Award Gold Medals to Past Post Commanders Tuesday Night

REX McCROSSON NAMED FOR STATE COMMANDER

Post Rodgers Will Support Team to Play in Junior Baseball League

Nine Past Commanders medals were presented to members of Post Rodgers, American Legion, Palmyra, at its regular meeting Tuesday night.

The meeting was in the manner of a reunion for many veterans who had been separated from their friends for a time. Those who were honored with the medals were those who had been active in Legion affairs not only in this community but in other communities throughout the state.

Post Rodgers has the distinction of presenting one State Commander, Frank Mathews, Jr., and is now about to present another, Rex McCrosson. Who at this time is the State Chairman of the membership committee. Palmyra has also been known for its fine bugle and drum corps, which for two years has been state champion. McCrosson served during one of these years and now is up for nomination for the State Commandeship, the election of which will be held next September.

Among those guests who were loud in their praise of the Palmyra post's accomplishments were "Ike" Cokill, State Service Officer; Frank Hallowell, Burlington County Commander; Past County Commanders Jack Whomsley and Frank Absalom; and County Committeemen Page Schooley and Frank Duffy.

The Post Commanders who were honored with medals, in the order of their service, were: H. F. Kemmerle 1918-19; J. A. Boehme, 1919-20; E. A. Lamson, 1922-23; W. C. Nethercott, 1923-24; Dr. C. S. Mills, 1924-25; W. R. McCrosson, 1925-26; G. W. Truman, 1927-28; T. M. D'Autrechy, 1928-29; and Carl Thomas, 1929-30.

The post also went on record as being the sponsor of a baseball team to be a member of the American Legion Junior Baseball League this team to be composed of the best material obtainable from the local lads. Six teams from Burlington County are entered with ten games on the schedule of each team. Five of these contests will be played away and the others on the Field Club grounds. Games will be played on Mondays and Thursdays, those scheduled for the beginning of the week to be played away from home. Joseph Stack and another prominent local citizen will be coaches and will officiate at all home games.

NO REPLIES TO MEMORY TEASER

Strange As It Seems, No Answers Were Received About Last Week's Picture

Last week's Memory Teaser was the old Riverton Fire House.

The Fire Company was started in 1890, soon after the store of Joseph M. Roberts was destroyed by fire. The first house was on Main street. The first officers were president, J. C. S. Davis; vice-president, Walter Spackman; secretary, A. J. Borie; treasurer, C. A. Wright.

The company went into the new house in 1893. The property cost $4,000, and the equipment is valued at $1,500. The present officers are president, J. C. S. Davis, who has held the office ever since the company was organized; vice-president, C. L. Flanagan; secretary, William J. Thomason; treasurer, C. A. Wright.

The board of directors are A. J. Briggs, O. H. Mattis, C. T. Earp, John Seckel, S. V. Solomon; foreman, Lois Corner, assistant foreman, William Mattis. The present membership is about 150.

The second floor of the building is fitted up with two billiard tables and contain the officers meeting room which is also used by borough council. The cellar is fitted up for a jail and contains two cages.

The management is endeavoring to raise some money to pay on the mortgage of $1300 still standing against the property, and had arranged for an excellent entertainment, which, unfortunately, has been called off owing to the death of the head of the company that was to have performed.

The Riverton Fire company has rendered most efficient service in every case of need, and saved thousands of dollars worth of property since its organization. A few weeks ago letters were sent out enclosing applications for inactive memberships, with an initiation fee of $1.00, and yearly dues of the same amount. These have not been as fully responded to as they should, and it is hoped the citizens of Riverton will promptly recognize and perform their duty in this matter. We all enjoy the protection afforded by the existence of the company and should be willing to contribute our mite toward its support.

APPRECIATION

The Riverton Parent-Teacher Association wishes to thank all the merchants in Riverton who so generously donated prizes for the card party held last Wednesday afternoon at which over $60 was cleared. This amount is considered large, as there was another card party in town the same day. The proceeds go towards the Student Loan fund for the county.

SCOUTS SPONSOR PLAY ON MAY 15

"The Mollusc" by the Drexel Hill Players to be the Hit of the Season

The delightful English comedy, "The Mollusc," which is to be presented at the Parish House, Riverton, on Friday, May 15, by the Drexel Hill Players will be one of the most interesting events of the year. There are only four players in the cast and all four of the members of the company are talented actors. George Clifford, who takes the part of "Mr. Baxter" (in place of Mr. Robinson, as was heretofore announced) is a member of the famous Mae Desmond Stock Company which all Philadelphians know. Mr. LeRoy Hansplant who plays the part of "Tom Kemp," and who is also the director of dramatics of the company, was a member of the "Play of the Week" company which delighted audiences at the Garrick Theatre in Philadelphia all last summer. The two feminine members of the cast, Miss Gleanna Pathick and Miss Marjorie Winchell are equally talented.

"The Mollusc" offers a most delightful diversion, quite comparable with the best that has been offered in the metropolitan theaters this season. The play itself has real merit, and the cast is, as was stated above, thoroughly competent to handle such a vehicle in a competent manner. This is an opportunity for Rivertonians to see at home for nominal prices the kind of a play that ordinarily they would have to go to the city to see at prevailing theatre prices.

The play is being given under the auspices of Troop 50, Boy Scouts of America, and the proceeds will go to reducing the troop loan.

The Scoutmasters' dinner held at the Riverton troop headquarters Monday evening of this week was a great success. It was attended by forty Scoutmasters and assistant Scoutmasters from all over the county. A delightful dinner was served by Mrs. Alexander B. Garwood, assisted by Mrs. William Shoemaker, Jr., and Mrs. John R. Naisby. After the dinner a lively discussion was held about the many problems connected with Scoutmasters' work, and especially the matter of merit badge tests. There was also a discussion about the possibility of starting a county-wide Scoutmasters' newspaper.

In addition to the Scoutmasters and assistant Scoutmasters, the dinner was attended by Mr. Wall, the president of the Burlington County council; Mr. Shaw, the county Scout executive, and other county officials.

The work of the Riverton troop is continuing to progress. Signalling is the major consideration at this season but the boys are looking forward to a summer of out-door activity.

At the meeting Friday of this week, Mr. Charles Delaney is going to entertain the troop with moving pictures of the flight of the Graf Zeppelin and other interesting subjects.

An especially interesting event will be the reception of a radio broadcast by the President of the United States, who will speak at all the meetings simultaneously.

The Burlington county meeting will be held in the Guild House of St. Mary's Church, Burlington, and all those interested are invited to attend. The dinner preceding the meeting will be served at seven o'clock, at a charge of $1.00 per plate.

12,000 Cars Traverse Palmyra Span Sunday

It was estimated that more than 12,000 cars crossed the Tacony-Palmyra bridge last Sunday. Favorable weather and good roads did much to bring the week end motorist out on the road. A majority of the cars bore Pennsylvania tags and were seemingly enroute to the shore.

The traffic on the new Burlington-Bristol bridge was also heavy, approximately 5,000 cars crossing the newly opened span. The Camden bridge carried about 40,000 cars Sunday, which together with the number using the structure Saturday raised the total to 85,173. Tolls for the two days on the Camden span amounted to $20,411.10.

ARREST ANOTHER DRUNKEN DRIVER

The War on Drunken Driving Continues Unabated by Riverton Police

Last Sunday morning at 3:00 a. m. Officers Gootee and Robinson of the Riverton police department arrested Robert O'Neil of 1947 Monmouth street, Philadelphia, for drunken driving. At a hearing before Police Recorder Cecil A. Bowers O'Neil was fined $200.00 and $21.00 costs. He paid his fine and was dismissed.

A bicycle was reported stolen belonging to Richard Barclay of 265 Lippincott avenue, Riverton. The Palmyra police recovered the bicycle from a colored boy nine years old, living at Wrightsville.

Saturday morning at 10:30 o'clock, Mrs. A. R. Lauretis of 429 Leconey avenue, Palmyra, while attempting to make a left turn on Main street opposite Chew's Bakery ran directly in the path of a car proceeding north on Main street.

The car was a Cadillac sedan owned and driven by D. L. Vaughn, former Riverton resident. Mr. Vaughn's car struck the left side of Mrs. Lauretis' car and did considerable damage to it as well as receiving quite some damage to the Cadillac.

No injuries were sustained and no arrests made. Chief of Police Miller investigated the accident.

POPPY CAMPAIGN START TOMORROW

Annual Sale of Memorial Flower to be Held by Legion

When the fire siren sounds at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow evening it will be time to expect a call for "help!"

The members of the American Legion and Auxiliary begin their annual poppy drive at that time and every home in this vicinity will be canvassed. The little red poppy seems a small thing, but what a world of meaning it holds for those who make them, wear them and hold them in reverence.

During the week of two just prior to Memorial Day, millions of Americans will wear the blood-red poppy of Flanders Field, in memory of those gallant American boys who sacrificed their lives that American ideals might live.

The wearing of the poppy is no empty form. It is not idea developed in the mind of any man pushed to public acceptance by clever promotion. It is a symbol of reverence—a sign that the high ideals, for which those men gave their lives, still live and are honored.

As American soldiers struggled forward through shattered villages, across shell-torn fields and over the blasted hillsides, they saw only one touch of life and a beauty in all that region where death and destruction reigned. This was the little red poppy. Along the very edges of the trenches, about the ragged shell holes and in the fields racked by machine gun fire, the brave little poppy grew and bloomed.

When comrades were left beneath the bare dirt of hastily dug battle graves, the poppy sprang up and clothed these graves with flowers. It seemed as if the gallant spirit of the dead had passed into the blood-red blossoms and that through the little flowers they were sending a message of courage and hope to those who still lived. Thus, the poppy became the symbol of the dead, their memorial flower.

That is why we pin on the poppy when we pay tribute to our World War dead. The poppy covers the soil in France beneath which they lie and on Poppy Day we place the flower over our hearts where the memory of the great sacrifice they made for our country is forever enshrined.

Remember the message of the poppy,—"Buy Me—Wear Me."

ROTARIANS HEAR OF CONFERENCE

Delegates Report on Many Interesting Things Heard at Reading

The Rotary Club meeting last week consisted of a report of the Reading Conference by delegates E. N. Cooper and other members who were present.

Mr. Cooper, reporting on the Community Service Group, stated that Wallace Chadwick, of the Chester club, gave a very interesting and inspirational talk relatives to the club's work with delinquent boys, in addition to the ordinary club activities of work with crippled children and college fund work.

Mr. Chadwick explained that the Chester club had been approached by the court soliciting the aid of Rotary in the guidance of youths in that neighborhood who were showing an inclination to stray from the straight and narrow path.

This club saw in the opportunity of performing a real service to its community and organized a boy's club similar to Rotary in every respect except in name. The delinquent boys were taken in and provided with recreation and other character building activities that soon rewarded the club for its effort. This miniature Rotary in Chester is now functioning so well that the Chester courts will release delinquent boys to its care on probation.

Chester Rotary also organized a Junior Preparatory Club made up of boy students from the senior high school classes who were showing marked advancement in their school work and activities. Albert Lindsay Rowland, who talked in Riverton on Fathers' night, at the P. T. A., is chairman of this group. He stated that such a group will be prepared when leaving school to take their place in the business world, and through their association with Rotary will be better fitted to become leaders in their respective fields of endeavor.

Mrs. Robert A. Davis spoke at the conference and stated that women had no active place in Rotary. Rotary Anns, she further explained, should remain in the background, assisting their husbands and furnishing to them the inspiration to carry on the great work.

R. B. Taylor, of Norristown, gave some very interesting facts concerning the magazine "Rotarian," published by Rotary. At the beginning of this magazine 2000 copies were sufficient to answer the demand and now it has grown to 138,000 copies per issue, including a Spanish section for the Latin American countries. It may also be found in many public and school libraries. The local club has just ordered copies for the Riverton and Palmyra school libraries.

Roy O. Wyland talked upon the forces for betterment at work among our young people, and praised very highly the activities of such organizations as the boy scouts, Y. M. C. A. and many similar organizations.

Dr. S. C. Mills reporting on Club Service, stated that there is no tendency at this time to change the ruling allowing only one person membership in each club for each classification. He also stated that the local club should have its program for the year made in advance.

Dr. Mills explained a new idea introduced for the first time at a Rotary conference which provided everyone with a thorough understanding of what took place each day in every one of the four meeting of the conference held simultaneously.

Three couriers were assigned to each meeting of the conference, and near the close of the meeting these three couriers would each go to another meeting and tell them what took place at the meeting from which he had come. Dr. Mills stated that this system worked splendidly and provided the delegates with a resume of the day's activities in each of the four meetings.

Howard Conover reported on the International Service Group Meeting and stated that International Rotary is becoming very much concerned over the type of moving pictures which this country is seeing abroad. In some cases the pictures provoked severe foreign criticism and create an unfavorable condition in our international affairs. The conference expressed the hope that pressure might be brought to bear upon those responsible to see that only the better type of pictures were released for exportation from this country.

Secretary Joseph Beel reported on the Vocational Service Group Meeting.

President Clem Lewis sumarized the conference for the local club, and stated that printed copies of the proceedings of the conference could be purchased by members desiring them.

ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. Irving A. Collins, of "Sunny Terrace," Moorestown, N. J., announces the engagement of their daughter, Miss Eunice Allen Collins, and Mr. Vincent O. Bush, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene J. Bush, of Riverton.

To Preach

MRS. ESTHER M. PIMM

Wife of the Rev. Ira S. Pimm, who will be the preacher at the Mother and Daughter service in the Epworth M. E. Church Sunday evening.

MRS. PIMM TO PREACH SUNDAY

Mother and Daughter Services to be Held at Epworth M. E. Church

Mrs. Ethel M. Pimm, wife of the Rev. Ira S. Pimm, pastor of the Epworth M. E. Church, of Palmyra and Riverton, will be the preacher at a "Mother and Daughter" service on Sunday evening at 7:45 o'clock.

For several years Mrs. Pimm has held a local preacher's license and was one of the first women to be regularly appointed to a charge in the Methodist Episcopal Church, having served a church in New York State where her father is a minister. She has been much in demand by parents' and women's organizations.

The service Sunday evening will be held in honor of the mothers and daughters in this vicinity. Each mother is asked to bring her daughter and sit in the same pew with her. Any mother not having a daughter of her own is urged to bring a young girl from a family where there is more than one daughter.

The sermon subject will be "The One Thing Needful" from the story of Jesus at the home of Mary and Martha. A beautiful stained glass window in the church depicting this scene will be illuminated at the time of the sermon.

Space will be reserved for the guests of honor, the mothers and daughters. The young women members of the church will serve as ushers for the evening.

A special mother and daughter duet will be sung by Mrs. R. K. Coward and her daughter, Miss Mary Coward. The title of the number will be "Mother" by Willard. Mrs. Rachel Lind will play as an offertoire "Songs My Mother Taught Me," by Dvorak.

PORCH CLUB NOTES

The annual meeting and election of officers of the Riverton Porch Club was held at the club house Tuesday, May 5 at 2:30 p. m.

The polls were open one hour. Mrs. Luther R. Turner acted as Judge of election. The tellers were Mrs. J. Lionel King and Mrs. Ralph L. Flower.

The secretary's, treasurer's and president's yearly reports were read followed by those of the committee chairmen.

It will be of great interest to the club members to know that from these reports it was shown that the increased yearly dues has enabled the club to have a successful program for the season of worthwhile events and also leave a small balance in the bank. Each department reported progress in its field of endeavor so the club as a whole feels that it is attaining its ideal which is a desire to be an organ of helpfulness to the community.

The result of the voting was the election of Mrs. Joseph L. Thomas for president; Mrs. Francis B. Elwell, vice-president; Miss Edith S. Coale, recording secretary, and Mrs. Edward K. Merrill, treasurer. The five new directors are Mrs. Fred P. Heinphill, Mrs. Gilbert A. Coe, Mrs. L. Brewster Jackson, Mrs. H. W. Shreve and Mrs. Arthur T. Hagatoz.

Tea was served and the meeting adjourned.

The Charter luncheon for members will be held May 19. Please notify Mrs. Malcolm M. Dickinson (telephone 198-J) for reservations.

Mrs. Rose A. Hughes

Mrs. Rose A. Hughes died at the home of William S. C. Rorsy, Leconey avenue, Palmyra, Thursday evening.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at two o'clock from the Snover Funeral Home, with the Rev. George Lockett, pastor of the Central Baptist Church, officiating.

Mrs. Hughes was the wife of the late Samuel J. Hughes. She is survived by her brother, Charles Newkirk, of Philadelphia.

SCHOOL ESTIMATE JUMPS TO $325,000

Riverton School Board, Divided on Procedure, Will Meet Again May 12

"Which came first, the chicken or the egg?"

This most question has found its counterpart in a problem which has divided the Riverton School Board in its consideration of a new school building.

Last Monday night when the proposition of submitting a proposal for issuing bonds to erect a new school came up for discussion before the Board some of the members thought that a very definite set of plans should be drawn, upon which accurate cost estimates could be based and the proposition offered to the public on that basis.

Opposed to this was the idea that tentative plans and approximate costs were adequate, and that the voters could be asked to approve the new building on general principles with the details and actual cost to be worked out after the Board had been authorized to go ahead.

Failing to reach a unanimous agreement as to which of these plans should be followed, the Board decided to further discuss the matter at a special meeting to be held May 12. If any citizens have suggestions to make, this will be an appropriate time to offer them.

Architect Presents Plans

Stanley P. Stewart, architect presented tentative plans which had been prepared along lines suggested by Mr. Cooper, supervising principal, and embodying the things thought to be necessary in a modern school built to meet Riverton's requirements.

The estimated cost, including the ground and equipment was $325,000, as against the $250,000 estimate in Mr. Cooper's survey of last week.

The construction will be of the fire resistant, Class C type. The heating system will be steam with oil burner.

Mr. Stewart's plans provided for the erection and equipment of a junior high school, which however, will not be needed unless Cinnaminson township will cooperate by sending its seventh, eighth and ninth grade pupils to Riverton's new school.

Much Depends on Cinnaminson

Messrs. Mattis, Rutherford, and Steedle were strongly of the opinion that no proposition should be placed before the voters until it was definitely ascertained whether or not this cooperation would be forthcoming from Cinnaminson, and, consequently, whether Riverton needed a junior high school, or only a new grade school.

Mrs. Mayfield, Mrs. Blair, Messrs. Barclay, Shrader, Warren and Hemphill, in order to get under way, approved of asking for a sum sufficient to erect a junior high school, and then if that proposition fell through, putting up a grade school, spending only the sum necessary.

SIGNS OF SPRING AT CINNAMINSON SCHOOL

Tulips and Miniature Gardens of Wild Flowers Brighten Grounds and Class Rooms

Tra-la-la, Spring is here! How can one tell? By blossoming trees, gardens deserted during the past months now receiving careful attention by the presiding genius who anxiously watches to see if the bulbs so tenderly planted last fall are peeping through, and by the rock gardens at School Number 2, Cinnaminson.

One outside near where the tulips are blooming near by, the other in Miss Rush's room where a miniature garden has been made to accomodate pots containing specimens of all the wild flowers that the children can find. As far as possible these have been named. Such interest and enthusiasm are fine to see.

Forty-four children were examined during the pre-school clinic last week, most of whom received the first dose of diphtheria toxin, only two of the number objecting.

It is a happy thing to be able to say only a few minor defects were found. This probably means that mothers are recognizing the fact that many things they formerly felt were ailment the child would "outgrow" are really needing attention.

On the 19th and the 21st they return for the second toxin treatment.

Six who were unable to attend on account of measles will then be given the medical examination.

This clinic is most interesting to the members of the P. T. A. who are privileged to assist.

Publicity Chairman.

PALMYRA SCHOOL BOARD WILL AID IN HEALTH CAMPAIGN

Agrees to Pay for Portion of Toxins Used in Summer Round-Up

MEDICAL TESTS PLANNED DURING VACATION PERIOD

Three More Teachers Tender Resignations as Members of Faculty

Complete co-operation between the School Board and the Board of Health was promised at the regular meeting of the Palmyra Board of Education last Thursday night.

In the annual summer campaign for disease prevention a round-up of pre school children is made, to notify parents of physical defects in the children. Serums and anti-toxins used to prevent disease are used in large quantities during the summer months.

The summer round-up this year is scheduled to begin today under the supervision of the school nurse and physician. The administering of the anti toxins and the Schick tests will be carried on throughout the summer. The School Board, in co-operation with the Board of Health, agreed to pay for toxins necessary for the use of the school children, while the health bureau will meet the expense of those vaccines used for pre-school children.

The question of the high school fraternities still remained unsettled. While immediate expulsion will not be levied on the present members of the high school clubs, they will be obliged to pledge themselves not to solicit new members. Should the issue go no further than the pledging the organizations would go out of existence for lack of members within the next year or year and a half.

However, the following of such a course would seem to make the school board lax in its enforcement of rules and several members felt that more rigid measures should be used. Nothing definite was decided upon and the final decision will await further deliberation by the board.

The resignation of three of the teachers was accepted by the School Board. Vera L. Mebane music supervisor; Mary Hayes and Martha W. Hughes of the grammar school, tendered their resignation at the meeting. Miss Hughes expressed regret at leaving and said she had enjoyed her teaching in the Palmyra school, but a contract to teach in a Bordentown school would take her nearer home. The acceptance of the Bordentown offer necessitated her leaving Palmyra.

The request of Ethel Morton, for an extra year's extension on her leave of absence was refused. Miss Morton is now studying in Berkely, California.

In arranging the baccalaureate service, the board was told that the Rev. George J. McCormick, of the Christ Episcopal Church, Palmyra; the Rev. Joseph A. Rigney, of Sacred Heart Church, Riverton; and Rabbi Nachman Arkoff, of Camden, will be the speakers.

A notice was also made that an exhibit of art, manual training and domestic science work would be held May 19th. Rental of the High School athletic field for the use of the twilight league teams was also cited. It was also decided that the original time of closing the year, June 17, would not be changed.

Attendance for the three schools was again in the ninety per-cent class. The 1316 students attending the Palmyra schools compiled a record of 93 per cent attendance during the past month.

TO START CAMPAIGN AGAINST DIPHTHERIA

Palmyra P. T. A. and Health Authorities Plan Work of Prevention

Preparations have been made by the Palmyra Parent-Teacher Association, co-operating with the school authorities and the health board, to begin the work of administering toxin-antitoxin for diphtheria prevention and Schick tests and also summer round-up health examinations for children who will enter school in September.

Dr. H. W. Bauer has very kindly consented to give his time for these examinations and injections and Dr. Jean B. LePavor will also share in this work.

The examinations and injections will be given each Thursday in May at 3:00 p. m., in the Delaware avenue school building.

MAN GORED BY BULL DIES AT HOSPITAL

Farmer's Wife on Kresson Road Farm Attacks Maddened Animal With Pitchfork

Gored by a bull that had torn through a fence from a neighboring farm, Henry Evans, 46, died Thursday night of last week in West Jersey Homeopathic Hospital, Camden.

Evans, a hand employed on the farm of Joseph Gibbs, Kresson road near Marlton, had suffered a fractured skull.

Mrs. Gibbs, wife of the owner of the farm, attacked the animal with a pitchfork in an effort to save the man, who had been knocked down when the animal charged.

The Delaware township police took the man to the hospital.

According to the police, the animal is the property of Frank Taska, whose farm adjoins the Gibbs property.

Mrs. Gibbs said she saw the animal from a kitchen window as it raced across a field to attack the farm hand. Calling to her husband, the woman ran to a barn where she got a pitchfork and rushed to the aid of Evans.

LAWNS DAMAGED BY 'JAP' BEETLE

Yellowed, Dying Grass Fruits of Last Year's Infestations, Says State

Damage to lawns resulting from heavy Japanese beetle infestations last summer is becoming evident in many parts of central and southern New Jersey at the present time, says the State Department of Agriculture.

Grubs hatched from eggs deposited in turf last summer by the beetles are making their way toward the surface of the ground to feed in preparation for emergence as adults, the department points out. Where they have eaten grass roots, their favorite food, spots of yellowed, dying grass are becoming prominent in lawns. This condition is particularly noticeable in Burlington, Camden and Gloucester counties and parts of Mercer, Monmouth, Ocean, Atlantic, Cumberland and Salem counties, where the beetles were numerous last year.

Determination of whether the grubs are actually present and immediate treatment of turf if they are is advised by the department for persons wishing to prevent further damage. The best procedure is to cut carefully pieces of sod, one square foot in size, from various parts of a lawn and examine the grass roots and the ground immediately below. If less than 10 beetles per square foot are found, the lawn need not be treated.

If more than 10 grubs per square foot are found, the Department of Agriculture advises that lead arsenate at the rate of five pounds per 1,000 square feet of turf be applied. Lead arsenate mixed with a filled and suitable for lawn application is obtainable in areas infested with the beetle. After the examination is made, the sod should be replaced.

Applications of lead arsenate at this time of year will be effective throughout the summer and fall in checking the growth of the crop of grubs which follows the appearance of adult beetles. Persons living in sections heavily infested by the beetle and desirous of taking extra precautions against lawn damage, should apply the material at this time of year rather than in the summer when it is inadvisable to make the treatment. In most cases lead arsenate is effective for three years after it is applied.

Persons who decide not to treat their lawns this spring may treat them in the fall. Fall applications of lead arsenate should be made where beetles are numerous in the vicinity of lawns during the preceding summer.

JUNIORS PRESENT POPULAR STORY

"Seventeen", Based on Novel by Tarkington Presented This Week

The annual show of the Junior class of the Palmyra High School will be presented tomorrow and Saturday nights in the High School auditorium. "Seventeen," a four act comedy taken from the well-known novel of the same name by Booth Tarkington is the play selected by the Junior class committee for this year's presentation.

The cast was picked from a large number of stage aspirants more than six weeks ago and since that time have practiced diligently to insure the success of the performance. Included in the cast are many who have featured past shows at the Palmyra institution. Musical comedies at the high school have made many of the Juniors eager to try their hand in other roles besides those of chorus members and all are doing their best to justify the choice of the coach in selecting the cast.

Well known members of both boys and girls sport teams appear in various roles in the performance. Helen Young, Cecilia Baker, Helen Geise, Lionel Klevan, Burton Conway, Cramer Garwood, Raymond Coles, Daniel Clifton, and Norman Moffit are included in this list.

The leading roles of "Lola Pratt and "William Sylvanus Baxter" are filled by Helen Geise and Burton Conway, respectively. The supporting cast includes:

"Mrs. Baxter," Eleanor Finn; "Mr. Baxter," Lionel Klevan; "Johnnie Watson," Norman Moffitt; "Jane Baxter," Helen Young; "May Parker," Marjorie Powell.

"Genesee," Cramer Garwood; "Joe Bullitt," Raymond Coles; "George Crooper," Daniel Clifton; "Ethel Beke," Cecelia Baker; "Wallie Banks," Wilson Schmierer; "Brooks," Edna Buckingham; "Mr. Parker," Paul Coddington.

Tickets have been placed on sale several weeks ago and are selling for fifty and thirty-five cents. Proceeds from the show will be used to defray expenses of the class in its trip to Washington next year.

NEEDLEWORK GUILD HOLDS CONVENTION

Fourteen Palmyra Women Hear Address by Widow of President Roosevelt

Fourteen members of the Palmyra branch of the Needlework Guild of America attended the annual convention held at the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel, Philadelphia, Thursday, Friday and Saturday of last week.

Mrs. Thomas Preston, Jr., presided at the convention and a very interesting talk was delivered by Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, Sr.

The Junior Pageant written and staged by the Junior directors of the organization was presented on Saturday.

The Palmyra branch was represented by Boy Scouts and Junior workers. Miss Elsie Richley gave a very splendid report of the Junior work of the local organization.

The regular meeting of the thrift circle of the Palmyra branch will be held at the home of Mrs. A. H. Lippincott, of 903 Morgan avenue, Palmyra, Tuesday morning at 10:30 o'clock. Box luncheon. All members are urgently requested to be present.

Winning Name for County Scout Camp Submitted by Moorestown Youth

The Burlington County Scout Camp at Wrightstown, has a new name. From now on it is to be known as Camp Mahalala, after the name of the old Indian Chief whose friendly tribe once inhabited the land.

The name was selected from a number of suggestions made by the county Scouts in a competition. The winning name was suggested by Scout Arthur Raymond, Troop 2, Moorestown. He will be awarded two weeks at the camp, without expense, for the best name and essay written about it.

The name, Mahalala, suggests the colorful background of wilder days gone by when the first white men settled in this section and when this land was deeded to the Jones family for 40 shillings in 1704. The old Jones house still stands on the campsite where Chief Mahalala and his tribesmen paid friendly visits to these early settlers.

MAYOR WIMER HEADS COUNTY BIBLE CLASSES

Dr. Harold Paul Sloan, of Haddonfield, Was Speaker at Sunday Meeting

Dr. Harold Paul Sloan, of Haddonfield, was the speaker at the meeting of the Burlington County Federation of Men's Bible Classes held at the Mount Holly M. E. Church Sunday afternoon.

The officers elected to serve for the ensuing year are as follows: Mayor George N. Wimer of Palmyra president; Edward Holley, of Delanco, vice-president; Horace Wills, Vincentown, treasurer, and Mark Reynolds, of Mount Holly, secretary.

The retiring officers are: Herbert L. Coehley, of Medford, president; the Rev. R. J. Beasley, of Jobstown, secretary and M. W. Smith, of Mount Holly, treasurer.

The next meeting of the organization will be held at Camp Ockanickon Sunday, June 7.

The ladies are cordially invited to attend. It is hoped that more than 1000 persons will be present.

Even today, they say, the shades of frail canoes cut through the mist that rises from the lake in early morning and the lithe figures of swarthy tribesmen bend to their paddles and disappear.

The old mill, established by the Jones family, ground grist before the Revolution and during the war supplied flour to the Continental Army.

Now the camp is being made ready for the coming season when the young followers of the Indian tradition will collect from all over the county to practice self-reliance and camp craft; and to live healthy lives in the out of doors.

Donald Nicoll is camp director for the season which starts June 20. He is a young man with keen ability and many years of camping experience. He is a senior at the New York State College of Forestry and for several seasons has been instructor of Indian lore in boys' camps.

In anticipation of future needs of the camp, the Scouts have established a tree nursery where some 3,500 trees are being raised for transplanting. So far this year, 2,000 young trees have been set out along the north side of the camp property to form protection from wind and add their beauty to the site.

The American Legion has started work on the old barn on the property. They are remodeling the old land mark, making a rainy-day recreation hall of it. A concrete floor will be laid in the main room and the necessary equipment provided.

NEW RECORDS EXPECTED SATURDAY AT LANGHORNE

With additional time in which to iron out early season wrinkles" as a result of Saturday's postponement, new records are expected this Saturday when 87 auto race jockeys open the eastern campaign on the Langhorne Speedways. The opening originally scheduled for last Saturday was "rained out." Charlie Tompkins, holder of the national speed record for 500 miles, which he established with his October 18 victory of last year, predicted new speeds. He wheeled his trim Miller special around the mile dirt strip last Friday to make time of a trifle of 99 miles an hour.

FLASHES FROM THE Y. M. C. A.

Senior Hi-Y Visits

The Senior Hi Y Club under the leadership of William Plank will be the guests of the Riverside Hi-Y on next Monday night. This meeting will take place of the regular weekly meeting that is held in the Methodist Church.

Black Hawk Roast

Tuesday night of this week the Black Hawks with Secretary Mount tramped out to Dead Man's woods for an outdoor meeting and good time. The eats committee arrived on time in the leader's car. After a real doggie roast where plenty of food was consumed, games were played. Chase was the most popular with the time out about equal in each case. After dark the gang gathered about the glowing fire and told ghost and fireside tales. When the singing of "Taps" in a Friendship circle the group started the homeward trail. Every fellow had a great time and numerous suggestions for following hikes were made to Mr. E. N. Cooper, their leader.

Medals Awarded

On Monday of this week Mr. Mount awarded a bronze medal to Edward Wallace, champion marble shooter of Riverton School. Ed was hard pushed by his younger brother Robert. At the opening exercises of the Friends' School Edward Hirst received his award for being the champion of Westfield. This morning Tony Cuzzupe was awarded the high honor for winning the Delaware avenue school championship. Charles Frank, a fourth grader, won the shooting contest at Cinnaminson and he received his medal at the Monday assembly. These boys with the runners up will shoot for district honors this Saturday at the Y.

Boys' Bicycle Hike

The pedal artists will leave the Y at 9:00 a. m. sharp. Any boy that is late will be left at the starting point. Mr. Mount, secretary of the Y, will pedal a bike with the rest of the crowd. A pump, tire tape, first aid kit and the like will be carried to meet all emergencies. An automobile will await our arrival at various points to take care of any bikes that have failed to function.

In order to go you need not be a member of the Y, but you must in person register at the Y office before 5 p. m., Thursday, April 14th. This is absolutely necessary in order to make final arrangements for the trip. Any boy that is not 10 years of age or who is not used to riding a wheel should beware of such a long trip.

The committee have made provision for those who cannot ride a wheel. Mr. John L. Metzger, chairman of the transportation committee, will have cars at the Y to take these fellows. Boys riding in cars are asked to "chip-in" the sum of 10 cents to be used for the general good time.

Every boy is asking, "Why should I go that day?" On that Saturday the marble championship of Burlington County will be decided. Our local district champ will shoot against other fellows in the county. Every boy will want to see this match.

That day will mark the camp reunion for Burlington County boys. "Cliff" Ergood and "Guy" Hendry have planned some real fun for us. Then if "Mother Nature" smiles warm enough a dip will be held in the lake. Games and races will be conducted.

Every boy will bring his lunch with him and a bit for his supper in the event we decide to remain late in the afternoon. Refreshments to local fellows will be served by the local Y. M. C. A.

Leaders are needed for this trip and any that care to go or go and drive their cars if they will call 904 it will greatly aid the plans. The entire gang should be home before dark.

Boys, don't forget to sign up, then oil your bike and what a fine time we will have on Saturday, May 16. If you have been to camp before of course you'll go to see the old crowd and familiar spots, if you are thinking of going this year for the first time, you'll have a real chance to see a bit of that great 530 acre tract dedicated for character building. Parents through their generous support and interest in the local Y. M. C. A. make this trip possible.

Register for Camp!

Boys are already signing up for their stay at Camp Ockanickon. Mr. Mount, the "Y" secretary, will gladly call at your home and tell your parents about the camp. Boys that feel they cannot afford to go this year are asked to see Mr. Mount at the Y. In spite of the depression there are still numerous ways for fellows to earn their way to camp. If you want to go badly enough there will be a way.

$325,000 FOR A NEW SCHOOL

The Riverton Board of Education is preparing to ask the voters for a new school building to be erected on a site adjacent to Memorial Park, at a cost of approximately $325,000.

The first intimation many residents of the borough had of this project was the article published last week. While the members of the Board of Education have been discussing the subject in "committee meetings", from which the press was excluded, practically no information was given to the public.

Now the taxpayers will be asked within the brief period of four or five weeks to form a decision on a project of considerable magnitude and importance.

Before reaching this decision the public is entitled to know of a certainty whether or not the Cinnaminson Board of Education will send its seventh, eighth and ninth grade pupils to the junior high school if Riverton builds one, as this will be the deciding factor in determining whether to build a grade school or a junior high.

If a junior high is not feasible at this time, then would it be practical to remodel the present building and make it serve for another ten or fifteen years until it is more nearly paid for. (There is still $16,000 due, which runs until 1947.) This might be possible, in view of the number of pupils who will be taken out of the public school by the new parochial school which is nearing completion.

When the proposition to remodel the present building was considered by the board a few years ago it was favored by several members who advanced some very good reasons why it should be done.

The public is entitled to a full report on this phase of providing suitable and adequate school facilities. In preparing this report the services of an impartial committee of citizens might be very valuable.

And a committee of citizens could be very helpful, too, in considering the final plans for a new building if it is eventually decided to erect one. The contention that "too many cooks spoil the broth" is offset by the equally pertinent observation that "two heads are better than one." Suggestions from several viewpoints might avoid a repetition of some of the disappointments experienced in the present structure.

There are ample precedents for enlisting the aid of a citizens' committee in working out town projects. Such a committee was appointed by Mayor Bennett to recommend to council what form a memorial to World War veterans should take. Mayor Rogers appointed a citizens' committee to recommend whether or not a zoning ordinance should be prepared for Riverton and submitted to the public for ratification.

Both committees rendered valuable service.

The taxpayers, too, are entitled to know on what plan the new building would be financed—twenty, thirty or forty years—and what it would mean in the way of increase in the tax rate.

While it is readily agreed that a fine, modern school building with latest equipment and facilities is a great asset to a town, on the other hand nothing is a greater handicap to its growth and development than an excessively high tax rate.

The people who will have the bill to pay have a right to ALL the facts, and sufficient time in which to properly weigh and consider them before being pressed for a decision.

Is four or five weeks time enough?

THE STATE AND COUNTY TICKET

"Economy, lower taxes, turn the rascals out, only I am honest—all other are crooks", is a favorite cry of some outs who would like to get in—and the cry is raised over and over again, year after year.

Charges that would send the accused to jail if they could be proved are loosely and recklessly made by those who hope to slip into office under the smoke screen they have raised by their "holier than thou" claims.

If these Honest Johns of politics are as filled with virtue as they would have the voters believe, how is it that they make no attempt to put an end to the misconduct they insinuate exists until they become candidates for office and endeavor to climb into a berth over the besmirched reputations of those whom they seek to villify?

If they are really honest at heart they could as well expose wickedness in high places at times when they would not profit personally by so doing.

The voters of Burlington county have too much common sense to be misled by blatant claims of superiority and sweeping promises of "reform".

The ticket offered by the Republicans in the state and county, headed by David Baird, Jr., for governor and Marcus W. Newcomb, who seeks return to the House of ssembly, is one that every voter can support with confidence that the candidates, if elected, will render the honest and conscientious service which their past performances give their constituents a right to expect.

Dr. Newcomb has been a valuable member of the lower house in the New Jersey legislature, and was thought to be unopposed until Edward R. Williams, of Riverton, tossed his hat into the ring with his well known genial smile at the eleventh hour. Mr. Williams needs no introduction to the readers of The New Era. While the former councilman can hardly expect to make the grade this year, he can feel out his strength and get in line for the office at a later date.

In the race for freeholder, the incumbents, Charles R. Stout and James McCormick seem to be easy leaders. Both men have served the citizens of Burlington county—Stout for several terms on the board, while McCormick is finishing his first term. Stout needs no endorsement. His long and efficient service is his best recommendation. Mr. McCormick has been a faithful and conscientious member of the board, and rendered valuable service as head of the department of bridges, one of the most important in the county. His re-election will keep intact the fine organization of the Board of Freeholders which has been operating smoothly in the interests of the taxpayers. The administration has been characterized by that quiet efficiency which marks real progress.

County taxes have gone up, as they have in most municipalities, but a large portion of the money spent by the Board of Freeholders, such as salaries, court expenses, etc., are determined by powers outside of and above the board. The money appropriated for county affairs has been wisely and economically spent. To turn these two men out simply because others want their places, is poor business and poor policy.

The contest for surrogate presented a rather complicated situation. First off it looked as though the incumbent M. E. Matlack, would oppose the harmony candidate, George B. Bitting. This, however, was ironed out, and things looked peaceful again. Then Harry J. Ziegler, of Riverside, who at present holds the office of county auditor, announced his candidacy. Harry is well known and well liked, and will doubtless poll a large vote, but whether or not he can overcome the combined strength of the harmony groups remains to be seen.

