ROBINSON HELD FOR GRAND JURY

Officer Charged With Assaulting Citizen Under $1000 Bail
After Hearing

A spectacle never before witnessed in Riverton was presented in the auditorium of the fire house last Monday night when the room was filled to capacity with citizens assembled to hear the evidence submitted in the case of the State of New Jersey vs. John J. Robinson charged with atrocious assault and battery with intent to kill.

The hearing was held in the court of C. A. Bowers, borough recorder. Frank J. Holvick, the complainant, was represented by Assistant Attorney General Robert Peacock, and the defendant by George D. Rothermell, a Camden attorney.

Out of a list of thirty witnesses the attorney for the prosecution called but seven—Karl W. Latch, judge of elections at the time the assault took place, Ross Elliott, Dr. Harry L. Rogers, John M. Hughes, Hilton M. Smith, H. E. Moyer and Chief of Police William Gootee.

The purpose of the hearing was that the recorder might learn whether or not there was sufficient evidence to hold the defendant for action by the grand jury, as it was not within the jurisdiction of the court to try a case of this character.

The defense called no witnesses and offered no evidence.

The first witness was Frank J. Holvick, the complainant. He related the story of the assault practically as published in The New Era on November 8, the first issue after the assault took place. Under cross examination Holvick denied that he "had been drinking all day," but admitted that he had taken four or five beers between 10 and 11 o'clock. The assault took place about 2 a.m., three or four hours later.

Ross Elliott, after stating that he had seen Robinson strike Holvick over the left eye with a black jack, asserted that Robinson has said he had been called to the polling place by Chief Gootee. He also said that Robinson had admitted Holvick's accusation that he was a "yellow cur" for striking him with a black jack.

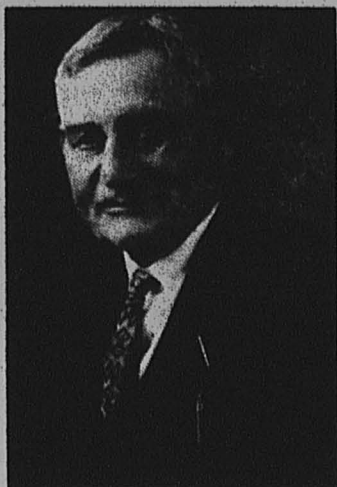

Dr. Rogers testified that on the morning of November 7, Frank Holvick had been brought to his office suffering with a three-quarter inch cut over his left eye and a contusion back of the right ear. He sewed up the cut, dressed the other wound and sent him home, where he called on him the next day. The doctor said the patient acted queerly for three days, and on the third day he sent him to the Burlington County Hospital for X-ray examination. The result showed no bones had been broken. The doctor testified that in addition to the wounds on his head Holvick had a blood clot as large as a man's hand on the left hip.

John M. Hughes testified that he had stood within five feet of the fracas. Robinson was in the room when he (Hughes) came in. He saw Robinson grab Ruppert and heard him say he was going to put him out for annoying the election board. During the argument between Robinson and Holvick, Hughes said, Robinson winked several times as though at someone behind Holvick. Holvick asked Robinson what all the winking was about, and when Holvick turned his head to look behind him, Robinson struck him with the blackjack. Hughes said that after the assault Robinson admitted that he was a "yellow cur" for striking Holvick with a blackjack, and that he had done wrong.

Hilton M. Smith testified that about 11 o'clock election night Robinson had said he was "expecting trouble." Robinson's attorney objected to this evidence, but the court allowed it to stand as indicating that the assault was premeditated.

Chief of Police Gootee testified that he did not send Robinson to the

ROTARIANS HEAR ABOUT JAPANESE

Miss Rhoads of Girard College
Gives Impressions of Trip
Last Summer

Miss Caroline Rhoads, Remedial Teacher in Girard College, addressed the Palmyra-Riverton Rotary Club Thursday evening on the topic of Japan and the Japanese. Miss Rhoads, who has a sister teaching in Tokio, spent the summer in Nippon. She spoke under the auspices of the International Relationship Committee of the local club.

Miss Rhoads, after sketching the geography and physical characteristics of Japan, gave an interesting bit of history about it. She outlined the mixed origin of the inhabitants, the sun goddess tradition, the advent of Buddhism and Chinese culture, and the formation of the Shogunates. The arrangement of government which was in force when Commodore Perry arrived in 1853, began to operate roughly about 1603. The westernization started in 1868 under the emperor Meiji, grandfather of the present emperor.

Miss Rhoads then discussed the people with whom she had come in contact. She was fortunate, of course in that her sister spoke Japanese, and hence she had contacts which the average foreign visitor does not get. It is invariably the custom for Japanese to remove their shoes upon entering the house. The deep, thick matting does not make this an inconvenience. A few of the Japanese who have been to the West have ordinary furniture in their homes, but the great majority sit with crossed legs as we have always heard. Not the least interesting of Miss Rhoads' experiences was her visit to a Japanese hotel, where she ate the regular Japanese food and slept on the floor.

Her impression of Japan might be summarized as follows: the people are unusually clean personally, and as regards to their property; they polling place prior to the fracas, and that he had given him no special instructions for election day. He had been off duty during the day, coming on at night.

At the conclusion of the evidence Recorder Bowers said there was no doubt in his mind that Robinson had committed an assault on Holvick, and he held the defendant in $1000 bail pending action by the grand jury, which was furnished by Rev. Charles T. Bates.

Subsequent to the trial Howard D. Sordon, chairman of the police committee, stated that Robinson's suspension from the police force would be continued indefinitely.

SCHOOL PROJECT SPECIAL ELECTION

Voters Will Pass on P. W. A.
Project December 21, in School House

Citizens of Riverton will vote on the question of improving the public school building as a PWA project at a special election to be held in the school building, Friday evening, December 21, under a resolution passed by the Riverton Board of Education Monday night.

Judge Frank A. Mathews, solicitor for the board, read an agreement between the Riverton Board of Education and the United States of America, setting forth the provisions in connection with the loan of $85,000, $23,800 of which is an outright gift.

While the amount of the PWA grant is $23,800 and a bond issue of $63,000 to cover the loan is authorized by the government, this does not mean that a total of $86,000 will be expended.

$85,000 Limit

The total amount will not exceed $85,000 which is the figure named by the Riverton Board of Education and the Public Works Administration. The cost of the school project must and will be kept to $85,000. That is the limit to which the expenses may go, and it may be less, in case bonds to the amount unexpended will be retired immediately. Costs of labor and materials have not increased, so that there will be no discrepancy in the estimated cost.

The grant of $23,800 is based on 30% of the cost of labor and materials only. This grant is an outright gift from the government, but it must be remembered that such "gifts" must be paid for through taxation. If Riverton voters do not avail themselves of this exceptional opportunity they will help to pay for grants for projects elsewhere, without any benefit to themselves.

Woolman Approves

Walter K. Woolman, member of the board, said that he felt sure that the people of Riverton would vote to have this loan made, especially after reading the prospectus of the improvements to be made to the school building. He said that he felt that after the people realized just what a firetrap our present building is, that there would be no hesitation whatever.

Will Reduce Unemployment

Mr. Woolman further said that much of the labor for the addition to the building would be from Riverton and would reduce local unemployment. He also recommended that the board sign the agreement for the loan, which was done by the president and district clerk.

Harry E. Moyer, chairman of the committee of the Riverton Town Meeting, designated to meet with the board, said that while we had been lucky enough not to have any fires in the present building, there was no telling when one would break out, and that it was not safe to risk the life of even one child in order to save money.

Committee Enlarged

Mr. Moyer went on to say that the committee originally consisting of ten members had now been raised to fifty-two, and that they were in full cooperation with the board in this matter.

The original Town Meeting Committee consisted of Harry E. Moyer, Edward Moorehouse, George D. Steedle, Mrs. Laura Rieger, Ross T. Elliott, Mrs. Ethel Hubbs, John Werner, Mrs. Alma Evans, Porter Caldwell, C. Singleton Mears, Robert W. Knight. To this committee the following were added: Herbert Evans, Wayne E. Ayres, Spencer L. Haines, Gardner Crowell, Mrs. Walter L. Bowen, John R. Naisby, Alexander B. Garwood, Paul Barnhart, Edwin S. Parry, M. Sontheimer, (continued on page 9)

GRAND JURY FINDS FAULT WITH J. of P.

Claims Trivial Cases Should Be Settled in Local Courts to Save Expense

Justices of the peace should be required to submit to an examination to determine their fitness for office, says a report that was filed with the court on Tuesday, at the conclusion of a day's sitting of the grand jury.

Too many trifling cases are sent to the prosecutor's office, the report says, which take much time of the grand jury to investigate, and also entails a large expense on the county for justices' and constables' costs.

The jury recommends also that justices be appointed, instead of being elected, and that legislative action be taken to bring that result.

The report and recommendations of the jury follow:

Recommendations

Whereas, the members of the grand jury (September term, 1934) have been impressed with the large number of trifling cases forwarded to the Prosecutor's Office by various justices of the peace, consideration of which consumes unnecessary time of the grand jury members, resulting in a large expense to the county for justices' and constables' costs, and grand jury fees; and

Whereas, it appears the grand jury is confronted with a similar situation at every term of court; and

Whereas, it is the opinion of this grand jury that some serious effort should be made to remedy the aforesaid conditions; therefore be it

Resolved, that it is the judgment of this grand jury that some definite action should be instituted whereby the foregoing evils may be corrected. This grand jury, therefore, makes the following recommendations:

1. That the legislature enact a law requiring that to qualify as a justice of the peace one must submit himself to such an examination as will determine his fitness for that office, said law to fix and determine the necessary qualifications, and that said qualifications be prescribed by the Bar Association of the State of New Jersey, the Supreme Court, or some other similar body.

2. That legislation be enacted whereby a justice of the peace shall be an appointive office instead of an elective office, the appointment to be made by the presiding judge of the Common Pleas Court in each county, or by the said county judge and the prosecutor of the pleas of each county.

3. It is further recommended that consideration be given to the establishment of a criminal district court for the county of Burlington, provided that upon inquiry it is found

"MAIN LINE" TRAIN SERVICE FOR TOWNS

Committee Urges Use of Shoppers' Train, That Service
May Continue

From Riverton right into Broad Street Station. What a daily convenience!

Worth money in the time it saves. Worth real money in the effect it will soon have on our real estate values.

A pleasant, smooth train ride over the Delair bridge, winding through beautiful Fairmount Park, to the heart of Philadelphia, with one's favorite shops and motion picture houses then right at hand.

Isn't this a service that deserves to be held on to?

The Transportation Committee of Riverton, acting in conjunction with similar committees in the other river front towns, believes it is, and is therefore reminding readers of the New Era that we are in danger of losing this service or having it curtailed unless we make use of it.

The Pennsylvania Railroad has to have a certain number of riders to make the bridge trains pay. Three of the four new trains are doing quite well, but the "shoppers" train, leaving Riverton at 9.57 a.m., for Broad Street, hasn't been patronized as it should be. It lands you in Broad Street Station at an ideal hour, 10.30 o'clock, with opportunity for a full shopping day before the 4.30 train leaves Broad Street to bring you home again.

We all need this morning train. Bear it in mind on your Christmas shopping errands. Why not make it a part of your regular schedule when city bound?

The bridge trains have brought us as close to Broad Street as the Main Line towns or Germantown and Chestnut Hill. A few years ago this would have been considered the millennium for Jersey! Let's make the idea permanent!

Paul Barnhart, Chairman,
Transportation Committee,
Riverton Town Meeting.

P.S.—If used one or more days per week, the 25 ride ticket will reduce your transportation cost to slightly over 22c per ride from Riverton.

DRIVER ARRESTED DELIVERING COAL

On complaint of "Jack" Price, superintendent of Weights and Measures of Camden County, George Mucklow, of Tractville, Pa., was fined $25 by Borough Recorder Cecil A. Bowers on Monday for delivering coal without a certificate of weight by a certified weigher of New Jersey.

Price apprehended Mucklow while he was delivering a ton of coal in Riverton.

"Soviet sentences five more 'kulaks' to die for hindering cotton picking schedule," says a headline in the New York Times. In Russia they shoot men for slowing up on their work. In the United States the government pays them to slow up in their work. What a world!

that such a criminal district court will fulfill the needs in Burlington county and not add to the burden of the taxpayers.

4. That this resolution be returned to the court, to be filed with the clerk of the said court, and a copy thereof be forwarded to Senator Clifford R. Powell and Assemblyman Marcus W. Newcomb, with a request that they attempt to have legislation passed to make effective the foregoing recommendations.

Holding Fast

Henry P. Fletcher, chairman of the Republican National Committee, has issued the following statement, which contains information that may be surprising to many, and which should hearten those who have stuck to their Republican principles, even in defeat.

"According to unofficial returns up to November 17, the Republican Party on November 6 polled 13,533,975 votes. That was 45.3% of the total vote cast and 85.8% of the Republican vote cast for President in 1932. The Democratic vote was only 71.3% of the Roosevelt of 1932. The Democratic vote was 6,536,000 less than two years ago, while the Republican vote was only 2,238,000 less.

"The Republican record this year has not been equalled by any party in an off-year election in the history of the United States.

"It was made possible by the loyal and uncompensated support of the Republican press of the country, supplemented by the magnificent work of the local Republican organizations.

"On behalf of the Republican National Committee I express its appreciation of the assistance rendered during the campaign by the Republican press.

"It was a campaign conducted against terrific odds. The Republican party everywhere was competing with the United States Treasury. The results, in view of that fact, are very encouraging.

"The task immediately ahead of the Republican party is to preserve the splendid spirit which pervaded the rank and file of our party organization workers during the campaign, and which brought to the support of our party tickets the editorial and news columns of our Republican press."

OPENING GAMES

Interboro League Opens With
Artisans, 5c and 10c Store and Tak-A-Boost Victors

The Interboro Basketball League got off to a good start in the gymnasium of the Palmyra High School last evening when all six of the teams put up a close battle.

Over two hundred spectators were present to witness the openers and Mayor Walter D. Lamon of Palmyra made a short address and tossed in the ball as a signal for play.

That the scores were close was evidenced by the fact that the end of the first half in each of the three games the score was even.

The talent, and some of it is good talent, seemed to be well divided among the different teams. Wolfe, a newcomer in local basketball, played a short and exhibited a keen knowledge of the game. Wolfe is the proprietor of the new 5c and 10c Store in Palmyra, and in Lancaster, his home town, the press gives him a reputation in the Lancaster league.

Easley, Sloan and Landgraf are players that will need watching before the season is over.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH
"God the Only Cause and Creator" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, December 9.

The Golden Text is: "The Lord is the true God, he is the living God, and an everlasting king." He hath made the earth by his power, he hath established the world by his wisdom, and hath stretched out the heavens by his discretion." (Jeremiah 10:10,12).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "God that made the world and all things therein, seeing that he is Lord of heaven and earth, dwelleth not in temples made with hands" (Acts 17:24).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "We should consecrate existence, not to the unknown God whom we ignorantly worship, but to the eternal builder, the everlasting Father, to the Life which mortal sense cannot impair nor mortal belief destroy. We must realize the ability of mental might to offset human misconceptions and to replace them with the life which is spiritual, not material" (p. 428).

Inherently, opposition to the tyranny of government still seems to me the true "Liberalism." Such a "Liberal" group there certainly is today, within the Republican party.

When the "Ins" Were Out

And, to take up the second point of the New Englander's letter, the declaration that the Republican party "cannot go on," upon a platform of mere criticism, what was the Democratic party offering while the Republicans were thus in power? Criticism, criticism and again criticism. That was all—except the rather shameful campaign to "smear" Hoover.

And did the Democratic party, with no program except criticism and that it "could not go on?"

Elected Without Program

It certainly did not. It "carried" to such an extent that it swept Mr. Hoover out of the White House and gave itself overwhelming control of the national legislature and almost all the states.

Therefore, I cannot subscribe to the theory that the republican party of the hat a "constructive" and "liberal" program. The thing is contrary to political history.

Furthermore, I am not one who they stood for the right of fair trial before a judicial tribunal.

They "opposed" the vast spending of government monies. They stood for a Balanced Budget.

And so on.

Finally, we come to the question: "Is there any indication of liberal leadership on the part of any group in the Republican party?"

What does "Liberal Republicanism" mean?

I know of no Republican group or no individual Republican who can define its principles.

Middle-of-the-Road Tactics

It seems to mean: "Without going all the way back to Mr. Hoover or all the way over to Mr. Roosevelt, be as much like the latter as you can in order to fit in with the present mood of the voters."

That does not seem to me a basis upon which it is worth while for the Republican party to "carry on."

If there is a better definition of "Liberal Republicanism," one that will not consist merely of the forbidden "criticism" I would like to have it.

Preparing for Swing back

Meanwhile, I believe that the Republican party should continue to be the conservative party, marching with the times along American lines, not seeking to improve programs but framing them as issues arise, and above all fighting for and preparing for the day when the country will find itself compelled to swing away from the heresies, contradictions and extravagances of the New Deal.

Inherently, opposition to the tyranny of government still seems to me the true "Liberalism." Such a "Liberal" group there certainly is today, within the Republican party.

When the "Ins" Were Out

TIPS ON GROWING

BY ONE WHO GREW UP IN THE BUSINESS

"Put a thing away, bring it out again in seven years and you can use it again." This old saying could well apply to the Wardian Case, which after many years of desuetude, has again made its appearance as the modern Terrarium, Glass Garden, Miniature Greenhouse or what have you. To satisfy the present craze for these toy indoor gardens, aquariums, mason and cookey jars and even defunct electric light globes are being utilized—any container with a close-fitting top will answer. Cover the bottom with cinders mixed with charcoal, and this soil in turn with fertile soil which can be covered with moss if available to give a woody effect. All kinds of native plants may be utilized in planning the picture; plants from the wood such as the partridge berry, violets, hepaticas, tiny conifers and all sorts of oddments of wood and field.

The following may be procured from the nurserymen in plants from 2 1/2 or 3 inch pots and sunk in the soil in the bottom of the Wardian Case. Ask for the smallest plants. After they become too large for the container they may be placed in the window garden.

Dracaena Godseffiana and Dracaena Sanderiana.
Ritonia.
Hardy English Ivy, 2".
Peperomia Maculosa.
Grape Ivy.
Ferns.
Small Palms.
Miniature-leaved Ivy.

After the garden is completed, give it a good soaking, cover and let be.

In the death of Louis Burk of Latham Park, the Philadelphia Flower Show lost its most outstanding exhibitor, in that blue-blood of flowerdom the Orchid. His annual display, one of the largest and finest to be seen anywhere, was always a consistent winner. The absence of this wonderful exhibit would be keenly felt by the ardent flower-lovers who faithfully attend spring shows of the Pennsylvania Horticultural Society in the Commercial Museum.

The roof of the eleventh floor of the RCA Building of Rockefeller Center, New York City, has been transformed into a "Garden of the Nations," representing 14 different countries. Seasonal shows are to be held in this garden, which will open early in January.

The Florist Exchange says that the new French steamer Normandie now building will have a series of gardens on its open decks. The gardens it is said will be so complete that the constant services of two expert gardeners will be required. Wonder what effect the salt air will have on the plants?

Among the vegetables exhibited at the recent fall show of the New York Horticultural Society was a collection of odorless onions from Algeria where they grow wild. Maybe they are tearless, too!

The idea that when house plants do not appear to be thriving that they need repotting is not always correct—in fact is often erroneous. Potted plants do not require shifting to larger size pots until the soil-ball is thoroughly cramped with roots, i.e., "pot-bound." Then simply shift to one size larger.

That is, shift in diameter from a pot three inches in diameter at the top to one four inches in diameter. To determine whether a shift is necessary, invert the pot in the palm of the hand with the stem of the plant between the two first fingers and gently tap the pot rim against some object as a table so that the ball of soil slips from the pot intact. If filled with feeding roots then make the shift to a larger size and this is best done in February or early spring.

No specific rule for re-potting can be given that will apply to all classes of plants. However, it is well to loosen the outside surface of the ball, and if the plant is to be placed in a four inch size or over, furnish some artificial drainage such as inverting a piece of broken pot over the hole in the bottom of the pot, then fill the pot about one-third full of soil. Insert the plant and fill in surrounding the soil-ball with good fertile garden soil, to which has been added some fertilizer such as Bonvov or shredded cattle manure with a sprinkling of sand, tamping the soil firmly as filled in, with a ruler-like stick until filled, firming with the thumb. There should be at least a half-inch space between soil and rim of pot for ease of watering. While potting tap the pot on the table to firmly settle the soil.

