hostesses of the occasion will be Mrs. H. G. Flack and Mrs. Charles Jobe. An interesting meeting is being planned and all members are urgently requested to be present.

Thirty-five little children were made happy at Easter time with baskets of eggs and toys, which were supplied by Miss Marjorie Atkinson, of Palmyra, and distributed by the Welfare Association.

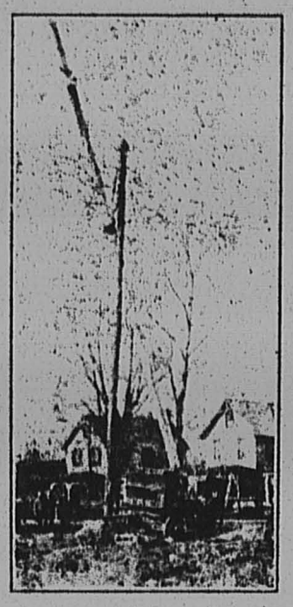

Mr. and Mrs. Linton Martin, of Bristol, were guests of Mrs. E. E. Verney, Sunday.

A card party will be given by the Ladies Auxiliary of Independence Fire Company, No. 1, in the fire house on West Broad street Thursday evening, April 30. A door prize of $2.50 will be given. Admission, fifty cents.

The Palmyra branch of the Needlework Guild of America is asking for the hearty support of the townspeople for the cake sale which they will give on Friday, April 17. The proceeds from this sale will enable the Guild to give a donation to the welfare, give linens to the ambulance, and buy linens for the endowed bed in the Burlington County Hospital, Mount Holly. This money will also enable the ladies to buy some of the materials used by the members of the thrift circle at their gatherings each month.

The committee in charge of the distribution of tickets for the play, "The Hottentot," wishes to take this opportunity to remind the folks in this community that there is not much time left to secure tickets for the play, which will be presented tomorrow and Saturday evenings in the high school auditorium. Tickets may be purchased at the Tak-Aboost Shop.

The Palmyra Branch of the Needlework Guild of America will hold a cake sale Friday, April 17.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Cramer and Mr. Cramer's mother, Mrs. Mary Cramer, of West Broad street, returned home Friday from a five months' visit in Sarasota, Florida. Mr. Cramer is now much improved in health and has gained about 24 pounds.

The Compass Club and Ladies' Auxiliary will hold its regular business meeting in the P. O. S. of A. Hall, Palmyra, tomorrow evening. The business meeting will be followed by a social hour. Progressive games will be played. All members are urged to be present.

Councilman Floyd W. Spahr, of Morgan avenue, left on Monday for a business trip to Marquette, Michigan. Mr. Spahr will be gone about a week.

The local unit of the American Legion Auxiliary is selling a very useful and much used article by all householders. Sal-O-Wel and Sal-O-Jell. The Sal-O-Jell is the same as Jello which is always in demand by all housewives. The Sal-O-Well puddings in chocolate and butterscotch flavors are very delicious. These products are packed three packages to a box for twenty-five cents which is exactly the same price as is charged at the stores for Jello. The Sal-O-Jell comes in all the desired flavors, raspberry, strawberry, orange, lemon, wild cherry, loganberry. Everyone is asked to try these delicious desserts which are for sale by all members of the Auxiliary or can be had from the president, Mrs. Charles A. King, 429 Morgan avenue, phone Riverton 247-M. Orders filled promptly.

Another little joke of the movies is being told at the expense of Mary Pickford, who recently called in a doctor and a nurse to treat her for the flu. Having a doctor and nurse would not have been considered unusual, except for the fact that Mary is reputed to be a devout Christian Scientist.

MANY CONTRACTS COMPLETED

Many of the fifth grade children have finished their contracts for this period. These are the people who are finished: arithmetic, reading, geography, English and history: Betty Baker, Doris Steedle, Marie Simmerman, Robert Dunlap, Robert Gowell, William Meyers and John Wallace.

These children have likewise been composing poems about seasons and holidays. After they are on exhibit they put them in a folder called the "Garden of Verses."

PEN AND INK CLUB FORMED

Last Friday a new club was formed, the purpose of which is the study and mastery of manuscript writing. Newell Buhn was elected president and Frank Alloway, vice president.

INSTRUMENT BOX BEING MADE

Work is progressing in the first grade on the instrument box. George Steedle, Jr., is acting as boss and with the help of the other boys it is coming along fine. After it is finished, they intend to put musical instruments in it.

Besides this, they have printed a vegetable book. This is to help them to print their A. B. C's.

PLAYS PRODUCED BY 4-A CLUB

The members of the Columbia Club of the fourth A grade have been taking charge of the classroom program in the morning.

We have been entertaining with several original plays written by the children. Other features on our programs have been stories and poems read or told by those in charge of the program. The club members feel that this special work is an aid to improving individual reading and English.

BOTANY STUDY BEGINS

The third grade is studying botany and making experiments in connection with their study. They learn how the different seeds grow by watching them sprout. The seeds are placed in a dish between layers of cotton, and then water is added to keep them moist. Next the children plant the seeds in damp sawdust after they have sprouted. Soon little green shoots appear. Many of the children are trying these experiments at home, too.

FARMING IN SCHOOL

The second grade have made a farm on their sand table. They have a farm house and barn in one corner of the sand table, and the rest of the table contains field planted with oats. The farm house and barn are not painted yet, but the children intend to paint them later. It is very obvious that the children have been reading all they can to find all about the farm so the table could be completed.

THE FAMILY DOCTOR

By JOHN JOSEPH GAINES, M.D.

OVERWEIGHT

A good many people seem in perfect health, feel no distress, and yet realize that they are carrying around a lot of ballast that does them no good. It isn't a very alluring prospect, when a fellow gets into the sixties, with from fifty to a hundred pounds of adipose tucked under his skin, for which he has not the remotest use.

Just to be brief, two major causes of overweight will be considered here. Lack of exercise and overeating of starches. Formerly I would have mentioned gluttony, but I have seen many people over-fat, who were really very spare eaters. Of course heavy fluid drinking with meals will facilitate absorption and have considerable to do with bodily weight. I ask such patients to limit or cut out drinking with meals and some have reduced much by strictly following directions.

I direct my fat patients to limit STARCHES in the dietary; "one starch—not four" is a good rule to remember. On most well-provisioned tables will be found one or two varieties of bread; maybe one or two styles of potatoes; a bowl of tempting Lima beans, or worse, "baked beans." Then incidentally we may find rice pudding, fritters, cake, pies—all carriers of STARCH. And each tempts the palate mightily.

These starches tax the liver; what the liver cannot care for properly is stowed away somewhere, making the bodily weight slowly creep upward. The liver is a peaceable organ and will bear more than its share of insult for a long time; but when it does make a kick, something is the matter. It is so easy to overload on starch! It is such an important food, and so peaceable in its performance, that its victims do not come down till late in the game, and then—seriously. One starch at a meal, and not four, is a mighty good rule to observe if you are fat.

That the Americans eat too much is too well known to be repeated; and too much starch is a major offense.

PARRY BASEBALL TEAM ORGANIZED

John Broderson Succeeds Bill Reagle as Manager of Ball Hawks This Season

The organization of the Parry Athletic Association for the coming baseball season was completed at a meeting of the members last Thursday evening.

The most important change in the organizing of the diamond squad for the approaching season is in the managership. Johnny Broderson, all-round baseball star, was elected to succeed Bill Reagle as manager.

Broderson has seen considerable service as an outfielder with Riverside, of the Burlington County League during last year's campaign. His playing with the Riverside team supplemented his activities as an outfielder of the Parry club. He also donned the mask several times last year for the Riverton team.

As the new manager he is anxious to better the season's record set by the Parry nine last year, when 23 of the 33 games played were won by that outfit.

All of the players of last year's team have returned to take up their posts, while several newcomers are expected to give the veterans a real battle for their positions.

There are sure to be at least two players for every position with about a half dozen to be used in the pitching part of the program.

Jack Windish and Bill Reagle, on first base; Dave Phelan and Bob Alexander at the keystone sack; Bauer, last year's captain of Moorestown High's team, cavorting with Eddie Malley around shortstop; Harry Hubbs, another newcomer, opposing John Smith at the hot corner, Howard Schuck, Emil Schrader, Tom Shorten, Fred Schrader, "Goose" Wallace and Stephen Bulvidas, battling it out for outfield berths, are expected to comprise the full list of the ball-chasers.

Battery work will fall on Broderson and Will Menkevitch, catchers, and Frank Schultz, G. Reynolds, George Malley, Ernie Schuck and Shreve Nelson, who will take their turns on the pitching slab.

In addition to the new manager the members elected new officers for the coming year. The officials of the club are: Dave Phelan, president; Stephen Bulvidas, secretary; William Menkevitch, treasurer, and John Higgins, business manager.

The business manager will take care of those teams who wish to book games with the Parry club and may be reached by phoning Riverton 719-M any evening.

Browns	26	18	.619
Reds	18	24	.429
Giants	17	25	.405
Robins	9	33	.214
Cubs	7	35	.167

The National League teams closed their season last week, with the Cardinals again being out in front. In the same manner which the baseball team of the same name came through to win the pennant so did the bowlers.

The Cards won both halves of the season's race, thereby eliminating a playoff series. The winning combination was composed of W. Wallace, F. Lenker, J. Serwartz, Shea, Wood, Griffenberg and Killian. A roll off match held Tuesday night resulted in the Quakers taking second place honors from the Pirates, who were deadlocked with them for the runner-up position.

Red Sox	17	22	436
Senators	13	26	333
Tigers	7	32	179
Browns	6	30	167

The American League will close its season tomorrow night. The White Sox are undisputed champions, winning the first half pennafon, and then going so far ahead in the second half, that they are sure of winning the second round regardless of the outcome of tomorrow night's games.

WOMEN'S BOWLING LEAGUE

	W	L	Av

Chesterfields	11	10	524
Murad	11	10	524
Fatima	9	12	428

The Ladies' Bowling League entered its seventh week Monday night, with three of the four teams being tied for first place. The team in fourth place is in the cellar by the slim margin of two games, and the race will probably not be decided until the final week.

Mrs. Mildred Haines, of the Lucky Strike team, took the high scoring honors Monday night with a game of 156. Murad showed consistent scoring power in taking two games from Chesterfield, each member of the team rolling more than 100. Fatima, despite their last place ranking, were able to take the measure of the Luckies in two or the three games.

7 TEAMS READY IN BURLCO LOOP

Vincentown Enters League; Mount Holly Sought To Balance Circuit

At the meeting of the Burlington County Baseball League, held Tuesday evening at the county clerk's office in Mount Holly, seven clubs announced that they were ready to start the season. Final plans for the complete reorganization were withheld, however, until next Tuesday, as an attempt will be made to secure an eighth team to balance the circuit.

The seven clubs that are ready to go include Florence, Medford, Delanco, Riverside and Moorestown, who finished the season of 1930; Burlington and Vincentown. The Burlington nine only played the first half last year, while Vincentown was a member of the 1929 league, but did not return to the fold in 1930. Efforts will be made to secure Mount Holly to take out a franchise to balance the circuit. Mount Holly was a member last year, but cannot find financial backing for the coming season. Riverton is also mentioned as a likely candidate for the open franchise. If no eighth team can be secured the league will probably be operated with seven clubs.

At the meeting to be held next Tuesday night at the court house, Mount Holly, the teams will be required to post $100 forfeit money. The by-laws and schedule will also be adopted at this session.

The opening date of the league will will either be May 2 or 16. Umpires from the South Jersey Umpires Association will again officiate at all games.

GEST-JONES

Mr. and Mrs. William G. Frank have announced the marriage of their daughter, Ethel A. Jones to Mr. Lewis Everett Gest, Saturday, April 4th, at the Methodist parsonage.

FORMER PALMYRIAN IS CAPTAIN OF FERRY IN CRASH AT CHESTER

Captain Nelson Bond, formerly of Berkely avenue, was piloting the ferry "City of Chester" when it collided with the British freighter "City of Canton." The ferry line is operated between Chester and Bridgeport.

The accident was due to crossed signals, officials of the ferry company said. The ferry, which was bound for Chester, had given signals for passing the British ship, but the foreign captain missed the signal and steered the vessel directly in the path of the ferry.

Passengers on the ferry donned lifepreservers when the boat listed badly after the impact. It was found to have a large hole in the bow after an examination at the ferry slip. The freighter was grounded but later refloated and found to be undamaged.

Harold D. Steinbright, manager of the ferry company, blamed the captain of the freighter.

Mr. Steinbright said, Captain Nelson Bond signalled he would pass the steamer on the port side. The steamer answered the signal with one whistle, meaning "all right." But Bond saw the steamer kept heading directly toward him, so he blew once again, and received two whistles in response, which was a change to the starboard side. It was too late."

COMMUNITY HOME 5TH ANNIVERSARY

Moorestown Celebrates With Full Week of Activities

In celebration of the fifth anniversary of the Moorestown Community House a committee in charge of Mrs. P. W. D'Olier has planned an elaborate program of activities. The entire week of April 12 to 18 is packed full of entertainment and fun.

Committees representing many of the groups which use the Community House as a meeting place are cooperating to provide a varied and interesting program.

Anniversary Week starts on Sunday evening at 7:30, when Mrs. Robert J. Sim will give a recital on the Community House organ. One half hour's musical entertainment will be followed by a community service sponsored by the Religious Committee of the Church Federation in conjunction with the churches of Moorestown.

Dr. Holmes to Speak

The speaker of the evening is Dr. Arthur Holmes, Ph. D., professor of psychology at the University of Pennsylvania. A Moorestown trio composed of talented artists will play several selections.

A full week of activity follows. On Monday there is to be a luncheon for the Women's Council of Girls Activities and a demonstration and entertainment by the Moorestown Girl Scouts. In the evening the Woman's Clubs of the town are presenting three one act plays.

Anniversary week program includes a men's swimming meet and a women's swimming meet. Walter Grundy, intercollegiate diving champion, will be the headliner on men's swim night. There will be competition and exhibition and specialties by local mermen.

Anniversary Banquet

At the anniversary banquet, to be held on Wednesday night, Dr. John Dennis Mahoney, a humorist and a teacher, will talk. He is professor of English at West Philadelphia High School and is known in Moorestown as a charming and worthwhile speaker.

Another headlight of the week is to be the performance of a former world's champion wrestler, Peter Kovich, who will stage an exhibition match at the athletic night activities.

The entire front page of the second section of this issue is devoted to news, pictures and the complete program of Anniversary Week.

II. LICENSE LAWS

It is interesting to read the literature emanating from the National Conference on Street and Highway Safety urging the enactment of automobile drivers' license laws. Interesting because to us in New Jersey it seems incredible that any state still permits unrestricted operation of motor vehicles. Yet only fifteen states and the District of Columbia now have laws which require the licensing of motor vehicle operators after examination and driving tests.

Eleven north Atlantic states which have adopted examinations and licensing legislation have had an increase in motor vehicle fatalities of 127 per cent in ten years, which is much less proportionately than the increase of 223 per cent in registrations in these states in the same decade. Eight southern states that did not license drivers in this period had the enormous increase of fatalities of 347 per cent, compared with an increase in registration of 242 per cent. In other words, in the southern states there were countless numbers of dangerous drivers on the highways who could not have obtained licenses in the northern states.

The drivers' license law, with examination and driving test, as sponsored by the National Conference is regarded as the remedy holding the largest measure of promise for curbing the increasing toll of traffic accidents. Our New Jersey motor vehicle laws embody all important features of the National Conference bill.

In states where drives are being made for enactment of this law, varied objections are raised. One is the cost of the license to the driver, met by making the fee only sufficient to cover administrative costs. Another is the need of rural districts for children under 16 to drive to school or to the village, met by lower age limits or day-time junior licenses good only in limited areas. A third is doubt as to the effectiveness of the licensing system, which is answered by the overwhelming evidence in its favor in New Jersey and other states where it is in operation.

In licensing states are found efficient and competent motor vehicle departments which are constantly working to weed out reckless and incompetent drivers. These departments are serving also as focal points for intelligent consideration of all measures for the improvement of traffic and as centers of educational influence in such matters. Education is a feature of motor vehicle administration which I have stressed with every means at my command since I assumed direction of the New Jersey department.

In states without licensing laws, of with sub-standard laws, the motor vehicle departments or bureaus are generally serving only as tax collecting offices.

It is to be hoped that the standard licensing system will be adopted by all the states. This will make possible cooperation and exchange of records and experience to the end that the nation's streets and highways may be made safer for motorist and pedestrian alike, and the horrible accident toll gradually reduced.

Laughing Around the World
With IRVIN S. COBB

A Day That Made History

By IRVIN S. COBB

IT WAS Charley Hoyt, the greatest of American satirical dramatists, who on receiving a wire from a rather pompous and self-sufficient comedian saying, "I desire to play the leading role in your new comedy," turned the message over and wrote on it the following reply to be sent by telegraph, collect: "You stand practically alone in your desire."

Hoyt's wit operated like that—instantaneous and with emphasis. One night shortly before his death he was leaning against the bar of a chop house when an actor who was notoriously stingy came in, accompanied by two friends. The close-fisted one and Hoyt were not on the best of terms, but the former was feeling a bit mellow himself and, moved by a sudden and almost unprecedented burst of generosity, he turned to the playwright and said patronizingly:

"Charley, will you join us? I'm buying this drink."

"I certainly will," said Hoyt; "I'm always glad to assist in the celebration of any truly historic event."

RICHARDS SCORES N. J. GOVERNMENT

Vice-President of Abell Commission Hits Antiquated State Laws

Emerson L. Richards, state senator from Atlantic City, in an address before the Moorestown Woman's Club in the Community House on Monday afternoon, discussed some of the investigations of the Abell Commission, of which he is vice-president. Mr. Richards spoke in the absence of Senator Dryden Kuser, of Somerset County.

Mrs. Pearl M. Bridegum, of Haines port, president of the Women's Republican Club of Burlington county, presided at the meeting.

In denunciation of the present management of the state government the speaker declared there has been no substantial change since 1804. He also spoke emphatically in favor of a complete reorganization of departments and putting this state, which is fifth in the amount of income tax paid, on a business like running basis.

Mr. Richards continued, "The Abell Commission has passed the bill reorganizing the State Purchasing Department." He then pointed out instances in which state funds were used without appropriations being made and also called attention to the fact that no complete picture of finance or budget was brought before the legislature.

Favored Pension Bill

In further comment, Mr. Richards said: "The Commission has favored the Old Age Pension Bill. Concentration, responsibility and knowledge are needed for the relief of the poor. All social relief in the county is under the control of an expert, according to this bill. The work is placed in the hands of trained social workers and taken from politics. New Jersey is one of the first states to have a working Old Age Pension."

Miss Florence Haines, Assemblywoman from Essex county, who was a scheduled speaker, was unable to attend and her place was taken by Miss Helen Paul, who called attention to the value of the Legislative Index, printed weekly.

Preceding the two addresses, Mrs. William Grobler, chairman of the finance committee, made a report. Then the executive board reported the names of Mrs. William J. Sherman, Mrs. Louis F. Paret, Mrs. F. Morse Archer, Jr., and Mrs. William Grobler as delegates to the Federation of Clubs to be held in Atlantic City on May 6 to 9.

Resolutions favoring the abolishing of bill boards, entrance to the World Court, and the study of international problems were adopted.

Two New Members

Mrs. Clement R. Lippincott, chairman of the membership committee, reported two new members and seven applicants.

Mrs. Wilmer Collins gave an interesting report of the meeting of the district conference held recently in Haddonfield.

The chairman spoke of the meeting to be held on April 14, in Princeton. Delegates to this convention are Mrs. B. H. Cooper and Mrs. Richard Wood.

An account of the meeting on "Probation and Juvenile Court," held on Wednesday of last week, was given by Mrs. J. Malcolm Shelmire.

Mrs. Baines, vice-president of the district, addressed the meeting on "To grow, to glow, and to go", to grow in body, mind, and spirit by living up to one's ideals, by giving service and by the spirit of brotherhood; to glow by doing worthwhile things and making the town glow; to go by cooperation, harmony, loyalty, friendliness and enthusiasm, all of which come back to the individual member.

Mrs. E. E. Powers, chairman of the League of Women Voters, then took charge of the program, her department having charge of the entertainment.

Mrs. Pearl Bridegum introduced the speaker of the afternoon, the Hon. Dryden Kuser.

After he took the money from the safe in an automobile garage at Walla Walla, Wash., the robber went to the cash register and rang up "Paid Out $110."

MEN'S CLUB WILL ORGANIZE TONIGHT

Committee For Formation of Group Has Completed Plans for Meeting

The organization of the Men's Club of the Palmyra-Riverton Y. M. C. A. will be held tonight at the "Y" building, Broad street and Garfield avenue.

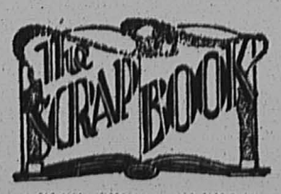

Due to the proximity of the drive for funds conducted annually by the Y. M. C. A. many persons have received the impression that the two are connected in some manner. The committee in charge of the meeting assures every man who attends that he will hear no mention of the campaign.

Several weeks ago the matter of forming a men's club was discussed by the Y. M. C. A. board of directors and a committee was appointed to formulate plans for the organization of such a club. William T. J. Parnell was made chairman, and William McConnell, George N. Wimer, Clinton B. Gardner and William H. Plank were made members of the committee to promote such an organization.

After consulting with a number of other men in the two towns definite plans were made for the beginning of the group, and now the committee is ready to present them to other men of the community.

Every man in Palmyra or Riverton who is interested in forming a Men's Club, which will carry on an educational and recreational program, is invited to attend tonight's meeting. Those persons who are instituting the idea have successfully backed other programs and organizations of a like nature, and the ultimate success of the club now awaits the support of the men of the community.

The primary purpose is to elect officers and to set up an organization to promote the next meeting which will be held April 23. All those persons who attend the initial meeting will be considered charter members.

GREEN THINGS GROWING

By Dinah Maria Mulock Craik

O the green things growing, the green things growing,
The faint sweet smell of the green things growing!
I should like to live, whether I smile or grieve,
Just to watch the happy life of my green things growing.

O the fluttering and the pattering of these green things growing!
How they talk each to each, when none of us are knowing;
In the wonderful white of the weird moonlight
Or the dim dreary dawn when the cocks are crowing.

And in the rich store of their blossoms glowing
Ten for one I take they're on me bestowing;
Oh, I should like to see, if God's will it may be,
Many, many a summer of my green things growing!

But if I must be gathered for the angel's sowing,
Sleep out of sight awhile, like the green things growing.
Though dust to dust return, I think I'll scarcely mourn,
If I may change into green things growing.

POTATO PUFF

Mix three cups of hot mashed potatoes with two tablespoons of melted butter, a teaspoon of minced onion, a tablespoon of minced parsley and one well-beaten egg. When thoroughly blended add one-half cup of hot milk, whipping with a fork. Pour into a well-greased rather shallow baking dish. Brush the top with melted butter and bake in a hot oven—425 degrees—about twenty minutes or until puffy and brown on top. Serve as soon as possible.

START DRIVE ON TUBERCULOSIS

County League Cooperating in Early Diagnosis Campaign This Month

An early start has been made in the Early diagnosis Campaign announced by tuberculosis associations for the month of April, according to Daisy S. Hollingshead of the Burlington County Tuberculosis League, who stated that the billboards are already displaying the emblem of the campaign which contains the figures of David and Goliath and bears the slogan, "Tuberculosis, the Foe of Youth." The emblem and slogan will appear on all posters and similar matter used during the campaign.

"This symbol was selected," said Daisy S. Hollingshead, executive secretary of the Association, "because it is during youth, when danger is often treated with scorn, that the arch foe tuberculosis is most likely to strike. And today, as of old, the place for David to strike Goliath is at the point of intelligence. The best weapon is the stone of Knowledge."

"Tuberculosis and the Teen Age", pamphlet describing just how the disease develops during adolescence and how it can be prevented is to be given wide distribution among parents, teachers, physical educators and all who have charge of boys and girls. An effort will be made to reach the "Lost Battalion" of boys and girls who leave school for work in the "teen ages."

Burlington County Tuberculosis League is actively cooperating in the campaign with tuberculosis associations located throughout the state and Nation. Every publicity medium is being used including a large amount of advertising space in monthly and weekly magazines donated by the publications and the Metropolitan has billboards have been placed through Insurance Company. More than 200 out New Jersey by members of the Outdoor Advertising Men's Association.

Burlington County Tuberculosis League is holding five clinics during April. The two regular monthly clinics on April 6 and 20 from 8:30 a.m. until 12 noon with two additional ones on Saturday, April 11 from 8:30 a.m. to noon for students in order that they might not miss a school period, and another for industrial workers on Friday, April 17 at 7:30 p.m. at the Burlington County Hospital. The regular monthly clinic will be held in the Riverside Town Hall on Friday, April 25 at 2:30 p.m.

Kiwanis Club members of Bridgeport, Conn., who comprise the committee to visit the sick are a physician, a druggist, a florist, a clergyman, an undertaker and a tombstone salesman.

Engaged

Mrs. Benjamin Kain Brick, of Marlton, announced the engagement of her daughter, Miss Elizabeth to Samuel C. Lippincott, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Lippincott, also of Marlton at a luncheon and bridge at her home on Saturday afternoon.

Miss Brick, who is the youngest daughter of the late Dr. Benjamin Kain Brick, is a graduate of Moorestown High School and will graduate from Bucknell University this June.

Mr. Lippincott is also a graduate of Moorestown High School.

Guests at the luncheon and bridge were from Fox Chase, Harrisburg, Glenside, Woodbury, Ocean City, Merchantville, Haddonfield, Moorestown, Medford and Marlton.

No date has been set for the wedding.

WELFARE PLAN WORKS OUT WELL

Men Cleaned Roads In Cinnaminson Township; Riverton or Palmyra Next

After two weeks operation of the Community Welfare's plan of giving work to unemployed it is generally felt that the plan is successful. Opportunity has been given to all families on the Welfare's list who have members capable of average work.

The first work was on the Union Landing road in Cinnaminson Township. Supervision and all necessary tools were provided and paid for by the Township as well as a truck for hauling materials and transporting workers. The roadside growth was cut off and the gutters cleaned, making it safer for traffic and better for maintenance by scraping. The next work was on Highland avenue south of Park avenue, where similar improvements were made. It is also hoped that the unsightly dump further out Highland avenue can be covered up and definitely closed. This has been an eyesore for several years as one of the three main roads connecting the towns with the Burlington Pike.

The next work will be in either Palmyra or Riverton and will be of such a nature that the public at large will benefit. Some men have been placed in part time or regular work and a better knowledge of the actual needs of some families has been one of the results attained. Those in charge of the work and all members of the Welfare Association will welcome all constructive criticism and suggestions, for it is their sincere desire to carry along the welfare work in a manner satisfactory to the many co-ntributent organizations and individuals whose generous support has made it possible.

ROBBER ENTERS PALMYRA HOME

Takes $22 and Desk Set From House on Cuthbert Road Sunday Night

A thief interested only in money and writing materials entered the home of Russell Glaesser, of Cuthbert road, Palmyra extension, early last Sunday evening.

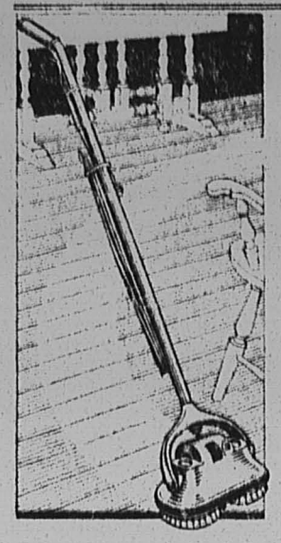

The intruder stole $22 in bills from a dressing table in one of the bedrooms and then made off with a fountain pen and pencil set taken from a desk in the living room. He did no damage to the place and nothing else was reported to the police as being stolen. Palmyra police are working on several clues.

Patrick McGinnis, of 939 Granite street, and a second Patrick McGinnis of 1404 Tulip street, both of Philadelphia, were arrested by Palmyra police last Friday. They were seen fighting on the highway leading to the bridge and when they were arrested told the officers they were cousins. Both were released after paying a fine of $25 and costs on charges of being drunk and disorderly.

William Houston, colored, of Washington, D. C., was given a hearing before Justice of the Peace William L. Fichter last Saturday following his arrest by State Police.

George Houston, driver of the car, was also arrested. The latter was accused of driving an automobile without possessing a driver's license. William Houston, his brother, the owner of the car, was charged with allowing an unlicensed driver to operate a motor vehicle. Both narrowly escaped a jail sentence when they were at first unable to pay the fine meted out to them by Justice of the Peace Fichter. They were finally able to gather enough money to pay the fine, and were discharged.

Police reported no accidents, despite the heavy traffic and the slippery condition of the roads over the Easter holidays.

WILL DEDICATE PARK JULY 4

Committee Arranging Program; Bronze Tablet With Inscription on Grandstand

At the meeting of the Riverton Borough Council Thursday night of last week a resolution was introduced by Councilman Woolman to dedicate Memorial Park on July 4th and to make the dedication exercises a part of the program for the celebration of Independence Day. The resolution was passed.

The preparation of a suitable program will be in the hands of the Fourth of July committee composed of J. Elmer Hahn, William H. Albertson and James S. Conle.

It is proposed to have a bronze tablet placed on the west end of the grandstand stating the fact that the park is a Memorial to Riverton boys who fought in the World War.

Mr. Elwell, chairman of the borough property committee, reported that work on the construction of a tennis court on the park was progressing and asked sanction for the purchase of six park benches, which was given.

CARD PARTY FOR STUDENT LOAN FUND

Riverton Parent-Teacher Association To Give Party to Raise Funds For Riverton's Share

A card party will be given at the Riverton Public School on Wednesday, April 29, at two o'clock under the auspices of the Parent-Teacher Association.

About two thousand dollars is still to be raised for the Student Loan Fund of six thousand dollars which Burlington County Council has worked so hard to raise. Concerted efforts are being made all over the county to complete the amount this year, so that the fund may be available to help any school child to finish his education, if otherwise lack of money prevents.

This card party is given in the effort to contribute Riverton's share. There will be many prizes. Tickets are fifty cents each.

Make up your own table and come have a good time and help a very worthy cause.

Candidate

WALTER D. LAMON

who has announced himself as a candidate for the Republican nomination as Mayor of Palmyra.

LAMON CANDIDATE FOR TOWN'S MAYOR

Pledges Himself to Work for Low Taxes and Efficient Government

Walter D. Lamon, of Cleveland avenue, a member of the Palmyra Board of Education, is the first to announce himself as a candidate to succeed Mayor George N. Wimer.

Mr. Lamon is in the real estate and insurance business and has been active in the civil life of Palmyra for several years. He has also taken a leading part in the activities of the various fraternal and civic organizations.

His announcement reads as follows:

In response to what seems to me to be a call to service, I hereby announce my candidacy for Mayor of the Borough of Palmyra, on the Republican ticket, at the Primary Election, to be held May 19, 1931.

Having a keen interest in the progress of Palmyra, I have kept in close touch with its activities, and the affairs of the local government, thereby acquiring knowledge of the duties of the office.

If elected, I shall conscientiously serve my fellow-citizens and, pledge myself to work for the lowest possible tax rate, consistent with efficient government.

WALTER D. LAMON.

COLUMBUS CADETS BRING HOME HONORS

Lawrence Bradshaw and Charles Eck Win First Place for Their Home Squad

In the New Jersey state meet held in the Armory at Elizabeth, last Sunday, the Columbus Cadets from St. Joseph's Council captured the state championship in the bugle contest. This was the only event the local youthful Knights participated in, and after heated competition carried off first honors, thereby being crowned state champions.

In recognition of their ability they will be presented with a handsome flag. Lawrence Bradshaw and Charlie Eck were the lads who did the bugling and were highly praised and commended by the U. S. Army captains who were the judges.

The squad made up of eighteen boys were in charge of Captains Pfaff and D'Autrechy.

The New Jersey Assembly of the Fourth Degree were present in full regalia and State Deputy McMahon with his entire staff were among the 2,000 who witnessed the various events.

Units from all sections of the state were entered and the boy work of Eugene McVey, a former Notre Dame scholar, was highly praised by the Army and Navy officials who directed the meet and acted as judges.

Two hundred and sixty-eight adults crowded the local K. of C. headquarters last Monday night, danced and played cards in the annual spring social of St. Joseph's Council.

A total of 109 handsome prizes were distributed after keen bidding among the players.

Chairman of the committee was Joseph F. Yearly. Music was furnished by the Original Commanders. Refreshments were served.

THREE-ACT PLAY AT M. E. CHURCH TONIGHT

Burlington Cast Will Go on Stage For Benefit of Palmyra Epworth League

The three-act play, "Mother Mine," will be presented tonight in the Sunday School room of the Epworth M. E. Church under the auspices of the Epworth League.

The cast has been picked from persons associated with the Burlington League and includes some persons from Palmyra. The play made a "hit" with the audiences which attended its performances in Burlington and is expected to prove equally popular with the people of Palmyra and Riverton.

Tickets have been placed on sale within the past week and are selling for thirty-five and twenty cents.

RIVERTON COPS STAGE CLEAN-UP

Concentrated Drive Made on Violators of Traffic Regulations

The Riverton police department, according to Chief Miller, is waging a little war on traffic violators within its peaceful borders, and the recent arrest as transcribed from the police docket would seem to confirm his statements.

Officer Gootee leads the list with seven arrests last week for reckless driving and one-eyed cars driving at night.

Rene J. Mervine, of 5145 Sauls street, Philadelphia, was arrested for driving with one light and fined 5.00 and costs when taken before Police Recorder Cecil A. Bowers.

Ivan Landston, of 2200 River road, Camden, was picked up on the same charge by Gootee but escaped with a $1.00 fine and costs.

James Freed, of 703 Lincoln avenue, Palmyra, found himself before the bar on the same charge and was released on payment of $2.00 and costs.

William Miller, of 2715 Berkshire street, Philadelphia, another one-light offender, paid his $1.00 and costs, and Caroline Almond, of Merchantville, arrested by Gootee on the same charge, was fined $1.00 and costs.

A truck owned by the Madrid Motor Corp., of 613 S. 24th street, Philadelphia, was stopped by Gootee and the driver fined $5.00 and costs for driving a truck without the name of the owner painted on the body.

One evening, a man driving a pleasure car stopped Gootee and inquired the way to the town hall, whereupon Gootee promptly informed him that he was headed in that direction and to insure his getting there, accompanied him. Upon arrival he was charged with driving his pleasure car with one light, and when questioned it was revealed that he was coming to Riverton in answer to a State Police summons for driving a truck the night before with only one light. The driver, Frank Kosilski, of South River, Jamesburg, New Jersey, paid the two fines of $3.00 and costs and was released.

Gootee and Robinson together arrested Claude Wanger, of Golf Road, Riverton, charging him with reckless driving when he drove under the gates at the railroad crossing at Broad and Main streets while they were being lowered. He was fined $10 and costs and released.

Robinson arrested Edward Ehrlich, of Riverside, at the intersection of Broad and Main streets for reckless driving and at hearing before Police Recorder Cecil A. Bowers he was discharged on a suspended sentence.

Chief Miller warns that speeding and reckless driving within the borough limits must stop and that a campaign is under way to arrest all offenders.

Miller also warns that people leaving cars parked on the streets at night without lights will be apprehended.

PEANUT VENDER AT FIRE HOUSE

Riverton Company Opens First of Spring Dances Saturday Night

Those who can't sit still when the orchestra is sending forth its weird syncopation of modern jazz music, had better put a big red X on Saturday, April 18th, and then hustle out and find a fair partner for the occasion.

The Riverton Fire Company is sponsoring one of their big spring dances, and to assure the patrons of irresistible rythm, the Rainbow Ramblers will supply the inspiration.

Now that the trees are beginning to bud, the birds beginning to nest and the sun is laden with an overabundance of vitamin Q rays, or sumpin' —give your girl a break. Take her to the firemen's dance and show her that the world is not so bad off after all.

Everyone will have a good time and the firemen will surely appreciate your patronage. Remember Saturday the 18th.

MEMORY TEASER STICKS THEM ALL

No One Recognized Flag Pole Erected at Palmyra School in March, 1910

Last week's Memory Teaser was the flag pole in front of the Palmyra school on Spring Garden street between Cinnaminson and Parry avenues.

The pole which stood 100 feet high cost $125 and was purchased with funds collected by the school children.

It was placed in position by a crew from The Bell Telephone Company in charge of James Cunningham.

The pole was dedicated at the same time as the new school building, Saturday, April 9, 1910.

The flag pole was presented to the Board of Education by Miss Ruth Clark on behalf of the pupils, and was accepted by H. P. Burtt, president of the board.

CONOVER HEADS LOCAL ROTARY

Election of Officers and Plans for Boys' Week Features of Last Meeting

The April 9th meeting of the Palmyra-Riverton Rotary Club was marked by the election of officers for the ensuing year. They are as follows: President, Howard B. Conover; vice-president, Rev. George Lockett; secretary, Joseph Seel; treasurer, Ross E. Mattis.

Mr. Mount, of the Palmyra Y. M. C. A., was the speaker of the evening. The main topic up for discussion was the preparation for Boys' Week, an annual event for Rotary. The conduct of events will be very much like last year's program with the possible exception of the addition of a track meet for the different age groups. Ed Jessup was elected chairman of the boys' week committee.

Stanley P. Stewart was elected to membership under the architecture classification.

PALMYRA ARTISANS PLAN VISIT TO PHILA.

100 Expected to Visit Northwestern Assembly at Regular Meeting Monday Night

Nearly a hundred Artisans of the Palmyra Assembly are expected to make a visit to the Northwestern Assembly at its regular meeting Monday night.

The Northwestern group, of Philadelphia, were of great assistance to the organizers of the Palmyra order, during the time of the formation of the Jersey branch.

Since rendering assistance to the Palmyrians when they were in need, the Northwestern members have been on the most cordial terms with the Jerseymen, visiting Palmyra on several occasions. In return for some of these visits, the Palmyra delegation will attend the meeting of the Philadelphia assembly.

The meeting is held in the Central Y. M. C. A. building, 1421 Arch street, Philadelphia, and the Palmyra visitors will leave the station here at seven o'clock.

In addition to the large number leaving Palmyra, several other members who are either employed or live in Philadelphia, will meet the visitors at the meeting place.

CONCERT

Women's Symphony Orchestra to Give Tenth Anniversary Program

The Women's Symphony Orchestra, of Philadelphia, with J. W. F. Leman, conductor, will give its tenth anniversary concert program at the Bellevue-Stratford Ballroom, Thursday, April 23rd, 8:20 p. m.

Miss Helen Jepson, soprano, will be the soloist for the evening.

Dancing will take place in the ball room after the concert.

Tickets may be had at Presser's, 1712 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia.

A PROTEST

We as business citizens of Riverton do hereby enter our protest against the action of the school board committee in awarding the contract for coal for the public school for 1931 to a dealer outside the borough.

Joseph T. Evans and J. S. Collins & Son, Inc., are large taxpayers, also help in many ways in supporting school activities here, and should have been given the order between them at regular citizen prices.

We consider it very unjust.

Samaritan Class of Baptist Sunday School To Banquet Friday Evening

Daniel Ross, of Trenton, Well Known Y. M. C. A. Worker, to be Speaker; Hon. George N. Wimer and Officers of Church to be Guests

To Speak

DANIEL ROSS

Well-known Trenton Y. M. C. A. worker, who will address Samaritan Class at its annual banquet tomorrow night.

The Samaritan Class of the Central Baptist Church will hold its annual banquet in the social hall of the church tomorrow evening at 6:30 o'clock.

Daniel Ross, of Trenton, who is greatly interested in the Young Men Christian Association and the commencement work will be the speaker of the occasion.

Mayor George N. Wimer and the officers of the church will be the guests of honor at the dinner and will be called on for a few remarks.

The banquet will be served by the members of the Junior Philathea Class. Joseph G. Seel will be the toastmaster.

Following the dinner a sketch will be presented by some of the members of the Samaritan and Philathea classes. All persons who have witnessed any of the previous performances put on by either of these classes need no further encouragement to be present at the banquet.

Any members of the classes who have not met the new officers of Kenneth C. Dimond, president; Branson Bailey, vice-president; Charles Snyder, secretary; and James M. Weart treasurer, are cordially invited to take advantage of this excellent opportunity to get acquainted. It is hoped that all members will attend.

"GET NEW MEMBERS" THEME AT MEETING

Fourteen New Officers Inducted at Meeting of Foresters Tuesday Evening

There was much enthusiasm at the regular semi-monthly meeting of Court Riverton No. 98 Foresters of America in Collins Hall on Tuesday of this week. The newly elected officers were installed by Grand Junior Woodward, George Simmons of Court Washington No. 99, of Gloucester, who also addressed the officers and members on the opportunity for new members to come into Court Riverton while the charter is open, and how they could take advantage of membership in this organization. His remarks were well received by the members present.

