RIVERTON, NEW JERSEY, THURSDAY, JULY 7, 1932

PRICE, FIVE CENTS

D. H. WRIGHT DIES AT SEASIDE PARK

Former Resident of Riverton Is Victim of Heart Failure Monday Afternoon

David Henry Wright, 6300 Green street, Philadelphia, and for many years a resident of Riverton, died suddenly of heart failure at Seaside Park late Monday afternoon.

Mr. Wright had been bathing, and was sitting on the beach conversing with friends when the end came. The deceased is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Hugh Ogden and Mrs. William Eaton, who live in Massachusetts.

About twenty-five years ago Mr. Wright started an agitation for the construction of a bridge over the Delaware river between Camden and Philadelphia. For several years he apparently made no headway, but, with the courage of his convictions, he stuck to it, and finally had the satisfaction of seeing his dreams come true.

He started his bridge propaganda by collecting data as to the number of foot passengers and vehicles that used the ferries each day, the value per share of ferry stock, the dividends paid, etc.

A little prior to this, Mr. Wright opened a campaign to prohibit the use of live pigeons in trap shooting. As in the case of the bridge, it was a long fight, but he finally won out, and the legislature finally passed the law he desired.

At that time the Riverton Gun Club, using live birds as a flourishing organization, counting among its membership many of the leading sportsmen of Philadelphia and vicinity. After the use of live birds was forbidden, clay pigeons were tried, but the sport was too tame and in a short time the club disbanded. The property was bought by Mr. Wright, who named it Peace and Plenty Farm. Later he sold it to Joseph Rieder, who has converted it into an up-to-date cafe.

While a resident of Riverton Mr. Wright lived on Bank avenue in the house owned by John C. Davis, and now occupied by H. H. Beabrook.

ACCIDENTS KEEP CINNAMINSON BUSY

Dorworth Kept on the Jump As Heavy Traffic Pours Through Township

Last Thursday evening the bungalow in Perry township, where a fire occurred and occupied by "Doc" Johnson and his son, was burned to the ground when a wood stove became overheated and set fire to the building.

The Perry Volunteer Fire Company and the Palmyra Fire Company responded to the call.

Saturday afternoon two cars collided at Burlington pike and Jefferson street, one of which was sent down the embankment and upset. A Willys-Knight car driven by James Donahue, of 1214 North 27th street, Camden, was the aggressor. Donahue admitting himself to be entirely at fault. The car struck and upset was a Buick coupe driven by Frank Rakosz, of 219 Penn street, Camden. Mrs. Rakosz suffered from shock and slight injuries. Officer Dorworth investigated the accident.

Sunday afternoon, Isaac Ross, of 1427 53rd street, Brooklyn, was arrested by Officer Dorworth and charged with reckless driving before Recorder Cecil A. Bowers in Riverton. Ross pleaded guilty and was fined $10.00 and costs.

Benjamin Costa, on charges preferred by three car drivers, was arrested by Officer Dorworth on Burlington pike, charged with drunken driving. He was taken before Recorder Cecil A. Bowers and three witnesses testified as to the manner in which Costa was driving. Bowers imposed a fine of $200 and $1.00 costs, in default of which Costa was committed to Mount Holly jail for thirty days.

THE PEOPLES COLUMN

Protest Closing River Bank

The Editor:

The third and final reading of an Ordinance to close Bank avenue, between Main and Howard streets, will be acted upon at the next regular meeting of Borough Council, to be held Thursday evening, July 14th, 1932.

Affirmative votes by but four members of Council can, in spirit at least, surrender privileges enjoyed by all citizens of Riverton during more than fifty years, and transfer to three title-holders of properties fronting on Bank avenue, paternal jurisdiction over the riverfront within the above described area.

In the past Council has been responsive to the preponderant sentiment of our community, and no doubt in this particular case would be glad to know how the people as a whole view this question.

It is true that a petition of protest was signed by sixty-four citizens through The New Era columns, and same was accepted and filed by Council at the regular meeting in June, to be considered—if, and when, the Ordinance again became active by re-advertising.

The signatures on that petition were voluntary acts and represent but a very small proportion of those who are vigorously opposed to closing ANY intersecting street at Bank avenue.

It is believed that the foregoing review is a conservative expression of the attitude of our citizens on this question; but it might be well for those desiring the defeat of this Ordinance to make personal appearance before Council at the aforesaid meeting to be held at the Council chamber at 8 p. m. Thursday, July 14th, 1932, and express their views, prior to the vote.

Respectfully,
CHARLES A. WRIGHT,
H. E. MOYER.

CLOSING THE RIVER BANK

Thursday night of next week, July 14 in the Council Chamber at the Fire House, the ordinance permanently closing to the public, Bank avenue between Main and Howard streets, will come up for final action.

Since the beginning of Riverton, its beautiful river bank drive and lawns have been a source of pride and recreation to its citizens. Its physical characteristics render it a most desirable spot in the town for public celebrations. Our Fourth of July celebrations have always been held at the river bank, with one exception when it was held at Memorial Park.

The beauty of the river bank is not only used and appreciated on days of celebration, but throughout the entire year. It constitutes a valuable asset to the municipality. It has been open long enough to become a public right of way.

That property along the bank has depreciated is true, in some cases, but, only by making it private can it be restored; as has been advanced as a reason for the measure does not necessarily follow. Two properties within the affected area have been improved extensively WITHOUT the sought-for-privacy, and quite recently too.

Park space is being conserved everywhere at considerable cost to municipalities. This is even more noticeable in more prosperous times, and if any faith in the future exists today—would it not be sound business to conserve what we already have against that day when its full advantages may be developed?

This problem is of serious import to the town at large, and merits careful consideration by every citizen. If you want to preserve for Riverton that which is already hers—then be present at the meeting and register your protest against the passage of the proposed ordinance.

D. LANE POWERS SPEAKS ON 4TH

Republican Nominee for Congress Delivers Stirring Patriotic Address

D. Lane Powers, of Trenton, Republican nominee for Congress from this district, delivered the Fourth of July oration at Riverton. He said:

This is the greatest day in the world's history. It is your day and our day—the Fourth of July. It created a new idea in government at a time when kings and queens and hereditary rulers were the program of the world. The new idea was that the individual was the supreme factor and the government was for the benefit of the individual.

Heretofore the idea had prevailed that the government was the supreme idea and the individual was created for the sake of the government, and that individuals were the government's creatures just as we see it emphasized in Russia today.

Our Fourth of July celebration is a triumph of the individual, and these boys and girls here today are typical of this idea. They are being trained not to be ruled but to rule, they are being developed to become sovereign American citizens to make this a government by the people, of the people and for the people.

Why America Is Great

America is great because she has encouraged individual development and made the individual the chief object of her national life. It is this distinction that differentiates us from all other nations. We are not paternal but individual. In Europe the governments, as a rule, control the people. Here the people, in theory at least, control the government.

Let me give you an illustration of what one of these boys or girls can do. Not many years ago a boy up in Maine wanted to become a publisher and an editor. He ran errands for a penny until he gathered together two dollars and a half, and with that he bought his first printing press. A short time ago the same boy grown to manhood paid $500.00 for a printing press, and now, Cyrus Curtis is the owner and publisher of the Saturday Evening Post, Country Gentleman, Ladies Home Journal, and metropolitan dailies in Philadelphia and New York.

The Land of Opportunity

Sixty or seventy years ago an Irish boy started from Ireland and came to our state. He was not afraid of work. He worked a day shift and a night shift and slept in between. Every dollar he earned, he earned honestly. He became a philanthropist, made contributions to charities and churches and needy people and finally New Jersey paid him the highest honor that it can pay to a foreign-born citizen, when it elected to the United States Senate David Baird, Sr.

There came from Russia a young girl unable to speak our language but ambitious. She went to the schools of Boston, then to Columbia University, excelled and took prizes; then Mary Anton wrote "The Promised Land," which every American should read—an evidence of what America could do for one poor girl immigrant from abroad.

Leads World in Peace

We used to boast of our military triumphs in the Revolutionary War that made us independent. We have gotten far beyond that today. We are the leading nation of the world. We lead the world in progress and in development and upon us the world depends for its future and its progress.

Since 1914, we have aided Europe through loans, government and private, purchase of her securities, and payment of obligations to the extent of about twenty-one billions of dollars, a good evidence of our friendship, if money talks.

AUTO DRIVER FREED OF RECKLESS DRIVING CHARGE
Mrs. Harry W. Sweeney, of East Lansdowne, Pa., was found not guilty by Recorder Joseph E. Roberts, last week, in Mount Holly, on a charge of reckless driving, which was pressed by William E. Smith, of Masonville, son of Constable John Smith. The case was the outcome of an automobile accident at Masonville when cars driven by the two collided. Walter I. Jackson, of 6 North Twenty-Seventh street, Camden, was arrested by Officer Robert Smires, charged with reckless driving in Mount Holly. He was fined $10 and costs by Recorder Roberts.

More than 1000 persons are expected to attend.

OLD N. J. BIBLE RECORDS WANTED

Genealogical Society at Newark To Preserve Old Family Records in Magazine

The Genealogical Society of New Jersey, 33 Lombardy street, Newark, wishes to obtain old family Bible records of old New Jersey families for the purpose of increasing its records and for printing in its Genealogical Magazine as many of such records as are considered available and as its resources will permit, thus preserving for all time these precious records.

This is especially important in New Jersey where few individual family genealogical records have been published and where few general works on the subject are available, other than that contained in the county records of wills, deeds, and marriages. New Jersey is far behind some of the other states in these matters.

Send all data to the above address after copying and comparing the same carefully.

Manuscript copies of family records are also desired. If requested, the Genealogical Society will copy same and return the original in good order. It some cases it will print them and thus preserve them for all time.

The Genealogical Society of New Jersey is doing this work at this time as its share in the bi-centennial celebration of the birth of George Washington.

OCEAN SHIP CRUISES RIVER FOR FIRST TIME

"City of Bristol" Greeted With Enthusiasm on Fourth of July Voyage

For the first time in history, an ocean-going steamer navigated the Delaware river from Camden to Trenton on the Fourth of July, when the British freighter "City of Bristol" passed up the newly completed 20-foot channel to the state capital.

The City of Bristol passed Riverton just before noon, and was viewed by a large crowd on the river banks, notwithstanding the rain. The ship saluted the throngs with its siren as it passed.

The "City of Bristol," commanded by Captain David N. Reece, of Bristol, England, made the trip from a Philadelphia dock to Trenton's new $50,000 marine terminal, a distance of 35 miles, in three and three-quarter hours.

The steamer left Camden at 10:30 and was greeted with whistles and fireworks salutes all along its voyage.

A crowd of 35,000 persons lining the river banks and led by Mayor Frederick W. Donnelly, greeted the ship as she came to her anchorage in Trenton. Gaily decorated yachts and boats of every description poined her as she neared the terminal. A salute was fired by the 112th Field Artillery and bands played rousing music in greeting to the freighter.

Returning Trenton's greeting, 50 pennants hanging from the ship's masts, spelled in code this message: "S. S. City of Bristol, of Bristol, England, greets city of Trenton, N. J. Let nothing prevent friendly intercourse between ports and may prosperity and success in all your enterprises be obtained."

TAX MORATORIUM

Burlington City Council has declared a moratorium on delinquent taxes. This action was taken Tuesday night when it was found that 1000 taxpayers, about one-third of the total number in the city, were in arrears and unable to pay.

On motion of a Councilman it was agreed to postpone indefinitely the tax sales of properties on which 1931 taxes are due, which were scheduled to be held next week.

RIVERTON FOURTH IS BIG SUCCESS

Morning Rain Causes Postponement of Athletic Events Until Afternoon

Riverton's Fourth of July celebration on Monday was a decided success notwithstanding the rain in the morning which dampened the clothing but not the spirits of the participants.

The number of children parading this year was 350.

The procession to the river was led by the Moose Band, Mayor and Council, Children, Legion Drum and Bugle Corps, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, decorated coaches, etc.

Music was furnished throughout the day by the Moose Band of Camden.

Address by D. Lane Powers

BAKER RE-ELECTED AS VICE-PRESIDENT OF NATIONAL BODY

Moorestown Supervisor Highly Honored at Convention in Atlantic City

PROVIDE ENTERTAINMENT FOR 10,000 AT CONVENTION

Arranges for Pageant in Which 23,000 Appear on Auditorium Stage

George C. Baker, supervising principal of Moorestown public schools, last Thursday was re-elected for the second time as first vice president of the National Education Association at its convention in Atlantic City.

The honor which this national group conferred upon Mr. Baker is unprecedented, members say. Seldom has any member been re-elected to this high office and it is unusual for a man to serve as first vice president for three terms. And in addition, the Association rarely fills a high office from the state in which the convention is being held due to the fact that it is felt sufficient recognition has been conferred by meeting in that state. The educators not only fell in line with Mr. Baker's suggestion that the convention be held in Atlantic City, but they re-elected him, indicating the high esteem in which he is held by leaders and members of the group.

Mr. Baker also served as chairman of the committee which provided entertainment for the 10,000 educators who attended the convention in Atlantic City from Saturday, June 25, to Friday, July 1. His committee arranged for the elaborate pageant in which 23,000 children from the Atlantic City schools appeared at one time on the huge stage of the Auditorium as a part of the George Washington Bicentennial celebration, a grand ball, sailing parties which kept ten boats, holding from thirty to forty passengers each, busy the entire week, visits to the Steel Pier and beach parties.

County Teachers Entertain

Under the direction of the Moorestown supervisor, teachers from each county in New Jersey provided entertainment for visitors from certain states. The members from Burlington county were assigned visitors from Connecticut and Kansas.

Dr. Joseph Rosier, president of State Teachers' College, Fairmount, W. Va., was elected president of the Association, with Harry Lester Smith, University of Indiana, as treasurer.

The following were chosen as vice presidents: George C. Baker, Moorestown; C. B. Wivel, Temple, N. J.; Mabel Ellis, San Francisco; Ernest W. Butterfield, Hartford, Conn.; Edith L. Grosvenor, Washington, D. C.; Oren E. Long, Honolulu; William T. Longshore, Kansas City, Mo.; Caroline S. Woodruff, Castleton, Vt.; Orville C. Pratt, Spokane, Wash.; Elizabeth McCormick, Superior, Wis.; George W. Wamaker, Griffin, Ga.

Popular in State Group

The popularity the Moorestown principal enjoys in the New Jersey State Teachers' Association, which has a membership of more than 26,000, was shown by the fact that in 1929, when he was chosen president, he was elected for the second consecutive year to a high office without opposition. In 1928, when a bitter battle was waged for the presidency of the state association and the retiring vice president was defeated, Mr. Baker was chosen first vice president without opposition. In November of 1929, when Mr. Baker was elevated to the presidency by a unanimous vote on the first ballot, the fight was centered around the vice presidency.

He enjoys the distinction of never having sought an office in the national and state associations, honors in every case having been thrust upon him without solicitation on his part.

Mr. Baker is well qualified to fill the office to which he has just been re-elected. He is a highly efficient teacher himself and during the past nineteen years he has developed in Moorestown one of the finest public school systems in New Jersey.

The Moorestown supervisor is a graduate of Bloomsburg State Normal School, Lafayette College, University of Pennsylvania, and has taken several post-graduate courses at Columbia University. He is a past president of Moorestown Rotary Club, is a director of Burlington County Trust Company, president of Boosters' Building and Loan Association and takes an active part in the affairs of numerous civic organizations.

YOUTH NABBED AS ROBBER SUSPECT

Mount Holly and Masonville "Jobs" Laid to Camden Resident

Charged with being implicated in robberies in Mount Holly and Masonville, a Camden youth was arrested when he returned to his home and was turned over to the Mount Holly police.

John Seovlik, 18, 1273 Everett street, traced through the license number of a car used in the series of robberies, was arrested by City Detectives George E. Zeitz and Clifford Del Rossi when he sought to enter his home at 3 a. m. The detectives said he was covered with mud and dirt. Seovlik later was set to jail without bail.

The first alarm was given at Mount Holly where Cornelius Booker and George Carter are partners in a grocery store at 190 Washington street. The proprietors, who live in the adjoining house, heard a noise and notified the Mount Holly police.

By the time Patrolmen Frank Bowen and Robert Smiles reached the store an automobile, used by the intruders, had sped away. Booker gave the police the number of the car and the policemen picked it up on its way to Moorestown. Enroute the car parked at Masonville.

Smiles and Bowen parked their police car a safe distance away and awaited developments. The machine they had trailed seemed to be deserted.

Smiles returned to Mount Holly to trace the number of the parked machine he had confirmed. Bowen remained, hiding in the grass watching the bandit car. While waiting he heard a crash of glass.

Jumping from hiding to ascertain the cause, Bowen found that a store in Masonville, operated by Julius Molcher, and the postoffice next door had been entered. The thieves had made a job of the Mount Holly store and then had extended the night's work.

At Mount Holly the cash till in the Booker-Carter store had been forced open but no money was obtained. In Masonville $15 was stolen from the store and $15 from the postoffice.

When the intruders, of which Seovlik is suspected of being one, saw Patrolman Bowen come from hiding, they vanished in the woods near Masonville. Police confiscated the parking car and Smiles, obtaining the name of its owner in Trenton, flashed the information to Camden.

Seovlik was taken to Mount Holly for a hearing before Recorder Joseph M. Roberts and afterward held for questioning by Chief of Burlington County Detective Ellis Parker. He was also questioned concerning the theft of an automobile stolen from Clayton Andrews, 624 East Main street, Moorestown.

START MEMORIAL

Herbert H. Blizzard, of Audubon, past state commander of the American Legion, broke ground for the "Gallant" memorial to the fallen soldiers of the American Legion of New Jersey to those who lost their lives in aviation during the World War, at Lakehurst June 28.

The memorial, a non-sectarian chapel, is to cost $49,437.

The ceremonies included an address by Dr. Samuel A. Lowman, of Camden, president of the Memorial Chapel Association; music by the drum and bugle corps of the Toms River Vandeventer Post, and prayers and benediction by Father Turner, department chaplain, and Chaplain Steiner, of the Naval Air Station.

A total of $80,000 was raised by the association quickly in $1 contributions. Opening of the chapel is set for Armistice Day. The chapel will accommodate 300 persons. The tower will be dedicated to those who lost their lives in actual combat during the World War.

SOLDIER DROWNS

Porto Rican Dies When Canoe Upsets at Browns Mills

The two companions of the Porto Rican soldier, Jacinto Reyes, who was drowned at Crystal Lake at Browns Mills Monday, were held as disordered persons pending an investigation into circumstances surrounding the fatality.

The canoe in which Reyes and two other Porto Rican soldiers, Antonio Marrero and Antonio Monzon, both of Camp Dix, were riding, upset near the second island of the lake when the men went to change places in the frail craft. Reyes sank beneath the surface and did not reappear. Marrero swam to shore and Charles Hess and Henry Paderson, Philadelphia Boy Scouts, saved Monzon, who could not swim. Both boys are members of Troop 202, Boy Scouts, of Philadelphia.

Sharp was arrested by John H. Bradshaw, chief of Moorestown police, and Officer Bud Stevenson, of the Beverly police force.

Sharp, who formerly lived at 236 West Central avenue, Moorestown, was put out of that place on June 21 by Deputy Sheriff Edward C. Davis. The evidence was discovered by Davis and Bradshaw at the time Sharp was put out of the Central avenue residence.

$25,000 Prize for Best Fifty Word Description of Floating Power

Every state in the Union and the District of Columbia was represented in the first truckload of mail to be sent to the contest department of Plymouth Motor Corporation in its mammoth $25,000 prize contest for the best 50-word, or less, description of Plymouth's Floating Power ride. It was stated this week by C. R. Sweeney, Inc., Palmyra.

Tom W. Brown, 537 East Dartmouth street, Flint, Mich., received stamp "No. 1" as his entry blank was the first to be opened and registered by the contest manager. Mr. Brown wrote his description on the opening day of the contest and mailed it the same evening. It was received bright and early the next morning and was the first envelope opened by one of the corps of clerks especially employed for this purpose.

Among the first contestants to submit 50-word descriptions of a Floating Power ride was I. K. Sefton, winner of the grand prize in the last Plymouth contest, almost two years ago. Sefton, who is now editor-in-chief of the Sacramento, California, Union, receives $1,000 a year for the rest of his life as his award in this contest.

The Plymouth $25,000 prize contest, which closes at midnight, July 31, offers $1,000 prize for the best descriptions of a Floating Power ride. First prize will be $1,000, second prize $500 and third prize $250 in cash and other awards include 50 prizes of $100 each; 100 prizes of $50 each; 200 prizes of $25 each; 300 prizes of $10 each and 1,000 prizes of $5 each.

Entry blanks may be obtained from any DeSoto, Dodge or Chrysler dealer. Full rules and suggestions are printed on each blank.

MAPLE SHADE JOBLESS WORK ON STORM SEWER

Storm sewers are being constructed to relieve conditions in the vicinity of Main street, Theodore, Wallace and Main avenues, Maple Shade, flooded body during recent heavy rains. The project, an unemployment relief measure, is being supervised by Frank Wade, Sr., labor director for Chester township, for the state emergency relief. Approximately 1500 feet of storm sewer are being laid north of the Pennsylvania Railroad, between Clinton and Maple avenues. The excavation will be six feet deep at Clinton avenue and about nine feet deep at Maple avenue, with its deepest point at Fork Landing road. About 250 feet of pipe is to be laid in the vicinity of Fork Landing road. Funds are not available from the township for other pipe needed. The project was made possible by an appropriation of $2000 emergency fund from the state. Most of the jobless men of Maple Shade are employed temporarily in digging the storm sewer.

HOFFMAN TAKES TRAFFIC DEPT.

Motor Vehicle Division Hand-ling Functions of Former State Commission

Motor Vehicle Commissioner Harold O. Hoffman last week related his plans for carrying on the work of the former State Traffic Commission, the duties and functions of which were transferred to the Motor Vehicle Department by a recent act of the Legislature.

Equipped with only a $14,000 appropriation guaranteed by the State House Commission for six months activity, Commissioner Hoffman has taken over part of the traffic commission personnel at reduced salaries, has abandoned the Newark office and will carry on the entire work of the department at the State House, Trenton. The department will be known as the Division of Traffic Control and Regulation $68,000 was appropriated for this work last year.

Under the new setup, municipalities are required to forward all traffic regulation ordinances to Commissioner Hoffman for approval and such ordinances cannot be legally enforced until they have received his approval. Traffic regulation ordinances include all matters pertaining to traffic signal installation, flashing signals, beacon signals, stop street signs, parking, one-way streets, etc., in fact the identical matters that heretofore required the approval of the Traffic Commission.

