Public Questions

Voters throughout the state will ballot on three questions.

The questions are repeal or retention of the Hobart state prohibition enforcement act, proposed reduction of an $83,000,000 issue of state highway bonds to $63,000,000, and proposed issuance of $20,000,000 worth of bonds for relief of the unemployed and their dependents.

for relief of the unemployed and then dependents.

The state questions to be voted on "Yes." or "No" to the right of the question on each ballot follow:

1. The Hobart Prohibition Enforcement Act. Shall the act entitled "An act concerning intoxicating liquor used or to be used for beverage purposes," passed March seventeenth, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-two, commonly known as the Hobart Prohibition Enforcement Act, be repealed? Approved June 10, 1932.

Republicans who have become discouraged, and are prone to blame President Hoover and the administration for their distress; those who feel that "things can't be any worse, and we might as well try a change," and those who "voted for Hoover in 1928, but will never do it again," are asked, on the eve of the most momentous election in the history of our country, to give careful consideration to the following facts:

President Hoover has met unprecedented conditions-worldwide-with courage, broad vision, and new methods developed by him to cope with the situation.

In steering the Ship of State in this uncharted sea, mistakes have been inevitable, but these mistakes have been manfully recognized and will be remedied.

The only folks who make no mistakes are those who do nothing. The administration has done the best it could with a hostile House of Representatives, and, in the face of heartbreaking stubbornness and stupidity, Hoover stuck doggedly to his hostile House of Representatives, and, in the face of heartbreakguns and finally by sheer force of character and personality, forced through the sane and remedial plans and relief measures which are now functioning and bringing about a return to prosperity.

President Hoover stood between this country and onslaughts from abroad, and preserved the standard of value of the American dollar by defeating the Democratic plan of issuing fiat

The Democrats have been loud in their denunciation of the administration of President Hoover, but have produced nothing constructive, either in the way of legislation during the crisis, or plans for the future, as far as has been revealed by their campaign pronouncements. It is easy enough to find fault, but the most effective criticism is to produce a better plan. This the Democrats have not done.

Compare conditions in the United States and in Europe For every man out of work in this country, eight are employed. In England, for every unemployed man, only three are working. In the United States we have been almost entirely free from acts of violence, largely, if not wholly, because President Hoover called into conference the leaders of industry and secured from them the promise of continued employment at the wage then prevailing. This they carried out until conditions made it impossible to continue on that basis and remain in business. By that time the cost of the necessities of life had been lowered so that the reduction in wages, when it did come, was not as harmful as it would have been earlier.

From the leaders of labor President Hoover secured an agreement not to engage in strikes and lockouts during the degreement for the leaders of labor president documents. The secured an agreement not to engage in strikes and lockouts during the degree able leadership of President Hoover.

Mr. Coale introduced Charles R. Mr. Coale introduced Charles Hoover called into conference the leaders of industry and secured agreement not to engage in strikes and lockouts during the de-years pression. Realizing the gravity of the situation, labor took up its part of the battle loyally and patriotically, in the same fine spirit of cooperation as was shown by the industrial captains.

Some uncertainty is reported as to whether persons who did not vote in the primary can vote at the general election Tuesday. The answer is yes. All that is necessary is for a person to be properly registered with the election board of his district and registration can be made on election day at the polling place if the necessary legal requirements are met. It is necessary for a voter to be 21 years old or more, to have lived in the state for one year and in the ecounty five months. If the voter has recently moved from one election district to another the transfer of registration can be made on election day. Don't lose your yete. lection day. Don't lose your vote.

Dr. Marcus W. Newcomb, candidate for reelection to the House of Assembly, told of the introduction by the Democrats last winter of three bills, which, if they had been passed, would have resulted in a loss of $327,000 to Burlington county. One bill would have cut the appropriation for state aid for township roads from $100,000 to $50,000; another would have removed the 35,000 for aid in the county road work for two or three years. The speaker declared that these were not true economy measures, but an attempt to take this money from the southern counties and give it to counties in the northern part of the state. The bills were passed by the Democratic House of Assembly, but defeated in the Senate. He stressed the necessity for keeping the Senate in Republican hands. Governor Larson, Governor Moore's Republican predecessor, had fathered bills which would have saved the state three million dilars, declared Dr. Newcomb, but the Democrats killed them.

and the Beach Haven Exchange Club sent a communication requesting that some action be taken toward remedying the condition of the narrow end of the Burlington county road so that it would meet the wider improved Route S-40 squarely and not with a curve, as at present is the case. It was suggested that warning lights be placed at that point and a white line painted in the middle of the road. The matter was referred to the road department. Republicans, Democrats and Social-ists, all agree that the unemployed must be cared for. Some few folks oppose this bond issue, saying that the $20,000,000 should be obtained by low-ering costs of government.

This is a laudable objective and one everyone hopes may be in time accomplished, but it cannot be accomplished quickly enough to meet this winter's needs, hence, the bond issue is vitally necessary. The Board of Welfare urges you to vote for it.

Twenty-two Guernsey heifers of the finest quality obtainable have been purchased by the board of freeholders to replace the Hoistein cows on the county farm at New Lisbon.

This report was made by Freeholder J. Lloyd Wright, who stated that for some time the freeholders had been considering the improvement of the herd of cows at the county farm and investigations have been made by him and Director Howard Russ regarding the price asked in New Jersey, Pennsylvania, New York and other states, and they ascertained that pure-bred, registered Guernsey cattle could be purchased in Burlington county at a much lower figure than elsewhere.

The new stock was purchased from the Burlington County Trust Company at Moorestown at an average of about $56 a head. None of the heifers purchased is over 20 months old. The Holsteins will be sold.

A resolution by Charles R. Stout gave the Public Service permission to creet a pole at Pine and Hulme streets, Mount Holly.

zens to Vote "Yes" on $20,000,000 Bond Issue

The Palmyra Welfare Board has achieved a unique solution of the fuel problem for the entire winter, by acquiring twenty-eight acres of standing timber between Medford and Taunton.

The unemployed in the town are cutting the timber. The purchase helps materially in making every welfare dollar do its utmost.

The welfare urges everyone to vote "Yes" on the $20,000,000 Relief Bond Issue. This is a proposal to reduce the authorized highway bonds and in place authorized $20,000,000 bond issues to meet the state's share of the Emergency Relief Expenditures.

Republicans, Democrats and Socialists, all agree that the unemployed must be cared for. Some few folks oppose this bond issue, saying that the $20,000,000 should be obtained by lowering costs of government.

You Don't Order Electricity Like Food

- You Push a Button and There It Is

Public Service has reduced its rates for electricity in the home six times since 1922. Since January 1, 1929 rate reductions have saved our customers more than $3,000,000 per year.

Unlike other commodities used in the home, electric service is available whenever and in whatever quantities you wish to use it.

You don't have to order more electricity for tomorrow as you would milk. You don't have to get a sufficient quantity to last over the weekend as you do food. Nor do you have to store a supply as you do coal.

Electricity is ready—at all times and in any amount—to be used. You push a button and it goes to work.

And electricity in amounts adequate for use in the average home costs only a FEW CENTS A DAY.

A Platform of Honest, Value for Value, Reliable Service to Its Constituents.

POWERS DENIES MARSHALL CHARGE

Attack on Republican Candidate Characterized as "Rotten Politics"

Replying to the charges of Prosecutor Erwin E. Marshall's "dastardly in-sinuation" statement, D. Lane Powers, Republican candida's for Congress from the Fourth District, which in-ties, called the attack "rotten polities."

Powers said that if Marshall really believed the "filth statement" he would ask an indictment and prosecution of the candidate. His failure to do so is cited as proof of Powers' innocence.

"As a candidate for Congress, I anticipated political opposition, but not of the character assassin type which my opponents have seen fit to adopt. My record in both public and private life, however, speaks for itself. This is my home community, nearly everybody knows me and I have no thought of soft-pedaling on any phase of my career. I can't fool anyone in this district.

"I have been consistent through-out the campaign in not making any reference to my opponent, and have diligently tried to conduct myself in a dignified manner. Similar instruc-tions were given to those advocating my election.

"For the benefit of those advocating my election.

"For the benefit of those not acquainted with my opponent's career, let me say the present is not his first attempt to get into the congressional body. As a matter of fact, it's his third. While a resident of Morris county he was the Democratic candidate on two occasions, having been deluged under an avalanche of votes. It can be readily understood that the electorate in that vicinity lead scant regard for my opponent, either as their representative or otherwise. Then, too, he is resorting to deceptive practices in the present campaign, one of which is the discarding of his Rolls Royce automobiles for a Plymouth to make the voters believe he is a "regular fellow". He is fearful of the impression which the voters would obtain were he to use his high-priced, high-powered, chauffeur-driven foreign make cars." cution of the candidate. His failure to do so is cited as proof of Powers' innocence.

Marshall had inferred that Powers, who was an assemblyman when the State House Annex was being built had used his office to obtain contracts for the firm with which he is connected. He made exensive quotations from hearings of the Abell Commission, purporting to show that Powers' activities had been under question by the commission. Powers' reply denies those insimuations, and gives his side of the controversy.

The reply of the Republican candidate to the charges is reported in part as follows:

"My opponent's hirelings have reached the panicky stage in finding it necessary to secure Prosecutor Marshall to lend his name to a scurrilous and dastardly attack in the closing hours of the campaign, which was published in the Trenton Times a few days ago. It was only after several others had persisted in their refusal to participate in the mud-slinging statement that Mr. Marshall was prevalled upon 'to come to the aid of the participate in the mid-slinging statement that Mr. Marshall was prevalled upon 'to come to the aid of the participate in the mid-slinging statement that Mr. Marshall was prevalled upon 'to come to the aid of the participate in the mid-slinging statement that Mr. Marshall was prevalled upon 'to come to the aid of the participate in the mid-slinging statement that Mr. Marshall was prevalled upon 'to come to the aid of the participate in the mid-slinging statement that Mr. Marshall was prevalled upon 'to come to the aid of the participate in the mid-slinging of the contract for the construction of the State House Annex building after competitive bidding. Ordinarily the matter could be dismissed in a few words, to wit, there is no crime or offense of any kind in trying to cern a livelihood, But I'll go further and challenge either Prosecutor Marshall, my opponent or any of his licutenants to say that I profiled either directly or indirectly one penny other than to which I was honestly entitled."

Both sides knew the sterling integrity and honesty of purpose of Herbert Hoover, and were willing to follow his leadership in the battle against forces at home and abroad which threatened not only the jobs of the American working man in all lines, industrial and agricultural, but the very foundation of our government itself.

Under the wise leadership of the President, machinery has been set in motion which is slowly but surely providing jobs for men and women along normal and natural lines-not so much "made work" (though that has its place) as a resumption of business in general, which is, in the end, the only real cure for the depression. All other plans are, of necessity, merely temp-

In 1916 Woodrow Wilson was returned to the White House by the vote of Republicans who felt that with the country facing the crisis growing out of the World War, he should be given the opportunity to carry through. Notwithstanding Wilson appealed for re-election on the plea that "He kept us out of war", every thinking American, including himself and his supporters, knew that America would inevitably be drawn into the conflict, but since he had been handling the preliminaries, it was agreed that he should be allowed to finish the job. We were not actually at war when President Wilson was given his second term with the assistance of Republican votes. He could have been replaced at that time with much better grace than President Hoover can now be set aside when the country is just beginning to emerge victorious under his leadership from a conflict fraught with much greater dangers to the present and succeeding generations than those which threatened from the great conflict-destructive and devastating as it was.

To summarize:

In the depreasion, which was world-wide, the United States, under the leadership of Herbert Hoover and the Republican party, has been infinitely better off than any other country on carth.

