TOWN MEETING TO SEEK R.R. SERVICE

Direct Route to Phila. and More Trains is Objective of New Transportation Group

A small but enthusiastic group of Town Meetingers assembled last Friday in the Riverton Fire House where "transportation," a big factor in the future development of Riverton, occupied the limelight in the discussion.

President Harry L. Rogers appointed A. B. Garwood as chairman of transportation, and suggested that he pick his own committee to serve with him in handling this, one of Riverton's most needed improvements.

Garwood addressed the meeting and stated that having been in communication with railroad officials and he believed that by a concerted effort on the part of all of the riverfront towns improved railroad service could be obtained.

He hinted that a better service by means of gas-electric trains might be possible over the Delair bridge route. However, much ground work will have to be done by the committee before any real results will be obtained.

A constitution was read before the meeting by Dr. Rogers, while Mrs. Gilbert A. Coe presided over the meeting. The constitution was adopted by the members present.

Karl W. Latch, chairman of the Christmas decoration committee, speaking for the committee stated that at its final meeting the committee felt something should be done by the town meeting with regard to Riverton's Fourth of July celebration. A very general plan of action which the committee felt would be self liquidating was offered, but due to the small attendance, President Rogers felt that any official action on the part of the Town Meeting should be deferred until the next meeting.

Evan Stover made a motion that the Christmas decorating committee be commended by the Town Meeting for its work, and that the commendation of the meeting be spread upon the minutes. The motion was passed.

The following committees to serve permanently during the year were appointed by Dr. Rogers: Finance—Ross Elliott, Walter Rogers and Robert Ayres; Publicity—Karl W. Latch, Harry F. Jones and C. P. Mayfield; Public meetings—Frank Strohle and Evan Stover; Churches—Gardner Crowell, Miss Edith Smith, Mary McDermott, John Strohle, Mrs. A. M. Ellsworth, Perot Nevin, H. K. Rutherford and George Madison; Property improvement—Richard M. Woodward, Mrs. Bradford Stetson and Ralph Flower; Membership—M. Sontheimer, William Gootee, Emerson Wolfshmidt, James Goodwin, Charles Cole, Lincoln Ridley and Clarence Rodman; Smoke and odor abatement—Miss Elsie Biddle, Oliver Willits, Benjamin S. Mechling and Miss Anna Coale; Auditing—William Baker and Walter Blyler. The first name mentioned on all committees indicates chairmanship.

The transportation committee, headed by A. B. Garwood, will be announced at the next meeting.

MIRACLE WORKERS

Quite possibly the great weakness in our economic system has been inadequate distribution; but it remains to be seen how Mr. Richberg's (and Mr. Wallace's) schemes will achieve a wider distribution of goods than we have known in the past. If, as a result of their efforts, there is less to go around and it costs more, it is difficult to see how a wider distribution can be obtained.—Chicago Tribune.

The Governor of Delaware has appointed a Mosquito Control Commission. We trust that mosquitoes will be limited in their biting to a forty-hour week.

TAXPAYERS ASK CUT IN BUDGET

Freeholders Asked for Drastic Reductions in This Year's Expenditures

Radical reductions were recommended in the county budget for 1934, when it was up for a public hearing at the court house, Mount Holly, on Tuesday. The court room was crowded with taxpayers and the hearing lasted nearly three hours.

William H. Heisler, Jr., chairman of the Board of Freeholders, who presided, stated that the board had given a great deal of time in making up the budget and had held several conferences with committees from the Burlington County Taxpayers Association and Burlington County Granges.

"After going over every item of the budget with these committees, we found very few upon which we could not agree," said Mr. Heisler.

"As the budget is made up for a year in advance, the Board took into consideration the plan of the President of the United States to raise the prices of commodities during the year, and the fact that the cost of living is bound to increase with a sixty-cent dollar," the chairman stated. "The budget shows $31,351.31 less to be raised by taxation than last year in spite of the fact that our anticipated revenue is $60,000 less."

Clerk Alfonza Adams read the budget, which called for appropriations of $1,432,582 and the amount to be raised by taxation, $780,982.76.

Minority Report

Palmer L. Adams, newly-elected member of the board, presented a minority report on a number of items. He asked cuts of small amounts on appropriations for extra help, in car expenses, etc., and reductions in expenses of the surrogate's, county clerk's and county detective's offices; also in operation of the almshouse, asylum and tubercular hospital, New Lisbon; that the cost of the county engineering department be decreased; that an extra appropriation of $35,000 from the state for roads be charged against county bonds; that $25,000 be cut from the county payroll; that the salary of the solicitor, $3,500 be materially reduced; that the appropriation for new road equipment be cut from $20,000 to $10,000; that he is taking a cut of 25 per cent in salary and thought the other freeholders should do the same.

Total reductions suggested by Mr. Adams are $165,137.31. This, he said, can be done without injury to any department except roads, expenditures of which can be cut for one year without serious damage.

Mr. Adams pointed out that the Burlington county tax rate of $1.20 last year is considerably higher than that of any other agricultural county in New Jersey.

Mr. Adams stated that if he takes over supervision of the almshouse, (Continued on page 5)

Mr. Wolcott seconded the motion and it was unanimously passed.

Mr. Hemphill moved that two groups of election officers be appointed, one to conduct the voting of the people on the north side of the railroad, the other for the voters on the south side of the railroad. This motion was seconded and carried.

Mr. Hemphill moved that legal notice of the election be published in the February 1, 1934, issue of The New Era, which motion was seconded and carried.

SECOND ISSUE OF 'TODAY' MAGAZINE

Literature and Current Events Departments Entertain at Porch Club

Many Porch Club members gathered at the club house Tuesday afternoon to witness the second issue of the magazine "Today"—a take-off of "Time."

Arranged in a frame was the cover design of the magazine—"Cuban Kaleidoscope—Presidential Procession"—posed by Mrs. Charles H. Carpenter.

On the first page appeared National Affairs—"Alice Dollarworth" or "Behind the Times," a skit written by Mrs. Gail Ellsworth Warnick, portraying the trend national events have taken, represented by the following characters: Alice Dollarworth, by Mrs. Bradford Stetson; General Public, by Mrs. J. Gardner Crowell; Gold Standard, by Mrs. Raymond Fuller.

For the benefit of those who were not present Tuesday afternoon, and those who desire to hear it again, it has been arranged to have this skit, so cleverly written by Mrs. Warnick, repeated at the International Relations luncheon on February 6.

Each page contained a different subject, such as Foreign News—"Transatlantic Tattlings" read by Miss Helen E. Woolman.

The "Current Canvas" from the art exhibition, Lucretia Blankenburg, by Violet Oakley, was posed by Mrs. John H. Shinn.

Cinema—"Former Flapper" representing a scene from "Little Women," was acted by Mrs. John Douglas Clark, Miss Alice Parrish, Mrs. Audrey Earp, Miss Dora Parry, and Miss Evelyn Blyler from the Junior Club.

Philanthropy—"Welfare Workings"—by Mrs. E. Newbold Cooper, told us of the good the C.W.A. had done to our local townspeople.

"Prodigy's Performance" constituted the music page, Stanley Stewart, Jr., posing for the picture of Mozart at the age of five, and Mrs. Maurice G. Belknap, rendering the piano solo "The Minuet."

In Milestones—"Porch Club Proceedings"—our president, Mrs. Murray C. Boyer, brought to our minds the Covered Dish Luncheon to be held on February the sixth, at the club house, at one o'clock; at which time Miss Clara Haines, of Woodstown, first district chairman of International Relations, will give a talk on "International Relations and Legislation."

Mrs. Boyer also announced our nominating committee, consisting of Mrs. Edward Bertram, Mrs. Ralph Flower, Mrs. C. Singleton Mears, Miss Cornelia Coale, and Mrs. Harry L. Rogers, chairman.

The garden page—"Bulbous Burblings"—comprised a recitation by Mrs. Stuart Clark, enacted by Barbara Jane Ransom.

TENTATIVE OK OF SCHOOL PLAN

Plans O.K. and Urgent Need for Improvement Cited in Letter to School Board

Tentative approval of the plans and specifications for the proposed addition to the Riverton public school from the State Department of Public Instruction was given in the following letter which was read at the School Board meeting Monday night by Hilton M. Smith.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY

Department of Public Instruction
Trenton, N. J.
January 25th, 1934.

Mr. Hilton M. Smith, Pres.,
Board of Education,
Riverton, N. J.

Dear Sir:

Commissioner Elliott has requested me to give tentative approval of plans and specifications for alterations and additions to your Grade School for the purpose of applying for a Federal Loan under the Public Works Administration.

This approval does not eliminate the final approval under the New Jersey school laws, if and when you are prepared to proceed with the work.

Furthermore, I hereby endorse the necessity for said building as noted below:

At the present time you are using two portable buildings to house pupils in two of the lower grades. These portable buildings were erected for temporary purposes in 1929 and should be eliminated from the standpoint of comfort and health of the pupils.

The 1932 State School Building Survey showed that your school building scored 56.4 percent perfect. This indicates that extensive remodeling is necessary to meet the State School Building Code requirements. The Auditorium in the basement of the present building does not meet safety requirements and is inadequate for school and community purposes.

An addition of at least 4 classrooms and an Auditorium should be erected as soon as possible to the present building and the present building should be extremely altered to meet the requirements of the State Building Code.

Very truly yours,
(Signed) Herbert N. Morse,
Asst. Commissioner of Education.
HNM/S

A copy of this letter was sent to the PWA authorities by the State Department to support the application of the Board of Education now on file at Newark, New Jersey.

NOTICE

In deference to the requests of a number of my friends, I wish to announce that I am withdrawing my name as a candidate for the Borough of Riverton Board of Education at the coming election on February 13, 1934.

Richard M. Woodward.

TIPS ON GROWING

BY ONE WHO GREW UP IN THE BUSINESS

The Garden Club of Georgia awards a special medal to the member who has the greatest number of wild flowers growing in her garden. This section of New Jersey is especially rich in native plant life and a spot devoted to such a garden should prove highly interesting. Many native plants such as Hepaticas, Blue Closed Gentian, Snakeroot, etc., may be procured from nearby nurseries if you are not successful in finding them in your travels.

Chestnut street florists windows are featuring this week potted plants of Kurme Azalea "Coral Bells." This is a beautiful pot plant for the house at this season. Tests this season have shown that it is also perfectly hardy in this vicinity.

Usually pictured as an enormous black Calla Lily with a spadix like a policeman's club and held steady by a portly gentleman with a watch-chain-bound waistline, is the Amorphophallus Riveri, also, shudderingly known as Devil's Tongue, Snake Palm, Snake Plant and other ghastly appellations. It is one of the most odd of horticultural curiosities. The flower appears before the leaves which are large and oddly cut. The odor of the flower is far from attractive. Bulbs can be procured at any time now or in the spring and carried over until planting out time in May. This season, among the patented plants, a new hardy Climbing Rose makes its bow. The Golden Climber, which was christened with elaborate ceremony, Mrs. Arthur Curtis James. It is the first truly hardy golden yellow climber with quality bloom, able to withstand sub-zero temperature without injury. Another yellow variety with a very large flower under the name of Easlea's Golden Rambler, will be introduced to the rose-loving public next season and the latter may even supersede the new sort above referred to. The original plant in England has a spread of twelve feet and is ten feet tall. Its four-inch flowers are borne in clusters of from 7 to 14 or more.

If the soil is limey, and if you wish to grow Ericas, Azaleas, Rhododendrons and similar plants of a similar nature, it may be necessary to remove some of the lime-impregnated soil and fill in with leaf-mold, peatmoss or better still incorporate some Aluminum Sulphate which will produce the acid effect necessary for the well being of this type of plants.

Vinca rosea is one of the very nicest annuals you can plant in your garden. This "Madagascar Periwinkle" or "Old Maid" has an extremely long flowering season and is a very satisfactory bedder. Best sow the seed indoors now to get a good start. The color is rose with a dark eye. Vinca rosea alba is white with a crimson eye. There is also a pure white form and one a crimson-rose with a red eye.

NOTICE TO DEER HUNTERS

Those failing to attend the last meeting missed a rare treat as we had a lecture on "Game Hunting in India" by the Rev. Raymond Hall, of Pittsboro, formerly a missionary in India for 17 years.

The newly elected officers for the year 1934 are as follows:

P.H.S. SENIORS TO PRESENT PLAY

"What Happened to Jones?" Will Be Given in Auditorium on February 9 and 10

Now that Elmer is found, everyone, everywhere, is asking, "What Happened to Jones?"

The answer to this perplexing question will be revealed at the senior play, Friday and Saturday evenings, February 9th and 10th, in the Palmyra High School Auditorium.

"What Happened to Jones?" is an exciting and fast-moving comedy in three acts written by George H. Broadhurst. The main action is centered around Jones, a traveling salesman, who, in order to escape an encounter with the police, relies on an antiquated college professor to shield him. He moves to the professor's home and assumes the role of his brother, an Australian Bishop. His deception is not suspected by any of the other members of the professor's family and all goes smoothly until the real bishop arrives.

The manner in which Jones handles the situation and the many embarrassing positions he is placed in by the false role, not to mention the witty conversation and peppy action which is characteristic of Broadhurst, will delight the audience.

Sub-plots introduced by such characters as a love-sick spinster, a Swedish maid, an engaged couple, and last but not least, an escaped inmate from an asylum. All these factors are combined to make the play fascinating, and the outcome truly surprising.

Tickets may be secured from any High School senior and the proceeds of the event will finance the Seniors' trip to Washington in May.

The cast is as follows: "Jones," Clarence Hubbs; "Cissy," Carrie Haines; "Prof. Goodley," Leonard Goldberg; "Mrs. Goodley," Jean Rieger; "Richard Heatherly," Edwin Moore; "Marjorie" (his fiancée), Ella May Perkins; "Minerva," Catherine McNulty; "Holder" (a policeman), Carl Landgraf; "Rev. Goodley" (the bishop), Grover Fox; "Alvin Starlight," Alice Kase; "Bigbee" (inmate), John Gibson; "Helma" (maid), Margaret Habfast; "Fuller," Urie Megahan.

ANN HARDING AT WALT WHITMAN

Should a woman sacrifice her career on the altar of love? Should years of self-denial, of hard-earned work go for naught when romance beckons?

Dr. Maragaret Simmons, a world-famous plastic surgeon, believed love was the most important thing in a woman's life, and therein lies the drama of "The Right to Romance," Ann Harding's new starring film for RKO-Radio Pictures which is the feature photoplay for Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the Walt Whitman Theatre, 46th and Westfield avenue.

The solution of this intriguing problem provides an unusually powerful climax to the heart-grIPPING story of a woman who had devoted her life to making other women beautiful and desirable to men, only to find bitter disillusionment when love beckoned her. Nothing finer has ever been done on the motion picture screen, it is claimed, than Miss Harding's scene as she stands at the bedside of the girl who has stolen away her lover, her face registering the struggle for supremacy of the conflicting emotions of vengeance and pity within her soul. Robert Young is effectively cast as the charming but irresponsible husband, while Sari Maritz gives a skillful performance in the difficult role of the "other woman." Nils Asther evokes sympathy as the serious young scientist who squares the romantic triangle, and Irving Pichel, Alden Chase, Helen Freeman and Delmar Watson round out the fine supporting cast. Appearing on the Vaudeville portion of Thursday, Friday and Saturday's program are "The Romantic Tenor" William O'Neal, late feature on the Pontiac Hour over the Columbia Network, and star of "Contests Maritz," "New Moon," "Desert Song," and "Shoot the Works," also Roismans Alabamians, "Hollywood's Favorite Jazz Entertainers," featuring Harper Roismans, the Million Dollar Comedy Drummer, and other selected acts.

CINNAMINSON SCHOOL NOTES

Owing to a combination of circumstances, there was a small attendance at the study class last week, when Mr. Mount spoke on "Guidance through Recreation." Those present regret that others missed the appealing talk. These meetings have proved interesting, and have been well attended.

Wednesday evening, the twenty-fourth, Dr. George Tracy, from Beverly, talked to a few interested parents about "Facing Facts" with our children, offering a few questions that might arise in the childish mind as to the strange ideas of his elders. A free discussion followed, and all went home with much to meditate upon.

Thursday, Dr. Grafflin talked to the combined schools, Numbers Two and Four. A few parents who dropped in, were richly repaid by the ideas advanced in Dr. Grafflin's usual happy manner. The lunch room is happy and span in its freshly tinted walls and orange curtains. The cold weather made the delicious asparagus soup and baked tomatoes a very comforting adjunct to a sandwich lunch.

"SO IT SEEMS"

By Alfred Biggs

A Weekly Review of the World's News—spiced
with a few personal
opinions

Do the Stars Tell?

The 1934 edition of a well-known almanac now in its 114th year of publication says: "In the first quarter of 1934 great and awe-inspiring earthquakes are threatening Calcutta, India, and Eastern India, near Calcutta." This prediction was printed and published in 1933 and the almanac was on sale. A United States news report dated Calcutta, India, January 20th, 1934, says, in part "Reports reaching Calcutta today from the devastated state of Bengal indicate that the recent earthquake is one of the most stupendous human tragedies of modern times, with . . . 20,000 persons dead in the ruined cities." Is this mere coincidence or is it really possible to forecast by study of the stars?

Another Prophecy

The same almanac said: "New York will have a terribly cold and destructive snow blizzard." Well, about two weeks ago we had in New York a blinding blizzard and the lowest temperature on record. In the Spring quarter of 1934, the almanac also says, "The position of the workers of the world is fast becoming impractical and impossible." Intelligent observers of world events and trends need no almanac to tell them that, but the following prophecy will be interesting to check up later. "These conditions will create great problems in the Central States of U.S.A." Shakespeare said: "There are more things in heaven and earth than are dreamt of in your philosophy." Maybe he was right.

