NEW 'BROADWAY' OPENS OCTOBER 8

Burlington County's Finest Playhouse Embraces Many New Features

Next Thursday evening, October 8th, Burlington County's most beautiful theatre, "Broadway," Palmyra, will be opened with appropriate ceremonies. Prominent officials of both County and State will attend.

The management has expended thousands of dollars in the construction of a new and larger theatre, with every possible convenience for its patrons. The theatre construction proper is of heavy structure, including supports of the flooring and roofing. The auditorium proper has been rebuilt to accomodate approximately one thousand persons comfortably seated, arranged in spacious and roomy seats and aisles, with ample standing room to accomodate three hundred persons.

Beautiful Entrance

The front of the theatre as designed will be finished in marble. The lighting will consist of a Marquee containing approximately 3000 electric bulbs, and neon tubes which was constructed for the Broadway Theatre by the Apex Sign Co. The ticket booth will be finished in marble, and equipped with latest improvements, including automatic ticket vendor. The lobby will be finished with mirrored doors and decorations which will include specially constructed poster frames with mirror centres, made for the Broadway theatre by the Lobby Display Franic Co of New York City.

Immediately upon entering the auditorium proper the eye is confronted with the splendor of the latest and most beautifully decorated stage proper, a Proscenium arch of ornamental plaster carries completely around the arch of the stage and finished in gold, silver and cromium leaf. Around the arch and the projection screen are beautiful draperies designed especially for the Broadway theatre by the largest decorators of theatres in the world.

The Novelty Scenic Studios of New York City, in their large studios in New York have laid out the exact reproduction of the finished Broadway theatre so that the exactness when completed portrays the latest in the decorating of the theatre.

Art Work on Walls

Six mural paintings on the side walls representing Art, Architecture, Industry and Labor, were painted by John C. Wonsetler who is considered the finest artist on theatre paintings, besides being instructor in Art at the Academy of Fine Arts in Philadelphia. Large and spacious ornamental plaster grills finished in gold and silver leaf adorn each side of the stage, permitting the perfect distribution of fresh air supplied by the latest design of ventilating systems, to provide cool and thoroughly cleansed air. An artesian well has been drilled on the theatre property and supplied to the ventilating system by a series of electrically driven pumps, the fresh air is washed through this artesian well water which is always at a temperature of 40 degrees. The fresh air is circulated through the entire auditorium by massive blowers which are of such size to permit the complete change of air of approximately 60,000 cubic feet every minute, the foul air being withdrawn from the theatre through beautifully decorated ornamental plaster grills in ceiling of the auditorium and carried out of the theatre through a system of electrically driven exhaust blowers.

MRS. ROSS RE-OPENS PLAY SCHOOL TODAY

The Play School, which is being reopened at the home of Mrs. Horace Ross, 913 Washington avenue, Palmyra, today, will begin its second year, the first one having proven very successful.

This school is based on the idea that certain things are necessary in the life of a young child before he is ready to enter kindergarten. He must learn to do things for himself and enjoy the learning and the doing.

Mrs. Ross teaches the tots all this and more. She is desirous of having kiddies from two to four years of age enroll and is sure they will profit very much by doing so.

Children may be registered at any time and information may be had by calling Riverton 567.

JOSHUA TRUITT

Funeral services were held Friday afternoon at two o'clock for Joshua Truitt, colored, 51 years old, of Five Points. Mr. Truit died Tuesday of last week. Interment was made in the Crescent Cemetery under the direction of Frank A. Snover. The deceased is survived by his widow, Mrs. Emma Truitt.

ASSIST IN DEDICATION

The members of Washington Camp, P. O. S. of A., of Palmyra, will participate in the dedication of the new lodge hall in Delanco, which has been set for the near future. The Palmyra organization was asked to participate because of its work in organizing the Delanco lodge. The committee from Palmyra who are planning for the event is comprised of Holmes, Horner, Koppenhoefer, Reeves and Wimer.

Fewer Enrolled in Palmyra Schools

A decrease of 19 pupils in the Palmyra Public Schools was shown in a report made last Thursday night.

The total of 1273 students falls short of the 1292 enrollment last year. The decrease of 47 pupils in the grammar grades was partly offset by an increase of 28 in the high school.

There are 422 enrolled in the Spring Garden street and Cinnaminson avenue schools, 407 attending the grammar grades at the Delaware avenue buildings and 444 in the student body of the high school.

Seventy two children are attending the new kindergarten classes in each of the two school buildings. Of these, about half attend the morning sessions and the remainder fill the afternoon classes. The Cinnaminson avenue enrollment is 44, six more than that of the Delaware avenue school.

LEGION CARNIVAL STARTS TONIGHT

Palmyra Post Opens Annual Festival in Riverton Fire House

The social season of the Frederick M. Rodgers American Legion Post, of Palmyra, will begin this week with its annual carnival. The dates set for the affair, which will be held in the Riverton fire house, are today, tomorrow and Saturday.

It had been the hope of the legionnaires to hold the carnival on the grounds of the Legion Home but Post Commander Welgand thought opposition on the part of the towns people might make such a venture impractical. The Post officers have accepted the hospitality of the citizens of Riverton and are holding the carnival at the Riverton fire house and adjoining space.

Weather will make no difference in the plans for the event, as adequate shelter will make it possible for the entire group of booths and stands to be taken inside in case of rain.

Several new attractions will be on hand and the newly paved street in front of the fire hall will be roped off and turned into a colorful carnival midway. Dancing will be an added attraction for the patrons of the festival.

The second important event of the budding winter season will be held next Tuesday night, when the regular monthly meeting will be held. Three neighboring posts, Riverside, Maple Shade and Delaware Gardens and the members of the Palmyra Bugle and Drum Corps, will be the guests of the evening, which will be taken up with a period of excellent entertainment.

At a short business meeting preceding the evening's entertainment, nominations for the various post offices for next year will be made.

W. Rex McCrosson, the newly elected state commander for New Jersey and the second one from Palmyra to be so honored, will also be a guest of honor at the meeting.

NOTICE TO PARENTS

Ordinance No. 27, regulating the use of bicycles, tricycles and other vehicles in the Borough of Riverton, is being violated regardless of the request of the police department that parents cooperate with the department to make sidewalks safe for pedestrians.

After today an person, regardless of age, who shall ride a bicycle, tricycle or other vehicle without a proper soundig device and a proper light, will be summoned to appear before the borough recorder and required to pay a fine not to exceed five dollars in accordance with Ordinance No. 27.

CHARLES DeLANEY, Director.

BOYS WILL BE GUESTS AT COLLEGE GRID TILT

Fifty boys from Palmyra and Riverton will be guests of the YMCA of the two towns at the Penn-Swarthmore football game Saturday.

The trip has been planned for members of the various YMCA groups and only those who have membership in the organization are eligible to go.

Passes for the college contests are being supplied by the county office of the organization and transportation will be made in private cars, which will leave the YMCA building at Broad and Garfield avenue at 1:15 Saturday afternoon.

AUXILIARY NOTES

The regular monthly meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary of Post F. M. Rodgers, of Palmyra, will be held in the Legion Home, Wednesday evening, October 21.

The newly elected and installed officers will begin their activities at that time and a large attendance is hoped for.

The monthly meeting of the Burlington County Legion Auxiliary will be held in Moorestown, Friday evening, October 16.

Members are asked to keep these dates in mind.

DR. AND MRS. COOK IN ROTARY TALK

Give Interesting Account of Work in Korea and Manchuria

The Palmyra-Riverton Rotary Club had as its speaker last Thursday night, Rev. F. W. Cook, missionary to Manchuria, China. Dr. Cook and his wife, who was Miss Maud Hemphill, of Riverton sister of Fred P. Hemphill, have been engaged in missionary work for the past twenty-three years. The first ten years were spent in Korea, after which they followed a migration of Koreans into Manchuria.

The Cooks have supervision over 72 churches, with a membership of about 6000 native Christians.

Dr. and Mrs. Cook arrived in the United States in August and will remain for several months. They are making their home at Pyne Hall, Princeton, N. J.

In addressing the Rotarians Dr. Cook told of the work among the Koreans. He said that one of the most serious difficulties they had to meet was an attempt of the Communists to get a foothold among their parishioners. As a counter move he had started young Christian societies with a view to furnishing the young men and women entertainment and something else to think about. One group, Dr. Cook said, had staged a musical concert in the church, winding up with a Russian clog dance. While this might not have been quite orthodox, the movement was a success, and the doctor thought the end had justified the means.

The speaker said he feared trouble between Japan and China at Mukden. In Japan, he said, there was a great conflict raging between the military class and the Democrats—the militarists clamoring for stern measures with China, and the Democrats working for peace.

The Chinese have one weapon of warfare which the Japanese fear more than anything else, and that is the boycott. When Japan becomes too oppressive, the Chinese declare a boycott on all Japanese goods. They enter the stores and carry all articles made in Japan into the street where they are piled up and burned. The storekeeper is then warned that if any more Japanese goods are found in his store they will be burned and he along with them. This has actually happened, said Mr. Cook.

At the close of the doctor's remarks Mrs. Cook spoke for a few minutes, while her husband and E. W. Cooper, supervising principal of the Riverton public school, donned native costumes. The doctor appeared as a Korean and Mr. Cooper as a Chinaman. The doctor gave greetings to the assembled Rotarians and their guests in the Korean language, which was translated by Mrs. Cook.

The Rotary Club graciously invited several of the townspeople of Riverton, Palmyra and Cinnaminson township to share with them the treat of hearing Dr. and Mrs. Cook.

NO "BLUE MONDAY" AT CINNAMINSON

Banking Day, Pepper Relish and Visit to Farm Add Interest to School Activities

Who said "Blue Monday"? With meeting over thirty-five bright little people, getting acquainted, you know, there was nothing but sunshine, and even the weather, which had been doubtful cleared immediately.

The back of the auditorium has been devoted to the needs of these small citizens. An attractive sand-box made by one of the fathers, at a very small expense to the school. The little tables and chairs, the various fittings of a kindergarten, music, an aquarium, and last, best of all a willing teacher. Any mother would be glad to have her child start its school life here where nature lends a charm in the old forest trees, where the out-of-door exercises are held.

Banking Day has become an institution in Cinnaminson. The Sixth Grade pupils are taking charge of the project, doing the clerical work necessary, this year.

Um-mmm—something good is being made in Miss Rogers' department. Yes, the second class for the morning is making pepper relish. The delicious odor will surely sharpen appetites and later cause a raid on the lunch room, where nicely frosted cup cakes made by the first class have been sent to be served with the day's lunch.

The second grade visited a near-by farm last week, watching with interest the various machines preparing apples for market, climbing to the seats of tractor, mowing machine, and other farm tools, finally leaving in a small truck that chanced to be going by the school—an interesting and interested group of well-behaved small visitors.

Parents and friends, stop when passing, or make an especial visit to the room where your interest lies, and you will feel well repaid for the endeavor.

PRESS CHAIRMAN.

REPUBLICANS ORGANIZE

The Palmyra members of the Republican County Committee met Tuesday evening to lay plans for the coming campaign. It was decided to establish local headquarters in Mayor George Wimer's office, and it was announced that a general meeting of the workers of the town would be held in the P. O. S. of A. Hall next Tuesday evening at eight o'clock.

RECOVER BODY OF MAN DROWNED LAST WEEK

Find Remains of Barge Employee in Delaware River Near Delair Bridge

The body of John Truhal 25 years old, who was drowned Monday of last week near the Tacony Palmyra Bridge, was found floating in the Delaware river at the foot of Delaware avenue, Delair last Thursday.

He had drowned after slipping from the deck of the large "Freedom" on which both he and his father were employed. A search for his body had proved futile and police of the river town were notified to be on the watch.

The body of the dead man was seen in mid-stream by Clifford Miller, 42 years old, of Lennox avenue, Delair. When the body was towed to shore, identification was made by means of a blue shirt and overalls. The apparel Truhal was said to have been wearing.

Police Captain Joseph Rodgers, of Palmyra, identified the body which was taken to the morgue by Coroner Melvin Cain, of Camden county, last Thursday afternoon.

DINNER DANCE FOR YOUTH OF COUNTY

Young Republicans Will be Entertained October 16 at Log Cabin Lodge

Hon. Ex-Governor E. C. Stokes will be the principal speaker of the evening at the dinner dance being held at Log Cabin Lodge, Medford Lakes, Friday evening, October 16 for the Young Republicans of New Jersey.

This Young Republican Movement has recently been started in Burlington County and is sponsored all over the United States by the Republican National Committee.

Nearly three hundred young folk are expected to be present at the dinner, which will be served at seven o'clock, and which will be followed by Governor Stokes' brief address. He will be the only speaker of the evening.

Music for dancing will be furnished by a very well known and popular dance orchestra. Those who do not care to dance may spend the evening playing cards and other games, such as ping pong and pool.

Palmer L. Adams, of Palmyra, is chairman in charge of the committee on arrangements. Others on the committee are: Miss Berna Delta Gasell, of Mount Holly; Mrs. Myrtle E. Cramer, of Maple Shade; F. H. Dumlee, of Chatsworth; and Howard T. Severns, of Burlington.

According to Mr. Adams this event is expected to be one of the most brilliant of its kind ever to be held in Burlington County.

The committee is endeavoring to have young folk present from nearly every town in the county. Admission will be by invitation only.

FULL PROGRAM FOR RIVERTON PORCH CLUB

Luncheon Will Be Served at Formal Opening of Club October 6th

A new and full club year has been planned by the program committee under the able chairmanship of Mrs. Howard S. Coe.

The attractive and easily handled Year Book contains names of outstanding speakers who have been engaged to bring to us the best and newest thoughts in Literature, Art, Current Events, Regional Planning, International Relations, Gardens and Education. Musicians of note will entertain on two club days.

The Current Event Section aims to create an added interest in topics of national and international importance. The Drama Department is planning for our pleasure. The Music Section will continue the Club Choral, adding to the enjoyment and entertainment of the meetings and the Welfare Department will carry on its very valuable service to the community.

A Study Class in Contemporary American Literature will be a new feature this season.

The Club year will formally open on October 6 with a luncheon served at one o'clock. Mrs. Joseph L. Thomas, who is entering her second term of successful leadership, will preside. Much valuable information and many suggestions will be brought to the club by Mrs. Sherman L. Warren, First District Vice-President. Another feature of the day will be an address on Modern Movies by Mrs. Clayton D. Lee, a well-known lecturer and newspaper woman.

Mrs. M. Griffenberg

Funeral services were held at eleven o'clock Saturday morning for Mrs. Mary Griffenberg, 63 years old, who died Wednesday night of last week at her home, 19 Spring Garden street, Palmyra.

Services were held from the Snover Funeral Home, with the Rev. Charles T. Bates officiating. Interment was made in Morgan Cemetery.

The deceased, who has been a resident of Palmyra for 33 years, is survived by her husband, Joseph, a son, Edwin, and three daughters, Mrs. B. L. Tinkler, of Delaware Gardens; Mrs. Glen W. Chambers, of Burlington and Mrs. Albert Parker, of Dallas Texas.

COUNTY MAY TAKE OVER POOR RELIEF

Provision Made By New Law, Question Will Be On November Ballot

Under the Old Age Pensions Act, passed by the legislature last winter a County Welfare Board has been created to administer the funds provided by the state for elderly persons who are eligible under the provisions of the Act.

The law provides that counties may place its welfare work in the hands of the same board if they so desire. This would relieve the municipalities in the county of the responsibility of caring for its poor, and of providing directly the funds for their relief.

To enable the board to act in counties, the proposition must receive a majority vote in the election on November 3, at which time the question will be printed on the ballot.

At the meeting of the Burlington County Board of Freeholders last Friday, a resolution was passed to place the question before the voters as prescribed by law.

Opinion as to the advisability of adopting this means of relief is divided, some claiming that it would make for efficiency and economy, and others claiming just the opposite.

Want County To Take Road

The township committee of Southampton township petitioned the board of freeholders to take over the unimproved roads in that township as follows: Road from P. R. R. station to Earl's Corner, road from Earl's Corner to Budd's Corner in Buddtown, road from Budd's Corner to junction with Magnolia road, and road from Magnolia road to Woodland township line. These requests were referred to Charles R. Stout, director of the road department.

Mount Laurel township asked for state aid on the resurfacing with gravel of the Creek road, from the Marne highway at Rancocas Park to where the road crosses Parker's creek near Bridgeboro, the estimated cost of which would be $2300. This was also referred to Mr. Stout.

Frank S. Brown, commissioner of public property of Bordentown, appeared before the board and made inquiry as to when the board thought it would be able to pave about 3000 feet of Farnsworth avenue, he stating that the water pipes had been laid and that connections would be made to the various properties along the street this fall. Brown was informed that the county would be ready to do their part as soon as the city felt it was ready.

May Remove Crossing

The board was informed by communication from the Public Utility Commission that a conference will be held in the State House at Trenton on October 29 relative to removing the grade crossing of the Pennsylvania Railroad at Upton.

Solicitor Harold B. Wells was given two bills, of more than $400 each, which were owing by patients at the Fairview Sanitorium at New Lisbon, who had died recently. The solicitor was instructed to collect promptly or bring suit.

The John D. Johnson property on High street, Mount Holly, was recently offered the town of Mount Holly as a community center, and, as nothing has been done, Norman W. Harker, Mount Holly lawyer, sent questionnaire to the board. The queries ask whether the board can utilize any part of the new property should the town accept Mr. Johnson's proposition. The matter was referred to J. Lloyd Wright, head of the department of public affairs.

The following bills of the various departments of the county were presented and ordered paid: Finance, $2648.17; roads, $25,460.77; bridges, $7276.56; buildings, $6427.42; public affairs, $784.21; making a total of $42,601.13.

Carl Genreich

Carl Genreich, 47 years old, died suddenly at his home on Maple avenue, Maple Shade, on Saturday, from an attack of acute myocarditis.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, from the funeral parlor of E. W. Belton & Son, North Church street, Moorestown. The Rev. Mr. Nagle, pastor of the Maple Shade Lutheran church, officiated. Interment was made in Colestown Cemetery.

Mr. Genreich is survived by his wife Clara, and two daughters.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our many friends for kindnesses extended during our recent bereavement, especially those who sent cars and flowers to funeral.

GEO. F. BAILEY and FAMILY.

CHICKEN SUPPER

A chicken supper will be served by the Ladies Aid of the Epworth M. E. Church Thursday, October 6, from 5:30 until 8:00 p. m. Tickets including ice cream and cake, 75 cents for adults and fifty cents for children.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our many friends for the kindness expressed during our recent bereavement, especially those who sent cars and flowers.

JOSEPH GRIFFENBERG and FAMILY.

630 VISIT HISTORIC SHIP IN PHILADELPHIA

The number of school children from Palmyra and Riverton who made a trip to see "Old Ironsides" at its wharf in Philadelphia far exceeded the number expected.

The original number expected to be about 530 for three trips was passed last week when the second group left for the trip. 160 from the Spring Garden street school made the excursion Thursday afternoon and 410 were taken in five double-deck buses from the Delaware avenue schools the following day.

The trip from the Riverton schools was cancelled and a group of 70 children from the parochial school was taken in place of the public school pupils. This group made the trip Tuesday afternoon.

2 GARAGES BURN WEDNESDAY P.M.

Quick Response to Alarm Saved Dwelling Houses Close to Fire

Yesterday afternoon two garages and a small shed on Penn street, Riverton, were destroyed by fire. The garage belonged to Charles Harper and Thomas Rumble. The fire is supposed to have originated in a small rubbish heap between the two buildings, and was probably the result of spontaneous combustion.

The Riverton Volunteer Fire Company was called and within sixty seconds after the first blast of the siren both trucks had left the fire house and several minutes later had water on the blaze.

The fire had gained considerable headway before the alarm was sounded and both garages were burning briskly and were menacing the frame houses on Penn street by the time the firemen arrived.

The quick response and speedy action of the local fire fighters probably saved the ignition of the frame houses adjacent to the fire.

GROUP LEADERS FOR TWIN - TOWNS YMCA WILL MEET TONIGHT

Twenty-five prospective leaders for Palmyra-Riverton YMCA groups will be the guests of Nathan Lane, Jr., of 305 Highway, Riverton, at his home tonight.

The meeting will be held in order to find how many will be willing to lead groups during the coming winter. Many of those who have been invited to attend have been leaders of groups in the past, while others are new to this type of work.

The guest of honor for the occasion will be Charles R. Scott, a worker among youths throughout the state. Mr. Scott was the first Boys' Work Secretary of the city of Newark, and at the present time holds a corresponding state office.

Problems dealing with the various phases of youth training and group leadership will be discussed by those attending the meeting. Many of those invited were present at the two-day conference on the subject, held last week at Camp Ockanickon.

MUSICAL SERVICE BY METHODIST SINGERS AT CHURCH TONIGHT

This evening at eight o'clock the choir of the Epworth Methodist Episcopal Church will render a musical with the assistance of outside talent. The program is as follows:

Part 2—Organ solo, (a) "The Sheltering Arms", Vienese folk song; (b) "Judge Me, O God", Neidlinger; musical saw, selected, Mr. Robert Coward; soprano solo, "I Do Not Ask, O Lord", by Spross, Miss Mary Coward; bass solo, selected, Mr. Elwood Johnson; musical saw, selected, Mr. Robert Coward; the choir, "The Omnipotence", Schubert.

John Evaul

John Evaul, a life-long and well known resident of Palmyra, died at his home, 512 Vine street, early Tuesday morning.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock from the late residence with the Rev. Ira S. Pimm, pastor of the Epworth M. E. Church officiating. Interment will be made in Morgan Cemtery, Palmyra, under the direction of Frank A. Snover.

Mr. Evaul was a member of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows and the Knights of the Golden Eagle.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Ella Evaul and two children, Mis Ida Nein, of Reading, Pa. and Russell O. Evaul, of Palmyra.

Friends may call Thursday evening.

GOOTEE ARRESTS ESCAPED CONVICT

Robinson Nabs Man With .32 Calibre Loaded Gun on Broad Street

The home of Werner Horton, 426 Lippincott avenue, Riverton, was entered last Friday night and $13.00 stolen from Mr. Horton's wallet.

Mr. Horton, upon arising Saturday morning at 6:30, discovered his trousers missing and descending to the first floor found them, his empty wallet and various cards spread over the piano, with the cash missing from the wallet.

Mr. Horton called Officer Gootee who made an investigation of the house and found that the burglar had entered by a rear window removing the screen, the sash having been left raised.

Mrs. Horton, around eight o'clock in the morning, mentioned that she had seen a suspicious looking negro walk up Broad street looking in the direction of their house. When she described his appearance, Gootee immediately recognized him as the man he had stopped and questioned on suspicion around two in the morning.

Both Officer Gootee and Chief Miller went in search of the man and found him walking along Broad street opposite the Antrek Post. They arrested, questioned and searched him but found no trace of the missing money.

Under questioning he gave his name as William White, of 550 York street, Burlington. A phone call to Burlington disclosed that he was not known there. Mount Holly was then called and it was learned that the man was an escaped convict from the state prison at Raleigh, North Carolina, where he was serving a ten-year sentence. He was thereupon turned over to Detective Ellis Parker for deportation.

Saturday night at 11 o'clock a call was received from the tenants of the Peace and Plenty farm, stating that their house had been entered but nothing taken. The occupants of the farm who had been out for the evening, upon returning saw someone in the house and frightened them off, hastening their departure by a few shots from his revolver. The five intended burglars returned the fire but neither side suffered any casualties.

Clarence McCloskey, of 1612 Pershing street, Camden, was arrested Monday afternoon by Chief Miller, charged with reckless driving after hitting the car driven by Harry Ellis, of Palmyra. The accident happened at Broad and Bethvine, East Riverton.

At a hearing before Recorder Bowers he was released after a promise to make good the loss to Ellis.

Two boys, James Thorogood and Henry Kamus, both from Philadelphia, were arrested by Officer Robinson. Both boys were found to have records as five boys and had set a barn on fire three years ago. The boys were returned to their parents.

A rowboat belonging to David McKnight disappeared from the Riverton Yacht Club and it was later found by Officer Robinson in Tacony, all repainted. The boat was returned to McKnight.

Officer Robinson, while patroling Broad street 1:30 this morning picked up a suspicious looking character and took him to police headquarters for questioning. A search of his person revealed a loaded .32 calibre revolver, three skeleton keys tied to a string and fastened inside his trousers and eleven cartridges.

He first gave his name as Frank Kates and later changed it to Frank Hall and Frank Goodyear, which names he said he uses when he is arrested.

He has been residing at Helder's Peace and Plenty farm, East Riverton since May of this year. He admitted when questioned by Recorder Bowers that he had been drinking prior to his arrest, and that he was in Riverton looking for a man whose acquaintance he wanted to make.

Chief Voshell of the Riverside police notified the Riverton police of the theft of a Buick roadster last night. Officer Robinson found it this morning out of gasoline and with both front tires flat behind the Arcadia Cafe in Palmyra Extension.

6,000 "VETS" WILL BE GUESTS OF KEAN AS BAIRD IS FETED

Six thousand New Jersey war veterans are expected to attend the reception which United States Senator Hamilton F. Kean will give at his farm at Union, October 4, in honor of David Baird, Jr., Republican nominee for governor. Secretary of War Patrick A. Hurley has been invited as the chief speaker. Others who will attend and speak are United States Senator Dwight W. Morrow, Governor Larson, Charles S. Bunt, Commissioner of Labor and Harold G. Hoffman, Motor Vehicle Commissioner. Athletic events have been scheduled which include a baseball game and a tug-of-war between representatives of North and South Jersey, wrestling, boxing and quoits.

CARD PARTY

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Riverton Fire Company will hold a card party in the Fire House, Tuesday evening, October 6. Playing will start at 8 o'clock. Admission 25c.

RULING BY BOARD CHANGES AGE FOR SCHOOL ENTRANCE

Modification of Old Law Recommended by Supervising Principal

PROF. DENGLER EXPLAINS ORDER OF NEW CLASSES

Report Shows 101 Students Coming to Palmyra From Other Towns

A decision rendered by the Palmyra School Board may considerably enlarge the enrollment in the kindergarten classes next year. The decision was reached at the regular monthly meeting of the school board last Thursday night.

By the motion carried by the board, children beginning may be enrolled if they shall attain the age of five years before the close of the school term in which they are first enrolled.

This ruling is a modification of the law passed on May 28, under which the age limit set for kindergarten children was set at five years, provided the children should reach that age before December 1 of the year in which they enter school. Prof. C. F. Dengler, supervising principal of the Palmyra schools, made the recommendation that the law be modified.

Mr. Dengler explained his action by saying that many children were fitted to begin school before the age set forth in the law passed in May. While tests had shown that most children were best fitted to enter school when five years of age or slightly less, there were exceptions to this rule.

Many children were mentally competent to start school life several months before this time, while others were not mature enough to enter school at six years of age. These facts had been proved by psychological tests and were not mere theories, and many cases had been shown where the environment and associations of the child had much to do with its mental development.

The modification of the law was not passed without some restrictions. The board realized that many parents who were anxious to start their children in school at an early age would be indignant if told that the child was unfit to enter school. In order to provide a fair means of ascertaining which children were capable of withstanding the work of school life, a series of tests will be given.

Mental tests will test the fitness of child's mind while a physical test will show whether or not the child is bodily matured enough to warrant his admission into the school. Thus the question of entrance depends on the showing of the child in the various tests. The school authorities also reserve the right to reject any applicant for kindergarten admission if the present enrollment shows the classes to be too large.

The measure suggested by Mr. Dengler was passed with a single dissenting vote, that cast by Charles Meyvine, who declared the school principals would let themselves in for a great deal of trouble when it came time to discriminate between those who were fit and unfit to enter school.

Mr. Dengler further outlined plans for high school work and elaborated upon the new schedule which is effective this year. He explained how the plan of having 55-minute periods was managed, instead of having 40-minute classes as was formerly the case.

Since it is compulsory for each major subject to be taken for 200 minutes per week, those classes which were held in 55-minute periods were given four days each week. Two periods, 45-minutes in length, are used every day for lunch periods. Since only a part of the student body eats during each lunch session, classes are held for the remainder of the students. The classes held during the 45-minute period are conducted five days a week. The system allows extra time each week, in the number of minutes devoted to study, for the members of both long and short periods.

A vacant 55-minute period every day results from this system, since the long classes are conducted but four times weekly. Mr. Dengler has so arranged the schedule of high school classes that the vacant period falls at a different time each day, and those who wish may use this time for extra-curricula activities.

A further report showed 101 high school students coming to the Palmyra institution from out-of-town. The total enrollment of 444 included 131 freshmen, 133 sophomore, 101 juniors and 79 seniors.

The number of out-of-town pupils, totaling almost 23 per cent. of the total enrollment, is comprised as follows:

The school board was unanimous in commending Mr. Dengler for the excellent manner in which he had supervised the arrangement of the high school schedule and the way in which he had compiled his report.

The members whole-heartedly approved of the manner in which the new high school curricula was arranged. The final approval of the state board was given to the outline of school work compiled by Mr. Dengler, after a few changes recommended by the higher officials had been made.

Methodist Banquet Hall Crowded as 122 Men Attend Testimonial Dinner To R. Z. Poinsett, Class Teacher

One hundred and twenty-two men were present Tuesday night at a testimonial dinner given in honor of Reading Z. Poinsett, teacher of the Wesleyan Men's Bible Class, of the Epworth M. E. Church, Palmyra.

The occasion marked the first anniversary of Mr. Poinsett as the leader of the class, and the church gymnasium was entirely occupied by the men who attended.

Ralph S. Rivers, acting as spokesman for the class, lauded the work of Mr. Poinsett, saying that incalculable good had been done not only for members of the class but for the entire community as a result of his efforts.

The Rev. Carlton Van Hook, of Camden, guest speaker of the evening, seconded the remarks of Mr. Rivers in saying that a group of 122 men, inspired by the teaching of Mr. Poinsett, could "turn the town over" for the church if they had a mind to do it. In continuing his remarks, Rev. Van Hook spoke of three things to do with the Gospel. He enumerated them as follows: (1) Hold fast to the Bible and its teachings; (2) Make sure of your creed and have faith in it; (3) Go forth and preach the Gospel to others.

Grover Fox, speaking for the Bible Class members, thanked the several members who were instrumental in having a new room built in which the class could meet on Sunday mornings. Alfred R. Fowler also favored the men with a few choice bits of wit and wisdom, gleamed from the pens of well known authors and poets.

The Rev. George McCormack, of the Christ Episcopal Church, Palmyra, added his plaudits to those already rendered Mr. Poinsett. Both he and Robert Coward, of Riverton, who is preparing himself for the ministry, were loud in their praise of the work being done by the men's teacher. Mr. Coward said the men of Palmyra and Riverton were not taking advantage of every opportunity offered them in a religious manner, if they missed the services conducted at the Methodist Church on Sunday mornings.

When Mr. Poinsett was called upon by the president of the class, Raymond Warner, he declared himself unable to properly express his appreciation. To quote Mr. Poinsett, "I did not know until I heard all these things said about me, that I was so nice." In a short, well-versed speech, Mr. Poinsett voiced his thanks for the reception which had been tendered him and declared he had considered it a privilege to be allowed to teach such a group of men. He further added, that he had received as much benefit as he had given, for the support of the men, which had continued almost unabated throughout the summer, had been a source of inspiration to him.

The diners were entertained throughout the evening by musical selections rendered by the class orchestra and vocal selections by Dale Phile of Delanco.

RED CROSS ROLL CALL IS PLANNED

Ex-Judge Wells Again to be Chairman of Annual Campaign

Hon. Harold B. Wells, of Bordentown, has again consented to act as chairman of the 15th Annual Red Cross Roll Call, to be carried on from Armistice Day to Thanksgiving, November 11 to 26.

This year the Red Cross celebrates its 50th anniversary and every effort is being made to have a large 50th Anniversary Roll Call.

All those who have served in Red Cross ranks, or benefited from Red Cross service, or wish to participate in support of the Red Cross, are invited to the 50th anniversary reunion in memberships.

The Roll Call meeting of the County Chapter, which is also the annual meeting, will be held Thursday, October 15, in St. Mary's Guild House, Burlington; as usual, a luncheon will be served for the Roll Call workers and will be followed by the business meeting, to which the general public is invited.

Miss Reba Troxell will act as song leader; Clifford W. Ergood will report on the successful life saving campaign carried on during the past summer; Mrs. Charles H. Rodman, Burlington, will report as to the knitted articles furnished during the past year, and also as to the Christmas bags sent to men in foreign service; Mrs. James P. MacFarland, Palmyra, will respond for the Civilian Relief Fund and Mrs. A. C. Hirsch, of Palmyra, for the Emergency Closet. In addition, the branches of the county will make their annual reports and officers will be elected for the ensuing year.

Otto Lund, field representative for the State of New Jersey, will be one of the speakers and will be followed by Judge Wells, who will urge the workers to hard and conscientious work, in order that the county quota of 5900 memberships may be reached.

CINNAMINSON LODGE, I. O. O. F., WILL HOLD OUTING ON SATURDAY

Cinnaminson Lodge, No. 201, I. O. O. F., of Palmyra, will bring its summer activities to a fitting close with an outing and doggie roast at Ed. Schmierer's farm, outside Beverly, on Saturday.

Cars will leave Palmyra station at two o'clock and all Odd Fellows, and their friends, are invited to attend. Those desiring to attend who do not have cars are asked to be at the station at the appointed time, as there will be plenty of room for all. The committee in charge of the outing is preparing a very interesting program.

Despite the warm weather which has prevailed for the most part during the summer months, the meetings have been very interesting, and especially well attended.

With the coming of fall, still larger meetings and the officers of the lodge hope to be kept "on the jump" preparing programs for bigger and better meetings.

A Chicago judge refused to accept $5 in pennies offered by Isaac Morris in payment of a fine.

TO DEDICATE MEETING PLACE

Riverton Scouts to Hold Ceremony Early in November

The opening meeting of the Riverton Troop for the new Scouting year was held Friday, September 25. Through the generosity of a former member of the troop, Scout Walter Hirst, a very interesting program of moving pictures was shown. There were twenty-eight boys at this meeting and great enthusiasm was shown by everyone. A very important meeting of the troop committee was held in troop headquarters on Monday evening, September 28, attended by the officers of the troop and the troop committee and also by Mr. Shaw, the county scout executive.

The program for the fall and winter as outlined by the scoutmaster was approved by the troop committee with one modification. The dedication ceremony scheduled for October 24 has been postponed, probably until the second week in November to allow a longer time for preparation. This meeting is going to be a most interesting one for everyone and it is hoped that there will be a large turnout of friends and relatives of the scouts.

This Friday, October 2, will be held a scout meeting which is unique in the history of the Riverton troop. The strange thing about this meeting is that no scouts will be allowed to be present but only boys who would like to know more about scouting and who are not already scouts. There will be a most interesting program provided and it is to be hoped that there will be a large turnout.

The Riverton scouts are a live bunch. They have one of the best scout headquarters in the county and the program for the year as made up by the scoutmaster and his assistants is a very fine one. No Riverton boy can afford to miss this opportunity to find out just what it means to be a Riverton scout.

WOMAN'S CLUB PARTY IS VERY SUCCESSFUL

The card and lawn party held on the lawn of the home of Mrs. George DuBell, of 828 Columbia avenue, Palmyra, Wednesday afternoon of last week proved a huge success.

With the aid of a perfect day, a background of beautiful trees, and a lovely array of colorful flowers, the many members and friends of The Palmyra Woman's Club enjoyed a most delightful afternoon.

The proceeds of the event, which amounted to almost $75.00, were turned over to the Welfare Department of the club.

The affair was in charge of the Welfare committee, which is composed of the following members: Mrs George Rivel, chairman; Mrs. Charles W. Davison, Mrs. Nathan S. Beekley, Mrs. Grover Fox, Mrs. M. J. McDermott, Mrs. Frank A. Stover, Mrs. R. E. Sanford, and Mrs. Richard E. Wilson.

Lovely prizes were awarded the lucky card players and refreshments were served.

FULL ALLOWANCE FOR SCHOOL NURSE REFUSED BY STATE

Borough Hygiene Work Done By Health Officer Given Cause for Refusal

PALMYRA BOARD GETS $100 INSTEAD OF $300

Football and Hockey Field Ready for First Games of Season This Week

Palmyra will again be refused the full allowance given by the state for a full time school nurse it was learned at a School Board meeting last Thursday.

The state appropriateion of $300 for a nurse working exclusively on school nursing was refused again when it was learned that Miss Katherine Green, the newly appointed health officer, was using some of her time for borough hygiene work.

The hygiene work comes under municipal rather than school duties and although the full amount of school nursing is being done, the restriction as to the state allowance for part time nursing is still in force. According to the mandate recently adopted by the State Board, the Palmyra nurse's duties belong in the part time class.

As a result of the decision, the Palmyra Board must be content with the smaller appropriation of $100, given for part time nurses.

The Palmyra Board in turn made an appropropriation for the purchase of two pianos for use in the schools. One will be used in the Spring Garden street building while the other will be used on the high school stage. It was voted that the instruments be purchased provided that the cost for each one should not exceed $50.

In participating in the George Washington Bicentennial Celebration next year, is was decided that trees should be planted at each school as a memorial. The date and type of trees for the planting was not undecided.

It was also voted that the books of the clerk be audited annually, the selection of the auditor to remain with the Board.

Several improvements on the athletic field were cited in the report of the committee on building and grounds. New goal posts for the football team have been erected, together with the seats and cables bordering the field. A ventilator has also been installed in the storage building at the north end of the field.

The hockey cages, which were made of wood last season, have been replaced with sturdier material this year. A more lasting set of cages has been provided with the purchasing of goals made of pipe and heavier wire than was previously used.

Working in full-coperation with the town football teams, the Board passed a resolution which allows the field to be rented at a sum of $2 per game. The Palmyra Big Red and Rogers' News Teams will use the field on the Saturdays when the high school eleven is playing away.

Both the football and hockey teams see action on their own field this week for the first time this season. The hockey season opened yesterday with the Paulsboro high lassies while the gridders meet Haddon Heights at Palmyra, after losing their season opener to Vineland last week.

DEMOCRATIC WOMEN MEET IN BORDENTOWN

Congresswoman Mary Norton, Kelsey, Cook and Sterling Speak at County Session

Mary T. Norton, member of the U. S. House of Representatives, addressed a county-wide meeting of Democratic women in the Community House, Bordentown, Monday evening.

The meeting was very well attended and was addressed also by the local county candidates, Jonathan Kelsey, for Surrogate; Frank Cook, for Freeholder, and Leslie Sterling, for Assembly.

Harvy Rothberg, vice-chairman of A. Harry Moore Veterans League, distinguished orator from Plainfield, also gave a stirring talk as did Dr. Jennings, of Trenton.

ENROLL AT U. of P.

Four members of last year's graduating class from Palmyra High School enter the Wharton School of Finance of the University of Pennsylvania, this week.

Both of the Furman twins were flashy performers on the football team last season, one manning a tackle post and the other filling a fullback role.

Sacks, the youngest brother of the Penn track star who graduated last June, was treasurer of his class during the entire time he was in high school. Lore, the son of Dr. Charles F. Lore, of Palmyra, filed a substitute position on the basketball squad of last season.

M. E. LADIES TO SERVE CHICKEN SUPPER ON THURSDAY, OCTOBER 8

The members of the Ladies Aid of the Epworth M. E. Church, will serve the annual Chicken Supper in the basement of the church, next Thursday evening, October 8, from 5:30 until eight o'clock.

Mrs. A. Harry Rudduck, president of the organization, has charge of the distribution of tickets for the event, and will be pleased to mail them to friends and members of the church, if requested to do so by telephone. Mrs. Rudduck's number is Riverton 554-W.

Tickets including ice cream and cake will be seventy-five cents for odults and fifty cents for children.

Mrs. George Rivel will have charge of the dining room and Mrs. Edwin A. Griscom will have charge of the kitchen.

As an added attraction at the affair, the ladies will have an apron table, where all sorts of lovely aprons will be on sale.

Tickets may be secured from any of the ladies of the Aid and the general public is cordially invited to attend.

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

Annual County Sunday School Convention on October 15

The Burlington County Council of Religious Education has planned a splendid program for the fifty-fourth annual Sunday School convention to be held on Thursday, October 15, in the Moorestown Baptist Church.

Every person interested in Christian Education in Burlington county is invited to hear such speakers as Dr. Cole, of Crozer Seminary, who was received with much enthusiasm last year; Mrs. Nina G. Frantz, who will present plans for Temperance Education in the Church School and Dr. Floyd W. Tomkins, of Philadelphia who will be the evening speaker. Department conferences, conducted by trained leaders, are being planned for teachers in the Church School.

P T A MEMBERSHIP DRIVE IS BEGUN

Mrs. Maurice Sandoz is Head of Local Committee; Asks All to Join

Mrs. Maurice Sandoz is chairman of the Palmyra Parent-Teacher Association Membership Drive being held from October 1 to October 15, inclusive. Other members of the committee will be chosen some time during the coming week.

"A Parent-Teacher Association in every school and every parent and teacher a member," is the aim of the national and New Jersey Congress of Parents and Teachers and the Palmyra association is endeavoring to carry this out so far as it may be able.

The Parent-Teacher association offers a vistion and presents a challenge for trained parenthood. It enables parents, teachers and others, who are interested in the well-being of young people to declare their interdependence and to unite their forces in an intelligent effort to secure better homes, better schools and better communities for better children.

It forms a home and school partnership and provides the necessary medium for establishing a unity of educational standards. It develops cooperation among the parents and affords them the opportunity to understand better the school system and its needs.

It brings to the teacher the viewpoint of the home and the sympathetic appreciation of the parents.

Every parent and teacher in Palmyra is urgently requested to join between October 1 and October 15, in order to give the local association a better showing than any in this section.

WOMAN'S CLUB MEETS AT SOCIETY HALL ON MONDAY AT 2.30 P. M.

Mrs. Isaac Rhoades, chairman of the literature department of the Lansdowne Woman's Club, will be the speaker at the regular bi-monthly meeting of the Palmyra Woman's Club, Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Rhoades will have as her topic, "Current American Literature". Mrs. Rhoades has made an extensive study of literature, and is very well known for her ability along that line.

This meeting of the Palmyra club will be in charge of the literature department, of which Mrs. J. C. Mallory is chairman.

Other members of that department are: Mrs. Joseph Horner, Miss Theresa Wolcott, Mrs. Howard Lippincott, Mrs. J. F. McFarlane and Mrs. A. C. Hirsch.

DR. GREEN TO SPEAK SUNDAY AT MEETING OF CO. BIBLE CLASSES

Dr. Francis Harvey Green, one of the nation's foremost orators, will be the speaker at the meeting of the Burlington County Federation of Men's Bible Classes to be held in the Pemberton M. E. Church Sunday at 2:45 o'clock.

Dr. Green is very well-known in this section and always brings with him a stirring message, as well as a humorous one. He is the headmaster of the Pennington School for Boys, and is loved and respected by all who know him.

Special vocal and instrumental numbers will be rendered at this meeting. A very interesting and enjoyable afternoon is anticipated.

It is hoped this will be one of the largest meetings held recently and everyone is urged to make a special effort to be present.

BAIRD ATTACKS LABOR RACKETEER

Candidate Declares Democrats Are Hand-in-Glove With Brandle

David Baird, Jr., Republican candidate for governor, delivered the following address in Burlington last week:

"I feel that I have been deeply honored by you good people of Burlington county today. Although I do not often feel grateful when I am asked to speak, I am glad on this occasion to say a few words because my heart is full of thanks for the splendid demonstration you have given me. Please accept my sincerest thanks for what you have done in my behalf and what you are doing.

"I became a candidate for the great office of Governor fully convinced that it was my duty, as I feel it is the duty of all candidates for public office, to express frankly my views on all those matters which are of vital importance to our state, its government and all its people. I have set aside at least six dates upon which I will tell the people of New Jersey exactly where I stand on the problems which face us.

"Tonight I will be content with outlining my views regarding some of our main difficulties. In expressing my opinions and in formulating plans for the solution of our problems, I am well aware of the fact that I am but a single individual whose days are no longer than any other man's and whose acts are human and therefore cannot be miracles. The governorship with me will not be a vacant honor but it will be a job, a job to which I will give six days a week. I ask from you your advice and cooperation. Teamwork can settle all our troubles. You have worked with me in the past and I am fully confident the people of all our counties will help me when I am governor. Had I not had that confidence, I would not have become a candidate.

Taxation at Peak

"I have said before that I believe taxation is one of the problems which is pressing more than any other for solution. Our home-owners, our farmers and our manufacturers have reached the peak of their load. They can carry no more, and I am determined they will be asked to carry no more.

"In reaching for a solution which will bring about reduction in taxation, there are many phases of the situation to be considered. The next obvious way to reduce taxes is to stop spending and although at this time we are faced with the necessity of expanding our public works program to employ all those we possibly can, I feel that by the adoption of a broad program of economy and retrenchment in our various governmental departments we can materially cut the cost of operating our government.

"Our public officials must be made to feel when they are handling public funds they must exercise the same care and caution as they would if they were handling their own funds. Courage and leadership are required to weed out those officials who have no regard for the responsibility of conserving public monies. I mean to exercise just that leadership and I certainly have the courage to do it.

"Our people need schools, roads, protection and we must provide these necessities for them. But we must plan those projects, spread our works' program over sufficient periods to permit wise and practical spending. We must determine the necessity of a program before we get headlong into it. We must abandon these projects which are not entirely necessary and we must stop the practice of installment plan public buying beyond sound public policy. I am forced to cite the fact that in some of our buying we have not even made a down payment.

Must Attract Home-Owners

We are going to reduce taxes and these are some of the ways we can do it. We must encourage industry and home-owners to come to our state, not drive them away by exhorbitant tax rates.

In other words, we must put an injection of common business sense mixed with a substantial portion of business principles, into the operation of our government. I know such action will cure our ills and I give you my pledge I will pursue that course. This is not an idle promise of mine, a straw to catch the wind. I say it in all earnestness and let no one challenge my honesty and sincerity.

"I do not come to you as the great miracle man. I come to you as a business man who knows how to economize and retrench in the operation of a business enterprise, for I have done it. I am not given to empty promises which I think may lead you to vote for me but I determined that with your help, your advice and counsel, I can tackle this job in a sound businesslike way.

"A minute ago I cited the cost of protection for ourselves and our families as one of the necessities in the government budget. Our annual bill, in the state and in the municipalities for this single item is appalling and each year it grows as we strive to afford our citizens protection from the gangster, the racketeer and the thug.

"Hardly a day passes, but what we are given evidence of the existence of a terrible crime wave, a sweep of lawlessness that respects not even our women and children. Our businessmen and our merchants are the victims of predatory criminals who exact some tribute or other and our honest laborers are victimized and bludgeoned into submission by grafters of the lowest kind.

Sees Labor Racket

"We are paying a fortune in public and private monies to combat this awful thing. We are enlarging our police forces and giving them new equipment to cope with the situation so that ultimately we can drive the gangster and the racketeer and the thug from our borders. This cost is borne by you and me and every property owner in the state. It is a cost which cannot be reduced until the victory is won. And victory cannot be won entirely as long as a lawless labor racketeer plays hand in glove with a major political party in the state.

"If the Democratic party has not the courage enough, or strength enough or decency enough to cut loose from this racket, we the people must by our own courage and strength and decency tear the grasping hand of Brandle from our throats.

"The major responsibility, of course, in this war against crime is with the law enforcement agencies. Utter disrespect for law has lowered the morale of those who are sworn to protect us and we continually hear of corruption. We often see a complete breaking down of our combative forces. We are deluged by crime and our confidence is being shaken in those we should have every reason to count upon to save us from it.

"I tell you the situation is deplorable. Here again we need courage and leadership to clean house. Every officer who is sworn to uphold the law must be held accountable. Those who are betraying their trust, those who have been caught in the black net of corruption, must be cleaned out. If the local officials are not capable or do not have the courage to do it, other means will be used, however drastic they may be. And you can take that as another pledge of mine.

Must Make Clean Sweep

"But cleaning house by the local government will not suffice. There are obligations upon the state government, upon the governor and the state senate. Time and again we have seen faithlessness on the part of those who were installed in office by state officials. In fact, there is one instance in which the chief law enforcement officer in a county was indicted on several charges involving his official conduct.

"I hope the time will never come when I will have to apologize for any appointment of mine and I trust I will be spared the embarrassment of having to promise not to reappoint an official because he has been involved in irregularities which challenge his honesty and integrity. Our most effective weapons against the criminal are the honesty and integrity of those who are sworn to support the law.

I do not need to cite examples of splendid appointments to you people of Burlington county, for you see them right at home. I call to mind several of them, and more recently the placing of your own Harold B. Wells on the bench of the highest tribunal to the state, the Court of Errors and Appeals. You should be proud of Judge Wells' appointment and of the appointments of Judge Rigg to the Court of Common Pleas and of Howard Eastwood as Prosecutor of the Pleas.

"Judge Wells served honorably and faithfully while he sat in the Court of Common Pleas and it was deservedly that he should be elevated to the highest court by the governor.

"It has been a distinct pleasure for me to discuss with you here tonight just a few of the problems I conceive it to be the duty of your next governor to analyze and to meet squarely. I have given them, as I have given other, my serious thought and consideration and I feel I am in a position to assist in their solution.

Thank you very much for your kind attention. My final request to you is that you cooperate to the fullest extent with our public officials to the end that the greatest wisdom will guide the business of our state and the welfare of all her people."

DAVID BAIRD, JR., THE WORKER, FOR GOVERNOR

"With characteristic vigor," opens a news story, "David Baird, Jr., Republican nominee for governor, is striding into the last month of the campaign."

How well that sentence brings out a thought that has struck many independent voters, the type of citizens who study the characteristics of candidates before dropping their ballots into the box at election day!

The vigor David Baird, has shown in his campaign marks him as a worker It has shown him to be the type of man who works untiringly and everlastingly when he tackles a job.

If there is one thing David Baird likes, it is getting out among the voters, meeting them and getting their slants on the daily problems of life. But few men are possessed with the vigor to undertake the task as Baird did, for he opened his campaign early and for weeks was faced with a full program every day, going just as [illegible] humanly possible from early morning until late at night.

If elected, David Baird will take not only the keen ability and foresight of a business man to the governor's chair, but he will also take to it a degree of vigor seldom seen in public life. He will work every day in the week, every hour in the day, filling the office of Governor to the best of his ability and to the best interests of the State.

MUST THEY LEARN NEW THINGS ABOUT HOMEMAKING?

The Burlington County Educational News, in in its september issue, runs a full-page headline reading "Why Does Burlington County Need a Home Demonstration Agent Now?"

The cost for the agent, we are told, "would not exceed $3,000 per year."

But why must Burlington County add another $3,000 to its tax bill at this time? Surely Mother, who has managed to get along all these years, will be able to continue running her home, unscientifically, we will grant you, but to the satisfaction of the members of her family, until times are a little better.

Granted the estimate of the cost is correct, it is a most inopportune time to increase the tax rate even four tenths of a cent just to bring some woman into the county to teach its homemakers, who seem to be making a pretty good job of it without the aid of a "specialist", the "new fangled" ways of operating a home.

The Educational News will better serve the people of Burlington County if it will rewrite the headline to read "Why Burlington County County Does NOT Need a Home Demonstration Agent NOW!"

AN AID TO TEMPERANCE

One of the greatest modern factors in the promotion of temperance is the enforcement of the laws against drunken driving.

Few sensibile men want to risk the fine of more than two hundred dollars and the loss of their driving licenses, in addition to the possibilities of a serious motor accident.

The drunken driver is the greatest menace on the highways and stiff sentences not only make the roads safer for sober drivers, but promote the cause of temperance as well.

WAY OF LIFE
BY BRUCE BARTON

PADLOCKED MINDS

We were discussing Russia at the dinner table of a banker. None of us knew anything about the subject, but that did not prevent a long and animated conversation.

The general opinion, forcibly expressed, was that Stalin and his associates represent the great menace to the present-day world. It was even urged that all the capitalistic powers ought to combine to overthrow the Bolshevik regime.

Finally I made a timid suggestion. I said that it seemed to me probable that the Russian experiment would have to be much modified or it will fail. It appears to run contrary to too many deep-seated human instincts.

Man is moved by the ambition to acquire opportunity and security for his children. The Bolsheviks deny him the right of aquisition. Man is "incurably religious"; the Bolsheviks have attemped to abolish God. Sooner or later, man has always revolted against unbridled autocracy under whatever guise or name.

"But", I continued, waxing a little bolder, "any one who looks over the capitalistic countries today must admit that our economic organization leaves a lot to be desired. Think of the tragedy of wheat selling below the cost of production at a time when thousands are standing in bread-lines. What a frightful thing for the factories to be shut down for the lack of orders while a large percentage of the human race still lacks adequate clothing and shelter.

"Instead of condemning the Russians out of hand, wouldn't it be more sensible to see whether they discover anything, no matter how small, that we can apply to make our own decrepit economic machine a little better?"

Recently I read an article by Professor Harold J. Laski in which he pointed out how every new idea, that ever came into the world has been opposed by the "experts".

"Not even so great a man as Simpson could see merit in Lister's discovery of antiseptic treatment. The opposition to Pasteur was so vehement that he declared regretfully that he did not know he had so many enemies."

Napoleon scoffed at the steamship. Wellington was never persuaded that the breech-loading rifle was any good. Vanderbilt refused to entertain the crazy notion that Westinghouse could stop his trains by "jamming air against the wheels."

If we keep our minds open to new ideas we are bound to be misled often, and sometimes to be ridiculous.

But the surest way of all to be wrong is to assume that God has completed his process of revelation and that the world tomorrow will be exactly like the world today.

THE FAMILY DOCTOR
By JOHN JOSEPH GAINES, M.D.

WITH MY READERS

I had quite a few letters from different states, referring to my former article, "Mistaken Folks". You will recall, it dealt with those who have sciatic neuritis and mistake it for "rheumatism." And, remedies and measures for rheumatism did not relieve at all.

One man had sciatic neuritis, a very obstinate case, and told me he had "bladder trouble" for years—and also has a fissure, a rectal lesion for years more. Either of these complaints might be causing the neuritis, and should certainly be attended to before attempting to cure the sciatic. And none of his ailments are of the rheumatism variety—not at all. No use to take out the tonsils or teeth in hope of removing rheumatism germs. It is well-known that a pronounced lesion of the bladder, prostrate gland or rectum may cause sciatic neuritis, a disabling disease.

One with disease in the bladder or rectum may get a sudden attack of sciatic neuritis by lifting, bruising, or otherwise disturbing this great nerve trunk of the human being.

REST is by far the greatest factor in the treatment of sciatic neuritis—rest, and attention to the other organs in the vicinity of the nerve. How many women with urine prolapse complain of "lumbago" and "sciatica"? Neither of them rheumatism! Removing all the tonsils and teeth in the world will not relieve the backache that is caused by a sagging uterus!

Then they inquire about "cleaning out and keeping clean." Those who are more or less ponderous about the abdomen, I imagine. To clean out is simple. To keep clean is the trouble; I'll devote the next chapter to that subject.

Ole Judge's Josh.

Mrs. Nagger—It says here in the paper there are six million slaves in the world today.

Mr. Nagger—Huh, no one can tell me there aren't more married men than that!

• • •

"Impossible!"

"No, they were pickling pig's feet!"

• • •

Diamond—I thought you said you took private lessons from a bridge expert?

Hardt—Yes, but I never got dealt to me the hands I have studied.

• • •

Old Lady—Here's a penny, my poor man. Tell me, how did you become so destitute?

Beggar—I was always like you, ma'am, giving away vast sums to the poor and needy.

PUBLIC SERVICE WILL USE ALUMINUM INSTEAD OF COPPER

Because of its lighter weight, aluminum has been increasingly used in recent years as a substitute for copper in the electrical field. In modern high tension tower line construction, for example, aluminum cable with steel core is extensively employed instead of copper cable. By using aluminum cable, economies may be obtained by using longer spans and lighter towers. Recognizing the advantages by aluminum's lighter weight, engineers of Public Service and Gas Company specified aluminum instead of copper for the 220 Kv. bus bars at Roseland Switching Station. These are said to be the first aluminum bus bars of the type to be installed by an electric company in the United States.

LOCAL CHURCH NEWS

Epworth M. E. Church

(Rev. Ira S. Pimm, B.D., Pastor)

The work of the fall starts in full swing on Sunday. The Church School meets at 10 o'clock. Those promoted last Sunday will take their places in their new departments. A full corps of teachers are ready to care for every class. The Wesleyan's Men's Bible Class meets at the same hour.

At 11 o'clock an "Every Member Communion Service". There will be baptism of infants and reception of members. The organ numbers will include "Invocation" by Kullak; "Benedictus" by VonWeber; "Festival Posthude" by Tours. The choir will sing "Bread of Holy Heaven". Mrs. Pimm will sing "Come Ye Sinners".

At 6:45 the Epworth League devotional service, Leon Guest will be the leader. All young people are invited.

The evening theme at 7:45 will be the Book of Ruth. The pastor will preach on the book which will be illustrated in pantomine as the book is read. The characters in costume will be taken by the following: Ruth, Ida Trout; Naomi, Pearl Coombs; Orpha, Miss Mary Green; Boaz, Elwood Johnson; Kinsman, Grey Schwarz. The choir will sing "The Sheltering Arms" and Miss Mary Coward will sing "Entreat Me Not To Leave Thee" from the cantata "Ruth".

Tomorrow evening a social rally will be held in the gymnasium for young and old, with the Epworth League in charge.

Tuesday evening at eight o'clock, the monthly meeting of the Official Board.

Wednesday evening at eight o'clock, Prayer Serivce and Bible Study discussion.

Next Thursday evening the annual Ladies' Aid supper.

Presbyterian

(Charles T. Bates, Minister)

Calvary Presbyterian Church will observe the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper this Sunday morning at eleven o'clock. The preparatory service will be held tomorrow, Friday, evening at 8 o'clock. At the close of this service the session will be glad to meet any who may wish to unite with the church, either upon profession of faith or by letter from another church.

All departments of the church school will meet at 10 o'clock. Christian Endeavor Society meets at 7 and the evening service will be held at 8 o'clock.

Midweek Service on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock.

The Ladies' Aid Society will hold the first meeting of the season Wednesday, October 7 at 2:30 o'clock. This is an important meeting as plans will be made for the Gold Bag Covered Dish Luncheon. The Women's Missionary Society will meet at 3 o'clock the same day. All the ladies of the congregation are invited to attend both these meetings.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"UNREALITY" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, October 4, 1931.

The Golden Text is: "The Lord knoweth the thoughts of man, that they are vanity" (Psalms 94:11).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Stand fast therefore in the liberty wherewith Christ has made us free, and be not entangled again with the yoke of bondage" (Galatians 5:1).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The realization that all inharmony is unreal brings objects and thoughts into human view in their true light, and presents them as beautiful and immortal. Harmony in man is as real and immortal as in music. Discord is unreal and mortal" (p. 276).

Baptist

(Rev. George Lockett, Pastor)

Services for Sunday:
10:00 a. m. Sunday School.
11:15 a. m. Church service and communion. In the evening, gospel song service and sermon. The subject will be, "The Pearl of Great Price".

Moravian Church

(Albert J. Harke, Pastor)

Next Sunday, October 4, is Rally Day with us, and every member and friend of the congregation and its organizations is urged and expected to attend.

9:30 a. m. Sunday School meets in a rally session with special features introduced into the worship and teaching program.

10:45 a. m. Congregational rally with whole families in attendance. The pastor will bring a rally day message on the theme: "Every Man In His Place".

7:30 p. m. Young People's rally under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor Society. With this service the Sunday evening services will be resumed for the winter months.

Last Sunday morning the congregation had the pleasure of listening to a most interesting and stirring address on our mission work in Nicaragua by the Rev. Kenneth Hamilton, who has served more than ten years as missionary there. The Rev. Mr. Hamilton also addressed the Christian Endeavor conference, Saturday afternoon.

This conference met for its quarterly meeting in our church last Saturday afternoon and evening. More than one hundred young people attended the sessions and the fellowship supper served by our C. E. society.

The Willing Workers meet this Thursday afternoon at the church for a sewing meeting in preparation for the annual bazaar and chicken supper to be held this year on Wednesday evening, October 21.