The Republican administration has definite, constructive plans for the return of prosperity which are now in successful and particular operation.

The Democratic party has not only failed to present a definite plan to this end, either when the depression became acute, or since, but actually hampered steps proposed by the administration, thereby retarding for several months measures which they were finally forced to accept, and which are now producing henselficial results.

By their obstructionist measures and unsound schemes for rollef, the Democratic party and its candidate have shown almost a total lack of appreciation of the gravity of the situation or any adequate conception of practical remedial measures.

Their one great cry is that we have had bad times. Hoover, was in the White House—hence, willy-nlly—he and the Republican and ministration must be all fault. Turn them out and put us in "they are all will not be misled by their special conception of practical remedial measures.

American people will continue under the leadership of one who has proven his wisdom, his courage and his ability, or will switch to an untried man with no definite plan, and a party with a record during this crisis which contains little to recommend it, or to give hope of future performance if placed in power.

In closing the speaker warned his hearers that the election of President Hoover and the Republican ticket was not going to be an easy job, and urged them one and all to not only vote themselves but to prevail upon the members of their families and their neighbors to do likewise. He declared that this is the most important election since the Civil War.

Wimer Lauds Hoover

George N. Wimer, of Palmyra, can-didate for sheriff, also stressed the importance of the election this year, and strongly urged the return of President Hoover to the White House to continue the work of reconstruc-tion which he had so ably started, and the effects of which are already being felt.

Mrs. R. Seiby Williams, of Riverton, a life-long Democrat, said that she had voted for Hoover in 1928, and had never regretted it. She was going to vote for him again this year, and urged her hearers to do likewise. She raised a laugh when she told of Mrs. Franklin Roosevelt's statement that "the life of high officials was hard on their children," and added that she was going to do all she could to protect the Roosevelt children from this menace.

shows that the Democratic strength was 218 to 214.

The vote of the Class World War Pension Bill, was on a ration of 5 to 1; how can either party be insolated in face of this overwhelming vote?

On the Goldsborough Bill, ordering Federal Reserve to raise prices (denounced by President Hoover) the vote shows 116 Republicans out of total of 214 votes recorded on the measure (in favor) and Congressman Fish of New York, orator at the Republican Convention was one of them. The Democrats are on record how asever, on the Bonus vote 75 per cent as against 30 per cent Republicans in favor: but on this question the Democratic candidate Mr. Roosevelt, has declared that we cannot undertake to anticipate payments at a time when expenses of Government exceed revenue receipts.

The stabilty and safety of this Government will not be imperilled by a change in Administration whose platform is clear and has been accepted in frank good faith by Mr. Roosevelt, and perhaps the Country might derive benefit by fresh minds being applied to the task in which we are engaged for many years to come.

Respectfully.

tunate, indeed, in having such a man as W. Warren Barbour, of Monmouth County, to fill the seat in the United States Senate made vacant by the death of the lamented Dwight W.

No man sent to Washington in re-cent years so quickly established him-self as a leader in legislative delibera-tions or so early proved his conver-sance with the needs of his country and particularly his home State. He is a Big Man in all that the term implies — in ability, accomplishment and stature.

A MESSAGE BURLINGTON COUNTY

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

November 1, 1938

To my friends and constituents of Burlington County.

Because Burlington and Hercer Counties will make up a new Congressional District under the redistricting of the State, my name does not appear upon the ballot in Burlington County.

For eighteen years I have represented Burlington County in Congress. The confidence you have placed in me and your expressions of approval of my conduct in the office to which I have been elected for nine successive terms by ever increasing majorities, is appreciated more than I can say at this time. When I cease as your representative on the fourth day of March I will have more to say in this respect.

The Republican Party has chosen as its candidate in your District the Hon. D. Lane Powers. He is an upstanding and outstanding young man; a hard worker and a good fighter. I know him personally and I have no hesitation in asking for him that measure of support which you have always given me.

Burlington County needs as its representative in Congress a man who is a firm believer in the principles of a Protective Tariff. Mr. Powers is such a man. As the New Jersey member of the Ways and Neans Committee I need men of such principles to help me put into effect tariff laws which will protect your industries and your farms from the cheap labor markets and the low living standards of Europe and the Orient.

I ask you, therefore, that as you have believed believe in D. Lane Powers; send him to dongress y help and your own good.

with warment regards and all good winhes to the people of Burlington County, I remain.
Sincerely yours.

Ordered and paid for by Burlington County Republican Committee.

DR. MARCUS W. NEWCOMB

For five years Dr. Marcus W. Newcomb, of Pemberton, has faithfully represented Burlington County in the House of Assembly, gaining experience and value to his constituents with every successive term.

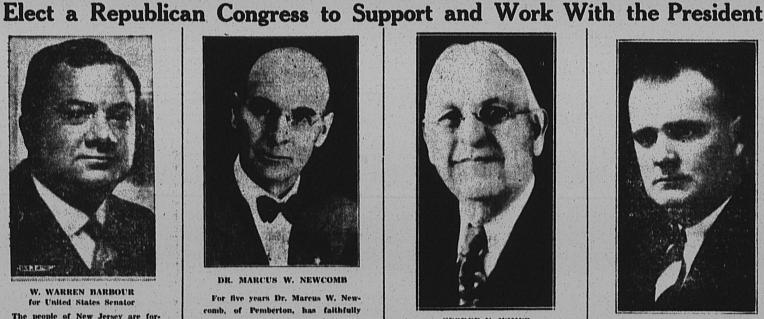

This year he is again his party's candidate for membership in the Lower House of the Legislature and his candidacy should appeal to every voter who demands honesty, courage and independence of his spokeman in the halls of the Legislature. His record is without flaw; his fidelity to the integrity, high principle and courage to fight for good government will find these qualities in George N. Wimer, a life-long Republican who has given years of faithful service to the party and to the people of his community, county and state.

His election will mean the conduct of the Sheriff's office on a high plant of decency and efficiency.

Be sure to vote for Wimer next Tuesday.

A Damning Indictment

Mercer County Prosecutor Shatters Public Record of D. Lane Powers, Republican Candidate for Congress

Reveals Powers' Connection with State House Annex Construction Scandal to Extent of $709,060.99; Marshall Quotes Abell Commission Records to Prove Powers Unworthy of Seat in Congress

Read the Story:

(Reprinted from Trenton Evening Times, October 27, 1932.)

Prosecutor Erwin E. Marshall today attacked the candidacy of D. Lane Powers for Congress on the ground that his ineligibility was established through his connection with the State House An-nex scandal three years ago. Marshall, in a statement submitted to the Times, quotes liber-ally from records of the investigation by the Abell Commission to support his point.

It is contended by the prosecutor that Powers, first while a candidate for the Assembly, and later as an actual member of that body, figured in the award of a dozen contracts for materials and furnishings of the Amex that represented a total of $709,060.99. His statement in full follows:

"There is nothing new except what is forgot-ten," was one of the trite, although somewhat in-accurate, sayings of the vivacious Mademoiselle Bertin, milliner to Marie Antoinette.

"The many and varied transactions of D. Lane Powers, former Assemblyman and now a candidate for Congress, in furnishing materials and supplies for the costly and maloderous State House Annex Building, at the time he was a candidate for the Assembly and later on while an Assemblyman, may have been forgotten, but they are vitally important unless we desire public office to become feeding troughs for unworthy officials.

"The State Audit and Finance Commission (commonly referred to as the Abell Commission by reason of the name of its chairman Senator Abell) was created by a joint resolution of the Legislature in 1929. It consisted of three senators and three assemblymen, all Republicans.

Amount of Contracts of D. Lane Powers

"This commission investigated, among other things, some of the causes of the excessive cost of the State House Annex Building. The total amount of the contracts secured by D. Lane Powers, agent, was never definitely determined, so far as I have been able to ascertain. The Trenton Evening Times on October 15, 1929, reporting the proceedings of the Abell Commission under the heading of 'more irregularities revealed in annex contracts' contains the following:

The fact that Assemblyman D. Lane Powers' Company or the concerns he represented had been awarded contracts aggregating $709,060.99 was seen as a violation, in some instances, of the provisions of the specifications * * Powers was a member of the Assembly when contracts on the second unit were let.

"It also contains the following:

Friebele (President Karno-Smith Co., the general contractor) was the first witness. It was from him that the commission got the figures of the contracts to Powers * * * The hearing last week revealed that Powers was interested in a dozen contracts on the building.

"The transcript of the teatmony taken by the commission on October 15, 1929, contains the following question put to Mr. Friebele and his answer:

Q. I think you said that Mr. Powers, while a friend of yours, had no inside track of this work here, which seems to amount to something over a million and one hundred thousand dollars that he got. Is that correct?

A. I don't know what the totals are.

Powers' Extraordinary Contracts

"The following is an extract from the proceedings above mentioned:

Senator Abell—Mr. Friebele, it seems quite extraordinary to a layman that Assemblyman Powers is practically in every one of these subcontracts. Are you or your concern interfirms? A. No sir.

"From the Trenton Evening Times, October 16,

Mr. Priebele points out that Mr. Powers was not in the Assembly when the subcontracts on the first unit were awarded but Mr. Abell pointed out that he had been nominated for the Assembly on the Republican ticket at the time.

Profits From Political Friendship

"Extract from a transcript of the testimony taken on October 15, 1929:

Senator Richards—Mr. Friebele, I think you said in answer to Senator Abell a little while ago that, while friendship might enter into this matter you would not award a contract to a higher bidder than a lower bidder. Is that correct?

A. I said in the majority of cases that would be true but sometimes I did it.

Much curiosity was evinced by the probers in getting from John H. Friebele, of the Karno-Smith Company, general contractors, the story of the contract-letting for metal equipment in the new offices of the Clerk in Chancery * *. The Art Metal Company of Newark submitted the lowest of three invitation bids-asked by the State House Commission for the equipment. The price was $175,577. Friebele testified that, after the figure was received, his company took charge of the contract, deducted one and one-half per cent. for the amount of the bond, but then added five per cent, for the Karno-Smith Company,

"Note that this was 'invitation bids,' although the law requires advertising for the furnishing of materials or labor, the cost of which exceeds $1,000 but empowers the State House Commission to waive advertising requirements when in their judgment a public exigency exists.

"What public exigency existed? Was it the influence of Assemblyman D. Lane Powers? And why should the general contractor for the construction of the building receive commissions on furnishings and equipment, a radical departure from established custom? Every intelligent voter should know the answer.

"The Abell Commission evidently considered that a clause in the specifications had been violated. The following appeared in the Trenton Evening Times on October 16, 1929:

When the connection of Assemblyman Powers * * * with the subcontracting companies had been established Speaker Guy G. Gabrieson (a member of the commission) had Nathaniel Silverman, the commission's auditor, read into the record an extract from the official instruction to Bidders as follows:

Each bidder must also declare that his proposal is made without any connection, directly or indirectly, with any other bidder * *; that it is nall respects fair and without fraud or collusion with any person or persons whomsever, and that no person employed by the State of New Jersey is directly or indirectly interested therein, or in the material or labor to which it relates, or in any portion of the profits thereof.

"It did not develop whether the commission thought that D. Lane Powers was in collusion with the general contractor or whether he was an employe of the State, but whether he was an employe of the State is immaterial. It certainly is against public policy for a public employe to be interested in a contract of the State or municipalities by which he is employed. But it is much more pernicious for a member of a law-making body who has a vote in the election of the State Treasurer and State Comptroller, both members of the State House Commission, and who had considerably more political influence, at that time, than is possessed by the average Assemblyman, to be interested in such contracts.