"The Man With the Hoe"

Apart altogether from any prophetic almanac which we can take with as many pinches of salt as suits our taste, it does seem that we are gradually evolving into a new era. The old era of intense industrialization, the vast profits of which were used by the few to exploit the many, was about ready to crash in 1914. The World War postponed its collapse, but the current depression, so it seems, marks its end. Many millions of people who have lost their possessions, whose lives have been robbed of their birthright of happiness, are asking "Why should our lives be spent in a seemingly unending struggle to subsist? The good earth in its fullness yields sufficient for every human being to have ample food, clothing and shelter. What's wrong with the system?" The new era about to dawn, although storm-clouds still cover the sky, will be the answer to the question. We of the present adult population may not live to see the question fully answered. But we can do our part and say, with Robert Louis Stevenson, "It is better to journey hopefully than to arrive."

"Playing with Fire"

In his expressed intention of limiting or curtailing salary disbursements under the Civil Works Administration the President, so it seems, is pursuing a dangerous policy. Discontent is growing. Those who found temporary relief under the provisions of CWA are filled with apprehension that they will be forced back again into the misery out of which they were lifted. The President feels that these people can be re-absorbed into other fields of activity through improvement in business conditions. He is over optimistic; business isn't improving to that extent, nor will it be sufficiently improved by May. He must be very careful; if the "forgotten man" forgets himself in his disappointment and resentment, there will be very serious conditions to face.

Cuba's New President

The situation in Cuba which was mainly brought about by the mendacity of our great banks is relieved somewhat by President Roosevelt's recognition of the new President of that island. As far as the governing classes in Cuba are concerned it probably will work. But if the resultant benefits do not quickly percolate down to the workers whose present condition is deplorable, the prophecy made months ago in this column, that we shall have a Communist Government right at our front door will be realized. The spirit of the poor wage earners in Cuba has been sorely wounded; they have suffered abominably—there is a limit to their capacity for suffering.

The Blue Eagle and Prices

The danger often referred to in this column of prices under NRA soaring beyond the reach of the purchasing power of the man in the street is becoming greater. Purchasing power is not increasing faster than prices. This is absolutely necessary if NRA is to work. The Government, so it seems, eventually will have to protect the consumer by exercising rigorous control over prices. That will mean Government in business with a vengeance. A howl will arise from employers, but it will be drowned out in the hurrahs of the employees. It certainly seems that we are on the way toward an American brand of State Socialism, although it probably will masquerade under some other name.

"A Rose by Any Other Name"

Let them call it what they will, so long as it brings some measure of happiness and relief to the many millions who desire no more than to do useful work, to have immunity from needless anxiety, to enjoy the companionship of acceptable friends. Undoubtedly the tide of events is flowing toward that. That many waves of present economic maladjustment, taken individually, are discouraging, but they are, after all, no more than incidental in the great inflowing tide which will eventually bring us happier conditions of life.

DAYS OF WONDERING

This is the season when we wonder if the January bills will leave us anything for the January sales.

—San Diego Union.

It is said that business in Canada is improving steadily and that that hardy nation will soon be out of the depression, minus a seven billion recovery deficit.

R. Perkins, Moorestown; Clifford R. Powell, Delanco; N. F. S. Russell, Edgewater Park; Dr. S. Emilen Stokes, Moorestown and A. C. Wood, Jr., Riverton. Edward Mechling, Moorestown was toastmaster. C. B. Annet, Moorestown, chairman of finance committee, reported that $150 of the appropriation for 1933 had been saved, thereby reducing the deficit of the council to $6,350. In 1930 the total deficit was over $25,000.

Much credit was given to district commissioners by George M. Lippincott, Mr. Holly, Scout commissioner last year, in his report in which he said that an increase of 15 percent in the number of Scouts and 30 percent increase in troops occurred in the county in 1933.

One new Sea Scout ship was chartered in Burlington according to Bryan B. Kane, Beverly, who gave a report of Sea Scout activities in the county. This new group is sponsored by MacFarland Post.

Sixty-five percent of all Scouts registered in 1932 re-registered last year asserted J. Aubrey Sutton, Moorestown, chairman of leadership training committee. This group was the most active of all committees.

Frank McIlvaine, New Lisbon, reporting for Horace T. Greenwood, chairman of cub committee, said four packs were organized, and two were registered. It is hoped to register a total of seven in 1934.

Palmer Adams, of Cinnaminson, head of civic service unit, told of the outstanding civic service offered last year was the aid in the search for Warden Charles Carslake in the pines. According to Adams on eight-hour notice 150 Scouts reported for duty. They are, after all, no more than incidental in the great inflowing tide which will eventually bring us happier conditions of life.

Alfred E. Deyo, Moorestown, gave a report of activities for John Thatcher, Beverly, chairman of the committee.

The 1933 camp was the most successful from all angles than any camp operated by the county council

He explained that in order to achieve the goal of the 10-year program it will be necessary to organize the required total of 52 troops in the county. With the present total of 37 troops it calls for an increase of five troops a year to reach the objective.

William C. Coles, Jr., of Moorestown, was the recipient of a Scoutmaster's key, being the first to obtain one in this area. It was presented by Alex. C. Wood, Jr., Riverton, member of advisory board. The key is earned by five years of successful service, including five years of training work as outlined by the national council.

Taxpayers Ask Cut in Budget

after the steward's term expires, he will not ask extra compensation for that work.

Mrs. C. E. Lord, of Mount Holly, said she noted that there had been a reduction in the appropriation for the Burlington County Library, which she deprecated.

Report of Taxpayers' Committee
Lester Collins, chairman of the budget committee of the Burlington County Taxpayers' Association, presented the report of that committee. It recommends reductions of salaries of about $36,000; cutting cost of new road equipment $10,000; refusal to increase the appropriation to the Burlington County Hospital, etc., a total of $71,955.

Grangers' Report

Merritt W. Smith, of Mount Holly, reporting for granges in the county, asked reduction in the number of county cars; elimination of useless employees; purchase of no road equipment; postponing for one year the construction of some proposed bridges, and salary reductions; making a total reduction of about $100,000 from the proposed budget.

Dr. J. W. Bowley, of Burlington, objected to proposed increase of salaries at the tubercular hospital and to the high pay of the county solicitor, which, he said, should be about $1,500. He also objected to dual office holding by Judge Harold B. Wells. Mrs. Mervin E. Haas coincided with Dr. Bowley.

Pleads for Hospital

Franklin S. Chambers, of New Lisbon, president of the board of managers of the hospital, made a plea for the increase of $7,000 to the institution. He said the hospital ran behind $6,000 the past two years, despite careful management, and that last year gave about $80,000 free service to charity patients.

At the adjourned meeting which followed the hearing, the board adopted the budget without changes, by a four-to-one vote, the dissenting vote being that of Mr. Adams.

PAL-RIVER BUYS SUN MOTOR TESTER

Scientific Machine Accurately Checks Motor Failures in Short Time

The Pal-River Chevrolet management has purchased the latest scientific automobile testing machine produced, and has had its shop foreman thoroughly schooled in its operation. The machine, the Sun Motor Tester, is the official apparatus selected by the Chevrolet Motor Company laboratories to accurately diagnose all kinds of motor inefficiency.

Some engine failures are due to minor trouble that even the best of mechanics can not find immediately if they do it all. These minor troubles, as well as the big ones, are quickly and accurately found and registered on the dial, thus indicating the trouble and suggesting the remedy.

If your car is hard to start, lacks power, pep, speed or misses on either high or low speeds and is wasteful of gasoline, stop in and let our expert check your motor with the Sun Tester.

ARREST FOLLOWS PURSE SNATCHING

Colored Man With Long Police Record Captured in Palmyra

Fifteen minutes after snatching a purse belonging to Mrs. J. P. MacFarlane, of 706 Washington avenue, Palmyra, Preston Howard, of Pennsauken township, was captured and formally arrested by Officer Lawrence Betty, of the Palmyra police force, Saturday evening.

Mrs. MacFarlane, who was returning home at the time her pocketbook was taken, notified the police immediately. Officers Betty and Nelson Wallace answered the call and in a very few minutes the former returned with the fugitive.

Howard, who gave his name to the police as Nick Devito, of Pennsauken township, is colored and has a police record. He has been identified as the man who attempted to kidnap the 11-month-old son of H. Ennis Jones, Philadelphia banker, from his home in Pennsauken, a few months ago.

In 1928 he was arrested in Philadelphia. The charge was robbery, and he was sentenced to from three to ten years in the Philadelphia county jail. In Newark during 1932 he was arrested twice, once on a charge of disorderly conduct and the second time on the charge of assault and battery. He has also been arrested for shop lifting in Philadelphia, and in 1926 he was sentenced to 18 months in the Essex county jail for robbery.

Howard was arraigned before Recorder Carl Lutz on the robbery charge, and committed to jail at Mount Holly without bail.

BANK COMMITTEE NEARING GOAL

Two-thirds of $250,000 Required for Reopening Is Pledged. Asks Cooperation

The Reorganization Committee of The Palmyra National Bank wishes to announce that it has now secured the signatures covering $233,000 of deposits.

Only $17,000 more is necessary to reach the required amount of $250,000. The committee does not anticipate any difficulty in finishing the work of securing the necessary number of signatures and the townspeople are asked to remember that no one connected with the local reorganization effort is being paid anything for his or her services.

We have all given a tremendous amount of time and effort to the securing of these signatures so that our attorney can get busy and open the bank and in this manner begin to release funds that are now tied up. If you come to No. 9 East Broad street any evening between 7:00 and 10:00 p.m., and give us your signature without our having to make a personal visit, you will expedite the movement to release funds.

Remember that in all cooperative movements, for everyone who holds back, some other must do twice as much work.

IMPRESSIONS OF AUTOMOBILE SHOW

"Visitor" Looks Around a Bit,
Asks Questions and Hears
Some Side Remarks

Soft lights, sweet music, and gentle colors formed the background of the Newark Auto Show held last week at the Armory on Sussex street. The appeal was meant to be aesthetic rather than mechanical. The salesmen could talk a blue streak about "beautiful design," and "luxurious upholstery," and then if you didn't look too impressed they would throw in a few glib words about "torsional springing" or "wind velocity factor." None of them would come right out and talk about mechanical details. There were twenty-four cars at the show. We went all prepared to ask about "turbulence factors" and "compression ratios," with perhaps a few coy questions about "torque" and "valence" if the going got too heavy. We attacked the salesmen with a gusto that diminished to despair before we had reached the twenty-fourth man. Some were apologetic for their mechanical ignorance. Others looked at us askance. And the rest were disgusted that any person should be so curious as to raise the question of "why" their cars ran. The cars "go," and that is that, as far as salesmen are concerned.

"Gadgets" When we found that no one would talk engineering with us, we launched off in quest of gadgets. There are some very cute tricks on the new cars. The Cadillac headlight indicator took our eye. The Cadillac headlights have three different beams. In order that the driver may know which beam is lighted, there is a system of flashing lights on the dashboard which show green, white or red according to which beam is on. The Hupmobile people have put six little buttons on the dash board under the instruments. It seems that this is more to reassure the people who still like to drive their own cars than for utility's sake. The salesmen told us that four of the buttons don't have to be touched, and the other two which control the starter and lights only have to be manipulated when starting the car or turning on the lights. The speedometer dials on a majority of the cars this year are very fetching. It is almost possible for people traveling in a car behind one of the new Studebakers to read the speedometer in the Studebaker. All the speedometers are very easy to read—which makes it too bad for those drivers who have back seat assistants in their families.

Knee Action As for knee-action—if you are one of those drivers who drive for long stretches over railroad ties, knee-action might help you, but why not get a hand-car? It would be cheaper. With the present system of highways, it seems to us that any system which takes into consideration a proper ratio of weight to balance will be satisfactory whether it be knee-action as on General Motors and Chrysler cars, semi-elliptic as on Hupmobiles, transverse as on Fords, or full elliptic as on Franklins. Our own "best feature prize" goes to the following manufacturers. Best rear fender, Auburn convertible coupe; most radical change in design, Chrysler and DeSoto; most advanced feature, Reo self-shifter; Graham's supercharger is good too; biggest threat to the middle price field, LaSalle (it is a beautiful and well engineered car); duplicate reward to Oldsmobile six in the low priced field; best all around car of an independent manufacturer, the Franklin 12; most conservatively engineered, Buick; best control on dash board, Packard's brake pressure control; best buy—that is for the individual purchaser to decide.

Sad Stories Twenty four cigar lighters were stolen from one Chrysler sedan during the first two days of the show; Mr. De Cozen got tired of putting them on after the twenty-fourth one was stolen; that is why there is no cigar lighter on the Chrysler on display. The exhibit that everyone should have studied with the utmost care was the safety show staged by the New Jersey Department of Motor Vehicles. People seemed more in-

POST RODGERS HOST TO CAMDEN

Visitors Will Present Play,
"Story of Selection of Body of the Unknown Soldier"

The regular monthly meeting of Post Frederick M. Rodgers No. 156, American Legion, to be held in the Legion Home at Palmyra next Tuesday evening, promises to be one of the "Legion highlights" of the year. Public Service So. Div. Post No. 231, American Legion from Camden, N. J., will be the guests of the local Post.

More than twenty-five members of that Post have signified their intention of being on hand. They will present a one-act play, the Post's version of the "Story of the Selection of the Body of the Unknown Soldier." William G. McKinley, Hudson County Executive Committeeman, of Jersey City, and Roland F. Cowan, Adjutant Dept. of New Jersey American Legion, Trenton, will be the guest speakers. All Legionnaires will agree that "Bill" McKinley is worth going miles to hear and he always has an interesting topic. "Rolly" Cowan, the State Adjutant, always has something to say of interest and the "boys" will enjoy hearing from him. The entertainment committee promises the usual good eats and are to be congratulated for arranging such an interesting program.

LONE STAR JUNIORS
The Lone Star Juniors decided to send a senior swimming team to Moorestown at the time of the swimming meet (date of which has not yet been decided) to try to carry home the honors. They are also sending their junior team to also bring home the junior trophy, which they are now holding. The meeting at which these things were decided was held on January 25, in Taylor's cabin. The eats for this meeting were hot dogs and cocoa.

When the time arrives in the not too distant future when everybody is on the government payroll, who is going to do the work?

WILLIAMS ASKS FOR COOPERATION

Director of Public Safety Addresses School Children on Safety Measures

Director of Public Safety Edward R. Williams addressed the pupils of the Riverton Public School at assembly Tuesday morning.

He stressed the danger of roller skating in the streets and asked the children to cooperate with the police department for their own safety. He said that arrangements had been made to rope off Main street from Third to Second between four and five o'clock every afternoon for the use of skaters, and requested the children to refrain from skating and playing hockey on other streets, and during other hours.

In order that they might not become a source of annoyance to those living in the neighborhood, which might make it necessary to withdraw the privilege of the restricted area for skating, Mr. Williams asked the boys and girls to be reasonably quiet and not to mutilate lawns, fences and other property.

The director also asked for the cooperation of his hearers in protecting borough property and private property, such as fences, signs, ornamental stone work and the like, as a matter of good citizenship.

Slingshots, air rifles and the like he said were taboo, their use being in violation of state laws and a breach of ordinance, and a menace to public safety.

Another danger against which the children were cautioned, was riding bicycles without lights at night and darting from behind cars parked along the curb without making sure that no cars were approaching from either direction.

In order to provide further safe playground, Mr. Williams said a plan was being considered to pave Eighth street from Cedar street to the creek, through Memorial Park, and use it for roller skating, hockey and similar games.

In closing, the director asked the children to cooperate with the police officers who are their friends, and to assist in looking after the safety of smaller boys and girls at street crossings and other points of danger.

LOCALS TRIM PYNE POINT

Speer Stars as Riverton Turns Back Camden at Roberts Hall

In a thrilling battle staged at Roberts Hall Monday, Dick Steedle's Riverton quintet defeated a powerful aggregation from Pyne Point, to the tune of 33-28.

Starting for the locals was Speer with 11 points, while Daly and Goothe trailed with 7 each.

Most valuable to Pyne Point was Bloodgood, who netted 8 markers and played a steady floor game.

In the preliminary "scrum" game the "West End 5" nabbed the Riverton Reserves by a hairbreadth in an extra period, by the score of 33-32.

Hubbs and Brennan divided honors for Riverton with 9 points each, while Furman garnered 8 to shine for the visitors.

"PALS" TROUNCE G. ACAD. AGAIN

Landgraf and Sacco Glimmer for Red and White in 37-13 Court Victory

Making it two this season, Palmyra High again downed Germantown Academy; this time at the Philadelphia's floor, 37-13, as compared to the "Pals" 20-4 victory earlier in the season.

The game, which proved a complete rout for the Quakers, featured fine basketball by the entire Palmyra squad in general; and Landgraf and Sacco in particular. The Academy's lone star was Hall, with 7 points.

The roar of the crowd was like the fanfare of drums in an empty cistern.—Anon.

STEIN VS. STEELE THURSDAY NIGHT

Sensational Hebrew Heavyweight to Grapple with "Ray" in Camden Ring Tonight

Back from a triumphant tour of the Pacific coast, where he has established himself as a tremendous box-office attraction, Sammy Stein, sensational Hebrew heavyweight titleholder, returns to Camden for the first time since last March on Thursday night.

Stein, one of the most colorful figures in the mat sport, is scheduled to meet Ray Steele, who has been leading contender for the heavy-weight crown for the past five years, in the feature attraction of an all-star bill at the Camden Armory.

Steele and Stein is a "natural" for Camden. Sammy's memorable duel with Ed (Strangler) Lewis at the Armory last March is still fresh in the minds of many of the regular drill shed patrons, the match being declared a draw after 90 minutes of thrilling wrestling.

The feature supporting match will bring together Stanley Pinto, rough and ready Nebraskan, and Jerry Monahan of Boston, in a one fall, one hour time limit contest.

In the three thirty-minute bouts Casey Colombo meets the Masked Marvel's master, whose identity is unknown around these parts while Harry Fields battles Tiny Roebuck, and Sid Nabors tackles Orville Brown.

Elimination Contest Features Two K.O.'s in Palmyra Hi Gymnasium

In perhaps the most exciting and thrilling meet ever staged in the high school gym, Coach Hughes' boxers smashed their way through the card of 10 bouts to decide the contestants to meet Bordentown Military Institute this Saturday afternoon.