Commissioner Hoffman is also continuing the accident statistical department, which was started April 1, 1931, feeling that this is a most important phase of safety work. "You cannot hope to reduce accident," he says "unless you know how, when, and why they are occurring." Police departments are requested to continue sending copies of all accident reports received by them, to the Division of Traffic Control and Regulation, Trenton. Automobile drivers involved in accidents involving death, personal injury or property damage of an apparent damage of $25 or more, will continue sending reports direct to the department with-

A Wasted Opportunity

By IRVIN S. COBB

A STRANGE youth who was clothed in rags and apparently had no great amount of mentality to spare, was brought before the magistrate in a Scotch village. He seemed to have no visible means of support so a charge of vagrancy had been lodged against him by the local constable.

The presiding magistrate proceeded to question the wanderer.

"Where does your father live?" he inquired.

"Ma father is dead."

"And your mother?"

"She's dead, too."

"Have you any relatives whatever, then?"

"I ha' a brither."

"Oh, you have a brother, then. And where is he?"

"At the University of Edinboro."

"Now, nowhere in the world is education more highly revered than in Scotland. So at this claim the magistrate pricked up his ears.

"Ah, indeed," he said, in a somewhat gentler tone. "And how long has your brother been at the University of Edinboro?"

"Eighteen years."

"Eighteen years, you say?" pressed the magistrate. "Is he a professor there?"

"Nay, he's no professor."

"Well, then, in what capacity is he there? What does he do?"

"He does nothin'. He's in a bottle—he was born wi' two heads!"

DEMAND GOVERNMENTAL ECONOMY NOW

The increasing cost of government is one of the highest barriers in the path of industrial expansion and a return to normal conditions.

In 1913 total taxes were $2,187,000,000. In 1923 they were $7,234,000,000. In 1929 they were $10,251,000,000. The percentage of national income garnered by the tax collector for these periods was 6.4 per cent., 10.1 per cent. and 14.4 per cent., respectively. During this period the amount of tax per capita increased from $22.66 to $83.21. A family of five would thus pay $416.05 yearly on the 1930 basis.

It is customary to blame these increased costs on the extraordinary expenses made necessary by the war. But that applies only in the case of the Federal government, and in recent years local and state governments have been the worst tax-boasting offenders by far. This is likewise true in the case of the total public debt which increased from $4,200,000,000 in 1913, to $30,200,000,000 in 1922. In 1928, while the national debt had been decreased $5,400,000,000 in six years, due to Federal economies, the state and local debt had increased $5,400,000,000.

The tax problem extends, with steadily increasing importance, through every branch of government. The orgy of spending which followed the war—and was largely the result of the inflation of 1926-29—has come full circle at last. We are no longer able to increase taxation and public debt without seriously imperiling the future of the country. Investors are frightened, and money is hoarded. Businesses come to a standstill and more and more men are thrown out of work. Nothing could do more to start the country on the upgrade than decisive governmental economy—not next week or next year, but now.

THE TIME OF BEGINNING AGAIN

Hard as the saying may be, but beyond a doubt a good thing, it is clear that all men and all business have reached "the time of beginning again." The social arrangements of man and business may be likened unto the system of a single human being. "It will stand a lot of abuse; it will continue to function, even after years of mistreatment; it will respond to excessive demands; and it will work for a long time with a modicum of rest," says a writer who has got the subject "down to brass tacks." "There will come a time, however," he continues, "when the mistreatment shows up; when it will have to slow down; when the effects of the abuse become apparent. Then something has to be done.

"We are all in that state now." We have abused our economic system; we have mistreated it; we have made excessive demands upon it; and now we have come to the paying table—or the doctor's office.

"Now we are being told things which parallel closely what the doctor tells his human patients. We must 'begin over.' We must eliminate the poisons from our system. We must stop abuse. We must have rest. Unless we do these things, the end is certain.

"In plain, understandable language, we have gotten down to brass tacks. We have been smitten with an economic fever. As a result the water has been squeezed from our securities. There is no more inflation of values. We are heartily sick of hoovey, though for years we swallowed it with great gusto; and the hallyhoo we once so delighted in has become suddenly sour. The dizzy dance is over. We have found the end of the rainbow—but it must have been the wrong end since there is so little gold on this one. We have come to the place where we must begin again. There are plenty of mixed metaphors in this paragraph, but I maintain they are all true, and they are the signboards on the way to better times.

"We have come down into the valley of reality—the place of real things. In all of our affairs fakery and bunk must be eliminated. Goods that we sell must do what they are designed for; agreements must be kept to the letter; guarantees must mean what they say and all say what they mean; all of us must tell the plain unvarnished truth.

"All this must come to pass because in these things will the roots of confidence find fertile soil and sprout again. Confidence is the basis and life of our whole civilization with all its varied activities. Confidence went out of the world because we thought our prosperity, our wealth, our forward movement, our pep and high pressure was sufficient to carry us over anything—poor values and false values, tricky dealing, "smart stunts", scandalous inflation and seas of bunk.

"We know better now; and so, once more, we are back at the place of beginning again. It is to be hoped that we have all learned something; but whether so or not we have to begin again anyway.

"What we need now is not something new or strange; not some NEW principle the world has never known before. Rather, all we require is a return to the everlasting, tried and proved practices by which we demonstrate dependability, trustworthiness and sincerity. Every worthwhile thing in the world has been built on these qualities, and only things so built whether these periodical storms brewed in the dark caverns of deceit or foolishness.

"We are 'right down to brass tacks' now. The whole business field is clear and the best opportunity of many a long year awaits all those who will take advantage of it. Honesty rather than cleverness, faithfulness rather than brilliance, perseverance rather than 'smartness'—these are the qualities in demand. Those who can demonstrate them and with them create confidence have a clear course ahead, and such will be the successful ones of the future."

LEARN HOW TO WALK

An extremely important phase of the automobile accident problem is carelessness or ignorance on the part of the pedestrian. During 1931, pedestrian deaths reached 14,500, out of a total of 34,400 deaths caused by automobiles, and the number of pedestrians injured non-fatally was 300,000. Consequently, if we are to make definite progress in reducing deaths and injuries, we must teach the public to walk.

In the case of the walker on the highway at night, the old rule of "Keep to the right" may be suicidal—the left side is the right side. Wearing dark clothing increases the hazard because of its invisibility. Weather conditions are all important, and at the hour between light and darkness, when the pedestrian trends to blend into the background and figuratively disappear, he must be extremely careful, inasmuch as the driver may not be able to see him at all, and hence cannot take care of him.

Carelessness in crossing streets, stepping suddenly out from between parked cars, walking around the end of a street car into traffic and thoughtfulness and abstraction regarding traffic lights, courts disaster.

If pedestrians can learn "good walking practices", deaths and injuries from automobiles will be reduced.

WHAT THE NEW TAXES MEAN

A recent Associated Press dispatch from Washington gave an interesting insight into what the new revenue bill will mean to the wage earner.

A married business man with one child, having a net income of $6,000, will pay an income tax to the Federal government of $124 as against $23.63 in the past. If he buys a $600 automobile he will have to pay a new tax of $18 plus 60 cents for taxes on tires, etc. If he uses 700 gallons of gasoline during the year and 30 gallons of lubricating oil, he will pay a tax of $8.20, in addition to state gas and oil taxes. If his wife gets a $200 fur coat the tax will be $20.

If he makes home brew he will pay about $3 in taxes on malt. His wife's perfumes, powder, etc., will cost another $3. If he buys a $75 radio and pays $100 for an electric refrigerator, the taxes will be $3.75 and $5, respectively. He will pay increased taxes on cameras, electricity, matches, the telephone and a hundred other commodities and services. If he spends $2 a week for shows and movies, the Treasury will get $10 from him by the end of the year.

His total direct taxes will be about $310, as against about $174 under the old rates—an increase of $236.

It looks as if the new bill will fatten a depleted Treasury—but it's going to make a deep hole in the public pocketbook. And these taxes are only a beginning unless definite steps are taken to curb the expense of government, the cost of which increases like compound interest as the number of public employees grows.

Dr. Antheaume, of Paris, declares that the "irresistible impulse to steal", usually dignified by the term "kleptomania", is not really a disease, but just pure cussedness. In our ignorance of the newer psychology we had long suspected as much.

Brooklyn's newest fraternal order is the A. P. P. A., at present composed of only three members, all of whom are in jail. But it is said that there are thousands of eligibles and a rush to join is expected. The organization is the Alimony Payers' Protective Association.

MT. HOLLY TAKES RIVERTON, 10 TO 4

Holiday Games Proves Disastrous to Locals; Terrill and Bartley Get Homers

Riverton took it on the chin from Mount Holly last Monday afternoon at Memorial Park when a large crowd of Fourth of July spectators were forced to see their favorites lose 10 to 4. Riverton furnished the crowd with two thrilling home runs, socked out by Terrill and Bartley. Mount Holly, however, enjoyed two good innings during the game to pile up seven of their ten runs.

Mount Holly batted in the opening inning and went down scoreless in one-two-three fashion. Foulke opened for Riverton and got to first on a single, and Edge got to second on a Seider's choice, but Riverton also retired scoreless.

Opening the second for Mount Holly, two went down in succession, and then Lucas smacked out a three-base hit. Lingle made first base on an error by Benny Edge, and Lucas came home with a run before the side was retired.

Horan, Terrill and Sloan went down in the second for Riverton with two flies and an infield drive which was taken by Evak to Dunfee for the put-out.

In the third for Mount Holly, through another error by Benny Edge, Dann crossed the home plate for another run. In the third inning Riverton got one man as far as third base before the side was retired.

Then came the big inning of the game. Mount Holly sent five men home through a series of hits and errors. Dunfee, Lucas, Lewis, Dann and Evak each collared a run for their home-town team. Foulk, for Riverton, unfortunately chalked up two errors, and four singles and a double off the bats of the visitors made for the five runs.

Riverton then took the business seriously and settled down to do some base crossing of her own. Bartley, for Riverton, opened the fourth inning and landed on first with a nice single; Horan followed suit with a nifty double, pushing Foulke to third. Terrill must have seen one of his favorite pills leave the pitching arm, and with that terrific swing of his that spells trouble if it connects, Terrill met it squarely, sending the ball into the deep recesses of the park for a homer. Thus Riverton got three runs.

Mount Holly went down scoreless for the next two straight, but collared another three runs in the seventh when Harper, Dunfee and Lingle each brought in a run with three singles.

Riverton in the eighth had two men put away in succession when Bartley came through with a swat that netted him a homer. Unfortunately no one was on base, so Riverton had to be content with one run. Horan shot a pop fly to the pitcher, retiring the side.

Neither side scored from then until the end of the game, and so the game was lost for Riverton.

BOYS INVITED TO SHIBE PARK TUES.

Memorial Park Directors Plan Many Activities to Keep Youths Busy

The summer season was officially opened at Memorial Park, Riverton Tuesday, in charge of the playground directors, Miss Metzner and Mr. Mount. Tuesday being registration day, many parents brought their children to the park and many came unattended. The total registration for the first day totaled 255.

Mr. Mount announces that entries for the boys, girls and adult tennis tournament will be open all of this week until 5 p. m. Saturday. The boys preliminaries will be played on Monday, and the girls on Tuesday. The adult preliminaries will be announced on the bulletin board near the tennis courts. Those boys desiring to register for the tournament are to report to Robert Borer and the girls to Ella Russell at the park.

The Burlington County Y. M. C. A. has accepted an invitation to visit Shibe Park to see the Athletics and Cleveland play on Tuesday afternoon. Reservations have been made to take 150 boys from the park. Mr. Mount will take the first 50 Y. M. C. A. boys who register and bring 150 to help transportation costs. He will also take the first 100 boys from Memorial Park who have been in regular attendance for the past week and who will bring 150. The age limit is 9 to 17 years.

NEW JERSEY BOY MIBS RUNNER-UP

Wildwood Boy Close to National Championship at Ocean City

Burlington county's marble champ for the past two years, Clarence Cramer, of Burlington, didn't feel so badly over his defeat by Earl Weisgerber, of Wildwood, in the southern New Jersey finals at Camden the 21st of last May, for young "Shorty" Weisgerber at the national finals at Ocean City, July 1, was national runner-up. His opponent was Harley Corum, of Louisville, Kentucky, who last year was the runner-up in the national finals.

Secretary Hendry was among the group of men from southern New Jersey invited by The Evening Bulletin to see the finals on the above date. A number of first things happened in the National Marble contest this year. It is the first time that the same boy has won the county championship two years in succession—Clarence Cramer. It is the first time that a national runner-up of a previous year has become the national champion. It was the first time the winner of the southern Jersey district match came so near the national championship.

Singularly enough last year both the national champion and the runner-up came from Louisville, Kentucky. This makes two years in succession that the national championship has gone to that state and city.

This year's national champion, Harley Corum, lost his mother some little time ago. He is a member of a large family. His father has been out of work some time. The woman newspaper correspondent for the paper sponsoring the contest in Louisville has taken a great interest in Harley and now says that she plans to provide for his education. He takes very modestly all of the championship honors which have been heaped upon him.

DEGLANE-STRACK ON CAMDEN MAT

World's Wrestling King in Bonus Army Benefit Bout Monday Night

Once again Promoter Charlie Grip has heard—and heeded—the call of sweet charity, with the result that on next Monday night, in the Pensauken Arena, Crescent Boulevard, Camden, he will stage, under the auspices of the Camden County Committee for relief of World War veterans, a mighty spectacle of wrestling, the entire proceeds of which, after expenses are paid, will be devoted to the relief of the bonus army now in Washington.

In the feature 90-minute bout, two out of three falls to win, world's heavyweight wrestling champion, Henri Deglane, of France, the man who took the title from Big Ed Lewis, will defend his crown against the onslaught of rough and tough Charlie Strack, the "bad boy" who has yet to lose a bout in this section via the pinning route.

He was disqualified when, in the Philadelphia Convention Hall last spring, he had Gus Sonnenberg ready ready for the cleaners, and tried to send him to them with flats and feet, but that is his only defeat in this section.

Last week, in a terrific battle with Camden's own virile Italian, Joe Montana, who was booked an even chance to flatten the New Yorker, Strack came through to win with a fast bit of rough work, all of which only increased the hatred which the Camden fans have for him. Accordingly, every man in this neck of the woods who knows his cauliflowerers will be behind Deglane heart and soul in his task of dismembering Charlie, an assignment, which, however, is no small time affair. For Strack actually has the weight on the champion, and his roughness and toughness are unquestioned. Furthermore, while he does not like to take punishment, he is sufficiently rugged to absorb a lot of it, if necessary, and Deglane is the man who can hand it out.

In the semi-final, Jack Ganson and Axel Anderson will tangle over the 45-minute route, one fall to win, while in the second bout Hans Schroeder will try to explain things to Billy Barstush. In the opener, Joe White, of Baltimore, who did such nice things with Jim Mitchell last Tuesday, will try to continue the program against one of the most hated men ever to provide for his education—Joe Marcella, Assyrian 165-pounder. One fall will terminate any of the supporting bouts.

PLAYGROUND BALL OFFICIALLY OPENS

Dreer Nine Sunk by Ramblers 23 to 11; Interest in Sport Growing Rapidly

Tuesday evening "Playground Ball" officially opened at Memorial Park, Riverton. Mayor Killam E. Bennett made a very appropriate speech and then with a flourish tossed the first ball to Councilman J. Elmer Hahn, chairman of the borough property committee, who surprised everybody present by catching it. ("Everybody present" totaled about 300.)

And the game was on! A team from the Dreer Nursery played the Ramblers. The game was played on the small diamond and with Frank C. Cole, local milkman, risking his neck as umpire, for the baseball was flying all over the lot.

From all accounts, the club will have to buy new bases for the next game. Thirty-four players ran the circuit of bases to bring in runs for their respective nines. That does not count the fat ones who could not quite get to first base, or the short-winded ones who had to quit on third.

The Dreer nine won't get any bouquets for their opening game for they got ONLY 11 runs, while the Ramblers tacked on the small sum of 23 RUNS to win the game. Of course it is a little early to pick the winner of the cup. And by the way, Mayor Bennett has offered a silver loving cup for the winning team in the finals.

The enthusiasm is running high, as the league schedule for the next week in another part of the paper will show.

Scores in Tuesday's game were as follows:

I. O. O. F. PLANS LARGE PICNIC AT CEDAR LAKE ON SATURDAY, JULY 16

The Picnic Committee of the Burlington County Odd Fellows Boosters' Association met following the regular session of Cinnaminson Lodge, No. 201, Friday evening, in Society Hall.

Plans were made for the annual picnic to be held July 16 at Cedar Lake. All members of the Odd Fellows, their friends and families are requested to make an effort to be present at the joyous affair.

The list of sports follows: Indoor baseball, races for children under twelve and boys and girls over twelve years of age, races for men and women, baseball throw for ladies only, sack races, shoe races, pie-eating contest, quoits.

Peanut scramble, tug-o-war, peanut races. There will be events for children six years and under. Further information regarding the outing will be published next week.

JOHNSONS DONATE HOME TO MT. HOLLY

The offer of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Johnson to donate their handsome property on High street to the Township of Mount Holly was formally accepted at the regular meeting of the Township Committee last week, the vote of the committee being unanimous in favor of the action.

The property consists of about three acres of ground, with the fine old mansion house, and it is considered as being located in one of the finest sections of the town.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson have long been willing to sacrifice this property, which was their home for a number of years, but both were anxious that it become the property of the town, consequently the action of the committee will no doubt meet their approval.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Sacrament" is the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, July 10, 1932.
The Golden Text is: "Let a man examine himself, and so let him eat of that bread, and drink of that cup" (1 Corinthians 11:28).
Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "Jesus answered and said unto him, If a man love me, he will keep my words: and my Father will love him, and we will come unto him, and make our abode with him" (John 14:23).
The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "To keep the commandments of our Master and follow his example, is our proper debt to him and the only worthy evidence of our gratitude for all that he has done" (page 6).

CAMP OCKANICKON HAS BUSY SEASON

Enrollment on Increase at Popular Burlington County YMCA Camp

The Sunday service at Camp Ockanickon in the outdoor chapel was conducted wholly by persons in Camp. Harry H. Pratt, high school teacher at Glassboro, and nature study counselor at Ockanickon, was in charge. Special gifts which the campers made at this service go toward the work of Max Yergen, the Y.M.C.A. secretary in South Africa. The newly organized Camp Quartet sang.

The Sunday evening service was held in the Nature Study Cabin. Following the singing of old favorite hymns and a brief devotional period many of the campers participated in discussing the question, "What I like best about Sundays in Camp." The general camp director, E. W. Barnes, conducted this forum.

Saturday night, July 2, another of Ockanickon's increasingly famous stunt night programs was staged in the bowl. "Chic" Walnut, a junior camper, wrote a play which was presented. It was coached by Lewis E. Jones, one of the junior counselors, a Burlington county young man whose home is in Florence.

Over a dozen musicians now compose the camp orchestra, which also took part in the program. Many visitors were on hand to enjoy the stunts and miscellaneous features. The variety of talent which such affairs call forth is astonishing. This occasion was the first appearance of the camp male quartet, composed of Lewis "Chic" Hawk, Collingswood, first tenor; Neal Clark, Freehold, second tenor; Cliff Egwood, Mount Holly, first bass; Paul Davis, Haddonfield, second bass.

On July 4 a group of some thirty members of the Christian Endeavor Society of the Ontario Presbyterian Church, Philadelphia, were at Ockanickon for the day, this being the first group to make use of the outing area since announcement was made of its availability.

One of the things that caused great interest among the campers was the introduction of the new game of Zell Ball. During the earlier hours of the day when it was raining outside a special game period was enjoyed at the Inn. There was also a special concert before and after the Fourth of July dinner, played by the camp orchestra. A great evening campfire program wound up the observance of this day.

This week members of the senior camp will participate in their first over-night canoe trip, embarking at Aston and paddling to Wading River, with Secretary Egwood and Counselor Bill Thompson in charge.
Long-term campers from the junior and middle area are taking an over-night truck trip, visiting the naval air station at Lakehurst, the state game preserve at Forked River, and

RIVERTON MAN IN CRICKET TRYOUT

Frank Ashton, of Riverton, a member of the General Electric Cricket Club, Philadelphia, played in the practice game of the Probables vs. the Possibles at the Staten Island Cricket grounds last Sunday.

This game was to pick the players to compose the team which will play against Australia on July 17, 18 and 19, in the International Cricket Match. The games will be played at the Staten Island Cricket Club, Livingston, Staten Island, starting 2 p. m. each day.

NEW EQUIPMENT AT RIVERTON LAUNDRY

New "Unipress" Installed Is Latest Word in Equipment for Ironing Men's Shirts

The Riverton Laundry, always in the vanguard of service and modern mechanical equipment, has just installed the latest word in apparatus for ironing men's shirts. It does a better job, with less wear and tear on the shirt.

The machine is known as the "Unipress", and Mr. Kuensell, the proprietor of the Riverton Laundry, has installed a three-unit section. It was purchased through the Jensen Manufacturing Co. of Palmyra, manufacturers of the high speed washing machines with which the Riverton Laundry is equipped.

The new machine is housed in an extension to the laundry building, added especially for this department.

TILTING CONTEST AT YACHT CLUB

Sixteen-foot Sailboat Races and Tilting Contests Added to Weekly Schedule

Tilting contest, a sport usually reserved for the Fourth of July, will now be conducted every Thursday evening at the Yacht Club for the next two weeks. A suitable prize has been put up for the winning team, which will be awarded at the end of the series.

Teams will be made up of club members only, but the general public is invited to attend and enjoy the sport. The winners of the various teams will be figured out on a percentage basis. No equipment is necessary to join, the club has the entire outfit.

The results of Wednesday's contests, all of which were hotly contested, are: Jack Naisby and Ed. Kapus won all three of their matches. Lloyd Gladney and Ted Hunn won their two matches. Knute Hunn and Henry Naisby won their match. Jim Storey and Rod Merrill won one and lost one. Frank Stewart and Walter Hanson won. Henry Seabrook and Cap. Morris won one of their matches. George Becton and Charles Earp won one match.

Eleven teams competed, made up of five senior and six junior teams. Suitable prizes will be awarded in each class after two more bouts.

