3 BOYS SAVED FROM DROWNING

Norman Allen and Joseph Easter, Jr., Rescue Lads Clinging to Channel Buoy

Three youths, identity unknown, were saved from a watery grave in the Delaware River last Thursday afternoon by the quick action of Norman Allen and Joseph Easter, Jr., both house residents near Taylor's Lane.

Allen, 20 years old, and Easter, 22 years old, were working along the beach front when they heard cries of help come from the middle of the river, where they saw three boys clinging to the red channel buoy opposite the Pennsylvania water works.

They rowed out to their power boat and hastened full speed in the launch "X" to the rescue of the imperiled lads. Just as they took the boys out of the water the smallest, a lad of about twelve years, collapsed in the bottom of the boat. The other two boys, estimated to be about 16 and 18 years old, said that all three had decided to swim out to the buoy and back from the Pennsylvania side. When they got near the buoy the smallest boy was taken with cramps and the other two were kept busy holding him up and holding on to the buoy.

Fortunately for all, the tide was slack, or they might not have made the buoy, or if they had, they would have had difficulty in hanging on.

Allen and Easter delivered all three of the boys on the Pennsylvania shore without obtaining their names.

THOUGHTS ON POLITICIANS

By "JERSEY"

Have you ever stopped to consider the whys and wherefores of our political brethren as individuals, even as you and I. As to why he is a politician in season and out. Let us consider the matter.

The average man, in order to make a living, has to do, on certain days and hours to do it in a usual way governed by routine as fixed as the Laws of the Medes and Persians. But the politician is something apart. He casts his eye about for the best paying political job that he thinks he can land, and then he goes after it. It does not seem to make any difference to him as to whether or not he is fitted for the work. The only thing to be considered is whether he can land enough votes for himself or for his boss, who will see that the job is given to him.

In this vast country of ours, politics has become one of the fine arts, with thousands of our fellow citizens playing the game for all it is worth. Year in and year out the brethren see to it that both they and their friends are taken care of by the public at large.

On election days, particularly on primary election days, the average citizen proceeds to the polls to cast his ballot. He is handed a ballot with a long list of names printed on it, representing the candidates for the various offices to be voted for. In many cases the voter does not know one of these candidates from Adam, but if the name is listed in the column of the party that the voter belongs to, he carefully places an X opposite the name and then on his way, rejoicing in the fact that he has done his duty as a citizen.

After a lapse of several weeks or months he is apt to read in the newspapers that the government of the state, city, county, etc., has spent all the money on hand and that new sources of taxation are being considered in order to keep the machine going. It is then that Mr. Voter tells all his friends how rotten things are, how taxes are too high, etc., and forms grand resolutions as to what he is going to do about it. But—on the next election day he goes through the same old process and returns the same man or their friends to office.

The politicians have known for years that as surely as the sun rises in the east, the voters will act in this way and the game will be played with the same old rules. Now and then as a sop to the public a few reforms are allowed, but as soon as the coast is clear again, the old rules again go into effect. Read the daily papers as to the doings of the political brethren from our largest states and cities down to the smallest hamlets and form your own conclusions as to the amount of taxes we all pay.

The fault lies at the door of all of us who for years have been in the habit of "letting George do it" when it comes to taking any interest in politics. While many of our citizens look upon election days as just another holiday. The political organizations have no such illusions. They know what they want, and through their organized voters, they take care that they get it.

While hard times might affect the most of us, the brethren take good care of each other and if the cash is needed to keep the nest feathered, it is comparatively easy to tell the public that "the budget must be balanced," and so—presumably it is with great regret that we must increase the taxes.

A democracy is considered by many to be the highest form of government but after all—what have you?

BICYCLE TRIP MADE BY SCOUTS

Riverton Troop Enjoys Weekend at Akeyon Park, Pitman; Some Pass Tests

The Riverton Troop under the leadership of Scoutmaster Washington conducted a week-end hike to Akeyon Park, Pitman, leaving Riverton on Saturday, August 27, and remaining there until Monday morning, August 29th.

The second group, under Assistant Scoutmaster Windhovel, left shortly after the wheel group.

The third group, under Skipper William W. Cook, followed next with "Doc" Hunn and his first aid equipment. This group followed closely behind the wheel group.

About two o'clock the Scoutmaster and Scout William Bishop and Scout Gladney started off with all the troop camping equipment.

Camp was set up about four o'clock and the kitchen was soon under way. At about six o'clock a supper of "dogs," baked beans, cocoa, peaches, bread and butter was served in truly regal style. At half-past seven a thunder shower hit the camp and it rained very hard for several hours. With their new tents the boys were snug and dry. Sunday breakfast consisted of peaches, hot cakes with molasses and plenty of butter and cocoa. For dinner, corn on the cob, creamed peas, cocoa, cantaloupes, peaches, bread and butter. Assistant Scoutmaster Hutchinson was in charge of the kitchen.

A very good time was enjoyed by all. There were no end of amusements, including fine swimming. Although this was a good-time hike several requests for Scoutmaster and other officers to pass some of their tests.

Ten scouts, including Assistant Scoutmaster Hutchinson, remained over Sunday, returning Monday morning. The remainder of the scouts returned home Sunday evening. There were twenty-two scouts and three officers made the trip. Seven of the scouts made fifty miles on their wheels in order to qualify for their cycling merit badge.

Permission was granted to Assistant Scoutmaster R. L. Hutchinson upon the request of Scoutmaster Weigand of Troop 2, Palmyra, to go to Birmingham to assist Mr. Weigand during the encampment of Troop 2 at their camp this week. Mr. Hutchinson left immediately upon his return from the Riverton troop's hike from Pitman.

The scoutmaster earnestly urges all scouts to report for the first regular scout meeting at the troop room, 745 E. M. on Friday, September 9, so that the troop may get organized for the County Camporee to be held in Memorial Park, Riverton, on September 30 to October 1. There is such a short time to prepare for the Camporee that every minute will count.

BRIDE-ELECT GUEST OF HONOR AT SHOWER

Miss Edna Fenimore, of Chestnut street, Delanco, was the guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower given by Mrs. Sheldon Risley, also of Delanco, and Mrs. Elwood Perkins, of New Egypt, Thursday of last week.

Miss Fenimore, whose engagement to Robert Evans, of Palmyra, has been announced was the recipient of many lovely gifts. Eighteen guests were present.

GLADYS LATHBURY FINISHES EIGHTH

Failed to See Buoy When She Was Leading Field by 150 Yard Margin

Gladys Lathbury, Riverton's hope in the Canadian National Swimming Exhibition 10-mile race at Toronto last Friday, finished eighth in the race, after swimming 11 miles to her competitors' ten.

Misfortune overtook Gladys in the first lap of the race, according to unconfirmed reports from Canada. Gladys, according to the report, was leading the field of swimmers by one hundred and fifty yards when she rounded the first buoy and headed out to sea. About a half-mile farther on she should have turned left around another buoy and paralleled the exhibition grounds, outside the sea wall. Gladys, however, failed to see this buoy and kept swimming out to sea.

Life guards saw that she had made a mistake and rowed out to stop her. She was forced by the rules of the race to swim back to the buoy she missed and continue on the regular course. The time lost in swimming beyond and back to the buoy she missed placed her a mile behind the leader and consequently hopelessly out of the money.

Gladys was swimming alone and leading the field with no one ahead to guide her at the start. Even pilot boats were barred from the first lap of the race. With the knowledge of the facts it is easier to understand how the swimmer, with her head under water at least half of the time, might easily miss a buoy.

Better luck next time, Miss Riverton!

GIRL SCOUT CAMP HAS FINE SUCCESS

Excellent Staff Responsible for Attractiveness of Experimental Program

Girl Scout heads from Burlington and Camden counties found the camping season at Mahanala, a new experiment, was a very successful venture with 192 girls attending during the two-week period.

The program was varied and of unusual interest. The group was organized into units, according to the age of the girls, and these in turn were divided into patrols, according to Girl Scout rules. Besides the unit leader, each patrol elected a head and these small organizations within the camp carried on their individual programs.

In the mornings regular Scout instruction was given in life saving, handcraft, first aid, nature study, map making and signalling. A general singing period was held each morning and following luncheon the girls enjoyed an hour rest period.

Then the different units went about their own particular activities. Games followed dinner and then the units divided again for their camp fires.

An excellent staff was responsible for the success of the new venture. Miss Janet Strifehoff, of Baltimore, was general director and her unit leaders were Miss Elizabeth MacGloster, of Beacon, N. Y.; Miss Dorothy Schroeder, of White Plains, N. Y.; Mrs. Helen Young, of Pitman, and Miss Melissa Fouratie, of Montclair.

Efficient Staff

High efficiency was maintained in the kitchen department, which was under the management of Miss Margaret Wright, a trained dietitian in the school of Perth Amboy.

At the water front Miss Virginia Donelson, of Baltimore, was director, and a large number of girls learned to swim and passed their American Red Cross tests.

Miss Beatrice Helm, a registered nurse, maintained the dispensary. Assistant swimming directors were Mrs. Ethel Christopherson and Miss Margaret Smith. Miss Donelson was also canoe counselor. Nature counselors were Miss Loretta Sullender, of Merchantville, and Mrs. Young.

Special counselors included Mrs. Lucille Hanson, Palmyra, athletics; Miss Elizabeth Toy, Palmyra, handicraft; Miss Bertha Schmidt, Camden, scout instruction; and Mrs. Jane Stecher, Camden, scout instruction.

The committees which sponsored the camp included Mrs. David P. Bentley, Jr., chairman; Mrs. William Baird, Mrs. Holmes Gravatt, and Mrs. M. Mays, of Camden; Mrs. William Shoemaker, Riverton; Miss E. Boyer, Riverton; Mrs. Walter Hansen, Palmyra; Mrs. Olive Duffand, Lewisburg; Mrs. J. Aubrey Sutton, Mrs. J. M. Schimire, Mrs. Irving Stone and Miss Jessie DePuy, of Moorestown.

THE PEOPLE'S COLUMN

Modern Merchandising

Dear Editor:

Is this world of ours moving too fast for an ordinary person like myself to keep up with it, or just what is the matter?

Merchandising today truly has me puzzled. In the course of ordinary shopping I find that my grocer is now selling motor oil for automobiles. The drug store offers canned foods and our hardware dealers have a comprehensive line of plumbing supplies. My wife went into a chain store the other day and purchased a hair net, bought the kid an express wagon and said she would like to try some of their ice cream.

It is asking me now to take him to the service station to buy a pack of chewing gum, after I buy fifty feet of garden hose from a roofing contractor, but I feel kind of dizzy and better quit. I think the grocer took the boy to the grocery store to buy a bottle of ginger ale. I ordered—maybe that's the trouble.

I would go to the doctor but I'm afraid he might try to sell me a life insurance policy and then my wife would have to call in the upholders to arrange for a nice quiet funeral.

WOT TH' HECK!

BEATS SON AND LANDS IN JAIL

Chief Miller Arrests Walter McConnell for Cruelty To Stepson

Charged with cruelty and abuse of his son, Walter McConnell, of Second street, Riverton, is in the county jail at Mount Holly, in default of $50 fine, imposed by Recorder Bowers at a hearing last Thursday night.

Chief Miller, acting on a tip, investigated and found that Alfred Bowers, marks of a beating over one eye. On a warrant issued by Recorder Bowers, Miller arrested the father and then took the boy to Dr. Inhoff for examination. The boy's back was bruised and sore and also showed unmistakable signs of a severe beating.

Questioning at the trial revealed that the beating took place on Sunday. The mother had returned home with the boy after a visit with his grandmother, and while she was out on an errand McConnell was supposed to have administered the beating to the 13-year-old boy, who is a step-son. Chief Miller is further investigating the case, and it is found that the boy was continually crying to his grandmother, and while she was out on an errand McConnell was supposed to have administered the beating to the 13-year-old boy, who is a step-son.

WATCH CHILDREN, HOFFMAN'S PLEA

Commissioner Warns Motorists 25,000,000 Will Shortly Return to School

By HAROLD G. HOFFMAN

State Commissioner of Motor Vehicles

Within a week or two the mad morning dash of America's 25,000,000 motorists to office, store, and shop will acquire a new impediment—the doleful journey of 25,000,000 children back to school.

Prefatory to the clash of these cross purposes on the streets and highways of the country, motorists will be confronted with dozens of appeals from public officials and others to exercise a special precaution against a recurring hazard. Such pleas have become one of the most important features of the school reopening story in every city, town, and hamlet in the country.

It is one of the things of which motorists might seem to need little reminding. Yet the number of reminders is so great that it is almost impossible to list them.

An interesting and significant sidelight on this aspect of the situation is seen by some observers. It lies in the figures which show that child traffic fatalities have increased at the rate of one-fifth as rapid as adult deaths.

The figure would indicate that the appeals for extra precautions on the part of drivers are bearing fruit. Few doubt that they are. Yet the fact remains that but one reason usually is given for the less rapid rate of increase; namely, that the children themselves are learning to be safe.

Motorists are credited with little of it. A point to be borne in mind by all motor car operators when school reopens is that extra care is needed not merely in school zones, but everywhere along the streets and highways where they are accustomed to travel.

PUBLIC SERVICE DRIVERS

BONUSES FOR SAFE DRIVING

For safe driving during the last four-months' period more than 3,000 salesmen who operate Public Service street cars and buses received bonuses under the No-Accident Bonus Plan of the company. Bonus checks totaling $17,800 were distributed in the various divisions during the past week to 2,117 men. The distribution by divisions was as follows: Bergen, $1,345 to 148 men; Central, $2,345 to 274 men; Hudson, $2,850 to 242 men; Morris, $2,850 to 242 men; Essex, $2,370 to 247 men; Southern, $2,370 to 247 men.

TAYLOR IS SPARED ANOTHER ROBBERY

Dorworth and Gootie Nab Four Colored Men in Front of Homestead Market

Another attempt to rob Taylor's Homestead Market was probably thwarted when Officers Dorworth and Gootie of the Cinnaminson and Riverton police, surprised four colored men standing in front of the market two o'clock last Thursday morning.

The officers stopped their car and the colored men began to run. Both officers pulled their guns and threatened to shoot, which soon brought all four to a halt. Mr. Taylor was awakened and investigated the market but found nothing missing.

All were placed in the Riverton jail until the next morning, when Chief of Police Miller released them in the absence of charges.

On the evening of the same day Stuart Booker, colored, of East Riverton, was arrested by Officer Dorworth on complaint of Booker's wife, for assault and battery. He was tried before Cecil A. Bowers and in default of $300 bail was committed to Mount Holly to await trial by the grand jury. Shortly after his commitment to Mount Holly, $300 was furnished and Booker released.

Saturday evening a large truck and trailer owned by George T. Bowers, of Helderberg, Pa., completely demolished a Dodge sedan, and slightly injured its driver, Walter Malinowski, of Cambridge. The accident happened along River road in East Riverton at the trolley car switch. It had been raining, and it is believed that Malinowski's car skidded in the wet tracks into the path of the truck, which was headed toward Riverton. Ike Perkins took the injured man to the office of Dr. LeFavor in the police car, while Officers Dorworth and Robinson investigated the accident. The driver of the truck gave his name as Cyrus Timmer, of Biglerville, Pa.

BOYS AND GIRLS AT PITMAN LAKE

Memorial Park Kiddies Enjoy Trip; Dreer and Leach Nurseries Loan Trucks

Last Thursday afternoon found an enthusiastic crowd of fun-seekers at Lake Olimpan, Pitman. Seventy-five boys and girls crowded into two cars and two trucks. Leach's Nurseries and Dreer's Nurseries supplied the trucks. When the crowd arrived at the lake they indulged in swimming, baseball, and a doggie roast. They arrived home about nine o'clock Thursday night, dog tired, but happy.

A paddle tennis tournament was held all week with Ella Bussell being champion and Dorothy Stockton runner-up. Tuesday evening Miss Melitzer took a group of girls on a "snipe hunt" in the woods. Little were trained on large bags awaiting the arrival of the "snipe," which were to be scared up in the woods. Due to miscalculations in the habits of the "snipe" none were inclined to crawl into the bags, and it gradually dawned on the youngsters that it was all a hoax.

A soccer game was held between Riverton and Cinnaminson on Tuesday. Riverton won the hard-fought game by the score of 2-1.

Wednesday morning the playground was strewn with walking trees, but on close inspection "Barnum wood" turned out to be members of the playground carrying branches for the bonfire for Wednesday night's jamboree.

Thursday afternoon (today) a mother and daughter tea will be held on the playground.

The playground will officially close Friday at noon.

HUNDRED ENTRIES EXPECTED IN MT. HOLLY BABY PARADE

Mount Holly's annual baby parade will be held on Saturday afternoon, September 10, and it is expected there will be more than a hundred entries in the various divisions. Mincer, of Pine street, Mount Holly, heads the committee in charge of the baby parade, and with her assistants, is planning for even a larger parade than has been held during the last five years.

DRUNKEN DRIVER FINED

Charged with drunken driving on the state highway, Route 8-41, John A. Roth, 30, of 9013 Cottage street, Frankford, was fined $300 and $21.50 costs when he was arraigned before Recorder William L. Fichter. Roth, who was arrested by Patrolman Lawrence Belski, of the Palmyra police, was examined by Dr. Dean LeFavor, Palmyra physician, who pronounced him intoxicated.

COUPLE CELEBRATE 10th ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Branson Cook, of Spring Garden street, Palmyra, celebrated their tenth wedding anniversary Saturday evening at their home.

Their infant son, Charles Street Cook, was christened at that time, also. The Rev. Harold L. Greaser, pastor of the First Lutheran Church of Palmyra and Riverton, officiated at the christening.

Mr. and Mrs. Cook were hosts to about seventy-five guests from Palmyra, Philadelphia, Pensacola, Merchtownville, Camden and Mount Holly. Music was furnished by a local orchestra and Mr. and Mrs. Cook were the recipients of many lovely gifts.

PREACHER HEALER IS SENT TO PRISON

Colored Man Who "Treated" Patients in Riverton and Riverside Sentenced

Dr. Carl E. Yaecker, colored preacher, with office at 3842 North Broad street, Philadelphia, was committed to the Burlington county jail last Friday for 30 days in lieu of a $200 fine imposed by Burlington County District Court Judge Frank A. Mathews. He was found guilty of practicing medicine in the state of New Jersey without a license.

Two women investigators of the New Jersey State Board of Medical Examiners testified that Yaecker had treated them and had mailed them medicated foods on two occasions.

Mrs. Della Orr, of 288 Hyland avenue, Trenton, the first state investigator to take the stand Friday for the state, represented by Assistant Attorney General Robert Peacock, of Mount Holly, testified that Yaecker came to her Delaware avenue, Riverton, on July 29, 1932, to give her treatment. Yaecker gave treatments to both Mrs. Orr and Mrs. Irene Hutchinson, of 4401 South Broad street, Yardville, another investigator who had called him to the house by telephoning his office.

Mrs. Orr told of how Yaecker looked into her eye with a piece of glass and a flashlight and diagnosed her trouble. She testified that he gave her a chiropractic treatment about the neck and charged her $18 as fee, which included the cost of medicated food he mailed her next day. Mrs. Hutchinson was given a similar treatment for earache and was also charged the same fee.

A second visit was made at the Riverside address by Yaecker August 5, when the treatment and fees were charged the investigators. The bottles of medicated foods and the fee receipts were placed on exhibit in the court.

Yaecker, who represented himself in the case, presented several of the persons whom he had treated as witnesses. He failed to convince the court by his witnesses that he had treated them in cases of emergencies, which would under the law be permitted by a physician not licensed in New Jersey. He failed, however, to produce evidence which proved that he was licensed in any state.

It was brought out by the witnesses that he had been treating patients in Riverton on numerous occasions since April and at one time during that month had held a clinic at one of the Riverton churches.

Yaecker asked the court to dismiss the case on the grounds that he was really practicing "religious healing" and that he is a minister of the gospel.

The court decreed that although he was practicing "religious healing" he was violating the state law by prescribing medicines and practicing in the state of New Jersey without a license.

Wilbraham — Booth

Miss Gladys E. Booth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Booth, of Garfield avenue, Palmyra, and W. Marshall Wilbraham, son of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Wilbraham, also of Palmyra, were married at a quiet ceremony in the Epworth M. E. Church, Saturday afternoon at two o'clock.

Miss Ethel M. Through, of Merchantville, and Henry Wilbraham, brother of the bridegroom, were the couple's only attendants.

The bride was attired in a charming model of dark blue serico crepe with hat and slippers to match. She wore a corsage of white roses. The maid of honor was gowned in beet root chiffon with hat and slippers to match. Her corsage was of tallman roses.

The couple left for a honeymoon in Ocean City immediately following the ceremony. Upon their return they will make their home at 807 Garfield avenue, Palmyra.

Mrs. Wilbraham was graduate from Palmyra High School in 1927. She is a graduate of Glassboro State Normal School and has been a teacher in the Palmyra schools for the past three years.

Mr. Wilbraham, who is a graduate of the Williamson Trade School, is an employee of the Philadelphia Gear Works.

CHANGE OF POLICY

The Becker Store, 517 Howard street, Riverton, announces an important change of policy this week, in their advertisement located on page three of this paper. The store will in the future sell for cash only, and by so doing will be able to offer goods to the public at their store prices. Their free delivery system to purchasers at the store will still be maintained.

BUGLE CORPS WILL VISIT BURLINGTON

Last Year's Champions to Vie With Newly Crowned Kings

The finest bugle and drum corps in the East will arrive to outdo each other in the big American Legion competition to be held on Burlington High School Field the first Saturday in October.

Three of the leaders in the state of New Jersey are certain to participate. The crack East Orange outfit, which held the state championship last year and finished fourth this year at Camden, has signified its intention of taking part. The new champions, Perth Amboy, sent in its acceptance last week. The Burlington County corps, of Post Rodgers, Palmyra, will be on hand as hosts, but will not compete for prizes. This corps won second honors at the state convention this year and has held the state championship three times.

In other competitions East Orange and Palmyra have been arch rivals. Each unit has been among the leaders in every drill in which they have entered. Since the state competitions have been held Palmyra has won most first and second places with the Orangeamen close seconds.

The bugle and drum corps of York, Pa., has signified its intention of coming to Burlington county on that day. The York unit was Pennsylvania champion in 1930 and was one of the most colorful outfits in the East. They wear West Point type uniforms with gold jackets and white trousers.

Another entry for the Keystone State is the famous Norwood corps. This corps has the champion drum major and has finished "in the money" in all but one of its thirty-two competitions.

An impressive feature of the Burlington field day will be a massed retreat ceremony when all of the visiting corps will be massed for the evening salute while the flag is lowered. The Burlington County Legion Band will play the Star Spangled Banner at this time. The ceremony is similar to the army retreat but is more colorful because of the brilliant uniforms of the men.

Next Monday being a holiday weekly reports will be made at the old Post Office Tuesday evening.

Any persons who are interested are invited to visit the welfare headquarters Thursday evening and see the baskets made up for distribution Friday morning.

A gratifying feature of the work is the large number of small contributors, each giving according to their means.

UNDER THE WIRE—A WINNER AT THE TRENTON FAIR

The thunder of hoofs will resound around the Trenton Fair grounds race track for five days beginning Labor Day, September 5th to September 9th inclusive, when outstanding horsemen from all parts of the country will compete in a series of events for valuable purses.

In addition to the regular stakes there will be six open classes, three on Tuesday and three on Friday of fair week. On each of these days one of the classes will be for amateur drivers, which is expected to produce plenty of excitement as the horses pull at their bits in front of the crowded grand stands, rear, turn and dash away around the dirt oval.

On Saturday, J. Fred Mauger, General Manager of the fair, has secured the sanction of the American Automobile Association, governing body of auto racing in the United States, to hold auto races as the grand finale of the great exposition. These races will be conducted by Ralph Hankinson, famous auto race promoter of Altoona, Langhorne and Woodbridge.

Generous cash prizes offered are expected to attract noted drivers from all sections of the country to the events, and new dirt track records may be shattered, according to the fair management.

PAUL PIERGROSS GETS ROAD JOB

Riverside Man Awarded Wood-lane Contract on Bid of $11,156

The Mount Holly township committee opened bids last week for the second time for the improving of Wood-lane, parts of which are in three townships—Easthampton, Mount Holly and Westhampton.

Two weeks before when the bids were opened it was found that the low bid, by Joseph Lafferty, of Haddon Heights, $19,539.15, was about $1,800 over the appropriations of the three townships for the work, and all bids were thrown out and the clerks of the three townships authorized to advertise for new bids.

As a result there were nine bidders this time instead of five, and the low bidder was Paul Piergross, a reliable road builder and contractor of Riverside, who bid $11,156.75, or $8,682.40 lower than the Lafferty bid of two weeks previous.

The contract was awarded to Mr.

Piergross after representatives of the three interested townships had held a conference with the county engineer and engineers and solicitors of the townships interested.

The other bids were:

DelPatra Construction Co., of Atlantic City, $19,991.75.
Haddon Construction Co., of Haddonfield, $19,901.77.

J. H. Schuler, Westville, $17,931.43.

John Pungia, Atco, $18,826.88.

Barnegat Construction Co., Barnegat, $18,826.88.

Joseph Lafferty, Haddon Heights, $19,539.15.

Edward P. Campenelli, Hammonton, $21,810.20.

Mattaeo Construction Co., Camden, $17,752.05.

The total length of the road to be improved is 3.73 miles, and it is to be a bituminous surface-treated gravel roadway.

PENNA. COAL DEALER PAYS FINE FOR SHORT WEIGHTS

Arrested on two improper weight charges, Alfred Cathers, 35, of Mahanoy City, a Pennsylvania coal dealer, was fined $75 and costs of $15 at a hearing before Justice of the Peace Robert W. Kidd, of Pennsboro, and released when relatives paid his fine. Cathers was arrested by Howard Hitchner, Woodstown, county supervisor of weights and measures. A load of coal, which Cathers had brought to Pennsboro from his home, which he claimed contained four tons was found to be 1,350 pounds short. Cathers was charged with failure to have a certified weight master weigh his load and giving short weight. He was fined $50 on the first count and $25 on the other.

FINE INVESTITURE SERVICE IS HELD BY BOY SCOUTS

Scoutmaster and Twelve Lads at Birmingham Camp This Week

SEA SCOUT PATROL IS ORGANIZED

Solicit Services of Seafaring Man to Instruct Youthful Mariners

Troop No. 2, Boy Scouts, of Palmyra, held an excellent investiture service at the Lutheran Church Thursday evening of last week.

J. Baird, W. Kessler, J. Eigenbrod, A. Stocker and Jensen were invested with the rank of tenderfoot. Paul Don was raised to second class scout and Clifford Loane received his first class emblem.

Scoutmaster Weigand and twelve scouts left Saturday for camp at Birmingham, near Pemberton. The week's program includes campfire, church service by scouts, entertainment among scouts, stunt night, a speaker, troop committee night and inception of Troop No. 2 under the name of Service Troop of Palmyra.

Assistant Scoutmaster Roy Hutchinson, of Riverton, supervises the meals at the camp. Parents of the boys are invited to visit the camp at any time. Help and suggestions will be appreciated by the scoutmaster and members of the troop and troop committee.

A Sea Scout patrol has been formed in Troop No. 2 under the leadership of C. Tait. Eagle Scout Carl Wilcox is mate.

The patrol now enlisted is as follows: H. Brady, G. Chandler, C. Kepner, Sanford, W. Headington, Loane and Marley. Suitable quarters have been obtained for the patrol, on the river front and after repairs are made it will be used as the base for the patrol.

The troop committee is desirous of obtaining the services of a seafaring man who can devote a little time to these older boys and teach them the necessary things required in water work, such as marine seamanship, small boat work, navigation, etc. He would also be asked to act as skipper of the patrol.

SHORE BIRDS IN SEASON SEPT. 1; HUNTERS EAGER

Bay shores and meadows will make a big contribution to sport and food for New Jersey gunners, when the season opens at noon, September 1, for sora, marsh hen or clapper or king rails and for other rails, except coot, and for gallinules. Great early flights of these shore birds are reported from all parts of the coast and from the Delaware valley. The shore bird season will provide the first hunting of the year for Jersey nimrods, since federal emergency regulations banned the usual January wild fowl hunting. Daily bag limits, as fixed by state law, are: "Twenty-five sora, twenty-five in the aggregate of all kinds of rail except sora, including marsh hens and gallinules, but not more than fifteen of any one species."

ROAD CONTRACT GIVEN

A contract for paving 4.6 miles of Route 40, Marlton pike, between King's highway, Camden county, and Marlton, has been awarded by the State Highway Commission to William Eisenberg & Sons, of Camden, at $285,222. The bid was one of 97 opened by the commission in Trenton on six projects whose total cost will be about $1,729,000. Most of the improvements are to be made in North Jersey.

STEINBORN DEBUT TUESDAY NIGHT

German Heavyweight Meets Floyd Marshall in Mat Windup at Camden

More new faces will grace the next wrestling card to be staged at Promoter Charley Grip's open-air arena, at Crescent Circle, opposite the Central Airport, Camden, next Tuesday night. Seven of the eight grapplers, scheduled to appear will be making their first appearances.

Henry Steinborn, of Germany, rated among the topnotchers, is due to clash with Floyd Marshall, West Coast heavyweight, in the feature bout of 30 minutes, two out of three falls to win. Both will be making their first bows before South Jersey mat adherents.

"Hustling Pat" O'Shocker, Irish giant, is slated to mingle with Buck Olsen, of Minnesota, in the 45-minute semi-final, one fall to win. O'Shocker and Olsen are newcomers, the latter being billed to show here last week but failing to put in an appearance.

Fred Grubmier, Iowa "snake" who handed Joe Kleckner, of Moorestown, his first setback last Monday night, returns to battle John Maxos, tough Greek, in the second bout of 30 minutes. George Vassell, another Greek, tackles Frank Bronowicz, of Russia, in the 30-minute opener. Maxos, Vassell and Bronowicz also are newcomers.

One fall will decide both preliminary matches.

NOT MUCH CHANGE

Each generation of men from time immemorial has produced its pessimists and cynics, who have viewed with alarm the deplorable tendencies of their contemporaries.

According to these gloomy individuals the downward trend of human morals has always been in evidence, with the skids to perdition well greased.

As a matter of fact, there has been little change in human nature since the dawn of civilization. At any time in the word's history there has been ample grounds for pessimism on the part of those who prefer to look upon the dark side. A writer in the Boston Chronicle in the year 1800 pictured conditions closely resembling those of the present day, from the viewpoint of the alarmist. In an article entitled "Prices Current," he wrote:

"Morals—Falling rapidly
"Modesty (female)—Quite out of fashion.
"National honor—None on the market.
"Public Taxes—In great abundance.
"Religion—No price offered.

Public Virtue—A contraband article; if discovered would ruin it's possessor."
But there was nothing original in the lugubrious reflections of this writer of 132 years ago. The same things, in substance, were said centuries before, are being said today and will probably be said for centuries to come.

A DICTATOR'S MAXIMS

Many and varied opinions have been expressed concerning Mussolini, the Italian dictator, some believing him to be the greatest leader of his generation, others condemning as a tyrant and menace to the world's peace.

Whatever one's estimate of him may be, it can not be denied that he has maintained a firm grip on his country since he rose to power ten years ago. While he talks a good deal, he is essentially a man of action. He is fond of uttering terse maxims touching many subjects. We quote a few to give some insight into his character:

"It is not enough to seem sincere—one must be sincere."
"Intelligent pessimism is much better than unintelligent optimism."
"Italy is too poor to indulge in bad government."

"I don't believe in conferences. I believe in work. Italy is at work."

"I prefer a platoon of police who can act to to a crowd of collegians who can but debate."

"The training that counts for most is that which equips us to cope with things that are going wrong."

"We are not concerned exclusively with the schools. The theatre, the concert hall, the museums, all contribute to our education. Training does not end on graduation day. All things, are school to him who is teachable."

GIVE THE CHILDREN AN "EXTRA BREAK"

Reminding the motorist that schools will reopen again within a few weeks, Motor Vehicle Commissioner Harold G. Hoffman has pleaded with drivers to give school children an extra break.

"School time," he said, "should be caution time for drivers." During the excitement of the first few weeks of studies, these little folks, with schoolbooks tucked under their arms and brimful of youthful enthusiasm and energy, can be depended upon to do things they shouldn't do.

"They will dart across streets in spite of all parental injunction and in spite of local traffic laws. They will forget to stop and look both ways. Yes, they will even play on busy streets."

"Therefore, Mr. Motorist, give them an extra break. Treat them with the same consideration you would your own flesh and blood. After all, they are somebody's children and heartaches are very much the same the world over."

Commissioner Hoffman said that during the first half of 1932, seventy-seven children of school age (under 15) were killed by automobiles in the State and 2,086 were injured. When struck, all of the children were doing one of three things, namely, playing in the street, crossing street between intersections or stepping into the street from behind parked cars, into the path of moving vehicles.

The motorist will be wise to take the Commissioner's advice. Many heartaches will be saved if the children are given an "extra break."

PLAYGROUND BASEBALL SCORES

Rambler 18, Athletics 15

Aug. 25—After the Athletics had gotten together a 13-0 lead in the first two innings, against the Ramblers, the Ramblers came back strong and finished on the sunny side of an 18-15 score. As the Ramblers went to pieces in the early innings, so went the Athletics in the later ones.

Between remarks about the illegality of Eddie Williams' pitching, the Athletics swatted out thirteen runs on eleven hits and three errors in the first and second stanzas, then settled down to a succession of zero marks until the seventh, when George Brown made the circuit of the bases as Weniger tried to make a running catch of a short fly.

Meanwhile, the Ramblers, helped by Athletic errors, some of which were very glaring, piled up enough runs to pass the team from Cinnaminson. Fred Conway with four blows led the Ramblers, while F. Schaefer and Oliver garnered three apiece for the Athletics.

Athletics ..... 700 000 20—15 14 7
Rambler ..... 024 072 3x—18 18 7

Tigers 13, Trojans 9

Aug. 25—The Tigers walloped the Trojans of Droers by a score of 13-9. Record of hits and errors was not kept.

Tigers ..... 053 300 02x—13
Broderston-McDermott; Wald-Carhart.

Lutherans 29, Bankers 7

Aug. 26—In a wild and woolly game, in a battle for the cellar, the Lutherans nosed out the Bankers, the margin being 29-7. After such a wallowing by a team of the ilk of the Lutherans nothing short of three consecutive miracles can jerk the Bankers from the cellar. It is possible that their reluctance to come upstairs is because there is some "pre-war stuff" down that cellar?

It was fierce. Along about the fourth or fifth inning, the entire Lutheran team, led by three Democratic senators and twelve expunged members, set upon Base-Ump Goldberg and pounded him to a pulp, all because the Lutherans thought the Bankers were getting too much the worse of it. After the U. S. Marines, without whom war is complete, and the Federal Bureau of Investigation and police departments had been called out, the quarrel was quelled.

Speaking of umpires (and who was?) there is little chance of any of that tribe in this league getting that dread malady UMPIRE'S THUMB, inasmuch as they call "em out with extended index finger, not the Big League thumb system. Umpire's Thumb is a terrible disease in which the thumb of the afflicted one is distorted to an upright position, causing much agony and pain. If he wakes up some morning with a pain in his thumbs—

Manager Schopp of the Lutherans was the batting hero of the day, slugging out six straight hits which included three home runs. Bill Landgraf, also of the Lutherans, made five hits. For the Bankers, Armstrong and Bell each made four.

The Bankers scored 14 runs in the first half of the eighth stanza which were not counted because three outs had not been made before the game was called.

Lutherans ..... 063 123 4—29 22 3
Carty, Armstrong-Bell; Brady-Tait.

Lamplighters 9, Reliance 9

Aug. 26—The Reliance team rallied in the last inning to earn a tie with the Lamplighters, the score being 9-9. It is possible that record of hits was kept, but we are not good at deciphering score-books other than our own. The one for this game was kept in what appears to be inconsistent code.

Reliance ..... 111 000 6—9
Lamplighters ..... 103 210 2—9
Gontsek-Kent; Anderson-Weber.

Athletics 22, Firemen 2

Aug. 29—The Athletics pounded the poor Firemen all over the lot, winning by a score of 22-2. While errors were not recorded, it is said that Harker and Oliver for the A's reached base safely six times. Perkins, Ulmer, Scattergood, and Cole reached base three times each.

Swain, of the Athletics, hit two home runs.
Firemen ..... 100 001 00—2
Athletics ..... 053 064 4x—22
Cole-Becker; Harker; J. Schaefer.

Lamplighters 12, Panthers 9

Aug. 29—Goldberg, the part-time ump, decided to try his hand at pitching. He was knocked out of the box. The Lamplighters knocked him all over the park—but mostly to right center field—to win by 12-9. The Panthers scored five runs in the last inning, aided by three Lamplighter errors.

In the field, Jimmy, the Lamplighter, played the best game we have seen anybody play in this league. He threw out several runners at first with spectacular throws from off balance, etc.