In the 125-lb. class M. Kaefur, of the White team kayaked H. Turner with a short right hook at the end of the first round. The other knock-out featured Tony Cuzupe of the Red team, who floored N. Bauer in the middle of the last round with a series of blows to the head.

Owing to one scheduled boxer being ill, a vacancy was left on the card at the last minute so C. Hubbs, the announcer agreed to put on an exhibition bout with C. McCullough, the odd man.

Judges for the bouts were Messrs. McCollum and Dever. Referee, Mr. Hughes. Announcer, Clarence Hubbs.

Landgraf Scores for Dimondmen Against Woodrow Wilson High Quintet

Langraf Scores 7 for Dimondmen Against Woodrow Wilson High

In a close but slow tiff at Woodrow Wilson High's home floor Tuesday, Palmyra High's basketballers emerged victorious after claiming a halftime deadlock.

It was the ability to score in the pinches which boosted the "Pals," and the ringleader of this attack were Landgraf with 7 points and Wagner with 5.

Sparkling for the Camden Presidents were LaRue with 4 points and Scheffer with a solitary field goal.

This victory marks the fifth consecutive win for the "Pals."

GRATEFUL ROMEO LEAVES BOTTLE

Gold Standard Threatened by Parking Sparker Who Tips With Tipsy Fluid

Since the advent of "the new deal," the demise of the "noble experiment," the institution of the "NRA," "CWA," "PWA," "RFC," "FDIC," and other modern if not revolutionary changes in our social and financial structure, the average person is prone to believe that a new order of living is in the making.

But Charles Shaffer, a highly respected son of the soil who resides on a farm on Fork Landing Road, Cinnaminson, thinks differently. He has evidence to prove that, at least as far as our monetary system is concerned, the United States is right back where it started.

You can talk all you want to about the gold standard, the silver standard, the commodity dollar and the baloney dollar, but some people are right back to the time when the whiskey dollar was the popular medium of exchange. "Charlie" absorbed enough of his early American history to know that the whole of Manhattan island was purchased from the Indians for a bottle of fire water. He also knew that at that time, fire water was the consideration for more than the exchange of title in real estate transactions.

That medium of exchange was soon relegated to the background with the introduction of coin, and was practically extinct with the possible exception of its use as a "circulating medium" at election time.

The introduction of the noble experiment still further depreciated its purchasing power, but with the repeal and the scarcity of coin both coming together, Charlie thought after his experience last week, that maybe fire water will again become the medium of exchange, and this is why.

About to retire one night "Charlie" happened to glance out the window and saw a car pull off the road and park in his peach orchard. He thought little about it, however, and soon settled down to some serious snoozing.

The next morning, hustling about the farm doing early chores, he happened across the spot in the peach orchard where fresh tire marks in the sand indicated the parking space of his visitor the evening before, and on the ground beside the tire marks stood a pint whiskey bottle with a label that read "Underneath the bottle was a neatly folded piece of paper bearing the following message: "Thank you, Charlie, for the parking space—have a drink on me."

What "Charlie" did with the bottle we don't know, but we believe he still has the note, and out of the goodness of his heart he has consented to the publication of this story, thinking that some enterprising farmer with an abundance of isolated, non-productive parking space might like to tack up a sign reading thusly: Peachy Parking Place Johnny Walker taken in trade No scrip accepted

R.A.A. DROPS ONE TO DELAIR M.E.

Local Basketeers Topped by 2 Points Friday at Delair Basketball Court

In a close tiff, at the Delair M.E.'s home floor, Riverton dropped their second game by the close score of 23-21.

For Steedle's courtiers Speer with 7 points was again high gun, while Kraft and Gunderson tallied 6 each for the rivals.

Coming up from a 13-6 score, Delair led at the half, the locals almost succeeded in nabbing the game, but the final whistle blew too soon.

THE "MIDDLE CLASS"

There will be less disputing of the statement that the great middle class, as things stand, is in great danger of being ground down between the comparatively small minorities above and below. The middle class has always been the strength of every nation. It is so because it is dependable; it can always be counted upon to bear up under its burdens, and because of this, it is given the burdens to bear. Are there exceptional signs that the class in our country is about to assert its power?—Columbus Dispatch.

Cut Your Coal Bill

BIG APPETITES ARE COSTLY

During refreshments at a Palmyra Bridge Club this week, a lady said to a friend, "Does your heater have an appetite?" Her friend said, "Only this morning my husband said we were using too much coal this winter."

"Well my dear you can save money. Listen to this.—Last January on the advice of my next door neighbor, we tried a test ton of Evans' High-Carbon Premium Anthracite. She claimed they used less coal and saved money. Our test was a surprise, we found that 5 shovels of Evans' went as far as 7 shovels of other kind, so this Fall we put in two tons less than usual and my husband said this week that Evans' Coal would last until Spring and we would save cost of at least 2 tons."

ROAD NEGLECT IS EXPENSIVE SAVING

Freeholder Stout, Director of Highways, Lays Problem Before Public

During the past few years the Board of Chosen Freeholders, State Senator David L. Stout, has been successful in having legislation passed that has been of great assistance to Burlington County.

The Legislative Act increasing the Motor Vehicle funds allotted to counties for both maintenance and construction has been of vast importance to us, as it permitted a large reduction for roads and bridges in our County Budget for the year 1934, and at the same time allowed us to take over 114 miles of township roads. This action has saved the taxpayers of the various townships many thousands of dollars in the maintenance of important township roads, and reduced their budgets for the year 1934.

The County budget for the year 1934 contemplates the expenditure of approximately $90,000 for the reconstruction and widening of four miles of the River Road connecting the towns of Beverly, Delanco, Riverside, Riverton and Palmyra. This road, due to its narrowness and congestion, has been the scene of many serious accidents, and the taxpayers living along this road, as well as the travelling public, have appealed to the Board of Chosen Freeholders to eliminate the hazardous condition.

The County road system this year comprises a total road mileage of 385 miles, far exceeding any other county in the State.

The total amount of money allotted to us by the State from Motor Vehicle funds under Chapter 193, P.L. 1933, is $404,000.00 with an additional $35,000 special allotment under Chapter 132—1933, making a total of $439,000. The $35,000 special fund has been expended through the trust account, and trust funds are not required to appear in the budget.

Of this total allotment $35,000 is to be used for bridges, reducing the amount to be spent on roads to $404,000. A sum of $90,000 of this amount is set aside for the River Road improvement. This leaves only $314,000 for the maintenance, surface treating, snow removal, drainage, general repair and operation costs of 381 miles of road, or an average of approximately $82.50 per mile, an amount that is barely adequate to carry on this work.

If taxpayers and others continue to advocate a further reduction or diversion of the money available for County road work, by paying off an unreasonable amount of notes, and charging various other budget items against the Motor Vehicle money, which the motorist is paying by special taxes, registration fees and gas tax, Burlington County is faced with a difficult proposition.

It would either mean the River Road project would have to be abandoned, or else many of the township roads recently taken over by the county would have to be turned back, thereby increasing the amount raised by taxation in the various townships. The only other alternative would be to neglect the maintenance and repair of our roads for the year 1934, which no one familiar with highway work would consider, for the cost of neglect is tremendous, not only to the county, but upon the users of the highways.

RIVERTON, NEW JERSEY, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 8, 1934

AGED WOMAN IS FATALLY BURNED

Falls Into Fireplace When Rocking Chair Overturns. Dies Next Day

Last Friday morning Mrs. Anna Smith, 68, a Cinnaminson Township resident, living on the Moorestown-Riverton Road, near Branch Pike, received fatal burns when a rocking chair overturned and she fell into the fireplace.

Mrs. Smith made her home with her daughter, Mrs. Mary Spencer. It is the daughter's belief that her mother suffered a slight stroke before she fell and consequently was unconscious when her body landed in the fireplace, thus being unable to help herself or call for help.

Officer George Dorworth, of Cinnaminson Township, was called on the case and immediately called Dr. Robert Imhoff, who sent Mrs. Smith to the Burlington County Hospital, Mount Holly, where she died on Saturday.

Coroner Green, of Florence, investigated the case and gave a verdict of accidental death.

ROOSEVELT ISSUES CALL TO SCOUTS

Will Broadcast Nation-wide Service Appeal Saturday to Scouts All Over America

President Roosevelt has announced he will make a nation-wide radio broadcast to the Boy Scouts of America on Saturday at noon.

Both the Columbia and the National systems will be used to reach the million boys mobilized at that time in celebration of the twenty-fourth anniversary of the founding of the Boy Scouts of America.

All over the country the boys, wearing the same uniform, will be pledging themselves to service through the same Oath and Law in response to the appeal of their Honorary President, the President of the United States.

Mr. Roosevelt has not yet revealed the exact nature of the service he will request.

It is expected, however, that he will embark the boys on a program of community service of such magnitude that it will require their efforts for a period of two weeks—beginning immediately after the broadcast and continuing until the Saturday following Washington's birthday. Daily reports of the service, which is being thought of as a nation-wide Good Turn, will be made direct to the President.

Special programs are being developed in each community.

In Washington Eagle Scouts will participate in the program immediately preceding the President's broadcast, along with national Scout officials. Walter W. Head, of St. Louis, president of the Boy Scouts of America, will speak briefly during the half hour the program is on the air, as will James E. West, of New York, the Chief Scout executive. It is expected that the Marine Band will play.

The comfort of patrons is always the foremost thought of the Victoria Amusement Company.

SUNRISE SERVICE AGAIN THIS YEAR

Plan to Make Annual Event of Easter Service at Lakeview Memorial Park

The Board of Directors of Lakeview Memorial Park are making preparations to accommodate 25,000 people who are expected to attend the second annual Easter Sunrise Service to be held in the Park at Riverton, early Easter morning, April 1st.

The special service, sponsored by the Moravian Churches of Riverside and Palmyra, marks the 202nd observance of the custom which began in 1732, at Herrnhut, Germany. The service is strictly non-sectarian, and a welcome to persons of all denominations is extended.

Many choirs and singing societies throughout South Jersey have already signified their intention to join in the massive choir of 500 voices, and others wishing to take part in the choir are invited to communicate with Mrs. Frances S. Bender, of 408 Bridgeboro street, Riverside.

Mrs. Bender, who is organizing this massive choir, is a graduate of Combs Conservatory of Music, Philadelphia. She will visit the different choirs taking part in the service, separately, if requested. Shortly before Easter two rehearsals of the choir en masse are planned for, to be held in Convention Hall, Camden.

Aside from the voice selections, the four brass horn units will be placed at various locations in the park, and will play alternately as a part of the program.

A permanent stone altar will be built in the open where the Rev. A. J. Harke and Rev. R. K. Stansfield, together with guest preachers, will conduct the services.

The two sponsoring churches plan to make the services at Lakeview Memorial Park an annual event, growing in interest and attendance until a national interest is awakened. Similar services in other parts of the country have already received national radio hook-ups, and while this marks but the second service of its kind in South Jersey, a radio broadcast of the service is being planned.

TIPS ON GROWING

BY ONE WHO GREW UP IN THE BUSINESS

Even now in the dead of winter the florists, nurserymen and plant growers have already secured space in the great halls where the monster annual Flower Shows will be held the coming spring. Reservations of selected plants and bulbs have been made and in many cases the growers have started the slow careful forcing process that will bring the roses, hyacinths, flowering Almonds and Magnolias into full perfection of bloom on the gala opening night of Flora's festival week. All through these anxious weeks the greenhouse thermometers will be hourly scanned, the ventilators moved infinitesimal spaces and the plant foliage microscopically examined for evidence of mildew, "spot" or insects. And all this huge expense, hard work and untiring vigil is felt to be amply compensated for by few inches of satin ribbon or glittering medals.

Always there has been considerable discussion as to the pronunciation of the word "Gladiolus," also as to the correct plural form of the word.

Since 1925, the pronunciation as adopted by the American Gladiolus Society has been glad-i-olus, the "i" short and the "o" long, with the accent on the "o." Furthermore, it was decided to use the one spelling and pronunciation for both the singular and plural forms. Should anyone be interested in a more detailed discussion of the subject, an article may be found in the 1933 yearbook of the New England Gladiolus Society, entitled "The Pronunciation of Gladiolus," by C. A. Robinson. A copy of this excellent annual will be sent upon payment of the annual dues, $1.00. They should be sent to C. W. Brown, secretary, Ashland, Mass.

But, why not simply "glads"? Sponsored by the American Seed Trade Association, exhaustive trials were made the past summer of about seventy new varieties of flower and vegetable seeds in ten trial grounds in different sections of the country, ranging from New England to California. Three new annual flowering plants and three vegetables were named as "Gold Medal Sorts." The first winner of the Gold Medal was Calendula Chrysanthia (or Sunshine as it has also been named), the second, Petunia Pink Gem, the third Linaria moroccana "Fairy Bouquets."

In Vegetables, the Gold Medal winners were Glowing Ball Radish, Asgrow Wonder Beet and Morse's Bunching Carrot. Watch the catalogues for the offerings of these novelties. Calendula Chrysanthia is especially featured in the 1934 lists. This is something entirely new in Calendulas (Pot Marigolds), it bearing flowers like Chrysanthemums, of a beautiful buttercup yellow; fine for cutting.

Each alien ex-serviceman who wishes to take advantage of these exemptions is urged to submit his certificate of discharge to the District Director, Immigration and Naturalization Service, Room 415, Post Office building, Philadelphia, Pa., with a letter indicating he desires naturalization by reason of his service, and containing his home address.

The certificate of discharge and letter should be sent at once, as February 23rd is the last day on which petitions for naturalization can be filed in order to be disposed of before the Act of Congress becomes inoperative. No fee for naturalization is required under the provisions of the act.

C.W.A. INSTRUCTION IN FIRST AID

Bell Telephone Man Instructor of Classes Held at Armory, Mount Holly

Vernon E. Dickerson, of Burlington, conducted the C.W.A. first aid class in the Armory, Mount Holly, last week.

Dickerson is well qualified for such work, having been active in same for over fifteen years and at present having charge of that activity for The Bell Telephone Company in Burlington county. His services were donated by the Company for the C.W.A. class.

In talking with Dickerson he stated there were 32 men in the class, taken from 18 towns in the county; that in all his experience in the work he had never seen a more intelligent or enthusiastic class; that they all passed their final tests and would receive certificates from the American National Red Cross, Washington, D. C.

The class was sponsored by Burlington County Chapter American Red Cross and only Red Cross First Aid methods were used.

It is quite probable a similar class will be conducted in the lower part of the county some time this month.

MONTHLY REPORT OF CHEST CLINICS

Record of Activities Given by Executive Secretary of County Tuberculosis League

Nearly all of the patients who visited Burlington County's chest clinics for the first time last month were referred by their family doctor, Daisy S. Hollingshead, executive secretary of Burlington County Tuberculosis League, stated in submitting the monthly report of clinic services.

Diagnostic facilities of the clinic are designed especially to facilitate the work of the private physician anxious to secure early diagnosis and prompt hospitalization for his tuberculous patients, she stated. They also aid him in giving preventive care to relatives of patients, especially the children who have been exposed to the disease. Nursing visits are made to patients in their homes on the request of physicians. This service is most frequently asked for patients who have returned from sanatoria. Admissions to sanatoria are arranged through the clinics, and nurses are able to aid patients and their families in making the arrangements and adjustments usually necessary. No treatment, except of a strictly emergency character, is given in the clinics.

A considerable amount of follow-up work was done on the Christmas Seal Sale during the month. The total seal sale receipts to date are $3952.65. A number of letters are still outstanding and the organization counts on receiving a sufficient sum from these delayed payments to make up the deficit in the 1934 budget.

RED LETTER DAYS IN PTA PROGRAMS

Dr. Garry Cleveland Myers Will Address Merchantville P.T.A. February 9th, 8 P.M.

The Riverton Parent-Teacher Association wishes to call attention to the following meetings of general educational interest:

Dr. Garry Cleveland Myers, who has been conducting a three-day institute on Parental Education in Philadelphia, will address the Merchantville Parent-Teacher Association Friday, February 9th, 8 p.m., at South Center Street School.

The Progressive Education Association will hold its annual Regional Conference at Temple University, February 9th and 10th in room 615, Carnell Home. The subjects will be as follows:

Saturday at 10.30 a.m., "Social Responsibilities of Home and School," and 3.00 p.m., "Practical Problems of Parent and Teacher."

Previous to the purchase of the wicker sleigh, Mr. Lippincott says that they used a "tub" sleigh which was made of high boards. When you sat in this sleigh it was fully as warm as the modern car.

New colts were broken in for farm work during the winter by hitching them up to the sleigh. Mr. Lippincott says that during the "breaking-in" process a sleigh loaded with four men has been upset several times a day by the colts.

Permission asked by the Burlington County Board of Freeholders to reconstruct four miles of river road, between Palmyra and Burlington, with county equipment and men, was refused by the State Highway Commission last week.

The commission advised the board to award a contract for the work, specifying that local labor must be employed. The estimated cost of the work is $90,000.

A covered dish luncheon was held at the Riverton Porch Club on February 6th and was enjoyed by the many who attended.

The speaker was Miss Clara Haines, First District vice chairman of International Relations. Her topic was "Our Changing World."

The fact was stressed that the main hope for world peace lies in education. The talk ended with the quotation that "America today is poised in flight between a past that is impossible to capture and a future that must be made."

The regular business meeting concluded the program for the afternoon.

Encouraging factors included a net gain in telephones last December for the first month in two and a half years. Also, the steady downward trend of telephone traffic and telephone revenues which characterized most of 1932 was checked in 1933.

"The management therefore concluded the year and entered 1934," Barnard stated, "with the hope that conditions in the business are improving and that present trends may soon be reflected in better earnings."

The number of telephones in service at the end of 1933 was 601,916, a decrease of 28,502 during the year and a decrease of more than 95,000 during the depression years. Losses in telephones have been gradually reduced over the last year and a half up to December when a gain of 509 was recorded.