Unethical Official Acquisitiveness

"Dryden Kuser, then an Assemblyman and a member of the Abell Commission and now a Senator, knew there was something rotten, not in the State of Denmark, but in the State of New Jersey, as is evidenced by the following from the Trenton Times of October 15, 1929:

Assemblyman Dryden Kuser, of Somerset, will reintroduce at the session of the Legislature on November 26 his bill to prohibit State officials from being interested, directly or indirectly, in labor or work furnished to the State.

"Mr. Kuser did reintroduce Assembly Bill No. 323, which proposed to amend the existing statute which makes it a misdemeanor for any country or municipal officeholder to have a direct or indirect interest in any building or bridge work of which the county or municipality is a party or in entering into any contract for work or supplies for said county or municipality, by extending its acope to include any officer appointed by the Covernor or the Legislature, any member of the Legislature, any member of the Legislature, any member of the structure, board, bureau or other agency of this State or any person holding any office of profit or

"This legislative bill was again defeated not-withstanding its advocacy by most of the news-papers of the State. The Trenton Evening Times published a statement in its issue of November 27 that 'Assemblyman Powers was one of the active opponents.'

Passage of a bill similar to the one intro-duced by Assemblyman Ruser last Winter to prevent officials from having a share in fi-nancial dealings with the State is urgently needed. The Kuser bill was defeated in the House of Assembly by a 42 to 4 vote. It should have been passed.

Not only the State House Commission, but all agencies of State government should come under this ban. Municipal and county officials are subjected to strict regulation in connection with financial relations between themselves and the governmental units they represent. State officials, with greater resources under their jurisdiction, should not be exempt.

It is up to the Legislature to correct the mistake made last Winter when the Ruser bill was defeated. New Jersey citizens are sick and thred of official acquisitiveness which unethically drains the public coffers.

"If the voters of this congressional district wish to broaden the field for the 'official acquisi-tiveness' and make it nationwide by electing D. Lane Powers to Congress, they should never again complain of 'official acquisitiveness' in public

Moorestown Bears Take 18-0 Decision on Home Field

The Riverton A. A., playing its third game together since reorganization this year, showed power and skill even in going down to defeat at the hands of the Moorestown Bears, 18 to 0.

In holding the Bears to three touchdowns, they achieved what many other teams have failed to do. The Bears now have a string of twenty-one straight victories, gained in three years of competition against some of the best teams in South Jersey.

A large crowd was on hand to witness a very thrilling and closely contested fray, The Bears highly-tutored passing offensive was powerless against the Riverton secondary defense, but sensational broken field running by Wilson and line-plunging by Juliana played a big part in the Moorestown victory. J. Downs, Cardea and Perkins starred for Riverton.

In the last quarter the Mount Holly team started another aerial attack which netted two touchdowns and ended further scoring for their team. The touchdowns in this period were tailled by Cooper and Gerber.

The Palmyra boys scored their lone touchdown in the closing minutes of play when Beddow took the ball over the line after a gallant march down the field. Young drop-kicked the extra point just before the game ended. The main stars for the county seaters were Lewis, who did the passing and Whitcraft, who received almost anything that came his way. This combination brought about all of Mount Holly's scores with the help of Cooper, Gerber and Woodside.

Wait Beddow and Elwood Young did most of the gaining for the "Pals", while Landgraf, Fay and Fry played well on the line.

An Appeal for Support

An Appeal for Support

RIVERTON, NEW JERSEY, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 10, 1932

AN EDITORIAL

THE ELECTION

The people of the Naton have spoken. They have repudiated the man who, by his wise leadership, saved the United States from chaos during the depression and started the country on With Approval of Commissioner the road to recovery.

That is their privilege—their sovereign right.

The new administration will have many difficult problems to face-continuance of the old or substitution of new measures to end the depression; the fulfillment of its pledges for universal employment, lower tariffs and higher prices, knotty foreign problems including membership in the League of Nations, the World Court, recognition of Russia, cancellation of war debts, to mention only a few.

In its herculean task, the Democratic administration will need the whole-hearted support of every loyal American, regardless of party affiliation, and the nation can well follow the sentiment expressed by President Hoover in his message of congratulation to President-elect Roosevelt in which he said:

"I congratulate you on the opportunity that has come to you to be of service to the country, and I wish for you a most successful administration. In the common purpose of all of us I shall dedicate myself to every possible helpful effort."

President Roosevelt will have the advantage of a safe majority in both branches of Congress, a boon which was denied President Hoover, and there will be no possibility of shifting responsibility. The administration will have everything its own way and can be held to strict accountability for results.

It is a cardinal principle of our form of government that the majority shall rule, and all prejudice and partianship should be laid aside in a truly American support of the government which has been chosen by such a decisive majority.

An Appeal for Support The club is sponsoring a card party, to be held at the club house, on the afternoon of November 22, at 2.15, for benefit of the Riverton Free Library, Mrs. E. K. Merrill is chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements, who urges every card playing member, not only of the club, but of the community to attend, and to help in any way they can to make the affair a big success. The charge will be fifty cents per person, including tea which will be served at 4.30. Those who do not play cards may support the event by coming for tea. Any one having a new book which she would be willing to pass along, the club would appreciate having it as a gift, to be used as a prize. Notify Mrs. E. K. Merrill, telephone 567-R. Prizes Awarded It will be of interest to club members to know the result of the Gimbel Brothers table setting contest in which our club was a participant. The three prizes awarded for the most artistically correct table were chests of community silver, and were won by the following clubs: Bywood, first prize; Gienside, second prize; Media, third prize. Mr. Steedle, chairman of the property committee, reported that the venetian blinds had been installed in the office of the supervising principal at a net cost of $33.20.

Water service from the street to the building had been renewed according to contract and that the water pressure had increased considerably as a result.

Mr. Steedle's request for paint for the basement floors, which are in poor condition, was granted. The work will be done by the janitor.

Heater Causes Trouble

Heater Causes Trouble

Some slight dissatisfaction with the operation of the small heater has been experienced, and before final payment of the repair bill, Mr. Steedle will have the difficulty remedied by the American Heating; and Ventilating Company.

The abundance of dust in the school rooms has been traced to the heating plant. Mr. Steedle found that the cold air intake comes from the basement floor of the building, and in order to eliminate the dust the air will have to be taken from the roof of the building and carried down through a flue pipe, or the air now being drawn from the ground floor will have to be washed to eliminate dust. A further study of this situation is being made.

Mr. Steedle reported that the cleaning demands made upon the janitor have increased so that it will be necessary to employ possibly two women daily after school hours. Mr. Steedle was instructed to try out a new cleaning program for the next menting his program for the next menting his program for the year.

The property committee was granted permission to purchase a special cleaning compound for clearing the new fire resisting stairway in the main building.

reports. Its theme was "Education for Creative Living." The president, Mrs. William F. Little, encouraged the maintenance of the highest standards for education, and this aim was emphasized by Dr. C. H. Elliott, state commissioner of education, and by John Bpargo, assistant commissioner. Dr. Rollo G. Reynolds, principal of the Horace Mann School, spoke on the four essentials the school should teach the children—accuracy, clear thinking, sincerity and efficiency.

On the point of view of parental problems, Dr. Garry Cleveland Myers, of Western Reserve University, spoke several times during the convention with delightful humor and sympathy, He discussed not only the parents' problems with their children, but the children's problems with their parents, his speech at the banquet being entitled. "How We Annoy Our Children." His conferences gave invaluable help in parental education.

Dr. M. Melchior, of Girard College, emphasized the crying need for "Creative Home Life," for more united homes with each member contributing to its happiness and management.

A most charming and distinguished speaker was Mrs. Atgustus H. ident-elect. The Cinnaminson vote was 593 to 326.

The county Republican nominees all came through victoriously, with majorities of 5,000 to 6,000.
George N. Wimer, former mayor of Palmyra, was one of the high men on the ticket, bowling over his opponent, Joseph Wolfrom, of Mount Holly, by more than 6,000 majority.

All local Republican candidates for council and other borough offices won casy victories, as shown in the accompanying table.

Incomplete returns from 66 of the 89 districts in Burlington county gave Hoover a 5,585 plurality over Roosevelt. The Republican candidate for re-election received 17,422 votes against the 11,837 polled for Roosevelt, the Democratic nominee.

Other Republican candidate, according to the incomplete returns, also polled big majorities. Senator Barbour defeated Stewart 15,482 to 8,628; Powers polled 15,414 votes to Sayre's 9,706 for Congress; Assemblyman Newcomb won by 15,767 to Absalom's 10,949 votes; for sheriff, Wimer's vote was 15,917 to 9,685 for Wolfrom. Cunningham and Stoddard, Republican candidates for coroner, polled 972 and 14,780, respectively, to defeat Pike who received 828 votes; Freeholder Heisler topped Cook 14,608 to 11,105; County Auditor Ziegler won 16,011 to Rice's 8,174.

There were no returns on the public questions.

School, Nov. 14

National Book Week begins November 13. At the Westfield Friends School this year Mrs. Pennell and Mrs. Duke. of Moylan, Pa., will spend Monday, November 14. They will bring about 200 books of their collection at "Bookways" from their library of over a thousand children's books, all of which have been carefully reviewed. The children will be allowed to look at the books and consult with Mrs. Pennell and Mrs. Duke during the school day.

At 4 o'clock Mrs. Pennell will speak to parents and friends, giving suggestions as to books worth reading and purchasing.

Reading the right books is of such dal importance that, in these days then so much of little worth is being published, all who can should avail themselves of this opportunity.

The report, which is given below in detail, shows a total of 72 families and 359 persons taken care of at a weekly average cost per person of 44 cents.

per person of 44 cents.

The board desires particularly to extend its thanks to the Needlework Guild, which has just donated over 300 garments to helps replenish Welfare's depleted stock. This donation included in particular children's clothes, which are greatly needed now that cold weather is at hand.

Plant were made at the meeting

Plans were made at the meeting of the board on Monday night to provide a little "extra" for distribution the week of Thanksgiving. The distribution that week instead of being made as usual on Friday will be made on Wednesday. Contributions of Jars of preserved fruits, peaches, pineapple, jams or jeliles are requested. A total of at least 80 jars will be required to complete the baskets. Contributions may be left at Welfare Headquarters or, in the event the Welfare Headquarters or, in the event the Welfare Headquarters are closed, at the police station next door.

In the makeup of food baskets every effort is made to vary the contents so as to provide a reasonably balanced diet of wholesome food, although naturally the selection is necessarily restricted in view of the limited funds available.

stricted in view of the limited funds available.

Block collections for the first week in November dropped considerably below collections for the first week in previous months, due, no doubt, to the fact that so many people's attentions have been diverted by election activities, the total of block collections amounting to only $93.85 by comparison with $145.63 for the first week in October, $107.25 for the first week in September and $182.16 for the first week in August. Collections from other sources, notably $64.35 donated by the public school teachers helped to increase the week's receipts and is much appreciated. It is also desired to capress thanks to the American Legion Auxiliary for their monthly donation of $2.50 which is shown under "Office Subscriptions" in the report reproduced below.

Joseph G. Seel Receives Letter George W. Truman Is Chosen From White House in Reply

Joseph G. Seel, of Cinnaminson ave-nue, Palmyra, recently wrote the fol-lowing letter to President Herbert Hoover:

Hon. Herbert Hoover, President of United States, Washington, D. C. My Dear Mr. President:

My Dear Mr. President:

Feeling that words of encouragement in times of stress are always welcome, particularly by one who is virtually giving his "all" for his country and his fellowmen. I am prompted to enclose these blotters.

A private citizen, with no political aspirations or mercenary thoughts, this bit of literature has been disseminated by me purely by the same spirit that prompted a call to the colors in 1918, namely, to uphold those who uphold the right.

