SCHOOL TO OPEN SEPTEMBER 9TH

Two New Men Teachers Start This Season; Many Minor Improvements Made

The Riverton Grammar School will open on Wednesday morning, September 10, at 9 o'clock. Superintendent Principal states that everything is in readiness for the opening.

Two new teachers, both men, will take their places in the school faculty this year. Mr. John E. Rank will teach mathematics and cover all subjects in both the seventh and eighth grades. Mr. Rank is a graduate of Bucknell University, class of 1928. He has had two years' experience in the Reading, Pa. Jr. High School.

Mr. George J. Eyth, a member of the Senior Physical Education Department at Temple University and a full member of the American Athletic Union, will be in charge of teaching physical training. In addition he will divide his time with Mr. Rank in supervising the boys' athletic team.

Miss Parker will teach the Kindergarten, Miss Justice the first grade and Miss Ewald a combination of the first and second grades. Miss Gardner, a combination of the second and third grades, and Miss Ewald will teach the

MOTOR FATALITIES LAST MONTH FOUR IN EXCESS JULY, 1930

Motor vehicle fatalities for the month of July, 1931, as reported by Rudduck, Joseph G. Seel, George J. Spencer, Albert N. Stewart, William H. Vogt, George N. Wimer and Clarence T. Yerkes.

To August 1, 1931, is 850 as against 625 for the comparable period of 1930. There were 120 fatalities in July of this year as against 116 for 1930.

During July, 1931, in addition to the motor vehicle accidents, three people lost their lives from accidental asphyxia from motor exhaust.

GUN - TOTING CHARGE

W. R. Williams, of near Moorestown, is in the Burlington county jail at Mount Holly, committed without bail at a hearing in Beverly on Monday on a charge of carrying concealed weapons.

Williams was arrested by Cooper, Herbert Lantierwald and Joseph Armano, of the Delaware State Police.

Buick Sedan Owned by C. M. Biddle Plunges Over Bank Into Delaware River

Last Thursday evening the large Buick sedan owned by C. M. Biddle

Cole and Edgar, of East Main street for several years.

The emergency brake was either left off or did not hold properly and the car coasted down the lawn and dropped over the stone wall, landing on all four wheels in water up to the radiator cap. Strangely enough the car narrowly missed two trees that would have saved the Biddle considerable trouble in retrieving the car.

Increased distribution of game birds in those sections of New Jersey where a scientific survey has shown they thrive the best has been planned by the Fish and Game Commission in its efforts to give the sportsman the biggest possible return for his license dollars. Under this new program southern counties next year will get 3,000 quail, the largest distribution ever attempted by the state, while the supply of ringneck pheasants will be increased in the northern counties.

PALMYRA SCHOOL TO OPEN TUESDAY

Many Improvements Completed At Both Properties During Vacation Period

Students returning to Palmyra school at the opening of the fall term next Tuesday will note many improvements in the buildings, grounds and equipment, made during the summer months.

In addition to changes in the school property itself, the school board and supervising principal have arranged a different course of studies in the high school and have supplied the pre-primar grades with kindergarten groups. This arrangement was made after an investigation by Prof. C. F. Deuler showed the work done by the children attending school for the first time was far in advance of what it should have been.

The arrangements for admission and the renovation work done in the kindergarten rooms in both buildings are noted by Prof. Deuler as follows:

In accordance with a resolution passed by the Palmyra Board of Education on May 28, 1931, real kindergarten, one in the High School building, for pupils on the north side of the railroad, and one in the Chalmers mission Avenue building for pupils on the south side of the railroad, are being established to take the place of the pre-primar classes of former years.

Must Be Five Years Old
"All children who are five years of age, or who will be five on or before December first, may be admitted during the first two weeks of the term, September 8 to 22, provided they present to the teachers in charge certificates of successful vaccination as well as birth certificates."

The kindergarten rooms in both buildings have been completely renovated. The walls have been painted, new floors have been laid, cabinets to be used in storing project materials have been installed, new window shades have been put up, some new furniture has been purchased to replace that which was not worth re-finishing, kindergarten equipment is being provided, and a drinking fountain as well as a toilet room is being installed in each.

(Signed) C. F. DEULER, Superintendent.
Considerable improvements have been made in the high school building. The greater part of this has been done in the domestic science room.

Following the unit plan, made by state authorities, there has been installed equipment sufficient to furnish five small kitchens, or units. Each unit contains a cabinet, gas range, sink and stove and is large enough to enable four girls to cook in that space. Wooden floors have been laid over the old cement flooring and an electric refrigerator is yet to be installed.

Classroom Divided
Room "A," formerly used as a large study hall, has been divided into two rooms. The partitioning of this hall now gives the high school thirteen class rooms on the two upper floors, not including the domestic science rooms, the mechanical drawing or manual training sections.

A room to be used by the boys' physical training director has been provided. This is located on the basement balcony at the head of the stairs leading to the gymnasium on the boys' side. Several improvements have also been made in the teachers' room on the top floor of the building.

With the building improvements at the Delaware avenue school has come the institution of a fourth course of study in the high school. In addition to the present curriculum will be a general course, providing a general all-round high school education without specialization in either commercial or college preparatory studies.

A general course had been in use for many years, but was discontinued about four years ago, leaving two college preparatory courses, the classical and scientific, and a commercial course the only ones offered.

With the additional course on the curriculum, changes have been made in the schedule previously followed by the students. Instead of nine periods daily, the new schedule provides for seven, and a long assembly program from 1:30 until 2:25 every Wednesday afternoon is expected to supplant the short assembly periods formerly held twice a week.

Only Seven Periods
Nine forty-minute periods in the daily high school schedule will give way to five 55-minute periods and two 45-minute periods. The shorter session will be used as lunch periods and exercises will be held in the home rooms for a short time each morning.

In the Spring Garden street and Chalmers avenue buildings the changes, with the exception of the kindergarten studies, have been in the building and grounds.

Decks and blackboards have been resurfaced, some new flooring has been laid, new shades have been hung, and the interior of the buildings have been painted throughout. The grounds have been graded, new soil has been provided for the sowing of grass seed, and extensive concrete curbing and paving work has been completed.

In an effort to give the citizens a chance to see the extensive alterations made in both schools, the Board of Education has made arrangements to have the schools open for inspection next Wednesday and Thursday. The buildings will be opened at 7:30 and plenty of time will be allowed the visitors to make a thorough inspection with time for a trip between the primary and the Delaware avenue schools.

GOV'T AG. STATION OPENS IN MEDFORD

Camp Ockanickon Scene of Forest Experimental Work of U. S.

The United States Department of Agriculture has opened a forest experiment station at Y.M.C.A. Camp Ockanickon, near Medford, which is one of the eleven similar stations now in operation throughout the United States.

The Y.M.C.A. station will have its headquarters in co-operation with the University of Pennsylvania, and has a director and staff of five trained foresters.

The work of the station will be entirely research in the growing of timber and logging practice. The territory covered by the station embraces Maryland, Delaware, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania.

At present there are 340 acres of the 530 acres owned by the Camp Ockanickon tract, being utilized for research work. The Ockanickon branch has conducted its efforts to three major activities, much experimental work being done on the construction of fire lines, although further work on this project is held up due to lack of funds.

Another project has been the planting of approximately 30 acres in various species of conifers, including over 8000 trees of five different species.

The station headquarters building has been erected on the Ockanickon camp site just off the Indian Mills road. Visitors are invited to witness the research work.

RUBBING ALCOHOL PUTS MT. HOLLY MAN IN JAIL

John Garon, of Paxon street, Mount Holly, was arrested Saturday by Officer Charles Hooper, on complaint of his wife, being charged with drunken and disorderly conduct. The wife claimed he had been drunk for the past five weeks. When arrested Garon had a pint bottle half full of rubbing alcohol, labeled "70 percent alcohol." He had been drinking from that bottle and last night he was in a bad condition at the county jail. He is charged with drunkenness and disorderly conduct. ## WAGE WAR ON WEEDS

By A. C. McLean
N. J. Agt Extension Service
Weeds are admittedly the worst enemies of the flower gardener. They compete with ornamentals for plant food and also harbor insects and diseases that so frequently ruin the gardeners' efforts.

This year, because of the abundance of rain, weeds have been making a luxuriant growth in New Jersey gardens. They have made it necessary for gardeners everywhere to work overtime with the hoe, to spend long hours pulling weeds by hand. In controlling weeds among cultivated plants we have no practical substitute for hand pulling or hoeing.

In removing weeds from fence rows, however, the gardener may win his fight with less laborious methods. He may destroy the weeds by burning them, using one of the fire-throwers that poultrymen use in disinfecting brooder houses, or he may resort to chemical weed destroyers.

Among these chemical agents one of the chlorates—either sodium, calcium, or magnesium—will probably be found most effective. These chemicals, which destroy weeds by absorption, have no permanently harmful effect on the soil, but after their use no growth of vegetation can be expected for two or three months.

Use only saturated solutions of the chlorates, which can be made up at the rate of 2 pounds of the chemical to 1 gallon of water. It is safer to use a mixture of sodium and calcium, or sodium and magnesium, than it is to use only the sodium, which is inflammable when dry.

In her divorce suit, Mrs. Maude Ober, of Springfield, Mass., testified that when she played the piano her husband abused her because, he said, the family cat had been dead only two weeks.

SUPER-HIGHWAYS NOT TO BE FOUND

Much Discussed Type of Road Far From Reality, Says Hoffman

By HAROLD G. HOFFMAN

State Commissioner of Motor Vehicles
Motorists must square their driving with the limitations of the highways over which they travel. The mere willingness on their part to look upon a fine wide Class A highway as a super-highway does not make it so. As a matter of fact the super-highway, while it is a much discussed type, is far from being an actuality in the United States.

There exists in New Jersey today a flimsy illustration of the results of this type of loose, illogical thinking on the part of many motorists. It is that involving Route 25 and 26 between Jersey City and Trenton. These have been referred to many times as super-highways. The designation is misleading. Route 25, for example, is an excellent highway—a fine thoroughfare of four lanes marked over most of its way. It is, however, a Class A road rather than a super-highway.

Motorists have referred to it by the latter designation so often that they have begun to see the road as free from any limitations as to speed and capacity. They have begun to attempt to drive accordingly with the result that the motor vehicle department and local agencies have had to move in the direction of applying a curb on the rampant misuse of the road.

For Reasonable High Speed
The design of this trans State highway is such that heavy traffic may move with safety along it at reasonably high speeds.

To achieve this end, however, requires intelligent thinking on the part of those using the route. This must begin with the realization that the laying of the highway has a specific meaning. The roadway should be obvious; namely, that the right lane is for normal driving, the center one on each side of the thoroughfare for passing.

Many drivers, with the super-highway definition in mind, apparently are under the impression that the center lane for slow speed vehicles while the center one a speedway with all limitations on pace removed.

No such division of highway width has been made nor even implied. The middle lane is strictly for passing and when traffic in the center lane is moving slowly, it is a nuisance to the driver behind it.

It is there to permit him to pass another vehicle, not to give him an avenue in which he may go at his own maximum speed.

Pictures Super Highways
When the super-highway arrives, as it undoubtedly will at a later date, it will be laid quite differently from the present Class A road. There will be several lanes, each restricted to vehicles whose owners desire to travel at a specific speed. In everyone's vision of the super-highway, this particular feature plays its part.

Super-highways, however, will have many more lanes than even the best of present day routes. It may very likely be that they will be one way roads with opposing traffic streams separated by a wide strip of park land instead of a narrow white line down the center of a forty-foot highway.

Dimensional definition of the super-highway is not made even by those who are real authorities on the subject. Highway engineers, preparing for the coming of such a development, are content to say that each individual project should be treated separately. Certainly they do not regard further widths of 30 to 40 feet as constituting a super-highway. Unfortunately, however, many motorists are content to say that each individual project should be treated separately. Certainly they do not regard further widths of 30 to 40 feet as constituting a super-highway. Unfortunately, however, many motorists

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

Wednesday Evening Testimonial Meeting, 8 p. m.
"MAN" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, September 6, 1931.

The Golden Text is: "Lo, this only have I found, that God hath made man upright" (Ecclesiastes 7:29). Among the citations which comprise the lesson sermon is the following from the Bible: "Then said Jesus unto them, Whosoever hath lifted up the Son of man, then shall ye know that I am he, and that I do nothing of myself, but as my Father hath taught me, I speak these things" (John 8:28).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Divine Science rolls back the clouds of error with the light of Truth, and lifts the curtain on man as never born and as never dying, but as consistent with his creator" (p. 557).

Arthur E. Stokes

Arthur E. Stokes, 77 years old, died very suddenly on Tuesday morning of last week at his home in Island Heights. He suffered a heart attack. Funeral services were held on Friday afternoon from the St. Philip's Episcopal Church, Island Heights. Mr. Stokes is survived by his wife, Mrs. Mary M. Stokes, three daughters, Mrs. Mary Wager, of Conshohocken, Pa.; Mrs. Adie S. Bolton, of Moorestown, and Miss Dorothy Stokes, of Germantown, and one son, Arthur Stokes, of Island Heights.

CARD, LAWN PARTY WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 23

Mrs. George Rivel, chairlady of the Welfare Committee of the Palmyra Women's Club, again takes an opportunity to remind all ladies in Palmyra, Riverton and vicinity of the lawn and card party to be held Wednesday afternoon, September 23.

The event will be held on the lawn of the home of Mrs. George DuBell, 828 Columbia avenue, Palmyra, and the proceeds will be turned over to the Welfare Department of the Club.

The party is being held not only for members of the club but for all the club's friends in this section. Reservations may be made through Mrs. George Rivel, Riverton 452, or any other member of the committee.

They are as follows: Mrs. Charles W. Davison, Mrs. Nathan S. Beckley, Mrs. Grover Fox, Mrs. M. J. McDermott, Mrs. Frank A. Snover, Mrs. H. E. Sanford, and Mrs. Richard E. Wilson.

The admission fee is fifty cents. Refreshments will be served and lovely prizes will be awarded the lucky card players.

Any ladies in the vicinity who do not play cards are urged to be present, as other forms of amusement have been planned for their benefit. The committee in charge insures a delightful afternoon for all who attend.

MOUNT HOLLY MAN ARRESTED FOR THEFT OF CO. BEER

Thomas C. Moore, Water street, Mount Holly, was arrested last week when two of the nine half-barrels of beer stolen from a county warehouse was found on a farm on the Rancocas road. The beer was part of 200 barrels recently seized from a conveyance by state police and is being stored in Marrett's garage, Mount Holly, as the courtroom cellar is filled with liquor.

County Detective Clinton Zeller and Sergeant Harry Cox, state police, alleged Moore was hiding the stolen beer on the farm of Howard Borrell.

BURLINGTON HUSBAND HELD AS WIFE BEATER

Charged with assault and battery, Alexander Herman, 101 Belmont street, Burlington, is being held under $500 bail for the Grand Jury. He was arrested Monday by Burlington Police Recorder J. Leonard Smith. Herman was arrested on the complaint of his wife, who alleged he struck her in the face during a family altercation at their home.

For the fifth time recently burglars invaded the home of G. C. Love, of Memphis.

PLAN CENSUS FOR SCHOOL STUDENTS

Palmyra Children Up To 18 Years of Age Will be Registered Under State Law

A school census, the first ever to be held in Palmyra, is planned by the Palmyra School Board for the near future.

Such a census includes the registration of all children up to eighteen years of age. By such a census the matter of checking up on the attendance of all children between the compulsory attendance ages of 6 and 16 will be greatly simplified.

In some places children are started on school at an age past that set by the state, without having any cause for the delay in entering. By such a check up the Palmyra authorities will be able to see if such a condition exists among resident persons. Such a census is duly authorized by the state. A law to that effect permits a registration of school children every five years. By recording the births of children in Palmyra and keeping a record of the children of families moving into the town, the initial census can be kept up to date with but little trouble.

Prof. C. F. Deuler, who is highly in favor of the project, says the registration of school children by such a census will be unnecessary every five years unless the population of the town would be greatly increased within the next few years.

The date for the census in Palmyra has not been set, the actual registration waiting until numerators have been appointed.

Charles Watson

Charles Watson, 71 years old, of Mount Laurel and Union Mill roads, Mount Laurel, died suddenly following a heart attack at his summer home on Fourth avenue, Seaside Park, at 5 o'clock Monday morning of last week.

The funeral was held Thursday afternoon from his late residence, with the Rev. Alfonso Dore, pastor of the Red Bank Methodist Church, officiating. Interment was made in Coolestown Cemetery.

Mr. Watson's farm is under consideration as the site for the American terminus for the trans-Atlantic Zeppelin service. He is well-known in this vicinity and his farm is one of the finest in South Jersey.

The deceased is survived by his widow, Eliza, and one son, William W. Watson, of Moorestown. He was an uncle of Mrs. C. J. MacDaniel, of Seaside Park, formerly of Moorestown.

Eight prisoners who saved their way out of confinement at the Franklin, Ky., reformatory left a note saying they did it to relieve overcrowded prison conditions.

PLANE TALKS

By I. A. H. LONGAKER
Founder, Burlington County Aero Club

The Burlington County Aero Club will stage an air carnival at the Moorestown Airport on Saturday and Sunday, September 19th and 20th. There will be something doing every minute, parachute jumps, races between members of the club, bonfire, dropping, etc. An effort is being made to have an Autogiro make demonstration flights on both days. Special rates will prevail for passenger flights.

The Landon Lines, operating between New York and Washington and Camden and Atlantic City just completed their first year of operation. During this period the lines carried 68,000 passengers safely. That is certainly a great record and once more answers your question, "Is flying safe?"

Victor Fritz, field director of the Philadelphia Model Airplane Association and a member of the Burlington County Aero Club, has returned from a two months' vacation in the West and has started to fly again at the Moorestown Airport.

People along the Jersey coast had a wonderful view of the DO-X, the world's largest flying boat, last Thursday morning as the winged boy way to New York. As we predicted the DO-X flew directly along the coast line and at such low altitude that the passengers could be seen very plainly at the portholes.

The second annual American Legion Air Meet will be held at the Philadelphia Airport on September 12 and 13. A very good program has been arranged and the meet promises to be very successful. Will we see you there?

FORCED LOAN DEMAND LANDS MAN IN JAIL

William Ware, of East Federal street, Burlington, is in the Burlington county jail at Mount Holly, committed to await the action of the grand jury, in default of $500 bail. He is charged with breaking and entering, and assault and battery, when arranged Saturday night before Burlington Police Recorder J. Leonard Smith Ware, an old offender, police say, was arrested by Patrolmen Ira Hauser and Clarence Bennett, of the Burlington force, on complaint of James Luthford, 48 Dewey street, who said the man had entered his home Tuesday night of last week, demanded money, and when refused, grabbed Luthford by the neck.

MUCH INTEREST IN FLOWER SHOW

Information About Event May Be Secured From Mrs.
Conrad Friday

Next Thursday and Friday, September 11 and 12, are the dates set for the annual flower show to be given by the Woman's Club, of Palmyra.

Many of the commercial as well as the amateur flower growers in this vicinity are taking a great deal of interest in the event, which is expected to be one of the best of its kind ever held in this section.

The members of the club again take this opportunity to invite lady and all amateur gardeners in Palmyra, Riverton or Cinnaminson to arrange their own displays and enter them in the show.

Ribbons will be awarded first, second and third prize winners. Anyone desiring further information concerning the show is asked to communicate with Mrs. Conrad Friday, chairlady of the committee in charge. Phone, Riverton 293-R.

FIRE AT PEMBERTON DESTROYS THREE BARN

Fire threatened part of Pemberton's business section early Saturday night when three small two-story barns in the rear of stores on Hanover street and in the midst of several frame buildings were destroyed. So intense was the fire that the American and Relief Fire companies, of Mount Holly, were called by the Pemberton chief to stand by in case the fire became uncontrollable. The barns belonged to H. Ney Ridgway, of Pemberton, and were insured except for the storage of automobiles.

Larry Chittenden, of Christmas Cove, Me., has a library of 4,000 books autographed by their authors.

Two men are in the Burlington County Hospital, at Mount Holly, injured in an automobile crash on the Columbus-Mount Holly road Sunday night. One of the men was injured while taking the other man to the hospital.

Howard Woodward, 40, of 138 East Broad street, Mount Holly, suffered a fractured right hip and cuts on the legs and body when his car collided with a truck owned by Samuel Joblonski, 39, of VanSickland street, Brooklyn.

Joblonski, who was uninjured, told Troopers George Acker and James Scotland, of the Columbus State Police barracks, that Woodward was asleep at the time of the crash. He said Woodward's body was slumped over the driving wheel of his car when it careened over the road and struck his truck.

A passing car was hailed to take Woodward to the hospital. Michael Strauss, of Brooklyn, stood on the running board of the speeding car and near Mount Holly fell to the road, suffering severe cuts on the face, head and shoulders.

Both Joblonski and Woodward will appear before Police Recorder Joseph C. Kinneen, at Mount Holly. Joblonski was fined $6 and costs by Kinneen Sunday night on a charge of driving with improper lights.

Glen Marx, a truckman of Columbus, owns a tame crow which imitates the bark of a dog and every afternoon at 4 o'clock cackles, water the cow.

LENOLA MOTHER HOME FROM TRIP

Gold Star Parent Has Returned After Pilgrimage To France

Mrs. Charles Kreps, of Center street, Lenola's gold star mother, returned home on Friday evening from a gold star mothers' pilgrimage to the battlefields of France.

Mrs. Kreps left for New York City on July 28, where she joined 100 other mothers and widows. They were entertained at the Hotel MacAlphine and escorted about the city before embarking on the trip.

The group sailed on the S. S. George Washington on July 29. The city of New York presented them with beautiful silk American flags, and while on board the ship, the captain presented each woman with a bronze medal bearing the crest of the gold star mother and the ship.

Members of the pilgrimage landed at Cherbourg, France, on August 6 and entrained immediately for Paris, where they were met by the official party with Major Ellis, in charge. At the Laurent Cafe, the gold star mothers were presented with red, white and blue silk bags filled with French soil taken from the battlefields.

The party was then divided and 63 of the women, including Mrs. Kreps, went to Verdun. From this point they visited the cemetery daily, and on buses were taken to all places of interest in that vicinity.

Following this trip, the group returned to Paris to join the remainder of the party. They sailed for home on the S. S. President Harding and landed early Friday morning at New York.

Since her 100th birthday, Mrs. Ann Stasell, of Mansfield, Eng., has had her first holiday, her first doctor's call, her first dose of medicine and sent her laundry out for the first time.

ROAD WORKER HURT

Struck by Truck

Charles Bellmon, 37, of 28 Beach street, Moorestown, was struck by a truck while repairing the street at Twenty-sixth and Federal streets, Camden, Monday. The truck was driven by Charles Dotts, 27, of 522 West Fifth street, Chester.

Bellmon was injured badly around the chest and arms, with possible concussion of the brain. He was taken to Cooper Hospital, in Camden.

MAN DIES INSTANTLY AS AUTO OVERTURNS IN RED LION CRASH

One man was killed and another was seriously injured late Friday when their automobile struck a telephone pole as the driver failed to make a turn in the road. The accident occurred on the Vincentown Red Lion road, near Red Lion.

The dead man was James Campbell, 43, of 615 Campbell avenue, Long Branch. He died instantly. W. S. Smith, 50, of Woodstown, driver of the car, was taken to the Burlington County Hospital, Mount Holly, in a critical condition. The two men were employed on the new State Highway Route 40 from Camden to Lakehurst.

Campbell was thrown from the car, which turned over and pinned him to the ground. Smith suffered cuts and bruises on the head and face.

MASONVILLE WOMAN WINS CONTEST HELD BY BURLINGTON DAILY

Mrs. Anna Meicer, wife of Jules Meicer, Masonville storekeeper, won first prize in the newspaper circulation contest staged by the Burlington Daily Enterprise.

The campaign, covering six weeks, closed Saturday evening. Mrs. Meicer turned in enough subscriptions to receive 68,421,000 votes, more than twenty-two million in excess of the number attained by her closest competitor.

Mrs. Meicer, who is spending the week at Seaside Heights, is to get $2,000 for the first prize. She also is slated to receive special prizes of $250 and $50, bringing her prize money up to $2,500.

A member of the family, when asked if Mrs. Meicer plans to use the prize money for a trip to Europe or something of the sort, replied: "We haven't decided to what use the money will be put. We are waiting until we receive it before deciding how it shall be spent."

SLOT MACHINE FOUND. FELLOWSHIP MAN HELD

Albert Lewis, of Fellowship, was held in $1000 bail for the Grand Jury Saturday night on charges of possession of gambling devices. Lewis was arrested earlier in the day when state troopers, while returning his son who had been caught in a farmer's watermelon patch, saw a slot machine and eight punchboards in the filling station operated by him.

'blue coal' HAS COME TO TOWN!

HAVE you seen that long line of railroad cars that has just reached town loaded with 'blue coal'?

They contain ton after ton of pure, clean, properly sized anthracite specially prepared to burn in your furnace. Not a new kind of coal, but a celebrated anthracite that for years has been the largest selling home fuel in America, now trade-marked with a harmless blue tint so that you can tell before you burn it that it is the kind of coal you want.

Now you can buy this important household necessity just as you buy other articles of recognized merit—and you can be sure that you are getting the best—it's blue because it's best!

Order a ton of 'blue coal' today—see for yourself why thousands of American homes insist upon it—see for yourself why one anthracite producer has the courage and pride to mark its product so that you can identify it! Protect your heating dollar—insist upon 'blue coal'. It costs no more than ordinary anthracite.

SHOULD THE COUNTY STORE LIQUOR?

One wonders why officials do not solve the problem created by the great quantity of seized liquor at the county seat by merely destroying it.

It is said that available storage space is filled to overflowing and that the county is being put to additional expense to provide new storage facilities and to guard the confiscated liquor.

Since most of this stuff has no legal status, why shouldn't the county save its money and dump the liquor into the nearest sewer.

ONE REASON WHY

One big reason why gangsters flourish can be deduced from the court records published this week of some of the men sought in connection with the Mickey Duffy murder.

Arrested time and again, throughout a long career of crime, these men were either freed or allowed to serve short sentences in crimes for which they should have been forced to spend so long a time behind the bars that they would not have had an opportunity to continue their misdeeds.

Had Duffy himself served the time he should have for the various crimes of which he was convicted, he would never have had freedom enough to develop the widespread "racket" and commit the additional crimes which have been laid at his door.

Magistrates, judges, juries and crooked lawyers have allowed Mickey Duffy and his kind to flourish by not inflicting the penalties provided by law.

NEWSPAPER TALK

When one reads an unusual news story about somebody who proposes to perform an unheard-of feat, the item is often viewed with skepticism, and dismissed with a shrug of the shoulders as being "only newspaper talk." And more often than not that is all that it amounts to.

Files of daily newspapers of February 5, 1927, contained such an item, which it is interesting to read again, in view of what really happened later. It is an Associated Press dispatch from St. Louis, in part as follows:

"A St. Louis to Paris airplane flight for the $25,000 Orteig prize is under contemplation by Captain Charles A. Lindbergh, chief pilot on the St. Louis-Chicago air mail route. Captain Lindbergh proposes to go alone, using a small plane. The flight to New York would be made in one day. The second leg of the trip, 3,200 miles, Lindbergh believes he can make in 32 hours."

Three and a half months later that dispatch was verified except that it took the flyer an hour and a half longer than he had estimated. This made more "newspaper talk," and Lindy is still making it.

BETTER GET MARRIED

If statistics compiled by Dr. William F. Ogburn, of the University of Chicago, are to be accepted as accurate, those to desire to retain wealth, sanity, and even life itself, should get married if they are not already that way.

He declares that most of the inmates of poor-houses and insane asylums are unmarried; also that the death rate for single men and widowers is twice as high as that for married men.

It has often been asserted that married men live longer, but a cynic once declared that this was not literally true, as "it only seemed longer." However, Dr. Ogburn's researches seem to bear out the idea that married life is really conducive to longevity.

To be on the safe side, therefore, a young fellow had better get married; provided, of course, he can find someone who is willing to assume the role of party of the second part.

DEVIL TURNED SAINT

Thirty years ago, when the Standard Oil Company was considered an outstanding menace, John D. Rockefeller was probably the most hated man in America.

That the methods employed by him in building up his great fortune were often ruthless and against the public interest in those days can hardly be denied.

Today, this same man, now aged, finds himself beloved almost as cordially as he was formerly hated. In the meantime he has given away more than five hundred and fifty million dollars for the benefit of mankind.

His benefactions touch the health and life of every person in the civilized world, and many who are still in a semi-civilized state. Largely through his gifts in aid of scientific research yellow fever, which annually took toll of thousands, has been practically banished.

eat." And they mean it. You can have five portions of ice cream, two orders of roast beef and so on. No limit.

One manager told me few people took advantage of the special price. Only a few, and they grow ashamed of themselves after about two trips and order only a little more than normally.

The restaurants explain that they are only passing on the lowered prices of foodstuffs to their customers.

POCKET MONEY.

Few millionaires carry much cash in their pockets these days. Hold-up men know this and never bother them, except when they are returning with their womenfolk from the opera or theatre. Then they can be sure of a haul in jewelry.

One millionaire told me it was a general custom with all rich men. They are so well known all over town that they have no trouble cashing checks for enough to pay their dinner check. All they need is enough money to tip door-openers and hat-check girls with, less than $5 in silver. Waiters' tips are marked on the dinner check.

The average wealthy man can go a week in this city on $10 in currency in his pockets. It's only the newly rich, gamblers and politicians who carry around rolls of bills big enough to choke a horse.

WAY OF LIFE

BY

GOOD NEWS

Last summer I went to a white church in a New England town. The preacher for the day was a famous man from a big city, who happened to have a summer home nearby.

The church was only about one-tenth filled. Even this famous name was not enough to pull people away from the cool woods and beaches.

When the preacher arose to announce his text, I thought: "Now we'll catch it. We shall be told that these empty pews mean that the world is going to the dogs. We shall hear a half-hour of lament about human wickedness. We few, who have come to church, shall be crucified for the sins of those who have stayed away."

I have listened to many church sermons and I am sick of them. But I was due for a pleasant surprise. He announced a text from Paul's letter to the Corinthians. He explained that in this passage Paul was really making a plea for a generous collection from the Corinthians and Mrs. Herman Nather, aged 70 for the struggling churches elsewhere.

He had an ulterior motive, but that married at Ridgebury, N. Y.

does not change the fact that the whole chapter is full of praise for the Corinthians.

Having told them how kind they were, how courageous, how faithful, Paul concluded by saying, in effect: "Since you have all these many good qualities, I ask you to have also this grace which was in Christ Jesus, who being rich became poor for our sakes."

In other words, you are great folks; come on, now, and be generous also. The preacher then proceeded to tell us what a grand thing it is to belong to the human race—how good people are, how courteous to each other, how brave under their sufferings, how hopeful in the face of inscrutable fate.

He said that God created men and women because He wanted companions, and that He was pleased with His creation.

He made us all proud of our humanity, and sent us out more cheerful and better able to fight the week. I wondered why there are not more such sermons.

Jesus did very little denouncing and hardly any "reviving with alarm." He came with a joyous message.

"You are sons of God," He said, "destined for eternal happiness."

He liked that sort of talk. They called it "gospel," which is to say, "good news."

TO CRITICS

By Walter Learned

When I was seventeen I heard From each censorious tongue, "I'd not do that if I were you; You see you're rather young."

Now that I number forty years, I'm quite as often told Of this or that I shouldn't do. Because I'm quite too old.

O carping world! If there's an age Where youth and manhood keep An equal poise, alas! I must Have passed it in my sleep.

Physicians said Mrs. Mildred Marston of Glendale, Cal., had only one year to live, so a district court at Portland, Me., invoked an old law and excused her from being arraigned on a charge of drunken driving.

After a 23-year divorce period, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Nather, aged 70 and 68 years respectively, have been married at Ridgebury, N. Y.

CUBA

We have learned a few things about Cuba and the Cuban people since we went to war with Spain, 33 years ago, to set Cuba free. The Cuban people are about as badly off under self-government, so-called, as they were under Weyler. When sugar and tobacco sell at high prices they are happy; when these commodities are cheap, there is revolution. We gave them political freedom but we did not give them the more important economic freedom.

Nobody today wants to annex Cuba to the United States, least of all the American speculators, who have built race-tracks, hotels and gambling houses there to attract Americans who want to carouse and waste their money. Under American rule Cuba would have to be officially "dry," and that would start another revolution.

ICE

Greenland the latest scientific explorers tell us, is a great bowl of ice several thousand feet deep, surrounded by high mountains. This ice has been gradually melting since the last Ice Age, some 20,000 years ago. As it melts, the land below it will rise and the tropical vegetation which once flourished near the North Pole, and of which traces are still found, will grow there again.

By that time all of the white races of man will have moved much farther North than they live now. Then will come another Ice Age and population will be driven back toward the Equator. That is what has happened at least three times in the earth's recent history, and there is no reason to doubt it will happen again. Explorers from the universities of Nova Zembla and Spitzbergen will find traces of human handiwork in the tropical jungle growing where Chicago now stands, and will wonder what gods these primitive people worshipped.

AGE

I got a bill the other day from the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, where I vote, for $1, with the information that this was my annual "Old Age Assistance" tax. It seems to me like a good way of creating a fund for the care of aged persons. The direct tax which every individual has to pay has the effect of bringing government and its activities more closely to the attention of everybody who pays it. Massachusetts voters are going to watch the Old Age Assistance program more closely than they would if it were levied by a matter of paying for this sort of relief out of the general funds.

BRAINS

Reading Mrs. Mary Roberts Rinehart's fascinating autobiography, "My Story," I was struck by one phrase she uses, "the physical lethargy of the brain worker." I have never known a great athlete who was at the same time a great thinker, nor a person with a creative mind who excelled in any form of sport. The two attributes do not go together.

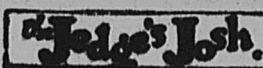

Charles F. Steinmetz, perhaps the greatest scientific mind we have ever known in America, was a tubercular hunchback. Einstein gets his exercise by playing the violin! Edison, mentally keen at 84, never took any form of exercise in his life. Charles Dickens died comparatively young because of his notion that he could keep his brain in condition by vigorous daily physical exertion. Persons of average ability can combine physical development with enough mental development to "get by" in their jobs. But the person who would excel in either field must concentrate solely on the one or the other. Perhaps, the best method is Mrs. Rinehart's own. She drops all mental work for living and riding in the open until her bodily vigor is restored, then returning to her writing.

TAXES

The Government deficit and the question of how we are to pay for the great public works program inaugurated largely to provide employment, have combined to revive interest in the subject of taxation. Two major proposals are being strongly advocated. One is an increase in inheritance taxes, the other a general sales tax. We have sales taxes now, Federal and State, on automobile sales, on gasoline, on theatre tickets, above a certain price, on stocks, on cosmetics, cigars and cigarettes and many other commodities. Why not extend the principle to everything anybody buys? Inheritance taxes are low, especially on large estates. Inheritance is a privilege bestowed by law, not an inherent human right. Who would be injured by a law which provided that nobody might inherit more than a million dollars, or enough to care for a dependent widow and children comfortably?

