RIVERTON HOME ROBBED THURSDAY

Silverware Is Chief Loot at
H. M. Kieckhefer's, Park Avenue, Riverton

Some time between the hours of 5 and 12 p.m., last Thursday, the residence of H. M. Kieckhefer, Park avenue, Riverton, was broken into and a quantity of silver taken by the marauder.

The perpetrator of the act was evidently familiar with the routine of the household on the day in question, since all members of the family and the entire staff of servants were away.

Entrance Through Cellar

The break was discovered by one of the employees shortly after midnight. Riverton police, under the direction of Chief William Gootee, who conducted an investigation, found that entrance to the house was gained by breaking a cellar window. A door leading to the basement was then forced open, admitting the burglar to the first floor.

The thief evidently went through the entire house in a search for valuables, but, as far as can be determined, the only articles taken were a number of pieces of flat silver, the assortment being rather varied.

Police at Work

County detectives are at work on the case, in addition to members of the local force. Officer John Robinson investigated several important clues last week.

The break is the first that has occurred in this section during the past several months and authorities are inclined to believe that the robbery was the work of an amateur.

Few Alarmed By Radio Program

Although many communities in New Jersey were thrown into a frenzy by the radio program last Sunday evening that dramatized the invasion of the state by a space ship from Mars, meteor or what have you, apparently few people in this section were listening to the station that broadcast the program.

Police on night duty report that there was little ado at the time of the broadcast although isolated cases have come to light where certain residents took the affair seriously.

Officials of the New Jersey Bell Telephone report that phone traffic picked up slightly during the program and for a short time afterward, but that there was no general rush in this section to find out what the affair was all about.

In many communities, little or no attention was paid to the incident.

W.P.A. ACTIVE HERE

All W.P.A. projects in this section are proceeding on schedule according to the statements of officials in charge of the work.

In Palmyra, three operations are in progress, the sewer extension, reconditioning of the sewage disposal plant and the construction of a storm sewer on Spring Garden street.

Cinnaminson has a group of men engaged on road repair.

Riverton is the only local community that has no work of a similar nature.

PROTEST AGAINST RATE OF WAGES

Last Friday afternoon, the Burlington County Board of Freeholders received a protest from the International Hod Carriers Brotherhood and the Common Laborers' Union of America, regarding the wage scales now in effect at the almshouse, New Lisbon.

The unions stated that 50 cents an hour for laborers and 80 cents for mason tenders was not in accordance with the prevailing wage scale for these jobs and asserted that the amounts should be 60 cents and 90 cents respectively.

The protest was referred to Colonel Hugh A. Kelly, architect.

STADIUM PROJECT APPROVED HERE

Palmyra Voters Register Large Majority for New High School Field

A special election held last Friday night in the high school, Palmyra, resulted in approval of the proposed construction of a new athletic field and stadium in that community.

The vote on the proposition was 385 in favor to 120 against. Despite the fact that the matter was extremely controversial in nature, the citizens stayed away from the voting place in droves, only about 25 percent of those registered taking the trouble to express their opinion.

Last minute opposition in the form of a circular that was distributed on Friday, failed to carry much weight.

Cost of Work

The project will be a W.P.A. affair, with the government allotting the sum of $52,728. The Board of Education will provide the balance, $11,591, this sum being transferred from the current expense account to capital outlay. This move was also authorized by the voters.

As the money is already on hand, no additional appropriation will be necessary.

The new field will be situated at a site adjacent to the present school buildings on Delaware avenue.

Christian Science Lecture

Judge Frederick C. Hill, C.S.B., of Los Angeles, California, will deliver a lecture on Christian Science, Sunday afternoon, November 6, at 3.30 in the public high school auditorium, Second and Church streets, Moorestown.

This lecture is being given under the auspices of First Church of Christ, Scientist, Moorestown, and is

JOE BURK WILL SPEAK AT BANQUET

Sculling Champion and Coach
To Be Present at Local Father-Son Banquet

"Rusty" Callow, world renowned U. of P. crew coach, and the international sculling champion whom he trained, Joe Burk, of Bridgeboro, will be this year's team of speakers at the Palmyra-Riverton Y.M.C.A. annual father and son banquet, in the Central Baptist Church, Palmyra, Tuesday evening, November 15th.

President A. E. Hargett, of the Y.M.C.A. board, named as the 1938 father and son banquet committee chairman C. B. Marple, of Palmyra. Mr. Marple has these fellow Y.M.C.A. board directors on his committee: Robert G. Adams, E. Newbold Cooper, Robert J. Finney, Edward W. Fry, Carl H. Thomas and Mayor John F. Ward.

Surprise Features

It was at a meeting of the committee last Friday evening that Mr. Hargett made known who the speakers would be on November 15. Chairman Marple assigned various other responsibilities. Securing the toastmaster was one of these. Carl Thomas will lead the singing. Music will be provided by ten members of the County Y.M.C.A. Orchestra, under the direction of Secretary Guy C. Hendry. Edward W. Fry is at work on a new idea in connection with the singing for this year's banquet. Two surprise features were discussed by the committee, and plans are under way for including them in the program.

Famous Team

Coach Callow is world famous in his field. He is also a fine speaker. His "son" for the evening, Joe Burk, who is one of Burlington county's great products, will also speak. He is continuing his training for the 1940 Olympics in Finland.

Tickets, 75 cents each, may be secured from any Y.M.C.A. board member, and the number is being limited to two hundred, which is available seating space.

The dinner will be served by the Y.M.C.A. Women's Auxiliary, of which Mrs. Robert Gowell is the president.

ANNUAL MEETING BAPTIST SCHOOL

Superintendent; Reports
Of Departments

The Central Baptist Sunday School Association of Riverton and Palmyra, held its 52nd annual business meeting and election of officers Tuesday evening in the Social Hall of the Church.

Supper was served at 6.30 o'clock by the Women's Society. The superintendent Mr. T. C. VanOsten acted as toastmaster as well as presiding at the meeting.

Reports covering the years activities were presented by the organized classes and the superintendents of the various departments.

Enrollment 362

The secretary's report showed an average enrollment of 362 with an average attendance of 284 per Sunday for the year ending with September.

The treasurer reported total receipts of $1,414.76 and disbursements of $1,495.39 of which $733.67 went to the church building fund and general expenses of the church, while $95.18 was turned over to benevolences.

Classes

The Baraca Class reported an average attendance of 13.

HOWARD TAYLOR TO BE HONORED

Members of the County Y.W.C.A. and Y.M.C.A. boards, and husbands and wives of the members, are uniting in a dinner, November 9th, at the Community House, Moorestown, to pay tribute to Howard G. Taylor, Jr., who recently completed five years as president of the County Y.M.C.A. Board.

Miss Katherine Lucchini, county Y.W.C.A. secretary, will speak of her intimate knowledge of the work of both associations in China, where she spent some years on Y.W.C.A. work.

The committee named by President Benjamin J. Roberts to arrange the program for this occasion is: A. E. Hargett, Riverton, and Walter P. Stokes, Moorestown.

PLANS COMPLETE FOR ALUMNI DAY

To Be Held on Saturday of This Week; Many Events for Palmyra Graduates

The Palmyra High School Alumni Association, at a meeting held last week, formally passed on all arrangements for its first annual Alumni Day, to be held Saturday, November 5th.

This undertaking will represent the first attempt in the association's history to bring all alumni of Palmyra High School together for an all-day reunion, and a series of attractions has been mapped out for their enjoyment.

Features

Featured by the traditional Palmyra-Moorestown football game at the Palmyra Athletic Field, the roster of events will also include degistration, class meetings, a general meeting, a tour of inspection of the newly-improved high school building, entertainment, and dancing in the high school gymnasium, William Eval, president of the P.H.S. Student Council, and Jack Mathews, president of the senior class, will act as a reception committee to returning alumni and will direct them by classes through the various rooms.

Program

The complete schedule follows:
Registration: Main corridor of high school building from 11 to 2.
Athletic field from 2 to 3.
Football game at 2.30.
Class meeting, 7.30.
General meeting, 8.15.
Tour of building, 8.45.
Entertainment and dancing, 9 'til 12.00.

The total cost of the whole day to alumni has been set at 40 cents, and tickets may be secured in advance from any member of the executive committee. High school students are cordially invited to attend the dance at the cost of 40 cents per couple, 25 cents stag.

All alumni from the first graduating class to the class of '38 are invited to come with their friends to meet their old high school classmates.

Visiting Day At Palmyra Schools

Palmyra Public Schools will pay recognition to Education Week by setting aside Wednesday, November 9, as visiting day for all parents and friends of the school.

The school day begins at 8.45 a.m. in the Delaware avenue building and closes at 3.17. School begins at 9.00 in the Spring Garden street and Cinnaminson avenue schools and closes at 3.30. The Kindergarten closes at 3.45.

On this day the school cordially invites all persons interested, to attend certain classes and activities.

ANNUAL MEETING WELFARE GROUP

Riverton - Cinnaminson Asso.
Names Directors; Members
Hear Fine Reports

At the recent annual meeting of the Riverton-Cinnaminson Welfare Association the following directors were chosen for the fiscal year ending October 31, 1939:

Mrs. Murray C. Boyer, Mrs. Gilbert A. Coe, Rev. Francis B. Downs, Charles Evans, David F. Gould, William A. Hendrickson, Edward Jessup, Mrs. David S. Little.

Mrs. John E. Lowe, Clifton P. Mayfield, Frederick W. Metager, Mrs. C. Singleton Mears, Miss Cornelia Murray, Miss Alice Parriah, Dr. John Siddall, Miss Elizabeth Shoemaker, Howard Taylor, Mrs. Joseph L. Thomas, Joseph Beck Tyler, Mrs. Walter K. Woolman and Victor Ritschard.

Treasurer's Report

William A. Hendrickson, treasurer, reported receipts of $5,479.48 for the fiscal year, of which sum $3,440.06 was appropriated by the Cinnaminson Township Committee and Riverton Borough Council on account of relief administered.

The remaining $2,039.42 represents the contributions from individuals and organizations to cover the entire expense of the association.

It is apparent, therefore, that the two communities are having their relief administered on an efficient and economical basis by trained workers without directly assuming any share of administration costs.

The Welfare Association agrees to this plan because it is well convinced that the agency which has the factual information from prior con-

Tables Turned On Pranksters

One band of juvenile mischief-makers in Riverton got involved in a great amount of work for their pleasure—if any, over the past weekend.

The members of this group went to considerable trouble to fill the car of a local resident with leaves and, not being content with this conception of fun, they then went about deflating the tires of the car.

Just about this time, the owner discovered the "joke" and put chase. Evidently the pranksters were a little less speedy than they imagined, for several of the gang were rounded up and set to work cleaning out the machine, while others took turns pumping up the tires with a hand outfit.

After the job was completed, it is reported that the chief actors were somewhat wearied by their effort and withdrew from the field of action.

MUCH ACTIVITY

Local residents are viewing with interest the operations going on at the Pennsylvania side of the Delaware, opposite the Riverton Yacht Club, where work is still in progress preparatory to the installation of a huge floating drydock as a pier.

At the present time, a large dredge and two smaller ones are at work, while several steam shovels are digging an approach.

A barge load of piling and a derrick complete the list of equipment on location.

NOTICE

All unemployed ex-soldiers are requested to report to the unemployment chairman of the American Legion immediately.

LOCAL ROTARY IS RATED HIGH

Rev. T. V. Wingate District Governor Pays Official Visit Last Week

Reverend Thomas V. Wingate, district governor of the 104th district of Rotary International, paid his official visit to the Palmyra-Riverton Rotary Club last Thursday. After a conference with club officers, Dr. Wingate dined with his fellow-Rotarians, and later spoke to them about various phases of their world-wide organization which now embraces five thousand different clubs in all civilized countries. He placed a "triple A" rating on the local club, congratulating it particularly on finance, fellowship, attendance and music.

Vital Element

The theme of Dr. Wingate's address was Rotary Fellowship, which he regards as the vital element in Rotary International's astounding development. Fellowship was the primary reason why Paul Harris began the first Rotary Club, and has remained the binding force that holds the movement together. He gave a very interesting example when he described his meeting with a distinguished Japanese gentleman at the recent R. I. convention at San Francisco. This important person, now president of the chief Japanese steamship company, was a minister in Vineland forty years ago, later returning home to become prominent in his country's commercial life. Dr. Wingate's contact with him was a broadening, elevating influence, typical of many at the same conference.

Attendance Regulations

Rotary Clubs are not required to have dinners or programs, said Dr. Wingate, but they do have attendance regulations, for without them fellowship cannot develop. The physical fact of weekly contact with a group of congenial men is bound to have some effect on any normal individual, hence the attendance requirement.

Making up attendance at other Rotary Clubs is, also, a builder of fellowship. Dr. Wingate concluded with an offer of assistance should any problem arise that might retard the Palmyra-Riverton Club's development.

Death of Former Member

Older members of the club were sorrowed by news of the death of Rev. J. William Lee, former pastor of the Epworth M. E. Church in Palmyra, and first honorary member of the club. Dr. C. S. Mills spoke feelingly of his contribution to Rotary and community projects, and the example of his truly Christian life.

The return of President Mayfield was greeted with the announcement of another 100 per cent meeting on October 20, thus maintaining the consistently high average for the year; six out of the last fifteen meetings have seen every member present or making-up his attendance. Mr. Mayfield's progressive leadership has greatly increased the interest in this important Rotary activity.

SECOND MUSICAL PROGRAM IN SERIES

The Sunday evening service, at Epworth M. E. Church, on November 6, will include a special musical program by the choir, under the direction of Eric Warnick. This will be the second in the series of monthly musical programs.

The choir will render, Mendelssohn's "Hear My Prayer," "Unfold Ye Portals" from The Redemption, by Gounod and "Judge Me O God," by Neidlinger.

In addition to these, Rachel Lord, at the organ and Eric Warnick, at the piano will play "Adagio," from Sonata (Moonlight) Op. 27, No. 2, by Beethoven.

Mrs. Alice Kreder will be the soloist in "Hear My Prayer" and the chorus will be accompanied by a trumpet quartet and organ in "Unfold Ye Portals."

The choir will present in the near future, Sir John Stainer's, "The Daughter of Jairus"; a program of

PALMYRA JAYVEES WIN ANOTHER

The Palmyra High School junior varsity football team completely outclassed the Burlington reserves in a game played on home terrain, Tuesday afternoon of this week. The locals won by the score of 13-0.

The first tally came as a result of some fine broken field running by Brewster, flashy Red and White back.

The second followed shortly after, as Washington intercepted a Burlington pass and scampered 40 yards for a touchdown.

Brewster was the outstanding player on both teams.

YMCA BRIEFS

Spartans

With the fall group work season well under way, most of the Y.M.C.A. groups of Palmyra-Riverton have met at least once. The Twin City Spartans under the leadership of Robert McCurdy, are meeting Friday evenings at the Episcopal Church in Riverton. There are 15 boys in the group and this is the second year of their existence.

Lincoln Gra-Y

The Lincoln Gra-Y group of Palmyra-Riverton is meeting every Friday evening at the Y.M.C.A. under the capable leadership of Clifford Loane. This group has applied for membership in the Hi-Y Council of the County and will shortly be inducted into membership. Kenneth Lippincott of the Lincoln Gra-Y group was honored by being elected as reporter for the Hi-Y Council for the coming year.

New Hi-Y

A group of boys formerly in the Junior groups of Palmyra have organized under the leadership of Robert McCurdy and are also seeking admittance into the Council of Hi-Y's of Burlington County. They have had one meeting with their new leader and will be inducted into the Hi-Y fellowship in a short time.

Grammar School Group

Thomas Braddock of Palmyra-Riverton is the leader of a new Junior Grammar School group, meeting at the Y.M.C.A. building, Wednesday evening of each week. The membership of this club consists of boys who attended the summer home vacation camp held at the Y.M.C.A. building this past season.

The smaller boys of the summer vacation camp have also planned to meet under the leadership of James Durham. A date has not yet been set for their first meeting, but plans are under way for their club.

Phalanx

With E. Newbold Cooper again serving as the advisor, the Palmyra-Riverton Phalanx Fraternity has held two meetings at the homes of members of the group.

This group takes an active interest in county, state and national affairs and is one of the five Phalanx fraternities now in motion in the county.

NEW MILESTONE FOR "Y"

A new milestone in the history of the Y.M.C.A. has been reached. A new field of service is being entered as the Y.M.C.A. building at the New York World's Fair of 1939 rapidly nears completion. The building, which will be operated by the Y.M.C.A. of the City of New York, marks the first time in history that the Y.M.C.A. has erected a structure of this type at any fair or exposition anywhere in the world. It marks, also, the beginning of a new service by the Y.M.C.A. to millions of young men—those who will flock through the gates of the Fair next year.

SOCCER GAME FRIDAY

On Friday afternoon, November 4, the Palmyra High School soccer team will oppose Woodrow Wilson at Memorial Park, Riverton. The affair will get under way at 3:45 o'clock.

choruses and arias from Handel's "The Messiah" for Christmas and in the spring, Gounod's, "The Holy City."

ACTIVITIES OF CINNAMINSON P.T.A.

A covered dish luncheon, followed by bridge, was held last Thursday at the home of Mrs. Ernest Warnick, Burlington Pike, Cinnaminson. Mrs. Mood and Mrs. Warnick were the hostesses. The affair was sponsored by the Cinnaminson P.T.A., and the proceeds will benefit the general fund.

The executive board held a regular monthly meeting on Tuesday evening of this week at the home of the president, Mrs. Warnick. Several of the board members are attending the State Convention at Atlantic City this week.

The next regular P.T.A. meeting will be held on Wednesday evening, November 9th, in the school. A study group will meet in the teachers' room at 8:00 o'clock, after which the regular business meeting will be held in the auditorium. Eli Parker will entertain with readings and sketches, and community singing will complete the program. All parents are urged to attend. The annual chicken supper, given by the Parent-Teacher Association, will be held on Wednesday, November 16th, from 5 to 8 o'clock.

CONVENTION OF EPWORTH LEAGUE

The forty-ninth annual convention of the Trenton Tri-County Epworth League will be held in the Mt. Holly Methodist Church Saturday afternoon and evening, November 5. The theme of the convention is "Walking with Jesus." Registration will begin at 2:15 p.m., and will be followed by a brief worship service at which Rev. W. Neal Raver, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church, Every Epworth League in the Trenton District is expected to be represented to make it the best convention yet.

Tickets—Carolyn Bauer, Alfred Mohrmann and Marjorie Nace.

Publicity—Elizabeth Faunce, Ruth Black and Ruth Baker.

Properties—Jane Hulse, Phyllis Howard, Elizabeth Bowers and Phyllis Carson.

The play is under the direction of Miss Edna K. Ziegler, who stated that it was her aim to produce outstanding plays of life in America during the year.

YWCA NOTES

New Club

Girl Reserve clubs in riverfront towns of Burlington County have formed a Riverfront Junior Inter-club Council, which will meet the fourth Thursday of each month in the Burlington Y.W.C.A. clubhouse. Ideas for programs and for inter-club activities will be exchanged at these meetings.

Officers of the council are: Marian Adams, of Burlington, president; Rosalie Cutitta, of Riverside, vice president; Patsy Stockton, of Riverside, secretary, and Elizabeth Edinger, of Riverside, treasurer.

Notes

Members of the Burlington County Y.W.C.A. board will join with the county Y.M.C.A. board at a dinner to be held at the Moorestown Community House, November 9, in recognition of the leadership of Mr. Howard Taylor, as president of the Y.M.C.A. board for the past five years. Miss Katherine Lucchini, county Y.W.C.A. secretary, will speak at the dinner on the foreign program of the two associations.

Miss Katherine Lucchini and Miss Virginia Slim, county secretaries will attend a meeting of the N.A.E.O. of the Philadelphia Area Friday at the home of Miss Margaret Kuhn, in Germantown, Pa.

The finance committee meeting scheduled for October 25th has been postponed to November 7th.

FIELD FIRE

Shortly after 8 o'clock, last Saturday evening, the Palmyra Fire Department answered an alarm for a field fire near the local high school. The blaze, which is the third that has been set in this section recently, was extinguished in short order.

BALLOTS SECRET IN THIS SECTION

Reports made at a meeting of the Burlington County Republican Committee at the Court House at Mount Holly on Monday night gave a fine background to the prediction made by County Chairman Frank A. Snover that the voters will give the entire Republican ticket a majority running close to 10,000.

From the 150 present at Monday night's meeting the county chairman took final reports of the progress they were making in gathering support for the entire ticket, and they were so encouraging that he made no change from his earlier prediction.

Lamon Speaks

Freeholder Walter D. Lamon was present to contradict statements that he had shown any weakness toward supporting part of the county ticket this year. He said that such reports are lies and he wanted it understood that he is supporting the entire ticket and will not depart from his unchangeable Republicanism merely because he was not a winner for renomination at the primary election.

The principal speaker of the evening was Joseph Edgar, of New Brunswick, assistant Prosecutor of Middlesex county. He urged party loyalty to make sure that Burlington county would not go through the same experience Middlesex county had a few years ago when it started to go Democratic and kept on going until now all of it is that way.

During the progress of the meeting it was brought out that WPA workers need not be afraid that they will lose their jobs if they vote the Republican ticket. Unlike some other places, ballots cast in Burlington county are secret and no one knows how a man actually votes.

Party

Hallowe'en always seems to be a time of gaiety. On last Friday the younger grades had a party that was most successful and enjoyed by all present.

On Monday everyone came to reports of the teachers showed that the Tag Day was again a financial success.

The members voted to have a pigs foot supper at the home of the president, Mrs. Fannie Ashby on November 12. They requested the support of all members.

The organization decided to send their president to the State Parent Teacher Convention in Atlantic City on November 2 and 3.

Since school will be closed on the last Friday in November it was decided to hold the next regular meeting on November 18, at School No. 4. After the meeting a delicious repast was served by the refreshment committee.

Make It Worth While

An example of the insane projects proposed by W.P.A. is that started recently in a Massachusetts city, where a survey will be made of the location of the electric street lights, the number of poles, wires and candle power of the bulbs. The information obtained will then be transferred to maps. The cost of the work is estimated to be $9,000.

This is all very fine and no doubt the data might be of some value, were it not for the fact that all possible facts which can be obtained by the survey are ALREADY in the hands of the director of the municipal electric company.

There is no doubt but that some W.P.A. projects have achieved worthwhile results, as may be evidenced by the sewer extension work in Palmyra. On the other hand, the case cited in the foregoing is an example of utter uselessness.

If W.P.A. is necessary, surely there are enough worthwhile things needed without straining at a gnat in order to supply sufficient productive fields for endeavor.

Two Votes At Stake

General Election is next Tuesday, November 8. To those who are opposed to New Deal policies, as carried out by the present Democratic administration, the election affords an opportunity to do something toward remedying the situation.

By returning the Republican candidate, W. Warren Barbour, to the Senate, an additional vote against the Roosevelt policies can be obtained. The same holds true by the re-election of D. Lane Powers as a member of the House of Representatives.

Both are anti-New Dealers, and both are well qualified by experience and ability for the offices to which they aspire.

Although many may feel that the Primary Election in Burlington county is when the real battle takes place, nothing can be farther from the truth.

Don't take anything for granted, Barbour, Powers and all the rest of the candidates on the Republican slate will be elected only if YOU go to the polls and vote for them.

What Other Editors Say

As soon as war starts in Europe, propaganda will start in this country calculated to get America in. All sorts of stories will appear, and our people will read them and believe them, and before long, as a nation, we will be demanding war. Now is the time to take a strong hand against war and stick to it.—Delphos, Kan., Republican.

A candidate for office has just issued a neat little booklet entitled: "Tax Reduction, and How to Accomplish It." Many other excellent books of fiction can also be found on the public library shelves.—Osborne County, Kan., Farmer.

Too many fellows who get the edge on the other fellow finally turn it over and sit down on it.

CENTRAL BAPTIST CHURCH
Rev. George Lockett, B.D., Pastor

Services Sunday, November 6th.

10:00 a.m. Bible school. Again we extend to any fall newcomers in our communities who have no church affiliations, an invitation to make

"Central Baptist" their new church home. Our Bible school is most complete, having classes for ages from the cradle roll to the cen-

11:15 a.m. Morning worship. The pastor's subject for this service will be "The Example of Love." That these services are most helpful, is being verified by the large attendances. The choir's contribution toward the music of the morning has

interest is manifested in their numbers.

The service will be followed by Communion to which all Christians are invited.

6:45 p.m. B. Y. P. U. Senior and high school groups. Programs of a decided interest to the youth are planned for these meetings. You can come prepared to spend a most pleasant and helpful hour.

7:45 p.m. Evening worship. "Misconceptions that Threaten American

Standards," a subject that every true

American should be interested in,

will be dwelt upon by the pastor at this evening's service. Appropriate

choir will sing Jesus Only, by Ro-

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

"Adam and Fallen Man" is the lesson-sermon subject for Sunday,

November 6, in all Christian Science

Churches and Societies throughout the world.

The Golden Text is: "He that is of the earth is earthly, and speaketh of the earth: he that cometh from heaven is above all." (John 3:31).

Among the lesson-sermon citations is the following from the Bible:

"And God said, let us make man in our image, after our likeness;"

(Genesis 1:26).

The lesson-sermon also includes this passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures"

by Mary Baker Eddy: "With a single command, Mind had made man. . . How then could a material organization become the basis of man? . . . Matter is not the reflection of Spirit, yet God is reflected in all

His creation" (p. 524).

EPWORTH M. E. CHURCH

Rev. William A. Boyd, Pastor

Going to Church on Sunday is like going to and being in a new world.

Everything is so different. The worshippers are free from the strain of toil. Their spirits are quieted and refreshed in the presence of their

God. New visions and new courage are given them for their life's work.

The very atmosphere is transformed and charged with the presence of the God of the men and women of the professions, the arts, the home and the many places and kinds of business. "God is the refuge and strength of all who put their trust in him." To deny one's self of one hour's worship in the Lord's temple on the Sabbath day is like refusing to wash one's face on Monday morning.

The Methodist Church invites you to attend the Holy Communion service this Sunday morning at eleven o'clock. Every sincere member of the Church will be in this memorial service unless detained. The music by the choir will be a great help and inspiration to you. You cannot afford to deny yourself the benefit

The American Legion and the patriotic orders of this community and the Boy Scouts will worship in our Church Sunday evening at 7:45.

"Let Us Forget" is the subject of the sermon to be delivered by the Rev. Boyd, who will tell about some of the world famous shrines in London, Scotland, The Hague and Flanders, which he visited this past summer. A fine musical program has been planned for this service. For details of the music

see special notice in this paper.

Two of the largest audiences this year greeted the minister last Sunday. It is very gratifying to note the interest people are taking in their Churches. Come to the Church of good music and large audiences

this Sunday.

The Church school is gaining rapidly in numbers, attendance last

Sunday being 451. This is a steady increase over the corresponding Sundays of last year.

If you are not affiliated with any other church or church school, come and join with us. There are classes for all ages, all with competent

More U. S. Constitution Stamps

Three more stamps will be issued next year to commemorate the U. S. Constitution. This announcement was made recently by Robert E. Fellers, superintendent of stamps at the Post Office Department.

The Constitution was made the supreme law of the land in 1789. The signing in 1787 and the ratification in 1788 of the Constitution were commemorated by stamps on their 150th anniversary.

The new stamps will commemorate Washington taking oath as the first president, the first meeting of the first Congress, and the first meeting of the Supreme Court.

Mr. Fellers also said that there would probably be one stamp each for the New York World's Fair and the Golden Gate Exposition. A stamp is also being considered for the 400th anniversary of the landing of DeSoto in Florida. The Heroes of Peace issue was also considered a probability.

Capitol Stamp Withdrawn

There were 105,324 copies of the new 16 cent Lincoln stamp sold on the first day, with 59,566 covers cancelled. Covers bearing blocks of four stamps totaled 7085.

Canada will complete its new reign series when it issues a 13-cent value stamp. This stamp will be of the large size and will show a picture of Halifax Harbor. It will be printed in ultramarine.

When the Sudetanland was occupied by the German forces, two Czechoslovakian stamps were charged for use there. These were used temporarily and supplies of this stamp appear to be very scarce. Most of the stock that arrived in this country was off-center. The set commands a price of $3.50.

The Philadelphia Inquirer reports that Eugene Klein has recently purchased a vintage pair of the 3 cent Stuart's Washington stamps imperforate between.

We announced that Guatemala was to issue thirty-four stamps in the near future. It is now official that they will also place a miniature sheet on sale. This sheet will contain six stamps each bearing a flag of one of the countries comprising Central America.

New U. S.

Two new stamps, the 19 and 20 cent values of the Presidential series, will be issued on November 10, at Washington, D. C.

The 19 cent stamp will be printed in lilac and will bear a portrait of Rutherford B. Hayes designed from a Presidential medal by George T. Morgan.

The 20 cent stamp will portray James A. Garfield also from a Presidential medal by George T. Morgan and C. Barber. This stamp will be printed in dark green and will be the first value to be enclosed with a double line border.

RIVERTON A.A. IN SCORELESS DRAW

The Riverton A.A. and Carmen A.C. of Camden, battled to a scoreless tie Sunday at Memorial Park, Riverton.

The locals made twelve first downs to three for the visitors, but lacked a scoring punch when near the Carmen goal line.

Once in the third period Riverton had the ball on the one yard line, but Wallace fumbled and Aristone, right tackle of the Carmen team, recovered.