Another sixteen-foot sailboat race was held at the Yacht Club last Saturday afternoon. Three of these trim little crafts sailed around the course in a spirited race. "Big Hurry", the club boat, sailed by Jack Naisby, Ed. Kapus and Gus Froberg, crossed the finishing line first, followed by the "Adams", sailed by W. Thomas, William Jose and Henry Seabrook. The "Salarias", sailed by Rod Merrill, carried away her main sheet rope and was unable to finish.

Two new sixteen-footers are being built for Charles Becton and Mr. Marshall, and will be delivered within the next two weeks. This will make a fleet of five of these boats, and championship races will take place after the arrival of the new boats.

Real estate will pay only a certain return, regardless of whether the original owner or the holder of a mortgage operates it. The practice of cutting a property below its real value to fill it has the effect of damaging not only that property but surrounding properties.

This is sound suggestion. In many cases, of course, methods of this kind have been tried. More than a few local mortgage holders have gone to great lengths to cooperate with property owners who are in difficulties.

But the essential thought should be kept in mind by ALL. Wherever practicable, leave the owner in possession of his property!

Can't the Borough Lend a Hand?

Editor The New Era:

I am enclosing an editorial clipped from the Bulletin last week. Couldn't something like this be done in Riverton. A lot of us who have always paid our taxes and met our obligations find it just impossible to keep up, owing to the terrible times we are going through, and to have our homes sold over our heads is a terrible blow to self-respecting people.

ONE OF THEM.

A Tax-Collecting Innovation

In the matter of collecting delinquent taxes the city has been, and is, as patient as Job. It has proved that a municipal corporation at least may have a soul. By exercise to the full of its legal rights it could make worthy, but unfortunate, people homeless. But it has wisely refused to swing the Sheriff's hammer to exact its dues; and it is proceeding humanely in its new policy of securing attachment of rents to cover overdue taxes.

The Court action of this kind, won in Riverton by Assistant City Solicitor Winegard, results in the execution of a lease whereby a property-owner who had paid no taxes since 1923 binds himself to a rental of $35 a month until $1,200 of delinquency is wiped out. In other cases in preparation, some secured home owners and some against central business properties, effort will be made similarly to fix rents within the capacity of the property-owner to pay and sufficient to liquidate the debt to the city within a reasonable time.

This policy, where Court approval can be secured, preserves to the delinquent the title to his property. Before it reaches the stage of legal action the circumstances of the individual are considered, the length of his delinquency and the question whether he has withheld payment of his share of the cost of government because of circumstances beyond his control.

A Thought

Editor, The New Era:

I am addressing this letter to you with the hope you will see that it is presented where it will do most good.

The River Bank belongs to me. I do not care to make a present of it to anybody, not any portion of it.

If, however, my wishes are disregarded in this matter the several private properties will become much more valuable to the owners and the taxes on same should be increased accordingly.

Very truly yours,
HOWARD G. MARSTON.

THE PEOPLES COLUMN

Let's Try It Out at Home

Editor The New Era:

Since moratoriums and debt cancellations seem to be the "go" right now, particularly to our debtors across the sea, why wouldn't it be a good idea to try a little of it out at home, where charity is said to begin?

Can you find space for the enclosed editorial, clipped from a recent issue of the Courier? It seems to me to be a pretty good idea.

HARD PRESSED.

A Moratorium for Mortgages

Give the home owner a break!

If he's embarrassed, try a moratorium instead of a foreclosure!

That policy was outlined recently by a prominent Brooklyn realty dealer as one means of restoring realty values and stabilizing home ownership. As this dealer observed:

"We are trying to pay off 100 per cent. mortgages on 60 per cent. incomes.

"We think we should try to establish some kind of moratorium, lowering interest or waiving amortization if necessary, but wherever at all practicable leaving the owner in possession of his property."

"Real estate will pay only a certain return, regardless of whether the original owner or the holder of a mortgage operates it. The practice of cutting a property below its real value to fill it has the effect of damaging not only that property but surrounding properties."

This is sound suggestion. In many cases, of course, methods of this kind have been tried. More than a few local mortgage holders have gone to great lengths to cooperate with property owners who are in difficulties.

But the essential thought should be kept in mind by ALL. Wherever practicable, leave the owner in possession of his property!

Can't the Borough Lend a Hand?

Editor The New Era:

I am enclosing an editorial clipped from the Bulletin last week. Couldn't something like this be done in Riverton. A lot of us who have always paid our taxes and met our obligations find it just impossible to keep up, owing to the terrible times we are going through, and to have our homes sold over our heads is a terrible blow to self-respecting people.

ONE OF THEM.

A Tax-Collecting Innovation

In the matter of collecting delinquent taxes the city has been, and is, as patient as Job. It has proved that a municipal corporation at least may have a soul. By exercise to the full of its legal rights it could make worthy, but unfortunate, people homeless. But it has wisely refused to swing the Sheriff's hammer to exact its dues; and it is proceeding humanely in its new policy of securing attachment of rents to cover overdue taxes.

The Court action of this kind, won in Riverton by Assistant City Solicitor Winegard, results in the execution of a lease whereby a property-owner who had paid no taxes since 1923 binds himself to a rental of $35 a month until $1,200 of delinquency is wiped out. In other cases in preparation, some secured home owners and some against central business properties, effort will be made similarly to fix rents within the capacity of the property-owner to pay and sufficient to liquidate the debt to the city within a reasonable time.

This policy, where Court approval can be secured, preserves to the delinquent the title to his property. Before it reaches the stage of legal action the circumstances of the individual are considered, the length of his delinquency and the question whether he has withheld payment of his share of the cost of government because of circumstances beyond his control.

A Thought

Editor, The New Era:

I am addressing this letter to you with the hope you will see that it is presented where it will do most good.

The River Bank belongs to me. I do not care to make a present of it to anybody, not any portion of it.

If, however, my wishes are disregarded in this matter the several private properties will become much more valuable to the owners and the taxes on same should be increased accordingly.

Very truly yours,
HOWARD G. MARSTON.

ROSS E. MATTIS, P. M.

REV. GEO. LOCKETT NEW ROTARY HEAD

Ross E. Mattis, Speaker, Tells of Postal Service in United States

Rev. George Lockett was inducted into the office of president at the Palmyra-Riverton Rotary Club meeting last Thursday. Howard B. Conover, retiring president, spoke to the club expressing his appreciation of the good work done by the club and of the splendid cooperation given him during his term of office. Dr. Charles S. Mills, on behalf of the club, presented Mr. Conover with a past president Rotary button.

Rev. Thomas Whalen and Arthur Armistead, of the Camden club, were guests of the Riverton club, and Arthur Armistead was asked to induct Rev. Lockett into the office of president, which he did in a dignified and eloquent manner.

Rev. Lockett expressed his appreciation of the confidence manifested in him and asked for the continued cooperation of the club. He said that Rotary is needed today in this time of stress and strain, more than ever before. He also instructed George Rogers to continue in the office as secretary-at-large.

Ross Mattis was the speaker of the evening and delivered to the club a most interesting resume of the United States Post Office department, beginning with Colonial days and carrying through until the present time. Speaking on the increase in first class mail, Mr. Mattis said that it is estimated the new rate will enrich the department $300,000,000 during the year, and that Riverton's postal revenue will be increased by $2,500. Mr. Mattis stated that New York City's post offices do more business than all of Canada, and that every four hours today, more money is spent for postage in the United States than was spent during a whole year in George Washington's administration.

Riverton, according to Mr. Mattis, was one of the first towns to have a rural delivery system, in the United States.

The air mail service was discussed by Mr. Mattis and he stated that many dollars were spent in the beginning to experiment with it, but now its degree of efficiency is well established and that mail deliveries to most any point are cut to half time.

State Highway Engineer Instructed to Study Traffic on Route 25

Because of the increasing amount of traffic daily on Route No. 25, formerly known as the Burlington Pike, between Camden and Trenton, the State Highway Commission has instructed its engineer to study plans to widen the road.

That action followed receipt of a letter from George DeBennville, of Edgewater Park. In his communication to the State Highway Commission, Mr. DeBennville said that the present width of the road, which is mostly 20 feet between the two cities, presents continuous hazards to those who use it.

It was urged by Mr. DeBennville that the improvement begin at Crescent boulevard in Fensauken township and continue through Burlington and Bordentown to Trenton.

Contracts on five highway projects which represent a total expenditure of $787,427 were awarded to the lowest bidders at Monday's meeting of the State Highway Commission.

One of the contracts went to Charles D. Frosner, of Pitman, for $144,316. He will place an additional ten-foot lane on Route No. 26, the Brunswick pike between Trenton and Monmouth Junction road near Princeton.

Other awards included a $23,769 contract to John Meehan & Sons, of Philadelphia, for the placing of a granite block on the Newark-Jersey City diagonal route from Hudson boulevard to Tonnele Circle.

Plans for the beautification of the super highway leading to the George Washington bridge at Fort Lee were reported to the State Highway Commission as being rendered practically abortive through the construction of billboards.

Upon the advice of Bauer, the state highway chief engineer, the board adopted a resolution requesting Fort Lee to zone the bridge entrance so as to prevent the erection of these billboards along the roadway and ramps which have been improved at a considerable cost to the state.

OPEN AIR SERVICES

The Rev. Ira S. Pimm, pastor of the Epworth M. E. Church of Palmyra and Riverton, will deliver the sermon at the open air services to be held in The Grove Sunday evening.

The service will be one hour in length, from seven to eight o'clock. Members of all churches in Palmyra and Riverton are cordially invited to be present.

In case of rain the service will be held in the First Lutheran Church, Broad street and Garfield avenue, Palmyra.

TRAFFIC TROUBLE KEEPS COPS BUSY

Jacob W. Meltaner, of 613 Elm avenue, Riverton, traveling west on Broad street, Riverton, crashed into a car driven by Jack N. Saslaw, of New York City, last Monday evening at Lippincott avenue. At a hearing before Recorder Cecil A. Bowers, the case was dismissed as there was no cause for action.

Dr. C. P. Hogan, of 220 East Union street, Burlington, was arrested on July 6 by Chief of Police Miller at Broad and Main streets for reckless driving. At a hearing before Cecil A. Bowers last Sunday, Dr. Hogan was excused with a payment of $1.00 costs.

Letman Duckett, of 374 N. 32nd street, Camden, was arrested by Officer Conover on Monday for passing the amber light at Broad and Main streets, Riverton. At a hearing before Recorder Bowers, Duckett was released with the payment of $1.00 costs.

BRIEFS FROM YM CAMP OCKANICKON

Canoe Trips, Zellball, Story Telling, Wrestling on Varied Program

Enough watermelons came into Camp Ockanickon over the Fourth and this past weekend to feed a young army. So much so that the steward has not had to buy any so far. The ability of campers to consume large amounts of food at the dining hall has not been hindered, however, in the least.

On a canoe exploration trip in the regions of the store and of upper lake a nice grove was discovered. An United States than was spent during a whole year in George Washington's administration.

Riverton, according to Mr. Mattis, was one of the first towns to have a rural delivery system, in the United States.

WELFARE NEEDS JARS AND STOVES

Two Coal Ranges Required, and Jars, Rubbers and Tops For Canners

The social worker for the Cinnaminson-Riverton Welfare Association is very busy helping the families who have been in need to plan ahead for the winter months so that their distress will not be so acute as it was last year. Budgets, menus and recipes have been obtained from the government; they are being mimeographed and will be given to every family. There is a budget applicable to every type of family, ranging from one child to ten children.

Unfortunately the wage scale is so low on the farms this year that few of the people can put anything aside for next winter, but practically every family has a vegetable garden, the seeds having been given either by the Riverton Civic Association or by the Welfare Association. The women are being urged to can all the fruit and vegetables they can spare; without exception they have been willing and anxious to do the canning, but they are handicapped by a lack of jars. The social worker would appreciate a donation of any jars, rubbers and tops.

One hundred bags of Red Cross flour have been received and are being distributed for use in making bread, biscuits, etc. Two of the families are in great need of coal ranges, as the ones which they have been using are beyond repair. If anyone knows where these can be obtained, either as donations or at a cheap price, please telephone Mrs. Cooper, Riverton 498. Anyone who

IS UNCLE SAM SQUELCHED?

Business organizations of Bryan, O., and Riverton, Wyo., have protested against the proposed erection of new post office buildings in their towns at a cost of $60,000 and $75,000 respectively. They say they are not needed and that to build them would be a waste of money on the part of the government. Can you beat that for putting patriotism above the pork barrel?

ODD FELLOWS TO PICNIC SATURDAY

Members of Cinnaminson Lodge Meet at Palmyra Station at 1:00 P. M.

The Burlington County Odd Fellows will picnic at Cedar Lake Saturday afternoon.

Members of the Cinnaminson Lodge are requested to meet at Palmyra station at one o'clock. Transportation will be provided. Children of members are cordially invited to attend. There will be a large number of field events and some worthwhile prizes will be awarded the winners.

It is hoped that all members will make an effort to be present with their families.

Sunday the Odd Fellows and the clerks from the A. & P. stores of Palmyra and Riverton enjoyed a fishing trip to Porticus on Sunday. Seventeen in the party reported three bites, but no fish, while the others caught a total of 106.

Salmer had his usual run of luck, and Captain Robinson would probably have caught more fish if he had fished in the bay instead of the lunch box.

Herb Winners, Bert Marple and Willie Nash ran a close contest. Among them they caught twenty-nine.

The party spent twelve hours in all on the water and enjoyed a very delightful day.

BOY BADLY INJURED BY SPRAY PUMP TOP

Ellis Myeroff, 14, of Mount Laurel, was severely injured Sunday when a lid blew off a power spray pump and struck him in the face. Myeroff, who was spraying a chicken house for his uncle, Isadore Gutsait, also of Mount Laurel, was hurried to the Burlington County Hospital, Mount Holly. He was admitted at the hospital for a compound fracture of the nose and injuries of the face.

GET $5000 STILL AT BURLINGTON

One Man Arrested and 15,000-Gallon Vats of Mash Destroyed

One man was arrested and an expensive still dismantled when county detectives, state troopers and constables raided a four-story brick building, formerly a grain mill, on Delaware avenue near York street, Burlington, Monday.

David Narrow, 24, of 13 East Broad street, Burlington, allegedly on the premises at the time of the raid, was released in $1,000 bail after a hearing before Commissioner Howard G. Stackhouse, in Mount Holly. He was charged with possession and manufacture of liquor.

The liquor manufacturing paraphernalia occupied the large brick building, which has been apparently unused for several years.

The raiders found a complete 5,000-gallon still in operation. Three 15,000-gallon wooden vats of mash were found on the fourth floor of the building. Twelve five-gallon cans of alleged liquor were seized on the premises as well as 50 empty five-gallon cans. The entire equipment is valued at more than $5,000, according to police.

The still was dismantled and the wooden vats were emptied and cracked up. The equipment included boilers, condensers and one 15-foot copper column.

Dens of residents crowded around the old building as the equipment was loaded on a truck to be turned over to prohibition authorities.

Mrs. Kathryn Shedaker, city health officer, objected to alleged dumping of the mash into the Delaware river, from which the city's drinking water supply is derived. She appeared at the raid scene and attempted to stop the emptying of the vats. The rear of the building faces the river and it is understood, the distillery's products were loaded on boats and shipped via the river.

Informants, allegedly "in the know," insist the place has been in operation only one week.

In the raiding party were County Detectives Clinton Zeller and Clifford Cain, Sergeant Howard Carlson, Corporal Jarvis Wood and Trooper Joseph McCormick, of Columbus state police barracks, and Constables Thomas Kelsey and Jacob Pfeiffer, of Riverside.

A check-up on the ownership of the building is being made by officials.

NEW BEACH IS VERY POPULAR

Sand Donated by George Vansciver Makes Swimming Place Attractive

The number of bathers at Palmyra's Community Bathing Beach has increased two-fold during the past week due to the extremely warm weather.

White sand has been put on the beach, thus greatly improving it and making it a most delightful place for the small kiddies.

The promoters of the bathing place wish to take this opportunity to express their gratitude to the following persons for the loan of trucks, and various other equipment which has helped make the beach such a success:

The Lester S. Fortnum Ford Agency, J. Horace Finney, of the Palmyra Concrete Company; William Thum, of the Palmyra Foundry; D. Taylor, Albert Vansciver, Mr. Peterson, of Delair; Harry Karn and James Rambo. The sand for the beach was donated by George Vansciver. Several of the townspeople have made contributions of money, which has been used for necessary repairs to buildings and benches.

BUSINESS REVIVAL BELIEVED ON WAY

Many Encouraging Signs Apparent in Palmyra and Elsewhere

There are many signs that the country is getting around that corner where prosperity has been playing hide-and-seek.

Many Palmyra business men who are in touch with business conditions in various parts of the country are hearing encouraging reports.

Palmyra industries, such as the Palmyra Concrete Company and the Jensen Washing Machine factory, are anticipating a speedy revival. The Riverton Laundry has already installed new laundry machinery in preparation for increased business.

George W. Shaner and Sons report that work is expected soon to resume on their big contract at Lakeland in Camden county.

Various encouraging signs are apparent right in Palmyra. A fine new home has been built at 13 Spring Garden street by Thomas Heitel, Mrs. Bertha Hahn has taken time by the forelock and repainted her store property on Broad street. Mrs. Mary E. Joyce has repainted her home on Garfield avenue.

Members of the Riverside Board of Trade, which met last week, told of encouraging reports being received from the business world in general. Various Riverside industries are either already at work on new contracts or are anticipating a rush of orders in the near future. There are reports of a new clothing company having purchased one of the town's empty buildings for the purpose of opening a new factory at once.

Mark John Meer, son of Mrs. John J. Horan, of 310 Cleveland avenue, Riverside, took for his bride Miss Mary Gallagher, daughter of Mrs. John Bayers, of 333 Jones avenue, Burlington, at a very pretty wedding in St. Paul's Church, East Union street, Burlington, Monday morning at 9 o'clock. Rev. Father Henry Russi, rector of the church, officiated at the ceremony. The wedding march was played by Mrs. Marguerite Parker, of Burlington.

Miss Catherine Gallagher was bridesmaid for her sister and Lawrence Holzman, of Hancock street, Riverside, was best man. The ushers were George Lehman, of Lippincott avenue, Riverside, and Ellsworth Austin, of Beverly.

The bride was lovely in a beautiful white satin creation with a lace jacket trimmed with white satin sleeves. Her veil was cap-shaped made of tulle and trimmed with lace. She carried a bridal bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Catherine was gown in a blue dress with a pink hat trimmed in blue and wore pink slippers. Her bouquet was made up of pink roses and blue delphinium.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home, where places for more than a hundred guests from Riverside, Camden, Trenton, Philadelphia, Newark and Burlington, were laid.

The young couple left on a honeymoon trip to Atlantic City, and will be at home to their many friends after July 17, at their newly-furnished home at 306 Glenwood avenue, Farnerville.

EDITH WELLS TO DIRECT YW CAMP

Former China Secretary Appointed for Girls' Season at Oceanickon

The program director for the sixth season of the YWCA camp at Oceanickon, near Medford, will be Miss Edith Wells, of Philadelphia. Her appointment has been announced by the camp committee, composed of representatives from the YWCA organizations of Burlington, Camden, Gloucester and Monmouth counties.

Miss Wells, who is a former YWCA secretary in China, will be assisted in her work by Miss Ethel Doyle, of Berlin, and Miss Harriet L. Howe, of the Burlington county YWCA staff.
Plans for the girls' camping season are rapidly getting into shape and this year's program promises to be one of the most varied and delightful yet arranged for the enjoyment of the campers.

Burlington county may send fifty girls to Camp Oceanickon during each week of the three weeks' session, from August 12 to September 2.
Registrations, however, must be sent to the county office in Mount Holly by Thursday, July 21.

The Girl Reserve Senior Council will publish a seasonal newspaper, beginning next fall, and plans for the project were discussed at a meeting of the staff held Tuesday of last week at the home of Catherine McNulty, in Palmyra.

Members of the staff were chosen at the meeting, with Mildred Goodwin, of Palmyra, editor-in-chief; Betty Miner, of Delanco, assistant editor-in-chief; Doris Kemble, of Delanco, assistant editor; Marguerite Lucas, of Delanco, business manager and Catherine Mc-Nulty, of Palmyra, circulation manager.

The first issue will be published October 15, and will contain news of the girls' camp at Oceanickon and the Girl Reserve conference at Kihi, as well as literary and social features.
Other issues will be published November 19, January 7, March 4, April 22,

Laughing Around the World With IRVIN S. COBB

After All, a Friend Is a Friend

By IRVIN S. COBB

A LITERARY man who had achieved much fame in Russia and was unable to withstand the popularity that came suddenly to him, made overtures to the vodka habit and became a pronounced diplomat. Because of his eminence his friends overlooked his thirst and were frequent visitors at his home. One evening he blew in with a strong tide sloshing about in his person and found an admirer chatting pleasantly with his wife.

The good woman made some mild remark to her recent mate, whereupon the great author burst into a violent denunciation of all women in general and wives in particular. After this brief introduction of well-chosen words he went to work on what was intended to be a series of abuse. In the midst of his harangue he seized an ashtray and hurled it at the lady for a climax. Although a good writer, he was a bad shot and the missile intended for her smote the guest on the head and drew a gush of claret.

"My God!" exclaimed the stew with all the favor of true Slav,
"I have wounded my friend. I swear by the name of the Little Father that my sole intention was to kill my wife."

(American News Pictures, Inc.)

and May 27.

Several members of the Delanco Girl Reserve group are spending a week at Camp Tawata, on the Rancoosa creek, near Hainesport. The campers, Doris Kemble, Phyllis Kem-
July 8 and will return July 15. They are being chaperoned by Miss Helen Maurer, of Collingswood. Miss Harriet Bowe, County YWCA secretary, was a guest of the campers Friday and Saturday nights.

BINNEY W. EARL WINS IN COURT

Judge Rigg Rules He Shall Receive Income During Litigation of Estate

The case involving the Binney millions which was contested in Mount Holly before Judge Charles A. Rigg has been adjourned until September 1.
Binney Woodward Earl, however, will not be deprived of the income from the estate during litigation, according to a ruling made by Judge Rigg.

The estate in question was left by William C. Binney and his wife, Marrie Louis Binney, who died about 20 years ago. Earl was named beneficiary to one-half of the estate, then valued at $400,000. The other half was willed to a daughter of the Bin-neys, Princess Florence di Camporeale, of Rome, Italy; the latter's daughter,
Princess Anna di Castelleone, of Palermo, Italy. Alexander Kingsland, son of Princess Florence by her first marriage, also was named in the will.