As for the batting, Pat Steele made three hits and stole a base to lead the Panthers. McIlheny and Anderson swatted out three each to lead the Lamplighters.
Lamplighters ..... 104 223 0—12 15 6
Panthers ..... 111 001 5—9 15 4
Anderson-Stockton; Goldberg, Woodward-Steele.

Trojans 16, Grizzlies 18

Aug. 30—The Trojans rallied in the late innings to earn a tie with the Grizzlies, 16-18. Record of hits and errors was not kept.

Grizzlies ..... 433 111 023—18
Trojans ..... 431 206 010—18
Strothlein-Martindell; H. Finney-D. Kersey.

Weesleys 3, Tigers 2

Aug. 30—Although outlit 7 to 6, the Weesleys managed to eke out a triumph in the lowest scoring game played this season.

Five spectacular catches kept the pitchers on an even basis during the course of the game. For the Weesleys, centerfielder Rush made a one-hand stab at Wald's long fly in the fifth, and caught it. In the next inning, Kennedy, playing left field for the Weesleys, caught another long one that had gone over the center fielder's head.

In the fourth inning, Woolston, playing left field for the Tigers, made a running-backwards catch of Koppenehofer's long fly. About ten seconds later, first baseman McIntire of the Tigers leapt up to catch Kennedy's line drive. He repeated this in catching George Friday's liner in the next frame.

Jewett had three of the Weesleys' hits. Carhart, playing right field for the Tigers, had two for his team.

At the end of eight innings, Umpire Hahn thought he saw the eclipse coming on and called the game. During the time wasted in argument two more innings could have been played.
Tigers ..... 200 000 00—2 7 4
Weesleys ..... 100 002 0x—3 6 3
Wald-Carhart; Richmond-Jewett.

Lutherans-Tigers game will be replayed in the near, if not immediate future.

Cup Night

Friday evening, September 23, at 8 p. m., the Riverton Playground Baseball League will go on a spurge and present the Mayor Bennett Cup to the champion team of the said league. The riot will be staged at the Riverton Fire Company Hall. Loaded dice and the like will positively be barred from the festivities.

A Dutch Feed will be spread on the "boards" by our good friend Ulmer, while Sonny Wright will arrange a program that will no doubt make a four-base hit. All the umpires are expected to be on hand and enjoy themselves without fear of being crowned.

The managers of each team are hereby notified to advise Mr. Howard Conover, on Tuesday evening, September 6, the number of men his team will have on hand at the feed.

There will be a meeting of the League on Tuesday, September 6, at 8:30 p. m. and all managers are requested to be on hand as there are several important matters to be discussed.

W. J. KELLY WINS S. JERSEY CROWN

Amateur Golf Tourney Goes to Tavistock C. C. Entrant On a 36-37-73 Card

William J. Kelly, of the Tavistock C. C., took the class A amateur golf title here today when he turned in a 36-37-73 at the Riverton links yesterday.

Kelly's card compared to par follows:
Par, out ..... 4 3 4 3 5 4 4 4 4—35
Kelly, out ..... 4 4 2 4 4 5 4 5—36
Par, in ..... 4 4 3 5 3 4 5 4 5—37-73
Kelly, in ..... 4 4 3 5 3 4 5 4 5—37-73

At the fourth and fifth holes, he was but four feet away from the hole and sunk the putts for birdies. At the 14th and 15th, his mashie niblick shots were dead for the pin and his accuracy in putting gave him "birds" here too. His drives were long and straight and he was seldom off the fairway. His feat gives him a one-year's leg on the Tavistock Cup which was formerly held by Dick Lippincott, of Riverton.

Dick Lippincott, winner last year, went haywire on the greens and spoiled his game, turning in a 42-43-83 card.

Riverton did cop the team prize with the five highest scores as follows: Raymond Eastwood 77, Edward Lippincott 78, C. Brock Wallace 79, J. A. Hemphill 80 and George M. Durgin 84. Results of Riverton entries in the match follow:

CUP TOURNAMENT IN FULL SWING

Racquet Wielders at Memorial Park Working Hard for Silver Trophies

Saturday, September 3, the opening day for the Memorial Park Cup Tennis Tournament at Riverton, found two of the eight players in the men's domestic seeding list put out of the tournament. Neither could be counted as upsets, however, as they were more or less expected.

Rene Cross, No. 2 in the seedings, was drawn against Newbold Cooper, former principal at Riverton Public School, and was turned back by the score of 6-3, 7-5. The match was not played on the park courts so the type of game played by each could not be determined, but each returned from the match with considerable respect for his opponent's game.

Burtan Conway, eighth ranked, was also eliminated, and his conqueror was R. Balok. The match was a very even one with the onlookers unable to anticipate the outcome. Balok proved too steady for Conway and at last won, 6-4, 7-5.

Clyde Kelley, 6 seeded, also went out of the tournament in the second round after winning a first round match easily from R. Schoneveld, 6-0, 6-0. Kelley's successful opponent was R. Latch and the match went to three sets, 6-3, 6-2, 6-4. Kelley played a commendable brand of tennis but seemed unable to produce in the pinches, holding his service but once in the second set.

George Lathbury, top seeded favorite, swept past J. Reed, 6-3, 6-1, in his opening match but was given several scares before eliminating Earl Schmeier, 6-4, 6-4. Robert Borer, park and junior champ, wielded his racquet to success in the senior event, first over R. Hulings, 6-3, 6-0, and then clashed with his principal junior rival, E. McVaugh, winning 6-1, 6-4. Edmond Branson, No. 4 man, went into the bracket of eight with but little fight, winning first from E. Wallace, 7-5, 6-3, and then eliminating S. Schmeier to the tune of 6-3, 6-1.

Branson will next play Earl Latch and if successful will tackle George Lathbury in a semi-final match. Lathbury was the first to reach the round of four and accomplished this after being extended to three sets before winning from R. Reed, 6-3, 6-2, 6-4. This was considered the hardest fought battle thus far in the men's division.

The pairings in the tournament find R. Latch against E. Branson; the winner to meet Lathbury; R. Borer facing G. Hulings; and J. McVaugh drawn against N. Cooper.

The men's doubles tournament has not gotten very far under way, but the strongest combination seems to be Cooper and Woodward, who defeated Latch and McVaugh, 6-3, 6-2. Cron and Hulings and Metzger and Lathbury also are paired to make formidable teams.

In the Junior tournament all first four ranked players have reached the semi-final. None of the quartet found it necessary to go to three sets in any of their matches and although it is almost assured that Robert Borer will again capture the crown he has held for two years, it is expected he will receive much stiffer competition in this tournament.

Borer started out with a 6-0, 6-0 victory over J. Mitchell and followed it by eliminating R. Cole, 6-2, 6-2. W. Smith, Borer's semi-final opponent, had a hard time before he overcame J. Pfeiffer, 6-4, 6-4, but breezed through J. Olson, No. 6 in the ranking, 6-1, 6-2.

YOUTH DROWNS OFF RIVERTON

Cries for Help and Empty Canoe Starts Twelve Hour Search To Find Victim

Edward Perry, 27 years old, drowned in the Delaware off Riverton last Saturday morning about four o'clock. Perry was seen around midnight, sitting in a canoe, by Officer Robinson of the Riverton police. Robinson threw the flashlight on him and asked him "how is the fishing?" The man replied that he was just sitting there.

About four a. m. cries of help were heard by Mayor and Mrs. William E. Bennett, Bank avenue; Mrs. F. A. Tompkins, 101 Main street; Archie Seabrook, 305 Bank avenue; Maurice Belknap, 311 Bank avenue; and Claude J. K. Anderson, of 33 Bank avenue.

Anderson phoned the Riverton police and Officer Robinson hurried to make an investigation. He found a canoe tied to Edgar Shaner's boat in the river off Howard street, and recognized it to be the same one he had seen earlier in the night. The canoe was painted white with a new, long blue streamline around it and a red boat at the bow, with the name "Mary Ann" painted within the heart. Inside the canoe was found a woman's gray coat, one partly filled whisky bottle and an empty bottle.

Frank Perry, 451 Penn street, Frankford, brother of the drowned man, went to the Frankford police to report his brother missing, and was told by them to see the Riverton police who had been in touch with them in reference to the case.

Frank, accompanied by his brother, William and John McAdams, came to Riverton and identified the canoe as his brother's and stated that he had left home about 8 p. m. Friday.

Several volunteers with grappling irons began the tedious work of searching for the body. They worked in nearby waters for twelve hours when finally Lloyd Gladney and Robert Calhoun hooked the body on their grappling irons about four-thirty Saturday afternoon.

The body dropped off and was a few minutes later recovered by Roy Bowers and Bill Fausch off the end of Fulton street.

Funeral Director Jerome J. Zisk took charge of the body and later shipped it to the deceased's home in Philadelphia.

Coroner John C. Belton issued a certificate of accidental drowning.

The victim of the tragedy leaves a wife and two small children. The woman's coat found in the canoe was later identified as belonging to Mrs. Perry.

THE PEOPLES COLUMN

A Cry in the Night!

Editor, The New Era:

I am moved to write to you on the subject of the recent drowning tragedy here at Riverton, and to offer a suggestion which may possibly avert a similar horror in the future.

I wonder if people realize that that unfortunate man MIGHT have been saved had residents of the river bank been able to convince themselves that it was a genuine call for help which they heard.

When people finally were aroused and were gathered at the river doing everything possible—too late—it was said over and over by various ones, "I heard it for some time, but thought it was just more merrymaking on the part of those who were out there." Several times we have been assured of those who were gathered by calls from the water or pier, which an investigation proved to be nothing but an overflow of high spirits.

It is another case of the old story of "Wolf, wolf," and it seems to be a horrible thing that a man should pay with his life for the thoughtlessness of those who were listening to his cries in a condition in which a real cry for help goes unheeded.

It is no crime to stand and stare in the middle of the night, but it is inconsiderate, and, in this case, may be considered at least indirectly responsible for the death of this man.

May I not make a suggestion that those who seek recreation on the pier and river bank keep decently quiet at night so that another cry for help should it come, can be instantly recognized for what it is, and answered without a delay which may be fatal.

It is a bitter and tragic thing to have come as near to saving a life as those men did in the early hours of Saturday morning, and to have failed by so narrow a margin of time—time which they might have had, had everyone responded at the first cry.

Protests Noises

Editor, New Era:

There is a subject concerning the comfort and health of the towns of Riverton and Palmyra which can stand some discussion and much improvement, namely, the night noises which interfere with sleep.

The worst offender is the railroad. We must acknowledge that our intolerance in keeping open the crossings that are not protected by gates makes us partly responsible for this condition, and possibly it is necessary that the safety of the crossings should interfere with the comfort of the many, but I believe it might be easily possible to preserve the peace and quiet without endangering the few, or causing undue inconvenience, by closing these crossings during the sleeping hours by treatise gates, say from 10 p. m. to 6:30 a. m. These gates would not interfere with pedestrian crossing, and auto drivers, knowing the condition, could easily arrange to cross at the station crossings, which could then be protected during sleeping hours by a watchman, and operated by controls from the stations during the day.

The next offender are barking dogs, and this unnecessary annoyance can be regulated by a nuisance ordinance making their owners suffer a fine for repeated offenses.

We who live here may possibly have come to regard these noises as unavoidable, but many visitors have stated that under no condition would they move to a place where it was so difficult to get unbroken sleep, which is supposed to be one of the chief virtues of suburban life.

Very sincerely,
ROBERT W. KNIGHT.

SEA SCOUTS MEET FOR 'SHORE LEAVE'

Reunion of County "Mariners" Lubber Friends Planned at Beverly

Sea Scouts of Burlington County will hold a "shore leave" Friday night, September 9, in St. Stephen's Parish House, Beverly, at 8 o'clock.

Commander Bryan B. Kane, of Edgewater Park, has notified the skippers of all Sea Scout ships in the county to be on hand with their crews and to have their relatives and friends.

The purpose of this "shore leave" is to bring together ashore, the ship's company of the schooner "George C. Bell," of Bivalve, which made the first annual cruise of Burlington County Sea Scouts last month.

Commander Kane believes former shipmates will be glad to mingle once more before they return to school and college. He also wants those Sea Scouts who could not make this year's cruise to see the crew which did and hear what it was all about.

There will be quantities of pictures, both notes and clippings, and plenty of informal reminiscences. Several prominent in public life expect to be present, including Senator Clifford H. Howell, who has much to do with securing the schooner.

"Bats" will be served, of course, for all hands and the "land lubbers" who come will be expected to chip in enough to cover that item. No. Clem will not be able to attend, but Capt. Rattler Weldon and Mate Shave Oakes are all set and so is Bud Mackay, the Bears' skipper.

Thirty-eight shipmates will be on deck. Besides those already mentioned they include three business men, two bankers and even a former lieutenant commander of the Imperial German Navy.

He much enthusiasm has been shown by the returned mariners of all ages that next year it will be necessary to provide two—possibly three—cruises to give all applicants a berth.

P. O. S. A. HOLDS CONVENTION AT ATLANTIC CITY

15 Delegates From Washington Camp Will Attend Annual Event

LESLIE REEVES TO BE Elected President

Palmyra Lodge Ranks First in State for Membership and Finance

The forty-fourth annual convention of the P. O. S. A. is being held in Atlantic City this week.

The event opens at ten o'clock this morning at the Hotel Jefferson and will close Friday night.

Fifteen delegates from Washington Camp No. 23, Palmyra, will be in attendance. They are: David Cole, Walter Horner, Russell Holmes, Newton Stewart, William Fiedler, George Fisher, Ludwig Dinn, John Banat, George Evans, Charles Matlack, Edson Carhart, Alfred Roppenhoefer, John Landgraf, George Rogers and Nathan Combs.

Others from Washington Camp who will attend the convention are: George W. Wimer, past state president; Leslie W. Reeves, who is now state vice president and Fulham Wood, chairman of the Americanization committee.

Mr. Reeves will be elected state president of the P. O. S. A. at the convention. He has no opposition for this position of honor. Mr. Reeves has been a member of the P. O. S. A. for twenty-three years and secretary of Camp No. 23 for twenty-one years. He has been State Camp auditor for ten years and State Master of Forms.

The Palmyra Camp at the present time ranks first in the state for membership and finance. Philadelphia is second.

The P. O. S. A. has 10,000 members in the State of New Jersey.

On Sunday, September 25, the recently reorganized Camden County Kennel Club, of which Harry H. Hunt, of Riverton, is president, will hold the largest all-breed dog show ever known to South Jersey.

Back in May, this active organization staged a most successful show at Clementon, that was attended by dog owners and dog lovers from all parts of Jersey. The All-Breed show however is drawing entries from Jersey, New York, Maryland, Delaware, Pennsylvania, and many other states of the East and Middle West and will be the largest sporting event of its kind ever held in this section.

Dogs of all shapes and sizes, each and every one a member in good standing of the best canine aristocracy, will vie for major awards under some of America's best known judges and breeders who promise to be a tremendous audience. Prominent fanciers from all parts of the country will be in attendance, an entry of seven to eight hundred dogs is expected and more than five hundred cash prizes, cups, and special trophies are offered to all.

There will be, in addition to the regular classes, four special classes for children in which the awards will be on the basis of how well the children handle the dogs they show. Edgar W. Miller, of Riverton, vice president of the Camden County Kennel Club, is of the opinion that in all communities there are many dogs of prize-winning caliber that are never shown.

"We are hopeful," said Mr. Miller, "that many locally owned pure bred novice dogs will make their first public appearances at this show and extend a special invitation to all readers of The New Era to communicate with some member of the committee for full information as to the making of entries, etc."

Entries will close on Monday September 12, and necessary blanks, and assistance in filling them out, may be obtained from Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar W. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. C. Foster Browning, of Riverton, or from Mr. and Mrs. William Jenkins, of Palmyra.

James Fenimore Cooper is among the five famous Americans elected to the Hall of Fame for Great Americans, located on the campus of New York University, who will have their birthdays celebrated during the month of September.

Cooper, a writer of romance, was born in Burlington on September 15, 1789. He immortalized the American Indian in his "Leather-Stocking Tales," and revolutionized the literature of the sea with his sea stories. He was elected to the Hall of Fame in 1910.

Phillips, of Burlington, in the Legion Post headquarters, Main street and Pine avenue, Maple Shade, last Thursday night, in appreciation of their participation in the great military field mass at Maple Shade, in June. Incidentally, the Burlington band won second prize in state competition held at Fairview several weeks ago during the American Legion convention at Camden. After a musical concert by the visiting bandmen, a supper was tendered by the local Legionnaires, under the direction of Louis Martini, "chef de cuisine," Post No. 68.

FAY LEADS PAGE CAMPAIGN FORCES

Former President of V. F. W. Heads State Organization of "Bonus" Candidate

Announcement is made to the effect that a state-wide organization has been perfected to conduct the campaign of Russell Y. Page for a seat in the United States Senate. Page is a well-known Burlington county man who makes his home in Edgewater Park and has brokerage offices in Burlington.

He is a candidate for Senate on the "Soldiers' Bonus" ticket and is running on a "sticker" campaign. Having entered the race too late to have his name placed on the official ballot, those who vote for him will place a sticker in the personal choice column of their ballots and make no mark opposite the name of the senatorial candidates of the two major parties.

Warren W. Burbon, of Robinson, is the Republican candidate and Percy H. Stewart, of Elizabeth, the Democratic nominee. Both have gone on record as opposed to the immediate payment of the adjusted compensation and other legislation favorable to veterans.

Strength was added to the Page campaign when it became known last week that William C. Fay, of Bergen county, had accepted the post of campaign manager for the Burlington county man. Fay is said to be one of the most influential men among the veterans of New Jersey and is a past president of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and a past president of the Joint Legislative Committee, a group interested in soldiers' legislation. Fay gained national attention when he challenged any member of Congress to meet him in open debate on the question as to whether the bonus could be paid without endangering the financial structure of the nation. The challenge was never accepted.

In a statement issued from the newly established headquarters in Academy Building, Newark, Fay declared the Page candidacy was gaining daily and that more interest had been shown than any of the organizers had any hope for a few weeks ago.

The candidate himself has attended rallies of ex-service men almost every night during the past several days and is met with an enthusiastic crowd everywhere. The service men have organized Veterans Voters League in eleven New Jersey counties which form a nucleus for the Page strength to gather around. It is said that virtually all of the men who saw service in the late war will aid him at the polls on election day.

According to Fay there are 170,000 former service men in the state and at least 150,000 can be counted on to bring their families and friends to the polls. He estimates that there will be less than a million votes cast and that if each man brings two others to vote with him, will elect their candidate with a fair margin over the opposition.

Water Shut Off at 19 Homes in One Day and Restored to 17 of the Properties by Night as Moorestown Owners Pay Bills

Moorestown Water Department is now engaged in shutting off water for non-payment of water bills, according to a statement by Edward P. Hyland, superintendent of the township's water and sewer department.

The township committee, at its regular meeting on Monday evening, August 8, instructed Hyland to proceed with the collection of a large number of delinquent accounts, shutting off water service if delinquent property owners failed to pay up after having been notified that they must bring their accounts up to date.

The township employees are taking a reasonable attitude in the matter, however, and even though service is discontinued, it is restored almost immediately if the property owners show a willingness to pay up in what is considered a reasonable length of time.

In all cases, however, some payment is required before service is restored after it is once cut off, Hyland reports.

One day last week the water service for nineteen properties was cut off, but was restored to seventeen properties before ten o'clock that night, the property owners making a payment, and promising to pay the balance within a short time.

The other two properties were still without water service Tuesday morning, the superintendent reported.

TIPSY DRIVER JAILED

Leedon Smith, who fined him $200 and $21.50 costs on a drunken driving charge preferred against him by Robert J. McGrath, of 6707 Lullmore street, Philadelphia, driver of the other car figuring in the crash. He was ordered committed to the jail in default of payment of the fine.

BURNED WHILE SEALING JARS OF PRESERVES

A man and his wife were burned at Beverly last Friday night when boiling grease was splashed on them. Mrs. Sarah Crum, 28, of Pitman street, was boiling grease to seal jars of preserves when it splashed on her. Her husband was upstairs and hearing her screams, ran to her aid. As he reached the kitchen he accidentally upset the pan containing the hot fluid and it splashed on his face, hands, and chest. He was taken to Burlington County Hospital, Mount Holly, in a serious condition. His wife escaped with slight burns of the hands.

NUMBER OF SHAREHOLDERS IN PUBLIC SERVICE INCREASE

During the first seven months of 1932 the number of shareholders listed on the books of Public Service Corporation of New Jersey increased by 1,000, reaching a total of 91,340 on August 31, which sets a new high record in the history of the corporation. At the end of last year there were 89,480 stockholders on the books. Thirteen years ago Public Service had but 2,296 shareholders.

Synopsis of Pivotal Chapters

After his marriage to Grace Livingston, Tommy Tucker starts his last dollar in some property, hoping to tell it to the railroad for a year. To close the deal he gives the road's lawyer, Barker, to know. Barker, an old hand at Grace's, also employed by the railroad upon the deal by announcing the year is to be built elsewhere. The hard work, Grace goes home to her mother. Later that night Barker returns. The year is to be built on Tommy's property. Tommy realizes an extra twenty-five thousand dollars on the deal. Grace's return home has stirred up much gossip among the villagers and much excitement in the Livingston household.

Chapter VI

WHEN Mrs. Livingston came in a few minutes later, dressed for church, she found her daughter in a high state of excitement, searching for a timetable. Grace had just heard some startling news from Uncle Myron. Upon his return from a doctor's convention he had stopped off at Joplin to visit them, only to find their apartment closed and Tommy in a hospital, suffering the effects of poisoning from something he had either eaten or drunk. Mr. Livingston was seated unconcerned in a chair, scanning the newspaper, convinced that Tommy's condition was not as serious as Grace believed it.

"But I've got to get to him, Uncle Myron," Grace was saying, the tears streaming down her cheeks. "I've got to. You know all about it, don't you, Uncle?"

"Knows about what," broke in her mother tensely, as she came to an abrupt stop, just inside the threshold. "My leaving him," sobbed Grace, turning suddenly to her mother.

"What-a-ah!" gasped Mrs. Livingston now thoroughly alarmed.

"That's the truth, mother."

"You quarrelled—with Tommy?" Mrs. Livingston said tremulously.

"Not quarrelled—fought! And then we separated—forever! Grace had at last found the timetable and was now wildly thumbing its pages. "Because Tommy'd just had a great disappointment and lost everything! And I'd no right to leave him at a time like that. And I'm ashamed of myself and I'm going back and tell him—"

"Well, I'll be damned!" exclaimed Mr. Livingston loudly, looking up suddenly from the paper.

"Fred," cried his wife, greatly shocked.

"Well, I will. Did you see this?" he asked, his eyes wide with surprise. From the paper he read, "Local boy makes coup! The Joplin & Missouri Railroad has purchased Amusement Park and will at once start laying tracks for its new line. The largest price paid to any one holder was one hundred and twenty-five thousand dollars to Thomas Tucker, the son-in-law of our distinguished citizen, Mr. Frederick Livingston."

An amused smile was playing about the corners of Uncle Myron's mouth as in the excitement he stole quietly from the room.

"A hundred and twenty-five thousand dollars," Mr. Livingston said to Grace in an ironical tone. "Well, you picked a fine time to fight with him," before Grace could resort her mother and father had left the room on their way to church and she heard her father's voice in the hall.

"Well, well! When did you get back?"

The next instant Dick Loring came in upon her.

"Hello, Dick," she exclaimed excitedly, rising to meet him, "I didn't know you were home."

"I got in last night. I lost my job with the railroad."

"Dick, you didn't," she said sympathetically.

Loring nodded his head crestfallen. "Yes. On account of what I said about this spur line." He paused and in a confidential, appealing tone, said, "I'd rather not have it known around town—you know the way they talk—and came over to ask if you'd tell Tommy not to—"

"Dick," Grace interrupted him gravely. "Tommy and I have separated."

"Not really," exclaimed Dick in astonishment.

"Dick," she said after a short silence, the tears again welling in her eyes. "Do you think that on the night you called, I received you with more enthusiasm than I should? You knew my welcome was just friendly?"

"Of course," Dick assured her, winkling his brow perceptively. "What are you trying to find out?"

"I was just wondering if I had given Tommy cause to be annoyed. He was jealous of the way I met you."

"Oh, I see," smiled Loring, and putting his hands affectionately on her shoulders, went on, "Well, I don't know as I blame Tommy. There are ways to handle a woman and Tommy hasn't had enough experience to—"

Grace heard no more. Over Loring's shoulder, she suddenly saw Tommy, framed in the doorway. He was dressed in a swagger cutaway and under his arm was a large box of flowers. Before she could stop him, Tommy crossed to them hurriedly and slapped Loring's face a resounding blow. Dick retaliated with a punch to Tommy's jaw and the next instant they were struggling violently on the floor.

"Mother! Father!" screamed Grace. "Somebody—come quick. Don't fight—you're killing each other!" she yelled at the two men, rolling about the floor and when they paid no heed to her she tried to pull them off each other, but to no avail. Suddenly she saw a vase, and taking good aim at Dick's head she threw it crying, "I'll stop you!"

When Tommy came to, he was sitting in the room Doctor Anderson used for an office. His eye was blackened and his head carried an egg-shaped bump.

"Losing hits an awful blow, Doctor," he murmured as Myron applied some antiseptic to his injured head. "Loring didn't hit you there," smiled Myron. "Grace threw a vase. She thought Loring was getting the better of you."

"I see," said Tommy cynically. "She wanted to make sure. I knew I was wrong to come back here with you, Doctor. You said it was the time for me to see her—that she'll fall on my neck, but you had the situation diagnosed all wrong."

At that moment Grace entered with a basin of water.

"Thank you, dear," said her uncle, "now if you'll help me—here, hold Tommy's head—"

"I can hold my own head, thank you," said Tommy bitterly.

Grace's face fell dejectedly and she started from the room.

"Just one moment, please," Tommy called after her. "There's something I'd like to say to you. Contrary to the opinions of masterminds I happened to guess certain facts about a railroad. I have a check here which I think you are entitled to."

"I don't want your money," replied Grace in a choked whisper.

"Tommy," he asked after a moment's reflection, "what would you rather be than anything in the world?"

"Single," replied Tommy flatly. "I don't believe you mean that," said the doctor. "I know you love Grace and you've passed the worst time. I've passed the worst time. I have ever had," interposed Grace.

"Why, Grace," the doctor cried incredulously, "Tommy talked of you the whole time at the hospital and didn't want to live unless you came back to him."

"That's when I was delirious," Tommy cut in, reddening.

"No, you weren't—and Tommy, when Grace heard you'd been sick, the next day up the timetable looking up the first train that would bring her back to you."

"Uncle—"

"Yes you did," Doctor Anderson cut her off, "and you called yourself names and said you were ashamed of yourself." He paused and smiled at them. "You two are just suffering from matrimonial measles, troubles that look terrible, but don't amount to anything. Years from now you're either going to laugh or cry over it. If you let it take you apart, you're going to cry, so let's laugh at it. What do you say, Grace? And Tommy—you'll want to be around to see your baby!"

Tommy was speechless. His eyes were wide and round, his cheeks livid. "Don't look so scared," the doctor told him, "it's happened before."

"I—know—but—not—to me," Tommy gasped. He looked at Grace. Her eyes were closed, her head bowed. He reached over to her and standing boyishly before her, said, "Is it true? Oh, Grace, I hope he's going to like us."

When Doctor Anderson stole quietly from the room they were still in each other's arms.

It Took That Long For The Applause

By IRVIN S. COBB

AN ENGLISH vaudeville team came over here in the hope of landing an American engagement. They obtained an interview with a representative of a big eastern circuit.

They told him how clever they were, how new their songs were, how fresh their jokes, how spirited their banter. They showed him their scrap-book of press notices from British newspapers. He was impressed.

"Well," he said, when they were through with singing their own praises, "we'll give you a try-out in one of our houses. We'll put you on next Monday afternoon for the matinee at such-and-such a theatre."

Highly pleased, the visiting performers reached for their hats. "Hold on," said the American. "I forgot one thing: How long does your act run?"

"Twenty minutes," stated the senior of the pair.

"That'll never do. We can't give a new patter act more than twelve minutes on one of our bills."

"Impossible!" exclaimed the spokesman. "Why, we bow for ten minutes."

COLLEGE HONOR CODE

Many interesting stories are told of the working of the honor code at Washington and Lee University, where it was established by General Lee when he became president of the school in 1867.

No supervision of students is exercised during examinations, yet cheating is virtually unknown. Nothing is locked up about the institution; books, articles of clothing and all sorts of property are left anywhere with the assurance that they will not be disturbed.

Several students help to pay their expenses by selling sandwiches, candy, apples and the like, but the sales are made without the presence of clerks. The articles for sale are displayed with price cards, and customers help themselves, placing their money in the cash box.

During one football game more than $125 worth of lapel buttons were thus bought and paid for without the supervision of anyone, except that when the box was filled with bills a passing professor placed a weight on them to keep them from blowing away.

New students are thoroughly instructed in the requirements of the honor code and impressed with the importance of rigidly observing it, because, it is explained, this school is built around tradition. And the essence of that tradition is that "it's a pleasure to be a gentleman."

BARBOUR — THE MAN!

Of all the essentials necessary in the make-up of a member of the United States Senate, none are more important than Vigilance and Courage, if his constituents are to enjoy the benefits of complete representation.

Fortunate, then, for the people of New Jersey that they had Senator W. Warren Barbour as one of their Senators during the passage of the Home Loan Bank Bill. When the measure was introduced in the House of Representatives it was amended on motion of a New York representative and passed. The significance of the amendment to the people of New Jersey was great, for it debarred building and loan associations of this State from participating in the benefits to accrue from the measure.

Always alert, Barbour objected to the bill and it was returned to the House, where once again a joker amendment was added which would have had the same detrimental effect. When it was returned to the Senate again, Barbour once again led the fight against it and the obnoxious clause was removed permanently. It took courage for a young Senator to do that, but Barbour himself labelled his action "common sense."

Senator Barbour's Democratic opponent in the present campaign was a member of the House at the time, but he failed to lift his voice in protest against this discriminatory action, confining his efforts to telephoning the Senator and suggesting that he block the attempted coup.

The last meeting of August was the poorest of the summer. A testimonial to the members of the committee is that there was only one meeting in two months poorly attended.

TAX BANKRUPTCY

Between 1913 and 1929 the national wealth increased from $192,500,000,000 to $361,873,000,000—an increase of 88 per cent.

National income increased from $34,400,000,000 to $85,200,000,000—an increase of 147 per cent.

During the same period total governmental expenditures, Federal, States and local, grew from $2,919,000,000 to $13,048,000,000—an increase of 347 per cent.

Governmental indebtedness increased from $4,205,000,000 to $30,194,000,000—an increase of 615 per cent.

In 1913 governmental expenditures represented 8.5 per cent. of the national income, and in 1929 represented 15.3 per cent.

Bad as this may seem it by no means tells the worst. Since 1929 taxes have steadily risen while incomes have sharply declined. It is reliably estimated that this year government will absorb not less than 30 per cent. of the national income.

It is apparent that we are facing tax bankruptcy. There is a point beyond which we cannot pay—a point at which taxation ends and confiscation begins. We are at last paying the price of government waste and extravagance. Only a decisive "tax revolt", that demands economy and efficiency and government retrenchment, can save us from the inevitable consequences of the present trend.

AND SO TO SCHOOL

(An Editorial from the Rotarian Magazine)

While economists and prophets are scrambling over themselves looking for corners around which Dame Prosperity is said to be loitering, the calendar reminds us all that this is September, the month-when-school-starts.

It brings its opportunities. Chief of them is encouraging and making it possible for boys and girls to take advantage of the best means of our civilization has yet devised for developing responsible and capable men and women: schools. It is hardly necessary to marshal statistics to make the point that few jobs are available and that idleness is a prolific source of juvenile delinquency. Equally obvious is the fact that, with many adults out of work, it becomes socially desirable that the training period of boys and girls be lengthened.

Very important, at this time, is the personal counseling of youths with their understanding elders. The teen age is the hero-worship age, and no man is a greater hero to a boy than he who, successful in his own business or profession, takes a sincere and intelligent interest in the youngster's welfare. That needs but to be tried to be proved.

RISKS IN AUTO "LIFTS"

The Public Service News points out it is possible that many of its employees, when driving their autos, are unacquainted with the risks involved in giving "lifts" to persons along the routes traversed. There are certain liabilities assumed by the owner of the car in such cases.

For the benefits of its workers the News says they are set forth as follows:

1. Under the law every motor car owner incurs legal liability for injury to every passenger who rides in his car. In other words, the owner of an automobile is liable in case of accident for damages awarded for injuries sustained by anyone in his car. It makes no difference if the injured passenger is a friend, or merely someone along the street who has been given a "lift".
2. The transportation of persons for compensation regularly by the owner of an automobile makes him a "common carrier" and is unlawful without the consent of the Board of Public Utility Commissioners of the State of New Jersey.

Public Service's warning to its employees is one worthy of consideration by all drivers.

There are definite risks involved in carrying persons in one's car and it is wise to consider them, especially when picking up strangers as a Good Samaritan act. Drivers have been held up and robbed by persons they have befriended along the road, too.

Barbour Tells Farmers
He Will Fight For Them

"THERE is something radically wrong and grossly unfair about any system that returns so little to the farmer for his produce and imposes so heavy a cost upon the ultimate consumer. Somewhere along the line the underserving are playing parasite and reaping profit from the labor of others. Such a condition is intolerable."

In this way United States Senator W. Warren Barbour, who is the Republican candidate to succeed himself at Washington, assured members of the Gloucester County Grange of his intention to interest himself in the plight of the agriculturist. His declarations came during the annual outing of the Grangers at Woodbury, where the Senator was a guest speaker. "With the national legislator in the above sketching are Elmer E. Clement (left), chairman of the Gloucester County Grange Fair, and George H. Horner, vice-chairman. Both were pleased by the Senator's attitude."

Common Ground

It often occurs during the course of a day to listen to a bewildering array of misleading terms.

Doubtless there are many who would concur in the same opinion; who believe that there were some method by which we could discount the empty verbalism, and throw into the discard oratorical extravagances, we could soon reduce all argument to a common ground, and then to the surprise of everyone there would be little basis left for the dissenting element.

Listen to the Republican spellbinder for a short while and you will be sold on the idea that everything that is good, worthy, and much desired is embodied in that platform, yet across the street in another hall, the Democrats in session will prove to you almost without a doubt that all that is base, vile, and corrupt belongs entirely to the Republican party. But when stripped of their antagonism and their common points tabulated, they may prove to be nothing more than two branches of the same party.

The prohibition issue is a fairly good example. There is hardly any common ground left upon which wet and dry can meet. Sentimentalists have driven the issue into the confines of both extremes, until now opinions are based on anything from fallacious qualities to exaggerated virtues.

Too many speeches are made merely to glorify the speaker, and such speeches only tend toward making a more complex situation which results in actually getting nowhere. The average individual cannot comprehend the full meaning that is intended for him when the issue is clouded with many broad terms. He is usually impressed with a single angle and bases his whole conclusion on some minor detail, resulting in a warped opinion that is in direct conflict with the common sense.

The acceptance speeches of both candidates were very fine examples of speeches pertaining to American ideals but with little concern for actualities. Strip them of a few opposing remarks and you will find that they are in absolute harmony. Yet, it is this slight difference that is enlarged upon so as to cause approximately one-half the electorate to oppose the other in a belief that their views are diametrically opposite.

When a speech is couched in such idealistic terms as "a stabilized currency," or "there is now increased confidence," or "we have checked bank failures," and so on, it only leads deeper into the labyrinth of perplexing thought, since the speaker in most cases is more concerned with the reaction to his terms, than with any desire to regard the truth.

For instance, a term that is a particular favorite with a lot of speakers, "American institutions," but to the public it is absolutely meaningless, since it is used in a broad sense and can mean anything from the "little red schoolhouse" to the "Manufacturers' Union," and more after the latter if conditions at present signify anything.

Few of our present problems would present much difficulty if we could bring to light the salient points, that due accord may be given the merits of both sides.

More than 2000 varieties of soybeans have been imported into the United States from the Orient.

FLEECE ON BAD CHECK

The Burlington police believe a bad check passer there to have been the same man who fleeced two Mount Holly merchants last week. According to police, the man bought a lawn mower from Samuel Lippincott, hardware dealer, of East Broad street, Burlington, and presented a check for $28 in payment. The check was signed with the name of Moses Doyle, a local plumber, for whom the man said he had worked. Lippincott cashed the check, gave the man the lawnmower and $21 change. The check was refused at a bank, and Doyle declared it was forged. Sol Chaikin, another hardware dealer, reported to the police that a man attempted the same trick on him but he refused to cash the check offered.

Edgar Lining and Mrs. Elias Toy.