Christ Church

(Palmyra)

(Rev. George J. McCormack)

Charles Darwin after visiting the missions of the Church of England in Tierre del Fuego, wrote in effect: "The story of the missionary is the story of the magician's wand. I never believed that such results could be accomplished by mission work as I have seen during my stay among the natives of Tierre del Fuego. I will gladly contribute to the support of such work."

The marvelous story of progress of a primitive people from crude life to better things is told in a pamphlet of "The Lagada Mission".

Copies can be obtained from the Episcopal Church Book Shop, 281 Fourth avenue, New York. When depressed about church work, read something which shows what glorious things the Gospel of Christ has done.

There will be a meeting of the Board of Manager of the Evergreens Home at Bound Brook today.

On Saturday, October 3, the Diocesan Council of the Girls' Friendly Society will meet at Trenton.

Monday, October 5, the regular meeting of the St. Agnes Guild will be held in the Parish House at eight o'clock in the evening. Choir practice at 7:30 on Thursday evenings.

The Church School has resumed its program and meets every Sunday at 10 a. m. Sunday Rally Day will be observed.

Services 18th Sunday After Trinity:

A great English journal, The London Daily Express, has a leading article by James Douglas on the greatest need of the time. "I set in the forefront of our needs, a nation-wide revival of religious faith—I mean a living belief in the higher values of life, a sense of brotherhood and service and the grandeur of civil responsibility."

This may also be America's need.

First Lutheran

(Rev. Harold L. Creager)

The sermon themes at the worship services next Sunday will be: In the morning, "Fear God and Take Your Own Part"; in the evening, "Asking and Receiving."

The regular meeting of the Light Brigade will be held Friday afternoon at four o'clock.

The monthly meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society will be held next Tuesday evening at the church. The following Saturday, October 10, they will hold a chicken supper at the church; tickets 50 cents.

The Luther League has resumed its meetings with a fine interest being shown by the young people. A week ago the district rally was held in Temple Church, Delaware Gardens, and our league received the banner for the best percentage of attendance.

LARGE CROWD IS THRILLED BY AIR ACES IN CARNIVAL

Three N. J. National Guard Planes Electrify Thousands With Exhibitions

STUNTS, JUMP, RAE PROGRAM FEATURES

Event for County Hospital Benefit Proves to Be Big Success

Thousands of Burlington county folks, one of the largest groups to ever witness an event at Moorestown airport, heartily enjoyed the air carnival staged by Burlington County Aero Club for the benefit of the Social Service Department of Burlington County Hospital, Mount Holly, Sunday afternoon.

So well pleased were the women of the department, headed by Mrs. H. B. Smith, Mount Holly, chairman that they are now planning to make it an annual event and next year's, if everything works out according to schedule, will be the greatest air meet every held in the county.

One of the big numbers on Sunday's program, Saturday's events having been called off on account of rain, was exhibition flying by three planes from the New Jersey National Guard air corps which has headquarters at Newark. The three Douglas O. H. 2 ships, piloted by officers with Captain R. Cheyne Stout in command, electrified the crowd with a thrilling exhibition. On some of their wing-overs the planes were only a few feet from the ground.

Captain Stout carried Lt. Russell Gray, of Moorestown, as a passenger in his plane, Lt. Lewis Holman, of Merchantville, was a passenger in the ship piloted by Lt. Leon Hoffman, while Lt. R. I. Stevens was at the controls of the third ship and carried with him Lt. Harold Clark.

Erdman Thrills Crowd

Late in the afternoon "Jim" Erdman, chief pilot of the Aero Club and director of the carnival, went aloft and put on a program of stunt flying that was well worth waiting for, in the opinion of the hundreds who witnessed the clever aerial acrobatics.

"Mickey" Efferson, of Wilmington, Del., regarded as one of the foremost parachute jumpers in the East, made a great jump. He "bailed out" at an altitude of 2,000 feet and dropped at least 500 feet before opening his 'chute. A few hundred feet above the ground he opened his second parachute.

The jump was graphically described for the large crowd by Captain Gill Robb Wilson, of Trenton, new Commissioner of Aviation for New Jersey. The commissioner took the "mike" connected with the loud-speaking apparatus as Erdman took off in the plane with Efferson and entertained the crowd with an informative message on the regulations in connection with parachute jumping while the ship carrying "Mickey" was gaining altitude and getting in position for the jump. Captain Wilson flew in to the carnival in a Moth.

Another event was the sportsmen's race. William Geisenheimer, of Merchantville, won the handicap race. He flew a Robin plane. L. S. Jones, of Audubon, in a Mono-coupe, finished second ahead of former Senator Emmor Roberts, of Moorestown, in a Gypsy Moth. Henry Mathers, of Riverside, trailed the field in a Robin No. 9.

Geisenheimer, Jones and Mathers were given handicaps over former Senator Roberts. The four planes raced to Dreer's Nursey at Riverton, thence to a standpipe at Lenola and returned to the field, negotiating the course three times.

All "Disqualified"

Much to the amusement of the crowd, self appointed "judges", headed by Lt. H. H. Longaker, announced, shortly after the race had been run off, that all of the contestants had been "disqualified" shortly after they took off. Such acts as "failing to shave today" disqualified the friendly racers.

Three "lady birds" graced the meet and all spoke to the crowd over the loud speaker. The girl pilots were Mrs. Mary Tillotson and Miss Elva Powell, Central Airport, Camden, and Mrs. L. E. Jones, of Philadelphia.

"Jim" Faulkner, noted airman, put on a couple of interesting demonstrations with the Pitcairn autogiro, and Ludington Flying Service, Central Airport, sent a new Kellett's 'giro to the carnival. This is the first time that 'giros have landed at Moorestown airport.

Several hundred passengers were carried in planes piloted by Erdman and Senator Roberts. The social service department realized a profit on each of these hops. In addition, the women sold ice cream, cakes, candy, sandwiches and "hot dogs".

Mrs. Smith, in a statement after the carnival, said, "We want to thank everyone who co-operated so splendidly to make the event such a success. We feel without the cooperation of the Aero Club, Chief Pilot Erdman, the newspapers and various individuals, it would have been impossible to have held the carnival, for the entire program was planned in two weeks, making much assistance necessary."

Oscar Fishburn, of Haven, Kans., paid a bushel of wheat for admission to a baseball game and received half a bushel of oats in change.

Vari-colored Lights

The lighting of the auditorium and stage is especially designed so that perfect harmony of color blends with the beautiful paintings and decorations by one of the finest and latest designs of dimming systems. The three large ceiling fixtures, which contain about three hundred electric bulbs of different colors, is reduced in volume over a period of ten minutes and so arranged that the contrast of the change of colors portrays to the eye every color of the spectrum, the decorations being so constructed that their colors change with the changing of the colors of the lights. All of this is made possible by the specially constructed seven plate dimming system.

The opening in the stage and projection screen is covered by two large curtains, the stage curtain being beautiful plush and the screen curtain gold cloth, so designed to blend with the color effect of the entire auditorium.

The floors are adorned with carpets especially designed in color and pattern for the Broadway theatre by the Cambria Carpet Mills, who have imported the design from Canada especially for the Broadway theatre. The design is so laid in colors of black, gold, red and green as to harmonize and blend with the decorations and lighting effects.

On entering the auditorium, and centered between the entrance doors, a marble fountain supplies cool parkling artesian well water for drinking purposes. On each side of the entrance doors rest rooms for ladies and gentlemen are finished in colored tile. There is also lounging quarters for ladies.

New Sound Effects

The projection room has been provided with all new equipment including the latest design of R. C. A. sound reproduction, and being constructed to conform to the design of the theatre, the finest reproduction of sound in all parts of the auditorium is assured. The possibility of sound pockets has been eliminated by treating the walls with beautifully painted sound absorbing board, which was designed by the Radio Corporation of America, and the American Institute of Acoustical engineers.

The electricity used for the projection of light for the pictures is transformed and made even and steady by specially constructed generators which give a clear steady white light to the pictures on the screen, with no possibility of annoyance to the optic nerves.

The organ has been completely remodeled and enlarged.

The theatre will be heated by a system of vapor heating especially designed by the engineers of the American Radiator Co. and installed by the local representative, H. D. Hullings & Son.

The management takes this opportunity of thanking its many friends for their patronage in the past, and feels that the Broadway theatre represents the last word in splendor, comfort and perfectly appointed convenience to make the enjoyment of patrons complete.

PEACE CARAVAN WILL STOP HERE OCTOBER 5

The Peace Caravan which is touring the United States under the auspices of the Domen's International League for Peace and Freedom, which left California last June, will arrive in Riverton, Monday, October 5 at 2:15 in the afternoon. COUNTY HOSPITAL DOING FINE WORK

2,531 Patients Treated in 1930; 10 Per Cent Decrease Over Previous Year

When in 1927 the plan for a larger county hospital, with a much wider scope of activities was announced, the suggested need was questioned in many places. Now after three years of operation the question being asked is, "When can we add another one hundred beds?"

The Burlington County Hospital, at Mount Holly has taken its place amongst the county's leading institutions, supplying to the county's citizens a medical service of the highest type and providing hospitalization facilities for the use of rich and poor alike at fees within the reach of the pocketbook of each. Those who have yet to visit the hospital will be pleasantly surprised at the modern and up-to-date properties and equipment, which are quite on a par with those of the finest city hospitals.

During the year 1930 the hospital, with a high average daily population, treated 2,531 patients for 30,695 patient days, an increase of 10 per cent. over 1929. Of these no less than 36 per cent were free patients and 24 per cent. were part-pay patients. There were 1,299 operations performed and 254 births and although quite a considerable percentage of the cases treated were in the major category, there were only 5.4 per cent. of deaths, most of which were accident cases. For the year, the daily average number of patients in hospital was 85 and the highest population on one day 112, it being necessary to put in many emergency beds. The average cost per patient day was slightly in excess of $5.00, a cost far below that of many hospitals in New Jersey.

Such is the work being done quietly and without ostentation, but most telling and constructive in the general life of the community.

SCRIBES TO ORGANIZE

Newspaper men of Burlington county have been invited to attend a dinner in the Medford Lakes Lodge, Medford Lakes, this Friday evening for the purpose of organizing a county pen and pencil club, "or somepin", as Leon Raesly, associate editor of the Daily Enterprise, Burlington, who is the father of the idea, stated in his invitation.

GAS, ELECTRIC SALES JUMP

The winter games will be played at Lake Placid, N. Y., February 4 to 13, 1932, and the games of the Olympiad will be staged at Los Angeles, Calif., on July 30 to August 14, 1932.

WESTFIELD FRIENDS SCHOOL NOTES

School opened once more on September 15, celebrating its 138th year. Westfield was established in 1793 during Washington's second term as president.

We have two new teachers this year. Miss Michener, who is taking the place of Miss Diehl, and Mr. Mount, who has us on the playground in the afternoon.

Miss Bennett, our kindergarten teacher, has returned after studying in Boston for a year. She is having the classes collect things connected with nature and we will use them in our handwork.

Each child is trying to find and learn the names of at least ten wild flowers for Miss Bausman. On Friday many specimens were brought in. Among them were morning glory, purple aster, many-flowered aster, golden rod, Jo Pye weed, chickory, butter and eggs, day flower, ox-eyed daisy, jewel weed, snake root, iron weed, Queen Anne's lace and wild artichoke.

We had planned to visit "Old Ironsides" on Friday but we were advised to give it up because of infantile paralysis.

This afternoon we are studying about the new world's largest airship, "Akron". We learned that the floor of the hangar is big enough to hold ten football fields. The airship is as high as a fourteen story building and as long as the Washington monument is high.

Among our visitors for the week were Mrs. Mark, Mrs. Pittinger and Mrs. Ross. We are always glad to see our mothers and fathers.

On October 5, Dr. McConaughy, our psychologist, will give a lecture for parents and friends of the school at 2:30 p. m.

PALMYRA FALLS IN OPENING GAME OF 1931 GRID SEASON

Drops 33-0 Decision to 1930 State Championship Vineland Eleven

AERIAL ATTACK OF PALS FALLS SHORT BY 7 YARDS

Lenker, Moffitt and Conway Shine for Defeated Red and White Team

In the opening game of the season for both teams, the Palmyra High School football team dropped a 33-0 decision to last year's Class "A" champs from Vineland.

The titleholders of last season showed the same class which they displayed in garnering the crown in 1930. The veteran backfield men, Trento, Captain Gallia and Crudelle were outstanding in their performance, each of the first two accounting for a pair of touchdowns.

The Pals had a lone chance to score during the game. Late in the second period a devastating aerial attack had advanced the ball from the Palmyra 30-yard line to within 7 yards o fthe Vineland goal. A pass, grounded over the goal line, ended all chance of scoring.

The first score came shortly after the beginning of the game, when Trento dashed half the length of the field for the first six-pointer. Gallia plunged over the line near the end of the initial period to increase the Vineland lead.

Another touchdown by the Vineland leader in the second quarter, a six-pointer by Trento in the third semester and the fifth score in the final quarter ended the scoring for the day.

The passing of Lenker was the outstanding feature of the Palmyra attack, with both he and Captain Norman Moffitt doing the brunt of the ball toting. Conway began where he left off last season in the race for All-South Jersey honors and with Klevan formed the backbone of the Palmyra line.

Palmyra		Vineland
Conway	left tackle	Rothman
Thomas	left guard	Gatte
Garwood	center	Strothers
Fay	right guard	A. Ferrera
Klevan	right tackle	Kirjian
Zaun	right end	Simmerman
Davis	quarterback	Trento
Lenker	right halfback	Scarani
Moffitt	fullback	Gallia

Score by periods:

Vineland	14	6	7	6	—33
Palmyra	0	0	0	0	— 0

Touchdowns—Gallia, 2; Trento, 2; Scarani. Points after touchdowns—Trento (dropkick); Gallia (line plunge); Scarani (line plunge). Substitutions—Vineland: Vincent for Crudelle, Moffa for Simmerman, Daresio for Rothman, Reitter for Ferrera, Darinella for T. Ferrera. Palmyra: Reynolds for Klevan, Klevan for Reynolds. Referee—Moore, Springfield. Umpire—Smullen, Springfield. Head linesman—Stratton, Bucknell. Time of periods—12 minutes.

HAMMONTON AND BIG RED CLASH SATURDAY

Seeking their second victory in as many weeks, the Palmyra Big Red team will journey to Hammonton on Saturday.

After watching 25 men take part in last week's victory over Spartan A. C., Coach Carl Thomas held a long practice session Monday night in which he pointed out several defects in the offensive play of the team.

The entire squad is enthusiastic about the prospects of capturing the South Jersey Class "B" independent title, and feel that a victory over the Hammonton "Peaches" will go a long way toward garnering the crown. Hammonton has always been a strong contender and the game between that team and the Palmyra outfit will be a real test for each eleven, and the outcome may have a strong bearing on the elimination of either team from the championship running.

Manager George Becton is trying to book gemes away from home on Sunday and is anxious to see the Palmyra fans supporting the home team both on their own field and on those out-of-town. The squad will leave Palmyra at 12:45 Saturday in preparation for the Hammonton game, which is scheduled to start at three o'clock.

"He kept my shoes in a pail of water so I could not get out nights," complained Mrs. John Earl, of Newburyport, Mass., when she had her husband arrested for disorderly conduct.

'PALS WILL FACE OLD RIVALS FROM HADDON HEIGHTS

HEIGHTERS LOST IN 1930 BY 7-6 COUNT

Only Four of Ten Games on Schedule Will Be Played on Home Field

The Palmyra High School football team will be seen on its home field this Saturday for the first time this season.

The football year opened last Saturday when Vineland's State Class "A" champions were hosts to the Pals. This week marks the first game to be played on the Palmyra field and the Haddon Heights gridders will furnish the opposition.

Last week's defeat, while not altogether unexpected, was more overwhelming than was looked for. The loss enabled Coach Kenneth Dimond to get a good line on the ability of his team. Last season's players showed improvement and the new ones in the lineup showed exceptional promise with more seasoning.

The aerial attack of the Pals was something which a Palmyra team has not been able to accomplish for several seasons. Only a pass, grounded over the goal line, prevented the Pals from crossing the final chalk mark, after they had worked the ball more than sixty yards down the field in a sudden rush of power near the end of the first half.

The Haddon Heights squad is looking for revenge against the Palmyra team this year. Last year the Heighters lost a closely contested battle by a 7-6 register and for the two seasons preceding that were the victims of close defeats. The Camden county aggregation are claiming an improved team and expect to upset the Pals.

The season for the Palmyra eleven includes but four games at home, Camden Catholic, Bordentown and Riverside being the only ones met on home loam after this weeks tussle. The complete schedule for the season follows:

Saturday, September 26—Vineland, away.
Saturday, October 3 — Haddon Heights, home.
Saturday, October 10 — Camden Catholic, home.
Saturday, October 17 — Freehold, away.
Friday, October 23 — Pemberton, away.
Saturday, October 31—Mount Holly, away.
Saturday, November 7—Moorestown, away.
Saturday, November 14—Bordentown, home.
Saturday, November 21—Burlington, away.
Saturday, November 28—Riverside, home.

MERCHANT MARRIED

The marriage of William F. Harrison, of Riverside and proprietor of Harrison's Battery Shop, Palmyra, to Mrs. Lillian S. Skannel, of Pear street, Palmyra, was announced last week.

The couple were married last Wednesday and left immediately for an automobile tour of New York state and Canada. After a trip of more than 1200 miles, the newly married couple returned home Sunday night. It has been reported they will live in Palmyra in the future.

A price war between two shops in Rice Lake, Wis., reached its climax when one of the rival merchants not only gave $1 house dresses away but threw in a premium of five cents with each dress.

By I. C. LITTLE

What we mean by getting the "break" is that they will be opposed, in six of their ten games, to teams in their own class. A look at this year's schedule shows ONLY FOUR class 'A' high school teams to be met. This number is one less than last year, and might be almost any number less than the few years immediately preceding that.

And, furthermore, the Pals would have had but three class "A" opponents but for the fact that Moorestown had recently passed the Class "B" limit. In addition to the Vineland team which was played last Saturday, the 1931 schedule included teams from Haddon Heights, Burlington and Moorestown, all "A" institutions.

Since two of these are in league competition, it can be seen that only two "outside" games have been booked with "A" schools. Both Vineland and Haddon Heights have become almost permanent fixtures on the Palmyra schedule and no season would seem complete without having one or the other as opponents.

The manager of the team should be commended. The large number of Class "A" teams in former years gave the "Pals" a great deal of prestige, providing the Red and White team were victorious in their contests. But, as was so often the case, the larger teams outclassed the Palmyra gridders and won by a slim margin. The standing of the Pals in Class "A" ranks amounted to nil, and at the same time they were so busy playing the rivals "higher up" that there was no time to establish a rating in "B" ranks.

It has never come to a question as to who was to blame. Whether the manager acted under instructions from the coach or not is uncertain. Coaches always say that teams of a higher class bring out the best in his own team. We grant that to be true, but for a team which has had high hopes in the beginning of the season to be thrown continually against teams that have been too heavy and well-developed for them must necessarily affect the morale of the entire team. Defeat cannot be blamed entirely on "Old Man Psychology," but the mental attitude of the players has much to do with winning games.

Here's wishing the best of luck to the "Pals" who have an even chance with their opponents this season.

RIVERTON OPENS GRID SEASON SAT.

Strong Riverton Eleven Oppose Beverly in Initial Game at Memorial Park

The Riverton gridmen open their season by playing the strong Riverton eleven at Memorial Park, Riverton, this Saturday afternoon at three o'clock.

Every indication seems to point to a real ferocious battle between the two riverfront towns. Riverton has been training hard under the leadership of "Tinker" Holvick and "Kidder" Caskey and according to them Rivertonians will once again see the zip and go on the gridiron that thrilled sport fans a few years ago.

The boys have been making and are continuing to make a canvass of the town for contributions to equip the team with socks and jerseys. They will cheerfully receive any help, large or small. Boxes have been placed in the stores of Zisak, Keating and Schneider for the receipt of voluntary contributions.

Turn out this Saturday afternoon and root for Riverton. Show the boys that you are with them, and they in turn will show you a real game of football.

The Ladies' Bowling League of Palmyra and Riverton has been reorganized for the 1931 season with four teams again in the loop. The one change made in the circuit has been the number on each team. Enough ladies signified their intention of bowling to enlarge the membership of each group from five to six members.

The names of the teams remain the same, and as a mark of better organization, officers for the league have been elected. Mrs. Bessie Haines was chosen president; Mrs. Betty King, vice- president and Mrs. N. Beitz, treasurer.

The personnel of the various teams is as follows:

LUCKIES—Mrs. Shaffer, capt.; Mrs. King, Mrs. Williams, the Misses King, Graff and Rich.

FATIMAS—Mrs. Griffenberg, capt.; Mrs. Hansen, Mrs. Hunt and Mrs. Nethercott, the Misses Allen and Cozens.

CHESTERFIELDS—The Mrs. Reeves capt., Mrs. Beitz, Haines, Rogers, Henry and Lloyd. (These married women are probably getting in training for their husbands).

MURADS:—The Misses Conlow, capt.; Sexton, Humes, Barr, Denneler and Wilson. (These young ladies believe in safety first and are training while still single).

The league opens next Monday night.

• • •

Paul Burke has formed the habit of walking off with the high scoring honors and repeated again last week with a total of 644 pins for three games. Ed. Goldberg repeated his second place performance of the preceding week by rolling 626 in three rounds.

All three men's bowling leagues open their seasons this week. The Artisans, one league, opened last night while the second league begins tonight. The Friday night league begins its pin-toppling operations this week.

PALMYRA BIG RED TEAM WINS, 19-0

Outplay Spartan A. C. Eleven to Tally 3 Touchdowns on High School Field

The Palmyra Big Red team, silent during the 1930 football season, continued the winning ways which it started in 1929, and ran roughshod over the Spartan A. C., of Camden, last Saturday.

Held scoreless in the first frame, the Palmyrians scored twice before the half ended and added another touchdown in the third period to run up a 19-point total. Meanwhile the Spartans were being held scoreless.

Completely outplaying their lighter opponents, the Palmyra gridders were always a threat to their rivals, while they remained in no danger of having their own goal line crossed.

The initial touchdown scored by the Palmyra aggregation in two years was turned in by Joe Petitto in the second period when he plunged over the final chalk mark from the eight-yard stripe. The second six-pointer was counted by Bill Reagle, who sprinted around right end later on in the same period.

The only long run that resulted in a score was made in the third quarter when Bill Lenore broke up a Spartan passing attack by snagging a rival pass and dashing 40 yards for a tally.

Palmyra		Spartan A. C.
Poinsett	left end	Stone
Oliver	center	Ellan
Orcutt	right guard	Polta
Todd	right tackle	Lantze
Gwenn	right end	LeCabe
Conway	quarterback	Burke
Reagle	right halfback	Segrais
Petitto	fullback	Zinnieranni

Score by periods:

Palmyra Big Red	0	12	7	0	—19

Touchdowns—Petitto, Reagle, Lenore. Points after touchdown—Petitto, Reagle (Pass). Substitution—Lenore for Conway. Referee—Jenkins, Riverton. Umpire—Gilfillian, Riverton. Time of periods—10 minutes.

THANK YOU FROM HERALD TRIBUNE

Mrs. Blair Receives Letter of Appreciation From Fresh Air Campaign

Mrs. Frederick Blair, chairman of the committee who helped to get children from the poorer districts of New York, out to Riverton for at least two weeks received a letter from the Herald Tribune, a New York paper, which has a fund for this particular work.

The letter reads as follows:

Mrs. Frederick Blair
No. 400 Main Street
Riverton, New Jersey.
Dear Mrs. Blair:

The active Fresh Air season is over. The thousands of Tribune "Fresh Airs" have been returned to their homes, except for a fortunate few who are staying on indefinitely with their hosts.

The tale of the good times the vacations brought to the children and of the health and inspiration and friendships that grew out of them . . . would be a thrilling, heart-warming narrative if it were possible to write it. Pleasant memories of those vacations will never wholly pass from the minds of the boys and girls who enjoyed them. And who could attempt to estimate the results of good influences set up in the lives of the children by their visits to a new world?

For all those good times, for all those benefits, for the pleasant memories which will brighten dark days ahead, credit and thanks must go chiefly to the Friendly Towns where the vacations were spent, to the committees and hosts who made the vacations a reality.

This letter is the symbol of the thanks the Tribune Fresh Aid Fund and its children owe you all. As warmly and as cordially as we can we say "Thank you!" for all you have done to make the Fresh Air season of 1931 a success. You worked hard and effectively, you gave of yourselves that the children might benefit and be happy, and giving of oneself is the noblest form of giving.

Your real thanks no doubt you found in seeing the children gather their crops of happiness and benefit, but accept this word of appreciation plus, with that, The Tribune Fund has a warm place in its heart for Riverton, its Friendly Town committee members, its Fresh Air hosts and all who helped in the good work of the summer.

May we ask you to broadcast this message as widely as possible among our good friends. We hope to send each one of them an individual expression of appreciation, but there are thousands of them and it will take us some time to get around to them all.

Sincerely yours,
LESLIE M. CONLY.

Levi Morgan, 62 years old, of Arton, O., who recently fell out of a peach tree is confined to bed for the first time in his life.

PEACE CARAVAN WARMLY GREETED

Palmyra's Mayor and Rotary Club Extend Greeting; Addresses Made

The Peace Caravan which left Hollywood, California, on June 21 on a transcontinental tour under the auspices of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom reached Trenton on Monday, after touring for two days the northern part of the state. At the state house in Trenton a large group gathered to receive the welcome by the Secretary of State.

At the city hall the representative of the mayor presented the caravan with the key to the city and gave a warm endorsement to their efforts. From Trenton the caravan proceeded, escorted by two state police, through Roebling, Florence and Bordentown to Burlington where on the city hall steps Mayor Holmes welcomed the caravan and the 12 autos who had joined in the procession. He endorsed the ideals held by the caravan and agreed to send to President Hoover a message to that effect. On the outskirts of Riverton the procession was joined by Chief of Police Miller and more cars carrying school children and girl scouts. The boy scouts of Palmyra led the procession to the plaza by the railroad station where the school band greeted the caravan with patriotic music.

The Rev. George Lockett, of Palmyra, greeted the caravan on behalf of the Palmyra Riverton Rotary Club and introduced Mayor George N. Wimer who welcomed the caravan. Mrs. Hannah Clothier Hull, national president made a short speech introducing two of the caravaners, Dr. Weld, of Oregon and Miss Mabel Vernon, the latter having been with the caravan from the start. She said that "the Geneva conference offers an unprecedented opportunity to all nations of the world to cooperate in forwarding an international agreement to abandon armaments and to establish a new principle of international understanding and good will."

On Tuesday morning the caravan was escorted by New Jersey and Pennsylvania state police to Broad street and Roosevelt Boulevard where the Pennsylvania people joined them, about 100 automobiles.

The group was then escorted to the city hall where they were allowed to circle the hall and hold a meeting. The caravan was greeted by the national president, Mrs. Hannah C. Hull, who introduced Mayor Mackey. He said in part he believed an international disarmament could be practical because people from every nation live here with us and we do it well. The mayor openly signed the disarmament petition to be sent President Hoover. The large crowd gathered, agreed to send Hoover a telegraph saying the people of Philadelphia were interested in international disarmament.

The caravaners were then escorted to the Penn A. C. to lunch where about 500 people were gathered. Mrs. L. M. Blankenburg was chairman of this occasion.

To show that all kinds of people were interested, people from all kinds of business gave addresses; some of the most outstanding were: Henry T. Brown, who spoke for the business man; Leopold Stowkowski, who represented the musical world; A. Hirschbert, president of the Central Labor Union, said that labor endorsed the President Hoover idea; F. Schrepper, an one-armed veteran, commander of the Narberth Post, American Legion and a school principal gave a stirring tale of experiences in France. H. F. Willitts, treasurer of the Pennsylvania State Grange and a trustee of the Pennsylvania State College. Altogether a stirring meeting was gathered.

A resolution was passed and telegraphed to President Hoover telling of the supporters of his plan for the delegates who go to the Geneva conference, February 2, 1932.

The group was then escorted to Independence Hall where a bouquet of flowers and national flags were placed at th ebase of the Liberty Bell.

Everyone was urged to go to Washington, Saturday where President Hoover will personally receive the caravan in the east room of the White House.

Mrs. E. B. Showell, Mrs. Joseph T. Evans, Mrs. A. A. Criddle, of Riverton and Mrs. Henry Jones, of Moorestown, accompanied the caravan on its trip to Philadelphia.

Rare Church Relic Found in Delaware

A church relic, found by Raymond Campona, of Beverly, is believed to be one of three issued from the Vatican, bearing in it a crucifix made of splinters from Christ's cross.

Campona found the relic drifting in the Delaware river on June 16, 1930. He kept it for a long time before noticing that it had written on it, "From the Wood of the Sacred Cross". After showing it to the rector of St. Barnabas Church, Burlington, who knew nothing about it, he took it to the Philadelphia Museum, where it was found by officials to have belonged to a high Catholic Church.

MISS COLLIN WEDS PENNSYLVANIAN

Pretty Fall Wedding is Solemnized at Christ Church, Riverton

A very pretty fall wedding was solemnized at Christ Church, Riverton last Friday when Miss Mildred Collin, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Samuel W. Collin, of Delanco, became the bride of Carl E. Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Johnson, of Bywood, Pa.

Rev. Arthur S. Lewis, rector of Christ Church, Riverton, assisted by Rev. James Crosson, of Buffalo, New York, brother-in-law of the bridegroom performed the ceremony at six o'clock.

The church was banked in gold, burnt orange and bronze tones of the fall flowers, while similar flowers made up the bouquets for the attendants.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her gown was of white satin and her tulle veil fell from a cap of old family Brussels lace. White roses and lilies of the valley formed her shower bouquet.

Mrs. James Crosson, the bridegroom's sister, acted as matron of honor and was dressed in a jade green satin gown fashioned with long circular skirt and jacket of the same material. Her velvet hat matched her gown and she carried a bouquet of yellow and burnt organe dahlias.

Miss Margaret Williams, of Overbrook, the bride's cousin, was maid of honor, and the four bridesmaids wore similar frocks in apricot satin and hats of velvet in a rust shade. Their bouquets were like the matron of honor's.

The bridesmaids were Miss Katherine Holman, of Merchantville; Miss Eda Heaton, of Moorestown; Miss Louise Pierson, of Philadelphia and Miss Dorothy Lane, of Jersey City.

James Carr, of Bywood, Pa., was best man and the ushers were Nelson Stewart, Donald Robinson, Robert Hunger, Eric Kulander and Richard Bowman, all of Philadelphia.

Mrs. Collin, the bride's mother, wore a gown of pink lace with black velvet jacket. A black velvet hat and a corsage of sweet peas completed her costume. Mrs. Johnson wore blue lace, a matching hat and a corsage of sweet peas.

Ash — Leeds

Miss Sarah West Leeds, daughter of Samuel F. Leeds, one of the owners of Chalfonte-Haddon Hall, and H. Dickson Ash, of Jenkintown, Pa., were married in Atlantic City, Saturday, October 3, in the Benjamin West room of the hotel. The Friends' ceremony was used.

After a dinner and reception the bride and groom left on a motor trip. Upon their return they will live in Philadelphia.

The Leeds family formerly lived in Riverton, on the Riverton-Moorestown road and were well known both in Riverton and Moorestown.

DINNER DANCE AT MEDFORD OCT. 16

Young Republicans of New Jersey Will Be Guests at Log Cabin Lodge

Plans are now about almost complete for the dinner-dance being given the Young Republicans of New Jersey at Log Cabin Lodge, Medford Lakes, on Friday evening, October 16.

Hon. Ex-Governor Edward C. Stokes will be the only speaker of the evening and he will talk to the young folks in a very interesting and entertaining manner for about twenty minutes.

The guests of the evening will be: Hon. Edward C. Stokes, of Trenton; Dr. Marcus W. Newcomb, of Browns Mills; Hon. David Baird, Jr., of Camden; Charles R. Stout, of Florence.

James C. McCormick, of Burlington; George Bitting, of Mount Holly; Clifford R. Powell, of Delanco; Miss Gladys M. Collins, of Newark, who is state vice-chairman of the Young Republicans of New Jersey; Mayor George N. Wimer, of Palmyra; R. E. Leonard, of the State Motor Vehicle Department, Trenton.

Mrs. Pearl M. Bridegum, of Haines-port; William Sherman Greene, Jr., of Newark, who is state chairman of the Young Republicans of New Jersey; Mrs. Elizabeth Terry, Edgewater Park and George deB. Keim, also of Edgewater Park.

Nearly three hundred young folk of the county will be present at the dinner, which will be served at seven o'clock and followed by the brief address of Ex-Governor Stokes.

Harry Gisell's Varsity Crew Dance Orchestra will furnish the music for dancing. Those who do not care to dance may spend the evening playing cards and other games. Prizes will be offered for card playing and dancing.

Invitations were sent out the early part of this week and reply cards are to be mailed to Palmer L. Adams, 313 Cleveland avenue, Palmyra, as promptly as possible. Mr. Adams is chairman of the committee on arrangements. Dress will be optional and admission will be by invitation only.

Other members of the committee in charge of arrangements for the event are: Miss Berna Detta Gsell, of Mount Holly; Miss Myrtle E. Cramer, of Maple Shade; F. H. Dumfee, of Chatsworth and Howard T. Severns, of Burlington.

This affair is expected to be the most unique of its kind ever held in the county and the committee is leaving no stone unturned to make it so.

PHI NU CLASS

The Phi Nu Class, under the leadership of Mrs. Grace Yost, has resumed its discussions in the Presbyterian Sunday School rooms. A hearty welcome is assured all those interested. The subject for this Sunday is "Paul in Philippi". Paul's story is that of the first missionary, and a very interesting one. Come out and give us your ideas. Notice of the monthly meeting will be given next week.

PUBLICITY COMMITTEE.

NEW PLANS AND PRICES ON SCHOOL

Riverton Board Will Have New Data for Joint Meeting October 26

At the meeting of the Riverton Board of Education Monday night, Richard D. Barclay offered a motion which was unanimously passed, that the board secure information asked for by the Citizens' Committee at the joint meeting of the board and the committee on September 21.

This information will include plans and prices for remodeling the present building along the lines considered by the board at the time it was decided to discard the rebuilding plan and ask for a new building on a new site.

Cost of purchasing properties adjacent to the school on Howard street, Fourth, Fifth and Cinnaminson streets.

Revised plans of same building eliminating cafeteria and reducing size of auditorium and gymnasium—possibly combining the latter two in order to bring the price down to about $200,000.

Joint Meeting, October 26

Another joint meeting will be held on October 26 at which time the board will lay this information before the Citizens' Committee.

During a lengthy discussion of the alleged fire menace in the present school building, considerable doubt was expressed as to just how much danger really exists and a motion was offered by Mr. Barclay, seconded by Mr. Warren, instructing the clerk to at once ask the Department of Education at Trenton to make a survey to determine the extent of fire hazard existing and to make recommendations to improve conditions in this respect. The motion also included asking the Burlington County Fire Marshal for a similar survey and report.

Mr. Steedle contented that since the installation of smoke doors several years ago, the fire and smoke hozard was not nearly so grave as it had been made out to be lately, and Mr. Cooper, the supervising principal, stated that he could clear the building in less than three minutes, using one stairway.

D. M. CLIFTON TAKES PART IN DEDICATION

Three Day Ceremony To Dedicate Scottish Rite Mason Temple

Daniel M. Clifton, past commander of the Cyrene Commander, Knights Templar, of Camden, took an active part in the three-day ceremony of dedication of the new temple of Scottish Rite Masons, in Collingswood last weekend.

Mr. Clifton marched in the honorary escort in the parade Saturday afternoon. Sunday and Monday he served as usher at the dedication and reception.

Seven commanderies marched in full regalia Saturday at the cornerstone ceremonies. Among these were the Cyrene with its band; Crusade, Olivet, Helen, Calvary Atlantic and the Corinthian Chasseurs in full dress and mounted. LuLu Temple Shrine Band, of Philadelphia and Crescent Temple Shrine Band, of Trenton, also were in line.

FISH PROBLEM GETS SERIOUS

Gil Coe Shatters Albertson's Fish Record; Windhovel Makes Good Catch

Gil Coe, of Thomas avenue and popular Riverton outdoor sportsman broke all records for this season, including the famous catch by William H. Albertson when he landed a forty pound channel bass Tuesday night. Coe was surf fishing off Beach Haven when he made the catch and a measure showed the fish to be forty four inches long.

C. Earl Windhovel, of Riverton and Raymond Anderson, of Bridgeboro spent last Sunday fishing at Barnegat. The boys went outside about 12 or 14 miles and returned with a catch of 75 blue fish, 125 sea bass and 10 bonita. One of the sea bass Mr. Windhovel said weighed six pounds.

On a previous trip they caught two 15 poung tuna fish and one 18 pound dolphin.

CARD PARTY AND DANCE

The Riverton Volunteer Fire Company will hold its weekly dance in the ballroom at the fire house this Saturday. The musical inspiration will be as always, the Rainbow Ramblers. Bring your lady friend and enjoy an evening of dancing with the fire fighters. A card party is also booked for next Thursday night at a price of 50c per person. The chairman says that a wonderful aray of prizes from all the big Philadelphia department stores will be the feature of the evening. Pinochle, bridge and 500 will be played.

Miss M. Florence Harvey is Bride of Riverton Man in Ceremony Performed At Central Baptist Church Saturday

A very charming early fall wedding took place Saturday afternoon in the Central Baptist Church, Palmyra, when Miss M. Florence Harvey, daughter of Postmaster and Mrs. George I. Harvey, of Palmyra, became the bride of Edward N. Hoyt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hoyt, of Riverton.

The church was beautifully decorated. Palms, greens and gladiolus formed a lovely background for the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. George Lockett, pastor of the church.

The bride was gowned in an exquisite creation of white satin made on princess lines and her cap shaped veil was held in place by orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Arthur Wallace, was matron of honor and wore a lovely frock of peach colored satin with slippers to match and carried a bouquet of yellow roses.

The bridesmaids were: Miss Ruth Abdill, Miss Irene Snelson, Miss Dorothy Randolph and Miss Elizabeth Ingram. They were attired in nile green satin and carried bouquets of pink roses.

Arthur Hoyt, of Palmyra, brother of the bridegroom, obliged as best man and the ushers were: Franklin Harvey, Arthur Wallace and Ernest Woodcock.

Mrs. Harvey, mother of the bride, was attired in a very pretty gown of brown chiffon, while Mrs. Hoyt, mother of the bridegroom, was equally attractive in a model of green flat crepe.

A reception was held at the home of the bride, 706 Garfield avenue, immediately following the ceremony. About fifty guests were present from Columbus, Mount Holly, Palmyra, Riverton, Moorestown and Philadelphia.

The happy young couple are now enjoying a honeymoon in the Poconos and on their return will take up their residence at their home, 108 Pear street, Palmyra.

LOADED GUN LANDS F. KATES IN JAIL

Caretaker of Peace and Plenty Farm Held for Action of Grand Jury

Frank Kates, alias William Hall, who was arrested last week by Patrolman Robinson, of the Riverton police force, near Dreer's Nurseries, was given a hearing before Recorder Cecil A. Bowers Thursday night.

Kates was caretaker at Peace and Plenty farm, East Riverton. His home, he said, was in Elkton, Md., but he declared he had been knocking around New Jersey for the last thirty years.

The night he was arrested according to the story he told the recorder, he was about to board a bus to rejoin a friend with whom he came to Riverton, and who he thought had alighted from the bus when he did.

Officer Robinson doubted his story and took him to the lockup. When Robinson "frisked" his prisoner he found a loaded revolver, several cartridges and three skeleton keys.

At the hearing Robinson said that while Kates was drunk he talked freely, but when the effects of the liquor wore off "he shut up like a clam."

Kates said he carried the revolver for protection, and explained the keys by saying they belonged to the house where he was employed. He wore them down his leg on a string, he said, so he would not lose them while driving the tractor on the farm.

Chief of Police Clarence Ward and Justice of the Peace Roy Addison, Sr., of Maple Shade, were present at the hearing, thinking that perhaps the prisoner had been implicated in the recent robbery of a filling station near their town, but failed to identify him.

Recorder Bowers committed the prisoner to the county jail to await the action of the grand jury on the charge of carrying concealed deadly weapons.

CARD OF THANKS

Mr. and Mrs. Walter McFadden, of Main street, Riverton wish to thank the Riverton Volunteer Fire Company for the lovely basket of fruit sent to Mrs. McFadden at the Riverside hospital.

TRIBUTE TO BAIRD PAID BY POWELL

State Senator Declares South Jersey Owes Much to Candidate

South Jersey owes a great debt to David Baird, Jr., Republican candidate for governor, in putting into definite action the agitation for rapid transit over the Delaware River Bridge, according to State Senator Clifford E. Powell, of Burlington county.

The state senator, one of the leaders of the Republican party in the county, said that Burlington county will show its appreciation to Baird's efforts for rapid transit over the span by giving the Republican candidate an overwhelming majority in the general election.

"Mr. Baird made the first tangible move to put rapid transit lines over the bridge," the senator said. "Before he won accord between Pennsylvania and New Jersey on the question, there seemed no possibility that the project would go beyond the stage of agitation.

"Rapid transit over the bridge is an absolute necessity to South Jersey. It will speed up development of this section of the state, and will enable persons working in Philadelphia and living there now to live in South Jersey and continue at their present places of employment, without tedious trips on their way to and from work."

Senator Powell, in his statement, said he had been asked to discuss the question of how election of a Republican governor would help Burlington county and South Jersey.

"There are many phases of David Baird's political and business life which I could discuss," he said, "but I understand other county leaders are preparing statements about them. It is my belief that election of the Republican candidate would make for greater harmony throughout the state government. Representatives from Burlington county, in the State Legislature, for instance, could get a sympathetic hearing of their petitions for state aid in the county.

"During the present Republican administration, in excess of $6,000,000 has been spent by the state on county roads. The Bordentown Industrial School has been enlarged, and a new project, the Bordentown Prison Farm, has been brought here. More than $1,000,000 will be spent on the farm before it is completed.

"The Legislature was forced to pass measures for the two armories, one at Mount Holly and the other in Burlington, and the Burlington-Bristol Bridge, over a Democratic governor's head. Democrats have the belief that all state money should be spent in North Jersey. They consistently ignore the southern part of the state.

"I fully believe that South Jersey will recognize all it has to gain from election of David Baird, and will give him a great majority here. The Republican candidate is a man who inspires confidence because he is primarily a businessman. He will be able to effect great economy in the state government."

POLICE NOTES

Early Sunday morning Officers Gootee and Robinson of the Riverton police force discovered a car navigating with difficulty. An investigation revealed that Walter Harris, Pear street, East Riverton, the driver of the car was intoxicated.

George Blake, owner of the car and John Freeman, both of East Riverton were the other occupants of the car and both were intoxicated.

At a hearing before Recorder Cecil A. Bowers, Walter Harris was fined $221.00 in default of which he was sent to Mount Holly for thirty days. George Blake was fined $10 and $1.00 costs for drunk and disorderly conduct and John Freeman was fined $5.00 and $2.00 costs. The latter two were released upon paying their fines.

Joseph Popropski, of Bridesburg, Pa., was arrested by state highway inspectors Monday while driving on Burlington pike, intoxicated. At a hearing before Cecil A. Bowers he was fined $221.00 which he paid and secured his release.

LEGIONNAIRES OF F. M. RODGERS POST HONOR M'CROSSON

Palmyra Veterans Serenade and Escort New Jersey Commander at Meeting

LOCAL, COUNTY AND STATE OFFICE HOLDERS SPEAK

Ted D'Autrechy is Presented With Certificate for Work As Post Adjutant

Palmyra Legionnaires took advantage of the first opportunity which offered to pay tribute to their fellow member, Rex M. McCrosson, who has recently been elected to the post of State Commander.

The regular meeting, held on Tuesday night, was turned into a gala night for officers and members alike. Speeches by local, county and state officers enlivened the occasion, when visitors from many of the nearby posts were guests of the Palmyra veterans.

Rex McCrosson was made guest of honor for the evening after the legion bugle and drum corps had marched from the post home to the McCrosson residence and serenaded the new state leader.

A serenade before McCrosson's house was followed by the legionnaires escorting him to the post headquarters on Broad street. Visitors were present from Camden, Maple Shade, Delaware Gardens, Florence, Haddonfield and Riverside, and heard McCrosson in a speech before his own fellow legionnaires.

Other speeches for the evening were made by County Commander Frank B. Hallowell, of Maple Shade; George B. Weigand, present commander of the Frederick M. Rodgers Post, of Palmyra; Frank A. Matthews, Jr., of Palmyra, past post commander and first state commander of New Jersey to come from Palmyra; Al Lippincott, past Palmyra commander and Ted D'Autrechy, present adjutant of F. M. Rodgers Post and Commanders William Hurley and William Haddon, of Delaware Gardens and Maple Shade respectively.

D'Autrechy was presented with a framed certificate of merit for his work as adjutant and made a speech in reply to the presentation. The presentation was a distinct surprise to the officer and he at first was at a loss for words in making an acceptance.

At the conclusion of the speech making the members were treated to an entertainment program after which refreshments were served.

KIN OF RIVERTON MAN KILLED IN AIR CRASH

Lieut. James Ellsworth Adams, a cousin of Frank Coddington, Cinnaminson street, Riverton, was killed yesterday with Private Fred Applewhite, Meridian, Miss., when their plane struck a high tension wire and caught fire at Maxwell Field, Montgomery, Ala.

Lieutenant Adams was 37, and an instructor in the Air Corps Tactional School. He is survived by his widow, two daughters, and his mother, Mrs. Mary K. Adams, who is making her home at Riverton.

Adams will be accorded a military funeral and his body will be interred in Arlington Cemetery, Washington, on Saturday.

POLITICAL NOTES

The Riverton Republican Club, Inc., is making a canvass of the voters of Riverton in the interest of David Baird, Jr., Republican candidate for governor.

Reports indicate a most gratifying trend in favor of Mr. Baird's candidacy.

A meeting of the Burlington County Committee will be held in the Court House, Mount Holly, Tuesday evening, October 13 at 8 o'clock.

Every district members of the county committee in Riverton is urged to be present as important business in connection with the coming election will be considered at that time.

On Monday evening there will be open house at the Riverton Fire Company headquarters at which time a men's meeting will be held in the interests of David Baird's candidacy for governor of New Jersey.

There will be music, entertainment, and refreshments.

Among the speakers will be Senator Clifford R. Powell and J. B. Tomlinson.

Arrangements have been made to suspend a two-side banner of David Baird, Jr., candidate for governor, over Main street, east of the railroad.

ANNOUNCEMENT

An announcement has been made by the Palmyra High School Athletic Association that the fans of Palmyra, Riverton and the surrounding territory may purchase an athletic association ticket for three dollars. This ticket will admit to all home games of football, hockey, basketball and baseball. There are over twenty home games schedued for which the ticket will admit. These tickets may be secured at the high school, from the faculty manager, Mr. Schaefer.

PRESS OF COUNTY IN ASSOCIATION

Newspapermen Organize After Being Dinner Guests of Stout and Powell

A Burlington County Newspaper Association was formed at Medford Lakes last Friday evening.

The organization of the new group was perfected after a dinner at which the newspapermen were guests of Senator Clifford R. Powell and Freeholder Charles R. Stout, joint leaders of the Republican party in Burlington county.

The purpose of the organization is to foster a greater social spirit among newspaper workers of the county, and to provide a forum at which questions of interest to all county papers may be discussed.

The hosts gave short talks to the newspapermen at opening of the meeting. Senator Powell urged the organization of such a group, to promote more harmony among the county publications. Freeholder Stout asserted that by organization the newspapermen could work in harmony on projects of interest to the entire county.

Three of the 15 county newspapers were not represented. They were: Beverly Banner, Moorestown Chronicle and Maple Shade Progress.

The call for the meeting was sent out by James J. Tomes, Moorestown News; Glen W. Chambers, Burlington Press and Leon Raesly, Daily Enterprise.

Raesly President

The following officers were elected: Leon Roesly, Daily Enterprise president; George M. Sleeper, Mount Holly Herald, vice-president; James J. Tomes, Moorestown News, secretary, and Glen Chambers, Burlington Press, treasurer.

James D. Magee, Bordentown Register was made a member at large of the executive committee, of which the other members are the four officers.

Frank E. Chambers of the Burlington County Publishing Company, suggested that a committee be appointed to investigate doubtful propositions which are continuously put to newspapers of the county by advertising firms. The committee was appointed, consisting of Chambers, W. E. Cheesman, Daily Enterprise and Howard Williams, Medford Central Record.

Protest Radio Politics

The newspapers also went on record as protesting against the purported plan of the two major political parties of the state to use the radio during the present gubernatorial campaign. It was decided that the newspapers of the county would give no free publicity to any radio political programs.

Representatives were present from the following county newspapers: Riverton New Era, Mount Holly News, New Jersey Mirror, Mount Holly Herald, Medford Central Record, Moorestown News, Beverly Leader, Riverside Press, Bordentown Register, Burlington Press, Palmyra News and Daily Enterprise.

It was decided that membership in the organization would be open to the publishers or male employes of Burlington county newspapers. Dues were set at a nominal amount.

Following the meeting, the newspapermen adjourned to the recreation room of the lodge.

TRAIN KILLS YOUTH

Identifying Boys From Pensauken Township, Baltimore Police Report Tragedy

Two Pensauken Township youths were killed by a train, near East Baltimore, Md., at 6.15 a. m. Tuesday.

The dead: Joseph Jelonek, 18, of Fork Landing road, Moorestown; Leslie Heppard, 17, of 2318 Pinlaw avenue, Merchantville.

The two were walking along the tracks of the Pennsylvania Railroad near Loney's Lane, when the train struck them, hurling their bodies fifty feet. The bodies were taken to St. Joseph's Hospital in Northeast Baltimore. Physicians said both had died instantly.

Peter McDonald, of Detroit, who made his living by begging for half a century, left an estate worth $60,000 when he died.

Johnson Cites Trade Advantages To Vicinity If Moorestown Site Is Selected for Proposed Airport

Fred W. Johnson, service manager of the Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce, points to the great advantages to Philadelphia if the International Goodyear Zeppelin Corporation selects the site in this vicinity for its proposed airship terminal.

The site proposed is to the south of Moorestown between the Mount Laurel road and Church street. A series of tests have been made by engineers of the corporation and their conclusions sent to Akron, Ohio, for consideration.

Such a base, Mr. Johnson points out, would make it easy to form a triangular service between Europe, South America and the United States. The Graf Zeppelin is already making scheduled trips to South America.

In the countries below the Rio Grande, including the West Indies, live 114,000,000 people. Many of these are quite well to do, while a still greater number are fast being educated to a desire for and enjoyment of products made in the United States and Europe. Competition for this trade is keen. A Zeppelin terminal in this area would give Philadelphia and Camden a great deal of this trade.

A vast network of airways in South America, Central America and Eastern United States moves the South American market from two to ten days closer to Philadelphia. An airship terminal at Moorestown would make them even closer.

Another advantage of such a move would be that the regular airways already in operation would make stops at the base. Thus passengers, mail and corps would be still further convenienced.

FREE INSTRUCTION FOR BOYS 10 TO 20

First Twenty-five Boys To Apply Will Get Free Nautical Course By Mail

In order to interest the boys and young men of America in the advantages offered by the United States Merchant Marine as a career, the first twenty-five boys between the ages of 10 and 20 years and residents of this state, who send in their application to the American Nautical Academy, South Boston, Massachusetts, will be given a course in nautical instruction in their own home by mail.

There is no tuition charge for the instruction, which includes, insofar as it is possible to teach them by mail, the following subjects: General characteristics of ships; daily routine and duties in connection with life on board ship; use of life buoys; first aid; signals (International and Morse Code); the compass, log and lead; ground tackle and deck seamanship; the duties of lookouts; the watch in port and at sea; marlinespike seamanship; cordage; boats, types, nomenclature, gear; and, duties of a boatkeeper.

Examinations will be held at stated intervals and boys receiving a certain grade are eligible to compete for the annual awards offered by the Academy. Students who pass their first examination are enrolled on the records of the Academy as "Apprentice Nautical Cadets" and may wear the uniform and insignia of the Academy. Cadets who complete the course with a passing grade are awarded an Academy Certificate.

HALLOWE'EN FROLIC

The committee appointed by the Women's Auxiliary of the Burlington County Hospital met at the home of Mrs. Horace T. Greenwood, Jr., to discuss plans for a Hallowe'en party. It is to be held at the home of Mrs. B. Hubert Cooper, Kings Highway, Moorestown, Saturday, October 31.

About sixty of the younger children will be invited and each guest is to be charged a dollar. There will be a treasure hunt for the older children, contests, prizes and appropriate Hallowe'en games for all.

REOPENS STUDIO

Dominique Prisco Again Rents Dance Floor at Palmyra Society Hall

Dominique Prisco, Palmyra dancing master, has again opened a studio in Palmyra, keeping his former studio in the Lions' Den, at Society Hall.

He is now offering a complete course in all types of dancing, for both beginners and more advanced pupils. The new modern and German technique which he is offering has created a sensation among dance lovers in this country.

Prisco during the summer made further study of dancing under three of the best known teachers in the country, who had schools in New York and Philadelphia. Margaret Severn, specialist in baby and children's dancing, Sonia Severn, advanced ballet and technique instructor and Gluk Sandor, German and Modern Technique teacher, were all teachers of the Palmyra instructor.

Those interested in dancing lessons can reach Mr. Prisco by phone or can see him in person at his Lions' Den studio, at Broad street and Cinnaminson avenue.

IDA MAE TULL REWARDED FOR 19 YEARS' ATTENDANCE

On Sunday, October 4, at promotion in the First Baptist Sunday School of Moorestown, Ida Mae Tull of Hartford, received another award, after nineteen years of steady attendance at Sunday School. She is an instructor there and teaches ten of Moorestown's most promising pupils who in the next promotion day will enter the senior grade work.

RED CROSS NOW HAS 4,000,000

Increased Membership Goal of 1931 Roll Call Campaign

"Today the members of the Red Cross march with the strength of a legion of more than 4,000,000. But this army of service has no authorized strength. The goal for the 50th Anniversary Roll Call is a greatly increased membership. It is the task of the members and workers to so regiment their efforts for the Roll Call period that every branch and Chapter goal shall be attained, and more," says Hon. John Barton Payne, Chairman of the American National Red Cross.

The Red Cross, like other organizations, must move forward, and it is at this appealing to the general public to consider assisting in the support of the organization by joining and everyone will be given an opportunity to help carry the load.

The Red Cross works 365 days in the year and the demand continues to grow. It is America's answer to the cry of human need.

The American Red Cross was founded in 1881. Through half a century it has given relief in a thousand disasters, culminating in the largest one of all—The Great Drought of 1930-31.

Memberships make the Red Cross what it is. More memberships are needed to carry on the work. JOIN!

BURGLAR SUSPECTS HELD FOR POSSIBLE AUTO THEFT

Frank Kates, alias Frank Hall, and Frank Goodyear, of Elkton, Md., was arrested as a burglar suspect on Felton street, Riverton, by a rookie policeman, John Robinson.

Kates, who has a police record in Wilmington, had in his possession when arrested, a .32 calibre revolver, 11 bullets, burglar tools and a string of skeleton keys. He pretended to be drunk when arrested but was forced to headquarters. An hour later he denied knowledge of a stolen car, found near the spot of his arrest.

MRS. I. RHOADES IS GUEST SPEAKER AT WOMAN'S CLUB

Chairman of Literature Department of Lansdowne Club Gives Excellent Address

WILL DISCUSS WELFARE BILL ON OCTOBER 21st

Ladies to Hold Luncheon at Next Regular Meeting on Monday, the 19th

At the regular business meeting of the Palmyra Woman's Club held Monday afternoon in the club room, Society Hall, attention was called to the meeting of women of Palmyra, Riverton and Cinnaminson to be held at the home of Mrs. William T. J. Purnell, Cleveland and Morgan avenues, Palmyra, Wednesday afternoon, October 21, at 2:30 o'clock.

This will be a non-partisan meeting to discuss the new Welfare bill, which will be voted on at the next regular election.

At the close of Monday's business meeting, Mrs. J. Charles Mallory, chairman of the literature department of the club, introduced Mrs. Isaac Rhoades, who gave a very interesting and instructive talk on "Current American Literature."

In part, Mrs. Rhoades talk was as follows: "Literature of any age shows and deals with the life of that age. We need a knowledge of the past, but after all, this is the age in which we are living. A vast majority of books have no connection with literature, but serve their purpose by giving us amusement and help us, for the moment, to forget our troubles."

"They catch the mind without an effort of concentration. The busy mother needs entertaining. Fifteen minutes of reading an interesting story is a mental rest and she may return to her duties with renewed vigor. Some work does not make our minds work hard, so we must provide ourselves with reading to exercise the brain."

"Our literature was a branch of the English literature, but is now independent of it."

At the close of this excellent talk, Mrs. Rhoades gave the ladies present a list of splendid books, which she said all should endeavor to read.

All those present at the meeting voted it a very interesting and instructive one and said they especially enjoyed Mrs. Rhoades' very delightful talk.

The Club will hold a luncheon on Monday, October 19, at one o'clock. Reservations may be made through Mrs. William S. Branson on or before October 15. Alden G. Alley will be the speaker of the occasion. His topic will be "The League, the Court, and our Country."

PORCH CLUB NOTES

The first meeting of the season was held October 6, with probably the largest luncheon in its history.

The president, Mrs. Joseph L. Thomas, made a most gracious welcoming address, followed by a talk by Mrs. Sherman L. Warren, district vice-president, who urged all clubwomen to subscribe to our "New Jersey Clubwoman" and "The Clubwoman", published by the Federation. Also to seriously prepare, as a club, for the consideration of the many problems confronting us in these troublous times.

Reports were read by the chairmen of each department.

The building committee presented plans and specifications for permanently enclosing the porch and changing the building in such a way as to make one large room of the clubroom and porch, or not, as occasion requires. The motion was unanimously carried to proceed with the work.

Mrs. Clayton D. Lee, a popular, versatile speaker, ended the day with an interesting and enlightening talk on "Modern Movies".

On October 13 at 10 o'clock, the Current Events Class will meet in the club house. Mrs. Brewster Jackson is chairman and a large class is anticipated.

37 VOLUNTEER FOR BLOOD TRANSFUSION

Mrs. Edward Ryan, of Kennilworth avenue, Moorestown, is very seriously ill in the Burlington County Hospital, Mount Holly. She was suffering from hemorrhage Monday night, and a call was sent out for a blood transfusion. Thirty-seven answered the call.

Paul H. Githens, Moorestown, was the only one whose blood could be used. At eleven o'clock he volunteered one pint of his blood and transfusion was performed. Dr. Poy entertained vague doubts as to the possibility of her recovering.

After the transfusion she rallied and passed a restful night regaining consciousness Tuesday morning. Her condition is better though on operation is expected, following which a second transfusion may be necessary.

Mrs. Martha Crossley

Mrs. Martha F. Crossley, 54 years old, of 925 Garfield avenue, Palmyra, died in the Burlington County Hospital, Mount Holly, Tuesday morning.

Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at two o'clock from the Snover Funeral Home with the Rev. Harold L. Creager, of the First Lutheran Church, officiating. Interment will be made in Morgan Cemetery. Friends may call Thursday evening.

Mrs. Crossley is survived by one son, Robert Crossley, of Palmyra.

Stack Gives Rules For Fire Prevention

In accordance with the nation-wide observance of Fire Prevention Week, Fire Chief Joseph L. Stack, of Palmyra, has issued a few "Don'ts" for those who are earnestly trying to do their part in lessening the fire loss throughout the country. Stack was a speaker on this subject at the meeting of the Boy Scout troop which met at the Methodist Church, Tuesday evening.

Don't put hot ashes in wooden or paper boxes.

Don't take a chance in throwing "smokes" out the window, as there may be an awning underneath.

Don't use a waste paper basket as a place for cigar or cigarette butts.

Chief Stack believes many of the fires, which cause $1,064 damage every minutes throughout the United States, could be prevented if everyone would follow a few easy rules.

NEW PLANS AND PRICES ON SCHOOL

Mr. Steedle suggested that instead of expensive and unsightly fire escapes, the installation of an automatic fire extinguisher would meet every requirement of safety at a minimum cost, and was authorized to have a representative of the concern selling these extinguishers recommend how many would be required and to indicate their location.