I fully expect to see much higher inheritance taxes and a more widely spread system of sales taxes generally adopted before many years.

DOWN THE HOME STRETCH

The harness and running races will be held at the Trenton Fair this year from Monday to Thursday, September 7th to the 10th. A series of $1,000 stake events has attracted a large number of grand and other leading major circuit drivers and horses and the visitors are assured of entertainment above the average.

On Friday, September 11, crack steeplechase riders will compete in a series of races. This day has been set aside for steeplechase and running events alone. Five races will be run under the rules of the National Steeplechase and Hunt Association, including the Kuser Memorial Plate, and the Colonel Edward C. Rose Plate, both of the turf track and over the jumps. A running race known as the Colonel Arthur F. Foran Stakes will also furnish excitement for the amateur racing enthusiast.

Members of the leading steeplechase and hunt clubs in New Jersey and Pennsylvania will compete in the events. Harness racing will be conducted under National Trapping Association rules and steeplechase events under the rules laid down by the National Steeplechase and Hunt Association.

MAIN STREET LOOKS AT BROADWAY BY ERNEST CAMP JR.

STREET COMEDIANS

Many of the sandwich men along Broadway add a touch of comedy to their advertising stunt. One of the best is a young fellow on stilts, whose bill that is twelve feet in the clouds.

He always has a crowd watching him and reading the ad he carries. The other day I saw him cross Thirty-fifth Street against traffic. Nearly over, he tripped. He just caught himself, but he made the crowd gasp.

WHAT? AGAIN!

I saw him again today. He was crossing Fortieth Street against traffic. Nearly over, he tripped. He just caught himself. Just then I caught his eye and winked at him. He merely grinned. It was an admission that it was a stunt, and a mighty good one. One that hardened New Yorkers eat up.

A FADED FLOWER

Years ago a certain pretty girl was the toast of Broadway. She was a reigning beauty on the stage.

The other day I passed a hair-dresser on Fifth Avenue. In a frame were pictures of women who had dyed their grey hair with their testimonial letters. Her picture, as beautiful as ever, was in the center of the lay-out.

Just one more of the many heart-twinges that come at nearly every corner in this big town.

A TIP ON EATING

Rural visitors to this city need not fear being forced to pay out too much for eating. One can get meals from thirty cents up.

All restaurants carry cards on their windows showing their prices and people here, if they don't know the place, stop and read the bill before entering. It tells them exactly how much they can get out for.

CHAIN RESTAURANTS.

There are about a dozen chains of restaurants in New York all with the same varying scale of prices. When you have eaten in one you know what it costs to eat in any of them. Lots of people just pick out one of the chains and stick to it. It saves the risk of being charged too much.

One of the chains has set a flat charge of sixty cents for "all you can

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Stockwell and baby daughter returned home Saturday.

STATE DIGNITARIES ON PARADE

Representatives of New Jersey in the United States Senate and the Executive Office, in addition to high State officials, candidates for public office, county and municipal officials from all parts of the State, each year attend the Trenton Fair to witness the growth of the State through the numerous exhibits sponsored by the United States Government, the various State Departments, the State Grange, the 4-H Clubs, and other organizations.

The above photo taken at the Fair Grounds last year shows Governor Morgan F. Larson, United States Senator Hamilton F. Kraus, former United States Senator David Baird, Jr., Republican candidate for Governor this year, and members of the Governor's staff, being escorted through the grounds by Col. Mahlon B. Margerum, secretary, and J. Fred Margerum, general manager, of the fair association.

Statewide in its scope, the Trenton Fair each year portrays the advancement recorded in all phases of New Jersey farm life, commerce, manufacture, and the advantages of residing in this State. The Trenton Fair this year will open on Labor Day and continue through the entire week from September 7th to the 12th inclusive.

Because of the approaching gubernatorial election, the Trenton Fair this year promises to be the mecca for politicians. Both Mr. Baird and his opponent, former Governor A. Harry Moore, Democratic candidate for Governor, have accepted invitations to be among the thousands present. Both will be accorded the privilege of speaking to the fair visitors through the loud speaking system installed in the comfortable grand stands.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Hubbs and son, William, returned home last Friday from Swiftwater, in the Poconos, where they enjoyed a month's vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. William F. Overman, of East Maple avenue, are leaving this week for Pocono Manor, where they will remain until after Labor Day.

Frank Atkinson has returned to his home on South Washington avenue from the Rodney Boy Scout Camp, on the Chesapeake Bay, where he has been a counselor for the past two months.

Mr. Roy Conrow is spending some time in Boston, Mass., where Mr. Conrow is located for several weeks with a construction company.

ARTIFICIAL LIGHTS SPEED HEN'S SUFFER-FALL LAY

The maintenance of egg production at a 50 per cent level in late summer is less difficult when fowls are fed under artificial lights, according to reports received from poultrymen in many sections of New Jersey. Turning the lights at 3 a. m., beginning about August 1, when a normal drop in egg production can be expected, advises Prof. C. S. Platt, associate poultry husbandman of the New Jersey Agricultural Experiment Station. This will enable the birds to begin feeding while it is still cool and heavy food consumption, necessary to high egg production, will result.

R. D. Wood at Florence; Riverside at Vincennes.

Moorestown Quakers were handed a severe lesson by the Medford Olympics in the game played at Moorestown last Saturday afternoon. With Eddie Hanson hurling shut-out ball, the visiting team scored ten runs and advanced a half game in the league standing.

During the eight frames in which Hanson tossed, the Moorestown batters were unable to do anything with Crane, who hurled the final session for the Olympics.

The Quakers could only garner five blows off the combined pitching of Hanson and Crane, while the Olympics, first-hand champions, rapped both Richman and Doc Conroy for 10 whiffs, two of which were extra-base hits by "Jew" Reiger and Frank "Buz" Sheridan.

Sheridan and Bill Garrison led the attack for Medford, the former getting a triple and a single and the latter a pair of one-base blows. Reiger turned in a double. Joe Bartello led the Quakers in hitting with a brace of singles.

Medford lost no time in putting the game on ice, scoring three times in the first session and two more in the second. Four more runs were puttered in the fifth and the final marker in the seventh.

PAUL BURKE IS HIGH SCORER AT BOWLING ALLEYS DURING WEEK

Scores have soared since the opening of the Palmyra Bowling Alleys two weeks ago.
Paul Burke, winner of the $3 prize last week for the three consecutive high game total of 627 plus, set a mark which exceeded the similar mark for the same period last year.
Frank Lloyd, with a total of 621, was at the top of the heap until late last week when Burke won the first prize money. Lloyd's efforts were rewarded with a $2 prize.
The bowlers who have rolled on the Palmyra alleys since they have been refinished this summer are unanimous in declaring that the alleys are "faster" than last season. The hook-ball rollers have found this to be an advantage in their bowling after they once become accustomed to the renovated alleys.

"Vin" Hackett Annexes Two of Four Silver Tennis Trophies

Councilman J. Elmer Hahn Presents Cups To Winners At Conclusion of Men's Singles Match At Memorial Park Tennis Court

The battle is over. The Memorial Park tennis champions have been declared. Vincent Hackett, 18 year old Riverton Preparatory School student, probably played the most colorful and unquestionably the most successful tennis of all the thirty contestants. This is evidenced by his annexation of two of the four silver trophies offered in the match. In both the men's singles and the men's doubles, he worked his way to the foreground to win.

His path to the coveted trophies was by no means one of roses. Competition was keen, and many of his adversaries kept "Vin" on the jump. George Lathbury, the East Riverton terror, with his smashing serve and speedy drive, was no "set up" Lathbury took the first set from "Vin" with a score of 6 to 3 but "Vin" rallied and took the next necessary two games 6 to 3, 6 to 3. This victory only led him into "Dick" Woodward, another dumbering block in the local tennis line up. "Dick," despite his age and weight, plays a mean game of tennis and Hackett found plenty of trouble in Woodward. Hackett took the first set in this match 6 to 3. Woodward, however, had worked up a little momentum and excited "Vin" over in the next set 8 to 6. Again Hackett collected himself and came through for the deciding set with a score of 6 to 4. This victory placing "Vin" in the final position.

While all this was going on, "Jack" Metzgar, the Seventh street wonder, was edging his way to the fore through the process of elimination. When "Jack" swings his racket, he cuts the ball like a Sunday driver cuts corners and the ball stays cut. The game is probably the most baffling of any player on the court. Jack's game throughout the tournament, however, was good and he deserves lots of credit for his playing. Metzgar jumped two rounds ahead through the defeat of Hemphill and Hackett and came into a clutch with Hene Gros in the semi-finals. It was a pitched battle and Gros and Metzgar saw-sawed back and forth till Metzgar finally came out on top with a score of 6 to 3, 6 to 6 and 6 to 4.

That brought the two gladiators, Hackett and Metzgar, together for the Park championship match. Last Saturday afternoon, with the weather threatening, they clashed. With racquets describing queer ellipses in the air, the balls making many revolutions per minute in flight, and the two contestants racing back and forth over the gravel the game was on.

Metzgar, with that peculiar technique all his own, was cutting the ball for all it was worth. Hackett, with the subtlety of a diplomat, carefully measured his shots and executed them in excellent fashion, at times giving Metzgar some of his own medicine by returning with a cut ball. Both boys were well matched and it was anyone's bet till the last served ball. First Metzgar would be ahead then Hackett would pull through, while the 20 or more spectators went wild with excitement.

The first set Hackett took with a score of 6 to 4. Metzgar began to tighten up, however, and Hackett was forced to 8 games to 6 to win the

WHITE WAY BOWS IN PITCHERS' DUEL

Catholic Club Holds 2 to 1 Edge Over Atco Nine

Moorestown Catholic Club defeated the White Way baseball team on Sunday, on the Atco diamond by the score of 2 to 1.

The game developed into a keen pitching duel between Frank Bolton and K. Watson, with Bolton having the edge. He held the home team to four scattered hits.

White Way scored the first run of the game in the second inning. Moorestown then evicted the score in the fourth on Joe Bartello's triple and Reagan's single.

The score remained deadlocked until the ninth, when the Catholic boys slipped across the winning run, due to some smart base running by Ackerly, who scored from second on Ed Bolton's bunt down the first base line.

COLLINGS CO. GETS PALMYRA BONDS

Borough Council Receives Sealed Bids From Three Philadelphia Concerns

At a special meeting held last Thursday evening, Palmyra Borough Council awarded the sale of $37,500 borough bonds.

The sale included $30,000 of general improvement bonds and $7,500 of sewer improvement bonds. The issuance of both sets of certificates was made to finance the street paving program carried out last fall. At that time Morgan, Linden and a part of Highland avenues were resurfaced after residents of those streets had petitioned that such action be taken.

Bidding for the certificates was not so keen as might be expected, only three companies tending representatives to the meeting. C. C. Collings & Co., M. M. Freeman & Co. and H. W. Waples & Co., investment houses of Philadelphia, were the only ones to bid for the sale of the bonds.

C. C. Collings & Co. were successful in the bidding for both issues, automatically getting the bid for the $30,000 bonds. The rate of interest for this amount was also quoted at 4 1/2 per cent.

The other bids were made at $30,000, by H. W. Waples & Co. and $30,000, submitted by M. M. Freeman. The bids for this issue were also made at a five per cent interest rate.

The successful bidding of the Collings company makes them the holders of more than $100,000 of borough certificates. The Philadelphia concern purchased $55,000 of bonds in February.

TOMATOES FROM NEW JERSEY APPEAR IN EASTERN MARKETS

New Jersey tomatoes are now appearing in eastern markets in good quantity, according to produce market information issued by the State Department of Agriculture. Last week the market for them in New York was one of quality, with fancy tomatoes selling well, but ordinary ones and culls selling at lower prices than during the previous week. Earliest tomatoes brought from $1.50 to $1.75 per 20-quart crate, while fancy Marglobe were mostly $2.00 to $2.50 in price. There is still some southern stock arriving from Tennessee, but most of the tomatoes were ordinary in quality and the market was weak.

CAMP COOK MUST PLAN FOR VARIETY

WHETHER you pitch your tent under the stars or camp on the shore of a lake, you must plan for variety in your menu. The typical camper can do better than he thinks. He can make a variety of meals that will not be tedious.

If you camp along a stream, fish he comes a daily dish. And, remember, the typical camper can do better than he thinks. He can make a variety of meals that will not be tedious.

It is always the responsibility of one person to provide enough food and to plan variety. To show how easy it is to make a variety of meals, the camping trip. Make your list and calculate your needs before you begin to stock the camp's commissary department. It is an easy matter these days with the great variety of canned foods that can be carried anywhere and kept in perfect condition. Vegetables, fruits, milk, confections all come in a can.

Perhaps you are one who must have your glass of milk three times a day, then you should plan your order for several extra cans of evaporated milk. - which is the camper's standby for wholesome and pure milk. It is indispensable to the camper who sits under the star-dotted heavens and occasionally wishes for the chocolate milk shakes dispensed at his neighborhood corner drug store. It is not an impossible wish, because you can make a food chocolate milk shake miles and miles up in the mountains as your soda fountain boy can back home.

Chocolate Milk Shake

2 cups evaporated milk
3 cups water
Evaporated milk and water should be ice cold. Put all the ingredients into a glass fruit jar or a cocktail shaker and shake vigorously or whisk with an egg beater in a mixing bowl. Serves six.

VERY LATESTS BY MARY MARSHALL

Here is the new chiffon evening scarf that is rather mysterious the first time you see it worn—but extremely simple once you see it unfolded. You see, it consists of a square made of three strips of chiffon in three tones of the same color or in three different colors and when it is folded over diagonally there is a charming blending of tones.

The colors you choose for your scarf will depend on the color of the dress with which you wish to wear it. With a white or black combination you will find a combination of black, white and gray chiffon charming. With pink and rose, you might choose pale pink, light rose and deep rose, with a green dress, three shades of green. Or to wear with a figured chiffon dress, choose three shades of chiffon in three tones shown in the print.

The finished scarf is about one yard square. To each of your three strips should be one yard long and twelve inches wide. The three strips should be joined in a narrow French seam or French fold and the edges are finished with a fine rolled hem. You will probably have to buy a yard of chiffon of each color, so you can make three of these smart scarves from the material that you will need to buy for one. That means one scarf for yourself and two to use for gifts.

When the scarf is worn it should be folded diagonally from one corner to the opposite corner, draped around the shoulders and tied in a loose knot. To wear with a daytime dress you might make the scarf a trifle smaller of 2 1/2 yds. in each of the three contrasting tones, such as egg-shell, brown and orange, or red, black and orange.

OYSTERS

Combine celery with oysters for a salad course for Sunday night supper or a special luncheon. Fry half a dozen large oysters, rolled in cracker bread or bread crumbs in a small tablespoon of butter and set them away to cool. Rub the salad bowl with a raw onion, cut the oysters into small pieces and mix with six heaping tablespoons of celery. Make a dressing from a quarter of a cup of sour cream whipped to a froth, the yolk of an egg and a pinch of salt, paprika, mustard and sugar, and one tablespoon of oil. Add the cream of the last thing, and it is not sufficiently tart add a little lemon juice.

FRITTERS

Send two dozen large oysters in their own liquor. Then chop them finely and mix with a cup of the liquor which has been drained off and passed through a cheesecloth. Heat to the scalding point. Stir in two tablespoons of flour and one tablespoon of butter which have been mixed previously into a smooth paste. Cook until thick and smooth, add salt and pepper to taste, the beaten yolks of two eggs and a little minced parsley. Turn out on a buttered platter and set away until cold and firm. Cut fat lard into very thin slices and wrap around a cylinder of the oyster mixture. Dip into the batter given below and fry in hot fat.

Beat the yolks of two eggs and add half a cup of ice water, a tablespoon of olive oil and a can of flour. Season with a saltspoon of salt, bread hard, stir in the stiffly whipped whites of the eggs and keep in the ice box until wanted.

TOMATO KETCHUP

Six quart tomatoes, one-half cup brown sugar, three tablespoons salt, one and one-half tablespoons black pepper, one-half tablespoon cloves, two tablespoons cinnamon, one tablespoon allspice, one and one-quarter cups vinegar.

Remove stems from tomatoes and cut into small pieces. Put all ingredients together in kettle and allow to simmer slowly until cooked down to one-half. This will take about four hours. Stir occasionally to keep from sticking. Strain and pour into sterilized jars and seal.

ORANGE AND PRUNE SALAD

Mix thoroughly the following ingredients. Strain a dozen large prunes until they are soft, seed and remove the pits. Cut the oranges in two and mix with an equal quantity

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

An active mind must have exercise in order to last long and prove the utmost in efficiency. Nothing endures long if allowed to rust, mold or decay.

I have seen many men to whom mental idleness was a deadly bore. You've found it that way, haven't you? Wholesome activity is one of the best things, positively beneficial to the intellectual human being.

Even the eye is said to require systematic exercise, if the owner is to preserve good eyesight far into life's arctic regions. Men who are peering up in big cities rarely employ the eyes to see over a few blocks; they become accustomed to short distances and the print. Hence the army of spectacle-wearers, most of them intellectuals. The aged resident of the great open spaces often does not need glasses at three score and ten.

Wholesome exercise for the eye? Intellectual is never more than fifty per cent normal often much lower. We are sinking into a race of intellectuals, at the price of rugged, vigorous health.

But, be sure to get this. EXERCISE IS NOT TORTURE. No man gives his eyes exercise, reading diminutive, blurred type with the over-stuffed publications held eight inches from his face, often with a poor light. He inflicts punishment of the most dangerous kind.

It is the same of the mind. To overwork the mental faculties is almost as fatal to them as profound laziness. Idleness, I shudder for the fool who races his mind day and of orange pulp. Serve on lettuce leaves with French dressing.

TURNING TO THE GENTILES
Acts 13:42-52; Romans 1:14-16
Rev. Samuel D. Price, D. D.

Genuinely good people can have a difference of opinion. An argument that will always remain a part of history occurred over John Mark at Perga in Pamphylia. At that point it became necessary for Paul and Barnabas to proceed into the interior and the hands man of the evangelistic party decided to go with them.

Perilous times awaited the determined evangelists as they went forward on this first missionary journey. Many Jewish settlements had been made in Asia Minor owing to a system of colonization developed by Antiochus Epiphanes. A synagogue was usually found in Antioch of Pisidia. There were no less than 10 Antiochs founded by Seleucus Nikator and named after his father Antiochus. We need distinguish only between those in Pisidia and Syria. Marked attention was given to the address of Paul on that first Sabbath. Many begged that the visitors tarry with them and repeat the teachings about Jesus Christ being the Messiah on the following Sabbath. This was done and the entire chapter 13 should be read with care for all the details.

BUSY SEASON FOR RIVERTON SCOUTS

Interesting, Extensive Autumn Program Mapped Out For Growing Troop

So many and so extensive are the plans for the Riverton Scouts for the coming autumn that a whole newspaper would be needed if they were to be told in detail.

The big plans were formulated at a meeting of troop officers held on August 19. A brief outline of these plans is as follows:

The first meeting of the new Scout year will be held Friday evening, September 25.

On Monday evening, September 28, there will be a joint meeting of the troop committee and the Dads Association to perfect plans for the organization of a Riverton Scouting Association to be made up of older men who are interested in forwarding the Boy Scout program.

On Friday evening, October 2, there will be a most interesting and musical meeting at Scout headquarters. To this meeting no Scouts will be admitted, only boys who are not Scouts. This meeting is going to be an opportunity to many Riverton boys to learn what Scouting means and to learn what fun it is to be a Scout. No boy who attends this meeting will be under any obligation to become a Scout, but it is a promise that the program will be so interesting that the boys who attend will have a very hard time resisting the call of Scouting.

Regular troop meetings will be held thereafter every Friday night as usual. On Saturday and Sunday evenings, from 7 to 9, there will be a weekly hike, the much heralded "Mystery Hike" which has been the subject of comment for some months. The Dads Association is invited. No body knows where the troop is to go except those in charge of the hike and the hike will tell. Sleeping comfort is guaranteed, however.

To Dedicate Headquarters

On Saturday, October 23, there will be held one of the biggest events of the Scout year, namely the dedication of the new troop headquarters. In the afternoon an invitation inter-troop contest will be staged. After the contest, participating troops will cook their own suppers. In the evening will come the big dedication and it is hoped that the presentation of the Riverton trophy to the winning troop will be made by Dad Howard. Dad Howard is known and loved by boys everywhere.

The Riverton trophy is to be awarded by business men of Riverton and the contest the first year will be held by troops of Burlington, Camden, Philadelphia and Delmont councils. At the end of the year the winning troop will surrender the trophy to the Burlington county council and the trophy will be thereafter used in Burlington county contests.

The troop is now being re-registered for the new year. Only Scouts who are fully paid up on back dues in dues will be subsequently registered upon paying the registration fee. The troop organization of officers is now complete. The troop committee is the same as last year, namely, the Rev. Arthur Lewis, chairman, William Shoemaker, Jr., Howard Cor and John L. Follett. Mr. Cor is also acting chairman of the Riverton Scouting Association. Mr. Follett is in charge of the troop publicity.

Troop Officers

The troop officers are as follows: A. B. Garwood, Scoutmaster; W. Deff Washington, W. W. Cook, E. E. Windover, assistant Scoutmasters; E. E. Kinous, assistant Scoutmaster; and skipper of the Sea Scout patrol: William Shoemaker, 3rd; Jefferson Edwards and Patton Kinsey, junior assistant Scoutmasters; Scouts Edward Hunt and Henry Neisley, senior patrol leaders; Mr. Shoemaker is troop finance officer; Mr. Edwards, troop scribe; and Mr. Kinsey, troop quartermaster.

The Sea Scout patrol is also organized. The Riverton Sea Scout ship is the "Choctaw". The crew is made up of seven Sea Scouts, all former members of the Riverton troop. These older boys have been duly registered as charter members of the new Sea Scout patrol. Skipper Kapus and his Sea Scouts have been given full use of the small room to the left of the Crematorium at troop headquarters for "Choctaw" headquarters. No land Scouts at all are permitted in this room without orders from a commissioned officer.

This article tells only a part of the big plans for the troop. The troop is not only on the way, but it is speedily getting somewhere. It is urged that the parents and friends of the troop rally round to help the fathers by joining the Dads Association, and the other friends of the troop by contributing to the troop any and every table or chair that might be used by the troop in the new headquarters. It doesn't matter how old or how worn out the furniture is because Boy Scouts are craftmen enough to put it back on its feet.

MR. AND MRS. GITHENS HOME FROM AIR MEET

Moorestown Couple Witness National Races In Cleveland, Ohio, All Last Week

Mr. and Mrs. Paul H. Githens returned to their home on West Main street, Moorestown, on Monday night, from a thousand mile trip to Cleveland, Ohio, where they witnessed the national air races last week.

They also visited Akron, Ohio, to see the new giant dirigible, U. S. S. Akron.

The air races were held from August 29 to Labor Day. Planes from all parts of the United States and from England, France, Poland, Germany, Czechoslovakia and Canada participated.

Mr. and Mrs. Githens left Moorestown by motor on Tuesday of last week.

RELIEF ACTION IS STARTED IN STATE

Conference Called By Governor Larson To Alleviate Unemployment

Wheels have been set in motion to alleviate unemployment distress in New Jersey.

Governor Morgan F. Larson has called a conference of representatives of the various state departments, of counties and municipalities, to discuss the different aspects of the problem. His action was predicated to a considerable extent on the basis of a survey conducted by David Baird, Jr., together with a number of other citizens to ascertain the most efficient and effective manner to cope with the situation.

Present plans call for the coordination of the relief efforts of all departments of the state with county and municipal officials. In this way, the drifters of the relief proposals believe situations peculiar to various localities will be handled more effectively and expeditiously than if a purely state agency was set up to superintend the work over the state.

The municipal, county and state agencies, under the plan, will be coordinated by a state director of unemployment relief who will be designated by the governor.

"Experience has shown," said the Governor, "that provision of work in the most desirable form of relief and has been successfully used as a means for providing for the unemployed in many cities. Work relief has been defined as useful work which is undertaken for the purpose of providing necessary aid for the needy unemployed by means of wages instead of direct relief grants or charity. It is assigned among the applicants primarily on the basis of their individual needs."

The present plan contemplates that the director help the counties and municipalities to develop effective unemployment relief and to act as a clearing house on all relief matters on a state-wide basis. The director's duties also will include suggesting any legislation that may be required to aid the unemployment distress.

The next meeting of the organization will be held the first Sunday in October in the Pemberton M. E. Church, Palmyra, and the December meeting will be held in the Moorestown Baptist Church.

The association earnestly requests the co-operation of every man in Burlington county, by his attendance at these meetings.

NEEDLEWORK GUILD MEETING

An all day sewing meeting will be the first this fall of the Riverton Needlework Guild held in the Riverton Parish Club.

Luncheon will be served and all members are asked to notify Mrs. Edward K. Merrill at least two days before the meeting.

All members are urged to attend to discuss the annual meeting in November.

MANY CASES AS COURT RE-OPENS

Judge Rigg Has Busy Time at First Post-Vacation Session

With no court sessions since July, there was plenty of business at Mount Holly court last Thursday when the regular weekly sessions were resumed. No less than thirty defendants were in on waivers, and only one to plead not guilty.

In most instances sentence was meted out immediately by Judge Rigg and the course taken by the defendants will go a long way, also, toward reducing the work of the September grand jury, which convened Tuesday.

Kenneth R. Dimler, of Long Island, who attempted to kill Sergeant William Lewis, of the New Egypt state police, pleaded guilty. Sentence was deferred for two weeks due to the fact that Sergeant Lewis is on a vacation.

Others, with their pleadings, were as follows: Joseph Lynch, a Moorestown boy who makes a business of forging his mother's name to checks every time he wants money, pleaded guilty, and escaped on a suspended sentence, being placed on probation for two years. Albert M. Lewis, of Mount Laurel township, charged with having a slot machine in his place of business, pleaded guilty and was fined $100.

To Be Sentenced

Elizabeth Lathrop, Roeboling, assault and battery, will be back this week for sentence.

John Hanratty, Anthony Dinkowitz and Joseph Kent, all Philadelphia young men, who were charged with robbing their friend Joseph Rich, also of Philadelphia, of $44, pleaded guilty, and each was sentenced to pay a fine of $50.

This robbery took place while the quartet was on a drunken joyride near Palmyra.

Richard Keeler, of Mount Holly, charged with carrying weapons, to wit, a blackjack and revolver, was given a suspended sentence, placed on probation for one year, and must pay costs of $30 in six months. He entered a plea of guilty to the charge.

Mildred M. Grimes, of Bristol, Pa., charged with adultery in a Burlington hotel, pleaded guilty, and was given a suspended sentence, also being placed on probation for one year, with $50 costs added. This woman is the mother of three children.

William H. Brown, colored, of Bordentown, charged with snatching a pocketbook from the hands of a Bordentown woman, went back home on a suspended sentence but will be on probation for one year.

Oswald Taylor, colored, on probation from Rahway, whose home is in Bordentown, was charged with aiding and abetting the theft of the pocketbook, and he was sent back to Rahway.

Third in Theft

Another younger colored boy, James Munin, of Bordentown, implicated in the same theft, had his hearing in the Juvenile Court.

Robert Larson, of Roeboling, charged with stealing an automobile, pleaded guilty and was released on a suspended sentence. He will have $30 costs to pay and will be on probation for one year.

Peter Spotts, of Florence, charged with breaking, entering, and larceny, was the lone defendant to plead not guilty. His case was set down for September 17.

Conrad J. King, of Southampton township, charged with the larceny of window sash and glass from a house owned by Robert Kirkbride, pleaded guilty, and will be in the county jail for the next nine months. King has served both jail and state prison terms before for larceny.

Howard Glass, of Burlington, charged with carrying a revolver, pleaded guilty and was fined $75.

Curtis Voltz, of Maple Shade, who stole $24 from his boarding mistress, Margaret Hohlwald, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to one month in the county jail from date of commitment.

Anna Lewis, of Burlington, charged with neglect of her two sons—12 and 13 years old, respectively—pleaded not guilty and the case was continued.

James Goidie, arrested in Bordentown township with a 5-gallon can of apple whiskey in his car, pleaded guilty and sentence was postponed until this week.

Mabel Beach, of Mount Holly, entered a plea of guilty to sale, possession of liquor and maintaining a house where liquor was kept. She will be back for sentence next week.

ADVOCATES DRY DAILY

Dr. Joseph Stokes Listed Among Sponsors of Proposed Newspaper

Dr. Joseph Stokes, of Moorestown, president of Burlington County Trust Company, is listed among those who are advocating the issuance of a dry daily newspaper on a nation-wide basis, but mainly sponsored by dry supporters in the east and south.

Some very prominent people are on the list of proposed sponsors, among them being Mrs. A. Haines Lippincott, of Camden, formerly of Mount Holly and Smithville, Franklin W. Fort and Mrs. S. Lewis Thompson are also in the New Jersey list.

Back of the movement are many outstanding people in the east who are known throughout the country.

FIRE CO. TO OPEN DANCE SEASON

This Saturday Night Marks Start of Busy Winter For the Local Fire Fighters

Girls, here's a swell chance to exhibit your new Empire Eugene hats. Get your boy friend aside and tell him that the Riverton firemen are opening their dancing season this Saturday night. Manager, superintendent, chairman, board of directors, not Edson Carhart has promised to supply the Rainbow Ramblers for the first twist. These boys as you all know are a seething mass of rhythm and guarantee to have your feet itching before the first encore.

The floor is in perfect condition and the committee has arranged for everything to assure you a thoroughly enjoyable evening. The tax is four bits, which translates into fifty cents per person. Dancing starts at 8:30.

Every provision has been made for your enjoyment of the evening, so round up your love coins and be on deck when the Rainbow Ramblers fire their opening salvo of symphony.

P. S.—Your money is cheerfully refunded at the end of the evening if you are not just your fifty cents worth—believe it or not.

WILL DEDICATE CATHOLIC SCHOOL

Dedication Services and Cornerstone Laying Sunday Afternoon

The dedication and corner stone laying of the new Parochial school of the Sacred Heart Church will be held Sunday, September 13, at 2 p. m., at the corner of Fourth and Linden avenue, Riverton.

It is expected that the Rt. Rev. John J. McMahon, Bishop of Trenton Diocese, will officiate, assisted by the Rt. Rev. Monsignor Maurice R. Spillane. A large attendance of the clergy and laity will be present from neighboring towns.

A procession of church societies will march from church to school.

The Rt. Rev. Monsignor Edward C. Griffin, of South Ambrosy, will deliver the principal address.

The school has been under construction for the past year and the cost is about $75,000. A new convent has been constructed at an approximate cost of $25,000 for the Sisters of St. Vincent de Paul, who will have charge of the school.

The buildings were erected by the Camden Construction Company, of Camden, from plans drawn by Henry S. Digert & Sons, architects.

POLICE NOTES

Joseph Roberts, of 80 East Broad street, East Riverton, was arrested by Chief Miller at 2:30 p. m. last Friday and charged with reckless driving, after colliding with a truck at Broad and Lippincott, Riverton. At a hearing before Recorder Bowers he was fined $4.00.

John H. Ideell, of 1310 Fairview street, Riverside, was arrested by Officer Gootee last Friday and was charged with reckless driving. At a hearing before Recorder Bowers he was released on a suspended sentence after paying the costs.

Officer Robinson picked up three bad boys, Tuesday night, becoming suspicious of their appearance. The boys gave their names as Anthony Scott, 10th and Federal streets, Camden; Thomas Deveny, 1161 33rd street, Camden; and Samuel Crouge, 2311 Carmen street, Camden.

All three of the boys were runaways, and their parents were notified and called for them.

GOP RIVER CRUISE THIS FRIDAY NIGHT

Crowd of 2,000 Expected To Enjoy Trip Down the Delaware

Burlington county Republican men and women are going on an excursion down the Delaware this Friday evening, September 11, and already the success of the big party outing is assured. Applications for tickets are pouring in on Secretary Alfonso Adams and members of the committee having the affair in charge and it looks now as though the crowd would only be limited by the 2,200 capacity of the big new steamer, City of Washington, of the Wilson Line, which has been chartered for the excursion.

The price of tickets has been made nominal fifty cents per guest, so that nobody who wants to go need remain at home. There will be music and dancing throughout the evening and lots of deck room for those who prefer enjoyment of a moonlight cruise on the river.

The start will be from Burlington wharf at 7 o'clock, for an 11-day sailing, and the City of Washington will return at eleven.

"Do not put off buying your ticket for it may be that they will be sold out days before the date of the excursion. No crowding will be permitted and only tickets well within the safe capacity of the steamer will be sold," says a statement issued by the committee.

Many well known men and women of the county are expected to be members of the party and United States Senator Keam and former Governor Stokes have also signified their intention of going along.

The committee in charge comprises State Committeewoman George N. Wimer, State Committeewoman Elizabeth C. Terry, County Chairman Charles R. Stout, Vice Chairman Pearl Bridgman, Senator Clifford R. Powell and Assemblyman Marcus W. Newcomb.

Tickets may be obtained from the excursion committee, members of the county committee and assistant secretary Alfonso Adams.

DR. HULSE TALKS TO ROTARY CLUB

Local Businessmen Enjoy Instructive Discourse On the Care of the Teeth

The regular meeting of the Palmyra-Riverton Rotary Club was held Thursday evening, September 3, at the Riverton Parish Club.

Dr. F. Connor Hulse, who was the speaker of the evening, said in part: "The aims and objects committee have scheduled me as the speaker for tonight and have given me the subject, 'Modern Dentistry.'"

I am not going to talk on modern dentistry as I am about 60 days back in my reading but will talk on dentistry in general.

"There may be some among you who are not blessed with perfect teeth. When I say 'blessed' I mean just that—'blessed' means 'gifted with divine favor.' How many of my hearers are depending upon divine favor for the welfare of their teeth?"

If you are so fortunate as to retain your full natural complement of 32 perfect teeth, you are one in a million. To the extent that you have retained your teeth you are to be congratulated. If it has been necessary to repair your teeth with fillings, inlays, bridges, and partial dentures, you can expect the best service from these replacements only if you take good care of your mouths.

If you have been so unfortunate as to lose all of your natural teeth you must have full dentures that are mechanically correct so that you may, as far as possible, reproduce the action of natural teeth in cutting, grinding and tearing, as well as in mixing the food with saliva to start digestion. In other words, artificial teeth and the various forms of restoration are primarily to preserve or to restore the function of mastication.