In Riverton there is no contest for local offices. Killam E. Bennett is candidate for mayor, while E. K. Merrill and Gorham P. Sargent are slated for members of council—all unopposed, and having the approval of the Riverton Republican Club, Inc.

Riverton (Issue of May 3, 1901)

And now they say the trolley will run either Saturday or Monday.

Next Tuesday evening the first meeting of the Riverton Yacht Club for the season of 1901 will be held.

At the 50 bird shoot at the Riverton Gun Club Wednesday the first prize was won by E. L. Dolan, of Bristol; the second prize, a purse, was won by Mr. Stenson, of New York. The first prize, a silver cup, was offered by Carl Moody, of Philadelphia.

The trolley track has now been connected with the Moorestown end and cars would be running, but for the fact that the Merchantville council will not permit connection to be made at that place until after the street has been macadamized. This work will be completed in a few days and it is reported that cars will be running next week. The construction car has been running to the edge of West Moorestown.

A public meeting was held in the town hall, at Moorestown, on Monday night for the purpose of explaining the workings of the sewer system to the taxpayers. A number of maps were exhibited and were explained by E. C. Worrell at considerable length. Some of the taxpayers propounded several knotty questions which the committee explained.

The formal opening of the Riverton Country Club will be held on the afternoon of Saturday, the 11th, at which time links and club house will be open to members and their families. A light luncheon will be served. All the clubs in the Philadelphia Golf Association, besides several New Jersey Clubs, will be invited to be present and participate in an open tournament. The members of the Riverton Country Club will have no reason to feel diffident about exhibiting their fine house and grounds to the visitors.

No one will attempt to cheat his grocer in this State if he is wise, for the new law gives the grocer the right to levy upon his debtor's wages in satisfaction of his claims. The new law is the result of the influence of the Retail Grocers' Association upon legislature.

(Palmyra, Same Issue)

The efforts of those who have been working so long and faithfully for a Y. M. C. A. building in Palmyra are beginning to bear fruit to an encouraging decree. Of the $1500 required before the building is started, nearly one third has been paid in. That such an institution is a pressing necessity in our community is beyond doubt. The proposed building will be of modern construction, about 45x75 feet and cost $6,000. The first floor will contain three stores front, reception hall, gymnasium, lavatory with shower baths and locker rooms. The second floor will be taken up with the reading, game and smoking rooms. The association already has a very desirable lot at Broad street and Garfield avenue, and as soon as the necessary funds are in hand the board of directors will see that building operations are started at once.

Angered because a judge ordered that her grandchildren be sent to the Children's Home Society, Mrs. Mary Gray, of Shelbyville, Mo., pulled the officer's hair when he attempted to take them away.

COMMUNICATED

In the last two issues of The New Era I have read with interest the letters of Mr. John Flynn and Mr Howard Washington referring to the dedication of Memorial Park.

It seems to me that both gentlemen are under a misapprehension, and as there may be others who are under the same impression I would like if possible to make the matter a little clearer.

First, we are not dedicating the grandstand—nor is the bronze placque to be a memorial tablet with names of ex-service men inscribed thereon.

Memorial Park was purchased by resolutions of Council March 24, 1923, as a memorial to the Riverton boys who took part in the World War.

I understood this step was taken after much deliberation and a final recommendation on the part of a representative citizens' committee.

Inasmuch as the park has never been formally dedicated, it was deemed fitting that this should be done on July 4th with proper ceremonies, and to record these facts a suitable tablet be placed in a conspicuous place.

It has seemed best to put this over the drinking fountain on the wall of the grandstand.

It will read about as follows:

Riverton Memorial Park, purchased March 24, 1923, for the use of the citizens of Riverton, dedicated July 4, 1931, to the soldiers and sailors from this borough who served their country in the World War."

This action does not prevent the erection of a suitable monument or memorial gate with names of the ex-service men, or a community house or any other form of recognition that the people of this borough may desire in the future.

The first objective of the Borough Council has been to make Memorial Park more and more useful to our citizens, and especially to our children and youth.

I feel sure Council would welcome any suggestions on the subject which citizens may have.

I hope they will make them either in person or by letter at our next regular meeting which will be held Thursday evening, May 14th, in the Council Chamber.

Whether We Feel That Way or Not

A friend of mine tells me that he has recently added to his income by working in the evenings as a press agent for an amusement park.

It was his first contact with that great industry which has grown up out of the rather pathetic eagerness of folks to be happy—to have their minds diverted from their work and worries.

He said: "My job has been hard work, but it taught me one thing that is priceless—how to look pleasant whether I feel that way or not."

It reminded me of a conversation I once had with the press agent of a circus. In describing the freaks in the side-show, he remarked: "Every so often we have to send them away. They get sucker sore."

"Sucker sore!" I exclaimed. "That's a new one on me. What's the meaning of sucker sore?"

He explained that, in the parlance of the circus, a customer is a sucker. It is not a derogatory term, merely the conventional phrase.

"The freaks sit there on their raised platforms, listening to the comments of the suckers who press around them all day long," he said. "The living skeleton hears the same rude jokes a hundred thousand times. The fat lady is poked at with umbrellas, and derided by smart young fellows who imagine that their wise cracks are something absolutely fresh and new.

"Day after day the freaks put up with it, smiling patiently. But every day the strain of their suppressed emotions grows greater, until finally they want to jump down off their platforms and bite the customers. Then we have to send them away for a rest. They are 'sucker sore.'"

Stuffed olives are the favorite delicacy of Spinoodles, a cat owned by Mrs. L. M. Ward, of Portland, Me.

A Siamese cook arrested in Los Angeles for vagrancy gave his name as Lieteusszuteussgel Harizzisstetill Williminiddsstrizt, which he proudly translated as "great mountains, wonderful strength, lion of the sea."

FOUND RELIEF; GAINED WEIGHT

Great Medicine Again Triumphs And Is Gratefully Praised By Former Sufferer

Read the experience of Mr. Philip Kerbek, 724 N. Eleventh Street, Philadelphia, who says: "I was weak and run down, my muscles were stiff and sore and I had frightful headaches. One bottle of Konjola relieved me and as I continued the treatment my health troubles all disappeared. It has been eleven months since I took this medicine but I am in excellent health today. I heartily recommend this good medicine."

Mr. Philip Kerbek

Now read what Mrs. Sarah E. Croce, 2910 Reistertown Road, Baltimore, has to say: "I suffered from stomach trouble for a long time. Medicines and treatments did not help and I kept losing weight. I took Konjola for five weeks and during that time gained eleven pounds. I feel as well as I ever did in my life."

It was customery for the congregation to repeat the 23rd Psalm in unison, but invariably Mrs. Spielfast would keep about a dozen words ahead of all the rest. "COUNTY TELEPHONE BOOKS" FOR NORTHERN NEW JERSEY

The new "county" telephone directory that is replacing the overgrown Northern New Jersey telephone book will make its first appearance shortly. The New Jersey Bell Telephone Company will begin delivery of the "Summer 1931" issue in the near future. There are four of the new-style sectional directories, together covering the territory now included in the one-volume northern book, which with the issue now in use reached the manufacturing limits of a single binder. One of the sectional directories lists all subscribers in Essex County, a second covers Hudson County, a third combines Bergen and Passaic counties, and the fourth includes Union, Morris, Middlesex and Somerset counties. Each subscriber will be given the directory for his own region and, if he is located near the dividing line between two directory areas, he also will be given the directory for the adjoining area.

The services Sunday will be in honor of the best mother that ever lived, your mother. You are asked to attend for her sake.

At the Sunday School hour, ten o'clock, each mother is asked to be present with her children and sit with them in their classes. If they are not members of an adult class. At the morning service at 11:00 o'clock the sermon theme will be "Mother". This will not be a heart rending emotional appeal to open afresh an unhealed wound, but a practical appeal to mothers of today to carry on as their mothers have done before them.

Mrs. Rachel Lord will play as a prelude, "Andante Religioso," by Thome, with the beautiful "Largo," by Handel as the postlude. Beethoven's "Melodie" will be played during the offering. The choir will sing "Songs Our Mother Sang," by Giebel, and Mrs. Leon Guest will sing as a soprano solo, Kipling's "Mother O' Mine."

At the evening service, 7:45 o'clock, Mr. Pimm will preach on "The One Thing Needful" to mothers and daughters. See announcement elsewhere in this paper.

FIRST LUTHERAN

Rev. Harold L. Creager.

Next Sunday we will delight to honor Mother. It is a gracious and helpful custom, to set aside a day every year especially for her.

The morning sermon will be devoted to this theme, considering, "Our Spiritual Inheritance from Mother."

Also a brief special program will be presented in Sunday School. Mothers are cordially invited to both services.

Saturday the Ladies' Auxiliary will hold a rummage sale in the vacant store next to the fire house on West Broad street. Any help will be greatly appreciated.

EPISCOPAL

(Rev. G. J. McCormack)

Too much to eat and to wear adds nothing to the enrichment of life. Only the things which give spiritual quality give lasting satisfaction. The thing to do is to actually do something about it.

Put your week on a schedule. Set apart definite times for good books and good music, good deeds and good religion. Find a church that appeals to your judgment, and use it and be used by it for getting your soul to the top of the world.

Give your spirit a chance to live and to have some time to itself. A chance to take hold of your destiny and to give it directions which lead to what is worthwhile.

As time goes on, a church service is more and more to be recognized as an opportunity to take the pressure off the inner life, to feel ones self a trustee of divine capacities, to realize that temptations can be resisted and the burdens of duty borne.

There will be a meeting of the Burlington district of the Women's Auxiliary in Grace Church, Pemberton, on Tuesday, May 12, at 2:30 p. m. The speaker will be Deaconess Phelps.

The annual meeting of the Church Mission will be held in St. Paul's Church, Camden, May 13. Holy Communion, 9:00 a. m. Address by Bishop Matthews. The sermon will be delivered by the Rev. Charles E. Tucker, D. D., of Lansdowne, Pa., at 11:30 o'clock.

Services fifth Sunday after Easter, 10:0 a. m. Sunday School; 10:45 a. m., morning prayer and sermon, "God's Family"; 8:00 p. m., Evensong and sermon, "Eternal Life".

"Charity covers a multitude of sins." But it cannot erase them.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"ADAM AND FALLEN MAN" will be the subject of the Lesson Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, May 10, 1931.

The Golden Text is: "If a man think himself to be something, when he is nothing, he deceiveth himself" (Galatians 6:3).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And because ye are sons, God hath sent forth the Spirit of his Son into your hearts, crying, Abba, Father. Wherefore thou art no more a servant, but a son; and if a son, then an heir of God through Christ" (Galatians 4:6,7).

The Lesson Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The great truth in the Science of being, that the real man was, is, and ever shall be perfect, is incontrovertible, for if man is the image, reflection, of God, he is neither inverted nor subverted, but upright and Godlike" (p. 200).

FIRE AT PIG'N WHISTLE

Famous Brown's Mills Hotel Damaged By Flames

Fire damaged the Pig'n Whistle Inn, at Brown's Mills, last Friday afternoon, to the amount of $15,000. It is thought that sparks from the chimney set fire to the shingle roof of the east wing of the large hotel.

A fire was started in the fireplace and some pine wood was placed on the fire, which set the chimney on fire. The firemen were called and extinguished this fire, and in about an hour the roof was discovered on fire, evidently some sparks had been smouldering under the shingles. The roof and third floor was damaged badly by fire, while second floor and first floor, with draperies, furniture and rugs, were damaged by water and smoke.

The hotel contains 50 rooms, and the east wing which was on fire contains 20 rooms, all furnished and ready for the summer.

There were 10 guests at the hotel at the time of the fire, and all made hasty exits. A number of others had engaged rooms for the week-end.

Among the baseball records often recounted by the "hot stove league," now adjourned to the diamond, is that of Everett Scott, famed shortstop of the Boston and New York teams of the American League. Scott never missed playing in a scheduled game of his team for nearly nine years, from June 20, 1916, to May 6, 1925, during which time he played in 1,307 straight games.

These forces are telephone repeaters, containing amplifying tubes like those in your radio set. They multiply your voice 10 or 20 times at stated intervals along the route, so that it will reach its destination as you send it.

RIVERTON WINS FIRST GAME IN BURLCO LEAGUE

Moorestown Defeated 8 to 2 in Twilight Contest at Memorial Park

PROMINENT CITIZENS IN ATTENDANCE

Coles, Bartley and Bottger Play Well for Locals; Play Medford Saturday

A score of 8 to 2 was piled up against the Moorestown nine when the Riverton A. A. won its first game in the Burlington County League Wednesday evening at Memorial Park.

Riverton holds first place in the league since R. D. Wood and Burlington went into a 3 to 3 clinch on the same evening.

The Riverton boys played an excellent game of ball and while Bartley, Bottger and Coles featured, the splendid support of the other six made possible the first victory.

The new grand stand was almost filled and the sidelines were well supported with fans. Such prominent men as Mayor Howard M. Rogers, Councilman Elwell, County Clerk Mingin and Secretary of the League Frank L. Smith, were seen in the stands rooting for Riverton.

The umpire gave the signal the first ball left Coles' paw straight through it whizzed—then SOCK! Off the end of Bartello's bat the pill vanished into space off center field—one base—two bases—three bases—and a HOME RUN. A home run on the first ball pitched in the first game!

This must have made Coles mad for he up and struck out the next two men in succession. The fourth man up got to first on Baltley's error and then a short drive to Coles by Bowman, was thrown to first, retiring Moorestown.

Foulke heading Riverton's batting order, struck out and Edge followed with another out when he dropped a fly into the center fielder's glove. Harper next got on first through Bartello's error and Eisley retired the side with a drive to third base which beat him to first base.

In the first half of the second inning three Moorestown boys went out in succession, a fly to Bartley, a fly to Eisley and Bottger assisted by Coles finished the inning.

In the second half of the second inning Riverton upset the beans and piled up three runs. Horan, first up, went out—pitcher to first base. Bottger, next up, got to first on the third baseman's error Bartley followed with a single to left field and Krantz next up, repeated the same dose, scoring Bottger. Coles next socked a hard one to right field scoring Bartley and Krantz. Foulke dropped a fly to center field for the second out. Edge next hit to center field and Coles was out at home plate, retiring the side.

N. Bartello, opening the third for Moorestown, socked a three-bagger to center field. J. Bartello next got a base hit to center scoring N. Bartello, his brother. Roberts went to first on balls and J. Bartello was caught napping at second and was put out. Baiock popped a fly to Bottger for the second out and Broute got to first on a hit through shortstop. Bowman finished the third for Moorestown with a strike out.

Harper, opening the third for Riverton, walked to first. Eisley next flied out to left fielder. Horan made first on a hit to center field and Bottger flied out to short stop. Bartley next walked to first and Krantz on a drive to short stop put Bartley out at second, ending the inning.

Moorestown in the fourth batted six men but retired scoreless.

Riverton opened the fourth with a two bagger by Coles. Foulke followed with a sacrifice hit advancing Coles. Edge got a run scoring Coles. Harper was put out at second. Horan flied out to left field, retiring Riverton.

At the opening of the fifth Moorestown went down one, two—three. Balock flied out to Harper. Brodie on a drive to Edge was put out by Bottger, and Bowman finished it with a fly to Bottger.

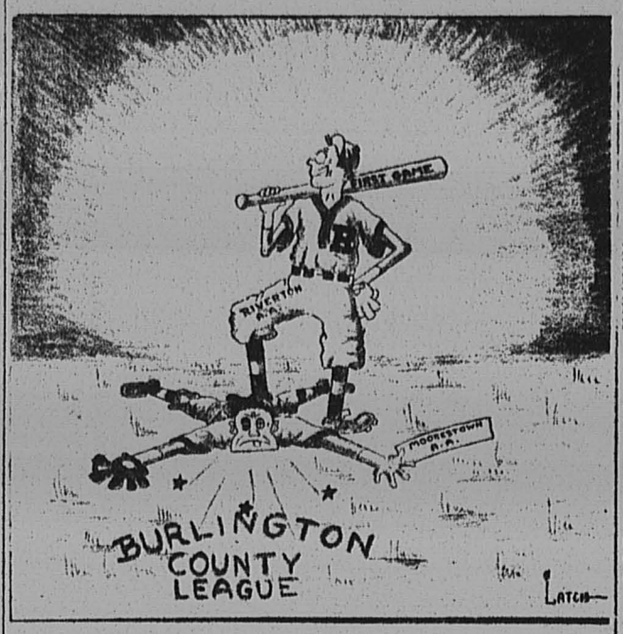
Bartley, Bottger and Coles each brought in a run in the fifth inning, with Eisley and Krantz striking out and Foulke put out on a fielders choice.

Moorestown tried to recover in the opening of the sixth with two pinch hitters but each one drove a liner into Coley's mit to be put out by Bottger. Riley got to first on Edge's error, only to be put out at second on the next play from a fielders choice.

And there ended the game—Riverton 8, Moorestown 2.

Manager LeRoy Schneider and his helpers are trying hard to give Riverton good clean baseball. He extends thanks to all who supported Riverton Wednesday, and hopes more fans will follow Riverton through the League.

Keep It Up, Riverton!



PALMYRA APPLIES WHITEWASH BRUSH

Hino Limits Riverside High to Three Hits in Shutout Victory

A deadlock resulted in the Burlington County Scholastic Baseball League race as the result of a Palmyra victory over Riverside last Friday afternoon.

A pitching duel between Larry Seeman and Charley Hino resulted in a 3-0 triumph for the "Pals." The winning combination was unable to garner more than three hits while the losers were held to a single and a double by Hino. The issue was really decided in the sixth inning when Howard Davidson, Palmyra shortstop poled the ball for a round-tripper. This followed an attack good for two runs in the initial round. Davidson, in addition to his homer, was also good for one of the other base blows credited to the Pals. "Otz" Terrell was the only other Palmyra player to get a hit.

Sienowski and Seeman accounted for both bingles made by the Riverside team. The Riverside pitcher hurled nice ball throughout the fracas, setting back 11 of his opponents on strikes. Hino was a shade better, fanning 14 of his rivals. Both hurlers showed good control, only a single Palmyra player being passed, while a pair of the Riverside men received free tickets to first.

Ability to Place Second and Third Wins Meet, 52½ to 37½ for "Pals"

Fifteen points was the margin of victory for Palmyra in an exciting dual meet with Audubon, held at the Camden Countians' field last Thursday afternoon. The final tabulation was Palmyra, 52½; Audubon, 37½.

The "Pals" were tied in the number of first places garnered in the meet and were victors because of their ability in registering second and third place points. The Palmyra trackmen tallied points in second position in eight events while the Audubon athletes were scoring only twice in the runner-up position.

Stanford, Conwell and Reynolds were the big factors in the Palmyra win. Stanford took first in the 220 and second in the century, Conwell led the high jumpers and finished in the runner-up position in the quarter mile. Reynolds finished second in both the broad jump and the furlong in addition to finishing third in the century.

The close race between the members of the Artisan bowling teams was ended last Thursday night when the season closed. The name of the second half winners was in doubt until the last night of the league season.

The second-half championship was won by the Pirates. The Bandit team, winners during the first half, were not so fortunate in the final round and finished in the second division.

The season's champions will be decided tonight when the roll-off match between the Pirates and the Bandits will be held.

Chesterfield jumped into the lead in the women's bowling league Monday night when it took two games from Lucky Strike. Fatima left the cellar to the undisputed possession of Murad when it took all three games from the "nonchalant" team.

There is now two games between first and second place while a gap of seven games separate the sunberth from the cellar. The margin between the teams is increasing every week.

Telling rural residents that the government was requiring all mail boxes to be painted the same color, a man collected $1.25 each from a large number of persons near Medford, Ore., and then disappeared.

This Week's Schedule
Friday—Pemberton at Bordentown; Moorestown at Riverside; Palmyra at Burlington.

A two-run rally in the eighth inning erased a one-run margin held by Moorestown and enabled Palmyra High School to win its third league game in as many starts, the final score reading Palmyra, 2; Moorestown, 1.

The affair was featured by the fine flinging of the rival pitchers, with Walter Micucci, the Palmyra flinger, having a slight edge over Frank Bolton, Quaker tosser. The Pals were unable to muster more than five hits while Moorestown could get but four.

Timely hitting in the pinches enabled the Palmyra team to win, despite fine flinging by Bolton. In the fifth Terrell led off with a double but was caught between third and home when the bunting part of the squeeze play failed to function.

Two hits, a passed ball and a sacrifice scored the two runs for the Pals in the eighth inning when Bolton weakened for a brief time.

The victory was the third in as many starts for Palmyra and enabled it to gain a half game edge over Bordentown High, which is also sharing the sunberth. On the other hand it was the third straight setback for Moorestown in as many games.

The Quakers tallied their lone run in the third inning when Bolton opened with a single to left field and was sacrificed to second by Morrison. Veerth fanned but Juhlman came through with a single to center field that scored Bolton. Chiosso ended the frame by fanning.

AQUATIC SPORTS TO BE REVIVED

Riverton Yacht Club to Open With Renewed Vigor for Active Season

Activities of the Riverton Yacht Club will start officially with a meeting to be held Friday, May 15th, at 8 p. m., at the Pier Club House. A large majority of the active and associate members expect to attend to formulate plans for the summer events and races, and also to inspect the improvements which have been made. A light buffet supper will be served at the conclusion of the meeting.

Devotees of water sports will be glad to learn that renewed activity is being manifest in bringing the Yacht Club back to its former place in civic and sporting circles. The recent sale of the shore club house has relieved the club from certain financial burdens which makes it possible to devote more attention to the pier facilities for handling the increasing number of boats.

At present work is progressing rapidly on the new bulkheads being placed on the south side of the pier preparatory to the erection of a locker house designed especially to accommodate the outboard motors.

It is expected that the two classes of sailing sloops will afford excellent competition in their respective races, and will be as interesting to the observers as to the man handling the tiller.

The number of outboard speedboats indicates that some form of racing competition will be evolved for these flashing performers.

Already quite a few of the boats have found their moorings and every week-end sees another in place, resplendent with fresh paint and shining brass, ready for a new season of healthful sport.

GOLF TOURNEY AT RIVERTON LINKS

Phila. Professional Golfers Ass'n Play in Annual Classic on Local Course

Riverton is to enjoy the distinction of having the first Philadelphia Professional Golfers' Association tourney played here next Monday.

This is the first time this tournament, which is one of the outstanding events of the season in the Philadelphia district, has been played on a South Jersey course.

A recent announcement by Howard Slattery, chairman of the tournament committee and president of the P. G. A., indicated that Riverton's 18-hole layout was being considered as a possible selection for the classic. Walter E. Brickley, professional of the Riverton links, announced that the tournament committee had definitely decided upon his home club.

Monday, May 11, was fixed as the "big day" by the committee.

In the last two P. G. A. tournaments held over the tricky Bala links, George Smith, 26-year-old Moorestown Field Club pro, walked off with the laurels of victory and he will be after his third leg on the prize trophy.

Leo Shea now pro at the new Burlington County Country Club and who gave Smith a thrilling battle for the championship two years ago while the "boss" at the Riverton Country Club, is back in the classic this season. Walter Brickley, the "home" pro this season; Marty Lyons, of Spring Hill; Jack Leach, of Tavistock; Charley Hoffner, of Ocean City, and Clarence Hackney, of Atlantic City, are among the "local boys" entered in the tournament.

MARBLE SHOOTERS COMPETE SATURDAY

Palmyra, Riverton and Cinnaminson School Winners in District Championship Match

Ten boys will vie for the championship of the clay ring Saturday when they meet at the Y. M. C. A. building, Palmyra. The district marble championship will be settled when the winners and the runners-up from the different schools will meet.

School champions from Cinnaminson, Riverton, Riverton Friends, and two Palmyra schools will test their respective shooting abilities. All but two of the contestants are known, the preliminary matches having been finished a week ago.

Charles Frank and Harold Harker, Cinnaminson; Edward Wallace and Robert Wallace, Riverton; Tony Cuzzupe and Adolphe Burke; Delaware avenue school, Palmyra; Edward Hirst and Herbert Zeigler, Friends' School; are the lads who have passed the first stages of the tournament and will enter the final round.

Saturday's match is scheduled to begin at two o'clock and will be conducted under the supervision of Wilson E. Mount, Y. M. C. A. secretary. The champion will be awarded a gold medal for his skill with the "aggies."

EDITORIAL

How many of you have stopped to think how this world has progressed since Washington's time, and, yes, Lincoln's days? Many, many inventions have taken place, such as the airplane, automobile, radio and a number of others. The world has advanced since the Civil War, and it will keep on advancing. Soon we may have airlines to Mars and many other far-off places.

This is a speedy world now-a-days. Many speed demons are testing their skill, trying to lower world speed records on land, sea, and air, to further air transportation and land and sea transportation. How long will it take to make men satisfied?

BIRDS ARE HERE AT LAST

The Six-A grade are studying "Birds" as the main topic in Nature. The work is divided into Mother Nature's helpers and consists of the study of names, habits, homes and appearance of the birds which perform the following jobs for her; ceiling cleaners, garbage cleaners, furniture cleaners, carpet cleapers, drain cleaners and feathered dusters. Did you ever know birds could be classed into such groups of helpers?

Many bird pictures have been drawn and colored, bird houses built and painted, and class discussions all help to make our work interesting.

ERECTING A HOUSE

One could scarcely believe that the little Kindergarten children could construct a house, but it is actually present in their room. They erected it, made an awning, window curtains and furnishings, and a yard surrounding it. After visiting a garden, they made one containing a bird bath, spring flowers and trees. Teddy Clelland is making a bird house for the yard. To know that they enjoy it, one only has to see them sitting in the house, or on the porch talking about their project.

8TH GRADE GOES TO MUSEUM

The University of Pennsylvania Museum proved both helpful and entertaining to the eighth grade. After they visited the Chinese room they went to a movie called "Chang," the scene of which was the Malay peninsula. The story was about Kru and his family who lived in the jungle. A great herd of Changs, elephants, come and destroy the village. After a time the Change are subdued and domesticated, and peace comes to the jungle. After that, they went to hear a lecture on the early houses and clothing. After the final tour, the class returned home after a pleasant day.

ANOTHER PLAY GIVEN

Several girls of the eighth grade gave a play in assembly. It was called "The Flower of the Ages" and Mary Wilson, Anna Cook, Mae Laverty, Eleanor Williams, Betty Showell, Mildred Speer, Mary Patterson and Edith Ridley had parts in it.

Hope started out to find a perfect flower to take to the throne of Love, but she could not find one until she came to the lily who offered her gift, the gift of everlasting life. Hope rose from despair to triumph and took the flower to the throne.

4-B DRAMATIZES PENN'S LIFE

In connection with their history and English work, the 4-B class wrote a play containing four scenes from Penn's life and presented it in assembly. Those who took part in the play were Warren Hubbs, Robert Bottger, Llewellyn Stout, Paul McDermott, Dawson Ransome, Joseph Mathews, Hilton Smith, Sylvia Reynolds, Arthur Gowell, Jane Blair, Dorothy Rieger, Mary Webb, Patsy Ford, Doris Mullen, Howard Gibson, Buddy DeLaney, and Robert Carhart.

HIKE INJOYED BY 7-B

At their last class meeting the seven-B class voted to go for a hike and enjoy a meal in the woods around a camp fire. They played baseball, hiked and gathered flowers. In other words everybody had a jolly time on the picnic.

SCHOOL ESTIMATE JUMPS TO $325,000

Mr. Steedle's reference to the possibility of making the necessary improvements and additions to the present building, met with a cool reception.

Citizens' Committee Suggested

Mr. Rutherford's suggestion that a committee of citizens be appointed to collaborate with the school board in the selection of final plans was frowned upon on the grounds that "too many cooks spoil the broth." Mr. Rutherford insisted, however, that much valuable information and assistance might be secured from men who had practical knowledge of heating, ventilating, lighting, etc.

Mr. Barclay agreed with Mr. Rutherford in principle, but thought that the selection of such a committee by the Board nigh omit some who were just as well or better qualified than those who were asked, and suggested that an invitation be issued asking any citizen who desired to do so to offer his services. If this failed to bring the desired results, then a committee could be picked.

Press for Early Election

Members of the Board, who are interested in getting under way as soon as possible, pressed for an early date for the special election at which the proposition will be presented to the voters, and June 9 was set as a probable date. This, however, will depend somewhat on the decision of the Cinnaminson township board as to whether or not they will go along with the junior high shcool proposition. If Riverton waits for their decision in order to place a definite proposition before the voters, the election may have to be postponed.

Mr. Cooper, Riverton's supervising principal, was instructed by the Board to arrange with the Cinnaminson township board to go over the plans and consider the junior high school proposition, for which the Cinnaminson Board has agreed to call a special meeting.

Routine Business

The clerk was authorized to advertise for bids for supplies for the coming school year.

Four applications to attend Palmyra high school, by pupils who have recently moved to Riverton, were granted.

Mr. Cooper's Report

The boys have had a baseball practice and hope to be in shape soon to have a friendly contest with Cinnaminson, who has challenged us. We need four balls and two light bats; the present supply of bats is altogether too heavy for our youngsters.

The Board of Education of Audubon has recently purchased a moving picture camera and projector for use as a supervisory device. The supervising principal films certain activities such as primary work, physical education, etc., and then uses the picture for work with the individual teacher, the whole faculty and the Board. He is planning to develop a film library of such activities and it is probable that he will bring some of the rolls to Riverton for our teachers at a later date; it is hoped that our Board will be able to see them at that time.

"BURLINGTON PRESS" PUBLISHES BIG BRIDGE EDITION

The printing of a 24 page Bridge Edition by the Burlington Press last Saturday, the date on which the Burlington-Bristol bridge was officially opened, was an achievement of which any weekly paper might well be proud.

This edition contained a wealth of historical material and interesting personal side lights, the preparation of which was a Herculean task for the limited force of a weekly paper, while the solicitation and preparation of the large volume of advertising was a big job in itself.

The Editor of The New Era, who realizes from personal experience something of the tremendous amount of work involved, congratulates The Press on a difficult job particularly well done.

Glen W. Chambers, editor of the Press, started in his career in journalism as reporter and advertising manager of The Palmyra News, and this de luxe edition was produced on the plant of the Burlington County Publishing Company at Riverside, owned and operated by Frank E. Chambers.

"ENTERPRISE" BRIDGE EDITION

The Daily Enterprise, of Burlington, issued a 64 page Bridge Edition last Saturday in celebration of the Burlington-Bristol bridge.

It is replete with interesting historical and personal contributions, as well as a large patronage of advertising.

This is probably the most pretentious effort made by a daily paper in a small city, and much of its success is doubtless due to the efforts and popularity of Leon Raesly, a former resident of Riverton and erstwhile reporter on the staff of the Camden Courier.

N. J. SEED CORN YIELDS THE BEST ON STATE TESTS

New Jersey farmers who must buy seed corn should buy it in New Jersey rather than in other states. This view, expressed by Dr. Howard B. Sprague, agronomist of the New Jersey Agricultuural Experiment Station, is based on results of a 3-year test of 76 varieties of field corn obtained from 15 different states. All of these varieties were tested at the college farm, New Brunswick, and 20 of them also were tested in Warren and Gloucester counties. "Results of these tests," Dr. Sprague reports, "indicate that New Jersey farmers have developed strains of seed corn that are more productive in this state than are those developed in other regions. The tests further revealed that none of the standard varieties from other states proved capable of yielding more seed to the acre than adapted local strains. The grain yield of adapted New Jersey varieties averaged 58.8 bushels to the acre, whereas adapted varieties introduced from other states yielded from 5 to 30 bushels less to the acre."

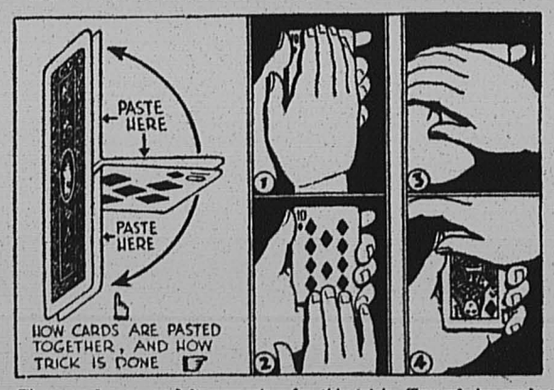
HOW TO CHANGE ONE CARD INTO ANOTHER



Three cards are used in preparing for this trick. Two of the cards are folded in half, and one-half of each is pasted on the face of the third card, which remains straight. The cards are pasted so the creases meet in the center of the third card, and this leaves the other two halves standing upright with backs to each other. These are then pasted together, and you will find that by blending them in either direction you will be able to change one card into the other. When you are ready to present the trick, hold the cards in your left hand with the upright part flat, so that it appears to be one card. Then pass your right hand over it, in the manner shown in the above drawing, and release the fingers of your left hand which holds the cards flat. As the hand passes over the cards it draws the bent part down or up, according to which way it is moved, and at the same time covers the movement of the card, so that when the hand is withdrawn the card will have changed into another. It is necessary to stand away from your audience so that the creases in the cards do not show.

POLAR SUBMARINE HAS BIG BATTERY

60 Ton, 120 Cell Battery Used on Wilkins Undersea Boat "Nautilus"

"Swiftly gliding through the water," said Clinton B. Woolston, local Exide dealer, "the Wilkins submarine Nautilis recently started on the first leg of the hazardous voyage to the North Pole, powered by the giant 60 ton Exide battery with which the craft is equipped.

"To those of us whose acquaintance with storage batteries is limited to automobile and radio sizes," continued Mr. Woolston, "this massive Exide battery which will light, operate and propel the "Nautilus" while submerged, is almost unbelievable in size and capacity.

"One hundred and twenty cells, each well over five feet high and weighing almost half a ton have been installed in the craft. This big Exide battery is similar to the batteries used in most of the submarines in commission today. So powerful is this battery that it could supply the current requirements of nearly 3,000 automobiles and could furnish enough power to carry the entire electrical load of a small city. When submerged the "Nautilus" has a cruising range of about 120 miles at 3 knots an hour on one charge of the battery. The battery can be fully recharged in about 6 hours' time. Two 500 H. P. Diesel engines complete the propulsion equipment. Fuel tanks are of such capacity that on one tanking she has a range of over 5,000 miles.

"Drills have been installed for the purpose of boring through the ice if open water is not found at frequent intervals. One of the drills, two feet in diameter and hollow, may be extended 13 feet above deck. The hole that this drill will bore upward through the ice will enable the crew to reach the surface even though the submarine is under the ice and completely submerged. Two other drills, nine inches in diameter, will be available for use, should ice more than 13 feet in thickness be encountered. These 9 drills can be elevated, by adding lengths inside the vessel, to a height of more than 60 feet. The holes these drills will bore will provide intake and exhaust vents to enable the Deisels to be operated so that the battery may be recharged while the boat is completely submerged.

INCENDIARISM SUSPECTED IN PALMYRA FIRE

Bottle of Kerosene Among Other Articles Found by the Police

PUMPER OUT OF ORDER DURING TIME OF BLAZE

Riverton Answers Alarm Sent in Before Midnight Last Friday

Fire, believed to be of incendiary origin, caused damage estimated at approximately $3000 to a frame dwelling at 226 Horace avenue, Palmyra, last Friday night.

Chief of Police C. Morris Beck, who answered the fire alarm with the fire fighting apparatus, discovered several places in the building where oil soaked rags had been ignited and left to start a blaze. At several places on the second floor and beneath the stairs leading from the first to the second stories the highly inflammable rags were found. At one spot, believed to have been the last which the firebug visited, a small bottle, containing some kerosene, and a box of matches were found.

The house, at the time of the fire, was unoccupied, the tenants having moved about three weeks ago. The tenants occupied only the first floor, as the second story was used for an apartment.

The blaze caused most of the damage on the upper floors, although water caused considerable damage on the ground level. The roof was burned entirely off the house and a small tower at the front of the building was almost completely destroyed. Smaller fires, started in closets, burned themselves out for lack of air to feed the flames. A fire set in the bathroom was aided in its start by a draught coming through the door, propped open by a screen.

The pumping apparatus on the largest of the Palmyra fire engines was being overhauled the day of the blaze. It is not known whether or not the incendiary knew of the repairs being made. Due to the water pressure being insufficiently strong to fight the conflagration, the Riverton fire company was called and that company's pumper was instrumental in extinguishing the fire. The Palmyra firemen, with chemicals, kept the blaze from spreading, although they were unable to extinguish it altogether.

Residents of the neighborhood noticed the fire shortly after eleven o'clock and immediately notified Palmyra authorities. Suspicions of the police that the fire was a case of arson were confirmed when the oil and matches were found.

A further investigation showed that no windows had been forced as the criminal entered, but a door in the rear of the building was found to be unlocked, and it is believed the person who set the fire made his escape through the rear door. House dwellers of the vicinity, not suspecting arson as the cause of the fire, reported seeing no one acting in a suspicious manner or leaving the scene of the blaze.

NEW OFFICERS OF CINNAMINSON PTA

Mrs. C. F. Shaw Succeeds Mrs. Nathan Conrow, Who Served Four Years As President

The Cinnaminson P. T. A. School No. 2, feels a great debt to the retiring president, Mrs. Nathan Conrow, for the unfailing interest, and the time she has given so generously during the past four years.

The greatest achievement during this period is felt to be the nicely equipped Medical and Dental clinic room.

The new officers are Mrs. C. F. Shaw, of Palmyra, president; Mrs. Sim, Burlington Pike, and Mrs. Grant, East Riverton, vice presidents; the other officers remaining.

The meeting was entertained very delightfully by the school Glee Club with songs, among which were "Silver Moon" and "The Volga Boatmen" also by two piano solos, one by a guest, Miss Letitia Parry, and one by a pupil, Bernice Herscher.

The manner in which these were rendered, gave evidence of the pleasure these volunteers derive from their instruction. The Glee Club members of their own accord come early, music mornings for practice, and there seemed no period available during school hours.

FIVE INJURED BUS COLLISION

Wet Pavement Causes Bus Crash at East Riverton, Friday

Five people were injured when a Nevin bus skidded into a standing Public Service bus in front of Holvick's Service Station, East Riverton, last Thursday evening.

The accident happened about 7:10 p. m., with both buses proceeding toward Riverton. The Public Service bus which was leading the Nevin bus stopped to pick up a passenger. The Nevin bus driver threw on his brakes and attempted to steer to the right of the standing bus but due to the slippery condition of the roadway he skidded sideways into the rear of the Public Service bus.

The left side of the Nevil bus was stove in near the near wheel.

Robinson arrived on the scene with the police car which he immediately turned over to "Buckey" Keating who took two of the injured passengers to Dr. Mills. John Keating with his taxi took three other injured parties to Dr. Voorheis.

The injured were—Mrs. Anna Solloman, 1525 N. 23rd street, Philadelphia, wrenched ankle and contusion of the left side, treated by Dr. Mills; Miss Etta Hall, 1840 Vaeier street, Philadelphia, left arm broken in five places and contusion of left leg, treated by Dr. Mills; Mrs. Hattie Smith, 2521 S. Lambert street, Philadelphia, slight injuries, treated by Dr. Voorheis; Mrs Pauline Burnstine, 525 Bergen street, Newark, slight injuries, treated by Dr. Voorheis and Miss Ethel Burnstine, same address, slight injuries, treated by Dr. Voorheis.

Chief Miller was called to the scene of the accident and both drivers were given summons to appear for a hearing here on May 18th.

