"JOY BOAT" DOCKS AT OLD FERRY SLIP

Will be Equipped for Amusements of All Kinds; Dance Pavilion
Restaurant and Theatre

The "Joy Boat" has come to town. It is tied up to the old Tacony, Palmyra ferry slip and the genial host and hostess, Captain A. A. Leyare and his charming wife, are preparing to help the young folks from six to sixty within a radius of fifty miles to have a thoroughly wholesome and joyous good time.

"The Million Dollar Joy Boat" they call it, partly because it cost a million dollars to build it, but chiefly because they aim to dispense a million dollars worth of joy.

The craft is 285 feet long with a 45 foot beam. It originally had eight decks, but three of the upper decks have been removed. These five decks will be equipped with many amusement devices including a merry-go-round and ferris wheel. There will be a spacious dining hall, a dance hall, and theatre with fully appointed stage equipment.

The ship was built during the World War at a cost of one and a quarter million dollars for transporting ammunition to France. It was named the Mahanna.

Improvements will cost $50,000 and take a year to complete. So far as possible local labor will be employed. The boat now has facilities for dancing and refreshments. Music is furnished by a local orchestra.

The boat is open for inspection daily and there is dancing every night except Sunday.

Captain Leyare announced that the boat may be had without charge for affairs sponsored by fraternities, religious and political organizations, the organizations to furnish their own music and entertainment.

NEW ROAD WORK AT BORDENTOWN

County Will Assist City in Paving Farnsworth Ave.
From Curb to Curb

A communication from Bordentown City to the Burlington County Board of Freeholders at their meeting last Friday announced that the city was now ready to proceed with the improvement of Farnsworth avenue from Burlington street to Park street, which has been under way for several months.

The letter stated that the trolley tracks had been removed, that new water pipes and gas mains had been laid and that all of the properties within the area to be improved had been connected with these services. The road construction will be of concrete, extending from curb to curb. The county will pay for a strip 20 feet in width and the city will bear the expense of continuing the construction to the curb on both sides of the street. The cost to the county will be about $10,000 and the city will pay about $13,000.

Charles R. Stout, director of department of roads, stated that money for this improvement had been included in the budget and is now available. His resolution to authorize Bordentown City to proceed with the work was unanimously passed. The specifications for bids will be drawn by the Bordentown City solicitor and approved by H. B. Smith, County Engineer.

A petition from Washington Township requested the county to take over a section of the Lower Bank road from the county line to Lower Bank bridge, a distance of 1.8 miles of the Green Bank-Jenkins-Speedwell road, 10 miles in length, and the New Gretna-Harville-Jenkins road 3-4 of a mile in length. The communication stated that these roads had all been improved by state aid and are now in good condition. The petition was referred to the road department.

Under mandatory legislation recently enacted, the Board passed a resolution defining requirements to be met by those who desire to bid on furnishing supplies and doing work for the county, including statement of equipment and financial responsibility.

County Solicitor Harold B. Wells reported that he had investigated the claim made against the county as a result of a collision between the county car driver by the sheriff, Roscoe C. Shinn, and one operated by Paul J. Rickett, of Jersey City, and found that the county was free from any responsibility in the matter.

Mrs. William McKay, of Bordentown, a member of the County Library Commission, having moved out of the state and causing a vacancy in the Commission, the board of freeholders appointed John H. Hutchinson, of Bordentown, to succeed her.

Bills totalling $37,283.87 were paid, which amount was divided among the following departments: Finance, $1,405.24; roads, $21,805.82; bridges, $35.28; buildings, $8,866.43; public affairs, $1,871.10.

Charles T. Woolston

Charles T. Woolston died at his home, Seventh and Main streets, Riverton, Thursday afternoon, May 26. He was in his 74th year. Mr. Woolston was the son of Isaac M. and Mary Jane Perkins Woolston, and was born in Beverly in 1858.

On May 17, 1883, he married Miss Margaret Beideman Stow, of Beverly, and the following year started a carriage and wagon factory at Seventh and Main streets, Riverton, which he conducted successfully for many years. He was the inventor of an improved truck shelving which he built for farmers for a generation or more.

He also invented and built a special wagon for milkmen. When the automobile entered the field of transportation he took on the sale of a popular make car and did a thriving business. He also adapted the body of the truck shelving to an automobile chassis and continued its manufacture.

Always upright and abnormally honest in all his dealings, Mr. Woolston enjoyed the respect and admiration of all with whom he came in contact.

In 1885 he built his home at Main and Seventh streets, which continued to be his home until the time of his death. After retiring from active business in 1919, Mr. and Mrs. Woolston spent their winters in Florida and their summers in Longport, N. J.

Mr. Woolston was deeply interested in public affairs and church work. He served several terms on the Riverton Board of Education. A member of the Methodist Church at the age of eleven years, he devoted much time and effort to religious work. He was an ardent advocate of temperance and local option and delivered public addresses on these subjects many years before prohibition was taken seriously by the general public.

Besides his widow, Mr. Woolston is survived by two children living in Riverton, Clinton B. Woolston and Mrs. Roy V. Heiler; a son, Fletcher S. Woolston, in Los Angeles, Calif.; a brother, Isaac Woolston, Asbury Park, and a sister, Mrs. Burton Kiple, Beverly.

The funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at his late residence, conducted by the Rev. Ira S. Plimm, pastor of Epworth M. E. Church, Palmyra. Interment was made in Memorial Cemetery, Beverly. Leland Horner, Camden, was funeral director.

THE PEOPLES COLUMN

Another Angle on Closing Bank Avenue

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE Mayor and Council,
Borough of Riverton,
Riverton, N. J.
Gentlemen:

The question of what to do with our River bank at Riverton is one which is of great concern to every loyal Rivertonian.

I have read with interest an open letter in The New Era from citizens in opposition to closing the upper portion of the River bank road, and also the debate on the question at the Council meeting.

I give full credit to those who oppose this action as doing so in the belief that it would injure our town. There are, however, too widely divergent opinions on this question, and I am convinced that the proponents of both views are equally sincere in their belief that they are acting in the best interest of Riverton as a whole.

I think there can be no argument that some step should be taken to improve the conditions on the River bank. The question at issue is how can it be done.

Would it not be a good plan for the Council to consult with the Tri-State Regional Planning Federation and if necessary, get them to recommend a competent city planner to make a careful survey of the whole situation and bring in a recommendation, or plan which might meet with the approval of the great majority of citizens.

This will probably involve some expense, but it seems to me that it will be well worth the cost and effort. Very truly yours,
JAMES S. COALE.

"Pork Barrel" Relief

Editor The New Era:
Will you kindly give space to the following excerpt from an editorial published in last Sunday's Public Ledger?

"President Hoover's ringing denunciation of the $900,000,000 Garner unemployment relief plan as 'the most gigantic pork barrel ever proposed to the American Congress,' squarely puts up to every Representative and Senator his duty to think and act in this national emergency for the welfare of the whole country, instead of yielding to the pressure from local and special interests for a wholesale squandering of the public funds."

"For undoubtedly this proposal to raid the Federal Treasury constitutes a powerful temptation to weak members to betray their trust. The bill is baited with more than 3500 money-spending projects of various kinds for public buildings, rivers and harbors and other improvements, cleverly distributed so as to take in every section of the country. For postoffices alone it plans to expend $150,000,000 on 2300 new buildings, on which the interest and upkeep would amount to $14,000,000 a year, as compared with a present annual cost for rent of $3,000,000."

"This measure is loaded with projects that have previously been turned down by Congress on the score of their uselessness and extravagance, and at a time when the Government, expecting a big surplus instead of a crushing deficit, was in a much better position to stand the strain than it is today, when at its wits' end to find means for balancing the budget. And not one in five of these projects, in Mr. Hoover's opinion, could be brought to the stage where it would afford employment within a year. This is not unemployment relief."

RIVERTON FIELD DAY DRAWS LARGE CROWD

Darkness Put End to Program of Events Which Will Be Finished Later

A clear cool day and a crowd of 500 or more made the Riverton public school field day exercises one of the most successful years they have ever had.

The results of the events will be published in next week's paper, as night came before all were finished. The cafeteria supper served by the Riverton Parent-Teacher Association was a great financial success as well as an accommodation for the spectators of the field day events.

About three hundred persons were served supper at a price of 5c and 10c per item. To give some idea of how much food was consumed at the supper, Mrs. Francis B. Elwell, chairman, gave the following figures: Hot dogs, 300; milk, 250 bottles; 40 quarts of ice cream; 200 glasses of lemonade; 30 quarts of potato salad; 30 rolls, 100 cups of coffee.

Owing to the generous donations of the townspeople the association made a large profit.

Those in charge of the different tables were: Mrs. Ogden Mattie and- wicks; Mrs. Walter Byler, potato salad; Mrs. Bland Cook, hot dogs; Mrs. Porter Caldwell, milk; Mrs. Elmer Hahn, ice cream; Mrs. Montgomery Simons, lemonade; Mrs. William Zimmerman, coffee; Mrs. Everett Wolcott, cake and Mrs. O. Harold Baker, candy.

The Chase & Sanborn Coffee Company donated the coffee and sent a demonstrator to make it.

Citizens of Riverton ATTENTION!

The following petition in opposition to closing a part of Bank Avenue to the Public will be presented to the Riverton Borough Council at its next meeting.

It is desirable to have it signed by as many citizens of Riverton as possible.

If you are opposed to excluding the Public from any portion of Bank Avenue now open to the use of our citizens, will you please cut out the following petition, affix your name and address in the spaces provided therefor, and forward to The New Era office at once.

This will constitute authorization to sign your name to the petition which will be laid before council.

To the Mayor and Council of the Borough of Riverton, N. J.

Gentlemen:

We, the Citizens of the Borough of Riverton, N. J. respectfully enter our protest against closing any portion of Bank Avenue to the Public.

While all progressive communities are expending large sums in creating additional parks and breathing spaces for their citizens, it would seem a sad reflection on Riverton's progressive reputation to even consider lessening ours.

Does it not seem singular, Gentlemen, that the property formerly owned by the late Edward H. Ogden, one of the most benevolent citizens, who always strove for the greatest good for the greatest number, should now, at the request of newcomers, become the center of this contention whereby Council is petitioned to close Bank Avenue between Howard and Main Streets—a thoroughfare enjoyed by our Public for fifty years or more?

We sincerely trust that Council will preserve the manifest rights of not only living, but many unborn citizens of coming generations.

COUNCIL ASKS FOR NEW GARBAGE BIDS

Bidding Requests New Proposal

A special meeting of the Riverton Borough Council was held Thursday night of last week to award the contract for garbage collection.

After hearing the statement of several of the bidders regarding their equipment and financial responsibility, it was decided to reject all bids and re-advertising for new ones to be submitted on Thursday evening, June 9th.

Since the meeting was called specifically for the consideration of this subject, no other matters could be acted upon officially, but it was informally agreed to appoint Paul Holvick special officer and grant him the privilege of selling refreshments at Memorial Park, the arrangement of details to be left to the Borough Property Committee.

Councilman Elwell said that a question had been raised as to whether or not it was necessary to buy a license for a dog on which tax had been paid as assessed on the regular tax bill.

Mr. Clifton, Borough Clerk, stated that the $1.00 dog tax on the tax bill covered the owners of the dog and that the other $1.00 which was paid to him, was a registration fee entitling the dog owner to registration and an identification tag for the dog. Mr. Clifton reported that 162 dogs had been registered, which was 110 more than last year.

NEW ROAD WORK AT BORDENTOWN

County Will Assist City in Paving Farnsworth Ave.
From Curb to Curb

A communication from Bordentown City to the Burlington County Board of Freeholders at their meeting last Friday announced that the city was now ready to proceed with the improvement of Farnsworth avenue from Burlington street to Park street, which has been under way for several months.

The letter stated that the trolley tracks had been removed, that new water pipes and gas mains had been laid and that all of the properties within the area to be improved had been connected with these services. The road construction will be of concrete, extending from curb to curb. The city will pay for the construction of the curb on both sides of the street. The cost to the county will be about $10,000 and the city will pay about $13,000.

Charles R. Stout, director of department of roads, stated that money for this improvement had been included in the budget and is now available. His resolution to authorize Bordentown City to proceed with the work was unanimously passed. The specifications for bids will be drawn by the Bordentown City solicitor and approved by H. B. Smith, County Engineer.

A petition from Washington Township requested the county to take over a section of the Lower Bank road from the county line to Lower Bank bridge, a distance of 1.8 miles, of the Green Bank-Jenkins-Speedwell road, 10 miles in length, and the New Gretna-Harrieville-Jenkins road, 3.4 of a mile in length. The communication stated that these roads had all been improved by state aid and are now in good condition. The petition was referred to the road department.

Under mandatory legislation recently enacted, the Board passed a resolution defining requirements to be met by those who desire to bid on furnishing supplies and doing work for the county, including statement of equipment and financial responsibility. County Solicitor Harold B. Wells reported that he had investigated the claim made against the county as a result of a collision between the county car driver by the sheriff, Roscoe C. Shinn, and one operated by Paul J. Jickert, of Jersey City, and found that the county was free from any responsibility in the matter.

Mrs. William McKay, of Bordentown, a member of the County Library Commission, having moved out of the state and causing a vacancy in the Commission, the board of freeholders appointed John H. Hutchinson, of Bordentown, to succeed her.

Bills totalling $37,283.87 were paid, which amount was divided among the following departments: Finance, $1,405.24; roads, $21,805.82; bridges, $35.28; buildings, $8,698.43; public affairs, $1,871.10.

Charles T. Woolston

Charles T. Woolston died at his home, Seventh street, Riverton, Thursday afternoon, May 26. He was in his 74th year. Mr. Woolston was the son of Isaac M. and Mary Jane Perkins Woolston, and was born in Beverly in 1858.

On May 17, 1885, he married Miss Margaret Beidenman Stow, of Beverly, and the following year started a carriage and wagon factory at Seventh and Main streets, Riverton, which he conducted successfully for many years. He was the inventor of an improved truck shelving which he built for farmers for a generation or more.

He also invented and built a special wagon for milkmen. When the automobile entered the field of transportation he took on the sale of a popular make car and did a thriving business. He also adapted the body of the truck shelving to an automobile chassis and continued its manufacture.

Always upright and scrupulously honest in all his dealings, Mr. Woolston enjoyed the respect and admiration of all with whom he came in contact.

In 1885 he built his home at Main and Seventh streets, which continued to be his home until the time of his death. After retiring from active business in 1919, Mr. and Mrs. Woolston spent their winters in Florida and their summers in Longport, N. J.

Mr. Woolston was deeply interested in public affairs and church work. He served several terms on the Riverton Board of Education. A member of the Methodist Church at the age of eleven years, he devoted much time and effort to religious work. He was an ardent advocate of temperance and local option and delivered public addresses on these subjects many years before prohibition was taken seriously by the general public.

Besides his widow, Mr. Woolston is survived by two children living in Riverton, Clinton B. Woolston and Mrs. Roy W. Heister; a son, Fletcher S. Woolston, in Los Angeles, Calif.; a brother, Isaac Woolston, Asbury Park, and a sister, Mrs. Burton Kiple, Beverly.

The funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, at his late residence, conducted by the Rev. Ira S. Pimm, pastor of Epworth M. E. Church, Palmyra. Interment was made in Memorial Cemetery, Beverly. Lemuel Horner, Camden, was funeral director.

The PEOPLES COLUMN

Another Angle on Closing Bank Avenue

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE Mayor and Council,
Borough of Riverton,
Riverton, N. J.
Gentlemen:

The question of what to do with our River bank at Riverton is one which is of great concern to every loyal Rivertonian.

I have read with interest an open letter in The New Era from citizens in opposition to closing the upper portion of the River bank road, and also the debate of the question at the Council meeting.

I give full credit to those who oppose this action as doing so in the belief that it would injure our town. There are, however, too widely divergent opinions on this question, and I am convinced that the proponents of both views are equally sincere in their belief that they are acting in the best interest of Riverton as a whole.

I think there can be no argument that some step should be taken to improve the conditions on the River bank. The question at issue is how can it be done.

Would it not be a good plan for the Council to consult with the Tri-State Regional Planning Federation and if necessary, get them to recommend a competent city planner to make a careful survey of the whole situation and bring in a recommendation, or plan which might meet with the approval of the great majority of citizens.

This will probably involve some expense, but it seems to me that it will be well worth the cost and effort. Very truly yours,

JAMES S. COALE.

"Pork Barrel" Relief

Editor The New Era:
Will you kindly give space to the following excerpt from an editorial published in last Sunday's Public Ledger?

"President Hoover's ringing denunciation of the $900,000,000 Garner unemployment relief plan as 'the most gigantic pork barrel ever proposed to the American Congress' squarely puts up to every Representative and Senator his duty to think and act in this national emergency for the welfare of the whole country, instead of yielding to the pressure from local and special interests for a wholesale squandering of the public funds."

"For undoubtedly this proposal to raid the Federal Treasury constitutes a powerful temptation to weak members to betray their trust. The bill is baited with more than 2500 money-spending projects of various kinds for public buildings, rivers and harbors and other improvements, cleverly distributed so as to take in every section of the country. For postoffices alone it plans to expend $150,000,000 on 2300 new buildings, on which the interest and upkeep would amount to $14,000,000 a year, as compared with a present annual cost for rent of $3,000,000."

"This measure is loaded with projects that have previously been turned down by Congress on the score of uselessness and extravagance, and at a time when the Government, expecting a big surplus instead of a crushing deficit, was in a much better position to stand the strain than it is today, when at its wits' end to balance its budget. And not one in five of these projects, in Mr. Hoover's opinion, could be brought to the stage where it would afford employment within a year. This is not unemployment relief."

RIVERTON FIELD DAY DRAWS LARGE CROWD

Events Which Will Be Finished Later

A clear cool day and a crowd of 500 or more made the Riverton public school field day exercises one of the most successful years they have ever had.

The results of the events will be published in next week's paper, as night came before all were finished.

The cafeteria supper served by the Riverton Parent-Teacher Association was a great financial success as well as an accommodation for the spectators of the field day events.

About three hundred persons were served supper at a price of 5c and 10c per item. To give some idea of how much food was consumed at the supper, Mrs. Francis B. Elwell, chairman, gave the following figures: Hot dogs, 300; milk, 250 bottles; 40 quarts of ice cream; 200 glasses of lemonade; 30 quarts of potato salad; 30 rolls, 100 cups of coffee.

Owing to the generous donations of the townspeople the association made a large profit.

Those in charge of the different tables were: Mrs. Ogden Mattia, sandwiches; Mrs. Walter Byler, potato salad; Mrs. Blanton Cook, hot dogs; Mrs. Porter Caldwell, milk; Mrs. Elmer Hahli, ice cream; Mrs. Montgomery Simons, lemonade; Mrs. William Zimmerman, coffee; Mrs. Everett Wolcott, cake and Mrs. G. Harold Baker, candy.

The Chase & Sanborn Coffee Company donated the coffee and sent a demonstrator to make it.

Citizens of Riverton ATTENTION!

The following petition in opposition to closing a part of Bank Avenue to the Public will be presented to the Riverton Borough Council at its next meeting.

It is desirable to have it signed by as many citizens of Riverton as possible.

If you are opposed to excluding the Public from any portion of Bank Avenue now open to the use of our citizens, will you please cut out the following petition, affix your name and address in the spaces provided therefor, and forward to The New Era office at once.

This will constitute authorization to sign your name to the petition which will be laid before council.

Borough of Riverton, N. J.

Gentlemen:

We, the Citizens of the Borough of Riverton, N. J. respectfully enter our protest against closing any portion of Bank Avenue to the Public.

While all progressive communities are expending large sums in creating additional parks and breathing spaces for their citizens, it would seem a sad reflection on Riverton's progressive reputation to even consider lessening ours.

Does it not seem singular, Gentlemen, that the property formerly owned by the late Edward H. Ogden, one of the most benevolent citizens, who always strove for the greatest good for the greatest number, should now, at the request of newcomers, become the center of this contention whereby Council is petitioned to close Bank Avenue between Howard and Main Streets—a thoroughfare enjoyed by our Public for fifty years or more?

We sincerely trust that Council will preserve the manifest rights of not only living, but many unborn citizens of coming generations.

COUNCIL ASKS FOR NEW GARBAGE BIDS

Bidding Requests New Proposal

A special meeting of the Riverton Borough Council was held Thursday night of last week to award the contract for garbage collection.

After hearing the statement of several of the bidders regarding their equipment and financial responsibility, it was decided to reject all bids and re-advertising for new ones to be submitted on Thursday evening, June 9th.

Since the meeting was called specifically for the consideration of this subject no other matters could be acted upon officially, but it was informally agreed to appoint Paul Holvick special officer and grant him the privilege of selling refreshments at Memorial Park, the arrangement of details to be left to the Borough Property Committee.

Councilman Elwell said that a question had been raised as to whether or not it was necessary to buy a license for a dog on which tax had been paid as assessed on the regular tax bill.

Mr. Clifton, Borough Clerk, stated that the $1.00 dog tax on the tax bill covered the owners of the dog and that the other $1.00 which was paid to him, was a registration fee entitling the dog owner to registration and an identification tag for the dog.

Mr. Clifton reported that 162 dogs had been registered, which was 110 more than last year.

AUTO THIEF SENT TO REFORM SCHOOL

William Ricketts Had Only Recently Been Released From Rahway

William Ricketts, alias Kline, 18, who was caught by Patrolman Bennett in Burlington after a chase when the officer saw him jump out of a stolen automobile and attempt to runaway Tuesday of last week was sent to Rahway Reformatory when he appeared before Judge Charles A. Higg, at Mount Holly, on Thursday.

Bennett caught the alleged thief within a few minutes after the complaint was received at city hall. Elmer Wilson, colored, of Beverly, who works at the U. S. Pipe and Foundry Company, found his car missing when he had finished work Tuesday afternoon.

He reported the theft at 5:30 and at 5:45 Officer Bennett brought Ricketts to city hall. He had immediately started out on his motorcycle to look for the car described by Wilson. He caught sight of a machine similar to the one described and gave chase. The driver stopped the car near Barclay's Row, East Federal street, and attempted to runaway. Bennett quickly followed him and placed him under arrest a few seconds later.

When brought to city hall and questioned by Captain Frank Gilbert he also admitted taking a car owned by R. E. Peters, who is a toll collector on the Burlington-Bristol bridge, near Pearl street. It was stolen Sunday morning and found, abandoned, on Delaware avenue Monday morning by Bowley and Bennett.

Ricketts was given a hearing before Justice J. Leedom Smith and sent to the county jail. It was found he had been recently released from Rahway Reformatory. He had previously made his home in Burlington and Bristol.

W. Rex McCrosson, commander of the Department of New Jersey, headed the delegation from this state. The group left West Philadelphia at 2:30 o'clock Sunday morning and spent the day in Washington.

Visits were made to many places of interest among which were the tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Arlington Cemetery, and the recently opened Masonic Temple at Alexandria, Virginia.

KIWANIS CLUBS AT WOODBURY

Burlington County Sends Large Delegation to District Ladies' Night

Nearly a hundred members of Burlington county Kiwanis Clubs, Burlington and Riverside, and their wives and friends attended the district Ladies' Night in Woodbury last Friday evening.

Harold O. Hoffman, commissioner of motor vehicles, was expected to be the speaker of the evening but it was explained that he was unable to be present.

Kiwanis Governor W. L. Grossen, of Egg Harbor, made one of his delightfully humorous speeches in which he endeavored to point out the fallacy of expecting the business depression to last forever. He compared it to his many trips up the White Horse Pike, some of which were made in the flowering beauty of summer, which faded away to a "depression" in winter, but God in His infinite wisdom always brings spring again in the proper time, he declared.

Another speaker was Dr. John Belting, a member of the Kiwanis Club of Trenton. Dr. J. L. Edwards, lieutenant governor of the bridge division of Kiwanis Clubs, presided. The Ladies' Night was a joint event of the clubs in the district surrounding Camden. Samuel Dennison, president of the local club, headed the Burlington delegation.

The affair opened with a banquet in the Woodbury armory and closed with dancing. A vaudeville program was a feature of the entertainment. The Adelphi Quartette rendered several vocal selections. About 400 were present.

Arrested on the streets of Newark for begging, Tony Misak was found to have in the pockets of his shabby trousers a total of $21.97 in bills and a small flask of gin.

POWELL DEMANDS ECONOMY PLANK

State Senator Urges Policy of Reduced Taxes and Salaries

State Senator Clifford R. Powell, of Burlington county, urged the adoption of an economy plank in the platform of the Republican Party of New Jersey at the convention held Tuesday. Senator Powell discusses the plank in the following letter to this newspaper:

"Dear Editor:

"I enclose herewith copy of a proposed platform plank which I am submitting to the first session of the Republican State Convention at Trenton today (Tuesday). I will fight for the adoption of this plank at the final session of the Republican State Convention next Tuesday.

"I am firmly convinced that no additional or new taxes are necessary, and that the imposition of such taxes would be a burden which the citizens of this state will be unable to carry.

"I further believe that the salaries paid our state and county officials are entirely out of line with the nature of the services rendered and the amount of time devoted to the respective offices. I believe that the states, counties and municipalities are engaged in activities which are not necessary to the welfare of our citizens, and that these activities must be eliminated where possible and curbed on every hand.

"As individual and corporate incomes have been tremendously reduced, our public governing bodies must also operate upon greatly reduced revenues. Unless this is done the taxpayers of this state will be unable to survive the strain.

"I am therefore urging the adoption of my proposed plank in the Republican party platform.

Very truly yours,

TAXATION AND ECONOMY

We strenuously oppose the creation of any additional taxes.

The state government has been operated within its income and millions of dollars have been provided for unemployment relief. Unemployment relief must be continued without the imposition of new or additional taxes, through further drastic cuts in operation of the state government, including heavy salary reductions on all salaries of $5,000 and more, and reasonable salary reductions on all salaries between $2,500 and $5,000. We pledge Republican members of the Legislature to the strictest economy, and call upon the various counties and municipalities of this state to effect like drastic reductions in operating expenses.

We pledge a continuance of the study of the system of taxation in this state and the substitution as soon as possible of a system of taxation, based upon ability to pay to relieve the heavy burden now cast upon real estate.

MT. HOLLY CHILD DIES FROM POISON

Four-Year-Old Tot Takes More Pills After Being Given One By Mother

An overdose of medicine resulted fatally for Constance W. Bird, four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bird, 128 Cherry street, Mount Holly, Wednesday of last week.

The child had complained of pains in her stomach and her mother gave her a single tablet and put her to bed. A short time later Mrs. Bird saw her daughter lying at the top of a flight of stairs. She had been seized with convulsions.

Dr. Joseph M. Kuder was called and worked frantically over the young patient but was unable to save her life. It was later found that a large number of pills had been taken from the bottle and it is thought the child took more after being sent to bed.

The pills contained a small quantity of strychnine each, which, taken in quantities was entirely too much for the child's system to withstand.

Coroner William P. Young, of Burlington, was called and issued a certificate naming accidental poisoning as the cause of death.

P. H. S. STUDENTS AT CONVENTION

Palmyra Representatives Attend Mock Political Meeting at New Brunswick

Saturday, three members of the Palmyra High School Debating Team and the Faculty Advisor went to New Brunswick to attend the first meeting of the High School Debaters' Association of New Jersey, which was in the form of a mock political convention.

At the morning session several professors from Rutgers University, Professors Reager and Heald, spoke on the topics "Good Speech," "Student Influence in Politics" and "The American Party System."

At the afternoon session of the Convention representatives from sixteen high schools from all sections of New Jersey introduced the planks in the platform. Some of these were: Prohibition, Armaments, States Rights, which was presented by the Palmyra representative, World Court, Tariff and other similar planks.