The following were inducted into office for the ensuing term:

Chief Ranger, L. Weber; sub chief ranger, Joseph Laverty; treasurer, Morris Steedle; financial secretary, Frank Troutman; recording secretary, Lawton Steedle; lecturer, John Ruppert, Sr.; senior woodward, Raymond Pichter; junior woodward, Edward Burns; senior beadle, M. Lockowitz; junior beadle, Frank Speer; trustees, John McDermott, Hudson Hullings, Albert Schuler.

PORCH CLUB NOTES

According to schedule, Tuesday morning, April 14th, the Current Events section of The Porch Club held a half-hour session devoted to current events conducted by Mrs. Thomas Cashin, and a half hour review, by Mrs. R. M. Fuller, of some of the new books. Then Mr. C. N. Cooper, principal of the Riverton Public School, gave a most interesting talk about "Modern Education."

Mr. Cooper is using the "Contract" system for lessons and the "Student Honor" system for conduct in the Riverton school and he is meeting with great success. He emphasized the disadvantages of having two grades in one room. He mentioned the advantage to pupils derived from movable furniture instead of fixed seating.

He called attention to the good investment made by the parents who insist upon the very best and most modern school buildings and equipment for their children. The meeting was well attended and it was a pleasure to have Mr. Cooper explain some new ways of dealing with school problems.

GARDEN SECTION NOTICE

The Garden Section of the Riverton Porch Club will have charge of the program, Tuesday afternoon, April 20th. Mr. Howard O. Yates, an instructor in the Camden County Vocational School, will be the speaker. He is to be one of the lecturers at the State Federation Convention held in Atlantic City this spring and the club is fortunate to be able to have him talk in Riverton. Club members and their friends will be especially interested as he will bring flowers and pottery with him to demonstrate his subject, "Floral Arrangement."

Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. John M. Renshaw, of Pennsylvania avenue, Palmyra, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Minna C. Renshaw, to Louis C. Hahle, son of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Hahle, of Riverside.

Both Miss Renshaw and Mr. Hahle attended Palmyra High School. Mr. Hahle is now employed by the Lester B. Fortnum Ford agency, Palmyra.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Dr. Harry A. Bouthet of Boston appeared at a recent dog show wearing a suit woven from the hair of sled dogs.

BIDDERS IN TIE, CONTRACT SPLIT

Two Out of Three Ask Same Price for Cow Chow for County Farm

A tie bid between Reuben Hendrickson, of Cookstown, and Ridgeway Brothers of Pemberton, for supplying the county with 20 tons of cow chow resulted in each bidder being awarded the contract for 10 tons by the Burlington County Board of Freeholders in session last Friday. Each of these bids was $44.70 per ton.

The other bidder was Fenimore Brothers of Mount Holly, who asked $45.15 per ton.

Director Ross reported that on recommendation of the management of Fairview Sanitorium the contract for 120 mattresses had been awarded to John Wanamaker at a total cost of $345.20. After the contract had been awarded the specifications were changed by Dr. Marcus W. Newcomb, superintendent of the sanitorium, to hair filling instead of cotton batting which added $1.15 per mattress to the cost. This action was approved by the board.

On motion of Freeholder Stout the Burlington-Bristol bridge company was given permission to erect signs along the county highway directing traffic to the bridge.

Public Service was granted permission to open Washington and King streets in Mount Holly to lay 6-inch supply pipes replacing the 4-inch service which has become inadequate. The company was also given permission to erect 25 poles on the Marlton-Moorestown road at the intersection of Church road.

Grand Jury Recommendations

A communication was received from the December grand jury concerning a tour made by that body of the county buildings. The report said that the administration of these building had been found economical and efficient. It was recommended that a washstand and rest room for women employees of the Sheriff's office be supplied as soon as possible.

The sanitary equipment in the jail was also in good condition and should be improved. The hospital for insane was reported to be in first class condition and no changes were recommended. The report stated that the almshouse was overcrowded and that several conditions existed which should be remedied.

The tuberculosis sanitorium was found to be in good condition and the report stated that with the addition of a preventorium close by the county would have an ideal organization for combating tuberculosis. The report was signed by Harry Brick, chairman of the grand jury.

The following bills were ordered paid: Roads, $6,776.78; Bridges $1,356.33; Finance $435.43; Buildings $13,525.21 and Affairs $14,774.29.

Mahlon Dunfee

Mahlon Dunfee, of East Riverton, died in the Burlington County Hospital, Mount Holly, on Wednesday of last week.

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at one o'clock from the West Creek M. E. Church, near Tuckahoe, N. J. Interment was made in the West Creek Cemetery under the direction of Frank A. Snover.

Mr. Dunphee is survived by his daughter, Mrs. Emma Juhl, of East Riverton.

KELSEY A CANDIDATE

Jonathan H. Kelsey, former prosecutor has announced he will be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for surrogate at the coming primaries. Kelsey makes his home in Pemberton, and is a member of the law firm of Kelsey and Kille, in Mount Holly.

YMCA CAMPAIGN FOR FUNDS OPENS WITH FINE DINNER

Fifty Workers Attend Banquet at Riverton Country Club. Mayors Speak

WIMER LANDS WORK OF "Y" IN COMMUNITY

$3800 Must be Raised by Public Contributions Before Next Week

The finance campaign of the Palmyra-Riverton Y. M. C. A. was officially opened Tuesday night with a dinner which fifty campaign workers and officers of the organization attended.

Workers for the drive have been selected by the ten team captains, and Elmer Hahn, general chairman in charge of the affair, expects the full quota to be raised with some money to spare.

The speakers at the dinner included Mayors George N. Wimer of Palmyra, Howard M. Rogers of Riverton, Walter Wood, general secretary of the Philadelphia Y. M. C. A. and William Atkinson, leader of the winning team in the finance campaign conducted by the Camden Y.

Mr. Wood, the principal speaker, talked at some length on the multiple benefits which the members of the Y. M. C. A. can derive from the organization. The world wide Y does not specialize in religious training neither does it devote most of its time to physical development. Rather it combines these two with the upbuilding of good morals and the furthering of the education of its members, thus making it a four square organization.

Rounds Out Character

Continuing his talk, Mr. Wood said he found the Y. M. C. A. during his forty years' work with its affairs to be a specialist at rounding out a boy's character and bringing out to full development the best that was in him.

Citizens who have been asked to contribute are asking what becomes of the money donated during the campaign. A check up of the activities of the Y. M. C. A. in the two towns during the past year reveals that the approximate cost of entertaining one boy for the year is $12 or about one dollar every month.

The solicitation for the finance drive is for every contribution to support one boy, or if that is impractical, half a boy done by making a contribution of $6 for the year. There are more than 300 boys enjoying the activities which the Palmyra-Riverton Y supports. At a cost of $12 for each one the total of $3800 or the quota to be raised by subscription.

Costs of Operating

Of the total cost of operating the Y only $1200 a year is received from sources other than subscriptions. Building maintenance costs $1,071, administration fees amount to $2489. The cost of leadership training is $450, total office maintenance costs are $450, while group activities use $640. Expenses in this budget have been cut to a minimum and the lowest amount necessary to be obtained by public contribution is $4808.

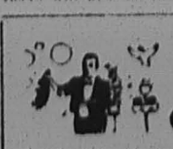

Mayor George N. Wimer, speaking at the banquet Tuesday night said: No one can realize like the Mayor of a small community what proper training and constructive recreation among the boys of the community can do toward the success of a town. I am strongly in accord with the slogan taken by the leaders for this campaign. What profiteth a community to gain great wealth and lose its youth? The boys of this community are assured of a helpful training and not merely a place to go when they enter the Y. M. C. A.

NEW POST OFFICE NEARLY FINISHED, OPEN NEXT MONTH

New Steel Floor Braces Have Been Set in Place by Contractors

WORK ON EXTERIOR VIRTUALLY COMPLETED

Completion of the Palmyra post office is assured by next month, it was announced by John S Warner, owner of the building, this week.

Outside work on the building is now virtually completed, with nothing of the exterior finishing to be be done but installing the window glass.

The old wooden building has been remodeled until now it is a two story brick structure with an additional loft for the apartment on the second floor.

The steel braces for the floor of the post office, which had formerly delayed the operations, have been laid upon the rebuild stone foundation and a section of the floor has been laid. The floor of the interior of the office will be of sesamoid maple, while a tile floor will be laid in the lobby.

Approximately fifty electric outlets will supply a flood of light for the workers inside and will also provide the source of power for the numerous machines used in the office. Two large lights are expected to illuminate the lobby while smaller lights will be placed on each side of the doorway outside the building.

There will be no lettering on any of the windows in the office, the stone slab directly over the doorway bearing the title of the building.

Since the completion of the outside work, some of the plastering work on the inside has been done, and all the interior finishing will be finished before May 1. This includes the floor laying, the remaining plastering work, electric wiring and the installation of the hot water heating system.

The actual opening of the building for business has not been set for any certain date. The office equipment has been delivered but at the present time is in storage.

P. O. S. OF A. TO HOLD INITIATION

Palmyra Camp Invited to Attend Church Services at Pennington

The new degree team of Washington Camp No. 23, P. O. S. of A. Palmyra, is ready and waiting for the class initiation to be held Monday evening in the camp room at 8:30 o'clock. A very interesting program has been arranged by the entertainment committee.

The Burlington County Association meeting, which was held in Mount Holly on April 2, was very well attended. Twenty members from the Palmyra Camp helped swell the crowd. State Master of Forms, Leslie W. Reeves, also of Palmyra, was among those present on that occasion.

State Chaplain the Rev. Howard Amer, has invited Washington Camp to attend morning services at the historic Methodist Church, Pennington, N. J., Sunday, April 26. Many patriotic organizations have adopted April 27 as "Americanization Day." The Rev. Mr. Amer promises a service in keeping with the occasion.

The committee in charge of this event from Washington Camp, are the Messrs. Jackson, Jessup and Seeber. They urge a large attendance and suggest that a box luncheon be taken. The distance from Palmyra to Pennington is thirty five miles. The service begins at 11:00 a. m.

Plans for the annual reunion of members of Washington Camp are now well under way. The dates have been set as follows: church service, May 17, and social session, May 18. Leslie W. Reeves, state master of forms, attended the meeting of the State Executive Committee in Trenton on April 11, and visited the Cumberland County Association at Millville on April 15.

Eight-Day Clock Runs Almost Three Weeks Despite Broken Spring

More than three weeks ago Mrs. Powell was winding her clock which reposes on a shelf in a downstairs room, when a loud snap was heard inside the clock. The key with which Mrs. Powell was winding the timepiece was twisted out of her hand, badly bruising her thumb as it spun around, and then was thrown on the floor at the opposite side of the room.

For nineteen days and several hours the timepiece, which is supposed to be an eight-day clock, kept running, keeping accurate time and striking regularly every half-hour.

When it had stopped an examination disclosed that it had kept running during that period with a broken spring. Jewelers from Palmyra and Philadelphia are mystified over the occurence, and say they have never heard of any case similar to it.

Mrs. Powell said the clock has given her good service for more than 25 years, and if the latest prank is any indication, it will probably be good for at least as many years more.

TRICKS of MAGIC EXPLAINED by Will J. Lindhorst

HOW THREAD PREVENTS LIFTING UP AN UMBRELLA

Prepare for this trick by drawing a black thread through your sleeve, fastening one end to a button of your vest, and making a loop in the other and placing it between two of your fingers. Let the loop extend about one-half inch above the fingers and you are ready for the trick. Ask some one to hold an umbrella extended, grasping it in the center of the handle. Extend your hand, palm upward, place the tip of the umbrella upon the hand, and while doing so slip the loop of the thread over the umbrella tip. Then ask the person to try and raise the umbrella from your hand. Although it is held by only a thin thread, it will be found practically impossible to budge it. Ask the person to try using both hands, and unless he has unusual strength in his arms, it will be found equally difficult to raise the umbrella. Even if the thread should be discovered, this would be a good trick.

PTA PRESENTS JOSEPH WISSOW

Recital to be Held in Palmyra High Auditorium Tuesday Evening

Joseph Wissow, well known Philadelphia concert pianist, will be featured by the Lester Ensemble in a recital in the Palmyra High School auditorium Tuesday evening at 8:15 o'clock. This recital is being presented under the auspices of the Palmyra Parent-Teachers' Association.

Mr. Wissow is perhaps one of the most famous pianists to be found in America today. He is an outstanding musician and has concertised both Europe and America. He has appeared with The Philadelphia Orchestra, The Philharmonic Society, The Women's Symphony Orchestra of Philadelphia, and of late, as pianist for the Lester Ensemble.

He is of magnetic personality and occupies a prominent place in the music circles of communities along the Atlantic seaboard. He enjoys the respect and esteem of a large circle of friends, students and associates.

An evening of enjoyment is looked forward to by music-lovers of Palmyra, Riverton and vicinity.

The program will also include Elwood Wereser, well-known baritone, of the same ensemble, who will be accompanied by Miss Virginia Snyder. Mrs. Evelyn Weart will also give several of her delightful readings.

The child study group of the P. T. A. will meet as usual at 7:30 o'clock. William R. Plank, a member of the high school faculty, will read a discussion, "Boy's Rooms."

Everyone interested is cordially invited to attend these discussions. This meeting will adjourn in time for the regular meeting.

Harlow C. Clark

Harlow C. Clark, director of publicity, Public Service Corporation of New Jersey, and its affiliated companies, died April 10 at his home, 103 North Walnut street, East Orange, of heart disease, after a long illness.

Mr. Clark leaves in addition to his wife, Mrs. Mary Cowles Clark, two sisters, Mrs. Whitney Tillinghast and Mrs. Herbert Savage Ide, both of Troy, New York.

Mr. Clark was born in Syracuse, New York, September 10, 1870. He was educated in the public schools and high school of that city and in Blackhall School, Connecticut. His first work was in the steam railroad field, serving in the freight and transportation departments of the New York Central and the Lehigh Valley railroads. In 1892 he returned to Syracuse and entered the employ of the Syracuse News as a reporter, subsequently serving as Sunday editor and city editor on the Syracuse Herald and the Syracuse Journal.

In 1903 Mr. Clark became secretary to the mayor of Syracuse. Two years later he became secretary of the Syracuse Chamber of Commerce and in 1907 was appointed commissioner of public safety in Syracuse. At the expiration of his term of office he returned to the Chamber of Commerce as secretary. In 1911 he joined the staff of the Syracuse Journal as one of its editors. In 1912 he was with the firm of Allen & Peck, Inc., his work being in the public relations field. In 1913 he was appointed editor of AERA, the official magazine of the American Electric Railway Association, which position he left in August, 1920, to join the staff of Public Service.

Mr. Clark has written extensively upon public utility matters, being the author among other things of "Service at Cost Plans," dealing with modern electric railway franchises. He was one of the witnesses before the Federal Electric Railways Commission and the Public Utilities Committee of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, investigating electric railway affairs.

A dozen eggs were found by a rural carrier of McPherson, Kan., with a request that they be used to pay for the postage of six letters which were with them.

FLASHES FROM THE Y. M. C. A.

Marble Tournament At Westfield Friends'

Wednesday afternoon of last week the first of the marble tournaments being sponsored by the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin was held at the Westfield Friends' School. Wilton E. Mount, secretary of the local "Y", with the assistance of Robinson Coe and Robert Wallace, of Riverton, conducted the meet. Edward Hirst, 11 years old, of 707 Main street, Riverton, was declared the winner after a hard contest against Herbert Ziegler, 11 years old, of Washington street, Riverside. These two lads will represent their school in the finals to be held on the "Y" grounds, Broad street and Garfield avenue, Palmyra, May 9. Much interest was displayed in the tournament.

Hi-Y Clubs To Hold Dance

The Freshman and Sophomore Hi-Y will give a dance in the Y. M. C. A. building Friday evening, April 24. An interesting program is being planned and the boys are looking forward to a most enjoyable evening.

Directors To Meet Next Thursday

The regular meeting of the board of directors of the Young Men's Christian Association will not be held this evening. The meeting will be held next Thursday evening in the "Y" building promptly at 7:30 o'clock. The final reports of the campaign, which is now in progress, will be given at that time. Nathan Lane, Jr., will preside. This meeting will adjourn in time to let the members of the board attend the regular meeting of the newly organized Men's Club, which will be held at that time.

Quoits To Feature "Y" Program

Quoits will be the feature of the "Y" programme in the near future. Clay beds will be laid in the rear of the building. If sufficient interest in this sport is shown, arc lights will be installed, so that the game may be played at night.

Y. M. C. A. To Sponsor Track Meet

The Palmyra-Riverton Y. M. C. A. will sponsor a track meet to be held May 2. Boys will be classified according to weight and will compete only with fellows of like ability. Registration cards will be available the first part of next week. In order to compete a boy must have a doctor's certificate as to his general health and the consent of his parents. Complete details will be given in next week's paper.

Campers' Reunion

Saturday, May 16, a reunion of all former Ockanickon campers will be held at the camp.

Marble Tournament At Cinnaminson

Tuesday, April 28, the finals in the marble tournament of the Cinnaminson School will be held. Through the co-operation of Miss Eloise Bryan, principal of the school, the preliminaries will be held previous to that date.

Two diamond rings stolen and swallowed by William Carter, of Chicago, were recovered through a surgical operation performed by order of police officials.

Sheriff H. W. Culbertson failed to find anybody "at home" when he raided a big whiskey still at Speers Ferry, Va., because the bootleggers were warned of his approach when all the church bells in the vicinity were tolled.

PALMYRA SCHOOL INSTRUCTORS GET NEW CONTRACTS

TEACHERS OF 3 SCHOOLS INCLUDED IN THE LIST

At a special meeting of the Palmyra School Board last Thursday evening, contracts for the school term of 1931-32 were awarded.

The School Board gave more than forty contracts to the various members of the Palmyra teaching staffs. The contracts went to teachers of the high school, Delaware avenue grade school and primary school at Cinnaminson avenue and Spring Garden street. Included in the agreements were those of the school secretary and school librarian.

The special supervisors who were tendered contracts are Ruth E. Calvert, Kenneth C. Dimond, Grace F. Dugan, Anne Matthews, Arthur N. Palmer, Emma D. Sawyer and Marie L. McDermott, school secretary.

Members of the High School faculty to receive contracts are Vera M. Brower, principal; Marjorie E. Burt, Vida I. Fairchild, Clinton B. Gardner, John B. Haines, Marian E. Huber, James P. Hughes, Marion E. Jewell, Laura Kirkeby, Elizabeth McDonough, Harold L. Schaefer, Portie A. Wolfe, Mary E. Young and Edna K. Zeigler.

Mary B. Egan, principal; Ida B. Bonsall, Thelma C. Boone, Gladys Booth, Vida Bortner, Mary C. Brown, Martha Higgins, Sylvia D. Hutton, Gladys Stafford and Rena J. Van Selver were the teachers in the Delaware avenue grade school to receive contracts.

Grade school teachers of the Spring Garden street school who were awarded contracts are Harriet Egan, principal, Muriel E. Burgman, Lillian T. Craig, Josephine Hannold, Dorothy E. Johnson, Ruth E. Laessle, Viola M. Price, Evelyn G. Robinette, Ethel M. Sawn, Elizabeth Toy, Josephine Wallace and Emily K. Wallace.

No definite decision was made in response to the request of the "Tillicum" High School year book staff that the board place a full page advertisement in the publication.

BRIDGE OPENING SET FOR MAY 2

Will be Ready Unless Weather Delays Building of Pennsylvania Approach

Unless unfavorable weather conditions hamper construction of the Pennsylvania approach to the Burlington-Bristol bridge to such an extent it cannot be completed in scheduled time, the afternoon of Saturday, May 2, will mark the dedication and official opening of the new span.

Appropriate exercises on the bridge and in the towns affected directly by the structure are being planned. A joint committee, comprising service club representatives from both Burlington and Bristol organized this week to plan for celebration in the two towns.

William H. Fine, of Bristol, was chosen chairman of this committee. Vice-chairman of this general committee and chairman of the two sub-committees in their respective towns are Mayor Clifford R. Anderson, of Bristol, and William C. Jones, Burlington.

Short talks by noted statesmen of both Pennsylvania and New Jersey, including Governors Clifford Pinchot and Morgan Larson, are expected to be a part of the dedication program to be held starting at 2:30 p. m. in the center of the span. It further is anticipated that music will be broadcast from the center of the bridge, through amplifiers, to the large crowds gathered for the ceremony.

Two parades will be important features of the program. These parades are to be vehicular and will start simultaneously on both sides of the river. The Burlington parade, under preliminary plans, will form in this city near the bridge approach, cross the span to Bristol, and parade about the Pennsylvania town. The Bristol parade will take a route opposite that of Burlington line of march.

Everyone is invited to participate in the parades and merchants and householders are urged to decorate their business houses and residences for the occasion. The committee feels there will be several thousand visitors in Burlington on the day of the celebration.

A meeting of the general committee will be held in the Bristol Elks' Home on Wednesday, April 22. The Bristol and Burlington committees have further been divided into subcommittees and meetings of these smaller bodies are being held at frequent intervals to work out definite plans for the afternoon's program.

AUTO RACING WILL OPEN AT LANGHORNE SPEEDWAY MAY 3

America's speed kings will open their 1931 Eastern campaign on the Langhorne speedway, May 2, according to an announcement from Ralph A. Hankinson, operator of the mile dirt oval. A 100 mile race will feature the program which will be concluded with a 25-mile consolation event. The superiority of one and two-man mounts, greatly questioned at Langhorne since the American Automobile Association placed them in the running last year, will be decided in the opener. The entry list will be open to both types of cars, but the mechanics will not ride, Hankinson said.

HAS HOPE FOR RELIEF FADED?

Put Your Faith In Konjola—Tens of Thousands Have To Their Everlasting Joy.

Experiences such as that of Mr. Harry T. Winchester, 31 Monument avenue, Charlestown, near Boston, are worth reading. He says: "An operation so weakened me that I could barely get about. I had no appetite and became lifeless and weak. Konjola restored my appetite, regulated my stomach and liver, and brought me the first real relief I had known in years."

Mr. Harry Winchester

And now Mrs. Annie Goodrich, 144 Broadway, Chelsea, near Boston, has this to say: "I had rheumatic fever and my limbs became so swollen that I was helpless. I suffered frightfully and could not turn in bed without aid. Konjola helped me from the first. Today I am up and about and free from pain and misery. The swelling has left my limbs. I cannot recommend Konjola enough."

Parent-Teachers' Play, "The Hottentot", Amuses Audiences During Two-Night Performance in High School Auditorium

Some very clever acting was witnessed last Friday and Saturday evenings in the Palmyra High School when the Parent-Teachers Association play, "The Hottentot," was presented.

The show was replete with sparkling humor from beginning to end, the audience being kept in a continuous gale of laughter.

The various entanglements and witticisms of Sam Harrington, enacted by Frank Mathews, Jr., supplied most of the comedy for the show. He was well supported in a comedy role by Swift, the household butler, which role was portrayed by Melvin Burr.

The feminine lead of Peggy Fairfax was taken by Ruth Lutz, and was well supported by the acting of the rich and charming young widow, Carol Chadwick, who in real life is Madeline Zeller. Muriel Burgman, as Mrs. Guilford, was the only other young lady appearing in the cast.

Robinson MacMullin, as Ollie Guilford; Chris Davis, as Larry Crawford, and Ted Hudson, as Alec Fairfax, all received well-merited applause in the enactment of their various roles. The other members of the cast were John A. Althouse, Jr., who very capably took the part of an efficient grown; George W. Rogers and George T. Long.

The atmosphere of the play was filled with the spirit of racing, steeplechasing and horseback riding and falling off. The plot of the story was built around the comeback of a well-known horseman after an accident resulting in serious injury and a lack of faith in horses. His never say die spirit finally enabled him to ride a notoriously "mean" horse to a steeplechase victory and the heart of the girl he loved.

Music between the acts was furnished by the Palmyra High School orchestra. Frank Mathews, Jr., also regarded the performance.

COURT OF HONOR HELD IN BEVERLY

Two Hundred Present; Marine Lieutenant Makes Address on "Aviation"

Over two hundred people heard Lt. Christian F. Schilt, of the U. S. Marine Corps, when he spoke at the Beverly Scout Court of Honor, Friday evening. Schilt, who holds the Congressional Medal for his heroic rescue of a group of comrades trapped by natives in a Nicaraguan skirmish, spoke most interestingly on "Aviation." By request he also mentioned a number of incidents bringing out conditions in Nicaragua.

Scout Winfield Erhardt received the annual award most coveted by Boy Scouts boys, the shield for being the best all-round Scout and for having rendered the greatest amount of service to the troop. This award was made by the Rev. Hollis Colwell, pastor of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, which sponsors Troop 5.

Eagle Scout Philip Street presided over a Tenderfoot Investiture ceremony assisted by members of Troop 5. This simple, but impressive candle-lighting ceremony, is intended to convey to the new candidate for Scout membership the ideals of Scouting. During the ceremony candidates take the Scout oath, promising to do their best for God and Country, to be always helpful and to keep themselves "physically strong, mentally awake and morally straight." Candidates Edwin Perkins and Louis Giacomozzi took this oath and were admitted to full membership.

Scoutmaster Brian B. Kane acted as chairman of the Court and three grades in awards were made.

Leel Wire presented second class awards to Scouts Bruce Green, George Rhawn, Jr., and Larry Wire.

Merit badge awards were made to James Vogdes to Roger Haines for pathfinding, pioneering, camping, first aid, personal and public health; relicraftship, leathercraft, woodcarving, bookbinding, cooking, to William Naylor, Jr., for lifesaving, swimming, public health; to George Rhawn, Jr., for wood carving, pathfinding, bookbinding; to Bruce Green for carpentry, to Carl Mookstra, for automobiling, personal health; to Boyd Hookstra, for cycling, public and personal health, firemanship; to Robert Levin, for personal and public health, woodworking, basketry; to Winfield Erhardt, for bookbinding, handicraft, woodworking, swimming, lifesaving, firemanship, cooking; to Oren Griffith, for personal health; to Walter Smith, for horsemanship, cycling, personal health, basketry; to Graham Farrington, for public health, marksmanship, scholarship, personal health, first aid, metal work, first aid to animals, electricity, wood carving, cooking, public health; to Malcolm Lewis, for metal working; to Emile Girard, for carpentry, scholarship, cooking, leathercraft, poultry keeping, first aid to animals, public health, personal health, woodcarving, conservation, camping, reptile study, firemanship, swimming and handicraft.

"The love of money is the root of all evil." When like the seeds breaking from the pod our soul breaks from our earthly body, will your storehouse on earth be a benefit to you? The Rich Man and Lazarus, the topic of the lesson for April 19, answers these things for you.

Come and join our discussion in the Presbyterian Sunday School. Everyone is welcome.

BOYS TRANSPLANT TREES IN CO. CAMP

Scouts Working on Repairs, Building Program for 1931 Season

A group of sixty Boy Scouts from Burlington, Beverly, Bordentown and Moorestown, spent Saturday afternoon transplanting trees at the County Boy Scout Camp, in Wrightstown. About a dozen leaders from the same towns supervised the work. The trees planted were for the purpose of forming a windbreak and screen on the north boundary of the camp property.

This was the first work done this year in preparing camp for the 1931 season. Nearly every week-end from now until June 20 groups will be working on some camp repairs or other part of the building program. Next Saturday the Eagle Scouts of the county under the leadership of William C. Coles, Jr., of Moorestown, president of the Eagle Association, will meet at camp to continue the building of an Eagle Scout cabin.

The new camp committee of which E. A. Mechling, of Moorestown, is chairman, has been very active and as a result of its efforts a great deal has been accomplished in getting necessary repairs made and in completing the detail work involved in securing a good staff of camp leaders, preparing menus, ordering food, etc.

James Walker, popular chef for the past camp seasons, has been signed up again for this year. Many additions in the way of program are being planned and the committee assures the boys of the county that this year's camp will surpass all others.

A brief meeting of the camp committee has been called for Tuesday evening, April 21, at 7:15 o'clock for the purpose of considering applications for the position of camp director and other staff members and other camp business.

Following the meeting of the camp committee the regular monthly meeting of the executive board will be held. This meeting is called for 8 o'clock. Both meetings will be held at the County Scout Headquarters, 352 High street, Burlington.

Engineers, Headed By H. J. Sherman, Are To Start Work Immediately On Tentative Plan For County Parks

A Technical Advisory Committee to assist the Burlington County Parks Council in formulating a tentative plan for a county parks system was formed at a meeting of Burlington County engineers, held Thursday evening of last week at Medford Lakes Lodge.

This committee consists of the various county and municipal engineers and other members of the engineering profession who will advise the council regarding park possibilities in Burlington County. The committee will also prepare base maps and gather other information to be used in drawing up a park plan.

The committee will begin at once the preparation of a base map of Burlington County upon which there will later be indicated the more desirable spots for recreational purposes that in the face of a constantly increasing population in Burlington County should be preserved for public recreational purposes. This map will be prepared by W. R. Conard, of Burlington, prominent consulting engineer and also a member of the Technical Advisory Committee of the Regional Planning Federation.

The following were elected as officers of the Technical Advisory Committee:

Chairman, Henry J. Sherman, Moorestown, of the firm of Sherman and Sleeper, engineer for a number of municipalities in Burlington and other counties, engineer for the N. J. State Board of Commerce and Navigation, and member of the comprehensive plans committee of the Regional Planning Federation.

Vice Chairman, James Logan, Mount Holly, engineer Hill Construction Company, former Burlington engineer, and member of the Technical Advisory Committee of the Regional Planning Federation.

Secretary, William J. Shelwick, Moorestown, engineer N. J. State Highway Department, and former assistant engineer of the Camden County Park Commission.

In indicating desirable park areas on the map the committee will seek the advice of citizens throughout the county. It is proposed that the park plan shall be tentative and merely suggestive of the more desirable recreational opportunities in the county.

The business session of the Technical Advisory Committee was preceded by a dinner served at the Medford Lakes Lodge. Several of the engineers were accompanied by their wives who made a tour of the lodge during the business session.

WOMEN TO HEAR ECONOMICS TALK

Famous Speaker to be Guest at Voters' League Luncheon

Miss Martha VanRensselaer, head of the department of Home Economics of Cornell University, will be the main speaker at the annual luncheon of the Moorestown League of Women Voters, to be held on Tuesday, May 5, at one o'clock, in the Community House.

Miss VanRensselaer is a nationally-known and deservedly popular speaker and Moorestown is fortunate to be able to secure her for the meeting.

By her many contributions to the field of Home Economics and for her original and constructive ideas about home management and about co-operation between the producer and the consumer, Miss VanRensselaer has become famous throughout the academic circles of the country.

She will speak on the subject of economy and efficiency in home marketing and buying and will offer many helpful and practical hints to every homemaker, housewife and mother, whose task it is to provide for the health and welfare of her family without too great a strain on the household budget.

A guest from the executive board of the New Jersey State League of Women Voters will also be present at the luncheon and bring her hearers interesting and important news of the work that is being done throughout New Jersey.

CITES ADVANTAGES OF ELECTRIC HEATED HOTBED

The use of electricity as a source of auxiliary heat in the hotbed is increasing in favor among nurserymen and vegetable gardners, according to W. C. Krueger, extension service engineer for the New Jersey Agricultural Experiment Station. This is because electricity has been found valuable in supplying heat to prevent losses of seedlings during periods of frost or sudden temperature drops. The most flexible and inexpensive heating system, in the experiences of several New Jersey growers, consists of bare resistance wire strung on a wooden frame under the propagating beds, either in the greenhouse or outdoor sash. Another popular method imbeds the insulated and protected heating cables directly in the soil. The cost of installation is determined by the type of heating element used and by its location.

COOPER GETS PEN GOV. LARSON USED TO SIGN NEW BILL

Fish and Game Commissioner B. W. Cooper, of Moorestown, is the proud owner of the pen that Governor Morgan F. Larson used last week to sign Ward Bill 54.

Mr. Cooper, long a supporter for this kind of legislation, was one of the most active workers in behalf of the bill and most certainly earned the pen, which he prizes very highly.

Commissioner Cooper, in explaining the benefits of the bill, which increases the hunting and fishing license fee to $3.00, says it will "Provide more fish and more places to fish, more game and more places to game; game sanctuaries and public hunting grounds, all state-owned."

Wallace — Woodward

The marriage of Miss Grace Anne Woodward, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Woodward, and C. Brooke Wallace, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Brooke Wallace, of East Central avenue, Moorestown, was quietly solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, on 670 Chester avenue, Moorestown, on Wednesday afternoon of last week at 2 o'clock.

The Rev. Melville E. Snyder, of Ocean Grove, an uncle of the bride, performed the ceremony. Mr. Woodward gave his daughter in marriage, and Mr. Wallace attended his son.

Only members of the immediate families were present at the wedding.

Following the wedding, the young couple left on a motor trip to Hot Springs, Va., and Pinehurst, N. C. On their return they will take up residence at 1009 Washington street, Riverton.

When Helmuth Voigt picked up a pheasant he had shot near Lyons, N. Y., a gold ring set with brilliants was found attached to the bird's right foot.

MOTORIST MUST REPORT ACCIDENT

Commissioner Hoffman to Prosecute For Disregard of Traffic Act

Widespread disregard of Article II of the State Traffic Act requiring motorists to report, on printed forms, all highway accidents involving injury, death, and property damage to an apparent extent of $25 or more, has resulted in a warning by Commissioner of Motor Vehicles Harold G. Hoffman that wholesale prosecutions are to occur within the near future.

Calling attention to the fact that the new accident report blanks are now available in 13,000 different places throughout the State including police stations, automobile license agencies, police courts, insurance offices and other places, Commissioner Hoffman declared that he will tolerate no further violations of this important feature of the law. He said that it has been common practice where two or more vehicles are involved in an accident for reports to be forthcoming from only one of the participants. A careful check is being made by the department, the Commissioner said, and where participants fail to report within forty-eight hours of the time of the accident, as the law prescribes, complaints are to follow. He added that the penalty for failure to report an accident within the time limit is a fine not exceeding $50 or imprisonment for five days or both.

The failure on the part of many motorists to report their accidents to the Department of Motor Vehicles in Trenton is due, Commissioner Hoffman believes, to a general misunderstanding of the law. In many municipalities motorists immediately report an accident to the local police department and there the matter ends insofar as they are concerned. Regardless of whether a report is made to a police department, it is necessary for every accident to be reported by all participants to the Department of Motor Vehicles, the Commissioner said.

"I have no doubt that the hesitancy on the part of many motorists to report an accident is due to the fear that the report might be used against them in a civil suit," said the Commissioner. Let me say that the law guards against any such happening and furthermore gives every protection to the motorists. The law reads; Such reports shall be without prejudice, shall be for the information of the department, and shall not be open to public inspection. The fact that such reports have been so made shall be admissible in evidence solely to prove a compliance with this section, but no such report or any part thereof or statement contained therein shall be admissible in evidence for any other purpose in any proceeding or action arising out of such accidents."

Miss Mary D. Van Vane

Miss Mary D. VanVane, 90 years old, died at the home of her niece, Mrs. James W. Hartshorne, near Vincentown, on Thursday, following a lengthy illness. She had been suffering from heart trouble.

Funeral services were held from her late residence on Monday afternoon, with the Rev. John R. Mason, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church, in Pearsonville, officiating. Interment was made in Asbury Cemetery.

Miss VanVane was formerly an old resident of Moorestown. She was the sister of the late William VanVane, who for years was the only house mover in Moorestown.

Potts — McGann

Miss Mary Florence McGann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick McGann, of Locust street, Moorestown, became the bride of John Thomas Potts, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Potts, of Linden street, on Wednesday morning of last week.

The ceremony was quietly performed in the rectory of the Church of Our Lady of Good Counsel at 8 o'clock by the Rev. Leo Dineen, of Far Hills, N. J., a former rector of the Moorestown church.

The bride appeared in a very attractive yellow chiffon gown. She wore a corsage of orchids and lilies of the valley.

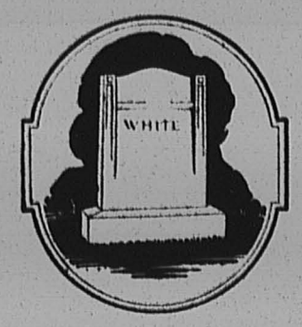

Mrs. J. E. Hopkins, of Moorestown attended her sister. Her gown was of pale blue chiffon and her corsage of gardenias.

John Fallon, also of Moorestown, acted as best man.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents, after which the young couple left on a wedding trip. They are touring the South and Cuba.

Upon their return, May 1, they will reside on West Third street.

THE CHEVROLET CAMPAIGN

The business men of Palmyra and Riverton should take definite action to conclude the "Chevrolet Campaign" which was started last fall.

The failure to award the Chevrolet at the time set has already done much to undermine the confidence of the public and unless something is done at once to remedy the situation, any future plans to stimulate business will suffer.

It is hard to place the blame for the situation. Some of the merchants went into the thing whole-heartedly and gave out tickets with every purchase, only to discover that other merchants who had signed up for the campaign were not doing likewise. This put most of the burden on the ones who were honestly living up to their contracts.

Some merchants took the stand that they should give tickets only to the customers who were sufficiently interested to ask for them. This was regarded by others as not living up to the spirit of the thing.

Whatever the trouble is, it is evident that there is need of definite leadership and organization among the business men of the two towns, in order that real cooperation may be developed.

Both the public and the individual business man would profit by honest and intelligent teamwork.

MORROW AT MEXICO AND WASHINGTON

George B. Evans, Moorestown attorney, in speaking of his recent trip to Mexico, said, "Dwight W. Morrow literally 'owns' Mexico. I did not meet a person who was not all praise for the fine work he did as ambassador. He is beloved by all Mexicans."

The attorney has nothing but commendation for the manner in which Mr. Morrow handled the Mexican situation. He says the wounds have been healed, and there is a most friendly attitude toward America prevailing in Mexico.

Last year at this time Mr. Morrow was figuring very prominently in the news. He was a candidate for the Republican nomination for United States Senator from this state. The papers were filled with news about Morrow and his campaign.

Since winning the seat in the upper house at Washington, the famous father-in-law of Lindbergh has not been heard of so often, although he has by no means dropped entirely out of the limelight.

A well known Washington correspondent recently wrote that Morrow proved himself a "perfect" new senator. The fact that he strictly adhered to the traditions of the Senate and spent his first session in that august body quietly observing, saying nothing, was largely responsible for the correspondent's complimentary remark.

Senator Morrow is "learning the ropes." He is serving his apprenticeship, as it were. But the silence will not last forever, and when Englewood's favorite son decides to make his presence felt in Washington, the country will begin to appreciate the service New Jersey rendered when it sent Morrow to the capital, just as it now realizes that the appointment of Morrow, then labeled "the Morgan man", as ambassador to Mexico, was one of the outstanding moves of the Coolidge administration.

"MAN ON STREET" WILL UNDERSTAND REGIONAL PLAN

The plan for the Philadelphia Tri-State District will be ready for the consideration of the people of this section in the fall, it has been announced.

In addition to the plan, it is said, there will be a 500-page book containing recommendations of the Regional Planning Federation.

The report, we are told, will describe important planning proposals to serve ultimately the needs of a population close to 7,000,000 some fifty years in the future.

The proposals, representing the composite thought and planning of more than 200 technicians in all parts of the region, with some suggestions by more than 300 civic leaders and citizens, are to include civic centers, a comprehensive highway system, studies of port and rail facilities, future water supply, chains of stream valley parks and parkways in the fast-growing suburbs. There will also be a plan of a giant forest park, 60 square miles in area, rising 1,000 feet above sea level within twenty-five miles of Philadelphia city hall.

Probably the best news found in the advance notice of the plan is that "the story of the Regional Plan will be told in pictures and words that the man on the street can understand."

"FAIR" VOTERS WANT SOME "FAIR PLAY"

The women of New Jersey are peeved and provoked.

Led by the queen of political disturbers, Lillian F. Feickert, president of the State Council of Republican Women, they have set up a howl. They want a wider range of influence in the party's activities, and they have threatened to go on a voters' strike if the men, whom they charge have been slighting them, do not lend an attentive ear to their troubles.

It is understood that in addition to seeking representation in high G. O. P. councils, the fair voters feel they are entitled to some jobs, and have some very definite ideas as to what kind of jobs should be alloted them.

The Newark Call is the authority for the statement that the women are demanding:

Two women for the State conference committee.

Two women on every County Board of Freeholders. It is conceded that it might take more than a year to bring about this "reform."

One or two women on every Board of Taxation.

At least two women motor vehicle agents in each county.