Drunken drivers are contributing handsomely to the county treasury with another $200.00 credited to Riverton police, collected Sunday.

Officer John Robinson, of the Riverton police, arrested Wm. J. Magure of Torresdale, Pa., Sunday at 12:05 a. m., driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor. He was observed steering a rather uncertain course down Broad street and was arrested at the corner of Broad and Lippincott avenue.

Taken before Dr. LeFavor, of Palmyra, he was pronounced drunk, and at a hearing before Police Recorder Cecil A. Bowers was fined $200.00 and $21.00 costs. He later paid the fine and was released.

SCOUTS PRESENT MOLLUSC, FRIDAY

Drexel Hill Players Give Best Show of the Season at Riverton Parish

This Friday evening's presentation of "The Mollusc" in Christ Church Parish House promises to bring to Riverton a most remarkable evening's entertainment; one which in Philadelphia would be worth far more than the nominal fifty cent admission being asked by the Riverton Scouts under whose auspices the play is being presented.

In former towns where this outstanding play has been presented by the Drexel Players, theatrical critics have unanimously agreed that this production equals many professional plays which have appeared on the city's leading stages.

From the beginning, "The Mollusc" is clean, wholesome fun with the scene laid in an English country home, not far from London. And the way in which the Scouts have transformed the parish house stage will be a revelation in local amateur circles. Special scenery and lighting effects have been installed with amazing results while the personnel of the cast promises a presentation of the play entirely as novel and delightful as the stage.

"The Mollusc" has been presented by the Drexel Players with remarkable success in several suburban towns during the past season and Riverton is to be congratulated upon having its own performance of this play, which will maintain the high standards of entertainment being given by our local Scout troop.

People who miss this presentation will actually miss one of the outstanding entertainments of the season—a presentation which equals in every respect plays with admission charges three and four times as high.

Doors will be open at 7:30 p. m., the curtain rises at 8:15. If you are not having guests for this Friday evening, May 15th, don't miss this show. And if you are planning to entertain friends for the evening, there is no finer or more novel way of having an enjoyable evening than by taking them to "The Mollusc" and showing them how well Riverton can stage its own theatrical entertainments. But be sure you don't miss "The Mollusc," not because it is given by a most deserving organization, our local Scout troop—but because it is really one of the finest theatrical presentations to ever be seen locally.

CINNAMINSON LADS WIN MARBLE SHOOT

Become District Champs by Virtue of Triumphs at Palmyra Ring Saturday

The district marble champion was named last Saturday afternoon when the final matches were held on the YMCA grounds, Palmyra.

Ten lads, ranging from nine to 14 years of age, and representing schools from Palmyra, Riverton and Cinnaminson met in several preliminary matches. Losers were eliminated until Adolphe Burke, Palmyra runner-up; Warren Blyler, Riverton runner-up; Harold Harker, Cinnaminson runner-up; and Charles Frank, Cinnaminson champion, were the only ones remaining.

The final match was won by Harker, with his schoolmate, Charles Frank, finishing in second place. These two boys will "shoot it out" with other district champions in the county title match to be held at Camp Ockanickon Saturday.

Warren Blyler, serving as Riverton runner-up, was given the place because of illness to Edward Wallace, Riverton title holder. Inability of Wallace to shoot, automatically gave his brother, Robert, the runner-up of Riverton, the honor of shooting as champion. Blyler, who finished third, thus advanced to the runner-up position.

FETE MANAGERS BUSY WITH PLANS FOR GALA AFFAIR

Delicatessen and Other Booths to Display Particularly Attractive Wares

HORSE SHOW IS MAIN ATTRACTION OF DAY

Terpsichorean Exhibition and Dance in Club House Complete Program

Friends of the Cinnaminson Home are moving at a lively pace to keep up with the enthusiasm the annual fete arouses. For the managers and their co-workers May 23 will be a long, busy day.

Bright and early, 9:30 o'clock, the delicatessen booth in charge of Miss Antoinette B. Campbell, of Riverton will open to sell fresh vegetables, pastries and all sorts of household delicacies. This ought to solve the housekeeper's Saturday morning marketing problem, especially since Miss Campbell will take the orders in advance and have them ready for delivery.

All morning the other booths will be active, assembling their wares. To suit the times Miss Alice Matlack has chosen useful household articles for her booth, instead of fancy work. Mrs. Charles T. Brown and Mrs. Harry F. Jones offer delicious homemade candies and salted nuts. The cake table calls forth the best recipes of good cake bakers. Mrs. Samuel Haines and Miss Helen Biddle are in charge.

At the garden booth Mrs. J. Bispham Stokes is counting upon local gardeners for donations of seedlings and perennials that would otherwise be discarded in thinning. She promises a supply of completely equipped picnic baskets, all ready to anticipate summer outings.

To relieve the congestion at the children's booth, Mrs. B. Herbert Cooper is equipping a second table, with Mrs. Clark and Mrs. Morgan, of Riverton, in charge. As usual the refreshment booth will be cool and inviting, with the sound of ice pick and lemon squeezer. William H. Roberts Jr. has several good assistants ready to give prompt service.

And for those golf fans who cannot miss a Saturday afternoon game, even for a horse show, there will be the two obstacle golf courses Dr. S. Emlen Stokes and Francis W. D'Olier run each year.

All morning William F. Reeve and the horse show committee will be busy arranging the hurdles and fence so that everything will be in readiness by 1:15 o'clock for the main event of the day. The show promises to be better than ever. The program is quite similar to that of former years, comprehensive and well varied. George B. Ferrier, who is in charge of the entries has booked many new horses and riders, as well as the old favorites.

After a full afternoon watching the show or touring the booths, supper will be most welcome and satisfying. There will be hot supper in the Club House and Cafeteria supper on the green. The hostesses include Mrs. Charles J. Allen, Mrs. Charles B. Coles, Mrs. Irving S. Collins, Mrs. Francis D'Olier, Mrs. Thomas Elkinton, Mrs. Hans Froelicher, Mrs. William Grobler, Mrs. J. Malcolm Shelmire.

From Riverton, Mrs. Nathan Lane, Mrs. Ralph Flower, Mrs. Wm. G. Porter, From Palmyra, Mrs. Wm. Dunn and from Edgewater Park, Mrs. Frank Thatcher.

After supper Mrs. J. Clyde Rogers will present a dance recital by Miss Francis Hartshorne. In order that ample accommodation for the exhibition may be provided in the Stokes rose garden, Mrs. Rogers urges that tickets be secured in advance from her. The time is 7:15 o'clock, but this may be moved back a little if the horse show runs overtime.

Since the outdoor setting contributes in such a large measure to the beauty of the exhibition it will be postponed in the event of rain. Miss Hartshorne is a finished artist, a pupil of Miss Grace Christie, of New York. Her program is varied and most attractive, giving ample opportunity for a wide range of emotional expression. Her dancing has aroused much interest and very favorable comment in artistic circles.

The fete will close as usual with dancing in the club house. Mrs. Horace T. Greenwood promises a good orchestra.

The meeting of the Palmyra-Riverton Rotary Club last Thursday evening at the Porch Club, Riverton, had as its speaker Mr. Carl Thomas, of Palmyra.

Mr. Thomas, former line coach at the University of Pennsylvania, delivered an exceptionally fine address, relative to the part football plays in the preparation for home, business and social life.

During his talk he stressed the elements of good sportsmanship, loyalty and courage, as contributing greatly toward the future success and happiness of all who engage in the sport.

Special tribute was paid by Mr. Thomas to Knute Rockne, beloved by all sportdom, who he said was the world's greatest football coach and a great psychologist.

The talk was fully appreciated by every Rotarian present, and will probably inspire some of the fathers to encourage football by their sons as a very helpful part of their training for the gridiron of life.

CITIZENS ASK QUESTIONS ON NEW SCHOOL

Delegation Waits On Riverton Board to Learn More About $325,000 Plan

COST OF REMODELING PRESENT BUILDING

Board Requested to Find Out Price of Bringing School House Up-to-Date

A number of Riverton's prominent citizens attended the meeting of the Riverton Board of Education Tuesday night, at which time further details concerning the construction of a $325,000 school building came up for discussion.

Among the visitors were Mayor Howard M. Rogers, Councilman Francis B. Elwell, Councilman Walter K. Woolman, H. H. Murray, William E. Bennett, Mrs. Grace Bennett, Col. Clarence N. Hibbs, Frank Holvick, Richard M. Woodward and Walter C. Wright.

To opening the meeting Mrs. C. P. Mayfield, president of the board, explained that this was a continuance of a previous board meeting at which the future educational needs of the children of Riverton had been considered, together with some tentative plans for a new school building, which had been submitted by Stanley Stewart, the architect retained to prepare ultimate plans if the proposition of a new building is approved by the voters. Mrs. Mayfield said that some changes had been made in the first draft of plans and that Mr. Stewart was present with revised drawings which the board was about to consider.

Mrs. Mayfield further explained that Cinnaminson Township had been approached about sending their seventh, eighth and ninth grade pupils to Riverton in case it is decided to erect a Junior High School here. The president made clear that these pupils would come on a tuition basis, and that the proposition was in no way a plan for consolidation.

E. N. Cooper, supervising principal, and Ross F. Mattis, member of the Riverton board, had visited the Cinnaminson Board of Education Monday night to lay before them Riverton's proposed building plan and to ascertain whether or not they would co-operate in the Junior High School project by sending their pupils to Riverton.

Mr. Cooper reported that an explanation of the advantages of a Junior High School were laid before the Cinnaminson board together with the proposed building plan.

Mr. Mattis said he felt that the Cinnaminson board was favorable inclined toward the Junior High School project, since within a period of five years they would be obliged to put on a building program of their own unless some way is found to take care of their increasing number of pupils.

Remodeling Too Expensive

In answer to a question by one of the visitors Mrs. Mayfield stated that the proposition of remodeling the present building had been considered a year ago, at which time it was found that to make the necessary changes and additions would cost a lot of money and then the building would not be what is really needed. To enlarge the building, she said, would further encroach on the already insufficient playground. It would also entail a new heating plant, concrete stairways, and new furniture throughout.

In support of the new building project Mrs. Mayfield contended that Junior High Schools are no longer in the experimental stage, but that the trend in that direction is increasing throughout the country.

Mr. Bennett asked if definite plans and specifications had been prepared and estimates received when the board considered the remodeling project last year.

No Prices Secured

Mrs. Mayfield replied that while no actual estimates had been secured the alterations which were deemed necessary would cost $90,000 to $100,000 which with a new heating plant and new furniture would run the cost up to about $175,000.

Mr. Bennett then wanted to know what had been estimated for the cost of a new heating plant to which Mrs. Mayfield replied about $11,000. Mr. Bennett said this seemed high to him as he had recently been informed that a new vapor equipment could be installed for about $3,000.

Mrs. Mayfield insisted that the project of remodeling the old building had been very carefully considered from every angle and that the present proposition was not just a "jump in the air to have a new building."

Mrs. Mayfield further said that one of the propositions of the proposed new school building was to provide a gymnasium and an auditorium for community use as well as for school purposes.

Is Public Auditorium Needed?

Mr. Bennett replied that there were already two auditoriums in Riverton and asked Mrs. Mayfield if she had ever seen them overcrowded to which she replied that several times various organizations had wanted to hold meetings in Riverton, but had been obliged to go to Palmyra to secure sufficient seating capacity.

Want State Job

The most interesting fight on the Democratic ticket is for state committeeman, because the Democrats consider they have a good chance of electing Moore Governor and in that case the committeeman from Burlington county would have several nice political plums to distribute.

As far as the county offices go, the county is always Republican by a huge majority and the Democrats are rarely ever conceded a chance of election.

AWARD CERTIFICATE TO PALMYRA P. T. A.

Pre-School Children May Be Examined at Delaware Avenue School This Afternoon

The Palmyra Parent-Teacher Association is the happy recipient of a certificate of award for completing according to national requirements, the health project of Summer Round-up of the Children.

This certificate just received is for the 1930 campaign and bears the signature of the national president, Mrs. Hugh Bradford, and the seal of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers. It also bears the signature of the U. S. Commissioner of Education, W. J. Cooper.

Pre-school children may be examined for possible defects and receive immunization against diphtheria and Schick tests, if brought to the Delaware avenue school at three o'clock this afternoon, and at the same time next Thursday afternoon.

All parents are urged to give their children the advantage of this examination so that every child entering school in September may be sure to be in good physical condition, with all defects remedied.

Everyone interested in child welfare will understand why this summer round-up of the children is one of the chief interests of the nation-wide P. T. A. organization.

Men Exhibit Summer Headgear Tomorrow

Leghorns, Panamas and the everyday "straws" will all be equally in style tomorrow, when men the country over will lay off their winter "felts" and derbies and don the lighter weight summer bonnets.

By now the storerooms have been searched, the innermost recesses of hatboxes have been explored, and dry cleaners have been besieged with the male summer "chapeaux". Depression may keep many persons from buying new hats but will not keep them from rejuvenating last season's.

Straw Hat Day is as much a man's day as Father's Day. Women's fashions set no deadline for the wearing of spring or winter bonnets but May 15 is generally observed as the day for the fashionable male to display his summer headgear. Wide brimmed straws and colored bands, it is said, again are the style for the fastidious men, except those who have the ever-stylish Panama or the many-shaped and vari-colored leghorn.

POPPY WEEK TO BEGIN MAY 15

Frederick M. Rogers Post and Auxiliary Will Make House to House Canvass

May 15 to May 23 will be Poppy Week in Palmyra. The local unit of the American Legion Auxiliary will open its sale tomorrow evening and will be assisted by the Bugle Corps and members of the Frederick M. Rodgers Post.

Each home in Palmyra will be visited by some members of these organizations and it is sincerely hoped that the response this year will be far greater than in the past.

For the benefit of those who are not already familiar with this sale, the American Legion and Auxiliary would like to state that the proceeds of the Poppy sale are used 100 per cent for Rehabilitation work.

The demands on this fund have been very, very great during the past fall and winter and it is to this sale that these organizations must look for the money with which to carry on this worthwhile work.

It is hoped that all citizens of this community will find a real satisfaction in buying poppies, which will enable the Legion and Auxiliary to carry on this most necessary work and that they will take pride in wearing this little flower, which recalls so vividly the sacrifices made by our boys in Flanders Field.

Each poppy bears the official label of the American Legion and American Legion Auxiliary.

The following verses, by Josephine H. Bunker, of Massachusetts, are very significant of the Poppy:

Poppies grow,
Sway and toss
On each grave;
Kiss each cross.

At the dusk,
Fall asleep,
Friendly stars,
Vigil keep.

At the dawn,
Petals spread
Scarlet covers
O'er our head.

Bright sweet sleep
Poppies bright
Till they see
Morning light.

P. T. A. TO HOLD ANNUAL ELECTION

Will Exhibit Samples of Work Done by Students During Current School Year

The Palmyra Parent-Teacher Association will hold the last meeting of the year at 3:15 o'clock next Tuesday afternoon.

The meeting will be divided into two parts. In the afternoon, the meeting scheduled on the yearly programme will be held. The business of the afternoon will include the election of officers for the coming year and annual reports will be heard from the chairmen of standing committees. The study group will meet at 2:30 o'clock. The topic under discussion will be "Purpose of Parent-Teacher Associations."

The evening meeting will be devoted to the programme and to the exhibits of art, manual training, and domestic science. Each class will have on display, the best samples of work done during the year, and parents are urged to attend in order to see what has been done, and to encourage the children in their work. Judges have been appointed for each class of work, and will award prizes.

The class rooms of the art, manual training and domestic science departments will be open, but the exhibits of the first two will be held in the gymnasium.

All those interested in this sort of work are cordially invited to attend. The exhibit will be open from 3:15 until 5:00 p. m. and from 7:30 to 9:00.

At the county council meeting in January it was voted that every member of each local P. T. A. should be asked to try to earn $1.00 to contribute to the Student Loan Fund, so that the required sum of $6,000 be completed, and the fund become available to the many requests now in hand. More than $4,000 has been raised so far. This money is to be loaned to ambitious and promising students, so that they may further their education.

This money may be raised any way the donor desires. The Palmyra P. T. A., would like 100 per cent response, as this is a very worthwhile project.

If any of the ladies can possibly answer this call by next Tuesday, it will be greatly appreciated by the association. Mrs. L. A. McCamy as treasurer, will be glad to receive your contribution.

There may be students in Palmyra who will need this fund, who knows?

William C. Coles Presides at Meeting For Organizing Temperance and Law Observance Federation in the County

William C. Coles, of Moorestown, presided at the meeting held at the Broad Street Methodist Episcopal Church on Thursday evening, May 7, for the purpose of organizing the Burlington County division of the Citizens' Federation of New Jersey Temperance and Law Observance.

Commander John D. Pennington, Federal Prohibition officer for Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware was the main speaker on the program. Mrs. Nina G. Frantz, of Moorestown, state president of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, also spoke, together with James K. Shields and Mrs. Miriam Lee Early Lippincott.

The objectives sought in the forming of the new Citizens' Federation are to make the best use of all the temperance sentiment, to band together the youth of the country in a great dry drive, and to call upon good people who have not been interested in it to give their help. It also is the aim of the federation to have a local committee in each community to watch law enforcement and to create public sentiment.

Resolutions Favor Organization

Resolutions were passed at the meeting favoring the formation of the Citizens' Federation in Burlington, and a nominating committee was chosen from the audience to bring in the names of twenty representative persons from various sections of the county to complete the task of local organization.

Janise K. Shields was introduced as the first speaker. He briefly reviewed the action taken by state legislatures during the past year in regard to their enforcement laws. "Considering the United States as a whole," Mr. Shields stated, "it is safe to conclude that as yet the drys are 'holding the line'."

"New Jersey, however," he continued, "is still largely dominated by wet politicians, and an effort is now being made to organize the state, county by county, into a federation which will bring together all temperance organizations and all individuals who favor the support of the Eighteenth Amendment, that they may work together for a common end and make themselves felt effectively at the ballot box."

Mrs. Frantz Speaks

Mrs. Nina G. Frantz, in a characteristically strong address, read a long list of national organizations which stand for the support of the Eighteenth Amendment.

Mrs. Miriam Lee Early Lippincott also gave a fine address. She spoke on the conference of women's organizations recently held in Washington, D. C., and of the Federation of Women's Clubs to be held in Atlantic City. "Nine of the organizations meeting in Washington represented twelve million women," she reported. "Not one of these groups is affiliated with Mrs. Sabin's party for prohibition reform. The activities of this party will be an incentive to friends of prohibition to work harder for its support."

Commander John D. Pennington began his address by telling those present that they could hardly realize what it meant to an enforcement officer to know that he has the wholehearted sympathy and support of the best citizens back of him.

Wets Never Admit Defeat

He continued by saying, "The wets have never admitted defeat. For one hundred years every known remedy was tried to control the liquor traffic. It has always been an outlaw."

To show that such law violation is nothing new, Mr. Pennington read an excerpt from an editorial published in 1890, long before the Eighteenth Amendment was put into effect.

The reasons given by Mr. Pennington for failure of the present enforcement laws are dishonesty of officials, dishonesty of attorneys in court and failure of judges to give just verdicts.

"Federal officers are trying to stop the sources of liquor supply and its transportation," the speaker concluded, "but citizens must watch local conditions and demand law enforcement. Too much attention has been directed to Washington and too little to state and local authorities. The important thing in considering state control is who controls the state."

EDITOR'S NOTE:—This is the Forty-sixth of a series of articles by the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles written to familiarize New Jersey motorists with the regulations which govern their conduct and increase their safety on the highways.

46. ROAD HOGS

Roads apparently never will become so wide that some motorists will not use the middle lane and thus make of themselves that obnoxious phenomenon known as "road hogs."

Because of their greater width and slower movement, trucks are particularly irritating in monopolizing the center of the road, and it has occurred to me that fleet owners themselves might well give some consideration to this tendency on the part of many of their drivers. Only last week a newspaper man of my acquaintance told me that he stopped using a particularly satisfactory brand of gasoline, simply to express his resentment at the "road hogs" who drive the company's tank trucks. He said it seemed to him that eight out of ten times when he was blocked by a lumbering truck hogging the middle of the road, it was a truck owned by this gasoline company. I wonder how many other users of goods transported by truck have taken or will take similar action. It's a factor in sales resistance which might be considered.

It would seem that the widening of highways would have been so obvious in its purpose that all motorists must appreciate it. That, unfortunately, has not been the case. There still are many who insist upon taking their slice out of the middle, regardless of the menace such a practice creates.

Hogging Not Justified

There never was a time when road hogging was more dangerous and less justified. The greater danger lies in the fact that traffic is denser and moving at a higher speed. All of the efforts to make this heavy and rapid flowing stream of motor vehicles safe and smooth can be nullified by a single driver who persists in maintaining his smug, slow pace in the center of the highway.

Every driver has seen this work out in practice. Out on the over-wider open highway, a line of cars is moving smoothly and swiftly. All at once the leader of this orderly, fast-moving parade comes up behind a loafing driver. He blows his horn, but the road hog refused to move over to permit himself to be passed. The overtaking driver is forced to make a quick application of his brakes. So are all others behind him. Traffic piles up and the once orderly line becomes a milling mess.

The stupid selfishness of one driver evokes irritation on the part of those behind. This irritation, in its turn, impels those who feel it to pass at any price. The price, frequently, is higher than anyone in the group has anticipated.

Now, as to the fact that there is less justification than ever for road hogging. Highways have been widened. So have city streets. The outer lanes of both are quite as smooth as that in the center. The shoulder of the road in most cases is wide and smooth and level.

Bad Road Manners

It is just as easy and just as safe to drive in the outer lane. The driver who is afraid of his ability to steer a straight course in the outside lane simply demonstrates that he is not a good driver. As a matter of fact, there is no more conspicuous mark of bad road manners or of a driving inferiority complex than staying in the middle of the street or highway and proceeding at a slow pace.

There are some drivers of the road hog type who believe they are supported in their abominable practice by the motor vehicle regulations. They would do well to peruse the regulations again. In them it is specified that when an overtaking driver gives a signal that he wishes to pass, the driver ahead must permit him to do so.

Clearly, the law gives no encouragement to the fatuous sense of road possession that some drivers reveal. It should not be necessary, however, to invoke the threat of punishment for such a practice. Each driver should possess a conception of good manners that would prevent him from becoming a road hog.

The thought is one that can be commended to all who operate automobiles.

$73,000 IN ONE YEAR, FEES COLLECTED BY OCEAN CO. ENGINEER

The Toms River Courier says the fact that the Ocean County Board of Freeholders paid County Engineer Harry C. Shinn the enormous and astounding sum of $73,000 in fees above his regular salary during the year of 1929, will be an amazing piece of news to taxpayers of that county.

That year, when Mr. Shinn was paid more than $73,000, was also the year when the Board of Freeholders, in a suit brought against Charles W. Mathis and Sons, Inc., of Seaside Park, claim that they overpaid Mathis, Inc., by $7,830.18, on the contract for the Manahawkin-Long Beach cement road.

All the sums paid Mathis, Inc., were on estimates made out by the $13,000 engineering force, certified to by Harry A. Shinn, County Engineer; Edward S. Dubrow, Resident Engineer, and also by the Inspector of the Engineering Department.

Dedicate Burlington's New Athletic Field With Big Meet Next Saturday

Track Teams from County's High Schools Will Compete Under Eyes of Noted Philadelphia Sports Officials

What is said to be one of the finest athletic fields in South Jersey will be dedicated Saturday afternoon, May 16, with the Burlington County Track and Field championships as the principal feature.

Unusual importance is attached to the event through the announcement that Herman Meyer, Duncan Worrell and other officials of the Philadelphia Officials Club will be present to judge the meets. Spurred by this recognition of the importance of Burlington County in scholastic athletics, field and track teams from Moorestown, Riverside, Mount Holly, Bordentown, Palmyra and Burlington are preparing to make the affair the greatest meet in the history of county scholastic athletics.

The meet is arranged under the auspices of the Burlington Young Men's Club, co-operating with the Burlington Board of Education, which has just completed the first unit of Burlington's new community play field. It is the purpose of the board that the field shall be used for both community and scholastic athletics.

"The field is the finest in the county," Paul Isenberg, president of the Burlington County Coaches Association, stated Friday night when the coaches met to place final entries on behalf of their schools. "Other communities are envious of Burlington," said Ken Diamond, Palmyra High School athletic instructor.

The meet will be preceded by a short dedication ceremony in which the Young Men's Club will present a flag pole dedicated "to clean sport and the youth of Burlington." A new American flag donated by a penny collection from Burlington's three thousand school children will then be unfurled. The pole will be presented by Birch Lippincott, of this year's graduating class, as representative of the youth of Burlington. Nancy Probasco will present the flag on behalf of the school children and it will be received by Ruth McGinley. McGinley and Lippincott will then turn the flag and pole over to Mayor Harold V. Holmes.

Herman Meyer will act as referee of the meet. Meyer is president of the Philadelphia Officials Club and also of the Middle Atlantic Athletic Union. He is known as the greatest manager of large field events in the country today and will have charge of arrangements for the United States Olympics in 1932.

Other officials are: clerk, Powerdly, Philadelphia Officials Club; starter, Harmer, Philadelphia Officials Club; announcer, William H. Kirkpatrick, Meadowbrook Club. The director of the field is Fred Guetter, Philadelphia Officials Club.

Track judges are Duncan Worrell (chief), Barr, Clausen, all of the Philadelphia Officials Club. The timers are McGrady (chief), Frenier, Meredith and Landisel, all of the Philadelphia Officials Club with the exception of Landisel who is from the Meadowbrook Club. The field judges are Howley, Mathers, Kirkpatrick and Younger, of the Philadelphia Officials Club, and Otto, of the Penn Athletic Club.

Among the prizes is a large loving cup, a special award by the Young Men's Club to the team scoring the highest score. The awards have been on exhibit at various places throughout the county during the past week.

The dedication will start at 1:30 p. m., and the meet will start at 2:00 o'clock. The club has announced that there will be no admission charge.

Coaches participating are: Moorestown, Paul Isenberg; Palmyra, Kenneth Diamond; Mt. Holly, E. A. Minka; Bordentown, Paul Baldengle; Riverside, Kuch; Burlington, David "Red" Burchanan.

Captain Frank Hawks is at his record breaking stunts again. He flew from London to Rome in 8 hours and 22 minutes, the best previous record being approximately 12 hours. He tried to fly back the same day but a storm forced him down without mishap near Paris. He later flew from Paris to London in 59 minutes.

NEW RECORD SET FOR LEGION MEMBERSHIP, SAYS N. J. COMMANDER

Theodore R. Crichton, State Commander of the American Legion, last week said, "Never before in the history of our state organization have we witnessed such a large enrollment of members as we have today. This can be attributed to but one cause. World War veterans aware of the assistance and service being rendered by the American Legion, affiliate themselves with us as an expression of appreciation, belief in our program, willingness to share the responsibilities, and pride in wearing our emblem, which signifies honorable service in war and peace time."

Commander Crichton further stated, "We are confident that history will repeat itself and that within the next several years the membership of the American Legion in this state will be 35,000, rather than our present membership of 21,000."

COCCIDIOSIS BEGINNING TO SHOW UP IN SOME FLOCKS

Several cases of coccidiosis have been observed during the last few days by County Agent Thompson and therefore poultrymen should be on the lookout for the first symptoms of this disease in order to ward off heavy losses. Droopy, pale faced birds with apparent loose, ragged, feathering are about the first indications of this trouble. One should also be on the lookout for bloody droppings which accompany this disease. A real infestation of coccidiosis causes a high mortality and therefore an early precaution will help to save many birds. The recommended treatment for coccidiosis is a 40 per cent milk mash. This mash consists of 40 lbs. of dried skimmed milk or buttermilk, 30 lbs. of ground yellow corn meal, 20 lbs. of ground rolled oats, 10 lbs. of wheat bran. The birds should never be left on this mash for longer than ten days. By discovering the outbreak of coccidiosis early, a treatment of probably five days would be sufficient. Take all other feed away while giving this treatment and feed only this mash.

"FIRST GET THE FACTS"

The outstanding feature of Tuesday night's school meeting, which was attended by a number of prominent citizens to inquire into the details concerning the proposed $325,000 school building, was the urgent request on the part of the citizens that the school board obtain and submit to the public, full details and cost of remodeling the present building in such a fashion as to serve for another ten or twelve years, along with definite specifications for a new building, with the cost, so that they may carefully weigh and compare the two propositions.

The visiting citizens were not satisfied to accept last year's indefinite estimates on the cost of remodeling. They wanted specifications and actual figures.

When the facts are all in, the citizens of Riverton may decide that it is not desirable to spend any money on the old building, but they want all the facts before making a decision.

The advisability of putting up a new building may hinge somewhat on whether or not Cinnaminson township will send its pupils to a Junior High School in Riverton.

If the revenue from these pupils cannot be secured, then a junior high school is out of the question, and it may be possible that the present building can be made to meet the requirements of a grade school.

One of the visitors went so far as to express the opinion that Riverton should not look beyond a grade school, owing to its limited area and necessarily restricted population. He suggested that the borough should have a thorough first-class grade school and depend on neighboring high schools for tuition above the grades. This view may or may not be the correct one, but it is worth considering.

Another visitor at the board meeting suggested two advantages of deferring the erection of a new building. One was that the old building would be more nearly paid for, and the other and more important one was that both Riverton and Cinnaminson township would in the meantime have developed and expanded to a point where both would be in a better position to know their educational requirements and the advisability of endeavoring to work out the problem jointly.

Much is to be lost and little to be gained by undue haste at this critical point in the consideration of the very important question of improving the educational facilities in Riverton.

NEXT TUESDAY

On Tuesday, May 19, the voters of Burlington County will select men to participate in the conduct of county affairs.

Two freeholders are to be nominated to the board of five members.

This body of five men is responsible for the administration of a county government involving a yearly expenditure of a million and a half dollars.

It is highly important that men of sound business judgment be chosen.

Two incumbents, Charles R. Stout and James McCormick, are candidates for re-election. Both men have fine records. Both men have had years of experience in public service. They are able to judge between the practical and impractical.

They make no extravagant promises. They assume no Don Quixote poses.

They are practical, economical, efficient.

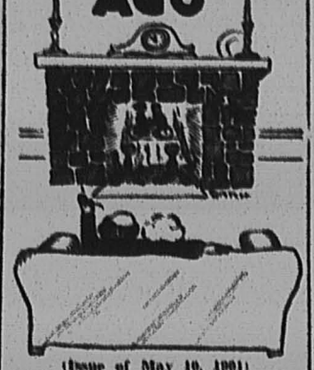
30 YEARS AGO



(Issue of May 10, 1901)

A wicked newspaper, says one of our exchanges, has this to say: "Dancing makes a girl's feet large; ice cream produces freckles; hanging on the front gate produces rheumatism; chewing gum distorts the mouth; playing on the piano destroys the beauty of the hands; washing dishes causes chaps to come—to propose."

There will be a phonograph concert in the Sunday School building of the Calvary Presbyterian Church on Friday evening, May 17. No charge for admission. A collection will be taken and applied to the organ fund.

The following officers have been elected by the mission board of the Presbyterian Church for the coming year: President, Miss Clara Bishop; vice-president, Mrs. H. B. Hemphill; secretary, Edward Hibbs; treasurer, Miss Bertha Eisele.

James Laufoureade and wife, of Philadelphia, visited C. W. Carter and wife last week.

Gen. W. L. James is having his house extensively repaired by Samuel Rudderow. S. J. Coddington will paper and paint the property.

Samuel Rudderow is removing the old Christ Church Sunday School building recently purchased by him, to his lumber yard on East Main street where it will be used in connection with his saw mill.

Some of our residents have suggested that the borough purchase a road sprinkler for use on the streets. The newly graveled roadbeds will depreciate rapidly if not kept wet during the dry weather, and they look so nice that it would be a great pity to have them spoiled.

(Extracts from Council Meeting, May 9, 1901)

At last night's council meeting it was finally decided to close all stores on Sunday and thus preserve quite and peace on the day of rest. Several complaints have been made to Mayor MacCarrell, and on authority of the borough solicitor he says Sunday selling must be abolished and order restored in Riverton. One storekeeper, when told to close his store last Sunday, refused to do so. According to the law of the State newspapers and milkmen are allowed to do business on the Sabbath.

An ordinance was given first reading to punish persons who allow horses or mules to stand in the street untied unless they be in care of some capable person. The fine for each offense will be $10.

The sewerage committee reported having held a meeting last Friday evening at which time it was decided to prepare a map of a proposed sewer in Riverton and submit same to State sewer committee, at Newark, for approval.

The fire and water committee reported having had the chemical engine repainted at a cost of $74.65.

The highway committee reported the graveling and rolling of Cinnaminson street at a cost of $91.15.

JERSEY'S MINERAL PRODUCTS SHOWED INCREASE FOR 1929

The value of New Jersey's mineral products for 1929 was $81,180,322 which is approximately one percent greater than that for the previous year but less than the peak year of 1926 when the total production was valued at $90,008,915, according to statistics recently compiled by the New Jersey Department of Conservation and Development in cooperation with the United States Department of Commerce and just published in the form of an illustrated booklet, "The Mineral Industry of New Jersey for 1929", copies of which may be obtained from the New Jersey Department of Conservation and Development. Among many interesting facts the booklet points out that the production of zinc ore at Odgensburg and Franklin Furnace was greater than in any previous year, the estimated zinc content amounting to approximately one-seventh the production of the entire United States. The production of sand and gravel was greatly augmented by new operations, the most important of these being a river dredge operated by the Warner Company, of Philadelphia, in the Delaware river just below Riverside.

LOSING HOPE? TEST KONJOLA

Thousands Declare: "This is The Medicine I Should Have Had in The First Place"

It's what a medicine does that counts. Read the experience of Mrs. Laura Clementz, 913 Rock Island Street, Peoria, Ill., who says: "My system became filled with poisons and I was very weak, run-down and listless. I gained in weight, strength and energy from the beginning of the Konjola treatment. I feel better than I have in years."

Mrs. Laura Clementz

Now read the statement of Mr. Geo. N. Smith, 6643 South Fairfield Ave., Chicago, who says: "Neuritis attacked my left arm until I was nearly helpless when I tried to raise it. Five bottles of Konjola relieved me of all the pain of this dread ailment and I am my old self again. Now I am having my wife take Konjola. She, too, is having wonderful results and looks forward to complete relief."

Mr. George N. Smith

EDITORIAL

How much better certain things, like answers to questions, and decisions of all kinds of questions, could have been made, if a little more thought had been used. Many could have been answered twice as well if more thought had been exercised. Many people would have a greater personality, more friends, and a greater position in life. Many children go through school; many adults go through work by blundering and feeling their way along and not thinking as much as they are capable of doing. What is the use of doing that? Why not put a little more thought on it instead of jumping at conclusions? Do you think as much as you deem necessary, or do you accept your first thought? Which one do you think will advance you further? Obviously, one who thinks before he leaps, wins.

BITS OF NEWS FROM 2-A—3-B

Yesterday 2-A and 3-B made baskets for Miss Driscom which are to be used at the Board of Education dinner Wednesday night. One day last week they went for a nature walk. They learned to know some of the spring flowers and how to make maple whistles. They are practicing the art of story writing. Very clever stories were written about a picture called, "The Train." They are looking forward to Field Day so they can give the folk dance they have learned.

WALLACE WINS MEDAL

Last week in assembly Mr. Mount presented the playground championship medal. Edward Wallace won it for being the best player in Riverton and his brother, Robert, was runner-up. The school congratulated them, and they hope Edward will win both the district and county tournaments.

CONTRACTS PROGRESSING

In the fifth A grade, Marie Haines, Eleanor Friday, Doris Steedle, Robert Gowell, Robert Dunlap, Richard Cox and John Wallace have completed the full set of contracts of five subjects each.

In the third A, seventeen of the children have finished the year's work in reading. These children may select their own reading work for the rest of the term.

SELF-CONTROL IMPROVES

The 6-A room council met last Friday, the president, Harry Reiger, presiding. The various committees reported their activities. The Sunshine committee chairman, Bertram Shoemaker, reported sending a card to Louise McFadden who was on the sick list. The pupils all were in favor of Lloyd Gladney's suggestion to put members of all Scout, "Y," Cadet, and Reserve groups on their honor to keep self-control or the three "T's" before them always—control tongue, temper and thought. The members of this grade would like the cooperation of all pupils and teachers in the keeping off the hedges and trees. A notice to this effect was sent to student council but did not appear in the minutes read in assembly. Several people were reminded not to ride on the sidewalks. As there was no business the meeting adjourned.

The 6-A grade have been making monograms in art class. Some very nice ones are displayed upon the bulletin board.

The study of birds' habits, colors, nests and uses has continued and now the boys are making bird weather vanes out of wood. The girls are to assist in painting these in bright red, blue, green, yellow and black lacquers. They will decorate their flower gardens with them.

MORAVIAN CHURCH IS 68 YEARS OLD

Public Cordially Invited to Attend Anniversary Love Feast Services

The Palmyra Moravian Church at Parry will celebrate its 68th anniversary Sunday.

On May 17, 1863, the stone structure known as the first church building of the Palmyra Moravian Church was dedicated, free of debt, and on that same day the congregation was formally organized with nineteen communicant members.

Since that time the little church has continually ministered the gospel of salvation in Christ Jesus to ever increasing numbers.

The anniversary services on Sunday will be as follows: 10:45 a. m. Anniversary service of worship and praise, with sermons by the pastor, the Rev. A. J. Harke. His topic will be "Possessing Our Possessions."

The anniversary Love Feast, to which the public is cordially invited, will be held at 2:30 p. m. Addresses will be made by the Rev. Ira S. Pimm, pastor of the Epworth M. E. Church, of Palmyra; the Rev. R. K. Stansfield, pastor of the Riverside Moravian Church; and the Rev. R. Riemer, of Philadelphia, former pastor of the Palmyra Moravian Church.

The choir will render special music at both of these services.

RED CROSS TO HAVE GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY

Next Thursday, the chapters and branches of the American Red Cross will celebrate the golden anniversary of the founding of that society in America, by a special public meeting preceded by a dinner.

Prominent speakers will make appropriate addresses and papers will be read giving brief accounts of the history of the Red Cross and of the Burlington County Chapter. Every chapter in the country will hold a meeting similar to the one which will be held by the Burlington County group.

An especially interesting event will be the reception of a radio broadcast by the President of the United States, who will speak at all the meetings simultaneously.

The Burlington county meeting will be held in the Guild House of St. Mary's Church, Burlington, Thursday, May 21, and all those interested are invited to attend. The dinner preceding the meeting will be served at seven o'clock, at a charge of $1.00 per plate.

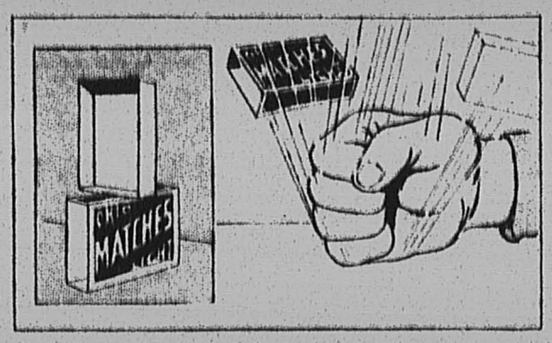
TRICKS of MAGIC EXPLAINED by Will L. Lindhorst

TRICK OF UNSMASHABLE MATCH BOX



Press two opposite corners of the cover of an ordinary penny match box so that it is slightly thrown out of square. Bring the box before your audience, stand the cover on its side, place the drawer upright on top of the cover, as shown in the drawing, and ask some one to try to crush it with a blow of the hand. It will be found that the two parts of the box fly in separate directions when the hand comes in contact with them.