Following the presentation of the planks the convention settled down to the business of nominating prominent men and women for the Presidency. The nominees were: Al Smith, Governor Ritchie, Ruth Bryan Owen, Speaker of the House, Garner, Herbert Hoover (nominated by the Palmyra representative), and Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The balloting then took place. After several disagreements and five ballots, the nominees were eliminated until only Republican Hoover, Democrat Ritchie and Socialist Thomas remained in the field. Finally, after much heated discussion over rules of order and the sealing of absent members, Norman Thomas was selected as the representative of the convention, on the ninth ballot.

Representatives from Palmyra were Miss Edna Ziegler, faculty advisor of the debating team and State Secretary of the New Jersey Debaters' Association; Ruth Van Scler, Carl McAllister, and Lloyd Griscom, members of this year's debating team at the high school, the last two being the official representatives at the convention.

SIGNED BUT NOT READ

Officials and others who have the habit of signing documents without reading them may take warning from what recently happened to Comrade Isakhanov, director of a Soviet government shoe factory in Tiflis.

A Russian periodical called The Crocodile is just now waging a campaign against inefficient officials, and its editors suspected that Isakhanov was not sufficiently diligent on his job. By some means it was arranged to have a fake letter presented to him for signature, along with routine documents placed on his desk each day. Isakhanov fell into the trap, and this is what he signed without reading it:

"Through some misunderstanding I was promoted to the post of factory director. I seldom go to the workshops. I do everything I should not do, and do not what I should. I am a fool. Everybody knows that and I inform you as well. I am ready to sign any papers without reading it. I am proving this to you herewith. (Signed) G. Isakhanov."

The Crocodile published the letter and razed the unlucky shoe factory head so unmercifully that it is said he will be forced out of his job and kicked out of the Communist party as well.

Moral: Don't sign anything before reading it—and seldom sign it afterward.

DON'T PASS ON WRONG SIDE, MR. MOTORIST

Now that the time is at hand when the highways are crowded and the desire to get where it is cool and comfortable is the strongest, haste often makes waste of life, limb, and property, for it is at this time of the year that the through routes to shore and lake resorts are crowded and everyone is in a hurry to get to the lakes or the seashore for a weekend outing.

Some motorists in their haste resort to really dangerous driving practices in their effort to make time which may result in death or injury, according to the Public Safety Committee of the Motor Club of New Jersey. Passing on the wrong side, in other words, passing on the right, is one of the commonest practices, it appears, as well as one of the most dangerous, especially on the new multi-lane state highway routes leading to shore and mountain resorts.

From April to December of last year, three hundred and eighty accidents occurred because drivers attempted to pass on the wrong side. Four people lost their lives as a result of this practice, while ninety-five others received personal non-fatal injuries. The balance, two hundred and eighty-one of these accidents, resulted in property damage only.

The loss of four lives, the Committee stated, is justification enough for every motorist to make a firm resolve never to pass on the right of the car ahead of him, but a stronger point for the abandonment of this practice is that every driver concerned in one of these accidents lost more time after the accident than if he had proceeded in a safe and sane fashion and observed the pass to the left rule of the road.

The passing on the wrong side has a companion evil, the safety group states, and that is passing on a curve or hill. For the same period in 1931, one hundred and ninety-three accidents occurred as the result of passing where the view was obstructed. Three people were killed and sixty-four injured, while property damage resulted in one hundred and twenty-six accidents.

These two types of bad driving bring the cost of the violation of these rules up to almost one life a month, which is too precious a price to pay for haste.

Karl Pojello Meets Count Zarynoff In Finish Match on Monday Night at Charlie Grip's Camden Outdoor Arena

Nearly six months ago it was that Camden's Convention Hall was the scene of the most sensational wrestling match ever seen in this section, when Karl Pojello and Count George Zarynoff, each weighing around the 300 mark, came to grips over the 30 minutes limit. Each then entered the ring a prime favorite of hundreds of fans, yet neither had even a noticeable edge on the applause or rooting of the multitude assembled. Thus did the battle wage for the full ninety minutes, each man being near the summit of victory and again on the edge of defeat time after time, yet neither could come through to gain an advantage. The full hour and a half it went, with neither gaining either a fall or even a marked advantage, and the verdict of the referee was, naturally, a draw.

Three times since they have met — in New York, where the eleven o'clock curfew stopped them even stephen; again there, where a double knockout ended all, and the last time in Philadelphia, where Karl sneaked through to win. But in a trial of some five hours of grappling, only one fall has been scored, and that leaves no one with a definite claim of superiority. Several weeks ago they were matched for Camden, but five days before the scheduled match was to take place, Pojello broke his right elbow in Brooklyn, and the bout was cancelled. Now, however, the starbo's fin is back in good fettle, and the two boys will have it out, no less than 2 out of 3 falls to win. Monday night in Charlie Grip's Pensacola Arena, with the winner to meet the world's champion, Henri DeGlane, on the same mat the following week.

Charlie Strack, one of Colgate University's great football linemen, will be 50 per cent. of the new-windup event. His opponent is a 45-minute or less one-fall battle will be Karl Zarynoff, of Poland.

In his last appearance last Monday night, Zarynoff pinned Ray Eraby, of Oregon, to the mat in 25 minutes of their semi-final match.

No impressive was Eraby's wrestling. Promoter Grip decided to match him again. So Ray will stack up against Danny Winters, of Wisconsin, in this second preliminary bout of the night.

In the evening, Charlie Metro, of Newark, will see action. Both the opener and second bouts are scheduled for 30 minutes or less, one fall to decide the winner.

The Golden Text is: "Thou art worthy, O Lord, to receive glory and honour and power: for thou hast created all things, and for thy pleasure they are and were created" (Revelation 4:11).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon, the following from the Bible: "Look unto me, and be ye saved, all the ends of the earth: for I am God, and there is none else" (Isaiah 45:22).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Spiritual causation is the one question to be considered, for more than all others spiritual causation relates to human progress. The age seems ready to approach this subject, to ponder somewhat the supremacy of Spirit, and at least to touch the hem of Truth's garment" (p. 170).

BRUCE BEAHN TO REPRESENT YMCA AT OCKANICKON

Popular Palmyrian to Assist
Clifford Ergood in Senior

RECENTLY GRADUATED FROM GETTYSBURG

Kenneth Snow, of Lincoln Avenue Will be Steward
This Summer

The Palmyra-Riverton Y.M.C.A. will have as its representative at Camp Ockanickon during the eight weeks of camp from June 15 to August 10, Bruce Beahn, popular college graduate of Palmyra and a favorite with the local boys. The announcement that Bruce was going to spend his summer with the Seniors at camp was received with much enthusiasm.

At camp Bruce will be the Assistant Director to Clifford Ergood in the Senior Area, located this year across the Lake with headquarters in the new Monmouth County Cabin. A special ferry has been designed and the usual number of allotted canoes and boats will be harbored at the Senior beach for transportation.

The "War Whoop," that little camp paper that creates such a big stir every week in the areas will be under the supervision of Mr. Beahn. Bruce is well qualified for this work, having always been interested in the field of journalism.

Mr. Beahn has had experience with boys before as a leader of a "Y" group the year he spent at home from college and in his college contacts. Upon his return from Gettysburg College, where he was recently graduated, Bruce will start at Ockanickon.

The local "Y" secretary, Wilton E. Mount, will not be in camp but will take over the duties of Playground Director of Memorial Park in Riverton for the months of July and August. Mr. Mount, as well as Mr. Beahn, will be available to look after the interests of your boys at camp.

Registrations are now pouring in for the various weeks and there seems to be a general wish for the weeks of July 15 to the 27. Local fellows who wish to go on this particular time must sign up at once as many have already registered for that period.

Kenneth Snow, of Lincoln avenue, Palmyra, will be the Assistant Steward this summer. The cooks and dining room staff are new. Camp Ockanickon has always been famous for its good eats. We are happy that "Kenny" will be there with the University Club chefs, of Princeton, who will this year look after the boys' appetites.

The entire staff of camp is enthused with the plans as outlined by the new director, E. W. Barnes, of the State Y.M.C.A. staff.

Any boy over nine years of age may go to camp whether he is or is not a member of any Y.M.C.A. Camp does not exclude any boy because of his creed or color. This year there will be a separate camp for colored boys. Further questions will be answered by a call to Mr. Beahn, or Mr. Mount, and a visit any Saturday at Ockanickon, where from 200 to 600 are now staying every weekend will convince you that the 530 acres are for "Character Building."

MANY ATTEND TENNIS MATCH

Mrs. Jessup Defeats Miss Townsend 6-4, 6-3 and Sam Gilpin Takes Carl Fischer

A large crowd of tennis enthusiasts witnessed the exhibition matches held at the Riverton Country Club, Sunday afternoon, June 5. Fifty cars lined the boundaries of the newly constructed clay courts and the spectators benches were filled.

The opening match was between Miss Ann Townsend, several times Pennsylvania State Champion, and Mrs. Marion Jessup, of Wilmington, rated fourth in the United States.

The spectators were thrilled with the beautiful execution of strokes by these accomplished women stars.

Both played driving shots to the base line from one side of the court to the other. Mrs. Jessup defeated Miss Townsend in the first set 6-4 and succeeded in taking the second set 6-3. Both ladies displayed unusual ability and received many bursts of applause from the spectators.

Following these lively matches, two sets were played by Dr. Carl Fischer, of Woodbury, West Jersey Champion, and nationally rated player, and Sam Gilpin, Pennsylvania State Champion, first in the Philadelphia district and ranked among the first ten in the United States.

Gilpin and Fischer played beautiful tennis with the ball whizzing through the air just clearing the net.

The first ball service of both men was terrific and extremely difficult to return. Gilpin had the edge over Fischer and defeated him in two sets with the score of 6-3, 6-3.

Mixed doubles matches were planned between the contestants following these sets but threatening weather prevented.

NAB BAD CHECK MAN HERE AFTER EXCITING CHASE

Suspect Flees When Ex-Mayor
Wimer Orders His

OFFICER LUTZ FIRES
DURING PURSUIT

Mrs. Romm's Doubts Leads to Capture of Bogus
Customer

A man, said by police to be wanted in several South Jersey towns for passing worthless checks, to which he is alleged to have forged the names of prominent citizens, is being held in the Burlington County Jail, Mount Holly, following his capture in Palmyra Saturday afternoon.

The man is Lee Culton, 35 years old, of North avenue, Dunellen. He went into the store of Mrs. Sol Romm, of West Broad street, and asked to purchase a pair of lady's shoes. He was carrying a woman's shoe, which was badly worn, and explained that his wife could not come to the store early because of the condition of her shoes.

After he had completed his purchase he asked Mrs. Martin Orwita, Mrs. Romm's daughter, who was waiting on him, if it would be possible for her to cash a check for $12.50. She told him she could, but said it was quite risky to cash checks for strangers in these times.

He offered a check which bore the signature of J. B. Shaner and said Shaner lived at Second street and Morgan avenue. Mrs. Romm became suspicious and took the check out to investigate the writer. She asked several people along the street and finally took it to ex-Mayor George N. Wimer, who said he knew no one of that name and believed it might be the "bad check passer" in town.

Wimer summoned Officer Charles Lutz to the scene and went with Mrs. Romm to her store. There they found the man waiting for them. After questioning the suspect, Wimer ordered Officer Lutz to "grab" him. At that, the man bolted through the door and made a getaway down Leconey avenue, and through the property of Dr. A. P. Lore. Officer Lutz shot three times in the air and called Culton to stop, but the suspect kept running. After fleeing through the rear lots of the properties along Fifth street, he was caught at about Fifth street and Delaware avenue by Joseph Conlow, a student at Camden Catholic High School, who brought him to the ground with a football tackle.

Wimer arrived at the scene of the capture within a very short time in John H. Etris' truck which had been pressed into service, and the man was taken to the police station in the truck.

Following the arrest it was revealed that Culton had passed a worthless check for $12.75 on Morris Birenbaum, another Palmyra merchant. Culton was committed to the Burlington County Jail, Mount Holly, by Recorder Cecil Bowers.

Police are said to have found maps in his pocket with rings drawn around Collingswood, Fairview, Haddon Heights, Burlington, Moorestown, Mount Holly and Palmyra.

Ellis H. Parker, chief of the Burlington county detectives, said the man passed at least three checks in Mount Holly. Police Chief John H. Bradshaw, of Moorestown, also lodged detainers against Culton. Bradshaw said the Dunellen man forged the name of R. M. Hollingshead, president of the R. M. Hollingshead Company, Camden, to checks passed in Moorestown.

CAREFULLY packed away on the shelves of Public Service Coordinated Transport's storehouse in Newark are more than 30,000 different articles each of which plays its part in providing street car and bus service. So diversified is the assortment of articles—ranging from car wheels to carpet tacks—that there is a sufficient quantity of materials to stock completely several good sized stationery and hardware stores!

Here are just a few of the articles which are always kept on hand: Car wheels, wire, gold leaf, tickets, muslin, curled hair, garden hose, rubber gloves, charcoal, paper, carpet tacks, bells, needles, cement, flashlight bulbs, bicarbonate of soda, and a host of other items of many shapes and descriptions.

Incredible though it may seem, the company every year purchases approximately 1,000,000 rags to help keep its cars, buses and other equipment free of dust and dirt.

FIRE CO. DRIVE STARTS JUNE 20

Collection

Cards will be distributed to the homes throughout the town on or before that date.

It is hoped that everyone will contribute to this worthwhile cause. The men in this company are volunteers; firemen who take their time, any hour of the day or night, and risk their lives to protect life and property in the town, and it is only right that each person should donate to help carry on and to attain a high standard of efficiency so far as equipment is concerned.

You may be the next person to need the assistance of the firemen and the fire equipment. This is your opportunity to help those who help you so consistently and faithfully.

GILL ROBB WILSON ADDRESSES CLUB

Director of Aviation Bureau of New Jersey, Gives Fine
Talk to Men

The final program of the Mens Club before the opening in the Fall was held at the Y.M.C.A. on Thursday evening. Due to the warm evening and lingering daylight the group was slow in arriving, but a real treat awaited them.

Sustains of snappy music were offered by a boys' orchestra from Philadelphia, assisted by and secured through Professor Hudack. A young member of the group delighted his audience with cello solos during the program.

Gill Robb Wilson, director of the Bureau of Aviation for the State of New Jersey gave a very interesting and informative talk on the development of that industry in the state.

Mr. Wilson stated that one-third of the 2,000,000 pounds of mail that is carried by planes leaves New Jersey airports. Further that from Newark alone over 500 passenger seats on scheduled lines leave each day. The busiest air center in the world.

That 22 per cent. of all passengers carried in this country left from ports in our state. With these significant facts he established that aviation is not an experiment but an industry.

Then in a very clever way, the speaker led the men to realize the safety in flying. By contrasting the days when he first started to fly, when cockpits were porch chairs lashed to a coughing wheezing thing called an engine to the transport you now hear going over, Mr. Wilson produced a sense of security in the minds of those that had doubts.

The very fact that not a commercial accident has happened in this state since January 1 is a record far surpassing that of any known means of transportation if the number of passengers carried, the hours flown and miles covered are considered.

So often one asks what keeps an airplane in the air. In a non-technical manner the speaker through simple illustration explained this fact. It was a revelation to all, something that many had never really considered.

Mr. Wilson through the questions asked revealed many of his personal experiences. Of how pleasant a sensation it was to fly over the mountains of Pennsylvania in "heavy weather." Mountains that are more treacherous than the Alps or the Rockies. The speaker had flown both before.

Gill Robb Wilson, previous to becoming director of the aviation bureau, was the pastor of the Fourth Presbyterian Church of Trenton. He was a pilot during the war and later served his comrades as the national chaplain of the American Legion and in that capacity flew all over this country discharging duties of that office.

It was a very entertaining and enlightening address given by a greatly handicapped man in speaking. Due to a war injury Mr. Wilson at one time recently lost his voice and did not speak a word for five months.

To the delight of every man the evening's program was closed by a few vocal selections by the ladies present, followed by refreshments of ice cream and cake.

Men of Palmyra and Riverton that do not join the Mens Club, an open non-partisan organization are missing much in fellowship and educational value. Remember to come the fourth Thursday in September.

FEDERATION TO MEET

The Burlington County Federation of Men's Bible Classes will hold an outing at Camp Ockanickon Sunday, June 12, at 2:45 o'clock. An address will be made by Harold W. Bennett, city commissioner of Camden.

Horace Finney, of Palmyra. Sheriff-elect George N. Wimer, of Palmyra, is president of the Association and Mark Reynolds, of Mount Holly, is secretary.

BOY SCOUT NOTES

Thursday of last week a very enjoyable time was had by the Boy Scouts of the Riverton Troop and Troop No. 2, Palmyra, at the Palmyra headquarters.

Various games were played. These were followed by boxing bouts, in which the boys took part.

The Riverton Troop brought along its orchestra and the music was thoroughly enjoyed by all the Scouts in attendance. Refreshments were served. Cakes were baked by Mrs. Weigand and all the boys voted that they were too delicious for words.

Registration for camp is still open. There are several plans afoot to provide fun and pleasure for the boys and the dads are promised their fun and pleasure by helping the kids along.

Several dads were present at the last meeting and expressed their approval of the manner in which things were run. All stated that they greatly enjoyed the evening.

Another meeting will be held this evening.

FIVE POINTS CRASH

Richard F. Aitken, of Third and Union streets, Moorestown, was driver of the Chrysler sedan which collided with another automobile at the intersection at Five Points late last Thursday afternoon.

Mr. Aitken and his brother, A. Robert Aitken, of Wildwood, escaped without injuries. George Jones, colored, of Spring street, Henderson, N. C., driver of the second car, owned by John Durham, of Freehold, suffered two fractured ribs, cuts and bruises and possible internal injuries. Elderly Durham, colored, his companion, received cuts of the hands and legs, body bruises and shock. Both were treated in Cooper Hospital, Camden, where Jones is still confined.

The Moorestown man was going toward Moorestown from Palmyra. His automobile was struck on the left side near the front door by the second car which was headed toward Camden. Both vehicles were damaged beyond repair.

CLASS OF 1933 WILL ENTERTAIN SENIORS AT ANNUAL JUNIOR PROM

"The Sylphians," a dance orchestra well-known in this section for its rhythmic music, will furnish the music throughout the evening. This group of musicians has played at the Riverton Country Club and in other clubs in this section on many previous occasions.

The dance is anxiously awaited by members of both classes. It will climax the social functions of the High School year.

CARD PARTY WILL HELP GIRL SCOUTS

Mothers Ask All Citizens to Patronize Money-raising Event

A public card party will be held in Society Hall, Palmyra, Monday evening.

This event is being sponsored by the Girl Scout Mothers of the town and is the first money-raising event of its kind ever to be held for the benefit of the Girl Scouts.

Proceeds will be used to send girls to the camp near Wrightstown, during the coming season.

Each and every person in the town is asked to support the event and to help make it the success that it should be. Of course, all the grown-ups realize just how much this two weeks at camp means to each little girl. This is the first time the Girl Scouts have ever asked for help in this way.

The mothers of the girls sincerely hope that the citizens of the community will see and feel the necessity of giving the girls the proper training and one way to do this is through association with other children and the outside world. Each girl needs a short vacation at the camp.

Prizes will be awarded the lucky players and refreshments will be served. The nominal charge of thirty-five cents.

The general public is urged to attend.

SEASON AT CAMP OCKANICKON NEAR

Dining Room and New Senior Area Are Outstanding Attractions

As the closing of school draws near and summer weather comes on full blast the thoughts of hundreds of South Jersey youths are turned toward Camp Ockanickon.

"It is always a toss-up with the average camper which is the most popular, the lake or the dining hall," says Guy C. Hendry, Burlington county YMCA secretary. "Those who incline toward the dining hall and kitchen will find a new face there this year. A chef, new to Ockanickon, but an old-timer in boys' camps, has been secured from Princeton, where he has been cooking for one of the University clubs for several years. On his staff will be a pastry cook, who will make good use of a special bake oven, and campers can be assured of those delicious upside-down cakes, hot biscuits, pies and other pastries which taste so good after a day in the open.

"If a confection of traffic is experienced along the Indian Mills road, which is adjacent to the new location of the senior camp, it will be because the odor of broiling steak assaults the nostrils of hungry motorists," Mr. Hendry continues. "With the development of the new senior area across the lake, one of the features will be one or two outdoor camping fireplaces. These will be used for preparing evening meals as often as the seniors elect. They will be fitted with broiling grates. There may be a Dutch oven or two.

"Only recently a party tramped over this new area and designated locations for tents, boat landings and swimming trails. One of the features exclusively to be used by the senior camp will be a swimming trail. This is merely a path leading to the lake where the swimmers will enter the water. At this point it will be closely patrolled by the life crew and any senior camper who has not yet learned to swim will be given instructions at a special swimming beach.

"The Middle's camping area is very much better equipped this summer than heretofore. Five or six new tent houses will be ready. Three have recently come from Burlington county. Mrs. M. E. Stevenson, Columbus; the Palmyra-Riverton Rotary Club; the P. O. S. of A. Camps of the county. This area, which was begun two years ago, has now become one of the attractive sections of the lake shore. The headquarters building for this area is Robbins Roost. Two new tennis courts will be available for fellows in this section of Ockanickon's five hundred and thirty 'Acres of Character'.

"The Junior camp has an abundant supply of tent houses. They also have in their area a craft shop.

"Over this past weekend these tent houses were used by some five hundred members of various Sunday School picnic groups as places for changing for swimming. There was also a group of fifty-six members of the Trenton YWCA there for over Saturday night and Sunday. Meals were provided by the camp.

"Enrollment for any of the eight weeks of camping for boys, which begins Wednesday, June 15, may be had by phoning or writing the County YMCA Headquarters, Mount Holly. Secretaries Hendry or Ergood will be glad to answer any questions parents may want to ask in connection with the enrollment of any boy or young man, nine to eighteen."

PLANE TALKS

By L. H. H. LONGAKER
Founder, Burlington County Aero Club

The program plans for the Air Carnival to be held at the Moorestown Airport on June 25 and 26 for the benefit of the Social Service Department of the Burlington County Hospital are rapidly being completed. We will present an interesting and enjoyable series of races, contests and stunts. There will be something doing at the time. Plan now to attend.

The season has opened for trans-oceanic flights of all brands and varieties, not any of which contribute a single thing toward aviation. Quite a number of ocean hops are projected and it is a foregone conclusion that quite a few will fail.

Kern Dodge, director of public safety of Philadelphia, an ardent aviation enthusiast, will act as Judge of Events for the Air Carnival on Sunday, June 26. Watch for the complete list of prominent officials in next week's column.

Milton Jordan, of Collingswood, a student at Friends' High School, is taking flying instruction at the Moorestown airport.

The fair sex will have an important part in the Air Carnival. For the first time in Burlington County aviation history we will have a girl parachute jumper and Miss Elva Powell, of Central Airport, will give a flying exhibition.

It is expected that National Guard flyers from at least three states will fly in to attend the Hospital Benefit Air Carnival.

PROFIT NECESSARY IF TAXES ARE PAID

So Says Nelson B. Gaskill in Thoughtful and Interesting Article

(From Mount Holly Mirror)

A thoughtful and highly interesting article from the pen of Nelson Burr Gaskill, son of former Judge Joseph H. Gaskill, of Moorestown, appears in the current number of "Sales Management," a magazine for marketing executives. His subject is, "Why Industrial Sales Must Be Made to Pay a Just Profit," and his argument, that reasonable profit in industry is necessary precedent to the ability of industry to pay taxes. The writer covers a broad and complex topic in limited space but he does so with convincing logic and leaves the intelligent reader to ponder further on the proposition.

Here is one paragraph, taken from Mr. Gaskill's article, which will bear very serious consideration on the part of those who would go on adding to the already staggering tax burden under which the individual and nearly all forms of human endeavor are struggling, while at the same time giving no help to business to make such reasonable profit as will assure ability to carry its share of the tax burden. Says Mr. Gaskill:

"Instead of profit being objectionable as a manifestation of individual greed and lust for power, private profit is the foundation of the program for the public welfare. The two are inseparable when joined by the connecting link of taxation. It then becomes a matter of public policy in the highest and broadest concepts of the public interest, not only to promote the attainment of profit but to regulate business operations so as to assure profit and to police the actions of private enterprise to prevent loss-producing operations."

Few men in public life today are better qualified to treat of the subject upon which Mr. Gaskill writes.

When a young lawyer, engaged in practice with his father and brother, Thomas L. Gaskill, of Camden, he was called to Trenton to serve as Assistant Attorney General. That was long before the corps of assistants to the state's legal adviser had assumed such formidable proportions, numerically speaking. In fact, as I recall it, there were but two assistant Attorneys General then, the young lawyer from Mount Holly, and Theodore Backes, the present veteran of the state's now heavily recruited legal staff.

Upon retiring from service in the Attorney General's office, in which he had made an enviable record, Mr. Gaskill took up private practice in the capital city and attracted widespread attention by his ability and knowledge of law. It was this special aptitude that prompted the President of the Trade Board and subsequently he became president of that body. In time, politics and the ambitions of those on the outside, won the place on the Commission which Mr. Gaskill had filled with such eminent ability.

Continuing in Washington, Mr. Gaskill has done some notable work there and at present he is president of the Lead Pencil Institute, occupying in the trade of lead pencil manufacturers much the same position as arbiter and general executive as Judge Landis, in professional baseball.

BUS TOUR TO VALLEY FORGE

Another bus tour from Camden to Valley Forge will be conducted next Sunday, June 12, by Public Service Coordinated Transport. Special service buses will leave the Hotel Walt Whitman between 9 and 11 a. m. At Valley Forge passengers will be taken on a bus tour of the historic points. Returning from Valley Forge buses will leave between 4 and 7 p. m. The roundtrip fare is $1.00.

Harry Rogers, Pemberton, attempted larceny of automobile of Dr. Lyman B. Hollingshead, pleaded not guilty and will be tried on June 16.

Richard Carrington, colored, Batterfield township, assault and battery on George McClos, and maintaining a disorderly house, given six months in the county jail on each charge, the sentences to run concurrently.

NEW COOLING SYSTEM AT PALMYRA THEATRE

Air Is Washed and Changed Every Minute for Summer Patrons at Broadway

The Broadway Theatre of Palmyra has installed a new cooling system for the purpose of keeping its patrons comfortable during the summer months. The system is already in operation and has proved most satisfactory.

The system not only cools, it also washes the air which the patrons breathe and makes one complete change of the atmosphere in the theatre every minute.

Cold water is pumped up from a deep artesian well on the theatre property. This water is broken into thousands of tiny sprays in the air cooling and washing room, while air is pumped through it into the theatre.

N. J. Electric Users Grow 900% in 20 Years

In the twenty-year period from 1912 to 1931 inclusive the number of electric light and power customers in the State of New Jersey increased more than 900 per cent, and the amount of electricity produced within the state increased almost 600 per cent. These figures are compiled by the New Jersey Public Utility Information Committee from records of the United States Geological Survey and the Board of Public Utility Commission of the State of New Jersey.

At the end of 1912 there were 53 privately-operated electric companies within the state, supplying approximately ninety-eight per cent of all power generated. During 1912 those companies produced 417,089,681 kilowatt-hours of current, and had 124,029 customers. At the end of 1931 eleven privately-operated companies, supplying all energy generated within the state, produced 2,811,753,727 kilowatt-hours and had 1,253,879 customers.

TRENTON YOUTH HITS HEAD ON PILING IN MAKING DIVE

Layton Gilbert, 22, of 212 South Olden avenue, Trenton, had a narrow escape from drowning last week when he took a dive from the Hainesport railroad bridge into the Rancocas creek. In the dive he struck a piling. Gilbert called for help and made a frantic effort to swim to shore. His companions heard his cries and assisted him to safety and then took him to the Burlington County Hospital, Mount Holly, for treatment.