Well, the weaker sex has certainly voiced its demand in a voice that isn't so weak.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the River Shore Gas Company last Saturday the capital stock was increased from $140,000 to $168,000 to be paid in by June 15, to cover the extension to Riverside.

The installation of a double track between Burlington and Trenton is one of the possibilities of the very near future. Superintendent Abercrombie and other officials having gone over that portion of the Pennsylvania system with a view of arranging the preliminaries. It is safe to say that nothing else in the way of improvements could be introduced that would be more highly appreciated than the plan under consideration.

The difference between the Camden and Trnton Traction Company and the Pennsylvania Railroad Company regarding the crossing of the latter's tracks at Edgewater Park were aired before a Vice Chancellor in Trenton last week, in which the court was asked to define the mode and manner in which the tracks should be crossed at the point mentioned. It was developed that the Pennsylvania Company had previously agreed to contribute $6,000 toward the expense of a subway, but this idea was objected to by a number of abutting land owners and a protest was filed. The vice chancellor decided in favor of depressing the trolley tracks proposition and the final details were arranged Tuesday.

The SCRAP BOOK

THE WAKING YEAR
By Emily Dickinson

A lady red upon the hill
Her annual secret keeps;
A lady white within the field
In placid lily sleeps!

The tidy breezes with their brooms
Sweep vale, and hill and tree!
Prithee, my pretty housewives!
Who may expected be?

The neighbors do not yet suspect!
The woods exchange a smile,—
Orchard, and buttercup, and bird,
In such a little while!

And yet how still the landscape stands,
How nonchalant the wood,
As if the resurrection
Were nothing very odd!

POLITICAL NEWS FROM TRENTON

By CHARLES R. BACON

The session of state legislature now drawing to a close will be set down in the history of the state as one of real achievement and the Republican majority will have nothing to apologize for as the campaign for Governor gets into full swing. The record will afford ample scope for speakers in their appeals to the voters and the party leaders are sincere in the belief that the people will continue to display confidence in the administration of affairs.

There are numerous outstanding features of the session at this time, but the full record remains to be written after the conclusion of the session and Governor Larson has acted upon the bills laid upon his desk. He has already given approval to a number of progressive measures and is in close touch with all the workings of the law-makers at all times.

Among the chief progressive items of the session are:

Economic and effective changes in the set-up of the state government as provided in the series of bills presented by the Abell Commission.

Effective plans for aid to indigent and infirm aged persons through a system of old age pensions.

Appropriations, immediately available, of more than six millions of dollars for construction work to provide employment for hundreds of toilers.

Steps to further conserve the water supplies, so necessary to the lives of the people.

Resistance of efforts to cripple or weaken the law regulating the bill board nuisance.

Further advance in the development of the highway system, keeping New Jersey in the forefront of the states in the construction of roads.

Further plans for construction of bridges and tunnels to provide more and better means of transportation so necessary to the progress of the times.

Comprehensive adjustment of the laws regulating banking, throwing further safeguards around the people who depend upon the banking institutions.

Strengthening the laws governing building and loan associations, placing New Jersey far forward in the safety of these valuable institutions.

Splendid work for the betterment of motor vehicle regulations, assuring more safety for those who own and operate automobiles.

Actual betterments in the Civil Service System, removing that department of the government from partisan politics.

Creation of an Aviation Commission, intended to provide regulation and safeguards for this great step in human progress.

Fine work for the aid of crippled children, a work begun and carried on by a commission created by a previous legislature.

Better protection for farmers by increasing the allowance for cattle destroyed in the effort to stamp out tuberculosis.

Expansion of the form of protection to taxpayers in the system of municipal audits.

Better safeguards around the ballot; progressive measures for public education; restricting employment upon public works to citizens of the state and many other movements looking to the interests of the people as a whole, showing the intent of the Republicans majority to do everything within their power to carry out the trust and confidence imposed in them by the voters for a score of years.

TODAY and TOMORROW

PARACHUTES

The tragic death of Knute Rockne, the world's most famous football coach, in an airplane accident, brings sharply to the front the question of the safety of passengers in commercial air navigation.

The Federal laws requiring every passenger carrying ship or boat to provide life preservers for every passenger are rigidly enforced. There is just as sound reason for compulsory legislation requiring a parachute for every passenger on an interstate airplane. Doubtless the transportation companies will protest at the suggestion of carrying more weight. Commercial enterprises are prone to put profits ahead of human lives. But if they kill a few more Rockies, whose lives could have been saved by parachutes, as seems to be true in this case they will have neither passengers nor profits.

PROFITS

The Ford Motor Company's profits for 1930 were $55,000,000, and the company has $300,000,000 in cash resources. The General Motors Corporation earned a profit of $176,922,650 in 1930 and has cash resources of $364,000,000.

The General Motors Corporation paid $9,538,660 in dividends to stockholders, and over $10,000,000 to its employees in bonuses and special stock dividends. Ford paid a higher average scale of wages and no bonuses. All the stock in the Ford Company of America is owned by the Ford family. Mr. Ford bought out all the others so he would not have to consult a board of directors when he wants to make an experiment costing millions of dollars.

He was the pioneer in the industrial policy of steadily reducing the price of the product as the market broadened, and the success of General Motors has been largely based upon following the path first marked out by Henry Ford. He was the first to establish the eight hour day and the five day week in industry, and is now working on a plan for a ten month year for industrial workers, at the same annual rate of pay that they now earn in twelve months.

RADIO

Nearly thirty years ago I was with Marconi when he first successfully established wireless communication across the Atlantic. At that time, the only wave length used was 3,000 meters.

Ten years ago Marconi began to experiment with waves as short as 25 meters and found that they were remarkably free from interference "fading" and static, and could be directed almost as accurately as a beam of light. He predicted to me in 1927 that the great future development of radio communications would be with short waves.

Now the International Telegraph and Telephone Company announces that, with a transmitter which one can hold in his hand, they have established communication over long distances, with a wave length of only seven meters, which is entirely free from fading and static disturbances. This may prove to be the long heralded achievement which will make radio communication as accurate and reliable as communication by wire.

SMELL

Scientific research has developed the mechanical eye, the mechanical ear and the mechanical sensitiveness to touch. There are electrical and chemical devices which can discriminate between the tastes of different substances. The only one of the five senses which hasn't been reproduced in the laboratories is the sense of smell. Nobody has yet invented a mechanical nose.

Smelling involves a very delicate chemical operation. The nose detects minute traces of chemical substances whose presence cannot be discovered by any other means. There is no odor which cannot be reproduced chemically, but so far science has been baffled in every effort to detect odors by means of any kind of machine or chemical process.

That is not to say that the mechanical nose is an impossibility. As yet, there is no apparent necessity for such a device. Once let the necessity arise, and it is better than an even chance that some chemist or electrical engineer will find a way to do the job.

MICHELSON

"My last great experiment" is what Prof. Albert A. Michelson called his latest effort at accurate measurement of the speed of light, when he left his laboratory, ill at the age of 79. The world's greatest experimental scientist was past 70 when he devised the method of setting up revolving mirrors on top of two California mountains, 22 miles apart, and by means of very delicate electrical devices measured the time that it took a beam of light to travel from one mirror to the other. The figure which he arrived at, 186,213 miles a second, has been accepted by men of science everywhere.

Practically all that has been learned of the physical properties of matter in the past thirty years has been the result of Michelson's research and that of men who got their early training under him. A thousand years from now Michelson's name will be one of the two or three names of men of this era which will be remembered.

A meat truck was wrecked with such force near Ashland, Wis., that hams and sausages were hurled into nearby trees where they hung from the branches.

LOCAL CHURCH NEWS

EPWORTH METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Rev. Ira S. Pimm, B. D., Pastor

An art night will be held Sunday evening at 7.45. The striking and beautiful picture "The Lost Sheep," by Soord will be shown on the screen. It pictures a real shepherd out in the wilds clinging to the side of a dangerous crag while he reaches down after a lost sheep which has fallen to the edge of an abyss over which the eagles fly.

About the picture there has been arranged a setting of appropriate and moving music by our fine organ, the gifted singers of the choir, and the congregation. Miss Lydia Horton and Mrs. Elwood Johnson will sing a soprano and contralto duet, "Out of the Ivory Palaces", which speaks of the coming of the Good Shepherd into the world. Mr. Elwood Johnson will sing a bass solo, "I Met the Good Shepherd".

When the church lights have been dimmed and the picture is thrown on the screen, Mrs. Pimm will sing a soprano solo, "I Am the Good Shepherd", by Nevin. The picture will be interpreted by the pastor. The choir will sing "The Lord Brings Back His Own", Galbraith, with the baritone solo by D. G. Schwarz.

Mrs. Rachel Lord at the organ will play first, as a fitting approach to the service, Harris', "Shepherd's Piper" and as an offertory "Salut D'Amour", by Algar, and the services will close with the chimes playing, "Softly and Tenderly Jesus is Calling."

The Church School meets at 10 a. m. We are glad to note an increasing attendance. Our equipment is adequate to meet every need and our teachers are well trained for their task. The Wesleyan Men's Bible Class meets at the same hour. They are maintaining an average of over 70 in attendance.

At the morning service at 11.00, the pastor will preach the second sermon in the series of "The Deity of Jesus".

The Epworth Leaue devotional service will be held at 6.45 with Miss Edna Buckingham as the leader. All young folks are invited.

The Women's Guild will meet next Thursday evening. The Epworth League presents "Mother Mine" on Thursday evening. The tickets are 35c and 20c. This play is staged by the Burlington leaguers.

The mid-week service on Wednesday evening continues a study of the twelve Apostles. Last evening the subject was "The Man of Silence", next Wednesday "The Man of Temper." The Junior Epworth League meets on Wednesday afternoon at four o'clock under the direction of Mrs. Coward.

The Junior Probationer's Class meets on Friday at four and the Intermediate Probationers on Monday at seven.

EPISCOPAL

Rev. G. J. McCormack Rector.

The Easter story is the climax of a stirring drama, with an irresistible, emotional and aesthetic appeal. If you, dear reader, have caught its meaning, why not try to do some little thing, some definite thing, one thing, to show how much this message means to your life and to the building of the Kingdom of Christ.

Sixty seconds make a minute, tiny little things, and yet they form the months and years that speed on lightning wings. Most people want to do big things, and for that chance they wait, but years pile up, and soon they find, alas, it is too late.

To do a big thing all at once—the chance may never come; it is the little things that mount and make a great big sum.

In living out your life,
You'll find a little here and there—
To do these nobly with a smile,
Makes Life beyond compare.

The supper at Holy Trinity Church, Delair, was a great success. Nearly one hundred and sixty guests and the Palmyra delegation attended.

Wednesday, April 22, another of the delightful Guild luncheons will be held at the home of Mrs. Richard K. Hunter, of Leconey avenue.

The presentation of the children's lenten offering will take place in St. Paul's Church, Camden, Saturday, April 25. Refreshments will be served.

The vestry reported a splendid Easter offering, and a fine record attendance for the past month. We are grateful to the different societies who contributed to the various funds, and heartily thank them.

The missionary giving of the Episcopal Church increased by one hundred thousand dollars during 1930. It speaks volumes during such a time, indicating the keen loyalty of the members, and their appreciation of the benefits of Christianity.

Services second Sunday after Easter: 8:00 a. m. Holy Community; 10:00 a. m. Church School; 10.45 a. m. Morning Prayer and Sermon, "What Everyone Desires"; 8.00 p. m. Evensong and Sermon, "Mysteries of Human Life".

All great men and women have been mad on something. Newton was mad on mathematics, Darwin on biology, Paul on Christ.

Their madness was the highest form of sanity—they had found adequate centre of unity for their desires.

Sunday morning a special church service for the boys and girls of the Sunday School will be held.

Monday evening the regular monthly meeting of the Men's Brotherhood will be held.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"DOCTRINE OF ATONEMENT" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, April 19, 1931.

The Golden Text is: "He sent redemption unto his people: he hath commanded his covenant for ever: holy and reverend is his name" (Psalms 111:9).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "As ye have therefore received Christ Jesus the Lord, so walk ye in him: For in him dwelleth all the fulness of the Godhead bodily" (Colossians 2:6, 9).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The nature of Christianity is peaceful and blessed, but in order to enter into the kingdom, the anchor of hope must be cast beyond the veil of matter into the Shekinah into which Jesus has passed before us; and this advance beyond matter must come through the joys and triumphs of the righteous as well as through their sorrows and afflictions" (p. 40).

Third Week in April
Unless your roses have been planted by this time do so at once in many early blooms for the month of June. Plants which have been planted early get the benefit of spring rains, and their roots go deep helping them to grow and bloom during the hot summer. Remember this when watering, give them water enough so the roots strike deep in the soil.
Collins
When planting roses one naturally expects them to grow and give lots of blooms for the house. Plant them right and you will not fail. Make the holes deep and wide (18-24") use plenty of good garden soil rich in fertilizer and organic matter. Some gravel in the bottom of the hole will aid drainage. Remember to water them regularly and well, also to feed them while blooming.
We are showing in full bloom from our greenhouse, President Hoover, Talisman, and Rev. F. Page Roberts.

NEW MEN'S CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

William T. J. Purnell Chosen as President of Organization

Organization of the Men's Club of the YMCA was completed last Thursday evening at a meeting of more than sixty-five men in the "Y" building, Palmyra.

In the business meeting presided over by William McConnell, the officers of the club were elected. William T. J. Purnell was chosen president; Harry Davis, vice-president; Clinton B. Gardner, corresponding secretary; Floyd W. Spahr, financial secretary and C. P. Shaw, treasurer.

At the opening of the meeting, Nathan Lane, Jr., president of the Board of Directors, extended a few words of greeting to the men. Wilton E. Mount, executive secretary of the Palmyra-Riverton YMCA, told how the "Y" could help such a men's organization, and explained how the men could aid the "Y" in return.

This marks the first attempt to organize a men's club since the old organization, which previously met in the Episcopal Church, disbanded last fall. In addition to awakening interest among the men for their own organization, the meeting has also stirred up considerable enthusiasm among the citizens for the support of the YMCA. Persons of the community are being shown in a practical manner just what the "Y" can mean to others in the family besides the young lad who enjoys the recreational facilities which it provides.

The formation of the club comes after several weeks preparation by a committee of interested citizens. The talked of club was put into a state of activity by five men who have been prominent in community work before. This group, headed by Mr. McConnell, also included William T. J. Purnell and Clinton B. Gardner, now officers in the club; William H. Plank and Mayor George N. Wimer.

IOOF INSTALLS NEW OFFICERS

Second and Third Degrees to be Conferred Tomorrow Evening

The new officers of Cinnaminson Lodge I. O. O. F. were formally installed by District Deputy Grand Master R. L. Bailey last Friday evening.

This is the beginning of a new year for the lodge and it is hoped the attendance will steadily increase. The new officers urge all members who have not been attending regularly to attend the meeting tomorrow evening and thus start the new year right.

Monday evening the District Deputy and his staff visited the Merchantville Lodge and installed its officers. As usual, the Merchantville Lodge room was filled to capacity. After a most interesting meeting, refreshments were served.

At the meeting of the Palmyra Lodge tomorrow evening, the second and third degrees will be conferred. Degree Master Eula Roach suggests that all members of the degree team be on hand as early as possible, as he would like the team to be on the floor promptly at nine o'clock. All members are urged to be present.

Mrs. Mary S. Conrow

Mrs. Mary S. Conrow, widow of Clayton Conrow, died on Saturday evening at the home of her grandchildren, Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Roberts, on South Church street, Moorestown.

Funeral services were held from the Friends' Meeting House, Westfield, on Tuesday afternoon at 3.30 o'clock, with interment in Westfield Cemetery.

Mrs. Conrow was born in Moorestown in 1839, nearly 92 years ago. She was the daughter of Isaac and Sarah Collins, who were also residents in this vicinity all their lives.

She was a lifelong member of the Society of Friends and was active for many years in educational work, suffrage for women, temperance and local charities. Mrs. Conrow was also one of the founders of the Cinnaminson Home. Although her life was very full with family duties, she devoted much time in acts of kindness and charity, and she is mourned by a wide circle of friends.

Surviving her is one son, Nathan Conrow.

Trooper Arrested, But Only by Cupid

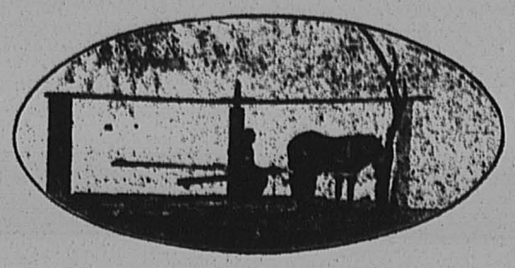

A New Jersey State Trooper was arrested last week by the ever watchful Dan Cupid.

Chester H. Riggio, at the present time attached to the Delanco barracks, is the latest of the State Police to be pinned by Cupid's darts.

His engagement to Miss Frances VanDyke Reid, of Manalapan, N. J., was announced at the home of his fiancee last week by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Reid.

Riggio is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene J. Riggio, of Passaic. Previous to his transfer to the Delanco State Police quarters, he served in Freehold.

PALMYRA NOTES

The Palmyra Ambulance Association held its regular monthly meeting and election of officers in the fire house on West Broad street Monday evening. The following officers were re-elected: George N. Wimer, president; Harry Saur, vice-president; and Mrs. George J. Spencer, secretary. Mrs. William C. Hoare was elected treasurer, to take the place of Mrs. C. W. Stockwell, who has been in ill health for the past few months. The association plans to hold a cake sale and tag day Saturday, May 2. A special meeting of the organization will be held before that time to make further plans for the event.

The Women's Guild of the Epworth M. E. Church will hold its regular meeting on Thursday evening, April 30, instead of this evening, owing to the fact that the Epworth League play, "Mother Mine," is to take place in the church tonight.

William Stone, Jr., of Vine street, who has been ill for the past several weeks, is reported to be much improved.

Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Evans, of Reading, Pa., were visitors of relatives in town on Sunday.

The Palmyra Branch of the Needlework Guild of America will hold a cake sale on George N. Wimer's porch, 15 East Broad street, tomorrow. Cakes, pies and nut breads will be on sale. The association is asking the hearty support of the townspeople in this undertaking and hopes everyone will either give or buy a cake or pie.

Mrs. H. R. West and children, Donald and Marjorie, of Morgan avenue, spent last week with Mr. and Mrs. Harold B. Lever, of Fairfield, Conn. Mr. and Mrs. Lever formerly resided in Palmyra.

COVENANT CHAPTER ELECTS OFFICERS

Mrs. Elizabeth Moffitt Is Incoming Matron, While W. Edward Ridgeway Is Elected Patron

Covenant Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, held its annual banquet and election of officers in the P. O. S. of A. hall, Palmyra, Tuesday evening.

About 140 persons enjoyed the delicious dinner, which was served by McAllister's, of Philadelphia. The ladies sang some well-known songs during the repast, and were accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Gladys Snyder.

Following the banquet, officers were elected to serve for the ensuing year: Mrs. Elizabeth Moffitt, matron; W. Edward Ridgeway, patron; Mrs. Bestrice Nace, assistant matron; Mrs. Elizabeth Hemingway, conductress; Mrs. Esther Buehrer, assistant conductress; Mrs. Julia Abdill, secretary; and Mrs. Clara Rycroft, treasurer.

After the election remarks were heard from Mrs. Sara Price, matron; Mrs. Alma Evans, Mrs. Elizabeth Moffitt, the incoming matron; and Mrs. Evelyn Weart.

COMBINED ALUMNI IN SPRING FROLIC

Palmyra, Moorestown and Burlington Grads Will Dance at Medford Club

For the first time in the history of the Alumni Associations of the three schools, the graduates of Palmyra, Moorestown and Burlington will hold a combined dance.

The event among the three schools comes in direct contrast to the bitter rivalry which exists in athletic events both among the undergraduates and the alumni. One of the purposes of the dance is to eliminate whatever ill-feeling which might have remained from student days.

The dance, to be known as the Spring Frolic, will not be held in any of the three towns whose alumni are attending. The site for the event has been selected as the spacious Log Cabin Lodge, at Medford Lakes.

The procuring of this dance floor will insure more than enough room for all those who attend. In previous affairs held by the "grads" of any of the two schools, those attending were under the handicap of having to dance on a crowded floor, no hall near here being large enough. This condition will be eliminated at the Frolic.

Committees from the three alumni associations have set May 2 as the date for the affair. They were greatly influenced in their selection of the date by the fact that a full moon will add to enjoyment of the dancers.

One of the best orchestras in this section has been engaged to furnish the music. Jimmy Hallipin and his Blue Moon Orchestra will supply the dance rythm for the alumni dancers.

The committee from the Palmyra association includes Helen Landers, Helen Trudel, Dewees Showell, Ted Hudson, Vernon Adams and Edna Hicks. Tickets for the event have been put on sale several weeks in advance and are selling for two dollars per couple.

CAMP WINDBREAK BUILT BY SCOUTS

Trees Transplanted by Boys at Wrightstown Camp Last Saturday

A group of some sixty Boy Scouts from Burlington, Beverly, Bordentown and Moorestown, spent Saturday afternoon transplanting trees at the County Boy Scout Camp in Wrightstown. About a dozen leaders supervized the work. The trees planted were for the purpose of forming a windbreak and screen on the north boundary of the camp property.

This was the first work done so far in preparing camp for the 1931 season. Nearly every week end from now until June 20th groups will be working on some camp repairs or other part of the building program. Next Saturday the Eagle Scouts of the county, under the leadership of William C. Coles, Jr., of Moorestown, president of the Eagle Association, will meet at camp to continue the building of an Eagle Scout Cabin.

The new Camp Committee, of which E. A. Mechling is chairman, has been very active and as a result of its efforts a great deal has been accomplished in getting necessary repairs made and in completing the detail work involved in securing a good staff of camp leaders, preparing menus, ordering food, etc.

James Walker, popular chef for the past camp seasons, has been signed up again for this year. Many additions in the way of program are being planned and the committee assure the boys of the county that this years camp will surpass all others.

A brief meeting of the Camp Committee has been called for next Tuesday evening at 7:15 for the purpose of considering applications for the position of Camp Director and other staff members and other camp business.

Following the meeting of the camp committee the regular monthly meeting of the Executive Board will be held. The meeting is called for eight o'clock. Both meetings will be held at the County Scout Headquarters, 352 High street, Burlington.

For America's Typical Boy and Dog

For America's typical boy and dog! The Chappel Kennel Foundation, Rockford, Illinois, in its search for the nation's typical youngster and canine pal, has appealed to The New Era for aid in finding them if they happen to be located in this section.

Two hundred and fifty dollars in cash and immortality by having their likenesses reproduced in oils on canvas by a famous artist await the chosen pair, which the foundation is anxious to preserve for the inspiration of future generations as a symbol of the high type of companionship represented by the boy-dog combination of our own day. The winning team will also be presented to many notables, will probably be starred on the radio and in the movies, and in general enjoy the plaudits of an admiring multitude.

Selection of the winning pair is to be left in the hands of a jury of prominent men and women which is now being completed. The choice is to be made from nominations which the public is invited to submit to the Foundation prior to Sept. 15, 1931. Photographs of contestants may be submitted with the nominations, but a final decision will not be made by the judges until they have seen and investigated the leading candidates.

To be eligible for nomination to the boy-and-dog contest, a youngster must not be under four or over fourteen years of age. The dog must be his own or that of a member of his immediate family. The age, size, color or breed of the dog are of secondary importance.

In inaugurating the boy-dog search, L. J. Brosemer, director of the foundation, stated:

"Character building in the young is one of the great problems of the times. The Foundation is convinced that a dog makes a boy a better man and is encouraging every home with a boy to keep a pure-bred dog. A recent study of a large penal institution revealed the fact that less than one percent of its inmates had a pet to play with in their formative years. Through the boy-dog contest, the Foundation hopes to catch the spirit of this comradeship and perpetuate it in some tangible form for this and future generations."

TRI-HY CLUB ACTIVITIES OF THE WEEK

The Tri-Hy Club held its weekly meeting in the Epworth M. E. Church, Palmyra, Thursday evening of last week.

After reading the minutes of the last meeting the girls discussed new business.

The girls decided to attend a swimming meet at the Moorestown Community House, Moorestown, some time this week. The club will hold a cake sale on Saturday, May 2. Each member will be responsible for three articles. This sale will include pies, candy, rolls and bread, as well as cakes. The sale will be held in front of the YMCA building on Garfield avenue.

The girls held a discussion about county and state meetings.

Miss Mildred Taylor, who was head of the Girl Reserves last year, and Miss Eleanor Moffitt, gave the young ladies a very pleasant surprise, by paying them a visit during the meeting.

Before the meeting adjourned, Miss Ermyn Jewell suggested that a game be played. The game played was "Coffee Pot", which was new to most of the girls and which was enjoyed immensely.

SHE SAID:-

"How beautifully that coat dyed and how lovely it looks after it was pressed." "Where did you have it done?"

"At McCombs, and his price is so reasonable."

MERRILL JOHNS NABBED AGAIN

Palmyra Man Arrested in Moorestown for Running "Number Racket"

Merrill Johnson, colored, 28 years old, of Market and Washington streets, Palmyra, was arrested Saturday morning about 10:30 o'clock at North Church street and Central avenue, Moorestown, by Chief of Police John H. Bradshaw and Officer Walter A. Errickson, charged with being a representative of a "number writing" organization.

Johnson's morning collections in Moorestown, amounting to $27.10, with 47 tickets, as well as forty packs of agents "number writing" books, were found in the automobile he was driving.

The man was arrested and fined for the same offense in Palmyra several months ago.

The machine Johnson drove is owned by Harry Wilson, colored, 342 York street, Burlington. A new Ford coach, it is equipped with special high speed gears and is said to be capable of doing at least 75 miles an hour. It appeared that car is equipped to make a good showing in the event of a chase.

As a ruse, Johnson carried in the car with him four small children and a girl in her early teens.

The bets, or "tickets," Chief Bradshaw reports, ranged from five cents to $1.70. Johnson refused to tell the police how the winning number was determined.

The Palmyra man was released under $300 bail for court action after a hearing before Recorder Joseph W. Johnston in Town Hall.

The week has been a busy one for Moorestown police. In addition to breaking up the local number "racket," they have made several other arrests.

EDITORIAL

"Perseverance is the Root of Success." That is a good quotation because its meaning is correct. No one has succeeded in doing anything without a little perserverance—persistency.

Many of the great musicians who were handicapped, such as being poverty stricken, or being deaf and blind, became famous only through their perseverance and persistency.

Before, it was mentioned that perseverance was the root of success, but it is also the route to success. One must follow the path of perseverance to become renowned. Of course, some people have succeeded without much perseverance, but they were praised at one time and soon forgotten.

If everyone took the route of perseverance, he would achieve the flower of success of which perseverance is the root.

TAKING A TRIP TO THE ZOO

Mrs. Williams' class took a trip to the zoo several weeks ago. From the account of their trip which was read in assembly it certainly was a worthwhile trip to them all. They enjoyed the bus ride and were fortunate enough to see the keepers feed the animals. The pigmy elephant, the giraffe, the lion and the peacocks seemed to make a great impression on them. In as much as the trip brought such interest to the classroom, it was a helpful project.

DESERT CROSSED BY 4-B

Four-B grade gave us an account of their trip across the desert as an assembly program. They illustrated it by a clever desert scene from a meuseum and by their own hand-made booklets. Some of the children were artistic and some, poetic in their illustrations.

TRAVELING BY PICTURES

The sixth-A grade had a picture show in their room this week. Many old views acquainted them with "Milk Maids" of Lithuania who carry the jugs of milk on long poles and serve it where they find a customer. The fairs of Western Russia were rather queer as men's hats seemed to be the main article for sale. When it comes to bells, one must wonder where they get sales for all of the ones shown in the pictures. The methods of plowing and transportation were very old fashioned in Esthonia and Latvia.

Czechoslavia is more modern in its farming and manufacturing.

This article was taken from the "News Pouch", the sixth grade paper.

DEBATES SUSTAIN INTEREST IN SEVEN-A

Last week members of the seven-A grade had their first debate. The first one was upon the subject, "Resolved that India Should Have Her Independence." The negative side, which consisted of Herbert Williams and Earl Kline, won. Their opponents were Richard Payne and John Lane.

The subject of the next debate, was "Which is Better for Passenger Transport, the Airplane or the Railroad Train?" Those who spoke in defense of the train were James Wilson and Benjamin Ray. Those speaking for the airplane, who were also the winners, were Harold Baker and Clifton Mayfield. They are planning another debate on the same subject.

Following this was an argument upon the subject of the first debate, "Resolved, That India Should Have Her Independence." The winner was Herbert Williams of the negative side, while John Lane of the affirmative side proved himself a fine sport and a good loser.

Doings of the Girl Scouts

By MARY S. RHOADES

The Girl Scouts of the Riverton Triop held their weekly meeting at the home of Mrs. Horace Ross, captain, Monday evening. The meetings will continue to be held at the home of Captain Ross, until further notice.

This week the girls discussed a trip to Camp Lingohocken. Committees were appointed to take charge of the event and the date for the trip was set for May 1, 2, and 3.

Adeline Ross was appointed chairman of the equipment committee; Virginia Beegle, chairman of the entertainment committee; and Mary Rhoades was made chairman of the program committee.

Other members of the program committee are: Thelma Cromwell, Betty Showell, Ruth Brown, and Rose Lu Goldman.

Several new tenderfeet will be enrolled at the next meeting of the troop.

"PALS"-"MERCHANTS" COMPETE TOMORROW

SOUTH JERSEY GIRLS' SWIM LEAGUE

	W.	L.	Pc.
Collingswood	2	1	108
Haddon Heights	2	0	.96
Gloucester	1	2	45½
Merchantville	0	2	42½
Palmyra	1	0	.31
Pitman	0	1	.28

Monday's Results
Collingswood, 46; Gloucester, 13.
This Week's Schedule
Tomorrow—Merchantville vs. Palmyra.

Palmyra dropped to sixth place in the Girls' Swim League following an overwhelming victory by Collingswood over Gloucester Monday afternoon.

Although Palmyra has not been defeated in its lone match this season, the league standings are computed by the total number of points gathered during the season. Palmyra and Pitman are the only teams who have but a single match, the remaining six teams having participated in two or more.

Collingswood, the leading team, earned 108 points in three meets, while Haddon Heights has won 96 points in two encounters. Palmyra has a chance to advance in the standing when it meets Merchantville High tomorrow afternoon in the Camden pool.

The "Merchants" have dropped both their contests, gathering but 45½ points in both, and Palmyra's strong, well-balanced team should have no trouble in overcoming the Camden county natators. A narrow win will assure them of fourth place, while one of more decisive nature will place them in third position, within striking distance of the leaders.

Claiming the private motor car ownership championship of Kansas, C. L. Kagey, of Beloit, recently purchased his sixtieth car.

PALMYRA MEETS SUCCESS IN FIRST GAME OF SEASON

Camden Catholic Falls Before Dimondmen in Baseball Game Friday

WINNING RUNS SCORED IN ELEVENTH INNING

Minor and Kelly Shine at Bat; 17 Errors Committed in Pitching Duel

Palmyra High School opened its 1931 baseball season Friday afternoon, when Camden Catholic met defeat at Dudley Grange, its own park. The final reading was 5-3.

The first diamond tussle of the season for both teams was a long drawn out affair, eleven innings being played before the "Pals" pushed over the winning markers.

After scoring a run in the first, third and seventh frames, the Palmyra lads narrowly averted defeat when they checked a Camden rally in the ninth. The Green and White team had tallied a single marker in the fourth inning and still trailed 3-1 when the last half of the ninth opened.

Konopka, first up, was safe on Terrell's miscue, and then stole second, later scoring on pinch hitter Lynch's single. Lynch stole second, went to third on a passed ball and scored the knotting marker when Cuneo successfully worked the squeeze play.

After a scoreless tenth inning the fireworks started in the second extra stanza. Bill Micucci reached first on Konopka's error, stole second, and crossed the plate on Minor's single. Art Micucci forced Minor but reached the keystone sack as Kelly died on an infield out. Wagner brought Micucci home with a single to right. The Camdenites went down with a struggle in their half, one of their men succeeding in reaching third where he was stranded.

The game somewhat resembled a "comedy of errors", no less than 17 miscues being charged up to the two teams. The Camden team was the more faulty, accounting for ten, while the remaining seven were made by the Pals.

Both pitchers were in excellent form, Micucci limiting the Catholics to five scattered singles, while Elmer Yost was holding the Palmyra nine to eight bingles, seven of which were singles. The only extra base blow of the tilt was made by Howard Davidson, Palmyra shortstop, who cracked out a double for his only hit of the game.

The Palmyra finger also showed his superiority in control, passing but three to Yost's six. The strikeout honors were almost even, ten of the Camden men fanning while eight of the Palmyra team were whiffing.

RIVERTON ENTERS COUNTY LEAGUE

At the meeting of the Burlington County Baseball League held at the county court house, Mount Holly on Tuesday night, Riverton was granted a franchise to complete an eight team circuit and the season will open on Saturday, May 2.

In addition to Riverton, R. D. Wood, of Florence, 1930 champions; Medford, Delanco, Moorestown, Burlington, Riverside and Vincentown will compete for the county crown this season. Mount Holly, who was expected to apply for a franchise was not represented. All teams posted $100 forfeit money to show their good faith.

A split season will again be in force with each team playing 14 games in each half. The winner of the first half title will play the second half titleholder in the usual three-game series to decide the league champs.

It was also decided after a lengthy discussion that each club would be allowed three out-of-county players and no restriction on the number of county players signed by each team.

A special session will be held next Tuesday evening at the court house for the final adoption of the season's schedule. The league will hold a regular monthly meeting on the last Tuesday of each month.

NEW CEMETERY AT JESSUP'S FARM

Leonard R. Baker, Palmyra is Vice-President of Promoting Company

The purchase of a 100-acre tract along the Burlington pike in Cinnaminson township on which will be developed South Jersey's first memorial park cemetery was completed this week with the transfer of the land title at Mt. Holly. The sum of $500,000 will be spent on the new project.

The real estate transfer of the tract, which was known as the Charles Jessup farm, is recorded in the Mount Holly recorder's office. The site is three miles north of the point where the Palmyra bridge road crosses the Burlington pike. It was purchased by the Lakeview Memorial Park, Inc.

Lakeview Memorial Park, which is accessible from northeast Philadelphia, Camden, and all South Jersey communities, will be a park of floral beauty and landscape splendor where the resting places of the dead are marked only by plain bronze plaques. It is the first major operation of its kind in this section.

When consulted about the project, Francis B. Wallen, who is president of the Lakeview Memorial Park, and is a former president of the Camden Chamber of Commerce, stated that the plan included the erection of a beautiful chapel and the transformation of a stream running through the property into beautiful lakes, providing a background of scenic beauty that is to characterize the memorial park. The chapel will resemble in simplicity the old English type of architecture.

Sections of the memorial park will be devoted exclusively to varied organizations such as a Masonic district, American Legion district, etc.

The movement was started on the West coast and has since spread to cities throughout the country, so that at the present time over three hundred of such parks have been constructed. Two memorial parks are under construction local to Philadelphia.

The organization responsible for this great development is as follows: president, Francis B. Wallen, former president of the Camden County Chamber of Commerce; vice-president, Leonard R. Baker, vice president of the Baker-Flick Co.; secretary and treasurer, Loyal D. Odhner, executive secretary of the Camden County Chamber of Commerce; Conrad Albrecht, of the Albrecht Nurseries, Narbeth, Pa.; Clinton L. Baldo, president of the New York Shipbuilding Co.; William H. Dunn, president of the American Products Co., Phila.; E. S. Edmondson, president of the E. C. Edmondson Advertising Co., Phila.; LeRoy A. Goodwin, president of the Hotel Walt Whitman, Camden; City Commissioner Frank B. Hanna; M. Y. Neely, president of the M. Y. Neely, Inc., construction engineers, Bustleton, Phila.; Fletcher W. Stiles, attorney; Allen Sutherland, Presbyterian Board of Publication, Phila.; Roy A. Ramey; Leon C. Guest, investment banker, Camden; Waddington & Matthews, counsel, and Smith & Branin, architects-civil-landscape engineers, Mt. Holly, N. J.

Plans for the work as announced by Wallen will be gotten under way immediately and within a few weeks the Roy A. Ramey organization with offices at present at 315 Market street, Camden, will be in charge of the sale of the lots in this memorial park.

All funds from the sale of the lots in the project will be placed in trust with one of the prominent trust companies of this community. An endowment fund will also be placed in trust to perpetuate the up-keep of the burial plots.

Financing of the project is in the hands of Guest & Company, a Camden investment brokerage house.

Both lots and stock will be sold on a deferred payment plan.

Before endrosing the proposed Memorial Park, and accepting the presidency of the local company, Wallen and Odhner made a tour of the West where this particular type of a burial park has been established in a number of the larger cities. They were so much impressed with the beauty of the plan that they immediately formed the Lakeview company and authorized the project to proceed here.

MARY B. VAN VANE

Thursday, April 9th, marked the passing of Miss Mary B. Van Vane at the home of her niece, Mrs. James B. Hartshorn, near Mt. Holly.

Miss Van Vane was born January 31st, 1841; the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Van Vane. For the greater part of her life she was associated with the Asbury M. E. Church, and in the capacity of a steward of that little congregation, endeared herself to the community.

Miss Van Vane dedicated her life to the service of others. Her saintly life and forgetfulness of self in times of stress, linked with her devotion to the church are but exemplifications of a Christian character that will long be remembered and revered.

Her remains were interned on Monday, April 13th, in the family burial plot close beside the little church she had so loved and served through life.

The decision of her family to hold a private interment, alone prevented the folks of the community from expressing their final respects.

THOMAS L. CARROLL

Thomas L. Carroll, nine months old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Carroll, of 323 Leconey avenue, Palmyra, died in the Burlington County Hospital, Mount Holly, Tuesday morning. Funeral services will be held this afternoon at two o'clock from the late residence with the Rev. Harold L. Creager officiating. Interment will be made in Arlington Cemetery under the direction of Frank A. Snover.

For stealing $4.95 from a nickle and dime bank of his 3-year old niece, Nicholas Solombino of White Plains, N. Y., was sentenced to a year in the penitentiary and fined $500.

The awarding of the contract was deferred until an adjourned meeting the following Monday night, at which time the members of council failed to reach an unanimous agreement, and a further adjournment was made until Tuesday evening of next week, April 21, at 7:30. Meanwhile Mr. Carroll of the Bituminous Service Company, will be asked to fill out a questionnaire bearing on his equipment and other matters pertaining to a proper execution of the work in case he is awarded the contract.

Welfare Provides Workmen

Ross E. Mattis, president of the Welfare Association, of Riverton, Palmyra, Cinnaminson Township, explained to council a new method of operation recently adopted by the association which is working out very satisfactorily. Instead of giving food, fuel and clothing to needy families the association provides a sufficient number of hours work each week for the men of the family to insure an income which will supply these necessities.

The work is done on roads, the association supplying the men and the municipalities furnishing a superintendent and a truck. Work has already been done in Palmyra Borough and Cinnaminson Township.

The rate paid is 25c an hour, which is less than the average paid by contractors and other employers of such labor. The purpose of this, Mr. Mattis explained, is to encourage the men to find for themselves better paying positions as rapidly as possible. Many of them, he said, have already done so, but those who have not found employment still have this means through the Welfare Association of earning their daily bread.

Mr. Mattis offered the services of these men to the borough of Riverton, and it was thought by members of council that it would be a good opportunity to get some cleaning up done and improvements made at Memorial Park which could not be taken care of in the budget of the borough property committee. The offer made by Mr. Mattis was referred to the borough property committee and highway committee for action.

Other Welfare Work

In explaining further the work being done for the children in families of the unemployed, Mr. Mattis said the Cinnaminson public school was giving hot breakfasts and lunches at the expense of the board of education, and that the Welfare Association was financing hot lunches in the Palmyra schools.

The application of James (Terry) MacDonald to operate a refreshment stand at Memorial Park was referred to the property committee with power to act. The proposition is that in exchange for this privilege Mr. MacDonald will serve as janitor to the grandstand and keep the park tidied up generally.

On motion of Mr. Woolman, chairman of the finance committee, the Mayor and clerk were authorized to borrow $5,000 on a tax anticipation note to meet current expenses.

William Worth, representing the Public Service Co-ordinated Transport, appeared before council with an agreement to substitute buses for trolleys between Camden and Trenton, and a resolution was adopted authorizing an execution of the contract. Mr. Worth said that the buses would operate on the same schedule as the present trolley system with additional buses in rush periods, on holidays, etc.

To Provide Parking Space

William H. Albertson, chairman of the highway committee, reported the streets to be in good condition and submitted a plan for cutting back the sidewalk on Main street at Keating's corner in order to supply parking space for shoppers in that district, and also on Broad street at this corner to give more room for traffic. He said that the Freeholders and the electric light company would take care of their part of the work and the only cost to Riverton would be for a new curb.