FEW TO TAKE POWERS' EXAM

Only fifteen young men in Burlington and Mercer counties have indicated interest in the competitive examinations to be held January 7, 1939, by Congressman D. Lane Powers, for his appointment next year to the Naval Academy at Annapolis.

Powers announced the competitive two weeks ago. The examination will be conducted by the United States Civil Service. In all Powers' appointments, according to his announcement, the candidate judged best on merit as result of the examination will receive the appointment as principal. The next three in the exam gradings will be named first, second and third alternates respectively.

Few Contend. Announcement of the competitive brought responses from only 15 applicants in the two counties. Powers' competitive usually attracts between 40 and 60 young men.

GARIBALDI TO MEET JOE COX

The biggest crowd of the wrestling season is expected to wend their way through the turnstiles, as the program which the two Hanlyas have booked for Thursday night is also expected to rock the Camden Armory with excitement.

Each match on the bill, is lined up with an outstanding favorite and should result in plenty of excitement and thrills. Gino Garibaldi, the hustling Italian champion, is down for the final bout this week and he faces an opponent who is rated on a par with him in every department, Dynamite Joe Cox, of Missouri. They to thrash out their differences in a contest booked for two out of three falls with a 90 minute time limit.

Vagnonne vs. Russell. Still determined to prove to the promoters and fans as well that he is of championship calibre, Gino Vagnonne, the brick-top spaghetti waltzer from Illinois, faces another tough hombre in Rebel Red Russell, of Texas, in the special match carded for one fall with an hour time limit.

The supporting bouts of which each are booked for a half hour time limit, should also send the fans home talking to themselves. Ed Meske will make his bow of the season when he clashes with Chris Zaharias. Al Baignano will seek his 900 death year, as compared with 1,278 last year. It is a record that every driver and pedestrian should strive to attain.

The best life saving record among the counties during the nine month period was credited to Somerset where deaths dropped from 46 to 10, a decrease of 78 per cent. Cape May enjoyed a 60 per cent reduction.

DEATHS

STILL ON DECLINE

29 Per Cent Reduction To Date as Compared with 1937 Figures

With nine months record complete, New Jersey continues to retain its lofty position among the states that have contributed most to the nation's reduced highway death toll, Motor Vehicle Commissioner Arthur W. Magee announced this week.

Deaths during the period totaled 640, a decrease of 264 from the first nine months of last year. It is a 29 per cent reduction.

A month ago I predicted that 1938 casualties in New Jersey would go below the 1,000 mark for the first time in twelve years but it begins to look now as if the total will nearer approach 900," Commissioner Magee stated.

374 in Last Quarter. "Last year there were 126 deaths in October, 108 in November, and 140 in December, a total of 374 for the last quarter. Present indications point to October being one of the lightest months this year with but half last October's casualties. Should November and December be correspondingly light, 1938 will positively be a 900 death year, as compared with 1,278 last year. It is a record that every driver and pedestrian should strive to attain."

The best life saving record among the counties during the nine month period was credited to Somerset where deaths dropped from 46 to 10, a decrease of 78 per cent. Cape May enjoyed a 60 per cent reduction.

tacts is best able to handle the problems of relief and because trained workers are demanded for proper administration.

The overtime work exacted of the part time staff has, however, become a serious problem, the solution of which is pressing for attention.

Mrs. Robert J. Sim, executive secretary, made a very complete and interesting report. Some of the highlights follow.

Mrs. Sim's Report

To a comparative newcomer in this organization, the history of the development of the Riverton-Cinnaminson Welfare Association is a matter of keen interest. Believing firmly in the value of reviewing achievements in the past which have been responsible for live development in the present, I should like to look back to a bit of illuminating history.

It was just seven years ago today, although in the year 1931, the 25th of October fell on Sunday—that some twenty-five persons met in the Murray Boyer home—as we do. As a memorial to their sister Hannah McI. Biddle who during her life time had been deeply concerned with the social needs of the community, Martha and Elsie Biddle had laid the foundation for a fund for definite social work. Through the help of other prominent and interested women in the community, a canvas was made of sympathetic citizens whose generous financial response made it possible to guarantee a sum of $1000.00.

Started in 1931

So, on Sunday, May 25th, 1931, the Welfare Committee of the Porch Club met with an auxiliary committee largely composed of interested men and was organized with a chairman—Mrs. Jane Boyer; secretary, Mrs. Chalmers; treasurer, William A. Hendrickson; attorney, Joseph Beck Tyler, and a finance committee with W. W. Smith chairman.

The definite purpose of this organization was to employ a trained social worker for half time work. As you of course, know, Mrs. Dorothy Cooper was the first trained social worker brought into this community. You know too, her fine understanding of human needs, her sympathy and integrity. No firmer foundation for continued social work could have been laid than that for which Mrs. Cooper is responsible.

Comparisons

It has been interesting to me to compare the case load—not of Mrs. Cooper's first year which would of necessity not be a true picture, but of the second year 1932-33 with this present year of 1937-38.

In 1932-33, unemployment had definitely become a serious problem, but as a problem, it had not become stationary—it was still a development. Quoting from "Mrs. Cooper's report, she said "During this year some form of help was given to 145 families. Only 29 of the families were totally dependent on the Welfare for relief." For that year there seems to have been a total expenditure of $1829.15 but one interesting item on the expense account is for "Work—for 21 families $929.79.

Employment Collapses

During 1937-38, employment has had spells of almost complete collapse. Men have been kept on the pay roll of various industries, asked to report daily for work, and be given one, two or three days—or sometimes a half days employment. In Riverton, 28 families have had relief help—8 of those at some time during the year received complete relief—which means rent, food, milk, fuel and medical service; 3 were continuous rent problems. Two are supplemental State Board cases; 1 supplemental for O.A.A.; 2 receive milk by doctor's order; the remainder have had food, medical and fuel needs. Riverton has had 19 social service cases, 6 of those receiving relief help irregularly and regularly.

Cinnaminson

Cinnaminson, during this year, has had 82 families receiving relief help, and 54 social service with 12 of those receiving relief. Of the number of relief families 20 families more or less regularly received full relief. Five families receive milk by doctor's order. The remaining families receive food, or food and milk, or food, milk, rent and fuel if and when their period of unemployment extends beyond a certain point. The reserves of all these families have long ago disappeared. They live now week by week.

Old age pensions have been secured for two persons. One woman was committed to an institution for feeble minded. Due to the mental as well as physical condition of one mother, the condition of her three undernourished children was brought to our attention through the school principal and doctor. After a complete investigation, placement in the Burlington County Children's Home seemed the best solution and was accomplished.

Fine Cooperation

We have received such fine cooperation from the Burlington County Children's Home that I mention it, although it is true with every other placing agency with which we have come in contact. In all, seven children have found such placement this year, and I plan to take the eighth to St. Mary's in the Field school this week. Psychiatric examinations and plans for placement of two colored boys are being worked out. We have provided two pairs of glasses for two working women suffering from eye strain, repaired two pairs for two of our girls; provided corrective shoes for two children—one very young; and been responsible for extraction of 9 teeth.

Other Work

A summary of other work follows: Shoes distributed, 68; garments distributed, 477; office interviews, 1853; home interviews, 952; employment placements, 21 since July 1st; loans, $95.90, refunds, $38.75, outstanding, $57.15; certified for W.P.A. from Riverton, 51; certified for W.P.A. from Cinnaminson, 74; total certified, 125; life insurance adjustments, 6; house keeping aides placed with needy families.

I want to express appreciation and thanks to the Riverton Chapter of the Red Cross which paid $20.00 tuition at Camp Matollonequay for one of our girls who had need of a new experience.

Assistance

The garments given by the Needlework Guild have provided warmth to many a youngster, both day and night, and as always, the shoe fund is a constant need.

My real appreciation is given to our two fine Visiting Nurses. They are always ready, cordial and efficient.

I should like to express appreciation too, to the doctors of the community. They are paid for their services of course, but they have shown consideration and prompt cooperation whenever it was needed. I feel a deep gratitude to our ever efficient and faithful clothing chairman, Mrs. Gilbert Coe, and to her equally efficient and dependable committee.

What are some of our problems for the future? A matter of first importance is I think, the amount of work which must be done in our office regardless of our part time working plan.

Extra Work

One expects to work extra hours on social service matters, but when the regular business routine of the office requires two or three afternoons a week, in addition to the regular hours it is a matter which should be recognized. The volume of increased work is due largely to our participation with F.A.C. and W.P.A., but those are inevitable if we can hope for any employment or relief help for our men.

From a relief standpoint, unemployment is of course our greatest problem. A large part of that is out of our hands. However, if you as people in the community have work around your homes, cellar cleaning—any odd jobs which need man labor, we should appreciate knowing about it. Some of our men we know, will do any kind of work to earn a little money. Others say they will, and with your cooperation we can find out how well they mean it.

Ask Cooperation

That brings up another problem dealing with the community. We, in public work, expect criticism—probably because it is so frequently met with and often from people whose conception of what our work involves is a limited one. Our primary investigation of cases requesting relief is thorough up to a point. Due to our high case load and limited time, our follow-up work has been poor. If an interested person in the community who suspects that a certain person is receiving relief help, and believes that he has other resources, would bother to report that fact to us, that information would do one of two things—bring about a prompt investigation, or (if we knew of the employment)—an explanation or why the relief help was given would be cheerfully given to our interested and cooperative citizen.

SEMPER FIDELIS BIBLE CLASS

The regular monthly meeting of the Semper Fidelis Bible Class of Calvary Presbyterian Church, Riverton, will be held on Friday evening of this week in the ladies' parlor of the church.

The members of the class will hold a cafeteria dinner and bazaar on December 2, in the social hall of the church.

BOY SCOUT NEWS
Plans for Next Year
A meeting of the sub-chairman of the camp committee of the Burlington County Council was held at Newlin's Dining Room, Moorestown, last Monday evening. F. Wallis Armstrong, Jr., Moorestown, who is chairman, gave a general outline of the plans for the 1939 camping season. Plans were discussed for improvements to the camp property, which will include an addition to the shower and latrine unit, which is the new unit started last season; new boats will be added, and other repairs and improvements to the property.

These reports were made by Richard Hollerith, of Riverton, who has charge of planning and improvements; and Dr. L. P. Hall, of Moorestown, who has charge of maintenance.

Charles Williams, of Riverside, was introduced as a new member of the camp committee, who will be a field commissioner on camping in charge of promotion work for camp. Mr. Williams outlined his plans for contacting troops this fall, winter and spring.

Jack Dalton, Philadelphia, who was program director at camp, gave as outline of the camp program and County Scout Executive Darlington, who was camp director of Camp Mahala, spoke briefly on the general set-up of the policy and program.

defense equal to any emergency on either coast.

One speaker justified this move by stating that recent experiences in world affairs showed the utter folly in depending upon treaties and international agreements. He was absolutely right.

If memory serves correctly, it is not many years ago that the United States took the lead in naval disarmament and scrapped some $300,000,000 worth of ships. A noble sacrifice, but one which failed because other nations were unwilling to abide by the terms of the agreement.

In times such as these, every dollar spent in naval construction may pay dividends many times over in safety insurance. This is more than can be said for certain W.P.A. road projects that are ruined by the first rain.

If we are going to spend money to aid employment, let's get something real for the expenditure.

Plans for Next Year
A meeting of the sub-chairman of the camp committee of the Burlington County Council was held at Newlin's Dining Room, Moorestown, last Monday evening. F. Wallis Armstrong, Jr., Moorestown, who is chairman, gave a general outline of the plans for the 1939 camping season. Plans were discussed for improvements to the camp property, which will include an addition to the shower and latrine unit, which is the new unit started last season; new boats will be added, and other repairs and improvements to the property.

These reports were made by Richard Hollerith, of Riverton, who has charge of planning and improvements; and Dr. L. P. Hall, of Moorestown, who has charge of maintenance.

Charles Williams, of Riverside, was introduced as a new member of the camp committee, who will be a field commissioner on camping in charge of promotion work for camp. Mr. Williams outlined his plans for contacting troops this fall, winter and spring.

Jack Dalton, Philadelphia, who was program director at camp, gave as outline of the camp program and County Scout Executive Darlington, who was camp director of Camp Mahala, spoke briefly on the general set-up of the policy and program.

Training Course

The first session of the Scout Leaders' Training Course was held on Wednesday evening, at the Roebing Scout Hut, Roebing, D. W. Hopkins, of Beverly, who is chairman of the leadership training committee, gave the introductory talk and told the men of the purpose of the training course. Mr. Hopkins then turned the meeting over to William C. Coles, Jr., of Moorestown, who was assisted by James L. Moore, Jr., of Moorestown, and Thomas O. Perkins, Jr., of Delanco. A baked bean supper was served to the men, preceding the meeting, by Elmer R. Leaver and members of his staff. These meetings will be held every other week. The first four sessions of the course will be for new men in scouting, who have never received training before. The second series of four meetings will be for more advanced work in programming.

BRIEF ITEMS from ABOUT TOWN

Scores of cars containing hundreds of flower lovers visited the Dreer Riverview gardens last Sunday afternoon to view the magnificent display of chrysanthemums.

A mail truck, loaded with pouches about ten deep, ten small local residents of the holiday rush as it was propelled down Main street, Riverton, last Friday afternoon.

Mischief Night passed off without any depredations of a serious nature, most of the pranksters confining their activities to acts of a harmless character.

The Millside Farms motor cavalcade in Halloween attire passed through this section late Monday evening. The procession was headed by a float on which stood a gigantic milk bottle and other display. Following this were over a score of delivery trucks. The parade attracted ed considerable attention as it came up Broad street, turned into Main and thence to Route 25.

Some of the people who reported to have seen flames in the sky from the "Marian invasion" Sunday night, had considerable explaining to do on Monday.

Don't forget to vote next Tuesday.

FACULTY MEMBERS IN NEW CLASS

Twenty-eight members of the Palmyra School faculty are enrolled in the typing and business machines class for teachers.

The first class for beginning typing will start November 8th from 4 p.m. to 5 p.m. Advanced typing will begin on December 6th, and special machine instruction will commence on the same date.

HUGHES' MANAGER IS CONFIDENT

Freeholder Fred R. Parker, Mercer county campaign manager for Richard J. Hughes, Democratic candidate for Congress, today announced that he had received the following telegram from President Franklin D. Roosevelt:

Washington, D. C., Oct. 31
Hon. Fred R. Parker
Campaign Manager for
Richard J. Hughes
Trenton, N. J.

"Anxious to know chances of Hughes being elected. Wire me at once.

(signed) Franklin D. Roosevelt.
Parker announced that after conferring with J. Sterling Davis, of Wrightstown, campaign manager for Hughes in Burlington county, he had answered the President's wire as follows:

Hon. Franklin D. Roosevelt
White House
Washington, D. C.

Telegram received. Election of Hughes to Congress looks very favorable. Expect he will carry Mercer county by 10,000, and wipe out normal Republican majority in Burlington enough to insure his election by easy margin.

(signed) Fred R. Parker,
Campaign Manager for
Richard J. Hughes.

American business spends more money for advertising than is spent for the same purpose in all the remainder of the world. The result is that while American people represent only one-seventh of the world's population, their purchases represent forty-seven per cent of the world sales.

The advanced typing and special machine divisions are being started later than the other group to allow for group instruction by the teacher in the beginning typist class for the first three or four weeks.

All classes will start promptly at 4 and close at 5. The room will be reserved each Tuesday from 3:45 on so that if some teachers desire to come early for extra practice, after the first lessons, they may do so.

Two New Fords For 1939 Shown

The two finest Ford cars in the 35 years of the company's history will be given their first public showing tomorrow at the Lester S. Fortnum agency.

The cars are individually styled. Both are of compelling beauty. Both have hydraulic brakes. Introduction of the new Fords climaxes a year of activity which saw the company embark on its current expansion program, bring out its entirely new Mercury 8, and establish the Lincoln-Zephyr still more firmly as the acknowledged style leader in the automobile industry.

The DeLuxe Ford V-8, with wholly new streamlines, has a distinctive appearance. At the same time, both it and the Ford V-8 share a family likeness with the Lincoln-Zephyr and the new Mercury 8.

The DeLuxe has a deep hood with long lines unbroken by louvers, low radiator grille in bright metal, and wide-spaced headlights set into the fenders.

Engine More Rugged

The 1939 DeLuxe is powered by an 85 horsepower V-8 engine of even more rugged construction than the 5,000,000 already in use. The Ford V-8 is offered with the same engine as the DeLuxe or with the economy 60 horsepower V-8 engine.

All Ford cars are now equipped with hydraulic brakes. Pedal action is exceptionally easy, and the brake shoes work in 12-inch cast iron drums with a total of 162 square inches of braking lining for quick stopping and long life.

A feature of the bodies of both cars is their silence. By minor changes in design and by use of newly-developed insulating materials, engine and road noises are effectively kept out of the car.

The bodies are of all-welded steel construction, and are fitted with safety glass throughout. They have clear-visibility ventilation and ventilating windshield. All body parts have large luggage compartments.

Luxury and Comfort

The interiors of the DeLuxe car are luxuriously appointed. Cushions in all body types are of entirely new construction to allow freer spring action.

The attractive interiors of the Ford V-8 bodies show careful consideration for the convenience and comfort of driver and passengers. The cushions are deep, and are wide enough for three people. There are well-placed arm rests, pillar lights and ash trays.

The Ford V-8 for 1939 has a full grille and unobtrusive louvers at the rear of the hood sides. Headlamps are recessed into the fenders. Decorative touches include a radiator

PORCH CLUB

On November 1st the Foreign Relations section of the Riverton Porch Club entertained the members with three very interesting and amusing skits grouped under the title of "International Relations." The first skit, entitled "The Pink Slip" and written by Mrs. Nathan Lane, dealt with the proposed California law to pay the sum of $30 every Thursday to those applying for a pink slip. Through one woman's misinterpretation of the pink slip the play was brought to a very amusing climax. This play was enacted by Mrs. Blair, Mrs. Hunn, Mrs. Sargent, Mrs. Anderson, and Mrs. Stetson.

In the two skits that followed, the character actors portrayed four national powers in conference over the recent war crisis. The parts were ably handled by Mrs. Blair, Mrs. Mearns, Mrs. Crowell, and Miss Murray, representing Germany, Italy, England, and France. The last skit was written by Clifton P. Mayfield and based on an article written by Dorothy Thompson.

After the plays the members all enjoyed tea which was served by the tea committee.

The Porch Club has been very fortunate in being able to secure Mr. John Gill, of Haddonfield, to lecture at the Porch Club on November 8th, at 2:30 p.m. Mr. Gill is a naturalist and an artist who has done some unusual and original work in photographing in color the rare flowers, bog plants, and the natural, unspoiled beauty of the New Jersey wilderness. Mr. Gill will show these pictures.

SCHOOL CENSUS IS AUTHORIZED

To Be Taken in Riverton by District Clerk; Audiometer Request Approved

Upon the request of the supervising principal, Miss Caroline M. Staman, the Riverton Board of Education, at a meeting held on Monday night of this week, authorized the taking of a school census in the near future.

The work will be done by the district clerk, William A. Bottger, at a remuneration of three cents per name. The enumeration will include all children and youth in the community under twenty-one.

No complete census has been taken during the past five years. The last one, according to Miss Staman, cost $20.97.

Some Opposition

Certain members of the board opposed the project, stating that it would be of little value, asserting it would soon be obsolete.

Miss Staman remarked that it was essential that the school be informed regarding new families and said she felt the advantages that would result would certainly justify the expense.

She stated that every effort would be made to keep the data as up to date as possible.

Miss Staman also requested that an audiometer be brought to the school this year for hearing tests. She said that an expert from the (continued on page 15)

Annual Meeting County Red Cross

The annual meeting of Burlington County Chapter American Red Cross will be held in St. Mary's Guild House, Burlington, on Thursday, November 10, with Mrs. Guy L. Nelson, chairman, presiding, and about 175 delegates from all over the county present.

Chapter and branch reports will be given and the election of officers for the following year will take place. Mrs. Nelson will also at that time appoint chairmen for all the different departments of the chapter.

The county roll call quota is 5000 memberships. Dean Smith is again county roll call chairman and will speak to the workers at the meeting.

Representatives of the National organization to be present are Captain Willis Conover, roll call field representative, Charles H. McFarland, general field representative of the State of New Jersey, and Otto S. Lund, manager of the District of Columbia Chapter, and who for seven years was field representative for the State of New Jersey.

Plans have been perfected for the annual event which will be held from Armistice Day to Thanksgiving. Local chairmen are as follows: Palmyra, Mrs. M. M. Klotz; Riverton, Miss Cornelia Murray.

MAURICE CONROW IS RE-ELECTED

Maurice Conrow was re-elected to the post of member of the township committee, in Cinnaminson, at the general election on Tuesday. Mr. Conrow, who, at present, is chairman of the governing body in that community, received a total of 521 votes.

Six candidates were named for justice of the peace, with Cecil Bowers getting 11 and Joseph Ober 29, all of the latter being in the third district.

MUCH PROGRESS ON FIRE HOUSE

The members of the Delaware Fire Company, No. 2, of East Riverton, are making rapid strides in the construction of their new building, located in that community on the south side of River road.

The walls and roof have been practically completed and it is expected that the work on the interior will be completed in the near future.

The building, which is of concrete block construction, will be much more commodious and suitable in every respect than the frame fire house that has housed the apparatus since the company was organized a few years ago.

MAIN ST. MARKET WILL OPEN TODAY

Independent Establishment To Be Operated by Wm. Wald and E. M. Carhart

This (Thursday) evening, at 7:30 o'clock, will mark the opening of a new food store in Riverton, when the Main Street Market, under the independent management and ownership of William (Bill) Wald and E. M. (Butts) Carhart, Jr., throws its doors open to the public.

The mart is located at 528 Main street, in the quarters occupied by the A. & P., which establishment closed its doors last Saturday.

The proprietors of the new enterprise need no introduction to local shoppers, having been identified with the management of the American Store, in Riverton, for many years.

Long Experience

Mr. Wald has been identified with the grocery business for the past 15 years and has long been manager of the grocery department of the American Store.

Mr. Carhart has a similar record, having been in the meat business for a period of 12 years and manager of meat departments for 11 years. Their courteous treatment of customers, while in business here has won them a host of friends who wish them every success in their new undertaking.

The New Store

The Main Street Market will combine all the latest display features with its spacious interior, no expense having been spared to provide the maximum in efficiency and convenience. The interior has been completely remodeled.

As one enters the market, the produce department on the left completely remodels.

FIRE IN CELLAR PALMYRA HOME

The Palmyra Fire Company by their quick response and efficient methods extinguished what might have been a serious fire in the home of Richard Polts, 103 West Charles street, Palmyra, Tuesday night.

The blaze was discovered by Mr. Polts' mother at 12:45 a.m. who immediately aroused her son and his wife who were asleep in another room.

The firemen by use of chemicals and small hose confined the blaze to a portion of the cellar rafters and the interior flames spread to the outside of the building, the high wind would undoubtedly have given the fire-fighters serious trouble.

Defective wiring is believed to have been the cause of the blaze.

ROSES IN NOVEMBER

Due to the extremely mild autumn, the Dreer rose garden, on Cedar street, Riverton, has continued to be a popular spot for visitors.

The thousands of plants growing there have been blooming profusely.

ELECTION VOTE FAIRLY HEAVY

Palmyra Third District Leads With 73.8 Per Cent of Registered Voting

A much heavier vote than in the recent primaries was registered in local communities at the general election on Tuesday, when over two-thirds of those registered went to the polls.

In Riverton, the total number of ballots cast was 1146, while the registered number 1588. The vote equaled 72.2 per cent of those on the registry lists.

Palmyra

The highest vote in any local district was polled in the fourth Palmyra, where 73.3 per cent of the registered voters cast their ballots.

The total number of votes cast was 2,112, while the registry lists show that 3,192 were eligible to go to the polls.

The fifth district showed the lightest vote in this section, only 57.3 per cent of those registered exercising their right of franchise.

Districts in Cinnaminson showed percentages of 72.2 and 68.3, these being the figures for the first and second, respectively.

mands attention.

Here is located a complete line of all fruits and vegetables displayed in an enticing manner. Daily deliveries from produce centers by the market's own truck insure the utmost in freshness.

Meat Department

Continuing on the left, the meat department occupies a spacious area, with the latest in show cases and refrigeration designed by C. B. Hill, nationally famous builders of this type of equipment.

This section will be presided over by Mr. Carhart personally. He will be assisted by Joseph Casey and Ezra Perkins, both of whom have long experience in the meat business.

Other helpers will augment this staff.

Poultry

Fresh-killed native poultry will be a specialty and there will also be a complete line of lunch meats and other products of a similar nature. Mr. Carhart assures the buying public that only meats of the highest quality will be handled.

At the rear of the store, is the assortment of butter, eggs, cheese, etc.

Groceries

As might be expected, Mr. Wald will have charge of the grocery department, with Roland Atkinson and Frank Stone as his chief assistants. Mr. Atkinson has been identified with the local American Store for the past nine years, while Mr. Stone has had a wealth of similar experience, having been a former superintendent for the A. & P. A complete staff of clerks insures prompt attention to all buyers.

The complete Kellogg line will be carried. These products, nationally famous for nearly 100 years need no introduction to discriminating food buyers, who are well aware of the fine quality and reasonable prices.

Other leading brands will also be handled so that the stock will be entirely ample to take care of the most exacting demands.

Imported Line

In addition to a complete line of domestic goods, Mr. Wald states that he will also stock a wide assortment of imported delicacies, including sardines, anchovies, caviar, English biscuit, etc., providing an assortment usually seen in only the largest food stores of big cities.

The values in all departments are exceptional and both proprietors state most emphatically that they have "real honest to goodness specials."

Delivery Service

Believing that a prompt and efficient delivery service is a most important department of a business of this nature, the Main Street Market has spared no effort or expense to take care of this detail.

A new 1939 Chevrolet delivery truck has been purchased to insure all orders being delivered when wanted at a certain time, customers can be assured of its arrival according to schedule.

Opening Night

On the opening night, nothing will be sold, but a cordial invitation is extended to all to visit the establishment, examine the facilities and inspect the stock.

Refreshments will be served, numerous free samples of merchandise will be given away and there will be an unusually large number of door prizes awarded to those present.

The store will be open for regular business on Friday morning when Riverton's largest and newest home-owned and operated market will provide the utmost in service, quality and economy to food buyers in this section.

Store hours will be from 8 to 6 o'clock on Mondays, Tuesdays and Thursdays; on Wednesday from 8 to 1 and on Fridays and Saturdays from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m.

CAMERA CLUB IN SECOND MEETING

Fifteen members of the Camera Club met Monday night at the Parish House of Christ Church River-ton, and with elaborate floodlight equipment furnished by one of the members, proceeded to take pictures of kittens loaned for the occasion by chairman, Rev. Francis B. Downs.

Cameras of all makes and descriptions, each using different film, were employed in the "shooting."

Enlargements of the pictures taken are to be presented at the next meeting to be held Monday night, November 21st.

It was also decided that a good speaker would be invited to address the next meeting upon the subject of "films."

The club as yet has refrained from forming a permanent organization hoping that more camera enthusiasts will attend the meetings.

Men and women interested in photography are cordially invited to attend the next meeting.

Board Meeting

A meeting of the executive board of the Burlington County Boy Scout Council was held at the home of Walter Hopkins in Beverly on Tuesday evening, J. Aubrey Sutton, council president, presided. An outline of the Scout leader's training course that is being held in the county was given by Mr. Hopkins, who is chairman of the training committee. His report showed a good attendance of men for the first meeting that was held at the Scout Hut in Roebling.

The second meeting will be held in Moorestown on November 16th. F. Wallis Armstrong, Jr., of Moorestown, stated in his report that the sub-chairman of the camp committee had held a meeting and that plans were in progress for the improvement of the camp for 1939 season.

William C. Avery, Moorestown, reported on a meeting of the advancement committee, which made recommendations in a change in policy on the eagle scout award. One of the recommendations that was made was that Scouts applying for this award show evidence of having demonstrated leadership ability in their troop.

County Scout Executive George A. Darlington in his report showed that the membership of the Council was well in advance of last year.

County Scout Commissioner R. H. Gill, of Beverly, stated that there were to be some changes in his staff due to one of the members having moved out of the county. He stated that the troops were making good progress and in several instances during the past month the Scouts had performed several pieces of worthwhile service.

Presents Shield

On Friday evening Scout Executive Darlington visited the Riverton, Troop 50, and presented the shield that they won recently at the Field Day that was held in Palmyra. This was accepted by Dr. Hayes Brady, Scoutmaster of the Troop.

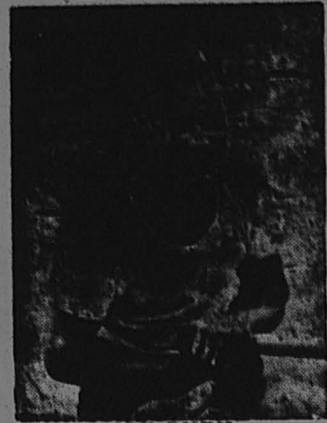

CINNAMINSON PUBLIC SCHOOL

On Monday, November 7, between seventy-five and a hundred pupils from the Cinnamonson Public School attended a performance of "The Five Little Peppers" in Delanco.

This is one of a series of dramatic presentations put on by a Little Theatre group from New York, especially for school children. Not only are the plays excellent entertainment, but all the details of diction, costume, etc., are planned with a view to their educational value.