May the Faith that has stimulated and encouraged the leaders of our great Nation in past crisis, guide you and bring you success that you surely deserve.

LAKEVIEW MEMORIAL HONORS GERMAN WHO CHANGED CEMETERIES

To American shores, eighty-one years ago, came a famous German emigrant, who was destined to revolutionize the tone and topography of cemeteries in the United States. His name was Adolph Strauch and he was one of the foremost European landscape gardeners of his period.

"Strauch devoted most of his later life and efforts to the development of the American cemetery," said Francis B. Wallen, of Camden, president of Lakeview Memorial Park, Inc., in paying a fitting tribute this week to the famous gardener.

Another in a series of carillon concerts will be heard Sunday at 3 o'clock at Lakeview Memorial Park on the Burlington Pike in Cimmamison township. Bernard R. Mausert, of Philladelphia, will be at the console of the electric carillon.

The program includes among the

Iraca and Pento's Trials Are Slated to Start on November 14

Long tentacles of the law will seek a strangle hold November 14 on two men alleged to be the sole survivors of a gang implicated in a South Jersey bog murder of 16 years ago.

Ellis H. Parker is ready to close the drama that began when Henry Rider, brother of the late Andrew J. Rider, wealthy cranberry grower, was shot to death.

wealthy cranberry grower, was shot to death.

Antonio Iraca was arrested in Republic, Pa., and Prosecutor Howard Eastwood and Detective Chifford D. Cain went to Stockton, Calif, and nabbed Luigi Pinto. Iraca was taken in Jime, 1931, and Pinto iate in March of this year.

Iraca and Pinto are scheduled to begin their march to death or freedom on Monday, November 14, with Iraca taking the lead in what will be two separate trials for murder.

It was on October 5, 1918, that a gang set upon Andrew Rider and his party on a back road near Atsion, ambushing his automobile in the hope of pilfering the week's payroll for bog workers.

The navear was driven by Andrew.

of pilfering the week's payroll for bog workers.

The paycar was driven by Andrew Rider's daughter. Suddenly, at a turn in the road, the gang appeared, yelling for a halt, and brandishing guns. As Rider's daughter put on speed and the machine hurtled past, there was a fusiliade of shots and Henry, the plantation owner's brother, slumped on the back seat, mortally wounded. Iraca and Pinto have entered pleas of not guitty. Due to the long lapse of time since the murder and the deaths of important witnesses in the intervening years, the outcome of the trial is much in doubt.

An unidentified man sent a letter containing ten one-cent stamps to pay for a copky which he had picked up and eaten at a soda fountain in Peoria, III.

"But Nadji, your safety, your future happiness mean more to me than anything."

Nadji lowered her eyes, and then raising them to him again whispered. "Do you think I could ever be happy again if anything happened to you?"

Late that afternoon Chandu and Nadji set off on their swift Arabian horses and dawn saw them nearing their destination, the third cataract of the Nile. As they approached a lonely oasis, the place where Chandu had planned to hide the horses and then proceed on foot Chandu was so concerned with the safety of Nadji that for the first time he failed to hear the astral bell as it tinkled in his ears.

"I hate the idea of taking you into danger," he told her gravely.

"Don't worry about me," Nadji smiled affectionately. "You have much more important things to think about."

"I'll never have anything more important to do than protect you," and as he reined in his horse and started to dismount he added warmingly, "Here we are Please keep yourself hiden."

Leaving Nadji to watch the horses, he started cautiously forward on foot, but had taken just a few short steps when suddenly a small bomb-like explosive struck the ground in front of him and with a loud report enveloped him in a cloud of gaseous smoke. Sixty-eight days were required to make this voyage. Today, using the Fanama Canal a steamer making a number of stops can go from New York to San Francisco in eighteen days. The French were the first to try to build a canal through the Isthmus. One of the greatest engineers in Europe planned the project. He was experienced in such matters for he built the Suez Canal. But the Isthmus was to great an undertaking, and equipment lay idle and was rusting to ruin, a monument to the trementous difficulty of the enterprise.

The French sent a large staff of engineers to Washington to try to sell their project to the United States, as we were having a great amount of trouble choosing a route for a canal. Congress had a plan in mind to build a canal through Nicaragua, and the French contended that it was a voicanic country.

To proye themselves right they sent to each representative and congressman a copy of the stamp of Nicaragua showing the volcano Momotombia naction. RULES FOR SAFE SPORT

"Remember that the cautious gunner gets the most enjoyment out of hunting, rarely causes an accident and generally brings home the fullest game bag.'

Protector James M. Stratton, of the New Jersey Fish and Game Commission, makes these observations in timely advice to young sportsmen, thousands of whom are taking out their first hunting licenses this Fall. He urges them to study and practice certain unwritten laws of the hunting grounds, observance of which by older sportsmen, he says, has made hunting in New Jersey one of the safest of outdoor sports, considering the 200,000 or more persons engaged.

Ten very important safety rules in handling a gun are:-Don't carry a loaded gun in an automobile or other vehicle

Don't start actual hunting until you have first examined the mechanism of your gun and assured yourself that the barrels are clear of any obstruction.

NOVEMBER, 1918

Deep in the forest of Compiegne, in France, two sidetracks from opposite directions come within twenty yards of each other. It was here, fourteen years ago, that two special trains secretly approached each other. The delegation of Germans left their train and climbed aboard that of the Allies which had come from the opposite direction. And the terms of the Armstice to bring to a close the great World War were drawn up. The German suggestion to make the famous "Fourteen Points" of Woodrow Wilson the hads of discussion was bluntly refused and terms of complete surrender were insisted upon.

Today a tablet has been erected to commemorate this event. It bears this inscription: "Here, the lith of November, 1918, succumbed the criminal pride of the German Empire, conquered by the free peoples whom they tried to enslave." An eloquent testimony—of what?

This spot, marking the culmination of four years of tragedy and war and destruction, can be reached from Paris via Rheims and Soissons by means of an all-day automobile ride. In the course of that ride the graves of at least 250,000 fallen soldiers are passed—and that trip only covers one edge of the vast battlefields of northern France. First we passed a British graveyard with its rounded stones and plots of flowers. Next we passed a field of black wooden croases, some with and 19th

The Women's Guild of the Epworth M. E. Church will hold a holiday mart in the gym of the church Friday evening and Saturday atternoon and evening, November 18 and 19.

All kinds of useful, attractive, unusual and unique gifts will be on sale and every person in this vicinity is cordially invited and urged to visit the mart.

Cakes, candy, pies and other delicatessen foods will also be offered for sale. Ice cream will be served and a cranberry bog will be an added attraction for both old and young. Short sketches will be made both evenings for only ten cents each and a supper will be served in the cafeteria on Saturday evening. Twenty-five cents will buy an excellent meal. This is an opportunity for townspeople to do their Christmas buying without the inconvenience of going to Philadelphia. Admission to the mart is absolutely free and everyone is invited to attend and view the display of articles.

"MORTALS and IMMORTALS" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, November 13, 1932.
The Golden Text is: "As is the earthy, such are they also that are earthy; and as is the heavenly, such are they also that are heavenly." (I Corinthlans 15:48).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Have we not all one father? hath not one God created us? why do we deal treacherously every man against his brother, by profaning the covenant, of our fathers"

Red and White Team Wins Hard Fought Game From Quakers

PALMYRA SCORED EARLY DURING FIRST PERIOD

Visitors Garner Touchdown at Opening of the Second nessed a thrilling spectacle Saturday on the Palmyra High Schmool field when the Red and White team rose to topple a courageous and hard-fighting Moorestown eleven, 12-6.

This traditional battle proved ex citing from beginning to end. Pal-myra scored early in the first period, but, not to be outdone, the Quakers turned the tables on the Dimondmen-and garnered a touchdown a few sec-onds after the opening of the second quarter.

From this point it was nip and tuck until late in the third session when the "Puls" started a 64-yard march which resulted in the winning tally of which resulted in the winning tally of the game.

Palmyra's initial score came after Bob Hall, Quaker halfback, was forced to kick from behind his own goal line and got off a poor boot that went out of bounds on the 30-yard mark. A twenty-yard run and a five-yard penalty advanced the plaskin to the five-yard line. "Sleepy" Mathis cracked the center of the Quakers' forward wall and pushed over a touchdown. A pass, Young to Carpenter, failed to add point.

Following this score Coach Paul Isenberg rushed in his regulars to replace the reserves who had started the game. The entire complexion of the contest was changed and instead of a courageous Moorestown eleven fighting with its back to the wall the Quaker team turned aggressor. They received the ball on their own 30-yard line after an exchange of puints. In two plays Charlle Steinmeis and Johnny Barton, who had replaced Donahue and Boyer, advanced the plaskin to midfield.

It was from here that Warren Luce, brilliant suarterback of the Moores-

Bayer, advanced the pigskin to inidfivid.

It was from here that Warren Luce, brilliam quarterback of the Moorestown aggregation, who was injected into the affray with the rest of the first team, made the longest and most spectacular run of the game. On an off-tackle silce, he slipped through the left side of the line and reached the secondary. He wriggled his way past Mathis and disposed of Carpenter with a straight arm jab. Young, Red and White safety man, was the only player in his path. He cut across to nab the fleeting Luce but just as he was about to bring the runner to earth Jack Humes came between his teammate and the Palmyra halfbuck, blocking him so effectively that Luce continued his race to the goal line unmolested.

Stelmnetz's placement for the extra point went wide.

The tide of battle changed in the third quarter when the "Pais" took possession of the ball on their 36-yard line. Before the period ended a plunge by Mathis and an end run by Young had placed the ball on the 47-yard line. Directly after the opening of the sinal session a pass from Beddow to Sacca advanced the oval to the Quakers' 38-yard mark.

Mathis cracked the line for four

Mathis cracked the line for four yards after which another pass from Beddow with Young doing the receiving this time netted 28 yards. Mathis again pushed through the forward wall, this time to the 8-yard stripe. Beddow then carried the pigskin to the two-yard mark, from which point Mathis hugged it across the goal line on a plunge through center. A bad pass from center prevented Young from kicking the extra point.

Plummer and Cox Meet at Camden

After having participated in a gruelling 48-minute draw two weeks ago, Lou Plummer, former Notre Dame star, and Joe Cox, of Toledo, Ohio, will battle it out for supremacy in a 90-minute struggle next Monday night at the Convention Hall, Camden.

Promoter Charley Grip announced that he had rematched the pair to appear in the fature combat, which will be decided by two out of three talls.

The first meeting between Plummer and Cox developed into a bitter encounter, with neither holding a decided advantage at the finish. Last Monday night, Cox held Indian Tommy Marvin, of Oklahoma, to a 30-minute draw, while Plummer lost the last two falls of a three-fall match with Dick Daviscourt after throwing the latter to win the first fall.

All told, Grip will present five matches next Monday night instead of the usual four bouts.

George McLeod, of Providence, R. I. and Milo Steinborn, are slated to mingle in the 48-minute semi-final, one fall to win. McLeod pinned Dick Stahl isat Monday night and Steinborn disposed of Dino Darnaldi. Stahl, incidentally, returns to face Herman Hickman, ex-University of Tennessee gridman, in the third bout.

Herbie Freeman, New York City Hebrew, meets Bill Leon, of Greece, in the second bout, and George Vassell, another Greek, takes on Henny Ginsberg, of Chicago, in the opener. All three preliminaries are limited to 30 minutes, one fall to decide the winner.

RIVERTON DROPS TWO GRID GAMES

"Kitder" Kaskey's fighting Riverton
A. A. dropped a pair of games over the weekend. Playing at home on Saturday they were forced to concede a 14-0 victory to Delanco, and on Sanday they played their beat game of the season against Beverly at Beverly, losing by only one touchdown, 7-0.