LOCUSTWOOD PLAN LEGION DEDICATION

Formal Presentation of Plot To Veterans Set for June 18

Martin C. Delaney, president of the Camden Memorial Park Sales Company, whose company is representing the new owners of the Locustwood Cemetery Association and who is directing the plans for the formal dedication of the American Legion section, states that he estimates that there will be approximately 20,000 people at the park to witness the official presentation of the section at the Locustwood Memorial Park which is situated on the Marlton pike in Delaware Township.

This ceremony will take place on Saturday afternoon, June 18, at 3 o'clock. Governor Harry Moore, all members of the Commission Government of Camden as well as the officials of the surrounding suburbs, have been extended invitations to attend.

Mr. Delaney states that the State Commander Rex McCrosson and his staff will accept the gift of the Legion section in behalf of the 24,000 members of the American Legion of the State of New Jersey. This is the first and only burial section set aside exclusively for the American Legion members in this state.

The new owners of the Locustwood Memorial Park plan to erect to the memory of the Legion boys who gave their lives to their country during the recent World War a Chinese Tower of Memories. The architect, W. H. Lee and his associates, Sidney Jelinet and Armand D. Carroll, are now working on the plans. It will require an acre of ground in the American Legion section for this embellishment.

The base of the tower will measure thirty feet and will rise to the height of 130 feet. At the base, looking south a mirror pool is to be built, measuring 30x110 feet.

J. E. Laurence, chairman of the Memorial Graves Committee for the American Legion, has advised Mr. Delaney that all the posts throughout the state would be requested to muster all members to be present at the dedication ceremony, and in that way show their appreciation of the gift.

Mr. Delaney also advises that the committee plans to invite the Boy Scouts to join in the ceremony. One of the features will be a squadron of planes flying low over the park, throwing out thousands of roses.

Half of the net income is left to the sister, and half is to be divided between two nieces, Dorothy Morris Reeve and Mary Joy Reeve. If Laura Reeve should die before the nieces, her share is to be divided between the nieces and Joseph Cooper Reeve and W. Foster Reeve, 3rd.

At the death of the children of these four, the principal is to go to Cooper Hospital for a memorial to Augustus Cooper and Rebecca Wood Reeve.

WANTED—LEADERSHIP

Complaints that the country lacks "leadership" in its present economic crisis, are being heard on all sides. According to an almost overwhelming chorus of appeals received in Washington, "the whole nation is crying for a leader, and no man answers the cry." Bruce Barton, editorial commentator observes, however, that this complaint is not new, but has sprung up in every period of distress. "Seldom has the Almighty dropped a full-fledged leader out of the sky," says Mr. Barton. "Leaders are pushed up out of the pressure of conditions, and so it will be now."

WHAT SILVER MEANS TO US

Here is the silver problem in a nutshell: So long as one-half of the world's population is unable to do business with the other half because of the abasement of their money-metal, we cannot expect the resumption of a normal flow of business. International commerce—which in normal times, is of sufficient bulk to mean the difference between prosperity and hard times in many countries—is dependent upon an equitable, fixed relationship between gold and silver.

The K. of C. team sidetracked the Parry pennant train in the Palmyra Twilight League Thursday evening, when the batting of Reynolds and J. Sack and the stout-hearted pitching of Miceul brought the Knights in ahead in a 4 to 0 game.

Misplays but Miceul in several serious positions, but his gut edged pinch-pitching finally bore fruit and he gathered the well deserved honors. Ernie Schuck was the losing pitcher and errors also played a big part in his down fall.

The Artisans piled into the Triangles on Friday evening and inflicted a bruising 10-0 defeat.

Josh Bartley made his Artisan debut in an impressive fashion, when he hit a man-sized home run over the center field enclosure.

Willie Kilther, the Artisan pitcher, found the game just a bowl of cherries, while misplays, wildness and ringing base hits were the cause of many wrinkles to Connors, the Triangles pitcher.

The Triangles suffered their sixth straight defeat on Monday evening, when the K. of C. club kicked them around for a 7 to 3 loss. Speed Boller pitched for the winners and John Reynolds was the losing hurler.

Reynolds, one of the K. of C. boys, has developed a severe right field fence complex and out of the last seven times at bat, he has hit over the fence on four occasions. This habit along with his mate's timely hitting, has thrown the Knights into a winning streak.

Collections at games played to date have not equalled the expense. The attendance has been good at almost every game, but many who are certainly able to make at least a small contribution, have entirely ignored the hat.

It appears that the same people, and quite a small percentage of those present, are the only ones to give and they are carrying the bag for the rest.

This is not fair, and it certainly cannot continue. The boys are giving a good brand of baseball and all the games have been interesting and well played. The people who attend have evenings of real sport right here at home, but it costs money to maintain the games. All the boys play for the love of the game, and they naturally expect the collections to pay the necessary expenses of rental of the field, uniforms and equipment, etc.

There is no graft in the League. The committee in charge gives its services freely, but they feel keenly that their efforts and those of the players, deserve better financial support.

Beginning Monday, June 13, the committee has decided to charge an admission of ten cents for each one entering the grounds. This will be collected at the small gate. In this way they hope at least to meet the actual cost of $5.50 for each game.

Members of the committee call upon all who are interested in our local boys and all who enjoy an evening of baseball to come out and help keep up the good work for the balance of the season.

RIVERTON LOSES

Slugging Match at Delanco
Field Sinks Riverton Nine

Riverton and Delanco put on a slugfest match Saturday with Delanco finishing on top, 9-4, with each team having 13 hits, but Riverton failed to hit in the pinch, having 13 men left on bases.

Plenty of long-distance hitting featured this contest with Bartley, Dann and J. Shaw having home runs. J. Shaw also connected for two doubles along with Easley and Longstreet, of Riverton.

Easley's hit, the longest this season, over the cars in left field, was converted into a double instead of a home run through a ground rule permitting cars to park off the road in left.

Longstreet's hit was similar to Easley's, but he failed to connect with men on base. Bartley and Horan featured for Riverton, while J. Shaw took hitting honors for Delanco.

Riverton goes to Burlington Thursday night, but returns here Saturday to play Vincennes.

The twilight season will open here next Wednesday against Mount Holly at 6:15 p. m.

The home team is hitting and fielding great ball and with a few more weeks to iron out all weak spots, big things will be expected in the second half, which opens on the Fourth of July.

RIVERSIDE WINS
COUNTY MEET

Palmyra Ties With Moorestown
For Second Place With 20 Points

Compiling a total of twenty-nine points, and the smashing of three Burlington county records by Bud Wilkinson, Riverside's star athlete, proved sufficient for Riverside High School, the defending champion, to annex its second track and field championship at Burlington last Saturday.

Palmyra and Moorestown tied for second place with 20 points each.

Wilkinson's stellar performance came in the 100-yard dash, shot put and javelin throw. Bud set a new mark in each and in doing so scored fourteen points for the Riverside cause. In the 100-yard dash he divided the honor with Taylor, of Palmyra, when they ran a dead heat in 10:1-5 seconds to smash the old mark of 10:2-5 held jointly by Walton, of Moorestown; Stanford, of Palmyra, and Beck of Burlington. Johnny Fountain's shot put mark went by the boards when Wilkinson heaved the iron pellet 42 feet, 11½ inches. Bud's third mark was made in the javelin throw with a toss of 103 feet, 6 inches, breaking his own mark by 8 feet, 9 inches.

Charlie Steinmetz, the Moorestown star, scored eleven of his team's twenty points when he took first in the pole vault and discus throw and third in the shot put. Steinmetz accounted for a new record in the pole vault with a jump of 10 feet, 9:1-8 inches. This jump broke the previous mark of 10 feet, 4 inches held by Weisner, of Moorestown.

Taylor was one of the stars of the meet and it was mainly through his performance that the Palmyra school was able to take second place honors with Moorestown.

In the 220-yard dash the flashy colored youth annexed first place honors in 23:10 seconds, nosing out E. Whitcraft, of Mount Holly by a good two yards.

Had it not been for Wilkinson, the Palmyra school would have undoubtedly taken first place honors in the one-mile relay race. Taylor, who ran the dead heat with Wilkinson in the 100-yard sprint, was the anchor man for Palmyra and was banded the baton by his running mate at least 30 yards to the front.

The results follow:
100 Yard Dash: 1st, tie between Wilkinson, Riverside, and Taylor, Palmyra; 2nd, Whitcraft, Mt. Holly, Time, 10:1-5 sec. (New Burlington Co. record.)

RIVERTON SCHOOL BOARD MEETING

To fill the vacancy created by Miss Caroline Stamen being appointed acting principal, effective July 1, 1932 to June 30, 1933, it was recommended that Miss Jean T. Emory, of Drexel Hill, be employed.

There were nearly a hundred applications for this position, among whom was Miss Andrea VanSteenberg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. VanSteenberg, former residents of Riverton. During the discussion of the report of the teachers' committee recommending the employment of Miss Emory, a strong plea was made for giving the position to a local girl, but when the vote was called on the appointment of Miss Emory, the vote was: Mrs. Elwell, Messrs. Warren Barclay and Murray for, and Messrs. Steedle, Smith and Mattis against; Mr. Hemphill not voting.

Miss Emory comes very highly recommended and is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, where she received her A.B. degree. She has had three years experience in teaching at Ellis College, Newton Square, Pa., a school for neglected girls and very much like Girard College in a small way.

Miss VanSteenberg also has an A.B. degree and has had a year's experience in teaching fifth grade in Palmyra schools.

Miss Helen Enslat has been retained as secretary to the principal.

All the recommendations of the education committee were approved and passed.

A communication was received and read by the district clerk from Miss Caroline M. Stamen accepting the position of acting principal from July 1, 1932 to June 30, 1933.

Ten applications were received for the position of janitor recently left vacant by the death of Joseph Lethery. The applications were referred to the property committee for a report and recommendation at the next meeting of the board.

Mrs. Mayfield, president of the board, read a report of the state meeting of Boards of Education recently held, and which she attended.

Dr. W. R. Dunn was retained as school dentist.

Mr. Cooper's report was in part as follows:

Mr. Cooper's Report

It is recommended that the dental clinic be continued for 1932-33, under the supervision of the community nurses and Dr. W. R. Dunn, of Palmyra, who receives $200.00 annually.

At the order of the state commissioner of education a rating blank for the school buildings was filled out and sent in during the improvement contemplated by the property committee are finished the rating will be 802 out of 1000 points, 800 being the acceptable minimum.

Field day was somewhat marred by the failure of the music, but more persons competed in the field events than have ever done it before. Next year the program will probably consist of a pageant, which could be beautifully staged in Memorial Park.

Count Zarynoff, Conqueror of Pojello,
Meets Henri DeGlane In Championship
Match at Pennsauken Open Air Arena

To the victor go the spoils! And when the spoils happen to be a chance at the world's heavyweight wrestling title, then are they something indeed worth fighting over.

George Zarynoff and Karl Pojello put up a terrific battle last week for the prize, only to have it come to the hands of the streamline-headed Ukrainian through the medium of a Japanese armlock on the Lith's injured right arm, which brought about the second fall of the match, and so crippled the loser that he forfeited the third fall and bout rather than risk serious permanent injury by returning, against the Commission physician's orders.

It will be remembered that Pojello suffered a broken elbow two months ago in New York. Last week was his first appearance since, and while the member was healed, the long incision was still weak, and it was not ten minutes until the wound was opened and bleeding. It rapidly grew worse, and at the time he forfeited the bout was open fully an inch and a half along the elbow, and half an inch deep, to the bone. He forfeited the match only then because the Commission physician, Dr. Joseph E. Nowrey, Jr., refused to allow him to continue.

So Zarynoff, it is who will meet Henri DeGlane, champion heavyweight wrestler of the world, Monday night, over the 90-minute route, best two out of three falls to win, and if he demonstrates the same speed and science, plus the same viciousness and tenacity, against the champion that he exhibited against Pojello, it will be no club picnic for the titleholder once the opening gong sounds.

The appearance of DeGlane in this action at this particular time is most auspicious in view of the recent decision of the New York and Pennsylvania Commissions that the only other "world champion", London, has just been notified that his claims are not to be further recognized until he agrees to defend them against all wrestlers as well as just the few of his own happy family. Even as things originally stood, "Jeemy" was recognized only in the two states mentioned, while DeGlane held the official recognition of the balance of the country and Canada as well.

In the semi-final of 45 minutes, Karyl Zbyzsko meets Len Macaulus, while in the second bout of 30 minutes, Charlie Strack meets the reputedly rougher and tougher Carl Lemie, of Bohemia. The opening bout, also of 30 minutes, will be announced later.

That our eighth grade did well in the state-wide Stanford Achievement Tests is shown when their median score is compared with that of the county and the state. The report of our spring testing will be given at the final meeting of the year.

The following description of the model elementary school, now being built in Chicago for the World's Fair, is interesting as a comparison with what our architect had included in the plans for our new school, and a contrast with what we now have. This building represents what the best educational and architectural opinion in the country thinks is necessary for elementary pupils; we are far from it in Riverton.

"The building will be of 774 pupil capacity, two stories in height, without basement, and of steel construction with either brick or stone. It will include such modern facilities as a library, handicraft room, auditorium, gymnasium, kindergarten playroom, kindergarten project room, bath room, lunch room, administration suite for principal and clerk, for doctor, dentist, visiting teacher, and psychologist.

The classrooms are laid out on a principle of flexibility based on teaching situations. Large rooms 62 feet by 22 feet for the audience situation; regular classrooms 32 feet by 22 feet for the recitation situation; pupil work rooms 22 feet by 11 feet for the small-group situation; and pupil work rooms 16 feet by 11 feet for individual study.

No one needs to defend the large size rooms because the evidence is accumulating day by day that many things are just as well taught to large groups as to small groups. The audience situation, strictly speaking, does not change with the size of the audience. If there were fifty people more in this hall it would make no difference to any individual here.

At the other end of the scheme, the smaller groups, is the rather newer idea. Everywhere we are finding that small groups of children can do things and have educational possibilities that large groups do not have. In the smaller groups the inhibitions are removed; the child participates in a larger degree. In fact he is a different person. Which of you has not realized that in a group of forty you are one person, and in a group of four you are an entirely different person, manifesting new characteristics? The small group, then, is the town meeting of the school, where the child gets a chance to participate. It would be the place where projects of various sorts would be undertaken—discussion projects, practical arts, scientific projects.

The actual planning of the building was done by Thomas J. Higgins, assistant director of the Bureau of Research and Building Survey of the Chicago schools. Twenty-eight leading school building planners and architects then made suggestions and criticisms with the result that the original plan was modified fully 33 per cent, and the sketches revised seventeen times.

Mrs. Ella A. Makin

Mrs. Ella Amanda Makin, nee Beck, et al., 31 years old, wife of Henry T. Makin, Jr., of West Second street, Moorestown, died at her home on Sunday evening, following an illness of several years. She has been suffering from heart trouble for some time and a complication of diseases caused her death.

She was a member of the Order of Eastern Star and Moorestown Armistice Chapter No. 104, held services for her on Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Makin is survived by her husband, her mother, Mrs. Mary C. Lawrence, of Cape May, and one sister, Mrs. Warren Armstrong, of Moorestown.

When Melrose, Mass., firemen arrived at the home of a woman who had just telephoned excitedly for aid, she asked them to help lift her mother, who had fallen out of bed.

Elva McGuinness, a Los Angeles chorus girl, is still on the job in spite of notification that she has inherited $75,000.

SPEEDING AT NIGHT

A certain type of night-time traffic accident which is increasing significantly is that which results from traveling at an excessive speed. The rate of increase is sufficient to merit directing the attention of all drivers to some fundamental considerations of night driving.

Among observers of the present highway safety situation, there are some who believe there is enough difference between day and night driving conditions to justify a lower maximum speed limit for the latter. There are a number of objections to such a procedure, among them the complication of the traffic regulations and the difficulty of enforcement.

There is, however, a degree of soundness in the idea. It can be demonstrated by the consideration of a few simple figures.

200 Feet Limit
For instance, the average car is fitted with headlights which are designed to reveal objects the size of a man at a distance of 200 feet. That, then, is the limit of the driver's visibility on the open highway at night. That is the distance allowed him to see any danger which may arise, take his foot off the gas, put it on the brake pedal and bring the car to a stop.

Whether it is adequate depends primarily upon the speed of the car. Let us say the driver is traveling at 50 miles an hour. That is an illegal speed in New Jersey but some drivers attempt to use it. At this pace, the car is covering 73 feet per second, which means that the machine will cover the 200 feet of visible area in approximately two and three-fourths seconds. The speed of 50 miles an hour will not be maintained, of course, for as quickly as he can the driver will apply the brakes to diminish it. But even with perfect brakes he cannot stop the car in the allotted distance and time and unless he can dodge the obstacle in his path, a collision is inevitable.

Expert calculations show that the New Jersey speed limit of 40 miles an hour represents about the maximum safe pace for a car equipped with excellent headlights and highly efficient brakes. From that rate, 200 feet is a sufficient allowance for stopping with safety.

The motorist may say, then: "Well, what's wrong with traveling up to the state limit at night as well as in daylight?"

Brakes and Visibility

One very effective answer is that a very large percentage of cars are not equipped with brakes in a condition to stop them within 200 feet nor with headlights which reveal dangers ahead at such a range. If one's headlights shine, say, only 180 feet ahead of the car—and that is beyond the range of many—and the brakes are in such a condition that it takes 225 feet to stop from a speed of 40 miles an hour, then the motorist cannot drive at such a rate with safety at night.

Another consideration is that the effective range of headlights is reduced by grades and curves in the highway. The power which enables any car to climb steep hills at an undiminished speed and the balance which permits it to hold curves without swaying are used to the fullest advantage by the average driver. He does not realize that the wisdom of using them at night is modified by the limitations created by a lack of light.

If every motorist could be taken through one of the many laboratories where scientists are working on the headlighting problem, he would be quickly convinced that the power of the lamp on his car and the power of his engine by no means have been equalized as yet. That fact, together with the rising tide of night driving accidents, behooves him to be careful.

"CRIME AMONG YOUTH" DISCUSSED BY MOUNT HOLLY SCHOOL HEAD

Robert C. B. Parker, supervising principal of Mount Holly public schools and the next president of Mount Holly Rotary Club, spoke on "The Crime Problems of Small Communities" before the Moorestown Rotarians at their regular weekly luncheon meeting last Thursday at noon in the Community House.

Mr. Parker said that according to figures he has compiled crime seems to be on the increase among the younger people and that the age limit for criminals is becoming younger each year. This, the speaker said he thinks is due to the great deal of leisure time the youth of today has on his hands.

An interesting fact, Mr. Parker related, for those who kick about high cost of education, is that for every ten cents spent on education, one dollar is spent on crime.

In speaking of jails and criminals, the Mount Holly principal said that few children of criminals become law breakers as they grow up. Mr. Parker strongly emphasized the fact that group work among high school students would probably be a means of keeping the students occupied so that they would not have so much "time to kill."

Mrs. Mary de Preville, of London, recovered heavy damages from a physician who certified her as a lunatic when she was sane.

SIX MEMBERS OF GRANGE HONORED

Special Celebration Marks Fifteenth Anniversary of Members in Organization

Moorestown Grange held a special celebration last Thursday evening in honor of the six members who have held continuous membership for fifty years or more.

Mrs. Catherine B. Lippincott, only charter member of the organization which has been in existence for fifty-nine years, spoke of the splendid progress made which she says far exceeds the anticipation of the founders.

Others who will receive the golden certificates as soon as they are available are Mrs. Susan R. Lippincott, Mrs. Margaret W. Warrick, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Warrick and Owen Dudley.

The program included an original poem by Mrs. Aaron T. Collins, and a poem in the form of a toast by Mrs. Edward A. Roberts, Jr. There was special music including chorus numbers by nine of the young men and solos by David R. Orscom.

Mr. Warrick, who has been a member for fifty-two years, in making a few remarks said he did not believe he had missed that many meetings during his membership. He has been treasurer of the organization for a number of years.

The annual Children's Day picnic will be held on Saturday at Camp Linghocken, near Ewanville.

Thursday evening, June 16, a member of the staff of Trenton museum will give an illustrated lecture on the birds and animals of this section of the country.

VACATION FOOD PROBLEMS

VACATION food problems are no less numerous than those of the winter season. Indeed, they may be infinitely more complicated. The active outdoor life usually led by members of the family during this period serves as a spur to the appetite, while the younger children are sometimes apt to become too excited over their new surroundings and sports to want to spend much time at the table. If mother is to have a vacation, too, menus must be carefully planned.

In planning the family vacation, the homemaker will do well to provide for a plentiful stock of canned goods and staple articles of food. Menus should be planned a week in advance. This will enable one to meet any emergency that may arise and shopping may be confined to one, or at most, two days each week.

With a little careful planning, mother's vacation may be a period of rest and enjoyment for her as well as for the rest of the family. Plain, wholesome meals, with plenty of fruits and leafy vegetables, are essential.

Elaborate meals, requiring hours in the kitchen, should be avoided as much as possible. Where several members of the family are vacationing at one time a division of the household tasks will lighten one's burden and make the vacation enjoyable for all.

Homemakers will welcome the following suggestions in planning their vacations.

Standard Croquettes
2 tbsp. butter 1 to 2 cups cooked meat or vegetables
4 tbsp. flour
1 cup milk
1/2 tsp. salt 1/2 tsp. pepper
Melt the butter, add the flour and cook until it bubbles. Add the milk and cook until sauce thickens. Mix with the remaining ingredients and spread on a plate to cool. Shape, dip into fine crumbs, beaten egg and crumbs again. Fry in deep fat at 375 degrees until golden brown. Drain on unglazed paper. Serves six.

Ham Timbale
2 cups diced ham 1/2 tsp. salt
4 tbsp. butter 1/2 tsp. pepper
6 tbsp. flour 1/2 cup chopped parsley
2 cups milk
Melt butter in saucepan, add flour, stirring constantly. Add milk slowly and stir, add seasonings. Cook two minutes. Add parsley and ham, cook two minutes. Serve in timbale cases.

Tomato Delights
6 medium sized 1/2 cup chopped tomatoes
1/2 cup chopped onions
1/2 cup chopped green peppers
1/2 cup chopped celery
1/2 cup chopped French dressing
1/2 cup carrot
Scoop out seeds and pulp from tomatoes which have been skinned and chilled; sprinkle inside with salt, invert and let stand one-half hour. Put through the food grinder the green peppers, carrots, onion and celery; mix together with the tomato pulp and seeds, and let stand for about twenty or thirty minutes in the French dressing. Chop the cucumber in quarter-inch squares and soak in salt water for flavor. You will find the cucumber more easily shredded after the bratter flavor is served without paring. Drain the cucumbers just before serving, add to the vegetable mixture and stuff the tomatoes. Serve on lettuce leaves with sprigs of parsley or mint.

Spanish Noodles
1/2 lb. round steak 1 cup green peas (ground)
2 medium onions 1/2 tsp. salt
3 medium carrots 1 can tomato soup (chopped)
3 tbsp. shortening 1/2 cup bread crumbs
1 cup cooked noodles 3 tbsp. butter
Fry the meat and onions in the melted shortening until the onions are tender and the meat is browned. Add the remaining ingredients and pour into a baking dish. Sprinkle with buttered crumbs, and bake at 350 degrees for one-half hour.

Cocoanut Chocolate Whip
4 tbsp. flour 2 egg yolks
1/2 cup sugar 1 beaten
1/2 tsp. salt 2 egg whites
1 sq. unsweetened chocolate 2 tsp. vanilla
1 cup milk 1/2 cup shredded coconut
Combine flour, sugar, salt and chocolate. Add milk gradually, place in double boiler and cook until the chocolate is melted and mixture thickens. Pour a small amount over the beaten egg yolks, return to double boiler and cook three or four minutes longer. Cool. Fold in the beaten egg whites and vanilla. Pipe lightly into serving dishes and sprinkle with cocoanut. Serves six.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"GOD THE PRESERVER OF MAN" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, June 12, 1932. The Golden Text is: "Thy righteousness is like the great mountains; thy judgments are a great deep: O Lord, thou preservest man and beast" (Psalm 36).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "He that dwelleth in the secret place of the most High shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty" (Psalms 91:1).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The history of Christianity furnishes sublime proofs of the supporting influence and protecting power bestowed on man by his heavenly Father, omnipotent and who gives man faith and understanding whereby to defend himself, not only from temptations, but from bodily suffering" (p. 387).

Cleo Hullings read the Scripture, which was followed by a prayer.

Since it was Poetry Night the program began with the singing of the lovely poem "Trees." Each girl was given a short poem to read; Eleanor Finn and Edna Buckingham each read an original one.

As the girls had asked Miss Ermyr Jewell to read some of her original poems, she did so. Then she showed us her scrap book of poems, which was most attractive and interesting.

After examining a kitchen shelf in Keystone, Pa., three times, prohibition officers were about to give up when they found a secret panel behind which 162 pints of whisky were hidden.

POLICE NOTES

Last Friday, Officer Robinson of the Riverton police picked up three runaway youths at Broad and Main streets. The boys, John Monforto, Earl Cowell and Raymond Lockwood, ages thirteen, thirteen and sixteen respectively, were residents of Philadelphia. Chief of Police Miller communicated with their parents who called at police headquarters and took them home.

Officer Gooter, 1230 Wednesday morning, picked up a colored youth at Broad and Main streets who identified himself as Charles Rosemond, age 12, of Charlotte, North Carolina. The boy ran away from the home of his grandmother, Rosa Price, Charlotte, N. C. The boy had been on the road ten days when he was picked up by Gooter. Chief of Police Miller telegraphed to police in Charlotte for advice concerning the boy.

Chief Miller and Officer Robinson dug down in their own pockets and purchased material to make two sets of grappling irons. In their spare time these men constructed two sets of sturdy irons and have attached long ropes to each. These will be kept in police headquarters, where they are available for immediate use by the police.

Last Sunday the Riverton police assisted the Chester Township police by dispatching Officer Robinson to Maple Shade to assist in police duty at the Field Mass held there. Chief Miller received a letter of appreciation and an offer to reciprocate should the occasion arise.

ANOTHER LOCAL LANDMARK GONE

Cook Property at Third and Main Sts., Built 80 Years Ago Being Demolished

The tearing down of the old "Cook Place" is removing one of the historic and former beauty spots of Riverton. The former owners of the property were Mr. and Mrs. John Hendry and family, of Philadelphia.

The Hendry family moved to Riverton some time before 1860, and occupied the house until 1873, when Mr. Cook and his children moved in. The Hendry family consisted of father, mother, two daughters, Anna and Emma, and one son, Edward. After the Hendrys moved from Riverton, Anna married William Cooper, who died several years ago and Anna died only recently.

After the Cook property on the river bank burned down (the site now occupied by Mayor Killam E. Bennett, J. Carl DeLoach and Mrs. Robert Hiddle 11) the family moved to the now well-known "Cook Property" at Third and Main, where Mrs. Cook died several months later. There were four children in the Cook family, two sons and two daughters, Miss Lizzie, Miss Julia, Albert and Lee. Mrs. Cook died about twenty years ago and Lee, the oldest son, died in 1925, and the Misses Lizzie and Julia died within the past year. The builder of the house is not known, but that he was a thorough workman is shown by the fact that the house was lined with brick, taking about 40,000.

Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick I. Holman, of 23 East Maple avenue, Merchantville, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Kathryn Louise Holman, to Malcolm M. Dickinson, son of Mrs. Malcolm M. Dickinson, of Riverton.