The foliage of the Saintpaulia (African Violet) resembles that of the Gloxinia and its requirements are somewhat similar to that plant. For one thing, like the Gloxinia, it does not like to be watered over the foliage, which is likely to cause the leaves of the crown to decay.

The plant should be somewhat pot-bound to produce plenty of flowers. During the summer they may be put outdoors and the pot plunged to the rim, lifted in the fall and brought indoors.

While the plant seems to bloom the season round, yet it should be kept somewhat on the dry side during the early fall.

A temperature that is not too high should be given and while liking a light situation it does best when not placed in full sunlight.

Powdered Sulphur is one of the most effective materials for the elimination of mildew on various plants and may readily be dusted over the foliage.

An interesting flower novelty is a Golden Cosmos which is said to produce flowers golden orange in color, and the foliage to be even more finely cut than the old type.

THE "NEW DEAL"

BY JULIAN MASON

Vice President National Republican Builders

Now begins again the great indoor sport of analyzing Mr. Roosevelt, of hoping that he won't go wrong, of vigorously trying to get him to stay on the right track.

It has been a difficult job during the past twenty months. But it has had great effect. Intelligent and vocal opposition to his wild ideas about reconstructing us before "prospering" us, brought him to his senses.

Today, his administration stands before the country with the apparent purposes which American common sense was urging upon it a year ago. All its voices are urging Recovery instead of Reconstruction.

It is pleading for the restoration of present government responsibilities to the hands of private enterprise. It is emphasizing the supreme need of cooperation with Business.

Richberg the Penitent
Donald Richberg, now the high-muck-a-muck of all the alphabetical experiments, no longer slings them in the face of businessmen. He no longer baits them facetiously. He made at Atlanta this week, almost exactly the kind of a speech which conservative Americans were making in July, 1933. He still indirectly threatened the men whom he had so roundly abused, and he still mentioned "civil war" and "revolution" to help his case, but, on the whole, he was a changed and chastened man.

In the same way, the Securities and Exchange Commission, fear of which long held up practically all large-scale private financing of Business, is now being made to look like a kind and beneficent friend.

Said its chairman, Joseph P. Kennedy: "We of the commission are neither coroners nor undertakers. We seek to create and restore, in order that enterprise and confidence may be re-established."

Behind the Mask
To top it all the President himself said on his Tennessee-Alabama-Mississippi swing: "All is well with the country, and we are coming back."

Altogether, it looked like a grand "set-up" and Business welcomed it. The sections of 1933 had given the President an overwhelming endorsement, which he was interpreting as "a mandate to the Right."

Then came one of those strange happenings, which seem to me to show that Mr. Roosevelt needs to be watched and analyzed just as much, after election, as he did before election.

He said to the people of Tupelo, Miss., who have a municipal power plant contracted to the Tennessee Valley Authority: "What you are doing here is going to be copied in every State of the Union before we get through. . . . I understand that from the financial point of view, in spite of various fairy-tales that have been spread in other parts of the country, your power system is still paying taxes to the municipality."

Another Shock
Private business, which, according to Mr. Richberg, must take on rapidly some three or four million unemployed at once, drew in its horns, at the President's words. If the government is going to put government owned and operated power plants into "every state of the Union," how about the great privately-owned public utilities?

Utility bonds were sold, utility stocks went down. And when the President went on to make his gay blunder about the payment of taxes of the Tupelo municipal plant, a new tremor of fear went over the face of affairs.

W. L. Wilkie, president of the Commonwealth and Southern Corporation, whose operations are directly affected by the operations of the Tennessee Valley Authority, said delicately that "The President is obviously misinformed."

Mr. Wilkie went on: "The T.V.A. pays as its sole taxes, 5 per cent of the wholesale price of electric energy which is about 4 mills per kilowatt hour. The power companies in the area are paying in taxes between 15 per cent and 20 per cent of the retail price of electric energy, or 15 per cent to 20 per cent on about 2 cents a kilowatt hour."

Government Competition
David Lawrence, the Washington Correspondent, explains that the town of Tupelo's plant pays "property taxes only and is exempted from paying license fees, privilege taxes, State and local excise taxes, the 3 per cent Federal excise tax, corporation franchise taxes and other local, county, State and Federal taxes such as private companies must include in their operating expenses."

There we are again!
We have the President apparently holding out an eager right-hand to Business, and yet, in one of his typically buoyant moments, promising the country two of the things that Business counts amongst its greatest threats and uncertainties:

1. That the government will use public funds to build and operate public utility plants all over the country.
2. That these plants, through exemption from taxation, will be enabled to destroy the millions of private capital invested in the privately owned plants by perfectly innocent investors.

Eternal Vigilance.
I cite this case at some length to prove once more the thesis with which I started this article. That is that Mr. Roosevelt, even when "bearing gifts" as he is doing now must be watched, analyzed and, when wrong, opposed. Otherwise he will fatally "let down" the conservatives, who today, perforce are upholding him. The best way to fight for our economic Recovery, which is as necessary to the country humanly as it is to Mr. Roosevelt politically, is to keep putting forth to the people the meaning of the administration's courses, in terms of Business.

SHORT-WAVE MUSINGS

BY O. M. "C. W." Five Meters

That atmospheric humidity, or some accompanying factor, has a pronounced influence on the performance of ultra high frequency radio waves in the neighborhood of five meters has been discovered as a result of recent research work at the headquarters laboratory of the American Radio Relay League, it was announced today.

According to Ross A. Hull, associate editor of QST and director of the work, observation of transmission conditions between the West Hartford laboratory and various observation points in New England over a period of three months, has indicated that there exists a relationship between the humidity of the air and the performance of these ultra short waves.

As a result of these investigations, it can now be predicted with fairly good assurance that when the humidity is high—short of actual rain—in the atmosphere between two points, communication will be very much better than when the air is dry. The reliability of contact can thus be predicted in advance. In this discovery lies the secret of much of the epochal work that the League's station, W1AL, has been doing of recent months. All existing world's records for transmission and reception on the ultra high frequencies have been shattered, the latest conquest being the very difficult contact between Hartford and New York City and Jersey points. The terrain in lower Connecticut and upper New York is particularly unfavorable for long distance five meter work.

This work on the part of the headquarters staff of the League, the national organization of transmitting radio amateurs, is the latest development in a research program of ultra short wave work begun in 1925 and actively carried on since 1930, which has resulted in the opening up of a valuable new field in radio for the use of amateurs, police, television, and many other radio services.

The Story of the Transatlantic (From QST, February 1922) (Courtesy of American Radio Relay League)

The complete scheme for the tests was published on pages 29-32, inclusive, of October QST. For six hours each night for ten successive nights, December 7th to 16th, inclusive, transmission took place and watch was kept on the other side. Each six-hour schedule was divided into two parts, the first part, from 7 p.m. to 9:30 p.m., Eastern Standard Time, being the free-for-all consisting of ten periods of 15 minutes each and in each period of which all the amateurs called "Test" and signed. The periods were rotated so that every night a district sent at a different time, sometimes early in the evening, sometimes late, so that if the hour mattered all would have an equal chance. The schedule for these periods appeared on page 30 of QST for October.

Then the second part of each of the six nights, from 9:30 p.m. Eastern Standard Time to 1:00 a.m. of the following date, was devoted to the individual stations who qualified in the preliminaries. Sealed secret cypher combinations were assigned these stations, with a request that they not be opened until the first night of the tests, and no information was given out as to who had qualified except to the successful contestants themselves.

The three and a half hours for individual schedules was divided into fourteen periods of 15 minutes each, and times assigned to each station, the periods again rotating for fairness. At a suggestion from Mr. Godley the individual stations for the most part transmitted in groups on the same wave length, two stations sending at once permitting double the time for each without jeopardizing the chance of either to be heard. Most of the special schedule stations transmitted in pairs, three being the maximum going in any one period.

DREER CATALOG OF CIVIL WAR PERIOD

Edition of 1862 Contained 73 Pages, Many Present-Day Favorites Listed

The frequent assertion that the Dreer catalogue is treasured in many homes year after year, and frequently referred to, seems to be verified by the receipt at the Dreer Nursery office from a customer in Harrisburg, Pa., of a copy of the 1862 edition.

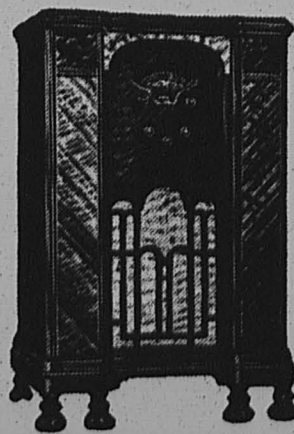

Altho published during the trying days of the Civil War, when our grandmothers used decoctions of sage of garden herbs as substitutes for tea and coffee, and the call for ornamental plants must have been at a low ebb, the list of varieties is a long one, the 73 pages being devoted almost entirely to text, with but a few wood-cut illustrations. The firm was then located at 327 Chestnut street, Philadelphia and the book was printed by A. M. Spangler.

Present-day readers will chuckle at the reference to a kitchen garden "for a family of ten or twelve persons," and then there is the Bene plant—"The leaves of this plant placed in cool water produces a bland healing mucilage, highly beneficial to children afflicted with summer complaint." Double Petunias, a Dreer specialty, was a "novelty of recent introduction." Stowell's Evergreen Sweetcorn was even then a garden favorite, and in Grapes "Those old standard varieties Concord and Catawba" are still in commerce.

Dreer roses seventy-two years ago were leaders even as now and "The repeated award of the highest premiums of the Pennsylvania Horticultural Society is sufficient evidence of their merit." Compared with the large, profusely-illustrated edition annually mailed by the hundred thousand to Dreer patrons, this little relic of the past may seem trifling, but it carries a page of letters from satisfied customers in all sections of the country testifying to the reliability of the products and business methods of Henry A. Dreer.

Good times will be here when men's trousers begin to bag at the pockets instead of at the knees. —Duluth News-Tribune.

Guest, Mrs. Edward Blackwell, H. P. Orlemann, H. K. Rutherford, George Weiford, H. L. Unland, James P. Reese and DeHertburn Washington.

Mr. Moyer said that members of the committee would distribute the prospectus, and he felt that every citizen in Riverton should thoroughly read the article and then come out and vote for the improvement project.

Dr. Harry L. Rogers, chairman of the Town Meeting, said that members of the committee would explain or answer any questions which might arise.

Registration Date
A resolution was passed in which December 15 from 7 to 9 at the school house was designated at the time for registrations to be made for the special election December 21. Those who were eligible to vote at the fall election will not be required to register at this time.

Karl W. Latch, who had been working with Everett O. Wolcott on the prospectus, asked the board to appoint others to assist the committee in completing the information. Mrs. Elwell, president of the board, appointed Walter K. Woolman, Mrs. Grace M. Yost, board members, and John Werner, representing the Town Meeting Committee.

Repairs Made
Mr. Latch, chairman of the property committee, reported that the new auxiliary fire alarm had been ordered, that the fire extinguishers for the small building had been delivered, sheet tin had been put under the stoves in the main building, plastering in the main building had been ordered done as recommended by the fire underwriters, and the really dangerous wiring taken care of.

However, Mr. Latch further reported the wiring in the center of the school had not as yet been replaced as all this section would be torn out if the voters approved the new project.

A communication was received from the Joint Celebration Committee expressing their appreciation for the use of the school as a dressing room for the visiting corps on Armistice Day when the Bugle and Drum Corps Competition was held in Riverton.

The clerk was instructed to write the Palmyra Board of Education stating that the state monies had not yet been received by the Riverton Board, and until it is received the board could not pay the tuition for pupils attending the Palmyra High School.

Contribution
A communication was received from County Superintendent of Schools, Louis J. Kaser, requesting a gift of $25 to help support the Educational News, a county educational paper distributed to boards of education and officers of Parent-Teacher associations. Mr. Woolman made the motion that the board send the $25.

A communication was received from the Department of Hand Writing of the State Teachers' Association, expressing their appreciation of the exhibit of handwriting sent from the Riverton Public School, stating that this was the first year they had received an exhibit and hoped that they might have more in the future. The exhibit was made at the State Teachers' Convention held in Atlantic City, November 9 to 12.

Will Replace Desks
Miss Staman said that she had been in touch with the firm which supplied the new desks for the seventh and eighth grades, and reported that the furniture would be replaced by even a better grade than had previously been bought. The complaint on the desks was that the wood and finish were not as good as had been specified.

Miss Staman's report in part follows:

Miss Staman's Report
Medical cards returned to this office up to the present time show all recommendations made by us followed in 22 cases and many others we know are receiving the attention requested.

Eighteen of our children have taken the first inoculation of diphtheria toxoid and two more applications have come in.
We now have a waiting list for the dental clinics. The nurses have taken 41 children during the month to Dr. White.

Two children have had work finished by Dr. Hulise and 3 more are attending his clinic.

Nurses have also made 29 calls as attendance officers.
The teachers have decided to devote their welfare contributions to our own health program this year and in cooperation with Dr. Rogers we have planned to follow up some urgent cases among our children whose parents are willing to have the work done.

Miss Orr, in charge of teachers training at Glassboro State Normal School, has again asked the privilege of sending student teachers to us and Miss Alice Bartley, who is a Riverton girl, is working with Miss Rothbart in the third grade now.

The meeting was adjourned to December 26, at 7:30 o'clock.

RECEPTION HELD BY SACRED HEART

Farewell to Rev. Cavanagh and Welcome to Rev. McGrath Last Friday

A combined reception and farewell was held in the Sacred Heart School Friday evening, November 30, sponsored by the Sacred Heart Parent-Teacher Association, the Knights of Columbus and their Auxiliary, the B.V.M. Sodality with the cooperation of the entire parish.

John L. Stroblein, master of ceremonies, made the address of welcome to Rev. John McGrath, who has recently taken the charge left vacant by the death of the Rev. Joseph A. Rigney. Father McGrath responded to the welcome and said that he was very glad to be able to work with the people of Sacred Heart Parish and was sure that his association with them would be most enjoyable.

Mr. Stroblein expressed the regret of the Sacred Heart Parish to see Rev. John Cavanagh leave after being with them for five years, and he was sure that he would be very much missed and presented Rev. Cavanagh with a purse from the parish as an expression of the high esteem in which he was held.

Rev. Cavanagh replied by saying that his relationships with the parishioners had been very happy ones and that he was sure he was going to miss the many friendships he had made while in Riverton.

Mayora H. McI. Biddle, of Riverton, and Walter D. Lamont, of Palmyra said that they were glad to welcome Rev. McGrath but sorry to lose Rev. Cavanagh.

After the speeches a trio from Philadelphia, composed of Joseph Williams, John Ambrogio, Francis X. Hartman, and Miss Mary Steedle, soloist, of Riverton, offered a variety of solos, duets and trio numbers, accompanied by Mrs. W. Rex McCrosson, of Palmyra, at the piano.

Another entertaining part of the program was the piano playing of Steve McNicol, of Philadelphia, who is well known in this vicinity. Mr. McNicol was accompanied by his son, Steve, Jr., and daughter, Ann, who offered separate and joint numbers.

Father Whalen, of St. Mary's Church, Bordentown, made the key speech of the evening.
At the end of the program the ladies of the parish served refreshments.

Approximately 400 were in attendance.

are honest in small ways, self-disciplined and intensely patriotic. Their modernity is much more like that of the United States than of Europe. Miss Rhoads invariably met pleasant treatment, and noted the intelligence and push of the Japanese citizens everywhere. There is prevalent a real and definite fear of the U. Miss Rhoads closed her talk with these remarks: "If we care to work for international goodwill it seems to me that the least we can do is to try to understand the problems of other countries, to appreciate their good qualities, and even if we do not care to go further, at least to endeavor not to irritate them unnecessarily."

Mike Murmurs

By B. C. L.

Last Monday night was a great evening for local broadcasting men. It was the opening of the National Broadcasting Company's new Philly outlet KYW. A great five hour all star radio show was planned and put off with ease. There was some crowd there in spite of the fact that admission was by invitation only. On the fourth floor of the WCAU building where the studios of KYW are located the entertainers of the evening began to arrive. I spent some time on the fourth floor and saw "celebs" come and go. The main office of KYW was decorated with big baskets of flowers bearing the "congrats" of various individuals. Time was going fast and as the show was scheduled to start at eight o'clock we went up into the gallery of Studio A. Looking down into the studio we saw such radio stars as Eddie and Ralph, Martha Meers, James Begley (chief of announcers of KYW), John S. Young, the Revelers quartet and many others too numerous to mention.

Eight o'clock came 'round and there was a fanfare of bugles and a roll of drums and the inauguration program was in full swing. Messrs. O'Connell and John S. Young did the announcing chores from KYW, while other famous NBC announcers spoke from distant parts of the United States.

You all heard the program (I suppose) and know what a splendid production it was. Here are some interesting facts about KYW. . . It is a 10,000 watt station and broadcasts on 1020 k.c., . . . the president of WCAU is also the general manager of this new station. . . It was moved from Chicago where it was called the "Pioneer of the mid-West" . . . It will carry the same programs as WEAF. . . and it will begin its broadcasts at 6:45 in the morning with a health exercise program.

With the bringing of this fine Westinghouse station to Philadelphia the National Broadcasting has done one of the finest things in recent years. This move makes Philly one of the best equipped cities in the country for broadcasting facilities. There's nothing more I can say about this grand station but for you to "tune it in and listen."

Tid-Bits

ENOCH LIGHT playing for the annual Prom at Rutgers on December 7. . . Baby Rose Marie to drop the kid moniker on January 1. . . HAL KEMP and JACK DENNY will start a new series of dance programs for WOR on Sundays at 8 p.m. . . PHIL SPITALNY and his femme ork have been signed by Corn Products Co. to do a half hour show on either CBS or NBC early in Jan. . . CBS was to have all radio people memorize their script for the coming year as a new innovation in broadcasting but the whole matter has been dropped.

An interesting little story comes from NBC in Chicago. When BUDDY ROGERS leaves for England to make movies JACK HELLER will take over his band and baton it in the future. NBC is planning a big build-up for HELLER and he will be tagged LITTLE JACK HELLER.

In Radioland there are very few women radio execs. In fact there are only 22 whose jobs range from Program and Station manager to Traffic Control. Two women hold responsible positions in Philly's new KYW. They are Helen Wood from New York, is just starting as commercial manager of this fine station and Carol Irwin who becomes program manager. You just can't keep women out nowadays but just the same we wish these fine ladies all the success in the world.

FLASH—Advance news from the Arcadia-International in Philadelphia. There is a possibility that the next headline to come to this nitty will be either PAUL WHITEMAN or ISHAM JONES.

One more story before we close this column for the week. This story comes from Philly. When Kate Smith opened at the Arcadia there was quite a crowd of celebs present and also many N. Y. column scribblers. Among them was NICK KENNY radio columnist for the Daily Mirror, who landed in a jam as a result.

Returning to N. Y. the following day Kenny gave a description of the opening and he also published a review of Smith's opening and plenty of plums for the nitty itself. After the first edition of the column it was yanked and Kenny himself "fired." Kenny snared a rebuke for writing outside New York radio sphere. But after a little persuasion and apologies Kenny was taken back by the Mirror and is still dishing it out for them.

Well folks that's all for this week. Tune in on NEW ERA next week at this time and we'll have a little more gossip and news for you.

RIVERSIDE FIRM LOW ROAD BIDDERS

On Monday of this week the State Highway Commission received bids for construction of a divided roadway on 1.2 miles of Route 25 between Bridgeboro and the Beverly-Rancocas road, Burlington County.

The lowest bidder was Riverside Concrete Company, $74,787. Other bidders and their figures were: Edward H. Ellis, Westville, $77,114; Versaggi Brothers, Wildwood, $77,988; Charles D. Prosser, Pitman, $80,107; Francis A. Canuso and Son, Philadelphia, $82,504; Burkett Construction Company, Vineland $83,662, and John F. Laferty, Haddon Heights, $87,272.

Town Meeting Committee To Distribute School Prospectus

Mr. Moyer invited an inspection of the manual training and domestic science rooms, the furnace room and the portable building so that members of the committee would know just what conditions really are.