MUSIC FESTIVAL COLORFUL EVENT

Five Hundred County YWCA Members Participate in Annual Program

On Friday evening, May 8, every corner of the gymnasium at the Moorestown Community House was filled with about 500 Y. W. C. A. members and friends who attended the annual music festival of the Burlington County Y. W. C. A. clubs, which included the Girl Reserves as well as the groups of older girls.

During the winter the clubs, under the leadership of Mrs. William Grobler, of Moorestown, the music chairman, have been making music a part of their programs and on the evening of May 8, they came together to present, in a colorful program, some of the songs and dances of our own country and of other countries, which they had been learning in their clubs.

Daniel Des Foldes, of the Victor Talking Machine Company, who has been interested in the work of the Burlington County Y. W. C. A. in music, presented a portable Victrola to the group doing the best work. It was awarded the Roebling Girl Reserves for their presentation of a Hungarian dance, "The Dance of the Bending Wheat."

The girls wore the beautiful native Hungarian peasant costumes, many of which belonged to the girls themselves or to their families. Miss Lillian Hoffner, of Burlington, the club advisor, was responsible for their training. Two other beautiful dances were a Polish dance by a group of Burlington industrial girls, and an Italian dance by the Lenola Girl Reserves.

Songs were sung by groups of clubs from every part of the county, but the negro music by all the negro Y. W. C. A. clubs was especially enjoyed. Sylvester Harris, of Moorestown, delighted everyone with his singing of "Water Boy."

It is the plan of the music committee that the festival not be an opportunity for only the best singers to have a part, but that every girl in every club have a chance to sing and be a part of the program. Therefore, there were 32 Y. W. C. A. clubs in the county working for and being a part of the Y. W. C. A. music program.

The committee responsible for the program last Friday included Mrs. William Grobler, chairman, Mrs. F. Wallis Armstrong, Mrs. Daniel Des Foldes, Mrs. J. W. Powell, Mrs. Earl Williams, of Moorestown; Miss Dorothy Burr, of Pemberton; Miss Mildred Collin, of Delanco; Mrs. Clarence Davenport, Miss Rosa Mosby, Miss Cora Stone, of Mount Holly; Miss Lillian Hoffner, Miss Nellie VanSciver, of Burlington; and Miss Cecilia Hutchinson, of Bordentown.

Rev. Mr. Morley Speaks

The Rev. F. B. Morley, of Moorestown, was the interesting speaker at a meeting of the Girl Reserve Committee of the Y. W. C. A. Monday evening, May 11, at the Y. W. C. A. in Mount Holly. The Rev. Mr. Morley spoke on "How the Y. W. C. A. Can Co-operate With the Churches." This topic was of special interest to the Girl Reserve Committee, which is in charge of the work with younger girls in the association.

Miss Margaret Thomas, of Moorestown, presided at the meeting. Business included reports on the High School Council and the Junior Council and discussion of plans for the two conferences for Girl Reserves to be held in Moorestown on June 6, and June 13.

STATE COMMITTEE NAMED FOR FOOD DISTRIBUTION

The convention of the State Federation of Women's Clubs in Atlantic City last Saturday morning heard the recently formed Joint Committee on Economic Food Distribution in New Jersey described as the "first organized attempt in the state to unite producers, consumers, and state institutions in a program aimed to benefit both producers and consumers." The speaker, Prof. H. J. Baker, extension service director of the New Jersey Agricultural Experiment Station, and a member of the committee, reported on a plan of the committee to act as a clearing house on common problems of producers and consumers. "Through our educational program," he said, "we hope the consumer may become better informed on problems of production and distribution, including standard grades, varieties, quality and nutritive value of food products."

While driving a truck in Atlanta Norman Long ran into another truck driven by Will Short.

EPISCOPAL

(Rev. G. J. McCormack)

I have a rendezvous with God! Church-going and the worship of God every Sunday in this church are obligations not only to God, but more directly obligations we owe to one another.

The public worship of the congregation is helped or hindered by the measure in which each of us contributes to the creation of an atmosphere from Sunday to Sunday, surcharged with love and loyalty, devotion and inspiration.

Our brethren are dependent upon us for this atmosphere, the clergyman is helpless without it, and is shorn of all his power without the loyal witness of the members of the church to the reality of the truth he proclaims.

There will be a celebration of the Holy Communion this morning, Thursday, at 10:00 a. m., in commemoration of Ascension Day.

A covered dish supper will be served this evening at seven o'clock in the Parish House. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

To write against your name,

But how you played the game.

Rev. Harold L. Creager.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"MORTALS AND IMMORTALS" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, May 17, 1931.

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Fight the good fight of faith, lay hold on eternal life, whereunto thou art also called, and hast professed a good profession before many witnesses" (I Timothy 6:12).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Mortal mind must part with error, must put off itself with its deeds, and immortal manhood, the Christ ideal, will appear. Faith should enlarge its borders and strengthen its base by resting upon Spirit instead of matter" (p. 430).

Burlington Trails Rivals in Track and Field Events at Collingswood

"Skeet" Irvine's Collingswood High tracksters outclassed Burlington and Palmyra in a triangular meet at Collingswood last week. The Blue and Gold athletes tallied 60 points, against 16 for Palmyra and 14 for Burlington.

Jones won the only two first places which were credited to the Burlington team. The relay race was omitted because the Colts were the only ones entered.

Palmyra in Sunberth as Season Closes, Conquers Collingswood and Gloucester

Girls' Swimming Team Scores Decisive Victories in Two Meets Last Week; Now Sports Undefeated Record for Third Successive Season

Girls representing Palmyra High in the South Jersey Girls' Swim League jumped into first place last Thursday afternoon as the result of two straight victories over Collingswood and Gloucester.

A 39-20 win over the Colts and a 40-19 triumph over the Camden county team were the last two meets of the Palmyra season. The team has been undefeated this year, marking the third successive season that a loss has not been chalked up on the Palmyra slate. Twice the Pals narrowly averated defeat, winning their opening meet of the season from Pitman, 31-28, and then being held to a 29 1-2 point tie by Haddon Heights later.

Despite their excellent record the Palmyra tankers are not favored to win the title. Haddon Heights, only 24 points behind the league leaders, have a meet with the last place Merchantville team this week, while Pitman and Collingswood, two teams also in the running for championship honors, vie today.

In the meet last Wednesday, Miss Grace Dugan's proteges carried off five first place honors in the seven events held. Two of the leading places were captured by Irene Parry, the other events being won by Cecilia Baker, Mary McAnuity and the relay team.

20-yard breast stroke—Won by Emma Haines, Collingswood; second, Cecelia Baker, Palmyra; third, Mary MacAnuity, Palmyra. Time, 17 seconds.

Side stroke for form—Won by Irene Parry, Palmyra; second, Molly Meyer, Palmyra; third, Anna Sweicicki, Collingswood.

80-yard relay—Won by Palmyra; second, Collingswood. Time, 52 seconds.

Thursday's meeting with Gloucester was also one-sided, the Red-and-White team capturing first honors in six of the seven events. Irene Parry again proved to be a star when she won two of the first places. Florence Harding in the novice class, Nellie Showell in the free-style, Mary MacAnuity in the back-stroke event, and the speedy relay team were the other winners.

20-yard novice race—Won by Harding, Palmyra; second, Winters, Palmyra; third, Heckman, Gloucester. Time, 17 4-5 seconds.

RIVERTON LOSES TO FAST MEDFORD TEAM

Twenty to 1 sounds like a horse race, but it was a baseball game, Riverton, at Medford last Saturday afternoon, took it on the chin. The local boys got off to a bad start when Medford drove in 5 runs in the first inning. Richman pitched in the opening for Riverton but could not seem to get started. Weikman next pitched a couple of innings, letting in 4 more runs. Coles and Foulke tried a hand at pitching in the remainder of the game, allowing the Medford sluggers to bring in eleven more runs.

Bartley's three-base hit in the seventh inning was the outstanding feature of Riverton's playing, and it was this hit that kept Riverton from retiring scoreless.

Medford got 22 hits from Riverton twirlers while Riverton got 6.

Medford struck out 6 men while Riverton struck out three. Medford had one error and Riverton four.

Riverton plays Burlington next Saturday afternoon at Memorial Park.

POLICE TARGET PRACTICE SCORES

The second weekly pistol practice was held Wednesday at Riverton with eight policemen and six citizens shooting through a light drizzle. Considering the cold and damp atmosphere and poor light, the scores were very good.

Riverton police made a good showing with considerable improvement over last week. Robinson bettered his score and led the list. Gootee improved by some 20 points and Chief Miller whose hand is improving, increased his score by 20 points.

The citizens shot well with Saylor leading the list.

HOUSEWIFE WORKS MORE THAN "HUBBY"

American housewives work more than 1,250,000,000 hours a week—more hours than men work in their employment—according to a report made to the National Home Service Conference recently. While mechanical and electrical devices have improved greatly working conditions outside of homes, women doing house work "continue to work the same number of hours in about the same way as they did hundreds of years ago."

The report points out the economic importance of the home, saying that it "is a sort of rotary converter, receiving the products of the factories made in the main by machinery supervised by men, changing it to digestible and consumable form and then turning it back again through men and children into the economic and social streams."

CAMP MAHALALA OPENING SLATED

Younger Boys to Enjoy First Week; Excellent Staff Secured

Announcement has come from the Burlington County Boy Scout office that Camp Mahalala, at Wrightstown, will open June 20.

The first week will be given over entirely to boys in the county who have not attained Scout age. Those boys from 9 to 12, who are interested in outdoor activities will be given an opportunity to live as the Scouts live, under the guidance of the complete Mahalala Scout staff.

A full week's program has been planned, swimming instruction, hikes, handicraft, campfires each night, all these activities which will be a part of the Scout season, will be given these younger boys.

Matthew A. Shaw, county Scout executive, commented upon the capabilities of the 1931 camp staff. "We had so many applications for staff positions that we were able to state a very versatile group to direct Mahalala. In many cases it was hard to chose between several competent men and we regret that so many applications had to be denied."

Capable Director

Donald Nicoll is a seasoned camper who will take over the duties of camp director. This is his tenth year in boy's camps where he has served in various capacities. He is a capable instructor in Indian lore. He is a student at New York State College of Fostestry and his knowledge of the woods with his previous camp experience makes him an excellent leader for Scout Camp work.

The Senior staff is comprised of P. Hipple, Jr., who will have charge of water-front activities; Arthur Sipp, Scout Craft, and Harry Salmon, quartermaster.

Hipple is an experienced life gaurd Last summer he was guard and swimming instructor at Lake Senapee, a popular New England resort. He is qualified to award Red Cross emblems to those who pass the necessary tests and it is expected that many scouts will become Junior and Senior Red Cross Life Savers under his guidance. In addition, he is a medical student at Jefferson College and will be a definite asset to the camp in the capacity of instructor ing first-aid and bandaging.

Constructive Activities

Arthur Sipp is a popular Scout master in Maple Shade. He is a scout enthusinst who knows much of the scouting background. He will direct the constructive activities pertaining to scout advancement.

Harry Salmon is a Moorestown Scout who is returning to Mahalala after last year's service as a Junior Staff Member. Scouts Sydney Neal of Moorestown, and Lester Young, of Riverside, will assist Salmon as members of the Junior Staff, the latter in charge of sanitation.

George Ott, of Palmyra, will oversee the instruction in Indian lore. The scouts will be directed in making authentic Indian regalia and accomplishing real Indian dances. Robert Fry, also of Palmyra, will work with him in the capacity of woodworking instructor. He is an authority on Indian Totem-poles and will aid the campers in the construction of these Indian emblems of worship and in making bows and arrows and boat models.

Eagle Scout "Bob" Hyatt, of Moorestown, was honor camper last year at Mahalala This year he is to be back at camp as Junior Staff man to supervise basketry and to assist the boys in test-passing for scout advancement.

Leather Craft Course

"Fritz" Hyatt, also of Moorestown, will direct leather craft. In addition, he will assist Mr. Hipple on the water-front, helping with canoes and boats. He is a Junior Red Cross Life Saver which is an additional measure of safety for camp swimming.

Scout Sipp of Maple Shade will also aid Hipple on the water-front. He, too, is a Junior Red Cross Life Saver.

Eagle Scout Hunn and Life Scout Edwards, runner-up as 1930 honor campers, both of Riverton, will assist in the work for scout advancement.

Scout Steve Backtofen, Mount Holly, will be Junior Staff member assigned to Mess Hall.

"The Mahalala Camp Staff represents the cream of Scout-dom in this county," was Mr. Shaw's comment. "They will be the power behind a successful season at camp."

NEW LAWS NUMBER 362; SESSION'S WORK FINISHED

As a result of the work of the 1931 Legislature a total of 362 new laws have been placed on the statute books of New Jersey, Governor Larson has completed the signing of the bills, left upon his desk by the lawmakers when the recent session adjourned. He also signed 17 joint resolutions, bringing the total number of measures receiving his approval up to 339. During the weeks the lawmaking body was at work, Governor Larson did not veto any of the bills that were sent to him for consideration. However, he killed six of those which were before him by filing them in the State Library without his signature. Among the last of the bills to be approved last week was the one creating the new State Tax Department which will co-ordinate the collecting of all tax revenues which come into the State Treasury under one head, a State Tax Commissioner, who is to receive a salary of $7,500 a year and have a five-year term. This is one of the Abell Commission recommendations.

Be sure to make reservations for the charter luncheon to be held Tuesday, May 19, at one o'clock. Notify Mrs. Malcolm M. Dickinson, telephone Riverton 198-J by noon May 16.

Mr. Barclay said that an auditorium is a necessary part of present day school work, and the question was, whether to limit the size to school requirements or make it large enough for community use as well, the difference in cost between the two being about $20,000.

Mr. Bennett said that he was a large taxpayer in the borough and was interested in other taxpayers, and did not want to see them saddled with an expenditure which would be a burden on them for many years to come.

Riverton Building Antiquated

For the benefit of those who were not familiar with modern school methods, Mrs. Mayfield explained that the Riverton school was doing good work but that it had progressed about as far as it could with the present equipment and that there were a lot of things they could not have in the present building. She suggested that, as business men, the visitors would not attempt to carry on their own business with antiquated buildings and machinery, and suggested that if they would visit new school buildings in Philadelphia they would see just how far behind Riverton is in its educational facilities.

Mr. Bennett replied that as a business man and manufacturer, if he wanted to modernize his plant he would see what it would cost to remodel his present plant.

Mr. Cooper replied that it would never be possible to make a modern school plant out of the present building owing to the ground on which it stands.

Effect on Tax Rate

A discussion of the effect of the cost of a new building would have on the tax rate, brought a statement from Mr. Hemphill, district clerk, that it would add about 60c to the present rate. Riverton's tax rate this year is $4.10.

Mr. Woolman said he would like to know what it would cost to remodel the present building. It might be advisable, he said, to spend $75,000 to $100,000 in remodeling, and even buy some adjacent property for playground.

Mr. Bennett asked how much a Junior High School would add to the teaching force. Mr. Hemphill said the increase in tuition would be offset by the saving on the first year high school pupils now being sent to Palmyra, who would then remain in Riverton school.

An Asset to the Town

Mr. Barclay suggested that a new school building with its increased educational facilities would add to the attractiveness of the town and bring more people here.

Mr. Woolman replied that that was a question. If it resulted in an excessive tax rate, it might keep people out and drive away some who are already here.

Mr. Woolman still maintained that he thought it would be a great mistake to put $325,000 in a new building until it had been very definitely ascertained what could be done with the old one. He contended that if the old building could be made satisfactory at a reasonable cost, it would be an injustice to the taxpayers to saddle on them a much greater expense.

Mr. Barclay said that the figure of $175,000 secured last year for remodeling did not include additional playground, which would bring the total cost up to about two-thirds of a new location.

Steedle Recalls Lower Figure

George D. Steedle, member of the board, said that his recollection of the figure for remodeling was around $100,000.

Mr. Mattis pointed out that a fair comparison could not be made between the cost of remodeling the old building and the cost of erecting a new one because the new building contemplated Junior High School facilities, equipment and building construction which is much more expensive than required for a grade school.

Councilman Elwell, a former member of the board of education, said that he was in favor of a new building, but thought it would help to sell the idea to the people if the board would work out accurately just what a new building would add to the tax rate, and also give the cost of an addition to the present building, so that both the costs and advantages of the two plans could be compared. He also suggested that the people should be informed as to the number of years over which it is proposed to spread the cost.

Mrs. Mayfield said that definite information on these points would be laid before the public together with the plans and prices, and Cinnaminson Township's decision about sending their pupils to Riverton, before the voters are asked to pass their approval of any plan for improvement of educational facilities.

Effect of Parochial School

Mr. Bennett inquired how many pupils would be taken out of the public school when the parochial school is finished.

Mr. Hemphill replied that a careful survey recently made showed that 65 children from Catholic families are now attending the public school of which 32 would be withdrawn. Those in the upper grades, he said, would not be removed.

Mr. Hemphill further said that the present buildings are overcrowded.

Mr. Barclay suggested that when the business depression is over and Cinnaminson Township begins to develop, the people of the township will want to send their children to the Riverton school, as some are now already doing.

Mr. Woolman Counsels Delay

Mr. Woolman said that for this very reason he would approve of trying to make Riverton's present school building answer for the next ten or twelve years, at the end of which time the trend toward co-operation in school matters between the two municipalities would be much more clearly defined, and then a modern building could be erected. A building put up now, he said, might be as antiquated in ten or twelve years as Riverton's present building seems to be in comparison with schools that are being built today.

Mrs. Mayfield said that she had attended many educational meetings recently and that everywhere she heard of communities which grew toward new school buildings as a center.

Comparative Costs of Operation

Mr. Hemphill stated that the operating expenses of a Junior High School would be about $85,000 a year and to operate a grade school $78,000 a year.

Mr. Bennett inquired how much more it would cost for additional teachers in a Junior High as compared with a grade school, and Mr. Hemphill replied that the additional teachers would cost about $7,500, while the revenue from Cinnaminson Township, based on 120 pupils, would be about $15,000.

H. H. Murray, a former member of the borough council, asked Mrs. Mayfield how soon it was desired to have the project voted on by the people, to which she replied that the board would like to have it done just as soon as possible, before the close of the school year in June, if it could be arranged.

Murray Favors Grade School

Mr. Murray said he thought the idea was a good one but that it would be very difficult to sell it to the tax payers at this time. One look at the delinquent tax list in Riverton, he said, would clearly demonstrate the reason why. Mr. Murray further said he favored a good grade school for Riverton. He believed that Cinnaminson Township, which had ample room to grow, would, in years to come, have its own high school, whereas Riverton with its limited area would never be able to get beyond a grade school. He said that he would like to see the project of a new building worked up gradually, so that the people of Riverton would have ample time to consider the subject from its various angles.

Mrs. Grace Bennett Coe said that she would rather have her child attend a less expensive building with a good corps of teachers than an elaborate one with poor teachers. Mrs. Coe also expressed the belief that the tax rate in Riverton is already as high as it can safely go, and that to materially increase it would mean that many people would loose their homes.

Adjacent to Sewer Plant

Mr. Murray also pointed out that the sewer disposal plant when it is finally constructed will be located somewhere within the neighborhood of the proposed site for the new school building, and that care would have to be taken that they were not close enough together to be detrimental to the school.

When the delegation of citizens left they thanked the president and members of the board for the information they had received.

The Riverton board and the Cinnaminson board will hold another meeting next Monday night to further discuss the details of the proposed co-operation in the Junior High plan.

A letter was received from H. K. Rutherford resigning as a member of the board, for business reasons.

COMMUNITY SERVICE

The 10,000 posts of the Legion each year engage in more than 200 different kinds of community service, each post performing some outstanding task of general benefit to the whole community in which it is located, and which will make of that community a better place for residence. Here is a typical scene of the Legion post at Mountain View, California, erecting street signs. In true army style, they make the task easy through the comradship the Legion affords.

CROPS UNDAMAGED REPORTS ROBERTS

Fruit Trees Did Not Suffer in Hail Storm, Says Ex-Senator

Although newspapers reported his crops had been ruined by the hail storm Sunday, Ex-Senator Emmor Roberts, of Moorestown, Tuesday declared that as far as he has been able to determine, his crops did not even suffer from the storm.

The former senator, who is one of the county's largest fruit growers, said he does not expect his fruit crop to be effected by the storm. Possibly some light damage may have resulted in other fields planted with vegetables, he said, but he expects the loss to be very slight.

The torrents of rain, and the hail, hit Burlington county about seven o'clock Sunday evening. The icy stones, some as large as golf balls, struck several sections with a devasting effect. Tops of automobiles were damaged, windows were shattered and blossoms were torn from the fruit trees. Rubarb, strawberry and tomato patches were leveled off.

County Farm Agent Charles Thompson, of Mount Holly, was reported as saying the storm was the most destructive in years.

Among the farmers who reported damaged crops were Hudson and Mordecai Haines, Rancocas; Barclay Allen, Mount Holly, and Henry Al Louis Cohen, Mount Holly florist, 200 panes of glass were broken in his greenhouses, while another county seat man, Edward Levis, said the damage to his flower garden was very heavy.

Cars were stalled under the tunnel just above Moorestown, traffic all over this section was tied up for more than a half hour during the height of the storm, electric lines were blown down, homes were in darkness and the Rancocas rose over Marne Highway at Rancocas Park.

GENERAL H. L. LAUBACH NOW IN COMMAND OF JERSEY'S 78TH

Command of New Jersey's 78th (Lightning) Division, famous A. E. F. fighting unit and now the parent body for Army Reserve regiments within the state, today passed to Brigadier General Howard L. Laubach, U. S. A., under orders issued at Governors Island by Major General Hanson E. Ely, U. S. A., commanding the Second Corps Area. The new 78th leader succeeds Brigadier General Otho B. Rosenbaum, both in command of the New Jersey Reserve unit and as commander of the First Infantry Brigade, regular army, stationed at Fort Wadsworth, Staten Island, where General Laubach will establish his headquarters.

MOORESTOWN DRIVER GOES TO JAIL, LOSES LICENSE FOR 2 YEARS

William Griffith, 257 West Main street, Moorestown arrested at Lenola early Thursday morning of last week by Officer Bruce MacDonald on drunken driving charges, was fined $200 and costs at a hearing before Recorder Joseph W. Johnston in Moorestown Town Hall.

Unable to pay the fine, Griffith was sentenced to serve a term of thirty days in the Burlington County jail at Mount Holly. He will also have his driver's license revoked for two years.

ACTUAL CASE CITED BY WELFARE WORKERS

Over 1,700,000 Children Awaiting at Least Two Weeks in Country

Below is given just one of the many cases with which the Welfare Workers in New York come in contact. A two weeks vacation in a town such as Riverton would mean a world of difference to these undernourished and city-bred children.

Apply to anyone of the following ladies if you can help a child to enjoy two weeks this summer: Mrs. Robert Ayres, Mrs. J. D. Clerk, Mrs. Henry Lippincott, Mrs. Clifton Mayfield, Mrs. E. K. Merrill, Mrs. Herbert Morris, Mrs. Joseph Thomas or Mrs. Frederick Blair.

A Seven-Year-Old Mother

Frances M., 7 years, Rose M., 5 years, James M., 4. These children are another deserted family. The father left home last fall, when he failed to get work over a period of time. He became discouraged and began to drink. This caused trouble in the home and he disappeared. The mother placed the children in this Children's Aid Society school and went out to look for work herself. She was fortunate in being able to find it.

Frances is the little mother who dresses the smaller children and takes care of them. The mother has to leave for work at 7:30 a. m., and leaves Frances to get the others up and give them their breakfast and get them off to school.

I hope Frances can have a long summer in the country. She is a golden haired child with blue eyes and a lovely pink and white skin. Rose is just as sweet, and Jim is sweeter still. Anyone who takes these children, one or all, will not want to let them come home at the end of summer. They live on West 52nd street. Catholic religion.

NOT TOO SLOW, MR. MOTORIST!

Congestion on the highways prompts the Keystone Automobile Club of New Jersey to call attention to the hazards created by the slow driver. "It is generally assumed by those who bemoan highway accidents that speeding is to blame," said Trevor B. Mathews, manager of the Camden division of the club. "It is true that the 'pokey' driver who drives along a main highway at 20 miles per hour creates conditions that lead directly to accidents."

THE NEW ERA

Vol. 43. No. 20. RIVERTON, NEW JERSEY, THURSDAY, MAY 21, 1931 PRICE, FIVE CENTS

HARMONY TICKET SWEEPS COUNTY

Vote of Confidence for Stout and McCormick; Bitting for Surrogate

Election day was quiet and the vote light, there being no local contest to bring out the voters.

William E. Bennett received the nomination for Mayor, and E. K. Merrill and Gorham Sargent for members of council.

Results in County

The organization county ticket which won in the county also was high in Riverton and Palmyra; although Earnest was within four votes of McCormick in the Palmyra total.

With only a few minor districts in the county missing, Assemblyman Newcomb defeated Edward R. Williams of Riverton, 12,000 to 3,377 for the Republican nomination.

The Freeholder candidates ran as follows: Stout, 9,488; McCormick, 8,638; Earnest, 7,255; Young, 3,479.

George N. Wimer, of Palmyra, and Mrs. Elizabeth G. Terry, of Edgewater Park, were unopposed for Republican state committee from Burlington county and each was re-elected with a large vote.

In the important Democratic state committee contest, George M. Hillman, Jr., led the field of three while Mrs. Mervil E. Haas, of Palmyra, easily defeated her opponent, Mrs. Gauntt, by about 2 to 1.

Lamon for Mayor

Walter D. Lamon, of Cleveland avenue, young Palmyra real estate man and civic leader, swept every election district in the borough to win the three cornered fight for the Republican nomination for Mayor in the primary election Tuesday.

Lamon's plurality over his nearest competitor was 255. He polled a total of 780. The runner up was Councilman Charles Nevin Buchholz who received 525 votes. Robert Bruce Galloway, Jr., polled 138.

Lamon carried the four districts over Buchholz by the following figures: first, 211 to 163; second, 181 to 108; third, 181 to 136; fourth 207 to 118.

Independent Wins

Buchholz was supported by ex-Mayor James T. Weart's organization, while Lamon and Galloway ran as independents, each enlisting the aid of his various friends and making a thorough canvass of the town on their own behalf.

Mayor George N. Wimer and Councilman Floyd W. Spahr received the Republican nomination for the two council vacancies, with Wimer polling 1064 and Spahr 1001. Walter Cummings received the Democratic nomination.

Squire William L. Fichter was unopposed for Justice of the Peace, polling a total of 1132.

Contest for County Committee

For Republican County Committee in the first district Harry Schaffer defeated Chris Peditto 262 to 95, while John Renshaw and Mrs. Renshaw were elected by the Democrats. Florence Saar defeated Jennie Sandoz, 265 to 87, for Republican committeewoman.

In the second district Mrs. Mary King defeated Mrs. Lucy Kenney 241 to 62, while Thomas Schwink received the male Republican nomination without opposition. Mrs. Hannah Dooman was elected by the Democrats.

In the third district James T. Weart and Mrs. Alice Kilpatrick were unopposed for Republican county committee, each polling 276. Mrs. Rose Giordano was the Democratic choice.

George W. Rogers Wins

George W. Rogers defeated William P. Engle for Republican county committee in the fourth district, 219 to 152, while Mrs. D. M. Wass was unopposed for committeewoman, polling 303. Wilbur Harmar will represent the Democrats.

Harry Williams was chosen Democratic committeeman in the second district and W. S. C. Roray in the third district.

ARTISAN TEAMS DINE

Artisan bowlers were feted last Thursday night at Degenhardt's hall, Philadelphia. Both the Pirates and the Bandits, winners and runners up for the season were given places of honor. In addition to the prizes awarded to the high bowlers, several gifts were given to the hard-working officials of the league.

L. W. Hampton, chairman of the bowling committee, was presented with a leather traveling bag, as was Ed Liming, cashier for the bowlers. The Artisans were unanimous in the sharing of a deep feeling for Liming, such feeling being deep in their pockets every night they bowled.

Joe Stack was the winner of the bowling ball, the prize awarded by the assembly, while Jim Hartley won the special hat prize. Nathan Beekley carried off the box of candy. Howard Vile, secretary, scorekeeper, percentage expert, etc., of the league, received a gold piece worth $20 in any bank in the country.

RABBIT RAISING AN IMPORTANT INDUSTRY

Robert Snover, of Palmyra, and James Goodwin, of Riverton, Breeders in This Vicinity

Industries where the supply has not caught up with the demand are rare in these days, yet at Emaus, Pa., there thrives such a business. One in which hundreds of thrift loving people are interested, and the principal work is that of raising and breeding rabbits.

Not only has the plant at Emaus been expanding continually, meaning more buildings and employment for men, but hundreds of people for miles around have been benefitted considerably, for in every community within a radius of two hundred miles there are associated breeders who raise rabbits at their homes.

Robert Snover, of Palmyra, and James J. Goodwin, of Riverton, are the people in this vicinity who are breeders at the present time. It is expected that many more people will go into the business in the very near future.

Close to $100,000 has already been invested in the continually growing plant at Emaus. The officers of the company extend a most cordial invitation to the public at large to visit this new industry. It is still in its infancy, but at the rate of its present growth, before many years it will be one of the leading industries of the East. There is ample parking space and visitors are welcome at all times.

James J. Goodwin, of 614 Thomas avenue, Riverton, represents the Lehigh Packing Company in this vicinity.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express my profound thanks to the Republican voters of Burlington County for their hearty endorsement of my candidacy for the office of surrogate.

Both of my opponents I hold in very high esteem, especially Mr. Ziegler who is a hard and clean fighter and exemplifies all the fine qualities of my comrades, the ex-service men.

I trust that I shall continue to merit the confidence and support of the good people of Burlington County and if elected pledge my best effort and devotion in promoting the welfare of the people.

GEORGE B. BITTING.

WELFARE FACES DEFICIT OF $500

Relief Work Has Been Continued Longer Than was Thought Necessary

Due to the extreme seriousness of economic conditions the Palmyra-Riverton-Cinnaminson Community Welfare Association has had to prolong its activities far into the Spring. Its officers and workers regret this necessity, as it has made the expenditures run over the budget for the year.

The work organized by the Welfare in cooperation with the two Boroughs and the Township was brought to an end the first week in May. Assistance in the form of milk, bread and groceries has been decreased as rapidly as possible, but could not be withdrawn entirely without causing suffering.

The present conditions of the treasury indicates a deficit of $500.00 and the Association wishes to make known its situation so that its member organizations and interested individuals may if possible make sufficient contributions to wipe out the deficit.

Contributions in any form will be gratefully received by Mrs. Thomas Cashin, treasurer or Ross Mattis, president.

BELL-MUELLER CONCERT

Another delightful concert will be given the pupils of the Bell-Mueller Studios in the Riverton Porch Club, Wednesday evening, May 27th. As usual this concert is open to the public.

Many noted musicians have been invited to attend, and among the features of the evening will be a duet for violin and piano by two seven-year-old artists, the Largo from Dvorak's New World Symphony played by a violin ensemble, and a violin composition by Mr. Mueller which will be played by Miss Carrie Haines.

The final concert of the season will be broadcast over the radio in June.

PHI NU CLASS

"Jesus Preparing for the End" will be the subject of the lesson at the Presbyterian Sunday School when the class meets at 10 o'clock Sunday morning. A cordial invitation is extended to all young women who are interested.

WIDEN STREET AT BROAD AND MAIN

Borough of Riverton and County Cooperating to Improve Traffic at Busy Corner

Work has been started on the highway improvement at the corner of Broad and Main streets, Riverton. The Borough Council approved of the change which was recommended by William H. Albertson, chairman of the highway committee. The Palmyra Concrete Co. is doing the work. Owners of the Williams-Wright Building donated the necessary ground to cut a portion of the sidewalk away to provide for the better movement of traffic and better parking facilities at this corner.

Four and one-half feet is being cut from the sidewalk along the Main street frontage from the American Store to Keating's corner, and from that point to a point opposite Biancone's tailor shop a gradual curve is being made to relieve the sharp turn on Broad street.

The Borough of Riverton is paying for the excavation and cement curbing and the county is paying for the new street paving necessary.

This change in curbline will make a big improvement at this corner.

PLAN NEW ROUTE TO R.R. UNDERPASS

Spring Garden Street Will Intersect With State Highway at River Road

Plans have been made to extend Spring Garden street to meet River road at the intersection of the State Highway, it was disclosed Tuesday night.

The information came at the regular monthly meeting of the Palmyra Borough Council, held in the council chamber at the Palmyra Fire House.

H. B. Williams, who has purchased the tract between Fillmore street and the State Highway, announced his plans before the governing board, stating he planned to extend Spring Garden street, but at a slight angle in order to intersect the State Highway where it joins the River road.

Such a plan if fully carried out, would enable those people in the southern part of town to make quite a short cut in a trip toward Camden via River road. Spring Garden street at the present time is chiefly used east of Public road, although it extends to Fillmore street. The proposed short cut would eliminate the trouble of crossing the busy intersection at Broad and Cinnaminson avenue and then tunneling under the railroad at the newly constructed West Palmyra underpass.

One Track Completed

The elevation of the railroad tracks has been progressing rapidly, one track of the new system being opened for use early this week. According to a former announcement, both tracks are expected to be open for traffic about July 1. At the same time the underpass for the bridge traffic would be thrown open and the state highway direct from the bridge will be put into use.

The turn into the old ferry approach at the lower end of Cinnaminson avenue, may be shut off within the near future. The turn of the road was made on property of the Palmyra Ferry Company, by order of that organization. With the closing of the ferry line, the company will resume proprietorship of the land under private rights, thereby causing the turnout to be shut off. The new intersection with Bank avenue will be at an approximate right angle. The entire matter was left in charge of Councilman Floyd W. Spahr, chairman of the highway committee, and Mayor George N. Wimer.

No Ash Collection

Mr. Spahr also announced the discontinuance of ash collection. Speaking for Councilman A. B. Cramer, he said the ashes in Palmyra would not be collected after May 31. Garbage will probably be collected on an enlarged schedule as has been the custom in former years.

This program will be followed only during the summer months.

It was also reported that the pumping apparatus of the Palmyra fire department was in first class condition, all repairs having been finished. The recent repairs were the first that had been made on the engine in the eight years that it has been in service.

Permission was received by the council to have a boat and house, on the Pensauken creek bank at the foot of Broad street, torn down. The place had been an eyesore and the former owner, George Chambers, is now in the almshouse. The permission for the removal of the house and boat was granted by the Palmyra Realty Company.

A communication from the State Highway Department stated the investigation of the storm sewer at Broad and Market streets was being made.

Several reports from local committees were also recorded. In that of the sanitary inspector it was noted that the number of communicable diseases had materially decreased. At the present time there are only three cases in the borough, two of scarlet fever and one of measles.

CINNAMINSON OUT ON JR. HIGH PLAN

Township School Board Decides Against Plan Proposed by Riverton

Following a conference with the Riverton Board of Education Monday night, the Cinnaminson Board of Education decided not to agree to send their seventh, eighth and ninth grade pupils to a Junior High School in Riverton for reasons set forth in the following letter:

Mrs. C. P. Mayfield, President,
Riverton Board of Education,
Riverton, N. J.

Dear Mrs. Mayfield:

The Cinnaminson Board of Education has carefully considered the question of sending tuition pupils to a proposed Junior High School in the Borough of Riverton. While the members approve of the Junior High idea, it is felt that the proposition is impractical for us at the present time for the following reasons:

The present depression, with its attendant tax delinquencies makes any move for increased taxation hazardous so far as community sentiment is concerned. That taxation would be increased cannot be denied. The general sentiment throughout the community rules against the proposed plan of sending our pupils to Riverton.

The relief of congestion, which would immediately result from the removal of our Seventh and Eighth grades from the present buildings would be only temporary. Since the area of our Township predicts continuous growth, the problem of enlargement of our plant must be faced in any event. It is the consensus of opinion that this problem should be met by and within the community itself.

Transportation is a very real issue with us and lends complications which would add to already heavy expense, and complicate organization. Past experience has taught us to minimize the bus routes and unnecessary transportation.

We very much regret defeating your hopes for a Junior High and trust that your board and the members of the state department will try to appreciate our point of view.

Very truly yours,
Cinnaminson Board of Education.

RIVERTON LIBRARY IS 32 YEARS OLD

Extensive Repairs Needed and Special Request is Made for Funds

The thirty-second annual meeting of the Riverton Free Library Association was held last Monday evening in the library building.

Charles L. Flanagan, Harry F. Jones, Henry C. Parrish and Mrs. Arthur F. Coe were re-elected trustees and Mrs. Leonard R. Baker of Palmyra, was added as a new member.

The president, J. Carl DeLaCour, submitted his annual report which read in part as follows:

"That the library is appreciated is shown by the increasingly large number of books taken out by our readers. The library has suffered an irreparable loss this year in the passing of our beloved librarian, Miss Elizabeth B. Campbell. Through her unselfish efforts since its inception thirty-two years ago the circulation has grown from a few hundred to over thirty thousand (30,000) books during the past year. For this service of personal love and devotion, the board of directors desire to express their deep appreciation.

"We feel we are fortunate in being able to get Miss Antoinette B. Campbell to take her sister's place as librarian, as she is so thoroughly familiar with the work. Mrs. M. M. Dickinson and Mrs. R. D. Barclay have been appointed assistant librarians.

"The time has now arrived when we cannot postpone any longer making the repairs which are necessary for the physical upkeep of the library building. These include painting, both inside and out, and other urgent repairs to the interior.

"Our income this year has hardly been sufficient to take care of the running expenses and to buy enough new books to keep up the interest of our readers. We, therefore, must make an appeal to our friends and subscribers for a special contribution for the particular purpose of making these much needed repairs and a liberal response would be very encouraging to the board of trustees."

RADIO SET FREE

Tickets are being given away at the Broadway Palace Theatre for an all-electric radio to be won by some lucky person next Thursday, May 28.

The set is enclosed in a handsome cabinet of the secretary type. All tickets given away for the set are numbered and the winner will be named by the drawing of the numbers at Thursday's performance. To be eligible to win the radio, the person holding the lucky number must be in attendance on the night of the drawing. The donation of the set is made possible by co-operation with a Philadelphia radio distributor.

MAN IN ROLE OF COP NABBED IN RIVERTON

Palmyra Extension Resident Held for Tampering With Police Box

The search for the person who is alleged to have been in various Burlington County towns impersonating a policeman is believed to have come to an end last week.

Clarence Ward, of Palmyra Extension, is now being held in Burlington County Jail without bail, following his arrest last Friday when he tried to open a police box with a skeleton key. He was arraigned before Recorder Cecil Bowers, of Riverton, and committed.

Ward was arrested by Policeman John Robinson. It is said that Ward asked Robinson for permission to use the police telephone early last night. Robinson refused and the man walked away. Robinson stepped out of sight and later the alleged impersonator returned and tried to open the box.

When he was arrested he was found to have police keys, telephone keys, police whistles, and badges.

HORSE SHOW, FETE BIG SOCIAL EVENT

Proceeds From Annual Affair for Benefit of Cinnaminson Home

Arrangements are now complete for the annual horse show, fete and gymkhana to be held at the Moorestown Field Club on Saturday, May 23, for the benefit of the Cinnaminson Home. The affair is one of the big social events of the year and attracts people from all parts of this county.

