RUM BOAT CREW FINED $500 EACH

Two Men Arrested on Vessel
Admit Their Guilt Before Judge Rigg

Judge Charles A. Rigg last week imposed sentence on the two men who were caught unloading a rum barge at Fieldsboro. Both admitted their guilt.

Charles Peters, 322 Market street, Philadelphia, was assessed $500 for possession of liquor and Robert Pott, of Christopher Hotel, New York City was fined a similar amount for transportation.

In addition to the fines the boat, the Bernadine Williams, has been ordered confiscated and sold to the highest bidder.

Sentenced to Reformatory

Judge Rigg sentenced Mrs. Francis Panzia, 1227 Peach street, Philadelphia, to an indefinite term in the Clinton Reformatory for Women on a charge of manslaughter after she had entered a plea of guilty.

Mrs. Panzia retracted her former plea of not guilty to the indictment which charged her with manslaughter in connection with the death of April 18, of Leo Goodwin, also of Philadelphia.

Goodwin was killed when the automobile in which he was riding, driven by Mrs. Panzia, crashed into a pole just outside of Riverton. Both persons are said to have been under the influence of liquor at the time of the accident, and was committed to court by a statement by the woman's counsel that she had been unable to remember anything that happened just prior to the fatal crash. Mrs. Panzia was convicted of drunken driving immediately after the accident and was committed to the county jail by Recorder Bowers, of Riverton, but she was released later when she furnished bond pending the hearing of her appeal.

Judge Rigg said, in imposing sentence, that the only thing that made the matter any less serious was the fact that Goodwin was riding in the car with Mrs. Panzia. If the man had been struck by the car at the fair would have been much more serious.

George Marshall, colored tramp who had been arrested for beating up Lindsay Robertson, another tramp, at Burlington, came in court on a waiver and pleaded guilty to the charge. He was sentenced to three years in the state prison.

Settle Other Cases

Charles J. Smith, Burlington, charged with obtaining $12.05 worth of meals from a Burlington restaurant by false representation, case nolle prossed when it was shown that no crime had been committed. Smith had merely obtained credit for the meals.

George J. Smith, North Hanover township, pleaded guilty to assault and battery on his wife. Sentence suspended, probation for one year, and ordered to pay $30 costs in 6 months.

Harold Cain, Columbus, offer of $18.75 a month for support of two children accepted, probation one year and furnish own $500 bond.

Jake Yankowski, Riverside, Railway Reformatory, and Eugene Malecki, Riverside, suspended sentence after both pleaded guilty to robbing Charles A. Jones, of Burlington, at Riverside about three weeks ago, taking $47. Malecki was placed on probation for three years and ordered to pay $30 costs in 6 months.

Alexander Yusack, Riverside, pleaded not guilty to possession of gambling devices, and was fined $100, being given three months to pay.

PAYS DAMAGES

A motor car driven by Presley Williams, 1042 East River street, Riverton, struck a parked car on East King's Highway, Haddonfield, Tuesday night. Policeman Joseph Briggs and Earl Fowler, who took Williams to the Haddonfield police station, released him after he had remunerated John Clark, Clifton, owner of the parked car, for damages.

Riverton Free Library will reopen for circulation of books August 17th.

PALMYRA EXTENSION CRASH INJURES TWO

Woman Hurt in Accident Tuesday
Taken to Hospital, Released Same Afternoon

Two persons were injured Tuesday morning in an auto crash at Cinnaminson avenue and Lejeune road, Palmyra Extension.

Mrs. Clara Ozer, 31 Pear street, Palmyra, was taken to the Cooper Hospital suffering from severe lacerations of the lower lip and concussion of the right jaw. She was released from the hospital the same afternoon.

James L. Taylor, Garden street, Mount Holly, was treated by Police Physician Dean H. LePavoor for lacerations of the left leg and concussion of the back of the head.

Both were riding in a car on Cinnaminson avenue on their way to Palmyra. Their machine was struck by another car driven by George Rumpel, of Lejeune road. The impact caused the machine to turn over three times, badly damaging the car, although his machine was also badly damaged.

DREER NURSERIES FOUNDED IN 1837

Greenhouses and Outdoor Plantings at Riverton Cover
More Than 300 Acres

The firm of Henry A. Dreer, Philadelphia, may truly be considered among the pioneers in the United States seed and plant trade, the business having been founded in 1837 in rather a modest way. From that time up to the present this business has steadily grown, and among its most valuable assets are a record for business integrity and square dealing.

Dreer's do not claim a great number of organizations, "stations" in the same sense as Burbank, but have been and continue to be, active in the introduction of many sterling novelties, some of American origin and others from various parts of the world.

In fact this firm may truthfully be said to keep in touch with horticultural advances in all parts of the world, with a view to the introduction of any species or varieties that give promise of value to the American grower.

For many years past Dreer's have been making an important specialty of new varieties of roses, particularly those of the Hybrid Tea section, a section of the Rose family in which many advances have been made in recent years, and one from which more satisfaction and greater variety may be had than any other, even with the vicissitudes of climate that our country affords.

But important as the roses are, there are other departments of interest to be found in the more than 300 acres of greenhouses and nursery at Riverton.

Many acres of perennials out in the open ground, acres of palms under glass, and ferns by the million in the fern section are some of the many items of interest to be seen in this great establishment in addition to the rose department already alluded to, while all the various departments of a modern seed store to be found in the large eight-story building owned and occupied by this firm in Philadelphia.

Abraham K. Green

Abraham K. Green died at his home, 30 Charles street, Palmyra, Tuesday evening.

Funeral services will be held this afternoon at three o'clock at the late residence with the Rev. Ira S. Pimm, pastor of the Epworth M. E. Church, officiating. Interment will be made in Arlington Cemetery under the direction of Frank A. Snover.

Mr. Green is survived by his widow and twelve children.

COME AND HEAR

The Rev. Robert A. Jackson, B. D., one of the greatest negro orators in a grand lecture. Negro's opportunity at the St. Paul A. M. E. Church, Third street, above Market, Palmyra, Wednesday evening, August 12, 1931. Admission, twenty-five cents.

BUSY WEEK AT MEMORIAL PARK

Many Pass Swimmers' and Beginners' Tests; Over 80
Enjoy Picnic

The past week was a busy one at the Memorial Park playground, with 1500 as an official attendance. The Circus was followed by several days devoted to sports of all sorts, and a number of tournaments were organized. Thirty-two boys signed up for the tournament in Paddle Tennis, one of the most popular sports at the park.

Results were as follows: First round—C. Reynolds won from R. Spickler, by default; C. Dougherty defeated C. McDermott, 6-0, 6-0; R. Wallace defeated C. Trautman, 6-0, 6-0; W. Myers defeated E. Reed, 6-0, 6-3; J. Wallace defeated G. Sutters, 7-5, 6-14; C. Lezenby defeated P. Lezenby, 6-3, 6-3; P. Whartnaby defeated R. Speer, 6-4, 6-3; J. Reynolds defeated E. Wallace, 6-3, 6-1; W. McDermott defeated J. Perkins, 6-2, 6-0; C. Wingcar defeated H. Turner, 6-1, 6-1; E. Sutters defeated P. McDermott, 6-2, 6-3; L. Yearly won from J. Mathews by default; C. Wingmore defeated C. Hook, 6-4, 6-1.

Smith defeated F. Wallace, 6-0, 6-0; J. Yearly defeated R. Hullings, 6-1, 6-1; second round; W. Myers won from R. Wallace by default; R. Trautman defeated J. Wallace, 6-4, 12-10; P. Whartnaby defeated C. Lezenby, 6-0, 6-1; J. Reynolds defeated W. McDermott, 12-7, 6-3; L. Yearly defeated C. Wingmore, 6-0, 7-5; J. Yearly won from W. Smith by default. In the only semi-final match played to date, J. Yearly eliminated L. Yearly, 6-0, 6-0.

Life Saving Continues

The work in Red Cross life saving continued daily. The beginners' test, which consists of jumping into the water over the swimmer's own depth and swimming 25 feet, turn, and return 25 feet, was passed by Russell Hammelman, Edward Smith, Nan and Peggy Faunce, Donald Fox, Marion Pippit, Grace Horner, George Comer, Lewis Scheibler, Lorraine McClatchy, Harry Horner, Norman Delaney, John Tait, Douglas Nicol, Edward Hirst, Sylvia Reynolds, Ralph Frank, Eleanor Friday, Albert Sarra, Wayne Graf, Frank Matrika, Joseph Davis, Blanche Kriewell, Florence Koene, Llewellyn Stout, Emily Perkins and Russell Hammelman.

The swimmers' test requires the candidate to tread water for 30 seconds, float motionless, dive, plain or racing start, swim 100 yards using side and one other standard stroke, witness a demonstration of artificial respiration, swim 50 feet on the back, using the legs only and do a surface dive. This series of tests was successfully completed by Harry Horner, Paul Gibson, John MacAnnally, Llewellyn Stout, Doris Steele, Frank Wallace, Marjorie Koene, William Wilmore, Louis Cigliani, Emily Perkins and Russell Hammelman.

Beginners' and swimmers' tests are being given daily from 10:00 to 11:00 this week, while Junior life saving tests are being conducted at the Riverton Yacht Club from 11 to 12.

A most enjoyable affair was held on Wednesday, when the boys and girls who took part in the circus were given a doggie roast in the woods at East Riverton. A typical picnic menu was heartily indulged in and quickly disposed of by the 80 odd persons present.

Excavate Creek

Work of excavating the swimming hole in the creek that is used daily by hundreds of swimmers, was completed during the week, with the result that the creek is now about 3 feet deeper in front of the diving board than it had been. This makes for perfect safety in diving, and has added greatly to the already immense popularity of this spot.

Due to an error in last week's account, those of Justice Lefferts, who was in the Jockey dance, and Robert Carhart who was a member of the Bumpers' Band.

END OF THE STORY

An aftermath of the story of "Pat" Steedie's truck when it hurtled from the roadway and down an embankment twenty feet into the creek below, was seen in Albertson's repair shop last week. A huge "shoe" was on the bench and Bill, with infinite care, was fitting a twelve-inch patch into a jagged hole in its side. As he worked, he explained the methods of repairing such a hole, and that when the job was finished the "shoe" would be as good as new, tread markings and all. The accident happened one night last April when the Steedie truck, with "Pat" at the wheel, was forced from the roadway on a grade near Reading.

MIDNIGHT FIRE

Cause of Palmyra Blaze Remains Mystery to Police

Slight damage was done to the home of George C. Haslam, Second street and Cinnaminson avenue, Palmyra, in a blaze about 12:30 last Friday night. Fire companies from both Palmyra and Riverton responded to the alarm and confined the fire to the living room. Furniture in this room was only partially destroyed by the conflagration while the other rooms were slightly damaged by the water and chemicals employed by the firefighters. Both Haslam and the police are unable to name the cause of the blaze.

MAD DOG BITES TWO CHILDREN

Animal Killed by Officer Dorworth,
Of Cinnaminson Township, Clear
Case of Rabies

A mad dog was shot last Saturday evening near Five Points by Officer George F. Dorworth, of Cinnaminson township, after it had bitten two children near his home.

The first victim was Raymond Ventura, of Maple Shade, who was attacked while playing on the sidewalk near his home.

A little later a dog at the home of Mrs. Emma Kuntz on the Fork Landing road was bitten.

From there the crazed animal returned to the highway and attacked young Robert Engle, of Easton, Pa., who, with his parents had stopped along the roadside to eat their supper. Mr. Engle disabled the dog with a shovel, and Officer Dorworth finished it with his revolver.

Dorworth took the body of the dog to Maple Shade, where it was identified as the one which had bitten the Ventura boy.

Sunday morning the officer took the carcass to the State Laboratory at Trenton, where it was pronounced a clear case of rabies. Parents of both the boys who were bitten were notified and the little victims were given the Pasteur treatment.

CONOVER REPORTS ROTARY ASSEMBLY

President Attended 50th District Executive Conference at Rehoboth Beach

The principal business of interest at the meeting of the Palmyra Riverton Rotary Club last week consisted of a report of the Executive Assembly of the 50th district of Rotary held at Rehoboth Beach, Delaware, July 26-27-28.

The report was submitted to the local club by President Howard B. Conover who, with Mrs. Conover, attended the three-day session of the assembly.

Among those higher up in Rotary who were in attendance were District Governor Paul Burkholder, Past District Governor Samuel Smucker, and Charles Hoff.

At the assembly it was decided that each club should devote two meetings a year solely to the discussion of community subjects, and four meetings a year to the discussion of international subjects, which recommendation Mr. Conover transmitted to this club.

The Reverend Thilford Frazer, of Penns Grove, N. J., made a very strong appeal to the delegates attending the assembly, stressing the value of a better understanding between different races and nationalities as a means of bringing about world peace, with each nation regarding the other as a potential friend rather than a potential enemy.

Mr. Frazer, who is a Canadian by birth, has traveled extensively all over the world, and has first-hand knowledge of many peoples.

Many other social and important items were on the program which made a very interesting and instructive trip for Mr. and Mrs. Conover.

CONN. POMOLOGICAL SOCIETY VISITS HERE

Riverton Packing House of C. B. Lewis One of Stopping Places
Of Visiting Group

Fruit growers from Connecticut traveling in a large bus and several cars made up a party of some 40 growers who stopped over at three fruit farms and packing houses in the county on their way through to Bridgeton last week.

The Connecticut growers visited the packing house of C. B. Lewis, Riverton, where Mr. Lewis was packing Yellow Transparent. Mr. Lewis has installed a new improved type washer and was packing apples wrapped in oil paper under his brand "Pink Cheeks." The Connecticut growers were very much interested in this new type of washer for removing residue and were very keenly interested in Mr. Lewis' method and his reaction to the experimental tests being conducted with this washer at his packing house by the manufacturers.

The second stop in the county was made at the packing house of Lester Collins, Central Packing House. Here operations were in full swing in washing of pears and Wms. Reds. Mr. Collins was packing Williams for export at the time in boxes and the growers were keenly interested in the new machinery and equipment being installed here.

After circling through some of the fruit section around Moorestown, Emmor Roberts' Home Farm was visited, where Starr apples were being packed. The County Agent and Assistant County Agent accompanied the growers through the county and went with them as far as Preston Roberts' Somerdale Farm.

James S. Harfey

James S. Harfey, 85 years old, died at his home, 109 Lincoln avenue, Palmyra, Saturday.

Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon from the Snover Funeral Home with the Rev. George Lockett, pastor of the Central Baptist Church, Palmyra, officiating. Interment was made in Morgan Cemetery.

ROBINSON SNARES ARMY DESERTERS

Early Morning Patrol on Broad Street Yields Substantial
U. S. Reward

Officer John Robinson of the Riverton police, while doing patrol duty on Broad street Wednesday, at 3:15 a. m., spied a man walking along the road. Robinson was driving with his lights out and when the man heard the car approaching he jumped off the road but Robinson threw on the spot light and stopped him.

The stranger was unable to satisfactorily explain his presence in Riverton at such an early hour. Robinson searched him and found a scrap of paper with an address and a photograph of the man wearing an army cap. He locked the fellow in a cell and in the morning went to the address in Delair given on the slip of paper.

Questioning a young lady at that address, he found that the man's name was John Davidson, and that he had deserted from the army. He also learned of a companion of Davidson's named Antonio Amatto, who had also deserted. Robinson obtained Amatto's address in Camden. Robinson then called the Camden police and tipped them off concerning the other deserter. They acted immediately and caught him at his home.

Davidson and his companion were returned to Camp Dix Wednesday and now Robinson is eligible for $100.00 reward from the United States Government.

GERTRUDE CROUCH TO TEACH AT P. H. S.

Former P. H. S. Graduate to Replace Miss Fairchild in Business Course

Gertrude E. Crouch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. F. Crouch, of 100 Seventh street, Riverton, has accepted the position of teaching the business training course at Palmyra High School this coming school term. She will replace Miss Fairchild who resigned last spring.

Miss Crouch graduated four years ago from Palmyra High and spent the following two years at Rider College, Trenton, N. J. Following her graduation from Rider College she taught two years at Hefley Business College, New York City.

Miss Crouch is now taking the summer course at New York University where she is studying for her master's degree in business education.

PALMYRA BOY HURT AS 5 CARS COLLIDE AT HAMMONTON

Five Palmyra persons and a Trenton youth escaped serious injury Sunday evening when the sedan in which they were riding ran into four other cars which had collided on the White Horse Pike near Hammonton.

The occupants of the car, which was driven by Harold Lybrand, of Trenton, say the accident was caused by a machine cutting in just as a traffic light showed red causing the cars to stop suddenly, running into each other as they did.

The other occupants of the car besides Lybrand, were Mrs. Lillian Winters, Miss Edith Winters, Mrs. T. E. Winters, her son, Wayne, and Miss Estelle Ott, all of Palmyra. All escaped with only bruises and shock, except the Winters boy, who was badly cut about the face and body.

He is reported to be resting easily, and it is thought he will be able to be about again in about two weeks.

PROGRAM PLANNED FOR FATHERS, TOO

Cinnaminson P.T.A. Will Make Special Effort to Interest Fathers in Meetings

The Executive Committee of the Cinnaminson P.T.A. has been working on the program for the coming year. As our meetings have been largely attended by the mothers, it is felt that now is the time to stress the idea that a father is a parent also.

To this end the program is being built, and it is hoped to make it so pleasing that the men interested in children will all be moved to lend their aid by attending the meetings whenever possible, bringing with them ideas and suggestions that have come to them as fathers, understanding that the P. T. A. is an open forum for mutual help and appreciation between parents and teachers.

Plans for the membership drive will start the first of September and will under way. While all this is planned by the association, in the interests of the children, the School Board and the principal are doing much to better the physical conditions, both by improvements to the school building, and by rearranging the class rooms. The smaller children will now be in the old building, where little legs will have no, or fewer, steps to climb, while the higher grades will be on the third floor of the new building, where they will pass from room to room in their departmental work, with very little use of the stairs, all of which will be better from many points of view.

Riverton Free Library will reopen for circulation of books August 17th.

Wins $100 Reward

OFFICER ROBINSON

SEA SCOUTS TO STAGE REGATTA

Unique Event to be Held at Beverly Cove on Saturday,
August 15

On Saturday, August 15, one of the most unique scouting events ever conducted in Burlington county will be staged. It is the first Sea Scout regatta. The place selected by the county Sea Scout leaders is the Beverly Cove, home of two Beverly Sea Scout units.

Brian B. Kane, County Sea Scout Commissioner, has announced that not only have invitations been extended to Burlington county Sea Scout ships, of which there are now six, but that units from several of the nearby Scout Councils are also expected to compete.

A Sea Scout regatta presents a most colorful spectacle and the people attending will be well repaid for their time and trouble. Events will include life saving contests as well as boat and canoe races. A complete schedule will be published next week.

Already a number of prizes have been secured by Ralph Shaw, of the Beverly Sea Scout committee, and will be exhibited for ten days at the Worth Motor Company beginning Wednesday, August 5.

Sea Scouting is one of the most interesting of the Boy Scout programs. It is, as the name suggests, entirely a nautical program and is restricted to boys over 15 years of age. Boys may qualify by completing First Class Scout rank after reaching this age limit. Sea Scouting has all the adventurous appeal of the sea and is a distinctly character building program.

ARREST FOUR YOUTHS FOR FIGHTING; 3 MEN FOR DRUNKENNESS

Seven persons were arrested by Palmyra police for disorderly conduct and drunkenness charges within the past week.

Four youths, Charles Woods, Frank Tucholski, Pete Monicky and Stanley Adams, all of Parry, were arrested last Thursday night for being disorderly and fighting at Fourth street and Horace avenue, Palmyra.

All were fined $10 and costs at a hearing before Mayor George N. Wimer who served in the capacity of Police Justice during the illness of William L. Fichter.

Three men, all Philadelphians, were locked up late Saturday night on drunkenness charges. James Ryan, 6362 Ditman street, and William Donahue, were fined $5 and costs for being drunk and disorderly on the highway by Justice of the Peace Harry McCloskey, of Beverly. All paid their fines and were released.

TROOPERS LAUDED BY FEDERAL COMMITTEE

The New Jersey State Police Department is one of eight organizations of the type in the country which the Wickersham committee on Law Enforcement and Law Enforcement singled out to pay especial compliment in a report made public last Saturday.

The New Jersey troopers and the other policing units mentioned according to the report, "really patrol the rural areas and give protection to sections which otherwise would be left almost entirely at the mercy of the criminals."

In a discussion of communication between police departments the report forecasts a teletype hook-up with the states of New Jersey, Pennsylvania and New York linked.

Budget your time for doing the housework, as you do your income. Sit down with pencil and paper and make out a list of all the different jobs and the time it takes you to do them. You will thus save time and energy.

CRIES OF HOLDUP VICTIM BRING AID. THREE ARRESTED

Lawrence Betty Catches One Man on Scene of Robbery Near Palmyra

FOUR MEN HAD COME TO NEW JERSEY TO GET BEER

Two Other Assaults Nabbed
After Attempt to Flee
Through Marshes

Quick action on the part of the Palmyra police resulted in the capture of three men who late Saturday night attempted to rob another man who was driving a car on route 8-41, near Palmyra.

Jacob Rietsch, the victim, was taken to Cooper Hospital, Camden, and the three assailants are being held without bail in the county jail at Mount Holly.

Rietsch, who lives at 1245 Palmer street, Philadelphia, said he had brought the other three men to New Jersey to get some "good beer." They traveled to Paulsboro where they drank some beer. Rietsch displayed a roll of bills as he treated his companions.

"The Philadelphia man declares the others beat him about the head with an automobile wrench when they were riding on the 8-41 route near the intersection of Hilton road at about 11:30 o'clock. Rietsch's cries for help were heard by Patrolman Lawrence C. Morris, together with Police Officer C. Morris Beck, Captain Joseph Rogers and Patrolman Nelson Wallace, who conducted a search which lasted until two o'clock Sunday morning.

The two men were caught on the new highway near the Palmyra-Trenton bridge when a suburban Ford coupe, driven by Police Officer C. Morris Beck, Captain Joseph Rogers and Patrolman Nelson Wallace, conducted a search which lasted until two o'clock Sunday morning.

Both the victim and the arrested men were brought to Palmyra police headquarters. Rietsch being removed later to the Cooper Hospital, Camden.

Both together with Police Officer C. Morris Beck, Captain Joseph Rogers and Patrolman Nelson Wallace, conducted a search which lasted until two o'clock Sunday morning.

The two men were caught on the new highway near the Palmyra-Trenton bridge when a suburban Ford coupe, driven by Police Officer C. Morris Beck, Captain Joseph Rogers and Patrolman Nelson Wallace, conducted a search which lasted until two o'clock Sunday morning.

When arrested they gave their names as Timothy Stoneke, 2823 Almond street and Joseph Kent, 2228 Cedar street, both of Philadelphia. Hanratty, when questioned, confessed his part in the crime, but his companions, who were unaware that he had been arrested, denied all knowledge of the robbery. When they saw their companion had been caught, they also admitted implication in the attempted hold-up.

All three were held without bail at a hearing conducted by Justice of the Peace Harry McCloskey, of Beverly on charges of robbery and atrocious assault and battery, and were committed to the Mount Holly jail to await action of the grand jury.

Rietsch was treated at the hospital for severe cuts of the face and head, and bruises, but was released Monday.

URGES TOMATO GROWERS TO SAVE THEIR OWN SEED

"The tomato grower who does not save his own seed is gambling with crop failure unless he obtains seed or plants from sources known to be reliable." This is asserted by C. H. Nisley, extension service horticulturist of the New Jersey Agricultural Experiment Station, who says the additional effort required to save tomato seed from selected plants "will pay big dividends through increasing acre yields."

FOUR HURT IN CRASH ON FOUR-MILE ROAD

A car driven by Mrs. Marnie Buckalew, 31, of Pemberton, turned over at Four Mile Monday night when she lost control of the machine after striking another car. Mrs. Buckalew suffered three fractured ribs. In the car with her were Mrs. Edna Klein, who suffered cuts of the head and limbs; Charles Klein, 5, who received cuts of the head and skull injury; Joseph Klein, 6 months old, bruise of the head, and three other children, Lillian, Walter and Virginia Klein, who escaped with slight injuries. They were treated at the Burlington County Hospital, Mount Holly.

GENERAL MOTORS BUILDING AT CHICAGO FAIR TO COST MILLION

Signing of contracts authorizing the erection of a special building for a construction cost of close to $1,000,000, to be devoted exclusively to the display of General Motors products, at Chicago's International Exposition in 1933, is announced by W. S. Knudsen, president and general manager of the Chevrolet Motor Company.

MAN HELD IN THEFT

Charged with stealing $48 worth of window wash from a vacant house, Conrad King, Vincentown, was held in $500 bail tonight by Justice of the Peace Joseph C. Kingston, Jr. He was arrested by State Troopers Acker and Speed, Columbus barracks, on complaint of Robert Kirkbride, Vincentown, owner of the house.

PALMYRA COUNCIL TO ADJUST EXTRA STREET CHARGE

RALPH RIVERS SPEAKS IN BEHALF OF CITIZENS

Property Owners Pay Slightly More Than Cost Originally Estimated

The Palmyra Borough Council will meet the property owners of Lincoln avenue in an effort to satisfactorily settle the paving assessment question.

This conclusion was reached after much discussion at a special meeting of the Palmyra governing body Tuesday night.

The cause of the discussion was a refusal on the part of some of the citizens to pay the assessment of $137.69 per fifty foot lot for the paving improvements which were completed last October. Other residents, while not refusing to pay that amount, had made some protest.

Before the improvements had been made, Council had refused to push the matter of paving by "cranking it down the throats" of the people on that street and then forcing them to pay for it. Council had the legal power to force such an issue but preferred to remain in the good graces of the people and wait until they really desired such a step to be taken.

Lincoln avenue residents responded with a petition, signed by the owners of approximately sixty-five per cent of the properties along the street, asking that their street be paved.

Estimates Too Low

Previous estimates made by the Borough engineers had placed the cost of such a project at a maximum of $130 and the petition signed by the Lincoln avenue citizens stipulated that sum as the amount willing to be paid by the owners.

Ralph Rivers, owner of a 100-foot lot on Lincoln avenue, had been the one most active in procuring the signatures of the petitioning residents. At the council meeting he spoke in behalf of the citizens, saying he did not think it had been fair to them to have petitioned for the paving at one amount and then have that sum exceeded by approximately five per cent.

While the matter of the few extra dollars involved was a subject which was relatively unimportant, Mr. Rivers said he felt his personal honor was involved, since he had obtained the signatures of the people at a figure of $130. When the amount had exceeded that, it made him feel that he had talked the citizen into a deal and had convinced them, under false pretense, that the thing should be done.

Council to Co-operate

Councilman C. N. Buchholz said, that to him, it was a "rotten" situation and that he was extremely sorry that such an incident should have ever occurred. Legally, it was stated by Solicitor Joseph S. Law, he felt the citizens could be made to pay the assessments, but Council members felt the legal question was not fair to the residents. Council, in order to remain in the good graces of the people, should meet the moral obligation set forth by the petition, said Buchholz.

Mr. Rivers said he was impressed by the evident desire of Council to show fair play in the situation and was not making any complaint or criticism of Council, but wondered what could be done in the matter. Naturally, he said he felt badly because of his efforts in selling the paving idea to Lincoln avenue residents at one price and then have that amount surpassed by actual assessment. He said he could have had practically the same number of signatures at a stipulation of $140 if he had thought the assessment would run above the lower figure. At the $130 mark, he said, he had been told there would be plenty of margin for fluctuation in the cost of the project.

The members of the council were at a loss for a remedy to the situation which, they admitted, had been the result of their error. They wished to go on record as openly admitting and publicly apologizing for their mistake. One remedy could be made for the affair. This called for the entire retail of the bond issue which had already been provided for, but such a procedure would cost far more to the citizens than the payment of the increased assessment.

No Protest Made

The fact was deplored that no discussion or protest was made when the hearings before the tax assessment commission and Council were held. Had the question been raised at that time, the adjustment of the entire matter would be greatly simplified.

A committee was appointed from Council to meet those citizens who care to go into a further detailed discussion of the affair. It was felt such a meeting would be most fair to the residents, as Council would be able to best show its desire to remain in the good graces of the people by making a full explanation of the situation and working with the citizens rather than against them. This date for the meeting has not as yet been settled.

Further action was taken on the bond issue, made to cover the cost of paving Highland, Morgan and Lincoln avenues, when the ordinances were passed on final reading. The final passage of the ordinances was delayed because of an error on the part of Mr. Low at the time of their first publication.

Abandon Market St. A communication was received from the State Highway Commission notifying the Borough officials that Market street had been abandoned for use as a State Highway and had been turned over to the Borough. Hilton

New Jersey Boys To Visit Detroit As Winners In Coach Competition

EVERETT SCHENK

KENNETH JENSEN

Kenneth Jensen, of Metuchen, and Everett Schenk, of Summit, are preparing for a three-day visit in Detroit as guests of the Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild, representing New Jersey at the first annual meeting of Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild winners. The meeting will be held in the automobile capital next month.

Jensen and Schenk qualified for the honor, which is limited to two boys in each state, by constructing the best miniature automobile coaches in the $30,000 competition sponsored by the Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild. At the judging held recently in Newark, they were awarded the trip, $50 each in gold, and the right to have their models judged in the national contest for four university scholars.

Two other New Jersey boys, Frank Hochberg, of Hackensack, and Harold Albrecht, of Irvington, will also have their models judged in the scholarship competition, and receive $20 each as winners of second awards.

The Detroit meeting, to be held August 24, 25 and 26, will be filled with entertainment and instruction, says advice from Guild headquarters. It will include visits to industrial plants, a day at the General Motors Proving Ground, a dinner, a boat race, and a big league ball game. In addition only a few of the features.

The entire Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild program is to be repeated next year, the same list of awards being offered for outstanding coach models.

road, also used as a State Highway before the completion of route S-41 to the bridge plaza, has been returned to county supervision.

The matter of installing a fire plug at the intersection of S-41 and River road was referred to the Roads and Streets Committee. A communication from H. B. Williams called attention to the fact that there was no fire protection near this point, although the erection of three service stations would seem to make one a necessity.

BOROUGH ACCOUNTS IN EXCELLENT CONDITION IS REPORT OF AUDITOR

The Borough of Palmyra increased its surplus revenue during the year 1930 from $17,150.13 on January 1, to $17,639.16 on December 31, notwithstanding the amount of $6,238.10 had been appropriated and charged to the surplus during the year.

This was revealed in a report of the 1930 audit, submitted to the borough council at the last meeting, by William H. Welcker of Griffith Rockey and Company, borough auditors.

The current expenditures, according to the report, were well within the appropriations made in the 1930 budget, leaving an unexpended balance of $4,047.05.

Welcker, in his report, remarked that the accounts of Edwin A. Griest, tax collector and treasurer, were in excellent condition.

The total taxes assessed for the year 1930 was $231,555.31, of which the amount $153,935.04 had been collected, according to the report. This, Welcker said, is an excellent showing, considering the present depression.

"Moreover," he said, "of $32,115.70 in delinquent taxes, the amount of $57,247.41 has been collected, leaving a balance of only $25,000 unpaid."

The borough's indebtedness, the report states, was increased during the year by $100,000 due to the issuance of additional improvement bonds for the paving of Bridge Boulevard, Lincoln and Morgan avenues. The largest part of this amount to be returned to the borough by property holders benefiting by the improvement.

Robert Stetzel, 76 years old, died in Cooper Hospital, Camden, on Thursday morning following a short illness. He was stricken Saturday while enjoying a vacation in Wildwood and taken immediately to the hospital, where he underwent an operation on Monday morning. A complication of diseases was the cause of his death.

Funeral services will be held from his late residence, the home of his niece, Mr. Isaac Evans, 323 Pearl street, Moorestown, on Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with the Rev. C. W. MacCormac, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Moorestown, officiating. Interment will be made in Coleson Cemetery.

Mr. Stetzel is survived by a sister, Mrs. George Watson, Sr., of Riverton.

PHILA. TIPS AUTOIST JAILED AT HAINESPORT

Adolph Deputula, of 4544 Bermuda street, Philadelphia, after a Hainesport automobile accident Thursday of last week, was arrested by Constable John Cliver. Deputula's automobile crashed into the car of Jack Bailey, of Camden. Charged with driving while under the influence of liquor, Deputula pleaded guilty before Recorder Fred C. Horsfall at Hainesport. He was sent to the county jail for 30 days in default of a fine of $200. A recommendation is to be made for revocation of his license for two years.

SOUTH ORANGE MAN HELD ON THEFT CHARGE

Harry Brockman, 37, of South Orange, was held in $500 bail Monday night and committed to the Burlington county jail on a charge of stealing $47 from the home of Thomas Moore, Mount Holly. Moore alleges Brockman was a visitor at his home and after the theft cut the wires on three automobiles in front of his house to prevent his being followed. Brockman was arrested at South Orange by Sergeant Eugene Haussling, Columbus state police, and was given a hearing by Justice of the Peace Frank Lockman, Columbus.

GROUPS PREPARE FOR MARDI GRAS

Moorestown Children at Work Decorating Elaborate Costumes and Floats

Preparation for the Mardi Gras which will take place at the Moorestown playgrounds this Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock, is being made with keen interest on the part of the children.

The Girl Scouts are working in groups on floats and costumes, while others are busy with their own playground floats. Many are the surprises to be sprung in the way of unique decorations for bicycles, express wagons, toy automobiles, doll carriages, and so forth.

Divisions are: Decorated baby carriages and go-carts; decorated express wagons and toy automobiles; decorated bicycles, and individual costumes.

The parade will assemble at the Moorestown Community House at 7 o'clock and will march down Main street to the South Church street athletic field, where the judging will take place.

Lenora Lantern Parade An interesting lantern parade was held at the Lenora Community Center, Monday evening. An audience of forty gathered to watch the judging. Mrs. Wunderman and Mrs. F. Nelson Malnes chose the most original lanterns.

Those who received ribbons were: First, Anna Rasser, second, Elizabeth Acker, and third, Raymond Taylor.

JIM COMES HOME

Jim had been away two weeks on a business trip and when he got home Mae could hardly wait for him to get freshened up a bit before she told him about the floors he had said she could have Mr. Bowen refinish.

Jim: "Whew! It's been hot, and I am mighty glad to be home again. Now tell me about those floors you wanted done."

Mae: "Just look at this living room. Do you like it?"

Jim: "I sure do. Is it a different color?"

Mae: "Yes, the floor is tinted in the soft grains to harmonize with the rug. It costs no more and I think it is beautiful."

Jim: "What else did you have done?"

Mae: "The bedroom floors were in fair shape, and so Mr. Bowen could clean them up and put his finish on at a very small cost."

Jim: "All right Kid, I'm satisfied."

YOUTH DROWNS IN RANOCAS

Franklin Clark, 18-Year-Old Colored Lad, Loses Life at Stokes' Wharf

Franklin Clark, eighteen-year-old colored youth, of Creek road, Moorestown, was drowned when he jumped into Ranocas creek at Stokes' Wharf, near Centerton, about 9:15 Sunday morning.

When young Clark, whose companions said he was barely able to swim, failed to come to the surface of the water, several persons, including colored Boy Scouts who were camping nearby, out in row boats in an effort to locate his body.

The body was recovered about half an hour after the youth drowned, by Ralph Schaffer, 14 years old, colored Scout, of 2037 East Russell street, Philadelphia.

Croppers from the Delanco State Police station and colored Scouts worked for an hour and a half to revive the youth. In the meantime, Chief John H. Bradshaw, of Moorestown Police Department, sent to Burlington County Hospital, Mount Holly, for a pulmonologist, and with the aid of L. J. Gandy, of Mount Holly police department, and Edward P. Hyland, Moorestown water and sewer department superintendent, followed the troopers, working another three quarters of an hour before giving up all hopes of saving young Clark's life.

The youth was pronounced dead by Dr. Howard C. Curtis, and Coroner William P. Young, of Burlington, issued a certificate of death from heart failure. Dr. D. H. Bartine Ulmer was called on the scene shortly after the body was recovered.

Clark was the son of the late George W. Clark, who was killed when a truck struck his automobile at the Borton's Landing road grade crossing about seventeen months ago. Another one of the five children with whom Mrs. Clark was left has been in Cooper Hospital, Camden, for nearly a year, having undergone several serious operations. A short time ago Mrs. Clark was stricken with a heart ailment and died. A funeral service for the drowned youth will be held Wednesday afternoon.

HOME BURNS AS MAN ENJOYS FIRST NIGHT'S VACATION IN 40 YEARS

Fire damaged the property occupied by Howard Haines, Lumberton-Hainesport road, about 200 yards from the railroad station, to the extent of $2000 early Sunday morning.

Chief of Hainesport fire company, John H. Cliver, said there was evidence of kerosene about the living room, dining room and kitchen floors, which gave basis for the supposition the place might have been set afire.

Haines was away at the time of the fire, having gone to visit relatives in Atlantic City. He stated this was the first time in 40 years he had been away from home over night. It is the opinion of Cliver and others that the place was broken into and set on fire by outsiders.

The property was owned by C. J. Zaugg, who lives next door. Zaugg discovered the smoke about 4 a. m. Firemen from Hainesport, Ranocas, Lumberton and the Relief and America, of Mount Holly, were called.

Perhaps a lot of those delinquent taxpayers are hanging back in hope of getting a bargain offer.

Every State, City and Town To Participate in Nine Months Bicentennial Celebration

These points should be emphasized with respect to the Celebration of the Two Hundredth Anniversary of the Birth of George Washington next year:

1-It is sponsored by the United States Government; Congress created the United States George Washington Bicentennial Commission and the President of the United States is its chairman.

2-It will not be a world's fair or exposition, and it will not be held in any one place.

3-It will be a nation-wide, even a world-wide series of celebrations in which every state, city and town—every organization and institution, every home and individual—in this country, together with Americans and others in many foreign countries, will participate. Every community is expected to plan and carry out its own program of events, in cooperation with the United States Commission and the State Commissions.

4-It will last from Washington's Birthday, February 22, 1932, to Thanksgiving Day, November 24, 1932, with special local and national celebrations everywhere on all holidays, anniversaries or other days which can be connected with the life of George Washington.

5-While the ceremonies on February 22 should be especially elaborate and impressive, as marking the actual Two Hundredth Anniversary of George Washington's birth, arrangements also should be made for public gatherings, pageants, plays, processions, musical festivals, tableaux and other events at various times during the entire period of more than nine months. Every program should relate to the great life and work of the First President and Founder of the Republic. On Memorial Day, Independence Day, Labor Day, Thanksgiving Day and other national and local holidays or anniversaries there should be special programs, but the celebration should not be confined to these days.

6-It will take time to prepare the local programs and arrange for the local celebrations. The United States Commission urges mayors and other officials of every city and town in the country to appoint George Washington Bicentennial Commissions or Committees, in order to prepare for the events of the Bicentennial Year.

7-All organizations and institutions of whatever character—civil, business, labor, educational, religious, fraternal, literary, social and others—are urged to plan for a "George Washington Year" in 1932.

The United States George Washington Bicentennial Commission, Washington Building, Washington, D. C., will send literature and suggestions for local programs to any committee, organization or group that will write for them.

MISS LOUISE GEORGE WEDS W. E. CHEESMAN AT DOYLESTOWN, PA.

Miss Louise H. George, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John G. George, of the Ranocas road, Mount Holly, became the bride of W. Emory Cheesman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Cheesman, of Burlington, in the mans of the Doylestown Presbyterian Church Thursday evening of last week.

The bride, who is a niece of Mrs. William T. McAllister, of 7 East Broad street, Palmyra, was attired in model of white flat crepe, trimmed with blue and wore hat and jewelry to match.

She was attended by Mrs. Leon Raesley, of Burlington, as matron of honor, and Mrs. Ethel Henne, of Mount Holly, as bridesmaid. Mrs. Raesley wore a lovely gown of orchid chiffon, trimmed with black and a hat to match, while Miss Henne wore a white and brown crepe with a matching hat.

Leon Raesley, of Burlington, obliged as best man.

Following the ceremony the bridal party enjoyed a wedding supper at a seashore resort where Mr. and Mrs. Cheesman are spending a brief honeymoon.

MAPLE SHADE WOMAN HURT

Mrs. George Comfort, of Maple Shade, was seriously injured in an accident on State Highway S-41 near Maple Shade Saturday. She was taken to Burlington County Hospital, Mount Holly, with a possible skull fracture. She was in a car driven by Mr. and Mrs. Russell Crouthamel, of Maple Shade, when it was struck by a truck driven by Nelson Drobny, of Barnesboro, who was released by police in $500 bail to await the outcome of her injuries.

Never Sold Estate Stocks

Mr. Boren, who says Attorney General J. Evans will defend him, and Mrs. Goucher, who with her late husband, was appointed co-trustee, points out that he is merely serving Mrs. Goucher in an "advisory capacity" and has never had access to the "strong box." He further declares, "It is absolutely untrue that I have ever sold stock of my own to the estate, and that after selling it I left it in my own name. I have never sold the estate any stocks or bonds."

Mr. Boren also pointed out that the accounts of the estate have been audited and approved annually by certified public accountants and added that it was only a short time ago that the two heirs engaged accountants to check on the work of the men engaged by Mrs. Goucher, and that they, too, returned satisfactory reports.

RECALL CAMPFIRE ATTENDED BY 400

Large Crowd Enjoys Big Scout Event at Camp Mahalala

The annual recall campfire, held last Friday, closed a most successful year at Camp Mahalala, summer training camp of the Burlington county Boy Scouts.

Four hundred people, campers, parents, and friends, were present for this scout affair. The purpose of the campfire has always been to provide a suitable method of awarding the many Scout and camp insignia earned by the boys during their stay at camp.

After an excellent meal served in the Old Mill Mess Hall, the many visitors tried their skill at archery or horseshoes. Many were the stories they listened to as guided by campers. They were told of interesting happenings which certain objects recalled. Some of the guests preferred to watch the volley ball or other games which the boys and leaders were enjoying.

Campfire in Council Ring

Just at dusk the call to campfire sounded. In the council ring, which together with the huge tent pole, has been rebuilt by this year's campers, the traditional fire-lighting ceremonies were conducted. This Indian ceremony which has never been conducted save by Eagle Scouts, is one of the most interesting of Mahalala traditions. Never has a campfire in the council ring been lighted by matches. Indian methods of obtaining fire are always used. Following the fire-lighting, the Sioux Circle, War and Devil Dances were performed by Scouts in Indian costume, under the leadership of George Ott, of Palmyra.

The Court of Honor, which followed the dances, was conducted by Scout Executive M. A. Shaw. A number of high awards were made, including the receiving of one candidate for the rank of Eagle Scout.

Second Class Scout Badges

Second Class Scout badges were awarded by James J. Tomes, of Moorestown, to Scouts Augustus Shank, Troop 4, Mount Holly; Harold Kraw, Troop 1, Maple Shade, and Vernon Budden, Troop 2, Burlington.

First Class Scouts

First Class Scout awards were presented by Elwood Hoefner of Palmyra, to Scouts Edward Weston, of Brown's Mills; Walter Bauer, Troop 2, Palmyra; Harry Brown, and Richard Parsons, both of Troop 2, Burlington. The Rev. P. B. Morley, of Moorestown, presented Star Scout badges to Scouts John Cowan, Troop 5, Beverly, and Harry Brown, Troop 2, Burlington.

Walter Krall presented three Life Scout awards to Scouts Alfred Clark, Fred Lucas, and Lewis Rodman, all of Troop 2, Burlington.

William C. Coles, Jr., retiring president of the Eagle Scout Association, greeted Raymond Giron, of Troop 2, Burlington, as the latest candidate for the rank of Eagle Scout. This highest award in Scouting is granted only by the National Council upon recommendation of the Burlington Council organization.

Merit badges were presented by Brian Kane to the following Scouts:

Life-Saving, Swimming Badges

William Headington, Palmyra, life saving, swimming; Russell Rivers, Palmyra, pioneering; Ted Huns, Riverton, wood carving; Henry Naisby, Riverton, reading, hiking, photography; Jefferson Edwards, Riverton, life saving, leathercraft; Willard Laesle, Moorestown, bugling; S. K. Neal, Moorestown, civics, first aid, camping, pathfinding.

Walter Young, Jr., Moorestown, leathercraft

Arthur Raymond Moorestown, bird study, camping, life saving; Nick Silversen, Roeboling, wood carving, handicraft, public health; Joe Boddier, Roeboling, woodworking, metal work; Fred Linda, Roeboling, life saving, woodworking, swimming; Julian Burr, Roeboling, firemanship, life saving, metal work; John Cowan, Beverly, first aid, leathercraft; Winfield Erhardt, Beverly, pioneering.

Season's Best Campers

Best campers for 1931 season were awarded camp emblems by Don Nicoll, camp director. They are as follows: Augustus Shank, Rodger Haines, George Rhawn, Jack Knight, Harold Fuss, Albert Lewis, Paul Beatty, Walter Smith, Boyd Hookstra, Douglas Bott, Dick Detwiler, William Naylor, Daniel Thomas, Winfield Erhardt, Howard Murphy.

ESSEX IS NOW IN BAIRD'S COLUMN

Solid Support Assured G. O. P. Candidate in Most Populous County

David Baird, Jr., Republican gubernatorial nominee, has been assured the solid support of the most populous county of the state, Essex.

Mr. Baird, whose opponents based whatever hopes they had of winning the governorship on the belief they would carry Essex, received a terrific setback with the announcement by Jesse Salmon, chairman of the Essex County Republican committee, that he was entirely in accord with the Baird candidacy and would swing his entire following to the aid of the party nominee.

Mr. Salmon, one of the most influential political leaders in the state, has virtual control of all the county committee, each member enthusiastically behind his leadership. In addition to the chairman's support, Mr. Baird also has the assistance of Mayor Jerome O. Congleton, leader of a substantial following in the city of Newark; and State Senator Joseph G. Wolber and Edward D. Duffield, who have a large following throughout the county.

In addition to receiving optimistic reports in Essex because of the wholehearted endorsement of Mr. Salmon and other county leaders, Mr. Baird also has been encouraged with the effective work being done in two other counties which the Democrats have already claimed as theirs, Bergen and Middlesex. Indications also were clear that a Harry Moore Democratic candidate and personal choice of Mayor Frank Hague, of Jersey City, would fall far short of receiving the tremendous plurality he expected in the Democratic stronghold of Hudson.

GEN. BIRD SPENCER DIES AT SEA GIRT

President of State Firemen's Association Succumbs to Attack of Apoplexy

Brigadier General Bird W. Spencer, of Passaic, died on Tuesday evening of last week at the Club House at Camp Larson, Sea Girt. Death was due to apoplexy.

General Spencer was well known throughout the state. He has long been active in civic and military life and was one of the main organizers of the State Firemen's Association, of which he has been president for over fifty years.

Military funeral services were conducted at Sea Girt Thursday. On Friday services were conducted in St. John's P. E. Church, Passaic, where the general resided.

AUTO CUTS DOWN CORN AND YOUTHS ARE FINED

Four youths, charged with disorderly conduct on the farm managed by Lester Holtz, in Moorestown township, and arrested by Trooper Thomas Forkin, of the Delaware state police barracks, were arraigned Friday night before Justice of the Peace Harry McCloskey, of Beverly, and each fined $3 and $2 costs. They were: Stephen DeSanto, of Bridgeboro; Lucia DeSanto, of Bridgeboro; Joseph Fortune, of Bridgeboro; and John Brown, of Bordentown. When Forkin arrested them they were running through a corn field on the Holtz farm with an auto, moving the corn down and then taking it. They were ordered by McCloskey to pay damages of $15.

with their troops will also receive camp emblems. They are: Herbert Reed, Troop 3, Roeboling; Brian Kane, Troop 5, Beverly; Alfred Branson, Troop 1, Palmyra; Bill McGough, Troop 3, Roeboling; Nelson Ross, Troop 2, Palmyra; Larwood Caldwell, Troop 1, Maple Shade; William C. ## COLLINS DEFIANT IN CHESTER ROW

Committee Head Refuses to be Shorn of "One-Man" Control

A resolution was introduced demanding that the duties of Charles L. Collins, chairman, be curtailed at last week's meeting of Chester Township Committee in Maple Shade.

The resolution concerning Collins read by Samuel Willett, township clerk, was as follows:

"Owing to the fact that Mr. Charles L. Collins holds at this time five (5) departments, where other members of the township committee hold one (1) or part of one, and the running of these departments puts too great a responsibility on one man, to the exclusion of the rest of the committee, and therefore the departments held by Mr. Collins do not get the proper attention to the satisfaction of the rest of the committee."