Wednesday morning the Cinnamonson Kindergarten supplemented their group study of boats with a trip on Camden Ferries.

Such a situation easily contributes to the possible theft of your car.

FREEHOLDERS MEET ON NOVEMBER 14th

Due to the fact that Armistice Day falls on Friday of this week, the regularly scheduled meeting of the Burlington County Board of Freeholders for that date has been postponed to Monday, November 14.

CHICKEN SUPPER AT LOCAL SCHOOL

The annual chicken supper, sponsored by the Cinnamonson P.T.A. will take place on Wednesday, November 16, from 5 to 8 in the school room.

Tickets may be secured through Mrs. Thomas Mood, by phoning Riverton 866. A new feature of this affair will be an apron table, where aprons of all varieties will be on sale. The proceeds from both the supper and the apron table will benefit the general fund. Mrs. Leon Eagens is in charge of the general supper arrangements, and Mrs. Russell Musser, of the aprons.

Mrs. Eric Warnick, president of the association, attended the state convention in Atlantic City last week, as a delegate.

New York's lower Manhattan Island had 125 Christian churches 104 years ago, now only seventeen of these remain.

COTTON ROAD

New Jersey's first "cement stabilized road" was reported completed by State Highway Commissioner E. Donald Sterner in his test for "economy in construction" on farm to market arteries.

The experimental section, two miles in length, is in Hunterdon County between Ringoe and Croton in Delaware, East Amwell and Raritan townships.

During the winter months observations will be made of its stability, in comparison with the "cotton roads" and other road surfacing materials which are being tested in New Jersey to obtain the greatest mileage of serviceable highways through the expenditure of the least amount of money from a portion of the gasoline taxes paid by automobilists.

Armistice Day...

TWENTY years ago the brave young men of America proved beyond the possibility of doubt that a Democracy such as ours was worth fighting for — and preserving.

What the boys of the A.E.F. did is a matter of proud American history. Americans can do no better to celebrate their hard-won victory than to guard with every possible means and ardor the essential institutions that have made and kept America famous.

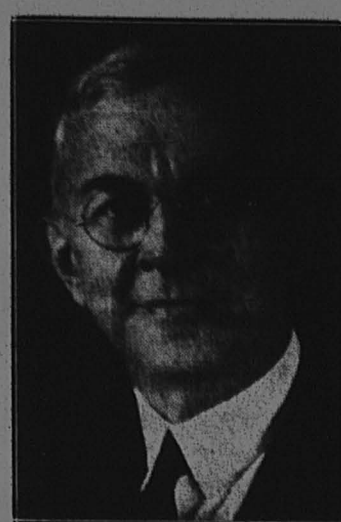

That we do this is our sacred obligation to the host of living, dead and still hopelessly maimed veterans of the World War.

CINNAMINSON BANK and TRUST CO.

Riverton, N. J.

HONORED

RAYMOND S. HANCE of Riverton, district manager for the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company in this section of the State, was honored by the company and his associates in the business last night on completion of his third decade in the telephone service. At a dinner given him at the Walt Whitman Hotel a gold emblem was presented to him on behalf of the company by W. W. Brittain, southern division commercial manager.

Hance's career in the Camden-Philadelphia area spans half of telephone history here. He began as a salesman for the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania, in Philadelphia, November 9, 1908, and by 1921 had become Philadelphia telephone manager here since 1924, for the Delaware and Atlantic Telegraph and Telephone Company and its successor, the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company. During his long tenure he has become widely known for his active participation in Chamber of Commerce, Rotary and other civic affairs.

UTILITY WAGE LEVEL IS HIGH

A recently-completed survey of employment conditions in the United States indicates that the pay-rolls of the public utility industry have held up better in the last nine years than those in most other fields. This despite soaring taxes and reduced rates. Statistics indicate that the electric and gas businesses were employing in June 92.3 per cent as many workers as appeared on the pay rolls in 1929, whereas all manufacturing industries employed 72.3 per cent of their 1929 average.

Wages in the utility industry have increased also, reports the New Jersey Public Utility Information Committee. This is apparent from the fact that while the number of employees in June of this year was 7.7 per cent less than in 1929, total pay rolls in the industry were only 1.2 per cent less than in 1929. In June, manufacturing employees numbered 27.7 per cent less than in 1929 but total pay rolls were 38.7 per cent less than in 1929.

10,000 TEACHERS AT CONVENTION

Expansion of the public school system to include adult education and recreation programs, and the establishment of state junior colleges may be endorsed by the State Teachers' Association at its annual convention in Atlantic City, November 10-12. These and other topics affecting the school-set-up will come before the business session of the convention on November 12.

More than 10,000 teachers from every community in the state are expected to attend the three-day gathering.

Life is made up not of one great sacrifice, but of many little kindnesses.

INJURED IN GAME

Richard Kline, of Riverton, star tackle of the Moorestown High School football team was injured in the first period of the game here last Saturday and carried from the field. Subsequent examination by a physician showed that his right leg was fractured above the knee.

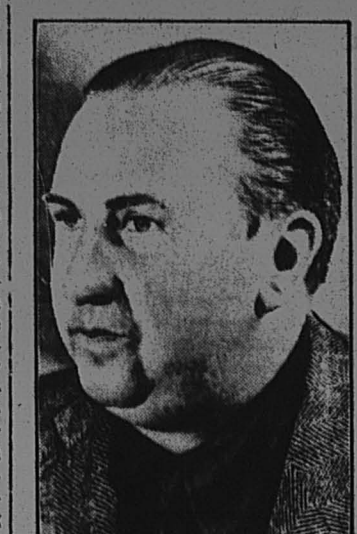

BIRTH

Dr. and Mrs. Wilbur F. Davison, of Pennsville, N. J., are rejoicing over the birth of a daughter, Joanne, on Friday, November 4, at the Homeopathic Hospital, Wilmington, Delaware.

Mrs. Davison was formerly Miss Mary Coward, of Riverton.

WHO WROTE IT?

"The Last Round-Up"

He studied fiddle in Boston with high hopes of a musical career, but drifted in search of a living to a Colorado honky-tonk.

He moved from there, organized one of the first jazz bands in the West, played wherever he could get good dates. Huge of frame and strong of muscle, the cowboy's life appealed to him, but music had the first hold and soon he was back in New York to fight for recognition.

He is fond of saying he wrote "The Last Round-Up" for the electric company. The song was actually written under the threat of having his lights shut off unless he paid the bill. That night he turned out the song and tried hard to sell it the next day. Finally he contracted a publisher who was not afraid to take a chance with a song that was not about love. He used the name then of George Brown, and under that and his own name wrote many other fine songs, including "Wagon Wheels," "Chapel in the Moonlight," "They Cut Down The Old Pine Tree." They earned him membership in the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers. His name is

NEW SHORE ROAD OPENED TODAY

Century-old dreams of a Delaware River to North Jersey Shore highway become reality today when State Highway Commissioner E. Donald Sterner removes for Armistice Day travelers the construction barriers on the final section of the new Route 40 realignment bordering the Lakehurst Naval Air Station.

Route 40 is the Philadelphia-Camden-Monmouth county express highway, designated last year by the Legislature as the John Davis-Rockefeller Memorial Highway through Camden, Burlington, Ocean and Monmouth counties.

As it clips several miles from the secondary, circuitous, congested roads formerly followed, it makes practically equal the distance from Philadelphia and Camden to both Atlantic City and Monmouth county. The reduction in driving time will permit Long Branch, Asbury Park, Belmar and other North Jersey coast resorts to bid for greater patronage from the Philadelphia-Camden areas.

Hallowe'en Assembly

On Friday, October 28th, at our assembly, Miss Paulding's class, the fourth grade, gave a program for Hallowe'en. The assembly room was darkened and everyone got the real Hallowe'en spirit.

Victrola records were played first, and on the second record the children came in masked. They walked down the aisles and up on the platform. There they marched and gave a Hallowe'en drill. After that they unmasked and sang two Hallowe'en songs.

Four girls, Janice Moreland, Thelma Davis, Althea Haberern, and Valerie Day recited a Hallowe'en poem as a choral group. The program came to an end with Mrs. Comegys playing for the children to come down from the stage. It was enjoyed by all. Bebe Carhart.

The I.E.S. Junior Floor Lamp

The attractive lamp pictured here is the I.E.S. "3-Way" Junior Floor model—the kind approved by the Illuminating Engineering Society for correct lighting. It combines direct and indirect light in three intensities. A 3-lite 50-100-150 watt Mazda bulb set in a translucent reflector behind the shade produces the light. It is soft, restful illumination; easy for the eyes to use. Price of lamp—$13.95 cash, $12.95 if you trade in an old lamp. Slightly higher on terms. Pleated silk shade in tan, gold or rust. "Education and Life" Theme
Of 38th Annual Affair
At Atlantic City

The New Jersey Congress of Parents and Teachers held its 38th Annual Convention at the Ambassador Hotel in Atlantic City, last week, with "Education and Life" as the convention theme. Mrs. Walter L. Bowen, of Riverton, presided. Approximately 500 members attended the banquet on Wednesday evening. Dr. Francis H. Greene, headmaster of the Pennington School was the principal speaker, and he asserted the entire convention centered around the welfare of the child. Dr. Greene stressed the importance of parents understanding their children and their problems. "Parents who keep themselves young are a great influence with their children," he declared, and advised them "not to get old or cold" in their relations with their children. Dr. Greene is opposed to child labor, but thinks every child should have some definite work to do to keep him out of mischief.

Dr. Ade Speaks

Dr. Lester A. Ade, commissioner of education for Pennsylvania, spoke at a session on Thursday and declared that a self-sufficient country is an impossibility today. Dr. Ade stated that the masses must learn to live together or they will eventually destroy each other, and "the blending of individual struggles into harmony is the major function of education from our point of view," he continued. "Individuals must cooperate to achieve."

In Mrs. Bowen's annual message, she expressed the opinion that the school and the home are going a little too far in "self-expression" for children. "While self-expression is all right, her message said, "some guidance should be exercised in the choice of the vehicle used."

"Along with the greater freedom which children enjoy today, it is necessary that they be taught respect for law and order, to recognize constituted authority and to observe the rights of others. And in no better way can this be accomplished than by example of the parents."

Think For Themselves

Dr. Charles H. Elliott, State Superintendent of Education, told his listeners that in high time we came realistic in our schools and taught the boys and girls the true facts about the various sides of government and business. He said that the memorizing of a lot of facts handed down by teachers, or in text books is not sufficient. "The pupils must be taught to think for themselves, to look at both sides of all questions," he continued. "They must be taught to weigh the problem, to do some independent thinking and have a desire to search for additional and perhaps more enlightening facts. There is no such thing as mass learning. Learning is individual business, as is character building."

"You cannot turn out students in much the same manner as industry turns out automobiles and lipsticks. If students are compelled to do selection and comparing, it will give them ability to think independently."

Dr. Elliott urged the improvement of guidance programs where they are used, and installation of such programs in schools which do not have them.

Evils of Marihuana

Guest speakers at the Friday morning session spoke of the dangers of marihuana smoking among youths and girls. Captain Russell A. Snook of the New Jersey State Police, and Thomas W. McGeever, agent in charge at Philadelphia for the Federal Narcotic Bureau, conducted the discussion. Miss Jessie D. Fluke, seed analyst at Rutgers University, described the marihuana plant and its growth in vacant lots, and George D. Schicks, Assistant Dean of the New Jersey College of Pharmacy, described the actions of persons smoking the weed.

Howard B. Funk, of Bronxville, N. Y., national chairman of narcotics, told the convention that schools have streamlined knowledge,

The establishment, which is independently owned and operated will carry a full line of quality groceries, meats, fruits, vegetables, dairy products, etc., at prices that will satisfy the most economical-minded housewife.

ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. William Broderson, of Harrison street, Riverton, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Kathryn Broderson, to William Cooper, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William Cooper, of Washington avenue. No date has been set for the wedding.

but are still using horse and buggy methods. "If we examine the needs of the child, we will find that there is still much lacking in the curriculum," he said. "We say, it happened to me, and it is good enough for you."

"Children should be taught to live together, work together and play together."

New officers of the Congress, who were elected at the convention, and who will serve during the ensuing year, are:

Mrs. Albert L. Gardner, of Perth Amboy, president; Mrs. Leonard G. Twitchell, of Arlington, first vice president; Mrs. Harry E. Hartman, of Trenton, second vice president; Mrs. W. B. Berthoff, Morristown, third vice president; Mrs. John MacDonald, of Ocean City, fourth vice president; Mrs. John H. Vanderveer, of Westfield, fifth vice president; Mrs. Harold Gilpin, of Merchantville, sixth vice president; Mrs. Ralph Thomas, of Phillipsburg, seventh vice president; Mrs. Morris Foulk, of Woodbury Heights, secretary, and Mrs. Maurice M. Stafford, of Vineland, treasurer.

The Riverton Parent-Teacher Association was represented at the convention by Mrs. Charles H. Yost, Miss Caroline M. Staman, and Mrs. Clifton P. Mayfield.

The Burlington County Publicity Luncheon will be held on November 19th at 1 p.m. at the Log Cabin Lodge, Medford Lakes. All those planning to attend the luncheon should communicate with Mrs. Yost, so that reservations can be made.

YWCA NOTES

The Burlington County Young Women's Christian Association will be represented at a conference for board members of rural Y.W.C.A.'s in this area, to be held at Bay Shore, Long Island, Monday and Tuesday, November 14 and 15.

The county senior Girl Reserve Council met Saturday at the home of Miss Katherine Lucchini, county Y.W.C.A. secretary, in Lumberton. At this time committees were organized for the county World Fellowship Rally, to be held in Mt. Holly this month.

Six clubs were represented by 35 girls at the central county junior Girl Reserves Council held last week at the Mount Holly Y.W.C.A. clubhouse. Mrs. John Nelson of Pemberton is acting as the council adviser.

WEEKLY GAMES AT SACRED HEART

Last Monday night another large crowd enjoyed the weekly games that are held each Monday at the Sacred Heart school hall on Linden avenue. Games have been increased from 20 to 25, or 25 games for 25 cents. The last game an award is made of ten dollars. Among those who received awards this week were as follows: H. Edwards, table lamp; Thomas Clark, sandwich toaster; Mrs. R. Polis, shell set; Helen McDermott, cocktail set; George W. McCord, kitchen set; H. W. Howe, electric iron; Anna Grogan, silver set; Mrs. Wilson, traveling set and mantel clock; Anna Grogan, toaster; Albert J. Smith, traveling bag, and Harry C. Sim, bridge lamp and ten dollar award.

ically the same vote, the figures being: Riverton—Stokes, 935; Fraser, 179. Palmyra—Stokes, 1,345; Fraser, 648. Cinnaminson—Stokes, 555; Fraser, 236.

County Candidates

Pre-election reports of considerable Democratic strength in respect to the county candidates of that party failed to materialize, since all Republican nominees breezed ahead with little opposition.

Clarence G. Price, Republican nominee for Freeholder, got 914 votes in Riverton, while John C. Sauer, Democrat received only 189. In Palmyra, Price was the choice of 1,336 voters, while his opponent was named on 710 ballots.

Price, with 562, more than doubled the vote for Sauer in Cinnaminson, the latter obtaining 224.

Sheriff

F. George Furth, of Moorestown, Republican candidate for Sheriff, showed about the same strength in the three communities as the rest of the ticket.

His vote was: Riverton—Furth, 921; McHugh, 186. Palmyra—Furth, 1,354; McHugh, 653.

Cinnaminson—Furth, 651; McHugh, 236.

Dewitt Steedle, the nominee of the Republican Party for Auditor, also received substantial majorities in all three communities. His vote in Riverton was 937 as compared with 176 for Radcliffe, Democrat. In Palmyra, the count was, Steedle, 1,310; Radcliffe, 692, while in Cinnaminson the figures were, Steedle, 577; Radcliffe, 223.

Coroners

Russell M. Stoddard and Hiram H. Earnest, Republican candidates for Coroner, both outdistanced the lone entry in this field and both received practically the same vote in all three communities.

Lafferty, the Democratic candidate, ran far behind in Riverton, while his vote in Palmyra and Cinnaminson was about half of that of the Republican nominees.

The candidates of the Prohibition, Communist and Socialist parties for member of the United States Senate and House of Representatives received a few scattering votes in the eleven districts that are in the three local communities.

MAGEE WARNS ON WINTER DRIVING

With storms and more dangerous driving conditions resulting from ice and snow just "around the corner," it behooves motorists to be prepared for all emergencies, Motor Vehicle Commissioner Arthur W. Magee warned this week.

Decreased speed and greater caution are the first considerations for the prevention of accidents but Commissioner Magee has some practical suggestions that have to do with the car itself. He urges checking the windshield wiper and defroster; have the tire chains ready; brakes tested for simultaneous gripping and lights in condition to penetrate falling snow.

List of Don'ts

Other precautions that are a guarantee against winter accidents are as follows:

Apply brakes with clutch engaged before you ordinarily would in dry weather.

Don't depend on the horn.

Don't ride with the windows entirely closed. To do so prevents the use of hand signals and the possible danger of carbon monoxide gas.

Take curves slowly and don't attempt to pass cars on hills or grades.

Keep the windshield free from sleet and rain that turns to ice and obscures vision.

Give pedestrians ample time in which to cross street.

For pedestrians, Commissioner Magee advises them to walk slowly and carefully and not to rely on the ability of all motorists to stop on snow and ice.

Some men are like telescopes; you draw them out, see through them and then shut them up.

At a meeting of the Cinnaminson Township committee held on Tuesday night of this week, the township engineers reported that the W.P.A. road project was going ahead in a satisfactory manner.

It was also stated that a number of local men had been given employment. This was of considerable satisfaction to township officials, since no citizens from Cinnaminson had previously been assigned to the work.

Certain phases of the project have been held up temporarily, due to the fact that gravel could not be obtained at a satisfactory price, but it is expected that this matter will be cleared up in the near future.

Other business transacted included the remittance of taxes that were uncollectible for a number of reasons.

Lamon Agency Has New F. H. A. Service

After months of research it is with a great deal of pleasure that the Walter D. Lamon agency offers to the public its facilities for F.H.A. loans up to twenty-five years. F.H.A. mortgages are available for refinancing, renovating and new construction.

This agency has for some time been studying the requirements for construction or renovation of dwellings situated in New Jersey. According to Mr. Lamon it is now possible for the renter to purchase his own home with a small down payment and monthly charges including paying off mortgages. This might be possible at a monthly charge that is less than his present rental. Under the new 90 per cent F.H.A. mortgage plan, the down payment required by the buyer of a new home is only 10 per cent.

Up to 80 Per Cent

Those owning their homes at the present time may borrow up to 80 per cent of the present value to pay back-taxes, assessments, mortgages, also for renovating, painting and making general improvements to the property. Lamon said "This seldom requires a cash outlay by the owner and pays everything to date. The property owner pays monthly under such a plan."

In addition to cheerfully furnishing anyone with all the information necessary for refinancing any existing property, the Lamon agency is equipped to advise the public with the standard construction requirements under the F.H.A.

Every time a girl gets interested in a novel the heroine reminds her of herself.

Dearden states, adding that there exists real evidence that motorists are trying to prevent accidents. "The record would indicate that drivers are beginning to realize that operating a motor vehicle is a job in which alcoholic beverages have no rightful place or part."

McDERMOTT'S RUN ELECTRIFIES FANS

70 Yard Jaunt First Score Against Quakers' Locals Get 6-6 Deadlock

Playing inspired football, the Palmyra High gridders rose to new heights last Saturday afternoon, before an Alumni Day crowd of 3,000 pushing Moorestown all over the lot to earn a 6-6 deadlock that might have been a clean-cut win, had not injuries cut down the Red and White effectiveness during the crucial minutes of the last quarter.

The highlight of the afternoon was the 70-yard touchdown jaunt of Captain Paul McDermott, who put his team out in front on the first play of the second period.

Locals Get Jumpy

Palmyra, electing to receive, started the initial touchdown drive on their own 35. McDermott ripped off 20 yards on the second play, while O'Neil and Flournoy tore through the Quakers to make another first on the Moorestown 30.

The enemy braced at this point and took the ball on downs, but Palmyra got a break on the first play, when a fumble of the opposition was recovered by an alert warrior of the Red and White.

Three line plays and an incomplete aerial failed to make the necessary yardage and the locals again surrendered the oval to their opponents.

Moorestown Gets Going

At this juncture, the famed Moorestown assault got under way with Johnson, Whitcraft and Isenberg reeling off three downs in rapid succession.

This drive advanced to Palmyra's 30 before the Dimondmen braced and took possession.

Up to this point there was little to choose between the merits of the two teams, but McDermott's run soon put a different aspect on the situation.

Breaks Clear

After the teams changed goals, Palmyra's next play was a plunge off guard, usually a non-spectacular affair. This one was different, however, and the forward wall opened a nice hole for the Palmyra captain.

With the quickness of light, he dodged the two of the secondary and was in the clear, with only Isenberg blocking his path to the goal.

It seemed almost certain that the Palmyra player would be caught, because Coach Isenberg did not select his son as safety man solely on his good looks.

But McDermott had other ideas and evaded the Quaker back with such dexterity that the crowd was scarcely able to tell how it all happened. At any event, the local fullback set sail for pay territory with the speed of a greyhound and was never headed.

A placement try for conversion was wide.

Opposition Strikes

Moorestown lashed out with sudden effectiveness to knot the score before the half was over. One of the enemy kicks rolled off of bounds on the Palmyra 5 to start things.

McDermott booted to his 45, but Isenberg ran the pigskin back to the 30.

McQuade plunged for 8 yards and Isenberg romped to the 10 on a nice bit of deception.

Moritz cracked the Palmyra line to knot the score.

After this, Isenberg dropped back for a try at placement conversion,

BANQUET TICKETS GOING RAPIDLY

Reservations Must Be Made By Next Monday for Affair Nov. 17

Those who intend to be present at the Annual Banquet of the Memorial Park Softball League are reminded that Monday of next week is the last day on which tickets for the affair can be obtained.

The festivities are scheduled to take place on Thursday evening, November 17, at the Red Hill Inn, starting at 7 o'clock promptly.

Final arrangements for the affair were made at a meeting of the committee held on Monday night of this week.

All those selling tickets are requested to be present at a meeting to be held on Monday of next week, in the Riverton fire house to report on the number sold.

Bountiful Dinner

The committee in charge of the arrangements has spared no effort to make the affair one of the outstanding events of the year and the members state, without hesitation, that the $1.00 charge for tickets will provide the utmost in value that could possibly be secured.

As the purpose of the affair is not to raise money, all receipts are being devoted to defray the cost of the full course dinner, entertainment and prizes.

Already a large number of people have signified their intention of attending so those who may decide at the last minute to go are warned that such a procedure may find them unable to secure admission.

Full Program

From the time the dinner gets under way until late in the evening, the program committee has arranged a series of events that insure never a dull moment.

Music, a floor show, interesting speakers and numerous other forms of entertainment, including several surprise features are included.

No great amount of build-up or ballyhoo is necessary for the affair, because those in charge feel that the evening's schedule is a "natural" in the form of everything desirable in the entertainment field.

The one important thing to remember is to make your reservation early.

Country Club Notes

Men's League

Last week's bowling was marked by some fine set scores on the part of several pin toppers.

Lippincott's team leads the Hendrickson entry by one game.

High singles—Hagstoz, 233; Hackett, 219; Warner, 205; Lippincott, 211.

High three—Anderson, 177, 185, 193, total, 555; Elliott, 177, 182, 182, total, 541; Hagstoz, 191, 233, 190, total, 614; Hackett, 165, 180, 219, total, 564; Lippincott, 182, 211, 185, total, 578; Coe, 199, 196, 169, total, 564.

IRISH TO CLASH THURSDAY NIGHT

The wrath of the Irish will surely and clearly be demonstrated Thursday night in the Camden Armory for Promoters Frank and Ray Hanly will feature two of Erin's outstanding grapplers in a grudge match that should make wrestling history.

The behemoths are Danno O'Mahony, former world's champion and who hails from County Cork and Steve (Crusher) Casey, of County Kerry. They are to battle it out in a two out of three fall match with a 90 minute time limit.

This fray marks the third time they have clashed and it promises to be the hottest duel ever staged in the history of the drishled.

Gino Vagnone, the youthful Italian from Illinois whose work on the armory mat, is the best that has been seen this season is due for another tough tussle when he clashes with Chris Zaharias, Colorado Creek, in the semi-final of one fall with a half hour limit.

Dynamite Joe Cox, the burly Misourian and a windup performer in his own right, is forced to accept the third position on this week's show and will face the two fisted Jack League. Hank Barber and Ed Meske will have it out in the second fray, while the opening bout will serve to introduce a new hooded grappler in the Red Devil and he collides with Ed Strangler White of Alabama.

At any event, the rejuvenated locals intend to give the opposition something to think about and, if they play as they have the past two weeks, it would not be surprising to find Palmyra racking up the fourth win of the current campaign.

Gloucester Next

Gloucester will be met on Saturday, November 19, while the annual Turkey Day engagement with Riverside will wind up the season.

The last named outfit has been coming along fast and this fracas should be a natural. Past records mean nothing when Palmyra and Riverside clash and, although the latter turned in a win last Saturday over Burlington, the Rams will find plenty to keep them occupied on Thanksgiving morning.

South River, Gloucester and Riverside Games Remain On Palmyra Slate

The Moorestown affair last Saturday marked the last appearance of the Palmyra football team on the local sod this season, the remaining three games on the slate being booked for foreign soil.

On Saturday afternoon of this week, the Red and White takes a trip to South River, where the giant gridders of that community will provide the opposition.

The two teams met here last year in an engagement that was played in a sea of mud.

High Scores

The next opponents for the Dimondmen have run up some high scores thus far this season, but, since the quality of the opposition is not known, this may mean little or nothing.

At any event, the rejuvenated locals intend to give the opposition something to think about and, if they play as they have the past two weeks, it would not be surprising to find Palmyra racking up the fourth win of the current campaign.

PHILATELIC NEWSBITS

By S. E. Griffith

Turkey Constitution Issue

Turkey will issue six stamps at a future date, not as yet announced, to honor the U. S. Constitution. President Roosevelt's portrait and a map of America will be the subjects on the 6K, 8K and 12½K values while the flags of Turkey and the United States will appear on the 2½K, 3K, and 7½K values.

New U. S. Stamps

Two more Presidential stamps will be issued on November 22. These will be the 21 cent and 22 cent stamps picturing Arthur and Cleveland respectively. The first value mentioned will be printed in steel blue and the second in dark red.

The $5 stamp portraying Calvin Coolidge will be issued on November 17. This stamp will have a red frame with black vignette.

Leif Ericsson Stamps

Iceland has just brought out a very attractive miniature sheet of three stamps in honor of Leif Ericsson. The 30 ore stamp pictures a monument of Ericsson, the 40 ore stamp pictures a statue of Ericsson, and the 60 ore stamp bears a map of Iceland.

The Braxep stamp, announced in this column several weeks ago, has been issued in a miniature sheet of ten stamps. This stamp is a 400 reis denomination and bears a likeness of Sir Rowland Hill. The stamp also bears a reproduction of the "Penny Black" of Great Britain and the "Bull's Eye" of Brazil.

North Presents Program

Roy M. North, acting third assistant Postmaster General, has announced quite a comprehensive program for the Post Office Department. Last week we published the announcement of Robert E. Fellers concerning some of the new issues.

North's announcement was practically an "answer" to Feller's announcement of the previous week but in addition he spoke of the "Famous Persons" Series. Rumors concerning this series have always spoken of 10 stamps. It is likely that this series may be designed to honor many prominent Americans connected with the arts and sciences and be scheduled to appear over several years. Whether it be 10 or 50 stamps, Walt Whitman seems very certain to be honored.

World's Fair Exhibit

The department will also attempt to erect a large building at the New York World's Fair for philatelic purposes. An extravaganza showing of the stamp issues of this country will be on exhibition with a branch Philatelic Agency open to the public. Foreign countries will also be invited to include their stamps both for exhibition and sale.

Children's Edition

The fact that the illustrated booklet on stamps of the U. S. has been such a large seller, the Department will issue a Children's Edition in the near future. In this issue, all stamps of non-historical interest will be eliminated with the text written so that a child can use it in building his stamp collection.

Local P. O. to Cooperate

Mr. North states that a concrete plan will be presented to all post offices for their information and instruction for aiding local stamp organizations. Many post offices have opened philatelic windows and it is very likely that this procedure will be advanced.

My own comment would be that about the only assistance the Palmyra or Riverton office would need would be to obtain well centered stamps. Sometimes we are honestly led to believe that the agency gets the well centered material and the local post offices get what is left.

Wimer to Exhibit Liechtenstein

MEETING OF HOSPITAL AUXILIARY TODAY

Miss Bernice Bonner, of the Burlington County Hospital at Mount Holly, will be the speaker at the meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the hospital to be held this (Thursday) afternoon at 3 o'clock in the home of Mrs. Alexander C. Wood, Jr., "Harmony Hall," Moorestown-Riverton road.

Miss Bonner's subject will be "Hospital Insurance for Burlington County." Reports of local auxiliaries will also be given.

STATE POLICE - FARMERS HOLD ANNUAL DINNER

The thirteenth annual dinner and get-together meeting of the State Police Department and the representative of the agricultural organization in the State of New Jersey was held on November 2, at the State Police Training School, Wilburtha.

This annual meeting is held for the purpose of discussing mutual problems having to do with better service in policing the rural sections.