Miss Holman won the Emma Braun Memorial Cup, the highest honor that may be accorded a student of the Wildcliff Junior College at Swarthmore, Pa. She has been acclaimed one of the finest athletes ever to have represented Wildcliff and the Mary Lyon School, the junior school of Swarthmore. It is for athletic prowess that the cup is awarded each year, the memorial being sponsored by the parents of the late Emma Braun.

Mr. Dickinson is a graduate of Moorestown High School and the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania.

No date has been set for their wedding.

UNPAID TAXES COUNTY PROBLEM

Freeholders Refer to Solicitor for Settlement of 1931 Taxes From Chester Township

William H. Heister, Jr., chairman of the financial department, reported to the Board of Freeholders last Friday that Chester Township had not paid its 1931 taxes, amounting to $62,218.01. The matter was referred to County Solicitor Harold B. Wells to confer with the Chester Township authorities.

Freeholder James McCormick, of the bridge department, and County Engineer H. B. Smith reported that two bridges in Washington township near Herman had been reconstructed by E. P. Campanelli, contractor, of Hammon. The work has been accepted by the freeholders and suggested that payment be made.

A communication received from Bass River township committee stated that the New Gretna-Harristown-Jenkins road, about 8 miles in length, had recently been rebuilt with state aid, and asked that the county take this piece of road over. The communication was referred to the road department.

The Public Service Company was given permission to erect 37 poles on the Florence-Stevens Station road in Florence township, and to erect one pole and string wires on the curb line of the Masonville-Postertown road in Lumberton township.

Bills from the following departments were ordered paid: Finance, $386.81; roads, $1894.68; bridges, $7,575.95; buildings, $9,839.32; public affairs, $14,059.05; making a grand total of $30,810.81.

THE PEOPLES COLUMN

More Than 250 Children Now Members of R. C. A.

Fifty pupils of the Sacred Heart School have recently joined this active organization, and the Parent-Teacher Association has sent a generous contribution for a tree.

Children of the first grade have planted a most attractive little garden near the school building and have constructed a brick border to protect it.

The block between Main and Cinnaminson streets will represent the gifts of the children and the Parent-Teacher Association of the Riverton Public School, and each tree will be marked with an aluminum disk stamped with the name of the donor.

The intense interest and encouraging activity of these young members of the R.C.A. are vitally important factors in the success of the organization and its work in community beautification. Children love growing things, children have a degree of enthusiasm that is contagious. They are willing to work for the things they want, and they have a way of enlisting the support of relatives and family friends in their activities.

Probably you've noticed also that a number of Riverton's business men are to be commended for their cooperation in making our town more pleasing to the eye. William H. Albertson's gas station, for example, has been improved with a new fence with planting on the posts. Chrysanthemums in the background with a foreground of geraniums form a very pretty picture and one that may stop to admire.

This improvement, and many others throughout the town, make since the forming of the R.C.A. give tangible evidence of what can be done by private owners for the betterment of Riverton. Let us show our appreciation of the efforts of these public-spirited citizens by following in their footsteps.

CINNAMINSON P. T. A. AND SCHOOL NOTES

School No. 4 at Cinnaminson, celebrated field day on Friday, June 10, all classes joining in the sports.

The sixty parents and friends present became so enthused that they organized an impromptu program. Races, in which both men and women took part, and a baseball game staged by the women caused hilarious applause.

A ball game was played by the men and boys, and a beautiful basket lunch spread on the tables at the playground, sent the pleasure seekers home well satisfied.

The tea for the mothers who will send children for the first time when school begins in the fall was most interesting. Miss Bryan, Miss Stewart, the sub-primary teacher, and the helping teacher, Miss Purnell, gave interesting talks explaining the reasons for the methods used. Instead of insisting upon the little one learning to "read," they are helped in habits of self reliance, generosity, helpfulness, consideration for others, concentration, value of time, etc., and the results as shown in the first grade work is most pleasing. This is the second year that this effort has been made.

Two little ones passed cake and lemonade, carefully and politely.

EVANS DELEGATE TO INTERNATIONAL

Popular Lumber Dealer Will Represent Palmyra at Seattle

Joseph T. Evans will represent local Rotarians at the annual convention of Rotary International, held this year at Seattle, Washington. He left Monday, June 13th, for his trip across the continent. In order for a club to hold its charter, it must send a delegate to this world-wide gathering at least every other year. Since Palmyra Rotarians were not represented at Vienna, a year ago, Mr. Evans' journey becomes a duty, and the club is fortunate to have some one able to get away at this time.

Frank Cole gave an interesting talk on milk. He has been serving Riverton citizens since 1896, and has seen many changes take place in the business. Mr. Cole's milk comes from Mr. Holly, is tuberculin tested, and has a high butter fat content.

Milk—Then and Now

Perhaps the most outstanding difference between the early years of the century and now, is in the matter of sanitation. The original delivery men carried an open can from which they dipped milk at two cents a half-gallon. When the state began to step in with legal controls, some dealers dropped out at once. The introduction of the milk bottle forced others to abandon their routes. The annual bottle loss according to Mr. Cole is high, and there are instances where the stealing of bottles by rival firms was engaged in.

The law prescribes a butter fat content of three percent, much of the milk sold runs about 3.4%, Mr. Cole's supply tests usually 4.0%.

The club adjourned after the usual routine business had been transacted.

The Board adjourned to meet on June 27 to close up the business of the school year.

ENGAGED

Pierce, of Haddonfield, has been announced, was the guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower given Wednesday, June 8th, by Mrs. Ralph C. Duckett, at her home, 62 Stiles avenue, Haddonfield. ASSESSOR ASKS FOR SALARY CUT

Robinet Cole, Riverton Assessor, Says Job Is Overpaid and Takes 20% Slash

Diogenes can put up his lantern. The honest man has been found.

Admitting that his job was overpaid, Robinet Cole, Riverton Borough Assessor, requested the Borough Council to reduce his salary 20% at the meeting of that body last Thursday night.

In explanation, Mr. Cole said that he had so arranged his books that he felt $800 a year was too much for the work he is doing. He suggested that a portion of the amount taken from his salary be given to C. Kenneth Davis, Borough Collector, whose labors had been greatly increased owing to the fact that taxes can now be paid on the budget plan.

Planned Action in December

Mr. Cole said that it was his intention to ask for this reduction in salary last December, but that when he learned he was to have opposition for reelection, he thought such a course might be misconstrued as political propaganda and refrained from laying the matter before council until after the primary election was over.

Councilman Walter K. Woolman, chairman of the finance committee, complimented Mr. Cole on the fine spirit he had shown, and in this opinion the other members of council and the mayor unanimously concurred.

Mayor Bennett reported the widening of the curb line curve at Linden avenue and stated that the same improvements would be made on Broad street at Thomas and Lippincott avenue. He also reported that twenty feet had been added to the length of the sewer outlet at the foot of Main street.

Dog Catcher Employed

Councilman Elmell, chairman of the police committee, reported that a dog catcher had been employed, a net secured and a pound provided for stray dogs.

Mr. Elmell also reported that 500 feet of hose, twelve coats and twelve pairs of boots had been purchased for the fire company.

Councilman J. Elmer Hahn, chairman of the borough property committee, reported that a life guard is now on duty at the Park and that arrangements had been made for play directors during the summer as heretofore. Miss Maxine Meitzner will be the director for girls and Wilton Mount, of Palmyra, Y.M.C.A. secretary, will have charge of the boys.

Mr. Hahn further reported that the tennis courts at Memorial Park were being monopolized by outsiders and suggested that players should not be allowed more than one set while others are waiting.

Mr. Hahn's recommendation Paul Hudock was made special officer at the park. Mr. Hudock will have the refreshment stand concession this year and a contract will be entered into with (Continued on Page 2)

Mrs. J. Malcom Shelmire, of Moorestown, Is Secretary and Treasurer

A special meeting of the Board of Freeholders of Burlington county was held at the residence of Frank McIlvaine at New Lisbon, to consider the appointment of a Welfare Board to administer the old Age Relief in Burlington county. The following were appointed for the terms of one, two, three, four and five years respectively:

Miss Martha A. Venable, of Marlton; William A. Slaughter, of Mount Holly; Palmer Adams, of Palmyra; Charles R. Rauth, of Edgewater Park; Mrs. J. Malcom Shelmire, of Moorestown.

This board, together with Messrs. William H. Heiser, Jr., and J. Lloyd Wright, of the Board of Freeholders, and Howard G. Stackhouse, County Adjuster, as ex-officio members, compose the Welfare Board of Burlington county.

The Welfare Board was organized, and elected Mr. Rauth president; Mr. Slaughter, vice president; and Mrs. Shelmire, secretary and treasurer. Clark Johnson, of Maple Shade, was appointed Director of Old Age Relief for Burlington county.

Purpose of Act

After the Welfare Board had been organized Commissioner William J. Ellis and J. E. Alloway, of the Department of Institutions and Agencies, discussed various problems as to the eligibility of indigent persons for this relief and the administration of the relief by the board.

There is a great deal of uncertainty in the minds of many people as to the purposes of the Old Age Relief and the persons who are entitled to receive it. The following questions and answers contain much helpful information on both these points:

1. At what age is a man, or woman, eligible for relief under the Old Age Relief law?

Seventy (70) years.

2. Is this relief intended as a pension for all persons seventy years of age and over?

No. It is only for those unable to maintain themselves, either in whole or in part and who have no children or other persons able to support them, or responsible under the laws of this state for their support.

Relatives Responsible

3. What relatives are legally responsible?

Children and grandchildren, husband and wife.

4. Is a non-citizen eligible?

No.

5. What are the resident requirements?

A person must have resided in the state continuously for at least fifteen years immediately preceding the date of application and resided in the county continuously for at least one year immediately preceding date of application.

6. What constitutes continuous residence?

Continuous residence in the state shall not be deemed to have been interrupted by occasional periods of absence therefrom if the total of such periods of absence does not exceed two years, and during the five years immediately preceding date of application, has not removed from the state and remained for a period aggregating one year.

7. Is a person eligible who, because of a physical or mental condition, is in need of continued institutional care?

No.

Transferring Property

8. May an applicant transfer or assign property for the purpose of qualifying for relief?

No.

9. Is a person eligible who has been convicted at any time of a felony or high misdemeanor?

No.

10. What is the maximum value of real or personal property that may be owned without disqualifying the applicant?

$3,000.

11. Will it be possible for applicant to retain such property?

The County Welfare Board may require that such property be transferred to the county upon the order of the Court of Common Pleas. If relief is discontinued during the lifetime of applicant, the value of the property transferred less the total amount of relief granted, shall be returned to the applicant, or in case of his death, become a part of the estate of the deceased.

12. May a person now living in a public institution receive this allowance?

A person whose physical condition is such that continuous institutional care is not necessary, may make application but cannot remain in the institution if allowance is granted.

13. What evidence of age will be required?

Palmyra Senior Class Officers

President
HERBERT H. PARSONS

Vice-President
G. RAYMOND COLES

Secretary
MILDRED E. MICKEL

Treasurer

helpful.

14. To whom should application for relief be made?

The County Welfare Board of the county in which applicant lives.

Application Blanks

15. Where may application blanks or information concerning the law be secured?

At the office of the County Welfare Board.

16. Must each applicant fill out an application blank?

Yes, or have it filled out by some person in his behalf. The director of the County Welfare Board or a member of his staff will be glad to assist in filling out the application in proper form.

17. Is any fee required for filing an application?

No. There should be no expense in this connection.

18. Must a person receiving relief under this law live in a home of his own?

Not necessarily. He may live in his own home, or in some other suitable family home.

19. Is the amount of allowance fixed by law?

No. It shall be determined by the County Welfare Board but in no case shall it exceed the rate of one dollar per day.

20. If application is approved, in what form will relief be granted?

Whenever practicable, by cash or check.

Fundamental Expenses

21. What provisions are made for funeral expense?

If applicant's estate is not sufficient, the County Welfare Board is authorized to pay the accrued monthly payment plus such additional sums as may be necessary, up to a total of One Hundred ($100.00) Dollars.

22. In the event the decision of the County Welfare Board is too long delayed or unsatisfactory, what action is possible?

Under the provisions of the law you may appeal to the Division of Old Age Relief, State Department of Institutions and Agencies, setting forth the facts in full as to the necessity of relief. These facts must be verified by five citizens of the county.

Under the Welfare Act as drawn any person is forbidden to transfer or give away his property so as to become eligible for the Old Age Relief and a penalty of one thousand dollars fine or one year in prison is provided for any person who violates this provision or who gives false information on his or her application blank.

In the very near future arrangements will be made by the director to sit in various parts of the county for the purpose of distributing application blanks for the Old Age Relief and of seeing the applicants personally. In this connection those who appear before the director should come prepared to furnish information as to the date of birth, addresses for the past fifteen years and the names of two persons they intend to give as references.

The office of the Board will be located at 135 Main street, Mount Holly.

CAMDEN MAN GETS GARBAGE CONTRACT

John Dziedzic Willing to do the Work for $900 Per Year; Has Been Costing $2000

At an adjourned meeting of the Riverton Borough Council Monday night of this week, John Dziedzic, of Camden, was awarded the contract for the collection of garbage in Riverton, for the sum of $900 per year for three years.

The other two bidders for the contract were: James L. Fisher, of Palmyra, $970 per year for three years, and Petro Lattanzio, of Medford, $999.50 per year for three years.

Mr. Dziedzic said his equipment consisted of two Ford trucks with tanks, purchased last year. He also showed council a map locating his farm two miles outside of Marlton.

Mr. Woolman offered a resolution that the contract be awarded to Dziedzic with the following conditions: First, that his equipment meet with the approval of council and that the surety of his bond of $1800 was satisfactory.

The meeting adjourned and several members of council went out to the farm to inspect the equipment.

CAMP VACANCIES ALMOST FILLED

Fifteen More Younger Boys Can be Accommodated at Mahalala

A warning that there is room for only 15 more boys in the younger boys' camp at Mahalala, the summer camp operated by the Burlington County Boy Scout Council, has been voiced by M. A. Shaw, county Scout executive.

Mr. Shaw said accommodations are being filled quickly for the first period of camping, for younger boys only, from June 26 to July 2. He advises all who would like to join that period to get in touch with the county executive offices in Burlington immediately.

A new record cost for organization camps in Burlington county is being set this year at Mahalala. One of the features is 11 days of camping at a greatly reduced rate. That period will be from July 6 to July 16 and is for regular Scouts.

Mahalala, which is situated near Cookstown, has been rated among the best in the state. The county Scout council has operated a successful camp for four years. It is believed the charges to be asked this year are the lowest in history of camping.

M. A. Shaw will be director. He has 10 years of experience in Scout camps, two as assistant director and two as director. P. L. Hippie will be waterfront director and first aid man. He is a medical student. Robert Curtis will be director of Scoutcraft and Indian lore. He was assistant director at Waterbury Council's Camp last year and has had nine years in Scout camps.

George Shumard will be quartermaster. He is Assistant Scoutmaster of Troop No. 1, Burlington. Richard Hutchinson, the chef, is at present cook at the County Hospital, New Lisbon. He is also Assistant Scoutmaster of Troop 50, Riverton.

REGISTRATIONS OPEN NOW FOR YWCA GIRLS AT CAMP OCKANICKON

Y.W.C.A. camp for girls of Burlington, Camden, Gloucester and Monmouth counties opens at Camp Ockanickon, Medford, on August 12, the activities to include music, nature lore, campcraft, handicraft, swimming, boating, American Red Cross life saving, tennis, basketball, hiking, horseback riding, photography, dramatics, story telling and special camp programs. Trained camp counselors and leaders supervise the camp activities.

Registrations are open now for campers at the Burlington County Y.W.C.A. office. There are three one-week camp periods, beginning August 12 and closing September 2. All registrations must be in by July 21, accompanied by a registration fee for each period.

Mrs. Roy Clement, of Woodbury, is the 1932 camp director.

WOMAN IDENTIFIES FLIM FLAM SUSPECT

An Atlantic City woman, Mrs. Catherine Rodek, of 14 Bartlett avenue, Sunday identified George Kopf, of Cincinnati, one of a trio of alleged fake real estate agents who were arrested as they "put over" a "deal" at Mount Holly last Friday, as one of two men who "fleece" her and her husband, Edward, out of $800 last August. Kopf, with two companions, is in the Burlington county jail, committed without bail on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. He was arrested by trooper of Columbus state police barracks, on complaint of a Borden-town township farmer, who alleged they posed as real estate agents and agreed to buy his farm. When several thousand dollars was placed in a packet by the parties to the sale contract, it was found the money had been replaced by newspaper clippings. Kopf admitted the woman's allegation to Atlantic City detectives and Trooper John P. Speed, of Columbus barracks, when questioned.

PALMYRA PLANS CELEBRATION ON FOURTH OF JULY

Field Day for Children Will Be Held at Athletic Grounds

CONCERT AND DANCE DURING EVENING

Committees Are Appointed at Meeting in Fire House Monday Evening

Plans for an interesting celebration of the Fourth of July in Palmyra were made by a committee of citizens and officials who met at the Palmyra fire house Monday evening.

Mayor Walter D. Lamson was chosen chairman of the committee, with Herbert Parsons secretary and treasurer.

The program includes field day sports for both boys and girls during the day, in which attractive badges will be awarded the winners. In addition to regular athletic events, there will be an assortment of novelty contests, such as obstacle races, sack races, three-legged races, pie-eating contest, etc.

The entrants will be graded according to ages and the events will be organized under the supervision of the school athletic instructors.

In the evening a concert by the Palmyra High School Boys Band will be given in the Grove, followed by a dance in P.O.S. of A. Hall.

The general idea of the committee is to hold a home-town celebration in which everyone can take part, yet which will not require a large amount of money to finance.

Members of the committee present at the meeting Monday evening were Arthur Palmer, Herbert Parsons, C. F. Dengler, George B. Snyder, DeWitt Russ, W. A. Donaghy, Dr. White, Charles Way, Otis Austin, Frank Chambers, Walter Lamson, George N. Wimer, Floyd Spahr, George J. Spencer, Joseph A. Davis and Alfred Lipincott. The committees appointed were:

Field Day: (Boys) Clinton B. Gardner, chairman; John Haines, Alfred Van Osten, Arthur Palmer and Herbert McCollom; (Girls) Helen Young and Kay Green.

Band: C. F. Dengler, George Snyder and Dr. White.

Evening Events: DeWitt Morris.

Finance: W. A. Donaghy, chairman; Milton Faunce and Floyd Spahr. It is estimated that about $75 will be needed.

The committee will meet again next Monday evening at the police headquarters at 8:15.

him along the lines of last year's agreement with James McDonald.

No fireworks on Fourth.

Mr. Hahn, who is also chairman of the Fourth of July committee, announced that after careful consideration it had been decided to omit fireworks this year due to the financial situation. The saving will be about $400 out of the $900 appropriation for the Independence Day celebration this year.

In the evening the Riverton Yacht Club has arranged to put on a water carnival similar to those which formed such an enjoyable part of the celebration many years ago.

The program during the day will be practically the same as in previous years, starting with the children's parade in the morning, and will include some features bearing particularly on the Washington bi-centennial celebration.

Congressman Wolverton Speaker

Mayor Bennett announced that he had secured Congressman Charles A. Wolverton, of Camden, for the speaker at the morning exercises on the river bank. Amplification will be provided so that everyone may be able to hear this eloquent speaker who needs no introduction in Riverton and vicinity.

Charles A. Wright and Henry E. Moyer appeared before council and presented a petition protesting against the closing of Bank avenue between Main and Howard streets.

Later in the evening, Joseph Beck Tyler, attorney for the property owners petitioning council to close this section of the riverbank, appeared before that body and asked to have July 14 set as the date for another hearing on the subject. Council agreed to this and Mr. Tyler will publish a public notice for a hearing on that date.

A letter was received from the Riverton Civic Association expressing its appreciation of the fact that the borough authorities had cut the grass around the newly planted shrubbery along the railroad, and asked that the Shade Tree Commission take over this work for the future. The communication was referred to the Shade Tree Commission.

Must Clean Vacant Lots

The annual complaint about vacant lots overgrown with grass and weeds came up, and the supervisor of streets was instructed to notify the owners of such properties that unless they are put in proper condition within thirty days, the borough will do the work and charge it on their tax bills.

Councilman E. K. Merrill asked if some arrangement could be made to give police supervision of the riverbank Saturday afternoons and Sundays. The mayor said that while he did not deem it expedient to put on a special officer for this purpose as he thought the officer on duty during the day could include Bank avenue in his patrol at such frequent intervals as to meet all necessary requirements.

The report of the medical inspector was received including $10 in fees.

Police Report

The police report included a boat lost and recovered, three persons bitten by dogs, a complaint about a dog that howls, a bicycle and a pocketbook stolen. The bicycle was recovered. A 28-foot sloop was found adrift in the river and returned to its owner, Harold W. Diell, 232 Mattison avenue, Collingswood, N. J., through the Philadelphia Harbor Police.

LIFE SAVING WORK SEASON UNENDING

Indoor Pools Used in Winter To Train Local Leaders

Victor H. Hartshorn, life saving instructor under Burlington County Chapter American Red Cross, states that the swimming season never ends for the life saving service, as in the winter months indoor pools are used for the training of leaders in the work.

In the summer months these same leaders continue their efforts at beaches and outdoor pools, and it is through these trained local leaders that the Red Cross promotes water safety. He further states that all who pass its exacting tests are permitted to wear the Red Cross life saving insignia, which is issued to more than 60,000 swimmers annually.

Mrs. Hartshorne submits the following suggestions for water safety:

"Learn to swim; see your local examiner and make arrangements for instruction."

"Always swim with a group, never alone."

"Swimming parallel to shore is much safer than swimming too far out."

"Eat light, then wait at least an hour before going in."

"Learn to float, it will give you confidence and enable you to handle a cramp."

"Look before you leap; know the depth before diving; look out for obstructions."

"Keep out of dangerous spots, such as an uneven bottom, swift currents and rip tides."

"Clean out swimming areas of glass, stumps, tin cans, etc."

"Avoid throwing bottles and cans in swimming areas; provide receptacles."

"Call for help only when needed."

Frank Pope, bound by bandits who robbed the offices of the consolidated ticket office in New York, summoned help by dialing the telephone with his nose.

Interesting Events at Ocean City, Popular Family Resort

Final arrangements for the annual outing of Lulu Temple, Shrine organization of Philadelphia, with a membership of 18,000, have been made by officials of Ocean City and the Shrine for Saturday, June 18.

The uniformed patrols, bands and chanters will stage a Boardwalk parade during the day and give exhibition drills. The Shrine clubs affiliated with the Temple will establish headquarters at the various hotels of the city.

The members will bring their families and it is estimated that more than 20,000 will come to the resort by reason of the outing.

The annual assembly of the 50th district, Rotary International, will take place in this island resort on July 18 and 19. The local club is making the arrangements for the entertainment of the Rotarians and their families.

Leaving Springfield, Mass., on Sunday, June 26, 150 residents of New England will board a special train for Ocean City, where they will spend five days. The special is known as the National Marble Tournament excursion train and the visitors will be in the resort during the playing of this national event in which 60 district champions will compete for national honors.

The concerts, given on the music pier twice daily, will begin on June 18. The music will be furnished by Don Luigino's symphonic orchestra. The daily concerts prove popular among the summer visitors.

The regimental band of the First U. S. Engineers, which will be encamped in this city from June 29 until July 5, with the entire regiment, will play several concerts during their stay to which the public will be invited.

Business the coming season is being predicted by business people as looking better than the past two years. The pre-season business is ahead of last year. They base their predictions on the fact that the property owners and hotel managers have reduced their rates to such an extent that those seeking a summer home or a hotel for a vacation can not duplicate what Ocean City has to offer and as a result the resort will be well filled in July and August.

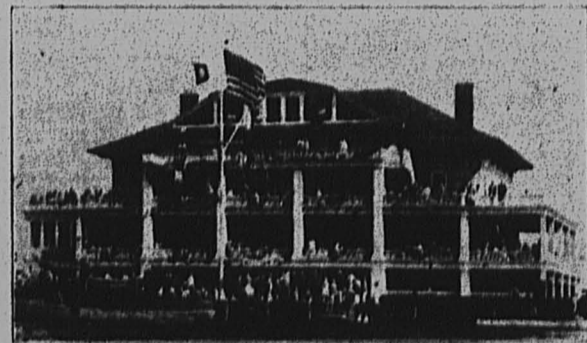

The past two weeks real estate dealers have noticed an increase in the demand for apartments and cottages. The property owners are cooperating in every way. Many homes of members of the summer colony are opened for the season and according to the reports of the utility companies more are now opened than at the same date last year or the year before.

The uniformed patrols, bands and chanters will stage a Boardwalk parade during the day and give exhibition drills. The Shrine clubs affiliated with the Temple will establish headquarters at the various hotels of the city.

BUGLE CORPS WINS HONORS

Palmyra Outfit Is Commended By Commissioner Harold G. Hoffman

The Palmyra Drum and Bugle Corps scored high in two competitions last week, taking first prize at Pennington on Saturday and doing the same on Sunday at Maple Shade.

Saturday evening, the Corps competes at Norwood, Pa., and a special drill is being arranged.

July 4, the Corps assists in Riverton in the morning and will leave immediately after for Rutherford.

The following letter received by one of the members of the Corps shows the high regard in which the Corps is held all over the state:

June 13, 1932.
Mr. Herman Bading,
410 Buttonwood street,
Mt. Holly, N. J.

Dear Herman:
Yesterday was the first opportunity I had to see the Palmyra Drum and Bugle Corps in action.

You certainly have a dandy outfit and I could not help but write you a few lines of commendation.

The boys not only made a wonderful appearance, but their playing reflected the careful training and hard work that must have been made necessary in bringing the Corps to such a degree of perfection.

Added to this, your outfit has a degree of showmanship that helped to make it one of the most attractive organizations of its kind I have ever seen in action. I want to congratulate you. Sincerely,
HAROLD G. HOFFMAN.

CARD OF THANKS:
We wish to thank our many friends for their kind expressions of sympathy during our recent bereavement.
Mrs. Stella Winslow,
Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hansen.

The Palmyra Drum and Bugle Corps scored high in two competitions last week, taking first prize at Pennington on Saturday and doing the same on Sunday at Maple Shade.

Saturday evening, the Corps competes at Norwood, Pa., and a special drill is being arranged.

July 4, the Corps assists in Riverton in the morning and will leave immediately after for Rutherford.

The following letter received by one of the members of the Corps shows the high regard in which the Corps is held all over the state:

June 13, 1932.
Mr. Herman Bading,
410 Buttonwood street,
Mt. Holly, N. J.

Dear Herman:
Yesterday was the first opportunity I had to see the Palmyra Drum and Bugle Corps in action.

You certainly have a dandy outfit and I could not help but write you a few lines of commendation.

The boys not only made a wonderful appearance, but their playing reflected the careful training and hard work that must have been made necessary in bringing the Corps to such a degree of perfection.

Added to this, your outfit has a degree of showmanship that helped to make it one of the most attractive organizations of its kind I have ever seen in action. I want to congratulate you. Sincerely,
HAROLD G. HOFFMAN.

CARD OF THANKS:
We wish to thank our many friends for their kind expressions of sympathy during our recent bereavement.
Mrs. Stella Winslow,
Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hansen.

MISS EARHART AND HER RECENT FLIGHT

Recently Lady Mary Heath, one of England's most famous flyers, had an article in an American magazine in which she expressed the opinion that no woman would ever fly across the Atlantic alone, and that an attempt to do so would be suicidal.