"Thereon," he it resolved by the Chester township committee, that Mr. Charles Collins be relieved from the duties of chairman of the township and the department of finance, and Mr. John Potje is hereby appointed chairman of the township committee and the department of finance.

Water, Sewer for Wolf

"Be it further resolved, that Mr. Charles Collins is hereby relieved from the duties of chairman of the water and sewer department and Mr. Ernest J. Wolff is hereby appointed chairman.

"Be it further resolved that Mr. Charles Collins is hereby appointed chairman of the department of sidewalks and street lights."

"Be it further resolved that Mr. Charles Collins is hereby requested to turn over all communications and documents pertaining to township business to the township clerk."

The resolution cited that a readjustment of the various departments of the township was desired to further assure the economic and efficient government of the township.

However, with both John Potje and Ernest Wolff in favor of the shearing resolution, Collins stated emphatically that "inasmuch as I was appointed for the ensuing year, I refuse to resign."

Can Stay, Says Hillman

George M. Hillman, of Moorestown, township solicitor, took the attitude of the department of the committee is elected or appointed for a specified time, he cannot be removed, despite the fact that he may have proved incompetent to carry on the duties of his office. Harry Luckel, a former official of the township, took exception to this ruling, and the entire room was in an uproar which required the repeated bawling of Collins' gavel.

"If Collins is unable to run his departments as they should be run, that is now taken care of in his time is up," quipped Luckel. "Look that way," replied Hillman. Threats of "impeachment" were heard on all sides.

John Farren, county committee-man from the first district, charged that it now takes six men in the water and sewer departments to perform the work formerly done by three men. It was further established that Charles Van Geel, a former engineer in the water department was put back to work by Collins without knowledge of the other two committeemen, Potje and Wolff.

SAMUEL COLES DIES SUDDENLY

Heart Disease Fatal to Moorestownian; Former Delaware Township Clerk

Samuel R. Coles, 66 years old, died suddenly of heart disease on Saturday afternoon, while dressing at his home on the corner of Oak and Lippincott avenues, Moorestown.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock from the Moorestown Friends' Meeting House, with William Grobler, funeral director, in charge. Interment was made in Colestown cemetery.

Mr. Coles was widely known in this vicinity, having served as clerk of Delaware township for thirty-three years, succeeding his father, William Coles.

He was born on the ancestral farm of the Coles' family, at Colestown, which was founded by the family, and lived there until about six years ago when he moved to his late residence in Moorestown.

The deceased was an active member of the Society of Friends, and was secretary of Singhook Camp Association. He belonged to Moorestown Grange and was actively interested in the Moorestown Community House Quilt Club, in which he won the MacGeorge cup for two years in succession and the Comfort cup one year.

Surviving him are his widow, Lydia C. Coles, two sons, Marvin D. Coles and Wilmer D. Coles, and two sisters, Mrs. Aaron L. Collins and Mrs. James McCray.

WINE ROAST AT LENOLA

Twenty-five enthusiastic boys and girls came to the out-of-doors wine roast held at the Lenola Community Center, Saturday morning. Games of tag, bat ball, and dodge ball were played to work up a good appetite. Rain clouds started to threaten a down-pour but evidently decided not to break up the party after all. A potato and bean roast is planned on August 15.

DEMOCRATS TO HOLD STATE CONVENTION

Last week saw the return from his vacation of A. Harry Moore, Democratic nominee, for Governor, and his immediate resumption of campaigning. Mr. Moore wasn't back 48 hours when he re-commenced his informal tour of various sections of the state.

Simultaneous with the candidate's return, it was announced that a state convention to ratify his nomination would be held at the municipal auditorium in Asbury Park Saturday afternoon, August 22. Each county will send large delegations, and a gathering of more than 5,000 is expected.

Speakers at the convention will be Mr. Moore, Mayor Frank Hague, Democratic state leader and vice chairman of the Democratic National Committee, former motor vehicle commissioner William L. Dill, former Governor George S. Sizler, and leaders of the different counties.

MARLTON TO FIGHT TO RETAIN RR LINE

Business Interests, Officials Resist Impression They Favor Highway Substitute

Marlton has taken sides in the project to close permanently the Marlton and Medford branch of the Pennsylvania Railroad, which runs here from Haddonfield. No trains have been operated on the line for some time.

A few weeks ago sentiment formed in opposition to the proposed plan to make a new state highway of the roadbed. Farmers and business men indicated intentions of fighting it before the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Later, however, Henry Lippincott, Evesham township engineer charged that sentiment in Marlton was strongly in favor of the new highway plan. Check up on Lippincott's assertion revealed that there is strong difference of opinion through the community.

C. Ellis Read, chairman of the township committee, denied that the committee had put aside its decision to fight the continuation of the railroad branch operation.

"We are in this fight to a finish," said Read. "We will oppose all effort of the railroad company to abandon this road, at least to Shamley siding, about two miles west of Marlton where the track crosses Marlton pike."

Read further said: "We have Senator Clifford Powell fighting for us, and we are with our backs to the wall fighting for Marlton, first, last and all the time."

When Read was informed of the attitude Lippincott had taken, he stated: "Well, it is a petition filled with the signatures of 500 signers, who protest against removal of the railroad looks like we have given up the fight, then I don't know what I'm talking about. We're in this fight to keep the railroad in Marlton as long as there's any fight in me, and I speak for all the rest of the committee, too."

"If Collins is unable to run his departments as they should be run, that is now taken care of in his time is up," quipped Luckel. "Look that way," replied Hillman. Threats of "impeachment" were heard on all sides.

It was further established that Charles Van Geel, a former engineer in the water department was put back to work by Collins without knowledge of the other two committeemen, Potje and Wolff.

TIME TO CURB ROAD-HOGGING, SPEEDING BUSES

The Keystone Automobile Club of New Jersey, in a statement, attacks "road-hog buses", declaring, "There is little doubt that many of the accidents on our highways are due, at least in part, to the arbitrary exercise of exclusive highway 'rights' by buses . . . but it is not in speed alone that they menace other users of the public roads."

Traffic inspectors for the New Jersey Public Utility Commission, in a recent checkup, found that speeding by buses on the White Horse pike is a common occurrence. The speed limit in New Jersey is forty miles an hour, yet the Utility Commission checkers found the average speed for buses on the White Horse pike to be between forty-five and fifty miles an hour. They reported buses traveling at a rate of speed of fifty-five to sixty miles an hour is not uncommon. One bus they checked was zipping along the road at a seventy-two-mile-an-hour gait.

And, as the auto club points out, it is not their speed alone that make these vehicles dangerous. Bus drivers evidently consider themselves privileged knights of the road, for although the state may erect a sign every mile telling auto operators to "Keep to right; pass in center", these menaces of the road continue on their merry way . . . down the center of the highway.

Bus drivers flout such directions as "keep to the right". Mile after mile they hog the center lane, sending other vehicles to the side of the highway, scurrying out of their way as they thunder along.

Buses are given no special consideration under the law, so there is no reason why the operators should be given any more freedom than is accorded the average driver.

It is true that the buses must keep to some kind of a schedule if they are to be any value as a medium of transportation, but it is nevertheless true that many lives are endangered when a bus is permitted to travel through present-day traffic at a speed of fifty miles an hour . . . or more!

The authorities should recognize these road-hogging, speeding buses as a real menace and take action to curb them.

A SUGGESTION

Nothing would help business more at this particular juncture than for employers of labor whose situation justifies them in doing so, to tell the men who are working for them that they may be sure of holding their jobs this fall and winter. Such assurance over the country would release billions of dollars of buying power the stimulation of which would be felt immediately.

WAY OF LIFE

BY

Look at the Average

One of my friends, who now occupies a high position, started life as a salesman for the National Cash Register Company.

He thought that if he could sell cash registers to Marshall Field it would be a big feather in his cap, and the example of this leading store would have influence with smaller merchants all over the country.

So he called at Field's and made his talk but received no encouragement. The next year he called again, and the next . . . and the next. The tenth year he came away with an order for $150,000.

In telling me about it, he remarked: "I said to myself, that's $150,000 worth of business, for each of the ten years. Not a bad average at all."

In 1929, when stock prices were crashing and even the richest men were feeling poor, a New York banker met a capitalist whose fortune, on paper, had shrunk many million dollars. He was in a blue funk.

The banker said: "You ought to have learned better than this. Don't you remember back in 1920 how worried you were, and how you sent for me to reassure you? Even at present prices you must be worth ten times what you were then. If so, your average is mighty good. What are you kicking about?"

A young man and young woman were married. After the ceremony the bride's father, a veteran business man who had fought hard for his fortune, took them into his study. "I want to say just one thing to you," he remarked. "You must not expect that all your years will be good."

STICKING TO BUSINESS

One of the lessons which business men have learned as a result of the experience of the past two years is that no business will run itself. We think Henry Ford was about right when he said the other day that one of the principal causes of the business slump was that too many business men made speculating their business and left the management of their real business to their employees.

We have never seen a business yet that would run on for any considerable length of time without the personal attention of the man or men whose money is invested in it. The boss can take a vacation for a while, when things are running smoothly, and his business will go ahead on momentum till competition gets too strong, or collections begin to fall off. But whether it is a big automobile business like Henry Ford's, or an ordinary country store, the only person who can make the decisions which have to be made in a crisis is the boss himself. If he leaves that function to others he is heading for trouble.

We know of many business men who thought that because they had got a business well established and earning a good income they could treat it as a gold mine, continuing to take money out without putting any effort or thought in. We know a man who tried to run a newspaper that way once. He is not in the newspaper business any more.

The only people who have any right to speculate, as we see it, are the ones upon whose intelligence and business experience nobody is dependent. A man who hasn't anything to lose can afford to take a chance. The man who has retired from business and is living on the income of his invested capital can do as he pleases with it. But the man who is responsible for running a business upon which the prosperity of his community depends has no more right to divert his energies into speculative channels than has the head of a bank to use the depositor's money to gamble with.

AS A MATTER OF NEWS

Those who endeavor to keep in touch with matters relating to the 18th Amendment will be interested in a recent article in the Christian Century calling attention to the fact that prohibition repeal bills in some form or other met defeat during the sessions of 1930-31 in the legislatures of California, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Iowa, Indiana, Missouri, New Jersey, Oklahoma, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Utah, and at the hands of the governor's veto in Illinois.

There are some interesting names on that list—even the two states that refused to ratify the 18th Amendment are there. In New Jersey also, generally supposed the wettest state in the Union, all wet bills and resolutions died in the committee. Referenda for the repeal of state prohibition laws were defeated in the legislatures of California, Indiana, Missouri, Nebraska, New Jersey, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Washington. Resolutions asking for a constitutional convention to repeal the 18th Amendment were introduced and defeated in New Jersey, Ohio, South Dakota and Wisconsin. (Even Wisconsin).

Bills legalizing beer, wine or other liquors were introduced and defeated in the legislatures of Alabama, Nebraska, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, South Dakota and Washington. On the other hand, a total of 42 states took action either to sustain or strengthen some aspects of their liquor laws.

TODAY and TOMORROW

SILVER

If I had loose capital to invest today I would buy silver. The metal is selling now at the lowest price in history, measured by the gold standard. In the money market of the world last week it was under twenty-nine cents an ounce. The average price of silver for the past fifty years has been well above sixty cents an ounce; during and just after the war it touched $1.30.

Silver is certain to come back. The President of Mexico has issued a decree restoring silver to its old position as money. One of the causes of the unrest of India has been the demonetizing of silver, and economists think that silver will be restored to its old position there. Anybody who buys silver now stands a good chance of doubling his money within three or four years, possibly sooner. And if he needs cash in the meantime silver is a commodity on which an extremely high percentage of its market value can always be borrowed.

DAVIS

Keep an eye on Norman H. Davis, the gentleman who has just been appointed the American member of the Finance Committee of the League of Nations. Mr. Davis has the confidence of financial leaders and of statesmen on both sides of the Atlantic to a degree approached only by a few Americans. A native of Tennessee, Mr. Davis was one of President Wilson's chief financial advisers in the peace negotiations. Then he came back to America, first as Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, then as Under Secretary of State, and for a time was acting head of the State Department. His new job is to guide the nations of Europe in financial matters.

Mr. Davis has never run for elective office, but if the Democrats elect a President next year or in 1936 I venture now the prediction that Norman H. Davis will hold a high position in the Cabinet or the Diplomatic Service.

BAKER

Another Democrat worth keeping an eye on is Newton D. Baker. He is a Democrat, but I don't think he will be the party's nominee in 1932. He will be heard from in the campaign, however, and will figure large in any Democratic administration in his lifetime.

Mr. Baker is, I believe, the most effective and convincing orator in American public life today. His address last week before the Institute of Politics in Williamstown, Mass., was the clearest exposition of the present political-economic condition of the world that I have read.

CHICAGO

I met Anton Cermak, the mayor of Chicago the other day. He doesn't talk or act like a politician, but like the business man which he is. He has all the newspapers of Chicago behind him in an effort to "clean up" that troubled city, and that is something which no mayor has had in many years. And he is cleaning things up.

Mayor Cermak is enthusiastic in his "booth" of the World's Fair, which is being held in Chicago in 1933, commemorating the 100th anniversary of the founding of the city. Chicago itself is an exhibit which ought to draw millions of visitors. No city in history ever accomplished so much or developed so effectively in but a hundred years as Chicago has done. I know of no great city where the common people have had as good a time as they do in Chicago or get so much out of the public parks, playgrounds, and waterfront. I know of no other city where the people are so proud of their spirit among all of its people. Nobody can possibly know America until he knows Chicago.

TELEPHONE

The radio telephone system across the Atlantic is working so well that the American Telephone & Telegraph Company announces that it will soon begin telephone service across the Pacific. That will be another preventer of war.

Without the trans-American telephone, President Hoover's program of international cooperation to relieve Germany's economic distress could not have been carried out. It enabled the President to talk as freely to Secretaries Mellon and Stimson when they were in Paris and London as if they had been in Washington.

The difference between telephoning and cabling in a case like this, one of the President's close friends explained to me, is that, even when a cable message is put in secret code there is a record of it some where, and diplomacy makes it impossible to express beliefs and opinions freely or to tell the actual complete facts in all cases. Since there is always the chance that the record will some day be unearthed and made public. But over the telephone everybody could say exactly what they thought and there were no long waits for an answer.

"If we had had telephone facilities in 1914 as we have now," one statesman said recently discussing this episode, "the European war could have been averted."

JOHNSON FLIES TO RIO FROM BASE IN JUNGLES

E. R. Penmore Johnson, of Bridgeboro road, Moorestown, and David Newell, members of the expedition to Mato Grosso, led by Captain Vladimir Perillo, returned to Rio Tuesday in the airplane. They had been using for several months for exploration in Western Brazil. The plane will be overhauled and Mr. Johnson will return to the exploration base. Newell is sailing for New York on Friday.

"WHAT IS TO COME?"

By William Ernest Henley

What is to come we know not. But we know
That what has been was good—
Was good to show,
Better to hide, and best of all to bear.

We are the masters of the days that were;
We have lived, we have loved, we have suffered . . . even so.

Shall we not take the ebb who had the flow?
Life was our friend. Now, if it be our foe,
Dear, thought it spoil and break us—
—need we care?

What is to come?
Let the great winds their worst and wildest blow,
Or the gold weather round us melow slow.

We have fulfilled ourselves, and we can dare.
And we can conquer, though we may not share.
In the quiet of the after-glow
What is to come.

Political News from Trenton

By CHARLES R. BACON

Good news comes out of Essex and must give the Republican managers cause for great joy and satisfaction. But what a sorry blow to the hopes and expectations of the Democratic crowd! There had been for quite a while widespread fear that the factional differences in Essex might interfere seriously with the work of the campaign and reduce the probable lead of Mr. Baird for Governor. Indeed, the Democrats were making a lot of capital out of the supposed defection of Republican hosts and giving out statements of their own as to the disastrous effects it would have upon the Republican candidate.

Nothing of the sort now appears at all probable. Indeed, the present outlook is for a sweeping victory for the Republicans and that means an overwhelming victory in the whole state. Mr. Baird went into the Essex situation with characteristic energy. He had known, quite intimately, most of the details. He had been in close contact with all the leaders there and knew just what to expect from any serious faction. And then he held a conference with County Chairman Jesse Salmon, storm center of most of the factional strife. They had a happy chat and Chairman Salmon assured the Republican candidate that the situation presented nothing of a detrimental character at all. It had all been baseless propaganda for the Democrats, who expected to make heavy inroads upon the Republican candidate there. He said things were in excellent shape and all the sectional leaders ready to jump into the fray with enthusiasm. Clubs are being formed in all the city wards, the boroughs and townships, and before the summer is over the organization will be in splendid form for the battle just ahead.

It was mighty cheering information for Mr. Baird, but it was just what he has been getting all over the state. Everywhere he goes he is encouraged to learn that the so-called "party break" has no shadow of truth; that at no time in years has there been better feeling within the lines, or greater confidence in the candidate. When it is possible for Essex, the biggest and brightest county in the Republican column, to get into harmony for the ticket there is scarcely any probability of other counties remaining out in the drizzle.

3 RAIDS ON 'BOOTLEGGER ROW' YIELD BOOZE AT BURLINGTON

"Bootleggers' Row," as op block on Water street, Mount Holly is known, was the scene of three raids by county detectives, local police and state troopers, with arrest of three persons and seizure of three gallons of liquor and four bottles of beer. The raids also visited a West Washington street address, arrested one man and seized 22 bottles of beer and one pint of liquor. Ten state troopers, from Delaware, Columbia and New Egypt barracks, under direction of Corporal Jarvis Wood of Delaware, County Detectives Clifford D. Cain and Clinton Zeller and Police Lieutenant Harry Goldy and Patrolman Frank Bowen divided into four groups and visited the four places at 10 a. m.

GIRL REFUSES TO SIT, Jailed FOR BEING TIPSY

A blonde, who refused to give her name or sit down during her hearing, was sentenced to 90 days in the Burlington county jail for being drunk and disorderly Saturday night at Wrightstown. Recorder Joseph C. Kingston threatened to send her to jail for a year if she did not sit down during the hearing but she simply smiled at him and remained standing. "I don't care," she replied with a laugh. State police arrested the girl who is attractive and says she lives in Trenton.

What—No Chivalry?

We read in a county paper about a young man who kissed his lady fair (with full consent and approval of all concerned) while out motoring a few days ago. It seems the car went on a slight rampage during the time it was being neglected and damaged itself to the extent of $5. Our contemporary comments "rather dear, no matter who the young lady was."

Now, that's what we call lack of appreciation.

Does It Pay Me To Buy at Home?

Can I save money? Fully ninety per cent. of my purchases are of standard goods sold at fixed prices everywhere. The cost of my time and of my car at ten cents a mile is a trifle when I buy at home. It adds greatly to the cost of goods bought at a distance.

Can I get good service at home? Groceries or insurance, motion pictures or permanent waves, have I not always found the goods and the service about identical here with those of New York or Philadelphia? If I phone, delivery is a matter of minutes or hours, not days, and the same with exchanges.

Is it less trouble to shop at home? Well, I do not worry over parking places or tickets, no one needs to stay with the children, my entire shopping takes a small part of my morning, not my whole day.

Do I protect my own income? I or some members of my family lives by selling his goods and services to my neighbor at home. In fairness they expect our patronage. If I expect the local merchant, plumber, electrician, insurance agent, lawyer, druggist or doctor to serve me in emergencies I better help make sure they can be here to serve me by giving them my regular trade.

For my own advantage I will TRY TO BUY AT HOME FIRST. I WILL BUY FROM THOSE WHO BUY FROM ME.

COOKING VEGETABLES

LOSS of the green color of some vegetables does not mean that the green pigment is drawn out into the boiling water, but it indicates a change has actually taken place within the food. This change is caused by too much or too long heating and by the presence of acid. The acid comes from the peas and beans themselves.

To prevent a change of color, vegetables must be cooked quickly. The addition of a "pinch of soda" is an age old habit. Soda is an alkali and acts as a neutralizing agent. It not only prevents loss of color, but actually intensifies the color. Too much soda makes vegetables limp and slimy and destroys some of the vitamins, so beware of the soda habit in cooking. When you use it, you must add no more than one sixteenth of a teaspoonful to a quart of water. But, remember, you will not need soda if peas and beans are cooked quickly.

Vegetables of other colors do not require as much attention as the green ones; of the red variety, the best often loses some of its color and red cabbage is apt to turn a bluish shade. A little lemon juice or a tart apple sliced and added to the water will keep the cabbage red, as it should be.

White vegetables such as cabbage, cauliflower and onions sometimes turn a dirty gray color in cooking. This should not happen if they are boiled quickly (uncovered) in plenty of water.

The Choice of Young Cohen

By IRVIN S. COBB

IT SO befell in the months preceding our entry into the Great War that in a suburb of Chicago a preparedness league was organized. Swept away by patriotic love for his adopted country a youth named

Cohen joined it. Now, military drill was a part of the duties of a member, and young Cohen did not take with any great amount of enthusiasm to this feature. One evening the commander of his squad sought to liven him. "Back up, Herman!" he said. "You learn how to be a soldier, and some of these days you may go back to the old country—to Poland—and be a field marshal."

"I think," said Herman, "I'd rather stay here and be Marshall Field."

A cordial invitation is given to all our services. Bible School, 10:00 a. m. The prayer meetings during August will be in charge of the Deacons.

Presbyterian

(Charles T. Bates, Minister)

Calvary Presbyterian Church will hold its morning service of worship Sunday at 11 o'clock. The Rev. Kenneth Tyson of Barrow-in-Furness, England, will fill the pulpit in the absence of the pastor. All devotions of the Church School will meet at 10 o'clock.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"SPIRIT" will be the subject of the Lesson Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, August 9, 1931.

The Golden Text is: "If we live in the Spirit, let us also walk in the Spirit" (Galatians 5:25).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And it came to pass, when he was in a certain city, behold a man full of leprosy, who seeing Jesus fell on his face, and besought him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean. And he put forth his hand, and touched him" (Luke 14:1-3).

MARLTON NOTES

After suffering for more than eight years from sleeping sickness, Mrs. Mary Cooper, 28, wife of a Marlton farmer, died Thursday in the Camden County General Hospital at Lakehurst. The woman's husband, George L. Cooper, was at her bedside when death came.

Dr. Flavel H. Copping is taking a two weeks' vacation and the Doctor and Mrs. Copping left Wednesday of last week to visit his former home at Brevard, North Carolina.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Bareford of Philadelphia are guests at the Bareford home. Mrs. Biddle, also of Philadelphia, was a guest at this home for several days last week.

The married men's base ball team again defeated the single men's and boys' team. The score was 6 to 5 in the final game last week. The married players merely toyed with their inexperienced opponents, not wishing to discourage them.

In the absence of Pastor Fryer on Sunday the Rev. Carl H. Morgan, of the Eastern Theological Seminary, occupied the pulpit in the Baptist Church. The sacrament of communion was observed at the morning service.

Mrs. Amelia Bower, of Palmyra, widow of the Rev. Bower, a former pastor of Marlton Baptist Church, is the guest of Mrs. Anne Alcott.

The Rev. Mr. Fryer was on a trip to Rhode Island over the week-end and on Sunday he preached in the famous old Rogers, Williams Church, at Providence.

The Rev. Yard, District Superintendent of the Trenton District M. E. Churches, was the speaker in the Sunday evening Union Service on the Baptist Church lawn.

Mr. and Mrs. William Fowler and children and Mrs. Julia Fowler spent last week at Ship Bottom.

John Jennings, who lives on the former Albert Sharp farm, was seriously ill during last week. His ailments are believed to be appendicitis. He is reported as improving.

May, the four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward King, of Blue Anchor street, swallowed an open safety pin. Efforts to dislodge the pin failed and the Delaware township ambulance was summoned and the child was rushed to the Burlington County Hospital, Mount Holly. At the hospital an X-ray examination showed that the pin had passed to the stomach and it is John saying, I will be thou clean. And immediately the leprosy departed from him" (Luke 8:12, 13).

The Lesson Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Jesus did his own work by the one Spirit, he said. My Father worketh hitherto, and I work" (p. 79). He showed that diseases were cast out neither by corporeality but by material medicine, not by hygiene but by the divine Spirit, casting out the errors of mortal mind" (p. 138).

OFFER OF NURSING SOCIETY DECLINED BY SCHOOL BOARD

Acceptance Would Conflict With Resolution of Palmyra Borough Council

APPOINTMENT OF NEW NURSE SET FOR AUG. 11

Miss Gertrude Cronch, P. H. S. Alumna, Elected to Faculty Position

The appointment of a new hygiene nurse was a subject for much discussion among members of the Palmyra School Board at the regular monthly meeting held last Thursday night.

The School Board has not as yet appointed any successor to Miss O. W. Hyland, nurse of last year. In an effort to aid the board in solving the nursing problem, the Visiting Nurse Society sent a communication offering its services for the following school year at a sum of $1050.

Their offer included all services heretofore rendered by the hygiene nurse, including the transportation of the various patients to the County Hospital at Mount Holly.

The transportation of the children under care of the hygiene nurse has been for the past several years the chief problem confronting both the board and the school board. The temporary solution of this problem was found last year when private citizens offered their automobiles for use. Such a condition resting upon the individual efforts of citizens is not a permanent solution. It is probable that to very few people in Moorestown will the name Rodman have any meaning, or call to mind any pictures of the past, and yet this is the earliest name associated with the community.

Among the papers of Judge Clayton Lippincott, first president of the Moorestown National Bank and a distinguished citizen and antiquarian, have been found extensive notes and data in regard to the first ownership of land in Moorestown.

From these it is learned that in the year 1682 the lordship of West New Jersey authorized the laying out of a public road from Burlington to Salem, wrote the judge. A portion of the road in a general way to the present Main street. In John Rodman from New England in 1684, the first land survey of 500 acres of land in Chester, extending from near the toll-gate on the Mount Holly and Moorestown Turnpike to the West side of Friends Meeting and School property, he added. The N. W. Corner is near the old house formerly owned by Anne Stokes, now by Joseph L. Sullivan.

The Southern line was near Washington Bridge Run, wrote Judge Lippincott. The northern line near the present Oak Avenue.

Many of the older residents remember the Old Toll Gate which stood at the junction of East Main street and the Burlington Landing Road. Wagon Bridge Run is the old name for the stream to the south of Moorestown.

Further on the judge wrote, "Thomas Rodman from Rhode Island in 1686 had surveyed 500 acres of land adjoining the John Rodman tract on the West and extending past the summit of Fairview."

The scattered settlement on these tracts was known at first as Rodmantown and is so described in old deeds but by 1747 the name disappears from the public records and is replaced by Moorestown.

The Rodman Building stands near the dividing line between the two Rodman tracts, and it seems peculiarly appropriate that the building formerly occupied by the oldest Trust Company in Burlington County should perpetuate the name of the first land owner in this neighborhood.

The alterations are being made by Collins B. Rogers Inc. and when finished the building will be occupied by the Workmen's Cooperative Loan Association, Moorestown Building and Loan Association, Township Treasurer Walter F. Middleton and J. R. Kieran, an optician with offices in Riverside.

But on July 13 the Town Fathers decided some people either couldn't or wouldn't pay, regardless of threats of discontinued service, and they announced their "meant business."

The situation has been allowed to exist just about long enough, the Town Fathers decided. They felt they were doing an injustice to the other persons in the town who pay their bills, and since the water and sewer department has to borrow money to meet operating costs when the bills are not paid, it was definitely determined that sympathy would no longer have any part in the dealings with customers of the department.

Mr. Hyland was instructed to notify the delinquents that August 1 was the deadline. All overdue bills were to be paid by that time or the water service was to be discontinued. No further leniency is to be shown. That was firmly decided.

Back in May Mr. Hyland submitted a list of 200 delinquent accounts, all of which were at least a year overdue. The delinquent water bills amounted to $5,042.00, and the sewer accounts to $2,626.50, making a total of $7,668.50 the township was carrying on its books.

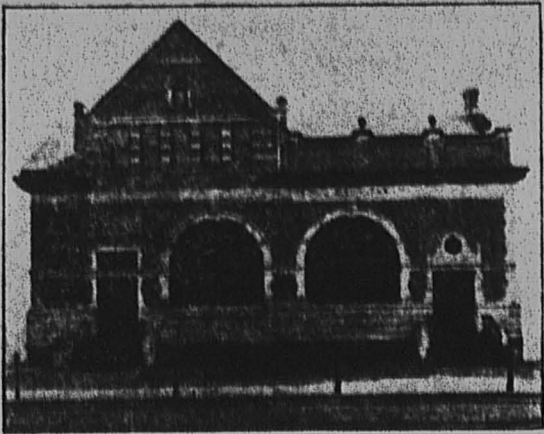

The superintendent at that time said all persons whose accounts were overdue had received delinquent notices and that he personally had called on a large majority of the property owners in an effort to collect the bills.

John Sheffield, nineteen years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mason Sheffield, of Brooklyn, N. Y., formerly of Palmyra, died of infantile paralysis Saturday.

Funeral services were held Tuesday and the body was taken to Connecticut for burial.

The Sheffield's, who had been residents of Palmyra about four years, moved to Brooklyn two years ago. John is survived by his parents and a younger brother.

Gets New Name From Early Settlers

Moorestown building, former home of Burlington County Trust Company, which is being converted into an office building. It will be known as the Rodman Building, perpetuating the name of Moorestown's first land owner.

Former Burlington County Trust Co. Home is to Become Rodman Building, Being Named for First Land Owner

The building on East Main street, Moorestown, formerly the Burlington County Trust Company, is now undergoing alterations, and in the very near future will be occupied as an intermediate office building to be known as the Rodman Building.

It is probable that to very few people in Moorestown will the name Rodman have any meaning, or call to mind any pictures of the past, and yet this is the earliest name associated with the community.

Among the papers of Judge Clayton Lippincott, first president of the Moorestown National Bank and a distinguished citizen and antiquarian, have been found extensive notes and data in regard to the first ownership of land in Moorestown.

"POISONED HEARTS"

MR. READERS, I feel sure will pardon this bit of personal history, since it might concern thousands of people who are past middle age at a time when we watch our common enemy from every possible angle of attack. Life grows precious as years advance.

Possibly nine years ago I began to get sudden, vague, alarming symptoms—a feeling that I was about to drop and "pass out." It was far from pleasant. I notice you, I had never seemed to take an inventory of myself. These spells came and dearly, anywhere, and without warning—the immediate symptom a rapidly weakening heart. Being a smoker I at once thought of tobacco.

From one of these attacks I staggered into the office of a neighbor physician. After some examination he said, "you've got a poisoned heart, doctor. I don't think it is tobacco; on the other hand, I don't see at the moment just what it is, you need a heart tonic, and need it right away. I'll further investigate."

Well, "investigation" revealed poisoning by a substance known as "indian." Its cause, PUTREFACTION OF THE CONTENT OF THE COLON. Not decomposition, mind you, PUTREFACTION, going on inside of my digestive canal. It had been going on a long time, creeping on, as my bodily indolence grew more chronic.

I set about to clean house, and at once. This Indian, in large amounts, within the body, will, in time, weaken the entire cardiovascular system, until death may result; then, the newspapers say "victim of a heart attack." So many these days. Possibly hundreds of sudden deaths caused by Indian poisoning—simply because we neglect to look up evidence in that direction!

To test for this poison is easy. Two test tubes required. In one, put equal parts of the patient's urine, chloroform, and pure hydrochloric acid, add a few drops of hydrogen peroxide, shake the mixture, and pour from one tube to the other a half-dozen times; if Indian is present, a heavy blue color will appear in the mixture, varying with the quantity of the poison. Then, clean out and keep cleaned out! Not once but for a year!

CUT OFF WATER AT MOORESTOWN

Township Sticks to August 1 "Deadline" on Overdue Accounts

At the regular meeting of Moorestown Township Committee on Monday July 13, the Town Fathers, upon being advised that 122 property owners were still more than a year overdue in payments for water and sewer service, decided it doesn't pay for officials to be "soft-hearted," for the delinquents had been given ample warnings that they must pay up, and ordered Superintendent Edward P. Hyland to shut off the service to all persons who had not paid up their delinquent accounts by August 1.

As the result of this edict, Tuesday afternoon found eighteen homes in this township without water service. And furthermore, under the rules of the department, water cannot be again supplied these properties until the bill is paid for service up to the day it was discontinued.

Since August 1 was Saturday, Mr. Hyland decided to not cut off the water service until Monday, but many of the persons evidently feared they would be without water over the weekend, and as a result, collections at the office of the Water and Sewer Department in Town Hall were unusually heavy last Saturday.

They Got the Money

Monday and Tuesday virtually all of the delinquents managed to scrape up enough money to ward off the loss of water when employees of the department appeared ready to disconnect the service.

And so the number of delinquents who couldn't or wouldn't pay their bills that had been due for a year or more was reduced from 122 to 18 when it came time for the drastic action.

At its last meeting in May the committee instructed Mr. Hyland to shut down the water if delinquent accounts were not paid up within ten days.

At the expiration of the ten-day period many delinquents had not complied with the demands of the department. The Town Fathers related, told Mr. Hyland to give them another trial, in view of present-day business conditions, even though it was in violation of the rules of his department.

After a while, a second notice was sent out, and still many of the bills remained unpaid. Still feeling reluctant to disserve residents of water, the officials again deferred drastic action in hopes that the delinquents would "pay up."

"Couldn't or Wouldn't" Pay

But on July 13 the Town Fathers decided some people either couldn't or wouldn't pay, regardless of threats of discontinued service, and they announced their "meant business."

The situation has been allowed to exist just about long enough, the Town Fathers decided. They felt they were doing an injustice to the other persons in the town who pay their bills, and since the water and sewer department has to borrow money to meet operating costs when the bills are not paid, it was definitely determined that sympathy would no longer have any part in the dealings with customers of the department.

Mr. Hyland was instructed to notify the delinquents that August 1 was the deadline. All overdue bills were to be paid by that time or the water service was to be discontinued. No further leniency is to be shown. That was firmly decided.

Back in May Mr. Hyland submitted a list of 200 delinquent accounts, all of which were at least a year overdue. The delinquent water bills amounted to $5,042.00, and the sewer accounts to $2,626.50, making a total of $7,668.50 the township was carrying on its books.

The superintendent at that time said all persons whose accounts were overdue had received delinquent notices and that he personally had called on a large majority of the property owners in an effort to collect the bills.

John Sheffield

John Sheffield, nineteen years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mason Sheffield, of Brooklyn, N. Y., formerly of Palmyra, died of infantile paralysis Saturday.

Funeral services were held Tuesday and the body was taken to Connecticut for burial.

The Sheffield's, who had been residents of Palmyra about four years, moved to Brooklyn two years ago. John is survived by his parents and a younger brother.

Ocean City's jail being full, and the Bronx jail with playground roof not yet ready for occupancy, some people must be puzzled about where to spend their vacations.

ENGINEERS FINISH SURVEYS FOR ZEP

Sevasian and Staff Complete Studies of Tract After Month's Work

H. A. Sevasian, chief construction engineer for the Goodyear-Zeppelin Corporation, who, with a force of engineers, has been surveying the 1200-acre tract on Union Hill road, between Mount Laurel road and Church street, in Mount Laurel township, just south of Moorestown, has completed his work on the local offering for the American terminus of the proposed trans-Atlantic Zeppelin line.

Mr. Sevasian and his engineers spent a month at work on the tract. When the engineers prepared to depart on Saturday they remarked to friends that they were not only well pleased with the site they had been studying, but they also were delighted with the reception Moorestown had given them. They found Moorestown to be most courteous and they were deeply appreciative of the many favors that were extended them.

Analysis of Surveys

After stopping over at Baltimore for a few days, which is all the time the engineers plan to spend at the site offered by that city, Mr. Sevasian and his staff will go to Akron, Ohio, headquarters of the Goodyear-Zeppelin Corporation and International Zeppelin Transport Corporation, where an analysis of the surveys will be made. This work, involving much detail will take two months, at least, the engineers declared.

Mr. Sevasian would add nothing to the statement he made two weeks ago when he was asked what, in his opinion, were Moorestown's chances of becoming the American base for the trans-Atlantic dirigible line. At that time, he smilingly declared, "No one knows," and added, "You know I have been busy making maps of the tract. No calculations have been made, but as far as I can see, I would say the Moorestown site is just as desirable as the other two we have visited. Of course, all sites studied had to be much better than average to be given consideration."

The Richmond and Washington tracts were surveyed before Mr. Sevasian and his staff of engineers arrived in Moorestown.

Grading Requirements

The engineer pointed out that his work had been entirely different to the meteorological studies that have been carried on at all of the tracts for months. "We only looked at the site from a construction standpoint," he said. "We gave special attention to grading requirements for drainage, which is very important, and geological formations that might affect plans for the foundation of a huge airship dock." Borings were also made.

While he had a force of eleven men at work for the first two weeks, Mr. Sevasian's "crew" was reduced to seven, five of whom are engineers regularly employed by the Goodyear company, during the last two weeks.

During their stay in Moorestown, the Goodyear-Zeppelin engineers had headquarters in the old Burlington County Trust Company building, the office space having been generously donated by the bank.

The New Jersey State Camp will meet at the Hotel Hildebrandt, Trenton, on September 10-11. Delegates from Palmyra camp are requested to meet next Monday night to arrange details for the session.

A lively meeting of the Burlington County Association was held at Marlton on August 3. The Marlton camp has added 64 new members to the roll during the past term and is believed to hold the state record for increase.

Mount Holly camp has challenged the Palmyra camp to a contest for new members and some particulars are expected to be announced next Monday night.

Joseph Bodine

Joseph Bodine, two and one half years old son of Mr. and Mrs. Bodine, of Moorestown, died in the Municipal Hospital, Camden, on Saturday, after a short illness.

Funeral services were private and were held on Saturday afternoon at the home of the family. Mr. Bodine was the funeral director in charge.

In the city of Cologne, Germany, all expectant mothers who receive unemployment benefits must attend a school which will teach them how to care for children.

ROAD STAND ROBBED

A road stand at Haddonfield road and Moorestown pike was robbed early Monday morning of $15 worth of candy and cigarettes. Walter F. Wolf, 4326 Major avenue, Pennsauken township, discovered the robbery at 9 a. m. when he went to open the place for business. He said the burglar had been picked off.

SILVER CUPS TO TENNIS CHAMPS

Business Men and Prominent Citizens Sponsor Memorial Park Tournament

Due to the intense interest that has been manifested in tennis at the Memorial Park court this year, it has been decided to hold a second series of tournaments, and to award cups to the winners of the men's singles and doubles and the women's singles tournament. These handsome silver loving cups are being donated by a number of the business men and other prominent citizens of Riverton.

The tournament will be open only to residents of Riverton and to players not residents of Riverton who have played regularly on the court this summer. All entries must be in the hands of either Robert Borer or C. R. Snyder, playground supervisor, by Monday morning. Drawings will be made at that time, and play will begin at once. It is strongly urged that all players who can possibly do so, play their matches in the day time.

In the boys' doubles tournament, which was carried on this week, Robert Borer and Edward Dunlop won the championship, while in the men's doubles, Hagston and Mahn oppose Hackett and Fuller, singles finalists, in the final round. Complete results of these two tournaments follow:

Boys' doubles tournament, first round, Borer and Dunlop, bye; P. Wallace and E. Waller defeated Donahue and Hubbs, 6-2, 6-5; Vinegar and Turner defeated W. Smith and Speer, 7-5, 6-1; J. and C. Reynolds won from J. Wallace and C. McDermott by default, second round, Borer and Dunlop defeated R. Wallace and E. Wallace, 6-2, 6-1; Vinegar and Turner defeated J. Reynolds and C. Reynolds, 6-2, 6-6; Borer and Dunlop won the championship from Vinegar and Turner, 6-0, 6-1, 6-2.

Men's doubles, first round, Hackett and Fuller defeated McCord and Dickinson, 4-6, 6-2, 6-3; McCord and Dickinson, default; Elzey and Lathbury defeated Finney and Kibstrick, 6-2, 6-3; Snyder and Gros defeated Hagston and Shocker, 6-2, 6-3; Wallace and Mahn defeated Turner and McClatchy, 6-1, 6-2. Second round, Hackett and Fuller defeated McCord and Dickinson, 6-2, 6-1; Snyder and Gros defeated Elzey and Lathbury, 6-4, 6-2; third round, Hagston and Mahn defeated Snyder and Gros, 6-4, 6-2.

Moorestown's baseball team threw off its jinx in Saturday's matinee skirmish and captured its first Burlington County League game. The local nine repulsed Delanco club by a meritorious score of 8 to 2.

With Ed Holtz holding the visiting sluggers to eight hits, the Quaker representatives had things all their own way and at no time in the game were they in danger.

"Doc" Roberts and "Bud" Wilkins were the hotting stars for Moorestown, while N. Bartello played a fine brand of baseball at third base.

The victory on Saturday was an occasion for rejoicing among the small band of followers who have remained loyal to the prodigies of Manager Connor. A home game to the jinx, which has dogged their footsteps throughout the summer, has finally been conquered.

On Saturday, the Moorestown team meets the Riverton nine.

Even though Medford defeated Riverton last Saturday at Medford to the tune of 19 to 7, Riverton fans found some consolation in the fact that Riverton was not beaten as badly as on two previous frays with the top-notchers.

Medford was a little bit worried up till the seventh inning with a lead of only three runs, and anything might have happened—but it didn't.

Not trying to cook up any alibi—the Medford field is just plain rotten for good baseball. The infield is flat and the outfield takes a very decided downward slope, winding up in a tangle of underbrush and weeds. A jumpbuckie garage marks the right field foul line, and further out is a discarded auto body which marks the limit for a two base hit. One of the humorous field rules includes the old rusty auto body and goes like this: "Anything in the old wreck is in play or to the left of it." It is a ball bap, and a broken and rusted within the padding of the seat it must go for a home run—unless the fielder happens to be an upholsterer and quickly recovers the ball.

The Medford boys are thoroughly at home on this field, which gives them an edge on any visiting team—but in addition the Medford lads play good ball.

Riverton hit better than ever before, but the breaks were against them and the score tells the story.

MONDAY—Rogers' News, 9; K. of C. 1.

The Ramblers virtually clinched the championship of the Burlington County League by winning all three games played this week. The long delayed game which was originally scheduled for July 20 between the league leaders and the Parry outfit was finally played last Thursday night. The Ramblers won the tilt without much trouble, the tabulation at the end of the game reading 5-2.

Continuing their championship stride the following evening the Ramblers sent the K. of C. to their twelfth straight defeat, making a lark out of winning the game by a top-sided 17-5 score.

The Baptists, who were looked upon as likely to give the top runners a defeat, almost lived up to expectations in the game played Tuesday night. One of the closest games seen in the summer, this contest was a semi-windup fracas for the Ramblers. The leaders however, were able to come out on top by a 3-1 register.

The Ramblers can show victories over every team in the league and have suffered defeats at the hands of but one club. The Artisans, who are due to play Friday of this week, have administered the two losses, received by the Ramblers. The first game, played on May 8, resulted in a 5-4 victory for the lodgemen, and the second, played one month later, sent the Ramblers down to an 8-1 defeat.

The third game was a reversal of the first play, the lodgemen bowing on July 13 by an 8-5 tally.

The leaders have not been defeated except on the two occasions mentioned above, although rain prevented the Parry outfit from gaining a possible decision over them on July 20, when the game was washed out in the fourth inning with the Parrymen on the long end of a 3-0 score. Three victories are credited to the Ramblers over all the other teams in the league with the exception of the Rogers' News Club. The two teams have met but twice, the third time between them being scheduled for Monday night.

This game will be the deciding game of the season if the Artisans upset Parry tomorrow night. The lodgemen face a tough assignment in facing the Broderson clan and anything is liable to happen. Both teams have had a rest in league competition and a keen battle is expected. Should the Parrymen win, the race is over, but should the Artisans come out on top, a defeat for the Ramblers next Monday will give the A. O. M. P.'s another breathing spell.

So don't fail to get aside next Wednesday for a date at Memorial Park at 6:15 o'clock.

BIG TILT COMING

Riverton A. A. having upset 11th Ward's 27 game winning streak over such clubs as Howard Elmske and the Lancaster Roses, Sautaya Bronchos, Lancaster Giants, Medford and others will take another tilt at a strong independent team.

Next Wednesday night at 8:15 Riverton will take on the strong Key Stone Auto Club team consisting of such stars as Russell (Lena) Blackburn, former Chicago minor league pitcher, Dick Spalding (former Phillies star), Tod Deimeby, Rubie Chambers and a group of young stars.

This is probably the best attraction in these parts this year and has been arranged at a great expense.

Making the Grade

By LeRoy Schneider

Many people seem to underrate the strength of the Burlington County League, therefore they also underrate the ability of the Riverton boys.

For three years this team of home-town boys has been kept in line in an effort to produce baseball material that the town can some day be proud of.

There are men who know the game and can readily see that the boys are profiting by the big jump made from independent ball to the strong league competition.

This was proved when Riverton, after dropping six straight hard-fought league games, traveled to Camden to crush the strong Eleventh Ward Club, 10 to 1, after they had established a 27 game winning streak over clubs such as Sautaya Bronchos, Hilldale, Lancaster Roses, Bacharach Giants and others.

Individual players are benefiting by the experience considerably.

Benue Edge, a veteran at the game and now playing shortstop for Riverton, has given his undivided efforts the past three years to coaching the boys to the best of his knowledge.

Rue Blackburn also has been free with his knowledge of the game both to the team and to myself.

Four of the boys have gained through experience and hard work, a chance to make the grade with the Elventh Ward Republican Club which plays at 36th and River road every Sunday against such strong teams as before mentioned.

They may be seen in action this Sunday against Ray Stender's (former Pittsburgh player) Vinland Club. The Poole will play on 3rd, Bartley 2nd, Horn 1st, and Bolter 3rd. These boys help to hold Atlantic City Street 4 to 1 in a game last Sunday.

BUD ROT OF CANNA

By R. P. White
N. J. Agr'l Experiment Station

Bud rot of canna is primarily a disease of greenhouse-grown plants, but during periods of exceptionally wet weather, such as we have had in New Jersey in recent weeks, the infection may also seriously injure plants growing outdoors.

Infection usually takes place while the leaves are still rolled in the bud. As the leaf unfolds, it may show a large number of small whitish spots, or it may be blackened in color and in decayed state. Infection in the curled leaves often spreads down to the center stalk and bud, and it may extend down the entire stalk to the soil killing all the roots of the plant.

If infection of canna plants is noted as soon as symptoms first appear, the infected stalks should be cut off and destroyed. Then, no rhizoids will arise from the crown of the pruned plants.

Select next year's root stalks from healthy plants, because the ones from severely diseased cannas probably will be weakened. As a precautionary measure, soak the root stalks in a 1-2000 corrosive sublimate solution of tablet as purchased in drug stores to 1 pint of water for two hours before planting. This kills any root bacteria adhering to the surface.

Irrigate canna plants from an open hose, allowing the water to run over the soil. Do not sprinkle the plants, since water will collect in the cleft of the plant and provide favorable conditions for bacterial infection. Do not overwater during the growing season.

TIMING BLOOMS FOR EXHIBITION
By A. C. McLean
N. J. Agr'l Experiment Station

The importance of properly timing blooms for the show room cannot be over emphasized by the gardener who hopes to win blue ribbons in this season's flower exhibition. This is because blooms must not only be open but also in the best possible condition if they are to receive any consideration from the judges.

The need for making early provisions for flower competitions is shown in the fact that a week is required for the proper development of a flower from the bud. Marked for example, requires three weeks from the bud to the flower, as two dahlias. Zinnias need about two weeks. Remember that plant development cannot be hastened artificially, and that it is impossible to expect to have flowers out and in condition for exhibition.

Weather conditions affect the rate of plant development making it difficult to time absolutely a bud for blooming on a specified date. One may select buds in various stages of development, however, and from among such buds it will be possible to obtain suitable blooms.

The production of superior blooms is aided by the removal of surplus shoots, and all but three to five buds on each plant. In disbudding, do not remove too many leaves, since they are needed by the plant for the manufacture of food.

When flowers are developing too rapidly for the show, they may be cut two or three days ahead of time, and held in a cool place or ice box, where they will keep well. Care must be taken, however, not to cut marigolds, zinnias or dahlias too early. Flowers of these plants, to show to best advantage, must be open in full, and they require several days to develop.