One of the high lights of the meeting was a discussion concerning an appeal to the farmers to unite with the police and other governmental agencies in the war on Marihuana, a drug described as a menace to the youth of our Nation. Captain Russell A. Snook, Supervisor of the State Bureau of Identification, of the New Jersey State Police, told the representatives that Marihuana is a problem confronting all of the people of this country, rather than the police alone. The talk followed a report by Colonel Mark O. Kimberling, State Police Superintendent, on the work his organization has done in rural areas during the past year.

Armistice Day 1938

By RAYMOND PITCAIRN

At the Arc de Triomphe, in Paris, which rises the undying flame . . . At the Cenotaph, in London, where black-veiled women weep . . .

At the Memorial Amphitheatre, in Arlington, where sleeps our Unknown Soldier . . .

At these and many other shrines sacred to the memory of hero dead, the world once more pays reverent tribute.

For again we observe Armistice Day—this year on its twentieth anniversary. Again we honor the men who died in the hope that they were making the world a happier place in which to live.

To the young this celebration may mean much or little. But to millions of older men it brings each year more poignant emotions. Not only the recollections of gay and sturdy comrades who now sleep in honored graves. Not only disappointment because a brave new world which was to rise from the ashes of holocaust failed, somehow, to materialize. But deeper still, a sense of loss and loneliness when the high courage and the high idealism that marked those days is compared with the attitude of many of our leaders today.

Then the men in high places preached a united nation pressing onward to great and noble ends. Now, too many of them preach a message of group and class hatred.

Then we were told that it was the duty and the privilege of citizens loyally to aid and support their nation. Now, from countless political platforms we hear the reverse—that the people should expect the Nation to support them.

Then men strove for leadership on the basis of what they could do for America. Now, too many of them speak only of what they can get for their political supporters.

Undoubtedly these attitudes are temporary. Only the body of the Unknown Soldier is dead and buried. The spirit there represented is eternal. And if this year's celebration serves to bring that spirit more actively into our National life; if the observance recalls to men, in high place or low, the exaltation that comes with true co-operation toward a noble end—then Armistice Day will again have served its great and patriotic purpose.

GAME SEASON OPENED TODAY

Full game bags and many thrills for licensed hunters participating in the upland game season which opens today (Thursday) and closes on December 15, were predicted today by the New Jersey Fish and Game Commission as sportsmen of the State prepared for annual trips to favorite hunting places.

Liberation of thousands of rabbits, pheasants and quail throughout the State during the past year, coupled with natural increases in wild life population in the field, should result in a satisfactory season for all sportsmen, the commission announced.

Archers Can Hunt

Volunteer winter feeding programs conducted by sportsmen's organizations during the past year together with vermin hunts and crow shoots, supplemented the large liberation program of the commission, and have aided in increasing the game population of the state. Game management programs well underway in New Jersey's public hunting and fishing grounds located in various sections of the State, have also increased the game population.

For the first time this year, under a new 1938 law, the hunting of game birds and animals is legally permitted with bow and arrow. Another new statute opened all counties of the state for the shooting of quail during the upland game season with the exception of Essex, Bergen, Hudson, Passaic and Union.

Bag Limits

Rabbits, hares, male ring-neck pheasants, quail, ruffed grouse and squirrels will be in season throughout the state from November 10 to December 15 inclusive. The shooting of female pheasants is prohibited by law. Daily bag limits include 10 quail, 6 rabbits, 6 gray squirrels, 3 ruffed grouse, 2 male pheasants (30 in season). Each hunter must conspicuously display on his outer clothing the button bearing the same number as his license.

Rutgers Student Body
90% NEW JERSEY BOYS
New Jersey boys comprise more than ninety per cent of the student body at Rutgers University, according to figures made public this week by Luther H. Martin, registrar. Of the record enrollment this year of 1,681 students, 1,526, or 90.8 per cent, are natives of the Garden State. The remaining 155 students come from twelve other states, the Panama Canal Zone, and England.

Super Markets

Not so long ago, one of the large grocery chains was reported to have intentions of locating a super-market in Palmyra.

Believing that such an establishment would make tremendous inroads into the business of local merchants, the governing body of that community wisely passed legislation which quickly removed such ideas as chain officials might have been considering.

Foiled in the attempt to locate here, a market of a similar nature was established in a nearby community, and its wares are prominently advertised in this section.

The general practice of such stores is to feature a small number of specials that are commonly known as "loss leaders." These are sold at cost, or even less, the idea being to get people into the store in the belief that they will make purchases of other articles on which a profit is made.

The only REAL saving is, therefore, on the "loss leaders," and this in most cases, will hardly pay for the cost of operating a car to and from a market several miles distant.

Don't be misled by so-called "bargains." Your local independent merchants are a vital part of the community and can be depended upon to give you honest value for your money.

Chain stores do little for the community except to pay rent for the quarters which they occupy. In many cases, the employees are not even local residents.

Where super-markets are established in other communities, the only "benefit" to the local citizens is an apparent saving, which, after all, may be purely imaginary when the quality of the goods and cost of transportation are considered.

Time For A Change

No man is allowed to operate a railroad locomotive—though it runs along a predetermined track, with every conceivable safety device to prevent accidents—without long and rigorous training, and periodic examinations for health and capability.

No man can command a ship—though it plies oceans and waterways where the chance of collision with another vessel is microscopically small—without similar training and examinations to determine fitness and ability.

No man can fly an airplane—though its "highway" is the empty air—without providing absolute proof of his competence.

Yet any man can operate an automobile down crowded streets and highways, where the margin between safe passage and a possible serious accident is a matter of inches, no matter how ill-fitted he is to drive safely.

That fact largely explains our gigantic motor vehicle toll. In some states no examination of any kind is required to obtain a driving license. In others not even a license is needed—the most ignorant and incompetent can get behind the wheel and roar away, endangering everyone in his path. And in most of those states where drivers' licensing systems have been established, the law is usually inadequate and prevents only the most obviously incompetent from endangering the public safety.

Physical infirmities, bad vision, defective hearing, and, most important of all, psychological handicaps that make safe driving impossible—these are found in literally millions of people who are today operating steel juggernauts capable of hundred-mile-an-hour speeds. We'll never go far toward solving the accident problem until every state takes the steps necessary to making certain that no person is given a license without providing proof of reasonable capability and a thorough knowledge of traffic regulations. We've let the incapable drive as they pleased—and they've made our highways a shambles.

Over here we measure airplane speed by saying that a man can breakfast in Los Angeles and eat his dinner in New York. In Europe people think, if they do not say, that a man may breakfast in Berlin at 7 and drop a bomb on London at 9.—New York Times.

That man may last, but never lives—Who much receives, but never gives.—Gibbin.

N. J. CROP REPORTS

White Potatoes—The October 1 condition of the crop indicates an average yield of about 185 bushels per acre, as compared with 180 bushels, the average yield per acre in 1937 and 160 bushels, the average annual yield per acre for the ten-year period, 1927-1936. On the basis of the October 1 condition, the total production this year will amount to about 9,850,000 bushels, as compared with 10,080,000 bushels harvested in 1937 and 7,203,000 bushels the average annual production for the ten-year period, 1927-1936.

Apples—The condition of the unharvested total crop on October 1 was 67 per cent of a normal, indicating this year a total production of 4,249,000 bushels, as compared with 5,463,000 bushels harvested in 1937 and 3,484,000 bushels the average annual production for the ten-year period, 1927-1936. The commercial crop is estimated at 2,900,000 bushels, as compared with 3,600,000 bushels harvested in 1937 and 2,336,000 bushels, the average annual production during the ten-year period, 1927-1936.

Taxes and Industry

From 1936 to 1937, New Jersey enjoyed an increase of 1,350 industries. It is estimated that about 50 of these moved into New Jersey from other states. With astute, keen-minded industrial leaders selecting this state as a desirable location for their plants, there is a decided trend for a greater industrial New Jersey. Outstanding among the reasons for this trend in New Jersey's favorable tax situation. New Jersey is fortunate in being free from many of the burdensome taxes levied upon individuals and businesses of most other states. For example, we have not personal income tax, no corporate income tax, no sales tax, no domestic corporation franchise tax, and no industrial license or income tax on gross receipts.

Many Advantages

Certainly New Jersey has many advantages to attract industries. Centered in the most populous area of the country, New Jersey is close to a vast, profitable market. Diversity of industry provides a supply of efficient, skilled labor. Recreational facilities are unexcelled.

Nevertheless, New Jersey's tax plays a paramount part in the development of new industries. While onerous taxes are driving industries out of many states, New Jersey has won wide-spread recognition as a haven for tax-economy seekers.

Manufacturers must study overhead costs with extreme care when they plan to open new plants. High taxes mean higher production costs that cut into profits by reducing the margin of profit, and by making competitive prices difficult. Hence, no alert manufacturer will establish his business in a new location until he has made a careful survey of tax conditions in the new area.

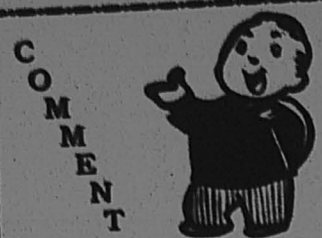

Low Taxes

Heedful of the tremendous advantages in bringing new industries to New Jersey, and the important part played by low taxes as an inducement to new industries, the New Jersey Taxpayers Association has waged a constant campaign for the reduction of taxes. Realizing that the taxpayer's interest is the interest of the majority, the Association has opposed strenuously every threat of new taxes, and at the same time has advocated extensive reduction of present taxes.

The task of keeping down taxes is not an easy one. Powerful political interests continually oppose any curtailment in governmental expenditures. They strive to keep public payrolls high, and promote governmental spending programs. This pressure from influential minority groups tends to deprive the taxpayer of the benefits from governmental economies unless his interests are guarded jealously.

Influx

New Jersey has profited considerably by keeping her taxes favorable in comparison to other states. The influx of new industries proves beyond a doubt that these industries appreciate the advantage of low tax-

Health Question: Is there any approved serum for the treatment of cancer?

Doc Says:

Medical research is seeking for a serum which will arrest or cure cancer but none of the serums so far produced have been endorsed by organized medicine. The medical profession in New Jersey is conservative in its acceptance of new procedures; refusing to be rushed into the general application of measures which are still in the experimental stage.

Serums to counteract cancer may be perfected in the future but until they are proven conclusively effective and safe to use, the physicians of New Jersey prefer to use the present approved means for treating cancer. These are surgery, radium, and x-ray, alone or in combination.

This feature is prepared by The Medical Society of New Jersey, an organization of physicians of the state.

SLIGHT DEMAND FOR 1938 AG. YEAR BOOKS

Not more than 50 farmers of Burlington and Mercer counties have to date taken advantage of Congressman D. Lane Powers' announcement that 1938 Agricultural Year Books will be given away who apply at his Trenton or Washington offices.

The county farm agents of both counties—A. C. McLean, in Mercer and Charles A. Thompson, in Burlington—are contacting leading farmers in their district asking if they wish the publication. Results from their efforts are expected to be noticed next week, when the Congressman's allotment of 400 books will begin to rapidly dwindle.

The 1938 book, recently published, contains an excellent section on "Soils and Men," which is expected to be especially interesting to those farmers who have soil erosion problems.

Powers also declared he has more than 200,000 Agricultural Bulletins to his credit, and will be glad to fill requests for bulletins in any amount from residents of his district.

The first European attempt to settle Texas was in 1520 by Alonso Alvarez de Pineda, according to evidence unearthed by a librarian at the University of Texas.

New Jersey Cranberries

Cranberries are traditionally served at Thanksgiving and Christmas with turkey, goose and chicken but are just as tempting and tasty with pork, veal, ham or lamb. Serve cranberries for their sippy, tart flavor and their healthful vitamin C content. Serve cranberries for color—to bring cheer to your table.

Perhaps you have not eaten a cranberry salad or a mock cherry pie. Here are the recipes.

Mock Cherry Pie
2 cups cranberries 1/2 cup water
1 cup seeded raisins 1/2 tsp. salt
1 1/4 cups sugar 1/2 tsp. almond extract

Pasty
Chop cranberries; add other ingredients. Line a deep pie shell with crust; add filling and cover with another crust. Sift the top crust to allow steam to escape and bake at 425 degrees for thirty-five to forty-five minutes.

Cranberry Sauce
1 lb. cranberries 2 cups sugar
1/2 cup cold water

Combine cranberries, sugar and water. Heat to the boiling point and boil slowly for twenty minutes. Skim the foam from the top as it forms. Pour into a bowl, cool and place in refrigerator to chill.

Cranberry Salad
2 cups cranberries 1/2 cup cold water
1/2 cup sugar 1/2 tsp. salt
1 1/4 cups water 1/2 cup diced apples
1 tsp. gelatin 1/2 cup diced celery
1/4 cup chopped walnuts

Cook cranberries in water until all have burst. Add sugar and cook five minutes longer. Soak gelatin in 1/4 cup cold water for three minutes, add to hot cranberries and stir until dissolved. Add salt, strain and when mixture begins to congeal fold in the apple, celery and nuts. Pour into a mold and chill until firm. Serve on crisp lettuce, with mayonnaise.

Cranberry Mold
1 pkg. lemon gelatin 1/2 cup celery, cut fine
1 1/2 cups boiling water 1/2 cup shredded pineapple
Juice of 1/2 lemon 1 cup cranberry sauce

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Chill. When thickened add lemon juice, celery, pineapple and cranberry sauce. Turn into a mold and chill until firm. Serve on lettuce with mayonnaise.

Cranberries With Meats
Cook cranberries with your inexpensive cuts of meat. The berries add extra flavor and richness. For each three pounds of meat, add two cups of raw cranberries to the juice while cooking.

ATHLETICS WILL BE DISCUSSED

Subject to Be Theme for Next Palmyra P.T.A. Meeting November 15th

The monthly meeting of the Palmyra P.T.A. will have as its program "School Athletics." The session will be held Tuesday evening, November 15. Talks will be given on various phases of both boys' and girls sports activities. Miss Beatrice Mattison, head of the Physical Education for girls has prepared a message about the "Value of Physical Education." Much emphasis will be placed upon reasons for including physical education in the school curriculum. A demonstration will follow this talk.

Boys' Side

The boys' side of the athletic program will be explained by Messrs. Dimond and Terrell. Mr. Dimond's talk will be about the "Relationship of Athletics to Physical Education." A follow-up topic will be discussed by Mr. Terrell when he will present "The Benefits of School Athletics after Graduation." As can readily be seen a well rounded program has been arranged to better explain the physical education program of the school system.

Membership

Mrs. Harold Marshall, chairman of the membership committee wishes it known that the membership drive will end this Saturday, November 12. All parents wishing their children to receive credit in home rooms for the P.T.A. prize, kindly join before this date.

Come out and help swell our P.T.A. membership for your child, your school and yourself.

Publicity.

MANY SUSPENDED SENTENCES IN N. J.

Every sixth automobile driver convicted in the courts of the state during the first eight months of the year for infractions of the motor vehicles and traffic acts got off with a suspended sentence. Motor Vehicle Commissioner Arthur W. Magee announced this week. The number of cases reported to the department for the period was 66,667.

During August, there were 9,387 convictions as compared with 12,040 in the corresponding month last year. The reduction was 22 per cent. Speeding was the leading violation with 3,769 convictions. Others were reckless driving, 328; drunken driving, 87; hit and run, 55; causing death, 7; careless driving, 1,743; ignoring stop street signs, 426; passing signals, 567, and miscellaneous, 2,405.

No Criticism

Commissioner Magee has no criticism to make of the large number of suspended sentences reported, preferring this to ticket 'killing' which he says, encourages disrespect for law and safety. The commissioner advocates suspension of driving licenses as the most effective safety measure in all cases where bodily injury, or death, followed an accident caused by a violation of the law. "The driver should not lose sight of the fact," added the commissioner, "that although the trial concludes with a suspended sentence, it is nevertheless a conviction that is charged against his driving record and that when two or more convictions are reported, he is regarded as a habitual violator and may lose his driving privilege."

CAR ON FIRE

The Riverton fire department made a quick response shortly after 9 o'clock last Friday morning for a small blaze in the car of H. E. Moyer, Fulton street. The car backfired while the owner was attempting to start it and excess gasoline flared up briefly. The flames were quickly extinguished by means of a hand chemical and Mr. Moyer drove the machine off shortly afterward. Damage was negligible.

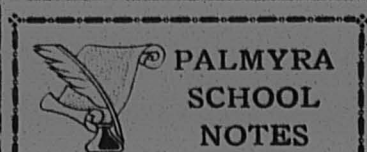

If Stalin has regimented the Russian women—which we doubt—he's the greatest man of all time.

MISSING AUTO IS LOCATED QUICKLY

The Ford cabriolet belonging to Harold Wagner, member of the Athletics cast, became lost, strayed or stolen last Wednesday evening, but was found an hour after the affair had been reported to the police.

Mr. Wagner had parked the machine on Elm avenue, below second, but found it missing shortly afterward.

The car was located at Second street and Morgan avenue, having been used by some unknown person who returned it as near as possible to its former location and then decided to remain anonymous.

PALMYRA SCHOOL NOTES

Help to Make Band Uniforms. Members of the home economics classes, under the direction of Miss Mildred R. Lawrence, did a splendid job last week in re-lining the band caps and sewing band lyres on the caps. They also adjusted the uniforms the proper length. It is estimated that these girls saved the school about $50-$75 by their work.

PHOTOGRAPHER AT ROTARY MEETING

Among hobbyists few give as much pleasure to others as the amateur photographer whose work is of professional quality. When in addition he is widely traveled and can interestingly present his photographs to lighten and make personal his travel talk, then his hobby becomes of exceptional interest. In this category falls Hartley C. Gove, of Vineland, head of the well known instrument manufacturing company bearing his name.

Mr. Gove took the members of the local Rotary Club on a transcontinental tour of America, at the last meeting, to visit the International Convention of Rotary at San Francisco which was held last June. Robert G. Adams, of the local club, who attended the convention, was instrumental in bringing Mr. Gove to Riverton to show on the screen selected views from the more than five hundred he took on the trip. Harold Kulp, a past president of the Vineland Club, who was also on the convention trip, assisted Mr. Adams in giving interesting side lights on some of the scenes and events.

Boulder Dam Views

In showing views of the Boulder Dam and its impounded lake the interesting statement was made that although the lake was not yet filled the volume of water there is sufficient to provide every man, woman and child in the world with drinking water for twenty-five years. The showing was made particularly interesting by the pictures of well known spots taken from the air on the return trip of Mr. Gove. There was seen Boulder Dam and lake as it appeared on a recent postage stamp, the Grand Canyon with new and unfamiliar contour and shadow, the Rockies with all the aspects of jagged peak and desolation which gives concern to air pilots.

Mr. Gove took large numbers of pictures similarly on the convention trip to Nice last year, and to Mexico City several years ago, and the club looks forward to seeing these on some future date.

ALLEYS OPEN SATURDAY

The Palmyra Bowling Alleys will, starting this week, be open on Saturday afternoons, starting at 1 o'clock.

The local team in the South Jersey League, will roll here on Saturday evening.

RIVERTON School Notes

The seventh grade gave a play entitled "Our House of Books" written by Bebe Carhart. The first scene was on Main street, of Riverton, while the second scene showed the Riverton Public Library. The reason of the play was to teach pupils the purposes of the library, how to join, and where to locate the various reference books.

Gwen, Bebe Carhart; Jim, Dick Wanger; Kay, Jane Cook; Librarian, June Rodman. Several other children also took part.

—Betty Blackwell.

Friday, November 18th, the Eighth Grade Civic Club will give a special assembly as a combination celebration of Education Week, Armistice Day, and Thanksgiving. This is the only regular assembly period during the remainder of the month.

Beware Cannibal Sandwich

Cut out the cannibal sandwich is the advice of the State Department of Health, as pig killing time arrives. The health department again warned against the eating of undercooked pork. Tiny parasites are present in some of our pork, but are easily rendered harmless by cooking. Recent findings of medical men show it probable that these Trichina may be the cause of many rheumatic pains in muscles or joints and some heart-disease pains, as well as the recognized symptoms of Trichinosis.

Most hot dogs contain pork. Hamburgs are sometimes mixed with pork and the amount of cooking may not be enough to penetrate the center of the meat, so these commonly used snacks may be harmful, the same as all other insufficiently cooked pork. While this parasite is not present in all pork, the results of eating pork not thoroughly cooked is a gamble without any chance of winning.

to the community is about $21 a year under this arrangement, which amount represents the approximate cost of a 100 candle power lamp, the minimum size of any value at all as a street lighting unit.

The abbey bells now hang in the north-west tower, but in the middle ages the belfry was a massive detached building which stood on the site of the present London Guildhall. It had walls of immense thickness, and above it rose a tall spire. It was demolished in the eighteenth century.

CHURCH NEWS

CENTRAL BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. George Lockett, B.D., Pastor

Services Sunday, November 13, 10:00 a.m. Bible school. Departments and classes with capable teachers who interest themselves in the future of their pupils. To the parents, we suggest bringing your children. To the children, we suggest inviting your parents.

11:15 a.m. Morning worship. "Take Heed of Thyself" will be the subject of the sermon by the pastor. This is the duty that devolves upon every individual in order that we may have a more perfect social order. Something that is needed today. It is a subject in which we should be vitally interested. The service will also include inspirational anthems by the choir.

6:45 p.m. B.Y.P.U. The senior and high school groups invite the young people of our communities to these most helpful services. Come out and bring your friends.

7:45 p.m. Evening worship. The pastor has arranged to exchange pulpits for the evening service with Rev. Eric Osterlie, of the Collingswood Baptist Church. Mr. Osterlie is well known in this vicinity for his forceful messages which are received with much enthusiasm by the young as well as the old. Members of the congregation are especially urged to be present to welcome the visiting pastor, and to invite their friends.

Solos and anthems by the choir will greatly aid in making this service most enjoyable.

EPWORTH M. E. CHURCH

Rev. W. A. Boyd, Pastor

Our church will participate in the "Christian Fellowship Crusade" observance of over 25,000 Methodist Churches throughout the United States and a full program has been planned here. A Fellowship meeting will be held every evening from eight to nine o'clock, beginning this Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. The crusade will continue for two weeks. The objective of this crusade is "to bring ourselves back to the basic age-long fact that the Church is a Christian Fellowship within the world-order, and that we need to intensify our experience of fellowship with each other and with God."

The Rev. Dr. C. A. Richardson, field secretary of the Board of Home Missions, will be the speaker this Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. Dr. Richardson is a very great preacher with a wonderful message. Dr. J. G. Bickerton, D.D., will assist the minister in these meetings. The fellowship themes are to be studies in the lives of the men with whom our Lord fellowshiped. "Andrew, the Man Who Found the Pearl"; "John, the Man of the Rubicon"; "James, the Son of Thunder"; "Peter, the Coward"; "Philip, the Wise Appraiser"; "Nathaniel, the Man of Two Worlds"; "Matthew, the Man of Business"; "Thomas, the Man Known by His Faults"; "Simon, the Zealot"; "Jude, the Man Who Had a Heart"; "Judas Iscariot, the Man Who Saw the Better and Chose the Worse"; "Jesus Christ, the Champion and Friend of Man."

Unusual music will be contributed every service. This Sunday evening the Epworth Male Quartet and the choir will sing. The Men's Chorus and a Women's Chorus will be heard during the week. Young People's groups, Bible classes and special organization groups will participate and speakers representing every department of the Church will be heard. Members and friends of the Church are invited to help make this crusade a means of real Christian fellowship.

PEACE COUNCIL MEETING

The Philadelphia Peace Council, a cooperative endeavor of over 100 organizations in this territory, is sponsoring a mass meeting in the Academy of Music on Armistice Day, at 8 o'clock. This meeting will be addressed by Dr. Mary E. Woolley, President Emeritus of Mount Holyoke College; Dr. Daniel A. Poling, minister of the Baptist Temple; and Mr. Norman Thomas, author, editor and lecturer.

CALVARY PRESBYTERIAN

Rev. Charles T. Bates, B.D., Pastor

At the morning worship at Calvary Church at 11 o'clock the musical selections will be "Reverie" by Nicodem; "Traumerei" by Schumann; and "Postlude" by Parker. The choir will sing Haydn's, "The Heavens Are Telling," from The Creation.

The mid-week church service will be on Wednesday at 8 p.m.

During the week starting November 20, there will be the annual every member social visitation when all the families of the church will be visited in the interest of closer social fellowship.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

"Mortals and Immortals" is the lesson-sermon subject for Sunday, November 13, in all Christian Science Churches and societies throughout the world.

The Golden Text is: "If any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new." (II Corinthians 5:17).

Among the lesson-sermon citations is the following from the Bible: "For we know that if our earthly house of this tabernacle were dissolved, we have a building of God, an house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens." (II Corinthians 5:1).

The lesson-sermon also includes this passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "In divine Science, God and the real man are inseparable as divine Principle appear, and immortals, or the children of God, will appear as the only and eternal verities of man" (p. 476).

YOUNG PEOPLE'S

EPWORTH LEAGUE

The feature of this Sunday evening's service will be the colored junior choir from the Methodist Church in Riverton. Last Sunday there were 36 present so this Sunday we are aiming at 40 to hear the choir sing their spirituals. On November 20, at 6:45 p.m. we are holding a young people's service which will include all the organized groups from the several churches in the community. Mrs. Arthur Mandeville will be the speaker and a mixed quartet, from Audubon, will furnish the music.

All young people of the community who are not affiliated with any other group are cordially invited to attend these services any Sunday evening at 6:45 p.m. at the Epworth M. E. Church.

COUNTY WOMEN'S CLUB

TO PRESENT TWO PLAYS

Final rehearsals are being held for the two one-act plays and fashion show which will be presented in the auditorium of the Wilbur Watts High School, Burlington, on Wednesday night, November 16, under the auspices of the Burlington County Business and Professional Women's Club.

The plays, "Two Crooks and a Lady," a drama, and "The Unseen," a comedy, are in their final rehearsals with the casts well known in amateur dramatics in this section. Mrs. Edith Shreve, of Riverton, prominent dramatic coach who spent more than ten years on the legitimate stage in New York, is directing the players.

After they teach a baby to talk they have to turn around and teach him to keep quiet.

OBITUARIES

RICHARD D. BARCLAY

Richard D. Barclay, of Lippincott avenue, died on Saturday, November 5, at his home.

Funeral services were held on Monday at 10:30 a.m. with interment in Westfield Friends Burying Ground.

The deceased is survived by his wife, and four children, Walter, Emily, Richard and Elizabeth, all of Riverton.

Mr. Barclay was for many years a member of the state board of agriculture and a former member of the Riverton Board of Education. He held the position of president and other offices in the New Jersey Bee Keepers Association and was considered a national authority on apiculture.

MRS EMMA HODSON

Mrs. Emma Hodson, widow of Albert H. Hodson, died at her home on Wednesday.

Funeral services will be held on Saturday at 2 p.m. from the Snaver Funeral Home, the Rev. William A. Boyd officiating.

Friends may call Friday evening. Mrs. Hodson is survived by four children.

SIDNEY D. ALBERTSON

Captain Sidney D. Albertson, of Morgan avenue, died on Wednesday morning after a severe case of pneumonia.

Funeral arrangements have not as yet been completed.

BREAKS LEG

SAFETY RULES FOR GUNNERS

1. Treat every gun with the respect due a loaded gun. This is the cardinal rule of gun safety.

2. Carry only empty guns, taken down or with the action open, into your automobile, camp and home. Do not load your gun until you are actually in the field and hunting—unload it the moment you leave.

3. Always be sure that the barrel and action are clear of obstructions. In heavy brush or snow open the entire action and glance through the barrel occasionally.

4. Always carry your gun so that you can control the direction of the muzzle. Keep a firm grip on the small of the stock—you wouldn't merely balance a stick of dynamite on your shoulder.

5. Always be sure of your target. If you can't be sure, don't shoot.

6. Never point a gun at anything you do not want to shoot. Keep the muzzle of the gun pointing away from any part of your own body and from any other person, especially when loading, unloading, taking off the safety or working the action.

7. Never leave your gun unattended for a moment, unless you unload it first.

8. Never climb a tree or a fence with a loaded gun. Put your gun through or over the fence, then pick it up from the other side.

9. Never shoot at a flat, hard surface or the surface of the water. Ricochets travel in unforeseen directions.

10. Gunpowder and alcohol mix into a deadly potion. If men have to have liquor while in the hunting field, keep them away from the guns. Injured feelings are easier to repair than injured bodies.

WHAT TO DO WHEN TIRES BLOW OUT

What is the best thing to do when a tire blows out?

Recent highway fatalities in which tire blow-outs were a factor raise a question as to the competency of the average driver to deal successfully with this type of emergency.

The Keystone Automobile Club of New Jersey declares. To help the motorists avoid trouble under such circumstances the club advises:

Don't slam on the brakes.
Don't release the clutch.
Don't release the clutch.

"The natural tendency of the driver when a blow-out occurs is to press hard on the brakes," said Trevor B. Mathews, manager of the Camden Division of the club.

"Driving experts agree this is the wrong thing to do. Instead, the driver should concentrate his attention on keeping the car on the road and allowing the decelerated motor to act as a brake in slowing down the vehicle.

To Keep Car on Road

"Quick application of the brakes may result in the car overturning. Releasing the clutch may throw the car into a skid. The big job of the driver when blow-out occurs is to steer. If he can keep the car on the road and prevent skidding he will avoid the horrors which often are the accompaniment to blow-out accidents."