William F. Reeve, chairman of the horse show committee, has secured as judges three very competent horsemen, Ephraim T. Gill, of Haddonfield, Dr. Oscar Seeley, of Rosemont, Pa., and Colonel Stone, of Trenton. The event starts at 1:15 o'clock.

George B. Ferdier, secretary of the committee, has booked 74 entries to date, considerably more than the number booked at this time last year. The classification shows some minor changes, but the program as a whole follows quite closely that of last year.

Children's events, as usual, come early, and in the past before all the spectators had arrived. They are always an attractive picture, mounted on their ponies or in their little carts, and it is worthwhile making an effort to be in place promptly.

Well Known Ponies

The pony classes include some familiar names and many new ones. Among the old ones are Marian Perkins, riding and driving "Topsy"; Ruth Lester and Jack Collins riding Coeur's "Mustard" and "Princess Pat"; Miss DaCosta is riding "Dellchester Miss Whip" again.

The Medford Lakes Colony Club has entered "Trixie" and "Hail Pint," and the Crescent Riding Club will show two ponies "Peggy" and "Rex," ridden by the Seelke boys, of Haddonfield.

Dr. Jones of Four Mile has entered his boys' pinto pony and Ralph L. Freeman has entered his new pony "Peanut" to be ridden by his nephew.

Moving down the list to the saddle horse classes, Dr. Dibler, of the Crescent Riding Club, and his friends have listed many new names among them "Copper Kettle," to be ridden by Miss Viola Dibler; "Peppy Boy," by A. Baker, of Philadelphia; "Toby," by Miss Marie Christman, of Philadelphia; and "Topsy" by Miss Jewel Nysatt, of Philadelphia. Dr. Dibler will ride "Moby Dick," and shows Miss Dibler's five-gaited stallion, "Danny Speers." Mrs. Dibler has entered her saddle horse "Cherry Blossom." Jessie B. White, of Merchantville, has again entered his "Dixie Bell" and Dr. Lacey N. Conoly, of Camden, is showing a new five-gaited horse, "Mary Lou." There are two or three entries from Camden by Wilford Frye.

Two Roberts Entries

The Roberts' stables have two new entries. Dr. Jones' "Red Eagle," which Miss Kathryn Sharpless will ride, and "Prince Ali-Bendo," a bay novice, which Miss Agnes Perry will ride. Dr. Jones' son will ride "Betty Washington" and Mr. Roberts' son will ride Mr. Gale's "Hatch." Samuel Roberts will again demonstrate his skill with Dr. Jones' "King Sanford." J. Edgar Morton, of Merchantville, has a new five-gaited horse which Miss Susan Morton will ride, and Dr. George Maguire, of Delanco, will show "Midnight" and "Peggy" again.

PORCH CLUB NOTES

The Charter luncheon of the Riverton Porch Club was held Tuesday, May 19th, in the club house with one hundred and ten members present.

It was an honor to have such an important person in the world of women as Mrs. John A. Frick, president of the Federation of Women's Clubs of Pennsylvania, for the guest speaker of the day. She made several suggestions that should be of benefit to the club in the future.

May Ebrey Holz, soprano, sang several numbers during the course of the afternoon.

There will be a meeting June 2, at 10:30 o'clock to hear the reports from the meeting held in Atlantic City, this month, by the Federated Clubs. Luncheon will be served at the close of the meeting and reservations will please be made by noon of June 1st. No luncheon charge.

TAX COLLECTOR ASKS BACKING OF BOROUGH COUNCIL

Officer William Gootee, New Delinquent Tax Collector Has Wide Powers Under Law

BANK AVE. ROADWAY UP FOR DISCUSSION

A. S. King Wants Something Done and Highway Committee is Given Power to Act

If Delinquent Tax Collector Gootee has his way, people who owe taxes and will not pay will be incarcerated in the county jail until they do.

Officer Gootee appeared before the Riverton Borough Council last Thursday night and asked if the Mayor and Council would back him up if he went the limit prescribed by law in fulfilling his duty as delinquent tax collector.

The officer said that some of the accounts turned over to him were several years old, and aggregated a considerable sum. From all indications, he said, these people were able to pay, and he did not think it was right or fair that folks who did pay their taxes should carry an additional burden because of those who do not.

Council Agrees

The members of Council agreed with Officer Gootee that the taxes should be collected.

The law governing the collection of delinquent taxes provides that the delinquent tax collector may seize the property of the delinquent, or if he has no property, may commit the delinquent to jail until the amount due is paid.

Director of Public Safety DeLaney said that he had appointed Officer Gootee as delinquent tax collector for the purpose of collecting delinquent taxes, and that unless council was willing to back up the officer, the office might as well be abolished.

Chairman Albertson, of the highway committee, reported that he was awaiting suitable weather to start oiling the streets.

LOCAL STARS IN ONE-ACT PLAYLET

Ladies of Golden Hour Circle Present "Florette & Co." In Church School Auditorium

A most attractive entertainment was given under the auspices of the Golden Hour Circle in the Church School Auditorium of Calvary Presbyterian Church last Friday evening.

The opening number was a one-act playlet, with Mrs. Nathan Lane and Mrs. Arthur Coe in the roles. The play, "Florette & Co.", a French comedy, was unusually well enacted, the players receiving enthusiastic applause.

The second number was a three-act comedy, "The Trials of a Hostess," and in addition to being a play brimful of laughs, the players presented it with all the aplomb and assurance of professionals. Mr. Fred Hemphill walked away with the honors as a very stern servant fresh from the Emerald Isle. Other members of the cast who did unusually well were Mrs. James P. Macfarlane as a suffragette; Miss Clara Bishop as a doleful spinster; and Mrs. Joseph Morgan as President of the Women's General Information Club.

Palmyra Artisans Honor Deceased Members at Meeting Tuesday

Artisan members attending the meeting Tuesday evening engaged in a short memorial service for the late members of the order, Russell Hamelman and Robert Kirkpatrick.

Both members had passed away since the last meeting of Palmyra assembly, to which both belonged, and a fitting service was participated in by their fellow members. The exercises were led by Past Master Artisan Howard Vile, assisted by a trio which sang "Nearer, My God, to Thee."

Resolutions, signed by the members present, were sent to the families of the deceased as tokens of the esteem in which the departed friends were held. Hamelman, at one time, was the Master Artisan of the Palmyra assembly.

BANKERS ATTEND N. J. CONVENTION

President, Treasurer of Local Bank Hear Noted Men Speak of Business

President E. L. Williams and Treasurer Howard B. Conover of the Cinnaminson Bank and Trust Company, Riverton, attended the twenty-eighth annual convention of the New Jersey Bankers Association at Atlantic City, May 14, 15 and 16th.

Many interesting speakers were on the program, such as Rome C. Stephenson, president of the American Bankers Association; Ben Barry Bachatach, Mayor of Atlantic City; C. Harry Loutrel, president, The National Lock Washer Co., Newark, and Agnew T. Dice, president, the Reading Company, Philadelphia, Pa. According to these men the business depression is about spent and the return to normal will soon be here.

The New Jersey Bankers' Association adopted a resolution at the closing session of their 28th annual convention at the Hotel Chelsea today favoring a lower rate of interest on both time and demand deposits. The resolution read:

"Knowing that our depositors are most interested in the safe investment of their money than in the higher interest return on their deposits, we, the members of the New Jersey Bankers' association in 1931 convention assembled again go on record as supporting only safe and conservative banking. With high state loan yielding low rates we recommend to all our members a reduction in the rates of interest paid on both time and demand deposits.

"As a part of this resolution, and in testimony of the importance thereof, the following extract from a letter dated May 14, 1931 from the commissioner of banking and insurance to the State of New Jersey is appended:

"Confirming my conversation and indicating what I have previously said on numerous occasions, it seems to me that during the trouble-some time that those having the charge of banks in the state should give serious consideration to rates being paid on deposits. In many instances they are, in my opinion, too high, and I trust that you and your associates will give this matter your serious consideration.

"Sincerely yours,
FRANK H. SMITH
Commissioner."

Robert W. Harden, vice-president of the Westfield Trust Company was elected president. Other officers elected were: Vice-president, Charles A. Plenty, vice-president of the Hackensack Trust company, Hackensack, treasurer, Carl K. Withers, third officer First Mechanics National Bank, Trenton, secretary, Armitt H. Coate, trust officer, Burlington County Trust company, Moorestown.

Cites Legislative Needs

Declaring that the legislative committee had a very unsatisfactory report to submit, William J. Field, chairman of that committee, told the association that none of the measures prepared by the association became laws at the last session of the legislature.

"For the past few years the results obtained at Trenton by your legislative committee have not been all that could be desired, and we rest the blame for the situation almost entirely on our member banks," reported Mr. Field.

"If support of our measures can be built up through each member bank considering itself a member of our legislative committee, and thus insure the support of its representative at Trenton, we will get the desired results.

"At the present time we are developing the man who, because of personal losses from unwise investments or otherwise, wants to reform the universe, and should such person introduce measures of an unsound or radical nature our association must through its legislative committee function properly to keep such measures from our statute books. This result can only be obtained by the unanimous support of our member banks."

Armitt H. Coate, of Moorestown, secretary of the association, told members there is opportunity now for bankers to show the confident leadership that is needed at the end of a depression.

"We country bankers down here in South Jersey and up in Sussex, have some familiarity with crops and seasons as well as business cycles," he said. "We know the time to plow and plant is as early as possible after the frost is out of the ground. That time is approaching for business.

"Bankers know and understand the progress of business cycles better, perhaps, than any other group. We know from experience that a new era of prosperity will follow this depression just as inevitably as spring follows winter. Yes, we have had some cold weather and seen our share of blizzards, but the folks who think the warm sun of better times is never going to shine again are gravely mistaken."

He declared New Jersey the past year led all states "by a wide margin in the stability of her banks." The state, he said, with its industries, highways and growing importance as an aviation center, is in "an unusually favorable position to take advantage of an era of prosperity when it arrives."

"It behooves all of us to look at the facts with the naked eye," he declared. "Business as a whole has been approximately 19 per cent under normal this year, and business men are gaining confidence with every passing day. The comeback will be powerful and not long delayed."

When freed on a charge of public intoxication so that he might go home and milk his cow, Anthony Dumbrowski, of Albany, N. Y., was told by the judge to drink milk instead of booze.

PLANE TALKS

By Lt. H. H. LONGAKER
Founder, Burlington County Aero Club

Quite naturally, the most important aviation news this and next week is about the Air Corps maneuvers. Thursday, May 21, will see at least 300 of the army ships pass over this section on the way to New York. You will see them again on the 27th and 29th. Please remember that while this will be a most magnificent aerial exhibition, it is one of the most important military maneuvers ever staged.

The State of Maryland recently enacted a law, sponsored by the Maryland State Aviation Commission, which will make Maryland the best-marked of states. Towns and cities over 4,000 population must maintain lighted sky-signs showing town and state designation. All the state and national highways will also be marked in large letters. New Jersey State Aviation Commission please note!

The Ford Air Lines, private aerial freight carrier for the Ford Motor Company, recently completed its sixth year of successful operation. This line, connecting Detroit with Chicago, Cleveland and Buffalo, has flown 1,641,638 miles and carried more than 11,000,000 pounds of Ford parts, accessories, etc. During the past year the mileage flown by this one line alone was almost as high as that of the combined air lines of France.

At the present writing there are 678 airplanes of all types registered in Italy and by the way, that is the exact number of planes registered in the State of Illinois.

The Ludington Flying Service will inaugurate the air line between Central Airport and Atlantic City on May 29 under the personal supervision of "Bob" Hewitt.

"Cheerio" to you, "Speed" Hofman. You will be remembered always by the entire aviation industry. You were called a dare devil, but we call that fearless confidence mis-named. Again, Cheerio, "Speed." We deeply regret the passing of "Speed" while stunting at Omaha on Monday. This big, rawboned, mid-Westerner was an extremely likeable chap, very quiet, a "doer" not a talker and how he could make a ship sit up and beg. "Adois, Speed."

CHECK SPRING INTENSITY OF PULLETS' EGG RECORDS

The springtime intensity of a pullet's egg production is one indicator of her value as a breeder that frequently is overlooked by many poultrymen, in the opinion of Prof. W. C. Thompson, poultry husbandman of the New Jersey Experiment Station. Many poultry breeders, he says, expend too much on a bird's winter egg record and not enough on her spring yield. He finds that the most progressive breeders consider a bird's record for the entire year without minimizing the importance of the intensity of egg yield during March, April, and May.

RHEUMATISM IS PUT TO ROUT!

Consider, For Your Own Sake, How This Remarkable Compound Wins Its Victories

There is a real lesson in the experience of Mrs. Clara Binz, Route No. 6, San Antonio, Tex. She says: "I had rheumatism for seven years. Pains accompanied every movement. My stomach was weak. I bloated badly and lost weight steadily. Rheumatism left me after three weeks of the Konjola treatment. My appetite increased and I gained weight."

Mrs. Clara Binz

Now read the statement of Mr. J. R. Carlile, 603 South Ninth Street, Waco, Tex. "I suffered for three years with stomach trouble and rheumatism. The pain kept me awake at night. I bloated terribly. Konjola brought me almost immediate relief and today I am free from the pain of rheumatism or stomach trouble. I never hesitate to recommend this wonderful remedy to my friends who need a good medicine."

"DEVELOP PARKS" TOPIC AT ROTARY

Should Reclaim Valley Streams and Improve Them For Future Park Systems

The preservation of the natural beauty with which the Tri-State area is endowed, was the topic of Carlton W. Tillinghast, field secretary of the Regional Planning Federation before the meeting of the Palmyra-Riverton Rotary Club last Thursday evening.

Mr. Tillinghast, active in the Regional Planning Federation, cited many interesting facts and figures that should impress the people in this vicinity with the importance of planning now for future improvement of our park systems.

The Tri State area includes Philadelphia and such parts of Eastern Pennsylvania, Delaware and New Jersey that are bounded on the north by Trenton, Wilmington on the South and the ocean on the East.

The growth in population for this area in the past 50 years has been 2,500,000, and if this same rate is maintained, it is estimated that 1996 will see a population of 7,000,000 in the same area.

The inroads of progress upon the natural scenic beauty of this area has been appalling, and it is is the voluntary work of the Federation to bring about a systematic, centralized planning unit to work in co-operation with municipal officials to preserve for future generations bits of natural beauty where a crowded population may find retreat.

Mr. Tillinghast stated that Riverton enjoyed the best park of any municipality in Burlington county.

The Rancocas Creek presents, according to Mr. Tillinghast, a potential park system that Burlington county in future years might be proud to own. He did state, however, that Burlington county was the only county between Jersey City and Camden that did not have a functioning park commission.

The Regional Planning Federation is supported by private subscription and has no authority whatsoever to act in any case. Its chief function is to advise, through its corps of trained technical engineers, those municipalities which will avail themselves of its services.

With three new bridges across the Delaware within the past five years, prospects of a tunnel under the Delaware in the near future and miles upon miles of concrete highways, it is not difficult to visualize an appreciable influx of people into Burlington county from the more densely populated areas of Philadelphia and its suburbs.

Mr. Tillinghast stressed the desirability of the people of this county acquiring stream valleys while they can be secured cheaply, and develop them gradually as funds become available.

Such a plan would obviate the necessity of buying from many private owners at much higher prices in later years.

Mr. Tillinghast's talk was decidedly inspirational and contained much food for thought for those who would preserve the natural beauty their home county.

"ON THE SPOT" NOW AT SHUBERT

Exciting Drama Arrives in Philadelphia After Record Run in New York

Heralded as the most great crime play on Philadelphia stage, thrilling and fascinating of melodramas, "On the Spot," Edgar Wallace's melodramatic masterpiece, comes to the Forrest Theatre in Philadelphia directly following its highly successful engagement of 175 performances on Broadway. Lee and J. J. Shubert are co-producers of this hair-raising production with Edgar Wallace and Lee Ephraim of London.

"On the Spot" is a vivid and laughable backstairs view of the crime barons at work and play in Chicago. Mr. Wallace's tremendously exciting drama rises far above the usual melodrama because of its consistent drawing of the central character of Tony Perrelli. The chief gangster is alternately tender and cruel to women, implacable to men, cajoling even caressing when he thinks the occasion demands and, in fact, is the very essence of vindictiveness.

Perrelli dooms the lad who dares to love his own discarded sweetheart, passes sentence upon the protector of a girl who attracts his vagrant affections, puts whoever stands ever so slightly in the way of his accomplishment of a diabolical purpose undeviating "on the spot" and finally, after a rushing series of dramatic episodes, comes to an ingenious a finish as can be found in the theatre today. For gripping and amusing entertainment, "On the Spot" ranks high among the season's outstanding successes.

SCOUTS TO HAVE BIRTHDAY PARTY

Troop No. 1, of Burlington, Plans Observance of 20th Year

Boy Scout Troop No. 1, of Burlington, will celebrate its twentieth birthday on Thursday evening with a birthday party and an "old-timers' night."

The troop was organized on May 25, 1911 and is the oldest troop in continuous existence in South Jersey and, as far as is known, in the entire state.

Carleton E. Sholl, first Scoutmaster and William and Joseph Zelley, first assistant Scoutmasters and the original members of the troop will be the special guests for the occasion. Prominent Scout officers also will be present.

The meeting will take the form of a campfire program and the beautiful fireplace in the Memorial Hall, where the session will be held, will be used for the occasion. Arthur W. Luce, county Scout troop commissioner, of Moorestown, will be the speaker.

During the evening's program, the original troop flags, which have been in use until the present time, will be retired from service and members of the original troop will present the present troop with a new set of colors. The troop flag, which has just been received in this city bears the twenty-year veteran's insignia in addition to the regular Scout emblem and the words, "Troop 1, Burlington, N. J., Burlington County Council."

Recently a bugle and drum corps has been formed in the troop and it made its first appearance at the Burlington-Bristol bridge celebration. The troop is sponsored by Captain James MacCarland Post No. 70 American Legion and Raymond E. Parker, a past commander of the post, is its present Scoutmaster.

TWO CANDIDATES PASS NAVAL ACADEMY TEST

Congressman Isaac Bachariach has been notified of the results of the mental examination for candidates for the United States Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md., held April 15. Only two of the seven candidates who were nominated as principal and alternate passed the mental test. They are Frank T. Ritter, of Vineland, and George A. Finley, of Ventnor, both principal candidates. Two alternate candidates failed to report for examination. One principal and four alternate candidates failed to qualify. The two successful candidates will be ordered to report for physical examination about the middle of June and if they qualify they will immediately enter the Academy. The candidates who were nominated by Congressman Bachariach were named as the result of a competitive examination held last November.

PALMYRA P. T. A. ELECTS OFFICERS

Mrs. Elias M. Toy is Chosen President of Association at May Meeting

The Palmyra Parent-Teacher's Association held its annual election of officers in the Delaware avenue school building Tuesday afternoon.

Officers were elected to serve for the ensuing year as follows: Mrs. Elias M. Toy, president; Mrs. F. Seeber, first vice-president; Miss Ruth Laessle, second vice-president; Mrs. C. F. Dengler, third vice-president; Mrs. Elvin I. Powell, secretary; Mrs. J. C. Mallory, financial secretary; and Mrs. William A. McCamy, treasurer.

Annual reports of the year's activities were read by the chairmen of the various standing committees. A summary of the year's work was read by the president, Mrs. Elias M. Toy. At the close of the meeting Mrs. Toy was presented with a beautiful beaded bag as a token of appreciation of her excellent and untiring efforts during the past year.

The exhibit of work done by the Palmyra school children during the year was open from 3:15 o'clock until 5:00 and from 7:30 p. m., until 10:00.

This display of art, manual training and home economics showed remarkable talent and attracted a large number of parents and friends of the school and the school children.

Those who had been chosen to serve as judges found it most difficult to select the winners, as all the work was very good.

The art judges were: Mrs. George J. McCormack, Mrs. M. S. Mamoulian and Miss Emma D. Sawyer, art supervisor, who is to be congratulated on the splendid showing made by her pupils.

The manual training judges were: Wilton E. Mount, local Y. M. C. A. secretary, Marshall Wilbraham, Elvin I. Powell and A. N. Palmer, manual training instructor, who is also to be congratulated on the excellent showing made by his students. This exhibit included woodwork, ironwork and handcrafts.

The judges of the work exhibited by the Home Economics Department were: Mrs. W. Roland Dunn, Mrs. Edwin B. Day and Miss Anne Matthews, whose department was very well represented.

After much deliberation, prizes were awarded as follows: Art, high school, pastelle work, Mildred Goodwin; costume design, Louise Ayres; sampler, Jane Fowler. Honorable mention, Cecilia Baker, Mary Lord and Irene Sipple.

Lamp shade and hand work, Mildred Durgin; ink work, Mildred Meyer. Honorable mention, Jane Fowler. Linoleum block print, honorable mention, Harold Zayotti and William Cooper. Free brush design, honorable mention, Elizabeth Knight.

The attendance banner for the month was won by Miss Josephine Wallace's class.

Dog Registration Urged by Police

People of Palmyra are urged to have their dogs registered at once. In accordance with a ruling made some time ago, Palmyra citizens were advised to procure license tags for their pets before May 15.

Reports from Chief of Police C. M. Beck say the people are not responding as they should. Time for the registration has passed and many people have made no effort to have their pets registered.

Failure to register the animals will result in a fine, several times greater than the cost of obtaining the registration disk. The cost of the license is $1.00.

Pet loving persons will not only save themselves inconvenience and money by conforming with this request at once but will do much to prevent their dogs from being seized by police and gassed.

Some hazard is occasioned every summer by the possibility of stray dogs being afflicted with rabies. Strange actions, which might be the forerunner of fits in dogs which cannot be identified, very often result in the death of the canine. Much to the distress of a citizen, the animal often turns out to be a much-loved pet. Where the owner has shown enough interest in the animal to have it registered, the police are more than willing to show co-operation in keeping the animals from coming into harm's way, and the owner of the dog can be advised to keep a sharper look out for any strange action on the dog's part.

Dogs may be registered at the police headquarters at any time.

LARGE CROWD AT P. O. S. A. BANQUET

250 Attend Dinner Held on 38th Birthday of Palmyra Organization

Two hundred and fifty members of Camp 23, P. O. S. of A., and their guests were present Monday at the banquet held in the lodge hall, Palmyra.

The banquet was held in commemoration of the thirty-eighth anniversary of the Palmyra organization. The order was founded May 15, 1893, but at that time had only a few members. Since its organization it has grown to one of the most important and one of the largest lodges in the community.

The banquet followed a patriotic service held in the Epworth Methodist Church, Sunday evening, at which almost 100 members of the order were present.

Three of the charter members of the lodge were present at Monday's celebration. John C. Hinkle, Frank Toy and George N. Wimer were the members of the order who had done such a large share in its organization. Members of the lodge noted the activity of these members had increased with the passing of the years. Wimer, a past president, acted in the capacity of master of ceremonies at Monday's fete.

Several excellent speakers were included on the evening's program. Brief remarks were made by Past State Presidents Neil Jamieson and Edman Baker. Palmyra's representative among state officers, State Master of Forms Leslie W. Reeves, also favored the members with some well-chosen remarks. Past President James T. Weart added to the general good humor of the occasion with some reminiscences and anecdotes of by-gone days.

Judge Frank A. Mathews, Jr., the principal speaker, and a member of the camp, rendered a very interesting address on the different phases of legislation. He quoted figures showing the number of laws passed by the New Jersey legislature in the past five years and asserted the multiplicity of these laws was caused by the pressure of the people rather than because of any personal desire of the legislators.

Sumptuary laws were objected to on the ground that they have the tendency to make criminals rather than to restrain crime, and the remedy of more self-reliance, better character building and a return so far as may be possible, to some of the simpler things of life, was suggested.

The chicken dinner was served by ladies of the First Lutheran Church, Palmyra.

THE WAY TO LOWER TAXES

In all the outcry about taxation—and there ought to be more of it rather than less—it ought to be remembered that it is the legislative and not the executive branch of the government, whether state or national, that is responsible. It is the legislature of California that has increased the cost of carrying on the business of that state from 95 millions in 1911 to 725 millions in 1929. It is the Congress of the United States, not the President, which levies a tax upon the people of ten billion dollars to meet the cost of carrying on this government for a single year. And it is the people, not the President who can give orders to their representatives. Taxes will be lower when the people tell their representatives in the state and national legislatures they must be.

MR. BARNES EXPLAINS

It seems that Mr. Julius H. Barnes, who caused such a flurry last week by calling for tariff changes to help American foreign trade, is strongly opposed to action at the next session of Congress. What he meant, he has now explained to the International Chamber of Commerce meeting, was that gradual adjustments, either up or down, should be made through the Tariff Commission. These would not have "the unsettling effects that accompany a general overhauling by Congress."

Mr. Barnes, like most business men, is not willing to have Congress meddle with the tariff. It is the Tariff Commission's task to recommend any needed changes. And, by the way, Mr. Barnes has not yet stated what particular changes he has in mind. It would be interesting to know which tariff schedules, in his opinion, are operating to the disadvantage of this country's foreign trade.

President Hoover did well, in addressing the World Chamber of Commerce to call attention to the great burden of military armaments in Europe. After mentioning the efforts which have been made to reduce naval armament, in which as we all know Uncle Sam took the lead and made the major sacrifices, voluntarily giving up world naval supremacy which was within his grasp, the President rightly paid some attention to the question of military establishments. As the President well said: "The United States has a less direct interest in land armament reduction than any of the large nations because our forces have already been demobilized and reduced more than all others."

An Indiana boy who was thought to be suffering with a fatal lung disease coughed up a peanut and then got well. Why can't a lot of our peanut politicians do the same thing?

LAND AHOY! THE PORT OF PHILADELPHIA

On the eleventh of May the seventh and eighth grades, 65 in all including the teachers, visited the port of Philadelphia. Two buses took them to the Chestnut street wharf. There they boarded a boat called the "John Wanamaker." They went up the river to Petty's Island, then down to Hoe Island and back to the wharf where the buses met and took them home.

Several people took pictures of such things as the Tidewater Coal Dumping Pier which is of the most modern type of the Delaware River bridge. The most interest, however, seemed to be shown when Hog Island was sighted. This is to be the future airport, and transportation terminal of Philadelphia. The land was purchased from the government for the sum of three million dollars, and it will take three million more to make it complete.

The classes appreciated the invitation to see Philadelphia's port, and wrote letters to Mr Schlecter, Mr Weglein and Mr Rutherford who made the trip possible.

SURPRISE PROGRAM BY STUDENT COUNCIL

The curtains were closed! What was to take place. Soft music began to play, and the radio was in front of the curtain. Just then the announcer's voice was heard. Station RPS. Our next number is a play, entitled "Don't Give Up the Ship." It will be broadcast by the members of student council. Those who took part in the play were: Edward Hunn, Mary Wilson, Dorothy Wolcott, Warren Blyler, Jack Hallinan, Anne Glunt, Robertson Coe, Robert Dunlap and Lawrence Witte.

Several boys built toy sailboats to compete in a race for a prize. Don eventually wins after having tried many times to build a good boat instead of giving up easily as the other boys did.

INDIAN STORY DRAMATIZED

The little people of the 2 B grade read a story in their reading books about "Ugly Face and Her Four Sisters." They enjoyed it so much they decided to dramatize it. Naturally it necessitated many types of work on their part before they could give the play. They made the wigwams, other scenery, and costumes as a group. Then after rehearsing their parts and learning Indian songs, they decided to give the play for some of the other classes. After that they repeated it again this week for their parents. Those who took the main parts were: Jane Lowden, Frances Borden, Betty Hearn, Marjorie Cole and Edith Bowers. The squaws were Anna May Reed, Edna Williams, and Sallie Coddington. The boys gave an Indian dance and the entire class a song at the close of the play. The children were so pleased that over half of their parents were there to see the play.

7-A GIVES HEALTH PLAY

Friday morning in assembly, the 7-A grade supplied the program. Before giving their play, three boys gave talks. Charles Rader spoke about "Hunting Elephants"; Herbert Williams talked about "Hunting Tigers With Spears"; and Robert Guest talked about "Whales."

Having studied about Louis Pasteur in the hygiene class, they decided to give a play about his wonderful discovery of hydrophobia, and how he cured a bitten boy. First, Robert Wallace and Richard Barclay gave a summary of Pasteur's eventful life. The characters in the play were: Pasteur, Charles Rader, assistant, Jack Hallinan, little boy, Robert Guest and the mother, Doris Vaughn. This sketch was made up by the class, and it was very well done.

RIVERTON PARTICIPATES IN SINGING FESTIVAL

Last Friday night at Riverside High School there was a singing festival given by 200 children from all schools in Burlington county.

These five ghirls were chosen to represent our school: Mary Patterson, Elizabeth Woolston, Julia Washington, Beatrice Muse, and Mae Laverty. They sang a series of five songs, "Pale Moon," "To A Wild Rose," "Big Brown Bear," "Largo," and "Send Out Thy Light." Miss Lucas led the entire group when they sang the last song.

Angel Martinez, of Los Angeles, suffered only a broken toe when he fell from a 40-foot smoke stack.

FLASHES FROM THE Y. M. C. A.

Saturday morning the Palmyra Y. M. C. A. was crowded with boys anxious for the time to arrive for the start to Camp Ockanickon. A group of 16 left at 8:30 with Wilton Mount, local secretary, on bicycles. They pedaled the 21 miles in a little over two hours time. This part of the trip was a great experience.

More boys left at 9 a. m., in cars. John L. Metzgar, chairman of the transportation committee, had plenty of cars on hand to take the 35 fellows. Elmer Hahn arranged them in groups.

The first event that attracted the crowd was the Evening Bulletin county marble championship. The Palmyra district was represented by Harold Harker and Charles Frank, of Cinnaminson school. These boys lost out in the preliminaries. The finals found Cramer and Miller of Burlington as winners. The final seven games was a great match. Miller took the first three games. Cramer then won three, and in the final encounter each had six of the 13 migs. Miller missed on the seventh, Cramer hit it out winning the Burlington county championship and a handsome wrist watch. Kenneth Smullen, director of physical education at Camden Y. M. C. A. and the chairman of the Southern New Jersey marble tournament, acted as referee in the finals.

The lakes of camp were very inviting to some but provoked only shivers from others. However, camp with its trails, boats and interesting spots attracted the visitors and they enjoyed every minute. The gang gathered together for basket lunch. As in the regular camp program an hour of rest was had before the afternoon swim.

The fellows enjoyed campus games and many spent time collecting water specimens. Lizards were the rewards for some of the chaps hunting.

Fellows on the bikes left at 3:00 p. m. while it was well after 6 before the last of the cars left. It was a great day and the boys and the "Y" are very grateful to the following that so gladly drove their cars: C. B. Gardner, Walter Price, Howard Lippincott, Elmer Hahn, Matilda Lane, Mary Mount, Harvey Hirst.

In the middle of the afternoon the board of directors of the Palmyra-Riverton Y. M. C. A., treated the mob with refreshing ice cream.

Many boys are planning to go to camp and they will all welcome the announcement that Captain George O. Miller, cavalry instructor and polo coach at the Wenonah Military Academy, will be in charge of the equestrian activity at camp this year.

The board of directors of the Palmyra-Riverton Y. M. C. A. will meet tonight in the secretary's office for the regular monthly meeting. Nathan Lane, Jr., will preside. Edmund Tomb, secretary of the Mercer county Y. M. C. A., and a resident of Princeton, will be the guest. Mr. Tomb will speak to the group and lead a discussion on "The Program of the 'Y' in the Community."

The May meeting will mark the final meeting of the board this year. Plans are under way to incorporate the June meeting with the Burlington county convention to be held at Camp Ockanickon on June 12th.

The annual election of officers will be held at the June meeting. The major activities of the local "Y" will center around Camp Ockanickon.

Miss Margaret Perkinpine

Miss Margaret Perkinpine, formerly of 214 Mill street, Moorestown, died in Fairview Sanitorium, New Lisbon, on Saturday night, after an illness of only one week.

Funeral services will be held this (Wednesday) afternoon at 2 o'clock from Craft's Funeral Parlor, Philadelphia. Interment will be made in Monument Cemetery, Philadelphia.

She is survived by her aunt, Mrs. Elizabeth Gaynor, of Salem, and a cousin, Arthur A. Haines, of Marlton.

"ROBIN'S ROOST" TO BE D. T. C. MEETING PLACE

Poetry, Singing, Games on Program For Evening at Y. M. C. A. Camp Ockanickon

The Double Triangle Club of the Methodist Episcopal Church, will meet in "Robin's Roost," Camp Ockanickon, near Medford, on Thursday evening. Members and friends will meet at the church at 7:15 o'clock and leave for the camp at 7:30 o'clock promptly.

Use of the cabin was secured through the county YMCA secretary, and an interesting program is being planned. Part of the evening will be spent enjoying poetry. Each person attending will either read or recite his favorite verses as the group is seated before the fireplace.

Following the poetry there will be singing, both popular songs and old-fashioned songs. Games are also being arranged.

Transportation will be provided for everyone attending.

The links were in constant use all the afternoon, but the tournament did not start because many of the scheduled players did not arrive owing to the opening of the tournament of the Philadelphia Association.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"SOUL AND BODY" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, May 24, 1931.

The Golden Text is: "If ye through the Spirit do mortify the deeds of the body, ye shall live" (Romans 8:13).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Then said Jesus unto his disciples, If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me. For whosoever will save his life shall lose it: and whosoever will lose his life for my sake shall find it" (Matthew, 16:24,25).

The Lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "As human thought changes from one stage to another of conscious pain and painlessness, sorrow and joy, from fear to hope and from faith to understanding, the visible manifestation will at last be man governed by Soul, not by material sense" (p. 125).

EPISCOPAL

(Rev. G. J. McCormack)

The birthday of the Christian Church calls your thought to the mightiest organization on this earth.

There is no long or clime where the banner of Christ has not penetrated, where his warriors are not toiling to extend the emancipating news and bring the power of God, the Holy Spirit, nearer the hearts of men.

From that pentecostal day of a mere handful of followers, the church has expanded into the teaming million. Are you numbered in that host, valiantly working, offering your meed of service, perfecting your own life, and ever striving to win others to the cause?

Go forth, soldier of the Cross, "until the earth shall be full of the knowledge of God, as the waters cover the sea."

The Cathedral League will meet in St. Stephen's Church, Riverside, from two until four o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Bishop Knight will preside. Seek thou this soul of mine
And visit it with thine own ardour glowing;

Within my heart appear
And kindle it, thy holy flame bestowing.

Dads and Lads of Community Invited to Attend Church in Palmyra Sunday Evening

A "Father and Son" service will be held at the Epworth M. E. Church, Palmyra, Sunday evening at 7:45 o'clock.

A section of the church will be reserved for men and boys and each father is asked to bring his son and sit with him. Fathers who have no sons are urged to borrow a lad from a family which is fortunate enough to have more than one.

The Rev. Ira S. Pimm, pastor of the church, will preach the sermon on the text, "I Have Brought Unto Thee My Son."

This will be a Father's Day celebration, for the church believes in the worth and intergrity of fathers, as well as our mothers.

A large attendance is hoped for.

RIVERSIDE HIGH WINS COUNTY TRACK CROWN

Coach Kuch's Team Scores 23 Points, Palmyra and Burlington 21 Each

WILKINSON BREAKS JAVELIN RECORD

Moorestown Quartette is Relay Victor, Winning Special Silver Cup

Riverside High School's track team surprised the experts and upset the "dope" in winning the third annual Burlington County Scholastic League track and field championship held in conjunction with the dedication of Burlington's new community athletic field last Saturday afternoon.

Coach Walter Kuch's team was a surprise "dark horse" which came from behind to place in the final events of the day and clinch the county cinder path diadem.

Burlington and Palmyra both favorites for the title finished the day's competition neck and neck each with a total of 21 points. Riverside won the championship with 23 points. Bordentown finished third with 13, Moorestown fourth with 12 and Mt. Holly in rear with nine.

Two new marks were set in the discus and javelin events. John Pannick, of Bordentown, heaved the flat plate a distance of 109 feet 7 1-2 inches. Rud Wilkinson, of Riverside shattered his own mark when he tossed the javelin 154 feet 9 1-2 inches. It was his spectacular performance in this event that won the meet for his team.

Mayor Holmes Escorted

The exercises began with the arrival of Mayor Harold V. Holmes who was escorted from the municipal building by Burlington Police department; Masonic Home band under direction of George Messick; and two squads of Company K, 114th Infantry, N. J. National Guard.

Miss Nancy Probasco, of Captain James Lawrence School, presented the flag which was purchased by school children of Burlington. It was accepted by Miss Ruth McGinley, of Burlington High School, on behalf of youth of the city.

The 40 foot flag pole, a gift of Young Men's Club, was presented by Ferdinand D. Rose, president of the active organization and accepted by Birch Lippincott, president of Athletic Association of Burlington High School.

Three Brief Addresses

Brief addresses were made by Rev. Harry S. Ruth and Ferdinand D. Rose, of Young Men's Club and Mayor Harold V. Holmes.

A galaxy of athletes representing six of the seven high schools of the county participated in the 12 events. An estimated crowd of 3,000 swarmed around the quarter mile track to see the schoolboys perform. Pemberton failed to compete. The schools taking part were Burlington, Palmyra, Moorestown, Riverside, Mt. Holly and Bordentown.

Burlington placed first and third in the century run. Russ Jones, colored flash of the Burlington school chalked up five points when he withstood the challenge of Rud Wilkinson, of Riverside. But a few inches separated the two at the close of the exciting race. Fred Wells, of Burlington, finished third.

Took 220-yard Dash

Jones repeated his stellar running in the 220-yard dash and breezed home the victor with plenty of yards to spare. Moorestown with Frank Bolton eating up space, copped the 880 yard event in decisive fashion. Harry Chambers, of Burlington, and S. Stocker, of Palmyra, followed the fleet-footed Bolton over the finish line.

Mt. Holly collected its total nine points in one event, the mile run. Al Atkinson, champion miler of the county, held back until the final lap and then showed his heels to two of his teammates, Merrill Geary and Vernon Geary, brothers, who finished second and third respectively.

Three schools were tied in the pole vault at 9 feet, 9 3-4 inches, Riverside, Bordentown and Palmyra each were given a trio of points.

Tice, of Riverside, won the running broad jump with a leap of 19 feet, 6 1-2 inches. G. Reynolds, of Palmyra, was second and Bill Mulford, of Burlington, third.

Relay Wins Moorestown

Coach Paul Isenberg took home a cup when his yearlings copped the mile relay. The team was composed of Barton, Juhlman, Zaccardi and F. Bolton. Burlington finished second. Buchanan's team consisted of Chambers, Steinsieck, T. Wojcik and H. Stewart. Wilkinson running anchor for Riverside moved from last place to finish third. The time was 3 minutes, 50 4-5 seconds.

Riverside received a 22-inch silver cup presented by Young Men's Club, and will also have its name engraved on another cup which must be won three times for permanent ownership. Riverside dethrones Moorestown as champion.

The above action picture was taken at the Burlington County Scholastic Track Meet, held last Saturday on the new Burlington field. The picture shows Fred Wells, timber-topper from Burlington, leading the pack over the hurdles in the 220-yard event. The inset at left shows the winning smile of Richard Furman, Palmyra weight man, who won the shot-putting event. The Artisans were tied at the top of the heap following last Friday's victory over the K. of C., 21-1, but lost their first game as Rogers' News won its first victory Tuesday night. This was the lowest scoring game played thus far, the "newsies" scoring in the early frames to triumph, 3-2.