A motion by Mr. DeLaney was passed authorizing the highway committee to have the borough engineers prepare a plan of the proposed improvement.

Councilmen Albertson, Woolman and Coale were appointed on a committee to confer with the owners of the property to see if it would be possible to have the cut-back extended several feet farther in the direction of Cinnaminson street.

Councilman Hahn suggested that the installation of a boulevard street light at the corner be considered while this improvement is being made, and was instructed to ascertain what the cost would be.

Mr. Woolman said that he would like to see permanent paving of the streets seriously considered, if only one block at a time, but Mr. DeLaney called attention to the fact that there was a lot of curbing to be done before permanent streets could be laid.

Police Report

The police department submitted a detailed report of the activities of the department, covering six typewritten pages.

Some of the high lights were fines of $50 each imposed on two drivers operating cars without a license, one arrest for reckless driving, air gun taken from boy who was shooting birds on the street, one troublesome dog registered and muzzled on request of police department to which complaint had been made.

Several reports of strangers seen prowling about yards were investigated, two stolen bicycles were found and returned to owner.

A number of men found on the streets late at night were stopped and questioned. They all accounted for themselves satisfactorily except one, John L. DeLange, who was arrested and sent to Mount Holly, where it was found that he was an old offender, with a long jail record.

At the conclusion of the police report, Mayor Rogers said he was glad to see that the new officer was on the job, picking up undesirables and suspicious characters.

The request of the Knights of Columbus for use of Memorial Park for a baseball game one night a week was referred to the borough property committee.

Will Stop Dumping in Park

Mr. Coate brought up the matter of the borough dump at Memorial Park. He said that he had been in touch with Mr. Eisele of Dreer's Nurseries, which has a dump immediately adjoining the one belonging to the borough. Mr. Eisele was in favor of removing this eye-sore and said he would see whether or not it was possible for the Dreer company to find another place where it could dispose of its dumpings.

Mr. Coale said that Robert H. Cleland has a dump where street sweepings and ashes can be disposed of for several years. He offered a resolution that the police department take necessary steps to prevent individuals from dumping on borough property, effective, April 20 under penalty of $25 fine. The resolution was passed.

Permission was granted to the Riverton Board of Education to use the park for Field Day exercises on May 21, and if rainy on the 22nd.

Taxes Remitted

C. Kenneth Davis, borough collector, submitted a delinquent personal tax list amounting to $323.12, giving in each case the reason why the taxes could not be collected, and asked that they be remitted as required by law in order to get them off his books. A resolution was passed to this effect.

On recommendation of Mr. Woolman a resolution was passed directing the collector not to publish delinquent personal taxes this year.

Mr. Albertson called attention to the railroad ties that had been placed along the tracks on Broad street opposite streets leading to the railroad but not crossing them. He said that they were most unsightly and should be removed.

The Mayor appointed H. I. Wright as special officer and the appointment was confirmed by council.

LEGION ROUND-UP ENDS SATURDAY

Special Ceremonies Will Be Held at Trenton As Final Reports Are Received

The State House at Trenton will resemble a busy bee hive Saturday afternoon, due to an extensive program of activities sponsored by the American Legion. The State executive committee will meet at 2:30 o'clock in court room, part two, to receive reports of committees and act on several matters of importance. State Commander Theodore R. Crichton, of Hackensack, will preside.

The afternoon will bring to a close the membership roundup, which opened on April 1. The state membership committee, under the direction of W. Rex McCrosson of Palmyra, will set up a temporary office in the corridor of the capitol building to receive the final returns of membership cards from special couriers of the 21 counties. Following the tabulation of cards, the results of the roundup will be reported to the state executive committee. The officials will then be photographed on the steps of the building, concluding the ceremonies.

Reports received at Legion headquarters indicate that two of the couriers will travel to Trenton by airplane. Others by automobile and motorcycle. In addition, a large number of Legionnaires from several counties will be present to witness the arrival of couriers and attend the executive meeting.

After Steve Taticko, of Pittsburgh, hit himself on the head with a hatchet to cure the headache, 15 stitches were required to close the gash in his scalp.

SCOUTS PLANNING TO REDUCE DEBT

Tentative Arrangements Made to Present Play in Near Future

Wednesday evening, April 8th, at the home of William Shoemaker, Jr., was held the first of a series of joint meetings of the troop committeemen, the officers, and the non-commissioned officers of Troop 50, Boy Scouts of America. There was 100% attendance of the troop committee and officers of the troop. There were eleven non-commissioned officers present. Gotham Sargent, the Deputy Scout Commissioner for Riverton was also present.

The meeting was called to order by the chairman of the troop committee, Rev. Arthur S. Lewis. He then turned the meeting over to the Scoutmaster, Alexander Garwood.

The first matter discussed was the ever present one regarding the finances of the troop. William Shoemaker, Jr., of the troop committee in charge of the finances, reported that after this and all other bills were paid, the balance in the troop treasury was in the neighborhood of $25. Plans were then discussed as to the next benefit performance to raise money to pay off the next installment of the note due in July.

Mr. Garwood reported that he could obtain the services of the Drexel Hill Players, a talented amateur, theatrical company who would come to Riverton to give a most interesting comedy, "The Mollusc." It was decided (subject to the agreement of the Drexel Hill Players) to hold this performance in the Parish House of Christ Church, Riverton, on Friday evening, May 15th.

A lively discussion was held as to the charge for tickets. It was decided to maintain the same price that was charged for the Harmonica Band concert, viz., fifty cents.

"The Mollusc" is a very interesting and amusing play and the Drexel Hill Players are all thoroughly accomplished actors. Many Rivertonians failed to attend the concert of the Philadelphia Harmonica Band because they did not believe it was worth while. It is to be hoped that these people now realize that an entertainment under the auspices of the Riverton Scouts is worth attending. The Scouts promise "The Mollusc" will be fully as entertaining as was the Harmonica Band concert which was so much enjoyed by its audience.

It was decided that the town will be mapped off into sections and an intensive house-to-house canvass will be made by the Scouts to sell tickets for this play.

After disposing of the entertainment as far as could be arranged at this meeting, Mr. Garwood made a number of announcements regarding the progress of the troop. Two extra keys to the troop meeting room are being made and will be turned over to the Platoon leaders of the Blue and Grey Platoons respectively. Platoon meetings will be held under the command of the Platoon leaders, the Blue Platoon meeting on Tuesday afternoon from 4 to 5:30 and the Grey Platoon meeting on Thursday afternoon at the same hours. It is also announced that the small room at the north end of the Scout headquarters has been set aside as a non-commissioned officers clubroom. Only patrol leaders, senior patrol leaders and junior assistant Scoutmasters are entitled to use this room and they may fit it up in any way which they may desire.

A lively discussion was held regarding the formation of a Parents Association within the troop. Upon the proposal of Mr. William Shoemaker, Jr., the Scoutmaster was authorized to send a letter to the parents asking for their co-operation in forming such an association.

Mr. Cook, the assistant Scoutmaster in charge of radio, reported that the progress is rapid in this phase of Scout work.

The final piece of business before the meeting was the discussion of Sea-Scouting. Assistant Scoutmaster Henry Seabrook, Jr., has repeatedly made the suggestion to the Scoutmaster that a Sea-Scout patrol be started in the troop for the benefit of the older boys. This phase of Scouting has always been somewhat against the general policy of the troop and no action has heretofore been taken upon it. The whole matter was therefore brought up at this meeting for a hearing. After much discussion it was decided that the troop finances would not permit the heavy expense incident to Sea-Scouting at the present time. It was also decided that Sea-Scouting, if attempted, should be gone into very cautiously since many land-troops have been more or less disrupted by casually going into the Sea-Scout program without studying it in all its factors. Instead of forming an active Sea-Scout patrol, it was decided that the same result could be obtained by encouraging the older members of the troop to first become proficient in the various merit badge tests which are prescribed in the land-Scout program but which pertain to the water.

This meeting did a great deal to cement the relationship between the officers, the troop committeemen and the Scouts.

The progress of the Rievrton troop in the past few months has been most remarkable. The troop has taken on many new members as fast as they could be assimilated, and is now practically full. The troop meeting room is completed insofar as a room of this kind can ever be said to be complete. Naturally the boys will continue to improve and decorate the room for an indefinite length of time.

There is one thing which is needed very badly and which it is hoped some friend of the troop will supply. This is a piece of rug or carpet large enough to cover the ceremonial platform. The troop also needs two more officers; one to take charge of games and recreation in the troop meetings and another who can act as Hike Master for out-door activity. It is hoped that friends of the troop will assist in finding these officers.

MEMORY TEASER STICKS THEM ALL

Washington Camp NO. 23 P. O. S. of A. presented the school with a large American flag to be flown from the new staff, the presentation being made by Rev. Charles H. Elder, Chaplain of the state Camp of New Jersey.

Thomas J. Prickett accepted the flag on behalf of the Board of Education.

The many friends of Mr. Cunningham will be interested in the following article which was printed in the "Telephone News" published by the Bell Telephone Company when "Jim" retired from active service in 1929:

"Sure!" said Jim Cunningham "we can do it!"

And these words, hurled countless times into the face of diverse problems during the more than thirty-eight years of telephone service of an extraordinary cableman, never represented a boast; they stood for a positive conviction that the seemingly impossible job could be done—and be done right!

James Cunningham, Cable Engineer, Philadelphia Area, retired on August 1. His was a service that began in March, 1891, when, among other things, it was all in the day's work to push a loaded cart from 19th to 63rd streets—a good five miles—do a job of rodding and push it back again.

"But we had to do it," he explains. "If you asked a fellow to do that nowadays he'd shoot you. And he'd be right, too."

It was a member of a pole-piece gang that Cunningham began his telephone career. He was a laborer, but within three months he became foreman of his gang. Successively he held the titles of Chief Foreman, General Foreman, Supervisor of Construction, Superintendent of Construction, Division Superintendent of Construction and Cable Engineer.

Those early years of continuous outdoor activity have left their mark on Jim's big frame. He is not as active as once he was, yet the impression of physical power and of driving energy remain. He stands over the six-foot mark, tall and straight as a ramrod.

Listening to Cunningham recall and shape into words the varied scenes that leap to his recollection, one is convinced his motto was "We can do anything!" He brought to bear on his job a Yankee ingenuity and inventiveness—he was born "Down East," in Lancaster, New Hampshire—that enabled him to invent and introduce numbers of mechanical facilities and methods of procedure which today are in daily use. Take one example which occurred about twenty years ago.

There was to be a sixteen pair duplex submarine cable laid under Chesapeake Bay between Loves Point, below Annapolis, and Sandy Point. That now is the territory of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company, but then it was the Pennsylvania Bell's and Cunningham was in charge of the cable—five miles of it, four fortyton reels!

Somebody asked, "Jim, can we put loading pots in that cable under the bay?"

Nobody ever had done it before. The feeling then was it couldn't be done. But Cunningham's answer was "Sure, we can do it!" So he went out and put loading pots in the cable.

That the Chesapeake cable—was the first loaded submarine cable in the world!

Then there is the story about the Knox truck. It is illustrative of his ready answer for nearly every practical problem.

Two of his men had taken the Knox truck. This was in 1906 and Cunningham fondly remembers the machine as the first unit of the company's automotive equipment. They were answering a trouble call way out in the southwest portion of West Philadelphia. The hour was well past midnight when, about half way out, the truck slowed up and stopped. After a quick glance it was found the trouble centered in a series of discs set in the fact of the friction clutch. They were about an inch in diameter, composed of a fiber material, and it seemed they were worn completely away so the clutch wouldn't work.

"What will we do, Jim?" the anxious troubleshooters demanded when they telephoned him.

It didn't take Cunningham long to find an answer. "Go find a broomstick, cut it up in thin slices and fix those things," he ordered. Not long afterward the trusty old Knox was tooling its way down the road toward the job!

And there was the second truck that the company owned. It came into service after the husky old Knox had shaken tons and tons of work off its back and had practically run itself into the ground.

Jim built that second truck. "Got the engine off the meadows this side of Atlantic City," he related matter-of-factly. "Somebody had tossed it away but it looked as though there was some life left in it so we went to work and fixed her up, using parts of the Knox."

His judgment was correct. There was a great deal of work in the truck and it made a big contribution to construction activity until it, too, "died with its boots on."

Always ready to seize an idea wherever it lurked, improve on it if possible, use it if good, and instantly reject it if bad, Cunningham was forever trying out new things. The men who were his associates in cable construction declare that never did he condemn an idea outright. "Try it out and let me know how it works," he would tell them.

His propensity for drawing ideas from unexpected places led him to contribute substantially to what now is the pole hole digging machine, the augur like earth borer that bites six-foot holes out of the ground into which poles are dropped by a derrick. This derrick was his development.

"There was a man named Smith who lived near me," as Cunningham tells the story. "He had a bone-grinding machine. One night out in his shed he was working away grinding bones and making an infernal racket.

"I stepped down to see what the noise was all about. He had a machine equipped with a wide flanged bit which ripped through the material fastened in the apparatus. The bit bore down on the bone and ground it away.

"Almost at once the idea occurred to me that here was the principle of a digger of holes for telephone poles. I went to a blacksmith named Burchell and got him to fix me up a huge borer with a twenty-inch diameter. He mounted this on a shaft of one and one-half inches. Then we built some rigging for the thing and powered it with a seven horse-power gas engine.

"The whole thing was mounted on one of the old goose-necked wagons and we trundled it up to Bustleton for the tryout. I didn't want to try digging holes with the contraption in a place where here were lots of people, so we found a deserted place and went to work.

"The thing worked fine until it struck a rock. Then the shaft buckled and doubled up like a watch-spring. We were disappointed but got Burchell to make a two and one-half inch shaft for the next try. That worked to perfection."

It was from this early machine that the present-day hole-digger developed. With it, mounted first on the wagon, Cunningham averaged four poles a day, using only two men and two horses. He set poles up to fifty feet in height in Philadelphia.

There are a number of "firsts" in construction work which must be credited to Cunningham. In addition to his work with the first loading pots to be spliced into any submarine cable and with the hole-digger, he introduced, we believe, the first winch truck, mounting a winch on a three-ton truck and with it, for the first time, pulled cable by power; by developing a cast iron sweep bend he eliminated the problem of cable damage from frozen sweepibends; the present air-testing machine for cables is an outgrowth of an idea he picked up in Chicago while watching workmen drying out cable with calcium chloride—dried air; he introduced the first automotive trailers—the first one was made with carriage wheels and when the bearings burnt out because of the speed, he produced some ball-bearings that worked; he was responsible for developing the first Central Locating Bureau, a plan which effected great saving of time and money; and he inaugurated the first Plant Training School.

"In those days of twenty, twenty-five and thirty years ago, the Plant construction job was a different one" Cunningham declared.

"We had few specifications to follow. Our job was to work out our own salvation. We believed we were the servants of the public and we simply had to get things done as best we could.

"If they told us 'That can't be done' that was the signal for us to go out and do the job!"

When a policeman of St. Louis found five men exchanging money with the passing of each motor car, he learned that they were gambling on the license plate numbers and placed them under arrest.

THE NEW ERA

Vol. 43. No. 16. RIVERTON, NEW JERSEY, THURSDAY, APRIL 23, 1931 PRICE, FIVE CENTS

MAN KILLED WHEN AUTO TURNS OVER

Woman Driver is Pronounced Drunk and Held for Manslaughter

Another tragedy was added to the ever-growing list of deaths resulting from drunken driving when an intoxicated woman lost control of her car which turned over on the railroad track and killed her male companion at 5.15 a. m. last Saturday. The accident occurred on Broad street, Riverton, near Thomas avenue.

Officer Gootee was called and found a Chevrolet roadster on the rails of the westbound railroad tracks, with a dead man lying a few few from the car. The woman was crying hysterically.

The man's face had been severed from chin to forehead and both jugular veins cut. The woman had suffered only slight cuts and bruises.

The owner and driver of the car was Mrs. Frances Panzia, aged 27, South Peach street, Philadelphia. Her companion was Leo J. Goodwin, single aged 30, a neighbor living at 1233 South Peach street.

According to reports, the pair had spent the night at various roadhouses and were supposed to be on their way home.

Jerome J. Zisak, Jr., Riverton funeral director, was called to take charge of the body and Dr. Harry L. Rogers was called to examine the driver of the car, who he pronounced intoxicated.

Coroner Belton stated that death was instantaneous and ordered the body removed.

Officer Gootee arrested Mrs. Panzia and at a hearing before Police Recorder Cecil A. Bowers, she was charged with drunken driving, for which she was fined $200 and $21 costs. She was also held on a charge of manslaughter under $1,000 bail, and being unable to pay the fine or furnish bail, Officer Gootee took her to the county jail at Mount Holly.

Saturday night Officer Gootee arrested Edgar Sutherland for reckless driving and when tried before Police Recorder Cecil A. Bowers was fined $10.00 and $1.00 costs.

Sunday night, Samuel J. Kaplin of Philadelphia, was arrested by Officer Robinson on a charge of reckless driving. He was dismissed with a reprimand.

Also Edward Bogart of Elmyra, N. Y., was arrested by Robinson for driving with one light and failing to stop on the whistle. He was fined $10.00 and $1.00 costs.

SUMMER HOMES FOR N. Y. KIDDIES

Herald-Tribune, New York, Has Selected Committee to Work in Riverton

"Riverton is another friendly town, says Mrs. Zella Drake Harper, who has for the past six weeks been talking to Women's clubs in South Jersey in reference to "fresh airs."

"Fresh Airs" means the children from underprivileged homes of New York who are given an opportunity to spend two weeks or more in some country home.

Mrs. Drake has formed the following committee for this work in Riverton: president, Mrs. Frederick Blair; vice-president, Mrs. E. K. Merrill; secretary, Mrs. Robert C. Ayres, Mrs. J. Douglas Clark, Mrs. Joseph Thomas, Mrs. H. M. Morris, Mrs. Clifton Mayfield and Mrs. Henry Lippincott.

The Herald-Tribune, of New York, pays all transportation costs of the children. They send a representative from New York with the children to the town where they are going and see that the children are delivered directly into the hands of the committee who see that they are taken to the proper homes in their town.

Last summer the Tribune sent out 18,000 children, who gained a total of 35,000 pounds.

Among the other "friendly towns" are Glassboro, Pitman, Mt. Holly, Vincentown, Millville, Wenonah, Woodbury, Paulsboro, Burlington, Salem, Bridgeton, Beverly and Bordentown.

In the last half century over 500,000 children have had the advantage of a vacation in some home in the country.

The committee asks that all who are approached to take one of these children into their hearts and homes for at least two weeks.

CLIFFORD D. CAIN IS AGAIN NAMED SPECIAL OFFICER

Clifford D. Cain, connected with County Detective Parker's office, Mount Holly, was re-appointed a special officer on Tuesday of last week for one year. The appointment was signed by Prosecutor Howard Eastwood. The position is termed as "special officer for Burlington county," and not assistant county detective, as he is more familiarly known. The salary is $2700 a year.

RICHARD F. GAUNTT

Richard F. Gauntt, three years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Gauntt, of Delair, died Thursday evening of last week. Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at two o'clock. Interment was made in the Asbury M. E. Cemetery under the direction of Frank A. Snover.

Y. M. C. A. CAMPAIGN PROGRESSES STEADILY

Board of Directors Very Grateful for Fine Expression of Interest by Townspeople

Many folks in Palmyra and Riverton are generously contributing to the Current Expense Campaign of the local Y. M. C. A. The "Y" would like to raise $3,800 in this drive.

To date, many new subscriptions and increases in previous donations have been received. This is very gratifying to those who are working so hard to make the drive a success.

The "Y" is caring for about three hundred boys a year in its wide range of activities. It is figured that it cost approximately $12.00 per year for each lad.

The reports of many of the workers are still out and definite figures as to the progress of the campaign will be announced next week.

The Board of Directors of the Y. M. C. A. is very grateful for the fine expression of interest on the part of the townspeople and much credit is due the organization for the way in which it has carried on the campaign.

SCOUTS TO HOLD DINNER MONDAY

County Scoutmasters Guests of Riverton Troop in New Headquarters

Troop 50 is hard at work preparing for the next important event on its program. This is the Scoutmasters' dinner which is to be held in the new Riverton Scout headquarters on Monday evening, May 4. The dinner is being arranged for by the Burlington County Council Boy Scouts of America and will be attended by most of the Scoutmasters of the county.

The Riverton Troop's part in the management of this dinner is to have the headquarters ready to entertain these guests and to assist in every way possible in the serving of the dinner.

The arrangements for dinner are being handled by Mrs. Alexander Garwood of 629 Linden avenue, the wife of the Scoutmaster. Mrs. Garwood would appreciate any assistance possible from the mothers of the members of the troop.

Signalling continues to be the main consideration of the troop at this time. Mr. Henry Cook has loaned to the troop a great deal of signalling equipment, including telegraph, telephone and signal corps searchlight systems. The boys are taking a real interest in this phase of the Scout work.

The Drexel Hill Players, under the auspices of the troop, will present "The Mollusc" in the Parish House, Christ Church, Riverton, on Friday evening, May 15, at 8.15. "The Mollusc" is a most amusing comedy, and the Drexel Hill Players are talented actors. The cast is as follows:

"Mr. Baxter"—Charles Gridley; "Miss Roberts"—Miss Marjorie Winchell; "Mrs. Baxter"—Miss Glenna Pethick; "Tom Kemp"—Roy Hansplant.

The money taken in by the Scouts will be used to reduce the troop's debt. It is to be hoped that the parents and friends of the troop will turn out in full force. Seldom is it possible to do a good turn so pleasantly. The audience will be doing a good turn to the troop and at the same time will spend a most delightful and enjoyable evening.

K. OF C. TO HAVE NOTED LECTURER

Hon. Charles V. Mallett Will Speak on Immigration Tuesday, May 5

There will be plenty of activity at St. Joseph's council hall within the next few weeks. At their next meeting on Tuesday, May 5th at 9 p. m. A treat is in store for the members of the local council and their friends.

An open meeting will be held at which time the general public are invited to hear Hon. Charles V. Mallett, noted lecturer, formerly of the Department of Justice, and now the most prominent lecturer in the Department of Immigration. He has given 20 years in the Government service, and his subject, "Immigration," is a timely one. Let's take it in and see what he has to say.

On Wednesday, April 29th, two K. of C. Ritualistic teams, composed of Bordentown and Haddon Heights councils, will compete for honors at St. Joseph's council home for members only. Classes of candidates will be brought from several sections of the county to be inducted into the order.

After many requests the St. Joseph's Columbus Cadets have decided to hold a card party and dance at the K. of C. hall on Monday, May 4th. This will be the last combined card party this season, and the committee promises to make this affair surpass all others. Prizes are now being gathered. Both the council and ladies are combining their efforts to put it over bigger than ever. The Original Commanders have been engaged for the dance, while pinochle, bridge and five hundred are being played.

STREET OILING CONTRACT GIVEN

Bituminous Service Co., Low Bidders on Riverton Work

The contract for supplying material for oiling the streets in Riverton was awarded to the Bituminous Service Company, Philadelphia, at an adjourned meeting of the borough council Tuesday night.

This concern was the lowest bidder and quoted 13c per unit or a total of $3,900 for the completed work under specification "A," which provides for furnishing and applying 30,000 gallons of S. C. oil to the streets and covering it with sand.

Owing to the great difference between the Bituminous bid and the next lowest, which was 165 per unit, the Mayor and Council deemed it wise to secure some further information concerning its reliability and equipment. To this end, a questionnaire prepared by Councilman Charles DeLaney was submitted to the company with instructions to return it by Tuesday night of this week. This was not done, but Mr. Carroll, salesman, was present at the meeting for the purpose of answering any questions that Council might desire to ask.

Mr. Carroll stated that the company was equipped to apply the sand mechanically as required in the specifications. He said, however, that the bid had been prepared very hurriedly and was too low, expressing a willingness to withdraw his company's quotation.

Council, however, felt that the interests of the borough would be best served by insisting that the Bituminous Service Company stand by its quotation and proceed with the work, which Mr. Carroll agreed to do.

Councilman William H. Albertson, chairman of the highway committee, and Mr. DeLaney, member of that committee, insisted that the work be done under the direction and supervision of Sherman and Sleeper, the borough engineers, and the highway committee was authorized to secure their services.

At the conclusion of the discussion Councilman James S. Coale offered a motion which was seconded by Councilman Woolman that the contract be awarded to the Bituminous Service Company under section "A" of the specifications, and that the work be supervised by Sherman and Sleeper. The motion was unanimously passed.

A request from the Palmyra Bugle and Drum Corps for use of Memorial Park Monday and Thursday evenings for practice and drill was referred to the borough property committee.

Councilman J. Elmer Hahn reported that Post Rodgers, American Legion of Palmyra, had offered its services in connection with the dedication of Memorial Park on July 4, offering to supply a speaker and provide for several visiting drum corps if desired, to take part in a parade as a part of the dedication program.

The Public Utilities Commission sent to council a copy of its decision granting the Public Service permission to operate buses instead of trolley cars between Trenton and Camden, specifying the route to be traveled and the fares to be charged.

PORCH CLUB NOTES

Mr. Howard O. Yates from the Camden County Vocational Training School at Merchantville lectured informally about "Floral Decoration in the Home." He brought flowers and containers with which he made actual demonstrations as he spoke.

Japan is the originator of exquisite floral arrangements and from them we have obtained much inspiration but no matter how clever or artistic the flower grouping, Mr. Yates pointed out that the first step in successful floral decoration is the cutting and care of the blooms. It is best to cut them early in the morning with a sharp knife, plunge them deeply in cool water and keep them there for four or six hours. Next consider the receptable. An opaque one keeps the flowers longest. A neutral gray is the best shade for most blossoms. A second choice of color is cucumber green. Different occasions call for various types. Luncheons suggests soft tints and dainty form of growth. Heavier combinations are used for dinners. The flowers on the table should be no higher than fifteen inches unless grouped sparsely enough to permit the guests to see and talk to each other through the interstices. The exception to this general rule can be made when a very large center is desired. Then build the decoration up in such a way that the flower mass starts fifteen inches above the table. By this means a large center may be used to add to the pleasure of the guests instead of being a barrier to conversation. Bud vases for a single flower should be in proportion, for instance, a rose should be one and a half times higher than the vessel which holds it. The club members enjoyed the privilege of asking questions and discussion. A pleasant afternoon was brought to a close with the serving of refreshments.

EX-SERVICE MEN MAY EARN EXTRA MONEY

Legion Ladies To Instruct Veterans And Their Families in the Making of Poppies

Ex-service men, or members of their families are to be given an opportunity to earn a little extra money in a very pleasing way.

The members of the American Legion and Legion Auxiliary offer them this opportunity through the making of poppies for the annual poppy sale.

Legion ladies will be in the Legion Home next Wednesday and Thursday afternoons, between the hours of 2:00 and 4.30 o'clock, to instruct any ex-service men, or their dependents in this work.

For each poppy, the maker will receive one cent. This should offer a very excellent way to make a little extra money, to those who are able to take advantage of this offer.

HELPFUL PAPER AT PTA MEETING

Mrs. C. F. Shaw Discusses Community Responsibility With Mothers at Cinnaminson

The Responsibility of the Community to the Individual" was the subject of an interesting and thoughtful paper offered by Mrs. C. F. Shaw at the monthly meeting of the Cinnaminson P. T. A., Wednesday afternoon of last week. Owing to the unavoidable absence of the president Mrs. Shaw also presided. During the reading of the paper several members were called upon to supplement the subject by other pertinent matter.

Dr. Rogers gave an earnest talk upon contagious diseases, their care, and the uses of preventatives, anti-toxin and also the crying need of a health officer, preferably a medical graduate who would give his whole time to our several communities.

It was decided that the association was more than willing to assure every child of the diphtheria treatment. This, coming just before the "Summer Round Up" was most interesting.

The next meeting of the association will be during "Music Week", May 6, when it is planned to have the Glee Club render some of the selections they have been practicing.

The P. T. A. visitor, after an absence of several weeks, has enjoyed two mornings in the school; one when she was asked to join a mid-morning lunch, prepared and served by the sixth and seventh grades from school No. 4. The older class served cocoa and a most attractive salad, while the sixth grade offered hot, flaky baking powder biscuits, all reflecting great credit on the faithful teaching of Miss Rogers.

Several trips have either been taken or planned for this week by the various grades.

Miss Parker's class went to Independence Hall and other places of historic interest; Miss Eagens to the Art Gallery, and Miss Rush's to the Supplee dairy and ice cream plant.

A bus has to be chartered for these trips, as few of the very willing P. T. A's desire to drive through traffic, and the day is longed for when the school may own a station bus large enough to accommodate a single grade.

When the kindergarten went to the Zoo, they were taken in two cars, one driven by their teacher and one by a fearless P. T. A.

These little ones, always so friendly and interesting, told many stories and showed wonderful pictures of their trip.

PUBLICITY COMMITTEE

GIRL SCOUTS NEWS

Last Monday the Riverton Girl Scouts held their meeting at the home of Captain Ross. It was a very unusual meeting, in that several new girls came and also we discussed the Scout Promise and Laws thoroughly.

The newer girls worked on their badges and the others discussed plans for the camping trip. The committees have all been appointed, and are working hard in an effort to have everything in readiness for camp.

During the meeting we practiced the "horseshoe" formation which is used as a means of expressing cordiality and good luck to new girls, when it is used for the opening exercises.

The next meeting will be held at Mrs. Ross' home, 913 Washington avenue, Palmyra at 7:30 o'clock. If you are interested, visit the meeting and find out for yourself what a good time we have.

Scribe, VIRGINIA BEEGLE

Paul Wolfschmidt

Paul Wolfschmidt, 62, died at his home, 705 Washington avenue, Palmyra, Monday morning.

He had been sick since August, and for the last several weeks had not been working.

Mr. Wolfschmidt had been a barber in Palmyra for 39 years and was the oldest business man in town.

Funeral services were held at his late residence this (Thursday) afternoon at 2 o'clock, with the Rev. Harold L. Creager, Lutheran minister, officiating. Interment was made at Morgan Cemetery.

Mr. Wolfschmidt is survived by his widow, Mrs. Flora Wolfschmidt, one son, Arthur, and one daughter, Etta, who is living at home. Frank A. Snover, funeral director, had charge of the funeral arrangements.

MRS. FAUNCE WINS MEMORY TEASER

Widow of Former Operator of Fisheries Recalls Much Interesting Data

The Memory Teaser for last week was won by Mrs. M. Faunce, who furnished a very interesting account of the old shad industry that flourished here many years ago.

"Al" Faunce, employee at J. S. Collins and Son, Inc., was a close second with his recollection of the same subject. Both letters are published below.

The Editor of The New Era

Dear Sir:

The device shown in the Memory Teaser of the April 16th issue of The New Era was called a "capsule" used to haul in the shad nets in the fishing season. This device was first used in Riverton by one Jacob Rice, a fisherman, from Kensington, cousin of Mrs. Michael Faunce, of Riverton, in the year 1873.

He rented the fishing shore from Samuel Cook, of Riverton. This shore extended from Riverton Yacht Club to Dreer's.

In April, 1856, the fisheries were taken over by Captain William Faunce, formerly of Fishtown, the present Kensington. The same capsule drew in a net two miles long which took thirty men to handle. It was drawn by a horse, rented by the Faunce farm from a Mr. Owen, of Palmyra, who operated a laundry. The net was rowed out by fourteen men headed by Albert Faunce of Riverton. The man shown in the picture was named Flynn, a colored man from Cinnaminson, who worked with the Faunces all the years they had the fisheries.

Every season thousands of that delectable delicacy, shad, were hauled in. In those days, the highest price paid for a shad was fifty cents. They were sold on the shore and shipped to Philadelphia markets by sailboats or, if there was no wind they were rowed to market. The biggest season ever here was the year 1900. Thirty-seven thousand shad were counted from one day's haul, and it took three market boats and one fishing boat to carry the catch to Philadelphia. There were two capsules, one on the Reese property which took care of the flood tide fishing, and one on the Cook property which took care of the ebb tide fishing.

Sincerely yours,

MRS. M. FAUNCE

As "Al" Tells It

The "Memory Teaser" in this week's New Era is a relic of the shad fishing industry along the banks of the Delaware River. It was known as an eight foot windlass and was used for hauling in the net or seine in catching the silvery horde of shad that came up the river each spring to spawn.

The one in the picture was located on the river bank near the foot of Howard street on what was then the Samuel C. Cook property. The windlass for the other end of the net was located at the mouth of Pompess Creek now the H. A. Dreer property.

The net used measured 475 fathoms and was owned and operated by William Faunce and son, Albert. Al, the spinner of this yarn is now seventy-four years old and employed by J. S. Collins & Son.

"Al" and his father followed the fishing business from 1876 until 1904. The man shown sitting on the windlass is Joseph Flamer, a colored man who worked for the Faunces for fifteen years. It required a "gang" of thirty-five men to operate the net. They made seven hauls a day. The record day's catch was 10,000 shad, while the record single haul was 3700. Each day's catch of shad was rowed or at times sailed in to the Philadelphia markets. A fair price in those days for roe shad was two cents each.

The horse shown hooked to the windlass was hired each spring by the Faunces from John Quigley, father of the late William Quigley, who conducted a livery stable at that time.

Several nets of this size were fished along the Delaware from Gloucester to Burlington and were a big factor in practically exterminating the shad in this river.

As told to me by "Al"

FIRE DESTROYS TWO BUILDINGS AND AUTO

Blaze Said to Be Caused by Spread Of Burning Grass in Neighborhood

Palmyra firemen were called out Monday afternoon to extinguish a fire in the rear of the Charles C. Smith property at 324 Delaware avenue.

The fire is believed to have started when grass burning nearly ignited the frame building in the rear of the premises. The fire spread to a garage which was almost entirely destroyed. A large touring car housed in the garage was also damaged beyond repair. Loss is estimated at $300.

CORRECTION!

The man who was arrested in Moorestown last week on a charge of being engaged in the "number racket," was not Merrill Johns, of Palmyra. The Moorestown police from whom we received the information, evidently made a mistake in the identity of the man whom they arrested. We are informed that Mr. Johns has been ill at his home in Palmyra for several weeks.

Her Book to be Read by the Blind

MRS. MARY BIDDLE FITLER
AUTHOR OF "KID"

MRS. FITLER'S BOOK IN BRAILE SYSTEM

Lions' Club of Cincinnati Having Popular Author's Book Reproduced for Blind Readers

An outstanding honor has come to a former Riverton woman, Mrs. Mary Biddle Fitler, author of "Reddy" and "Kid".

The Lions Club of Cincinnati, Ohio, became interested in the book "Kid" and asked Mrs. Fitler's permission to have it printed in the Braile system for the blind.

This is a great honor inasmuch as only the most worthwhile books are used for this purpose.

A complimentary copy in three volumes has been sent to Mrs. Fitler inscribed with an appreciation of her work.

SCHOOL METHODS IN 1880 AND 1930

Answers to Questions of Fifty Years Ago Shows Superiority of 1930 Pupils

Progressive education is not any one system of education; it is an attitude of mind," said Dr. Albert Lind say Reland, supervising principal of Cheltenham Township Schools, in his talk before the Riverton Parent Teacher Association at the annual Fathers' Night last Thursday evening.

He explained that this attitude of mind puts the emphasis not on teachers' teaching but on children learning. School should not be a preparation for life but life itself—real interesting stimulating. Froebel in his concern with cubes and spheres gave the children no contact with life thereby; Herbart's chief interest was in teaching methods.

At last we see that children may actually like school and that the learning process and freedom are not incompatible. And this without sacrificing the so called tool subjects. Dr. Roland told of an effective proof of this which had been made last year. A complete set of eighth grade examination papers and their answers of fifty years ago had been found in an old desk in Boston. The same questions were given, not in the eighth but in the seventh grade of three Boston schools, and the results compared. The 1930 children in every subject were ahead of those of 1880.

Dr. Roland commented most favorably on the demonstration of fifth grade work which had just been shown by Mrs. Murgatroyd and her class. He expressed assurance that the audience and children indicated an excellent community atmosphere for developing progressive ideas, both as to curriculum—which had been well initiated by Mr. Cooper—and as to equipment and building. He felt that much was to be hoped for here.

Dr. Harry L. Rogers ably conducted the meeting. After the demonstration of three phases of class room work (preparation, conference and activity) which was interpreted by Mr. Cooper, the Glee Club under Miss Lucas' direction sang two charming numbers. At the close refreshments were served.

There ensued much discussion on the subjects of the program and also on the interesting exhibits of the children's work shown in the class rooms. This feature of Fathers' Night provides effective opportunity for parents to become in at least slight measure familiar with the child's activity at school. While it entails many hours hard work for the teachers, it is most gratefully appreciated by the parents.

BUSES SUPPLANT TROLLEY SERVICE IN RIVER TOWNS

Gas-Electric Coaches Operate on Same Schedule as Followed by Cars

HALF-HOUR SAVED ON TRENTON-CAMDEN RUN

Electric Cars Discontinued Sunday Morning; Florence Ignored by Bus Service

The substitution of the most modern type of motor coach for the antiquated trolleys which served the river-front towns from Trenton to Camden was made last Sunday morning, the last trolleys leaving the terminals at those two cities at four o'clock.

The schedule of the buses is the same as that of the trolleys in leaving Trenton and Camden, the only change of schedule being in the time of arrival at intermediate points. Officials of the Public Service announced the substitution of buses would enable passengers to travel between Camden and Trenton in two hours time, or a half hour less than was taken by the trolleys.

All towns formerly served by the trolleys, with the exception of Florence, are now being served by the buses. Florence is the only township along the route that has refused to grant permission for the substitution of the motor coaches. As a result of the refusal the buses are not permitted to pick up or discharge passengers within the limits of the town, but are forced to adopt a "closed door" policy. Burlington and Beverly were among the last of the townships along the riverfront to grant the franchise to the traction company.

The change was made by the Public Service after the old trolley service was found to be inadequate to meet the demands of modern times for speedier service. Numerous delays which often threw the trolleys off schedule, are expected to be avoided by the bus service. Public Service officials assert the bus line will carry more passengers, because of the improved service, than did the trolleys.

The new line is entirely intra-state although there is a possibility of the inter-state buses now traveling up the river as far as Burlington, being extended to the capitol city and then serving the riverfront town. Later on an "open-door" policy is uncertain, if adopted would at once make the intra-state and inter-state lines into a more efficient train porting network.

Fare Limits Unchanged

There are 16 five-cent fare limits between Trenton and Camden, the old charge between the two cities remaining unchanged. The only restriction placed on the company is in Trenton, where the buses are not allowed to pick up or discharge passengers between the Perry street terminal and State and Warren street.

The announced route to be served by the line of 15 motor coaches follows:

Pennsylvania railroad ferries, Camden, along Market street to Westfield avenue to Cove road, Pennsauken township, our River road, Pennsauken to Delair and Palmyra to Bennett street, Riverton, then to Riverside, Delanco, to Warren street, Beverly to Edgewater Park, to Plaza Park, on Beverly road to Federal street, Burlington, in Burlington along Hart street to Pearl to Jones road to State highway, route 25, to Steven, road to River road to Front street, Florence, out Knickerbocker avenue to Roebling to the state highway route 25 through Fieldsboro to Fourth avenue, Bordentown, Park street, Bordentown road to White Horse, to Broad street in White City Park, to Park avenue, Trenton, Schiller avenue, Lalor street, Adeline street, Cass street, Lamberton street, Mill street, Warren street and Perry street to the Perry street terminal.

LUNCHEON and BRIDGE

Needlework Guild Benefit at Mrs. Hendrickson's, April 29

Another delightful luncheon and bridge will be given for the benefit of the Needlework Guild at the home of Mrs. William Hendrickson, 266 Lippincott avenue, Riverton, Wednesday, April 29.

Luncheon will be served for 50c and cards 50c.

Guests are requested to make up their own tables and send reservations to Mrs. E. K. Merrill two or three days in advance.

A luncheon similar to this was given at the home of Mrs. William G. Porter and was a fine success both as to finance and good time.

P. T. A. CARD PARTY

The Riverton Parent Teacher Association is expecting great returns from the card party on April 25th at Riverton Public School, for the benefit of the Student Loan Fund.

The whole county is working hard to complete the amount this spring so that it may go into use. This cannot be done until the entire six thousand dollars is collected. Only about two thousand is lacking, let us all do our part to raise it.

Tickets may be had from Mrs. Harry R. Rieger, 206 Elm avenue or Mrs. Harry Orleman, 617 Elm terrace.