Hardly had the ink dried on the magazine pages when Miss Amelia Earhart flew alone from New Foundland to Ireland in 13 hours and 30 minutes, covering a distance of about 1,900 miles, thus proving that Lady Mary Heath was wrong. Miss Earhart's feat has been widely acclaimed as second only to Lindbergh's New York to Paris flight.

She is the only woman ever to cross the Atlantic in an airplane and has done so twice, the first time as a passenger with Wilmer Stultz and Louis Gordon in June 1928. She made the first flight from the Atlantic to the Pacific and back in an autogiro last year, and has made numerous altitude and speed records for women.

Miss Earhart, who in private life is Mrs.

George F. Putnam, said after making her trans-Atlantic flight that she only wanted to show that a woman could do it, and modestly added:

"Outside of demonstrating that a woman can fly the Atlantic alone, I don't see that I've added anything to aviation, science, or anything else." And our admiration for her is increased by that frank . . . and truthful statement.

WHAT ARE WE WAITING FOR?

We have had a moratorium of the war debts. We have had international conferences, and lots of them, in the interests of peace and in behalf of disarmament.

We have organized gigantic methods for relief of the drought sufferers, of the unemployed, and the unfortunate.

We have massed the credit of the Government and loaned billions of dollars to the farmers, and to the processes of keeping crop prices from falling through the cellars; and to the railroads and to the steamship lines.

The question of balancing the National budget has been solved by a patient and over-abused Congress.

The gold standard has been upheld in the United States.

The crash of country banks has been checked. High window-jumping has decreased as "a way out of the whole mess."

There aren't quite so many divorcees.

There are fewer drunks.

Cigarette smoking is decreasing among the ladies, according to the wail of the tobacco trust and official figures.

THUS: The political and the social ills are in pretty good shape.

This old world should wake up, and put the props under its ECONOMIC structure. Uncle Sam has started everything except soup kitchens to help everything and everybody.

"The assistance of all motorists is urged, as the operators of the fire department vehicles need all the cooperation obtainable from every citizen, whether pedestrian, or motorist, or motorist."

"Motorists should be willing to suffer some momentary inconvenience in order to give the right of way to fire companies, and should cooperate in every way possible with these brave firemen, many of them volunteers, who risk their lives in their efforts to save the lives and property of others."

WOMAN DRIVER PAYS $15 FINE FOR DRIVING 3 YEARS WITHOUT CARD

At a hearing before Recorder Joseph W. Johnston in Moorestown Town Hall last week Helen Pearce, 32 Villa avenue, Lenola, paid $5.00 for each year she had been operating a motor vehicle without a driver's license. After her arrest by Officer Walter A. Erickson, she confessed she had been driving a car for three years without a license, so Johnston promptly imposed a fine of $15 and costs.

Three speeders, all arrested by Officer Erickson during the past week, paid fines of $5.00 and costs apiece at hearings before Recorder Johnston. They were:

John H. Gindhart, Hartford; William H. Hutchins, 141 Davis Road, Audubon, and William J. Malone, 2841 South Broad street, Trenton.

4. One set and no more than 12 games will complete the occupancy of a court at one time if others are waiting to play.

MANY PICNICS AT CAMP OCKANICKON

Sunday Schools, Other Organizations Find Place Ideal For Outings

On Friday, the Presbyterian Sunday School of Mount Holly, with some 300 persons, had their annual picnic at Camp Ockanickon.

Saturday there were five large picnic groups on the grounds, the Presbyterian Sunday Schools of Beverly and Coopersburg; the Moorestown Baptist Sunday School; the Men's League, of Haddonfield, and the Hillman Sunday School, from Camden county. Between 700 and 800 people were there to enjoy a perfect June day. Besides there were camping parties at the Monmouth County Cabin, the Nature Study Cabin and at Robbins Road.

Sunday, the men from the Federated Bible Classes of Burlington County, together with their wives, met at the large dining room, Ockanickon Inn, for their annual session. Over 500 were actually counted. The speaker was Commissioner Harold K. Bennett, of Camden. Among the special musical features were selections by the County Y.M.C.A. orchestra, a marimba solo by Joseph Conway, of Moorestown, a selection by the County Y.M.C.A. brass quartet. The singing was directed by Horace J. Finley. George N. Wimer presided.

On Monday the camp was used by two Moorestown Sunday Schools, the Presbyterian and Episcopal.

A staff conference of all the leaders and directors for the summer program at the Camp was held at headquarters Tuesday afternoon with E. W. Barnes, of the State Y.M.C.A. staff and the 1932 camp director, presiding.

Today (Wednesday) marked the opening of the twenty-sixth season of Camp Ockanickon, the seventh season on the Camp's own site in Medford township.

BOOKLET ON LAWS AFFECTING 'VETS'

Valuable Information for Ex-Servicemen Who Join Legion by July 10

Every veteran who has joined, or becomes a member of the American Legion for 1932, and whose card and dues are of record with the national organization by July 10, will receive without charge a thirty-two-page magazine-size booklet, written in plain language, describing all federal and state laws pertaining to World War veterans.

Not only will there be a full description of all such laws, in words that any person will be able to understand, but all confusing technicalities, and most of the legal references, such as "202-10," will be eliminated.

One of the most important features of the booklet will be suggestions as to how claims may be started and followed through. Often, according to Legion officials, an ex-serviceman knows in his own heart that he has a just claim for compensation, and that the government is willing and eager to do the right thing, but too often lack of information as to the proper method of procedure prevents the case from being taken up. He gets a copy of the law and doesn't understand it. Perhaps he has written a few letters, when first he should have obtained an affidavit, made a certified copy of his discharge papers, or included a statement from his physician.

So far as national headquarters of the American Legion has been able to discover, there is no such consolidated material in existence as will be contained in this booklet, and certainly there is none available without charge. The booklet will be available only to those who are members of the Legion. It cannot be purchased, and besides being of great value to the individual veteran, it likewise will be a sure guide to those veterans who are requested from time to time to aid others with their claims.

Membership is a necessarily vital part of the organization, for in it the Legion finds its strength to accomplish objectives and extend its service to all veterans. Therefore, the distribution has been speeded up in order that it can be made with the August issue, and thereby give every veteran a chance to benefit by it.

This point should be made clear to prospective members by all posts, as there can be no extension beyond the July 10th date, because the booklets will not be furnished outside the Monthly mailing list. Each post, therefore, should conclude this activity by June 30.

The booklet will be periodically revised and pages issued for inserts. It should in no way be confused with the government codification of federal laws of interest to veterans of ALL WARS, and which the Legion sponsored in Congress. The codification is being compiled by the Veterans' Bureau. That will be a voluminous technical document, and no doubt will be sold to individuals about six months from now at a comparatively considerable price.

The Legion booklet has been produced by the highest class of writers in the country, staff men and editors of The American Legion Monthly, who have followed each law as it was proposed, introduced in Congress, passed, and then put into operation.

RUTGERS INAUGURATES FOURTEENTH PRESIDENT

Dr. Robert C. Clothier, formerly dean of men at the University of Pittsburgh, was inaugurated as fourteenth president of Rutgers University before a colorful gathering of over 3,000 persons last Saturday morning. In delivering his inaugural address, Dr. Clothier made a strong plea for the building up of "a faculty of great teachers, who combine with high academic standards that rare ability to bring life and inspiration into the classroom, and who combine with their work a love of young people and something of the spirit of the old crusaders. To the institution whose faculty is so constituted, students will flock," he said. "From that institution great men and great women will go forth to help great our world from the perils which now beset us."

The Glenwood Gas Range Now Has a Remarkable Clock

Now the family can sit down to a hot dinner, cooked deliciously and right on time, even if the home-maker hasn't looked in the kitchen, let alone the oven, all day. At the time most convenient to her, the home-maker places the dinner in the oven—meat, vegetables, dessert—then sets the oven heat regulator and then the clock. When it is time for cooking to commence, the clock turns on the heat, when the food is ready the clock turns it off. The food keeps hot and juicy in the well-insulated Glenwood oven.

Glenwood Gas Range S-31-216-ETK-6 has the clock that makes automatic cooking possible. The top burners light automatically, also. Fully insulated semi-console model finished in gray and white vari-tone with black trim.

RIVERTON BEATS VINCENTOWN, 6-5

Bartley's Run on a Squeeze Play Wins Game in the Thirteenth

Riverton baseball fans were treated to a game last Saturday afternoon that made their hair stand on end, when at Memorial Park, the Riverton team upset Vincentown 6-5 in the thirteenth inning.

Riverton took the lead early in the game when in the first inning Reeves singled and was brought home by a hit from Bartley.

In the third, Bartello and Heister, of Vincentown, each brought in a run, putting the visitors in the lead. Riverton soon snatched the lead again when in the fourth they scored Bucholz and Baker assisted by a two bagger by Bartley.

Bartello again scored for Vincentown in the fifth inning, bringing in one run. Riverton retaliated in the same inning with two runs brought in by Terrill and Longstreet. Longstreet smacked out a sensational three bagger followed by Terrill who got to first with a base on balls and then stole second. Baker drove them in with a single.

Vincentown picked up another run in the eighth inning when Cooper clouted a two bagger to be brought in by a single off the end of Worrell's bat. Vincentown was temporarily saved when Bartello crossed the plate in the ninth to tie the score 5-5, and incidentally chalk up his third run in the game.

The deadlock continued for four more innings and was finally broken in the thirteenth when Bartley scored the winning run on a squeeze play from third to home, upsetting the catcher as he came in.

SOUTHPAW BEATS PARRY SLUGGER

Oreutt's Twirling and Aurick's Home Run Wins for
Rogers News

Parry's Twilight League Pennant hopes became a bit dimmer on Friday evening, when Lady Oreutt left armed them into submission, 7 to 1, in an artful exhibition of curving.

Tailies were as scarce as dollar bills until the last inning, when the Newsboys tapped the run barrel and six markers trickled out.

The crowning blow in this coup was a home run by Aurick, with the bases filled to capacity. Ted Caruthers was the loser in his first start for Parry.

ED GEORGE MEETS EUSTACE ON MAT

Former Heavy Champ Battles
Giant Kansan at Camden Show

Ed Don George, former heavyweight champion will be the opponent of Alan Eustace, giant Kansan, in the windup of Charley Grip's Wrestling show, to be held at the Ponsauken Arena, Crescent Boulevard, next Monday night.

The western giant will tip the beam around the 220 mark, while George will probably be about ten pounds lighter.

The semi-final will bring together Charlie Struck, of Spring Valley, N. Y., former college wrestler, and Rex Smith, a newcomer from Michigan.

The every popular Karl Zyzasko, of Poland, who has been quite a crowd pleaser in his several bouts here, and an old favorite of the Camden fans, Jack Wagner of Denver, will clash in the second 30-minute preliminary. Joe Montana, Camden's favorite son, takes on George Gennas, of Philadelphia in the opening bout. As both men are former boxers, some fireworks are expected in this bout, with victory probably going to the "rasher" who can slug the hardest and most often.

Two lawyers in Adams, Mass., agreed, in lieu of $250 due them from a client who was unable to pay them, to accept 1,000 dozen eggs over a ten-year period.

Although he has lived in New York City all his life, George Gallagher, 83, has never seen a movie, ridden a trolley car, nor been in the subway.

TREE COMMISSION WILL ASSIST R.C.A.

Riverton Shade Tree Commission Will Care for Plantings Recently Made

One of the most recent and important developments in connection with the highway planting sponsored by the Riverton Civic Association is the announcement that the Borough Shade Tree Commission has arranged to have the grass cut as often as necessary. Certainly the attractiveness of this planting would be largely dissipated were the grass permitted to grow to the detriment of the trees and shrubs, and the spirit of cooperation shown by the Tree Commission is one worthy of widespread admiration. Public-spirited residents who have contributed to the cost of necessary cultivation are also to be congratulated for their participation in a project by which all of us benefit.

Among the foundation plantings that are attracting attention right now are those which have so greatly improved the appearance of the post office and the New Era building. Messrs. Matka, Evans and Bowen are being pretty generally commended, and the cement retaining wall built to protect the planting appears to be an excellent idea.

No doubt other business establishments will cooperate to improve the general appearance of our shopping center which in turn attracts to themselves the much-needed business at this time.

The work of painting the railroad station began on June 20. An unemployed man is doing the work. Here's cooperation that is doubly helpful.

And—before we forget it—won't all who had a hand in the George Washington Tree Planting (1792-1922) register with the R.C.A. for certificates from the American Tree Association so that by the end of the year our community will be credited with at least as much planting as that done by her municipal neighbors.

BEETLE TO APPEAR IN NEXT FEW DAYS

Insects to Emerge in Increasing Numbers Until Middle of July

Emergence of Japanese beetles from the soil, where they spent the winter and spring in larval form, will begin in many parts of New Jersey within several days, the State Department of Agriculture announces. The insects will emerge in increasing numbers until the middle of July.

Infestations of the beetle have been found in all counties of the state except Sussex, but only ten counties, Union, Middlesex, Monmouth, Mercer, Ocean, Burlington, Camden, Gloucester, Salem and Atlantic, are expected to be generally infested this year, the department says.

Areas where the beetle population has been building up for the past one or two years may be expected to experience the worst damage. In older-infested sections, such as the vicinity of Moorestown, the number of beetles and the amount of their damage has decreased for several years.

Control measures have been developed to the point where the Japanese beetle is no longer of great economic importance as a destroyer of farm crops, the Department of Agriculture says. The spraying of fruit and shade trees and of ornamental shrubbery has been found effective in controlling adult insects, and the application of lead arsenate to lawns and golf courses has been found effective in preventing grub damage. Traps, if regularly emptied and baited, are recommended by the department for reducing the beetle population. Lawns on which traps are located should be treated with lead arsenate and valuable trees and shrubs near traps should be sprayed because of the fact that large numbers of beetles are attracted to the vicinity of the traps.

This summer the Department of Agriculture will test the efficiency of an improved Japanese beetle trap over a 50-acre-mile area in Salem county, where an attempt will be made to control a heavy beetle population. The improved trap is capable of capturing as many as 50,000 beetles in one day. Trapping will be done on a small scale in the vicinity of Lakewood, Toms River and Pennington.

In addition to controlling adult Japanese beetles, the Department of Agriculture has made progress in using a nematode (a tiny worm) found near Haddonfield in 1929 to destroy the beetle in grub form. The nematode which was found is a natural parasite of Japanese beetle grubs. Field tests made by the department indicate that the parasite can be established in areas where it does not occur naturally and that when it is established it causes a heavy mortality among the beetle grubs.

POWELL HITS CUT IN STATE POLICE

Senator Says Understanding at Trenton Was to Keep Force Intact

Col. H. Norman Schwarzkopf's proposal to eliminate barracks of the state police is directly contrary to an understanding reached in the New Jersey Legislature.

That declaration was made Sunday by State Senator Clifford R. Powell, of Burlington county, at his home in Delanco, while officials and residents along the riverfront sought retention of the barracks to insure continued police protection in a time of emergency.

"I can't understand the announced proposal of Col. Schwarzkopf in discontinuing ten barracks in the state, including the Delanco station, and dismissing 80 troopers," Senator Powell declared.

"It was understood by the leadership of both houses of the New Jersey Legislature that, to meet the budget slash made by the state appropriations committee, troopers of the New Jersey state police were to be 'squeezed' by that means the troopers were to be given as much as a month's enforced vacation without pay. This would be bad enough, but it is better than dismissing them entirely and abandoning ten stations."

"The state police appropriation for the year has been cut $100,000, which is less than 10 per cent of their total appropriation."

"There is great agitation against the abandonment of local state police stations and I believe the protests of the people should bear fruit," Senator Powell concluded.

TENNIS CLUB IS ORGANIZED

Riverton Racquet Club Elects Officers and Drafts Rules For Court Activity

The Riverton Racquet Club held its organization meeting this week at which time officers were elected for the term of one year and various playing rules laid down.

Joseph H. Shookor was elected president, Richard M. Woodward, vice president and Karl W. Latch, secretary and treasurer. John L. Metzger was elected chairman of the grounds committee and will have charge of scheduling matches for the club. Arrangements have been made to play all matches on the Palmyra Tennis Courts. Richard E. Stauffer was elected chairman of the membership committee. The membership has been limited to fifteen men, with fourteen already enrolled.

Arrangements are being made for a match with students of the Riverside High School for this Saturday afternoon. A match scheduled for last Saturday afternoon with the Riverside town team did not mature due to unsettled weather conditions. Other matches are planned for and the chairman of the grounds committee would be glad to hear from teams wishing an engagement.

All of the players have been ranked and are privileged to advance their position by defeating either of the two men ranked ahead of him. E. N. Cooper holds number one position, followed by George Lathbury, Jack Metzger, Richard M. Woodward, Paul Jones, Karl Latch, Joseph Shookor, and Benjamin Freeman. These first eight men constitute the first team for men's play.

The chairman of the grounds committee has formulated certain rules with respect to play on the club court at 708 Main street, which will be rigidly enforced.

With tennis rapidly gaining in popularity the Riverton Racquet Club hopes to eventually develop a local interest that will tend to advance the sport in Riverton, and elsewhere.

FIRST GRADUATION AT SACRED HEART

Address By Rev. Thomas F. Rudden of Moorestown. Special Awards for Excellence

The new school of the Sacred Heart, dedicated on September 18, held its first graduation on Friday evening, June 17 at 8 o'clock.

An appropriate program was rendered and an instructive and interesting address was given by the Rev. Thomas F. Rudden, of Moorestown.

Besides congratulating the students on their work accomplished, he advised that they continue to be industrious in their studies so they will be able to advance to higher courses of study and eventually be able and useful young men and women wherever they reside. He took occasion to state why Catholics undergo so much sacrifice for parochial schools.

It is not to compete or undermine public schools, but, knowing that we were created by God and for God, and that we have a soul to save, as we believe in a hereafter, we, therefore, educate for time and eternity. Wealth is no guarantee for happiness, even in this life, as we see so many instances of wrecked lives, but the influence of Christian teaching brings satisfaction, peace and consolation under the greatest trials and tribulations. We educate for God and Country, said the speaker.

Diplomas were presented by Rev. Joseph A. Rigney, the pastor, to the following:

Francis J. Brennan, Anthony M. Bulvidas, Charles E. Dougherty, John J. Hallahan, Jr., Richard E. Fowler, Robert E. Wallace, Henry T. Williams, Helen J. Arndt, Rose P. Arndt, Mildred E. Hullings, Anna C. Cardea, Margaret J. Ford, Rita N. Dougherty.

Medals and gold pieces were awarded to Francis J. Brennan, gold piece by E. C. St. Joseph's Council, excellent in history.

John J. Hallahan, gold medal by Rev. J. A. Rigney, excellence in Christian doctrine.

Helen J. Arndt, gold piece by Ladies' Auxiliary, American Legion for general excellence in all studies.

Rita Dougherty, gold piece by the Parent-Teacher Association of Sacred Heart School for excellence in English.

Rev. Father Rigney expressed himself as proud of the work of the school during the past year and thanked the people of the parish for their hearty cooperation. He also congratulated the good Sisters of Charity for the most excellent services in the teaching and management of the new parish school.

The Rev. William P. Cavanaugh officiated at the benediction service. The hymns for services were rendered by Mrs. Edward H. Hestle, Mrs. William Mitchell, Mrs. George J. Porter, Miss Elmer Porter, William Aspinall and Dominick Prisco. J. Allen Porter presided at the organ.

MAN LOSES RIGHT ARM, TORN IN TRACTOR WHEEL

His right arm torn off at the elbow when it became caught in the flywheel of a tractor he was operating, Mark Harbeson, 57, a farmhand of the farm of Charles Addams, near Burlington, is in the Burlington County Hospital at Mount Holly. Harbeson was treated by Dr. William E. Smith, Burlington, physician, and removed to the hospital where authorities say complete amputation of the arm may be necessary. Harbeson lost his balance as he "ducked" to avoid being struck by the overhanging limb of a tree, while driving the tractor. The top of the seat and his arm were caught in the fly-wheel.

"BORROWED" BOAT LEADS TO ARREST

Two Boys in Boat at 1 A. M. Picked Up by Riverton Police Officers

For several weeks past, boatmen have been missing articles from their craft moored at Riverton, and three or four boats have been stolen.

At one o'clock Sunday morning, Officers Robinson and Gooter, of the Riverton police force, saw a small boat headed down stream with two boys at the oars. They called the boys ashore and learned that they had "borrowed" the boat from its mooring at East Riverton.

They gave their names as Norman Chadwick, 16 years old, of Palmyra, and William Gladney, 12 years old, of Riverton.

At a hearing before Recorder Cecil A. Bowers, at police headquarters Monday night, the defendants were held for the action of the Burlington County Juvenile Court over which Judge Charles A. Rigney presides.

The boys were released in custody of their parents to be produced when summoned.

PETITION TO KEEP STATE TROOPERS

Towns in This Vicinity Fighting to Keep Barracks at Delanco

More than 15 petitions protesting the removal of Delaware state police barracks are in circulation throughout Burlington county. The station has been ordered discontinued after July 1 by Colonel H. Norman Schwarzkopf, superintendent of the New Jersey state police, as part of the state police retrenchment plan caused by a reduction in the department's appropriation from the state. More than 80 troopers will be discharged, to meet the budget slash, according to an announcement made from the state police headquarters.

The petitions being circulated by Burlington county are being signed by residents of Riverside, Riverside Park, Delanco, Riverton, Cinnaminson, Palmyra, Beverly, Edgewater Park, Burlington, Bridgeboro, Maple Shade, Moorestown, Hancocks and Mount Holly. They will be presented to Colonel Schwarzkopf in an effort to force reconsideration of the plan to abandon the Delanco barracks, combining its territory with the station at Columbus, which will be continued.

So far, no official action against the station's removal has been taken by officials of the riverfront municipalities which will be affected by the station's closing.

Former Mayor of Palmyra George N. Wimer, Republican nominee for sheriff of Burlington county, in a statement last week, said, "I object very strenuously to leaving this territory without state police protection because of the Palmyra-Tacony Bridge. Criminals have two ways to leave New Jersey, one by the Delaware River bridge, which is carefully policed, and the other by the Palmyra-Tacony bridge."

"I have always favored the location of a state police barracks in Palmyra and have told Colonel Schwarzkopf so."

"Troopers should be located, I believe, close to the Palmyra-Tacony Bridge, so that if criminals seek to escape by way of the bridge they will be caught. The Palmyra police department is not able to police the town and maintain a constant guard of the bridge."

D.A.R. OBSERVES FLAG DAY AT BURLINGTON

The Annie Stetson Chapter, D. A. R., observed flag day on Tuesday, June 14, with a box luncheon at the chapter house in Burlington.

A short business session was held and each member read an interesting article pertaining to the flag.

The Chapter House, 7 East Pearl street, Burlington, will be open to visitors on Fourth of July.

The regular monthly meeting will be resumed in October.

BOROUGH COUNCIL PLANS TO ADOPT VENDORS' LICENSE

Committee Will Consult With Merchants On Proposed Ordinance

NEW SEWER PUMP LINE IS NEEDED

Council Registers Protest Against Loss of State Police Protection

Palmyra Borough Council is considering passage of an ordinance to tax outside vendors, who have been coming into town selling provisions and other supplies in competition with merchants who maintain regular places of business and pay taxes.

An ordinance to this effect has been used by Palmyra merchants for some time, but Solicitor Low has pointed out that such measures are difficult of enforcement and are of times nullified because of conflict with inter-state commerce regulations and other laws.

An ordinance which will properly protect Palmyra merchants and yet not interfere with business men in Riverton and Cinnaminson Township who do business in Palmyra is difficult to draw.

Charles Hahn and Leon Eval were present at the meeting of Palmyra Borough Council Tuesday evening to urge a vendor's license fee and Council decided to appoint a committee consisting of Messrs. Lippincott, Wimer and Spahr to confer with the merchants and decide upon what type of ordinance would be both satisfactory and workable.

To Change Building Code

Building Inspector Echner reported that the present building code is in definite with regard to garages and overhead signs and Council decided to make an amendment which will straighten out the difficulty.

A bad leak occurred in the pipe line between the sewer pumping plant and the disposal plant over the weekend, causing much difficulty and several hundred dollars of expense to repair.

Since this pipe, of peculiar wooden construction, is ten years old, and had developed other leaks recently, Mayor Lamon recommended steps be taken for the installation of a new pipe line, funds for which are available in the sewer sinking fund.

Councilman Wimer moved that the sewer committee be instructed to inquire into the cost of a new pipe line. This motion was adopted. Councilman Wimer also called attention to the fact that the main pump at the pumping station had been out of commission for several weeks, due to a dispute with the insurance company and the auxiliary pump which was being used was showing signs of needing attention. He recommended the committee put the main pump back into service and have necessary repairs made at once, settling the insurance dispute later.

Congratulates Police

Mayor Lamon reported on the completion of the traffic signal at Broad street and 8-41 and commended the Palmyra police for their good work in connection with the building of the sign and the beautification of the plot upon which the traffic booth stands.

The mayor discussed the request of the "Joy Boats" for license with Council and it was decided to grant the license as long as the management of the boat continues to conduct it properly.

Solicitor Low reported proper steps had been taken in prosecuting the suit of the borough against the old ferry company for collection of back taxes.

The matter of adjusting the taxes due the borough by the water company and the rentals owed by the borough to the company will be taken up at a conference to be held between the company and borough officials in the near future.

Councilman Wimer called attention to the proposed closing of the DeArco State Police barracks and reported a petition had been signed by several hundred citizens of Palmyra and other river front towns protesting against the loss of this police protection.

Need Police Here

Councilman Wimer declared the Palmyra bridge was a favorite crossing for criminals who had committed crimes in South Jersey and it was his opinion that a State Police headquarters should be located in or near Palmyra.

Council decided to pass a resolution requesting the State Police be retained in this vicinity and located at Palmyra if possible. This resolution will be forwarded to the governor and State Police commandant, Col. Schwarzkopf.

Councilman Wimer, who has been head of the relief work in Palmyra, announced his resignation from that capacity, to take effect June 30. The present scheme of relief, including work for the unemployed, will end on that date, and the only funds available during July will be for relief of dependents.

After July 1 the new state plan of relief will be in operation. Council is considering the appointment of someone in Palmyra to take charge of relief work from July 1.

The Protestant churches of Palmyra and Riverton will hold open air union services in the Palmyra Grove during July and August, beginning July 10. Council will take steps to make necessary repairs to benches and other equipment for these meetings.

Ocean City Will Be Host To 60 Marble Champions Next Week When Contest Will Reveal 1932 National Titleholder

Sixty district marble champions from every state east of the Mississippi, who will compete in the National Marbles Championship tournament, in Ocean City, N. J., the week of June 26, will find upon their arrival a program filled with entertainment of every sort.

They will be escorted to beachfront hotels where they will reside for the week, by members of the Ocean City service clubs. Everything of the best awaits their arrival.

Fishing, bathing in surf and pools, pony rides, merry-go-rounds, ferris wheels, deck schuffle, skee ball, archery, rolling chair rides, ice cream and candy free, with orangeade and other refreshing drinks, shooting gallery, moonlight sailing, treasure hunts and many other attractions are included among the entertaining features.

The business end of the trip will require the boys to knuckle down at Ringer Stadium, Sixth street and the Boardwalk every morning at 10 a. m., excepting on Friday, the day of the finals which will be staged later as it is to be broadcast over the Columbia network of stations.

The boys will be officially welcomed by Mayor Harry Headley and the City Commissioners on Monday at 10 a. m., at Ringer Stadium, following a Boardwalk parade in honor of the district champions at 9 a. m.