Against Delanco, they just didn't seem to "click," passing up several chances to score. Nevertheless it was a good game and the small group of spectators that witnessed it were treated to several thrills.

Playing at Beverly they looked like a new team. Only a long rum by Morgan in the second quarter, which finally netted a touchdown for Bev. erly, broke up the evenness of the battle. Riverton had several chances to score in this game, but failed to push over the final white line.

LOCALS WIN PISTOL MATCH

Riverton-Palmyra-Cinnamins Police Team Outshoots 114th Infantry

The newly-formed Riverton-Palmy a Cinnaminson Police Revolver Club afternoon at the Parry sand hole. The local bulkeye busters shot it out with the first team of the Regimental the first team of the Regimental Headquarters, 114th Infantry, New Jersey National Guards, of Camden. While the local team won with a margin of 261 points over the guardsmen, the odds were against the Camden team with respect to firearms. The three-town marksmen used thirty-eight calibre police special revolvers, while the Nationals used .45 calibre service automatic pistols. To one accustomed to small arms, the difference is quite apparent.

Lawrence Betty was appointed captain of the local team and Sergeant G. Richards was captain of the National Guard team. The ranges fired were 15 and 25 yards, ten shots from each range, slow fire.

The highest possible score for each contestant was 200 and the highest possible team score was 1200. Each team consisted of six men. The individual scores follow:

Triple Towns Team Name 15 yds. 25 yds.

The National Guardsman having the highest individual score was twenty points lower than the lowest police score. However, the Guardsman have requested a return match with the "shottin" policemen" and the scores will surely be different since the guardsmen will insist that the policemen use Army Colt 45 automatic pistols. Captain Harold R. West, of Palmyra, is the commanding officer of Palmyra, is the commanding officer of the conjuny from which the visiting pistol team was furnished.

The Triple Towns police team has a match this Saturday afternoon with a police team from Haddon Township under the command of Chief Whithead. The match will be fired at the Parry sand hole, thext to Steele's nursery on Ginnaminson avenue at a colder.

Steele's nursery on Cinnaminson ave nue at 2 o'block. Captain Betty is requesting matche with surrounding towns, including a Camden police team.

Wouldn't we all, if personally confinated with just one of the million demands which are made on the Red Cross annually, willingly, eagerly, give much more than a single dollar to help relieve suffering and want? Of course we would!

What we need is to disabuse our minds of the idea that we are joining an organization when we enroll in the Red Cross. That's not it at all. Actually, we're giving directly to our fellow American in distress; giving our money where it will be administered more wisely and economically than we could possibly administer it ourselves; giving where every penny is made to count and count again in the relief of huran want and suffering; giving where every gilt gives more!

RIVERTON SCOUTS

Community

Several members of the Riverton Boy Scouts have started a stamp club within the troop. The active members of this club are Scout Scribe Henry Naisby and Scouts Siddall. Haley, B. Coe, and Gillis. The stamp club meets frequently to exchange ideas on philately. Joseph J. Siddall, father of Scout Siddall, is acting as supervisor on philatelic matters.

The patrols are wery active. Scout William Burgunder, patrol scribe of the Wild Boar Patrol, reports that his patrol held a meeting last Monday at which two likely recruits were present. The meeting was devoted to the training of these recruits in Scout subjects and to the planning of a patrol bicycle hike. After the work was completed and the plans made, the whole patrol went to the home of Jack Yost, where a lively ping-pong battle took place. The whiners were Frederick Freeman and Jack Yost.

The troop meetings are becoming more lively and more interesting each week. The new junior officer, Wallace Zeiler, is putting a great deal of hard work into scouting. His specialty is bugling.

The Boy Scout movement ts one work into scouting. His specialty is bugling.

The Boy Scout movement is one which is primarily dedicated to service, service to the community as well as to members of the troop. The Riverton scouts are ready at any time to aid in worthwhile civic and philanthropic projects to the limit of their resources and abilities. It is hoped that the citizens of the community and the various welfare organizations will call upon the scouts on any occasion which they can be of help.

STORM LASHES RIVER BANK

Last Wednesday night's storm, accompanied with heavy rain, swelled the waters of the Delaware to such an extent that water came over the stone wall at Fulton strest, a height which is rarely seen in Riverton. Surface water, rushing down Main street, washed out about six feet of soil at the beginning of the boardwalk to the Yacht Club, and dropped the heavy flagstone pavement at that point. That portion of the river bank in front of the old Frishmuth property had its aloping bank washed away to within about six feet of the roadway at one point.

The boys in the print shop have been busy so far on the P. T. A. catendars which are a beautiful pleee of work. The tickets for the chicken supper, tickets for a community supper, linchroom tickets and still have work unfinished.

One class has been busy on original Christmas cards, printed from linoleum blocks and are ready for orders. The name of the sender will be printed on the cards.

In addition to the prescribed work in the manual training room, the boys have added several articles to the school equipment, a telephone table, tables for the xipphone used by the primary band, book-racks for the teachers, etc.

The seventh grade has been working on a project in Civice. The cost of school supplies has been abulated from the office files; the total consumption and gross costs have been checked; committees have been appointed to give five minute talks in each room on the cost to the township of supplies for the school. Discarded paper is checked by the patrol and good paper found in waste basket or on the grounds is reported in an endeavor to put an end to carelessness.

Christened With Water At 1230 p. m. on Saturday, November 12. Mrs. Hamlet was escorted to the launching platform and was given a large bouquet of American Beauty roses and a bottle of Poland Spring water, the bottle being encased in the colors of the American fing, and at the given signal, just as the last prop was sawed away from the new vessel, Mrs. Hamlet uttered the words. "I christen thee Argo" and smashed the bottle against the ship as it started down the ways for its first dip into the Delaware River. The new ship alid gracefully into the river and was taken by tugs to its mooring place alongside the dock, where it will stay until all work is completed aboard her, sometime in December or January. The day was delightfully clear although there was a brisk and quite cold wind blowing from the river.

Attending Mrs. Hamlet at the launching was Ensign Randolph Ringlly, III, who acted as aide to the aponsor, and on the platform were many distinguished officers and guests. Rear Admiral Hamlet was the first to congratulate the sponsor upon the successful launching of the new ship. Among the distinguished guests were: Rear Admiral L. A. Bostwick, of the Philadelphia Navy Yard, and Captain and Mrs. C. G. Porcher, of New York, (Captain Porcher is the U. S. Coast Guard representative at New York), Mrs. Joseph Tyler, Miss Mary Tyler and Miss Emily Collings, of Riverton. Commander and Mrs. Philip B. Eaton. Commander Eaton is chief inspector for the U. S. Guests of Cempany

After the launching the party were guests of the John H. Mathis Company at a luncheon held in the office building. Following the luncheon the president of the company, Mr. Robinson, presented Mrs. Hamlet with an exquisite purse. The purse was made in Persia and every gold and silver thread was woven into it by hand and its clasp was of the purset jade wrought with gold. Mrs. Hamlet, in accepting this lovely gift, heartily thanked Mr. Robinson and spoke of her happiness in being sponeor for the Argo.

Admiral Hamlet then spoke informally, calling attention to the patriotism of the shipbuilders in maintaining loyal and efficient organisations in these times, and delighting his audience with some personal incidents of his life.

Admiral Bostwick them spoke upon his first acquaintance with the U. S. Revenue Cutter service, which in later years became known as the U. S. Coast Guard. Admiral Rostwick spoke upon the cooperation of these two American ass forces, the Navy and the Coast Guard, during times of war.

RECORD FOR MAINTENANCE IS SET BY PUBLIC SERVICE

A new record for maintenance of equipment resulting in minimizing interruption of service was act by Public Bervice Coordinated Transport during September. In that month its fleet of upward of 2,000 buses was operated with only one so-called "road failure" for every 11,031 miles traveled. A road failure may be described as any fault in equipment, such as motor trouble, broken windows or other damaged part which makes it necessary to pull a bus in off the road. Since the first of the year there has been a steady reduction, month after month, in the number of "road failures." A new record for maintenance of Miss Margaret King, soloist of the First Presbyterian Church in Chestnut Hill, and William McMentamin, formerly of the Palmyra Baptist Church choir soloist, gave several numbers each, accompanied by Btanley P. Stewart at the piano. Dr. Lefevre and Mr. McMenamin also added west to the singing by their playing on the piano and violin respectively.

The speaker of the evening was Corney Garetson, of Wilmington, Del., president of the world's largest plant for the manufacture of rubber hose, the is well-known in Rotary on either side of the Atlantic, both as a speaker and an author, and has often spoken before conferences regarding his business ideas.

Like Golden Rub

Like Golden Rute

Mr. Garetson talked about the "Law of Balance," which he regards as the same as the Golden Rule. This law holds in practically all human relationships, and to break it means chaos. For instance, the departments of a business must be kept in balance, or they will eventually wreck the enterprise. Since Rotary is the Golden Rule applied to business, Rotarians should be highly interested in this law of balance, said the speaker.

The depression, thinks Mr. Garetson, is the result of our operating our businesses out of balance. We have been thinking entirely of ourselves; we need to start thinking about the other fellow. There is much talk about sharing jobs, but we shall also have to share business. Getting business near from a competitor by citting prices, giving secret discounts and the like has thrown commerce off balance. The law of supply and demand depends upon this balance.

The war opened up large markets for the United States, and at once our industrialists began to build for them. By and by the war ceased, but, the expansion of factories did not. In order to self their products, they made uneconomic prices. They doubled production to reduce costs and make montey, but had to lower prices, so that profits were cut instead. Overproduction was due largely to business grabbing.

HOLIDAY MART TO BE STAGED IN M. E. GYM

Burlington county's new sheriff, George N. Wimer, took his oath of office Tuesday noon at the county courthouse and assumed his duties at midnight of the same day.

The oath was administered by Judge Charles A. Rigg in the court room where the Iraca murder trial had just adjourned for the noon recess. The trial witnesses, spectators and other participants gave way to a large gathering of the new sheriff's friends who filled the courtroom.

After the long oath was recited, the Rev. George Lockett, of the Palmyrn Baptist Church of which Mr. Wimer is a member, presented to the new sheriff a beautiful bouquet from Mrs. Wimer and two fine baskets of flowers. One was from a committee of Palmyra citisens, and the other from Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Giberson, lifelong friends of the new county official. "Y" ASKS FOR USE OF HIGH SCHOOL GYM

A request has been made through the Board of Directors of the Y.M.CA. to the Board of Education of the Palmyra School system to use the high school symmasium for recreation in the evening for men and boys.

This plant can be equipped for "Soft Ball" the same as was played on the field at the Riverton Memorial Park this summer, volley ball, or for the more active, basketball. Anyone interested is asket to voice his opinion to some member of the Board of Education. Better still, there will be a public meeting to discuss the pros and cons of such a plan at the "Y" building, Broad and Clarfield avenues, Palmyra, on Wednesday evening, November 23, at eight o'clock.

Every fellow out of school and over 18 years of age, employed, unemployed, financially embarassed or what not is welcome at this meeting. No formal set program, but a demonstration of your interest in such a plan.

Frank A. Durgin, Jr., president of the Palmyra Board of Education, delivered the address of welcome at the meeting of the Palmyra Parent-Teacher Association in the high school auditorium Tuesday evening.

The meeting was known as "Pathers' Night", and in his address Mr. Durgin unged all fathers, as well as mothers, to keep in close touch with the school activities, and to visit the classrooms from time to time.