It is further stated, for the benefit of drivers who never had experience with blow-outs, that a car always swerves in the direction of the blow-out; that is, if a left tire is affected, the swerve will be to the left, and vice versa. Another good thing for drivers to remember is to steer in the direction of the skid; that is, if the skid is to the left, steer that way. The car cannot be brought out of a skid by turning in the opposite direction.

BAND LEADER SURPRISED

William G. Irons, director of Irons Metropolitan Band, of Burlington, was tendered a surprise birthday party last week by members of his family and the band. It was in celebration of his 70th anniversary. The organization has been in continuous and active existence for over 40 years. During that time many famous musicians have played under his baton. The band will be remembered by local residents for its many appearances in this section.

The ill-timed truth we might have kept—who knows how sharp it pierced and stung?—Edward Rowland Sill.

SPORTS JOTTINGS

McDermott's touchdown was the first that has been scored this year against Moorestown.

Enemy rooters complained that their team had an off day. According to this observer, the Quakers had a smart team on the field, their only difficulty being that Palmyra was a trifle superior.

Junior Isenberg's sleight-of-hand stuff didn't work so well. Palmyra watched him too closely.

In the matter of first downs, both teams had eight, two of the Yellow and Black's coming in the waning moments of the encounter.

Palmyra took to the air on nine occasions, completed three and had a pair intercepted. Their rivals assayed the aerial route five times and were successful twice.

The locals took the field with three veterans in the ranks of spectators, Marshall, Gamble and Rothbaum being on the permanently injured list.

PARKERS' APPEAL POSTPONED AGAIN

The appeal of Ellis H. Parker and his son, Ellis, Jr., from their conviction of conspiracy charges in connection with the Paul H. Wendel kidnapping, was postponed until November 16 when called Tuesday in U. S. Circuit Court, Philadelphia.

U. S. Attorney John J. Quinn, prosecutor of the Parkers, was unable to attend the appeal hearing because of a "confidential conference" he was attending in Newark.

In setting the case back, Judge John Biggs stated it was the "final postponement" and that the case must be heard on November 19.

James Mercer Davis, Sr., George Silzer, former New Jersey Governor, and Harry Green, attorneys for the Parkers, agreed to the postponement.

THREE DAY DRIVE FOR CHILDREN'S HOME

Ingathering Day for the Burlington County Children's Home will be Wednesday of next week, November 16. This will mark the end of the three-day drive which should bring to the Home many of the necessities for its living. A family of more than sixty persons requires a great deal in the course of a year and this annual drive always does much to make the burden a bit lighter.

Mrs. John W. Bottcher, of Mount Holly, is the chairman this year and she has working with her fifteen other chairmen from as many sections of the county. Too much cannot be said of the fine work being done by Mrs. Bottcher and her group. They have all been sincere in their efforts and the results of their work will be seen on November 16.

Up to the age of twenty any old show will do, but after that nearly everybody ducks amateur performances.

JERSEY MARRIAGE LAW IS MODERN

New Jersey's premarital blood test law has been endorsed by the American Social Hygiene Association and is being used as a basis for model law for other states, according to advices received recently by Dr. J. Lynn Mahaffey, State Health Director.

The national organization made its decision after considering the New Jersey statute, and similar laws in effect in a half dozen other states.

Dr. Mahaffey today said that while the number of marriages performed in July and August, the first two months of the New Jersey law operation, show a decrease when compared with the corresponding months of last year, he anticipates that the situation will adjust itself in the near future, as was the case in Connecticut.

State Board of Health would accompany the apparatus and conduct the tests. Miss Staman also remarked that the information obtained was especially valuable.

The request was granted with one dissenting vote, a stipulation being made, however, that ample publicity be given before the apparatus is used.

Condolence

A resolution of condolence to Mrs. R. D. Barclay was adopted. Mrs. Barclay, lately deceased, was a prominent member of the board for several years.

The records of the district clerk and custodian of school funds were recently inspected by the State Department of Education and the report from that organization showed them to be in very good condition.

For Trips

The transfer of the sum of $200 from the teachers' salary account to other expenses for education was authorized.

This is to defray the expenses of certain educational trips as explained in Miss Staman's report.

YOUR GARDEN

WHAT TO DO THIS WEEK

By A. C. McLean Extension Service, N. J. College of Agriculture

The time has come to prepare the garden for its long winter rest. Perennial beds and borders and shrub plantings should be gone over with particular attention to seeing that the plants are firmly settled in the ground. The crowns of herbaceous plants should be well covered with soil and all the old tops removed.

It is always advisable to destroy old dying tops of herbaceous plants and all weeds by burning. Although some humus is destroyed, this treatment prevents disease organisms from being carried over from one year to the next. It is usually cheaper to buy manure or some other organic fertilizer than to fight disease. Leaves of trees may be used safely for composting, however.

Rake Leaves

In particular, all leaves on rose bushes which have been affected by leaf spot diseases should be raked up and burned. Some will be missed, but much of the infection will be destroyed, for the disease organisms are harbored on dead leaves. Also examine rose bushes for dead wood and remove this carefully. Dead wood in a rose bush may be caused by rose canker, a serious disease which cannot be cured. If the crown of the plant seems dead, it is better to pull up the bush and replace it.

In general, the perennial border should be given a fall cleaning as thorough as that which the homeowner gives her house.

BREAKS LEG

SAFETY RULES FOR GUNNERS

1. Treat every gun with the respect due a loaded gun. This is the cardinal rule of gun safety.
2. Carry only empty guns, taken down or with the action open, into your automobile, camp and home. Do not load your gun until you are actually in the field and hunting—unload it the moment you leave.
3. Always be sure that the barrel and action are clear of obstructions. In heavy brush or snow open the entire action and glance through the barrel occasionally.
4. Always carry your gun so that you can control the direction of the muzzle. Keep a firm grip on the small of the stock—you wouldn't merely balance a stick of dynamite on your shoulder.
5. Always be sure of your target. If you can't be sure, don't shoot.
6. Never point a gun at anything you do not want to shoot. Keep the muzzle of the gun pointing away from any part of your own body and from any other person, especially when loading, unloading, taking off the safety or working the action.
7. Never leave your gun unattended for a moment, unless you unload it first.
8. Never climb a tree or a fence with a loaded gun. Put your gun through or over the fence, then pick it up from the other side.
9. Never shoot at a flat, hard surface or the surface of the water. Ricochets travel in unforeseen directions.
10. Gunpowder and alcohol mix into a deadly potion. If men have to have liquor while in the hunting field, keep them away from the guns. Injured feelings are easier to repair than injured bodies.

WHAT TO DO WHEN TIRES BLOW OUT
What is the best thing to do when a tire blows out?

Recent highway fatalities in which tire blow-outs were a factor raise a question as to the competency of the average driver to deal successfully with this type of emergency. The Keystone Automobile Club of New Jersey declares: To help the motorist avoid trouble under such circumstances the club advises:

- Don't slam on the brakes.
- Don't release the clutch.
- The natural tendency of the driver when a blow-out occurs is to press hard on the brakes," said Trevor B. Mathews, manager of the Camden Division of the club.

"Driving experts agree this is the wrong thing to do. Instead, the driver should concentrate his attention on keeping the car on the road and allowing the decelerated motor to act as a brake in slowing down the vehicle.

To Keep Car on Road
"Quick application of the brakes may result in the car overturning. Releasing the clutch may throw the car into a skid. The big job of the driver when blow-out occurs is to steer. If he can keep the car on the road and prevent skidding he will avoid the horrors which often are the accompaniment to blow-out accidents."

It is further stated, for the benefit of drivers who never had experience with blow-outs, that a car always swerves in the direction of the blow-out; that is, if a left tire is affected, the swerve will be to the left, and vice versa. Another good thing for drivers to remember is to steer in the direction of the skid; that is, if the skid is to the left, steer that way. The car cannot be brought out of a skid by turning in the opposite direction.

BAND LEADER SURPRISED
William G. Irons, director of Irons Metropolitan Band, of Burlington, was tendered a surprise birthday party last week by members of his family and the band. It was in celebration of his 70th anniversary. The organization has been in continuous and active existence for over 40 years. During that time many famous musicians have played under his baton. The band will be remembered by local residents for its many appearances in this section.

SPORTS JOTTINGS
McDermott's touchdown was the first that has been scored this year against Moorestown.

Enemy rooters complained that their team had an off day. According to this observer, the Quakers had a smart team on the field, their only difficulty being that Palmyra was a trifle superior.

Junior Isenberg's sleight-of-hand stuff didn't work so well. Palmyra watched him too closely.

In the matter of first downs, both teams had eight, two of the Yellow and Black's coming in the waning moments of the encounter.

Palmyra took to the air on nine occasions, completed three and had a pair intercepted. Their rivals asayed the aerial route five times and were successful twice.

The locals took the field with three veterans in the ranks of spectators, Marshall, Gamble and Rothbaum being on the permanently injured list.

JERSEY MARRIAGE LAW IS MODEL
New Jersey's premarital blood test law has been endorsed by the American Social Hygiene Association, and is being used as a basis for a model law for other states, according to Dr. J. Lynn Mahaffey, State Health Director.

The national organization made its decision after considering the New Jersey statute, and similar laws in effect in a half dozen other states. Dr. Mahaffey today said that while the number of marriages performed in July and August, the first two months of the New Jersey law's operation, show a decrease when compared with the corresponding months of last year, he anticipates that the situation will adjust itself in the near future, as was the case in Connecticut.

State Board of Health would accompany the apparatus and conduct the tests. Miss Staman also remarked that the information obtained was especially valuable.

The request was granted with one dissenting vote, a stipulation being made, however, that ample publicity be given before the apparatus is used.

Condolence
A resolution of condolence to Mrs. R. Barclay was adopted. Mr. Barclay, lately deceased, was a prominent member of the board for several years.

The records of the district clerk and custodian of school funds were recently inspected by the State Department of Education and the report from that organization showed them to be in very good condition.

For Tips
The transfer of the sum of $200 from the teachers' salary account to other expenses for education was authorized.

This is to defray the expenses of certain educational trips as explained in Miss Staman's report.

The report of the auditor, Charles S. Rockey & Co., for the year ending June 30, was read. All accounts and records were found to be in excellent shape.

Richard M. Woodward, reporting for the property committee, stated that recommendations regarding certain equipment for cleaning the heating system and for work on the floors would be made at the next meeting.

Miss Staman's Report
Excerpts from the report of the supervising principal follow:
Enrollment—boys 106, girls 127, total—233.

Attendance—boys 95.0, girls 93.3, total—94.0.

"Attendance has been good, helped undoubtedly by the fine weather. Two cases of chicken pox and three of whooping cough have caused some anxiety."

"Dental and medical examinations have been completed. Nineteen children have attended three regular dental clinics. Medical cards have been sent out and remedial work has started."

"Ten children have been sent to Dr. Roger's office for special examinations. The nurses have made sixty-one calls to the homes of children absent from school."

New Census
"It is also time to take a school census again as no complete census has been taken since 1933 and the law allows for this special census every five years. The last census included children from birth to the age of twenty-one as called for by the form used in the county and compensation was fixed at three cents for each name. At that time the total cost was $20.97."

"To supplement regular classroom work the 7th grade domestic science class visited the cold storage plant; 2nd grade saw the exhibits given by the Hopi Indians at Snellenberg's and found and dug clay for pottery; 4th grade, the 1st grade took a trip on a railroad train."

Educational Tips
"The state department now makes an appropriation for educational tips. I quote from information sent out from Dr. Kaser's office: 'The board of education should set up an allowance in its budget for trips. This allowance should not be in excess of $1.00 per child enrolled in the school.' When this is done and proper procedure followed for approval of the trips a 75 per cent refund is granted for transportation. I should like to see this suggestion followed."

"Miss Danley, who is in charge of domestic science in the state, has held two meetings of the county domestic science teachers in our school."

"Twenty-six garments made in the sewing classes were sent to the Needlework Guild."

Visits of Parents
"Hallowe'en parties in 1st and 3rd grades brought thirty-three parents

YOUR GARDEN WHAT TO DO THIS WEEK
By A. C. McLean Extension Service, N. J. College of Agriculture

The time has come to prepare the garden for its long winter rest. Perennial beds and borders and shrub plantings should be gone over with particular attention to seeing that the plants are firmly settled in the ground. The crowns of herbaceous plants should be well covered with soil and all the old tops removed.

It is always advisable to destroy old dying tops of herbaceous plants some humus is destroyed, this treatment prevents disease organisms from being carried over from one year to the next. It is usually cheaper to buy manure or some other organic fertilizer than to fight weeds by using safely for composting, however.

RAKE LEAVES
In particular, all leaves on rose bushes which have been affected by leaf spot diseases should be raked up and burned. Some will be missed, but much of the infection will be destroyed, for the disease organisms are harbored on dead leaves. Also examine rose bushes for dead wood and remove this carefully. Dead wood in a rose bush may be caused by rose canker, a serious disease of the plant which cannot be cured. If the better to pull up the bush and replace it.

COUNCIL RESENTS DARBY STATEMENT

Borough Not Over-Expended as N. J. State Auditor
Asserted Recently

Palmyra Council at its meeting held last (Tuesday) night protested the release by Walter R. Darby, state commissioner of local government, of a financial statement in which he alleges the Palmyra Borough Council, along with many other municipalities, over-expended their 1937 budget to the extent of $623.24.

Councilman Buchholz charged that the so-called "over-expenditure" was the result of a "Darby book-keeping system" that was no better than any other. He further stated that the borough actually had under-expended its budget and had added $1257.94 from the dog license damage fund to an already existing surplus account.

Book-Juggling

Following considerable discussion of the affair, which has been reported in many parts of the state as insignificant and only a technical affair of book-juggling, Mayor John F. Ward named a committee of C. Nevin Buchholz, William Engle and Charles K. Mervine to draw up a letter protesting the release of the so-called Darby publicity and send copies of the same to the Governor, Assemblymen, Senator and the New Jersey League of Municipalities.

A motion by Councilman T. Curtis Flynn, of the Parks and Property committee, to have a letter forwarded to the Pennsylvania Railroad requesting that the walk across the tracks on the south side of Cinnaminson avenue at Broad street be made passable was unanimously passed. The fact was brought out that the walk was not only dangerous but also only about two feet in width.

Borough Map

Progress in the constructing of a borough map by Councilman Wright was reported. The map, however, will not be completed for some time. It will be approximately 6 foot square and will be a great aid to the council body in forming a zoning ordinance.

Tracks Again

The much-discussed unused tracks on Broad street again came up for discussion resulting in authorization for a letter to be forwarded to the Board of Freeholders requesting action in the matter.

Mayor John F. Ward welcomed the second of a group from Palmyra High School to the council chambers. Two students were representatives of the sociology class and 11 from the local government. A similar group was present at the preceding meeting accompanied by James Hughes, faculty member. Following the report of George N. Wimer, Palmyra Welfare Director, the governing body adjourned until Monday evening, November 14, at which time the bond anticipation

Knight and Shrader Elected to Council

Things were very quiet in Riverton at the general election as far as any local battle was concerned, both Republican candidates for borough council being elected without opposition.

Robert W. Knight received a total of 928 votes in the three districts, while his running mate, Earl A. Shrader got 933.

There were scattering votes in all three districts for justice of the peace. As usual, the election officials in the first district were among the first in the county to complete the tabulation of the vote.

ALUMNI PLAN DANCE NOV. 26

The Palmyra High School Alumni Association wishes to announce that arrangements have been completed with the Burlington High School Alumni Association to hold a joint Thanksgiving Dance. Stated for November 26, the affair will be held at the Log Cabin Lodge, Medford Lakes and will feature the rhythms of Chuck Gordon and his 13-piece orchestra. Popular Betty Kirk will handle the vocals. Tickets are priced at $1.98 per couple and dress is optional.

Mrs. Emma Coates, of 610 Highland avenue, was the guest of honor at a family dinner on the occasion of her birthday on Wednesday.

Plans for this dance have been under way for some time, and in view of the successful affairs of the past that have been co-sponsored by the associations of Palmyra and Burlington, there is every indication that this dance will prove even more successful.

In addition, the association wishes to thank all alumni who participated in the Alumni Day held last Saturday. The undertaking proved highly successful, from the football game to the dance held in the evening, and may be regarded as an annual event.

OBJECTION OVER DISPOSAL PLANT

Proposed Site Criticized As Harmful to Properties
In Vicinity

Objection to the proposed site of the sewer disposal plant was read before the regular meeting of Riverton Borough Council Thursday evening. The protest was in the form of a letter from the attorneys representing the Henry A. Dreer estate. The communication among other things pointed out that the proposed sewer disposal plant would be in sight of train traffic and traffic along the River road. Its proximity to the present trial beds and greenhouses of the Dreer Nursery would be an objectionable feature and also that property values in the vicinity would be greatly depreciated. It was decided to refer the letter to the borough attorney for reply.

Mayor Biddle stated that in his opinion the proposed site would damage property values less than anywhere else, and also the visible construction would be no more objectionable than the appearance of greenhouses.

More Amieite Laid

Councilman Sylvester reported that amieite paving had been completed for two thirds of the distance between Broad and Fourth streets on Linden avenue. It might be possible to do more later he stated.

He also reported that the highway department was clearing away leaves wherever possible. Councilman Kane called to Mr. Sylvester's attention a new light-colored amieite paving used in Norristown, Pennsylvania, which he stated made a very nice appearing highway. Mr. Sylvester agreed to inspect the Norristown streets at his earliest convenience.

Mr. Sylvester presented an application for State Aid in the dirt road fund for amieite paving for Seventh (continued on page 2)

Howard Taylor Guest Of Honor

Howard G. Taylor, of Riverton, for the past five years president of the Burlington County Y.M.C.A. Board; who relinquished this office at the annual meeting in May, was the guest of honor at a dinner meeting held in the Moorestown Community House on Wednesday evening, November 9th. There were 68 present, including the wives of the Y.M.C.A. board members, and the Y.W.C.A. board members and their husbands.

Mr. Taylor's successor, President Benjamin J. Roberts, was the toastmaster. Greetings were extended by Mrs. Richard B. Eckman, county Y.W.C.A. president, and by Miss Katherine Lucchini, the county Y.W.C.A. secretary, who spoke on the world fellowship program in particular the work of the Y.W.C.A. and Y.M.C.A. in China, where she served with the Y.W.C.A. before coming here. Walter Stokes, reviewed some of the highlights of Y.M.C.A. history during the past five years. Frank W. Fischer led the singing, and two special vocal selections by Mayor John F. Ward, of Palmyra, were enjoyed.

Mr. Taylor responded by stressing what he considered should be some of the major aims and objectives of the County Y.M.C.A. for the years ahead. He very graciously expressed his appreciation for the recognition accorded him, and stated he had gained much more than he had contributed during his term as president.

Upon leaving the dinner tables, the guests assembled in the women's club room and spent an hour playing games, which were directed by Secretary Guy C. Hendry.

FURTH ASSUMES SHERIFF POST

In the presence of more than 250 friends, F. George Furth, of Moorestown, was sworn in as sheriff of Burlington county on Tuesday afternoon of this week.

Sheriff Furth announced that he would retain as under-sheriffs W. Roland Warrick, of Mt. Holly, and Raymond Johnson, of Riverside.

Atwell Wright, of Mt. Holly, and Mark Atkinson, of Burlington, were also appointed wardens.

Russell M. Stoddard and Hiram H. Earnest, recently elected coroners were also inducted into office by the county clerk.

Dewitt H. Steedle, who succeeds Mr. Furth as county auditor, will probably be given the oath of office by Judge Hendrickson at a later date, since he is still recovering from an appendicitis operation, at Norristown, Pa.

FIRE DESTROYS LEIDY'S TRUCK

Prompt Action by Firemen Prevents Explosion of Gasoline Tank

Shortly after 1.30, on Tuesday afternoon of this week, fire wrecked the delivery truck owned by P. S. Leidy, local butter and egg dealer. The blaze, which was of unknown origin, was discovered by Mr. Leidy while the car was parked on Thomas avenue, near the river bank. He immediately called the Riverton Fire Department, which made a quick run to the scene, but the machine was entirely enveloped in flames by the time the apparatus arrived.

Brisk Wind

The rapid spread of the fire is attributed to the fact that the truck was headed toward the river and, as a brisk wind was blowing, the flames were whipped back into the body of the commercial vehicle.

A chemical line, later supplemented by a water line from the booster tank, was used to extinguish the flames. Prompt action on the part of the firemen prevented an explosion of the gasoline tank which, if taken place, might have endangered houses nearby by the blazing truck.

The fire evidently started under the dash, since the engine was practically undamaged.

From the windshield back, however, the interior was almost completely burned out, the stock carried being a total loss. The intensity of the blaze was evidenced by the fact that the glass in the windows was almost entirely melted.

THE PORCH CLUB

Miss Bessie Howard, who as usual, spent the summer abroad observing international relations, lectured at the Porch Club on November 10th to a large audience. Miss Howard gave some very interesting high lights on the international situation, dwelling particularly on the Czechoslovakian people and her admiration for them. She likened them to the American people and said that we and they have many traits in common.

It is Miss Howard's opinion that Sudeten Germans had no real desire to secede from Czechoslovakia, but were carried to this point by Hitler's plans. She also informed those present that Sudeten Germans had their own schools, churches, theatres, etc., and that she thinks it very unfortunate that Czechoslovakia had to be sacrificed for Mr. Chamberlain to gain his point—Germany as a barrier between Russia and England. Miss Howard lightened her otherwise serious talk with some very amusing anecdotes of her travels abroad.

TRANSPORTATION DISCUSSED HERE

Riverton Council Requests
Inclusion in Proposed High Speed Line

Transportation in all of its branches occupied a good portion of the business transacted by Riverton Borough Council at their regular meeting held Thursday evening. The members unanimously passed a resolution offered by Councilman Knight requesting that the riverfront towns of Palmyra, Riverton, Riverside, Beverly, Edgewater Park and Burlington be included in the original application to the P.W.A. for high speed transportation sponsored by the South Jersey group. Councilman Knight stated that similar resolutions are being passed in the other communities named in the resolution.

Councilman Knight met with representatives from the other riverfront towns upon the invitation of Councilman Buchholz, of Palmyra. Another transportation meeting will be held next Wednesday night at Palmyra, Mr. Knight reported.

Bus Service

Mr. Knight complained to the representative of Public Service present at the meeting about existing bus service to North Camden. He stated that many riders to the riverfront towns are forced to wait because Burlington and Trenton buses are crowded with riders to North Camden. Mr. Knight suggested that special service for North Camden riders would greatly relieve the riverfront bus situation. The Public Service representative agreed to make a survey with the view of bettering the service for everybody concerned.

Train Taken Off

Councilman Knight called to the attention of Council that the Pennsylvania Railroad had attempted to remove a Sunday morning train but the Utilities Commission had denied the application. This train, the 11.29 Westbound, does not appear on the time table. This, Mr. Knight stated, was in violation of the spirit of the Utilities Commission ruling, and offered a resolution that the borough clerk write a formal complaint to the commission. This motion passed unanimously.

Note: The above mentioned train has definitely been removed from Sunday train formerly run westbound at 11.29 a.m., eastbound at 4.53 p.m. and eastbound at 5.27 p.m. on holidays. With the removal of this train there remains but one train eastbound on Sundays, at 9.17 p.m., and one train westbound at 9.58 p.m.

PARKING SPACE IN RIVERTON

Chief William Goote, of Riverton, wishes to call attention of residents to the fact that ample space for free parking in the business section is now available in the borough owned lot on the west side of Main street, opposite the former location of the Roberts building.

There are no restrictions regarding parking at this location.

G.O.P. PLANNING FOR BIG DINNER

The Burlington County Republican Committee will sponsor a dinner at the Mount Holly armory on Saturday night, December 10. This decision was reached at a meeting of the county committee, in Mount Holly, on Monday night.

The details for the affair were assigned to the executive committee of the county organization and they will be arranged under the general direction of the committee's chairman, George N. Wimer, of Palmyra. The distribution of tickets will be handled through the county committee members and it is expected that they will get together a crowd of no less than 1000, as this is to be an affair in which all Republicans are expected to have a great interest. In a way, it will be a celebration of the great victory that county Republicans had last week. Announcements will be made as rapidly as plans develop.

TAX APPEAL CASE GETS DISMISSAL

County Board Declines to Review Assessments
Of Prior Years

The Burlington County Board of Taxation last week dismissed a taxpayer's appeal filed by Freeholder Palmer L. Adams, seeking a huge assessment against the personal property of the estate of the late Dr. John T. Dorrance, resident of Cinnaminson township.

The board, concluding that it could not review assessments of prior years, finally rejected claims against 1938 levies on grounds that an appeal was not the proper action. Adams was told the board would set a hearing if he wished to file a complaint rather than an appeal, or that as an alternative he could file his appeal with the State Board of Taxation.

Attorneys

Representing the Dorrance estate were former Judge William D. Lipincott, proctor of the estate; State Senator Clifford R. Powell, and Albert McCay, Jr., Powell's law office staff. Representing Cinnaminson township was Walter Carson, township solicitor. Adams represented himself.

Asks Dismissal

Powell immediately moved dismissal of the claims against 1931 to 1937 under the statute of limitations. He charged, too, that the petition of appeal was not properly served, that executors did not get the five days' notice required by law and that there was no specific statement as to the nature and location of the property on which it was claimed assessments were low.

The board then dismissed the appeal for the years prior to 1938. On the claims against 1938, Powell contended that the appellants failed to show any untaxed property for 1938 and reiterated all the claims he had made concerning the alleged omissions for previous years.

Adams Objects

Adams objected to Powell's request for a second dismissal. He said further that it was the board's duty to subpoena the volumes of records on the Dorrance estate from the Surrogate's office. These, he said, would show what was taxable.

Adams claimed he had done all that was required by law, that notice of the appeal had been served on John B. Tilton, secretary of the tax board, and the clerk of Cinnaminson township. He said no action had been brought previously inasmuch as a hardship would have resulted on Cinnaminson township if the suit had been begun before and the money had not been collected.

MILLSIDE CITES GROSS INJUSTICE

Laslocky Lays Facts Before
Cinnaminson School Board
Concerning Milk

S. R. Laslocky, owner of the Millside Farms Dairy, appeared before the Cinnaminson Board of Education, at their regular meeting held in the school Tuesday night, to protest against certain statements alleged to have been made by the school lunch room matron, Mrs. Leon Egan.

Mr. Laslocky prefaced his remarks by stating that he was present to explain the circumstances surrounding the milk question at the school lunch room and to cite the injustice done him through the newspaper account of the previous meeting and the talk that has been circulating concerning the subject. He stated that, prior to this fall, he had been serving Millside milk for lunch room use for two or three years, exclusively. Since he had heard of no complaints, he stated, he took it for granted that everything was satisfactory.

Everyone's Privilege

When the lunch room matron informed the Millside driver that they would no longer take their milk he told the board, he thought nothing of it. Mr. Laslocky said he had no quarrel with her for wanting to change, since that was every person's privilege, but prior to the newspaper account of the preceding meeting, rumors began to reach him that she had stated that Millside milk was constantly sour, and made the children sick. Also that a member of the Palmyra Board of Health reported to him that a woman had told him the same story and he decided to inform Mr. Laslocky to get to the bottom of the rumor.

Following this, the article appeared in The New Era giving an account of the discussion at the previous board meeting, together with (continued on page 12)

Local People Red Cross Officials

One hundred and thirty two members of the Red Cross attended the annual meeting held on Thursday, November 10, in St. Mary's Guild House, Burlington, with Mrs. Guy L. Nelson, of Mt. Holly, chairman, presiding.

Annual reports were given by all departments such as production, life saving, first aid, motor corps street from the Palmyra line to Thomas avenue. The application was approved by Council.

Mr. Gould reported that a communication has been received to the effect that Riverton's application for the sewer project had been forwarded from the Newark office to the Washington office of the P.W.A.

Building Permit Violated

A letter of objection from adjoining property owners to the new apartment building being constructed at 524 Main street raised the question concerning the original building permit for the building.

Councilman Knight stated that the permit called for glass enclosed bay window but the front has since been bricked in by the contractors.

Councilman Sylvester stated that it was a non-conforming building with respect to both the zoning ordinance and the building code.

Councilman Knight stated that the building inspector should check on construction such as this.

Instructed to Halt Operations

Mr. Knight moved that the building inspector be directed to halt work on the project and instruct the owner to make the front conform to the plans submitted with his application.

The suggestion for a stop sign on Fourth street where it intersects Main was made by Councilman Bush. It was pointed out that several accidents have occurred at this corner and it was felt that a stop sign would greatly reduce the hazard. The matter would be taken up with the state authorities Mr. Bush reported.

A letter was read from the Burlington County Board of Freeholders in which they stated that the expense of operating the traffic light at Broad and Main streets would be considered, and also reported the paving in front of the Collin's Building damaged by a water main break would be repaired shortly.

The following bills were approved for payment:

PATCHEL NAMED VICE PRESIDENT

Robert Patchel, member of the Palmyra High School faculty was elected vice president of the Burlington County Teachers' Association at the annual meeting of that organization.

The affair was held recently at Log Cabin Lodge, Medford Lakes. Miss Anna T. Burr, of Bordentown, was named president.

Historical Society Will Hold Exhibit

The Burlington County Historical Society will hold an exhibition of old pictures, prints, lithographs and photographs of historic interest in the society's headquarters, the James Fenimore Cooper House, High street, Burlington, Friday afternoon and evening, November 18; Saturday afternoon, November 19; and Sunday afternoon, November 20. It will be free to the public and everyone interested is invited to attend.