LOCAL ROTARIANS VISIT READING

Delegates From Palmyra-Riverton Club Attend 50th District Convention

The Rotary meeting last week was in charge of the educational committee under the chairmanship of Elwood Thum. He invited as guests of the club, Howard Taylor and Morris Conrow, members of the Cinnaminson Board of Education; Frank L. Durand, Jr., president of the Palmyra Board of Education; Walter D. Lamon, a member of that board; and Supervising Principal C. F. Dengler; the supervising principal and two directors from Pennsauken Township including Elwood Thum, and Mrs. Mayfield and Mrs. Blair, of the Riverton Board of Education.

The speaker of the evening was Albert N. Bean, Superintendent of Schools of Camden County. The subject of his talk was the A-B-C's of education, which was handled in a most interesting and effective manner. He explained that "A" stood for activity, "B" for background and "C" for creative power. Under "activity" he said that the schools of today have undergone radical changes from the schools of a few years ago. The new method of teaching and school management calls for more activity and initiative on the part of the student, with the teachers assuming more of an advisory attitude. Under "background" he explained that children should, from the very beginning, be placed in the best possible school surroundings, thus by attending a modern school building with fine equipment, their standard would be raised no matter what their home conditions might be. And lastly under "creative power" the children should be taught to create for themselves and the hidden talents sought for and developed by the school.

Monday and Tuesday of this week the following local Rotarians attended the Fiftieth District Conference of Rotary at Reading Pa. Clement B. Lewis, Elwood Thum, Howard Conover, Joseph Seel, Dr. C. S. Mills and E. N. Cooper. The Fiftieth District is the second largest district in the country and embraces South Jersey, Southeastern Pennsylvania and the entire State of Delaware, with a total membership of 72 Rotary clubs.

The general theme of this year's conference was boys work. Among the good speakers heard were the Rev. Henry Crane of Scranton, and Mr. Roy O. Wyland, high official in the Boy Scout organization. Dr. W. F. Rugh, famous orthopedic surgeon, talked on working with crippled children.

E. N. Cooper, chairman of the publicity committee, states that this conference was the largest ever held, with an attendance of 1,300 Rotarians.

DRIVERS WARNED OF ROUGH SPOTS ON S-41

Keystone Urges Motorists to Look for "Pavement Ends" Signs on Highway

Motorists using Route S-41, the new highway between Palmyra and Berlin, are warned by the Keystone Automobile Club of New Jersey of a rough unpaved stretch north of Maple Shade. "Pavement Ends" signs have just been erected by the New Jersey Highway Commission at this point, and drivers are urged to look for these signs, especially at night, and slow down to moderate speed.

"With the exception of this stretch of about 400 feet and another of approximately two miles outside of Berlin, S-41 is completed," said Trevor B. Mathews, manager of the Camden division of the club. "It is one of the finest roads in the state, and motorists traveling along the smooth surface are unprepared for shock of meeting the traveled section, which is rough and rutted.

"As a result of complaints of members, we took up the matter with the State Highway Commission and we are informed by J. L. Bauer, State Highway Engineer, that cognizance of the condition has been taken with the erection of the warning signs. The rough spot will be ironed out as soon as the ground at this point has settled sufficiently to permit the construction of permanent paving."

Big Year Is Had by County Hospital

The Burlington County Hospital has had one of the biggest years in its history, according to a report just submitted to the Board of Managers by Miss Lydia M. Parry, president.

During the year 2531 patients were admitted, or 11.7 per cent more than in the preceding year. The average daily number of patients was 85, as compared with 77 the previous year, and the highest daily census was 112 as compared with 99. October 29 last was the big day when 112 patients were admitted.

There were 1299 operations performed, 254 births, 136 deaths, 44 of which occurred within 24 hours after arrival.

The total cost of maintenance of the hospital was $155,382.33.

PUBLIC SERVICE METERS INCREASE

Interesting Figures Show the Development of Electricity in New Jersey

The number of electric meters connected to the lines of Public Service Electric and Gas Company as shown in the 1930 annual report of Public Service Corporation of New Jersey, has increased from 16,000 in 1903, the year of organization, to 912,357, a gain of 5,600 per cent in twenty-seven years.

Twenty-five years ago there was but one electric meter per every forty-eight persons in the section of New Jersey now served by the company. Today there is one electric meter per every 3.5 inhabitants in the territory.

In addition to the phenomenal growth in the number of electric meters in service, there has been a correspondingly large increase in the amount of electricity consumed per inhabitant. Due to the constantly increasing demands for electricity in home and industry, consumption per inhabitant in Public Service territory has increased from thirty-two kilowatt hours in 1905 to 533 kilowatt-hours in 1930.

FISH DISTRIBUTION TO CONTINUE THRU APRIL

Benjamin W. Cooper Reports Commission Is Liberating Only Adult Trout in Streams

Commissioner Benjamin W. Cooper of Moorestown, has just issued a statement that the Fish and Game Commission will continue stocking Sylvan Lakes, Bread and Cheese Run, in Burlington County, and the Lebanon streams in Camden County during the month of April.

"The reports of catches in these streams have been very satisfactory during the past week," Mr. Cooper continued. "Trout to be distributed are all adults," he reports. "No fingerlings will be liberated at this time. Trucks and wardens will begin restocking at once."

HOSPITAL DAY

The Burlington County Hospital at Mount Holly will celebrate National Hospital Day on May 12. This celebration is in honor of the birthday of Florence Nightingale, the famous English nurse of the Crimean wars.

The program follows:

2:00 p. m.—Featuring a baby parade of all babies born in the Burlington County Hospital, Mount Holly.

All children born in Burlington County Hospital at any time are entitled to enter.

Prizes awarded—public invited.

3:00 p. m.—Slides on the history of nursing will be shown. Young women graduating from the various high schools in the county in this year's class as well as others interested in nursing are invited.

Tea will be served by the Medical Auxiliary of the staff.

GOP CLUB MEETS IN FINAL SESSION

Junior Republicans Hear Candidates; Officers Elected for Coming Year

The last meeting of the season of the Burlington County Junior Republican Club was held at the home of Mrs. J. R. Ulmer, of the Club Estates, Moorestown, on Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, with more than forty members attending.

Speakers included several of the candidates for officers in the coming election. They were Mrs. Herman Terry, of Edgewater Park, candidate for state committeewoman; Charles R. Stout, of Florence, candidate for Freeholder; George Bitting of Mount Holly, candidate for Surrogate; and James C. McCormick, of Burlington, also candidate for Freeholder.

The annual election of officers was held for those whose terms expired. The new vice president is Mrs. J. B. Tomlinson, of Bordentown; recording secretary, Mrs. W. H. Hesler, Jr., of Pemberton; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Robert E. Haideman, Mount Holly; and program chairman, Mrs. Newell Stone, of Beverly.

Mrs. Joseph N. Burr, of Mount Holly, remains president, as her term does not expire for another year. Mrs. Charles Laessle, Jr., of Moorestown, remains treasurer.

Meetings during the coming season will be held the fourth Tuesday instead of the third Tuesday of the month. The first of the series will be in October, the place to be announced later.

Sea Light Visible 13 Miles Located in N. J.

Electricity has displaced the former oil vapor lamp in the Hereford Inlet lighthouse just a short distance from Cape May in this State. The new light, which marks the approaches to Delaware Bay, now has a rating of 1,100,000 candlepower and is visible for thirteen miles, reports the New Jersey Public Utility Information Committee.

This beacon is the most powerful light along the Atlantic coast of the United States according to the Lighthouse service of the Department of Commerce, and could probably be seen further were it not for the earth's curvature. It was established to obtain greater economy in illumination because it is less expensive to operate.

COUNTY Y DRIVE APRIL 27-MAY 5

Local Chairman Named in All Towns in Campaign for $13,000

Preparations for the Burlington County YMCA budget drive are nearing completion. Funds will be solicited between April 27th and May 5th, to carry on the program for the twenty-seventh year of work in the county.

County Campaign Chairman, Frank W. Thacher, of Edgewater Park, who has been treasurer of the county Y. M. C. A. for twenty-five years, has enlisted community chairmen in some twenty-six towns of the county, who, with their helpers will attend the launching dinner at St. Andrew's Parish House, Mount Holly, Monday night, April 27, at 6:57 o'clock, daylight time.

The types of activities and programs through which the county Y. M. C. A. functions are many. Some of these are: Groups, Gra-Y and Hi-Y Clubs,—forty-five in number; conferences, Camp Ockanickon; educational trips; father and son affairs; vocational guidance for individuals; motion pictures; pulpit supply; orchestra; athletic leagues; field work of secretaries; speaker's bureau; swims; life saving instruction; outings at camp; sociability games; marble contest; committee service; library at the county headquarters, specializing in life problems and Bible and material for use in groups and clubs.

"We need $13,000 this year," Mr. Thacher said, at a recent committee meeting. He went on to point out that while the actual budget for 1931-32 was under $12,000, that there was, however, a deficit on the year just closing, traceable to the late depression, and that strong effort should be made to overcome this in the forthcoming drive.

Chairman for the various communities are these men:

Beverly, D. P. Hopkins; Bordentown, John H. Hutchinson; Bridgeboro, Lester S. Fortnum; Browns Mills, Ralph H. Hulick, Burlington, Edward M. Simons; Bustleton, Charles R. Stout; Chesterfield, Edwin Paulson; Cinnaminson, Edward H. Jessup; Columbus, John V. Bishop; Crosswicks, William Wallace; Delanco, T. B. Hayward; Edgewater Park, Alex C. Ferguson, Jr.; Florence, Edward A. Kashner; Lumberton, John J. Buswell; Marlton, David D. Griscom; Masonville, C. William Haines; Medford, Maurice B. Haines; Moorestown, William F. Overman; Mount Holly, George M. Sleeper; New Lisbon, Franklin S. Chambers; Pemberton, William H. Hesler; Rancocas, A. Engle Conrow; Riverside, George J. Pitman; Vincentown, Ralph W. Haines; Willingboro, Joseph Kolster; Wrightstown, Herman Croshaw.

Ford Says Return of Liquor Would Bring Widespread Wage Reductions

Business Cannot Afford to Pay High Figure to Drinking Employees, Motor Magnate Tells Irving Fisher

Emphasizing the efficacy of private prohibition of drink, enforced by employers in business and industry and aided by governmental prohibition of the liquor traffic, Henry Ford has replied to three questions put to him by Irving Fisher, Chairman of the Alcohol Information Committee, New York City. In the course of his reply Mr. Ford remarks, "If the impossible should occur—I mean the return of legalized liquor—its first effect would be a widespread reduction of wages, due to the demoralization of labor which liquor always causes."

Mr. Ford concludes by expressing his conviction that "This present depression, falling as it does on a prohibition population, is going to result in more sober safeguards for the future than could have been possible had our people drunk their way through this experience."

Business Big Factor

Professor Fisher's questions were occasioned by Mr. Ford's recent statement that big business and not the government, eventually will be the greatest factor in prohibition enforcement, and that the government, as Mr. Ford stated, "must be backstopped for complete control." "I ask these questions," Professor Fisher said, "in order that we may give out the facts as they appear to you as a representative American industrialist." The questions follow:

"1. Is not business, big and little, already the greatest factor in prohibition enforcement?

"2. Are not business and industry most helped in enforcement where there is government enforcement also?

"3. Are not sales of goods both to cash and on installment, held up most successfully where the saloon, or its equivalent under whatever name, has been abolished?"

Mr. Ford answers the three questions as follows:

"1. I believe business, big and little, has more to do with prohibition enforcement today than has any other agency. Business began to require sobriety before prohibition was thought possible.

Sober Employees Necessary

"Railroads and industries found sober employes necessary to safe and profitable operation. Besides, those employers who were anxious to improve the conditions of their men by increasing their wages soon discovered that no business can afford to pay high wages to intemperate or drinking workmen.

"The Ford Motor Company raised its minimum wage first, and then undertook to insure the sober use of it.

"If the impossible should occur—I mean the return of legalized liquor—its first effect would be a widespread reduction of wages due to the demoralization of labor which liquor always causes.

"It is sometimes said that we do business in countries where government is still partner in the liquor trade. Our answer is that we can do business nowhere with drinking workmen. Our employees everywhere are sober men.

Prohibition Law Helps

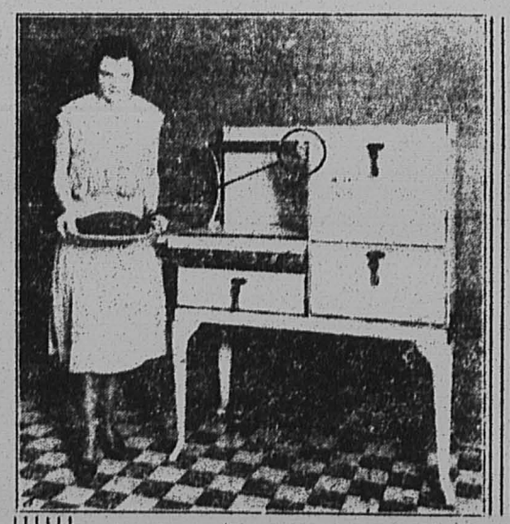

"2. Of course, business has been vastly helped by the prohibition law in securing sobriety. The law gives us a weapon. We are no longer left to ourselves in trying to get decent conditions for families, but have the support of government. And if officials appointed to enforce prohibition were more successful in their efforts, it would be of great benefit all around.

"No. 3. No one questions the great inflow of goods into homes which were formerly bare because of liquor.

"No one questions the great increase in general business since prohibition came. The liquor business made money for a very few—took money and money-making ability from very many. But general business since prohibition has resulted in the kind of trade that benefits all who engage in it—producer and consumer.

"I am certain that this present depression, falling as it does on a prohibition population, is going to result in more sober safeguards for the future than could have been possible had our people drunk their way through this experience. The people are soberly thinking. And that is the most hopeful sign we could have."

Death having removed parental objection to their marriage, Joe Davis and Virginia Seaward, of Oroville, Cal., were wedded after a 42 year betrothal.

YWCA DIRECTORS DISCUSS BUSINESS

Two-State Conference and Membership Meeting Among Scheduled Events

The Board of Directors of the Burlington County Y. W. C. A., held its regular monthly meeting at the county office in Mount Holly on Tuesday morning at ten o'clock, at which time the conference of Y. W. C. A. women from New Jersey and Delaware, which will be held in Moorestown on Tuesday, April 28, and the annual Burlington County Y. W. C. A. membership meeting at Camp Ockanickon on May 26, were important items of business.

The annual meeting committee consists of Mrs. Barclay Allen, of Vincentown, Mrs. Clifford Powell, of Delanco, and Mrs. Burton F. Thresher, of Moorestown.

Other events in the near future which the members are giving much time are the county Y. W. C. A. Music Festival, at the Moorestown Community House, May 8, at eight o'clock; a Junior High School Girl Reserve conference on June 6, and a High School Girl Reserve conference on June 13.

Mrs. William Matlack, of Moorestown, chairman of membership, gave a report of the annual finance campaign, and Hannah Severns, of Burlington, reported in detail the work of her committee in the field of vocational guidance.

Home Activities Planned

While girls from many parts of the county are enrolling for a happy vacation at the Y. W. C. A. camp at Ockanickon this summer, the Y. W. C. A. also knows that there are many girls who for numerous reasons cannot be at camp. With this in mind, there will be held at the Burlington Y. W. C. A. building a camp for the "stay at homes."

During the two weeks, June 22 to July 4, the "camp" will be in session. Beginning at nine o'clock in the morning and continuing until five in the afternoon, there will be a day full of happy activities including swimming, hiking, out door games, handicraft, music, dramatics, and discussions; all the kinds of things that girls love to do and all under the direction of trained leaders.

Girls will bring their own lunches but one hot dish will be served by the committee. Registrations will be limited so girls are asked to enroll early. Only girls of the ages ten to fifteen will be taken.

The committee arranging the project is Mrs. George Rigg, chairman; Mrs. Harry Williams, Mrs. John Price, Mrs. Ruth Bolden, Ruth Becker, Lillian Hoffner, Mae Hawkey and Lucy Reeve, of Burlington, and Sidonie Schafer and Beatrice Shipley of the county Y. W. C. A.

Riverside Girls Meet

Mrs. Stanley Perkins was the interesting speaker at the meeting of the 7th and 8th grade Girl Reserves in Riverside on Thursday evening, April 16. The subject, "Girls and Business," brought forth discussion as to preparation for business positions and the nature of different kinds of office work. Mrs. Perkins is president of the County Business Girls Council of the Y. W. C. A., and a member of the Y. W. C. A. club at Willingboro.

The pranks of a "ghost" in a rental house were traced to a former tenant, who had been dispossessed in favor of another family.

Pat Steedle and His Truck Imitate Submarine on Highway at Reading

Imagine "Pat" Steedle, Riverton expressman, politician, Rotarian, song leader, former Boy Scout and what not, sitting in the darkness along a Pennsylvania highway in his N Y Z's drying his clothes over a bonfire.

The night was dark but not stormy, not yet. A moving van was moving (and how it was moving!) winding its way hither and yon, over the hills and through the dales, in the vicinity of Reading. The gloomy silence was broken only by the muffled drone of a powerful truck motor and the occasional croak of a frog from a nearby pond.

In the cab and at the throttle, alone, sat our good friend "Pat". steering wheel grasped in his hands a newly lighted Cinco between his teeth eyes glued on the road before him and between puffs snatches of "Sweet Rosy O'Grady" filtered through the chinks in the cab.

"Pat," thoroughly enjoying his cigar as well as his singing, did not reckon that he had come upon a right smart down grade—nor did he notice that a passenger car was following close in his wake that is, not until he came to the bottom of the grade where he found a curve waiting for him.

A Bridge at 2 A. M.

From then on things popped—"Pat" dropped his melody and swallowed his Cinco in one operation when he found the passenger car crowding him off the road at the curve. He managed by a series of Houdini calisthenics to bring the truck back on the road only to find the passenger car on a narrow bridge a six-foot concrete abutment and darkness to the right of the abutment and all three rushing forward to meet him.

"Pat" famous for rushing in where others fear to tread, in the split second that was left to decide, chose darkness and darkness he got by the buckets full. He gave the wheel a cut to the right and the big truck loaded with four tons of paper hurtled over a 15-foot embankment and down into space.

"Pat" said the sensation was that of a pea in a pod being kicked around on a cobblestone pavement. In the total darkness of the cab and with water rushing in from every direction, "Pat" said right then and there he was prepared to meet his Maker, but made a grab for the handle on the door only to find that he had hold of the gear shift lever which he doubled trying to open the door.

Shouts for Aid in Vain

Then spitting out another quart of water, as the truck rolled over again, he made another try for the door and this time pulled the starter button from the floor boards by the roots. Finally and luckily enough for "Pat" the truck made its final lunge and came to rest in the middle of the pond, leaving one door exposed and through this "Pat" made a hurried exit.

After collecting himself, he sat upon that exposed portion of the truck protruding from the water and "hollered" at passing motorists who were, at 2.00 a. m., either going or had been places, and got only his echo for an answer.

Finally becoming disgusted with human nature in general, he climbed down from his man made island and swam ashore, dragging the cigar lighter from the dash board with him (believe it or not) where he built himself a fire and proceeded to dry his clothes.

Came the dawn and "Pat" got relief. The truck and its contents were damaged but "Pat," wise ole' owl that he is, believes in insurance, and after a few hours of mourning for his favorite truck, he is again wearing the "Steedle Smile."

LOCUST LANE COW COMPLETES RECORD

More Than Doubles Average Yearly Production of All Cows in New Jersey

The New Jersey Guernsey Breeders Association, Inc., reports that the pure bred Guernsey cow Willowmere Lady Grace No. 183645, Class A, (5 years and over) owned by S. R. Matlack, Locust Lane Farm, Medford, has completed her yearly Advanced Register record and has produced 12211.3 pounds of Guernsey milk containing 602.8 pounds of butter fat.

This is a very good production as will be seen by comparison with the average yearly production of all cows in New Jersey, which is 5800 pounds of milk and 235 pounds of butter fat.

DR. F. W. TOMPKINS TO SPEAK AT BURLINGTON

Noted Philadelphia Pastor to Address County Council of Religious Education

The Burlington County Council of Religious Education will hold its semi-annual meeting in the Broad Street M. E. Church, Burlington, on Monday evening, May 4th at 7:45 o'clock.

The Council is composed of four representatives from each Church School in the county; Pastor Superintendent and two elected delegates. Each Church School is urged to have its official delegates present.

An interesting program is being planned by John W. Thacher of Edgewater Park, President of the Council, and William H. Zelly of Burlington. They have obtained Dr. Floyd W. Tomkins, Rector of the Church of the Holy Trinity, Philadelphia, to give the address of the evening.

At this meeting of Church School leaders, plans will be made for future projects of co-operative Christian Education for Burlington County. All who are interested in this field of Christian work should plan to attend. Further details will be given as the plans progress.

HISTORICAL FETE FOR BORDENTOWN

Society Organized to Make Plans for Celebration of 250th Anniversary

A meeting of the recently-organized Bordentown Historical Society was held last week at the office of City Solicitor J. B. Tomlinson.

The society was organized several weeks ago by Captain Frank N. Thompson, and other prominent Bordentonians, when tentative plans were made for the celebration of Bordentown's 250th anniversary.

The celebration is planned for October. The historical society was formed to organize plans for the proposed three-day celebration and to compile, in book form, a history of this city.

The celebration, as now planned, will include historical pageants, memorial services, a parade, and visits to places of historic interest here. Plans are being made to have the U.S.S. Constitution, better known as the frigate Old Ironsides, anchored in the Delaware river, Bordentown.

The historical society has asked Bordentown residents to contribute, for their temporary use, any historic documents, papers, records or histories of old families in this section.

New Refinements
New Low Prices
plus a 3 YEAR GUARANTEE

IN THESE DAYS of careful buying, General Electric goes more than half way to meet prospective users of electric refrigeration.

Now every purchaser of a General Electric Refrigerator benefits by new advancements—new low prices—and one of the strongest guarantees ever given with a mechanical product.

You get absolute protection, for three long years, against service expense. In addition, you receive more modern refrigeration—complete protection to health and food—reliable performance always.

General Electric's simple sealed-in-steel Monitor Top mechanism is now enhanced by many new features. New sliding shelves, new modern hardware, finger-tip latches, and porcelain lining that resists fruit acids, add to convenience and long life. And with these advantages come an all-steel cabinet, three zones of cold, a handy fast-freezing control and maximum food storage space.

Let us show you how easily you may own a General Electric out of income—with no added expense.

VARIATION IS SPICE

One may travel up and down a city and find no two houses exactly alike unless they be members of a row of dwellings.

The different makes and models of automobiles number into the hundreds.

Women insist that their dresses, coats and hats be exclusive, but neither will two men be found in identical habiliment.

What is true of houses, automobiles and clothes is also true of breakfast foods, furniture, shoes and virtually all of man's possessions.

The reason is obvious. No two people have identical tastes. That which one finds attractive repels another. The person whose discernment you criticize probably thinks even less of yours.

Life would be a monotonous existence but for this conflict of tastes. Nothing bores like uniformity. What interest would the world hold for humanity if every house was built alike, if the choice of the ten million was good enough for the world, if the wardrobe of the modern woman had as little variation as Eve's, if what one wanted everybody wanted?

"THREE BEARS" PRESENTED

3-B and 2-A gave a play, the "Three Bears." The furniture was made by the boys. Charles Book gave the table and the three chairs a coat of shellac. The kindergarten class was invited in to enjoy it with them.

Last week they received a new reading book which, of course, was a thrilling event to those little people. Everyone is working hard to get on the honor roll in arithmetic.

The news was taken from the "Acorn" the 3-B and 2-A class paper.

RIVERTON WINS

The Riverton School basketball team defeated the Hi-Y team last Thursday night with a score of 27 to 21. The boys who played for Riverton were: B. Alloway, F. Alloway, J. Yearly, C. Willis, R. Hahn, E. Hunn and R. Teeple. Those who were on the opposing team were: W. Thackeray, C. Hubbs, J. Sherman, J. Gibson, E. Dunlap and J. Michener. The referee was M. Kirkpatrick, the timekeeper, Earl Rotenbury and the score keepers, David Reed and Philip Mathews. Sherman Gootee was the outstanding player. Both teams enjoyed the sportsmanship of a good game of basketball.

8TH GRADE PRODUCES PLAY

The eighth grade furnished the entertainment in assembly this week.

Spring poems were given by Mary Patterson, Anne Cook and Eleanor Williams.

The two plays which had been given in composition class were volunteered. "Aunt Susan's Mistake" was written by Edith Ridley and Betty Showell. These girls together with Mary Wilson, Mary Patterson, Elizabeth Woolston and Eleanor Williams produced the play.

The second play, the "Cure" was extremely humorous. Edward Paulus took the leading part. Robert McGonigal, Newell Hunn, Edith Ridley, Mary Patterson and Elizabeth Woolston took the other parts. Everyone had a good laugh at this supposedly cured young man.

NICK BEITZ PLANS EUROPEAN VOYAGE

Will Sail Wednesday From New York to Visit Parents in Roumania

Nick Beitz, proprietor of Beitz Shoe Repair Shop and owner of the Palmyra Bowling Alleys will leave on a trip to Europe next Wednesday.

Mr. Beitz, who was born in Europe, will visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Franz Beitz, at Ujhely, Banat Province, Roumania. Six years have passed since he visited his parents, his last trip across the Atlantic being made in the fall of 1924. He did not return to this country until the summer of the next year.

He will sail on the Hamburg-American Line steamer "S. S. Deutschland" from New York, at midnight next Wednesday and expects to arrive in Hamburg about May 9. From there a long railroad journey will take him to his home in Roumania.

After a month's stay with his relatives he will return on the same boat from Hamburg, leaving that place June 11 and arriving in the United States on June 18.

Enroute from Roumania to Hamburg, Mr. Beitz will make stops at Kern, Budapest and Munich. He says he wishes to compare his bowling alleys with some which are now located in Munich.

His arrival at his home town has been timed in order that he might witness a celebraton at Ujhely on May 31. The first church in the village has been completed and ceremonies for its opening will be held on that date. The church and the state have recently been separated and during the time of their union and since their separation religious services have been held in a building used on the other days of the week as a schoolhouse.

When the inhabitants of the town managed to raise sufficient funds a church was built and the ceremonies which Mr. Beitz will attend are those for the dedication of the new edifice.

Mr. Beitz is making the trip about ten months after his brother, Eberhard Beitz, visited the Roumanian homestead. During his absence his business will be managed by his son, Edward Beitz.

Banquet Given by Samaritan Class Friday Evening is Very Successful

Daniel Ross, of Trenton, Who is An Active Y. M. C. A. Worker in That Place Delivers Interesting and Instructive Address

Over sixty persons attended the banquet given by the Samaritan Class of the Central Baptist Sunday School in the social hall of the church last Friday evening.

An address of welcome was given by Charles A. Deitz, the teacher of the class. Joseph G. Seel was the toastmaster of the occasion.

Daniel Ross, the speaker of the evening, was introduced by Wilton E. Mount, the new Palmyra-Riverton Y. M. C. A. secretary.

Mr. Ross, who resides in Trenton and is very active in YMCA work there, is personnel director of the John A. Roebling Sons Company. His talk was very interesting, as well as instructive.

Vocal selections which were greatly enjoyed, were rendered by Richard McMenamin, who was accompanied by Miss Evelyn Waller at the piano.

A humorous sketch, "You're a Cuckoo", was presented. The cast included Kenneth Dimond, president of the class; James M. Weart, the treasurer; Lindsay Little, Mrs. Anna Little, Miss Helene Johnson and Mrs. Violet Seither.

The evening's program was greatly augmented by piano selections, rendered by Dr. Dean H. LeFavor, and a piano and violin duet, by Dr. LeFavor and Richard McMenamin.

PHS SENIORS LEAVE MONDAY ON ANNUAL TRIP TO WASHINGTON

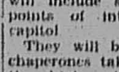

A group of more than ninety Palmyra High School seniors and chaperones will leave Palmyra Monday morning for the annual pilgrimage to Washington.

The trip taken by the students will be of thre days' duration and will include sightseeing tours to all points of interest in the nation's capitol.

They will be accompanied by four chaperones taken from the faculty of the high school. The itinerary of the travelers includes trips to Arlington Cemetery and Mount Vernon, the White House, Congressional Library, Washington Monument, Capitol, Lincoln Memorial, National Museum, Bureau of Printing and Engraving, Pan-American Union, Red Cross Building, Corcoran Art Gallery and other buildings of interest.

A vegetarian cat that delights in drinking coffee and eating carrots, corn, beans, and potatoes, is owned by Isaac Childs of Minot, Me.

COMMUNICATED

Riverton, N. J.
April 21, 1931.

To the Editor of The New Era.
Dear Sir:

In reading last week's Era I see where some kind of a committee is going to put a bronze tablet (or something?) on the grandstand at the ball park in honor and glory for the ex-service men of Riverton, N. J. It may seem wonderful to those who suggested it, and I bet there were very few ex-service men had anything to say about it. It sounds and looks like the bunk to me.

There was a time in this town when a committee of this kind had a wonderful chance to show its appreciation and gratitude towards the ex-vets by helping to establish a home for the James A. Bradley Post of the American Legion. But everything that was suggested by the post was either rejected or the buck was passed on to the other fellow. In face of these facts I openly denounce this bronze plate plan as a diabolical scheme by which in the course of another year the soldiers will be to blame for the expense of that pile of concrete and chicken wire which is called a grand stand. And which is to me a grand stand play to tell the taxpayers it was the cause of the soldiers that spent their taxes and not the borough officials.

If this committee is so anxious to show its gratitude wholeheartedly, why not call a meeting of all the ex-service men in this town and get their views on this subject. As far as I know the ex-service men have forgotten about the war and all that was promised them after it was over, and at the present date have not asked for anything, neither do they want to be saddled with a scheme like the afore mentioned in which they had no say so.

At one time they wanted to give us a NICE NEW SEWERAGE DISPOSAL PLANT which would have been too wonderful for words (mostly bad words). Now it looks like they are trying to add insult to injury.

Out of just a little respect for a well-liked young man who gave his life to the cause, (and in this same man's honor and memory) I established an American Legion Post which fell through because of lack of co-operation on the part of the borough of Riverton at that time.

And in conclusion, in the names of James Bradley, Walter Kennedy, Raymond McGiveney and Charles Kelly, I say if you cannot give them something better and do it more outstandingly and open heartedly don't give them anything.

This letter may cause me to have a few enemies but friends or enemies the more the better of either.

This is a free country and I have had my say so. I had "guts" enough to go over the "big drink" and still some left to voice my opinion of the bronze plan.

FLASHES FROM THE Y. M. C. A.

League To Form at "Y"

Several boys' gangs in different sections of Palmyra and Riverton are seeking ball games with other teams. The "Y" will open a league for all gangs and the game will be playground ball, with outdoor rules. Any teams wishing to enter the league must turn in their names to Secretary Wilton E. Mount on or before Monday of next week. A new heavy wire backstop and new equipment will attract many boys.

Campers' Reunion

May 16 will be a big day at Camp Ockanickon. The County Marble championship will be determined on that date. Campers from past years and lads registering for the coming season will want to be in the reunion to be held at the camp on this day. The trip will be made by bicycle. This "bike hike" will be open to the boys nine years old and up. Mr. Mount, secretary of the "Y" is now working on the details of the trip. Parents desiring further information may call the secretary at Riverton 904.

Hi-Y Clubs Active

Members of the various Hi-Y clubs are sharing their own burdens by being active team members in the Annual Current Expense Campaign. The Junior Hi-Y is nosing out the Senior Hi-Y for high honors in rolling in the dough.

Riverton Tournament

Wednesday of this week, the marble tournament opened at the Riverton Public School. Many boys were registerrd and likewise, many will compete. Since only six can shoot at one time, the contest will be continued until a champ and a runner up will be named. Ted Hunn, president of the student council, and member of the Gra-Y Club, with the aid of other fellows has constructed a first class clay playing ring. The Cinnaminson champ will be named on Tuesday, April 28. The district tournament at the "Y" on May 9.

Black Hawks Meet

At the meeting of the Black Hawks this week, the president, Robert Hahn, discussed the selling of candy. The money raised from this undertaking will be used for any supplies the group might need. A programme committee was appointed as follows: Jack Geiss and John Warren.

LAWRENCE E. WITTE.

Mrs. George Austin, of Austin, Ore., is wondering whether names really have any significance. On a recent Thursday she hired a new farm hand named Friday, who went to work on Friday and quit Saturday. Another man applied for the job and was put to work on Monday. When asked his name he said it was Monday.

LOCAL CHURCH NEWS

EPWORTH METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Rev. Ira S. Pimm, B. D., Pastor

Sunday evening at 7:45 we will have as our guests the Fraternal Order of Odd Fellows. Space will be reserved for these men who will sit in a body during the service. The pastor will preach a special sermon for the occasion.

The Church School convenes at 10:00 a. m. The attendance is still on the upgrade, each Sunday reaching well over the record attendance of last year. There were 73 present at the Wesleyan's Men's Bible Class last Sunday. You are invited to join our school. Our classes are adapted to all ages from the Cradle Roll to the oldest adult.

The theme of our morning worship at 11 o'clock will be "Rusting Grace." The choir will sing "Let Not Your Heart be Troubled", by Foster. Mrs. Rachel Lord at the console will play as a prelude, "Andante in G" by Batiste; offertoire, "Andantino" by Lemare; postlude "Adagio" by Gounod. The music in the evening includes prelude, "Serenade" by Schubert; offertoire, "Berceuse" by Delille; postlude, "Fanfare" by Dubois. The choir will sing "Vesper Prayer" by Jones.

The Guild will meet in the guild room on next Thursday evening. All women are invited.

Wednesday evening we continue our study of the Apostles at the midweek service with "The Man of Decision." You cannot afford to miss this helpful hour.

EPISCOPAL

Rev. G. J. McCormack Rector.

"Had I but served my God, as I have served my king, he would not have let my gray hairs come down in sorrow to the grave."

Cardinal Wolsey is the classical instance of mistaken emphasis.

There are many who give their allegiance to all sorts of things and societies before they give it to God.

It is really a lack of judgment in respect to the values of life, for a man is going to give his best effort, his time, his money, to the society he values most, and in this respect "the enemy of the best is always the second best."

Are you giving your effort to the second best? The Cardinal found out too late, but he left a striking warning, which should help us all.

"Seek ye first the kingdom of God" —and all other necessary things will come in due order.

The Woman's Auxiliary will meet on Monday in the parish house at 2:30 p. m.

The presentation of the Children's Lenten offering will take place for the Burlington district in St. Paul's Church, Camden, Saturday, April 25.

The Federal Council of Churches reports an increase of seventeen thousand Episcopalians for the year 1930.

This is encouraging, but not very amazing. Some warriors have forgotten to buckle on their armor. Maybe they don't even know there is a fight.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"PROBATION AFTER DEATH" will be the subject of the Lesson Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, April 26, 1931.

The Golden Text is: "The Lord knoweth the days of the upright: and their inheritance shall be forever." (Psalms 37:18)

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Behold, I show you a mystery; We shall not all sleep, but shall be changed. For this corruptible must put on incorruption, and this mortal must put on immortality." (1 Corinthians 15:51-53).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "We know that all will be changed in the twinkling of an eye" when the last trump shall sound, but this last call of wisdom cannot come till mortals have already yielded to each lesser call in the growth of Christian character." (p. 291).

Gaskill—Hullings

The marriage of Miss Ruth D. Hullings, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hullings, of Bridgeboro, and John O. Gaskill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar R. Gaskill, of Linden street, Moorestown, was solemnized in the parsonage of the Methodist Episcopal Church, Moorestown, on Saturday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. The Rev. Frederick B. Morley, pastor, officiated.

The bride was very attractively dressed in pink chiffon gown and wore a white picture hat. Her shower bouquet was of white roses.

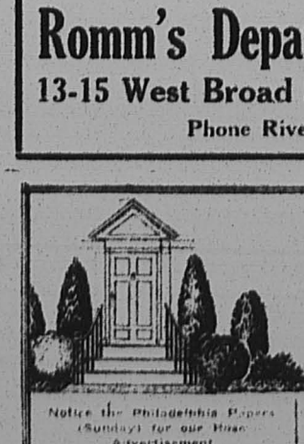

Miss Eleanor H. Hart, of West Third street, Moorestown, was maid of honor. She wore a blue chiffon dress and black hat, and carried pink snapdragons.

Royden M. Hullings, brother of the bride, was best man.

Only members of the immediate families were present at the wedding ceremony and the reception which followed at the home of the bride's parents.

Upon their return from a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Gaskill will reside at 315 Collins avenue, Moorestown.

After playing bridge for 60 hours, Miss Jessie Sheisle, of San Francisco, walked home and sat down to do some sewing.

Time After Time Konjola Wins When All Else Tried Proved a Disappointment.

The experience of Mr. Albert Chase, 2605 E. 38th street, Little Rock, Ark., is significant. He says: "I became weak and nervous because of stomach and kidney disorders. For a month my feet were so swollen I could not wear my shoes. I bloated badly after meals and became short of breath. Konjola soon corrected my stomach ailment and the swelling left my feet. I am now able to do light work again."

Mr. Albert Chase

Now consider carefully what Mrs. J. C. Rawls, 217 East Fourth street, Little Rock, Ark., has to say: "I suffered for years with stomach trouble. Constipation and weakened kidneys added to my misery. I began taking Konjola and in two months time I felt like another person. Konjola completely relieved me and I shall always praise it."

3 CANDIDATES ENTER RACE FOR PALMYRA MAYOR

Councilman C. Nevin Buchholz Latest to Enter Race for Nomination

LAMON AND GALLOWAY ACTIVE IN CAMPAIGN

Mayor George N. Wimer Becomes Candidate for Vacancy in Council

Palmyra's local political situation developed further this week with the announcement of another candidate for Mayor and the news that the present mayor, George N. Wimer, would be a candidate for Borough Council.

Councilman C. Nevin Buchholz is the latest candidate for the Mayoralty to succeed Mr. Wimer. He has been a member of borough council since the death of his father, the late Charles F. Buchholz, who passed away while a member of the council manic body.

Mr. Buchholz has been especially interested in the financial affairs of borough council during his incumbency and has developed a reputation for much efficiency in such matters.

Various citizens thought the vacancy in council caused by Councilman Buchholz's seeking the Mayoralty should be filled by a man experienced in borough affairs and Mayor Wimer was asked to be a candidate. The Mayor conferred with other members of council at the regular meeting Tuesday evening and was prevailed upon to accept.

Councilman Floyd W. Spahr is a candidate to succeed himself for the other councilmanic nomination to be made this year.

Two Cleveland Avenue men are the other candidates for the Mayor's office.

Walter D. Lamon, an active member of the school board, announced his candidacy last week. Mr. Lamon has been prominent in the affairs of the town for several years past and is making an energetic bid for the nomination.

The third candidate is Robert G. Galloway, who has made no formal announcement as yet, but who is said to be making an active canvass for votes.

It is rumored Mr. Galloway is running on what might be termed something of an "open Sunday" platform, advocating that such things as miniature golf and baseball games be permitted in Palmyra on Sunday.

Having three candidates for Mayor no doubt will enliven Palmyra politics considerably the next few weeks.

Joseph L. Stack had entered the race for member of council, after his name had been advanced at a meeting held last Friday evening, but later reconsidered and issued the following statement:

To the Citizens of Palmyra:

Dear Friends:—

At a meeting of some of my friends, my name was suggested as a candidate for the position of Council in the Borough of Palmyra. After due consideration I feel that my business interests will prevent me from giving the time and attention that would be required of me. I have therefore decided not to permit my name to be placed in nomination at the coming primary in May.

Very truly yours,
JOS. L. STACK.

CAIN REAPPOINTED

MOVIE BENEFIT FOR SCHOOL NEWSPAPER

"Palmyra" Sponsors Show Held in Palmyra Theatre Last Night and Tonight

Ronald Colman in "The Devil to Pay" is the feature for the "Palmyrian" movie benefit held last night and tonight in the "Broadway Palace," for the "Palmyrian", Palmyra High School newspaper.