William D. Lippincott, Moorestown attorney for the Burlington County Trust Company, of Moorestown, presented a list of new valuations of assets offered by Mr. Lippincott. This he had named sub-trustee after the original trustee, the Burlington City Loan and Trust Company, was closed.

V. Claude Palmer, Mount Holly, representing the old trustee, agreed to accept the amended account of valuations offered by Mr. Lippincott. He held that the closed Burlington City bank, however, could not be forced to pay surcharges.

Judge Rigg allowed Mr. Palmer $2000 for counsel fee and services. Mr. Lippincott opposed this, declaring $2000 had been paid two years ago for an accounting of the estate.

John Hartness, of Jersey City, who is representing Princess Florence di Camporeale and her children, also applied for counsel fees but was denied by Judge Rigg.

His testimony that he stole an automobile to give his crippled dog a ride won two years' probation for George Dergest, of Los Angeles.

Use of Gas in the Home The Basement

By using gas for all heating purposes the basement becomes another "liveable" room rather than a cellar for storage purposes only.

Gas for house heating eliminates dirt and dust and permits the basement to be converted into a play room, den or an additional living room.

The gas fired automatic water heater will furnish hot water at all hours; the clothes drier makes any day—rain or shine—available as wash day and the incinerator provides a convenient way to dispose of garbage and rubbish.

Public Service will be glad to be of help to you when you plan the basement in your new home or when you remodel the old one.

PRACTICAL EDUCATION

An intelligent contribution to the current discussion regarding what is desirable in the way of present-day education was made by Dr. John J. Tigert, president of the University of Florida, who declared that the true purpose of education is to fit the citizen to serve as well as to live.

He draws attention to two schools of current thought, one of which would stress cultural education, while the other would place chief emphasis upon vocational training. He admits the validity of both, but he would not go to the extremes sought by the advocates of either. He favors a balanced program of education, with sufficient flexibility to meet the needs of each individual.

While not minimizing the value of cultural studies and their absolute necessity for those who would enter the learned professions, Dr. Tigert points out that "one cannot live by culture alone; this is especially true of the great mass of our citizens who must engage in pursuits which involve the use of their hands."

Practical education should be planned in accordance with the needs of the individual in preparation for his life's work. At present too much time is given to preparing for college entrance examinations which only a small percentage of public school pupils will ever have the opportunity to take. The needs of those who must quit school at the end of grammar or high school courses should have more consideration.

HOOVER'S RENOMINATION

President Hoover's renomination was a foregone conclusion by the Republican National Convention. At no time has there been the suggestion of any other name from any responsible quarter.

Mr. Hoover by his intense devotion to his duties and by the constructive policies he has urged upon Congress and the country won an undisputed right to his party's indorsement and his renomination.

That President Hoover has made mistakes his most ardent supporter would not question, but gradually he has wrought out an intelligent program of recovery of confidence in a time of world-wide economic disruption.

The country has responded impressively to Mr. Hoover's insistence upon a balanced budget and a solvent Treasury as fundamental to restoration of confidence. Congress has opposed him but ultimately recognized the merit of his policy. While it has fumbled taxation and economy, yet every constructive measure it has adopted has originated with the administration.

Business, where it has had any policy, has fallen in line with Mr. Hoover—in the organization of the banking pool for aid of weak banks, the drive against hoarding, the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, and the open market operations of the Federal Reserve Banks, as well as in the demand for a balanced budget.

It is the President, moreover, who has been the one immovable bar against cash payment of the deferred veterans' compensation and against proposals of 5 billions in bonds for dubious public works—either of which would have placed the nation on a depreciated paper money basis within a period of a few months.

Tennis prizes, like All-American football teams, are rather mythical it seems. Helen Willis Moody has won the famed Wimbledon cup four times, but hasn't even laid eyes on it so far.

A right mind and generous affection hath more beauty and charm than all of the symmetries in the world besides. And a grain of honesty and native worth is of more value than all the adventitious ornaments, estates or preferments.

Panthers, 25; Firemen, 10

July 7—In an airtight pitching duel, the Park Panthers extinguished the lights of the Riverton Firemen by scratching out their eyes to the tune of 25-10. Throughout the contest, the pitching and fielding of both teams was flawless—well, practically flawless.

Dick Woodward, the Panther heavy-upper, threw the last strike at about and above the head of no fewer than ten of the Hose Company, and gave only one gratuitous passage to first base. Coles, heavier for the Buck-out Boys, fanned two of the Cats and walked four.

Home runs were hit by Donohue and Gootee (two each) and Herbert (one) of the Panthers. The Perkins stole home for the visiting Firemen at the seventh session. Panthers . . . 492 300 584—25 30 4
Firemen . . . 114 000 103—10 16 15

Lamplighters, 20; Lutherans, 13

July 8—With Holvik slamming out four home runs, the Lamplighters outgassed the Lutherans to win a comparatively close game by the score of 20-13. Holvik's feat entitles him to a cubby-hole in the vestibule of the Hall of Fame along with Gehrig and Arlet, massive men.

Anderson and Holvik for the "winners" and Brady for the losers were outstanding hitters, each with five out of six. Anderson also stole home, as Bauers stole second in the fifth inning.

of the Churchmen's twenty-one hits, no fewer than five were subtle bunts that caught the opposition unaware.

Dreer Trojans, 49; Bank, Post Of. 3

July 12—If the Bank and Post Office handled money the way they handle playground balls, the citizenry wouldn't be so unhappy "rawther." They committed and omitted no less than twenty errors in their game against the Trojans of Dreer's, which the latter won, 49-3.

At no time was it possible for the opposition to pull off any wooden horse hoaxes on the Trojans. They wouldn't bite after being twenty-one runs in the first inning.
Leon, Trojan shortstop, hit three home runs as part of his "five for eleven."

PHILA. WOMAN IS CUT IN AUTO CRASH

Accident Occurs as Girl Driver Becomes Confused in Making Turn

A Philadelphia woman was cut about the face in an automobile accident on South Church street, Moorestown, opposite the Standard Oil Company's filling station, Wednesday evening of last week.

The accident occurred when Miss Helen Sharp, Mount Laurel road, driving a Buick sedan, became confused as she turned into Church street from Main street and crashed almost head-on into a Dodge sedan owned and driven by Victor Mangener, 3441 Cottman street, Philadelphia.

The wife of the Philadelphia man, who was cut about the face, was taken to her home after receiving treatment at the office of a local physician, Mangener, and their son Victor, another passenger in the car, escaped unhurt.

Miss Sharp was driving a car owned by George Kern, also of Mount Laurel road. Passengers in the sedan with Miss Sharp were Geraldine Sharp and Edmund Olsen. The three were uninjured.

The bumper on Kern's car was damaged, while the bumper and mud guard on Mangener's machine suffered. The accident was investigated by Officer Howard T. Davis, but no arrests were made, the others agreeing to settle for the damages out of court.

MOUNT HOLLY MAN JAILED FOR FAILURE TO PAY FINE

Jack Dempster, of Water street, Mount Holly, whose home was raided last year while he was getting his annual haircut, was rearrested last week. Charging Dempster with failure to pay the fine of $250 he was assessed when the court found him guilty of making moonshine from garbage he collected in Mount Holly, Probation Officer Frank A. Hendrickson took the man in charge.

PASSING AUTOS ON HILL

Hearn, of 25 Eighth avenue, Haddon Heights, was fined $10 and costs when he was arraigned Sunday night before Justice of the Peace Harry P. McDonough, Beverly. He was arrested by special Motor Vehicle Inspector William P. Young, of Burlington.

PARRY LOSES TO
K. OF C. TEAM

Ramblers Lead League By Narrow Margin; Artisans Hold Second Place

Parry maintained its backside in the Palmyra Twilight League last Thursday evening when the K. of C. won 4 to 1.

In this game Speed Botterger laid aside his first baseman's glove and took up the pitching burden and his performance equaled those of the other first class flingers on the K. of C. pitching staff.

The Knights set aside the fourth inning to score their four runs and a general mixture of base hits, errors, and walks accounted for this little flurry of scores.

Ted Carruthers pitched his usual nice game for Parry, and as before, his support faltered too often for him to pull through as the winner.

The Artisans had a mighty close call Friday evening when the lowly Triangles perked up and acted like pennant contenders for six and two-thirds innings, but a return to their old form in the other one-third inning caused their defeat 4 to 3.

The Triangles turned loose a lad called Bowers, who held the Artisans to five hits and had the game all wrapped up and ready to take away when his team-mates knocked it out of his arms with errors after two men were out in the last inning.

These misplays allowed Leon Coles, the Artisan pitcher, to gather it up after it was apparently lost.

There was a thrill a minute Monday evening when the Artisans and Ramblers played through seven stirring innings before the Ramblers won out by the narrow margin of 3 to 2.

Time and time again the Artisans had chances to forge ahead, but in these situations Dann, the Rambler pitcher, would unwind blinding speed balls in such a manner that the Artisan bats were definitely silenced.

Watson, the Artisan flinger, also pitched a very nice game and only those breaks of the game that characterized baseball sent him down to an ungraceful defeat.

Smart fielding by both sides kept the scoring down to a minimum, and Chie Foulke was outstanding in this particular phase of the game.

Ken Krause was the only batter on either side to collect more than one hit, and he clicked two singles to win this honor.

Aero Club

The Bellanca Aircraft Corporation of New Castle, Del., recently received an order from the Army Air Corps for four Bellanca Airbuses to be used as transports by the Air Corps. This type ship is a large single-engine monoplane capable of carrying quite heavy loads at high speed.

The Auto-Giro you see passing over the west end of Moorestown every morning and evening is being used by an official of the Pitcairn Aircraft Corporation of Willow Grove to commute between the factory and his summer home at Ocean City, N. J.

One of the largest flying clubs in Great Britain is composed of drivers and conductors of London's omnibuses and has 1500 members. Now do not get the idea that these employees are greatly overpaid, because all flying clubs in England are subsidized by the government for each member who learns to fly.

Monday evening, a Kellett Auto-Giro from Central Airport paid a visit to Moorestown and after flying over the town for a while landed at the Moorestown Airport.

We welcome to membership in the Burlington County Aero Club, Vincent Keston, of Mullica Hill, N. J.

RIVERTON WINS AND LOSES GAME

Delanco Wins 7 to 2 and Wildwood Is Defeated by Same Score

The regular Riverton baseball team played a Burlington County League game on Saturday afternoon at Delanco and lost, 7-2. On Sunday they played the Wildwood team at Wildwood and beat the shore boys, 7-2.

The game at Delanco was a carefully played one, with Riverton getting one run in the fourth inning off a triple by Foulke and one again in the ninth brought in by Botter.

Delanco piled up three runs in the second inning, two in the third and one each in the fourth and fifth to win the game.

Riverton had nine hits as well as Delanco. Riverton had four errors as compared with three for Delanco.

At Wildwood, Riverton did much better. In all but two innings the Wildwood players were retired in one-two-three order. Wildwood made her two runs in the second inning off a triple and a base on balls.

Foulke, one of Riverton's heavy hitters, smacked out a home run bringing in two runs with him in the third inning. Reeves, Bartley, Horan and Edge all helped tally for Riverton.

SYLVAN LAKES PATROL SEEKS TO RETAIN SWIM CHAMPIONSHIP

Members of the Sylvan Lakes Beach Patrol are practicing daily to retain the Burlington County Swimming Championship which they won last year and defend in the county contests to be staged at Burlington in August. The Sylvan Lakes Beach Patrol won the title in 1931 against teams from Riverside, Moorestown and Mount Holly. The same communities are expected to be entered in this year's meet, and there is a possibility still others may take part.

CHEWING GUM MACHINES STOLEN AT MOUNT HOLLY

Two more chewing gum machines were stolen from Mount Holly stores last week, according to a report received by the Mount Holly police. The same store which was broken into the week previous and from which a machine was taken, was again visited. Another machine was taken from the store of George Carter. The other shop was that of Mrs. Gertrude Turner, on Washington street.

WANTS TO GO TO JAIL, IS SENT TO POORHOUSE

Charles R. Hartman, 38, of 625 Pine street, Camden, who was charged with Riverdale Police William Vossell for a 30-day jail sentence last Friday. Vossell, who has sent many men to jail when they didn't want to go, refused the strange request. Hartman told Vossell he was sick, had heart trouble, and wanted to go to jail and rest. Vossell took him to Dr. I. Downs, Riverside physician, who examined him and determined he was "ship-shape." And so, instead of going to jail, Hartman went to the county poor house.

FOSTER PRIZE IS WON BY BURLINGTON YOUTH

A Burlington youth, Herman Miller, of 456 Washington avenue, has been awarded the prize for the grammar school division in the South Jersey Blossom Time poster competition, awarded by the Camden County Chamber of Commerce. The contest was held during the recent blossom time celebration. Judges of the posters were: John O. Womatter, of Collingswood, chairman; Ripley Bugbee, of Pitman, and Edgar M. Hughes, of Collingswood.

When police found James Reilly tearing a pay telephone apart in Washington he told the judge he had been given a wrong number and was intent on retrieving his nickel.

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The understanding that Life is God, Spirit, lengthens our days by strengthening our trust in the deathless reality of Life, its almightiness and immortality" (p. 487).

PHILA. RUNAWAY, 13, IS CAUGHT IN CINNAMINSON
A runaway boy, walking to New York, had his trip interrupted Saturday night by Policeman George W. Dorworth, of Cinnaminson Township, three hours after he left his home in Philadelphia. He is Grover C. Edwards, 13, of 826 Montrose street, Philadelphia. Questioned by Dorworth, the lad said he was "going to New York to see his aunt." The Philadelphia police were notified and the boy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Grover Bartlett, took him home Sunday morning. He spent Saturday night in the Riverton jail.

NEW PLANS FOR SWIMMING POOL

Mayor Bennett Seeking Means to Improve Conditions at Park Swimming Beach

Mayor Killam E. Bennett announced at the Riverton Council meeting last Thursday night that he had gone into the problem of restoring a swimming spot at Memorial Park, but that for this year, nothing could be accomplished. The mayor expressed his regret and said that he had worked diligently to provide swimming this year, but investigation showed that legal and engineering complications would make it impossible.

The intention was to construct a dam across the creek that would not flood all of the marsh land and yet would provide water and deep water at all times for bathing. The mayor expressed the belief that next season would find this plan accomplished.

Boy Scouts to Camp Here

Councilman Hahn asked permission of Council to use Memorial Park on the weekend of September 24th to hold a Burlington County Boy Scout outing. The plan is to invite all of the troops in Burlington county to come to Riverton and pitch camp over the weekend. Speakers, entertainment, religious services will be on the program. Council thought well of the plan and willingly granted the necessary permission.

Mr. Hahn said that approximately $500 of the $900 appropriated for the Fourth of July celebration had been spent.

The subject of the abandoned trolley tracks along Broad street came up for discussion and Chairman of the Highway Committee William H. Albertson was instructed to communicate with the Burlington County Board of Freeholders with the view to having that now open space paved.

Objects to Factory Smoke

Councilman Merrill raised objection to the smoke from factories across the river as a menace to the health and comfort of Riverton citizens. The matter was referred to the board of health for their investigation and report for the next meeting.

Mr. Merrill also questioned the desirability of having the Joy Boat tied up at the old ferry slip. While it is outside of the province of the Riverton Council, Mr. Merrill thought that the unsightly derelict was objectionable to Bank avenue residents. No action was taken, however.

Phone Co. Asks Cooperation

A letter was read from the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company requesting Council to advise them of all contemplated highway improvements that would require the opening of streets. The telephone company stated that heretofore serious damage has been done to their underground cables, and under the new plan all future work of that character could be done in conjunction with telephone engineers, thereby saving much trouble, interruption of service and expense. The clerk was instructed to write the telephone company and signify the willingness of council to cooperate.

The building inspector reported $1,674 worth of improvements and $750 fees.

Earl, Jr., of Maple Shade, former Moorsdown High School star pitcher, who is also well-known in this vicinity for his pitching on numerous semi-professional baseball teams, and Miss Phoebe Jackson, of Camden, were married on Friday in Media, Pa., but the fact was not revealed until Sunday on their return home.

The young couple were given a reception and supper on Sunday evening at the home of the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Earl, of North Fork Landing road, Maple Shade.

Mr. Earl and his bride will live at Forty-second and Federal streets, Camden.

Three Palmyra Tots Narrowly Escape Death in Front of Flier "Nellie Bly"

Engineer Stops Train and Watchman Covers His Eyes as Children Dart From Shrubbery Toward Path of Speeding Locomotive

Three little Palmyra children threw themselves into a fit of cold chills Tuesday afternoon when they almost darted in front of the "Nellie Bly" as it roared past Palmyra station. None of the children was injured, but it was so close that the engineer stopped the train and a flagman rushed back to make sure, while Watchman Murphy at the Cinnaminson avenue crossing covered his eyes with his hands, expecting one or more of the children to be ground to death.

The children were Dickie Dickson, of Leconey avenue; Elsworth Hall's little daughter, also of Leconey avenue; and Ephraim Koukoulas, young son of Harry Koukoulas, proprietor of the Carnation Tea Room, Broad and Cinnaminson.

The three tots had been playing in the Grove alongside the railroad tracks and just as the flier came along they ran through the shrubbery onto the railroad right-of-way. Police Officer Charles Lutz and Watchman Murphy both yelled warnings, but the dust thrown up by the train hid the fate of the children from them. Other observers rushed to the spot, all shaking with fear that some of the children had been killed.

All the youngsters, however, were untouched, having jumped back barely in time to escape, and they were probably less excited about it than anybody else.

Officer Lutz was so upset that he said something seemed to be holding back his legs as he ran toward the spot where he thought the children had been hit.

Following the luncheon, games were played by the ladies, while the directors adjourned to the cabin to hold their meeting and election of officers.

The following officers were unanimously elected for the coming year: J. Elmer Hahn, president; Grover Fox, vice-president; Charles Yost, secretary; Frank Johnson, treasurer.

A plan was submitted for the improvement of the room in the Y.M.C.A. building which involves an approximate cost of $400. Hermer Eichner drew the plans and volunteered to donate his services free to the association. The plans call for the removal of the present floor in the center of the floor, the installation of French doors, the laying of a new floor and a number of minor improvements.

President Hahn felt that other religious meetings should be held, similar to the one held last year, addressed by Dr. Barnhouse, and elected a committee composed of Rev. Lockett, George N. Wimer and Rev. Pimm to complete arrangements for the services.

The ladies were later called into the meeting and a free discussion of the contemplated improvement to the assembly room followed. The ladies were heartily in accord with the plan, and as soon as the new committees are appointed arrangements will be made for financing and completing the proposed improvements.

The following board of directors were elected for the coming year: From Riverton, Victor Richard, J. L. Metzger, Robert Col. J. Elmer Hahn, Richard Woodward, E. N. Cooper, Clinton P. Mayfield, Charles H. Yost, Clarence Hubbs and Nathan Lane.

From Palmyra, Charles A. Deliz, Frank N. Johnson, Grover C. Fox, C. F. Dengler, Herbert Parsons, Howard C. Wimer, William Pimm, George N. Wimer, Rev. George Lockett and Rev. Ira S. Pimm.

A vote of thanks was tendered to host, Howard Taylor, for the use of his property for the meeting.

Brown's permanent celebration committee.

The celebration will be held from October 8 to 15.

At the opening exercises of the celebration, Mayor Brown and city officials will have as their guests the officials of Mansfield, Fieldsboro, Chesterfield, Hamilton and Bordentown townships.

"DEPRESSION" SHOWER

A unique party was given Saturday evening by Mr. and Mrs. John Johnson, of Brooklyn, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey E. Stewart, 430 Thomas avenue, Riverton, in honor of Brooks Evert, of Merchantville, who will marry Miss Dorothy Stewart, August 6. The party took the form of a "Depression Shower" and the entertainment of the evening consisted of a doggie and corn roast, followed by cards. Mr. Evert was the recipient of many worthwhile gifts as well as funny ones. Among the guests present were: Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ewert, Nelson McGee, Mr. and Mrs. John Wright, of Merchantville; Mr. and Mrs. George Beeton, Miss Mary Zurburg, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stewart, of Riverton; Miss Adelaide VanSteenburg and Harris Beets, of Palmyra, and Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Early, of Moorestown.

CAUGHT STEALING FARM PRODUCTS

Three Men from Merchantville Raid Taylor's; Give Unemployment as Cause

The fruit and produce market of Howard Taylor, Jr., on River road, Cinnaminson township, was robbed early Sunday morning. Officer Gootee, of the Riverton police, while driving along River road at 3 o'clock Sunday morning, noticed a car parked along the edge of the road. As he approached two men jumped on the running board and the car drove off.

Gootee gave chase and obtained the license number of the car. He called Trenton and secured the name of the owner. This he gave to Officer Dorworth of the Cinnaminson police, and both Gootee and Dorworth went to Merchantville and arrested the men. Three bags of corn, a basket of apples and basket of peaches were found in their possession.

The men and the stolen goods were brought to the Riverton police headquarters. Recorder Cecil A. Bowers conducted a hearing nine o'clock Sunday night. Howard Taylor, Jr., was present to identify the goods and estimate the damage.

The men pleaded guilty, but they all stated that they had been out of work for many months and the need of food inspired the act. All three are married men, two of whom had children to support. The men were all known to Recorder Bowers and were known by him to bear excellent reputation in their community. He expressed his surprise and regret when they were brought before him, but firmly held to the point that the business of stealing produce from farms must be broken up.

Since this practice has been on the increase, Bowers explained, police are watching for such cases, and farmers are protected to the full extent of the law.

Further questioning revealed that the men had been able to secure only one day's employment in the past eight. For this $3.00 worth of food was the maximum penalty which could have been given. A fine of $100, and revocation of driver's license for one year. In cases where the guilty party does not have a driver's license, he is blacklisted so that he cannot get a license for one year.

Therefore a fine of $10 was imposed and $4.00 costs. This was paid by the father of the men and the case settled. Out of consideration for the men who had always been a good reputation in their community and the circumstances prompting the act, the judges and addresses were purposely omitted from this article.

ARTHUR FAUNCE WINS BIG TREASURE HUNT

The Boy Scouts of Troop No. 1, Palmyra, enjoyed a very interesting treasure hunt Tuesday evening. Instead of the regular business meeting, they left the Epworth M. E. Church about eight o'clock with instructions about finding the first message at Garfield avenue and the River Bank.

Instructions on cards led them to ten places and gave them for real long walk, although for some it was almost a run.

When they reached the Y.M.C.A. building they were instructed to return to the church, which was the starting point.