Flower intended for exhibition should be cut the night before the show opens and hardened off by holding them in a cool place deep in water. Blooms so treated can be handled better and they will last longer in the show.

DELPHINIUM BLACK SPOT

By R. P. White
N. J. Agr'l Experiment Station

Delphinium black spot, a bacterial disease, is now becoming increasingly severe in many New Jersey gardens as a result of the excessive high humidity that has prevailed for days at a time this season.

This disease is easily recognized by the irregular coal-black areas on the upper surfaces of the leaves, and on the petioles, stems and flower buds. Infected flower buds are turned into black slimy masses, especially if they also are attacked by cyclamen mites. Frequent spraying with pyrethrum soap or nicotine soap solutions will aid in controlling cyclamen mites and in preventing black spot.

Black areas on the foliage are caused only by the bacteria of black spot. These areas appear first on the lower leaves and later on the upper ones, giving the plant an unsightly appearance.

To control black spot, remove and burn the season's crop of foliage and flower stalks in the fall. It is this infected plant material that the bacteria causing the disease overwinter. Next spring the crowns of the plants should be drenched with a 1-2000 solution of corrosive sublimate of tablet as purchased in drug stores to 1 quart of water, using about one cup of the solution to each plant.

By consistently following the foregoing recommendations from year to year, the gardener can soon reduce the damage from delphinium black spot to a negligible quantity.

ARMITT H. COATE Y'S MEN'S SPEAKER

Tells Club of Recent Trip to Original Buffalo Bill Ranch

Armitt H. Coate, trust officer of Burlington County Trust Company, told the Y's Men's Club of his recent trip to the original Buffalo Bill Ranch near Cody, Wyoming, at the regular weekly luncheon meeting of the club in the Community House last Wednesday at noon.

Burlington County Trust Company is executor of the estate of the late F. Stanley Groves, owner of the ranch, and the trip, he explained to his fellow Y's Men, was in the interest of the estate.

Upon the arrival at Cody, the party was met by a group of cowboys from the ranch. After enjoying a dip in Cody's famous sulphur swimming pool, the party was escorted over the mountains and along the Shoshone River to the ranch, a distance of thirty-five miles.

The trust officer gave a most interesting description of the ranch and the many buildings, most of which are log cabins. The ranch lies in a valley, with a river running through it. Horseback riding, over difficult trails and to the top of snow-capped mountains that tower 11,000 feet above sea level, was one of the chief attractions of the trip.

Mr. Coate said of the wild game seen on these excursions:

"The ranch adheres to a strict schedule. Guests must be on time for meals and other events that are planned for their entertainment. Everything starts on time, said Mr. Coate. He told of a three-day stampede and rodeo staged at Cody. All persons attending wore fine cowboy attire including fancy shirts and beaded vests. Some of the "outfits" cost their owners $500.

Another interesting feature was a five-day auto trip to Yellowstone Park. A horseback trip could have been arranged, but it would have taken much longer, said Mr. Coate, so the party was forced to forego this pleasure.

This was the last meeting of the Y's Men's Club until September 2.

10 OFFER BLOOD TO SAVE LIFE OF HIT-RUN VICTIM

Blood transfusions were resorted to Monday night in an effort to save the life of Albert Girdon, 17, of Brown's Mills, who was seriously injured Sunday night when a hit-run driver struck a motorcycle. Harold Haines, White's Box, was one of 10 young men who offered blood. Physicians at the Burlington County Hospital, Mount Holly, reported Girdon slightly improved after the transfusion. He is suffering fractures of the arm and leg and two ribs and several scalp cuts. Conley Eckman, 17, who was operating the motorcycle, lie in the same hospital with a fractured leg.

FRANCIS L. DUNEY

Francis Lambert Dune, infant son of Robert and Marion Dune, died at the home of his parents, 5 Fern street, East Riverton, Tuesday. Interment was made in the Evergreen Cemetery, Camden, under the direction of Frank A. Snover, yesterday afternoon.

MOORESTOWN

Miss Marie Walter and Miss Sara Walter returned to their home in Sunbury, Pa., on Monday, after spending three weeks with their uncle, Charles Whittier, of Bridgeboro road. They were accompanied by two girl friends, Miss Betty Hoffman and Miss Dorothy Knibbe, also of Sunbury, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Fishback, of East Second street, left this week for Cape May, where they will remain until after Labor Day.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Chester Stokes, of East Oak avenue, have left for Spring Lake, where they will spend the month of August.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Roberts, of East Central avenue, have left for Deacons Manor, where they will remain throughout the month of August.

Mrs. J. W. Price, Mrs. William T. McBlack and Mrs. William T. Walter, of the Moorestown Field Club, enjoyed ladies' guest day at the Ashbourne Country Club, Ashbourne, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert H. Langaker, of North Washington street, on Sunday accompanied their son, Richard, to Camp McDonald in Pittstown, where he will remain for two weeks.

Dr. and Mrs. G. N. A. Wescott, of Main and Church streets, are enjoying a two weeks' trip to Montreal and Quebec.

Miss Emily Foster and Miss Lella Hite, instructors at Moorestown High School, and Miss Edith Biddle and Miss Julia Jessup, of Merchantville, who have just returned from a vacation at Yellowstone Park, were entertained at dinner at the home of Miss Biddle's mother, Mrs. J. R. Biddle, of East Walnut avenue, Merchantville. Dinner was followed by bridge at the home of Mrs. Julia Foster, of Millmore avenue, Merchantville. On Monday evening, Mrs. Charles G. Jessup, Miss Jessup's mother, entertained at dinner at her Greenleigh Court home.

Stories are frequently heard of bargains that are "picked up for a song" at public sales, and another of these has just been made public. P. H. Sordine, of Madison, N. J., recently visited DuBois' sales center at Columbus, where he purchased for thirty cents a picture which is said to be worth $600. It was painted in 1854 by N. Chrysler. Mr. Sordine knew the value of the painting, as he happened to have a larger one by the same artist that is worth $250.

M. G. Shaw, Burlington County Scout Executive, left his duties at the Boy Scout Camp near Cookstown, on Wednesday of last week long enough to partake of luncheon with the Mount Holly Rotarians and deliver a talk about life in a scout camp. It was a highly interesting address.

Major General Hugh L. Scott, well-known sportsman and head of the State Highway Commission, has recently finished directing the first part of a movie which will permanently record the Indian sign language. The government is defraying the expenses of the movie and General Scott, who is known to many Burlington residents, was chosen as director in view of the fact that he is the only living white man who has a full comprehension of the sign language.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Hobbs, and son, William, of East Second street, left Sunday, to spend the month of August in Switzwater, in the Poconos.

Mrs. Mary Miller and daughter, Miss Florence Miller, left on Thursday to return to Pittsburgh, after spending two weeks with Mrs. Gertrude Elston, of Prospect avenue.

The Misses Mary and Sarah Conover, and nephew, Stanley Wells, of West Central avenue, returned home on Saturday from a two week's vacation spent in Ocean Grove.

The Burlington County Federation of Baptist Young People will enjoy a moonlight boat trip on August 27. The sixth annual conference of this organization will be held in Asbury Park on October 23, 24 and 25.

TIME NOW TO PREPARE FOR THE ANNUAL FALL EXHIBIT

The success of the annual fall agricultural products exhibit will be determined by the amount of planning that is done by the farmers and their wives from now on. Therefore it is the hope of the committees who are planning for this affair that the housewife, vegetable grower, poultryman, fruit grower and dairyman will all start now to select their exhibits, and be ready for the two big days—September 16 and 17, the dates set. A complete premium list will be issued about the middle of August, but it will not vary much from that of last year. This is an exhibit of the agriculture of Burlington County, and no one put on by just committees from the County Board of Agriculture and the Chamber of Commerce, and therefore deserves the support of everyone interested in the county's largest industry. Burlington County is said to rank among the first six counties of the United States from the standpoint of agricultural importance, and so should be able to put on one of the finest displays of the fruits of the soil that will be possible to be staged anywhere in the country.

COUPLE BADLY BITTEN BY DOG AT MT. HOLLY

Perry Tiger, 30, and his wife, Mrs. Rose Tiger, 22, residents of the Fairgrounds at Mount Holly, were treated Tuesday at West Jersey Homeopathic Hospital for severe dog bites. Mrs. Tiger was the most seriously injured, with a torn knee and leg.

MOTORDOM HAS ITS VERNACULAR

Drivers Have Choice Designations for Careless Motorists and Pedestrians

Motordom now has its own vernacular for describing the careless motorist or pedestrian and these expressions are now almost as widely known as the coined words of Amos 'n' Andy, according to S. E. Kaufman, president of the Trenton Automobile Club. Mr. Kaufman listed some of these designations for those who fail to exercise care, as follows:

"Green Gazer"—the motorist who delays the line of traffic by clashing the gears of the car or has his attention diverted when the traffic signal flashes green.

"Red Rucker"—the motorist who always starts across the street on the orange signal, swerves his car to avoid hitting pedestrians, or makes a last-minute attempt to cross the street as the red signal flashes ahead.

"Bathe driver"—the motorist who keeps all windows of the car up as rainy weather, gives no signal to drivers behind when he intends to stop and trusts to luck in turning corner or out of the line of traffic.

"Street ostrich"—the pedestrian who crosses the street with his head buried in a newspaper or under an umbrella in rainy weather.

"Sidewalk edger"—the pedestrian who leaves the sidewalk while waiting to cross the street and stands in the lane of vehicular traffic, forcing motorists to turn corners wide and risk being hit by other cars.

BURLINGTON MOTORIST GETS 30 DAYS AS TIPSY

Harry Harkins, of 533 Logan avenue, Burlington, last week was committed to the Burlington county jail, at Mount Holly, for 30 days on a charge of drunken driving. Harkins was fined $250 and $21 costs by Police Recorder J. Leedom Smith, Burlington, and was committed to jail in default of payment.

TRAFFIC HEAVY AS WEEKEND CROWDS TRAVEL TO SHORE

17,300 Automobiles Use Palmyra Bridge Sunday as Throngs Return

ESTIMATE 101,500 USED W. J. & S. RAILROAD

New York Excursions Add to Train Congestion Along Trenton Line

Although no new records were set for automobile traffic over the Palmyra Bridge last week-end, Palmyra police reported heavier traffic than usual in the weekly Sunday congestion.

The number of automobiles crossing the span last Sunday, 17,300, were about 800 less than the existing record for one-day traffic. Despite the decrease in the number of automobiles using the bridge, traffic through the central part of Palmyra was said to be heavier than at any time this summer.

The Broad street and Cinnaminson avenue intersection was the scene of almost as much traffic as the West Palmyra underpass. Change in the direction of traffic was noted last week, since a great part of the congestion was caused by vehicles using the River road. Previous to this time, most of the traffic was on roads leading to the bridge, with but comparatively little cross traffic. Many cars last week made use of the River road, causing congestion at Cinnaminson avenue, Market street and the 8-41 intersections.

No new marks were set for the Camden bridge last week despite the fact that a new peak had been set for summer travel. Railroads reported 101,500 persons had used the West Jersey and Seashore lines over the week-end, this estimate was made by Frank T. Flint, assistant trainmaster in Camden. It was a record, he said, in his 40 years of railroad experience.

Heavy railroad traffic was not restricted to the Camden-Seashore route alone. Numerous excursions from New York and northern New Jersey and Pennsylvania points kept workmen along the Trenton branch busy on both days.

Flint reported 4,500 persons had been transferred from New York City to the various shore resorts in the two-day period. Some of the local motives pulled as many as 15 coaches he said.

Despite the exodus of the large number of people to the shore, there continues to be a heavy flow of traffic using the Camden bridge through the week-end.

A total of 107,652 vehicles crossed the Camden bridge, as compared to 110,939 that traveled the span during the same period a year ago.

Toll receipts for Saturday and Sunday were $19,232.05, it was reported at the bridge administrative offices.

All traffic through Palmyra and along the State Highway was handled without mishap by the Palmyra police. Chief of Police C. M. Beck said the situation has not gone beyond the control of the officers at any time this summer despite the increased number of cars and the added section of highway that must be patrolled.

With about 450 making use of the week-end of the airplane service between Camden and Atlantic City officials of the airport said a continuation of the service throughout the winter has been contemplated. The airplane service was originally scheduled to be abandoned about October 1.

Loomis — Fischer

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Bishop, of Moorestown, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Florence Jane Fischer, and Elmer J. Loomis, which took place at four o'clock on Tuesday, July 28, at the home of Miss Emily Greenwald, of Newbold avenue, Moorestown.

The Rev. George Williams, of Philadelphia, performed the ceremony in the presence of near relatives and a few very intimate friends.

The bride was attractively gowned in a poudre blue crepe de Chine model. Her bouquet was of pink roses and blue delphinium.

Mr. and Mrs. Loomis will make their home in New Holland, Pa., upon their return from their wedding journey.

TWO PERSONS HURT AS AUTO TIRE BLOWS OUT

Mrs. Emma McGarey, aged 26, of 921 Nineteenth street, Northwest, Washington, D. C., sustained a broken arm, lacerations of the neck and forehead, and Jesse Alvin Lay, aged 52, of 4400 Watkins avenue, Bethesda, Md., received lacerations of the face and right hand, while other occupants of the car escaped injury, when the left front tire of their automobile blew out, and the car went through a fence into a field. A fence rail went through the windshield and injured Mrs. McGarey. The injured were taken to the Burlington County Hospital at Mount Holly by Freeholder William H. Heiser, Jr., of Pemberton. The car was driven by Lay, and the accident occurred near Pemberton late Saturday afternoon.

FOUR INJURED, AUTO WRECKED AS DRIVER DOZES OFF TO SLEEP

A party of Philadelphians returning from an over-night outing for crabs spent Sunday when the driver went to sleep and their car overturned. Jack Peatman, aged 25, of 240 Monroe street, Philadelphia, was the driver. He was rendered unconscious and was held at the Burlington County Hospital at Mount Holly for observation.

The accident occurred at Rancocas Park hill, and as the car overturned down an embankment the rear wheels caught on a tree and one of the wheels was ripped off and left hanging.

Edward Davis, aged 28, of 1540 East Twenty-ninth street, Philadelphia, was thrown clear of the car, being rendered unconscious for a few minutes. He suffered abrasions of the left leg, knee, chest and arm.

Rudolph Regels, aged 29, of 125 Pemberton street, Philadelphia, suffered laceration of the scalp and bruises, and his brother Joseph Regels, aged 36, of 116 Pemberton street, was pinned under the car, received an injury to his back.

BOYS' SEASON AT OCKANICKON ENDS

Eight Weeks' Camping Program Included Many Very Attractive Features

The twenty-fifth season for boys at Y. M. C. A. Camp Ockanickon, Medford, closed Wednesday, August 12, the last of the exciting sports and games of eight weeks. The Y. M. C. A. girls are using Ockanickon for the ensuing three weeks.

Sunday evening, August 9, the Medford Community Service was in charge of the camp, with various counselors taking part.

Malcolm Lefroy MacGeorge, a counselor from Moorestown, played a Xylophone solo. Harry Pratt, who was in charge of the religious activities this past season, delivered the address. Girls from Camp Dark water were also present at this service.

Canoes trips up the Rancocas, commencing at Smithville, have been features which six and eight week campers at Ockanickon have especially enjoyed. The camp truck transported these fortunate enough to be selected for such a trip. Canoes were in constant use during camp party and another would be there waiting to start out.

Boating carnivals have greatly added to the attractiveness of Saturday evening programs at Ockanickon and a number of such carnivals, with beautifully decorated canoes and boats, have been arranged by the various campers under the direction of Clifford Ekrood of the Burlington County Y. M. C. A. staff and a number of counselors.

During the past eight weeks there have been athletic contests between Medford Lakes and Camp Ockanickon. Tennis, baseball and aquatics were the sports engaged in.

In an exchange of entertainment talent campers of this last section enjoyed talking and second feature pictures at evening bowl programs.

A banquet on Tuesday evening, August 11, was the last great fellowship gathering of the entire season. After a specially prepared meal by William H. Plank and Chef A. E. Baek, recognition of achievements, and the approach of the return of old pals and parents at home, and sadness because it meant severance of ties formed during happy camping days.

MRS. CUSICK RESIGNS POST OFFICE POSITION

Mrs. Florence Cusick, of Delaware Gardens, an employee of the Palmyra Post Office for 10 years, resigned her position on August 1. She is the daughter of Mr. Florence R. Cramer, of Lecony avenue, Palmyra.

Her position in the office has been filled by William Cooper, one of the carriers. He has been employed in the office for about eight and a half years, working at first as a part-time carrier and later being given a complete route to serve.

The route formerly served by Mr. Cooper is being handled by James Seither, and Seither's job is being filled by Walter Poulson.

MOTORISTS SEE MOTHER BEAR, OUT ALONG CREEK

A black bear and her cub were seen by motorists near Hawkins Swamp Sunday, the first bear sighted in that section for nearly 10 years. The sighting was made by Mrs. Willea, Philadelphia, when she saw the bears, that she became hysterical. Willea, his wife and two children were en route to Beach Haven in their car. The mother bear was trying to induce the cub to swim a small creek. The cub stuck first one paw then another into the chilly water, sniffed several times, darted into the creek a short ways, backed out and then ran down the creek bank, with the mother in pursuit. Several motorists stopped to watch the bear, which paid no attention to the audience before disappearing in the woods.

CUP TOURNAMENT STARTED MONDAY

Players Striving for Trophies; Hoover Sends Message to Playground Kiddies

In observance of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the Playground movement in the United States, President Hoover has prepared a message to the boys and girls who use the playgrounds of the nation daily.

This message, which will reach approximately two and a half million youngsters, the average daily attendance at the playgrounds in 1700 cities of the country, will be distributed on Friday, August 14. The Riverton Memorial Park is co-operating in this movement, and copies of the President's message will be given to the boys and girls who attend the park tomorrow.

The Cup Tennis Tournaments have begun, but were held up considerably by the rainy weather the early part of this week. Several matches were played on Monday, with the following results: In the first round of the men's singles, J. Reynolds defeated R. Speer, 6-1, 6-2; R. Gross defeated R. Conway, 6-3, 6-4; and E. Wallace defeated J. Reed, 6-4, 3-6, 6-1. Vincent Hackett and George Hagstoz, seeded 1 and 2, respectively, advanced to the second round by drawing byes. In the men's doubles, Hagstoz and Gross, McCord and Borer, Elkey and Lathbury, and Hackett and Fuller reached the second round by means of byes.

In the only match played in this division, Conway and Garwood defeated Reed and Dunlap by scores of 6-3, 6-2. In the women's singles, Ella Russell, defending champion, disposed of Esther Shocker, her first round opponent, by scores of 6-0, 6-1.

In the paddle tennis tournament, the play in the boys' division has reached the semi-finals in the upper bracket, and finals in the lower bracket. Clifford Reynolds and Russell Trautman will battle for the right to meet Joseph Yearly for the park championship. Reynolds eliminated Myers to reach the semi-finals, while Trautman put Wintbury out of the running. Yearly reached the finals by eliminating Weniger in straight sets, after the latter had won from J. Reynolds in three bitterly-contested sets.

The attendance at the park last week was the best of the entire summer, over 1,800 being counted indulging in the various sports and entertainments.

An interesting event of last week was the finals of the preliminary men's doubles tournament, in which Hagstoz and Malm defeated Hackett and Fuller, in five tennis sets. The losers won the first two sets with apparent ease, by scores of 6-3 and 6-4. However, after that they seemed to lose their touch, and the tide of battle quickly turned.

Of the last three sets, won by Hagstoz and Malm, were 8-6, 6-4, 6-3. This pair will be unable to defend their diadem in the cup tournament, because of Malm's ineligibility, due to the resident players' ruling, but Hagstoz and Gross have teamed up together and make such a formidable combination, that they have been seeded first. Hackett and Fuller are seeded second, and because of their having played as partners through the preliminary tournament, many fans are favoring them to carry off the cups.

Regardless of the results, the cup tournament promises some real tennis. The entry list is large, and the prizes are worth working for.

Bowman — Riley

Among the August weddings of interest to Moorestonians is that of Anna Rita Riley and Harry Bowman, which took place on Tuesday evening at six o'clock, in the rectory of the Church of Our Lady of Good Counsel. The Rev. Thomas P. Rudden, rector, officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Riley, of Harris avenue, Moorestown. Mr. Bowman has been making his home on West Main street, Moorestown.

A gray crepe model was chosen by the bride and she wore a blue hat and gray slippers.

Miss Elizabeth Riley was her sister's only attendant. She wore a blue crepe gown and gray hat and slippers.

Harry Brodie, of North Washington avenue, Moorestown, was best man.

Following the ceremony the young couple left on a wedding trip to Bermuda, sailing from New York. They will make their home in Camden upon their return.

The bride is a graduate of Moorestown High School and Trenton Normal School, and has been teaching at the Bonnell School, Camden, for the past six years.

Harry also graduated from Moorestown High School and he finished at Rutgers University. He is one of the outstanding local athletes.

DRUNKEN DRIVER GETS THIRTY-DAY JAIL TERM

John E. Goff, 35, of Imbstown, was sentenced to 30 days in jail Sunday on a charge of drunken driving. He was arrested at Broad and East streets, Burlington, by Policeman Edgar Low and pronounced intoxicated by Dr. John B. Conroy, city physician. He was fined $200 by Police Judge J. Leodon Smith and committed to jail in default.

LAUDS HOFFMAN IN BUS CAMPAIGN

Club Sees Banning of Recklessly Operated Vehicles Curing Troubles

Strong approval of the reported plan of Motor Vehicle Commissioner Hoffman to take drastic action against the owners of speeding buses is voiced by the Keystone Automobile Club of New Jersey.

Trevor H. Matthews, manager of the Camden division of the club, pointed out Monday that Keystone Motorist, official publication of the club, in an editorial last September, urged precisely the action now about to be taken to curb the bus speed menace. The club's position has been reiterated several times since, in statements to the press.

"We believe, and have believed for some time," said Mr. Matthews, "that the remedy for the bus speed evil is not the arrest and fining of drivers, but the infliction of the penalty upon the owners by revoking the registration of buses found to be operated at unlawful speed. Banning from the road vehicles which have been recklessly operated will cure the trouble at the source. As soon as big utility companies find their fleet of buses scheduled to be made that will not put a premium on reckless operation and drivers will be instructed to adhere to these schedules."

"Our investigation of bus speeding has continued over a year. We have found at various times, that buses operate at a speed of 70 miles per hour. During campaigns of enforcement the speed is lowered, but as soon as police vigilance is relaxed high speed and reckless operation again imperils the users of the highways, particularly the White Horse and the Brunswick pikes."

Fort Backs Baird for Governor

Leap, Newcomb and De Priest Also Endorse Baird's Candidacy

Franklin W. Fort, who carried the banner of the supporters of the Eighteenth Amendment in the senatorial primary last year, has added his endorsement to the Republican gubernatorial candidacy of David Baird, Jr.

Mr. Fort, formerly a Representative in Congress of the Republican National Committee, opposed Dwight W. Morrow who declared for repeal in the 1930 primary. Mr. Fort ran second in that four-cornered race and as a result he is regarded as the leading supporter in New Jersey of the prohibition amendment.

In addition to the endorsement of Mr. Fort, Senator Baird has attracted the assistance of such other notable drys in the state as Senator B. Rusling Lee of Salem and Dr. Marcus W. Newcomb of Burlington.

An attempt by the Democrats to deceive the Negro voters of the state by announcing the presence of Representative Oscar De Priest of Illinois at a Democratic meeting, was exposed last week.

The Democrats stated that Mr. De Priest attended a meeting in Jersey City with the Democratic gubernatorial nominee. They also broadcast that Mr. De Priest was opposed to the Baird candidacy. A telegram from the Congressman, however, to Representative Charles A. Wolcott exposed the attempt at deception.

Mr. De Priest informed Mr. Wolcott he was not present at the meeting, that he was opposed to the Democrat, and that he favored the Republican nominee. Representative De Priest as early as last spring, in a speech in New Jersey, unqualifiedly urged the members of his race to back the Baird candidacy. He pointed out at that time that the only opposition which came to congressional proposals to assist the Negro emanated from Democrats.

"Every piece of legislation detrimental to your interests," he told a large Negro audience in Camden, "has been passed by the Democrats. Vote the entire Republican ticket. 'In Congress, if a white Congressman makes a mistake it goes unnoticed. If I make one mistake it is broadcast. I am checked and double checked. But there is no mistake in backing David Baird for Governor and the Republican ticket for the commission in this city.'"

WOODROW W. VENNEL GOES TO COAST GUARD

Moorestown Youth Among One Hundred Students to Receive Appointment As Cadet

Woodrow W. Vennell, 20 son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Vennell, of Page's Lane, Moorestown, reported at the Coast Guard Academy, at New London, Conn., Wednesday.

He was among the one hundred students from all parts of the country who have recently received appointments as cadets in the coast guard. He took the examination on June 17.

Woodrow is a graduate of Moorestown High School and he also attended Drexel Institute for a year and a half.

Excursionist Who Got on Wrong Train Believed Responsible for Saving Life of Passengers in Ill-Fated Automobile

For once, at least, a mistake has justified itself.

Three persons probably owe the fact that they are alive today to an error made last Sunday evening by a Burlington excursionist in Atlantic City. A regular train standing on the track who boarded an Atlantic City-New York express instead of the local, excursion train scheduled to stop at Burlington.

The fact that the traveler wanted to get off at Burlington resulted in the train's speed being cut down to about eight miles an hour when it struck an automobile driven by Mrs. Victoria McCrindle, 42, of Columbus road, and containing her daughter, Mary, 15, and Edith Sutter, 15, of Rutherford.

The automobile and the three passengers were carried many feet on the pilot of the engine before the train could be stopped. Mrs. McCrindle received a fractured shoulder, cuts on the head and shock. Her daughter was cut about the body and Miss Sutter suffered from shock. The car was wrecked.

EAST RIVERTON RAID FIZZLES

Chief Miller and Four Aides Fail to Get Evidence in Alleged Joint

Acting upon a tip, Chief of River-ton Police Walter C. Miller planned and executed a raid on a house on Broad street, East Riverton, last Saturday night.

Miller, assisted by Officers Gontee and Robinson, and State Troopers Walmsley and Armano, laid in wait until about 1:30 in the morning and then raided the house.

Eight colored persons were apprehended and arraigned before Police Recorder Cecil A. Bowers. Namely, Charles Hammond, Charles Palmer, Mitchell Meyers and Anna Johnson of Riverton; John Kemp, John Hammond and Jean Sanders, of Riverside, and May White, of Palmyra.

The defendants were represented in court by Attorney Theodore Worth, of Riverside, but since no damaging evidence was produced against them, the case was dismissed.

Rumors of drinking, gambling and disorderly conduct were either exaggerated or the raid was poorly timed, the police on entering the house, the insufficient evidence for even a light fine.

34TH SERIES OF B. & L. MATURES

Palmyra Association Distributes $155,400 to Stockholders in Palmyra and Vicinity

The depression is over! Virtually speaking, it is for some of the stockholders of the 34th series of the Palmyra Building and Loan Association. Tuesday, 777 shares matured and $155,400 was released in stock of mortgage loans and cash.

It was a day of much gratification to many, particularly in these times when both employment and money are scarce.

$69,419.00 of this maturity will go to pay stock and mortgage loans. A debt moratorium is looked up to with much admiration, and one that will go down in history. Still greater is it, when this sum represents a full debt payment.

This is not all. Everyone has been suffering from a lack of currency circulation.

Again the Palmyra Building and Loan Association does its part. They will make a cash distribution of $66,981.00, the majority of which will be placed in the hands of stockholders residing either in Palmyra or Riverton.

Both the psychological effect on those who will be relieved of their indebtedness, and the financial impetus through the cash distribution, Palmyra and Riverton should at least enjoy momentary prosperity.

The Palmyra Building and Loan Association, for some time past, a million dollar institution, has come to the front in financial circles. Their careful and conservative methods of business transactions have enabled them to stand "age-high" among the banks of Camden and Philadelphia who do not hesitate to not merely extend their commendation, but more than that their credit. Something not enjoyed by ALL associations.

CORRECTION:

The auto accident at Le June road and Cinnaminson avenue last Tuesday morning was caused when a machine driven by J. E. Smith, of Mount Holly, hit the car of George Rumpel, of Palmyra Extension. Rumpel's machine did not hit the other auto as was previously stated.

LEGION PLANS CONVENTION

Arrangements have been practically completed for the thirteenth annual state convention of the American Legion, Department of New Jersey, to be held at Atlantic City, September 19 to 22, according to a statement issued by State Commander Theodore R. Orlloff, of Hackensack.

FREEHOLDERS OF STATE TAKE RIDE ALONG DELAWARE

Burlington County Board Plays Host as Many Make Trip

FINE MEAL SERVED ON SHIP BY NOTED CATERER

Chairman Charles R. Stout Had Charge of Arrangements for Outing

Along the scenic Delaware, to League Island and return, was the route of the Wilson Line steamer Brandywine, as it took members and guests of members of the State Freeholders' Association on an outing Monday.

The large boat, which was the first of its kind to dock at Burlington wharf this year, "hoisted anchor" shortly after one o'clock. Burlington county was well represented on board, and these county residents acted as guides for the many North Jersey visitors, pointing out places of interest along the route.

Dinner was served on the boat by McAllister, of Philadelphia. The meal was a very fine one and was made more enjoyable for those on the trip by the fact that there were no before-or-after-dinner speakers.

Freeholder Charles R. Stout of the Burlington county board was chairman of the committee on arrangements for the affair. The fine time everyone had was, in a large measure, due to the manner in which Charles and his committee had painstakingly made all preparations.

A short business meeting of the association was held, at which it was decided the next meeting will be held at Point Pleasant, September 14. Frank Mita, Cumberland county freeholder, presided at the session as president of the state body.

Among the Burlington countians on the trip were:

Freeholder and Mrs. Charles R. Stout; Freeholders J. Lloyd Wright, Howard Russ, James C. McCormick, Sheriff Roscoe C. Shinn, William H. Reeves, Mayor George N. Wimer, Mrs. Elizabeth C. Terry, Mrs. Pearl Bridge, Daniel H. Lemmon, Frank McDevine, Alfonso Adams, Harold Price, Joseph Bright, L. B. Smith, Richard Wilk, and George M. Bleeper, Walter LaTour, Charles Polwell, newspaperman.

BOWLING ALLEYS TO OPEN ON AUGUST 17

After considerable improvements and alterations, the Palmyra Bowling Alleys are opening next Monday evening for the duration of the coming season.

Manager "Eddie" Beltz states that a new exhaust fan system has been installed which will provide the building with a complete change of air every seven minutes. This will add greatly to the comfort of the players and spectators.

Special comfortable benches have been constructed for the front row or use of the players and provide greater seating capacity.

The alleys themselves have been completely re-surfaced and finished by workmen from the Brunswick-Balke Colliery plant and according to Manager Beltz are in better shape than when new.

For the opening week only, valuable prizes are offered. A first prize of $10.00 will be given to the one scoring the highest three consecutive games during the week. A prize of $3.00 for the second highest three consecutive games and a prize of $2.00 for the third highest three consecutive games. A special prize for the lady with the highest single score for the week and a daily prize for the highest score. The prizes are open to people from this vicinity only.

Mrs. Mary M. Bressmer

Mrs. Mary M. Bressmer died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Elsworth H. Davis, 328 Morgan avenue, Palmyra, Saturday afternoon.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon in Philadelphia, with the Rev. Dr. Edwin Delk, pastor of St. Matthews Lutheran Church, Philadelphia, and the Rev. Harold L. Greager, pastor of the First Lutheran Church of Palmyra and Riverton, officiating. Interment was made in Fernwood Cemetery, Philadelphia.

Mrs. Bressmer is survived by the daughter with whom she made her home and another daughter, Mrs. Walter D. Bates, also of Palmyra. Mrs. Elizabeth Seibert, a sister, who resides in Philadelphia, also survives.

Edward Drzewicki

Edward Drzewicki, 15 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Drzewicki, of Center street, Maple Shade, died in the West Jersey Hospital, Camden, on Friday morning at 9:30 o'clock. He had been suffering for some time with acute dilatation of the heart.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday morning at 9:30 o'clock from the Perpetual Relief Church, Maple Shade, with the Rev. John C. Farrell, rector, officiating. Interment was made in Mount Carmel Cemetery.

Besides his parents, the boy is survived by three brothers and two sisters.

SCHLITZ BUSES STILL PADLOCKED

Bus Was to Have Been Lifted on Tuesday Afternoon

Although Joseph G. Schlitz, owner of the corporation bearing his name, expected to have the ban on the operation of his buses lifted on Tuesday afternoon, word from the office of Sheriff Roscoe C. Shinn revealed that he had not yet received such instruction from the insurance company responsible for the ban to release the buses.

The nineteen buses of the independent line running between Moorestown, Maple Shade, and Philadelphia have been padlocked in the Schlitz garage at Main street, Maple Shade, for nearly two weeks.

Sheriff Shinn, accompanied by Under-Sheriff Edwin Davis, acting under an order of the New Jersey Supreme Court, served the attachment notice in a process to recover payments totaling $8,000 on insurance. Deputies were placed on the premises by the county official to make sure none of the vehicles left the garage until the ban was lifted.

Friends of the company in Maple Shade report that "investigations have revealed that the predicament of the local firm is the result of an underground attempt to force Schlitz off the road."

The manager has stated, however, that he is confident the vehicles will be returned to regular service within a very short time and to stay.

In addition, he said that all tickets held by commuters will be good until used.

The sheriff made known the fact that the judgment which was responsible for the padlocking of the garage was obtained by John P. Cook, Philadelphia insurance man.

RED CROSS HOLDS LIFE SAVING MEET

Ralph Smith Stars for Moorestown Team at Browns Mills

The Moorestown Junior Red Cross life saving team, although made up of inexperienced members, managed to capture third place in the meet held at Browns Mills on Wednesday of last week.

New Lisbon team won the county championship, nosing out the Mount Holly team by one point. The winners garnered 15 points and the county sevens, 14. Moorestown had 11 points to its credit; Camp Ockanickon, 6, and Medford Lakes, 5.

Ralph Smith was the big winner for Moorestown. He placed first in two events, retrieving the brick and helping in the surf rescue with Harry Salmon handling the buoy. Bert Miller came in third in the free style event, which ended the local scoring. Moorestown came in third in the cross chest carry but the boys were disqualified.

The summaries:
Free style rescue—Won by Malcolm Lewis, Mount Holly; second, Eleanor Reeves, New Lisbon; third, Bert Miller, Moorestown. Time, 28 seconds.

Retrieving object—Won by Ralph Smith, Moorestown; second, Gary White, New Lisbon; third, Alvin Cotton, Mount Holly. Time, 27 3/5 seconds.

Head carry—Won by Bob Walters and Stephen Angelo, Camp Ockanickon; second, Peter Videll and Clarence Poinsett, Mt. Holly; third, Mae McClintock and Eleanor Reeves, New Lisbon. Time, 30 seconds.

Cross chest carry—Won by Harrison Todd and Theodore Taylor, Medford; second, Perry Jones and Eleanor Reeves, New Lisbon. Time, 30 seconds.

Surface rescue—Won by Ralph Smith and Bert Miller, Moorestown; second, the between Jones and Darlings of New Lisbon, and Richman and Kingman, for Camp Ockanickon. Time, 20 seconds.

DENIES N. J. LOST TO N. Y. IN DELAWARE RIVER SUIT

A new interpretation of the U. S. Supreme Court's ruling on the Delaware River diversion suit, purporting to prove that the apparent compromise verdict was a victory for New Jersey and a defeat for the city of New York, was issued at New Brunswick Wednesday by Dr. Willem Rudolph, water supplies and sewage disposal expert of the New Jersey Agricultural Experiment Station. Need for such a "clarifying statement" is evident, he asserts, "because of the widespread belief in the State that New Jersey lost the suit." Instead of losing, it is claimed, New Jersey won a victory "that relieves certain industries, oyster fishermen, farmers along the Delaware, and various summer resorts and camps from the threat of serious losses resulting from a reduced flow of the river." It is further claimed that the "supply of potable water provided by the Delaware is no longer threatened by diversion."

MOORE TO DELIVER FORMAL CAMPAIGN SPEECH AUG. 22

With his next formal campaign speech scheduled for August 22, at the Democratic State Convention at Asbury Park, A. Harry Moore, candidate for governor, is continuing his personal campaign tour around the state, meeting party leaders and workers and re-newing acquaintanceships among the voters, Republicans as well as Democrats.

N. J. EXPERIMENTS ON COLLINS' FARM

State Tries Lights to Lure Peach Moths From Trees

The Oriental peach moth is the subject of a series of experiments being conducted on the Lester Collins farm at Fellowship by Dr. H. L. Eggers of the Agricultural Experiment station of New Brunswick.

The experiment consists of an arrangement of electric lights, to reveal the moth. Most moths are attracted by light, but the Oriental is an exception.

The first experiment was conducted by arranging four 200 watt lights, just above the height of the peach trees, and four more about one foot from the ground directly below.

The white lights were not a success and the experiment is now being tried with blue and with red lights.

The lights arouse curiosity of travelers on the R-41 highway. Although various sprays have been tried, so far no means of complete control has been discovered for this moth that yearly eats into the profits of the peach grower, and New Jersey growers are watching the experiment with keen interest.

The same idea is being tried out by California growers.

The Navy will not lack for sailors if a few more families imitate that of Sam Williamson, of North Riverton, R. I., who has six sons in the sea going branch of Uncle Sam's service. Five are enlisted men and one is a commissioned officer.

Sutterley — Wehren

William S. Sutterley, of Moorestown, who has been making his home in Newark for the past year, and Miss Clara May Wehren, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Wehren, 44 Martin street, Bloomfield, were married at the Grace Methodist Episcopal Church, Salisbury, Md., Monday, August 3, by the Rev. Mr. Stafford, pastor.

They were attended by Miss Ethel Stevenson, of New York, and Oscar Boser, of Newark, with whom Mr. Sutterley is associated in business.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Gilbert J. Sutterley, of 276 East Main street, Moorestown. He is a graduate of Staunton Military Academy.

FIVE HURT AS CAR SKIDS ON HOLLY-RANOCAS ROAD

Four women and a man were injured near Mount Holly Sunday when an automobile in which they were riding skidded and overturned on the Mount Holly-Ranocas road. The injured are: Charles R. Kelley, 56, driver of the car, of 2639 North Jessup street, Philadelphia, cuts of the head; his wife, Mrs. Charles Kelley, 56, head injuries; Mrs. Alice Bolton, 56, same address, fracture of the hip and shock; Mrs. Margaret Stone, of 223 North Thirty-eighth street, Camden, injury of the back; and Mrs. Sadie Schlereth, of Westfield avenue, Camden, cuts of the head. The group was returning to Camden from a visit to children at a camp at Ewansville. The road was slippery, causing the car to skid and then overturn. All were treated at the Burlington County Hospital, Mount Holly.

SIX-FOOT SNAKE ATTACKS YOUTH

Merchantville H. S. Student Rushed to Hospital by Moorestown Woman

Frank Voigt, Jr., Merchantville High School student, who was bitten twice when he stepped on a six-foot snake in a vacant lot near the center of Merchantville Wednesday of last week, was rushed to Cooper Hospital, Camden, by Mrs. Harold H. Budd, of Fairview avenue, Moorestown, who was driving past the lot when young Voigt was attacked by the reptile.

His wounds were treated and snake-bite anti-toxin was administered to the victim, 16-year-old son of the well-known Merchantville lawyer, after young Voigt had been rushed to the hospital by Mrs. Budd in record time.

The youth was taking a short cut to his home on Clifton avenue and crossed the lot. He stepped upon the snake which wound its body about his leg and quickly inflicted two wounds with its fangs.

Voigt yelled and kicked the snake away. Persons nearby, including Mrs. Budd, went to his assistance. He was taken home after receiving treatment at the hospital.

As soon as the Merchantville police learned of Voigt's experience they were combing the district, one armed with a shotgun and others with clubs. Several youths and men increased the snake hunt but no signs of it could be found.

No serious effects are anticipated from the bites suffered by the youth. The black snake does not poison excepting in the mating season. How the reptile came to the spot is a mystery.

SHERIFF ROSCOE SHINN TO SELL RUM SCHOONER

The rum schooner, Bernardine Williams will be sold at public sale by Sheriff Roscoe C. Shinn, Tuesday, September 1. The sale will take place at the wharf at the mouth of Crosswicks creek, Bordentown. This schooner was seized by state troopers while being used for the transportation of rum, and ordered sold by the Burlington County Quarter Sessions Court for violation of the state prohibition act. The schooner's registration is No. 24, Port of Baltimore, the property of Robert E. Wagoner.

DEMOCRATIC WOMEN WILL HOLD PICNIC AT BROWNS MILLS AUG. 19

The annual picnic and outing of the Burlington County Women's Democratic Club will be held at Brown's Mills on Wednesday, August 19, from 2 p. m. until late in the evening, according to an announcement by Mrs. Merrill E. Haas, state committee woman from this county. In case of rain, the outing will be held the following day.

At 8 o'clock in the evening there will be a business meeting. County candidates and a guest speaker representing A. Harry Moore, Democratic candidate for governor, will address the gathering.

Mrs. W. R. Murphy, of Bordentown, chairman, and members of the committee in charge of the outing anticipate a large attendance.

Jennings Lee, a bell boy, who found $1,400 in a hotel in El Paso, Tex., and returned the money to the owner, was given a tip of 15 cents.

A wicker basket which contained a full grown box constrictor, was taken from a theatre in Hamburg, Germany, by thieves.

BAIRD ON TAXES

In a talk to farmers and agriculturists who assembled on his farm in Delaware township this week, Senator Baird, Republican candidate for governor, said some things concerning taxes that are of keen interest to many others besides farmers—all of us in fact.

The Senator said in part:

"This tax problem is the most important that we have to face. The way to reduce taxes is to quit spending. The way to get the necessities of government at a cost we can pay is to spend the tax dollar just as carefully and just as economically as though we were spending our own private funds. The way to relieve the over-burdened taxpayer is to adopt a policy of retrenchment and economy in our public administration and to apply honest and sound principles to the conduct of our public affairs.

"I am for adequate government but I demand that it be honest and economical. I know the taxes must be reduced. The time for talking about tax relief is past. It is time for action. This is what the legislature had in mind, when it directed the return of more than six millions of dollars of taxpayers' money to the taxpayers. Farmers must increase their interest in government. Every farmer in the state should be a voter. He should think about his own interest in public affairs and he should take an active part in the business of his government which so directly affects his welfare and his interest. There is no other way by which the farmers or any group of our citizens can be assured of the honest and careful conduct of the affairs of their government."

SOW FRESH DELPHINIUM SEED NOW

By A. C. McLEAN,
(N. J. Agr. Extension Service.)

Many amateur gardeners report difficulty in growing the large delphinium, one of the most popular ornamentals in America. The principal difficulty, according to reports received by the Extension Service, seems to be in getting a good stand of plants. This is because seed of certain of the better hybrid delphiniums does not store well and, as a result, quickly loses its germinating powers. To insure a good stand of plants, therefore, the gardener should sow fresh seed from this season's crop between now and September 1.

The delphinium is a hardy plant and there should be no difficulty in wintering young plants that are given moderate protection. The gardener is advised to start with seed of improved English varieties, which is available in this country.

Do not sow seed on ground that is too heavy or likely to hold excessive amounts of water. If heavy soil must be used for starting delphiniums, make a raised seed bed and to it add fine root ash, sand, or peat moss. Since the delphinium resents an acid soil, it may be necessary to add some lime. Once the ground is frozen, cover the seed bed to keep it in that state.

Instead of transplanting the young seedlings this fall, leave them in the seed bed and move them early next spring. Plants so managed will bloom next summer and, if properly cultivated, should produce some fine spikes.

TRANSPLANT ORIENTAL POPPIES NOW

By A. C. McLEAN,
(N. J. Agr. Extension Service.)

August is the best time to transplant oriental poppies because during this month they are dormant and remain so until the first or second week of September. The plants can be handled easily now and there is no better time than the present to propagate choice varieties.

The easiest way to propagate the oriental poppy is to make root cuttings. This involves the digging of the plants to be propagated and cutting their roots into lengths of one-half inch or longer. Plant them immediately so there will be no chance of having them dry out. The planting should be done in a fairly loose soil, and to a depth of not more than 1 inch. These root cuttings will send out young shoots, some of which should bloom next spring.

The oriental poppy has received much attention from plant breeders in recent years and many varieties are now available to gardeners. The colors of blooms of these varieties which he was on his way to put down at the head of 15,000 troops.

"If the minority, and a small one too, is suffered to dictate to the majority, after measures have undergone the most solemn discussion by the representatives of the people, and their will through this medium is enacted into law, there can be no security for life, liberty or property; nor, if the laws are not to govern, can any man know how to conduct himself in safety. There never was a law yet made, I conceive, that hit the taste EXACTLY of every man, or every part of the community; of course if this be a reason for opposition, no law can be executed at all without force, and every man or set of men will in that case cut and curve for themselves; the consequence of which must be deprecated by all classes of men who are friends to order, and to the peace and happiness of the country."

Americans of today, if they expect to see their government survive, may well ponder the significance of these words.

The gunman violates law for plunder and revenge, the bootlegger for illicit gain, the patron of the bootlegger (without whom he could not exist) joins the ranks of the lawless for the gratification of his appetite.

But they are all sowing dragon's teeth, and judged by any moral standard they are all equally guilty in the breaking down of that observance of the laws of the land which is the only safeguard of the rights and liberties of its citizens.

AUTOGIRO TO BRING FLYING WITHIN REACH OF AVERAGE PERSON

Aircraft manufacturers have dreamed of the time when the general public would become air-minded enough to create a demand for their product comparable with the demand for automobiles.

The revolutionary autogiro may mark the beginning of a new era in aviation. This "wind-mill" plane, with its lifting propeller blades above the fuselage, makes ascent and descent in a limited space possible. The dangers of a forced landing are practically eliminated, because it can be "set down" in an emergency almost anywhere.

Recent tests have demonstrated the safety of the autogiro, but at present the machine is costly, and until it can be produced at an attractive price its use will be restricted to wealthy devotees of the flying art.

The skill of American engineers may be depended upon, however, to gradually bring the price of the autogiro within the reach of the average person who wishes to experience the thrill of flying at a minimum of risk.

WAY OF LIFE

BY BRUCE BARTON

"I Was Wrong"

Like many other business men, I subscribe to a confidential bulletin issued by a private news agency in Washington.

It contains interesting comment on affairs both here and abroad, gathered from official sources and from important visitors to the Capital. No one is quoted by name and hence the writers of the bulletin can exercise considerable freedom. Sometimes their information is useful.

In a recent number they answered certain questions as to how they get their news. I quote the following paragraph:

"For example, take the Washington predictions as to when business will recover. There have been two kinds. First, the formal, publishable statement of officials, which the newspapers have carried. Second, the unofficial, private, more sincere views which the Washington correspondents have known but were under obligations not to print. We have sent you the latter. Our advice have been less wrong than most, but not particularly good at that, and this is one example of why you should not trust our letters 100 per cent."

That made a great hit with me. If the writers had said: "We misled you a little about the time of the business recovery, but we were not responsible. The officials deceived us," or, "While we were wrong on the business recovery, still our competitors were much worse"—if they had written any sort of alibi at all, every word of it would have lessened my confidence.

But when they come out frankly and say: "We were wrong, and you should never depend on us one hundred per cent," then I begin to think they must be pretty smart men.

I have never forgotten an experience with one of my first employers, a man who is now at the very top of his profession.

In those days I was getting $40 a week, and he was earning $40,000 a year. He lived in a fine apartment on Park Avenue, and I lived in one room in the YMCA.

One morning early I was called out of bed to answer the telephone. It was my employer. He said:

"After you left the office last night I hunted up some additional information on the subject we had been discussing. I tried to reach you during the evening, but you were out. I am calling you now to let you know that you were right, and I was wrong."

You can imagine what that did to me! I would have jumped off the roof for that boss, and I never met him even now without an impulse to raise my hat.

Little fellows feel that they must be infallible in order to maintain the world's respect. It is a badge of bigness to be able to say frankly, "I was wrong."