This year, as an added attraction, there will be a Junior Section for any child who wishes to enter flowers. The townspeople are cordially invited to help make this event as successful as those which have been held in previous years.

Judges of the entries will be: Mrs. John J. Harrar, of Haddonfield; Mrs. Joseph Weston, of Haddonfield; and Harry O. Yates, of Merchantville. Commercial exhibits will be shown by the following: Pennell Cooper, Palmyra; Henry A. Dreer, Riverton; John Kenney, Riverside; Herbert Richman, Riverton; Harry Deemer, Palmyra; Burns Nurseries, Moorestown; and Feltner's Nursery, Philadelphia. There will be over 60 classifications and the list will be published in this paper next week.

"TODDLERS' NURSERY" OPENS IN PALMYRA

Mrs. Dorothy A. McCollom Offers Instruction and Training for Pre-School Children

A new private school called the "Toddlers' Nursery" will open on Monday, September 19, at 910 Morgan avenue, Palmyra. The supervisor, Mrs. Dorothy A. McCollom, is a graduate of the State Teachers' College at West Chester, Pa., specializing in primary work. Her fifth year of teaching she returned to West Chester as a demonstration teacher under the college.

Mrs. McCollom has also studied one year at Temple University in the Teachers' College, specializing there in Health Education and Playground work. During her teaching career, she has taught not only primary subjects but has given extra time to youngsters who were anxious to become athletes and to those whose mental and physical welfare needed the added stimulus of a full health routine. Mrs. McCollom resigned public school work last year to take up her hobby—educating the pre-school child.

Miss Ruth Stager will assist Mrs. McCollom in her work. Miss Stager is a graduate of Palmyra High School. She is well fitted for this work and for years has been interested in children.

P. O. S. of A. NOTES

A few new faces were seen at the meeting of Washington Camp, P.O.S. of A., Monday evening. It is hoped that more members will make an effort to be present at future meetings. Following the regular session, delegates to the State Convention, which is being held in Atlantic City this week, held a meeting. Definite plans and arrangements for the event were made. The next county meeting of the P.O.S. of A. will be held in Mount Holly on September 22.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Substance" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, September 11, 1932.

The Golden Text is: "Labour not for the meat which perisheth, but for that meat which endureth unto everlasting life, which the Son of man shall give unto you: for him hath God the Father sealed" (John 6:27).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "And Jesus went about all the cities and villages, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing every sickness and every disease among the people" (Matthew 9:35).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "God never ordained a material law to annul the spiritual law. If there were such a material law, it would oppose the supremacy of Spirit, God, and impugn the wisdom of the creator. Jesus walked on the waves, fed the multitude, healed the sick, and raised the dead in direct opposition to material laws" (p. 273).

W. F. WEBER BEATS HADDONFIELD ACE FOR TENNIS CROWN

Cohanick Star Wins in Straight Sets to Annex West Jersey Crown

LAURA PITTINGER HOLDS WOMEN'S COURT TITLE

Moorestown Field Club Courts Scene of Many Brilliant Matches

W. Frederick Weber, of the Cohanick Country Club, Bridgeton, Monday won the men's singles championship of the League of West Jersey Field Clubs when he defeated E. C. Hall, of Haddonfield, in straight sets in the final match of the tourney held at the Moorestown Field Club. The scores were 10-8, 6-1, 6-4.

Miss Laura Pittinger, also of Haddonfield, retained her women's singles title when she won in straight sets over Evelyn Lake, of Pitman, in the final meeting.

Weber, seeded second, received stern opposition from the first-rated Hall and the match was one of the best and most evenly played of the tourney, which started on Saturday afternoon at the Moorestown courts.

Miss Pittinger, who disposed of D. Haydock in the semi-final, experienced little difficulty in winning over Miss Lake in the women's final. The latter also put up a game fight and was on the go until the finish, although the brilliant playing of the Haddonfield star completely over-shadowed her adversary.

E. Rutledge, of Haddonfield, seeded first in the girls' tourney, romped off with the title by disposing of B. Higgins, also of Haddonfield.

In the boys' tourney, A. Elwell, of Merchantville, third rated star, won over W. Rogers, of Haddonfield, to annex the title.

Thirty-two entries competed in the men's singles. Jack Bramall, Haddonfield, was the defending champion, but failed to take part in the tourney. Five players from each of the first division teams in the League of West Jersey Field Clubs entered, and three from each of the second group clubs.

Two from each of the eight clubs took part in the ladies', boys' and girls' tourneys.

Firemen 19, Lutherans 15

Sept. 1.—For once the guys that make stale wisecracks at ball games were stopped. When the Firemen scored eleven times in the fifth inning, nobody dared holler for the "fire department to put 'em out." Those eleven runs clinched the game for the Firemen, enabling them to win, 19-15.

With one exception the Lutheran team played like a bunch of "unprincipled waxworks"; the exception was Tait, the catcher, who played a heads-up game. At bat, however, Stocker made five hits in six times up, and Landgraf, four in five.

Don't get the impression that the Firemen were faultless. They weren't. But their errors and dumb plays were not concentrated in any one inning.

Manager Ulmer of the Firemen had four hits, including a triple.

Westlans 16, Lamplighters 10

Sept. 2.—After Richmond, Wesleyan regular hurler, had given the Lamplighters five walks and plenty of runs in the first three innings, George Fry, day reliever, hit on the mound, and came out of the battle as winning pitcher, triumphing over the same Lamplighters by 14-10. To say that Richmond was wild is putting it mildly. The balls he didn't leave over the backstop coasted along the ground.

Later, in right field, to which he switched, Richmond made a leaping one-hand catch of McConnell's fly in the sixth frame.

Lamplighters 20, Ramblers 13

Sept. 6.—After winning from almost all the other teams in the league, the Ramblers went down tonight before the pitching of Jimmy, the Lamplighter, 20-13. For three innings, the Ramblers had an eight-to-nothing lead, which had been acquired in the first inning when Stockton, Lamplighter shortstop, made four errors, but this lead melted away when the Lamplighters began to solve the mystery of Eddie Williams' pitching. He was soundly thrashed.

In two consecutive innings, more than nine men (in each inning) faced Williams. This may be a record, but it can't come up to the one made by the Trojans when, in a game against the Bankers, they batted around three times, scoring twenty-one runs.

S. Wright and Williams and Conway, with two hits apiece, led the Ramblers, while Bowers and Stockton with four each led the Lamplighters.

Jim Londos Meets Jennings in Grip's Greatest Mat Show Next Wed. Night; O'Shocker, Steinborn, Dusek on Card

Sun Jennings, native American Indian, who was a star tackle at Haskell Institute and who has figured in two sensational Camden bouts, has been selected by Promoter Charley Grip to oppose Jim Londos, still recognized in the majority of the states as world's heavyweight wrestling champion, at the Pensauken Open Air Arena, Crescent boulevard opposite the airport, Camden, next Wednesday night.

Londos will be making his first appearance before a Camden audience of wrestling devotees, and with Jennings, the former planning John Maros, of Greece, and the latter winning the decision over Frank Brown, of Russia.

Rudy Desek, the Nebraska wildcat, and Henry "Milo" Steinborn, German strongman, who disposed of Floyd Marshall in straight falls in the feature match on Tuesday night, are slated to appear in the third bout, which is limited to 30 minutes.

The second bout, which also is a 30-minute time-limit match, should attract as many rabid mat fans as the main event. The principals are Fred Grubner, Iowa Python, and Joe Montana, the idol of Italian wrestling adherents in this locality.

Berto Asseratti, an English Hebrew, and Nick Nestor, of Greece, come together in the opener, which also is limited to 30 minutes.

One fall will decide the three preliminary matches.

THE ECLIPSE

Last Wednesday's eclipse was certainly a great achievement for the Moon. The Moon, in its shame, has heretofore shone only at night; it has always been underdog. But lo! and what lo! underdog turned topdog for a short time. Remarkable!

Although few people noticed, the Sun and Moon carried on a conversation before, after, and during the eclipse.

Sidling up to Sun, Moon exclaimed, "Hi!"

"Meaning what, Creature of the Night?" snarled the Sun.

"I'll mess up your sunny face in the near future," Moon said indignantly.

"Huhmmmm. Yes!" hissed the Sun. "I'll melt you, you old piece of Green Cheese, you!"

"You and how much more of the Solar System?" demanded the Moon.

The Sun declined to answer. "Bore-head, eh?" Moon shot from the corner of its mouth. "I have you practically totally eclipsed." Moon got no further with its nasty words. With three gigantic heaves and one colossal snort, Sun expanded its massive chest. Moon then bounced off into vasty, frothy space.

"So there!" hollered the Sun at fleeing Moon. "Cheese it!"

Nevertheless, the situation was a triumph for Herman T. Moon, who rides on high in the ultramarine firmament. The incident was then considered closed.

No doubt you have wondered excitedly how, when, and why the eclipse came to bear that nomenclature. I will now explain that.

Please bear in mind that at the time the first eclipse (which was then catalogued under a different name) occurred in Great Britain, the Sun was considered feminine and the Moon masculine, just the opposite of what are considered their respective sexes today.

It happened in Ancient Stonehenge. The Stonehengers were looking at lib on the plinths of stone strown around. They were talking about the Red Menace.

Then it happened! The beautiful sunlight, so rich in vitamin D.

The Stonehengers regarded what was once the Sun. Something black and sinister was sneaking up on it. With their shapely voices, the Stonehengers attempted to warn Sun of the coming doom, but the distance was too great and too filled with stardust. Moon, for that it was found to be, was carrying a very geometrical hunk from the Sun.

One of the Stonehengers—all of whom, by the way, dropped their stiches—hissed: "Look! E. CLIPS 'er!" which, translated, means: "He clips her"—the Moon clips the Sun.

A lexicographer, whose august presence was nearby, admiring the phenomenon, heard these few well-chosen words and entered them in his new dictionary, which was to be published the following April. You can easily see how the words "eclipse" were welded into one, "eclipse," with the aid of an oxy-acetylene contraction.

Therefore, never must thou scoff at the Britisher who droppeth his

DRAMATIC CLUB TO PRESENT "ZIPPY"

"One of the best amateur plays I ever seen," that's what a competent observer said last June when the Dramatic Club of the Lutheran Church presented "Zippy." And now the play is to be repeated Saturday evening, September 10, in the Lutheran Church basement.

It is a drama full of interest from beginning to end. Some tense situations and plenty of fun in between. The leading parts are played very capably and convincingly by Miss Eleanor Bauer and Mayne Brady. And what a "tough" crook Charles Tait is! The other characters are equally interesting, and the vivid contrast between the underworld personages and the high society folk is very effective.

This additional opportunity to witness "Zippy" is now offered, and it should prove to be deservedly popular. Curtain at 8.15.

Highlights in the Life of WILL ROGERS Star of the FOX Film "DOWN TO EARTH"

Copyright, 1931 William Hermann Deppe

Will Rogers resists the coaxing of Mary Carlisle in this scene from his latest Fox picture, "Down to Earth".

Chapter I WHO IS WILL ROGERS?

What does his name bring to mind: a cowboy, the grandson of a full-blooded Cherokee Indian, an unofficial diplomat, an actor, a rope-spinner, a sly wit, a bronco-buster, a lecturer, a movie actor, a polo player, a devoted husband, a fond father—the list is a long one, almost interminable.

Strangest of all is the fact that this many-sided character whom America has learned to love, is not just a mediocre polo player, not just a passable rope-spinner. He is a sparkling wit, an interesting lecturer, an acute observer of life, a nimble raconteur, a top-hand cowboy, a notable polo player and most of all, a well-beloved man.

Measured purely by the common standard of the money he has accumulated Will Rogers is a "big" man. Measured by the regard in which his fellowmen hold him, he is a great man, although few are the things he has attempted which have not responded to his Midas-like touch.

It is easy to see what makes Will Rogers a popular favorite. He is a synthesis of all the qualities upon which we Americans like to pride ourselves. Underlying his success, all of his puns, his keen penetrating wit, his laconic pleasantness, is the deep-rooted understanding sympathy the man feels for the human race, regardless of its color, its creed, or whether it is Republican, Democratic, Whig or Tory.

Will Rogers is pre-eminently human. Sometimes one feels he is just a little more than a human being because he seems to understand his fellow mortals so well. Somehow you have an uneasy feeling he is peeping stily at life through the keyhole, drawing his "sides" to a curious visitor from another planet.

Will Rogers is one person who has taken the measure of every man, regardless of his station, without having been taken in by any of them. Ready wit, blunt candor and a shrewd ability to analyze people and events have made him the friend alike of presidents and peasants, cattlemen and kings.

So wide and deep is this influence that at the Democratic Convention in 1928, unsolicited and not a candidate, he received a vote for Presidential nomination. At the 1932 convention of the same party, he received the entire 22 votes of the Oklahoma delegation on one ballot. On another occasion he was offered the gubernatorial nomination of his home state, Oklahoma, and refused it.

Because of the insistent wishes of his fellow-townsmen, Will Rogers was actually elected Mayor of Beverly Hills, California, where he had made his home for many years. He lost this honor when Beverly Hills grew up to be a city of the sixth class and Will's title deteriorated into the emeritus class.

Few men living today enjoy a wider acquaintanceship and friendship among the great and small in every walk of life. Rarest of all, every celebrity in the wide field of entertainment is on good terms with the former cattle-hand. Politicians and statesmen hold him in high esteem while they fear his witty censure more than they do the combined editorial wrath of the nation. Foreign statesmen call him by his first name.

Edward Renfrew, otherwise H. R. H. the Prince of Wales, said of Will Rogers: "He's a great man and although he picked on me quite a lot we became great friends and played polo together."

The late Dwight Whitney Morrow counted Will Rogers as the keystone of the newly erected arch of friendship between the United States and Mexico.

While Will Rogers has been hailed by those who make their living discerning new stars, as a philosopher, pundit and play-boy, he is principally a comedian, maintaining this ticklish job without being a clown. He jests at the President of the United States and at street car conductors, but he never harms or hurts his subject, a notable fact which so-called critics of the arts might ponder on.

It has been said of Will Rogers that if a Republican President of the United States says a thing is so, the Democrats may doubt him. But if Will Rogers backs him up, even the Democrats believe him.

Still other commentators have said that in Washington the Senate fears Will Rogers more than all the editors of America, for Rogers in a hundred words can laugh away the effect of hours of oratory and weeks of research. Thus he becomes the arch enemy of jingoes, lobbyists and filibusters.

"There can never be another war in this country," a Washington statesman is supposed to have said, "unless Will Rogers is for it."

The secret of Will Rogers' appeal is that he appears to be just an ordinary man, one of the vast herd. He chews gum, sometimes audibly, and excuses his gum-chewing by saying it keeps down his desire to smoke. His clothes are old, he is not handsome, he acknowledges cheerfully he has no set appeal, and his hair usually needs the attention of a barber. Everything about the man indicates a simple, straightforward person.

His homely philosophy, his absolute artlessness, his straightforward reasoning, and his knack of pure humor, which is after all, only a true statement of fact, have made him one of the most widely listened to men in the world.

One of the most pertinent remarks made about him by a recent writer is that he is one of the few funny men who never have to look around to see if women are within earshot when they tell a story.

Through the movies, from the stage, from the lecture platform, newspapers, in magazines, over the radio, Rogers reaches nearly everybody who understands the English language. And every word he utters is his own, every sentence that appears in print under his name has been written by Will Rogers and by Will Rogers alone, except in the movies where, of course he is playing a part. But even in pictures he ad lib lines which never occurred to the author of the play, whether it be "The Connecticut Yankee," by Mark Twain, or his latest Fox picture, "Down to Earth," by Homer Croy.

On or off stage, at home or abroad, he is the same. He is exactly what he appears to be, and none mistakes in his slouching gait and drawing phrase the sharp brilliance of his alert mind.

He has one motto which he lives up to and which he never wants to live down. It is simply this: "Be yourself."

JUDGE RIGG HEARS FIVE PLEAD GUILTY

Waive Grand Jury Action to Expedite Hearing of Charges

After a month's vacation in which most of the attaches of the Burlington county courts participated, the regular weekly sessions were resumed, at Mount Holly, last Thursday.

Several Orphans' Court matters that had accumulated in the interim were first taken up and disposed of by Judge Rigg, after which defendants who had elected to come in on waivers and enter pleas had their desires attended to.

Daniel A. Creedon, of Maple Shade, charged with assaulting Catherine Young, his mother-in-law, of that place, entered a plea of guilty to the charge made by Mrs. Young, and was fined $75, and he will be on six months' probation while the fine is being paid.

Palmer M. Sharp, of Mount Holly, arrested earlier in the week on the complaint of his wife, who charged him with assault and battery, neglect and non-support, entered a plea of guilty to the assault and battery charge, on which he received a suspended sentence, being placed on probation for one year.

On the charges of neglect and non-support, Sharp made an offer of $5 a week for the support of his wife and little son, and he will furnish a bond for $500 guaranteeing the payment of this amount weekly to his wife.

Robert E. Young and Orville Muse, colored, of Moorestown, picked up Wednesday last by Chief John Bradshaw, of that place, with a plentiful supply of money and other articles indicating they were number game writers or salesmen, entered pleas of non-vault to the charge of operating a lottery. They will be back to hear their sentences Thursday.

David Willis, of Camden, arrested in Palmyra after he had passed a worthless check, pleaded guilty to the charge, but as there are some matters in connection with his operations that need further investigation, he was remanded to the county jail for the week.

E. N. COOPER WINS TENNIS CROWN

Lathbury, Metzgar, Borer, Reynolds and Russell Also Win In Different Divisions

E. N. Cooper, former principal of the Riverton schools, gained for himself the silver trophy and title of champion in the men's singles division in the Memorial Park tennis championship tournament Sunday morning. Cooper and Lathbury locked horns in the finals before a crowd of tennis followers. Both players had developed fine tennis technique during the season, and while the score of 6-3, 6-3, 6-3, would seem to indicate a walk-over for Cooper, those who witnessed the match were unanimous in the opinion that the match was one of the hardest played during the entire tournament.

Most all of the games went to deuce, but in the pinches Cooper's generalship came to the fore to nose out Lathbury. Lathbury's defeat is attributed to two factors—one the steady, accurate driving by Cooper first into one corner and then the other in his opponent's court; second, Lathbury insisted upon coming up to the net too many times with his chop stroke, allowing Cooper to lob the ball over his head to the base line with deadly accuracy.

Cooper was probably in top form for this match having played every evening for the week previous and against such serious opposition as Rene Gros, Paul Jones, Jack Metzgar and George Hagstov. Lathbury worked his way to the top through a somewhat less difficult bracket, defeating J. Reed, E. Schmeider, B. Freeman and K. Lath.

Men's Doubles

In the men's doubles division, played Sunday afternoon, Lathbury and Metzgar played strategic tennis to defeat Cooper and Woodward, and annex the doubles championship title. The score was 6-1, 5-7, 6-0 and 6-4. The spectators were present in large numbers and Metzgar's work, particularly his recovery of several seemingly impossible shots, brought hearty bursts of applause.

The first set started with Metzgar winning his service, and the count went to 3-0 before Cooper and Woodward.

At the last meeting Lecturer Thomas McCrosson introduced an entirely new and fascinating pastime for the members, and a prize was awarded to the lucky one in lieu of the regular attendance prize, which was won by Chris Davis.

The chairman of the Ways and Means Committee announces that the regular weekly card parties that proved so popular last season will again commence on next Wednesday, September 21, and will continue each Wednesday evening. The usual array of high type prizes will be distributed each week.

SNYDER CO. GETS BRIDGE CONTRACT

Elizabeth Concern Lowest Bidder by Nearly $7,000 on Hainesport Bridge

At the meeting of the Burlington County Board of Freeholders last Friday bids were opened for construction of a new Hainesport bridge along the Marne highway and crossing Rancocas creek at Hainesport.

The low bid was submitted by Snyder Engineering Company, of Elizabethtown, at $44,700. Other bids were: Hill Construction Company, Mount Holly, $50,000, and Kohn Construction Company, Trenton, $51,404. The new bridge is to be wider than the present span.

Freeholder William H. Heiser, Pemberton, presented a resolution authorizing the board to borrow $50,000 to be appropriated for construction of the bridge, work upon which is expected to begin before the end of this month.

Approve Route

It was announced that the State Highway Commission has approved the route submitted by the board for a new bypass leading from the Burlington-Mount Holly road across Route 25 to the Burlington-Bridgeton bridge. The road, to measure seven-tenths of a mile, will be of stone and work is expected to start within two weeks.

Fourteen new applications for widows' pensions were submitted. They were referred to the county solicitor before being presented to the Old Age Pension Board.

The appointment of Miss Mary E. Weast, of Mount Holly, as deputy surrogate was approved.

Miss Weast, who has been employed in the surrogate's office for 12 years, serves as acting surrogate for some time following the death of M. E. Matlack.

Appointed by Surrogate

Her appointment was submitted by Surrogate George M. Blitting, who succeeded Matlack. Miss Weast, a graduate of Mount Holy High School, is considered an authority on testamentary law.

Surrogate Blitting announced that Miss Rachel Goshall has replaced Miss Gladys Burr in his office.

Notification was received from the Burlington County Board of Taxation that the application of the People's National Bank of Pemberton, for a reduction in the assessment of its bank block had been granted. The assessment was cut from $116,255.65 to $110,408.85, which effected a saving of $4,846.80 in the amount of taxes to be paid.

Appreciated Road Work

George J. Spencer, clerk of the Borough of Palmyra, addressed a letter to the board expressing the appreciation of the governing body for the fine piece of work the county road department had done of covering the discarded tire tracks in Palmyra.

The board of education of Delran Township requested that a road marker be placed at Cambridge, where many school children must pass on their way to the school building. Referred to the director of the road department.

Application was made by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company for permission to use a plot of ground belonging to the county at Masonville, for storing road material and the erection of a heating apparatus. This road material will be used by a number of townships. The desired permission was granted under a resolution presented by Freeholder Charles R. Stout, director of the road department.

COUNCIL MOVES FOR LOWER RATES

Riverton Officials Seek Cut in Electricity, Gas and Water

After calling attention to the paragraph in his annual message to council the first of the year dealing with the subject of water, electric light and gas rates to the municipality and to private concerns, Mayor Killam, of Riverton, last Thursday night suggested that Riverton's governing body should make a serious effort toward having these rates lowered. He expressed the opinion that a committee should be appointed to thoroughly investigate the matter and report back to council.

The mayor called attention to the time when the Borough paid $10 per fire hydrant per year and when the water rates to consumers were a small fraction of the amount now charged. The Mayor expressed the belief also that the rates charged for gas and electric current were excessive in view of reductions in many other commodities. He said that since the first of the year he had given the subject of reducing rates careful consideration and had made some inquiries as to what might possibly be accomplished.

Municipalities to Join Forces

The Mayor cited a recent letter from the League of Municipalities in which it was stated that many governing bodies had gone on record favoring a reduction in rates. The matter will come before the annual meeting to the League at Asbury Park on October 6 and 7. He further stated that he had been in conference with Mayor Harry Bacharach, of Atlantic City, who is also a member of the Public Utilities Commission, and stated that Mr. Bacharach had said if Riverton would gather the necessary data and make an application for reduction in rates he would personally present the matter to the Commission for consideration.

It was recalled that when the present rates were put in effect in 1927 they were to be effective for one year, at the end of which time the water company was to submit a report, upon which the Commission would decide whether the rates were to be lowered, further increased, or remain as they were. It was stated that this report had never been made to the commission by the water company.

CHANGE IN P.T.A. MEETING

The meeting of the Riverton Parent-Teacher Association has been postponed from September 19 until the 26th, owing to school not opening on scheduled time. The project for the year is "What Does the Community Owe Its Children?" The first discussion under the title of "Their Moving Pictures" will be led by Mrs. Edwin Orice, first president of the Riverton Mothers' Circle. All mothers and friends are heartily invited to attend this first meeting, September 26, in the Riverton school auditorium at 2:15 o'clock.

SACRED HEART P.T.A.

The Sacred Heart Parent-Teacher Association will hold its first meeting of the school term on Wednesday, September 21, at three o'clock, in the auditorium of the school. It is urgently requested by the executive committee that all members try to be present. The executive body will meet at 2:30, prior to the regular meeting.

SCHOOL OPENING AGAIN POSTPONED

Riverton Board Defers Opening Until Sept. 20, Owing to Infantile Paralysis

Acting on the recommendation of Dr. Harry L. Rogers, medical inspector of the school, the Riverton board of education last night passed a resolution that the public school would not be opened before Sept. 20, owing to the prevalence of infantile paralysis in Philadelphia, Camden, Moorestown and other nearby places. It is understood that unless there is a recommendation for further postponement from Dr. Rogers, the school will open on Tuesday of next week.

Five applications for admittance to Palmyra High School, and two for post graduate courses were acted upon favorably by the board.

A letter was received from the district clerk of Palmyra stating that high school tuition is now payable monthly. The letter was received and filed, and the matter referred to the district clerk of the Riverton board.

Richard D. Barclay addressed a letter to the board stating that he desired his son Richard to take the agricultural course, and since this subject is not taught in Palmyra High School, requested that the boy be sent to the Moorestown High School, his tuition to be paid by the Riverton board.

Mr. Hemphill recommended that the permission for the transfer be secured from the Palmyra board and the request then submitted to the State Commissioner of Education. A motion to that effect was made by George D. Steele, seconded by Mr. Murray and unanimously passed.

Mr. Steele, chairman of the property committee, reported that the renovation of the school building had been about completed, and recommended that a new service pipe be run from the water main to the school building as the one now in use had been put in twenty-two years ago and not replaced since that time.

The service pipe is so clogged with sediment from the iron in the water that an adequate supply in the building is not available. The property committee was authorized to secure bids and have the work done.

Mr. Steele's recommendation for the installation of Venetian blinds in the principal's office, to eliminate the glare from the afternoon sun, was referred to the supply committee.

FINED FOR RECKLESS DRIVING

At 9:30 last evening, a car driven by George Hoffman, 57 Howard road, West Brookline, Delaware county, Pa., crashed into one driven by D. Franklin James, 3819 North 19th street, Philadelphia, at Broad and Main streets, Riverton. The James car was badly damaged, and Hoffman was fined $5.00 and costs by Borough Recorder C. A. Bowers for reckless driving and passing a red light. The arrest was made by Officer William Gootee.

GARDEN PILGRIMAGE

The Haddon Thornightly Club has extended an invitation to the members of the Riverton Porch Club to make garden pilgrimage with them on September 16 from 10 in the morning until 8 at night. Admission for each pilgrimage will be 50 cents and individual gardens will be 10 cents.

STOLE SPEEDBOAT

Two Moorestown boys who stole Lester S. Fortnum's speedboat at Bridgeboro last week, concealed the boat behind the old ferry slip at Palmyra. A Palmyra lad tipped Officer Lutz to the fact that a mysterious boat was being kept at the slip and Chief of Police Beck and Officer Lutz caught the offenders. They were George Swindell and Thomas Darmo. Their hearing will be held today.

WAR DECLARED ON SPEEDING OF AUTOS

Chief Miller, of Riverton, Will Take Drastic Action for Protection of Public Safety

Owing to the receipt of numerous complaints about the racing and speeding of automobiles within the borough limits, and especially on Main street south of the railroad, Chief of Police Walter G. Miller has announced that a war on this practice will be instituted, starting today, Thursday, September 15.

While it is the desire of the police department to secure the observance of traffic regulations with as little severity and annoyance as possible, Chief Miller, owing to the increasing danger to pedestrians and others because of the recklessness of those drivers who continually violate traffic rules and the dictates of reasonable care as well, feels that the time has come when drastic action is necessary in the interest of public safety.

10 LEADERS AT YMCA MEETING

Representatives of Palmyra-Riverton "Y" Visit Ockanick-on; Benhn Heads Leaders

Over last weekend, September 10 and 11, ten representatives from the Palmyra and Riverton Y.M.C.A. attended the Leaders' Institute at Camp Ockanick-on.

The program was very full and the men who spoke gave actual experience as to group work with their own groups. After listening to the address, three groups were made and each group had an open forum on the main points of the talks previously made.

One of the most inspiring speeches of the afternoon session on Saturday was made by W. Reading Gebhardt, of Haddoners county. Mr. Gebhardt stressed 5 ways in which a leader can build up a strong group:

1. Love of boys.
2. Good sense of humor.
3. Process of education (character building and vocational guidance).
4. Social contact with those of the opposite sex.
5. Fundamental religious training which is the basis and support of the other four and without which they will fail.

Sunday brought Dr. Joseph Kuder with a most inspiring message. Dr. Kuder instilled into each of those present the fact that though we sometimes feel that we are not succeeding yet in the end the spirit of service is rewarded when we least expect it and when we have in our own minds admitted defeat. Dr. Kuder is well worth listening to and has consented to come over and address a Sunday gathering sometime during the winter months.

Bruce Beahn has consented to head a leaders group and they will meet once a month to formulate plans for the groups as well as checking up on those of the months previous. It is arranged to have one Sunday evening church service a month, at which time the Y.M.C.A. will attend in a group. The churches will be visited in the order: Y.M.C.A. will open on the 19th and the schedule for that week is as follows:

Monday—Leaders' Meeting at the Y building, 7 o'clock.
Tuesday—Last year group presidents at the Y building, 8 o'clock.
Wednesday—Finance committee meeting at the Y building at 8 o'clock.
Thursday—Board meeting at the Y building at 8 o'clock.
Those who attended the Institute at Ockanick-on were, Bruce Beahn, George Long, George Fichter, Kenneth Snow, Richard Snow, Richard Woodward, Howard Taylor, Jr., Robert Stull, Preston Stanford, Wilton Mount, J. Elmer Hahn. Beside the leaders named above we have about eight others that will serve this year and we can say that we have for the first time in many seasons a full-rounded and sufficient leaders group that will serve the boys better than we have been able to before due to not having enough to handle all the groups.

The Ladies Auxiliary gets under way Wednesday, the 14th, at the home of Mrs. Warren. Here is a live, up-to-date bunch. They are working hard for the youth of this community because they love them. Give them the support they deserve in their various undertakings. Although starting late last year they have already done many things for the boys.

INVITED AWAY

The Sacred Heart Parent-Teacher Association is invited to be guest of the Vineland P.T.A. on Thursday, September 22. This is the first regional meeting of the school term and is to be held in the school auditorium. As this will be all-day affair the meeting will be called promptly at 10 o'clock. Luncheon will be served. Subjects of great importance will be discussed at this meeting and prominent speakers will attend. All Sacred Heart P.T.A. members who would like to go or who have a car to send are requested to call Mrs. H. E. Sanford, Riverton 553-J as soon as possible as reservations must be in by September 19.

TAXPAYERS PLAN ORGANIZATION IN ALL COMMUNITIES

Local Associations Needed to Make Statewide Work Effective

COMMITTEES HOLD MT. HOLLY MEETING

Methods of Reducing Public Expenses Outlined by Speakers

A meeting of the local committees of the Burlington County Taxpayers' Association was held in St. Andrew's Parish House, Mount Holly, Monday evening, under the chairmanship of Norman F. S. Russell.

Plans were laid for a campaign to organize strong local units throughout the county.

Mr. Russell declared that it was only by enlisting large numbers of taxpayers in each community in a concerted effort to reduce taxes that real results could be obtained.

He reported that a net saving of $10,000 to the taxpayers of the county had already been accomplished by the association, through reductions made in county and local budgets. The county association has only been in existence eleven months.

Cooperation Given

The speaker said the association had met friendly cooperation from county and municipal officials, but that mandatory legislation prevented many savings that should be possible. He declared that while the income of the average man had been reduced nearly fifty per cent from 1929 to 1931, the pay of governmental employees, teachers and others, which is fixed by law, had increased 22 per cent.

The advantage of organization among the taxpayers was emphasized by citing the fact that 6,000 school teachers appeared at the last session of the legislature and prevented reduction of teachers' salary through revision of the tenure of office act, whereas the taxpayers had no large group to plead their cause.

Mr. Russell, although a life-long Republican praised Governor Moore for the economies now being effected in the state government.

Professor Eugene Greider, of the economics department of Rutgers College, who is vice-president of the Tax Research Foundation, told of the work being done by a committee of experts in devising ways and means of tax reduction.

No Justice

Dr. Greider asserted that many officials do not know just what appropriations are mandatory and often place items in their budgets which are not required by law. He said there was no such thing as justice in taxation, because the man who does the most for his community invariably pays the most taxes and the man who serves the least usually pays nothing.

One suggestion made by the speaker to avoid mandatory expense was that the state take over certain services which are now forced upon each county and that the method of assessment be revised, so that many properties now not assessed at all would be forced to pay their share.

Perinchieff Speaks

Morris K. Perinchieff, president of the Mount Holly Taxpayers' unit, attacked expenditures of the State Highway Commission, the State Department of Institutions and Agencies, and local educational systems. He said the highway commission should be forced to make a report of its expenditures, the department of institutions should stop saddling taxpayers with burdens caused by new constructions and that local educational costs should be studied.

Explaining the purpose of the state association and its subordinate bodies, President Russell said: "The State Association is opposed to any new form of taxation until every possible means to reduce the extravagant and wasteful expenditure of public funds and unnecessary and superfluous personnel have been exhausted. The State Association will continue and greatly enlarge its campaign for a reduction in the cost of government."

"It is working for the repeal of all mandatory laws fixing the tenure of office, personnel, or rates of pay of public employees in counties and subdivisions thereof, including those of Board of Education."

"It is opposed to the continuation of the state mandate requiring counties and municipalities to match state grants in like amount or any portion thereof."

"It is urging that all state expenditures of departments, divisions and bureaus be approved by the state treasurer instead of handing their own finances as at present."

"This association is thus not interested in new sources of income, but more economical government."

RED ARROW CAMPAIGN

A Red Arrow Campaign will be held in Palmyra soon. The following merchants have already entered: Lester S. Fortnum, L. O. Rogers, Luke E. Eberly, Whitmore's Quality Market and John H. Etris. Watch for details concerning the campaign in next week's issue of this paper.

EXPECT SLAYER OF WIFE TO RECOVER

Burlington Man Shoots Woman Who Planned to Desert Him

Held under guard in the Burlington County Hospital at Mount Holly after killing his wife and attempting to commit suicide, Norman E. Smith, 32, of Taylor avenue, Burlington, is expected to recover.

A full confession was obtained from the man by Ellis H. Parker, chief of Burlington County detectives, in which Taylor admitted shooting his wife to death to prevent her from going to a man with whom she had previously run away.

Taylor shot his wife, Clara, 23, with a shotgun as she came from the office of the Burlington Soft Drink Company at Washington avenue and Taylor streets, shortly before three o'clock last Thursday afternoon. She had been attempting to call Burlington police but was unable to do so owing to a busy line.

With her were two of her young children, Myrtle, 7, and Norman, Jr., 3. The couple have two other children, Marion, 4, and Harvey, 18 months old. Smith was waiting in his car when his wife came out of the store and stepped from his car and shot her. The full charge took effect in her back and she died almost immediately.

Shoots Himself

Smith then walked to his car and shot himself. The charge struck his side under the left arm but did not reach a vital spot.

Anthony Francesco, owner of the bottling establishment, telephoned to city hall and told what had happened to Curator Frank Perry. Captain Frank Gilbert had just returned from serving warrants and went immediately to the scene.

Mrs. Smith was dead when he arrived and he called Coroner William F. Young, who sent the body to Black's morgue. Captain Gilbert immediately placed the wounded man in the city ambulance and sent him to the hospital at Mount Holly.

He is being guarded night and day by Benjamin F. Farner and Earl Lippincott, who have been sworn in for that duty. Farner is a constable and Lippincott is a former policeman. Smith will be formally charged with murder when he recovers to a sufficient degree.

Detective Parker was notified at once and with Detectives Clinton Zeller and Clifford Cain, hurried to the scene to take charge of the case. Smith is a World War veteran and was formerly employed as a stationary engineer in a Beverly plant.

In making a statement to Parker he said his wife eloped three weeks ago to Brandon, Vt., with a young Burlington man. This man was Frank Trevi, 22, according to Smith's mother, Mrs. Josephine Coles, who lives in a house adjoining the rear of Smith's.

Mrs. Smith took her four children on the elopement. Mrs. Coles said, all riding in Trevi's car. Smith learned of their elopement and destination through a friend and went to Vermont by train, arriving August 19, a few minutes after they reached there by automobile. Mrs. Coles said, Smith persuaded his wife to return with her children to Burlington.

Intercepted Letter

At the Burlington post office last week Smith said he intercepted a letter from "the other man" to Smith's wife, urging her to rejoin him in Vermont.

He told his wife of the letter the day of the shooting. She demanded he let her go to Brandon, the husband told Parker. He refused. Her threat to rejoin the man led to a bitter quarrel.

As the quarrel went on, Mrs. Smith finally told her husband she was going out to telephone police and ask them to arrest him and hold him until she got out of town. She went out of the house with her two children, Myrtle and Norman, and walked about a half mile to the Burlington Soft Drink Company.