Arthur Faunce was the lucky boy who found the treasure, which proved to be of real value to any scout. It was a purchase order for $150 worth of scout material. The prize was donated by the Troop Committee.

The boys all voted the hunt a very delightful affair.

A CORRECTION

Last week's paper contained an account of an auto accident in which "Arch" Metzner was involved. The article stated that Metzner's car struck a car driven by a New Yorker. This account was incorrect. Metzner was traveling west on Broad street when the New York car turned left off Broad street, striking the rear of the car driven by Metzner.

The River Bank Will Remain Open

By decision of the Riverton Borough Council last week, that section of the river bank between Main and Howard streets, which the property owners in that block petitioned to have closed, will remain open to public use, as it has been for half a century or more.

This is as it should be, and the citizens of Riverton are to be commended on their activity in voicing protest against the proposed closing.

The people successfully protected their rights. Now they should see to it that those living on the river bank, not only this section but the whole bank, be fully guaranteed THEIR rights.

There seems to be no question but that they have endured many things from which they should have been protected, and it is the concern of every self-respecting citizen of the borough that these townfolk should be given the safeguards which he would demand for himself, if the positions were reversed.

Common justice will permit of no less.

And good sportsmanship decrees a decent consideration on the part of the victors.

There should be an immediate cessation of the numerous innuendoes and annoyances, which have grown up since the controversy started.

No fair-minded person takes offense at honest difference of opinion, but petty persecution, especially after the point has been gained, is intolerable.

Riverton welcomes newcomers, and no action, public or private, should ever be permitted to raise a doubt as to the cordiality of that welcome.

This is not the first time that river bank residents have had occasion to complain of nuisances, which in the nature of things, do not occur in other parts of the town, and it is hoped that the appointment of a citizens' committee by Mayor Bennett to cooperate with the borough council will result in working out a solution of the river bank problem which will give those who dwell there the privacy to which they are entitled, and at the same time conserve the rights of the townspeople at large.

We believe this can and will be done.

BURLINGTON MAN MUST PAY $500

Judge Rigg Imposes Heavy Penalty on John Plattner in Liquor Charge

John Plattner, of Burlington, was penalized heavily last week when he appeared before Judge Charles A. Rigg in Special Sessions Court on a waiver of indictment and entered a plea of non vult to charges of transportation and possession of liquor at Burlington on May 7. After considering the case for a few minutes, Judge Rigg fined Plattner $500 on the transportation charge, and suspended sentence on the other count.

Plattner was arrested by a Burlington policeman who was doing traffic duty and who became suspicious of the automobile the defendant was driving. Stopping the car and making a search, the officer found that Plattner was carrying twenty-two bottles of beer which, when tested, showed an alcoholic content higher than that allowed by law.

Plattner has been before the Court on several previous occasions on liquor charges. In 1924 he was fined $75 for possession, in 1930 he was fined $100 for maintaining a house where liquor was kept and $200 for possession, and in January of this year he was fined $125 for maintaining a house and $125 for possession. He was not given any probationary period this week to pay his $500 fine, and will stand committed until it is paid.

Joseph and William McDonough, Moorestown young men who about three weeks ago were fined $50 each after they had pleaded guilty to a statutory charge, and who have since been in jail because of inability to pay the fine, were brought into court yesterday. The fines were kept the same, but the young men were given three months in which to pay them.

Harry Barker, of Riverside, who last October was placed under an order to pay $5 a week for the support of his wife, was brought into Court by Probation Officer Frank A. Hendrickson, who told the Court that Mrs. Barker had reported to him that her husband was about ten weeks behind in his payments. Barker told the court that he has been trying in every way he knows to secure employment so that he could keep up the required payments, but said that he has been unable to get any kind of work. Judge Rigg continued the case for a short period, telling Barker that if he does not show some tangible evidence of desiring to make payments under the support order, he will be more severely dealt with.

CRASHES INTO POLE

A large Virginia Snow Cleaners' and Dyers' truck crashed into a telephone pole at Broad street and Linden avenue, Riverton, Tuesday afternoon. The driver's helper, Harry Platt, 461 Shadon street, Philadelphia, was cut in several places, but the driver, Charles Beidler, of Langhorne, Pa., was unhurt. The accident was caused either by the steering gear locking or a spring breaking, causing the truck to become unmanageable.

BANK AVE. WILL NOT BE CLOSED

Ordinance Before Riverton Borough Council Defeated by 5 to 1 Vote

The ordinance proposing to close Bank avenue between Main and Howard streets, Riverton, was defeated by a five-to-one vote of the councilmen last Thursday night.

More than a hundred persons interested in the ordinance were present, and Council adjourned to the ball room in the fire house, where all might be seated and reasons for and against the measure conveniently heard.

Daniel M. Clifton, borough clerk, read the ordinance. Mayor Bennett suggested that those wishing to advance reasons for closing the street be heard first.

Attorney Joseph Beck Tyler, representing the petitioners for closing, spoke first. He pointed out that when the roadway was laid along Bank avenue in the early plan of Riverton, the road conveniently served the needs of the small community of homes then on Bank avenue.

Privacy Destroyed

But, Mr. Tyler stated, times and conditions have changed. The town has more than doubled in size, and modern high-speed transportation has destroyed the privacy of home owners along the roadway in question, even possibly beyond the imagination of those early residents who were content to leave it open to the public.

Mr. Tyler advanced as another reason for the passage of the ordinance, the present-day conduct of people using the road and lawn.

Frequently cars stopping along the road will run over and park on the private lawns of property owners on the street, he said.

People abuse the privilege of using the lawn between the road and the sea wall. Bathing has actually changed clothes to don bathing suits and vice versa. Persons have knocked at the door of homes and asked for the use of private conveniences. Others have in the evening come upon the porches and looked in the windows of home owners entertaining at bridge. Others have departed themselves, both as to dress and conduct, in a manner contrary to the dictates of good taste and decency. Still others carried box lunches to the bank and left their debris on the lawns. These Mr. Tyler cited as actual conditions, and while they were not the acts of Riverton's citizens, the conditions did, however, exist.

Roadway Dangerous

Another reason advanced by Mr. Tyler in favor of the closing of this section of the bank was the size and contour of the roadway in the affected area. The road is very narrow, and curved and pitched to such a degree that private owners backing out of their driveways have on more than one occasion narrowly missed being struck by cars speeding through the street.

TROOPERS ARREST FOUR BURLINGTON MEN FOR ROBBERY

RECOVER LOOT TAKEN FROM BROWNS MILLS

State Police Aid in Finding Large Amount of Stolen Goods

Arrest of four men from the vicinity of Burlington and one from Gloucester by state police, last week, clears up about thirty recent robberies in Burlington and other places, mostly in Browns Mills.

One of the men is said to have confessed to robbing Turps service station in Burlington and taking about $8.00 worth of cigarettes, candy and tobacco. Entrance in this case was gained by breaking a rear window. Only a man of small stature could have climbed between the bars protecting the windows, it is said.

Those arrested were Frank Morley, 31, 230 Fernwood avenue, Farnerville, who is married and the father of a child; Howard West, 22, of Elm avenue, Farnerville, also married and has one child; Samuel Michael, 20, of Mount Holly road; Joseph A. Sheridan, 22, who gave his address as the Armory, Burlington, he and Michael have been sleeping at the armory it is said. The fifth member of the gang was Thomas O. Whitley, 17, of 302 Jersey avenue, Gloucester.

Morley and Sheridan were arrested first and the names of the others obtained from them. Their arrest followed investigation by state police detectives from Troop O headquarters at Freehold and troopers of the Columbus barracks. Trooper Frank Long made the first arrest Thursday morning at Browns Mills, when he disguised himself as a camper in order to watch their activities. Troopers had been taking turns as "campers" for several days to observe the activities of the gang. Most of the loot found by the troopers had been taken from bungalows in that vicinity.

When Morley and Sheridan were arrested a large variety of stolen articles were found in a car owned by Morley. Subsequent investigation revealed the hiding places of more loot.

Among the articles taken by the police were clocks, bed clothing, radios, pumps, tools, batteries and guns. Most of the stolen goods was recovered in the vicinity of Browns Mills.

Sergeant Howard Carlson and Corporal Jarvis Wood reported recovery of goods valued at $200 from the home of West's sister, Gertrude Lafferty, of Audubon. Articles valued at $300 were found in West's home in Burlington and $200 worth of loot was taken from Morley's home.

Justice of the Peace Frank Lockman, of Columbus, committed the five to jail without bail to await the action of the grand jury.

DRY WEATHER HITS SWEET CORN CROP

Howard Russ Maintains Reputation for High Quality
Despite Drought

By R. C. WIGGINS
Beverly Cooperative Growers

The continued hot weather threatens to destroy the late sugar crop. Some corn growers claim it is even too late for rains to save the crop. Many large growers claim that the late crop will not be over 50 per cent, and that the ears will be very short regardless of how soon rains come. The quality average of the corn this year has not been up to standard, due to heavy worm infestation, wilt and dry weather.

Howard Russ, of Delanco, continues to hold his reputation as a corn grower of high quality. Russ has topped the market every day he has shipped, having started with a price of $4.00 per 100-ear sack. Russ takes great care in selecting and packing his corn, and as a result has established an enviable reputation for high grade corn.

The average of prices at the Auction Market is very good as compared with prices obtained in Philadelphia and New York. In a very few cases have growers withdrawn their loads and secured better prices by shipping.

Elgar Bulby, of Rancocas, chairman of the Auction Market Committee, has sold the largest number of bushels of peaches at the Auction Market.

Charles Heal and Paul H. Burk, of Beverly, have topped both the Auction and New York Market, on Starrapples.

John W. Heal, of Beverly, was the first grower to sell egg plants at the Auction Market this year. Heal expects to have a fine crop of egg plants and peppers providing the drought does not continue.

Harry Sutton, of Beverly, has sold more corn in the Auction Market than any other grower this season. Sutton has been selecting his own seed corn for years and as a result is able to put up a nice package of corn. Prices received for well graded corn at the Auction clearly indicate the importance of putting up a good grade, if good prices are to be obtained.

HELD ON LIQUOR CHARGE

A Burlington woman and a Riverside man were held on liquor charges at a hearing before Supreme Court Commissioner Howard G. Stackhouse, last week. Bail for $500 was furnished by each. They were Agnes Ciechanowski, of 308 Green street, this city, and August Scherrer, of Riverside. Both were arrested in recent raids.

Laughing Around the World With IRVIN S. COBB

For Business, Not Pleasure

By IRVIN S. COBB

THE newly elected Ku Klux Klan, having had its first parade, was now in session behind locked doors for the purpose of conferring the secret work upon a batch of new members. A stranger tried to shove his way into the hall. The keeper of the outer portals shooed him away. Presently the persistent intruder returned. "Say, look here," said the warden, "you don't belong in here." He took a closer look at the stranger. "I'm sure of it. Ain't you Jewish?" "Sure, I'm Jewish," answered the other, with an ingratiating smile. "Well, don't you know the Ku Klux Klan don't let no Jews join it?" "I don't want to join."

"Well, what do you want then?"

Writer Spins Interesting Yarn After Enjoying "Eats", Canoeing and Insight Into Life at Scouts' Camp Mahalala

By a "BIG BOY"

I had such an enjoyable time at the County Scout Camp recently, that I want to tell somebody about it. I'm presuming to write an open letter that I shall ask the county papers to publish — even though it may be editorially unorthodox.

I've been passively interested in Scouts and Scouting for a number of years. I've watched the recent growth of the movement in Burlington county. And I have profound respect for the many men who devote so much time to the development of boyhood.

When I received an invitation to attend a "Jamboree" at Camp Mahalala, I decided to go. The invitation said, "bugle corps, campfire, Scout demonstration." It appealed to the kid in me.

It's an easy drive up to Wrightstown. I got to camp about seven in the evening. The broad green campus was alive with browned boys in scout khaki.

Finds Mess Hall

The hub of activity seemed to be a large low building, set back from the low wooded bluff that looks down on the lake. Any hungry man would have guessed correctly that it was the mess hall.

There were a number of visitors. I waited my turn at the tables. As they filed out of the building (they contrasted with the ruddy, scantily-clad Scouts), I saw a glow of gratification in every face. At last, with my feet under the mess table, I learned the reason.

A swarm of scuttling Scouts kept putting things in front of me, which I ate. In time, I was forced to confess that I had done my level best, and begged to be excused from killing myself with one more bit.

The lake was quiet in the slanting shadows of sunset. Some Scout offered me a canoe. (My invitation had mentioned this.) And I splashed up the lake and back—dinner and all.

Hatchets, Tooth Brushes, Dipsies

The boys live (at least they sleep) in wooden cottages arranged around the campus. Their double-decker beds were made up. Each cottage was spontaneously furnished with hatchets, tooth brushes and fishing dipsies. And there were some other necessities.

There's one old house — built like a packing crate and surrounded by an antique fence. It was built before the Revolution by a family of Jones who first settled there to attend their mill. It's full of old things, including the original deed. Old Chief Mahalala signed it for a consideration of coin and firewater.

A clarion call drifted across the campus. And I investigated impulsively. Sure enough, it was an honest-to-goodness Bugle Corps. Troop 1 in Burlington had enough trumpeters to tingle the hair on your scalp... a stately drum major and a beautiful brand new drum.

Colors Are Lowered

They stood at attention with all the campers as the colors fluttered down.

A brave appeared and ceremoniously ushered in a majestic Indian chief. I learned later that he was really Scout Curtis (one of the staff) who, by dint of Indian knowledge and popularity, had acquired the moniker — Chief Ugi! He reviewed his campers and conferred a green wreath on all the worthy. This elected these Scouts to the honor of wearing the camp

DROWNING DEATHS ARE DECREASING

Spread of Red Cross
Instructions

In speaking of the Red Cross Life Saving Campaign, Victor H. Hartshorn, instructor employed by the Burlington County Chapter, stated there has been a gradual decrease in the national death rate by drownings, which undoubtedly is due to the spread of the water-safety methods, in which the American Red Cross has taken the leadership. Its life saving service developed more than 60,000 new certified life savers annually. The Red Cross life saving emblem is seen all over the country.

The growth of the activity in our own county has been phenomenal, as since the Red Cross has sponsored the work most of the bathing beaches are protected by duly qualified examiners, who not only teach swimming methods, but make the water safe for all who use it.

The work at Camp Oceanic is in full swing under the leadership of George E. Marks, Jr., of Shippensburg, Pa., who already has passed many beginners, juniors and seniors. Roland Petree Trask is in charge of Camp Darkwater, having recently been made an examiner by Harlshorn.

The new bathing beach at Palmyra is popular and will be visited by the county instructor weekly, in order that Red Cross methods of swimming may be introduced there.

Burlington City Beach Patrol is on duty from 10.00 a. m. to 8.00 p. m., both at the river front and at Jones avenue, where there is much swimming in the creek. This patrol has been furnished with life boats and all necessary equipment by the city of Burlington and has already made three rescues.

The Sylvan Lakes Patrol is doing its usual good work under Ed Fairbairner; this organization has done much to increase swimming in the Lakes, as all bathers realize the promptness and efficiency of its members in times of trouble. Manager Ed Ruth has recently purchased an inhalator for the use of the patrol in its first aid hut.

A Senior Life Saving Meet will be held at Sylvan Lakes, Burlington, on Saturday afternoon, August 13, in which it is expected a number of senior county teams will compete. Medals for the winning team will be furnished by the National Red Cross, Washington.

ELLIS H. PARKER IS GRANDDADDY AGAIN

Ellis H. Parker, chief of Burlington county detectives, Wednesday last week became a granddaddy for the sixth time.

A son was born to his daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Fullerton. The new arrival tipped the beam at nine pounds when weighed at Burlington County Hospital, Mount Holly. He has been named William Fullerton, 3d, after his father, an employe of Public Service in Camden.

COL. ROSE VICE PRESIDENT OF PUBLIC SERVICE CORP.

Announcement was made last week by Thomas N. McCarter, president of the Public Service Corporation of New Jersey, of the naming of Colonel Edward C. Rose, of Trenton, as vice president in charge of the southern division of the state, beginning October 1. He became a director of the corporation about a year ago. Colonel Rose is now president of the First Mechanics' National Bank of Trenton. He will resign that position when he assumes his new duties.

ARCHAEOLOGISTS OF N. J. SOCIETY INSPECT INDIAN MUSEUM

Thirty members of the Archaeological Society of New Jersey visited the Indian museum of Miss Dorothy Middleton, of Mount Laurel road, Moorestown, on Saturday afternoon, to inspect her fine collection of Indian relics.

The party, together with Miss Middleton, who is a member of the society, visited Abbott's farm, south of Trenton near White Horse, on Saturday morning and inspected the old Indian village sites there.

Luncheon at Boxwood Lodge, Lambert, was enjoyed by the group before they visited the local collector's museum.

STRANGE SICKNESS AMONG RABBITS, CAUSING HEAVY LOSS

Rabbit raisers in this section have lost heavily this summer from a disease which has carried off in some cases as high as 25 per cent. of their stock. One extensive breeder in the county last week reported that he has lost upward of 300 rabbits of varying ages from the disease, since early spring. Others, while losing many animals, have not been hit so hard.

The most common symptoms of the malady include a complete or partial paralysis of the hind quarters. The victim may eat and drink normally when food and water is placed within reach, for some time, but the sickness usually proves fatal within a week. It is said that wild rabbits are subject to the same malady that has been crying off so many of the large tame breeds.

IMPROPER TURNING CAUSES CRASHES

Commissioner Hoffman Believes Normal Amount of Care
Can Reduce Accidents

Improper turning movements at intersections are responsible each year for many automobile accidents, in the opinion of Harold G. Hoffman, Commissioner of Motor Vehicles, who believes that a normal amount of care can reduce the number to a minimum. The most serious of the turning movements is the left turn, records revealing that eight per cent. of the 31,836 accident drivers in New Jersey during the first five months of the year were executing such a movement when the accident occurred.

"The proper way to make a left turn, provided the roadway is wide enough, is for the driver to work his way as near to the center as possible," said Commissioner Hoffman. "Regardless of whether there is a traffic signal at the intersection, the appropriate hand signal should be used, indicating the intention to the driver in the immediate rear. Too many drivers today depend wholly on the stop lights to indicate a turning movement. In the case of a narrow roadway, a 'stop' light alone does not indicate to the driver in the rear whether the turn is to be left or right, and hence many accidents. My advice to drivers is to forget their 'stop' lights and to use the hand signals for all turning or stopping movements."

Right hand turns have not been nearly so disastrous as the left turn since only 3.8 per cent. of the five months accident drivers were recorded in this category. Yet Commissioner Hoffman finds that this movement can likewise be dangerous unless caution is exercised.

"Of course, the hand signal to indicate a slowing down is the first essential in this movement," said Commissioner Hoffman. "Many drivers make the mistake of not keeping to the extreme right of the road while approaching the intersection with the result that the driver behind, with nothing to warn him, crashes into the side or rear. Wide turns into the intersection are also the cause of many right hand turn accidents."

CITES ABSENCE OF PLANE CRASHES

Only Three Accidents Since November and All Involved Novices, Says Wilson

The comparative absence of aviation accidents in the state of New Jersey over the past six months has been widely noted. Gill Robb Wilson, director of aviation, when asked to comment on this fact, remarked, "There have been only three accidents since last November but that is still three too many, although all happened during the flying of mere novices."

"Why should there be any accidents?" Mr. Wilson continued. "More people are injured every year by mules in the United States than by aircraft. No aircraft failure has resulted to a licensed ship in this state in more than a year. Mile for mile air transportation is the safest locomotion serving the public. The operators of New Jersey airports and airways deserve the highest commendation. They have made safety their keynote and as a consequence have merited the patronage of the public."

"The State Department of Aviation has prohibited promiscuous barnstorming from inadequate fields, urged high maintenance standards and taken disciplinary action in but a few rare instances," the director stated. "The Roman Holiday of the air meet is a thing of the past. People who have foolish thrills can go rock a boat or stand behind the aforementioned mule. Aviation is an industry, not a carnival. We cannot make money at it these days but we can develop a history of safety and comfort and speed in service to the public. Once a person has broken the ice and gone from Newark or Camden to some midwestern city in a few brief hours he will be a patron of the air lines. We have no dissatisfied customers. If weather turns bad, we set them down to continue the journey at a slower pace by pullman or bus. There is no such thing as 'taking a chance' on scheduled airlines. It just isn't done any more than the Broadway Limited is dispatched without knowing the track is clear."

Most people do not realize that no transport plane is in the air "on the loose." The passenger or mail plane above you is on a track as definitely as the railroad train. The train uses steel rails and the plane uses the radio beam. The engineer is guided by block signals and the pilot is guided by direct radio connection. He is advised of the weather along every foot of his path.

COUNTY FIRE CHIEFS PROTEST PROPOSED DEATH BENEFIT CUT

The Burlington County Fire Chiefs Association went on record at its meeting at New Gretna, Friday night, as opposing the reduction in death benefit recently announced and put into effect by the executive committee of the State Firemen's Association. A committee was appointed to protest this action.

Another important item taken up was a suggested change in regulations by fire police, which was made by County Fire Marshal William Smith, of Bridgeboro. The police now have authority only in their home districts and the change recommended is to permit them to perform duties throughout the county. A committee was appointed to secure the efforts of Assemblyman Marcus W. Newcomb to have the change effected.

"KIT-BUNNER" SURRENDERS; GOES HOME FOR LICENSE
William Weber, 29, of Iron Rock Park, near Pennsauken, figured in a hit-run accident at the intersection of York Landing road and Main street, Maple Shade, late Sunday afternoon. Weber had been playing ball on the Mill road diamond, and was returning home when he collided with a car driven by Dr. William F. Hester, 924 Linden avenue, Drexel Hill, Delaware county, Pa. Three hours later, Weber returned and gave himself up to the local police. He explained to Chief of Police Clarence L. E. Ward that his sudden departure from the scene of accident was due to the fact that he had left his driver's license at home. Weber agreed to pay the damages to Dr. Hester's machine.

YOU, YOUR CAR AND THE MOTOR LAWS

SLOW DRIVERS

"There Oughta Be a Law" is the caption over a thought-provoking article I happened across the other day. It is short and worth passing along to the motorists of New Jersey.

"Now that the oil industry has set about to reduce traffic accidents," it reads, "let us hope they direct some of their energies against that smug buzzard who causes most of the smash-ups but seldom figures in one—the slow driver in the fast lane."

"Road rules and motor cops say, 'Don't weave in traffic.' The same authorities say, 'Pass on the left.' They even urge speed, but they never molest the buzzard who will not drive next the curb where he belongs but holds the 50-mile lane to a 25-mile gait."