If you do masticate your food, you must either live upon liquids or try to turn your stomach into a gizzard. The second reason for the preservation of your teeth and for their restoration, if damaged or lost, is your personal appearance. If a town alderman, a judge, a politician, a business man, or a woman, goes about with a bad mouth, it is a reflection on his or her own appearance. If you allow the idea to get abroad that you no longer care for your own appearance, that you are willing to lower the average of agreeable faces in your neighborhood, that you care so little for your own health, digestion and disposition that you are willing to throw them all away because it is too much trouble to have your teeth properly cared for, and if you desire to drive away friends and business by halitosis, just let your mouth go to pot and show it every time you speak, chew or attempt to smile.

Life is too good to waste; friends are too necessary to lose; business is too valuable to drive away. The alternative is: take care of your health and begin with that great highway of the human body, the mouth.

Six pairs of boxing gloves were among the wedding presents received when George Stockings, a pugilist, married Nora Thornton of St. Louis.

TWO COPS ARE HURT AS MOORESTOWN CAR HITS AUTO IN CAMDEN

Two Camden motorcycle patrolmen were injured when their vehicle was struck by a Moorestown car at Ninth and Van Hook streets, Camden, early Monday morning.

The policemen were following the Third District patrol car on Ninth street. The car crossed the intersection but as the motorcycle reached the corner it was struck broadside by an automobile driven by Robert Young, Jr., of 427 Locust street, Moorestown.

The policemen were George Jeffries, 34, of 291 More street, and Charles Stone, 31, of 495 Walnut street, Camden.

Stone, thrown from the saddle at Jeffries' motorcycle, suffered a badly shamed back and cuts on the face. Arms and back of Jeffries were cut on the knees and suffered bruises on the body. The former is in Cooper Hospital, while the latter was taken to West Jersey Homeopathic Hospital.

Young was released in $25 security for a hearing Thursday night on a charge of reckless driving.

NEW SECRETARY WELCOMED TO CO.

Y. W. C. A. Heads Greet Miss Harriet Bowe, Girl Reserve Worker

Miss Harriet Bowe, of Chagrin Falls, Ohio, who came to the Burlington County Y. W. C. A. September 1, as the secretary for the Girl Reserve work, was welcomed by the district chairman of the association at a luncheon at the John Woolman House on Wednesday of last week, given by Miss Emile P. Darlington, of New Lisbon.

Miss Bowe has found the Burlington County Y. W. C. A. well organized and with large numbers of Girl Reserves.

In November of this year the Girl Reserves, who are the younger members of the Y. W. C. A., will celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of the association's work with younger girls. Miss Bowe is finding the girls in the many clubs in the county eager to participate with the other three hundred thousand Girl Reserves in this national celebration.

Charles E. Beckwith, of Pemberton, chairman of the Girl Reserve committee, will work closely with Miss Bowe in this and other activities of the Girl Reserves.

Guests at the luncheon on Wednesday included Miss Bowe, Mrs. Beckwith, Mrs. William Matlack, of Moorestown, vice president of the association, Mrs. Edwin A. Russell, of Moorestown, chairman of the South Jersey camp committee, the following district chairmen, Mrs. Caroline Ward, of Bordentown; Mrs. Benjamin Wood, Jr., of Riverton; Mrs. Benjamin Roberts, of Marlton; and Mrs. Walter Reeder, of Columbus; and the general secretary of the association, Miss Sidonie Schuler. Two district chairmen, Mrs. Marcus W. Newcomb, of Brown's Mills, and Mrs. Robert O. Dun, Jr., of Burlington, were unable to be present.

CO. GRAND JURY IS SWORN AT HOLLY

Six Women Are On Panel Selected To Hear 150 Cases

C. Edgar Haines, an automobile dealer of Vincentown, was named foreman of the September Burlington county grand jury at Mount Holly, Tuesday, when the jurors were sworn in by Judge Henry H. Eldredge, of the Circuit Court; Judges Charles A. Riggs, of the county court, and Supreme Court Justice Joseph L. Bodine.

The jurors will consider approximately 150 cases, mostly for alleged liquor law violations. The jurors are meeting Tuesday and Wednesday, according to Prosecutor Howard Eastwood.

Claydon Palmer, Prosecutor Eastwood and Thomas Bakely, city solicitor of Burlington, were named by Justice Bodine as members of a committee to prepare a resolution on the death of Ernest Waite, former solicitor of Burlington.

Former Judge William A. Slaughter, George M. Hillman and Palmer were named on a committee to draft a resolution on the death of Burroughs Matlack.

N. J. LEADS NORTHEAST IN CO-OPERATIVE EGG SALES

New Jersey poultrymen led those of 11 other northern states in co-operative egg sales for 1929 with receipts of $1,801,500 for 154,000 cases, according to results of a joint survey of the Federal Farm Board and the New Jersey Agricultural Experiment Station. New Jersey's nearest competitor was New York with egg sales of $1,138,122. Other state totals were Connecticut, $694,501; Massachusetts, $465,286; West Virginia, $126,125; New Hampshire, $11,018; and Maryland, $700.

MERRILL TELLS OF OCEAN TRIP

Prevailing Westerly Breeze Helped To Speed "Dorade" To Victory

Owen Merrill son of Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Merrill, 301 Main street, Riverton, was home over the week-end for a short visit with his parents, returning Tuesday to New York.

Young Merrill recently enjoyed the thrill of being a member of the crew of the yawl "Dorade" the boat that in competition with nine other small sailing craft, finished first in the trans-Atlantic race.

Owen stated in an interview that on July 4th the fleet left Newport, R. I., the starting point of the race. The first day of the race the "Dorade" made comparatively little distance. Though beset with fog every night and an occasional day for the "Dorade" managed to increase her speed and averaged 150 miles for the first eight days of the race.

On the fourth day the foggy weather was dispersed and a prevailing westerly wind set in blowing from 35 to 45 miles per hour. At this point the "Dorade" had reached a position just off Cape Race.

This wind maintained its velocity and direction for the remainder of the race, sending the "Dorade" skimming across the waves at an average speed of 195 miles per day. Four of these remaining days the yawl did better than 200 miles per day with the highest single days run covering 210 miles.

Merrill stated that after leaving Newport they lost sight of their competitors and did not see any one of them during the entire race. While in a position off Cape Race the crew of the yawl passed over a patch in the ocean where the bottom of the ocean was plainly visible. This patch measured approximately 100 square yards and was estimated by the boys to be from six to seven fathoms deep, or approximately forty feet. The chart, Merrill said, showed a depth at this point of over 300 feet.

Another such shallow spot was sighted as was evidenced by the light green tint of the water but the "Dorade" did not stop to investigate that one.

A tramp steamer headed for St. John's, Newfoundland, was sighted early in the race and with the exception of some fishing boats off the Grand Banks no other craft was seen until nine days later the S. S. George Washington sighted the little craft and reported her to an interested world through the medium of wireless.

On one occasion a whale was seen. The crew enjoyed the company of porpoises which leapt high out of the ship, diving and re-appearing in the waves off the bow of the craft. Mother Carey's Chickens, or sea swallows, also flitted with the boat throughout the race.

No accidents marred the pleasure or thrill of the race except the breaking twice of the spinnaker halyard the rope that raises a small auxiliary sail.

None of the crew was sea-sick and each member stowed away three good hot meals a day.

The crew divided into two shifts of three men each working four hours on duty and four hours off. Merrill was assistant navigator and aside from taking frequent sextant readings and making the day's log, he kept his readings with those taken by Skipper Stephens.

In the early evening of the 16th day after the boys sighted the Scilly Islands, and late that evening they passed the Lizard, a headland on the southwest coast of England, where the ship was becalmed.

Two English fishermen happened by in a small boat and the crew of the "Dorade" inquired if they had heard of the sail boat race from America. The Englishman replied that they had, and the boys made known to them the name of their yawl and inquired of their standing in the race. The fishermen said that they had heard of no other boat in the fleet and that they had seen the "Dorade" becalmed for a few minutes. The fishermen threw them some crabs and departed.

The excitement soon subsided however and the crew of the "Dorade" frayed the fringes of their controversy might have slipped into Plymouth ahead of them without the fishermen knowing it.

The next morning the "Dorade" signaled to the Lizard and received word from them that the others had not been heard from.

A light breeze sprung up and the "Dorade" slowly made her way into Plymouth where they were met by Bobby Somerset, Vice Commodore of the Royal Weymouth Yacht Club, England, and from him received final word of their victory.

The six hundred mile Panzer race which the "Dorade" subsequently won, Merrill stated, was a good test of a ship and her crew. The weather during this race was worse than any encountered on the ocean race. Two extra men were

POPULATION DATA IS NOW AVAILABLE

Detailed Statistics For New Jersey Offered By Dept. of Commerce

Statistics for the 1930 population of New Jersey classified as urban and rural, and by sex, color, age, marital condition, literacy, etc., have been issued by the Bureau of the Census in a bulletin, "Population, Social and Economic Characteristics of the Population." This is a pamphlet of 32 pages, 9 by 11 1/2 inches, consisting mainly of statistical tables.

The urban population of New Jersey in 1930 was 2,339,244, forming 82.4 per cent of the total population. Urban population as defined by the Census Bureau is in general that residing in cities and other incorporated places having 2,500 inhabitants or more, the remainder being classified as rural. For use in connection with the 1930 census, however, the definition of urban territory has been slightly modified and extended so as to include townships and other political subdivisions not incorporated as municipalities, nor containing any area so incorporated, which have a total population of 10,000 or more, and a population density of 1,000 or more per square mile. This extension added to the urban group in New Jersey 11 townships having an aggregate population of 208,722, which would have been classified as rural under the 1920 rule. The apparent increase in the percentage urban of the population of New Jersey, from 78.4 per cent in 1920 to 82.6 per cent in 1930, is entirely due to this modification of the rule for classifying urban and rural. Under the 1920 rule, the percentage urban in 1930 would have been 77.5 instead of 82.6.

Rural Population
The rural population of New Jersey, as established for 1930, excluding the 11 townships referred to by the rural rule, was 509,000, comprising 121,000 persons living on farms, and 388,000 not living on farms, representing as a whole a nominal increase of 3.1 per cent. Under the 1920 rule, the rural population of the state in 1930 would have been 600,812, which would represent an increase of 33.6 per cent, as compared with the rural population in 1920 (680,964).

Of the entire population of New Jersey, 94.8 per cent are white, 73.9 per cent being native white, and 20.9 per cent foreign born white. More than one-half of the native white population are of native parentage. Of the 844,442 persons comprising the foreign born white population of New Jersey, 22.6 per cent were born in Italy. Of the foreign born white population, 57.3 per cent have been naturalized.

The population of New Jersey as a whole increased 885,434, or 28.1 per cent, between 1920 and 1930. The number of persons under 1 year of age decreased 3,410, or 5.3 per cent, while the entire group of children under 5 years of age showed a loss of 9,082, or 2.7 per cent.

Illiteracy Decreasing
The proportion of the population seven to 13 years of age attending school increased from 94.9 per cent in 1920 to 98.1 per cent in 1930, and of those 14 and 15 years of age, the proportion increased from 71.6 per cent in 1920 to 91.1 per cent in 1930. The percentage of illiteracy in the population 10 years of age and over decreased from 5.1 to 3.8. There were 1,712,128 gainful workers in the state in 1930, of whom 1,294,419 were males, representing 63.7 per cent of the male population, and 417,708 were females, representing 29.8 per cent of the female population. Including both farm owners and farm laborers, agriculture employed 64,471 persons, while the various manufacturing and mechanical industries employed 736,285, the largest numbers being in the building industry, in textiles, in the iron and steel industry, and in other metal industries. There were 179,949 persons engaged in transportation, 329,327 in trade, including banking and insurance, 41,520 in public service, and elsewhere classified.

There were 125,641 in professional service, and 170,482 in domestic and personal service. In the bulletin which has just been issued there are a number of features not contained in the 1920 census reports, including a presentation of the number of gainful workers in each of about 30 industry groups, by counties; detailed age data for counties; a classification of the population of each town by color, sex, age, etc., and an extensive presentation of statistics for the rural-farm population and the rural-nonfarm population. A copy of this bulletin for New Jersey may be obtained by writing to the Bureau of the Census, Washington, D. C.

PROGRAM, FINANCE COMMITTEES NAMED BY BLOSSOM GROUP

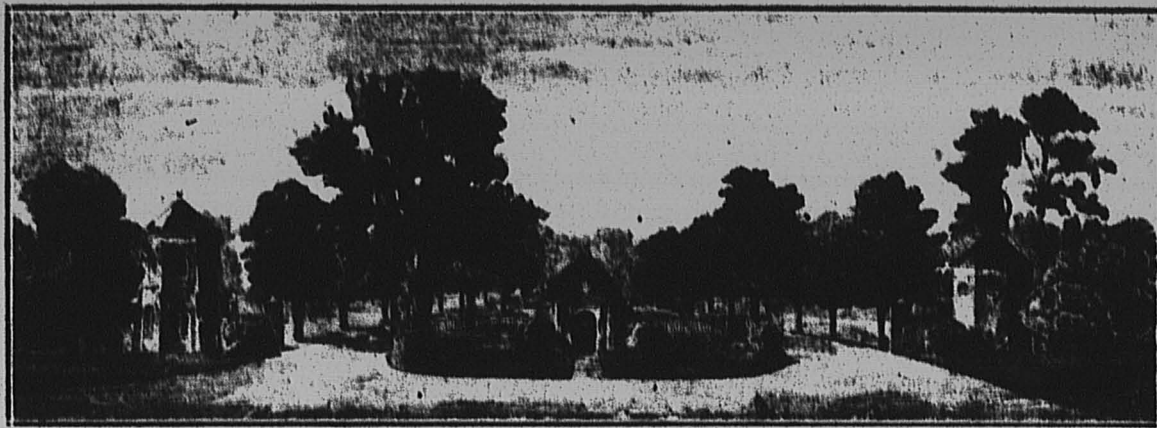

The newly elected board of directors of the South Jersey Blossom Time Association held their first official meeting Thursday, September 3, in the Dennis Hotel, Atlantic City. The entire group were guests of Walter J. Burby, proprietor of the Dennis Hotel, at a delightful dinner.

Camden, Cape May, Cumberland, Gloucester, Salem—were represented at the meeting. President Burby appointed a program committee consisting of Myron H. Douglas, Woodbury, chairman; Charles H. Chew, Sr., Salem; William A. Haffert, Sea Isle City; and Victor A. Morvay, Bridgeport. Finance committee, consisting of Harry C. Stevenson, Camden, chairman; L. M. Goucher, Woodbury; and Leon E. Todd, Medford Lakes; was appointed to study the problem of financing the association. It was also brought out that considerable interest is being evidenced in the Blossom Time Association and Secretary Odhner, of Camden, stated that he will arrange speakers on this subject for any organizations who so desire and who will communicate with him.

CAR OVERTURNS, OTHER IS DAMAGED IN CRASH
One car turned over and another was damaged in a crash at Garden and Buttonwood streets, Mount Holly, Wednesday afternoon of last week. Miss Lola R. Sutton, of Columbus, driver of the upset car, was injured slightly and was treated by Dr. Harold E. Longsdorf, of Mount Holly. Edwin Y. Guisebe, mail carrier, driver of the other car, was uninjured.

LOCATED ON THE BURLINGTON PIKE IN CINNAMINSON TOWNSHIP THREE MILES NORTH FROM THE POINT WHERE THE PALMYRA BRIDGE ROAD CROSSES BURLINGTON PIKE

LAKEVIEW MEMORIAL PARK

"DEDICATED TO SACRED MEMORIES"

LAKEVIEW MEMORIAL PARK is not merely another cemetery. It is to be a noble resting place for the departed, and a perpetual delight for those who live . . . its serene, stately beauty a fitting memorial to those who will rest within.

Lakeview will be as different, as unlike other cemeteries as sunshine is unlike the night . . . a great park, devoid of misshapen monuments and other customary signs of earthly Death and filled with towering trees, sweeping lawns, splashing fountains, beautiful lakes, cheerful flowers and noble memorial architecture . . .

Some one, some day must provide a final resting place for you and your loved ones. It is the one decision every man MUST make. The complete story of this beautiful burial park is told in an attractive brochure. A copy will be sent to you without obligation.

LAKEVIEW MEMORIAL PARK MANAGEMENT

A Memorial Park should be managed by those who are experienced and responsible. From a standpoint of business experience and responsibility LAKEVIEW MEMORIAL PARK is fortunate indeed in that it is headed by able business men of outstanding success who are leaders in their community.

MAKING JOBS FOR 25,000 MEN

"I never asked for charity in my life and I ain't askin' for it now—but oh, Mister, can't you get me a job?"

A grey-faced man leaned anxiously across the desk. But there were no jobs. For weeks, last winter, a constant procession of these troubled men had passed by William H. Mathews in the office of a New York City charitable organization. They were not unemployables, or chronic poor, but men who had always maintained themselves and their families. Now they were stranded and helpless.

"Work was their only hope," writes Gertrude Springer in the current "Rotarian" magazine.

"Without it their self-respect would be shattered. With it, however humble or small, they would be lifted over and saved from the stigma of public charity until industry could once again absorb them. So, Mr. Mathews set to work to make jobs where no jobs existed."

A city-wide campaign for funds brought in more than eight million dollars. With it Mr. Mathews made non-competitive employment for 25,000 men, thus saving at least that many families from destitution, despair and the demoralizing result of recourse to public charity.

Most of the created jobs were in the parks and was rough work with the pick and shovel. But a genuine effort was made to place the skilled and enfeebled men in jobs fitted to their capacity. Several were absorbed by the relief organization.

"I've always been a bookkeeper, but I had pneumonia and lost my job," said one applicant. He was at work within twenty minutes in the accounting department of Mr. Mathews' organization. Skies turned blue for a discouraged chauffeur when he was assigned to a car that carried a paymaster around to squads working in the parks.

New York's success with "made work" last winter, carried on much the same as Moorestown's, but on a much larger scale, has pointed the way for many cities. This winter, the plan will be invoked on even a larger scale in numerous communities where unemployment is acute.

TODAY and TOMORROW

SURPLUS

The Federal Farm Board has too much wheat and cotton on hand. The Brazilian government has too much coffee on hand. We want coffee, but it will take a long time to get it.

The Chinese are suffering for food. The Nanking government has asked the Farm Board to sell it 5,000,000 bushels of wheat a month for six months, on long time credit. It may be a very long time, but it seems to be worth doing. It will benefit millions and harm nobody. It will relieve this country of much of its wheat surplus, save storage charges and save human lives. There ought to be nothing in any laws to prevent it being done.

Now if all of the cotton states will join in making it illegal to grow any cotton at all in 1932, that surplus will be wiped out and fair prices will return in the cotton market.

VACATION

Professor Willis A. Sutton, head of the school system of Atlanta, who has just retired as president of the National Education Association, says that the long summer vacation without responsibility does children more harm than good and puts too much strain on the system. Dr. Sutton's remedy, so far as schools are concerned, is to give pupils summer work to do which will take them out of doors but still occupy time which otherwise would be spent in aimless play.

There is such a sound sense in what Dr. Sutton says that it will not surprise me if a complete revolution in school systems results from it. More vacations and shorter ones are better for children and for their families than the long, irresponsible summer period of idleness.

STARS

Thirty-eight years ago a ray of light left the star Arcturus and started toward the earth. It takes light, travelling at the rate of 186,000 miles a second, forty years to get from Arcturus to the earth. The ray which started in 1893, the year of the great World's Columbian Exposition in Chicago, will reach the earth in 1931, when Chicago intends to stage another World's Fair.

At the Yerkes Observatory at Genoa, Wisconsin, the great telescope will be focused on Arcturus in the spring of 1932. The ray of light which will have been forty years on its travels will be reflected into a photographic cell, which will convert it into electricity. This energy will throw a switch which will turn on the lights of the new World's Fair and officially open the Exposition. Nothing could be more fitting to illustrate the progress of science in the past forty years. The exhibition which is to be held in Chicago is said to contain the greatest collection of scientific marvels ever brought together. What the mind of man has achieved in the conquest of nature since the last Chicago World's Fair is almost unbelievable.

GRATITUDE

I want to pay my respects to my neighbor, Miss Nellie Gray of West Stockbridge, Mass., who has done something the like of which I never heard of.

She has given the Town of West Stockbridge $5,000 as recompense for the 25 years during which the town supported her. That's gratitude. Nellie Gray is 72 years old and has been a helpless cripple since she was ten months old. Her gentle face in her wheel chair is familiar to everybody in the town. Up to 25 years ago a sister supported her, after the death of their parents, but on the sister's death there seemed to be no one to help, so the Selectmen have provided her a meager living out of the town funds every year since.

There was a brother, but he had left home and nobody knew where he was. Not long ago he was killed by an automobile, and it was discovered that he was worth $70,000, all of which came to Nellie Gray. And the very first thing she did with her inheritance was to offer $5,000 to the town.

"What you are," said Emerson, "thunders so loud I can't hear what you say."

What we are inside changes the inner life of our families, our business associates, and our fellow citizens. We cannot harbor fear or anger or selfishness without diluting the emotional bloom stream of the race.

And every courageous or unselfish emotion builds up the whole world's stock of courage and faith.

WATERMELONS LURE

YOUTHS TO JAIL

The youth of today do not differ from the youth of other years, when it comes to watermelon time, according to Justice of the Peace Frank S. Abraham, of Florence. Boys will "hook" watermelons, Justice Abraham contends, and some will get caught, and some will be sent to jail. Thus did the squire comment as he sentenced George Hauman, Steve Kresko, John Panie, Andrew Repetaky, David Renhoffer, Zollic Renhoffer and John Ferenz, all of Florence, to the county jail at Mount Holly for five days each. The seven youths were arrested upon complaint of Walter McWilliams, a farmer, near Florence, who charged they looted his watermelon patch.

SPEEDER FINED IN HOLLY

CAUGHT DOING 65-AN-HOUR

Norris O. Benedict, of Whiting, was arrested by Motor Inspector Herman Bading, of Mount Holly, after the latter had clocked him doing 65 miles an hour on the South Pemberton road on a motorcycle. Recorder Joseph C. Kingdon fined him $5 and costs Thursday night.

town, to help pay for the new $14,000 bridge over the Williams River. "I'm going to fix up the old Gray homestead," Miss Nellie says, "and live there the rest of my life. But first I had to fix up the town that has taken care of me so generously. Everybody has been wonderful to me, but you can't believe how happy I am not to be the town pauper any more."

MOVIES

Only seventeen per cent of the featured motion pictures now being shown in the United States are fit for children to see, according to "The Parents' Magazine." The motion picture department of that periodical is edited in co-operation with the General Federation of Women's Clubs, the Daughters of the American Revolution, the Woman's University Club of Los Angeles and several other women's organizations.

The best current pictures, according to the same authority, are "Cimarron," "City Lights," "A Connecticut Yankee," "The Conquering Horde," "Daddy Long Legs," "Father's Son," "The Great Meadow," "The Millionaire," "Pagliacci," "Shipmates," "Skipper," "Tom Sawyer" and "Trader Horn."

The motion picture industry has criticized some of my criticisms of the movies so severely that I am letting somebody else say the same thing, for a change!

THE COUNTRY FAITH

By Norman Gale

Here in the country's heart, Where the grass is green, Life is the same sweet life As it ever hath been.

Trust in a God still lives, And the bell at morn Flows with a thought of God Over the rising corn.

God comes down in the rain, And the crop grows tall— This is the country faith And best of all!

Does It Pay Me To Buy at Home?

Can I save money? Fully ninety per cent, of my purchases are of standard goods sold at fixed prices everywhere. The cost of my time and of my car at ten cents a mile is a trifle when I buy at home. It adds greatly to the cost of goods bought at a distance.

Can I get good service at home? Groceries or insurance, motion pictures or permanent waves, have I not always found the goods and the service about identical here with those of New York or Philadelphia? If I phone, delivery is a matter of minutes or hours, not days, and the same with exchanges.

Is it less trouble to shop at home? Well, I do not worry over parking places or tickets, no one needs to stay with the children, my entire shopping takes a small part of my morning, not my whole day.

Do I protect my own income? I or some members of my family lives by selling his goods and services to my neighbor at home. In fairness they expect our patronage. If I expect the local merchant, plumber, electrician, insurance agent, lawyer, druggist or doctor to serve me in emergencies I better help make sure they can be here to serve me by giving them my regular trade.

For my own advantage I will TRY TO BUY AT HOME FIRST. I WILL BUY FROM THOSE WHO BUY FROM ME.

30 YEARS AGO

John B. Watson had rather a novel opening of his new livery stable Thursday evening. The place was brilliantly illuminated with electric lights, the handwork of A. J. Briggs, and tastefully decorated with flags, while the young folks of the borough added to the charm of the affair by dancing. The stable is one of the finest in this part of county. It has twenty roomy stalls, a high ceiling, insuring perfect ventilation, and a handsome apartment for keeping the carriages.

The Misses Smith returned from the West Tuesday of last week. On their way home they stopped at the Pan-American exposition.

The truant officer made his rounds this week, warning parents that all children under 16 years of age must be at school next Monday.

The September days are much pleasanter than the weather experienced in August, though the chronic growler is still on hand. It brings back to memory a few lines which are certainly applicable to some people. Here they are:

As a rule man's a fool,
When its hot he wants it cool,
When its cool he wants it hot,
Always wanting what is not.

Miss Gertrude Roberts and Miss Helen Walcott are attending the State Normal School at Trenton. (Miss Roberts is now Mrs. Boyd, of Haddonfield, and Miss Walcott taught in Riverton for several years and is now retired.)

Watermelon Party
The Waverly Social club of Camden, N. J., held a lawn party Saturday night at the home of Mrs. C. P. Bush. A very enjoyable evening was spent, and the party returned to Camden with a very good impression of Palmyra. Among the members were: Miss Anna Vincent, Miss Anna Hoegle, Miss Charlotte Holroyd, Miss Oella Clinger, all of Camden; Miss Anna McIntire, of Palmyra; Miss Bella Champion, Miss Lizzie Surr, of Gloucester City; Samuel Vincent, George Roberts, Morris Husted, Walter Zelle, Fred Wilson, Clifton Rubicon, John Blum, Harold Hornblower and Ira Roberts, all of Camden.

A North American porch party will be held at 322 Horne avenue, Saturday, September 25, for the benefit of the poor children's visiting fund.

A. H. Weikman returned from his transatlantic trip Wednesday evening. On her return trip the Oceanic encountered a monster tidal wave which dumped thousands of tons of water upon her deck. A dozen passengers were knocked down, but none were swept overboard. The liner escaped without damage.

Harry Worrell's horse kicked up quite an excitement last evening by running away down Broad street.

RANCOCAS CAMPERS ASSOCIATION HOLDS ANNUAL WATER FETE

The annual water carnival of the Rancocas Campers' Association was held on Labor Day at Ewanville with a large crowd on hand to witness a number of closely contested events.

Ernest Erquod, of Collingswood, was general chairman of the carnival committee.

Canoe lifting contest, David and Frank Watson, Camden.

BABY'S BODY IN AUTO WRECK FOUND DOLL

Three Persons Injured As Car Collide on Trenton-Hampton Highway, Vincentown

At first believed to be a baby buried in the wreckage of two automobiles in which three persons had been injured, a mud scramble to free the infant on the part of spectators revealed, much to the surprise and relief of the crowd, a life-size baby doll.

Two elderly Vincentown brothers were injured in the crash which occurred on the Trenton-Hampton highway near Vincentown late Wednesday afternoon of last week. Their machine collided with a car driven by Frank L. Loris, New York, chauffeur for Mrs. J. M. Hodson, 2306 Davidson street, New York, wife of a retired minister, who was returning from Atlantic City. Riding with Mrs. Hodson was a friend, Mrs. Allan Wood, Greenwich, Conn. Mrs. Hodson was injured on the head and left side, while Loris and Mrs. Wood escaped injury.

The Hodson machine, a large, expensive car, collided with an automobile driven by J. Walter Wills, 65, who was cut on the forehead. His brother, Ellis, 67, suffered a broken left leg and cuts on the scalp. Loris was arrested by Trooper Reeves, Harry Sear, William Fichter, Recorder Joseph C. Kingdon, who fined him $20 for reckless driving.

P. O. S. of A. NOTES

LEGION AUXILIARY HEAD INSTALLED

Mrs. Ida Oldershaw Assumes Duties As Moorestown Unit's President

Mrs. Mabel C. Shinn, of Burlington, county president of the American Legion Auxiliary, installed the officers for the auxiliary of the William H. Snyder Post No. 42, American Legion of Moorestown, at its regular meeting on Thursday at post headquarters.

Mrs. Ida Oldershaw was installed as unit president. The other officers are Mrs. Leontine N. Walker, first vice-president; Mrs. Agnes M. Scott, second vice-president; Mrs. Ethel O. Shreve, secretary; Mrs. Dorothy M. Elwee, treasurer; Mrs. Ida Middleton, chaplain; Mrs. Alice Jones, sergeant-at-arms; and Mrs. Elizabeth Acker, historian.

The advisory council consists of Mrs. Isabel McKell, Mrs. Elizabeth Acker and Mrs. Emma Shreve.

The chairman of various acting committees will be appointed by the new president.

Additional guests at the installation were Miss Minnie B. Ivins, of Beverly, second vice-president of state; Mrs. Alice Miller, of New Hope; Mrs. Clarence Pennington, child welfare chairman of county; and Mrs. Eleanor Sampson, of Burlington.

At the close of the installation the unit members presented Miss Sara Shreve, the outgoing president, with a beautiful gold Pinetop Mrs. Shreve, a gift to Mrs. Shinn.

Miss Shreve gave personal gifts to officers who had missed not more than one meeting during the year. Those receiving them were Mrs. Dorothy McKelwee, treasurer; Mrs. Ethel O. Shreve, secretary; Mrs. Ida Oldershaw, historian; Mrs. Alice Jones, sergeant at arms; Mrs. Ida Middleton, chaplain and Mrs. Emma Shreve, chairman of retirement committee.

At the close of meeting, refreshments were served.

Jesse Jones will be the next vice president, while George Evans, Gideon Horter and others will make a friendly appeal for Master of Forms.

With an increase of 42 members, the county this year takes first place in the state for gain by counties. Marlton camp will win one of the prize flags for a camp showing the largest gain during the term.

Camp 35 of Delanco will dedicate a new home on October 10. A big time is promised and details will be given later.

MANY CASES AS COURT RE-OPENS

Toted Gun
Leroy Williams, colored, picked up in Willingboro township with a revolver in his pocket and who the state troopers claim was acting very suspiciously, pleaded guilty to the gun-toting charge. He went back to jail for two weeks, after which time he will be sentenced.

John F. Greenleaf, of Philadelphia, caught near Wrightstown with twenty half barrels of beer on his truck, pleaded guilty and was fined $200. He was charged with transportation and possession of liquor.

William E. Carhart, of Mount Holly, entered pleas of guilty to sale, possession of liquor and maintaining a house where liquor was kept, and he went to jail for three months and will have a $100 fine to pay.

Herbert "Baldy" Storey, of Mount Holly, raided twice in one month, also entered a plea of guilty to sale and possession of liquor on two or more occasions. He will be sentenced next week.

Philip Herd, of Elizabeth, one of the beer truck drivers captured near Bordentown, was fined $500 after he had pleaded guilty to transportation and possession, while the driver of the second truck, George Wallace, also with an Elizabeth address, suffered a like penalty of $500.

Peggie Lawler, of Roeboling, arrested four times the last month on disorderly charges, and now charged with a serious misdemeanor, was sent to the Clinton Reformatory where she may receive medical attention. This girl is but nineteen years of age.

Joseph A. Sheridan, of Beverly, charged with breaking and entering the home of Thomas Anthony at that place, pleaded guilty and was fined $100 and placed on probation for one year.

FENBERTON MOTORIST FINED $5 AFTER CRASH

Charged with reckless driving as the result of an accident on the State Highway, near Mount Holly, John R. Lucas of R. D. No. 1, Fenberton, was fined $5 and costs Sunday night by Police Recorder Joseph C. Kingdon, of Mount Holly. Lucas' car collided with an automobile owned and driven by John Kovack, of Chapel avenue, Roeboling. Rose Kovack was treated at the Burlington County Hospital, Mount Holly, for cuts and bruises of the face and head.

R. D. WOOD TAKES LOOP LEAD AFTER DOUBLE VICTORY

Takes Undisputed Possession of Sunberth By Twin Holiday Triumph

IS NOW FULL GAME AHEAD OF "BURLS"

Three Games Cancelled As Teams Are No Longer In Race For County Title

R. D. Wood jumped into undisputed leadership in the Burlington County Baseball League by winning both Labor Day games.

After a defeat by Burlington Saturday afternoon, which put the Shollmen and the Woodmen in a tie at the top of the ladder, the Florence nine accounted for its tenth and eleventh victories in the second half in the twin holiday tilt.

A one-hit shutout was credited to "Morrie" Lippincott in the 6-0 triumph over Delanco in the morning, and the same finger held the River town club to six hits in winning the afternoon contest, 14-1.

Burlington tripped the Woodmen, 7 to 3, on Sunday, but the latter, the league lead, but fell a game behind the sunberth when Medford couped the first game of the holiday bill, 6-0. They won the afternoon tilt over Riverside, 11-7.

Vincentown and Riverside played only one of their scheduled games. The Vincents upset the Mill-towners, 10-3. In Saturday's fust and then cancelled Monday's contest when it was found it had no bearing on the title winners.

Moorestown dropped a 4-0 decision to Delanco and then cancelled both holiday games for the same reason. Medford, first half champs, handed Cy Young's Delanco outfit its second reverse of the holiday twin card by taking a 3-2 decision. The Delanco team was held to five hits while the Olympians battered 17 wallops.

The R. D. Wood-Riverside and the Burlington-Vincentown games will be the deciding tilts carded for this week. The contests are slated for Riverside and Burlington ball parks and the Woodmen will have a chance to participate in the play off series with Medford by taking its contest.

A victory for the Burls and a defeat for the Florence team would result in a league-leading stalemate, but a defeat for the Shollmen will eliminate them from all chances of becoming champions.

NET CROWN WON BY RIVERTON GIRL

Miss Hughes Triumphs In West Jersey Tourney on Moorestown Courts

Riverton was the only other club that had a member come through with a championship. She was Miss Elvira Hughes, who topped the girls' singles. Miss Hughes was rated as the favorite and before entering the final round disposed of Madeline Palmer, of Moorestown, 6-1, 6-3. Then in the final round the Riverton miss defeated Betty Higgins, of the Haddon Field Club, 6-3, 6-6.

Miss Higgins gave Miss Hughes a great deal of trouble before dropping the championship, having previously made a strong comeback in defeating Dorothy Lynn, of Pitman, in the semi-final round, 3-6, 6-3.

The Haddon Field Club topped the major share of the laurels Labor Day afternoon at the Moorestown Field Club courts when three of the twin champions crowned at the conclusion of the forty-fourth annual League of West Jersey Field Clubs tennis tournament represented the above organization.

The feature of the finals of the tourney was the winning of the women's singles title by Miss Laura Pittenger, of the Haddon Field Club. It marked the twelfth consecutive time that the Haddonfield ace has topped the championship.