The line of march will include the American Legion band, the Boy Scouts Drum and Bugle corps, the service clubs, Chamber of Commerce, Girl Scouts and every boy of Ocean City who wants to parade. Souvenirs will be given every boy in the line. A free water pagent and entertainment will be staged by the Beach Patrol on Monday night under the direction of Captain Jack Jerne, in honor of the "champs" with all the boys in the parade on Monday morning being invited guests.

John Huff, the official boy host, representing all the boys of Ocean City, will be on hand the entire week showing the visiting boys the town. "Huffy," as he is known, has been making great preparations for the district champions.

During the week of the tournament the boys will be given an opportunity of seeing a real army camp set up right near the Ringer Stadium as the First Regiment, U. S. Engineers, whose home post is at Fort DuPont, Delaware, will encamp here for the week beginning June 29.

The regiment, which is accompanied by its band, will give an exhibition for the benefit of the boys soon after their arrival. The band will play for the finals.

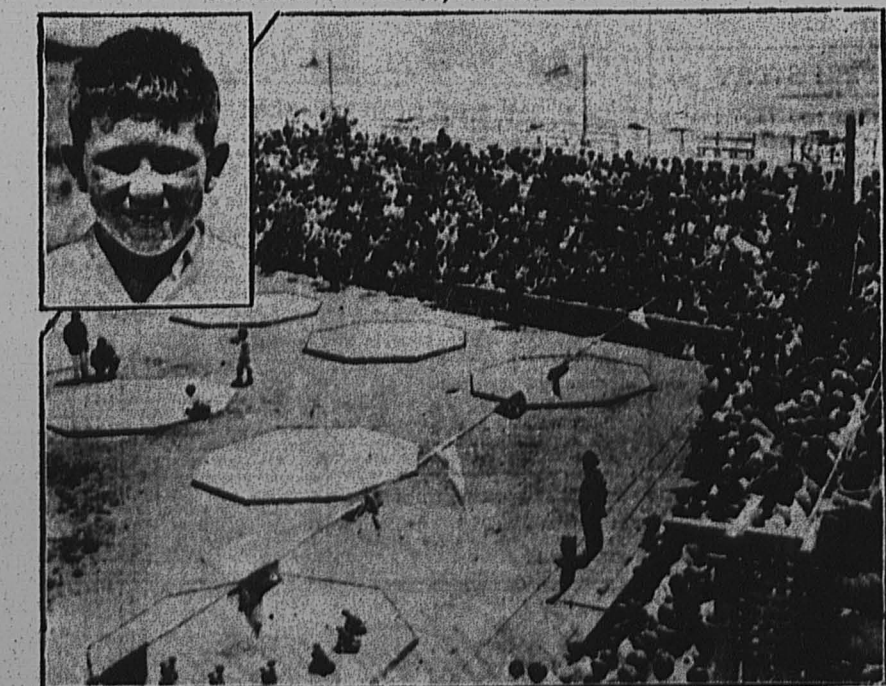

The hotels and rooming houses are filling and many reservations are being received. Business people believe that the increased summer activities are partly responsible along with the reductions made by the managers of the many hotels and rooming houses.

The rental of cottages and apartments has taken a spurt the past few days with the owners being greatly encouraged as to the outlook for the season. The owners are cooperating with the business people in cutting their rentals in an effort to fill the resort this year.

MOUNT HOLLY OFFERED JOHNSON ESTATE
The property of John D. Johnson at High street and Bartram avenue, Mount Holly, has been offered to the county seat township committee by its owner, without reserve as to the use to which it is to be put. The property includes about three acres of land, a large residence, garage and stable. Johnson made the offer to township committee, last week, and Albert B. Walters, a member of the township committee, has been prepared and is ready to be presented to the municipality for whatever purpose it may desire to use the property. Arrears of taxes on the property amount to about $3000 which will be remitted if the offer is accepted. As the township has no direct use for the property, it has been suggested by several taxpayers that it be accepted, it immediately be deeded by the township to the Board of Education.

J., as it looked last June when Jeffries clinched the national title by defeating Harley Corum, of Louisville, Ky. The boys are seen playing at the ring at the left under the watchful eyes of a referee and an umpire. This stadium will be the scene of the tenth National Marble Tournament to be held the last week in June.

Hall — Collins

Washington Memorial Chapel, Valley Forge, Pa., was the scene of the wedding of Miss Betty Howland Collins, of Merchantville, and Nelson Warren Hall, of Moorestown, at high noon, on Saturday. The Rev. W. Herbert Burk, rector, officiated at the ceremony.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brown Collins, of Maple Terrace, Merchantville, was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of old ivory embroidered net, fashioned on princess lines. With it she wore a cloche of chalk crepe and face veil and long white gloves. Her boquet was of orchids and lilies of the valley.

Miss Nancy Collins was her sister's only attendant. Her frock was of net over Nile green taffeta, made with a net jacket with taffeta applique. Her matching picture hat was trimmed with yellow rose buds and her mite matched in color. Her bouquet was of snapdragons, roses and African daisies, shading from yellow to bronze.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Hall, of Chester avenue, Moorestown, selected his brother, Thomas Wright Hall, as best man.

After August 1, Mr. Hall and his bride will be at home at 5 Orchard street, Nyack, N. Y.

Interesting Events at Ocean City, Popular Family Resort

Final arrangements for the annual outing of Lulu Temple, Shrine organization of Philadelphia, with a membership of 18,000, have been made by officials of Ocean City and the Shrine for Saturday, June 18.

The uniformed patrols, bands and chatters will stage a Boardwalk parade during the day and give exhibition drills. The Shrine clubs affiliated with the Temple will establish headquarters at the various hotels of the city.

The members will bring their families and it is estimated that more than 20,000 will come to the resort by reason of the outing.

The annual assembly of the 50th district, Rotary International, will take place in this island resort on July 18 and 19. The local club is making the arrangements for the entertainment of the Rotarians and their families.

Leaving Springfield, Mass., on Sunday, June 26, 150 residents of New England will board a special train for Ocean City, where they will spend five days. The special is known as the National Marble Tournament excursion train and the visitors will be in the resort during the playing of this national event in which 60 district champions will compete for national honors.

The concerts, given on the music pier twice daily, will begin on June 18. The music will be furnished by Don Lugo's symphonic orchestra. The daily concerts prove popular among the summer visitors.

The regimental band of the First U. S. Engineers, which will be encamped in this city from June 29 until July 6, with the entire regiment, will play several concerts during their stay to which the public will be invited.

Business the coming season is being predicted by business people as looking better than the past two years. The pre-season business is ahead of last year. They base their predictions on the fact that the property owners and hotel managers have reduced their rates to such an extent that those seeking a summer home or a hotel for a vacation can not duplicate what Ocean City has to offer and as a result the resort will be well filled in July and August.

The past two weeks real estate dealers have noticed an increase in the demand for apartments and cottages. The property owners are cooperating in every way. Many homes of members of the summer colony are opened for the season and according to the reports of the utility companies more are now opened than at the same date last year or the year before.

Imhoff — Winkler

Miss Vera Lillian Winkler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Winkler, of Claypoole avenue, Lenox, became the bride of Albert Imhoff, son of Mrs. Albert Imhoff, of Bridgeboro street, Riverside, on Monday morning at 10 o'clock at the parsonage of the Riverside Methodist Episcopal Church. The Rev. E. W. Estlow, pastor, performed the ceremony.

The bride wore a gown of turquoise blue chiffon with beige hat and shoes. Her bouquet was of white roses and sweet peas.

Miss Mabel Imhoff, sister of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid. Her dress was of blue crepe and she wore tan hat and shoes. Pink roses and sweet peas fashioned her bouquet.

Mr. Wilson, of Wilmington, Del., was best man.

Following a wedding trip to Atlantic City, Mr. Imhoff and his bride will live in Riverside.

Gardiner — Stokes

The marriage of Miss Dorothy P. Stokes, of Germantown, Pa., daughter of Mrs. Margaret P. Stokes, of Island Heights, and Walter W. Gardiner, Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. Walter W. Gardiner, of West Main street, Moorestown, was solemnized on Friday at Valley Forge Memorial Chapel, by the rector, the Rev. W. Herbert Burk.

After a wedding breakfast at the Emlyn Arms Apartments, Germantown, Pa., Mr. and Mrs. Gardiner left by motor for a two weeks' trip in New England. Upon returning they will make their home at 131 East Second street, Moorestown.

AFTER COLLEGE — WHAT?

What chance does the 1932 college graduate have to get a job?

It's a mighty slim one, unless he himself makes the job, according to Joseph Creamer, New York advertising agency executive. Writing the The Rotarian magazine, for June, he points out that many young men and women are learning this.

"During the past year, five hundred new advertising agencies have been started. Many of them have been founded by men who have been crowded off the payrolls of bigger organizations. Hard times have made them think for themselves; the loss of their jobs has urged them to do what they considered the impossible.

"Two young men who showed marked ability on their college publications have deserted the East and have established a weekly publication in a Western community of 900 people. Three years ago they might have found employment with some large newspaper or magazine.

"A 1931 Harvard graduate wandered around for six months grabbing odd jobs. Then he created a business for himself. He secured an interview with one of the executives of a fruit importing house in New York, stated his condition, and mapped out his idea briefly. Now he is making from thirty to forty-five dollars per week selling articles that every man needs, to the employees of this fruit company's liners.

"A young woman who came to me a few months ago looking for advice on the choice of work that would support her for the time being," continued Mr. Creamer, "has opened a college fashion bureau in a small village in the East; all her work is done by mail and brings her a neat profit.

"Young men who were gainfully employed up until a few months ago have opened stores and offices of their own financed largely on loans; and they are showing a profit.

"These are typical examples of what Youth is doing at the present day. Young men and women who gave hopeless sighs for blasted illusions have created businesses of their own. Many, of course, will still be looking for that opportunity, but many more will want to stick when the upflow comes. Many will be far ahead of what they expected to be in the next five or six years."

JUST THINK OF THIS!

This is one in a series of challenging thoughts on national and international problems from a member of the younger generation. Reactions, pro and con, are welcome and as many as possible will be published.

By DAVID S. RICHIE

SOCIALISM IN ACTION

Until this last April the government of Milwaukee wasn't entirely under the control of the Socialist Party, but the accomplishments of Socialist Mayor Hoan supported by a Socialist minority on the City Council during the last fifteen years were enough to win praise from all over the country as well as to re-elect the mayor by a two-to-one vote and back him up by a Socialist majority on the Council, in the recent election.

At a time when Philadelphia and literally dozens of other cities in the United States are so virtually bankrupt that they can neither pay their employees or float further loans—the record of Milwaukee is most impressive! Here is at least part of it—to take for what it is worth: Back in 1910 the Socialists first came into control, the condition of Milwaukee was quite as bad as the worst off of the cities today—quite as bad as a city government run by a political machine for their own selfish aggrandizement must expect to be. It had a $2,000,000 deficit in the Police and Firemen's Pension Fund; was nine school houses short; had almost no playgrounds or parks; and its sewage was dumped into its drinking water supply! Bankrupt—in money and leadership!

Today—what a contrast! Instead of bankruptcy it is conceded to have the soundest financial standing in the United States, with an Amortization Fund steadily reducing its debt toward nothing, with a tax rate already cut to one-third less than the per capita rate of New York; and with a $7 cash balance in the bank for each one of its 578,249 inhabitants with all bills paid! Instead of drinking water poisoned by sewage, it has pure water and a sewage converter producing 110 tons of fertilizer every day! Instead of no playgrounds it has 50 acres of them as well as three river-side parks. Instead of a lack of schools it spends more per pupil than New York and many other cities and has the largest vocational school in the country. It has the lowest fire insurance rate of any urban community in the country and only two other cities have as low a burglary rate—that in spite of the fact that its per capita cost is 60% less than that of New York! Wonder why? Because the merit system is recognized to the extent that the daily record of every policeman is the sole basis for advancement. It has a central purchasing agency that saves the city at least 10% on all its purchases and more than pays for itself with the $40,000 saved yearly by cash discounts. It won first place in the Health Exhibition of the Chamber of Commerce in both 1930 and 1931.

And so the record goes—But the future looks even more remarkable! Soon every department will be on a cash basis and the entire debt will eventually be wiped out with a saving of $8 tax on every thousand of property evaluation. That spells prosperity by itself, but it isn't all. A municipal bank is being set up to handle the cities' finances at any tremendous saving. A municipal marketing plan calls for the sale of coke by the city in order to beat down retail prices to a level parallel to that in other cities. And milk and coal and perhaps other necessities will be added to the list "whenever necessary to prevent unreasonable hold-ups in prices." A six-hour day will also soon be in effect for all city employees.

This is what a constructive and foresighted administration devoted to the needs of all the people can do when backed by a watchful and organized electorate. It points the way for every other city! And the first step is to organize an effective party demanding good government. It can be done.

Some kind of a record belongs to Mrs. Marie J. Lefebvre, 79, of Hancock, Iowa, who has never eaten a potato.

WHEN THE DEPRESSION WILL END

The depression will end when the average man finds himself confident of sufficient income to meet the necessities of his life, to save a little bit and be able to spend a little bit to provide employment or relief for others not so fortunate as himself.

In other words, the depression will end as soon as the average man begins to make both ends meet.

That condition has existed with vast numbers throughout the economic upset. It has been within the power of many more, had they been able to realize it. More and more people are being forced to settle their bills and live within their means and a great lesson in thrift has been taught which will not be easily forgotten.

Conditions are probably on the mend now and probably have been for some time. The debt-paying and retrenching, otherwise known as liquidation, which was started at the outset of the depression, cured the cause of it in the proportion these things were done.

When this liquidation has gone far enough, and few can tell just how far is enough, then industry and confidence will gradually be restored, but few will know the miracle has been accomplished till long afterwards.

TAX BANKRUPTCY

The spectre of tax bankruptcy is faced by a good many Americans these days. Tax levies, according to Melvin Traylor, president of the First National Bank of Chicago, take the estimated equivalent of one day's labor every week from everyone in the country. A few years ago one out of every 22 persons gainfully employed was on the public payroll; now the percentage is one in 11. It is said that if the present rate continues, in a little over twenty years we will have one person working for government for every person who pays taxes!

Recently, in a middle-western state, one million acres of land were taken over by the counties for unpaid taxes. Another state has an $18,000,000 deficit. Another has $10,000,000 in signed contracts for certain projects and is unable to raise a single dollar with which to meet them. In many parts of the country local bond issues have defaulted, schools have been closed, necessary functions of government have been crippled, public employees have been unpaid.

This is what government extravagance has done. Higher taxes is not the solution. The people cannot pay. In Ohio, according to Mark Sullivan, with present low commodity prices, the state and municipality take, in taxes, an amount equal to the entire value of every farmer's crop. Nothing but tax bankruptcy can result if the trend of today is continued.

The fount of content must spring up in the mind; and he who has so little knowledge of human nature as to seek happiness by changing anything but his own dispositions, will waste his life in fruitless efforts, and multiply the griefs which he purposes to remove.

A FISH STORY

Once upon a time there lived in Riverton, two cops and a recorder. Now these two cops and one recorder had been so used to catching all kinds of burglars, runaways, drunken drivers, etc., that they thought they could catch fish.

"So," one said to the other, "Let's go fishing!" and it was forthwith arranged. Robinson, Gootee and Bowers packed their lunch and chugged down to Brant Beach. They hired a boat and rowed to the middle of the fishing ground (or what they thought looked like a good place to catch fish) and heaved the anchor.

They cast their lines hither and yon, baited with the most tempting of baits, and after sitting in the boat all day finally one of the crew landed a dog shark. That broke up the party and three intrepid sailors weighed anchor and pulled for home.

Still undaunted, these two Riverton cops strengthened their forces by the addition of Dorworth (Cincinnati's police force) and the substation of Bowers (Riverton's Recorder) and set sail for Fort Elizabeth.

Another row boat was hired. Gootee was elected captain by a unanimous vote and he promptly took the helm (in other words oars) and piloted the ship into fishy waters where anchor was cast. Profiting by their trip on Monday, the coppers purchased a supine bait and with hooks laden with a fish banquet, cast into the waters and waited.

Success followed, and before the day was out the boat was loaded with th' gunwhales with three underlined perch, three anemic eels and two bewhiskered catfish.

Gootee (a former Navy man) would not admit that rowing was a tough job, so he grabbed the oars and proceeded to row the boat back to shore, neither would he admit that the seat was hard. Brave sailor that he was, he safely brought the fishing smacks to port.

All piled into Robinson's gasoline buggy and the trip overland was begun. Robinson did very well on a land plot until he hit Glassboro and there his bus expired. All manner of tinkering, verbal persuasion and perspiration would not restore the vehicle to animation.

Therefore a U. S. S. was flashed to Mrs. Gootee in Riverton who went to the rescue and brought back the Writing is a very bum business. Now take this column, for instance: One fellow will go into hysterics over one paragraph but won't be able to see anything in the next, while the other fellow will react just the reverse.

How we wish we could write 'em so they would seem funny to everybody; but then if we could we wouldn't be filling up space in this newspaper, we'd be filling up space in the Congressional Record.

For some reason or other, we can't see why, we keep singing to ourselves, "Life is Just a Bowl of Cherries," and we know it isn't; there are too many worms in it.

It is rumored that the N. Y. taxi cabs are trying to oust the Mayor. They say that they don't mind his traveling out of the city so much, but they want a mayor who will give them some business when he is in the city and not be a "walker."

Walter Winchell says that it is a relief, after all these years, to learn that Mr. Rockefeller has discovered that oil and water don't mix. However, we would say that until he made that discovery, oil and water made a darn fine emulsion—for the dry.

And speaking of mixtures and emulsions, have you ever heard of pousse-cafe? Well, you are going to, whether you like it or not, believe it or not: Take, beg, borrow or steal, two parts of maraschino and one each of Charreux, absinthe, vermouth, and Benedictine, with a flim of brandy, forming successive layers in the glass.

Is it any wonder that we have prohibition?

A good many things have been said about Rockefeller's withdrawal from the dry side, but we like Dr. Homer W. Tope's comment best of all: "We can't," said the Dr., "prevent a man from exercising his own judgment. Quite sporting, old Tope, to admit that a man withdrawing from your anti-saloon league is exercising judgment.

And that is probably the reason for the famous withdrawal: you can't prevent a man from exercising his own judgment.

And now, away with all this buffoonery, and back to the more serious things in life. "You may not know it," says Princess Alexandra Kropotkin, "but we girls have more 'pleasant' emotions per day than the boys do." The answer is so obvious that we will refrain from further comment on that one, all vous plait.

Just think, dear pub, if it were not for such as we, things like this would never be published, but would have to depend on the fact that they are secrets to get spread around. It seems, may it be a fact, that a couple of salesmen visiting Beverly, Delanco and kindred complaints with a truck loaded with flora dog woodus, which they sold, one hundred in Beverly and fifty-nine in Delanco, to be exact, for one dollar each (a price which would have been far beyond the wildest hopes of any legitimate nurseryman). To counterbalance this high price, the salesmen "planted" the trees and gave instructions to water them "at least a bucket a day for three days. All was very nice 'til one woman's husband, the brute, objected to the location of the new tree, and proceeded to move it. Even moving it would not have interfered with future sales. If the husband hadn't handled it roughly, as husbands are likely to do to newcomers, and discovered that there were no roots on the "tree."

We think that you will agree with us when we say that a dollar is a trifle high for a dogwood branch, even when one end is wrapped in burlap.

Not a bad idea though, a bucket a day keeps the coppers away.

And the holler they put up; you could hardly hear the dogwood bark.

And 159 more residents of Beverly and Delanco learn the meaning of the word "silly"—at from one to four dollars per slice.

The Lick That Was the Victory

By IRVIN S. COBB

THERE was a Scotchman who had a wife and she had strong views upon the subject of strong drink. It is possible her views were colored by the fact that her husband was of convivial habits. Also had unlimited respect for the power of her tongue and the weight of her strong right arm.

One night he came home late and badly befuddled. He managed to get inside the house without awakening her, but in order to reach his own sleeping quarters, it was necessary for him to pass through her room.

On its threshold he had an inspiration. He got down on his hands and knees and started to crawl across the intervening floor space. But when he was just alongside of her bed he chanced to brush against the coverlets and the lady was aroused.

In the darkness, mistaking the dark bulk that was in arm's reach of her for the family house-dog, she said: "Come, Jocko, Jocko!"

"Whereupon at that varra moment," said the husband next day when recounting the event to a crony, "I had the rare intelligence to lick her hand."

PRICE TO INCLUDE NEW FEDERAL TAX

State Director Rules Gasoline Levy Must be Ad- vised on Pumps

The federal tax on gasoline of one cent per gallon went into effect Tuesday. This is the announcement that the Motor Fuel Division of the State Tax Department makes, and at the same time calls attention of the gasoline trade the regulations that have been in force for several years in regard to the advertising of the price of gasoline at service stations and garages.

The law placing this tax provides that only the price per gallon may be shown, and that this price must include the state tax is included in this price, must also be plainly shown. It was the intent of the Legislature that the motoring public be protected when purchasing gasoline and therefore it was provided that the unit price per gallon be immediately evident to the purchaser. The target at which this provision of the bill was aimed, was to make unlawful a practice that had been frequently resorted to by less scrupulous dispensers of gasoline products, when advertising one price and charging another upon filling the tank, and then informing the motorist of the additional charge incurred by the three-cent state tax.

Price Must Be Shown

The State Tax Department ruled, that in the absence of any contrary regulations by the federal government at this time, the New Jersey Legislature provided that only one inclusive price be shown, and therefore the federal tax should be added to and included in the unit price per gallon displayed. The additional statement now must show that federal and state taxes are included.

The New Jersey State Tax Department will not revise its position, unless other regulations are made by the federal government. Signs that do not comply with these regulations will not be permitted. The Tax Department is now making a survey to enforce these regulations.

The law provides that failure to display a price sign exactly as required by the State Tax Commissioner is punishable by a fine of $25.00 for the first offense, and $50.00 or imprisonment for not less than 10 days, or both, for a second or subsequent offense.

Regulations Rigidly Enforced

There has also been a growing tendency on the part of some owners of service stations in the state, in the case of a fractional cent per gallon, to show these fractions in such small figures that they cannot be quickly observed by a prospective purchaser. The Department will not permit signs showing fractions, unless the figure indicating the fraction is half the size of the other figures showing the price per unit gallon, as provided in the law. For example, should the price of 13.8-10 cents per gallon be shown in a way that the "8" is almost obscured in size, the motorist may be intentionally misled to believe that he is purchasing gasoline at nearly a whole cent per gallon less.

It is a violation of the Act to display quantity sale prices, advertising a certain number of gallons at a definite amount. The Tax Department wishes to call to the attention of the trade the fact that the law requires that only the unit price per gallon be displayed.

PUBLIC BATHING BEACH IS OPENED

Officer Lawrence Betty Does Much To Afford Fine Swimming Place

The Community Bathing Beach at Public and Oxford roads, Palmyra, will soon be one of the best equipped swimming places in this section.

Lawrence Betty, Palmyra police officer, conceived the idea of a public swimming place some time ago, and since then has been working diligently and sparing no effort to make this undertaking a success.

The ground which is being used is the property of T. Harry Rowland, of Camden, and was secured for the purpose through the kindness of a Mr. Brewster, of Palmyra.

Plans for the sign at the recreation center was donated by John H. Etris, of Palmyra. The gas station on Oxford road is to be used as a bath house. Parking space will be provided for automobiles.

Top soil is being contributed by W. R. S. Fluck and Hylton's sand is being used.

Elwood F. Thum, of the Palmyra Foundry, will donate the suits for the life guards at the creek.

At the present time only two guards have been engaged. They are William C. Moore and William Kepner.

Officer Betty asks any townspeople who are interested in making this recreation center a safe place for kiddies, as well as grown-ups, to give their services any day next week in helping to improve the swimming place and make it a safe place for all.

Many persons have already enjoyed swimming at the Beach during the past week.

SEASIDE PARK PLANS TO TAX TRANSIENT BATHERS

Seaside Park Borough Council has passed an ordinance requiring transient visitors to pay a fee of 25 cents per day to bathe or picnic within the borough limits. Season tickets will be issued for $2. The object of the ordinance is to get revenue to help pay the cost of maintaining life guards and police and to help pay for cleaning up the great amount of litter that is left on the beach by weekend picnic parties.

ESTHER MULLOWNEY WINS STATE LEAGUE OF NATIONS CONTEST

For the third time in succession Moorestown High School has won one of the New Jersey state prizes in the League of Nations Contest.

This year Miss Esther Mallowney has received twenty-five dollars as the first prize, while last year William Herman won the second prize and the previous year Miss Dorothy Mallowney, also received the second prize. This contest is an examination on the League of Nations conducted each year by the National League of Nations Association with the first prize a trip to Europe and various state prizes offered by the various state branches.

It certainly shows very creditable work on the part of the students to win this prize three times in succession as well as excellent drill by the history teachers in the high school.

PEDESTRIAN MUST TAKE MORE CARE

Personal Responsibility Urged By Hoffman As Accident Preventative

Accident statistics during the first four months of the year on pedestrian victims of automobile accidents convince Commissioner Harold C. Hoffman that the person afoot should assume and exercise a greater sense of personal responsibility. He also cautions drivers to exercise better self-control in the operation of cars on the highways.

Commissioner Hoffman said that of the 194 pedestrian fatalities, 64, or 33 per cent, occurred between street intersections, showing the advisability of crossing streets at intersections and on crosswalks. A total of 751, or 26 per cent, of the 2879 pedestrians injured were struck under the same circumstances.

On the other hand, 45 or 23 per cent, of the pedestrians killed during the period were struck while "crossing intersection, no signal" and 800 or 27.7 per cent, were injured in like manner.

"Here," said the Commissioner, "it has been difficult to ascertain whether the pedestrian or the driver was at fault but I repeat that more pedestrian responsibility and self-control on the part of drivers would have reduced those startling figures considerably."

Coming from behind parked vehicles is likewise a common cause of pedestrian accidents, records showing that 12 persons were killed and 330 injured while thus engaged from January to April inclusive.

Further analyzing the available statistics, Commissioner Hoffman finds that the heaviest toll in pedestrian fatalities was in the age group "45 and over," the percentage being 36.5 of the total number killed. Victims in the prime of life, 22 to 64, ranked second with a percentage of 31.4 while children under 15 years of age were 22 per cent, of the total number of victims.

Contrasting the age groups of the pedestrian fatalities with the pedestrian injured, Commissioner Hoffman finds that children under 15 years of age were the heaviest sufferers. There were 1,109, or 11.6 per cent, of this particular group injured. Persons in the age group heretofore referred to as the prime of life number 1,049, or 36.4 per cent., while elderly pedestrians, who showed up heaviest in the fatality column, were only six per cent, of the pedestrians injured.

NEW PHONE BOOKS

Camden Directories, Instead of Trenton, for County Towns

The telephone directory, which is used variously by telephone subscribers to look up telephone numbers, addresses or names, as a hiding place for money and important papers, or as a cushion under "Junior" to raise him a little higher on his chair at the dining room table, can perform a new service beginning with the new summer issue which is now being delivered here by the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company.

It can tell you how to mail things. Editors of the book announce that an entire page of the classified section in the new directory is devoted to "Post-office Information," supplied by the United States Postoffice Department, and printed as an additional service for telephone subscribers.

The new Camden Directory is being distributed in Beverly, Burlington, Medford, Mount Holly, Pemberton, Riverside and Vincentown where the Trenton Directory was formerly distributed. The listings of subscribers in Pemberton, Vincentown and Florence have been added. These changes have been made as a result of recent studies conducted by the Telephone Company's engineers which showed that this directory arrangement would best serve the greater majority of the subscribers' calling requirements throughout this section.

Olsen — Sharp

Announcement of the marriage of Miss Geraldine C. Sharp, daughter of Mr. George Kern, of Mount Laurel road, Moorestown, to Edmund J. Olsen, of Camden, was announced on Saturday at a bridge-luncheon by Mrs. Kern.