New Member Welcomed

At the opening of the meeting Mrs. Mayfield extended welcome to Victor Ritschard, recently appointed to fill the unexpired term of H. K. Rutherford and expressed the hope that his relations with the board would be happy and satisfactory. Mr. Ritschard briefly expressed his appreciation of the confidence shown by the board in his appointment.

Mr. Steedle, chairman of the property committee, reported that two new fire boxes had been placed in the heaters, that temporary repairs had been made to the other two and that possibly they would have to be fixed again during the Christmas holidays. Mr. Steedle also asked for and was given permission to recondition the floors in three rooms where movable desks and chairs have been substituted for temporary equipment previously used. Ten new movable desks and chairs were ordered.

Mr. Cooper's Report

Mr. Cooper reported that 37 pupils had left to attend the parochial school and that 18 new pupils had been enrolled, representing 12 new families.

Mr. Cooper also reported that Dr. Rogers was making his annual physical examination of the pupils and that each teacher will be given a record of physical defects of those under her care. A trip to visit "Old Ironsides" had been cancelled on the advice of Dr. Rogers who feared possible danger from infantile paralysis.

Whether or not Student Government should be continued this year was submitted on a vote to the pupils interested, and the vote was overwhelmingly in favor of its continuance.

In addition to the column published in the local paper, the pupils are planning to have a weekly news sheet produced on the new ditto machine by the pupils themselves, in order that they may have the experience of actually producing there own school paper.

Group instruction on musical instruments under Mr. Pew and his assistants is being carried on again this year, with the class somewhat larger than last year despite general business conditions. Miss Lucas has regular period for glee club and orchestra rehearsals.

FLAG GIVEN TO RECORDER ON DISPLAY AT MT. HOLLY

Herman Bading, of Mount Holly, motor vehicle inspector, former member of the New Jersey state police and assistant county detective, last week presented a flag to Recorder Joseph C. Kingdom. The flag is to be displayed at the recorder's office in the new municipal building.

This is a fish story, but George R. Besser, superintendent of the Denver civic center, says it is true. Three months after he placed 16 goldfish in a small pool for breeding, their number had increased to about 200,000, which required their transfer to a larger lake in one of the city parks.

EVANS WINS SUIT ON LUMBER BILL

Riverton Dealer Gets Verdict of $1,053.13 Against Peter Villeco

A suit brought by Joseph T. Evans, of Riverton, against Peter Villeco, of Palmyra, for materials furnished for erection of a bungalow in Runnemede, was heard before Circuit Judge Eldredge at the Court House last week and resulted in a verdict for Mr. Evans.

Peter Villeco's cousin, Marco Villeco, asked Evans, in 1929, for an estimate for lumber and other materials for erection of the house. Evans refused to supply the materials unless Marco would give security for payment of the bill. Peter Villeco signed an agreement to pay for the materials after which the supplies were delivered. Payment was refused.

The defense claimed that Peter did not know what he was signing when he attached his signature to the agreement, being unable to speak or read English. He testified that he thought it was a "reference."

One of Evans' employes testified that he read the paper twice and explained its contents to Peter before it was signed.

The verdict and interest are for $1,053.13.

Replevin Suit Fails

A suit to replevin furniture alleged to be owned by Alexander Stemelski and in possession of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Stemelski, of Riverside, resulted in a verdict of no cause for action.

The furniture, consisting of a bed room suite, porch chairs, player piano and cabinet, the son claimed, were bought by him seven or eight years ago. He produced receipts for the purchases, some of which were on the instalment plan. When he left his parents' home last year, they refused to let him take the furniture away.

John Stemelski, the father, testified that he supplied the money for all the purchases and that therefore the furniture belongs to him. This was corroborated by his wife.

The jury decided that the household goods belonged to the parents.

An uncontested book account for coal supplied by Frank T. Eastlack, of Merchantville, to George M. Harris, coal dealer in Riverton, brought a directed verdict, of the full amount of the claim, plus interest, a total of $4,643.25.

TAXLOR FURNISHES NEW SCHOOL BUS

Riverton Distributor of Reo Trucks Provides Means of Transportation for Parochial School

James B. Taylor, proprietor of Taylor's Garage, and local distributor of Reo trucks, has furnished the bus to be used in transporting pupils to the Sacred Heart Parochial School, Riverton.

The bus is sixteen feet long, 91 inches wide, and has a seating capacity of 61 in addition to the operator. It is equipped with a six-cylinder engine, and Mr. Taylor says it is good for fifteen or twenty years continuous service. It is equipped with shatterproof glass throughout.

The operator of the bus is Charles McCardell, and the route covers Bellevue, West Palmyra, Sorrel Horse Hill and intermediate points. On Saturdays and Sundays it is used to transport members of Sacred Heart Church, children and adults, to service.

BUSY WEEK-END FOR PARRY POLICE

Officer Dorworth Arrests Three For Causing Disturbances; On Probation

The police department in Parry and Cinnaminson Township was kept busy over the weekend. Among the cases reported was that of Lewis Jackson and John Lindsey, of East Riverton, arrested on September 30 for causin ga disturbance on the James Jones property. Taken before Recorder Bowers by Officer Dorworth, they were put on six months probation.

Another case the same day was that of Sidney Fisher, of West Palmyra, arrested for causing a disturbance at the home of Mrs. Noah Hill, of Wrightsville. Officer Dorworth took Fisher in custody. He was taken before Recorder Bowers who let him off with a reprimand.

Sunday a fire broke out at the home of Charles Myers, Parry. Considerable damage was done to his home before the flames were extinguished by the Parry fire company.

M. E. LADIES SERVE SUPPER THIS EVENING

From 5:30 until 8:00 o'clock this evening the Ladies Aid of the Epworth M. E. Church will serve its annual chicken supper in the church basement.

Mrs. George Rivel is in charge of the dining room and Mrs. Edwin A. Griscom is head of the kitchen committee. Mrs. A. Harry Rudduck, president of the organization, has charge of the distribution of tickets.

Tickets including ice cream and cake will be seventy-five cents for adults and fifty cents for children.

An apron table will be an added attraction and all kinds of lovely aprons will be on sale.

Tickets may be secured from any member of the Ladies Aid and the general public is cordially invited to attend.

MOTHERS ARE ASKED TO JOIN LOCAL P.T.A. BEFORE OCTOBER 15th

Many Palmyra mothers attended the meeting called by the hospitality and membership committees of the Palmyra Parent-Teacher Association at the Delaware avenue school Tuesday afternoon.

The membership drive which began October 1 and which will continue until October 15, is now in full swing and it is hoped by the committee in charge that every parent in Palmyra will join before the drive has ended.

The following notice is being sent home this week by pupils of the schools:

"A room mother has been appointed to represent the individual room of our school. Will you come to her meeting in the teacher's room? Will your name be on the honor roll as a member of her mothers' group to meet the teacher and the mothers of your child's classmates? Will you help to form a 100 per cent. P. T. A.? Our town has 530 school homes, our aim is at least 530 P. T. A. members."

"Come to your Mothers-Room-Meeting as mentioned on the notice."

The committee wishes to take this opportunity to remind every mother that it is to her interest and her child's interest to join the P. T. A. NOW!

G.O.P. COMMITTEE ORGANIZES HERE

Palmyrians Elect James T. Weart Chairman of Republican Campaign

Organization of the Palmyra Republican Campaign Committee was effected at a meeting of citizens held in F O S of A Hall, Palmyra, Tuesday evening.

Mayor George N. Wimer was temporary chairman of the meeting and he explained that its express purpose was to elect David Baird, Jr., governor.

James T. Weart was then elected permanent chairman and Richard E. Wilson was elected secretary.

In his opening remarks Mr. Wimer emphasized the importance of getting out the vote in Palmyra and Burlington county.

Mayor Wimer was named campaign manager. He is to appoint one person in each district to serve with the county committee in properly conducting the campaign in their territory.

Mr. Wimer has made the following appointments: Harry Kemmerle, Jr., to serve with Florence Saar and Harry Schaffer in the first district; John Ward to serve with Mrs. Mary King and Thomas Schwink in the second district; Mrs. Mary Kates to serve with James T. Weart and Mrs. Edith Kilpatrick in the third district and Walter D. Lamon to serve with Mrs. D. M. Wass and George W. Rogers in the fourth district.

The following resolution was offered by Charles K. Mervine and unanimously accepted: that "This committee go on record as favoring all nominees of the Republican party for state, county and borough offices."

Frank E. Chambers, of The Palmyra News, was appointed publicity chairman.

Arrangements were made to have a headquarters banner placed over the office of the campaign manager.

CAR OVERTURNS AS DRIVER ATTEMPTS TO AVOID HITTING TRUCK

Miss Miriam MacFarland, of 208 Garden street, Mount Holly, and the two women who were driving with her, narrowly escaped injury Wednesday of last week, when the car which she was driving overturned on the Marne highway, Hartford, between Moorestown and Mount Holly.

Miss MacFarland was driving out of a side road and had to turn sharply to avoid hitting a truck driven by John Smith, Central avenue, Cheltenham, Pa.

The car turned over three times and landed upside down in a ditch. The three women crawled out unhurt, but the car was badly damaged. The names of Miss MacFarland's companions were not learned.

Smith and Miss MacFarland were given summonses by Trooper Joseph Armano, of the Delanco state police barracks, to appear before Police Recorder Joseph W. Johnston, of Moorestown.

BOARD MEETING AT ROTARY CLUB

"Clint" Woolston Gets a Big Welcome on Return to Club

The Rotary Club program last week was a board meeting, which gave all members a chance to follow and participate in the work of the governing body. Rotary International recommends that these "Committee of the Whole" meetings be held now and then so that each Rotarian may have the opportunity of seeing how the club stands and where it is leading.

It was a real pleasure to welcome Clint Woolston to the first meeting he has been able to attend for several months, since his serious illness. The hand he got assured him of the club's appreciation of his untiring efforts in behalf of Rotary. With regret Ed Shaner's resignation was accepted; his present position in Washington, D. C. makes it impossible for him to continue as a member.

Numerous committee reports were presented, of which that of the budget committee was the most important; the suggested budget, slightly lower than that of last year, was adopted. President Howard Conover instructed all committee chairmen to call meetings of their groups, so that plans for the next six months could be prepared, and also suggestions for the improvement of the club be gathered. The question of leaves of absence for Rotarians was discussed and it was decided that while such exemptions will be granted by the Board of directors, only those actually ill, will be excused from the payment of dinner fees.

At the close of the meeting the aims and objects committee mapped out a program of speakers for succeeding months.

CAR OVERTURNS

A Chrysler coach driven by William Matchett, Moorestown, overturned Monday at 12:30 a. m., when it collided with a Studebaker sedan driven by John B. Malmar, at Whitmer's drive and Bridgeboro road, near Moorestown.

Matchett, at the wheel, accompanied by William Fitzgerald, was coming west on Bridgeboro road when he collided with Malmar, who was coming out of Whitmer's driveway. Matchett's car was one hundred feet from the driveway and two hundred feet from the first tire marks on the road, when it turned over. None of the occupants were seriously injured.

PALMYRA BRANCH NGA WILL MEET TUESDAY

The annual business meeting of the Palmyra Branch of the Needlework Guild of America will be held at the home of Mrs. William T. J. Purnell, Cleveland and Morgan avenues, Tuesday. All directors are urgently requested to be present.

The Thrift Circle of the Palmyra group will meet at 10:30 on Tuesday. Box luncheon.

The year's work is drawing to a close and the officers sincerely hope everyone will make an effort to turn out and help finish the year's work.

WOMAN'S CLUB WILL HAVE MUSICAL TREAT

A real musical treat, in the form of "An Evening of Grand Opera", is in store for members and guests of the members of the Palmyra Woman's Club Monday evening in the club rooms, Society Hall.

At that time, the music department of which Mrs. Elvin I. Powell is chairman, will have charge of the first of four evenings of entertainment.

Other members of the committee are as follows: Mrs. C. E. Weikel, Mrs. Stanley S. Lippincott, Mrs. William T. Miller, Mrs. James B. Ryan, Mrs. Robert J. Sims, Mrs. Alfred Van-Osten and Mrs. Everett O. Wolcott.

The music for Monday evening will be excerpts from operas and a brief outline will be read before each rendition.

BOY UNHURT AS "BIKE" MEETS TRUCK HEAD-ON

Ralph Dages, 14 years old, of Highland avenue, Palmyra, narrowly escaped serious injury when he was hit by an auto Monday afternoon.

The lad was riding a bicycle east on Broadway street near Cinnamin on avenue, on the sidewalk, and to avoid bumping down the curb at the intersection of the two streets, he turned down a driveway near the corner.

Dages rode his wheel between two parked cars directly into the path of the Philadelphia Market House truck, driven by Richard Polis, and the two crashed head-on.

The boy received only severe bruises of the knees, an examination by Police Physician Dean H. LaFavor disclosed. The bicycle was wrecked.

George A. Murray

George A. Murray, fifty-six years old, died at his home, 513 Leconey avenue, Palmyra, yesterday morning following a long illness.

Mr. Murray, who has been a resident of Palmyra for many years, was a very active member of the Central Baptist Church, where he was a member of the Board of Trustees and chairman of the House Committee.

The funeral will be in charge of Frank A. Snover and will probably be held Saturday. Arrangements have not as yet been made.

WISE ACTION BY BANKS

Philadelphia's banking leaders met yesterday and adopted wise and timely measures for putting a check on the hysteria which has seized upon thousands of persons and which has driven them to unreasoning fear to withdraw deposits from institutions which are in sound, liquid condition.

Joseph Wayne, Jr., president of the Philadelphia Clearing House Association, rightly condemns the practice of hoarding as "pernicious." But it is not only pernicious; the practice is one which inflicts injury upon every man, woman and child in the community, including the deluded persons who resort to the practice.

Every person who withdraws money from a sound bank for the purpose of hiding that money away in his home or in a safe-deposit box stands guilty of an action that strikes not only at finance but also at all commerce and industry. His action strikes at every job everywhere and contributes to such embarrassment of the entire business machine that he threatens to throw himself, as well as the people, out of work.

Hoarding should cease. Every sensible person, every real American will give his fullest support to the bankers in their praiseworthy determination to check hysteria and to restore orderly procedure in our financial and business affairs. —Public Ledger, Oct. 4.

PLANT NOW FOR EARLY SPRING FLOWERS

Spring was once considered the only planting time of the year. Consequently at those seasons when nature cast aside her gayer moods, gardens, in loving sympathy, assumed an equally somber mien. They remained dull, colorless, uninteresting! But now all is changed. No longer need such dismal areas sadden the hearts of garden lovers. For now, thanks to their efforts, early-blooming bulbs can be planted for winter and spring blooming. Moreover, this method has become so widespread that most garden now present a succession of color for several months beyond the customary flowering period of older days.

From late winter—before winter snows have made their last reluctant departure—until late fall when the crisp air hints at colder days to come, one can enjoy the glories of a garden overflowing with color. You can now plant Snowdrop, Scillas and Crocus in a sunny protected spot of your garden where the cheer of their blooms, coming will delight and amaze you. And before you have ceased to marvel at these sights, the rare fragrance of the Hyacinths will greet you, to be followed by the sunny coloring of the Narcissus and Daffodil. In quick succession comes the Tulip, and with its appearance, you have a complete range of color in your garden. Truly, you will have the place of beauty in your neighborhood. The month of May sees the blooming of the later Darwin and May-flowering Tulips in their ethereal pastel shades. With June the regular spring plantings come into flower.

The cost of bulbs is slight. From the standpoint of authoritative information and the high quality of bulbs offered, the new Fall catalog issued annually by Michell's Seed House, 518-516 Market street, Philadelphia, can be wholly depended upon. The 1931 issue is now off the press and Michell's will gladly send a copy of this invaluable catalog to every flower lover who sends for it.

The SCRAP BOOK

PLAYGROUNDS

By Laurence Alma-Tadema

In summer I am very glad
We children are so small,
For we can see a thousand things
That men can't see at all.
They don't know much about the ground
And all the stones they pass:
They never lie and play among
The forest in the grass.
They walk about a long way off;
And, when we are at the sea,
Let father stoop as best he can
He can't find things like me.
But when the snow is on the ground
And all the puddles freeze,
I wish that I were very tall,
High up above the trees.

HOME-BREW RECIPE FOUND TO BE BEST

Chase wild bull-frogs for three miles and gather the hops; to them add ten gallons of tan bark, one-half pint shellac and one bar of home-made soap. Boil for three hours; then strain through I. W. W. sock to keep from working; add one grasshopper to each pint to give it a kick. Pour a little into the kitchen sink, if it takes off the enamel it is ready for bottling.

PUBLIC SERVICE

WAY OF LIFE

BY BRUCE BARTON

WORDS

An officer of an insurance company invited me to the formal opening of some model tenements which the company had erected.

"Why should I come to see model tenements?" I asked.

For an answer he pulled out of his pocket a crumpled sheet of paper, saying, "Here's an editorial that you wrote nearly fifteen years ago. You pointed out that the insurance companies collect millions of dollars in annual premiums from the poor. You asked why some of those millions should not be used in tearing down old tenements and erecting decent homes in their place.

"We read that editorial in our directors' meeting. It started the thinking which has resulted in these homes for folks of modern means."

Words are mysterious and awe-inspiring. We shoot them into the air, either by tongue or pen, and most of them perish. But now and then some stray sentence drops into a mind that remembers it, and is influenced by it for many years.

Many books, many sermons, many speeches have run in and out of my brain leaving little trace. Yet here are three quite casual remarks that I remember:

1. Said the late Talcott Williams, in a talk which I had with him immediately after my graduation from college:

"Never forget the old saying of the Jesuits, 'A great deal of good can be done in the world if one is not too careful who gets the credit.'"

2. Said a prominent business man when I was blue and discouraged because the first concern for which I worked had gone busted:

"You are very fortunate to have had a severe disappointment while you are still young. The men to be pitied are those whose disappointments come in middle life, when it is too late for them to start over again. A disappointment in youth is merely part of the hardening process that is necessary to make you capable of carrying through."

3. Said my friend Robert Updegraff:

"Never grumble about your problems. They are responsible for the greater part of your income."

Of the three bits of wisdom this last has done me the most good. Whenever I think I am having a tough time I remember that jobs with no worries carry small pay. It's because I have larger troubles that I draw a larger income.

None of these three friends probably gave his remark a second thought. But I have never forgotten them, and I now pass them on in this editorial. Ninety-nine out of every hundred readers will pay no attention. But some day, fifteen years from now, somebody may say: "I read something of yours a long time ago, and it gave me a fresh idea."

That's the marvelous thing about working with words.

JOHNSON IN PLANE ON RESCUE FLIGHT

Moorestown Man Goes to Aid of Party After Sighting Signal Fires

E. R. Fenimore Johnson, Moorestown, principal sponsor of a Brazilian expedition gave reports on his return last week of how he had carried provisions in his airplane to several members of his party, who had lost most of their supplies when three canoes overturned.

Mr. Johnson is the son of Eldridge R. Johnson, founder of the Victor Talking Machine Company, Camden. He left his home on Bridgeboro road last March and did not return until Sunday, September 27.

Several members of Johnson's party, headed by Vincent Petrullo, representing the University of Pennsylvania, left the group at Cuyaba and started off in canoes to paddle down the Culiseo river and up the unexplored Culuene. It was while descending the Culiseo that three of the canoes overturned and most of the supplies were lost.

Unexplored Culuene

In the twin motor Sikorsky airplane, Johnson met the explorers on July 28 at the point where the Culiseo and Culuene rivers joined. Despite the depleted supplies Petrullo was determined to go on up the unexplored Culuene. Petrullo arranged to meet Johnson at the same place on their return.

With associate cameraman Arthur Rossi, Petrullo's party visited the barbaric Indian tribes, recording the customs and the characteristics of the people and making photographic records.

When Johnson's plane returned to the Junction on August 21, none of the expedition were there. Petrullo had left a message asking Johnson to follow them up the Culuene. It was in the nick of time that Johnson, sighting signal fires of Petrullo's party at the mouth of the Rio Ste de Septembre, came to the rescue.

Three of the party were suffering from jungle fever and they had but one day's provisions left. Since game in that district was scarre, the explorers would have been in some danger if the plane had failed to arrive.

John S. Clark, Jr. leader of a hunting party was accidentally shot in the shoulder on August 28 while hunting a jaguar. He was taken to the hospital at Rio de Janeiro.

Accompanied by Mr. Johnson, the plane flew up the Rio Sete de Septembre and after returning to headquarters made a second flight to get in touch with another group from the expedition, headed by Captain Vladimer Perfilieff, which had visited the Borneo Indians.

Johnson brought back a collection of sound films which will throw light on hitherto unexplored and uncivilized Indian tribes of the jungle. When the rest of the expedition returns they will bring many interesting animals and plant specimens for museum use.

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

Professor Cole To Speak at Sunday School Convention

The fifty-fourth annual Burlington County Sunday School convention will be held in the Baptist Church in Moorestown on Thursday, October 15.

There will be three sessions, morning, afternoon and evening. The morning session will open at 10 o'clock and will include an address by Professor S. G. Cole, head of the Department of Religious Education of Crozer Seminary at 10:55. The topic of his address will be "Marks of a Good Teacher". There will be a discussion group immediately following.

The afternoon session will open at 1:30 with an opportunity to visit the book display, one of the special features of the conference. At 2:15 there will be an address "Temperance Education in the Church School" by Mrs. Nina G. Frantz, of Moorestown, state president of the W. C. T. U. At 2:30 Professor Cole will give another address entitled "Actual Incidents Showing Problems of a Church School and How They Were Met".

The rest of the afternoon will be divided into divisional conference, including Cradle Roll, Primary, Young People, Adults and Vacation Church School discussions. The evening session will include committee reports and a discussion of plans for the coming year, and will close with an address by Dr. Floyd W. Tomkins, rector of the Church of the Holy Trinity, Philadelphia. Other well known leaders will be present. H. R. Bowen, executive secretary of the New Jersey Council of Religious Education and Miss Francis Hedden, associate secretary of the New Jersey Council of Religious Education.

GRANGERS HIT BEER

Say Beverage Would Reduce Sale of Dairy Products

Amid all the agitation for legalizing beer as a measure to assist economic recovery, one dry voice is raised to assert that beer would hurt the farmer, not help him.

The National Grange, headed by Louis J. Taber, issued a statement asserting that production of beer would cause a decrease in the consumption of dairy products, such as milk, butter and ice cream, and thus be detrimental to the farmer economically.

Pointing out that since 1917 the per capita consumption of dairy products increased from 754 pounds to 997 pounds, expressed in terms of milk equivalent, Taber said, "it stands to reason that if the American people should spend a large percentage of their earnings for beer they would have just that much less to spend for food, clothing and shelter."

Cinnaminson P. T. A. Notes

The goodly number of P. T. A. members who met for the first meeting on the thirtieth, were more than repaid for the effort that had to be made. These busy mothers have problems of their own, especially when there are little ones to think of. Several did as they have been urged to do, brought the babies, and with the sand box in the auditorium, they were a contented, unobtrusive little party.

The new calendars were given out. These are beautifully done in the printing office, and everyone is grateful for the thought on the part of the friends who brought this enterprise into the school.

The membership chairman reported a very successful drive and the treasurer a comfortable working balance.

After the business was disposed of, the president, Mrs. C. F. Shaw, introduced Mrs. Miller, of Palmyra, who sang several interesting Japanese songs, which were more than appreciated, judging by the applause.

Then Mrs. Theodore Gardiner talked most entertainingly of her first-hand knowledge of Japan. The description of places and customs brought many questions, all of which were answered in the most interesting manner. Mrs. Gardiner's talk was illustrated by a number of Japanese articles, beautiful kimonos, toys and one of the grown-ups and one of the children were dressed a la Japan.

Later the association adjourned to the lunchroom for the usual social period. Everyone voted the meeting a success, and all are appreciative of the kindness of the friends who so graciously gave their time and talent to make it so.

The next meeting will be held at eight p. m., October 16.

If any Rivertonian wishes to know how many interesting places there are in the borough, let them call at Mrs. Young's room, school No. 4, Cinnaminson.

This class visited the town last week and the information they gleaned during the short tour is amazing.

Deer's greenhouses were first on the list and an interesting story was told of the flowers. The tropical plants and the temperature required, particularly impressed them.

At the fire house, it is to be surmised that everything was inquired into, from the siren to the manner of saving helpless persons. This was demonstrated by two of the boys.

Then police headquarters, where Officer Miller finger printed some of them, to their great satisfaction.

Finally, the New Era office must have been most thoroughly inspected and each one carried away a souvenir, in the shape of his name on a piece of solid metal, cast while they were there.

In all of these places, the heads were most kindly and thoughtful in bringing the most worthwhile things to the attention of the class. All connected with the school are grateful for their cooperation.

It is intended that this term, all lessons throughout the schools are to be made interesting by visits to local and nearby industries and places of interest.

Last Friday, two of the teachers and a willing PTA member took the eighth grade to Trenton to visit the state museum.

Some of the grades are mounting pictures to be used in connection with their work. If anyone has magazine covers or pictures, beautiful or interesting, that they are willing to part with, the school will be glad to have them.

PRESS COMMITTEE.

BODY OF MISSING BYBERRY PATIENT FOUND IN DELAWARE

Investigation was underway Sunday to determine whether Morris Baylison, 45, of 1622 North Eighth street, Philadelphia, an escaped Byberry patient, was drowned or murdered. His body was sighted early Sunday floating in the Delaware river by Earl Vorsline, a guard of the Burlington-Bristol bridge. He immediately notified Burlington authorities and a crowd soon gathered on the bank. Three youths, Paul and Anton Onovi, of Delaware avenue and Carl Lear, of Conover street, swam out and towed the body in. The head was badly crushed precluding the fact that it may have been battered against obstructions in the body's path. The body was identified by Dr. R. A. Mathews and John Lafferty, officials at Byberry as that of Baylison. Ellis H. Parker, chief of Burlington county detectives, immediately began an inquiry.

ROSE PALETTA

Rose Paletta, infant daughter of Rose and Louis Paletta Evesborough, died in the Burlington County Hospital last Thursday. Funeral services were held Friday. Interment was made at the Mount Carmel Cemetery with Philip McChesney, funeral director, in charge.

GIRL RESERVES HEAR SPEAKERS

Conference Concluded With Ceremonial at Grave of Chief Ockanickon

Miss Sidonie Schafer, General Secretary of the Burlington County Y. W. C. A., in her talk "Girl Reserves Today and Tomorrow," at the setting-up conference for senior high school Girl Reserves of the Burlington County Y. W. C. A., Saturday, October 3 at the Burlingtotn Y. W. C. A., spoke of building for tomorrow on the experience of today. In the history of fifty years of work with younger girls within the Y. W. C. A. we find those experiences which developed from current need. Today there are other needs and situations. Girl Reserves are "facing life squarely" and are growing and their decisions of tomorrow will be wiser because of situations faced today. Our purpose is to find the good way of life, for ourselves and others. The more life we embody in our club programs, with the help of yesterday the more valuable it will be as we build in new things for tomorrow. She concluded her talk with the thought from the book of Esther that perhaps we, as Girl Reserves, are come to the kingdom for such a time as this, with our youthful and enthusiastic contribution to the world.

In preparation for "tomorrow" in our club work, many program helps were offered at the conference. Miss Lillie Bulla, of Burlington gave a short talk on her hobby in dramatics and its value in club work. Mrs. William Grobler, of Moorestown, told of the plans of the music committee and led the group singing. A short historical sketch of the rise of the girls movement within the Y. W. C. A. was presented by the Delanco Girl Reserve club, and technical discussion groups on various phases of club work were held in the afternoon.

A delightful luncheon was served at noon by members of the Burlington Girl Reserves committee with Mrs. Lawrence Parsons as committee chairman.

The closing ceremonial was held near the grave of Chief Ockanickon and was conducted by Mrs. Charles S. Beckwith, of Pemberton, county chairman of Girl Reserve work.

Delegates from Girl Reserve clubs in Columbus, Mount Holly, Pemberton, Vincentown, Delanco, Riverside and Marlton attended the conference, which was arranged by Miss Harriet Bewe, Girl Reserve Secretary, and a committee of high school girls from the county.

Mrs. Raymond May

Mrs. Raymond May, 39 years old, died Tuesday of last week at her home on Camden avenue, Lenola. She had suffered with a constant illness for four years. The funeral took place last Saturday afternoon and interment was at the Colestown Cemetery. The Rev. Edgar G. Sanford officiated.

Mrs. May is survived by her husband and seven children, James, Raymond, Jr., William, Doris, John, Frances and Joseph.

WILL ORGANIZE

Burlington County Taxpayers To Affiliate With State Association

When Burlington county organizes its taxpayers association on the evening of Thursday, October 15, at Mount Holly, it will be the eighteenth county of the group which the New Jersey Taxpayers' Associaion has organized.

There will then be only three counties in the state which have not as yet formed county-wide organizations. The Burlington organization will be just another indication of the growing power of the taxpayer's organization.

With the formation of this unit and the organizations in all the twenty-one counties, when finally completed, the entire state is certain to be made tax-conscious in no mistaken manner.

ARRANGE MASKED PARTY

Plans for a Hallowe'en party and dance have been completed by the Compass Club and Auxiliary of Palmyra and Riverton. The date has been set for October 23 and the affair will be staged at the P. O. S. of A. Hall. Officers are anxious to have all the members attend the masked fete as well as the regular meeting which will be held tomorrow night.

PLANE TALKS

By Lt. H. H. LONGAKER
Founder, Burlington County Aero Club

The Aeronautical Branch of the Department of Commerce has ordered four Bellanca Pace-makers. The planes are ideally equipped with a clever arrangement of seating for four people, radio, and all the accessories for safety and comfort. The upholstering is of red leather, making a snappy job as well as a sturdy, neat one. The ships are powered with J-6 300 horsepower Wright engines.

Camden Airport, needing more room, has started to extend the field to the Browning Road. This is a V shaped plot of ground, and it will add 400 square feet to the field, making one runway 2600 feet and the other 2400 feet in length.

What is your time worth? Is it worth $16 to go from New York to Washington in 68 minutes in one of the speediest and best equipped planes in the country? The Lockheed Orions travel 3 miles a minute and are so dependable that the company gives a rebate of $1.00 for every minute the plane is over due. These runs are becoming so popular that the company is going to put more planes on the route.

Did you see that the Akron is coming East within three weeks?

Freddy Lund the crack test pilot for Waco, a nationally known flier, was racing in Kentucky and another contestant's propeller cut the tail of his plane off. Freddy jumped, but in his scant 200-foot drop his parachute failed to open, and (thus we say goodbye to Freddy Lund on his long hop.

The Ludington Air Lines has the honor of being the first company to show a profit in scheduled passenger service. On a half million dollar investment there was a profit of $8,000 for a year. It isn't much, but the fact that the balance is out of the red is to be hailed!

For fliers, day is one thing but night is another. We marvel at the ability of the Los Angeles to take on and discharge planes while in full flight. Now two Navy pilots have made repeated contacts at night and thereby proven the absolute practicability of this ingenious device, night or dark.

• • •

Another startling event in aviation is the non-stop flight from Japan to America. Pangborn and Herndon were obliged to release their landing gear over the Pacific to reduce resistance. They made it, all right, but landing was no easy matter. The boys executed a clever pancake landing and came out with a shattered propeller and a few minor injuries. Nice work!

Elinor Smith broke the record from Camden to New York Monday afternoon when she carried the features of the third game of the series to the New York News. Miss Smith took off from the Camden Airport in her Lockheed Tiger and landed at the Floyd Bennett field 30 minutes later.

SMASHUP DAMAGES TWO MACHINES BADLY

Thomas J. Clark, 23, of 19 East Broad street, Palmyra, suffered lacerations of the body when his automobile crashed into the rear of the car of Ellis D. Clifton, 504 Main street, Riverton, at River and Cove roads, Pennsauken township, at 7:15 a. m. Both machines were badly damaged.

Given the privilege of imposing sentence upon her own husband, who she said had caused her trouble through his drinking, Mrs. Victoria Gugowski, of Buffalo, gave him a term of six months in the penitentiary.

A bald eagle swooped down on the unsuspecting pig and started to fly away with him, when Harley grabbed a rifle brought down the bird from a height of about 20 feet. Landing safely on the ground, the pig ran beck to his trough and resumed his slop, instead of strutting about like a hero.

PALMYRA TWICE CROSSES GOAL OF HEIGHTERS IN WIN

Camden Countians Fail to Offer Serious Opposition in Opener

PALS TRIUMPH, 12 - 0, IN FIRST GAME AT HOME

Lenker Crosses Line After 60-Yard Run for Initial Score of Year

Two intercepted passes and a series of brilliant offensive plays netted the football warriors from Palmyra High School two touchdowns and a victory over Haddon Heights School in an exciting game played at the Palmyra field last Saturday.

With the "Pals" completely outplaying their Class "A" rivals, the Red and White team was nevertheless held scoreless during the first half. A strong comeback in the final two periods netted two touchdowns and victory.

The win was the first in two starts for the Pals, who lost to last year's State Class "A" champs the week before. The tilt with the "Heighters" has turned into an annual affair in which Palmyra holds a big edge in the number of games won.

The Red and White team lost a couple of chances to score in the opening half and were forced to leave the field at intermission time with the score tied at 0-0.

The first touchdown came in the third quarter after Earl Lenker had intercepted a Heights' pass. The visitors had brought the ball out of their own territory and had penetrated to the Palmyra 40-yard marker when the Palmyra halfback snared one of the visitors' aerials and traveled 60-yards across the goal line. A drop kick, attempted by Lenker, was unable to register the extra point.

The final score was accounted for after a 70-yard march down the field. A second interception of a Haddon Heights' pass was made by Dillon Fay, Palmyra guard. A sustaintd attack, chiefly straight football, took the ball eleven down to the visitors' one-yard line, from which point Captain Norman Moffitt crossed the final chalk mark for the second six-pointer. A pass from Lenker, for the extra point, was blocked.

The Heighters rarely advanced beyond the center of the field and were kept away entirely from any point within the Palmyra 20-yard line.

The Palmyra line looked to be in excellent co-ordination, the left side showing up exceptionally well. Conway, a veteran, Thomas, a newcomer to the Palmyra lineup and Fay, another letterman, all were highly instrumental in opening up holes for the Palmyra backs and in turn halting the attack of the visitors.

Conway, a brilliant performer last season, has continued his steady work this year, and he and Lenker, who is also outdoing past performances, seem likely candidates for positions on the mythical South Jersey Class "B" eleven.

RIVERTON BEATS BEVERLY TEAM 6-0

Work of Page and Lathbury Feature in Gridiron Tilt With Beverly

Riverton opened its football season with a victory over the strong Beverly eleven last Saturday. The Riverton players put up a courageous battle against their opponents and the work of Page, Riverton's fleety halfback, was outstanding. Page in the middle of the field intercepted a forward pass and ran fifty yards for Riverton's one and only touchdown.

George Lathbury, the East Riverton terror, as he was known in tennis this year, proved that he was much at home on the gridiron as well as the tennis court. He made some notable advances with the ball and at one time had it within two feet of the goal line.

The Beverly game was only a feeler for the boys and now that they have gained their stride, Rivertonians can look for some real tough games of football at Memorial Park.

Riverton will play the strong Burlington team this Saturday afternoon and that should be a game worth anybody's money. The boys are anxious to outfit the team with jerseys and socks of yellow and blue, Riverton's colors, and the more at the game the sooner the equipment. Turn out and root for Riverton.

BIG RED HELD TO TIE BY HAMMONTON TEAM

The Palmyra Big Red team neither lost nor gained ground in the race for the independent Class B football championship of New Jersey in its game with Hammonton last week.

Four scoreless periods were registered by each team last Saturday, with the Palmyra eleven being on the short end of a 6-4 count in the number of first downs.

The visiting Palmyra team threw a scare into the "Peaches" during the third period, when Bill Reagle accounted for three of the first downs in rapid succession. The Hammonton crowd came to life and held the H. B. Williams' team on their own 20-yard marker, taking the ball on downs at that point.

The Hammonton eleven made one serious threat by a forward passing attack when one pass alone, from Errera to J. Haley, was good for a 30-yard advance.

R. D. WOOD SNARES BASEBALL DIADEM

Defeat Medford, 2 - 1 For Second Straight Win in Deciding Series

BURLINGTON COUNTY LEAGUE
Playoff Series

	W.	L.	P.C.
R. D. Wood	2	0	1.000
Medford	0	2	.000

SATURDAY'S SCORE
R. D. Wood, 2; Medford, 1.

For the second straight year Ed. Robbins' R. D. Wood club copped the championship of the Burlington County Baseball League.

The "Woodmen" snared the 1931 championship by defeating Medford in two straight games of their scheduled three-game playoff series.

Lippincott was touched for only two hits during the nine-inning stretch both of which came in the second inning, when Medford tallied its lone run of the game. The R. D. Wood hurler turned in a brilliant piece of work, fanning nine opponents and allowing only two passes.

The Woodmen on the other hand clouted Kline for eight wallops, three of which came in the seventh when the champs tallied both their markers. However, Kline had perfect control for not a single opponent reached first by walking, but at the same time, no Woodman was sent back to the bench by the strikeout route.

Medford entered the scoring column first when "Snorts" Vaughn opened with a single to centerfield in the second and advanced to second on "Buzz" Sheridan's single to left field. Hanson forced Sheridan at first, the former beating Frankenfield's throw to first and Vaughn scoring on the play.

In the seventh Kline weakened and R. D. Wood managed to shove over two runs that finally meant the ball game and the championship.

Everham started the rally with a single to center field and Radice followed to the same pasture, with the former holding up at second. Lippincott then won his own game by hitting a long double to center field to score both runners.

Medford had a chance to add to its score in the third when Reigert walked to start the frame and Cosaboon reached first safely on Scully's error. Lippincott then bore down and forced Worrell to ground out to Frankenfield, while Grant Eckert fanned and Benny Vaughn also rolled to Frankenfield.

Indians	0	3	.000
Tigers	0	3	.000

The abbreviated American League season got under way last Friday night with only six clubs seeing action. Both the Athletics and Yankees made a clean sweep of their matches, each taking three games out of that number rolled. Denneler was instrumental in the win of the A's rolling 244 in one of his games.

WOMEN'S LEAGUE
(Monday)

	W.	L.	P.C.
Lucky Strikes	2	1	.667
Fatimas	2	1	.667
Chesterfields	1	2	.333
Murad	1	2	.333

The women bowlers of the two towns started their winter alley activities Monday night without any team showing a clean sweep for the evening's performance. Both the Luckies and Fatimas took two games each, the Chesterfields and Murads being the victims. Miss Denneler bowled the high game of the evening, toppling 171 pins. The Luckies had a streak of luck in their last match, winning the contest by a single pin, the final score reading 635 to 634.

BUS DRIVER, TWICE ARRESTED FOR SPEEDING, LOSES LICENSE

On Wednesday of last week, John Basler, bus driver, of Audubon, had his license revoked by Motor Vehicle Commissioner Harold G. Hoffman upon his second conviction for operating a bus at an excessive speed. Justice Schram, of Atco, inflicted the fine of $10, which caused the revocation of the license following a previous fine of $20, which Justice Mischlich, of Egg Harbor, placed upon Basler a few days before for operating his bus at 65 miles per hour.

WALBERG PRAISES LENA BLACKBURNE

Famous Athletic's Pitcher Gives "Russ" Credit for His First Big Season

"Russ" Blackburne, a shining star in the baseball world and well known through Riverton and Palmyra, received a high compliment from "Rube" Walberg of the pitching staff of the champion Athletics who climaxed his most successful season with that team by winning 20 games.

Naturally he was asked what he had done to show such improvement and his only reply had been "wait 'till the end of the season." But, "Rube" couldn't wait till it was "all over", he had to tell it now. He wanted to give the credit where it was due, and he told the sports reporters that it was "Russ" Blackburne who helped him find himself.

It seemed that last year when "Russ" was coaching the St. Louis Browns he noticed, on a trip to Philadelphia to play the Athletics, that Walberg in the pitching box would step with his right foot toward third base just before the threw. This step would produce a side arm effect to the pitch and lessened the accuracy in finding the plate. Walberg is an overhand style pitcher and this side step of his was causing the most of his trouble. Of course "Blackie" was not telling "Rube" this while he coached the Browns.

But when this season came and "Russ" was not responsible for the success of any team, he had himself to Shibe Park and gave "Rube" the tip. "Rube" listened and then practiced. He abandoned the habit of stepping his right foot toward third bag and stepped in the direction of homeplate. He also shortened his step in this direction. It had the desired effect and while he lost some of his speed at first his control showed a marked improvement and his throw again became overhand and the ball went where he wanted it to go. This new system of pitching also enabled "Rube" to shoot over a cross fire.

"Rube" gives "Lena" Blackburne all the credit for his success this year in pitching, and praises him as a smart baseball man, stating that he would be a help to any club.

Of course, fellows like "Rube" Walberg know baseball pretty well and a compliment from him means a lot. "Blackie's" friends are just as happy as he is about it, but all the boys around these diggin's who grew up with "Blackie" and played ball with him on the back lot, also know that "Russ" knows his stuff, and are glad to see that a chap like "Rube" Walberg has publicly recognized the merit in "Blackie" that they have known all along.

BIG RED WILL FACE PENNSGROVE TEAM

Sunday Game Will Prove Hardest Test for Independent Gridders

The strongest test which the Palmyra Big Red team will have to face this season, will be met this Sunday when the Pennsgrove Red Jackets entertain the Williams' team at the South Jersey town.

The Pennsgrove team has always rated among the leaders in this section of the state and for several seasons have been conceded the South Jersey independent championship. This test will determine whether or not Palmyra will rank among the select teams in this section. A win or even a tie will give great prestige to the team managed by George Becton.

Judging from the showing which the Palmyra eleven made against the powerful Hammonton team last Saturday, the Pennsgrove team should be hard pressed to keep the Big Red from winning.

Coaches and spectators alike noticed the improvement in the play of the Williams' eleven last week and are greaty encouraged over the prospects for the remainder of the season.

The same lineup which faced the "Peaches" last week will probably start against Pennsgrove. Joe Petitto received a torn ligament while playing against Hammonton last Saturday and it is doubtful whether he will play. However, it is possible that his recovery will be complete by Sunday and the heavy line-cracking back will add a great deal to the strength of the Palmyra team.

The management of the team is anxious to show the appreciation of the players toward several of the business men of the town who have made contributions toward the various supplies needed by the gridmen.

LOCAL CHURCH NEWS

Epworth M. E. Church

(Rev. Ira S. Pimm, B.D., Pastor)

Sunday has been designated in our program as "Family Loyalty Day". Families are urged to attend the services in a body. During the week each family will be asked to spend at least one evening together at home.

At 10:00 the Church School will meet with classes for every member of the family. Our school believes that adult religious education is just as necessary as that of children. Our young peoples' and adult classes are able to care for all.

Divine worship at 11:00. The pastor will preach on "Heartstone Obligations". The choir will sing "Out of the Deep" by Marks. Mrs. Rachel Lord at the console will play as an offertory "Angelus" by Massenet.

The evening service at 7:45 will have as its theme "Cotter's Saturday Night", this poem by Robert Burns that in all literature best typifies the spirit of Christian home life. Mrs. Grey Schwarz will sing "Home Sweet Home", sometimes called the most beautiful ballad ever written. The choir will render "Judge Me, O God", by Neidlinger and Mrs. Lord will play "The Voice of the Chimes".

This evening (Thursday) the Ladies' Aid hold its annual chicken supper in the church basement. You are promised an excellent dinner at a nominal price.

On Saturday afternoon the Junior Epworth League will hold a food sale on Mayor Wimer's porch, on Broad street. The proceeds for this sale goes for the support of a native boy in India.

Baptist

(Rev. George Lockett, Pastor)

Sunday morning service. The pastor's topic will be "What Is Wrong With the World?" and "The Physician's Diagnosis".

At the evening service the pastor will talk on the sixth verse of the twenty third psalm. The choir will render special music.

Saturday afternoon the Junior Department will hold a graduation party. Last Sunday was promotion day for the Cradle Roll, Beginners', Primary and Junior Department.

First Lutheran

(Rev. Harold L. Creager)

The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be observed next Sunday at both the morning and evening services. Preparatory service will be held on Friday night at 8 o'clock; the theme of the sermon at that service will be "Running the Christian Race Successfully". Sunday evening the sermon will be on "The Supreme Value of Life".

The Women's Missionary Society will meet this afternoon at 2:30 with Mrs. H. L. Schaefer, 104 Memorial avenue.

Monthly meeting of the Luther League next Tuesday evening.

Sunday School business meeting next Wednesday.

Saturday evening the Ladies' Aid will hold a chicken supper in the church basement. Tickets 60 cents.

Plans are well under way for the celebration of the tenth anniversary of the church, during the week of October 18-25. Prominent speakers and special features are scheduled. The community is invited to join with us in these special meetings. Full announcements will be given next week.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Are Sin, Disease and Death Real?" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, October 11, 1931.

The Golden Text is: "God be merciful unto us, and bless us; and cause his face to shine upon us; that thy way may be known among all nations" (Psalms 67:1, 2).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "The Lord is good unto them that wait for him, to the soul that seeketh him. It is good that a man should hath hope and quietly wait for the salvation of the Lord" (Lamentations 3:25, 26).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Salvation lifts Truth and Love understood and demonstrated as supreme over all; sin, sickness and death destroyed" (p. 593).

Presbyterian

(Charles T. Bates, Minister)

Calvary Presbyterian Church will holds its morning service of worship at 11 o'clock Sunday.

Christian Endeavor at 7 and evening worship at 8 o'clock.

All departments of the Church School will meet at 10 a. m.

The Church School Workers' Conference will be held Monday evening in the secretary's room.

Midweek service Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock.

APPROACHES TO NEW BRIDGE 116 STREET LAMPS TO LIGHT

The approaches to the George Washington Bridge as well as half of the bridges itself will be lighted by Public Service Electric and Gas Company. An order has been received by the company from the State of New Jersey for the installation of 116 street lamps for the approaches. These will be ready for service when the bridge opens October 24. The street lamps, which will be of ornamental cast iron, following the standard company design, will be placed opposite each other on the main arteries of travel and will be staggered on the branch highways. Electricity will be furnished by underground cables. Eighty-one lamps are to be of 600 watt and thirty-five of 400 watt capacity.

Riverton School Notes

The three hundred and twenty-one children of the Riverton Public School are at the present time being examined by Dr. Rogers, who is the school doctor, to determine their physical fitness.

* * *

Many activities have been started in the school and the children have a fine school spirit.

* * *

Through the courtesy of the Rotary Club of Palmyra and Riverton, the children were entertained in a special assembly by a professional whistler. The children thoroughly enjoyed this novel program.

* * *

In the first assembly meeting there was a short Constitution Day program given by Abbie Shoemaker and Winfield Wilson. Then Miss Harley gave a demonstration of a new and quick way to color vases. At the next meeting an imaginary radio program was presented, which included a play. Those in the play were Robert Hullings and Robert Guest. Those who took part in the rest of the program were Abbie Shoemaker, Olivia Steiner, Harold Baker, Dudley King, Dorothy Hook and Dorothy Wolcott. The announcer was Clifton Mayfield.

* * *

In fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades a vote was taken to determine whether or not the school should have Student Council this year. For every one there were two yeas. Harry Turner was elected president. Then there are the classroom organizations. Several grades have chosen their own officers.

* * *

For the boys in the line of sports there is a soccer team under the direction of Mr. Eyth and Mr. Rank. The boys in the sixth grade and under have a baseball team, which played Westfield on Wednesday. Under the direction of Miss Lippincott the girls are organizing a hockey team. It is progressing well and has a game scheduled with Palmyra the last of October.

* * *

Several years ago, as most parents will remember, pictures were taken of the children, sitting at their desks in the schoolroom; the same thing has been done this year.

WHERE LIGHT AND LIFE REPLACE SHADOW AND DARKNESS

MEMORIAL CHAPEL, LAKEVIEW MEMORIAL PARK, LOCATED IN CINNAMINSON TOWNSHIP, THREE MILES NORTH FROM THE POINT WHERE THE PALMYRA BRIDGE CROSSES THE BURLINGTON PIKE

LAKEVIEW MEMORIAL, PARK is the realization of a life's ambition. It personifies Life not death . . . it reflects hope not despair.

Lakeview when completed will be not only a sacred and everlasting repository for the beloved dead . . . but also a living memorial and a joy to those who live . . . where the visitor is mellowed and inspired by its natural beauty and grandeur . . . its freedom from tombstones and other customary signs of Earthly Death.

Graves will be marked by tablets of imperishable bronze set flush with the turf. Lakeview . . . a place where lovers young and old will love to stroll and watch the sunset's glow, planning for the future or reminiscing of the past . . . where the Memorialization of loved ones shall be encouraged . . . A place that will be protected by an immense Perpetual Care fund, the principal of which can never be expended, only the income there from used to care for and perpetuate this Garden of Memories.

The complete story of Lakeview Memorial Park is interesting . . . told in a beautiful brochure that will be sent to anyone requesting it.

INSANE HOSPITAL BEING ENLARGED

Addition to Institution at Fairview Being Made by Inmates

The Burlington County Board of Freeholders received bids last Friday for hollow tile and brick construction of an addition to the Burlington County Hospital for Insane at New Lisbon, which has been arranged for by the superintendent, Frank McIlvain. The work is being done by the inmates of the institution, under competent supervision.

The bidders and their figures were as follows:

Tiles — Ar-ke-tex Corporation, of Philadelphia, $6755.85; National Fireproofing Corporation, of Pittsburgh, $5,550.56. Brick—Church Brick Co., Fieldsboro, $1247; William Graham Brick Manufacturing Co., Maple Shade, $1,044. The contracts were awarded to the National Fireproofing Corp. and the Graham Brick Manufacturing Co.

Want Burr's Road Improved

Morris K. Perinchief, of Mt. Holly, an active member of the Burlington County Country Club, situated on Burr's road, stated that he understood the road from the Mt. Holly-Burlington road past the property of the club could be improved under the new township road law by which 75 percent would be paid by the state and 25 percent by the township, which is in Westhampton township. He requested the co-operation of the board.

The board received notice that an ordinance calling for the building of a storm sewer to drain Pavilion avenue, Riverside, had been prepared by the township solicitor, George M. Hillman, and would be passed at final reading soon, which provided for the sewer to be erected and the expense of $3,000 shared alike by the county and the township. After the final passing of the ordinance, the work will be under the supervision of County Engineer H. B. Smith.

The next meeting of the State Association of Freeholders will be held in Camden county, Oct. 19, at which time the members will be the guests of the Camden county freeholders. It is expected there will be a large delegation from here. The new Courthouse Annex and the Vocational Schools will be visited and inspected on this trip.

Suit Settled

Judge Harold Wells, who is solicitor, announced that a settlement had been agreed upon in a suit against the county by the Union Paving Company, of Philadelphia.

The suit, pending since December, 1930, was caused by a dispute over work done on King's highway by the paving company. The sum mentioned in the settlement is $346.33 and this judgment will be entered against the county.

Permission was given the Mt. Holly Water Co. to lay new mains along the county road in Mt. Holly, on Mill street, between Pine street and Mt. Holly avenue.

Wants Another Clerk

The need of an additional clerk in the offices of the Judge of the District Court was made known by Judge Frank A. Mathews.

Bradshaw — Rivel

St. Hubert's Church, Philadelphia, was filled with a fashionable assemblage of guests Tuesday morning, when Miss Elizabeth H. Rivel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur H. Rivel, of Philadelphia, became the bride of Mr. H. Raymond Bradshaw, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bradshaw, of Palmyra.

The Rev. John Ludwig, rector of the church, officiated, assisted by the Rev. Joseph A. Rigney, and the Rev. William F. Cavanaugh, of Riverton.

The bride wore a gown of ivory tone satin, fashioned on long close-fitting lines. Her veil of tulle, arranged in cap shape, fell over her long train. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Joseph Steigerwalt, who attended her sister as matron of honor wore a close-fitting model of pink lace. Her turban was of baby blue velvet with a long curling feather of the same shade. Her shoes were also of blue. She carried pink roses and blue larkspur.

Mr. Elwood Bradshaw served as his brother's best man and the ushers were Mr. Curtis Flynn, cousin of the groom, and Mr. George H. Folman, of Coatesville, Pa.

A wedding breakfast followed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur H. Rivel.

Mr. Bradshaw, who is a graduate of Palmyra High School, is now affiliated with the Terminal Ware House, Philadelphia, as assistant vice-president.

TOOLS AND GAS STOLEN

A petty thief broke into the garage of Hylton Smith at Front street and Linden avenue last Saturday. The thief took a kit of Chevrolet tools and siphoned the gasoline from the car owned by Dunbar Hylton and which had been left in the garage by Hylton when he drove Smith's truck to work.

AN EDITORIAL.

America's Ups and Downs – And a Story From the Orient

Someone said, it doesn't matter who, and it has been proven beyond question time and time again that "History repeats itself."

The records show, in real estate, our boom and our slumps; in Wall Street, our highs and our lows; in health, our epidemics and their recession; in international affairs, our periods of war and resultant peace; in agriculture our bumper crops and their opposite—and so on endlessly.

America has always been quick to meet any emergency thrust upon it. Its people are keen minded, responsive to sensible remedies and meet their problems with resolute courage.

Along with the present National and International economic depression, the closing of too many banks is causing a widespread consternation and reckless gossip.

Remarks uttered carelessly, and magnified at each retelling, can be held directly responsible for the recent closing of many banks. Government records of bank failures during the last fifty years up to and INCLUDING 1931, show that of every dollar of savings fund money in National Banks and Trust Companies, one third of one cent has been lost to depositors.

The Orientals have a way of telling fables to "point a moral or adorn a tale."

One of their stories goes like this.

A Plague was devastating the land. One day it came to the gates of a populous city and demanded admittance. The ruler of the city came to the gate and tried to persuade the unwelcome visitor to pass the city by, offering him large sums from the city treasury if he would leave the inhabitants undisturbed.

This the Plague refused to do, but agreed to take toll of but one in a hundred. Whereupon, believing he had made the best terms possible, the ruler ordered the gates to be opened.

The Plague stalked the streets of the stricken city, and men, women and children sickened and died by hundreds until half the population had perished.

The ruler, grief-stricken and filled with remorse, met the Plague one day as he trod the streets of the city, and accused him of breaking faith.

"Not so," said the Plague, "I took but one in a hundred. The others died of fright."

Doubtless some banks have failed through unfortunate circumstances which their officers and directors could not foresee.

The others have been closed by fear and lack of confidence.

500 ATTEND FIRE CO. OPEN HOUSE

Large Assemblage Hears Speakers and Enjoys Entertainment in Riverton

Open house for the male voters of Riverton was held at the Riverton Fire House on Monday night. That the male voters of Riverton are keenly interested in the candidacy of David Baird, Jr., for Governor was evidenced by an approximate attendance of 500 men.

Mayor-elect Killam E. Bennett made the opening address and Edward R. Williams acted as master of ceremonies. Many of the County officeholders and aspirants for County offices were present.

Freeholders McCormick and Stout and Assemblyman Newcomb delivered short addresses to the assemblage. J. B. Tomlinson, attorney from Trenton, representing David Baird, Jr., addressed the meeting. Among the many reasons advanced by Mr. Tomlinson for David Baird's election, was the fact that while Mr. Baird was a graduate of Princeton University, he also knew the meaning of hard labor. For many years he worked in his father's lumber business in Camden. Always at work at quarter to seven each morning and working hard throughout the day, year in and year out, he had learned to know the value of a dollar and even a cent. His keen business judgement when applied to the business of the State would come in good stead for the reduction of taxes, declared Mr. Tomlinson.

That David Baird is a man of courage, Mr. Tomlinson illustrated by the incedent of his service to the recent Camden bank crisis. When the issue had to be met, David Baird collected his entire fortune and placed it at the disposal of the Camden banks to save a serious situation and protect Camden's depositors. Such men, Mr. Tomlinson said, are needed in the business of the State.

George Bitting, candidate for Surrogate, gave a short address following Mr. Tomlinson, in which he asked for the support of everyone present to turn out a large vote at the coming election.

Following the speakers, refreshments were served in the apparatus room of the fire house, and then the group adjourned to the ball room where professional entertainers engaged the attention of the men with songs and light humor. A jazz band also added to the enjoyment of the evening.

This gathering probably is the largest ever present at a political rally in Riverton exclusive to the male voters.

NEW BROADWAY THEATRE OPENED

Mayors of Both Towns and Other Notables Compliment Management

Last Thursday night the new Broadway Theatre, Palmyra, was officially opened. Appropriate ceremonies dedicating the new playhouse took place about 7:30 p. m.

Ex-Mayor James T. Weart was master of ceremonies, and it will be remembered that he officially dedicated the old Broadway Palace seventeen years ago.

Milton Romm, representing the Romm interests, made the opening address, in which he thanked the people of Riverton and Palmyra for their patronage in the past, and assured them that their loyal support had made the new and costly theatre possible, and that the new auditorium was dedicated to their comfort and enjoyment.

Mayor George N. Wimer was next presented and commended the courage and optimism of the management in venturing, during uncertain times, upon the investment of such a sum as the new theatre represented. Mayor Wimer held forth their faith in America's progress an example and inspiration to those who are prone to become pessimistic about present conditions.

Mayor Rogers, of Riverton, on behalf of Riverton, congratulated the management on their splendid civic improvement and assured them that everyone would enjoy the benefits the new theatre offered.

Hon. John E. Walsh, judge of the Municipal Court in Philadelphia, was the next speaker and his address was full of good humor that provoked many laughs.

Judge Frank A. Matthews, the last speaker, delivered an interesing address in which he interpreted the artists' mural paintings and made a direct application of their representation in connection with the theatre management.

NEW FORTNUM MANAGER

William J. Kraus, 909 Highland avenue, is the new manager of Lester B Fortnum's Palmyra Automobile Agency. Mr. Kraus is an experienced automobile man and has been connected with the Fortnum Company for eight years.

BANKER SPEAKS TO P-R ROTARY CLUB

Albert Bowers, of Philadelphia National Bank, Tells of Conditions Abroad

"The war is responsible for the present depression," said Albert Bowser, vice president of the Philadelphia National Bank, in charge of foreign credits, addressing the Palmyra-Riverton Rotary Club last week.

Continuing, Mr Bowers said, "The peace treaty of Versailles has imposed a heavier burden upon the world than it can bear. You cannot escape the trouble we now having unless something is done about these debts.

"If they are not cancelled, the present depression will go on for ten years or more. Washington doesn't want to talk debt cancellation, but the first report of the recent commission sent to Europe by President Hoover was a recommendation for cancellation of debts.

"War debts will be cancelled and reparations scaled down by July 1 of next year; there have already been conferences, which the public doesn't know about, towards this end."

Many Questions

Mr. Bowers, who has had wide banking experience, and who recently returned from a business trip to the capitals of Europe, held the Rotary Club's attention for over an hour. At the end of his talk, Mr. Bowers was besieged from all sides with questions about world finance, progress in Russia and the dole system in England. The members left with the feeling that they had acquired much valuable information about international relations.

Another query about Russia elicited the information that Mr. Bowers expects to take a trip to that country in the near future. From descriptions of a friend who had spent two years in Russia as a technical expert, the speaker had formed the opinion that Russia is merely beginning a great rise as a manufacturing nation, whose competition will have to be met.

Mr. Bowers sketched the development of financial troubles in Europe during the past year; the direct cause, he stated, was the failure of an Austrian bank. Germany was next, the flight of capital from Berlin, the rest of the world cancelled short term obligations in Germany, which withdrawals put Germany on her back. President Hoover's moratorium, which followed, brought the world close to relief, but the delay of France spoiled it. It gave the word confidence, the hesitancy of France (only two weeks ago were the final plans signed), made it fall flat.

England in Crisis

The world has no idea, said Mr. Bowers, how serious the financial situation was and is in England. England had been borrowing heavily to support her currency, when she decided to go off the gold standard. This step, in the judgment of the speaker, was a great blow at her trading power. Such benefits as may be derived from it will be but temporary, while in the long run, Great Britain will lose out in prestige and as an international financial power.