It was also the third major triumph of importance in this section that Miss Pittenger has attained. Previous to Monday's victory, the Haddon Field Club star had won the women's single championships of the Atlantic Coast tourney at Ventnor City and also the Delaware State singles crown.

In winning the West Jersey women's title, Miss Pittenger defeated Elvira Hughes, a club mate, in the semi-final round, 6-1, 6-3, and then turned around to beat Marion Blew, of Pitman, in straight sets, 6-2, 6-2.

Miss Blew gave the champ plenty of trouble for a while but lost to the more experienced opponent. Last year Miss Blew topped the girls' championship and has been playing No. 1 position on the Pitman Cottagers Association team this year.

The other pair of Haddon Field Club members who topped championships were Alfred Glading in the boys' singles and Jack Bramall in the men's singles.

In winning the men's title, Jack Bramall turned in a leg on the league trophy which must be won three times by the same person before becoming permanent possession. Prior to Monday, Dr. Carl Fischer had captured the title the last two years, but failed to compete this year.

After defeating Tom Brown, a team-mate, in the semi-final round, Bramall again beat a club member in the final round when he disposed of Harry Morris, Jr., after a hard battle, 6-4, 3-6, 6-3, to win the crown. Morris had previously taken the measure of Preston Roberts, of the Moorestown Field Club.

Glading turned back Eugene Raymond, of Moorestown, in the final round of the boys' tournament, and Miss Hughes upset Betty Higgins, of Haddon Field Club, in the concluding match of the girls' play.

Glading earned his way to the final by routing Spencer Smith, a club mate, in the semi-finals, 6-2, 6-8, 6-3. Raymond put out William Rodgers, another Haddon Field Club performer, in the other match, 8-6, 6-3, 6-4.

Miss Hughes had little difficulty in reaching the final round by routing Miss Madeline Palmer, of Moorestown, in the semi-final, 6-3, and then she beat Miss Higgins, 6-3, 6-6 in the last match.

Medford, 3; Delanco, 2.
Moorestown at Vincentown (cancelled).

This Week's Schedule
Saturday—R. D. Wood at Riverside; Vincentown at Burlington.

Dropping two games within the past week, the Riverton baseball club sank a little deeper into last place and lost all chance to climb out of the cellar by cancelling the game with Moorestown, occupants of seventh place.

R. D. Wood assured itself of at least a tie for the second half title by wallowing Riverton 18-1 in the afternoon holiday game on Monday.

Founding out 27 hits off three Riverton fingers, the Woodmen piled up a 5-0 lead in the first two innings and then turned the game into a rout by tallying nine times in the sixth frame.

"Morrie" Lippincott, in the meantime, was holding his opponents to six scattered hits and keeping the Riverton club from scoring except in the third round, when a lone run crossed.

The morning game with Moorestown was cancelled as neither team by winning, would have any bearing on the winning of the final tilt.

Medford heaped into undisputed possession of second place by defeating the Riverton nine by an 8-1 score in last Saturday's game.

MAKE ARRANGEMENTS FOR ARTISAN BOWLERS AT MEETING TONIGHT

With the bowling season rapidly approaching, the Palmyra Artisan League is preparing to begin its 1931-32 schedule.

Several matters of great importance to bowling team members are expected to be discussed at tonight's meeting of the Artisan.

The most important subject will be the organization of two separate leagues of eight teams each. L. Watson Hampton, chairman of the bowling committee, is prepared to submit plans which will result in the formation of two distinct leagues rather than one league of 16 teams.

Such an arrangement will allow each team to bowl on the same night every week, rather than have each team bowl some weeks on Wednesday night and other weeks on Thursday.

This plan was followed last season and often resulted in confusion on the part of the team members as to which night they were scheduled to bowl.

The league will probably open late this month or the early part of October.

DRUNK AND DISORDERLY. EIGHT MEN SENT TO JAIL

Eight men, seven from Burlington and one from Florence, all charged with being drunk and disorderly, were arraigned Monday, Labor Day, before Police Recorder J. Leonard Smith, at Burlington, who committed them to jail at Mount Holly. The men, arrested by Patrolmen Nathaniel Estlow, John Trybuszek and Clarence McManus, and their sentences, are: Leon Windburn, of Burlington, 10 days; Leon Wallace, of Burlington, 10 days; Joshua Reynolds, of Burlington, 10 days; Rufus Foulke, of Burlington, 60 days; John Spencer, of Burlington, 30 days; Minor Jagers, of Burlington, 10 days; Simon Hensen, of Burlington, 10 days; and Philip Stepanook, of Florence, 10 days.

LOCAL CHURCH NEWS

Epworth M. E. Church

(Rev. Ira S. Pinn, R. D. Pastor)

Now that the vacation period is over and our schools have opened we are preparing for a full attendance at our Church School on Sunday morning at ten o'clock. The attendance during the summer has been exceptionally fine and we are looking forward to a record season.

Mrs. Pinn will teach the lesson from the desk in the adult department. This will be the last Sunday the lesson is taught from the desk.

At the morning service the pastor will preach the second in a series of sermons on "Religion in the Modern World." The topic is "Christianities Greatest Rival—Secularism."

The evening service at 7:45, Dr. George Trent, district superintendent of the Yearly Meeting, will be the speaker.

The Epworth League Devotional Service on Sunday evening at 6:45.

The Woman's Home Missionary Society will hold their first fall meeting this evening in the Guild room of the church.

Prayer service on Wednesday evening at eight o'clock. We will continue our discussion of the sermon on the Mount. All are privileged to come and enter into the discussion.

First Lutheran

(Rev. Harold L. Creager)

Next Sunday morning a service of special joy and interest for all our members and friends will be held.

It will be the dedication of the new stained glass window which has been presented and is being installed this week. This is a beautiful memorial stained glass window, the principal subject being "Christ Knocking at the Door."

The sermon will be preached on that theme.

At the evening service the sermon will be on the theme, "Longing for God."

The monthly meeting of the Women's Missionary Society will be held this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Walling, starting with a covered dish luncheon at one o'clock.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"SUBSTANCE" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, September 13, 1931.

The Golden Rule is: "By humility and the fear of the Lord are riches, and honor, and life" (Proverbs 22:4).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Honour the Lord with thy substance, and with the firstfruits of all thine increase. Be sure thy barns be filled with plenty, and thy presses shall burst out with new wine" (Proverbs 3:9, 10).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "To ascertain our progress, we must learn where our affections are placed and whom we acknowledge and obey as God. If divine Love is becoming nearer, dearer, and more real to us, it is then submitting to Spirit" (p. 239).

HIT-RUN VICTIM FOUND IN DITCH

Police Believe Driver Threw Man's Body Over Embankment

An unidentified man was killed by a hit-run driver Saturday night or early Sunday morning on the Burlington Bridgeboro and Cooperstown.

It is thought by the state police that the guilty driver stopped long enough to throw the body over an embankment to prevent early discovery of the tragedy.

Judging from blood marks on the road, state troopers declare the man was flung at least 30 feet by the car and then dragged another 30 feet by the driver before being thrown to the bottom of the embankment.

A wide search was immediately begun, which resulted a short time later in two men being arrested by Jersey City police. The men were held in an automobile, the mudguard of which was dented. They were later released when they proved they had not been near the scene of the embankment.

The body was discovered shortly before 7 a. m. Sunday by Charles Sharp, a worker on the James Chan farm.

He told the state police at Delanco barracks that he was walking along the side of the road when he noticed the blood. He followed the bloody trail for 30 feet and came to the embankment. Looking down, he saw the body.

The body is lying in the Cunningham morgue, Riverside. Finger prints were taken by State police and sent to the National Bureau of Identification in Washington.

The man was about 50 years old, five feet six inches tall, ruddy complexion, light brown hair, weighing 165 pounds, and had grey eyes. He carried a Harrisburg newspaper, and possessed a pocket mirror which bore the name of a store in Newcastle, Pa. His hands were stained from berries. He had been seen in Burlington a few days last week.

The body was removed to the Cunningham morgue, Riverside.

Mrs. Sarah Allum, of Detroit, got a divorce because her husband introduced another woman to her as his "real wife" and suggested that each occupy a different floor in his house.

Annoyed by music in a South Side apartment in Chicago, neighbors had four pianos sent to the woman occupant in a single day.

BAPTIST

(Rev. George Lockett, Pastor)

The Teachers' Association of the Sunday School met Tuesday evening and made plans for the rally day services to be held September 27. The Church and Sunday School will unite in these services as they did last year.

The sermon subject Sunday morning will be "Fisher's Men." The evening topic will be "Vacation Experiences."

A large attendance is hoped for at both services.

(Charles T. Bates, Minister)

The pastor will preach at the service Sunday morning in Calvary Presbyterian Church at 11 o'clock. The sermon theme being "I Came With the Infante."

All departments of the Church School will meet as usual at 10 o'clock.

There will be no evening services until October.

MOVE PEONIES IN SEPTEMBER

By A. C. McLEAN,
(N. J. Agr'l. Extension Service)

September is the best month of the year to divide and plant peonies. Laid out when being moved is advisable because peonies transplanted in entire clumps seldom thrive. Divisions of two or three eyes, however, will promptly make new and vigorous roots.

September planting gives the peony time to make a strong growth of roots in the fall and thus insure an early and vigorous start in the spring. If divisions planted now have healthy and strong eyes, probably all of them will bloom next year provided a vigorous root growth is made before the coming of cold weather, which generally means before October 1. Since peony plants usually mature in September, they will not be injured by the removal of leaves now.

Plant peonies in a soil that is in good till and not too light. Generally speaking, peonies will not thrive on too sandy a soil, although they have been known to do well on a very light sand that is well fertilized and heavily mulched. Soils that are too acid should be limed, since the peony prefers a neutral soil. Do not mix fertilizer in the soil, as there is some danger of burning the fleshy roots of the peony if the fertilizer comes in direct contact with them. The best plan is to apply fertilizers on top of the soil after planting.

STOMACH POISON INSECTICIDES

By C. C. HAMILTON,
(N. J. Agr'l. Experiment Station)

Stomach poisons, used primarily to kill the so-called chewing insects, may also be employed in controlling insects that have the siphoning or lapping type of mouth parts.

There are two general methods of applying stomach poisons. First, by covering the plants or other food so thoroughly with a poison that the insect will be killed by eating it. Second, through the use of poison baits, made by mixing the poison with a substance that is more attractive to the insect than its usual food.

A satisfactory stomach poison must be toxic to the insect, safe to use on the plant to be protected, easily available, and so cheap that the cost of the material and its application does not exceed the damage done by the insect.

Included among the stomach poisons are lead arsenate, calcium arsenate, magnesium arsenate, sodium fluoride, the fluorosulfates, and helio-bore. Lead arsenate and calcium arsenate are two of the most satisfactory and widely used arsenicals. They may be applied with safety to most plants for the control of chewing insects. If the attacked portions of the plant are to be eaten by man, use helio-bore or a contact spray.

The arsenicals are cheap, easily applied, and retain their protective action for a long time. They should be used wherever possible. The quantity of lead arsenate, the form generally used, is 1 1/2 pounds to 50 gallons of water, or 1 rounded table spoonful to 1 gallon of water.

The sticking and spreading quantities of the insecticide may be greatly Increased by the addition of about twice as much flour as lead arsenate. Powdered skimmed milk may be substituted for flour.

Stomach poison sprays, to be effective, must be thoroughly applied before or when the injury caused by the insect is first noticed. This is especially important in fighting insects that feed on the inside of leaves, twigs, and limbs, because such pests must be poisoned just after hatching from the egg and before they gain entrance to the food plant.

Many insects with chewing mouth parts, such as the rose chaffer, which feeds upon the unopened buds of roses, or other flowers, cannot be controlled by a stomach poison. A contact spray is advised for them.

PLANT NARCISSUS BULBS NOW

By A. C. McLEAN,
(N. J. Agr'l. Extension Service)

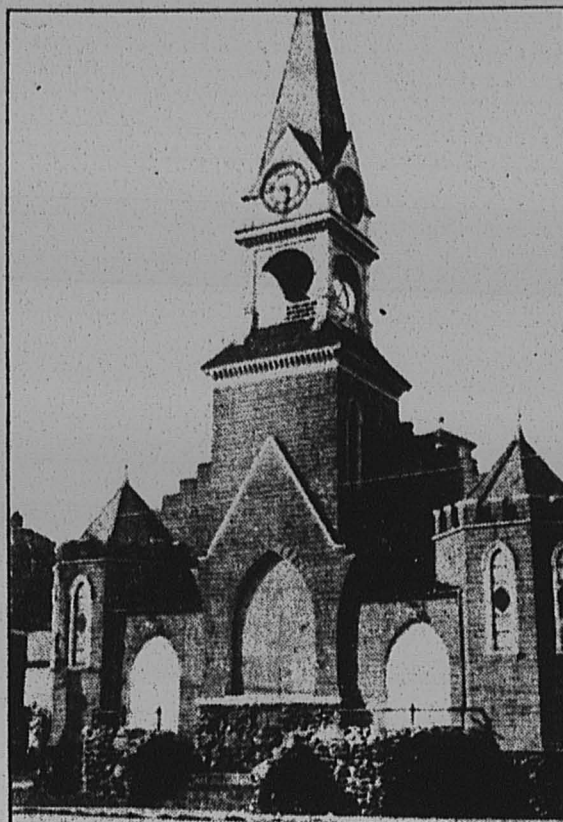

The sooner narcissus bulbs are planted at this season the better will be the chances of having a beautiful display of bloom next spring. This is because the narcissus needs time to take root and make a strong growth before cold weather sets in.

The finest narcissus growth outdoors are generally from clumps that have been in the same location for two or more years. These older bulbs usually develop roots early in September.

Bulbs of the narcissus are now available in American growth stock with prices so moderate that the gardener can afford to order them in large numbers. The narcissus will live from year to year and increase rapidly, provided they are planted where it is not too wet and are kept free of weeds.

All of the numerous forms of narcissus are practically hardy except the tazetta varieties. These, the so-called polyanthus, consist of the well known Paper White narcissus and the Chinese Sacred Lily. The older daffodils are really the trumpet narcissus. These produce white, yellow, and yellow and white flowers. Flowers of some of the newer varieties are quite large, being four to five inches across. The short trumpet narcissus are well worth a trial by any gardener, as are the poeony forms, which are later to bloom than the trumpet varieties, and which produce the greatest amount of bloom. Also available are a number of small species, and hybrid forms of narcissus that are well adapted for rock gardens.

SUES LeROY GRANT

Asks $150,000 for Damages to Reputation

William York, Jr., of 238 North Massachusetts avenue, Atlantic City, a member of Excelsior Council No. 231, J. O. U. A. M., of Pleasantville, has begun suit in the Burlington County Circuit Court against E. LeRoy Grant, of Beverly, state councillor of the Junior O. U. A. M., for $150,000 damages to his reputation. It is alleged that on May 21 last, Grant, at a public meeting of the Atlantic County Past Councilors' Association, charged that York, who then was a member of the state council law committee, with being a crook, having been convicted of carrying deadly weapons with intent to use them, and was sentenced to from two to three years in state prison in 1926. York says the charge is false and erroneous and involved a mix-up of identity of persons.

York subsequently was removed by Grant as a member of the law committee and was recently tried before judge officials in Essex county. He was acquitted on July 26, last.

"My husband got sore at me because I wouldn't ride on a roller coaster, so he got on for a ride and never came back," complained Mrs. Lucille Thomas when she sued for a divorce in Chicago.

COMPANY AGREES TO FIX STREETS

Solicitor Carson Reports to Riverton Council Defects Will Be Corrected

Borough Attorney Walter Carson reported at the meeting of the Riverton Borough Council last Thursday night that the Edison Electric Service Company had agreed to reconstruct the streets in the borough at its own expense and responsibility.

This agreement was reached in a conference between Mr. Carson and Mr. Nicholson, attorney for the company, which did the road work. Mr. Carson was instructed by the council and council to consummate the agreement.

Councilman Albertson, chairman of the highway committee, reported that several sidewalks of vacant lots and unoccupied properties had been cut according to instructions given him at a previous meeting.

Councilman Hahn reported that J. L. Young, of Third street, had requested information as to how to get about getting sidewalks and curbs on his street. Mr. Hahn was informed that the property owners could do the work at their own expense, paying first received the grade from the borough engineers, or the borough would do the work and give the property owners ten years in which to pay for it. The latter method requires that a petition be presented to council signed by ten property owners in the borough, or 51 per cent of the valuation of the property affected by the desired improvement.

LYNCH BUSINESS BOUGHT BY HUBBS

52 Year Old Plumbing Business Purchased by Riverton Business Man

The recent acquisition by Clarence N. Hubbs of the plumbing, heating and roofing business, formerly owned by William B. Lynch, marks another change in the Riverton business lineup.

On Tuesday of this week, Mr. Hubbs, and family moved into the Lynch home at the corner of Broad Street and Thomas avenue, Riverton, and Mr. Hubbs has moved his shop, office and showroom to the one on the premises formerly occupied by Mr. Lynch.

The Lynch plumbing business is one of the oldest established businesses in Riverton, having been founded in 1879 by William J. McIlhenny. At that time Mr. Lynch worked for Mr. McIlhenny and learned his trade with him.

Mr. Hubbs continued in the same business for twenty-nine years, making a distinct success of it during that period.

Clarence Hubbs, his successor to the business, has been established in the plumbing business in Riverton for the past ten years.

PEACE CARAVAN

The Peace Caravan, under the auspices of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom, will pass through Riverton on Monday, October 5, on its way to Washington.

They carry with them petitions which have been signed along the route requesting our government to instruct its delegates to the International Disarmament Conference in Geneva, February, 1932, to take the necessary steps to achieve real disarmament.

Look for future notice of the caravan's reception here.

POLICE NEWS

Vlady Dolniak, 2212 Pratt street, Philadelphia came zig-zagging thru Riverton last Sunday evening about seven o'clock feeling rather delightful and zig-zagging right into Officer Robinson's waiting arms. Robinson took him before Dr. H. B. Mark who pronounced him drunk and unfit to operate a motor vehicle. At a hearing before Police Recorder Cecil A. Bowers, Dolniak was fined $221.00 and had his license revoked in New Jersey with the recommendation that it also be revoked in Pennsylvania.

Dolniak paid his fine and was released. Thomas Downes, of 75 South 24th street, Camden was picked up by Chief of Police Walter O. Miller while driving in a reckless fashion on the Burlington Pike last Sunday. At a hearing before Recorder Cecil A. Bowers he was fined $2.00 which he paid to obtain his release.

HARGETT SPEAKS AT ROTARY CLUB

Presents Many Interesting Angles of the Water Business Both Home and Abroad

The Palmyra Riverton Rotary Club was treated to an interesting discourse on the subject of "Water," as told by A. E. Hargett, manager of the Riverton Palmyra Water Company, at their meeting last Thursday evening.

Few realized that such a common place commodity as H<sub>2</sub>O could present so many interesting angles. Mr. Hargett in telling of the water supply for Riverton and the surrounding territory stated that its supply was pumped from a water bearing sand strata thirty to one hundred feet deep. This water has in repeated analysis, proved to be chemically pure and wholesome with only one possible bad feature, that feature being its chemical action on iron or yellow brass piping. It will cause pitting of this type which is below 85 per cent pure copper to corrode and break up. Lead or pure copper piping however, will last an indefinite length of time serving Riverton water. Some lead pipes have been found intact and without visible signs of deterioration after having been used since 1890.

Mr. Hargett told of a theory of water experts, that led to the conclusion that Southern New Jersey has a water bearing sand strata extending from Pennsylvania under the Delaware river to the Atlantic seaboard. Atlantic City water under analysis shows to be almost identical to some supplies in the Camden area, the only difference (which is not chemical) is that Atlantic City water is obtained from a depth of 800 feet as against 100 feet in this vicinity. Mr. Hargett explained that positively no river water found its way into Riverton's water supply.

Some localities are faced with serious problems in the supply of water to its communities. Various methods are necessarily employed, dependent upon the peculiar condition existing in the locality for the purification and economic use of water. Pennsylvania water, while pure contains iron, which ordinarily causes the disagreeable taste. Pennsylvania has, however, recently lessened this undesirable feature by spraying its water into the air and treating it. This treatment of the water precipitates the iron and by its contact with air and sunshine, greatly reducing the iron content.

Many persons are prone to view with apprehension the chemical treatment of water, but Mr. Hargett explained that water itself may be considered a chemical, being a compound of two parts of hydrogen, one part of oxygen and invariably other substances in solution; hence the treatment of water with proper chemicals would render it fit for human consumption.

One of the interesting anecdotes told by Mr. Hargett was of a water company doing business in the vicinity of an oil field. One day the oil company forgot to plug one of their oil wells and a short time later the water company was pumping kerosene. If that be true, and the water company reorganized into an oil company selling oil stock it might possibly be the beginning of the expression "watered stock." Then, again, what could be more distressing than to get up in the morning half awake and believing that you held a glass of water find that you have swallowed a tumbler of kerosene?

Europe in some sections, Mr. Hargett explained, was so restricted in its water supply that the water from its sewage disposal plants was necessarily re-treated over and over again and pumped back into the city water supply for regular household use.

To combat the main danger in water, namely, typhoid, Mr. Hargett believes that all water works will eventually treat their water chemically.

Goodwin — Price

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Mary Price, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joel T. Price, of 1100 Parry avenue, Palmyra, to Bernard Goodwin, 614 Thomas avenue, Riverton, on Thursday, June 24, at Chester, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Goodwin are making their home with the former's parents temporarily and expect to move to Merchantville in about a month.

The bridegroom is employed at Cooper's Garage, Pennsylvania, where the bride is a teacher in the Delanco public schools.

DANCE

The entertainment committee of the Riverton Volunteer Fire Company is sponsoring another dance this Saturday evening at the fire house. The admission will be 50 cents per person and the music will be furnished by the Rainbow Ramblers. The following Saturday the fire company is holding its second annual chicken supper in the fire house, followed by the regular dance. The ladies auxiliary of the company is preparing the dinner and tickets will be sold at 75c apiece. The dinner will be served from five o'clock till eight.

H. E. POWELL WINS MEMORY TEASER

Letter Tells of Many Interesting Incidents Connected With Hylton Estate

The first in another series of memory teasers starting last week in The New Era was won by Howard E. Powell of 261 West Broad street, Palmyra. Mr. Powell's letter which follows will be found interesting and may possibly awake pleasant memories in connection with the old Hylton estate.

261 W. Broad Street
Palmyra, N. J.

The picture of September 10th is one of the Hylton Homestead at that time occupied by the owner, Jack Hylton. The photo also contains the photos of his wife and child also in the background was his servant, Maggie Graham, now living in West Palmyra. This homestead is over 250 years old. On the left is a picturesque windmill not shown in the photo, also there at that time was a grove of Japanese chestnut trees, but I hardly think that because of the chestnut blight they are still existing.

Jack Hylton was a noted figure. He was the "big boy," he settled disputes of his workers on his estates, his title was Justice of the Peace, also he was the first to have any Italian in this vicinity. His work at that time was done by oxen. He had quite a large amount at that time. The products of his estate consisted of peaches, pears, gravel, white sand, clay and stone. This estate is in Pennsylvania township. I remember his wedding day was quite an affair. I also remember that Mr. Hylton owned a very valuable watch, on the outside in the center of the case was a large diamond, also the watch struck the hour and half hour. This estate is quite a landmark during the war it furnished the dirt for the Shipping Board, also it furnished the dirt for the electric railroad for the elevated PRR tracks in Camden.

His wife and children are still living and at this time reside in Riverton. I would also like to state this homestead adjoins the Francis Frome Homestead and also the Pennsylvania creek borders the Hylton land.

Sincerely,
HOWARD E. POWELL

SO. JERSEY ARTISTS ENTERTAIN PATIENTS AT PHILA. HOSPITAL

Artists from Palmyra, Moorestown and Collingswood were featured at a fortnightly musical given by the South Jersey Artists at the American Oncologic Hospital at Thirty-third and Powell streets, Philadelphia, Saturday.

Saturday's program included selections by Mrs. Helen Seel Giddin, of Palmyra, soloist, and Miss Evelyn Walker, one part of Palmyra, pianist.

These fortnightly programs are being arranged by Miss Florence Shinn, of Merchantville, and a committee composed of prominent Camden and Burlington county folk.

Others who took part in Saturday's event were Lester Reynolds, of Moorestown, tenor solo; Mary Kate and Ida Marie Gilliams, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. John Gilliams, of Collingswood, who entertained with several delightful readings.

The committee are arranging for a card party and dance to be given at the Merchantville Country Club on Friday, September 25, for the benefit of the hospital. South Jersey patients at the hospital are numerous.

RIVERTON P. T. A. MEETS THIRD MONDAY

Members and Friends Are Requested To Attend Change of Date

The first activity of the Parent-Teacher year will be at 3:15 p. m. on Monday, September 21, when the teachers of the Riverton school will receive the parents in their home rooms. Each mother is invited to go to the grade room of her child to meet his teacher and hear informally the program of his year's work. If there are several children in a family, their parents will have opportunity to visit the various grades represented.

This informal reception is to be followed by a short business meeting and tea.

Mrs. Elwell, the new president of the association, is anxious that all the parents who can arrange it, take advantage of this opportunity to find the plans made for the new year.

And don't forget — hereafter the meetings are to be held on the third Monday of the month.

CARD PARTY

given by Order of the White Shrine of Jerusalem, Friday evening, September 25, at Hollyford Packing House, King and Grant streets, Mount Holly. Pinchole, 500 and Bridge will be played. Admission 50c, free parking.

HAINESPORT MAN IN LINE FOR LEGACY

It is reported that C. C. Zug, of Hainesport, as one of three heirs to the estate of a deceased aunt, Mrs. Joseph A. Leary, of Memphis, Tenn., will receive $42,860 as his share.

NEW BUILDING DEDICATED SUNDAY

SACRED HEART PAROCHIAL SCHOOL.
Appropriate exercises were held on the school grounds on Linden avenue near Fourth street, Riverton, with prominent members of the clergy, borough officials and 1,000 spectators present.

MORROW TO SELECT 2 WEST POINTERS

Appointment of Two Principals and Four Alternates to be Made This Fall

Senator Dwight W. Morrow of New Jersey will appoint this fall two young men as principals and four as alternates to fill two vacancies in the Corps of Cadets at the United States Military Academy, on July 1, 1932. He announces that he will make these selections through a competitive examination to be held through the instrumentality of the United States Civil Service Commission, at several cities in New Jersey on October 31, 1931. Any young men will be eligible who is a resident of the State of New Jersey, who has no physical defect that will bar him from entrance to West Point, and who is of such age that he will be between the ages of 17 and 22 years on July 1, 1932. After completion of this examination it is Senator Morrow's purpose to have a subsequent oral examination conducted by a committee of representative citizens of the state, who will select the six young men from the leaders as determined by the Civil Service examination.

Any young man of New Jersey desiring to compete for these appointments may obtain information of the requirements of Army authorities and of the details of the plans for the examination by applying to Senator Morrow at his office in Washington, D. C.

CINNAMINSON SCHOOL

This Monday of the P. T. A. enjoyed a thrill Monday morning, when, at recess, three groups of primary children were enjoying games under the lovely old trees at Cinna-minson. The bright little faces and gay dresses reminded one of a wreath of flowers, while the energy with which they entered the play made one feel that, possibly, the day was not so warm after all.

Thirty-seven pupils in the fifth grade were having an interesting geography lesson. All were on the alert, needing only a suggestion from their teacher to draw out their ideas.

Several changes have resulted in a very pleasant office for Miss Bryan and a private rest room for the teachers. The former teachers' room for nishes much-needed space for the medical and dental clinics.

The P. T. A. Music Chairman asks all members to join in a song contest, offering original songs for the local association.

Words, with original tunes if possible, may be sent to Mrs. Robert Sim, Riverton, R. D.

Please try out your talent and send words at least, before November first, that we may be able to sing our own song early in the year.

Press Committee.

MEETING CANCELLED

The meeting of the Palmyra-Riverton Merc. Club, sponsored by the Y. M. C. A., has been postponed.

The organization, after disbanding for the summer months was supposed to have met next Thursday evening. A meeting of the executive committee of the club was held Tuesday night and it was decided to cancel the September meeting and defer the session until the regular meeting night next month.

The regular meeting night for October will be Thursday, the twenty-fifth and all members of the club are expected to be on hand. The speaker and musical program for the evening has not yet been announced.

NOTICE TO PARENTS

Parents living south of Broad street and having children attending the Parochial School are requested to have them use either the Main street or Thomas avenue railroad crossings. The borough has provided police protection for the Thomas avenue crossing. The Elm avenue crossing is unprotected and will be dangerous to use.

BOARD REFUSES TO FILL VACANCIES

Citizen's Committee Will Go Into First Joint Meeting With 13 Members

Another sharp division of opinion occurred in the Riverton school board last night over the question as to whether or not vacancies should be filled in the committee of fifteen appointed by the board to cooperate with that body in further consideration of improved school facilities.

The subject came up when a letter was read from William E. Bennett who declined to serve on the committee in view of other civic duties, which he should assume at an early date.

Richard D. Barclay said that Richard M. Woodward, a local real estate broker, had expressed his desire to serve on the committee should any vacancies occur. Mr. Barclay explained that while he had no personal reasons why Mr. Woodward should not be appointed to fill the vacancy, he strongly urged that since Mr. Bennett had declined the vacancy should be left open. He advanced as a reason for this belief that the appointment of Mr. Woodward, whom he did not doubt would be capable of rendering good service as a member of the committee, would establish a precedent which might force the board to make other appointments that might not be so desirable should other vacancies occur.

Mr. Mattis took exception to Mr. Barclay's views and stated that previous to the appointment of the committee of fifteen he had talked with Mr. Woodward and others who recommended Mr. Woodward be made a member of the committee. Mr. Mattis further stated that he had fully intended to propose the name of Mr. Woodward, but that the notices for the meeting had been mailed so late that he could not come from Atlantic City in time to attend. By the time he did arrive the appointments had been made.

Mr. Mattis offered a motion that Mr. Woodward be appointed to fill the vacancy on the committee of fifteen created by the resignation of Mr. Bennett. Mr. Steedle seconded the motion. When the vote was called Mr. Mattis and Mr. Steedle voted in the affirmative, but the motion was killed by the negative votes of Mrs. Blair, Mr. Barclay, Mr. Watson and Mr. Shrader.

Another Vacancy

Mr. Steedle reminded the board that another vacancy had been created in the appointment of Victor Rits, church as a member of the board of education, which action had been taken rather in the evening. Mr. Steedle contended that since the board had decided to appoint a committee of fifteen citizens rather than to hold a public meeting, the full membership of fifteen should be maintained and presented a motion that the present two vacancies on the committee be filled.

This motion was seconded by Mr. Mattis but defeated by the same vote that killed the motion to place Mr. Woodward on the committee.

Still unwilling to accept defeat, Mr. Steedle said that the resolution creating this committee provided for fifteen members and that under the resolution the vacancies must be filled.

Mr. Shrader said that it made no difference whether two, thirteen, fifty or a hundred people were on the committee, the meetings were essentially public meetings and that no one could be prohibited from attending and expressing his view. He agreed with Mr. Barclay that there would be no end to the filling of vacancies, it once started.

Mr. Mattis accepted his defeat but remarked that the committee of fifteen had been appointed to cooperate with the board on the school situation to amicably work out the problem, but he did not see how the citizens could be expected to render any constructive service when the school board itself could not cooperate.

The question of supplying each member of the board of education with copies of the minutes of each meeting which was proposed some time ago, came up for discussion.

Mrs. Blair offered a motion that expensive binders be procured and that Mr. Cooper's stenographer should prepare mimeographed copies of the minutes of each meeting and mail them to members of the board before each coming meeting. The motion was seconded by Mr. Barclay and passed.

Repairs Practically Finished

Mr. Steedle reported that practically all of the repair work had been completed on the school with the exception of the heating plant. This Mr. Steedle explained would be finished within the next week or ten days.

Mr. Hemphill advised that contract had been let to the American Heating and Ventilating Company for reconditioning two fire boxes in the furnace at a cost of $445.00.

DEDICATE NEW CATHOLIC SCHOOL

New School and Convent of Sacred Heart Parish Cost $100,000

The dedication exercises and coronation laying of the new Sacred Heart Parochial School, Riverton, took place Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock with an attendance of about 1,000 persons.

The exercises, opened with a procession from the church to the school made up of a band, Knights of Columbus, K. of C. Boy Scouts, Ladies Auxiliary of the Knights of Columbus, Ladies Sodality, B. V. M., Altar Boys, Clergy including Rt. Rev. K. C. Griffin, Rt. Rev. M. R. Spillane and the Rev. Father Joseph A. Rigney.

The Rev. William F. Cavanaugh, of Hartford, Connecticut, nephew of Father Rigney, made the opening address. The Rev. Louis A. Hayes, of Westmont, N. J., spoke of the Sisters of St. Vincent de Paul, who will teach at the new school. The Rev. Hayes has had considerable experience in work with the Sisters for school teaching in his parish and stressed the special qualifications of Riverton's new teachers.

Principal Speakers

The principal address was made by the Rt. Rev. Edward J. Griffin, D. D., rector of St. Mary's Church, South Amboy, N. J., who spoke of the great benefit of parochial schools to the nation as well as to the church and community.

Representing Riverton: Mayor Hox and M. Rogers made an address. The Rt. Rev. Maurice J. Spillane, president of the diocese, presided at the dedication exercises and addressed those assembled, making the dedication. Rev. Spillane is the Vicar General of the Diocese of Trenton, personal representative of the Rt. Rev. John J. McElhannon D. D., Bishop of the Trenton Diocese. Father Rigney was unable to attend because of earlier and urgent duties.

President Palmyra School Board

The president of the Palmyra Board of Education, Francis L. Dungen, Jr., also addressed the assembly. Father Rigney made the closing address in which he thanked everyone for their help and expressed his gratitude at the many expressions of good-will on the part of everyone. The exercises were closed with the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner."

They are as follows: Mrs. Conrad Friday, chairman; Mrs. Elias Toy, Mrs. C. F. Shaw, Mrs. Raymond Anderson, Mrs. Francis Voorhis, Mrs. Lewis Wallace, Mrs. A. J. Brooks, Mrs. Sydney Headington and Mrs. Milton M. Klotz.

At the close of the show Saturday evening the flowers and displays were distributed among the churches and sick in Palmyra and Riverton.

RECEIVES LETTER OF COMMENDATION FROM N.Y. DETECTIVE HEAD

As a result of the excellent work done by Chief of Police C. Morris Beck, of Palmyra, in apprehending Henry Roberts, colored, who was wanted for larceny in New York, the following letter of commendation was received by the police chief:

September 4, 1931

Morris Beck,
Chief of Police,
Palmyra, N. J.

Dear Sir:

Under date of August 22, 1931 I received from Ellis H. Parker, Chief of Detectives, a typewritten statement concerning the arrest of one Henry Roberts.