Last week's game between Parry and the Ramblers, which was postponed because of rain, will be played tonight. Should the Parrymen lose, a triple tie for the sunberth would result, while the Ramblers would jump into fourth place with an even break in their two games.

PALS WIN SECOND GAME FROM IRISH

Charles Hino Silences Camden Catholic Bats to Gain 7-1 Victory

Taking its second game from Camden Catholic, Palmyra High continued its winning streak Tuesday afternoon by winning 7-1. The victory enabled Palmyra to maintain an undefeated slate thus far for the season.

Charles Hino kept the Catholic boys well in check throughout the game, limiting them to five hits and issuing but four passes. The Camdenites were unable to score until the ninth inning. Cuneo, starting hurler for the visitors, was removed in the fourth inning after the Pals had pushed over four runs in the third stanza. Yost, who followed, allowed the Palmyra nine but two runs, both of these coming in his first inning on the mound. Eight bingles were gathered off the combined offerings of the two pitchers.

"Ollie" Terrell, Jack Kelly, and Howard Davidson divided hitting honors, the former knocking out three safeties, one of which was a double, and the latter accounting for two hits each. The big blow of the game was made in the fourth inning when Raymond Coles lined a four-base smack over the right-field fence with Jack Kelly on the base-lines.

Candowoski was the only one of the visitors to garner more than one base blow, registering a brace of singles in as many trips to the plate. Konopka made the lone extra base blow for the Camdenites, walloping a double in the third inning.

Palmyra gained its initial win over the Catholic nine on April 10, eking out a 5-3 triumph after an 11-inning battle.

FIELD DAY

Don't forget that it will be Field Day next Thursday, May 28th. The children of the Riverton school are busy practising everything from Maypole dances to broad jump, and Memorial Park will be a popular place for supper that evening. Everything will be on sale for a delicious meal, sandwiches, salad, coffee, cake, milk, ice cream cake, and candy. The whole family is expected to be on hand for this occasion, and in holiday mood ready for the best kind of a time.

In their divorce suit, Mrs. Laura Scott, of Chicago, was charged with painting black stripes on her husband's brand new grey suit and he was charged with switching lights on and off for four hours, keeping her awake.

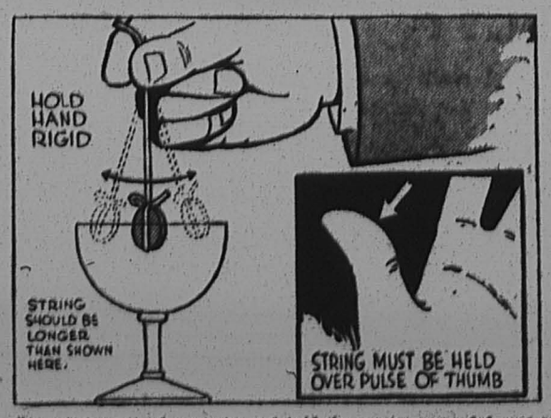
TELLING THE TIME WITH A QUARTER, A STRING AND A GLASS



Tie a string around a quarter and hold the quarter suspended over and slightly inside a glass. Grasp the string between the index finger and the thumb, and place it directly over the pulse of the thumb. Hold your hand perfectly rigid, and the quarter will begin to swing to and fro like a pendulum. The arc made by the swinging quarter will slowly increase in width until the quarter strikes the side of the glass, and it will strike the number of times closest to the hour of the day. If the time should be twenty minutes past one, the quarter will strike the glass once, and should the time be quarter of two, the quarter will strike twice. It is necessary to hold the string over the pulse of the thumb, as this is the motivating force controlling the movements of the quarter.

Friday's Results

Palmyra, 6; Bordentown, 5
Burlington, 9; Pemberton, 1

Palmyra High remains undefeated in the Burlington County Scholastic League. Last Friday it broke a tie in the last half of the ninth inning to nose out Bordentown, 6-5.

After trailing throughout the game, the Bordentown nine staged a two-run rally in their half of the ninth to enter a deadlock with the "Pals." Walt Micucci opened the Palmyra session with a hit, Wagner walked and Davidson's infield out advanced both runners. Terrell's perfect bunt enabled the "Pals" to score the winning run on the squeeze play.

The brilliant feature of the game was a triple play enacted by the Palmyra infielders in the fifth inning. Pannick's fluke triple, and a walk and a steal by Fredericks, put runners on second and third. Utley's short fly into left field was taken by Davidson, who whipped the ball to Kelly, who, in turn, threw it to Terrell, catching both Bordentown runners off their bases. The following inning the Palmyra team executed a double play, Davidson to Terrell to Zaun.

The victory was the fifth league win in as many starts for the "Pals." Bordentown had won both its games and came to Palmyra with an untarnished record. The triumph gives the "Pals" undisputed possession of first place with a single league fuss left to play.

Strikes From the Bowlers

A woman's bowling match between picked teams from Palmyra and Moorestown was won by the Palmyra teams. The teams were even so far as matches went, Palmyra and Moorestown each winning three games. The total pins favored the Palmyra teams, which toppled 3711 maples against 3709 for the visitors.

Some exceptional scores were turned in during the match. Mrs. H. P. Haines topped the bowlers with a 513 total for the three games, rolling 198 in her last match. Mrs. L. R. Baker was second for Palmyra's high scoring honors, totaling 445 pins. Shea and Chant were high for Moorestown, spilling 486 and 421 pins respectively.

An insufficient number of bowlers from the Ladies' League were on hand Monday night and the regularly scheduled matches were called off. Two teams were chosen and went under the names of the league leaders, Lucky Strikes and Chesterfield.

Luckies took the first game, 631-629, dropped the second match, 616-627, and then took advantage of the Chesterfield slump in the third contest to win 622-530.

A men's match between the Palmyra and Beverly teams was won by the Palmyra five, both in number of games won and in total pins. The entire affair was close, the Pals registering 2644 pins while their opponents toppled 2589.

"Wats" Hampton proved to be the individual star bowler of the evening. His total score of 608 pins for three games pulled him above a 200 average. Estilow had the high individual score of the night rolling 238 in one game.

BURLINGTON WINS SATURDAY, 9 TO 3

Riverton A. A. Ahead Till Fifth Inning When Burls Break the Spell to Win

The Riverton ball club suffered its second defeat of the season when Burlington A. A. took last Saturday's game at Memorial Park, 9 to 3.

The local boys got off to a good start and the first half of the game looked as tho' Riverton was going to sink the Burlington Battlers. The beginning of the fifth, however, changed the complexion of things somewhat when Burlington started doing things. Riverton got a couple of bad breaks, such as happen in most every game, that helped Burlington to tally its nine runs.

Arms, of Burlington, opened the game and drove a nice fly into Krantz's mit for the first put out. Scholl followed by camping on first after pepin' one down into left field. Stamp, next, shot one at short stop who tossed to second putting Scholl out, leaving Stamp safe on first. Nelson, next, up, and incidentally the great Riverside big leaguer who was traded to Burlington for a dozen and a half baseballs, sent a short infield fly which Bottger camped under, retiring the side.

Three Out

Foulke, first up for Riverton, repeated the shot and dropped one into the first baseman's glove for an out. Bottger next struck out and Edge landed on first with a hit to left field. On the next pitch he attempted to steal second, but the Burlington catcher had both eyes open and a good right arm which sent the ball to second a second ahead of Edge, retiring the side.

Riverton set the next three Burlington club singers down in one-two-three order. S. Loveland flyed out to Eisley, Weikman struck out, McCarley and F. Loveland dropped a fly into Horan's pocket for the third out.

Eisley opening the second inning for Riverton drove one out into center field for a one bagger. Harper, Riverton's snappy little catcher, fanned out. Horan, wielding a nasty club, sent one into right field advancing Eisley and landing himself on first. Baker next went to first on called balls leaving the bases full and one away. Krantz worried the spectators when he struck out but Weikman's long hit to right field put him on first and scored both Eisley and Horan. Foulke finished the inning when he swung hard on three of them without making a contact.

Jake Pitcoe, for Burlington, tried one of these clever little bunts but Harper, on his toes, picked it up and shot it to Bottger for the put out. Guthrie, Burlington's twirler, swung like a rusty gate on three only to go back on the bench. Arenz got to first on balls but Scholl spoiled it all by striking out.

One-Two-Three

Riverton's turn to sit down one-two-three came next. Bottger flied out to center field. Edge struck out and Eisley shot a nice little pop fly into the second baseman's glove for the third put out.

Stamp, coming up for Burlington got to first on Foulke's error on a third which resulted in an overthrow to Bottger, sending Stamp to second. Nelson next tapped on to Weikman who tossed him out at first. When somebody was not looking Stamp stole off like a shot and got to third base. S. Loveland dropped one into Edge's glove for the second out with a man on third. McCarley sent a sizzler across the diamond to Edge who made a nice catch, throwing McCarley out at first.

Harper, opening the fourth for Riverton, sent one out into left field for one base. Horan made a sacrifice hit advancing Harper, and was thrown out at first by the pitcher. Baker advanced Harper to third with a drive to left field and landed safe on first himself. Krantz was next thrown out on a drive, shortstop to first base. Riverton lost its chance to score a run that inning when Weikman unfortunately fanned out, with Harper camping on third base.

Opening inning five in which Burlington tied the Riverton nine, F. Loveland first up, drove a fly into the mit of Horan in left field for the put out. Jake Pitcoe went to first on Edge's error and Guthrie made first on an infield drive to Foulke, advancing Pitcoe to second. Arenz drove a hot one into left field scoring Pitcoe and making himself safe on first. Scholl flied out to Baker on second and Stamp brought in Guthrie with his hit. Nelson next flied out to Bottger, retiring the side leaving the score two up.

Two Strike-out

Foulke, opening the fifth for Riverton struck out, passing the disease on to Bottger who also struck out. Edge made the best hit of the day when he jammed a three bagger into center field. Eisley next up scored a hit to right field, bringing in Edge. Harper sent one into left field, advancing Eisley and landing safe on first, but Horan closed the inning when he flied out to left field.

Opening the sixth for Burlington S. Loveland dropped a fly into the center fielder's glove for a put out. McCarley next got to first on Foulke's error. F. Loveland got a hit to center field. Jake Pitcoe got to first but put F. Loveland out on a fielder's choice. On a balk by Weikman Pitcoe scored another point for Burlington. Guthrie got a hit to right field and Arenz next scored Guthrie by a hit to center field. Scholl got to first on Weikman's error and Stamp finished the inning, third base to second.

Riverton in the sixth went down one-two-three when Baker struck out, Krantz went out on a drive to second base and Weikman dropped a fly into the second baseman's mit.

From here on Burlington played in luck and took four more points, defeating Riverton as stated 9 to 3.

COMMUNITY TRACK MEET TO BE STAGED

Former High School Stars to Compete Against Coach Isenberg's Regular Team

On June 13 the annual Moorestown High School Community track meet will be staged on the South Church street grounds, according to an announcement just made by the committee in charge which includes Paul Isenberg, James M. Conroy, Ben P. Rumpelites and Charles Juliana.

The community team will be made up of former high school stars and present college men. Coach Isenberg, of the high school, will use his regular men.

Last year the meet created a fine amount of interest in the community and the competition between the two teams was keen. This year's meet will bring out some of the finest track men in this vicinity.

The high school was victorious in the previous meet, but the results this year will undoubtedly be close.

MOORESTOWN RIDERS IN PENNYPACK SHOW

Miss Kathryn Sharpless, fair Moorestown equestrienne, and Samuel Roberts, also of Moorestown, were the only two riders from this vicinity participating in the horse show of the Pennypack Riding Academy, at Evergreen Farm on the Roosevelt Boulevard.

Miss Sharpless rode "Red Eagle", a saddle horse belonging to Dr. C. T. Jones, of Four Mile, and won third prize in the lady rider class.

Mr. Roberts, riding "King Sanford", won second in the five gaited class.

Both these riders and the horses are entered in the horse show which is to be staged at the Moorestown Field Club on Saturday, May 23, for the benefit of the Chusaminson Home.

C. MORRIS BECK INJURED AT FIRE

Palmyra Police Chief Thrown From Roof While Guiding Nozzle of Fire Hose

C. Morris Beck, Palmyra Police chief, narrowly escaped serious injury at a blaze early Sunday morning at the home of Albert McCombs, Union Landing Road, East Riverton.

The officer was thrown by a high-pressure hose line from the porch roof to the ground. He was picked up unconscious and rushed to the office of Dr. Dean H. LeFavor, Palmyra police physician, for an examination. The chief escaped with minor cuts and a few bad bruises.

He had gone to the fire which occured about two o'clock Sunday morning and was assisting the Riverton firemen in extinguishing the blaze. With two other firemen he had put out the fire in one of the second story rooms and was moving on to another bedroom when the accident occured.

As he moved along the roof holding the hose nozzle a kink formed in the hose. When the pumper forced a stream of water into the hose straightening the kink and throwing the end of the hose in a semi-circle, Beck, who had been left alone, to hold the hose, was swung off the roof as the hose gave a sudden twist. He fell on the cement pavement about twenty feet below, landing on his shoulders and head.

Almost the entire upper part of the building was destroyed, the second and third stories being razed by the fire. The first floor was not seriously damaged by the flames, but much of the furniture was ruined by smoke and water.

Chief Beck responded to the Riverton alarm, not waiting for the Palmyra engines to be summoned.

Nearly a half-hour elapsed from the time of the Riverton company's response until the summons of the Palmyra company.

WANTS TO JAIL TAX DELINQUENTS

In connection with street improvements, a letter was read from Malcolm Dickinson asking that Elm Terrace between Park and Seventh streets be oiled this year to abate a dust nuisance which is very annoying to residents in that section of the town.

Wants to Know About Bank Avenue

The following letter was received from Albert S. King, wanting to know what Council was going to do about Bank avenue roadway.

President, Borough Council,
Riverton, New Jersey
Dear Sir:—

Last year the writer called your attention to the condition of the road-bed on the River bank. Nothing was done in the matter, and I am under the impression that the excuse that was given was that the road bank has never been legally dedicated to the Borough. I do not feel that this has any bearing whatever on the subject.

It is within the confines of the Borough; the Borough exercises jurisdiction over it; no part of the taxes that are collected are used for the benefit of this highway, but are used exclusively for the other streets in Riverton. Certainly, those who live along the River bank are being discriminated against when no portion of the amount of money that is collected in taxes is alloted to repairing the River bank roads which is a valuable adjunct to the attractiveness of the borough.

Furthermore, if you absolutely refuse to do anything along the lines of repair, then each and every one of those living along the River bank should be notified to abate what is a real nuisance to the public frequenting this road.

Will you please acknowledge this letter, and advise me just what you propose to do or not to do.

Yours very truly,
ALBERT S. KING,
205 Bank Avenue,
Riverton, N. J.

Thinks Borough Should Act

In discussing the letter, it was the unanimous opinion of the Mayor and Council that the borough should repair the roadway. Councilman Woolman said that it was a disgrace to permit such a condition to exist, and that the borough should keep the street in passable condition, whether it had been officially accepted or not.

Mr. King's letter was referred to the highway committee with power to act.

J. Elmer Hahn, chairman of the lighting committee, reported that he was having a map made showing the location of the street lights in the borough and indicating the candle power.

Mr. Albertson reported the receipt of a letter from County Engineer H. B. Smith, stating that the proposed widening of Broad and Main streets, at Keating's corner, as shown by plans drawn by the borough engineers, was satisfactory to the county, and that the county would do its part toward the improvement.

Police Department Active

Director of Public Safety DeLaney submitted the report of his department for the past month, which covered four typewritten pages, and listed thirty-seven items, including two messages of illness to persons who had no telephone; stolen bicycles, lost dogs, boys trespassing on properties, speeding, three cases of drunken driving, six arrests for reckless driving, seven for driving with one light, one truck driver who did not have his name on the truck as required by law, and one arrest for drunkenness and disorderly conduct.

James (Terry) McDonald was granted exclusive rights for the sale of refreshments at Memorial Park, in exchange for which he will take care of the toilet and locker rooms under the grandstand and keep the park clear of paper and rubbish. Mr. McDonald was appointed special officer to officiate as park guard.

Robinson Marshal Now

Director DeLaney recommended that the new officer, John Robinson, be made a regular member of the borough police force with the status of marshal. The desired appointment was made by Mayor Rogers and unanimously confirmed. This places the officer on equality with the other member of the force. He was originally appointed as special officer.

Mr. DeLaney, reporting for the fire and water committee, said he wanted to compliment the Riverton Fire Department on its speed and efficiency in answering alarms. He cited a recent serious fire in Palmyra where the Riverton company rendered signal service. The Mayor commented that Riverton was very fortunate to have such an efficient department.

Mr. DeLaney further reported that in an automobile fire in Cinnaminson township the chemical extinguished on the police car had been very effective in keeping the fire under control until the fire company arrived.

Dump at Park Abolished

Councilman Elwell, of the borough property committee, reported that two signs prohibiting the dumping of rubbish at Memorial Park had been placed in position, and Councilman Goode said that Mr. J. D. Eisele, of the Dreer Nurseries, had informed him that the company had another location for its dump, and would be glad to co-operate with Council in improving the appearance of the park.

Mr. Elwell further reported that the tennis court had been completed and that sixty children of the public school had arranged to put on a tennis tournament. In order that this may be done, the court will be reserved for their use on school days from 3:45 to 5 o'clock.

Play Program Starts June 29

Organized play will start on June 29 this year, with the same directors as last year—Richard Snyder for the boys and Miss Maxine Meitzner for the girls. Miss Meitzner is attending the Boston University's Sargent School of Physical Education, where she is junior representative to the Student Government Association.

Ten park benches have been purchased and will be placed in the park in time for the annual May Day of the public school, which will be held May 28.

Mr. Elwell reported that a request of the American Legion to use the park for a series of ball games had been granted.

The building inspector reported permits issued for building operations amounting to $14,200, and fees of $23.50.

J. Elmer Hahn, chairman of the Fourth of July committee, reported that a meeting had been held with the Palmyra committee, which would contribute to the fireworks again this year, that the Legion would assist in the dedication of the park, and that chairmen of committees had been appointed, the Moose band, of Camden engaged to furnish the music, and details in general taken care of.

"FREE-WHEELING" LEGAL IN N. J.

The following statement was issued Saturday morning by Commissioner of Motor Vehicles, Harold G. Hoffman: "It has come to my attention that reports are being circulated to the effect that this department has prohibited 'free-wheeling' in the State of New Jersey. This is not so. Free-wheeling, with positive gear control, as now used on several standard-make cars, is entirely legal under the New Jersey Motor Vehicle Act, and no action is contemplated toward the restriction of this automobile feature."

The Freeman entries include last year's champion "Silver Threads," a new pony, "Dark Threads," a new pony, "Dark Secret," and "Dorothy Boes," both of which Miss Ann Freeman will ride. There are additional new ones, too, mostly qualified horses.

Hunters Furnish Thrills

The hunters always furnish thrills when they take the jumps. Miss Shirley Snyder will ride "Cold Heart" again, and Mrs. Roster Reeve, of Philadelphia, will ride "Woodstar." William F. Reeve's qualified hunter Lester Collins' "Valdex" and "Exterminator," make a splendid pair, and the Wenonah Military Academy will send another pair.

The show would hardly be complete without the fine horsemanship of Mr. Bell, of Mount Ephraim, when he shows his magnificent Pershorans, in harness. Scott-Powell Dairies and the Friehofer Baking Company are sending their draft horses to compete with Mr. Bell.

During the pauses in the show there will be amble opportunity to read the program of the dance recital which will be included in the show booklet. Miss Frances Hartshorne will give an exhibition of aesthetic dancing in the rose garden of Dr. S. Emlen Stokes, at 7:15 o'clock.

Besides the horse show, which is the main attraction of the day, there will be the delicatessen booth which opens at 9:30 o'clock, and numerous other booths at which a wide assortment of wares will be displayed. There will also be a hot supper in the club house and a cafeteria supper on the green.

The fete is staged each year to provide the financial support for the Cinnaminson Home, a worthy agency in safeguarding the health of many women who are not quite strong enough to return to the hard work of their households. Each year, through its social prominence throughout the county, the fete attracts new people, makes new contacts for the home and soon converts these newly interested friends into active co-workers with the Board of Managers.

STEALS FATHER'S CAR MOORESTOWN YOUTH SENT TO COUNTY JAIL

William T. Collins, colored, 22 years old, son of William H. Collins, 473 North Church street, Moorestown, is being held in the county jail at Mount Holly awaiting court action.

Arrested in Stafford, Va., Thursday night of last week, charged with the theft of an automobile owned by his father, Collins was brought back to Moorestown by John H. Bradshaw, chief of Moorestown police.

Collins was sent to jail by Recorder Joseph W. Johnston in default of $800 bail bond.

Collins stole the machine Tuesday morning of last week. He had reached Washington, D. C., before his father returned home and discovered the theft. Chief Bradshaw had a description of the youth and car sent over the Teletype by state police and the information was relayed to the authorities it other states, enabling the police to catch up with the missing youth so quickly.

This is Collins' second offense. He stole a bicycle several years ago and was caught in Atlantic City by Chief Bradshaw.

Vol. 43. No. 21. RIVERTON, NEW JERSEY, THURSDAY, MAY 28, 1931 PRICE, FIVE CENTS

MERCHANTS WILL AWARD CASH IN CHEVROLET DRIVE

Funds Are Insufficient to Buy Car for Prize in Campaign

DRAWING TO BE HELD ON TUESDAY EVENING

Legion Post Issues Statement Explaining Its Position in Matter

Announcement has been made by the American Legion, speaking for the Palmyra and Riverton merchants who participated in the recent Chevrolet campaign, that the distribution of coupons was discontinued as previously announced on posters in the store windows Saturday, May 23rd.

As the proceeds have been insufficient for the purchase of the Chevrolet as originally planned and as many people had expressed a preference for cash instead of the car the merchants have concluded the campaign rather than extend it for a further period which would be necessary in order to raise an amount sufficient to cover the cost of the car. The balance available over the bare expenses is $331.46.

In order to participate in the drawing all stubs must be in the hands of the Palmyra National Bank on or before 3 o'clock Monday afternoon, June 1. The drawing will be held at the Legion Home at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening, June 2, and the winning number will be announced at once.

Ten numbers will be drawn and these numbers will be published in the local papers and posted with the various merchants participating in the campaign. In the event that the first number is lost or holder does not claim the prize within a reasonable time the second number will receive the award and so on.

Statement By Legion

In order that there may not be any misunderstanding, the executive committee of Post Frederick M. Rodgers has authorized the following statement concerning the participation of the Legion in the Chevrolet campaign:

"This campaign was the result of activity of outside promoters who came to Palmyra and Riverton, made the proposition for promotion to Mr. Escheman, the Chevrolet dealer, and then called on the 26 or 27 merchants and secured their signatures to the contracts of participation.

"The matter was then presented to the American Legion and taken up at a meeting of the executive committee at which it was explained that it was only necessary for the Legion to sponsor this proposition and that for such sponsorship the Legion would obtain the proceeds over and above the amount necessary to pay all expenses, including the price of the car. The Legion was assured that all details of the management and advertising of the affair would be taken care of in first class manner. The Legion, therefore, consented to act as sponsor.

"It will be recalled that the campaign was started but the advertising and sales promotion of the campaign were obviously inadequate in the extreme with the result that the sale of tickets was far below that anticipated.

"In order to take steps toward closing the matter George Weigand, Commander of the Legion Post, called meetings of the participating merchants and the Legion assisted in further advertising campaign for the purpose of reviving interest and securing distribution of the balance of the coupons. In connection with this additional advertising directed by the American Legion, expenditures were limited.

Failed to Co-operate

"The wisdom of this limitation now appears evident with the conclusion of the campaign. No amount of money spent for advertising could possibly have overcome the unwillingness of a number of the merchants to co-operate and distribute the coupons.

"The American Legion feels that the conclusion of the merchants to determine the campaign on the announced date and to distribute the available cash proceeds is a wise decision and the best way to terminate.

"The American Legion desires to make clear, however, that this decision is the merchants decision, that this campaign has been the merchants' from the beginning and that the Legion was at no time responsible for its administration. The Legion's function as it was given to understand at the start, has been strictly that of sponsorship. The Legion's active participation in connection with the April-May campaign was simply an effort to help the merchants out of the impasse into which the campaign had fallen. The contracts were signed by the merchants. The responsibility for the success of the campaign rested with the merchants and the failure was due to failure of all the merchants to thoroughly supervise the initial promotion and advertising and the failure of the merchants to co-operate fully in distribution of the coupons. Those merchants who did co-operate gave splendid co-operation but they did not constitute a large enough majority to make the campaign a success.

"Post Frederick M. Rodgers, No. 156.

"GEORGE B. WEIGAND, Commander."

HOWARD STREET TO BE CLOSED

Wild Speculation at Carnival Will Stop Traffic on June 11-12-13

"Here you are folks, five cents a throw; knock 'em down and win a ten cent cigar." This and other wild ballyhoo will float upon the night air on Howard Street, Riverton, June 11, 12, 13th.

The annual carnival of the Riverton Volunteer Fire Co., promises to be the best ever. The boys are working hard to offer Rivertonians a real treat. Howard Street will be closed to traffic on these evenings and booths will be erected. Bean-O, Sock-'Em and Rock-'Em, games of chance and their like will predominate.

In the ball room of the fire house dancing will be in progress, and by dancing we don't mean the kind that Henry Ford advocates, "One-Two-Three-Swing Your Partner." This dance will be modern—more of the free-wheeling style (one clutch engagement and you're in high gear). High test syncopation will soon remove the carbon from your joints and you'll find "Pep at Six or Sixty."

For those who buy tickets and stake them on the spinning bicycle wheels—the boys have already purchased a fine assortment of new up-to-the-minute merchandise.

Every town in the United States thinks it has the best little volunteer fire company in the world—but they're only kidding themselves—Riverton's is the best!

Let's turn out 100 per cent and support the company—they need you and you might need them.

Who said there is a depression? Let Howard street be Riverton's Wall street on June 11th, 12th and 13th.

CINNAMINSON P. T. A.

A laughing answer to a suggestion concerning a trip to the circus, was that the equal of a three-ring circus was going on at the Cinnaminson schools at present, so the P.T.A. visitor hurried, over-anxious not to miss any of the performance.

As usual, everything was moving with the regularity of a genuine circus, despite the fact that with Commencement so near and Field Day set for June second, preparations are being made for the School's part in the Pageant of Nations given tonight at Medford, in connection with the other schools where Mrs. Haines is special music teacher.

Cinnaminson School No. 2 is to represent Russia, and the dresses made by the pupils, and stenciled in gay colors to imitate Russian embroidery, (the design original), are really very lovely.

School No. 4 is giving an Indian dance and pow-wow. Their dresses are their own work also.

One of the grades is making First Aid kits under the direction of Miss Rush. Gaily-painted little tin boxes are nicely fitted with first aid necessities, including neatly rolled bandages, which they learned to sterilize, although some furnished the made gauze bandage. Some have nicely typed instructions pasted inside the lid. All are much interested and are proud to show the finished case. These are small enough to tuck into a bag when off for a hike or picnic.

Publicity Chairman.

3 ARRESTS BY RIVERTON COPS

Reckless Driving and Runaway Youths Help to Relieve Quiet Week

Two reckless drivers came to grief last week in East Riverton, traveling at a high rate of speed 5 o'clock in the morning.

Maurice DeGrave, of 1538 Deal street, Philadelphia, proceeding west on Broad street, collided with Wilbert Brewer, 428 Bridge street, Beverly, proceeding east.

The cars side-swiped and skidded several hundred feet each before coming to a stop.

Officer Gootee responded to the call and arrested both drivers, neither of whom were injured.

At a hearing before Police Recorder Cecil A. Bowers both were fined $25.00 and $1.00 costs.

Yesterday Walter Wilbon, colored, of East Riverton, was given a hearing before Recorder Bowers on a charge of reckless driving, made by Stanley Green of Palmyra.

Found guilty of the offense, Wilbon was fined $4.00 and $1.00 costs and released. Chief of Police Miller made the arrest.

Three youths from Philadelphia were picked up at the Riverton station by Officer Robinson last night at 8:45.

The youths who identified themselves as John Yampolskey, 11 years, 1815 Brunswick street; Frank Rybel, 12 years, 8304 Lyons avenue and Howard Bedford, 13 years, 8437 Tinlam avenue, West Philadelphia, admitted they were running away from home.

Chief Miller communicated with their parents who sent Michael DeRoss, a friend, to Riverton to return them to their homes.

Chief Miller again calls the attention of the people to the dangerous practice of leaving cars parked on the streets at night without lights.

This practice has nearly caused several bad accidents and Chief Miller urges the residents of Riverton to co-operate with him in removing the danger by remembering to turn on parking lights when leaving the car.

PUBLIC INTEREST IN AGRICULTURE

Dr. Lippman, Director of Agricultural College, Addresses Riverton Rotary

Dr. Jacob G. Lippman, director of the Agricultural College, at New Brunswick, was speaker at the Palmyra-Riverton Rotary meeting last Thursday. He was accompanied by Howard F. Huber, his first assistant.

Dr. Lippman is a world-known authority on soil science and soil bacteriology. His subject was "Public Interest in Agriculture."

The speaker traced the development of the United States from the time when practically all the wealth of the country came from the soil, to the present time when only twenty-five per cent of the population lives on farms.

In the early days, Dr. Lippman said, many articles of every-day use were imported. Even building materials came from abroad. A number of houses in Burlington County were built from imported bricks, he said.

While only about one quarter of the people in this country live on farms today, they produce more than ever, and not only feed our own population, but grow a surplus for export.

Not only is the public interested in agriculture because it is the source of foodstuffs, but many raw materials for the industries come from the soil. So interwoven into the fabric of modern life have the products of the soil become, that when there is a depression among the farmers, a general slump follows.

The present depression, Dr. Lippman declared, was caused by overproduction, that we are suffering from too much of everything. He referred to the world conference on wheat, then in session at London, where the recommendation of the United States was that the production of wheat be curtailed. This plan, he said, was not being favorably received by representatives of other nations at the conference.

In closing, the speaker congratulated Rotary on the leading part it is taking in the attempted solution of many of the perplexing problems with which the country is faced, one of the most pressing at the present time being that of finding employment for the thousands of unemployed who are willing and anxious to work.

RIVERTON P. T. A. ELECTS OFFICERS

Mrs. Francis B. Elwell is Chosen President at May Meeting

Many times when children are considered naughty they are actually merely annoying to grown ups, was the conclusion reached by the discussion group ably led by Mrs. Knutson, which preceeded the regular meeting of the Riverton Parent Teacher Association on May 21. At this meeting the new officers were elected to serve for the next two years. They are Mrs. Francis B. Elwell, president; Mrs. Edward B. Blackwell, secretary; Mrs. Harry Orleman, treasurer.

The reports of committees were presented and indicated an active and successful year. In addition Mr Cooper emphasized the importance of the work of the Round-Up in preparing the new children for school in the fall and he urged mothers to see that children entering school for the first time be examined, and defects and vaccinations be attended to early. He then enumerated the chief reasons why Riverton is in urgent of a new school. These included dire need of a gymnasium, adequate auditorium, more class room space, including special subject rooms for art and music, up-to-date equipment such as movable desks, good heating system, fire safe stairways and adequate storage space for supplies. Mrs. Baker urged P. T. A. members to support the Board of Education in its effort to provide adequate facilities for the education of Riverton children. The question of a change of day for P. T. A. meetings was discussed and the recommendation made that a survey be conducted on Field Day to determine what day is most satisfactory to the majority of the members. Since Porch Club meetings are on Tuesdays and Fridays are inconvenient at the school, the choice involves Monday, Wednesday and Thursday. It is hoped that every one will register his choice with Mrs. Blair at Field Day, so that a change, if any, in the day for regular meetings next fall may be made early.

NEW "Y" GROUP

Monday evening, May 18, at a doggie roast in Dead Man's Woods a new "Y" group was organized. The group will be known as the Riverton Yankees.

After each embryo "Y" lad was filled to the brim with weiners and rolls, the first meeting was held.

The officers elected are: President Harry Reiger; vice president, Lawrence Witte; secretary, Bill Good; treasurer Winfield Wilson.

The boys are off to a flying start and you are going to hear much from the Riverton Yanks in the future.

APPRECIATION

I wish to thank the voters of Burlington county for the splendid support accorded me in the recent primary election. Such an expression of confidence carries with it a deep obligation and I wish to assure you that if re-elected to the office of Freeholder, I shall continue to conduct the affairs of the office to the best interests of the county.

JAMES C. McCORMICK.

Four Telephone Men to Receive New Honors for Saving Lives at Fire

Bennett, Grubb, Redfield and Kapus to be Awarded National Red Cross Certificates of Merit at Dinner in Newark Tonight

New honors will be bestowed on four Palmyra and Riverton men tonight for saving the lives of two Palmyra children who were seriously burned and overcome by smoke fumes early on the morning of August 26, 1929, when the home of Martin Rosner, Sixth and Race street, Palmyra, was destroyed by fire.

They will be given American National Red Cross Certificates of Merit at a dinner in their honor at the headquarters building of the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company, at Newark.

The men are Edwin W. Redfield, 622 Pennsylvania avenue; Edward F. Bennett, 621 Pennsylvania avenue, and Edwin G. Grubb, 501 Delaware avenue, all of Palmyra, and Francis W. Kapus, 503 Cinnaminson avenue, Riverton.

Last year Kapus and Redfield were presented with the President's Medal of the National Safety Council, for their noteworthy acts, and Bennet and Grubb received National Safety Council Certificates of Merit.

Thirteen men in all who employed knowledge gained in the line of duty in the telephone industry to save human lives will receive awards at the dinner. Ten of these will receive Red Cross awards, one the President's Medal of the National Safety Council, and a Red Cross Certificate of Merit and two will receive Vail Medals, the highest award of the telephone industry for noteworthy public service, and Red Cross Certificates of Merit. The Vail Medals go to Joseph Bernert and John H. Waterfield, both of Audubon, who, by application of first aid, prevented Thomas G. Mills, of Collingswood from bleeding to death after an automobile accident which occurred in Audubon April 24, 1930.

Redfield, Bennett, Grubb and Kapus arrived at the Rosner home soon after the fire was discovered. Firemen carried out the unconscious forms of Mr. and Mrs. Rosner, and their two children, Israel, age 6, and Norma, age 9. All four were burned critically and were overcome by smoke fumes. An ambulance was procured as soon as possible and in the meantime, the four telephone men began the application of artificial respiration. Mrs. Rosner was rushed to the West Jersey Homeopathic Hospital, where she died two days later.

The boy regained consciousness after about ten minutes of artificial respiration and he was removed to the hospital where he recovered. The girl was revived and she was taken to the hospital to recover.

Mr. Rosner failed to respond to resuscitation. He was placed in the ambulance and Kapus, accompanying the fire victim to the hospital, applied artificial respiration in the ambulance. On arrival at the hospital, however, Rosner was pronounced dead.

Physicians ascribed recovery of the boy and girl to prompt and efficient first aid rendered by these four men.

NEW JERSEY IN NINTH PLACE IN AUTOMOBILE REGISTRATION

Retaining ninth place among the forty-eight states in the total number of motor vehicle registrations registered on January 1, 1931, New Jersey last year moved ahead in a number of other aspects of its relative position in motordom. Whereas the end of 1929 found the state in fourteenth place in regard to numerical increase in vehicle registrations, New Jersey climbed into fifth place last year. From eighth, the state moved up to seventh place in the total number of trucks registered. It also advanced from thirteenth to twenty-ninth place with respect to population per registered motor vehicles.

New Jersey's numerical gain in motor vehicle registrations last year was 20,518. Only four states exceeded this figure. They were California, New York, Massachusetts, and Illinois. These additional vehicles gave New Jersey a total vehicle registration of 852,850. Of these 719,696 were passenger cars and 133,154 motor trucks.

In Los Angeles Mrs. G. W. Leiby applied for a divorce, saying that she spent a kiseless honeymoon with her husband.

"The Summer Round-up was successfully completed. Fifty-three preschool children were examined; 186 children were given the Schick test and 621 toxin anti-toxin innoculations were given to 207 children.

"Twenty-three dollars was paid for milk for one child who was found to have a heart affection due to malnutrition. A sunshine bag and a gift of money was sent to Miss Marie Olwell, while in the hospital recovering from an accident.

"Several members of our association were present at every district meeting of the County Council. Several child study groups were formed under the supervision of Mrs. Horace Rose. These groups held regular meetings during the year.

"At the Christmas season a party was given to 900 of the school children. Appropriate refreshments were served. Toys were collected through the schools, which were taken to the various hospitals; to the Welfare Association and to the Tubercular Ward at New Lisbon.

"During the Christmas holidays the teachers' rooms of the Cinnaminson avenue and Spring Garden street schools were re-decorated.

"Through the efforts of the members of the P. T. A. the need for a dental clinic was pointed out to the school board and an appropriation was made for it on the school budget.

Correct Defects

"During the winter the P. T. A. has been co-operating with the school nurse, trying to help correct some of the defects noticed in the children during the health inspection last fall.

"These children received treatments at the Burlington County Hospital, Mount Holly. The following cases have been treated thus far:

Nine children have each been taken three times to the optician; one high school boy received treatment for a badly sprained hand; two babies with rickets and their mothers; seventeen other cases of defects in children have also been treated.

"In one case, X-rays were taken of almost every bone in the child's body, because a bone disease was suspected. This suspicion was proven correct and through the efforts of Miss Anchor, social service wofker at the hospital, a brace was secured and special shoes were made, which would tend to make the child more comfortable.

"Five pairs of glasses were paid for by the association, but the money for two pairs has been repaid.

Play for Loan Fund

"A play, "The Hottentot," was given for the benefit of the Burlington County Student Loan Fund.

"A basket of fruit was sent Miss Mary E. Patterson, retired teacher, following her recent operation.

"We subscribed to a quarter page in the Tilicum, Palmyra High School's year book. In the advertisement we have had printed, the following selection, which I think shows the ideal of the P. T. A.:

And isn't it strange,
That Princes and Kings,
And clowns that caper in sawdust rings,
And common folk like you and me
Are Builders for Eternity.

To each is given a pick of tools,
A shapeless mass and a set of rules,
And we must fashion, ere life has flown,
A stumbling block on a stepping stone.

"(Signed) ANNA M. TOY,

INFECTIOUS BRONCHITIS THREATENS YOUNG CHICKS

The gasping for breath by young young chicks should be regarded by the poultryman as a warning that infectious bronchitis, a highly contagious disease, has made its appearance. This disease spreads rapidly, according to Dr. F. R. Beaudette, poultry pathologist of the New Jersey Agricultural Experiment Station, who says that prevention, rather than cure, must be the objective in avoiding losses.