$85,000 Covers All

The question was asked if the $85,000 took care of everything or would there be more money needed for furniture, etc., in the improved school. Mrs. Francis B. Elwell, president of the board of education, said that absolutely the $85,000 took care of everything.

The following committee was appointed with Robert W. Knight as general chairman, to visit every household in Riverton, leave the prospectus ask the householder to read it thoroughly, to answer any questions that might arise, and urge each and every voting citizen to come out on the night of December 21st and cast their ballot for the improved school.

Riverton Girl Reserves

Riverton Girl Reserves II are enjoying a number of group activities. In addition to a poetry group and one in the composition of music, they have a group studying aesthetic dancing, of which Pearl Henry is chairman. Marie Muse is instructing several of the girls in knitting, and the art group is in charge of Mabel Thompson. Several of the girls also are interested in literature and drama.

FELLOWSHIP CLUB

Last Monday evening the Fellowship Choral Club had the honor to present the Reverend Father Frank Leeming, of Christ Church, Bordentown, assisted by his boy choir, in a talk on "The Development of Church Music." The illustrative musical program, very beautiful, presented by the choir of twelve boy voices, included examples of Hebrew, early Christian, Gregorian, Reformation and post-Reformation church music, ending with the Passion Chorale of Johann Sebastian Bach.

The program was one of unusual interest, thoroughly enjoyed by an audience of nearly one hundred, the wives of members of the Fellowship being guests of the Choral Club for the evening. The occasion ended in an hour's informal sociability. Early in January the Fellowship group will give a choral concert in Bordentown presented under the auspices of Christ Church, of which Father Leeming is rector.

MOVE TO CHECK AUTO ACCIDENTS

Keystone Automobile Club
Urges Adoption of More
Stringent Measures

An important change in motor vehicle law, under which reckless and incompetent motorists can be driven off the highway, is advocated by the Keystone Automobile Club of New Jersey in response to public demand for effective action in accident prevention.

It is the proposal to require, under severe penalty, the reporting of every accident, no matter how trivial, to the end that motor vehicle authorities can act promptly and effectively in removing incompetents and "accident prone" drivers from the list of licensed operators.

In a statement addressed to its membership, in the December issue of Keystone Motorist, the Club, asks "wholehearted support of our championship of what seems to be a most logical and necessary move to curtail the rising tide of automobile accidents."

Pointing out that Pennsylvania and New Jersey law sets an arbitrary property damage minimum of $50 and $25, respectively, under which accidents need not be reported, and that Maryland does not even require the reporting of accidents unless injury or death is involved, the statement says: "An analysis of the how, why and when of accidents immediately reveals how the restrictions of existing motor vehicle law make it next to impossible to wage even a reasonably effective drive against incompetent drivers."

"The main significance in any driver's record lies not in the gravity of the accident or accidents, but the frequency of those accidents. In very many cases only a hair's breadth, a split second separates the accident involving a scratched fender from one leaving death in its wake.

"We need a system which, in effect, will bar the unfit from the road forever and a day—a system under which the accident record of every licensed driver can be readily consulted. We need a system which makes it obligatory upon the State to revoke the license of any driver whose accident record proves his gross incompetency, and sufficient teth in the law to make it extremely unlikely for anyone whose license has been revoked to again drive upon the highways."

Did You Know That:

—Smacklets, new Pacific coast sardines, are being introduced, packed vertically like asparagus.
—In several Canadian cities "homogenized" milk is sold. Under pressure the fat globules are broken up fine, and so incorporated with the milk that the cream never rises.
—Cashew nut spread is a new product similar to peanut butter.
—Grape seeds yield raisin oil which is used to coat raisins to prevent stickiness.

The School Question

At a special election to be held December 21, the people of Riverton will decide whether or not they desire to improve their school building with government aid as a P.W.A. project.

That such improvement has been needed for several years is generally conceded, and the proposition at the present time figures down to, "can we afford it?"

The Borough of Riverton has paid off all its outstanding bonded indebtedness, and now has no obligations of that kind, except the balance of $13,000 on the present school building.

For the past several years the borough has paid off sewer bonds and Memorial Park bonds at the rate of $12,000 a year, plus interest.

The yearly cost of the proposed school improvement will be $3,000 principal, plus the interest. Therefore it will readily be seen that the cost of the school project will be about one-fourth of the amount that has been necessary to finance the bond issues just retired.

With an outright gift of $23,800 from the government, and a loan of the balance at a low rate of interest, Riverton has a most unusual opportunity to make a valuable improvement under conditions which probably will never occur again.

And so, the question resolves itself into, "Can we afford NOT to do it?"

If Riverton fails to take advantage of the government's offer to assist in improving its school, the money will be spent elsewhere, and we will have to help pay it back, getting nothing in return.

In addition to that, it will be absolutely necessary to make some repairs and alterations during the coming summer, entailing the expenditure of several thousand dollars, on which no government assistance would be available.

"How much will it increase our taxes?"

The additional cost of making the $85,000 improvement and putting Riverton on an equal footing with other communities of like character in the matter of school facilities, would be $2.54 per thousand dollars of assessed valuation. In other words, a property owner assessed at $1,000 would have $2.54 added to his tax bill; $2,000, $5.08; $3,000, $7.62; $4,000, $10.16; $5,000, $12.70, and so on. These figures are based on present assessed valuations of property.

So much for the financial side of the question.

The really important side, after all, is safety, health and proper educational facilities for our boys and girls—the men and women of tomorrow, who will carry on in our places, and whose outlook upon life and its problems will be determined largely by the kind of education and training we give them now.

Can Riverton afford NOT to provide adequate school facilities for its children?

What is one of the commonest causes of failure in business? Try to answer the question before you read further.

George Harvey is reported to have asked John D. Rockefeller if he could say, in a few words, to what he attributed the success of Standard Oil. He was silent for a few minutes, and then said, "We never deceived ourselves."

Any man who has survived in business more than ten years will acknowledge the wisdom of Rockefeller's summary.

"Unless we are going to completely abandon an economic system which is based mainly upon the private ownership and operation of property, we must, if prosperity is to be restored, act in accordance with the principle that capital, as well as labor, has rights which must be fully recognized."—Samuel O. Dunn.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

"God the Preserver of Man" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, December 16.

The Golden Text is: "The Lord preserveth all them that love him" (Psalms 145:20).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Thou, even thou, art Lord alone; thou hast made heaven, the heaven of heavens, with all their host, the earth, and all things that are therein, the seas, and all that is therein, and thou preservest them all" (Nehemiah 9:6).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "In divine Science, man is sustained by God, the divine Principle of being. The earth, at God's command, brings forth food for man's use. Knowing this, Jesus once said, 'Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink;—presuming not on the provision of his creator, but recognizing God, the Father and Mother of all, as able to feed and clothe man as He doth the lilies' (p. 530).

The black spaces on the above map indicate vacant land suitable for future development. The map appears in the School Board prospectus which is being released to the voters of Riverton this week, and is intended to graphically illustrate the advisability of providing additional pupil capacity in the program of school improvement under the P.W.A.

DEER SEASON
OPENS MONDAY

Fish and Game Commission Reports Game to Be Plentiful This Year

Thousands of New Jersey sportsmen will spend five thrilling days in the deep woods of the State when the deer season opens on Monday, December 17 and continues until Friday, December 21.

Strict observance of the rules is requested by the State Fish and Game Commission in order to minimize danger in deer hunting. Hunters should wear a red hat and a red coat when they enter the deer woods and must hold their fire until the horns of the bucks can be distinctly seen. Only bucks having horns at least three inches long can be legally killed.

One buck a year is the legal limit for any licensed hunter. The kill must be reported to the State Fish and Game Commission or the game warden of the county in which it occurred within 48 hours under a penalty of $100 fine.

WOMAN'S HUSBAND
SURPRISED

He came home tired. She said, "John, I've a surprise for dinner." He sniffed and said, "What smells so good?" When dinner was served she said, "I got this new dinner idea from Dunham's new Cook Book—baked onions stuffed with Dunham's famous Sausage and this new sweet potato dish. 'Well, Mary, it's great. I feel better already and after dinner we will go to the theatre. A meal like this needs to be rewarded.' My grandfather always said Dunham's had the best flavor." Wives who order Dunham's and serve it to their husband's and keep a supply in the refrigerator for unexpected guests, are sure to be praised and rewarded for their good judgment in selecting Dunham's. Ladies are invited to send postal to Dunham's Alloway Farms, Alloway, Salem Co., N. J., for the free book of recipes for new and better menus and more economical house keeping.

"Oh Yes, Don't Forget to Send
A Few Kilowatts of Electricity"

Suppose you had to anticipate your usage of electricity as you do beans and potatoes! What if you would occasionally run out of electricity as you do eggs and milk and had to borrow a few Kilowatts from your neighbor?

It's a queer thought, isn't it, but only because electricity has become such a habit to us that we overlook the tremendous value of having it constantly available at the click of a switch.

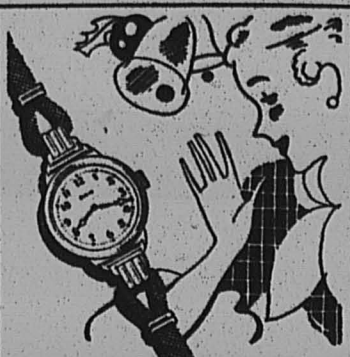

How many times a day do you unconsciously use electricity? Perhaps you have an electric refrigerator that works automatically. Analyze your uses of electricity. Compare the cost of it with the value of its uses. Is there anything you need or use which is so inexpensive?

THE "NEW DEAL"

BY JULIAN MASON

Vice President National Republican Builders

Reorganization

A real contribution to the current discussion on the "reorganization" of the Republican Party was made in New York this week in a speech by Demarest Lloyd, publisher of the little Washington magazine "Affairs."

"It seems to be a commonplace saying nowadays" said Mr. Lloyd, "that opponents of the New Deal, whether Democrats or Republicans, will never get anywhere, as long as they merely criticize what is going on. They should, it is said, come forward with a comprehensive program. I want to say, and I think it is far and away the most important thing I have to say, especially to Republicans, that to attempt such a thing is not only impossible but unnecessary, undesirable and unwise."

Mr. Lloyd then emphasized in dramatic fashion the historic service of sheer opposition. He went on to say:

"Let's Look at the Records"

"It is said you must be constructive, that merely to oppose is destructive. Let us take a look at the lessons of history. What have been the milestones in our own?"

"Begin with 'No taxation without representation'—negative in form and emphasis, but it roused the colonists. Next, 'No more British rule.' Our forefathers did not attempt to work out all the details of how the colonies would function, when free. They united on the so-called negative and said, in substance, we will work out the substitute for British rule later. That they did; but we know from the protracted debates on the Constitution what would have happened to our morale in the War for Independence, if the issues had been precipitated at that time."

Another Negative

"Later looms the Monroe Doctrine. 'No more Europe in the Western Hemisphere'—again a negative proposition. We did not plan out the future of South and Central America. Later still, 'No more slavery.' The abolitionists did not offer anything resembling a workable plan for the South, but they carried the country."

"Coming to our own times we have Prohibition. Nothing constructive—just 'No more liquor,' but it went over with almost unanimity by the States."

Revolution

For the conservative Republicans, Charles D. Hilles, National Committeeman from New York, stated the case in a letter to his fellow committeemen. He said:

"A revolutionary overthrow of normal American government has been proceeding for more than a year without reaching its peak, and the brunt of the opposition must still be borne by the Republican party. If Republicans will give assurances that their basic principles will be maintained and their course of action will be consistent they will merit confidence. The Republican party cannot imitate the New Deal; cannot vacillate between two opinions; cannot stagger toward the Left."

The national spokesman for the Republican liberals is now Mr. Borah. Even he unconsciously follows the formula set forth, as above, by Mr. Lloyd. He issues no statement of principles, nothing "constructive." He plays the negative. He continues "in opposition." He is merely against what he calls the "reactionary" control of the Republican party. He is opposed to the continuance of the same old names on the party letterhead. But he presents no bill of particulars on principles or policies.

Following Same Plan

The same thing appears to be true of the "liberal" revolt in the state and county of New York. W. Kingsland Macy, former Republican state chairman, is attacking Congressman Snell, minority leader in the House, but when it comes to any statement of principles rather than of personalities, Mr. Macy merely has a "progressive committee working on the matter." So also has Chase Mallen, Jr., Republican chairman for New York County.

Calls for New Blood

Col. Theodore Roosevelt has given out an admirable statement on the party controversy. He backs the demand for "new blood" and yet stands fast in his belief in the present Republican duty of "opposition." But even he falls into the error of demanding from his party a specific and concrete program. To which the New York "Daily News" makes the obvious and telling retort, "As for instance?"

As I have repeatedly said in this column, Franklin Roosevelt has the ball, he is making the program and the alternatives presented to the people are but to be for it or against it.

If there were any other "irrepressible" issue of principle, it would not require a committee to discover it.

The Issue

The truth is, I think, that the present issue between liberals and conservatives in the national Republican party is simply one of control.

The conservatives say, "We are against the New Deal." The liberals say, "We are against your continued dominance of the party."

On this basis, I consider extremely wise the position taken by the national chairman, Henry P. Fletcher. In an open letter he has pointed out to Senator Borah's "dissidents," the plain way in which they can make their opposition effective; if they can get sixteen national committeemen to sign a call for a meeting of the national committee, they will achieve an important moral victory with a real chance for a change in control.

How to Do It

Few sensible people can object to an incursion of young names and young faces into the inner councils of the Republican party. They are needed. But there are very few of them in sight on the political horizon. Nor do they have any divine right to read out of the party those of its members who happen to believe with Mr. Hilles that Republicanism cannot survive and function as a "diluted Rooseveltism." My hope is that the Republican "liberals" will act on Chairman Fletcher's suggestion, get their sixteen names and then arrive at a sound and fair compromise with the conservatives! Certainly all this fight and all this effort is the best possible answer to the cry that the Republican party is "dead."

The back-to-the-land movement may not please everyone, but at least it's better than the back-to-the-wall movement.—Judge.

It will be pleasant, too, when girls' fingernails get out of the red.—Mobile Press Register.

SHORT-WAVE MUSINGS

BY O. M. "C. W."

The Story of the Transatlantics (From QST, February 1922) (Courtesy of American Radio Relay League)

In England

These arrangements were by no means for the special benefit of Mr. Godley but were to govern the entire test. The arrangements in England were entirely in Mr. Coursey's hands and the data on the schedules was communicated only to him. To avoid all criticism Mr. Godley was told nothing except the free-for-all schedule, which was public information, but Mr. Coursey supplied him with a schedule of the times and wave lengths on which to listen, the same as he broadcast to all British listeners, and kept strictly to himself the identity and cyphers of the various stations. Mr. Coursey being in complete charge, Mr. Godley was on practically the same status as any British listener and was required to submit his reception to Mr. Coursey for verification and to report thru him.

Meanwhile the greatest enthusiasm seems to have greeted the preparations for the tests, on the other side. The Nederlandsche Vereeniging voor Radiotelegrafie (Holland) wrote us for particulars and published them in their magazine, "Radio Nieuws," together with recommended Armstrong circuits for short-wave reception; and "La T.S.F. Moderne" did the same thing for the French amateurs. "Wireless World" was the bulletin for the British amateurs, and it was here, of course, that the highest interest centered. Many amateurs seem to have gone to great lengths in their preparations, making special sets with many stages of tuned-out radio amplification, and we are very happy that the outcome of the tests justified their labor.

Godley Prepares

While these arrangements were progressing, "Paragon Paul" was busy too, building special amplifiers, testing various tuning arrangements, and experimenting with different aerials. When he succeeded in making 52A work a relay in New Jersey without interference from New York amateurs he felt he had things around where they belonged.

On November 14th, the night before he sailed, a very impressive little dinner was given for him at The Engineers' Club in New York City, where our A.R.R.L. officers and our directors within hailing distance and the officials of other radio organizations gathered to wish him success and bid him Godspeed. While the trial was to be a severe one and no man could with surety predict the outcome, optimism was distinctly the keynote and everybody was certain that if it could be done at all Paul would get signals. At this meeting credentials and written instructions were given him, together with a sealed packet for Mr. Coursey in which the secret codes and final schedules were given. There were but two copies of these documents in existence and the duplicate was locked in the Hartford safe. Until the writing of the article it was seen by no eyes in this country save those of our Traffic Manager—not even by the present writer.

Godley sailed on the "Aquitania" on November 15th, amid cheers and waving handkerchiefs of assembled radio friends and relatives, and for a couple of nights out the amateur air was thick with farewells and good wishes for 22E, Godley's home call, for everybody knew he would be in the static-room on the "Aquitania."

The second day out we radioed him: "Bon voyage. The entire radio world is pulling for you"—to which he replied:

"Confidence increases as distance squared Broadcast my heartfelt appreciation."

Readin', writin', and spellin'—all three will be featured in a revival of the old time spelling bee with a distinctly new slant, in the big "Copy-Ing Bee" for radio amateurs being sponsored by the American Radio Relay League the evening of December 14th.

Beginning with its own station, WIMK, in Hartford at 9.15 p.m.,

EST, the League will transmit a radio message of about 50 words in which the wierdest group of unusual word combinations, figure groups, trick words, words sent in no particular sequence, and even misspelled words that you ever heard will be given.

An hour later, two Chicago stations, WJZZ and W2AYN 9 will send a similar but altered message, for the benefit of middle western amateurs; and still another hour later W6ZF at San Francisco and W6AM at Long Beach will send a third message of the same nature, but also altered to avoid duplication and the possibility of a contestant's copying the same message more than once to correct errors. Automatic machine sending will be employed in each case, to eliminate possibility of unattended errors.

These messages, which will be sent in the telegraphic code, will be copied by radio amateurs every where. Those doing the best job, copying the message most nearly correctly, will receive certificates of award. The grand champion—the amateur who makes the most accurate copy—will be awarded a silver loving cup.

The fifth grade children are working on animals, for which they made their own patterns, brought the material and cut them out. They are now stuffing them with cotton. They are going to send them to some institution, to give a bit of Christmas cheer, but it has not yet been decided where they will be sent.

WOMAN STRUCK ON CINNAMINSON AVE.

Mrs. Mary Conrad, of Washington street, Parry, was pulling a small express wagon along Cinnaminson avenue, Monday night, when she was struck by a car driven by J. W. Milroy, of 729 Highland avenue, Palmyra. Milroy, who was driving a Franklin, did not see Mrs. Conrad as it was nearly dark. Mrs. Conrad was taken to Dr. Dean LeFavor by Charles Dorworth, where she was ordered to Cooper Hospital suffering from a broken collar bone, bruises of the head and lacerations of the knee and ankle.

Chief of Police George Dorworth investigated the case.

Mike Murmurs

By William Cooper, Jr.

Howdy folks! here's ye olde radio ed. back again with a few more scribbles about your favorites.

Whoozit? Yes, you're right. None other than GUY LOMBARDO, that exponent of the sweetest music this side of—anyplace. Recently the crk pilots of Cincinnati, Ohio, conducted a poll among themselves to determine the most popular band in the country. Although Lombardo didn't reach first place he did take second. Guy has been in many such contests and in the majority of them he gained the top notch. But he has never in his ten years of bandleading dropped below second position. Why? Because his type of music and rhythm is what the people want. Listen for the Lombardo band on Wednesday nites at 10 o'clock over KYW-WEAF Network.

With the bringing of a new station to Philly we have lots of news from the Quaker City broadcasting units. Such stations as WCAU (Columbia outlet), WIP (which airs ABS shows), and KYW (which brings us WEAF-NBC programs), rate high in radio circles, among the leading stations of the country.