I wish to thank you for the way you handled this case, as statements taken at the time of arrest are always beneficial in the prosecution of criminals, and which, sometimes, is not done in the larger cities.

If at any time I can be of service to you do not hesitate to call on me and I will give such matters my undivided attention. Thanking you again for your service, I remain,

Sincerely yours,
HERBERT GRAHAM,
Commanding 15th Detective District.

PEIRCE REPORTS RECORD ENROLLMENT IN CLASSES

Perice School of Business Administration at Pine street, West of Broad, Philadelphia, inaugurated its sixty-seventh year with a record enrollment for both the day and night schools.

The day classes opened September 8 and the evening department starts September 17. The enrollment in the school maintained its continued increase of the last four years, despite the business depression. The number of students was fifty greater than last year, which marked the largest student body in the school's many years of history.

MAN BITEN COP ON ARM WHILE BEING ARRESTED

Stanley Speck, Bordentown road, Burlington, sank his teeth into the arm of Policeman Earl Lippincott, who tried to arrest him Sunday for being drunk and disorderly. Speck was sentenced to 20 days in Burlington county jail, Mount Holly, by Police Justice J. Leedom Smith. Lippincott was treated by Dr. John S. Conroy, Burlington physician.

Within 15 days, E. F. Slocum, of Pavtucket R. I., celebrated his 61st birthday, his 35th wedding anniversary, and the 30th anniversary of his appointment as a letter carrier.

BUSINESS GIRLS ENJOY WEEKEND

YWCA Arranges Delightful
Club Members

Camp Darkwater, near Medford, was a happy place over the week-end of September 12 and 13 when business and industrial girls from eight towns in the county enjoyed the week-end planned by the county Y. W. C. A. Mrs. Everett Griscorn, of Roslyn, Pa., whose knowledge of nature is exceptional, led the group in several interesting trips through the woods about the camp which abounds in fascinating forms of plant and bird life. On Saturday evening Mrs. Griscorn gave a valuable lecture of nature, illustrating it with many slides. She especially emphasized the values of bird life. Mrs. Griscorn is devoting her time to the study of nature and to helping in the conservation of the plant and bird life of the country.

Mrs. Ernest Janney, of Ranocas, in speaking at the meeting, stressing service of worship stressed the beauty and happiness of an individual having so deep and abiding a dependence upon God, that the storms of life left him in perfect peace because his mind is stayed on God; because he trusteth in God.

Miss Edwina Boyd, of Moorestown, conducted a poetry hour on Sunday afternoon reading from her own works. Music was in charge of Mrs. Earl Williams, of Moorestown, while Alice Stuart and Emma Fenton, of Willingboro, supervised the water sports.

Vocational Information
Vocational information of an accurate and reliable type is being secured by a committee of the Y. W. C. A. with representatives from all the high schools in the county. This is then being placed on bulletin boards in each high school and information is being changed weekly.

On the committee from each school are two high school girls and one faculty member. The following are faculty members of the committee: Mrs. Kathryn R. Swain and Miss Florence S. Sharp, of Moorestown; Miss Hazel A. McCall, of Burlington; Mrs. Marian Haycock, of Pennington; Miss Martha Jane Berry, of Bordentown; Mrs. Ermyr Jewel, of Palmyra; Mr. Wilbur Crosey, of Mount Holly. Representatives have not yet been appointed from Florence and Riverside. Mrs. Earl Williams, of Moorestown; Miss Hannah Severns, of Burlington and Miss Sidonie Schafer, represent the Y. W. C. A. on the committee. The committee will meet the first Thursday of each month in the county Y. W. C. A. office in Mount Holly.

HADDONFIELD CHIEF DENIES HIS AUTO FIGURED IN CRASH

State troopers of the Delanco barracks and the Medford police last Thursday received reports that Chief George Baxter of the Haddonfield police had figured in an automobile accident on Church road near the Medford cross road. The road is very narrow and accidents are frequent. Baxter denied he had been in any accident or that his car had been in a collision. According to a woman who was riding with her husband and children when their machine was struck by another car, the driver said he was Chief Baxter.

MAN JAILED FOR PART IN BURLINGTON FIGHT

One man is in jail as a result of a battle staged Sunday night in a barn on Dewey street, Burlington. Joseph Kowalski, 45, of Linden avenue, Burlington, suffered cuts of the face, requiring nine stitches. He alleged he was attacked by Steve Karhe and Waladok Fensler, who were arrested by the police. At a hearing Sunday night before Police Justice J. Leedom Smith, Karhe was held in $200 bail on a charge of assault and battery and Fensler was released.

FORMER SQUIRE HELD IN THEFT OF CHICKENS

Frank Maurone, former justice of the peace of Delran township, Burlington county, who served three years in state prison for shooting two Camden men, is being held in jail at Mount Holly in default of bail. He was committed last Thursday on charges of stealing chickens from the henry of Charles B. Jesup, of Cinnaminson township, and on charges of assault and battery filed by William B. Bateman. Maurone was convicted June 28, 1927, of atrocious assault and battery and sentenced to prison. His sentence was upheld by higher courts.

VISITS COUNTY

DAVID BAIRD, JR.
Republican candidate for governor, who was guest of honor and speaker at several affairs in Burlington county yesterday.

ARRANGE DANCE FOR BENEFIT OF GRIDMEN

Proceeds Will Be Used To Defray
Early Expenses of Palmyra
Football Team

The first annual dance to be sponsored by the Palmyra football team will be given in the P. O. S. of a Hall, Palmyra, Friday evening, September 25.

The dance is a part of the reorganization program carried on by the gridiron performers of past years. A sufficient number have declared their intention to play this season and are awaiting some financial backing.

George Beeton, manager of the team, has left the plans for the dance in the hands of Lawrence Betty, assistant manager. Tickets for the affair have already been placed on sale. Gentlemen are taxed one and ladies, 50c.

The Paramount Trio, well known radio performers, will supply the music for the occasion and will be on hand from 8:30 until midnight. Mickey Rogers, tap and soft shoe dancer, has also been engaged to put on a short act during the evening's program, probably during the intermission. Rogers has attained fame throughout Philadelphia and South Jersey as a cabaret performer.

PICKNERS INJURED AS CARS ARE DITCHED

Two Automobiles Fail To Take Turn,
Roll Down Six-Foot
Embankment

Two cars failed to make a turn on the Pennington Vincentown road, near Mount Holly, Sunday night and crashed headlong down a six-foot embankment into a ditch. Both cars were carrying a crowd of picnickers who had spent the day on the bank of the Ranocas Creek and were returning home when the accident occurred.

Evelyn Lanch, 18, of 321 Monmouth street, Gloucester, was cut and bruised about the head and was taken to the Burlington County Hospital, Mount Holly, by Robert J. Rose, of 1052 Alcott street, Philadelphia, another motorist. She was riding in the second car and was the most severely hurt of all the victims.

The rest were treated for cuts and bruises. They were Raymond Kelly, 24, of Merchantville, driver of the first car; Edna Marguard, 16, of Gloucester, and her sister, Max Marguard, 18. In the second car were Charles Rodman, 23, of Merchantville, the driver; Anna Fisher, 18, of Gloucester and Charles Bailey, of Merchantville.

P.T.A. WILL MEET TUESDAY EVENING

Sergeant J. P. Conover, of N.
J. S. P., is to be Speaker of Occasion

The Palmyra P. T. A. will hold its first regular meeting of the year in the high school auditorium, Tuesday evening at 7:45 p. m.

The first half hour will be devoted to a discussion of the health of the elder child. The P. T. A. this year is planning to follow in its informal discussions a study course conducted by Dr. Ada Hart Aditt, the famous child psychologist, who serves as the chairman of the committee on Parent Education for the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

The topic for this meeting is, "Is Your Child a Perfect Child?" Miss Kathryn Green, the newly appointed school and hygiene nurse, has generously consented to give a short introductory talk and lead the discussion. Everyone interested is urged to be present promptly at 7:45 p. m. to meet Miss Green and to take part in this discussion.

Business Meeting
At 8:15 p. m. the business meeting will be opened by the president, Mrs. Elias M. Toy. Following the business meeting, Mrs. Stanley S. Lippincott, of Palmyra, the well known contralto, will sing and Miss Margaret Casey will read.

The P. T. A. is fortunate in securing as the principal speaker of the evening, Sergeant J. P. Conover, of the New Jersey State Police. Due to his varied experience in line of duty, Sergeant Conover is specially well-fitted to discuss the increasingly important subject of "Safety." Parents of growing children will find his talk both interesting and helpful.

It is hoped that the parents of the Palmyra school children will make an effort to be present at this meeting and cooperate with the teachers in doing all that is possible to build a truly great Parent-Teacher Association.

POLICE ASKED TO SEEK AGED MAPLE SHADE MAN

Police throughout New Jersey have been asked to aid in the search for John Burke, 79, who disappeared Friday from the home of his grand-daughter, Miss H. Walker, West Linnwood avenue, Maple Shade. Mrs. Walker said her grandfather recently suffered a heart attack and she fears he must have suffered a stroke. She also said he had been taking medicine which was necessary to his life. Burke is described as 4 feet 8 inches in height, white hair and mustache, partly bald and no teeth. He was dressed in a dark suit, blue shirt, black shoes and gray hat.

Moorestown High in Class A Schedule As Enrollment of Boys Reaches 330; 'Tots' on Morning, Afternoon Shifts

Moorestown public schools re-opened Tuesday of last week with the largest enrollment in their history.

The greatest increase was in the high school, where the enrollment of students was a hundred more than last season. The increase has made Moorestown High School a Class A school instead of Class B. This distinction will affect the athletic activities more than any other phase of work.

The No. 9 school enrollment varied very little with exception to the kindergarten. The heavy enrollment in the primary department demonstrated its popularity. The overflow necessitated the separation into morning and afternoon sessions for the learners.

The Stanwick school increased its number of pupils this year, and the colored school, No. 7, had a heavy increase in the upper grades.

The enrollment in the various schools is as follows: High school, 635; Junior school, 188; school No. 9, 351; school No. 7, 169; Stanwick, 35; Lenola, 240. These figures are subject to change from day to day with the enrollment of late students.

Tuesday of last week was given over to re-examinations and teachers' meetings. A discussion of economic conditions led to the voluntary decision of the teachers to levy an assessment on their salaries for the purpose of establishing a relief fund to be used in aiding the needy children. The teachers fully realize the unemployment situation will have its effect upon the attendance of many school children this year.

MOORESTOWN WOMEN INJURED IN BUS CRASH

Suffer Cuts and Bruises As Vehicle Hits Pole in Maple Shade

Two Moorestonians were injured Friday night when the bus in which they were riding crashed into a pole on the Maple Shade Moorestown pike. The injured persons were Mrs. Margaret McKenna, of Union street, and Miss Carolyn Elston, of Prospect avenue. Both escaped with minor cuts and bruises and were treated at the office of Dr. Joseph Shapiro, of Maple Shade.

The driver, J. Priol, of 125 North Twenty-sixth street, Camden, told the police that he headed for the pole to avoid crashing with another automobile that "cut in" on him from the side. The driver was not arrested.

NEW COUNCILMAN APPOINTED AS A.B. CRAMER RESIGNS

Retiring Member Says Business Forces Him to Leave Palmyra

JOHN WARD SUCCESSOR

Overseer of Poor May Get Larger Appropriation: Will Take Care of Unemployed

As a distinct surprise to the members of Palmyra Borough Council came the resignation of Arthur B. Cramer, a member of the borough governing body, at a meeting held Tuesday night.

Mr. Cramer, in tendering his resignation, gave his reasons as the cause. "Commercial enterprises are forcing him to change his place of residence and he expects to live in New York. This, of course, necessitates his resigning his councilman position."

Last fall Mr. Cramer expressed his intention of resigning from council saying that ill health was the cause. When he spent several months in Florida he was persuaded to discharge his duties as councilman under a leave of absence rather than to relinquish his post altogether.

Since his return in April, he has resumed his duties as a borough official and has been considerably improved in health by his stay in the South.

The retiring councilman had been appointed by ex-mayor James Ward to fill a vacancy several years ago. Cramer had been elected for two terms since his appointment to council.

Mayor George N. Wimer, faced with the necessity of appointing a successor to the office, named John Ward of Perry avenue, to fill the vacancy.

In resigning, Mr. Cramer sent the following letter to council:

September 15, 1931
Mayor George N. Wimer,
Palmyra, New Jersey.

I hereby tender my resignation as a member of Palmyra Borough Council to take effect immediately. It is with a great deal of regret that I am forced to take this step as my association with the members of council have been most pleasant, and I am sorry to sever these connections.

My business takes me from Palmyra, and I shall move within a few days. Therefore, I trust that the resignation may be accepted at once.

Yours truly,
A. B. CRAMER.

In making the appointment of Mr. Ward, Mayor Wimer addressed the following communication to council:

September 15, 1931
To the Members of Palmyra Borough Council,
Palmyra, New Jersey.

Gentlemen:
Pursuant to the power granted me by the Borough, I hereby appoint John Ward, 802 Perry avenue, as a member of Council to serve the unexpired term of Arthur B. Cramer and would ask that the members of Council kindly ratify this appointment.

Very respectfully,
GEO. N. WIMER, Mayor.

The appointment will take effect at once as did the resignation of Mr. Cramer. The members of council were unanimous in approving Mayor Wimer's choice.

On a motion made by Councilman Floyd W. Spahr, it was unanimously voted to accept the resignation of Mr. Cramer but with sincere regrets.

A communication from the New Jersey Labor Bureau was read, requesting that the borough do all possible in alleviating the misery of those who would be unemployed this winter.

Mayor Wimer said that an increased appropriation would be made to the department of the poor to aid in the relief work among the poor and unemployed in the town.

He deplored the fact that so many people in the town were always ready to criticize but were unwilling to assist. He said, in part: "There are too many people who sit in their parlor and try to tell others what to do instead of doing something themselves. A few persons think a poor welfare worker should be employed, not to do the work, but merely to supervise it. They are unsatisfied with the excellent work being done by our volunteer corps of workers. As a result of the difference in opinion the Community Welfare Association has, to some extent, ceased to function."

He stated that a committee, probably including one of the council members and two or three others, would be appointed to assist the Overseer of the Poor in looking after the needy.

A change in the policy of relief work is also planned. A day's work will be given the needy persons, instead of money, but the pay for the labor will be equivalent to the sum which would be given otherwise.

As a result of a request voiced at the last meeting of council, a new fire hydrant will be installed at the intersection of the state highway and River road. Several gasoline stations were without adequate protection in case of fire and a request was made last month that a fire plug be installed. The new plug will probably be ready for use by the end of the month.

Reports from the several department heads were submitted as follows:

Police Report
September 15, 1931.
To the Honorable Mayor and Council:

The following is the monthly report of the Department of Police:

80 LOSE LICENSES
Motor Vehicle Commissioner Harold G. Hoffman last week revoked the licenses of 80 motorists for various violations of the law. Included in this number were 25 charged with drunken driving. In addition 33 were involved in fatal accidents.

WOMAN'S CLUB PARTY ON SEPTEMBER 23rd

A card and lawn party will be held on the lawn of the home of Mrs. George DuBell, 828 Columbia avenue, Palmyra, next Wednesday afternoon.

This event is being sponsored by the Welfare Department of the Palmyra Woman's Club and is expected to be one of the most successful affairs of its kind ever held in this vicinity.

Mrs. George Rivel, chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements, asks all ladies in this section to be present. Reservations may be made through Mrs. Rivel or any member of the committee.

They are: Mrs. Charles W. Davison, Mrs. Nathan S. Beckley, Mrs. Grover Fox, Mrs. M. J. McDermott, Mrs. Frank A. Shaver, Mrs. R. E. Sanford and Mrs. Richard E. Wilson.

There will be small admission fee of fifty cents. Refreshments will be served and lovely prizes will be awarded the lucky card players.

Any ladies in the vicinity who do not play cards are urged to be present as other forms of amusement have been planned for their benefit. The committee in charge insures a delightful afternoon for all who attend.

In case of rain the affair will be held in Mrs. Rivel's home, 801 Garfield avenue.

Mrs. Mary E. Stockton

Mrs. Mary E. Stockton, 20 years old, wife of George Stockton, of Philadelphia, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. Ellis Reed, of Marlton, on Wednesday morning of last week at 9 o'clock after an illness of five weeks' duration. Heart trouble was the cause of her death. Funeral services were held from the residence of her daughter on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The Rev. John C. Fryer, pastor of the Marlton Baptist Church, officiated. Interment was made in the old Baptist Cemetery, Marlton.

Mrs. Stockton is survived by her husband, George Stockton, one daughter, Mr. C. Ellis Reed, of Marlton, and one son, Edward Stockton, of Atlantic City.

William J. Lafferty, Jr.

William Joseph Lafferty, Jr., ten years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Lafferty, of Maple Shade, met with sudden death on Labor Day, Monday, September 7.

Funeral services were held on Wednesday morning with high mass of requiem at Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church, Maple Shade, at 10:30 o'clock. The Rev. John C. Farrell, pastor, officiated. Interment was made in Holy Cross Cemetery, Philadelphia. With Philip McChesney of Moorestown, funeral director in charge.

BAIRD TO WAR ON LABOR 'RACKETS'

Declares "Honest Labor Deserves Every Consideration From Public Officials"

David Baird, Jr. has served notice on racketeering labor leaders that he will use every resource to drive them from the state when he is elected governor.

Mr. Baird, who worked as a common laborer for several years after his graduation from college, is determined that every possible energy be devoted to preserve for the laborers all the rights and privileges that "they so honestly earn." He vigorously denounced so-called leaders who prey upon those who are unable to defend themselves and their jobs and as a result are either coerced into paying tribute of various kinds or of losing their means of supporting themselves and their dependents.

"Honest labor deserves every consideration from public officials," said "I will always be ready, as I have in the past, to talk fairly with such labor leaders as Arthur A. Quinn, president of the State Federation of Labor, and attempt to bring our minds together on all possible difficulties."

"I will not, I could not, out of my sense of fairness and honesty, be a party to any proposal sponsored and supported by men who for their own personal gain make a racket out of the toil of laboring men. If there are any of those men who expect me to assist in the solution of their problems by such association, I do not want their vote. But I will seek out the advice of such men as Senator Quinn every time."

"The honest toil of the laborers never paid my income tax," concluded the candidate.

Senator Baird praised highly, at the convention of the State Federation of Labor in Camden, the work of Senator Quinn in behalf of labor. He recalled that several times they had sat across the table together in an effort to solve one problem or another.

"We were not always able to agree," said Mr. Baird, "but we were always honest with each other."

Considerable falling out from the support of Mr. Baird's Democratic opponent was reported after his appearance in Camden when he alleged that the Republican organization there was responsible for certain so-called irregularities.

The Democrat's charge became a bone of contention, when records were cited to show that appointees of his had utterly despised the recommendations of juries and the citizenry generally. It was pointed out that a jurist appointed during the incumbency of the Democrat had during one term levied fines of nearly $18,000 and had remitted all of them but less than $2,000.

BREAKDOWN REVEALS BEER TRUCK CARGO

A broken-down motor, a truck filled with beer and a state trooper brought trouble to William Deitch, of 212 Market street, Perth Amboy, Arraigned before Supreme Court Commissioner Howard G. Stockhouse in Mount Holly, Deitch was held in $3,000 bail on charges of transportation and possession of liquor. The truck, which was turned over to George Hillman, liquor collector of Burlington county, was registered in the name of Richard Strogan, of 333 State street, Perth Amboy.

MT. HOLLY TO REMOVE TRAFFIC BOOTH MENACE

Another of Mount Holly's landmarks, a traffic booth, is doomed. It divided traffic on the old town-square at the intersection of Mill, Washington and Main streets. As a result of traffic officers narrowly escaping injury in the booth the township committee has ordered its removal. A flag pole once stood in the center of the square. That was followed by a fish market and then the fountain but the traffic booth succeeded the drinking place for horses with the advent of the automobile.

TOWNSHIP GETS 'GAS' TAX FUNDS

First Payment From State Motor Fuel Receipts Amounts to $1,418.16

The regular meeting of Moorestown Township Committee in Town Hall Monday evening was one of the most quiet held in months. There was very little business for the Town Fathers to transact and even with the Board of Health to assist in addition to the regular meeting, to take up time Chairman F. W. Grube rounded the gavel for adjournment shortly after 9:30.

Total receipts for the month of August, as reported by Collector J. Harry Barcklow, amounted to $8,749.62. Of this amount, $1,418.16 was from the Motor Fuel Tax fund, the first payment of this kind the township has received from the state.

The application and plans for a gasoline filling station at the North-east corner of Mount Laurel Road and State Highway Route 28 was received and public hearing on the proposed station, in accordance with a township ordinance, was set for Monday evening, September 28, at Town Hall. Francis J. Curry, owner of the property, made the application.

Recorder Joseph W. Johnson reported lines in the amount of $100 collected for the month of August. Of this amount, the township received only $30, the balance going to the state and county.

Henry J. Sherman, township engineer, will endeavor to get state aid in having Marter avenue and the northern end of Lenox Road repaved.

In a letter, Arthur Adams, Beverly, asked the Town Fathers to appoint a local committee to assist in preparing for the celebration of the two hundredth birthday of George Washington. The Committee referred the matter to the local lodge of the P. G. S. of A.

WOMEN'S GUILD MEETS TONIGHT

The Women's Guild of the Epworth M. E. Church will hold its regular meeting in the Guild room of the church this evening.

The evening will be known as "President's Night" and the present president, as well as all past presidents will take part in a very interesting program.

Mrs. George Cornwell was first president of the organization. Mrs. William Powers was second. Mrs. Walter L. Lamont, third and Mrs. J. C. Meloy is now president of the guild.

Mrs. Robert K. Snow will have charge of games and refreshments will be served.

All members of the guild are urged to attend, as one of the most interesting meetings ever held has been planned for this occasion.

SENATOR POWELL TO DEDICATE MT. HOLLY'S NEW TOWN BUILDING

The township committee is making plans for the dedication of Mount Holly's new municipal building on Saturday, September 26.

State Senator Clifford R. Powell will make the dedicatory address. The new building will be accepted by Francis O. Durand, chairman of the township committee. A flag will be presented by Washington Council, No. 5, Jr. O. U. A. M. and an address made by one of its members.

The festivities will start in the afternoon with a parade to be made up of organizations, citizens and of bands. Music will be furnished by the Community band and Red Hot band. After the parades have assembled at the new building, the ceremonies will be held by members of the township committee.

LEGION FOR REPEAL

State Convention at Shore Votes Against Prohibition

The American Legion, Department of New Jersey, went on record last Saturday as favoring the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment.

The delegates voted by an overwhelming majority of 499 to 72 in favor of a resolution calling for a definite stand against the prohibition law. Forty-five refused to vote.

The delegates also voted down a proposal that demand be made on the government to allow former servicemen to borrow the full amount of their adjusted compensation certificates.

The delegates voted to hold the 1932 convention in Canada.

BELIEVE YOUTH IS NOW IN FLORIDA

Young Cottrell Is Traced to Southern State by Chief Bradshaw

James Cottrell, sixteen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cottrell, 104 West Second street, Moorestown, who has been missing from his home since Tuesday of last week, is now in Florida according to Chief of Police John H. Bradshaw, who has been directing the search for the youth.

Young Cottrell had been home from Look Island, where he worked this summer, only two days when he disappeared. Chief Bradshaw was notified of the youth's disappearance late Wednesday and soon had the police of New Jersey, Pennsylvania, and New York searching for him.

The youths' description was sent over the state police teletype system and his picture appeared in metropolitan papers.

Young Cottrell's parents first feared that their son had been responsible for their son's disappearance, for they knew of no reason why he should leave home without telling them of his destination.

Chief Bradshaw learned that the youth is probably in Florida early this week from a source that he has not revealed. The police of the southern state are being requested to continue the search for Cottrell, the chief reports.

Joseph Marry, of St. Louis, ate 24 hard-boiled eggs in 24 minutes and collected $50 for finishing within the hour.

"STOP STREETS" INSTEAD OF TRAFFIC LIGHTS

The marked tendency on the part of the new State Traffic Commission to eliminate automatic traffic control lights should not greatly concern municipal authorities, many of whom are expressing fears for the safety of motorists when the signals are taken down.

Any official who visited Ocean City this summer should have noted the effective manner in which traffic was handled—and generally without the assistance of traffic lights or policemen.

The shore resort enforces the state law regarding Stop Streets. Main streets are designated as "through" streets, while the cross avenues are "stop" streets.

Drivers know they will be arrested and fined if they are caught not bringing their cars to a complete stop before crossing a Stop Street. No doubt is left in their minds as to which car has the right of way.

Many municipalities now have lights at unimportant intersections. These signals serve only to congest traffic, unnecessarily holding up cars in many cases, and they should be removed.

The Stop Street system should be more largely used in communities in this section. Its effectiveness, of course, lies in the enforcement of the law. If municipal authorities will put up Stop Street signs and let the motorists know they are there for a purpose, many of the lights may be torn down without hazarding life or property.

FOOD

Henry Ford's order that every married man employ his own vegetable garden next year is an interesting experiment which will be criticized by several different kinds of people. Commission men and dealers in garden produce will see in it a possible loss of good markets. And the people who think that an employer has no right to dictate to his employees about anything except their actual work in the factory will regard this order as an invasion of the individual worker's rights.

My own view is that the results of the Iron Mountain experiment, if records are carefully kept, as I assume they will be, may prove to be the most powerful stimulus to the general movement away from the cities and back to the economic independence of the small landholder who raises most of what he and his family consume.

WORK

In my home county, Berkshire, Massachusetts, there are three important industries. One of the General Electric's manufacturing plants is at Pittsfield, the county seat, or as the oldtimers call it, the "shire town." Nearly all the writing paper used in America is made in the mills along the Housatonic river, including the paper on which the Federal Government prints money and bonds. And the limestone quarries of Lee, Adams and West Stockbridge in good years pay the New Haven railroad a quarter of a million dollars in freight charges on building and agricultural lime.

None of these industries is running on full time these days, but we see and hear little evidence of anything approaching real distress. One of my nearest neighbors has eleven children at home, three more married. He works in a paper mill when it is running, sells the milk from ten cows through the local branch of the Dairyman's League, grows feed for the cows and a pen of pigs on his hundred acres, besides cutting enough cordwood every winter to keep his house warm. He is a lot better off than the city worker who has nothing to fall back on.

ENGLAND

The fall of the Labor Government in England and the desertion of the Labor Party by Ramsay MacDonald and other leaders does not necessarily mean the end of the Socialist movement in Great Britain, but it does mean that the efforts to force social and economic changes faster than they can be paid for has failed. The trouble with almost every movement for social reform is that its proponents want to change everything instantly.

Great Britain's new Government is pledged to balance the budget—that is to cut down governmental expenses to a point where the income from all sources of taxation will meet them. That will show up such reforms as employment insurance and the national housing program, but it will keep England out of bankruptcy and help restore world trade, which in the long run probably will be just as beneficial for the workers. It takes more than one generation to change the course of social progress.

THRIFT

The president of the largest savings bank in America is advising his 240,000 depositors to stop hoarding up their money to draw out and spend it for things which they will need later and which they can buy cheaper now than at any time since the war. That is good advice. True thrift consists not in hoarding cash but in spending wisely. There never was a time when money will meet them for a long time, better opportunity to buy a home, for example, or the equipment and furnishings of a home, or any of the other necessary things which do not lose their value with the passage of time. And every dollar spent now hastens the day when the dollars will again circulate freely.

AGE

The average American is older than he used to be. Twenty years ago our average national age was about twenty-three; now it is about twenty-seven. Not so many children, grown-ups living longer.

This change is bound to be reflected in every phase of life. We will tend to take a more reasoned, less emotional view of social, political and economic matters, for example. We probably will lose as a nation some of the pioneering, adventurous spirit of youth. We will grow to value security more than excitement. There were boys of twenty-one among the leaders of our Revolution, the signers of our Declaration of Independence, the drafters of our Constitution. Today we look on a man of thirty as rather too young for the serious responsibilities of government. We are in danger of becoming stodgy and conservative, as a nation, unless more young men force their way to the front as political leaders.

"I'D BE A BUTTERFLY"

By Thomas Haynes Bayly

I'd be a Butterfly born in a bower,
Where roses and lilies and violets meet,
Roving forever from flower to flower,
And kissing all buds that are pretty and sweet!

I'd never languish for wealth, or for power,
I'd be ever sigh to see slaves at my feet.

I'd be a Butterfly born in a bower,
Kissing all buds that are pretty
and sweet.

O could I pluck the wand of a fairy,
I'd sleep in a rose when the night buds sing.

Their summer days' ramble is sportive and airy,
Those who have wealth must be watchful and wary.

Power, alas! naught but misery brings,
I'd be a Butterfly, sportive and airy, Rocked in a rose when the night-
buds sing!

What though you tell me each day
I'm a rover, Shrinks from the breath of the first autumn day.

Surely I'd better when summer is over,
To die when all fair things are fading away.

Means of procuring a weary delay,
I'd be a Butterfly, being a rover, Dying when fair things are fading away!

WAY OF LIFE

BY

BRUCE BARTON

Nothing is more interesting than to hear successful men reminisce about their careers. Recently, after a golf game, I had such an opportunity.

My companions were well-known lawyers.

One of them said: "I wasn't much of a student in college. I played on both the football and baseball teams and I managed to graduate and go on through law school."

"My first job was in the office of a country lawyer in a small city in Pennsylvania. There I really did work, preparing cases and trying them, and doing my best to master the profession."

"I could look forward to earning enough to marry on, but could see no chance of ever escaping from that small town."

"One Christmas I visited my folks in Boston, and while I was there a friend told me that a certain lawyer would like to meet me. I called at his office the next morning. We chatted for about an hour and then out of clear sky he offered me a partnership. I was flabbergasted, but I managed to stifle an acceptance. I started in with him a month later. In that firm I spent ten very happy and profitable years."

"One day I summoned up courage to ask him how he ever happened to make me such an offer on so short an acquaintance."

"He answered me simply: 'He said that for years he had been able to secure more business than he could properly handle. As a business matter he was a star, as an organizer of an efficient force he was a failure. He had hired brilliant young chaps out of law school, but somehow they never developed as he hoped. Being brilliant, they expected to get results easily, and if they were disappointed a couple of times in court it broke their spirit.'"

"One night he went home and sat down before the fire to analyze his situation. He decided to look for an entirely different type of man, he listed the qualifications."

"The man must not be too smart. He must have the habit of working hard on his results."

"He must have been in college athletics, trained to fight for victory, and to keep up his chin in defeat."

"Having made this list, the lawyer asked his friends to recommend men who met the qualifications. One of them named me, and the lawyer remembered that he had once seen a football game in which I was badly knocked up but was still able to carry the ball across the line for a touch down."

"You see, my friend concluded it was that one little thing to which I never attached the slightest importance that made my whole career."

"When you hear stories like this and I have heard many of them, it makes you think that there are no little things. No operation is so momentous that a man can refuse to give it his best."

MASONVILLE MAN HELD FOR RECKLESS DRIVING

John Duggan, of Masonville, charged with reckless driving of his car was committed to jail at Mount Holly for 30 days in default of a fine of $25 imposed by Justice of the Peace George W. Perkins of Haverhill. He was arrested by Chief William Fuchs at Delanco.

"Four armed men attempted to hold up Edward Fielding, thirty-seven, 300 Park avenue, Woodlynne, N. J. while he was sitting in an automobile with a friend at Delaware avenue and George Street, one block from the Pennsylvania ferry terminal, Camden, today." Phila. Bulletin. Attempted? They ought to hire Eddie to drive the gangsters out of New York.

In harmony with the prevailing custom of letting other people do your work, we asked Bill Robinson, the world's most rhythmic dancer, who is playing the Globe with his own show, "Hot from Harlem," to tell us the funniest incident in his career. After thinking a few minutes, he told us this one, which happens to be on Putney Dandridge, who plays a piano so "hot" that it makes a full ball couple look like an antique machine. When Bill and Putney were playing Chi last year, Putney fell for a cute little chorus girl, named Miriam, who didn't seem to resent Putney's attentions in the least. After they finished the engagement Putney told Bill, who had the tickets for N. Y., to look on without him as he had decided to settle down in Chi. Then Putney went the way of all flesh viz. up to see his girl. "Now ain't this sumptin?" said Putney. "I've decided to stay in Chi for good, how would you like for me to go on playing for you from now on?" "Well," said the fickle thing, "that would be O. K., but I like your boss dancing much better." Putney caught the next train for N. Y.

Bill also told us about a "One Eyed Connolly" who tried to crash his show at the Globe. "I am Bill's cousin," said the zucker. So he was taken over to Bill. "Nothin' doing," said Bill. "he is no kin of mine." So he was gently ushered back into the lobby. "What is the matter bud?" asked a man who was standing in the lobby. "That cousin Bill of mine is putting on the Barrymore since he got on top," replied the zucker. "but I can still dance rings around him. Why the only reason Martin Forkins used him in 'Brown Boudies' was because I wouldn't work for the money and recommended Bill." The man standing in the lobby happened to be Marty Forkins himself. And, oh yes, the zucker was escorted out of the lobby—but not too gently.

TOMATO JUICE COCKTAIL

Ten years ago, who had heard of tomato juice cocktail? Three or four years ago it was still something of a novelty. But now at any restaurant or luncheon you can get it as the first course for luncheon or dinner.

You can make it by pressing out the juice of very ripe fresh tomatoes. You may prefer to use the juice of canned tomatoes, or to buy your cocktail all ready prepared. If you use the plain juice you will have to season it a little with salt, pepper, onion juice, lemon juice and possibly a very little tomato catsup. A nice way of preparing it is to use tomato puree, which may be bought at any grocery store in small tins. Add equal parts water, season well with salt, lemon juice, onion juice, etc., and chill well and the cocktail is ready.

To be at its best tomato juice cocktail should be well chilled. It is not enough merely to pour the unchilled cocktail in the glasses set in chopped ice. The juice itself should have been chilled several hours before serving and on no account should ice

For the benefit of those who don't know, the correct version of a classical little gem that has been going the rounds of the papers lately is as follows, and should be credited to the British Eugenical Journal:

"Oh, see the happy moron; He doesn't give a darn; I wish I were a Moron—Mgawd, perhaps I am!"

Yes, Morgan Cook used it last March, and so did we—and gave the proper credit.

While we are on the subject, we would like to advise struggling young local columnists (?), who are incompetent of writing their own stuff, that the alteration of a couple of words does not alter the fact that plagiarism has been committed.

From the putrid pun pantry: Many true words are spoken in jest the right time.

BOILED BACON

Select a piece of bacon of moderate fatness and let it soak in warm water for two hours. Now scrape off any rusty places. Put the bacon in a saucepan with cold water and let it come to a boil. Then simmer it, allowing an hour for a pound piece, and an hour and a half for a two-pound piece. When done, remove from the saucepan, take off the skin, and serve with any desired vegetable as a dinner dish.