The average revenue from each telephone in service in 1933 was approximately $1.20 less than in 1932, and $5.10 less than in 1931, the report states. The combined effect of fewer telephones in service and less revenue from the average telephone resulted in a decrease of 9.3 per cent in total telephone revenues. Net telephone earnings were 22.7 per cent below 1932 and amounted to 3.29 per cent on the investment in the business, compared with 4.27 per cent in 1932. Earnings per share of stock in the company amounted to $3.96. Dividends were paid, partly from surplus, at the annual rate of $6 a share. The surplus at the end of the year amounted to less than 3 per cent of the total assets of more than $209,000,000.

Expenses were cut more than $2,250,000 during the year, Barnard reported, but the quality of telephone service was maintained at high levels in the handling of all types of calls and in clearing service troubles.

The number of telephone employees at the end of the year was 12,401, of whom 4,842 were men and 7,559 were women. Other facts of interest about the telephone in New Jersey were: residence telephones, still out-number business telephones, 374,697 to 227,219; slightly more than one-third (203,046) of all New Jersey telephones served by the company are dial; New Jersey people used the telephone to make and receive an average of 2,384,086 calls a day in 1933, over a voice highway system more than 3,884,000 miles long, of which 98.76 per cent are in protected lead-covered cables.

Hands are black, white, yellow or brown—but the hue of the heart is one.—Harold Johnson.

There will be no charge for the burial of any resident of Riverton, Palmyra or Cinnaminson, whose relatives are worthy and without means with which to pay the funeral expenses.

"SO IT SEEMS"

By Alfred Biggs

A Weekly Review of the World's News—spiced
with a few personal
opinions

Bull Fights

A noted Spanish bull fighter, passing through New York on his way to Mexico, where he will receive enormous sums of money for his particular brand of entertainment, is reported to have said: "If you had just one bull fight in New York you would be enchanted; you would never stop." This writer when in Spain was persuaded to attend a bull fight. After half an hour of it he left the stadium in a frenzy of horror. The unspeakable cruelty to the blindfolded horses created a revulsion and disgust which time cannot erase. We have our faults in plenty, but every experienced world-traveler will admit that in no country in the world are dumb animals more kindly treated than in the United States.

The President's Birthday

The celebration of the President's birthday was a national demonstration of loyalty. Forty dinners and dances were given in New York; and celebrations in 6,000 other communities throughout the country were simultaneously held. It is estimated that over one million dollars were subscribed by the people to the Warren Springs Infirmary Paralysis Foundation, which is Mr. Roosevelt's favorite benevolent institution. This surely made his heart glad; many hundreds of victims of that baffling disease will benefit. Beyond all this, so it seems, the American people have chosen this as an opportunity to serve notice on politicians and others who covertly or openly oppose the New Deal, that in an emergency the President can count on public opinion to strengthen his hands. You may be sure that certain undesirable types of politicians have carefully noted this.

"When the Devil Was Sick"

New legislation to govern stock exchange practices is about to be rushed through in Washington. The New York Stock Exchange has made a generous offer of cooperation. It was rejected by the Senate Banking Committee. Thus the Stock Exchange follows the example of the great bankers who, realizing that their racket was busted, suddenly became pious and volunteered for scavenger duty in Wall Street. Doubtless certain salutary changes will be made and stock exchanges will be better regulated. But one might as well legislate against vultures eating carrion as to expect any real change in stock exchange or other forms of gambling as long as money-blinded men fail to see that real values in life are remotely removed from money.

Gotham's Fighting Mayor

The new Mayor of New York is a fighter. Upon hearing that his economy measure was defeated by the Legislature, the Albany man straightaway laid plans to carry to the people his fight for a better managed municipal government. He will use an extensive radio hook-up. Those who are sick to death of the morose mooning, crooning and "bluing" which nightly desecrates the air, must admit that the great modern invention of radio also has its good uses.

It's Anybody's Guess

The President is legally authorized to reduce the gold content of the dollar by as much as 50 per cent. As a first step toward this under the epoch-making Money Bill which he has just signed, he will now scoop into the United States Treasury all the gold held by the Federal Reserve Banks. Nobody seems to know in advance exactly how this will benefit the man in the street who has no better sense than to want to do an honest day's work. The great financial experts, so it seems, do not know how it will work out—their forecasts differ greatly. The economists in the great Universities, whom we have been taught almost to worship, don't seem to know either. This fool money business makes monkeys of us. Generals used to come will regard us as exceedingly clever in mechanical non-essentials, but exceedingly stupid in our blind bondage to money.

After the CWA—What?

One of the great national problems outstanding at this time is so simple that anyone can comprehend its tremendous significance. The CWA has been spending millions of dollars every day directly and indirectly to aid recovery. All this is going to stop on May 1st. Will business and employment have recovered sufficiently by that time to permit the cessation of CWA activities? It is hoped that recovery will then have so far developed as to permit the absorption into other jobs of the workers now employed by CWA. If it has not, CWA must be continued in some form or another, but the billions of dollars so employed will have to be provided for. Will the creation of billions of more dollars through devaluation meet this demand? If it does not, the government will then have to print paper money, which is generally considered to be fraught with great danger. Only time and experience will answer these questions. If the answers are unfavorable, we shall be facing a dilemma unequalled in our history. The President is a courageous man. He also knows that the populace which crowns him today is liable to crucify him tomorrow.

Utopia in the Offing

Any eventual solution is bound to be of a temporary nature. We may have a few years, or possibly decades, of prosperity. But there will be no real true harmony in life, no real joy in living, no emancipation from toil and money slavery until the profit motive has been cleaned out of our national economy. It is not true that man needs the profit motive as an incentive; it is a poisonous fallacy of the purblind period we are passing through and which is now drawing to its close. Our hope lies in educating the children to prepare for this great day, for assuredly it will come. We may have the shadow of national death to reach these happier days. Or, possibly, by skillful manipulation of Rooseveltian policies to meet conditions as they arise, we shall avoid the pains of this new birth. Your correspondent unhesitatingly avows that civilization is definitely moving on its upward way. Therefore all right-thinking, right-thinking men and women should take courage and possess an abiding hope for better days to come.

The Golden Text is: "The fruit of the Spirit is in all goodness and righteousness and truth" (Ephesians 5:9).
Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And it came to pass, as he went to Jerusalem, that he passed through the midst of Samaria and Galilee. And as he entered into a certain village, there met him ten men that were lepers, which stood afar off: And they lifted up their voices, and said, Jesus, Master, have mercy on us. And when he saw them, he said unto them, Go show yourselves unto the priests. And it came to pass, that, as they went, they were cleansed" (Luke 17: 11-14).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "There is no power apart from God. Omnipotence has all-power, and to acknowledge any other power is to dishonor God" (p. 288).

MRS. LITTLE GIVES RADIO ADDRESS

The Call of Today

The call of today is the call of youth to save our schools. The call demands immediate action if a threatened collapse of our school system throughout the nation is to be averted. Our schools are the permanent and visible manifestation of the Faith of our people as the time honored words signify: "Religion, morality and knowledge being necessary to good government and the happiness of mankind, schools and the means of education shall forever be encouraged."

Our schools are the Nation's heritage, the birthright of the American child, placed in our keeping by those men of courage and vision who came from across the sea, seeking, life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

Yesterday the schools sought to impart booklearning; today education is focused on the child in terms of needs, capacity and background. Through vital, enriching experiences he must be prepared not only to make a living but also to live in a world society "where social customs will follow the lead of the radio and the airplane and break down the barriers of nationalism, caste, race and creed which confine and limit our social growth."

From the very earliest days we have accepted it as an axiom, so to speak, that democracy rests upon intelligent citizenship, and yet, at one fell swoop, we find our children are on the verge of being deprived of the opportunities of education that make for good citizenship.

Insidious forces backed by moneyed interests, are making a covert attack on the very foundation of our public school system. They are spreading abroad propaganda to charge tuition in our public high school, to eliminate all free education beyond the high-school, to so cripple the elementary schools by their attacks on "fads and frites" as to damage their efficiency, do away with the kindergartens, shorten the term by one year and nullify public confidence in the institution. Their one purpose is to limit the curriculum of the free public schools to such a degree that the common people will be literate only, mere cogs in the money-making machine of the industrial masters. To curtail educational advantages is an extravagant economy. Not only would it effect industry, business, the professions and every phase of society, but would prove far more expensive later than the few dollars saved today.

There never was a time when our progress, stability and perhaps our survival, depended on the education of the masses as now. They can no longer be oppressed and under paid by the money barons. Deny them education, economic collapse is certain. The three R's will become racketeering, rioting and rebellion.

Nevertheless, throughout the country we find schools closed, millions of children running the streets, school terms shortened in one out of every four cities, curricula curtailed to an obsolete level, increased enrollment, especially in high school due to the child labor ban, classes over loaded.

Thousands of teachers have lost their jobs, and thousands more have received no pay. Too great praise cannot be bestowed upon those faithful teachers who have never faltered in their duty and devotion to the children despite the frantic efforts for retrenchment on the part of communities. "Keep down the school expenditures" is their cry, "out with music, art, domestic science and manual training; we cannot afford a system that will instill in our youth the intangible qualities of moral integrity, honesty and reliability. We'll wait and without a single protest pay three times as much for the support of our youth in State Houses, Reformatories and Jails." What folly not to realize that money spent on education is not wasted, that it is the greatest investment society has for its own advancement. The community's greatest wealth is its children. Here in New Jersey our own governor, A. Harry Moore, has recognized that the soundest investment a state can make is in its young people, as is evidenced by his appointing a "Committee of laymen and educators to cooperate in making a survey and to propose recommendations in regard to an essential program of modern education and the means of financing it."

After more than a year of exhaustive study of our New Jersey school system, the report of the Governor's State Survey Commission has been presented. It indicates that educational costs dropped from $116,000,000 to less than $100,000,000 this year. That whereas taxes for educational purposes were reduced 19.4 percent those for other local government expenditures dropped only 2.4 percent. Evidently it is eight times easier to take money away from the schools than to correct the inequities and antiquities of local government. One reads with interest that the cost of education is not determined by what is taught, that economies might be effected by increasing class size—providing that the teacher is experienced and well trained—by adequate distribution of labor in their janitorial field, by reorganization of districts and by making the admission to school of five-year-olds permissive instead of mandatory.

Educational opportunities range from the very finest and enriched curriculum to that of the most meager type. On the one hand highly trained; well selected teachers with their work supplemented by specialists and aided by libraries and fine equipment; on the other hand teachers less able and less well prepared, with no supplementary help of our boys and girls progressive schools with all opportunities there in for creative development; for others the traditional regimentative type that breeds disaster and dissatisfaction. Nevertheless the school tax rate in the poor districts far exceeds that of the districts with fine schools. The School Survey Commission proposes therefore that a new and better system be set up to equalize the burden of school taxation and to provide a foundation program below which no community should be allowed to drop in educational opportunity, but above it any locality shall be permitted to go on its own initiative and own extra support. This program demands the equalization of the burden supporting the type of program that costs $57.00 per elementary school pupil and $98.00 per high school pupil.

No longer can the property owner sustain the burden alone; already his taxes provide 87 percent of the cost of government although property itself represents only 30 percent of the total wealth of New Jersey. The State Survey Commission recommends the repeal of the state school tax of 2.75 mills on property which provides approximately $18,000,000 now distributed by the state back to the counties on the basis of estates and that this same amount be raised by the State from taxes other than the property tax, the total State aid to be $21,000,000 as heretofore—which includes railroad monies. This would guarantee $13.00 per elementary pupil and $22.00 per high school pupil in all districts. In those districts unable to raise the amount of monies essential for the foundation program, the State would give in addition sufficient state aid to supplement the proceeds of a 4.75 mills local school tax, based on equalized valuation.

Thus the property tax would be relieved and monies would be distributed on a basis of school population, guaranteeing a foundation program in all communities of the state with only a reasonable rate of taxation on property required in each community. (Write Solomon Strong, West Orange, N. J., for detailed information.)

When the bill for such distribution of school monies is introduced, the legislature faces a grave responsibility. Will those men and women have the courage to fight selfish greed and opposition? Individually and collectively we must make them understand that children come first in New Jersey above highways, waterways, fisheries and racetracks. One of the primary duties of the State is to foster education. If the recommendations of the Survey Commission are to be of resource and fight for the rights of our children for their God-given heritage as stated in the New Jersey constitution:

"The Legislature shall provide for the maintenance and support of a thorough and efficient system of free public schools for the instruction of all children in this state between the ages of five and eighteen years."

Such being the case, if our Legislators live up to the solemn oath which they took "to uphold the Constitution of New Jersey," they cannot allow education to be denied to any child. We must insist on the mitigation of the property tax and the providing of the decent minimum program of education. Write to your assemblymen; write to your senators; write to the governor approving the report of the Survey Commission.

Say it with votes brings action. Men in high places can always hear the rustle of a ballot, when the appeal of a righteous cause has fallen on deaf ears.

Say it with votes, those of you who have the privilege and duty of electing members to your Board of Education in February. Vote for the men and women who have the interest of the children at heart and who will endeavor to provide the best possible program for their development.

Say it with votes. Weed out of office those leaders who appoint men and women for the manifest purpose of curtailing school opportunities. Nothing can be more short sighted. If there were ever a time when we should encourage more education instead of less, it is now. Shall we fight to continue to maintain our schools on the high level

SENIOR PLAY FRIDAY AND SAT.

Fast-Moving Farce to Be Presented at High School Auditorium

"What Happened to Jones" will be explained by the cast of thirteen High School Seniors this Friday and Saturday evenings at 8.15 sharp.

The play, which is being coached by Miss E. M. Jewell, is a sure-fire comedy in tree acts, involving Jones, a high-powered salesman and Clasy, the vivacious ward of an antiquated college professor.

Jones' part is played by Clarence Hubbs, while Carrie Haines assumes the role of Clasy.

Comic characters are portrayed by Alice Kase as a love-sick spinster (a la Zasu Pitts) who falls in love with an Australian Bishop whom she has never seen. The Bishop is played by Grover Fox. Margaret Habfest as Helma, a Swedish maid, will delight the audience with her Nordic accent.

Tense excitement is steered into the already snappy plot by John Gibson, who assumes the role of Bigbee, an escaped maniac, who frightens Marjorie and Minerva, the Professor's two daughters, out of their wits. Marjorie is played by Ella May Parkins, while Minerva is interpreted by Catherine McAnulty.

Leonard Goldery plays the role of the henpecked college professor, and his wife, Jean Rieger, does the pecking.

The tough policeman who is chasing Jones is played by Carl Landgraf who with the help of Urie Megahan, the superintendent of the asylum, endeavors to preserve order at the scene of action, which happens to be the professor's household.

All in all the play promises to captivate the audience. Don't miss it!

"CAROLINA" AT
WALT WHITMAN
Janet Gaynor Heads Star Cast in New Fox Film Starting Sunday

With a star-studded cast, headed by such stellar performers as Janet Gaynor, Lionel Barrymore, Henrietta Crosman and Robert Young, Fox Film will present its latest release, "Carolina," at the Walt Whitman Theatre on Sunday at 4.00 o'clock to remain for an engagement of seven days. The production is reported as being so magnificent in scope and so dramatic in theme, that it necessitated the use of a cast of seven great stars to do it justice.

Laid against a Southern background of far-reaching tobacco plantations, the story centers about a decadent Southern family striving to regain its former glory. The son of the family falls in love with a poor daughter of the North who has come to raise tobacco on a portion of the land. Although his mother and uncle object to the girl, the young man is impressed by her talk, which stirs him to ways and means of rebuilding the plantation. The young girl breaks down the icy dignity of the aristocratic family and brings prosperity and happiness to the old Southern plantation.

Janet Gaynor and Robert Young have the romantic leads. Besides Lionel Barrymore and Henrietta Crosman the cast includes Richard Cromwell, Mona Barry, Stephen Fatchitt, Russell Simpson, Ronnie Crosby, Jackie Crosby and Alden Chase. Henry King of "State Fair" directed "Carolina" taken from the famous novel, "House of Connelly" by Paul Green.

"PALS" LOSE FIRST BATTLE

Dimondmen Succumb to Camden 24 to 21, Giving Them Even Break

After winning from Camden High last week by three points, the "Pals" dropped the return tiff by the same margin at their home gym, Tuesday. The game was filled with thrills throughout and featured brilliant playing by every member of both teams.

The score at the first quarter found the "Pals" leading 8-5, but both the half and third quarter ended in stalemates. In the final period the "Cams" spurted out in front on a field goal and then added a foul shot to bring the score up to 24-21, which remained the same during the hectic finish of the game.

High scorer for the homesters was Landgraf with 9 counters while Wagner and Carpenter garnered 4 each. Young and Sacca helped by netting 2 points apiece.

Most of Camden's scoring was done by Ross who captured 17 points while Klopp, his teammate, gathered 4.

This defeat marks the first loss for Palmyra High's basketball team; but owing to them breaking even with Camden will not deter their championship hopes.

However the "Pals" had many chances to win the tussle on foul shots but failed to convert. They completed one out of eleven tries.

The final period was tense with excitement when the Dimondmen filled the air with shots as a final effort. In the previous game it worked, but not in this one.

POWERS VOTES TO CONTINUE C.W.A.

Congressman Says Emergency Justifies Continuance of Relief Work

Congressman D. Lane Powers, Representative of the Fourth Congressional District of New Jersey, comprising Burlington and Mercer Counties, voted for continuance of the CWA.

The Congressman cast his vote for the appropriation requested by the President for continuance of the Civil Works Administration at a meeting of the House Monday. The amount the President asked for CWA and relief work was 950 millions of dollars.

"I believe the CWA is filling an important part in our social system right now," the Congressman declared. "The men and women being employed on this work would be jobless and starving were it not for this Federal help."

"Continuation of the CWA until some means can be found to absorb the employees in private industry is necessary. Emergency recovery measures having failed to absorb the majority of the unemployed the CWA is the only proposal suggested thus far which will take up the employment slack."

The Congressman received many telegrams and letters of congratulations from friends and constituents after his vote became known in Burlington and Mercer Counties.