Meanwhile Smith got the shotgun and four shells from his home. He jumped into his car, with the shotgun in the rear seat, according to his statement.

Mrs. Smith was at the steps of the bottling works when her husband arrived, halted the car.

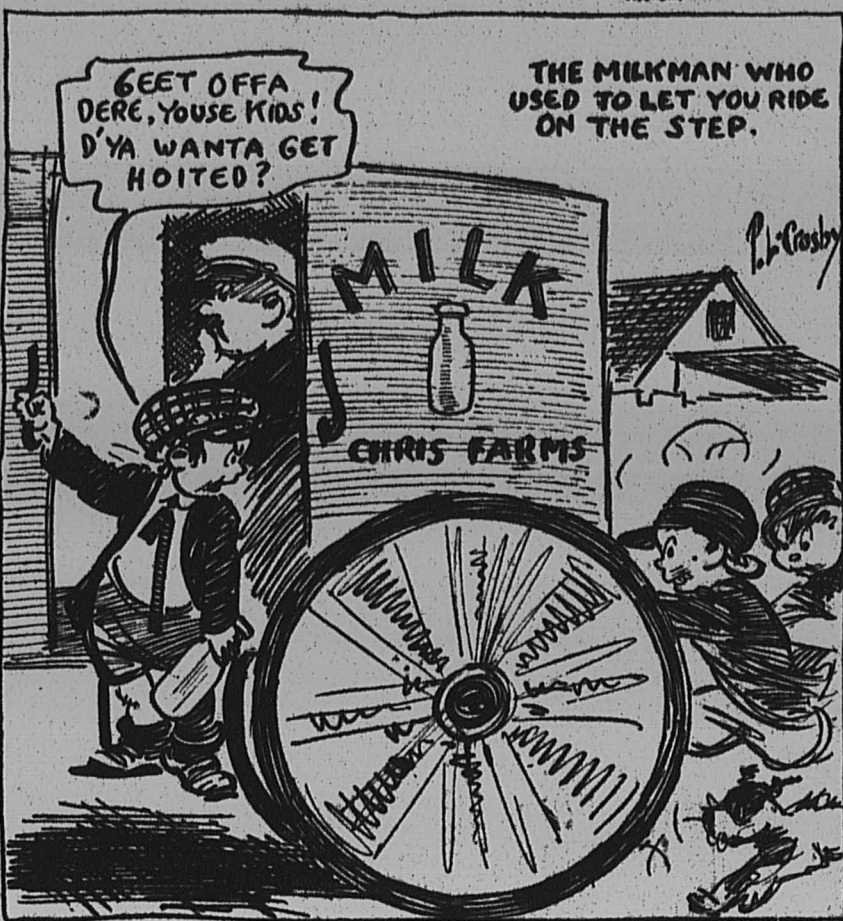

Without leaving the car, he tersely asked her to return and give up the idea of leaving home.

Refuses Husband's Plea

She refused, turning her back on him, and was about to mount the first step, with both of her children

Friends We Never Forget.

holding her by either hand when Smith rushed into the rear seat, got the shotgun, raised it to his shoulder and fired a single charge.

Smith then got out of the car, held the stock of the gun away from him and placed the barrel above his heart, near the armpit. He fired the charge and fell.

"Norman did everything in his power to have her remain with the children," Mrs. Coles said. "He wanted to forgive and forget, but she wouldn't forget the other man. He wanted her to stay at home with the children. He lost a lot through her, one properly he owned next door to him. I guess he couldn't stand it any longer. He even quit his job because of this affair."

Mrs. Smith is the former Clara Parks. She lived in Camp Dix, coming there from Connecticut.

Walter Coles, stepfather to Smith, said Mrs. Smith had told him two of her aunts had been murdered.

Smith's condition will not be dangerous, physicians said, unless peritonitis develops.

FOUR HIGHWAY JOBS ATTRACT 50 BIDDERS

Fifty-nine bids on four road and bridge projects, representing a probable expenditure of more than $700,000, were received by the State Highway Commission at Trenton Monday. Low bid on 3.4 miles of paving route 49 (Marlton pike) from Browning road to Kings highway, in Camden county, was submitted by Edward H. Ellis, Westville, with a figure of $228,952. This was low for grading 4.7 miles of route 29 in Somerset county, at $76,593.

LICENSE LEFT HOME, DRIVER IS ARRESTED

Herman L. Thies, of 7300 Park avenue, Pensauken, was arraigned last Thursday night before J. Leedom Smith, at Burlington, charged with driving an automobile without a license or registration card. He was arrested by Special Motor Vehicle Agent William F. Young, of Burlington. Thies told Smith he left his license at home and when they were produced he was given a suspended sentence.

OLD LOCOMOTIVE AT BORDENTOWN

"John Bull" to be Exhibited at Celebration There Next Week

Among the articles of historic interest to be shown in Bordentown at the 250th anniversary celebration will be the first steam locomotive used in America.

The "John Bull," as the engine was known, flashed its pistons for the first time over the rails of the Camden and Amboy Railroad before an awestricken crowd.

Bordentown was a railroad center for many years because of many repair shops located in the city and many railroad employees made their homes there.

The initiation of the famous engine on November 12, 1831, was a gala day for Bordentown and all New Jersey as hundreds of persons watched the preliminary operations of placing the iron horse on the tracks, filling its tank with water pumped from hogheads brought up alongside the tracks, filling the fire box with blazing pine logs and then waiting for the gauge to register 30 pounds, the predetermined point for starting. With some what skeptical members of the New Jersey Legislature, railroad men and curious citizens keeping a safe distance away, Engineer Dripps pulled back the throttle and "John Bull" was off on a history-making trip.

For 34 years the pioneer engine was kept in active service, then it was displaced by an improved type of locomotive. A score of years later it was presented to the Smithsonian Institution where it is still viewed by thousands each year.

Palmer May Get Circuit Court Post

V. Claude Palmer, law partner of State Senator Clifford R. Powell, is regarded as a probable appointee to the Circuit Court bench to succeed Vice Chancellor Francis B. Davis, of Woodbury.

Mr. Palmer is said to have strong backing for the appointment and those high in the councils of the Republican party are hopeful he will receive the appointment.

Mr. Palmer lives on Chester avenue, Moorestown, and Burlington county is making a strong bid for the judgeship because Davis was appointed successor to former Vice Chancellor Edmund B. Levenson, of Moorestown.

At the present time Mr. Palmer is counsel for the Campbell Soup Company, Camden, in the settlement of the estate of Dr. John T. Dorrance, late president of the firm. Palmer & Powell have their offices in Mount Holly.

SEVEN FINED ON LOTTERY CHARGES

Number Writers Face Judge Charles A. Rigg and Admit Guilt

Seven men were arraigned in Special Sessions Court in Mount Holly before Judge Charles Rigg last Thursday on charges of maintaining lotteries or possessing lottery tickets. All of them admitted their guilt and were fined.

Robert E. Young and Orville Muse, colored, both of Moorestown, were the first ones. They had entered pleas of non vult when they were brought in on waivers the week previous, charged with possessing lottery tickets in Moorestown township on August 20. Thursday they were fined $200 apiece and given six months to pay the fines. Young has been before the Court twice before, once on a similar charge and once for gambling.

Clarence T. Morrell, also of Moorestown, was similarly charged and entered a plea of guilty. A quantity of number tickets were found hidden under the top of his car when it was stopped by state police on the Marine highway in Moorestown township. He was also fined $200 and given six months to pay.

Israel Greenberg, of Bordentown, charged with maintaining a lottery in his cigar store on Farnsworth avenue, on August 20, pleaded guilty and received the same punishment as the other defendants. He was arrested in a raid made by county detectives and state police, in which number slips and $28 in cash were seized.

Andrew D. Roebeling, came in on two charges of possessing lottery tickets, one on May 5, and the other on August 25. He pleaded guilty to both charges and was fined $150 on each count. He has six months to pay the fine.

Sidney Popkin and Albert Gordon, both of Trenton, arrested on August 25, entered pleas of guilty to charges of maintaining a lottery in Florence township. Popkin, who appeared to be the one in charge of the place when it was raided, was fined $200 and given six months to pay, while Gordon, who was merely an employee, got off with a fine of $25, which he is to pay in six months.

Isaac Levy and Michael Silway, both of Trenton, arrested at the same time that the two previous defendants were picked up, entered pleas of not guilty to charges of maintaining a lottery. It was found, after their arrest, that they merely happened to be on the premises at the time of the raid, so Prosecutor Howard Eastwood moved to nolle prosequi the charges.

George McLaughlin, of Bordentown, pleaded guilty to a charge of breaking and entering the store of Jacob Greenberg, at 127 Farnsworth avenue, with intent to steal. He was sentenced to nine months in the county jail, dating from the date of his commitment.

David Willis, of Philadelphia, who previously pleaded guilty to a charge of issuing a worthless check for $1250 in a chain store in Riverside and obtaining goods and money by this means, was sentenced to two months in the county jail, dating from August 12, the date of his original commitment.

Joseph Buddy, of Florence, pleaded non vult to a charge of maintaining a house and possession of liquor in Florence township on June 29. He was fined a total of $300 and given six months to pay.

Robert Watt, Jr., of Philadelphia, charged with transportation and possession of ten five-gallon cans of alcohol in Palmyra on July 21, pleaded guilty. He was fined $75 and placed on probation for six months.

Harry Heist, alias Harry W. Englebright, of Trenton, entered a plea of not guilty to an indictment charging him with breaking, entering and larceny at the gasoline station of William Evans in Bordentown on August 22, 1931. He will be placed on trial later.

When a police squad rushed to a garage in Cleveland on a tip that a dead man would be found there, they found Joseph Artino operating a 50-gallon still.

George F. Sheers, of Mattoon, Ill., had his first tooth extracted a week after his 100th birthday.

LAWYERS OF COUNTY PLAN REORGANIZATION

A reorganization meeting of the Burlington County Bar Association was held last Thursday night at the Court House, Mount Holly, with Judge Charles A. Rigg, of Burlington, presiding. Judge Rigg appointed a committee to prepare a new set of by-laws, and a committee for nominating purposes. Harold T. Parker, of Mount Holly, acted as secretary of the meeting.

RAIDERS SEIZE STILL AT SYLVAN LAKES HOME

Raided by county detectives and a state trooper, the home of Leonard Cohee, on Eighteenth street, Sylvan Lakes, yielded a small still and a quantity of mash. Cohee, arrested on charges of possession and manufacture of liquor, was arraigned before Supreme Court Commissioner Howard G. Stackhouse, Mount Holly, who held him in $500 bail for the grand jury. The raiding party included County Detectives Clinton Zeller and Clifford Cain, and State Trooper John P. Speed, of Columbus.

Highlights in the Life of WILL ROGERS Star of the FOX Film "DOWN TO EARTH"

Copyright, 1931 William Hermann Deppmann

Will Rogers and Irene Rich in a scene from the Fox film, "Down to Earth".

Chapter II EARLY STAGES

WILL ROGERS is distinctly a product of the Southwest. His father, Clem V. Rogers, owned a horse and cattle ranch and was a member of the convention that drafted the present constitution of the state of Oklahoma. Thus Will Rogers was born with a legitimate interest both in polo ponies and politics.

Will was born November 4, 1879, in Okmulgee, United States Cherokee Indian Territory, and as he describes the event today, fifty-two years later, "It was a very private affair."

Of his forebears he says that "they were just an old Texan family, and not bad American stock. My father was part Cherokee Indian and so was my mother."

Both his grandmother and great-grandmother were full-blooded Cherokees, although somehow Will Rogers' mother was called Mary Schrimsher, plainly not an Indian name.

Over his grandparents Will Rogers waxes mildly enthusiastic.

"Course their folks way back didn't come over on the Mayflower—they were just standing there when it docked. As a matter of fact, the biggest mistake my ancestors made was letting them land."

Will was christened William Penn Adair Rogers and for all his ramboyanly poetic name, most of his boyhood and early manhood was passed on his father's ranch where he became an expert cow-puncher and lariat thrower.

What little schooling he obtained was at the William Haskell School at Neosho, Missouri, and at the Kemper Military Academy at Booneville, Missouri. The latter institution he attended for part of two terms.

His horse sense which since has made him famous could not be confined to the four walls of a school room and if his hand was a bit unsteady in reading, writing, and arithmetic, he was an expert cow-hand.

Being gifted with an unlimited fund of good nature and a sense of humor, he was always the center of an admiring group of cowboys who rocked with laughter at his incessant flow of jests and yarns.

Coupling his knowledge of cattle and horses, Will Rogers soon found himself successively in the Argentine, in New Zealand and in Australia. One of his early hobbies consisted in working out unusual and difficult feats with his lasso, and while engaged in such attempts he was in the habit of cracking jokes at the expense of himself and his pals. Before long he found he could afford others amusement as well as recreation for himself. Thus, when he returned to this country he was soon doing his stuff in public with Colonel Zachary Miller's Wild West Show on the pike at the St. Louis World's Fair in 1904.

Ultimately Zach Miller's show came to New York and it was then that Will Rogers first burst out into the sensational print which has since traveled everywhere with him. The Wild West Show was holding forth one night in the now demolished old Madison Square Garden when a steer broke loose, jumped over the rails and before anyone realized it, was charging furiously at the audience.

Here was a situation made to order for the master of the lariat, and at that crucial moment up jumped Will Rogers. His lariat went spinning through the air and the enraged beast tumbled over. Such Wild West entertainment was very rare for the morning papers and so widespread was the publicity at tending Rogers' simple noose throwing feat that he was promptly booked into Keith's Union Square theatre in the first act of his own. Thus he lassoed fame. For a time his act consisted solely in his sitting upon his pony in the middle of the stage, chewing his gum and spinning his rope. He had already built up a following and Oscar Hammerstein seemed content with this silent cowboy whose only conversation was carried on with his horse, Comanche.

About this time another lucky break came to Will Rogers' way. He was doing his act, complacently chewing his cud and whispering sweet nothings into Comanche's ear, when one of the "gods," high up in the gallery made some sarcastic reference to the taciturn cowboy on the horse. Will looked up at the "shell." Without hesitation he made a witty retort, which while it has unfortunately been lost to posterity, was clever enough to be understood and appreciated by the audience. Will Rogers' first joke got over with what has been described as a bang.

For several years Will Rogers went over the big time vaudeville circuit, providing laughter from coast to coast. In 1915 he returned to New York. Then came the late Florenz Ziegfeld, who featured Will in the "Follies," later starring him. What Will had to say and did say about political and social events won him renown far beyond the walls of the theatre.

Later in the "Follies," where he appeared without his pony, Will chewed and drawled his way through twenty minutes of chatter. No less austere an authority than the late Woodrow Wilson said he found Will's remarks not only humorous but illuminating.

From being a successful girl-show comedian Rogers has since become by degrees one of the most quoted, syndicated and banquetted of the country's humorists.

In 1919, Will Rogers entered into a contract to star in motion pictures for Goldwyn. For two years he made comedies, including "Jubilo," "Doubling For Romeo," "Just Call Me Jim," and "Idaho Crane." Rogers is now making "Jubilo" as a talkie for Fox to follow his current vehicle for that company, "Down to Earth."

In 1921 Will Rogers returned to his first love, the "Follies," but then the next year found him back in Hollywood again. In 1924 he returned to the call of Florenz the Magnificent, Ziegfeld, who again starred him in a score of scantily clad corymbes, at a salary reputed to be larger than that of any performer on the stage.

Rogers has since been starred in innumerable shows, not the least of which was "Three Cheers," pinch-hitting for his life-long friend, Fred Stone, when the latter was almost fatally injured in an airplane accident. Stone's famous recovery is now history.

A curious note in connection with "Three Cheers," is the fact that the producer Charles Dillingham always sent Rogers his salary in the form of a signed Hank check, permitting Rogers to fill in the amount.

What the amount was has always been a secret.

It was in 1919 that Rogers published his first book, "The Cowboy at the Peace Conference." This book contains his famous quip:

"It says here (The Peace Covenant): 'There is to be no more wars.' And then there is a paragraph further down telling you where you can get your ammunition in case there is one."

BURLINGTON CAR CRASH INJURES ONE MAN

An unidentified man was slightly injured when two cars collided at the intersection of Thompson street and Bordentown road, East Burlington, last Thursday night. He was an occupant in a car driven by Thomas Audrut, of 2235 Emerald street, Philadelphia, when it collided with a machine owned and driven by Gordon P. Morrell, of the New Jersey Manual Training School for Colored Youth, near Bordentown. Audrut left the scene of the accident and was found hiding a short distance away, according to police. Neither he nor the injured man could give police the name of the man who was hurt. The injured man was treated at the Burlington Emergency Hospital.

ceive Ovation at Annual Methodist Event

Hundreds of youngsters received an ovation at Mount Holly last Saturday in the annual baby parade of the First Methodist Church.

Miss Marjorie Rau, as queen, rode at the head of the parade, attended by Miss Miriam Pickard and Miss Julia Yoon. The three girls are graduates of Mount Holly High School and are radio singers.

BURLINGTON YOUTH IS HELD IN ROBBERIES

Charged with larceny of money, Francis Powers, 16, of Burlington, was held without bail in the Burlington county jail at Mount Holly. He was arraigned before Recorder Frank M. Lockman, of Columbus. Powers, who police say is on parole from Annandale, where he is said to have served seven months, was arrested by Police Chief George Griffith, Florence, on the complaint of his father, George Powers. A second complaint, charging him with stealing a bicycle from Julietstown, was made against him by Corporal Jarvis Wood and Trooper Joseph McCormick, of Columbus state police barracks, to whom he was turned over by Griffith.

CIVIL WAR VETERAN, 85, HONORED AT MOUNT HOLLY

John M. Huff, Civil War veteran, crier of Burlington county courts and former deputy sheriff and surrogate, Sunday celebrated his 85th birthday anniversary at his home in Mount Holly. Huff said he feels well and hearty and expects to live to reach the century mark. He never misses a session of court. Miss Madge Huff, a daughter, is a former deputy county clerk.

3.47 PERSONS IN AVERAGE BROOD

Census Shows Low Percentage of N. J. Families With No One Working

An interesting sidelight on the employment situation in New Jersey is reflected in a report made public recently showing only 5.2 per cent. of all families in the state reporting no members gainfully employed at the time of the last federal census, in 1930.

These, the enumerators recorded, represent for the most part the families of widows or elderly persons.

Of the 985,636 families in the state, 576,487 or 58.5 per cent., reported only one member having a gainful occupation; 219,988, or 22.3 per cent., reported two gainful workers; 137,996, or 14.0 per cent., reported three or more gainful workers.

The average size of families in New Jersey was 3.47 persons; for the native white families, 3.24; for the foreign-born white families, 4.01; and for colored families, 2.92. Farming families numbered 3.65 persons, on average, with those of city dwellers a fraction lower, 3.50.

Slightly more than 60 per cent. of all families in New Jersey had no children under 10 years of age, and only 7.9 per cent. had three or more under this age, tabulations prepared by the federal bureau show.

Samuel Zito, of Baltimore, turned in a fire alarm and asked firemen to take him to jail.

STATE-OWNED CAR IN MOORESTOWN CRASH

Fenders and bumpers suffered when a Chevrolet touring car, owned by the State Highway Department and driven by Patrick McCullough, 632 Market street, Gloucester, struck a Chevrolet coupe, drive by Barbara Smith, colored, of Rancocas, at Main and Church streets, Moorestown, shortly after 5:30 last Friday evening.

that the traffic control signal, operated by Officer Thomas Murphy, was against him, and drove across the intersection, striking the woman's machine broadside.

A fender, running board and door on the woman's machine suffered, while the front bumper and fenders on the state-owned machine were damaged. Murphy gave McCullough a summons for a hearing this Saturday.

Falling two stories after he had pushed a screen from the window of his home, Jimmy Wright, nine months old, of Flint, Mich., was uninjured.

IN ALL FAIRNESS

If it were necessary to single out one characteristic of the people of New Jersey which might be truthfully called "The Great American Virtue" it probably would be sportsmanship — the spirit of fair play. All men and women worthy the name believe in and practice the "square deal" and certainly the time has not yet come to abandon it.

Men who hold high public office have much with which to contend. It has been succinctly declared by one of the great philosophers that "no man can serve two masters," yet the public official often has to respond to the whims and desires of dozens of factions, no two of which are making identical demands.

There is, therefore, but one fair way in which to judge a man's fitness for any public office which he has held, when he expresses a desire to return to it. This is by the close scrutiny of his record.

One such aspirant to re-election in November is W. Warren Barbour, Republican candidate for the United States Senate, and in the short time he has won the toga of the upper House—since December 1st, last—he has met every issue frankly, courageously and in a way which should make every Jersey man or woman proud to return him to that important duty. To say that he has vindicated the judgment of former Governor Morgan F. Larson, who appointed him to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the late Dwight W. Morrow, is putting it mildly.

Barbour has consistently refused to "be seen and not heard" just because he happens to be a newcomer in the Senate.

He has never turned a deaf ear to any constituent with a just cause and he has been equally courageous when he thought his people mistaken.

The Republican candidate is a young man, with many years of vigorous, useful service before him. By all rules of reason, in consideration of the showing he has already made, W. Warren Barbour is deserving of the united support of all the state, regardless of party affiliation.

GETTING INTO A RUT

Owing to the great tendency toward specialization in every department of human activity, it is becoming more difficult for the average man to keep in touch with what is going on outside of his own immediate interests. He becomes so engrossed with his special line of work that he runs a risk of getting into a rut.

While the exactions of modern business and professional life lead necessarily to a high degree of specialization, they should not be permitted to unduly restrict one's mental horizon. Everyone should take sufficient time to keep abreast with important developments in the world about him. By doing so he will often encounter ideas which will be of practical benefit in his own sphere of effort.

Above all, he should lay aside routine duties frequently for the purpose of indulging in systematic thinking. Many men are able to evolve their best ideas in some quiet spot away from the scene of their daily labors.

Whatever may be the details of any method adopted, a portion of one's time should be devoted to sound reading covering varied subjects. Otherwise he will inevitably get into a rut. And getting into a rut is bad for his intellect and bad for his business.

GOVERNORS OF NEW YORK

From the earliest times the governors of the State of New York have included among their number personages of national as well as state importance. Three of them, Martin Van Buren, Grover Cleveland and Theodore Roosevelt, become presidents of the United States.

Two others, Samuel J. Tilden and Charles E. Hughes, missed the presidency by the narrowest of margins. Many believe that Tilden was defrauded of the presidency by the electoral commission of 1876. Horatio Seymour and Alfred E. Smith, were also candidates for president, both being decisively defeated. Now Franklin D. Roosevelt is the Democratic candidate, making the eighth New York governor to be nominated for the nation's highest office.

George Clinton, who was the state's first governor, became vice-president of the United States, as also did Governors Daniel D. Tompkins and Levi P. Morton.

Other New York governors who attained high national prominence included John Jay, first chief justice of the United States; DeWitt Clinton, senator; William L. Marcy, senator and secretary of war; W. H. Seward, secretary of state under Lincoln, and Charles E. Hughes, secretary of state under Harding and Coolidge, and now chief justice of the United States Supreme Court.

So, while all governors of the Empire state have not reached the ultimate goal of their ambitions, it appears that that office is a very desirable stepping stone to higher political preferment.

Boyle, of Allentown, Pa.; National Secretary Herman Miller, of Easton, Pa.; Commander-in-Chief, Fred Lynn, of Harrisburg, Pa.; Grand secretary of Grand Round-up of Rough Riders, William Slater, of Fleetwood, Pa.; and James Pyle, past state president of Pennsylvania.

The convention was very harmonious and considerable instructive legislation was passed. Past State President William H. Fisher, mayor of Philadelphia, was among those present at the convention.

Every district in the state was represented at the convention and it was decided to hold next year's convention in September at the same place, the Hotel Jefferson, Atlantic City.

There are about 150 cases to be presented to the grand jury.

BEER SEIZED IN RAID ON MAPLE SHADE SHED

Federal prohibition agents under Parker H. Hall, chief agent of the Camden district, are searching for the owner of 13 barrels of beer seized in an early morning raid in Maple Shade. The beer was discovered in a shed in the rear of a house in Orchard avenue near Forkland road. No one was in the building.

"Cause, ya can't believe all ya see," Zeek replied, "an' anyhow, I figured it out."

"Wad'ya mean, ya figured it out?" Zeek asked. "Wam't ya lookin' right smack at 'em?"

"Sure—but I figured 'twas all a bluff, 'cause if'n any home had stripes—wudn't Ezra Hankins have one?" Zeek confidently inquired.

Zale had no answer to the last question, but, however, he ventured a little further. "Then, I reckon ya don't believe in camels or elephants either?"

"Well," Zeek replied, "I do, an' I don't—do you?"

"I ought to," chuckled Zale, "didn't I ride on 'em?"

"No kiddin', Zale—did ya really ride a camel?"

"Well, not exactly," Zale said, "but I as good as had a ride—a man asked me."

"If'n the man asked ya, why dincha take it?" Zeek was getting curious now.

"'Cause, I was already up on a step-ladder, gittin' on a elephant when he asked me, an' anyhow, I go two rides off'n that elephant, sideways an' ahead."

A 75-pound catfish caught on a trout line in the Meremac river near St. Louis provided a dinner for 50 persons.

Horatio Blusbe, of New York, a Harvard student, recently reported to police that he had lost 600 matching ponies with two strangers.

Zeek and Zale were holding a debate in regard to the exaggerated shapes and terrors of the jungle animals. In relating their experiences with other than the farm type, Zeek was telling about the time he had occasion to see a zebra.

"I say, Zale! I stood there a whole hour, if 'twas a minute, an' I swear, sure I got legs, 'ain't no such animal!"

Zale evidenced a little bewilderment at such a puzzling statement.

"How can ya be calculatin', Zeek. If'n ya seen 'em with yer own eyes?" queried Zale.

"'Cause, ya can't believe all ya see," Zeek replied, "an' anyhow, I figured it out."

"Wad'ya mean, ya figured it out?" Zeek asked. "Wam't ya lookin' right smack at 'em?"

STATE PRESIDENT

LESLIE G. REEVES
Palmyra man who has been elected State President of the P. O. S. of A.

RELIEF ASSOCIATION MAKES FINE RECORD

A total of $222.90 was turned in to the Palmyra Relief organization during the past two weeks. This total brings the amount raised by voluntary contribution during the first four weeks of the organization safely above the $500 limit necessary to make state aid available.

The fact that the entire amount has been raised through voluntary contribution also means that the taxpayers' burden has not been increased.

This fine record for the first month of operation is due in large measure to the excellent work of the district captains and block leaders and to the fine spirit of cooperation shown by the citizens in every part of the borough.

A special contribution of $10 was received from the Junior Department of the Central Baptist Church, of which Mrs. Elias Toy, a member of the Board of Welfare directors, is treasurer.

The district organizations for contacting the citizens are now quite stabilized and few changes are being made in block leaders. Through an oversight the name of Mr. Kenny, 100 Pear street, block leader for district No. 9, has not been previously reported.

Walter Howard walked up to a policeman in St. Paul and said: "I am a brewery advertisement." The policeman agreed with him; so he got a $25 fine for intoxication.

WHITE GIRL, COLORED HUSBAND GO TO JAIL

A white girl and a colored man, arrested in Moorestown last week on a charge of larceny of $25 from Ralph Marchegiano, of Camden, father of the young woman, were sentenced to serve terms of sixty days each in the Camden county jail after a hearing before Judge Garfield Pancoast at Camden.

The couple eloped recently and were married. The arrest brought an end to their honeymoon.

The girl, Millie Marchegiano, 18, left her home, 623 Walnut street, Camden, on August 26. Her disappearance was reported to Camden detectives. The officials learned that Howard Huff, 24, colored, 818 Walnut street, disappeared the same day, and were suspicious that the pair had eloped, as a search of the girl's room revealed love letters from Huff. She took her father's money with her, without his knowledge or consent.

The detectives traced them to Newark and notified Newark police to arrest them. Newark authorities reported the couple had been married and had left for Moorestown.

Trout and Smith found the couple here. The husband was working on Alrent Still's farm, Mount Laurel road, Moorestown, and his bride was arrested at the home of Martha Marks, colored, Centerton pike. The arrests were made by the Camden detectives and Chief of Police John Bradshaw, of Moorestown. Huff hid in a cornfield on Still's farm when the officers made their appearance.

Four times Mrs. Ruby Atkins, of Bartow, Fla., has been a "penitentiary widow" and she is so tired of it that she will accompany husband No. 5 to the prison.

Mr. Business Man..

do you always get dressed up in your best to meet a prospective customer?

Most business men do. They realize that to have their product considered favorably, a good first impression must be made by themselves.

And yet, the important detail of letterheads and envelopes is so often overlooked. If they have the firm name and address correctly spelled and well printed it is said by the Boss to be O. K.

Truly it might be O. K. But is it really effective? Letterheads are your silent salesmen and they can only speak for your business through their appearance.

Firms which study the cause and effect in selling are coming to realize the importance of their letterheads — more than ever before and if you are keeping step with the trend of times—you will look carefully at your business stationery and see if it cannot be better designed to represent your business.

Consult us about your printing—there is no obligation—and yet together we might develop a job that would pay you big dividends.

Ocean City Firm Low Bidder For Job to be Done With State Aid

Moorestown Township Committee, at its regular meeting in Town Hall Monday evening, awarded the contract for the improvement of Lenola road.

The road is to be improved with a bituminous penetration macadam surface from the bridge over the Foxonken creek on South Lenola road, north to the township line, a distance of one and six-tenths miles. If funds are available to carry on the project over the entire distance.

Committee point out that it is a "unit job," being done with state aid, and only as many units as there are funds available for will be improved.

The low bidder, the Monaghan Construction Company, Ocean City, was awarded the contract, subject to the approval of the State Highway Department. The Monaghan company's bid was $24,706.56.

A clause in the contract, inserted by Solicitor Walter C. Brown, provides that only local labor shall be used, the workmen to be paid at a rate not less than thirty-five cents an hour. Under the contract, the successful bidder must supply his own superintendent, two foremen and a steam-roller operator, but all other help must come from the ranks of Moorestown's unemployed.

There were fifteen bidders in all, but none were local contractors. The second low estimate came from Thompson & Drumm, White Horse, the bid being $27,492, while Eugene Verga Company, Camden, which asked $38,677.45, was high.

A request was made to have several broken street light globes in the Valley View Terrace section replaced. Township Clerk Charles Laessle was instructed to communicate with the developers to ascertain if they will replace the globes with one of a more expensive type than those used in other parts of the township. It was decided if the developers will not replace the globes, the ordinary type will be substituted.

ward were successful in winning a game. The set was then run out to 6-1. The next set, a hard grim battle, was started ably by Cooper and Woodward, but finally tied up at 3-3, to follow service until 5-5. At this point the Metzger-Lathbury team prevailed a little and Cooper and Woodward took advantage of this and closed the set 7-5 in their favor.

The third set was all Lathbury and Metzger, with the opposition failing to even so much as garner a single game. The closing set marked the best tennis match of the afternoon, with the highest margin did the victors win 6-4. The winning pair played an easy jolting game throughout and divided their shots equally between Cooper and Woodward. Some of the finest tennis strategy seen at the courts was brought into play by Metzger and Metzger deserved the well-earned victory which finally came to them.

Women's Singles
Ella Russell held for the second year the championship in the women's division. Ella defeated Hilda Hagston, her final opponent, with a score of 6-3, 6-2. Hilda played essentially a chop stroke game, even her service having a cut, but she was unable to steady herself and afford much competition for Ella.

Ella drove the ball from side to side and forced Hilda to make many errors off her backhand. Hilda returned all of her strokes to Ella's forehand, which was working well and with which she made many placements.

Junior Singles
Robert Borer clinched the singles championship in the junior division by a 6-2, 6-3, 6-1 win over Lewis Robbins in the final at Memorial Park, Saturday afternoon. Borer played excellent tennis throughout the match and had his forehand eye working in perfection. Robbins, who was capable of much better tennis, was off form and drove most of the balls either into the net or beyond the base line. Borer's victory was the culmination of a series of victories spread over two years of intensive play at Memorial Park, and was not a surprise to followers of tennis at the Park.

Junior Doubles
In the junior doubles division, Borer and Reynolds paired to win the championship from Lewis Robbins and Edvin McVaugh, 6-3, 1-6, 6-3, 6-7. This match was fought on more even terms and at various points throughout the match first the Borer-Reynolds pair would be ahead and then the McVaugh-Robbins team would take the lead. The final set found McVaugh and Robbins 4-2, but Borer and Reynolds pulled it up to 4-4 and from there it went to 7-7, finally to be won by the Borer-Reynolds team 9-7. Both teams played exceptionally well and displayed rare form on the court.

PASTOR TELLS VACATION STORY

Rev. George Lockett and Wife Enjoy Trip Through Historic South

The following article was written by the Rev. George Lockett, pastor of the Central Baptist Church of Palmyra and Riverton, concerns a recent vacation trip which he and Mrs. Lockett greatly enjoyed.

"This year, we used our vacation time to visit places of historic interest. Along various roads we traveled were markers telling of some event in Washington's life. It seemed this bi-centennial year has placed a new emphasis upon the history of our beloved land.

The first part of our trip was by boat to Baltimore, on the Brown Line. The steamship John O'Connell is a splendid ship and has first class modern staterooms. The trip through the canal and the Elk River were very fascinating. Here is beauty very near our home, that can be enjoyed without very much expense.

In Baltimore we visited Fort Mifflin, the birthplace of our National Anthem, a large statue has been erected to the author, Francis Scott Key. We visited Johns Hopkins University and saw the buildings where great advances and discoveries have been made in medical science.

Visit Historic Points

A number of historical places were visited and we spent a few minutes in the Cathedral where Cardinal Gibbons presided for so many years. He spent forty-four years in Baltimore. A statue has just been unveiled by President Hoover in Washington to the memory of the Cardinal.

We called from Baltimore on the Old Bay Line to Norfolk. This line has fine steamers and first class staterooms and meals. On our way down the Chesapeake Bay we were thrilled by the beauties about us. We saw the full moon arise in all its glory and we thought of the words of Joseph Addison:

"Soon as the Evening Shades prevail
The Moon takes up the wondrous tale
And nightly to the listening earth
Repeats the story of her birth.

While all the stars that round her burn
And all the planets in their turn
Confirm the tidings as they roll
And spread the truth from Pole to Pole.

For reason's ear they all rejoice
And utter forth a glorious voice
Forever singing as they shine,
"The hand that made us is divine."

As we sailed through Hampton Roads we thought of that day in March 1862, when the Merrimack and the Monitor fought their duel which so completely changed naval warfare that in twenty years there was hardly a wooden ship of war afloat.

The second part of our vacation was made by automobile. We stopped in Washington and preached in a Baptist Church and a Presbyterian Church and the following day we visited Arlington.

It was very early in the morning. What a Holy Spot. Here sleep the brave, to have their ashes guarded and loved by a nation. We saw the mass of the Maine flanked round about by the platoons and companies and regiments of the dead, who died that Cuba might be free.

Unknown Soldier's Tomb

We stood in silence before the tomb of the unknown soldier, that nameless one, who embodies all the sacrifices and sufferings of the battlefield. There is only one Arlington and it would be a great thing if every boy and girl could visit that spot and there pledge allegiance to the principals of this great nation.

The Lincoln Memorial is another thing which thrills one who is visiting historic places. It is visited by thousands of people every week and has become a shrine of our people. There, people read again the Gettysburg address, and the second inaugural address. Two of the greatest masterpieces in the English language.

From Winchester, we followed the trail made famous by Lee and Jackson, through the Shenandoah Valley to Natural Bridge, Va.

In the Civil War, Winchester changed hands seventy-two times. We read of the famous battle of Bull Run and thought of Jackson and Shields and of Sheridan's brilliant victory.

At Woodstock, Va., Peter A. Muhlenberg in 1775 started his congregation by removing his gown and revealing a military uniform at the close of one of his sermons. He became a Colonel in the Continental Army at the request of Washington. At Staunton, Va., we visited the birthplace of Woodrow Wilson.

At Lexington, we visited the tomb of Lee. A marvelous statue of Lee reposing on his cot at camp may be seen there. The tombs of his father and mother and the quaint chapel all impressed us, there was a holy calm about the place. In the museum we saw many interesting relics, among them, the skeleton of "Traveler," the famous horse which Lee rode in his campaigns.

In an old cemetery lies the remains of Stonewall Jackson. Near Jackson's tomb is a stone erected by a master in memory of his slave, and near at hand, a stone erected by a slave in memory of his master.

At Natural Bridge, we stopped to wonder at the great work of nature. "Higher than Niagara, Old as the Dawn."

John Marshall said it was "God's Miracle in Stone". Our farthest point south was fifteen miles below Lynchburg, Va., where we were entertained on a 260-acre farm with true Southern hospitality. The farm, modern in every respect, was located near the Blue Ridge mountains. Friends of our Philadelphia friends of ours, appreciate the farm.