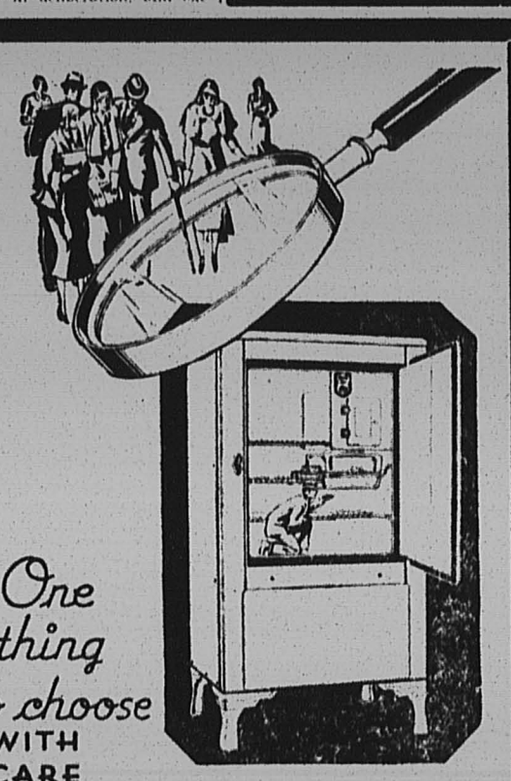

Taking the part of the carefree and irresponsible son of a wealthy English Lord, Ronald Colman gives his finest portrayal of years. After various supposed love affairs, he falls in love with the young and beautiful daughter of a wealthy manufacturer. Loretta Young takes the part of the object of his true affections. Her father is opposed to the match and threatens to disinherit her if she marries such a frivolous person. Ronald Colman manages to laugh himself out of his troubles, and everything turns out as the public would have it.

The committee chosen to select the movie for the benefit spent much time in deliberation, and succeeded in getting a picture that will suit everyone.

Pitman	0	1	28

Friday's Result

Palmyra, 45; Merchantville, 14.

This Week's Schedule

Wednesday—Haddon Heights vs. Palmyra.

Thursday—Merchantville vs. Pitman.

Displaying the same form which carried them to three successive championships, the Palmyra High School girls outdistanced the Merchantville High mermaids in the six racing events and then placed second and third in the diving to romp away with the swimming meet held last Friday in the Camden Y.W.C.A. pool, the final tabulation reading 45-14.

In addition to capturing first places in all but one of the events, the Palmyra swimmers garnered three runner-up positions and two third places in the races, besides placing in the diving.

The overwhelming victory for the "Pals" can be credited to the performances of Cecilia Baker and Mary Mac Anulty "Sis" Baker, without being hard pushed by her opponents, set a new league record in the twenty-yard free style event when she was clocked in 10-3-5 seconds.

This record was equalled by the activity of Mary MacAnulty, who, during the afternoon, placed first in the 20-yard breast stroke and third in the diving event.

By winning, the Pals jumped from fifth place in the league to within easy striking distance of the leaders. Haddon Heights or Palmyra will drop from the ranks of the undefeated this week when they meet in the Camden pool. Collingswood although defeated once leads the league in points scored, having tallied 108 points in three meets. The "Heighters" have registered 96 points in two contest while Palmyra has chalked up 76 in a pair of encounters.

Summaries:

20 yard novice race—Won by Miss Habfast, Palmyra; second, Miss Paulander, Merchantville; third, Miss Rhoades, Palmyra. Time—14 1-5 seconds.

20-yard free style—Won by Cecelia Baker, Palmyra; second, Miss Ayres, Palmyra; Miss Humphries, Merchantville. Time—10 3-5 seconds.

(new league record)

20-yard breast stroke—Won by Miss Sippel, Palmyra; second, Miss MacAnulty, Palmyra; third, Miss Broogher, Merchantville. Time—19 3-5 seconds.

20-yard back stroke—Won by Miss MacAnulty, Palmyra; second, Miss Meltzner, Palmyra; third, Miss Chance, Merchantville. Time—16 4-5 seconds.

80-yard relay — Won by Palmyra Misses Myers, Ayres, Wise and Showell). Time—52 seconds flat.

Side stroke for form—Won by Miss Myer, Palmyra; 2d, Miss Broogher, Merchantville; third, Miss Parry, Palmyra.

Diving—Won by Libby Ferg, Merchantville; second, Miss Parry, Palmyra; third, Miss MacAnulty, Palmyra.

The following boys will participate in the one-mile Senior High South Jersey relay:—John Barton, Menton Kohl, Henry Paulson, Benjamin Cooper and first alternate Henry Lippincott.

CHIEF CHARLEY SUN HAWK WILL RACE AT LANGHORNE

Chief Charley Sun Hawk, the first full blooded Indian chieftain ever to tempt the whims of Lady Fate along the gasoline trail, will compete with "big time" jockeys on the Langhorne speedway May 2 in the opening auto race of the season.

HARDY PERENNIALS

The perennial border is now an established feature in the home ground, says Mr. W. O. Hird, of I. N. Simon & Son, 436-38 Market Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Care should be exercised in preparing a new border. The bed should be dug about 12 or 15 inches deep and a liberal quantity of plant food thoroughly worked in, as the perennials are gross feeders and require plenty of food. For best results three plants of a variety should be grouped together and the planting should be arranged according to the different heights and colors. Perennial beds should be kept well cultivated at all times.

P. T. A. RECITAL GREAT SUCCESS

William H. Plank, of H. S. Faculty, Leads Discussion of Child Study Group

The Palmyra Parent-Teacher Association was most fortunate in being able to present two talented members of the Lester Ensemble at the meeting in the high school auditorium Tuesday evening.

The artists, Joseph Wissow and Elwood Weeser, delighted a large audience. Mr. Wissow, who is a renowned pianist, and has appeared in Europe, as well as in all parts of this country, Mr. Weeser is a well-known baritone, and was assisted by Miss Virginia Snyder at the piano.

The attendance banner was awarded Miss Mary B. Egan's class.

Announcement was made of the Summer Roundup and examination of pre-school children, which will begin the first week in May. That week has been designated as Child Health Week, and is being observed throughout the United States.

William H. Plank, of the high school faculty, conducted a meeting of the child study group, previous to the P. T. A. meeting.

The topic which he discussed was "Boys' Rooms," and proved very interesting, as well as instructive. The large number of fathers present was very gratifying.

P. O. S. of A. NOTES

The new degree team under the leadership of Wilbert Jones initiated a class of seven candidates on Monday night by a splendid exhibition of the ritualistic work. They will repeat with another class on May 11th.

Those who wish to attend the service on April 26 at State Chaplain Amer's church, can secure accommodations by conferring with the committee in charge, Jessup, Jackson and Seeber. Automobiles will leave P. O. S. of A. Hall at 9 a. m. Distance to Pennington is thirty-five miles.

The final pinochle tournament of the Spring term will be held on April 27. The Atlantic County Association meets in Atlantic City on April 30 and they have invited our members to join with them at this time.

Church service at Palmyra M. E. Church, May 17th; annual reunion May 18th.

TRI-HY CLUB ACTIVITIES OF THE WEEK

At the regular weekly meeting of the High School group of the Y.W.C.A., Thursday, the activities of the week were discussed.

Swimming was one of the main topics under discussion and it was at first decided to enjoy a swim at Moorestown on Monday, but this was changed when the motion was carried for all the girls to attended the basketball game Tuesday night at Mount Holly. Twenty-five girls are expected to attend this big event.

Miss Jewell mentioned the state meeting at Moorestown, May 8. The girls are now rehearsing the part which they will take in the program, which it is hoped will be of interest to all members who attend.

As Mary Rhoades, the leader of the group who was to be in charge of the evening's program, was absent, we were unable to have the complete program. Catharine McAnulty read, "Where Love Is, There God Is Also."

The business meeting was then adjourned.

A few games, which Miss Jewell introduced in her usual entertaining manner, were played.

H. SACKS COMPLETES STUDIES AT WHARTON SCHOOL OF U. OF P.

Harris Sacks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sacks, of 113 West Broad street, Palmyra, is among the seniors of the Wharton School of Finance and Commerce of the University of Pennsylvania, who have completed studies for the research department of that institution.

Sacks has made a study of "Analysis of the Banking Market" for the Corporation Finance group of the Wharton School, in which he is specializing. He is a member of the Zeta Betz Tau Fraternity.

Prior to entering the University of Pennsylvania Sacks attented Mercersburgh Academy, where he was active in student life.

Senior research of the type in which Sacks engaged, is one of the most important features of the Wharton School curriculum, each member of the graduating class being required to complete, successfully, a piece of original business research before receiving his diploma. During the current year, approximately 500 students were given a foretaste of actual business problems in this fashion.

A GOOD place to stop, the Tioga, 116 St. James Place, Atlantic City, N. J. One half block from beach, between New York and Tennessee avenues. Steam heat, running water. C. S. Pancoast.

WANTED:—Garden work, lawns and hedges cared for. Also assist in house painting. Distribution of circulars, cards, posters or advertising of any kind. 35c or 40c per hour. Ed Rivers, 5 Delaware avenue, Phone Riverton 607.

BUSINESS BUILT ON ADVERTISING

Konjola President Gives Newspapers Credit for Growth of Company

Any young man who can run $2,000 into a half-dozen million dollars in seven years must have personality, color and backgeround.

The man who accomplished this financial feat is Gilbert G. Mosby, president of Konjola, Inc., producers and distributors of Konjola medicinal products.

Recently a magazine writer interviewed Mosby, and went away charmed with the simplicity of the man whose business achievement has been the marvel of many. This interviewer wrote in part.

"I had been talking to Mr. Mosby following a tour of the Cincinnati plant of the medicine company which bears his name. Somehow I was unable to separate the phenomenal success of Konjola from the driving personality of its originator. I remembered having heard about him that his faith in advertising was matched only by his faith in himself.

"How much of the money represented by your sales do you spend in printer's ink?" I asked him.

"Most of it he answered unhesitatingly.

"He called in his chief bookkeeper. Here are the actual figures for 1929: Gross sales, $4,500,000; advertising disbursement, $2,000,000.

It would have been almost incredible except for the black and white evidence. The Mosby company is represented in the advertising columns of 3,700 newspapers. Its advertising in New York City alone amounts to $35,000 a month.

"I said it struck me as a decided business romance, this development from shoestring to multimillions in seven years. Mr. Mosby chuckled.

"My feet are still on the ground he said. I've hardly started. Why, we are going up into Canada and down into Mexico inside another year."

"An adventure." Of course it's an adventure. Every business enterprise is. But I have the men in my organization to do it. Their vision equals mine."

Why has Mr. Mosby succeeded where so many others have failed? Leaving out the factor of the merits of his product what has put Mr. Mosby into the heights of achievement? Other proprietary medicine manufactures have courage and vision.

There is intense interest in a personality like Mr. Mosby's. I would say that absolute confidence would explain nine-tenths of his success. This, plus an enormous capacity for work and a willingness to give his subordinate executives full sway in their own departments, will account for Mr. Mosby's seven-league boots record in seven years.

"A manufacturing concern is known by its distributing agencies," Mr. Mosby said. "In that respect our policy is inflexible. We seek outlet through channels of influence and prestige. That's good business."

Another thing about Mr. Mosby is his utter simplicity, and his business-like simplicity is reflected throughout the organization. Everything moves serenely, swiftly, quietly. Things are done. The door to Mr. Mosby's handsomely furnished private office is always open. He can be "seen" any minute of the day on business.

What did this energetic, quick thinking young man (he is just 42) do when the depression came on? Did he sit down and twiddle his thumbs and look lugubrious? He certainly did not, but started to evolve plans to increase business by the simple, sane and sensible process of going after it.

One of the first steps for the growth of 1931 business was to enter Florida, with a branch office in Miami and with demonstration men in six of the state's principal cities.

Mr. Mosby has often been referred to as a "wizard." This always brings a laugh from him.

"I get a grin out of this wizard business," he declared. If hard work, consistent, persistent and truthful advertising are the attributes of a wizard, then perhaps I am one. There is no mystery, no magic about the amazing success of Konjola.

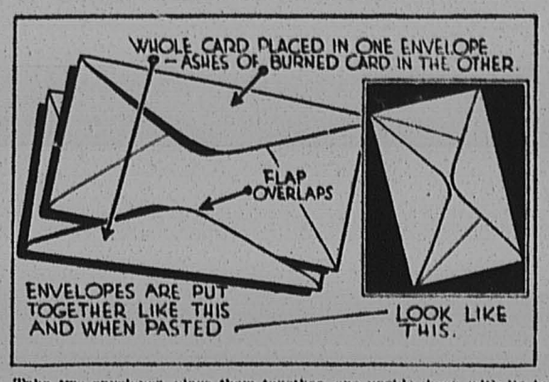

In suing for a divorce, Mrs. Pearl Kaiser of Brooklyn, introduced photographs of her husband with various girls, as evidence in court.

Clarence Johnson, of Chicago, became angry and hit Lillian Culle in the face with a custard pie when she refused to accept a kiss instead of money in exchange for a forget-me-not on tag day.

TRICKS of MAGIC EXPLAINED by Will L. Lindhorst

CLEVER TRICK WITH MAGIC ENVELOPES

Take two envelopes, place them together, one upside down with its back to the face of the other. Let the flap of one envelope overlap the back of the other, so that both flaps are on the back of one envelope. Then carefully paste the envelopes together, smoothing the edges so they appear as one. Now take two identical cards from a pinochle deck, place one in one of the envelopes, which is then sealed and a tiny identification mark placed upon it. Put the other card on top of the pack, and appear before your audience. Ask some one to take this card from the top of the pack, burn it, and place the ashes in the envelope, the flap of which is open. Seal the envelope, say a few magic words, open it on the side where you have placed the mark, and lo! the burned card is taken out whole. Of course, the card taken out is the one previously placed in the envelope.

Men's Club Will Hear Illustrated Talk by New Jersey State Trooper With Scenes of Training Camp

The men of Palmyra and Riverton are offered a treat tonight when they are given an opportunit to hear a talk on State Police training, as carried on by the New Jersey authorities.

The committee in charge of the program for the Men's Club have obtained Sergeant Albert O. Zarrelman, superintendent of the New Jersey State Police training camp at Wilburtha. His talk will be illustrated with slides and motion pictures taken at the camp.

Sergeant Zarrelman is coming to Palmyra in the place of Colonel Norman H. Schwarzkopf who was asked to speak at the men's meeting.

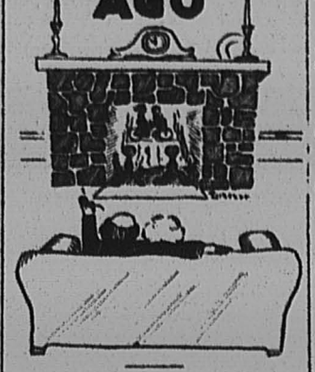

Another special feature of the program will be musical selections rendered by Robert Hudduck and his orchestra. Hudack is well known in Palmyra where he teaches several music pupils, and his large orchestra has been heard in the community several times before. Because of the somewhat limited space in the YMCA building he will bring only six of his musicians with him tonight.

The meeting will be presided over by the newly-elected president of the club, William T. J. Purnell. Wilton E. Mount, general secretary of the "Y", says the organization is still in the process of forming, and this will be the last chance for men of the two towns to be enrolled as charter members.

The officials of the group wish to make it plain that this meeting has no connection whatever with the current finance campaign, and topics pertaining to the drive will not be discussed. Such discussions will be handled at the meeting of the board of directors directly before the meeting of the Men's Club.

Miss Bessie Walnut, of Philadelphia, was the guest of Miss Fannie Fell this week.

The supper given by the Ladies' Aid Society of the Presbyterian Church on the 12th cleared $94.00.

John R. Parry and family are expected back from Orlando, Fla., next Friday, May 3. He reports excellent weather down there.

William B. Miller superintendent of the River Shore Gas Company, will leave next week and accept a position in the South.

When his guests didn't take the hint that he was getting sleepy, Frank Stephens, of Chicago, took a revolver and began shooting.

PHI NU CLASS

The result of true prayer is justification. Although times have changed and the need for prayer is deemed not so urgent—in reality it is as much needed today as it was fifty years ago. "How to pray" is the subject for the lesson April 26th at the Presbyterian Sunday School. Your views on this subject will be welcomed.

Last Sunday Mrs. T. R. Gardener gave a very interesting talk on "Japanese Religion and Home Life."

Our meeting was called to order by our president, Sherman Gootee. Then Harry Turner led us in prayer.

After this we collected dues. We then had a short discussion on old and new business and following that we went to the gymnasium to play the games we liked best.

First was basketball, and then tag with the medicine ball and then we adjourned.

HARRY TURNER, Reporter.

SCOUTMASTERS' DINNER, MAY 4

County Scout Officials Will be Guests of Riverton Troop

Riverton Scouts are hard at work getting ready for the Scout Masters dinner which is to take place in the new Troop Headquarters on Monday evening, May 4, and also for the play which is to be given by the Drexel Hill Players in the auditorium of the Parish House, Christ Church, Riverton, on Friday evening May 15.

The Scout Masters' dinner, of course, is of interest only to the Scout officials of the county, but the play which is to be given by the Drexel Hill Players is of most general interest to everybody.

"The Mollusc" is a very amusing comedy and the Drexel Hill Players have given it a number of times with great success. It is to be hoped that not only the friends and parents of the Troop will be present but also everybody in Riverton and Palmyra who is interested in enjoying a most delightful evening of entertainment.

The scout work of the Troop is progressing rapidly. Signalling continues to be the major activity, but the other phases of scouting are not being neglected. The six patrols are hard at work fitting out their patrol sections in the new headquarters. One patrol has even obtained a rug for the floor of its section.

There is another phase of scouting which has heretofore been necessarily neglected in Riverton while more immediate problems were being solved. This phase is the Cub Scout program. Cub Scouting is designed to assist younger boys to obtain such benefits from scouting as are adaptable to boys of their age and also to act as a feeder for the regular scout organization.

Cub Packs are made up of boys from nine to twelve years of age, twelve being the minimum age limit for entrance into the regular scout organization. The Cub program is somewhat similar to the scout program, but is of course much less advanced and is adapted to the strength and ability of the younger boys. The Cubs wear a uniform, but this, also, is designed for younger boys and is much less expensive than the regular scout uniform. Good exclamations of satisfaction from the fathers of the Cubs!

Riverton needs a Cub Pack. There are many boys between the ages of nine and twelve who are counting the days and almost the hours until they shall be old enough to become scouts. A number of these boys who are approaching twelve, actually hang around the scout meeting whenever possible. It is these boys that need Cub Scouting, both for their own development and the future development of the regular Troop.

A leader is necessary. The Cub program is not as strenuous or as extensive as the scout program, and so the leadership of a Cub Pack may safely be taken on by a man whose time is too limited to permit him to become a Scout Master or even Assistant Scout Master. Ordinarily Cub packs meet early Monday evening for a short session, and this is the only meeting of the week.

It is to be hoped that one or more Riverton men will volunteer to assist in this most interesting and worthwhile contribution to the life of the community. The Cub leader should preferably be the father of a boy because then he will understand boys' problems.

Any man desiring to learn more about this program, and any parent who has a young son between nine and twelve, is urged to get in touch with Mr. Alexander B. Garwood, the Scout Master of Troop 50 of Riverton at the earliest opportunity.

Scouting is on a firm basis in Riverton. To realize the fullness of its program the Cub Pack is necessary so that a boy can start in at the age of nine, go along progressing and learning until he is twelve; then advance through the ranks of regular scouting until, when he is fifteen or sixteen, he is capable of graduating into ranks of Sea-Scouts or into the higher Non-Commissioned grades of Land Scouts. From then on there is no limit to his usefulness in Scouting because it is understood that "Once a Scout, always a Scout."

K. OF C. PLANS CARD PARTY AND LECTURE

Recognized Authority on Immigration To Address Public Gathering on May 5

On Tuesday, May 5, at 9:00 p. m. St. Joseph's Council will present at an open meeting Hon. Charles V. Mallet, who will deliver a lecture on "Immigration." The general public is cordially invited to attend this free lecture. Mr. Mallet has given many lectures during his 20 years in the government service, and St. Joseph's Council is indeed fortunate in securing a man of this calibre to lecture on this timely subject.

The response to the card party and dance to be held on next Monday, May 4, at the K. of C. hall has been much greater than anticipated by the committee in charge. To date 79 beautiful prizes have been collected by the ladies' committee, with many more promised, among which are plants, art needlework, smokers stands etc. Pinochle, five hundred and bridge will commence promptly at 8:30 o'clock, at the same time the Original Commanders consisting of five pieces of music will render their selections for the dancers assembled on the upper floor.

SCHMIERER GIVES FIRE CO. PRAISE

Riverton Boys Answer Call Within Five Minutes After Alarm

Wednesday morning about 3:00 o'clock Mrs. Wm. H. Schmierer, Moorestown road, Riverton, was awakened by the odor of burning rubber. She called Mr. Schmierer who upon looking out of the window found the car of Miss Grace Bauer, a neighbor, on fire in the driveway.

The car, a Ford coupe, was only a few feet from the house and was burning briskly. Mr Schmierer fought the blaze while Mrs. Schmierer phoned the Riverton Fire Company.

Gootee and Robinson arrived in the police car and finished the fire, which Mr. Schmierer had practically extinguished, with the extinguisher on the police car.

The fact that the Riverton Fire Company arrived at the scene five minutes after the alarm was first sent out is a point which Mr. Schmierer feels cannot be too highly praised. Mrs. Schmierer noted boys from East Riverton on the truck and in no uncertain terms voiced the opinion that Riverton had a fire company of which it can be justly proud.

EDWARD WALLACE IS MARBLE CHAMP

"Eagle Beak" Wallace and Brother, Robert, Win First and Second Places

Wednesday afternoon the Evening Bulletin marbles contest was played or shot off at the Riverton Grammar School.

The contestants were closely matched and through the process of elimination Edward (Eagle Beak) Wallace took first place and his brother, Robert Wallace, took second, defeating in the finals Newel Hunn, Warren Blyler, John Willis and Arthur Burns.

The contest was staged under the supervision of Mr. Mount, local "Y" secretary.

COME ON, RIVERTON!

On Saturday of this week, Riverton A. A. will meet Moorestown at Memorial Park for the opening game of the Burlington County Baseball League.

Heretofore baseball in Riverton has struggled along barely making expenses, and in some years fallen sadly behind financially. Whatever the reason or reasons for this might have been, let us forget them and review the situation as it stands today.

Riverton enjoys the unique position of owning unquestionably the finest ball park in the county. It is, with the addition of the new grand stand, the best equipped field hereabouts, and with regard to scenic beauty the park is second to none.

The team this year will be composed largely of Riverton players, and instead of a hit-or-miss schedule and the disappointments that go with it—Riverton is playing in a county schedule which is published this week.

Now—it costs money to run a ball club—it takes good sports to assume the responsibility—BUT it also takes a grandstand full (and some more besides) of good sports to make it a success both financially and from the sport viewpoint.

Riverton—we have the tools to work with—are we going to use them? I'll say we are—LET'S go—Saturday.

ATTRACTIVE WINDOW

The old chair and table used in the display were loaned by Mrs. Sloan, of Harrison street, and are each over one hundred and thirty years old.

The family Bible, so rarely seen nowadays in such a size, is owned by the Keating's and is over one hundred years old.

The whole arrangement of the window causes many to stop and feast upon the old fashioned simplicity that arouses pleasant memories.

ROBINSON BUSY MAKING ARRESTS

Reckless and Drunken Drivers Finding Riverton a Poor Place to Drive

Officer John Robinson, of the Riverton police force, will soon be as popular as the proverbial mother-in-law, among the motorists of Eastern United States, if he continues his vigilant drive against drunken and reckless motorists. Possibly, later editions of the New Jersey road maps published by protective automobile clubs will have Riverton printed in red with a sign marked "Detour—Robinson."

On the other hand Officer Gootee might lose a lot of popularity votes since he has been named Deputy Collector of delinquent personal taxes, and especially when he sallies forth with a handful of bills, warrants and commitments on a collection drive.

Last Friday, Officer Robinson arrested Carrie Asby, of Burlington, on a charge of reckless driving. In a hearing before Police Recorder Cecil A. Bowers she was released on a suspended sentence.

Sunday, April 26, Robinson arrested John W. Sawyer, of Philadelphia, on a charge of reckless driving and when taken before Bowers the defendant was fined $10 and $1 costs.

John Paul Worthington, a lad of 12 years, was picked up by Robinson at Seventh and Main streets at 12:45 a. m., Wednesday. Upon questioning it was found that he had run away from the Vineland Training School for Boys last Friday. The Vineland authorities called for the boy Wednesday.

Millard S. Simms, of 1821 Green street, Philadelphia, was arrested Tuesday night at 10:50 by Robinson for driving his Hudson sedan under the influence of intoxicating liquor. Taken before Dr. H. L. Rogers he was pronounced drunk. Police Recorder Bowers fined him $200 and $21 costs, in default of which he was committed to the Mt. Holly jail.

AMBULANCE ASSN. TO HOLD DRIVE

Annual Cake Sale, Tag Day and Donation Day to Take Place Saturday

The Palmyra Ambulance Association will hold its annual cake sale and tag day Saturday.

This day is also known as the annual donation day and any person desiring to contribute to the upkeep of the ambulance may do so at this time. Checks should be made payable to the Palmyra Ambulance Association and should be mailed to the president, George N. Wimer, 15 East Broad street, Palmyra.

All ambulance cases in Palmyra, Riverton and Cinnaminson are taken free and this is the only way which the association has to raise money from year to year.

Owing to the ill health of the treasurer of the organization last year, the annual tag day was not held and the association has had only the contributions of interested persons to carry them through the past year.

The committee in charge of the sale and drive is most anxious to make this event a success and is asking for the hearty support of the townspeople in this worthwhile project.

The cake sale will be held on Mayor Wimer's porch, 15 East Broad street. Everyone is urged to give and buy. The ambulance association will be exceedingly grateful.

CARD PARTY AND DANCE

This Saturday night everybody and his uncle will be present at the Riverton Fire Company dance and card party. Children under three years of age will not be admitted unless accompanied by their parents.

The Rainbow Ramblers will manufacture the rythm that will raise "Duck Bumps" on a petrified mummy.

Better sign up your "One and Only" and be on hand to enjoy the hospitality that only the Riverton Fire Company knows how to offer.

We are not sure of it but we think "Popeye the Sailor" will be there—that means the party will surely be a knockout.

Don't forget it—May 2nd—2nd—2nd—2nd—2nd—at the FIRE HOUSE!

WILLIAMS OUT FOR ASSEMBLY

Edward R. Williams, former member of Riverton Borough Council, and for many years Director of Public Safety, has tossed his sombrero into the political ring as candidate for Assembly on the Republican ticket.

In announcing his candidacy, Mr. Williams said he thought the river-front section of the county should have a representative in the legislative halls of the state, which it has not had in the Assembly since Warren C. Pine served in the Lower House in 1910-11.

SUMMER ROUND-UP IN CINNAMINSON SCHOOLS

Four Days Are Devoted to Pre-School Child; Nurses and Doctor Help

Cinnaminson School finds four days this week devoted to the Pre-School Clinic.

Dr. Rogers, the nurses, P. T. A. members, who furnished transportation, several eighth grade girls, helping with the little ones, interested mothers, and unfrightened children. Surely, health education has made long strides since the day five years ago, when our devoted president first visited the homes and had to coax unwilling mothers to bring their tiny children to the "Summer Round Up."

Arbor day in the school was observed by appropriate exercises. A program, neatly typed and bound, included among such subjects as "Trees, Shade, Leaves, Nebraska Leads the Way," two choruses, one, Joyce Kilmer's, "Trees." The other, a hymn for Arbor Day.

The tree planted, a Norway Maple, was dedicated to Miss Bryan.

'MEMORY TEASER' IS NOT KNOWN

No One Recalled Mrs. James Girton, Pictured in Last Week's Teaser Contest

The following account of the celebration of the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Girton is taken from the October 26, 1900, issue of The New Era:

James Girton and wife celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding at the home of their son-in-law, Dr. Charles S. Voorhis, on the 18th inst. (Year of 1900). The house was prettily decorated with potted plants and cut flowers, and the occasion was enlivened by music, several of the grandchildren presiding at the piano in turn.

The gifts were numerous and chiefly of gold.

Besides three brothers and four sisters with their families there were present all the children and grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. Girton, together with many other relatives and friends.

The occasion was one that will dwell long in the memories of those who had the good fortune to be present.

At the recent election of the International Relations Club, an honorary club at Brenau College, Gainesville, Ga., Miss Gladys Funk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Funk of 202 Fulton street, Riverton, was chosen a member.

BURY AUTO VICTIM

Dead Man's Sister Located in Brooklyn By Police

Leo Goodwin, 33 years old, who was killed when a car in which he and a woman companion were riding upset at Broad street and Thomas avenue, Riverton, Saturday, April 18th, was buried at Northwood Cemetery, Philadelphia, last Friday by Funeral Director Jerome J. Zisak, Jr.

He was survived by his sister, Isabel Mataska, of Brooklyn, who was located through the efforts of Officer Gootee and the New Jersey State Police. A complete description of the victim was on record in police headquarters when he was reported as a missing person in 1929.

Services were held in the Northwood Chapel for Goodwin who was also a World War veteran.

ARTHUR CARABINE MAY BE DISMISSED

Appointment for One Month is Looked Upon as Significant; Friction Denied

Much conjecture was caused by the fact that Arthur Carabine, assistant detective, was re-appointed for one month only by Prosecutor Howard Eastwood in his communication to the Burlington County Board of Freeholders last Friday. Clifford Cain, also a member of the detective force, was appointed for one year.

Rumors are current that Carabine may be dropped from the force owing to friction with Detective Ellis H. Parker, but this is emphatically denied by Parker.

Freeholder James McCormick, director of bridges, recommended the reconstruction of a bridge over Pensauken Creek on Pleasant Valley avenue, Moorestown, and the clerk was instructed to advertise for bids.

Under resolutions presented by Freeholder Stout, the Public Service was granted permission to erect 36 poles between Mount Holly and Smithville and 115 poles on the Vincentown-Buddtown road.

A letter was received from the Chambersburg General Hospital, at Trenton, asking if the board would pay for charity patients from Burlington County. It was stated that a number of such patients had applied at the hospital. The communication was referred to the director of public institutions for a report.

A bill of Harry Borden, of $26.75, for damages done to his car while driving over a county road in the course of reconstruction, was referred to the county solicitor.

The Burlington County Social Club, of Riverside, in a communication to the board, recommended that the freeholders arrange to use Camden County Detention Home or some similar institution for juvenile offenders. The communication was received and filed.

The following department bills were ordered paid: Finance, $1,397.56; Roads, $7,227.70; Bridges, $6,915.55; Buildings, $9,598.90; Affairs, $8,936.79.

DURYEE SPEAKER AT ROTARY CLUB

N. J. Secretary of Agriculture Spoke of the Milk Situation in New Jersey

Rotarians at their last meeting were treated to a review of the New Jersey milk situation as told by the New Jersey Secretary of Agriculture, Wm. B. Duryee, the speaker of the evening.

Secretary Duryee in his opening remarks set forth very clearly the value of milk as a food, and then discussed the legislation, or rather lack of legislation, affecting the milk industry in this state.

Most of the members present were surprised to learn that, of the milk consumed annually in New Jersey, a large percentage is necessarily imported from outside the state, with some coming from as far as Canada and Iowa.

One of the distressing features of the present legislation controlling the milk industry here is the absence of a law requiring imported milk to measure up to the milk produced within our borders, which is controlled by our laws with regard to butter fat content, bacterial count and other standards which insure quality and cleanliness in Jersey produced milk.

Mr. Duryee also revealed that New Jersey was without legislation establishing a legal grade for "A" and "B" milk, a situation which some producers are capitalizing. He explained that some unscrupulous dealers are placing "A" caps on "B" grade bottles and are securing an increased price for milk so labeled.

He concluded his talk by expressing the hope that the near future would find laws on our statute books that would protect the New Jersey producers and insure an even quality of milk for the consumers.

The Rotary Club invited a number of farmers from around the surrounding territory as their guests to hear Secretary Duryee's most interesting talk.

Following the address the boys' week program was discussed and it was decided to co-operate with Mr. Mount, local "Y" secretary, in the planning of a field day to be held at a later date.

Services were held in the Baptist Church last Sunday evening for the boys, and through distribution in the schools, boys twelve years or under will be given complimentary tickets to the Broadway Palace Theatre for either Thursday, Friday or Saturday.

NEW FLOWER SHOP

John Flynn, well known Riverton man and World War veteran, has just opened a flower shop at 520 Main street, Riverton, under the name of Flynn's Flower Shop.

Mr. Flynn has many services to offer the home owner for the beautification of his property this summer, among which are the planting and caring for flower beds, the care of lawns, the cleaning, trimming and re-potting of house plants and the refilling of porch boxes and ferneries.

Miss Riverton

CHARLOTTE PARRY

Selected by Mayor Howard M. Rogers to represent Riverton at the official opening of the Burlington-Bristol bridge Saturday, May 2.

POPULAR GIRL IS MISS RIVERTON

Charlotte Parry to Represent Borough at Bridge Opening

Miss Charlotte Parry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin S. Parry, prominent Riverton residents, has been selected by Mayor Howard M. Rogers, to represent Riverton at the official opening of the Burlington-Bristol bridge Saturday.

Miss Parry, in company with young ladies representing other nearby towns, will march in a body to the center of the bridge where the severing of a ribbon will mark the opening of the bridge.

After this ceremony these young ladies will return to a decorated automobile and join in the parade.

Miss Parry, popular in Riverton's social set, is a graduate of St Mary's School at Burlington and is now studying voice in Philadelphia.

N. Y. CHILDREN FIND WELCOME IN RIVERTON

Chairman of Committee for "Fresh Air" Reports Work Progressing Nicely

Riverton is a friendly town. It is welcoming the children from the tenements who have no other chance for a contact with trees and flowers and a real home. Already many are asking that they may share in this opportunity to bring joy to a child who has so little.

Fifty years ago when the work started about sixty children were sent away from the city for a two weeks' vacation; last summer over eighteen thousand were given that rare joy.

Make your home one of those which will this summer touch dreary little lives with magic.

Communicate with Mrs. Frederick Blair or any of the following members of the Friendly Town Committee: Mrs. Herbert Morris, Mrs. E. K. Merrill, Mrs. Joseph Thomas, Mrs. Clifton Mayfield, Mrs. Robert Ayres, Mrs. J. D. Clark, Mrs. Henry Lippincott.

NEW MANAGEMENT

Ray Brodton Now Has Headquarters At Broad Street Garage And Sales

The Broad Street Garage and Sales Company, known for many years in Riverton, is now under the management of Ray Brodton, proprietor of the Moto-Lectric System, who has moved his shop to the above address.

The Moto-Lectric System renders a complete electrical service, covering household appliances, marine, automobile or airplane ignition service, as well as a complete garage service.

A cordial invitation is extended to everyone to visit their remodeled place of business.

PHI NU CLASS

MISS DORRANCE WEDS MAY 29

The marriage of Miss Ethel M. Dorrance, daughter of Mrs. John T. Dorrance and the late Dr. Dorrance, of "Woodcrest," Radnor, and Cinnaminson, N. J., to Tristram C. Colket, of Haverford, will take place quietly on Friday, May 29, at 4 o'clock, in the presence of the immediate families at "Woodcrest."

A small reception for the members of the families will follow the ceremony.

BOARD WANTS NEW SCHOOL BUILDING

Riverton Directors Decide Old Building is No Longer Suitable

The Riverton Board of Education will ask the voters and taxpayers for a new school building on a new site.

This decision was reached at a special meeting of the board last Friday night, April 24.

The subject of a new building has been discussed in "committee meetings" of board members for many months, but little has been said about the subject in public meetings.

At the meeting Friday night Stanley F. Stewart of Riverton, was selected from three architects who appeared before the board, to prepare tentative plans on which a proposition can be framed to put before the voters of the borough.

Will Use Survey

In preparing the tentative plans Mr. Stewart will be guided by a survey made by the supervising principal E. N. Cooper, in which he outlines the deficiencies of the present building and the requirements of the new one.

He pointed out that the present building has too few rooms, lacks storage space, a suitable auditorium and physical training facilities, has no fire escapes, and that the space available for manual training and home economics is inadequate.

Other defects are lack of suitable playground, and an antiquated and wornout heating system.

Recommendations

The supervising principal's recommendations for the new building include:

Kindergarten room with open fire place, storage room, coat room, toilet and work room.

Classrooms. Twelve classrooms for grades one to six, with provisions for coat and hat space. Six class rooms for grades seven to nine, with individual lockers for each pupil.

Health Education. Medical room with toilet, gymnasium with two shower and locker rooms and necessary toilets, office for the physical director.

Domestic Science. Cooking and sewing laboratory, the two departments to be separate, adequate storage room.

Shop. General shop large enough to permit possible installation of printing and electric shops. Should be equipped for wood and metal work.

Drawing. Drawing room with proper storage space.

Music. Music room with proper storage space.

Auditorium. Auditorium designed for use by the community; hence a seating capacity of 700 to 750 would be desirable. The rear of the stage should have dressing rooms and toilet.

Cafeteria. Cafeteria to accommodate 300.

Miscellaneous Rooms. Assistant principal's office, to be used also as a guidance room; small school publication room.

Cost About $250,000

While anything like accurate figures cannot be given until the plans and estimate of the architect have been received, the total cost, including ground, building and equipment, will be around $250,000.

There is still due on the present building $16,000, which is being paid off at the rate of $1,000 a year. The last payment will be made in 1947.

The proposed site for the proposed new building is that section of the Dreer estate south of the railroad which was left when Riverton purchased its Memorial Park. The Dreer heirs have indicated their preference to selling the whole plot, rather than a portion of it.

The ground in question extends from the railroad to the borough line along Cedar street, and from Cedar street to the creek, except for the section taken out for the park.

The new building would be erected on th highest point, approximately opposite Eighth street, so as to take advantage of the natural facilities for good light and drainage. The plot provides ample room for playgrounds and future enlargements.

For several years efforts have been made to secure the co-operation of Cinnaminson township in the solution of Riverton's school building problem, and there is some thought that it may be accomplished at this time. If Cinnaminson township will agree to send its seventh, eighth and ninth grade pupils to Riverton, it will be possible to build and equip a junior high school. Without this co-operation the number of pupils will not warrant it.

The building requirements as outlined are based on the co-operation of Cinnaminson township. If this fails to materialize, the plans will be somewhat modified, with a slight saving in cost.

BRISTOL BRIDGE OPEN SATURDAY

Burlington and Neighboring City Will Hold Big Celebration

The Burlington-Bristol Bridge across the Delaware River will be opened to traffic Saturday afternoon.

The structure will be introduced to the public at a ceremony in which the cities of Burlington and Bristol will participate. The Kiwanis Club, Young Men's Club and Chamber of Commerce of Burlington are co-operating with the Rotary Club, Exchange Club and Business Men's Association of Bristol to stage a fitting celebration which will commemorate the new highway link between the two cities.

The dedication ceremony will be conducted by Geo. de B. Keim, president of the Burlington-Bristol Bridge Co. Among the prominent guests and speakers will be Morgan F. Larson, Governor of New Jersey; Gifford Pinchot, Governor of Pennsylvania; David Baird, former United States Senator from New Jersey; Joseph R. Grundy, former United States Senator from Pennsylvania; Harry F. Mackey, Mayor of Philadelphia; Clifford L. Anderson, Burgess of Bristol; Harold V. Holmes, Mayor of Burlington, and Major Jonathan Jones, chief engineer of McClintic-Marshall Corporation, which built the bridge.

The Burlington-Bristol Bridge spans the Delaware River at the southern end of the two cities. It is 3,000 feet in length and is built of steel and concrete. The outstanding feature is the vertical lift channel span which is 540 feet between piers. This is the world's longest movable span. In order to permit the passage of vessels of high clearance this movable channel span rises to a height of 138 feet above mean high water in 2 minutes. The lifting mechanism is propelled by two electric motors of 80 H. P. capacity. Engineering students have traveled from the prominent eastern universities to inspect this remarkable achievement.

The Burlington Bristol Bridge occupies a strategic position in relation to the highway systems of the States of Pennsylvania and New Jersey, and should be in great demand by motorists. It is the closing link in the Express Route between New York and Philadelphia whereby driving through all intervening large cities will be avoided. It places Philadelphia and Bucks County in connection with the New Jersey seashore via direct and speedy open highways.

It creates the "Playground Trail" which shortens the distance, up to 25 miles, between the New Jersey seashore and the Pocono Mountains of Pennsylvania, connecting in a straight line two of America's most popular resort areas. The bridge makes a new and direct short line between Trenton and Southern New Jersey by eliminating a long detour around the east side of the river and saving up to about nine miles over the former route.

MT. HOLLY DEFEATS SCHOOL PROPOSITION

Proposal to build a $100,000 high hool on the Woolman estate on rant street, Mount Holly, was de-ated by more than a 2 to 1 vote onday night in the largest school election in the town's history. The total vote was 1362 with 954 against and 408 in favor.

YWCA PRAISED AT TWO-STATE MEET

Woman's Press Editor Speaks to New Jersey-Delaware Conference Here

"In this day of shifting ideas, standards and values," said Miss Rhoda McCulloch, of New York, editor in chief of the Woman's Press, in speaking to a conference of members of county Y. W. C. A.'s of New Jersey and Delaware at the Moorestown Community House, Tuesday, April 28. "I would rather be a part of the Young Women's Christian Association than any group I know."