The committee in charge is now at work in the various county towns collecting the articles to be exhibited. Any resident of the county wishing to lend photographs of historic places or events, pictures of old houses in the county, Currier and Ives lithographs, engravings or prints for the exhibition is requested to communicate with some member of the committee. Excellent care will be taken of all objects loaned. Many pictures and paintings owned by the Historical Society already will be exhibited.

At later dates exhibitions of old glass, old books and pamphlets and old wedding dresses will be arranged.

Mrs. Charles Allen, of Riverton, is a member of the exhibition committee.

Several of the Hi-Y clubs have coming to them trophies and awards in connection with interclub basketball, ping pong and swimming events. These awards will be made by Joe Burk, who will also speak. The program will close with movies.

Following is a list of the places where there are Hi-Y Clubs: Bordentown, 2; Bridgeboro, Burlington, Crosswicks, Florence, Moorestown, Mount Holly, 2; Palmyra-Riverton, 2; Riverside, 2; Roebling, and Willingboro.

Older Boys' Conference

At Trenton, December 2, 3, 4, some 600 older boys will convene for the 45th New Jersey State Y.M.C.A. Older Boys' Conference. Burlington county's allotment of delegates is 40, plus the quartet from the Industrial School at Bordentown. Most of this number have already been secured and have filled out their credential forms, thus insuring them of entertainment at Trenton during the conference period.

The theme of this year's conference is "Christian Citizens in a Democracy," and in this connection, use will be made of the State House as the meeting place for the sessions of the conference on Friday and Saturday. Governor Moore has granted the use of the Senate and Assembly Chambers and some 14 rooms for the hearings on various bills.

A few credentials are still available and any fellows 15 years of age and up who think he would like to go is invited to communicate with Secretary Guy C. Henday, at the County Y.M.C.A. headquarters in Mount Holly.

The Mohammedan population of the world is estimated at about 240,000,000, of which some 60,000,000 are in Africa.

FAMOUS PLAY TO BE GIVEN HERE

Drama Class of Palmyra in Presentation of "Little Women": Two Dates

On November 18 at 3:00 p.m., the Palmyra High School drama class will present Louisa Alcott's "Little Women," in the Palmyra High School auditorium, at a matinee. Admission for school children is 25 cents. The players will again present the play for adults on Saturday, November 19, in the evening at 8:15 p.m., admission price 50 cents.

This play is of particular interest to all grade children from 6th, 7th and 8th. Tickets may be secured by calling Palmyra High School, Phone Riverton 213. The advertising committee will endeavor to contact as many schools as possible in the county.

This is the first three-act production of the drama class. The members have presented numerous one act plays, several of which were entered in the state-wide contest, but this is their first full length play.

Cast

The cast is as follows:
Jo: Doris Woodcock; Meg: Martha Bradley; Amy: Frances Leyshon; Marmee: Dorothea Trout; Laurie: Jack Matthews; Brook: William Evald; Aunt March: Ethel Philie; Mr. March: Alfred Mahrmann; Prof. Baer: Jack Seemuller.
This venture into the field of drama is of particular interest at Palmyra since the drama class is responsible for the entire production. Costuming is by Van Horn.

CAMERA CLUB TO MEET ON NOV. 28

The meeting of the Camera Club scheduled for Monday, November 28th, has been advanced to Monday, November 28th, at which time Robert Kiss, of the Foto Mart, Philadelphia, will address the club.

Mr. Kiss has had wide photographic experience and has been the guest speaker at many camera club meetings in this area. His topic will be "properties of various films and advice on the best film to use for various subjects under certain conditions." A discussion of his address, Mr. Kiss will answer questions from the floor.

Rev. Francis B. Downs, chairman of the club extends a cordial invitation to all men and women in Riverton, Cinnaminson and Palmyra, interested in amateur photography, to attend this meeting.

The meeting is called for 8:00 p.m., in Christ Church Parish House, Riverton, Monday, November 28th.

OBITUARIES

MRS. FREDERICK PFEIFFER

Mrs. Henrietta M. Pfeiffer, widow of Frederick P. Pfeiffer, died on Sunday in Saratoga Springs, N. Y., where she had been ill for many years at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Harley B. Crippen.

Mrs. Pfeiffer was well known in Riverton where she lived for a number of years. Her husband, an executive in the wholesale importing firm of V. L. Cavanna & Co., died in 1918.

In addition to her daughter, a sister, Mrs. Nellie Cavanna, of Haddonfield, also survives.

YWCA NOTES

County Notes

The November meeting of the Burlington County Y.W.C.A. board will be held Tuesday evening, November 22, at 7:30 o'clock, in the county office in Mt. Holly. The proposed county budget for 1939 will be presented for first reading at this meeting.

Girl Reserves of the county will hold a World Fellowship rally Friday in the Mt. Holly Junior High School. The girls will enjoy a box supper, after which moving pictures of Czechoslovakia will be shown and the Chatsworth club will present Czech dances. All of the girls will participate in general folk dances and the singing of folk songs, and the rally will close with a ceremonial.

A very successful joint meeting of the boards of the county Y.W.C.A. and Y.M.C.A. was held at the Moorestown Community House last week, when the Y.W.C.A. board members were guests of the Y.M.C.A.

Miss Katherine Lucchini, county Y.W.C.A. secretary, was the speaker at the meeting of the Lambert Parent-Teacher Association Thursday.

The Medford Women's Council and the Medford Senior Girl Reserve Club held a joint meeting in the Y.W.C.A. clubhouse last week.

The executive committee of the Y.W.C.A. board will meet Friday morning in the county office.

BID OPENING IS POSTPONED

Bids for the construction of an addition to the county office building at Mt. Holly were not opened on Monday of this week, as originally planned, due to the fact that certain government regulations regarding the financial condition of the bidders had not been complied with. The proposals, on advice of P.W.A. officials were refused and advertisements ordered for new bids that will be opened on November 30.

HORSES FASTEST ON CITY STREETS

Several metropolitan newspapers have held races over congested downtown routes during rush hours. In Baltimore the contestants were a taxicab, a bicycle, a runner, a horse and wagon, a street car, a private automobile, a walker and a bus. They finished in that order, their times being 10, 14, 14½, 15, 19, 19½, 20 and 21 minutes respectively, for a distance of a mile and a half. Note that the horse beat the street car and private automobile, while the walker came in a full minute ahead of the bus.

In Chicago, a similar race was held in the Loop over a route about a mile long. Here is the order and time of the finish: bicycle, 11½; taxicab, 11¾; elevated train also 11¾; private automobile, 12; horse, 12½; pedestrian, 12¾; bus, 23; street car, 24.

In both cities the horse and pedestrian did better than the street car and bus, but it is not expected that the sale of horses will be increased by any great extent as a result of these performances.—Imperial Magazine.

Nearly half of the cases of whooping cough occur in children under two years old.

DR. LOVE TO SPEAK

The Phyllis Wheatley Parent-Teacher Association cordially invites the public to attend its next meeting to be held on Friday, November 18, at 8:30 o'clock, in School No. 4. The guest speaker will be Dr. Elizabeth Love, who is sent by the state department of health, who is expected to have a message valuable to all.

ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. Louis J. Meunier, of Linden avenue, Riverton, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Edna Eliza to Mr. Fred Richmond Conway, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Conway, of Highland avenue, Palmyra.

The wedding will take place in December, at Valley Forge Chapel.

CALVARY PRESBYTERIAN

Rev. Charles T. Bates, B.D., Pastor

Sunday, November 20
Morning Worship at 11 o'clock.
The organ selections will be "Prelude" by Mauro; "Nocturne" by Johnston and "Postlude" by Loret.
The choir will sing "We Gather Together," a Netherlands folk song. The sermon subject will be "Bless the Lord, Who—" At this service there will be a consecration for the Every Member Social Visitation to be held during the week of November 20. The mid-week service will be held on Wednesday, at 8 p.m.
On November 24, this church will unite in the Union Thanksgiving Service to be held in the Epworth M. E. Church, at 10 o'clock.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

"Soul and Body" is the lesson-sermon subject for Sunday, November 20, in all Christian Science Churches and Societies throughout the world.
The Golden Text is: "Ye, in the way of thy judgments, O Lord, have we of thee; the desire of our soul is to thy name, and to the remembrance of thee." (Isaiah 26:8)
Among the lesson-sermon citations is the following from the Bible: "What? know ye not that your body is the temple of the Holy Ghost which is in you, which ye have of God, and ye are not your own?" (1 Corinthians 6:19)
The lesson-sermon also includes this passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The material body and mind are temporal, but the real man is spiritual and eternal. The identity of the real man is not lost, but found through this explanation: for the conscious infinitude of existence and of all identity is thereby discerned and remains unchanged" (p. 302).

CENTRAL BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. George Lockett, B.D., Pastor
Services Sunday, November 20, 10:00 a.m. Bible School. Many visitors attended last Sunday, being brought to the school by those who have found that to miss this weekly hour of spiritual instruction would mean to miss a week of real happiness and enjoyment. That is the object of "Central Baptist." To make everyone feel the real benefit of the weekly lessons.
11:15 a.m. Morning worship. This Sunday will be observed throughout the day by themes and music appropriate to the approaching Thanksgiving Day. The pastor's subject of the morning will be "Let Us Give Thanks." The choir has also arranged to render selections fitting the season.
6:45 p.m. B.Y.P.U. Senior and high school groups. Whichever group you are in, you will find these meetings really beneficial and enjoyable.
Friday evening. An illustrated lecture in color entitled "Memorial Parks" will be given in the Sunday School room under the auspices of the Philathea class. This lecture is absolutely free. You will greatly assist by attending, as the class, as sponsors are paid for every adult present.
The annual Community Thanksgiving Service will be held in the Epworth M. E. Church at 10:00 a.m. Pastors of the local churches will participate, with Pastor Lockett delivering the sermon of the morning. An invitation is extended to everyone living in, or visiting in, our communities to attend the service and thus render thanks unto Him who has blessed us as individuals and as a nation.

SPECIAL MUSIC A1
BAPTIST CHURCH
Choir Will Present Special Pre-Thanksgiving Program On Sunday Evening
A special program of sacred music appropriate to the Thanksgiving season will be given by the Central Baptist Choir on this Sunday evening, November 20.
The following tentative program has been arranged:
Chorus, "Prayer of Thanksgiving," Kremer.
Duet, "The Eyes of All Wait upon Thee," Mauser.
Solo, "Mauder, Mrs. Elsie Hughes and Mr. E. N. Hoyt."
Chorus, "Ye Shall Dwell in the

Rev. W. A. Boyd, Pastor
Christian Fellowship is the only sure method by which the world can be made fit to live in.
The only known cure for hatred is Christian love. To look at each other through eyes of love is certain to make for National and International peace and good-will among the people of the universe. The "Christian Fellowship Crusade" now going on in our Church is a movement to help promote Christian fellowship among its members and also the people of this community and of the whole world.
At 11 o'clock this Sunday morning, the officials, officers and teachers in the Church, Church School and all organizations are expected to be present. This service is dedicated to our workers and their work. "Peter, the Man in the Making" is the title of the sermon to be delivered by the Rev. W. A. Boyd, minister of the Church.
"Men's Night" will be observed in the evening at 7:45. The Men's Glee Club will sing and so will the men of the Wesleyan Bible Class. The senior choir will also give us fine music.
"Floyd Spahr, one of our fine Church members will be the 'Minute Man' during this meeting. "Men and the Church" is the topic of his address. "Matthew, the Business Man" is the subject on which the Rev. W. A. Boyd will talk. The ushers are to be, Herbert Richman, Edward Frye, Sr., James Hartley and Harry Kennedy, with Wesley Huyett as head usher. Everybody is invited to this service.
The crusade will continue every evening next week, except Thanksgiving Day, when the service will be held in the morning at 10 o'clock. This will be a Community Service and the sermon will be delivered by the Rev. George Lockett, minister of the Baptist Church. The ministers of all our Churches will participate in the service. The music will be supplied by the combined choirs as far as possible.
We extend a cordial welcome to all people in this community who do not attend any Church. "Come with us and we will do these good."

Land, "Stainer.
Incidental solo, Mr. R. J. Jermon. Quartet, "Accept Our Thanks," Bibulus, Mrs. Violet Seither, Miss Helene Johnson, Mr. E. N. Hoyt and Mr. R. J. Jermon.
Chorus, "Sing Praises to God," Waring.
Solo, selected, Miss Elizabeth Wood.
Chorus, "Thou Crownest the Year," Maker.
Solo, "Let All the People Praise Thee," Mauser, Mr. E. N. Hoyt.
Chorus, "Psalm 150," Franck.
This program will be under the personal direction of the choir leader, C. Y. Barto, with Mrs. Elvin I. Powell at the console.
Everyone, regardless of creed, will be welcomed to enter into the spirit of this service and bring friends.

FOR THE MEN OF THE COMMUNITY

Thanksgiving is once again only a few days away, and we do have a great deal to be thankful for, don't you think?
Our greatest possessions are our blessings. Being ever conscious of these blessings and using them not only for our own well-being but as contributions to the welfare of others, is gratitude, the only kind of gratitude worth while.
May our prayers of Thanksgiving be expressed in active gratitude, that our abundance of blessings be appreciated and treasured, and applied as the richness of life should be, that we may be worthy of more such wealth.
Members and friends plan to attend the service next Sunday at 9:30. The subject "Thanks be unto God" Psalm 107:1-15.

PALMYRA

Palmyra Loses to South River

Heavy Opponents Display Too Much Power for Light Local, Eleven

Palmyra staged a game fight against the formidable South River eleven, last Saturday afternoon, on the North Jersey field, but the brawn of their opponents finally proved too strong to resist and the Red and White was handed a 32-6 reverse.

The reverse marked the first occasion this year that any opponent has been able to score more than one touchdown against the charges of Coach Ken Dimond.

South River broke into scoring terrain during the initial quarter and made good on the conversion.

Not at all daunted, the locals came right back in the second period and pushed over a six pointer for themselves. Failing to annex the extra point, the Red and White trailed by a single counter as the half ended.

After intermission, however, the power plays of the enemy began to take effect on the lighter Palmyra aggregation. With inadequate reserve material to replace the regulars who received a terrific pounding, the fracas became somewhat of a free scoring affair for the home team.

Four Touchdowns

The enemy pushed over a brace of touchdowns in the third period and added two more in the fourth. The locals were on the defensive most of the second half.

The defeat was not particularly surprising in view of the fact that South River has been knocking off its several opponents in like manner all season, many of them by larger scores than the one last week.

As the Riverites have had few, if any, setups, on their slate, it is obvious that it would have taken an outfit much stronger than Palmyra to turn in a win.

Handwriting On The Wall

The New Deal suffered its most serious setback at the general election held throughout the country last week, the Republicans gaining nine Senatorial seats and over eighty in the House of Representatives.

The net advance of the G.O.P. party, in respect to state governors, was eleven.

In New Jersey, particularly, the victory of W. Warren Barbour over Democrat Ely, was especially outstanding, since the New Deal slate had been personally endorsed by Big Chief Farley and Boss Hague.

While the Democratic party still controls both houses of Congress, the margin has been reduced appreciably and another election, two years hence, may change the aspect of things still more.

The tide seems to have turned against the Roosevelt administration, and public sentiment has evidently been aroused at last.

If the Republicans can consolidate their gains and maintain a united front, there seems to be no doubt that the next President will be a member of that party.

Of course the Democrats realize all this, and those opposed to their principles can be assured of a stern battle before ultimate victory has been achieved.

The fight has just begun!

Simple And Sound

"Simple and sound." That is the best characterization that can be given to a group of maxims recently detailed by Dr. Adam S. Bennion, assistant to the president of the Utah Power and Light Company.

Here they are, in brief:

Without profit no private enterprise can prosper.

Forty-eight million working people in America depend upon the maintenance of private payrolls—which can be met only by profit-making industry.

Industry must have the cooperation, regulation and protection of government—but the government should be an umpire, not a competitor.

The government should withdraw from the field of competitive business in which it is using one taxpayer's money to destroy another taxpayer's business.

Government should not experiment beyond its means to pay, and pass the debt on to other generations.

There is no magic about taxes. Business may collect them—but the people pay them.

Let us be done with mutual bickering; with millennial reforms; with a financial system resting on the motion that "we can borrow ourselves out of debt." Let us set up the rules of sound business, and then let's free industry to build in the spirit of American pioneering.

You would go a long way to find a program containing more traditional common sense. We've tried one experiment after another, and spent billions—with little or no result, except to frighten and discourage industry. After ten years of depression, confusion and a long series of political panaceas, our relief rolls are at record level. Maybe it's time for a change back to fundamentals as outlined by Dr. Bennion.

What is meant by the word "experience?" Answer: Well, it's what you have left after you have made a bad investment.—Newton Journal.

Lower visibility is claimed for the Army's new slate blue attire. In fact, in the next great conflict overseas it may not be seen at all.—Detroit News.

E. E. Kelly of the Topeka Daily Capital exclaims that it has happened at last. A recent news paragraph bearing a Sycamore, Ill., dateline says William Colvin, a W.P.A. worker aged 43, while leaning on his shovel handle, fell and broke one arm.—Exchange.

Municipal Topics

Highway Lighting

For approximately a year the State Highway Department has stood ready to enter into an agreement with any county for a 50-50 division of the cost of lighting State and county road intersections. Records of the department show only eight of the twenty-one counties have accepted the offer.

Atlantic, Burlington, Camden, Cape May, Cumberland, Mercer, Monmouth and Ocean are the counties taking advantage of the economy made possible by the plan. Hunterdon, Sussex and Warren have indicated an intention to do so, but passage of the necessary resolutions and other details remain to be completed.

Differences

In back of the reluctance to accept the proposition are differences of long standing between the counties and municipalities over responsibility for road lighting. The dispute dates far back of the State's offer to take over half the cost at State and county route intersections. Involved is the contention of the municipalities that lighting of county routes is a proper charge against the counties, rather than local governing bodies, and could be financed at a distinct saving to the taxpayers by the freeholders.

The apparent fear of county boards refusing to cooperate in cost-sharing agreements is that use of their funds for lighting other roads where intersections with state routes are not involved. The argument seems to narrow down to an unwillingness to transfer the item from municipal to county budgets. The fact that in many cases 50 per cent could be saved the taxpayers, who finance the bulk of both budgets, is ignored.

More Funds

Municipal officials argue that boards of freeholders should allocate more of their state aid funds for lighting purposes than is now being done. This state aid comes to the counties from motor vehicle receipts. The counties were allotted $6,851,477 from this source last year. Only $7,886.28 was used for lighting county roads, according to the annual report of the State Highway Department detailing allocation of the funds.

In addition to the 50 per cent saving offered by acceptance of the state plan, a further reduction of costs out by municipal authorities, through rate reductions resulting from the grouping of current consumption. A municipality with few county roads might be penalized to the benefit of the community with greater mileage, but these instances probably would not be many.

Last year the Legislature, at the request of Highway Commissioner Sterner, authorized the extension of state aid to municipalities in highway lighting. Thus far 180 municipalities have received grants for this purpose, the conditions being that the light must be justified on either a night accident basis or from the standpoint of traffic volume.

The state reimburses the municipality for the equivalent cost of a 250 candle power lamp, approximately $41, toward the net cost of any larger lamp installed on a minimum of 200 feet centers. In the case of a 600 candle power lamp, the expense

INDUSTRIAL TRIP

Salute to South Jersey as a newly organized industrial and agricultural field was given at Camden on Tuesday of this week when men of South Jersey were the special guest of an Industrial Tour of Camden, sponsored by the Manufacturers' Committee of the Camden County Chamber of Commerce.

Industrialists from North and South Jersey sections, and officials of the New Jersey State Chamber of Commerce, met at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel with Camden's industrial and business leaders. This was followed by a tour of the Campbell Soup Co. plant and that of RCA-Victor. Through a talk to be made by Charles W. Ackey, Vice-

CINNAMINSON P.T.A.

The regularly monthly meeting of the Cinnaminson P.T.A., held on Wednesday evening of last week at the school, was very well attended. The Study Group was led by Mrs. Mandeville, whose general topic for discussion was "The Citizen in the Nursery." At the business meeting, at which Mrs. Warnick presided, several matters were discussed and passed on. The purchase of silkworms for the use of the P.T.A. at their various affairs was authorized. The social part of the program consisted of interesting and entertaining readings and sketches by Mrs. Sarah Ellen Parker, reader, and several of her pupils. Singing by the entire audience was led by Mrs. Edward Parker, P.T.A. program chairman, and fifth grade teacher at the school.

There will be a County Publicity Luncheon at Log Cabin Lodge, Medford Lakes, on Saturday of this week, November 19, at 1 o'clock, and anyone interested is asked to get in touch with Mrs. Warnick, at Riverton 393-W, at once, so that reservations may be made. Tickets are 65 cents.

The school census of the township has been completed, having been made by various members of the P.T.A. under the supervision of Mrs. Dorworth and Mrs. Wood. A house-to-house canvass was made in an effort to determine the number of children in the township, of both school age and pre-school age, together with their birth dates. This information will be of much value in compiling various statistics in the school office.

COMPOST LEAVES RATHER THAN BURN

What to do with leaves which accumulate on the ground at this time of year is a problem best solved by making compost to supply the soil with the humus so necessary to successful plant growing, suggests C. H. Nissley, extension professor of vegetable gardening at the New Jersey College of Agriculture, Rutgers University.

"Humus not only improves the soil's physical qualities, but it also serves as a 'home' for valuable bacteria and microorganisms," Mr. Nissley points out. "Without humus, or organic matter as it is usually called, soil is considered practically worthless for plant growing. 'Autumn leaves make valuable humus because they are mature and contain a large percentage of material called lignin, which decomposes very slowly in the soil.'

Construct Box

"The most common way to produce a supply of leaf mold is either to dig a pit in the ground or to construct a box four feet wide, four feet high, and as long as necessary to accommodate the supply of leaves, then to place the leaves in the enclosure as they are gathered from time to time and wet them moderately with water and firm. Oak leaves will decompose more quickly if a small application of lime and sulphate of ammonia are added to each layer. If, however, the material is not to be used for a year, keep will cause them to rot slowly of their own accord and form an ideal leaf mold."

THINGS TO WATCH FOR

New type of fluorescent lamp which can be screwed into ordinary type of electric socket in the home and saves 80 per cent of current costs. . . . "Jitterbug Contest" to take place of "bank nites" at local movie houses. . . . Cough drops containing aspirin. . . . "Roof-top" parking stations with stores beneath them; promoters now operating one in New York, expect to be copied in other cities and towns. . . . A two pound wool blanket to compete with the regular 2 1/2 to 3 pound numbers. . . . Three-way men's overcoat to sell at around $40; lining zips out to give warm-day topcoat; turn that inside out and you have raincoat. . . . "Jam" bracelets inscribed with the jargon dear to the heart of every swing devotee. . . . Furniture polish, shoe polish, carbon paper and certain cosmetics made from rice bran oil rather than vegetable waxes. . . .

land, president of the new South Jersey Development Committee, plans of this group were made known.

The stock market staged an appreciable rise following the results of the election last week. Evidently not a few people were impressed with the fact that there were still some Republicans left in the country who had the courage of their convictions.

The Pennsylvania election was a bitter pill for Lewis, the C.I.O. satrap. The more doses of this nature that can be handed to this individual the better most real Americans will feel.

"That terrible man" Curley, of Massachusetts, also came to the end of the road last week. Bated by practically all the better class of people in that state, this political magician, with his steam roller machine, managed to crush all opposition year after year. The mechanism finally became too encrusted with grease to function any longer.

A poll shows that the majority of the British people would rather fight than give Germany back any of the colonies taken from the Reich during the World War. But John Bull is no doubt willing to sacrifice some of Portugal's and France's colonies to Hitler in the interest of peace.

James H. Fay, his opponent, brought suit in the campaign to restrain Congressman O'Connor from using the word Democrat on any of his literature. Mr. O'Connor might come back by enjoining most of the New Deal leaders from use of the same word. They haven't as much right to it as he possesses.

With international trade talks being carried on, Rounania had a propaganda week during the first part of the month. Show how far we are ahead of 'em. Every week is propaganda week in the United States.

Our State Department insists on the enforcement of the Nine Power Treaty to protect China. This Nine Power Treaty was written back in the Horse and Buggy Days.

Hitler and Mussolini are now guaranteeing Czechoslovakia's new borders. This is a good deal like insuring the foundation after the house has burned down.

France is prohibiting the importation of foreign wheat into her colonies. This entitles her to membership in Cordell Hull's Bad Boys Club.

Dr. Dodds, head of Princeton University, says that truth is international. So is a lot of propaganda.

With things changing so rapidly in Asia and Europe this ought to be a banner year for the map-makers.

Mussolini in a speech before the Fascists in Rome says that the outlook is getting brighter. Tell it to the Czechs.

PHILATELIC NEWSBITS

By S. E. Griffith

U. S. Issues

The Post Office Department has announced the dates of issue for the four remaining stamps of the Presidential Series. The 25 cent stamp picturing Benjamin Harrison will be printed in gray and will be issued on December 2. On the same date, the 25 cent stamp will be issued. This stamp will bear a picture of William McKinley and will be printed in rich burgundy.

On December 8 the two remaining stamps will be issued. These will be the 30 cent stamp picturing Theodore Roosevelt in blue and the 50 cent stamp picturing William Howard Taft in lavender.

Local Club Meeting

The Palmyra-Riverton Stamp Club will hold its regular monthly meeting at the Palmyra American Legion Home on Tuesday evening November 28 at 8:00 p.m.

George Wimer, of Merchantville, will exhibit his collection of the stamps of Liechtenstein at the meeting. A door prize will be given away. The winner of this will have his choice between a mint copy of the $1 stamp of either the 1922 or 1938 series.

Edwin Garey, secretary of the club, is arranging some special entertainment for the evening. Visitors are welcome.

First Day Sales

The sale of the 18 cent stamp picturing Ulysses S. Grant, totaled $17,788.86 with 53,124 covers cancelled on November 3rd.

Greenland to Issue Stamps

Denmark will issue stamps in the near future for its colony in Greenland. Heretofore, the stamps of Denmark have been used but with the issuance of a set of seven stamps Greenland will start to exist philatelically.

E. C. Pratt, of the Camden Courier Post, says in his stamp column that the first five values will bear portraits of King Christian X of Denmark, with the two remaining values picturing a polar bear.

Merchantville Stamp Show

The Merchantville Stamp Exhibition will open tomorrow evening at the Grace Church Parish House in Merchantville. The show will be open to the public all day Saturday as well.

Five classes of material will be exhibited in over 100 frames. The classes have been divided into United States, Covers, British Empire, Foreign, and Specialties.

In addition to this display, many of the clubs will exhibit material in a non-competitive group. Included in this group, will be two frames of material from the Palmyra-Riverton Club.

A revised edition of "A Description of United States Postage Stamps" issued by the P. O. Department will be ready for sale in January.

Nicaragua is issuing a long set of air mail stamps. Seven values will be for domestic air post use while seven other stamps will be used for exterior air post. These stamps are being printed in Philadelphia by the Wright Banknote Company.

Cameroons Postal History

Cameroons, the French mandated territory in Africa, is finding its place in the interests of Germany. This was a German protectorate prior to the World War and existed under the name of Kamerun. Its future will probably add a page to our history books.

The postal issues of Cameroons are very interesting. The first issues were overprinted German stamps of 1897. At the turn of the century all issues bore pictures of the Kaiser's yacht "Hohenzollern." In 1915, this territory was occupied by British forces and the current stamps were overprinted for use by the occupation forces. During the same year, part of the territory was occupied by French forces and stamps were overprinted for their use.

In 1922, the territory was assigned to Great Britain and France as a mandate. Great Britain attached her portion to the colony of Nigeria.

AL THOMAS IS TWO LETTER MAN

One of the outstanding athletes at Mount Saint Mary's College, is Al Thomas, senior from Palmyra. A high ranking honor man as far as scholastic ability is concerned, the New Jersey boy has been an outstanding athlete at the Emmitsburg college for the last four years. Thomas, is a two letter man, playing football and baseball.

For four years, Thomas has been one of the outstanding guards in Maryland football circles. This season, playing with a mediocre Mountaineer squad that has played a suicide schedule, Thomas has consistently stood out as one of the best lineemen on the field. He seems destined to achieve the ranking of All-Maryland at the conclusion of the current season.

In baseball, he has stood duty as a pitcher for the Mountaineer nines over the four year period. A left hander, he has been named to the mythical All-State nines twice, and is recognized as the best left hander in college circles in Maryland.

At present, Thomas holds the office of president of the Mountaineer Monogram Club, a society made up of members of the student body who have won their "M's" on the athletic field.

JUDGE MATHEWS LOCAL SPEAKER

Addresses Rotarians on Topic 'America'; Not Farsighted To Ignore Signs

"Russia has Communism, Germany Nazism, Italy Fascism, Spain Catechism, and the rest of the world pessimism," said Judge Frank A. Mathews in a thought-provoking Armistice Day talk at the Palmyra-Riverton Rotary Club last Thursday night. "America," he went on, "must act according to the conditions of our time, not seeking an impossible Utopia, but a practical idealism, which recognizes that sacrifices, even to war must be made to maintain the American ideal." Present at the meeting were Commander King, of the Palmyra Post of the American Legion, Past Commanders Yost, Metzger, and Treasurer Marshall of the same organization. Carl H. Thomas, a Rotarian, and another prominent Legionnaire, acted as toastmaster.