Our next point of interest was Charlottesville, three miles to the south of Monticello. Here on the top of a high mountain Thomas Jefferson began his home in 1770 and finished it in 1800. Lafayette visited it in 1824.

The trip up the mountain was a hard one, but worth it in every respect. The home is filled with conveniences and inventions designed by Jefferson. We saw a part of the old pig in which he rode to Philadelphia to write the Declaration of Independence. Jefferson founded the University of Virginia and its classical older buildings were designed by him.

We spent some time in Fredericksburg. On the north bank of the river in the farm where George Washington spent the major part of his boyhood, the cherry tree which he chopped was on this farm. It was at that place that Washington's mother spent her years of later life.

Washington, the birthplace of Washington, is thirty-eight miles from Fredericksburg.

The Masonic Lodge where Washington was made a Mason and received all degrees was visited. The old site is still on exhibition.

This lodge only had about twenty or twenty-five members. It furnished the Commander-in-Chief of the Continental Army, five generals, two presidents of the United States and seven Grand Masters of the State of Virginia.

Norfolk Memorial

We visited the new Norfolk Memorial in Alexandria. It is 235 feet high and overlooks the city of Washington to the north and Mount Vernon to the south.

The memorial will house a priceless collection of memorabilia of Washington and will cost over $4,000,000.

We then returned to Washington for another preaching engagement. We must mention the Coast of Arms laid out in flowers at the base of the Washington Monument. It is so large that the best view is from the top of the monument, over 40,000 plants are used in the design.

While in Washington we were entertained by friends who took us through beautiful Rock Creek Park, and who made our visit one of great delight.

We returned by way of Annapolis, up through Maryland and Delaware and across the Delaware river, having traveled 1,000 miles through historic country.

We visited large cities, traveled on trains, vessels, stopped at hotels and tourists' homes and in spite of all the talk about prohibition we did not see one drunken person.

Our trip has made us realize as never before the greatness of our land, the beauties of our country; the splendor of our government.

We believe it is the best in the world, we know it will move us better citizens, more eager to serve, less ready to criticize, more sympathetic with those in places of power and more thankful to Almighty God for his leadership and his watchful care over us as a nation and as a people.

Long may our land be bright,
With Freedom's holy light,
Protect thy soil, by thy might,
Great God, our King.

GEO. LOCKETT.

PURPLE POSTAGE

Technically, the title of this epic should be "Violet Postage". It is supposed to be on the subject of the increase of postage rates from two to three cents with a corresponding change in the pigment of our favorite stamps. The three-cent stamp, no matter whose noble and furrowed brow is depicted thereon, is properly called violet. However, "Purple Postage" makes an alliterative title, makes a title that is much more alluring and seductive than "Violet Postage".

There is another reason, too, why "Violet Postage" would be unfortunate headline. Violet is not violet. No, indeed. Aha, so you want proof? You shall have proof. It follows:

"Roses are red,
VIOLETS are BLUE,
Apricots are ugly,
And so are abandoned trolley tracks in Palmyra, N. J."

I guess that'll convince you.

There is, too, a reason why "Purple Postage" should be discarded in favor of another title, if one were forthcoming; but it is a personal reason. The very sound of the word "purple" affects me strongly. Try saying "purple" about twenty times deep down in your throat and you'll understand; or, you can get the same effect by saying, in an ordinary tone of voice, about five times, "OLGLOLOLO". Be sure to pronounce all the L's. This aversion to the word "purple" I can trace back to the first time I saw the interior bean of a string bean. The one I saw was purple in color, and of a shininess that can best be described by the adjective "velutinous"—which is fitting, I think, because of the explosiveness of the second syllable.

I am touchy on the subject of beans. I love to eat dried lima beans—cooked ones—and schizzle them thru my pearly teeth. Schizzle is a coined word. It means: to take a semi-solid food and, with the tongue, press it thru the cracks between the front teeth, making a noise that sounds like the word itself. A food, in addition to beans, that is admirably adapted to schizzling, is Jello. Take care, however, not to let it get beyond control.

We will now discuss purple postage stamps—and other matters. Purple stamps are depressing. A bunch of three cent stamps on letters gives one that sad feeling known as a lump in the throat. But, ah, me! Nice, beautiful, red two cent stamps are colorful and invigorating. They are also inspiring—particularly to bulls.

As rises the postage, so rises a firm's postage bill. It now costs exactly fifty per cent. more to mail a letter than it formerly. Terrible!

There are, however, ways to decrease your postage bill. For instance, it is a very simple scheme to wrap each and every stamp you affix to a letter, in cellophane. The cellophane will bear the brunt of the blow of the murderous mangle machine. You have little idea how mad this makes the government. Nevertheless, it saves the stamp.

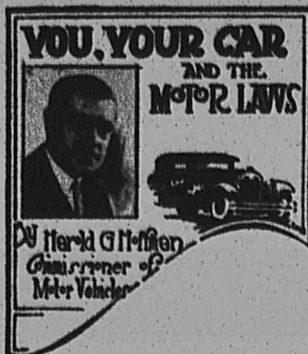

Another way to lower your mailing bill is to clean the ink from the stamps. There are two ways of doing this. You may soak the adhesive in coal oil overnight, then, in the morning set a match to it, and remove all vestige of cancellation; or

MEETING

WHAT CAUSES 'EM?

What are the causes of automobile accidents? The answers involve a study of human psychology and human carelessness that is as fascinating as anything that can be imagined.

The study reveals interesting facts, but it emphasizes that all safety education work is futile unless the individual motorist will take the trouble to analyze highway hazards, to diagnose his own case and practice self-discipline at all times.

Let us consider for a few minutes some of the more serious causes of traffic accidents.

SPEED—Not THE major cause of accidents, but A major cause. Drivers need to develop a sense of "relativity" regarding speed. Forty miles an hour, or fifty, under certain conditions, may be safe. Twenty or thirty, under other conditions, may be dangerous. Depend on common sense rather than the speedometer. Adjust speed to conditions and obey regulations.

Know What You Are Doing—Know what you are doing when you signal. The other fellow has a right to assume that you know. Signal when stopping, turning or pulling away from curb.

LINE JUMPING—Collisions when cutting or weaving are usually serious because one usually speeds up to get ahead. It's hard to judge the other fellow's speed. Better stay in line in heavy traffic.

LEAVING THE CURB—It's incredible that motorists will leave the curb without signaling, but lots do. In driving beside a row of parked cars, keep a weather eye peeled for activity which would indicate one of them is about to pull away.

TURNING—Here alertness means everything. Give the pedestrian the benefit of every doubt in going around corners. He has a legal as well as a moral right to a safe crossing as long as he has started with the light or "go" signal.

DANGERS FROM BEHIND—Keep a safe distance from other cars. The fellow ahead may have to stop suddenly. His brakes may be better than yours. The fellow behind may have brakes inferior to yours. You can't stop in less than 40 feet.

control of your car every minute are at the wheel.

Postmasters Start Plans for Event in October

Postmaster Frank T. Buchanan, of Bordentown, is chairman of the committee arranging for a testimonial dinner to be given in honor of Congressman Isaac Bacharach, long the representative of the old Second New Jersey District of which Burlington county was a part. The dinner is being planned for early in October.

Postmasters of Burlington county have taken the initial step and are working out plans for the affair, which will show appreciation of a popular official whose friends are not confined to his party alone.

It is announced the guests will include the United States Senators from New Jersey, the Congressional candidates, all county officials, postmasters and editors of the county.

The dinner will be held at Log Cabin Inn, Medford Lakes. Under the realignment of Congressional districts, Burlington county is now linked with Mercer in the new Fourth District.

G. C. HENDRY HEAD OF SECRETARIES

Burlington County YMCA Leader Elected President of State Association

Secretaries of the town and county association of Y.M.C.A.'s of New Jersey, at a conference at Camp Ockanickon over the weekend, in an organizational meeting for the ensuing year, elected officers of the State Association. They are: President, Guy C. Hendry, Burlington county; vice president, Frederick R. Wols, Camden county, and secretary-treasurer, Thomas C. Carter, Gloucester county.

Plans were made for monthly meetings between now and next June and the Industrial School, in Bordentown, was designated as the place.

The third annual conference for volunteer leaders of Y.M.C.A. groups and H.V. clubs all over New Jersey which was held this weekend included a group of nearly 100 men who participated in ten hours of conference discussion and forum sessions out of the twenty-four they were together.

On Saturday evening this group was augmented by twenty men of the physical department of the Camden Y.M.C.A. who were at camp for afternoon sports, a swim and dinner.

The speaker at the out-door chapel service Sunday morning was Dr. Joseph Kuder, of Mount Holly, who took for his subject, "He who serves best." Reports of the past summer's camping season, more extensive plans for the use of the Ockanickon property, how the summer camping season can be made available for a longer period both boys and girls were items on the agenda meeting of the trustees of Camp Ockanickon, which was held following a dinner served at Ockanick Inn, Tuesday evening.

Hume Returns

Wilson M. Hume, American Y.M.C.A. secretary in Lahore, India, here for a year of furlough and study at the Hartford School of Missions, Hartford, Conn., is paying a flying visit to Burlington county. He arrived Tuesday and is remaining through today (Wednesday). Mr. Hume is engaged in recently acquainting some of the contributors to the foreign work of the Y.M.C.A. with the results in India which their gifts are helping to make possible.

A state-wide conference of the Missionary Societies of the Methodist churches of New Jersey is scheduled for this coming weekend at Ockanickon, commencing Friday noon and extending through Saturday evening. On Saturday afternoon and evening this group will be augmented by members of Epworth League societies of all the Methodist Churches of this area, who will have a special program following outdoor supper at camp.

Following out plans which were made at the last Pomona Grange meeting at Bordentown, July 25, to give to Camp Ockanickon $500 toward a Burlington county cabin there, plans were also made to have a fall Pomona Grange picnic at Ockanickon. The date now set for this is Saturday, September 24.

Burlington county Y.M.C.A. leaders in a special conference at Ockanickon this past weekend also chose this same date for a Y.M.C.A. group members' outing at Ockanickon, so this day, if clear, promises to be teeming with life over much of the camp's 530 "Acres for Character."

COUNTY HOSPITAL A VITAL NEED

Survey of Work Performed Proves Importance of Institution

A careful survey of the work performed in the past, but more especially during this year, convinces one of the great importance of a county hospital in any community, and in considering its place in a community we must take into account its staff and plant, the type of work done and its record, its medical and hygiene educational program, its financial arrangements and its public relations both with rich and poor.

There is no question but that the staff and plant of the hospital stand high in relation to similar hospitals; the record of the hospital is told in its monthly reports and by thousands of men, women and children of Burlington county who are ever ready to sing the praises of the treatment accorded them whilst patients in the hospital; the medical and hygiene educational program is fast gathering momentum under the supervision of the county's medical men and the Out-Patient and Social Service Department.

We should be at this time most interested in the hospital's public relations and its method of financing. This is a matter that all similar hospitals are facing today with considerable interest. The county hospitals constitute the backbone of the hospital system of the country. They do the bulk of the acute medical and surgical work. Through all the years in which our modern life has been expanding, these hospitals have been close to the hearts of the people and have been the beneficiary of sustained support—a support merited by service rendered and a constantly improving service because of that support.

But now with a greatly changed economic condition what is the future of our county hospital? Undoubtedly, many of our supporters of the past are sufferers from the economic blight through which we are passing, and perhaps they may not in the future be able to give to the hospital the support which they accorded it in the past. Many civically-minded people are diverting their interest from hospital support to the more urgent call of emergency relief campaigns, and it must not be forgotten that just so long as the present depression lasts the increasing burden of free and part-pay work must be met and in the spirit of the true hospitaler, met cheerfully.

This is a matter to which every citizen of Burlington county should give deep thought. The hospital is theirs; is open to them and their friends and fellow-citizens at all times, and is an institution of which they are justly proud. But such a county institution presents its obligation and that obligation rests with everyone, that is, to give it such financial support as is necessary to keep it running smoothly.

CHARTER LARGER BOAT FOR OUTING

Republicans Arrange to Carry 4,000 Down Delaware Thursday Evening

Freeholder Charles R. Stout, chairman of the Burlington County Republican Committee, announced Tuesday that the "State of Delaware" has been chartered for the boat ride down the Delaware this Thursday evening.

It was originally announced that the "City of Washington," which accommodates 2,300 passengers, had been engaged, but due to the large amount of enthusiasm shown in the G. O. P. outing, it was necessary to charter a larger boat. The "State of Delaware" carries 4,000 passengers, thus opening the trip to anyone who wishes to enjoy the party, rather than confining it to Republican county committee members and their friends.

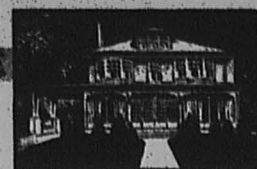

The boat will leave Burlington city wharf at 7 o'clock (D.S.T.), go down the river as far as Philadelphia and return to the Burlington city wharf at 11:30 the same evening.

A good orchestra will be secured for those who enjoy dancing. Tickets are fifty cents for each person.

Where graves are marked with tablets of imperishable bronze . . . where their dignity will never be marred by ugly tombstones

Actual Photograph taken at Lakeview Memorial Park showing the manner in which the Place of Burial is designated by Bronze Plaques set flush with the turf.

CONTRAST the ghastly aspect of the graveyards of the past . . . their ugly mishapen monuments vicing for supremacy . . . weed-covered graves and broken down tombstones . . . with the orderliness and beauty of the burial estates at Lakeview Memorial Park.

Here a dignified bronze plaque marks each grave, that is all. Elaborate and expensive tombstones are banished forever, their needless cost eliminated. The enduring beauty of the park alone honors the memory of the departed.

It is as they would have it; it is as all thinking men want it.

FUNDS FOR NAT'L RECREATION ASS'N

Mrs. Harry F. Jones Appeals to Rivertonians for Aid to Work

Character growth and the saving of child lives are benefits derived from supervised playgrounds, declares Mrs. Harry F. Jones in a letter sent to Riverton citizens on Tuesday on behalf of the National Recreation Association of which she is the local sponsor.

According to the year book of the Association, 1,010 cities reported supervised playgrounds for the year 1931. "But with all the progress there are still hundreds of thousands of children who have not yet had the benefit of playgrounds under leadership," she stated. "All of us are aware of the pressing demand today for recreation opportunities for the jobless and their families."

"When we were faced with the problem of making our Memorial Park a playground and park for all the community, we called on the National Recreation Association to advise with us on the layout, equipment and use of this area," Mrs. Jones stated. "It was their help which guided us in making for the greatest usefulness of this beautiful area for the health and happiness of our community."

"This national civic work places health-building, character-developing play within the reach of thousands of boys and girls and furnishes wholesome provision for the enforced leisure of the unemployed," Mrs. Jones' letter said in conclusion.

The National Recreation Association of which the late Theodore Roosevelt was for many years honorary president, reports a sharp increase in demand for public recreation facilities since 1929. During 1930 and 1931 attendance at children's playgrounds increased 17 per cent., and at indoor recreation centers for youth and adults, 63 per cent. This increased attendance is due to conditions of unemployment and reduced income, the Association asserts.

For children, the playground serves as a needed escape from homes that are steeped in the gloom of unemployment. The human services of the recreation centers are evidence that the city places a value on its citizen members, even though temporarily it has no place for many of them as earners and producers. The spiritual hunger that comes from lack of anything to do is second only to the physical hunger that comes from lack of food.

TAX SALE IS HELD WITH NO BIDDERS

Riverton Borough Collector Buys in Eight Properties Tax Up For Unpaid Taxes

The Riverton Borough sale of property for delinquent taxes was held in the council chambers last Saturday morning at ten o'clock. There were 23 properties. Before the date of the sale satisfactory arrangements had been made covering 17 of these, only eight remaining to be sold.

Prior to the hour set, two persons appeared and inquired as to the terms and conditions under which the properties would be sold, and when they learned that full and complete possession could not be obtained immediately they withdrew.

At ten o'clock, C. Kenneth Davis, borough tax collector, whose duty it is to conduct the sale, arose and announced to an empty room that the following described properties would be sold for unpaid taxes in conformity with P. L. Chapter —, Page —, etc.

There being no bidders present, Mr. Davis bought the properties in for the borough.

DRIVER CUT TRYING TO AVOID CRASH

Motor Accident and Larceny Case Occupy Officer Dorworth Over Weekend

William Croll, Fairview street, Detroit, received cuts about the arms and legs when he drove his car into a telephone pole trying to avoid hitting another car at the intersection of the Moorestown-Riverton road and Burlington pike last Friday at noon.

Officer Dorworth of the Cinnaminson police took the man to Dr. LeFavor in Palmyra, who treated him for cuts about the arms and legs. The car was seriously damaged and was removed to a Camden garage for repairs.

Two youths, John Buckley and Harry Albiser, ages 22 and 18 years respectively, and both of Camden, were picked up at the intersection of Burlington pike and Crescent boulevard by Officer William Stott of the Pennsauken police, last Saturday. Stott communicated with Officer Dorworth of the Cinnaminson police and told of finding a coat, alarm clock, 22 packs of cigarettes, 5 packages of chewing gum, candy and cigars on the youth. It was found that the boys had broken into the roadstand of Michael O'Donnell on Route 5-41, Cinnaminson township.

Officer Dorworth took the boys before Police Recorder Bowers in Riverton who committed them both to the county jail on a charge of larceny.

THE PEOPLES COLUMN

Bang! The Fight Is On!

Editor, The New Era:

In my mail box, I recently found a little booklet bearing the caption, "The Promoter Is Ever With Us," and sensing some material worth reading, I started through its pages, and soon discovered the "sour grapes."

To the best of my knowledge, it is quite obviously the opening gun of a duel to the death between developers of "Memorial Parks" and "Tombstone Craftsmen."

I am writing to defend the "Memorial Park" plan, not an I interested financially or otherwise in the local project now under way. But, since it is apparently a war, I am surprised that the "Craftsmen" did not choose better ammunition than an attack upon the integrity of people of high standing in our community.

As to the effectiveness of the booklet, from the standpoint of a neutral observer, I should say, secure one for the Memorial Park. It has aroused my curiosity, and I for one intend to visit the local park to see what it's all about.

OBSERVING

He Is For Hoover

The Garner-Texas Menace

I am going to support President Hoover, and advise others to do likewise. The Garner-Texas menace is too frightful to even think about. A non-partisan selection of the party and candidates is now in order, but the conclusion is easily reached that Speaker Garner is a terrorizing nightmare.

Wrong Leadership

I do not believe that President Hoover has been approached by the sort of leadership that he could in any sense heed or respect. Harnan instead of Esther has represented us at the throne. President Hoover is not a "race man," and I doubt if I want him to be. He is the President of the WHOLE PEOPLE. Negroes must not interpret the doctrine of fair play to mean special privileges for any single group, exclusive of all others.

President Hoover thinks of humanity in world terms. He cannot in his sense heed or respect. Harnan instead of Esther has represented us at the throne. President Hoover is not a "race man," and I doubt if I want him to be. He is the President of the WHOLE PEOPLE. Negroes must not interpret the doctrine of fair play to mean special privileges for any single group, exclusive of all others.

He is against lynchings, even if he does not say so; he is for justice, even if he does not prate long and loud about it.

President Hoover is charged with "whitening," if that is true, it is our duty to try to convince him of his error. He thinks of us not as black men, but as citizens, and as such we must meet the common standards of citizenship, to prove that we are such by loyalty, service and accepted responsibility; not by rote and code.

Better Than Democrat

President Hoover at his worst is better than the Democrats at their best, as seen in Speaker Garner and his supporters, and we will do well to fight out our destiny under the banner of a party and man which at least are not avowed in their principles and dedicated in their practices to destroy us. We may not love Hoover, but we love Garner less.

Eighteenth Amendment

As to the Eighteenth Amendment, its open violation is known all over the country. The Constitution doesn't mean what the negro, and less to the white man, when it is in conflict with their prejudices. It is sustained now, not by patriotism, but by police, cannon and shell. The Dry South is no different from the Wet East, when it comes to the Constitution. Both have disregarded it with open impunity. The South traduced the Constitution first when they violated the amendment assuring our franchise.

The East snubs it now, and it declares for prohibition. With both, that part of the Constitution which is not in accord with their social habits and political traditions is nullified, and we have a document of fundamentals rocking and tottering on the preferential attitude of sectionalism. The South taught the United States how to evade the Constitution, and its damaging example has sapped our land so that we have Wets blanketing the Constitution with appetite, and Drys defending its denials of human rights.

Until all sections agree to interpret the Constitution in the clear light of the framers, who saw all men created equal and put no color in its provisions, any amendment that does not appeal to the sense of patriotism and honor of the whole people will have dangerous slendings.

Compromise

The Democrats have compromised on human rights, they have violated the principles of God's great ideal of Fellowship. They seek now to substitute the power of the State for the transforming of moral suasion and educative ethical thinking.

I am for Hoover, for I verily believe he has learned what the Democrats of the country will not permit their standard bearer to recognize—that a president can only rule justly by serving the whole.

She was arrested as the result of a raid made on the Red Lion Inn on July 22, when a half-barrel of beer and a slot machine were seized. She was fined $125 and given six months to pay. Her husband, Albert Graham, charged with possession of a slot machine, pleaded guilty, but the case was held for one week for further investigation.

Catherine Ivins, of Florence, pleaded guilty to maintaining a house on May 29 and possession on June 29, and was fined $75, being placed on probation for six months. In the first raid 22 bottles of home brew and a pint bottle partly full of liquor were taken, while in the second the raiders seized 10 cases of beer and a pint bottle of liquor. Scott Starr, taken in the raid on May 29, pleaded guilty to charges of sale, possession and maintaining a disorderly house and all the charges were noble pressed.

Edgar Hood, colored, of Washington, D. C., charged with breaking, entering and larceny at the garage and roadstand of Artemus Owens, in Shamong township, entered a plea of non vult. His case was suspended and the boy will be returned to his home.

George Swindell, of Moorestown, pleaded guilty to a charge of stealing a 1930 speedboat, the property of Lester S. Fortnum, of Bridgeboro, on September 4, and was placed on probation for two years. Tony Darmo, arrested on the same charge, had his case disposed of in Juvenile Court.

Francis Power, of Roebeling, charged with larceny of a bicycle valued at $30 in Southamptown on September 4, pleaded guilty. He is at present on parole from the Annandale Reformatory, where he was sent after being involved in 15 robberies in Atlantic county. His father reported to the court that he is unable to do anything with his boy and has just about given him up as a bad job. Sentence was suspended on this charge, and the boy will be held here until the Annandale authorities come to get him on a charge of violating his parole.

MAGAZINE MAN LAUDS LAKEVIEW

J. M. Barron Says Memorial Park Contrasts With Old "Gruesomers"

High praise for Lakeview Memorial Park as a perfect representative of the modern effort in cemeteries expressing dignified beauty and a sense of the living rather than the dead, was given by J. M. Barron, of Park and Cemetery Magazine, a national publication, after a recent visit to the park.

The people of Camden and vicinity have a right to be congratulated on their enterprise and vision.

"Your cemeteries as a whole are well kept and in excellent condition but nowhere in my trips around the country have I seen any development to overshadow the natural setting, grounds, possibilities and round beauty of your beautiful Lakeview Memorial Park now being developed."

The electric Carillon is one of the best I have heard, so it is in a tower on a hill overlooking the grounds.

The Park plan is the cemetery of the future, in Barron's opinion.

"The modern effort in cemeteries is to get away from the old gruesome, he said. "The beauty and development of Lakeview is not just a vision on paper. The work now being done there is evidence of that, as is the character and standing of the men backing the project."

"The music of the marvelous Carillon and the dignified beauty of the Lakeview Memorial Park plan constitute a permanent place of quiet and meditation for the people of this section to escape from the hurly-burly of cities and modern life and the Sunday Carillon concerts given there should be well attended."

RECI-TAL

SCOUTS ABANDON COUNTY CAMPOREE

Big Event Scheduled at Riverton Memorial Park Called Off Owing to Paralysis

At a special meeting of the Riverton Scout Troop Committee Tuesday night it was decided to cancel for this year the County Camporee which was to have been held at Memorial Park, September 30 and October 1.

This action was taken owing to the continuance of the epidemic of infantile paralysis, the committee feeling that it would be unwise to unnecessarily take even a small chance of further spreading the disease.

As a precautionary measure, local troops throughout the county have not been holding their regular meetings.

Both the officers and the boys themselves deeply regret that they will not be able to stage this public demonstration which they have all been looking forward to with great anticipation, but considered it advisable to act on the principle of "An ounce of prevention."

RIVERTON EXPERTS WIN SHORE SHOOT

Trooper "Russ" Miller and "Joe" Williams Place at Top

Trooper John R. (Russ) Miller, son of Chief of Riverton Police Walter Miller, continued to uphold his enviable reputation as a pistol marksman, at a shoot held in Sea Girt last Saturday.

Miller led the field of New Jersey police officers with a score of 272, or ten points above his nearest competitor. The marksmen stood seventy-five feet from the target and fired ten shots slow fire, ten shots timed fire, and ten shots rapid fire. In each of these brackets Miller scored as follows: Slow, 96 out of a possible 100, timed fire 86 out of a possible 100, rapid fire 90 out of a possible 100.

J. M. Williams, of 215 Cinnaminson street, Riverton, a rifle and pistol marksman with a high national rating, helped his team to victory and possession of the Dryden cup, in the same match. "Joe" Williams is a member of the State Rifle Team of the Fennsylvanian National Rifle Association and the event Saturday embraced rifle marksmanship.

"Joe" collected a total of 132 points made up of 47 out of a possible 50 from the 200-yard range, a 41 out of a possible 50 on the 500-yard range and a 44 out of a possible 50 on the 1000-yard range.

Both Miller and Williams secured another medal to add to their already large collection.

Williams may possibly compete in a match known as "The President's Hundred" on the near future. The President's Hundred is shot off each year by the first hundred best marksmen in the United States. Williams has qualified for three years for membership in the first hundred.

RECEPTION GIVEN STATE PRESIDENT

Leslie W. Reeves Honored by Members of P. O. S. of A.

Two hundred enthusiastic members of the Patriotic Order Sons of America showed their esteem for the genial state president, Leslie W. Reeves, at a reception given in the room of Washington Camp No. 23, of Palmyra, Monday evening.

Representatives from all parts of the state joined with the local men in pledging full cooperation to put over the program which the state president has worked out.

An account of experiences from the former state president, the recital of conditions which exist and a continual flow of humor served to make the occasion a most pleasant and profitable one.

The traditional hospitality of Washington Camp was enjoyed to the full by all those present.

Clarence W. Jones

Clarence W. Jones, husband of the late Elsie Jones, of 618 Thomas avenue, Riverton, died Monday night in the Burlington County Hospital.

Funeral services will be held this afternoon at the Snover Funeral Home with the Rev. Ira S. Pimm officiating. Interment will be made in the Asbury M. E. Cemetery.

Mrs. Jones is survived by his mother, Mrs. Sarah L. Jones.

The office will be open on Saturday from 7.00 a. m. until 6.00 p. m.

EARLY ACTION IS SEEN ON DIRIGIBLE MAIL PRIVILEGES

Congress Expected to Take Up McNary Bill Shortly After Convening

TO BE PASSED BEFORE SITE IS DECIDED UPON

Builders of Navy Airships Ready to Lay Down Larger Ocean Craft

"When Congress convenes this winter one of the interesting bits of unfinished business which is likely to come for early attention is the so-called McNary bill," said Lauren D. Lyman in an interesting article in last Sunday's New York Times.

This bill, which will give air mail rights to dirigibles, must first be passed before any action is taken by the International Zeppelin Transport Corporation in selecting a site for its American base for the proposed trans-Atlantic line.

Fred W. Johnson, service manager of the Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce, who has been chief "boss" for the 1200-acre tract on Union Mill road, just south of Moorestown, for the American terminus of the proposed trans-Atlantic line, forwarded a clipping of Lyman's story, which continues, in part, as follows:

"This bill was introduced in the senate last spring at the same time that a similar measure was introduced in the House by Representative Robert Crosser of Ohio. The Crosser bill was passed; the senate bill, introduced by Senator Charles L. McNary of Oregon, was still awaiting the action of the senate, having been favorably reported in committee when Congress adjourned.

"The two bills seek to slightly different routes to accomplish the same thing: the establishment of an air merchant marine with special reference to airships. The Crosser bill applies the code of the merchant marine to airships. It would authorize the postmaster general to enter into long-term contracts with airship transport companies for transoceanic mail at a rate not to exceed $20 a mile for 10,000 pounds.

"The differences in the two bills, if the senate measure passes, will be adjusted in conference so that when an act is passed it will contain the important features of both, with perhaps a provision that will allow mail cargo on trans-oceanic planes as well as airships.

"Meanwhile, the single airship plant in the United States, the Goodyear-Zeppelin Corporation's establishment at Akron, is busied with a new navy dirigible, the Macon, whose giant aluminum frame is about 95 per cent. finished. It is the hope of the builders that with the finishing of this second air cruiser for the navy they can embark on a program of commercial airship construction. Designs have, of course, to change depending upon the already been laid down, subject, of route the ship or ships will follow."

With the opening of school comes revived interest in the Riverton P.T.A. Last year's program was an active and successful one under the able leadership of Mrs. Francis B. Elwell, and after reviewing the plans for this coming term, one might venture to say that it will be an even bigger and better one.

Careful thought and planning have gone into the selection of speakers with definite subjects for each meeting. Dr. Roscoe West, president of New Jersey State Teachers' College, will be the speaker at the October reception to parents and teachers, and later meetings will bring such speakers as Dr. Harvey N. Davis, president of Stevens Institute of Technology; J. W. Faust, of the National Recreation Association; Mrs. E. C. Tansyhill, field secretary of the Medical Society of New Jersey; Miss Elsie Bryan, supervising principal of Cinnaminson

RELIEF CAPTAINS MAKE REPORTS

Dist. No.	Captain	Amount
1.	Fred. Fromuth	$72.36
2.	A. Koppenhoefer	86.00
3.	Mrs. Wm. Branson	66.50
4.	Mr. Way	11.40
5.	Jas. P. MacFarlane	132.35
6.	Arthur Wright	107.65
7.	Mrs. Roland Price	47.80
8.	Mrs. A. C. Giberson	55.50
9.	Clinton Gardner	21.80

11.	John Sweeney	11.00
12.	Chris Peditto	1.80
13.	Mr. Klemm	17.55
Total		$636.61
Weekly Average		$127.32

While these collections are very gratifying to your committee, from reports received, owing to summer vacations, many have not availed themselves of the opportunity to be of service to those who need your help. No doubt the block-aid will be able to receive many additional subscriptions during the course of the coming months.

With the winter approaching many additional calls will be made upon us for coal, shoes and medicines to say nothing of the housing conditions which are becoming very acute.

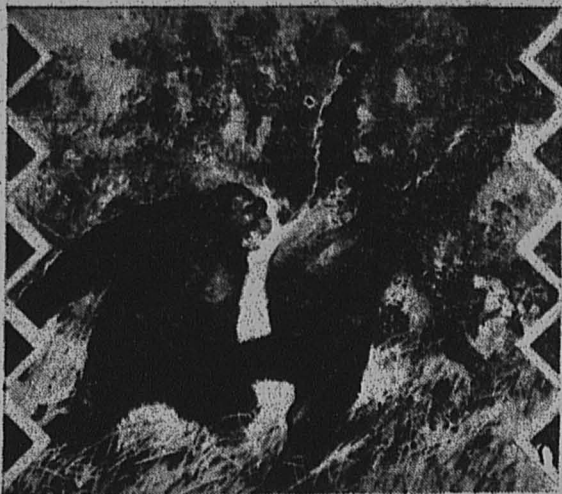

Through the medium of the churches, the call has gone forth for clothing and any other articles of wearing apparel. Molly Mrs. Elias Toy, chairman of the clothing committee or the police department and your donations will be called for.

We gratefully acknowledge receipt of one dollar from proceeds of a sale collected by the Misses Ruth Black, Jean Seebler and Lillian Marshall. Good work, kiddies, your hearts are in the right place, and you are setting a great example for your elders.

If you want to know just what is being done by the welfare committee drop into headquarters any Thursday night and take a look at the baskets all ready for distribution on Friday mornings.

We also acknowledge with thanks a check for $4.00 from the American Legion being balance on hand from their welfare drive during the spring.

GORILLAS AT WAR!

One of the most remarkable clashes revealed on the audible screen, two huge gorillas in a terrifying hand-to-hand fight in Mr. and Mrs. Martin Johnson's "Congorilla," playing at the New Broadway Theatre next Thursday and Friday, September 29 and 30. Before starting upon their two-year safari into the wild and unexplored Itura Forest in Central Africa, Mr. and Mrs. Johnson vowed to themselves that they would not return until they had secured authoritative and realistic pictures of the gorilla in his native habitat and of those queer and grotesque tribe of people, the pygmies. The first sound picture ever made in the heart of the African jungle, it shows the experiences and adventures of these two noted and intrepid explorers in the midst of the big apes and little people. Lugging their heavy motion picture cameras and cumbersome microphones over thousands of miles of previously untraveled country, they stalked the gorilla to his native haunts, photographing his actions and recording his blood-curdling screams. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson spent seven months in the many pygmy villages in the great Itura Forest, photographing and recording the peculiar people in their weird dances, songs and tribal rites. They shot over 131,000 feet of motion picture sound film, but not a single wild animal, following out their years-old age, "thrilling without killing."

POMONA GRANGE PICNIC CANCELLED

Meetings at Ockanickon Postponed by New Medford Health Ordinance

Because of a board of health ordinance recently passed in Medford township, the Pomona Grange picnic scheduled for Saturday at Camp Ockanickon, has been cancelled. It will not be held now any time during the month of September.

It is the hope of a committee of lecturers of the various local Granges of the county that this quarantine will be lifted so that the picnic can be held some Saturday in October. This will depend, however, on the length of time the ordinance continues in effect against such gatherings.

The Y.M.C.A. members' outing, also scheduled for this coming Saturday, has likewise been postponed because of the Medford ordinance. A future date will be announced when it is learned just when the paralysis quarantine is lifted.

Burlington county was well represented at the ninth annual Hi-Y training conference of the New Jersey Young Men's Christian Associations, held at Camp Wawayanda, Andover, N. J., Friday, Saturday and Sunday. The conference considered investing one's life under present-day conditions and methods for carrying on more effectively Hi-Y clubs in the local community. Discussions were held on business, engineering, scientific, humanistic, catholic vocations.

Delegates were: Bordenstown Hi-Y, Albert Foulz, Borham Worrell; Moorestown Hi-Y, William Thompson, Paul Fauver; Mount Holly clubs, Edson, F. W. Holbein, George Pew, Arthur Wagoner, Earl Whitcraft; Elmsstein Hi-Y, Eugene O'Mahoney; Alvin York Hi-Y, Edward Eastlick, Charles Smith; also Secretary Clifford W. Ergood; Medford, Edward Haines, Earl Whitcraft, of the Edison Hi-Y, presided at the Saturday morning session of the conference.

DELAWARE TWP. RULERS BORROW TO PAY POLICE

Under the rule that permits borrowing in a case of emergency, Delaware Township Committee last week adopted a resolution to issue a note for $2,000. The money will be used to pay overdue police salaries and wages due extra policemen required after last spring's economy program reduced the force to three men.

COUNTY HOSPITAL HAS FINE STAFF

Mount Holly Institution's Corps of Nurses and School Also Outstanding

While most people will admit that plant being equal, it is the medical and nursing staffs that make a hospital, and with this in mind the board of management of the Burlington County Hospital, Mount Holly, when opening the new buildings in 1928, set out to bring together a staff of men eminent in their particular fields.

How successful they have been is shown by the fact that each department of the hospital is under the care of one distinguished in his own field, whether he specializes in surgery or medicine.

So as to train its own nurses, the hospital opened a training school, conforming to the state's requirements. Next year the first of the trainees will graduate and from then on the hospital will be assured of a constantly increasing staff of her own graduate nurses.

There were many problems to be hurdled when the school first opened, but a fine spirit of cooperation and loyalty between all connected with the work overcame them quickly and today the nurses' training school is a successful and smooth-running department of the whole organization.

With a fine, modern plant and surgical, medical and nursing skill equaling those of the best city hospitals, the necessity for going to the city for treatment is past. We have in our midst a thoroughly up-to-date institution and have all the benefits of proximity to home, clean country air and the many advantages of country life right at our door step.

John Semm, of Chicago, was fined $1,500 for making moonshine whiskey instead of bread in his bakery.

Fig Tree in Florence

Burlington county is widely noted for its orchards of peaches and apples, but few know that figs can be grown successfully here.

Newton Morion, of Florence, has a large fig tree, laden with the luscious semi-tropical fruit. The figs are now ripe and are being gathered daily by the family.

Accounts of fig trees in this latitude appear occasionally in metropolitan newspapers and they are hailed as a great rarity.