PHILLY NOTES: Emily Weyman, former pianist and singer over WIP is now staff pianist of KYW... Howard Jones new announcer of WIP was formerly with the Yankee Network... Two firsts for KYW—First sustainer is the Tell Sisters and their first commercial, The Susquehanna Mountaineers... Pat & Patti, new WIP boy and girl act, had so much success with their Erma Coleman beauty product program that they have added two more commercials to their roster. This act is aired over the complete American System every Tuesday, Thursday and Friday, at 9:45 a.m., incidentally Glenn Parker is the announcer and general stooge... Huey Walton has been promoted and is now WCAU's chief announcer... WIP now claims to have the youngest announcing staff of any major station in the country... Tony Frayne and his popular Dictionary program has just returned to the WIP mike in a new series. And you might note Mr. Frayne is the custodian of the Edgar Allen Poe House in Phila... WIP leads Philly's Radio Row in news and activity this week. Some new acts originating in WIP studios are—Edwardo Villa and his South American Troubadors... Henry Patrick and the Three Martinis are now being pumped regularly to the entire ABS net... Due to the heavy type of programs around the radio dial on Sunday morning WIP is having great success with its new Sunday Morning Varieties. The show features the delightful voice of Rosine, romantic song impressions of Henry Patrick (that guy's everywhere). Four Bachelors and the piano pictures of Ted Hill. (Ted has recently been appointed staff pianist of WIP) One more new show. This one is the Friday afternoon revue at 2 to 2:30 on WIP. This program spotlights lovely Dorothy Allison, Lanny and the distinctive music of Sam Targon and his ork... And congrats to MURRAY ARNOLD who has been switched to publicity head at WIP. We wish you lots of success in your new venture, Murray.

PROPOSED IMPROVEMENTS TO RIVERTON'S SCHOOL FACILITIES

STANLEY P. STEWART—DYON H. EDWARDS, INC. ASSOCIATED ARCHITECTS

THE NEED

Riverton citizens who have children in the Public School, as well as those who do not but whose interest in the school or civic activities has brought them in close association with the two school buildings, realize that the facilities of both are inadequate in many respects.

They also have begun to realize that it will soon become absolutely necessary to make certain changes in the present main building.

The continued use of the two-room temporary building with its isolation from the main building, its cold floors, its open stoves, and toilet rooms without ventilation, is highly undesirable; undesirable from the standpoint of the health of the children, their comfort and safety.

The present manual training room, by its location and physical construction, is in direct violation of the State School Building Code. It has taken space from the present auditorium and leaves but little over half for general assembly purposes and civic use. That which remains is poorly heated, poorly lighted, possesses poor acoustics, limited vision of the stage, and has but one exit, and that not a safe one in the event of an emergency.

The corridors on all floors of the main building are constructed of wood, walled in with wood and are reached by wooden stairways. This situation is one of the immediate concerns of your Board of Education. That no fires have occurred in the twenty-five year life of the building is fortunate, BUT your Board of Education is not disposed to gamble longer with the lives or safety of the children entrusted to their care.

These are cold facts, with which every taxpayer and parent should be familiar. They are not voiced by your Board of Education to inspire fear, but rather to enlist your serious consideration of the project which is submitted in the following paragraphs.

THE OPPORTUNITY

The United States government, through the Public Works Administration, is willing, with the approval of the citizens, to lend to Riverton $63,000 for the improvement and enlargement of the present school building and will add $23,800 as an outright gift.

While the amount of the grant is $23,800 and a bond issue of $63,000 to cover the loan is authorized by the government, this does NOT mean that a total of $86,800 will be expended on the project. The total amount WILL NOT EXCEED $85,000, which is the figure named by the Riverton Board of Education and the Public Works Administration. That is the limit to which the expense may go, and if less is needed, bonds to the amount unexpended will be retired immediately.

The grant, a gift of $23,800, is based on 30% of the cost of labor and materials only. The loan also covers the cost of new furnishings where needed.

Some months ago Riverton turned down the river bank boulevard project, as "non-essential." The concerted opposition to this plan resulted in the organization of a civic group known as the Riverton Town Meeting.

At its first official meeting this civic group turned its attention to the consideration of Riverton's greatest need. The opinion of the majority placed improvement to our present school building FIRST—and with this definitely established, proceeded to take immediate action. A resolution favoring school improvement was adopted by Town Meeting and transmitted to the Board of Education.

Upon receipt of this resolution, the Board of Education outlined to Stanley P. Stewart and Byron Edwards, Inc., architects, the essentials to be covered, and they prepared plans which were submitted at a subsequent meeting of the Board and the Town Meeting committee on school improvements. Application was then made for P. W. A. funds.

After waiting ten months for approval and the Board of Education having been informed unofficially that funds were not available, the Property Committee made a survey of the fire hazards in the two buildings. The committee presented its findings at a meeting of the Board of Education on November 5, 1934. Among other things it recommended the construction of fire escapes on the brick building, fire-proof reconstruction of the present wooden air shaft running from the basement to the roof, the replacement of faulty electric wiring, safe exits from the auditorium, eliminating the manual training room fire hazards, etc.

The new plan will include these necessary improvements.

THE IMPROVEMENTS

The plans provide for four additional fire-proof classrooms on the ground floor. This new section, one story high, will be built across the front of the present building, which will be used for the kindergarten and lower grades, thus affording the smaller children well heated, well ventilated, fireproof rooms with immediate exit on the ground floor in an emergency, and will do away with the portable building.

On the right wing of the new construction the plans provide for the erection of a new auditorium with a seating capacity of 450. The new auditorium will be adequate for school purposes and civic requirements. It is to be constructed with a flat floor and furnished with movable chairs. This will allow for ready conversion into space suitable for indoor physical training classes, and obviate the necessity of renting outside space for this purpose, as has been the practice in the past.

A tower of fireproof construction will be erected in front of the present building from the ground floor to the roof, and will contain two modern toilet rooms, one for boys and one for girls, principal's office and a teachers' rest room.

The tower, in connection with the new fire-proof central section in the old building, will provide additional facilities for safe exit from both the new and the old building in case of emergency.

CHANGE IN MAIN BUILDING
The plans call for the construction of a new fire-proof section through the center of the old building. This section to be built with brick walls, concrete floors and steel stairways.

The old auditorium will be divided into domestic science and manual training rooms. The floor will be raised to the level of other floors on the ground floor, and will be built of fire-resistant materials in accordance with the State School Building Code. The furnace room will be enlarged to accommodate a new boiler to heat the addition, and the present toilet rooms will be modernized.

The office now used by the principal will, under the new plan, be converted into a library. The present library facilities consist of a long table in an artificially lighted hallway.

Storage space, always a problem under present conditions, will be greatly increased under the new plan. The stage in the present auditorium and the dressing rooms on either side will be walled in and converted into storage space for books, supplies, etc.

CAPACITY

Provision has been made for the future growth of Riverton. While the enrollment at the present time is abnormally low, due in part to the opening of the Parochial School which draws its enrollment from Riverton, Palmyra and the surrounding territory, the greatest decrease seems to be due to the economic condition of the country during the past few years, as the decline started before the Parochial School opened. At the present time there are over 50 untenanted houses and apartments in Riverton.

With better times, Riverton has room to grow. Map on page 6 shows existing vacant lots suitable for building purposes. As old houses are torn down, more space is made available for modern homes.

An improved school building will attract a desirable class of citizens to Riverton and hold the present residents. Increased population will lower the individual tax. Therefore, with materials and labor prices at their estimated lowest level, an outright gift of $23,800 awaiting our acceptance, is it not a progressive, far-sighted, and business-like move for Riverton to improve its school and place it on a par with the many other advantages Riverton has to offer?

FINANCING

The proposed project will be financed by the gift of $23,800 and $63,000 in twenty-year 4% bonds purchased by the government. $3,000 principal will be retired each year beginning January 1936, until January 1, 1951, when $4,000 will be retired yearly.

The cost for retirement of bonds and the interest, together with the estimated increased operating costs such as insurance, light, heat, water, janitor service, etc. (no additional teachers will be required until the enrollment increases) will total to $7,100, approximately, which, based on our present valuation, will require an increase in the tax rate of 25.4 cents per hundred of assessed valuation.

WHAT IT WILL COST THE TAXPAYER

Based on the present assessed valuation and tax rate and the above estimates, the property that this year paid $27.20 in taxes would pay $2.54 additional. If the tax bill was $74.40, the increase would be $5.08, or, if $111.60 there would be an increase of $7.62.

RIVERTON'S FINANCIAL STATUS

Riverton has already retired its entire bonded indebtedness, with the exception of $13,000 still due on the present school building, which amount is being reduced at the rate of $1,000 annually.

In the past $12,000 a year plus interest was required to pay off the cost of the sewerage system and Memorial Park. Now we can readily provide for the proposed financing of the P. W. A. loan, which will require a yearly payment of only $3,000, making a total of $4,000, plus interest charges.

Riverton's only other indebtedness consists of some $20,000 in tax revenue notes. The Borough auditor states that Riverton is in most excellent financial condition and is fully warranted in proceeding with the school project.

SUMMARY

The Board of Education and Town Meeting are in accord that the project should be accepted by the voters, for the following reasons:

First: that some changes are absolutely necessary in the immediate future for the safety and health of the students now attending the school.

Second: that the proposed plans correct every existing fire risk.

Third: that they further provide much needed additional facilities.

Fourth: that the improvements are essentials based on a conservative planning without expensive frills.

Fifth: that the additional upkeep is negligible.

Sixth: that building costs are probably at their lowest.

Seventh: that a gift of $23,800 to the taxpayers surely will not be available at a subsequent date.

Eighth: that it is a worthwhile civic improvement which will tend to increase the value of property, stimulate real estate development and promote residence in Riverton.

Ninth: that it will reduce the need of Borough funds for relief during construction, as the P. W. A. contract gives first consideration to local workmen and materials.

DECIDE DECEMBER 21st

Your Board of Education is interested in Riverton's children, interested in seeing them given every reasonable advantage that other communities offer—it is interested in the future development of Riverton, and, actuated by these motives, it has in this prospectus endeavored to lay the whole proposition before the voters in detail.

It is now for you to decide—consider the facts and register your decision at the Special Election to be held in the Auditorium of the Riverton Public School on Friday, December 21st, 1934, between the hours of 7 and 9 p.m.

Dated: December 5, 1934.

TIPS ON GROWING

BY ONE WHO GREW UP IN THE BUSINESS

Sometimes when distracted as to a suitable gift for a garden enthusiast one wishes that Christmas came during the spring or autumn months, at planting out time. In recent years it has become the vogue to place gift orders with nurserymen for plants or bulbs for delivery at proper planting time—the nurserymen sending a notice prior to shipment to the intended recipient that an order for certain stocks has been placed (not mentioning price of course) by a friend whose name is given, and that shipment will be made at best time for planting—the letter also accompanied by planting instructions.

This method of Xmas-present giving is popular as it gives the friend exactly what he wants at the time when he wants it.

Some nursery firms send out special Holiday card acknowledgments but the best plan, of course, is the personal letter.

Samuel McGredy, head of the world-known firm of McGredy & Son, Rosarians, died at Portadown, Ireland, November 11th. Such popular roses as Margaret McGredy, Portadown Fragrance, McGredy's Scarlet, were introduced by these famous Irish rose raisers. Mr. McGredy was in Riverton on his first and only visit to the United States about nine months ago.

A house plant, thriving or ornamental, makes a nice Christmas gift, as it not only gives joy during the Holiday season but if care is exercised in selecting a suitable plant, it may thrive for many years.

When the friend is a connoisseur of plants the best thing is to purchase a sturdy plant of a nurseryman separate from the container, as rather indifferent subjects are frequently "dressed up," bowed and re-bowed for "Season's Greetings," and offered at Christmas sales.

Several quarts of "red ripe" strawberries were gathered at Locust Farm, near Moorestown, on December 5th; the variety was that standard everbearing Mastodon.

The writer has been informed that during the past week an importation of five hundred plants of a sensational new variety of Strawberry has been received by a local nursery which is said to produce berries "three to the pound." Whether this is a pipe dream or an actuality time will tell.

Little novelty pot-plant stands, holding from three to five miniature pots, will be found in the shops this Christmas. The stands are usually wrought-iron painted white, green and black. Fine for little plants like Ives, Cactus, small Ferns, Palms, Sansevierias, etc.

EXAMINATIONS FOR NAVAL ACADEMY

United States Senator W. Warren Barbour has announced that preliminary examinations for entrance to the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis would be held on January 5, 1935, at Atlantic City, Camden, Newark, New Brunswick and Trenton, at 9 a.m., in the post offices of these cities.

The examinations, which are competitive in nature, will determine the four New Jersey young men best qualified to take part later in the qualifying examinations to be held at Annapolis. Senator Barbour since taking office has pursued the policy of conducting competitive examinations for entrance to both Annapolis and West Point as the fairest method of filling vacancies. The competitive examinations are open to any male resident of New Jersey over sixteen years of age but who will not have attained his twentieth birthday on March 31st of the year of entering the Academy.

Young men desiring to compete in the examination may communicate with Senator Barbour by December 22 in Washington for further details and assignment to the place of examination.

PHONE COMPANY ASKS FOR MERGER

Bell Company Plans to Incorporate Services of Keystone and So. Jersey Lines

Approval by the public authorities of a first step toward the consolidation of the service of the Keystone Telephone Company of Philadelphia with that of the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania has been sought by a petition filed by the latter company with the Pennsylvania Public Service Commission.

As is generally known, control of the Keystone Company has for many years been in Telephone Securities, Inc., which is now controlled by the Imperial Securities Company. It is approval of the purchase of the entire capital stock of the Imperial Company by the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania which is sought by the petition filed.

The New Jersey Bell Telephone Company, operating throughout that state, desires in due course to unite with its service the competing telephone services in southern New Jersey of the Eastern Telephone and Telegraph Company and of the Camden and Atlantic Telephone Company, at present controlled by the Keystone Telephone Company of Philadelphia, and to this end will ask the approval of the New Jersey Public Utilities Commission and the Federal Communications Commission.

CHRISTMAS TEA AND OPEN HOUSE

The Riverton Porch Club will hold its annual Christmas tea and open house on Tuesday, December 18th from four until six o'clock. Receiving with Mrs. Murray C. Boyer and the vice presidents of the club, will be Mrs. Alfred R. Driscoll, southern vice president of the State Federation, and Mrs. William C. Davis, first district vice president. Everyone is most cordially invited to attend.

Walter Hirschman, proprietor of a candy store at River Road and Pennsauken Creek, was burned about the hands, arms and neck Saturday night, while attempting to extinguish a fire in the kitchen of his home.

Cooking oil became ignited while his wife was frying oysters. The flaming grease splattered over Hirschman when he tried to throw water on the flames. The walls also caught fire and spread the flames to the dining room. Damage was estimated at about $300.

CINNAMINSON P. T. A.

Wednesday, Dr. Hosc, of Columbia University, visited the Cinnaminson schools which are modeled upon a plan presented by him at Burlington during a course of talks several years ago.

An all-day visit from this busy and much desired educator, followed by a conference with the faculty and some of their teacher friends from the county, was very gratifying to all connected with the school.

The study class hour was changed to eight p.m. as several men present at the Hobby Clubs Thursday evening expressed a desire to attend, as the topic "The Influence of Poise Upon Family Life," interested them. There will be no more meetings of the class or of the clubs until after New Year's. Wednesday, the nineteenth, will be Father's Night. Be sure to come and enjoy what they are preparing to offer as entertainment.

The medical room looks very spic and span with new pongee curtains, and a new linen cabinet, while the dental room has been furnished to match, with varnish and paint.

IRRADIATED VITAMIN D MILK

● Tooth trouble during approaching motherhood is frequently caused—so medical authorities inform us—through the inability of the mother's system to provide sufficient calcium and phosphorus for both herself and the child.

Irradiated Vitamin D Milk aids the mother greatly in safeguarding her teeth during the pre-natal period. The Sunshine Vitamin has the special function of enabling the mother's body to better utilize the calcium and phosphorus of the milk she drinks and the food she eats.

Thus the mother is better able to provide for the newborn's development, and better able to maintain a normal supply of these minerals in her own bones and teeth. In a similar manner Irradiated Vitamin D Milk aids and protects the mother during the nursing period.

Following birth, the child's body needs, of course, to assimilate its own materials for growth. Again, Vitamin D is very important, for now it enables the infant's system to better obtain and more efficiently use these minerals of which strong bones and sound teeth are largely composed.

That is why Irradiated Vitamin D Milk is so valuable in preventing rickets in children; and why the child is more likely to have sound teeth if you provide Irradiated Vitamin D Milk every day; especially during infancy and during the growing years. To begin to serve Irradiated Vitamin D Milk in your home, phone us or order from any of our drivers.

TWIN CITIES PAYS 1st SERIES STOCK

Officers Complimented as First Stockholders Draw $65,000 on Maturing Date

The Twin Cities Building and Loan Association, the youngest association in the community, on November 19th, paid out to shareholders $65,708.77, being the maturing value of free shares in the first series, refunding 99c on each share paid on the July dues. In addition to the cash payment, $12,515.00 in stock loans were cancelled and $7200 applied in the reduction of mortgage loans.

As most of the stock was held by members residing in the immediate vicinity, the community will materially benefit by the disbursement. Being mostly free shares, it will no doubt lighten the burden for Santa Claus.

The officers and directors have been highly complimented on the showing made.

During the depression period the association remained on an unrestricted basis, making loans and promptly paying withdrawals, and matured the series in twelve years.

On January 21, 1935, the association will open its books for subscriptions in its 26th series. The Cinnaminson Building and Loan Association paid out $133,000, in October, making a total of nearly $200,000, released in this community in the last two months.

Official of Publishing Company Addresses Bankers Convention on "Public Relations"

H. Douglas Davis, vice president and trust officer of Plainfield Trust Company, was chairman of the Trust Conference section of the Sixth Mid-Year Trust and Banking Conference of the New Jersey Bankers Association held recently in Newark. Trust business, in common with all other business, is undergoing major changes by reason of the economic developments of recent years, and may likely undergo still further changes by reason of developments that lie in the immediate future. This was one of the best attended Mid-Year Conferences of the past two or three years, and indicates that the trust men of this state are resurveying the trust field as a whole in the light of these changes and are adapting the trust business to them.

E. L. Williams and Howard B. Conover attended this Conference and report that all of the addresses were of an exceedingly practical nature. Among the key note speeches was one delivered by G. Prather Knapp, an official of the Rand, McNally Publishing Company in Chicago. Mr. Knapp, in discussing his theme "Public Relations" stated that there is both a need and a responsibility of bankers to carry on a consistent and carefully arranged program of customer relations. By Mr. Knapp did not refer to cut and dried, hackneyed banalities, but rather an intelligent presentation of a bank's individuality in a progressive and constructive way to an understanding clientele. This, Mr. Knapp stated, is the responsibility of the entire official family including officers, directors and staff.

Every patrolman must carry a sharp knife and antidote for first aid in case of rattlesnake or a copperhead bite. Above—These men now patrol the Roseland-Bushkill Line which they helped to build. At left—The patrolman looks over a mountain-top tower.

sharp knife and a bottle of permanent compound. Climbing towers is also a regular part of the day's work. So skillful are these men in making their way up the labyrinth of steel that they climb as easily and swiftly to the top of a one hundred foot tower as though it were merely a flight of stairs.

The strips of cleared forest land beneath the transmission towers have proved an important aid in preventing forest fires. In fact, the patrolmen themselves have on many occasions assisted the fire warden in this area by reporting fires. When a fire breaks out the men are always ready to pitch in and help.

How to Reduce Heating Costs

by JOHN BARCLAY,
Heating Expert

I have been asked several times to make up a schedule that the average home owner could follow during the day. I am giving you below the type of schedule that should meet the requirements of the ordinary householder.

In the morning—Put drafts on by closing check damper and opening ash pit damper. When fire is burning brightly add coal to level of fire door. It is preferable to leave a red spot of glowing coal visible after firing. Do not generally shake grates in the morning if this has been done during the preceding evening.

During the day—Control fire with check and ash pit dampers. Change position of smoke pipe damper only when check damper will not hold the fire. Feed door damper should be left slightly open at all times.

At night—before banking fire, shake grates until first red glow appears in ash pit. Wet ashes thoroughly, and remove just before next shaking. To bank fire, close ash pit damper and open check damper. Do not leave fire door open. Do not check fire to such an extent that house becomes chilled during night.

Of course, the smoke damper should be kept at all times as far closed as possible while still obtaining sufficient heat. It should not be used in daily regulation of the furnace.

Do not poke fires from above. This mixes ashes with hot coals and may cause trouble from clinkers.

The hot water pan in hot-air heaters should be kept filled with water. With steam, hot water or vapor systems, hot water pans should be attached to the rear of the radiators and kept filled with water. This prevents the atmosphere of the house becoming too dry.

Always remember that there are three important considerations to keep in mind; (1) Have a clean furnace, — carbon deposit has a greater insulating power than asbestos (2) Keep the turn damper as nearly closed as possible to maintain the required heat—excessive draft blows heat up the chimney (3) Keep the ash pit clean.

ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS

F. S. Girard, Pa. — There is nothing that can be put into the furnace to remove this accumulation. We suggest, in order to reduce the amount of accumulation, that you refrain from burning wood, paper or refuse containing light particles which may easily be drawn up the chimney.

The use of anthracite coal, instead of any forms of refuse, will prevent trouble of this sort in the future for you.

W. D. H., Cairo, N. Y.—Any good local steam heating contractor would be capable of installing a heating system in this dwelling.

It can be heated equally well by steam or hot water if there is a basement in which to place the heater. The steam system, probably would be cheaper in this case.

If there is no basement, a down flow hot water system will be more suitable, and can be installed at a very reasonable price.

(If you have any heating problems address John Barclay, Room 1814, 120 Broadway, New York City. He will be glad to reply in a personal letter.)

Have You Ever Wondered How Your Electric Clock Is Made to Keep Time Accurately Both Day and Night?

Above — The "time dispatcher" watches the clocks which aid him to keep your electric clock on exact Eastern Standard Time. Center — The dispatcher regulates the speed of your electric clock by controlling the speed of huge generators like this one at the power stations.

SEATED at a desk on the eighth floor of Public Service Terminal Building in Newark is the man whose job it is to keep many thousands of electric clocks in New Jersey homes marching in step with Father Time. This "time dispatcher" as he might be called, is on duty night and day seeing to it, along with his other duties, that your electric clock never varies more than fifteen seconds one way or the other from true astronomical time.

If you should look over the records of the time dispatcher for the past year or so you would probably be amazed to find what a good job he is doing in keeping pace with the flight of old man Tempus. His records will show you that a clock operated from Public Service lines would vary an average of only about six seconds or so each day of the year.

How is he able to keep your clock running so accurately? The answer is quite simple—by merely controlling the speed of the huge generators at the Company's power stations. When these generators are kept running at a constant speed all the thousands of electric clocks which they supply with current will be automatically on time after once being set. This is because the speed of the little electric motor which turns the hands of every clock is dependent entirely on the speed of the generators.

You might wonder also how the dispatcher keeps himself constantly informed as to exact astronomical time. This information he obtains directly from a so-called radio clock, which is automatically regulated by radio signals received from the Naval Observatory at Arlington, Va.

In addition to his radio clock the dispatcher has a second clock to help him with his work. This one has two second hands on its center dial, one of which is part of a very fine spring mechanical clock which keeps almost perfect time and is checked twice each day by the dispatcher against his radio clock. The other second hand is part of an electric clock like the one in your home. The dispatcher watches both of these second hands and as long as the second hand of the electric clock is kept together with the second hand of the mechanical clock, he knows that all electric clocks served by his company are keeping perfect Eastern Standard time.

Should the hands draw a second or two apart at any time of the day or night, the dispatcher will order the generators at the generating station to be speeded up, or slowed down, as the case may be, until the two second hands come together again.

There are estimated to be more than a quarter of a million electric clocks now in homes throughout Public Service territory.

IT'S EASY TO SHOP AT ETRIS' STORE

You remember Billy and Ruth, who distribute a book each year telling of the new kinds of toys they have seen? You can get one of these books at the store and some of the things you will see when you call for the book are a Mickey Mouse tea set, typewriter, "little lady" electric kitchen, electric trains, finger print set, photo kit, field glasses, movie jector and films, basketballs, footballs, erector sets, games of every description, dolls and all their accessories, coaster wagons, sleds, scotty dogs, and the delight of delights a Mickey and Minnie Mouse hand car.

And then, too, Etris has all kinds of decorations for the Christmas tree.

For mother, there are dishes, electrical appliances, and lovely things for the kitchen. For dad there are penknives, flashlights, tools and most anything his heart desires.

PLUM PUDDINGS

FOR days preceding Christmas, mother is busy mixing fruit and spice and everything nice into mince meat, fruit cake or plum pudding. With a feeling of satisfaction and pride, she hides them away, knowing they will taste all the better if allowed to ripen and mellow. Some of you will want to make a quantity of plum puddings so that you will have a choice dessert in reserve for company meals or, perhaps, have some for gift giving. Others will want to make a pudding the day before or on Christmas Day itself which will be just enough for the Christmas dinner.

Having chosen the recipe that you like best there are a few points to remember in the steaming of puddings. The molds for steaming should be equipped with tight-fitting covers. If the cover does not fit tightly, put layers of wax paper over the top until it does. Grease the inside of the cover also or grease the cloth or paper that may be tied over the top in place of a cover.

Fill greased pudding molds two-thirds full, never more than this as allowance must be left for the rising of the pudding.

Uncover a steamed pudding as soon as the cooking period is over unless it is one of the fruit puddings, which you are planning to keep indefinitely. If pudding is not to be served immediately allow it to cool; then, when ready to serve, put it back into the mold cover and steam until heated through.

Too much batter put into a tightly covered mold will result in a soggy pudding. Too much batter in a paper covered mold will result in a ruined pudding.

Have water boiling when the pudding is placed in the steamer and count the time of cooking when the water starts boiling again. If the water boils away add more boiling water from the tea kettle. Never lift the cover from the kettle until the pudding has finished cooking.

Hard Sauce
4 tbsp. butter 1 cup confection-
1 tsp. boiling ers sugar
water 1 tsp. flavoring
Cream butter, add sugar and water, beat until light and creamy. Add flavoring.

Sauce Delicieux
1/2 cup heavy 1 egg
cream (whipped) Flavoring to make 1 cup) 1/2 cup sugar
Beat white and yolk of the egg separately. Add the sugar to the beaten yolk, then add the beaten white and beat all the whipped cream and flavoring to taste. Serve at once.

English Plum Pudding
1 lb. currants 1 tsp. cloves
1 lb. raisins 1 whole nutmeg,
1 lb. ground ground
plumapple 1 tsp. salt
1 lb. glassed 2 eggs
cherries 1/2 lb. citron

Put all ingredients with the exception of the milk, sugar and eggs in a large mixing bowl. Beat eggs, add sugar and milk and combine mixtures. Grease and flour tightly covered cans. Pour in mixture until can is three-quarters filled. Cover, place in large kettle with tight fitting cover. Surround with water to half cover molds and boil four or five hours. Remove, cool and keep in a cool place until ready to use. Then reheat by steaming for one hour. Serve with hard sauce. If you have an oven heat regulator range, place puddings in oven at 275 degrees for four hours.

Tiny Tim Pudding
3 cups bread 1/2 tsp. ginger
1 cup raisins 1/4 lb. dates cut in 6 ozs. suet, pieces
chopped fine 1/4 lb. raisins
1 1/2 cups flour 1/4 lb. figs
1 tsp. nutmeg Juice 1 orange
1 tsp. salt 2 eggs
Mix bread crumbs and suet. Sift together flour, salt and ginger. Combine the two mixtures, add raisins, dates and figs cut in pieces. Mix, using hands; add the juice of orange and eggs beaten. Have ready a cloth (not cheesecloth), scalded and well floured; shape the pudding mixture into a large ball, tie in bag loosely, leaving room for the pudding to swell; place in boiling water; cover and let boil rapidly six hours. When cold remove cloth, reheat by steaming and serve with hard sauce.

FOUR GOVERNORS IN FOURTEEN DAYS

Moore, Powell, Prall and Hoffman to Occupy Executive's Chair

An unprecedented procedure in this State will take place when Governor A. Harry Moore, on January 2 resigns his position to take up his new post as United States Senator at Washington, assuring the State of four governors in two weeks.

The governor fixed January 2 so that he can take his seat in the United States Senate, to which he was elected last month, on January 3 when Congress convenes.

Under the State Constitution, vacancies in the governor's chair are filled by the president of the State Senate. Since the old 1934 Legislature will not officially die until January 7, 1935, Senate President Clifford R. Powell, of Burlington county, will become governor on January 2.

Powell's "term" will continue until January 8, when he will be succeeded by Senate President-elect Horace G. Prall, Hunterdon, of the 1935 law-making body. Prall, in turn will remain in office until January 15, in inauguration date of Governor-elect Harold G. Hoffman.

Thus, in exactly 14 days, New Jersey will be governed by Moore, Powell, Prall and Hoffman.

Second—$2.50 in cash.

PROSECUTOR GETS $1,500 INCREASE

Mandatory Law Forces Board of Freeholders to Raise Eastwood's Salary

Prosecutor Howard Eastwood was granted what substantially amounts to a $1500 increase in salary per annum by the Burlington County Board of Freeholders at their meeting on Friday.

Prosecutor Eastwood, at a previous meeting, made formal application for the full amount of $6500 instead of the $5000 he had been receiving. His application stated that the salary for the office was covered by statute which provided for the larger amount. At the time the application was received it was turned over to solicitor Wells for an opinion.

At the meeting Friday Solicitor Wells stated that he had found that the same legislation covering the recent increase granted the county judge was applicable to the prosecutor's office. The state law provides a stated salary in counties of certain population. The original law cited salaries based on the United States census of 1920 which would not warrant the increase just granted the prosecutor.

However an amendment had been passed requiring the figures of the 1930 census be used as a basis for determining salaries of certain county offices. Thus the Board of Freeholders had, according to the solicitor, no other choice than to grant the increase.

Freeholder Adams asked if there was any legislation concerning salary increases that might affect the case.

The solicitor replied that the prosecutor's request did not legally constitute a salary raise, but rather entitled him to collect the full fee prescribed by law for services which in the past he had been willing to accept a reduced compensation. The prosecutor's pay increase, however, will not be retroactive.

A payment of $10,669.41 to the Kohn Construction Company of Trenton as part payment on the De la Cova-Rivera bridge was authorized. Freeholder Adams asked if an inspection of the bridge would be made before acceptance by the County. Engineer Smith stated that the bridge is under constant supervision by three separate governmental agencies as well as the County, and that a final inspection would be made before acceptance.

Six Cylinder Quintet Wins By
One Point Over Foe in Extra Period

The Pal-River quintet in the Interboro Basketball League gave over 200 spectators many thrills when they nosed out the K. of C. in a thriller that required an extra five minute period to break a 22-22 deadlock and win by a score of 24 to 23 last night in the high school gymnasium.

The streamlined Chevys tore into the battling Knights for all they were worth and kept the spectators jumping around in wild enthusiasm. However, after the smoke of battle had cleared spectators were of the opinion that each of the ten men playing worked like Trojans and each deserved a share of the credit.

IT'S EASY TO SHOP AT ETRIS' STORE

The John H. Etris store in Palmyra is showing a fine line of all sorts of toys, just the kind to ask Santa for.

You remember Billy and Ruth, who distribute a book each year telling of the new kinds of toys they have seen? You can get one of these books at the store and some of the things you will see when you call for the book are a Mickey Mouse tea set, typewriter, "little lady" electric kitchen, electric trains, finger print set, photo kit, field glasses, movie projector and films, basketballs, footballs, erector sets, games of every description, dolls and all their accessories, coaster wagons, sleds, scotch dogs, and the delight of delights a Mickey and Minnie Mouse hand car.

And then, too, Etris has all kinds of decorations for the Christmas trees.

For mother, there are dishes, electrical appliances, and lovely things for the kitchen. For dad there are pensknives, flashlights, tools and most anything his heart desires.

Complacency is the tragedy of ignorance.

CHRISTMAS PARTY BY WOMEN'S CLUB

The regular meeting of the Women's Club will be held Monday afternoon, December 17, in Society Hall. The meeting will be in form of a Christmas party. Mrs. William Miller and Mrs. Stanley Lippincott will render vocal solos. A recitation will be given by Miss Caroline Bauer. There will be community singing of Christmas carols. Each member is asked to bring a small, inexpensive gift and there will be the usual exchange of these gifts. Refreshments appropriate to the season will be served.

"I'm sorry," said the diner, "but I haven't any money to pay for that meal."

"That's all right," said the cashier. "We'll write your name on the wall and you can pay the next time you come in."

"Don't do that. Everybody who comes in will see it."

"Oh, no, they won't. Your overcoat will be hanging over it."—Montreal Star.

PLUM PUDDINGS

FOR days preceding Christmas, mother is busy mixing fruit and spice and everything nice into mince meat, fruit cake or plum pudding. With a feeling of satisfaction and pride, she hides them away, knowing they will taste all the better if allowed to ripen and mellow. Some of you will want to make a quantity of plum puddings so that you will have a choice dessert in reserve for company meals or, perhaps, have some for gift giving. Others will want to make a pudding the day before or on Christmas Day itself which will be just enough for the Christmas dinner.

Having chosen the recipe that you like best there are a few points to remember in the steaming of puddings. The molds for steaming should be equipped with tight-fitting covers. If the cover does not fit tightly, put layers of wax paper over the top until it does. Grease the inside of the cover also or grease the cloth or paper that may be tied over the top in place of a cover.

Fill greased pudding molds two-thirds full, never more than this as allowance must be left for the rising of the pudding.

Uncover a steamed pudding as soon as the cooking period is over unless it is one of the fruit puddings which you are planning to keep indefinitely. If pudding is not to be served immediately allow it to cool; then, when ready to serve, put it back into the mold cover and steam until heated through.

Too much batter put into a tightly covered mold will result in a soggy pudding. Too much batter in a paper covered mold will be left in a ruined pudding.

Have water boiling when the pudding is placed in the steamer and count the time of cooking while the water starts boiling again. If the water boils away add more boiling water from the tea kettle. Never lift the cover from the kettle until the pudding has finished cooking.

His application stated that the salary for the office was covered by statute which provided for the larger amount. At the time the application was received it was turned over to solicitor Wells for an opinion.

At the meeting Friday Solicitor Wells stated that he had found that the same legislation covering the recent increase granted the county judge was applicable to the prosecutor's office. The state law provides a stated salary in counties of certain population. The original law cited salaries based on the United States census of 1920 which would not warrant the increase just granted the prosecutor.

However an amendment had been passed requiring the figures of the 1930 census be used as a basis for determining salaries of certain county offices. Thus the Board of Freeholders had, according to the solicitor, no other choice than to grant the increase.

Freeholder Adams asked if there was any legislation concerning salary increases that might affect the case.

The solicitor replied that the prosecutor's request did not legally constitute a salary raise, but rather entitled him to collect the full fee prescribed by law for services which in the past he had been willing to accept a reduced compensation. The prosecutor's pay increase, however, will not be retroactive.

A payment of $10,669.41 to the Kolyn Construction Company of Trenton as part payment on the De la nco-Riverside bridge was authorized. Freeholder Adams asked if an inspection of the bridge would be made before acceptance by the County. Engineer Smith stated that the bridge is under constant supervision by three separate governmental agencies as well as the County, and that a final inspection would be made before acceptance.

Authorization for the payment of jurors' fees upon proper presentation.

CONFIRMATION AT CHRIST CHURCH

Bishop Coadjutor of Diocese of Nek Jersey Will Deliver
Charge to Class

This Sunday night at eight o'clock there will be a class of fifteen presented for confirmation in Christ Episcopal Church. The Right Reverend Albion W. Knight, D.D., Bishop Coadjutor of the Diocese of New Jersey, will officiate. The usual evening service will be greatly shortened so that time may be given to the confirmation service and yet the whole service remain in the usual bounds. Bishop Knight will deliver the charge to the candidates and preach the sermon. The class will be presented by the rector, the Reverend Francis B. Downs.

Christmas Eve is one of the most joyous and yet solemn times of all the year. A time of great and deep rejoicing and a time for beauty in all things. And above all a time to remember the true religious significance of the cause for the great happiness which comes with the season. Every attempt has been made to have the Christmas Eve midnight service of Holy Communion in keeping with these ideals. There will be carol singing from 11.30 till midnight and then the communion service itself.

The choir will sing Charles Wood's service which is a plain song service in the Phrygian mode. This type of music is very old and very simple; the melody carrying the words along at almost conversational speed and uses no repetition and only a little harmony to achieve the most beautiful effect. This type of music, which is almost the first to be used in the church, has been chosen to keep the service within reasonable bounds of time. In addition, the Reverend George Ashby will assist the rector in the distribution of the elements.

A large decorating committee has been working for some time on plans for the beautification of the church for the holiday season. While it is not permitted to say just what they have planned, it may be stated that there will be several unique features in the way of lighting and the use of evergreens in the body of the church as well as the chancel.

Indeed, so enthusiastic has the committee become over their progress so far with the interior, that they have decided to continue the trimming out-of-doors. They will have the whole place full and showing the spirit of the season.

All preparations have been made for a large crowd for it is realized that with the service as it is planned and the decorations which must be seen at night to appreciate their full beauty, there should be a record attendance at this midnight service.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH
"Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, December 23.

The Golden Text is: "Lo, he that formeth the mountains, and createth the wind, and declareth unto man what is his thought, that maketh the morning darkness, and treadeth upon the high places of the earth, The Lord, The God of hosts, is his name" (Amos 4:13).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "For as the new heavens and the new earth, which I will make, shall remain before me, so shall your seed and your name remain" (Isaiah 66:22).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Man is, and forever has been, God's reflection. God is infinite, therefore ever present, and there is no other power nor presence. Hence the spirituality of the universe is the only fact of creation" (p. 471).

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Evans and Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Wood were recent visitors at Chalfonte-Haddon Hall, Atlantic City.

Hope without hustle is forlorn hope.

CHRISTMAS AT CALVARY CHURCH

Special Musical Program Will Include "The Adoration" By Nevin

Calvary Presbyterian Church, Fourth Street and Lippincott Avenue, Riverton, is preparing for attractive Christmas worship. The church will be electrically decorated by George Mack of Palmyra, and the church windows will be illuminated during the Christmas season, in line with the community plan "decorate Riverton for Christmas." The Christmas worship will be held on Sunday, December 23rd, at eleven o'clock, when a choir of twenty-five voices, under the direction of Alfred Van Osten and Mrs. Frank Bell, organist, will sing Christmas anthems. Offertory: "Andante Maestoso"—Batiste.

Postlude: "March Meistersinger"—Wagner.
Anthem: "The Star of Peace"—Parker.

Anthem: "There Were Shepherds"—Marks.
Solo: "Night of Nights"—Van de Water.

There will be a Christmas sermon for the children and a Christmas meditation by the pastor. At 4.30 p.m. a choir of 25 voices will sing "The Adoration" by George B. Nevin. The hour of this service has been selected in order to give members of other churches the opportunity to hear this devotional Christmas music without interfering with other church services. A cordial welcome is extended to all in the community to share in this Christmas worship. The Church School will hold its Christmas service at 9.45.

The Church School entertainment will be held on Friday evening, December 21, at 7.30. All members of the congregation and their friends are cordially invited. The entertainment, which is a Christmas pageant, will begin promptly at the appointed time. On this occasion a "White Gift for the King" (non-perishable food wrapped in white paper) will be received for the children under the care of The New Jersey Children's Home Society of Trenton. This institution, which cares for orphaned children until suitable homes can be provided for them, is entirely dependent upon voluntary support. The Christmas offering at the school entertainment, and at the service on Sunday the 23rd, will be divided between The Golden Rule Foundation (for underprivileged children) and for need in this congregation and community.

On Saturday afternoon, December 22, from 3 until 4.30 o'clock, there will be a Christmas party for the Beginners, Primary and Cradle roll members of the Church School and for their mothers, when the children are asked to bring new or used toys and books for the children of the New Jersey Children's Home Society.

The members of this congregation are urged to gather around the Community Christmas tree on December 25th at five o'clock, when there will be singing of Christmas music.

There will be no midweek service on December 26th.

Prosecutor Gets

$1,500 Increase

tion by the Sheriff in an amount approximating $3000 was given.

Freeholder Cook offered a resolution calling the annual organization meeting of the Burlington County Board of Freeholders for January 2nd, 12 o'clock noon, in the Court House, which was passed.

On resolution of Freeholder Charles R. Stout permission was granted Public Service to erect 20 poles along the Vincentown-Pemberton road.

Freeholder Heisler asked for authority to issue tax revenue notes or bonds not exceeding the amount due from municipalities as of November 15th for a four year term. The authority was given.

Walter Denning resigned as bridge tender at the Centerton bridge. His resignation was accepted and filed for action of the director of bridges. Ralph Cann was recommended to fill the vacancy.