All question as whether the coming presidential campaign will be fought on the "wet" and "dry" issue was set at rest by Mayor Anton J. Cermak's statement that "Governor Roosevelt is 'wet' enough for the Illinois voters." The Chicago mayor is very close to Senator James Hamilton Lewis, the Democratic victor in the last campaign in that state and would not have made the statement if he had not been reasonably sure he was siding with the Senator's ideas. The two of them swing Illinois' twenty-nine electoral votes. If the state repeats and goes Democratic again.

Governor Roosevelt's reaction to Mayor Cermak's statement has not become public but he accepted the New York State Democratic platform in 1930, on which he was elected, which declares in effect that the state is for the right to determine the question of Prohibition. Observers here predict lively times ahead, both in the Democratic Convention, where a high percentage of the delegates will be from "dry" states, and in the campaign thereafter, if the Democratic party goes unqualifiedly "wet," since it is as certain as anything in the future can be that the Republican platform will be decidedly "dry."

President Hoover's recent pronouncement regarding economy, with his order for cuts in all departments has created consternation in the ranks of the admirals and generals, both those stationed here and elsewhere. There are more "brass hats" in Washington right now than during the height of the war and many of them are busy designing new ships, most of which will not be built according to this latest order. Others are in command at obsolete navy yards.

Army officers, with the exception of the Engineer Corps which is one of the hundred percent busy on reclamation and similar projects, are also dismayed by the order. Some time ago a rule was issued by the Chief of Staff that provided that army men stationed around Washington wear civilian clothes at all times, except when on military duty. The order was designed to cover up the fact that hundreds of officers are doing clerical work at high army pay. It was feared some Congressman would uncover the condition and start something, so the camouflage was ordered.

Another arms group that finds the order distasteful is that in the Cavalry. They see the abolishment of the remount division and the cessation of all chances for polo playing and fox-hunting at Government expense as the prelude to the fact that the horses need exercise and training.

President Hoover apparently is well aware of this situation and took steps to protect the taxpayers. His order was issued in the form of a letter to all department heads in Washington, pointing out the loss of revenue this year and the huge deficit that exists of some $903,000,000, and "suggests" that all heads make an effort to curtail their expenditures, even dispensing with projects already under way, unless such action will result unfavorably to public welfare. His letter requires definite action by August 17. In other words, immediate action.

It is general talk here that the President's friends are bringing pressure to bear upon him to endorse a bond issue to provide employment on public works during the coming winter. The amount of the issue is generally placed by Dime Rumor at five billions of dollars, which would provide work enough to keep practically everybody busy until economic conditions right themselves the proposals of the plan assert.

Such a huge issue, even if offered at three percent, would be over-subscribed many times. It is said here. The issue would have an added advantage in luring hidden capital from its present hiding places and putting it to work. Secretary Mellon is said to be against the plan.

Financiers figure the loan could easily be repaid and the loan retired in forty years without becoming an undue burden on the taxpayers. At three per cent the yearly interest would be $150,000,000. By adding one per cent to the $50,000,000, and investing that in a sinking fund at interest, the loan could be repaid in forty years. The plan has many supporters but Mr. Hoover has given no intimation as to what action he is likely to take. It is conceded that some measure like it will be absolutely necessary to obtain the revenue needed to run the Government and take the place of the loss from reduced payments on the income tax and the quarter of a billion dollars, the Germans have been excused from paying on reparations for a year.

VALETS' GRAFT

One can pick up wonderful suits, if you know where to go. Valets of wealthy men get their masters' old clothes and they have certain stores where they can sell them.

The suits are of the best material and practically unworn. It is up to you as to what you pay. It varies from $5 to $20 a suit and for that you get clothes that make you look like a millionaire. It is pretty hard to find out where to get such bargains as those who are already patronizing those shops don't like to let you know they are wearing cast off suits and, besides, if they take you there it means they have a harder time getting bargains themselves. Still, there are those places and, if you don't mind wearing somebody else's clothes, you can dress like a lord on little money.

SECOND-HAND GOODS

This city sells more goods second-hand than many cities sell new, according to an analysis issued by the Merchants' Association the other day. The total sales run $14,000,000 a year, of which 936 stores sell close to $100,000.

Second-hand book stores do a business of $800,000, nearly $100,000 more than used automobiles bring. A straw showing how many are doing business here on a "shoe string" is shown by the fact that second-hand office furniture is sold to the amount of $636,900 each year.

How does he do it? Why he has a microphone in front of him with six receivers around the big store and his lowest whisper carries to the back wall. It is de luxe selling.

KINDNESS TO BLIND

All New Yorkers are kind to blind men. One sees them tapping their way around the most crowded parts of the city and, when they halt at a curb, waiting to cross the street, almost anybody will volunteer to lend a friendly arm and aid them to cross. A newspaper man here told me a funny thing about that. He was waiting at the curb while a friend bought a paper. While waiting he absently started tapping with his cane on the walk and newspaper men in this city carry canes—it's a trade mark.

As he stood there a nicely dressed woman seeing a blind man tapping the walk, as she thought, stepped up to him, took his arm, and remarked, "Let me help you across the street!" Embarrassment all around was avoided by the friend's appearance. He took the newspaperman by the arm, thanked the kind-hearted woman and told her he would help him over.

1931 AUCTIONS

New York is full of auctioneers. Some of them are almost as famous as Christie's, in London, where they have sold single jewels for a million dollars, and some are of the catch-penny type.

One of the latter, right in the heart of Times Square, has a novel method. We can all recall the hoarse-voiced auctioneer at farm sales, ready to drop from the effort of using his voice. Well, this man sells from early morning to late at night and his voice holds out all week.

MT. HOLLY COUPLE QUIETLY OBSERVES DUAL BIRTHDAYS

Mr. and Mrs. Harris A. Glover, of 24 Main Street, Mount Holly, celebrated birthdays together Sunday in a quiet manner at their home. Throughout their married life Mr. and Mrs. Glover have observed their birthday anniversaries together, both being born on the same day of the month, although in different years. Mr. Glover is 82 and his wife is 79. In former years they have spent their "holidays" visiting some shore resort, but this year they decided to observe the event quietly in their home.

WOMAN HELD AS RAID ON HOME REVEALS KUM

FREE WHEELING NASH PERFECTED

Taylor Motor Company Tells of New Synchro-Shift on All
New Nash Cars

A new kind of free wheeling was announced recently by officials of the Nash Motors Company as an added and optional feature of the four new, sound-proofed groups of Nash automobiles.

It is Synchro-Shift-Safety Free Wheeling, a perfected development exclusive to Nash, according to J. B. Taylor, of Taylor Motor Company, local dealer, which may be had at slight extra cost on any model of the four new series cars.

The Nash Synchro-Shift-Safety transmission with its silent second gears, continues as standard equipment on all models. Thus the motorist has a choice either of the advanced new cars equipped with the famous silent conventional drive of cars featuring both the standard and free wheeling drives.

The Nash 900 series cars, so recently introduced, were designed and built for free wheeling. In them larger generators care for battery charging, cooling systems serve idling motors, big heavy-duty brake systems provide them with a great factor of safety and furnish ample braking power to care for free wheeling, and the entire car is engineered to the new performance requirements.

Convenience and added comfort in driving are the chief advantages of the new Synchro-Shift-Safety free wheeling, according to engineers; and its action is perfectly co-ordinated with the famous Nash transmission.

Actuated by a small shift lever, extending upward from the floor at the right of the driver, the new drive can be applied or eliminated at will by shifting to the free wheel or out of it into the conventional drive. This gives the motorist the option of using either drive as conditions dictate, and makes the shift lever a "control" available at all times to control the car through motor compression on wet or icy pavements, on steep grades or in traffic emergencies.

When forward, the shift lever gives the driver the positive transmission action. Pulled back it gives him free wheeling. When applied, it operates in all three forward speeds, uncoupling the engine from the rear wheels whenever the motor is not actually driving the car and allowing the car to coast forward smoothly in low, second or high. It has no effect on driving performance when not in use, but may be shifted in or out of the drive at any speed. Thus the Nash system is entirely selective, easy to operate and simple in its action.

In starting it allows the car to roll forward smoothly through low, second and high. When it is operating, the clutch pedal does not have to be depressed in shifting gears either forward or back. The Nash Synchro-Shift-Safety transmission prevents gear clashing in shifting; so in free wheeling the shift lever action is silent and effort is reduced to a minimum. In driving over rough roads, Nash free wheeling sends the car steadily forward without the jerking motion sometimes occasioned by uneven pressure on the foot throttle. It causes quiet and operating parts by allowing the motor and the entire power line to idle whenever the foot is removed from the accelerator. Then the car coasts freely under its own momentum.

Free wheeling allows power to flow in one direction only—from the motor to the rear wheels. When it is operating, the rear wheels cannot drive the motor as the foot is removed from the accelerator. They run entirely free until such time as the motor is speeded up to correspond with their revolutions and to drive them faster.

Its action is both thrilling and satisfying in conjunction with the Nash sound proofed body, chassis and transmission. It gives the sensation of silent smooth flight and is particularly pleasant on leisurely drives. At the same time the Nash system provides the driver with quick control over the car on slippery roads or grades by its easy shift back to the conventional drive.

The Synchro-Shift-Safety free wheeling consists of an over-rolling or one-way clutch mechanism, which transmits power while being rotated in one direction, but rolls free when its direction is reversed. It is of the advanced, roller type. Ruggedly built, with a maximum number of roller bearings, it is a notable unit structurally. In it all wearing parts are made of the highest grade, electric furnace alloy steel. Exhaustive tests have proved that the drive's rugged strength is more than equal to the greatest driving strains that can be placed upon it.

PUBLIC FLOWER SHOW SEPT. 11-12

Plans are now nearly complete for the second annual flower show to be given by the Palmyra Woman's Club Friday and Saturday, September 11 and 12.

Flower lovers of Palmyra and vicinity are urged to enter their blooms. All annual and perennial varieties will be exhibited and your entry may carry off first or second honors in its class. Ribbons will be awarded.

The committee in charge of arrangements is very fortunate in having the interest and co-operation of Dr. Leslie Kilt, well-known authority on flowers, who conducts the department, "The Garden Marker," in the Evening Public Ledger.

Dr. Kilt is also widely known for her activities in connection with Philadelphia Flower Shows.

The club invites everyone in this vicinity to put flowers on exhibition and help make this a worthwhile community event.

CO. LEGION BAND
IN FINE CONCERT

Event on Community House Lawn Attracts Crowd of 200

Music lovers from Moorestown enjoyed a two-hour concert by the Burlington County American Legion Band, under the direction of Harold Phillips, Burlington, on the lawn of the Community House last Thursday evening.

Members of William H. Snyder Post, American Legion, Moorestown, and recreation department officials, who jointly arranged for the concert, estimated more than two hundred persons enjoyed the excellent program provided by the band, of which there were twenty-four members, two being Moorestown Legionnaires. The local musicians who played with the band are Wesley Slocum and Thomas Canova.

The Community House lawn was illuminated for the event. Benches were provided women members of the audience and local Legionnaires were on hand to aid in taking care of the crowd.

Special features on the program included two excellent saxophone solos by Kenneth Phillips, young son of the leader of the band, and four numbers by the Electron quartet, members of which are Leonard Burr, Wilbur Bishop, Bruce Hubley and Walter Echelmire.

Following the concert, members of the band enjoyed a swim in the Community House pool, after which they went to Gilchrist's store, West Main street, where they were served with refreshments as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gilchrist.

Fright was the only harm the seven-year-old son of Mrs. John Weaver of Okmulgee, Okla., suffered from sleeping all night with a copperhead snake.

PALMYRA LIONS ENJOY PICNIC

Fun and Feasting at Silver Lake Enjoyed by Members and Families

The Palmyra-Riverton Lions Club held its annual picnic at Silver Lake, near Silver Lake Inn, on the White Horse Pike, Wednesday afternoon and evening of last week.

Members and their families to the number of sixty enjoyed an afternoon of fun and feasting at the lake.

Mrs. W. R. Dunn and Mrs. W. A. McCamy were the winners of the women's quilt tournament, while Mrs. Walter D. Lamon, Mrs. H. H. Parsons and Mrs. C. F. Dengler proved themselves as excellent runners.

Mrs. Lamon won the ladies' thirty yard dash and Mrs. Parsons carried off the honors in the twenty-five yard dash for women. Mrs. Dengler came in second in the latter event.

The children present took part in several kiddies' games and Mrs. Dunn won the honors for making the longest swim and most of the ladies present enjoyed the swimming events also.

The surprise of the afternoon came when those present were treated to ice cream by Mr. and Mrs. William T. McAllister.

All who attended voted this the biggest and best picnic ever held by the club.

3 HURT IN CRASH AT MOORESTOWN

Unionville and Haddonfield Cars Are Badly Damaged in Accident

Three persons were injured in an automobile accident on Camden avenue, Moorestown, just below Colonial Ridge, Thursday afternoon of last week.

The victims were William Methvin, of Unionville, his son, James, eight years old, and Joseph Mealey, 18-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Mealey, Brainerd street, Mount Holly.

Methvin is confined to his bed suffering with a fractured skull. He was also severely cut about the face and neck. A nurse is in constant attendance at his bedside. His son is in Burlington County Hospital, Mount Holly, with a fractured left ankle.

While young Mealey, who also received a cut under one eye which required six stitches, is confined to his bed with concussion of the brain. The victims were treated at the office of Dr. Howard C. Curtis.

The accident occurred when a Pontiac coach, driven by the Unionville man, collided with a LaSalle coupe, owned and driven by Earl R. Compton, Winston avenue, Haddonfield. Mr. Compton escaped with slight bruises about the head.

Get Too Far Over
Methvin was driving toward Camden. Pulling out to pass a bus going in the same direction, he got too far over on the left side of the road. The Haddonfield man, headed toward Moorestown, made every effort to avoid the accident, steering his car off his right side of the road, but despite his efforts the cars sideswiped.

The LaSalle came to rest in a field fifty feet distant and it was only through splendid driving on the part of Mr. Compton that his machine did not overturn as it went down the embankment just beyond the edge of the road.

The shattered windshield in the LaSalle gave evidence of having saved its owner from nasty cuts, to say the least. The front of the large coupe was badly damaged and a new frame will be necessary.

Pontiac Badly Damaged
The left side of the Pontiac was almost completely demolished and the windshield was broken into hundreds of pieces, probably accounting for the cuts suffered by its three occupants.

No arrests have been made. The accident is being investigated by Chief John H. Bradshaw and Officer Walter A. Erickson, of Moorestown police department, both of whom were on the scene shortly after the crash occurred.

The front of a sedan was damaged when it crashed into the rear of a touring car driven by Louis Cartigive, 1735 McKean street, Philadelphia, at Garfield and Camden avenues, Lenola, Sunday evening. The sedan was driven by Daniel G. Smith, 1504 Moyamensing avenue, Philadelphia.

One woman, whose name Officer Bruce MacDonald was unable to obtain, suffered from shock. It is understood she was released after being treated at the office of a local physician.

"DADDY LONG LEGS"
WILL OPEN MONDAY
AT WALT WHITMAN

The hope of every screen actress is to get a vehicle that is perfectly suited to her talents. An excellent actress may by sheer technique and ability, play a role that "isn't quite the type" and make it real and convincing—but she can always do infinitely better if the part fits her.

In the case of Janet Gaynor, however, this hope has been realized—not once, but twice. The first time was when she played the memorable "Diane" of "7th Heaven"—a role that might have been written to order for her unusual personality and her wistful appeal.

Now the lightning strikes a second time in her latest vehicle, "Daddy Long Legs," opening at the Walt Whitman Theatre Monday. As the immortal "Judy," the little orphan girl whose courage wins her eventual happiness, Miss Gaynor again has a part that measures up to her own high standards of poignant charm.

CHILD KING PREFERS "MICKY" TO MAJESTY

He'll Make a Good Fireman,
Marie Decides.

Sinata, Rumania.—King Michael I, Rumania's five-year-old sovereign, dashed down the concrete walk of the royal summer palace here a couple of days ago in his red-painted, miniature American automobile, almost bowling over Dowager Queen Marie as he went. Ahead of him raced his favorite dog, Mumbo. They imagined themselves going to a fire.

"Madenp Micky," as Queen Marie calls her romping, irrepressible grandson, was shrieking, blowing a whistle and ordering even royalty out of his path. Queen Marie, who was taking a stroll in the palace grounds with the little king's mother, Princess Helen, and former King George of Greece, said jocularly:

"Well, if he doesn't make a good king he surely will make a first-class fireman."

Prefers "Micky" to Majesty.
When the correspondent of the Associated Press asked Queen Marie to describe the boy king, she said:

"He hasn't the remotest idea what the events of the last fortnight mean. He can't understand why people make such a fuss over him. He wants to be called 'Micky' and not 'your majesty.'"

"Like all other children, he is intensely fond of fairy tales, and stories of adventure and daring. He craves with joy and triumph when the villain in a legend has his head cut off or when some wicked character is shut up in a dungeon or eaten alive by wolves. He also loves flowers, a trait which I suppose he gets from me. Knowing my love for flowers, he goes to the palace grounds, picks little nosegays and puts them at my bedside in the evening. He also takes delight in swimming, riding his pony and picnicking."

The queen said that the little king always speaks English to his mother and Queen Marie, but Rumanian to others.

Has Few Playmates.
"Micky has been kept very much at home by his mother," said Queen Marie, "and therefore hasn't many playmates. Helen puts him to bed at 7:30 or 7 p. m. in the evening. He is up again by 8:30 or 7:00 a. m. in the morning. Half an hour later he is out on the lawn, playing with his scooter or other toys."

"His chief characteristics are his unusual intelligence, argumentative nature, obstinacy and mischievousness. His mother is very religious, but Micky dislikes going to church because the services are so long."

The queen said that Michael had not fully realized that his grandfather, Ferdinand, was dead, and the little fellow constantly looked for the toys which the late king was in the habit of giving him daily.

See U. S. to Study
Present, Says Visitor

Washington.—If you are curious about the past, travel in Europe. But if you would learn of the present and future, tour the United States from coast to coast. That is the lesson which Ambassador Pueyrredon of Argentina says he learned during a 10,000-mile automobile trip across the country.

"I saw man yet involved in conquering nature," Mr. Pueyrredon explained. "It made me realize the endless effort of the American people, especially in the agricultural sections. Argentina, a similar country, has much to learn from your methods."

"There is interest everywhere in conserving your natural resources. Unnecessary exploitation of nature is discouraged. Even the animals are protected by signs. 'Shoot only with your camera.'"

"One unusual and rather pleasant observation I made," he remarked, "was the number of young people in the small towns drinking milk. On every table milk instead of wine."

Dishes Patrick Henry
Ate Told in Book

Washington.—Handwritten cook books, detailing the Civil war and now in the possession of Mrs. Nancy F. Munce of Virginia, will be incorporated in an "Old Fashion Cook Book" to be published this summer by the Woman's National Democratic club.

Mrs. Munce inherited these recipe books from departed ladies of past generations who thought nothing of mentioning eggs by the dozen and cream by the quart. Most of them were handed down from mother to daughter for generations, by word of mouth or in writing.

One of the old books is called "Patrick Henry's Cook Book." Although not actually his property, it is composed of recipes of dishes used by his family and probably eaten by him many times. On the fly leaf, in faded, delicate writing is subscribed the statement that these recipes were "drawn off" at Red Hill, the Patrick Henry home in Virginia, by Mrs. Elvira M. Taylor, one of his direct descendants.

Good Substitute
Williamstown, Mass.—Football has been substituted for head hunting among some Filipino tribes, who report the griddiron pastime "almost as satisfying," says C. C. Batchelder, ex-secretary of the interior.

If the I. C. C. keeps on moving up the dates of its rail hearings, it will soon be hearing evidence last month.

UGANDA NATIVES ARE MENACED BY BEASTS

Lions on Rampage.

Cape Town, South Africa.—Prowling man-eating lions which enter native kraals and carry off men, women and children are causing serious concern in Uganda. According to the report of the game department, 33 natives were killed in three months and the warden stated that in several instances he operated successfully against the lions by using poison, the difficulty of shooting being enhanced by the roughness of the country and the density of the bush, writes Frank Burton in the Chicago Tribune.

The report contains remarkable instances of the sagacity of the natives. One was discovered invariably to accompany a herd of elephants. This not only made the tracing of the beast impossible but enabled it to capture the natives who went out to drive the elephants from their plantations.

The natives, the report states, are doing remarkably good work in wiping out what has become a serious pest and cases are on record of a chief and a party of natives in the village of Kyngwe tracking half a dozen lions to the rocky hills where, with the aid of nets and beaters, they were speared and killed.

Natives, however, are adverse to the use of the traps which are issued by the department. The reason is that these traps need careful attention and must be sprung by day. Otherwise vultures, marabout storks and secretary birds come down to the bait and fall victims. The natives, knowing that these creatures are protected, are afraid to kill them and so let them loose, handicapped with broken limbs, to die a lingering death.

"Once the lion has lost its instinctive fear of man," the warden declares, "it becomes a menace hard to eradicate."

Crocodile Also Menace.
The report adds that crocodiles are included among other man-eaters and that hippopotamuses is becoming more aggressive towards human beings.

There are areas on some of the lakes where these animals are a perfect menace to the occupants of canoes; while in others they have developed the unpleasant habit of attacking, unprovoked, any person they encounter on land at night, particularly people carrying lamps. The mangled state of the victims testifies to the ardent savagery of the attack.

Dealing with the control of large herds of elephants which roam the Uganda wilds, the report states that in recent years official elephant hunters have been appointed, but the measures taken against the animals have made them cunning to the extreme.

"The silence with which a number of elephants will raid a plantation is uncanny," it is declared.

The elephant hunters' work is full of danger. In Bunyara, for instance, the shooting has to be carried out from trees and the hunters are often knocked from their perches into the headlong flight of a herd of elephants after a shot has been fired.

The report refers to the feat of a ranger who bagged three elephants with one round of 250 ammunition. It occurred in tall grass, where, after a stern chase, a herd of elephants was seen to ascend the opposite hill slope.

The ranger, seeing that the elephants were likely to pass a tiny opening in the grass about 250 yards away, fixed his rifle in a convenient fork of a tree and waited. An elephant emerged from the cover into the open space and with a bullet through the heart dropped dead. The great carcass slid down the hillside, crashing over a wide lane through the grass.

Vanish into Chasm.
A second elephant appeared and received a bullet near the heart, which did not kill it, but caused it to fall down. The steepness of the slope prevented it regaining its feet and in its turn this animal began to slide down the course taken by the first.

A third elephant now stepped into the lane just below number two, which had now gained considerable momentum and which swept the third elephant off its feet and together the two disappeared into the chasm of the valley, not before, however, a fourth elephant had attempted to cross the lane and was caught in the avalanche of bodies.

On inspection the four elephants were found huddled at the bottom of the valley, dead, their bones smashed to pieces.

French Athletes Take Ultraviolet Baths

Paris.—The members of one of the French athletic teams are regularly using ultraviolet ray baths during training, having been convinced of their value in toning up the system.

England as well as France is following the example of America and Germany in the use of ultraviolet rays for preventive and curative medical purposes. In the British parliament a bill is under consideration making it obligatory for light baths as well as water baths to be installed in mines, freely available for every miner who has been deprived of sunlight for six hours a day. An enterprising municipality is fitting out ordinary public bathhouses with "artificial sunlight."

Laughing Around the World With IRVIN S. COBB

Gunnery at Regular Intervals

By IRVIN S. COBB

SOME years ago a New York millionaire of varied matrimonial adventures had a falling out with two young persons of the chorus. The disagreement reached its climax at his apartments on an evening when they called, bringing revolvers with them. Shortly thereafter he was removed to a hospital suffering from bullet wounds in his legs and the young ladies were taken to jail. They were indicted and tried. By reason of the prominence of the victim the trial was what is called a sensational trial. The newspapers were full of it and the defendants became, for the time being, celebrities.

Upon their release they were vouchsafed an opportunity to capitalize their notoriety. Under the title of "The Shooting Show Girls" they were taken on extended booking provided their act justified it. For the opening night's performance a capacity audience gathered but, in all charity, it must be stated that the featured act proved a disappointment.

Aside from the facts that neither of the stars could dance, or sing, or speak her lines, or wear her costumes effectively and that both of them suffered from stage-fright they did very well, considering.

On the following night, Jim Thornton, the old vaudeville comedian, was present to see them. He stood at the back of the house watching the scene on the stage with an inscrutable expression on his face. The manager ranged up alongside him:

"Well, Jim," he said, "what do you think of the girls, eh?" Thornton cleared his throat impressively:

"If," he said, magisterially, "if the young women desire a second week's engagement they must shoot him again!" (American News Features, Inc.)

The Golden Text is: "Truly my soul waited upon God; from him cometh my salvation" (Psalm 62).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "The Lord is my Shepherd; I shall not want. The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "One moment of divine consciousness, or the spiritual understanding of Life and Love, is a foretaste of eternity" (p. 598).

Sunday School Lesson

International Sunday School Lesson for August 16. SOWING AND REAPING. Galatians 6:1-10. Rev. Samuel D. Price, D. D.

This quarterly temperance lesson also suggests a profitable study for these summer days. One of the epistles of Paul furnishes the lesson text. Search out all the thirteen or fourteen letters that he wrote and relate them to the historical account in the Acts.

Moral problems faced the people in that day and these letters deal very directly with human affairs. Since the same difficulties are with us today we find even greater help in these same writings for Paul. Read the entire letter and note how the grace of God was superseding the hard and fast laws under which the Old Testament of Hebrew sought to live.

Everybody makes mistakes and the apostle tells that those who are making the fewest mistakes should be most kindly disposed toward those who sin to a greater extent. There are certain burdens that we must bear for ourselves, such as that of the traveler or soldier carries for his daily necessities.

The Golden Text is just plain common sense as well as spiritual truth: "Whatsoever a man soweth THAT shall he also reap." That is certain in the material world and not the less positive in the spiritual realm. Wild oats take nourishment from the soil and produce their own crop. Alcoholic liquor is habit-forming and death dealing, no matter how slowly the poison may work. A single glass has its effect on the brain cells and lessens the power of self-direction. Turn to the newspapers for this week to get more illustrations than can be presented during the class session. Big business will have nothing to do with it. Alcohol takes away personal liberty and is destructive of body and soul.

BAD CHECK LANDS YOUTH IN CO. JAIL

Seven Motor Laws Violators Also Arrested by Moorestown Police

Joseph Lynch, 19 years old, of Mill street, Moorestown, was committed to the Burlington county jail at Mount Holly Monday evening by Recorder Joseph W. Johnston in default of $200 bail.

Young Lynch was arrested Monday by Chief of Police John H. Bradshaw on a charge of forgery and obtaining money under false pretense. He is said to have given a worthless check to Charles Cook, chain store manager, and a warrant was issued for his arrest on that charge.

He is being held for county court. Eight persons were arrested by Moorestown police during the past few days, seven of them being motor laws violators. All were given hearings before Recorder Joseph W. Johnston in Town Hall.

William E. McMeney, 1801 North Bucknell street, Philadelphia, arrested by Officer Bruce MacDonald, charged with being drunk and disorderly, was fined $10 and costs by the Recorder, while a similar penalty was meted out to John H. Macgonigal, 850 North Seventh street, Camden, arrested by Officer Walter A. Erickson.

The police judge imposed fines of $5.00 and costs upon each of the six speeders, who were: Raymond G. Gaskill, Delaware Gardens; Ralph Parker, North Ferwood avenue, Philadelphia; Lawrence Frankel, 1651 South Fifth street, Philadelphia; Elmer F. Murphy, 848 Bailey street, Camden; Theodore W. Andrews, 2720 Garfield avenue, Camden, and Leon Shander, 5305 Berks street, Philadelphia.

Gaskill was arrested by Officer MacDonald while the others were picked up by Officer Erickson.

A strange condition exists in the North Atlantic this summer which is said to be entirely unprecedented. Usually from 200 to 500 icebergs float down from the Arctic between April and August, but so far not a single berg has been sighted by the Coast Guard ice patrol this year.

All Mehmed, of Chicago, arrested for behaving his wife, said she asked him to do it "as a favor."

SUMMER FIRST AID

Th day's outing for Mamma and the kiddies . . . Over on the creek four miles west. Shade and grass; trees and flowers; and—emergencies. Red Cross Day too—for Mamma. She should be prepared, wisely. For there's Bob, he just will drive and he's on the sunny side of the Ford; gets sunburn on the left ear. It looks like a wheat cake right off the griddle.

Then Junior, always an explorer, picks up a locust thorn in his most prominent muscle—it penetrates half an inch.

And Clarice, fond of butterflies, gets stung on the upper lip by a new species that she finds buzzing over the horse man's bloom.

Little Mary insists on carrying the lunch basket many times too heavy for her—trips over a bump—takes off a section of epidermis from one fat knee.

Tom, the profound, none too energetic and heavy—picks up, at least a pint of chiggers—and they ALL depend on MAMMA for first aid. All run to Mamma when in distress.

On that day's outing, take along a kit containing: (1) scissors; (2) a roll of clean adhesive plaster; (3) a bottle of mercurchrome; (4) clean muslin or gauze for bandages; (5) a splinter forcep; (6) a bottle of carbated vaseline; a can of antiseptic dusting powder. Don't rely on liquid vegetable antiseptics—most of them are powerless for killing germs.

If a cut, finger, let it bleed awhile; then pour mercurchrome into the cut and around it. Dry quickly and apply adhesive plaster to close wound.

Wells — Heckman

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Heckman, of Lenola road, Lenola, announce the marriage of their daughter, Margaret Heckman, to Woodrow Wells, of Medford on Saturday, August 1, at Media, Pa. The ceremony was performed by Justice of the Peace John G. Moe. Mr. Wells is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Wells.

The bride wore a blue chiffon gown with hat and slippers to match. There were no attendants.

Coming events cast their shadows before—sometimes. Anyway, back in 1913 Tommy McCroskey and Mary Chinn, each aged 5, were principals in a Tom Thumb wedding at a church benefit in Webb City, Mo. Recently they were really married at the age of 23.

Because he is supporting a family, a court has ordered J. W. Byrd, traffic law violator of Los Angeles, to serve his 3 day jail sentence in week-end installments of 36 hours each.

This Week's Schedule
Saturday—Medford at Burlington; Moorestown at Riverton; Delanco at Riverside; R. D. Wood at Vincetown.

Burlington continued on its way for the second half championship of the Burlington County Baseball League by soundly trouncing the Riverton Club last Saturday afternoon by a 13-6 tally.

Pounding Weikman, Riverton flinger, from the beginning of the contest, the Burls took the lead in the first inning after Riverton had tallied twice. The Shollmen pushed over four runs in the initial count and then scored twice in the second and a single time in the third. Three run flurries in the sixth and eighth frames put the game away for the Burls.

Riverton, after its opening outburst, was held scoreless until the seventh. In this inning a pair of markers crossed the scoring station, followed in the next two innings by one run each.

The Burls accounted for 18 hits off the Weikman delivery, with two doubles, a like number of homers, and a solitary triple included in the tally. Although the Riverton club was not able to bang out as many base hits as the Ivy "Clubbers" seven of their ten bingles went for extra bases. Four doubles, two round trippers and a three-base smack enabled the Schneidermen to make 22 bases on their ten raps. Otz Terrell, backing for Weikman in the ninth inning, had the distinction of pinch-hitting a homer. This four-base blow accounted for the last run of the losers.

"Chick" Foulke, with a pair of doubles, and Bartley, with a home run and a double led the attack for the losers. Nelson and P. Pitko were each credited with four hits for the Burls.

PALMYRA YOUTH AIDS 'Y' MERMEN

Price, Former High School Athlete, Keeps Campers in the "Swim" at Meet

A former Palmyra High School athlete was instrumental in enabling the Camp Ockanickon swimmers to take third place in the American Red Cross Senior Life Saving meet held at Medford Lakes last Saturday.

The Sylvan Lakes Beach Patrol had an easy time in winning the meet, taking five out of the six first places and placing second in the remaining event. Moorestown was second with 13 points and the Ockanickon team third with 11 markers.

Thomas Price, of Palmyra, swimming for the camp team, accounted for six of his team's points when he took second place in the cross chest carry event and the retrieving object match. He graduated last June from Palmyra High School where he had played on the football team.

Summaries—Free style rescue—Won by Hoyt, Sylvan Lake; second, Spencer Cooper, Moorestown; third, Robert Musselman, Camp Ockanickon. Time, 32 seconds.

Retrieving object—Won by Robert Cameron, Sylvan Lake; second, Thomas Price, Camp Ockanickon; third, William Mellon, Mount Holly. Time, 35 2/5 seconds.

Head swimmers' relay—Won by William Cameron and John Crutcher, Sylvan Lake; second, Robert Musselman and John Huntington, Camp Ockanickon; third, Carl Graham and B. Rushman, Moorestown. Time, 43 1/5 seconds.

Head carry—Won by Hoyt, Sylvan Lake; second, Robert Rushman, Moorestown; third, Gordon, Camp Ockanickon. Time, 36 seconds.

Cross chest carry—Won by Thomas Ringling, Sylvan Lake; second, Thomas Price, Camp Ockanickon; third, Francis McCourt, Moorestown. Time, 40 1/5 seconds.

Surf rescue—Won by H. Roberts and William Johnson, Moorestown; second, Pinto and John Crutcher, Sylvan Lake; third, William Mellon and Paul Gray, Mount Holly. Time, 23 seconds.

2 MT. HOLLY MEN HELD IN THEFT OF GENERATOR
William H. Frake and Anthony Volpe, both of Mount Holly, were arrested by Trooper Edwin, of the Columbus barracks, last week, charged by Cecil Danley, proprietor of a garage at Unionville, with stealing a generator. At a hearing before Justice of the Peace Joseph C. Kingdon, the men admitted their guilt but each sought to blame the theft on the other. As a result, both were committed to the county jail in default of bail.

ARTISANS IN TIE WITH TAK-ABOOST

Palmyra Twilight League Team Battles to 7-Inning Draw With Riverside Nine

A keen pitching duel was staged last Wednesday night at the Palmyra High School athletic field when the Palmyra Artisans, members of the Palmyra Twilight League met the Tak-A-Boost club, of Riverside.

Both teams are composed of players in the Burlington County League and neither was able to gather a decision over the other. With Paul Schele pitching fine ball for the Riverside nine, two Artisan flingers had a hard time to keep the visitors from going home with the verdict.

Five hits for the Artisans were used to good advantage and produced a pair of counters. Stout flinging in the pinches kept the nine hits registered by the Riverside clan from accounting for more than the same number of runs. Bud Hunt and Dave Wenger both saw mound duty for the lodgemen while Schele was hurling the entire seven inning stretch for the Boost outfit.

None of the Artisans were able to gather more than a single base and top but Bartley and Benny Edge were each good for a pair of raps for the visitors.

POLICE TARGET PRACTICE SCORES

Bill Gootee of the Riverton force, who has been more or less regular in his attendance at the weekly pistol target practice is constantly improving his marksmanship.

Due to the poor weather conditions last night few were on hand to participate. Robinson also shot exceedingly well as the following scores will indicate:

Robinson	143	136
Derworth	126	116
Gootee	116	102
Anderson	136	136

TUESDAY—Parry-K. of C., postponed, rain.

The championship of the league race was decided last Friday night, with the title holders having nothing at all to do with the winning or losing of the game played.

Parry, for the second time this season, defeated the Artisans. Friday's game marked the most decisive victory any team has scored over the lodgemen this season, the Broderson clan winning 9-1.

The Artisans, after leading the league most of the season fell into losing ways near the close and were passed by the Ramblers on July 13, when the Ramblers, led by the Broderson 8-5. The leaders have not moved out of the limelight since that time, but have increased their lead to two full games.

The Artisans, underated also since that time, had an outside chance of tying for the title, should the Rogers' News nine defeat the leaders in the game scheduled for Monday night. The defeat for the runners-up have knocked them out of all chance for the championship regardless of the outcome of any of the games.

Neither Dick Shikat, former heavyweight champion of the mat world, nor Ray Steele, western challenger for the title, held by Jim London, will rule a favorite, should meet here at the Phillies baseball park on Friday, August 14th.

Fandom here has seen the two rivals training and passed its opinion. A close match and a long one with the victory equally likely to go one way as the other.

The two have wrestled to a two hour draw before this, down in the hot, soaked Tennessee, and their rivalry is of old standing. The winner will get a championship match with Jim London, considered by many as having slipped under his intensive campaign of the summer.

The match will be to a finish with one fall deciding the issue. Five supporting matches have been arranged for the outdoor show. One will be a semi-final for forty-five minutes—or less—between George Zaharias and Kola Wvarian, the Russian, and the other four will be thirty minute limit tests to a decision if no falls interrupt.

In these, Karl Pojello will meet Leon Smith, Earl McCready will wrestle Joe Spears, Toots Mondt, manager of Shikat, will take on Al Pierotti, Eorton College professor, and former grid and major league baseball star, and Ralph Wilson will grapple with Jack Burke.

June Dixon, of Mt. Morris, N. Y., has a pet bantam hen that entered the house and laid an egg between two dolls in a carriage on the second floor of the dwelling.

Helped Drill First Oil Well

Sam Smith, Associate of Pennsylvania Pioneer, Is 88 Years Old

ALTHOUGH he was a party to the beginning of one of the world's largest and most essential industries, Samuel B. Smith, who with his father William A. Smith, drilled the first oil well in history, has just reached his eighty-eighth birthday untouched by the fruits of his epochal achievement.

"Father and I weren't commercial minded and preferred blacksmithing, which was our trade," says Smith. "So we went back to our farm in Butler, and shortly after the Civil War broke out, I enlisted."

Smith, hale and hearty, lives in a cottage in the Pennsylvania oil fields, in Titusville, two miles from the original well, now sealed and recently made a monument. Around it eleven wells are still producing the same grade of crude oil that Smith helped bring to the surface in 1859.

August Big Month

August is a big month in the Smith family history. On the 2nd, the granddaddy of the oil industry celebrated his birthday. August 27th marks the seventy-second anniversary of the bringing in of the Drake well.

Smith will likely be found pursuing his daily work of ten or eleven hours on the acre-garden adjoining his home and in his shop, fashioning his own tools. The aged driller is still well and alert and enjoying life, because he makes a hobby of his health. His principal diet is green vegetables, which he raises in his own garden; he does not eat desserts or sweets of any kind and has never used tea, coffee or other stimulants, except during his army career.

Without the highly organized facilities of today, the pioneer oil drillers had to fashion their own tools and derrick, create their own shop. They dug coal from the hills to run their engine, and finally resorted to wood from the sawmill which they had built. They had to experiment with the proper piping for that first hole and go long distances to get it. After four months of effort they found a technique that struck oil in six days of boring.

In addition to inspiring a worldwide industry Mr. Smith opened the Pennsylvania grade field, now 1,000,000 acres of rich, proved territory in four states, still actively yielding large quantities of crude oil that is the envy and admiration of the rest of the world.

WORK ON ROUTE "38" PROGRESSES

Contractors and State Pushing Completion of New State Highway

Both the state and the contractors are pushing work on State Highway Route 38, to run from the Kaigh avenue circle, Crescent Boulevard, Camden, to the children's home at Mount Holly.

Officials of S. J. Groves & Sons Co., who have the contract for the first section, from S-41 and Kings Highway to Hainesport to the South of Moorestown, have made excellent progress and have already laid a mile and a half of concrete.

The state has completed its plans for the second section, from Kings Highway and S-41 to the circle at Camden, and officials of the State Highway Commission have announced that bids will be received for this work at Trenton on August 24.

Bids will also be received on August 24 on the construction of four traffic circles at important intersecting roads. The circles will be located at Browning road, Pennsauken Township; Haddonfield road, Delaware Township; Church and Coles road, at the point where Route 38, S-41, which runs from the Tacony Palmyra bridge to Berlin, and Kings Highway meet.

The entire length of the first spur, from Kings Highway to Hainesport, has been graded, according to an announcement from the Groves office on Paul road. Laying of concrete began August 1, having started at Mount Laurel road.

A strip ten feet wide has been laid for a distance of a mile and a half, extending toward Hainesport.

The road will be twenty-feet wide with a ten-foot shoulder on each side. The mile-and-a-half strip already constructed represents one half of the actual paved roadway for that distance.

In addition to the huge road paver, the latest type, the Groves company has a force of eighty men at work. Virtually all of the unskilled labor is supplied by local men.

With good weather conditions, the first section will be entirely paved by the first of November.

AUTO FATALITIES IN STATE DECREASING, HOFFMAN REPORTS

The number of automobile fatalities in the State of New Jersey for the first six months in 1931 is nine below that of the comparable period for 1930, according to Motor Vehicle Commissioner, Harold C. Hoffman.

He reports 530 people lost their lives on New Jersey highways in 1931 as against 539 on July 1st, 1930. During the month of June there was a marked decrease in the number of fatal accidents. Eighty-eight people were killed in June 1931, as against 141 in June, 1930, a decrease of twenty-six. The 1931 deaths were as follows:

Pedestrians	40
Collision, automobile and train or engine	4
Collision, auto with stationary objects	22
Collision, auto with another motor vehicle	18
Collision, auto or bicycle	4

There were no fatal motorcycle accidents.

From among the more valuable articles which were within reach of the burglar who entered the home of C. A. Livingston of Yuma, Ariz. he took three bottles of perfume.

A blouse of eyelet embroidered batiste to go with your summer suit of silk or linen. You will find it most attractive and not difficult to make. You may use batiste of pure white or a light ecru tone, with narrow valenciennes lace to match. The lace, as you see, edges the neckline and front of the blouse and is used around upper and lower edges of the close fitting peplum.

To make the pattern follow the diagram.

AB and RP measure 22 inches. AC and CB eleven inches. AR and BP are sixteen inches. CD is seventeen inches. CX is 8 1/2 inches. CM and CN are 3 1/2 inches each. CO is one-half inch. XK and XL are 9 1/2 inches. G and H are 2 inches from the line AB and 3 1/2 inches from the lines AR and BP.

Join G and M and N and H with straight lines for the shoulders. Curve the back of the neck from M to N. Curve the armholes from G to K and H to L. Draw straight lines for underarm seams from K to R and L to P. Curve the lower edge from R to D to P. The front neckline is made by drawing a straight line from M to X to N. For the right front cut a piece with an extension from X to the lower edge and back to D. For the left front cut a straight line from X to D and let the right front extend over the left front. All edges are hemmed with a very narrow hem and edged with valenciennes, except the left front. Underarm and shoulder seams are first French seamed.

For the peplum the line AB is 20 inches and CD is 22 inches. The peplum is five inches wide and is curved slightly so that it is cut from a strip of material six inches wide. The blouse and the peplum is edged with lace. It is cut in two pieces, seamed at the sides, and the blouse section may be slightly gathered at the sides to fit over it smoothly.

HEART ATTACK FATAL

AS MAN DRIVES CAR
James Potts, Sr., 64, of 232 East Main street, Bordentown, died of a heart attack Sunday afternoon while driving his car on South Pemberton road. He left the home of his son Paul, with Van Wilkison, to visit his daughter, Edith Potts, near Pemberton. Wilkison said he noticed the car suddenly went faster. Potts slumped over the wheel. Wilkison, though unable to drive a car, turned the switch and stopped the car near a roadside stand. A physician was called and pronounced Potts dead. Coroner George B. Bitting, of Mount Holly issued the death certificate.

WARM DAY MEALS

AUGUST usually brings a number of hot days, known as "dog days," when appropriate meals are necessary to health and comfort.

It is a very warm day the temptation to scramble together something from the larder often wins out, and we quite forget the dietary rules which should be observed in what is usually the best meal of the day.

Food may seem unimportant on these hot days, but it is at just such a time that special care should be taken. This does not mean spending long hours in the kitchen, but rather in providing simple dishes that are adequate and appetizing and that, for the most part, can be prepared in the cooler morning hours. For the sake of digestion have at least one hot dish, it may be a soup, or it may be the main dish, or a hot beverage.

Even meal combinations or casseroles are acceptable, if not too heavy, and if they are balanced by chilled foods. Vegetables and salad greens may be prepared in the morning and kept in the refrigerator until needed.

The new mode for the so-called icebox or refrigerator foods has added many new dishes with which the up-to-date hostess may vary her menus. These dishes include not only frozen desserts, but such foods as the jellied salads, icebox cakes, cookies, puddings and biscuits.

Recipes for an oven dinner and some icebox foods are given:

Baked Slice of Ham

2 lb. slice of ham 1/2 doz. tart apples
10 whole cloves 1/2 cup water
1 1/2 cups light brown sugar Parsley
Rub one-half cup sugar into the ham. Sprinkle with cloves. Place in baking pan and surround with the apples peeled, cored and sliced in half crosswise. Sprinkle the remaining sugar over the apples, add the water to the pan and bake until tender, about one hour, at 350 degrees. Serve on hot platter garnished with cress or parsley.

Buttered Carrots and Peas

Wash and scrape five medium-sized carrots and cut them into dice. Place in a baking dish with a can of peas (use liquid from peas) and one teaspoon of salt, pepper and two tablespoons of butter. Cover and bake in oven for one hour at 350 degrees.

Escalloped Potatoes

4 cups sliced raw 4 tbsp. butter
1 tsp. salt 2 cups milk
1 tsp. pepper 1/2 cup grated bread
3 tbsp. flour contains

Cover bottom of greased baking dish with a layer of sliced raw potatoes; sprinkle with salt, pepper and flour and dot with butter. Repeat layers until all materials are used, then sprinkle buttered crumbs on top. Cover with milk and bake in moderate oven 350 degrees for one and one-half hours.

Icebox Pudding

Take four large round finger cookies for each person. Add two tablespoons powdered sugar to one-half pint of heavy cream. Whip cream and spread between the four finger cookies. Place on a plate and put in refrigerator over night. Serve, garnished with one tablespoon of whipped cream on top of each serving and top off with a maraschino cherry.

Icebox Rolls

1 qt. milk 1/2 cup lukewarm water
1 cup mashed potatoes 2 tsp. baking powder
2 1/2 tsp. salt 1 tsp. soda
1/2 cup melted fat 1 tsp. soda
1 yeast cake About 8 cups flour

Scald milk and cool, when lukewarm add potatoes, salt, fat and yeast cake dissolved in the lukewarm water. Sift baking powder, soda and flour together, about two or three cups (enough to make soft sponge) and combine mixtures. Let stand until bubbles appear on surface (about one hour). Cut in enough flour to make stiff dough, knead and place in refrigerator. Dough can be used any time after standing twenty-four hours and is prepared for baking in the same manner as other rolls or biscuits. After raising, biscuits or rolls are baked in the usual way, at 400 degrees for fifteen or twenty minutes.

When Patro Ruiz, of Juarez, Mexico, awoke one morning recently, he discovered that the door and the two windows which he had forgotten to lock before he retired, had been stolen from his home.

Political News from Trenton

By CHARLES R. BACON

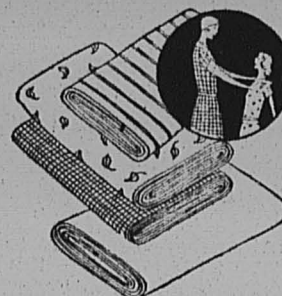

Swiftly, certainly and with increasing strength, the sentiment for Baird for governor is reaching into every section of the State and the Republican leaders and managers are delighted with the outlook. Everywhere Mr. Baird goes he is received with evidences of favor that must be indeed flattering.

One of the significant phases of the campaign has been the listlessness of the Democratic followers of Mayor Frank Hague. There seems to be a deep undercurrent of dissatisfaction with his continued bossism of the party and the revolt becomes more and more conspicuous as the contest gets into real swing. This situation was given forcible demonstration at the gathering of Hudson county folks for the governor's reception at Sea Girl camp ground. It was expected, of course, there would be a big and noisy bunch to make a showing for Mr. Moore. Instead, there went down a large and earnest company of Hudson county Republicans all intent upon showing Mr. Baird and his loyal supporters that the "Big Democratic stronghold" of Hudson is not to be counted so big and so strong as some of the Moore shouters would like to have it understood.

Not only is Hudson lined up for a turnover, but Middlesex, where there has been costly Republican strife for several years, has sent forth cheering news of harmonious action among the Republicans and a fixed purpose to affect a complete rout of the Democrats who have been able to elect a Senator and three Assemblymen. The friends of Governor Larson and Motor Vehicle Commissioner Hoffman, as well as all those Republicans who have for some time stood on the sidelines, have given unmistakable evidence of the purpose to get heavily behind Mr. Baird.

Bureau of Home Economics says a family can live on $14 a week. This will give some big families the first laugh they have had in weeks.