The tree at Florence has been well taken care of; in fact, when it was smaller it was completely enclosed during the winter. Now it is protected around the trunk only.

LEAGUE MEMBERS TO PRESENT PLAY FOR SECOND TIME

Members of the Epworth League of the Epworth M. E. Church, of Palmyra, have been asked to repeat their successful play, which was presented last spring, "The Only Girl in Sight."

The Leaguers have chosen Thursday September 29, as the date for the second presentation and all those who have already seen the play will surely want to see it again, and those who have not seen it have a real treat in store for them.

The leading roles are portrayed by Miss Elizabeth Stein and George Long. They are supported by a very fine cast.

All those attending are promised an evening of excellent entertainment for the small sum of twenty cents. The general public is asked to patronize the event.

Lightning caused the clock of Postmaster Hal W. Ricketts, of Covington, Ky., to run backwards.

Promises Republican Women He Will Emulate Bacharach in Congress

Speaking before the Women's Republican Club of Burlington County D. Lane Powers, of Trenton, Republican candidate for election to Congress from the Fourth Congressional District, promised not to be a "know-it-all."

"When I am elected to Congress," Powers declared, "I shall be guided entirely by the wishes of my constituents. I shall learn from Congressman Isaac Bacharach, who has so well and ably served Burlington county during the past several years.

"I don't know it all. I'm ready and willing to learn. I shall base my judgment upon my instruction in basic legislative matters obtained through three years of service in the New Jersey State Assembly from Mercer county."

The candidate said he would be glad to "sit at the feet" of Isaac Bacharach and learn how. The Women's Republican Club has given him its enthusiastic support.

Highlights in the Life of WILL ROGERS Star of the FOX Film "DOWN TO EARTH"

Copyright, 1931 William Hermann Deppema

Will Rogers looks desperate when his butler, Brandon Murst, tells him that he must prepare to attend his wife's costume ball. Scene from the Fox picture, "Down to Earth."

Chapter III THE RISEN STAR

IT HAS been estimated that Will Rogers, as a result of his divers talents, is worth more than $2,000,000. The New York Times declares he is worth it.

In the civilization which it is customary to regard as the high water mark of human intellect, there were great comedies. Politics was the chief business in Athens but it was regarded as material for humor. Our stage thinks otherwise. The Athenian voter liked and appreciated in his comedy some comment on affairs of the day. To judge from our native drama one would suppose that audiences at our highest plays are composed entirely of uneducated aliens whose interests are limited entirely to the bar and the bedroom. But Will Rogers is carrying on the tradition of Aristophanes, and not unworthily.

Among Rogers' numerous other books in addition to "The Cowboy at the Peace Conference," are "Prohibition," "The League of Nations," "Rogerisms," (editions of 1919 and 1920) "The Illiterate Digest," "Letters of a Self-Made Diplomat," and "There's Not a Bathing Suit in Russia."

In 1928, Charles B. Cochran, the famous English theatrical producer, induced Will Rogers to come to London to appear in his internationally famous revue at the London Pavilion.

The cowboy was a new sensation for staid Old England.

His irrepressible wit excited the most friendly response even in such austere weeklies as The Outlook.

Its summation of the Oklahoma cowpuncher was most illuminating.

"Mr. Will Rogers is in no sort of a hurry. He told us how to manage the next war, and the last war loan, and the strike and the French. And most of us sat and roared with laughter at him."

A sample of a Will Rogersism included in the Cochran show follows:

"I've a good face, not handsome but practical. There's no one else like me in America. My social standing over there is about like a 'Sir' in this country. President Coolidge wanted someone to represent him in Europe—he's got no one over here—so, without a word spoken, I started to represent England and America'll always get along together so long as they have each other to laugh at."

The special occasion is what elicits Rogers' merriest comment. When a billion dollars worth of bankers (drawn from a conference of the American Bankers Association in New York), once attended a performance of the "Follies," Rogers said of the chorus girls:

"They are not well up on their Latin and Greek, but my—how these girls know their Dun's and Bradstreet's."

He suggested that one of "our alumnae" be sent to collect the European debt from the European plutocrats.

"Send her abroad and she will bring them back dead or alive."

The presence of Will Rogers in Mexico with the late Dwight Whitney Morrow has now become a matter of diplomatic importance. One of Morrow's first acts after his appointment as Ambassador to Mexico, was to accompany President Calles on an extended tour into the remote undeveloped areas of Mexico to study at first hand its problems. The informal friendly nature of the undertaking was emphasized by the presence of the ex-mayor of Beverly Hills.

Once Will Rogers was told by an interviewer, of a cartoon in which he was depicted in a luxurious fur coat, smoking a large cigar as he lolled in the back seat of an automobile driven by a liveried chauffeur Rogers was pictured glancing at a cow-boy eagerly entering an office where a sign was displayed:

"Cowmen wanted, thirty dollars a month and keep."

The caption of the picture was: "There, but for the grace of God, goes Will Rogers."

When told about this Rogers chuckled:

"That's just about right, too!"

Despite the heights he has attained in recent years, Will Rogers never forgets that he himself was once a thirty-dollar-a-month cowpuncher, and that a few dollars can mean a good deal to some of his co-workers.

When the noted comedian learned that his latest Fox picture, "Down to Earth," was being completed five days under the scheduled time, thereby cutting the technicians and staff assistants off the payroll sooner than they had anticipated, Rogers wrote out his personal check for the difference in salary for the entire group.

No better analysis of the man can be found than in his refusal of an honorary college degree. The Oklahoma City University wanted to make him a Doctor of Humanity and Letters.

"What are you trying to do," he wired the Daily Oklahoman, "make a joke out of college degrees? They are in bad enough repute as it is without handing 'em around to comedians. The whole honorary thing is the 'hokey'."

I got too much respect for people that work and earn 'em to see 'em handed around to every notorious character."

Arthur Brisbane, noted editorial writer, heard of a remark Rogers made after he attended the graduation of his daughter, to the effect that he was glad he had chosen a profession that didn't require any education.

Mr. Brisbane decided to play a joke on the ex-cowboy and wrote a fictitious report of the Fox Film star's higher education at Eton and Oxford, celebrated English schools. Then the fun began. People who had never written to Rogers before, and many who had been writing to him for years, wasted no time in inquiring about the story of his college education. The writers took the report seriously and many of them wrote at length about their disappointment. They had believed in the cowboy philosopher—and that belief was shaken by reports that he had gone to college.

Some of the writers stated that they had known all the time Rogers was an Englishman. The cowboy background he claimed, they insisted, was just publicity and they hadn't been fooled.

That was the well known last straw, and Mr. Rogers broke out with the explanation that Brisbane and he kidded each other back and forth in their columns and that Brisbane thought it would be a great joke to tell the folks that Will, who had never been in a university except as a guest, was a product of one of the world's most famous schools. Rogers said he thought it a good joke, too, and helped it along by saying that a man ought to be allowed to live down his past.

SHOT BY MISTAKE AT MAPLE SHADE

Acto Man Wounded by Motorists as He Walks to Restaurant

A victim of mistaken identity, police believe, John Bragg, 35, Atco, was "put on the spot" at Maple Shade early Monday and shot in the right side.

Bragg was taken to Cooper Hospital, Camden, and physicians said his condition was not serious.

He told police that he and Malcolm McCallum, Merchantville, had been to the seashore Sunday and were returning home. They stopped at Maple Shade, he said, to get something to eat.

According to Bragg, he and McCallum were walking along the highway, after they had parked their automobile, to a restaurant when an automobile containing four men wearing white shirts drove past them.

As the car sped past, Bragg said, one of the men leaned out and shouted:

"Hey, you guys!" Bragg and McCallum turned about. They heard a shot and Bragg fell. McCallum assisted him to the office of a physician, who gave him first aid. Bragg told police he had no enemies that he knew of and had received no threats.

TWO LIQUOR RAIDS

Riverside Hotel and Fork Landing Picnic Grounds Suffer

Federal prohibition agents from the Camden office under Parker Hall, South Jersey chief, visited the East End Hotel, Riverside, Saturday night, and after seizing a quantity of alleged liquor, arrested Frank F. Stecher, 51, of 419 Dauphin street, as proprietor.

They also raided picnic grounds of George Hirschman, 34, on Fork Landing road off state highway route 8-41 in Gimmansham township. They arrested Hirschman after seizing alleged high-powered beer. Both Stecher and Hirschman were held for a hearing before U. S. Commissioner Wynn Armstrong. The agents said they had raided the picnic grounds at Fork Landing on a previous occasion. "The East End Hotel also was raided a couple of years ago."

SEES GROWTH OF DEPENDENT LIST

Barnard's Survey Shows Increase at Rate of 20,000 Each Month

New Jersey's roster of the destitute did not decrease during the summer, as might have been expected, and is mounting at the rate of 20,000 a month in major cities alone.

Announcing results of a survey of twenty-seven larger communities, in which approximately two-thirds of the relief burden is concentrated, Chester I. Barnard, state director of emergency relief, reported 213,205 individuals received relief August 15 in those municipalities compared to 207,371 on July 31, and 193,200 on July 15.

Turning the employment outlook dark for the winter despite improving business conditions, because the resources of more of the state's citizens are dwindling to the vanishing point daily, Barnard said "the increase is discouraging, in view of the fact that it occurred during the summer when conditions are ordinarily most favorable. Although it appears that the clouds of depression are beginning to break, the relief burdens will be more difficult this coming winter than they have yet been."

A similar survey of smaller municipalities is being made and will soon be available. Approximately 100,000 individuals receive relief at present in communities other than the twenty-seven major centers. Barnard expressed confidence that "the funds now available in municipalities and the state are sufficient to deal with the conditions confronting us for the next few months. Beyond that, further funds must be provided." An increase in the number of municipalities so embarrassed financially that they cannot carry their full share of relief cost is constantly adding to the state's share of the burden.

At the November election New Jersey voters will pass on the issuance of $20,000,000 in bonds for relief purposes. Issuance of the bonds will not increase the present authorized bonded indebtedness of the state. At the 1930 November election an $83,000,000 bond issue for highway improvements was approved by the voters. Only a part of the bonds then authorized have been issued. It is proposed that this authorization be reduced by $20,000,000 and that this amount be appropriated for relief purposes.

RED CROSS TO APPLY TO GOVERNMENT FOR SHARE OF ITS COTTON

At a recent meeting of Burlington County Chapter American Red Cross it was voted to make application for muslin, gingham, print, outing flannel and birdseye made from government-owned cotton, in order that it might be made into garments and distributed among the needy of the county.

Franklin S. Chamber, county director of unemployment relief, has consented to cooperate with the chapter, as he has already done relative to Red Cross flour.

There is no charge for the material, which will be distributed among the various towns of the county and made into garments. These will be taken to a central point in the town in which they are made, and from there distributed among those in need.

The Red Cross is now contacting all organizations in the county, with a view of ascertaining which ones will assist with the work. If there are any organizations, unknown to the Red Cross desiring to take part in the activity, they may communicate with the Red Cross secretary, 24 West Union street, Burlington.

HAD THE NERVE TO GO AHEAD

To James H. Rand, Jr., president of Remington Rand Inc., belongs the credit of having shown the business world how to break the depression. Rand had the courage of his convictions—the nerve to go ahead, when he saw what the expansion of the lending power of the Nation was going to accomplish. He calculated correctly that this tremendous addition to credit for banks, railroads, agriculture and industries would turn the tide and increase the purchasing power of the Nation.

Mr. Rand reported to Secretary of Commerce Chapin that his company was buying $4,500,000 worth of raw material and supplies to be used in manufacturing machines and office equipment in anticipation of an increase in general business activity. That statement has now been supplemented by another announcement in which Mr. Rand says that immediately following the first announcement, "our desks were flooded with congratulatory messages," and while acknowledging appreciation for these expressions, he relates the important fact: "We started to buy, then our own sales went up 26 per cent." Mr. Rand adds:

"We don't know just what caused these increased sales. But we do know what a lift and what an optimism they have given our own organization. And we know that right today Remington Rand salesmen are spreading that feeling to many thousands of other business men, in every line of industry. Think what an endless chain such a movement can become.

"In commodities alone, if all American industries were to place orders for four months ahead, upwards of 5 billion dollars worth of goods would immediately be scheduled for production. And why shouldn't every industry buy commodities now? The necessary facilities are ready.

"We believe these facts alone will continue to encourage buying in almost every line. But there is one more selfish reason which goes beyond actual facts, and yet is as real as your own firm's good-will: When you buy now you kindle a spark that runs all through the organization—a dynamic spark that says 'come on now, let's go,' then sales come in."

Rand has struck the nail on the head, and what he has accomplished can be duplicated in every class of business. He has given a demonstration of his confidence in the United States and his judgment has been backed by results in two weeks time.

Ten thousand other business men large and small, should immediately follow the lead of the man who had the nerve to go ahead. That would break the back of old man depression.

A WORD ABOUT ECONOMY

The utterances of United States Senator W. Warren Barbour are always interesting, but none will be more enthusiastically received by his constituents than that regarding economy in the conduct of government's business. He is one of the youngest of the members of the Upper House, both in age and service, yet he is among the most observant and the most courageous when it comes to voicing his own convictions.

"I wish to stress," he said in a recent interview, "my deep conviction of the absolute necessity for further drastic cuts in the cost of the conduct of the government. I have voted consistently, with certain exceptions which I felt would have actually impaired our national defense, for each reduction in appropriations and against every increase in appropriations.

"This course of action must be pursued, for the outstanding need of the day, almost above everything else, is a courageous and a continued effort to the end that taxation which has grown far too heavy and which now greatly exceeds its dollar value to the people must be reduced and still further until it is actually cut to the very bone."

Even those who are not in entire accord with the Republican candidate for re-election must concede that there is no "straddling" or "pussy-footing" in his discussion of vital issues.

BEALE COAL CO. OPENS NEW YARD

New Equipment Throughout
Speeds Deliveries, Saves Coal
Breakage and Degradation

The Beale Coal Company, formerly of 6700 State road, Tacony, has recently moved into its new and most up-to-the-minute coal yard located at Disston street and State road, Tacony. Their new yard comprises six huge concrete silos with a coal capacity of 1500 tons. New garages for their fleet of trucks, a new machine shop where the truck and yard machinery repairs are made and a new office building on the corner.

Coal dealers from all around have been to inspect the new Beale yard. Every facility for the rapid and careful handling of coal has been installed. The freight cars from the mines run on the siding and dump the coal into a well under the tracks. A huge bucket with a capacity of one and one-quarter ton carries the coal up into the proper silo where it is lowered. The bucket does not drop the coal down to the full depth of the silo but is lowered till it meets the coal already in the silo and then dumps the load, saving considerable breakage. The whole unloading process is done electrically and the bucket is controlled by electro-magnets, only one man is required to empty a car of coal.

The new yard will save considerable time, will permit quick deliveries, save considerable coal breakage and prevent degradation. The Beale Coal Company extends an invitation to anyone interested to visit the yard and inspect the new equipment.

MIXING THE ROOSEVELTS

A few days ago Paul Bellamy, of Rapid City, South Dakota, president of the Black Hills Transportation Company, related an interesting experience. He was riding on a train and fell into conversation with a man who told him he was going to vote for Franklin D. Roosevelt, that he would "like to see a son of T. R. in the White House." When Mr. Bellamy told the man Franklin D. was not a son of T. R., but only a remote relative, he refused to believe him. The incident impressed Mr. Bellamy so strongly that he made a canvass of the passengers in his car and found that more than half of the men and women in it believed that the Democratic nominee is a son of Theodore Roosevelt! What irony it is that the name of a great Republican leader should become a menacing Republican liability!

MOTORIST FINED $25 IN CRASH WITH TRUCK

Henry Harrell, of 461 St. Mary street, Burlington, was fined $25 and costs by Recorder Joseph E. Roberts, Mount Holly, Saturday night, on a charge of reckless driving. At Burlington road and Woodlawn road, near Mount Holly, Friday morning, Harrell's auto crashed into a truck driven by Harold P. Parent. The touring car was upset, injuring Harrell and his companion, James Wright, also of Burlington. The truck belonged to Harold Few. Its driver was unhurt.

MAYBE SO By RAKESTRAW

Zeek was on an inspection tour of the orchard, situated along the highway, when his ramblings brought him out to the open road.

His attention was called to a stranger who had halted nearby.

"Pardon me, stranger," the man said on approaching, "how far up to the next town?"

"Not far," Zeek replied, "a couple of miles, I reckon."

"Is there a picture show there?" he asked.

"Nope."

"Pool-room or billiard parlor?"

"Nope."

"No entertainment at all,—eh?" he queried. "Don't you folks go out in the evening?"

"Sure!" Zeek replied. "We go to Hank Simons of an ev'nin'—he's got a new bacon slicer."

Zeek was now putting in his appearance, coming through the orchard in time to see the stranger returning to his car. Not knowing anything about the conversation Zeek had been having with him, he decided on a guess.

"If he wants to buy the farm," cautioned Zeek, "ya better hadn't sell it to him."

"He didn't want it," Zeek said. "But why not sell it, if he'd want it?"

"Cause ya can't tell 'bout them city slickers," Zeek emphasized. "He looks m'ity like that dude that tried to sell me the city hall when I was to the city once."

"But he didn't gitcha fer no sucker, did he?"

"No sir-ree! I wuz to smart fer 'im," boasted Zeek. "cause I know'd he didn't own it—I already bought it of'n another feller."

THE INDIAN PRINCESS

By Doris Gill
(Twelve Years Old)

With two black braids down her back, Nothing in health or in happiness did she lack;
While the shells around her neck sang,
The Indian Warriors' song she sang.

Over to the rock she ran
With the clay pitcher in her hand;
She knew the woods as well as a deer,
Every noise she could hear.

Into the brush she ran with the water
To the faint sound of her father calling his daughter.

As she entered the village, a drumming sound she heard;
She started, and cried "A war has occurred!"

"To the wigwam," her father said—
He looked terrible; his face was a burning red.

Soon out they marched with her father at the head,
"I know he'll be killed," between sobs
she said.

She has never seen him since, and now she is old and gray,
That beautiful Princess of yesterday.

AGE PENSIONS GRANTED

The Burlington County Welfare Board, in session at Mount Holly last week, granted 48 applications for old-age pensions. Fourteen were rejected, four deferred and 15 withdrawn. The average pay of those allowed is $9.70 a month. The total of applications considered to date is 493, of which 340 were allowed.

MOORESTONIANS ATTEMPT RESCUE

W. C. Coles, Jr., David Kilpatrick, of South Church street, both of Moorestown, while spending the weekend in Seaside Park took part in a heroic attempt to save three unknown swimmers who were being swept to sea by the outgoing tide on Sunday afternoon.

At the time the beach was nearly deserted and the young men, who were sunning themselves in bathing suits with their friends, were the only persons available to answer the frantic cry from a young woman and two men companions.

They immediately plunged into the icy waters and a message was telephoned for the beach patrol, a mile away. In the meantime the three in need were drifting farther out and Coles and Kilpatrick were unable to reach them.

Upon the arrival of a beach guard with the necessary ropes and floats the Moorestonians were ordered back. Kilpatrick, who had been caught in a southerly directed tide, was able to make shore unaided but Coles was in much the same plight as the three others being swept out. He was assisted however by the guard with the life line, and the other three were rescued upon the arrival of a rowboat. All three were good swimmers but the tide had been too strong for them.

Co. Republicans Crowd Steamer
For Second Annual Excursion

G.O.P. BOAT RIDE ENJOYED BY MANY

Burlington county Republicans enjoyed their second annual moonlight boat trip down the Delaware river last Thursday aboard the excursion steamer "State of Delaware."

The big boat was engaged in place of the "City of Washington" which was originally chartered. It has a capacity of 4,000 passengers, twice as many as the smaller vessel.

The boat was well filled with the politicians and their friends. Leaving Burlington wharf shortly before eight o'clock the trip to Philadelphia and back was completed before midnight.

The weather was cool and clear. Ideal for such an excursion. Elwood Weidman of his Royal Commanders furnished music for the dancing during the trip.

The event was arranged by the Burlington County Republican Committee under the chairmanship of Charles T. Bout.

U. S. Senator W. Warren Barbour was at the wharf while the boat was loading but was unable to make the trip owing to a speaking engagement.

D. Lane Powers, Republican candidate for Congress in the newly-formed Burlington-Mercer district, was among the notables to make the trip. He was accompanied by Mrs. Powers.

Among the county candidates present were George N. Wimer, for sheriff; Marcus W. Newcomb, assembly; William H. Heister, Jr., for freeholder. Other county leaders on the boat were Senator Clifford R. Powell, Mrs. Elizabeth G. Terry, Mrs. Pearl M. Bridgegum and members of the Board of Freeholders.

SEVEN ARRESTED IN RAID ON DELANCO POOLROOM

Police raided a pool room on Burlington street, Delanco, Saturday night, and arrested Charles Hammel, 47, as the proprietor, and six other men as frequenters of a gambling house. Justice of the Peace Harry S. McCloskey, of Beverly, released Hammel in $200 bail for the grand jury on charges of maintaining a gambling house. The six men received suspended sentences. The raid was conducted by Chief of Police William Lindh, aided by state troopers.

The WORLD at the CROSSROADS

This is the first in a series of articles on the world today by the youngest member of the Sherwood Eddy American Seminar, which spent the past summer studying present conditions in Europe under the guidance of over ninety leaders of economic, political, and social life. Questions or reactions will be welcome.

By DAVID S. RICHIE

It's great to be back home again on good old Red, White and Blue soil. We see red over the Bonus Army; the white flag—either of surrender or of the W.C.T.U.—is up over prohibition; and we're still blue over the depression. But that has nothing on Europe! Russia is almost crimson; Germany has been blood white, and the only place we escaped the depression blues was in the middle of the Atlantic!

To tell the truth, we are all in the same boat and the boat is sinking! Or rather, to put it in the phraseology that I think best describes the world today, we are all at the crossroads—blindfolded! No man has explored much farther along any of the paths that lie ahead. Some are stepping out boldly, either sharply to the left toward Communism, or sharply to the right toward Fascism; while others are groping forward slowly toward Socialism. But no man or no nation has gone far along any of the roads beyond the tragic dead end of capitalism, the World War. That halocaust must spell the doom of any system—or lack of system—which could be blind or crazy or brutal enough to allow such a thing to take place. That is, the blind nationalism, militarism, and imperialism, that caused that war MUST be replaced or mankind will destroy itself.

But which path WILL lead to a better world where there shall be no more—none can tell for sure! All we can do is study the experiments, the successes and failures, of other nations and peoples, and then experiment ourselves—and succeed or fail! This means ventive genius available to the great mass of men. The whole world is seeking those means. And we must join the search!

This series of articles, it is hoped, will help serve as guide. Just as the Seminar asked leader and leader in Europe, "What are your problems and what are you doing to solve them?" We must ask nation after nation, "Which road are you choosing and where is it likely to lead you?" Then, if perchance, we find their problems to be quite similar to our problems—if not in fact the SAME problems—it is conceivably possible that we might find a common solution. And that solution MIGHT be along the lines of cooperation, of international "working together." That path, at least, remains almost untrod. And, after all, we are all in the same boat!

that God hath given to us eternal life, and this life is in his Son. He that hath the Son hath life; and he that hath not the Son of God hath not life"
(1 John 5:11, 12).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The real man being linked by Science to his Maker, mortals need only turn from sin and lose sight of mortal selfhood to find Christ, the real man and his relation to God, and to recognize the divine sonship" (p. 316).

AWARD BAHAI TEMPLE CONTRACT

New Architectural Principles Embodied in Religious Edifice in Illinois

The trustees of the Baha'i House of Worship, located at Wilmette, Illinois, on a site which commands the North Shore Drive overlooking Lake Michigan, have awarded to John J. Earley, of Washington, D. C., a contract for preliminary work on the exterior ornamentation of the Temple, the superstructure framework of which was completed a year ago at a cost of $400,000.

The exterior ornamentation, it is said, will when completed according to the designs of the late Louis G.
Bourgeois, architect, embody new principles of design making this edifice one of the most beautiful buildings in the world. A special type of architectural concrete, developed by Mr.
Earley, which possesses unusual plastic qualities and also is responsive to color gradation, will be employed.

The ornamentation is to be prepared and erected in sections, according to a process representing the highest development in this type of construction.
From a pure white at the top of the great nine-sided dome, the external design will tone into a warm buff shade at the base.

The contractor, John J. Earley, has already constructed a number of notable buildings employing architectural concrete, including the Church of the Sacred Heart and the Ambulatory of the Monastery, Washington, D. C., the Parthenon at Nashville, Tenn., the Fountain of Time, Jackson Park, Chicago, and the great DuPont Conservatories at Wilmington, Del.

The Research Service, Inc., Washington, D. C., will act as the representatives of the Temple trustees and have general management and supervision of the work.

As plans are made available, the trustees hope to have the entire dome unit completed before the opening of The Century of Progress Exposition in Chicago, during the spring of 1933.
The interesting fact has been pointed out that the first mention of the Baha'i Faith in this country was made during the sessions of the Parliament of Religions held at the original Chicago World's Fair forty years ago.

myra's Red Arrow Club was held Monday evening, at which time, L. G.
Rogers, well-known Palmyra mer-

Six local merchants have already joined the club, insuring that a cam-stimulate business in Palmyra.

Other officers of the club are: William J. Kraus, vice president; John H.
Etris, treasurer; and Luke K. Eberly, secretary.

the members' committee. The club will hold meetings at the home of L. G.
Rogers on the first and third Tuesday of each month at two o'clock in the afternoon.

Red Arrow money will be given with each retail cash purchase made at any of these Red Arrow stores equivalent to cash spent.

Merchandise will be offered by the merchants and will be offered at auc-

Red Arrow money to be used. Each person interested in any article to be in a bid ticket, to be secured at any Red Arrow place and drop the bid in a bid box.

Dates for the closing of the bid boxes and the time and place of aucligious, fraternal, educational, athletic, musical, Sunday School or school class, scouts, etc.

efforts of the Prospectors and makes bids for the organizations.

Each organization is asked to mail the name and address of its Chief Prospector to "Old Timer," Red Arrow

MEMORIAL PARK PLAYGROUND BASEBALL SCORES

By "BILL" SCHOFF

Ramblers 15, Bankers 0
Trojans 3, Wesleyans 2

By winning the first shutout of the year, the Ramblers defeated the Bankers, and won the Mayor Bennett Cup which is given to the team that finishes at the top of the Playground League standings. The score was 15-0.

Beating the Bankers was not the wonderful thing, nor was the shutout score. Both were expected. The Trojans helped the Ramblers to the cup by defeating the Wesleyans 3-2 on Thursday evening. Up till then, the two teams were tied for first place with eight victories and two defeats apiece.

Though both games were well-played, the feature of them both was the razzing. Players, umpires, managers and all, were the victims, some deservedly, some not. On Thursday night the Ramblers and their cohorts rooted for the Wesleyans' downfall. It was probably this razzing that caused Richmond, Wesleyan hurler, to be as wild as a pack of laughing hyenas on a spree. The Trojans won out in the last inning when, with two out, J. Schuler and Flynn hit successive doubles.

On Friday night, the Wesleyans, Athletics, and others gathered round to razz the Ramblers. Ed Williams, Ramblers pitcher, must have had cotton jammed into his ears; he apparently didn't hear the jeers, etc. of the other teams; he pitched "masterful ball."

In the Ramblers-Bankers game, Prisco and Weniger made four hits apiece for the winning team, while Bell and Armstrong pounded out three each for the Bankers.

In the Wesleyan-Trojans game, Jewett of the Wesleyans had three hits, while J. Schuler and Flynn, of the Trojans, made two each.

Playoff of incomplete game of a few weeks ago between the Panthers and Lutherans was won by Lutherans 11-9. However, neither team had enough eligible players present to make it a legal game. For the purpose of making up the final standings, the Lutherans are given credit for the win, since they did win it, although the League will probably make a decision on the matter.

WESLEYANS AND RAMBLERS will play an exhibition game at Memorial Park, on Saturday, September 24, at 3:30 p. m. Come and see the greatest and most magnificent aggregation of scintillating diamond talent ever collected under any three roofs at the same time! Come and feast your organs of sight on these Mighty Monarchs of the Bludgeon! Come and see such a wonderful ball game, a ball game that will rank with such historical events as:

(a) Julius Caesar.
(b) The War of the Spanish Succession.
(c) The French and Indian War.
(d) Napoleon.

(e) The first, second, third, twenty-fourth, and sixty-ninth Public Wars.
(f) The Lowering of the Water Rates in Palmyra-Riverton.

I guess that'll hold the Publicity Committee.

Cup Night
After a little bit of putting off, the date for the presentation of the Mayor Bennett Cup to the Ramblers has been set, at September 29, on a Thursday. The time scheduled is 8:30 p. m. It will cost 25 cents in American money to get in. Sandwiches and coffee will be placed at intervals in convenient positions. All managers must know by Thursday night, September 22, how many of their men will attend. If your manager has not been dunning you, get in touch with him.

Don't miss it—if you can possibly help it. There will be speakers and other forms of boloney.

Mrs. Sarah Aubrey, 87, Hobart, Okla., felt sorry enough to sing at the golden wedding anniversary of her daughter, 67 years old.

Irving and Floyd Burns, father and son, are enrolled in the same course at Central State Teachers College in Mount Pleasant, Mich.

GRUBMEIR FACES MILO STEINBORN

Iowa Snake Wrestles Strong Man at Camden Open Air Arena

Ever since the elongated Fred Grubmeir made his first appearance in Camden fans have been clamoring for his scalp, yet all their clamoring has availed them nothing more substantial and satisfactory than sore throats, for, after trimming the Moorestown favorite, Joe Kleckner, in some fifteen minutes in his first bout the Human Snake has continued the same success to date. In fact, his only pause was last week, when Joe Montana held him to a half-hour decision, only to come back this week against the Iowa denizen and lose in less than half an hour, via that one terrible hold of Fred's—the figure-4, or hook, scissors. That is, Joe lost the first fall by conceding it to his opponent, but he had resisted so long that he suffered torn ligaments and a possible fracture of the ribs, and was unable to continue the match after the customary rest period had been generously stretched.

And now for Steinborn: The burly Dutchman made his initial Camden appearance much to the regret of Floyd Marshall, via two successive bear hugs, and came back the following week to shift his hold from the waist to the neck, and get disqualified in his bout with Dusek for strangling and kneeing. But in his two bouts, he showed enough stuff to make him rate above his lanky opponent, so it should be plenty hot when they tangle for 90 minutes, best two out of three falls to go for the nod.

Three all-star heavy bouts complete the bill, Jim McEwen meets John Maxon in the semi, of 45 minutes, and Berto Asseratti, Cockney-speaking Italian from London, tending with Rudy Dusek in the second number. In the first bout Tony Felice meets Herman Hickman. The first and second bouts are scheduled for 30 minutes each, and one fall will terminate either of them or the semi-final.

DRUM, BUGLE CORPS TO VIE IN HUGE FIELD MEET IN BURLINGTON

Back in 1918, boys in khaki, boys in blue, were filled with the keen spirit of good-natured rivalry, with the feeling their company, or ship, was better than any other.

Today the scene is different. These same boys, a trifle older to be sure, are part of an organization of more than a million American Legionnaires. And out of that spirit of rivalry has arisen several hundred of the finest bugle and drum corps and bands that the United States has ever seen, men who take keen pleasure in the part they play; men who put forth their finest effort that their corps or their band may win on the contest field.

The enthusiasm and thrills of martial music at its best, perfect drilling and maneuvering, brilliantly uniformed bands and bugle and drum corps, will be the scene at Burlington, on Saturday, October 1, when the leading bugle and drum corps and bands of New Jersey, Eastern Pennsylvania and Delaware will compete in a big field competition on the Wilbur Watts School field at 1:45 o'clock.

This competition is being held under the joint sponsorship of Captain James MacFarland Post No. 79, American Legion, and the Burlington Chamber of Commerce.

Burlington County American Legion band and Palmyra Bugle and Drum Corps will act as hosts.

FAMILY OF THREE IN CHICKEN HOUSE

Riverside Township Committee Considers Unusual Situation

Two sisters and a 16-year-old boy, living in a chicken house, occupied the attention of Riverside's Township Committee, last week.

The chicken house is located on Ramocas avenue and residents in the neighborhood complained to officials, thinking something should be done about it.

The two women formerly owned two houses in the neighborhood. They lived in one and rented the other, a corner property. Then the mortgage on the house in which they lived was foreclosed and rather than lose the tenant in the other house, they fixed up a large chicken house in the rear of the property for the three to live in. Dr. R. I. Downs, Riverside Township physician, reported he had made an investigation and found the chicken house was in a clean and liveable condition.

It is expected the family will move into the house before cold weather comes.

PALMYRA CORPS WINS 4TH PRIZE

Outfit Makes Fine Showing in Competition With Best Units

Palmyra Corps placed fourth in the East Orange competition Saturday. Marlboro Corps, champions of Massachusetts placed number one in the contest; Frankford, second; York, third; with Perth Amboy, Norwood and Houston Post, of Germantown, following Palmyra.

The Palmyra outfit was well up in the running, there being only two points difference between first and fourth place. Radio reports from Newark reported Palmyra as the apparent winner of the competition, but the judges must have seen some faults that were not apparent to the spectators.

The question has been asked as to how the Corps are judged in these competitions. The method, in brief, is as follows:

Seven experienced Regular Army officers, including at least two who are experienced band men, are the judges.

Before marching on the competition field the Corps is inspected for both personnel and equipment. Each man is examined thoroughly for cleanliness of uniform and equipment. These must be spotless and every piece of these must be exactly as used and worn by other Corps members. Each man must be freshly shaved and barbered. Shoes must be laced the same, metal work shined to perfection and there are many other points that are too numerous to mention. Some inspecting officers have been so thorough as to examine ears to assure cleanliness. A Corps scoring perfect in inspection is given 15%.

The Corps is then given ten minutes for playing and drill.

Marching and maneuvering is judged during this period as well as music. Marching is rated as follows: General marching ability, including distances, intervals, files and ranks, length of paces and military beating. Perfection in this classification is 15%.

Maneuvering is judged as follows: In step, execution of drill, choice of figures, originality and precision, perfecting, exhibiting the Corps another marking of 20%.

The judging of music is divided into two parts 20% for drums and 20% for bugles or flutes. This judging is made on the following details: Position of instruments, execution, ensemble, expression, rhythm, originality and flash and repertoire.

Cadence is judged separately, 10% being given for perfection. The basis is U. S. Army regulation of 128 to 132 steps per minute.

It has taken years of steady practice and effort for the first class Corps to reach the stage of perfection.

MISS GRAY HAS NOBLE AS GUEST

Moorestown Girl Hostess at Weekend Party for Viscount Maldstone

Miss Dorothy Gray, of South Church street, Moorestown, entertained Christopher Guy Henage Finch Hutton, Viscount Maldstone, or "Chris" Maldstone, as he is known to his American friends, at her brother, Robert's cottage in Metedeconk near Bay Head, over the weekend.

Lord Maldstone, who is the oldest son of the Earl of Winchelsea and Nottingham and the former Marguerita Armstrong Drexel, of Philadelphia, is working in the trust department of the Girard Trust Company in Philadelphia to learn American business and banking methods. He expects to return to England this Christmas, but while in America, "Chris" is continually looking for new thrills.

Having met Miss Gray through friends at the Girard Trust he was invited to join the gay weekend party of sixteen young men and women at Metedeconk. "Bob" Gray promised to show him some thrills; he had in mind speedboating on the back of his Christ-Craft speedboat. But it seems that the young viscount is able to do everything and do it well. Fishing, swimming, dancing, quarts and ping-pong rounded out a busy weekend in which Milford qualified with honors for the "regular guy club."

Several weeks ago Lord Maldstone's picture was in the Philadelphia Inquirer, showing him posed in the cab of a locomotive. He was seeking another "thrill" by riding with the engineer and the fireman to Atlantic City, for which privilege he had gained special permission.

DETROITER WRECKS CAR IN AVOIDING COLLISION

To avoid striking another car, William Croll, of Fairview street, Detroit, drove his car into a telephone pole at the Riverton-Moorestown road and the Burlington Pike Saturday. Officer George Derworth, of the Cumberland police, took Croll to Dr. Dean LeFavor, Palmyra, where he was treated for cuts of the legs and arms. His car was damaged badly.

Consumption of 42 pancakes, plate size, at a single sitting gave Herbert Leslie Buckley, of Lanesboro, Mass., claim to the title of champion pancake destroyer.

RACING TO FIRES BANNED; ARRESTS ARE THREATENED

Palmyra Council Instructs Police to Break Up Dangerous Practice

CITIZENS ARE URGED TO PAY THEIR TAXES

Dispute Over Fine of Local Motorist Brings Committee Investigation

At the meeting of Palmyra Borough Council Tuesday evening, Councilman Lippincott called attention to the mad rush of motorists in the trail of the fire apparatus when a drill was held September 12.