"To pass him on the right is weaving. Passing him on the left puts you on the wrong side of the road. He is the worst hazard on the highway and seldom gets a reprimand. He is a 'wart on the nose of progress and a bunion on the toe of time.'"

Passing on Right
"Here is the kind of traffic law we'd like to write: 'It shall be unlawful for any motorist to permit another car, moving at a legal rate of speed, to pass him on the right.' Enforcement of such a rule would reduce the number of accidents and save many lives."

Obviously the suggestion has merit. Equally obviously it has disadvantages. The bald provision, "moving at a legal rate of speed" ignores the fact that the legal rate of speed is not always the safe speed under existing circumstances. On two-lane roads, used for example by heavily-loaded trucks, it would be impossible of enforcement, because of sheer mechanical limitations.

On three and four-lane highways, however, it is unnecessary. On New Jersey highways signs clearly tell drivers that the inside lane or lanes are intended for passing. In this way a driver may maintain any rate of speed he chooses in the travel lane, the passing lane providing ample facility for drivers at higher speeds to get by.

What I cannot understand is why motorists traveling on state highways, with the passing lane well marked, fail to keep to the right but insist on remaining, and often at a slow pace, in the passing lane. The pervasiveness of such drivers is a subject that would make an interesting study in psychology.

Problem Serious
The problem admittedly is serious. As the editorial quoted points out, slow-driving motorists are seldom in accidents, but cause many by their excessive caution. Undoubtedly there are many drivers who feel incapable of handling their cars at higher speeds and there are many more who like to loaf along and enjoy the ride. This is fine, but such drivers should keep to the back roads and not clog arteries which have been constructed by the state at great expense for the sole purpose of expediting traffic.

It seems to me that existing regulation, principally that established by the State Highway Commission providing that center lanes are for passing only, offer ample means of dealing with these selfish road hog. Motor vehicle inspectors patrolling the roads this summer have been instructed to see that motorists obey these signs, and I have the assurance of Colonel H. Norman Schwartzkopf, superintendent of the state police, that his men will pay particular attention to this phase of highway policing.

It should be unnecessary for motorists to have their attention called to this by police. Their own common sense should tell them to keep as far to the right as possible. And their sense of fair play should prevent them from holding back faster-moving cars where it is possible by moving to the right to let them pass.

Electricity in the Home

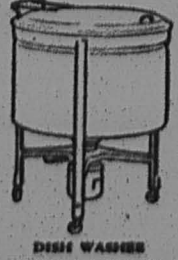

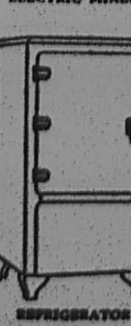

— The Kitchen —

If you are not making full use of electricity in the kitchen, you are missing the chance of saving yourself unnecessary effort.

Electric refrigeration eliminates the bother of the old fashioned refrigerator; the electric dish washer takes care of the dreaded after dinner job of washing dishes; the electric food mixer saves the physical effort of cake making etc; the electric ventilator drives out the cooking fumes.

If you are building a new home or rewiring the old one, call on the Public Service Lighting Department for help. Their services are available without obligation to you.

IF WE ALL THOUGHT ALIKE

Four centuries ago Charles V was emperor of the German Empire, which then included most of Europe. He was the most powerful monarch of his time. But, like other monarchs, he found the job of ruling people a strenuous and troublous occupation.

In his old age Charles V retired to a monastery to rest his frazzled nerves. There he amused himself by tinkering with clocks. He had a house full of them. His pet ambition was to regulate them so that they would all strike at precisely the same time. But despite his most persistent painstaking efforts, he could not make them do it.

Finally he gave it up. One day, seated in his rustic chair, he philosophized as follows: "I was a fool, trying to make my subjects think alike on everything. I can't even make these helpless clocks strike alike."

There are many people today who have the same mania as old Charles V. They do not rule empires or tinker with clocks, but they fret themselves into a state of bitterness, bad temper, and nervous prostration in their efforts to make their friends and the public generally, think as they do.

Friendships have been broken, families disrupted, and civil wars incited because of differences of opinion. The blame does not lie at the door of the question involved, nor in the diversity of the opinions regarding it, but in the human folly of trying to force unwelcome beliefs upon people. It is the same folly of trying to make the clocks strike alike.

Human progress demands great diversity of thought and action. Simple-minded thinking is conducive to inaction and stagnation.

We are like dwellers around the foot of a great mountain. None of us can see all sides of the mountain, just as no one of us can see all the truth about any matter. So, instead of wrangling among ourselves as to whether the mountain is covered with trees, or is bare of vegetation, or is cut by torrents and rushing streams, or has no streams at all, how much wiser it would be to get together and compare notes as to the different viewpoints.

FAT FOLKS SWINDLED

Due to the present feminine craze for slim figures, thousands of women are being swindled by vendors of alleged fat-reducing preparations, which have no value whatsoever.

Put up in the form of "fat reducing chewing gum," or "fat reducing gum drops," some of these fake cures are quite attractive, but several of them which have been analyzed were found to contain nothing conducive to slenderness except a drug having a slight laxative effect.

These reducing remedies are usually accompanied by instructions to eat only half as much food as usual, to take long walks, and be sparing in the use of bread and potatoes. Following these directions would tend to secure the desired result, of course, without the chewing gum and gum drops.

Doctors tell us that it isn't healthful for fat people to be so slim, anyway. "Be yourself" is their advice.

ON THE OTHER FOOT

Complaints about closing the Delanco State Police Barracks remind us of the inconsistencies of human nature.

Everybody has been demanding lower taxes and governmental economies, then when the state does something to economize, we set up a howl.

The fact seems to be that we want the state and county to economize at the expense of some other community, not ours. And the other communities no doubt feel the same way.

SAY THE PROHIBITIONISTS

While debate rages on this great question of whether or not prohibition is a blessing or a curse to the nation, a writer calls attention to long-dry Kansas and shows us this picture, credit it to the Volstead act or to something else, the facts are there:

In that state there 54 counties without any insane, 54 counties without any feeble-minded, 96 counties without any inebriates, 38 counties without any poorhouses, 58 counties without any persons in jail, 56 counties without any representatives in the state penitentiary.

THE UNKNOWN SCOUT

At a meeting of the Boy Scouts of America, in Washington, a bronze buffalo medal was awarded to "The Unknown Scout." The inspiration of this award was an unknown Boy Scout in London, who may be living today. This, briefly, is the story:

Some years ago, William D. Boyce, a Chicago publisher, lost his way in a London fog. A young lad noticing his embarrassment approached him and briskly saluting said: "May I be of service to you?" Mr. Boyce inquired the way to his destination and the lad showed him the way. Reaching the place Mr. Boyce offered the boy a shilling for his service, but the boy said: "I am a Scout; and Scouts do not accept tips for courtesies."

Mr. Boyce was interested and impressed. He asked about the Scouts. His young friend took him to the office of Sir Robert Baden-Powell, founder of the movement, and as a result when Mr. Boyce later sailed for home he brought a trunk full of literature pertaining to scouting. Then he started the Boy Scout movement in America, with the aid of others who recognized the value of such training as it affords.

The medal awarded to "The Unknown Scout," who befriended Mr. Boyce and thus caused the spread of scouting to America, was presented to the International Scout Bureau in London, where it will be kept as a permanent memorial. It is inscribed as follows:

"To the Unknown Scout, whose faithfulness in the performance of the daily good turn brought the Scout movement to the United States of America."

Perhaps never has a simple act of kindness brought forth greater or more beneficial results than that performed by this unknown London Boy Scout.

THE TWO PHILOSOPHERS

Once there were two philosophers who were seeking to discover the secret of perpetual youth.

One of them spent all his time in a laboratory poring over bulky volumes, experimenting with mystic formulas, and muttering the uncanny spells of the old magicians. He buried himself in his work, and gradually shut himself away from his fellowmen.

One day he was looking into a mirror, and he realized his disappointment. He became insane. For, despite all his spells and potions, the wrinkles spread over his face like widening ripples on the wind-swept waters. His body was bent and withered. His skin was yellow and dry as parchment, and his eyes were weary and unspeakably aged. He had failed in his search.

The other philosopher went out into the world. He laughed with the children upon the street corners. He smiled at all those he met, and they smiled back at him. Each night he slept under the guardianship of the stars, and from them he learned something of the beauty of eternity. He read the mystery in the heart of a rosebud, and his ear was tuned to discern the delicately shaded calls of the song birds. He loved everyone, and everyone loved him.

So, although his hair grew as white as the Hawthorne's blossoms, his blue eyes remained clear, frank and merry. He carried his body erect, and his brow was as smooth and untroubled as a child's. The hand of time had passed over him lightly. He had discovered that the secret of perpetual youth lay deep down in his heart.

BRIGHT BUT LAZY

Of the many thousands of high school graduates who have received their diplomas this year, New York claims the brightest in the person of Ellen Elizabeth Benson, who has finished her work preparatory for college at the age of 12.

Several stories of her precocity are told. At eight months she startled a physician who was examining her in a health contest by saying "Baby wants dinner." At 16 months a psychological test showed her to have a vocabulary of 150 words. At 3 years she could read, although no effort had been made to teach her. She is now declared to have the mental capacity of a girl of 19.

All these accomplishments would naturally convey the impression that Ellen Elizabeth is an indefatigable student and worker. But let her tell about that for herself.

"No, I don't like to study. I just read and remember. And I'm lazy about housework. Just ask mother."

Little Miss Benson may make a mark in the world, and then again she may not. Many precocious youngsters revert to mediocrity in later life, because they are too lazy to make use of their natural gifts.

ARE THEY SINCERE?

It seems the Democrats are far more anxious for votes than for beer. The dry Democrats in Congress are blocking all efforts to change the Volstead Act and give the wets "beer at once" as the headlines promised a few days ago, because they want to keep the country dry until after election, at least.

PUBLIC SERVICE

A check-up of cars passing through the street showed that of 22 passing only four carried Burlington county license plates.

It is, of course, within the province of property owners to build fences, but this, Mr. Tyler stated, would bring only partial relief. The Shovel and Frishmuth properties recently torn down, Mr. Tyler stated, are clear indications that the former character of the river bank has been destroyed and that only by closing the roadway can it be restored.

Keeps Newcomers Out

Mr. Tyler stated that one property in a much depreciated condition might have been purchased by one of the friends of a party in the affected area had they not witnessed the conditions that exist today along the river bank. He further said that two property owners who had spent considerable on improving their properties would have to abandon them if they could not be guaranteed improved conditions.

In conclusion Mr. Tyler explained that fellow citizens should not be exposed to such conditions, and presented a petition with 60 signatures for the consideration of council.

Mellvain Biddle, nominee for member of the Riverton borough council, spoke next in favor of closing the street, stating that on another check-up of cars, 11 were Pennsylvania cars while only 2 were Burlington county cars, indicating that the Bank avenue road is being used mostly by outsiders.

Wright Opposes Closing

There being no others desiring to speak in favor of the ordinance, Mayor Bennett called for opposition speakers and recognized Charles A. Wright, the first to speak.

Mr. Wright contended that conditions such as were exposed by Mr. Tyler were largely a police matter and could be rectified. He stated that the road had been open for about 45 years and that the breathing spot so long enjoyed by the people should be preserved. He suggested that the Regional Planning Federation might be able to find a solution to the problem suitable to all parties by moving the road nearer to the sea wall.

Paul Barnhart, who spoke next, referred to Mr. Tyler's statement that he would move if a road were put so close to his home. But Mr. Barnhart pointed out the roadway was already there when the present owners bought the Bank avenue properties. Mr. Barnhart declared that the ordinance, in his opinion, was just an entering wedge to close the entire drive eventually, and urged that the road was an asset to the town and should be kept open.

Worried by Dog

Alexander B. Garwood protested that one of the property owners kept a vicious dog which had shown a disposition to attack him and his child when they passed along the roadway. He also said that others have money invested in homes in Riverton as well as those on the river bank and that the privileges of the roadway were an asset to every property owner and should not be given away.

Harry E. Moyer predicted the entire closing of Bank avenue if this entering wedge were successful. He said that closing the street would appreciate the property values of a few at the expense of the many.

John R. Natsby called for everyone to stand who opposed the ordinance. Mr. Tyler objected, claiming that the ordinance should be considered on its merits, and not by any show of applause or demonstration of sentiment. James S. Coale took the floor and suggested that the borough authorities consult the Regional Planning Federation before taking action that would close any part of Bank avenue. He thought that the federation might have some ideas which would be very helpful in the future development of Riverton, including suitable locations for new school and post office buildings.

Saw Nothing Objectionable

P. H. Michner, a resident on the river bank, stated that he, although comparatively a newcomer, had lived on Bank avenue for three years and has no objection to find with the present conditions. He was surprised that residents living for one year on the same street could raise so many objections. He also heartily endorsed the suggestion made by Mr. Coale with respect to the Regional Planning Federation.

Mr. Natsby again called for a rising vote of those opposed to the passage of the ordinance. It was practically unanimous. Those in favor of its passage declined to register their approval by standing.

Mr. Tyler stated that the people he represented did not want to thrust upon the town something it did not want, and since Mr. Coale's suggestion had some real merit and promise he felt that his clients would be willing to delay action until a plan could be worked out.

Objects to Deferring Action

Harry E. Davis, a former member of council, objected to any further delay in taking definite action. He said that action had been deferred at a previous meeting and that the people were out to see the matter settled immediately.

Mayor Bennett assured him that definite action on the ordinance would be taken that night.

There being no other speakers, Mayor Bennett stated that a petition had been received by council with 66 names signed opposing the passage of the ordinance. Also a letter from Maurice Belknap opposing the closing of the street, a telegram of protest from C. C. Miller and finally a letter of approval from Benjamin S. Mechnig.

Will Appoint Citizens' Committee

Mr. Bennett announced that he would entertain a motion that the ordinance be passed to second reading. In speaking on the ordinance Councilman Elwell explained that he was going to vote for it because, while he realized that many people were opposed to it, he believed it would improve conditions, and, therefore, he favored it, and moved that the ordinance be passed to second reading.

Councilman Woolman said he believed something should be done to stem the increasing loss of revenue from taxes, due to the demolition of houses on the river bank which had fallen into decay, with more probably to follow in the near future. He thought something should be done to bring the river bank back to its former attractiveness, instead of being a wilderness of weed-grown lots, but that he wanted to see it done in a comprehensive way, and therefore he would vote against the passage of the ordinance at this time. He welcomed Mr. Coale's suggestion that the Regional Planning Federation be consulted as to what might be done. In order to bring the ordinance to a vote, Mr. Woolman seconded Mr. Elwell's motion.

One For, Five Against

When the clerk called the roll Mr. Elwell voted for the ordinance, and Messrs. Woolman, Albertson, Hahn, Merrill and Sargent against it. Before the meeting adjourned Mayor Bennett said he thought Mr. Coale's suggestion held great possibilities, and that for some time he had been considering plans to improve several conditions in Riverton, especially on the river bank. Mr. Bennett further said that at an early meeting of the borough council he would entertain a motion that a committee of citizens be appointed to cooperate with council in working out a solution to the problem along the lines followed at the time Memorial Park was secured.

NEW LIONS PRESIDENT

Charles H. Hutton, of Wichita, Kansas, was elected to the presidency of the Lions International in the final session of the Lions Convention which closed recently in Los Angeles. Mr. Hutton is President of the Peoples Finance Corporation of Wichita and holds office in several other large corporations in Wichita. Probably the greatest service Hutton has rendered the Lions Association and the country as well is the outstanding work he has done in promoting the adoption of the "Moral Code for Youth" in most of the school rooms throughout the country. Mr. Hutton is past master of the largest masonic lodge in Kansas and a member of the Midland Shrine.

DORWORTH NABS DRUNKEN DRIVER

Tipoff Drive Jeopardizes Sunday Traffic at the Busy Five Points Corners

Frank Kutynske, 44 years old, of 64 Earl street, Gloucester Heights, New Jersey, was arrested Sunday evening at eight o'clock, by Officer Dorworth of the Cinnaminson police, for driving a car while drunk.

Kutynske, accompanied by another man and a woman, were driving along Burlington Pike and came to a stop when Dorworth who was operating the traffic semaphore, threw the stop sign on Pike traffic. Kutynske stopped, but started to coast backwards and bumped into the car behind him.

When the "go" signal appeared Kutynske started off like a frightened rabbit, made the turn and narrowly missed a telephone pole. He zig-zagged down the road toward Palmyra a hundred feet or more and finally came to a stop on the Church lawn.

Dorworth took the man to the Riverton jail and called for Dr. Mark, who made an examination and pronounced the man unfit to operate an automobile. Kutynske's companions were allowed to go, but he was held for a hearing before Recorder Bowers Sunday night.

The man pleaded guilty and being unable to pay the fine of $200 and $21 costs, was committed to Mount Holly jail for thirty days.

RAID BEER PARTY

Forfeiting Beneficial Society Suffered Interruption

A social gathering of members of the Forfeiting Yearly Beneficial Association was interrupted Monday night by the arrival of Parker Hill and Camden federal agents, who are no respecters of signs.

Two barrels of 4.10 per cent beer helped the occasion to be a huge success. Hill said, until he and his men arrived and arrested Andrew Hirschman, 60, custodian of the Forfeiting Yearly Beneficial Association building, on Route 41, East Palmyra.

The other 10 members were allowed to go home, grumbling because Hill didn't take much stock in a sign outside. It read: "For members only."

Hirschman was scheduled for arraignment before U. S. Commissioner Ralph W. Haines, at Mount Holly.

AUDITOR PRAISES PALMYRA FINANCE

Welcker Reports Palmyra's Affairs Are Being Handled Efficiently

The audit of Palmyra's finances was presented to Borough Council Tuesday evening and the councilmen and mayor were all gratified to hear Auditor Welcker state that Palmyra's finances were in as good shape as those of any of the 37 municipalities which Mr. Welcker's firm audits, and better than many of them.

The Auditor said Palmyra's tax collections compared favorably with those of other towns, although collections are naturally below normal everywhere. Tax Collector Griscum was commended by Mr. Welcker, who said the tax office was very economically and efficiently administered.

A tax sale for 1929 and 1929 taxes was advised.

Vendors' License Pending

No progress had been made on the proposed vendors' license ordinance since last meeting. Councilman Lippincott reported he had requested Leon Ewald, one of the merchants interested, to get the business men together so the council committee could meet with them.

Mr. Lippincott said he had heard nothing further from Mr. Ewald. Charles Hahn said Mr. Lippincott had not been in touch with the right man and suggested that he should have been informed of Mr. Lippincott's desire for a meeting. Mr. Hahn was anxious that immediate action be taken, as the summer, when the ordinance is most desired, is rapidly passing.

Mayor Lamon said Council would be glad to hold a special meeting to consider the matter at any time, so it was arranged that Mr. Hahn should get the interested merchants together as quickly as possible.

Bus Difficulties

The Public Service bus company recently discontinued sending its Camden buses all the way to Palmyra during the slack period from 10 to 3. The buses during this period stop at Union avenue, Delair, where they make connection with Trenton buses. This change had been advertised merely by placing placards in the buses and many patrons had been unaware of it, waiting for long periods in Palmyra for a Camden bus to come along.

Bus Dispatcher William E. Griffith was summoned to appear before council to explain. Ex-Mayor George N. Wimer told of the inconvenience, bus riders and also to borough officials, who had not been informed and could not answer the many inquiries made.

Change in Fall

Mr. Griffith said the change was made necessary by lack of petrol and that service would be restored in the fall. He declared the method of transfer from the Trenton buses was quite satisfactory and that new schedules would shortly be distributed.

Councilmen Mervine, Lippincott, Spahr and others registered protests against inadequate bus service in Philadelphia during rush hours, declaring they had had to wait nearly an hour for a bus. Mr. Griffith declared he could not understand this as a fifteen-minute schedule to Philadelphia is maintained at all times, with seven and eight minutes during the rush hours.

The discussion ended with Mr. Griffith promising to give the best service he could. All buses now take on and discharge passengers at any point, he said.

New Relief Plan

The new relief plan of the state was then discussed. Mr. Wimer explained that beginning August 1, the borough would be required to contribute each month 10 cents for each inhabitant, according to the 1930 census, amounting to $493.80. After this amount was spent the state would then contribute additional money required up to $496.80. Should more than this be required for a single month, the state would pay equally with the borough.

This plan was regarded by council as being rather unfair, because in case not more than $496.80 were required in a single month, the borough would have to contribute all the money and the state nothing. Of the $496.80 possible to get from the state, only such part as is actually needed can be obtained. Thus to get the full amount available from the state, the borough relief authorities must spend at least twice $496.80, or $993.60.

Obviously it will be difficult to control the expense just this way, since the demand in the summer and early fall is much lighter than in the winter.

Welfare Board Named

Mayor Lamon announced the appointment of a Palmyra Welfare Board to administer relief for the coming year as follows: James T. Weart, Ira S. Pimm, J. Horace Pinney, Horace Houser, Harold Marshall, Mrs. George Rivel, Mrs. Eliza Toy, Mrs. Edwin Day and Mrs. Arthur Palmer.

A meeting will be held in Trenton July 28 at which time the details of the new relief plan will be explained. Several Palmyra officials will attend.

One of the relief projects now in progress in Palmyra is the construction of the new pipe line at the sewer plant, in which mostly unemployed local men are given work. The job is under the direction of J. Horace Pinney.