The United States has at present one half the world's gold supply, while France has about another one quarter. Business cannot be done unless these two give credits; this gold must somehow be redistributed. The fact that it is in so few hands is a serious cause of the present world condition. Europe can't buy because of debts. As long as these debts are hanging over the world we cannot have a good recovery; they must be removed so that the world can buy, for if Europe cannot buy from us, we cannot buy from her.

Mr. Bowers, in common with many other bankers and economists, says that the United States will have to assume the world's war debts. It is, he feels, impossible for us to stay aloof. We have come closer to the world this past year than ever before. We can't be rich and the rest of the world be poor. It is impossible for us to roll in wealth, if surrounded by dire poverty. In order for a nation to be prosperous there must be a number of well-to-do neighbors around it and none that are starving.

The real cure for war is to get the nations tied up financially, so that no one will want to shoot up his own property.

Charles H. Wenger

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at three o'clock from the late residence with the Rev. George J. McCormack, rector of Christ P. E. Church, Palmyra, officiating. Interment was made in Morgan Cemetery, under the direction of Frank A. Snover.

Mr. Wenger is survived by his widow Mrs. Mary B. Wenger, a daughter, Mrs. Richard K. Hunter and a son, David Wenger, both of Palmyra.

ON EUROPEAN WEDDING TOUR

MRS. EDWARD HYDE RAKESTRAW

Mrs. Rakestraw before her marriage on Thursday last was Miss May Therese Groves, daughter of Mrs. Frederick Stanley Groves, Jr., of "The Evergreens", Riverton. Mr. and Mrs. Rakestraw are touring abroad on their honeymoon and after November 15 will be at home on Brentford road, Haverford, Pa.

P.T.A. RECEPTION MONDAY, OCT. 19

Miss Everett Will Speak On the "Mental Life of the School Child"

The annual reception to the parents and teachers of the Riverton Public School will be held on Monday, October 19, at 8:00 p. m. The Board has been fortunate in securing Miss Edith M. Everett, associate director of the White-Williams Foundation, as speaker for the evening. Her subject is given as the "Mental Life of the School Child." Miss Everett will dwell particularly on two aspects of the "mental life"; first, the adjustment of the young child to the new scholastic world to which he must adapt himself in his early school years; second, the mental life of the adolescent child.

Mrs. Francis B. Elwell, president of the P.T.A., has urged that every mother and father come out and join this important school association. Next week, October 19 to 24, a membership round-up of the Riverton P.T.A. will be made under the supervision of Mrs. H. K. Rutherford, membership chairman. The annual dues of 50c for 1931-1932 may be paid at the reception Monday evening or sent during the week to the teachers or room chairmen as follows:

Teachers—Miss Parker, Miss Justice, Miss Evaul, Miss Gardiner, Miss Clark, Miss Rothbart, Miss Paulding, Mrs. Murgatroyd, Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Bush, Miss Lippincott, Mr. Rank, Miss Stamen. Chairmen—Mrs. E. N. Cooper, Mrs. S. P. Stewart, Mrs. George Friday, Mrs. R. N. Woodward, Mrs. W. Wilson, Mrs. J. L. Grim, Mrs. G. F. Kauffman, Mrs. I. M. Tull, Mrs. B. Stetson, Mrs. R. E. Gowell, Mrs. W. Blyler, Mrs. W. M. Shoemaker, Mrs. G. S. Kline.

Join the organization for the sake of helping your child to get the full value of these important formative years. Join it because of the inspiration his teacher will get from a contact with his home. And join because your ideas are helpful to other parents and you may from them gain the very hint that will be helpful to you!

Finally, the organization will benefit and be more valuable than ever because of your expressed interest in your own child and his school surroundings.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our many friends for kindnesses expressed during our recent bereavement, especially those who sent cars and flowers.

MRS. GEORGE MURRAY

BUILDING INSPECTOR PRAISES NEW THEATRE

James H. Tallon, state inspector of buildings, whose duty it was to place his official OK on the construction of the new Broadway Theatre, was so pleased with the thorough going and efficient manner in which the work had been done that he expressed a desire to tell the people of Palmyra, Riverton and vicinity what a fine building the new theatre really is, and on Monday, October 19, he will speak to the patrons of the theatre on invitation of the manager.

E. H. RAKESTRAW WEDS MAY GROVES

Christ Church is Scene of Fashionable Riverton Wedding Last Thursday

The marriage of Miss May Therese Groves, daughter of Mrs. Frederic Stanley Groves, of the Evergreens, Riverton, and Mr. Edward H. Rakestraw, of Drexel Road, took place Thursday in Christ Church, Riverton, in the presence of the families, relatives and a few intimate friends.

The bride was attired in a model of white velvet, fashioned with a V-neckline, long close-fitting sleeves and a train extending from the waist. Her veil of tulle was arranged with a circle of orange blossoms and seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of gardenias and bouvardia.

Mrs. Heberton Field Williams, sister of the bride, attended as matron of honor. She wore a model cape forming a deep V at the back and a collar of white fox fur. Her hat was a small turban of white crepe.

Miss Constance Groves, another sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She was attired in a white chiffon gown, fashioned on simple lines, with a jacket of white taffeta. Her hat was an Empress Eugenie model, trimmed with a white plume.

Mr. John L. Rakestraw, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man, and the ushers included Mr. Charles Sheaffer, Mr. William M. Hardt, Mr. Richard Keator, Mr. Ralston Biddle Fitler, Mr. Frank Brisbin Foster, Jr., Mr. Herbert Williams, Mr. Charles Houson and Mr. J. Bolton Winpenny, 2nd, all of Philadelphia, and Mr. Eldridge Crandall and Mr. Curtiss C. Gary, of New York.

A small reception followed at the home of the bride's mother.

Mr. Rakestraw and his bride will spend their honeymoon traveling on the Continent and will be at home after November 15 at Brentford road, Haverford.

KENNETH B. THOMASON

Kenneth B. Thomason, 41 years old, died this morning at seven o'clock after an illness of about six weeks. Funeral services will be held at his late residence, 711 Main street, Riverton on Saturday, 2 p. m. with Rev. Arthur S. Lewis, officiating. Interment will be made in Morgan Cemetery, Palmyra, under the direction of Frank A. Snover. Friends may call Friday evening.

The deceased was a life-long resident of Riverton and was the son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Thomason who settled in Riverton many years ago at 711 Main street.

The deceased is survived by his widow, Alice H. Thomason, an eight-year-old son, Kenneth Martin and three brothers, William J. Thomason, Jr., Cooper Thomason and Howard Thomason.

Harold G. Hoffman, Commissioner of Motor Vehicles, will address a meeting of the Polish Falcons Club, Trenton on Sunday afternoon, November 1, on behalf of David Baird, Jr., Republican candidate for Governor of New Jersey.

BUSINESS ZONE TO BE ENLARGED

Ordinance Introduced in Riverton Council; Up for Passage November 12

The old adage, "Business before pleasure", was reversed last Thursday night when the Riverton mayor and council deferred its meeting until ten o'clock while they accepted the invitation of the management of the rebuilt Broadway Theatre to attend its opening program.

Reporting for the highway committee, Chair Albertson reported everything to be in good condition "except the streets." A final agreement has not been reached with the Bituminous Service Company as to just what they will do toward making satisfactory the work they did on the streets during the summer.

Resolutions were passed to borrow $6000 to meet current expenses and $8000 to retire a general improvement note which comes due November 1.

Change Zone Boundaries

An ordinance amending the boundaries of the business district on Broad street passed first reading. This ordinance provides for including in the business section that portion of Broad street lying between Thomas and Linden avenues. It will come up for final passage at the November meeting.

Councilman DeLaney reported for the fire and water committee that a fire in a garage on Penn street had been successfully handled by the Riverton fire company before serious damage was done.

The proposition to send two of Riverton's police officers to the school for state police this winter was discussed, and it is probable that it will be arranged to do this in February.

A letter was read from Pennsauken township expressing its disapproval of the County Welfare Board. No action was taken. This board was created under the Old Age Pensions Act, and will disburse funds made available under that act. In addition to this, the board may take over relief of the poor in municipalities, where those municipalities give the proposition a majority vote in the November election. The proposition will appear on the ballot under the head, "Public Question".

Survey On Unemployment

After a discussion of the unemployment situation in Riverton, the mayor was requested to appoint a committee to make a survey of the number of unemployed and report to council.

The report of the building inspector showed building operations amounting to $705.00 and fees of $5.00.

PORCH CLUB NOTES

The Current Events section held the first meeting of the season Tuesday morning. Four members gave reports about recent events of interest. Mrs. Bradford Stetson spoke on Domestic Current Affairs; Mrs. Frederick Blair brought to the group International and Educational News; Mrs. Maurice G. Belknap's subject was Music and Mrs. Wiliam G. Porter reported upon Literature and Drama mentioning "Shadow On the Rock" by Willa Cather; "A White Bird Flying" by Bess Streeter Aldrich and "Ten Commandments" by Warwick Deeping as three books critics recommend.

The Legislative Committee has arranged for Senator Clifford R. Powell to give us the Republican viewpoint and Former Deputy Attorney General Grover C. Richman, the Democratic viewpoint on Current Legislation, October 27 at 2:30 in the auditorium of the Riverton public school.

* * *

When Professor Alden G. Alley, of the Newark Law School, talked at the Porch Club last winter there was such general regret at the absence of the men that a second lecture has been planned for the evening. This meeting of the Porch Club on October 20 at 8 o'clock will be an open one at the home of the Misses Biddle at the corner of Bank and Lippincott avenues. The subject of Mr. Alley's talk, "The World Court", will be particularly timely, especially in view of the recent decision of the World Court in regard to the Austro-German customs union about which there is so much controversy, and also because the New Jersey World Court committee is urging that committees of men and women be formed in every town to crystallize local sentiment this fall.

Mr. Alley has recently returned from Geneva where he has spent much time attending sessions of the League of Nations. This meeting provides an excellent opportunity to hear at first hand of both of these immensely important organizations and their actual functioning.

The question of the World Court is not a partisan question; it affects the whole community and the whole world. Our country is just as much entitled to our enthusiastic support as it was entitled to our support when our country was at war.

HYLTON — McKEON

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Virginia McKeon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald McKeon, of Highland avenue, Palmyra, to Russell Hylton son of Mrs. Helen Hylton of Lippincott avenue, Riverton, on Wednesday of last week.

H. FORD CARR TO SPEAK AT P.T.A. MEETING TUESDAY

Will Hold Reception For Teachers and Members of Palmyra School Board

CHILD STUDY GROUP MEETS AT 7:45 O'CLOCK

County Council Convenes at Juliustown on Wednesday Afternoon, Oct. 21

A reception to teachers and members of the School Board will be a feature of the meeting of the Palmyra Parent-Teacher Association to be held Tuesday evening in the high school building.

Addresses of welcome will be delivered by Mrs. Elias Toy, president of the association; Prof. C. F. Dengler, supervising principal of the Palmyra schools; and Francis L. Durgin, Jr., president of the Board of Education.

The Rev. Harold Ford Carr, chaplain at the University of Pennsylvania, who is very well-known in this section, will be the speaker of the occassion. The Rev. Mr. Carr will deliver a talk which will prove most interesting and entertaining to parents and teachers alke.

Miss Adaline Edson, a Philadelphia artist, will give several readings. She will render her selections in the following order: First half; "Problems" and "Romeo and Juliet." Second half; "Mason-Dixon Line," and "Salome."

Miss Edson studied at the Emilie Krider Norris School of Expression and Dramatic Art and is a member of the Junior Matinee Musical Club. She has been heard in several radio programmes and has done much concert and philanthropic work.

Mrs. William Miller and Mrs. Elvin I. Powell, both of Palmyra, will render a vocal duet. They will be accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Robert Sims of Cinnaminson.

The high School Ensemble under the direction of Miss Mary T. Johnston, music supervisor, will render several selections.

Refreshments will be served following the meeting, by the members of the refreshment committee.

The Child Study Group Meeting will procede the regular meeting, under the direction of Mrs. Emmett R. Finn. Her topic will be "The Happy Family." This meeting will be held at 7:45 o'clock and the regular meeting will take place at 8:15.

All members of the Parent-Teacher Association are reminded of the meeting of the County Council to be held at Juliustown on Wednesday afternoon, October 21. It is hoped that a large number of representatives of the Palmyra organization will attend.

November 4, 5, and 6, are the dates set for the Thirty-first annual convention of the New Jersey Congress of Parents and Teachers to be held at the Hotel Chelsea, Atlantic City. Mrs. Elias Toy has been selected to represent the Palmyra organization at the conference.

INSANE HOSPITAL BEING ENLARGED

Judge Mathews called attention of the board that a law was passed by the last legislature which gave him permission to appoint an additional clerk but he did not feel like taking the initiative without first consulting the freeholders. The judge said the business of the office had increased since its establishment two years ago and that Clerk Evans was being overworked. He intimated that the appointment of a stenographer at a salary of probably $700 or $800 a year would fill the bill at this time.

The board hesitated about going along with the proposition until such time as provisions can be made in the budget, but promised to take the question under consideration.

Freeholder Charles R. Stout sponsored a resolution on the death of United States Senator Dwight W. Morrow, expressing the great grief and sorrow caused by the death of the able Jerseyman.

Owing to failure to agree on the quality of a substitute by one of the builders, all bids on flooring covering for the Fairview sanitarium were rejected.

A resolution was passed authorizing the County Solicitor to render an opinion on the legal status of tax anticipation notes issued by the county. This action was taken as a result of the request of the Riverside Trust Company for such an opinion.

Some time ago the Board of Freeholders sent a request to municipalities to make arrangements with Public Service Coordinated Transport for the removal of the company's trolley tracks from Palmyra to Bordentown, it being the desire of the board to widen and improve the county road between these points.

Four replies had been received by the Board up to Friday. Riverside Township stated it would take action when the agreement which had been given to the Public Service covering this point is returned.

Beverly City did not want the tracks removed on Warren street, and objected to the county paying any part of the cost when they are removed.

Delran township merely stated that the request had been received and filed.

Bordentown township advised the Board that a satisfactory agreement had been made with the Public Service to remove its tracks when requsted to do so.

The following bills of the various departments of the county were ordered paid: Finance, $49,823.53; roads, $23,892.00; bridges, $2924.10; buildings $14,886.46; public affairs. $14,020.39; making a total of $105,556.54.

On P. T. A. Program

REV. H. FORD CARR

ADALINE EDSON

The Rev. Mr. Carr will be the speaker at Tuesday's meeting of the Palmyra Parent-Teacher Association to be held in the high school building. Miss Edson will be one of the artists of the evening. She is a resident of Philadelphia and a graduate of the Emilie Krider Norris School of Expression and Dramatic Art.

SCOUT TROOP'S FALL PROGRAM

Many Varied and Interesting Points to be Part of Schedule

The fall program of scouting for the Riverton Troop, Boy Scouts, is now in full swing. Week before last a meeting was held at which no scouts were admitted but only boys who were interested in finding just what scouting represented. Over a dozen boys attended this meeting and from these boys several recruits joined the troop, two of the boys attending this meeting came already prepared to take the tenderfoot examination.

At the meeting last Friday night the troop was organized into six patrols, three of which are in the Blue Platoon and three in the Gray. The Blue Platoon is commanded by Senior Patrol Leader Edward Hunn and consists of the Wild Board Patrol under Patrol Leader Newt Hunn; the Panther Patrol under Patrol Leader Geiss and the Stag Patrol under Patrol Leader Siddall. The Grey Platoon is commanded by Senior Patrol Leader Naisby and consists of the Cobra Patrol under Patrol Leader Tom Coe; the Eagle Patrol under Patrol Leader Gladney and the Moose Patrol under Patrol Leader Unland.

During the scouting year a contest will be held within the troop. A committee consisting of Assistant Scoumasters Washington and Windhovel met last week and drew up a point system which is to be used in figuring this contest. Every phase of scouting activity is taken in consideration. At the end of the season the senior patrol leader of the platoon which has the high score will receive a worthwhile prize. The best patrol in the troop will receive a prize as well as the leader of the best patrol. Scoutmaster Garwood and Assistant Scoutmaster Washington also met last week to formulate a simple set of rules for the regulation of the troop headquarters.

There are still vacancies in the troop. This condition will not prevail very long and any boy who wants to be a scout in Riverton should get on the job as soon as possible.

The friends of the troop have been most generous in providing furniture for the troop headquarters. The troop is still in need, however, of floor coverings, tables and chairs or benches. Any donations along these lines will be most acceptable.

RIVERTON SCHOOL NEWS

The school will soon have its own paper which will be entirely the pupils' work. The printers are Olive Jones and Annie Glud, both from the eighth grade, who will operate the ditto machine.

The editor-in-chief is Clifton Mayfield and the assistant editor is Charles Bader. Helen Smith and James Webb are art editors. Katherine Schneider is the business manager. The staff of reporters consists of Benjamin Ray, Alice Williams, Robert Hullings, Richard Barclay, Harold Baker, Annie Glud, James Webb, Dudley King, Wetona Barker, Elsie Showell, Virginia Nichols and Doris Vaughan. The first paper will come out October 21.

Last Friday was Teachers' Institute and Monday was Columbus Day so we had a real holiday.

Miss Rothbart's class and Miss Evaul's class have taken nature study walks and Miss Rothbart's class has a fine collection of seeds which they found. They have read stories and drawn pictures of the seeds.

Miss Justice's class have become air-minded and are building a large two-seated airplane from boxes. They are also cutting airplanes out of stiff paper, having read about them in their little newspaper.

The Student Council has elected traffic officers. They are Charles Baker, Harold Baker, Robert Guest, Winfield Wilson, Olive Jones, Elsie Showell and Doris Steedle, who will patrol the stairs before and after school.

The girls' hockey and the boys' soccer are progressing.

The baseball team mentioned last week won the game which they played with Westfield by a score of 19 to 5. There is not a regular school football team but many of the boys play.

As time passes we hope to have many other activities to report.

CINNAMINSON P. T. A.

Don't forget Father's Night at the P.T.A. meeting in Cinnaminson School No. 2, Friday evening, October 16, at 8 p. m.

The speaker, Albert S. Rowland, superintendent of Schools in Cheltenham Township, Pa., is recommended as most interesting, and his subject, "The Parent Faces a New World," should be well worthwhile. During the meeting some of our interested friends have promised to provide good music.

Come and help make the meeting a success. Buses will stop as usual for those wishing transportation.

The County Council meets at Juliustown, Wednesday, the 21st. Those who wish to attend, please send names to the school by the 19th.

Grade No. 2 is studying Farm Life. A barn, packing-house, flower garden and barnyard, where animals domestic and otherwise, seem to live in perfect harmony, are well under way.

The third grade, chaperoned by Miss Thomas, visited Riverton last week, seeing the stores, post office, and bank. These little ones are being trained to see things of interest everywhere.

A communication was received from the Board of Freeholders stating that the board contemplated widening and improving the River road from Palmyra to Bordentown, and asking the borough to secure from the Public Service Coordinated Transport an agreement covering the removal of its tolley tracks in Riverton. The matter was referred to the mayor for action.

WRITER WANTS TO DESTROY 'ANGELS'

Aims To Eliminate "Perfect" Characters in Children's Books

The following interesting article on childrens books, from the pen of Mrs. N. Myers Fitler, a former resident of Riverton, appeared in last Sunday's Public Ledger.

Dotti, Dimple, Flaxie Frizzle, the tear-compelling Elsie Dinsmore and all their kith and kin have been doomed to crumble in the literary dust heap by the vital, warm, human youngsters created by Mary Biddle Fitler.

When Mary Biddle Fitler isn't writing best sellers she, as the wife of N. Myers Fitler, helps direct her household of four children in Wynnewood.

In answer to questions about her books, Mrs. Fitler smiled.

"In the first place, I have known children intimately and it seemed high time that boys and girls were given a break in the books we adults foist on them. Children are real, human little beings and not the monstrosities of virtue that some writers would have us believe. You see, through the childhood of my own children, I had felt pretty strongly that they were receiving false ideas about living from many of the books they read."

Finds the Trouble

"But surely books for children glorified the good and the true.?

"But that's just the trouble," said Mrs. Fitler.

"An adult sits down to write a child's book and immediately grows solemn before the terrific responsibility of glorifying something. Even today that is true. Writers hang a story, often a perfectly impossible story, on a moral or ideal and then are so busy fitting their characters into a preconceived mold that their characters can never be anything but painted little marionettes."

"But don't children need ideals fed to them in some such sugar coating?"

"The old days, when doctors gave sugar pills to their little patients, are over," replied Mrs. Fitler. "I don't know why so many adults act on the assumption that children are little morons who can't understand a plain statement of fact."

Explains Character

"I have found that children's ideals and purposes are much less exalted than their fictioneers would have us believe. They are far closer to life than adults will give them credit for. Take my Anna Mary, for instance. An adolescent girl finds that she wishes boys to pay her attention. If she, like Anna Mary, is obsessed with her own shyness and if the cruel heedlessness of her contemporaries forces the knowledge upon her that she is only tolerated, she will do everything in her power to turn what attractiveness and charm she has to good account, won't she?

"That was Anna Mary's ideal from 13 to 18 and that is the purpose of most every girl of that age. I do not say that boys are the sole object of a girl's life, but that they are a very real one most honest parents will admit.

"That is what I try to do in my fiction—show the everyday problems of youngsters with happy, healthy, normal cravings and desires. I am not interested in the far-away, self-created problems of the children who are confused by the very books that I deplore into striking attitudes which exhibit their highmindedness. I would like every child who reads my books to say with a touch of wonder: "Well, here is a boy or girl just like me!"

The Age and the Girl

"But your 'Anna Mary' is laid in the nineties. Will girls of today recognize themselves in her?"

"That brings me to something I profoundly believe to be true," replied Mrs. Fitler. "Human nature does not change. Girls of today have a different surface attitude, forced upon them by the speed and madness of the age, but underneath their hardboiled flippancy I find the same sensitive impulses common to girls of all ages."

"You do not think, then, that the younger generation is on its way to the dogs?"

"Never! Girls and boys of today are as well mannered as in any age. They are more honest with themselves and with us. We, as parents, must earn their respect and loyalty by telling them the truth, not by requiring blind worship simply because we are their parents.

"Here in our home everything is argued out. My children may not agree with me, nor I with them, but we respect each other's opinions and manage to thrash about until we come to some solution of the problems."

Attitude Toward Children

"What is your recipe for a happy relationship between parents and children?"

Mrs. Fitler considered. "To look at children as individuals," she said, "not as clay to be molded by a parental potter, to laugh with and understand their difficulties and always to remember that, although human nature does not change, manners and customs will, and so each generation takes its problems from the color of the times."

YOUNG FOLK WILL DINE AND DANCE

Ex-Governor E. C. Stokes Will Address Young Republicans Tomorrow Evening

Tomorrow evening a dinner dance will be held at Log Cabin Lodge, Medford Lakes, for the Young Republicans of New Jersey.

The dinner will be served at seven o'clock and a brief address by Ex-Governor E. C. Stokes will follow. Governor Stokes will be the only speaker of the evening and he will speak to the young folk in a very interesting and entertaining manner for about twenty minutes.

Music for dancing will be furnished by Harry Gsell's Varsity Crew Orchestra, of Mount Holly. This orchestra is one of the best known and most popular in the county.

Those who do not care for dancing may play such games as cards, pool and ping pong. Valuable prizes will be offered for card playing and dancing.

The event is in charge of the following committee: Palmer L. Adams, of Palmyra, chairman; Miss Berna Dette Gsell, of Mount Holly; Miss Myrtle E. Cramer, of Maple Shade; F. H. Dumfee, of Chatsworth and Howard T. Severns, of Burlington.

Accerding to Mr. Adams, there has been a tremendous demand for invitations, but the supply was exhausted the early part of last week. The invitation is not transferable, admits only one and must be presented at the door for admission. Dress is optional.

This Young Republican movement has only recently been started in Burlington county and is being sponsored all over the United States by the Republican National Committee. This organization plans to give other affairs similar to the dinner dance, in the future.

About three hundred persons are expected to attend tomorrow evening's affair, which is expected to be one of the most elaborate of its kind given in the county in many years.

PUBLIC SERVICE TAKES OVER BROWNS MILLS, RIVERSIDE BUS LINES

Public Service Interstate Transportation Company has taken over the Brown's Mills and Riverside routes from Philadelphia following the transfer of municipal consents by the Pennsylvania Transit Company. Public Service will operate four buses between Philadelphia, Camden and Brown's Mills.

The sale of equipment has been approved by the State Board of Public Utility Commissioners.

Approval was also granted for the transfer of municipal consents from B. J. Maguire, Inc., for operation of four buses on the Riverside-Camden, Philadelphia route, and sale of the bus equipment to the Public Service Transportation Company.

No change of fare was requested.

A Republican Lawyer's Auxiliary Committee for South Hudson has been organized in Jersey City with Judge August Ziegener, chairman, and Henry Rey, secretary.

HEADS COMMITTEE

PALMER L. ADAMS

Who will be toastmaster at the dinner dance to be given the Young Republicans of New Jersey at Log Cabin Lodge, Medford Lakes, tomorrow evening. Mr. Adams is a resident of Palmyra and a former Burlingtonian.

WESTFIELD FRIENDS SCHOOL NOTES

On Tuesday morning the children in Miss Perkins' and Miss Bennett's room went by auto to the Central Airport, Camden, N. J. The first thing we saw on top of the hangar was a "sock". All airplanes must take off toward the small end of the instrument. Miss Powell who was showing us through the airport, then told with what the wings were covered. Then she lifted us up on the "catwalk" so we could look in an Auto-giro. We then went through the repair room and saw a man mending wings and covering another wing. Then we went to see an airplane that had won a lot of races. Then we went in an airplane and took a "play ride". We saw the air line on the wings. Miss Powell put a real parachute on Richard and showed us how to open it. We saw a tri-motor plane land and then we went home.

Dr. McConaughy came to us on Monday, October 5 and stayed to speak to our parents and friends after school. There was a good attendance at the meeting and every home but one from the kindergarten class was represented. 11 of the 23 homes in the primary group, 14 of the 18 homes in the third and fourth group, and 14 of the 18 homes in the fifth and sixth grades. Dr. McConaughy comes again on Monday, October 19 and will speak to the parents at 2:30. Each girl and boy is going to try to have their home represented.

Friday morning, Mrs. King from Breyer's Ice Cream Company came to school and showed us some very interesting moving pictures of how ice cream was made, how bananas are gathered, how vanilla beans and Cacao beans are used. Among our visitors during this time were: Gene Stover, Olivia Steiner, Bobby Flower, John Rogers, Frederic Steiner, Benny Clark and Richard Wilson. We were very glad to have them and hope they will visit us again soon.

M'CROSSON TELLS LEGIONNAIRES OF PLANS FOR YEAR

Aims To Relieve Unemployment During Term As State Commander

WANTS TO COMPLETE LAKEHURST MEMORIAL

Explains Service Work For Disabled Veterans Throughout New Jersey

Three important issues were discussed by W. Rex McCrosson, state commander of the American Legion, and former commander of the Frederick M. Rodgers Post, of Palmyra, at a recent meeting of the Burlington County Executive Committee of the Legion, held in Burlington.

McCrosson, who was introduced formally by County Commander Frank B. Hallowell, of Maple Shade, said his three main objectives were to relieve unemployment, render every possible service to disabled veterans and their dependents, and to promote the erection of the Lakehurst Legion Memorial Chapel.

The newly elected state commander told his fellow veterans that he is planning full co-operation with the state committee for unemployment. In taking this stand, he is working out the plan of the retired state commander, Theodore Crichton, who is a member of the committee.

The service to disabled veterans is merely carrying out one of the purposes for which the legion was organized McCrosson said. This stand was one of the main principals on which the organization was founded and he is anxious to have the New Jersey veterans, not only doing their share in aiding their "Buddies," but also receiving the attention due those who were maimed during the war.

He declared he would like to see all New Jersey veterans hospitalized in this state. He announced that up to Thursday of last week a large number of beds had been obtained in the League Island Naval Hospital, and in the Brooklyn Naval Yard hospital for the veterans. This procuring beds had been the result chiefly of the efforts of Samuel B. Gaskill, in charge of hospitalization for this state.

A big decrease in the estimated cost of the Lakehurst Memorial had resulted from the drop in the cost of labor and building material. The plans for the memorial, he said, would remain unchanged, although the cost would be considerably below $600,000, the amount originally thought to be necessary for its construction. McCrosson declared he would use every effort possible to have the edifice completed during the time he was in office.

At the meeting a new county commander was chosen to succeed Hallowell. Captain John Thornburg, of Mount Holly, was elected to the post, while Raymond Wells, of Riverside, was chosen vice-commander. The new county officer is Carence Kashner, of Florence. Plans were laid for the installation of these officers on November 13, at the Burlington Memorial Hall.

YW MUSIC GROUP PLANS ACTIVITIES

Mrs. William Grobler and Committee Working on Three Projects

The Music Committee of the Burlington County Y. W. C. A. met on Thursday evening of last week at the home of Mrs. William Grobler, of Moorestown, the chairman of the committee.

Music has always been very much a part of all of the work of the association in the county and the committee is at work this year on three definite projects.

The first of these is the organization of a song leaders group, made up of one girl from each club. This group will meet under the direction of Mrs. Grobler for learning methods of song leading as well as new association songs.

The second interest of the committee will be the sponsoring of a song book-making project with each group making its own song books. These are to be completed by February 1, when they are to be on display and a prize awarded to the group which has the most satisfactory collection of books.

The spring music festival will again be held sometime during music week in May. Definite plans are not yet worked out for this event.

The music committee has a group of song leaders who will be available for leading singing at various association meetings. Members of the committee and the song leaders include Mrs. F. Wallis Armstrong and Mrs. Daniel Des Foldes, of Moorestown; Mrs. Clarence Davenport, of Mount Holly; Mrs. James Boughton, of Delanco; Miss Lillian Hoffner and Miss Reba Troxell, of Burlington; Miss Nellie VanSciver, of Beverly; Miss Marguerite Lace, of Moorestown and Mrs. Grobler.

Y. W. C. A. Club Notes

The Moorestown Blue Triangle Club held its first fall meeting on Wednesday evening of last week at the Y. W. C. A. on Church street, at nine o'clock. Games and recreation were much enjoyed part of the meeting. At the business session Charlotte Roberts, the president, asked to be released from her duties for several months. Miss Carrie Perkins was selected to fill this vacancy. Isabella Loper was chosen chairman of music for the club. A discussion of the International Disarmament Conference which will meet in Geneva in February was given by Sidonie Schaefer, of the County Y. W. C. A., and a petition addressed to the conference asking for a bold reduction of armaments was signed by the girls.

The Mount Holly business girls are beginning their swimming classes at the Moorestown Community House on Wednesday of this week. Many girls are enrolling for the classes. Others who wish to do so should register at the County Y. W. C. A. office in Mount Holly.

DEMOCRATIC GOVERNOR PRAISES HOOVER PLAN

There was a great deal of significance in the enthusiastic way in which the public, including the politicians and statesmen, as well as the financiers, greeted the announcement of President Hoover's national economic plan.

It has been generally recognized and admitted that if the world is to get out of its depression, the start must be made in the United States. And it is generally being conceded that the President's plan for restoring banking confidence, is the first step. It has been approved by financiers and by congressional leaders, regardless of their political convictions. One statement of support came from no less a source than Governor Ritchie, of Maryland, himself a candidate for the Democratic nomination for President in 1932. In a speech at Camden, New Jersey, the other day, the Maryland chief executive said:

"I can think of no more desirable step in relieving the current period of industrial depression than that of making the frozen assets of our banks liquid through the proposed half-billion-dollar corporation.

"I believe that we should follow and cooperate with President Hoover in working out this plan. It should be a great boon to the entire country and especially to the rural districts."

STATE TURKEY GROUP NAMES MARLTON MAN AS ITS VICE-PRESIDENT

Interest in turkey raising has grown so rapidly during the last two or three years that it was felt an organization should be formed of the turkey producers of the state. On Saturday, October 10, such an organization was formed and Samuel Lippincott, of Marlton, one of the largest turkey raisers of the state, was elected vice-president.

Mrs. Raymond Donges, of Pemberton, was also honored by being elected to the executive committee of this association.

The organization of this society was part of the Annual Turkey Day tour and program.

SIX PASSENGERS ESCAPE INJURIES AS AUTOS CRASH

When the automobiles driven by Benjamin Lucas, of Hammonton and Sheppard McHenry, of Millville, collided on Route 29, near Indian Mills, Thursday of last week, Lucas' car turned over and burned up. The six passengers escaped injuries. The case was heard before Recorder Joseph C. Kingdon in Mount Holly Thursday night, and McHenry was fined $15 and costs on a reckless driving charge. He gave notice that he would take out an appeal.

WORK BEGINS AT NEW CEMETERY

Operations at Lakeview Memorial Park Will Provide Jobs for Unemployed

Work on the development of Lakeview Memorial Park on the Burlington Pike almost directly in a line with the entrance to the Palmyra-Tacony Bridge is to start at once and will give employment to quite a group of men, it was announced yesterday. The directors yesterday awarded contracts to the M. Y. Neely Construction Co., to complete the entrance way drive and to the same company a contract to develop what will be known as "Block 3". This will be in the form of a beautiful portal garden with flagstone walks with underground springler system that will operate to keep green the lawn that will cover it.

A contract was awarded to the John Albrecht Co. to completely landscape this block. This will include 10 flower beds, with 150 evergreens. Japanese cherry trees will provide the shade. While a burial park, it is planned to make Lakeview one of the most beautiful botanical gardens in the state. Contracts were also awarded for modernizing the present building which, until the completion of the modern building later to be erected, will be used for the Memorial Park offices on the grounds. The main offices are in the Broadway-Stevens building.

The award of these contracts start the development work planned to make Lakeview one of the most beautiful memorial parks in the country. Plans call for carrying on the work throughout the entire winter. The park will not have any monuments or stones. Graves will be designated by bronze markers set flush with the turf. The memorial park is being built by a group of prominent Camden business and professional men with Francis B. Wallen, president, and Loyal D. Odhner, secretary-treasurer.

RECALLS LAND OFFER

Mount Holly Man Will Not Give School Site

The John D. Johnson property on High street, Mount Holly, which has been offered the town for community purposes, will not be donated to the Board of Education for school purposes, according to Mr. Johnson's decision Wednesday night of last week. Mr. Johnson said he would sell the property for school purposes for the value of the land.

A citizen's committee, composed of Norman W. Harker, Dr. Walters, has been investigating the uses to which the property has been put, met with Johnson and informed him that the heavy expense of upkeep prevents acceptance of the offer.

RAILROADS OF N. J. PAY $9,000 TAX FOR EACH MILE OF RAILS

J. G. Hostutler, secretary, organization service department, New Jersey Taxpayers Association, with offices in Trenton, was the speaker at last week's luncheon of Moorestown Rotary Club, held in the Community House Thursday at noon.

The speaker traced the rising costs of government over a period of thirty years, declaring the operating costs all federal, state, county and municipal forms of government in this country today is estimated at $40,000,000 a day. The cost in 1928, according to statistics, was $36,000,000.

The common cry "taxes are too high" is all wrong, asserted Mr. Hostutler. "It is the cost of government that is too high. Taxes aren't high enough to meet the costs now," he declared. Operating expenses must be cut down before taxes will ever be any lower, he told the Rotarians.

Indirect taxation was rapped by the speaker. It is the public that ultimately pays the bill, he pointed out, so when indirect taxes go up, the money must come out of the public's pocketbook.

He pointed to the railroad tax as a form of indirect taxation. The public pays that, he said, for when railroad costs soar, up goes the rates. While New Jersey has but only one per cent. of the rails in the country, it collects five per cent. of the railroad tax realized in the United States. Railroads of New Jersey pay a tax of approximately $9,000 for every mile of rails in the state.

Farron — Roberts

The marriage of Miss Rebecca Coles Roberts, daughter of Mrs. Joseph E. Roberts, of Stanwick road, Moorestown, and J. Maurice Farron of Kelton, Pa., was solemnized on Saturday, October 10, at 11 o'clock, in the Washington Memorial Chapel, Valley Forge, Pa. The Rev. W. Herbert Burk, pastor, officiated.

The bride wore a beautiful gown of orchid net and tulle. Her arm bouquet was of white roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Edith K. Roberts, sister of the bride, attended as maid of honor. Her attractive frock was light blue in color and was trimmed in silver. She carried a bouquet of old-fashioned flowers.

The bride is a graduate of George School, as is the bridegroom, who is also a graduate of Kennett Square High School.

Mr. Farron and his bride will be at home after November 1, at 144 Prospect avenue, West Grove, Pa.

DAVID BAIRD SEEN WOMEN'S CHOICE

Mrs. Terry Sees Her Sex Benefitted By Candidate's Election

The thousands of New Jersey women who are interested in welfare work will find in David Baird, Jr., Republican candidate for governor, their able champion, according to Mrs. Elizabeth G. Terry, of Edgewater Park, Republican state committeewoman from Burlington county.

Mrs. Terry, speaking today of the candidacy of the Republican standard bearer, said his election would benefit women because of his interest in their future policies.

"Women, more than men, are interested in welfare work," Mrs. Terry said. "Women find that the sentimental side of their nature warms to such charitable interests. Most men either ignore such work or give it but a lukewarm approval.

"I believe Senator Baird is one of the few men prominent in New Jersey who has ever given great consideration to welfare work. He was instrumental in obtaining passage of the Old Age Pension Bill. He has frequently given his support to other measures which will benefit widows and orphans.

"It is rare to find a man as busy as Mr. Baird who has time to devote to welfare work, or consideration of public charity. Any perusal of his record will show that he does have an intense interest in assisting the impoverished or afflicted, the widowed or the orphaned."

Mrs. Terry declared that she expected the women of the state to heartily support the Republican candidate because he is also interested in their future in government.

"When a delegation of women met with Mr. Baird recently and demanded recognition from the state," Mrs. Terry continued, "he promised them he would give them every consideration. The Republican party is the only one which has shown any degree of respect for women or their political judgment. It is the only party in which women are numbered among the leaders.

"The Democrats have consistently refused to acknowledge women. The policies of that party in New Jersey are directed solely by a man, Mayor Frank Hague, of Newark. There is no room for women in the Democratic dictatorship, and I believe those of my sex in New Jersey will show their appreciation for the recognition the Republicans have given them by working and voting for David Baird, Jr., for governor."

PALMYRA MAN HURT IN FAIRVIEW MISHAP

John Tait, of Leroney avenue, Palmyra, is recuperating this week from bruises of the right hip and face received last Wednesday night, when the automobile in which he was a passenger collided with a car at the Black Horse Pike and Olympic avenue, Fairview.

Tait was a passenger in the car driven by Caleb R. Morton, of Washington street, Riverside. The driver of the second car was Carl W. Ball, of Eldridge avenue, Collingswood.

Ball took the injured man to the West Jersey Homeopathic Hospital, Camden. After receiving treatment at that institution Tait was allowed to return to his home.

Neither driver was injured, but both were summoned to the accident bureau for statements. No arrests were made.

ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. Collins B. Rogers, of Colonial Ridge, Moorestown, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Dorothy Rogers, to H. Kelsey Partridge, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey K. Partridge, of Greenleigh Court, Merchantville.

KEEPING FAITH WITH THE BANKS

The news that "the bank has failed" has swept through hundreds of towns and cities within the past year and the people of these communities have been fairly crushed by these financial tragedies.

Most of these banks were normally—and morally solvent. In financing their customers and communities the bankers had loaned money on securities that they have not been able to rediscount, or borrow on for more than two years. When the published reports of the banks showed a decrease in deposits, the bankers found that their customers increased their withdrawals. The result was that, after awhile, these banks were compelled to close. The closing of every bank has brought disaster to the community in which it was located.

The Hoover $500,000,000 banking plan simply means that the banks of the country will be able to borrow from the huge financial organization on their real estate mortgages, bonds and other securities, that have become "frozen assets." These securities are perfectly good. The bankers accepted them in "good times" to help finance the industries and business institutions of their cities.

The banker on the brink of failure because his bank may have—say $25,000 worth of such paper—is to be given the opportunity to get the cash from the big national institution by turning over these securities.

That's keeping faith with the banks. It is in substance, the Hoover plan which will make between three and four billion dollars of new credit available to American bankers.

That's real "relief"—in Washington it is regarded as the biggest thing that has happened.

SENATE TRAINING WELL FITS BAIRD

Knowledge of National Affairs Big Asset, Declares, Freeholder Stout

New Jersey, to correctly play its part in national affairs, should have a man as governor who understands and appreciates these problems.

His knowledge of national affairs in one of the reasons why Freeholder Charles R. Stout, chairman of the Burlington County Republican Committee and one of the county leaders, believes David Baird, Jr., should be elected governor in the general election.

"As a member of the United States Senate," said Freeholder Stout, "Mr. Baird formed an accurate conception of the public problems which the country faces today. New Jersey must play her part in solving those problems. It will take a man like Mr. Baird for governor if New Jersey would fulfill her destiny as one of the most important states in the union.

Baird Can Lead Battle

"That knowledge which he gained as United States Senator will also be of the greatest value to Mr. Baird when he becomes governor in solving the intra state problems. New Jersey, as well as the entire world, will face an up hill fight back to normalcy, and Mr. Baird is the man who can successfully lead that battle for this state."

Freeholder Stout declared that the Republican candidate for governor is entirely honest, entirely sincere, and is unselfish in his desire to give the state the benefit of his knowledge in fighting off the strangelhold of hysteria which threatens the entire world.

"Mr. Baird is primarily a business man," the freeholder declared. "He looks at matters from a business viewpoint. If something is suggested which is 'good business' for New Jersey Mr. Baird accepts it.

"If it is not a businesslike proposal, if it will not benefit the state, if it is a question of mere politics rather than effective administration, Mr. Baird has and will always refuse to consider such overture. We need a businessman for governor more now than at any time in our history.

Baird's Background

"Mr. Baird comes from a fine family. He has a background which will enable him to raise to great heights in this country. His education is excellent. He is the ideal candidate for the office.

"Burlington county should, and I believe will, give Mr. Baird a substantial majority in the campaign. The residents of this county realize that he was born in a neighboring one, and that he knows our problems as well as he knows those of Camden county.

"The Republican standard-bearer knows the needs of all classes of people in the state. He has made a study of the subject. He understands South Jersey's requirements, and knows what North Jersey wants. He will test them, not in the crucible of politics, but in that of business. New Jersey can expect a forceful, economic government under the leadership of David Baird, Jr."

NEEDLEWORK GUILD MEMBERSHIP WEEK

Miss Anckor Will Be Main Speaker at Annual Meeting

This week, October 12 to 17, is a Needlework Guild Annual Membership Week, observed wherever there are branches of this vitally helpful organization. In our local branch it is being marked by an effort to focus the attention of every member on the forthcoming Annual Meeting, which will be held in Christ Church Parish House, Wednesday, October 28. This meeting, which will include the annual election, transaction of routine business, and the display of garments donated by members for distribution among the needy, will be addressed by Miss Anckor, of Burlington County Hospital, who, from her first-hand knowledge of social and economic conditions, will bring a message of unusual importance and interest.

It is surely unnecessary to stress the need for the work which the Needlework Guild does among hundreds of poor and needy every year. And this year, when the needs will manifestly be greater than ever, the Guild has a proportionately great mission to fill. Warm new clothing for little children and dependent old people; simple, practical layettes for new babies whose mothers are totally unable to make provision for their coming. Supplies of sheets, towels, bedding, for homes and hospitals where these necessaries are urgently needed for those requiring medical care but are unable to pay for it.

Rivertonians know all these things—know them so well, perhaps, that sometimes they sound like such an old story they're no longer listened to very attentively. That is the "why" of Annual Membership Week. To stimulate the interest of old members and bring in new ones.

October 26th will be the last all-day sewing day of the Guild before the Annual Meeting. It will be held, as usual, in the Porch Club, and those in charge are anxious that there may be a large attendance, to complete as many garments as possible before the Annual Meeting on the following Wednesday.

119 DRIVERS' LICENSES REVOKED BY HOFFMAN

The licenses of 119 motorists were revoked Thursday of last week by Harold G. Hoffman, state motor vehicle commissioner. Sixty-four of the drivers were deprived of their licenses on charges of intoxication. Fourteen of the total number of drivers are non-residents. Eight lost their licenses for alleged manslaughter in accidents; 24 for reckless driving; nine for failure to appear at hearings and 14 for miscellaneous offenses.

The petty troubles of our friends amuse us, when the same things happen to us they seem mighty serious.

VACCINATED FOR FUN

One evening last week a number of young people, while sitting on the Lawn House porch, found time dragging somewhat heavily, and having exhausted nearly every known amusement, sighed for new worlds to conquer in the way of fun. Various propositions were made, among them that they should get up a vaccination party—that is they should all go and get vaccinated. One said, "I will, if you will." Another, "I dare you." The result was that a party of eight was made up, four ladies and four gentlemen, and notwithstanding the hour was after physician's hours they made a raid on a doctor on Lippincott avenue and had their fun of being vaccinated. The sequel is that there are eight very sore arms in Riverton.

TRUCKS IN CRASH ON KINGS HIGHWAY

Drivers Hurled From Machines As Two Commercial Vehicles Collide

The drivers of two Moorestown trucks were thrown from their vehicles as they crashed at the intersection of Kings Highway and Pleasant Valley avenue late Tuesday afternoon.

The drivers were Horace Juliana, 19 years old, of Mill street, employed by Wolf's Quality Store and Clifford Rhoads, colored, 29 years old, North Church street, who was operating a farm truck.

Both motorists were stunned. Along with William Wilkins, 15 years old, of West Second street, who was riding with Juliana, they were treated for minor injuries at the office of Dr. Howard C. Curtis.

The accident occurred when the Wolf truck, going east on Kings Highway was struck broadside by the machine operated by Rhoades. The Rhoades truck, going south on Pleasant Valley avenue, a stop street, overturned after the crash. Wolf's truck was driven by the force of the impact, more than 150 feet from the point it was struck. Both machines were badly damaged.

No arrests had been made up to Tuesday night.

Two women were treated for injuries at Burlington County Hospital. Mount Holly, after a coupe in which they were riding struck a pole near Albert Roberts' home, west of the tunnel, on Mount Holly pike at 9:50 Sunday morning. The women, who were Sue M. Smith, 4828 North Broad street, driver and Pearl Whitley, 7118 Germantown avenue, both of Philadelphia, were rushed to the hospital by Mr. Roberts. The coupe was considerably damaged.

VERY LATESTS

By MARY MARSHALL

With one-piece dresses, with transparent dresses, slips are by far better than petticoats. With jacket suits and with many opaque dresses petticoats are more convenient. So now we take our choice.

There are taffeta petticoats. Sometimes these are attached parts of the dresses they are worn with. They are trimmed with scallops and with embroidery and sometimes with tiny frills and pleatings.

But the newer silhouette makes crepe de chine the admirable fabric for petticoats. It is soft and supple and clinging, it washes so well, it comes in such lovely colors, that it combines many of the best qualifications for petticoats.

These new wash petticoats can be just as elaborate as you please, and quite as formal as petticoat of taffeta. They are edged with lace, sometimes, with lace insets for trimming. For more tailored wear they are finished with a scalloped, double hem.

The petticoat in the sketch is an easy one to make for yourself. It is made of four lengths of material.

The front length—as long as you wish the petticoat—is ten inches wide. The side lengths are eight inches at the bottom, and are slanted in at both seams so that they are four inches at the top. The back section is thirty inches wide at the bottom, twenty-two at the top. The four pieces are french seamed together, and the top is turned under in a half inch hem. A four-inch length of quarter-inch elastic is fastened in this top hem at the seams joining the front and sides, extending about six inches into the back. This brings the fullness at the sides and leaves the front and back smooth.

George A. Murray

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at two o'clock from the Snover Funeral Home for George A. Murray, 513 Leconey avenue, Palmyra. The Rev. George Lockett, pastor of the Central Baptist Church, officiated. Interment was made in Thompson's Memorial Cemetery, Lower Solebury, Pa.

Mr. Murray, who had been a resident of Palmyra for eighteen years, died at his home early Wednesday morning of last week following a long illness.

He was a very active member of the Central Baptist Church and had been an employe of the Pennsylvania Railroad for thirty-two years.

The deceased is survived by his widow, Mrs. Elizabeth S. Murray and two sons, A. Kenneth, of Riverton and Welland, of Palmyra. His sister, Mrs. Elber Whitelock, of Germantown, Pa., also survives him.

Thirty-five Republican meetings will be held in Monmouth County between now and election day.

MEN'S CLUB WILL HEAR TILLINGHAST

First Meeting of Season To Take Place Thursday Evening, October 22

The Palmyra and Riverton Men's Club will hold its first meeting of the season in the Y. M. C. A. building, Broad street and Garfield avenue, Palmyra, next Thursday evening, October 22, at eight o'clock.

Carlton Tillinghast of the State Regional Planning Commission will be the speaker of the occasion. Mr. Tillinghast was secured through the efforts of W. T. J. Purnell. He is very well known in this section for his ability as a speaker and every man in the community who does not avail himself of the opportunity to hear him is missing a real treat.

The music committee, which is in charge of Captain Sydney Albertson, has arranged an excellent program. Prof. Robert Hudack and some other well known musicians will entertain.

Clinton Gardiner, chairman of the membership, is asking for 100 per cent attendance at next Thursday's meeting. Members of the club are urged to bring along friends who might be interested in joining.

Herbert H. Parsons is chairman of the refreshment committee and everyone knows that means something good to eat.

According to William Carson, chairman of the program committee, some very delightful programs are being prepared for the meetings throughout the winter months.

BEVERLY RAYON MILL NOW BEING ENLARGED

Employment To be Given To 100 More Workers When Addition Is Completed

Joseph E. Hammell and Son, of Beverly, have been given the contract to erect a one-story brick building having a frontage of 110 feet on Broad street with a depth of 108 feet. The new structure will adjoin the present building which is jointly occupied by the Beaunit Company and the Century-Beverly Corporation.

The expansion of business made possible by the increased factory capacity will, it is stated, provide employment for about 100 more men. The contractors are planning to rush the work with all possible speed and it is expected to be completed in from 60 to 90 days.

The Beaunit Company, said to be one of the most important manufacturers and dyers of rayon cloth in the country, has its headquarters in New York, the Beverly plant having been moved from Allentown, Pa. a year or so ago. Frederick Frank, who lives in Delanco, is general manager of the Beverly plant. Operation of the knitting machines is continuous day and night, several shifts of men being employed.

Life is like street traffic. When you make a green flash everybody goes along with you. When you have to announce yourself in the red the whole procession stops.—The Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

ART NIGHT SERVICE PLANNED FOR M. E. CHURCH ON SUNDAY

An art night service will be held at the Epworth Methodist Episcopal Church Sunday evening. A copy of the famous painting "The Angelus", by Millet will be presented to each one present. It pictures a peasant and his wife standing in the attitude of prayer in the potato field at the hour of evening vespers.

About the picture there has been arranged a setting of appropriate music by the organ, the choir and the congregation. Mrs. Elwood Johnson and Miss Lydia Horton will sing as a soprano and contralto duet, "Sweet Hour of Prayer". The choir will sing the appropriate anthem "Day Is Dying In the West" by Camp, and as a prayer response, "Dear Lord and Father of Mankind".

At the keyboard, Mrs. Rachel Lord will play first, as a fitting approach to the service "Chanson Triste", by Tchaikowsky, and as an offertory, "The Bells of St. Mary", and the service will close with the chimes playing "Softly and Tenderly Jesus Is Calling".

BORO WILL AID NEEDY DURING COMING WINTER

Harry Saar, Overseer of Poor, Heads Committee For Unemployed

SHOES AND CLOTHING ARE MUCH NEEDED

Fourteen Interested Citizens Attend Meeting To Discuss Local Situation

At a meeting of prominent Palmyra citizens in the P. O. S. of A. Hall, Monday evening, Palmyra's unemployment situation and what to do about it, was taken up, in line with a discussion held at the last meeting of Palmyra Borough Council.

In his opening remarks Mayor George N. Wimer stated that this committee was being formed under the direction of Overseer of the Poor, Harry Saar, to take care of Palmyra's needy.

Those present at the meeting were: Harry J. Saar, Mayor George N. Wimer, Harry Karn, John Eichner, C. Nevin Buchholz, Floyd W. Spahr, George J. Spencer, Mrs. Evelyn Gibberson, Mrs. Elias Toy, Mrs. C. A. Hines.

Mrs. George Rivel, Mrs. Richard E. Wilson, Mrs. M. J. McDermott, and Miss Katherine Green.

Mr. Winter called on Mr. Buchholz as chairman of the finance committee, of the Borough Council, and asked if there might be any chance of placing some more funds in the hands of the overseer of the poor.

May Use Sewer Money

Mr. Buchholz stated there would probably be some money left in the sewer maintenance fund and mentioned the fact that some sewer beds would probably have to be laid in the near future. He suggested that the unemployed men in Palmyra be given this work to do, as it would have to be done some time soon.

All those present thought the idea a good one and it was decided to take the matter up in more detail to see what could be done.

Mr. Spahr of the Borough Street Department, who is also a member of council, said a few words about using surplus moneys for the benefit of the needy and unemployed this winter.

Miss Katherine Green, the school nurse, was present and asked whether or not it would be possible for members of churches to go to their respective churches for help. It was stated that in cases where the Borough could help and aid had to be given, the churches would be of great benefit.

Need Clothing

At the present time there is a great need for clothing and shoes especially for children, and it is expected that this need will become greater as the colder weather comes. Mrs. Toy, who is president of the Palmyra Parent-Teacher Association, suggested a notice be sent home with each school child, asking that child's parents for clothing and shoes which their own children had outgrown. This was considered a very good idea and will be taken up as soon as possible.

Mr. Saar, as overseer of the poor, is opening headquarters in Mr. Wimer's office, 15 East Broad street, Palmyra. Clothes and shoes may be left at the Palmyra Police Station at any time, or call Riverton 191 and the police will call for your contribution.

Ladies To Help

Mr. Wimer asked the ladies present if they would be willing to investigate and take care of needy cases and all agreed to do so. He then told them of his plan of a card system, whereby records might be kept of each case and its needs.

Mr. Spencer, Borough Clerk, very kindly offered to have the cards printed for the committee.

Mr. Buchholz and Mr. Spahr were appointed members of a finance committee to decide in what way the Borough could best transfer excess funds to the account of the Overseer of the Poor.

John Eichner, the truant officer, and Miss Green were asked to report any cases that came under their notice to the committee and to follow them up and keep in touch with the needs of the people.

The committee plans to use the room over the Birenbaum store at 13 East Broad street, for their store room this year.

PERFECT ATTENDANCE CAMPAIGN LAUNCHED BY PALMYRA ARTISANS

Nearly seventy-five members of Palmyra Artisan Assembly have been making calls among their fellow lodgemen, in order to have a one hundred per cent. attendance at the regular meeting next Tuesday night.

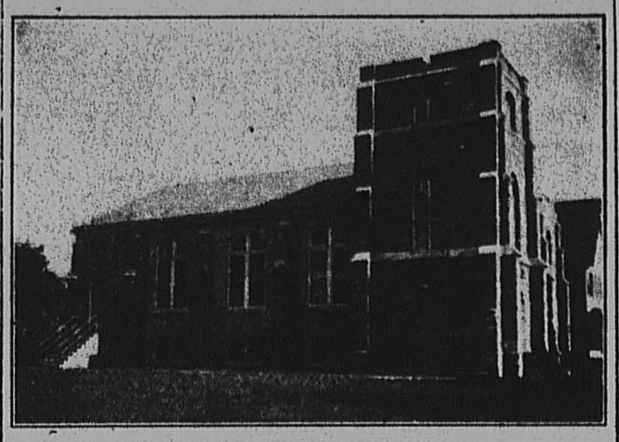
This program, together with a new membership drive, is a part of the campaign carried on throughout the entire order. A falling off in attendance has been noticed and the Pallodge is taking every step possible to arouse new interest and enthusiasm among its members.

Arthur P. Wright, of Cleveland avenue, as the assembly membership chairman, is heading the local campaign, and a corps of sub-leaders with definitely assigned calls to make, are working under his direction.

With increased attendance, the leaders of the assembly think it possible for many new members to be added, and are working with this end in view.

A speaker's bureau has been set up in the recently organized Republican Lawyers' Club at Elizabeth, under the direction of Frank Cohn.

Will Observe 10th Anniversary



FIRST LUTHERAN CHURCH

First Lutheran Church Commemorates Its Tenth Anniversary On Wednesday; Will Hold Services From Oct. 18 to 25

The celebration of the tenth anniversary of the founding of this church will be started next Sunday. The pastor will preach a sermon of appreciation for the fine work that has already been done and of inspiration for continued work and progress; the theme will be "The Vision that Brings Victory."

At the evening service a special treat will be offered to our members and friends in a "Musical Evening." The Lent Trio, consisting of Mr. Bowman Lent, violinist; Mr. Hugh Lewis, cellist, and Mrs. Grimsley, pianist, will render several numbers. There will also be a short address. We cordially invite all music lovers to enjoy this privilege with us, and to benefit by the spiritual power of the message of beauty in music.

The anniversary date itself will be next Wednesday, at which time Dr. C. G. Leatherman, of Hummelstown, Pa., president of the East Pennsylvania Synod, will deliver the anniversary sermon. To this, as well as to the "Community Night," next Thursday, and all the anniversary services, we invite our fellow disciples, to rejoice and to worship with us.

PARENTS OF MRS. W. D. LAMON CELEBRATE GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Henry G. March, Sr., of Philadelphia, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary at the home of their son-in-law and daughter Mr. and Mrs. Walter D. Lamon, of 406 Cleveland, Palmyra, Sunday.

The house was a very attractively decorated and a large cake with golden icing, on which stood a bride and groom, graced the center of the table. Mr. and Mrs. March were presented with a beautiful silver service by their children.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Henry G. March, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Henry G. March, Jr. and children, Henry, 3rd and Ruth; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Whistler, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. William Patrician and Mr. and Mrs. Walter D. Lamon and children, Walter D., Jr., Verna and Warren.

Mrs. March also celebrated her birthday at the same time.

MASKED DANCE FOR COMPASS CLUB OF PALMYRA-RIVERTON

As an opening of the season's social activities, officers and members of the Compass Club, of Palmyra and Riverton, are planning a dance for next week.

The dance, a masked nair, is expected to draw all the members of the organization, and the regular meeting room at the P. O. S. of A. Hall is expected to be filled.

Every member is permitted to invite two adult friends to the dance which has been planned for next Friday, October 23. A grand march will precede the actual dancing program, with prizes being awarded for fancy and novelty costumes. All participants in the march will be masked.

If nature had not made us a little frivolous we should be more wretched. It is because one can be frivolous that the majority do not hang themselves. It is sweet to be foolish on occasion.

Hague and Moore

Read the following editorial from the "Newark Sunday Call" of September 6th

Moore as a Candidate

A. Harry Moore, Democratic candidate for Governor, is an exceedingly pleasant and affable gentleman who can truthfully quote St. Paul, "I am all things to all men." He is equally at home in addressing a political club outing on Sunday afternoon and conducting a prayer meeting in the evening. Mr. Moore is now busy criticizing the state government, holding David Baird responsible for all the Republican party's sins of omission and commission, and promising wonders to perform in the way of reforms if elected Governor.

It is less than three short years since Mr. Moore retired from the office of Governor. He was elected after a campaign during which he was as profuse in his promises of what great things he would do for the dear people as he is in the present campaign. And yet who can recall any outstanding accomplishments for which Mr. Moore can rightfully claim credit during his entire term? He was a member of the old State House Commission so scathingly criticized and severely censured by the Abell Committee, and it is not recorded that he ever publicly protested against any of the much reprobated acts of the commission.

Mr. Moore strenuously insists that he is under no obligations to Mayor Hague and that if elected he will be his own man. But Mr. Moore can hardly deny that his nomination was a gift from Mayor Hague, and we would not accuse him of ingratitude. During his previous term Hague was understood to be the power behind the throne, and the Governor's numerous unfit appointments were charitably ascribed to Hague's influence. Indeed, Republican aspirants for positions that either by law or custom were awarded to members of that party deemed Hague's approval necessary to their success. We are forced to believe that Moore's election means the perpetuation of Hagueism and Brandleism.

All in all, the conviction deepens that the interests of the state and its people will best be served by the election of David Baird as Governor.