A letter from Alexander F. Bergli, state superintendent of weights and measures, was read by the clerk. The letter recommended a salary increase for Curwin B. Fisher, county superintendent of weights and measures. The letter stated the justification for an increase, citing Burlington County as the cleanest in the State, and considering the large area covered by Fisher it was thought to be in order to accord an increase to the official whose work reflected credit on the office. The letter was ordered received to be considered at the time of budget making.

Freeholder Adams asked that the amount of $50 he had been turning back to the county treasury each month from his salary be suspended and that he be personally allowed to use the money to purchase further materials needed to finish the construction of the new steward's home at the almshouse.

Since the request did not offer any advantage to the county and would only establish a precedent contrary to the usual procedure, the request was refused. The Board did, however, grant an additional allotment of $275 to complete the new construction at the almshouse.

Adams offered another resolution that all departments of the Board of Freeholders comply with the law relating to salaries and refunding increases. The resolution received no second.

Adams stated that he wanted none of his departments to exceed their budgets. President Heisler explained that it was unreasonable of anyone to expect every department to keep under its budget. To exceed a budget did not reflect any discredit to the department head necessarily. Conditions such as price increases for materials or the number of inmates in an institution as large as those in Burlington County could hardly be estimated a year in advance with absolute accuracy, and a slight difference either way should not cause the department head serious embarrassment.

The following department bills were authorized: Finance, $1,319.82; roads, $16,482.15; bridges, $4,444.60; buildings, $16,208.77; affairs, $23,889.12; total $62,344.46.

NO WORK, NO CASH ONLY FOR SHIRKERS

The State ERA "no work, no cash" rule will be applied only to the physically able workers who refuse to work out their relief debit on ERA projects, State ERA director Lewis Compton explained, in removing a misunderstanding in some sections of the State that the rule applied to all relief clients, including those who are not actually able to work.

"The rule is aimed only at malingerers and agitators who absolutely refuse to cooperate with the State's plan to help them help themselves," Mr. Compton said. "It is ridiculous to suppose that we would penalize a widow who could not work on a sewing project, for instance, if she had to stay at home to care for her children."

Cash relief is to be withheld from those refusing to work after December 15. The rule is effective in all parts of the State.

Short-cuts to the Dinner Table ...

BY VERA A. SCHNEIDER

"Twas the Night Before Christmas" and as the words of that immortal poem run through my mind, I'm thinking, too, of a day more than 300 years ago. The day was the 20th of December in the year 1620, when the pilgrims landed in Plymouth, Mass.

If you have never been to Plymouth you can hardly realize the hardships our forefathers endured. True, the country was arrayed in summer grandeur when I saw it, which lent to it much charm. But even now, it is decidedly rugged country—more than 300 years after that landing.

But here, I must not go into a lengthy dissertation about Plymouth and our Pilgrim fathers. First of all, space will not permit, and secondly, it was my intention, when I sat down to write this column, to wish for all my homemaker friends much joy and happiness and may the forthcoming day—Christmas—find you all at peace with the world and surrounded by those who are dear to you.

I'm going to leave the planning of the Christmas dinner to you, knowing full well that you will put into the plans for that dinner everything that will make it the festive occasion of the year.

I'm sure the linen selected to grace our table is snowy white, the silver is shining and the glasses glistening—I wouldn't be a bit surprised, either, to know that the turkey has already been ordered, and the cranberry jelly made and ready to be unmoulded onto one of the very best china dishes we possess.

So again—A Merry Christmas to all!

ROOF AFIRE

Shortly after noon Sunday the residence of H. E. Moyer, 506 Fulton Street caught fire and the alarm was sent in promptly by Mrs. Murray C. Boyer who happened to notice the flames in the roof. The fire company responded quickly and soon had the blaze under control. Little damage was done by fire and none whatever by water to the interior. A section of fire-hose burst and some onlookers got an unexpected bath.

Y. P. FELLOWSHIP ELECTS OFFICERS

Charles Earp, Jr., President of Young People's Organization of Christ Church

Last Thursday evening, December 13, the Young People's Fellowship of Christ Episcopal Church, Riverton, met in the parish house.

An election was held and the following officers will be installed at the next meeting, on January 3rd: president, Charles Earp, Jr.; vice president, Lenore Showell; secretary, Elizabeth Ridley; Deacons Showell was unanimously reelected treasurer.

After the business meeting, practice was held for "Yesterday's Roses" which will be given the last part of January by members of the Fellowship.

Three new members were taken into the Fellowship. They are: Margaret Miller and Maynard Bowen, of Riverton, and Betty Ruos, of Palmyra.

The next meeting, on January 3, will be a turkey dinner. Those of the Fellowship planning to attend should notify Elizabeth Ridley not later than December 27th.

PORCH CLUB NOTES

The Riverton Porch Club held open house on Tuesday, in the form of a Christmas tea, which was much enjoyed by about 150 guests.

The decorations were unusually beautiful—quantities of holly and spruce branches, an enormous Christmas tree blazing with lights, and tall red candles burning everywhere.

Receiving with the president of the club, Mrs. Murray C. Boyer, were the vice-presidents, Mrs. Charles F. Allen, Mrs. Joseph Morgan, and Mrs. John D. Clark; and Mrs. William C. Davis, vice-president of the First District of the State Federation of Women's Clubs.

Mrs. Joseph L. Thomas, Mrs. Joseph B. Tyler, and Mrs. H. McIlvaine Biddle presided at the tea table, and members of the Junior Porch Club served.

NEWS! NEWS! everywhere, and not enough room to print it! With the new year arriving soon we want to make some resolutions, but the main one is that from now on the majority of the space in this column will be devoted to news of radio artists in Philadelphia. With Philly quickly becoming the "First City of Radio" it deserves to be talked about, and so we're going to try to pioneer this movement. Right in the Quaker City we have some of the best dance bands and entertainers in the country.

DON BESTOR

A big flash comes from the Arcadia upon the presentation for the next three weeks of DON BESTOR, quiet gentleman of the music world and disheveled-out of a new and different brand of rhythms.

A good story comes from the studios of WCAU. ALAN SCOTT, snappy news commentator of that station, (who is heard every night at 11 o'clock) is starting a "Do the Town" campaign. His object is to revive Wednesday night as a beau nite and get people to go out to a theatre, night club, restaurant or what-have-you for a pleasant evening instead of hugging the fireside. Scott is trying to break down Philly's rep of "The Sleepy City" and so far is having marked success with his venture. Well, Alan we're with you 100 per cent and wish you lots of luck.

RHYTHM AND MELODY: Hear ye, Hear ye, folksies. Our Philadelphia radio stations give us the best in dance music. Here's a review of orks heard from Philly spots and the stations which pump them to you.

If that isn't as good a selection as can be found anywhere, I don't know my bands.

The biggest publicity stunt in the history of local radio was the crack way the Mrs. F. D. Roosevelt aircraft was handled on December 12 over WIP. Pictures of the WIP mike have gone the width and length of the nation, as almost every newspaper in the country handled the story. Philly and New York dailies published two and three pics apiece and the Fox, Hurst, Metrotone and RKO newsreels ground out hundreds of feet of film which you'll be seeing in the local theatres in the next few weeks. All of this leads us up to the fact that the person responsible for this publicity stunt was our old friend MURRAY ARNOLD, publicity dir. of WIP. As you know Murray has only been on the job a week, but this goes to prove he's really capable of holding down this important job. Keep it up, Arnold!

Well, folks, I suppose that's all for this week but before I go I want to wish you all a very Merry Christmas and we'll be back next week with another column of Philly news and stories. So long!

SHORT-WAVE MUSINGS

BY O. M. "C. W."

The Story of the Transatlantics
(From QST, February 1922)
(Courtesy of American Radio Relay League)

Arrangements had already been made with the British authorities thru the kind cooperation of our own State Department and Department of Commerce for special authorization to Mr. Godley to bring in apparatus and erect and operate a receiving station, and to one familiar with the British laws on radio it will be apparent that this was itself an accomplishment. Mr. Godley landed at Southampton on the 21st and proceeded to London, where he was shown every courtesy by the British radio men. He had originally planned to make use of the receiving station of Commander Phillips, near London, which was kindly placed at his disposal, but results there being discouraging he moved up into Scotland and located at Ardrossan, a thriving ship-building port and watering place on the coast to the west of Glasgow. There he erected his apparatus, accompanied by his official listener, Mr. D. E. Pearson, District Inspector of the Marconi company at Glasgow, who stood a constant watch with him during the tests and verified the reception of every signal.

Time was growing very short when Godley arrived at Ardrossan and there was no opportunity to build a shack or make any particular arrangements for comfort. Unfortunately the only good location was in an open field without buildings, and a tent was the only possible housing. This record-breaking reception, then, was done in just a tent, exposed to the elements, its only light a lantern and its only heat an oil stove while the countryside rocked in the worst weather imaginable—cold and penetratingly raw, terrific down-pours of rain, and wild gales—the result of a cyclone which passed nearby. The physical strain and suffering must have been intense. What a debt we owe to Godley for what he went thru for us!

Meanwhile, it had been planned to file a message daily at Carnarvon, Radio MUU, addressed to the A. R. R. L. at Hartford and containing a brief report of reception or conditions. So great was the interest of the commercial companies in our undertaking that the Marconi officials very kindly arranged to send this report at a specified time daily, 7 a.m. British time or 2 a.m. Eastern Standard Time, and do it slowly by hand, so that the amateur world could copy it direct and so get first-hand word from Godley at the earliest possible moment. November QST told of this and gave suggestions on the reception of MUU. Carnarvon's signals are not very easy to receive, however, and so it was arranged that Godley should send "P" messages, which means that they were to be repeated back for verification, and on this side of the water the same brand of very interested cooperation which marked the attitude of the Marconi officials in England was evident in the Radio Corporation folks and special arrangements were made that WII, the Corporation station at New Brunswick, should slowly repeat Godley's messages upon their receipt immediately after 2 a.m. Eastern Time. This made it possible for every amateur to get the dope instantly, and also announcement of the arrangements was not published it was telegraphed our Division Managers and broadcast thru the divisions by radio, so that thruout the country there were watch parties every night of the tests.

The Results

The tests are now a matter of history. In this issue we publish Mr. Godley's complete report, a wonderful document, which tells the interesting story from his end, and we do not intend to scoop it in this poor chronicle. His daily radio reports which were delayed 24 hours thruout the tests, really told the story. These reports, by the way, were filed over his name by Mr. Coursey, Mr. Godley wiring coded reports of his reception to Mr. Coursey for checking, after which the latter passed them on to us.

SEEKS TO CHECK DRUNKEN DRIVING

Eastwood Asks Cooperation of Other Prosecutors in Solving Problem

Prosecutor Howard Eastwood, of Burlington County, has stated that he will further a movement among prosecutors of the State to revamp the automobile accident statutes. "Increased drunken driving makes it more imperative than ever that New Jersey enact a law directly applicable to motor facilities."

"Criminally negligent motorists frequently escape penalty because of the inadequacy of our statute governing death by automobile," Prosecutor Eastwood said.

"New Jersey is woefully in need of a specific law dealing directly with the death driver. Such statute would mean more convictions. It would serve as a restraining influence on motorists."

Juries Reluctant

"Juries frequently are convinced of the guilt of a driver in a manslaughter case, but unless the driver is proved intoxicated, they are reluctant to convict because of the severe penalty under the existing law."

"Juries can conceive that a motorist may be reckless, but they cannot picture him as a deliberate killer. Because of this, they often refuse to convict because they regard the sentence provided by law as too drastic."

Prosecutor Samuel P. Orlando, of Camden County, and prosecutors in other counties of the state, are expected to join with Eastwood in a new attempt to have a law enacted covering motor deaths.

Eastwood said a revamped statute applying to fatalities was passed by the Senate last year, but went astray in the House, where it remained in committee.

Governor-elect Harold G. Hoffman, the present state motor vehicle commissioner, has approved the proposed new legislation and is pledged to support it," Eastwood said.

"Prosecutors throughout the state, meeting in conference, urged quick legislative action."

"We note an increase in drunken driving since repeal. A motorist under the influence of liquor is a potential murderer. If he can't be proved drunk, then the law should be so worded that conviction would not be difficult to cover his guilt otherwise. By no means should he escape penalty."

Justice in County

"In Burlington County we are doing all within our power to bring drunken drivers to justice. We find schemers, however, trying to cheat the law, schemers who plot to have a drunken driver charged with recklessness. In such cases, our policy is that the drunken driver be charged with intoxication, and we recommend revocation of his license."

"Leniency can apply in justice and fairness in some cases, but I cannot conceive of its wisdom in the case of the drunken driver. He should be dealt with severely and be made to pay the penalty of his utter disregard of the life and property of others."

Upton Sinclair has been so quiet since the election that we are afraid he's up to something.

THE "NEW DEAL"

BY JULIAN MASON

Vice President National Republican Builders

Presto! . . . The Great Magician at Washington again has changed the scene.

With a sweep of the hand the troublous novelties of New Dealism are swept from the stage and the attention of the audience is directed to familiar old American problems: War on Crime, and Taking the Profit out of War.

For many years we have had these old friends in our public arena.

Mr. Taft started out after crime. Being a forthright old fellow (and an insider as both a lawyer and a judge) he put the blame where it belonged. He declared bluntly that our system of criminal justice was "a disgrace."

Which it is. Franklin Roosevelt, in his address to Attorney General Cummings' Crime Conference at Washington, seemed to me to leave out of account this fundamental reason for the strength and prevalence of American crime.

The "law's delays," the national habit of looking upon court trials as purely sporting events, the intricacies of our rules of practice, the lack of power in our judges—these things President Taft saw as the core of our difficulty.

Our present buoyant President is not as realistic. He calls upon everybody to join together and stamp out crime.

Suppose that we all did join together. Could the joining together of all federal, state, county, township and city police "do anything," while our courts continue to choke the avenues of punishment?

... Change!

However, politically, dramatically, strategically, the President, as usual, scored his desired effect upon popular attention.

The Crime Problem at once drove out from the people's minds NRA, AAA, sound money, balanced budget, regimentation, constitutionalism and all those frayed or outworn topics.

The impact of change was deepened by the sudden emergence of the "End-War-Profit" motif.

While the Nye Committee of the Senate was investigating the munitions situation (which really should be investigated) the President suddenly called a White House conference to frame legislation "to take the profit out of war."

Bernard M. Baruch, Chairman of the War Industries Board under President Wilson, was present—decidedly present. Because Mr. Baruch, who has one of the most lucid and charming minds that I know, has thought about, and preached about, and "endowed" about this problem of "war profit" for years past.

And now to Mr. Baruch, with the help of General "NRA" Johnson is entrusted the business of drawing up an "End-War-Profit" bill for Congress.

Senator Nye, and our Republican, middle-of-the-road, balancing-water-on-both-shoulders, Senator Vandenberg object. They think the President's conference was designed merely to take the wind out of the sails of their investigation. I don't think so. I think it was meant to be another red-herring drawn across the (at present) vanishing trail of the Brain Trust.

Soft Pedaling

Anyway, it is so. No one could have acted, it seems to me, with greater tactical ability than has President Roosevelt on the eve of the gathering of a so-called "wildman" Congress.

He has, as I say, changed the scene. He is making the national consciousness devote itself to Crime and War Profits instead of to all the economical-sociological problems that have been worrying and interrupting the natural progress of America toward a new embodiment of the best national life that has been lived anywhere, by any nation at any time in the history of the world.

There could hardly be a better conservatizing force.

Ever since the error of Mr. Roosevelt's post-Hawaii speeches in the West, he has been putting the soft pedal upon radicalism; he has been climbing back from the radical Left toward the conservative Right. In that way, he has interrupted his immense popular victory in the Congressional elections.

Whether he means it I don't know. He is too able a scene-shifter for any one to be sure about.

Undoubtedly he needs Recovery more than anything. If business is good he goes into the Presidency again in 1936. He probably goes in, anyway. But if business is good, he goes in with bells on.

"Yard Sticks"

Meanwhile, the sensible minority which fears and distrusts Mr. Roosevelt, has begun to pick up the pieces and frame what he calls a "yardstick." By this he means the expenditure of millions of government money to set up water-power plants to demonstrate that private rates on operation of public utilities are too high.

But Republicans are setting up a new "yard-stick" by which to demonstrate that the cost of Franklin Roosevelt is too high.

Their yard-stick is the well-known "balancing of the budget."

They say that they do not pretend to interpret the auguries of this-or-that day-by-day movement from the White House. They are, patiently, going back to first principles!

And the basic principle, the best "yard-stick" at which they have arrived is our old stand-by, the balanced budget.

Col. Leonard Ayres, that singularly dramatic economist of Cleveland, Ohio, has said this week that the three standards are still a balanced budget, a monetary stabilization and the financing of the durable goods industries.

Lewis W. Douglas, former director general of the budget, told the Economic Club in New York this week that the only hope and the only measure of our progress was the advance to, or the receding from, the balanced budget.

I think this is true. I recommend it to any sober-minded person, who may really wish to know the direction in which Mr. Franklin Roosevelt is going.

TROOP COMMITTEE TRAINING COURSE

First Session for Men Interested in Scouting to Be Held in Moorestown

Scouting in Burlington County is taking another great forward step in the plans announced by Scout Executive M. A. Shaw for a troop committee training course, the first session of which will shortly be convened at Moorestown.

It has long been recognized that the reason that some troops thrived and some did not, or that some maintained interest of large numbers of boys over much longer periods than others, did not rest wholly on the shoulders of the scoutmaster. More often it was because the troop committee did not know what it was all about.

The troop committee, composed of the men interested in the affairs of the sponsoring organization of the troop, frequently is insufficiently acquainted with scouting objectives and details of an adequate scout program. These men have recognized this and the present training course has been planned to meet their expressed needs in this connection.

The ten year scout program inaugurated by President Hoover during his term of office, which has as its objective the enrollment for four years of one out of every four twelve-year-old boys, unified the objectives of troops so that the necessity of a common efficiency in planning and execution became apparent.

The troop committee training course will provide the answer to such questions as the following in the light of the best experience available.

1. What responsibilities does a sponsoring organization assume when organizing its scout troop?
2. Recognizing the value of having its sponsoring organization well informed as to the troop, its activities, its strength and its problems, how does a troop committee keep in close touch with the institution?
3. What is the relationship between the chairman of the committee and—(a) The sponsoring institution; (b) The troop committee; (c) The troop leaders—particularly the scoutmaster; (d) The boys of the troop.

4. Whose duty is it to see that troop meeting programs are planned in advance? (b) What is the troop committee's responsibility in seeing to it that their programs are made, and how can it make sure the planned program is sufficiently carried out?

An interesting feature of the first session will be two short presentations of the way in which troop committees function. One will be made by Alfred Deyo of Troop 4, Moorestown, the oldest troop in point of active service, in the county. The second will be made by John Hughes of Troop 32 Burlington, sponsored by the Burlington Knights of Columbus, one of the newest troops in the county.

When the course is completed attending troop committeemen will have a clear understanding of the entire organization structure of the scout movement, how the troop leaders should be selected, what supervision should be exercised, how interest of the boys is maintained and all other details of the troop's problems. It is distinctly a forward step in scouting.

WARM CLOTHING FOR ERA CLIENTS

Emergency clothing requirements of ERA clients, brought on by the sudden cold weather and the possibility of snow, are being met by bulk shipments of clothing from the ERA central warehouse in Irvington to county offices throughout the State so that conditions in every municipality may be dealt with without delay.

Dr. Norman B. Tooker, director of the ERA department of operation, said that sufficient warm clothing would be available to meet the emergency need, but that it would be impossible to furnish clients with anything but absolute necessities. During the emergency period only one item of each article of wearing apparel will be available for each client in need of clothes.

RIVERTON SCHOOL NOTES

Carol Choir Formed

Since carols form a definite part of this year's Christmas play, a choir was needed. The following children volunteered: M. Cook, M. Gorman, A. Wolfshmidt, E. Kauffman, H. Vile, E. Rotenbury, M. J. DeCoursey, C. Seemuller, H. Webb, D. Mullen, A. Gowell, B. Jay, M. W. Rogers, L. Bintliff, M. Craig, S. Reynolds, B. Schaff, E. Turnock, E. Perkins, and Dorothy Floyd. They will sing a carol for each of the following countries: Switzerland, "Whence Comes This Rush of Wings;" Holland, "Came All Ye Shepherds;" Russia, "Kolyado" (Father Christmas); Sweden, "Oh Fir Tree Dark, Oh Fir Tree Dear;" England, "Good King Wenceslas;" American, "We Three Kings of Orient Are." With the help of Miss Staman and Miss Emery, the choir learned the songs.