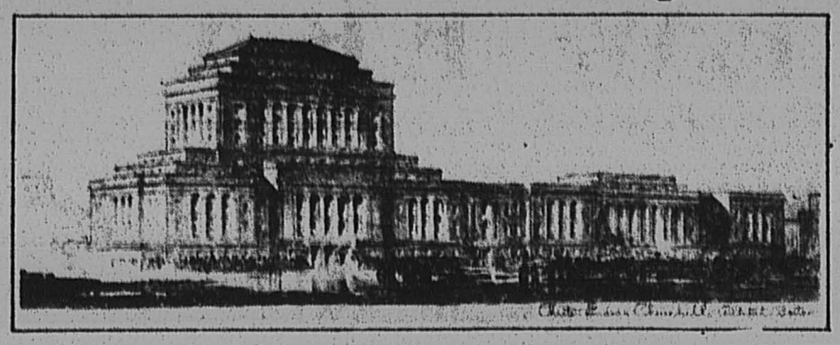
New Christian Science Publishing House



BOSTON, Mass.—Continued growth of the activities of the Christian Science Publishing Society has necessitated expanded facilities. To meet this condition the Christian Science Board of Directors of the Mother Church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., will erect, as soon as plans and arrangements are completed, a new publishing house.

Here provision will be made for the needs of the Christian Science Monitor, the Christian Science Journal, the Christian Science Sentinel and all other literature published by the society.

The new building, which will cost in the neighborhood of $3,000,000, will occupy approximately 58,000 square feet of ground bounded by Massachusetts avenue, Norway, Falmouth and Clearway streets, Back Bay. Operations are to be hastened in accord with the public and private building program which Mayor James M. Curley of Boston has been urging in conjunction with President Hoover's recommendation for relief of unemployment.

The structure will have a varying height. The Massachusetts avenue end of the building, which will be used for offices, will be nine stories in height, while that part which is opposite the Mother Church edifice will be three and four stories in height and in scale with this edifice.

The publishing building will be related in architectural style to the Mother Church, and its design has been influenced by the fact that in the future it probably will become one of a group of buildings which will surround and form a fitting architectural setting for the church.

It will be an all-stone building of the Italian Renaissance type, the lower story to be of granite and the upper stories of limestone.

Special attention will be given to the installation of modern heating and ventilating devices. The central plant will be housed in a building adapted to it, with an ornamental tower inclosing the stack, the tower to be of brick and stone conforming with the beauty and symmetry of the main building.

The building now occupied by the Christian Science Publishing Society, completed in 1908, will be used for the administration offices of the Mother Church.

The architect is Chester Lindsay Churchill, and with him is associated Lockwood-Greene Engineers, Inc., of Boston, which will have charge of the plant layout.

WILD EXCITEMENT AT SCOUT CAMP

"Rubber" Gladney Disappears and State Troopers Join in Search

Including even the days of "Reddy" and his Red Lions, no group of Riverton boys have ever had so many hair raising adventures or such a continued good time as the Riverton Scout troop enjoyed last Friday night and Saturday at Camp Mahalala, the Burlington County Scout Camp at Cookstown.

Thirty-nine Riverton Scouts and officers were included in the three hundred Scouts from all parts of Burlington county who attended the 1931 reopening of the camp. Realizing that the camp would be crowded, the officers of the Riverton troop had foresight enough to provide comfortable quarters for the local troop by sending an advance delegation to camp early Friday under the leadership of Assistant Scoutmasters Cook and Washington who reserved three comfortable cabins for the Riverton delegation.

And when, at seven o'clock Friday evening, under Mr. Shoemaker, chairman of the troop committee and Mr. Garwood, the Scoutmaster, the Riverton boys arrived at camp, rumors of escaped maniacs had already crept through the camp causing many excited conferences.

The jamboree opened with an impressive and beautiful tableau at the camp fire arranged by the Eagle Scouts Association depicting the purchase of the camp from the Indians by the Jones family, from whom the camp was purchased a few years ago by the Riverton Scouts.

Next on the program was a wonder talk on snakes by Mr March of Camden who showed the boys, among other snakes, two exceedingly lively rattlesnakes. In the experienced hands of Mr. Carch one of these snakes was carried around the campfire buzzing with anger like a locust and with venom running down the pencil used to hold open its mouth. Many a boy learned from this exhibition more about snakes and how to avoid them than by years of lecture.

During this exhibit Senior Patrol Leader "Ted" Hunn of the Riverton troop ran into the campfire, with the report that he had just seen the maniacs run from one of the cabins occupied by the Beverly troop. Instantly strong searching parties were sent out and guards appointed, but no trace of the criminals could be found.

Shortly after taps were sounded at 10:30 the ruins of the old mill down by the lake were discovered in flames and immediately the entire camp swarmed down to watch the effort of the Browns Mills fire department to extinguish the flames. Shortly afterwards three state policemen arrived at the scene of the fire, convinced that the desperados were somewhere in the immediate vicinity and responsible for the fire.

This was more than verified when it was found that several cabins had been robbed while the boys were at the fire. Instantly and with great bravery several searching parties started off from the fire, only to retreat in great alarm when one of the state policemen had a running gun fight with one of the criminals who was wounded in the battle and subsequently captured later in the evening.

As the fire died down, the three hundred young heroes retired to their cabins and sleeping quarters prepared for seige and armed with knives, axes, baseball bats and all kinds of weapons with which to battle for their lives.

One troop even went so far as to nail down the sides of their cabin, lock the door and post a sentry on a shelf over the door with an ax in either hand, ready to brain the first desperado who came in the door. It was very exciting.

Just as things had quieted down and Riverton was dozing off to a troubled slumber, "Bill" Shoemaker, "Jeff" Edwards and "Pat" Kinsey who had special permission to arrive at camp late, came in after attending a Senior dance at Moorestown High School.

"Bill" elected to sleep with his younger brother in the top bunk in one corner of the cabin and had no sooner settled down when he rolled through a hole between the springs and the frame of the bunk and crashed down on the boy beneath. This second boy, awakened out of a sound sleep by the crash, and convinced that he had been attacked by the criminal, instantly started fighting wildly for his life and immediately the cabin was in an uproar. Fortunately all of the combatants were separated before any harm was done. Thereafter the boys slept soundly and comfortably until half past six when they heard Reville and turned out to cook their breakfasts, which, due to the foresight of the officers, were more than sufficient to fill empty stomachs.

Although the morning was stormy the boys spent it profitably passing Scout tests until the sun came out at eleven when everyone who had the permission of their parents enjoyed an invigorating swim. And at noon mess, the Riverton boys were so hungry that they completely finished a hundred baked potatoes, a ten pound ham and fifteen quarts of milk.

Just before noon mess it was found that one of the Riverton Scouts, "Rubber" Gladney, had vanished, undoubtedly kidnaped by the remaining criminal. Searching parties were immediately thrown out in all directions and the State Police notified. Evidently they acted promptly for at three o'clock "Rubber" was brought back to camp with his wrapped in yards of bandages and with a wild story of his being attacked, bound and held a captive until, with great presence of mind he had chewed through his bonds and staggered into police headquarters at New Egypt.

Great again was the uproar, and even greater when the boys were finally told that all of the excitement had been especially planned for their benefit. Weeks before, the Scout executive, Mr. Shaw, working with Mr. Coles, Scoutmaster of Moorestown, Mr. Brown of Beverly, and the Riverton Scoutmaster had carefully planned every detail, including the arrival of the fire engines, and the state police. Some of the boys were still so skeptical that they had to be shown the fire warden's special permit for burning down the mill before they were convinced that the entire affair was a grand and glorious camping adventure, the best they had ever heard of.

After a fine free meal in the mess hall, the troops left for home, Riverton, arriving back home about eight o'clock, tired, sleepy and happier than they had ever been before, filled with stories of their adventure and praising the wisdom which had set the trip for Friday night so that they could sleep long and soundly Sunday and be Monday morning. And after the grand time that they all had, all were up bright and cheerful for school on Monday morning, none was more important than the kidnaped hero, Louis Gladney who, Saturday morning had calmly climbed into Mr. Shaw's car and spent the day at the state police barracks at New Egypt, learning the secrets of being a good policeman. Of course he was returned to camp totally uninjured, with the bandaged head merely a part of the story.

One of the significant parts of the entire encampment was the fact that Riverton, even though other towns have more Scouts enrolled, had more Scouts present at camp than any other town or troop. Here is a splendid indication of the way in which the Riverton troop is fast becoming one of the crack troops of Burlington county. There are still a few vacancies left in the Riverton troop for local boys who are 12 years of age and who would like to have the fun that all Scouts have. Any boy who would like to join the troop ought to attend the next meeting of the troop on Friday evening where he will be feeling perfectly at home in five minutes and enjoying another splendid troop meeting now being planned by the officers, including the new assistant Scoutmaster, Mr. Windhovel, who is arrangging some new games for the meeting.

Mr. Windhovel is a splendid addition to the remarkably efficient corps of officers in the Riverton troop. Formerly an assistant Scoutmaster in the crack Troop 46 of Philadelphia and for two seasons athletic instructor at Treasure Island, the finest Scout camp in America, Mr. Windhovel, also an Eagle Scout, brings to the Riverton troop a degree of ability which will do much to make the Riverton troop even a finer organization for the boys of Riverton.

Mr. Garwood, the present Scoutmaster of the troop, has just received his Fifteen Year Veteran service ranking as a Scout official. Mr. Washington, an assistant Scoutmaster is also fully familiar with Scout work, as is Mr. Cook who is conducting one of the finest courses in signalling ever given by any troop. It is expected that the Amateur Radio station Mr. Cook and the boys are building for the troop headquarters will be fully installed and licensed by September when the troop reorganizes for the next season.

The hard work that these officers are doing in giving Riverton a crack Scout troop, and the fact that every one of these men is a volunteer, working entirely without any salary, and often contributing to the troop's funds from their own pocketbooks, should win everyone's respect and be an inspiration to other civic organizations. Riverton has every reason to be proud of its Scout troop and every Riverton boy ought to be a member of this splendid organization which is undoubtedly doing much to make our coming citizens far better men with a love for out of door life and the finer things of life.

RED CROSS GROUP HEARS TOMLINSON

Bordentown Lawyer Lauds Memory of Clara Barton at Anniversary Dinner

Attorney Jay B. Tomlinson, of Bordentown, who has been referred to as the living personification of Abraham Lincoln, was the guest speaker at the fiftieth anniversary dinner of the American Red Cross, at St. Mary's Guild House, Burlington, last Thursday evening.

More than 100 persons were in attendance and greatly enjoyed the speech of Mr. Tomlinson, who traced the life of Clara Barton from the time to her birth till her death, comparing her with Florence Nightingale and others who had labored for the relief of the afflicted and suffering in times of war and times of peace.

A very interesting paper, on the history of the Red Cross from 1881 to 1931 was read by Mrs. A. C. Hirsch, chairman of the Palmyra branch, and a short history of the Burlington County Chapter was read by Mrs. James P. MacFarland, of Palmyra.

C. Gauntt Holmes, of Burlington, acted as pinch-hitter and spoke a few interesting words in the absence of Rev. John Talbot Ward, rector of St. Mary's Church. Miss Reba Troxell gave a very interesting account of the Junior Red Cross, which is composed of school children, and told how they are co-operating with school children in many foreign lands.

Clifford W. Ergood, of Mount Holly, who is director of life saving activities, told of work that has been done and the plans that are to be carried out this coming summer. Victor Hartshorn, who is the county instructor, also made a few remarks along the same line.

Mrs. Beugless, chairman of the Burlington County Chapter, welcomed the guests and introduced the toastmaster, James T. Weart, former mayor of Palmyra. Miss Reba Troxell and Mr. Ergood were in charge of the singing.

At the conclusion of the local program the radio was tuned in and the assembled guests had the pleasure of listening to Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes and President Hoover, who were broadcasting over a nation-wide hookup.

OPENING OF NEW PALMYRA P. O. SET FOR NEXT MONDAY

Last Business in Old Building Will be Transacted Tomorrow; Closed Saturday

ALL NEW EQUIPMENT IN REMODELED STRUCTURE

Present Model Lock Boxes Will be Replaced by Combination Type

The new Palmyra post office, started early this spring, is ready for occupancy. Palmyra postal authorities will leave their old quarters in the F. O. S. of A hall after the close of business tomorrow and resume business at their new office Monday morning.

Demands of Federal authorities for a larger and more modern building led to the removal of the Palmyra office. The long-term lease which the post office department held on their old quarters expired last year and search for a new site was begun.

The property of John Warner, Palmyra realtor, at 520 Cinnaminson avenue, was approved by the Federal inspectors after Warner had agreed to make the needed improvements in his building. The lease was signed for a ten year period, at a reported sum of $1400 a year.

The rental fee was a subject of some controversy between the National agents and the Palmyra P O S of A. After a demand for new equipment had been made to the lodge, the organization agreed to furnish the needed articles but at an increased rent, said to be $1500. Overtures on the part of Warner, who agreed to furnish the new equipment at the lower rental, finally won the real estate man the contract.

The new office is situated in a remodeled two story brick building, supported with steel and concrete. The old structure was also of two stories but had a frame construction. Only the first floor will be occupied by the post office, the second floor being used as an apartment. New lock boxes and windows have been installed during the past week. The lobby, which is larger than that in the old office, has a tile floor and the windows are in a straight line across the front of the building. Lettering on the windows has been supplanted by a large stone slab on which has been cut the name of the building, and which is situated over the doorway. The lock boxes in the new office will be of the combination type instead of the key type used in the old site.

George I. Harvey, Palmyra postmaster, yesterday announced plans of the post office removal. After the regular closing time of the post office, Friday, such supplies as may be necessary for an immediate opening of the office in the new site will be transferred.

The office will be closed all day Saturday while the arrangement of equipment in the new office is completed. The usual practice of keeping the office open on holidays until 9 a. m. will be changed Saturday in order to facilitate the opening Monday.

The remodeling of the new structure was begun about March 1. After several delays it was announced that the date for the completion of the work would be April 15. Further postponements kept contractors from finishing their job on schedule and the work was not completed until late this month. Equipment which had been shipped to Palmyra several weeks ago had been kept in storage awaiting the completion of the building.

NEW BUILDING OPERATIONS TEND TO PROMOTE RETURN OF PROSPERITY IN PALMYRA

EXTENSION OF SPRING GARDEN ST. PLANNED

New Post Office in Center of Town at Last Almost Ready to Occupy

Despite the business depression existing throughout the country during the past eighteen months, Palmyra seems well on the way to one of the biggest years in building and construction work ever recorded in the history of the town.

Reluctance on the part of many business persons to expend a portion of their capital has not been has not been shared by the townspeople and merchants of Palmyra. They are showing a true progressive spirit in the many improvements made last year and thus far in 1931.

The paving of the streets and the construction of the Palmyra Bowling Alleys were the outstanding pieces of construction work done during 1930.

A series of building projects has kept an air of prosperity in the town this year. County and State governments have done their share by the construction of state roads and the erection of a new bridge across Pensauken creek at West Palmyra. The Pennsylvania Railroad has done much to promote the progressive attitude of the people by the building of elevated railroad tracks at the place where the State road from the bridge was supposed to cross the railroad at the old River Road crossing in West Palmyra. With the elevation of the tracks will come the laying of a new road to form an underpass where the tracks have been raised.

The elevation of the railroad is supposed to be completed by July 1, with the underpass to be finished a short time later. In conjunction with the opening of the new bridge an additional route to the junction of the State road and River Road has been contemplated.

R. B. Williams, Palmyra merchant, last week announced his intention of opening Spring Garden street several hundred feet further. Its present end at Filmore street will be extended to the point of junction of the State and River roads if the plans are carried out. Not only will such a project offer work for many persons in Palmyra who are out of work but will do much to circulate money in the vicinity.

In the center of the borough the new post office building is rapidly nearing completion. Many thousands of dollars have been spent in remodeling the old frame dwelling on Cinnaminson avenue, to meet the demands of postal authorities for a brick building, and one with additional floor space. After an announcement that the building would be open for business about March 15, the work has been delayed several times but at last is ready for occupancy.

PALMYRA MAN HELD FOR HAULING LIQUOR

Furniture in Truck Conceals Large Quantity of Beer; Philadelphian Also Arrested

A large truck with a bed-spring on back of it that apparently, judging from its rusty condition, had ridden in that position many times previously, aroused the suspicion of state troopers early Sunday morning.

As a result of the inquisitive natures of Troopers Dorr and Rinaldi, of Columbus barracks, forty half-barrels of beer were seized and two men arrested on the state highway about one mile east of Burlington, about 3:30 a. m. Sunday.

The troopers arrested Nicholas Pentz, of Trenton, for drunken driving, and brought him to Burlington early Sunday morning. They had just left the City Hall when they espied the truck, which did not present the appearance of a bona fide moving van.

Removing the bed-spring, the cops noticed the trucks carried a huge cargo of liquids. The pair riding on the truck gave their names as Frank McGarvey, 28 W. Broad street, Palmyra, and Charles F. Smith, 3945 North Second street, Philadelphia, Pa. Both men and the truck were taken to Mount Holly, where the men were given a hearing before United States Commissioner William A. Slaughter and placed under $500 bail.

When analyzed, the contents of the containers the truck carried was found to be beer with an alcoholic content of 4 per cent.

Enlargement of Palmyra Movie House Expected to Cost About $40,000

REMODELING OF BROAD STREET STORES PLANNED

Two New Service Stations, One Still Unfinished Meet Motorists' Demands

The desire of moving picture patrons for a better theatre has led the proprietors of the Broadway Palace, Palmyra's only show house, to make plans for the complete remodeling of the present building. The plans for the rebuilding of the theatre will necessitate the closing of the show place for approximately two months.

With architect's specifications calling for repairs which will require the expenditure of from $30,000 to $40,000, the proposed rebuilt theatre will equal any theatre in the county in its capacity, and elegance of equipment and furnishings.

The proposed building will be devoted entirely to theatre purposes, as the stores now occupying the front of the building will be torn out. A lobby will extend across the front of the building throughout its entire width, with a canopy from the building to the street being brilliantly illuminated with a large number of electric lights.

There have been rest rooms designed for the patrons of the theatre, with new furnishings provided for their utmost comfort. The stage end of the theatre will be moved back about thirty feet to make room for the installation of additional seats. When completed, the new show house will be able to accomodate a thousand persons.

The roof of the building will be raised in order to facilitate the working of the new ventilation plant which is to be installed. Any improvements which might be necessary to the heating system will also be made during the time of the alteration. The present "stuffy" atmosphere of the theatre in hot weather will be done away with. The elevation of the roof will enable a manager's office to be built upstairs.

With the erection of the bowling by Nick Beltz last fall still fresh in the minds of the citizens, it has been learned that he is planning to continue building operations. The new construction work will not be done on the bowling alley site, but on the premises now occupied by his shoe repair shop, the Beltz Delicatessen and the Superior Barber shop.

The chain of three stores will be equipped with the latest style front display windows while the shops will be lowered to the street level. The extension of the building to the building line on each side is also contemplated, thus enlarging all three places. The improvements in this one job will cost in the neighborhood of $8,000.

Demands of the motoring public have been met with satisfaction. The old Palmyra garage at Broad street and Morgan avenue has given way to a new Standard service station, which has been equipped with the latest furnishings for the motorist. This project was one of the first to be started this year and was finished in the early part of March.

The Lester Fortnum Ford Agency is doing its share to aid the automobile driver. The management is now constructing a new gasoline station, modern in every detail, on the large lot at the side of the agency building. Rapidly progressing work points to the opening of the new station within the next month.

HORSE SHOW, FETE FOR CINNAMINSON BRILLIANT AFFAIR

Big Financial Success is Anticipated; Returns Incomplete to Date

EQUESTRIAN EVENTS ARE BIG ATTRACTION

Freeman Stables Capture Most First Prizes; Lester Collins Exhibits Fine Jumpers

The annual horse show and fete, staged at Moorestown Field Club, Saturday, for the benefit of the Cinnaminson Home, was a brilliant success, in spite of the cool winds and threatening skies, and drew society from all Burlington County and Camden County to it.

As in previous years, the horse show was the biggest attraction of the day, with many new entries as well as most of the old favorites.

Returns are not yet complete but the financial success of the affair is anticipated to be as great as in the past. While the coolness of the day prevented the crowds from wandering about the booths in such large numbers, nearly all the attractive articles of handiwork and food were disposed of. The hot supper was particularly enjoyed, and more than 200 persons were served. The cafeteria, however, was not so well patronized.

The dance exhibition given by Miss Frances Hartshorne, of Philadelphia, a new innovation on the program this year, proved a delightful entertainment. About 200 thronged the Stokes' rose garden, where the exhibition was given.

In the evening, a dance was staged in the club house as the final event on the gala program. Young people and old gathered for the thoroughly enjoyable occasion and helped to make it a real success. Irving Casper's orchestra furnished the music.

Freeman's Winners

Freeman stables, Moorestown, captured nearly one half the first-prize trophies offered at the show. Of 21 classes, in which all types of saddle horses and hunters were entered, nine first places were awarded to the Freemans. Seven second places were also carried away by the two sons and daughter of Ralph L. Freeman.

Probably the most significant victory of the day was in the championship saddle horse class in which the winners of 10 classes competed. The winner in this class was Dorothy Boes, a beautiful bay mare. It is owned and was ridden by Miss Anne R. Freeman, 12-year-old daughter of the popular Burlington county horseman. Dorothy Bees was also chosen winner in two other classes and second in another.

In the pairs of saddle horses ridden by a man and woman, the first prize was halved by Miss Freeman and Wilfred W. Fry, of Camden. The winners were Dark Secret and Inky Boy. The former is owned by Miss Freeman, the latter by Mr. Fry. Inky Boy was ridden by Miss May T. Groves, of Riverton, and Dark Secret by E. J. Freeman. Dorothy Boes and Mitzi, III, were chosen second in this class. The mounts are owned and were ridden by Miss Freeman and Richard L. Freeman.

Even though most of the honors were carried off by the Freeman stables, it was left for Lester Collins to be chosen owner of the best jumping horses of the day.

Collins' Hunters Best

Exterminator and Valdex, two well-trained hunters, were judged best in the hunters in pairs class, the most important event in the jumping horse class. With Mr. Collins and Bob Brown up, the two horses easily cleared all but one of the eight jumps. Exterminator also won the qualified hunters' class. Spite, which is also owned by Mr. Collins, won in the green hunters' class.

Dr. C. T. Jones, of Four Mile, also exhibited some very fine horses. Miss Kathryn Sharpless and Samuel Roberts, both well-known Moorestown riders, rode these horses in the show.

KONJOLA WENT TO THE SPOT!

See How This Amazing Medicine of 29 Ingredients Triumphs Time and Time Again

Some idea of the power of Konjola can be had from the experience of Mr. Joseph M. Pistey, 433 Elm Street, Stamford, Conn. He says: "Stomach, bowel and kidney ailments troubled me for five years. Terrible headaches, sleeplessness and constipation kept me in misery. Six bottles of Konjola brought complete relief and I am feeling fine. Anyone doubting this can write me personally."

Mr. Joseph M. Pistey

Here is the statement of Mrs. J. S. Murphy, 42 Pierre Street, Jamaica Beach, L. I.: "I will never cease praising Konjola. My husband was weak and constipated. He had no appetite and gas formed after meals. I finally gave him Konjola and one bottle helped him. Five bottles brought complete relief. He gained weight and energy and feels as he formerly did."

J. DAVIS, JR. ATTACKS ELDERLY PALMYRIAN

William Smith, of Delaware Avenue, In Critical Condition in Cooper Hospital

William Smith, of Delaware avenue, Palmyra, was attacked and severely beaten about the face and breast by Joseph Davis, Jr., of 601 Arch street, Palmyra, on Monday of last week, while walking along Broad street.

Davis gives self defense as his reason for the assault, he gave as a second reason, the fact that Smith had spread false reports about him. The latter story has been denied by Davis' wife.

Smith was removed to the Cooper Hospital, Camden, where he was found to have both jaws broken, injuries to both eyes, his breast and face. He is still in a critical condition.

Mr. Smith's son, Warren, swore out a warrant for Davis' arrest during the week and the latter is being held for the Grand Jury, under bond of $1,000.

FREE-WHEELING TAKES A LEGAL SETBACK

Free-wheeling on automobiles has taken a legal setback.

At the conclusion of the sessions of the Eastern Conference of Motor Vehicle Administrators, in Trenton last week, it was announced that "Automatic free-wheeling transmissions for motor vehicles, those of a design which does not permit the driver to retain optional gear control of his car, will be prohibited in the fourteen states and the province of Ontario which comprise the Eastern Conference."

While free-wheeling may offer economical features, such as a saving on gasoline consumption and reducing wear and tear on the motor, when fully automatic, it robs the driver of his option to use the engine as a brake, and consequently, it becomes somewhat dangerous.

The element of danger is the reason for the downfall of fully automatic free-wheeling in the sixteen states and Ontario that comprise the Eastern Conference.

Virtually all of the states have regulations forbidding coasting on down-grades. Automatic free-wheeling becomes operative the instant the engine is not driving the machine, so naturally an auto equipped with one of these devices must coast down hill.

While the administrators' act may work a hardship on the manufacturers of free-wheeling equipment, it seems that they have taken the only action possible under present conditions. Such an important section of the motor laws as that prohibiting coasting on hills cannot be ignored, if safety is to be considered. It appears that the administrators had no alternative in the matter.

SUMMER EATING

Summer is here and we are changing our eating habits for the warm weather. The canners and the preservers do wonderful things, but somehow or other even the best canned goods don't taste like fresh vegetables right out of the garden. It is not to be wondered at that city folks all try to spend their summers in the country. People that never go outside the big cities don't know what really fresh peas and sweet corn and lima beans and the rest of the garden products taste like. And as for fresh eggs—well, we are just sorry for city folks.

With all the talk about depression and unemployment we notice that people are eating just about as much as they ever did. That is one great thing about these United States, we can make an awful lot of fuss about hard times, but it is only in a very few parts of the United States that anybody has really suffered for lack of food through all of our recent difficulties. There has been a great deal of very genuine suffering in the regions affected by last year's drought, but that has not primarily been due to hard times, and the people of the rest of the United States have been generous in their response to the need. So it seems a fair statement that there are no conditions approaching starvation anywhere in the United States. And, as for the great maority of our people, they not only have plenty to eat, but more than they need, and now for the next few months they will have what we think is the finest food in the world. That is, the fresh stuff out of the gardens.

In the South the watermelon season has begun. It will work its way north until New England's melons are ripe, just a few days ahead of the first September frost. If there was nothing else to look forward to in summer, the watermelon alone would almost be a sufficient excuse for living. That is something we have that they don't have in most other parts of the world. It is hard to believe it, but there are, literally hundreds of millions of people in Europe who never had a chance to taste a watermelon. And cantaloupes! Some old-fashioned folks still prefer to call them muskmelons. They taste just about as good under one name as under the other. And sweet corn? We don't know who invented Golden Bantam, but he ought to have a medal and his statue in the Hall of Fame. They have been picking strawberries in Florida since January, but it will not be long now before all the rest of the country will be eating fresh berries out of our own strawberry beds. Another week or two of sunshine the meadows and pastures of the northern states will be covered with wild strawberries. They are a lot harder to pick, but they are a lot sweeter and juicier than the best and biggest berries ever grown in the garden patch.

Once we get started writing about good things to eat, it is hard to tell where to stop. What we are really trying to say is that this is the season of the year when we folks who live in the small towns and the country have it all over the city people who don't know anything about what good eating is until they come out to the rural districts. Well, come on you city folks. We are always glad to see you, and we feel kinda sorry for you when you have to go back to your kitchenettes and canned stuff.

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the forty-eighth of a series of articles by the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles written to familiarize New Jersey motorists with the regulations which govern their conduct and increase their safety on the highways.

48. CHANGES IN THE LAWS.

Many inquiries received at the Trenton offices of the Department of Motor Vehicles and at license bureaus throughout the State indicate the need for a brief, concise summary of some of the more important changes in the motor vehicle laws passed by the Legislature and made law by the signature of Governor Larson.

An important change has been made with regard to automobile lights. Under the new law, the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles is authorized to issue regulations pertaining to lights on motor vehicles. The law provides that all motor vehicles must be equipped with one or more spare lamps or lamp bulbs of a suitable type to make replacements, and if a person who is apprehended because of a burned-out or defective lamp is able to make a replacement or repair when and where apprehended, it shall be prima facie evidence of his intention to comply with the law and no complaint shall be made against him.

The new law provides for the issuance of a conditional license and stipulates that if a person to whom such a conditional license has been issued shall fail to comply with the conditions, he or she shall be subject to a fine of $100. Heretofore, no punishment was provided for violations of conditions.

Licenses Earlier

Registrations and licenses for the ensuing year will hereafter be issued beginning November 1, instead of November 15, of the current year. Not only plates, but driver's licenses as well, may now be used on and after December 15, of the current year.

The law has been now amended so that if the operator of a motor vehicle fails to produce the registration certificate, a complaint may be made for not having the registration certificate in possession. This applies to residents as well as non-residents. The registration certificate should be in the possession of the person in charge of the car while it is operated on the highways.

Obtaining a license by fraud is forbidden under the amended law. Non-resident drivers may now operate vehicles bearing New Jersey license plates, providing they are seventeen years of age or older and hold a drivers' license issued by his home State.

$100 Fine for Overloading

Hereafter owners, not the operators of overloaded vehicles are to be subject to punishment by a fine of not less than $100. Section 13 has been changed to provide that plates may be displayed on the front and rear of the vehicles lot less than fifteen nor more than forty-eight inches from the ground. On vehicles carrying inflammable materials the plates may be displayed higher than forty-eight inches. This legalizes the present plate position on gasoline trucks.

A ten dollar fine is provided for failure of any registered owner or licenses operator to notify the Commissioner of change in his place of residence within one week after the change is made. A penalty of $25 is provided for lending registration certificate or plates for the use on a vehicle other than the one for which they were issued. A penalty, too, is provided for any person who applies to an agent for a license while his name is still on the revoked list.

An important change is the provision that magistrates must give receipts for fines imposed when requested by any defendant. Magistrates are given the right to place defendants on probation and to accept fines on installments, except in cases where the mandatory penalty is fixed by law.

It was about the same year as August Belmont, the famous banker used to drive down to Wall Street each morning behind a spanking pair of bays. It is not being done now, thanks to the automobile.

A False Idea

People in the Western states have a well-defined notion that all New Yorkers hang around night clubs until broad daylight, go home to their Park Avenues pent houses and sleep until evening. The facts are that many New Yorkers have never been inside of a night club and that an enormous number of them rise as early as a dairy farmer, don riding clothes, and jog for an hour or two in the parks while the sun is coming up.

That explains a lot of the energy one observes in the big executives in Wall Street.

Hamper Pedestrians

One can hardly travel a block in the busiest parts of this city without encountering four or five beggars, slowly walking along with the stream of traffic and impeding its progress. There are also the sandwich men bearing hugh boards advertising barber shop or a tailor or some other small merchant, walking in the middle of the sidewalks.

Add to them the police standing around looking over the crowd, the "barkers" in front of even the big-

Plumly-Aten Nuptials

On Wednesday, May 1, Miss Jessie, the only child of G. W. Aten, and wife, of Northampton, Pa., was married to Samuel Ashbridge Plumly, well-known here. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents by her cousin, Rev. S. H. Gapp, of Emaus. Only a few friends and relatives were present. John W. Plumly and wife, parents of the groom, were the only guests from here. After congratulations the guests sat down to a bountiful repast and the bride and groom left for West Palmyra, where they will reside. They took no trip and will be at home after May 15.

Mr. and Mrs. Plumly now live on Broad street, Riverton.

THE FAMILY DOCTOR
By JOHN JOSEPH GAINES, M.D.

POSSIBILITIES IN BLOOD-PRESSURE

I have frequently had patients assure me, "no, doctor, I haven't any blood-pressure," meaning that they have no high tension in that department. I generally correct them gently, by saying that a man with no blood-pressure is dead! For all beings with circulation have "blood-pressure."

The condition—high or low—is but a symptom; and high arterial tension may be a very serious symptom, if its cause is found in the kidneys. It will only relax with the cure of the diseased organs. And cure is in some cases impossible, when the renal disease is too far advanced to correct.

So, if blood-pressure is far above normal, I immediately look after the kidneys; you should do the same.

The "change of life" in middle-aged women, is sometimes accompanied by a very high arterial tension, but I regard this sort of manifestation curable, if taken in time—that is, before a brain hemorrhage, or another ugly thing has set up. This possibility means, keep close to your physician in such crises—it will pay.

Certain nervous states cause high blood-pressure; others bring low tension. Weakened, relaxed muscles usually induce low pressure. Both phases of human existence usually respond to treatment, and should not cause alarm. The hardened arteries of the aged cause what may be termed normal high tension, which rarely does harm or produces alarming symptoms.

Diet, it seems to me, has been considerably overworked in the matter of high tension. I recommend eating moderately, rather than to cut out food that the patient really needs. The meat bugaboo is passing, as I believe it properly should, except in cases of severe kidney disorder. Meats are of too much importance in the human economy to condemn in a routine way.

PUBLIC SERVICE

This Week in WASHINGTON

BY RADFORD MOBLEY
AUTOCASTER WASHINGTON BUREAU

Public interest in the Nicaragua Canal has been revived by President Hoover's warm commendation of the officers and men of the Army Engineer Battalion, which has just completed the field survey of the proposed route. All that remains now is the drawing of the maps and other plans needed by the actual workers.

Congress will be called upon at its next sitting to appropriate money for the actual digging and work should start soon afterwards. No opposition to the canal is expected to appear in Congress, which has already given the money for the survey, assented to the 99-year lease that was obtained at a cost of $1,000,000 from the Republic of Nicaragua in 1916 for the necessary right of way, and otherwise shown its desire to have a second shipway to parallel the present Panama Canal.

The railroad interests which fought the building of the Panama ditch will not oppose the Nicaragua proposition, largely because they appreciate the futility of trying to block the scheme. Besides which most of the traffic which will use the canal could never be routed by rail.

* * *

The new canal promises to be a boon to a large section of country, chiefly to gulf ports like Galveston, New Orleans, Pensacola and Tampa, which will benefit by a shortening of the time to California by about three days. The Nicaragua route is something like 500 miles farther north than Panama, a day and a half's sailing for a good steamship.

Not only the gulf ports, but the entire Mississippi Valley will be benefitted by the construction of the second canal. Government work now under way on rivers in the heart of the country will result in nine-foot channels for river steamers that will carry their freight to New Orleans for trans-shipment on ocean-going vessels to the California coast and far Pacific ports.

Aside from the saving in time and money, the new canal will be additional insurance against the blocking of the Panama Canal by enemies in time of war, or by one of the many earthquakes that continually occur in Central America. The building of the Nicaragua Canal will benefit nearly everybody in the United States and will not be a drain on the pocket of taxpayers.

* * *

The Panama Canal has been in operation long enough to show that it has been a worthwhile project. It takes in about $100,000 a day in tolls, ships using it finding it much cheaper to pay the high charges than to sail around Cape Horn. While the Panama cost around one billion dollars, it is earning more than enough to pay interest and retire the principal, and will eventually give the government a water way for its navy, cost free.

The new canal will probably be built to accommodate ships of greater width and depth than the Panama, which has already been faced with the task of warping through one British warship that was only seven feet narrower than the full width of the Panama locks. Ships are being built larger each year and the days is not far off when a wider canal will become a necessity.

* * *

Government building plans to offset slackness in private construction will cost a billion dollars, according to a summary compiled recently. Of this hugh sum more than $300,000,000 is actually in hand and the money is being paid out to American factories and workmen, lessening the tension considerably. The rest of the appropriation will be spent as soon as sites for various public buildings can be acquired and plans prepared.

Many thousands of workmen will benefit by the program and another vast army of workers who will cater to the wants of the government employees will be supported. State and city governments are also carrying on building programs that will engage almost as many men, while private projects are beginning to assume vast size.

* * *

In spite of the administration's evident desire to push these projects and have them under way a year ago, the details of obtaining sites, drawing plans, getting appropriations through Congress and other difficulties have prevented their actual execution before now. Once under way the program will gain momentum as the months go by and the country will profit in a material way.

Rather than allow his pet dog to be killed, C. C. McAllister of Moberly, Mo., prefers to remain in jail "forever or even longer."

MAIN STREET LOOKS AT BROADWAY

Shetlands

New York children are no different from those in any other part of the country in one respect. They all long for a pony. It does not matter that they cannot ride them on the street here but must get into Central Park, or one of the others, they want them anyhow.

Very often this urge for a Shetland often leads the family into the suburbs. Hundreds of ponies are enjoying life mooching along the quiet lanes and by-roads to be found in the suburbs within twenty-miles of City Hall.

* * *

First Cost Small

Buying a Shetland pony, if one is careful, need not be an expensive operator. On the lower East Side there exists a sales stable, still called the Bull's Head Stables, probably dating from Revolutionary Days. Here horse auctions are held two or three times a week and here come the operators of the "ten cents a ride" concessions at Coney Island and other open-air places of amusement to re-stock their stables.

Sturdy ponies that come up to one's waist only can be bought very often for as low as $25 apiece. They make ideal pets as they are kind and tractable and, seemingly, never tire of carrying around their little owners. It is a sight to see some little child at the sale overcome by a true case of "love at first sight" when a diminutive pony is offered for sale. Also, it is often rather costly for Dad.

* * *

Bygone Days

Years ago, in Denver, there used to be a business man every day mounted on a magnificent steed. He had trained the animal in the Southern way and the reins never were drawn tight. A slight pressure of the fingers on the horse's side, hardly observable to the uninitiated, or the movement of the rider's hand to the right or left in front of the pommel, gave the horse all the direction it needed.

People out there never tired of watching the rider, who often left his office for an hour or so in the middle of the day and put his horse through its paces along Sixteenth street.

God in His totality must be that which transcends human comprehension or description. Only in symbol can we name this supra-personal personality.

And no symbol is fitting, which does not suggest a mystery inscrutable—beyond conception, beyond imagination.

Such a symbol, saturated through age-long use with worshipping associations is the Three in One and One in Three, a symbol arithmetically absurd, representatively apt. "Holy, Holy, Holy! though darkness hide thee,—God in Three persons, Blessed Trinity!

The Junior G. F. S. under the leadership of the president, Mrs. R. G. Anderson and Mrs. Houchens, with six of the members, journeyed to All Saints Church, Trenton, Saturday, to take part in the Diocesan meeting of that society. Plans for the next session were discussed and other business transacted.

The conclusion of the year's activities of the Palmyra Junior branch took place on Tuesday. Nearly fifty members were present, and the following received prizes for this year's work: Betty Neely, Ruth Craig, Sophie Devinney, Irene Renner, Betty Renner, Mary Munro and Ruth Fry. Music, games and refreshments brought a happy year's work to a very fitting conclusion.

The G. F. S. Seniors under the leadership of Mrs. H. Bracey and Mrs. G. J. McCormack sold flowers on Saturday. The proceeds were turned over to the Cooper Hospital, Camden. The result of the collection was very creditable, some $27.00 being added to the hospital's funds. The girls who sold flowers were: Peggy Whiteside, Marjorie Hein, Alice Hoare, Frances Devinney, Sara Messenger and Dorothy Hall.

A surprise party was given on Tuesday to the members of the G. F. S. by the president, Mrs. H. Bracey. A swimming party in charge of Mrs. Harry Piehl enjoyed a visit to the Moorestown swimming pool Friday evening. Basketball will be played by the girls every other Tuesday.

A large number of the members of the G. F. S. are looking forward to a stay at the Holiday House, Island Heights, in July.

Mrs. William Branson tendered her resignation at the meeting of the Women's Auxiliary during the past week. Mrs. Houchens was elected to fill the unexpired term. Mrs. Branson has been elected to the presidency of the Burlington District Woman's Auxiliary.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"ANCIENT AND MODERN NECROMANCY, ALIAS MESMERISM AND HYPNOTISM, DENOUNCED" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, May 31, 1931.