"There are many complaints made against Administration of the CWA," the Congressman concluded. "These are matters which are in the hands of the President and his administrators alone. In casting my vote for the appropriation I merely put my stamp of approval on the general plan which is to keep this country from putting thousands of its citizens 'on the dole.' Matters of administration and complaints of that nature are not within the jurisdiction of the Congress, which is merely a legislative, not an executive body. Administration questions are in the hands of the President and his agents alone."

After the church services the group went to the leader's home and had some refreshments.

FOUNDATION FUND PARTY NETS $100

Democratic Women's Club Sponsor Birthday Celebration in Moorestown

Following a dinner at the Hotel Hildebrecht, Monday evening, the Burlington County Democratic Women's Club were received by Governor A. Harry Moore, and later attended a meeting of the Legislature. The next regular meeting of the Club will be held at the home of Mrs. Helen Kelly, Moorestown, Tuesday evening, February 13th.

The proceeds of the card party held on the 29th of January and a donation from the Welfare Fund of the Club, amounting to $100 was sent to the Roosevelt Foundation Fund in Warm Springs, Georgia.

JUST WHERE WE SIT

The editor sat in his "easy" chair Smoking a pipe and pulling his hair. Inflation, deflation, the silver scare—He hasn't a dollar so why should he care?

But people expect him to fathom the pit And tell 'em how Roosevelt's expectin' to git

Eight bits for a dollar that's only worth four— And "the boat we're all ridin' in" is yet far from shore.

The dollar they tell him is still worth ten times; That's something because it works well with rhymes—

So rhyme he'll have to use for reason, Since reason now might rhyme with treason.

LEWIS VS. RAINES AT CAMDEN ARARY

"Strangler" to Battle Young
Texas Cowboy Over Three
Fall Route Tonight

Ed (Strangler) Lewis, former world's heavyweight wrestling champion, and Dick Raines, a powerful young Texas cowboy, have been signed for the feature attraction at the Camden armory, on Thursday night, it was announced yesterday by promoters Frank and Raymond Hanly.

Lewis, a four-time holder of the coveted crown of matdom, will be meeting Raines, one of the most promising of the younger crop of grapplers, for the first time. The match will be fought over the two-out-of-the-falls route.

Raines, a native of Houston, Texas, has compiled a splendid record in Camden during the past eight months and is considered a worthy foe for the veteran "strangler," who is still looked upon as one of the leading contenders for the championship.

A strong preliminary card will support the attractive windup. In the semi-final, Sammy Stein, fresh from holding Ray Steele to a 90-minute draw, is scheduled to take on Scotty McDougall, the rough Scotchman from Boston, in one fall, one hour time limit bout.

The main thirty-minute match will bring together Pat McKay, of New York, and Harry Fields, a young medical student of the University of Pennsylvania, while the second number will show a contest between Dusek, of Omaha, with Little Beaver, the Oklahoma Indian, and in the opening tilt, Jerry Monahan, of California, is booked to clash with Orville Brown, of Kansas.

Over 10,000 persons attended last Easter's impressive Sunrise service. By enlisting your choir for this wonderful occasion it, too, will share in the general acclaim accorded.

FARSIGHTED BUSINESS MAN SAVES MONEY

"A business man, noted for being far-sighted, thrifty and successful, says the reason for his success is being open-minded. He cites one instance, a year ago, Joseph T. Evans advertised that their high-carbon Premium Anthracite would give more and longer heat and save money. He told the reporter he was skeptical, but knowing the reliability of the Evans firm, he put one ton in his home as a test. He found that he used 50 shovelfuls to seven shovelfuls a day more of the softer coal. Evans' Coal was used until Spring with splendid satisfaction and money saved. Last summer he had Evans' to fill his bin at his store and home. He said, 'I told my tenants and customers about my saving with Evans' Coal. I have not heard one complaint, lots have thanked me for showing them how to reduce their coal expense.'"

This successful man says to you, "Be open-minded, order a test ton of Evans' Premium Anthracite in February." See as he did that money can be saved. Phone Joseph T. Evans, Riverton 302 today for your test ton.

MONEY SAVING COKE

Insist on having Genuine Koppers Coke, the latest scientific addition to the fuel family for superior heating and small amount of ashes. SCHOOL ELECTION HELD TUES. NIGHT

Hemphill, Latch, Yost and Woolman Elected; 1934-
35 Budget Passed

The extreme cold weather and the absence of a contest brought but 118 voters to the annual school election held Tuesday night in the Riverton school auditorium.

Fred P. Hemphill, a candidate for re-election for the full term of three years, led the ticket with a total of 99 votes. Karl W. Latch, a newcomer in school affairs, was elected to the full term with a total of 93 votes, and Grace M. Yost running to succeed herself for the full term was elected with a total of 85 votes.

Walter K. Woolman, former councilman and acting Mayor of Riverton, running unopposed for a one year unexpired term created by the resignation of H. H. Murray, was elected to fill the vacancy with a total of 85 votes.

The 1934-35 budget passed practically without opposition, the items on the ballot receiving the following vote: Current expenses $30,251.44, 86 Yes, 4 No; Repairs and Replacements $1,000.00, 89 Yes, 4 No; Manual Training $950.00, 79 Yes, 12 No; Authority to Transfer Funds, 77 Yes and 8 No.

District Clerk Hemphill read the call of the meeting and asked for nomination of officers to conduct the meeting. M. Sontheimer was made chairman, Dewees Showell secretary, Edward Moorehouse and Dew-Steele were elected tellers.

The town was divided into two voting districts for voting purposes, the people on the South side of the railroad voting alone desk and those on the North side voting at the other.

D. A. R. CELEBRATE LINCOLN'S BIRTHDAY

Annis Stocton Chapter Meets at Home of Mrs. R. S. Williams on Monday

Celebrating Lincoln's birthday, the Annis Stocton Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, held its bi-monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. R. S. Williams, of Elm Terrace, Riverton, Monday, the 12th.

Fifty books were brought by members for the Seamen's Library. A delegate and alternates were elected to attend the national D.A.R. Congress to be held in Washington in April.

Mrs. R. S. Williams was the delegate named and Mrs. C. Burr and Miss Burr, of Bordentown, were selected as alternates.

Interesting articles on the life of Lincoln were read, following the business session.

DR. HULL SEES WAR CLOUDS IN EUROPE

Tells Rotarians Germany and Japan Are "Bad Boys of the Nations"

"We cannot ignore the international situation," Dr. William I. Hull, of Swarthmore College, told Palmyra-Riverton Rotarians at their weekly dinner, "its present state is anything but quieting, and Japan and Germany are the contemporary bad boys of the nations." Dr. Hull outlined conditions in Germany, Japan and Russia in some detail, and showed how they are threatening the peace of the world. In his judgment, "how to get disarmament" is the burning question of our time.

War between the United States and Japan is a remote possibility, thinks Dr. Hull, but a conflict between Russia and Japan is imminent. Russia is building up her diplomatic fences so as to be able to get money and supplies when necessary, the best examples being the recognition by the U. S. and the treaty with Turkey. Japan militarists are using these actions as reasons for boosting their budget, until it will take 45% of the national income.

Two things, said Dr. Hull, have made Japan more anxious for our friendship; the first is the recognition of Russia by our government, and the second, President Roosevelt's gesture of sending our fleet to the Atlantic from the Pacific. Japan is now definitely making up to us.

Germany continues to astonish the world. The other day, "League of Nations" was abolished in three minutes by the Reichstag. Dr. Hull recalled how Bismarck had a two year's fight to get a central government established. Christianity is being repudiated as too effeminate a religion for strong men; in fact some clever theologians have figured out that Jesus Christ was not a Jew, but descended from a tribe of Germans who had early wandered to Palestine.

"NOVELTIES IN GARDEN FLOWERS"

Garden Dept. of Palmyra Woman's Club to Learn About Gardens at Tea Next Monday

The Garden Department of the Woman's Club of Palmyra is sponsoring a Garden Department Tea to be held in the club rooms, Society Hall, Palmyra, Monday, February 19. Mrs. Elias Toy is chairman of this department.

Mrs. W. T. Walker, first district garden chairman, will be the guest speaker. Her topic will be "Novelties in Garden Flowers."

Mrs. Helen Sed Guldin will sing and Mrs. Albert Parker will give one of her delightful readings.

In all debates let truth be thy aim, not victory or an unjust interest; and endeavor to gain, rather than to expose thy antagonist.

BOARD REFUSES TO REOPEN BUDGET

Freeholders Reply to Critics In Defense of Roads and Other Items

Freeholder Palmer L. Adams, backed by a committee from the Grange and from the Association of Township Committeemen numbering about thirty, filled the Freeholders' meeting room in Mount Holly last Friday and waged a word battle in an effort to open the Burlington County budget for further consideration.

Adams claimed that further economies could be effected which would reduce the budget over $100,000.00. Armed with a pile of newspaper clippings, law books, state reports, etc., Adams went into a long argument, which was interrupted many times by fellow members of the board as well as by representatives from the supporting organizations.

Among other items which Adams claims would reduce the budget, was the neglect of 125 miles of the county's improved road system during the year 1934. Adams stated that in his opinion these roads could be neglected for the period of a year without damage.

Stout Defends Road Program

Freeholder Stout discredited the thought, stating that in his many years of service as director of the highway system he had found that things must be done yearly to maintain even the most improved roads, such as shoulder repairs, snow removal, binder treatments, etc.

He further stated that for every dollar saved by absolute neglect of the highway system this year, $10 would have to be spent next year. Mr. Stout argued that he was put in office to serve the people, and as the guardian of their funds as well as their safety in road work, he would stand firm in the conviction that the 1934 budget carries only needed items of expense and, he refused to be stampeded into any change that he would have to make against his better judgment based upon fourteen years experience in highway management.

He further stated for the benefit of those assembled in opposition to his program, that if the people of Burlington County feel that he is not trying to give them the best for their money, then the opportunity (continued on page 8)

HUBBS RESIDENCE DAMAGED BY FIRE

Short Circuit Believed Cause of Blaze; Fireman Hurt
Fighting Flames

Fire that started in the ceiling of the living room in the home occupied by Clarence N. Hubbs at Broad street and Thomas avenue, Riverton, badly damaged the living room and some of the furniture, 10 o'clock this morning.

Frank Goodwin, who was fighting the fire on the second floor slipped and fell through a window, cutting a deep gash in the palm of his left hand. An emergency tourniquet was applied to the wrist and the fireman was taken to a doctor for treatment.

The house was unoccupied at the time of the fire. Mrs. Hubbs was visiting her mother in Palmyra and the children were in school. Clarence Hubbs was working in the plumbing shop at the rear of the house, when Eddie O'Neil ran in to notify him that the house was on fire.

Dense smoke hampered the efforts of the firemen but they soon located the origin of the blaze which was extinguished with chemicals and high pressure hose lines.

DEATH LURKS IN ICY ROAD CURVE

Woman Killed and Man Hurt
When Car Leaves Road,
Crashes Into Pole

A woman was killed and a man seriously injured on the Burlington Pike, near Lakeview Memorial Park, at twelve o'clock noon Wednesday, February 14.

Ernest Palm, owner and driver of a Graham-Paige, of 11614 Cartelany Road, Brooklyn, New York, and Mrs. Elsie Davidson, 39, of 2220 Lexington avenue, New York City, were proceeding on their way home after having been in Florida.

As near as can be determined from marks on the road, the car started toward a ditch on the right hand side of the road and in an effort to "straighten up," Palm pulled to the left, skidded and ran into a pole.

Mrs. Davidson had died before the Palmyra Ambulance could reach her. "Palm was sent to the Burlington County Hospital in the ambulance by Dr. LeFavor, where it was discovered he had a broken leg, cuts and bruises.

Mrs. Davidson's body was removed to the Snover Funeral Home, Palmyra.

Officer George Dorworth, of Cinaminson Township and Coroner William O. Cunningham, of Riverside, investigated the case.

The wreckage was cleaned and removed to the Bellevue garage at East Riverton.

The ambulance was driven by Clayton Weikman.

DRIVES CAR DOWN BRIDGE FOOTPATH

Motorist Blinded by Approaching
Car Misses Bridge

Apparently blinded by the lights of an approaching car, Christian N. Christiansen, of 237 Virginia avenue, Westmont, drove down the footpath of the East Riverton bridge last (Wednesday) night, in his Pontiac sedan.

Officer George Dorworth, of Cinaminson Township and Officers Gootee and Carhart, of the Riverton force, went to the rescue. Dr. Mark was sent for and gave Christiansen first aid for scalp wounds. A passing motorist took him on to Westmont.

The car which was jammed in the path half way across the bridge, was extricated by Samuel Cipoletti, of the Bellevue garage.

PLAN MEMORIAL PARK ACTIVITIES

Chairman of Borough Property
Committee Outlined Summer
Playground Plans

Mayor J. Elmer Hahn officially welcomed John Strohhlein to the councilmanic body at its meeting last Thursday night, that being his first meeting since his appointment to fill the unexpired term of Frank Holvick.

Mr. Strohhlein, chairman of the borough property committee reported that progress was being made in organizing affairs at Memorial Park for the coming summer season.

Acceptance, he said, had been received from Wilton E. Mount and Maxine Meitzner to again take up their duties as playground directors during the summer months at the park.

He announced the appointment of a citizens' tennis committee to have charge of the five tennis courts at the park this summer. They are as follows: Karl W. Latch, chairman; Porter B. Caldwell and E. Newbold Cooper.

Mr. Strohhlein also announced that playground baseball would probably organize within the next two weeks. An effort will be made to grade the terrace along the railroad tracks at the park, and probably plant an attractive flower bed bearing the words (in flowers) "Memorial Park, Riverton."

Councilman Sargent stated that he proposes to pave Howard street from Fifth to Fourth streets with an amesite paving which will be a continuation of the paving thus far to Fifth street.

Funds in an amount of $700 will be given Riverton for road construction purposes under the gasoline tax law. The whole job will probably cost $900, but Riverton will only need to furnish the extra $200.

Councilman Williams told of his talk with the school children relative to safety measures regarding roller skating. His plans met with the hearty approval of council.

The fire and water committee, headed by E. K. Merrill, reported that both fire trucks had been re-insured for public liability and property damage.

The medical inspector's report listing fees amounting to $6.00 collected from plumbers and turned over to the collector, was read and approved.

Since there seemed to be some misunderstanding relative to purchases made under the CWA and Welfare organizations in which items are charged to the borough, council decided it would be advisable to have Robert Clelland approve all purchases made by these organizations on the borough account.

Nine special officers were appointed to serve when called during the year, as follows: Clarence Hubbs, Edward Moorehouse, Dewit Steele, Fred Ulmer, Charles Cole, Emerson Wolfshmidt, Hobart Wright, William Thomason and Ezra Carhart, Jr. These special officers will not be paid unless called for duty, nor will they have any authority except while on special detail.

EASTER CANTATA BY CHORAL CLUB

Fellowship Choral Club Will Present "Olivet to Calvary" March 29

The Fellowship Choral Club, on last Christmas eve, in an endeavor to add a bit of cheer to the physically unfortunate, visited the vicinity of the homes of all known people bedridden, invalided or otherwise incapacitated by illness, in Riverton or Palmyra. At each home the men sang Christmas carols, as their personal and group contributions of the Christmas season to those who should have all the cheer that could be given them.

As a contribution to the Easter Season, this organization will sponsor the rendition of the beautiful and religiously impressive Easter cantata "Olivet to Calvary," by J. H. Maunders, famous English composer of church music, on Wednesday, March 28th, during Holy Week.

The chorus will consist of 100 trained and experienced singers and will be drilled under the capable direction of Alfred VanOsten, musical director of the Fellowship Choral Club. In addition to the membership of the club, those taking part will consist of the choral groups of the Palmyra Women's Club, Riverton Choral Club, and members of all the church choirs of Riverton, Palmyra, and Cinnaminson. Competent soloists have been selected for the principal parts. The accompanists will be Lee Milton, organ, and Stanley P. Stewart, piano, accompanist and president respectively of the Fellowship Choral Club.

Rehearsals will start on Monday, March 5th, and continue each Monday night thereafter during March at 8 o'clock promptly.

At the last rehearsal of the Fellowship Choral Club, February 12th, Guy Edwards, of Riverton, was cordially welcomed as a visitor. During intermission Mr. Edwards gave a short but very interesting talk of his impressions and experiences of musical adventures in this country and in Europe, particularly of his happy recollections of German choral groups with their fine singing. He evinced a keen interest in the local organization and lauded the spirit which prompted these men to come out and sing such fine music so well in the midst of these troubled times. It is fine for the mind and fine for the heart and soul, he said.

ADAMS CORRECTS NEWSPAPER STORY

Freeholder Says He did Not Intend to Become Steward of Almshouse

An item appearing in an alleged politically-opposed Mt. Holly newspaper has riled Freeholder Palmer L. Adams considerably.

The story states that Adams has asked the Burlington County Board of Freeholders to appropriate $1,500 toward building him a $12,000 home at the almshouse property at New Lisbon, and that Adams desires to take over the management of the almshouse at the expiration of Steward Henry Worrell's term, March 25.

The truth is quite different according to Adams. He says that in recommending needed improvements in county affairs he suggested that a residence should be built for the almshouse steward instead of the steward taking up space for living quarters in the almshouse which would accommodate about 70 inmates, while many of the sick inmates are forced to sleep in the basement and many others in the garret.

The new freeholder is applying for about $35,000 worth of work through the Civil Works Administration to be spent on county property which eventually the taxpayers of the county would have to pay for. He was informed by the proper CWA authorities that it would be necessary for the county to put up $1,500 toward materials for the $12,000 building with the understanding that if it did not go through the county would not have to spend the money.

In speaking for the taxpayers at the budget hearing on January 30, Adams offered to serve as steward of the almshouse without pay temporarily at a great sacrifice to himself, while the alleged mess there was being straightened out. He says he had no thought of accepting the job permanently.

Adams explained that from these suggestions the paper publishing the story is endeavoring to create the impression he is trying to get the county to build him a private house.

Through the grants expected by the CWA officials, says Adams, scores of men in Burlington County will be given employment over a number of weeks.