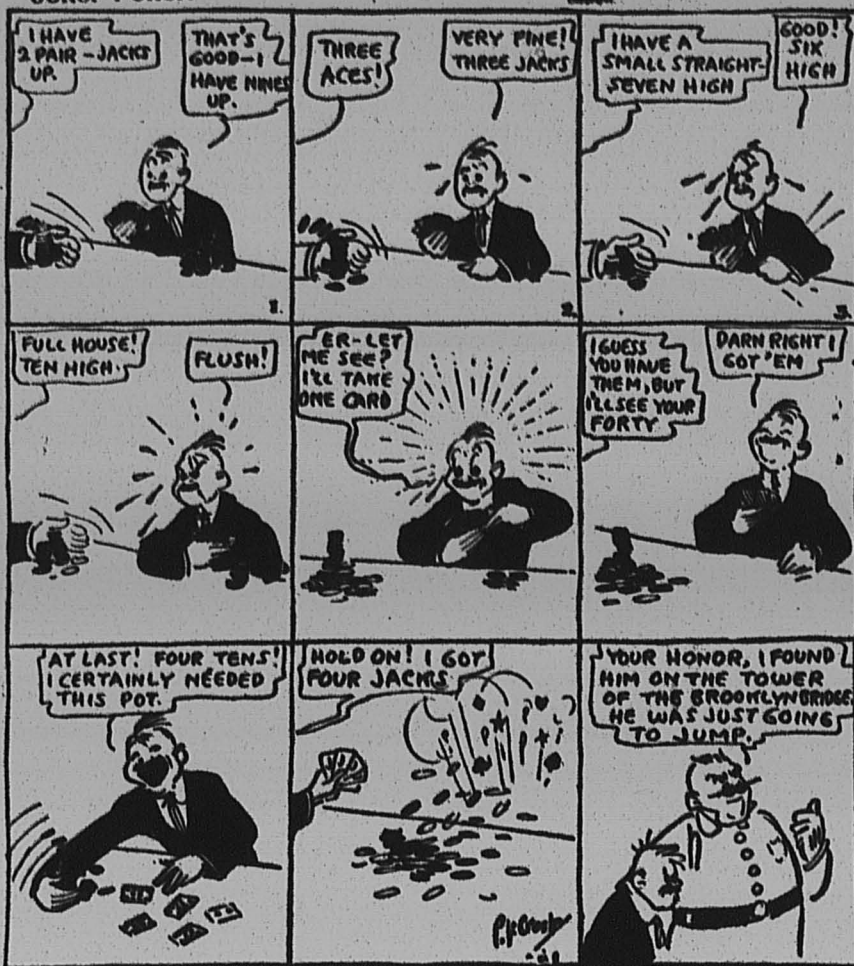

During the council meeting Mayor Lamon took occasion to commend Officer Lawrence Betty for his fine work in building the bathing beach at the creek and also the police officers who beautified the plot around the traffic booth at S-41.

A resolution was also passed thanking the Freshholders for covering the trolley tracks at the station and various crossings with asphalt.

The program of the coming state convention of the American Legion, Department of New Jersey, to be held in Camden August 11, 12 and 13 will be formulated at a South Jersey caucus to be held in Glassboro, Wednesday, July 27.

The convention committee from Burlington county has been appointed as follows: Captain John Thornburg, Mount Holly, Burlington county commander; Raymond Wells, Bridgeboro, assistant county commander, and John A. Whomsey, Riverside, contact representative.

The delegates to the state convention this year will be W. B. T. "Ike" Colkitt, state service officer; Raymond Conrow, and Howard "Buck" Gordon. The latter is city treasurer. Colkitt has represented Captain James MacFarland Post at the state convention each year since 1922.

Definite plans are in the making for the Burlington county dinner during the convention. This affair is held annually and is attended only by members of Burlington county posts.

Temporary plans are being made for the county's part in the ceremonies laying ceremonies at Lakehurst when the foundation of the new "Cathedral of the Air" will be laid.

C. E. Blackburn, of St. Paul, recently received a letter from Paradise, Ariz., and another from Hell, Sweden.

RECOVER BODY OF BRISTOL BOY

Found Near Channel Buoy Where Swimmer Was Seen To Go Down

The body of Herbert Keyes, 18-year-old colored youth, who was drowned in the Delaware river near Burlington Island last week, was found about five o'clock Friday afternoon as it came to the surface near the red buoy which marks the channel.

The body was found by Granville Stevenson, of Bristol, who was grappling from a power boat. He saw the body as it floated in the water near the surface and with the aid of companions pulled it aboard.

Keyes, who lived on Pond street, Bristol, was drowned about 3:45 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. He was with three other youths during the afternoon and when they started to swim to Burlington Island he held back and did not decide to cross until they had made considerable headway. As a result he was alone when he sank below the surface.

He called for help but his companions were too far away to be of assistance. The last seen of him he was near the red buoy channel marker. It is thought he was seized with an attack of cramps or that the swift current carried him so far that his strength gave out in an attempt to swim upstream to the island.

The other youths were Arthur Fuoco, Mahlon Naylor and Theodore Mikopoulos, all of Bristol. They reached the island without difficulty and later joined in efforts to locate the body.

Several boats were manned with volunteers who dragged the river with grappling irons continuously until the body was recovered.

Keyes was a well known athlete at the Bristol High School and had carried off honors in competition in various lines of sport. He was known as a strong swimmer. The fact that he did not reappear after sinking below the surface led to the belief that he suffered an attack of cramps.

BRIEFS FROM YMCA CAMP OCKANICKON

Canoe Trips Still Enthusiastically Enjoyed by Seniors, Middlers, Juniors

Enthusiastic reports have come back to camp of the fun which the fellows had who went on the recent canoe and caravan trips, a privilege for boys who are enrolled for at least four weeks.

A part of the "stunt night" program Saturday evening was the showing of some fifty pictures of the truck camping outing for junior and middler campers, which included a visit to Lakehurst, points along the shore, making camp on the beach, erecting tents, cooking, views from Barnegat light house, scenes over the plains on the return trip, besides intimate glimpses of members of the party.

Embarkations were made at Mount Holly Monday of this week, one canoe fleet going down the Rancocas to the Delaware and returning, and the other to Brown's Mills and return, each group spending a night camping en route. Senior campers started down stream and juniors and middlers up. The fellows selected for these trips are four, five and six week campers.

The Drama Club at Ockanickon, composed mostly of middler campers, gave their first performance on Tuesday night. For some time they have been memorizing their lines and learning to "put themselves into their parts." Some professionals will have to look to their laurels, for with the fine coaching by the camp dramatic counselor a real show was staged.

Gless Wishard, of the national headquarters staff of the Y.M.C.A., will visit camp this weekend. Ockanickon is one of the many centers of Y.M.C.A. camps on his schedule this summer. He will be the chapel speaker next Sunday morning. He came to interest the boys in the "Y" camps of America in some of the international camps of Europe, which the Y.M.C.A. is operating, at good-will projects among boys of many nations.

The services on Sunday were conducted within the camp family. The general camp director, E. W. Barnes, was the Sunday morning speaker. The evening service was almost entirely outdoors chapel. The musical organizations of the camp contributed the vocal quartet and the brass quartet. Nearly every fellow enjoyed the privilege of hearing his favorite hymn.

Tedyuscung is the Indian name selected for this cabin. It was built in the middlers' area.

Then, too, on Saturday will be a minstrel show, the first of the season, taking the place of the stunt night program. Preparation for this has been going on since the opening of camp. The advance publicity promises a great show, to which the public is invited, and without any charge whatsoever.

Persons desiring to come to Ockanickon for the tent house presentation ceremony, who want to go swimming, have supper at Ockanickon Inn, or bring their outfit over for the minstrel show, will indeed be welcome. All three camps are open for inspection on Saturdays, as well as Wednesdays, the two official visiting days of the boys' camp.

A new enrollment plan for the remainder of the season now makes it possible for a fellow to come on any of these Saturdays, July 23, 30 and August 6, or any of these Wednesdays, July 27, August 3. The boys' camp closes Wednesday, August 10.

Enrollments for the remainder of the season, or inquiries should be addressed to the Burlington County Y.M.C.A. headquarters, Mount Holly.

David S. Evans, son of Stanley Evans, former industrial secretary on the Burlington county staff, enrolled last Saturday for two weeks. His father and mother are vacationing at Brant Beach. Mr. Evans is now executive secretary at Binghamton, N. Y.

PLAN TO CORRECT TRAFFIC HAZARD

Freeholder Stout Proposes By-Pass to Bridge in Burlington

It plans proposed by Charles R. Stout, director of the road department, at the meeting of the Burlington County Board of Freeholders last Friday matinee, a dangerous traffic situation at the intersection of Route 28 and the Burlington-Mount Holly road in Burlington, will be removed. Mr. Stout announced that he would ask the State Highway Commission to appropriate $15,000 for the construction of a by-pass via Morris street and Mott avenue to the bridge approach. Traffic has been largely increased at this intersection since the completion of the Burlington-Bristol bridge.

Mr. Stout also announced that the State Highway Commission will complete Route 38, which runs from Crescent boulevard in Camden, south of the Marie highway to what was known as Small's Corner, near Mount Holly, connecting with Route 39. When completed the road will relieve the Marie highway of the shore traffic which it now carries.

Work on this new highway was stopped at the Mount Laurel road in Hainesport township some months back. Stout announced the State Highway Commission would receive bids for the completion of this road August 4 and that work on the remaining section would be started about August 15.

Freeholder Stout also announced that the State Highway Commission also contemplates other work in Burlington county before fall. Bids on Route 40, which is now completed from its junction with the Brown's Mills-Lakehurst road near Wrightsford to Medford, will be opened September 1 by the State Highway Commission, and it is expected this will be completed to Camden shortly after the contract is awarded.

Under the law, county treasurers and collectors are protected from personal loss where county money is placed in depositories designated by the Board of Freeholders, but County Clerk Lawrence G. Minkin was at a loss to know whether this act applied to other county officials and sent an inquiry to the board for information. Minkin named the three Mount Holly banks and the Medford bank as depositories for the funds of his office, and communication was referred to the auditor for an opinion.

The new storm water sewer running west on Broad street, Burlington, to the Columbia river, was completed and was accepted by the county, which will pay one-half of the cost of construction.

Last year the road from Florence Station to the Columbia-Burlington road was improved with state aid, and Friday the freeholders voted to take the road over while it is in good condition. This was referred to the road department.

It was reported that the contract for the improvement of Parnsworth avenue in Bordentown had been let to Gerald Barrett, of Trenton, for $10,907. The county's share will be $5,453.50, and work on the improvement started last week.

The clerk of the Board of Freeholders was authorized to advertise for bids for supplying coal for the county buildings.

Department bills were ordered paid as follows: Finance, $22,047.69; roads, $17,593.98; bridges, $3,974.69; buildings, $10, 150.10; public affairs, $9,982.81. Total, $102,858.27.

SUICIDE FOILED

Young Wife Arrested As She Climbs Rail on Tacony-Palmyra Span

Seized as she was about to leap into the Delaware River from the Tacony-Palmyra bridge, Mrs. Yenger, 27, Scattergood street, near Torrence, is said by police to threaten a second suicide attempt.

Captain John Morley, of the bridge police, saw Mrs. Yenger climbing over a railing as he drove across Wednesday night. He ran to her side just as she gained the top.

Mrs. Yenger was taken to Frankford Hospital, and then arrested by Carmody, a Frankford detective, on charges of intoxication and disorderly conduct. She said she tried to end her life because of a quarrel with her husband.

PLANEY ABOARD MANHATTAN

Charles DeLaney, of 607 Thomas avenue, Riverton, has been appointed second engineer on the U. S. S. Manhattan during its trial trip to Long Port, Maine. The ship left Camden last Saturday at noon. It will take five to seven days to complete the trip, which will finally wind up at New York City. Colonel Roosevelt, Mayor Moore and many other prominent men were expected to be on board. Twelve hundred men will make the trip.

HOWARD T. JONES

Howard T. Jones, colored, died at his home in East Riverton Sunday. Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock with the Rev. Seymour Barker officiating. Interment was made in the Wrightville Cemetery under the direction of Frank Snover.

BOYS INVITED TO SHIBE PARK AGAIN

Days Are Required to Furnish 10 Cents for Payment of the Government Tax

The boys of Riverton, Palmyra and Cinnaminson will again be given an opportunity to see the Athletics play ball under the auspices of the Palmyra-Riverton Rotary Club. Joseph T. Evans received a letter from Shibe Park inviting the boys on Tuesday, August 16. It will be remembered that almost two months ago the boys piled into cars at the Cinnaminson Bank building and got as far as the Tacony-Palmyra Bridge when a heavy rain set in and spoiled the trip.

Traveling to the park will be done on August 16th by automobiles as usual. Each boy will be required to bring 10 cents with him to pay his government tax for admission.

Judging from the number of boys who appeared on the previous occasion, many automobiles will be needed to furnish transportation. Mr. Evans will be glad to hear from anyone who will assist in the transportation of the boys to and from the game.

2 AUTO ACCIDENTS AT CINNAMINSON

Last Friday evening two cars collided on Burlington Pike, Cinnaminson, with the result that both cars were seriously damaged. No injuries were sustained by the occupants of either car.

Charles Powers, of Melrose avenue, Lansdowne, Pa., was driving his car along Burlington Pike in the direction of Camden at an apparently high rate of speed when he left his side of the road and sideswiped the car driven by Conrad Elbert, of Lexington avenue, Delaware Gardens.

Powers skidded thirty-five feet on Burlington Pike before leaving the road and then plowed through twenty feet of soft sand into an orchard before coming to a stop.

Officer Dorworth of the Cinnaminson police investigated the accident and held Powers for reckless driving. Before Recorder Bowers in Riverton, Powers posted bond to appear at a hearing to be held on August 10.

Frank Rice, of Crescent avenue, Collingswood, was arrested by Officer Dorworth last Sunday for passing the stop sign at Five Points. At a hearing before Bowers, Rice was fined $25.00 and discharged.

A car driven by Peter Eliacomo, of Howell street, Camden, and a car driven by Raymond Haines, of G. H. Haines and Son, Parry, collided on the Fork Landing road. Little damage and no injuries resulted and since both drivers were insured Officer Dorworth made no arrests.

SMOKE NUISANCE TO BE REMEDIED

Acting on the complaint made by Councilman E. K. Merrill to the Borough Council at the last meeting of smoke and fumes from the factories across the river, Dr. Harry L. Rogers, secretary of the Riverton Board of Health, addressed a letter of protest to the Philadelphia Department of Health.

On July 23, Dr. Rogers received the following reply from Herbert M. Fackler, chief of the Division of Housing and Sanitation:

"Acknowledgment is made of the receipt of your letter of July 19, in which you complain of smoke and fumes noticeable in your town, from the Pennsylvania side of the Delaware river."

"We believe that we are aware of the origin of most of this trouble, and the matter has engaged the attention of this Bureau, due to complaints on this side of the river. We have been in contact with the officials of the offending plants, and some progress has been made to eliminate this condition."

"We trust it will shortly be under complete control, so that neither the residents of the City of Philadelphia, in this locality, nor those on your side of the river, will have any further cause for complaint."

WANTS FIVE YEARS TO FILE CLAIM

Woman Sues Burlington County for $100,000 for Injuries in Old Accident

Waiting nearly five years before she took action, Miss Catherine Lee Haselbrouck, of Montclair, served notice on the Burlington County Board of Freeholders last Friday, through Sheriff Roscoe Shinn, that she was suing for $100,000 damages claimed to have resulted from an automobile accident in August, 1927, at Chesterfield.

The complaint alleges that the mishap was due to a tree in the highway.

The plaintiff alleges that she suffered numerous injuries and one of her legs was three-quarters of an inch shorter than the other.

It is alleged in the complaint that the tree in question had a circumference of seven feet and at least two feet were on the line of the county road at Chesterfield. At the time of the accident, Miss Haselbrouck was riding in a car owned by one man and driven by another.

Fred W. Mitchell, of Newark, is counsel for the plaintiff, and he has set out a long bill of particulars to cover the situation as he understood it from his client.

The freeholders stated unofficially that they are familiar with the location mentioned and that the tree is probably seven feet from the edge of the highway and is not an obstruction that could be held responsible for any accident under careful driving conditions.

MARKET ROBBED TUESDAY MORNING

Taylor's Homestead Market Broken Into for Second Time This Year; Thieves Caught

Howard Taylor's Homestead Market was broken into and robbed for the second time this season at an early hour Tuesday morning.

On information from Officers Coote and Robinson, Officer Dorworth, of Cinnaminson Township, notified Chief of Police William Vossell, of Riverside, that the car carrying the marauders was headed in his direction and could be identified by the fact that it carried California license tags.

Vossell remembered having seen such a car parked on Fourth street in Riverside. Here he found the car loaded with farm produce and arrested Norman Wilson and Anthony Volpe, Volpe formerly lived in Palmyra and has served in the United States army.

The two men were given a hearing before Justice of the Peace William McCaffrey who held them in $200 bail for court on the charge of breaking and entering, after Howard Taylor, proprietor of the market, had identified the stolen goods.

NEW AD. FEATURE

The New Era is inaugurating with this issue a new feature on the Classified Business Directory page. The center of the directory will carry each week four advertisements of a larger size. These four spaces will contain advertisements of special importance to readers. Some business people will feature special bargain prices in these spaces for the coming week and others will have a message of importance relative to their business.

Beginning this week, get in the habit of turning to the "directory" page and follow the bargains offered therein. This week, all four advertisements are devoted to bargain price offers. Chew's Bakery has an inviting ice cream offer, L. L. Keating offers a tooth paste bargain, H. C. Scherwing has an electric fan special and Becker's Store offers several attractive prices.

Look for and use The New Era Classified Business Directory each week and shop with economy.

LOW FLYING BEING STUDIED BY WILSON

A study of apparent low flying of aircraft has for some time been under way by the State Department of Aviation. While not completed, some interesting observations have been made by Cill Robb Wilson, State Director of Aviation.

In a few instances disciplinary action has been taken. All of these have been against privately operated aircraft. Suspension of the pilot's license is the most effective action. Generally a warning will suffice for scarcely ever is a case of low flying found to be maliciously conducted.

Various conditions in atmospheric pressure, visibility, in wind direction and in the nature of the operation affect the sound of motors and ships passing overhead. The height of the aircraft cannot be judged by the sound.

A closed-in sky reduces the flight level and emphasizes the sound. The stillness of night does likewise. A wind blowing from the aircraft to the listener exaggerates the sound. Most laymen base their estimate of the height of a plane on auditory experience. The premise is untenable. Sound on the ground is broken up by light contours and the ears of men are accustomed to this.

A sound from the sky is different. It reaches the ear in a full rush and reverberates against the background of the terrain. A shell passing through the air or a clap of thunder will be heard many times further than a like noise which had its origin on the surface of the ground. So the plane above often seems to be lower, judged by the ear, than it really is.

Both federal and state regulations and, most emphatically, the operating policies of the transport companies, fix stringent altitude levels at which their aircraft operate. Even more important than any regulations is the judgment of the pilot who meets conditions as he finds them with first regard for the public safety. This includes both his passengers and those on the ground beneath his line of flight.

The transport companies, dependent on favorable public opinion for their passenger volume, naturally try to avoid giving any annoyance to those living beneath their path.

MAURICE RIVER BUILD UP BIG SHAD INDUSTRY

Shad fishing records of the Maurice river, as revealed in reports before the New Jersey Fish and Game Commission, substantiate the theory of scientists that the shad fishery in three years to the waters of their nativity, if those waters are free from pollution. This Cumberland county stream now has the only profitable shad industry in the state and its catches indicate substantial yearly increases. This season the improvement in the Maurice offsets the continued loss in Delaware river and bay with the result that the state total of shad taken actually shows an increase of 10,344 over the year 1931.

GLADYS LATHBURY TRAINS FOR RACE

Funds Being Raised to Have Girl Titleholder Represent Riverton

Gladys Lathbury, holder of several swimming titles, a resident of Riverton, is training for the Canadian National Swimming Exhibition to be held at Toronto, Canada, on August 26. Gladys competed in the same event last year, which consists of a ten-mile swim in Lake Ontario, and finished in sixth place out of thirty-six entrants.

Mayor Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Kieckhefer and The New Era are endeavoring to raise a purse of $175 to send Miss Lathbury to Canada as a representative of Riverton. As soon as the purse is completed, Miss Lathbury will leave to train in the cold waters of Lake Ontario.

Sunday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Kieckhefer held an exhibition in their pool located in the rear of their property, 100 Park avenue. The exhibition was hastily arranged, but at that, fifty prominent citizens of Riverton were present.

Miss Lathbury, her trainer "Bill" Bogue, "Ben" Cohen and Paul Weiner were present to entertain the group. Mr. Kieckhefer introduced the swimmers and "Bill" Bogue explained the difficulties of the course and how Margaret Raviar, who two years ago was not considered by sports authorities to be a possible winner, passed all of the favorites to win the race. "Bill" has great hopes for Miss Lathbury in the coming contest.

Gladys dove into the pool and demonstrated the crawl stroke which she will use in the race. It consists of six scissor kicks with the leg to every complete revolution of both arms. She also demonstrated other strokes and under-water swimming.

"Ben" Cohen, a Temple University swimmer, demonstrated various swimming strokes.

Paul Weiner, a diver of considerable reputation, performed on the diving board for the guests. His skillful double somersault-half twists, etc., brought round after round of applause from the spectators.

A demonstration of various approved life saving grips was made by Bogue and Weiner.

Following the exhibition Mayor Kilham E. Bennett addressed those assembled and laid before them the plan to send Miss Lathbury to Canada to represent Riverton. The mayor stressed the fact that she, being a local girl, should have the backing of her home community. The publicity that would come to Riverton as a result of Miss Lathbury's success in the race should also be beneficial to our community.

He said, and urged everyone who could to assist in the project and expressed the hope that Miss Lathbury should return a winner.

A photographer from the World Wide News was present at the exhibition and took twelve pictures of Miss Lathbury for release in newspapers all over the country. Several poses were made of Miss Lathbury reclining and sitting on large cakes of ice, donated for the purpose by Jos. J. Black, who delivers ice locally. Other poses were taken with the mayor and the Kieckhefers. The day of the race Miss Lathbury's progress will be broadcast all over the United States and Canada on a nation-wide hook-up.

QUOITS

Quoits! The latest addition to sports and recreation at Riverton's Memorial Park. Wilton E. Mount has established a quoit course next to the tennis courts where men may gather and "pitch off" their excess athletic energy.

"Then, too, there is always the fun of a good argument present in all of our quoit-pitching contests. 'By gum she's a leaver,' sez one; 'By the great horn spoon she ain't,' sez another; 'She's in by a cat whisker,' sez 'thir; and 'shey of 'thir pin by a frog hair,' sez the fourth, and so on, far into the night.

If the enthusiasm grows sufficiently to warrant it, Mount has promised to purchase a yard stick graduated into thousandths of an inch with which to settle all arguments.

The quoits are there boys. 'Come and get 'em.'

Present Tent House

Also on Saturday afternoon was the formal presentation by officers of the Burlington County P.O.S.A. of a tent house. In connection with this presentation ceremony the speakers representing the P.O.S.A. were John M. Clevenger, of Mount Holly, and Howard T. Jarrel, of Bordentown. Camp Director E. W. Barnes responded in behalf of the camp and outlined what he thought was the significance of such a contribution.

The camp chief, Peter Bromley, of Princeton, is director of the colored association there which is looking its secretary, Frank Redmond, as director for this camp.