Lives of children and other pedestrians were endangered and the mass of cars blocked the street as to interfere with the maneuvers of the apparatus.

Other councilmen agreed that something should be done to prevent this practice and the following resolution was passed:

"Whereas, during a recent fire on Highland avenue, a great number of automobiles followed the fire apparatus and drove in such a reckless manner as to endanger the lives of our citizens crossing our streets, as well as hampering the firemen in their duties. Therefore be it resolved that the chairman of the Police Committee instruct the police to break up this practice and to arrest such as continue this practice."

Seek Lower Rates

Fire Chief Joseph Stack was granted permission for the Palmyra Company with its apparatus to parade in the Bordentown celebration on October 8. The Riverton Fire Company has kindly agreed to protect Palmyra on that day and part of the Riverton equipment will be stationed in the Palmyra fire house so as to be in easy distance to any Palmyra fire.

Borough officials were invited to attend a conference in Asbury Park on October 6 and 7, to consider with other state municipal officials a campaign to obtain a reduction in gas and electric rates.

This invitation was accepted and a resolution was passed favoring reduction not only in gas and electric rates, but also water rates. It is planned to cooperate with Riverton Borough and Cinnaminson Township to obtain more reasonable water rates than now prevail.

Tax Sale Hinted

The problem of borough finances, taxes, assessments and financing in general, occupied much of the meeting. Councilman Ward declared that Council should give serious attention to economies that were absolutely necessary and the mayor and Council agreed with him.

In regard to delinquent taxes, it was thought a tax sale in the near future will be necessary unless the bulk of outstanding taxes is soon paid.

Regarding assessments, it was pointed out that if a general reduction were made, it would make impossible further reductions in the rate and if only a part of the property owners are favored with reduced assessments, an unfair burden would fall on others whose assessments remain the same.

Council was agreed drastic reductions in the expenses of borough government and the schools would be necessary, and a conference of councilmen, school board members, the borough assessor and tax collector will be held on October 6 to go into the matter thoroughly.

A full report of the work being carried on by the Palmyra Welfare Association under the direction of Ex-Mayor James T. Weart was received and Clerk Spencer was directed to write Mr. Weart a letter of commendation of the splendid results obtained.

Protests Mason Fine

The reading of the police report brought a protest from Councilman Mervine over the fine of Bailey Mason for reckless driving. Mervine asserted that Philadelphia drivers who had been arrested for similar offenses had been let off with reprimands.

Ex-Mayor Wimer defended the police department, asserting that Palmyra had one of the best forces in the state.

It was decided to appoint a committee to investigate the Mason case thoroughly and Councilmen Lippincott, Ward and Spahr, with Solicitor Low acting as legal advisor, were named to attend to this matter.

The board of health reported all stores had been inspected and found to be in sanitary condition. The whole town has been free from communicable disease during the past month.

SUGGESTIONS FOR SAFER MOTORING

Ten Rules Prefaced With Plea To Take Driving Seriously

By HAROLD G. HOFFMAN
St. Cmsr. of Motor Vehicles

Quite frequently, at this season of the year when accidents are at their peak, the Motor Vehicle Department receives from friends, suggestions and advice for the promotion of safer, safer driving on the part of the state's hundreds of thousands of car operators.

The Department always welcomes these suggestions and wherever practicable gives them wide circulation through the medium of pamphlets, newspapers and posters. It would be somewhat difficult, if not impossible, to trace the direct results of this form of public appeal but the fact remains that after two years of continuous effort, fatalities and non-fatal injury accidents, thus far in 1932, have been considerably less than last year.

H. C. Lockwood, real estate broker, of Plainfield, has prepared ten suggestions for 'safe driving, prefacing them with the plea that if operators will take the matter of driving seriously and observe the rules, they may save financial loss, personal injury and death.

His suggestions, every one of which contains merit, follow:

Never pass a car at a street intersection if going in the same direction.

Have car fully under control at intersections since 55 per cent. of accidents occur there.

Never pass a car on a hill. Head-on collisions are very distressing.

Don't cut in and out of heavy traffic. Be a good sport. Stay in line.

You can find real grief here.

Never race. "Death lingers here."

Observe and obey all lights and other signals. They are there for your own benefit.

"Don't 'show off.' You are apt to be 'shown up.'"

Keep your eyes ahead all the time.

You are the engineer of a dangerous machine.

ROTARIANS MEET AT BROWNS MILLS

Guest of Dr. Mills; J. D. Elisele Tells Fellow Members of Western Trip

The Palmyra-Riverton Rotary Club met on Thursday evening, September 22, at the cabin of Dr. C. S. Mills at Browns Mills. Anyone who has enjoyed the hospitality of Dr. Mills can appreciate the thoroughly pleasant evening which the members experienced.

Following preliminary quill games that provoked many arguments, the caterer served an excellent dinner on the wide, screened veranda, to appetite sharpened by the cool breeze which came over the lake. There was a large turn-out including several guests, among who were the executives of the Henry A. Dreer Company.

President Lockett presided, and after the routine business, he presented past presidents' emblems to Dr. Mills and Joseph Low for their satisfactory service during their terms of office.

The talk of the evening was given by J. D. Elisele, president of the Dreer Company, who had just returned from a four weeks' trip to the west coast. Mr. Elisele sketched his recent experiences and then talked more at length about a previous California excursion in which he had motored, with Mrs. Elisele, from Los Angeles to Vancouver. Lack of space forbids a complete summary of his remarks which were of great interest to all those present.

He mentioned the impressiveness of the huge California Redwoods and the awe-inspiring effect which they have upon the traveler who rides beneath them. It is natural that one who is so prominent in horticultural circles should note the flora of the region.

Mr. Elisele told of Portland as the city of roses, and mentioned the attempt to substitute many varieties for the first one planted when they thrived so well. Should it be necessary for him to leave the environs of Philadelphia, he would gladly live in either San Francisco or Vancouver, the natural locations of which are most satisfactory.

Mr. Elisele has made some fifteen trips to California and hence has many friends there. He enjoyed the talk with personal anecdotes about hotel proprietors and horticulturists he had met, and concluded by describing a fishing experience that resulted in his landing a twenty-pound salmon, which when cooked seemed to be sweeter than any other fish he had ever eaten.

The members of the Club appreciated the opportunity of hearing about Mr. Elisele's trip and always look forward to the times when he talks to the Club. They also enjoy the cabin at Browns Mills, and are grateful to the perfect host who owns it.

LEAPS FROM SPAN IN ATTEMPTED SUICIDE

In the first suicide attempt during the three years' existence of the Palmyra-Palmyra bridge, a Philadelphia bottle "changed his mind" when he struck the water of the Delaware early Friday morning.

Peter Herzog, 46, of 6260 North Fourth street, Philadelphia, suffered two broken ribs and also lost exposure. He is in Frankford Hospital.

Herzog cried out for help as he struggled in the water. His cries attracted Harry Anderson, 32, of 6422 Delaware avenue, who was in a boat. Anderson dragged Herzog into the rowboat, rowed ashore and called the Tacony police. Herzog admitted attempting suicide.

RIVERTON PORCH CLUB OPENS YEAR

Mrs. Jean Dagget Paul will entertain with soprano solos.

Give the boys a lift — they need it right now.

The office will be open on Saturday from 7:00 a. m. until 6:00 p. m.

ONE GOOD ACCIDENT DESERVES ANOTHER

So It Would Seem When Jack Reed of Riverton Stops to View a Previous Crash

Three persons were injured early Saturday at Crescent boulevard and Bethel avenue, Pennsauken township when John S. Reed, 17, of 304 Main street, Riverton, stopped his car to look at the damage caused by a previous accident.

In the first accident, a truck and trailer, operated by Joseph Palote, of 1051 Market street, Elizabeth, was struck by the car of Sidney Kaplan, Camden lawyer, of 2648 Baird boulevard. Kaplan's car overturned. No body was hurt.

Reed and Woody McCord, who accompanied him were unhurt when their machine was struck by a car driven by Albert W. Free, 47, of 506 South Fifty-fifth street, Philadelphia. In Free's car, was his wife, Mabel, and Mrs. Anna Free, 78, of 718 Belmont street, Collingswood. All were treated by a local doctor for cuts and bruises.

Little damage was done to Reed's car which was hit from the rear by the machine driven by Free.

J. M. WILLIAMS WINS P.N.G. SHOOT

Riverton Marksman Leads List to Win Silver Cup in Rifle Match at Essington

Joseph M. Williams, of 215 Cinnamon street, Riverton, expert pistol and rifle marksman, helped his rifle team to victory and won first place for individual score at the Pennsylvania National Guard rifle match held at Essington last Sunday.

Williams is a member of the "C" troop team, 1st squadron, 103 Cavalry, Pennsylvania National Guard. "A," "B," and "D" troops competed for the trophy, which is a large bronze plaque inscribed with silver. The match originated last year and was won for the first time by "C" troop. Permanent possession of the plaque goes to the team winning the best out of seven annual matches. The victory last Sunday gives "C" troop a two-to-nothing lead over the other troops.

The plaque was presented by Major Edward Hoops, commanding officer of the First Squadron, 103d Cavalry.

The teams consist of six men, shooting four stages and the score for "C" troop is as follows:

	200 yds.	300 yds.	400 yds.	500 yds.	Total
Williams, J. M.	41	46	45	43	175
Rawlins, S. W.	41	42	45	46	174
Grigalinos, J. C.	41	41	45	45	172
Saunders, H. N.	37	43	44	44	168
Taylor, W. J.	44	41	38	41	164
Stevens, W. L.	42	37	29	33	141

"B" Troop totals 274 242 214 188 — 899
"A" Troop totals 210 227 183 199 — 809
A beautiful silver cup was presented to the man recording the highest individual score as taken from the troop scores. Joe Williams noted out his buddy Spencer W. Rawlins for first with the small margin of one point. Williams recorded a score of 175 out of 200, while Rawlins had to content himself with second place with a 174.

The match was fired under National Match Rules and the stages (or ranges) were as follows: First, 200 yards offhand (or standing) slow fire; second, 200 yards rapid fire; third, 300 yards rapid fire, prone; and fourth, 600 yards slow fire, prone.

Ten shots are fired from each stage and each bullet counts five points. The bullseye on the 200 and 300 yard ranges measures six inches, and 12 inches on the 600 yard range. Plain iron sights are used on the rifles.

When shooting the rapid fire stages the contestant stands in his place until the target appears from a pit in the ground. Upon its appearance the contestant must load his rifle, take a sitting or prone position, sight and fire ten shots all within the space of one minute. Slow fire consists of a shot-per-minute limit.

Williams recorded a 41 out of a possible 50 on the 200 yard offhand slow fire range; a 46 out of a possible 50 on the 200 yard rapid fire (sitting) range; a 45 out of a possible 50 on the 300 yard rapid fire (prone) and a 43 out of a possible 50 on the 600 yard slow fire (prone) range, making his total 175.

While the bronze and silver plaque has a seven-year run, the silver cups for individual marksmanship are the permanent possession of the winners, and Williams has added another to his rapidly growing collection.

DORWORTH CRACK SHOT

Officer Dorworth, of the Cinnaminson police, trimmed his two nearby rivals in a pistol match last Saturday afternoon. The boys shot it off in a sand hole at Parry, and Dorworth clipped the target for a total of 143 out of a possible 150, while Robinson, of Riverton, followed with a 142, and Betty, of Palmyra, trailed with a 136. Dr. Dey, the only civilian present, had his own previous marks with a 128.

The Golden Hour Circle will hold a covered dish supper in the Calvary Presbyterian Church school auditorium, Friday evening, October 7.

STATE TAXPAYERS FIGHT MORE BONDS

Association Believes Voters
Should Defeat Proposed Issues

Opposition to the issuance of any bonds at the present time by New Jersey whether they be for relief, highway or any other purpose was expressed by the directors of the New Jersey Taxpayers' Association at an executive meeting, held in Trenton, September 23. A copy of the resolution adopted was forwarded to Governor Moore.

At the meeting the view was unanimously expressed that any further bond issue for any purpose, that is not self-liquidating, should be opposed by the association, first because bond issues, at any time, involve heavy carrying charges and encourage extravagance by public officials and second, because, at this particular time, a bond issue could only be marketed on terms that would unduly burden the taxpayer. The policy of obtaining funds for temporary emergency through the sale of bond issues is emphatically opposed.

The directors unanimously agreed that adequate provision for unemployment relief must be made, but feel that this can be done effectively through proper retrenchment in public expenditures—state, county and local. The view was expressed that it was solely owing to political jockeying by both parties during the last session of the legislature that the present apparent crisis in providing funds for relief is due.

It was known that fifteen to twenty million dollars would be needed for relief work this year and yet some five months were wasted without any provision being made to finance the necessary aid. Several methods were proposed including drastic reductions but the politicians ducked this "pay as you go" solution and sent the legislature home deciding to rely on a resolution granting Governor Moore extraordinary powers for reducing state expenditures coupled with a "non-partisan" agreement to have the voters provide funds by authorizing a further bond issue if necessary.

Though Governor Moore has made a good start the Taxpayers' Association directors feel there should be more of the wholehearted support of both political parties. The Association condemns such mis-handling of serious public problems by so-called "non-partisan" agreements between self-constituted political bosses. It believes in the legislature as the body to function as a deliberate assembly free from dictation by irresponsible persons who presume to set themselves up as an "invisible government" between the people and their chosen representatives.

It further believes that the "non-partisan" agreement of such bosses in favor of another bond issue should be overwhelmingly defeated at the polls and that the voters should thus force back upon the legislature and executive branches of the state, county and municipal governments the problem of providing current revenues with which to properly deal with this unemployment relief.

The PEOPLES COLUMN

SHALL WE FIGHT OURSELVES?

One of the perquisites of any army, before entering into battle is morale. This is essential. Not only must men be trained to fight, but to fight efficiently. To do this they must understand and cooperate with each other. The purpose of the battle must constantly be kept in mind by both officers and men. Men must understand their officers' orders must understand their men.

If morale is to exist in battle it must be created and maintained before the battle. It is created in time of peace. This is called preparedness.

Democrats and Republicans

More than a score of years ago a great statesman said that the one big difference between the two major political parties, the Republican and the Democratic, was that the Republicans did the fighting between themselves at the one time and the battle, and the Democrats did the inter-party fighting after the convention, during the battle.

In other words the Republicans in those days were successful because they thrashed out their differences before election. The Democrats lost before the election, and continued to do so until election day, when they lost the election.

Bury the Hatchet

The problems that confront us are many, but they can be overcome if we unite our forces before we make the attack.

It would, therefore, seem the part of wisdom, considering the size and strength of the common enemy, to immediately sink our personal differences and devote our time and energy to the building of morale. Let's bury the hatchet, unite our forces, accomplish our purpose and then clear house. The cause is far more important than any individual.

Our future is being consumed in the flames of passion, many times growing out of personal differences, and not merely petty differences. This sort of thing not only kills the morale of our soldiers, but it tells the common enemy in a convincing and undeniable manner, that we are divided, broken up into small groups, fighting ourselves. No divided army ever won a battle, because division means chaos.

Peace in the Ranks

It is always better to make peace in your ranks before a battle than after the battle. Since the World War several conferences have been held for the purpose of arriving at a common understanding calculated to prevent a recurrence of war. These conferences could have been held before the war, had those in power possessed the courage to wipe out their differences.

"A House Divided Against Itself Cannot Stand!"

Shall we fight ourselves or the common enemy?

Next Monday Night

A meeting of the taxpayers of Riverton and Cinnaminson township will be held at the Riverton Country Club, Riverton, Monday evening next, at 8 o'clock.

The purpose of the meeting is to discuss the formation of a Riverton and Cinnaminson unit of the Burlington County Taxpayers' Association, which, in turn, is affiliated with the New Jersey Taxpayers' Association.

This organization has been functioning for over a year, and has been partially responsible for a saving of $110,000 to the taxpayers of Burlington county this year.

CHILD STUDY GROUP HAS FINE MEETING

The Child Study Group of the Palmyra Parent-Teacher Association held its meeting preceding the regular P. T. A. Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Elias Toy, past president of the association, was in charge of the session. Her topic was "How to be a Successful P. T. A."

She brought out many good and necessary things that a Parent-Teacher Association should do.

Mrs. Toy pointed out the need of censoring the moving pictures in our own town. She said the Child Welfare Magazine has a splendid list of criticisms of moving pictures.

She urged that parents follow these criticisms so that youngsters will see only pictures which are worthwhile. All parents and persons interested are being asked to attend these child study group meetings, which precede the regular monthly P. T. A. session.

BIG LEGION MEET AT BURLINGTON

Drum and Bugle Corps Contest
To be Held Saturday, Afternoon, Oct. 1

The finest American Legion Bugle and drum corps in New Jersey, Eastern Pennsylvania and Delaware will vie with each other in a big Band and Bugle and Drum Corps Competition on Community Athletic Field, in back of Wilbur Watts High School, Burlington, on Saturday afternoon, October 1, at 1.45 o'clock.

The event is being sponsored jointly by Captain James MacFarland Post, No. 79, American Legion, and the Burlington Chamber of Commerce. The Burlington County American Legion Band and the Post Rodgers Bugle and Drum Corps, of Palmyra, Burlington county's two crack Legion musical organizations, will act as hosts to the visiting units. They will also participate in the event but will not compete for prizes.

A first prize of $250.00 has been offered by the committee, and second and third prizes of $150.00 and $50.00 respectively will be awarded.

At least ten of the most consistent prize-winning corps in this section of the country will participate.

They are: Perth Amboy, State champions; East Orange, 1931 State champions; Frankford, Pa., former National champions; Houston Post, of Germantown, York, Pa., Norwood, Pa., all former Pennsylvania State champions, also Phoenixville, Pa. and Norristown, Pa. Delaware Post, No. 1, of Arlington, Delaware State champions for several years.

This will mark the first time such a prominent array of bugle corps have competed for prizes in South Jersey. Six of the prize winners at the East Orange competition two weeks ago will compete in the Burlington event. The East Orange event was the largest of its kind ever held in New Jersey.

The contests will be conducted under the rules of the Inter-State Bugle and Drum Corps Association and the various corps will be judged by seven officers of the U. S. Army who are experts in this task.

One of the features of the program will be the appearance of the Junior Cadet Corps of Robert W. Bracken Post, No. 382, of Bristol, Pennsylvania, in the Cadet Division. These boys won their honors over a field of 19 competitors and are acknowledged as one of the foremost Cadet organizations in the East.

State Commander Joseph Edgar, of New Brunswick, and his staff and other notable military and Legion officials will be guests of Captain James MacFarland Post on that day.

A closing feature of the afternoon program will be a musical retreat ceremony, when all the corps which participated will appear on the field at one time. Lt. Col. Clifford Powell will act as officer of the day for this event, while the Burlington County American Legion Band will furnish the music. This is similar to the formal retreat in the army but is much more colorful because of the multi-colored uniforms of the various corps.

In the evening a short street parade will take place on the principal streets, followed by the awarding of prizes at the reviewing stand at City Hall. It is hoped Col. Franklin D. Oiler will present the awards.

The competition is open to the public and a small admission charge is being made to cover the expenses of the event. All the American Legion posts in the county are assisting the Burlington post in the sale of tickets and tickets may be procured locally from the officers and members of Post Rodgers.

BALL GAME TOO MUCH FOR EDDIE WILLIAMS

Suffered Severe Heart Attack Last Saturday While Pitching for Ramblers Team

Edward R. Williams, prominent figure in Riverton sporting circles, collapsed while playing ball at Memorial Park last Saturday afternoon. "Eddie" was pitching for the Ramblers in an exhibition game with the Wesleyans, when the attack occurred.

The trouble was diagnosed by Dr. Harry L. Rogers as a dilated heart aggravated by a severe attack of indigestion, brought about by over-exertion. "Eddie" was removed to his home where treatment was administered.

For the moment "Eddie's" life was in serious danger, but prompt action brought him around and he is now about, supported by a cane and discussing the outcome of the World Series with his usual display of good humor.

RIVERTON SCHOOL OPENED MONDAY

Work Under Supervision of Miss Staman Forges Ahead With Fall Schedule; Registration 299

The Riverton grammar school opened Monday morning under the direction of Miss Caroline M. Staman, the new supervising principal, after a delay of about twenty days, due to the presence of infantile paralysis in the neighborhood.

The first registration of pupils up to Wednesday, September 28, is 299, which is made up of 157 boys and 142 girls. This figure, compared with the registration for the same time last year shows a decrease of eleven pupils. This, however, may be due to the delayed starting of some pupils whose parents are not entirely satisfied about the infantile paralysis epidemic.

Monday afternoon a Parent-Teacher meeting was conducted in the school gymnasium. Tuesday afternoon, Dr. Harry L. Rogers, school physician, addressed the entire teaching staff in the school auditorium and illustrated, by his talk, general health and disease preventative measures.

Interior improvements to both school buildings have been completed and present a clean, bright and cheerful appearance.

RIVERTON P. T. A. OPENS SEASON

Moving Picture Shows Discussed
by Mrs. Grice, First Riverton PTA Head

The first meeting of the Riverton P.T.A. was opened by Mrs. Francis B. Elwell, the president, with a warm greeting to members and particularly to Miss Caroline M. Staman, the new supervising principal.

Mrs. Howard Coe, who is in charge of the study groups which were prior to the regular P.T.A. meetings, gave a resume of plans for the coming year. These groups were well attended last year, and promise to be even more active, for many took the opportunity Monday of enrolling.

Mrs. Edna Grice was the principal speaker of the afternoon. This was most fitting, as she was the first president of Riverton's P.T.A., and those who heard her could not help but be impressed by her earnestness and inspired to try just a bit harder in surrounding their children with the things of real value in life.

After a very fine tribute to the memory of Miss Hannah Chew, Mrs. Grice spoke of the effect of current movies on our children, particularly when we consider that several foreign countries such as Canada, Japan and India, have prohibited the showing of many of our American films. Movies can be one of the greatest powers for good, but unfortunately the handling of them are only interested in making money, and excuse themselves by saying that they give the people what they want. Adults are able to discriminate, but what of the little ones? Even though you may surround your children with every care at home—proper selection of their literature, etc.—to turn them over to the movies week after week without regard to what is passing on the screen before them, counteracts these benefits. There is an old Chinese proverb that "One picture is worth a thousand words."

Our local movies have done their bit toward showing more suitable pictures for children on Friday nights. Let us, as parents, do ours by making this their night at the movies.

A new committee has been formed, publication, under Mrs. Harry L. Rogers, who will arrange to have different periodicals devoted to child welfare and training available at P.T.A. meetings. A yearly subscription of "Child Welfare," the national P.T.A. publication, has been given to the library also. "Child Welfare" may be bought for 10c a copy or 80c for a year's subscription. As this magazine lists suitable current pictures for children, it was suggested that this list be tacked on a bulletin board in school where the children may see it. Titles of pictures are many times deceiving, and it is difficult for one to judge as to their suitability.

Girls of the Domestic Science class assisted Mrs. G. Harold Baker in serving tea, and so ended a very pleasant and inspiring afternoon.

Press Committee.

REPUBLICANS PLAN ACTIVE CAMPAIGN

Meeting at Browns Mills Addressed by Senators Wolverton, Powell and Others

More than two hundred Republican workers gathered at Browns Mills in the Pines Friday night to enjoy an excellent dinner at the Pine Whistle Inn and listen to words of cheer and much sound advice from a battery of speakers.

At the head table County Chairman Charles R. Stout presided as toastmaster, introducing the speakers and making a brief but forceful address of his own as a preliminary to the broad-sides of oratory that followed.

It was distinctively a Republican gathering, with nearly every part of the county represented. It was a "stag" dinner, too, and every man there was a worker in the ranks of the Grand Old Party, either as a commissioned officer or just plain party patriot who cares nothing for political honors and is satisfied to work for Republican success because he loves the party and believes in its principles and policies.

Wolverton Speaks

The feature address was by Congressman Charles A. Wolverton of Camden, who is now serving his third term as the able representative of the First District and is running for reelection. Mr. Wolverton was unable to get there in time for the dinner and most of the early courses in the feast of oratory were over, too, before he appeared and was greeted with a fine round of applause.

The speaking began as the dinner neared an end and able addresses were made by George N. Wimer, candidate for sheriff, Assemblyman M. W. Newcomb, Freeholder William H. Holzer, Jr., County Auditor Harry J. Ziegler, and William O. Cunningham, candidate for coroner. Russell M. Stoddard, the other coroner aspirant, was introduced and gave the sign of the order to the guests but said the previous speakers having expressed their sentiments he would not burden those present with unnecessary talking, which made a hit.

Senator Clifford R. Powell spoke well and at some length. Then D. Lane Powers, of Trenton, the Republican nominee for Congress in the new Fourth District, spoke briefly and promised to keep on coming into Burlington county to meet the people whom he hoped would be his future constituents.

Hayward's Address

Prosecutor Howard Eastwood made a good speech and so did George R. Dye, United States Senator Barbour's secretary and campaign manager, who came down bearing his chief's greetings and to explain that he had been assigned to another part of the state that night, making it impossible for him to be present. Mr. Dye, however, proved to be a pleasing speaker, and did well as a pinch-hitter.

Theodore Hayward, of Delanco, well known as a business man and patron of county baseball, was introduced and gave some timely thoughts with reference to the importance of a protective tariff to the well-being of the American working man and, in consequence, to the country at large.

The final speaker was Congressman Wolverton, who delivered a gem of eloquence, full of timely facts and

COUNTY INDICTS 8 NUMBERS MEN

The charges, in each instance, are maintaining a lottery and possessing lottery tickets. The slot machine operators also felt the grand jury's lash.

Excellent Speaker Has Been Secured to Address Lads at Session

Troop No. 2, Boy Scouts of Palmyra, will hold a regular meeting this evening, unless otherwise requested by the Palmyra board of health.

This being the fifth Thursday of the month, refreshments will be one of the main attractions. An excellent speaker has been secured for the occasion.

Several recruits are rapidly passing their tenderfoot tests and in a short time will be ready for the investiture service.

The Sea Scout Patrol is coming along splendidly. The program of the patrol provides for the older boy. The use of the old ferry house has been granted and the boys are rapidly getting it into fine shape. The work is being done by the boys themselves and most of the material is being donated.

The full patrol will take place in formation of the troop tonight.

RELIEF COLLECTIONS ARE ON THE DECLINE

Collections for the Palmyra Welfare Association last week fell below the amount necessary to assure State Aid payments.

Ten district captains turned in only $80.85. While late returns from the three districts not reported will increase that amount, it is evident that the number of weekly pledge payments must be increased.

In order to accomplish this, district captains are arranging to call, with block leaders, at every occupied house, during the next three weeks.

The association gratefully acknowledges the receipt of $10.00 from the Epworth M. E. Sunday School.

Of the 2,000,000,000 mammals in California half are burrowing rodents such as ground squirrels and gophers.

"GHOST HOUSE" OCTOBER 7 AND 8

Woman's Club of Palmyra Is Sponsor of Three Act Drama

"Ghost House," a three-act mystery drama being sponsored by the Woman's Club of Palmyra, will be presented in the Palmyra High School auditorium Friday and Saturday evenings, September 7 and 8.

Miss Evelyn Kelley, who arrived in Palmyra on Sunday, is director of the play and has chosen the following committees to help her with the plans for the event.

General chairman, Mrs. W. R. Dunn; casting committee chairman, Mrs. Evelyn H. Weart; advertising chairman, Mrs. Harry Kenny; ticket chairman, Mrs. Alfred VanOsten; and property chairman, Mrs. William A. McCann. "Ghost House" contains some very unique features, such as the "Detective Chorus," which will be made up of local men, who run through their act to the accompaniment of shooting, and "The Sneak Dance," which is a chorus of seven high school girls cleverly costumed, and appearing in tap routine.

One of the most unusual choruses is the "Ghost Dance," also done by seven girls who dress as ghosts and entertain with a fantasy of weird and ghastly actions.

The finale contains the "Goodnight Sweetheart" chorus, done by seven girls and the entire cast. These choruses and specialties are in addition to the play proper, which is an exceptionally sensational drama.

The casting committee has secured some of the best talent in town for the production. The cast is as follows:

Barbara Brown, a charming young lady, Mrs. William J. Zeller; Martha Brown, Barbara's aunt, Miss Martha Hirsch;

Faulette Andrews, the maid, Miss Muriel Burmann; James Oliver, the English Butler, Nelson Randolph;

Lenton Thompson, the family lawyer and friend, Joseph G. Seel; Nephew of the Brown's, Hayes Brady;

Richard Bates, Harry Storcks; Richard's wife, the dominating Mrs. Bates, Miss Jane Price;

Ted Wilson, young and vigorous newspaper reporter, Bruce Beaulieu; Inspector Brooks, the detective, Carl Lutz;

Maudie Washington, jolly, but superstitious colored cook, Mrs. Evelyn Weart;

The Stranger, last by no means, Everyone is invited to come and see who the stranger is for himself.

The cast is working diligently in an effort to give Palmyra one of the best plays ever presented in the town.

Report of Social Service Department of County Hospital Shows Importance of That Phase of the Institution's Work

Those who have not been inmates of a hospital or have been close to its work are generally uninformed on the services given by it. The report of the Social Service Department of the Burlington County Hospital, Mt. Holly for the three summer months just made public, indicates the tremendous importance of a phase of hospital work little thought of by the average citizen.

The report states that during the three summer months the Obstetric Wards showed an increase of 38 per cent. in its admission through the Social Service Department over the corresponding months for 1931, and there was an increase of 50 per cent. on the visits to the Pre-natal Clinic. This latter figure is of great interest and importance as it shows the effect of medical education being done in the county by the hospital. An increase of 36 per cent. in the new and throat clinic was shown, and 25 per cent.

The Social Service Department has taken over the distribution of drugs and medicines to poor out-patients, and the responsibility for furnishing these after careful investigation has now passed to that department. With that responsibility has also gone that for the supply of surgical belts, appliances, braces, etc., needed by many who would otherwise be hospitalized, and who, through the follow-up work of the clinics, have been able to live at home.

In addition, this department in its ordinary social work has been instrumental in having patients placed in institutions for permanent care, has been able to find some jobs for those out of work and has furnished transportation for many who were sick and unable to find some otherwise.

It is through this department that much of the medical education work is done and although its finances and facilities have been very limited a remarkably fine job has been done in a county of ninety thousand people and large in area.

Another winter of hardship is before us. It will depend on the attitude, interest and cooperation of our loyal and public-spirited citizens whether or not this splendid work will continue to go on and reach out throughout Burlington county to those many silent sufferers who should have medical care.

Electricity for Use in Homes Has Led Downward Trend of Living Costs

Residence service rates which did not go up when prices of practically all commodities were rising have been reduced six times since November 1922—twice within last three years.

THE above graph shows index numbers of the principal groups of items entering into the cost of living as published by the Bureau of Labor Statistics of the United States Department of Labor compared with index numbers of the cost of electricity for lighting service in the territory served by Public Service Electric and Gas Company.

These index numbers indicate the trend of prices charged for the respective commodities during the period from 1913 to 1931 inclusive, with the 1913 figure set forth as 100.

The numbers emphasize the fact that instead of increasing in price like most commodities subsequent to 1913, electricity, used in the home costs even less today than it did then.

The cost of the principal items in the family budget, such as food, clothing, rent and household furnishings, increased rapidly from 1913 to 1920.

The peak cost of food, reached at the end of 1919, was 97 per cent. above the cost in 1913.

The peak cost of clothing, reached in 1919, was 168.7 per cent. above the cost in 1913.

The peak cost of rent, reached in 1924, was 68.2 per cent. above the cost in 1913.

The peak cost of household furnishings, reached in 1920, was 185.4 per cent. above the cost in 1913.

From 1913 to 1922 the cost of electricity for lighting showed little variation. Since November 1922 it has been steadily decreasing until, in 1931, it was 24.9 per cent. below the cost in 1913.

While the prices of other essential commodities which enter into the cost of living decreased in some measure, between 1922 and 1931 most of them were still well above the 1913 levels.

Since 1922, Public Service Electric and Gas Company has made six reductions in electric rates for residence service—two within the last three years. The result has been to effect aggregate savings for customers, amounting to millions of dollars annually.

It was decided to appoint a nominating committee and call a further meeting, the time and place of which will be announced later.

Impressive Ceremony Marks Installation of Legion Auxiliary Officers

MODEST FAME

WHEN the sum of $72,000 was paid to Will Rogers for a series of short talks over the radio, an almost international interest was instantly aroused. Each of the fourteen sessions lasted fifteen minutes, which statisticians computed represented the tidy sum of $350 a minute, more money than the President of the United States receives in a ten-hour day.

For another program of fifteen minutes over the air, Will Rogers is reported to have gotten $12,500, which is still regarded as something of a record.

Regarded as one of the wealthiest actors in Hollywood, Rogers has a reputation of being as canny as a Scot in business matters. But his investments have been in real estate, and not in fluctuating stocks. He has received many inside tips from big business men who wished to befriend him. But he insists that he never has bought a share of stock on any exchange.

He believes that if people would get out of the habit of living by the stock ticker, there would be fewer causes of depression. According to the noted wit, society is guiding its destinies by the rise and fall of the stock market.

Personally Rogers can't see how a stock can be worth $100 at ten o'clock in the morning and only $50 at three in the afternoon. If the basic value is correct, there is no reason for such a fluctuation.

When he visited New York recently before beginning work on his latest Fox film, "Down To Earth," he talked to the head of one of the largest theatre ticket brokerage offices. The official informed him that he could tell how the market went during the day without ever looking at a stock report.

After a good day on the Street, the ticket seller found, sales reflected it to a remarkable degree. When stock prices went down, the office was bound to have a big bunch of theatre tickets left over.

In Rogers' humble opinion such conditions discredit our intelligence. He finds there is no rhyme or reason for letting our lives be swayed by the activities of a group of professional speculators.

Nothing remains free from Will Rogers' quips, not even Emily Post's famous book on etiquette.

In a lengthy article commenting on that volume, among other things Rogers said:

"Outside of eating with a sharp knife there is no rule in the book that lays you liable to as much criticism as the following:

"Whether in a private car, a taxi, or a carriage, a lady must never sit on a gentleman's lap because, according to European tradition, a lady 'on the left' is 'go-lady'."

"I thought at first when I read that it was a misprint and meant a lady could never sit on a gentleman's lap, instead of left. But now I find it was really left. So you can go ahead and sit on the lap. It doesn't say not to. But don't sit on his left, or you can never hope to enter smart society."

Another sample from the same source and much quoted is:

"The book says: At six o'clock the butler puts on his dress suit. The butler's suit differs from that of a gentleman by having no braid on the trousers."

In a lengthy article commenting on that volume, among other things Rogers said:

So I guess you can go ahead and sit on the lap. It don't say not to. But don't sit on his left, or you can never hope to enter smart society."

Another sample from the same source and much quoted is:

"The book says: 'At six o'clock the butler puts on his dress suit. The butler's suit differs from that of a gentleman by having no braid on the trousers.'"

"Now all you birds that never could tell the servants from the guests, except somebody called one of them a butler and the other a gentleman, you can't tell them that way. More than likely the butler is the gentleman of the two."

"But I can tell the butler. He has not got any braid on his trousers. Now all I got to do is to find out how to tell the gentleman."

"If you see people walking around looking down at your trousers in the future, you will know they are looking to see if the braid is left off."

Will Rogers has frequently been described as Hollywood's most untemperamental actor, besides being the worst dressed. His favorite attire, because it is the most comfortable, consists of blue trousers, cowboy style, and a leather jacket over a blue shirt. His hair hangs down over his right eye in an unruly cowlick. Rogers' favorite hat is the almost white, buckskin colored snail sombrero which the range rider favors in town. His shoes seem unfamiliar with polish unless on special occasions.

As to temperament he points out with pride that he has only one wife and three lovely children, Jimmy aged 15, Mary aged 17 and Bill aged 19. "Yes, I'm one of those movie actors," says Rogers, "but I'm an exceptional movie actor. I have been married twenty years and I've got the same wife I started out with."

Mrs. Will Rogers is just the sort of woman that every good mother hopes her son will marry. She loves small-town life, her tastes are simple, yet she has the charm and the culture that are brought by wide travel. She is keenly interested in everything—except sham and pretense and humbug.

Rogers has insisted many times that people come out to his ranch to see him and when they go away, they remember only his wife.

Will reads his wife everything he writes, and tells her the plots of his pictures and tries the lines out on her. Mrs. Rogers modestly disclaims all credit for any superior humor or insight. She explains that if she doesn't understand some reference to politics, Will changes it until she does. If she doesn't think a sequence is funny, he throws it out.

Rogers is the ideal type of father, the sort of a man who takes an unfeigned interest in the mental and physical growth of his children. But there is a Spartan streak in him that guides the recreations of his offspring into the more robust sports. No pingpong or croquet playing for them. Each of the young Rogers, as soon as he was able to toddle about, was placed astride a horse and taught to ride.