"The Y. W. C. A. is but a small part of the world as a whole," she continued, but within this organization I find those things which seem to me to be of greater value in the world today. I feel this way, first, because it is a good world organization. This means that I am one with the women of Europe and of the Orient."

In speaking of the technique and program of the Y. W. C. A., Miss McCulloch said, "there is no technique for the propagation of religion where there is no interest in it. The only way it can be propagated is by the demonstration made by the lives of christian people."

Miss McCulloch spoke at the afternoon session of the conference following Miss Ann Elizabeth Neeley, of New York, a sociologist who discussed present trends socially, economically and religiously in the United States today, stressing especially those seen most in rural communities.

Mrs. E. P. Darlington, of New Lisbon, president of the Burlington County Y. W. C. A., greeted the delegates for the local association. Mrs. Lester Collins, of Moorestown, assisted by Mrs. J. Harvey Borton, of Moorestown, closed with a devotional service.

This conference, the first of its kind, was sponsored by Miss Mildred Wilcox, of the National Rural Communities Department of the Y. W. C. A., for the purpose of bringing together Y. W. C. A. members of rural associations.

LAUNCH ANNUAL YMCA CAMPAIGN

Leaders and Workers Hold Meeting at St. Andrew's, Mount Holly

Ninety-five men assembled at St. Andrew's Parish House, Mount Holly, Monday evening to participate in the launching of the annual budget maintenance campaign of the County Y. M. C. A. More than half this number, in addition, will also be working during this week on this same drive.

At Monday night's meeting Frank W. Thacher, county campaign chairman, presided. For twenty-five years Mr. Thacher has been rendering a great service in behalf of the youth of Burlington County in his capacity as treasurer of the Y. M. C. A. Also on the list of speakers was Secretary Hendry, who outlined the kinds of service and some of the aims and objectives of the county association.

He was followed by President William F. Overman, who spoke out of the richness of his knowledge of the work since its inception twenty-six years ago. Emnor Roberts also added his testimony to the effectiveness and worthwhileness of the County Y. M. C. A. program and urged the consecrated loyalty of the workers.

The current budget needs, plus an accumulated deficit, was stressed by Frank Thacher.

During the dinner music was provided by a group of twelve County Y. M. C. A. orchestra musicians.

Twenty-six communities are represented in this simultaneous campaign, William Wallace, chairman for Crosswicks, announced that half of his community's objective was already secured.

Plans are shaping up for a final report meeting at the County Y. M. C. A. headquarters Tuesday evening, May 5. Bulletins are going out at intervals this week to the entire county list of workers.

MIDDLETON IN RACE FOR COMMISSIONER

Philadelphia Stock Exchange President on Camden Citizens' Non-Partison League Ticket

Melbourne F. Middleton, Jr., of Camden, whose summer home is on Mount Laurel Road, Moorestown, entered the Camden city commission fight as a candidate on the Citizens' Non-Partisan League ticket on Monday. He replaces Dr. Charles L. Ley, who is critically ill.

Mr. Middleton, a former City Commissioner, has been president of the Philadelphia Stock Exchange for ten years. He was born in Camden in 1877.

During the World War he was chairman of the Camden County Liberty Loan Committee. A score of years ago he served two terms as a member of the old Camden city council.

He was elected a city commissioner in 1923 and held the post of director of revenue and finance for a term of four years. He was defeated for re-election in the 1927 election and was succeeded by the present Finance Director, T. Yorke Smith.

McCARTER RE-ELECTED

Returned As P. S. President for Twenty-Ninth Time

Thomas N. McCarter was re-elected for the twenty-ninth successive time as president of Public Service Corporation of New Jersey and subsidiary companies at the annual meeting of the Board of Directors last week. All other present officers were renamed.

Col. Edward C. Rose of Trenton was elected a director to fill the unexpired term of David Baird, Jr., who recently resigned. Colonel Rose is president of the First Mechanics National Bank of Trenton.

DECLINE REPORTED IN GROSS EARNINGS OF PUBLIC SERVICE

A comparative statement of combined results of operation for the twelve months ending March 31, 1931, issued by Public Service Corporation of New Jersey shows for the corporation and its subsidiary companies gross earnings of $139,527,233.35 as against $138,764,390.90 for the twelve months ending March 31, 1930, a decrease of $237,157.55.

Operating expenses, maintenance, taxes and depreciation for the period were $94,482,408.16, a decrease of $1,638,252.38, leaving a net income from operations of $44,044,825.19 as against $42,643,730.36 for the twelve months ending March 31, 1930, an increase of $1,401,094.83.

Other net income amounted to $2,789,029.73 and income deductions to $16,157,928.40, the balance for dividends and surplus being $30,675,928.40, as compared to $30,493,319.49 for the twelve months ending March 31, 1930, an increase of $182,607.03.

LIBRARY CUSTODIANS MEET AT FOUR MILE

Two Speakers On Morning Program At Regular Spring Meeting of Organization

The regular spring meeting of the custodians of the Burlington County Library will be held at Four Mile, the State Colony at New Lisbon, on Friday, May 1. The meeting will begin at 10:30 o'clock and will be held in the school building.

There will be two speakers in the program, Mrs. Eva Cloud Taylor, and Miss Jane Brown. Mrs. Taylor, formerly a member of the faculty of the University of Illinois, is now doing special work for the New Jersey Library Commission. Miss Brown is the librarian of the Atlantic County Free Library.

The members of the group will be the guests of the colony for luncheon and will afterwards be entertained by a short musical program by the School Department. An opportunity will be given to those who desire to visit some of the classes.

SPRING MUSICAL FESTIVAL SLATED

County YWCA Groups to Participate in Music Week Celebration

On Friday evening, May 8, at 8 o'clock, Y. W. C. A. groups from all parts of Burlington County will gather at the Moorestown Community House for the annual spring musical festival.

The week of May 4 to 8 is National Music Week, and the music committee of the Y. W. C. A., of which Mrs. William Grobler, of Moorestown, is chairman, has arranged to have its festival during this week. Music of this country, including Indian, Negro, and pioneer songs, will be the feature of the first part of the program, while international songs and dances will make up the second part. There will be numbers by groups of clubs as well as group singing under the leadership of Mrs. Grobler.

Assisting Mrs. Grobler in training the groups are Mrs. F. Wallis Armstrong, Mrs. John Cecil, Mrs. Daniel De Poldes, of Moorestown; Mrs. Clarence Davenport, of Mount Holly; Miss Cecelia Hutchinson, of Bordentown; Miss Beatrice Collin, of Delanco; Miss Dorothy Burr, of Pemberton, and Miss Lillian Hoffner, of Burlington.

Y. W. C. A. Club Notes

The Mount Holly Business Girls of the Y. W. C. A. met for dinner at the Y. W. C. A. dining room on Monday evening, April 27, at 6:30 o'clock. Miss Mary Roberts, of Moorestown, who has spent some time in Palestine, spoke most interestingly of that country. Plans were also made for the group's participation in the Y. W. C. A. music festival at Moorestown on May 8.

Miss Elizabeth Woodward, of Moorestown, spoke to the Maple Shade Girl Reserves on Thursday evening, April 23, on "Charm."

Mrs. Elizabeth Devery, of Beverly is the new advisor of the Beverly Girl Reserves. The club will meet Thursday evening, April 30, to make plans for a debate on capital punishment.

First Used by Holmes?

The expression "mutual admiration society" was probably coined by Oliver Wendell Holmes. The phrase appears in "The Autocrat of the Breakfast Table."

State Treasurer, Aid Injured in Collision

State Treasurer Albert C. Middleton, Moorestown, and his chief deputy, Horace G. Githens, Pensauken, were cut and bruised Tuesday when the treasurer's automobile crashed into a bus of Applegate Brothers at Brunswick pike and State highway No. 25.

According to the officials the bus driver swerved his machine to avoid a collision with another car and crashed head-on into the state officials, who were in a State Highway Department car. They were treated by physicians.

Githens is also a Camden County Freeholder.

HOSPITAL DAY

County Institution Will Hold Baby Parade on May 12

The Burlington County Hospital at Mount Holly will celebrate National Hospital Day on May 12, the birthday of Florence Nightingale.

One hundred and fifteen babies have already been entered in the baby parade which will be held at 2 o'clock. All babies born in the hospital are entitled to enter. Prizes will be awarded and the public is invited to view the procession.

At three o'clock slides on the history of nursing, will be shown. Young women graduating from the various high schools in the county in this year's class, as well as others interested in nursing, are invited.

Tea will be served by the Medical Auxiliary of the staff.

LIFE SAVING WEEK PLANS UNDERWAY

Red Cross Cooperating With Recreation Commission in Arranging Classes

Following up the Learn-to-Swim week which was held in the Moorestown Community House pool a few weeks ago, the American Red Cross co-operating with the Recreation Commission, under the direction of Charles Juliana, life guard, will hold a Life Saving Week in the pool during the week of May 11.

All the boys and girls, men and women who would like to take this opportunity to qualify in the American Red Cross life saving tests should make it a point to get in on the various classes which will be held during the Life Saving Week.

The methods of approaching a drowning person, the ways of carrying one who has drowned, the applying of artificial resuscitation and the many other means of water safety will be taught during that week by a qualified American Red Cross examiner.

"With the coming of summer and outdoor swimming this campaign in life saving seems to be very timely, says Mr. Juliana. "Take advantage of this campaign and help the American Red Cross in its war against deaths by drowning."

There is no charge in any way for taking the test.

On the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Adam Peichocki were rewed by their son, Rev. Paul Peichocki of Union City, N. Y.

County's Aero Club at Moorestown Shows Jersey's Spirit of Progress

Organized in 1928, Club Has Taught Many to Fly and Carried Thousands of Passengers Without Serious Accident

By "JIM" ERDMAN,
(Chief Pilot, Burlington County Aero Club.)

Transportation has always been a means of bringing communities closer together. At the inauguration of the ferry the travel back and forth between Burlington and Bristol it was a step forward in bringing the two towns in closer proximity. The ferry has served its purpose and we now on this day, May 2nd, are dedicating a more modern means of transportation. It is certainly a monument commemorative of the endeavors of progressive Burlington County citizens.

Likewise the Burlington County Aero Club which is located at Moorestown, only six miles from Burlington, is offering a modern means of transportation to the residents of Burlington County. As the bridge has displaced the ferry, so the stage coaches displace the oxen carts and the pony express was in its turn displaced by the train, so we have today airplanes which are displacing trains and buses, just as the new bridge is bringing Pennsylvania and New Jersey closer together, the airplanes have brought wide sections of our country and even foreign countries considerably closer to each other due to the fact that the elapse of time between two points has been made considerably smaller. The Burlington County Aero Club wishes to take this opportunity of letting the officials of the new bridge know that they are in absolute sympathy with anything that is done in the promotion of quicker travel and that they are willing to work with the bridge officials at all times towards this end.

The Aero Club was started in 1928 by a group of prominent citizens of Burlington County and has made rapid strides in its particular line of endeavor which is to instruct young men and ladies of modest means to fly airplanes. Along these lines the club has during the last few years given instructions to over one hundred and twenty-five people, two of these people have since received transport licenses. About thirty-five of them have received private licenses and fifteen of them limited commercial licenses. Although we are not bragging we point with pride to the fact that during our three years of operations the club has been very fortunate in not having any serious accidents. Last year the club put in more flying hours than the other two years together and at less operating cost. The field, as well as the planes and pilots, are all directly under the supervision of the United States Department of Commerce.

There is a movement under way at the present time to raise finances so that we may be able to put up another hangar adjoining the one that we have on our field at the present time. The field is located two miles North of Moorestown on the Westfield road and the Bridgeboro road. In addition to the hangar we also have a club house on the field, both the hangar and the club house were erected by members of the club.

Our field is one of the best flying fields in this section of the country from a standpoint of drainage. In a recent survey made by the government of airports along the Delaware river up to Newark after a three day rain, our field was the only one which was not holding water. This is due to the natural turf surface which covers the field. It is also an ideal field for student instructions owing to the fact that there are numerous flat surfaces in the vicinity which can be utilized in the event of emergency landings. The instructor can be reached at Moorestown at all times which allows our students the privilege of flying at any time which is most convenient to them between dawn and dusk.

Although our principal object has been the instructing of students, we have also served the residents of Burlington County in commercial matters such as dropping circulars, transporting of products which necessarily had to be done in a hurry, and on one occasion legal papers which required signatures were taken to New York and returned the same day, as well as executing photographic missions.

The teacher was putting questions to the class.

"What do we call a man," he asked, "who keeps on talking and talking when people are no longer interested?"

"Please, sir," replied a boy, "a teacher."

PALMYRA P. T. A. ROUND-UP SOON

Association Now Making Plans for Health Work Among All Children

The first week in May has been designated as Child Health Week and the Palmyra Parent-Teachers' Association feels that this is a good time to begin the work of the pre-school examinations and lay plans for health work in general among all the children of Palmyra.

It is hoped and there is every reason to believe that the Palmyra Board of Health will supply material again this year for diphtheria immunization and Schick tests.

Last year a large number of children were given the advantage of this diphtheria prevention, and the wonderful results of this step of precaution are showing such a decrease in the number of cases wherever it is used, that there is little doubt that the time will soon come that diphtheria immunization will be compulsory, along with vaccination, before a child may enter school.

Cards will be sent home by each school child, and the parents are asked to sign them, thus giving their consent to have these injections given.

The summer round-up of the children is a campaign to send to the entering grade of school or kindergarten a class of children as free as possible from remediable physical defects.

There is need for such a campaign because the pre-school period is a crucial time for the child. It is a time when he has to shift for himself more or less and when he is exposed to, and often handicapped for life by "children's diseases" and injuries resulting from accidents. In fact, many of the ills of later childhood, adolescence and adult life have their beginning in the interval between infancy and school age.

Thousands of children have defective vision, defective hearing, or other defects, which can be cured or relieved by early treatment and the parent who does not take this opportunity is not doing his duty by the child.

While the summer round-up of children is first of all an educational project, it is also sound economically, because it prevents waste of educational effort, with its attendant cost.

It is said that the average American child enering school is only twenty-five per cent. physically equipped for the "great adventure." In a recent study of pre-school children, it was found that twenty-five per cent. needed glasses.

The average cost of a grammar school education is $100.00 per year. A pupil may be saved from missing a grade by a $2.50 pair of glasses, or other slight correction. Financial support of the school is materially affected by the child's attendance and it is good business to make these children, through the correction of remediable defects, an asset to the school instead of a liability.

Parents of all young children who will enter school within the next year, are urged to bring them to the Delaware avenue school for examination by the school physician on the date set. The date and time will probably be next Tuesday, May 7, at three o'clock.

Yours for Healthy Children,
PALMYRA P. T. A.
L. M. McCamy, Chairman.

CHAS. N. BUCHHOLZ MAYOR CANDIDATE

Both Experience and Heredity Cited as Adding to Qualifications

Among the candidates for the office of Mayor there is one who has the advantage of experience and the prestige of heredity. The father of Charles Nevin Buchholz, Charles F. Buchholz, is well known to the citizens of Palmyra as having been an outstanding and esteemed citizen of the town.

His integrity and ability will be well remembered by the voters. He was elected to the first council under the then new borough and served continuously from then until his death on July 7, 1925. His widow, Emily G. Buchholz, is the mother of the present candidate.

Charles Nevin Buchholz was born in Philadelphia and came to Palmyra at the age of eighteen. He is now thirty-four. He was graduated from Palmyra High School and from the Wharton School of Accounting and Finance of the University of Pennsylvania. For two years he was a field auditor with the Consolidated Travel Audit Section of the United States Department of Internal Revenue, where the knowledge and experience gained brought him to the front as an income tax expert.

He was five years chief of staff of Charles Weissinger & Company, Certified Public Accountants, of Philadelphia, and for the last two years has been secretary to Firth & Foster Company, the largest job buyers of woolens and worsted piece goods in America. This position he still occupies.

Young Mr. Buchholz himself has served on the council of this borough for several years, and the experience which he has thus acquired, together with his rich experience in financial work and business and his unquestioned ability, integrity, energy, courage, independence of thought and the sincere public spirit which he has already demonstrated as a member of council, make him an ideal candidate and his abilities and qualities will unquestionably attract the votes of a large portion of the serious thinking electorate.

"GARDENS" TOPIC AT WOMAN'S CLUB

State Garden Chairman and N. Y. Newspaper Woman Heard at Meeting

"Gardens" was the subject of a most interesting and instructive address given by Mrs. William D. Weikel at the meeting of the Palmyra Woman's Club last Monday afternoon in the club rooms, Society Hall.

Mrs. Weikel is the chairman of the State Garden Committee of Federated Women's Clubs of New Jersey.

Mrs. George DuBell, chairman of the garden committe of the local club, gave short talks before and after Mrs. Weikel's address. Mrs. DuBell encouraged the ladies to grow flowers and to enter in the flower show which the Palmyra club will hold in September.

Mrs. DuBell urged the ladies to cultivate attractive flower gardens, not only for their own pleasure, but to help make Palmyra one of the garden spots of Burlington county.

Mrs. Harold Gilpin, of Merchantville, sang several delightful selections pertaining to flowers. Mrs. Gilpin is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Reber, of Morgan avenue, Palmyra.

Another feature of the meeting was an address by Mrs. Zella Drake Harper, representing the New York Herald Tribune.

For the last fifty years, this newspaper has found vacation places for the poor kiddies of New York city, a place where they might spend a two weeks' period in the open.

The Tribune pays for the transportation of these kiddies to and from the suburb where the vacation is spent.

During the last six weeks Mrs. Harper has been touring South Jersey. She has been speaking to the Women's Clubs in the different towns and asking them to appoint committees of ladies who would be interested in procuring places for these unfortunate kiddies to spend a pleasant two weeks.

The towns which have already become "Friendly Towns" are as follows: Glassboro, Pitman, Mount Holly, Vincentown, Millville, Salem, Wenonah, Woodbury, Paulsboro Bridgeton, Burlington, Bordentown, Beverly Riverton and Palmyra.

The committee in charge of this worthwhile work in Palmyra is composed of the following members of the Woman's Club: Mrs. Horace Ross chairman; Mrs. E. B. Day, Mrs. J. C. McCully, Mrs. C. V. Davison, Mrs. J. Wilbur Evaul, Mrs. W. R. Dunn, Mrs. Harry Kennedy and Mrs. Robert J. Sim.

This committee will hold meetings in the near future to make plans as to when they will bring the children here and how to go about doing it.

Any person who might be interested in caring for one or more of these children for two weeks is urged to get in touch with any member of the committee. The Tribune will send only clean, healthy children, and the only expense incurred by the family who cares for the child, is the food which is consumed.

MT. LAUREL MAN HELD IN THEFT OF AN AUTO

Morgan Christian, of Mount Laurel township, was arrested in Mount Holly last week by County Detective Clifford D. Cain and Officer Howard Shinn, on a charge of stealing an automobile, a Victrola and some tools. He was committed to the county jail in default of bail by Justice of the Peace John Throckmorton, to await the action of the court.

R. B. GALLOWAY ENTERS CONTEST

Candidate for Mayor of Palmyra States Belief in Majority Rule

April 20, 1931.

"I hereby announce my candidacy for Mayor of the Borough of Palmyra on the Republican ticket at the Primary Election to be held May 19, 1931.

"If I should receive the nomination and be elected at the General Election to be held in November of the present year, I will serve all citizens of this Borough to the best of my ability. I am a firm believer in Majority Rule; this is your town and my town, and if elected will act in the capacity of Mayor, for you—the People".

"I will seek your advice and aid for the best interests of the Borough in deciding all questions affecting the community at large and by so doing, the citizens, the council and the mayor, working together, will decide what we want in our Borough.

"Majority Rule should, and will govern my actions in all cases, if I am elected to the high office of Mayor of Palmyra."

CHIEF BECK ASKED TO FIND WOMAN

Young Man Asks Aid of Palmyra Police in Locating Mother

Chief of Police C. Morris Beck, of Palmyra, received the following letter Monday of this week:

Philadelphia, Pa.
April 26, 1931.

Chief of Police,
Palmyra, N. J.

Dear Sir:

I am appealing to you for assistance in locating a lady by the name of Mrs. Grace Fowler, or a Mrs. Frank E. Butler, that was known to have lived in Palmyra nineteen years ago.

I will explain to you why I am so anxious to hear from her, so that maybe you will try to locate her for me.

You see, I am now twenty-six years old, and this woman is my mother, whether legal or not, I do not know, as I was raised by my father, who died three weeks ago.

It seems that all the knowledge I can get is that when I was six months old, I was destined to be reared without a mother, that was not dead, and I would like to see her just to see what a mother looks like, and to have someone that I can call mother and mean it.

Thanking you,
WILLIAM E. BUTLER.

Anyone having any information in regard to the whereabouts of this woman is asked to communicate with Chief Beck, at the earliest possible time.

The chief may be reached by telephoning Riverton 191 or Riverton 496-W. A letter addressed to the chief of police, Palmyra, N. J., will also reach him promptly.

CLUBMEN ENJOY FILMS AND TALK

Scenes of Wilburtha Training Camp Shown to Members of Men's Club

Men of Palmyra and Riverton were given an opportunity to hear an interesting talk on police practice last Thursday night when an officer of the New Jersey State Police spoke at the regular meeting of the Men's Club, held in the YMCA building.

Sergeant Albert G. Vallerman, an instructor at the training school of the State Police, at Wilburtha, was the speaker of the evening and talked at some length on the intensive training which each trooper must undergo.

Illustrating his talk were motion pictures taken at the camp, showing the recruit troopers in their various stages of training. They were depicted on horseback, motorcycle and afoot, they were seen in athletic contests and marksmanship tests.

Vallerman spoke of special boxing and wrestling training which each trooper receives, special instruction on police law and court proceedure, detective training and the taking of fingerprints.

After he had finished his talk on trooper training he invited the men of the club to ask him questions concerning the work and rules governing the State Police, the manner of making arrests and several points as to when an arrest or a warning was the more justifiable.

He answered all questions with an infectious good humor, which finally prompted one person to ask if the State Police were specially trained in the matter of being courteous. He said that almost invariably the officers of the state were civil to those whom they arrestd, while many of the town or municipal police overestimated their powers and acted with inexcusable discourtesy.

The sergeant said that not only were the officers dismissed from the service if complaints were received about their attitude toward the public, but the state took measures in the training school to teach the recruits to hold their temper. He said instructors would "bawl out" most vociferously a recruit for only a trivial offense. The misdeed itself would not warrant such ire on the part of the teacher but it was given to teach the prospective trooper to hold his tongue when he met a motorist who went off into the same sort of verbal rampage.

At the conclusion of his talk, Vallerman, by request, cited several of his own experiences in the service, and told of several cases in which fellow officers had participated.

Special music for the evening was rendered by an orchestra composed of Robert Hudack and several of his music pupils from Philadelphia. Refreshments were served at the end of the meeting.

Withdraws From Race

To the Citizens of Palmyra:
Dear Friends:

At this time I wish to publicly announce that I am not a candidate for the position of Mayor in the Borough of Palmyra.

Due to the fact that my business takes me away from Palmyra at times, I have decided not to permit my name to be placed in nomination at the coming Primary in May.

I wish to thank all those who have offered me their support, but feel as though I could not give the position the needed time and attention it would require.

Very truly yours,
WARREN T. KILPATRICK.

FREE LUNCHES TO CHILDREN STOPS

Welfare Announces Meals to Pupils Will Not be Given After Today

The distribution of free lunches for school pupils will be discontinued after April 30 it was announced in a letter received by The Palmyra News this week.

The lunches, prepared in the school cafeteria, were given to the children by means of tickets distributed by the Community Welfare. This is the first year such a distribution has been made and those in charge declare much good has been done and deep appreciation has been expressed by both the children and parents.

At the inauguration of the practice the decision as to whether or not the child was in dire enough straits to warrant free lunches from the welfare was considered by a special group composed of committees from the welfare association, the Parent-Teachers' Association and the school teachers themselves.

Others, younger children in the primary grades, were considered by the associations and for several months have been provided with milk during their daily morning recess period. This milk distribution will be continued until the close of the school term.

Tuesday, April 28, 1931.

"The Community Welfare announces that free lunches for school children will be discontinued after April 30.

"This service to needy children which was begun during the winter, has been a real help to the children and has been much appreciated by the parents concerned.

"Milk for the younger children will be provided until the close of the school term under the supervision of Miss Harriet Egan.

"The association takes this opportunity to thank the school authorities and all others who have done so much to make this work successful."

C. GERTRUDE WILSON.

$10,065 IN NO-ACCIDENT CHECKS

A total of $10,065 in no-accident bonus checks was distributed last Friday among 544 Public Service bus and street car operators in the Southern Division. The checks were awarded to operators of Public Service Coordinated Transport and Public Service Interstate Transportation Company. Awards were for the period from December 1 to March 31. The checks were presented at the Newton avenue carhouse and Fifteenth and Mickle streets garage by Herbert E. Harper, manager of the southern division.

PALMYRA COPS NAB 3 DRUNKEN DRIVERS

Two Philadelphia and One Palmyra Motorists Pay Fines of $200 and Costs

Palmyra police arrested three drunken drivers within the borough limits during the past week. Two of the drunken motorists were Philadelphians while the third is from Palmyra. The later is now spending some time in jail in default of the fine imposed.

Aloysius Gradel, 7121 Torresade avenue, Philadelphia, was arrested Sunday night and was fined $221 for his misdemeanor.

Charles S. Fisher, Second and Washington streets, Palmyra, was committed to Mount Holly jail by Justice of the Peace William Fichter when he was unable to raise money to pay the fine of $221. He was given a hearing following his arrest at 2.45 a. m. Monday. Officer Nelson Wallace made the arrest.

Edward J. Doyle, 2258 East Allegheny avenue, Philadelphia, had his car badly damaged about 3.30 a. m. yesterday when he sideswiped a truck belonging to the R. P. Hemphill Transportation Company, of Hurfville on Cinnaminson avenue near Morgan cemetery.

He was pronounced intoxicated by Police Physician Dean H. LeFavor and was held to await a hearing later Wednesday morning. Tried before Justice Fichter, he pleaded guilty to the charges and was forced to pay a fine of $221.

To Be Married

Miss Sarah D. Fitzgerald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Fitzgerald, of 3708 Federal street, Camden, will become the bride of Andrew J. Carlin, of East Main street, Moorestown, at St. Joseph's Church, Camden, on Saturday morning, May 6, at 9 o'clock.

Miss Helen Fitzgerald will be her sister's only attendant. Theodore Haas, of North Church street, Moorestown, will be best man.

Mrs. Marie Marlin, of Boston, who has an income of $4,000 a year, was convicted of shoplifting.

ALUMNI TO DANCE AT MEDFORD CLUB

Palmyra, Moorestown and Burlington Grads Plan Event for Saturday

The Spring Frolic of the alumni associations of Palmyra, Moorestown and Burlington High Schools will be held Saturday night.

This dance, the first ever conducted by the combined graduate organizations was planned a month ago and will be given at the spacious Log Cabin Lodge, Medford Lakes.

The dance floor at the Medford Inn insures more than enough room for those attending the festivity. A special feature of the event is the variety of entertainment offered to those who attend.

In addition to the dancing, arrangements have been made whereby those desiring to do so may play cards, or make use of the recreation rooms at the lodge.

The congenial attitude shown by the representatives of the three alumni associations contrasts sharply with the attitude shown by the same persons when they were undergraduates in their respective schools. The most bitter rivalry existed between members of the student body of the three institutions and is existent to a slightly lesser degree at the present time. The attitude of the former rivals seems to have changed with their graduation and now a harmonious feeling exists among the alumni of all three high schools.

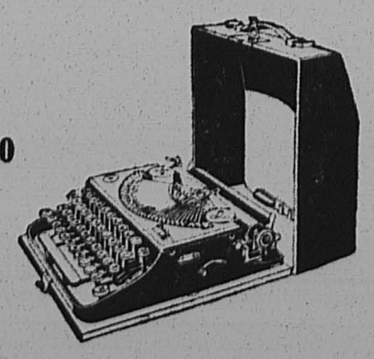

The grads have been fortunate in obtaining Jimmy Hallipin and his Blue Moon Orchestra to supply the dance rythm for the occasion. Tickets have already been placed on sale at $2 per couple. Dress for the occasion is optional.

Hoboes in the jail at Willard O., have asked permission to move, complaining that occasionally the dances held in the community hall over their quarters are so noisy they can't sleep.

TODAY and TOMORROW

FRAUDS

The Federal Radio Commission has refused to renew the broadcasting licenses of certain stations which have been used to perpetuate palpable frauds upon the public. There is still too much of that sort of thing going out "on the air," however.

I listened in the other night to a broadcaster describing a wonderful electrical machine which would cure almost everything, according to him. Of course, he was lying, deliberately trying to get ignorant people to spend money for a worthless device. I heard another broadcast, an astrologer inviting people to send her money to have their fortunes told. She was lying, also. There is no possible basis of truth in the claim of any person to be able to read the future, whether by consulting the stars or the tea-leaves in the cup.

Frauds like these are prohibited by law in most states, but the radio cuts across state lines. Reputable newspapers do not permit palpable fakes to advertise, but the radio seems to be running wild in the perpetration of fraud.

POPULATION

We flew over the most thickly settled part of the densely populated East, over ten cities, including Philadelphia with almost two million people, Baltimore with nearly a million, and Newark with nearly half a million. But the strongest impression I got was of a very thinly populated territory. Outside of the cities themselves there seemed to be a thousand acres of open land for every building. There were always buildings in sight, but there were many stretches, especially in Delaware and Maryland, where these were only widely scattered farm houses.

Every square inch of land along the whole route seemed to be under intensive cultivation. That was another surprising thing. Except for occasional patches of woods there was hardly an acre that had not been freshly plowed and seeded. The grain and forage crops of New Jersey and Eastern Pennsylvania do not cut a big figure in the national totals, but in proportion to available acreage they are very large.

And these eastern farmers have not lost the art of plowing a straight furrow. Seen from the air their fields look as if they had been laid out by an engineer with a ruler.

BUMPS

Flying, even in good flying weather, is not as smooth a method of travelling as it looks from the ground. There was a light breeze, which had a habit of freshening and shifting suddenly, and the warm air currents rising from the earth varied in intensity with the character of the surface over which we passed. The result was a motion much like that of a small boat on a land-locked harbor in a choppy sea, with an occasional big wave slapping the bow. This made walking about from one end to the other of the sixteen-passenger cabin somewhat difficult. There was also a fairly constant roll from side to side, about what one experiences on a ship at sea in good weather, and some occasional pitching fore and aft, although this was less severe than on board ship.

"Air passengers frequently get seasick," the hostess on board told me as she served us hot coffee and cakes between Philadelphia and Baltimore.

HOSTESS

The hostess on our ship was Beulah Unruh, who is known among air men as "The Flying Waitress." Beulah, blonde and blue-eyed, and with a permanent smile that shows her pretty white teeth, is 24. She is a farmer's daughter from the eastern shore of Maryland. She worked as a waitress in Baltimore and New York and saved her tips until she had 13,000 dimes.

"Some of the other girls bought fur coats and automobiles with their savings," she told me, "but I thought I would use mine to learn some kind of a job where I wouldn't have to be on my feet all the time. What's the use of living if your feet hurt so you can't have any fun? So she spent her $1,300 to take a complete course in flying.

Beulah has a limited commercial pilot's license now, but will have to do a hundred hours more of solo flying before she can get a transport pilot license. Meantime, she flies every day from New York to Richmond and back, as hostess for the Eastern Air Transport, and still saves her tips and part of her wages.

"The girls that get the big money in flying are the ones that have rich fathers or somebody to buy fast planes for them," she said. "It is going to take me a long time to save up enough to buy a plane, but in the meantime I have got a job I like, and it don't hurt my feet."

MAIN STREET LOOKS AT BROADWAY

TRAVEL SONGS

Whether they realize it or not, the organ music and the playing of a radio in the big Pennsylvania station that the jostling crowds hear are part of an experiment to speed the moving of passenger traffic.

The railroad has installed a full size organ of 35 stops and a combination radio and phonograph to find out if music will clear the building quickly by getting people to move faster.

IT HATH CHARMS

Right now, everyone is a bit puzzled as to the effectiveness of the project.

While it is true that music places travelers in a pleasanter frame of mind, it doesn't work so well when it comes to clearing the station. Last fall, Princeton alumni joined in the singing of their school song—then coming over the radio—so enthusiastically that the radio had to be shut off to get the rooters on the train.

What type of music shall be played on the organ is a problem. On religious holidays, church music alone is suitable; at the death of notables, funeral marches should be performed. Now the question is, does slow, mournful music pep up the passengers' actions, or the reverse? Then again, the music can't be too peppy, for they don't want the negro "red caps" to go into a Dixie jig when they play those down South tunes.

MECHANICAL MARKET

The latest step to speed us into a put-a-coin-in-the-slot existence is the automatic grocery store right in your own apartment building.

A New York apartment has installed this device—called the Delamat—which responds to the click of a coin by disgorging a can of beans, a lamb chop, a bottle of milk or anything that can be bought at a regular grocery. The Delamat consists of a series of chambers with glass doors in which are displayed packages of food which rest on holders fastened to an endless belt. At the insertion of the proper coin and a turn of a handle, the belt lowers the package to an open compartment. The customer reaches in and takes out the package. The entire operation takes but five seconds.

HELP WANTED

There's one person, a hardware dealer, who doesn't believe all these stories about unemployment any more. Twenty-five young men answered his "Help Wanted" advertisement, but when they heard that the job was selling electric light bulbs, 24 of them flatly declined.

The one who did take it came rushing back in an hour with a fistful of orders that earned him $7.80 commission. Needing more salesmen, the dealer took the successful one to the city employment agency to tell the men what a lucrative job it was. Two out of 100 interviewed took the job. The others said they were "waiting for a salary job" or one that paid $50 a week.

BIG CHANCE

On the other side of the picture we have the case of Mr. Kirchenberg, who advertised for a stenographer. When he arrived at his office, he found the entrance to the building blocked with literally hundreds of girls.

When he opened his door, a railing was torn down, tables were overturned and Mr. Kirchenberg was almost trampled underfoot.

So they all pitched in and made up 500 numbers with duplicates. Then they drew. The lucky number was "42." Just to prove that they were all good sports, the other girls left the building cheering the winner.

BREEZE FROM THE SOUTHLAND

A southern music teacher blames New York for the ruin of public taste, saying that the "jazz music from the slums is impure, sentimental rot, a squawking, rasping, clanging jargon of instrumental noises."

Pass that corn-pone and let's have "St. Louis Blues" again.

WAY OF LIFE

BY BRUCE BARTON

The Vacant Lot

Ten years ago, in the midst of the depression of 1920-21, I made a talk before a thousand men, representing one of the country's basic industries.

For weeks they had heard nothing but bad news from their salesmen. Their only mail was cancellations. It was a tough assignment for a speaker.

I showed these hopeless gentlemen a photograph of a vacant lot, a big corner, a couple of hundred feet square, in the very center of New York.

I said to them: "Doesn't it strike you as strange that here, in the heart of the greatest city, where land is worth thousands of dollars a front foot, there should be this vacant lot?"

They were only mildly interested, but I took a deep breath and ploughed ahead.

"I'll tell you why that lot is vacant," I continued. "It was part of a farm. Just a hundred years ago the farmer died; his will gave definite instructions to his heirs. They were at liberty to do as they wished with his other property, but this particular corner of his favorite pasture was to remain forever unencumbered with buildings, as a resting place for his bones and the bones of his wife.

"Stop and think what that means," I said to my downhearted audience. "Only a hundred years ago . . . only a little more than one life-time this island was farms. Moreover, the people who lived on it assumed that it always would be farms. Now look at it, a city of six million people.

"Yet you men sit here in the midst of it and assume that because business has slowed up a little America is never going to buy any more shoes, any more houses, any more automobiles. Don't be like the owner of that farm. The country which was pastures only three generations ago is going to step ahead. This is the time to make plans for a bigger future."

They looked at me as much as to say: "Here is a bright young man trying his best to cheer us up. But, of course, he doesn't know what he is talking about."

The other day, by a curious coincidence, I was invited to address the same convention, in the same hotel. I made the same speech.

"You thought I was talking through my hat ten years ago," I said to them. "But just look at the last ten years. Every man in this room has done more business than he would have dreamed possible in 1920."

I told them about the vacant lot again. They looked impressed, and clapped their hands. But I suspect that most of them still think that I was talking through my hat.

This Week in WASHINGTON

BY RADFORD MOBLEY
AUTOCASTER, WASHINGTON BUREAU

Officials here are concentrating their greatest attention these days on the subject of unemployment. The opinion is being freely expressed that up to a few weeks ago the depression had continued to grow. The upturn has finally come, they now assert, although only in a small degree. It is certain the return to normal will be much quicker than the time the slump required. That business will gain momentum as it continues to improve is obvious, assert the officials.

One bad thing noted about the trend of conditions is that business is gaining faster than the employment of workers. The slump resulted in a general paring down of help of all kinds, although there were fewer dismissals and less cuts in pay than in former depressions, most lines of business carrying out their promises, made two years ago to President Hoover, to stabilize conditions as much as they could.

Those left on the pay-roll developed greater efficiency, and proved that many offices and factories had been over-stuffed under old conditions. It is certain, say government officials, that all of this excess help will never be re-employed at their old jobs, just to diminish the ranks of the unemployed.

Relief Measures

To combat this idleness in the ranks of would-be workers, which is expected to become serious again next winter, everybody in official Washington, from the President to the lowest executive, is concentrating on measures of relief they expect will be needed when snow flies again. Charitable agencies will have more funds to work with than they had in the past two winters, while the government's program of public improvements, already well in hand, will furnish thousands with work.

Economists charge that unemployment of capital creates an even more serious condition than the lack of jobs for the citizens. The government is wasting little time on relief measures for the capitalists as it feels they ought to be able to care for themselves. This they are doing by seeking new avenues of investment.

In this struggle to invest surplus funds is seen the greatest hope for the future. The Patent Office is the one department here closest to the future. In that building crowd the new devices that can be expected to become generally accepted in the not distant future.

Some fifty years ago the new telephone and electric light industries poured in their thousands of patents, foreshadowing the growth of those commercial giants. Later the automotive line began to flood patent officials with their caveats and designs. The radio followed. All these lines are now employing millions of people who would otherwise be out of work.

New Devices Foreseen

Similarly the patent officials predict the rise of several other new colossal industrial lines that will absorb the efforts of the unemployed left stranded by the present depression. Perhaps the most promising of these fields centers in the artificial cooling and ventilating of homes. Although several big concerns are operating in that field and many public and private buildings are now kept cool in summer by the same plant that heats the rooms in winter, yet few private dwellings, except those of the wealthiest, have been outfitted with the new machinery. The White House and Houses of Congress and many other public buildings here are cooled in hot weather.

Capital is already looking over this field, which is no longer an experimental one, its basic principles having been fully tested and developed by the artificial refrigerators now in common use. Along with the exploitation of this field by the sellers of the new apparatus will come additional work for builders in all lines who will have to supply new heat-resisting floors, ceilings and walls.

The automotive, radio and similar lines have about reached the point where no more labor will be needed, no matter how the demand grows. New machinery will replace labor in those fields about as fast as production increases, it is figured, and the manufacture of the new ventilation appliance is expected to take up this slack.

Back Yard Flying

Officials figure that next to the ventilating line comes the anticipated exploitation of "backyard flying." This is the term that has been coined for the new autogiro, which has passed the stage of experiment and is nearly ready for commercial development. Airplanes will never become a great employer of labor, like the radio and electrical fields, because of the conditions under which they are built and operated. Already there is an oversupply of licensed pilots, of whom there are 5,000 more than planes to be flown.

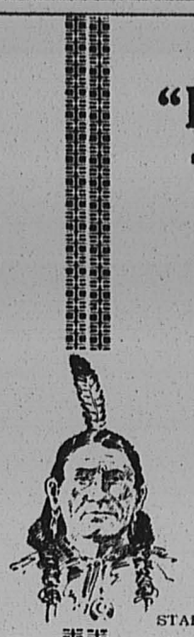

The autogiro is a different project. Even now their use in small suburban yards is not only feasible but actually occurs. The machines, which rise vertically from any piece of ground large enough for them to rest upon, are safe and speedy. Their general adoption will result in the employment of thousands out of work right now.

A third field that awaits only the inventive genius of some man to make it commercially possible is television. At present the best engineers have been able to accomplish is to produce an image not larger than five inches square. This limits its general field. With the discovery of a way to present pictures suitable for movie screens an enormous new field will be created, almost overnight. While engineers are unable to cure the defect of its smallness at present yet they do not question their ability to do so eventually.

Willing to overlook his wife's insistence that her dog sleep with them, Claude Erickson of Chicago balked when she asked him to kiss his mother-in-law.