WIMER SPEAKS AT POSA DEDICATION

L. W. Reeves Also Makes Address at Opening Exercises of Delanco Hall

Palmyra organizations played a large part in the dedication of the new P. O. S. of A. Hall, at Delanco, last Saturday.

A big celebration was held in the town for the occasion, a parade marching through the principal streets in the afternoon, and an entertainment being held in the new hall during the evening.

The new home of Washington Camp No. 35, is located at Burlington Avenue and Holly streets, and formed the meeting place of Lodge members and officers from all over the state. The Bugle and Drum corps of Post Frederick M. Rodgers, American Legion, of Palmyra, together with the Mount Holly Community Band, furnished music for the parade.

One of the principal addresses was made by George N. Wimer of Palmyra, the state president of the P. O. S. of A. nearly forty years ago. Wimer, at the present time is a member of the Palmyra Camp, which was the lodge instrumental in the formation of the chapter in Delanco.

Leslie W. Reeves, present state vice-president of the order, was also included in the list of state officers who addressed the gathering. George Milden, of Bayonne, state president; Henry B. Wenegar, of Newark, state master of forms; Rev. Howard W. Amer, of Pennington, state chaplian; and George W. Smith, of Phillipsburg, state secretary, also spoke.

The officers of the Delanco lodge are:

Samuel Morrison, past president; William F. Bohnberger, president; G. Wesley Perkins, vice president; Joseph Gremminger, master of forms; T. R. Vennell, conductor; M. B. Robinson, recording secretary; William Carter, assistant recording secretary; William Leonard, financial secretary, and John A. Finertie, treasurer.

The Rev. Thomas A. Purcell, of Englewood has joined the Bureau of Public Speakers for the Republican Campaign, and will speak in behalf of the candidacy of David Baird, Jr., for Governor.

They still burn a lot of midnight oil, excepting that nowadays they burn most of it in the engine.

HEART ATTACK FATAL TO PALMYRA WOMAN

Heart disease took the life of Mrs. Elizabeth T. Meiler, 38 years old, of 104 LeConey Circle, Palmyra, at 6:30 o'clock last Thursday morning.

She is reported to have been ill throughout the night. It was a chronic case according to Coroner William P. Young, of Burlington.

The woman lived in Palmyra only a few months. Dr. Dean LeFavor was called but she died before the physician arrived.

The deceased is survived by her widower, Jacob P. Meiler, son, James, 14, and daughter Betty 11.

Funeral services were held from the late residence on Monday with the interment being made in a Philadelphia cemetery.

RIVERTON AND BURLINGTON TIE

Scoreless Games at Memorial Park; Riverton Loses Field Goal

In the first three quarters of the game Riverton made all of the first downs, while Burlington found the Riverton line too difficult to puncture.

In the third quarter Riverton worked to a position within about twenty yards of Burlington's goal. A drop kick was tried and it went straight for the bars but fell a few yards short of clearing it for a score.

Burlington rallied in the fourth quarter during the last few minutes of the game and by a series of end runs and off-tackle plays managed to clip off four first downs in succession. After this they had but thirty seconds left to play and Burlington attempted a forward pass as their last chance. This pass, like all other passes by either team during the game was grounded, and the game ended scoreless.

The weather was a little too hot for good football and the quarters were cut down to ten and twelve minutes.

The attendance at the game was seriously hampered by the competition offered by the last game of the world series.

The Burlington eleven outweighed the Riverton eleven completely, and although neither side scored, Riverton throughout the entire game outplayed Burlington.

P.H.S. WINS OVER CAMDEN CATHOLIC

Dillon Fay Falls On Fumble Back of Opponents' Goal Line

A last-minute touchdown in the final period enabled the Palmyra High School football warriors to trample the Camden Catholic gridders, 7-0, in a stubbornly fought contest at the Palmyra field last Saturday.

The only touchdown of the game came as a result of a "break," which Dillon Fay, Palmyra guard, was quick to seize. After waging a scoreless battle for three periods, the Pals crossed the goal line after Fay had recovered a fumble by Kelly, who allowed the ball to roll over his own goal line.

Both teams had missed earlier chances to score. The Palmyra opportunity came near the close of the second quarter. Lawrence Bradshaw, who played a sterling game at end for the Palmyra eleven, recovered Knowles' fumble on the Camdenites' 13-yard stripe. A nine-yard advance by Captain Norman Moffit brought the ball within four yards of the goal line, but the whistle of the timer kept the Pals from an almost certain score.

The "Irish" lost their chance in the third period when a punt from Earl Lenker's toe went out of bounds on the Palmyra 27-yard marker. An advance brought a first down on the 11-yard stripe, and a 9-yard run seemed to make a score a certainty.

A brilliant stand by the Palmyra line held the visitors on the next play and then a five-yard penalty was levied against the "Irish" who had been in action before the ball was snapped. Bradshaw accounted for a 15 yard loss when he tackled McFadden far behind the line of scrimmage, and the Irish relinquished the ball on downs.

Ivins, Camden fullback, was dropped in his tracks in the last minutes of the final quarter after he had caught a punt on his own eight-yard marker. On the next play, Kelly fumbled a bad pass from center and the ball rolled across the goal line. Fay broke through the scramble and fell on the ball in the end zone for a touchdown. A pass, Lenker to Reynolds, was good for the extra point. Only a few secods elapsed from the time of the next kickoff until the end of the game.

PALMYRA BIG RED TO PLAY AT HOME

Series of Seven Games At Local Field Starts This Saturday

Palmyra's Big Red squad will play a series of seven at-home engagements, beginning this Saturday. With the exception of November 7, the team will meet all opponents on the local high school field. This Saturday, the attraction will be the Laurel Springs A. A., a new club as yet undefeated.

Palmyra hopes to redeem the defeat sustained at the hands of the powerful Penns Grove Red Devils eleven last Sunday, score 32-0. While the loss of this game was disappointing, much was gained by the severe test. It proved the boys must know their plays if they hope to wage an offensive game. Burly Bill Reagle's and Fred Conway's absence from the line-up, due to the game being played on Sunday, also had its effect on the strength of the Big Red.

This Saturday's game will show a marked improvement in the line-up and smooth offense the team should display. Coach Thomas and the boys have ironed out many errors in the running of formations. Monday and Friday are definite practice nights on the high school grounds. There are still berths on the team for those wishing to play football, and it is hoped the boys with football experience who have thus far not turned out will report for practice this Friday evening.

Ed Parker of the Footpad team, showed his heels to his fellow bowlers who were after high scoring honors, by rolling the high game of 212.

The Buccaneers were the victims of two hard luck games. They lost one game in their match against the Criminals by a single pin, and another by a three-pin margin.

Burke set a new high mark for the Thursday night league when he fell but nine pins short of the alley record, by toppling 270 maples.

Last year's champion pirate aggregation remained undefeated this season by taking three games this week. The Corsair crowd was helped out considerably by the exploits of Chadbourne, whose average for the night was 200 pins per game.

AMERICAN LEAGUE (Friday)

	W	L	P.C.
Athletics	5	1	.833
Browns	4	2	.667
White Sox	3	3	.500
Yanks	3	3	.500
Tigers	3	3	.500
Indians	0	6	.000

Burke's two high games of 248 and 224 were important factors in the Tigers winning their first three games of the season, with the Yanks being the victims. The "fill-it-up" man took the high scoring honors of the evening, being hard pressed by Ed Goldberg, whose 207 in the final game nosed out the Yanks by a single pin.

The Athletics stayed in first place by winning two close games from last year's champion White Sox outfit.

WOMEN'S LEAGUE (Monday)

	W	L	P.C.
Luckies	5	1	.833
Chesterfields	4	2	.667
Fatimas	2	4	.333
Murads	1	5	.167

The Chesterfields and the Luckies proved to be the first teams this season to have enough power to take all three games from their opponents, the Murads and the Fatimas being the respective victims.

Mrs. Williams, of the Lucky Strikers, rolled the high game for the night aggregating 165 pins. Mrs. Haines, of the Chesterfield pack, proved to be a consistent bowler with scores of 122, 122 and 123.

By the time we've solved today's problems we'll have a new set.

PARRY ENDS SEASON WITH 20 VICTORIES

Each Member of Club Will Receive New Sweater At Final Club Meeting

Parry A. A. closed its baseball season by defeating Riverton making a total of 20 victories for the season.

In its list of victories Parry includes Moorestown and Riverton of the Burlington County League, Maple Shade, Woodland, Palmyra Artisans, and Point Pleasant.

Parry is quite proud of its victory over Point Pleasant, the strong seacoast town whose only defeat of the season was administered by Parry, even though Point Pleasant did beat them later with a score of 2 to 1.

Those on the Parry nine who especially destinguished themselves were, Emil Schroeder, who hit in twenty-six straight games for a batting average of 539, Jack Windish their star first baseman collected an average of 456 Bill Phelan who hit 369 was the outstanding outfielder.

Pitching honors goes to Schuck and Shreve Nelson who each pitched with everything they had in every game.

The Parry club will hold another meeting in which sweaters will be given to every member.

QUAKERS LOSE TO BORDENTOWN HIGH

Moorestown Grid Machine Overwhelmed By Aerial Attack, Score 20 to 0

Moorestown High School football team received its third setback this season on Friday afternoon, at Bordentown. For the first time in five years Bordentown defeated Moorestown, the score being 20-0.

The two teams battled to a scoreless deadlock in the first half, and throughout this period the game was played in Bordentown territory. Moorestown was within scoring ground six times in the first two period, although a minute before the half ended a Bordentown man intercepted a forward pass and ran nearly eighty yards before he was downed by Lockwood.

The first score of the game came at the beginning of the second half in the first play. Johnny McCoy, of Bordentown, threw to Craig Bedine, who successfully completed a sixty-five yard gain for a six pount. The kick was good. Near the end of the third quarter, after a succession of runs by McCoy, Lucas, of Bordentown, scored from the one-yard line. The kick was blocked.

The lineup:

Moorestown		Bordentown
C. Stemmetz	left end	Simpkins
E. Stemmetz	left tackle	Adams
M. Kobl	left guard	Valva
B. Salmon	center	W. McCoy
D. Repsher	right guard	Crammey
B. Ott	right tackle	Larson
Paulsen	right end	Thorn
Lockwood	quarterback	J. McCoy
Boyer	fullback	Szalva

Referee—Klinefelter, Lebanon Valley. Umpire—Barrett, Bordentown. Head Linesman—Deemer, Collingswood.

PALMYRA MAIDS IN WINNING FORM

Humble "Heighters" For Second League Victory, Then Defeat Temple

The girls' hockey team from Palmyra High School maintained an undefeated record by winning two games last week.

The first victory came over a member of the South Jersey Scholastic Hockey League last Wednesday afternoon. Haddon Heights the victim, was sent home reeling under a 5 to 1 defeat.

Two veteran players were responsible for all the scoring, most of which was done in the first half. Cecilia "Sis" Baker and Mary MacAnulty, who accounted for three and two goals respectively, were prominent in the offensive tactics of the team.

The win marks the second victory in league competition for the "Pals" and places them in a three-cornered deadlock with Woodbury and Collingswood in the league standing.

One of the so-called "crucial" games will be played next week, when the Woodbury lassies are met in what is expected to be a battle for first place.

A team from Temple University High School was likewise handed a defeat last Saturday morning when the Palmyra eleven gave them a coat of whitewash. The final tabulation read, Palmyra, 3; Temple, 0.

"Sis" Baker chalked up another goal while the petite Myrtle Harmon, another veteran player, chalked up the remaining two.

J. HORACE FINNEY TO HEAD BI-CENTENNIAL COMMITTEE OF TOWN

At the request of the George Washington Bi-Centennial Celebration Committee, Mayor George N. Wimer has appointed the following well-known Palmyra men and women to serve on a local committee:

J. Horace Finney, Sr., chairman; James H. Hartley, George W. Rogers, George Weigand, Mrs. Marion Mallory, Mrs. Theodore D'Autrechy, Sr., Mrs. Evelyn Roach, Mrs. Walter Hansen, Joseph G. Seel, Franck Durkin, Jr., Mrs. George Rivel, Wilton E. Mount, Marvin Bradley, Christopher Peditto and Mrs. Anna V. Blackburn.

This committee is to sponsor celebrations to take place from Washington's birthday, on February 22, 1932 to Thanksgiving day of the same year.

The chairman will call a meeting in the near future to make plans for these various celebrations.

CAR, TRUCK CRASH; DRIVER TRIES TO AVOID HITTING DOG

In an effort to prevent killing a small collie dog while driving through Edgewater Park late Friday, Harry Tomlinson, 50, of 315 East Pearl street, Burlington, collided with a truck driven by Daniel Villari, of 523 Kossuth street, Riverside. Tomlinson's sedan was badly damaged. The animal lost its life, but neither of the four occupants of the sedan were hurt. The truck is owned by the Columbia Motor Freight Company of Riverside.

"How are these lipsticks?" the young lady asked.

"Best by test," answered the handsome drug clerk.

"How do you arrange your tests?"

ONLY 30 DAYS FOR WILD FOWL HUNT

Season Will Open On November 16 and Close On December 15

Under Federal game regulations, which supercede State laws, New Jersey in common with other states, this year, will have only thirty days of wild fowl hunting. This gunning period as now limits by the Bureau of Biological Survey of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, in the emergency menacing wildfowl life, opens November 16 and closes December 15.

Since President Hoover issued his proclamation citing the devestation wrought by drought on the nesting areas of many species of ducks and geese during the last two years, and as a protective measure limited the hunting season throughout the nation to thirty days, New Jersey sportsmen have been speculating as to what part of the standard hunting season would be opened for gunning in this State. The regular season on wildfowl in New Jersey covers the period from October 16 to January 31.

The N. J. State Fish and Game Commission had suggested to the federal bureau that interests of guides and sportsmen and the proper protection of the game might be served by extending the thirty days allowed by the President across the last three months of the regular season, with three days of hunting each week. Many New Jersey conservationists are said to have favored a similiar adjustment. The federal authorities, however, have held to a straight 30 day period in the various dates assigned to all states.

The State season for hunting Wilson or Jacksnipe is not changed by the federal edict and will continue through the usual period. The new federal ruling regarding the shortened wildfowl season will be rigidly enforced. Of importance to gunners is a new regulation that fixes the hour for the commencement of shooting on the opening day of the season for all migrating game birds at noon.

During the balance of the season it is lawful to hunt from a half-hour before sunrise to sunset. No gun larger than 10 gauge may be used. Daily bag limits are 15 ducks, 4 geese, including brant, but not more than 25 ducks and 8 brant may be possessed at any one time. The daily bag limit on snipe is 30; on coots, 25; and 25 in all of other rails, coots and gallinules but not more than 15 of any one species of rails other than Sora, Marsh Hens and Coots.

LOCAL CHURCH NEWS

First Lutheran

(Rev. Harold L. Creager)

The First Lutheran Church of Palmyra and Riverton will celebrate the tenth anniversary of its founding on Wednesday of next week.

In commemoration of this event special services will be held all next week, beginning Sunday, October 18.

Sunday evening a real treat is in store for all members and friends of the church who attend the service. A "Musical Evening" has been planned. Three fine musicians have been obtained—a violinist, a cellist, and a pianist, under the direction of Hugh Lewis, of Merchantville.

Wednesday evening, the anniversary date, Dr. C. O. Leatherman, president of the East Pennsylvania Synod, will be the speaker. All those who have heard Dr. Leatherman on previous occasions, need no second invitation to attend, and those who have not already heard him have a real treat in store for them.

Thursday night will be "Community Night" and all congregations and pastors in this section are cordially invited to be present.

Friday evening's service will be one which will long be remembered by the members of the church. The first pastor of the church, the Rev. Harry L. Saul, along with the Rev. Dr. S. S. Daugherty, missionary superintendent of the East Pennsylvania Synod, will speak.

The general public is cordially invited to attend these services.

Ten years ago on October 21, 1921, the First Lutheran Church of Palmyra and Riverton was founded. That was the culmination of a period of earnest preparatory work under the direction of Dr. S. D. Daugherty, missionary superintendent of the East Pennsylvania Synod.

Prior to 1921, meetings at first were held in the home of Dr. H. W. Bauer, of Maple avenue, Palmyra, and following that, regular public meetings were held in Society Hall, Palmyra. It was in Society Hall that formal organization was effected with about ninety charter members.

On May 20, 1922, the Rev. Harry L. Saul became the first regular pastor of the church. Under his leadership the enthusiasm and activity multiplied and the congregation grew very rapidly.

The next spring the lot on which the church now stands was purchased. In 1924 the first unit of the church building was erected. Ground was broken on April 27 and the cornerstone was laid on June 8. The first services were held in the new building on November 6 and the church was formally dedicated on November twenty-third.

The Rev. Mr. Saul left Palmyra on January 25, 1926, to accept a call to the pastorate of the Lutheran Church in Bedford, Pa. He left a congregation which had been increased to nearly 300 members.

Upon the splendid foundation thus laid additional building, both numerical and spiritual, was done by the next pastor, the Rev. William Erhard. He served his congregation from June 13, 1926 to January 20, 1930. During this time a great Loyalty Campaign was put on to stir the people to a deeper consecration and to secure money toward paying the debt on the new church. Total pledges of about $19,000 were made to be paid in a period of fifty months. From here, the Rev. Mr. Erhard was called to a larger pastorate in Clarksburg, West Virginia.

After a few months interval, the Rev. Harold L. Creager began his work on March 30, 1930. Since his advent the Rev. Mr. Creager has done much toward the financial and spiritual betterment of the church.

Presbyterian

(Charles T. Bates, Minister)

Calvary Presbyterian Church will hold its Sunday services of worship at 11 o'clock in the morning and at 8 o'clock in the evening. The Church School will meet at 10 a. m. Christian Endeavor at 7 o'clock.

Mid-week Service Wednesday at 8 o'clock.

Today, October 15th the Women's Missionary Society of the Church is acting as hostess to the District Missionary Societies. There will be morning and afternoon sessions. Mrs. Mabel Hemphill Cook, Missionary, will speak at the afternoon session, at 1.30.

The Burlington County Council of Religious Education holds its annual convention at Moorestown in the Baptist Church October 15th. There will be classes for teachers and workers in the various departments of Church Schools with trained workers leading them. In the evening Dr. Floyd W. Tompkins of Philadelphia, will give an inspirational talk. Every one interested in the work of the Church School is urged to attend this all day session.

The Golden Hour Circle will meet on Friday, October 16th in the Church parlor, at 8 o'clock.

The Ladies' Aid Society will hold their "Gold Bug" Covered Dish Luncheon on Wednesday, October 21st, at 1 o'clock in the Social Hall. Donors of food are requested to advise Miss Tabor, Mrs. Hemphill, Mrs. Marston or Mrs. Houder as to what their "covered dish" will be.

Charles T. Bates, Minister.

Christ Church

(Palmyra)

(Rev. George J. McCormack)

The modern astronomer thinks in terms of thousands of millions of years, and lives perchance for three score years and ten.

His mind embraces the whole of space: in thought he travels distances measured by many thousands of millions of miles—and seven feet suffice for his resting place.

These are strange contrasts. Yet within man there is that which can transcend those limitations of time and space by which his body is confined. In him, as the Christian would say, there is a power to discover God's work and ways, in some degree to think God's thoughts and above all he can offer God service.

He is a child of God, and the supreme reason for his existence here is to think and hope to fight for truth, to love that which is good, and finally to pass beyond the temporal to the Eternal, where knowledge shall lead to perfect peace and joy in communion with God.

There will be a luncheon at the home of Mrs. George Reber, of Morgan avenue, this afternoon at one o'clock, under the auspices of the St. Agnes Guild. All members are cordially invited to attend.

The Woman's Auxiliary Executive Board will meet Monday at the Diocesan House, Trenton. Holy Communion will be celebrated in Christ Church, Trenton, at 10.00 a. m.

Donation Day at the Evergreens Home for the Aged at Boundbrook, N. J. will be held next Thursday. All contributions for this purpose will be appreciated.

Mrs. C. A. Hines has resigned her position as leader of the Primary Group of the Sunday School and Mrs. Raymond G. Anderson has accepted this post. The officers of the Sunday School and the pastor, wish to take this opportunity to thank Mrs. Hines for her many years of faithful service.

Teachers are greatly needed in the church school and the rector will be glad to hear from any volunteers for this work.

6.45 p. m. B. Y. P. U.

7.45 p. m. Gospel song service and sermon, "The Great Question". A large choir will furnish special music.

The Samaritan Class held its monthly meeting at the parsonage Tuesday night. Plans were made for the future work of the class. Sometime in November a play will be given by the Samaritan and Junior Philathea Classes. Dr. LeFavor entertained on the piano and a pleasant evening was enjoyed by all.

The Philathea Class will hold a food sale in the social hall of the church on Saturday. Telephone orders to Mrs. A. Hirsch or Mrs. Clarence Yerkes.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"DOCTRINE OF ATONEMENT" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, October 18, 1931.

The Golden Text is: "John seeth Jesus coming unto him, and saith, Behold the Lamb of God, which taketh away the sin of the world" (John 1:29).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life" (John 3:16).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Atonement is the exemplification of man's unity with God, whereby man reflects divine Truth, Life and Love, Jesus of Nazareth taught and demonstrated man's oneness with the Father, and for this we owe him endless homage." (p. 18)

Moravian Church

(Albert J. Harke, Pastor)

All the regular services will be conducted next Sunday. 9.30 a. m., the Church School with classes for every age meets in regular session in charge of the superintendent, Miss Mildred Siebke. On rally day a new high record for attendance was set but we hope to go beyond that mark in the year future.

10.40 a. m., morning service with sermon by the pastor. The choir will sing "Emanuel" by Nolte.

6.45 p. m. Christian Endeavor prayer meeting.

7.30 p. m. Evening service of praise with sermon by the pastor.

Next Wednesday, October 21, the Willing Workers holds its annual Bazaar and Chicken Supper. This Supper has yearly attracted some five hundred people at one dollar per ticket. The year the price is reduced to 75 cents per ticket for adults and 40 cents for children under twelve years. Supper will be served from five to eight p. m.

The final arrangements for the supper and bazaar will be made at the meeting of the Willing Workers this afternoon.

'INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS' TOPIC

Alden G. Alley Speaks on League of Nations and World Court

The Porch Club is enclosing the porch will will give an added capacity, but because the work is underway the club house can not be used conveniently for large gatherings, therefore the members were very glad to accept the invitation to conduct the meeting for October 20, in the home of the Misses Biddle.

The Porch Club members who had heard Mr. Alley last year were eager for the men and business women of the community to hear him too, so an open meeting was scheduled for the evening.

Mrs. Joseph L. Thomas, president of the club, formally opened the evening and then turned the meeting over to Mrs. Frederick Blair, chairman of the International Relations Committee, who introduced the speaker of the night, Alden G. Alley, an instructor at New Jersey Law School of Newark.

Those who were unable to be present missed a delightful hour. Mr. Alley speaks in a well modulated voice and in a clear, concise and sympathetic way about his subject, "International Relations". He introduced his address by the definition of anarchy. As anarchy is the opposite idea from the world's wishes, the world has built up the World Court, The Secretariat, and the Council of the League of Nations to do what it can to preserve law and order. Mr. Alley described the mechanical operations of the three bodies. He explained how each day data is gathered and sorted which is available for use on short notice in a crisis. He gave a clear understanding of the object and use of each division, quoting actual cases and adding his personal observation which is first-hand information, for he has attended eleven sessions of the League at Geneva. Mr. Alley next defined the position that the United States holds in regard to these three world organizations. He explained the power any one of the departments could and has exercised upon keeping world peace. After the address the great interest and enthusiasm of the audience was proved by the questions asked bearing upon the points brought up by the speaker, which he answered graciously, at length and satisfactorily.

FORTNUM HAS NEW AUTO WRECK CAR

Up-to-the-Minute Model Ready To Answer S.O.S. of Cracked-Up Machines at Any Time

The Lester S. Fortnum Palmyra Automobile Agency has a brand new wreck car, which is handsomely painted and equipped with all necessary aids for automobiles in distress.

The wrecker is mounted on a 1931 Ford AA truck chassis and carries fire extinguishers and first aid equipment, in addition to first class facilities for moving wrecked cars of all sizes.

The wrecker will be ready to respond to calls for aid at any time.

P.H.S. ALUMNI PLANS DANCE NOVEMBER 6

The members of the Alumni Association of Palmyra High School are sponsoring a dance to be held at the Riverton Country Club Friday evening, November 13.

Music for the event will be furnished by Ernie Brown and His Brownies, an orchestra which is well known in this section.

The committee in charge of arrangements is as follows: Dewees Showell, Edson Hicks, Arthur Terrell, Helen Trudel, Betty Eadon, George Long, Helen Landers, Elwood Branson, Lenore Showell, Kitty Burr, and Ted Hudson.

Dress will be optional and admission will be $2.00 per couple.

The committee will meet at the home of Miss Helen Landers, 623 Elm Terrace, Riverton, to make further plans for the event.

BUSHLEY—CODDINGTON

The marriage of Miss Elizabeth Coddington daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse M. Coddington, of Riverton and Mr. H. Richard Bushley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Bushley, of Norwich, New York, took place Saturday in the Calvary Presbyterian Church Riverton.

The Rev. Charles T. Bates officiated.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of blue velvet and carried a bouquet of white rose buds. She was attended by Miss Mabel Virginia Good, a cousin. Mr. James P. Stewart, of Philadelphia, was best man and the ushers were Charles S. M. Coddington and Jesse W. Coddington, brothers of the bride.

Music for the ceremony was provided by Miss Helen Koch, of Conshohocken, Pa., a close friend of the bride and organist of the Sixth and Fayette Street Methodist Church, Conshohocken, Pa.

On their return they will be at home to their many friends at the Linden Apartments 8 Linden Street, Jenkintown, Pa.

ROTARIANS HEAR OF TAX INCREASE

Cost of Government Has Increased 210% in 30 Years; Wealth But 100%

"In 1913 the United States had a national income of 34 billions of dollars, of which one-fourteenth was spent on running our government, including federal, state, county and smaller units," said J. G. Hostutler, organization secretary of the New Jersey Tax Payers' Association at the Palmyra-Riverton Rotary Club Meeting, last Thursday evening. "By 1928", he continued, "The national income had risen to 81 billions and the cost of government to one-sixth of that amount; the rate of yearly increase, which is still operating, is one-half billion dollars."

Following this introduction Mr. Hostutler pointed out that New Jersey is fifth in the amount of per capita cost of government, the expenses of which have been steadily mounting. He stated that thirty years ago New Jersey had no state debt, while now it is entailed to the extent of $988,000,000.00, on which the service cost is $60,000,000.00 annually. The cost of government has risen 2100 per cent while wealth has increased but 100 per cent, and population 2.15 per cent.

According to Mr. Hostutler this condition is driving industry from New Jersey, in fact 2700 firms have recently left the state. As an example of high taxation, New Jersey railroads were used. One percent of the total railroad mileage in the United States is in New Jersey, 5 per cent of all railroad tax is collected here, in fact New Jersey railroads pay 2½ per cent. more tax than those in any other state. Other public service organizations are similarly taxed. The state as a whole is gradually going bankrupt, thinks the New Jersey Taxpayers' Association, and something must be done about it.

The New Jersey Taxpayers' Association was organized to put business into government, and to offset the pressure brought by organized minorities upon legislators and officials. The association wants to reach down into the smallest governmental unit, for 54 per cent of our expenditures are local, by having local men of business ability and integrity organized to work with the officials.

During his talk, Mr. Hostutler mentioned several times the fact that Riverton is in fine shape financially, much better in fact, than the majority of New Jersey districts.

PALMYRA LIONS PLAN 'OLD MONARCHS' NIGHT

All Former Members of Club Are Urged To Attend and Renew Acquaintances

The Palmyra-Riverton Lions Club will hold an "Old Monarch" Night, at their regular meeting in Society Hall, Palmyra, next Tuesday evening.

All former members of the club have been invited to attend and renew acquaintances with Lionism.

Several prominent Lion officials will be present, among them being State Deputy Mark Reeves, of Merchantville; Albert S. "Pete" Burling, of Camden, and District Governor George Olson.

For the past several weeks delegations from nearby Lions Clubs have been visiting the Palmyra-Riverton club in preparation for a membership drive.

Every former member of the club is urged to attend next Tuesday evening at six o'clock.

POLICE NOTES

Four chickens were stolen from the property of C. C. Miller on the night o fthe 19th. Hylton Smith's garage at Front and Linden was entered again this week and gasoline stolen from the tank of a truck stored there. Russ F. Elliott reported hearing noises in his house at 2:20 a. m. Wednesday morning, but a police investigation revealed all windows and doors securely locked.

NOTICE

Will the person who took the coat belonging to Mrs. Peterson, of East Riverton, from the card party at the Riverton Fire House, October 15, kindly return by parcel post to the fire company to save further embarrassment from the police, as they know the party who has it.

CHAIRMAN.

WILL SPEAK ON PEACE PROBLEM

Miss Martha Root, Traveler-Journalist Will Talk in Philadelphia

Miss Martha Root, internationally known lecturer, traveler and journalist, will be in Philadelphia the last week in October, also for several engagements during November.

On Tuesday, October 27, Miss Root will speak at Swarthmore College in the morning.

She will broadcast from WCAU in the morning or after. Her subject will be "My World Travels in the Interest of Universal Peace".

In the evening Miss Root will address the Liberal League at Haverford College.

Wednesday, the 28th, at 11 a. m., "Views on Internationalism, As Given by Rulers and Educators of the World", will be her subject at Temple University.

On Sunday, November 1, Miss Root will be the principal speaker at the Ethical Culture meeting at 1910 Rittenhouse street, where the public is cordially invited.

Through her contacts with government officials in all parts of the world, Miss Root is considered to possess an authoritative understanding and knowledge of world affairs. She has been a delegate to several of the international conferences in Europe.

She has lectured in practically all world capitals, and has had audience with King Zog of Albania and President Thomas G. Masaryk, of Praha; Tewfik Rouschty Bey, minister of foreign affairs of Turkey; Queen Marie of Roumania and King Feisal of Iraq.

Miss Root has made a study of the Indian problems, and recently interview the famous Nationalist and poetess Sarojina Naidu, in the Yaravada prison. She was entertained by the Maharajah of Patiala, Chancellor of the Chamber of Princes.

As a lecturer, Miss Root is known in England and on the Continent. She spoke at Oxford University, and has lectured at the leading German universities. Miss Root has also traveled and lectured in China and Japan, where she enjoys wide popularity.

TRI-HI GIRLS ELECT OFFICERS

Will Meet This Evening to Sew Garments for the Poor and Needy

The Palmyra-Riverton group of Tri-Hi girls held a meeting Thursday evening of last week in the Methodist Church.

The following officers were elected to serve for the ensuing year: Eleanor Finn, president; Mildred Goodwin, vice-president; Edna Buckingham, secretary; and Ella Bussell, treasurer.

Committee chairmen were also elected and are: program committee, Lillian Brown; social committee, Mary Rhoades; membership committee, Kitty Born; service committee, Dorothy Goodwin; music committee, Mildred Mickle, and Ways and Means Committe, Marie Jander.

The latter committee is a new one, which was formed for the purpose of securing means of transportation to the various conferences and rallies.

Meetings will be held every Thursday evening in the church. From 7:30 to 8:30 a recreational period is held and at 8:30 the devotional program is begun.

All girls of high school age are welcome. This evening the girls will sew garments for the poor. It is hoped that a large number of girls will find it possible to be present. Miss Laura Kirkeby is assisting Miss Ida Harmon and Miss Ermyn Jewell in conducting the meetings.

SHANER IS AWARDED HOSPITAL CONTRACT

George W. Shaner and Sons, of Palmyra, have been awarded the contract for the new six story Hospital Building at Lakeland, N. J. at a cost of approximately $300,000.00.

This means that many men who are now unemployed will be put to work some time within the next week, and will continue to work during the next year.

The hospital building will cover almost a block in area and will be entirely fireproof.

NEW CHOIR

A choir composed of enthusiastic young people who are affiliated with Calvary Presbyterian Church of Riverton has been organized to aid with the music at both morning and evening church services. Mrs. Nathan Lane, who has accepted the position of director of music, has entire charge of the choir activity. It is planned to have brief but worthwhile talks on music at the rehearsals. The group will start work on a special Christmas program within the next two or three weeks. It is hoped that the choir will be able to arrange to present musical programs and assist at various church functions in the near future.

MEN'S CLUB OF TWIN TOWNS MEET TONIGHT AT Y. M. C. A. BUILDING

Carlton Tillinghast, of the State Regional Planning Commission, will be the speaker at the meeting of the Palmyra-Riverton Men's Club to be held in the Y. M. C. A. Building, Broad street and Garfield avenue, Palmyra, this evening at 8 o'clock.

Mr. Tillinghast, who is well-known in this section for his ability as a speaker, was secured through the efforts of the president of the association, William T. Purnell.

An excellent musical program will be rendered under the direction of Prof. Robert Hudack. Captain Sidney Albertson, chairman of the music committee, promises a very worth while entertainment.

Clinton Gardiner, chairman of the membership committee, is asking all members to be present and inviting them to bring friends who might be interested in joining the meeting.

NEEDLEWORK GUILD MEETING

Meeting Changed To Parish House Instead of Porch Club

The annual meeting of the Riverton branch of the Needlework Guild will be held next Wednesday afternoon, the 28th of October, in Christ Church Paris House. Due to building operations going on at the Porch Club, the meeting has been moved to the larger auditorium across the street, and it is hoped that a proportionately large number of members will attend.

The features of the meeting will be the election of officers and the display of garments contributed by members. Miss Ankor, of Burlington County Hospital, will talk on the phases of her social work directly touched by Needlework Guild contributions and because what she has to say will be of such tremendous local interest, everyone is urged to come and hear her talk.

Remember the place and the date—Christ Church Parish House next Wednesday, the 26th.

MUSICAL COMEDY AT HIGH SCHOOL

Tillicum Staff Will Present "Spanish Moon" November 13 and 14

The 1932 Tillicum staff of Palmyra High School announces with pleasure its having contracted with the John B. Rogers Company, of Ohio, for presentation in Palmyra on November 13 and 14, the new musical comedy, "Spanish Moon".

This production was staged recently at the annual "Tambourine and Bones" show of Syracuse University and was greeted with tremendous favor.

Like most shows of college origin, the fun in "Spanish Moon" is fast and furious and all phases of production showing a strictly up-to-date treatment. The Rogers Company will provide elaborate settings and customes for the production.

The Tillicum staff is, at present, busy selecting the major and minor leads as well as the chorus for this production. About one hundred high school boys and girls will play in "Spanish Moon".

The rehearsals will begin about November 2 under the capable direction of Mr. Weidmiller.

PALMYRA MAN HURT IN CRASH AT BURLINGTON

Martin Knight, 47, of Palmyra and Thomas Smith, 54, of Delanco were treated at the Burlington Emergency Hospital at City Hall, Burlington, when the car which Knight was driving and in which Smith was a passenger was struck head-on by an alleged drunken driver Monday on the State Highway, near Burlington.

The machine which struck the Knight car was driven by Lavar Rudenko, 38, Crum Lynne, Delaware county, Pa.

Rudenko was arrested and Knight was allowed to return to his home following medical treatment.

J. A. SCHWARTZ JOINS C. R. SWEENEY AGENCY

Well Known Automobile Man Will Specialize in Pushing Sales of Plymouth Car

Joseph A. Schwartz, of Palmyra, until recently manager of the Palmyra Fortnum Agency, has become associated with C. R. Sweeney, Inc., Palmyra distributor of Dodge and Plymouth automobiles and General Electric products.

Mr. Schwartz will devote himself chiefly to automobile sales promotion. He has had more than twenty years' experience in the automobile business.

DADS AND LADS TO HAVE PARTY

"Y" Groups Will Enjoy Hallowe'en Fun Thursday Evening, October 29

The first annual Father and Son Group Party for members of the various "Y" groups in Palmyra and Riverton will be held at the "Y" Building next Thursday evening, at eight o'clock.

John L. Metzgar, chairman of the boys' work committee will be in charge assisted by various members. Fellows will be interested to know that the Senior Witch has ruled only one speech. Elmer Hahn, president of the Board of Directors will welcome the merry makers.

As every boy and his dad enters the retreat of Goblins they will be given a yellow pumpkin that they will all keep. Mr. William McConnell will gladly supervise checker and chess games between fathers and sons in the lobby. Ping pong may be played.

The committee has arranged a fine array of games and sports for all. The whole affair will be very formal and there isn't a "Y" group member that will want to miss this affair. Special music and a few stunts will creep into the evening.

As in most affairs mother will also have a part. The newly formed Women's Auxiliary of the Y. M. will provide the refreshments of the evening. "Witches Whiskers" and "Goblin Soup" will delight every hungry fun maker.

Details of reservation will be given in a letter being mailed to every group member that had submitted his application. The Junior Hi-Y that regularly meets that night will join the party having their meeting in the lobby.

MYSTERY HIKE IS SUCCESSFUL

Enjoyable Weekend Spent By Riverton Scouts In Their New 'Mystery' Camp

The Mystery Hike is over for the members of Troop 50, the Riverton Scouts, but the mystery still remains for all the boys wh odid not attend. The Scouts who were present have been sworn to absolute secrecy as to the location of the camp. All that can be divulged is that the camp is about twenty-five miles from Riverton, several miles from the nearest town, and about two miles from the nearest paved road.

The troop left Saturday in several sections. First came an advance detail under command of Assistant Scoutmaster Windhovel. Then, shortly after noon, came the second section under command of Assistant Scoutmasters Washington and Cook. The main convoy of automobiles, commanded by the scoutmaster, left Riverton at 3:30.

The drive was a most interesting one. No one knew exactly how to reach the camp, so that a stop had to be made at each crossroad to ask directions. Even so, the convoy got lost once, and drove over a mile out of its way.

When the main convoy finally arrived at the camp, they found that the advance detail had already made the fire and gone well into its plans for mess.

The camp is a comfortable, two-story house with a big stove and fine provision for winter camping. Cots were provided for sleeping. The boys brought their own blankets.

At 9:00 o'clock, Mr. H. L. Unland arrived with some more scouts. He had left Riverton at 6:30 and become lost on the road. (It was later found out that Junior Assistant Scoutmaster Shoemaker started for the camp Saturday night and never did find it.)

On Sunday morning after breakfast church service was held. After this the boys took a hike for three miles through the autumn woods to a high hill from which a view could be obtained for miles around. The return trip was made through cranberry bogs. Several deer were sighted.

The boys got back to Riverton Sunday evening. It was a grand camping trip.

Besides Mr. Unland, two other scout fathers were present, Mr. Frank Haley and Mr. William Shoemaker, Jr.

The regular Friday night meeting of the troop was principally given up to plans for the hike next day. The scores for the first two weeks of the contest were posted. The two platoons are running neck and neck. The Blue platoon leads with a total score of 240. The Gray platoon has a score of 220.

In the individual patrols the Wild Boar Patrol leads with a score of 110. This patrol is in the Blue platoon. Next comes the Cobra Patrol of the Grays with 91, followed by the Panther Patrol of the Blues with 73, the Moose Patrol of the Grays with 66, the Eagle Patrol of the Grays with 63, and the Stag Patrol of the Blues with 57.

DIVORCED

Through her attorney Robert Peacock, of Mount Holly, Mrs. Mary E. Lacy, of Riverton has secured a divorce from John Lacy in the Court of Chancery, Trenton, effective October 5, 1931. Mrs. Lacy will take her former name Mary E. Graham.

COMPASS CLUB WILL STAGE DANCE TO OPEN SEASON'S ACTIVITIES

The Compass Club, of Palmyra and Riverton, will open its season's activities tomorrow evening in the P. O. S. of A. Hall, Palmyra, with a masked dance.

Music for dancing will be furnished by a popular dance orchestra. A grand march will precede the actual dancing and prizes will be awarded for fancy and novelty costumes. All participants in the grand march must be masked.

Every member is expected to be present at the event which will probably be one of the best ever staged by the club, and each member is allowed to invite two adult guests.

The hall is expected to be filled to capacity.

NAB SIX YOUTHS IN AUTO THEFTS

Palmyra Police Round-Up Party Gang Who Had Stolen Many Cars

Six young men who had stolen upwards of a dozen automobiles during the past few weeks were rounded up by Palmyra police Tuesday evening and Wednesday morning, and were held without bail after a hearing before Justice Fichter.

The prisoners are John Adams, 14 years old, and Stanley Adams, 17 years old, both of Camden; Frank Tucholski, 28 years old, of Parry, and John Tucholski, 24 years old, of Riverside; Peter Moniski and Luke Tucholski, both about 19 years old and living in Parry.

The gang made its headquarters at Parry where some of the boys had rented a shack in which they lived and stored some of the spoils of their robberies.

Suspicion was directed to the Parry boys as the result of their practice of abandoning stolen cars in the neighborhood of their shack. Most of the missing machines were recovered within half a mile of Parry. The boys usually stripped the cars of all that they could use or sell without arousing suspicion and stored some of the stolen materials in their home.

The thing that led directly to their arrest was the theft of Elwood Sawyer's car, about 9:30 Tuesday evening, as it was parked in front of Sawyer's home, 833 Columbia avenue.

Officer Joseph Rodgers went immediately to Parry and discovered stolen goods in the shack, which had been under surveillance. One of the boys threw away a flashlight which was taken from the Sawyer car. Rodgers arrested two of the Tucholskis and Peter Moniski at Parry. He and Chief of Police Beck went to Camden Wednesday morning and arrested the two Adams boys and Officer Rodgers later went to Riverside and took into custody John Tucholski, who is married, and has been living in Riverside but a few weeks.

The various cars stolen were from Burlington, Riverside, Moorestown, Camden, Palmyra and Riverside. One of the thefts was of a new radio from the truck of John H. Ettis, Palmyra dealer.

BROADWAY THEATRE APPROVED BY STATE

The following letter was received this week by the management of the Broadway Theatre after an inspection covering a period of several months had been made by James H. Talion, inspector for the Department of Labor of the State of New Jersey.

Trenton, N. J.
October 19, 1931

To the Owner and Management of the Broadway Theatre, Broad street, Palmyra, N. J.

Gentlemen:

Our Inspector, Mr. James H. Talion, has reported your theatre reconstructed in accordance with plans approved, and we are accepting same as satisfactory to this Department as your building now appears to be in accordance with our requirements.

I wish to call your attention to the fact that it is still up to you and the Department of Police and Fire to always adhere to our theatre law in not over-crowding the vestibules or blocking the aisles or egresses at any time during a performance, for no matter how safe a building is made, this hazard can exist, and it should be given strict attention by yourself and the Police and Fire Department of your city.

Thanking you for your cooperation, and hoping you are very successful in your business, I am

Very truly yours,
(Signed) Charles H. Weeks,
Deputy Commissioner of Labor.

BROTHERS REUNITED

Tiverton, R. I.—Through a newspaper story, two brothers have located each other after being separated for 40 years. They are Robert A. Eolin, local blacksmith, and William A. Haley, of East Barrington, N. H. Their family name was Haberkorn but both had changed their names.

Nextdoor: "Did you hear that dog howling last night? They say it's a sign of death."

Neighbor: "Yes, and it was. I shot the confounded mutt."

RECEPTION BY RIVERTON P. T. A.

Miss Everett Tells Parents About Effects of Home Influences

The annual reception of the PTA held on Monday evening in Riverton school was splendidly attended. Words of greeting were given by Mrs. Elwell, president of the local organization, Mayor Howard M. Rogers and Mrs. C. F. Mayfield, president of the school board.

The opening numbers of the program were given by the Porch Club Choral, led by Mrs. Belnap and everyone enjoyed two Spanish songs and an old English number called "Tender Apple Blossoms".

Mrs. W. Henry Jones, chairman of the Parent-Teacher Association for Burlington County, spoke of the growth in the work throughout the county, and made a plea for a large attendance at the Atlantic City convention to be held in Hotel Chelsea, especially on "big Thursday", November 5.

Miss Edith Everett, of the White-Williams Foundation, made the main address of the evening. She gave four qualities as keystones in developing traits of personality, happiness and success, which we all desire. These are courage, imagination, steadfastness of purpose and responsibilities of altruism. A child unconsciously gives to the world the color that he absorbs from his home atmosphere. Without explaining in words how we feel about objects and events, we give our reactions to them, and the child adopts this as his outlook. By the time he enters school at five or six, he has his patterns of behavior and recast to his new world in a way that is explained by what he has met in his everyday treatment at home. It behooves the parents to establish an atmosphere free of conflict and prejudice to ensure his open minded and unprejudiced development.

Miss Everett also spoke of growth from failure as well as success, giving an illustration, a child's attempt to climb on a chair and the success after bumps and fumblings, being an achievement to his character. She emphasized too, the importance of a child's doing things for himself rather than having to depend on help of others, not only when he is tiny, but when he is older.

After Miss Everett's address, Mrs. Elwell explained a new poster method of emphasizing membership in the PTA, so that parents would understand what their children meant by "Apples on 'Apple Trees".

The meeting then adjourned for refreshments and a social half hour.

CINNAMINSON P.T.A. HOLDS RECEPTION

Cheltenham Supervisor of Schools Speaker of the Evening

Did you hear Mr. Albert L. Rowland on Friday night? "No." Too bad! You missed an evening of enjoyable music, hearty fun and sound, inspirational thought-making ideas concerning the parents' responsibilities during these changing days.

Dr. Rogers presided, and, after an earnest warning as to the responsibility incurred by neglecting to safeguard the child's health by the use of preventive measures, introduced Mr. Rowland, the speaker of the evening. Mr. Rowland's message, as mentioned, was so forcibly delivered that it struck home, as the attention paid by the very satisfactory sized audience proved.

Mr. Caldwell, accompanied by Mrs. Caldwell, sang several solos. Dr. Curtis, with Mrs. Sim at the piano, sang a solo, and as an encore, "Rolling Down to Rio." Mr. Tillinghast and Mr. Atkinson rendered some delightful selections for piano and violin.

The thanks of the Association are due to these good friends who did so much to make the evening a success.

Then, as a climax, Mrs. Little, the State President, whose coming was a surprise, gave a short snappy talk, adding much to an already unusual meeting.

Mr. Mount, well known in the vicinity, then took charge for a short time, and the fun and merriment he evoked made everyone ready to enjoy the delicious sweet cider and home-made cake offered by the hospitality hostess.

Will members please remember the song contest, and have their offerings sent to Mrs. Sim, Riverton R.D., by the last of the month?

Press Committee.

NOTICE FOR OCTOBER 27

The meeting of October 27 will be held in the Riverton public school auditorium at 2:30 p. m.

The Hon. Clifford R. Powell will present the Republican viewpoint and Grover C. Richman will give the Democratic angle on Current Legislation, especially concerning the welfare problem which is a matter of great interest at present.

The auditorium can accommodate many so it is hoped that all will avail themselves of this opportunity to hear these issues so ably discussed.

ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Miller Biddle, Jr., of Riverton, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Anna Lippincott Biddle, to Lawrence M. Russell, son of Mrs. Frank J. Russell, of New Windsor, Md.

CAMDEN WOMAN TELLS G.O.P. CLUB OF DAVID BAIRD

Mrs. Elizabeth Verga Addresses Burlington County Women's Republican Club

PARTY LEADERS AT MEDFORD LUNCHEON

Praise Candidate As Man Needed For State's Chief Executive

More than 200 members of the Burlington County Women's Republican Club and women members of the county committee gathered at Log Cabin Lodge, Medford Lakes, Tuesday at noon to hear Mrs. Elizabeth Verga, of Camden, vice-chairman of the Republican State Committee, and other party leaders.

Mrs. Verga described David Baird, Jr., the party's gubernatorial candidate, from her long acquaintance with him. She referred to him as a "big brother" rather than a political associate. He is a man all can vote for with pride, she declared, a man possessing the qualities most needed to fill the office of chief executive of this state.

She told of several incidents in the career of Mr. Baird and of his father, who was for years a political leader in Camden. In fact, she declared, it was only to vindicate the elder Baird's leadership that his son ever consented to enter the political arena.

Telling how the leadership of Camden had slipped from the elder Baird a few years ago, when his opponents elected a full slate of city officials, she told of the decision of the son to become active politically "just for a short time," to reestablish his father's old prestige. David Baird, Jr., displayed such a flair for politics that he is now the party's candidate for governor, she continued.

Citing his nomination without opposition, she predicted the support of a united party in November and prophesied his election.

Mrs. Verga told in detail of the unselfish action taken by Mr. Baird at the time of the bank crisis in Camden. She declared that it was only through confidence in him, coupled with his great knowledge of finance, that brought order out of threatened chaos.

The Democratic candidate's lack of business training was also compared to Baird's successful campaign as a business man. A. Harry Moore has always been a politician, declared Mrs. Verga, and knows nothing of the business management so necessary in government today.

She spoke on the organization of women for the Republican party and told why she thought Mr. Baird should be elected. She urged the women not to criticize from the outside but to become active and "bore from within" the party. In this way they can accomplish their aims, she said.

Mrs. Terry was next called upon to speak and spoke of the present campaign in reference to the Hoover administration. She urged voting for local and state candidates as a vote of confidence in President Hoover.

Help South Jersey

Senator Clifford R. Powell pointed out the advantages which would accrue to this section by the election of David Baird. He said many public improvements had been made in this county since the election of a Republican governor, Morgan F. Larson. Among them are two bridges over the Delaware, a $3,000,000 state prison farm at Bordentown, and two new wings to the Bordentown Colored Industrial Institute. He declared that the Democrats were only interested in Hudson county where Boss Hague had control.

Dr. Marcus W. Newcomb, Republican candidate for Assembly, said there was no question of Baird's triumph if Republicans would go to the polls and vote. There are more of our political faith than there are Democrats, he declared.

George N. Wimer, state committeeman and mayor of Palmyra, told members of the club they must get out the vote if they expect to win. He said that in this county only 47 percent of the people voted, while in Hudson county they "counted" 97 percent.

Mr. Wimer added his approval of the Republican candidate, saying "no man more humane, no man more unselfish, ever ran for office in the state."

Support Hoover

Charles R. Stout, county chairman of the Republican party, and a candidate for reelection to the board of freeholders, said that the triumph of the Republican party in New Jersey was very necessary at this particular time. If we fail to elect David Baird we are only giving the Democrats added hope of victory in next year's presidential election, he said. He expressed full confidence in President Hoover, saying he would rather have a "Republican depression" than a "Democratic panic."

Among the other speakers were James C. McCormick, candidate for reelection to the board of freeholders, and George Bitting, candidate for surrogate.

Mrs. Pearl M. Brideguin, president of the Burlington County Republican Club, introduced the speakers and spoke briefly at the conclusion of the meeting. She said a "Baird for Governor" headquarters had been established at 110 Main street, Mount Holly, and open forum would be held each Friday afternoon until election. All women of the county are invited to stop in for a cup of tea and for discussion of any aspect of the campaign, she said.

All-Day Meeting

She also announced an all-day meeting to be held at Moorestown Community House next Monday at which time the "County Relief" question which is to be voted on at the general election will be discussed. A buffet luncheon will be served at small cost.

A vote of confidence was given to the county Republican leaders, Charles R. Stout and Clifford R. Powell, at the suggestion of Mrs. Henry T. Rasely. She stated that rumors were going about that all was not serene within the party and thought they should be quashed.

The committee in charge of the luncheon was composed of the following: Mrs. Lawrence Mingin, Medford; Mrs. James Logan, Mount Holly; Mrs. L. Philippino, Maple Shade; Mrs. Alma Evans, Riverton, and Mrs. Katherine F. Smith, Mount Holly.

Mrs. Conklin Speaks

Another speaker on the program was Mrs. Edna B. Conklin, Republican State Committeewoman from Bergen county. She spoke enthusiastically of her reception in Burlington county and praised the work of State Committeeman George N. Wimer, of Palmyra, and State Committeewoman Elizabeth G. Terry, of Edgewater Park. Both received a splendid hand from the audience when their work for the party was cited by the speaker.

TWP. HEADS HIT WELFARE BOARD

People Urged to Vote Against Plan at General Election

With a unanimous vote, the State Association of Township Committeemen, representing 16 counties, registered their opposition to the Welfare Board, which will be voted on at the General Election.

From no section of New Jersey did the movement receive a word of support, when the delegates to this conference representing three-quarters of the counties of the state considered this important question.

Jacob Spiegel, Norma, president of the State Association of Township Committeemen, led the fight against the Welfare Board, and he was supported by Miss Helen McCormack, supervisor of Welfare Work in the Department of Public Welfare, in the city of Trenton. Miss McCormack, appeared before the assembled township committeemen, as the personal representative of Mayor Donnelley, who also sees great harm in adopting the Welfare Board idea at this time.

The two objections to the Welfare Board movement as presented before the township committeemen, were the uncertain cost of the venture and the needless confusion that would arise if a new organization was put in the field at this time, when the welfare boards of the various municipalities were handling the situation in a satisfactory manner.

Miss McCormack made a plea that the Welfare Board idea be studied more thoroughly before it is adopted. She asked for another year or two so that the new system can be compared with existing relief organizations in meeting the present emergency.

The speaker also threw into the conference some of the political moves in the legislature that were played last winter just prior to the passing of this measure. Miss McCormack stated that the bill was introduced by Charles Basile, Essex county, in the Assembly, and that in some manner Senator Yates forced it down the throat of the Legislature under threat of killing the Old Age Pension bill.

In explaining the bill, it was brought out by Miss McCormack that while the board of five members serve without salaries, they are entitled to expenses. The measure also provides for the appointment of a director with no specified salary and he is permitted to appoint as many assistants and investigators as he desires.

The question of salary reductions was brought up by the Burlington county delegation, who asked if the township committees should cut salaries to meet existing conditions. While no action was taken the opinion was expressed that if there is to be any salary reductions it should start in with the higher paid positions. There are very few positions in the ranks of township committeemen that can be cut to make any appreciable difference in the tax rate. President Spiegel, in taking up salary reductions, stated that he believed that many persons on the public payroll are getting more than they are returning to the public welfare.

In discussing the activities of the township committeemen, Hon. Davis H. Agans, Three Bridges, Master of the New Jersey State Grange and a member of the State Board of Taxation, told the delegates that they should keep their constituents informed on what they are doing. According to Mr. Agans, much of the misunderstandings of the taxpayers and the criticisms of public officials are due almost entirely to a lack of knowledge of the problems that a township committee must face. "Give out some publicity on what you are doing and invite the taxpayers in to your meetings," said Mr. Agans.

A. HARRY MOORE SPEAKS IN COUNTY

Democratic Gubernatorial Candidate Appears at Four Places in This Section

A. Harry Moore, Democratic gubernatorial candidate, made a bid for votes in Burlington county in a series of meetings held Monday afternoon and evening.

He was tendered a reception at Pig'n Whistle Inn, Brewn's Mills, upon his arrival and spoke at Mount Holly, Maple Shade and Burlington during the evening.

Mr. Moore charged his opponent with dominating the state legislature and the entire Republican party. He declared David Baird was reponsible for the failure to adopt the worthwhile recommendations of the Abell Commission and forced a compromise on a few minor points.

He denounced Baird as a foe to organized labor and cited his vote, while in the Senate, for Judge Parker, whom he charged with upholding "Yellow Dog" contracts.

Mr. Moore attempted to ridicule the Hoover administration by saying President Hoover promised "A chicken in every pot and two cars in every garage," and declared that now we "don't even have the pot."

Jabs at Hoover

He took another jab at the party by saying "If Hoover prosperity keeps up Gandhi will soon be the best-dressed man in the United States."

Mr. Moore said he started life as a poor man and was still a poor man. He declared the Republican party had elected two multi-millionaires to high office in the state in the past three years and was now trying to elect another.

An entertaining feature of the evening was a male quartette which appeared at the various meetings. A Gallagher-Shean act, in which Baird was the subject of most of the jokes, received a big hand.

Harvey Rothberg, of Plainfield, vice president of the A. Harry Moore Veterans' League, accompanied the candidate and spoke at each meeting.

Speaks for Veterans

He said his brother was killed in action in France and that he himself saw active service in the World War. He declared the veterans were much in favor of Mr. Moore. Rothberg criticized Baird for his war record, or absence of one, as he put it. He said that Baird was a young man and unmarried when the war broke out and was the son of a millionaire, yet he asked for a class 4 rating in the draft, saying he was needed to help in his father's lumber yard.

Rothberg claimed that although Moore was a poor man and married he asked no exemption. Rothberg also ridiculed the Republican candidate, referring to him as the "Little Caesar" of the party and "Big Boss" of the legislature.

Edward J. Hart, another of the Moore speakers, charged the Republicans with extravagance. He said they had promised to lower the cost of government and proceeded to increase the cost from $27,000,000 a year to $35,000,000.

Local Candidate

Frank Cook, county candidate for freeholder on the Democratic ticket, declared he is using his own car for campaigning. If elected, he says, he will continue to use his own car instead of taking one from the county. He said, "Burlington county is taxed to death." He stated that he stands for "honesty, efficiency and economy."

Jonathan Kelsey, who is a former prosecutor and Democratic candidate for surrogate, said a layman cannot adequately assume the responsibilities of the job. He said it should be given to a lawyer. He mentioned his friendship for Micajah Matlack, deceased surrogate, who, he alleged, initiated him into the intricacies of the surrogate's position. He insisted that the surrogate's office should not be given to a politician, but to a lawyer, who could serve the best interests of the county.

Lester Sterling, of Delanco, Democratic candidate for the State Assembly, criticized the county expenditures and spoke for economy in the county government.

CO. DEMOCRATS MEET AT COLUMBUS RALLY

Burlington county Democrats held a rally in Grange Hall, Columbus, Thursday evening of last week. County candidates were among the speakers. They are: Frank Cook, of Medford, candidate for freeholder; Lester Sterling, of Delanco; candidate for assembly and Jonathan Kelsey, candidate for surrogate. George M. Hillman, Jr., of Moorestown and Mrs. Mervil A. Haas, of Palmyra, Democratic state committee members, also spoke.

Prohibitionist Will Speak at Criterion

Dr. Ernest H. Cherrington, LL.D., Litt. D., has been obtained through the co-operation of temperance forces in Moorestown, as the speaker for a great mass meeting to be held in the Criterion Theatre on Sunday evening, October 25, at 8 o'clock.

Dr. Cherrington is an eminent leader of prohibition forces of the world. He is president of the World League Against Alcohol, chairman of the allied organizations supporting the Eighteenth Amendment, of which the local unit of the New Jersey Federation for Temperance and Law Observance is a part. He was special representative of the League of Nations Conference on the study of Alcoholism and also education and publicity secretary of the National Anti-Saloon League.

Temperance workers in Moorestown have endeavored for several years to secure so prominent a man to speak here. Dr. Cherrington is in the East at the present time and was therefore available.

The meeting on Sunday evening is under the auspices of the Moorestown unit of the New Jersey Federation for Temperence and Law Observance, the Moorestown Women's Christian Temperance Union, the Church Federation and the Friends' Philanthropic Society.

W C T U DISPROVES 'WET' PROPAGANDA

Moorestown Organization Resumes Activities; Mrs. Wm. Darnell Opening Speaker

Moorestown Women's Christian Temperance Union resumed its activities last week, meeting in the Community House with Mrs. William C. Coles, presiding. The general topic on the program was "Disproving Wet Statements In the Daily Press".

Mrs. William E. Darnell, in her talk, said, "One of the favorite arguments current in wet propaganda is that repeal of prohibition will improve the employment situation by creating jobs for two million workers. The figures concerning jobs in the liquor industry in pre prohibition days are in the records, put there by the wets themselves in a debate in the House of Representatives in 1914. It was then argued that national prohibition, if enacted, would take away the jobs, not of two million workers but of 498,901; and of these, 409,405 were bartenders."

She continued by saying, "The wets of today protest that they never want to see the return of the saloon. The long and short of it is, then, that the repeal of national prohibition, without the return of the saloon would open jobs for probably not more than 75,000 workers, quite a drop from the two million claimed by the wets, while the return of the saloons would open jobs for some four hundred thousand additional workers, but would undoubtedly ruin millions of others. For the cure of unemployment, prohibition repeal and return of four per cent. beer is obviously a faulty prescription."

Mrs. Charles Andrews then spoke. She said, "Wet newspapers continue to hand their readers the false suggestion that prohibition is responsible for crime, that gangs and 'toughs' are the sole product of prohibition. They promise that these characters will fade from existence with the re-establishment of the saloon. The aftermath of the World War is the place where the blame should be put."