Stand Up for Ideals

Judge Mathews based his address on a recent picture in the rotogravure section of a Sunday newspaper, which showed veterans of the Civil, Spanish American, and World Wars, talking to a Boy Scout. The caption beneath the photograph, after saying that the men were advising the boy never to allow himself to be drawn into another futile war, quoted a paragraph from Woodrow Wilson's first Armistice Day speech, emphasizing the great possibilities for future peace, which could be lastingly achieved, "When nations act justly and in the common interests of men." Judge Mathews, who has held many prominent local and national offices in the American Legion, and is now a Lieutenant Colonel in the New Jersey National Guard and Assistant District Attorney for New Jersey, objected to the ideas expressed, and focused attention on world conditions which might once again require the United States to stand up for its ideal of freedom. He believes that "peace at any price" will not enable us to enjoy our democratic way of life, that we must prepare for what may come, unpalatable as it may be. It is not, in his judgment, farsighted to ignore the signs of the times, which may lead to something far worse than armed conflict.

Act Accordingly

Judge Mathews quoted William F. Van Loon, well known Dutch author, as saying that he believed Europe to be economically, politically, and spiritually dead, a fact which we in this country must face, and act accordingly. Our heritage of freedom is too precious to risk in a blind trust in the high-mindedness of dictators. The speaker concluded his remarks by reciting an original poem, lauding the sacrifice of those who lie in Flanders Field and inspire us by their example to be ready to pay the same price, if necessary, to maintain our honor.

France on the other hand issued typical French Colonial stamps for her portion. A collection of these stamps will show the postal paper of the "Big 3" European powers with almost a definite assurance of changes in the future.

President Mayfield spoke feelingly of the passing of past-president Richard D. Barclay, designating him as a Rotarian whose example set high standards for his fellow members to follow. Chaplain Lockett, in a beautiful prayer, made vocal the club's appreciation of what his life had meant to all who knew him. Few Rotarians, anywhere, took Rotary more seriously, or practiced its tenets more willingly than did the former leader, whose presence seemed to hover over the gathering.

Artillery of the period of 1800 was fired at a maximum range of 1,000 yards. The most effective range is at a point-blank range which is approximately 300 yards.

The New Haven railroad and the Windsor (Conn.) volunteer fire department have reached an accord in tones of whistles. Each time one of the locomotives blew its siren as it approached the town some fireman mistook it for the fire horn and there was a headlong rush to the fire station. The tone of the fire horn has been altered.

He was, in fact, the absent-minded professor, and he was strap-hanging in a tramcar. The other arm clasped half a dozen bundles. He swayed to and fro. Slowly his face took on a look of apprehension. "Can I help you, sir?" asked the conductor. "Yes," said the professor with relief. "Hold on to this strap while I get my fare out."—Montreal Star.

Tuition Bills Are Discussed

Miss Emma D. Frank, district clerk, reported at the regular meeting of the Cinnaminson Board of Education Tuesday night, that she has experienced considerable difficulty in obtaining a correct billing from Palmyra High School for tuition owing for Cinnaminson Township students.

The matter came up when Miss Frank stated that she was ready to pay, but was certain the checking of students was incorrect. Three bills had been received, she stated, with as much of a difference as twenty-three students. Some were from Riverton, charged to Cinnaminson and some from Cinnaminson were left off altogether.

It was finally decided to pay $1,400 on account. Mr. Leach moved that the clerk write to the Palmyra Board of Education informing them that their present system of checking students is unsatisfactory and thereby makes unwarranted work for the Cinnaminson clerk. He also suggested that they get a proper list of students attending from Cinnaminson Township. The motion passed unanimously.

RIVERTON

The first card party of the season given by the Knights of Columbus will be held this Friday evening, November 18th, at the K. of C. Hall, Broad and Elm avenue. Bridge, pinocle and other games will be played in the spacious hall. A fine assortment of handsome prizes will be distributed among the players, in addition to refreshments and a door prize.

Robert Fichter, of East Riverton, returned home Tuesday from the West Jersey Hospital, where he is recovering from accidental gunshot wounds received while hunting.

Mrs. John Ford, of 621 Linden avenue, was the second winner in Shulman's Merchandise Club.

The winners in the stocking club run by Mrs. Lewis Bell, to date are: Mrs. Mark Nace, Palmyra; Mrs. Charles DeLaney, Riverton; Mrs. Van, Philadelphia; Mrs. A. Smith, Riverton; Mrs. Clifton Taylor, Palmyra; Miss Roberta Leonard, Riverton; William Baker, Palmyra; Mrs. Anna Steer, Maple Shade; Mrs. Katherine Rickards and Mrs. Florence Eval, of Riverton and Mrs. Dorothy Meers, Camden.

The Golden Hour Circle of Calvary Presbyterian Church held its annual birthday luncheon on Wednesday afternoon, with approximately 100 members present. The affair takes its name from the fact that envelopes are distributed to members in which they put a penny for each year of their age.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

Future Plans

Reginald H. Gill, commissioner of the Burlington County Boy Scout Council, announced plans at the meeting of the commissioner's staff, held last Monday evening at the Boy Scout office, for the coming fall and winter. An outline of his plans embraced the use of the troop rating forms, a post card inspection form for troops, and advocated the use of the troop budget plan for 100 per cent of the troops in the council as an objective to be met by December 31, 1938. Commissioner Gill introduced Charles G. Lester, of Beverly, who will be the new district commissioner of the Beverly-Riverside-Delanco district.

Leaders' Course

The second session of the Scout Leaders' Training Course was held at Troop 4's headquarters in the basement of the Presbyterian Chapter House in Moorestown. A pancake supper was served by the staff of Troop 4, headed by John B. Stokes, Jr., Scoutmaster of Troop 4. Twenty-five men were present who took part in the meeting, representing scoutmasters, assistant scoutmasters and troop committeemen. An outline of the program was given by D. Walter Hopkins, chairman of the leadership training committee and then turned the meeting over to James Moore, of Moorestown, who gave a talk on "The Troop and Its Set-Up." The activities period was turned over to Thomas O. Perkins, Jr., Scoutmaster of Troop 19, Delanco, who demonstrated various games that could be used. Formations were handled by W. Hooton Stokes, district commissioner of the Moorestown district. An interesting list of exhibits was set up at the fore part of the meeting by Scout Executive Darlington, Scouts of Troop 4, and Scoutmaster Elmer Leaver, of Troop 3, Roebling.

GUNNERS WARNED ON WOODS FIRES

Hunters are warned that a very serious forest fire hazard exists in the woods and fields of New Jersey unless there is a series of heavy rains and great care and cooperation is necessary to combat the situation, according to a statement issued today by Captain LeRoy S. Fales, state fire warden.

Captain Fales has just completed a ground survey of forest fire conditions throughout the state in both field and woodland and as a result of this personal survey finds that the Forest Fire Service is confronted with a very serious fire problem and hazard due to an excessively heavy tree foliage and the fact that the tropical storm, which hit the state in the latter part of September, levelled and felled many trees, especially through the pine belts of the state.

The ground cover is very thick and unless there is a series of heavy rains, the fields and woodlands will become a most dangerous fire hazard and menace and especially is this true during hunting season which opened last week.

PUBLICITY LUNCHEON

The publicity luncheon of the Burlington County Parent-Teacher Association will be held at Log Cabin Lodge, Medford Lakes, Saturday afternoon, November 19, at 1 o'clock. Record books of the various units will be on display.

SO NOW YOU KNOW

"Popper, what is a platform?" "A platform is a declaration of unobtainable objectives, so expressed as to arouse the maximum confusion with the minimum sincerity. It is a statement made by politicians with loose memories for consumption of voters who seldom read more than a page of anything unless it has pictures."

Your daily duties are a part of your religious life just as much as your devotions.—H. W. Beecher.

FREE LECTURE ON MEMORIAL PARKS

An illustrated lecture, entitled, "The History and Romance of the Memorial Park," has been arranged by the Philathea Class to be held in the Sunday school auditorium of Central Baptist Church, Palmyra, Friday evening, November 18, at 8:15 o'clock.

All members and their friends are cordially invited to attend this lecture, which will be illustrated with motion pictures. By attending, you will not only have an interesting and enjoyable evening, but will also help the Philathea Class as the sponsors, the Lakeview Memorial Park Association, will give a donation for each family that is represented.

This talk will be given by the well known lecturer, Harold Walker Burtch, who talks at better than 225 words per minute, and yet, every word is distinctly heard in any part of a large auditorium. Publicity.

80th BIRTHDAY

Harry Read, of 411 Thomas avenue, Riverton, celebrated his 80th birthday, on November 11.

A few of his many friends, some of whom have passed the three score year and ten milestone were present to wish him much joy on the occasion.

Notwithstanding the long journey these octogenarians have passed safely, their cheerful attitude gave little indication of fatigue, for the quips and jolts engaged in belied their years.

Refreshments were served at the party by Mrs. Helen Warren, Mr. Read's daughter.

Mr. Read, although handicapped by lack of sight, gives profound pleasure to his acquaintances by his conversational powers, and keeping in contact with world affairs through the medium of radio and the Braille system of reading, which Helen Keller so aptly calls the "sight-giver."

Mr. Read particularly enjoys his Braille copy of the "Readers Digest," this being one of the few magazines that is published in such an edition.

Westfield Friends' School

Sports

On Thursday, October 10, Westfield Friends' School and Frankford Friends' played their third game of the season. For the first half they battled to a 0-0 tie, then in the third quarter Harvey Hirst, of Westfield scored a goal. This was too much for the Frankford team—they decided they would not stand for this so scored a goal themselves. It seemed as if the game would end in a tie, but in the closing minutes of the game Harvey Hirst again scored a goal, making the final score Westfield 2, Frankford 1.

Both teams fought gallantly but Frankford yielded to the stronger Westfield team.

Assembly

This week's assembly was devoted to Book Week. Miss Hannah Severn, of the Moorestown Community Library, spoke to us last week. Miss Antoinette Campbell, of the Riverton Public Library, gave us an interesting talk at this week's assembly. The program presented by the children consisted of original dramatizations depicting various types of books—poetry books, books for pleasure, books for facts. Bill Dunn and Jack Clement conducted the meeting.

Trip to Institute

On Wednesday, November 16, grades five and six went to Franklin Institute to view the exhibit on transportation. Grades three and four had an interesting visit at the University of Pennsylvania Museum, where they were particularly interested in the exhibits on primitive ways of living.

Monday, November 21, at 12:00 o'clock, there will be a luncheon meeting for mothers. The speaker will be Mrs. Francis Pennell, of Rose Valley.

Tuesday, November 22, there will be no assembly. At 3 o'clock there will be a soccer game between Garnet and Blue team with the Friends' Central Team on the opponent's grounds.

Wednesday, November 23, the students will present a Thanksgiving program at the Cinnamonson Home, from 11 to 12 o'clock. School will be dismissed for the Thanksgiving holidays at the regular hours.

Classes will be resumed on Monday, November 28.

ABOUT THE COUNTY

The disastrous fire in Columbus last week caused damage that will amount to several hundred thousand dollars. At one time, the entire central portion of the community was threatened with destruction, but the efforts of 12 fire companies prevented further spread of the conflagration.

Miss H. Eloise Bryan, was president of the nominating committee that presented the slate of officers for the Burlington County Teachers' association, when that organization held its annual banquet last week, at Medford Lakes Lodge.

AT S. J. COLLEGE

The following students from Riverton are enrolled in The College of South Jersey for the current academic year:

W. Maynard Bowen, Esther M. Roberts, and May V. Swayne. Mr. Bowen has been elected president of the Evening Freshman class in the college.

TO ADDRESS CLUB

Miss Margaret Warner, secretary of the Burlington City Board of Health, will address the members of the Burlington County Women's Republican Club at a meeting of that organization slated to be held at the Women's League headquarters, Mt. Holly, this (Thursday) afternoon, at 2 o'clock.

Miss Warner, who is a member of the Burlington County Development Council, will explain the objects of the survey now being conducted in the county.

BRIEF ITEMS from ABOUT TOWN

Russell (Lena) Blackburne, coach of the Philadelphia Athletics will be one of the guests at the annual banquet of the local softball league this (Thursday) evening, at the Red Hill Inn.

According to an announcement made this week, preliminary work will start in the near future at the site of the new athletic field which has been authorized for Palmyra High School.

Several hundred people attended the formal opening of the Main Street Market, in Riverton, on Thursday evening of last week. The attractiveness of the new establishment was the subject of much favorable comment on the part of those who inspected the premises.

With a considerable drop in temperature experienced on Tuesday evening, many motorists began to think about anti-freeze materials and winter lubrication.

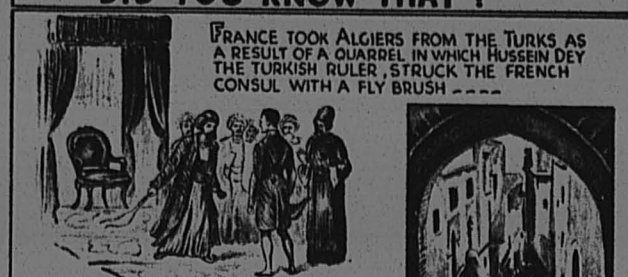

Current rumors to the contrary, the Palmyra-Riverton football game will be played at Riverside, as originally scheduled.

There has been little or no activity in local police circles during the past week.

JAYVEES TRIM HADDON HEIGHTS

The Palmyra High School junior varsity added another scalp to its belt on Tuesday afternoon of this week, when the locals racked up a 7-0 decision over the Haddon Heights reserves.

A good crowd flocked to the local field to view the action and the Red and White played a fine game in all departments to further convince local fans that the lightweights have plenty of stuff.

After three periods, during which neither team could gain with any degree of regularity, the chances for a scoreless deadlock were excellent. This situation prevailed, in fact, until the last quarter was over half spent.

Action Toward End

At this point, however, Palmyra started their touchdown drive from midfield. The forward movement was begun when Faunce tossed a long pass which was snared by Mitchell. He romped to within seven yards of the enemy goal before being dragged down. Two plays later, the efforts of the same combination resulted in the touchdown. The extra point was made by rushing.

Haddon Heights had a spurt left and nearly knotted the count in the last few minutes, but Palmyra braced and took possession on their 10 as the game ended.

Mrs. Egans' written letter to the board stating her reasons for the change.

Mr. Laslokey stated that he had no criticism of The New Era for publishing an account of the meeting, but unfortunately the New Era story was continued on the inside of the paper and to people reading only the front page the true picture of the whole situation could not be obtained. The continuation on an inside page he stated would have helped the situation had all of the people finished the article.

Serious Injustice Done

Mr. Laslokey stated that he felt a very serious injustice had been done him and he appeared before the board to give them the opportunity of doing something to correct the situation.

Mr. Leach, board member, stated that the milk had been changed by Mrs. Egans before she spoke to Mrs. Davidson about it. When informed of the change Mr. Leach stated that Mrs. Davidson suspected nothing unusual and had approved the change.

Leach went on to say that employees of the board are not authorized to make statements of doubtful proof and reiterated that he was not satisfied with the conduct of the lunch room and certainly did not approve of a lot of unwarranted talk by the patron.

Mr. Laslokey repeated that she had a perfect right to change to another dealer and all that she need to have said was that she preferred another. He stated that his milk is produced under rigid State Board of Health examination and regulation and if Milside milk was making people sick, he couldn't last in business for one day.

Defends Publicity

Concerning the matter of newspaper publicity, Mr. Leach stated that this is not Nazi Germany and what this board of education or its representatives do is a matter of public business and that the people are entitled to a full and accurate account of their every action.

Mr. Taylor, president of the board, stated that this was the first time they have ever had to question the propriety of Mrs. Egans' purchases and felt that a warning should be sufficient.

Mr. Reeves asked the clerk to read again all correspondence connected with the matter carried on by the board and Mrs. Egans. The re-reading brought out that Mrs. Egans gave the board of education one reason and is alleged to have circulated another on the outside.

Mr. Taylor asked Mr. Laslokey if he had any proof of these alleged remarks of Mrs. Egans. Mr. Laslokey stated that he had in his possession a signed affidavit supporting his claims and had delayed action until he had such proof.

Mr. Laslokey stated that he was present to try to get the milk contract back, and that he didn't want to appear to threaten the board, but on the advice of his attorney, he felt that a retraction should be made and published.

Prove or Retract

Mr. Leach moved that Mrs. Egans be called upon to furnish proof that Milside milk had made the children sick or obtain a complete retraction of her alleged statements. At this point Mr. Laslokey thanked the board for their consideration and left the meeting.

Since at a previous session a motion was made to split the milk business among the nine local dealers the question arose as to which dealer would get the contract for the coming month.

Milside Gets Contract

Mr. Leach stated that since this unfortunate occurrence had proved to be an unjust criticism of the quality of Milside milk, what better way could they show good faith than to give the next month's supply to Milside. He made it in the form of a motion which passed unanimously.

A report from the state, previously requested, showed Milside milk to be well above the minimum requirements in the essential elements used in judging the quality of milk.

MANY GRADUATES ATTEND COLLEGE

Survey Made by Charles W. Ray, of Local Faculty, Gives Much Data

A recent survey was made at Palmyra High School regarding the number of graduates who are attending institutions of higher education.

The list, which was compiled under the direction of Charles W. Ray, who is on the committee of college placement, follows.

Bluefield College, Bluefield, W. Va., Harry Turner, '36.

Burrough's Business College, Philadelphia, Charlotte Moore, '38.

Bucknell University, Lewisburg, Pa., John Vost, '38.

Carnegie Tech, Pittsburgh, Pa., Charles Rader, '36.

College of South Jersey, Camden, May Swayne, '37; Joseph Prisco, '38; Esther Roberts, '38; Elaine Smith, '38.

Donations this year will be divided among four organizations, according to a pre-determined ratio, unless specific requests were made to the contrary. The institutions that will benefit are: Riverton Cinnaminson Welfare Association, The Visiting Nurse Society, The Cinnaminson Home and the Burlington County Hospital. Welfare is to receive 40 per cent, the nurse society 30 per cent, the hospital 20 per cent and the home 10 per cent.

The total sum collected and the number of contributors is larger this year than in the past. This is partly due to the inclusion of the welfare organization and is also attributable to the generosity of local residents and the efficient work on the part of those who assisted in the solicitation.

Leaders

The campaign was directed by Mrs. William Porter, in Cinnaminson and Archibald Bush in Riverton. They were assisted by the following district captains: Mrs. Frederick Blair, Mrs. J. Gardner Crowell, Miss Elizabeth Coale, Mrs. Louis Meunier, Mrs. J. P. Abel and Evan Stover.

The district leaders were aided by 30 solicitors in Riverton and 20 in Cinnaminson.

The estimated cost of the project is $13,000,000, of which $8,000,000 is designed for property and equipment.

Efforts are also being made to have riverfront communities included, since a line through this section was not advocated in the original project.

The next step is to secure approval from P.W.A. headquarters in Washington. Officials state that this can probably be obtained if sufficient backing is secured from municipalities in Gloucester, Camden and Burlington counties. Local governing bodies and prominent citizens in the area are urging that civic organizations do their utmost to provide this support.

CHRISTMAS CLUB PAYMENTS LARGE

Cinnaminson Bank and Trust Company to Distribute Sum of $34,000

Three hundred and thirty million dollars will be distributed to about seven million Christmas Club members by approximately forty-five hundred banking and financial institutions and other organizations during National Prosperity Week, starting Monday, November 28th, according to an estimate given out recently by Herbert F. Rawll, founder and president of Christmas Club, a Corporation, sponsors of National Prosperity Week.

The total distribution for 1938 is about three per cent in excess of 1937 and the number of members to receive Christmas Club accumulations shows an increase of approximately six per cent. The average distribution per member amounts to $47.00 as against $48.55 for 1937.

At Local Bank

Officials of the Cinnaminson Bank and Trust Company, of Riverton, report that a total of $34,000 will be disbursed in Christmas Club money this year to eight hundred and eighty-eight members.

This sum compares with $28,000 in club funds last year, or an increase of nearly 22 per cent.

How Used

Using reports received in 1937 from individual Christmas Club members and applying these reports to the entire distribution for 1938, the estimated fund of $330,000,000 will be used by the recipients approximately as follows:

Christmas purchases 32.4%

Permanent savings 26.7%

Year end bills 14.0%

OVER three hundred years ago, the Pilgrims filled a few rough tables to break bread with friendly savages.

Their feast was a simple one of wild meat and vegetables grown at home. But there was plenty, and that in itself was sufficient cause for Thanksgiving.

THE years since then have passed quickly, faster than at any other times in the history of the world. Great changes have taken place, in government, in industry, in trade. But through it all we have continued, once each year, to give thanks for the plenty that is ours.

THIS year can be no

Mrs. Pearl M. Bridgum, of Hainesport, has been appointed temporary auditor, pending the recovery of Dewitt H. Steedle, who was recently elected to that post.
This action was recently taken by the Burlington County Board of Freeholders.
Mrs. Bridgum was defeated by Mr. Steedle for the G.O.P. auditor nomination at the primary election this fall.

PILE DRIVING STARTED

In addition to the many other pieces of equipment on the other side of the river, opposite the Riverton Yacht Club, a pile driver made its appearance this week.
If present appearances are any indication, the ship-scraping plant at that point is going to be a huge one.

McCLAIN NAMED COUNTY CHIEF

Walter R. McClain, chief of the Medford Fire Department, was elected president of the Burlington County Firemen's Association, at a meeting held last Wednesday night in the Relief Fire House, Moorestown. He succeeds Ralph McKinley, of Burlington.

Other officers elected were: William Perry, of Burlington, first vice president; Charles Y. Kniss, of Bordentown, second vice president; William S. Gingle, of Bordentown, secretary; Norman Wells, of Marlton, assistant secretary; Albert G. Mayer, of Mount Holly, treasurer; David A. Brotherton, of Burlington, sergeant-at-arms; trustees, Paul Theilman, of Riverside; Harold Winner, of Marlton; John Powell, of Florence; Grover Vansiver, of Springside; Howard B. INJURED IN CAR CRASH

Miss Jane Herrman, of Cinnaminson avenue, Palmyra, was treated at Cooper Hospital, Saturday night, for cuts and bruises sustained in a car smash on Admiral Wilson boulevard, Camden.

She was a passenger in a machine driven by her brother, Harold, who told police that a car driven by Robert Stevens, of Ocean City, ran into the rear of his auto.

Miss Herrman was released from the hospital after treatment.

PEP MEETING

A pep meeting will be held this (Wednesday) evening in the Palmyra High School auditorium.
The band, cheer leaders and student body will be out in full force in preparation for the activities of the following day in connection with the Riverside game.

Members of the team and coaching staff will be called upon for brief remarks.

RECENT MOTOR VEHICLE ARRESTS

Recent arrests of car drivers for motor vehicle violations that are of more than ordinary interest follow:
Prince Trino Ramirez, of New York City and formerly of Venezuela, who was arrested in Burlington for going over 70 miles an hour on Route 25. He was fined $10 and costs which he paid but his royal highness was very much incensed over the entire affair.

Two truck drivers fined for careless driving on Route 25, near Bordentown. The number of such cases is legion, but, at any rate, this pair got caught.

PLEDGE FIGHT FOR SPEED LINE

At a meeting held last Friday night, in Beverly, the Burlington County Association of Township Committeemen unanimously adopted a resolution that the proposed Delaware bridge high speed line be extended along the riverfront to Burlington.

The members, who include officials from Riverton and Palmyra, pledged a determined fight to get the line to run through this section.

The statue of Abraham Lincoln in the Lincoln memorial at Washington by Daniel Chester French, is a seated figure upon an oblong pedestal about ten feet high, sixteen feet wide and seventeen feet from front to back. The statue itself is nineteen feet high, from the top of the plinth to the top of the head.

New Jersey High

In the distribution of Christmas Club funds this year, New York State leads the other States with about $95,000,000; the estimates for Pennsylvania are $32,000,000; for Massachusetts $30,000,000; for New Jersey $23,000,000. New York's Metropolitan district will receive about $57,000,000.

Christmas Club members enrolled at institutions serviced by Christmas Club, A Corporation, for 1939 will have an opportunity to participate in a $5,000.00 cash prize contest, the intent of which is to secure a slogan that best expresses the permanent thrift development features of the Christmas Club idea.

GOOTEE ARRESTS DRUNKEN DRIVER

Paul W. Lewis, 35, of 2937 Harper street, Philadelphia, is now reposing in Mt. Holly jail as a result of operating an auto while under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

He was arrested on Broad and Main streets, Riverton, shortly before 1 o'clock, last Saturday, by Chief William Gootee, of the local police.

The offender was pronounced to be unfit to operate a car by Dr. H. B. Mark and immediately given a hearing before Recorder Frank Probsting. Lewis was assessed $200 and costs and, as he was unable to pay, he went to jail.

Owner Also

Charles Howell, 52, 2640 W. Cabot street, Philadelphia, the owner of the car, who was a passenger, was also taken into custody on the charge of allowing a drunken driver to operate an automobile.
He was found guilty and given the same sentence as Lewis. Having no cash, he went to jail with his erstwhile chauffeur.

MUST INSTALL DISPOSAL PLANT

According to a report released last week, a four state commission on Delaware River purification has formulated a code regarding sewage disposal along the stream.

The members of the commission stated that this is the first time that such an agreement has been made and asserted that the code would enable to put the provisions in action and to enforce the necessary regulations.

Riverton, in Zone 3, will be required to have primary treating facilities. This was the only community mentioned as being in this category.

PWA ACTIVITIES

Federal activity in New Jersey during the period from March 1933 through June 1938 has recently been tabulated in order to show the results obtained from the loans and expenditures made on the public assistance programs according to a statement released by Mrs. Ethel M. Harlan, acting state director of the National Emergency Council for New Jersey.

Since June 30, when it was announced that the Public Works Administration reported that this co-operation had resulted in 205 worthwhile permanent public improvements under their non-Federal program, money has been allotted for 95 more projects to cost $42,470,000, making a total of $100,376,000 for New Jersey. Forty-eight of these new projects have already been pushed into actual construction.

In addition to these non-Federal projects which are spread over the 21 counties, Public Works Administration Federal projects have been constructed in 17 counties in addition to State-wide projects. The cost of these has amounted to $65,468,150.

Coconut shells with explosives were used as bombs in a Hawaiian revolution.

FINED $100 FOR COAL VIOLATION

A man driving a truck owned by Louis J. Pike, of Palmyra, came to grief on Friday of last week when he was arrested by officials of the Burlington County Weights and Measures Department on the charge of having a fictitious certificate of origin for the shipment of coal in the commercial vehicle.

The county officials had trailed the man from Palmyra to the point where the coal was obtained and followed him on his return journey, the arrest being made as soon as he crossed the Tacony-Palmyra bridge. Upon being arraigned before Recorder Cecil Bowers, the driver was found guilty and fined the sum of $100 and costs, the amount being paid.

The offense is alleged to be one of a serious nature, since on all coal purchased from reputable sources the certificate is readily obtainable and is required, by law, to accompany all shipments.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

This past week two district committee meetings were held in the council. On Monday evening H. T. Greenwood, Jr., of Moorestown, presided over a meeting of the Moorestown district committee, that was held at the home of James M. Stokes on Golf View Road. A report was given by district commissioner, Hooton Stokes on the standings of the troops in the district.

On Tuesday afternoon, a meeting of the Bordentown District Committee was held at the Bordentown Military Institute. David Styer, of Bordentown, chairman of the district committee gave an outline to the men present of the plans of the district committee for the fall and winter. County Scout Executive George A. Darlington presented an analysis of the troops in the district.

This weekend two troops will be camping at Camp Mahula, Troop 23 of Maple Shade, under Scoutmaster Herbert Scilly will camp in the Arrow Cabin, and Troop 28, of Bordentown under Scoutmaster Ben Johnson will camp in Unit II. These troops are going strong on out-of-door tests and expect to do quite a bit of fire-building and cooking over the weekend. December camping dates are fast filling up with Troop 19 of Delanco signing up for the first weekend in December, and Troop 32 of Burlington signed up for the Christmas holidays.

MANY ARE AIDED BY RED CROSS

The Red Cross Roll Call is now underway and hundreds of solicitors all over the county are making a house to house canvass in order to raise the county quota of 5000 memberships.

In order that this great institution of mercy may be relied upon to serve suffering humanity everyone must do his part when the Red Cross calls.

Each year there are ever increasing demands for Red Cross services, both at home and abroad, and we have learned that these calls are never in vain.

Right in Burlington county 231 articles have been made during the year for the disabled ex-service men in government hospitals; 135 Christmas bags have been shipped to the Canal Zone for men in foreign service and 35 will be sent to Camp Dix for the men in the hospital there; 319 articles have been given to the needy from the Supply Closet; the Red Cross Corps has transported 511 patients to clinics and hospitals, who had no other way of getting there; 9 first aid highway stations, maintained by the chapter, have rendered assistance in automobile and other accident cases; a life saving instructor was paid for eight weeks during the summer, in order that swimmers might better know how to swim and take care of themselves and others when in the water; almost 15000 children in the county

The annual chicken supper, sponsored by the Cinnaminson P.-T.A., was held last Wednesday evening in the school lunch room. There was a pleasant atmosphere about the affair which added to the general enjoyment of the supper itself; and the committee in charge wishes to thank all of those who helped in any way to make the evening the success that it was.

The next regular P.-T.A. meeting will take the form of a card and game party in the school on Wednesday evening, December 7th. Further notice will be given in next week's paper, but keep the date in mind as everyone is cordially invited.