FLASHES FROM THE Y. M. C. A.

Teams Challenged

"Ike" says he has a team that can beat any or all others on the Y Playground any afternoon after school. The Y has some new bats and playground balls so be sure and come around and play.

Quoit Registration

Monday will be registration day for the elimination quoit tournament to be held for all boys 18 years old and under. Any entry will pitch against another entry, then the winners of two matches until the champ is decided. There will not be an entrance fee.

Daylight Saving

Fellows may be noticed catching ball, playing ball, quoits, spinning tops and what not on the Y playground, now that the time has changed, after supper until dark.

To Construct Rings

Plans are already under way for the construction of the marble rings at the primary and the grammar schools. A champ will be named at these schools and a runner-up to compete in the district tournament at the Y on May 9th. A school winner receives a bronze medal and a fine trip to Valley Forge as the guest of the Evening Bulletin in June.

Directors To Meet

The Palmyra-Riverton men that sponsor the local YMCA will meet in the secretary's office tonight at 8 p. m. Mr. Nathan Lane, Jr., will preside. The summer program, locally and camp, along with routine matters of business will be discussed.

Hike May 16

You must register to go on the hike on May 16 to Camp Ockanickon. That will be a great day. Marble tournament for the county and camp reunion all in one. Come on ride with us. If the weather is satisfactory a swim will be enjoyed.

Black Hawks Meet

The Black Hawks held their regular weekly meeting in the Lutheran Church Tuesday evening. The group decided to hold a doggie roast next Thursday. A committee to take charge was then appointed.

"Y" FINANCE DRIVE STILL IN PROGRESS

$1700 of $3800 Quota Raised Thus Far. Leaders of Campaign Announce

The directors of the Palmyra-Riverton Y. M. C. A. have been well pleased thus far with the returns of their collectors in the drive for $3800 needed to continue the work of the "Y" in the community.

The committee has made separate records for every family in both towns this year and this has led to the prolonging of the campaign longer than the one week which was planned.

The new system of monthly payments on the pledged amounts has worked out successfully thus far. The arrangement enables the contributors thus to contribute more than they could otherwise and at less financial inconvenience than was formerly the case.

Since it is the aim of the solicitors to call on every house in the Twin Towns it has been impossible to limit the campaign to one week. They also request that those who wish to donate any amount may save the solicitor much time by phoning the "Y" and naming the amount they wish to give. Members of the Hi-Y clubs have generously offered to make the collections where a monthly amount has been pledged.

Leaders are stressing the fact that it costs approximately $12 a year for every boy to receive his entertainment and training at the YMCA. They remind the townspeople that one dollar per month takes care of the expenses for one lad for an entire year. Thus far about $1700 of the necessary amount has been raised.

EPISCOPAL

Rev. G. J. McCormack Rector.

Rabbi Louis I. Newman says that religion is not getting a fair share in modern life.—He says that everything else has been tried in solving our problems. Why not give religion a chance?

"In prosperity men have imagined themselves superior to the need for religious ministrations; in adversity they have economized first in religion and philanthropic affairs.

Religion should not be a sporadic, sensational concern, but a steady, continuously effective factor in the life of the whole family.

Americans of today have experimented in everything except religion; it is time they gave religion an opportunity.

At the recent election held by the Girls' Friendly Society, the following officers were chosen to serve for the ensuing year: Alice Hoare, president; Margaret Hall, secretary; and Dorothy Hall, treasurer. A basketball team has been formed and other activities are being planned.

The regular monthly meeting of the St. Agnes Guild will be held at the home of Mrs. A. B. Branson, of Garfield avenue, Monday evening at eight o'clock.

The annual convention of the Diocese of New Jersey will be held in Trinity Cathedral, Academy street, Trenton, May 5 and 6, at 10:30 a. m.

The convention will open with a celebration of the Holy Communion. A Fellowship dinner will be held at the Hotel Hildebrecht on Tuesday, the fifth, at 6:00 p. m. Wednesday, May 6, Holy Communion will be given at 7:30 a. m. The dean extends a cordial invitation to all.

A very splendid report of the work of the Church Mission of Help was given by Mrs. E. E. Fox at the regular meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary Monday.

Services fourth Sunday after Easter: 10:00 a. m., Sunday School; 10:45 a. m., Holy Communion and sermon. "Who Shall Be the Greatest?"; 8:00 p. m., Evensong and sermon. "The Appeal of Suffering."

If Christ should count you worthy, and should design
One day to seek your door and be your guest,
Pause! Ere you draw the bolt and bid Him rest.
He wakes desires you never may forget,
He shows you stars you never saw before,
He makes you share with Him forevermore,
The burden of the world's divine regret.
How wise you were to open not, and yet,
How poor if you should turn him from the door.

FIRST LUTHERAN

Rev. Harold L. Creager

The regular meeting of the Light Brigade will be held tomorrow afternoon.

A playlet will be presented by the members of the Light Brigade at the session of the Sunday School on Sunday morning. The title of the sketch will be "India Lace Work."

This is the part of the Missionary work, which consists of training the natives to be self-supporting, and one part in this program provides for the making of lace by the women of India.

This wonderful work needs encouragement and support and a special offering will be taken for this purpose.

CHARLES T. BATES, Pastor.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"EVERLASTING PUNISHMENT" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, May 3, 1931.

The Golden Text is: "Evil pursueth sinners: but to the righteous good shall be repayed" (Proverbs 13:21).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And Jesus called a little child unto him, and set him in the midst of them, And said, Verily I say unto you, Except ye be converted, and become as little children, ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven" (Matthew 18:2,3).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The design of Love is to reform the sinner. If the sinner's punishment here has been insufficient to reform him, the good man's heaven would be a hell to the sinner" (p. 35).

COUNTY "Y" LEAGUE

Baseball Teams Are Divided Into Four Groups

The Burlington County Y. M. C. A. Baseball League schedule was started Monday night, when Marlton defeated Jacobstown at Marlton 4-1. The Vincentown-Mount Holly Eagles game was called on account of darkness at the beginning of the fourth inning, with the score 5-4 in favor of Vincentown. The Comrade Y. M. C. A. group, and the Pathfinder Y. M. C. A. group, both of Moorestown, played six innings when the game was called on account of darkness, score 1-1. All these games were in Division A.

Division B-1 will open this week as follows: Beverly at Bordentown Mojag; Cinnaminson at Delanco Hi-Y; Riverside Goodwill at Willingboro.

On Tuesday night Section 2 of Division B will play, as follows: Moorestown Hi-Y at Jobstown; Mount Holly Bok Hi-Y at Pemberton.

Wednesday night Division C schedule will be: Mount Holly Baptist at Medford; Lumberton at Mount Holly Spartans.

There will also be four groups in Division D composed of fellows around 12 and 13 years of age.

50 IN SATURDAY'S RACE

Nearly 50 "big time" drivers, the greatest field in the history of the track, will bid for honors in Saturday's 100 mile opening race on the Langhorne Speedway. The champion, Billy Arnold, record holders, veterans, ambitious youths, all will bid for laurels in the premier of the eastern campaign. Admitting that competition will be "plenty tough" this season, Arnold plans to get into action from the opening gun at Langhorne to be in the pink of his 500 mile grind at Indianapolis Memorial Day.

TRI-HY CLUB ACTIVITIES OF THE WEEK

The Tri-Hy Club held its regular weekly meeting Thursday evening. Mary Rhoades had charge of the evening's program.

The topic under discussion was "Victory Over Self." Mary took charge of the devotional services and Catherine McAnulty read the story of Demosthenes. The story concerned an awkward man who wanted to become a great orator, and his victory over himself.

Mary Lord recited the story of "The First Christmas Tree," which was very interesting and entertaining.

The regular business meeting was then held and the following items discussed: swimming in the near future, the cake sale to be held May 2, rehearsal of the program to be given at the state meeting, May 8.

This rehearsal was held Tuesday evening at the home of Miss M. Collins in Delanco.

The girls discussed the prospect of having a baseball team and the "Good Thought Dues." This consists of each girl contributing one penny each meeting night, to be used in sending flowers to the sick.

The group will meet tonight in the Methodist Church at 7:30 o'clock.

P. H. S. JUNIORS ON STAGE NEXT WEEK

"Seventeen", Play Taken From Tarkington Novel is Selection of Students

"Seventeen," a play taken from Booth Tarkington's novel of the same name, will be presented next Friday and Saturday nights, May 8 and 9, by the junior class of Palmyra High School.

The plot of the play deals chiefly with William Baxter, whose age is exactly seventeen, and whose mother persists in calling him "Willie," and whose sister continually tells tales about him. In fact he thinks he has all the troubles in the world until Lola Pratt and "Floppit" come along, which, however, gives his sister more tales to carry.

It is said that Willie's sister is a "scream," his mother is lovable, and as for Lola, it is claimed she is indescribable. Opportunity is given everyone to form his own opinion by the presentation of a ticket costing 35c or 50c.

The play will be presented in the High School auditorium with the following cast:

"Mrs Baxter," Eleanor Finn; "Mr. Baxter," Lionel Klevan; "Wm. Sylvanus Baxter," Burton Conway; "Johnnie Watson," Norman Moffitt; "Jane Baxter," Helen Young; "May Parker," Marjorie Powell.

COMMUNICATED

Editor, New Era:

In reading your columns in the past two weeks, articles on the memorial tablet to be placed on the grandstand in Memorial Park and particularly after reading John Flynn's letter in this last week's issue, the writer has become very much interested in this affair.

While everybody might not think just as John does, nevertheless he has expressed a thought that many of the veterans have felt but lacked the courage to say so openly. However I think if the Borough Council would call a meeting of the members of the ex-legion post of Riverton, some more suitable memorial could be arranged for.

Back in 1919 after we all came home from the war, some of the boys formed the James A. Bradley Post, American Legion. The writer was not a charter member but became a member shortly afterwards and took an active part in its affairs. Our flags were presented to us by Colonel D'Olier, who is the first national commander of the American Legion and a former resident of Riverton. Mr. Bradley very kindly presented us with a very fine picture of his son, whom we named the post after. We had meetings in the Collins Building.

A committee from the borough council approached our members and asked them for a suggestion as to a suitable memorial for the war veterans and especially those who gave the supreme sacrifice for their country. We made a suggestion and later were very severely criticized for begging for a memorial. We merely formed a committee to work in conjunction with the committee that was formed by the council and the final outcome was that on the 4th of July 1920 or 1921, not sure just which year, every member of the post was presented with a gold signet ring, commemorating his services in the World War. Later Memorial Park was purchased as a memorial to the veterans.

The park is a very fine thing, but it is obscure, bounded on one side by the railroad tracks, on another side by an ash dump and on a third side by a narrow street and on the fourth side by the Pompess Creek. It is hard to get to and after the tablet is placed on the grandstand it will be necessary to place signs, with arrows on them all over Riverton so the people will be able to find their way to the spot where the memorial is placed.

Why wouldn't it be a better idea to endow a room at the Fire House or some other suitable place, where the James A. Bradley Post could have a home and be recognized and enter into the affairs of the community? All these men who are eligible for membership would become more useful citizens through the contact with the properly organized American Legion Post and the high ideals that the Legion stands for.

Riverton has something really to be proud of if they will just realize that these silk flags that Colonel D'Olier presented us with should have a proper home and the children of the community taught to realize the significance of what they stand for. Also the fact that he was the first national commander is something for Riverton to be proud of.

Respectfully yours,
HOWARD A. WASHINGTON.

'STUDENT PRINCE' AGAIN AT SHUBERT

Sigmund Romberg's Popular Light Opera Success in New Setting

Sigmund Romberg's greatest and most popular success among his long string of light opera and musical play hits, "The Student Prince", comes again to the Shubert Theatre, Philadelphia, starting Monday night, arriving here fresh from its renewed Broadway and Chicago acclaim.

More resplendent than ever, in new dress and settings, this precious musical gem is presented by the Messrs. Shubert in Philadelphia for a brief engagement before going to Boston for a summer run. Philadelphia is the third city to see this specially organized company and production which proved so popular recently at the Majestic Theatre in New York at popular prices and even more recently at the Grand Opera House in Chicago.

In this year's cast will be found a number of old favorites headed by George Hassell, who was the original Lutz when the play made its sensational original appearance on Broadway, more than six years ago. Others in the cast are William Pringle, Gertrude Lang, Edward Nell, Jr., Marion Weeks, Hollis Davenny, Marie Stoddard, Adolph Link, Margaret Wells, and, of course the customary notable student male chorus.

"The Student Prince" has long been hailed as one of the most perfect of all light operas and is certainly among the best balanced as to story, music and the other elements that go to make up a tune show. Long before it was made into a musical show with Sigmund Romberg's immortal melodies it was a great play having been taken from Old Heidelberg as pretty nearly everybody must know.

In Philadelphia the large capacity of the Shubert Theatre enables the producers to present this great musical play at the lowest prices in its history as night prices will be 50c to $2.00; Wednesday matinee 50c to $1.00 and Saturday matinee 50c to $1.50.

BASEBALL LEAGUE INAUGURATES NEW SEASON SATURDAY

Loop Swings Into Action for First Time, Two New Clubs Added

FLORENCE CHAMPIONS HOSTS TO BURLINGTON

Riverton and Vincentown Expected to Add Interest to County Race

With a full eight-club circuit assured, the Burlington County Baseball League will open its season this Saturday, with all teams swinging into action.

In addition to the six clubs which played in the loop last season Vincentown, strong contenders in the 1929 scramble, and Riverton, heretofore playing independent ball, have been added to the roster. Both teams are expected to add considerable interest to the race for the county championship.

C. B. Bennings, manager of the Vincentown nine, announced the acquisition of Eddie Novak, stellar mauskman of the Camden Police team last season. An unconfirmed report has also been spread to the effect that Ray Steineder, former hurler for the Pittsburgh Pirates, has signed a contract to fling for the "Vincents."

Last season Florence, represented by R. D. Wood, won the championship of both halves of the split season, thereby eliminating the necessity of a play-off series. Their success in the last half of the race was disputed by the Medford Olympics, who were finally nosed out in the late innings of the deciding game of the season. The other clubs have added new talent to their lists and Wood will have a hard time to repeat this season. Both Riverton and Vincentown are the dark horses of the league.

Saturday finds the "Vincents" entertaining the Medford Olympics, Riverside crossing the creek into Delanco, Burlington journeying to the R. D. Wood field, and Riverton playing host to the Moorestown nine.

"Pals" Lead Class B Teams in Penn Relays

Palmyra High School lost first place in the one mile relay race at the Penn Relay Carnival last Saturday to last year's South Jersey championship quartet from Collingswood.

The second place team came from Long Branch, and led Palmyra to the tape to nose out the Pals for runner-up honors. Some little consolation is gathered from the fact that both schools are Class A institutions and that the "Colls" have a veteran combination from last year's track team.

Among the Burlington County schools Palmyra was easily the best. Moorestown and Burlington finished back of the Palmyra four, Burlington finishing farthest in the rear and barely keeping from ignominiously finishing a tail ender.

The "Pals" also led Camden, Vineland, Haddonfield and Asbury Park to the tape.

The members of the Palmyra team were Gar Reynolds, Al Stocker, Irving Conwell and Preston Stanford. Despite a fairly slow track the winning Collingswood combination travelled the distance in 3 minutes, 36 3-5 seconds.

RIVERTON OPENS BASEBALL SEASON

Moorestown Plays Here Saturday in Opening Game of Burlco League

At 3:15 o'clock Saturday afternoon the first baseball of the season will whiz across the plate, officially opening the Burlington County League. Riverton vs. Moorestown at Memorial Park.

The Riverton lads have been hard at practice and from all indications they will give Moorestown a good run for the money.

An exhibition game will be played Wednesday evening.

ORLEMANN'S TEAM WINS TOURNAMENT

Overcoming the keenest kind of competition Harry Orleman's team won the spring bowling tournament at the Riverton Country Club and afterwards defeated Ed Lippincott's team for the title of club champions for the year 1931.

The standing of the teams at the close of the tournament follows:—

Team Captain	W	L	Pc
Orlemann	31	14	.688
Cox	29	16	.644
Clark	29	16	.644
Lippincott	27	18	.600
Ayres	25	20	.555
Miller	24	21	.533
Guest	24	21	.533
Coale	23	22	.511
Yost	21	24	.466
P. Graff	20	25	.444
Evans	19	26	.422
Dr. Brown	19	26	.422
Bonsall	18	27	.400
R. Graff	17	28	.377
Hiltner	16	29	.355
Rev. Lewis	15	30	.333

Clark also bowled the best 3 games totaling 630.

N. Lane, Jr., bowled the highest 3 games for Class B, with a total of 583.

The best single game was turned in by Merrill Bartlett who made 245.

During the past season the club team defeated strong teams of the Penn A. C., of Philadelphia and the Overbrook Country Club.

PALMYRA MAIDS POSTPONE MEET

Match With Gloucester Set for May 7 as Natators Visit Washington

SO. JERSEY GIRLS SWIM LEAGUE

	W.	L.	T.	Pc.
Haddon Heights	2	0	1	125½
Collingswood	2	1	0	108
Palmyra	2	0	1	105½
Pitman	1	1	0	73
Merchantville	0	4	0	70½
Gloucester	1	2	0	45½

This Week's Schedule
Wednesday—Haddon Heights vs. Pitman.

Palmyra girls temporarily lost their chance to advance in the standing of the South Jersey Girls' Swimming League when they postponed their match with Gloucester, originally scheduled for Monday.

The change in the date was made because a number of the girls of the tank team were in Washington with the Senior class. Those that remained would not represent the strongest combination which the Pals could muster, and the meet was accordingly set for a later date.

The two strongest rivals of Palmyra in gaining the swim crown this season meet this week. Haddon Heights and Pitman tested their respective abilities in the Camden pool yesterday.

The Pals were held to a 29 1-2 point tie by the Heights' team last week and narrowly defeated the "Cottagers" in the opening meet of the season, 31-28. All three teams are considered very much in the running for titular honors, although the "Heighters" were fortunate in having 54 points forfeited to them in their opening contest with Gloucester.

In the two meets since then they have registered 71½ points or nearly 36 per meet. The Palmyra maids have tallied 105½ markers in three meets or an average of slightly over 35 points per contest. Collingswood has an average of an even 36 points while Pitman averaged 36½ points in two matches.

Mrs. Margaret Murray announced several changes in the meet schedule. The postponed meet between Gloucester and Palmyra has been set for May 7.

The newly revised schedule follows:
May 4—Gloucester vs. Pitman.
May 6—Collingswood vs. Palmyra.
May 7—Gloucester vs. Palmyra.
May 11—Merchantville vs. Haddon Heights.
May 14—Collingswood vs. Pitman.
All matches at Camden Y. W. C. A. tank.

PALS GAINS IN RACE; HADDON HEIGHTS TIES IN CLOSE SWIM MEET

A spurt by Cecilia Baker, swimming fourth on the girls' relay team, enabled the Palmyra lassies to stave off defeat at the hands of the Haddon Heights natators in an exciting meet last Wednesday afternoon.

The "Heighters," who climbed into first place as the result of their victory, were leading in points scored until the relay event which was won by the Palmyra four. Despite the fact that the Pals placed first in four of the seven events, they were not winners of the match. The Heights' team scored sufficient second and third places to earn them a deadlock with the defending champions. The final score was 29½-all. The tie kept either team from dropping into the ranks of the undefeated, as previous to last week's meet neither team had tasted defeat.

Haddon Heights jumped into the sunberth by scoring 125½ points thus far this season. Collingswood dropped to second with 108 markers while the Pals advanced to third position with 105½.

The results:

20-yard novice—Won by Margaret Quimby, Palmyra; second, Elmira Ziegler, Haddon Heights; third, Elizabeth Knight, Palmyra. Time, 13 1-5 seconds.

20-yard freestyle—Won by Cecelia Baker, Palmyra; second, Louise Ayres, Palmyra; third, Doris Sieferd, Haddon Heights. Time, 10 2-5 seconds.

20-yard breaststroke—Won by Cecelia Baker, Palmyra; second, Margaret Smith, Haddon Heights; third, tie between Irene Sipple, Palmyra and Ray Gravcur, Haddon Heights. Time, 16 4-5 seconds.

20-yard backstroke—Won by Virginia Botti, Haddon Heights; second, Dorothy Meitzner, Palmyra; third, Rowena Thomas, Haddon Heights. Time, 16 1-5 seconds.

80-yard relay—Won by Palmyra (Ayres, Showell, Hoffner, Baker); second, Haddon Heights. Time, 50 seconds.

RING SHOW

Boxing and Wrestling Monday at Birdwood Club

Next Monday evening at 8:30 o'clock, the Birdwood Club, of 419 Hawthorne avenue, Haddonfield, will hold a boxing and wrestling show. There will be six boxing bouts and three wrestling matches. Birdwood Club boys will compete against Philadelphia boys in the boxing bouts and Moorestown boys in the wrestling matches.

As an added attraction a three-man tumbling team from Camden and Rudy Gambicorda, of Riverside, wizard at muscle control, will give exhibitions.

Refreshments will be served to all, for which a nominal fee will be charged.

MOORESTOWN NINE IN BURLCO LEAGUE TILT

Local Team Meets Riverton Saturday Afternoon; Elaborate Plans For Opening Program

The Moorestown Athletic Association baseball team will open its season on Saturday afternoon when it meets the Riverton team, at Riverton, in its initial Burlington County Baseball League fracas. Plans have also been made for an elaborate opening day program.

Moorestown fans are showing keen interest in the team this year as only local boys will see action. A large number of men have been practising faithfully for the past two weeks and are showing fine enthusiasm and pep.

"Doc" Conroy is manager of the local nine this year. Some of the newcomers who have won positions in the club are "Peachy" Roberts, "Peter" Baylock, "Bill" Lippincott, "Pud" Hollingshead and "Joe" Klenle. Several of the players who have represented Moorestown in the past five years are also in the lineup, including Harry Brodie, "Joe" Bartello, "Bill" Reagan, "Pud" Wilkins, "Nick" Bartello and Harry Bowman.

Although undefeated, Palmyra High dropped a half game back of first place in the Burlington County Scholastic Baseball League when Bordentown took its second game in loop competition, Monday.

The Riverside team was the second victim of the Bordentown nine, which won its first game last week from Moorestown.

The Bordentown club hammered Seeman, Riverside flinger, for 22 runs and 14 hits with McCoy, Fredericks, Dan and Vanders accounting for three bingles each. Minifri was the only one of the Riverside outfit to gather more than one blow. Their five runs were scored on as many hits.

The big inning of the game came in the fourth when the "Bordens" tallied 13 runs. The pastiming took three hours and ten minutes.

MARBLE TOURNEY

Charles Frank Proves "Champ" Among Cinnaminson Aggie Shooters

The first marble tournament held in conjunction with the annual Boys' Week, was completed Tuesday at the Cinnaminson school.

The winner of the match was Charles Frank, 10 years old, and the runner-up was Harold Harker, four years his senior. Both these boys will compete in the district match planned for May 9 at the Palmyra-Riverton Y. M. C. A. building. There the winners of the Palmyra, Riverton and Cinnaminson schools will meet.

The two lads were the victors out of a group of thirty boys who entered from the rural school. Competition finally forced out one and then another until the final round saw only five boys in competition. In addition to Frank and Harker, Edward Wille, 12 years old, Samuel Woodside, 13 years old and Lawrence Duff, 10 years old, were the ones to enter the finals.

The tournament at the Riverton school is now in progress with a large number of boys participating.

Mrs. Emily Scott

Mrs. Emily Scott, for many years a resident of Palmyra, died Tuesday evening at her home, 803 Washington avenue.

Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at two o'clock from St. James the Less Church, 33rd and Clearfield streets, Philadelphia, Pa. Interment will be made in the church yard, under the direction of Frank A. Snover.

Friends may call at 3447 Indian Queen Lane, Philadelphia, this evening.

Mrs. Scott is survived by her husband, Samuel Scott.

PALMYRA TO HAVE TWILIGHT LEAGUE

First Game of Season to be Played Monday Evening at 6.15 O'clock

Owing to the popular demand for baseball in Palmyra, a Twilight Baseball League has been formed and the high school baseball grounds will be in their glory starting Monday, May 4, at 6.15 p. m., when Parry meets the Rogers News boys.

According to schedule, games will be played on Monday, Tuesday and Friday nights. The league is comprised of the following teams: Artisans, Baptists, Ramblers, Parry, K of C, and Rogers News. Some excellent baseball is assured all those attending these games.

Everyone is looking forward to the opening game with a great deal of interest, as many of the townspeople remember that this league had quite a following several years ago.

The league was organized Tuesday evening, and the following officers were elected: Richard E. Wilson, president; George B. Snyder, vice-president and S. Stuart Buchholz, secretary and treasurer.

There is no question as to the success of the league, if one may judge by the enthusiasm displayed at the organization meeting Tuesday evening. No admission will be charged those desiring to witness these games, but a collection will be taken to help defray expenses.

The officers and members of the league are asking for the hearty support of the townspeople.

For information of the baseball fans in this vicinity, the schedule of games will be found on another page of this edition. The league asks that it be clipped and put in a safe place for ready reference.

Moorestonian Makes THIRD GOLF ACE on Riverton Course

George Smith, Moorestown pro and two-time P. G. A. golf champion, secured a hole-in-one on the 142-yard par three seventeenth hole at Riverton Country Club Tuesday while playing in a threesome with Walter Brickley, Riverton professional, and Marty Lyons, pro of Spring Hill. He used a niblick in registering his third eagle over a space of six years. The ball took two hops and then disappeared into the cup.

Smith, Brickley and Lyons were playing a practice round in preparation for the P. G. A. classic which will be held at Riverton on Monday, May 11. The Moorestown pro, who will defend his championship, covered the course in 73, two strokes over par. Lyons bagged a 75 with Brickley registering 76.

For the first time this season two teams won three games each from their opponents. The league leading Chesterfields and the second place Lucky Strikers turned the trick in Monday night's games. The margin between first and last place has increased from three to six games.

Two teams representing the Palmyra alleys journeyed to Wildwood the first team of Curt Flynn, Howard Vyle, Clayt Weikman, Frank King and Joe Gorman losing three games to the shore bowlers, with total pins score of 2814 to 2462. Gorman was high man, rolling 569 for his three games.

The second team of Stack, Dowie, Goldberg, King, Hunter, and Wallace were more successful toppling their opponents 2581 pins to 2405, and winning two of the three games. Goldberg had an average of 207 for the night's performance.

Notice is hereby given that the first and final account of the subscriber, Administrator, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate and reported for settlement and allowance to the Orphan's Court of the County of Burlington, at a session to be held Thursday, May 7, 1931, at ten o'clock in the forenoon.

A. RUSSELL CATTELL, Administrator.

Proctor: Joseph Beck Tyler.
Dated: March 25, 1931.

IN CHANCERY OF NEW JERSEY

To Benjamin F. Yeagle, Jr., and Anna M. Yeagle, his wife.

By virtue of an order of the Court of Chancery of New Jersey, made on the day of the date hereof in the cause wherein Cinnaminson Building and Loan Association of Riverton, New Jersey is complainant, and you Benjamin F. Yeagle Jr. and Anna M. Yeagle, his wife, are defendants, you are required to appear and answer the bill of said complainant on or before the 16th day of June next, or the said bill will be taken as confessed against you.

The said bill is filed to foreclose a mortgage dated May 7, 1929, made by you and Edna G. Parsons, his wife, to the said Building and Loan Association of Riverton, New Jersey, dated November 12, 1928, and recorded in the Office of the Clerk of Burlington County in Book No. 230 of Mortgages, page 71, upon lands and premises situate in the Borough of Palmyra, in the County of Burlington and State of New Jersey.

And you Benjamin F. Yeagle, Jr., and Anna M. Yeagle, his wife, are made defendants because you are the record holders of title to the premises described in said bill of complaint, and to redeem thereof have or claim to have some right or interest in said mortgaged premises.

Dated April 15, 1931.

EDITORIAL

Now is the time of spring flowers, birds, and yes, "spring fever." Sometimes it feels good to have this ailment because you feel drowsy, and lazy and could go to sleep right away. It is best when you can go to sleep but oppose you go to sleep when you should be doing something else. That is a restless sleep.

Many people [illegible] to find out if they have spring fever. I go on working thinking it's winter and forgetting it's spring and I won't have spring fever.

When you have spring fever, you feel like postponing everything.

FATHERS VISIT SCHOOL

The past week has been most exciting for everyone who was looking forward to his father's visit. Each class exhibited its work, which was viewed by the parents from seven until eight o'clock. Then Mrs Murgatroyd's class gave an example of group work in the classroom, fulfilling contract assignments. Then Dr. Albert Lindsey Rowland, who is superintendent of schools in Elkins Park, Pa., gave a very inspiring address on "Progressive Education." At the close of the program refreshments were served.

TOURING SUPPLIES

Tuesday the fourteenth, the entire seventh grade with their teachers visited the Supplee's ice cream and milk plants.

Great enthusiasm was displayed when samples of milk, ice cream and choco-pico were served. However, much interest was shown in all the places as; especially in the bottling of the milk.

After the bottles are sterilized with live steam they are sent on a track to a machine where they are filled with milk or bottled and capped. The first one a hand touches the bottles is when they are put into the crates for delivery.

At the ice cream plant nothing was working, but they went through a freezing room that was twelve degrees below zero.

VISITING DREER'S

The first grade children took a trip to Dreers, through the courtesy of Mr. Raymond Strohlein.

They saw the men working at their different duties, in the furnace room, the hot house, or driving horses. They also saw the gold-fish pond, the river, the bamboo grove, and the many different buildings.

HEIDI COMES TO 4-A

The 4-A is studying Switzerland, and the pupils made a sanditable model of Heidi and her mountain home. The pupils take much pride in the appearance of this model. The 4-A pupils are using Heidi in the study of history, geography and English. This was likewise, a part of their Fathers night exhibition.

DISPLAY ATTRACTS 6-A GRADE

Did you visit the 6-A room on Father's Night? This celebration is held annually and at the same time the years work is exhibited. These pupils have been arranging their finished results of various activities carried on in connection with their subject material.

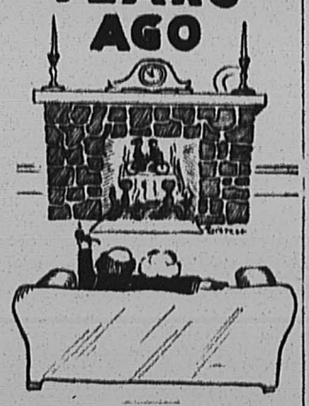

The entire exhibit was very striking and was not prepared for Fathers' Night as they desired to show daily work instead of show material. The castle was rebuilt and hand work consisting of weaving; wood carving, salt maps, soap carving, furniture, shields, helmets and art was displayed. The ships attracted much attention. The bulletin board received much favorable comment. This consisted of Swiss scenes. Nature studies, and water colored windows all mounted upon bright yellow paper. In place of the drill blackboard the entire space was hidden, and there appeared many interesting scores, sky studies, and charts of value. Flowers added their beauty to the room. The pupils felt quite pleased with this years display.

ALAMO CONSTRUCTED

The pupils of the 5-A are interested in nature study and they have been making a collection of waxed flowers. They pick the flowers and wax them themselves at home.

In history they have been studying about the Alamo and the boys and girls made a model of the fortress in their room. They found this work most interesting.

30 YEARS AGO

(Issue of April 28, 1901)

Tenth Wedding Anniversary

George McIlhenny and wife celebrated the 10th anniversary of their marriage on Monday evening, with quite a number of relatives and friends from Philadelphia, Moorestown and Bergeantsville, N. J.

The home was handsomely decorated with palms, azalias, and cut flowers and the table was decorated with pink crepe paper and white azalias. The bride cake was decorated with ten little red, white and blue candles, representing the number of years, which were lighted when the guests went out to the dining room. After spending a very pleasant evening, and refreshments being served, the relatives and friends from Philadelphia left on the 10:57 train. Those present were William McIlhenny, Mrs. M. M. Venable, Andrew J. McIlhenny, and Miss Ella Rogers, Misses Helen and Lizzie Ardrin, Torresdale; and wife, [illegible] Farmers of Riverton, Mr. and Mrs. W. Venable, and [illegible] Venable, Louis A. Wetmore and wife of Palmyra; Mrs. Case of Rosemont, Mrs. M. L. Luckenbach, Harry Baker and wife, Paul Thompson and Miss Lizzie Venable, Peter Slocum and wife and niece, Miss Emma Stout; Charles C. Rock and wife, Miss Sallie Jenkins, John McAleer and wife, of Philadelphia; Mrs. Louis French, Frank Rogers and wife, Mrs. Mitchell and Miss Almeda Perkins, of Moorestown.

At the home of her parents, Wednesday evening, (April 24th, 1901) at six o'clock, Miss Bertha Lippincott was united in marriage to Henry C Parrish, of Brooklyn, by Friends ceremony. The bride is the third daughter of Ezra Lippincott, one of the founders of the town. After the wedding tour they will reside in Riverton.

A large number of guests were present.

Gdr and Mrs Parrish have lived in Riverton since their marriage, and now occupy a beautiful home on Thomas avenue, near the Riverton Country Club. There are four children, E. Dillwyn Parrish, employed at Haddon Hall, Henry Lippincott Parrish, who works for the Baltimore Sales Book Company; Miss Alice Lippincott Parrish, attending Bradford Junior College, and Lawrence Lippincott Parrish, who attends George School).

(Palmyra, Same Issue)

A bill prohibiting the use of live pigeons at shooting matches has been favorably reported to the New Jersey Assembly and will undoubtedly become a law. This measure has the support of all humane people and ought to be adopted by every State in the Union. The practice of shooting live pigeons from traps is brutal and the sooner it is prohibited the better.

Mothers' Club

The Mothers' Club of Moorestown has been organized with the following officers president, Miss Gaskill, vice president, Miss Lauber; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. A. J. Collins; executive committee, the officers, Mrs. Nicholson and Mrs. Annie H. Perkins. Its objects are to cooperate with educators and legislators to secure the best methods of physical, mental and moral training of the young, to enlighten motherhood upon all the problems of race development, to uplift and improve the conditions in all walks of life. Meetings are to be held from 3 to 4 p m on the last Monday of each month, from September to June. The next meeting will be on Monday, April 29.

MISS ELIZABETH SHINN

Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at two o'clock. Interment was made at Harleigh Cemetery.

Mrs. J. H. Bennett, of Los Angeles, had her son arrested for burglarizing her home and stealing $3,000.

HORSE SHOW, FETE PLANS UNDERWAY

Gala Benefit for Cinnaminson Home to Again be Staged

The annual Cinnaminson Home fete and horse show will be held at the Moorestown Field Club on Saturday, May 23, and Mrs. Alexander C. Wood, Jr., president of the board of managers of the home, and Miss M. Albert Linton, fete chairman, are already busy with plans to make the event not only as attractive and successful as those of past years, but to add new features as well.

William F. Reeve is again chairman of the horse show, which is to begin at 1:15 o'clock. Mrs. Ralph Freeman will have charge of the parking arrangements for the spectators.

Miss Helen E. Woodman and Mrs. Howard G. Taylor, both of Riverton, have charge of the supper. Last year's hot supper was so greatly appreciated that it is to be repeated this year, in addition to the cafeteria. Tickets for this supper must be purchased in advance from Mrs. F. W. D'Ollier.

To fill in the idle moments between supper and the arrival of the dance orchestra, there will be an entirely new feature, an exhibition of aesthetic dancing by Miss Frances Hartshorne, using the Stokes' rose garden as her setting.

Proceeds from this annual event very largely support the Cinnaminson Home and the managers are greatly interested in making just as big a success of it as possible. The occasion is also one of the social attractions of the season.

MIRROR BECOMES AN ORACLE AND ANSWERS QUESTIONS

Take a piece of hard french chalk and write on a mirror the words, "yes" and "no." Write each word at opposite ends of the mirror, and with a silk handkerchief lightly wipe the chalk off so nothing is seen on the mirror. After the question has been asked, you judge whether the answer should be yes or no. Then instruct the person to breathe on the mirror where you have written the word that answers the question, and the word will become visible. It can then be wiped off and another question answered.

UNEMPLOYED DRIVER FREED AFTER CRASH

Passengers in two automobiles escaped injury in a minor crash on the railroad tracks, Cinnaminson avenue and Broad street, Palmyra, Saturday night.

The driver of one car is John H. Bratton, 314 West Fourth street, Palmyra. Attempting to make a right hand turn from Broad street to the south side of Cinnaminson avenue, he made too wide a turn and damaged the fender and bumper of the second car, going north on Cinnaminson avenue, driven by Charles Saerrer, 832 East Woodbine avenue, Philadelphia. Saerrer's father was badly shaken up by the force of the collision.

Police removed the cars from the railroad tracks immediately. Saerrer refused to press charges when Bratton agreed to pay for the damage to the Philadelphia car, and the Palmyra man was released by Chief of Police C. M. Back.

Bratton is unemployed and the father of five children.

Mark Thorn, of Los Angeles, will have to undergo an operation, having swallowed his false teeth while asleep.

2 MEN ARE SENTENCED ON DISORDERLY CHARGE

George Decker, of Beverly, and Frank Wilson, of Riverside, were sentenced by Riverton Borough Recorder Cecil A. Bowers Monday night on disorderly conduct charges. Decker was committed to the Burlington county jail for 90 days in default of a $220 fine on a charge of drunken driving. In addition, he was held in $100 bail for the grand jury on a charge of resisting arrest, and committed to jail for an additional 30 days in default of a fine of $15 for drunkenness and disorderly conduct. Wilson was sent to jail for 30 days when he was unable to pay a fine of $50 on a drunk and disorderly charge and held under $100 bail for the grand jury on each of two charges of resisting arrest and assault and battery.

James Edleman of Lost Nation, Iowa, won a bet by eating 45 eggs and a half a loaf of bread in 17 minutes.

MOORESTOWN WOMAN HOSPITAL SECRETARY

Mrs. Mary W. Coles Re-Elected Officer of Jeanes; Has Served Since Opening

Mrs. Mary Wilkinson Coles, well-known resident of Moorestown, was re-elected secretary of Jeanes (Cancer) Hospital, Fox Chase, Philadelphia, at its annual meeting.

Mrs. Coles has served with distinction as secretary since the foundation of the Hospital, which opened January, 1929.

Other officers elected are: J. Wilmer Lundy, Newton, Pa., president; J. Lawrence Lippincott, Riverton, vice-president; Charles F. Jenkins, Philadelphia, treasurer; Albert Preston, Solbury, Pa., was elected to board of trustees.

Jeanes Hospital was established by the will of the founder, Anna T. Jeanes, a prominent member of the Society of Friends. It is managed by Friends, but is non sectarian in its service.

The Hospital is beautifully situated on the former Jeanes Homestead, "Stapely Farm," a 64-acre tract of rolling park land, adjoining Burholme Park, on Central avenue, Fox Chase. There are 72 beds and, since its opening in January 1928, it has a record of 45,296 patient days.

Purchase THOR Electric Equipment on the Part Payment Plan

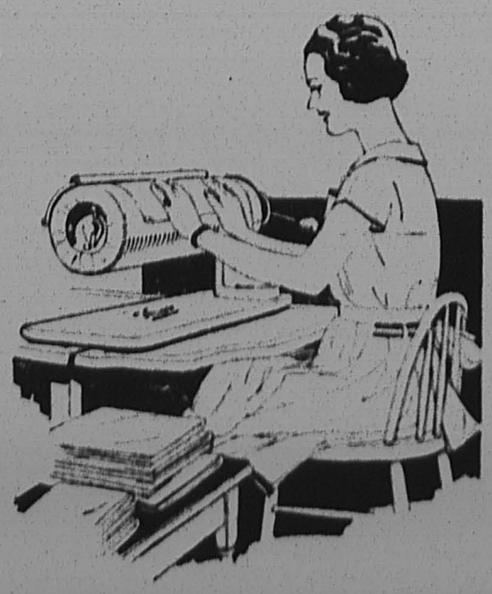

DO your washing the easy way. Do it the thorough way. That is the Thor way. Built to a moderate size, the Thor is suitable for a small house or apartment, yet it is large enough to do a big washing. Each article is washed gently and is wrung out without being pulled or torn, because the wringer rollers are of soft rubber through which buttons and fasteners can pass easily.

$99.75 cash and $105.75 on terms of $5 down and eighteen months to pay.

THOR Electric Speed Ironer Ends Ironing Drudgery . . .

Do your ironing the easy way. Sit comfortably before the Thor ironer and guide the articles as they pass around the roller. The pad heats in four minutes and has an ironing surface ten times the size of a hand iron. You will find the flat pieces easy to iron and with a little practice you will be able to do the difficult things like men's shirts and children's dresses.

$79.50 cash and $84.25 on terms of $5 down and eighteen months to pay.