The marriage took place on February 13, 1931, in Washington, D. C., where Mr. Olsen was attending the Georgetown University Law School. He was graduated from the school this year and is now associated with D. Truman Stackhouse, attorney, of Camden.

Mr. and Mrs. Olsen are making the home temporarily with the bride's mother in Moorestown.

While Leroy Ford, blacksmith, of Helena, Ark., was at church, a thief stole 5,000 dimes which Ford had been saving for years at his home.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Christian Science" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, June 26, 1932.

The Golden Text is: "When ye received the word of God which ye heard of us, ye received it not as the word of men, but as it is in truth, the word of God, which effectually worketh also in you that believe" (I Thessalonians 2:13).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "And Jesus returned in the power of the Spirit into Galilee; and there went out a fame of him through all the region about" (Luke 4:14).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Christian Science explains all cause and effect as mental, not physical. It lifts the veil of mystery from Soul and body. It shows the scientific relation of man to God, disentangles the interlaced ambiguities of being, and sets free the imprisoned thought" (p. 114).

The Golden Text is: "When ye received the word of God which ye heard of us, ye received it not as the word of men, but as it is in truth, the word of God, which effectually worketh also in you that believe" (I Thessalonians 2:13).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "And Jesus returned in the power of the Spirit into Galilee; and there went out a fame of him through all the region about" (Luke 4:14).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Christian Science explains all cause and effect as mental, not physical. It lifts the veil of mystery from Soul and body. It shows the scientific relation of man to God, disentangles the interlaced ambiguities of being, and sets free the imprisoned thought" (p. 114).

RIVERTON, NEW JERSEY, THURSDAY, JUNE 30, 1932

PRICE, FIVE CENTS

PLANS MADE FOR RIVERTON'S 4TH

Twelve-Hour Program Provides Full Day of Celebration; Fireworks Omitted

The Fourth of July committee of the Borough of Riverton, under the chairmanship of J. Elmer Hahn, has completed plans for a full day of celebration on Monday. Committees have been appointed, prize appropriations made available, and each committee is working diligently to schedule a bang-up Fourth.

The morning will officially open with the flag raising at Memorial Park by Troop 50, Boy Scouts of America. This will be followed by a parade starting at Broad and Main streets, and marching to the River Bank. The line of march will be made up as follows: Police, firemen, Moose band, Mayor and Council, children, Legion Drum Corps, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, decorated coaches, etc. The Fourth of July committee extends a cordial invitation to local organizations to participate in the parade Monday morning.

Children's Flag Parade

Parents are urged to bring their children who will enter the children's flag parade competition to Howard and Main streets, where the committee in charge will judge the entrants before the parade starts. All entrants should be in line by 8:45 sharp. The winners will be announced and prizes awarded at the River Bank immediately following the arrival of the parade. The classes are as follows: Velocipede, Bicycle, Wagon, Baby Coach, Comic, and best float or costume pertaining to George Washington.

The children's flag parade committee is composed of Mrs. Edward K. Merrill, chairman; Miss Dora Parry, Mrs. J. Elmer Hahn, Miss Catherine C. Grant and Mrs. Charles S. Ayres. Address by Hon. D. Lane Powers.

The exercises, at the River Bank will be opened with a prayer by the Rev. George Lockett, D.D., followed by the singing of patriotic songs led by George D. Stead, and the singing, Mayor William E. Bennett will introduce the speaker of the day, the Hon. D. Lane Powers, popular Mercer county Republican leader and Republican nominee for Congress at the coming general election.

The address will be amplified through loud speakers installed by Elmer Clifton. The same equipment which operated so successfully at the park last year will be used.

Following the speaker, the sailing races, sponsored by the Riverton Yacht Club, will start across the starting line with the boom of the starting gun.

Athletic events are next on the program, and will be held on the river bank between Main and Howard streets instead of between Main and Penn streets as in former years. The athletic committee consists of J. W. Sylvester, chairman; Ross Elliott, Walter L. Bowen, E. C. Windhover and Robert C. Ayres. This committee has planned an exciting program of events that will provide sport for the entrants as well as the onlookers.

The afternoon events will open with aquatic sports sponsored by the Riverton Yacht Club. The canoe and water sports committee, made up of Ed. K. Merrill, chairman; R. K. Knight, Ogden H. Mattis, Walter C. Wright and John R. Natsky, Jr., will stage the following events: A men's swimming, boys' swimming, girls' swimming; canoe events—standing on gunwales, one-man singles, tandem doubles, mixed doubles, men's four and pig-headed races.

Baseball in Afternoon

The Riverton baseball club will go into a clinch with Mount Holly at Memorial Park where baseball fans can sit and enjoy a thrilling game of ball. The Riverton club is playing much better ball this year and fans are sure to see a good game in the afternoon.

The evening will be devoted to a band concert at the River Bank, and a tilting contest sponsored by the Riverton Yacht Club will also furnish amusement to the onlookers.

A complete program of events and the time for which they are scheduled will be found page 6 of this issue.

800 BOYS ON TRIP TO VALLEY FORGE

'Marble Champs' Include Contingent From Palmyra and Riverton

Last Sunday, under the auspices of The Evening Bulletin of Philadelphia, a Washington Bicentennial patriotic pilgrimage to Independence Hall and Valley Forge for the marble champions of America was enjoyed by nearly 800 "champs."

A large portion of Burlington county's school champions took part in the trip. A fleet of buses conveyed the party down Market street, passing the site where Thomas Jefferson drafted the Declaration of Independence and from there to Independence Hall. For many boys it was their first sight of the Liberty Bell. In fact, for a surprising number of fellows this trip provided a number of first-time experiences, such as going over the Delaware River Bridge and also riding on a train.

Benjamin Franklin's grave was pointed out, also the Betsy Ross House. For many boys it was their first sight of the Liberty Bell. In fact, for a surprising number of fellows this trip provided a number of first-time experiences, such as going over the Delaware River Bridge and also riding on a train.

From the Navy Yard the trip was routed up Broad street and from there to the Reading Terminal at 13th and Market, where a special train conveyed the party to Valley Forge.

Right near the station is the building used as General Washington's Headquarters. After inspecting this special buses conveyed the boys to Memorial Chapel Grove, where a picnic box lunch was handed to each boy who received it with open hands.

After lunch an inspection of the duplicates of the log huts in which the Revolutionary troops lived caused much comment. In a part of the formal program an official welcome was extended by G. A. Weidmann, of the Evening Bulletin. Rev. Dr. Herbert W. Burkley, rector of the Memorial Chapel, gave a thrilling account of the historical and spiritual significance of Valley Forge.

On the return trip the special train left the station at Philadelphia at 3:45. Upon arrival there the national marble championship party was escorted to the Reading ferry terminal for a special train which left Camden at 5:00 o'clock for Ocean City, here, during this week, contests are being run off to determine the national champion.

Secretary Chas. C. Hendry, who directed the Burlington County Marble contest, has been asked by The Evening Bulletin to be one of its representatives the last two days of the national finals at Ocean City. Palmyra and Riverton boys on the trip were led by Y.M.C.A. Secretary Wilton Mount. They were John Cannon, James Hansen, George Atkinson and William Haven, of Palmyra; and Robert Mathews, Seymour Barker and Edward Hirst, of Riverton.

NOTICE

Signs prohibiting swimming at Memorial Park, Riverton, have been placed about in conspicuous positions. Pollution of the water in the stream skirting the park is given as the reason for the restriction. The chairman of the property committee, J. Elmer Hahn, is having tests made and samples analyzed.

The loss of a "swimming hole" to the kiddies of Riverton, during the recent hot spell, has been a serious disappointment to many, but in the interest of health and safety, Mr. Hahn urges all parents and persons who are responsible for swimming at the park, to bear with the authorities until the condition can be remedied.

The authorities fully appreciate the importance of the swimming facilities at the park take in the lives of Riverton's kiddies, and all haste with in the bounds of safety is being made to restore swimming at the park.

RIVERTON BOARD ENDS YEAR'S WORK

Supervisor's Report Gives Comprehensive Survey of Work Accomplished

At the final meeting of the Riverton Board of Education for the school year last Monday evening, thirty-one pupils were granted permission to attend high school, twenty-seven to Palmyra and four to Moorestown.

A resolution was made by District Clerk Hemphill that the president and district clerk be authorized to enter into a contract with Silas J. Coddington Estate on the painting work being done at the schools, so that payments may be made while the work is in progress, on recommendation of the property committee. Also to make payments on other work being done this summer.

H. H. Murray and Sherman L. Warren were appointed an auditing committee to go over the books of the custodian of school funds and the district clerk.

On motion of George D. Stead, the district clerk was given authority to advertise for bids on jobbing and repair work to be done this summer on specifications made by the property committee, with power to act. Mr. Stead offered another resolution which empowered the president and district clerk to award contracts for this repair work on recommendation of the property committee.

Both resolutions were unanimously passed.

Mr. Cooper submitted his annual report, which gave a very comprehensive survey of the school work during the past year.

VISIT "JOY BOAT" ON THE FOURTH

Refreshments, Dancing, and a Splendid View Up and Down the River

Among the Fourth of July attractions don't overlook the Million Dollar Joy Boat, docked at the Tacony-Palmyra ferry slip, Palmyra.

Its cool and spacious deck will make an ideal point from which to view the boat races and aquatic events.

There will be dancing, with orchestral music in the evening.

This ship was built during the World War at a cost of one and a quarter million dollars for transporting ammunition to France. It was named the Mahanna. The craft is 285 feet long and originally had eight decks. Three of these decks have been removed and the remaining five are being fully equipped for an amusement center, including stage for theatre performances, ferris wheel, merry-go-round, etc.

I. O. O. F. NOTES

A delightful time was had by all who attended the session of Cinnaminson Lodge, No. 301, I. O. O. F., Palmyra.

Members of the lodge wish to thank the ladies of Rebekah Lodge for the interesting entertainment afforded them on that occasion.

SALARY CUTS FOR COUNTY EMPLOYEES

County Solicitor Instructed to Draw Resolution Along Lines Set by State

Under a resolution introduced by William H. Helmer, chairman of the finance department, and unanimously passed by the Burlington County Board of Freeholders last Friday, County Solicitor Harold B. Wells was instructed to prepare a resolution reducing the salaries of county employees and requesting those whose salaries are exempt from regulation by the board, to voluntarily accept a cut.

Mr. Helmer explained that he was opposed to salary reductions at the time the budget was made up because the state had taken no such action.

A resolution reducing salaries along the lines of the precedent now set by the state he thought would result in a degree of uniformity which would not create the injustice that would have prevailed had the county acted alone.

Charles R. Stout, director of the road department, said he had been in accord with Mr. Helmer's views on salary reductions but that now the state had taken the lead he believed the county could and should follow suit, and hoped that voluntary reductions would conform with those established by the county, to the end that the taxpayers might be relieved of the burden which they are finding it increasingly difficult to meet.

Chester Cannot Pay

Solicitor Wells reported that, in conformity with instructions given at the last meeting, he had been in touch with Chester Township, relative to unpaid taxes from that municipality for the year 1931. He presented letters from the collector of Chester Township stating that Chester was without funds and was unable to pay the taxes. The collector said that he had made every effort to get in the money due to the township without much success, but that he would be unremitting in his efforts to produce results just as soon as possible. On recommendation of Mr. Helmer, the local Methodist Church, the American Legion and the request of the Public Service Electric and Gas Company for an extension of its service in Maple Shade was referred to the director of roads and county engineer with power to act.

To Remove Trolley Tracks

Freeholder Stout presented a resolution instructing the Public Service to remove its rails in Edgewater Park Township so that the county can improve the road in that municipality. The resolution passed.

Mr. Stout's resolution giving to the State Highway Department a small strip in Delran Township acquired from Anna M. Ludlow, was also passed. This strip of land was acquired by the county for drainage purposes along the roadway, but since the road has been taken over by the state (now known as route 25) it properly belongs to and should be under state supervision.

Director Howard Russ appointed Freeholders Stout and Helmer to represent the board at a conference of the Board of Guardians and Commissioners of Institutions and Agencies, William J. Ellis, on June 28. Under the new Child Welfare act, effective July 4, the Board of Freeholders has additional responsibility for juvenile dependents.

New Plans for Bridge

A communication was received from the War Department that it would not approve plans for rebuilding the Hainesport bridge with a fixed span unless 15 feet clearance is provided, and since this cannot be done the County Engineer, H. B. Smith, was instructed to submit new plans of construction retaining the present swing span.

A letter was read from William B. Duray, secretary of the New Jersey Department of Agriculture, stating that the department plans to completely eradicate Bovine Tuberculosis in Burlington county. In this county 61.6% of the cattle are now under state inspection and supervision.

Department bills were ordered paid as follows: Finance, $31,611.47; Roads, $31,540.11; Bridges, $3,185.50; Buildings, $6,756.45; Affairs, $19,407.39; total, $93,501.92.

OCEAN-GOING BOAT TO PASS RIVERTON

"Bristol City", Carrying English Clay to Trenton May Pass Here Fourth of July

The first ocean-going vessel to dock at Trenton will pass up the Delaware river some time next week, probably on Monday, the Fourth of July. This boat, the "Bristol City", is now en route from Povey, England, with a cargo of china clay. It is scheduled to reach Philadelphia June 30, where it will discharge a part of its cargo, and then proceed over the improved upper Delaware river channel to Trenton to unload the balance of the shipment, approximately 2300 tons of English clay.

While it is not definitely known just when the "Bristol City" will pass Riverton and Palmyra on its way to Trenton, it will probably be sometime on Monday.

MEN'S LEAGUE TO OPEN ON JULY 5

Playground League Stirrs Much Interest Among Business and Organization Men

The first game of the Playground Ball League will be played on Tuesday evening on the small diamond at the Memorial Park. The Ramblers, managed by S. Hyton, will meet a nine from Dreer's managed by John L. Strohm. As yet the representatives of the company have not selected a name. Two teams from Dreer's will be in the League.

At a preliminary meeting held at the Park Monday evening, a group of thirty-five men were present to manifest their interest in the sport. The following have signified their intention of having teams: American Legion, Fire Company, Wesleyan Men's Bible Class, Grocery Stores of Riverton, Riverton Post Office and Cinnaminson Bank and Trust, Panthers, Dreer's (two teams), Ramblers, and others are registering teams.

The regular meeting of the Fire Company and the American Legion will be held on Tuesday, July 5, and their final arrangements will be made that evening.

Friday, July 8, the Post Office Bank team will meet the men from the Wesleyan Bible Class of the local Methodist Church. These games are a part of the scheduled league that will play through the summer on Tuesday and Friday evenings.

Frank Cole will call the opening game as the "ump" on Tuesday night at 7:15. Diamond practice will be held from 7:00 until 7:15. These games will all be free and the general public is invited. If the one diamond proves inadequate to care for the interest, another will be laid out for the men.

Any twelve men that choose to register and appoint a manager may join the league before the opening on Tuesday evening. All registrations must be in before that time. In addition to the players, each manager is asked to suggest the names of two men who would be willing to umpire the scheduled games.

Questions relative to the league or games, teams or what not, should be conveyed to Wilton E. Mount, 320 Lecony avenue, Palmyra, phone Riverton 1154-W. Starting Tuesday Mr. Mount may be reached at the park from 9 a. m. on throughout the day.

"FRESH AIRS" COME FRIDAY

Friday morning, July 1, thirty children from the tenements will arrive in Riverton to be entertained for two weeks. They are the Fresh Airs sent out by the Herald-Tribune from the heat, congestion and destitution of the city streets.

For many they have been planning and living for this day, and the other fifty weeks of the year will be full of the memory of the only happy, healthful days they have known. The Committee is most appreciative of the cooperation and interest which has been evidenced in this most valuable and wonderful work.

4TH PROGRAM

Our readers will find a complete program of events and the time for each, they are scheduled on a special 4th-of-July advertising page, located on page 6 of this issue.

The advertisers have a special 4th-of-July message for you on that page.

JOS. M. ROBERTS EXPIRES AT 76

Old Riverton Resident Dies at Cooper Hospital After Brief Illness

Joseph M. Roberts, 76, and one of Riverton's oldest residents, died in Cooper Hospital Tuesday morning from heart trouble after an illness of thirteen days.

Funeral services will be held from his late residence, at 407 Lippincott avenue, 3 o'clock sixth day afternoon (Friday). Friends may call Fifth day (Thursday) evening from 7 to 9. Interment will be private and burial made in Westfield Cemetery. F. A. Shover, funeral director. Members of Camp No. 23, P.O.S.O.A., and Covenant Lodge, F. and A. M. are invited to the viewing.

Mr. Roberts was one of the two living charter members of Covenant Lodge, F. & A. M., Palmyra. He was also a past Eminent Commander of the Burlington Chapter of Knights Templar.

December 25, 1928, Mr. and Mrs. Roberts celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary. They have been residents of Riverton for fifty years. Mrs. Roberts was Miss Anna Shaw, daughter of Alexander and Anna Heaton, of Philadelphia, and came of Colonial stock. Her grandmother and the mother of James Fenimore Cooper were sisters. Mr. Roberts is descended from John and Mary Roberts, who came from Wales in the Ship Kent in 1677, and his grandmother was Lydia Lippincott, of Moorestown. Mr. Roberts was born in Crosswicks.

After their marriage the young couple lived in Philadelphia until 1892 when they moved to Riverton and Mr. Roberts bought the general store owned by Howard and William Thomas. He conducted the store until March, 1927, when he sold out to the Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company. Since that time until his death he had a small store on Main street in the same building.

Besides his wife he leaves four children, Anna S. Roberts, of Collingswood; Gertrude R. Boyd, of Haddonfield; Dr. Eugene W. Roberts, of Collingswood; and Joseph M. Roberts, Jr., of Riverton.

Notice to Housewives

The new garbage collector will start to work on Friday, July 1. At first it will be a little difficult for him to locate garbage pails that are not in open sight, and unless housewives assist him in the beginning their garbage may be overlooked and not collected.

In some places the pails are kept in the kitchen or shed, some at the back step, and still others in the back yard. If housewives will keep a look out for the collector the first two or three times and make sure that he finds the garbage, it will help him and insure against non-collection.

Attention is called to the ordinance of the Board of Health covering garbage collection, which provides that the garbage to be collected shall be kept in suitable metallic watertight, closely covered receptacles, and that the garbage shall contain only animal and vegetable matter. The deposit of other matter or materials in the garbage is punishable by a fine of ten dollars.

In the past the garbage collector has complained that glass, broken dishes, bits of tin and other foreign substances dangerous to the dogs to which the garbage is fed.

THE PEOPLES COLUMN

Closing Bank Avenue

Editor The New Era:

In last week's issue of The New Era was published the ordinance on first reading, relative to closing Bank avenue between Howard and Main streets. If this is passed at the next meeting of Borough Council, I understand that it is to take effect immediately.

If a large number of Riverton residents attend the meeting of Council on July 14th to protest against closing, will it be effective to prevent it.

Please state in the paper what is the best method to pursue.

HI-JACKED BEER TRUCK CAPTURED BY CAPT. RODGERS

Palmyra Policeman Nabs Cargo of Froth on State Highway

THOUGHT STOLEN ON BURLINGTON PIKE

Mysterious Telephone Call to Pensauken Police Trips Rum Runners

A truck laden with beer, which was disguised as an A & P grocery truck, was captured by Police Captain Joseph Rodgers, of Palmyra, on Highway 8-41 Monday morning.

"The truck was thought to have been 'hi-jacked' on the Burlington pike earlier in the day. A mysterious telephone call was received by the Pensauken police, informing them a truck had been stolen and was heading for the Palmyra bridge.

The Pensauken police notified Palmyra police headquarters and Captain Rodgers rushed to the highway. He soon spotted the truck answering the description of the one he was looking for.

When the truck failed to stop at his first signal, Rodgers fired a shot in the air and the drivers decided they had better "beave to it." The shot gave rise to reports that a gun battle was in progress.

Two men, who gave their names as Emil Buzy and James J. Norman, both of Leighton street, Philadelphia, were arrested and held without bail for county court by Recorder E. A. Shover, funeral director. Members of Camp No. 23, P.O.S.O.A., and Covenant Lodge, F. and A. M. are invited to the viewing.

Every Monday night will be, according to the directors, known as "feature night," when something special will be on the program.

No children will be registered under three years of age, and the directors urge parents to bring their children on the first day so that they may get acquainted and understand better the purpose and program at the park. Special attention will be given by the directors to small children.

MOORESTOWN HOME HIT BY LIGHTNING

Lightning damaged the home of Alfred J. Plaskett, of 305 East Third street, Moorestown, to the extent of $300 Sunday evening about 6:15 o'clock.

The bolt struck the house in the peak and tore a large hole in the roof. Windows on the second and third floors were broken and the frames twisted, plaster was knocked from the walls in two rooms and the radio was burnt beyond repair.

Mr. Plaskett and his family were in the back of the house at the time of the accident and were not aware of the extent of the damage until told by their neighbors.

The damage was covered by insurance.

OCEANICKON NOW OPEN FOR PICNICS

Senior Location Released to Groups. While Camp's in Session

Having established at the beginning of the 1932 season the senior camp location on the opposite side of the lake, Camp Oceanickon releases for outings and outdoor picnics the very attractive area used for the senior camp since 1928.

At a meeting of the trustees on the camp site last Thursday evening, it was decided to make this old senior camping site available for groups who might like to use it while the boys' camp is in session. This extends to Wednesday, August 10.

This area is reached by turning in to the right through the archway on the road into camp from the Indian Mills road. Among the facilities in this area which make it attractive for outings and outdoor picnics are first of all, on this section of the property is to be had one of the finest views of the lake, with arms of the lake extending off in the distance in three directions. There is a gradually sloping sandy bottom bathing beach; a wharf extends out into the lake which is fine for diving and for a starting place for boating. Outdoor tables and benches have been placed here.

Tents are already erected which provide very accessible accommodations for those desiring to go swimming. There is ample space for volleyball, quoits and archery. For large outings or picnic groups the camp athletic field is accessible. It is not a long walk either to the camp store.

In the general parking area if there are not too many cars there, playground baseball is possible. Then too, for emergency in case of a sudden shower, the camp dining hall will afford hospitable shelter. There is also, of course, available any first aid treatment requirements through the camp doctor's office.

During a portion of the day some boats and canoes are available, at a time when they are not in use in the regular camp program.

Many outings and Sunday School picnics which in the past have come to camp before the actual opening date have used the dining hall equipment. This, of course, will not be possible while camp is in session, but outdoor picnic groups will certainly

100 PER CENT "HACKNEY" STAFF

VEHICLE DEPT. IS TO CHECK 'RACKET'

Will Curb Activities of Negotiators in Stolen Automobiles

Steps to check the latest "racket" of negotiators in stolen cars—the sale of these vehicles while ingenious, is doomed to failure, due to the alertness of motor vehicle agents and inspectors in detecting and prosecuting offenders of the Motor Vehicle Act and the Bill of Sale Law.

The most recent scheme used by the thieves, receivers and sellers of stolen cars, according to Commissioner Hoffman, is as follows: "The thieves take cars to garages and, working in collusion with the garage keeper, allow the stolen automobiles to remain in the garage for a considerable length of time. Then the garage owner applies to the Motor Vehicle Department to sell the car under the Garage Lien Act for accrued storage charges, and sometimes fictitious repair bills are also submitted as liens against the car. This practice has been attempted by many unscrupulous garage owners not knowing the investigation that is made before the approval of such notices or seizure, and that the investigation resulted in the recovery of numerous stolen cars.

Title Could Be Valid

It is well to know that in the event consent to sell was inadvertently received from the Motor Vehicle Department, and the car registered in New Jersey, the title to the car would not be valid in the name of the purchaser, and the garage keeper who may feel that he has successfully defeated the Bill of Sale Law, would nevertheless be in a position where he would be responsible in the event of the subsequent seizure of the car as a stolen vehicle, as the Department of Motor Vehicles can and will seize all such cars that may be subsequently located, even though sold under the Garage Lien Act, and a constable's bill of sale issued.

The bill of sale system has shown evidence in both the purchaser and the buyer feeling they are more certain of a clear title on the car than in the past, and the chain of title established is a quick and accurate reference to the past history of any vehicle registered in the State.

In the event that consent to sell is received from the Motor Vehicle Department when assumed that the charges are just, the car is sold by a constable who issues a bill of sale to the purchaser who is in many cases, the garage owner himself, and the car is registered in New Jersey.

To Seek All Stolen Cars

In the past both the automobile thief and the garage keeper have felt quite safe as they had successfully defeated the Bill of Sale Law, but now there is consternation in their ranks as the Department of Motor Vehicles can and will seize all cars which have been sold under the Garage Lien Act and a Constable's Bill of Sale has been issued.

This action of the Motor Vehicle Department is well within the law as no title is sound or valid covering property seized for debt unless the debt was contracted by the legal owner or his authorized representative.

Laughing Around the World

Overlooking No Side Bets

By IRVIN S. COBB

JIMMIE and Arthur, aged respectively six and ten, were spending a week with their grandmother, who was wealthy and generous, while their parents were away from home on a visit. The time was just preceding the holidays.

A few nights before Christmas the youngsters were getting ready for bed. Their grandmother was in an adjoining room waiting for them to retire so she might come and turn out the light.

Arthur said his prayers and crawled under the covers. Jimmie, still on his knees, proceeded to petition Heaven for an extensive line of Christmas presents. As he progressed, his voice rose louder and louder. Also he began to repeat himself. He spoke somewhat after this fashion:

"And, Oh, Lord, please send me a soldier-mutt, and a tool-chest—a big tool-chest, Lord—and a watch and a drum and a horn and a toy wagon."

Annoyed, the older brother raised up and interrupted:

"Say," he demanded, "you needn't be praying so loud; the Lord ain't deaf."

"I know he ain't," said Jimmie, "but Grandma is."

In the general parking area if there are not too many cars there, playground baseball is possible. Then too, for emergency in case of a sudden shower, the camp dining hall will afford hospitable shelter. There is also, of course, available any first aid treatment requirements through the camp doctor's office.

During a portion of the day some boats and canoes are available, at a time when they are not in use in the regular camp program.

Many outings and Sunday School picnics which in the past have come to camp before the actual opening date have used the dining hall equipment. This, of course, will not be possible while camp is in session, but outdoor picnic groups will certainly

INDEPENDENCE DAY IS FEATURED BY BICENTENNIAL CELEBRATIONS

If George Washington were to ride this country today it is safe to say that, no matter in what city, town or village he might stop and hitch his horse, he would find Ma putting on her bonnet, Pa dusting off the car seat and Johnny tying up the dog, to join the rest of the citizens in a community celebration of the Two Hundredth Anniversary of his birth.

America's day of all days this year belongs to George Washington. Clear across America, the mountains, the plains and the shores are literally ringing today with praises of the great American whose bicentennial is being celebrated this year with a vigor and patriotism unsurpassed in the history of our country.

More than 40,000 towns and cities have sent in reports to the headquarters of the United States George Washington Bicentennial Commission of local bicentennial committees which have made definite plans for this day. And plans are going forward with increasing enthusiasm for the remainder of the bicentennial celebration—until Thanksgiving Day, the day on which the celebration officially closes.

On the anniversary of the proclamation of American Independence, the Bicentennial Celebration of the birth of the man who more than any other made that independence a fact reaches a high point. There is scarcely a civilized country today where there is not some observance of this 156th glorious Fourth of July; and, according to reports pouring into the headquarters of the United States George Washington Bicentennial Commission, these honors all take the form of a tribute to George Washington.