Friday's session will be the last before Christmas and school will reopen on January 2nd.

YWCA NOTES

Christmas Activities

The spirit of Christmas is permeating the program of the Girl Reserves and other YWCA clubs in the county this month. In addition to charity work, many of the clubs are participating in Christmas entertainments and plan to sing carols at various places in their respective communities on Christmas Eve.

Among the clubs reporting their Christmas plans are the Florence Girl Reserves, who will present a program of entertainment at the Children's Home in Mt. Holly; the Palmyra Tri-Hi Club, which has been engaged in repairing toys to be given to poor children; the Burlington Li Ho Club, which plans to sing carols at the Aged Women's Home in that town and which is also filling a Christmas basket for a needy family; the Willingboro YWCA, which has sent gifts to Indian children at the Cheyenne Agency in South Dakota, and the Burlington Sunny Smiles Club, which is making scrap books for missions.

Candle Ceremonial

Every Girl Reserve in Burlington County will participate in a special ceremony this Christmas by placing a lighted candle in the window of her home on the stroke of six o'clock on Christmas Eve.

As she lights her candle, each girl is to make her Christmas wish—the thing that she wishes deep in her heart, a wish that is inspired by the Christmas spirit of peace and goodwill which came to earth in the angel's song the first Christmas—a growing spirit of peace and love. No Girl Reserve will want to miss the chance of making her Christmas wish at this time with all those who are keeping Christmas.

TIPS ON GROWING
BY ONE WHO GREW UP IN
THE BUSINESS

Why not treat yourself this Christmas to some books devoted to your gardening hobby and enjoy your fad, it only vicariously, by the crackling winter fire this winter? Of all the writers on horticultural subjects my money is on Prof. Hottes, now associate editor of Better Homes and Gardens, as the author of the most interesting and instructive of modern horticultural books. He answers the unasked questions that are troubling you. His little book series are especially helpful, comprising "The Book of Annuals," "The Book of Perennials," "The Book of Shrubs" and "The Book of Trees."

The professor has also revised Oliver's standard handbook "Plant Culture" of most use possibly to the commercial man but the amateur plantman also finds this valuable. Then there is Rockwell's "Book of Bulbs" and another of his on "Rock Gardens." Watt's covers the lowly "Vegetable Gardening"—Mrs. Wilson the window garden in "The Garden in the House," an invaluable and low-priced little book.

But really if you have space on your bookshelves, Prof. Bailey's immense 3-volume edition of the Cyclopaedia of Horticulture will be a never-failing well of information on plant life.

The first Christmas tree is said to have been set up by Saint Winifred, an early missionary to Scandinavia in place of the sacred oaks of the Druids.

A group of New York tenement children were taken on a tour of "uptown." Calling on a Rockefeller Center Flower shop the little lassies were given "sweetheart bouquets" and the boys "back carnations." One urchin it is said was disappointed because his carnation "wouldn't squirt water."

The decorations for the wedding reception given Ginger Rogers and her new husband Lew Ayres, held at the Ambassador Hotel, San Francisco, were leis of Soleil d'Or Narcissi, Marguerites and Lily of the Valley.

Princess Marina, on her wedding day, carried as a bridal bouquet, a sheaf of Easter Lilies (Lilium longiflorum). During the ceremony she handed it to the Duke, who bewilderedly held it for a moment then passed it to the Prince of Wales who held it for a few minutes and then sheepishly laid it on the floor!

Representatives of the leading seed and plant houses of the Eastern United States at a dinner in one of the larger New York hotels, made a unanimous selection of the very best seed and plant novelties for 1935 from a list of over two hundred new varieties. Names and descriptions of this seeded list will appear in an early edition of "House Beautiful and Home and Field," and the plantsman who is ever in search for something new for his garden, or for growing for flower show exhibition, will do well to be on the lookout for this interesting article.

CARD OF THANKS

We desire to express our sincere appreciation of the many kindnesses shown us during our recent bereavement in the loss of our brother Andrew, who was killed by an automobile on December 6. We especially wish to thank all those who sent floral pieces and those who sent their cars.

Council Asked to Retain Robinson

duties rendered the borough and its citizens by Officer John Robinson. As a citizen, I join with the majority of our citizens in asking that he be retained on our police force.

Certain obstacles may have to be overcome by your body in following out the clear cut mandate of our citizens, but as signers to this petition we look to you to find a proper method.

Gentlemen, I respectfully present their petition to you.

Wants Charge Withdrawn

Albert S. King next addressed council and urged them to try to influence Frank Holvick to withdraw his charges against John Robinson. He stated that Robinson has seven persons dependent upon him for support and that it would be an act of humanity to spare him from serving a sentence behind the bars. He further stated that with an overwhelming majority of voters on the petition, council should consider it, and hoped that it would find favor with that body.

Drunkenness Charged

Rev. Charles T. Bates, Presbyterian minister, stated that he believed that he was speaking for a majority of the voters. He said that he was taking an active interest in order to preserve the integrity of the community. Conditions around election have not been of the best in the past, with considerable drunkenness in the polling places. It was his hope, he stated, that council would take action that would show its disapproval of that condition. He said he hoped council would uphold John Robinson for its effect upon other policemen, and that situations such as these break down the morale of policemen and deter them in the efficient pursuit of their duties. He further stated that he was asking this not in the name of politics but in the name of a clean community.

Kindly Assistance

Mrs. F. M. Turnbull spoke in behalf of John Robinson and stated that being unable to see well, Robinson had always shown courtesy and kindness to her, assisting her home in the police car and helping her at crossings. She stated that she believed him to be a good, honest young man.

Mrs. Charles F. Allen stated that many children have asked what has become of Officer Robinson and that they seemed to miss him. Notwithstanding the many adult signers to Officer Robinson's petition, Mrs. Allen stated that she believed the voice of the children should be heard.

Keep Politics Out

Mrs. Murray C. Boyer addressed council and stated that in her opinion politics and police should be divorced.

Paul Barnhart, who presented the petition to council said that in addition to the 740 persons who volunteered to sign Robinson's petition, many who for one reason or another felt it expedient not to sign, nevertheless favored Robinson's reinstatement. He again added that if council wants to recognize the voice of the people, it will reinstate Robinson.

Robinson Troublesome

Mayor Biddle told those assembled that council wanted to do the right thing, and that they hoped to iron out the problem satisfactorily. He added that the situation was an ugly one from the beginning, but he would not at this time commit council to any specific action. He stated that Officer Robinson had given council a good deal of trouble in the past, and that his record on the force would have to be considered in making a decision.

What Do You Mean—"Politics"?

Councilman Howard D. Sordon, chairman of the police committee, addressed Mr. Barnhart and asked him what the petitioners meant by the use of the word "politics" in the petition.

Mr. Barnhart explained that politics was not the motive of the petitioners, and that it was difficult to prove the connection, but he wanted to assure council that it was not intended to imply that council would be influenced by politics in reaching its decision.

Councilman Sordon was very emphatic in assuring those assembled that politics and this case were entirely divorced.

Mayor Biddle stated that the petition would be considered and asked if there was anyone else who cared to address council. There being none, the routine business was resumed and the petitioners for Robinson withdrew from the meeting.

More Fire Equipment

John Carhart, Chief of the Riverton Volunteer Fire Company, appeared before Council and asked that body to add a piece of apparatus to the present fire equipment.

The new equipment the fire company feels is necessary is a truck, such as a Chevrolet or Ford, equipped with a special body to carry ladders, coats, chemical tank, etc.

The objection to the present system is that the pumpers now carrying the ladders etc., drive to the nearest plug, which may be a square away from the fire itself. If in an emergency a ladder was needed to save a person trapped in a burning building, it would be necessary for several men to run to the nearest truck, and the time consumed in doing it might cost a life. Chief Carhart gave $2,692 as the estimated cost of the desired truck.

Mayor Biddle stated that council realized it would be a desirable piece of equipment but that every effort was being made to lower taxes.

Financial Situation

Councilman Merrill agreed that it would be a nice thing to have such a truck, but told Carhart that council was at that meeting borrowing $19,000 on a tax revenue note to carry the governmental costs until February, and even this amount would not be enough. He stated that $3,000, even on a matter which he considered these break down the morale of policemen and deter them in the efficient pursuit of their duties. He further stated that he was asking this not in the name of politics but in the name of a clean community.

Councilman Stroblein stated that the fire company first talked of a piece of equipment costing six to ten thousand dollars, which he considered to be too much. Being a fireman himself, Stroblein stated that he could appreciate the need for such a piece of apparatus. He said that if a way could be found to secure it, he believed it to be a necessary piece of equipment.

Suggested Lower Rent

Walter Wright, president of the Fire Company, stated that the fire company is working on a new budget, and believed that they might be willing to give the borough a reduction in the rent in order to help pay for the truck.

Mayor Biddle suggested that the fire company investigate further into the possibility of securing the truck at a lower price, and that they would consider it at budget making time.

Borough Borrows $19,000

A tax revenue note issued to the Cinnaminson Bank and Trust Company in the amount of $19,000 at 5 1/2 per cent interest for four years was authorized. Out of this will be paid a $4000 tax anticipation note, leaving $15,000 for payment of current bills. Councilman Sargent stated that he expected to receive $700 from the county for road improvement and suggested that the money be spent for amosite, continuing down Howard street from Fourth to Third streets.

Will Fix Fulton Street

Councilman-elect Robert W. Knight stated that in his opinion Howard street did not need it, and he would like to see the road repaired on Seventh street, from Main to Cedar, leading into Memorial Park. The present condition of this road, he said, was a disgrace to the borough.

Mayor Biddle stated that he had received a number of complaints of the condition of Fulton street, and suggested that the amosite be laid on Fulton street toward the river, which received the final approval of council.

Mayor Biddle reported that the Public Service Electric Company had been executed.

Police Report

The following police report was given by Councilman Sordon:

Five arrests, five accidents, six complaints answered and investigated, eleven calls from other police departments, three complaints of dogs, two fire calls by police, four complaints of garbage man, three homes reported closed, three lost and found reports, three night lodgers, one Peeping Tom, eleven reports answered and investigated, two runaway boys, one stolen car and one recovered, $515 worth of goods reported stolen and $500 returned, fines turned into borough treasurer, $3.00

Councilman Stroblein reported that the grandstand at Memorial Park had been painted to preserve the ironwork.

Committee on Welfare

Councilman Merrill read a letter in which it was requested that council appoint someone to consult with the county welfare office concerning the monthly estimates for local relief.

Ross E. Mattis was appointed and gave his consent at the meeting to serve.

Councilman Merrill suggested that council as a whole be a committee from Riverton to sit on the advisory board in county relief work at the invitation of the county office.

Speaking of the petition submitted earlier in the evening, the Mayor stated that he had recently conferred with both sides and asked council if it would be willing to leave the matter in the hands of the police committee for the time being, and if it becomes necessary to take action, he would call a meeting of council. This council agreed to do.

Mayor Biddle then announced that the meeting would go into executive session.

EPWORTH TO GIVE CHRISTMAS PLAY

"A Child of Prophecy" to Be Presented Sunday Evening December 23

On Sunday evening at 7.45 the annual Christmas Pageant will be presented at the Epworth Methodist Episcopal Church, Palmyra. "The Child of Prophecy," by Edward R. and E. Ruth Bartlett, portrays the exiles in Babylon being comforted by prophecies of a Redeemer, whose coming at Bethlehem and whose sovereignty over all nations are beautifully rendered.

The first scene shows the exiles, being taunted by the Babylonians for their captivity, trying to "sing the Lord's song in a strange land." Cecil Guest will be the singer of Israel while the chorus sings the lamentation "Out of the Depths."

The second scene is laid in Bethlehem and a Bethlehem family, still discussing the prophecies concerning the coming of the Messiah, are given the opportunity to have Him born in their home. The third scene is the Manger at Bethlehem, the fulfillment of prophecy. The nativity is portrayed with Mary and Joseph, the worshipping shepherds, the Magi with their gifts. Finally the nations of the earth come and worship at the manger.

Special costuming and lighting effects will be used on this pageant which will be one of the best ever presented. The cast of characters is as follows: The Exiles in Babylon: Peletiah, a beggar, Robert Guest; Melchiah, his friend, Leon Sloan; Shaphat, a singer, Cecil Guest; The young son of Shaphat, Dick Huyett; A prophet, Lloyd Griscorn; other exiles, Philip VanOrsen, Carle Bates, Margaret Rae.

Babylonians: Elizabeth Stein, Douglas Kersey, Lawrence Schweizer, Albert Mount; The Bethlehem family are: Father, Edward Fisher; Mother, Jeanne Fisher; daughter, June Hires and son, Donald Pimm. In the nativity scene Joseph is portrayed by Louis Koppenhoffer, and Mary by Margaret Mount. Shepherds, Wise Men, the nations and others will appear. The Spirit of Faith, who presents the prologues and portrays the nativity scene is played by Patience Northrop.

The pageant will be repeated on Sunday evening, December 30th.

XMAS DECORATIONS EXCEL LAST YEAR

Riverton Residents Enter Contest With Enthusiasm.
Many Beautiful Effects

A trip through any of the surrounding towns will, in the opinion of many observers, convince the most skeptical of the beauty and the success of the second annual Christmas decoration contest being held in Riverton during the period December 24 to January 1.

While the streets of several communities present an appearance but little different from any other period of the year, the thoroughfares of Riverton reflect the spirit of the holiday season in the many beautifully decorated homes and business houses.

Even an elaborate description of the ornamental schemes employed would fail to do justice to the many properties ablaze with lights and other seasonal finery, and actual observation is the only means by which the effect can be at all appreciated. The committee in charge of the affair is more than pleased with the excellent cooperation, and the members feel that the efforts of last year have been far surpassed in the present contest.

Evening traffic on the streets has been unusually heavy. It is evident from the license plates of numerous cars that the holiday aspect of Riverton has attracted many visitors from near and far.

The judges for the entire competition will be James H. McQuestion, vice president of New Jersey Council of Electric Leagues; Howard K. Suckling, secretary of the Electrical League of South Jersey, and J. L. Fuller, Lighting Engineer for Public Service Electric and Gas Company.

The prizes have been extensively augmented during the past week by additional donations. These will be awarded at the meeting of the Riverton Council to be held at the Firehouse, January 1, at 12 noon.

Up to Total of $16,000 on Each Operation

Operative builders or home developers, who have been important factors in the past in New Jersey real estate and home development, are definitely in the new construction program of the Federal Housing Administration program, according to announcement of Arthur Walsh, Regional FHA Director.

Under the provisions of Title II of the National Housing Act, such developers are entitled to borrow up to eighty per cent of the appraised value of each house and property, provided that amount does not exceed $16,000.

"In fact, these builders come in under the same general terms which apply to the individual owner," said Director Walsh. "The loan, however, must be on each separate piece of property."

"It is an assured fact that under any development with mortgages insured by the Federal Housing Administration, construction will be of a substantial nature," asserted Mr. Walsh.

"All plans and specifications will be checked by FHA before approval for insurance, and the work of construction will be followed closely while building is under way to assure that specifications are followed out to the letter. Consequently, the prospective purchaser can rely upon a true presentation of values in the home he may buy with this new mutual insurance plan."

Where shoddy work or materials found used, the developer may lose his right to mortgage insurance, and his chances of selling a house which has failed to win eligibility for Federal Insurance are seriously endangered.

BANKS GET LARGE SHARE OF FARM LOAN PROCEEDS

Of $5,771,300 disbursed in 18 months in New Jersey on farm mortgage loans through cooperative farm credit associations, nearly one-fifth went to commercial banks to refinance debts owed to them by farmers, according to an analysis by the Farm Credit Administration on Federal Land Bank loans made between May 1, 1933 and November 1, 1934.

Over ninety per cent of the entire amount loaned or more than $5,000,000 was used for refinancing debts. Nearly two-thirds of this amount went to individuals including private mortgage holders. Tax authorities received $398,219.70 on assessments due at the time the loans were made. Funds which went into improvements for farm buildings or purchases of land represented 6.3 per cent of the total.

SCHOOL PROJECT WINS FOUR TO ONE

Five Hundred Voters Stand in Line An Hour to Cast Their Ballots

The proposed additions and alterations to the Riverton public school building in an amount not to exceed $85,000 under a PWA loan agreement, passed by a vote of almost four to one in a congested election Friday night.

Hundreds of citizens packed the small auditorium and remained in line for an hour in order to cast their votes.

The judge of election announced after the counting that out of the 498 ballots cast, 385 voted yes, 105 voted no and 7 ballots were rejected due to improper marking.

The meeting was organized and began at approximately seven o'clock. William Steele was elected judge; Dewees F. Showell was elected secretary; and Samuel MacMullin and Edson Carhart were tellers.

The Board of Education had planned for three desks at which to receive voters from the three voting districts. The Board's attorney, Judge Frank A. Mathews, however, stated that since there had not been 500 or more votes registered at the previous election it would be impossible to have more than one voting place.

The election board handled the long line of voters in an efficient manner, voting close to 200 an hour, and took but little over an hour to count the ballots after the polls had closed.

NEW DELINQUENT TAX COLLECTOR

Harry C. Schell has been appointed by resolution of the Riverton Borough Council as collector of personal delinquent taxes for the coming year.

Mr. Schell comes well recommended as fully qualified for the work he will be required to do. He is a magistrate in Pennsauken Township, and has been delinquent tax collector in Merchantville for several years.

The first officer called a deck-hand and said, "Go below and break up that crap-game." The sailor was gone the better part of an hour. Upon his return the officer demanded: "Did you break up that game?"

"Yes, sir," replied the gob.

"What took you so long?"

"Well, sir," the sailor replied, "I had only two bits to start with!" —Army and Navy Journal.

'WORLD TOUR' IN BETTER HOUSING'

Illustrated Lecture for Rotary Club Thursday Evening, January 3

"What can we Rotarians do as a body in the matter of better housing for our neighbors of low income, whose financial status compels them to live in mere hovels—sometimes just a rat hole with a piano in it—the houses that are but the failures in our realty market?" is typical of the questions often put to Dr. Howard Johnson, the Social Service Representative of the State Housing Authority, who now has been invited by the Rotarians of Palmyra-Riverton to give his thought-provoking illustrated address, "A World Tour in Better Housing" at their meeting at the Porch Club, in Riverton, next Thursday, January the third at 6:15 p.m.

Dr. Henry advises us, if we would avoid illness, to "keep the hands clean, especially at meal times." Doggone it, how are we going to eat squabs?

COUNCIL WILL DEFER ACTION

To Await Findings of Grand Jury Before Considering Robinson's Case

On Saturday, Mayor H. McIlwain Biddle gave out the following statement for publication:

Following presentation before Borough Council of the Citizens' petition in the matter of the suspension of Officer Robinson, I requested a committee, representing the petitioners, be appointed to meet informally with the members of Council.

The requested meeting was held Thursday evening, December 20th, with Mr. Wayne E. Ayres, Mr. J. Wilson Sylvester, Rev. Charles T. Bates, Mr. Harry E. Davis and Mr. Paul Barnhart, and I feel that all citizens of Riverton should be informed of the consensus, which I am pleased to report was unanimous.

It was felt that owing to the gravity of the charges now pending before the Grand Jury with Officer Robinson as defendant, any action by Borough Council prior to disposition of the case at law, would be prejudicial. As much as everyone, including the members of Council, wants as swift action as possible, it does not seem fair to attempt to reach a conclusion as to Officer Robinson's position with the Borough while a very serious charge is undecided affecting him.

H. McIlwain Biddle, Mayor.

APPRECIATION

To the Voters of Riverton, I wish to express appreciation of the patience of the 498 voters at the special election on the PWA school improvement project on December 21st.

It was regrettable that the law made it necessary for the election to be handled by only four officials, thereby causing a long wait in line for those voting. However, this was unavoidable in order that the election be lawful. Thanking the voters for their fine spirit,

Sincerely,
Marion R. Elwell,
President Riverton Board of Education.

We anxiously await the report of the man and his wife who went ten miles into the stratosphere as to whether or not they saw the top of the national debt.—Greenleaf Sentinel.