SPANISH OMELET

A well-made and well-seasoned Spanish omelet is a lunch in itself. Melt a tablespoon of butter in a saucepan, add an onion chopped fine, six mushrooms and one red and one green sweet pepper cut in small pieces. Cover and cook slowly for 20 minutes. Make a plain omelet from six eggs, turn it on a hot platter, pour the Spanish sauce around it and send at once to the table. Spanish omelet is sometimes made by American cooks from stiffly beaten eggs, the yolks hardly mixed with the whites even after they are cooked.

PUSHCART SPEAKEASY

Everybody in the country knows how easy New York is on Volstead Law offenders. The city is said to have 30,000 speakeasies. Whatever the actual number, it is one less than it was.

In other words, Herman Castro, 312 West 114th street, a pushcart peddler, was seen acting suspiciously on a Harlem street, and Policeman Nolan investigated. He says he found Castro peddling liquor at 25 cents a drink to curbstone customers. Castro was sentenced for peddling with out a license.

A VICTORIOUS PLEA

Another pushcart peddler, Isaac Schwake, was caught selling ice cream on the beach at Coney Island with out a license. He had no defense. When he appeared before Magistrate Sabbatino and was asked to plead guilty or not guilty, he hesitated.

Then he dug in an inside pocket produced a photograph of his wife and six children and tendered it to the judge. The judge gazed at the picture and then at Schwake. "I've got six children myself," said His Honor. "Case dismissed."

A FASHION TIP

Ray Martin, a friendless Negro, was caught selling whiskey under the boardwalk at Rockaway Beach, and thrown into jail.

He was attired simply, as the fashion writers say, in a one-piece green bathing suit. For 26 days he languished in the loose gown, scowling faint. Finally he was hauled before Federal Judge Sheppard.

Martin was plainly embarrassed when he appeared before Judge Sheppard. In spite of the fact he had borrowed a duster from a policeman to cover his bathing suit when he appeared in court. Half laughing and half crying, he begged the judge to allow him to go home and get some clothes before he was tried.

Touched by his predicament, Judge Sheppard relented, fined him $1 and Martin paid it and streaked it for home while onlookers yelled with glee.

"Judge's Josh."

"Some say love is a chemical reaction." "Well, we can all conduct our own laboratory experiments."

"Does your grandma wear a full beard?" "No, he's always careful when he eats."

Mr. Littleton—What's the idea? These shirts are three sizes too big for me. You know my size. Mrs. Littleton—Well, the big sizes don't cost any more than the little ones, and I'm not going to have any more shirts know what a shame I'm married to.

WOMAN TO BE TRIED FOR CONFIDENCE GAME

Marion Edwards, alias Lillian Myers, who was released Monday from a woman's reformatory in New York, will be brought to Mount Holly for trial in connection with the robbery of Mary Robinson, Beverly, two years ago. The woman was indicted with J. Strain, and serving three years in prison at Trenton. Strain and the woman are alleged to have fleeced Mrs. Robinson of her life savings in a confidence game. Detective Clinton Zeller went to the reformatory Monday for the woman, carrying extradition papers obtained by Ellis H. Parker, chief of Burlington county detectives.

FREEHOLDERS ASKED TO TAKE OVER MOUNT HOLLY STREET

The Northampton township committee made a request to the board of Freeholders last Friday, that South avenue, Mount Holly, be taken over by the county. This avenue is at the extreme south end of Northampton township and extends from Madison avenue to Pine street and South Penderbent road. Ever since it was opened it has been a drain on the township's road account, and it is claimed by the township officials that the road is used very little by the residence of the county. The road is continually in need of repairs. The proposition was referred to Charles R. Stout, head of the county road department.

'Star Gazer' Invites Public to Visit Him

G. H. Lutz, an engineer employed at Philadelphia, is an amateur astronomer and has set up at his home what he believes to be the largest privately owned refractor telescope in the state. Mr. Lutz has erected his telescope, which is ten feet long and is of the observatory type, at his home on Park Boulevard, Moorestown, the first house east of the Delaware River. He has a telescope, and says that anyone is welcome to visit him and enjoy the use of the telescope any clear evening.

The amateur "star gazer" says the invitation is open to everyone. Because school children or older folks, to visit him and enjoy the use of the telescope free of charge. He suggests that persons call him, Moorestown 937, in order that they are certain that he is at home before making the trip to his residence.

PLANE TALKS

By LI. H. LONGAKER
Founder, Burlington County Aero Club

The Air Carnival we told you about in the September 2 issue of this paper has been changed to the dates of Saturday and Sunday, September 26 and 27 and will be for the benefit of the social service department of the Burlington County Hospital. Special ticket rates of $1.00 per person will be in effect both days and tickets are offered for sale now in all towns in Burlington County. Chief Pilot Jim Erdman and former Senator Emmet Roberts will do all the passenger flying so you will be assured of a good flight and, of course, a safe one. Buy your tickets now and add a worthy cause.

You all remember Martin Jensen who flew the ship, "Aloha" to Hawaii and who later bought the "Aloha" to one air mail in 1928. Well, Martin is coming back for the Air Carnival in a new training plane designed and built by himself. Jensen put on a show at the Philadelphia airport with his new ship during the past weekend that made them all sit up and take notice. The feature alone is worth going miles to see but wait, we have many more for you.

The famous Freddie Lund, stunt flier par excellence, has been invited to be on hand and has promised Jim Erdman to put on all the tricks in his bag, including the outside loop, inverted eight, etc. How's that sound? Keep on reading.

Please remember this, the Burlington County Aero Club is holding on this air carnival for one reason only and that is to have you take a flight. You will not only greatly enjoy your flight, but you will be helping the social service department of the Burlington County Hospital. We want to keep our ships flying, and we want to put on all the tricks in our bag, including the outside loop, inverted eight, etc. How's that sound? Keep on reading.

The Lindbergh Flying Service of Central Airport is conducting by sending up a flock of ships and student pilots for the private pilot one of their aims to do some road stunting and three body birds, who in person are Miss Alva Powell, Miss Anna Jones and Mrs. Thibault.

And here is another one for you. Mrs. Martin (Prissy) Jensen will accompany her famous husband to the carnival and go aloft in one of our ships each day just to prove to you that there is more than one flyer in the county. And believe me, the Jensens can fly airplanes.

Here is an item that will be of real interest to everybody. By attending the air carnival you will see demonstration of the Kellett Autogiro. We have been assured by Robert Lees, sales manager of the Kellett Autogiro Corporation of Philadelphia, that he will send over a Kellett Autogiro both days. Now I ask you, isn't that something?

Watch the skies next Monday. Simon Myers, genial and ever-willing to cooperate, manager of the Critteron Theatre, Moorestown, will take to the air in a Burlington County Aero Club ship piloted by Jim Erdman and distribute several thousand circulars advertising the motion picture, "Drigible," showing at the Critteron Theatre, Thursday and Friday, September 24 and 25. The circulars will include a lot of "lucky numbers," which will entitle the finders to free movie tickets and free airplane rides.

BURLINGTON BASEBALL PLAYER HURT IN GAME

A baseball player was severely injured late Saturday afternoon when he was struck by a pitched ball while batting for Burlington in a hotly contested game with Vincentown. William Army, 24, of St. Marks street, Burlington, suffered a concussion of the brain when "beamed" by a ball thrown by Carl Bowker, Vincentown pitcher. He remained unconscious two hours before being revived by Dr. John S. Conroy, city physician, at the city emergency hospital. He was removed to his home.

INCENDIARY HUNTED IN MOUNT HOLLY BLAZE

The report of a neighbor that he saw a man fleeing from the scene caused an investigation Saturday of a fire which destroyed a bungalow on the Rancocas at the foot of Shreve street, Mount Holly. The bungalow, formerly the property of Francis O. Durand, chairman of the Mount Holly township committee, but now owned by a Philadelphia fraternal organization, was razed at 7 o'clock Saturday morning, at a loss of $8000. Ivins Green, the neighbor, was awakened by the flames, he told the police and saw a man running from the blazing building. He gasped, he said, but was outdistanced. He turned in an alarm and the four Mount Holly fire companies responded. The structure was beyond saving when they arrived. The deed for the bungalow bears the name of H. E. Kauffman, of Philadelphia.

Mr. William W. Wymann, of North Church street, has returned home from the West Jersey Hospital, Camden, where he recently underwent an operation. Her condition is greatly improved.

Raymond Holdcraft, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Holdcraft, of Munipia avenue, underwent an operation for appendicitis at the West Jersey Hospital, Camden, on Monday. He is doing as well as can be expected.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Wallace of East Second street, are spending two weeks in Seaside Park. Their guests are Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Roberts and family, of Mount Holly.

Mr. William E. Ward, Mrs. Elizabeth Acker, Mrs. Alice Jones, and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Marks of Moorestown, attended the American Legion Auxiliary convention in Atlantic City on Saturday.

Mrs. James Dolly and children of West Third street, and her mother and sister, Mrs. George A. Reiger and Miss Florence Berner of Riverside, have returned from a three weeks' vacation in Atlantic City.

The choir of the Methodist Episcopal Church will hold its first rehearsal of the winter season on Friday night, in the church, with the choir master, John A. Leo, in charge.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars, in its program of expansion throughout Burlington county, will take action to form a post in Moorestown, as well as in several other towns in this vicinity. The committee is awaiting word from state headquarters giving it full power to go ahead with the work.

Mrs. Mary Martin has returned from Centralia, Pa. where she has been spending the past three weeks to her home on West Third street.

Richard Haas, Sr., of North Church street, who has been under a special let's care since undergoing an operation in August, will probably undergo another operation this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Adam C. Felch, of Lenola, motored to Heading over the weekend.

William Armstrong, Jr. of the Club Estates, son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Armstrong, left Sunday to resume his studies at Penn State. He is a junior.

Miss Esther Crider, of Lenola, spent the weekend in Ocean City as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Wallace of Haddonfield.

Mrs. Lillian Dorsey, of Lenola, is convalescing after an operation.

Arthur Beck, Mrs. Catherine Malloy and daughter, Doris, of Philadelphia, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Gubris, of West Main street.

Are We Preparing For War or Peace?

The tragedy of the last World War is easily grasped even by those of us who were too young to take part in it. In human beings killed in actual combat it meant the equivalent of wiping out our town of Moorestown three times a day for over four years that is over 4000 times. It was for the poverty actually destroyed, we would have had to pay $20,000 every hour ever since the birth of Christ over 800 years ago. That is enough to make anyone hesitate.

But the possibilities of another war are even more challenging. This year the countries of the world are spending almost $5,000,000,000 on armaments, a 70% increase. However, estimates over the year 1931 when we called Europe an armed camp. Yes, the United States spent $2,000,000,000 on its army, navy and air forces and today $2,500,000,000 more. In fact, that is the average daily expenditure of our Government this year, the largest expenditure on preparations for war that any country has ever spent in peace time in its history of mankind.

It is high time to stop and think what that means. Obviously it means that we are spending tremendous sums on something that is doing us comparatively little concrete good in a time when we can little afford to. That is the army dropping fifty bombs on the good ship "Mount Shasta" and even then they failed to sink her; didn't keep our salaries from being cut or help us pay our bills. It only helped increase our Government's debt and our taxes.

Why, then, do we do it? Well, many say that these $2,000,000,000 a day are our premiums on an insurance policy against war. It is strange how quickly we forget that tremendous armament was one of the chief causes of the last war and that the countries most heavily armed lost the most. It is not an insurance against war but of war if history teaches us anything.

Others say that we must arm to self-defense and perhaps that is true if we are going to continue antagonizing everyone with our tariff and tariff and war debt policy, but even so here is another very real question. Is it possible to defend the United States from terrible destruction if another war came? Perhaps so, but General Foulis came to the conclusion after the air maneuvers last May that if any country got an air base within 500 miles of any one of our great cities along the Atlantic seaboard that city was doomed. Just think what that means. Lord Thomas, son of a similar conclusion in 1927 when his 30 bombing planes dropped oranges on every one of their objectives in London in spite of being outnumbered by more than three to one by the defending planes and ships. Perhaps the ninety bombs the planes under control of this summer over at Hinto, Pa. are meant for more than defending our cities—they are each capable of dropping 2,000 pounds of explosives, gas and disease germ bombs, enough to wipe out whole cities. We must recognize this.

We might well remember the conclusion of the expert commission appointed by the International Red Cross to discover ways and means of side, for the unemployed resulted in Neil Deighan's Old Mill team beating the Charlie's Cafe team by the score of 17 to 2.

In the first inning the "Old Millery" went to bat first and batted around to open the game with four runs. Tracy walked. Krepps singled and Neil Deighan singled. Neil Deighan walked forcing in a run. Neil Deighan slammed a safety which scored two. Conroy scored when Hubbs made a wild pitch.

One, Two, Three
Harry Black opened for the Cafe team and was tossed out at first.
Black took three healthy swings and retired. Jolley popped up to Conroy.
The second frame was the big one for the Old Mill waiters.

Tracy led off with a single. Krepps fled out. Neil Deighan homered a double off cross fire Hubbs delivery scoring Tracy. Conroy singled scoring Rich. Neil Deighan was safe on an error and Schaub walked filling the sacks. Shorten doubled scoring three runs. Wolf lifted one for an out. Mulligan singled scoring Shorten.
Tracy up for the second time singled and scored with Mulligan on Krepps long hit on an error.
Rich Deighan was put out at first unassisted.

Russell (Lena) Blackburne walked to start the home boys. Foulkes was thrown out at first. Foulkes singled and then Schaub forced Neil at a pitched ball and Schaub's single scored Hubbs. Hubbs singled but was forced at second. Black popped up to first.

Millers Add Two Runs
Conroy was safe on an error, but Neil Deighan forced him at second and then Schaub forced Neil at the keyhole sack leaving one man on base. Tom Shorten stepped into one and ended the sacks to score Schaub ahead of him.

Jolley popped up a foul fly to the catcher for the first home team out.
Blackburne fired one to center but Tracy was there to get it for the second out. Foulkes was retired via the assist route at first base.

The fourth inning saw Deighan's boys add another marker to the score.
Mulligan first up, doubled. Tracy was out at first. Krepps poked a single and scored Mulligan. Rich Deighan and Conroy both lifted flies for the other two outs.

Butt, opened with a single for Charlie's old timers. Peacock singled but Schaub and Black all fled out to end the frame.

Fifth Inning Scoreless
Neil Deighan fired a single for the Old Mill. The fifth but Neil held to third on Schaub's double.
Shorten was tossed out at first and Schaub was caught off second. Lennon fanned.

Neil Deighan failed to hit safely to start the final frame for the visitors but Schaub stepped up to beast one to the fence for the Millers second homer. Shorten fanned and Lennon popped up.

Two hits and a walk failed to boost the Cafe boys score. Neil walked and Kern forced him at second. Diel forced Kern at the halfway station.
Eddie Williams punched hit for Foulkes but also forced a man at the keyhole for the third out.

Peacock singled in the home half after Butt was retired. Stack popped one up and Kettler singled but Kern-merle rolled one to the pitcher who threw to first for the third out.

Many thanks are extended to the men who gave their time to make this game possible and also to those who attended and contributed to the cause. About $65 was taken up in the collection.

VETERAN HOCKEY PLAYERS RETURN TO PALMYRA HIGH

Nine From 1930 Squad Practising Daily With Crop of New Candidates

HOPE TO REGAIN SOUTH JERSEY CHAMPIONSHIP

Backfield Hit by Graduation
But Goalie-Captain Returns;
Forward Line Intact

Palmyra High School girls are rapidly preparing themselves for a strenuous hockey season, and under the coaching of Miss Grace E. Dugan, hope to regain the hockey championship which they relinquished last year.

Only six of last year's varsity squad have been lost by graduation and nine have returned to form an excellent basis for a formidable team this year.
A large squad of additional candidates have been going through their paces since school opened last week and all are confident of having a successful season on the hockey field.

For the first time in several years, the Palmyra maids met defeat in their opening game of the season last year, losing to Philadelphia by a 2-1 tally.
A 2-2 stalemate by Woodbury and another 2-1 defeat, this time by Collinswood, lost the title for the "Pals" last season.

Six regulars had been lost to the team last year in addition to several substitute players, and the lack of reserve power was commonly thought to be the cause for the loss of the championship.

With the same number of players lost this year, of which only four were regulars, the outlook for the Palmyra hockey team is exceptionally bright.
Several of the veterans, this will be the fourth year of competition in South Jersey League circles, and practically all have seen three years of service on the Palmyra team.

Captain Esther Reeves will handle the backfield exceptionally this year, and remains almost the only backfield veteran on the squad, since four of last year's players were on the defensive end of the team.

The forward line remains intact, with the veterans Helen Young, Mary McAnulty, Christine Green, Geedie
Baker, and Myrtle Harmon, remaining to carry the attack.

halfback position last year, is the lone backfield luminary to return. Several members of the 1930 squad, who have not received as much experience as the others, will probably be groomed to fill the defensive vacancies.

Fowler, Mary Rhoades and Ruth Brown, are the three from last season who have seen some action as substitutes and will probably make the grade this year.

Following the same policy as last year, Miss Dugan is assuring no one of a position and all candidates have an equal chance until the first game of the season. The never-say-die spirit of the coach has become contagious and the players have high hopes of regaining the hockey supremacy of South Jersey.

SPORT SLANTS OF AN OUTSIDER By I. C. LITTLE

New Sports for The Autumn Season

With the opening of schools throughout the country, general interest is turning to football and hockey. Baseball is making a last fight to hold the attention of the sport-loving public and, with the pennants in both major leagues practically won, is only fairly successful.

Local sport fans are interested chiefly in the doings of school football eleven, while the girls are directing their attention to their fall sport, hockey.

Burlington county persons are showing more interest in the gridiron sport than in the other, mainly because of the existence of the County Football League which was formed last year. Moorestown and Palmyra are the only schools which have sponsored girls' hockey teams and both play teams from more distant sections of South Jersey.

Interest Grows in County Football

Football enthusiasts are eagerly awaiting the opening of the season. The power which Riverside showed last year in its first year as a four-year high school is still kept in mind by devotees of the grid sport.

Burlington, which team lost by a single contest last season, and that to Vineland, Class A champions, has plenty of veterans back to make another formidable machine. They are handicapped, however, by having to work with a new coach, "Reds" Buchanan, who is tutoring in Pennsylvania, was a man who could teach the fundamentals of the game, and not discrediting the ability of Al Rundle, the new coach, we believe he will be working under somewhat of a disadvantage until he "establishes" himself with the candidates under him. Whether he can do that before the important games of a grid season are played is conjectural.

At Moorestown, Paul Isenberg seems to have a fast but light squad. The Quaker institution has always been known to have teams very much of the same type and the coach has met the problem by depending on a flashy forward passing attack. Burlington, several years ago, had an aerial attack which was spectacular, but it is almost a sure bet that no school has consistently turned out a team which was drilled better in aerial play than that of Moorestown.

Coach Ken Diamond, at Palmyra, has a veteran squad back from last year, despite the fact that eleven letter-men were lost through graduation. He, too, it seems, must rely on light players. Whether he will assume the same attitude as the Quaker coach and develop a team which can threaten by an overhead attack cannot be said at present.

In the past few years, the defensive plans and the aggressive tactics of the "Pals" in an overhead offensive have been weak, and numerous touchdowns have been scored by rival passes. Fortunate this year in having one of the best passing backs in South Jersey, it remains to be seen whether Diamond will make full use of him, or whether he will attempt to develop a line-crumbling team with a squad which is considerably lighter than that of last season.

Burlington, 8; Vincetown, 4.

Waiting until the final game of the season, the R. D. Wood team, of Florence, annexed the second half championship in the Burlington County Baseball League by trouncing Riverside last Saturday, 11 to 6.

Burlington, who had a chance to tie the Woodmen for the league lead if the Florence nine should lose, was also victorious in its game with Vin-cetown, winning by a 4-0 count.

The triumph for the Woodmen, however, settled the second round leadership and the Florence nine will now meet the Medford Olympics, first half winners, in a post season series to decide the championship. The first game in the series is set for Saturday afternoon.

The second half champs found the delivery of Schele, Riverside hurler, very much to their liking, pounding 21 hits off his choicest slants. Seven of the wallopers went for extra bases, and all the players with the exception of Gilbert and Woodington had a share in the run-making.

Everham not only held his opponents well in check but was also the leading stickmen for his team, pounding out four hits, of which three were doubles, in five appearances at the plate. Frappoli and Woodington proved to be men of merit with the wilow, each of them also accounting for four bingles.

The winners crossed the plate in all but three innings, making their biggest splash in the eighth frame when they scored five times. Only one of their number was retired on strike, while Everham fanned seven of the Riverside players.

Kean was the big gun in the Burlington-Vincetown game, the red-haired pitcher not only holding his foes to eight hits but also breaking off a homer and a single on his own account. Bowler matched the slugging performance of his rival fliner but was unable to duplicate the pitching feat, the Burls accounting for eleven safe wallopers.

GIRL SCOUTS HOLD EXCELLENT MEET

Leaders Begin Training Newcomers in Tenderfoot Work;
Will Meet Mon. Evening

The Palmyra Girl Scouts held their first meeting of the year in the league room of Epworth M. E. Church.
The twenty-five girls present were assigned to patrols under the leadership of First Class Scouts. Ruth Brown, Rose La Goldman, Thelma Cromell and Evelyn Sprunkel.

The older girls began immediately the training of the new girls in their tenderfoot work. Each patrol chose a name for itself, to be announced at next Monday's meeting and discussed patrol emblems which the members of each patrol will wear on their uniforms.

Vacation Experiences Half a dozen of the scouts gave brief accounts of their experiences at camp this summer. They all told of jolly times, new friends, swiming and plans to go again next year.

The Palmyra troop was represented at the Philadelphia Girl Scout Camp "Tall Trees" and the Camden County Camp "Mintick." A group of first and second class scouts will have a picnic at the camp at Lake Abasco and a number of the older girls went to the YWCA Camp Ockenikon.

ENGINEER SAYS ROUTE 38 COSTS $100,000 A MILE

State to Pay Nearly $750,000
For 7½ Mile Section

SECOND CONTRACT TO BE AWARDED SHORTLY

Hainesport - Kings Highway Section is to Be Opened This Fall

The section of State Highway Route 38 now under construction on the south side of Moorestown is costing nearly $100,000 a mile.

This information was made public by J. A. Williams, of Camden, division construction engineer of the State Highway Department, in an address before the Rotary Club of Moorestown at the Community House last Thursday at noon.

Route 38, explained the engineer, is to run from the Kaibach avenue circle on Crescent Boulevard to Mount Holly, near the Children's Home, where it will connect with Route 29.

The first section of Route 38 being built is the seven-and-a-half mile stretch from Kings Highway to Hainesport. The contract price for this section is $403,000. More than $200,000 has been spent on acquiring rights of way and other incidentals and four bridges are yet to be built. The total cost to the state, he explained, will run in the neighborhood of $100,000 a mile for this particular section.

Section Open This Fall

He predicted that, although the bridges will not be completed, the first section will be open to traffic this fall, for excellent time is being made on the paving.

Bids were received on the section from Kings Highway to the Kaibach avenue circle nearly a month ago, he said. The low bid for this section, a distance of five and six-tenths miles, was $560,000. The contract, he said, should be awarded by the State Highway Commission in the near future.

Mr. Williams told the Rotarians that his department is now working on plans for the third section, from Hainesport to the point where the road will connect with Route 38, a distance of ten miles. He said this will probably be the most inexpensive section, as the estimated cost is $600,000. He intimated that the last section may be under contract before the end of this year, which promises an early completion of the road.

80-Foot Right of Way

The right of way for Route 38 is one of the widest in the state, he said, being one of the first to be eighty feet in width. Twenty feet is being paved, while the total width of the roadway will be fifty-six feet. He said there has been some talk of acquiring a 120-foot right of way for future highways.

He says the state expects Route 38 to carry much of the heavy traffic now found on Route 25. Route 25 today, with the many heavy trucks running over it, carries as much weight as White Horse Pike, although the number of vehicles using it is much smaller.

A new type of state highway is contemplated for Route 40, Camden to Medford, he said. This highway will probably have two twenty-foot lanes of paved road with a twenty-foot grass plot between them, thus separating the east and west-bound traffic.

Three Lanes Safes

From his personal observations, Mr. Williams says he believes that a three-lane road is as safe, if not safer, than a four-lane highway. He said he has found that drivers are inclined to use the center lane if they have two lanes for traffic going in their direction. On the other hand, if there are only three lanes, there is always some doubt in the driver's mind as to whether he, or the motorist approaching from the opposite direction, has the right to use the center lane, so generally the cars keep to the outside lanes except when passing other vehicles going in the same direction.

Mr. Williams gave some interesting figures regarding his department's expenditure of $48,000,000 this year, told of plans for the roadway to replace the Marlton-Medford branch of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and in closing said Moorestown is to be highly commended on its plans for the beautification of Route 38. "You should be able to make it an example of road beautification for the whole state," he asserted.

BABY PARADE PROVES COLORFUL SPECTACLE

Hundreds of People Are Drawn To Mount Holly To Witness
Pageant

The fifth annual baby parade held in Mount Holly on Saturday proved one of the most colorful in the history of the town and drew hundreds of spectators to witness it.

Eather Gibson was adjudged the prettiest baby in line. Catherine Marie Heller, of Elizabeth, won second honors. Shirley Hullings was chosen as the cutest baby with Alyson Ranken second.

Miss Ruth Nixon rode as queen of the parade in a handsomely decorated float representing a court scene of fairytale. Her attendants were Margaret Phillips, Melba Lewis, Shirley Becker and Herbert Haines page.

The judges were: Mrs. Marvin R. Chase, Trenton; Miss Myrtle Koch, Florence and Mrs. William Pearson, Burlington. Mrs. William Mince was chairman of arrangements.

LOCAL CHURCH NEWS

Epworth M. E. Church

(Rev. Ira S. Pimm, B. D., Pastor)

Church School at 10 a. m. The adult school will have their lesson in class this Sunday. Our school is fully graded.

Morning Worship at 11 a. m. The pastor will preach the third sermon in the series on "Christianity in the Modern World." The subject is "Christianity's Great Rival—Secularism." This subject was announced for last Sunday but was changed to "Christianity and Science" for the benefit of the young people who were going away to school.

The Epworth League Devotional Service is at 6:45 p. m. Timely discussions on the problems of youth by the young folks themselves. You are invited.

Evening service of song and sermon at 7:45 p. m. Sermon subject, "What is a Christian?"

Wednesday evening at eight o'clock, Prayer Service. We will continue our discussion on "The Sermon on the Mount." The interest in this service is evidenced by the increased attendance.

On Sunday afternoon, the members of the Official Board will visit the congregation to distribute "The Epworth Messenger," a booklet containing our fall and winter program.

Thursday evenings this evening the Women's Guild will meet in the Guild room.

Next Monday, September 21, the annual banquet of the Sunday School Board.

First Lutheran

(Rev. Harold L. Creager)

The Light Brigade will hold their regular meeting at the church on Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock. This is the first meeting since the summer recess and it is hoped that the season will get off to a good start with a large attendance of the boys and girls.

The regular services will be held next Sunday, with sermon at the morning hour of worship on "Child-ness of the Kingdom." In the evening, "The Works and the Word of God."

PALMYRA NOTES

Joseph Griffenberg, of Highland avenue, was brought home from the Pennsylvania Hospital, Philadelphia, Saturday. Mr. Griffenberg was under observation in that institution last week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Engarde, of Long Island, were the guests of relatives in town Monday and Tuesday of this week.

The Women's Guild of the Epworth M. E. Church will hold its meeting in the Guild room this evening. This meeting will be known as "President's Night," past and present. Every member is urged to make a special effort to be present.

Presbyterian

(Charles T. Bates, Minister)

Calvary Presbyterian Church will hold its morning service of worship Sunday at 11 o'clock. All departments of the Church School will meet at 10 o'clock. There will be no second service on Sunday and no mid-week service until October.

BAPTIST

(Rev. George Lockett, Pastor)

The subject at the morning service in the Central Baptist Church on Sunday will be "The Great Teacher."

At the evening service the pastor's topic will be "The Way of Life." Saturday afternoon from three until five o'clock a rally day party will be held in the Sunday School room of the church for the primary, grade and beginners departments. All scholars of these departments are invited to be present at the party.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"MATTER" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in All Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, September 20, 1931.

The Golden Text is: "Heaven and earth shall pass away, but my words shall not pass away" (Matthew 24:35).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Then was brought unto him one possessed with a devil, blind, and dumb; and he healed him, insomuch that the blind and dumb both spake and saw" (Matthew 12:22).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Scripture informs us that 'with God all things are possible'—all good is possible to Spirit; but our prevalent theories practically deny this, and make healing possible only through material means. These theories must be untrue, for the Scripture is true" (p. 232).

Little Miss Janice Peck, of Garfield avenue is spending a few weeks in Roanoke, Virginia, with her grandparents.

Mrs. C. B. Marple, of Morgan avenue, has been confined to her home since Saturday with an attack of intestinal grippe.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. North have moved from 901 Morgan avenue to 724 Garfield avenue, where Mrs. North will open a school of music.

The Friendship Circle of the Epworth M. E. Church held its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Walter D. Lamon, 400 Cleveland avenue, Monday evening. The hostesses of the evening were Mrs. Lamon and Mrs. H. H. Parsons. Twenty-three members were present and plans were made for the fall and winter activities of the class.

B. W. Peck, of Roanoke, Virginia, spent last week with his son, J. A. Peck, of 324 Garfield avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. N. M. Wilkins, of Freehold, spent the weekend with friends in Palmyra.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Stiles, of Merchantville, are spending the week with Mr. Stiles' sister, Mrs. A. B. Powell, of West Broad street.

Mrs. Albert Smith, who is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kemmerle, 51st of West Broad street, spent yesterday at her home in Stonehurst, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Collins, of Highland avenue, will leave today to make their home in Massachusetts.

EXPECT INCREASE IN MEMBERSHIP OF YMCA GROUPS

Palmyra-Riverton Organization Shows Rapid Growth in Past Year

BOARD OF DIRECTORS ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

Elmer Hahn Is New President; Board Vacancies Will Be Filled Tonight

An extensive program for the winter activities of the Palmyra-Riverton Y.M.C.A. has been planned by Wilton K. Mount, general secretary of the organization.

Despite the increase in the number of groups last year, still greater increase is expected this winter. The several Hi-Y clubs which met last year will continue to hold their group meetings this winter and the numerous groups for the younger lads are expected to be augmented.

It may be necessary to divide the Sophomore Hi-Y club into two sections and it is almost a certainty that such procedure will be needed to handle the Freshman organization. Last year's Freshman club, because of its large membership, was forced to be divided and will probably have to remain that way this year as a Sophomore unit, since virtually all the members have returned.

Mr. Mount, in addition to handling the Y.M.C.A. work, will serve as a part time instructor at the Westfield Friends' School, supervising the boys' physical training program. This work while taking considerable time of the Y.M.C.A. secretary will not interfere with his organization duties.

The new officers of the Board of Directors for the coming year were recently elected. Elmer Hahn, of Riverton, was chosen to fill the president's chair, with the other officers as follows: George N. Wimer, vice-president; Leon C. Guest, secretary; Frank N. Johnson, treasurer.

The personnel of the board remains unchanged, although several new members are expected to be appointed soon. They will fill vacancies which have existed for a long time. The final decision as to the new members of the Board will be made at the September meeting of the directors, set for tonight.

DANCE WILL AID CANCER VICTIMS

May Secure Tickets From the Misses Elizabeth Hudson or Evelyn Waller

A card party and dance will be given Saturday, October 3, for the benefit of the South Jersey patients at the American Oncologic Hospital, Thirty-third and Powelton avenue, Philadelphia.

The committee in charge of arrangements for the affair is as follows: Misses Elizabeth Hudson and Miss Evelyn Waller, of Palmyra; the Misses Laura Dietrich, Florence Shinn, Mrs. Madeline Thompson, Miss Mildred Pheasant, Mr. and Mrs. J. Perry Long, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Burris, Dr. and Mrs. R. C. Culander, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Pratt, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Westcott, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ogden, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Cuthery, French, all of Merchantville.

Miss Elizabeth Gill, Miss Ann Rick, Misses Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Morris, Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. Merritt Curran, of Haddonfield; Mr. and Mrs. Bennett Chadwick, of West Collingswood; Dr. A. Allen Batchelor and Dr. R. N. VanBlunk, of Camden and Lewis H. Stone, of Moorestown.

Palmyra, Riverton and Cinnaminson folks may secure their tickets either from Miss Hudson or Miss Waller.

This group of people from Palmyra and neighboring suburban districts is interested in doing what it can to help the fight against cancer. The effort is commendable and these people should be given substantial encouragement.

FORMER PALMYRA HIGH GRID ATHLETE ELOPES

A surprise was given the young people of Palmyra and Riverton Monday when they learned of the marriage of Dewees Showell, 21 years old and Olgo Probsting, 18 years, last Saturday.

The couple eloped to Chestertown, Maryland and it is reported they will live in an apartment in Riverton.

Showell, a graduate of Palmyra High School, Class of 1929, was well known for his football as a football player. He played on the high school eleven during the last three years at the institution. Miss Probsting had eloped Tuesday at the school where she was about to start her senior year. During her first three years at the institution, she had been chosen historian of her class.

MEET TO DISCUSS SCHOOL PROBLEM

Plans Discussed at Meeting of Citizens Committee and School Board

The first joint meeting of the Riverton Board of Education and the committee of citizens which it invited to help solve the question of what should be done to improve school conditions, was held in the school auditorium, Monday night.

All members of the school board were present except Samuel L. Warren and District Clerk Fred P. Hemphill.

Members of the citizens committee present were: Walter K. Woolman, H. H. Murray, James S. Coale, Ralph L. Flower, J. Carl DeCour, John Stroblein, Mrs. R. S. Williams, Mrs. Francis B. Elwell, J. Wilson Biddle, Mrs. Martha M. Biddle, Charles A. Wright, Walter L. Bowen, Mrs. C. F. Mayfield, president of the Board of Education, restated the position of the board to the effect that after several years of study and investigation it had asked for what it believed Riverton needed in the way of a school building and equipment.

E. N. Cooper, supervising principal, on request of Mrs. Mayfield, spoke on the advanced methods of education which had been developed in recent years, and explained how and why new building construction and new equipment were required to successfully operate along the new lines of education.

At the close of Mr. Cooper's remarks, James S. Coale said that the supervisor had stressed the building and asked Mr. Cooper what he considered the relative importance of building and teaching staff. Mr. Cooper replied that, of course, no school was any stronger than the faculty, but that buildings and equipment adapted to present-day requirements, enabled good teachers to do better and more efficient work.