Some 300 visitors enjoyed the minstrel show Saturday evening, which was a very creditable presentation. This coming Saturday night there will be another stunt night program, one of the attractions being the presentation of an original play, to which the public is also invited.

The speaker Sunday morning will be Leigh E. Cobb, executive secretary of the Monmouth County Y.M.C.A. Mr. Cobb is secretary of the Ockanickon board of trustees and is always a favorite as a speaker with the campers. That evening the diving tower will be used as a pulpit for the service and the entire camp will be in attendance in boats and canoes around the tower.

A truck and a sedan were badly damaged when they collided at the intersection of State Highway 8-41 and River road near Palmyra last week.

A truck owned by Henry Carhart, of Burlington Pike, between Burlington and Bridgeboro, and driven by his brother, W. Carhart, of Mount Holly, collided with a sedan driven by Matilda Wallace, of 1160 Fairview street, Riverside, and owned by C. L. Wallace, of 1069 Fairview street, Riverside.

Occupants in both cars escaped injury.

Chief of Palmyra Police Morris Beck investigated the accident and Carhart was released under a $500 bond to insure repairs to the Wallace car when he was arraigned before Recorder William L. Fichter.

OH, MAN

Not knowing that they were being timed, two Mount Holly men were alleged to have stood on the corner of Bultwood and Garden streets and talked for four hours and six minutes one day last week.

This evidently is a record and puts gossipers of the female persuasion to shame.

Given Growlups as Well as Children

Much progress is being made at Palmyra's community bathing beach in order to make it a safe place for children as well as adults. Work on the bathing place is about completed. The muddy swimming place having been transformed into a beach of clean sand.

It is visited daily by people from the neighboring towns as well as by hundreds of our own townspeople. The following young men have offered their services as life guards in order to make it a safe place for children and non-swimmers: William H. Hoare, who is in charge; Francis W. Kapus, Charles W. Kepner, Russell Dilks, Johnny Gorman, George Chandler, Paul Chandler and "Wink" Harding.

These boys are on duty from one to six o'clock each afternoon and evening.

Lessons in swimming and life saving are given each Tuesday and Friday evening through the cooperation of Victor Hartshorn, of the American Red Cross Life Saving Corps. Ten swimmers' buttons and forty beginners' buttons have been awarded the children of the community.

Each afternoon from one until three o'clock Addison Chandler, another Palmyra youth, given swimming instructions to the kiddies who are interested in learning to swim.

Two life guard rings and rope have been donated by Leonard R. Baker, of Palmyra.

FISHER SUBMITS ANNUAL REPORT

Co. Superintendent of Weights and Measures Shows Work Done During Past Year

The following annual report of the Superintendent of Weights and Measures for Burlington County, New Jersey, for the year ending July 1, 1932, was submitted to the Board of County Freeholders:

It is a matter of no little personal gratification that the period records real service rendered.

I think the high point was reached when the State Superintendent sent to our county for an extended period the large test track for heavy duty scales, and with it a highly-trained scale expert in the person of Mr. Smith of the State Department.

All the heavy duty scales of the county were thoroughly tested and findings recorded, with expert advice given by Mr. Smith. As a consequence, many faulty scales of the county have later been renovated, much to the satisfaction of their owners, and to the advantage of the public.

The seriousness of the need of this critical inspection is evidenced when I state that one scale showed a shortage of 80 pounds at one end and 200 at the other. Many others revealed errors in lesser degree. In almost every case the owner was the sufferer.

The summary which follows will give a more comprehensive view of the work performed by this department:

	Cor.	Ad.	Con.	Rect.	Justed	demanded

BACHARACH TO OPEN OFFICE IN ATLANTIC CITY THIS SUMMER

Congressman Bacharach announces the closing of his Washington office for the summer months.

While the Congressman expects to be in Atlantic City practically all of summer, he plans to make frequent visits through his district; it is therefore suggested that out of town constituents wishing to call on him for a personal interview first make a definite engagement so as not to be put to the time and expense of a trip to Atlantic City without purpose.

The Congressman's secretary, Mr. Rourke, will be at the Atlantic City office. Considerable time will be saved by addressing all communications direct to the Congressman at Atlantic City. His office address is 1704 Pacific avenue.

WANT COAST ANGLERS TO SHARE IN SPORT UPKEEP

That a salt water fishing license fee of fifty cents or one dollar would actually benefit the anglers who pay it, much as the fresh water fee has done in providing more and better fishing, is the opinion of President H. J. Burlington of the New Jersey Fish and Game Commission, expressed to a correspondent in answering complaints over curtailment of wardens' service in patrolling coastal waters this summer. Such a fee he believes will be welcomed by bay and surf fishermen when they realize its advantage and it already has the backing of the licensed sportsmen, who consider that those who enjoy salt water fishing should pay their share toward its protection and development.

Jailer Woods Allen, of Greensburg, Ky., walked 10 miles for a brindle cow and drove her to the court house when attorneys for three accused of stealing the animal demanded she be brought into court as "evidence."

JERSEY BUILDING LOAN ASSOCIATIONS FIRM AS GIBALTAR

That the building and loan associations of New Jersey—organizations in which our people have invested more per capita than those of any other State of the Union—have, despite the depression, been stabilized and are in an impressively sound condition is the cheering report of James H. McNish, Deputy Commissioner in charge of the bureau of the State Banking and Insurance Department authorized to supervise the conduct of the business of these institutions.

This gratifying state of affairs has been brought about, Mr. McNish says, by the establishment of effective co-operation between the State, the building and loan societies and leading New Jersey banks.

When the wave of economic depression first swept over the State Mr. McNish and his associates immediately got in touch with the officers of our building and loan associations and wherever they found a weak link in the chain they proceeded to strengthen it by the introduction of sound business methods, which are now enforced in all of these institutions.

Sensing that, with the tightening of the money market and with the increase in the number of unemployed, the great need would be cash to meet all withdrawals, Mr. McNish, with the wholehearted co-operation of the associations, the outcome of friendly conduct and good will, induced the directors of those which were in a dangerous position through lack of speedily liquidable assets, to raise money on all real estate in hand through mortgage loans, which, in many instances, relieved the situation.

Many mortgage loans were also transferred by building and loan associations in need of cash to others which had a surplus of money awaiting investment, and the State also came to the rescue by inducing banks which had made loans to building associations to refrain from pressure for repayment, supplementing this by backing the successful negotiations of associations with "frozen" assets for loans of cash which enabled them to continue business.

As a result of this co-operation and a campaign which silenced "whispering" and banished fear, it is now officially announced that all of the 1,562 building and loan associations in the State, with assets of $1,250,000,000, are solvent, none have closed their doors, none have been sued by shareholders, applications have been satisfied at 100 cents on the dollar, with accrued interest, with the result that thousands of members who had been carried away by senseless fear insisted upon reinvesting their savings in these organizations which have done so much to make New Jersey the Garden State of homes owned by wage earners.

That is courage-inspiring report—a report which will strengthen the faith of the people in President Hoover's belief that the nation will conquer depression through confidence and co-operation.

MEMORIAL PARK PLAYGROUND BASEBALL SCORES

By "BILL" SCHIOPP

Lamplighters, 17; Firemen, 11

July 22—Arsoners, 17; Anti-Arsoners, 11. It was the way it might be put, although the only thing that was the least bit like flames were the protestations of Boss Fireman Ulmer, in left field.

The sluggingest Lampighter was McIlheny, first baseman, with five hits in six at bats. For the Fire Laddies, the honors were split among Borden, shortstop; Wigmore, center field, and Scattergood, first base, with three blows each.

Lamplighters 201 004 918—17 19 8
Cole-Kapus; Anderson-Eagens.

Athletics, 25; Bankers, 20

July 22—Although rallying to the extent of eight runs in the last inning, the Bankers suffered their weekly defeat at the hands of the Athletics, 25-20. A good bit of the blame for the loss, I think, should go to the sluggish base-running of the Bankers, which is a good deal worse than the kind attributed to the Brooklyn Dodgers.

The leading Banker was Faunce, right field, with five hits, while J. Schaefer, catcher for the Athletics, had four.

Athletics 240 105 12x—25
Bankers 000 040—20
Shivers-J. Schaefer; Carty-Bell.

Wesleyans, 21; Reliance, 15

July 21—The winning ways of the Wesleyans were continued tonight to the discomfort of Dreers' Reliance, 21-15.

It may be said that the triumph was tucked into the bag despite the pitching of Richmond, who donated eight walks to the cause of the seeded reliables from Dreers' (double-barreled pun) and uncorked a couple of awe-inspiring wild pitches, one of which cleared the backstop by five feet vertically and ten horizontally. It was very humorous.

It is doubtful if ever such a ball player existed that was so tremendous at bat and in the field, as Harry Kennedy, Wesleyan left fielder. He socked four doubles and a triple into the trees in right field, and reached first on a missed third strike. In the field he made several thrilling catches of line drives, etc.

Strawline, the losers' shortstop, was their heavy hitter with three for six. Wesleyans 401 305 323—21 21 5
Richmond-Oliver; Gonteski-Pacevich.

Ramblers, 17; Tigers, 13

July 21—Scoring seven runs in the first inning, the Ramblers easily defeated the Tigers by the score of 17-13. The Walker of the Tigers hit a home run with the bases occupied by the Ramblers, amassing a beautiful supply of runs and were not in serious danger until the ninth, when the Tigers bunted the bases full.

Suits for the winning team and McIlheny and Walker for the losers were the leading sluggers, each with four swats.

Ramblers 713 111 120—17
Tigers 403 010 032—13

Tigers, 17; Reliance, 8

July 26—The Tigers won their first game of the season tonight by the score of 17 to 8, the Reliance team of Dreers' being the massacred victims.

The game was quite remarkable insofar as hits were concerned. Up to and including the sixth inning each side had but four hits. In the fourth,

Wong Bok Cheung, Chinese Wrestler, Meets John Spellman Monday Night In Grip's Pensauken Open Air Show

It isn't just every day that such a natural results as came about last week, when events which transpired result in a what-the-doctor-ordered arrangement of affairs for next Monday night's wrestling show at Charlie Grip's Open Air Arena Crescent Circle, Camden. For in the second bout, in what promised to be a wild affair and which lived up to expectations, John Spellman, Providence had 'un, came home to win over Axel Anderson, in just such a way that it left every fan present all pepped up with an ambition to see somebody take John apart and see what makes him tick. Then, in the semi number, with Wong Bok Cheung and Jack Wagner, the Celestial showed just that ability to demolish bad hombres, when he let tough Jack make all the gestures for about twenty minutes, only to take advantage of his first opportunity to clamp on his Kung Foo stopper and make of it a Jack Wagner stopper. For Jack, in spite of all his experience, strength and cave man stuff, found himself lost when in that hold, and while he had sufficient fifth and sixth innings, neither side could make a hit, although the Tigers scored one run on a walk and an error.

In the last half of the ninth, following an error by Bowers, the Reliance team made six straight hits, scoring four runs. With two men on base, Wolbert lined into what would have been a triple play, had not the Tiger shortstop fumbled the ball. Although only one man was retired on this, it took the heart out of the rally. Wolbert, with three for five was the leading Dreer slugger, while Atkinson with four for six, led the Tigers.

WALTERS WILL MAKE PROFESSIONAL DEBUT

"Boots" Walters, of Moorestown, boxing as "Kid Boots", will make his professional debut at Batterson's Arena, Mount Holly, in a four-round bout with Sid Weidenbach, of Seaside Heights, Monday evening, August 1st.

Walters, or "Kid Boots", as he is known in the ring, has been making an excellent showing in amateur bouts recently. He is a featherweight.

The feature bout will be for the heavyweight championship of South Jersey with Bill Pfeiffer, Riverton, matching blows with Cleve Galtier, Seaside Heights fighter, in a six-round contest. In addition to the windup, there will be four four-round bouts.

Convicted by a jury of having bitten the town marshal, John Brogan, of Antioch, Ill., dove into the jury box and bit eight jurors.

courage not to concede the fall, and while Cheung did not pin either of his shoulders, poor Jack went out like the proverbial light in a few seconds of pressure, and Referee Bob Jones wisely stopped the bout to save the unconscious Wagner from further and unnecessary torture.

This is exactly what every fan will want to see Wong do to Spellman Monday night, but Spellman rates a broad jump and a couple of hurdles ahead of Wagner, all of which may mean that Cheung will have plenty to think about besides the two neat Chinese who were sent to the ring.

For, with ninety minutes to go, and two out of three falls to win, there promises to be plenty of business doing when these two get better acquainted.

The usual three supporting bouts will be the bill. Joe Montali vs. Pat Rolly tangle in the semi of 45 minutes, and Harry Cornsweat, New York Hebrew and Charlie Hansen coming to grips in the second number of half-an-hour. The usual curtain raiser of 30 minutes, finishes the card.

RIVERTON TRIMS RIVERSIDE, 9 TO 5

Home Run by Bartley With Two Men on Bases Provides Thrill For All

Riverton added another victory to her Burlington County League record when she polished off the Riverside ball club at Memorial Park last Saturday afternoon to the tune of 9-5.

Riverside went to bat the first man up. Headman, smacked off a three-base hit. R. Edge got a single and drove Headman in for one run before the side was retired. Riverton led off with Reeves, who got to first on an error by the pitcher. Edge followed and got on first due to an error by the Riverside shortstop. Two successive hits by Terrill and Easley brought Reeves and Edge across the pan for a one-run lead over Riverside in the first inning.

In the second inning, Riverside went down in the third without a run. Riverton in the last half of the third scored another run when Foulke hit a two-bagger, followed by Terrill who drove him in with a single.

The Riverside boys went double in the first half of the fourth but retired scoreless when Foulke, Edge and Botter executed a neat double play to retire the side.

Riverton gave the Riverside fans a sickening sensation when Bartley, who has been doing some mean singing this year, clouted a homer with Reeves and Edge on the bases raising the score to 6-1 in favor of Riverton.

Riverside staged a slight rally in the fifth and brought in two runs in the first half of the inning on error and passed ball. Riverton rested up in the fifth and retired scoreless.

Riverside added another in the sixth when Young crossed the plate as a result of his single, backed up by a two-bagger off the stick of Freynick.

Riverton settled down again and pushed their score up three more runs when Watson, Riverside's pitcher, walked two men in succession, Bartley and Foulke. Bartley stole second and a hit by Easley brought them in. Botter next smacked the apple and drove Easley in for the third and final run for Riverton.

Riverside managed to bring their score up to five in the eighth inning when Young again got on first and was again driven home by Freynick. Three fly balls in the ninth inning spelled doom for the Riverside team and the game was over.

TRIANGLES LOSE TO ROGERS NEWS

Rambler and Artisans Will Vie for Honors in Palmyra Twilight League

Only a handful of fans turned out Thursday night to see Rogers News beat the Triangles 4 to 0 in one of the fastest games ever played in the Palmyra twilight league.

Three rapid fire double plays and the business-like way the players attended to their baseball, brought this game to an end in less than an hour after starting.

Lody Orcutt had his pitches behaving so well that the Triangles only had four hits, but the sensational work of Elvert and McFarlane also figured in the shutout.

Bowers pitched for the Triangles, and Edge, Reeves and MacFarlane shook out two hits apiece to wreck the last hope of a rally for victory.

Perry made the pennant chase more interesting when the Rambler were thrown into reverse with a 6 to 2 defeat Friday evening.

Shreve Nelson worked for Perry and when the Rambler's only had two hits, but the sensational work of Elvert and McFarlane also figured in the shutout.

Earl Harder started for the Rambler but couldn't get out of low gear, so Clay Welkman took over the job and proceeded very nicely, but the game had been lost beyond salvaging.

Nelson, E. and H. Schuck, E. Schroeder and Reagle were the more noticeable heroes on the Perry club, but the whole crew did their work well.

Triangles 032 030 0-8 9 2

The Artisans kept themselves in the race when they sent Rogers News sprawling 5 to 1 on Tuesday evening.

This defeat practically eliminates the Newboys as possible winners, and makes the balance of the race a two-team affair with the Artisans and Rambler's figuring.

Lody Orcutt was the losing pitcher, but his battery made two vital errors, which were the direct cause of all the Artisan runs.

Leon Coles, Sam Elvert and Vic Kranz had a monopoly on the feature roles, with their swift playing in the field, but Dave Wenger's pitching also deserved a vote of praise.

LATHBURY WINS TENNIS MATCH

Park Champion in Adult Class Will Play Robert Borer for Supremacy

When the playing for the Park Tennis Championship was halted by darkness Tuesday evening between George Lathbury, winner of the Men's Championship, and Robert Borer, victor in the Junior division, the scoring showed that each contestant was the winner in two sets. Play was started on Saturday afternoon but was stopped on account of rain, with the score 2-2 in the first set. This set was finished Tuesday evening with Borer emerging the victor 7-5. The second set was an easy triumph for Lathbury, winning 6-1. The third of the four sets played was another overtime one, and Borer squeezed through to win 10-8. In this set the score went to set point several times before the victor won. The fourth and last set played Tuesday was won by Lathbury by a 6-4 count. This also was a thrilling one and many good shots and placements occurred. The features of the match were Lathbury's terrific driving service and Borer's swift, forehand drive.

Saturday afternoon Lathbury won the Men's Championship by defeating Rene Gros in straight sets, 6-4, 6-4, 6-2. The match was a very good one and even in the first two sets. Both men played a driving game, and numerous good shots were made by both contestants. The players were evenly matched in all departments of the game, both possessing lightning service and well-controlled drives. For two sets the match remained on even terms, and then Gros' forehand drive proved to be his ability for finding the corners of the court. The point analysis of the three sets follows:

FIRST SET
Lathbury 1 4 5 7 0 5 4 7 4 4—41-6
Gros 4 2 7 5 4 3 2 9 2 1—39-4

SECOND SET
Lathbury 4 2 4 4 4 4 4 4—32-6
Gros 4 0 4 4 2 5 4 0 2 1—26-4

THIRD SET

Gros 2 4 5 2 2 2 1 0—18-2

The Memorial Park Junior Tennis Team went to Camp Oceanickon to play the Camp Senior Team and was victorious, winning four matches to the campers' two. The first singles encounter was between Robert Borer, leader and Junior Champion of Riverton and a camper named Cook. Borer took the match, winning handily to the tune of 6-0, 6-0. The second singles was taken just as easily by Edwin McVaugh, of Riverton Juniors, 6-0, 6-0, over Camper Homan. The singles record was kept clean by Walter Smith, third Riverton Junior, who also won 6-0, 6-0 from Camper Evans.

In the fourth singles engagement another story took place, Jack Reynolds, of Riverton, won but not until three hard-fought games had been played. The defeated member of the Oceanickon team was DeLong, and he lost by 6-3, 5-7, 8-6 score. The Juniors lost both the doubles matches by close margins. The first doubles team of J. Gibson and E. Moore was defeated by Miller and Smith, of Oceanickon, 6-4, 8-6. The second doubles was an all-Riverton affair with Warren and Hahn, representing the camp, winning a very close match over the Wallace brothers, Charles and Robert, 1-6, 6-3, 6-2. A return match has been arranged and will be played on Tuesday, August 2, at 3 p. m. As the camp is practically new each two weeks a close match may result.

The Junior team will appreciate anyone who turns out to root for them at this next meeting.

The Junior and Senior Tennis Leaders were started last Monday as a result of the outcome of the tournaments. The ratings are:

CO. TO TAKE PART IN Y' CONFERENCE

Three Leaders Will Represent Burlington Senior Girl Reserve Council

Burlington county again this year will have part in the discussions of activities and aims of Y.W.C.A. work with 'teen age girls, at the Girl Reserve conference to be held next month at Kiskiminetas Springs School, Saltsburg, Pa.

Three leaders among county Girl Reserves will attend the conference as representatives of the Senior Girl Reserve Council. They are Mildred Goodwin, of Palmyra; Bertha Happersett, of Medford, and Betty Miner, of Delanco.

These girls, accompanied by a member of the county board, will make the trip to Kiski in the county Y.W.C.A. car. At the conference they will meet girls from many of the eastern states, with whom they will discuss their problems and programs, and will hear talks by speakers of national repute on various topics of special interest to them. The conference will open August 15, and continue through August 22.

Miss Edith Wells, new program director for the Y.W.C.A. camp at Oceanickon this year, has had many interesting experiences in China, where she served as a Y.W.C.A. secretary for several years. A graduate of Smith College, Miss Wells took up her work in China shortly after her graduation, having her headquarters in Tientsin and Peiping.

Watching the coming of the revolution and the resultant changes it brought, especially the greater freedom and responsibility made possible by the Chinese women are ready to make the most of these new opportunities. In this respect the Y.W.C.A. has proved of great help, as it provides a training ground for women who are being called into community service and citizenship responsibilities.

"Popular education is so new in China that women of very real ability of an executive nature and accustomed to conduct affairs of responsibility by their husband's side in business may not be able to read or write, and yet they cannot be judged by this as inferior to women of other countries," Miss Wells says. "They are born leaders, and speakers, and are quick to handle a situation adroitly and wisely. Part of this ability comes from generations as executives."

DON'T QUIT

When things go wrong, as they sometimes will,
When the road you're treading seems all uphill,
When the funds are low and the doubts are high,
And you want to smile, but you heave a sigh,
When care is pressing you down a bit,
Rest, if you must—but do not quit.

Rumors circulating in Burlington county say the Columbus State Police Barracks will soon be moved to some point in the vicinity of Lumberton. The reports say State Police officials have made several trips to that part of the county looking for a suitable building. The move is expected to be made within the next few weeks, although no official word has been released as yet. The change is to be made it is said to put the only barracks in Burlington county in a more centralized position. BACHARACH BILL BRINGS RELIEF

TO MORE THAN 200,000 VETERANS

President Hoover last Thursday signed the Bacharach Bill repealing the two-year provision of the Adjusted Service Compensation Law, thereby making immediately available the 50% loan value on all adjusted service certificates issued heretofore and hereafter. Under the original Act veterans were compelled to wait two years from the date of issuance of their adjusted service certificates before the certificates had a loan value. The signing of the Bacharach Bill will give immediate relief to more than 200,000 veterans, 100,000 or more of whom would have had to wait until 1933 before they could borrow on their certificates under the old law. In addition to eliminating the two year period the Act also reduces the rate of interest on loans on adjusted service certificates from 4 1/2% to 3 1/2% compounded, which will mean a saving of about $200,000,000, to those veterans who have been forced to borrow on their certificates in the loans are not paid off before maturity. The Veterans Bureau will be ready to make the loans beginning with July 25. Application should be made through the Regional Office at Lyons, N. J. Loans may also be made through banks.