RECORD USE OF GAS

A new high record for all time in the output of gas was established on February 9 by Public Service Electric and Gas Company when the record-breaking cold weather caused a demand upon the company's gas system which resulted in a sendout of 115,309,000 cubic feet during the day. This output exceeds by fifteen per cent. the highest previous record established by the company on December 29, an exceedingly cold day of last year when the sendout amounted to 100,001,000 cubic feet.

Whither Are We Bound?

In his immortal Gettysburg Address Abraham Lincoln said . . . "we here highly resolve that . . . this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom, and that government of the people, by the people, and for the people shall not perish from the earth."

In his plea to the President for fair-play for the air mail service, which as a whole has been condemned without a hearing by the cancellation of all contracts, Colonel Lindbergh says, "It is the right of any American individual or organization to receive fair trial. Your present action does not discriminate between innocence and guilt, and places no premium on honest business."

Lindbergh's masterly and statesmanlike protest brought a sharp rebuke from the administration charging "publicity seeking."

Commenting editorially on the incident, the Evening Bulletin says: "And the nation has not yet quite reached the point where publicity for individual opinion, contrariwise to Executive decree, is an offense, even of lese majeste."

All of which brings us back to the question, "Whither are we bound?"

Under the plea for "emergency necessity" many rights of American citizens which were considered inviolable have been abrogated, powers amounting to dictatorship have been granted the Chief Executive, with the checks and counter-balances with which our forefathers sought to protect human rights, removed.

Our priceless heritage of American liberty and independence is being lightly laid aside with little apparent realization of the gravity of the transformation, which is coming about so quietly that its revolutionary character is not fully appreciated and understood.

We are lulled into a false sense of security by assurances that the assumption of power is only temporary—an "emergency measure."

But is it?
Whither are we bound?

A Weekly Review of the World's News—spiced with a few personal opinions

Unknown "Roosevelts"

President Franklin D. Roosevelt is holding down one of the biggest jobs in the world; therefore he is one of the world's greatest men. Without taking from him one iota of the credit which is justly his, he cannot help wondering how far he would get if he were not free of economic anxiety. It is safe to assume that if Mr. Roosevelt were continually worried about getting together the money for next month's house rent, or if he were haunted by fear as to what would become of Mrs. Roosevelt if he were run down by a truck, he would soon be much less than one of the world's greatest men; his worth to the nation would be practically nil. In this great land how many thousands of potential Roosevelts are there whose possible usefulness is utterly destroyed by the vicious hand of an economic system which favors the few and enslaves the many? How true are the words of the poet: "Full many a flower is born to blush unseen, and waste its sweetness on the desert air."

Two Overcoats

Not in any way connected with Mr. Roosevelt who is a generous and kindly man, one realizes that worldly success is rarely associated with humanitarian instincts. The writer recalls a trifling point which illustrates the point. During a spell of below-zero weather in the North West he observed a very successful business man, a millionaire, with his traveling secretary. The big shot was supremely comfortable in a beautiful and expensive seal-lined overcoat; his man was shivering in an ordinary winter overcoat. The rich man was totally oblivious to the discomfort of his secretary; he took it as a matter of course. Had his nature permitted him to indulge in the luxury of sharing, he never would have become a millionaire.

The French Protest

The French as a nation are not as long-suffering as we are. Because they didn't like their government, nor unemployment, salary cuts and the consequent high cost of living, they raised Cain last week in the streets of Paris. Taking advantage of the "free-for-all" the Communists and Royalists joined in the melee. The morgue is full of the dead and the hospitals packed with the wounded. They insisted upon their favorite, Gaston Doumergue, forming a new government. Not until he ar-

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

"SOUL" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ Scientist, on Sunday, February 18.
The Golden Text is: "Rejoice in the Lord thy servant: for unto thee, O Lord, do I lift up my soul" (Psalms 86:4).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Now the just shall live by faith: but if any man draw back, my soul shall have no pleasure in him. But we are not of them who draw back unto perdition; but of them that believe to the saving of the soul" (Hebrews 10:38,39).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Metaphysics is above physics, and matter does not enter into metaphysical premises or conclusions. The categories of metaphysics rest on one basis, the divine Mind. Metaphysics resolves things into thoughts, and exchanges the objects of sense for the ideas of Soul" (p. 269).

CENTRAL BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. George Lockett, B.D., Pastor
"Jesus at the Well" will be the subject of the morning sermon next Sunday at eleven o'clock. At the evening service Cinnamon Lodge of Odd Fellows will pay a visit to the church. Pastor Lockett will speak on the "Good Samaritan." Selections by the choir will be rendered under the direction of Russell Jermon during the month of February.
On Monday evening last, the new-rived at the French White House to take charge did the rioting cease.

Nations "Talk" Peace

All the great military nations of the world, including these United States, are loudly protesting their desire for peace. Nevertheless, behind the scenes, they are actually preparing for war. Japan is recruiting a new army of impoverished farmers to work in munition plants. Russia is piling up guns, tanks, and bombing planes on the Siberian frontier. We have passed a bill assuring us the greatest peace time navy in our history. Hitler is openly planning to capture Austria while Britain and France are busy on long-distance plans to insure their premacy by force of arms. Beyond question the meanest and most savage animal on the face of the earth is man. Yet, paradoxically, he is capable of such heights as to be near the angels. When commercial rivalry, the inevitable outcome of the profit system, has annihilated itself, the better side of human nature will have a chance to blossom forth—not before.

MINSTREL AND DANCE

For a real entertainment and a snappy dance, reserve Saturday evening, February 24th, fifth annual minstrel show and dance given by Covenant Chapter, No. 108, O. E. S., at P. O. S. of A. hall, Palmyra. Catchy songs, witty sayings, good orchestra, a real show and one that you'll enjoy.

Shortcuts to the Dinner Table

BY VERA A. SCHNEIDER

It IS difficult, isn't it, Mrs. Bronson, to plan day after day an invalid diet, a soft diet, a diet wonder that you write for help. I'm only too glad to give you a few suggestions and recipes to lighten your task.

While you haven't said so, I presume, of course, that your doctor has prescribed the diet for your patient. I suppose he has told you that a liquid diet includes milk, cream soups, broths and fruit beverages; a soft diet, in addition to the above, includes cereals, milk toast, soft cooked eggs, custards and ice cream; and a light diet takes in both the liquid and soft, and such foods as chicken and baked potatoes. Jaded invalid appetites may be stimulated with fruit beverages, and beef tea and cream soups add variety to the milk diet. Cereals should be thoroughly cooked, and toast should be cut quite thin and crisped through. Another point to keep in mind, when preparing dishes for the invalid, is to arrange the tray as attractively as possible. After it is arranged with the daintiest china and the best linen the home affords, a flower placed on the tray adds much toward making the food more attractive. In keeping these few pointers in mind you will do much to cheer your patient and help along to the road of recovery.

BEEF BROTH

2 lbs. beef (shoulder or shin)
1 bone, about 2 lbs.
3 quarts cold water
1½ teaspoonful salt

Cut the beef in small pieces and put it, with the chucked bone, into kettle, covering with cold water. Set in a slow oven and cook from 8 to 10 hours. Strain thru a colander, add salt, and cool quickly. When cold, remove fat. Serve either cold as a jelly or heat to the simmering point, but do not boil. It is wise to reheat the broth in a double boiler and not over direct heat. Heating it over direct heat coagulates the albumen.

Dry and separate meat from membrane, then split lengthwise. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and place under broiler. When sweetbread is heated, brush both sides with melted butter and continue to broil. Serve on toast points with a garnish of parsley.

TIPS ON GROWING

BY ONE WHO GREW UP IN THE BUSINESS

Alpine travelers risk their lives to pluck a few insipid flowers or the Edelweiss from its cranny nook, where a single false step would send them hurtling down a thousand feet of crag. Frankly the first time we saw the Edelweiss we were sorely disappointed at its dingy washed-out appearance. We had supposed it would be something worth risking one's precious neck for, or at least busting a shoelace as when kids we scaled the slippery rocks overhanging the creek's "deep hole" to gather armfuls of the bright red and yellow Columbine (Aquilegia Canadensis) for "Mom". The modern Long-spurred hybrid Aquilegia with their three-inch long spurs and riots of pinks, blues, whites and yellows simply submerge our childhood's charmer. The most airy and graceful of early spring and summer flowers, ... a charming cut flower, should be in every hardy garden; the pink shades are exceptionally fine. Many years ago the Fan Palm (Latnail borbonica) was the most popular of all the palms in the American home and deservedly so as it is one of the hardest, extremely ornamental and requiring but little care. Styles in plants, like everything else, even in dogs, change and its place in the sun of the plant lover's favor was eclipsed by the Kentia and Phoenix. It is nice to see this beautiful Palm again occupying the bright corner of the living room.

First "Hobby Night" Successful; Lincoln's Birthday is Celebrated

The first "hobby night," held last Tuesday, was very interesting. The glee club, with five members started work; the other divisions, sewing, knitting, cooking, shop work etc., considered ways of proceeding and organization.

An executive meeting of the PTA was held last week. Committee activities were discussed and some necessary business transacted. A Martha Washington tea was planned for the twenty-first, in honor of Founders Day. A preliminary peep at the invitations showed an artistic affair, with colonial profiles as decorations.

A silver offering at the door will be devoted to the welfare work in the school, with Mrs. Pearl Eagen as chairman of the committee. Tuesday, when the visitors called, the teachers were having a meeting in the office while eating their lunch. The lunchroom, well filled, without a teacher, presented an orderly, politely conducted lunch hour.

At the top of the stairs, a row of fourth graders were waiting, questioning, "What next?" and expressing a desire to listen. She, the visitor, was assured, "We'd be pleased to have you." All of this speaks well for directed self-government.

Monday some of the high school pupils, who had a holiday, visited the school. These visits are gratifying to the teachers who have helped them prepare for high school work.

During the day an assembly was called where, in honor of the day, "The Perfect Tribute" was read by Miss Florence Eagan. Afterwards a number of pupils reported having "listened in" to the Gettysburg address, surely a fine way to celebrate a great man's birthday, and more impressive than closing school, "because it is Lincoln's birthday."

Suicide Permits

Several centuries ago in Versailles, France, those wishing to commit suicide applied for permission before the town senate. If their reasons were satisfactory, the permission was granted and they were handed a dose of poison, a constant supply of which was maintained at public expense.—Collier's.

RIVERTON SCHOOL NOTES

Lincoln's Birthday Celebrated

A Lincoln play was given by Mr. Sloan's seventh grade, honoring Lincoln's Birthday. The play proved Abe's popularity with the townspeople when he was a boy. The characters in the play were: Warren Hubbs, Charles Lezenby, Robert Botger, Arthur Burns, Francis Cole, Jack Stetson, Nathaniel Denman, Philip Lezenby, Hilton Smith, Lois Bintliff, and Jane Blair. Olive Smith read a poem entitled, "Captain My Captain!" Lois Bintliff, Jane Weidorf, Dorothy Rieger, and Mary Webb sang Lincoln's favorite hymn, "Dear Lord and Father of Mankind."

Sixth Grade Visits Museum

Tuesday, February thirteenth, was a very eventful day for the Sixth Grade boys and girls of Mrs. Bush's class. In school they have been studying about the Greeks, and will soon be interested in Roman History. So that they could actually see some of the things about which they studied, they visited the museum. Here a lecture was given by a member of the University staff who had visited the lands of Greece and Italy. Many interesting and historical places were visited, through slides and by following the lecture. The galleries contained many marvelous vases, plaques, statues, glass ware, models of homes, chests, funeral stellas, friezes, vanity bags, lamps, kitchen utensils, weapons, parts of ruins from homes, and masks. Previous to studying these countries the children had been interested in Egyptian history. They completed their trip by visiting the Egyptian wings of the museum where they saw mummies in their cases, dishes, statues, costumes, models of pyramids and many other valuable treasures. The Chinese section was very interesting. The class are very grateful to Mrs. Maurice DeCoursey, Mrs. Francis B. Elwell and Mr. Merle Schaff, who very graciously furnished transportation for the entire group.

"PALS" TRAMPLE PRESIDENTS, 27-12

Red and White Score second Victory Over Woodrow Wilson High

In a court tussle on their home floor Palmyra High's basketball team tallied another win this season over Woodrow Wilson High, when they took an early lead which prevailed throughout the game.

In the first quarter both teams missed many foul shots and played rather conservatively. The score at the end of this period was 3 up.

However, the "Pals" hit their stride in the second quarter and emerged with the comfortable margin of 11 to 5.

Scoring most for Palmyra was Wagner with eight points, while Sacca and Landgraf netted four apiece. Scoring honors for the visitors went to Plaskey who sank two long shots.

Board Refuses To Open Budget

to make a change will be theirs at the coming election.

Adams Claims "Too Much Equipment"

Adams claimed that the $20,000 item in the budget for the purchase of new equipment could very logically be eliminated. In support of his argument he stated that the County already has so much equipment that efforts had been made to lease it out.

Freeholder Stout asked Adams to cite just what attempts had been made to rent out County equipment. Adams replied that he had heard that Camp Dix had been asked to lease some of the equipment.

Stout smiled and admitted that Adams was absolutely right, he had offered to lease some of the County machinery to Camp Dix. He stated that the Government emergency employment projects needed certain pieces of equipment which the County had and was not using at the time, and he believed that as a co-operative movement he was rendering a valuable public service by offering such machinery as could be spared, at the same time securing a little revenue for the County.

He asked of the farmers present if there was ever a time during the year when they had a plow, a tractor or sprayer which was not in use and which they could very well afford to lease if the opportunity arose.

Demands "Investigation"

Interrupting the heated cross fire between Freeholders and taxpayers, Dr. Joseph Bowley, of Burlington, stepped up to the rail, where he vigorously pounded with his fists, as he demanded an investigation of the County Tuberculosis Hospital, charging mismanagement, and offering to serve on a committee of three to investigate the operations of the hospital. He asked for an eye and may vote from each freeholder, but Mr. Heister stated that the Board needed no investigation and refused Dr. Bowley's request. This angered the doctor who grew red in the back of his neck and sputtered out that the whole County government needed a clean-up.

The question of cars for Freeholders came up again, and Adams stated that three cars were enough for the Freeholders. He agreed that the director of roads, the director of bridges and the director of public buildings should each have a car, and scored William Heister for operating a county car to come to and from work every day.

Epithets Fly

The whole discussion was interspersed with heated remarks, which included "crooks," "robbers" and "what-not," and then taking it all back. Politics, personal grievances and some mild profanity crept into the discussions when they reached their greatest intensity.

The meeting was not without its humor, however, since at one time during the session, Palmer Adams challenged Judge Wells to a "public debate." The judge replied "Yeah—we'll hire a hall."

Three tax anticipation notes totaling $100,000 were authorized. An O. K. from the war department on the proposed Riverside-Delanco bridge was received. Four dozen new election booths for Burlington city were authorized. A letter from Judge Wells stating that no member of the Board of Freeholders was legally allowed to serve as steward of the almshouse unless first resigning as a freeholder, was read and filed.

The following department bills were ordered paid: Finance $4,447.95; Roads $7,521.20; Bridges $1,979.59; Buildings $18,644.27, and Public Affairs $20,342.46—totaling $52,935.47.

time. Anschluss (war) with Austria is near, thinks Dr. Hull, and then Germany will again be a powerful nation.

The disarmament conference at Geneva is up against a stone wall over the question of German equality of armaments. France insists that Germany be kept unarmed, but she refuses to cut her own armament. Great Britain and Italy, on the other hand, say that either Germany be permitted to re-arm, or France cut her arms.

The world race for armaments is on again, with United States striving to lead. Great Britain and Japan are straining to keep up the former planning to make Singapore a second Gibraltar. Dr. Hull believes that President Roosevelt is against war, and that he sanctions the tremendous increases in our military and naval budgets because he feels that he can bargain for disarmament better with them passed and already in the process of being spent, than if he has nothing tangible to match the increases of the other powers. This, said Dr. Hull, is a fallacy, and may lead to a re-establishment of the British-Japanese fleet alliance.

Dr. Hull advocates a substitute for war to handle the inevitable national disputes. Several good agencies exist and have done good work, but they have been forced to operate side by side with growing armaments, hence in a crisis, war gets the popular acclaim. The Kellogg pact is swept aside by an appeal to arms. President Roosevelt knows this and personally asked that aggressive weapons be abolished, and that no nation's army cross its own boundaries. The latter would be of great help could it be enforced.

Following the adjournment of the meeting, a majority of the members stayed for an informal discussion period with Dr. Hull. Included in those who heard him, were several guests as well as visiting rotarians. The singing before the speaker began, was particularly effective.

Handsomeness Hungarian and Colorful Hebrew in Three Fall Tilt Tonight

Two of the best of the younger crop of heavyweight matmen, Sandor Szabo, handsome Hungarian, and Sammy Stein, colorful Hebrew titleholder, will clash in the feature attraction of the Twin City Sport-Club's weekly mat bill at the Camden Armory Thursday night.

Szabo, who has been out of commission for the past few months with a badly infected right thumb, and Stein, fresh from two thrilling matches at the Armory, will meet over the two-out-of-three falls route. A 90-minute time limit is attached. The semi-final will bring together Sam Cordeano, former Georgetown All-American football star and present line coach at Columbia University, and Pat McKay, rough and ready Irishman from Memphis, Tenn. They will battle it out over the one fall, one hour time limit distance.

In the special 45-minute match, Casey Columbus, of Pasadena, Calif., meets Babe Cadock, popular 200-pound Nebraska, while in the opening half hour set, Mayes McLain, erstwhile University of Iowa grid-iron hero, is booked to tackle Orville Brown of Topeka, Kansas.

TON TESTERS GREATLY SURPRISED

During last week's zero weather, a prominent Riverton business man, one of many who are Ton Testers, had a pleasant surprise and read in the newspaper, his friends had told him that Evans High-Carbon Premium Anthracite would give extra heat and save him money. He put in a test ton two weeks ago. This business man in relating his experience says, "During those two terrible cold days, Evans Premium Anthracite coal burned and burned, lasted and lasted, delivered the heat and kept my home warm and my wife and children comfortable. My pleasant experience was a surprise, and is all due to being open minded and willing to test Evans High-Carbon Premium Anthracite Coal." He concluded by suggesting to every family, who is needing coal to try a test ton in February and see for themselves the superior results and money saving from Evans' High-Carbon Premium Anthracite Coal, and be prepared to have comfort during the next cold snap which the weather man predicts later in the month.