Mrs. Joseph T. Evans added to the arguments disproving the statements made by wet propagandists.

Miss Charlotte Brown and Miss Bertha Johnston, from the Moorestown High School, gave interesting reports of the encampment at Delanco, in August. Mrs. George C. Baker also described her trip across the continent this past summer.

FEARS GANGSTER IS BOY'S HERO

Speaker at County Sunday School Convention Tells of Modern Perils

The annual Burlington County Sunday School convention held in the Moorestown Baptist Church on Thursday, October 15, presented a program which was both educational and inspirational. The delegates represented a large proportion of the 130 church schools in the county.

The convention was called to order by the president of the council, John W. Thacher, of Edgewater Park. After a worship service led by Rev. C. W. Macgeorge, pastor of the entertaining church, Mr. Thacher introduced the speaker of the morning, Professor S. G. Cole, of Crozer Seminary.

Professor Cole spoke of the tremendous strides which have been made in the church school movement in the last twenty-five years and said with all the improvement in equipment and leadership we should be turning out a correspondingly improved product, but that the fact that we are not doing so is because the competition in character building is keener today than ever before, and that many of the forces at work on the child today tend only to crush character and cramp youth.

Gangster Hero

Mr. Cole said, "The gangster is the hero today and no wonder the boy of this generation looks on him as he does, when very often the gangster takes chances for a purely selfish interest which the preachers and teachers won't dare for the Kingdom of God."

The afternoon session opened with a worship service led by Rev. F. B. Morley, pastor of the M. E. Church of Moorestown, after which Mr. Thacher introduced Mrs. Nina G. Frantz, state president of the WCTU whose subject was "Temperance Education in the Church School". Mrs. Frantz said that we are just entering a new era of temperance education and gave a very definitely outlined program for leaders in the church schools, also information concerning materials to be used and where they may be secured.

Supper was served at 6 o'clock and the hour for the evening session found the delegates as eager to assemble in the church auditorium as they had been in the morning.

Dr. Tompkins Speaks

The evening worship service was led by Miss Betty Shull, of Moorestown, who is the newly elected superintendent of Young People's work in the county. Rev. R. J. Meazley, chairman of the educational committee, introduced the officers for the coming year, after which Mr. Thacher introduced the speaker of the evening, Dr. Floyd W. Tomkins, of Philadelphia.

Dr. Tomkins inspired his audience to a desire for great service by picturing the teaching of children as the most beautiful and worthwhile thing in the world. He said the work requires courage and a love so great that it banishes "must" and "duty" from our vocabulary and a vision to see that world as God would have it some day, and then to do all we can to help make it so.

Next year's convention will be held in the Broad Street M. E. Church, of Burlington, October 20, 1932.

Do You Want to Increase Taxes?

The following question will will be voted upon at the general election:

"Shall an Act for the settlement and relief of the poor and providing for County Relief (Revision 1931), approved April 28, 1931 be adopted?"

Burlington County Freeholders estimate it would cost the county $40,000 a year to put the proposed County Welfare Board into operation.

KELSEY, SURROGATE CANDIDATE, LAWYER IN COUNTY 27 YEARS

Jonathan H. Kelsey, Democratic candidate for surrogate in the coming election, is a resident of Pemberton, where he has resided for over 50 years. He is a lawyer with 27 years' experience.

He is the senior member of the law firm of Kelsey & Kille with offices at 133 Main street, Mount Holly, directly opposite the court house.

Lawyer Kelsey has always taken an interest in business and public affairs in his home town and county; he was one of the organizers of the Pemberton High School and has served on the board of education for over 25 years. He was also one of the organizers of the Peoples National Bank and Trust Company and has been its solicitor and a member of its board of directors since its organization in 1907.

He was prosecutor of the pleas in Burlington county from 1915 to 1925, serving during the entire time of the World War. Since his retirement as prosecutor he organized the Trust Department of the bank where he is affiliated, and has occupied a fiduciary position dealing with estates, guardians, etc., which makes him familiar with the duties as surrogate.

RED CROSS OF CO. ELECTS OFFICERS

Field Agent Tells of National Work at Burlington Session

Mr. C. Malcolm Beugless, of Burlington, was re-elected president of the Burlington County Chapter of the American Red Cross at the annual meeting and luncheon held in St. Mary's Guild House, West Broad street, Burlington, last week.

Other officers re-elected were: Mrs. J. Frank Schuyler, Florence, first vice president; Mrs. W. S. Gale, Mount Holly, second vice-president, and Miss Mary W. Samson, of Burlington, secretary and treasurer.

The Rev. John Talbot Ward, rector of St. Mary's Church, presided over the meeting in the absence of Judge Harold B. Wells, of Bordentown, roll call chairman. Eleven of the 12 branches of the organization were present and reports read. Riverton was not represented.

Olf Lund, of New York, Red Cross field representative in New Jersey made his first visit to the county chapter as principal speaker of the afternoon. Lund spoke on all phases of Red Cross work. He also told of the work of the national officers including John Barton Payne, national chairman.

YOUNG PEOPLE HEAR STOKES

Youth of County Greatly Enjoys Dinner-Dance at Log Cabin Lodge

Ex-Governor Edward C. Stokes was the principal speaker of the evening at the dinner dance tendered the Young Republicans of Burlington County at Log Cabin Lodge, Medford Lakes, Friday evening.

Palmer L. Adams, of Palmyra, chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements, was toastmaster of the occasion. In introducing the Ex-Governor, Mr. Adams said: "Such a man might well be selected to fill the high office so recently made vacant by the passing of the late Senator Dwright W. Morrow." The audience seemed well-pleased by the remark and applauded loudly.

The Toastmaster also introduced State Senator Powell as a governor of New Jersey in the near future.

Former Governor Stokes told the young people present what the aims and ideals of the Republican party are and what they have been since its organization. He stood strongly for protective tariff, urged true democracy by having everyone vote and said that the person who did not exercise his right to vote was a "slacker."

J. Harold Price, of Burlington, temporary chairman of the Young Republican organization of Burlington County, spoke briefly on the purpose of the association and his hope that it would be a permanent and useful one in the county as well as the state.

William Sherman Greene, Jr., state chairman of the organization, also spoke on the purpose and ideals of the organization.

Almost all county leaders and office seekers were present at the event. An excellent dinner was followed by dancing, the music was furnished by Harry Gsell's Varsity Crew.

Prizes were offered in novelty dances and card playing by the Republican candidates for office.

The young Republicans will again hold a meeting at the Court House, Mount Holly, this evening. It is hoped that all who attended the dinner dance will make an effort to be present at tonight's meeting, at which time the real organization of the young people will take place.

YMCA NOTES

The first of this season's monthly swims for YMCA groups was held at the Moorestown Community House Tuesday evening. Members of groups from various parts of the county enjoyed an excellent swim.

• • •

Arthur Walters, Benjamin J. Roberts, Edgar Harris and Secretary Clifford Ergood met on Wednesday evening of last week at the County YMCA Headquarters to arrange the program for the next YMCA group work council meeting to be held on November 13.

The annual meeting of the trustees of YMCA Camp Ockanickon convened at Oliver's Green Lott, Burlington, Wednesday evening, October 21. A report of the 1931 camping season was made by Ross S. Musselman; a statement of the financial operation of the camp was presented by the treasurer John W. Thacher, and the comptroller, Guy C. Hendry. Plans for the increased use of the camp property other than during the summer camping season were presented by the property committee, of which Everett H. Haines, of Medford is chairman. Certain proposals concerning the 1932 camp were also given consideration.

Announcement has gone to YMCA groups all over Burlington county of the proposed Hallowe'en party at Ockanickon Inn, Camp Ockanickon, Friday night, October 30. Committees from the group leaders' council on decorations, games, music, prizes and refreshments are being named.

Fine progress has already been made in the matter of a number of YMCA groups and Hi-Y clubs which are now holding their weekly meetings. Constant additions are being made at the county YMCA office to the roster of leaders and lists of members. Anyone desiring information on how to organize a Gra-Y club, grade school age boys' YMCA group, a YMCA group or a Hi-Y club, are invited to communicate with the county YMCA headquarters, Mount Holly.

The last of the weekend conferences at Ockanickon was that of the counsellors of the girls' camp, who were there October 16, 17 and 18. Secretary Guy C. Hendry has had charge of these affairs since the close of the girls' camp just before Labor Day. Some 300 different people have attended these various weekend conferences and meals for over a weekend have ranged from three to ten. Mrs. George C. Foster, wife of the Ockanickon caretaker, has received many fine comments on her cooking. From now on groups at camp over a weekend will be smaller in number and will be assigned to various areas of the property where they will have facilities for doing their own cooking, such for instance, as Robin's Roost, the Nature Study Cabin and at the new Monmouth County Cabin which is nearly completed. Of course, groups that are large enough to warrant the use of the main kitchen and dining room will be granted this privilege at the usual fixed rates.

COUNTY OFFICIALS BAIRD BOOSTERS

Newcomb and Freeholder McCormick Urge Election of G. O. P. Nominee

Assemblyman Marcus W. Newcomb and Freeholder James C. McCormick have strongly endorsed David Baird, Jr., Republican nominee for governor.

Said Dr. Newcomb:—

"It seems to me that, if New Jersey ever needed a business man in the governor's chair, it will need one during the next three years. With as many large problems confronting us, such as highways, bridges and tunnels, state and county institutions, education, rapid transit over the Philadelphia and Camden bridge, and the cross state canal to connect inland water ways, and above all the unemployment situation, we certainly should choose a man of exceptional ability as our chief executive. To my mind, we have just the man for this stupendous job in Mr. Baird.

"Mr. Baird is a successful business man, with a business record. As a manager of a large business concern, he has had just the right kind of experience to fit him for the responsibilities of state affairs. He has an intimtae knowledge of the question of taxation, and the needs and requirements of running the business of the state. And I know Mr. Baird well enough to feel absolutely confident that he will give the same careful attention to the business of the state as he has always given to his own."

Said the freeholder:—

"I see that A. Harry Moore, the Democratic candidate for governor, has been lavish in his promises of help for the farmers of the state. He did not give that help while he was governor, and on what basis could any farmer be expected to believe that he will change if he should be elected to the governor's chair again.

"Farmers know Moore's record. They know that he is the tool of a machine. Because their life makes them essentially independent, farmers have come to admire the independence exhibited by Mr. Baird, as against the subservience of the Democratic candidate.

"I know that farmers of Burlington county will vote for the Republican candidate. I feel sure that most of the farmers throughout South Jersey will also give him their ballots. It is to their interests that man from their own class be elected to the governorship."

ENTIRE REPUBLICAN TICKET WINNING SUPPORT

Every day brings new developments, more encouraging news for the Republicans.

Probably the most startling news has come from the state front. Democrats are deserting A. Harry Moore, by thousands, if reports are correct. Apparently the thinking Democrats are determined to stand by the Republicans in their fight to once and for all rid New Jersey of the Hague-Moore-Brandle combination.

Last Friday Mercer County Democratic Association passed a resolution unanimously endorsing the candidacy of David Baird, Jr., Republican candidate for governor. John Mealy, president of the organization, in a statement, said, in part:

"To eliminate this destructive political machine, it is necessary for every thinking Democrat to support former Senator David Baird, Jr., for governor, as he is an able, courageous and independent champion of the peoples rights who, when elected governor, will administer the affairs of the state from the State House, Trenton, New Jersey, and not from the offices of Theodore Brandle and Frank Hague, at Jersey City."

On top of this, the announcement was made Monday that there had been a definite split in the Democratic ranks in Jersey City, Hague's own bailiwick. James F. Murray, president of the Democratic Association of Jersey City, is quoted as having said that before the end of this week eleven of city's twelve ward organizations will have been declared for Baird. Patrick White, head of the Tenth Ward Group, expressed an opinion that agrees with that of a great majority of South Jersey voters when he said:

"I don't know anyone in the state who can boss David Baird. A vote for Moore means a vote for Hague, who would really become governor. A vote for Baird means that the voter wants a real man for governor and not a puppet or monkey on a string."

UNCLE SAM HAS NOT BEEN IDLE

There is much complaint among the uninformed to the effect that the federal government has fallen down on the job of providing construction work during the period of unemployment.

In 1929 there was federal construction to the value of $250,100,000, in 1930 of $446,953,000, in 1931 of $738,567,000.

The number of men working on these national projects has increased from 180,000 in January, 1930, to 760,000 in August, 1931. It is expected that by January, 1932 850,000 men will be at work on federal projects.

Governor Roosevelt of New York, complaining that the federal government is doing nothing to relieve the situation, asked the state legislature for $20,000,000 to be used in the construction of public works. The expenditure from the federal treasury in New York State this year, on roads and other public works, will aggregate $45,000,000.

In no previous depression has the national government taken special interest in providing jobs for the idle workmen. Not only has the government done all this directly, but it will be recalled that President Hoover has appealed to all employers, public and private, to do everything possible to provide additional work when it is most needed.

Perhaps the very magnitude of the public and private effort to avoid human privation has served to advertise the present depression and make the people more conscious of it.

During the last great depression, that of 1893, the soup-house was about the highest order of organized aid thought of. Tramps roamed the country in armies. The back-door hand-out was the means of preventing idle men from starving. It was every fellow for himself, and the devil take the hind-most.

BUSINESS BEATING BACK

Life insurance protection in the United States, despite business conditions, in the total amount represented by outstanding policies, was increased by over $1,000,000,000 during the first half of the year according to a report of a survey by the Association of Life Insurance Presidents received in the Department of Commerce, September 30.

Philadelphia, Pa.: Sentiment among business men in Philadelphia and the surrounding territory is better than for several months. Manufacturers of consumers' goods in the Philadelphia area report a definite increase in output in excess of the usual seasonal gain.

Boston, Mass.: An increase in employment and payroll earnings is reported in manufacturing industries for August, compared with July, according to returns from 1,070 representative establishments.

Reports for 52 woolen and worsted goods manufacturers show an increase of 2.7 percent in number of wage earners and an increase of 4.9 percent in aggregate weekly earnings. Fifty-one cotton mills showed an increase of 3.7 percent in the number of wage earners and an increase of 4.2 percent in aggregate weekly earnings. Confectionery manufacturing showed an increase of 41.5 percent in the number of wage earners and a slightly greater increase in payrolls, due largely to seasonal conditions. Textile dyeing and finishing plants report a 13 percent increase in wage earners and hosiery manufacturers an increase of 11.4 percent, with a slightly higher increase in payrolls.

CINNAMINSON POLICE NOTES

October 14. William Miller, of New Albany, was arrested by Officer George Dorworth on the charge of drunk and disorderly conduct at the home of Dorothy Rogers, of Sheetstown. Miller was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Cecil A. Bowers and fined $10.00 and costs. A fire of unknown origin started in an unoccupied house at Wrightstown, Wednesday of last week. The Parry Volunteer Fire Company answered the call and extinguished the blaze before much damage was done. The alarm with turned in by Charles Dorworth.

MONEY IN HOMES IS LURE TO THIEVES, WARNS PARKER

"Robbery and murder may come to Burlington county if residents become panic-stricken and withdraw their money from banks," according to Ellis H. Parker, chief of Burlington county detectives. "There is no reason for hysteria," Parker said. All county residents should keep their money where it belongs in any emergency—the banks. They should not withdraw it or they will make themselves possible victims of foul play."

OLD FIELD CLUB GROUNDS DONATED TO PALMYRA BORO

Council Accepts Offer of Recreation Park Made By Wilbur F. Crane

MORE AID PLANNED FOR THE UNEMPLOYED

Sewer Beds May Be Enlarged To Eliminate Odors From Disposal Plant

Palmyra Borough Council has accepted the gift of 19 lots comprising the former Field Club grounds, with the proviso that the borough purchase the two remaing lots at a total price of about $500 to enable the Field Club to pay off certain necessary obligations.

The offer was made at the regular meeting of Council Tuesday evening by Wilbur F. Crane, president of the Field Club.

The grounds will be dedicated to recreational facilities for the people of Palmyra.

The Field Club was organized about twenty-five years ago, as an outgrowth of the Y.M.C.A. and for many years fostered athletic activities of all kinds. Many of the most prominent citizens of Palmyra of the last generation devoted to the club a large amount of their time and thought, as well as contributing liberally in a financial way.

Scene of Famous Teams

The Field Club grounds, just east of the present High School athletic field, have been the scene of action for Palmyra's most famous teams. In recent years the fence and grand stand have been torn down and the field was devoted to playground activity. The Field Club, however, found itself unable to finance the proper development of a recreational center and has devoted itself in recent years to getting the grounds freed of financial entanglements so that they might be turned over to the borough.

Edward W. G. Borer, a former Palmyrian now living in Riverton, a few years ago donated more than $5,000 to the Club so that the mortgage and other debts might be paid off and a start made toward developing the site as a recreation center.

The borough officials contemplate the appointment of a Park Commission to handle the grounds and, when economic conditions improve, plan the erection of various suitable buildings, swimming pools, etc.

To Aid Unemployed

Council is considering the enlargement of the sewer beds at the disposal plant, with a view to eliminating odors and also to give work to Palmyra's unemployed during the winter. The state offers to contribute an equal amount to that raised by the borough for unemployment aid. The borough's contingent fund will be devoted to this fund, according to action taken at the meeting Tuesday evening.

Tax Collector Griscom reported taxes were coming in somewhat better now than formerly.

Council approved Mayor Wimer's selection of the George Washington Celebration Committee, recently announced.

Cinnaminson Township will be asked to take back a destitute family of 12 children and two parents, who recently moved into the borough and have been giving officials much trouble ever since.

New Member Initiated

The newly-appointed councilman, John F. Ward, who succeeds Arthur B. Cramer, was present to be initiated into the duties of his office. He was formally welcomed by the Mayor, who told him he need expect plenty of work without remuneration and plenty of criticism with little praise.

Wilbur F. Crane, who was present on behalf of the Field Club to make the offer of the grounds to the borough, expressed his appreciation of the faithful and untiring service rendered by the borough's officials, and Council was very grateful for his remarks.

The various committee of Council reported progress in their respective fields.

Report of Police

Palmyra, N. J.

Oct. 12—Emil Kamniski, Camden, N. J. Reckless driving. Fined $5.00. Paid to county.

Oct. 17—Allen R. Kemmer, Philadelphia. Disorderly. Fined $10.00. Paid to Borough.

Oct. 18—Paul Twoskos, Philadelphia. Disorderly. Fined $10.00. Paid to Borough.

The Police answered 63 calls and complaints.

The Police answered 8 ambulance calls.

Police accomodated 44 night lodgers.

Police gassed 11 cats and dogs.

There were seven accidents in and near Palmyra. One resulted in the death of John Troiga by drowning in the Delaware River. Mr. Troiga fell off a pumping barge.

Police answered fire call at Warner Building, caused by fire in fire place. Damage $200.00.

Police recovered and returned to owners, four stolen automobiles. Property of Charles Fusco, Burlington, value, $400, recovered at Hylton road, 8:41. Lewis Berkowitz, Camden, recovered at Parry. Value $1,500. John P. Sheak, Moorestown, recovered in Palmyra, value 3250. Frank Lloyd, Palmyra, recovered at Fork Landing road. Value $200.

Respectfully submitted,
C. MORRIS BECK,
Chief of Police

MUSIC CHAIRMEN OF CO. PTA MEET

Conference Held in Moorestown Community House With Mrs. Eugene M. Pharo

Thirty representatives of Parent-Teacher Associations in Burlington county met on Wednesday afternoon of last week in the club room of the Moorestown Community House, for a musical conference with Mrs. Eugene M. Pharo, newly appointed county chairman of music.

Mrs. Pharo is endeavoring, through the local organizations, to bring about an even greater appreciation of music in the schools of Burlington county, which is already outstanding in its musical progress.

A new feature of this year's work is the establishment of an "Artists' Exchange Bureau", by which there will be a friendly exchange of musical talent between the various associations.

Several entries have been received in the prize contest for a Burlington county Parent-Teacher song. A five dollar gold piece is being offered for the best words to be sung to a familiar tune. The contest is open to all local members and closes November 15.

After the business was completed, tea was served. Mrs. W. Henry Jones poured with Mrs. Howard C. Curtis and Mrs. Charles Whitmer assisting.

AUTO DRIVEN BY MRS. J. W. PRICE IS HIT BY RAILROAD HAND CAR

Mrs. J. W. Price, of West Central avenue, Moorestown, escaped with minor bruises when her automobile was struck by a hand car at the railroad crossing at Third and Washington streets, Tuesday afternoon. One of the four men of the "section gang" on the car also had his hand injured.

Mrs. Price who was going south on Washington street slowed up at the crossing, but failing to see the oncoming machine started across the tracks. As the front wheels of her automobile, an Oakland sedan, crossed rails, she saw the hand car bearing down upon her and swerved her car right, going in the same direction with it. The section gang's machine struck the Oakland in the side, near the back, and completely wrecked it.

Marius Price, son of the driver, was occupant in the car. He jumped out the door and escaped without injuries.

Mrs. Elizabeth Morton

Mrs. Elizabeth Morton, 34, of South Cedar avenue, Maple Shade, died Sunday morning in Cooper Hospital, Camden, from a fractured skull, sustained when the car in which she was riding struck a dirt shoulder and overturned on Moorestown pike near Colwick.

William C. Steedman, 40, of Stiles avenue, Maple Shade, driver of the car, was cut and bruised. He was held in $1,000 bail on a charge of manslaughter by Recorder George E. Yost, of Pennsauken township, who said he was speeding. Two other occupants, Frank Goodfriend and his wife, of Darby, Pa., were unhurt.

Mrs. Morton was taken to the hospital by Donald Cameron, a taxicab driver, of 1121 North Thirty-sixth street, Camden. She died an hour later.

Funeral services will be held from her late residence on Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock, with interment in Colestown cemetery.

Mrs. Comstock is survived by her husband, Herbert, and three children.

AS HUBBARD SEES HOOVER

In his magazine, the Roycrofter, Elbert Hubbard, II, writes an article about President Hoover in the course of which he says:

"We are not Hooverites nor are we anti-Hooverites but it does seem to me that out of the welter of woe that depression has brought upon us only one clear voice has been heard above the din of distress. That was the voice of our own President."

Admitting that he had himself sometimes compained about Mr. Hoover and if he would come over some day and sit down with him he would have some bones to pick with him, he added:

"But when all the bones are picked bare and all my grievances are aired, and I am waving my hands in farewell to him as he climbs aboard the four o'clock to resume his thankless grind at Washington, I'll still say: 'There goes the only towering leadership this world debacle has developed.'"

STANWICK HOME AND SCHOOL HALLOWE'EN PARTY

PALMYRA TROOP WILL OBSERVE GIRL SCOUT WEEK

Members Plan Cake Sale To be Held Saturday On Wimer's Porch

TO ATTEND CHURCH SUNDAY EVENING

Covered Dish Supper Will be Served Girls and Mothers Next Thursday

The Girl Scouts of Troop No. 1, Palmyra are busy with plans and preparations for "Girl Scout Week", in honor of the birthday of Mrs. Juliette Low, the founder of the organization in the United States. When Sir Robert Baden-Powell founded the Boy Scout movement in England, it proved too attractive and too well adapted to youth to make it possible to limit its great opportunities to boys alone. The girls' organization, known as the Girl Guides, developed and flourished with equal success.

Mrs. Juliete Low, an American visitor in England and a personal friend of the Father of Scouting, realized the tremendous future of the movement for her own country, and with the active and friendly co-operation of the Baden-Powells, she founded the Girl Guides in America, enrolling the first patrols in Savannah, Georgia, in March, 1912. They were re-christened the Girl Scouts in a very few months, however, as that name seemed more appropriate in America.

Mrs. Low's Birthday

Mrs. Low's birthday falls on the thirtieth of October and so the week including that date is observed with special activities by Girl Scouts all over the county.

The Palmyra girls have been invited by the Camden county Girl Scouts to join in a Camp Rally to be held tomorrow evening in the school house at Brooklawn. Four members of the Palmyra troop enjoyed a week this summer at Camden county's Camp Minitik. Evelyn Sprenkel, Charlotte Moore, Yvette Nash and Betsy Ann Lippincott and the rest of the troop will be their guests at the rally.

The girls will leave the Epworth Methodist Church at 7:30 p. m. in cars provided by their parents and friends.

Cake Sale

Saturday the Girl Scouts will hold a cake sale on Mayor George N. Wimer's porch, 15 East Broad street, from nine o'clock in the morning until the supply of home-made foods is sold out. Donations and orders will both be much appreciated by the girls, and will be called for or delivered.

Friends wishing to help the girls in their work will please telephone to the captain, Mrs. Horace Ross, Riverton 567. The proceeds will be used to establish a fund for providing merit badges as they are earned by the girls, and for helping girls who for a time cannot afford the ordinary expenses of belonging to the troop.

Sunday evening the troop will open Girl Scout Week officially by attending church service in a body, at the invitation of the Rev. Ira S. Pimm, pastor of the Epworth M. E. Church. The troop will gather in the meeting room at 7:30 p. m. and led by the color guard, march into church in a body.

The families and friends of the girls are cordially invited and urged to attend this service, and add to its impressiveness for the girls by their sympathetic presence.

Will Sew Monday

The regular Monday evening meeting will be given over to sewing for the Needlework Guild. The troop tries each year to qualify as a Junior Club and Director in the Palmyra branch. While the needles fly, plans for the final event of the week will be discussed.

This will be a covered dish supper for the girls of the troop and their mothers at the M. E. Church on Thursday evening, October 29, at 6 p. m. A committee of the mothers, under the leadership of Mrs. Walter Hansen, chairman, will meet in the Girl Scout meeting room Monday evening at nine o'clock to complete plans for their part of Thursday night's program.

All mothers who are able to come are urged to atend this committee meeting. It is hoped that every girl in the troop and every mother, as well as other women in the community who may be kind enough to wish to lend their interest and support, will help to provide and enjoy a jolly supper and take part in the fun to follow.

40 Girls Enrolled

There are more than forty girls enrolled in the troop, with more coming in at each meeting. This growing interest among the young girls of our community, from the ten years old on up, provides an almost unlimited opportunity for the grown-ups who care to help them, through scouting, to attain to the highest ideals of American womanhood.

FARM HAND GOES TO JAIL

Thomas Hayes, colored, who lives in the tenant house on Levi Walton's farm, Hartford Road, Moorestown, arrested Monday by Chief of Police John H. Bradshaw, was committed to Burlington County jail at Mount Holly without bail by Recorder Joseph W. Johnston on statutory charges, preferred by his wife, Julia, who left hime in August. The charges were against Hayes and Anna R. Gray, 14 years old, daughter of his first by another husband. Hayes is expected to plead guilty and take special court this Thursday. Four children of Hayes and his first wife, ranging in age from two to nine years, have been cared for by the Gray girl, his step daughter, since Mrs. Hayes left her husband this summer.

TRI - HI NOTES

The group of Tri-Hi girls of Riverton and Palmyra held their second meeting, Thursday evening, October 15, in the Methodist Church. Eleanor Finn was elected president; Mildred Goodwin, vice president; Edna Buckingham, secretary; Ella Bussell, treasurer. The committee chairmen were also elected and are as follows:

Program committee, Lillian Brown; membership committee, Kitty Born; social committee, Mary Rhoades; service committee, Dorothy Goodwin; music committee, Mildred Mickle; ways and means, Marie Janders.

The latter committee is a new one and was formed for the purpose of securing means of transporting the Tri-Hi girls to various rallies and conferences.

The meetings will be held every Thursday evening in the Methodist Church. From 7:30 to 8:00 we have a recreation period; and at 8:00 the devotional meeting is begun. Any of the Tri-Hi girls will tell you that we have lots of fun and that we learn to do things. All the girls of high school age are welcome. If you come once, you will come again. Come out Thursday evening and bring your thimble, for we are going to sew on garments for the poor. Miss Laura Kirkeby this year is assisting Miss Ida Harmon and Miss Ermyn Jewell in the conducting of the meetings.

JEWISH WOMEN HOLD FIRST FALL MEETING

Miss Sebon Gives Interesting Talk On Training School For Feeble-Minded at Vineland

The first regular fall meeting of the Burlington County Section, National Council of Jewish Women was held last week at the Burlington synagogue. Regular business was conducted by the president, Mrs. Saltzman, of Mount Holly.

The speaker was Miss Clarette Sebon, of the Training School for Feeble-Minded at Vineland. Her talk was most interesting and enlightened all to the need of collective interest in this cause. Mrs. M. Puro, of Beverly, who was to have given a talk on current events will lead the discussion at the meeting to be held January 11.

Arrangements are being made to hold a card party in the synagogue on Thursday evening, October 29. Refreshments will be served and prizes awarded. Members and friends are urged to attend as proceeds will be used for relief work and other charitable causes. This will be the first of a series of card parties to be held this season. Mrs. Glassman and Mrs. Chaiken are co-chairmen for Burlington.

An enjoyable social hour followed with Mrs. Polsky as hostess.

Riverton School Notes

On Tuesday, October 13, Mr. Lees came from the Curtis Publishing Company to talk to the children of the seventh and eighth grades about selling subscriptions. The eighth grade is the red team while the seventh is the green team. The losing team must give a party for the winers. Both team, of course, hope to win.

The assembly program of October 2 was mostly musical, consisting of a piano solo by Eleanor Friday and a violin duet by Charles Rader and Edward Smith. Kenneth Washington gave a report on his visit to the air races and William Good told about his collection of puzzles. Beatrice Muse also read a story about a family of immigrants written by Annie Glud.

The next program, October 16, was a Columbus Day program. Beatrice Muse read a poem entitled "Sail On". The six B entertained us by singing some songs. A poem "Columbus" was read by Bessie Hullings. We then had a piano solo by Doris Steedle.

On Wednesday the classes taught by Miss Justice and Miss Evaul visited the Moorestown airport. Seven mothers took them over and brought them back in their automobiles. They left about 10:30 and got back about 11:30. Mr. Roberts showed them around the field and told them the hanger was made of metal so it would not burn. One little boy asked if they hung the airplanes up in the hangar.

Last year's shop record showed that over two hundred twenty projects were made in manual training, ranging from desks to door-stops, metal work included. Some of these were model boats, smoking stands, whisk broom holders, cabinets, benches and lamps.

To the joy of the shop workers last year metal working equipment came to the school. We are now expecting to receive a wood working lathe.

Surely with this new equipment even more and better projects will be perfected.

NOVEMBER WEDDING FOR MISS THACHER

A wedding of interest to the younger set will take place in the Beverly Presbyterian Church on Saturday, November 14, when Miss Catherine Wallace Thacher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Thacher, of Edgewater Park, will became the bride of Benjamin H. Barrett, son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Barrett.

Miss Thacher will be given in marriage by her father and will be attended by her sister, Miss Frances Thacher, as maid of honor. The bridesmaids will be Miss Marion Biddle and Miss Nella Cameron, of Philadelphia, Miss Jean Ferguson, of Edgewater Park, Miss Josephine Logan and Miss Ruth Osborne, of Montclair, and Miss Joy Keezig, of New York.

Miss Helen Thacher, the bride-elect's young sister, and Miss Frances Rendall, of Beverly, will be flower girls.

The Rev. J. H. Rendall, pastor of the Beverly Presbyterian Church, will officiate.

Miss Thacher, who made her debut two years ago, is a graduate of St. Mary's Hall, Burlington, and of Wellesley College.

U. OF P. CHAPLAIN ADDRESSES P. T. A. ON 'LEADERSHIP'

Reception To Teachers and Members of Palmyra School Board Is Huge Success

WILL HOLD "SOCIETY CIRCUS" NOVEMBER 23

Miss Adaline Edson Gives Three Readings Which Are Greatly Enjoyed

The reception to teachers and members of the School Board held by the Palmyra Parent-Teacher Association in the high school building Tuesday evening proved a huge success in every way.

Mrs. Ira S. Pimm led the gathering in prayer and following that Miss Mary Johnson, music supervisor of the schools, led the meeting in song.

The address of welcome to teachers and members of the board was made by Mrs. Elias Toy, president of the association. Mrs. Toy told of the P. T. A.'s debt of gratitude to the board for the splendid work done by them. Those present gave a rising vote of thanks to those who had made the progress of the Palmyra school system during the past year so marked.

Prof. C. F. Dengler, supervising principal of the schools, spoke to the gathering. He told of the necessity for having the viewpoints of parents made known in the schools and asked all parents to visit the schools from time to time to meet the teachers and to co-operate in the caring for and educating of all children.

Durgin Speaks

Francis L. Durgin, Jr., president of the Palmyra board, stated that he was very proud of his position as president and said he was delighted with the co operation being received on all sides. Mr. Durgin mentioned the "Community Celebration" which is being planned for February 23 and expressed the hoped that the P. T. A. and school board would continue to work together on that and in other things as well.

It was voted to hold a Society Circus on Monday, November 23, the proceeds of which are to be turned over to the Welfare Department of the P. T. A. to be used in caring for needy school children during the coming winter.

A vocal duet by Elvin I. Powell and Mrs. William Miller was most thoroughly enjoyed. Mrs. Powell accompanied at the piano.

Mrs. Miller also sang four delightful Chinese lullabys. She was accompanied by Mrs. Robert Sims.

Miss Elizabeth Toy's room received the banner for having the largest number of parents present at the meeting.

Miss Adaline Edson, a Philadelphia artist, gave three excellent readings. They were "Homework", "Mason Dixon Line" and "Salome". These were greatly enjoyed by the audience.

Leadership Talk

The Rev. H. Ford Carr, chaplain of the University of Pennsylvania, was the principal speaker of the evening.

He gave a very splendid talk, which was most instructive and inspiring. In his address the Rev. Mr. Carr especially stressed leadership. He said "Leadership" is produced in the making of something else, it was not acquired by going out after it, but was a by-product, produced by actual learning.

He said genuine work, thought, ability, energy, knowledge and interest in people are the qualities which make for leadership in people.

Following the Rev. Mr. Carr's address, refreshments were served by the refreshment committee.

The members of the P. T. A. wish to take this opportunity to thank the High School Orchestra and the instructor, Miss Johnson, for the part they took in making the evening's program such a success.

COUNTY POSA HOLDS ELECTION OF OFFICERS

Association Enjoys First Meeting of Season As Guests of Rancocas Camp 155

Burlington County Association P.O.S. of A., held its first meeting of the new term at Rancocas last week as the guests of Camp No. 155. The following officers were elected: Past President, Howard Jarrett, of Bordentown; president, John Clevenger; vice president, Jessie Jones, of Rancocas; master of forms, George Evans, of Palmyra; secretary, Howard Jarrett, Bordentown; treasurer, Samuel Golder, of Mount Holly; conductor, Harold Russell, Mount Holy; inspector, Jessie Braddock, Camp No. 185; chaplain, William J. Carter, Delanco; trustees, Albert Jackson, of Mount Holly; George Evans, of Palmyra, and Isaac Farrow, of Haines-port; county correspondent, M. B. Robinson, Delanco.

The officers were installed by the state secretary, George W. Smith, of Phillipsburg. The state camp was represented by the state vice president, Leslie Reeves, of Palmyra; state secretary, George Smith; past state president, William Masdum, of Crosswicks, and past state president, Edward Baker, of Gloucester.

The past president was presented with a check for his good work.

Brother George Forester, of Marlton, was awarded first prize given by the state camp for obtaining the largest number of new members during the year. Mr. Forester's record is 36 members. Burlington county, for the first time in history, finished first in the attendance contest.

The start of the new membership drive for the year will begin with a boosters meeting to be held at Green Bank this Friday evening.

FEWER SHAD IN DELAWARE; MORE IN MAURICE RIVER

Shad fishermen in the Delaware valley experienced the worst season, this year, since the white man began to net these toothsome fish from that stream. A depression of the industry noticeable for several years, reached a new low record last spring, when, according to a report of Protector James M. Stratton to the New Jersey Fish and Game Commission, the entire catch of shad in Delaware river and bay was less than the value of the boats and equipment employed. In Maurice river, with its unpolluted waters, shad entering Delaware bay found conditions more to their liking and fishing in that stream reached its most prosperous season with a total catch of 22,500. In the entire Delaware bay opposite Salem and Cumberland counties, larger and more numerous nets took only 9364 shad.

PHI NU CLASS

If we have the courage of our convictions we can go far. Paul, assured by God that he need not fear, won many hearts to his cause. "Paul in Corinth," the lesson for discussion Sunday, October 25th, in the Presbyterian Sunday School, shows Paul leaving the Jews to preach to the Gentiles. Was this change of tactics beneficial to Paul's cause? Come in and join us. Let us hear your opinions on this subject. Everyone is welcome.

The first monthly meeting of this season will be held November 2d, at the home of Mrs. Raymond Bailey, 907 Highland avenue, Palmyra.

CO. REALTORS PLAN BIG ADV. CAMPAIGN

Objective of Extensive Program To be Education of the Public Mind.

The October meeting of the Burlington County Real Estate Board was held at Boxwood Lodge, Lumberton, last week.

Following the dinner, the realtors discussed various matters pertaining to the sale, purchase and ownership of real estate. Plans were formulated for an advertising campaign, having as its objective the education of the public mind to the true meaning of the term "Realtor", as distinguished from "real estate agent".

It was brought out that many people are still confused as to the difference in meaning between these terms, some thinking they are synonymous, where as in reality the word "Realtor" is the peculiar and exclusive name for an active member of a Real Estate Board, which in turn is a constituent member of the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

WESTON — SMITH

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Smith, formerly of "The Willows", Seventh street, Riverton, but now of Point Pleasant, have announced the marriage of their daughter, Miss Beatrice Florence to Mr. Edwin Carl Weston, of Los Angeles.

First Lutheran

(Rev. Harold L. Creager)

The celebration of our Tenth Anniversary is continuing throughout this week. Tonight is Community Night, and all our friends in the several churches of the two towns and in the whole community are cordially invited. The public is also heartily welcome at all the other services.

Tomorrow night, Friday, the Rev. Harry Saul and Dr. Daugherty will be with us, and their many friends will be happy in the opportunity of seeing and hearing them again.

The sermons at both services on Sunday will be appropriate to the occasion. In the morning worship the theme will be "Our Place in the Line of Christian Laborers"; in the evening, "Onward."

Next Monday evening the Light Brigade will hold a Hallowe'en social in the church basement, at 7 o'clock.

Next Tuesday afternoon and evening the Philadelphia Conference of the Women's Missionary Society will meet in Temple Lutheran Church, Delaware Gardens.

Wednesday evening this church will unite with several other Lutheran churches of the district in a Reformation Rally to be held in Temple Lutheran Church, Delaware Gardens. This is an unusual event, in celebration of the Protestant Reformation, started on October 31, 1517. A joint choir from the several churches, under the leadership of Lee Milton, music director of this church, will provide special music. An inspiring address and a helpful service are assured.

The Junior Department will hold a Hallowe'en social Saturday evening.

Mrs. Hughes has been appointed a teacher in the Primary Department.

The annual meeting of the Bible School will be held Tuesday evening, November 3. Supper will be served by the Woman's Society.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Probation After Death" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, October 25, 1931.

The Golden Text is: "Verily, verily, I say unto you, The hour is coming, and now is, when the dead shall hear the voice of the Son of God: and they that hear shall live" (John 5:25.)

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Know ye not that they which run in a race run all, but one receiveth the prize? So run, that ye may obtain" (I Corinthians 9:24.)

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Mortals move onward towards good or evil as time glides on. If mortals are not progressive, past failures will be repeated until all wrong work is effaced or rectified" (p. 240.)

Presbyterian

Calvary Presbyterian Church will hold its morning service of worship Sunday at 11 o'clock. Evening service at 8 and Christian Endeavor Society at 7 o'clock. All departments of the Church School will meet at 10 A. M.

RIVERTON AGAIN IN SCORELESS TIE

Harmonia Eleven Proves Equal Match for Holvick Eleven At Memorial Park

Riverton gridders clashed with the Harmony A. C., of Camden last Saturday at Memorial Park and again both elevens seemed evenly matched and the game was ended with a scoreless tie. Riverton took its opening game with Beverly and went into a scoreless tie with Burlington the week following. The jinx should be over this Saturday, however, for the Riverton eleven will prance upon the field resplendant in new uniforms ready to gobble up the strong Roebling Bulldogs. Sunday the team travels to Camden to play the Pendale A. C. Manager Holvick predicts that both of these games will be good ones and will merit a large attendance.

P. H. S. VICTOR IN HOCKEY MATCH

"Pals" Win Hard Fought Battle Against Moorestown High School Maids

The Palmyra High School Hockey Maids continued to remain on even terms with Woodbury High, the defending champions, in quest of the 1931 South Jersey Girls' Hockey League Championship, when they won a hard fought battle against Moorestown High on Wednesday of last week.

The "Pals" had a struggle in disposing of the Moorestown Maids, eking out a 1-0 victory in the opening half of the game. Only a "stonewall" defense kept the Quakers from at least deadlocking the score.

With three weeks having now gone by the boards, it appears as if the race for championship will be between Palmyra, Woodbury and Collingswood, all three of which are tied for first place.

PALMYRA BIG RED IN SCORELESS TIE

Breaks of Game Prevent Touchdown Against Laurel Springs Eleven

The Palmyra Big Red played a scoreless game with the V. F. W. Post 214 from Laurel Springs last Saturday on the Palmyra High School field. The local boys out-rushed the visitors, scoring eleven first downs against three and held possession of the ball practically three-fourths of the playing time.

On three occasions the Jackets carried the ball from deep in home territory to within "goal to go" limits. These drives were made possible by a baffling variation of plays. With Potje as protection, Reagle threw short passes to Williams, Haines and Brookshaw. End runs with Potje and Brookshaw carrying the ball and linebucks by Reagle completed the repertoire of plays. Each time the "breaks" in the form of a fumble and two passes grounded back of the goal line, lost possession of the ball for the Williams' boys.

On the defense the Big Red could not be moved. The ends worked much better this week, turning in the man with the ball for the backs to stop. From tackle to tackle the "Veterans" could not find a hole in the Red line. The backs found little trouble batting down enemy passes and Reagle's punts had twenty yards more distance than the visitors' best attempts.

Due to a misunderstanding the game with Haddonfield for this Saturday was postponed until later in the season. The Kensington P. R. R. Y. M. C. A. has been secured to fill the date. The "Railroaders" are a well trained and uniformed squad, anxious to make their first appearance in Palmyra. A real game should result when these two teams clash on the high school field Saturday afternoon.

CAMDEN BOOKS WRESTLING KING

DeGlane, Heavyweight Champ, Defends Title Against Zarynoff Monday Night

In what promises to be the most interesting match ever staged in the Camden wrestling ring, Promoter Charlie Grip is bringing together next Monday evening in the South Jersey metropolis two of the greatest figures on the mat today, Henri DeGlane, the sensational French ex-Olympic champion who several months ago beat the then titleholder, Ed "Strangler" Lewis, for the crown, and one of his most outstanding challengers, Count George Zarynoff, the Ukranian wrestling marvel. The Count needs no introduction to fans in this section, he having appeared many times during the past year in Camden with sensational success, and he has hosts of admirers and backers among Jersey mat addicts.

The burly Frenchman has clear claim to the one and only won-in-the-ring heavyweight championship of the world, all other claimants of his title having won theirs behind closed doors in commission offices, followed by elimination tournaments with hand-picked opponents.

PALMYRA HIGH WINS OVER FREEHOLD 6-0

Palmyra High's football team remained in the race for the South Jersey Class B championship by taking the Freehold High gridders over the hurdles on Saturday afternoon by the score of 6-0.

Palmyra gained possession of the ball on its own 48-yard line and a pass from Lenker to Zaun was good for 23 yards. After failing to gain on two line plays Lenker tossed an aerial to Reynolds for a touchdown.

Freehold managed to work its way within the Palmyra 10-yard line on two occasions but the "Pals" withstood the attack and gained the ball on downs. The "Pals" also had two other chances to score but failed.

Palmyra		Freehold

G. E. BROADCASTS

C. R. Sweeney, Inc. General Electric refrigerator dealer of Palmyra, announced today that the new million dollar General Electric radio program, the "G-E Circle," will be broadcast every weekday except Saturday at 12:00 o'clock noon, over a nation-wide hookup of 54 N.B.C. stations.

Broadcasts will be in 15-minute periods and will be directed by Miss Grace Ellis, General Electric hostess, and probably will feature such nationally known personalities as Mary Roberts Rhinehart, Emily Post, world famous artists, in addition to members of the editorial staffs of the Women's Home Companion, Delineator, Pictorial Review, Woman's Home Journal, Good Housekeeping, and McCall's magazine.

Each program will be opened by Theodore Webb, N.B.C. baritone, singing the musical signature, "Song by the Fireside." These weekday broadcasts, which will be for the particular benefit of the housewife and homemaker, will be augmented every Sunday evening between 5:30 and 6:00 p. m. with what will be known as the General Electric "Twilight Hour."

PEOPLE ORGANIZE TO FIGHT TAXES

Property Owners of State in Desperate Plight, Clinton L. Bardo Says

A Burlington County Taxpayers' Association was organized at a public meeting held at the court house in Mount Holly on Thursday night of last week.

The court room was crowded with an assemblage of over three hundred, most of them influential men and women of the county, taxpayers who are determined to do their part toward the movement to bring about a tolerable taxation and check what has developed to be a confiscatory levying upon the funds of the rich and poor alike.

An awakening to the situation came with the statement of Clinton L. Bardo, president of the New York Shipbuilding Company and president of the New Jersey Taxpayers' Association, when he said that there are $60,000,000 of taxes in default because the people can't handle the financial load that has been put upon them for the maintenance of their governmental affairs. Mr. Bardo also asked: "Who is going to pay for this default except the taxpayers, the people who actually pay the assessments made upon them. Surely the people who pay their taxes are going to have the extra burden put upon them in the long run. It is not the people who don't pay their taxes."

Fears Bankruptcy

Mr. Bardo went on to say that no people can hope to survive this onslaught upon their funds. "We cannot hope to keep out of bankruptcy," said Mr. Bardo, "if we continue to let our officials spend more than our income. Our present laws permit the borrowing and spending of money in anticipation of taxes, and we thus have a definite amount spent before we know whether we are going to receive enough to offset it. It is not a sound business principle. No real business man would borrow and spend money on an anticipated uncertainty. Our governmental affairs are our business, and certainly we want common sense applied to them.

"In the past seven years New Jersey has been following a wild course, and we are organizing for the purpose of turning these speed boys off the road to rocks and on to safety," continued Mr. Bardo. "The taxes on our plant in Camden have gone up 51 per cent. in the past four years, and lots of others have probably gone up in the same proportion. The tendency is to cripple industry. We find that taxes have affected our competition with similar concerns doing business in other states and not subjected to such outrageous conditions. When our company reached the point when we thought we would have to move we realized that something had to be done to save the industry, and that is one reason why I am giving so much of my time to the state association, not that I can spare it, but because I think it is a good work to benefit the people now and in the future.

Too Much Politics

"There is too much politics in business," Mr. Bardo continued. "Political machines are always maintained at the expense of the taxpayers. We've got to eliminate political influence in the conduct of sound business that is necessary for the general welfare of the country. There are too many officials, too many municipal departments to maintain. The way some places are officialed I am not surprised that the money borrowed for the taxpayers to pay is in some places 90 per cent. in excess of the legal limit.

"People, up to this time, have not been sufficiently interested to have county and state organizations through which they could get information they wanted on all public questions involving the expenditure of their money. There was plenty of evidence of this fact when only 12 per cent. of the registered voters voted on the $100,000,000 bond issue of the state, putting it over by a very small majority of the voices and votes of the people. The awakening has brought about our state organization and organizations in eighteen counties.

"We must find some more effective method of controlling public expenditures. Too many municipalities are defaulting in their interest and affecting their credit. We need in New Jersey something like a Comptroller-General, such as they have in the United States Treasury. He is an appointed official who directs an analysis of proposed expenditures and tells the people about their condition of affairs and ability to pay. He has an effective power of veto when the evidence is in support of his contention that propositions are all wrong and dangerous. I would make things so binding upon extravagant officials that they would have to get the approval of at least 50 per cent. of the registered voters for authority to spend money.

Mustn't "Soak" Anybody

Let me tell you very strongly that I am opposed to soaking the rich, not because I may be rich, but because such a proceeding would be unsound and would start a drifting away from the ideals that have served to make the United States great. Soaking anybody would be unjust. The burdens must be borne by the masses, and I am convinced that there is not a man with red blood in his veins who is not willing to stand his share of taxes if he can be satisfied that public money has been wisely and honestly spent, with full return for the investment made."

The meeting at which this much and more was brought out was called by Norman F. S. Russell, president of the United States Cast Iron Pipe and Foundry Company in Burlington, and Burlington county's vice-president in the New Jersey Taxpayers' Association. Mr. Russell said that he began to take a lively interest in taxation matters after finding out that of the eight states in which his company operates New Jersey puts on the heaviest burden, being 60 per cent. higher in taxation per ton output than any other state. In outlining the purpose of the meeting and giving some of his views, Mr. Russell said:

"When Mr. Bardo first approached me on the subject of the New Jersey Taxpayers' Association some two years ago he found me in a mood of indignant, but impotent protest. I had been studying with rising indignation the steady increase, year after year, in the assessments, rates and total tax bill of my company. Protests had been futile and a useless waste of time—they were answered by many excuses but few reasons, and I felt myself buffled like an infant crying in the night and with no language but a cry. I felt that the New Jersey Taxpayers' Association offered a possible solution, and during the last two years my contact with this organization has convinced me that a non-political, investigating and advisory association, such as this body, is the only business-like approach to the solution of our tax problems.

One-sixth of Income

"There has grown in the last few years, especially since the war and possibly as an outgrowth of the war, a feeling in the public mind that our government or political subdivisions are money or profit-making institutions, with unlimited resources. This state of mind is apparent in the actions of some of our political representatives, who have fostered the ideas that the functions of business and individual effort can be replaced by government bureaus and decrees. In furtherance of this idea a large number of individuals have found places on the public payroll, so that today, according to the Nation's Business, one person out of every eleven gainfully employed is on the public payroll and has to be supported by all the rest. Only a few years ago the allotment was one person for every twenty-two. So rapidly is it mounting, statisticians tell us, that if the present rate continues 1953 will find one person on the tax payroll for every single individual working to provide that payroll. This percentage of one in eleven on the public payroll gives a very large power lodged in a well-organized minority to perpetuate themselves and to sway elections, particularly bond issues, as we can see by analyzing the vote on the $100,000,000 at the last state election.

"Today the tax collector demands from every man, woman and child in the United States the equivalent of one day's labor each week, fifty-two days a year, or approximately one-sixth of their labor days, and really a much higher percentage of the labor days of the working population, as the statistics include children.

Everybody Pays

"A one-time resident of our county, Benjamin Franklin wrote 'Nothing is certain but death and taxes.' Few will dispute the inevitability of death, but how many times do we hear someone said 'I don't own property and taxes mean nothing to me,' and this fallacy as to who pays taxes has probably done more than any other single thing to pile the tax burden higher. If there is a single human being in the United States who does not pay taxes he must be without food, clothing or shelter—he cannot pay rent, smoke, carry insurance, ride in automobiles, on railroad trains or street cars; he must be without wages or support of any kind, for taxes are included in the price that is paid to supply the simplest or most primitive want of any citizen of the United States.

"We might say of taxes and tax problems what Mark Twain said about the weather—'Everybody talks about it, but no one does anything.' The problem is almost as complex as the weather, and our laws have so added to the complexity that it has become a job for specialists to unravel and reduce it to the basic principle of the cost of government, which is subject to our control. Government was established by men for the common good, and good government was and is an asset to the individual as well as the community, but needlessly expensive government is fast becoming an intolerable liability and will so become if present tax and public payroll tendencies are not checked. In correcting this situation we must first put our community tax houses in order. We, therefore, plan in this county organization to have a committee of three in each of the thirty-eight taxing districts of the county. These committeemen will familiarize themselves with the tax situation in their district and, through the county organization with its fifteen directors from various sections of the county, will be able to compare and analyze their situation with those in other districts. The county organization through the state organization will have information as to the situation in other counties.

"The State Association is interested in the problem of the state as a whole."

After the meeting the Directors organized and elected the following officers: President, Norman F. S. Russell; Vice President, James S. Coale. Secretary and Treasurer, Charles Coles.

Committees representing the various taxing districts of the county were named.

W. J. PICKETT GIVES REPORT ON WORK OF A PHILADA. MISSION

A very interesting account of work done by the Helping Hand Rescue Mission Inc., of 141 Fairmount avenue, Philadelphia, has been given this paper by William J. Pickett, of 609 Lincoln avenue, Palmyra, who is superintendent.

A detailed account of work during the past year follows: 38,000 people were fed. 800 baskets of groceries were given needy families. 7,000 garments were distributed among 1,200 people. 300 pairs of shoes were given.

31,200 men and women visited the mission. 2,496 workers and speakers also visited the mission. 7,300 children attended Sunday School at the mission. 2,860 girls attended the Tuesday night religious classes. 480 boys attended similar classes held on Thursday nights. 2,800 children attended the "Happy Hour Social" held once a month. 160 students attended the Bible Schools, where they are taught the art of public speaking. 700 children enjoyed the free outings held during the summer months.

5,000 loaves of bread were distributed during the months of August, September and October.

Milk, medicine, and furniture have also been given to the needy poor during these months.

Mr. Pickett reports that not one worthy case has been turned down during the past year. Each case is thoroughly investigated.

NOTED EDUCATOR TO SPEAK FRIDAY

Angelo Patri To Deliver Lecture at Riverside High School

The second of the course of lectures for the benefit of the Student Aid Fund is booked for the Riverside High School auditorium this Friday night, when Angelo Patri, consulting educator, who writes on teacher and pupil problems, and is one of the outstanding educational leaders in the United States, will be the speaker.

Following are some of the characteristic sayings of Mr. Patri:

"When a child is bad-tempered, unreasonable, naughty, his need is for relief, not punishment. There is a reason for his demonstration and the same thing to do is to find the reason and remove the irritating cause."

"My experience with Sunday schools has given me a great deal of sympathy with the boys. Here and there one finds Sunday schools that are well-organized, have a course of study, graded classes, and trained teachers. These schools have no, or very little, trouble in holding their pupils. But I regret to say such Sunday schools are in the minority."

"When the nine-year-old covers you with confusion, hide it. Suppose he did come into the living room where you were entertaining the most hoighty-toighty of them all and, without a glance in her direction, fell upon you with dirty paws, grabbed a confection, stuffed it into his mouth and demanded in a choking voice that he be given permission to go to Billy Bunty's house. What of it"?

Special added features will be a fine musical program by the pupils of the Cinnaminson school, with Florence Owens, soloist.

Mrs. Roger Pennock, of Medford, and Miss Kate Kimble, of Lumberton, are two who have tickets for the lecture for sale.

STICKS TO BUGGY

Birmingham.—All because the city garbage inspector wouldn't graduate from his horse and buggy, the city had to buy one for him to pursue his duties. J. P. Ziegler is the collector and he wouldn't use an automobile under any condition. He prefers his horse and buggy, he says, because it always takes him where he wants to go and brings him back.

WOMAN'S CLUB HEARS ALDEN G. ALLEY SPEAK

The luncheon given by the Palmyra Woman's Club Monday was thoroughly enjoyed by many members and their friends.

Those present were delighted with the solos rendered by Mrs. Ralph S. Rivers, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Alfred VanOsten.

Alden G. Alley, who has recently returned from a League conference at Geneva, told of the work of the conference in a most interesting manner.

He said this world of ours is just a big neighborhood and that every successful neighborhood must have first a law-making body, second a court and third, adequate police protection.

SECOND MEETING ON NEW SCHOOL

Riverton Board Submits New Plans and Costs to Citizens' Committee

The second joint meeting between the Riverton Board of Education and the Citizens' Committee appointed by that body to confer with the board on the subject of better school facilities for Riverton was held in the school auditorium last Monday night.

The board submitted a revised plan for remodeling the present building including fireproof halls, fireproofing the stairways, a new heating and ventilating plant and twelve additional class rooms at a cost of $148,422 including necessary furniture and equipment.

Stanley Stewart, the architect retained by the School Board, submitted drawings showing the details of this plan. Mr. Stewart also showed revised plans of a new building on a new site at a cost of $200,000 including ground, furniture and equipment, and it was estimated that the cost of grading and constructing new streets would be between $8,000 and $10,000.

The board reported that the Parry family would not consider selling the homestead or the grove of trees adjoining it, but it was believed they would sell the corner lot at Main and Eighth streets. This lot contains about two acres and would be too small for school purposes.

Cost of Adjacent Ground

The board further reported that owners of properties on Howad street opposite the school building had asked $22,000 and that the four on Fifth street in front of the school could be purchased for $25,000. The houses on Fourth street back of the school were reported to be not for sale and $6,000 had been asked for one-half of a twin dwelling on Howard street.

Mrs. Mayfield, president of the board of education, asked the committee if they thought it would be wise to reconstruct the present building at approximately $175,000 including adjacent ground, when a new building could be erected on a new site at $200,000.

"Financial Suicide," Says Woolman

Walter K. Woolman, a member of the Citizens' Committee and chairman of the Finance Committee of the Riverton Borough Council, made a statement as to the financial condition of the borough the large number of taxes which remain unpaid, and the amount of money council had been obliged to borrow in order to meet current expenses. Mr. Woolman said he did not think Riverton could afford a $200,000 school building at this time and that to saddle any such sum on the taxpayers under present conditions would be financial suicide.

PORCH CLUB NOTES

The legislative department arranged for viewpoints on the Welfare Bills and other issues of interest and importance to women to be presented by the Hon. Clifford R. Powell, Republican and Grover C. Richman, Democrat, on October 27, in the auditorium of the Riverton school, to which the public was invited.

Senator Powell was unable to be present because of the milk situation in the state and the unemployment problem were coming before the legislature this week, so Isador Worth, assistant U. S. district attorney, took his place. He was an enthusiastic speaker for his party and urged the people of South Jersey to vote for Mr. Baird as our interests and his are so identical.

The Democratic side of the matter was presented by Ralph W. Westcott, of Haddonfield, who urged us to vote the Democratic ticket because their candidate has been tried and found true.

November 3, the garden department will meet at 10 a. m. in the Presbyterian Sunday School and William H. Taplin will be the speaker. At 2:30 a business meeting will be followed by an address by Mrs. George Emerson Barnes, entitled "The Art of Book Reviewing", also at the Presbyterian Sunday School.

SIDNEY A. SILBERMAN
popular biographer, who will conduct a series of views and previews of the activities of the various business and professional interest in Riverton

SPECIAL FEATURE WRITER ENGAGED FOR ERA STAFF

Sidney A. Silbermen Is Chosen To Sketch Prominent Men of County

The marked growth and development of the New Era in the last few years has been the subject of comment by leading business men and citizens of Burlington County. Its expansion in circulation, advertising and news interest has mainly been due to the efforts of the management to secure and maintain an organization of the highest type and to serve well the community.

In pursuit of this principle, it has secured the services of one of the best known biographical editors in the country, Sidney A. Silberman, president of the National News Service, Inc., of Philadelphia, who comes to this office for the purpose of inaugurating and promoting a special new feature which will appear regularly under the caption of "Thur the Eyes of the Press," a chronology of men who have achieved success.

This column, which will be conducted exclusively by Mr. Silberman through the editorial department, will contain from week to week specially written biographical sketches of the leading and prominent professional and business men of this section of New Jersey.

Mr. Silberman has had sixteen years' experience in the editorial rooms of some of the leading newspapers of the country and for many years has been president of the National News Service, Inc., a news and feature organization of national reputation.

CARD PARTY NOV. 19 TO BENEFIT PALMYRA NEEDY DURING WINTER

Palmyra's unemployed and needy will be cared for this winter with funds to be raised by the Borough Council, individuals and organizations throughout the town.

The first big event to be held in an effort to raise money for the benefit of the Palmyra Welfare Committee will be a card party to be held in the P. O. S. of A. Hall Thursday evening, November 19, at eight o'clock.

Each and every merchant and business man in Palmyra will be called upon to contribute a prize for the card playing, or give a cash donation to help the cause. A valuable door prize will be awarded also.

The general public is cordially invited to attend the event and admission will be for the nominal charge of fifty cents. Bridge, pinochle and five hundred will be played.

A CHECK FOR $4.50

was received at this office four weeks ago in payment for a subscription.