RIVERTON BOARD NAMES COMMITTEE

Fifteen Citizens Appointed To Confer With Directors On Improvements

A committee of fifteen citizens to confer with the Riverton Board of Education on improving school facilities was appointed by the board last Thursday night.

The personnel of the committee is as follows: Walter K. Woolman, Walter L. Bowen, H. H. Murray, Mrs. Francis B. Elwell, J. Carl DeLaCour, Ralph L. Flower, Victor Rischard, Miss Martha McBride, James S. Coale, William E. Bennett, Mrs. Minnetta, M. Bowker, John A. Stroheim, Mrs. R. Selby Williams, Charles A. Wright and J. Wilson Sylvester.

The first meeting of this committee with the board will be held on September 21st.

An estimate was received from the American Heating and Ventilating Company, Philadelphia, for repairing the heating plant in the school which they claim could be done for less than $300. It was the proposition of the company to replace one fire box, and while there were cracks in the other boxes it was thought that they could be made to do for another year.

Heating Plant Unit

George D. Steele, chairman of the property committee, insisted that all the fire boxes were unfit for use. He said that he had made a personal investigation assisted by H. D. Hullings, local heating engineer, who had declared the plant in its present condition to be unsatisfactory, unsanitary and a fire hazard.

Mr. Steele professed to put little faith in the statement of the American Heating and Ventilating Company that the other three fire boxes were in usable condition owing to the fact that in May this company had rendered a report stating that the plant was in good condition. Steele pointed out that the heating plant had not been in use since this report was made, and that now the company admits that one fire box needs replacing.

Mr. Barclay expressed the thought that if the American Heating and Ventilating Company could guarantee satisfactory results, it would be safe to proceed with the repairs along the lines suggested by them. After considerable discussion, during which Mr. Warren said that the property committee should be instructed to have the plant put in satisfactory condition even if it was necessary to replace two units, the motion covering this work as it was finally made by Mr. Barclay, seconded by Mrs. Blair, and unanimously passed. "That the property committee be authorized to have the heating plant repaired."

Nurses for Truant Officer

A communication from the Visiting Nurse Committee advised the board that the Visiting Nurse would perform the duties of a truant officer and a resolution was passed accepting the offer.

The property committee was authorized to have the fence at the rear of the school building rebuilt by John E. McVaugh at his price of $275.

A resolution was introduced by District Clerk Harold and unanimously passed, raising the salary of the principal's secretary Miss Helen Enskat, from $800 to $900.

STREET RUNS "RED" AFTER TRUCK SPILLS

Driver, in Avoiding Crash Upside Tomato Truck; 2 Others Arraigned for Recklessness

Accused of causing a truck, loaded with tomatoes, to upset at Five Points, Parry, near Palmyra, on the Burlington pike, Charles A. Crony, of 1031 Filmore street, Philadelphia, was arrested Tuesday by Trooper Thomas Forkin, of the Delaware State Police barracks.

Crony was arraigned before Riverton Borough Police Recorder Cecil A. Bowers, and was fined $5 and costs, on a charge of failing to stop at a "stop street."

The truck was driven by John Steeper, of Bordentown, who alleged that Crony's car darted from a side road in front of his truck. He swerved to avoid a collision and his truck upset, dumping the truck load of tomatoes in the middle of the road.

Carl Kiseelman, Camden attorney, and a Brooklyn motorist, arrested on the Burlington pike near Palmyra, were dismissed Tuesday night after a hearing on charges of reckless driving.

Kiseelman's automobile was involved in the crash of Max Lipman, of 73 Patchen avenue, Brooklyn. Kiseelman asked the Riverton police department to investigate the accident. State Trooper Thomas Forkin of the Delaware barracks, took over the case, arrested both Kiseelman and Lipman and took them before Police Recorder Cecil A. Bowers, of Riverton.

Bowers, after listening to the stories of both, decided neither had violated the law, and dismissed the complaints. Bowers today stated that reports Kiseelman and Lipman had been fined were untrue.

CANOE FOUND

Last week Officer William Gootee of the Riverton police force found a canoe on the river bank which had been washed up on the beach at high tide. Owner may have same by properly identifying and claiming it. Apply police department.

Young Bandit Who Made Prison Break In Camden Was One of Quartet to Confess Intention of Holding Up The Old Mill Inn

One of four bandits caught in a traffic checkup conducted by state troopers near Burlington on June 5, made his escape from Camden County jail in a daring plan executed early Monday morning.

The prisoner, Albert Rumford, 23 years old, was caught with three companions in a heavily armed automobile, and all confessed their intentions to hold up the proprietor of the Old Mill Inn, on Burlington Pike, near Palmyra. Their plans for a robbery were abandoned when they noticed the large number of cars outside the place.

The escaped bandit, who lives at 2532 North Chadwick street, Philadelphia, gained his freedom by sawing off two bars of his cell door, and making a daring escape through a prison window.

An attempted escape on July 4 was frustrated by keepers at the jail, who had learned of the contemplated jailbreak. The plans at that time had called for a shooting affray, with the gun being smuggled to Rumford by a man posing as a Philadelphia lawyer. Prison authorities locked Rumford in his cell and frustrated the attempt.

The confession intention to hold up the Old Mill Inn was lodged as evidence against the quartet, but another charge of hold up and kidnapping in Camden county had already lodged the four in jail. State troopers found them to be driving with improper licenses but had not pressed this charge.

They are now being held on a charge preferred by Harold Cowdright, attendant of a gas station on Admiralty Wilson boulevard, Camden. On May 29 he was robbed of $19 and taken in the bandits' car to Burlington where he was put out and given enough carfare to get home.

The three companions arrested are Thomas Cullinney, Wilbur Cravelling, and John Flacker, all of Philadelphia. Rumford made his escape by sawing through two bars on his cell door, ran to a bathroom ten feet away and crawled out a hole through which several water pipes run. A rusted partition made it possible for a man to crawl through the hole, which led into an airway. From there, he opened a small window, out of two bars, took a chair from the window and lowered himself down the Sixth street side of the old court house building.

Descending by the 14 foot chain he reached the open window at the Camden County Park Commissioners office. He gained the roof, by finally making his way through interior stairways to the ground floor, being forced to break a pane of glass in a locked door inside the building. It is not known whether or not he received assistance on the outside.

Police departments of both Pennsylvania and New Jersey were notified immediately, the state-wide teletype systems of both states being used.

BAIRD'S STAND ON PASS ABUSE

Favors Withdrawal of All Passes As Sure Cure For Evil

David Baird, Jr., Republican candidate for Governor, had the following to say regarding the railroad pass situation:

"There obviously has been vicious abuse in the issuing of railroad passes. When the original railroads were chartered in New Jersey contractual obligations were contained respecting transportation without cost of certain officers. During the years which have passed, those entitled to transportation certificates have increased many fold. Today, scores who in no way or under any circumstances have a right to such a frank, are riding without cost."

"This abuse must end. It has festered for years under the administration of both parties. There are many who hold the opinion that the state should pay its own way on the railroad. This, of course, would wipe passes entirely and would be a certain way of eliminating those who now are making the general public pay for their free rides. It is plainly evident that the revenues lost to the railroad by the transportation of those who are illegally and illegitimately holding passes must be made up by an increase in rates."

"My position in this matter is clear. I have repeatedly warned against the continuance of this evil. This petty wrong must not continue. So long as the practice of issuing passes without cost to the state, it will be absolutely necessary to maintain strict supervision over the granting of them so that only those who are entitled to a pass under the law, will receive one. As Governor, I will insist that there be no deviations from this rule."

LESLIE G. LIMROTH IS SEVERELY BURNED

Leslie G. Limroth, Palmyra's well known Puller brush salesman, narrowly escaped serious injury Saturday evening, when he poured gasoline on a bon fire in the rear yard of his home at 218 East Fourth street.

Mr. Limroth was severely burned about the right leg and left hand and is now under the doctor's care at his home. He is expected to be about again in two or three weeks.

Mrs. Margaret I. Sutton

Margaret I. Sutton, wife of Richard Sutton, of Delanco, died in Burlington County Hospital, Mount Holly, Thursday of last week, after undergoing a very serious operation.

Her funeral took place on Monday morning, at 9 o'clock, from St. Joseph's Church, Beverly, where Rev. John Caton, of Florence, officiating, assisted by the Rev. Charles A. Sutton, of Moorestown.

Interment was made in St. Peter's Cemetery, Riverside, with Philip McCheyney, funeral director in charge.

MRS. DAVID F. VAUGHAN

Mrs. Laura Z. Vaughan, wife of the late David Fisher Vaughan, passed away at her summer home in Worthington, Mass., early Wednesday morning. Services will be held Saturday at 2 o'clock at her late residence, 203 Bank avenue, Riverton. Interment at Westfield.

Mrs. Vaughan was the mother of Charles Z. Vaughan, of Haddonfield; David L. Vaughan, of Devon, and Miss Margaret, who lived with her mother. She was an active member of Calvary Presbyterian Church and of the Porch Club.

DISTRIBUTE STATE SCHOOL MONIES

Amounts To Be Received By Various Districts Announced by Kaser

Burlington County School Superintendent Louis J. Kaser has announced the apportionment of State school money to the various districts of the county. The amounts which make up the total appropriation for each district are from the state school fund, ninety percent of the state school tax, from the reserve state school fund, the railroad tax (subject to further reduction before distribution), and from the surplus revenue.

The actual amount of money which each district receives is as follows:

Bass River, $6,100.68; Beverly, $14,733.55; Bordentown City, $16,790.45; Bordentown Township, $6,127.50; Burlington City, $34,753.26; Burlington Township, $16,013.07; Chester, $24,024.16; Chesterfield, $9,521.37; Cinnaminson, $16,158.88; Delanco, $14,474.19; Delran, $9,824.77; Eastampton, $3,252.71; Edgewater Park, $8,352.26; Evesham, $12,559.56.

Potts — Siddall

Announcement of the marriage of Ernest Potts to Miss Mae H. Siddall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Siddall, of Burke street, Riverside, was made by the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Potts, of Linden street, Moorestown, on Sunday afternoon, before a party of nearly thirty friends.

The ceremony was performed in Elkton, Md., on Saturday, June 6. Following the announcement of the wedding, Mr. and Mrs. Potts entertained at dinner at the home of Mr. Potts' mother, Mrs. Sarah B. Potts, of Frenchtown, N. J.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Potts, Mr. and Mrs. John Potts, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Cline, Mr. and Mrs. William Stubbs, Mr. and Mrs. Edward P. Hyland, James McCheyney, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Leeds, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Hollinshead, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Hiles, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel R. Stiles, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Clanke, of Moorestown; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Meade and Mrs. Samuel Lishman, of Marlton; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Morris, of Lenola; and Miss Sarah Smith of Philadelphia.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Moorestown High School and Staunton Military Academy, where he distinguished himself with his athletic ability. He is an all-around athlete and widely known in this vicinity. This season he is pitching on the Trenton Cadets baseball team and is making an excellent showing.

The young couple will make their home with Mr. Potts' parents, on Linden street, Moorestown, for a short time.

LICENSE REVOKED

Motor Vehicle Commissioner Hoffman this week revoked the license of Harry P. Bauer, of Burlington Pike, near Palmyra, following the accident in which William P. Kennard, Jr., a passenger in Bauer's car, was killed.

SUGGESTS MODEL OF OLD PHILADELPHIA

Edwin S. Parry, Author of "Betsy Ross," Urges Miniature for Bicenennial Exhibit

Construction of a miniature model of Colonial Philadelphia for the Washington bicentennial celebration next year is suggested in a letter to Mayor Mackey from Edwin S. Parry, of Riverton.

He suggests a model 50 or 75 feet square, to be housed next year in a special structure in Independence or Washington Squares, and later removed to the Franklin Memorial or the plaza of the new Custom House. Old streets and buildings of Colonial Philadelphia, together with the Delaware River would be reproduced with considerable attention to detail under Mr. Parry's suggestion.

SEEK TALENT FOR CORPS VACANCIES

Legion Unit Loses Several Members Who Left Palmyra For Employment

In an attempt to fill several vacancies in the drum and bugle corps, Frederick M. Rodgers, American Legion Post, of Palmyra, has extended invitations to members of other posts to join with them in their musical unit.

Several new faces have been seen in the ranks of the corps in their recent drills. Men from Burlington and Bordentown, and a few from the Palmyra organization, have been invited to the Palmyra organization and are practicing with the other members.

A new result of the business depression has been brought about, and legion members feel it is one that is really different. Several Legionnaires have been laid off from their jobs, and have been transferred to other places of employment. Such transfers have been brought about because of the lack of business here.

With the members of the corps leaving, the Legionnaires are seeking others to fill their places. A few new pieces of musical equipment have been added and the corps members are counting on winning further laurels in the competitive drills which will soon be held in South Jersey and vicinity.

The members feel it will be impossible to make the trip, a unit to the national convention at Detroit, in October. The fact that the Palmyra veterans will not be able to compete with others in the national competition has not dampened the ardor of the legionnaires.

Should the Legionnaires intend of visiting the automobile city merely for the sake of attending the various festivities which are held in conjunction with the convention. The good time which Palmyra legionnaires had last year at the convention in Boston is remembered by many who are desirous of attending this year's session.

The drum and bugle corps, although kept out of national competition, is still active in local drills. The members are expecting to bring home some kind of prize from the Pennsylvania State Convention at Easton on Saturday. The old Lancaster and Frankford rivals are expected to participate in the drill and the Palmyra corps will have to show some real form to nose them out.

A caucus of the delegates to the American Legion at Atlantic City was held last week by the Burlington County executive committee. Plans were formed to propose W. Rex McCrosson, of Palmyra, as state commander of the legion.

McCrosson was post commander of the Palmyra post in 1925-26 and was one of those honored by fellow legion members on May 5, when nine of the past commanders were presented with medals.

Should McCrosson win the election to the state office, he will be the second state commander to come from Palmyra. The first Palmyrian to hold this office was Frank A. Matthews, Jr. McCrosson, at the present time, is state chairman of the legion membership committee. The election of the state officers will be held next month.

The County Executive committee also went on record as favoring the projected War Memorial at the Lakehurst Air station. The resolution said it favored the starting of the project immediately providing present plans are approved by the state executive committee of the American Legion.

WILL DRAW JURORS AUGUST 27

Supreme Court Justice Joseph L. Bodine has set Thursday, August 27, at 2 P. M., eastern standard time, for the drawing of the grand and petit jurors for the fall term of court which will open here on September 8. Sheriff Roscoe C. Shinn and L. B. Hollingshead, jury commissioner, will draw the panels, in the presence of Judge Charles A. Riggs.

GEORGE F. HOLBROOK

George F. Holbrook, of 118 South 50th street, Philadelphia, died suddenly at his home August 16th.

Mr. Holbrook is survived by his widow, Ethel Gesford Holbrook. Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at 2:30, with interment in the cemetery.

Mr. Holbrook was the son of Mrs. Emma Holbrook and brother of Mrs. C. R. Beagle, of Riverton.

H. B. MILLER GETS GARAGE CONTRACT

Former Palmyra Builder Low Bidder On County Job; Heating To Orfe

Hugh B. Miller, Edgewater Park was the successful bidder for the construction of a new county garage at Claremont, when bids were opened by the Burlington County Board of Freeholders last Friday. His base bid was $15,892.

The building is to be about the same size as the one now used for housing the road department trucks and supplies, and will conform to the same architecture. It is to be built in about 100 days.

Other bidders and their figures were:

Roscoe C. Gale, Mount Holly, $16,000; Joseph E. Kolster, Beverly, $17,707; William C. Cook, Inc., Mount Holly, $18,483; Thomas C. Shinn, Mount Holly, $15,790; T. G. Clatte, Mount Holly, $16,250; Alex P. Bright, Riverside, $18,838.96.

Orfe Gets Heating Contract

George H. Orfe, Jr., of Riverside, was given the contract for installing a heating plant in the garage for $25,700.

Other figures were: W. C. Kashner, Riverside, $28,253; Brunt Mechanical Equipment Co., Philadelphia, $35,894; George D. Worrell, Inc., Mount Holly, $32,061; Albert Ellis, Moorestown, $33,300; Camden Heating Co., $33,900; Alfred Fort, Jr., Mount Holly, $33,919.

Alfred Ellis, Moorestown, was awarded a contract for the plumbing on his bid of $925. Other bidders were: W. C. Kashner, Riverside, $987.50; G. D. Worrell, Inc., Mount Holly, $978; Alfred Fort, Jr., Mount Holly, $1,133.

All bids for electrical work were rejected. Howard E. Gadd, Collingswood, $270; Nelson G. Myers, Mount Holly, $297.95; Ernest S. Milligan, Mount Holly, $370; E. F. Janney Electrical Co., Lancaster, $733; Strang Electrical Co., Philadelphia, $320.

The contract for the erection of a concrete railing on the bridge on Main street, Medford, was awarded to William C. Cook, Inc., of Mount Holly, on his bid of $1465. Other bidders were Hill Construction Co., Mount Holly, $2100; Medford Concrete Co., $2288; Charles S. Moses, Edgewater Park, $1584.

One Coal Bidder

There was only one bidder for furnishing a contract for the state road tons of buckwheat coal for use in the county buildings, and the contract went to S. B. Lippincott & Sons, Mt. Holly, on their lump sum bid of $1159.90.

Westampton township made application for $1400 from the state road fund to be awarded to counties with which to repair Burr's road, from the Mount Holly-Burlington road to the Burlington County Country Club property.

Under a resolution introduced by Director of Roads, Charles R. Stout, the Public Service Corporation was given permission to erect four poles with necessary wires and fixtures on Stokes Road in Medford Township.

Howard Russ, Director of the Board of Education, asked all bids for floor covering at Fairview Sanatorium be rejected and new bids asked for. The resolution was unanimously passed.

Bills of the various departments of the county, presented and ordered paid, were: Finance, $66,130.92; netting, $22,257.90; public affairs, $114,120.35; roads, $28,991; bridges, $6252.24; making a total of $137,752.11.

Laura Leaming Waddy

Funeral services were held Tuesday for Mrs. Laura Leaming Waddy, 81, of Glendora, cousin of Vice Chancellor Edmund B. Leaming, of Moorestown. Mrs. Waddy died at the home of her son, Royden R. Waddy, Saturday. Descendants of one of New Jersey's oldest families, she was born in Dennville. She was the widow of Edward Waddy, whose ancestors were Pilgrims aboard the Mayflower.

Besides the son with whom she made her home, Mrs. Waddy is survived by another son, Aaron, a brother, Jacob, of Beverly, and one sister, Mrs. Mary Shoemaker, of Pedricktown.

The Rev. Warren Rose, pastor of the Glendora Methodist Church, Camden, conducted services at the Schroeder chapel at 2 p. m.

A NEW CHILD BOOK

"The Child From One to Six, His Care and Training" is the title of the latest publication issued by the Children's Bureau of the U. S. Department of Labor. It is eagerly anticipated and is shown by the fact that 25,000 advance requests have been received for it, due to a brief announcement some time ago that it was soon to appear. Single copies will be sent free to parents and other interested persons upon application to the Department of Labor, while quantity orders will be filled by the Government Printing Office at 10 cents each.

That the work of the Children's Bureau has met with remarkable recognition as one of the most helpful agencies of the Federal Government is demonstrated by the fact that the booklet on "Infant Care" which was first used about 12 years ago has become known as Uncle Sam's best seller, more than a million copies of it having been distributed. The new publication, carrying the infant on to his sixth year, promises to be a close rival in popularity.

TWO ARRESTS MADE BY OFFICER DORWORTH

Stealing and Drunken Driving Charges Made Before Recorder Bowers

Clarence Clayton and Charles Clayton, of Land street, East Riverton, were taken in custody by Officer Dorworth for stealing peaches from the farm of Howard Taylor, Jr., last Thursday. Recorder Cecil A. Bowers fined the Claytons $5 each with costs.

Sunday Tony Rizo, of 1725 South 9th street, Philadelphia, was arrested for driving a Ford truck while intoxicated, on the Burlington Pike near Five Points. Officer Dorworth took Rizo before Police Physician Dr. Dean LeFavor, of Palmyra, who pronounced Rizo to be intoxicated. Recorder Cecil A. Bowers fined him $200 and $21 costs. Officer William Gootee, of the Riverton Police assisted in the arrest.

DENGLER TALKS TO ROTARY CLUB

"Training For Citizenship" Text of Professor's Address Before Local Service Club

Prof. C. F. Dengler, Supervising Principal of Palmyra School, addressed the meeting of the Palmyra-Riverton Rotary Club last week on the subject of "Training for Citizenship." His message, in part, follows:

The purpose of the public school, of education, has been expressed in many different ways; but no matter what terms may be used in defining it, the final goal of all teaching and of all organization is good citizenship.

In the early history of our nation we believed that the gift of suffrage would create the will to use it, and that an elementary education would create the capacity to use the gift aright. We had faith that knowledge was power and that it led to virtue. However, by the beginning of the third quarter of the nineteenth century we began to realize that we had been deceiving ourselves. We saw that incidental training gained through unguided participation in the life of our democratic form of government was insufficient. Consequently we introduced into our schools a study of the forms and the machinery of government, still more or less confident that a knowledge of things as they are would produce both the power and the desire to use them properly.

This introduction of the study of civil government may have been of considerable value, but, today, it is wholly inadequate. We realize more and more that knowledge is power, only when it can be used; and that knowing what is right results in doing what is right, only when right attitudes, desires, and ideals have been built up.

The far-reaching changes in the character of society, which have been brought about by the Industrial Revolution of the last century, emphasize in no uncertain terms the need for more and better citizenship training. The homicide rate of our country, which is four times that of Germany, seven times that of France, and twelve times that of England, alone is ample proof that something needs to be done.

As we now see it, real education or training for citizenship is a long process, extending at least from the kindergarten through the high school, and involving much indirect as well as direct instruction. We give our boys and girls history and geography and civics while in the grades, and we teach history and study current events and problems of our democracy in the high school. But, all that will not suffice. Our schools need to become civic citizenship laboratories in which principals, teachers, pupils, assemblies, club, etc., play an important part. Pupils need to learn how to vote, how to lead, how to govern, how to respect authority how to behave as members of a group, by actually having an opportunity to participate in such activities under the guidance of mature, sincere, leadership. We need much good teaching, more motivated work, more constructive discipline, better organized pupil activities, a wise use of assemblies, more school pride and better school spirit, and more community service. If the life of the school is made real living for our girls and boys, and if the ideals and personalities of the principals and teachers are such as would make the kind of impressions that are to be desired, our youth are going to be better prepared to shoulder the responsibilities of good citizenship and to lead mankind onward in the path to higher and better things.

ROADHOUSE ORDINANCE AMENDED IN DELAWARE

Inns and roadhouses in Delaware Township will be permitted to remain open until one a. m. every day in the week, if an ordinance amendment, introduced and passed on first reading last week at a regular meeting of the Delaware Township Committee, is adopted. The amendment is as follows: "Section 6. All taverns, inns and roadhouses licensed under the roadhouse ordinance, shall close and keep closed all of the rooms, halls and other parts thereof wherein food and other parts thereof wherein food or drink are dispensed between the hours of 1:00 A. M. and 6:00 A. M. on each and every day."

ENGINEERS REPORT ON ROAD OILING

Failure Due To Lack of Proper Handling After Sand Was Applied

At the regular meeting of the Riverton Borough Council last Thursday the subject of the recent road oiling was the principal topic of discussion.

Mr. Sleeper, from the firm of Sherman & Sleeper, borough engineers, was present with a detailed report setting forth the possible reasons for the failure of the recent road oiling job. Mr. Carroll, representing the Bituminous Service Co., contractors on the job, was also present.

Two letters from Sherman & Sleeper were read by the clerk which stated that samples of the sand and samples of the roadbed or mat had been taken for laboratory tests.

Report of Borough Engineers

Mr. Sleeper presented his report which he read to council. The report was quite lengthy and more or less technical. The salient points, however, were that the work, at the request of Chairman Albertson, had been supervised by an inspector furnished by the borough engineers, and that it was the belief of the engineers that he conscientiously represented the borough in the supervision of the work by the contractors.

No analysis was made of the oil before application to the roads, since the oil is manufactured and shipped under state specifications and inspection. Subsequent analysis has shown the oil to come up to state specification in every detail except in viscosity, and that was only a shade under the necessary.

Too Much Loam in Sand

The sample of sand submitted prior to the beginning of the work tested very favorably for loam, being several points under the maximum allowed. However, since the completion of the work, samples of the sand extracted from the Hylton sand pits at the point designated by the representative of the Bituminous Service Co. as being the spot from which sand was taken for the Riverton job, showed in an analysis to be over by several times the amount allowed for loam content.

The contract did not prohibit the use of a mechanical sand spreader but the report stated that if the spreader had been pushed by the truck instead of being pulled by it, better results might have been obtained.

The contract did call for intermittent scraping for a period of a month after the last application of oil and sand had been made, and this had not been done. Mr. Carroll, representative of the Bituminous Service Company, who was present when this was read, admitted that such was the fact but indicated that it was not necessary for the successful completion of the roads.

Mr. Carroll asked for a copy of the borough engineer's report for his company and a copy was given him. Mr. Carroll admitted that the job was a failure and that his company is at a loss to find the reason or reasons for it.

Payment Withheld

Mayor Rogers stated that while county money should be paid with the company, payment would be withheld until such time as the work could either be done over or repaired to the satisfaction of council and the many taxpayers who are seriously complaining.

Mr. Carroll promised to consult with his company and have their decision about what could be done to adjust the matter by Thursday, August 20. Council therefore decided to hold an adjourned meeting on that date to further consider the matter.

Councilman DeLaney suggested that the police phone on the pole at Broad and Main streets could be placed on the same line with the phone at the police headquarters at an approximate saving to the borough of $300 per month, and that such an arrangement would better the service. Persons calling the Riverton police will have the advantage of knowing that the one request for Riverton 120 will automatically ring both phones and if the police are at either of these two points the call will be answered.

The fire and water committee reported that 600 feet of new fire hose had been purchased and placed on the trucks, and that the fire department was in excellent shape with regard to equipment.

Vandalism at Park

Chairman Elwell of the borough property committee reported that damage had been done to Memorial Park by boys. One of the showers under the grandstand had been pulled down, a curtain in the pavilion torn and a bench stolen. The committee has had the shower repaired and is seriously considering the inauguration of a button system for children using the park.

Buttons with numbers will be given to children who appreciate the privilege of using the park and accordingly refrain from the others to enjoy. Any misconduct will cause the revocation of the button, either temporarily or permanently as the case may warrant.

BAKER RE-ELECTED AS VICE-PRESIDENT BY NATIONAL BODY

Moorestown School Head Again Honored by Education Association

RETURNED TO OFFICE. AT CAL. CONVENTION

Principal, Wife and Daughter Enjoy 12,000-Mile Auto-Boat Trip

Because he was too modest to notify any of his friends that he had again been highly honored, Moorestown did not learn until last Thursday evening that George C. Baker, supervising principal of their public schools, had been re-elected as vice-president of the National Education Association.

The convention of this important organization at which Mr. Baker was re-elected was held in Los Angeles, California, June 28 to July 5, but news was not sent to Eastern news papers. Mr. Baker, with his wife and daughter, Ruth, did not return to Moorestown until last Thursday, enjoying an extensive motor and boat trip which covered 12,000 miles before returning home, and consequently the good news was not made public until then.

This signal education honor was first bestowed upon Mr. Baker at the national convention of the association in Columbus, Ohio, during July 1930. Early in April, 1930, Mr. Baker was presented with a life membership in the association which has since twice honored him with one of its highest offices. The presentation was made at New Brunswick following an address by Mr. August O. Thomas, president of the World Federation of Education Associations.

Popular in State
When Moorestown's supervising principal was first elected to the vice-presidency of the national association, he was also president of the New Jersey State Teachers' Association, an organization with more than 26,000 members, which for two years elected him to high offices without opposition. The unusual popularity Mr. Baker enjoys in the state association was demonstrated both years that he was a candidate for a high office, although not through any efforts of his own, for he enjoys the distinction of never having sought an office.

At the time he was elected vice-president of the state association, without opposition, a stiff battle was waged for the presidency. The following year, when he was unanimously elected president, there was an equally keen contest for the vice-presidency.

Mr. Baker, who, with his wife and daughter, traveled 10,000 miles by auto since leaving Moorestown shortly after school closed. Upon his return, he said that while he enjoyed seeing nationally famous beauty spots, was impressed by trips to snow-capped mountains and over some of America's sizzling deserts, "Moorestown looked mighty good when we pulled in here Thursday. I enjoyed the trip immensely, but it was also a rare pleasure to get back home."

Boat Trip to Alaska
After driving to California, Mr. and Mrs. Baker and their daughter motored to New Mexico and then to Seattle, Washington, where they boarded a boat for a nine-day trip to Alaska. The return trip was via Yellowstone Park, which was heartily enjoyed by the Bakers.

One of the most beautiful spots, and one which is not visited by the majority of tourists, being off the "beaten trail," was Rocky Mountain National Park. That was one of the outstanding points of interest on their 10,000 mile motor trip. The boat trip covered 2,000 miles, making their total mileage since leaving Moorestown 12,000 miles. The Baker relieved her father at the wheel.

Another interesting feature he said, was a 180-mile trip through the Redwood Forests.

This is the first time in sixteen years that Mr. Baker has not been a member of the faculty of the summer school for teachers, conducted every year at Ocean City.

ROAD SPATTERED WITH TOMATOES AS COUPE HITS TRUCK

Church Road near Evesboro was spattered with tomatoes when a Buick coupe struck a truck carrying a load of tomatoes Monday evening.

The coupe, driven by Robert D. Miller, Zanesville, Ohio, a summer resident at Browns Mills, ran into the truck driven by Robert McCoy, Medford.

No one was injured. The pleasure car suffered considerably, being damaged about the front and on the right side. The top covering was badly torn and the windshield was broken. No arrests were made.

PROBABLY NO OTHER GRANGE FAMILY CAN MATCH THIS ONE

Probably no other Grange in the United States can meet the challenge of Holden, No. 78, located in a little country town just outside the city of Worcester, Mass., which has on its membership roll one family in which ten members—the father and mother, two sons, two sons-in-law, and four grandsons—are all past masters of the Grange organization, eight in Holden and two in neighboring subordinates. This remarkable Grange family recently had a birthday party in honor of its head on his 90th anniversary, and the town hall was hired for the occasion, which attracted Grange attention over a wide radius.

Again Honored

GEORGE C. BAKER
Supervising principal of Moorestown Public Schools, who was re-elected vice-president of the National Education Association at its convention in Los Angeles, California.

ROBERTS CHOSEN 'AG' BODY OFFICIAL

Former State Senator Named Vice-President of State Board

Former State Senator Emmor Roberts, of Moorestown, was elected vice-president of the State Board of Agriculture at its reorganization meeting in Trenton last Friday afternoon.

The former senator succeeded Joseph W. Miller, of Princeton, whose term of office expired June 30. Elmer H. Wene, of Vineland, was re-elected president of the board.

Harry B. Probasco, of Hightstown, and H. B. Spangneshell, of Toms River, were installed as members of the board, replacing Mr. Miller and William I. Tomlinson, of Kirkwood, whose term also expired June 30. The two new members were elected at the State Agricultural Convention, Trenton, January 27, by representatives of county boards of agriculture, granges, and the state's livestock and commodity organizations. They will hold office for four years.

To protect New Jersey's dairy industry from injury through the introduction of tuberculous cattle from other states, the board made its regulations on the importation of cattle more stringent. According to its new ruling, cattle entering New Jersey must come from herds in which all animals passed the last tuberculin test. The new ruling also provides that the cattle to be shipped must pass an additional tuberculin test administered within the 30 days previous to their shipment to New Jersey.

The board decided upon January 62 to 29 inclusive, 1932, as the dates for Agricultural Week, when New Jersey farmers and their families attend agricultural meetings and visit the annual State Farm Products and Equipment Show, in Trenton.

COLLINS CONTINUES AS FINANCIAL INTERESTS HALT CHESTER SCRAP

Fireworks promised at last week's meeting of the Chester Township Committee failed to materialize when financial interests insisted on Charles Collins remaining as chairman of that governing body.

John Puge was elected chairman at the previous meeting but banks and banking companies' holding bonds refused to sanction the move, declaring that Collins as chairman of finance had negotiated all of the township's business.

Last week's meeting was the shortest session ever held at Maple Shade. A report of the building inspector showed building and alterations during July amounting to $2200. Harvey A. Downing, tax collector, reported collections of $17,614.90 for the same period. A resolution, calling for a loan of $10,000 to meet current expenses, was passed.

TWO HELD AS COPS SEIZE BEER CARGOES

Two men arrested by a state trooper and Bordentown township policemen when the officers seized two truckloads of alleged "high-powered" beer in Bordentown township, were held under $5,000 bail each last week by Supreme Court Commissioner William A. Slaughter on charges of possession and transportation. The men, drivers of the trucks, gave their names as George Wallace, 2, of 69 Morgan boulevard, Camden, and Philip Earl, 37, of 2008 North Robinson street, Philadelphia. Both men obtained bonds. Because of the overcrowded condition of the Burlington county court house basement, almost 200 barrels of the beer were taken under guard to the garage of William D. Marren, on King street, where it will be stored for the time being.

THREE TOWNSHIP'S FIGURE IN DRUNK DRIVING CASE

John Harvey MacDonald, of 2097 Arch street, Philadelphia, was fined $221.50 by Justice of the Peace Alfred M. Addison at Maple Shade Monday for drunken driving. MacDonald was arrested Sunday in Mount Laurel township by Policeman John Flanagan, of Delaware township, after he collided with an automobile driven by John C. Haughton, of 1626 Cooper street, Camden. State police took the prisoner to Chester township for arraignment.

FINE START FOR GIRLS AT CAMP

Splendid Program Includes Handicraft, Nature Study, Riding, Water Sports

With a week brim full of happy events and a full camp for the second week, the Y. W. C. A. camp at Ockanickon has had a splendid start. Miss Susan Thomas, of Philadelphia, and Mrs. Roy Clement, of Woodbury, the director and the business manager, have provided a week of superior interests for the 225 girls who have been there.

The handicraft house has been full of enthusiastic workers. Work in jewelry, tooling purses, belts and book covers of leather and carved wooden boxes are most popular, while painted garden sticks have been fascinating. Too Miss Mabel Davis, of the Philadelphia School of Occupational Therapy, has been the director of this department.

Nature study has been conducted in small and informal groups. Any time from early morning until late at night Mrs. Gibson and her assistants can be seen with a group of nature lovers studying birds, trees, flowers, stars and other of nature's beauties at Ockanickon.

On Sunday evening Mrs. Gibson gave one of her delightful bird talks following a Sunday morning service in which Mrs. Petherbridge, of Camden, used Nature as the theme for her talk at the morning service of worship. Mrs. Petherbridge, who is a member of the board of directors of the Camden Y. W. C. A., spoke too of the inspiration and outline, such as the Y. W. C. A. provides for girls, can be in the everyday life of a girl at home.

About twenty-five girls are learning to know the trails about Ockanickon better through their classes in horse-back riding. Early morning, late afternoon, and early evening classes have been formed with Miss Mary Elizabeth Clasper, of Vincentown, as one of the instructors.

Land and water sports are as popular as always. Classes in swimming are numerous, ranging from beginners to life saving. Tennis is a most popular sport and arrangements have been made for tournaments with Medford Lakes.

During the second week, which begins Thursday, August 20, two Japanese girls, Emu and Taya Shimizu will be at camp and many of the interests will center about Japan. A large number of guests enjoyed the visitors' day, Sunday afternoon. Guests will be welcomed on next Sunday afternoon after two o'clock.

MOORESTOWN MAN FINDS PANCAOST IS HARSH SORT OF 'PAL'

John McDonald, 65, of Moorestown was arraigned before Police Judge Pancoast, at Camden Monday on a drunk and disorderly charge.

"McDonald came into headquarters Sunday," testified a detective, "and asked for your honor. 'I want to see my old pal, Judge Pancoast. He's a real pal of mine.'"

"That's right," Judge Pancoast interrupted. "We are, goodness knows, John's been here on the same charge often enough before. We should know each other, shouldn't we, pal?"

"That's right, pal your honor, we should."

"Well old pal, I'm sorry I can't be a very good pal this time. Thirty days."

Mrs. Anna Fowler

Mrs. Anna Fowler, 72, who has lived alone at Marlton since the death of her husband two years ago, was found dead in the kitchen of her home Saturday.

Mrs. Ella Christian, a neighbor, discovered the body when she went to pay a visit to the elderly woman this morning. She called Dr. Howard C. Curtis of Moorestown, who was summoned and pronounced death due to heart disease. Mrs. Fowler is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Samuel Whitall, of Marlton.

Some Liked It Fast—

THE "Follies" girls and the radio editors gathered in the studios of the National Broadcasting Company recently, to settle the question of whether people like their dance music fast or slow, a question which has aroused considerable controversy since the Lucky Strike Dance Orchestra and the new Lucky Strike Summer Party Orchestra began their "Battle of Tempos". With movie cameras grinding and many prominent dance authorities and well-known writers drawing their own conclusions from the sidelines, Zigfeld's "glorified" girls sampled both tempos and a vote at the end of the experiment disclosed 18 for the slow and 11 for the fast—and so, the controversy continues.

Big Crowd Enjoys Aquatic, Aeronautic Stunts As First Scout Regatta Is Held At Beverly With Delaware Unit Winner

Memories of the once famous river regattas held at Beverly years ago were revived again when more than 100 Sea Scouts from Burlington county and vicinity participated in a colorful program of water events Saturday afternoon.

More than 1,000 persons from Burlington county and nearby towns packed the Beverly Green Bank to witness the gala affair in Beverly Cove. The events centered about the pier of George Rhawn.

The judges occupied the pier at Rhawn's. The Delaware Troop, of Beverly, under the direction of Brian Kane, of Edgewater Park, County Commissioner of the Sea Scouts, became champions of the carnival and won the Sea Scout trophy which must be defended annually in Burlington county.

One of the features of the program was the visit of four naval airplanes sent to the festival by Commander H. V. McCabe, of the U. S. Naval Station of the Fourth Naval District. The planes performed several formations in the air.

List of Judges

The judges of the affair were: Victor Harrison, director of the Burlington County Red Cross life saving movement; Stanley Haines, Ralph Shaw, the Rev. Hollis Colwell, John Thacher, F. J. Jones, Jr., Frank McEvane, A. B. Harding, John Gunn, all of Beverly, and skippers of the ships participating. Haines was the official starter and Shaw presented the prizes.

At the close of the regatta the points were announced as follows: Delaware, of Beverly, 50 points; Mary Ann, of Maple Shade, 21 points; Yankee Clipper, of South Langhorne, 16; Blue Center, of Reebing, 7; Jolly Roger, of Beverly, 5.

The events were as follows: Whale and dinghy races—1st, Nine Belts, of Philadelphia; 2nd, Yankee Clipper, of South Langhorne; 3rd, Jolly Roger, of Beverly.

Canoes—1st, single blade, 1st, H. Rhawn, Delaware; 2nd, Q. Pink, Delaware; 3rd, A. Spitz, Mary Ann.

Throwing life ring—1st, W. E. Rhawn, Delaware; 2nd, Q. Pink, Delaware; 3rd, L. Caldwell, Mary Ann.

IDLENESS OF SCHLITZ BUS COMPANY ENDED; RESTRICTION LIFTED

After ten days of idleness the nineteen buses owned by the Schlitz Bus Company, Inc., of Maple Shade, are again in operation, regular service having been resumed last Friday morning.

The ban on the Independent line running from Moorestown and Maple Shade to Philadelphia was imposed by Sheriff Ransom C. Shinn, of Mount Holly, acting under an order of the New Jersey Supreme Court, following the issuance of an attachment notice in a process to recover payments totaling $8,000 in insurance. John P. Cook, of Philadelphia, was responsible for the judgment.

All of the buses were kept at the garage of the company at Main street, Maple Shade, under the surveillance of deputies who were placed on the premises to see that the orders were carried out and none of the vehicles went on the road.

FARMERS TO SELL PRODUCE DIRECT

Chain of Stores To be Organized by Burlington County Agriculturists

Steps have been taken to organize a chain of produce stores to sell farmer's produce direct to the consumers.

At a meeting held in Grange Hall, Burlington, farmers from Burlington county and Bucks county, Pa., named a committee to work with E. S. White, of Mount Holly, who is promoting the proposition.

Albert Shaw, of Burlington, was appointed treasurer and is one member of the committee. The other two from Burlington county are Charles Bell, Beverly, and Landon Bell, Burlington. Representing Bucks county are A. H. Menck, Pottsville, A. Fuchs, Torresdale, and Elmer Palmer, Somerton.

It is proposed to open one store at first, probably in Kitzbath. Later other ventures are anticipated. The store will handle produce during the entire year, and will, of course, buy through regular channels when New Jersey and Pennsylvania produce is out of season.

Mr. Shaw gave a typical example of the condition the farmer must face when he sells commodities. He is selling four for fifty cents at Elmer's and that he had a load on his truck and would be satisfied if he could sell fourteen for fifty cents.

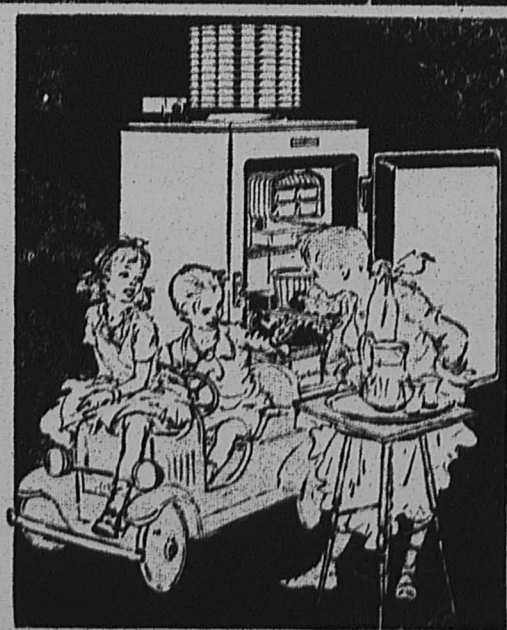

The membership of the new organization will consist of 100 farmers and each will pay a fee of $10 to finance the project. A large percentage of the necessary members were signed up at the meeting last week. Dr. Catted, who lives on Jacksonville road, is interested in the movement and acted twice as member.

"Prices being paid to farmers for produce this year are lower than usual," declared Mr. White. "Commission men are paying the farmers whatever they want to give for produce and the farmers, rather than suffer a greater loss, have to accept what is offered for their produce."

"The prices charged consumers, however, have not declined in keeping with the drop in prices paid to the farmers. With a chain of stores throughout the state, where New Jersey farmers will be able to sell their produce direct to the consumers, the farmers and the consumers will both profit. The consumers will be able to buy produce at lower prices, and the farmers will get more for their crop than they are now getting from the commission men."

"Don't did the cavemen have to milk the dinosaurs?"
"I don't know. Why?"
"Well, if they didn't have canned milk in those days what did they put in their coffee?"

THIS IN WASHINGTON

BY RADFORD MOSELEY
AUTOCATER WASHINGTON BUREAU

Government energies are now being bent toward a solution of the unemployment situation that is expected to confront the country next winter. The President's advisers have been working with him ever since spring, trying to devise ways to meet this condition.

Beyond question, the Administration realizes that conditions for the men out of work are going to be much harder this winter than at any time since the stock market crash two years ago. The big industrial concerns, in most instances, are faced with heavily depleted reserves, and the savings of most workers have been dissipated in supplying the family budget. As a result there is less money being held in reserve right now than at any time since the depression started.

President Hoover has held many consultations with John Barton Payne, head of the Federal Reserve, and Arthur Woods, chairman of the Committee on Unemployment, and other authorities, for the purpose of finding out what palliatives the Government has with which to meet the coming condition. In addition, it has been suggested on these having public works in charge in an endeavor to create jobs. He has been keeping closely in touch with all plans being carried out by the various states on new public works and arranging federal plans to fit in with the projects in order that the greatest number of workers will be benefitted at the least possible cost to the taxpayers.

The President has expressed his gratification at the action of the United States Steel Company in cutting dividends, and letting wages stand. His friends hope that the appeal made to John D. Rockefeller, Jr., reported owner of a majority interest in the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company, will bear similar fruit. There is no question but that big business is taking a different stand during this depression than it ever took in any previous panic. Previously the first thought has always been to cut down wages. Now the big interests have come to realize that a cut in the buying power of the worker means lessened dividends and lower returns from capital.

One hears from all sources that the chieftains of the merchants are practically elated, and that many of them are flying from hand to mouth, as far as stocks are concerned. Some industries have already gone back on full time production and it is expected the rest of the mills and factories will follow suit in a few months. Naturally this cannot be accomplished as quickly as mills can be shut down, and it is this in-between period that the Government seeks to bridge over with temporary jobs on needed public works like post offices, roads, levees and similar undertakings.

Another problem that is harrying the President is the question as to whether Congress will be able to pass the enabling legislation to permit the President's debt holiday to become effective. Under the Young Plan, Germany is due to make a heavy payment on December 15 and Congress, which was called upon by Mr. Hoover to sanction the postponement of the debt, will not meet until December 7.

The whole crux of the situation lies in the fact that, for the first time in many years, the two major parties are almost tied in their number of Representatives. It is problematical as to whether the Republicans or the Democrats will control and elect the Speaker. Even if the Republicans are shown to be in control, they will still have the difficult job of conciliating the Progressives as they will vote with the Democrats.

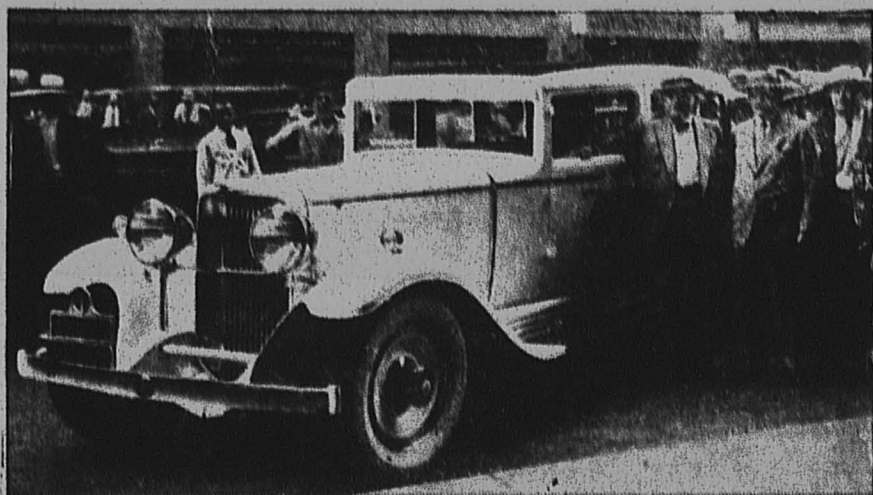

Representative Thibon of Connecticut is the logical choice of the Republicans for Speaker, with Representative Luce of Massachusetts a close second. Luce is considered the best thinker in the House. It is certain that the Progressives will demand that a Western man be chosen and a long-drawn-out fight may result. The Democrats are but little better off if they gain control, as Garner of Texas, the man nearest in line for Speaker, is not liked by Tammany, which has a powerful bloc in the Lower House. That would leave Representative Crisp of Georgia as the second choice. Crisp is the son of the Speaker in Cleveland's last term and the House as a whole admits his ability, the general consensus being that he has the clear "win in the entire membership" is by far the best parliamentary.

In other words, political observers here predict that the House will be unable to organize in time to pass the legislation required to make the debt holiday effective. It has been suggested to the President that he convene the House in November in order to give it time to settle the long right and its elective officers and be ready to pass the legislation desired by Mr. Hoover. The only alternative, if Congress fails to organize, is for the President to assume authority and arbitrarily extend the time for the German payments, an exercise of power that would unquestionably bring down on his head the ringing condemnation of his political opponents. For this reason there is a growing feeling that an extra session of Congress will be called in a few weeks.

TOWNSHIP TITLE WILL BE DECIDED

Community House and Water Works Swimmers To Vie For Honors

A swimming meet is being arranged between the Moorestown Community House and the Water Works Pool swimming teams and it promises to be one of the best contests ever held in the township. The big races will take place at the Water Works Pool on Tuesday evening, August 25, at 7 o'clock, and the winning outfit will be adjudged champions of the township.

Spencer Cooper, in charge of the Community House boys and Charles Judana, who will handle the Water Works swimmers, are in charge of this event which last year was won by the Community House "Beals".