He also told the parents present of the possibility of using the school building in the evenings, as a community center, a place where boys and girls of various organisations in the town could enjoy, and use to good advantage, their leisure hours.

Mr. Durgin stressed the fact that the deciding of this issue was up to the citizens, the taxpayers of the town, as they will have to pay necessary bills for lighting and heating the school building. Mr. Durgin stated that he would greatly appreciate any comments from the citizens in the town in regard to the matter.

Mrs. J. C. Mallory, president of the P. T. A. thanked the organisation for sending her to the state convention, which was held in Atlantic City recently and read a splendid report of the trip.

By special arrangement with the Moorestown Community House it is now possible for groups of boys with their leader or responsible adult to spend an hour or more in the pool. The charge for a small group is 15 cents per person, this includes towel and locker service. The Lone Eagle Group with Kenneth Snow enjoyed a splash on Armistice Day, H. C. Schwering and Arthur Burns transported the lads.

The Annual State Older Boys' Conference will be held this year in Westfield, New Jersey, in North Jersey, as last year it was at Haddonfield. We will be represented by the following fellows: Robert Hahn, a member of the Commission of 125 that have planned the program; Howard Yerkes, Russell Rivers and Beretary Wilton E. Mount.

Raymond Lamont's Group, the second year men will hold a party and feature night at the Howard Taylor Cabin on the riverfront. Every group hooks forward to an evening spent in that lovely natural setting with good eata and fellowship before the open fireplace. Monday night is their regular meeting night and their place will be taken by the Board of Directors and the Women's Auxiliary, holding a joint meeting. The regular board meeting always held on the fourth Thursday will be postponed until the Monday gathering.

This Saturday and Sunday the Palmyra-Riverton "Y" Secretary will be in conference with the leaders of the Y. M. C. A. work of the Eastern region at a conference being held at the Sloane House in New York City. The theme will be the "Aims and Objectives of the Young Men's Christian Association in the Community".

Alfred VanOsten to Have Charge of Service at

The Boy Scouts of Troop No. 1, Palmyra, will hold a Court of Honor and Investiture Service Treesday evening at eight o'clock in the Epworth M. E. Church.

Alfred Van Osten will be in charge, and the court will be made up of the following members of the Palmyra High School faculty: Prof. C. F. Dengler, Mr. Devore, Mr. Hughes, Mr. Wolfe, Mr. Scott, and Mr. Shaefer.

This insures all the mothers, dads, and friends a court of dignity and one that will prove encouraging to the Scouts in the work they are so earnestly endeavoring to carry on.

The Investiture Service will be in charge of Scoutmaster A. B. Branson. Few men have given so earnestly and willingly of their time and energy in boys' work as Mr. Branson. The loyalty and respect that the Scouts have for him makes him particularly fitted to administer the first obligation in Scouting.

It is hoped that all the parents and Offers Home Conveniences

A FEW CENTS A DAY

HE increased use of electric service by the New Jersey housewife has enabled her to create a more attractive, comfortable and livable home-and to keep it so with little

The proper use of electricity assures correct lighting in her home; it gives her convenient and automatic refrigeration; it reduces her physical effort through labor saving devices; it puts at her command many convenient toilet accessories and health aids.

And this use of electricity costs her only a FEW CENTS A DAY.

There is no other expenditure in her household budget that gives so much for so little.

The fray started with the Pale receiving the kickoff. Not being able to gain, Beddow punted and Rodine, the Bordentown star back returned it thirty yards. Bordentown could not gain and punted.

Beddow ran twenty yards on a fake kick as the quarter ended. During the second period the teams batted back and forth, neither gaining much ground and as the hulf ended, Beddow shot a nass to Carpenter.

The second half began with Bordentown kicking to the Pale. They could not gain and Beddow punted. Bordentown kicking to the Pale. They could not gain and Beddow punted. Bordentown could not gain an inch through the Pale sterling line and had to kick.

The Pale started an offensive march with Mathis playing a major part and went up the field for a totochdown. Mathis taking it over. The try for the extra point was blocked. Palmyra kicked off to Bordentown and the quarter ended.

The last quarter began with Bordentown threatening the Pale goal line. Beddow passed to Carpenter for a twenty-five yard gain as the game ended.

Fay, Miccuel and Davidson played outstanding ball on the line, while Mathis, Beddow and Carpenter showed in the backfield. Bodine was the Bordentown star.

Marvin A. C. of Camden Defeated by 6 to 0 Score on Sunday

Riverton broke into the winding column Sunday, when they defeated the powerful Marrin A. C., of South Canden, by the score of 6-0. A pass from Aktinson to Breiman in the third quarter provided the margin of victory for Riverton. Riverton outplayed Marvin throughout the game, passing up several other chances to score.

Score.

Only in the waning moments of the game did Marvin threaten Riverton's goal line, when a series of successful passes brought the ball from Marvin's 90-yard line to Riverton's 30-yard line to Riverton's 30-yard line. Here the Riverton line tightened and the ball was taken on downs.

'PALS' TO BATTLE BURLINGTON H. S.

Will Meet Riverside High or Thanksgiving; Hope

The "Pala" will oppose the two major opponents in these two battles Baturday the Red and White team will meet Burlington High School at Palmyrs.

Two years ago Burlington won this game, last year Palmyra won by the score of 13-6. This year both teams will be full of that fighting spirit and the battle promises to be one of the physician, refusing to permit Pummer to combinue after the latter failed to respond to treatment in his dressing quarters.

As Orip had promised the winner a match with Daviscourt, and both seemed eager to meet the rugged Californian, Crip was surprised when he received a wire from Cox to the effect that the latter did not care to meet Daviscourt at this time.

Crip then obtained McKay to go to the mat with Daviscourt, and the match should go down in mat history as a bitter battle. Daviscourt only has shown in Camden twice, being disqualited in his first match with Fred "Empty Face" Gribbner, for fouling, and twice plinning Plummer after the latter had won the Bret India. Daviscourt is a throwback to the "stone age" and McKay isn't much further advanced. Both are seasoned veterans, can give and take it, and the combat should be worth going nifes to witness.

Three other bouts round out a colerum strongman, who drew with George McLeod, last Monday night, needs Babic Caddock, of New York, who held George Vassall to an even break in the same chow, in the 45-minute semi-final. McLeod an "Institut Tommy" Marvin, or Oklahoma, meet in the second bout, and Bruno Corasinni, of Rally, faces Floyd Marshall, of California, in the opener.

Laddes Accompanied by escuris, will be admitted free.

Record Indicates Real Classic Will Result in Traditional Battle

The traditional Thankagiving fuct-ball chassic between Mount Holly Righ School and Moorestown High School and Moorestown High School and Moorestown High School promises to be one of the closest battles ever staged in the annals of the rivalry between these two acheeds. Records to date give a slight edge to the county seat gridders who have runs up five victories, one tie and one lose. This record alone would prove the Mount Folly-learn superior to the Quakers, but a Mount Holly-Moorestown game is never won or lost until the final whistle.

Coach isenberg's cleven, white recording no impressive list of victories, has played a courageous brand of football and plently of fight. The Quakers have won three games in a hard schedule, tied one and lost three. Despite the foregoing record the outcome of the Turkey Day game is hard to forecast, but the battle is undoubtedly going to be an interesting one to witness.

AMATEUR BOXING AT MOUNT HOLLY ARENA

The cream of Burlington county anateur boxers will meet in Batterson's Arena, Mount Holly, this Friday night on a card aponsored by the Mount Holly AAU.

Ten bouts are listed for the evening, under the match-making of Eddie "Gunboat" Smith, well-known boxing promoter.

County boxing fans are enthusiante over the contests being staged at the county seat arens, and a good crowd is expected to be present this Friday night.

TO END THIS WEEK

This week marks the deciding week in the Palmyra-Riverton Quoit Tour-nament, which has been going on for the past two months on the courts at Schwering's Hardware store.

There have been some very close and exciting games during that time, also one series of games that ended in a the, so it can be seen that the teams are very evenly matched. The following scores are for the citize season, with the number of games left to filtish. These games had to be postponed on account of the great amount of rain during the past two weeks.

Next Sunday evening the Annual Thank-Offering Service will be held. It is a good thing to give thanks, especially in such a way as to help spread God's blessings to others. The thank-offerings go to the great work of spreading the gospel of salvation in Christ. The children of the Light Brigade will present a short sketch called "Let's All Give Thanks." And the women of the Missionary Society will have a dialogue called "A Pageant of Boxes."

At the morning service the series on Fruits of the Spirit will be completed, treating of "Meekness and Faithfulmess."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Boul and Body" will be the subject of the leason-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, November 20, 1932.

The Golden Text is: "I wait for the Lord, my soul doth wait, and in his word do I hope" (Paslms 130: 5).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "I beseech you therefore, hrethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice; holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service. And be not conformed to this world: but be yoe transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect, will of God" (Romans 12: 1, 2).

The lesson-sermon is all churches the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Let us feel the divine enery of Sprit, bringing us into newness of life and recognizing no mortal nor material power as able to destroy, Let us rejoice that we are subject to Church last Sunday. Services Will be Held Satur day Afternoon at 2.00 O'clock

George W. Rogers, prominent Pal myra man and former Burlington County Freeholder, died in the Cooper Hospital, Camden, Tuesday evening a 10.45 o'clock.

Mr. Rogers, who was sixty-one years d, was taken to the hospital Tuesday morning after being seriously injured when he was thrown from his day morning after being seriously injured when he was thrown from his saddle horse at Broad street and Washington avenue, Palmyra.

Following a custom which he had established several years ago, Mr. Rogers was taking his early morning canter, when his horse shied at a brightly colored truck and sideswiped a pole, throwing him to the ground. He was taken to the hospital by Patrolman Lawrence Betty, of Palmyra, in the police car. Mr. Rogers suffered a fractured skull, a broken arm and internal injuries.

Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at two oclock at the Snover Funeral Home. The Rev. George Lockett, pastor of the Central Baptist Church, Palmyra, will deliver a brief talk and interment will be made in the Westheld Friends' Burial Ground. All organizations of which Mr. Rogers was a member are invited to the services. Friends may call Friday evening.

The deceased is survived by his widow, Mrs. Fannie E. Rogers, a son, Harvey Rogers, of Long Island, N. Y., and two daughters, Mrs. Eckert Ballinger, of Palmyra, and Miss Vera Rogers, who is a student at Palmyra High School.

Mr. Rogers, who was very active in civic and fraternal circles, was county director of roads when he served on the Board of Precholders. In recent years he has devoted his business activities to his real estate and insurance business in Palmyra, He was a member of the Masons, the Palmyra-Riverton Rotary Club, the P. O. S. of A., the White Shrine, Covenant Chapter, O. E. S., Lulu Shrine, Excelsior Consistory, Burlington Commandery, Burlington Chapter, Knights Templar, the P. O. of A. and the Elks.

COMMITTEE TO ASK

Committees

At a meeting of the Riverton-Cinnaminson unit of the New Jersey Taxpayers Association, held at the Riverton Country Club Tuesday night, a resolution was passed requesting the president to appoint a committee of linee to cooperate with similar committees from the Riverton Borough Council, Palmyre Borough Council, Township Committee of Cinnaminson Township, and interested civic associations, in an effort to secure a reduction in the water rates charged private consumers by the Riverton-Palmyra Water Company.

The chair announced the appointment of the committee would be made at an early date.

Henry L. Randall was elected treasurer of the association to take the place of H. M. Kieckhefer, resigned.

Mrs. Hirsch illustrated the working: Mrs. Hirsch illustrated the workings of the National Red Cross by citing the spiendid work that the emergency committee did in a town in Alabama which was completely under water in 24 hours. The emergency committee supplied food, ciothing, medical care and commercial credit to rehabilitate the town.