Phone Evans 302 for your test ton and be pleasantly surprised too at the extra warmth and money saving. Phone Evans today for your test ton.

$10,000 DAMAGE IN MORNING BLAZE

Expensive Yacht Equipment Destroyed in Garage Fire Wednesday

Heavy loss was sustained by R. M. Hollingshead when the upper floor of the three car garage located at the rear of his property, Second street, and Linden avenue, Riverton, was destroyed by fire early Wednesday morning.

The loft of the garage contained most of the movable equipment from Mr. Hollingshead's yacht the "Marcheta," including such items as awnings, seat cushions, yacht tenders, brass work, sailors' uniforms, etc. An approximate estimate of the total damage has been set at between $8,000 and $10,000.

Extreme cold, frozen fire hydrants and a frozen fire siren were all drawbacks to the efforts of the firemen. Had not fourteen of Riverton's volunteer firemen maintained an all-night vigil in the firehouse, the outcome of the fire might have been considerably more serious.

Chief Carhart, upon scanning the weather report on Tuesday which predicted extreme cold, snow and high winds, called for volunteers among the active membership to maintain an all-night vigil in the firehouse as an added precaution and protection for the citizens of Riverton.

Fourteen members were willing to serve and were at their posts when the call came in. A driver for the Supple Milk Company came to the fire house with news of the fire just as one of the telephone operators phoned in the fire.

The fire hydrant nearest the blaze was frozen, and lines had to be run from one on Linden avenue half way to Fourth street before water could be played on the fire.

Two of three cars in the garage were removed to safety by Aloysius Carhart, chauffeur for the Hollingsheads.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilton E. Mount, on Linden avenue, opened their house and kept the firemen supplied with hot coffee during the morning hours, for which the firemen were very grateful.

PROMINENT MEN APPRAISE SCOUTS

Leaders In Many Lines Give Views on Value of Boy Scout Movement

President Roosevelt's recent dramatic radio call to the Scouts of America, calling them on a nationwide "good turn" has focused the attention of many prominent men upon Scouting—men who heretofore have had no particular contact with the movement.

Edward Guest

"Eddie" Guest stepped out of his way last week to pay a glowing tribute to Scouting in general and to Scout Masters in particular. He also read a poem dedicated to these leaders of our boys. Mr. Guest described the Eagle Scout as the aristocrat of boyhood and "fit company for anyone in the world."

Leigh Mitchell Hodges

Leigh Mitchell Hodges in his syndicated column, "The Optimist," last week described the high tribute paid to a Scout by a corner gang. A pal having died, they had collected for a floral offering, but were unwilling to trust the funds overnight to any member of the gang.

While the discussion was under way a Scout came along and an instant and unanimous decision was made to give him the money to hold until morning. Without his name or address or anything but confidence in the uniform, this rough crew learned next day in fact that "a Scout is trustworthy."

The Burlington County Council of the Boy Scouts of America has recently secured remarkable testimonials of the good influence of Scouting from leading educators, jurists and public men whose daily activities put them in contact with boys of Scout age.

Bvt. Brigadier General Landon

Bvt. Brigadier General Thomas D. Landon, Commandant of the Bordentown Military Institute, writes this wholehearted endorsement: "A Scout troop is at present being organized at Bordentown Military Institute. Not so much is this a result of the demand for a troop from boys previously associated or familiar with Scouting as it is to our reaction to Cadets who show the benefits of Scout associations. We look upon the boys who have had Scouting experience as among the finest in school. They are outstanding because of their straight-thinking attitudes toward responsibility, trustworthiness and sportsmanship."

Louis J. Kaser

Louis J. Kaser, County Superintendent of Schools, says, "Scouting activities are fine training for any boy."

Sheriff George N. Wimer

Sheriff George N. Wimer, of Palmyra, writes: "The Boy Scouts of America and those men who are giving unselfishly of their time, money and effort in the building up of that organization have my highest regard and my greatest respect. The effectiveness of the work being done by your organization in our community can be seen at a glance not only by myself but by the many other persons who are interested in this work."

"I would say that if this and similar organizations had existed years ago we would have fewer prisoners to handle in our penal institutions. My experience shows me this with-out qualification."

E. Newbold Cooper

E. Newbold Cooper, of Riverton, former supervisor of the Riverton public school and now Supervising Principal at Girard College, makes this comment:

CHAIRS WANTED

The members of the Riverton Volunteer Fire Company who are planning to keep an all-night vigil in the firehouse on such nights as may be considered extremely hazardous, are desirous of securing a few pieces of overstuffed living room furniture to keep in their fire hall.

The boys find it quite uncomfortable to spend an entire night resting in a straight back hardwood chair, and for that reason would be glad for the donation of any comfortable chairs or davenport.

A celebrity was asked to recommend a hair lotion. He sent this reply: "Gentlemen—before using your hair lotion I had two bald spots—now I have one."—New Jersey Bell.

Encouraging talk is going the rounds about abolishing city slums. A spokesman of the government recently announced that the challenge will be the result of this good intention? One bright New Yorker suggests that it would be a good idea to draft all slum dwellers into temporary concentration camps and then employ United States artillery to smash into fine powder the filthy hovels and slum tenements which are a disgrace to our industrial centers. That would, at least, put a stop to a good use. In New York a step in that direction has been taken. During the recent below-zero weather, the armories of the National Guard have been opened to receive the shivering and hungry homeless. So it seems we are moving slowly in the right direction.

Shortcuts to the Dinner Table

BY VERA A. SCHNEIDER

The question of kitchens and kitchen equipment comes up so frequently and usually the inquiries are from little newlyweds, that I think it well to devote our column today to the brides, helping them, if and as we can with our suggestions.

In planning your kitchen, young brides, that is the equipment which is to go into the kitchen and the arrangement of it, thought should be given to making it a cheerful and restful workroom, for, you know, we do find it necessary to devote a good portion of our time there even though science of this day and age has developed for us many labor-saving devices.

Right now, I'm thinking of a delightful kitchen that I once called mine. It was a joy to work in that kitchen, with its two windows for cross ventilation, its old-fashioned cupboard, and its roominess. Indeed, I used to feel very proud when I had my baking finished and arrayed on the table. The only thing that was lacking in that kitchen for complete comfort and joy in one's daily task of home-making was the lack of a modern refrigerator. I struggled along with a less efficient piece of equipment for the preservation of food, and as I look back I can recall the food spoilage that ate into the weekly budget.

But let's not discuss individual pieces of equipment today. Let us go back to the bright airy kitchens that are so essential to efficiency in our daily routine. It's nice to have a splash of color in the kitchen. So let's plan, if we are renovating our kitchens or furnishing new ones, to have bright colored chair cushions and dainty checkered gingham curtains.

RIVERTON P. T. A.
THANKS DONORS

Talent Day Sketch and Food Sale Generously Supported; Mrs. Conrow Guest Speaker

The Riverton P.T.A. takes this opportunity to thank all those who contributed so generously to Talent Day in donating good things to eat, generous buying and the clever sketch "The Big Depression," put on by members of the association.

Mrs. Porter Caldwell played the part of a hostess with "ambitions," entertaining Mrs. R. Flower, Mrs. J. Roberts and Mrs. H. Coe at lunch, all to be duly "impressed" with the help of two ducky serving maids, (willing but dumb), Mrs. F. Elwell and Mrs. R. Barclay; Mrs. Simons, as Mrs. Caldwell's painfully truthful daughter, didn't help very much either, so it was indeed, a "Big Depression."

Mrs. Nathan Conrow, county chairman of Study Groups, spoke in observance of Founders Day and asked that the original ideals of the P.T.A. founded 37 years ago, not be forgotten.

Mrs. C. P. Mayfield conducted the Study Group meeting in the kindergarten prior to the regular meeting. Mrs. Mayfield spoke of the effect of movies on children. "Visual things are retained longer and make a more lasting impression, therefore the movies our children see can be either valuable or harmful." "Our Movie Made Children," obtainable at the Riverton Free Library, throws some interesting light on this subject. When one realizes that 77 million people attend the movies every week in the United States, it is important that our children be educated to the picture, rather than the time. Many feel that they must go at least once a week, regardless of the picture.

Mrs. H. Coe at Miss Staman's request asked that children be cautioned about crossing the railroad at the gates. Children have been seen walking on track and on one occasion the "Nelly Bly" was forced to slow down.

Fire and Two Accidents Over Weekend. Effective Work By Fire Companies

Last Thursday, February 15th, a fire broke out in the kitchen of the home of Mrs. Beulah Haines, widow of Collins H. Haines, and spread up over the kitchen roof, into the second floor and up under the rafters to the third floor.

The house was badly damaged in the rear, the loss amounting to about $1000.

Parry and Palmyra fire companies responded to the call.

Friday, February 16th, at 2.45 p.m., an accident occurred at Burlington Pike and Moorestown-Riverton Road, when a car driven by John M. Wilkinson, of Bellair, Md., ran into the rear of a truck driven and owned by Charles Shaffer, Jr., of Fork Landing Road. No one was injured and the vehicles were only slightly damaged.

Sunday, February 18th, at 10 p.m., Andrew J. Dendor, of 119 Franklin street, Elizabeth, attempted to pass a car on the Pennsauken creek bridge, driven by Edward King, of 123 Watkins avenue, Woodbury. The cars collided with slight damage, and no one injured.

RIVERTON
NOTES

Mrs. Williams class has joined the Little America Aviation and Exploration Club. They have received membership cards and a working map of the South Polar regions.

Helene Vile brought to class a clipping telling about the plan so they wrote and received a letter stating that each child could receive a membership card and a working map. Although this offer was open only to High School children, this class is allowed to join. They found out that The New Era, in Riverton, is running the series; and if they can arrange to get the stories it will help them with their class work. Not only is it an adventure to take this trip, but it, also, adds to their knowledge of social studies.

Dramatic Department Presents Two Sketches, With Mrs. Shreve in Leading Role

A most appreciative audience enjoyed the two one-act plays "Wrong Numbers" and "The Veil Lifts," which were given by the drama department of the Riverton Porch Club on Tuesday afternoon.

The casts were unusually well selected and every part was splendidly done. Mrs. Henry W. Shreve, chairman of the drama department, played one of the leading roles and her fine acting brought tears to the eyes of the audience.

TURKEY DINNER IS WELL ATTENDED

Patrons Far in Excess of Ticket Sales Appeared for Presbyterian Dinner

Over 300 were served at the turkey dinner given by the ladies of the Presbyterian church in the basement last Thursday night.

Those who appeared for dinner exceeded by 80 the number of tickets sold, and for whom dinners had been prepared. Some had a rather long wait to be served but after reaching the table, decided it was well worth waiting for.

Chew's Bakery roasted over three hundred pounds of turkey as their contribution toward the financial success of the dinner.

MARRIED

The marriage of Miss Edith Garwood, of Beach Haven, formerly of Palmyra, to E. Ivins Pharo, also of Beach Haven, has been announced. The ceremony was performed January 3 at the home of Mrs. John Sauer, of Beach Haven.

Miss Etta Johnson, and George Strickland were the couple's only attendants.

Mrs. Pharo is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Garwood.

MOTHER-IN-LAW
GIVES ADVICE

A well-known Cinnaminson avenue woman, whose son-in-law complained about his cold house, said: "Son, you will never know there is a difference in coal until you try a test ton of Evans' High-Carbon Premium Anthracite Coal. We had trouble too, but one night 5 years ago, an Evans Salesman called and said the reason it was called High-Carbon was because it had about 85 per cent carbon, it gives more heat and lasted longer, he said it is guaranteed absolutely to give satisfaction. That guarantee sold my husband, and we ordered a test ton. The results surprised us. We have kept warm for 5 years and saved money ever since, because we use only 7 tons of Evans' High-Carbon Premium Anthracite Coal, and often used 8 or 9 tons of other coal each winter." "Thanks Mother, I'm going to order a test ton from Evans' today, for only yesterday a friend at the office told me the same story, he said a ton of Evans' High-Carbon Premium Anthracite Coal gave him 10 days extra heat at no extra cost." Don't wait, order your test ton today. Evans Phone, Riverton 302.

"It is certainly Hot Stuff, and we have had perfect satisfaction ever since we started to order Koppers Coke from Joseph T. The Citizen's Responsibility

This republic is as much endangered today by the indifference of millions of people, inheritors of the traditions and opportunities of this greatest of all nations, to their own duties and responsibilities, as it is by the activities of the open and secret enemies of American institutions.

Half of our citizens do not even take the trouble to vote. Most of the remainder consider their duty to their country discharged when they have cast their ballots and go about their business during the intervals between political campaigns, giving little or no thought to the national welfare.

Elements antagonistic to American institutions are not so indifferent or so idle. They are ceaselessly at work, in the open and under cover. They are never off the job of undermining the faith of the people in their country, in spreading unrest, in arousing discontent, envy and hatred—those passions out of which violent revolutions are fashioned.

George Washington expressed the hope that the United States of America would not follow "the usual course of nations." The usual course of nations has been that of the tide in its daily movements—to rise and then to fall. This nation cannot escape the usual fate of governments except through the vigilance of its citizens.

It is human nature to take an inheritance for granted; to accept it as a matter of course, to deem it unnecessary to defend that which others have fought for, that it might be ours. And so, with many voices raised in criticism of American institutions, American traditions and American ideals few think it worth while to call attention to the incalculable value of these institutions, traditions and ideals. How is a new generation to learn that there is anything worth while in them?

To fight for one's country when its life is threatened by violence is noble and heroic; to stand up for it in peace time is a virtue quite as necessary. And unless there be such virtue in citizenship, our traditions will be forgotten, our ideals neglected and our institutions will crumble.

What is more important to every citizen of this republic than the perpetuity of the institutions which protect his life, his liberty and his property; what is of more priceless value than the national ideals and traditions which have given this nation its proud place in history? Yet how little thought the average man or woman gives to this most vital of all questions affecting the most precious things in life!

Institutions, governments, do not preserve themselves. They can be preserved only by the vigilance of those to whose guardianship they have been committed. Upon you, as a citizen of the republic, rests a responsibility which cannot be shirked without danger to your country. Its future is worth something of your thought, so much of which is given to matters of less moment.

"SO IT SEEMS"

By Alfred Biggs

A Weekly Review of the World's News—spiced with a few personal opinions

Chaos in Europe

In Austria the curtain has been rung down at the close of one minor scene in the world drama of today. The desperate resistance of the Socialists was of no avail against the better-armed forces of the quasi-fascist government; but the play will go on. There are many more scenes to be enacted before order can be restored in that distressed and restless part of Europe.

Slaughter of the Innocents

The Socialist workers of Austria have made great headway towards happier conditions of living. Their Karl Marx Hoff was one of the resisters of the world. In the Socialists' hands was no availing life in spacious sun-lit apartments at a rental of around three dollars a month. They had community flower gardens, play gardens for the children, Turkish baths and swimming pools. They had com-

CHURCH NEWS

CALVARY PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
Charles T. Bates, Pastor

The morning service of worship will be held at 11 o'clock Sunday. Evening service at 8 o'clock; Christian Endeavor at 7 p.m. All departments of the Church School will meet at 9:45 a.m. This includes the Men's Bible Class which meets in the transept of the church. Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock the Study of the Life of Christ will be continued.

The pastor will begin his Class of Instruction this coming Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. All the children of the congregation are welcome to this class whether they intend uniting with the church or not.

FIRST LUTHERAN CHURCH
Rev. Harold L. Creager

At our Sunday morning worship services during Lent we are undertaking a series of meditations on the general theme, "What Does Jesus Mean to Us?" In this we are following the convictions of the Christian church through the ages, as crystallized in the second article of the Apostles' Creed. The topic next Sunday morning will be "Jesus, the Perfect Revelation of God."

Next Sunday evening we will start a series of sermons dealing with Jesus' great teachings for Christian living as found in the Sermon on the Mount. The first theme will be "Jesus' Recipe for Happiness."

Prayer meeting and Bible study each Wednesday evening at 8.

forts unknown to workers in the United States. This multiple residence was operated at cost plus normal depreciation. It was a great place; a forerunner of the world to be. Now it is a shambles, torn to pieces by artillery fire and stained with the blood of the workers and their wives and children.

Battleships and Schools

For good and sufficient reason the United States is now planning a Navy which will break all records for peace-time strength; enormous sums of money will be spent on it. At the same time nearly 200,000 children are not now attending school because so many schools have been closed for lack of funds. That is one more puzzle to be solved by those who have already tried to figure out why planters are paid to plow back cotton while thousands of citizens need clothes. There are so many anomalies in the present political and economic situation that the eventual outcome is anybody's guess. The job of the old woman who lived in a shoe was a cinch compared with that which faces President Roosevelt today.

"Crazy People"

Beyond question the building up of armaments brings work to thousands of workers. There is, however, no lasting accretion of wealth to the nation in such work. All war paraphernalia is out-of-date and obsolete almost as soon as it is completed. Any country which relies upon such work to cure economic distress makes no more progress than a dog chasing its tail. Yet, on the other hand, when the workers do something really constructive, as with the Karl Marx Hoff in Vienna, the Government then comes along and knocks it down. No wonder that George Bernard Shaw said that this old earth of ours is the private lunatic asylum for the solar system.

"The next person who interrupts the proceedings," said the judge, sternly, "will be expelled from the courtroom and ordered home."

"Hooray," shouted the prisoner, loudly.—Peoples Gas Club News.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH
"Mind" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, February 25.

The Golden Text is: "Be ye all of one mind, having compassion one of another, love as brethren, be pitiful, be courteous" (1 Peter 3:8). Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "For, lo, he that formeth the mountains, and createth the wind, and declareth unto man what is his thought, that treadeth upon the high places of the earth, The Lord, The God of hosts, is his name" (Amos 4:13).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Infinite Mind creates and governs all, from the mental molecule to infinity. This divine Principle of all expresses Science and art throughout His creation, and the immortality of man and the universe" (p. 507).

adolescent impulses, and insofar as we have been able to observe, develop a standard of honor and gentlemanliness in their members."