This year the charges of Judana are in to tell a different story, and if faithful practice and endurance have anything to do with it the boys from down at the "Works" may surprise the highly-touted boys from "up-town."

Charlie will depend on "Joe" Barber, John Barton, "Ernie" Schlegel, "Eddie" Graham, John "Twoey" Dwyer, "Buster" Carpenter, "Bill" May, and "Bill" Brown.

"Spence" will most likely have the regular Community House swimming team which has so regularly won meets during last winter. Among that list will be "Frank" Roberts, "Hoot" Graham, "Mike" McCourt, "Bud" Paulsen, "Bun" Downey, and John Bradshaw.

There will be events for swimmers of all ages, both boys and girls. The girls who will swim for Judana are Daisy Robertson, Myra Robertson, Doris Rowe, "Dottie" Sloc, June Dawson, and Grace Carpenter.

Paul A. Freno

Paul A. Freno, of Elm and East Avenues, Maple Shade, died in Jefferson Hospital, Philadelphia, on Sunday afternoon after an illness of only a few days.

Mr. Freno was employed at the Real Estate Land Title and Trust Company for over thirteen years. The funeral will take place from his late residence on Thursday morning at 9:30 o'clock from Our Lady of Perpetual Church, with the Rev. John C. Farrell, officiating.

Interment will be made in Mount Carmel Cemetery with Philip McCleskey, funeral director in charge.

REPORT ACCIDENTS OR LOSE LICENSES, HOFFMAN WARNING

A statement given out Tuesday by Harold C. Hoffman, Commissioner of Motor Vehicles, warns that drivers of motor vehicles must notify the department in Trenton promptly of each accident in which they are involved or lose their licenses to operate. Mr. Hoffman's statement follows:

"The New Jersey Motor Vehicle Law requires that operators involved in accidents in which anyone is killed or injured or in which property damage to an apparent extent of $25 or more is sustained, should report in writing to the department within forty-eight hours on special cards provided by the department. Many motorists will entertain the erroneous idea that after they have an accident all they are expected to do is report to the police.

MAN SEES CAR AFTER DRYING WET COILS

Clifford Bozarth, 24 Wall street, Mount Holly, has decided he will leave his automobile in the garage when it is raining. Bozarth's car stalled at Garden street and Mount Holly avenue last week during the rain. He looked the engine over and found the chief trouble was wet coils. He reasoned that with the coils dry he could continue his way. Bozarth rolled up a bundle of paper and put it under the engine and touched a match to the paper. The Good Intent Fire Company extinguished the fire with chemicals but not until after the car was considerably damaged.

POSTPONE TRIAL IN TRUCK CRASH

Drivers To be Given Hearing Next Tuesday; Drunk Goes To Jail

A hearing scheduled for Recorder Joseph W. Johnston's court in Moorestown Town Hall for Tuesday afternoon, was postponed by the police judge until next Tuesday afternoon when one of the principals appeared with counsel and the other did not have legal assistance.

The hearing, to be held next Tuesday, is the result of an accident on South Church street, in front of Horace Roberts' home, last Friday when Ford trucks driven by Clarence Ballinger, Bridgeboro road, Moorestown, and Alvin Still, colored, Moorestown R.F.D., crashed. Still appeared in court with a lawyer.

Both trucks were considerably damaged about the front, and a load of apples Ballinger was carrying in the truck owned by his father, David Ballinger, suffered considerably. The apples, it is said, were so badly bruised that they had to be consigned to the city press. Still's truck overturned after the crash.

According to information obtained by Officer Walter A. Erickson, who investigated the accident, Ballinger was headed north and Still was going in the opposite direction, but on his left side of the road. Ballinger concluded Still was about to turn into Roberts' drive, so pulled his truck toward the other side of the road. About that time Still decided to get back on the right side of the highway. The crash resulted. The drivers were unable to come to any agreement as to who was responsible for the collision, so the matter is to be threshed out before the recorder next Tuesday.

Three men charged with being drunk and disorderly were arrested by Moorestown police during the past few days. Mallon Parsons, 31 East Third street, picked up by Officer Erickson Saturday, drew the heaviest penalty. He was fined $25.50 by Recorder Johnston. Unable to pay the fine he was sent to the county jail at Mount Holly for thirty days.

The other drunks, arrested by Officer Thomas J. Murphy, were penalized $10 and costs. They were Thomas E. Hoffman, 106 Emerald avenue, Westmont, and John H. Portley, 6743 Roger avenue, Merchantville.

A fine of $5.00 and costs was meted out to Conrad E. Dalkie, 3404 Federal street, Camden, arrested by Chief John H. Bradshaw for speeding, while Lester Ray Del, 1538 North Fifty-first street, Philadelphia, "taken in" for reckless driving by Officer Erickson, was penalized $10 and costs.

Laughing Around the World

With IRVIN S. COBB

A Bare Statement

By IRVIN S. COBB

THE EMINENT Dr. Blank, specialist in bone and muscular diseases, was a busy man. The routine in his office was devised with a view to facilitating the handling of cases. He had a full staff of nurses, clerks and attendants.

On a certain morning a neatly dressed and diffident-looking youth entered the outer room and told the nurse in charge that he wished to see Dr. Blank.

"Have you an appointment?" she asked.

"No, ma'am," he said.

"Then this must be your first visit?"

"Yes, ma'am."

"Very well, then. Go to that dressing-room down the hall, second door on the left, and remove all your clothing, including your shoes. Presently a bell will ring and you may then enter the adjoining room where Dr. Blank will be waiting to see you."

Flushing, the young man started to say that he didn't think all this was necessary. With an authoritative gesture the nurse checked him.

"If you really desire to see Dr. Blank you must do exactly as I tell you," she stated. "This is the invariable rule for all who call upon him for the first time."

Still protesting, the stranger retired to the dressing chamber. Sure enough, within a few minutes a bell tinkled, and wearing nothing at all except his embarrassment, the youth stepped timorously across a threshold into an inner room where the distinguished specialist sat at a desk.

"Well, sir," snapped the expert with professional brusqueness, "what seems to be the matter with you?"

"There ain't nothing the matter with me," said the newcomer.

"Well, then, what do you want? What did you come here for?"

"I came," said the youth, "to see if you didn't want to renew your subscription to your local newspaper."

WOULD CONTROL SPEED OF AUTOMOBILES

Asserting, "The time is rapidly approaching when the fact must be generally recognized that the whole pace of highway traffic is too fast for even reasonable safety," an exchange, after pointing out that the speed limit of forty miles an hour in New Jersey is a "farce, universally disregarded, disrespected and absolutely unenforceable," suggests, "There appears to be but one answer—mechanical speed limitation of all motor vehicles by the application of suitable governors which will positively prevent the cars being driven beyond a certain predetermined rate of speed."

This editor is most conservative, to say the least. He declares that the average motorist seldom, if ever, finds any real necessity for driving his car at a rate of speed in excess of 30 to 35 miles an hour in open country, pointing out that those who find it necessary to cover long distances at high speed should travel by railroad or airplane.

And he is determined that his idea should be carried out, further advocating that the governors he would have installed on automobiles limit the speed of the machines to 35 miles an hour.

Thirty-five miles an hour! That is his speed. Push the accelerator to the floor board if you wish, but 35 miles an hour would be the limit.

There is little doubt but that present-day traffic travels too fast. Monday newspapers carry accounts of many horrifying weekend motor crashes, but there is another kind of a story that they do not carry. They are on narrow escapes. Many a driver, through skillful manipulation of his machine, avoids a serious accident. And what aids him? Frequently good brakes. But just as often that little extra spurt. A little increased speed to carry him away from an onrushing car! That has saved thousands of persons' lives . . . no one knows how many.

Automobiles controlled by governors would have their advantages, but there are also many bad features that would develop as the result of this mechanical control of speed.

AND THEN —?

A salesman sent into the tropics to sell agricultural machinery, came back with a story which illustrates a number of things.

He found the natives contentedly sitting around while abundant Nature grew all their food with the slightest possible effort on their part.

"If you had a plow and a harrow you could grow more food," said the salesman.

"And then—?" asked the native.

"Then you could get more money for it and buy more land."

"And then—?"

"Why, then you could buy more machinery and grow still more food and get more money?"

"And then—?"

"Why, then, after a while you would have so much money you wouldn't need to work."

"But I would be no better off, Senor. I don't work now!"

To those who hold the Puritan doctrine that work is a virtue in itself and that he who does not work is a sinner, the spectacle of anybody getting a living without working is abhorrent. But when you consider that in every religion the ideal of Heaven is the same—a place where nobody has to work—it raises the question whether that point of view is entirely sound.

There is no doubt that the habit of work builds character, even though the work itself may not be congenial. The happiest men and women are those who have found work which interests them so much that they prefer it to anything else. But work merely for the sake of making enough money so you won't have to work is something else again.

Perhaps a lot of us are as foolish as that native thought he would be if he spent a lot of time and effort merely to avoid working.

THIS DEPRESSION AND OTHERS.

James Truslow Adams, American historian, has been looking up some old records. He finds that in 1837, during a panic precipitated by the passage of a low tariff bill, all banks suspended specie payments. In North Carolina farms could be sold for only 2 per cent. of their value. Nine-tenths of all the eastern factories were closed. Unemployment became almost universal. In 1857 all the banks in the country suspended. Mobs paraded the streets of New York with cries of "Bread or Death." Federal troops were called out to guard banks and the treasury from mobs threatening to plunder them. In the crash of 1873 one great financial house after another fell. The stock exchange closed for eight days. Things grew steadily worse for several years. By the close of 1875 railroads had defaulted on 779 millions of bonds. Ships lay at their docks because merchants could not obtain foreign exchange. Some 50,000 commercial firms failed. The maximum of failures occurred in 1878, five years after the panic started. Bloody and destructive riots occurred in all the principal cities. In 1893, 407 banks closed in a few months. Wheat fell to the lowest price ever touched. Virtually all the railroads in the country went into the hands of receivers or into bankrupt courts. Federal troops were sent to Chicago to suppress railroad strikes and there were labor riots everywhere.

From all which the historian deduces that it is only in comparison with prosperous years that times are bad now. Compared with other periods of depression what we have been going through the past two years doesn't get into the picture at all. The year 1925 was a normal year as we look back upon it now, yet Santa Fe common stock this year was 18 points higher than in 1925. The lowest point reached by Pennsylvania railroad stock this year was higher than in 1925. So with Union Pacific, A. T. & T., American Tobacco, General Electric, Sears-Roebuck and scores of other industrials.

And so the historian suggests that if we set the camera far enough away from the present scene to take in the historical background we will get a picture not so discouraging after all.

CAUSE FOR PRIDE

Captions critics, especially those who cannot or will not see good in anything originating under the Hoover trade mark, may be expected to minimize the accomplishments of the past five weeks. They will not succeed in doing so. History is destined to record that June and July of 1931, under American initiative and guidance, witnessed a perilous day for the world. No man can prophesy the future course of events. It depends altogether on the Germans' own powers of resistance and recuperation. With a year's moratorium on reparations and intergovernmental debts, instigated and carried through by the President of the United States, and with the adoption of a program for maintenance of short-term credits to Germany, likewise of American inspiration, the Reich has been given a great new chance to live and prosper. That, in a nutshell, is Herbert Hoover's work, and it is an achievement of which he and the American people have just reason to be proud.

Having resolutely declined to become enmeshed in purely political entanglements like Franco-German rivalries and suspicions, this country rejoices in Premier Laval's declaration at the end of the London Conference, that the "reign of confidence" between the French and German peoples has been brought considerably nearer by current events. That reign once established, some of the credit for bringing it into existence will belong in Washington, too—Washington Star.

WE ALL PAY TAXES

Less than 3 1/2 per cent. of the population of the United States pays more than 96 per cent. of the federal income taxes, and less than 7 per cent. of all corporations in the country pay more than 95 per cent. of the corporation income tax.

The average person, merely glancing at these figures, might decide that taxation is merely a matter affecting the rich individual, or the big business, and so none of his concern. But, unhappily, taxes do not work that way. If a company is taxed a dollar or a million dollars, there is but one way it can raise the funds to pay—by passing the cost on to those who buy the articles or services it sells.

Every person in the country is a taxpayer. When he buys food, pays rent, buys gasoline, takes out an insurance policy or goes to a theatre, he automatically pays some of his money to government. The old saying that death and taxes are inevitable is truer today than it ever was. And, as a result, tax reduction, far from being a matter that interests only the wealthy few, is a matter of tremendous personal importance to each of us.

TODAY and TOMORROW

EDISON

The last time I talked with Mr. Edison I asked him how long he was going to keep on working.

"I'm never going to stop," he said, "unless my stomach goes back on me. There's where most men give out first, in their digestions."

"There's only one rule for keeping young," he went on. "That is to watch your digestion and never stop working. That's the important thing—never stop working. Keep your mind active. The brain is more durable than any other part of the body."

Mr. Edison was 81 when he said that, and was launching into a new line of research with the enthusiasm of a boy. He was as interested in everything new as he was when he was twenty.

GANGSTERS

As long as the gangsters in the big cities confined their activities to shooting each other up there was very little public protest. But when five children were shot, one of them fatally, in a New York gang battle, the authorities began to get active. It is my guess that the clean-up movement in New York at least has actually started, and that there will be less tolerance of murder and less sympathy for organized crime in the future.

In the long run, law and order are always triumphant. If that were not so the world would be in a state of anarchy today. There would be no organized crime if all of the organized forces which are supposed to prevent and punish crime were faithful to their appointed tasks.

APPENZELL

Newton Baker drove thousands of people to their encyclopedias the other day when, in the course of his speech at the Institute of Politics, he said that "of course, Appenzell is the only pure democracy." Not one out of ten thousand of those who heard or read Baker's speech had ever heard of Appenzell. It is one of the little independent states which form a part of the Swiss Federation. It is in the northeast of Switzerland, and has about 70,000 population. The only government it has is a sort of magnified town meeting at which everybody votes.

The oldest of all republics is San Marino in the Italian Alps. Although it existed unchanged since 400 A. D. and is still governed by the old Roman laws and customs. But San Marino is not a pure democracy in the sense that Appenzell is, and neither is Andorra, that other tiny European republic which is entirely surrounded by Spain but which is under the protection of the French government and a Spanish bishop.

RUSSIA

George Bernard Shaw came back from Russia enthusiastic over what he had been permitted to see. Lady Astor, who accompanied him, was equally enthusiastic. They saw, as all visitors to Russia see, what the authorities permitted them to see.

If one thing can be more certain than anything else, it is that the truth about Russia and the condition of the people does not get out of Russia. Neither does the truth about the rest of the world get into Russia. All Russian newspapers are controlled and practically edited by the Soviet government. News from America that is permitted to be printed presents this country in the most unfavorable light and is intended to make Russian workers and peasants believe that they are the most fortunate people in the world. News coming out of Russia is controlled also by the government.

This results in making intelligent people in each country highly suspicious of the other. There is no chance for a friendly understanding between Russia and the rest of the world until freedom of speech and of the press are established in Russia.

FASHIONS

Paris dressmakers have decreed light corsets, smaller waists and longer skirts for women. American women say they won't stand for it, but they will. Woman's greatest fear is that she will look different from other women.

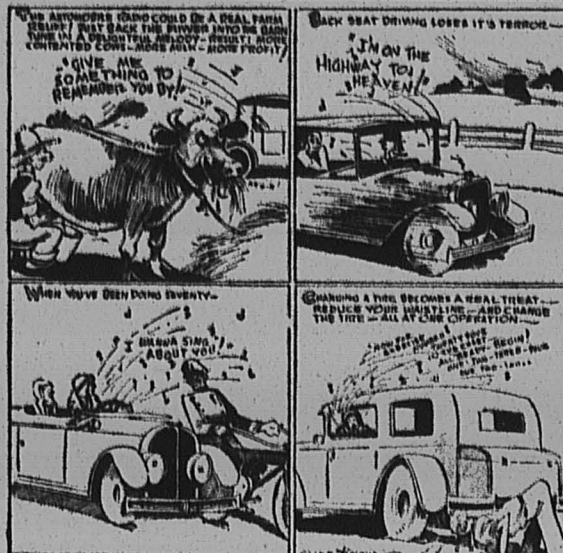

That goes for men, too. Men's fashions don't change as often as women's, but they are just as foolish. Fashion says we must wear coats in the presence of ladies. No matter how hot the weather a man without a coat is not admitted to the best restaurants, hotels and theatres. That is absurd, but it derives from ancient custom, which originated in the effort to distinguish a gentleman from a working man. A servant could go coatless but the coatless gentleman might easily be mistaken for a servant. Nothing is truer than that the clothes make the man. When King Christian of Denmark was found dead in the street in Copenhagen, a few years ago, nobody recognized him because he was wearing ordinary clothes instead of royal regalia.

In a genuine democracy everybody would dress as he pleased, but everybody would choose to dress just like everybody else. The only place today where democracy in dress prevails is in fashionable restaurants where it is impossible to distinguish a customer from a waiter.

FARM WAGES VERY LOW

Although wages paid hired farm workers usually advance during the period from April 1 to July 1, this year they declined to the lowest level recorded in the past 15 years, according to a statement made by the Department of Agriculture on July 13. These reductions were the result of a plentiful supply of workers and a much lower demand for farm help. In addition to this, the low level at which farm commodities are being sold has naturally brought down the wages paid farm laborers.

WAY OF LIFE

BY BRUCE BARTON

Are All The Chances Gone?

You run across all sorts of surprises in the course of a business week. For instance, the vice-president of a big chain store organization was telling me a business story. And what do you suppose he based it on? The Bible.

He has charge of the company's personnel. It is a job to sort over a hundred young fellows in order to find the one who will start at small wages, work long hours, and fight his way up to the top.

The prizes are big, but the battle is hard, and only the toughest survive.

The part of the Bible to which the vice-president referred was the Feeding of the Five Thousand. For thousands of hungry people, the Lord said, "Feed them."

His disciples, who were practiced men, were aghast. "We can't do it," they protested. "It would take too much money."

Others urged: "Send them away." Finally a boy was discovered in the crowd with five small loaves and two fishes. Said my friend: "All they had to work with was what that boy had."

"So with our company," he continued. "It's one of the leaders, yet there isn't a really brilliant man in it. We've all come up from the ranks. We can get money to do anything that we need; but money alone won't do it."

"We can get materials equipment. But all we really have to work with is what our four thousand boys have. They are going to decide what this business will be in the years to come."

When we had this conversation business was booming and all big industries were employing more people. Since then we have had a heart-breaking period of unemployment.

But, good times or bad times, the search for ability goes on. At the bottom of the depression the president of one great industry asked me if I knew where he could find a twenty-five thousand dollar man. The president of another said: "We have installed a system of compulsory pensions. We must make sure that this business will continue in the future to be run by young men."

The size and the set-up of business change, but their message to youth is just the same:

"Come on with your five loaves and two fishes. All we have to go on is what you boys have."

Court House Shouldn't Be Used For Warehouse

Continuance of the use of the vault in the Court House cellar for the storage of confiscated alcohol, whiskey, wines and beer, seized from bootlegging establishments and rum runners by the officers should not be permitted.

According to reports, there are hundreds of gallons of this contraband in the building in various kinds of containers, and as its gas-producing and explosive qualities are well known, it shouldn't be necessary to advance a prediction of what is likely to occur there if things go wrong at any time.

The Court House is too fine a building to be destroyed through the lack of thought of those in charge in permitting it to be a storage place of any kind of material that places it in jeopardy. No amount of fire insurance could replace it were it to be lost.

The old building, erected in 1790, is one of the finest types of early colonial architecture in existence. Much has been written and published about it and views of both its exterior and interior, particularly its beautiful stairways and moldings, are often used as illustrations in architectural journals.

It seems almost defamatory that any portion of this fine old building should be used for housing bootleg liquor, and it is to be hoped that steps will at once be taken to correct this evil.—Mount Holly Herald.

Judge's Joke

Funk—I learned today that our tattered soldier friend, Joe, has sued Bonebreaker the osteopath.

Bunk—What for; did you hear?

Funk—He claims the osteo threw all of his pictures out of focus.

Mama—But, Johnnie, if your carache is better, why do you keep on crying?

Johnnie—I'm waiting for D-Daddy to come home. He's never seen me with a carache.

"You should have weighed your words," said a friend to a defeated candidate at the last election.

"Yes," chimed in another friend, "and you should also have given short measure."

Delmonte—Sleep well in the country?

Melachirino—First night I couldn't sleep at all. After that I hired a farmer boy to sit in my auto and blow the horn all night. Then I got along fine.

BOND HAINESPORT WOMAN AS ANOTHER COMPLAINS

MAN THROWN FROM CAR IS JAILED AT MOUNT HOLLY

Charged with being drunk and disorderly, Thomas O'Rourke, of Burlington, was given a four-day sentence in the Burlington county jail at Mount Holly Sunday night by Police Recorder Joseph C. Kingston, of Mount Holly.

O'Rourke was arrested by Harry Goidy, lieutenant of Mount Holly police. He was picked up in front of the county jail, his head out and bleeding profusely, and said he had been riding in an auto with some people whose names he did not know. He said they had thrown him out of the car on his head.

HE'S "GONE"—SO HAS MT. HOLLY SHOP'S $15

If it won't work in Mount Holly it won't work. Abe Saltzman, Mill street dress shop keeper, was today's victim. A young woman and an elderly one called and inquired for mourning dresses. One of them wept over the death of her "poor brother John." The clerk went to the rear of the store to get the dresses. When he returned the women were missing. So was $15 worth of women's attire and other articles.

The will of Dr. William L. Johnson, who died at Bridge, Mass., directs that his account books be burned so that no bills will be outstanding against his patients.

REV. WILLIAMS DIES FOLLOWING LONG ILLNESS

Former Palmyra Pastor Succumbs At Hospital In Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

HERE FOR 12 YEARS

Pastorate Here Was Most Successful In Spiritual, Financial and Other Ways

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon in Pawling, New York, and Tuesday afternoon in Philadelphia, for the Rev. Charles W. Williams, of Pawling, formerly of Palmyra. Interment was made in Mount Peace Cemetery, Philadelphia.

The Rev. Mr. Williams underwent a serious operation in January of this year at a hospital in Poughkeepsie, N. Y., and after spending some time at that place in order to regain strength was allowed to return to his home. He was removed to the hospital about ten weeks ago for the second time, where he died on Thursday afternoon of last week.

Mr. Williams had been pastor of the Central Baptist Church, Palmyra, from February 1912 to October 1924, at which time he resigned his pastorate here to take up his duties at the First Baptist Church, of Pawling, where he has been since that time.

During the first few years of the Rev. Mr. Williams' pastorate here the membership of the Central Baptist Church was practically doubled, and realizing the need for a larger church in Palmyra the pastor stimulated interest in the new building fund almost constantly during his twelve years in this vicinity.

The Rev. Mr. Williams' pastorate here was successful not only from the standpoint of acquiring new members, but from a financial and spiritual viewpoint as well.

The deceased is survived by his widow, Mrs. Lena Williams, his mother, Mrs. Robert Williams, of Philadelphia, and three brothers and a sister.

One of his brothers is the Rev. Dr. Howard K. Williams, pastor of the Alpha Baptist Church, of Philadelphia, one of the largest in the city.

NEW LIST OF JURORS IS TO BE DRAWN AUGUST 27

Supreme Court Justice Joseph L. Bodine has set Thursday, August 27, at 2 P. M., eastern standard time, for the drawing of the grand and petit jurors for the fall term of court which will open at Mount Holly on September 8. Sheriff Roscoe C. Shinn and L. B. Hollingshead, jury commissioner, will draw the panels. In the presence of Judge Charles A. Rigg.

Burglars who broke into a store in Evanston, Ill., got three pennies from the cash drawer.

Wondering why no cars passed him during a drive from Dover to Denison, O., Walter Scott discovered that someone had tacked a "funeral procession" sign on the rear of his car.

NEW IDEAS IN HOME MAKING

SUPPER ON THE PORCH
A SUPPER in the open. Nothing is more relaxing to business-worn nerves in summer than to have the final meal of the day on the porch or in the garden. It encourages leisurely eating and complete enjoyment of the meal.
If porch suppers are repeated frequently in your household you will quickly learn how to collect those things necessary for your table set-up and, consequently, save yourself many steps. Here a tea wagon is almost indispensable. But if you do not own a tea wagon, buy a couple of large, natural straw-color Japanese trays. These are firmly made and have a large carrying capacity. On one tray place all the silver, pepper and salt shakers, tumblers and napkins—and remember that paper napkins minimize labor. If it be a plate of cold cuts and salads, your plate can be served in the kitchen—another way of saving labor and steps.
Here is a ready-to-serve menu for a porch supper.

PORCH SUPPER
Cantaloupe and Watermelon
Cocktail
Club Sandwich Olives
Stuffed Celery
Gingerale Soda
Stuffed Celery
1/2 cup Roquefort
Evaporated milk cheese
6 stalks celery
Combine cheese with enough evaporated milk to soften. Fill the stalks of crisp clean celery lightly with cheese mixture. Garnish with dashes of paprika. Six servings.
Club Sandwiches
Remove crusts from sandwich bread. Slice thin and toast on one side. Spread untoasted side of bread lightly with mayonnaise and put together in three deck sandwiches with cold sliced breast of chicken, sliced peeled tomatoes, crisply broiled bacon and crisp lettuce leaves.

Cooked Mayonnaise Dressing
2 tbs. butter
4 tbs. flour
1/2 cup boiling water
1/2 cup evaporated milk
1 tsp. salt
1 cup salad oil
2 egg yolks
Prepare a white sauce of the butter, flour, water, milk and salt. Put all other ingredients except lemon juice and vinegar into a bowl. Add hot white sauce and beat with a beater until thick and smooth. Add lemon juice and vinegar and beat thoroughly. One whole egg may be substituted for two egg yolks and vinegar for part or all of the lemon juice. If salad dressing does not begin to emulsify after beating two or three minutes let stand half an hour, then finish beating. Makes two cups.
Gingerale Soda
Put servings of frozen custard or vanilla ice cream into coldiced tea glasses. Fill glasses with freshly opened chilled gingerale.
Frozen Custard
3 cups evaporated milk
1 1/2 cups sugar
1 tbs. flour
1 tbs. vanilla
Scald milk in top of double boiler. Cool, then chill in a bowl surrounded by iced water. Mix sugar, flour and salt. Add water and boil three minutes, stirring constantly. Pour mixture over eggs slowly to prevent curdling. Return to fire and cook two minutes longer. Cool and add vanilla. Whip chilled milk until stiff. Fold in the cold custard. Freeze with a mixture of one part salt to six parts chilled ice.

BORO OFFICIALS ARE GUESTS ON FISHING PARTY AT BARNEGAT

For the fourth time in as many years the borough and members of the Palmyra borough council were the guests of Jay Remington, of Haddonfield, on his large fishing craft yesterday. Mr. Remington is a member of the firm, Remington, Vosbury & Goff, borough engineers.

The party enjoyed an all-day fishing party at Barnegat Bay, leaving Parkertown, at 7:00 a. m. The Palmyra officials left Palmyra at 5:30 a. m. making the trip to Parkertown by motor.
Those who enjoyed the outing were Mayor George N. Wimer and the following councilmen: A. R. Bradley, Floyd W. Spahr, Joseph A. Davis, Julius R. Fisher, A. B. Cramer and C. Nevin Buchholz.
The mayor and councilmen boast a good catch.

LENOLA CO. IS HOST TO CO. FIRE CHIEFS

Department Heads Discuss 15-Year Exemptions, But Take No Action

Members of the Fire Chiefs' Association of Burlington County, of which Chief Ellis H. McAllister, of Moorestown, is president, were guests of the Lenola Fire Company at the regular monthly meeting of the Association Wednesday evening of last week.

The matter of a proposed change in time of service of firemen before being eligible for exemption was discussed at length at the meeting. A plan is being advocated in some counties in the State to extend the time from seven to fifteen years' active service. No action was taken at the meeting but the sentiment that prevailed opposed the change. It is expected that the chiefs will go on record on the proposition, either for or against, at the September meeting. This will no doubt be an important matter that will be brought before the State Firemen's Convention at Atlantic City September 18 and 19.
At the meeting in Lenola more tags for firemen's cars were issued. 482 of these tags are now in use in this county.
A good representation of chiefs from fire companies of the county attended.

FISHERMAN IS JAILED FOR LACK OF LICENSE

Charged with fishing without a license, Harry Schleber, of Philadelphia, was fined $20 and $75.00 costs Sunday night by Hainesport Police Recorder Fred C. Horsfall. Schleber was arrested by Game Warden William Carlisle, of Columbus, and was committed to jail in default of the payment of the fine.

COP PUSHED OFF ROAD, TRUCKMAN FINED $100

Willard Sutton, Newark, who was driving a truck with trailer and forced Sergeant Eugene Haussling, Columbus state police, into a peach orchard, according to Haussling, was fined $10 and costs last week by Justice of the Peace Joseph C. Kingdon at Mount Holly.

BEVERLY WOMAN FATALLY BURNED

Mrs. Edna Kiple Victim of Explosion While Using Naptha

Mrs. Edna Kiple, 319 Broad street, Beverly, died from burns Tuesday, in the Burlington County Hospital at Mount Holly.

Mrs. Kiple, 18 years old, and the wife of Arthur Kiple, was cleaning clothes in a solution of naphtha in her home Monday when the naphtha exploded and set fire to her clothes and hair. Her husband was not at home when the explosion occurred.

She had cleaned several garments and as she placed the basin containing the cleaning fluid down in the kitchen of her home, the blast occurred.

The young woman, her clothing ablaze, ran screaming into the street. She ran 200 yards from her home to Warren street, the main thoroughfare of Beverly. Trooper Joseph Armano, of the Delaware state police barracks, passing on patrol, grabbed a rug from a nearby porch and wrapped the woman in it. John Perkins, of the Wilkinson Agency, Riverside, also rendered assistance.

Mrs. Kiple, conscious despite the many deep burns of her back, face, head and shoulders, said the basin of naphtha exploded as she placed it on a stove, which she believed to be unlighted, in the kitchen of her home.

Trooper Armano rushed the woman to the office of Dr. E. N. Scott, Beverly physician, where she was given preliminary treatment. Justice of the Peace Harry McCloskey, whose home is near the scene of the accident, commanded the Beverly city ambulance and the injured woman was rushed to the hospital.

Several persons, including McCloskey and four Beverly firemen, as well as the girl's mother, prepared Monday night to submit blood transfusions.

Mrs. Kiple is survived by her husband, Arthur Kiple; her mother, Mrs. Edna Hittler, and two brothers, Charles and John Bintliff, all of Beverly.

Tragedy has followed Mrs. Kiple's family in recent years. Two years ago her father was found frozen to death and a short time before her grandfather was shot to death by a Pennsylvania constable while fishing in the Delaware river.

PALMYRIAN UNHURT IN DELAIR ACCIDENT

Warren Nethercott Escapes Injury As Truck Knocks Automobile Into Pole

Warren Nethercott, of Morgan avenue, Palmyra, narrowly escaped serious injury Monday morning when his automobile was struck by a large truck and thrown against a pole.

The accident occurred in Delair, when Nethercott had pulled to the right side of the road to allow someone to enter his machine.
A truck of the Almar Stores Company, directly behind the Palmyra man, hit his car on the rear left hand corner, knocking the automobile against a pole on the side of the road.

Both sides of the car were badly smashed, the rear wheel was completely demolished, and almost all the glass in the machine was broken. Neither driver received injury.

APPOINT HYGIENE NURSE AS SCHOOL BOARD CONVENES

Miss A. K. Green, of Palmyra, Named To Succeed Miss Marie V. Olwell

CHOSEN FROM GROUP OF TEN APPLICANTS

Pennsylvania Instructor Gets Contract For Position As 2nd Grade Teacher

Two appointments were made at a special meeting of the Palmyra School Board held last Friday evening.

The question of a successor to Miss Marie V. Olwell, hygiene nurse, was settled by the appointment of Miss A. Kathryn Green, 30 Charles street, Palmyra, to that position.

Miss Green was the successful applicant of a group of ten. A rigid investigation into the respective merits of all the applicants showed the new nurse to be the one best fitted to fill all the requirements of the Palmyra board. The members of the board were unanimous in their selection of the hygiene instructor.

The newly appointed nurse is a graduate of the Graduate School of the Medicine Training School, in Philadelphia. In addition to the training received here, she took a two months' course in pediatrics at the Children's Hospital in Philadelphia. As a worker with the visiting nurse society in that city for nearly a year she has acquired a knowledge of public health training. Miss Green comes to work in her home town highly recommended by the directors of the Children's Hospital.

The second appointment made was that of Miss Verna D. Bieber, of Kutztown, Pa., who will succeed Miss Lillian Craig as a teacher in the primary schools. Miss Craig, who had taught the kindergarten and second grade at the Spring Garden street school, asked to be released from the contract which she had signed, in order that she might accept a position in the Upper Darby, Pa., school. Miss Bieber will teach her second grade class when school opens in September.

The new teacher is a graduate of the Kutztown High School and the teachers' college also located in that town. Since graduation she has had some teaching experience in Andalusia, Pa. schools.

Mr. and Mrs. Grover Fox and son, Donald, of Cleveland avenue, left Saturday to spend some time in Lowell, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Alloway, of Elm avenue, are motoring through the New England states.

Mr. and Mrs. George Luce, of Pear street, have returned home after enjoying some time in Minneapolis, Minn.

Mr. and Mrs. William Monroe and family have returned from a visit with relatives in Baltimore, Md.

M. and Mrs. Joseph S. Low and daughter, Frances, of Morgan avenue, have returned home after enjoying a week at Beach Arlington.

Anna: "You look all thrilled. What happened?"

Grace: "Oh, I am! I was walking down Main street this morning and as I passed the shop window of Mr. Bowen I saw a sign "38,000 Years Old—From Locust Street Subway." And what do you think? It was some of the logs they dug out of the subway last week. I went in to see what he was going to do with them, and Mr. Bowen said he would make up little things like smoking stands, ash trays, jewel cases, baskets, lamp shades and—oh a lot of little trinkets like that. Mr. Bowen said he could only get a little bit of the wood, and so will just make things to order as long as what he has lasts. I'm so delighted I can't stop talking about it."

Anna: "H'm. Guess I will have to get something made for myself and Aunt Lydia, who is so interested in 'antiques', ought to enjoy having one 38,000 years old."

PALMYRA POLICE HANDLE TRAFFIC WITHOUT MESS

Report Submitted To Council Shows No Serious Accidents During July

AUTO TRAVEL HEAVIEST IN HISTORY OF BOROUGH

Building Work Increases As Remodeling of Motion Picture House Progresses

Despite one of the busiest months for traffic ever recorded in this history of the borough, the Palmyra police reported no casualties due to automobile accidents.

The report was made by Chief of Police C. Morris Beck at the regular meeting of the Borough Council Tuesday night. Within the period from July 20 to August 18, there were eight accidents on record in the police ledger, but none of them had been serious enough to cause injuries to any passenger or the arrest of any driver.

Police have held the traffic under excellent control at all intersecting points, and Chief Beck is justly proud of the record which has been made. An increased traffic problem has resulted since the opening of the new state highway, and the intersection of this route with the river road has made an added traffic hazard to be guarded by the Palmyra officers. The matter has been handled without adding extra officers to present police force.

Building Operations

Further reports from the various committees in council showed considerable plumbing and building operations within the borough. Leading the list was the building work being done at the present time at the Broadway Palace Theatre. Permits for this work have been issued, estimating the cost of the structure to be $17,000.

In addition, almost $2,500 of work is being done at the Palmyra schools on Delaware avenue, with more than $2,000 additional building and alterations throughout the town.

With the building of new service stations at the River road and State highway intersection, several grants for plumbing have been made by Rudolph Stricklen, board of health inspector. These permits, issued for plumbing at two gasoline stations, and another for considerable work at the new moving picture theatre, constitute the greatest part of this type of work being done.

Only two cases of communicable diseases were reported by Stricklen, both of these cases being whooping cough.

Reports Submitted

The reports from both departments are as follows:
August 18, 1931.

ON ROAD OILING

The practice of driving golf balls around the park must be stopped according to council. With so many children on the grounds the exposure to possible serious injury or death is apparent, and all persons are asked to cooperate with council by practicing elsewhere.

More Tennis Courts Needed

The subject of the tennis courts arose and Councilman Elwell stated that the total cost of building the court was approximately $300, and that he felt that it was one of the best investments in the park. The court was originally an experiment and its popularity among young and old has been gratifying to the councilman. It was suggested that next season possibly two more courts would be added.

The bronze plaque purchased to identify the park will be placed on the flagpole about six feet from the ground.

Building permits totalling $420 were issued last month. Fees amounted to $7.50.

A letter requesting the borough to solicit funds for the American Olympic athletic activities in 1932 was received and filed.

Weeds Overgrow Sidewalks

A letter from Mrs. Elsie E. Hipple on Howard street was read requesting the borough to have the weeds cut on the lot owned by George D. Steedle on Howard street. She explained that particularly in wet weather it was impossible to pass due to the growth of weeds extending over the sidewalk.

Mr. Steedle happened to be present when the letter was read and promised to attend to this particular case. He did object, however, to the fact that the highway committee is neglecting this very job throughout the town. He went on to explain that the cleaning of lots was a borough ordinance. Within a certain time after the property owners are notified it becomes the duty of the highway committee to attend to the work and charge it against the property owner. Mr. Steedle explained that the borough could do it considerably cheaper than he could have it done himself, and that he favored the plan. Mr. Rogers agreed with Mr. Steedle that the ordinance should be carried out, and referred the matter to Mr. Albertson.

A letter was received from the United States Commission for the celebration of the birth of George Washington, requesting cooperation of the Borough of Riverton in the nation-wide celebration which will start on Washington's birthday this year.

Director of Public Safety DeLaney submitted the report of the police department for the month which included: 2 arrests for disorderly conduct; 1 for larceny; 4 reckless drivers; 1 violation of the prohibition law; 1 drunken driver; 2 deserters from Camp Dix; 1 drunkenness. The report also included 1 stolen bicycle, 1 highway robbery, 2 cases of breaking and entering in which nothing was taken and the would-be burglars were not found; 1 auto accident in which child was injured; man arrested on request of Camden police department; a drowning at Taylor's Lane. Chief Miller notified Camp Dix of the apprehension of the deserters and authorities of the camp ordered their release, stating that they would return to the camp of their own volition.

YOUTH SUFFERS POWDER BURNS

Maple Shade Lad Seriously Injured As He Drops Match in Can

Conflicting stories he told as to how he received serious burns about the face and hand which sent a Maple Shade youth to Cooper Hospital, Camden, kept detectives from two counties and the police of two municipalities busy for twenty-four hours on an investigation.

The youth is William J. Matlack, 15 years old, of Maple avenue and Mill road, Maple Shade. He is seriously burned about the face, which is now encased in bandages, and is suffering with a painfully burned hand. Hospital authorities say he will probably lose the sight of one eye and they are none too hopeful about the other. Young Matlack, an exceptionally well-built chap for his age, was burned about three-thirty Monday afternoon, and it was not until about that hour Tuesday afternoon that Chief John H. Bradshaw, of Moorestown police department; Chief Clarence L. Ward, of Maple Shade; Detective Zellular of the Burlington County force, and Detective Wren, of the Camden county department, had cleared up the mystery as to how he had been so painfully injured.

Burned by Gun Powder

Late Tuesday afternoon the authorities announced they had finally succeeded in persuading the youth to admit that he had been burned when a can of gun powder he had taken from the home of "Dan" Donovan, caretaker at Colestown Cemetery, whose small farm is located in the rear of Clayton Andrews' farm in Camden county.

Matlack had admitted, the police say, that he reached through a broken window and pulled out the can of gun powder and set it on the porch of Donovan's house. A few minutes later, while lighting a "butt," as he described it, he evidently dropped the match, causing the explosion that tore the can into pieces and painfully burned him.

The youth's parents, in reporting the accident to Officer Bruce MacDonald at Lenola late Monday afternoon, said their son had told them he was burned when he stepped on what appeared to be a can used for dynamite while walking along Route 38, now under construction, near State Highway S-41, south of Lenola road.

Bradshaw Picks "Flaw"

That was principally the same story that he told Chief Bradshaw when he was questioned at the hospital Tuesday morning. The chief discovered a flaw in the story when he admitted he wore a pair of "sneaks," which have only thin rubber soles.

Investigation by Chief Ward and Detective Zellular also revealed that Matlack, in running for assistance, did not come from the direction in which he had said the accident occurred. There were also other discrepancies in his account of the accident.

The badly burned youth was taken to Cooper Hospital by Clarence Fogel, of Woodlyn, an employee of the State Highway Department, who picked him up at the intersection of Kings Highway and S-41, which leads to Berlin from the Palmyra bridge.

Police say there are no charges against the youth and he will not be arrested upon his release from the hospital.

VACATION BIBLE SCHOOLS INCREASE

Seven Hundred and Fifty Children in County Attend Sessions
During Summer

More and more interest is being shown throughout Burlington County in the Vacation Bible School. Eight of these schools were conducted in the county during June and July. Some were in session two weeks, some three, some four, and one five weeks.

Nearly seven hundred and fifty children were enrolled, meeting five mornings a week under the supervision of teachers interested in religious educational work.

The Vacation Bible School is a great benefit, socially, educationally, and spiritually. It is beneficial socially, because it reaches homes which do not otherwise receive the ministrations of the Church. It makes religion practical, in that it supplies to more than just one Church school group. It establishes a community spirit which tends to raise the standard of living, and it puts the ideals of the Church on a plain, simple everyday basis.

It is beneficial from an educational standpoint because the time given to religious training amounts to more than a whole year of Sunday sessions. It rescues the child from being bored. It gives the teacher time to observe children at work and play and an opportunity to develop their best traits. The subject matter is different from that used in Sunday sessions but through this, a greater interest in the Sunday session is sure to develop.

The school has spiritual benefits, in that it develops Christian personality. It teaches the children to share with others through their experiences together. It aids in developing self-control; and best of all, shows the child that he can worship God in every activity of the day.

CHEVROLET BUILT 66,307

CARS, TRUCKS IN JULY

Chevrolet production in July totaled 66,307 cars and trucks, according to W. S. Knudsen, president and general manager. This represents a gain of thirteen per cent over the 58,690 units built in July, 1930. July is the third successive month in 1931 to show a gain over the corresponding month last year and output for July brings the total for the first seven months of the year to 568,452 cars and trucks.

P. O. S. of A. NOTES

By FURMAN A. WOOD

The organization of the delegates to the state camp session at Trenton on September 10 and 11 was completed at the regular meeting of the Palmyra camp Monday night. The list of officers for the group includes Russell Holmes, chairman; George R. Evans, secretary and Nathan Coombs, treasurer. Walter Horner was given full charge of arranging the transportation details and Tom Ward has the job of rounding up the delegates, choosing those of the alternates who will fill the vacancies and handle the credentials. Palmyra camp has issued a letter to the camps throughout the state, requesting advancement of State Master of Forms Leslie F. Reeves to the position of state vice-president. Delegates to the state camp are asked to be present next Monday night in order to discuss several matters of importance that will come before the annual state meeting. Palmyra camp mourns the loss of a well-liked member of the order. Through the death of George Holbrook, the Palmyra lodge is losing one of its most earnest workers and one of the charter members. The list of the charter members shortens with the passing years and the early members of the order will remember Mr. Holbrook as an alert, aggressive worker who took an active part in the history of the camp.

J. L. Schlotthauer, of Columbia, Pa., claims to have a catbird that not only talks but also laughs.

After being taken to a town in Wisconsin 164 miles away a cat belonging to M. C. Duncan returned to its old home in Chicago.

GARDEN SCIENCE

GARDEN SCIENCE REG. HEAD.

WHAT ARE INSECTS?

By C. C. Hamilton
N. J. Agr'l Experiment Station

Every human being is influenced by insects, either directly or indirectly. This influence may be either beneficial or harmful. Insects are the most abundant of all animal life in number of individuals and kinds of species. They grow rapidly and, under favorable conditions, have enormous powers of increasing their numbers.

The injurious insects feed upon all kinds of living or dead animal and plant tissues. They destroy our clothing, our food, our dwellings; feed upon our growing plants, and harm our animals. They carry many diseases.

Not all insects, however, are harmful. The honeybee provides us with food, the silk worm with silk. Other forms feed upon and destroy many of our injurious kinds of insects.

Most insects have three distinct body regions: the head, which bears the mouth parts, eyes, and antennae (feelers); the middle region the thorax, which usually bears three pairs of legs and two pairs of wings; and the hind part, the abdomen which does not bear any movable parts.

Almost anyone would recognize a fly, a moth, or a beetle as an insect, or a young grasshopper without wings as being similar to a full grown grasshopper with wings. Unfortunately for the laymen, however, and sometimes for the entomologists, all insects are not so easily recognized. The caterpillar with its long cylindrical body, small head, and short legs is not recognized by many as being the young or growing stage of the butterfly or moth. Neither is the slender cicada, legless maggot associated with the winged fly. There are so many different kinds of insects occurring in every conceivable situation that we find some of them assuming many different forms at some time during their growth.

Full bugs, centipedes, millipedes, spiders, and mites, all of which have more than three pairs of legs but never have wings, are not true insects but are closely related to them. For purposes of control they are usually classed with insects.

Next Week—"How Insects Grow"

HOUSE PLANTS FOR WINTER

A. C. McLean
N. J. Agr'l Extension Service

House plants that are to brighten the gray days of next winter should be started from cuttings during August. Young plants started during that month often develop and bloom better than old ones. This is especially true of geraniums, ever-blooming begonias, and over-blooming snapdragons.

Cuttings from any of these plants can now be rooted easily in sand, in a coldframe, or under a glass jar. The secret in successful rooting cuttings in summer is to prevent them from drying out before the roots start. One way to prevent this drying out is to provide shade for rooting cuttings in the coldframe. A cheesecloth or coarse muslin tacked on the underside of the frame will keep the direct rays of the sun off the plants without excluding needed warmth.

The best rooting medium is probably fairly coarse sand that is free from organic matter. The sand should be firmly compacted and well watered, but not too wet.

The gardener should remember that the cuttings need moisture and warmth for quick rooting, but not too much warmth. This means that careful attention to ventilation must be given to the coldframe on hot days. Make sure the cuttings are not too hard so that they will root quickly. It is very seldom that a wilted cutting will ever root.

PRUNE EARLY-BLOOMING PERENNIALS

By A. C. McLean
N. J. Agr'l Extension Service

August is the month to shape up and prune such early-blooming perennials as arabis, alyssum, dwarf phlox, pinks, aubretia, helianthemus, and saponarias.

Cut back the shoots to keep the plants in shape and, if the plants are getting too thick, it is time to divide them. Then vigorous growth will be made; one that will strengthen the plants for coming blooming.

All of these perennials may now be propagated by cuttings, which should be grown in sand in a coldframe or under ordinary glass fruit jars. Propagation by cuttings is about the only course open to the gardener who wishes to perpetuate choice specimens because most varieties of these perennials will not come true from seed.

Plants that do not make stems, such as primulas and most forms of the saxifrage, can now be propagated by division. From such divisions it will not be difficult to grow vigorous plants that will bloom well next spring. Early blooming perennials divided later than August will not have sufficient time to develop strong crowns, and a year's bloom will be lost. As a rule, almost any perennials that bloom before June should be divided not later than August.

Koch — Wolfe

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wolfe, of Moore street, Lenola, have just announced the marriage of their daughter, Miss Dorothy Wolfe, to Robert Koch, of Fairview.

The ceremony took place in the Presbyterian church, New York, on Saturday, August 8. The bride wore an attractive tan ensemble. There were no attendants.

DRIVER TRAPPED UNDER BLAZING CAR SAVES SELF

Trapped under his blazing automobile which struck a pole and overturned near Marlton Saturday, Edward Glenn, an employee of the Burlington county highway department, extricated himself from the wreckage before rescuers arrived. Glenn, who lives at Easttown, near Vineland, was driving to Moorestown to work on the Hartford Westfield Road, now being improved. His car skidded in the rain. The Marlton fire department was called, but the car was destroyed by the flames.

LAUNDRY OWNERS GAIN IN MEMBERS

The New Jersey Laundry Owner's Association, according to Harold C. Buckelew, secretary, has attained an enviable position among trade organizations in that it hasn't lost a single member thus far in 1931 and actually shows a ten per cent gain in membership over 1930. The organization established thirty-three ago, maintains its own engineering department and employs a field staff under co-operative arrangement with the Newark College of Engineering.