The Golden Text is: "Sing unto the Lord, praise ye the Lord: for He hath delivered the soul of the poor from the hand of evildoers" (Jeremiah 20:13).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Put on the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil. For we wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this world, against spiritual wickedness in high places" (Ephesians 6:11,12).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Christian Scientists, be a law to yourselves that mental malpractice cannot harm you either when asleep or when awake" (p. 442).

The SCRAP BOOK

THE SANDS OF DEE
By Charles Kingsley

"O Mary, go and call the cattle home
And call the cattle home,
And call the cattle home,
Across the sands of Dee!"
The western wind was wild and dank with form,
And all alone went she.

The western tide crept up along the sand,
And o'er and o'er the sand,
And round and round the sand,
As far as eye could see.
The rolling mist came down and hid the land:
And never home came she.

"Oh! is it weed, or fish, or floating hair—
A tress of golden hair,
Was never salmon yet that shone so fair
Among the stakes on Dee."

They rowed her in across the rolling foam,
The cruel crawling foam,
The cruel hungry foam,
To her grave beside the sea:
But still the boatmen hear her call the cattle home
Across the sands of Dee!

RAPID TRANSIT OVER BRIDGE

Pennsylvania Legislature Approves Plan of South Jersey Transit Body

The Pennsylvania State Senate, without a dissenting vote, has passed the bill that was recommended by the South Jersey Transit Commission, to connect New Jersey with Pennsylvania by an electric rapid transit line over the Delaware River Bridge and connect with the subways of the city of Philadelphia. This indicates that all of the interests in Philadelphia and Pennsylvania recognize the need of proper transportation facilities between South Jersey and Philadelphia.

The South Jersey Transit Commission, appointed at the suggestion of Senator Baird, has worked incessantly for over a year and a half to bring about this first step in what will eventually prove to be an extremely valuable asset to all of South Jersey.

The commission met many obstacles which they were able to overcome, only because they did not know defeat. Senator Baird, regardless of the multitude of calls on his time, kept in close touch with every step of the studies of the commission, and helped the commission over many hurdles.

When a workable plan was finally decided upon by the commission, it was necessary to "sell it" to those who had the power to make it possible. To accomplish this, Senator Baird called a meeting of Governor Larson of New Jersey; Governor Fisher of Pennsylvania; the presidents of the four leading transportation companies involved, Mayor Price, of Camden; Mayor Mackey, of Philadelphia; the bridge commissioners, and the transit commission. This meeting was followed by several subcommittee meetings, and finally a definite plan was decided upon.

It was still necessary to show the Pennsylvania authorities that the proposed plan would be beneficial to Philadelphia, and in this Senator Baird displayed the influence he carries. He held conferences with Governor Pinchot, as well as Pinchot followers in the Pennsylvania legislature, and the Philadelphia representatives. The fact that he was able to convince all of these people of the very worthy merits of the bill is indeed a testimonial to him, and an illustration of his interest in the people of New Jersey.

The bill has the undivided approval of the lower house of the Pennsylvania legislature, and the assurance that Governor Pinchot will sign it.

A similar bill will be introduced in the New Jersey legislature at a special session to be held in June. This is assured of passage, enabling the new rapid transit connection provided for to become effective July 1.

The South Jersey Transit Commission believes that the installation of high-speed transportation in South Jersey, which eventually will be extended through the whole territory, represents another new era in the development of this territory, and that plans should be started at once to take advantage of the benefits which will accrue.

The commission deferred all consideration to their own territories until the Camden-Philadelphia area problem was solved; realizing the necessity of getting proper inter-city connection; otherwise, any through plans from their own territories would be of no practical use.

The commissioners, in co-operation with their engineer, A. H. Nelson, will now make studies of the transportation needs of the respective territories they represent. Killam F. Bennett, of Riverton, N. J., the member of the commission from Burlington county, will be pleased to meet with any representative bodies of the county, to receive constructive suggestions for the improvement of transportation in Burlington county, to connect with the inter-city plan adopted at this time.

Motorist Dozes and His Car Crashes Into Tree

Charles C. Roberts, teller at Burlington County Trust Company, Moorestown, narrowly escaped injury when he dozed off to sleep and his car collided with a tree while on his way home from the Burlington County Bankers banquet early last Friday morning.

The accident occurred about 1:30 Friday morning, in front of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Herr, East Main street. Members of the Herr family, awakened when Mr. Roberts automobile crashed into the tree, rushed to his aid. He was dazed and suffered from cuts and bruises. His car, which hit the tree almost head-on, was nearly a total wreck.

Mr. Roberts had brough some friends to Moorestown from the Log Cabin Lodge, Medford Lakes, where the bankers banquet had been held, and was on the way to the home of his parents Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Roberts, East Main street near the railroad tunnel, when the accident occurred.

ADMIRERS OF POET HONOR HIS MEMORY

Walt Whitman Meeting Is Held in Woods at Glendale, Near Haddonfield

Admirers of Walt Whitman, including several prominent citizens of New Jersey, gathered in the woods at Glendale, near Haddonfield, on Saturday afternoon, to honor his memory.

The address of welcome was delivered by Dr. Alexander Macalister, president of the Walt Whitman Foundation and who was physician to Whitman.

Led by a committee including Mrs. Charles A. Wolverton, Dr. Macalister, and James L. Pennypacker, chairman, associates of the Walt Whitman Foundation, the pilgrims gathered at the Haddonfield National Bank and proceeded in private cars, buses, and special machines escorted by state policemen, out Berlin road to Glendale.

The program of the meeting, which began at 4 p. m., opened with the singing of "America," led by G. Curtis Hartel. An address, "Walt Whitman, Poet and Prophet," was delivered by J. Duncan Spaeth, of Princeton University.

Daniel L. Mathews, Jr., baritone, sang "O Captain, My Captain!" a setting of the famous words by Whitman. Dr. John Dennis Mahoney read from poems of Whitman after which the company sang the national anthem.

After the formal meeting there was a picnic in the woods.

Although Mrs. Lena Bickford, of Oakland, Me., has smoked a pipe 53 of her 81 years, she is hale and hearty.

MOORESTOWN HAS 200 IN ARREARS

$8,268.56 Due for Water and Sewer Service for More Than Year

Moorestown Township Committee, at its regular meeting in Town Hall Monday evening, ordered Edward P. Hyland, superintendent of the water and sewer department, to shut off water service if delinquent accounts are not paid in accordance with regulations of his department.

Mr. Hyland submitted a list of 200 delinquent accounts, all of which are at least a year overdue. The delinquent water bills amount to $5,642.00, and the sewer accounts to $2,626.56, making a total of $8,268.56 the township is carrying on its books.

The superintendent told the Town Fathers that all of the persons whose accounts are overdue have received delinquent notices, and he personally has called upon a large majority of them in an effort to collect the bills.

The Town Fathers told Mr. Hyland to follow the regulations of his department, as he recommended, and send final notices to the delinquent persons. The persons are to be given ten days in which to make settlement or their water service will be shut off and not restored until the bill is paid for service up to the day it was discontinued.

Chairman F. W. Grube announced that he had been visited by Milton Oldershaw, commander, and other representatives of the local American Legion Post who informed him that, in view of business conditions, they had decided to abandon the Memorial Day celebration this year and asked that the $250 appropriation from the township for the parade be turned over to the overseer of the poor.

Mr. Grube lauded the members of the Legion for their stand and urged his fellow members to immediately pass a resolution authorizing the transferring of the appropriation to the poor fund. The action was quickly taken, the motion being offered by Vice Chairman John C. Dudley.

The meeting was adjourned for nearly an hour while members of the Committee and Solicitor Walter Carson attended a hearing of the bus operators who have lines running through Moorestown, the hearings being held before Recorder Joseph W. Johnsten. The idea was to establish a schedule which would prevent the passing of competing buses in town, but after much discussion, it was decided it will be necessary to have an ordinance to properly handle the situation.

BETTER BUS SERVICE

Effective next Monday a new timetable will be placed in operation on the new Camden-Trenton bus line. This bus line replaced the former Riverside street car line Public Service Coordinated Transport, in placing the new timetable in operation, seeks to further improve service on the line. The new schedule provides more frequent and faster service between Camden and Trenton.

COUNTY DINNER AT CAMP OCKANICKON

Shifted From Burlington for First Time in Twenty-five Years

The scene of this year's annual Burlington County YMCA convention dinner is shifted for the first time in the twenty-five years' history of the County Association from Burlington to Camp Ockanickon, and from the month of May to the month of June.

The twenty-sixth annual convention-dinner is now scheduled for Friday evening, June 12, at Ockanickon Inn, Camp Ockanickon. Chef Buck of the camp staff will prepare the dinner. He has a fine reputation to maintain.

The chairmen of this year's convention program committee is John H. Hutchinson of Bordentown, and with him are associated Maurice W. Haines, of Medford, Robert C. B. Parker, of Mount Holly, and President William F. Overman, of Moorestown, ex officio.

Mr. Hutchinson recently announced that Robert C. Shoemaker had been secured as the convention speaker. Mr Shoemaker, who is now general secretary of the YMCA at Paterson, was Burlington County's secretary from 1914 to 1918, leaving here to join the state staff. During the war he was in the air service. He came back to his position as state county work secretary for New Jersey, and after about three years went with the personnel bureau of the National YMCA, then back to New Jersey as associate state secretary, from which position he was called to Paterson, as general secretary about two years ago.

"Bob," as Mr. Shoemaker is popularly known, has many Burlington County friends who will welcome this opportunity to hear him. He is an old time Ockanickon camper, and this year, when the camp celebrates its twenty-fifth year, and for the first time is host to the annual county convention, it seemed a most opportune time to have Shoemaker.

The beauty of Ockanickon's laurel in the springtime is one reason the committee decided on camp for this year's convention. Before the seven o'clock dinner there will be ample opportunity to visit the various camping areas, see the newly completed mature study building and its woody surroundings, swim, go boating or canoeing, visit with friends, just anything to get up a fine appetite in response to the "come and get it call" on the big gong, seconded by "mess call" on Secretary Hendry's cornet.

County Represented Convention

At the 51st New Jersey YMCA convention held in the Hotel Monterey, Asbury Park, May 22, 23, 24, Burlington county was represented by Mr. and Mrs. William Overman, of Moorestown; Henry F. Stockwell, Moorestown; Everett H. Haines and son, Herbert, of Medford; Secretary and Mrs. Wilton E Mount, of Palmyra; Secretary and Mrs. Guy C. Hendry, Mount Holly.

Secretary Hendry directed the convention orchestra, composed of seven county secretaries, which was named the "Hicks Harmony Hunters."

State Secretary at Moorestown

The state secretary for Hi-Y Club work, John A Ledlie, was present in Burlington county, Wednesday evening, May 20, at the invitation of the Lenni Lenape Hi-Y Club of Moorestown. Mr Ledlie discussed with the boys of this club some of the program possibilities in keeping with the purpose of the Hi-Y movement, namely, "To create, maintain and extend throughout the school and community standards of Christian character." The boys then suggested some very definite situations in which Christian influence could help in their community.

Week-End at Ockanickon

Three groups, namely, Lumberton, Comrade, under the leadership of Robert Buswell, Live-Yers group of Moorestown, with Gordon Page as leader, and the Hi-Y Club, with Frederick Eckhart as the leader, spent Saturday and Sunday with Secretary Ergood at Camp Ockanickon. The party arrived Saturday afternoon, embarked with tents and canoes for the upper lake and encamped near the "Mount," each group occupying a tent. Besides an informal woods program, the boys joined in a camp-fire at night, and Sunday morning took a nature walk with Frederick Eckhart, who is a graduate of the N. Y. State College of Forestry. The fellows also joined in a worship service on the "Mount", Sunday afternoon.

Judge's Josh.

Mrs. Chatterer: Good-bye. Thank you for the interesting news.

Mrs. Idle-Gossip: Be sure and tell everybody not to tell anybody what I told you.

The schoolmaster was explaining to his class of small boys the nature of common fractions. "If I take a potato, cut it in half, then in quarters, and then in halves again, what shall I have?"

"Chips, sir," was the unexpected response from one small boy.

"Why don't you get out and hustle? Hard work never killed anybody," counseled the philosophical gent.

"You're mistaken dar, boss," replied Rastus, making a touch. "Ah'se lost foah wives dat way."

Oshkosh—Could you get anything out of the book our friend George W. W. W. Stimpson has written on "Popular Answers Questioned?"

Kennebunk—Oh, yes, 25 cents at the second-hand book store.

Learning that she was one of the "honored dead of the class of 1899" for whom a memorial service was arranged, Mrs. John Loving of Milan, Tenn., caused a change in the program when she attended the service in person.

Laughing Around the World

Providing A Clean Bill of Health

By IRVIN S. COBB

ON A voyage back from France after hostilities had ended, one of the transports had aboard a negro labor battalion. Included among the returning veterans of the Brest docks was a crap shooter of mighty powers, originally from Memphis.

Off the Banks the ship ran into nasty weather, and the gamester, frightfully seasick, lay in his bunk too miserable and too weak to move, and expecting each succeeding moment to be his last, as the craft, stood first on end and then wallowed deep in the trough of the sea. As a matter of fact, the peril was real. The laboring steamer had laundered off her course and was dangerously near the shores of Newfoundland. Suddenly in the middle of the night a siren steam whistle at a lighthouse station on the mainland blared out, the sound rising above the roar of the wind. To the sufferer in bed down below, that appalling blast could mean but one thing—the trumpet call of judgment day.

He got down on his knees and prepared to uplift his voice in prayer for salvation. Then he remembered what he carried in his trousers pockets. He reached in his pocket and as he flung into space his educated ivories he cried out:

"Git away, evidences! Come on, Angel Gabriel!"

LET PROGENY TEST PROVE POULTRY SIRE'S VALUE

"Thousands of valuable poultry sires have been sacrificed by many poultrymen who blindly adhere to the old belief that only cockerels should head the breeding pens." So declares Prof. W. C. Thompson, poultry husbandman of the New Jersey Agricultural Experiment Station, in explaining why poultry sire should be retained until their value as breeders has been proved or disproved by the egg records of their daughters.

MOORESTOWN GIRL IN NARROW ESCAPE

Miss Herr Drives Car in Ditch to Avoid Crash on Bridgeboro Road

Miss Martha Frances Herr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs Henry C. Herr of East Main street, Moorestown, narrowly escaped serious injury when she was forced to drive her automobile into a ditch to avoid an accident at the intersection of Bridgeboro and Airport roads Saturday afternoon.

Miss Herr was driving toward Bridgeboro on Bridgeboro road. A Germantown driver, going toward Hartford on Airport road, sped through as she attempted to cross the intersection.

In order to prevent a collision, Miss Herr cut to the left, then back to the right, to avoid a crash with another machine coming in Bridgeboro road. Her machine, landing in a ditch, turned over, damaging the fenders, windshield and top.

Miss Herr, although only slightly cut and bruised, sufferfd a severely sprained wrist.

Witnesses of the accident, who were high in their praise for the skillful driving of the Moorestown girl, whom they say prevented a serious accident, took the license number of the Germantown machine which continued on its way, and was said to have been travelling at a reckless rate of speed.

Chief Bradshaw, of Moorestown police, had the number of the auto sent over the State Police teletype system and the driver was picked up in Toms River. A hearing will be given the Germantown man in Moorestown Town Hall before Recorder Joseph W. Johnston some time next week, it has been announced.

"ON THE SPOT" AT PHILA. THEATRE

Great Drama of Modern Gangster Thrilling Thousands in Second Week

Heralded as the greatest crime play on Philadelphia stage, thrilling and fascinating of melodramas, "On the Spot," Edgar Wallace's melodramatic masterpiece, comes to the Forrest Theatre in Philadelphia directly following its highly successful engagement of 175 performances on Broadway. Lee and J. J. Shubert are co-producers of this hair-raising concoction with Edgar Wallace and Lee Ephraim of London.

"On the Spot" is a vivid and laughable backstairs view of the crime barons at work and play in Chicago. Mr. Wallace's tremendously exciting drama rises far above the usual melodrama because of its consistent drawing of the central character of Tony Perrelli. The chief gangster is alternately tender and cruel to women, implacable to men, cajoling even caressing when he thinks the occasion demands and, in fact, is the very essence of vindictiveness.

Perrelli dooms the lad who dares to love his own discarded sweetheart, passes sentence upon the protector of a girl who attracts his vagrant affections, puts whoever stands ever so slightly in the way of his accomplishment of a diabolical purpose undeviating "on the spot" and finally, after a rushing series of dramatic episodes, comes to as ingenious a finish as can be found in the theatre today. For gripping and amusing entertainment, "On the Spot" ranks high among the season's outstanding successes.

Crane Wilbur as Perrelli, Anna May Wong as his discarded sweetheart and Glenda Farrell as the new magnet for his wavering interests are co-featured at the head of the original Broadway cast. All the other characters are interpreted imaginatively and with skill by John M. Kline, Arthus R. Vinton, Clay Clement, Alan Ward, John Butler, John Wheeler, Stanley Wood, John Adair and others.

Mrs. Lucy Hatch, 102 years old, of Wichita, Kans., has asked to enter the poor farm because "her little boy," Harry Hatch, 70 years old, spends her money in wild parties.

MOTHERS GUESTS AT DELANCO MEET

Mrs. John Cadbury, of Moorestown, Main Speaker on Program

Over one hundred girls and women attended the Mother and Daughter gathering in Delanco, Thursday, May 21. The program was planned by a committee of Y. W. C. A. members, of which Mrs. William C. Wells was chairman.

The speaker of the evening, Mrs. John Cadbury, of Moorestown, told the fascinating old story of St. Christopher, and talked on "Love, the greatest thing in the world."

Mrs. William Grobler, of Moorestown, led the singing, and Mrs. Lloyd Cross, of Delanco, directed the games. Margaret Thadigsman gave the toast to the mothers, and Miss Sidonie Schafer brought greetings from the Y. W. C. A.

A very amusing sketch, "The Old Maid's Burglar," was presented by the Camp Fire Girls. The Girl Reserves gave a Daisy Drill, and a skit entitled "Lalah of the Mountains," Dorothy Albright recited a poem on "Mother."

The Girl Reserves of the William Allen School in Burlington held a Mother Daughter gathering Thursday evening, May 21.

Council Plans Conference

The Girl Reserve Junior Council held its regular meeting Saturday afternoon, May 23 at the A. A. Hall in Delanco. Girls from clubs in Beverly, Willingboro, Moorestown, Mount Holly, Riverside, and Delanco attended. Devotions, on the theme "to find and give the best" were led by the Willingboro club.

Business included discussion of plans for the Girl Reserve conference to be held at the Moorestown Community House, Saturday, June 6. The conference will open at ten o'clock, the morning program including singing, worship, and discussion groups. Girls are to bring a box lunch. The afternoon program will include games, and a talk by a woman from some other country. All Burlington County Girl Reserves below high school age are urged to attend this conference.

The speaker at the council meeting was Mrs. Harold Horner, of Mount Holly. She told a delightful story about some of the early French settlers in Burlington county and their friendly relations with the Indians.

Cocardes is the French term for cockades, a trimming device that is in favor right now with milliners. Cockades were first worn by military men in Europe, who enjoyed a monopoly of them for centuries. In recent years they have been adopted, along with many other men's fashions, by women, whose smartest hats are decorated with them this year.

For a small black cocarde you will need a small circle of black canvas a little smaller than the size you have chosen for your finished ornament—about two inches in diameter. The ribbon should not be more than an inch wide for the type of cocarde shown in the sketch. Black grosgrain or taffeta ribbon should be chosen. Lay it in narrow, flat pleats and baste them down and then press under a damp cloth. Fasten three rows of pleating on the canvas base, sewing down the outside row first, lapping the lower edge of the pleats to fit the circle. A flat knot of ribbon may be placed in the center to hide the inner pleating. There should be two ends of the ribbon attached to the lower side of the cocarde in the traditional manner.

The new way of placing the cocarde is just under the brim of the hat at the left side with the ends of the ornament falling coquettishly over the eye.

TRENTON NEWS LETTER

With the primary election over and the candidate for Governor named under circumstances which give mighty encouraging outlook, for the Republicans busy days loom for the party managers. It is the plan of former Senator David Baird, Jr., the chosen standard-bearer to devote practically all of his time to the work of the campaign once it has opened and that will of course, mean a swing around the state in the endeavor to reach every section and make personal contacts with the voters, as well as with the leaders.

Mr. Baird is just the sort of man and candidate to awaken the interest and win the confidence of those with whom he makes contacts. There is in him nothing of the smiling backpatting and ready-promising characteristics with which so many office-seekers think they can cajole the voters, but he has the personal magnetism and the assurance of sincerity that count so much with those who really amount to anything in life.

Since the Camden City Commission government election, in which the ticket supported by Mr. Baird and the Republican organization won so handsomely there has been a marked advance in Baird Stock in all sections of the state and the rather unexpected set-backs of Mayor Frank Hague, Democratic dictator, have served to weaken the candidacy of his picked pet.

The campaign will, therefore, get off to a sizzling start and while there may be a lull during the more heated term of Summer everything will be in swift motion by August 1. Mr. Baird is laying his plans with the aid of Commissioner Frank H. Smith, his campaign manager, so that nothing will be left to guess, but all the details of the contest worked out in good time and with every assurance of meeting every problem that arises and presenting a satisfactory solution thereto.

Hague's Grip Weakens

Meanwhile Mayor Hague is having a bunch of trouble of his own and it begins to look as though his throne were tottering. Even Kings have to face the inevitable sooner or later, as has been so forcibly illustrated in Spain and elsewhere in the world. It is especially true of politically dictators who rule by sheer force, but come at last to the irresistible flow of the tide of public opinion.

Commission government elections in Hudson county gave the dictator such set-backs as to indicate the set of this tide and it will require a tremendous effort on his part to overcome the influences thus set in motion and certain to affect the November balloting for his picked candidate for governor. In Bayonne the Hague men went down and in Hoboken Mayor McFeely's gang was put to rout. In West New York and in Weehawken results gave clear evidence of the dissatisfaction among Democrats and who administered a heavy blow to the Hague regime.

Observers familiar with the situation in Democratic Hudson are strong in the belief that Mr. Hague is galloping rapidly to a fall from which he has little or no chance of recovery and that means a big advantage for the Republicans who have been laboring against tremendous odds in that neck of the woods for years. It is believed that when the Dictator goes down, as seems to be inevitable, there will be some chance of gaining ground there and the Republican managers are using every effort to unite all the party elements in the battle for Governor.

A STORY OF SONGS

One "June Night," "Ten Thousand Years Ago," "In Bagdad," as "Me and My Boy Friend" were walking down "Memory Lane," "Three O'clock in the Morning," we were surprised to see "Charley My Boy," "Sally," and "Oh Katherina" "Sitting in a Corner" of the "Covered Wagon." They were "Yearning" for "Peter Pan."

Above them a "Nightingale" was sweetly singing "What'll I Do" to the tune of "Oh You Can't Fool An Old Horse Fly."

Suddenly it started to rain and "Sally" said "I Wonder if this will stop the 'Parade Of The Wooden Soldiers?'"

"No," was "Oh Katherina's" answer they "Don't Mind the Rain."

"Ah! Ha!" said "Susie" when she spied them, "No Wonder I couldn't find you."

I came to tell you that "June Brought the Roses" for "Titina" "Last Night On The Back Porch."

Just then "Peter Pan" came Struttin'" up the path "All Alone" and singing the "Prisoner's Song."

"Coming To My Kid Brother's Party," she called. "If so, Please Get a Move On."

They all jumped out of the "Covered Wagon" at these words and "Followed the Swallow" while "Me and My Boy Friend" resumed our journey to "The End of the Road."

PARRY NINE TRIPS SEASHORE OUTFIT

Locals Add Point Pleasant to List of Victims in 6-4 Triumph

Johnny Broderson's Parry nine traveled to Point Pleasant Sunday and defeated the shore team by a 6-4 score.

The outcome of the game was not decided until the late innings when Parry broke a tie score at 4-all and pushed over single runs in the eighth and ninth innings.

Neither team scored in the first four innings, but a rally in the fifth gave Parry a short-lived advantage. Reynolds and Bauer opened this frame by singling. After Windish flied out, they pulled a double steal. Schrader and Menkevitch followed with singles, three runs counting. A wild heave hit Shorten, who went to first. H. Schuck hit down the first base line, and Patterson threw home to catch Menkevistch at the plate.

The Parry catcher slid under the throw to score the fourth run. The rally ended when Ernie Schuck flied to center field and Shorten was doubled at third.

A combination of three hits, three walks and an error enabled the shore team to knot the count in the sixth. A nice bit of pinch pitching kept the Parry outfit from losing the lead when, with the bases loaded, Reynolds fanned Britton for the third out.

The Parry hurler won his own game in the eighth when he lined a double to right field to score Phelan, who had walked. The visitors chalked up the final marker in the ninth when Reagle's double was followed by Broderson's single.

PALMYRA SCHOOLBOY WINS HIGH JUMP FOR S. J. 'B' CHAMPIONSHIP

Irving Conwell, dusky high jumper of the Palmyra High School track squad, won his favorite event at the South Jersey championship events held at Atlantic City last Saturday, with a leap of 5 feet, 10 inches.

He was the only member of the Palmyra team to be entered in the meet and his five points enabled the Pals to be rated eighth in the final standings.

His leap was higher than that of the winner of the event in the Class A tournament. The winner for Class A schools topped the bar at 5 feet, 8 inches to win.

Coach Kenneth C. Dimond has "high" hopes for the schoolboy and will probably enter him in the state meet to be held in North Jersey. He has also uncovered a shot-putter of ability in Richard Furman, football star of last season.

RIVERTON SINKS RIVERSIDE, 8 TO 6

Coles and Weikman Hurl Local Nine to Victory in a Close Game at Riverside

Riverton A. A. undoubtedly played the best game of the season thus far when it defeated Riverside A. A., 8 to 6 last Saturday at Riverside.

Leon Coles and "Clayt" Weikman on the mound held the Riverside sluggers down in noble fashion.

The first two innings were without incident. Riverton opening the third drove in four runs. Coles started out by dropping a fly into the left fielder's glove for a putout. Baker next walked to first followed by Foulke, who got to first on a hot one to shortstop. Edge stared things when he smacked a two-bagger into left field and scored Baker. Eisley flyed out to right field for the second putout. Harper socked a two-bagger into left field bringing in Foulke and Edge. Horan next got a single to left field, scoring Harper. Bartley retired the side when he drove one to shortstop who threw him out at first. The total catch for the inning was four runs for Riverton.

Riverside finished the third in one-two-three style, aided by a strikeout.

Opening the fourth Riverton again went wild and starting out with Weikman, got to first on a hit to center field. Coles next walked to first, advancing Weikman to second. Baker smashed one to third base, landing safe on first and filling the bases. Foulke again helped Riverton by driving in two more runs when he hit one off second base. Edge struck out and shot another off second base, scoring Foulke. Harper struck out and Horan flyed out to left field retiring the side, but three runs had crossed the plate.

From then on Riverton went through each inning scoreless up to the ninth.

Riverside got their dander up by this time and began bringing in a few at a time for themselves. They drove in two runs in the fifth and four more in the seventh.

The opening of the ninth found Riverton at bat with the score Riverton, 7; Riverside, 6.

It was anybody's game even then. Horan opened by getting to first on a beautiful bunt. Bartley sacrificed, advancing Horan to second. Weikman hit to center field, scoring Horan. Then Bottger struck out and Baker flyed out to the shorstop, retiring the side with a score of 8 to 6 in Riverton's favor.

In the ninth, Broderson opening for Riverside, struck out. Edge flyed out to shortstop and Schrader finished the game by dropping a fly into Eisley's frozen mitt, for the day was cold—but Riverton played a hot game of ball.

Strikes From the Bowlers

Palmyra's alley representatives kept up their fast pace when they took two matches from the U. S. Foundry team, of Burlington. One team rolled 2348 pins against 2141 pins for the visitors while the other team nosed out the foundrymen by 29 pins for the three games. The final count was Palmyra, 2552; Burlington, 2523.

Hampton was the high gun for Palmyra, toppling 562 pins. Vile and Becker were the only others to go above the 500 mark for the locals, totaling 538 and 517 respectively.

Fennimore led the visitors with a 548 total, followed by Chew, with 522 and Willey with 506. High games of 223 and 221 were rolled by Hampton and Chew respectively in their second game.

PHS - Riverton Meet in Benefit Ball Game

In a benefit game, the receipts of which will go toward purchasing trophies for the boys' baseball team and the girls' basketball team, the Palmyra High School baseball team will meet the Riverton team of the Burlington County League next Thursday at the high school grounds.

To date the schoolboys have won nine of their ten games, the other resulting in an 11-inning stalemate with Audubon High, who is undefeated in the Camden Suburban League.

The Riverton club numbers several former P. H. S. players in its lineup while others of the present school team will play with them during vacation time. Despite their experience the Riverton players should have their hands full with the schoolboys.

For the second successive week the K. of C. Club was held to a single run while their opponents ran roughshod over them. Last Friday Frank King's Rambler team rolled up 15 runs over the "Kaysee" nine. Combining several walks with sixteen hits and eight errors, the Ramblers turned the game into a rout. Held scoreless in the first inning, the Kingmen lashed out three counters in the second stanza and followed it with six runs each in the third and fifth. In the meantime Harder was holding the clubmen safely in check and they were only abue to garner six bingles off his delivery. Casey, the only member of the losing team to gather more than one hit, accounted for the "Kaysee's" lone run with a mammoth homer in the fourth frame.

K. of C.	000	100	0— 1
Ramblers	036	060	0—15

The first shutout of the league season was registered Monday night when the Ramblers applied the whitewash brush to the Baptists, score 8-0. Fine pitching and snappy fielding enabled the Ramblers to keep zeros in the churchmen's scoring column. Hits for the Baptist team were nearly as scarce as the runs, very few being made off the Ramblers hurler.

Rogers News players fattened their batting averages at the expense of the K. of C. club in the game played Tuesday night, pushing over 11 runs against 2 for lodgemen. The lodgemen kept their losing streak intact and now have dropped four in a row. With a fairly strong hitting club, the main weakness of the "Kaysee" nine seems to be in their erratic fielding and spotty pitching.

The long delayed game between Parry and the Ramblers will be played tonight. The tilt was originally scheduled for May 12 but rain postponed the game. Last Thursday, the second date set for the contest also proved to be a stormy day and a second postponement was necessary. Parry, at the present time, is leading the league with two straight wins, while the Ramblers, after dropping their opening game, are on a two-game winning streak. A victory for them will give them possession of the sunberth.

Mrs. Claude Raynes, of Chicago, testified in court that she had very little use for a husband except to provide her with money.

PALS WIN SECOND FROM QUAKER NINE

Gootee Limits Moorestown to Eight Hits as Mates Hit Hard to Triumph, 7-2

Palmyra High continued its string of baseball victories Tuesday when it turned back the Moorestown nine at the latter's field by a 7-2 score.

The win marked the ninth of the Pals this season, their one remaining game ending in an 11-inning stalemate with Audubon. It also marked the second win of the season of the Quaker team, the Isenberg team having dropped a 2-1 contest at the Palmyra field on May 5. The first tilt was a regularly scheduled game of the Burlington County Scholastic League while Tuesday's results had no bearing on the standing of the two teams in the circuit.

Eleven hits were made off the deliveries of Chiosso, Moorestown flinger, who issued a single pass and fanned six. "Rube" Gootie, Palmyra flinger, kept the eight Quaker hits well scattered, while he fanned eight and handed out two free tickets. He received good support from his teammates who played errorless ball.

Moorestown started out well by scoring a single run in the first frame but Palmyra came back with two in each of the second and third frames and then added another in the fifth and two more in the sixth to clinch the tussle. The Quakers made a vain attempt to pull the game out of the fire in the seventh but could only score a single run.

Minor led the attack for Palmyra with three hits in five trips to the plate, while Howard Davidson, Coles and Gootie each collected a pair of base hits, one of Coles' going for a two-bagger. Chiosso and Lockwood starred at bat for Moorestown with two hits apiece.

LISTS PRECAUTIONS FOR REPLACING BLOWN FUSES

A fuse is the watch-dog of the wiring system. It protects the wiring against a flow of current too large for the safe capacity of the wires. The blowing of a fuse is a signal that the wires are overloaded. Fuses vary in size, depending upon the size of wires in the protected circuit. Replacing the fuse with a larger one does not increase the capacity of the wires and only endangers the system, inviting failure of the wires and possible fire, warns W. C. Krueger, extension service engineer of the New Jersey Agricultural Experiment Station. The remedy, he advises, consists in locating a possible short circuit caused by worn wires, or removing some of the appliances on that particular circuit. Replacement of fuses before remedying the cause of failure is useless.

Miss Elizabeth Horahan

Miss Elizabeth Horohan, who for a number of years lived in Mount Holly, died at the home of her sister, Mrs. Mary McKenna, of 215 Locust street, Moorestown, on Saturday. Miss Horahan came to Moorestown on Tuesday of last week to visit her sister for a short time. Her death, which was very sudden, was caused by heart trouble.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday morning, at 9 o'clock, from the Church of Our Lady of Good Counsel, Moorestown, with the Rev. Thomas Rudden, officiating. Philip McChesney was the funeral director in charge. Interment was made in Mount Carmel Cemetery.

JESUS IN GETHSEMANE

Luke 22:39-54

It is recorded by Mark, following the narration of the events in the upper rooms in Jerusalem when the Passover was celebrated and the Lord's Supper instituted, "And when they had sung a hymn, they went out into the Mount of Olives." Jesus knew about all that impended and He would be ready for those terrible events through strengthening prayer. For this purpose He led His beloved disciples to the Garden of Gethsemane.

Prayer is the great recourse when there are problems to face and spiritual strength to be obtained. Though Jesus would pray alone he wanted Peter, James and John to be near Him and invited them to come further into the Garden. The scene is best depicted by Hofmann's great painting of "Christ in Gethsemane." What was the "cup" that Jesus prayed might pass from Him? Surely He did not want to quit the mission for which He came from heaven to earth. Many think that He was afraid that His strength, both physical and spiritual, might not hold out until all had been acomplished. We know at least this for a certainty: He prayed that the will of the Father, not His personal will might prevail.

The three close friends failed Him. These men slept, and returned to sleep though Jesus came thrice to awaken them. The contest had been won, however, by Jesus in His solitude as He faced the throne of God. It is in such quiet places that we win the big battles of life, rather than in the open and when we cannot do otherwise as the crowd looks on. The greatest decisions are made when we are thus alone with God. Then Judas comes to the place where He knew Jesus had an altar of prayer and gives the signal for arrest as he betrays the Son of Man with a kiss.

GETS THREE-POUND PIKE

F. G. Furth, of East Main street, Moorestown, caught a three-pound Pike, one of the largest ever caught in this section, while fishing at Speedwell, near Chattsworth, Sunday. He was using a fly rod when he pulled in the "beauty," which was twenty-three-and-a-half inches long.

When three dogs in a New York court during a hearing to decide dog ownership, barked so loud that witnesses could not be heard, a newspaper reporter fed the dogs gumdrops to stop their noise.

FULLY AUTOMATIC FREE-WHEELING TO BE BANNED IN EAST

Automatic free-wheeling transmissions for motor vehicles, those of a design which does not permit the driver to retain optional gear control of his car, will be prohibited in the fourteen States and the province of Ontario which comprise the Eastern Conference of Motor Vehicle Administrators. This prohibitory action was taken by an unanimous vote of the delegates attending the conference at Trenton last week.

The resolution which voiced the conference's opposition to 100 per cent free-wheeling was offered by Benjamin G. Eynon, motor vehicle commissioner of Pennsylvania. It was based upon the fact that virtually all States comprising the conference have specific regulations forbidding coasting on down-grades.

Since automatic free-wheeling devices become operative the instant the engine is not driving the vehicle, the machine is coasting always on the down-grade. The danger is accentuated by the fact that vehicles fitted with this type of free-wheel unit, as added equipment, are not designed with that excess of braking capacity essential to safety.

ELLIS PARKER STILL ILL

Ellis H. Parker, chief of Burlington county detectives, was ordered back to bed Monday after a second attack of an internal disorder.

Parker was recovering from the first attack at the end of last week. His physician said the famous sleuth was a very sick man. Over-anxiety to return to his desk was blamed for the recurrence of the malady.

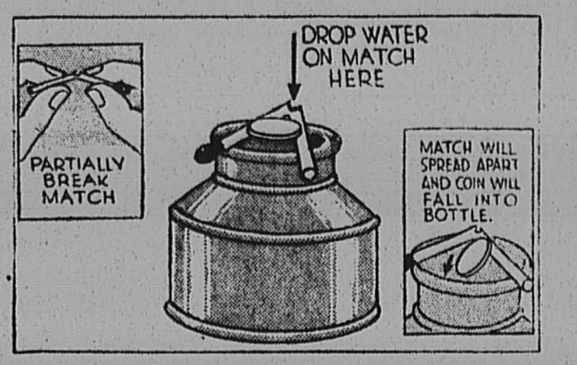
TRICKS of MAGIC EXPLAINED by Will L. Lindhorst

DROP OF WATER MAKES COIN FALL INTO BOTTLE



An ink bottle or other small bottle, a match and a dime or penny are required for this trick. Crack the match so that it will be bent and yet hold together. Place the match on top of the bottle with its broken center on one side and the head and tail on the other. Lay the coin on the match and spread the match apart under the coin, so that the slightest movement of the match will cause the coin to fall. Then tell your audience that you will drop water on the match, and coin will fall in the bottle. Carefully drop the water on the broken ends of the match, which will cause them to draw together, and in doing so will pull the head and tail of the match further apart, thereby taking the support of the match from under the coin, and causing the coin to fall.

SMALL GIRL WANTS COUNTRY VACATION

Little Anna Does Much Work at Home Before and After School

To little Anna this summer will be a milestone, for she hopes to be able to arrange her responsibilities so that she may enjoy her first vacation in the country. Anna is ten and one-half years of age. She has always lived in the downtown neighborhood, in a little old tenement surrounded by Wall Street skyscrapers.

The family, consisting of father, mother, six children and one boarder, lives in four rooms, scantily furnished. The rooms are inadequately heated by the kitchen range. They are cold in winter and hot in summer.

Anna's father works during the day and the mother, employed as an office cleaner, is absent from home from 3.00 to 8.30 each morning and from 4.30 to 7.30 each evening. The children are cared for during mother's absence by the 15-year-old brother. Anna arises every morning at four o'clock and walks two blocks to the home of a neighbor to stay with her children while she goes to work. For this service, Anna is paid 50 cents per week, which pays for her clothing. After school, Anna cares for her four younger brothers and sisters, one an infant.

She takes these children in her little wagon daily through the dense traffic of trucks, taxis and limousines, to collect fire wood from the piers nearby. She also does much of the food buying for the family and climbs the five flights of stairs many times daily. She mothers the children of the neighborhood and takes the little ones to and from school. She has a splendid school record and is beyond her grade for age.

Anna is a dependable child and takes her responsibilities seriously. She is small and pale, much under the desired weight. She has a sinus infection, for which she is receiving treatment. She attends our nutrition class and is learning how to care for herself and family, but her parents expect so much of her that it has been necessary to enlist the aid of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children in the past to prevent her being overworked.

Two weeks in the country will be a new experience to Anna. We wonder how it will feel for her to be without so many responsibilities and to have others interested to do things for her.