Howard Eastwood

Howard Eastwood, County Prosecutor, offers this appraisal of Scouting:

"For a number of years I have had a more or less personal contact with your work and have had opportunity to observe the benefits derived therefrom. Your Association offers a splendid opportunity to build character in the lives of boys, teach them a great many things of practical value and fit them for the duties and responsibility of citizenship. To me one of the greatest values is taking the leisure hours of the boys and directing their energies in right channels. I find in dealing with juvenile offenders that is one of their greatest needs and usually it is because of lack of having definite recreational activities that causes them to go astray."

Judge Frank A. Mathews, Jr.
Judge Frank A. Mathews, Jr., has two boys who are active Scouts. He writes:

"From what knowledge I had and from observation, I was quite convinced that it was worth while being my two boys joined. Since then, I am still more firmly convinced it is a splendid institution for the development in boys of those characteristics which most of us older persons believe so essential in the development of real manhood, and which unfortunately seem to be slighted in the general life of boys today in favor of fancier things, those sound and appealing activities engaged in by Boy Scouts."

George C. Baker

George C. Baker, Supervising Principal of Moorestown Schools, places high value upon Scout training. "For many years," says Mr. Baker, "I have observed with the keenest interest the influence of Scouting upon the lives of boys who are active in the work. The underlying philosophy of the organization is one that challenges the best physically and mentally that is in the individual."

"Entangling Alliances"

Conflicting passions of opposing factions and politics are not restricted to any one country in Europe. In Germany the lid has been temporarily clamped down on a seething volcano by Hitler. In Spain, Socialists, Syndicalists and Communists are at each other's throats. In France, conflicting emotions of opposing parties burst into flame in vicious street fighting. The group of new nations created by the Versailles treaty are itching to express self-determination by murdering each other. There is talk of sending a combined English, French and Italian army to restore order. It is pretty safe to say that any English Government which seriously proposes to take part in such a move will be thrown out on its ear. The English have troubles enough without going to Central Europe for more. So have we.

—Alfred Biggs.

First, I'll tell you about the Admiral's great flight on the 22nd.

He had been dreaming this flight for years. Already our great steel ship had gone further south into the ice than any ship in history. Commodore Gjersten advised retreating to open water. Admiral Byrd had seen a big open bay in the closely packed ice and we circled around to its entrance. Then he notified Harold June, chief pilot. William Bowlin, relief pilot. J. A. Peltier, mapper, and Carl O. Petersen, radio man, to get ready. In the most beautiful and fantastic scene ever dreamed of, the huge four-engine Wright Condor plane was hoisted out on the big boom and dropped gently into the calm water and then the 16-foot Matthews motor boat cruiser was put over and took the plane in tow.

Under Commander Noville, executive officer, and red drums of Tydol gasoline were rolled up on deck and 400 gallons put into the plane by hand. Then the cruiser towed the plane out into the ice-lined bay and cast off. This was 10:30 a.m. Up and down the bay June ran the flying ship, warming the engines. Then, like a magnificent sea bird, she took the air and circled for almost an hour over the Ruppert, while compasses, radio and other equipment were checked and tested. At 11:40, the Admiral signalled "We are heading south," and off they went, at 1600 feet. It took only fifteen minutes for the Condor to disappear in the distance. At 2:55 she was over the ship again after one of the most important exploration flights ever made—from 66.31 South 149.5 West along the 150th Meridian to 70 South—350 miles further south than the record made by Captain Cook on his same meridian in 1773. Flying Into Antarctica!

ON BOARD THE BYRD FLAGSHIP, JACOB RUPPERT:—(By Mackay Radio) Whew! That was some crossing of the Pacific, wasn't it? From Norfolk, Va., to Wellington, N. Z., and then smack into the ice pack bordering on the great Antarctic continent (if it is a continent)—all in a week. Well, any how, here we are right in the middle of a most amazing world of icebergs, ice cakes, seals, whales and silly looking penguins! The sudden change from America and New Zealand is more than my mind can take in all at once.

In last week's story we were just leaving Norfolk, 11th March. We passed the Cape of Good Hope, and then came to the club editors by mail and radio twelve stories of our adventures on the long trip. You will probably never see those stories. Too much is happening with us and we've got to come up to date with this series right now.

Two great events occurred here on December 20 and 22. Admiral Byrd made a magnificent four-hour flight of discovery over the ice of Ross Sea in the big Condor plane. And Klondyke had a calf! Some excitement!

First, I'll tell you about the Admiral's great flight on the 22nd. He had been dreaming this flight for years. Already our great steel ship had gone further south into the ice than any ship in history. Commodore Gjersten advised retreating to open water. Admiral Byrd had seen a big open bay in the closely packed ice and we circled around to its entrance. Then he notified Harold June, chief pilot. William Bowlin, relief pilot. J. A. Peltier, mapper, and Carl O. Petersen, radio man, to get ready. In the most beautiful and fantastic scene ever dreamed of, the huge four-engine Wright Condor plane was hoisted out on the big boom and dropped gently into the calm water and then the 16-foot Matthews motor boat cruiser was put over and took the plane in tow.

Under Commander Noville, executive officer, and red drums of Tydol gasoline were rolled up on deck and 400 gallons put into the plane by hand. Then the cruiser towed the plane out into the ice-lined bay and cast off. This was 10:30 a.m. Up and down the bay June ran the flying ship, warming the engines. Then, like a magnificent sea bird, she took the air and circled for almost an hour over the Ruppert, while compasses, radio and other equipment were checked and tested. At 11:40, the Admiral signalled "We are heading south," and off they went, at 1600 feet. It took only fifteen minutes for the Condor to disappear in the distance. At 2:55 she was over the ship again after one of the most important exploration flights ever made—from 66.31 South 149.5 West along the 150th Meridian to 70 South—350 miles further south than the record made by Captain Cook on his same meridian in 1773. Mark

But at ten o'clock in the morning our thoughts were taken violently off of icebergs and everything else except Klondyke. At that hour she increased the population of the Byrd Expedition to the extent of one full-blooded Guernsey bull-calf. It was a hectic time on the Jacob Ruppert and it was a huge event for Messrs. Cox and Clark, two of our ex-Navy men. For weeks they had been consulting charts, calendars, the ship's log book and Captain Verleger, because they had promised the donor of our three cows that the first calf would be born within the Antarctic circle. This would have happened except for a couple of days of for as the terrific gale that allowed us down last Sunday, and they missed it by 247 miles!

The happy event took place in the cow shed on deck next to the studio of David Paige, our artist. An able seaman, Fred Dustin, was first to know of it. We were all watching a berg four miles long when he yelled "Oh boy, oh boy, oh boy!" and went racing for the Messrs. Cox and Clark and Dr. Shirey, our medic. Commander George Noville tells me he is very fond of veal chops.

I understand the maps we are going to send without cost to every member of the Little America Aviation and Exploration Club will be ready by January 10th. Those already ready members will receive them automatically. Non-members should become members right away, at no cost, by sending me a self-addressed stamped envelope at the Club's American headquarters, Hotel Lexington, 48th Street and Lexington Avenue, New York, N. Y., so they can mark this flight on the map.

A Pertinent Question

There has been another outburst of criticism of the Securities Act. Ever since it was put on the statute books resentment of it has been growing among the brokers and bankers whom it affects. The Securities Act insists that every fact concerning any new security offered for sale to the public must be stated truthfully without error or omission. This presents another puzzle to the inquiring mind. How is it that any this on your map when you get it in the near future.

The Admiral saw no land, but saw miles of open water behind an ice pack not nearly as big or tough as it was supposed to be. So with new flights for guidance, it may be that we shall get our big steel ship further south safely than was dreamed possible. It is now December 26 and we have drifted around for days in a thick fog.

And maybe this whole ship load wasn't excited about Klondyke last week (on the 20th). We had suddenly plunged into an ocean of icebergs. The first I had ever seen. Never will I forget it. We passed more than a thousand in sixteen hours—like huge ships or glistering apartment buildings. In the water between there were thousands of shiny white broken pieces of bergs. Admiral Byrd and Commodore Gjersten told me they had never seen so many at one time in all their trips. The Admiral said, "Only an undulating and extensive barrier could produce bergs in such large numbers. Somewhere hereabouts is a barrier which may be considerably larger than the great Ross ice barrier fronting on the Ross Sea. If that's the case and we're lucky enough to find it, the search for the coast of the Antarctic continent may be ended."

But at ten o'clock in the morning our thoughts were taken violently off of icebergs and everything else except Klondyke. At that hour she increased the population of the Byrd Expedition to the extent of one full-blooded Guernsey bull-calf. It was a hectic time on the Jacob Ruppert and it was a huge event for Messrs. TIPS ON GROWING

"The Black Rose of Sangerhausen" is not the title of a spooky mystery thriller, but of a new Rose which appeared in Germany last season, causing a sensation in European horticultural circles, echoes of which were heard in this country, and of which publicity was given to the variety in many magazines and newspapers.

At the time the furor was at its height, one of America's noted commercial rosarians visited Germany, saw the Rose and promptly annexed the American rights, and it will be offered for sale the coming fall under the name of "Nigrette" which somehow or other seems like a French term for pickaninny.

The Rose is a very dark maroon, —the darkest rose as yet introduced, and sometimes under certain conditions of light or age of bloom, approaches almost a true black. This will be one of the most interesting novelties of the autumn season. Its color is rich and the Rose is nicely formed and attractive. It makes a plant of moderate size, with plenty of bloom, and best of all has a lovely fragrance.

The first meeting of the American Joint Committee on Horticultural Nomenclature in several years was held in New York recently. At this meeting it was decided to revise "Standardized Plant Names" soon and that the matter of pronunciation be included in the new edition. Also that in preparing the new volume the committee would adopt as far as possible the international botanical code as approved by the International Botanical Congress at Cambridge, England, in 1930. Included in the new book will be terms used in the lumber industry to describe certain trees, also the separate listing of the names of drug plants.

"Standardized Plant Names," while open to criticism, is by far the best work published seeking to clarify the present muddle of plant names, and the revision is eagerly awaited.

Alex. Cumming, Jr., the chrysanthemum specialist and originator of many new varieties, in an interesting article on "Safer Chrysanthemums" in "The New York Times" of Sunday, February eleventh, writes about his new Korean hybrids, catalogued for the first time this season. These hybrids, as he stated, "have been found to possess not only added hardiness, but a bewildering range of pastel shades, that remind one of the greenhouse-grown Gerberas."

Mr. Cumming also refers to the new single varieties—"Amber Star, buff with a mingling of soft scarlet; Indian Maid, orange; Sunbright, pure yellow, and Enchantress, lavender rose."

The four single varieties mentioned are originations of our own townsman, E. H. Michel. These Singles also received high praise in Mr. Hatton's articles in the February "Horticulture."

MARRIED
Miss Elisa Wirth Fittler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. Myers Fittler, of The Terraces, Rosemont, was married to Mr. Donald Strachan, son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Strachan, of Germantown, Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock, in Old St. David's Church, Radnor. A small reception at The Terraces followed the ceremony.

The Fittlers were former residents of Riverton, living in the house at Thomas and Bank avenues, now occupied by Oliver G. Willis and family.

ENGAGED
Mr. and Mrs. C. Edward Smith, 900 Columbia avenue, Palmyra, announce the engagement of their daughter Elizabeth M. to Mr. Edward Sordon, of Brooklyn, N. Y. Mr. Sordon is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard D. Sordon of Riverton.

George O'Brien Takes Leading Role in Breezy Comedy at Popular Theatre

A fast and breezy comedy romance titled "Ever Since Eve," Cox Film's latest release is the current attraction till Saturday at the popular Walt Whitman Theatre, 46th and Westfield avenue. George O'Brien, who has long been associated with Westerns, has one of the leading roles. Mary Brian is ideally suited to her role as the bride of O'Brien. Herbert Mundin keeps the audience in high spirits throughout every time he lifts his eye-brows. The other members of the cast are Betty Blythe (making her first screen appearance in ten years, star of the "Queen of Sheba") and other lavish and dramatic productions, Roger Imhof, Russell Simpson and George Meeker. There will be the usual selected vaudeville bill for Thursday, Friday and Saturday along with the first South Jersey showing of "Ever Since Eve."

Rosemary Ames
The American screen will present its newest star to the motion picture audience when Rosemary Ames makes her featured screen debut in "I Believed In You" the Fox production in which she shares featured honors with John Boles and Victory Jory. The film comes to the Walt Whitman Theatre on Sunday for an engagement of four days.

P. H. S. OUTBOXES B. M. INSTITUTE 5-3

Two T.K.O.'s Featured As Rescinded Decision Gives Meet to Palmyra Boxers

Coach Hughes' Palmyra High boxers outpointed Bordentown Military Institute's representatives after a mistaken decision was rescinded, at their home gym Saturday afternoon.

The mistaken decision resulted from a mix-up in names, and after a conference Monday, the three judges of the bouts rescinded their Saturday's decision in favor of Martin Kafer, Palmyra "jug," over Roxter of B. M. I. The result was that the former 4-4 deadlock was reverted to a 5-3 win for the locals.

Review of Bouts

1. R. Bauer, of Palmyra, completely out-boxed his opponent, Brisbin, of B. M. I., in the 115-lb. class.

2. In the second bout "Chet" McCullough, of the locals, coasted thru to an easy decision over McElroy in the 120-lb. class.

3. In this bout Hunn, of Palmyra, lost a close decision to Rowe, of Bordentown, in the 130-lb. class.

4. In match No. 4 Kafer completely out-punched Baxter of the visitors to bring home the bacon for the "Pals" on a rescinded decision.

5. In this bout Harry Turner, of the Red and White, landed a hard right to the solar plexus of Underwood and scored a technical K. O. when his opponent was unable to continue.

6. In bout No. 6 Stavelly, of Palmyra, lost the closest match of the meet to Cooper, of Bordentown, via the decision route.

7. In the seventh bout Tony Cazzupe, the local K. O. king, downed Daniels, his adversary, with a terrific right to the jaw for a six count, and then, just before the bell rang for the first round, followed this up with another right to the head. Daniels went down, but was saved by the bell. However, he was unable to continue and Cazzupe received a T.K.O.

8. In the last bout Jennings, of the visitors, completely out-boxed McFadden, of the locals, to win the decision.

"PALS" WIN OVER RIVERSIDE FOE

Wagner and Landgraf Feature in Scorefest as Dimondmen Defeat Riverside

Holding the opposition scoreless the first half, Ken Dimond's Palmyra High courtmen coasted to a 30-8 victory at their home floor Friday night.

At the half-way mark the Red and White held a 22-0 lead. During the final half Palmyra's reserve held the Muellerites even, each team garnered 8 points.

Leading the attack for the Dimondmen were Wagner and Landgraf. Canuzzi netted 4 counters to make him high gun for the losers.

This game boosted the "Pals" record to two wins this season over Riverside, they having won 40-11 in the previous game.

Doctor: "Well, how do you feel today?"

Patient: "As near as you can get, doc, I feel like a second mortgage on a last year's automobile."—P. G. W. News.

PALMYRA HIGH ROUTS C. C. V. S.

Dimondmen Average 2 Points per Minute in Staggering 49-13 Victory

In a scorefest played at Camden County Vocational School's gym, Palmyra High's basketball team walloped the "Vocats" 49-13 as they scored an average of a little better than two points per minute.

Sparkling for the "Pals" was Captain Carpenter, who garnered 11 points, while Wagner with eight points, and Finn and Young with 6 each, were next in the scoring column. For the Vocational school Brown and Ackerman with 6 and 4 points respectively were outstanding for the losers.

In the matter of foul shots the "Pals" sank 13 out of 25 tries, while Vocational converted only 3 out of 8.

In the third quarter Coach Dimond substituted the second team for the first, who had rolled a 35-8 score, and in the remaining chukker the "reserves" netted an additional 14 counters.

In the preliminary second team game the "Vocats" triumphed 21-14 over the local Freshmen.

GARIBALDI-LEWIS IN CAMDEN RING

Tough Wrestling Bout to Be Held in Camden Armory Arena Tonight

One of the most important heavy-weight wrestling matches staged in South Jersey in years, will be offered at the Camden Armory Thursday night, when Ed. (Strangler) Lewis, five-time holder of the world's title, meets Gino Garibaldi, Italian champion, in the feature event of the Twin City Sporting Club's weekly bill.

Lewis and Garibaldi, rated two of the outstanding contenders for Jim Londos' crown, have never met on the mat. Numerous efforts have been made during the past few years to bring them together, but for some reason or other the match was never made.

A return match between Sam Cordovano, former Georgetown All-American gridiron star, and Pat McKay, spectacular Irishman from Memphis, Tenn., will feature the supporting card. They are booked to clash in a one hour, one fall time limit bout.

Last Thursday night McKay was disqualified for using foul tactics against the erstwhile collegian. Following his disqualification the Tennesseean was hit over the head with a chair by one of the spectators. Only the promptness of the police prevented a riot.

In a 45-minute time limit contest, Casey Columbo is scheduled to take on Marshall Blackstock, while in the opener Bert Rubi faces Walter Podolok, a recent arrival from Europe.

First Mosquito: "Why are you making such a fuss?"
Second Ditto: "Whoopee! I passed the screen test."—Clipped.

Teacher was going to give an object lesson. "Tommy," she began, "why does your father put up storm windows every Fall?"
"Well," said Tommy, "Mother keeps at him until he finally gives in."—New Jersey Bell.

P. H. S. LASSIES TIE GLOUCESTER

Local Fair Ones Break Even As Prisco and Stevens Score at Home

In a thrilling tussle, tied up in the last second by Gloucester, Palmyra High's lassies divided honors at their own gym, with Gloucester High, 28-28.

The first quarter and the first half ended with Gloucester favored by a slight margin, but the third period found Palmyra leading by 2 points. This lead was held during the remainder of the final chukker, but a visiting forward shot the ball just as the final whistle blew. The point was disputed but the referee ruled a 28-28 tie.