A WARRIOR "BOILED"

One recent hot day on Broadway a knight in full chain-mail armor with a steel helmet stood on the corner, right in the hot sun. His "penant" told where one could get a fine manicure. Just another sandwich man.

I went up to him and asked him, "Why, you poor sump, don't you go over and stand in the shade?" The sweat poured down his face, inside of his visor. It must have been worse than a Turkish bath or painting the roof of a shed in July down in Florida.

NO BILLBOARDS

New York City is the center, along with Chicago, of the billboard industry. Some $14,000,000 a year comes here from the renters of countryside displays. But do they take their own medicine? They do not.

Walking in Central Park, right in the heart of the big town, one can see miles of skyscrapers that border the park. As far as the eye can see, there is not a single line of print anywhere, barring one building which carries just the address—15 E. 68—or something like it.

They're just throwing away a million dollars a year by not carrying signs for somebody's soap, or tooth powder or something. Just imagine a notice over the Metropolitan Museum—"all statues inside cleaned by Purify Soap." No funnier than destroying the beauty of some sylvan scene.

HAD A REAL BUG

Insect exterminators ply their profitable trade in all big cities. How profitable it is was shown here the other day when a tenant who had telephoned for a man to chase a mouse away, fell into talk with the bug killer.

He gave his name as John L. Whitman, of 30 W. 11th, a fine neighborhood. Then he admitted he "bitched" in the top floor there; that he owned the whole building; that his own two rooms were filled with costly antiques and that he owned a collection of Russian gold table service and Japanese cloisonne ware that was too valuable to keep stored in a safety deposit vault.

Most of his valuables were picked up for a song as he haunted second-hand stores in his working clothes and the proprietors of the shop took him for a poor man.

OTHER POOR MEN

There is another type of man who has been the subject of many an "O. Henry" story. The type is the waiter, many of whom build up fortunes from their tips. Of course the big money does not come that way but from confidential tips on the market they overhear while waiting on big financiers, or else which are given to them out of kindness by their customers.

The other day two stock exchange men were lunching together when one suggested a trip to the race track. His friend asked him if he had any money in his pocket. "Why, no," said the first man. "I thought you had plenty."

Their regular waiter was nearby and he stepped up to the table. "If you'll excuse me," he said, "I couldn't help overhearing what you were talking about. If one or two hundred would do you any good, I'll be glad to let you have it." And then he dug up a roll and skinned off enough twenties so the two could have an afternoon's amusement.

Inside a hen she killed and dressed, Mrs. W. O. Pratt, of Burley, Idaho, discovered eight fully developed eggs with shells.

"WHAT RICHES HAVE YOU?"

By George Santayana

What riches have you that you deem me poor. Or what large comfort that you call me sad? Tell me what makes you so exceedingly glad: Is your earth happy or your heaven sure?

I hope for heaven, since the stars endure And bring such tidings as our fathers had. I know no deeper doubt to make me mad. I need no brighter love to keep me pure.

To me the faiths of old are daily bread; I bless their hope, I bless their will to save. And my deep heart still meaneth what they said.

It makes me happy that the soul is brave. And being so much kinsman to the dead I walk contented to the people's grave.

International Sunday School Lesson for August 23

A GOSPEL FOR ALL MEN

Acts 11:5-18

Rev. Samuel D. Price, D. D.

Here is a lesson with an unusual amount of action. The Bible is far from being a dull book. To test this read from Acts 10:1 to 11:25 for the entire setting of the narrative. You will need your map in following the travelers as they journey between Caesarea, Joppa and Jerusalem.

Cornelius is a Roman centurion who had found the emptiness of the Roman mythology for purposes of religion and had developed faith in Jehovah as the only God. He was making practical use of his religion through prayer and practise. The knowledge that he gained made him eager for a fuller understanding of spiritual truths. In the midst of a certain prayer season he was directed to send messengers to Joppa and get Peter as a teacher of still larger spiritual conceptions.

Now Peter was a devout Hebrew as well as a growing Christian. National customs were part of his very life. He was strict in maintaining kosher diet. While awaiting summons for dinner he had a vision of various animals let down from heaven in a sheet, and was told to kill and eat. At once his Hebrew training asserted itself as he declared that some of the animals were unclean. He was told that what God cleansed could not be unclean and the teaching of the vision was applied to those who at that very time were knocking at the gate. The messengers from Cornelius were admitted and next day Peter went to the home of a Gentile that he might preach there and have full fellowship with them.

When Peter preached the full gospel as it is in Jesus Christ there was a renewal of the outpouring of the Holy Spirit, as on the day of Pentecost. The same spiritual forces were released and without hesitation the evangelist proceeded to baptize the many believers.

Does It Pay Me To Buy at Home?

Can I save money? Fully ninety per cent. of my purchases are of standard goods sold at fixed prices everywhere. The cost of my time and of my car at ten cents a mile is a trifle when I buy at home. It adds greatly to the cost of goods bought at a distance.

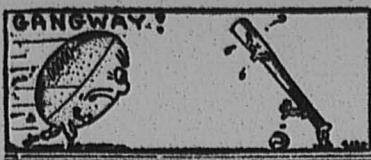

Can I get good service at home? Groceries or insurance, motion pictures or permanent waves, have I not always found the goods and the service about identical here with those of New York or Philadelphia? If I phone, delivery is a matter of minutes or hours, not days, and the same with exchanges.

Is it less trouble to shop at home? Well, I do not worry over parking places or tickets, no one needs to stay with the children, my entire shopping takes a small part of my morning, not my whole day.

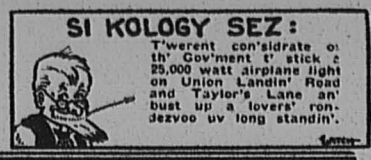

Do I protect my own income? I or some members of my family lives by selling his goods and services to my neighbor at home. In fairness they expect our patronage. If I expect the local merchant, plumber, electrician, insurance agent, lawyer, druggist or doctor to serve me in emergencies I better help make sure they can be here to serve me by giving them my regular trade.

For my own advantage I will TRY TO BUY AT HOME FIRST. I WILL BUY FROM THOSE WHO BUY FROM ME.

YWCA SECRETARY TO ARRIVE SEPT. 1

Miss Harriet Bowe Fitted For Work With Reserve Clubs

Miss Harriet Bowe, of Chagrin Falls, Ohio, will arrive in Burlington County on September 1, to begin her work in the Y. W. C. A. as the Girl Reserve secretary.

Miss Bowe is well-trained for her work in this county as she is a graduate of Wittenburg College, in Springfield, Ohio, and later studied at the National School of the Y. W. C. A. in Maque, Maine.

During the past three years she has been the Girl Reserve secretary on the staff of the Carlisle, Pa., Y. W. C. A. The Girl Reserves form an important part of the membership of the Y. W. C. A. in Burlington county where they are found in over fifty clubs in all parts of the county.

Miss Sidonie Schaefer who has been with the Burlington County Y. W. C. A. for three years is beginning her second year as the general secretary while Miss Rebecca Phillips will continue as the office secretary.

Campers Happy

The rainy weather which the girls have been having the past week at Ockanickon has not dampened the enthusiasm of the campers, nor has it meant a lessening of the activities. Water sports have been less popular while great numbers of girls have been busy in indoor sports, in music, dramatics and handicraft. Then too, it has been not only fun but very valuable to learn how to keep dry in a tent when it is raining.

When nature hikes have enticed only the few enthusiasts who must see what the birds do in the rain, the fireplace in the nature cabin has been the center of a large group who have studied nature in literature and poetry. The dramatics group entertained the camp one evening by presenting the play "Etiquette." In this program they were assisted by the dancing and music groups.

A great deal of enthusiasm during the past week has centered about the writing of camp songs and some very acceptable ones have been written. Two of the most popular ones were those by Margaret Gehlke, a camper from Medford, and Miss Elsie J. Von Meehow, a swimming counselor from Pitman.

Overnight hikes have been interesting new developments in the program for this year while photography has opened a new field for many girls. Miss Harriette Ladd, of Freehold, who is teaching photography, has given instruction in the taking of pictures, in developing and in enlarging.

The third and last week of the season's camp begins on Thursday of this week. Once again the camp will be filled with two hundred twenty-five girls and thirty-five counselors.

Business Girls' Camp

Business, professional and industrial girls of Burlington county are invited to spend the week-end of September 12 and 13 at Camp Darkwater, near Medford, where the Y. W. C. A. has planned its fourth year of camping for business girls. The committee is delighted to have secured Mrs. Florence Griscom, of Roslyn, Pa., as a leader for the week-end.

Mrs. Griscom is well-known in Burlington county because of her splendid work the past two summers as nature counselor at the Y. W. C. A. Camp Ockanickon.

Camp will begin on Saturday afternoon and will close after tea on Sunday evening. Girls who are interested in going should register with Sidonie Schaefer at the county Y. W. C. A. office, or with one of the following members of the committee: Beatrice Shadell, of Mount Holly; Helen Jones or Lottie Tracks, of Burlington; Dorothy French, of Moorestown; Alice Stuart, of Willingboro, or Mrs. Bessie Shuman, of Roscoe.

Arrangements can be made for transportation to camp by calling the county office.

WILLINGMYRE GETS GOVERNMENT JOB

Former Rivertonian to Tighten Inspection of Imported Woollen Goods

George Willingmyre, formerly of Riverton and now living in Hollywood, Md., was recently appointed Wool Administrator in the United States Customs Bureau.

Acting Secretary of the Treasury Mills made the appointment and stated that the move was made to tighten the inspection of woollen products offered for importation. Treasury officials revealed that loopholes in the Hawley-Smoot tariff act allow woollen products to be brought into the country at lower rates than presumably intended by Congress.

Mr. Willingmyre will receive an annual salary of $10,000.00.

FITLER - TATTERSFIELD

Mr. and Mrs. Dale B. Fitler, of "The Pillars" Ardmore, former Riverton residents, have announced the marriage of their daughter, Miss Viola Watkins Fitler, to J. Peyton Tattersfield, son of Mrs. J. W. Turnbull, 5104 Midvale avenue, Germantown.

Miss Fitler, who was to have been presented to society by her parents at a tea-dance, September 28, and Mr. Tattersfield, who is assistant football coach at Cornell University, eloped to Elkton, Md., on June 16. Mr. Tattersfield is a graduate of Cornell. They will make their home in Ithaca.

ANNUAL REUNION IS HELD AT CEDAR LAKE BY LIPPINCOTT FAMILY

Mr. and Mrs. William Evans, of Palmyra; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph T. Evans, of Cinnaminson; and Joseph and Elizabeth Lippincott, of Riverton, were among the forty-two members of the A. R. Lippincott family who attended the annual reunion held at Cedar Lake, near Medford, Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Hannah R. Roberts, of Mer-chantville, took the honors for being the oldest member of the family in attendance.

Others present were: Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Taylor, of Columbus; Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Darnell and family, of Merchantville; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Roberts, of Moorestown; Mr. and Mrs. J. Appleton, of Mount Holly; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Prickett and son, and Mrs. Laura Andrews, of Medford; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Andrews, of Moorestown; Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Jones, of Mount Holly; Mr. and Mrs. Barclay Allen and family, of Vincennes; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cullen, of Haddonfield; Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Evans, of Masonville; and Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Roberts, of Moorestown.

DELAY OPENING OF PALMYRA MOVIES

Stormy Weather Halts Contractors; Expected To be Open About Sept. 20

With inclement weather playing havoc with the plans of the builders, work has come from the management of the Broadway Palace Theatre, of Palmyra, that the new amusement place will not open next week, as was previously expected.

Instead, the day of opening has been set for about September 20. At this time the Palmyra and Riverton people will have a chance to be entertained and amused at a theatre which, it is claimed, will be on a par with any in the county.

Stormy weather during the early part of this month has seriously interfered with the carefully laid plans of the contractor, who expected to have the theatre completed before Labor Day. Thus far the work which has been done has all been outside work and its progress necessarily has been dependent on weather conditions.

With the work on the exterior of the building virtually completed, so that as far as the outside work is concerned, the plasterers have begun their work. The final touches on the roofing are being made and only the building of the new stage, the remodeling of the lobby and the erection of the neoprene remain as the outside work to be done.

Thus far the raising of the roof has been finished and the floors in the auditorium have been laid. The installation of the necessary "talkies," the lighting and plumbing fixtures, and the setting up of the new ventilating system constitute the principal work on the inside.

The management is anxious to have the showhouse ready for the many returning vacationists.

WOMAN'S CLUB LADIES TO GIVE CARD PARTY WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 23

A most unique and delightful lawn and card party will be held at the home of Mrs. George DuBell, 828 Columbia avenue, Palmyra, Wednesday afternoon, September 23, at two o'clock.

The proceeds from the event will be turned over to the Welfare department of the Palmyra Woman's Club. This party is being given for the friends of the club in Palmyra, Riverton, and Cinnaminson, as well as the members.

Reservations may be made through the chairlady of the committee, Mrs. George M. Rivel, whose phone number is Riverton 452.

Other members of the committee who may also be notified of a person's intention of attending are: Mrs. Charles W. Davidson, Mrs. Nathan S. Beekley, Mrs. Grover Fox, Mrs. M. J. McDermott, Mrs. Frank A. Snover, Mrs. R. E. Sanford and Mrs. Richard E. Wilson.

Each person attending will be required to donate the small sum of fifty cents to this most worthy cause. Refreshments will be served free of charge and a large assortment of lovely prizes will be awarded.

Anyone desiring to attend who does not play cards is asked to be present anyway, as the committee in charge of arrangements is planning an excellent program for all.

Boy Scouts

The Boy Scouts of Riverton will soon reopen their winter headquarters in the Parish House. They need a few more tables and chairs to round out their furniture equipment. If you can help to meet this need, communicate with Alexander B. Garwood, Scoutmaster, Phone Riverton 97.

BAIRD IS WORKING ON KEY SPEECHES

G. O. P. Candidate Rounding Into Shape Important Addresses of Campaign

David Baird, Jr., Republican nominee for Governor, is rounding into shape the "key" speeches he will deliver in his campaign.

Although the exact date and places for the main speeches of the candidate have not been set, indications are they will be delivered during the last month and a half of the campaign. Present plans call for important meetings in Jersey City, Newark, Elizabeth, Paterson, Asbury Park, Camden, Trenton and probably Atlantic City.

Senator Baird, shortly after he entered the gubernatorial race, asserted he would discuss in detail all those issues which to him seemed pertinent in the welfare of the state and the citizenry. Most important among the issues, he believes, is taxation. At the present time he has under consideration a number of concrete and definite plans which would lighten the tax load and is studying them all carefully so he will be able to advance the most effective and efficient program which can be placed into operation at the earliest possible time.

In prosecuting such a survey, Mr. Baird is demonstrating clearly that he is entirely cognizant with the affairs of his state. He has steadfastly refused to sponsor any plan which he does not conscientiously believe would produce the desired result, even though much political capital would accrue from its advocacy. He has consistently declined to ballyhoo his way into the confidence of the voters, desiring to rather obtain their support on the basis of offering concrete business ideas concerning the operation of their government.

The endorsement of such a campaign has been as far reaching as has been the censuring of the tactics of professional politicians whose sole appeal has been made through promises impossible of realization. Senator Baird, a successful business man, is presenting only those arguments which will bear the scrutiny of a shrewd analysis.

SAVE WITH THE PALMYRA B. & L.

New Series of Stock To Open Tuesday, September 8, At P. O. S. of A. Hall

The Palmyra Building and Loan Association will open a new series of stock Tuesday, September 8, between the hours of 3:00 and 9:00 p. m., in the P. O. S. of A. Hall, Palmyra.

For many years this institution has given saving people in this vicinity a start on the road to success, or if they have had the start, it has helped them to a more successful end than they would otherwise have had.

The early part of this month 777 shares of stock in this association matured and $155,400 was released in stock mortgage loans and cash.

Just think, if at the maturity of the series which will open on September 8, the country were going through a similar period of depression, how many people in this vicinity could use that money. Or even if there were no depression, a sum such as that recently paid out is always welcome.

So everyone in Palmyra, Riverton, Cinnaminson and neighboring towns is once more reminded of the date and the time, Tuesday, September 8, from three until nine o'clock, at the P. O. S. of A. Hall, Palmyra. If it is not convenient to be present at those hours one may get in touch with any director or officer of the organization, who will be glad to take care of the matter for him.

AIRPLANE BEACON IN EAST RIVERTON

2,500 Watt Revolving Light Will Guide Planes on Camden-New York Route

A 2,500 watt airplane beacon light has been erected on the Olberson farm, Union Landing road, East Riverton, to guide planes flying on the New York-Camden route.

A large revolving white light making three circuits per minute is mounted at the top of a steel tower, at least a hundred feet high. Two fixed red lights point east and west.

The light was erected by Hastings and Sanders, Trenton engineers, for the U. S. Department of Commerce, Airways Division. It has not yet been connected with the power lines but will be in operation within a short time.

THIEF STEALS RADIO FROM DEALER'S AUTO

A daring theft was reported to police Thursday night by Ward F. Lowden, Philco radio salesman for John H. Etris in Palmyra.

He had made a trip to Parry to deliver four radios and while making the delivery of one radio had another stolen from his truck. He had shown a customer two models and when the third was mentioned both had gone to the truck to see it. The truck, when opened, was found to be empty.

The set was stolen about 8:30 o'clock and a search was made until after midnight, in hopes that the radio had been hidden in the weeds nearby as a joke. The radio which was stolen had just been received at the Etris store Thursday afternoon.

FLYING COP TO GUARD AIRWAYS

Colonel Schwartzkopf Says Archibald Maddock Will Patrol Skies

Aviators flying in New Jersey will have to watch their state and stay within the bounds of the law in their maneuvering from now on.

The skies are to be patrolled by a state trooper, says Col. H. Norman Schwartzkopf, superintendent of the New Jersey State Police.

Plans for introducing the first aviator in New Jersey were announced by Col. Schwartzkopf last week and the initial step taken in the appointing of Archibald Maddock as a state trooper.

Had Flying Service

Maddock, who is 28 years old, has been an aviator for many years and until May conducted a flying service at Mercer Airport. He also previously served as mechanic, instructor and pilot for one of the leading mail and passenger air lines.

The flying instructor will enter the Wilbur Wright training school on September 1 to undergo a three months' period of rigid instruction as a "rookie" trooper. Col. Schwartzkopf in making Maddock enter the training school is living up to his policy of not having anyone in the department who has not met his high requirements.

When Maddock graduates he will be placed on the probationary list for six months and assigned to road patrol. After he has completed his training he will then be in a position to instruct other members of the department. As the aerial end of the department develops there will be pilots and mechanics available to operate additional ships.

Needs Fleet of Ships

According to the state police executive it will be but a short time before that department will need a fleet of ships to patrol the heavens in quest of violators of the state aviation laws recently adopted. The plan outlined by Col. Schwartzkopf will require approximately five years to fully develop.

Aviation is developing in leaps and bounds and to such a height, states the state police head, that a police squadron will be necessary in a short while. Part of Col. Schwartzkopf's plans is to apply the 1927 Legislature for $20,000 with which to purchase and operate a cabin plane.

At the present time flyers may do as they please and get away with it as the ways of enforcing the state aviation laws are poor. Supervision of traffic from the air has been tried out successfully asserts the Colonel who cited the effective work done during the visits of the Graf Zeppelin to Lakehurst.

NEW SERVICE STATION AT FORTNUM AGENCY

The new service station built on the side lot of the Foster S. Fortnum automobile agency on West Broad street, Palmyra, will be opened for business Saturday.

The gas and oil servicing department has been open for several weeks but the remainder of the station has not been in use pending the completion by the contractors.

Quick, efficient service is now available for high-pressure greasing, spring spraying, crankcase service, brake testing and headlight alignment. The servicing equipment entirely under cover, the latest types of hydraulic lifts, and other equipment for washing and polishing are inclosed in the new building.

Two men will be on duty at the station all the time, with the place being open from 7 a. m. until 11 p. m. Credit cards for Atlantic products will be honored by the management.

FATHER HAS BOY HELD CHARGED WITH THEFT

Charged with larceny of $40, and arrested on a complaint signed by his father, Americo Carcus, 19, of 213 Barclay street, Burlington, is at liberty on a $500 bail. He was arraigned Saturday before Police Recorder J. J. Smith and a further hearing will be held next Saturday. The youth is charged by his father, Joseph Carcus, with having stolen $40 from his mother's purse. He was arrested Friday night by Sergeant George Bowley. The police say the boy is alleged to have taken the money to buy a half interest in an automobile with Arthur Venditti, 26, of 226 York street, Burlington.

REV. H. L. SAUL VISITS ROTARY

Tells Club of Natural Beauty of Environs of Altoona, His Home Town

At the regular meeting of the Palmyra-Riverton Rotary Club held in the Porch Club last Thursday evening, President Howard B. Conover read an article from the American Agriculturist to the club.

The article was a biography on the life of Henry Clay Work, popular Civil War song writer, who, against all odds, realized his ambition to write songs. Such songs as "Grandfather's Clock" and "Marching Through Georgia" were the works of this famous composer and writer. The article was interesting and inspirational.

Rotarian Harry A. Reber, from Schuylkill Haven, Pa., was a visitor at the meeting.

The Rev. Harry L. Saul, of Altoona, one of the original Rotarians here and former pastor of the Lutheran Church, Palmyra, was a guest of the club and spoke on the subject of the "Natural Beauty of the Environs of Altoona." He concluded his remarks with an invitation to those present to visit Altoona and see for themselves the beauties of nature which he had been describing.

COUNTY PATROLMEN PLAN ANNUAL BALL

Committee Appointed by Vice President Charles Erickson, Moorestown, Arranging Affair

Plans are being made for the third annual ball under the auspices of the Burlington County Patrolmen's Benevolent Association, to be held in the Burlington armory, South High street, Burlington, on Wednesday, November 4.

A committee composed of Clarence James, chairman, Burlington; Budd M. Stevenson, Beverly; Charles Erickson, Moorestown; William O'Neill and Earl Lippincott, Burlington, has been appointed by vice-president of the organization, Charles Erickson, to arrange the affair.

James O'Neill, Burlington; Budd M. Stevenson, Beverly; and Edward Quinn, Bordentown, have been appointed delegates to attend the state convention of the association which will be held at the Elks Home in Atlantic City, September 20 to 22.

Smith - Brakle

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Smith, of Point Pleasant, have announced the marriage of their daughter, Christine Harriet to Jerome Davis Van Brakle, son of Mrs. Joseph L. Van Brakle of Long Branch, N. J., at the Trinity Episcopal Church of Easton, Pa., by the Rev. Frederick O. Musser on Friday, July 31, at high noon. The ceremony was attended only by members of the immediate families of the couple.

The attendants were Miss Beatrice Smith, sister of the bride, and John A. Adams of Easton, a friend of the bridegroom.

Following the ceremony the couple left on a honeymoon to Delaware Water Gap. On their return they went into their newly-furnished apartment in Lakewood, where Mr. Van Brakle is associate editor of the Lakewood Daily Times. Mrs. Van Brakle before her marriage was a registered nurse engaged in private duty.

Before they moved to Point Pleasant the Smith family lived at "The Hedges," at Seventh and Lippincott avenues, Riverton.

William H. Oaks, of Chicago, who evicted a tenant on the ground that he wanted the house for himself and then sold it, was ordered to pay damages and cancel the sale.

CLAY RESPONSIBLE FOR OIL FAILURE

Four Independent Tests Show Too Much Loam In Sand On Riverton Streets

A meeting of the Riverton Borough Council was held last Thursday night to further discuss the road oiling situation in Riverton. The Bituminous Service Corporation which did the work was represented by Reynolds Radbill, general manager; Lewis Effinger, superintendent; Mr. Carroll, sales manager and Vincent Nicholson, the company's attorney.

Benjamin Sleeper, of the firm of Sherman & Sleeper, borough engineers, was present to look after the borough's interests.

After a lengthy discussion it was agreed with practical unanimity that the chief cause of failure to secure satisfactory results in the road oiling was due to the presence of too much loam in the sand used to cover the oil.

Before starting the work the company had submitted a sample of sand which had been approved by the borough engineers. It was claimed by Mr. Sleeper, however, that the source of supply did not run uniform as to clay content and that the sand actually used on the job did not compare with the sand which he had approved.

The Bituminous Service Corporation admitted that the job was not satisfactory and expressed its willingness to make good.

On motion of Councilman Hahn, the mayor appointed a committee to meet with the contractors on Tuesday of the following week to arrange details.

The committee was composed of Councilman Albertson, chairman of the highway committee, and Councilmen Woolman and Coale.

The meeting was held in the offices of Vincent Nicholson, attorney for the Bituminous Service Corporation, in the Provident Trust Building, 17th and Chestnut streets, Philadelphia.

The Bituminous Service Company was represented by their attorney, Mr. Radbill, general manager, and Mr. Carroll, New Jersey representative.

The borough was represented by Mayor Howard M. Rogers, Councilmen Albertson, Coale and Woolman, Attorney Carson and Engineer Sleeper.

After a lengthy discussion, the Bituminous Service Corporation said they would submit to Council in writing a proposition as to what they would be willing to do in the matter of making good. As soon as this proposition is received, the mayor will call a special meeting of Council to consider it.

BACHARACH SLATED TO ADDRESS LEGION AT SHORE SESSIONS

Theodore R. Crichton, state commander, American Legion, Department of New Jersey, has announced a partial list of speakers who will address the State Convention at Atlantic City, September 10 to 12. Congressman Isaac Bacharach, of Atlantic City, and Watson B. Miller, of Washington, D. C., chairman of the American Legion National Rehabilitation Committee, will be among the chief speakers. Mayor Harry Bacharach and Paul H. O'Neill, president of the Chamber of Commerce, will welcome the delegates at the opening session.

The convention sessions of the Legion will be held at the Chelsea Hotel Convention Hall, State Commander Crichton will preside. The sessions of the ladies auxiliary will be held at the First Presbyterian Church, State President Mrs. Thomas J. Hut-ton, of Pompton Lakes, will preside during the Auxiliary sessions. The Auxiliary headquarters will be at the Lady Hotel.

Subsidiary fun organizations, known as the Forty and Eight and Eight and Forty, will also hold sessions and elect new officers during the convention period. William E. Guthrie, of West Englewood, and Mrs. A. Mathers, of Camden, head these associations.

"PENNSY" EDITOR VISITS RIVERTON

Robert E. Convery Guest of Charles Yost, West, "Buddies" in France During War

Last week Mr. and Mrs. Charles Yost entertained Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Convery, of Wellboro, Pa. Mr. Convery is editor of the Wellboro Gazette.

The friendship dates back to the World War. They became acquainted at Camp Meade.

Both Mr. Convery and Mr. Yost were Regimental Supply Sergeants in the 79th Division of the 314th Infantry of Pennsylvania.

They went overseas together and on active duty. During the eleven months they spent overseas they were in the front line trenches at St. Mihiel, and again when the Armistice was declared.

They came back to the United States together and a war-time acquaintanceship ripened into a peacetime friendship.

ARREST DRUNKARD

Robert Connor, of West Palmyra, was arrested by Palmyra police Sunday night for being a habitual drunkard. He was discharged after a reprimand by Mayor George N. Wimer and was threatened with a jail sentence for his next offense.

TWO POLITICIANS ARE FINED FOR DRUNKEN DRIVING

Ten Eyck, of Trenton, and Kaelker, of Philadelphia, Meet Jersey Justice

ONE HIT MACHINE OF FORTNUM EMPLOYE

Attempts To Avoid Fines By Using Political Influence Prove Vain

Two prominent politicians, one from Philadelphia and one from Trenton, ran afoul of Jersey Justice in Burlington County and had to pay their fines for drunken driving despite all the aid they invoked from their political friends and associates. The Trenton man was George B. Ten Eyck, twice candidate for city commissioner of Trenton and also former owner of a string of theatres in Trenton and nearby points. He was fined a total of $231 by Justice of the Peace Harry McCloskey in Beverly Tuesday evening after being arrested by Beverly Patrolman E. Budd Stevenson about midnight Sunday night.

The Philadelphia drunken driver was William Kaelker, 3448 Braddock street, one of the Kaelker brothers who were leaders of the Twentieth ward and have been accused of being connected with the gambling racket in Philadelphia. He was fined $200 and costs by Justice Fichter in Palmyra last Thursday evening.

Hits Moorestown Car
Ten Eyck was driving a car said to be owned by Col. Norman Schwartzkopf, commander of the state police. A bus driver who is a son-in-law of Officer Stevenson applied ten Eyck zigzagging along the main street of Beverly and notified the officer who set out in pursuit.

Before Stevenson could catch up with Ten Eyck, the Trenton man had criss-crossed suddenly in front of a car owned and driven by Arthur Knight, who lives on Pleasant Valley avenue, Moorestown, and is employed at Lester Fortnum's Agency in Palmyra. Knight tried to avoid an accident but was struck amidships by the Ten Eyck car, a heavy Locomobile.

The Knight car was badly damaged and spun round and round on the slippery road, but the only injury to the occupants was that Knight had a front tooth broken off when his head was dashed against his steering wheel. Miss Elizabeth Sloan of Riverton and Edward Brock of Haddonfield, were passengers in Knight's car. James Dale, Trenton correspondent of the Newark Evening News, was with Ten Eyck.

Threatens Officer
Ten Eyck was said to have been extremely abusive when arrested and threatened Officer Stevenson with all manner of things. He also refused to show his license.

Stevenson took the prisoner before Dr. Parry M. Scott, of Beverly, who pronounced the man drunk.

At the hearing Ten Eyck was represented by State Senator Clifford R. Powell. It was reported that a private settlement was to be reached with Knight in regard to the damages to his car.

The registration of the car in Col. Schwartzkopf's name was said to be due to the fact that Schwartzkopf was selling the car to Ten Eyck and that the deal had not been completed.

Dale is a friend of State Senator Powell of long standing, but the Senator had never met Ten Eyck until the two men came to the Powell home in Delanco about 9:30 Monday evening and spent an hour there, leaving about 10:30.

Ten Eyck was not intoxicated when he left the Powell home and the State Senator was naturally much embarrassed by the fact that he was innocently dragged into the case. He was called out of bed at 1:30 a. m. by Dale and asked to serve as legal adviser in the case. Dale had to go to New York the next day and was anxious to have Ten Eyck properly taken care of at the hearing.

Dale was not intoxicated at all and had been able to drive a car he would have done so and the accident would have been averted.

Quarrelled With Wife
Kaelker's arrest followed two spat with his wife, May, in their automobile.

The first argument resulted when his wife, also alleged to be intoxicated, was refused permission to drive the car. Victor Victorino, one of the youths arrested in connection with the Beverly fires several months ago, had offered to drive the car for the Philadelphia couple after they had stopped the machine during their first argument.

When the woman began another fight while in the machine, the Beverly youth left the machine and reported the affair to the Palmyra police. He said Mrs. Kaelker had attempted to punch her husband, but missed him and landed the blow on the driver. He then left them to get along as best they could and told the officers of the drunken driver.

Lost Her Shoes
When arrested on Branch pike near Palmyra the woman was found to be without shoes. It was thought she had used them during the fight with her husband and had lost them out the window of the machine.

At a hearing before Justice of the Peace Fichter, Kaelker was fined $200 and costs for drunken driving after an examination had been made by Police Physician Dean H. LeFavor. The woman paid a fine of $5 and costs for being disorderly.

Kaelker is the brother of Richard Kaelker. The two brothers often had their names associated with the gambling racket in Philadelphia, but investigators had always been unable to find sufficient evidence against

Inn Built in 1777 Still In Use

Photo by the Pathfinder of the Motor Club of New Jersey. The Colts Neck Hotel, constructed in 1777 and still used as a tavern and inn. It was in Colts Neck that Joshua Huddy, that gallant defender of the salts works at Toms River, defended his home against Colonel Tye. Captain Huddy was later executed by the British at the Highlands and his death caused world-wide comment. Colts Neck was also the scene of a minor Revolutionary battle, but the date has been lost.

PLANE TALKS

By L. H. LONGAKER
Founder, Burlington County Aero Club

Summer residents of our Jersey shore resorts will have a chance to see the world's largest flying boat, the DO-X, tomorrow (Thursday) on her way to New York. We imagine she will fly close to the shore line and rather slow. It really should be a wonderful sight.

Quite naturally, the terrible weather over the past week-end stopped all flying at the Moorestown Airport of the Burlington County Aero Club. With the passing of Labor Day we look for flying operations at the airport to increase decidedly.

The big three ring circus of aviation opens this Saturday with the start of the Eleventh Annual National Air Races and will continue to show daily from 10:00 a. m. until 10:00 p. m. something doing every minute. The scene is Cleveland, Ohio. Are you going? The show will close on Labor Day with the Thompson Trophy Race, the speed classic of America.

All of the ten Autogiros being built by the Kellett Aircraft Corporation at the Philadelphia Airport have been sold. Two have already been delivered and two more will be turned over to owners this week and the balance will follow in the near future. It is expected that 25 more Autogiros will be put into production upon completion of the first ten.

The New Jersey State Aviation Commission visited the Moorestown Airport early Monday evening. They arrived in a Stinson tri-motored airplane and were greeted by Chief Pilot Jim Erdman. We will tell you more about this visit and its importance later. Don't ask us now.

THREE YOUTHS ASLEEP AS THEIR AUTO UPSETS

Three youths narrowly escaped death when an automobile careened over an embankment and overturned near Browns Mills Thursday. All three, on their way to a camp at Browns Mills, are said to have fallen asleep. Walter Kamich, 18, of 124 Williams street, Delaware, N. J., the driver, was cut and bruised about the face and legs. Francis Lowery, 18, of 288 Delaware avenue, Delaware, suffered scratches on the face and injuries to his feet. Arthur Lofler, 18, of Cherry street, Delaware, was uninjured. The youths were treated in the Burlington County Hospital at Mount Holly. State Trooper Edwin J. Columbus, investigated the accident.

SMALL BOY CUTS FOOT WHEN HE STEPS ON TIN

Harry Sands, 4, son of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Sands, of Pine street, Mount Holly, had his left foot badly cut Friday while walking on the street in bare feet when he stepped on a piece of tin left on the sidewalk by workmen placing a roof on a house. The cut required several stitches. He was treated at the Burlington County Hospital, in Mount Holly.

BAIRD, MOORE TO ADDRESS DAIRYMEN THIS SATURDAY

Several thousand farmers and their families from all parts of New Jersey are expected to attend Dairy Day Saturday at Washington Crossing State Park near Trenton, where David Baird, Jr., and A. Harry Moore, Republican and Democratic gubernatorial candidates, respectively, will address them on subjects relating to New Jersey dairy problems. The affair is being held by the State Dairy Committee, a group composed of representatives of New Jersey agricultural and dairy organizations. Former United States Senator Baird will speak to the dairymen on "The Importance of the Milk Supply in New Jersey."

A third brother is said to conduct a gambling establishment in one of the New Jersey coast resorts.

R.R. WILL ABANDON MEDFORD BRANCH

Action To Take Place October 1, Approved By Utility Commission

Abandonment of a portion of the Medford branch of the Pennsylvania Railroad from a point one mile east of its connection with the Main line at Haddonfield, to Medford, a distance of approximately 11 miles, to become effective on October 1, next, has been approved by the State Board of Public Utility Commissioners.

Passenger service on the branch was discontinued September 27, as the decreasing volume of traffic did not warrant its continuance as frequent bus service is provided between the main points on the branch and Camden and Philadelphia. It is now proposed to discontinue freight service.

In its decision approving discontinuance of the branch the board stated: "As to future possibilities of the branch there does not appear any likelihood of a development that would require rail transportation. No substantial objection was made to the abandonment of the branch and other means of transportation can be conveniently availed of, the board finds, and determines that the further continuance of the branch is not warranted and will, and hereby does, approve of the abandonment of the portion of Medford branch." The portion as indicated above was outlined by the board.

The principal objector to the abandonment, according to the board, is a coal operator at Marlton handling approximately 90 tons of coal annually. It also was pointed out by the board that a new state highway is projected between Medford and Marlton on the present line of the railroad right-of-way, and that this highway will serve as a convenient and direct route between these points.

There are nine stations on the branch. The principal station between Haddonfield and Medford is Marlton, five miles west of Medford. Medford station will continue to be served by rail, it being the terminal of the Mount Holly and Medford branch of the Camden & Burlington Railroad, a subsidiary of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

The territory contiguous to the branch is agricultural and commodities can be conveniently handled by truck.

W. H. PLANK ACCEPTS POSITION IN CAMDEN

Former Palmyra H. S. Teacher Will Supervise School Year-Book Work

William H. Plank, former Palmyra High School instructor and faculty advisor on the "Jillicum" student year-book publication, will continue this type of work next season. Mr. Plank has accepted a position with the Haddon Craftsmen Publishing Company, of Camden, as director of the educational department. In this capacity he will supervise the publishing of the college and high school yearbooks.

The former teacher came to Palmyra at the beginning of the 1928-29 school year and taught in the science department during his three year term in the high school. During his first year he was chosen supervisor of the initial volume of the Palmyra yearbook and also served in that capacity the two succeeding years. He will continue to make his residence in Palmyra.

BUS SKIDS

Delanco Man's Car Struck in Sunday Accident

A speeding passenger car which crossed in front of an Interstate Transit Company bus at the Cooper-Town Corner, near Beverly, nearly caused a serious accident Sunday.

The driver of the John Riley Ford, 28, of 1229 Filbert street, Philadelphia, said the passenger car sped across the intersection directly in front of the bus. He applied the brakes and the bus skidded around on the wet road, striking the car of Harold K. VanSiver, Delanco. No one was injured.

STATE POLICE WAR ON CRIME

Hannah Spitz, of Centerton, gave Supreme Court Commissioner Howard Blackstone $1,000 bail for her freedom after state troopers raided her residence and found a large quantity of alleged liquor Sunday. The woman is said to be an old offender.

State Is To Build Four Bridges Along Route 38

Four new bridges in this section will be erected in the near future as a part of the new state highway, Route 38, which is now under construction between Kaighn avenue circle, Camden, and Mount Holly, along the south side of Moorestown.

Bids for the erection of these bridges will be received by the State Highway Commission in Trenton, September 14. One of the bridges will span the north branch of Pennauken creek in Moorestown township, another will go across the same creek in Moorestown, a third will cross Parker's creek in Hartford, and the fourth across Mason's creek in Mount Laurel and Hainesport townships.

FOUR FROM PALMYRA HURT AT EGG HARBOR

Four Palmyra persons were among those hurt in an automobile accident on the White Horse Pike near Egg Harbor last Thursday morning.

Mrs. Nellie Bissex, of Columbia avenue, was one of two persons taken to the Atlantic City Hospital. She was treated at the shore institution for cuts and bruises. Mrs. Alice Denney, 623 Yewell street, Philadelphia, was found to have suffered internal injuries when she was examined at the hospital.

Mrs. Bissex was riding in a machine driven by her husband, George Bissex, which was in a collision with the car of Nathan Newman, 5943 Market street, Philadelphia. The cars collided when Newman attempted to pass Bissex.

The others treated for minor injuries by Dr. Theodore Boyson, of Egg Harbor, were Mrs. Anna Scherr, Mrs. Elizabeth Conby, George Bissex, of Palmyra, and Mrs. Tillie Newman.

Newman was held under $1000 bail for a further hearing on September 2.

George Johnson

George Johnson, Medford business man, was found dead at the wheel of a delivery truck Wednesday night of last week on the Tabernacle-Medford Lakes road, with a bullet wound through the right temple.

Coroner George B. Bittling, Mount Holly, said he had evidently committed suicide.

Johnson disappeared Monday of last week. Game Warden Roy Carson found Johnson dead on the front seat with the revolver in his hand. A son identified the revolver. Relatives could give no cause for his disappearance to end his life.

He is survived by three children, Frank and Edward, and Mrs. M. Thropp, all of Medford.

FARMERS GET INTERESTING RESULTS FROM MILK TESTS

On Friday, August 14, several dairymen in Burlington county submitted samples of milk to the Extension Office, Mount Holly, at which time a bacteria analysis was made of the milk. The results of the analysis showed that there was a large quantity of very excellent milk being produced in this county. While the purpose of this meeting was not necessarily to determine just how good the milk supply is in this county, the bacteriologist who did the work was very much surprised to know that so much low bacteria milk was being produced. The purpose of the meeting, however, was to assist dairymen in determining exactly the cause of bacteria which may be found in milk, and it was possible, through the analysis made, to give some definite help to a few men who were having difficulty with their bacteria counts.

RECKLESS DRIVING NETS FINE FOR CAMDEN MAN

Edward Clarke, of Camden, was fined $20 and costs when he was arraigned Thursday before Riverton Borough Police Recorder Cecil A. Bowers, charged with reckless driving and driving without a license. He was fined $10 and costs on each charge. Clarke was arrested by Troopers Joseph Armano and Thomas Forkin, of the Delanco State Police barracks.

PENMANSHIP AWARD WON BY ROEBLING INSTRUCTOR

Miss Clara L. Harrison, of Mount Holly, teacher of penmanship in the junior high school at Roebling, has been awarded a gold medal first prize in a country-wide penmanship contest. More than 600 teachers competed in the affair conducted by the National Association of Penmanship Supervisors. The award was made at the association's recent convention in Cincinnati.

FOUR NEW CARS UPSET AT PARRY

Driver of Unknown Car Speeds On After Causing Trailer To Overturn

Swerving to avoid a collision with another car, a motor truck and trailer, carrying four new Chevrolet autos, overturned on the Burlington pike, near Palmyra, Wednesday night, of last week. One man, the truck driver's helper, was injured. The other car sped on without stopping. All of the new automobiles, the truck and the trailer were damaged.

The truck and trailer were owned by the Furness Motor Express Company, of Bethel, Del., and was driven by William Bell, of Bethel. It was enroute from Tarrytown, N. Y., to Laurel, Del., where the new cars were to be delivered to the Auto Sales Company, of Laurel.

Alvin Hastings, of Seaford, Del., the truck driver's helper, suffered severe lacerations of the right arm and wrist, and deep cuts in the face and head. He was treated at the office of Dr. A. F. Lore, of Palmyra.

The accident was investigated by Officer George P. Dorworth, of Cinnaminson township. Several witnesses made and there are no clues to the identity of the second car's driver.

KIN DOUBTS DEATH OF SHORE MAN IN CALIF.

Reports that Harvey Thomas, former Atlantic City newspaperman, died August 10 in Oakland, Calif., are doubted by A. T. Atkinson, of Mount Holly, his nephew. Atkinson wrote to the former newspaperman's brother, Arthur, in Salt Lake City for details. Arthur Thomas informed Atkinson he had not heard of his brother's death from Harvey, postmarked August 12, two days after the reported death. Arthur expressed an opinion that his brother was alive, and said he believed the report was a hoax perpetrated on friends of his brother by Atlantic City news columns.

City newspapermen, former associates of Harvey Thomas, are said to have answered an appeal for funds contained in messages telling of his "death."

PENNSY' OFFERING SPECIAL LOW SUMMER TRAVEL RATES

WOMAN'S CLUB FLOWER SHOW SEPT. 11 AND 12

Commercial Growers Cooperating With Committee In Arranging Affair

TWENTY-NINE CLASSES TO BE GIVEN PRIZES

Blooms Will be Distributed Among Churches and Sick At Close of Event

There are just two more weeks until the flower show will be held, which is being sponsored by the Palmyra Woman's Club. The dates are Friday and Saturday, September 11 and 12.

A great deal of keen interest has been shown by the many local amateur gardeners. Those living in Palmyra, Riverton and other neighboring communities are invited to place entries in this show.

The commercial growers in this vicinity are co-operating with the members of the committee in charge of arrangements to help make this an event long to be remembered.

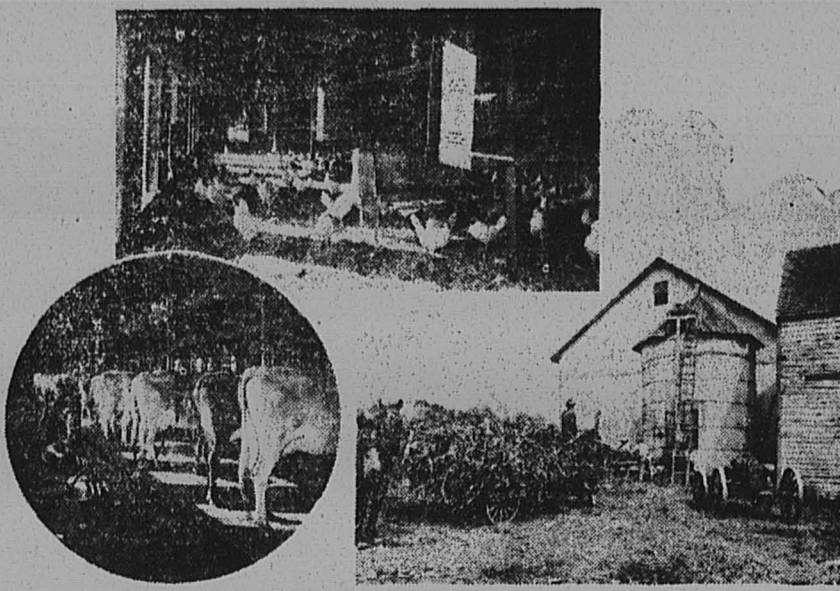

The following well-known growers are planning beautifully arranged displays: Pennell Cooper, Lamont Roberts, and Harry Deemer, of Palmyra; Henry A. Dreer, Inc., of Riverton; and James Kenney, of Riverside.

First, second and third prizes will be awarded in the following classes of garden flowers: Class No. 1, best blooms, vases, or other receptacles. Class No. 2, best arrangement of cosmos. Class No. 3, delphinium, vase or basket. Class No. 4, giant marigolds, vase or basket.

More Classes
Class No. 5, petunias, vase or basket. Class No. 6, snapdragons, vase or basket. Class No. 7, zinnias, vase or basket. Class No. 8, garden flowers in vase. Class No. 9, garden flowers in basket. Class No. 10, garden flowers in bowl, suitable for table decoration. Class No. 11, roses, one bloom, white or yellow. Class No. 12, roses, one bloom, pink or red. Class No. 13, roses, vase or bowl. Class No. 14, gladiolus, single spike, any color. Class No. 15, basket, bowl or vase, of gladiolus. Class No. 16, dahlias—basket. Class No. 17, dahlias, bowl or vase.

Class No. 18, dahlias, single bloom. Class No. 19, dwarf phlox, vase. Class No. 20, straw flowers, vase. Class No. 21, yellow daisies, vase or other receptacle. Class No. 22, hardy asters, vase or basket. Class No. 23, ageratum, vase or basket. Class No. 24, straw flowers, bowl or vase. Class No. 25, french marigolds, bowl. Class No. 26, decorative shrubs in any receptacle. Class No. 27, cocksplume, basket or vase.

Over 3000 Farms In New Jersey Find Many Uses For Public Service Electricity

ALTHOUGH primarily a manufacturing state, New Jersey has also a farming area of considerable importance.

On December 31, 1930, there were 3,100 farms served with electricity by Public Service Electric and Gas Company.

A "farm" in this connection is considered to be any plot of three or more acres used to produce agricultural products. Electricity serves the New Jersey farmer in many different ways. He uses it, among other things, for milking, feed grinding, refrigeration, pumping water, flood lighting, and incubation.

The farmer's wife, too, now enjoys the advantages of all the labor-saving electrical appliances found in the most up-to-date city home.

rests were made as both owners are insured and agreed to settle for the damages out of court.

The left front fender and chassis of the Chevrolet was damaged while the front axle and wheel on the Ford were damaged.

Mrs. Caroline H. Coles, widow of the late J. Heulings Coles, died at her home in Colestown, Monday afternoon, at one-thirty o'clock following a lengthy illness.

Funeral services, with the Rev. Robert McKay, of Moorestown, officiating, were held from her late residence Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Interment was made in Colestown Cemetery.

Mrs. Coles was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John C. Hopkins, of West Main street, Moorestown, who were lifelong residents of this community.

She is survived by two children, Joseph H. and Mary Coles, of Colestown.

The accident was investigated by Officer Walter A. Erickson but no arrests were made.

SECOND VIOLIN IS FOUND LIKE STRAD

Lenola Man's Instrument Bears Mark Similar To Genuine Master's

A violin bearing the Stradivarius cross in a circle with the initials "A. S." and the wording "Antonius Stradivarius Cremonensis—Fecit Anno 1720," has aroused the hopes of its owner, Abraham Faunce, of 226 Center street, Lenola, that he has an instrument created by the hand of the master.