BOARD PLANS TO PUSH BUILDING

Riverton Board of Education Instructs Architects to Proceed With Plans

An adjourned meeting of the Riverton Board of Education was held Wednesday night of this week to take further steps toward the construction of the $85,000 improvement to the school building.

Frank A. Mathews, Jr., solicitor for the school board, reported that the results of the recent election and the ballots had been sent to the county superintendent as required by law.

A resolution was adopted that the school board proceed with the construction and alteration, and the purchase of equipment as provided for in plans to be submitted by Byron H. Edwards, Inc., and to issue bonds in a sum not exceeding $83,000. The bonds will be dated January 1, 1935, and bear interest at the rate of 4%. As required by law, these bonds will be offered to the State Teachers' Pension and Annuity Fund and the State Board of Trustees of School Funds.

A resolution was adopted to execute a contract and agreement with Byron H. Edwards, Inc., of Camden, as architects, the fee to be 6% of the cost of the operations.

When the proposed improvement to the school was first contemplated, Stanley P. Stewart and Mr. Edwards were working together. Since that time Mr. Stewart has moved from Riverton and accepted a position in the south. Owing to this fact, subsequent work was carried on largely by Mr. Edwards. In order to clarify the situation as to future services by the architects, the clerk was instructed to write to Mr. Stewart and ask him for a bill for all the services which he was engaged to render.

Note Authorized

In order to have funds available to pay bills coming due before sale of the bonds, a resolution was adopted to issue a promissory note in the sum of $1700 and the following bills were ordered paid: Byron H. Edwards on account, $500; Frank A. Mathews, Jr., on account, $500; W. L. Bowen, printing incident to the special election, $61.58, and $4.00 each for the following election officers who served at the special election on December 21: William Steele, Dewees Showell, Samuel McMullin, Edson Carhart.

A resolution was adopted authorizing the architect to proceed with working plans and specifications.

On motion of Karl W. Latch the Town Meeting was invited to appoint three members to cooperate with the building committee of the school board. This was opposed by District Clerk Hemphill and Hilton M. Smith, chairman of the building committee, who argued that this addition would make the committee unwieldy and slow up building operations. The other members of the board, however, did not agree with the dissenters and the motion was passed.

J. E. Shelby Resigns
The resignation of John E. Shelby as a member of the board was accepted with regret, and Harry E. Moyer was appointed to fill his unexpired term.

A motion was passed making the Cinnaminson Bank and Trust Company depository for the building funds and directing the custodian of school funds to deposit the money for the building fund in that institution.

The following bills were ordered paid:

STOKES FAMILY INHERITS $100,000

Mrs. Lydia Stokes, Husband and Children Beneficiaries of Father's Will

The Stokes family of Moorestown received a nice Christmas present in the announcement that members had inherited sums amounting to $100,000 from the estate of the late Frank L. Babbott, of New York City, father of the wife of Dr. Emilen Stokes.

The estate is estimated at $4,094,155 net in an appraisal filed for State transfer tax purposes.

Mrs. Lydia Babbott Stokes, wife of Dr. S. Emilen Stokes, of Moorestown, and daughter of Babbott, was bequeathed $50,000. Dr. Stokes and their three children, Lydia, Sally and S. Emilen Stokes, Jr., each inherit $10,000. Mrs. Stokes also inherits one-fourth interest in the Babbott residence at 149 Lincoln place, Brooklyn, 100 shares of stock in the Brooklyn Academy of Music, and personal effects of undetermined value.

The deceased for many years was principal patron of the Brooklyn Institute of Arts and Sciences and formerly was president of the organization. He died December 7, 1933. In his will he distributed $3,478,476 in charitable bequests.

The Stokes reside at Bridgeboro Road and Chester avenue, Moorestown.

RIVERTON P.T.A. CHRISTMAS PARTY

Santa Claus Has Gifts for Everyone. Children Make Costumes and Give Plays

The annual Christmas party of the Riverton P. T. A. was held in the school auditorium, Friday morning, December 21st.

The primary grades were in charge of the play that their classes gave and the children deserve much credit for the fine performance and attractive settings. They designed their own costumes and props, and the play itself was their own version of an old Christmas story.

The grammar grades also planned their entertainment, with original costumes and settings. Much credit is due the teachers whose fine cooperation made the entertainment such a huge success.

Santa's visit, with his bag of gifts was, of course, the main event and crowning touch of the party.

The teachers received appropriate presents, and there was candy for all the children.

YWCA NOTES

Annual Meeting in January

The annual meeting of the Burlington County Young Women's Christian Association will be held Saturday afternoon, January 12, at 2:00 o'clock, in St. Andrew's Parish House, Mt. Holly, according to plans announced by Mrs. William Grobler, of Moorestown, chairman of the membership committee.

"Christian Internationalism" will be the theme of the meeting, and the committee is planning to have two unusually interesting speakers on this topic. Among the special features will be folk dancing by Roebing girls, songs by a quartet of YWCA girls from the Borden-town Manual Training School, and a playlet dramatizing changes in the association program.

Mrs. William Matlack, of Moorestown, who is retiring as president of the county board, will preside at the business meeting, when yearly reports will be read. The worship service will be in charge of Mrs. Alexander C. Wood, Jr., of Riverton, and Miss Klauderer, of Moorestown, will direct the singing.

Tea will be served at the conclusion of the program.

TIPS ON GROWING

BY ONE WHO GREW UP IN THE BUSINESS

"The wicked . . . spreading himself like a green Bay Tree." Seemingly the Psalmist considered the lordly Bay Tree as particularly uppy, to make such disparaging comparison. For that matter, just as the Orchid in flowers, it was considered for years the ultra in plants grown for harmonious balance of form, and even more so now while somewhat a rarity. In the Gay Nineties it was freely used in the decorative scheme of the lobbies of swank hotels, and ornamented the vestibules of the wealthy. Plants at that time were brought from Belgium, but Quarantine No. 37, promulgated somewhere about 1915, prohibited the importation of this and other plants from Europe. The Californians then entered the field of Bay Tree growing, but as they are slow in growth and the transportation charges extremely high, it has been only the last year or so that they have been again seen here and there in the East.

A well-matched pair is a stately and consistent addition to any church ceremony or in the decoration of a spacious hall or corridor. Two carefully selected specimens sentineling each side of a broad walk leading to an exclusive residence entrance cannot be duplicated in effectiveness by anything else. They are symmetrical in outline and can be used very pleasingly where a formal appearance is desired. Give plenty of water during the summer and from November to April place in a cool building where the temperature does not fall below freezing. Or if used for indoor decoration during the winter they should be placed where the temperatures do not run high and they do not require much water at that season. The best pruning time is in spring just before they start into new growth, or the young growths may be pinched out as they develop.

The Chrysanthemum Azalea Mum received a great deal of publicity the last season especially owing to the fact that the same was copyrighted. Mr. Hutton, in the December number of "Horticulture," says that he bought Amelia, Azalea Mum and Pink Cushion from different growers and could not see any difference. The flowers are flat pompons, lavender pink in color, about two inches in diameter, turning a creamy white when aging—a very attractive blooming in mid-September.

Many growers of house ferns yearn to grow the dainty green Maiden Hair (Adiantum) type, but believing that their filmy loveliness is better suited to the conservatory than for the average home they pass it by. Often the atmosphere of the modern home is hot and dry and when plants from the warm humid air of the greenhouse are brought into the dry warm living room, they lose their leaves. Usually, however, if cut back they make new growth and succeed all the better. Try Adiantum Wrighti the next time, placing it in a saucer or jardiniere filled with pebbles covering with water and keep the plant in a location not too warm and you should be successful.

The Gertrude M. Hubbard gold medal, awarded every five years for the best American Rose disseminated within that period, has been awarded to L. B. Coddington for his Rose, President Herbert Hoover.

BOARD TO CHECK COAL "CHEATING"

County Coal Dealers Appointed to Cooperate With Relief Administration

W. Rex McCrosson, Burlington County Executive Director, has appointed the following named dealers to serve as members of the Emergency Relief Coal Dealers Advisory Board of this County:

George Lippincott, Mount Holly, chairman, W. C. Jones, Burlington, R. H. Anderson, Riverside, A. T. Andrews, Moorestown and Edward Yerkes, Riverton.

This committee will act in an advisory capacity to the executive director in maintaining quality and quantity of the coal delivered by authorized dealers, and will see to it that the rules and regulations for the government of authorized dealers in their contracts with relief clients are properly carried out.

The contract between the Emergency Relief Administration and the Fuel Merchants Association requires the delivery of chestnut size coal which must be of Standard Institute preparation or equal thereof.

During the past week representatives of this office found coal supplied by two dealers in Burlington County not up to the standard requirements. These dealers have been summoned to appear before the Advisory Committee to show cause why their authorizations to accept coal orders should not be revoked.

It is hoped that no further mistakes will be made in supplying coal of inferior grade to relief recipients, as a close check will be made both by the Fuel Merchants Association and the Relief Administration.

CINNAMINSON PTA

As usual, Christmas holidays have brought extra work to both teachers and pupils. Room parties interest the children, and there was a public presentation of Dickens' "Christmas Carol" by the "Parted Curtains" Dramatic Club on Friday afternoon, December 21, in the school auditorium at 1:30. The lower cycle saw the play during the dress rehearsal Thursday morning.

Very appropriate Christmas invitations were mimeographed and sent to the homes of the pupils.

Dr. Hsieh's visit on Wednesday, the 12th, was most enjoyable, about thirty visitors listening to the afternoon talk and joining in the conference.

The evening meeting of the study club was dropped, as Miss Bryan had a severe cold. These discussions will be resumed after the holidays. Publicity.

The following were elected as representatives to the Most Excellent Assembly: Howard Vile, William L. Wright, Arthur P. Wright, Richard K. Hunter and Howard Alloway. ## DR. DAFOE GETS CHEVY FOR XMAS

The little gray-haired physician who is playing Santa Claus to "my babies," as he calls the Dionne quintuplets, was himself made happy Christmas morning by a gift of a new Chevrolet car presented to him at a ceremony which was part of the doctor's official welcome home from New York.

Friends and neighbors and civic officials of North Bay were present for the happy event.

The doctor put the gift car into use at once over the new but rocky road between the hospital and Calander.

THE PEOPLE'S COLUMN

Commends Firemen

Editor The New Era:
Past generous allotments of space to publicize civic matters, prompts the request that you kindly include in this week's issue a view-point concerning our Volunteer Fire Company and its personnel.

Last Sunday afternoon the fire siren sounded; an incredibly short space of time elapsed when the apparatus was on the scene and functioning. The blaze on the peak of the roof at 505 Fulton street, and the altitude to which the ladder had to be elevated, required skillful handling. Bungling or loss of motion might have resulted in considerable property loss. Infiltration of water would have caused much damage in the interior. Not a drop of water reached the inside.

The salvage corps impressed me particularly. All rugs, wall hangings and bric-a-brac were removed to safety quarters; tarpaulins were spread on the third floor. It caused one to feel a sense of security, that articles of sentimental value would not be unnecessarily sacrificed. These men withdrew from the house after having replaced the furnishings, and a visitor ten minutes thereafter would not have suspected that an unusual experience had just occurred. I wish to pay tribute to these men not only as fire-fighters of skill, but also because every action bore the stamp of character.

Very truly,
H. E. Moyer.

Little Robert came home from school with a new book under his arm. "It's a prize, mother," he said. "A prize? What for dear?" "For natural history. Teacher asked me how many legs an ostrich had and I said three." "But an ostrich has two legs." "I know that now, mother, but the rest of the class said four, so I was nearest."—The Railwayman, Kansas City.

Mike Murmurs

By William Cooper, Jr.

Hello again folks, this is your old news hunter-upper back again to tattle on the stars etc., etc. Before we go any further we'd like to know where some radio exec's in the City get the idea they're "big shot." When we used to go in for news we always were treated with the utmost kindness and made to feel we were welcome. But in the last month things have changed considerably. Now we're rushed in the front door where we are greeted with a "Well, what do you want now?" And then we're shoved out the back door. It sure does seem a shame that such nice personalities should be spoiled when people get $5 or $10 a week more in their pay envelope. Well so much for that.

Dropped in at the Roxy-Mastbaum to witness the Roxy Gang broadcast, over WCAU last Saturday, and believe me it was some show. Roxy, the master showman of the present generation, cannot be praised highly enough for the splendid way he treats the public. We talked a few minutes to that wonderful, almost voiceless (from rehearsals) charming personality. Roxy, we're with you to the very last, and we sure hope that little bird success will be in your hunting bag before the theatrical season wanes. (Note for readers: We're going to have an exclusive interview with Roxy in the next few weeks, so follow us up.)

WE WONDER: If WTFL will get new studios soon... How Kate Smith is... If the Roxy-Mastbaum will make a go of it in Philly... How long WPEN's S.S. ALL IN FUN will last... Why KYW would not let WDAS broadcast its reception to Philly at Penn A. C. luncheon... If Henry Patrick got the job with Isham Jones... Who'll get the wires in that new Howard Lannin spot.

We should give plenty of orchids to Uncle WIP of Station WIP for the great bit of work he's doing with and for the children of Philly. Uncle WIP this Christmas distributed to Phila. crippled kiddies hundreds of dolls and scrapbooks and also gave away 4,000 candy canes. This gentleman takes a personal pride in his work and is well loved by the children of this section.

PHILLY SCRIBBLINGS: Four fifths of WPEN's studio output is to a visual audience... Listen for the Octaves, a vocal and instrumental trio over KYW... Don Bestor broadcasting over KYW instead of WCAU... Jerry Crowley former publicity head at WIP now handles the publicity for the Arcadia... Marty Gosch is angling for a job with CBS in N.Y... Congrat's to WIP on the splendid way they handled the broadcasts from the Holmesburg Prison and the opening of the Roxy-Mastbaum... Construction has been started on a new antenna for WDAS which will increase this station's efficiency 95%... Kate Smith starts her quest for talent in the Quaker City on Wednesday, December 26th. Auditions will be held in the studios of WCAU and will be judged by Kate and six prominent-local persons... Renault Champagne program over WIP is getting better all the time. Tune in some time.

There's one fellow you should dial in sometime and that is Pat Stanton, erstwhile Irish announcer at WDAS. Pat conducts one of the most popular programs which drags in over 2,000 letters each and every day. Stanton also conducts an Irish program over the same station to which almost every Irishman in Philly and thereabouts listens. Again it has come time to say so long to my readers and to wish them a very happy and prosperous New Year. We hope you'll follow us thru the coming year so we'll see you then. So long.

Beautiful religious art calendars will be given to adults, or to children with notes from parents, by calling at the coal office of Joseph T. Evans, Riverton.

Persons who used to be called scavengers are now known as members of "salvage units." So there is a new deal in nomenclature, too.

It is predicted that the new Congress will go even farther than the President in all kinds of expenditures. But who everybody hangs up his stocking who will do the filling?—Jewell Republican.

ELECTRICITY AND GAS SIMPLIFIED HER TASKS

Every woman who has had Christmas festivities in her home realizes the great help that she has had from those two efficient servants—electricity and gas.

They can be relied upon to assume the burdens of washing and cleaning quickly and cooking efficiently during the holidays.

Electricity in the home makes possible the saving of labor through the use of vacuum cleaners, washing machines, irons and many other appliances.

Gas in the home promotes comfort, cleanliness and health by the use of automatic hot water service, automatic gas ranges and refrigerators.

And the remarkable thing is—gas and electric services take but a small percentage of the monthly family budget.

ALL S. J. HOCKEY TEAM SELECTED

The girls' Independent Hockey League of South Jersey, picked an all South Jersey first and second team from the various clubs in the league.

Riverton, the league champions for two successive years, had the greatest number of representatives, ten in all, with Swedesboro next in number. The following girls represented Riverton on the first team: A. McVaugh, right wing; G. Kersey, left wing; H. Easley, center forward; C. Hinke, right halfback; R. McVaugh, center halfback; G. Sippel, left halfback; and M. Hafner, goal keeper. C. Baker, P. Neely and J. Atkinson, made the second team.

A hard-fought battle between the first and second teams was played at Collingswood last Saturday afternoon. Sis Baker scored the first goal for the second team and Miss Davis, of Pitman, also tallied to give them a lead of 2-0 over the first team. However, Helen Easley scored two goals in succession to tie the score but Miss Murphy, of Pitman, scored in the last few minutes of the first half to put the second team ahead again.

During the second half the first team came back with a bang and scored two goals, keeping the ball in their possession throughout the final period to win 4-3.

After the game Riverton was presented with the cup by Miss Hilman, president of the Hockey League, for winning the championship this year.

SHORT - WAVE MUSINGS

BY O. M. "C. W."

The Story of the Transatlantics (From QST, February, 1922)

Eight British amateurs were successful in copying American signals, and that is something that pleases us immensely. At this writing we have not yet received any detailed report from Mr. Coursey but he cables us that the secret codes were correctly copied by British amateurs from 1AFV, Salem, Mass.; 1BCG, Greenwich, Conn.; 2FP, Brooklyn; 2ZL, Valley Stream, L. I.; and 2BML, Riverhead, L. I.; that during the free periods they copied 1UN, Manchester, Mass.; 1RU, West Hartford, Conn.; 1XM, Cambridge, Mass.; and 2ZC, South Orange, N. J.; and that it is probable that 1ZE, Marion, Mass., and 2ZU were also heard; a total of eleven stations. Mr. Godley brings back the rumor that 1DA, Manchester, Mass., was also copied by the British amateurs but Mr. Coursey makes no mention of it. 1BCG was heard by five British stations. It is interesting to note that all of these stations are C.W.—not a spark station was heard by the British amateurs.

The spark stations heard by Mr. Godley are Canadian 3BP, Newmarket, Ontario; 1ARY, Burlington, Vt.; 1AAW, not yet located; 1BDT, Atlantic, Mass.; 2BK and 2DN at Yonkers, N. Y.; 3FB, Atlantic City, N. J.; 9ZJ, Indianapolis; and 8BU of Cleveland. The C.W. stations reported by him are 1RU, West Hartford; 1RZ, Ridgefield, Conn.; 1ARY, Burlington, Vt.; 1BCG, Greenwich, Conn.; 1BDT, Atlantic, Mass.; 1BGF, Hartford; 1BKA, Glenbrook, Conn.; 1XM, Cambridge, 1YK, Worcester; 2EL, Freeport, N. Y. (spark or C. W.?). 2EH, Riverhead, L. I.; 2FD, New York City; 2ARY, Brooklyn; 2AJW, Babylon, L. I.; 2BML, Riverhead, L. I.; 3DH, Princeton, N. J.; 8ACF, Washington, Pa.; and 8XV, Pittsburgh.

Mr. Godley also brings back the rumor that on Dec. 9th British amateurs in London heard a phone signing WQM play the "Humoresque" at 10:45 p.m. G.M.T., and at 10:55 a piano solo, the wave length was 200 meters. WQM is listed as the broadcasting station of the Wichita Electric Light and Power Company, Wichita, Kansas, but at this writing they have made no response to our attempts at verification.

1BCG is reported from Holland and Germany during the test and we are informed that 2ZL was also heard in France. Some DX.

1AAW was originally reported as 1AAY, thru a mix-up in the separate code used between Messrs. Godley and Coursey, and was later corrected by cable to us. When the report of the first night came thru, advising that 1AAY had been heard, excitement reigned supreme at Hartford headquarters. Shown by our callbook to be in Bridgeport, Conn., he could not be located by telephone nor could any other Bridgeport amateurs. So we got E. H. Armstrong, from 1BCG, to drive there in an effort to locate him, which Mr. Armstrong did in the wee sma' hours of that same morning, only to find that 1AAY had moved to New Jersey. Radio Inspector Kolster was routed out and advised us that the call had been reassigned to Fitchburg, Mass. Later that day the Chief of Police of Fitchburg, whose name incidentally also is Godley and whose people are from New Jersey (wonder if he's red headed?), located the Fitchburg lad and got him on the telephone wire for us, but he had only a quarter-inch coil and no aerial. With what fear and trembling he must have answered the summons to report to the Chief of Police! Then the correction came from Godley and we were off again, this time after Roxbury, Mass., with Mr. Entwistle doing Sherlock act. Meanwhile for 1AAY from Bridgeport comes in with the dope that he had moved to Belleville, N. J., where, altho it is the Second District, he operated on that test night with four amps in the aerial and signed 1AAY. But in view of Mr. Godley's correction he was very QRZ hr.