It was signed Sara A. Furbush. Will the party who left the check at The New Era please advise whose subscription it pays for.

MRS. LANE ENTERTAINS

The Ladies' Aid Society of Calvary Presbyterian Church held a "Gold Bag" covered dish luncheon in the social hall of the church last Wednesday afternoon. Those present enjoyed the talk given by Mrs. Nathan Lane on "Housekeeping in Bolivia." This talk was based on Mrs. Lane's residence in that country and was highly entertaining.

WHAT 'COUNTY WELFARE' MEANS

Act Gives Freeholders Power To Assess Extra Taxes When Needed

Wide powers are given to the County Welfare Board, created by the County Welfare Board Act passed this year.

This county relief work, however, applies only in counties which adopt it at the election on Tuesday.

It is on the ballot under Public Questions and reads as follows: "A Supplement to an Act entitled 'An Act for the settlement and relief of the poor and providing for municipal, county or joint county relief, excepting from county or joint county relief municipalities (Revision of 1924)', approved March eleventh, one thousand nine hundred and twenty four, as said title was amended as here given by act approved June thirtieth, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one.

There is grave question of the advisability of injecting politics into welfare work, which has been successfully handled by private subscription and distribution.

The New Jersey State League of Municipalities has sent the following letter to the governing bodies throughout the state, pointing out some of the dangers of this proposition:

Mayor Howard M. Rogers,
Riverton, N. J.

My dear Mayor:

Without presuming to make any recommendation to you in the matter of the County Welfare Board proposal which will be voted upon at the next election, I wish to call to your attention one feature of the Act which you may not have noticed.

The County Welfare Board Act, Chapter 373, P. L. 1931 has been amended by Chapter 393, P. L. 1931 so as to make it mandatory upon each municipal governing body to provide additional relief appropriations upon demand of the County Welfare Board when the original appropriation has been exhausted. And if the municipality fails to appropriate such additional sum, the Board of Chosen Freeholders may make an emergency appropriation and shall assess and collect a special tax in such municipality sufficient for this purpose.

The language of Chapter 393 is in part as follows: "When any such sum so appropriated has been expended or exhausted, during the year and for the purpose for which it was appropriated, the county welfare board shall notify the governing body of such municipality, which shall provide for the continuance of such relief of the temporary or outdoor poor residing in such municipality, for the balance of the calendar or fiscal year, by an additional appropriation for this purpose, to be made available to the order of the county welfare board of the county wherein such municipality is situated. Any unexpended balance of such municipal appropriation shall be carried over and made available for the relief of the temporary or outdoor poor within such municipality for the next ensuing year. When any such municipality fails to appropriate an additional sum for this purpose, the board of chosen freeholders shall provide for the relief of the temporary or outdoor poor of such municipality for the remainder of the calendar or fiscal year by an emergency appropriation on certification thereof by the county welfare board, and shall assess and collect a special tax in such municipality sufficient to meet and pay for such emergency appropriation made by the said board of chosen freeholders for the relief of the temporary or outdoor poor of such municipality, in the same manner as other county taxes are assessed and collected in the municipalities of such county."

Yours very truly,
SEDLEY H. PHINNEY,
Director.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY AND DANCE BY K. of C.

Children's Party Will Be Given in Basement of Home at the Same Time

St. Joseph's Council K. of C. has completed arrangements for the annual Masquerade Dance and Party this Friday evening, October 30, at the K. of C. Home, Broad and Elm avenue.

William J. Eck, chairman, announces a new feature this year in the form of a children's party in the basement while the others are frolicking on the dance floor above. Numerous prizes will be awarded to the fancy, comic, original and character costumes, in addition to the door prize and special prizes for the children.

PHI NU CLASS

Through November we still follow Paul's course as a missionary. As this Sunday is "World's Temperance Sunday," such is the title of the lesson for discussion. This is a subject of much interest to everyone, and especially to women, as they are the ones to benefit by temperance. We welcome all who are interested.

The first monthly meeting of the season will be held on Monday evening, November 2, at the home of Mrs. Raymond Bailey, 907 Highland avenue, Palmyra.

Publicity Committee.

ROLL CALL OPENS ON ARMISTICE DAY

Miss Alice P. Lippincott, Chairman of Red Cross Drive Here

Miss Alice F. Lippincott will have charge of the fifteenth annual roll call of the American National Red Cross in Riverton this year. The roll call begins on Armistice Day and is supposed to end on Thanksgiving.

Six hundred memberships have been assigned as the quota for Riverton, which is none too large considering its population.

Miss Lippincott will be assisted by a corps of good workers, who will make a house-to-house canvass.

During the coming year the Red Cross will be called upon to lend its support to a peacetime program of distress. The Red Cross has pledged itself to care for the families of the unemployed ex service men in the county in so far as it is possible, thus relieving local unemployment committees of that feature of the depression existing at this time.

RIVERTON POLICE HAVE BUSY WEEK

Larceny, Disorderly Conduct, Concealed Weapon, Drunk Case, Fill Docket

The vigilance of the Riverton police force goes on unabated. Robinson opened the activity when he saw a suspicious looking youth on the station platform Saturday night. He approached the youth, who gave his name as Steve Guszdly, age 14, of 284 Fulton street, Woodbridge. Not satisfied with his appearance he searched the boy and found a .38 calibre revolver, 15 bullets, a cheap watch, two cheap rings and 31 cents.

The boy was committed to the Camden County Juvenile Detention House at 43rd and Madison avenues, Camden, to await a call from Judge Rigg at Mount Holly.

On complaint of Mary Tyler, Grover Wilkinson, age 23, Louis Jackson, age 19, and Reynolds Moerell, all of East Riverton, were arrested by Officer Gootes for disorderly conduct last Sunday.

These boys, in a stone-throwing fray, hit Russell Tyler in the head, inflicting a serious cut over the left eye. They were given a hearing before Recorder Cecil A. Bowers and were released on six months' probation after paying court costs of $3.00 each.

Eugene Saunders, colored, of East Riverton, age 43, was arrested Sunday by Officer Gootee and charged with larceny of goods from the factory of R. S. Green, East Riverton.

A search warrant served by Officer Gootee revealed that Saunders had taken and had in his possession, a lot of carpenter's and pumber's tools, two office chairs, one clothes tree, 5 gallons of linseed oil and half of an extension ladder.

At a hearing before Recorder Cecil A. Bowers, Saunders was committed to the Mount Holly jail in default of $500.00 bail to await action by the Grand Jury.

Officer Robinson spotted a car coming down Broad street one o'clock Monday morning in an uncertain fashion. He halted the car and discovered its occupants under the influence of liquor.

Veronica Mekis, driving and accompanied by her husband, gave their address as 6818 Rising Sun avenue, Philadelphia. Taken before Dr. Harry L. Rogers, police physician, the driver was pronounced drunk and was fined $221.00 by Recorder Bowers.

In default of the fine she was transported to the Mount Holly jail and by 6.30 a. m. her husband had returned to Mount Holly with the money to secure her release.

COLLISION

When Norman Kay, who is employed on the William S. Parry farm in Cinnaminson, stopped his car to pick up a friends last night the rear end of his car was damaged. Harry Salmon, of 114 East Main street, Moorestown, who was driving behind him in the rain, could not avoid the collision and did considerable damage to the front of his car. The accident happened on the Moorestown-Riverton road near the Westfield School. Officers Gootee and Robinson of the Riverton police responded to the call but reported no injuries sustained by either party.

AN EDITORIAL

BAIRD ON TAX REDUCTION

In writing this article the editor is not appealing to rabid partisans—either Democratic or Republican.

Rather, he is asking the attention of sincere men and women who desire to place in office men best equipped to deal with the affairs of our State and Nation in these difficult times.

Present-day conditions call for men of more than average ability, men of independent thought, with the vision to see the right and the courage and practical knowledge of affairs to carry out their convictions.

The selection of a governor for New Jersey is freighted with grave responsibilities.

In the governor's hands rests to a very large degree an efficient State Government and the reduction of taxes which is so sorely needed.

On the reduction of taxes David Baird, Jr., Republican candidate for Governor, has declared himself as follows:

"The real problems of taxation that we are facing are those of local governments. Local government cost increased in the ten year period between 1916 and 1926, 204%. During the same period, the municipal debt increased 400%, or from $200,000,000 to $800,000,000. This debt is growing at the rate of $72,000,000 per year, and in 1931 the cost of local government in New Jersey will approximate $300,000,000 and our bonded debt will reach a billion.

"Our taxing system must be re-established on the basis of the ability of the taxpayer to pay, and in just proportion to the value of the protection and service he receives from his government.

"The general property tax must be changed at once, and this burden that is confiscating homes, causing farms to be abandoned and that is driving business out of the State, must be substantially reduced.

"When I am elected Governor, I will immediately call a conference of home owners, representatives of taxpayers' associations, business men, manufacturers, building and loan leaders and civic organizations, to study this whole problem and consider plans and proposals for tax relief. I will ask that a conference be held to formulate a definite plan of action and that such a plan shall be ready for legislative consideration next January. I will use the full influence of the office of Governor to the end that adequate and sound tax legislation and public expenditures control shall be enacted in 1932.

"There is more promise of working out a tax adjustment program than there ever has been before. Public officials who have been careless or extravagant in expending the taxpayers' money have been brought face to face with the stern realities of their folly. There is an ever-increasing number of burdened taxpayers who demand relief.

"There is another very promising indication in the organization of taxpayers' associations throughout the State. These associationss have attracted many thinking citizens, who, I am convinced, are banded together in real earnestness to render all assistance in their power to the solution of this problem.

"This whole problem demands courageous thought and courageous action. Whether we like it or not we have a situation that demands action and I propose that action shall be had."

WILL VOTE ON WELFARE BILL

To Express Approval or Disapproval of New System On November 3

The following letter was received last week by Mayor George N. Wimer, of Palmyra:

CITY OF TRENTON, NEW JERSEY
Department of Public Affairs
October 22, 1931.

My dear Mr. Mayor:

At the election on November 3rd the voters in your county will express their approval or disapproval of the contemplated plan for the creation of a new system of welfare work, in accordance with an act passed by the Legislature of 1931. If the innovation is adopted it means the administration of welfare work will be transferred from municipalities to county governments.

Here in Mercer county I am leading a vigorous campaign against the referendum. Our relief department is an admirable organization, developed along most scientific lines and providing a maximum of effective service during these crucial days of unemployment and economic distress. Our Trenton Municipal Colony Hospitals, which to a great extent also would be disturbed if this unpardonable invasion of the principle of Home Rule were adopted, is a model settlement which has won commendation from the American College of Surgeons. It is to safeguard these valuable municipal assets and to prevent the imposition of unnecessary tax burdens upon the electorate of Mercer county that I am opposing the county welfare plan.

I presume that similar conditions exist in your community; therefore, I urge that you conduct an intensive campaign against the change. In this county the leaders of both political parties are openly arrayed against the program and members of our Board of Freeholders have publicly issued statements expessing their opposition. Trenton's governing board will adopt resolutions advising the voters to defeat the referendum.

I outline these measures as a guide for your community to follow. If you are against the annihilation of self-government and dislike to see a bureaucracy of paternalism established in this state, I am sure you will give this proposition no quarter and exert every influence to have the voters of your district emphatically protest against the scheme on November 3rd.

Yours very truly,
FRED'K W. DONNELLY,
Mayor.

Cinnaminson P. T. A. Notes

Two carloads of PTA members and their friends attended the well planned county council meeting at Juliustown on the twenty-first. The wonderful weather, inspiring talks, interesting business and the exceedingly good lunch served by the local association, all combined to make a worthwhile day.

The week at Cinnaminson school was a busy one. The sub-primary class made bread under Miss Stewart's direction. Each child took a part in mixing and stirring, and the finished product, baked in the lunch room, was proudly carried home to mother. These mothers cooperated beautifully by their praise, and by asking for the recipe.

Miss Bryan and the PTA visitor were not forgotten, and the latter was delighted both by the remembrance and the call made by the entire grade when it was delivered. One loaf was sent to the lunch room to be sold, the matron being promised a commission for handling it, the first step in finance for this grade.

One of the teachers took a committee from the eighth grade to visit the cranberry bogs, a report being made upon their return. The sixth grade visited the University Museum to study Egyptian treasures.

On Friday the school repeated the Russian play, given as part of the "Pageant of Nations" last spring, for the benefit of the Student Loan Fund prior to the lecture, by Angelo Patri at Riverside, remaingin for the lecture.

Visitors during the week were a party of women, including Mrs. Jones and Miss LeConey, who wished to see the lunch room and the state fire inspector. In both school No. 1 and No. 2 the buildings were vacated in minimum time and the efficiency of the fire drill was warmly commended.

The children are enjoying and profiting by the musical appreciation hour, given every two weeks over the radio and conducted by Prof. Walter Damrosch.

PRESS CHAIRMAN.

COME AND SEW

At the Westfield Friends' Meeting House each Monday at 10 a. m. for Welfare. Box luncheon. Everyone welcome.

BALLOT INTEREST CENTRES IN FIGHT ON GOVERNORSHIP

Battle Between Baird and Moore to be Decided at Polls Tuesday

G. O. P. HOPES TO BEAT "JINX" OF "OFF YEARS"

Burlington County Expected to Roll Up Usual Big Republican Majority

The state election next Tuesday will be marked by one of the most bitter fights between two major parties in the history of New Jersey.

David Baird, Jr., the outstanding Republican leader of the state, is pitted against former Governor A. Harry Moore, Democratic candidate, in a memorable struggle for the governorship.

Governors are elected every three years in New Jersey causing the gubernatorial election to occur in different years from the presidential election three times out of four. The Democrats for years have won the governorship in "off years," while the Republicans have won virtually every time the election coincides with the national vote for president.

This is an "off year" and the Republicans have been straining every fibre to break the tradition of Democratic success at such times. For some years it has been felt that the Republican "dry" stand has handicapped the party in battles with "wet" Democrats. This year it is thought that this issue has been successfully bridged and it is hoped that the wet and dry issue will not turn the scales so decisively in favor of the Democratic candidate as in the past.

Mr. Baird has based his campaign upon his qualifications as a business man and stands on a platform of economy and tax reduction. The Republicans attack Mr. Moore as being the tool of Democratic "Boss" Hague, of Jersey City.

Burlington county is expected to turn in the usual big Republican majority to help Mr. Baird offset the Democratic lead in North Jersey. County Republican candidates always win without difficulty.

In Palmyra Walter D. Lamon is the unopposed Republican candidate for mayor, to succeed Mayor George N. Wimer.

Mayor Wimer and Floyd W. Spahr are Republican candidates for the two vacancies in Borough council. They are opposed by Walter C. Cummings. William L. Fichter is Republican candidate to succeed himself as Justice of the Peace.

There are no contests in Riverton or Cinnaminson Township.

REPUBLICANS WILL TOUR THE COUNTY

Baird and Other Candidates Will be in Procession Next Monday

Next Monday, November 2, Republicans will make a tour of Burlington County, starting at the Court House, Mount Holly, at 8 o'clock.

David Baird, Jr., Congressman Bacharach all the Republican candidates and many prominent Republicans will be in the procession.

Free luncheon will be served at Riverside for all who participate.

Everybody is invited to join the tour and make an enthusiastic procession for Baird's victory.

THRU THE EYES OF THE PRESS

With SIDNEY A. SILBERMAN Biographical Editor

A Chronology of Men Who Have Achieved Success

HENRY A. DREER SEED FIRM IS LOCAL PRIDE

Ninety-four Years of Productive Existence Is Pride of Jacob Eisele, President

MAINTAIN RETAIL STORE IN PHILA.

The growth of Riverton has been paralleled by the astounding expansion of one corporation which needs no introduction to the readers of The New Era. Ninety-four years ago, a young horticulturist by the name of Henry A. Dreer established in our town, a seed and plant nursery. By means of hard work and sound business policies, that same firm stands today as a perpetual monument to the ability and energy which characterized the efforts of that early adventurer into the realms of commerce.

Recognized throughout this country and in many foreign parts as one of the foremost firms of its type in existence, the Henry A. Dreer Corporation, whose laboratories and plant are located at Fourth and Fulton streets, is identified with the cultivation and distribution of not only spawn and seeds for all types of floral and vegetable growths, but the actual flowers themselves. The firm is now under the guidance of Mr. Jacob D. Eisele, who is president and general manager of the plant department.

The organization maintains an up-to-date retail store at 1306 Spring Garden street, Philadelphia, which is widely patronized by the more particular persons for miles around. The Riverton plant sells both wholesale and retail, and grows bulbs, roses, shrubs and decorative plants of every description. The quality of these is so uniformly excellent, and the market so large that the firm is generally admitted to be Riverton's foremost concern, as well as one of the oldest.

TAYLOR MOTOR CO. SELLS NASH AUTOS

Local Concern Has Been in Existence for Past Eleven Years

During the past twenty-five years in which time the automobile has become an integral part of our every-day life, the various dealers who have distributed them to the motoring public have prospered only if they offered the best of service.

In this respect, there is one local dealer, specializing in Nash cars, who has gained the confidence and respect of everyone with whom he has dealt, solely through his successful efforts to please.

We refer to Mr. James Taylor, of Taylor Motor Company, located on Broad street. Mr. Taylor has been associated in this business for the past eleven years, and has held the Nash franchise for six years. He also is an authorized agent for sales and service of Reo Speed Wagons.

A feature of his business which has met with the whole hearted approval of the residents of this section is the complete repair service offered. Mr. Taylor is fully equipped to render any type of repair service on any make car, and uses the finest materials and workmanship. He has in stock at all times a line of accessories and parts, and makes it a point to see that every customer he serves receives courteous and swift attention.

Mr. Taylor, and his son Allen, who is associated in the business with him, are both interested in the civic welfare of Riverton, and avail themselves of every opportunity to advance the business activities of the entire section.

NOAH KUENSEL IS LAUNDRY OWNER

Conducts Favored Local Laundry Where Sanitation Is the Watchword

In this modern day of specialization, with the many conveniences that the housewife has at her command, the plane of living has been steadily raised. One of the most important industries contributing to the saving of much energy and time is the laundry business.

This line of endeavor is well represented in Riverton by the well-known Riverton Laundry, owned and operated by Mr. Noah Kuensel, located on Rowland avenue, East Riverton.

The laundry has been in existence for the past twenty years, and Mr. Kuensel has had over twenty-five years' experience in the business. He has advanced the facilities at his sanitary plant until he now offers five separate services, including the de luxe service with every article completely finished.

The citizenry of this section appreciate the value of Mr. Kuensel's efforts, and he in turn has assisted admirably in all civic enterprises and holds membership in the Odd Fellows and the Eagles.

The main feature of the Riverton Laundry is the care which characterizes all work done. Every precaution to insure the utmost sanitation is taken, and the returned wash is sweet and clean. No harsh or damaging chemicals are used, merely soap and pure, sparkling artesian well water pumped right on the premises.

J. T. EVANS COAL FIRM FAVORED

Local Organization Serves Wide Area With Finest Coal and Lumber

The advent of winter has naturally increased the imminent necessity of purchasing the needed supply of fuel, and has sent Riverton householders on a hunt for the dealer from whom they may expect the most satisfactory service and finest quality.

Their search, however, may be made considerably easier with mention of the well-known Joseph T. Evans, coal and lumber dealer, located at Broad and Main streets. This firm organization has been in existence for the past twenty seven years, and has been identified with the distribution of high quality feed, building materials and hardware, terra cotta pipe, lumber, coke, coal and millwork of every description.

The excellent reputation built up by this company, not only in Riverton, but in the entire section, is an indication of what the discriminating housewife might expect from them in the matter of adequate, cheerful an friendly service.

Mr. Evans is active fraternally in Riverton, and may be relied upon to support to the fullest extent any worthy public spirited movement designed for the eventual good of the community as a whole.

CHEW BROTHERS BAKERY LIKED

Ernest Chew Sells Only High Grade Bakery Products of Finest Workmanship

Among the many conveniences which have come to the fore in the past few decades to remove much of the unpleasantness of housekeeping from the shoulders of the mothers and wives of the world, the modern bakery is especially worthy of mention.

And since the only bakery in Riverton is the well-known Chew Brothers, at 512 Main street, it is deemed advisable to make record of the many services this firm has offered the residents of this section of New Jersey. It is generally understood that the only reason there is not more than one bakery in Riverton is because the Chew firm is so far out front as to make competition not only impractical but foolhardy.

Mr. Ernest Chew, ably assisted by his competent wife, owns and manages the business. He has had over twenty years actual experience in the field, and that coupled with the natural woman's ability his wife has at her command, assures the unvarying tastiness of the many items offered for sale. Periodic bakings also assures the absolute freshness of the various delicious pastries and buns.

The fame of the Chew enterprise has spread until today they make daily deliveries to Edgewater Park, Merchantville, Beverly and Moorestown. The business has prospered in keeping with the modern business methods which Mr. Chew has incorporated into the management of his affairs.

RIVERTON MARKET HOUSE IS FAVORED

Produce and Meat Store Is Headed by Silverstein and Roth

There is scarcely any business in existence more important than that which has to do with the distribution of nutritious food products to the residents of every city, hamlet and town throughout the world. Those store keepers who are successful in this work are invariably ones who realize that there is no substitute for quality, and who have accordingly devoted their time and efforts in the interests of those they serve.

Outstanding among these in this location is the well-known Riverton Market House, 308 Broad street. This fine distributing point for the discriminating has been in existence for the past fourteen years, and at present is under the experienced guidance of Mr. J. M. Silverstein and Mr. S. Roth. These gentlemen offer the best quality, vegetables, fruits, produce, canned goods, and every article of food with which the average housewife is familiar, and in which she has the greatest confidence.

Their growing trade is directly traceable to the forceful and forward merchandising policies they have been instrumental in putting into effect. It is the proud boast of these gentlemen that every customer they serve is entirely satisfied.

David Glenn, of St. Louis, was sentenced to prison for setting fire to a house he owned to drive out a woman who had fought against eviction for two years.

H. D. Hullings and Son Are Considered Leaders in Plumbing and Heating Field in Riverton

A few decades ago, the present day facilities for comfort which every home boasts, were unknown. Modern plumbing and heating were unknown, and the sanitary effects of these were noticeably absent.

Today, however, a new order of things has arrived, and we find that the business of installing and repairing plumbing and heating fixtures has become of paramount importance, not only from the standpoint of convenience, but from the more important standpoint of public health.

One of the most widely approved and well-known firms engaged in this work in and around the Riverton section is the prominent H. D. Hullings and Son company, located at 602 Main street.

This concern was started forty-two years ago by Harry C. Worrell and his brother. Thirty one years ago H. D. Hullings entered the employ of Mr. Worrell, with whom he continued until his employer's death. John Hullings, the son, became associated with the institution eleven years ago, and his term of service was also unbroken. When Mr. Worrell died two years ago the business was continued under the name of H. D. Hullings & Son.

They are engaged in all phases of their craft, and due to the season of the year, are at present emphasizing and specializing in the heating end of the business. They are fully equipped to render sheet metal work, and use only the finest materials available, thus assuring the lasting qualities of the completed job, and the lasting qualities of their customers' satisfaction.

Residents of Riverton have naturally made the discovery that it pays appreciable dividends to allow the Hullings firm to do their work. Both Mr. H. D. Hullings and Mr. John Hullings devote their personal attention to every job, and it is not considered complete until it has received their approval. This caution has had the result of winning for the firm its merited position in the plumbing and heating field.

CLARENCE HUBBS WIDELY FAVORED

Well Known Plumber Has Been Engaged in Business for Ten Years

It is quite natural to expect a business man to have established a certain measure of success in his chosen field if he has been engaged next for a long period of time, in one location. But lying deeper, a more understandable reason is the fact that in order to attain that success, he must devote his time to the best interests of his customers.

This holds true in the plumbing and heating business, and more particularly with reference to Mr. Clarence Hubbs, who has been located in that line in town for over ten years and is now located at 202 West Broad street. The business which Mr. Hubbs now controls was founded fifty two years ago, and Mr. Hubbs maintains the standard of reliability which has been built up during that long period.

He is an expert at all types of sheet metal work, heating and plumbing and has been found entirely reliable by those discriminating folks he has served so capably.

He is well known to all of us, and his business success is looked upon as an indication of the general excellence of the community.

MRS. SMITH HAS NOTABLE STORE

Riverton Woman Will Enlarge Stock to Include Complete Line of Gifts

Setting aside the rather time-worn and completely discredited theory that a woman is not adaptable to modern business methods, it is interesting to note that one of the leading merchants in Riverton is a woman.

We refer to Mrs. Alfred Smith, 411 Main street, Riverton, who for the past thirty-five years has been conducting a dry goods and notion shop.

Mrs. Smith has been instrumental in effecting a general improvement of merchandising in the area, and deserves to the fullest extent, the large measure of popularity she has met.

Recently, she undertook to enlarge her facilities to the extent of introducing a complete line of gifts.

This line includes pottery, lamps, Italian glassware, and the famous old cottage china from the equally famous Wright, Tyndale and Van Roden firm in Philadelphia. She also has on hand at all times the latest and most widely accepted designs in Christmas and other holiday cards.

As her store stands today, it is one of the most all-encompassing and completely equipped in the section, and is to be congratulated upon the excellent effect it has had in being of service to Rivertonians.

John H. Bohs Grocery In Cinnaminson Sells Finest of Everything

It is interesting to note that any success with which a business man might meet is directly applicable to the ability he possesses to be of assistance to those he serves. Such is the case in the valued activities of Mr. John H. Bohs, who conducts a well-liked and complete stocked grocery in Cinnaminson.

He has been identified with this line for over nineteen years, fourteen of which have been spent in his present location, and he has always made it a paramount feature of his business to sell only the best at all times. In this way, the residents of Cinnaminson and the surrounding area have given him their whole hearted support, safe in the realization that their purchases would be the best money could buy.

The large volume of trade that Mr. Bohs serves is not only an indication of the esteem with which he is regarded in the community, but is his patron's safeguard against stale or inferior goods. Mr. Bohs sells canned goods, vegetables, smoked meats, and every other item which may be expected to be found in a modern grocery store.

It is safe to say that there are few grocers in this section more favorably known than Mr. Bohs, and he has given of his time and efforts to perfect the service he offers his patrons.

CHAMBERS STORE SELLS THE FINEST

Local Victualer Serves Wide Area With Best in Produce Line

After having served in Uncle Sam's navy for thirty long years, and having acquired a certain dominion to its that has proven valuable, Mr. S. Chambers opened a fully equipped and sanitary grocery store in town at 215 Turner Avenue, East Riverton.

This all happened over eleven years ago, but in that eleven years, many other things of note with regards to Mr. Chambers have happened. That gentleman, imbued with a natural integrity and honesty of purpose, has been remarkably successful, and now points with pardonable pride to an establishment that is rated with the best in this locality.

He carries a complete line of vegetables, canned goods, smoked meats and fruits, and offers a courteous and attentive service which has drawn appreciated by his many customers, a witness to his staunch patronage.

Mr. Chambers is actively identified with both fraternal and civic movements in Riverton, holding membership in the Masons, and coming to the fore when some civic necessity must be met which requires the service of the best the community has to offer.

H. E. SHEA HAULS FOR PARTICULAR

Operates Seven Vans and Does All Types of Moving and Hauling

Surveying the various lines that have contributed to make for Riverton and Cinnaminson their present position of superiority in the commercial markets of Burlington county, it is quite evident that the business adults and integrity of the business men of the area have assisted admirably.

One of the foremost of these, from a standpoint of worth and necessity, is Mr. Harry E. Shea, who conducts a moving and hauling business in Cinnaminson.

Mr. Shea has been identified with the business for over twenty years, and may be relied upon to render a rapid, safe and thoroughly reliable service.

He operates seven modern vans, safely padded to insure against breakage, and is fully equipped to move and haul the most complex of machinery.

Mr. Shea has long been recognized as one of the business boosters of the section, and it is an assured fact that he may be relied upon to devote his time to the interests of the area.

More than [illegible] public houses in London have installed radio receiving sets so their patrons can enjoy music while they drink their beer and ale.

ROY WILLIAMS OWNS PRODUCTIVE UPHOLSTERY SHOP

Excellent Reputation Has Built Up His Business Across River and in Philadelphia

In the course of months of hard usage, the average piece of furniture becomes shabby, requiring the services of an experienced and efficient upholsterer. Residents of Riverton are extremely fortunate in this respect in having within the confines of the section, an upholsterer of the calibre of Mr. Roy Williams.

Mr. Williams, whose place of business is located at Union Landing road, in East Riverton, is generally admitted to be one of the leaders in his particular field. He has been engaged in the business for the past nine years, and is fully equipped to render any service required.

He manufactures slip covers for both furniture and automobiles, and also makes high quality awnings. His reputation for excellent work has spread until at the present time, he holds that over forty per cent of his business is transacted across the river, in Philadelphia and its suburbs.

It is unmistakable that the public appreciates quality, whether it is in a product or a service. This fact is demonstrated by the unusual and highly gratifying popularity with which Mr. Williams' efforts have been greeted.

PTA WILL HAVE SOCIETY CIRCUS

Performance to be Given in Palmyra High School on November 21

Pamahaska's Society Circus will be held Saturday, November 21, at the Palmyra High School, with a special matinee at two p. m. and the evening performance at eight p. m. under the auspices of the Parent-Teacher Association.

Many people will no doubt remember the last Circus given at the high school, and the wonderful performance they saw. This year's performance promises to surpass that of the last Circus, and in addition a special added attraction will be staged.

The company for this year will be presented by Prof. Pamahaska himself, and it will include a wonderful collection of tropical and domestic birds and animals. There will also be many outstanding features, one of which will be "Commodore," one of the handsomest ponies in the country, known as the pony with the personality and extraordinary intelligence.

There will also be a riding act, a monkey who will drive the pony himself, and ride just like a man. Trixie, an excellent little performer, will find numbers for you and distinguish different colors.

There will be a troupe of performing canary birds that will amaze you in the way that they perform their routine of tricks, a real miniature circus.

Then a troupe of beautiful large white sulphur crested cockatoos, who perform many interesting tricks, and conclude their part of the program with a comedy drama and fire scene, where the leading lady steals her way into the fort and the villian fires the cannon upon the fort and sets it on fire; the leading man of the company rescues the lady from the fort, sends in a fire alarm and the fire company comes and extinguishes the flames.

We will have with us a famous clown direct from the Steel Pier, Atlantic City, also from the Penn Athletic Club in Philadelphia, who will have many funny stunts to entertain, says the professor. This entertainment is not for children alone. The older folks find just as much enjoyment from it as the children, as it is educational as well as interesting.

Pamahaska's Peerless Company has just returned home from its tour in the Chautauquas, playing all the leading cities in the middle west. This company has just closed its 31st consecutive season on the platform. It is an entertainment that pleases all ages and is absolutely clean in every respect.

Mrs. Sarah Hall

Mrs. Sarah Hall, widow of the late Captain Hall, died at the home of her sister, Mrs. Sallie Seckel, 701 Broad street, Riverton, Saturday.

Mrs. Hall, who was in her ninety-first year, was one of Palmyra's oldest residents. She had been living in Riverton for only a short time prior to her death.

Funeral services were held at Christ Church, Palmyra, yesterday afternoon at two o'clock, with the Rev. George J. McCormack rector officiating. Interment was made in Morgan cemetery under the direction of Frank A. Snover.

Mrs. Hall has no living relatives except her sister, Mrs. Seckel.

NEEDLEWORK GUILD MEETING TODAY AT Y. M. C. A. BUILDING

The Palmyra Branch of the Needlework Guild of America will hold its annual meeting in the Y.M.C.A. building, Broad street and Garfield avenue, Palmyra, this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

The most interesting feature of the meeting will be the display of garments, which have been collected by members of the Guild in Palmyra during the past several weeks.

A cordial invitation to attend is extended to all who are interested in this work. During the past year about a thousand garments have been distributed to needy families in Palmyra through the efforts of the members of the Palmyra Branch.

A very interesting program has been arranged for this afternoon's meeting and it is hoped that all members and friends will make an effort to be present.

ALUMNI TO DANCE FRIDAY, THE 13TH

Ernie Brown and His Brownies Will Furnish Music for Big Event

Following the series of successful dances, which were climaxed by the brilliant inter-alumni dance at Medford Lakes last season, the Palmyra High School Alumni Association is now making plans for an even more attractive season this year.

In order to start the ball rolling the first dance of the season will be given at the Riverton County Club, Friday evening, November 13, from eight 'til late.

Ernie Brown and his Brownies, a well-known Philadelphia orchestra, will furnish the music. These boys have recently played at two of the larger dinner dances at Medford Lakes, and another recent engagement was the fraternity ball held in the spacious Mitten Memorial Gym at Temple University.

The date on which the Alumni decided to give its dance is also the date of the annual play to be staged by the members of the 1932 Tillicum staff. In order to co-operate with the high school students to the fullest extent, the members of the alumni will admit all those who desire to attend both functions for two Friday night ticket stubs and $1.00.

"OLD MONARCHS" ARE LIONS CLUB GUESTS

Former Members of Pamyra-Riverton Club Revisit Den at Tuesday Evening Visit

The Palmyra-Riverton Lions Club was host to the "Old Monarchs," former members of the club, at the regular meeting Tuesday night. Many of the old familiar faces were at the tables, and reminiscences were freely exchanged.

Brief addresses were made by Hon. Frank A. Matthews, Walter D. Lamson and District Deputy Governor George T. Oleson, while George W. Rogers rendered one of his favorite vocal selections to the edification of the assembled guests.

Several former members have signed up to rejoin the club, while others have declared their intention of coming back into the Lions' Den.

Other guests were Mayor George N. Wimer, Dr. H. W. Bauer, Frank Kates, C. A. Buehl, Frederick Lippincott, and State Director Mark Reeves, and a delegation from the Westville Lions Club.

H. S. BAND TO PLAY AT PARTY TONIGHT

"Y" Dads and Lads Will Enjoy Hallowe'en Fun at First Annual Party

The first annual Father and Son Hallowe'en party will be held at the Y.M.C.A. building, Palmyra, tonight at eight o'clock. Lawrence Bradshaw president of the sophomore Hi Y will wave the baton for the Palmyra High School Band, which will furnish music at the start and during the serving of refreshments.

John L. Metzger has arranged a very interesting program of interest to the men and boys. The Y Airport will be in demand with its new monoplane taking regular flights. The magic horse of fame in Palmyra will no doubt pay a visit.

Checkers and chess will be played in the lobby under the supervision of William McConnell, well known fan of the red and black board. A regular tournament will be in progress. Elimination games will be played.

The "Witches Wiskers and Goblin Soup" have been donated by members of the Women's Auxiliary and a friend of the Y.

Games appropriate to the season will be played and some new and novel ones will be introduced by the committee.

Every group member has received his letter prepared by the Goblin Scribe telling him definitely of the affair. Every father is urged to be there with his son.

'ROAD HOG' IS JAILED AS DRUNKEN DRIVER

Arrested for crowding other cars off a highway, Joseph Miller, 47, of 608 Market street, Gloucester, was fined $221 as drunken driver. His companion, Samuel Matlack, 39, also of Gloucester, was fined $7.50 for disorderly conduct. The fines were imposed by Police Justice J. Leedom Smith.

BOROUGH FUNDS WILL BE USED TO HELP NEEDY

Committee Is Named to Care For Palmyra's Unfortunates During Winter

ASK FOR CONTRIBUTIONS FROM GENERAL PUBLIC

To Take Census of Unemployed, Both Men and Women Today and Tomorrow

Palmyra Borough Council has decided to handle all unemployment relief and welfare work according to the new state law, directly through the Overseer of the Poor.

A committee has been appointed to help Harry J. Saar, Palmyra's overseer, in this work.

The committee as named is as follows: Harry J. Saar, overseer of the poor; C. Mooris Beck, of the police department; C. Nevin Buchholz, finance department of Borough Council; Floyd W. Spahr, highway department of Borough Council; Eveleen C. Giberson, of the Palmyra School Board; Harry Karn, overseer of highways; John A. Eichner, truant officer; Katherine Green, school nurse; George A. Spencer, borough clerk; Mrs. Elias Tox, Mrs. C. A. Hines, Mrs. A. N. Palmer, Mrs. George Rivel, Mrs. Richard E. Wilson, Mrs. M. J. McDermott, Mrs. Maurice Sandoz and Miss Elizabeth Brelsford.

The following have been named officers: Harry J. Saar, president and treasurer; George J. Spencer, secretary, and Miss Elizabeth Brelsford, assistant secretary.

It will be necessary to supplement the relief appropriation from the borough with contributions from individuals and organizations in the town.

Asks for Donations

Money, clothing, shoes, canned goods, potatoes, etc., will be gratefully received by the committee. Checks for use in this very worthwhile work should be made to the order of Harry J. Saar, treasurer.

Contributions of any kind may be left at Palmyra police headquarters at any time or a telephone call to Riverton 191 or 950 will bring someone to you who will deliver the goods to the store room, No. 13 East Broad street, Palmyra.

The committee which has been named to look after the store room is as follows: Mrs. George Rivel, chairman; Mrs. Nathan Beckley, Mrs. Milton Jewett, Miss Pearl Coombs and Thomas Schwink.

It is urgently requested that all relief contributions of any kind be made through the Welfare Committee, as each case is thoroughly investigated. A case has just been brought to the attention of the committee where one family was being helped by at least six different persons. The Welfare Committee will see that help is not misdirected.

A census of unemployed, both men and women, will be taken and work will be provided as quickly as possible. Officer Charles Lutz of the Palmyra police department, will sit at the police station today and tomorrow from 10:00 a. m. to 12:00 m. to fill out cards and all unemployed are asked to register at that time or as soon thereafter as is possible.

Phone Riverton 950

The Welfare Committee's headquarters will be at No. 15 East Broad street, and the telephone number is 156. Each and every person in Palmyra is asked to get in touch with the committee at the above address or telephone 950 to report needy cases throughout the town. Relief will be given in every worthy case and all cases will be investigated.

The investigating and visiting committee is composed of the following ladies: Mrs. George Rivel, Mrs. R. E. Wilson, Mrs. M. J. McDermott, Mrs. Maurice Sandoz, Mrs. C. A. Hines and Mrs. A. N. Palmer.

Organizations and individuals are urged to give benefits of all kinds, such as card parties, dances, entertainments, benefit ball games, etc., or other entertainments by which money can be raised to help Palmyra's needy.

In this great emergency it is the duty of EVERY INDIVIDUAL to do his or her bit. What are YOU going to do to help?

GEORGE N. WIMER
Mayor.

RISING TAXATION AND ITS BEARING ON THE GOVERNORSHIP

No one in his right mind can fail to see that if a halt is not called on the continuous rise in taxes that the most detrimental consequences will result. If, in fact, they are not already here.

Everyone and everything is affected by this insidious demand for funds for governmental and municipal purposes. Every investment we have is taxed to its limit. Homes and real estate are becoming so overburdened that they cannot be carried or maintained. The result is that property is thrown on a market where there are no buyers. Values fall. That which previously represented the savings of the average citizen—his equity in his home—is forever wiped out. Nor is this the only factor which contributes to this unwholesome condition. Everything which we purchase, in some hidden form, has been taxed before we receive it through purchase.

All this burden is put upon us primarily for the purpose of maintaining government, state and municipal officials. A great portion of these are totally inefficient. Added to these are vast numbers retained in office to dispense quantities of costly information which is of questionable value. Bureaus are established at great expense and the only reason for their creation would seem to be to give some henchman employment.

Today there is one government employee for every eight to ten citizens in this country, and there will be an increased number if some serious consideration is not given to the subject by the voting population. Taxes are rising at the rate of 20 to 25 per cent. each succeeding year - - - and to pay the cost of something we do not need and do not want.

That Mr. Baird or Mr. Moore, if elected, will change this condition, cannot of course, be guaranteed. We can, however, pin our hopes somewhat to relative past performances of these two men.

The first has definitely promised to inject himself into this problem and to do his utmost to lessen the cost of government in this commonwealth. He has made this statement publicly and emphatically. He has made this publicly president of the New Jersey Association for the Reduction of Taxes. The latter evidently believes Mr. Baird means what he says.

What can we expect from Moore? Has he not served as governor, with the result that the uniform and regular rise in taxes was uninterrupted during his administration.

It would seem to be the path of wisdom to rely on a man of apparent business ability, a man who has definite plans of relief from this constant drain on the public pocketbook.

On the contrary, little assurance comes from Mr. Moore. His demonstration of interest in behalf of the public, when the opportunity was previously presented to him, proved itself to be of little value. This may not have been entirely a fault of his own. He obviously owes a debt to his political makers. When he was governor he was forced to pay something on account. If again elected he will continue to pay, if he is not an ingrate.

The Hague machine must be maintained through patronage and, increasing patronage does not reduce taxes.

COUNTY COUNCIL AT JULIUSTOWN

Fall Meeting of P. T. A. Is Well Attended; Interesting Program

The County Council meeting at Juliustown on the twenty-first was, as usual, a most enjoyable affair.

After devotions, as a part of the greetings by the local school and P.T.A., the tiny children gave a pleasing demonstration of a rest period and lunch hour.

The business, of which there was much, was ably handled by the new officers. This included a report of the Student Loan Fund, so dear to the heart of the Council, and so generously helped by the co-operation of Mr. Kaser, County Superintendent. The chairman of the committee, Mrs. Krupnick, hopes the goal of six thousand dollars may be reached this year, very nearly five thousand now being on hand.

It is proposed to hold four meetings of the Council during January, one for each section of the county. One small district will combine with a larger one to make this possible. By this it is hoped to reach many who cannot take the long ride that they are obliged to now.

The business was followed by a pleasing and thoughtful talk by Prof. R. C. Reagel, of Rutgers University, and an able paper read by Miss Ethel Durnall, Social Science Director of the Bureau of Mental Hygiene, Trenton. They held the attention of the three hundred present until lunch was announced. This, a most delicious repast, was served in a nearby hall, and was handled in a most systematic manner.

The afternoon session was devoted to introducing the new officers and committee chairmen, who also gave their reports.

Mrs. W. C. Davis, of Haddon Heights, then talked of Study Classes, and made the subject both interesting and helpful to those who are beginning the work.

The new school house at Juliustown, built to take the place of the one burned two years ago, is an ample, modern building, containing classrooms, lunch and medical clinic rooms, and a roomy auditorium.

The local P.T.A. deserves great credit for the manner in which it faced its losses and assumed the responsibilities caused by the fire.

Mrs. Henry Jones, the new County Chairman, and her staff are to be congratulated upon the success of this first meeting and the manner in which it was conducted.

All in all, the fine meeting, delightful weather, the ride over the beautiful country roads, and above all the social friendly spirit of the members gave everyone the satisfactory feeling of a well-spent day.

R. C. Walters, of St. Louis, alleged in his divorce suit that his wife "was always smoking," but he was denied a decree.

WESTFIELD FRIENDS' SCHOOL NOTES

In the fourth grade room we made a desert in the sandbox. We had been reading about deserts in our geography cass and we found poems about them which we used as our reading lesson. We made our camels from wood and paper. Some of the palm trees were made by wrapping grass around sticks and others were made of paper and then colored. Our houses look like real Arabian homes. These were made by sticking four sticks in the sand and covering them with cloth. Clothespins dressed in white shawls served as people. There were also paper folks. We used paste pans to represent wells on the oases. A herd of paper goats were with the caravan. We feel we have a good idea of what a desert is like.

Peggy Anne Ziegler.

On Monday morning we listened to a very interesting program over the radio from Yorktown, Virginia. After the chairman spoke of the program a minister offered a prayer. The announcer described each step so well that we almost felt as if we were at Yorktown. The most interesting part of the program was the coming of President Hoover. He spoke of the history of the place. We joined with thousands of other school children in Singing "America" after the President's speech.

Anne Clark

The League of Honor elected their officers this week. The persons nominated made excellent speeches. Colcen Shaner was elected President; Anne Clark, Vice President; Eileen Mattis, Secretary; Herbert Ziegler, Treasurer; Next week we shall have our first meeting.

Harry Brunt

A number of people interested in "Westfield" have done things to increase our happiness and add to our knowledge. Miss Beulah Parry brought her moving picture projector and showed us several reels of pictures she had taken on her previous summer trip to Alaska. We have now a much more intelligent idea of our valuable possession.

RED CROSS ASKS PUBLIC TO JOIN

Fifteenth Annual Roll Call Begins Armistice Day; Mrs. Macfarlane Has Charge

Mrs. James P. Macfarlane has charge of the Fifteenth Annual Roll Call of the American Red Cross in Palmyra this year.

The roll call is to begin on Armistice Day and will probably end on Thanksgiving Day if everything goes well.

Five hundred and twenty-five memberships is the quota for Palmyra, which is not very much considering the population.

Mrs. Macfarlane will be assisted by a corps of workers who will make a house to house canvass. It is hoped that there will be many responses to their call for help.

During the coming year the Red Cross will be called upon to lend its support to a peace time program of direct relief work. This organization stands by always ready to give help in time of stress. Everyone is invited to JOIN today and lend a hand in this great work.

The Red Cross has pledged itself to care for the families of unemployed ex-service men in Burlington county insofar as it is possible to do so, thus relieving local unemployment committees of that feature of the depression, which exists at this time.

Everyone is invited to JOIN. Remember the dates November 11 to November 26.

BOY OF 15 IS BEATEN UNCONSCIOUS BY DAD

Incensed because his son, John Marks, 15, of Stacy Farms, Cambridge, near Riverside, paid no attention to come at his call, Anthony Marks, 45, grabbed a horse rein and beat the boy into unconsciousness Sunday afternoon.

John was arguing with his 12-year-old sister, Mary, when their father called. He was in a drunken rage, the police said, and beat the boy unmercifully. His condition was so serious Troopers Arthur Haussler and John Walmsley, of the Delanco barracks, took the boy to the Zurbrugg Hospital, Riverside, with heavy welts on the neck and body. The troopers took the elder Marks before Justice of the Peace Cecil Bowers, of Riverton, who held him without bail for action of the grand jury.

HAM AND EGGS DE LUXE

Up-country people who demand ham and eggs in the true American way can get them at the swanky Waldorf-Astoria, the new $20,000,000 hotel in exactly the same form that Cal Coolidge gets his up in his Vermont home. In other words a real farmer's wife will cook it on the gold-plated ranges at the 47-story hostelry.

About ten American women will cater to the tasts of the American-bred palates. Not all of them are Yankees, either, as a couple of colored mammies have been hired to juggle corn pone and possum for visiting Southerners.

The only thing the average American will not be able to recognize from the food his mother used to serve will be the price. We haven't learned that yet and will wait for somebody else to tell us. We suspect it will be about $2.50 for "ham and ——." Yes, one order.

SOME HIGH PRICES

Restaurants here that have a millionaire following do not hesitate to charge plenty. One place gets seventy-five cents for a baked potato. Another cahrges $4.50 for filet-mignon—better known in Jefferson, Ia., as tenderloin steak.

One promoter entertained his prospects recently at a big hotel with a banquet that cost him exactly $30 a person—and he didn't give away any gold cigarette lighters either. He was "in" with the hotel and got his check at cost. He imported all his delicacies direct from Europe and had to pay top prices for out-of-season stuff.

About 100 sat down to table and knew they had eaten when they finished.

COUNTY HELP FOR POOR DISCUSSED

"Public Question" on Ballots Explained to Group of Taxpayers at Home of Purnells

At a meeting held October 21 at Mr. and Mrs. William J. Purnell's, Palmyra, Assemblyman Dr. Marcus W. Newcomb, State Committeewoman Mrs. Herman Terry, of Edgewater Park, and Mayor George N. Wimer, of Palmyra, talked about the proposition to be submitted to the voters on November 3 as to whether or not the relief of the poor shall be provided for by the county instead of by local municipalities.

An interesting discussion followed, bringing out such thoughts as "Our healthy children is the greatest asset Burlington county has. Can we afford to take the proper care of them?" Our county as a whole is about fifty years behind in doing this.

"The country was organized for the people, by the people. Do we want our help centralized?"

The old-age pension bill is a mandatory measure. The county freeholders are compelled to raise our taxes yearly to cover the amount necessary to pay this pension. It is estimated that it will add $40,000 to the county budget the first year.

The act for the settlement and relief of the poor by the county, on which we are to vote, would place poor relief under the direction of the same commission that will administer the pension funds, composed of two freeholders, two women and one more citizen. The law provides for the employment of a director at a salary, and trained workers in each district, as well as an automobile and upkeep for each worker.

This county does need the probation officer to give his whole time to his job, as is done in other counties. This office is not affected by the act on which we vote.

Meetings are being held in various parts of the county so as to bring a clearer understanding to the voters as to whether the poor relief can be conducted most efficiently and economically by the local overseers or local welfare associations, or with a county director and a corps of trained workers.

Morgan Cook, in the Phila. Shame on you, Morgan. Do you think that was the sporting thing to do? Why, we distinctly remember that our little sister used to use a hammer, but we considered anything but a brickbat and a plowshare too effeminate. And to think, we thought you were a good guy. We won't be too hasty in our judgment though, for you may have reformed—we think you have.

We have travelled around the world a lot and we have never seen a town that was founded prior to the war that did not have a fire co. which made the same claim. And we have never been in an old farm house that hadn't sheltered George Washington over night, while he was chasing the British. The fire co. situation may have been coincidence, but you can never make us believe that anything but the foresight and goodness of the Father of our Country ever caused the farm houses to be so honored.

ROTARIANS HEAR NOTED ECONOMIST

Dr. Keller Speaks on Depressions, Their Cause and Cure

The Palmyra-Riverton Club was given the view point of an economist on "Business Conditions" at the weekly meeting last Thursday evening.

Dr. Henry Keller, Economist from Rutgers University opened his talk with the remark "It is rather difficult for an economist to address a group of men representing various businesses." This remark reminded him of an occurrence which happened during the World War. Dr. Keller was present at the Chateau Thierry conflict and chanced to hear two soldiers talking. The first one said "I know the Kaiser has my name and address on one of the shells and I expect to get it at most any minute." The other said, "The Kaiser doesn't even know I'm here. the one I'm worried about is the one inscribed 'To Whom It May Concern'."

"There is always a tendency during a period of depression for people to think conditions are permanent. It is impossible for the conditions to continue. One business man addressed his associates and during his talk displayed a chart of his particular business, making the remark that there was no more room at the bottom therefore the curve must rise."

"Business is wasting no time in amputating to save a person's life, therefore we must waste no time in getting at the root of our trouble."

"We must find the fundamental cause or causes and work them out the best we know how."

"It is difficult for a statician to bring out a clear picture. For instance, the 1913 dollar is the basis of most statisians now and in 1913 one of our most thriving businesses that of the manufacturer of radios was not yet in operation. This is hardly a fair comparison to make. Several statisians are working on 1529 as the basic year. In good times money comes into expension, that is into more equipment and more buildings. Dr. Keller thought that it might be better if that money was set aside as a surplus and use the present equipment to better advantage by another shift of labor."

"The bankers, he said, are responsible to a certain degree for the present conditions as illustrated in agricultural conditions in Iowa in 1919. During that year land values rose as high as $300 per acre and farmers would obtain mortgages from the banks to buy more land. In 1520 the price of wheat dropped from $2.26 to $1.65 per bushel and both farmers used up their profit to pay taxes and interest. The financial institutions should have been more careful and advised the farmers against this program of reckless spending."

"There are definite indications that the recovery has started, one of which is the fact that the textile industry in New England has opened up within the last two weeks."

"It has occurred in the past that people change from talk to action in the depression period. We have reached the cotton stage and it is now time for us to work our way back to selk."

The big problems as given by Dr. Keller is the understanding of the proper spending at the proper time.

We all recognize that the existing conditions are world wide and our Federal Government encourages the idea of being self-sufficient with the existence of our tariffs. The Business Men's Commission actually found that practically all tariffs were too high. Dr. Keller stopped his discussion on the tariff at this point.

One plan of stabilization has been proposed in Wisconsin legislature. This plan puts all the responsibility upon the employer, in that he would agree to employ a man for a period of not less than 11 months and every man must have 3 months' notice of discharge. The speaker brought out the point that it would never be successful because there were too many seasonal businesses.

Proclamation

The American Legion composed of men and women who honorably served their country in the World War, has by its great program of unselfish service to community, State and Nation well demonstrated to the people of America that it is a power for good.

The American Legion, Department of New Jersey, with a membership of more than twenty-four thousand and the National Organization, with a membership of more than a million have designated the period of October 20th to November 11th, 1931 to re-enroll present members and enroll new members to the end that the great objectives for the coming year may be attained.

The people of the State of New Jersey appreciate the work that is being carried on by the American Legion and they are anxious that it shall be continued. The American Legion is entitled to the full cooperation of every citizen of the State, and it is desirable that every assistance possible be given them in their efforts to increase their membership in the coming year.

Now, therefore, I Joseph G. Wolber, Governor of the State of New Jersey, do hereby proclaim the period of October 20th to November 11th, as "American Legion Month" and urge that every citizen aid the American Legion in its membership efforts. I particularly urge those who are not now members of the American Legion, but who are eligible, to take this opportunity of enrolling and becoming associated in the great work of this patriotic organization.

Given under my hand and the Great Seal of the State of New Jersey, this 20th day of October, in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, and in the Independence of the United States, the one hundred and fifty-fifth.

JOSEPH G. WOLBER,
Governor.

"We must educate our children, it is true," said Mr. Woolman "but this can be done with a less extravagant building than the one proposed," adding, "a school is only as strong as its faculty." He believed that if it was decided to remodel the present building the work could be done to meet every necessary requirement for a great deal less than $148,000.

In answer to a question, Architect Stewart said that the remodeling of the old building, eliminating the gymnasium and auditorium could be done for about $100,000.

Mrs. Mayfield then asked the committee if it would consider a new building, without a gymnasium and auditorium at a cost of $150,000.

Would Not Approve $150,000

H. H. Murray, a member of the Citizens' Committee, replied that he did not believe even a $150,000 plan could be put over at this time, as the taxpayers would vote it down worse than they did the original proposition. He said that within the next year or so there will be plenty of time to consider the various plans and phases of school improvement, so as to arrive at the very best solution and the best way to accomplish it.

Mr. Murray thought that the people of Riverton would approve remodeling the present building to provide necessary class rooms and auditorium and gymnasium at a cost of $75,000 to $100,000 including the purchase of properties on Fifth street in front of the school.

James S. Coale, another member of the Citizens' Committee, said he believed that if the board was willing to develop the plan along these lines and get accurate costs the people of Riverton would approve it. He said he could not believe the taxpayers would be willing to scrap the present building on which it will take another sixteen years to pay off the bonds. He advised the board that they might well forget it and get down to serious consideration of remodeling the present building to give pupils adequate facilities at a price which the people could pay. He recommended that the cost of remodeling be financed over a period of years covering the expiration of the present bonds.

Better to Wait, Some Think

The proposition to do nothing to the present building except painting and a few necessary minor repairs and waiting until the people of the borough could do something really worthwhile in the way of school building construction, met with considerable approval.

J. Wilson Sylvester, member of the Citizens' Committee and former member of the Board of Education, recommended that the board find out from the state department just what would be necessary to make the present building conform with state requirements.

George D. Steedle, member of the Board of Education and chairman of the property committee, said that he had just gone over the school building with a member of the state department in charge of buildings and that all the changes necessary with the exception of fireproofing could be made for less than $5,000.

Engaged

A betrothal of much interest to the younger set of Moorestown is that of Miss Jeannette Weer Chew to Charles A. Traendly, of Brooklyn, N. Y. and Rowayton, Conn. Miss Chew is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Weer Chew, of East Maple avenue, Merchantville, and Mr. Traendly is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Traendly, of Ocean avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.

The engagement was announced at a bridge-luncheon on Saturday at the home of the bride-elect. Plans for an early Spring wedding are being made.

ORGANIZE NEW WELFARE ASS'N

Riverton and Cinnaminson Combine for Relief Program Under Trained Worker

The Community Welfare Association of Riverton and Cinnaminson was oraginzed at the home of Mrs. Murray C. Boyer Sunday afternoon.

This organization takes the place of the one which has been operating for Palmyra, Riverton and Cinnaminson Township.

The officers are: Chairman, Mrs. Murray C. Boyer; secretary, Mrs. W. W. Chalmers; treasurer, William A. Hendrickson.

J. B. Tyler will give legal advice and services when needed. Other members of the association are Miss Eloise Bryan, Mrs. Killam E. B. Beckett, Mrs. Frederick Blair, Walter L. Bowen, Mrs. Thomas A. Cashin, Mrs. John Douglas Clark, Stuart B. Clark, Mrs. Walter L. Drew, Mrs. Raymond Eastwood, Ross T. Elliott, Miss Mary Evans, Joseph T. Evans, Harold J. Fink, Rev. Albert J. Harke, Francis Helvick, John Hullings, Edward Jessup, Lawrence Keating, Mrs. H. M. Kieckhefer, Mrs. E. M. Kinsey, Rev. Arthur S. Lewis, Ross Mattis, H. H. Murray, Mrs. William Shoemaker, W. W. Smith, William H. Taplin, Howard G. Taylor, Mrs. J. B. Tyler, and Mrs. Walter K. Woolman.

Mrs. Boyer reported that the salary and expenses of a trained service worker had been contributed by friends of Miss Hannah McI. Biddle, who started this work in the Riverton Porch Club many years ago, and whose great desire it was that a social service worker should be engaged.

All the money collected by the association will be applied direct to relief work. The social worker is Mrs. E. N. Cooper, wife of the supervisor of the Riverton Public School, and who has had many years' experience as a trained worker.

Plans were discussed for raising funds and W. W. Smith was appointed chairman of the finance committee, which is composed of H. H. Murray, Ross T. Elliott, Ross E. Mattis, Stuart Clark and Walter L. Bowen.

Announcement was made of second hand clothing sale to be held in the Bishop building on November 7. On November 6 the store will be open from 9 to 4 to receive clothing in good condition for the sale the following day.

The association adjourned to meet again at the call of the president.

Riverton School Notes

Last year Student Government was put into effect at Riverton School. This year the classes voted to maintain the organization. The idea of letting the children govern themselves not only helps them to be more orderly, but ritains them for later life when they will have no adults to direct them. It also assists them in controlling their own actions and becoming better self-governed citizens. Two traffic squads of four children each have been appointed to keep order on the stairs. These squads are represented by both girls and boys, the girls taking care of the front stairs, and the boys, the back. To maintain order all must cooperate. No organization is a success without the cooperation of its members.

Therefore, the Student Council has asked everyone to do his part as a citizen of the school in order to develop an ideal school spirit.

At a recent session of the eighth grade English Class a meeting was held to organize a new Press Club. They elected the officers of the editorial staff, which were as follows: Editor-in-chief, Clifton Mayfield; assistant editor, Charles Rader; art editors, James Webb and Helen Schmidt; faculty advisor, Emily D. Lippincott; business manager, Kathryn Schneider, and printers, Olive Jones and Annie Glud. A staff of reporters was also appointed. They are: Richard Barclay, Robert Hullings, Florence Gorman, Benjamin Ray, Doris Vaughn, Betty Bailey, Wetona Barker, Dudley King, Julia Washington, Alice Williams, Elsie Showell, Harod Baker, James Wilson, Helen Rech, Edward Smith, Richard Payne and Robert Guest. The following Monday they held a meeting to plan the paper, which will come out once a month and will sell at one cent a copy.

CARS COLLIDE

Another auto smashup at the underpass of state highway S-41 in West Palmyra, occurred Monday when a car driven by Alphonso Tropia, 811 Christion street, Philadelphia, was struck by the machine driven by Fred E. Huntingdon, of 7211 Oxford avenue, Philadelphia.

Tropia suffered concussion of the brain and is still in Cooper Hospital Camden. His passenger, Melchione Labranco, 824 Christian street, suffered a lacerated nose, while Huntingdon was cut on the leg.

Tropia was attempting to make a left hand turn into S-41 and failed to see Huntingdon's car, which was speeding toward the Palmyra bridge. The accident was investigated by Palmyra officers Ryan and Wallace.

NAB MOORESTONIAN FOR DESERTING HIS WIFE AND CHILDREN

Lawrence Wescoatt, of Moorestown, wanted for some time on a charge of desertion and neglect of his wife and four children, ranging in age from seven years to nine months, was arrested last Friday upon his return home.