Mr. Faunce has been in possession of the violin for the past fifteen years. He purchased it from a friend who had had it for forty years, this man purchasing it in Colorado from one in straightened circumstances.

The Lenola resident had never evidenced any interest in the instrument until the recent publication of the story of the existing of a possibly genuine Stradivarius in the possession of Mrs. Maurice Braddock, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William T. Lewis, of East Third street, Moorestown.

Mrs. Braddock is having her instrument examined by experts and Mr. Faunce has been advised to do the same.

The second violin is dated 1720, five years before the date on Mrs. Braddock's. The wood is of the red color, peculiar to the authentic "Strads" and the neck of the instrument is worn smooth from handling.

Mr. Faunce bought the violin for the nominal sum of $10 for his son, who was just starting to study the violin. The tone quality is very fine and Mr. Faunce is planning to have experts look at the instrument at once.

Winfield Scott

Winfield Scott, formerly of Moorestown, died Monday morning at the Cooper Hospital, Camden, after several months' illness. Mr. Scott is survived by his sister, Miss Marie Scott, of Moorestown.

Funeral services were held on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, at the Foster Funeral Parlor, Atlantic and West Merchant streets, Audubon.

Mr. Scott was born in Moorestown and lived there until a few years ago.

MAN'S BACK BROKEN IN FALL FROM ROOF

Asher G. Marshall, who fell from the roof of his home at 58 Church street, Mount Holly, last week while painting the roof, suffered a broken back, according to X-rays taken at the Burlington County Hospital. The X-rays show that three vertebrae were broken. Marshall's condition is not considered serious, but the doctors say that he will be confined to the hospital for a long time before the bones can knit.

Wallace — Crandall

A pretty but quiet wedding took place on August 15 when Miss Betty Crandall of Robersonville, N. C., became the bride of Mr. Albert Wallace at the Oakliffe M. E. Church, "Oakliffe" Norfolk, Va. The bride wore a beautiful gown of white crepe satin with accessories to match and carried a shower bouquet of sweetheart roses. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of G. M. Wallace, brother of the groom at Indian River Park, Norfolk. After an extended honeymoon the happy young couple will be at home to their many friends on August 31—110 Hawthorne Drive, Indian River Park, Norfolk, Va.

Mr. Wallace is a brother of Mrs. Warren Mason of Riverside, N. J., and having made his home with her for several years while in the employ of Henry A. Dreer at Riverton has many friends in this vicinity.

RIVERSIDE MAN FINED AS RECKLESS DRIVER

Melvin Fox, of Riverside, was fined $10 and costs Thursday when he was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Harry McCloskey, of Beverly, charged with reckless driving. He was arrested by Trooper Joseph Armano, of the Delanco State Police barracks.

A quiet, but charming double wedding took place Saturday afternoon at three o'clock at the Dreyer residence, Garfield avenue, Palmyra, when Miss Minna C. Renshaw became the bride of Louis Hahle and Miss Gladys Billman became the bride of Carl Paulus.

Miss Renshaw is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Renshaw, of Pennsylvania avenue, Palmyra, and Miss Billman is the daughter of Frank Billman, also of Palmyra. Mr. Hahle is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hahle, of Riverside, and Mr. Paulus is also a Riverside youth.

The couples were married by the Rev. Harry L. Saul, of Altoona, Pa., formerly pastor of the First Lutheran Church of Palmyra and Riverton. The brides were attired in brown satin ensembles with hat and slippers to match. Miss Renshaw wore a corsage of claudius amon roses, while Miss Billman's corsage was of white roses and lilies-of-the-valley.

Only members of the immediate families were present at the ceremony, which was followed by a luncheon.

The happy young couples are now enjoying a honeymoon trip to Niagara Falls and Maine.

Upon their return the Hahles will take up their residence at their new home, Morgan and Purnell avenues, Palmyra, and Mr. Paulus and his bride will make their home at 44 Rowland street, Palmyra.

BRISTOL MAN IN COUNTY JAIL IN DEFAULT OF FINE

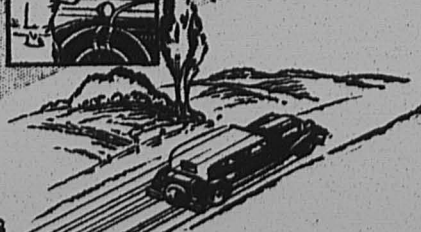

Because Joseph Goff, of Bristol, Pa., refused to show his driver's license and left the scene of an automobile accident Sunday night, he was sentenced to 90 days in the county jail in default of a fine of $100 by Recorder Frank M. Lockman, Columbus. His car collided with another driven by George Ricau, 238 Fourth street, Roeboling, on the state highway, near Roeboling. Goff was overtaken by State Troopers Joseph Rinaldi and George Koomis, Delanco barracks, at Burlington.

THE BIGGER THEY ARE—

Officer Bud Stevenson, of Beverly, doesn't care how big they are when he arrests them for drunken driving.

This week a prominent prisoner spilled a lot of vituperation and threats, and pulled all the political wires he could, but Officer Stevenson and Magistrate Harry McCloskey stood by their guns and fined him the limit, just as if he were an ordinary citizen.

Which makes the ordinary citizen respect the law a whole lot more than had the man succeeded in evading his punishment.

GET THE MOST OUT OF SUMMER TRAVEL

The vacation season is in full swing and many thousands of persons are visiting various interesting places for the first time, some in our own country and others abroad. While recreation is the principal aim of many, a majority expect to learn something of permanent value during their travels.

In order that one may derive the most benefit from his travel experience, it is well to find out as much as possible about the places to be visited ahead of time. Then, when he actually sees the places and objects of which he has studied, he gains a more lasting impression of their significance.

Information gained from guides and handbooks during one's travels is valuable, of course, but it is generally superficial, and lacking in the historical background which is necessary for a full understanding, and appreciation of the famous places where history has been made.

The educational value of travel depends largely upon knowing beforehand what one wants to see, and why.

PAY OF GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS

Moralists in George Washington's day were not embarrassed by the fact that there were corporation executives, movie stars, baseball pitchers, home-run clouters and others, who received a higher salary than that of the President, there were no large corporations, no prize fights, no baseball heroes, no movie stars and, while business men of the time may have had higher commercial incomes, probably no man received a higher actual salary than that of the President.

The Division of Information and Publication of the United States George Washington Bicentennial Commission reminds us that Washington's salary was fixed by the First Congress of the United States at $25,000, which was by far higher than any other Government salary of the time. Just to give us a line on the difference, the United States George Washington Bicentennial Commission has taken the trouble to learn the precise salaries they paid to all Government officials. Evidently, to judge by this difference, Congress thought Washington well worth whatever the Government could afford to pay him.

This $25,000 was made the fixed salary of President Washington by the Act of September 24, 1789, later confirmed as permanent legislation by an Act of February 18, 1793, and for eighty year $25,000 remained the fixed salary of the Presidents. At the end of that time, in 1873, Presidents of the United States received something of a salary boost when the Act of March 3, doubled their pay to $50,000 a year. There was no delay about it, either. The raise was made effective on the following day, March 4.

The next pay increase was a little less long in coming. After thirty-six years Congress lifted the President's salary to its present status at $75,000, with the Act of March 4, 1909, making William Howard Taft the first President to benefit by the timely aid.

Curiously, the office of Vice-President seems always to have appeared worth to Congress about one-fifth that of the Presidency, from a salary standpoint. The same Act of Congress that fixed George Washington's salary at $25,000 made that of John Adams, as Vice-President, $5,000. Today the Vice-President receive $15,000 a year, against the President's $75,000—still the one-fifth ratio.

In 1853, however, Congress became more generous and raised the Vice-President's salary to $8,000, while still leaving the Presidential salary at $25,000. In 1873, when the President's pay was doubled to $50,000, the Vice-President's was raised to $10,000, the old ratio of one-fifth again. But in 1907 the Vice-President beat his chief to the next and last salary raise when Congress awarded him $12,000. The Presidential raise to $75,000, in 1909, left the Vice-President at a pay rate of less than one-sixth, but in 1925 Congress corrected this and increased the Vice-President to his present rate of $15,000.

Cabinet officers were, from the beginning, let in on the ground floor. It seems odd to look back and learn that a Secretary of State of the United States once received a salary that in these days might be sniffed at by the sub-assistant to the creditor manager of a department store. Yet Thomas Jefferson, our first Secretary of State, was paid precisely $3,500. So was the first man to hold the office now filled by Andrew W. Mellon. The great Alexander Hamilton drew down his $3,500, and no more. As for Washington's Secretary of War, General Knox, he was let down with a mere $3,000. During Washington's Administrations, the United States Attorney General had so little to do that it was a part-time job, and its holder had to rely on other sources of income.

SUSPICIOUS JAPS

Those suspicious Japanese are not helping the good opinion once had for them, when they treat our lost aviators like they were public enemies.

CONTRAST

The city of Chanute, Kansas, is probably the most prosperous community in America, if not in the world. Its people pay no taxes whatever.

The city of Fall River, Massachusetts, is in the hands of a receiver, because of inability to meet its obligations out of tax receipts.

Chanute gets enough revenue from municipally-owned gas, electric and water utilities to pay all the running expenses of the town as well as support an airport and a brass band. The city is run by business men, Fall River has been run by politicians for generations.

The principal argument against public ownership of public utilities is that they would be run for the benefit of the politicians, not for the benefit of the people. That is not always the case, as Chanute is proving.

PENSIONS

Today every man who served in any of our wars before the World War is receiving a pension. Soon all the World War veterans will be on the pension roll. Employees in the civil service of the Federal Government now get pensions at the age of 70. Most states provide pensions for dependent mothers. Even Al Smith is on the New York State Civil pension roll.

Much of the worry of middle age would be eliminated if everybody could look forward to a peaceful old age not dependent upon charity. Perhaps the incentive to thrift would be impaired, but I doubt that. And I believe that eventually some such system will be adopted everywhere.

SEAPORTS

Chicago got greatly excited a short time ago when the Swedish freighter "Anna," with a cargo of barbed wire and sardines entered the Chicago River with the Swedish flag flying. It has long been Chicago's dream to become a seaport. Chicago enthusiasts picture a deep-water channel, a pier, a St. Lawrence through the Great Lakes to the very heart of the United States.

That is an engineering possibility, but whether it would pay is another question. Ocean transportation is always a risky venture. Very few shippers are making money these days. The demand is constant for greater speed and quicker "turn-around" between ocean terminals. The passage through any inland waterway is necessarily slow.

However, Chicago has set her heart on becoming a seaport and what Chicago goes after she usually gets.

PARALYSIS

The East this year is having another epidemic of infantile paralysis. The West is comparatively free from this terrible scourge. It is one of the few diseases of which the exact cause is still unknown to science, and for which no effective preventive measures have been devised. Cure is uncertain, and complete recovery practically unknown.

While it cripples the bodies, especially the legs, of its victims, infantile paralysis sometimes seems to sharpen the brain. Governor Roosevelt of New York was infected by this disease, which seldom attacks adults, eight years ago. He is able now to walk without leg braces, with the aid of a couple of canes, while his mind is as active as ever. I know one girl who was infected in the 1916 epidemic who refused to be licked by her affliction and has succeeded in establishing herself as a fashionable milliner, making annual trips to Paris. One of the most seriously crippled boys I ever saw, a victim of paralysis at the age of seven, graduated this year at the top of his class in a western university.

It is small consolation to a mother whose child is deprived of its normal physical life by infantile paralysis, to realize that it still has a chance to develop its mental faculties, but there is always that ray of hope.

MAIN STREET LOOKS AT BROADWAY BY ERNEST CAMP JR

NOT ANY SOFT SNAP

Whatever truth there may be in the report prisoners paid to be sent to Fort Wadsworth from other hot prisons, there cannot be any idea the place is a summer resort. In the day time the breezes are balmy, the scenes of New York Bay beautiful, and the surroundings delightful. But the hidden hand is present.

All mail and packages are censored; prisoners are allowed to receive their families and friends in the public room, and then only at stated intervals. Paraphrasing the soldier's army slogan during the war, "They're in the prison now!"

Studying the men, one was disturbed by the hang-dog expressions on their faces, the lagging walk, the lack of ambition. One prisoner alone showed signs of mental activity. We observed him furtively watching us from a distance. His expression was that of a snarling wolf behind bars. It made us sorry the guards were so noncommunicative as we would have liked to learn what he was serving time for.

Maybe he had crashed a national bank; or headed a rum-running fleet; or was a notorious forger. Beyond question, he was a man of high mental attainments.

NO CONVERSATIONALISTS

Fort Wadsworth, which has been used as a Federal prison for only a year, recently has been under fire in the newspapers. Charges were openly made that millionaire convicts had paid various sums ranging from $500 to $1,000 to be transferred from the grueling hot penitentiaries at Atlanta and Leavenworth to the cool confines of the jail located at the Narrows.

A trip there to uncover the truth of such charges netted practically nothing as far as official information goes. Everybody at the lovely fort refused to give out the slightest bit of information. They even declined pleasantly enough, to discuss what uniforms the inmates were forced to wear, although one could see it consists of a white broadcloth shirt, well laundered, and a pair of well-made blue trousers.

The only admission vouchsafed was that the place was run as an honor farm. The men were free to come and go within the confines of the quadrangle, which comprises about three acres of beautifully kept gardens tended by the men. There seems to be no locks and bars, although we did not get to see the cells.

western university.

It is small consolation to a mother whose child is deprived of its normal physical life by infantile paralysis, to realize that it still has a chance to develop its mental faculties, but there is always that ray of hope.

"Man's second attempt at suicide successful"—headline. Well, if that's success we're glad we are a failure.

According to a recent article in Liberty, a man in Berlin who applied to Dr. Magnus Hirschfeld's "Love Clinic" for an examination of his physical and mental fitness for marriage, took three years to answer the one hundred and forty questions in their questionnaire. It would be interesting to know the Doctor's verdict.

Two of Lew Taylor's uncles, from Milwaukee, were visiting him in New York, when he took them to see the Empire Building. After failing to induce them to go up, Lew decided to see N. "Chick" Reeves is always losing girl friends, and no wonder. The other day a G. F. told him that if he would swim out a few strokes with her she would give him a kiss. So Chick suggested a swim around the Steel Pier.

The S. P. C. A. needs funds, and if this machine age continues to flourish they will need animals, no doubt.

Now couldn't you call a columnist a "dry informer?"

George Robbins wanted to send his wife to California, so he inquired at the post office. "But you can't send your wife from here," said the clerk. "I don't see why I can't," replied George, "since time immemorial women have been going through the mails."

There, now, do you think that will go for two cents?

What! no more ideas? Well, well, well, there is one thing we can do, that is knock some one who is out of town, and won't hear of us until it is too late to come back at us. But we don't know anyone who is out of town who is of sufficient importance, unless we knock ourselves, and that, we have been informed, is being done for us.

Than Q, there ain't no more.

"German lays slump in Fatherland to copying American methods"—headline. Well, after all, what's the use of having a cat if you can't blame things on it?

"Cigarette smoking" according to Mrs. M. B. McGavran, of Kansas City, president of the American Association of Cosmeticians, "is giving American women a 'bloodhound facial drop.'" Yes sir, there is entirely too much make up money being spent for cigarettes. Aside from that, such slogans as "Your nose knows" are bound to have an influence. Soon the slogans will read like this: Not a growl in a yard full; keep lickable; they catfish; I'd bark a week for a ham bone; and, what a while of a difference a few scents make. Well anyway, it's doggy to be that way, no doubt.

And while we think of it, why don't those cosmeticians come back with something like this: Use cosmetics and keep that school girl complex?

INFORMATION ABOUT PETS

(By Dr. Urray)

1. I have a dog which jumps around and yodels without apparent reason. He bites his sides and tail. I don't feed him much.

2. What should I do?

Mrs. E. Stone.
1. Your dog is probably a falter hound and is therefore subject to fits. He bites his sides because he has stitches in them. His diet should contain plenty of iron. The tail biting is no doubt hereditary. I advise you to try another dog. You may be better suited with another.
2. Go jump in a lake.

YOU, YOUR CAR AND THE MOTOR LAWS

EDITOR'S NOTE:—This is the fifty-eighth of a series of articles by the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles, written to familiarize motorists with the regulations which govern their conduct and increase their safety on the highways.

58. SIGNIFICANT STATISTICS

Statistics, even those dealing with death and injury, are frequently dry, and it is with difficulty that those working for greater safety are able to hammer home the lessons to be drawn from columns of figures. Last year, motor vehicle registration throughout the country increased less than 1 per cent. But during the same period accidents increased 12 per cent, fatalities 4 per cent, and injuries 13 per cent. There, stated simply, is an appalling problem, representing a fearful and unnecessary waste of property and human life.

Four fundamental factors underlie the range of motor accidents. First, the degree of responsibility exercised by driver and pedestrian. Second, the vehicle and its condition. Third, the roadway, and its fitness and condition. Fourth, the regulations for the use of the roadway.

If the accident experience of 1930 means anything, it means, as Thomas P. Henry, president of the A. A. A. recently pointed out, that we have made the least progress in the establishment of responsibility at the wheel and on the curb.

Fatalities and Injuries
Nearly half of the fatalities, 45.9 per cent, to be exact, were caused by automobiles striking pedestrians, while 42.2 per cent of the injuries were due to collisions between automobiles. It is significant, Mr. Henry points out, that 30.8 per cent of the drivers causing accidents did not have the right of way, and that 16.1 per cent were on the wrong side of the road. Another indication of irresponsibility on the part of the operators is seen in the fact that the direction of travel was straight ahead in more than 85 per cent of all fatal accidents and in 78 per cent of the non-fatal mishaps.

While more than 40 per cent of fatal accidents occurred on the state highways in rural areas, 43.5 per cent of the total number of injuries occurred at street intersections. In all of these the five-hour period from 4 p. m. to 9 p. m. seemed the most dangerous, and 38 per cent of the fatal accidents and around 30 per cent of the non-fatal accidents occurred during these hours. The home-ward rush at dusk from office and factory is generally conceded to be the cause.

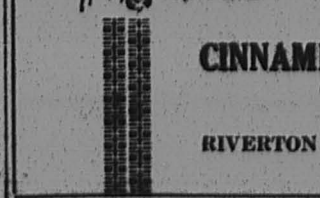

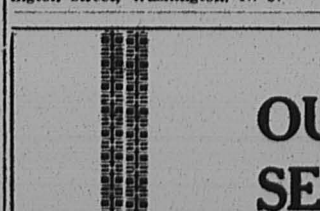

With regard to highway conditions at the time of accidents it is interesting to note that 79.9 per cent of the fatal and 80 per cent of the non-fatal mishaps occurred in clear, dry weather. This does not, of course, mean that good visibility and dry streets are dangerous. It is simply a reflection of the large mileage rolled up in such weather. It also means that motorists and pedestrians exercise greater care when conditions for driving are decidedly bad.

TWO HURT, ONE FINED AS RESULT OF CRASH

2 MOTORISTS INJURED WHEN CAR OVERTURNS

Refreshments were served.

BURLINGTON PRISONER

BATTERS HEAD ON CELL
Battering his head against a cell door in the city jail, Burlington, in what police say was an attempt to commit suicide, James Muldoon, 39, of Little Ferry, N. Y., was cut about the face and head. Muldoon appeared to Captain Frank Gilbert, of Burlington police, Friday night for lodging. Early Saturday Gilbert heard loud noises in the cell block and found Muldoon banging his head against the cell door and walls. Dr. John S. Conroy, Burlington physician, was summoned. He treated the man, and said he was temporarily demented. Muldoon could give no coherent statement regarding his alleged suicide attempt.

An Aid To Digestion

BECAUSE pineapple contains an enzyme called bromelain which helps one to take care of foods rich in proteins, it is a good fruit to serve with both meats and fish. Practically all good pineapples come from Hawaii where a number of great companies operate plantations and canneries, and now send us such a flood of this golden fruit that the price is much lower than heretofore. So here's a recipe for
Ham Baked with Pineapple: Soak a slice of ham one inch thick in warm water for at least one hour. Drain and sprinkle with flour. Melt a little fat in the baking pan, preferably a piece that it cut from the ham, and brown the meat in it.

Pour one cup crushed pineapple and one-half cup water over the ham and bake slowly until tender or about one hour. Remove to hot platter and pour pineapple around it.

But this is not the only way to serve pineapple with fish or meat. Slices of it can be browned with various dishes, and it can also be combined into a most delicious

Pineapple Stuffing: Mix two cups soft bread crumbs, two tablespoons melted butter, three-fourths teaspoon salt, one-half cup finely chopped celery and one-half cup well drained, crushed Hawaiian pineapple. Moisten with the syrup drained from the pineapple and use as a stuffing for baked fish or meat.

Signals By Motorists
Becoming a Lost Art

"Signaling by motorists becoming a lost art" queries the Keystone Automobile Club of New Jersey, recalling that a few years ago nearly all motorists plainly indicated their intentions by means of the arm signal, while now comparatively few take the trouble to let fellow drivers know they are going to stop or turn.

"While the law requires drivers to signal their intention," said Travor B. Mathews, manager of the Camden division of the club, "the present-day driver apparently is in ignorance of this fact. Some motorists signal their intentions when they happen to think of it; others just tear along, swerve sharply to right or left, without even a thought of the cars in the rear."

Miss Florence Lawson, of Fort Royal, Pa., spent a few days last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Snover.

The Ladies Aid Society of the First Lutheran Church will hold its business meeting and social at the church Tuesday afternoon at one o'clock. A covered dish luncheon will be served. ## Presbyterian

(Charles T. Bates, Minister)

Calvary Presbyterian Church will hold its morning service of worship next Sunday at 11 o'clock. The Rev. H. M. Way, B. D., pastor of the Union Reformed Church of Baltimore, Md., will fill the pulpit. The pastor will be home the following Sunday, September 6th, and will preach as usual.

All departments of the Church School will meet at 10 o'clock. The mid-week service will be discontinued during September, and also the vesper service on Sunday.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"CHRIST JESUS" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, August 30, 1931.

The Golden Text is: "We know that the Son of God is come, and hath given us an understanding, that we may know him that is true, and we are in him that is true, even in his Son Jesus Christ" (1 John 5:20).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "My little children, these things write I unto you, that ye sin not. And if any man sin, we have an advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the right one; And he is the propitiation for our sins; and not for ours only, but also for the sins of the whole world" (1 John 2:1, 2).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "As Paul says: 'There is one God, and one mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus'" (p. 332).

NEGRO CAUGHT BY PALMYRA POLICE ADMITS LARCENY

Arrested Under Doctor's Porch, Man Tells Conflicting Stories To Cops

CLAIMS HE CAME TO CAMDEN TO GET JOB

Sent To County Jail To Await Extradition To New York State Authorities

A negro, suspected of belonging to a New York gang, was arrested last Thursday morning by Chief of Police C. Morris Beck, of Palmyra.

The officer answered a call from Dr. Charles E. Roberts, of Fourth street and Morgan avenue, Palmyra, who said he had seen a man crawl under the porch of his home.

The man, Henry Roberts, 22 years old, of Edgemere, L. I., surrendered when Beck, brandishing a revolver, ordered him to come out in the open. The suspect, who appeared to be badly frightened, was taken to the Palmyra police headquarters for questioning.

The negro told conflicting stories when questioned by the chief and later by Patrolman John Ryan. He said he had come from New York to accept a job in Camden but had fled the scene of employment when a policeman had arrested a companion as a robbery suspect after both had been caught sleeping in a truck. The officer had also attempted to arrest Roberts, but the negro had escaped.

He claimed he had walked over the Camden bridge and had procured a ride in a truck going to New York. He left the truck when he found it was going to Brooklyn. He told the officers he still believed he was either in New York or Pennsylvania, and was unable to explain how he managed to reach Palmyra.

Before leaving New York, the man said he had come from Georgia. He confessed to previously having had trouble with police in Philadelphia.

After a continued grilling by the officers, the negro finally admitted he was wanted in New York, N. Y., on several larceny charges. Throughout the questioning, the man trembled violently and seemed afraid of the officers, never letting any of them while in the same room with him get out of his sight. He seemed to be expecting an attack on the part of the policemen.

At first his agitation was believed to be caused by his escape from some place of detention or his failure to be caught at some crime which was now pressing on his mind. The Palmyra police removed the man to the Burlington county jail at Mount Holly while a closer investigation of the man's past was being made.

"My wife kisses me every time I come home. That's affection."

"You're wrong. That's investigation."

For robbing William Wagner of 50 cents, Charles and Robert Coomes, brothers, of Hagerstown, Md., will spend one year in a reformatory.

HINTS FOR THE HOME

By Nancy Hall

RHUBARB DUMPLINGS

Wash and cut rhubarb in inch pieces, and stew with little more than half its weight in sugar and just a little water. While it is cooking mix a flour batter in the proportion of a pint of flour, a half teaspoonful of salt, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, and a scant cup of sweet milk, then drop it by the spoonful into the boiling rhubarb. The result is delicious. Eat hot with or without cream.

BEET AND RHUBARB JELLY

This is a fine relish to serve with the meat course. Take equal parts of young beets, boiled tender, and rhubarb sliced without peeling. Cook together until very tender, put through a sieve, then through a jelly bag. Measure the juice, and to a pint allow a pound of sugar. Heat the sugar in the oven, add to the hot juice and cook five minutes longer. Turn into heated glasses and cover when cold with paraffin.

RHUBARB AND ORANGE

Cut the rhubarb in short lengths and cover with sugar for an hour before cooking. Then cook in a double boiler, with the juice of one orange squeezed over it, and no water. When tender, cool and serve.

WITH BACON

To many American housewives there seems to be but one way of cooking and serving rhubarb—that is, with a frying pan for breakfast, either with or without fried eggs. Yes, and there's liver and bacon—served more often for a lunch or dinner dish now than we don't have such hearty breakfasts. But that is about the extent of many housewives' bacon repertoire.

Here are some ways of adding variety to your bacon cookery.

SWEET BAKED CUSTARD

Make the same as the above, mixing 1 1/2 teaspoonful sugar—that is, egg and of course omitting the beef extract.

CUCUMBER SALAD

Chill the cucumbers and slice them thin and place them on crisp, white lettuce leaves. Sprinkle over them some chopped pickles and serve with French dressing.

MELONS

You may, if you have patience, cut balls from watermelon with a French vegetable cutter. The balls should be carefully cut so that they will contain no seeds. If a French vegetable cutter is not available, then the watermelon pulp may be cut into solid little cubes, and used instead of balls. The balls or cubes are used in salads or fruit cups.

For a watermelon fruit cup, pile the chilled balls or cubes in dessert cups or glasses, sprinkle with a little lemon juice and powdered sugar, and serve. Or sprinkle with minced mint leaves and serve.

For watermelon salad, put the cubes or balls on lettuce, crisp, white heart leaves, and serve with French dressing made with lemon juice or with mayonnaise.

Watermelon balls or cubes may be combined with other seasonal fruits in fruit cup or salad. It is delicious combined with peach, pear, orange and grapefruit.

Balls or cubes of cantaloupe or honeydew are also good in salad or fruit cup, served just as watermelon would be. Occasionally a fruit cup containing so many fruits where there are hardly two pieces alike in each serving is good. One that I ate of that sort not long ago contained watermelon and cantaloupe, peach, pear, red cherries, white cherries, grapefruit, pineapple, maraschino cherries and red raspberries, oranges and bananas. It was really delicious.

SARDINES

You have no idea how many varieties of sardines are to be had at the large grocery stores. There are domestic sardines from California, French sardines with and without bones. Sardines that are both skinless and boneless, sardines in oil and sardines in tomato, sardines in tin and in glass, and sardines in wine sauce from France. Then there are sardines from Portugal and sardines from Norway, and for sandwiches and appetizers there is sardine paste that comes in glass jars and in tubes.

GARDEN-SCIENCE

A HOUSE PLANT FOR NEXT WINTER

By A. C. McLEAN.
(N. J. Agr. Extension Service)

The fairy primrose (Primula malacoides), one of the best of our many house plants, will produce bloom before Christmas for the gardeners who starts now with plants in 2 1/2 to 3-inch pots. Young primroses in pots of these sizes may now be bought from florists at moderate prices.

The best plan is to grow the primroses, still in the pots, in a shady place outdoors but where they will get some sunshine either in the morning or afternoon. As soon as the roots fill the small pots, move the plants to 4 inch pots and allow them to bloom.

These plants are easily cultivated and they do well in the average home, provided there is not too much heat. Primroses should bloom in the house throughout the winter if flower stalks are removed after blooming, and if kept free of aphids.

The original form of the fairy primrose was practically like in color, but in recent years numerous new varieties have been introduced that bloom in shades of blue, pink and white, and also in double forms.

Primroses may be started from seed, in which case the sowing should be done in June. Amateurs, however, will frequently encounter difficulties in carrying early primroses through the hot summer months. Better sown now and carried through the winter will bloom about Easter and during the spring months. For most gardeners, the best plan is to buy young plants now.

HOW INSECTS GROW

By C. C. HAMILTON.
(N. J. Agr. Experiment Station)

Small flies are not the young of larger flies. Neither are small beetles the young of larger beetles. We know this to be true because once an insect has obtained its wings it cannot grow larger.

Most insects hatch from eggs and enter the growing stage. During this period they may resemble the adult insect, as is true of the young grasshopper, or they may appear dissimilar, as in the case of the maggot of a house fly.

When the young resembles the adult we call it a nymph, hence the term grasshopper nymph. If the young does not resemble the adult we call it the larva, pupa, or chrysalis, an example of which is found in the young of the butterfly.

The change in form during the growth of insects is called metamorphosis. There are many kinds of changes in form, but all of them are for the purpose of fitting the developing insect to its environment.

Increases in size of insects during the growing stage, as well as changes in form, are made possible by the molting or shedding of their hard, outer skin, the insect's only "skeleton." This outer skin on most insects becomes hard or leathery by the deposition of a material known as chitin. When an insect has grown as much as this covering of chitin will permit, the growth-limiting skin is molted. Then, since the new skin is elastic for a short time after the old one has been molted, the insect can increase in size. Soon the skin hardens, in which condition it protects the insect and provides a place for the attachment of muscles. Although most insects molt their skins only three or four times before becoming full grown, certain species molt fifteen to twenty times before attaining their maximum size.

LEAF BLOTCH OF PEONY

By R. P. WHITE.
(N. J. Agr. Experiment Station)

After the blooming period of the peony is past, the foliage of this plant may become infected with several leaf spot fungi. The most serious and common being the one responsible for leaf blotch. This disease varies greatly in its severity on different varieties, some being almost immune to it.

Symptoms of leaf blotch are large purple or purplish-brown blotches on lower surfaces of leaves. Spots on upper surfaces are light brown. The infected tissue does not die and dry out as is the case with most leaf diseases; instead it remains normal in texture. During periods of excessive humidity the under surfaces of infected areas show an olive-green felt-like material, which is composed largely of spores or reproductive bodies of the fungus causing leaf blotch.

This disease, as well as other leaf infections, need not become serious. It is readily prevented by the removal and destruction of all peony tops in the fall. Cut the stems close to the ground before the leaves have been killed and made brittle by frost, and destroy by burning.

PERMITS REVOKED AS THREE FAIL TO ANSWER SUMMONS

Recorder Joseph C. Kingston, of Mount Holly, received word Thursday from A. W. Magee, deputy motor vehicle commissioner of the state, that the driving licenses of Lloyd R. Jensen, of Lenola; Lawrence M. Albright, of Camden; and Morris Goldsmith, of Philadelphia, had been revoked for their failure to appear before Recorder Kingston when summoned for motor vehicle violations.

NEW YORK PRISONERS

Small towns, with their one cell "house-gangs" in which gangs are the usual inmates for a one-night sojourn, think of New York as a terrible place, with its many thousands of prisoners. These men are held in police stations, the notorious Tombs, where Harry Thaw was held for the many months of his trial, the old Blackwell's Island, the East River where sentences over a month and less than a year are served, and many other houses of detention.

Two Federal prisons are also located in the city. Governors Island, where soldiers and sailors under sentence are imprisoned, and Fort Wadsworth, which ranks with Leavenworth and Atlanta, although very much smaller. There is also the Federal House of Detention, at West and Eleventh streets, where men are held for trial.

FALLS FROM HORSE AT MEDFORD; BREAKS LEG

William A. Goff, well-known in engineering circles and a member of the Camden firm of Remington, Vossburg and Goff, Palmyra Borough engineer, suffered a broken right leg Sunday at Medford Lakes, when a horse frightened by an automobile, lost its footing and fell upon him.

Goff was staying with his family at the Goff summer home at the Lakes. He was picked up following the accident by several of the summer colonists and taken to the office of Dr. Joseph E. Roberts, 403 Cooper street, Camden, where he was given first aid treatment. The physician ordered Goff removed to the Graduate Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia.

The break was close to the hip and very painful. Mr. Goff is reported to be resting comfortably now.

HIT TOMATO TRUCK

Two Camden men were taken to the Zurlburg Memorial Hospital, Riverside, last Friday for treatment for injuries suffered in an auto accident on the Burlington pike, near Bridgeboro.

They were: Phillip Bond, 24, of Herman avenue, Camden, and Morris Sherman, 19, of 1223 Locust street, Camden.

Bond, the driver of a car owned by Samuel Sherman, of 443 Locust street, Camden, which collided with a parked truck loaded with tomatoes, suffered a fractured nose and severe lacerations of the face and head. Sherman, a passenger in the car driven by Bond, received a broken right leg, possible internal injuries and lacerations of the arms and face.

The Sherman car, driven by Bond, crashed into the rear of a parked truck owned by Howard Cobb, of Burr's road, Mount Holly, and driven by Edward Cobb, of the same address. Both the truck and the smaller auto were badly damaged and the truck's cargo of tomatoes was strewn over the road.

Both drivers received summonses to appear on August 31 before Riverton Borough Police Recorder Cecil A. Bowers, to determine the cause of the accident. Corporal Jarvis Wood, of the Delaware state police barracks, investigated the accident.

DOROTHY O. COKER

Miss Dorothy O. Coker, 21 years old, died at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Coker, 126 Arch street, Palmyra, Wednesday evening of last week. Funeral services were held at the Bethel A. M. E. Church, Sunday afternoon. Interment was made in Mount Peace Cemetery, Lawnside, under the direction of Frank A. Snover.

ORIGIN OF PROHIBITION

"Probably the first organized effort to enforce prohibition, even locally, was made in the eighteenth century by a company of 200 farmers of Litchfield County, Conn.," says Stanley High, editor of the Christian Herald.

"After experiencing all manner of liquor-fostered troubles, these landowners joined in a move to prevent the use of alcoholic beverages among farmhands employed at harvest time," continues Mr. High. He goes on to show that prohibition is not a result of a fanatical opposition to moderate drinking, but rather of hard-headed and humanitarian convictions of the desirability of temperance and of a knowledge born of experience, that the legalized liquor trade, however strictly regulated, persistently fostered intemperance.

Between 1800 and 1918 the dry area of the nation steadily extended, until by 1918 twenty-five states had already adopted state-wide prohibition. Yet, despite this expanding dry territory, the per capita consumption of liquor in the United States increased from 18.77 gallons in 1904, 21.46 gallons in 1909, to 22.43 in 1914. In other words, prohibition became the issue because several generations of regulation appeared, to the drys, to demonstrate the futility of establishing temperance in any other way."

TWO FIREMEN HURT IN BURLINGTON BLAZE

Two Burlington firemen were injured last week when flames destroyed the roof and upper stories of a twin farm house on Fountainwoods road, Springdale. Gregory Doyle, of the Niagara Fire Company, leaped from a blazing roof and landed on a board from which a nail penetrated his foot. Walter Vile, of the Independent Fire Company, suffered cuts on the face when a hose nozzle struck him.

Famously recalling having been in a "friendly argument" several hours earlier, Alfred Drey, of Burke, S. D., looked in a mirror and discovered he was minus both ears.

This Week's Schedule
Saturday: R. D. Wood at Riverside;
Vincetown at Burlington; Moorestown at Medford; Delanco at Riverton.

Riverton gained its first victory in the second half of the Burlington County League race when it took a surprise triumph over the Delanco nine last Saturday afternoon.

The win enables the Riverton club to climb within one game of seventh place. The defeat for Delanco came as a surprise to baseball fans as the Youngmen had already been credited with a victory over R. D. Wood and two conquests over Vincetown.

Moorestown had defeated both teams by almost identical scores, but Delanco, by reason of its showing earlier in the season, was favored to win.

The winners, coupled excellent pitching with timely hitting to gain the verdict. Although out-hit, ten to eight, by the losers, the Riverton nine did some timely clubbing in the pinches and were greatly aided by five errors on the part of the losers.

The head of the batting order carried the brunt of the attack, five hits being made by the first three on the list. Terrell and Edge each accounted for a double and single while the remaining blows were divided among Reeves, Horn, Hsieh and Welkman.

GLIMPSES OF THE BOWLING ALLEY

The Palmyra Bowling Alley has started its fall and winter season off with a bang and all the old bowlers and some new ones are coming up to the highest expectations.

Of last week's cash awards the first of $10.00, was carried off by Jake Schwartz with a score of 620, while Wilson Wallace took the second with a score of 574. The prize was three dollars. Curt Flynn and Nate Williams tied for third place with a score of 563, winning $2.00 each.

"Lib" Humes had the high score of 156 for one game for the ladies. The award was $2.50.

The management of the alley wishes to announce to all those who wish to enter the leagues this year, either individually or a team, they may do so by getting in touch with Edward Heitz, manager, Riverton 1135, or Raymond Schmidt, 1022 Columbia avenue, Palmyra. Phone, Riverton 710-R.

ORGANIZED PLAY SEASON ENDED

Playground Under Direction of Dick Snyder and Miss Mel-ner Proves Big Success

The Riverton Memorial Park will officially close for the summer today. A resume of the accomplishments of the summer shows that the activity and interest in the park compared quite favorably with that of last season, the first in which an organized play system was established.

The attendance for the summer was 1175, as compared to the 9370 of last summer. The season was an entire week longer this year, but, due to the large amount of rainy weather, the total number of days that the playground was in session was less this year than last.

In addition to the increased attendance, and, no doubt, being directly responsible for it, were the great number of new sports and activities that were organized this summer. The tennis court drew crowds constantly.

Two complete tournaments were engaged in, and four cups awarded to the successful contestants of the tournament just finished. These cups will be placed in competition each year, and will become the permanent possession of the players who win them three times. These three "leaves" need not be won in consecutive years.

Other new and very popular sports were paddle tennis, croquet, and tether ball, volleyball, baseball and quads all found daily devotees.

The park was again affiliated with two national organizations, the American Red Cross and the National Recreation Association. Life saving and athletic badge tests of these two bodies were passed successfully by many boys and girls.

As far as special events were concerned, it was decided to eliminate the weekly contests that were held last summer, because of the limited interest shown in them, and concentrate in one big event. This event was the circus, which was participated in by 75 boys and girls, and attended by a thousand spectators.

Another new activity indulged in by the girls was basketry. Many useful and beautiful articles were made by the girls, including mats, trays, and baskets of all kinds. It might also be mentioned that all of the costumes and properties of the circus were gathered and made by the girls and boys themselves, the only expenses being for materials.

In addition to those already named, the following passed the Junior Life Saving Test last week: Blanche Quint, Fred Whittaby, Paul Frank, and Charles Wamora. Aquatic sports have played an important part in the program of the past summer.

Plans for next season have already been laid, and it is sincerely hoped that many of them may be carried out. Gertrude Gray, Betty Bowers and Anna Hunt passed their playground test.

"My duties kept me so busy I never had a chance to swim; now I'm swimming," explained Lynette Kemp after she resigned as a life guard in Joliet, Ill.

MEDFORD BLANKS MOORESTOWN, 5-0

"Pat" Vaughn, Invader's Pitcher, Limits Quakers To Three Hits

Medford blanked the Moorestown baseball nine in Saturday afternoon's Burlington County League tilt, while scoring five runs to its own credit.

The game, which was played on the local diamond, opened with a one-run lead for the invaders. To make certain of victory, however, the first half champs slugged four additional tallies on the book in the third inning.

"Pat" Vaughn limited the Quakers to three hits.

A deadlock that has existed for more than six weeks was severed Saturday afternoon when Vincetown defeated Burlington, 3-2, and left the R. D. Wood nine, victor over Riverside, 2-1, alone at the top of the Burlington County League standing.

After losing at Vincetown the Burlington club gained an even break for the day by topping Medford, with a 1-0 count in a second tussle Saturday.

The fifth of the week-end matches resulted in a 4-4 triumph for Riverton over Delanco, marking the first win of the second half campaign for the tallies.

VERY LATESTS by MARY MARSHALL

Most women that we talk to express entire satisfaction with the new fashions. They find them easy to wear and most becoming, but one of our readers has written to tell us that she is not at all satisfied.

"My arms are painfully thin," she says, "and practically all the summer dresses are either sleeveless or short sleeved. The only long sleeved dress that I can find in the stores is too matronly. I have decided to make some dresses for myself with long sleeves. I need a new evening dress and would like to make it with long sleeves if possible, because during the summer long gloves will be out of place.

Probably this reader is unduly conscious of her thin arms. A good cloth is never to mention or draw attention to one's shortcomings of that sort and the chances are that others will not notice them. It is true that most of the summer dresses are sleeveless or short sleeved, but I have seen charming youthful dresses of the long-sleeved sort. For the evening dress I would not advise long sleeves as they would seem out of place. Actually gloves will be worn extensively for rather formal evening parties this summer but if you do not wish to wear them, why not take advantage of one of the new smart draperies? At dances recently we have noticed several sorts of this sort and one most attractive young woman always dances with her seat ends falling down over her arms.

THIS IN WASHINGTON

BY RADFORD MOLEY
AUTOCATER WASHINGTON BUREAU

These present days are and no where is the heat felt harder than in this capital of the nation. Some 200,000 people work for Uncle Sam in this city, and probably there is not one of them who does not bemoan the fact that Virginia and Maryland had a dominant voice in the selection of the capital site in the year 1787.

Both New York and Philadelphia, which are measurably more comfortable in hot weather, have strong bids to become the seat of the nation's activities, and for a time, each was the capital of the United States. Finally Virginia and Maryland forced the selection of the site along the Potomac, in spite of its being a mosquito-ridden, malaria-infested swamp, where the heavy vapor from the mill-wide river caused an overpowering humidity in all the hot months. Spring and Fall months are highly enjoyable here, but even an Arizonian basks at the summer climate. This summer heat causes a noticeable slowing down in all departments of the Government and a heavy economic loss can be charged up to the climate from that condition. Business men, who are appointed to high position in the Government, almost without endeavor to speed up their workers soon after arriving, but eventually find themselves humiliated down to the speed of the regulars, or else they resign or die. It appears impossible to accelerate the pace of a civil service worker at the seat of Government.

For many years the great Treasury Building was pointed to by all as a fine place to work. It is an ancient structure, as Washington buildings go, and has about five feet thick. These keep out the glaring heat in summer and the biting cold in winter and make the place an agreeable spot in which to work. Nobody opens any windows in the place and this causes a slight "prison odor," but even that is preferable to the terrific heat of the outside.

For many years Senators and Representatives in Congress have been hurried to an early grave through the unhealthy conditions they were forced to endure during the sessions of Congress. A few years ago a modern ventilating system was installed in both Houses and since then "Congressional cold" has ceased to be a menace to the lives of our middle-aged Representatives.

When the White House fire of nearly two years ago occurred, President Hoover had his executive offices remodeled with the same air conditioning system and it has worked so well that he has turned out more work about lower hours and met more people than any President in recent times. It has worked so well that Mr. Hoover has vetoed any plans for the usual summer vacation, outside of his weekly trips to his Rapidan camp, and is standing the Washington summer in splendid shape.

An attempt was made to have the same cooling system installed in the new Department of Commerce Building, the largest Government office building in the world. Opposition in Congress blocked the plan, except for one wing where the Secretary and his leading assistants are housed. The result is that the authorities are being deluged with applications for positions in that particular wing, nearly every stenographer and other office workers trying to wangle a berth where they can keep cool.

Another handicap that Washington suffers from is that it is located in a Federal District, practically free from business in the form known to nearly every other city in the country. This has kept the capital from being in close touch with business and industry and their problems and causes a distorted viewpoint on questions vital to the success of the country. It is a condition hard to rectify. Men of affairs have little contact with the men at the heads of the various Washington bureaus with a resulting loss to both sides.

Civil service employees enjoy many privileges and there is never any trouble in filling the ranks of the workers. They have thirty days leave with pay each year and in addition may take thirty days sick leave on a doctor's certificate, which is not hard to get. They work five and a half days a week and seven hours a day. This makes up for the smaller pay, besides which, Washington rents and living expenses are based on the low pay schedule, making the city one of the cheapest in the entire country in which to live. Their jobs are for life, with a pension after the age of 70, and they are not forced to work at high pressure, like workers in ordinary business. In Washington, only the President and the other leading executives of the Government put in strenuous days.

"CRAZY QUILT SONGS"

A short time ago a facetious correspondent wrote in and asked, "What did Dela-ware?"

Of course the answer is "She wore her New Jersey."

The whole verse is as follows:

O what did Dela-ware, boys,
O what did Dela-ware?
I ask you now as a personal friend,
What did Dela-ware?

She wore her New Jerseys, boys,
She wore her New Jerseys,
I tell you now as a personal friend,
She wore her New Jerseys.

And there is a lot more of it which goes like this:
O what did Tenness-see?
She saw what Arkan-saw.

O why is Pennayl-vain?
She has a date Georg-ia.

O what did Ida-ho?
She hoed the Mary-land.

O how did Connecti-cut?
She cut with her New Hamp-shire.

O what does Io-wa?
She weighs a Washing-ton.

O what did Indi-ana buy?
She bought My Old Kentuck-y Home.

O where has Ore-gon?
He's seeing Okla-homa.

O how did Wisco-nin?
She stole a New Brans-key.

O what did Missis-sip?
She slipped a Minnie-sota.

RIDING TO A FALL

Whooping cowboys and cowgirls from the far western ranges will compete for prizes in horsemanship, bronco busting, wild steer wrestling, fancy riding and roping, at the Second Annual Stampede and Rodeo to be held in front of the grand stand each day during the entire week of the Trenton Fair, September 7 to 12.

Fair patrons will thrill at the deeds of the daring horsemen in the wild horse race, when the colorful, bronzed and clean-cut cowboys attempt to saddle and ride wild broncos as they dash from the corral gate. Few ride but many eat dust in this exciting event.

But when the "rannies" attempt to bull-dog and ride the wild Texas steers, the most dangerous and thrilling event of all, the dust does fly. The steers used are a cross between the Mexican longhorns and the sacred cattle of India. All efforts to subdue them have proved futile. So the Trenton Fair patrons are assured of an exciting time.

Night shows will be a prominent feature of the fair this year. Each night the management will present the Winter Garden Revue, the greatest musical show ever presented to an outdoor audience. Beautiful girls, clever musicians, colorful comedians, and beautiful scenery and costumes help make this the greatest masterpiece ever presented by the fair management.

Industrial Peace

The fact that throughout this protracted period of depression there have been so few strikes or labor disturbances of any kind as to be almost negligible, in striking contrast with other similar periods when life and bloodshed had occurred all over the country, is doubtless due to two things.

The first is the action of President Hoover at the very beginning of the depression in calling together representatives of labor and capital and securing from them an agreement that on the one hand wages should not be drastically reduced and on the other hand that no demands for increases would be made. These pledges have in the main been kept in absolute good faith and have had much to do with maintaining industrial peace.

Another factor in this critical situation has been the development in the Department of Labor of the policy of conciliation. As Secretary Doak said in a recent address: "The greatest factor for industrial peace is the conference table." The conciliation service of the Department of Labor is always on the job. Whenever any dispute between employer and employees cannot be settled by conference between those immediately concerned, the government's conciliator comes in, learns the grievances of each side and the aims for which each is contending. Then seeks to smooth uneven tempers and to bring about a meeting of minds. As a single illustration of the effectiveness of this method the Secretary reports that in the month of March of this year the good offices of the service were exercised in connection with 50 disputes affecting a total of 48,263 workers. All of these disputes were settled without a strike and without disturbances to business or industry, the general public not even learning that they ever had arisen.

It is certainly gratifying to note the progress that has been made in the maintenance of industrial peace through direct but unobtrusive governmental action.