Closer Bond

The Auxiliary was indeed fortunate to have such speakers and we feel that this will bring a closer bond between the Red Cross and American Legion Auxiliary, both being service organizations. Several members of the Auxiliary are assisting with the Red Cross drive. The Auxiliary has also offered to assist with the sewing of the 1,443 yards of cotton material which was sent to Palmyra by the national organization.

In conjunction with "National Children's Book Week," November 13-19, the Auxiliary contacted the three schools in Riverton and Palmyra with the intent of purchasing a book for the library of each. The book purchased for public school of Palmyra is a Newburry prize book for 1928. "Gay Neck," written by Allan Murkerji. The book most desired by Sacred Heart School, Riverton, was one concerning the life of Lincoln. The book for Riverton public school was "Children's Book of Patriotic Stories," by Asa Dickerson.

Membership chairman, Mrs. Raymond Lichter, and committee, are glad to report that membership is increasing. The meaning of membership is the Auxiliary in its larger significance is an opportunity to help care for the men who gave their health for their country, to look after the children whose fathers were taken for a bigger duty, to aid in the development of this great country for which so many have been willing to die, to raise a voice for the maintenance of its defense, to assist in fostering its international friendships and to stard guard over its principles and ideals. So you can realize that membership in the American Legion Auxiliary means SERVICE.

Governor A. Harry Moore's Thanksgiving proclamation follows:

"The people of New Jersey should give thanks this year for a heightening of the spirit of true charity and justice.

"Too often Thanksgiving Day means merry-making and rejotcing without due regard to the true solemnity of the occasion.

"It is easy to give thanks when we are blessed with an abundance of this world's goods, but to give thanks when so many of us are lacking so much that makes life comfortable and happy is an indication that we have grasped the real significance of the word.

"Thanksgiving is but an empty phrase if it does not include a devout appreciation of the truth that every good gift and every perfect gift comes from God'. That is the first consideration and acknowledgment of the Providence of God toward us. If, during the past year, material gifts have not been so pleniful, we have received that greater 'good gift', a heightening of the spirit of true charity and justice.

"We have done more than give alms; we have come closer to a consideration of what we owe our fellow man. We are less selfash and more prone to consider not merely the physical needs of our neighbor, but what, in justice, is due him.

"In this state we have also been free from great physical disasters of our heighbor, but what, in justice, is due him.

"In this state we have also been free from great physical disasters within this past year. We have even been spared great extremes of heat and cold which have marked other years, and which are so trying upon the poorly-nourished and upon those who cannot easily command the comforts of life. For all of these blessings give thanks.

"Therefore, I. A. Harry Moore, Governor of State of New Jersey, do hereby proclaim Thursday, November 24, as Thanksgiving Day, and I ask the people of the State of New Jersey to gather in their places of worship, as well as in their homes, to render thanks to Almighty God for his gifts."

Party December 12

The card party for the benefit of the Riverton Free Library on Tuesday was a big success financially, and brought together club members and their friends for a very enjoyable afternoon. The main room of the club house was decorated with fall flowers, and the card tables filled the room to capacity. There were thirty-five tables of bridge played, and some people interested in the library fund who could not attend sent contributions, while others dropped in for tea at four-thirty, some of the junior club members helping to serve. There were three lucky number door prizes, and a book was given for the high score ace heach table. One door prize, a subscription to the New Jersey State Garden Magazine, was won by Mrs. E. B. Showell; another, a subscription to the House Beautiful magazine, was won by Mrs. E. B. Showell; another, a subscription to the House Beautiful magazine, was won by Mrs. E. M. Kinsey. Juniors Enjoy Unique Party
The Juniors held their monthly business meeting on Monday evening, November 21. Each member went dressed to represent a different book, such as, Tom Sawyer and Huckleberry Pinn, Little Black Sambo, Alice in Wonderland, A Child's Garden of Verses, Little Lord Fauntleroy, the French Twins, Heldi, and others. Mrs. Elwell's committee entertained the girls by giving a number of short book reviews, and brought book jackets of the new books in the library, which were displayed around the room as appropriate decorations.

A box of home-mane fudge was awarded as a prize to Miss Mary Tyler and Miss Alice Parrish, who represented Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde.

Refreshments were served at the close of the evening.

The next meeting will be a Christmas party, at the home of Mrs. J. Douglas Clark, on December 12, when the girls will fill the stockings for the State Colony at New Lisbon.

"The Collegians," an orchestra composed of six local boys, will provide anappy Jazz tunes, favorite marches and other music. The youths who compose the band are: Charence Hubbs, Jr., William Evans, Merritt Dengler, Fred Davis, Lawrence Bradshaw and William Cooper.

"Pat' Steedle will again lead the singing this year. All those men and boys who have attended previous Pather and Son Banquets know that this means real singing and that the rafters will once again ring with the cheery songs of the dads and lads. Clarence Hubbs, Jr., will be at the plano to accompany the community singing.

A request was sent to "Bill" Carr Olympic track star of the University of Pennsylvania, to be with the members of the Palmyra-Riverton "Y" on this occasion, but the "fleet-foot" was engaged in fraternity activities for that evening. Annual Collection of Funds for Relief Work Now Being Made Coincident with the Welfare Federation campaign in Philadelphia, our own Welfare Association of Riverton and Cinnaminson is asking for contributions to carry on the work for the coming year. The Cent-a-Day plan, unique in Riverton and so successful last year, will again be adopted. This plan gives young and old an opportunity without any great sacrifice on their part to help those less fortunate.

Carefully planned budgets in every family and supervision and investigation on the part of the social worker, reduce the spending of welfare funds to a minimum. The fact that, compared with other communities, there has been so little demand for funds during this period, is ample proof that our money is being carefully spent where it will do the maximum amount of good. Every penny which you give helps buy milk or food for undernourished children or contributes toward a pair of glasses, medical treatment which is badly needed or some other actual necessity. We are asking that you do your share to make our communities happier and more wholesome for all.

We need bedclothes, women's underwear and sweaters. If you have clothing stored away, why not put it to good use? Cold nights and poorly heated houses bring great misery to little children unless they are warmly tucked in bed at night and adequately clothed during the day.

Representatives from the Emergency Relief of New Jersey are invajiably amazed at the remarkable cooperation in our communities. We are proud of it and are going to carry on this year with the spirit so characteristic of Riverton and Cinnaminson.

Albert Nies, varsity soccer and lacrosse coach of Princeton University, will be the principal speaker at the Tenth Annual Father and Son Banquet to be held by the Palmyra Riverton Y.M.C.A. in the Central Baptist Church, Palmyra, Tuesday, November 29.

Mr. Nies is very well-known throughout South Jersey, as he has spoken at many events of this kind on previous occasions. He is well-qualified to deliver this address to the youth of Palmyra and Riverton because of his wide experience in handling boys.

Mrs. Harry L. Rogers conducted the study group held in the kindergarten at two-thirty, and her topic, "Punishment — the Moral Thermometer," was thought-provoking and created many questions. "It is a wise idea to wait five minutes or so before sentencing a child and in this way, if we are in ill humor, he is punished out of proportion to his actual wrongdoing.

"If possible, it is a good idea for parents to get together and work out a suitable scale of punishments to fit their particular household. In this way, the child knows who to expect and perhaps will think twice before incurring that punishment." Study Group

The Auxiliary was indeed fortunate to have such speakers and we feel that this will bring a closer bond between the Red Cross and American Legion Auxiliary, both being service organizations. Several members of the Auxiliary are assisting with the Red Cross drive. The Auxiliary has also offered to assist with the sewing of the 1,443 yards of cotton material which was sent to Palmyra by the national organization.

In conjunction with "National Children's Book Week," November 13-19, the Auxiliary contacted the three schools in Riverton and Palmyra with the intent of purchasing a book for the library of each. The book purchased for public school of Palmyra is a Newburry prize book for 1928, "Glsy Neck," written by Allan Murkerji. The book most desired by Sacred Heart School, Riverton, was one concerning the life of Lincoln. The book for Riverton public school was "Children's Book of Patriotic Stories," by Asa Dickerson.

Juniors Enjoy Unique Party
The Juniors held their monthly business meeting on Monday evening. November 21. Each member went dressed to represent a different book, such as, Tom Sawyer and Huckleberry Finn, Little Black Sambo. Alice in Wonderland, A Child's Garden of Verses, Little Lord Fauntleroy, the French Twins, Heidi, and others. Mrs. Eiwell's committee entertained the girls by giving a number of short book reviews, and brought book jackets of the new books in the library, which were displayed around the room as appropriate decorations.

A box of home-mace fudge was awarded as a prize to Miss Mary Tyler and Miss Alice Parrish, who represented Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde.

Refreshments were served at the close of the evening.

The next meeting will be a Christmas party, at the home of Mrs. J. Douglas Clark, on December 12 when the girls will fill the stockings for the State Colony at New Lisbon.

WELFARE ASKS FOR DONATIONS

Annual Collection of Funds for Relief Work Now Being Made

Now Being Made

The community."

Mrs. Francis B. Elwell, president of the Riverton Parent-Teacher Association, made a brief report to the State Convention, held in Atlantic City, November 2-4. ing Made

Coincident with the Welfare Federation campaign in Philadelphia, our own Welfare Association of Riverton and Cinnaminson is asking for contributions to carry on the work for the coming year. The Cent-a-Day plan, unique in Riverton and so successful last year, will again be adopted. This plan gives young and old an opportunity without any great sacrifice on their part to help those less fortunite.

Carefully planned budgets in every family and supervision and investigation on the part of the social worker reduce the spending of welfare funds to a minimum. The fact that, compared with other communities, there has been so little demand for funds during this period, is ample proof that our money is being carefully spent where it will do the maximum amount of good. Every penny which you give helps buy milk or food for undernourished children or contributes toward a pair of glasses, medical treatment which is badly needed or some other actual necessity. We are asking that you do your share to make our communities happier and more wholesome for all.

We need bedcothes, women's underwear and sweaters. If you have cothing stored away, why not put it to good use? Cold nights and poorly heated houses bring great misery to little children unless they are warmly tucked in bed at night and adequately clothed during the day.

Representatives from the Emergency Relief of New Jersey are invariably amazed at the remarkable cooperation in our communities. We are proud of it and are going to carry on this year with the spirit so characteristic of Riverton and Cinnaminson.

POLICE FIND STOLEN CAR

A brown Ford coupe stolen from in front of a Riverside restaurant and owned by James Santino, of Riverside, was recovered by Officer Robinson, of the Riverton police, Wednesday night. The car was taken at 11.45 p. m. and was found at 900 Main street at 12.15 a. m. Two youths reported to Robinson that they had seen two men abandon the car and run toward Moorestown. Robinson looked for the men but they had made good their escape.

RED CROSS RECEIVES GOVERNMENT COTTON

Garments for the Needy Will Be Ser

by Thousands of Women

Red Cross representatives from every town in the county have received their quotas of materiasi made from government-owned cotton, from the office of the County Director of Emergency Relief, which will be used for the making of garments for the needy. Already scissors, n e e d le s' (and tongues) are busy while the garments are being made and the sewing room which was a familiar type of "win the war" endeavor during 1917-1918, is duplicated now. In the swing rooms of 1932 thousands of women are engaged in making garments for unemployed men and their families.

There are pretty prints for dresses for the kiddles and mother; gingham for shirts for the boy and dad; outing flannel for sleeping garments and bloomers; yellow muslin for under-clothing and soft white flannel for the wee babies, so it would seem great comfort should be given all with these articles of clothing.