And the ex-cowboy practices his doctrines himself. Recently during a hotly contested polo game, Rogers was unhorsed and a bone in his right ankle was splintered. One of his Fox pictures was in production at the time and although the director insisted on suspending work until the star's injury was healed, the humorist waved him aside and continued acting every day quite the same as ever with his ankle in a plaster cast. He must have suffered great pain but his manner never betrayed it. When well-wishers sympathized, he merely grinned and explained that if he were to stop work for the mere matter of a broken ankle, the boys down in Oklahoma would think that he was becoming effeminate.

CENTENARY OF AN IDEA

This year marks the 100th anniversary of an incident which led to the invention of the telegraph, although it was not until four years later that a workable instrument was produced.

On October 1, 1832, Samuel F. B. Morse, an American painter who had been studying the old masters in Europe, sailed from Havre, France, for New York. On the voyage he discussed with fellow passengers the properties of the electro-magnet and the famous discovery of electro-magnetic induction by Faraday the year before.

As a result, he got the idea that signals might be transmitted by means of electric sparks, and while still on shipboard he made rough drafts of the necessary apparatus, which he showed to his companions. It was not until 1836, however, that he completed an instrument that would work.

After many discouragements he finally succeeded in getting the government to build a telegraph line between Baltimore and Washington, which was used for the first time on May 24, 1844, to send the now historic message, "What hath God wrought?" From that time on the spread of telegraph lines was rapid, and Morse was acclaimed by the world as a benefactor of mankind.

He received the highest honors from foreign countries as well as his own, and in 1858 ten European nations joined in an appropriation of $80,000 in recognition of the benefits conferred by his invention.

Morse died April 2, 1872, in New York, where a bronze statue in his honor was erected in Central Park.

PROSPERITY ALWAYS RETURNS

During the past few weeks there has been a new spirit of optimism along the economic front. It is not an optimism of the "prosperity is just around the corner" variety. It is instead, well grounded in fact.

The seasonal influences have been favorable. Commodity prices have shown a steady upward tendency. Stocks of goods of all kinds are rapidly becoming depleted, necessitating new buying. The outward flow of gold has been checked and reversed. And, finally, conditions abroad have definitely improved.

Best of all, is the feeling of confidence that is growing in the public mind. There can be no recovery without that. And when, along with it, the economic indicators point the right way, we can look forward with a feeling of hopefulness.

HANDWRITING

By WILLIAM SCHOFF

Of all the fool things for a person to pride himself on, illegible handwriting, or that practically illegible, is the silliest. Immediately I do hear the exponents of Spencerian Script and fifty-degree slant come a-running to my support. They weep aloud, so glad are they to find someone ready to enlist in the war against awful writing.

And I let them surge round about me, with shouts and huzzahs, praising me to the skies and trying to get a cash contribution. Their lusty cheers enshroud me, but I am unmoved. They surge in vain. For, I throw into the air a snatch of magic powder, and I breathe an Abracadabra and vanish mysteriously, to appear in the camp of the enemy, ready to support the cause of Write the Way You Darn Well Please and See If I Care.

Perhaps I wouldn't have the intestinal fortitude to dare write an epic a-praising bad handwriting, such as this is aimed to be, were my own handwriting not bad. I write with sympathy, and with the hope of lending strength to those other people who take a pardonable pride in their pen scratches.

At some kind of a banquet last spring—it was a D.A.R. or G.A.R. affair, or something with awe-inspiring initials—President Hoover had been prevailed upon to send a longhand greeting. It was no doubt the sort of concave that he had been invited to receive Mimeographed Presidential Greeting Form 46w for Banquets, Teas, etc. Anyhow, the president sent the greeting. And, when the time arrived for the message to be read, there were fanfares of trumpets, ruffles of drums, and clanging of gongs.

What a fix! Now, luckily, it happened that Mrs. Hoover was seated contiguous to the perimeter of the banquet table, and she saw the anguish of the chairman, and, knowing whose message was to be read, kindly offered to translate it.

When the Message of Greeting was thrust at her she was most likely to be abberogated as the other who had tried to decipher it. But with great and unusual presence of mind, upholding the dignity of the president (who was at that moment home taking a bath), she read, or made out to read, the Message. Cheers!

No more, at least. The first is that the president had been dawning a picture of a rough, stormy sea when the Demander of Greeting entered the office. It is possible that the president, eager to get rid of the pest, unthinkingly handed out his work of art, the rough and stormy seascape just completed.

The second possibility is that the president had been jotting down his innermost thoughts in Arabic. Or perhaps it was a greeting written in Arabic. The Arabic language when written is a kind of a jumble with lightheous. Maybe the First Lady could read Arabic and maybe she couldn't; but she had presence of mind.

This whole story can be maltreated into an argument in favor of bad writing. When a typewriter is not available, and you are forced to send your messages in illegible longhand, the recipient, finding it undecipherable, will adjudge you to be president of the United States!

Suppose you were a prisoner of the practically heartless Galkwar of Baroda, and you were forced to send your messages in illegible longhand. And suppose one fine morning a note was received by the jailer, a note from the headquarters of the Galkwar, in the Galkwar's own handwriting, to the effect that you were to be set free.

You would get you home with haste, and you would show elation for fear the edict might be countermanded, and afraid to show sorrow, unfeeling or, for fear of reincarceration.

The next morn, the Galkwar of Baroda, in all his pristine splendor comes gliding forth from his place of residence, comes a-glittering to the jailhouse, preceded by a mass of eunuchs and funkies. With important mien, strides he to the warden and says: "Forsooth, churl, lettest thou me see the head of yon traitor that I commanded thee to hack off yesterday."

And the warden answers him, "Methought thou saidest to set yon infidel free."

And the Galkwar of Baroda waxes wrathful and demands, through clenched fists, "Couldst thou read the Royal Handwriting, 'Sever apart from the body of the infidel his head'?"

Beginning to feel a slit in his own esophagus, but sticking relentlessly to the apparent truth, the warden says, "Methought the message said (Quote) 'Let the stiff go free, signed, the Galkwar' (Unquote)."

The Galkwar with outraged dignity commands the warden to be put to death and the episode is ended.

Now this would seem to be an argument for good writing. We, however, don't make it out that way. If you look at it from the warden's viewpoint, it is. But look at it from your own; a fleeing from the jailhouse and death, look at it, and give thanks that the Galkwar wrote illegibly. As a matter of fact, "Sever apart from the body of the infidel his head" and "Let the stiff go free" signed, the Galkwar, is a lot considerably alike.

Graphologists are people who contend they can read character in handwriting, be it on the wall, or elsewhere. I shall now give a few hints to the amateur graphologist:

If the writing slants equally at an angle of sixty degrees from the horizontal, or forty-five degrees, and the letters are all perfect and uniformly formed, then the writer is a sissy. And if the letters slant and do not slant from perpendicular to oblique to horizontal—Tinker to Evers to Chance—and if the pressure is unevenly applied, and the letters formed in ways strange and awful to behold, then the writer is not a sissy.

Lack of uniformity in writing can be a virtue rather than a fault. You can make in many different ways letters such as e, a, G, I, p, r, t, and W, and so forth. It is a virtue in that you can sign your name in a peculiar way, making it look fluently natural to do so, on an important document, or incriminating love-letter. And then, when the case pops up in court, if it does, you can outmaneuver and outfox the handwriting experts by signing your name in another way, perhaps making small e's look like capital ones. Keep in practice writing your name and other things backward, lefthand, upsidown, and you will never rue the day you were born. The possibilities are infinite.

STATE APPROVES PLANS FOR BYPASS

N. J. Highway Commission Notifies Burlington Freeholders New Road Has Been Sanctioned

The State Highway Commission, of Trenton, notified the Burlington County Board of Freeholders at its meeting last Friday of its approval of the plans and specifications for the building of the by-pass from the Mount Holly-Burlington road via Morris street and Mott avenue, to the Burlington-Bristol bridge approach, and the work will be done by county forces under the direction of County Supervisor Lewis A. Permission was given the Public Service Gas and Electric Co. to erect 15 poles on Chester avenue, Moorestown, at its intersection with the New Albany, and Tom Brown roads.

The members of the board of freeholders received an invitation to attend the eighteenth annual convention of the New Jersey State League of Municipalities, to be held at the Berkley-Carter Hotel at Asbury Park on October 6 and 7.

The Snyder Engineering Company, of Elizabeth, which received the contract for constructing the new Hainesport bridge, was expected to start operations on Monday, the 26th, according to the county engineer.

Bills from the various county departments were ordered paid as follows: Finance, $2,927.07; roads, $24,215.55; bridges, $1,693.28; buildings, $8,012.86; public affairs, $5,632.26; making a total of $43,466.02.

MOTHER ENGLAND—MUDDLING THROUGH

Here is one of my more worthy ambitions — take it and swallow hard! If I, as an average American, have to live through as long a period of almost continuous hard times as the average Britisher has—ever since the start of the World War!—then I hope that I shall have something of the courage and clear-headedness and optimism that the average Britisher has had and has today! And that is no idle feat in this world of ours.

Neither is it any idle flattery for Mr. John Bull. He and his people deserve the credit for keeping their heads and pulling in their belts under far from favorable conditions. Last year's crisis is perhaps the best example. A similar situation in Germany ten years before was the start of a panic that wiped out the nation's savings and left the nation destitute.

When Britain went off gold last July it was a blow that no one in the country was prepared for. Not even the Labor Cabinet members had any idea that MacDonald and Snowden contemplated a Coalition Cabinet and such a drastic policy. But when it came and they saw a "save yourself" policy would have wrecked every bank in England—what happened? The whole nation stood by, took the stiffest kind of taxation, and whatever else their leaders said was necessary, and the sinking ship was righted.

Ever since that crisis every Britisher has known that his nation was GOING to pull through! They realize that it will take time and that other emergency measures may have to be passed. The cuts in the unemployment insurance and the conversion of war loans are perhaps the best examples. But they KNOW the nation is going to pull through. And they feel remarkably sure of the way their recovery is going to come about. And that's a surprise!

It is even more surprising when we discover that of the two essential paths which they expect to achieve recovery, NEITHER has yet become an obvious part of the government policy! Briefly, those two paths are towards increasing international cooperation and increasing socialization. True, the present Nationalist Tory government won a crushing victory in last year's elections on the very reverse of these two principles. And they are almost certain of staying in power and NOT thoroughly endorsing those principles for four years. But that doesn't begin to tell the whole story.

To complete the picture, remember this! First, that election was won by a patriotic stampede to the flag at the distress call of the Nation. Second, that election was won over the votes of 7,000,000 trade unionists who stood by their socialist principles in spite of "betrayal" by their leaders and the excessive flag-waving. And third, since that election, literally millions have caught their breath after the stampede, evaluated the futility of the tariff and "Buy British" campaigns, and withdrawn their Nationalist support. Every by-election during the past year has shown this remarkable shift of opinion, and to ignore it would be to keep yourself a solid year behind the times!

But it is not just negative withdrawal of support or discouragement. It is positive hope and optimism. They KNOW that Britain has a future and they are going to help build it—through international cooperation and socialism! Would that we had their hope and optimism!

(Next Week: How they plan to build it!)

Editorial Comment

Building and Loan Stability

Record of Building and Loan operations in the United States last year, as presented in the annual reports at the recent convention held at French Lick, Indiana, on September 1, 2 and 3, deserve the eye and ear of anyone who has entertained any doubts as to the stability of this plan of systematic saving and its vital purpose of helping home-owning.

In a year of the most severe test for every phase of business and finance, Building and Loan assets in 1931 experienced a loss of but 26 of one per cent. Total assets are more than $8,500,000,000, of which 85 per cent. is in mortgage loans. And last year $900,000,000 of mortgage loans were made, compared with $1,300,000,000 the previous year, a decrease of only a little over 30 per cent. Membership dropped 1,000,000 but there remain 11,500,000 shareholders in Building and Loan Associations.

Pennsylvania and Ohio were the hardest hit, but 18 state groups increased their assets. Whatever weakness may have developed was not in the Building and Loan plan or system, but was due to causes which were local in the sense that nationwide depression was aggravated by local conditions. The Building and Loan plan in the United States still remains, after a test of extraordinary severity, the world's greatest demonstration of the possibility of cooperative enterprise. — Evening Bulletin, Philadelphia.

PALMYRA P. T. A. HEARS ADDRESS

Miss Coward, Mrs. Lord and Miss Edson Entertain Members

The Palmyra Parent-Teacher Association held its first meeting of the season Tuesday evening, with Mrs. J. C. Mallory, the newly-elected president, presiding.

Four very splendid solos were rendered by Miss Mary Coward, who was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. John Lord.

Miss Adeline Edson, reader, who is very well known in this section, gave three excellent readings, which were greatly enjoyed by the large audience.

Prof. C. F. Dengler, supervising principal of the Palmyra schools, was the guest speaker of the evening. His topic was "19 Ways of Being a Bad Parent."

Prof. Dengler's address was very well received by all parents in attendance and each and every one present profited by his remarks. He stressed the fact that the every-day experiences of our children are guided by the parents.

Some of the points particularly mentioned by the supervisor were: 1. Neglect to rear child hygienically—give him his own way; food preferences, bed time, etc.

2. Failure to surround him with stimulating environment.

3. Deceive child and destroy his trust in you.

4. Failure to keep your promises you make him.

5. Demand more than can reasonably be expected. Discouragement results, and abilities are not used.

Prof. Dengler stressed many other ways of being a bad parent.

Each month the room having the largest number of parents in attendance at the P.T.A. meeting will receive a book, plant, or other reward, which will be chosen by the teacher of the room. Parents are urged to be present at these meetings and help with the award.

P.T.A. dues are now due and payable to the association. This month marks the beginning of a new membership year and everyone is urged to join.

RALLY DAY AT M. E. CHURCH

"Out of the Fog" Will be Presented on Sunday Evening

Sunday will be Rally Day at the Palmyra Epworth Methodist Episcopal Church. The Church School promotion took place last Sunday and those graduated will start work in their new departments. A fine start has already been made toward a record year.

At the morning service, eleven o'clock, installation of the Sunday School officers and teachers will be held in connection with the Communion Service.

The evening program at 7:45 o'clock will be a Rally Day service entitled "Out of the Fog." This service is built about a one-act play by the same title. It is the story of a typical home with father, mother and two boys, giving their attitude toward the problems of the home, the church, and pleasure.

Well-meaning parents thinking they are doing all that is necessary to train their boys by comradeship, find that under cover of a fog they have made many mistakes. And though it has a happy ending it will make one ask serious questions about our own children.

The cast is as follows: Harry Jones, Herbert Baugh; Mrs. Jones, Miss Carrie Bates; John and Freddy, their two sons, Robert Guest and Robert Mallory; the Rev. Charles Thompson, Rev. Pimm; Mr. Gordon, a peddler of neckties, Douglas Kersey; John, the janitor, Harry Clover; a police officer, George Sharp.

The auxiliary has planned an open meeting to be held on October 12 at 2:30 p. m. in the Y.M.C.A. building, Broad street and Garfield avenue, Palmyra.

All interested ladies are cordially invited to be present at that time.

PALMYRA TAXPAYERS PLAN ORGANIZATION

Preliminary Meeting Held Tuesday Evening for Organization of Local Branch

A preliminary meeting for the formation of a Palmyra local unit of the State Taxpayers' Association was held in the fire house Tuesday evening, with George M. Durgin presiding.

Charles Coles, of Mount Holly, explained the aims and principles of the association. It is non-political and non-partisan, he declared, seeking to accomplish tax reduction by co-operating with local, county and state officials.

More than $100,000 already has been saved this year in Burlington county through the county association. It was decided to appoint a nominating committee and call a further meeting, the time and place of which will be announced later.

MRS. GEO. LUCE IS NEW PRESIDENT

Impressive Ceremony Marks Installation of Legion Auxiliary Officers

A very impressive ceremony took place at the Legion Home, Wednesday night, September 21, when Miss Sara Shreve, Burlington County American Legion Auxiliary president, installed the officers of Palmyra Unit No. 156.

The following took the oath of office: President, Mrs. George W. Luce; first vice-president, Mrs. Maurice Sandoz; second vice-president, Mrs. A. H. Lippincott; secretary, Mrs. George B. Weigand; treasurer, Miss Mary Prisco; historian, Mrs. Charles King; chaplain, Mrs. Sam Tomar; sergeant-at-arms, Mrs. Sam Tomar.

Miss Shreve and Miss Minnie Ivins, the New Jersey Department president, congratulated the officers, and Mrs. George Luce took the chair.

Mrs. Luce appointed her committees as follows:

Membership: Mrs. Raymond Fichter, Mrs. Ed. Faunce, Child Welfare, Rehabilitation—Mrs. A. Lippincott, Fidac—Mrs. H. H. D'Autrechy, Trophies and Awards—Mrs. Elva King, Sick—Mrs. Sam Tomar, Americanism—Mrs. M. Sandoz, Mrs. A. H. Lippincott, Music—Mrs. Geo. B. Weigand, House, Miss Mary Prisco, Mrs. M. King, Mrs. M. Richter, Legislation—Mr. Robert Wright, Unit Activities and Community Service—Mrs. George Luce, Publicity—Mrs. Geo. B. Weigand.

Mrs. Charles King, trophies and awards chairman, presented the outgoing president, Mrs. Mary King, with a past president's pin.

Miss Shreve thanked the unit on cooperating with the county and has every good hope of securing cooperation for the coming year.

Miss Minnie Ivins, state president, brought back from the national convention of the American Legion and Auxiliary at Portland, Oregon, a very interesting report about membership.

The new membership chairman, Mrs. Raymond Fichter, was especially interested in the report and has already opened the membership drive.

For the next meeting night of the Auxiliary, which will be October 19, the members are planning a very interesting covered dish supper. Each person is to bring 25 cents and a covered dish to the Legion Home. Covers will be removed from the dishes at 6:30. Many surprises are being planned for this occasion by the different members.

The following year has promise of enthusiastic interest for all and a new dedication to service.

ARTISANS' SHOW OPEN TO PUBLIC

Vaudeville Program to be Presented in High School Saturday

There seems to be a doubt in the minds of some people, as to the type of show to be given by the Artisans at the Palmyra High School, Saturday night, October 1.

It will be a vaudeville show and the talent is strictly professional. Every act ranks high in the profession in its respective specialty. The program will be well balanced and enjoyable to everyone.

While the selling of tickets has been primarily held to members of the Order, any person, member or not, who wishes to see a star vaudeville show for a nominal sum is perfectly welcome to attend. The proceeds will be turned over to the Artisans welfare fund to aid needy members.

General admission is 35 cents, while reserved seats are 50 cents and from the advance sale of tickets it looks as though the artists will play to a capacity house.

NEW IDEAS IN HOME MAKING

Public Service Electric and Gas Company Home Economics Department

PEACHES

NEXT to the apple, the peach is one of the most versatile of fruits and many are the ways of using it—from the delicious pickled peach, made to serve with meats, to the luscious peach pie.

No doubt, sliced peaches and cream will always be the most generally liked of the peach desserts, but a baked or steamed peach pudding, a peach shortcake or a perfect peach pie will be almost as popular.

Following are recipes including ways of using peaches:

Peach Conserve

15 peaches 3½ cups sugar
1 pint can pineapple 1 cup blanched almonds

Wash and chop peaches; chop pineapple and add to chopped peaches with sugar; let stand one hour. Cook slowly for forty-five minutes; then add almonds and cook ten minutes longer to 220 degrees. Turn into sterilized glasses or jars and when cool cover with melted paraffin.

Pickled Peaches

5 lbs. peaches 1 tsp. allspice, whole peeled, cored and quartered 1 tsp. cinnamon, whole 3 lbs. sugar 1 tsp. cloves
1 pt. vinegar or less

Peel peaches and put into boiling vinegar and sugar. Bring to a boil again and cook until peaches are a rich brown color. Add spices tied in a muslin bag when syrup begins to boil. Put into jars, seal while hot.

Baked Peach Pudding

1 cup granulated 2 tsp. baking sugar powder
¼ cup butter 1 egg, beaten

Y. M. C. A. BRIEFS

CORPS OF LEADERS

The Young Men's Christian Association has once again opened its building at the corner of Broad and Garfield avenues, Palmyra, for the boys of Riverton and Palmyra. The main feature of the work carried on by this organization is the group work for boys, where boys meet once a week under the trained leadership of public spirited men who realize the needs of boys in our community.

HIGH SCHOOL CLUBS

Monday evening the Frosh, the green boys of the High School, met with George Long, their leader, and made plans for their new group this coming year. Many of these boys have been members of the "Y" for more than four years. At the same time the Sophomore Hi-Y was meeting in the downstairs room at the "Y." Raymond Lamont is the adult advisor to this group.

The Junior Hi-Y will share the building with the Senior Hi-Y Club meeting on this Thursday night. Bruce Beahm will meet with the Juniors while the Seniors are rejoicing over the return of Dewees Showell as their leader.

Other men who will lead groups are as follows: Black Hawk, E. N. Cooper; Yankee, John Rank; Lone Eagles, Kenneth Snow; Friendly Indians, Lloyd Griscom and Arthur Burns. Edson Hicks will meet with groups.

BOYS ORGANIZED

The Carter T. Woodson, the young colored boys, met in their headquarters in West Palmyra, with their leader, Robert Still. Secretary Wilton E. Mount met with these 20 boys and outlined some of the plans for the group season. These boys were delighted by a short visit by Charles A. Delts, who promised some night to tell them the story of engraving and printing, illustrating his talk with samples of the work. As soon as Medford lifts the quarantine the boys are looking forward to a trip to Camp Ockanickon.

The Older Boys Group will meet at its regular place on Tuesday of next week. This group is for fellows over 14 and was a profitable evening for the boys under the leadership of Preston Stanford, of Five Points.

MEMBERSHIP

Any boy over nine years of age is welcome to become a member of the local Association. Membership activity is primarily handled in group work, but there will be special trips, such as the football trips, very soon; Rutgers day in the spring for high school fellows; monthly swims in the Moorestown pool and the like. The "Y" charges fifty cents for the membership card. Arrangements must be made with the secretary to pay this before October 15. The use of the lot and all equipment will be restricted to boys who are members of the Association. However, a fee shall not keep any boy from having the opportunity of spending his time in a profitable manner, and fellows feeling that they cannot pay the half dollar are asked to discuss the matter at once with Mr. Mount.

QUOIT TOURNAMENT

There will be a special quoit tournament for boys over the age of 10 or in the fifth to the eighth grades. To participate you must sign up before Saturday of this week. Games will start on Monday after school. There will be five sets of quoits available, so matches can be played in a short time. Prizes will be awarded to the first three places. Don't forget to sign up. This tournament will be open to

¾ cup milk ¾ cup brown sugar
1½ cups flour 6 tbs. butter
1 tsp. vanilla

Cream the butter and the granulated sugar thoroughly. Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with the milk. Add the egg which has been beaten thoroughly and the vanilla. Mix the six tablespoons of butter and pour into the bottom of a deep baking dish. Sprinkle the brown sugar over it and slice the peaches onto it. Pour over it the batter and bake at 350 degrees for one hour. Turn out onto a large platter. Serve slightly chilled garnished with whipped cream.

Steamed Peach Pudding

2 cups flour 2 tbs. butter
4 tsp. baking ¼ cup milk powder
½ tsp. salt 5 peaches, sliced
1 tsp. nutmeg 2 tbs. sugar

Mix and sift dry ingredients; cut in the butter and add milk to make a soft dough. Roll out to one-third inch thickness, cover with sliced peaches. Sprinkle peaches with mixture of sugar and nutmeg. Roll like a jelly roll. Put into steamer and cover tightly. Steam for one hour and a half.

Peach Pie

3 cups sliced 2 tbs. minuts peaches
1 cup sugar 1 tbs. lemon juice

Pastry
Mix sugar and minuts together. Line a pie tin with pastry and cover bottom with a layer of sliced peaches. Sprinkle one-half sugar mixture over peaches. Cover with remaining peaches and top with rest of sugar mixture. Cover with top crust and bake at 425 degrees for fifteen minutes and at 350 degrees for thirty minutes.

any boy whether a member of the "Y" or not.

RUBBER TIRES ON R. R.

New Style Coach Used on Camden-Mount Holly Line

HOW TO CHEAT!

By William E. Schopp

The World Series which now transpires in our bounteous midst gives an excuse for composing an epic on the subject of "How to Cheat at Baseball." If this opportunity were not grasped by a firm, firm grip, made possible by my strong and muscular thumbs, to write on baseball would be out of place until the gentle zephyrs of Spring, Noble Spring waft upward on the transparent air the aroma of burning feathers, than which there is no other smell sweeter.

It is unthinkingly exasperating for a manager of a baseball team to see his heaviest hitter pop-up in a pinch. It is revolting. While there is no remedy for this popping-up complex, there is a way to make the popper-upper safe at first, second, third, or home, depending on his position when the ball reaches the ground.

We will suppose that you are a manager. This is a safe assumption, since no one but a manager, or a second-guesser who had enough experience to make him eligible for management, would read this far.

The first step in concocting the anti-popping remedy is catching a mole. Mole is a subterranean creature, wherefore it is sometimes not easy to share one alive and in full possession of all senses. The simplest way I have yet found of catching a mole is to sprinkle salt on his tail. In doing this, however, great care must be exercised so as not to mistake the head of the mole for his tail. Unthinking mortals have been known to sprinkle salt in the mole's eyes, blinding him for life. There is no excuse for this: it is frowned upon by the authorities. Knowing that the authorities frown, some moles deliberately discard their tails and grow two heads. If you should see a mole who has two heads, let him go: reward his propensity by not molesting his carefree, joyous life. We should encourage reasoning in the lower animals.

After you catch the mole, you must train him diligently. Train him to go whence he is ordered. I shall now explain why this is necessary. Suppose you, as we have been supposing all along, are the manager of a baseball team. That team is at bat. The score, if any, is tied into a double-bowlie-half-hitch-sheep's-granny knot. The bases are inhabited as densely as the law permits. Two are out. The heaviest slugger of the team is up. He cuts anxiously at the first ball and pops it up. Vexations! All four runs have crossed the pentagonal slab known as the plate before the ball ceases its upward voyage and commences to descend in the general direction of the opposing first baseman who has bivouacked at that point in the orbit of the sphere where it should meet the hard, cold ground. If he catches it, the runs will not count. It is in a situation such as this that the mole comes into his own.

Removing the loving creature from your hip pocket, you thrust him into an especially excavated hole in the ground, first muttering into his little pink ear this message:

"Tunnel thy way to Firstbaseman Smirkbinder and knock him off his pins, causing him to drop you pop fly and let the runs score, winning the game for us, hooray!"

If the mole has been trained skillfully, he will run his tunnel or mole hill—as some call it—into Firstbaseman Smirkbinder with such force as to make him drop the ball. A well-trained mole will do this little act without thought of any pay or pecuniary remuneration. Often, too, well-trained moles will burrow under the opposing player of his own (the mole's) free will and volition. Such moles as these, however, are rare.

It is often irksome to the manager of a defensive team to see easy grounders trickle through his infielders. The remedy for this is simple in conception, but often difficult in execution. A wall about eight feet in positive altitude should be constructed in back of the infield. Any grounder that, say, the shortstop misses will hit the wall and bounce back into his hands, maybe. He can sometimes throw the runner out. Sometimes, however, the balls hit the wall and bounce askew in regard to the infielder. Accordingly, it is best to notify the umpires of a ground rule to the effect that balls bouncing from the wall will be considered outs.

When the home team comes to bat, the wall can be slyly lower and a tissue paper one substituted. Grounders sift through tissue paper like the Nelly Bly does through Palmyra, N. J.

"Pitcher, sometimes do not have their 'stiff' with them, having left it home under the dining room rug; wherefore, they are pounded unmercifully. With a little device that I have invented, a pitcher can throw such a curve! All that is necessary is a piece of glass tubing with an internal diameter a little more than the external diameter of the ball, and long enough to reach from the box to the batter, allowing for such gyrations as can be bent into the length. The pitcher throws through the tube. You can imagine the chagrin of the batter when he sees the ball describe a figure eight in its journey plateward.

Since the sun shining on glass often gives away the whole joke, it is more propitious to use this contraption on rainy days only.

We shall conclude with a few—two, in fact—suggestions on how an umpire can cheat in brushing off the home plate, after Nick Altrock has slid halfway from third base.

A thinking umpire will carry a bottle of hair tonic, rather than a white broom, in his hip pocket. When the plate needs dusting he can then pour some of the lotion on an old bat, then let it grow hair while he waits. The hairy bat will make an ideal plate-cleaning swab. Sometimes, however, players object that they cannot bat with a hairy bat. That is silly. What did they do in the old days when all baseball players wore BEARDS???

Too, an ump might carry a knife in his pocket. With this, when the plate was dusty, he could slit open one of the rabbit tails, allowing the rabbit to escape. There is one chance in ten that Peter, the rabbit, will scud across the plate, dusting it.

This is an excellent way of getting rid of old balls. The empty shells can then be stuffed with lead and sold to the Bolivian Navy to shoot at the Paraguayan, or vice versa.

STATE AID FUND NEAR EXHAUSTION

Additional Money Will be Needed by December 15 or Sooner

"State emergency relief funds, upon which communities containing 85% of New Jersey's population are now wholly or partly dependent for carrying their relief burdens, will be exhausted by December," Chester L. Barnard, State Emergency Relief Director, declared this week.

Under present laws financing of further emergency relief depends either upon completing the proposed sale of Delaware River Bridge bonds or ratification of a diversion of State Highway bonds for relief purposes at the November 8 election.

The State Administration has available for relief purposes after October 1, approximately $4,000,000. "It is probable that these funds will be exhausted by December 15 or sooner," Mr. Barnard stated. "The present situation is one of increasing burden for relief. It is estimated that approximately 1,200,000 persons in this state are affected by unemployment conditions. This figure including 300,000 workers and their dependents.

"In view of the fact that only one-quarter of those affected by unemployment are recipients of public relief," Barnard stated, "and that the resources of the remaining three-quarters are in many cases being rapidly exhausted, it will be evident that the prospect is one of serious difficulty this winter even with the revival of business conditions."

P. O. S. of A. NOTES

The Patriotic Order Sons of America made a notable contribution to the George Washington Bi-Centennial Celebration on September 24, by presenting to the city of Belleville a large granite boulder to mark the site of the battle of Second River between British and American forces in September 1777.

Uniformed degree teams from all parts of the state, the Commandery General, the Patriotic Order of Americans, the Rough Riders and camp members, combined in a colorful, impressive pageant, to carry through a dignified program representing the aims of the organization.

Dedication of the marker was followed by a parade to Washington

Park, Newark, where tribute was paid by placing a large wreath at the base of the Washington statue.

JOE KLECKNER TO WRESTLE MONDAY

Moorestown High Instructor Matched With Rough and Tough Syrian Matman

"Joe" Kleckner, Moorestown High School teacher, will endeavor to make a comeback after his interval several weeks ago with Fred Grubmehl, by taking on Abe Hushy, 265-pound Syrian, in the main event of the last show of the season at Charlie Grip's outdoor wrestling arena, Pensauken, next Monday evening.

Kleckner's opponent is supposed to combine some of the best features of Gentle John, Andy Brown and a so-called bear, which might indicate that the Moorestown high mathematics instructor is slated to meet quite a tough matman.

Sun Jennings, Cherokee brave from Oklahoma, who recently met defeat at the hands of Jim London, takes on Ernie Dusk, bigger and younger brother of Rudy Dusk, in the final.

In the semi-final, of 45 minutes, Grubmehl tangles with Floyd Marshall, giant rough-and-tough-un from the mild Pacific slopes while Camden's pride, Joe Montana, takes on short and mighty Abe Coleman in the main preliminary of 30 minutes.

LAKEVIEW CHIMES IN NEW PROGRAM

Six Public Concerts to be Given by Bernard R. Mausert

The first of a series of six public concerts of sacred and classical music will be given at Lakeview Memorial Park by Bernard R. Mausert, nationally known carillonist, next Sunday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock.

The concerts, surpassing all previous presentations at the carillon tower of the beautiful memorial park, have been specially arranged for carillon chimes by Mr. Mausert, whose original compositions and arrangements of carillon music are recognized as outstanding in the field.

It is expected the series will attract music lovers from far and near because of the convenient location of Lakeview Memorial Park, situated on the Burlington pike a half-mile north of the Riverton-Moorestown road, and because of the unusual facilities for visitors to hear the program due to the remarkable amplification equipment created by experts from the RCA-Victor Company in the memorial park's carillon tower.

Emanating from the tower overlooking the meadow, the mellow tones of the great chimes are as audible from the farthest part of the grounds as they are near at hand, and the thousands who have attended previous concerts, either sitting in cars parked along the winding roads surrounding the tower or listening from the walks of the formal gardens have reported no difficulty in hearing every note. It was learned from Lakeview Memorial Park officials that the perfection of these amplification facilities and tonal qualities is the result of recent improvements made in the carillon tower.

A feature that will appeal strongly to the public is the sheer beauty of the quiet and dignified setting for the concerts, offering a retreat from the clamor and rush of the cities and an opportunity for personal reflection and pleasure under the compelling influence of the masterpieces of sacred and classical music.

RIVERSIDE MAN HURT IN CRASH

Harry Killian Injured as His Automobile Is Hit by Truck

Harry Killian, 34 years old, 208 Washington street, Riverside, suffered three broken ribs, two deep lacerations of the scalp and mild cuts about the face and ears when the Ford coupe he was driving was struck by a soft-drink truck at Bridgeboro and Hartford Westfield, also known as Airport, roads, Moorestown, early Tuesday afternoon. Killian was rushed to Zurburg Hospital, Riverside, where he will be confined for a few days, by Dr. John T. Zurburg and William H. Wright, both of Bridgeboro road.

Harold Y. Mantell, 20 years old, of Main street, Jobstown, driver of the truck which was owned by Kauffmann & Minter, Inc., Jobstown soft drink manufacturers, escaped uninjured.

Both machines were badly damaged. The coupe landed in a field and the truck overturned, striking a pole. Killian was driving on Bridgeboro road while Mantell was headed towards Mount Holly pike on Airport road.

Broken bottles were scattered for forty feet along the Airport road and in the field in which the coupe landed.

Chief of Police John H. Bradshaw, who investigated the crash, gave Mantell a summons to appear before Justice of Peace F. G. Furth in Moorestown town hall next Monday evening, October 3. The Jobstown driver, who is said to have been crossing the intersection at a speed of thirty miles an hour, is charged with reckless driving and failing to stop at a "stop" street.

WEEK OF PRAYER IN ALL CHURCHES

Services Will be Held Each Night for One Week

In view of the grave difficulties confronting the nation and the world, the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America, through the Commission on Evangelism, has proposed observance by the churches of a special period of penitence and prayer. Throughout the nation churches of the various denominations will cooperate in many communities during the coming week.

The churches of Palmyra and Riverton through the ministerium are working together to make these meetings a success. The services will be held in different churches each night with a brief address by one of the ministers, culminating in a Union Communion Service Saturday evening. The addresses will be very brief and most of the time will be given over to meditation and prayer and heart-searching.

The church and the nation face a grave and serious situation. There is on every hand physical suffering. This condition has long continued and no one can point the way of escape. Our best men are powerless before the devastating effects of commercial distrust and moral confusion. While we long for the return of prosperity, we pray rather for the correction of those causes of distress without which prosperity may prove to be but a blessing.

Within the church there is urgent desire for a religious awakening. On every hand thoughtful Christians feel that the root of our trouble is moral and spiritual. All laws are moral laws, and while we cannot trace their working, of one thing we are sure, that out of the past has come the present. We reap what we sow.

We have worshipped at the shrines of false gods—the gods of money, money, things; the false god of power, production, business; the false god of nationalism, individualism, social injustice; the false god of pleasure, amusement, disregard for things sacred; the false god of success, high living, careless thinking; the false god of magic, reaping where we had not sowed, profiting where we had not toiled.

The church dares not stand aside and whisper peace to itself or the nation where there is no peace, and spiritual. All laws are moral laws, and while we cannot trace their working, of one thing we are sure, that out of the past has come the present. We reap what we sow.

We therefore call upon the people of Palmyra and Riverton to give themselves by an act of will, personally and corporately, in penitence and prayer to Almighty God. And in order to secure the spirit of fellowship in united intercession, we set apart the week beginning October 2, 1932, as a time when pastors and people shall search their hearts and conduct, and by personal dedication discover for themselves and for the national way to peace and power.

The public services will be held at eight o'clock according to the following schedule:

Monday: Methodist Church, Rev. C. T. Bates to speak;
Tuesday: Baptist Church, Rev. H. L. Creager to speak;
Wednesday: Moravian Church, Rev. Ira S. Pimm to speak;
Thursday: Lutheran Church, Rev. George Lockett to speak;
Friday: Presbyterian Church, Rev. A. J. Harke to speak;
Saturday: Methodist Church, Holy Communion.
No offering will be taken at any of these services.