Wescoatt, arrested by Chief of Police John H. Bradshaw, was committed to the county jail at Mount Holly Friday evening by Recorder Joseph W. Johnston in default of $1,300 bail on two charges. Tuesday afternoon it was reported that he would gain his freedom in a few hours as bond was being obtained.

The fugitive was charged with assault and battery on his wife, Ethel, and desertion and neglect. Bail on the first charge was fixed at $300 while he was instructed to post $1000 bond on the latter.

COUNT TO TACKLE DEGLANE MONDAY

Frenchman Delayed for Last Week's Show Delayed by Passport Difficulties

Just when Promoter Charlie Grip of Camden, had all the details nicely lined up for a grand and glorious grappling get-together in Camden for last Monday night, Lo and Behold, a whole family of long-distance calls and telegrams poured in on him just before the big DeGlane-Zarynoff title bout was to take place, all of which told him in sa dterms that the big French world king would be unable to hit the deck on the night scheduled.

The sad story was that DeGlane, a native of France, has been visiting these United States on a six months passport, and that it expired sooner than he thought it would, whereupon the undwinding of the necessary red tape for a renewal prevented the champion's appearance on schedule.

But Charlie did not give up the ghost—instead, he buzzed around right smart and lined up another of the titleholder's leading challehgers to tackle Zarynoff in what was to be an elimination bout, with the winner to meet the king next Monday. And, boys, what a battle that was—Zarynoff, outweighed twenty or twenty-five pounds, gave Browning, the big Californian, a hot evening of it, breaking even with him at a fall each and actually having much the better of the going throughout the distance. Then, when Referee Bob Jones called it a draw at the end of 90 minutes, State Inspector Eddie Welsh suggested that the spectators be called upon to select which of the grapplers should face DeGlane. Announcer Archie McNew first raised Browning's hand; the applause and cheering were terrific. Then he raised the Count's, and the response was even more enthusiastic. But Archie must be certain—again he raised the arm of the mighty son of the Golden West, and his response was even greater than previously. But when, for the second time, he held aloft the starboard boom of the knob headed nobleman, there could remain no doubt, for no Dempsey or Ruth or Lindbergh ever received a more vociferous greeting. So the Count it is who will meet the king next Monday night, with the world's heavyweight wrestling crown awaiting the winner.

Buechler — Landgraf

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Landgraf, of West Broad street, Palmyra, announce the marriage of their daughter, Louise Florence Landgraf, to Lester Philip Buechler, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Buechler, of Merchantville, Wednesday, October 21.

The ceremony took place in the Central Baptist Church, Palmyra, and was performed by the Rev. George Lockett, pastor.

The only attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Christian Castle, of Audubon.

The bride was attired in a brown silk ensemble with hat and slippers to match and wore a corsage of lilies of the valley and forget-me-nots. The matron of honor wore a charming model of red velvet and a corsage of yellow roses.

Mrs. Buechler was the salutatorian of the class of 1929, Palmyra High School, while Mr. Buechler was graduated from Camden High School, class of 1926.

ROTARIANS HEAR NOTED ECONOMIST

Dr. Keller Speaks on Depressions, Their Cause and Cure

The Palmyra-Riverton Club was given the view point of an economist on "Business Conditions" at the weekly meeting last Thursday evening.

Dr. Henry Kelley, Economist from Rutgers University opened his talk with the remark "It is rather difficult for an economist to address a group of men representing various businesses." This remark reminded him of an occurrence which happened during the World War. Dr. Keller was present at the Chateau Thierry conflict and chanced to hear two soldiers talking. The first one said, "I know the Kaiser has my name and address on one of the shells and I expect to get it at most any minute." The other said, "The Kaiser doesn't even know I'm here, the one I'm worried about is the one inscribed 'To Whom it May Concern.'"

"There is always a tendency during a period of depression for people to think conditions are permenent. It is impossible for the conditions to continue. One business man addressed his associates and during his talk displayed a chart of his particular business, making the remark that there was no more room at the bottom therefore the curve must rise."

"Surgeons waste no time in amputating to save a person's life, therefore we must waste no time in getting at the root of our trouble."

"We must find the fundamental cause or causes and work them out the best we know how."

"It is difficult for a statician to bring out a clear picture. For instance, the 1913 dollar is the basis of most statisians now and in 1913 one of our most thriving businesses, that of the manufacturer of radios was not yet in operation. This is hardly a fair comparison to make. Several statisians are working on 1929 as the base year. In good times money comes into expansion, that is into more equipment and more buildings. Dr. Keller thought that it might be better if that money was set aside as a surplus and use the present equipment to better advantage by another shift of labor.

"The bankers, he said, are responsible to a certain degree for the present conditions as illustrated in agricultural conditions in Iowa in 1919. During that year land values rose as high as $500 per acre and farmers would obtain mortgages from the banks to buy more land. In 1930 the price of wheat dropped from $2.26 to $1.05 per bushel and many farmers used up their profit to pay taxes and interest. The financial institutions should have been more careful and advised the farmers against this program of reckless spending.

"There are definite indications that the recovery has started, one of which is the fact that the textile industry in New England has opened up within the last two weeks.

"It has occurred in the past that people change from silk to cotton in the depression period. We have reached the cotton stage and it is now time for us to work our way back to silk."

The big problems as given by Dr. Keller is the understanding of the proper spending at the proper time.

We all recognize that the existing conditions are world wide and our Federal Government encourages the idea of being self-sufficient with the existence of our tariffs. The Business Men's Commission actually found that practically all tariffs were too high. Dr. Keller stopped his discussion on the tariff at this point.

One plan of stabilization has been proposed in Wisconsin legislature. This plan puts all the responsibility upon the employer, in that he would agree to employ a man for a period of not less than 11 months and every man must have 3 months' notice of discharge. The speaker brought out the point that it would never be successful because there were too many seasonal businesses.

Proclamation

The American Legion composed of men and women who honorably served their country in the World War, has by its great program of unselfish service to community, State and Nation well demonstrated to the people of America that it is a power for good.

The American Legion Department of New Jersey, with a membership of more than twenty-four thousand and the National Organization, with a membership of more than a million, have designated the period of October 20th to November 11th, 1931 to re-enroll present members and enroll new members to the end that the great objectives for the coming year may be attained.

The people of the State of New Jersey appreciate the work that is being carried on by the American Legion and they are anxious that it shall be continued. The American Legion is entitled to the full cooperation of every citizen of the State, and it is desirable that every assistance possible be given them in their efforts to increase their membership in the coming year.

Now, therefore, I, Joseph G. Wolber, Governor of the State of New Jersey, do hereby proclaim the period of October 20th to November 11th, as "American Legion Month" and urge that every citizen aid the American Legion in its membership efforts. I particularly urge those who are not now members of the American Legion, but who are eligible, to take this opportunity of enrolling and becoming associated in the great work of this patriotic organization.

Given under my hand and the Great Seal of the State of New Jersey, this 20th day of October, in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, and in the Independence of the United States, the one hundred and fifty-fifth.

JOSEPH G. WOLBER,
Governor.

Auxiliary Head

MISS SARA SHREVE
who is the new president of the Burlington County American Legion Auxiliary.

"We must educate our children, it is true" said Mr. Woolman "but this can be done with a less extravagant building than the one proposed," adding, "a school is only as strong as its faculty." He believed that if it was decided to remodel the present building the work could be done to meet every necessary requirement for a great deal less than $148,000.

In answer to a question, Architect Stewart said that the remodeling of the old building, eliminating the gymnasium and auditorium could be done for about $100,000.

Mrs. Mayfield then asked the committee if it would consider a new building without a gymnasium and auditorium at a cost of $150,000.

Would Not Approve $150,000

B. H. Murray, a member of the Citizens' Committee, replied that he did not believe even a $150,000 plan could be put over at this time, as the taxpayers would vote it down worse than they did the original proposition. He said that within the next year or so there will be plenty of time to consider the various plans and phases of school improvement, so as to arrive at the very best solution and the best way to accomplish it.

Mr. Murray thought that the people of Riverton would approve remodeling the present building to provide necessary class rooms and auditorium and gymnasium at a cost of $75,000 to $100,000 including the purchase of properties on Fifth street in front of the school.

James S. Geale another member of the Citizens' Committee, said he believed that if the board was willing to develop the plan along these lines and set accurate costs the people of Riverton would approve it. He said he could not believe the taxpayers would be willing to scrap the present building on which it will take another sixteen years to pay off the bonds. He advised the board that they might well forget it and get down to serious consideration of remodeling the present building to give pupils adequate facilities at a price which the people could pay. He recommended that the cost of remodeling be financed over a period of years covering the expiration of the present bonds.

Better to Wait, Some Think

The proposition to do nothing to the present building except painting and a few necessary minor repairs and waiting until the people of the borough could do something really worthwhile in the way of school building construction, met with considerable approval.

A. Wilson Sylvester, member of the Citizens' Committee, and former member of the Board of Education, recommended that the board find out from the state department just what would be necessary to make the present building conform with state requirements.

George D. Steedle, member of the Board of Education and chairman of the property committee, said that he had just gone over the school building with a member of the state department in charge of buildings, and that all the changes necessary with the exception of fireproofing could be made for less than $5,000.

Engaged

A betrothal of much interest to the younger set of Moorestown is that of Miss Jeannette Weer Chew to Charles A. Traendly, of Brooklyn, N. Y. and Rowayton, Conn. Miss Chew is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Weer Chew, of East Maple Avenue, Merchantville, and Mr. Traendly is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Traendly, of Ocean avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.

The engagement was announced at a bridge-luncheon on Saturday at the home of the bride-elect. Plans for an early Spring wedding are being made.

ORGANIZE NEW WELFARE ASS'N

Riverton and Cinnaminson Combine for Relief Program Under Trained Worker

The Community Welfare Association of Riverton and Cinnaminson was oraginzed at the home of Mrs. Murray C. Boyer Sunday afternoon.

This organization takes the place of the one which has been operating for Palmyra, Riverton and Cinnaminson Township.

The officers are: Chairman, Mrs. Murray C. Boyer; secretary, Mrs. W. W. Chalmers; treasurer, William A. Hendrickson.

J. B. Tyler will give legal advice and services when needed. Other members of the association are Miss Eloise Bryan, Mrs. Killam E. B. Bennett, Mrs. Frederick Blair, Walter L. Bewen, Mrs. Thomas A. Cashin, Mrs. John Douglas Clark, Stuart B. Clark, Mrs. Walter L. Drew, Mrs. Raymond Eastwood, Ross T. Elliott, Miss Mary Evans, Joseph T. Evans, Harold J. Fink, Rev. Albert J. Harke, Francis Holvick, John Hullings, Edward Jessup, Lawrence Keating, Mrs. H. M. Kleckhefer, Mrs. E. M. Kinsey, Rev. Arthur S. Lewis, Ross Mattis, H. H. Murray, Mrs. William Shoemaker, W. W. Smith, William H. Taplin, Howard G. Taylor, Mrs. J. B. Tyler, and Mrs. Walter K. Woolman.

Mrs. Boyer reported that the salary and expenses of a trained service worker had been contributed by friends of Miss Hannah McI. Biddle, who started this work in the Riverton Porch Club many years ago, and whose great desire it was that a social service worker should be engaged.

All the money collected by the association will be applied direct to relief work. The social worker is Mrs. E. N. Cooper, wife of the supervisor of the Riverton Public School, and who has had many years' experience as a trained worker.

Plans were discussed for raising funds and W. W. Smith was appointed chairman of the finance committee, which is composed of H. H. Murray, Ross T. Elliott, Ross E. Mattis, Stuart Clark and Walter L. Bowen.

An employment committee was appointed with Mrs. J. B. Tyler as chairman.

Announcement was made of second hand clothing sale to be held in the Bishop building on November 7. On November 6 the store will be open from 9 to 4 to receive clothing in good condition for the sale the following day.

The association adjourned to meet again at the call of the president.

Riverton School Notes

Last year Student Government was put into effect at Riverton School. This year the classes voted to maintain the organization. The idea of letting the children govern themselves not only helps them to be more orderly, but rtains them for later life when they will have no adults to direct them. It also assists them in controlling their own actions and becoming better self-governed citizens. Two traffic squads of four children each have been appointed to keep order on the stairs. These squads are represented by both girls and boys, the girls taking care of the front stairs, and the boys, the back. To maintain order all must cooperate. No organization is a success without the cooperation of its members.

Therefore, the Student Council has asked everyone to do his part as a citizen of the school in order to develop an ideal school spirit.

At a recent session of the eighth grade English Class a meeting was held to organize a new Press Club. They elected the officers of the editorial staff, which were as follows: Editor-in-chief, Clifton Mayfield; assistant editor, Charles Rader; art editors, James Webb and Helen Schmidt; faculty advisor, Emily D. Lippincott; business manager, Kathryn Schneider, and printers, Olive Jones and Annie Glud. A staff of reporters was also appointed. They are: Richard Barclay, Robert Hullings, Florence Gorman, Benjamin Ray, Doris Vaughn, Betty Bailey, Wetona Barker, Dudley King, Julia Washington, Alice Williams, Elsie Showell, Harod Baker, James Wilson, Helen Rech, Edward Smith, Richard Payne and Robert Guest. The following Monday they held a meeting to plan the paper, which will come out once a month and will sell at one cent a copy.

CARS COLLIDE

Another auto smashup at the underpass of state highway S-41 in West Palmyra, occurred Monday when a car driven by Alphonso Tropia, 811 Christian street, Philadelphia, was struck by the machine driven by Fred E. Huntingdon, of 7211 Oxford avenue, Philadelphia.

Tropia suffered concussion of the brain and is still in Cooper Hospital Camden. His passenger, Melchione Labranco, 824 Christian street, suffered a lacerated nose, while Huntingdon was cut on the leg.

Tropia was attempting to make a left hand turn into S-41 and failed to see Huntingdon's car, which was speeding toward the Palmyra bridge. The accident was investigated by Palmyra officers Ryan and Wallace.

NAB MOORESTONIAN FOR DESERTING HIS WIFE AND CHILDREN

Lawrence Wescoatt, of Moorestown, wanted for some time on a charge of desertion and neglect of his wife and four children, ranging in age from seven years to nine months, was arrested last Friday upon his return home.

Wescoatt, arrested by Chief of Police John H. Bradshaw, was committed to the county jail at Mount Holly Friday evening by Recorder Joseph W. Johnston in default of $1,300 bail on two charges. Tuesday afternoon it was reported that he would gain his freedom in a few hours as bond was being obtained.

The fugitive was charged with assault and battery on his wife, Ethel, and desertion and neglect. Bail on the first charge was fixed at $300 while he was instructed to post $1000 bond on the latter.

COUNT TO TACKLE DEGLANE MONDAY

Just when Promoter Charlie Grip, of Camden, had all the details nicely lined up for a grand and glorious grappling get-together in Camden for last Monday night. Lo and Behold, a whole family of long-distance calls and telegrams poured in on him just before the big DeGlane-Zaryuoff title bout was to take place, all of which told him in sa dterms that the big French world king would be unable to hit the deck on the night scheduled.

The sad story was that DeGlane, a native of France, has been visiting these United States on a six months passport, and that it expired sooner than he thought it would, whereupon the undwinding of the necessary red tape for a renewal prevented the champion's appearance on schedule.

But Charlie did not give up the ghost—instead, he buzzed around right smart and lined up another of the titleholder's leading challengers to tackle Zaryuoff in what was to be an elimination bout, with the winner to meet the king next Monday. And, boys, what a battle that was—Zaryuoff, outweighed twenty or twenty-five pounds, gave Browning, the big Californian, a hot evening of it, breaking even with him at a fall each and actually having much the better of the going throughout the distance.

Then, when Referee Bob Jones called it a draw at the end of 90 minutes, State Inspector Eddie Welsh suggested that the spectators be called upon to select which of the grapplers should face DeGlane. Announcer Archie McNew first raised Browning's hand; the applause and cheering were terrific. Then he raised the Count's, and the response was even more enthusiastic. But Archie must be certain—again he raised the arm of the mighty son of the Golden West, and his response was even greater than previously. But when, for the second time, he held aloft the starboard boom of the knob-headed nobleman, there could remain no doubt, for no Dempsey or Ruth or Lindbergh ever received a more vociferous greeting. So the Count it is who will meet the king next Monday night, with the world's heavyweight wrestling crown awaiting the winner.

Buechler — Landgraf

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Landgraf, of West Broad street, Palmyra, announce the marriage of their daughter, Louise Florence Landgraf, to Lester Philip Buechler, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Buechler, of Merchantville, Wednesday, October 21.

The ceremony took place in the Central Baptist Church, Palmyra, and was performed by the Rev. George Lockett, pastor.

The only attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Christian Castle, of Audubon.

The bride was attired in a brown silk ensemble with hat and slippers to match and wore a corsage of lilies of the valley and forget-me-nots. The matron of honor wore a charming model of red velvet and a corsage of yellow roses.

Mrs. Buechler was the salutatorian of the class of 1929, Palmyra High School, while Mr. Buechler was graduated from Camden High School, class of 1926.

The young couple will make their home at 6330 Wyndam road, Merchantville.

LOCAL CHURCH NEWS

Epworth M. E. Church

Sunday is World's Temperance Sunday and in observance of the day the pastor will preach at the evening service, 7.45, on "Ex-King Alcohol—do we want him re-enthroned?" We dare not treat this important issue with lethargy. We aim to face the prohibition question honestly and fearlessly.

Our church school meets at ten o'clock. Trained teachers will instruct your children in graded lessons. Our adult classes are of the finest.

Sunday morning at eleven o'clock we will observe the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper. This service will be a heart preparation for our special services which will begin on November 8 and continue for at least two weeks.

The ministry of music for Sunday will include the anthems, "What are These arrayed in White Robes," by Stainer, and "O Master, Let me Walk with Thee," by Pike. Miss Mary Coward will sing at the morning service, "Hymn of the Last Supper," by Demerest.

The Official Board will meet in the Board Room on Monday evening at eighth o'clock.

The Ladies Aid Society meets on Wednesday afternoon at three at the home of Mrs. Harry Rudduck.

Wednesday evening at eight the mid-week service of praise and prayer. Our practical discussion will be, "The Possessions of a Christian," Matt. 6:19-34.

Sunday afternoon the Burlington County Federation of Men's Bible Classes will meet in the Methodist Church. The Rev. W. J. Sayre, of Trenton, will be the speaker. All men are invited to attend. Come at 2.30.

First Lutheran

(Rev. Harold L. Creager)

The sermon themes at the services of worship next Sunday will be, in the morning, "The Eagerness of God"; in the evening, "The Victory of Faith".

The Luther League will continue a discussion begun last Sunday on "Some Good and Bad Features of Amusements". This is a very live topic for young people (for all, in fact), and is bringing forth an interesting exchange of ideas.

This Friday evening a Hallowe'en masquerade party is being sponsored by the choir. Admission 25 cents. All are cordially invited to enjoy a good time together.

The monthly meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society has been changed from next Tuesday to next Thursday afternoon, November 5. Covered dish luncheon at one o'clock, followed by the business meeting. The bazaar will be held the following week, November 13 and 14.

E. B. BROWNING.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"EVERLASTING PUNISHMENT" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Church of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, November 1, 1931.

The Golden Text is: "The hope of the righteous shall be gladness; but the expectation of the wicked shall perish" (Proverbs 10:28).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "If thou, Lord, shouldest mark iniquities, O Lord, who shall stand? But there is forgiveness with thee, that thou mayest be feared" (Psalms 130: 3, 3).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The destruction of sin is the divine method of pardon. Divine Life destroys death, Truth destroys error, and Love destroys hate. Being destroyed, sin needs no other form of forgiveness (p. 339).

Presbyterian

Charles T. Bates, Pastor

The Calvary Presbyterian Church will hold its morning service of worship at 11 o'clock Sunday. Evening service at 8 o'clock. All departments of the Church School will meet at 10 a. m. The Christian Endeavor Society gives a cordial invitation to all young people of the community to meet with them in the church school auditorium at 7 o'clock.

Midweek service, Wednesday at 8 o'clock.

The Ladies' Aid Society will meet on Wednesday afternoon, November 4, at 2.30 o'clock. This will be followed at 3.00 by the meeting of the Women's Missionary Society.

The Golden Hour Circle will hold a rummage sale in the Bishop store today and tomorrow. Contributions will be received by Mrs. Clifton, 504 Main street.

GOOD NEWS!
The people of this section know the economy that attends the use of a quality product.
Quality in coal depends on two characteristics — Purity and Uniformity. PURITY means a high percentage of pure carbon, the heat producing element and a low percentage of impurities which produce ashes. If you buy a coal which is UNIFORM year in and year out, you know exactly what you are buying and the proper firing and draft regulation of your furnace becomes an easy habit that involves minimum effort and time.
We are therefore extremely pleased that we have been appointed exclusive distributors in this section of
JEDDO-HIGHLAND COAL
Aristocrat of Anthracite ever since it was first mined in 1858 on account of its unusual purity and unchanging high standard of preparation.
We urge you to try a load of this real premium quality fuel, which we are now furnishing at the price of ordinary anthracite.

'PALS' DEFEAT PEMBERTON, 6-0

Palmyra Climbs Into Third Place in the Burlington County League

Palmyra High School gridders climbed into third place in the Burlington County High School Football League Friday when they defeated Pemberton High 15 to 6.

The setback was the second this season for Pemberton, while the "Pals" were making their first appearance of the season in the circuit.

Palmyra was the first to tally in the game when a series of line plunges carried the pigskin from its 40-yard line to the "Cornhuskers" 5 yard line, where Captain Moffitt went over for the touchdown and Bradshaw scored the extra point on a pass from Lenker.

In the same period the "Cornhuskers" tallied their lone touchdown of the game when Ockerson blocked Lenker's punt on Palmyra's 45-yard line and Fort recovered the ball to dash the remaining distance for a score.

The "Pals" tallied their remaining eight points in the second quarter and in the final half Pemberton managed to hold them scoreless.

Three forward passes in a row, starting at midfield, from Lenker to Moffitt and Bradshaw, brought the ball to Pemberton's 25-yard line, where the latter scored on a pass from Lenker for a touchdown. Soon afterward Conway blocked Haines' punt on Pemberton's two yard line and fell on the oval over the end zone for a safety.

GERMANTOWN HI, FRIENDS' IN TIE

Soccer Teams Battle Hard But Score Remains Deadlocked 1 to 1

The soccer teams of Moorestown and Germantown Friends' schools clashed on the Moorestown field Tuesday afternoon and ended the game in a deadlock, the final score being 1-1.

Both teams played hard and while the bright afternoon sun was a handicap at the start of the game, darkness crowded the latter half.

The Germantown boys got under way at the first blow of the whistle and B. Evans scored near the end of the first quarter. In the second period, after repeated attempts, Powell, for Moorestown, made a goal. In the last half goals were narrowly missed by both teams.

B. Evans of Germantown, received a cut over the left eyebrow in the second quarter which was dressed by Dr. S. Emlen Stokes. French replaced Evans on the Germantown team.

The line-up.

Moorestown		Germantown
J. Moore	goal	Tompkinson
G. Moore	right fullback	Butterworth

Moorestown Overwhelmed in First Half of Fracas By Homesters

The game, played on the Burlington field, was witnessed by a large crowd. In the first few minutes of play, Costello intercepted a pass and skirted the end for a touchdown. The kick for extra point was lost. Later in the first period, a tricky reverse play, a long run and a good drop kick added seven more points to the Burlington total.

In the second period, Jones caught a punt from Luce and ran it back for the third touchdown of the game. The kick for the extra point left the score at the end of the half 20-0.

Moorestown managed to hold the Blue and White gridders scoreless in the third period. Then Burlington added six more points in the fourth quarter.

Moorestown was credited with three first downs to Burlington's six.

The line-up was as follows:

Moorestown		Burlington
Paulsen	left end	Pitkoe
Salmon	left tackle	Pinto
Burke	center	Conway
Shoemaker	right guard	Costello
D. Steinmetz	right tackle	Turkington

PALMYRA BIG RED TO PLAY ROEBLING

Bull Dogs, Who Defeated Riverton Last Week, Will Tackle "Jackets" on Saturday

The Palmyra Big Red team will entertain the Roebling Bull Dogs Saturday on the high school field. The Bull Dogs defeated Riverton last Saturday and this Saturday's game will allow the local fans to compare the strength of the Twin Town teams.

The "Jackets" met with defeat at the hands of the P.R.R. Y.M.C.A. on the Pamyra field last Saturday, 7-0. An intercepted pass was responsible for the lone tally, which came midway in the first period.

"Johnny" Meyers was forced to make a hurried pass which fell short into the hands of an opposing line man, who ran unmolested to the Palmyra goal line. The extra point was added by a placement kick.

The Palmyra boys had ten first downs to one for the visitors, but were unable to make ground for the final ten-yard space.

Fred Conway displayed some classy football in returning punts from five to twenty yards on each occasion. Both Reagle and Conway showed good form on the line bucks and end runs.

Palmyra made most of its advances on straight football and expects to concentrate on this method mainly in future games.

Among those whose licenses were revoked for driving while intoxicated was Benjamin F. H. Burris, of Mount Holly road, Beverly.

EAGLE FERRIS WINS IN MT. HOLLY TRIALS

Eagle Ferris, one of the outstanding dogs in the country, shattered a world's record in dogdom at Mount Holly Sunday afternoon by being awarded first place in the members' all-age stake in the annual Fall trials of the Mount Holly Field Dog Club.

Ferris, a liver and white pointer, owned by Dr. Harold E. Longsdorf, of Mount Holly, proved to be the best entry in the all age stake. The winning of the event was the third time since his entry into competition and as a result Dr. Longsdorf was awarded the trophy, which becomes his permanent possession.

According to Dr. Longsdorf, Ferris now holds the world record of living dogs by turning in 37 major victories. The win Sunday shattered the old mark and makes Eagle Ferris the outstanding dog of his set. The previous record was held by Mrs. Scott Hughes' Beaview Rex, of Ventnor City, N. J.

PALMYRA BOWS 3-0 AS MOORESTOWN HI WINS FIRST HOCKEY MATCH

FRUIT GROWERS TO ENTER SHOW

Moorestown Grange Display Attracting Many New Exhibitors This Year

Moorestown Grange fruit show, to be held at the Moorestown Community House on Thursday, November 5, has every fruit grower in the vicinity making final selections for his entry in the annual display of the best fruit grown in New Jersey.

Cash prizes will be awarded to the new exhibitors winning the most points in the plate displays. Every one who has not won a first place in any class for the past two years is eligible.

The local crop of apples, though not large this year, has an extra touch of color due to the fine October weather, and the flavor is unsurpassed.

There will be keen competition for the third leg of the much coveted Moorestown Grange Cup. Emmor Roberts and Lester Collins each have one leg on the cup from shows in previous years and several other growers are determined that further legs on the trophy shall not be secured this year by Mr. Roberts or Mr. Collins. This stimulated interest among the fruit growers of this district promise to make 1931 grange show one of the best it has ever had.

A special exhibit is being staged by the ladies of the Grange. There will be two classes of exhibits: first, most appetizing and appealing prepared apple dish, and second, most original way of using apples. The winners are to be selected by popular vote.

The fruit show is free and open to the public from two to five o'clock in the afternoon and from seven to nine o'clock in the evening.

Three detectives attended church services in Glasgow and arrested two girls stealing the purses of women at prayer.

Daisy Simpson, of Birmingham, Eng., recently appeared in police court for the 120th time and got six months for picking a truck driver's pocket.

MUCH ROAD WORK FINISHED IN 1931

Freeholder Stout Makes Report of Construction and Repairs

The following report for 1931 has been submitted to the Board of Freeholders by Director of Roads Charles R. Stout.

Hon Board of Chosen Freeholders
Burlington County, N. J.

Gentlemen:

It is with pleasure that I present my road report for the year 1931 for it has been an outstanding year in the annals of highway construction in Burlington county. A tremendous amount of work has been accomplished at an extremely low cost to the taxpayers, and a large number of needy men given employment.

The county raised by direct taxation for road purposes approximately $60,000, the majority of the remaining portion coming from motor vehicle fees and the gasoline tax.

The New Jersey State Highway Commission has also greatly assisted the county in its road work during the past year. State Highway Route 38 from Camden to Mount Holly via Maple Shade, Moorestown and Hainesport and also State Highway Route 40 from Camden to the Ocean county line via Marlton, Medford, Red Lion and Four Mile Colony are being rapidly completed and in a short period of time will be open for traffic.

State aid to townships has also played an important role in highway development for this year. A special State Aid fund to townships for maintenance work on roads already built under State Aid has assisted the townships in keeping their roads in good condition. The county also did its part in this important project by utilizing county forces and equipment in the maintenance work.

In order to present the work accomplished this year in Burlington county, I submit the following data:

NEW ADVERTISING MANAGER

Appointment of R. H. Crooker as advertising manager of the Chevrolet Motor Company, succeeding R. K. White, who has been transfeered to the Oakland division of General Motors in a sales capacity, has been announced at Detroit by H. J. Klinger, vice president and general sales manager of Chevrolet. Promotion of Mr. Crooker, who was formerly assistant advertising manager, places the administration of Chevrolet's large annual advertising budget in the hands of a man eminently qualified by previous experience for the post.

ORGANIZE YOUNG G. O. P. MEMBERS

Burlington County Branch of New Voters Formed at County Seat

A new force in the affairs of the Republican party in Burlington county was created last Thursday night when the Burlington County Branch of the Young Republicans of New Jersey held its organization meeting at the county courthouse. There were only about 30 persons present, but indications are that the group will increase rapidly in membership during the next few weeks.

J. Harold Price, of Burlington, who is a deputy county clerk and was one of the originators of this group, presided at Thursday's meeting and he devoted a part of his opening remarks to telling about the organization of the young Republicans in the state, and throughout the country. The chairman and first vice chairman of each county group, he said, are appointed by the chairman and vice chairman of the Republican County Committee and the two county members of the State Committee, and these four persons also constitute the board of advisors for the county unit. The board of advisors for Burlington county consists of County Chairman Charles R. Stout, of Florence; County Vice Chairman Mrs. Pearl Bridgegum, of Hainesport; State Committeeman George N. Wimer, of Palmyra and State Committeewoman Mrs. Elizabeth G. Terry, of Edgewater Park.

The group appointed Mr. Price as the chairman of the Young Republicans of Burlington county and named Miss Berna Detta Gsell, of Mount Holly, as the first vice chairman. The other officers of the group were elected at Thursday nights' meeting, and they are as follows:

Second vice chairman, Miss Myrtle Cramer, of Maple Shade; secretary, Charles Blow, of Beverly; assistant secretary; Miss Margaret Zellar, of Bordentown; treasurer, Howard Severns, of Burlington.

On a motion passed by the group, Mr. Price was authorized to appoint an executive committee, which will consist of two members, one male and one female, from each of the districts of the county as outlined by the group in preparation for its banquet held recently at Medford Lakes. Mr. Price appointed some members of the executive committee on Thursday night and will name the others soon. Those appointed at the meeting were:

Fred H. Dunphey, Woodland township; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thomas, Washington township; Irvin Norcross and Elizabeth Firth, Burlington city; Hazel Adams and Kirkland D. Marter, Burlington township; Anna Allen, Southampton and Shamong townships; Wilbur Lippincott and Margaret Lippincott, Jobstown; Clinton Harker, Bordentown; Alvin Wilson and Elsie McCullis, Florence township; Ruth Thompson, Columbus; Betty Smith and Howard C. Johnson, Maple Shade; Ivins Wright, Mount Holly; Palmer Adams, Riverton and Cinnaminson; Chris Petito, Palmyra; James Tomes, Moorestown; Ethel Fort and Nelson Morton, Pemberton; Arthur Frazier and Mabel Arndt, Riverside.

Palerm Adams, of Palmyra, was appointed as the male member of the county delegation to the state committee of the Young Republicans to prepare for the state convention of the organization, which will be held either the first or second Saturday in December at a place to be announced later. Mr. Adams will select the other delegate himself.

DAVID BAIRD, Jr.

It is doubly important now to have a capable executive, a business man of experience and proven ability, in the Governor's chair.

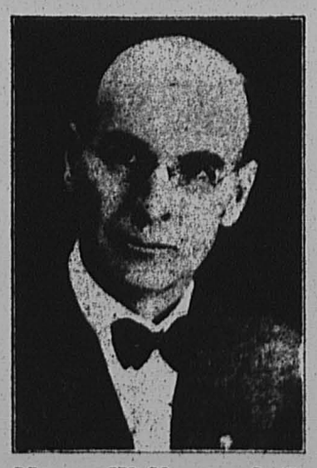
DAVID BAIRD, JR., offers the voters a well-digested plan for reducing Public Expenditures and lifting a part of the Burden of Taxation from the Shoulders of the Common People. He promises to direct the government of the State as he has his own successful business. He will insist that the State receive a hundred cents in value for every dollar of the people's money spent. He is opposed to full-time salaries for part-time jobs and he stands squarely behind the principle of Civil Service. He has met every issue squarely, side-stepping nothing.

DAVID BAIRD, JR., is a friend of the poor and the unemployed. He has taken much of the time demanded in the interest of his candidacy in this campaign, to aid the needy and unfortunate. No deserving person ever appealed in vain for help from DAVID BAIRD, JR.

THERE IS NO REASON WHY ANY REPUBLICAN SHOULD VOTE FOR MOORE, BUT A DOZEN WHY DEMOCRATS, SEEKING CLEAN GOVERNMENT, SHOULD SUPPORT BAIRD.

And when voting for Baird don't forget to mark your ballot for the following Republican nominees, every man deserving your support.

FOR THE ASSEMBLY



Marcus W. Newcomb, Md.
of Pemberton Township

His record in the House of Assembly should commend him to all voters, no matter what their partisan affiliation. He has a record of fidelity to duty, approached by few men who ever served in the Legislature. Dr. Newcomb is no pussyfooter. You always know where he stands and that is in defense of the People's Rights. His several successive terms in the House of Assembly render him a particularly valuable member—And he is for Burlington County, First, Last and All the Time.

FOR SURROGATE

George B. Bitting
of Mount Holly

He is public-spirited and aggressive and works tirelessly for the uplift of the masses. His education, business experience and tact render him peculiarly well fitted for the important office for which his party has nominated him. He possesses all the qualifications for the successful discharge of his duties as Surrogate of Burlington County and can be depended upon to render faithful and efficient service in the office for which his party has nominated him.

For Members of the BOARD OF CHOSEN FREEHOLDERS

DIRECTOR OF COUNTY ROADS
Charles R. Stout of Florence

He has done more than any other man to put Burlington County on the Road Map. His administration of the Department of County Roads has been pronounced the most efficient in the State.

A Veteran Public Servant who grows More Valuable with Every Succeeding Year.

DIRECTOR OF BRIDGES
James C. McCormick of Burlington Township

DRIVER'S TESTS TO BE 'OVERHAULED'

New Examination, Effective in November, to be Less of "Stumbling Block"

By Harold G. Hoffman
State Commissioner of Motor Vehicles

New Jersey's modification of its driver's license examination which becomes effective during November is in line with the general thought that such tests are due for an overhauling. There is nothing in the revised test of which motorists or prospective motorists need to be afraid. On the contrary, it is designed to make the examination less of a stumbling-block and, at the same time, more effectively selective.

In the new written examination on the motor vehicle regulations and traffic code, this state is undertaking to eliminate an obstacle that has been reared before those whose fitness hardly is to be questioned. That obstacle has been the complicated and involved language of the law.

It is unfortunate that the legal vernacular is somewhat removed from that of the layman, particularly when it applies to such an important body of rules and regulations as the motor vehicle law. By giving every operator's license seeker a copy of 100 direct and simply worded questions applying to those rules and regulations, however, the motor vehicle department believes the handicap of legal language will be removed.

The user of this list can be absolutely positive that there is nothing tricky about the questions.

Another point, the discussion of which seems to be in order, is that of the attitude of those taking driver's license examinations. The percentage of failures is considerable, not only in New Jersey but in every state which issues licenses. In his disappointment the applicant is disposed to blame the examination. Actually, however, it is due to his own lack of preparation, or, in a considerable number of cases, to an unjustified nervousness and hesitation which prevents him from doing his best.

My advice to the operator's license applicant is that he approach the examination with confidence. He can do so if he has studied his list of questions thoroughly and has practiced driving a sufficiently long period to execute the basic maneuvers with skill. He should not rush into the examination.

2 BOYS SAVED AFTER FALL IN WATER TANK

Maple Shade Pigeon Hunters Pulled From 30-Foot Pool by Policemen

Robert Blair, 15, and James Roach, 17, who live on Lindenwood avenue, Maple Shade, had a narrow escape from drowning in the tank of the Chester township water works last week when a ladder broke.

Blair and Roach had scaled the tank, which has been abandoned. At the top of the reservoir, 150 feet from the ground, they started to stalk their prey. Suddenly the rusty ladder gave way and both fell into 30 feet of water.

Both youths were floundering about, swimming in the cold water, shouting for help. A passerby who had seen the pair tumble from their precarious perch, called the police.

Sergeant Jackson, Daniel Rohletter and Amos Ward, son of Police Chief Clarence Ward, climbed the tank and dropping ropes to the trapped boys, rescued them without difficulty.

Swat the Mosquito Fund Appropriation

Another chance will be given the voters of Burlington county to keep down county expenditures when the following question appears on the ballot November 3.

"Do you favor an appropriation for the Mosquito Commission as established under the Act of the Legislature in 1912 for the year of 1932?"

Application has been made to the Board of Freeholders for an appropriation for the work of the Mosquito Commission in Burlington county in 1932, and as the law gives the Freeholders the power to ask for a non-binding referendum on such matters, they have requested the County Clerk to place the question before the voters in order to ascertain public sentiment about the matter.

It is said that the sum to be asked for is $25,000.

MIDDLETON LISTS 40 BANKS HOLDING $15,000,000 FUNDS

State Treasurer Albert C. Middleton, of Moorestown, last week made public a list of 40 banks throughout the state which have on deposit among them $15,000,000 of state highway funds derived from the recent sale of the bonds. Publication of this information was in addition to the bank lists of deposits previously given out by the custodian of the state moneys under the Abell Law passed by the 1931 Legislature.

Banks in this section holding road bond money follow:

Bordentown Banking Company, $35,000; Burlington County Trust Company, Moorestown; $100,000; First National Bank, Beverly, $10,000; Haddonfield National Bank, $45,000.

NAME RELIEF HEAD

Mount Holly Woman Named Director For Burlington County

By the appointment of emergency relief directors in Burlington and Gloucester counties, Chester I. Barnard, New Jersey Relief Director, completed organization of the State's Relief Administration for winter needs of the unemployed and dependents.

Mrs. Catharine Flynn Smith, of Mount Holly, will serve in the county post in Burlington, and Wadsworth Crease, of Woodbury, in Gloucester. Their appointments, filling the last two major key positions in the relief administration, come only five weeks after Governor Larson named Mr. Barnard to direct relief work in the state, and two weeks after passage of legislation equipping the director with a definite program of relief aid, with approximately ten million dollars to support it.

3 RULES
big help to BOWELS

What a joy to have the bowels move like clockwork, every day! It's easy, if you mind these simple rules of a famous old doctor:

1. Drink a big tumblerful of water before breakfast, and several times a day.
2. Get plenty of exercise without unduly fatiguing yourself.
3. Try for a bowel movement at exactly the same hour every day.

Everyone's bowels need help at times, but the thing to use is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Then you'll get a good cleaning-out, and it won't leave your insides weak and watery. This family doctor's prescription is made from fresh laxative herbs, pure pepsin, and other helpful ingredients that couldn't hurt a child. But how it will wake up those lazy bowels! How good you will feel with a clean system! At drugstores everywhere.

PUBLIC RELIEF EXPENSES GROW

Burlington County Will Spend $261,310 for Institutions and Poor Funds

Camden, Burlington and Gloucester, three South Jersey counties which have wide agricultural stretches but also some industrial areas, will spend $1,254,705 this year for public relief activities, or about one-fifth more than they spent last year.

The counties spend several times the total put out by their municipalities. Camden county's outlay in 1931 will be five times that of all its municipalities. Gloucester is spending about thirteen times the share of its municipalities, and Burlington, over fifteen times.

Burlington county with its municipalities spent $217,994 in such work last year and will spend $261,310 this year. The thirty-nine municipalities had an average per capita expenditure of ten cents in 1930, and are expected to spend sixteen cents this year.

County institutions, such as the almshouse, institution for the insane and tuberculosis sanitorium, are listed for $92,000 in 1931, $74,119 in 1930 and $84,961 in 1929. Other institutions consumed $63,376 in 1929, $73,024 in 1930 and $81,000 in 1931. Relief through the State Board of Children's Guardians cost $44,074 in 1929, $60,417 in 1930 and $72,000 this year.

Municipal expenditures, spent through the overseers, total $9,633 last year, will reach $15,510 this year.

Per capita expenditures in Burlington county municipalities for 1931:

Burlington city, eighteen cents; Florence, fourteen cents; Moorestown, nineteen cents; Riverside, fourteen cents; Northampton, nineteen cents; Chester, ten cents; Palmyra, four cents; Bordentown, fourteen cents; Beverly, five cents; Burlington township, fiftee ncents; Riverton, one cent; ship, fifteen cents; Riverton, one cent; four cents; Medford, twenty cents; Delran, ten cents.

Mount Laurel, seventy-seven cents; Pemberton township, fifteen cents; Mansfield, twelve cents; Evesham, twenty-nine cents; Southampton, thirty-seven cents; Springfield, six cents; Chesterfield, twenty cents; Edgewater Park, sixteen cents; Hainesport, fifteen cents; Woodland, fifty cents; Lumberton, fifty-four cents; Bordentown, sixty cents.

Pemberton Borough, six cents; Bass River, three cents; North Hanover, seven cents; New Hanover, twenty-three cents; Willingboro, sixteen cents; Easthampton, ten cents; Fieldsboro, twenty cents; Westhampton, fifteen cents; Washington, ten cents; Shamong, eleven cents; Tabernacle, sixteen cents. Wrightstown spent nothing in 1930 or 1931.

The State Pension Commission has gathered public welfare costs on each county in the state as part of its job of studying the operation of the dependency relief laws. One phase of the dependency relief situation will come before the voters November 3 when a referendum is taken on the acceptance by the various counties of the county welfare plan.

No expenditures by private welfare agencies are included in the data released by the pension body. These studies have been carried out under the direction of Commissioner William J. Ellis of the State Department of Institutions and Agencies, who is secretary of the Pension Commission, and Dr. Emma A. Winslow, research director.

JUST THINK OF THIS!

DOCTORING THE DOCTRINE

What an insult! Perhaps! Last month, September 1931, Mexico joined the League of Nations with the expressed reservation that she did not recognize the sphere of influence called the Monroe Doctrine which Woodrow Wilson very thoughtfully incorporated into the League Covenant at the time when he expected the United States to join the League. Think of that! A member of the League and our nearest neighbor to the south refuses to accept our domination over the whole of North and South America! She is not the only one by any means, but she represents an attitude that is only too prevalent to the south of us.

Somebody must be wrong, for our Secretary of State in 1895, Mr. Olney, told Great Britain that "the United States is practically sovereign on this continent!" Think that over and see how true it is. Today we have marines in Nicaragua, Panama, and Haiti. Today we control financially Santo Domingo, Guatemala, Honduras and most of the other Latin American countries. Today we own Porto Rico and the Virgin Islands as well as dominate Cuba through the Platt Amendment. Perhaps Olney was right after all. At least time has made his statement a lot truer than it was in 1895. But why did he say it then, why should it be true today, and why should Mexico refuse to accept it?

Well, back in 1823 in December, President Monroe made his annual speech to Congress and in that speech he stated that first the United States would not mix in European affairs and that, second, European nations must not interfere in the political status quo of the Americas nor attempt to further colonize in America, for fear of its being considered an unfriendly act by the U. S. That is all the Monroe Doctrine is. It is not a law or a treaty nor has it ever been voted on by the people of the United States or their representatives in Congress. The first part of the bargain has of course long since been forgotten. Our seizure of the Philippines ended that if it was not ended before, while today we are mixed in European affairs to the extent of over $15,000,000,000 investments to put it in just one way.

The second part is still our sacred Doctrine. It has been the excuse for Secretary Olney's remark about our sovereignty at a time when Great Britain was refusing to arbitrate a boundary dispute with Venezuela, as well as for our sending troops down to Mexico in 1865 to scare out the French support for Maximilian which resulted in his "martyrdom." More important than that, it has been interpreted by Roosevelt to mean that we alone should exercise an international police force to collect debts, ensure the "domestic tranquility" and so on in all the Latin America countries. It is this so-called "Roosevelt Corollary," this exclusive right of intervention recognized by both the League Covenant and the Kellogg Pact correspondence, that has caused the "Dollar Diplomacy" and domination of the United States in the Caribbean as well as the bitterness, if not hatred, of Mexico and her sister republics. Well might we welcome the efforts of the Hoover administration to withdraw our marines and to make Haiti self-supporting. They are steps in the right direction. But even more should we welcome a frank repudiation of the Roosevelt Corollary as being un-American, unjust and a permanent stumbling-block to the friendliness of the Caribbean. Justice and world peace demands it!

ENTRANCE GATE, LAKEVIEW MEMORIAL PARK, LOCATED IN CINNAMINSON TOWNSHIP, THREE MILES NORTH FROM THE POINT WHERE THE PALMYRA BRIDGE CROSSES THE BURLINGTON PIKE

DEVELOPMENT of Lakeview Memorial Park is well under way. Contracts have been awarded to complete the entrance drive and to develop what will be known as "Block 3". This will be in the form of a beautiful Portal Garden with flagstone walks, with underground sprinkler system which will operate to keep green the spacious lawns.

While Lakeview is a burial park, it is planned to make it one of the most attractive botanical gardens in the state as well as the most beautiful burial estate in this section of the country.

Already a vast number of burial lots have been sold. Now while development is just beginning is the most favorable time for purchase.

The complete story of Lakeview Memorial Park is interesting . . . told in a beautiful brochure that will be sent to anyone requesting it.

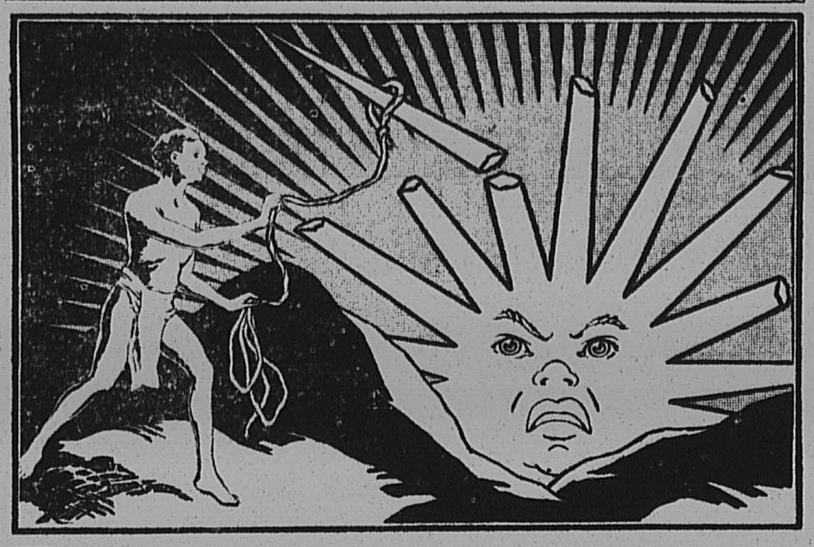
Snaring The Sun



IS, they do that in Hawaii, both in legend and in fact. The legend, recorded by the Reverend A. O. Forbes in Hawaiian Folk Tales, a compiled by Thomas G. Thrum is to the effect that a certain Maui was the son of Hina-lau-ae and Hina and they dwelt at a place called Mahaka above Kalakaka on West Maui. Now his mother, Hina, made kapas (cloth beaten from the bark of the paper mulberry and other trees). And as she spread them out to dry, the days were so short that she was put to great trouble and labor in hanging them out and taking them in day after day until they were dry.

Maui, seeing this, was filled with pity for her, for the days were so short that, no sooner had she got her kapas all spread out to dry than the Sun went down, and he had to take them in again. So he determined to make the Sun go slower.

A Coconut Fibre Lasso

He first went to Waiohi in Hamakua, on East Maui, to observe the motions of the Sun. There he saw that it rose over Haleakala. He then went up on Haleakala and saw that the Sun in its course came directly over that mountain. He then went home again, and after a few days went to a place called Paehoho at Wailuku. There he cut down all the coconut trees, and gathered the fibre of the coconut husks in great quantity. This he manufactured into strong cord.

He went up Haleakala again, taking his cord with him. And when the Sun rose above where he was stationed, he prepared a noose of the cord, and, casting it, snared one of the Sun's larger beams and broke it off. And thus he snared and broke off, one after another, all the strong rays of the Sun.

The Sun Surrenders

Then he shouted exultingly: "Thou art my captive, and now I will kill thee for thy going so swiftly."

And the Sun said: "Let me live, and I shall see me go more slowly hereafter. Behold, hast thou not broken off all my strong legs, and left me only the weak ones?"

So the agreement was made, and Maui permitted the Sun to pursue its course, and from that time on it went more slowly; and that is the reason why the days are longer at one season of the year than at another. It was this that gave the name to that mountain, which should be properly called Aleiee-ka-la (Sun snarer), and not Haleakala.

According to students of folk tales and mythology, this particular story is not duplicated in the folk lore of any other country. Neither is the actual snaring of the sun in the golden heart of that tropical fruit known as pineapple duplicated in any other country to the same extent, for the best and sweetest pineapples come from Hawaii.

It has been found that pineapples picked green for shipment fail to develop their full quota of natural fruit sugar, and that pineapples allowed to ripen on the plant beneath the rays of the Hawaiian sun develop almost four times as much. That is the reason why Hawaiian pineapples are picked at the moment of prime ripeness and clapped into cans with all of their flavor and fruit sugar intact.

Sugar from the Sun

This sugar comes from the sun since it is the action of the sun which ripens the plant and allows it to develop to the delicious extent which it does in this tropical fruit. There was no pineapple industry in Hawaii at the time this legend evolved, but perhaps there was something prophetic about it. It is not Maui now, but the pineapple plants on the island of Maui and also on the other islands which snare the sun.

A Sweet Pineapple Recipe

Pineapple Brown Betty: Melt one-fourth cup butter, add two and one-half cups dry crumbs, and brown slightly. Put alternate layers of crumbs, crushed pineapple from a No. 2 can, and one-half cup brown sugar in a greased baking dish, having top layer of crumbs. Bake in a hot—400°—oven for thirty minutes, or until brown. Serve with cream.

SIX AUTO THIEVES ARE FOUND GUILTY

Career of Party Gang Being Investigated Before Receiving Sentences

Six young thieves captured on Wednesday of last week by the Palmyra police came into court at Mount Holly the following , on waivers and practically admitted being guilty of all the charges preferred against them, their capture cleaning up the mystery surrounding a number of thefts which have taken place in Cinnaminson, Riverton and Palmyra over a period of six months.

Stanley Adams, aged seventeen, and his brother, John Adams, aged fourteen, of 131 Boyer street, Camden, were charged with stealing automobiles, and Stanley admitted the theft of nine Chevrolet cars, while his younger brother's case was heard in the Juvenile Court and the particulars were not given out.

Leon J. Tucholski, of Riverside, was specifically charged with the larceny of a radio belonging to John H. Etris, Palmyra dealer, to which he pleaded guilty, while two brothers, Frank and John Tucholski, both of Parry, admitted stealing five automobile tires and tubes, and all three, it is said, were implicated in the theft of automobiles.

Slapped Baby Girl

Peter Monicki, seventeen, of Parry, admitted stealing three cars and he also is implicated with the other five in many robberies.

Sentence was not passed, the officers wanting more time to investigate the recent actions of the young men.

Incidentally, one of the cars which Monicki and Adams admitted stealing contained the young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lloyd, of Palmyra, who was asleep on the back seat, and it is said that when the baby cried one of the toughs slapped her across the face.

Edward Harvey, colored, of Moorestown, was another wife deserter who used the offer route to rid himself of the obligation of a wife and three children. He will try to pay $6 a week, but will be on probation for one year and must also furnish a bond of $500 without surety.

Will Pay $10 a Week

The third defendant in the category of wife deserters was Charles Bersem, of Burlington, who said he would pay his wife $10 a week for the support of the children when he had work, and this was accepted by the court, who added one year's probation and placed him under the customary $500 bond without surety.

Thomas Hayes, colored, of Delran township, charged with an attack by his step-daughter, Anna R. Gray, came in on a waiver and entered a plea of guilty.

Julia Jossabon, of Florence, convicted by a jury on a charge of receiving stolen goods, was released on a suspended sentence, but she will have court costs of $50 to pay in six months. She will be on probation for two years.

William H. Frake, of Mount Holly, who entered a plea of guilty to stealing a generator from W. L. Methvin, at Unionville, was also released under a suspended sentence, but he will have the court costs of $50 to pay within six months and will be on probation for one year.

Herman vonLintig, a Springfield farmer, who was convicted by a jury on an assault and battery charge, was fined $75.

Bancroft Fined $125

Robert Bancroft, of Delanco, also charged with assault and battery and convicted by a jury, was fined $125 and given six months in which to pay the money.

Albert Jackson, colored, of Riverside, who was sentenced to nine months in jail on the previous Thursday on a charge of assault on Mary Fisher, also colored, of Beverly, had his sentence reconsidered by Judge Rigg. This time he received a suspended sentence, and was placed on probation with the court costs to pay.

Theodore Boettger Is New Public Service Director

THEODORE BOETTGER

THEODORE BOETTGER, of Hackensack, was named a director of Public Service Corporation of New Jersey, October 20 to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Uzal H. McCarter. The appointment was made at the regular meeting of the board in Newark.

As president of the United Piece Dye Works, with plants in Lodi, Hawthorne and Paterson, Mr. Boettger heads what is said to be the largest enterprise of its kind in this country. He has spent his entire business life in the textile industry and has contributed a great deal to its progress. He is a director of the Silk Finishing Company of America, an organization founded by his father and of which his brother is president.

Mr. Boettger was chairman of the New Jersey Interstate Bridge and Tunnel Commission which constructed the Holland Tunnel between Jersey City and New York and the Delaware River Bridge connecting Camden and Philadelphia. He has been vice-president of the Bergen County Chamber of Commerce since its inception.

A resident of Bergen County over thirty years, Mr. Boettger has long been active in civic and community affairs. He is a member of the board of governors of Hackensack Hospital and has taken a particular interest in boy scout work throughout the county.

THE FAMILY DOCTOR

By JOHN JOSEPH GAINES, M.D.

MORE HEARTS

Living almost in the door of a great city, I naturally notice their vital statistics, and their prevailing causes of death as reported in the newspapers. Listen: Within the last seven days five sudden deaths have occurred, the victims ranging from fifty to sixty years of age. "Heart disease" was the newspaper report, doubtless based on the official death certificate. And the mad, unthinking chase after the dollar keeps right on.

It's the same old story. The business man arises from bed in the morning—probably retired at midnight or later—he hastily swallows a cup of coffee and a half-cooked dish of somebody's "health food." He is to busy to fool with a good breakfast; besides, the wife isn't up yet; it's half past eight.

He rushes downtown to the office, or to the car-barn, garage, store or what-have-you. Customers are there waiting. He grinds till twelve-thirty; then the lunch-counter, a miserable excuse for a meal—it just isn't one. Back to the grind for the second session.

Six o'clock—he hurries home—ah, dinner! Beefsteak, fried potatoes, coffee, many condiments for stimulation; fritters, omelettes, gravies—a monster feed and plenty of time; it reassures the tired body and nerves. The desserts challenge the capacity of old King Cole, the merry old soul.

The tubby daddy gets short-winded in time—but he looks so capable with his ample bay-window. He stimulates more—struggles on and on to the fatal fifty to sixty decade, shorter of breath, maybe gets elected to a seat in the city council—drops dead! Just heart disease; too bad.

Is life of so little worth? I wish I could impress upon my neighbors the danger of the six o'clock dinner!

NET INCOME GAIN OF P. S. IS NEARLY THREE MILLION, CO. REPORTS

A comparative statement of combined results of operation for the twelve months ending September 31, 1931, issued by Public Service Corporation of New Jersey shows for the corporation and its subsidiary companies gross earnings of $138, 624,-975.14, as against $138,734,702.60 for the twelve months ending September 31, 1930, a decrease of $109,723.46.

Operating expenses, maintenance, taxes and depreciation for the period were $93,087,222.03, a decrease of $2,-913,126.19, leaving a net income from operations of $45,537,757.11 as against $42,734,354.38 for the twelve months ending September 31, 1930, an increase of $2,803,402.73.

Other net income amounted to $1,-510,062.21 and income deductions to $16,099,331.85, the balance for dividends and surplus being $31,348,487.47 as compared to $29,620,857.58 for the twelve months ending September 31, 1930, an increase of $1,727,629.89.

Thomas Stead, a forger of Norwich, Eng., who escaped before trial, sent a letter of apology to court.

Interesting Version of Conditions at State Prison, Under Col. Edward Stone, Given In Article Submitted by Prisoner

A glance at the management of New Jersey State Prison, Trenton, from inside this institution, is the interesting topic of an article submitted to this newspaper.

Inasmuch as Colonel Edward B. Stone, head keeper at the prison, is a native of Burlington and one of the best known and most popular citizens in this county, the subject presents an unusually absorbing aspect. It is capably written by a former newspaperman who is now one of Col. Stone's wards. The article:

There appeared in the August number Atlantic Monthly an article entitled "Science Goes to Prison, by Ralph B. Holbew, assistant professor of Sociology and Criminology at Dartmouth College. His reference to the conduct and management of the state prison at Trenton under the capable direction of Colonel Edward B. Stone is especially interesting.

There has been a marked improvement in the system prevailing at the prison during recent years: Men are profitably engaged in the production of articles (for state use only); there are shops where are made concrete blocks, shoes, suits of clothing; cabinet shops, shops for manufacture of automobile tags and a modernly-equipped print shop which does all the printing for the several state departments and institutions coming under the direction of Commissioner William J. Ellis of the Department of Institutions and Agencies.

Commissioner Ellis recently stated that this year's institutional exhibit at the Trenton Fair, which was held from September 7 to 12, would be more complete than usual, because of an increased amount of space made available in the new State Building. Continuing, he expressed the hope that many persons would "avail themselves of this opportunity to become acquainted with the functions of our department and the work carried on in the New Jersey state institutions."

"I am sure," he said, "that the exhibit would prove of great interest and lead to a better understanding on the part of the public of the aims and acomplishments of our state institutional system."

It is not to be inferred that the state is concerned only with this employment of inmates for its own gain. Men thus employed are paid a per diem rate according to the class of work in which they are engaged. They are restricted to the spending of a fixed sum weekly for the purchase of such articles as are sold in the prison store; the remainder is applied to their credit in the office, which money they may send to their families or retain until the day of their discharge.

Nor is the mental development of men neglected, there being a staff of competent inmate teachers and a well-stocked library for the use of those intellectually inclined.

In the way of recreation seasonable outdoor sports such as baseball, football, handball, and boxing are engaged in. In the fall and winter months the talking pictures recently installed by the board of managers and Col. Stone will be a source of much entertainment.

Thus the state is doing its part to fosses abilities of which, perhaps, he may be unaware; abilities which he can use to new purposes, to create new things, new thoughts; and, having convinced him of his own strength, must then show him in what practical, concrete ways he can use his particular combination of characteristics.

Fourth Estate Gives Radio a New Star

Nelson Eddy, baritone of the new full hour program heard every Friday night, is a young man who rose from "obits to opera." In Philadelphia some years ago he began his career by writing obituary notices for the local newspapers. He was more interested in music, however, and shortly found himself winner of a contest which caused him to be cast as Amonasro in "Aida." Still in journalism he rushed from a print shop at seven o'clock one evening to fill his role in opera at Philadelphia's Academy of Music. There he hid his initial stage fright behind the dark mask of the Ethiopian king.

ONE BURLINGTON CO. MAN LOSES DRIVING RIGHTS

The driving licenses of 90 New Jersey motorists were revoked last week by Motor Vehicle Commissioner Harold G. Hoffman. Six residents of South Jersey were among the 33 who lost their licenses due to drunken driving and four were among the 22 involved in fatal accidents. Among those whose licenses were revoked for driving while intoxicated was Benjamin F. H. Burris, of Mount Holly road, Beverly.