Walter K. Woolman said that the voters had registered such an overwhelming protest against the new school idea, that it was hardly worth while to spend much time and effort in further considering it, as the project as outlined at that time was entirely beyond the means of the people. "If conditions were bad at that time," said Mr. Woolman, "they are decidedly worse now." He said that Riverton could and should, without delay, put the building in a safe condition and add to the same time like to see necessary improvements made on the present site.

A Brand New Proposition
Mr. Woolman further suggested that if more room is needed for playground, Fifth street, between Howard and Cinnaminson might be closed and the properties on Fifth street opposite the front of the school could be purchased if necessary. In his opinion, whatever is done now should be financed over a period of sixteen years, so that the bonds would expire at the same time as the bonds of the present plant, which have that length of time to run.

Mrs. Mayfield replied to Mr. Woolman that the board had considered the remodeling proposition several times, but that the cost was entirely too high when it was considered that

FIRST MEETING OF CINNAMINSON P. T. A.

Talk on Japan and "Samples" in Song Contest Will Be Features of Program

The first meeting of the Cinnaminson P. T. A. will be held September 30, at 3 p. m. Mrs. Jean Gardiner, who is very familiar with the subject, will talk about Japan. This promises to be most interesting just now, when Japan is adding to the already disturbed condition in the Far East.

Mrs. William Miller, of Palmyra, has promised to sing at the meeting. Come and bring your friends. The program is interesting. Let it be so.

Two hundred and seventy children in school No. 2 furnish full classes. Forty-three entered the kindergarten. In school No. 4, one hundred and forty-five are registered.

The teaching force is back with only two changes. Dr. Ludlum again handles the dental clinic, which began the year with a fine balance, much to the satisfaction of all interested. The instrumental music project has worked out very well, much of the loan fund created by the P. T. A. having been returned.

Members, be sure to remember the song contest suggested by the music chairman, and be ready to do your part in the membership drive now going on.

PRESS COMMITTEE

SAME ADMISSION PRICE

The management of the Broadway Palace Theatre, Palmyra, has been beset with inquiries concerning the price of admission after the theatre now in the process of construction is completed. No change from the former admission scale is contemplated. The theatre is expected to open on Thursday, October 8, and every indication points to Palmyra having one of the finest and most up-to-date show houses of its kind in the state. Watch next week's paper for the opening announcement.

REPUBLICANS TO TOUR COUNTY NOVEMBER 2

Chairman Stout Authorized to Proceed With Arrangements for Demonstration

It has been decided to have a Republican tour of Burlington county on November 2, the day before election. The idea was put up to the workers who assembled at Brown's Mills recently and it met with unanimous approval when Chairman Stout asked whether it should or should not be done.

The start will be made at the court house in Mount Holly at eight o'clock in the morning and the caravan will proceed over a route that will be announced later taking in as many of the county towns as can be reached advantageously in a day.

NEW SCOUT YEAR OPENS FRIDAY

Rules and Regulations for Riverton Troop Are Set Forth

The following bulletin has been sent to the headquarters of the Riverton Troop, Boy Scouts of America, this week.

The meeting of September 25 inaugurates the new scout year for this troop.

On Friday evening, September 25, at nine minutes past eight o'clock, the opening meeting of the troop will be held at the troop headquarters. No admittance to anyone after the meeting starts.

Parents are invited—if they are on time.

Only those scouts whose dues at the close of last season were not more than forty cents behind will be admitted. All other scouts can renew their membership and gain admittance to the meeting by the payment of their annual 50c re-registration fee. This does not apply to scouts whose dues are in question. Re-registration fees may be paid to Mr. Washington at any time prior to the opening of the meeting.

All scouts and officers are requested to be in full uniform.

In the coming season the troop will have a need of patrol leaders who can lead. There will be two platoons of three patrols each, one under the leadership of Senior Patrol Leader Hunn; the second under the leadership of Senior Patrol Leader Naisby.

At the opening, patrols will consist of a patrol leader and three scouts.

Patrol leaders will be elected by each patrol but with the agreement that each leader agrees to reach the rank of first class in sixty days.

Any scout, now a member of the troop, is eligible to the position of patrol leader provided he can get three other scouts to join him in forming a patrol and voting for him as patrol leader.

Until further notice dues for the coming troop season will be 50c per meeting.

No additional notices regarding the opening meeting and formation of patrols, will be issued. Scouts will probably find that the coming season of the Riverton troop will be one of the most active on record.

The following is a list of the troop as registered to date. Other registrations will be made as the rules are complied with.

LAND SCOUTS: Eagle Scouts—Henry G. Naisby, Edward J. Hunn, W. Patton Kinsey.

Star Scout—W. J. Edwards.

First Class Scout—Jack Gleiss.

Second Class Scout—T. W. Coe.

R. C. Cole, R. N. Hunn, Walter Mattheis, C. Mayfield, Bertram Shoemaker, Joe Siddall.

Tenderfoot Scouts—A. V. Coe, J. H. Coe, R. G. Coe, Robert Anderson, Richard Barclay, Warren Blyler, Louis Gladney, John Knight, Harold Baker, James Wilson, William Wolfschmidt.

SEA SCOUTS: Eagle Scout—Henry H. Seabrook, Jr.

Star Scouts—R. W. Knight, Archie Seabrook.

First Class Scout—J. F. Ayres.

Second Class Scouts—W. R. Evans, J. R. Nelsby, G. H. Probsting.

Pauline A. Bailey

Mrs. Pauline A. Bailey, wife of George Bailey, of Linden avenue, Riverton, died in the Burlington County Hospital, Mount Holly, at 9 a. m. Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Bailey was a member of the Central Baptist Church and the Philatheta Class, and a few years past was a very efficient worker in the primary department. She leaves her husband, son, Francis and daughter, Betty.

Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Snover Funeral Home, with the Rev. George Lockett officiating. Interment will be made in Morgan Cemetery.

Friends may call Friday evening.

ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse M. Coddington announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss E. Elizabeth to Mr. H. Richard Bushley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Bushley, of Norwich, New York. The wedding will take place October 17th.

STAGE IS ALL SET FOR AIR CARNIVAL

County Hospital to Receive Proceeds From Event This Weekend

The members of the Social Service Department of Burlington County Hospital, Mount Holly, have left no stone unturned to make the air carnival at the Moorestown airport this Saturday and Sunday a huge success. The advance sale of flight tickets indicates that the passengers will take trips over the weekend that have ever flown in any two days at Burlington County Aero Club. This is considered very gratifying, as all proceeds will be turned over to the social service department, a branch of the hospital which is doing a splendid piece of work among families in Burlington county who cannot afford to pay for hospital treatment. This department is also taking care of needy ones who are out of work, as well as a great number of clinical cases.

The aero club is putting forth every effort to keep those attending entertained while awaiting their ride. The participants in the air events are giving their time and ships gratis, which is quite an item when considering Captain and Mrs. Martin Jensen are coming from Harrisburg, Pa. and that Ludington Flying Service of Central Airport, and Wings Corporation, of Ambler, Pa., are sending three or four ships each. There will be at least three women pilots.

Aerial Aerobics will play a conspicuous part in the activities. The races between sportsmen pilots both days are sure to be interesting, due to the friendly rivalry between the students of the two schools. It is also expected that a couple of last year's winners will fly in from Patco Field, Norristown.

Bomb dropping and landing-to-the-mark, contests are also among the features planned, as well as parachute jumps both afternoons.

Weather permitting, a Navy dirigible, either a "tin bubble" or a "J" type ship is expected to visit the airport on a training cruise during the carnival.

Kellett Aircraft Corporation, Philadelphia, will send a Kellett Autogiro for demonstration flights. This will be the first time an autogiro has visited Burlington county.

Former State Senator Emmer Roberts and Chief Pilot "Jim" Erdman will do all the passenger flying, assuring the public of really worth while hops.

Everyone who has been asked to help in making these two days a gala event has willingly lent his cooperation.

Sears, Roebuck & Co., Camden, will have charge of decorating the field which will help a lot in creating a real carnival spirit.

The members of the social service department are vying with each other to see who can sell the most tickets.

While the Burlington County Freeholders make a substantial appropriation for this work, the call of the sick and needy in our county, by far exceeds their own appropriation. At this time the need is an acute one.

Donation of cakes, to be collected at noon on Saturday, or donations of 50c from those who would rather give in that way, will be greatly appreciated. Tickets for rides in the planes are $1.50, 50c of this amount is given to the hospital.

Saturday afternoon and Sunday flights $1.50. Tickets on sale at airport or from the committee in Riverton. Mrs. Walker Woolman is the chairman. Phone Riverton 311.

Flight tickets for $1.50 bought before Sunday night will be good during October, and the hospital will benefit by the sale, the same as for tickets actually used during the carnival.

CHICKEN DINNER

Most everybody likes chicken and most everybody likes it prepared the way the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Riverton Volunteer Fire Company fix it. Those who do will be sure to get their tickets now for the big, extra special chicken dinner to be held at the fire house this Saturday night. A most tempting menu has been planned and you can depend upon it that you will get 75c worth and more. Dinner will be served from five until eight. Get your tickets now from any fireman. Give the boys a hand. Another of their usual good dances will follow the dinner in the ball room. The same musical inspiration, the Rain-bow Rambles will whip it up for the dancers. Stick around after the dinner and dance awhile—an excellent way to settle a big dinner.

ROCHON-FOXALL

A marriage license was issued by Miss Emma B. Rudderow, September 14th to Abraham Alfred Rochon, 1237 N. 16th street Philadelphia, Pa., and Miss Nellie Alan Foxall, of 1236 Brown street, Philadelphia, Pa.

The couple were married by Rev. M. A. Foster, Pastor of St. Paul Baptist Church, Tuesday, September 15th at the residence of Mrs. Mary Gross, Howard street, Riverton.

GAME LEAGUE MEETING

A special meeting of the Burlington County Game Protective League, to arrange for Field Trials, will be held at the Elks' Home, Mount Holly, on Monday, September 28, at 8 p. m.

CHILDREN'S PLAYS TO START OCTOBER 31st

Series of Six Plays Given For Children During the Winter

Mrs. Robert Biddle, 2nd, Riverton, is among the patronesses for the series of plays for children, to be presented by Clara Tree Major's Children's Theatre Company, of New York at the Garrick Theatre this season.

The plays which will be given on five Saturday mornings, and one Christmas week afternoon, from October through March are: "The Secret Garden," October 21, "Held," November 21, "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," Tuesday afternoon, December 29, "Beauty and the Beast," January 30, "The Snow Queen," February 27 and "Hans Brinker and the Silver Skates," March 19.

The Women's International League and the Junior Forum of Philadelphia are sponsoring the productions.

FALL MEETING OF RIVERTON P. T. A.

Plans Laid for Active Winter Several School Improvements Have Been Made

In spite of humidity and showers, the first meeting of the Riverton P. T. A. this fall, on Monday afternoon, September 21, was well attended, with Mrs. Francis B. Elwell, the new president, in charge.

Preceding the regular meeting, members visited the particular classroom and teacher in whom they were most interested, which afforded them the opportunity of finding out just what was planned for the coming year in school routine. Particular interest was shown in the lower classes, where the new movable tables, instead of desks are in use, and pretty curtains are at the windows. This should certainly prove a happy working center.

Mrs. G. Harold Baker, chairman of the Study Group, offered several different plans for the coming season, which promises to be an active one and spoke of reference books at the Riverton Public Library on these different problems of child training.

The series of six lectures spoken of by Mrs. Elwell and Mrs. Blair to be held in the Riverside High School Auditorium for the benefit of the County Student Loan Fund, beginning September 28, should prove both instructive and entertaining, with such speakers as Major Stanley D. Butler, Angelo Patri and Congresswoman Ruth Bryan Owen among those listed. Tickets for this series may be secured from any P. T. A. board member at a cost of $3.00.

Mr. Cooper, supervising principal of the Riverton Public School, told of the introduction of manuscript writing in the first three grades which is in successful use at the Horace Mann School. He also stressed the advantages of "Ability Grouping" and the desire to get away from "A" and "B" grading so familiar to most parents, expressed the wish that more parents would make it a point to spend an occasional hour in the classroom and so promote a better understanding of these aims.

After the meeting adjourned, refreshments were served by girls of the 8th Grade Domestic Science Class, under the supervision of Mrs. Nathan Lane, Jr.

PLACE CARAVANS IN RIVERTON, OCTOBER 5

Petitions of Caravans To Be Presented at Geneva in February, 1932

The Peace Caravan which will pass through this neighborhood on their way from Trenton to Philadelphia on October 5, are carrying with them petitions which have been signed, on their route from California to the East.

These petitions are requests to our government to instruct its delegates to take the necessary steps to achieve real disarmament at the International Disarmament Conference to be held in Geneva in February, 1932.

In 28 countries duplicate petitions are being circulated, so that this is a world-wide movement demanding recognition of the Kellogg-Briand Pact on the part of the governments, and a drastic reduction of arms at the Disarmament Conference.

We are going through the most distressing economic depression the world has ever known. Back of all other conditions the chief cause of this great economic calamity is the World War. We learn that the nations of the earth spent nearly $5,000,000,000 (five thousand million) dollars for armaments and national defense last year. Such a program should not be permitted to go unchallenged.

Our president recently appealed to the International Chamber of Commerce to speed the day of international disarmament. Let everyone do his part to help.

Next week's issue will give detailed plans of the demonstration in this community.

ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. John Seymour Bioren of "Bjornhem," Devon, Pa., announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Anne M. V. Bioren and Mr. John Strawbridge Lloyd, son of Mrs. John Strawbridge Lloyd, of Haverford and "Leeway," Lloyds, Maryland. The couple were former residents of Riverton and Mr. Bioren served as a member of the Riverton Borough Council.

"PERSONALITY AND MR. BAIRD"

Senator David Baird, Republican candidate for Governor, is following a plan of campaign that is typical of the man.

Departing sharply from old-time "bally-hoo" methods, Senator Baird is meeting small groups all over the State. These informal man-to-man chats give the voters a chance to appraise the man "off stage," and to ask many questions which are candidly and fearlessly answered.

Those who meet him are deeply impressed with his sincerity and honesty, and many who were indifferent or opposed to his candidacy, became enthusiastic supporters after taking the measure of the man.

They are attracted by his strong personality—a personality which is an outward sign of the sterling character within. It differs from mere popularity in that it makes an enduring appeal to men and women who recognize and are attracted by genuine worth and ability—that appeal which calls forth response from other strong characters—whether or not they always agree with him.

Mr. Baird's capacity for accomplishment has been shown in many ways and in diversified field of activity. His successful fight for rapid transit over the Camden bridge, and the leading part he took in solving the difficult problem of the Camden banks many be mentioned among his most recent and outstanding accomplishments.

Mr. Baird is not an opportunist. A man of strong convictions, he charts his course after mature deliberation and then steers straight for his goal, unswayed by obstacles.

His strength of character and singleness of purpose is attested by his enemies as well as his friends.

And joined with a practical mind, Mr. Baird has that broad vision without which nations perish.

He will bring to the office of Governor of the State of New Jersey much more than popularity—he will bring personality, in the best and highest meaning of the word, and the ability to cope understandingly with the difficult problems which confront this great commonwealth.

While Senator Baird is of the conservative, executive type which says little but accomplishes much, he believes the public at large has a right to know just how he stands on important public questions, and he has arranged to deliver six key addresses between now and election, in which he will define squarely, honestly and fearlessly his position on matters vitally affecting the people of New Jersey.

ROTARY HEARS ERNEST NICKEL

Protege of Carrie Jacobs Bond Gives Thirty-five Minute Recital Here

Thursday night found the Rotarians divided into two teams for an attendance race. Ross Mattis is the captain of one, and C. A. Geelan of the other. Each leader is responsible for getting his men out for every meeting or if they miss, to see that they make it up, a vigorous contest is to be expected.

The program of the evening was out of the ordinary. Ernest Nickel, a protegee of Carrie Jacobs Bond, American song writer, who is perhaps best known for her composition "The Perfect Day." Mr. Nickel outlined the life of Mrs. Bond and told the circumstances under which some of her songs were written. "The Perfect Day" alone has sold in the millions of copies, and has earned fame and fortune for its author, whose early life was marked by great misfortune.

Mr. Nickel's program included several songs by Carrie Jacobs Bond, the overture from "William Tell," "The Cloister Scene" from Tannhauser, and calls of various descriptions. The recital was much appreciated by the club.

During the afternoon Mr. Nickel appeared at the elementary schools in both Riverton and Palmyra, where he pleased the children with selections and bird calls. This graceful gesture on his part, was much appreciated.

AUTOS COLLIDE

A two-car accident in which no one was injured and neither machine was badly damaged, resulted in the issuing of a summons to one driver on a reckless driving charge.

The collision occurred at the Broad street and Garfield avenue intersection, Palmyra, about 5:30 p. m. Tuesday. One of the machines, driven by Walter Butchman, belonged to Miss Ethel Durance, of Cinnaminson.

The other car was operated by Michael Prisco, 531 West Fifth street, Palmyra. Butchman was given a summons to appear for a police court trial tomorrow.

NEEDLEWORK GUILD NOTES

A regular all-day sewing meeting of the Riverton branch of the Needlework Guild will be held in the Porch Club on September 28. Because of the near approach of the annual meeting, it is desirable to complete as much work in as short a time as possible and every member who can help with any branch of the sewing is most urgently asked to be present. Those desiring luncheon will be served, fee 25c. Please notify Mrs. Richard Barclay a day or two in advance if you will be there and desire luncheon.

NEW DRY GOODS STORE

Herman Levit and family have moved into the apartment and store in the Price Building, 308 Broad street, Riverton, where they have opened a dry goods and notions store.

BAIRD SPEAKS IN BURLINGTON CO.

Enthusiasm Greets Republican Candidate for Governor Everywhere

Wednesday of last week was a big day in Burlington county for David Baird, candidate for governor, who spoke to approximately 5000 persons at successive meetings all over the county, during the day and evening.

It was his first official tour of Burlington county and it was a busy one. At Medford Lakes he was the lunch guest of William G. Oaks and Leon Todd. He addressed a reception of the Burlington County Women's Republican Club in the Moorestown Community House at 3 p. m. An hour later he spoke to 200 key workers of the county Republican organization at a dinner in the Pine Whistle Inn at Browns Mills. At 7:30 p. m. he was given a reception by the Burlington County Republican Committee in the Memorial Hall, Burlington from which he was carried to the Armory for the beginning of the day. After this routine rally he sped to Mt. Holly and appeared officially at the Burlington County Agricultural Fair.

Baird promised lower taxes. He promised appointment of honest judges. He denounced crime, but blamed much of it on crooked office holders with reference to some who had been appointed under Democratic administration in New Jersey. He scathed the opposing political color for its back up with a North Jersey labor racket.

"The most obvious way to reduce taxes," he said, "is to stop spending. Although we are faced with the necessity of expending our public works program to employ all those we possibly can."

Bids for Cost Slashes
At Medford Lakes he promised a drastic cost-cutting campaign in state governmental departments. He cited also how it would be unwise to cut the cost of public protection at a time when war on crime was most vital. He demanded discontinuance of all public projects not absolutely necessary.

"We are going to reduce taxes and these are some ways we can do it. We must encourage industry and home owners to come to our state, not drive them away by exorbitant taxes."

He called for a house cleaning in local government to weed out the crooks and made side reference to "the chief law enforcement officer in a county who was indicted on several charges involving official conduct." This was taken to concern James Mercer Davis.

"Our most effective weapon against the criminal are the honesty and integrity of those who are sworn to support the law," he added.

Using the officers to make in combatting crime, he said.

"Our annual bill, in the state and in municipalities, for the cost of protection for ourselves and our families is appalling and each year it grows as we strive to afford our citizens protection from the gangster, the racketeer and the thug. Our business men and our merchants are the victims of predatory criminals who exact some tribute or other and our honest laborers are victimized and bludgeoned into submission by grafters of the lowest kind."

"We are paying a fortune in public and private money to combat this awful thing. We are enlarging our police forces and giving them new equipment to cope with the situation. It is a cost that cannot be reduced until the victory is won. Victory can not be won entirely as long as a lawless labor racketeer plays hand and glove with a major political party in this state."

Baird will return to Burlington county for another tour the day before election, it was announced at the meeting.

MISS MILDRED COLLIN TO WED BYWOOD MAN

The marriage of Miss Mildred Collin, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Samuel W. Collin, of Collin Manor Farm, River Bank, Delaware, formerly of Riverton, to Carl E. Johnson, of Bywood, Pa., will be solemnized Friday, October 2, with a reception following at Collin Manor.

Miss Collin is a graduate of St. Mary's Hall, Burlington, and Mr. Johnson who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Johnson, of Bywood, is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania.

The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. Arthur S. Lewis at Christ Episcopal Church, Riverton, at six o'clock. The Rev. Mr. Lewis will be assisted by the Rev. James Crosson, of Buffalo, New York, a brother-in-law of the bridegroom.

Mrs. James Crosson, Mr. Johnson's sister, will be Miss Collin's matron of honor, and Miss Margaret Williams, of Overbrook, Pa., the bride-elect's cousin will act as maid of honor.

Miss Katherine Holman, of Merchantville; Miss Eda Heaton, of Moorestown; Miss Louise Pierson, of Philadelphia and Miss Dorothy Lane, of Jersey City, have been selected as bridesmaids.

James Carr, of Bywood, Pa., will serve as best man.

Nearly 150 guests will attend the reception at Collin Manor, after which the happy young couple will leave on a wedding trip. They will be at home to their many friends after November 1 at their apartment at "The Maples," Riverton.

P. T. A. MEETING IS HUGE SUCCESS

Will Send Letter to Board of Education Commending Excellent Work

The Palmyra Parent Teacher Association held its first meeting of the season Tuesday evening in the high school auditorium. The meeting was opened with a prayer by Mrs. Ira S. Pimm. The P. T. A. song was sung under the leadership of Miss Mary T. Johnson, the music supervisor.

During the business session, several items of interest to local folk were discussed. The first was the County P. T. A. meeting to be held at the Julietstown school on Wednesday, October 21. Luncheon will be served at a nominal charge of from fifty to sixty cents. Transportation will be provided. This will give the members of the Palmyra organization an excellent opportunity to see what other associations in the county are doing.

It was voted a letter be sent to the members of the Palmyra School Board, commending them on the excellent work done by them, especially in the kindergarten and domestic science departments. The mothers, as well as the teachers, are delighted with the many improvements.

The National Congress of Parents and Teachers will make a special effort for the observance of Arbor Day this year. By April 10, which is Arbor Day, more than 10,000,000 trees will be planted in this country. The Palmyra P. T. A. will plant an elm tree on the school grounds in commemoration of the bicentennial of Washington's birthday.

Student Loan Fund
Another item of much interest to people all over the county is the Student Loan Fund. Those in charge of this worthwhile work are trying to raise $6,000 and expect to use only the interest of the money. They have yet to raise $1,200. A series of lectures is being planned to take place in the Riverside High School. The first lecture will be by Major-General Smedley D. Butler on Monday, September 28 and promises to be a very interesting one.

The second will be by Angelo Patri on October 23. The third lecture will be delivered by Mrs. Marie Arnhight on November 16. She is the daughter of Admiral Peary. The December lecture will be given by Dr. Charles Milton Newcomb. Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen will give her talk on January 12 and Eugene Laurent, the musician, will entertain on January 22.

The cost of a season ticket for these lectures will be $3.00. A single lecture will be $1.00. The third and sixth are special lectures and the charge for these will be only seventy-five cents. The season ticket does not include the third and sixth lectures, but any one who has a season ticket may be admitted for the small sum of thirty-five cents and one ticket stub.

Peace Caravan
Those present at the meeting were also told of the Peace Caravan, which is coming to Palmyra on Monday, October 5. The members of this caravan are touring the world in the interest of peace and the petition which they carry with them has already been signed by mothers in twenty-six countries.

The caravan will arrive in Palmyra at five o'clock in the evening and all mothers who are interested are asked to meet in the grove to sign the petition. Everyone is urged to be present at that time if possible.

Mrs. Elias Toy, president of the P. T. A., was elected a delegate to the state convention, which will be held in Atlantic City on November 4, 5 and 6.

Sergeant J. P. Conover of the New Jersey State Police was the speaker of the occasion. His topic was a very timely and interestingly important subject, "Safety." Mr. Conover stressed the fact that parents should train their children to think and act safely, that they should not try to regulate traffic, but to regulate themselves.

The state police have kindergarten children from many parts of the state under their supervision. These children have charge of street patrols. They have 2,200 children in charge of 96,000 toys in the state and during the past three and one-half years they have not reported a single accident.

Child Study Group
Miss Katherine Green, the school nurse, spoke to the child study group. Miss Green stressed the necessity of the older as well as the younger child examined by the family and school physician. She asked that parents pay particular attention to the defects marked on the card which the child brings home after he has been examined by the school physician. If the defects pointed out are not followed up they are likely to cause the child more serious trouble later in life and it is with this in mind that school authorities take such an interest in promoting child hygiene.

All the following meetings of the child study group will be led by persons well suited to carry on this sort of work. The next meeting will precede the regular October P. T. A. meeting and will be held in one of the high school class rooms at 7:45 o'clock.

The members of the P. T. A. also discussed the air carnival to be held at the Moorestown airport, Saturday and Sunday. This carnival is being given under the auspices of the social service department of the Burlington County Hospital, to replenish their exhausted funds. A more detailed account of this event will be found in another section of this edition.

Two other persons who made the evening's program more enjoyable were Miss Margaret Casey, who gave two splendid readings and Mrs. Stanley Lippincott, who sang "Sylvia" by Franz Schubert and "Perfect Prayer" by Stenson.

MAJ.-GEN. SMEDLEY D. BUTLER

BUTLER TO SPEAK AT RIVERSIDE HI

Famous Marine Officer to Open Season's Lectures Next Monday Evening

Major General Smedley D. Butler, famous for his penchant for getting himself in and out of trouble, will be in Burlington county next Monday evening, September 28, and will speak at the auditorium of the Riverside High School in the first of the 1931-32 series of lectures for the benefit of the Burlington County Student Loan Fund.

This new series will, as last year, present some of the finest and ablest lecturers of the country and there will also be additional entertainment, given by school children of the county each of the six programs.

Major General Butler first became well known to the people of this section back in 1924 and 1925, when he made an enviable record as Director of Public Safety in Philadelphia, and since that time he has been more or less constantly in the public eye, his most recent experience being the mix-up which he caused between Italy and the United States.

He has been in the Marine Corps since 1898, when at the age of sixteen he was commissioned a probationary second lieutenant. He took part in the Spanish-American War, in the Boxer Rebellion in China and was connected with most of the Marine expeditions to Central America. During the latter part of the World War he served with distinction in France, receiving the Army Distinguished Medal and the Navy Distinguished Medal. He also possesses many medals from his other campaigns.

Major-General Butler can always be counted upon for a very snappy talk and his coming to Riverside will provide a real treat for Burlington county.

On the same evening pupils of the Vincentown school will present the Spanish dances which they gave in the Pageant of Nations at Medford last spring. Another feature of the evening will be several violin solos by Jesse E. Tryon, Jr., ten-year-old violinist from Burlington.

SEARCH FOR BODY OF DROWNED MAN

Fall From Deck Proves Fatal to Barge Employee Monday Afternoon

Authorities are still searching for the body of a man drowned in the Delaware river about 3:15 Monday afternoon, a short distance below the Tacony-Palmyra bridge.

The victim, John Trolga, 25 years old, stumbled on the deck of the dredge on which he was working, and fell into the river. He had lived on the dredge, "Freedom," with his father, who is the only one to survive him.

Palmyra police were summoned immediately after the drowning and Captain Joseph Rodgers sent for outside assistance as the equipment of the Palmyra officers was not heavy enough for river grappling. Police tugs from Philadelphia were sent to the scene of the drowning, but after grappling the remainder of Monday afternoon and all day Tuesday, were still unable to locate the man's body.

The dredge on which Trolga and his father were working, was operating in about 25 feet of water and police believe the man may be caught in one of the numerous holes at the bottom of the river. To make sure the man's body had not been caught in the dredging machinery, the entire dredging pipes were emptied but without effect. Authorities of Camden and Burlington county were notified of the drowning by Rodgers, who thinks the tide may carry the body of the man to one of the riverfront towns.

The dredging work was being carried on about 200 feet below the Palmyra bridge, the dirt being used to fill in the lowlands. The Eastern Sand and Gravel Corporation, of Philadelphia, was doing the work.

PLAN VISITS TO 'OLD IRONSIDES'

330 Children From Twin Towns Expected to See Historic Frigate

Through the co-operation of the Palmyra-Riverton Branch of the Y. M. C. A. school children of both towns and of Chinnaminson will be given an opportunity to see the famous old frigate, "Constitution."

The boat, more familiarly known as "Old Ironsides," is now laid up at a Philadelphia pier until October 1 and is attracting country-wide attention throughout its trip to various American cities.

More than 300 school children from Palmyra and Riverton have signified their intention to make the trip. Arrangements have been made by William E. Mount, YMCA secretary, to have a fleet of buses carry the children to the wharf where the historic frigate is moored.

150 children from the Spring Garden street school alone, will form a part of Palmyra's delegation. These kiddies have arranged to leave the school building at 2:15 and will return about 5:30.

More than 200 pupils from the Delaware avenue building are expected to make the same trip tomorrow afternoon, leaving the school at half past two.

There were 180 school boys and girls from Riverton who are planning to make the excursion. The teachers in the school will chaperone the children on the trip. The large number of children will require five buses which will leave the Riverton school at two o'clock next Tuesday. The return trip will be made about five o'clock.

In addition to seeing the veteran warship, the children will have an opportunity of viewing a government tugboat which is moored next to the "Constitution." The crew of the tug live on board their vessel all the time and the children will be given a chance to see what cleanliness and orderliness prevails on government vessels. The crew of the tug have a pet monkey on board their craft and it is said the antics of the pet attract almost as much attention as "Old Ironsides" itself.

Mr. Mount is also working to procure a bus which will be used by adults from this vicinity who wish to see the battleship.

NEW MUSIC SCHOOL OPEN IN PALMYRA

Ruby Clark North, Student of John Orth Will Conduct Classes Here

A school of music has been opened by Ruby Clark North, at 724 Garfield avenue, Palmyra.

These branches of educational work, while new to Palmyra, and Riverton have been used with great success in many of the larger cities. The school has three courses, featuring musical kindergarten, piano and lessons and private lessons.

The musical kindergarten is for children from five to ten years of age and is in class form, meeting once a week.

The class is restricted to six or eight pupils to insure individual attention.

No home practice is required, even a piano is not necessary to take the course.

Notation, finger work, ear training, musical appreciation and a knowledge of composers are taught. A rhythmic orchestra is also part of the course.

In the class piano lessons, which are for pupils from nine to twelve years of age, a history of music and a monthly musicale club are included. Private lessons are for children or adults.

Mrs. North has taught these subjects in Boston, Mass., where she was a pupil of John Orth, the well-known teacher and composer.

She also taught in Schenectady, New York, and Madison, Wisconsin.

ENTERS COLLEGE

Howard Shaner, 1201 Garfield avenue, Palmyra, has enrolled as a freshman in this season's class of first year students at Rutgers University.

Shaner, who graduated from Palmyra High School in the class of 1930, was one of the most popular members of his class and was honored by his classmates in being elected president of his class during his senior year, during which year he was also chosen as editor-in-chief of the Tillicum, senior classbook. He was also a member of the football team during his last two years in the high school.

RE-OPENS PLAY SCHOOL OCT. 1ST

Mrs. Horace Ross, Graduate of U. of P., Will Teach Children

The Play School, under the direction of Mrs. Horace Ross, at her home, 913 Washington avenue, Palmyra, will reopen Thursday, October 1.

This school is patterned after the nursery schools which originated in England and in the last few years have become so widespread in our own country. A small group of children, from two to four years old, come together each morning for two hours of social contact.

There is no formal school work whatever, in the usual sense, but rather supervised play, training in cooperation and independence, and careful attention to the individual development of each child in physical health, character and personality. The mothers bring the children at ten o'clock or earlier and call for them at noon.

The play is out-of-doors whenever the weather permits, active digging, climbing, swinging, running, riding kiddy cars or tricycles or quiet "housekeeping" in the shade of a tree, whatever suits the mood and stage of maturity of each child. When the weather is bad, the school moves indoors and gives the children an opportunity to learn to handle various plastic materials—paper, scissors, crayons, clay, modeling wax and that delight of children, but often despair of mothers, water.

The children learn to get along with others their own age, to give and take, without too much intervention by grownups.

Mrs. Ross is a graduate of the school of Education of the University of Pennsylvania and has made a special study of the pre-school child.

DESTROY FORMER PALMYRA FACTORY

Tear Down Old Manufacturing Plant on Wallace Street Near Morgan Ave.

The Holbrook factory, an old Palmyra landmark, has yielded to the ravages of time and is now being torn down by a house wrecking company.

The building will be remembered by the early residents of the town as one of the earliest factories in Palmyra. The original owner of the building has been dead for some time, after using the factory for the manufacture of shoe tongues.

At his death, ownership of the building passed on to his sons. They maintained the plant for several years, but changed the manufacturing product to paper goods. This project was abandoned later on and the building has been unused for about ten years.

The plant has stood at its present site on Wallace street between Morgan and Highland for more than forty years, and the older residents remember it as a place where many of the boys around town obtained employment during the summer months.

Time and weather have played havoc with the stability of the factory since it has been abandoned. The place was about to be condemned as unsafe by the Palmyra building inspector when the work of razing the building was begun.

Once the building is torn down, no other factory is likely to take its place, for its location is in a residential district. No permits have been issued for the erection of another building on the site of the old, two-story frame structure and a lawn or garden will probably replace one of the town's earliest landmarks.

NEW GARAGE

John Ford and A. B. Winter, formerly with Lester S. Portnum, of Palmyra, have opened an automobile repair shop at 621 Linden avenue, Riverton. Both men have had years of experience in all departments of automobile service work and are well equipped in their new location to successfully conduct the garage business.

GIRL SCOUTS DECIDE NAMES FOR 2 PATROLS

At the regular Monday evening meeting of the Palmyra Girl Scouts at the Methodist Church, two patrols reported their new names decided. The Pine Tree Patrol, under Thelma Cronwell, patrol leader and Mary Lantham, corporal, and the Sunflower Patrol under Rose La Gold-man and Betty Neely, expect to have their emblems ready for inspection next Monday night.

Bertha Hansen has been elected corporal for the patrol of which Ruth Brown is leader and Evelyn Spreen, the patrol elected Esther Brown as corporal.

Evelyn has been so unfortunate as to sprain a hip and will be laid up for several weeks. The troop sends her its best wishes for a speedy recovery. Her patrol meanwhile will be led by her younger sister, Anna Spreen.

The girl wishing to pass tests will report to Mrs. Horace Ross at the church at 7 p. m. Monday. The meeting will open with the flag ceremony at 7:30 p. m.

LITERATURE DEPT. TO HAVE CHARGE OF CLUB MEETING ON OCT. 5TH

The next regular meeting of the Palmyra Women's Club will be held at Society Hall, Palmyra, Monday afternoon, October 5, and will be in charge of the Literature Department.