The celebration will extend to all Army posts, National Guard units, Naval bases, etc. throughout the country. In New York, Massachusetts, Connecticut and the other New England states and down the eastern seaboard all the way to Florida there will be Colonial cavalcades, with fliers and drummers, marching in Continental uniforms through the historic streets of their cities and towns.

Many cities have chosen this day as particularly appropriate for unveiling monuments to the Father of Our Country. Richmond, Virginia; Salt Lake City, Utah; Seattle, Washington; Portland, Oregon; Boston, Massachusetts; and Cleveland, Ohio, are all holding such ceremonies.

Probably the most outstanding local celebration in the whole country is the dedication of the restored Fort Mifflin at Uniontown, Pennsylvania. However, New York City, Kansas City, Missouri, and Washington, D. C. have also planned unusually impressive celebrations for today, beginning the day with the firing of salutes, ringing of bells, and ending it with a display of fireworks.

MIAMI RESTAURANT HAS HACKNEY STAFF

Leo B. Carroll Takes Over Restaurant Known Last Year As "Hackney's"

The Miami Restaurant, operated last season in Ocean City as Hackney's Restaurant, is again open this season under the management of Leo B. Carroll.

The Miami Restaurant, famous for its shore dinners, while operating under a different management, employs an "all Hackney" staff of waitresses and chefs, assuring its patrons of that famous Hackney preparation and service of meals.

The Miami Restaurant is situated at Plymouth Place (between Seventh and Eighth streets) and just off the Boardwalk, right behind the ferris wheel and merry-go-round.

Cleanliness is almost a religion with Hackney employees, and the public is always invited to inspect the spick and span kitchen of the Miami Restaurant with its shining cooking utensils and mammoth electric refrigerators where all foodstuffs are kept.

PHILADELPHIAN HELD FOR ASSAULT ON MEDFORD MAN

William Banko, of 531 Vine street, Philadelphia, was arrested at Medford last Thursday after he had attacked William Garwood, of that place. Banko was held for court and committed to the county jail at Mount Holly by Justice of the Peace James A. Dickinson, of Marlton. Garwood suffered broken ribs and concussion of the brain as the result of the attack.

GOOD ADVICE FOR A SAFE FOURTH OF JULY

This year most of the nation will celebrate the Fourth of July with a three-day holiday. Such a long period for recreation is awaited eagerly by us all. Yet its unusual length doubles the hazards and danger to which we will be exposed.

Independence Day is known as the worst accident day of the year. This year may break the tragic record unless everyone guards himself closely and observes all safety rules. A list of "don'ts", all excellent advice follows:

If you drive your car—Drive Safely:

1. Don't drive recklessly—it's a long holiday and there's plenty of time.
2. Don't take out your car unless it is in first-class condition.
3. Don't drive on the wrong side of the road—keep to the right.
4. Don't drive too long without resting—mental lapses due to fatigue causes accidents.
5. Don't pass other cars unless you have a clear view ahead; don't cut in and out of traffic lines; don't pass or fail to slow down at intersections.

If you go swimming—Swim Safely:

1. Don't attempt marathon races by swimming too long or too far.
2. Don't venture out into deep water if you're not a strong swimmer.
3. Don't swim away from the crowd—"In unity there is strength".
4. Don't indulge in ducking others or in frightening weak swimmers or children.
5. Don't lie too long in the sun—sun poisoning is injurious and can be fatal.

If you celebrate with fireworks—Celebrate Safely:

1. Don't hold lighted firecrackers in your hand or throw them close to others.
2. Don't explode firecrackers near combustible materials.
3. Don't celebrate with guns loaded with real cartridges or shot; firecrackers and toy pistols are dangerous enough.
4. Don't fail to treat injuries, even the most minor ones, immediately and intelligently. Tetanus poisoning works slowly but surely.
5. Don't get too close to a display of fireworks—premature explosions occur.

CLEANED AND THROUGH

The depression, like the rains of spring, fall upon the just and the unjust, the rich and the poor alike. It appears to play no favorites. For a man who is reputed a year or so ago to have a personal fortune of $100,000,000 found himself pressed to confess this week that he is broke and a man without a job, this is almost unbelievable and belongs to fiction and not real life. Yet this is what the journey's end has brought Sam Insull, regarded the world's most successful utility magnate.

"I am no longer a public figure," he remarked when resigning from three of the great corporations he has brought into being and all of which are now in receivership. "I am leaving you now after fifty years, a man without a job." Reports have it that he will retire to his farm near Oxford, England. He is an Englishman and during the war, his American citizenship was questioned many times.

But he does not go into retirement unprovided. The three utilities he headed so long some time ago provided an $18,000 a year pension for him the balance of his lifetime.

Thru the Eye of a Needle

By JAM URRAY

Inasmuch as so many of our readers would like to know more about us we feel that it is both a privilege and a pleasure to enlighten him.

We were born—well, less than thirty years ago—of poor but honest parents, who couldn't decide whether they wanted us to become a minister or a six-day bicycle rider, so we compromised by becoming a columnist.

We got off to a very bad start in school by rushing another pupil instead of the teacher, so you see where that put us. Well, we always hated arithmetic, anyway. We finished school with honor, having turned our cuff back just in time.

After studying music and women we spent four valuable summers learning to be a second look, then somebody tried to start another war, so we decided that we didn't want to be a soldier. See how it is? Uncle Sam's loss is your gain; we are writing column right instead of doing column right.

We are very generous; in fact we always feel an almost irresistible urge to spell "very" with two r's. Used to run a hundred in ten flat and have been flat ever since. Have no use for editors, school teachers nor radio crooners.

Don't like patent-leather hair or people with affected manners and mannerisms. Like everything rough and crude, except women and roads. Hobby is taking Cain and running up hills. Have evaded, through sheer generalship, that spider web of romance—marriage. Have never been lucky at cards. Play a lousy game of tennis and a worse one of golf. Believe that trans-Atlantic fliers and radio crooners are greatly over-rated. At one time worked on a metropolitan daily, or was it the Pittsburgh Chronicle? Can't take politics and poetry seriously.

Our favorite drink is pure water—flavored with alcohol and jumper. Smoke a pipe because it's cheaper and do everything else we do because we want to, even to using prepositions with which to end sentences with. Are not very popular with the amusee because we are too honest. My, do we make a lot of people mad. And oh yes, in case we forgot, we don't like editors.

While the Republican platform may not assure an easy victory there is no doubt that it has won half the battle.

They say that Rupert Hughes has five desks in his study. That wouldn't do us any good; there would be just five more places where we couldn't find room to work.

"Wickersham leads war on depression,"—Phila. Inquirer. Here's hoping we can fight this war for less than six bucks per word.

Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler is going around saying, "No man can know everything." And we are inclined to agree with him, as long as he doesn't include female school teachers.

"The present situation in public affairs," says Ed Howe, "may be likened to a great fire burning in a populous city, and no one carrying water to put it out. Everybody agrees as to the seriousness of the calamity, and that only water will stop it, but no one is carrying water." Stop it, Ed; with all these politicians and stockholders running around? You're all wet yourself.

A traveling man tells us that conditions are getting better in Boston. Perhaps the Boston Tea Party wasn't in vain, after all.

And that reminds us that we are getting taxation with misrepresentation.

Those pickpockets have been playing their trade at the commencements, they certainly know where to find the hicks.

We don't think they are really bad at heart; it's probably the "depression."

And now we know what they meant when they told us that everything would "go up."

"It is said that an average of 5000 persons passes daily by the mausoleum where Lenin still lies in state, and on holidays the number sometimes reaches 100,000. Well, those Russians always did take their pleasures seriously, but fancy spending a day off in a line of a hundred thousand to get a peek at a dead man! Ain't we got fun!" choruses Morgan Cook. You don't have to

RESUBMISSION

At least the Republican National Convention at Chicago was wise enough to realize that the outright repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment would leave the subject — and the country — in a chaotic condition. They defeated the Bingham repeal plank, 681 to 472, and resolved that "the progress thus far made must be preserved, while the evils must be eliminated" — theoretically by returning to the states the right to do as they chose, subject to federal regulation of the interstate liquor traffic to protect dry states and prevent the return of the saloon. This was done in spite of a stupendous effort to stampede the Convention into "Repeal" and already Dr. Butler has begun a wet movement to repudiate the straddle.

Yes, in a way, it is a straddle — it is an attempt, perhaps justifiable, to win the votes of both wets and drys in the presidential election by promising a definite vote on a definite alternative to prohibition in a definite constitutional way. And certainly the choice of a president should not depend entirely on his degree of moistness — too much else is involved!

But how must we evaluate the Republican Liquor Plank? Is it "the way out" we all are seeking? Or is it a compromise and a backward step? To answer that we have to answer several other questions. First, what can be gained by a "resubmission" of prohibition? Theoretically, it will show whether the dissatisfaction with the 18th Amendment has become so widespread that the continuance of enforcement at this time is not desired. And perhaps it would show that — you can tell. But this much is certain, the agitation aroused by resubmission would inevitably result in increased disrespect for the law, no matter which side won. Any law subjected to such continuous debate, misrepresentation, and denunciation cannot command the respect of our selfish "citizen smart-alecks" or our inexperienced youth, no matter how much good it has done and could do for the country. There is no likelihood of those who desire the return of liquor shutting up and accepting the law even

DelDuca — Haines

Miss Lillian Frances Haines, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Remington Haines, of East Main street, Moorestown, became the bride of Dr. Vincent DelDuca, of Haddonfield, at a fashionable wedding at the Church of Our Lady of Good Counsel, Moorestown, on Wednesday morning at ten o'clock. The Rev. Thomas F. Rudden, rector, officiated, assisted by the Rev. Leo DiNeen, the Rev. Edward Sutcliffe and the Rev. Frank Beatty.

Mrs. Philip McGheaney, of Moorestown, played the wedding march and accompanied H. Prescott Herr, Miss Mae McKenna, Miss Mary Long and Maurice J. Long, who sang. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a beautiful white lace gown made on princess lines, with a train. Her tulle veil was caught in a cap with orange blossoms and her shower bouquet was of white roses and lilies of the valley. Mrs. John L. Wilmont, of Moorestown, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Her gown was of Nile green tulle, topped with a little matching jacket. She wore light brown picture hat and shoes and carried yellow roses.

The bridesmaids, Mrs. Joseph DelDuca, of Haddonfield; Mrs. James E. Kelley, of Moorestown; Mrs. Elizabeth Dowsett, of Brooklyn, and Miss Rose DelDuca, of Haddonfield, wore peach net frocks, made similar to the matron of honor. Their picture hats were of a deep brown color and their shoes matched. Peach roses were used to form their bouquets.

Miss Jean Wilmont, niece of the bride, as flower girl wore a little white organdie frock trimmed with Irish lace. She carried an old-fashioned bouquet.

Joseph DelDuca, of Haddonfield, attended his brother as best man, while John L. Wilmont, of Moorestown; Charles P. Murray, of Brooklyn; Assemblyman Frank Travalline, Jr., of Camden, and Pasquale Trassatti, of Philadelphia, were ushers.

Fraendly — Chew

A fashionable wedding of much interest in this vicinity was solemnized on Saturday afternoon at four o'clock at First Presbyterian Church, Merchantville, when Miss Jeanette Weer Chew, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Weer, of West Maple avenue, Merchantville, became the bride of Charles Albert Fraendly, of Brooklyn, New York.

The Rev. Gordon M. Russell, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, officiated at the ceremony. Mrs. Mark Hammond, of Merchantville, the organist, played the wedding march, and Mrs. S. Herbert Taylor, Jr., also of Merchantville, gave several vocal solos.

The bride's attendants were Mrs. Grant Norman Bishop, of Radburn, as matron of honor; Miss Josephine Traendly, the bridegroom's sister, as maid of honor; Miss Gertrude Minnigh, of Franklin, Pa.; Miss Kathryn Louise Holman, Miss Elizabeth Heyl, of Merchantville, and Miss Charlotte Traendly, another sister of the bridegroom, as bridesmaids, and Miss Cynthia Milton, of Noroton, Conn., the bridegroom's cousin, as flower girl.

The gowns of the bride and her attendants were distinctive models reminiscent of the Empire period. White satin fashioned the bride's gown. Her veil was trimmed with rosepoint and duchess lace, and pearls from her mother's wedding dress. She carried orchids and a shower of lilies of the valley.

Both the matron and her maid of honor wore gowns of peach net while the bridesmaids were in green. Turbans to match their frocks completed their costumes, and their bouquets were of roses and delphinium, the former two carrying Tallman roses and the bridesmaids yellow roses. The flower girl's frock of green point d'esprit was made with a long-length skirt and a high waistline, and carried a heart-shaped bouquet of mixed flowers.

Following a reception at Merchantville Country Club, Mr. and Mrs. Traendly left on a wedding trip. They will make their home in Brooklyn, and will receive after September 1 at 832 Ocean avenue.

The bride is well known in this vicinity. She is a graduate of Moorestown High School, class of 1928.

RIVERTON TRIMS FLORENCE, 3 TO 0

Rivertonians Shutout R. D. Wood in Exciting Game on Saturday

The Riverton Ball Club added another star to its crown last Saturday when it defeated the strong Florence team to the tune of 3-0.

The game opened up with Benny Edge, of Riverton, coming in for one run assisted by Reeves, Easley and Bartley. Reeves got to first by being hit by the pitcher, Easley followed and got to first on a felder's choice and Bartley drove the run in with a nice single.

In the third inning Bartley copped another run for the Riverton boys when he hit a single. Sloan got to first on an error. Bartley slid home on the error making the tally for Riverton 2-0 in the third inning.

The game continued through to the ninth inning without either side scoring and with both sides being retired in fairly rapid fashion. Fouke in the ninth for Riverton tallied a run with a two-base hit. Weikman brought him in with a two-base hit, closing out the game with a final score of 3-0.

BEVERLY WINS AS GAME IS CALLED

Moorestown Baseball Team Shows Strong Signs of Forging Ahead

The Moorestown-Beverly baseball game, at Beverly on Sunday, was called in the fifth inning with the score 6 to 4 in favor of the home team.

Moorestown team was at bat with two men on bases, one out, and the best batters coming up when the umpire called the game. All four of the locals' runs were scored in this inning and chances looked good for them to overcome the lead of the Beverly team.

This week Moorestown hosts Audubon A's on Saturday on the South Church street diamond. Two games are slated for the Fourth of July at 10 o'clock and 3 o'clock with Chelsea A. A. of Camden. Both games will also be played at home.

ZBYSZKO-LUTZ ON CAMDEN MAT

Charlie Strack in Semi-Final of Grip's Tuesday Night Show

What proved to be one of the most sensational bouts ever witnessed in this section took place early in May between Nick Lutze, the ever popular Californian, and the then stranger to these parts, Karyl Zbyszko. They met in the supporting semi-final to the second Sonnenberg-Eustace scrap, and for 45 minutes put up one of those rarely seen, but well appreciated, clean wrestling matches so chock full of action and dynamite that the house gave them a mighty ovation when the final gong sounded. Considerable demand was forthwith heard that they be rematched over the long route, but it was not possible for promoter Grip to arrange such a bout prior to his recent sailing for Latvia.

In his absence, however, Joe Kelly, of Newark, who has been acting as matchmaker for the club, was more successful, and he now announces that the two stars have signed for a struggle next Tuesday night, in the Penta-Arena, best two out of three falls to win, 90 minutes time limit.

Incidentally, on account of the Fourth falling on Monday, the show will be held the following (Tuesday) night instead. This will be effective for just one week, and will not be a permanent feature.

The balance of the card has not been completed. However, it is definite, according to Kelly, that Charlie Strack will appear in the semi final; Camden's popular Italian, Joe Montagna in the second, and Stanley Pinto and Nick Skotko in the first number.

One newcomer and one one-time man appear in the first bout, Pinto having battled a hectic draw with Billy Barthush back in February, and Skotko being the deb heretofore. Nick Skotko is as Greek as his name would indicate, and as much a wrestler as being Greek would presume, so things should be good from the first gong Tuesday night.

POWELL, ALLEN HIGH S. J. TEAM

Card 75 as 69's Win Best Ball Tourney at Rolling Green

Joey Powell, golf champion of Moorestown Field Club, and Joe Allen composed the team from South Jersey nearest to the winners of the best ball partners' tournament held at the Rolling Green Country Club on Wednesday of last week. They carded 39-36-75 to enter a six-way tie for seventh place as two teams turned in brilliant 69's as best scores in the match.

Sixteen South Jersey golfers were entered. Their scores were: Clement B. Webster and Dr. S. Emlen Stokes of Moorestown, 41-38-80; George H. Webster and H. T. Greenwood of Moorestown, 43-38-80; Raymond Eastwood and Dick Lippincott, of Riverton, 43-37-80; E. E. Hummel and C. A. Munger of Merchantville, 43-44-87, and Dr. A. G. Gillis and Ben Beselink of Merchantville, 47-41-88.

Smashing par by two strokes, Walter W. Rose and Paul Jennings, of Llanerch, and William McIntire and Ben Thomas, of Rolling Green, tied for trophy at stake while Harold and Bradford Cross, of Huntingdon Valley, gained second honors with an equal-par score of 70.

C. Bayard Mitchell and W. C. Wilkins, of Woodbury, and Joe and Bob Rogers, of Spring Hill, were two of 10 teams tied with 77's.

PAL TENNIS TEAM BEATS BURLINGTON

The Palmyra Tennis Team from the Palmyra Public Tennis Courts made a clean sweep of the Burlington racquet swingers Sunday at the Burlington Courts.

The Palmyrians defeated their opponents in every match and came away with flying colors.

In the doubles Jack Easley and Charles Snyder defeated Leon Reedy and Harold Lingard 6-4 and 6-1. David Middleton and Ted Hudson defeated Mayor Harold V. Holmes and Edgar Penimov 7-5 and 6-3. Jack Hannum and Edward Beitz won over Fred Crawford and Pete Ross, 6-4 and 6-2.

In the singles Easley defeated Penimov 3-6 and 6-0. Snyder was the victor in a match with Reedy, 6-1 and 6-1. Middleton was leading Lingard, 6-1 and 6-4, when the rain spoiled the playing. Hudson defeated Holmes 7-5

SHINES IN OPEN

GEORGE B. SMITH

Crack Moorestown Field Club "pro," who again last week proved he is the greatest golfer in this section when he finished with Tommy Armour, former British champion, for eleventh place in the U. S. open golf championship, played over the stiff Fresh Meadow Country Club course at Flushing, N. Y. Only a bad round on Thursday, opening day, when he had an 81 as the result of being troubled while putting against a severe wind, kept George from being in "the money," which means finishing in the first ten positions. Smith's total score for the 72-hole grind was 303. He spun a 76, 72 and 74 in addition to the 81 over one of the stiffest courses in the country. In 1929, when he finished in a four-corner tie for tenth in the open at Wingfoot, George's score was 308. This season Smith is playing the greatest game of his career and his friends predict he will easily win the Philadelphia open crown.

SONNENBERG AND STEIN AT ARENA

Dick Shikat and Fritz Kley Also Wrestle on Friday Night

Two former wrestling champions of the world will be found in the double ring at the Philadelphia Arena on Friday night, and another who just missed connections. Joe Sonnenberg, who snatched the title from the head of Stranger Lewis, only to surrender again to that worthy, tackles Sammy Stein, to complete another match between star gridders, masters of the flying tackle.

Dick Shikat, who wrestled Jim London to make the throne, and capitulated to the Greek to lose his diadem, is one of the principals in the pan-German affair. The other "Helene" in the picture is Fritz Kley, the human snake who was born a contortionist under a circus tent in Berlin, and was imported to the mat as a circus freak.

Tiger Dault, with his prayer rug, his rice and all the religious paraphernalia of the devout Hindu, finally has been passed by the immigration authorities and makes his first appearance in the United States at the Arena. His opponent will be Herb Freeman.

Roland Kirchmeyer, who twice almost wrecked the triumphal march of Stranger Lewis, comes back against Matros Kirilenko, of Russia, and Sandor Szabo, of Hungary, is pitted against Steve Zooko.

and 6-2. Hannum was leading Ross 6-2, as the rain brought the playing to a close.

RACES AND GAMES AT MOORESTOWN

Fine Program at Pool and Park For the "4th"

The Fourth of July will be celebrated at Moorestown Township Water Works Pool and Park by a series of races and stunts.

Charles L. Juliana, who has charge of the pool, has arranged for a very interesting program of water sports and games for all members of the family.

The picnic grounds will also be prepared for the many folks who will no doubt make the "Fourth" an outing day.

For the boys and girls who will take part in the races the following events have been scheduled.

For boys and girls over 17 years of age there will be a 50-yard free style race, under water swim and watermelon race. The watermelon race will be the feature of the day's fun.

The boys and girls over 14 will have a 40-yard free style race, and under water swim. And for the younger folk there will be balloon race and 30-yard free style race.

The Water Works Park is now in fine condition for swimming and picnicking. The pool has been drained and filled with clear water, the bath house has been repaired and kept clean and the water itself is treated with a powdered chlorine for sanitation.

No fireworks will be allowed in the park.

RAMBLERS TIE WITH ARTISANS

K. of C. and Rogers News Teams Place Third in Twilight League

The Artisans jumped into Parry with both feet in Thursday evening's Palmyra Twilight League game and raked them fore and aft with twenty base hits and a 10 to 4 score.

Parry used all the available pitching material, but the hits poured through just the same. Longstreet, the Artisan pitcher won his game while working under wraps.

One of the oddities of baseball happened in the fifth inning, when Terrell and H. Schuck, the leadoff men, hit home runs for their teams.

Josh Bartley had four hits out of five times at bat to be the outstanding hitter of the evening.

Friday evening, Reynolds, the K. of C. pitcher, rolled up his sleeves and handed the Ramblers their second defeat of the season with a 5 to 2 score.

It was a splendid performance, all the way through, and when the Ramblers pitched made signs of starting somewhere, Reynolds absolutely clamped the lid on such activities.

The K. of C. supporting cast played heads up ball and this nice playing coupled with the superb brand of pitching made the Ramblers a beaten team from the start.

The only bright spot in the Ramblers attack was a home run by Harper. Earl Harder, the Rambler pitcher, was credited with the loss.

Ramblers 000 100 1-2 8 4

Monday evening Rogers News defeated the K. of C. 2 to 1 and, as before, it brought Orcutt and Reynolds, the southpaw duellists, on the stage and history repeated itself, when Orcutt emerged the winner by a scant run.

The game was very close until the last inning, when two singles and Kram's double proclaimed Rogers News the winner.

Reynolds pitched a nice game for the K. of C. and contributed three hits to the cause, but it was all in vain. Jimmie Reeves harvested three hits and one of these figured in the winning rally.

Rogers News 100 000 1-2 10 1
K. of C. 010 000 0-1 6 0

The Artisans moved into a tie for first place Tuesday evening, when they nosed out Parry 1 to 0 in the pre-dict league game to date.

There was no score until the eighth inning when three singles and a fly-out scored the lone run of the game. The contest was chock full of fielding thrills and time after time runs were cut off by superhuman efforts. Cole was again in the limelight with a circus catch and E. Schrader matched the play for Parry.

Carruthers and Longstreet were the pitcher and it was all even until the Artisans massed their attack in the eighth to send Carruthers down.

Ferris — Luce

The wedding of Miss Betty A. Luce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Luce, of Newbold avenue, Moorestown, and George I. Ferris, son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Ferris, of Elmira, N. Y., which took place at four o'clock Saturday afternoon, at the First Baptist Church, Moorestown, was a very beautiful affair.

The Rev. Charles Scott, of China, a missionary, who has been home this past year on furlough, performed the ceremony.

Mrs. Marion L. LeCony, sister of the bride, was matron of honor, and the bridesmaids included Miss Marguerite H. Luce, of Moorestown, and Miss Helen E. Thomas, of Altoona, Pa. The flower girl was Barbara Groskreutz, of Bordentown, and the ringbearer was James Roch, of Columbus, both cousins of the bride.

Mr. Luce gave his daughter in marriage. Her beautiful gown was fashioned of white crepe and made on princess lines and her cap and veil were of white tulle. She carried white roses, lilies of the valley and gardenias.

The matron of honor wore a blue chiffon model made with straight lines. White turban, slippers and gloves completed her ensemble and she carried a bouquet of pink roses and blue delphinium. The bridesmaids wore similar costumes, their dresses being of pink chiffon while blue delphinium predominated in their bouquets.

Blue organdie fashioned the little frock for the flower girl. She carried a basket of spring flowers. The ring bearer wore a white tulle suit.

Charles Finney, of Vineland, was organist, and Everett LeCony was soloist.

Palms and gladioli were used to decorate the church, which was a beautiful background for the attractive wedding. The bridal party received at the church following the ceremony.

Mr. Ferris and his bride left immediately on a wedding trip. They will be at home after September 1 in Moorestown.

Mrs. Ferris is a graduate of Moorestown High School, and attended Wheaton College, Wheaton, Ill. Mr. Ferris is a graduate of Wheaton College and will continue at Eastern Baptist Seminary, Philadelphia, where he is a junior.

The wedding of Miss Catherine Mather, of Wayne, Pa., and J. Willard Lippincott, of Moorestown, was quietly solemnized in the presence of members of the immediate families at Old St. David's Church, Radnor, Pa., on Tuesday at noon. Dr. John D. Skilton, of Cheshire, Conn., an uncle of the bride, officiated at the ceremony, assisted by the Rev. Grosvel McBeer, rector of the church.

The bride, who is the daughter of John L. Mather, of Wayne, Pa., was given in marriage by her father. Mr. Lippincott is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard A. Lippincott, of East Main street, Moorestown.

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Mather, Jr., brother and sister-in-law of the bride, were the only attendants.

A reception for the wedding guests followed the wedding at the Mather home.

Both Mr. Lippincott and his bride are graduates of Swarthmore College. Mr. Lippincott previously having finished at Moorestown Friends' School.

Officer Betty Would Fix New Place for Smaller Kiddies to Bathe

Despite the extremely warm weather during the past week many kiddies in this vicinity have enjoyed cool and refreshing hours at the Public Bathing Beach at Oxford and Public roads, Palmyra.

Due to the fact that so many children have taken advantage of the opportunity to enjoy swimming at the creek, Police Officer Lawrence Betty, who is giving a great deal of his time and much work to the enterprise, deems it necessary to fix up a beach for the small kiddies in order to insure their safety.

He asks the fathers of all the children to help him with this worthwhile work, that of making the place a fit and safe one for youngsters. Officer Betty states that he has had practically no help during the past week and there is much work yet to be done.

Life guards at the creek have been on duty and been working faithfully this week. They are not being paid for their services, but Officer Betty says he plans to collect money with which to buy them suitable uniforms. Not one cent has been expended for labor thus far, according to Betty, but he thinks that public-spirited persons should be willing to give their services in behalf of the children in the community.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"God" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, July 3, 1932.
The Golden Text is: "I am the Lord thy God, which have brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage. Thou shalt have no other gods before me" (Exodus 20:2,3).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: Jesus said unto him, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. This is the first and great commandment" (Matthew 22:37,38).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Having one God, one Mind, unfolds the power that heals the sick, and fulfills these sayings of Scripture, 'I am the Lord that heal the sick,' and 'I have found a ransom'" (p. 276).

to the choice of fruits and berries and to their ripeness, jelly which "jells" every time will result.

There is present in fruits and berries, a substance called "pectin" which will cause fruit juices to jell. The amount of pectin in fruits or berries depends upon their ripeness; the riper the fruit, the smaller the amount of pectin. For that reason, fruits which are slightly underripe make the best jelly.

Some fruits contain more of this "jelling" substance than others and we also find that the same fruits may contain varying amounts from year to year. Apples are very rich in pectin, while peaches or pineapples have very