Just as in the days of the World War, the rallying point for the relief work, and the fine effort to support the morale of our troops, was under the Red Cross flag—so do we find this the common meeting ground for the unemployment relief of 1932.

About December 1 over 11,000 readymade garments, such as heavy cotton rint underwear, heavy cotton stockings and socks, trousers, over-alls and jumpers for the men, corduroy knickers and cotton shirts and stockings for the baby will be available in our county, to be distributed through the Red Cross.

In this period of economic depression the Red Cross is doing its utsmost to serve humanity in every possible way.

GIVES REPORT ON

Mrs. J. C. Mallory, President Palmyra Association, Writes Excellent Paper

The following is the report of the thirty-second annual convention of the New Jersey Congress of Parents and Teachers as given by Mrs. J. C. Mallory, president of the Palmyra P.T.A., at the regular meeting on Tuesday, November 15.

"The 32nd Annual Convention of the N. J. Congress of Parents and Teachers convened November 2, 3, 4, 1932, in the Hotel Chelsea, Atlantic City, N. J.

1932, in the Hotel Chesea, Atlantic City, N. J.

"The Convention theme was "Education for Creative Living".

"Dr. Gary Cleveland Myers, of Western Reserve University, conducted a Round Table discussion the afternoon of November 2, on "Creativeness in the Young Child". Conversation in the home, he said, is rapidly being displayed by long distance radio conversation. Parents should insist on self-control in children and not permit the attempt to escape work. He suggested the reading of Hugh Mearns book, "Creative Youth". In the evening Dr. Myers gave a humorous address, "How We Annoy Our Children", scoring parents for thinking for their children and interrupting their conversation.
"Our international president, Mrs. A. H. Reeves, told of the progress and difficulties met in other countries."

Needs and Capacity

"Continuing, Mrs. Little stated that education today is focused on the child in terms of needs, capacity and background and that the school, the church and the community are the factors which shape the life and eternal destiny of the child. They must train him to face the issues frankly and fearlessly, to deal with facts as he finds them. Furthermore, education of the future must fatroduce our young people to a wide range of life interests, encourage hobbies and appreciate the wonders of nature. It must introduce them to the realm of good reading, fine fausic and arts.

"In closing, Mrs. Little added "Greative Living" makes us all responsive to God and the realization that everything is in His hands and makes his responsible for education and the recognition of the beauty of life.

"Dr. John Spargo, Assistant Commissioner of Education, spoke on "Do Public Schools Develep Creative Living in Children?" The child has as much a part in the school as the teacher or Board of Education, we want to develop individuality, but one must remember, also, that one is living with a group and has a responsibility to that group, He said it was much better to change a boy's vocation while at school, if he desires it, than to wait until the boy discovered his mistake ten or fifteen years later. Dr. Spargo left this definition with us; "Creative Education Is the Whisper of a Promise of Freedom to the Sleeping Genius in All of U."

Whisper of a Promise of Freedom to the Sleeping Genius in All of Us."

Dr. Reynolds Speaks

"The main address Thursday evening was given by Dr. Rollo Reynolds, principal Horace Mann School. His subject was "Schools to Build a Better World". He quoted Dr. Briggs, of Teachers' College, in saying "Education is teaching boys and girls to do better the things they would do, anyhow, and to lead them on to better things." He stated that creative education is trying to find out what is in the child—that power to know things worth knowing should be the education given a child.

"The power to do things, the power to think things straight in order to choose wisely, the power to feel straight, a feeling that comprises attitude, tolerance, kindliness, fairness, loyalty and dependability, must be developed by the school.

"Dr. Melchoir, of Girard College, made the address Friday morning on "The Enrichment of Home Life", "We can't buy an enriched home, he said, it must be made and the children must help. Let your home be a beautiful home that reflects you and your children. Keep your children froud of you. Your home life may well be judged by the character of your guests. Do you pay sufficient attention to your children's guests, he asked. What is there about your may well be judged by the character of your guests. Do you pay sufficient attention to your children's guests, he asked. What is there about your home that makes children and young folks want to be there? What effort is put forth to make your living room the most welcome spot for your children and their friends? It involves thought, trouble and planning, but you cannot enrich your home without it."

Books Tell the Story

"He spoke of the books and magazines that we make available for our children and stated one could probably tell more about the background of a home from its books, magazines and music than from any other thing.

"Mrs. A. W. Patterson, Director of Extension and Organization, reported an increase of 6,780 in membership.

"Mrs. I. Little in her annual report, declared that much time and money had been spent in caring for unfortunate families. From the smallest rural unit to the largest city group, New Jersey Congress has had an envious responsibility in interpreting the children's charter by feeding the undernourished, by supplying sunshing closets with outgrown clothing and shoes, so that children might not be deprived of school advantages."

RIVERTON SCHOOL

"Book Week", which began November 14, was celebrated in various ways by the children of Riverton school. The second grade visited the free library and learned how to use and take care of a book. The children are now striving to be good readers, so that they may join the library. So far Jack Welkel is the only one who has received a card. The object of their trip was to show the children how quiet they should be while they are reading.

Other grades celebrated "Book Week" in different ways; such as making paper masks to represent characters in books or giving oral talks on books. The entire school celebrated "Book Week" in the assembly. Mrs. Williams' class gave a play and Louise McFadden gave a poem, pertaining to books.

SWORN IN WEDNESDAY COST OF COUNTY RELIEF EXPLAINED

Each Person Had to Pay 17.6 Cents During Past

The cost of emergency relief in Burlington county averaged 17.8 cents per person in the county during the past year, the annual report of the State Emergency Relief Administration shows.

This per capita cost, actually shared by the state as well as the county and municipal governments, roughly compares to a municipal per capita cost of one-half cent in the last per-depression year, 1929, when municipalities were able to bear the expense alone, and while this comparison is not a true barometer, it is highly indicative of the increase in relief requirements.

County Relief Director Franklin 3 Chambers stated at his headquarters that relief in Burlington county, with a population of 93,541, cost approximately $189,526 in the year ending October 1, of which the municipal and county share amounted to $63,560 and the state share $125,946. On a percapita basis, the municipal-county share amounted to $63,560 and the state share the municipal control of the state of the municipal county share amounted to $63,560 and the state share share was $1.9 cents and the state share was $1.9 cents and the state share was $1.7 cents.

These figures do not include the cost of relief administration within the county which amounted to $6,746.78 or 5.352 per cent. of the total amount expended for relief. The average cost of administration expense in all of the state's 21 counties amounted to 2.214 per cent.

Director Chambers said 5.206 individuals are being sustained in the county now, and an estimated 3,000 have been aided during the twelve months period for various lengths of time.

What next?

POLITICAL LANDSLIDE

In every part of the country there are Republican office-holders casting final looks over their jobs and wondering "where do we go from here." All the fat places will be taken over by Democrats and only the smaller salaried positions will be protected by the Civil Service. There will be a big sweep in Washington, just as there was at the beginning of the Wilson administration twenty years ago, and at the beginning of the Republican regime under Harding twelve years ago.

The House of Representatives remains unchanged in the hands of the Democrats, but there has been a veritable slaughter of Senators. The Democrats have a clear majority and it remains to be seen whether they will reward the Republican bolters who helped them win the election with fat committee chairmanships. They don't have to unless they want to, and it is not likely that Democratic Senators will relish the prospect that faces them of taking back-seats in order than men like Norris, labeling themselves Republican, shall control important committees that will shape a "new deal" under Roosevelt, when he becomes President.

The voters of the Nation went in for the may be realized. But how? Echo answer "how!" Former Judge Boyle paid tribute to Leaming's forebears, who came to this country from Leamington, England, early in the Colonial period. He told of Leaming's fisher serving in the New Jersey Schale during the Civil War, of his education and early practice at the bar, in this state, Washington state and California and his return to New Jersey in 1903.

"The force and spirit of Edmund D Leaming were constantly and chiefly expressed in his oral and written judgments in the Court of Chancery." former Judge Hoyle said. "His was the living apirit of equity, always displaying patience, firmness, gentleness and rectitude. Unapproschable to those with something to but over, he was always considerate to those in difficulty, whether litigant, counsel, friend or neighbor.

FOR HUNTING, FINHING

New Jersey game wardens are warning hunters and fishermen against loaning their license rards or buttons to other persons, thereby laying themselves open to arrest and heavy penalities. The unlicensed gunner who seeks to evade paying for his share of fish and game upkeep. by borrowing a friend's license pulls down a double-barreled penalty, making both himself and the license liable to fines of $20 with costs or a jail term. Records of penalities paid by license loaners last year, the wardens say, prove that it is a mighty poor type of "friend" who will borrow another's license.

"WASHING THE DISHES"

ATCO WINS OVER RIVERTON A. A., 6-0

Blocked Kick Behind Goal Line Spells Defent for Local Eleven

A Riverton kick, blocked behind their own goal line and retrieved by an Atco player, provided the margin of victory for the Atco "Imps" over Riverton A. A. last Sunday at Atco. After fighting evenly for three quarters, Riverton weakened in the final minutes of the last quarter where the disastrous kick gave Atco the 6-0 edge. The game was one of the hest geen on the Atco field this season, with the contest nip and tuck most of the playing time. It seemed to be anybody's game but Riverton's failure to come through on the kicking brought defeat.

Moorestown Grappler on Same Card With Champion Next Monday

den Convention Hall, in the feature combat.

Daviscourt earned the right to clash with Londos as a result of beating Pat McKay, tough Memphis citizen, in the main go Monday night, the Californian having won in straight falls. Joe Kleckner, clean-cut teacher of mathematics at Moorestown High School, will mingle with Joe Rinaldi, of Italy, in the opening bout. This will be a 30-minute affair, one fall to decide the winner. Kleckner pinned Oscar Nygren, 200, Sweden, with a crotch hold and body slam Monday night in 14 minutes, 48 seconds.

Ployd Marshall, who lost to Brune Gorasinni Monday night because the Californian was entirely too free with "rough stuff," comes back to grapple the clever Joe Cox, of Toledo, O., in the 48-minute semi-final, one fail to win.

"made" himself with the crowd. The clongsted Pollah youngster figured in a sensational draw with Earl Mr. Cready two weeks ago and then came back last Thursday night to flatten Sylvio Ramolli, and Mike should give George a strenuous struggle.

Herbie Freeman, Jewish New York heavyweight, who could not meet Count George Zarynoff, clever Ukrainian, here last Thursday night, due to injuries suffered in a fall from the ring a week previous, is slated to meet Wong Bock Cheung, native Chinese in the 30-minute semi-final.

Zarynoff returns to grapple with Ivan Vakturoff, of Russia, in the third bout; Leon "Arms" Pinetski, giant Foidh heavyweight, facea Lilo Nardi, of Italy, in the second bout, and Joe Montana, South Camden Italian, takes on Gene Bruce, of France, in the opener. One fall will decide the semi-final and all three preliminaries.

BUSINESS GIRLS HOLD SESSION

Mrs. Ira S. Pimm Delivers Enlightening Address to Young Women

The regular monthly business meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club was held Thursday evening in the "Y" building, Broad and Carfield avenue, Palmyra.

Miss Edith Tees favored the girls with two beautiful plano selections.

Miss Muriel Burgmann, president, then introduced Mrs. Ira B. Pinm, who gave a very educational and inspiring talk on the subject, "How Shail I Portify Myself Against Another Depression".

Shail I Fortify Myself Against Another Depression".

In order to do this Mrs. Pimm stated that we must cultivate a sense of beauty, history and spiritual values.

The girls of the club wish to express their thanks and appreciation to Mrs. Pimm for this splendid service rendered.

The next dinner meeting will be held on Monday, December 5, at Newlin's in Moorestown. Members will meet at the "Y" building at six o'clock.