Mrs. Isaac Rhoads, chairman of the literature department of the Ladies' Home Club, will give a very interesting talk on "Current American Literature." Mrs. Rhoads has made a study of literature and is very well known for her work in this line.

Mrs. J. C. Mallory is chairman of the committee in charge of the meeting. Other members are Mrs. Thelma Wolcott, Mrs. Joseph Horner, Mrs. Howard Lippincott, Mrs. J. P. McFarlane and Mrs. A. C. Ruseh.

Refreshments will be served as usual. It is hoped that every member of the club will make a special effort to be present at the meeting as it is very interesting and instructive program has been planned.

A PALTRY VALUATION ON HUMAN LIFE

No guard! No blinker lights! No warning bells!

The railroad grade crossing in Pensauken where the tragedy which shocked Moorestown occurred Wednesday evening of last week was unprotected, except for a "Stop, Look and Listen" sign!

Pensauken officials, after the accident, said a continuous effort had been made to have the Pennsylvania Railroad protect this dangerous Haddonfield Road crossing. Recently, it was reported, the latter had contended that the traffic diverted by Route S-41, the new state highway from Palmyra bridge to Berlin, had made it inadvisable to spend $3,000 for blinkers until crossings had been given attention.

Five lives have been sacrificed. Six more working men have been injured, all painfully and some seriously. And partially because the Pennsylvania Railroad could not see the necessity of spending a mere $3,000 for more adequate protection for motorists!

That's placing a paltry valuation on human life!

While the railroad company cannot be accused of being solely responsible for the accident, for the driver may have been at fault, it nevertheless must shoulder much of the blame, for it had failed to take all the precautions it should have to prevent accidents.

Regardless of who has the bill to pay, railroad companies should be forced to protect, as far as it is humanly possible, every grade crossing in the state. What if the cost eventually does come out of the public's pocketbook? Isn't it better than sacrificing lives, taking loved ones from the family circle, depriving mothers and their little ones of support?

PROBATION FOR RECKLESS DRIVING

A probation system for supervision over drivers whose licenses are restored after having been revoked is now being established in Connecticut.

Under the proposed system, a personal guarantee will have to be given, before a license is returned, that the offender will not repeat his offense. Each individual case will be thoroughly considered and the license will only be returned when officials are satisfied that circumstances warrant it. The driver will then be followed up, and reported upon so that if he again manifests reckless or negligent tendencies his license may again be taken back.

It is said that the main flaw in the plan is the difficulty of enforcement. But the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles believes that it can be done satisfactorily. He says, "The safety of the public demands that new and more seriously applied methods of direction be used, and more severe standards of fitness on the highways be adopted. Safety can only be attained through better selection, thereafter supplemented with a corresponding system whereby persons can be checked and whereby those persons who by dint of appearance, education or other means have succeeded in acquiring operator's license where there really exists some defect in temperament, physique or adaptability can be detected and removed."

Other states will watch the Connecticut experiment. And if it is successful, there will probably be strong public demand for it elsewhere.

ALCOHOL

Pure alcohol is a natural element in the human brain, according to a scientist who presented proof of his statement before a meeting of medical men in Buffalo the other day.

That is certain to be taken up by the enemies of prohibition as an argument in favor of the repeal of the Volstead Act. Of course, it will be an absurd argument, but it will have weight with many.

There is no question in my mind, on the other hand, that a great deal of the arguments against drinking, on which the prohibition movement gained its strength, was based on equally absurd allegations.

The fact is that there are no facts discovered that the contractor erases which apply equally to all people, or to any individual person all the time.

Some day the general public will be well enough informed to discount the "bunk" of both sides in the prohibition argument.

ROADS

Who is watching the road contractors in your town and county? There are many fine-looking concrete roads being built which will not stand up under heavy traffic, especially in the regions where the frost can upset their foundations.

The city of White Plains, New York, sent an engineer out to make borings in the pavement of a road which cost around $100,000 a mile, and discovered that the contractor had put in a foundation only half as deep as the contract called for.

Concrete roads, when properly built, have proved by far the most satisfactory so far. But when improperly built they can be more trouble and cost more for repairs than any other type of highway.

ART

Unlike the artisan, the artist can keep on working long after his physical powers have waned. My neighbor, Daniel Chester French, the famous sculptor, is past 81, but this year he is exhibiting one of the finest pieces of statuary he has ever conceived. It represents a young mother holding her infant son aloft and if ever cold bronze held the spirit of life and youth it is in this piece.

Mr. French may live to a hundred, and I hope he does, but when the end comes he will be found still working, like the artist in his own beautiful piece which stands in the Metropolitan Museum, called "Death and the Sculptor," in which the angel of death is staying the hand of the young artist.

FOOD

The experimental work of the company which is starting up the business of freezing fresh foods by means of "dry ice" so that they will keep indefinitely and can be merchandised like stockings or hardware, has progressed so far and so well that the largest New York department store is now selling "frozen" oysters, fish, meats of many kinds, fruits and vegetables just as they sell shoes or skirts or any other "dry" goods.

Several small cities have responded well to the experimental sales efforts, and with the large stores in the large cities taking up this new line of goods, it seems as if the day was not far off when the local butcher and green grocer might be wise to look for something else to do, or else to get into line with the new method.

We shall have to make new definitions of "perishable" foodstuffs.

FORD

Improvements in the Model A are to be followed if rumor is correct, with a new type of Ford car in the Spring. I know no more about it than anyone else does, but my guess is that the new Ford, when it comes out, will be as surprising as was the present Model A.

Henry Ford has always been a pioneer. He was the first automobile manufacturer to put the steering wheel on the left, where it belongs, and all the others had to follow suit. He was the first to detect the flaw in the Selden patent, on which all the other makers paid royalties for years. Ford refused to pay tribute, and won a victory for the whole industry. He was the first to reduce the daily hours of labor in his factory from nine to eight, the first to establish a minimum wage of $5 a day for the lowest worker, the first to use modern alloys for strength and lightness, and to build in gages to such accuracy that no block "test" was required.

Ford can do all these things because he has no board of directors to tell him what he can't do, no stockholders clamoring for dividends at the expense of the product. The greatest achievements have always been achieved by men working single-handed.

They decided what part of his income he ought to have. He then arranged that his salary check should be divided into two parts; her part was deposited not only in a separate account but in a different bank.

Second, jealousy. He said to her: "I love you and trust you. I know that you love me. When my feeling changes I'll tell you, and I'll count on you being equally honest. Until that time I am not going to ask you any questions or fret myself, no matter what you do or whom you meet."

"As for the troubles which we could not force," he concluded, "we agreed that we would never take them to bed. We would make up and forgive before night-fall, and then go to sleep in peace."

Many years ago St. Paul, writing to his friends the Ephesians, said: "Let not the sun go down upon your wrath."

What would happen, in business and in marriage, if we all should try that good rule for a year?

WAY OF LIFE

BY

BRUCE BARTON

The Sun Upon Your Wrath

There is a certain family in this country, consisting of several brothers whose combined resources total many millions. They meet every day at luncheon and discuss whatever problems the day's work has developed. Often the debate is spirited, but when it is over they make their decision unanimous and always act as a unit.

All their financial operations are pooled. If one brother has a fortunate investment all share the benefit. If another takes a loss, it is charged to the common account.

What has preserved their remarkable partnership? One great rule. They never allow a disagreement to carry over into a new day. If two of them have a falling out they MUST meet and settle it before the sun goes down.

I have an acquaintance who recently celebrated his twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. He says that when he and his wife were married they faced frankly the fact that some disagreements would inevitably arise. Therefore, they tried to remove in advance two of the most common causes of misunderstanding.

First of all, money. Nothing causes more marital grief than the constant argument about expense. The husband who does not make his wife a regular allowance, who compels her constantly to ask for money, explain its need, and account for its expenditure, is sure of plenty of debate.

They decided what part of his income she ought to have. He then arranged that his salary check should be divided into two parts; her part was deposited not only in a separate account but in a different bank.

Second, jealousy. He said to her: "I love you and trust you. I know that you love me. When my feeling changes I'll tell you, and I'll count on you being equally honest. Until that time I am not going to ask you any questions or fret myself, no matter what you do or whom you meet."

"As for the troubles which we could not force," he concluded, "we agreed that we would never take them to bed. We would make up and forgive before night-fall, and then go to sleep in peace."

Many years ago St. Paul, writing to his friends the Ephesians, said: "Let not the sun go down upon your wrath."

I AM STILL RICH

By Roy L. Smith

We have passed through a panic, suffered from a crash on the stock market and are now more than half way through the depression and I am still rich.

It may be true that I have much less to live on than I had a year ago, but it is certainly true that I have just as much as ever to live for. The real values of life are unshaken and solid.

The stock crash cost us much that we never had—paper profits which never got nearer our pocket than the financial pages of the daily papers. The market failed but nothing else did. Prices went down but not one acre lost its fertility and all the electric, motion and other waves went on working in their accustomed ways.

When the depression came I was compelled to take an invoice and soon discovered that I was still rich. All my capacity for the enjoyment of life was intact.

My two-hundred-thousand dollar eyes are just as good as they ever were. Every landscape and sunset is mine if I want it. Twenty-thousand-dollar scenes and views are added to my collection almost every week. A hundred-thousand-dollar sense of hearing is still unimpaired and by it I have an heir to a world of beauty and inspiration.

Then there's my million-dollar stomach and a half-million-dollar appetite. No doctor has sentenced me to spinach for the rest of my life. Better to have plain food and an appetite than to sit down to a banquet with no appetite. No man can be rich who is compelled to take orders daily from his stomach.

The depression has not lowered the value of a single friendship. Neighbors still greet us in the same old cordial way. Business associates be lieve in us, and our sons hold us in high respect. The wife's welcome at the close of the day has not depreciated in the least and our daughters continue to lavish their affection upon us with the same old extravagance.

My faith in the goodness of the universe is unimpaired. By that faith I am not emboldened as I face defeat and despair. The prayers my mother taught me and the faith in God instilled in me by a devout father remain as priceless treasures no depression can touch.

No nation becomes great by becoming rich. Neither does a man find enduring satisfaction in life by owning something—only by becoming something. The most degrading poverty is that which results from killing the spirit that the body may be served.

This depression has cost us some of the things we created but it has robbed us of none of our power to create. We may lose some beautiful things but we have lost no love of the beautiful.

It is a challenge, not a catastrophe. A generation that has conquered the air and sent giant planes circling the globe, which has plunged into the deeps and explored the ocean's floor, which has climbed above the clouds and lived in the stratosphere, is now faced with the challenge to rise above its dependence on mere things and seek an emancipation of the spirit of man.

The last six months have been for many men a thrilling spiritual adventure through which they have discovered their real wealth. Bereft of dividends and profits they are discovering the sustaining powers of

Jude's Joke

"So Mrs. Riggs started going to church again. Change of heart?"

"No, hat."

"And you mean to stand there and tell me that Lungeigh was killed by a bolt from a clear sky?"

"Sure, a workman on a 20-story building dropped the bolt."

1st Studé (writing home)—How do you spell "financially?"

2nd Studé—Financially, and there are two R's in "unburied."

Teacher—If Columbus were alive today, wouldn't he be looked upon as a remarkable man?

Jimmy—I'll tell the world. He would be 500 years old.

"I hope you are not one of those men who go home and find fault with the dinner," said Kidder.

"No," replied Growcher, "my wife and I eat at a restaurant where we both can find fault."

Blowblower—I heard that a bandit relieved you of your pocketbook last night.

Windjammer—No relief for me, but he saved my wife the trouble.

"At 20 you left the farm and came to the city. And for 30 years have been working like the dickens. What for?"

"In order to get money enough to live in the country."

The whole country applauded when Judge Wilkerson announced with dramatic emphasis that any "barkains" with the attorneys for the government might have made with Capone, did not go in his court, that the defendant must take his chances like everybody else; he would be tried and sentenced. It was explained sub-rosa that the attorney general of the United States had agreed to accept the plea of guilty from Capone, who is by now the best known private individual in the world, and that the latter would be glad to take a sentence of two or three years in the federal penitentiary or any other penitentiary the honorable court should see fit to designate.

The court instantly kicked over this program. He summoned a grand jury and told them to go into the whole case thoroughly and return some indictments. He intimated they ought to get the defendant under the Jones "five and ten" law, which is now arising to bother so many candidates for congress. As above stated everybody applauded and said here was the end of Capone. The latter said nothing.

It is true that he helped, or is supposed to have helped, recover a man who had been kidnapped and restored him to his family, but otherwise he remained in quiet seclusion save now and then to take his young son to a ball game.

The other day the grand jury adjourned and never even mentioned Mr. Capone. There is no applause now for the honorable judge, and it may be also that both Mr. George E. Q. Johnson and the honorable Mr. Mitchell, attorney general of the United States, are smiling up their sleeves. But also in the meantime again gangland has made a joke of the United States government.—Herrin, Ill. News.

S. N. Lumbuck, a grocer of Oquawko, Ill., has saved $700 worth of pennies this year.

Editorial Comment

Hard to Understand

It requires little knowledge of mathematics, law or anything else to conclude that the tragedy at Haddonfield road crossing last week will probably cost many times the cost of blinker lights. What is really hard to understand is why the railroad company would daily take the risk of losing a great sum through damage suits by the continued neglect to protect the crossing.

While the township rulers have pleaded for three years for protection, the railroad has replied that other more dangerous crossings were in line for attention.

Last week's crash was not the first at the crossing. Since the highway has been paved the place has become a greater hazard through increased traffic.

Official pressure should be brought to bear upon the railroad at once. There never has been an excuse for the absence of protection at the crossing. There is a crying public demand since last week's awful result of somebody's neglect.—Community News, Merchantville.

Making A Joke of The Government

Newspaper readers have observed by this time that once more Mr. Capone, sometimes irreverently referred to as "Scarface," has again made a joke of the United States Government, says the Belleville News-Democrat. The particular butt of his wit—shall we call it that—this time is a Federal judge.

The whole country applauded when Judge Wilkerson announced with dramatic emphasis that any "barkains" with the attorneys for the government might have made with Capone, did not go in his court, that the defendant must take his chances like everybody else; he would be tried and sentenced. It was explained sub-rosa that the attorney general of the United States had agreed to accept the plea of guilty from Capone, who is by now the best known private individual in the world, and that the latter would be glad to take a sentence of two or three years in the federal penitentiary or any other penitentiary the honorable court should see fit to designate.

The court instantly kicked over this program. He summoned a grand jury and told them to go into the whole case thoroughly and return some indictments. He intimated they ought to get the defendant under the Jones "five and ten" law, which is now arising to bother so many candidates for congress. As above stated everybody applauded and said here was the end of Capone. The latter said nothing.

It is true that he helped, or is supposed to have helped, recover a man who had been kidnapped and restored him to his family, but otherwise he remained in quiet seclusion save now and then to take his young son to a ball game.

The other day the grand jury adjourned and never even mentioned Mr. Capone. There is no applause now for the honorable judge, and it may be also that both Mr. George E. Q. Johnson and the honorable Mr. Mitchell, attorney general of the United States, are smiling up their sleeves. But also in the meantime again gangland has made a joke of the United States government.—Herrin, Ill. News.

"DO YOU REMEMBER"

By Thomas Haynes Bayly

Do you remember when you heard My lips breathe love's first faltering word?

You do, sweet—don't you? When, having wandered all the day Linked arm in arm, I dared to say, "You'll love me—won't you?"

And when you blushed and could not speak, I fondly kissed your glowing cheek Did that affront you?

Oh, surely not—your eye expressed No wrath—but said perhaps in jest, "You'll love me, won't you?"

I'm sure my eye replied, "I will," And you believe that promise still, Yes, yes! when age has made our eyes Unfit for questions or replies, You'll love me—won't you?

BARNARD ACCEPTS N. J. RELIEF JOB

N. J. Phone Head Asks 100 Citizens to Contribute $500 Each

The following statement was issued by Chester I. Barnard, president of the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company, after the announcement by Governor Larson of Mr. Barnard's appointment as Director of Unemployment Relief.

"As announced by Governor Larson, I have agreed to undertake the task of unemployment relief of New Jersey at his request, as Director of Unemployment Relief. It is my definite understanding with him that in no sense whatever am I to regard the appointment as a party character, and that I am absolutely free to recommend, propose and discuss whatever seems proper under the conditions and to work by whatever method seems suitable. He has assured me of his official and personal support to the maximum extent possible.

"This position carries with its absolutely no legal authority, which as I would feel it, its effectiveness depends solely on the influence which it can carry as a position of leadership in a cooperation job of the citizens, official and private, of this state. For this reason, I regret that Senator Morrow's public duties of course precluded his availability for this appointment. His ability, experience and wisdom would have at once commended the support necessary, and no man can accomplish a fraction of the needs of the situation without the genuine and active support of the citizens of the state. I have accepted the job and ask for that support because I believe that the welfare of the people of this state needs the job done now.

"I have asked Governor Larson not to ask me to form a committee, I feel that the imperative need for action and not debates and for definite concrete progress quickly arrived at and quickly changed if wrong, rather than the slow compromises that committee organization frequently imposes. With my assent I propose to associate with me a number of individuals, counselors, as individuals and not as a board, I shall undoubtedly also ask several gentlemen to help me as working assistants. Beyond this plans of organization have not been considered and there are no appointments to announce.

"There are no public funds available for this work. I would prefer not to ask appropriations for it, at least not at this time. I am not in a position to finance it personally. I would like to be spared the embarrassment of soliciting personally for funds. I am, therefore, asking through the public press if there are 50 to 100 citizens of means who have sufficient confidence in me and sufficient interest in this effort to send me a check for $500 each, understanding that any balance unused by me will be returned pro rata.

"I regret that this appointment compels me to terminate my official connection with several civic and public institutions which take a good deal of time. I am today resigning as a member of the Board of Manager of the Rahway Reformatory, as a Trustee of the Newark Welfare Federation, as a Director of the Newark Chamber of Commerce. My present intention is to continue as a Director of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce and as a member of the Regional Government Commission."

BAIRD IN FAVOR OF CIVIL SERVICE

Nails False Report He Opposes Teacher's Pension and Annuity System

David Baird, Jr., Republican candidate for Governor, has pledged his complete support to the Civil Service system in New Jersey.

Mr. Baird, in replying to rumors of his Democratic opponents that he did not favor Civil Service also notified the false report that he was opposed to the teacher's pension and annuity system. The candidate vigorously asserted he would support and strengthen both systems.

The candidate recalled that some years ago he was forced to censure and criticize the type of Civil Service that New Jersey was having to bear but that he had never been opposed to the principle of the personal system. He promised he would use all the power of the Governorship when he was elected, to strengthen existing statutes when the necessity and practicality and fairness of proposed changes were proven.

"Never in my life," said Mr. Baird, "have I been opposed to Civil Service when it is properly administered. It is true I had a part in removing the old Civil Service Commission in 1929 and I will say that commission was not performing its duties honestly. The Civil Service law were terribly administered in Camden and I am proud for the part I had in ousting that commission.

"The 1930 legislature strengthened the civil service act in New Jersey and I am told that law is a model throughout the country. I'll never sign a bill to weaken Civil Service and I will use the power of Governorship to strengthen it."

Senator Baird pointed out that the Republican platform, to which he was committed, carried a plan suggested by a committee of teachers, pledging the party's support of increasing security to the teacher's pension fund.

Attorney G. C. Kleine, of Chicago, stammered so much when he tried his first case in court that proceedings were adjourned for a day.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"REALITY" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, September 27, 1931.

The Golden Text is: "Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights, with whom is no variableness, neither shadow of turning." (James 1:17).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace, whose mind is stayed on thee: because he trusteth in thee." (Isaiah 26:3).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Let us accept Science, relinquish all theories based on sense-testimony, give up imperfect models and illusive ideals; and so let us have one God, one Mind, and that one perfect, producing His own models of excellence." (p. 249).

Sunday School Lesson

International Sunday School Lesson for September 27

THE SPREAD OF CHRISTIANITY IN ASIA

Golden Text Acts 14:27

Rev. Samuel D. Price, D. D.

This Review lesson is of special importance because of the large amount comprehended in the quarter's lessons and since the regular study has been interrupted in many cases by reason of the summer vacations. Begin by reading in Acts from Chapter I through 15:35. You will need your map constantly. The map that will help you the most is the one that you draw as each new place is named.

Gloom incident to the crucifixion and then the Ascension of Jesus Christ, fully dispelled by the stupendous events that took place in Jerusalem on the Jewish feast of Pentecost. After the disciples had the ten day prayer meeting the dispensation of the Holy Spirit began with the awe-inspiring manifestation, followed by the spiritually effective preaching of Peter, when thousands believed that the Crucified was the Messiah and Saviour of mankind.

Preaching and personal work followed, and miracles were confirming signs that attracted the attention of the people. Peter was no longer the coward to cringe before the sneer of a serving-maid. The lame man was healed in the temple. When the authorities commanded that such preaching cease, Peter replied "We must obey God rather than man." Church organization was developed as occasion required and the order of deacons was established to give adequate attention to the worthy poor. Giving money is part of true religion. Persecutions arose because of the very successes of the early church. Deacon Stephen became the first martyr and deacon Philip did fine work in Samaria and as a missionary to the eunuch. Believers were scattered and Saul of Tarsus was changed from chief persecutor to an ardent believer and evangelist.

REPRESENTS HOSPITAL

That the Burlington County Hospital, Mount Holly, should be represented at a joint session of the South American-North American Medical Congress at Mexico City is of note worthy importance. Dr. Louis Viteri, formerly chief resident physician of the Burlington County Hospital, sailed from New York to Mexico City in July, accompanying Dr. Chevalier Jackson and Dr. W. W. Balcock, famous surgeons of Philadelphia, as representative of the local medical profession, for the purpose of presenting to the Congress scientific papers.

JOBS, NOT DOLES IN GRAND RAPIDS

Able-Bodied Unemployed Must Work on Improvements to Obtain Aid

Jobs instead of doles is the order in Grand Rapids; for every dollar the city spends in public relief Grand Rapids gets 80 cents in labor on public improvements.

All the physically able unemployed men in the city, paradoxically speaking, are at work on projects that have accumulated over a period of years, projects that have not required the purchase of more material than the city has on hand or can acquire easily out of funds regularly budgeted to the various city departments.

The finding of jobs in Grand Rapids was an easy matter for, as have all cities, Grand Rapids has shelved numerous projects in years gone by largely because of lack of funds. The chief item of expense connected with most of these projects was labor. But since the supply of labor is all too plentiful and the city is faced with the task of providing for an unusually large number, the decision was made to beautify and improve the city both to the benefit of the city and the unemployed.

Some 2,000 men, most of them heads of families, are now busy building many of the things that Grand Rapids has wanted for a long time. The Grand Rapids method, which has been in operation since December, 1929, has been so successful in eliminating the financial dole that now only about one per cent of the cases receive direct relief. But this direct relief goes only to families without able-bodied breadwinner or to families too large for the part time efforts of the father to support.

Every able-bodied unemployed man in Grand Rapids who is in need of assistance is working under a system which enables him to get along satisfactorily without losing his self-respect. These men are creating a new park, widening and extending streets, building new sidewalks, rounding off street corners for the convenience and safety of motorists, laying water mains and sewer lines, widening axes for the city wood pile, filling in city lots, painting city buildings, and a hundred and one other things which various city officials have on their books. Already these men have raised the buildings on the site for the new municipal auditorium on which many unemployed will soon be at work. A fine swimming pool in a city park has also been constructed, whose utility demonstrates the soundness of the Grand Rapids plan.

PLANE TALKS

By Lt. H. H. LONGAKER

Founder, Burlington County Aero Club

All we need now is nice weather this weekend and the air carnival being staged at the Moorestown airport by the Burlington County Aero Club will be assured of success. Members of the social service department of the Burlington County Hospital have been working hard, selling flight tickets and advertising the carnival. We certainly hope you are able to turn over a nice sum to the hospital social service department. Will you help?

John J. Jockowitz, of Riverton and Victor R. Fritz, of Philadelphia, members of the Burlington County Aero Club, have successfully passed the examinations and are now licensed private pilots. "Salutations and what not, my lads!"

Efforts are being made to the Aviation Unit of the New Jersey National Guard send a squadron of planes down to the air carnival this Saturday and Sunday.

A public speaking system will be installed at the Moorestown airport for use at the air carnival over the coming week end. The crowds attending the air carnival will be entertained by music and by means of this system we will be able to inform you of each event.

Former State Senator Emmor Roberts, accompanied by Mrs. Roberts, flew to Buckhill Falls last weekend in Emmor's ship. They landed at Skytop and then motored over to Buckhill.

Parachute jumping at the carnival will be done by Mickey Efferson, of Wilmington, Del., who has an excellent record and has won more first prizes than any other jumper in the East this summer. All of his jumps will be of a spectacular nature. On one jump, he will "ball out" with one parachute, drop 500 feet, disengage himself from the chute and fall a thousand feet before opening the second parachute. He will probably make one jump Saturday afternoon and two on Sunday.

Don't forget we are counting on you all to come over to the Moorestown airport this Saturday and Sunday.

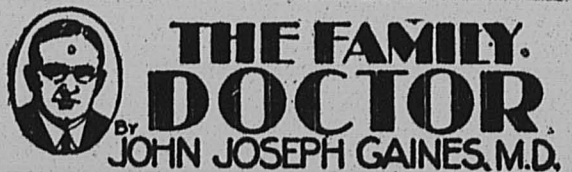

"Yes," said the facetious barber, "we're up-to-date here. We have you while you wait."

"Indeed!" replied Fuller Peppie. "I've usually found that you shave several other persons while I wait."

INVITES LUND TO AIR CARNIVAL

Here we see "Jim" Erdman, (standing) chief pilot of the Burlington County Aero Club, inviting Fred Lund, foremost commercial stunt flier of the country, to the Air Carnival to be staged in Moorestown Airport this Saturday and Sunday for the benefit of the Social Service Department of Burlington County Hospital, Mount Holly. Fred has announced he will attend the carnival and put on his famous stunting exhibition both days unless he is called to the West.

THE FAMILY DOCTOR JOHN JOSEPH GAINES, M.D.

A Lean Horse For a Long Race

Since I last touched this subject, with I have noticed in big city daily newspapers that no fewer than twenty-five deaths have occurred from "heart disease" in one great metropolitan of the middle west.

Men—all of them. And none of them big, two-listed, bull-necked fellows. Some of them were personal acquaintances of mine. They were golfers, if you please; the city and country sustained a distinct loss when each died. There's a lesson here for all but the heedless.

To skinny, lanky, dyspeptic, plunger and artist of the big town may go crazy, but he doesn't die of "heart disease." Had you ever noticed that? The fellow who "gits up" once in awhile, and is afraid to eat much. It's the fellow that weighs from 150 to 175 pounds, gets him like a shot; the fellow who carries the can-vass-back, and tops it off with a hot chaser; that doesn't have time to dine till the day is done—the big fore-curler he man of business.

Lesson—lessons to the observing. Over-fueling at wrong hours. The big feed just before the night of rest. Breakfast at noon, lunch negligible in quantity and bailed-swallowed whole! The rush back to business—no time for eating or digesting properly. The office closed at six. The road to "tuberculosis," blood-pressure, rotten arteries, "heart disease" at 50 or thereabout.

Better be "skinny" with a bundle of nerves and a cowhorn stomach, in the mad chase for the dollar. Then, you can at least avert the heart disease benediction, the over-stuffed waives of the mortician, the tall marble shaft—all these, till you're silly want to die and have it over.

POSTMASTER IS AGAIN NAMED TO FIREMEN'S ASSOCIATION OFFICE

Evon F. Benner, Moorestown postmaster, was re-elected first assistant secretary of the New Jersey State Firemen's Association at its fifty-fourth annual convention in Atlantic City on Friday and Saturday, Mr. Benner has served in this capacity for more than twenty years.

Moorestown was represented at the meeting by four delegates, Chief Ellis H. McAlister, Benjamin M. Halmer, Horace Bintliff and Allen Nixon. Two life members of the association from Moorestown were also present, F. Whitmer Atkinson and Nathan L. Wright.

There were 2000 delegates from all parts of the state at the convention. Two sessions were held to conduct the business of the association. One meeting was on Friday afternoon. Election of officers was held on Saturday morning.

C. H. Hasebuhm, of Carlstadt, was named president; William Exol, of Newark, is secretary; Ralph T. Holman, of New Brunswick, is second assistant secretary; Charles E. Burr, of Bordentown, is treasurer and Charles J. Morris, of North Bergen, is auditor.

There was no parade this year.

A lone apple tree on a ten-acre farm of Walter McCellan, near Centertown, Ia., has produced enough fruit every year for some time to pay the $1434 taxes on his land.

EXPLAINS LEGION CARNIVAL STAND

Post Commander Says Mayor Refused Permission to Stage Affair

George B. Weigand, commander of Post 103, American Legion, has written a letter explaining the reasons for the Legion's refusal to stage a carnival in the town of Palmyra. The letter was addressed to the citizens of Palmyra and Riverton. It was received by the Riverton Post office on September 22.

The letter states that the Legion has been asked to stage a carnival in the town of Palmyra. The Legion has refused to do so because it has been refused permission to stage a carnival in the town of Palmyra. The Legion has been refused permission to stage a carnival in the town of Palmyra because it has been refused permission to stage a carnival in the town of Palmyra.

"Thinking that perhaps there may be some misunderstanding of the nature of the Post, I desire to let the friends of the Legion know that the Post was and is anxious to hold its carnival on its own premises as in the past. It is not the intention of the Post to stage a carnival in the town of Palmyra. The Post has been refused permission to stage a carnival in the town of Palmyra because it has been refused permission to stage a carnival in the town of Palmyra.

If this be a fact, it is a most disappointing and surprising thing to the Post, to feel that the majority of the citizens of the Borough of Palmyra would refuse to hold a carnival within the Borough of Palmyra. The Post has been refused permission to stage a carnival in the town of Palmyra because it has been refused permission to stage a carnival in the town of Palmyra.

"This statement by the mayor is deeply disappointing and distressing to the Post. It is a pity that the circumstances in which it must be faced and accepted.

"However, to avoid any misunderstanding, we want the people of Palmyra to know that we are holding the carnival outside the Borough of Palmyra not because it is our wish, but because we have been informed by the highest official of the town that it is the wish of the majority of the citizens that we do so, and we do not propose to in any way antagonize the majority of its citizens. However, sad as this attitude may be to the Post.

GEORGE B. WEIGAND, Commander, Post 103, American Legion.

MEET TO DISCUSS SCHOOL PROBLEM

when it had all been done the final result would not be what was wanted.

Could Cut Cost

Mrs. Mayfield further explained that a large portion of the cost of the project submitted to the mayor was due to an effort to provide for community use instead of planning for school use only. She said that a building for school purposes only could be erected for considerably less, and that this would be better than to spend any money on the present site.

The thing about the petition, she pointed out, and appealed universally to the fact that the board proposed to buy land in great excess of its needs and then sell off a portion of it. It was explained by Mr. Barclay that in order to get the petition wanted it was necessary to have the wide tract. He thought that the sale of the tract property, the old school lot on Fourth and Howard, and the ground occupied by the present building would eventually net enough to pay for the new school.

Mr. DeLaCour added that it is a magnificent school building resulted in a prohibitive tax rate it would drive people away from the town rather than attract them to it.

Wright Asks Warning

Charles A. Wright, who met the proposed remodeling would add to the area of the building, and Mr. Wright thought that to talk of spending $150,000 to remodel a $40,000 building was ridiculous. He said that American citizens should stop and consider where they are headed for. The post office and the federal government both have heavy deficits, he said, and pointed out that in the last forty years the expense of operating the government had increased twelve times. In his opinion the best education that can be given American boys and girls is to teach them not to be as crazy as their parents have been. The present rate at which expenses and taxes are being piled up, he declared, spelled the disruption of our civilization if it is not checked.

Objects to Present Site

Miss Martha M. Biddle said she had always thought the present building was part in the wrong place, and did not want to see any money spent on the site now occupied. She hoped that whatever was done would be planned for the future, and to make the Riverton school stand for some time.

A. Wilson Sylvester said that he had been a member of the Board of Education at the time C. W. Kipp, then president, had appointed a committee of which he was chairman, to consider improvements recommended by Miss Chew, who was then superintendent. He had secured plans for an extension on the Howard street side of the building, which provided four additional classrooms, an auditorium seating 500, converting the present auditorium into a gymnasium and manual training room and a complete new heating plant. This was an $85,000 plan, and this time the school board had gone for $200,000. He had just been informed by the architect who drew the plan, that the work could be done for $250,000 to $300,000.

Killed By Technicalities

After the plans and estimate had been prepared and presented to the board, Mr. Sylvester said the district was sprung on the board for the first time a clause in the deed which would prevent extending the building. He said that the deed was drawn by Howard Street, and the deed was drawn by Howard Street, and the deed was drawn by Howard Street.

Plan Refused To Be Unchangeable

Mrs. Mayfield said that if they were to build a new school, they would have to build a new school, and they would have to build a new school, and they would have to build a new school.

Large Expenditure Unwise Now

Mr. H. Mayfield said he was trying to explain to the board that the school board had been refused permission to stage a carnival in the town of Palmyra because it has been refused permission to stage a carnival in the town of Palmyra.

New Site Suggested

Mr. Mayfield said that the school board had been refused permission to stage a carnival in the town of Palmyra because it has been refused permission to stage a carnival in the town of Palmyra.

Mr. DeLaCour asked Mrs. Mayfield if the school board would be willing to make out with the present building, the remodelled at a reasonable cost.

Survey Gave Building Low Rating

Victor Raschke, the new member of the school board appointed at the last meeting, said he hoped the citizens committee would realize that a new building was needed now or later. In a survey made by the State Department of Education in 1929, the Riverton school had been given a rating of 66, which showed that it was in a deplorable condition, it was in a deplorable condition, it was in a deplorable condition.

Defendants Charged Says Steele

George D. Steele, member of the property committee, replied to Mr. Rusehard that after the survey had been made, and before it was published, two of the board had decided to build a new building, and that if the concrete was laid, and also been added, the building would be entitled to a rating of 85, but of a possible 100.

Mr. Steele said that the school board had been refused permission to stage a carnival in the town of Palmyra because it has been refused permission to stage a carnival in the town of Palmyra.

Monthly Meetings Suggested

Mr. Steele suggested that the committee of citizens submit a concrete proposition to the school board at time to have it placed on the ballot at the annual meeting next February, but Mr. Barclay thought it would be necessary to have a number of joint meetings before any decision could be reached and it was decided to hold such meetings about once a month, at the call of the president of the Board of Education.

CLUB MEMBERS OPEN NEW SEASON

Harry O. Yates, Jr., to be Speaker at Meeting on Monday Evening

A very excellent program marked the first meeting of the season to be held by the Palmyra Woman's Club in Society Hall, Palmyra, Monday afternoon.