With six of our P.-T.A. members present at the Burlington county publicity luncheon held at Medford Lakes last Saturday, our group was well represented. Publicity books of last year's activities were marked and on display at that time.

had its beginning 317 years ago when a handful of hardy settlers, beset with hardships of every description, were exceedingly thankful for ever so little.

If those hearty people were thankful to the point of setting aside a day to thank God for his blessings bestowed upon them—then we surely have reason to thank our Maker a thousand times over for his blessings bestowed upon us today.

CHURCH NEWS

EPWORTH M. E. CHURCH

Rev. William A. Boyd, Pastor

The Christian Fellowship Crusade in the Methodist Church will come to an end this Sunday. Two unique meetings will be held. At 10:30 (Please note the change in the hour of beginning this service 10:30) instead of 11:00, there will be combined service of all church organizations. The Bible School will assemble at the usual time and place, dismiss at 10:20 and proceed to the church auditorium. There the minister will preach the sermon and administer the Sacrament of Christian Baptism. At the same time the opportunity will be given to those who wish to join our fellowship to do so. The music in this service will be supplied by the senior choir, the Church School orchestra and the organist, Richard Lord.

At 7:45, an all inclusive mass meeting will be held in the church auditorium. This meeting will be the climax to the Christian Fellowship Crusade. The whole church, church school and all other organizations will be present. In addition to our own people, the Masonic order will be the guests during this service.

"Darkness vs. Light" is the subject of the sermon to be delivered by the Rev. W. A. Boyd.

The music will be furnished by the various groups present, the senior choir, the orchestra, Rachael Lord at the organ and Dr. H. B. Mark at the piano. A very fine group number will be given by Ratience Northrop at the organ, Eileen Rae, violinist, with Gladys Jewett and Ruth Frye at the piano.

The Methodist Church and all of its organizations bid you welcome to the Church of Christian Fellowship, good music and large audiences.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

In gratitude to God for His loving care and guidance during the past year, and in keeping with the Proclamation issued by the President of the United States, First Church of Christ, Scientist, Riverton, will hold its annual Thanksgiving service on Thursday morning at 11 o'clock. The service will include reading of the President's Proclamation, singing by the congregation of several well-chosen hymns from the Christian Science Hymnal, and a solo entitled "Rejoice, My Son, Rejoice," by James G. Ellis.

The Golden Text of the lesson-sermon on "Thanksgiving" is as follows: "Offer unto God Thanksgiving; and pay thy vows unto the most High."

One of the scriptural passages contained in the lesson-sermon is Deuteronomy 14:22: "Thou shalt truly tithe all the increase of thy seed, that the field bringeth forth year by year." The readings from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following citation: "Mind-science teaches that mortals need 'not be weary in well doing'" (p. 79).

Towards the close of the service a brief opportunity will be given to Christian Scientists who wish to express gratitude for healings received through Christian Science.

The service will close with the benediction from Revelation 7:12, which reads: "Blessing, and glory, and wisdom, and thanksgiving, and honor, and power and might be unto our God for ever and ever."

CENTRAL BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. George Lockett, B.D., Pastor

Services Sunday, November 27.
10:00 a. m.—Bible school. For the Thanksgiving visitor, an invitation is extended to visit "Central Baptist." Here you are welcome to the "homelike" school. Classes for all ages with interesting leaders.
11:15 a. m.—Morning worship. This service follows immediately after the Bible school. When you come to the school, arrange to stay for the church service. The subject of the pastor's sermon will be "The Value of a Smile." The choir always lends a spiritual note to the service by the musical offerings.
6:45 p. m.—B.Y.P.U. Senior and High school groups meet in the junior department and Sunday school rooms respectively.
7:45 p. m.—Evening worship. This service includes inspirational congregational singing following by selections by the choir and sermon by the pastor. The theme of the evening will be "Pitching Tents."

CALVARY PRESBYTERIAN

Rev. Charles T. Bates, B.D., Pastor

The worship at Calvary next Sunday morning, November 27th, at 11 o'clock, will be devoted to preparation for the Communion which will be held on December fourth. Musical selections: "Invocation" by Callaerts; "Prelude" by Wolstenholme and "Postlude" by Parker. The choir will sing the "Festival Te Deum" by Buck.

The Church school will meet at 9:45 o'clock. The Midweek Service will be held on Wednesday evening, at eight o'clock.

During this week, Calvary Church has been conducting an every member social visitation, which will be continued through next week, culminating with the Communion on December 4th. Those who are not visited this week will be seen next week.

On Friday, December 2nd, the Semper Fidelis Supper Club will hold a cafeteria supper and doll bazaar, from 5:30 until 8 p. m.

After the service on November 27th, the session will meet and will gladly welcome any who may wish to unite with the Church. Calvary Church extends a sincere welcome for any in the community, who have no regular church home, to enter into its worship and fellowship.

BOTTGER-FEENEY

Miss Cecilia Feeney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Feeney, of 344 East Union street, Burlington, became the bride of Owen Bottger, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Bottger, of 219 Linden avenue, Riverton, last Saturday afternoon, in the rectory of St. Paul's R. C. Church, Burlington. The Rev. Francis Sullivan, rector, officiated.

Miss Feeney's sister, Mrs. Charles Stellweg, of Riverside, was the bride's only attendant. Robert Bottger, a brother of the bridegroom, served as best man.

Following a reception at the home of the bride's parents, the couple departed on a wedding trip to Washington, D. C. Upon their return, they will reside at 212 Warren street Beverly.

EXHIBITION AT CHRIST CHURCH

An interesting exhibit will be held on Sunday afternoon and evening, November 27, in Christ Church Episcopal, Riverton.

At this time, the various vestments used in the Church, frontals, pulpit-falls, copes, chasubles, communion silver and appurtenances, also a loan exhibit of fine pieces of ecclesiastical art from Philadelphia churches will be on display.

The exhibit will be open from 4 to 6 o'clock and from 7 to 8:30. Members of the parish who are thoroughly familiar with the details of the exhibit will be on duty during these hours to explain the history and give pertinent data concerning any of the articles.

The general public is invited to attend.

PALMYRA WOMAN'S CLUB

The Literature Department will have charge of the meeting on November 28, at 8 p. m., when Misses Mary and Harriet Egan will speak on their trip through the west and middle west, their talk being illustrated with colored pictures. Members of the club and their husbands are invited.

Bishop Gardner To Be Celebrant

Head of New Jersey Diocese Here for Communion At Christ Church

A great corporate communion service of the men and boys of Christ Church in Riverton is to be held in the church on the morning of Sunday, December 4, at which time the Rt. Rev. Wallace John Gardner, the Bishop of New Jersey will be the celebrant, assisted by the Rector, the Rev. Francis B. Downs.

A special choir of twenty male voices has been organized to sing at the service, which will comprise inspiring hymns of range for congregational singing and a setting of the Liturgy for men's voices.

Breakfast

The members of the choir have been rehearsing for the past month under the direction of Alfred Van Osten, with G. Lincoln Ridway at the organ.

Following the corporate communion service, a breakfast will be served in the Parish House for all men and boys of the parish. Bishop Gardner will speak at this affair. All the members of the congregation are invited to be present at the service and a large attendance of the families and friends of the men and boys is expected.

11 o'clock Service

At the regular 11 o'clock service of Holy Communion, at which Rector will be the celebrant, the sermon will be preached by Bishop Gardner.

Confirmation

This year, Christ Church has been designated for the group confirmation of the Burlington District and in the afternoon, the Bishop will administer the Sacrament of Confirmation to the candidates from eleven of the parishes and missions from this section of the diocese.

Invitations to this service have necessarily been limited by the seating capacity to the immediate families of the candidates.

SAFETY PATROLMEN NOT TRAFFIC COPS

School safety patrolmen are not traffic cops!

This is emphasized by the Keystone Automobile Club of New Jersey in a statement defining the limitations of safety patrol activities. The function of the patrols is to keep children on the sidewalk until it is safe for them to cross streets. Under no circumstances are the boys trained by Keystone permitted to interfere with or direct vehicular traffic, officials said. Wherever patrols are operating, motorists are urged by the club to give their fullest cooperation by driving slowly and carefully.

Edward P. Curran, public safety director of the club, declares that vehicular traffic control is entirely outside the province of the school patrols. "We make the strongest possible point of this," he said, "in our training of school patrolmen. Traffic direction is a job for a police officer specially trained for his work and is not to be attempted by the boys with the Sam Browne belts."

Mr. Curran's statement was made in answer to an inquiry as to position.

HAVE YOUR CAR SERVICED FOR WINTER DRIVING WITH PRESTONE OR ZERONE AT

Evans' Service Station

An Old-fashioned Thanksgiving Dessert . . .

THANKSGIVING dinner is probably the most talked about meal of the year. For weeks both young and old anticipate eating the traditional turkey with cranberry sauce and delicious pumpkin pie.

Here are old-fashioned pie recipes, with a few new-fashioned suggestions, which may add something to the taste of the important Thanksgiving dessert.

In pie making, the secret of tender pastry lies in quick handling, chilled ingredients, in using a small amount of water and baking at a high temperature.

Plain Pastry

3 cups pastry flour 1 tsp. salt
1 cup shortening Cold water
Cut in shortening and mix with as little water as possible. Toss on lightly floured board, roll out. Chill thoroughly before rolling.

Old Favorite Pumpkin Pie

1 1/2 cups cooked, strained pumpkin 1/4 tsp. cinnamon
1 cup sugar 1/4 tsp. allspice
1/2 tsp. salt 1/4 tsp. ginger
3 eggs, beaten 1/4 tsp. cloves
1 1/2 cups milk, scalded

Mix pumpkin, sugar, salt and spices. Add eggs and scalded milk. Chill. Roll out pastry and fit onto a nine inch pie plate. Chill. Pour filling into pastry-lined pie plate and bake at 475 degrees for thirty to forty minutes or until a silver knife inserted into center of filling comes out clean.

Fold preserved ginger or orange marmalade into whipped cream and serve with pumpkin pie.

Mincemeat

2 lbs. lean beef 1/2 tsp. ground mace

POLARIZED LIGHT AIDS DRIVING

A demonstration of polarized light, newest scientific weapon to combat the perils of the dark highways, is the Keystone Automobile Club's contribution to motoring interest.

The magic of polarization of light in its application to the problem of night driving was presented for the first time by the club at the Philadelphia Automobile Show to demonstrate the possibilities of accident reduction by elimination of headlight glare.

Motorists are amazed by the effect produced by the use of polarizing screens on windshield and headlight lenses. Blinding glare instantly disappears when the screens, resembling camera film, are in place, permitting a clear view to the right of the opposing headlights. Applied to moving vehicles, this means a sible danger attendant upon school patrol activities.

"In all our experience over a period of ten years," he said, "we have not had a single accident to a school safety patrolman. We insist that the patrols remain on the sidewalk. Their duty is to keep the other children in orderly lines and to permit crossing streets only when it may be done in perfect safety. Any other procedure would defeat the purpose of the patrol."

As a matter of fact, Mr. Curran pointed out, the Keystone Automobile Club sponsored the Pennsylvania law which contains a clause definitely restricting the activities of children to the direction of their follow pupils, without interference with vehicular traffic.

"It is only on this basis," he concluded, "that we will undertake to organize and train school safety patrolmen."

1 lb. chopped suet 1 nutmeg
4 lbs. tar' apples 2 oranges
6 cups sugar 1/2 lb. citron
3 lbs. currants 1 tsp. salt
2 lbs. raisins

Stew beef in a little water as possible until quite tender, cool and chop into fine pieces. Add beef suet chopped fine and apples pared, cored and chopped, sugar, currants, raisins, spices, orange and lemon juice, grated rind of the oranges and of one lemon, chopped citron and salt. Mix thoroughly. Pack into a stone jar or into clean glass jars. Seal and store in a cool place. Left-over canned fruit juice or canned fruit may be added from time to time. Use as needed for tarts and pies.

Mince Tarts

Roll out pastry to one-quarter inch thickness. With a large cookie cutter, cut out rounds. In the center of one-half of the rounds, place one tablespoon of mincemeat, dampen the outer edges and lay over the top round, prick edges together with a fork, prick tops, brush with milk or egg diluted with water. Lay on cookie sheet and bake at 450 degrees for fifteen minutes or until a golden brown.

Place mince tarts in the center of a large cheese server. Around the edge of the server arrange a variety of cheeses cut in individual portions. Garnish with nut meats and ripe grapes. This tray may be passed to the guests or placed in the center of the table. Serve coffee with the dessert, of course.

Palmyra Threat

The Red and White staged a serious threat in the second period when Rothbaum recovered a Gloucester fumble on the enemy's 24. The locals could do little in the heavy going, however, and the opposition took possession soon afterward.

Gloucester got all the breaks and took advantage of them to the fullest extent. Without these, the game would have probably have ended in a scoreless tie, since conditions were about as bad as could be imagined.

The purpose of the demonstration, it is explained is to show the advances already made in polarization, although actual equipment of vehicles with polarizing screens is not immediately in prospect. To solve the glare problem, it is pointed out, all vehicles must use the screens, on both windshields and headlights. Country-wide revision of the law's lighting requirements will be the first big step in meeting the problem.

This explanation of the method of polarizing is made by club engineers:

"The light from the opposing headlights is a mass of waves vibrating in all directions. It is blinding in its intensity. By lowering the polarizing screen over the headlights, only parallel waves are transmitted. The glare is diminished, but not eliminated. It disappears, however, when the opposing lights are viewed through a similar polarizing screen, the plane of polarization of which is at right angles to the transmitted rays. The planes of polarization of both headlight and viewing screen are arranged at 45 degrees to the horizontal."

It has been estimated that there are 7,000,000 bicycle riders in Great Britain.

BRIDGE TEAM IN THIRD WIN

The Riverton bridge team, one of the entries in the South Jersey Whist Club, won its third victory of the season last week, at Vineland.

The local scores were as follows: Ochs and Miller, playing East and West, plus, 560.
Dey and Sims, playing North and South, plus, 170.
Woodward and Rodman, playing North and South, minus 510.
Carty and Evans playing East and West, plus, 760.

The Riverton team has not lost a match this season.

GLOUCESTER WINS ON MUDDY FIELD

Palmyra in Fifth Reverse of Season as Enemy Gets 21-0 Verdict

Gloucester had all the better of the wet going last Saturday afternoon on their own field and the net result of the extensive semi-aquatic encounter was that Palmyra High received its fifth reverse of the year, the count reading 21-0 in favor of the opposition.

First downs were nine to five in favor of Gloucester.

Score Early

The first score came after a Palmyra pass was intercepted on their own 41. After several power plays, a short pass into the end zone resulted in the tally.

The second came in the next period, a blocked punt being a prime contributing factor.

RIVERSIDE TILT BIG ATTRACTION

Turkey Day Classic Slated to Get Under Way at 10:30 Thursday Morning

All roads will lead to Riverside tomorrow (Thursday) morning when the Red and White eleven, of Palmyra, will clash with Riverside in final game of the season for both elevens.

The fracas is slated to get under way at 10:30 and all indications point to a complete sellout of Riverside's new athletic field.

The affair is certain to be hotly contested from start to finish and past performances mean little or nothing when these two arch-rivals meet on the gridiron.

Palmyra's Chances

The odds, at present, favor neither team, but the local cause will be considerably enhanced if Coach Dimond can get his large squad of crimples in shape for the encounter.

The local mentor has been harassed throughout the entire season by injuries which, at various times, have materially reduced the strength of his varsity and reserve teams.

There have been times, indeed, when it appeared as though the scrubs would comprise the starting team, with freshmen making up the replacements.

This situation has cost the Palmyra team one or more decisions during the season.

Both Teams Capable

Both outfits have had rather a spotty season, looking powerful on certain occasions and weak on others. Both rose to unexpected heights and held Moorestown to a deadlock, the only times this year that the Quakers have not been able to bring home the bacon.

On the other hand, Palmyra was barely nosed out by Burlington, while the Rams were three touchdowns poorer than the Blue and White.

Coach Dimond is making no comments concerning his starting lineup, preferring to wait until game time before selecting the cast that will charge down the field at the opening whistle.

NO DIVIDENDS FOR RUNDLE

Coach Rundle, of Burlington, was credited with a splendid bit of strategy when he withheld five of his regulars from the Moorestown game, saving them from possible injury for the Palmyra tilt.

The result was that Moorestown trimmed the Blue and White 20-0, while the latter won from Palmyra by the narrow margin of a single touchdown.

J. Whitney Colleton, of Trenton, who compiles a standing that is a prime factor in determining sectional scholastic champions, rates Burlington second to Moorestown in Group 3 circles, the Quaker defeat of the Rundlemen doing much toward placing Burlington in second position.

Killing The Goose —

Last week, the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals ruled that eight eastern railroads operating in New Jersey must pay the state more than $15,000,000 additional taxes for the years of 1931 and 1932. Similar cases, now pending, for other years adjudged in the same manner, will increase the amount to over $50,000,000.

The railroads based their case on the fact that other real property was assessed from 30 to 60 per cent of its actual value, while tax levies on property of the common carriers was based on 100 per cent of its value. This, they claimed, was unfair discrimination.

The court held that "the method of assessment employed by the State of New Jersey for railroad properties may be justly criticized and might well be subject to revision, but that is a matter for the Legislature. Since the system has already been passed on by the Supreme Court of New Jersey, its validity is definitely settled."

Railroad officials stated that the decision was just another added burden to those already imposed on the transportation companies and pointed out that already two of the roads in question were being reorganized under the bankruptcy act.

State tax officials were jubilant over the decision. While they may have cause for gratification, their joy may be rather short-lived. For many years, the railroads have been taxed out of all reason, while their competitors, who use the state highways, have been allowed to flourish with very little interference insofar as the tax collector has been concerned.

The result of all this has been that, while the earnings of the railroads have been seriously curtailed by unfair competition, their taxes, based on the present system, have remained at the same high level.

It is high time that something was done to remedy this condition before "the goose that laid the golden eggs" has been done to death. If such a catastrophe should occur, the effects will, of a certainty, be more far-reaching than most people can conceive.

Editor, The New Era

Sir:

It appears that a considerable amount of undue attention has been called to the building now being constructed at 524 Main street, Riverton, by adjoining property owners and certain members of the Riverton Borough Council.

The statement has been made that the original permit called for a glass enclosed bay window, and that the present construction is of an entirely different nature.

According to present plans, the intention of the borough council is to halt the work and compel the owner to make the front conform to the plans submitted with the application.

Such a step, in my opinion and in that of many other citizens appears to be an ill-advised move. There is nothing objectionable to the eye, or otherwise, in the front of the building as it stands at present. Indeed, the new construction is a decided improvement to Main street.

If the owner changed the plans from the original application, the deviation is only one of a highly technical nature, even if it is admitted that the terms of the permit have been violated at all.

To force the owner to tear down the front and rebuild seems to be entirely without justification.

For the benefit of those who may read this article, may I state that I am not connected in any way with the owners of the building.

—Fair Play.

The Tax Situation

By JOHN F. WARD
Mayor of Palmyra

Officials from most of the 537 municipalities in New Jersey met in a three day conference last week, and I have prepared this digest of the discussions. Our large daily newspapers devote less than 2 per cent of news space to the problems of government administration, and this lack of publicity is the cause of apathy and misunderstanding by the average citizen. Minority groups, with subsidized press and powerful lobbies, have added to the confusion.

Government functions in the past have been chiefly regulatory, but in recent years more and greater demands have been made for governmental services. Increased wealth and better knowledge of the needs justify the enlarged program—education, health public relief and other social services have been accepted, as they unquestionably should, as proper fields for government aid and administration. Too often, however, we are not tax conscious enough to measure the cost in tax dollars.

Unbalanced Budgets

The Federal government has financed its free spending by unbalanced budgets and deficit financing, but New Jersey municipalities are required by statute to operate with balanced budget, making necessary an ever-increasing burden of taxes on real estate. When our tax structure was set up, land and buildings made up almost the entire wealth of our people, but with the shifting to stocks, bonds, mortgages, etc., there has not been a shift to these assets as a source of tax revenue. Real estate in New Jersey supplies nearly 90 per cent of tax revenues and comprises only 35 per cent of our wealth.

The average real estate tax in New Jersey in 1938 was $4.53 per $100 of assessed valuation and tax authorities predict a rate to $5.50 in 1939. This will be primarily due to the failure of the New Jersey Legislature to provide for the state's share of relief in 1938. In addition, the recent Princeton survey bills will put most municipalities on a cash basis next year. This means that the paying taxpayers will have to assume the whole load. Reserves must be set up for unpaid taxes.

Improved Methods

5. Improved methods of assessment and collection of taxes. A uniform and scientific formula for determining values would be far more equitable than the present hit or miss system in use with so many formula as there are assessors. It would eliminate all political influence and the competitive bidding for industries by preference rates. Tax sales seem ruthless but they should be held without fear or favor each year and they act as a stimulant for better collections generally. Legislation should be enacted to enable municipalities to secure a good and marketable title to real estate where the delay and heavy costs necessary at present.

Every consideration should be given the delinquent, but too often the distressed property is misused and is worth less than the taxes owing when foreclosure is completed.

Nine years in public office have convinced me the solution depends on a better understanding of the problems by people generally and it is with this motive I offer these comments. The government is for the people, but it is equally true the government is the people and the future will depend on an informed and sincere interest in the administration of public affairs and an unselfish desire to solve the many problems that arise.

When tax rates reach these proportions they are confiscatory. The average net return on real estate investments in New Jersey is only 1 1/2 per cent and, if this continues, the source of revenues will dry up. There ceases to be an incentive to own or invest in real estate.

There has been much agitation for a revision of the whole tax structure, with a view of broadening the base by securing other sources of revenue.

Taxes on sales of merchandise, luxuries, cigarettes, corporation capital stock, incomes, auto taxes, have all been suggested. The fear is if these sources are tapped they will constitute new taxes and not replacement taxes for the relief of real estate.

Health Question: What are some precautions which will help to ward off colds?

Doc Says:

1. Breathe through your nose instead of your mouth.
2. Get plenty of sleep.
3. Keep a balanced diet and drink plenty of water.
4. Keep the body exercised but don't overwork or over-exert.
5. Keep your home well ventilated.
6. Keep the temperature of your home about 68 or 70 degrees Fahrenheit.
7. Avoid too close contact with persons who have colds.
8. Avoid crowded, stuffy, poorly ventilated rooms.
9. Avoid common use of articles such as towels and drinking cups.
10. Avoid unnecessary exposure to wet and cold, which lowers bodily resistance.

HOSPITAL PLAN
GROWING FASTState Public Relations Aide
Announces Wide Range Of Enrollments

Hospital Service Plan of New Jersey has placed in the window of the Hotel Hildebrecht a display dramatizing the services included in the subscription arrangement publicly known as the "3 Cents a Day Plan." Display of this exhibit was made possible by John R. Kersey, manager of the Hotel Hildebrecht.

South Jersey office of the Hospital Service Plan is at the Trenton Savings Fund Society, 123 East State street, James Kersey, Jr., editor of the Trenton Times, is a member of the board of trustees; and William J. Ellis, commissioner of the New Jersey Department of Institutions and Agencies, is vice-president and a member of the board of trustees.

Harold Braddock, South Jersey public relations representative of the Hospital Service Plan, of New Jersey, has announced that numerous employers and groups have approved enrollment, the number of participating subscribers having increased 85 per cent since January 1, 1938. This pioneer non-profit hospital service plan was the first "3 Cents a Day Plan" of its kind in the United States.

Those enrolled include 400 Trenton school teachers, principals and educational executives in the Trenton school system.

Enrolled

Members of the Monmouth County Medical Society are enrolling. Other enrollments under way include: New Jersey State Police, Charles Hospital Staff, Mercer County Teachers' Association, Asbury Park teachers, Princeton teachers, Young Women's Christian Association employees, Mercer County Clerk's office, United Perfumery Company; Swann & Company, one of Trenton's largest department stores; Burnell Aircraft Corporation, Keyport; Hanson-Van Winkle-Munning Company, Matawan; Ajax Electro-thermic Corporation and many others.

Among those already enrolled in South Jersey are: New Jersey Health Department engineering bureau, New Jersey Financial Assistance Commission, New Jersey School for the Deaf, New Jersey State Home for Girls.

Services

Hospital Service Plan guarantees eight specified services as follows: bed and board general nursing service, routine laboratory examination, ordinary X-rays, anesthesia when supplied by a salaried employee of the hospital, use of the operating room, use of the delivery room, maternity care for mother and ordinary nursing care for new-born child or children are provided for eligible married subscribers 12 months following the effective date for the subscription.

134 Hospitals

Hospitals totaling 134 are cooperating in this service, including the following in the territory served by the South Jersey office: Trenton—Charles Hospital, Mercer Hospital, Orthopedic Hospital St. Francis Hospital and William McKinley Memorial Hospital, Princeton Hospital, Camden—Cooper Hospital and West Jersey Homeopathic Hospital, Bridgeton Hospital, Burlington County Hospital, Mt. Holly, Newcomb Hospital, Vineland, Point Pleasant Hospital, Philadelphia—American Hospital for Diseases of the Stomach and Chestnut Hill Hospital, Delaware Hospital, Wilmington, Millville Hospital, Salem County Memorial Hospital, Salem, Zerbe Memorial Hospital, Riverside, Woodbury—Brewer Hospital and Underwood Hospital, Paul Kimball Hospital Lakewood, Atlantic Shores Hospital, Somers Point, Monmouth Memorial Hospital, Long Branch, Pitkin Memorial Hospital, Neptune, Riverview Hospital, Red Bank.

The Medical Society of New Jersey last summer offered to provide needed medical care to any person in the state who could not obtain it otherwise. In three months 127 persons registered. Many of these 127 had received medical care previously.

One of the reasons heart disease is increasing is that there are twice as many people over 40 years of age today as there were a generation ago. Heart disease is more prevalent among older persons than among younger persons.

NEW SECRETARY
AT LOCAL SCHOOL

At the recent meeting of the Cinnaminson Board of Education, the matter of accepting Palmyra's Mrs. Evan Stover was appointed school secretary for the balance of the school term, her original appointment having been for a two months period.

The manual training instructor received authorization for the erection of a partition in the manual training room to provide a room for the storage of paints. The authorization was made subject to the approval of the fire marshal.

Also authorization was given for the installation of four additional electrical outlets in the manual training room to operate electrical tools.

New Lunch Room Laws

A letter calling attention to new important laws regulating lunch-room matrons was read. The laws provide for a thorough medical and dental examination to check against possible tooth decay, skin diseases, communicable diseases, personal hygiene, etc.

It was decided to ascertain if the school doctor and dentist would be willing to make the necessary examinations.

Permission was given the township committee to place the public school for a regular place of meeting after January 1st.

Actual work has been started on the new gymnasium, cafeteria and study hall to be built adjacent to the present Moorestown High School building.

The First Presbyterian Church, of Moorestown, will celebrate its fiftieth anniversary early next month.

Colonel Frank D'Olier, of Burlington, was recently elected a vice president of the Prudential Insurance Company of America.

A new State Police sub-station was opened in Bridgeboro last week. Four troopers have been assigned to the quarters, being under the command of Corporal A. H. Settle. The station is located on the Moorestown road, just off Route 25.

ASKS EXTENSION

Palmer L. Adams, member of the Burlington County Board of Freeholders, sponsored a resolution passed by that organization urging that the proposed high speed lines be extended to Burlington and Mt. Holly.

A copy of the resolution was sent to the South Jersey Transit Authority.

YOUR GARDEN

WHAT TO DO THIS WEEK

By A. C. McLean
Extension Service, N. J. College of Agriculture

While fallen leaves make suitable winter protection for shrubs and herbaceous borders, if applied too early they can do more harm than good by encouraging young growth and making the plants too tender.

Proper winter protection may be taken to mean keeping plants in cold storage, so pile up the leaves now and save them until the ground starts to freeze, or else compost them for making leafmold.

If placed in a frame of chicken wire in some remote corner of the garden, with about an ounce of a high nitrogen fertilizer added to every bushel, leaves form valuable humus. Keep the compost wet so the material will decay rapidly.

There are enough leaves in most average-sized gardens to make sufficient leafmold so that none will have to be purchased.

As long as the ground is not frozen, hardy deciduous shrubs may still be moved and bulbs can be planted. Although these are tasks recommended for earlier in the season, they can be done safely now.

Bulbs planted during the last of December have been known to bloom well the following year, but planting as late as this is not generally advised.

Dahlias have had a long season this year and the roots should be in a good condition for storing. Be sure to dry them fairly well for if dahlias roots are put away when too damp, they may decay, or if the storage room is at all warm, they may even start to grow.

After curing and cleaning dahlias roots, place them in dry sand, dried

156 TAX APPEALS

Assessment appeal cases heard by the Burlington County Board of Taxation this year numbered 156, John B. Tilton, secretary of the board, said recently. Although the total reduction in the county levy is not known at this time, Tilton said it probably will be less than half the $400,529 drop last year.

Of the 156 appeal cases, 93 were granted, 61 upheld, one withdrawn and another was not heard due to a change in ownership.

THANKSGIVING COMFORT ATTAINS HIGH STANDARD

The comforts that are a part of the average home in America today were not even dreamed of on that first Thanksgiving Day observed on bleak New England shores more than three centuries ago. Modern high standards of living are the result of courage and vision and a pioneer spirit that no hardships could daunt. And this State yields to no other in material progress, remarks the New Jersey Public Utility Information Committee.

Oysters, turkeys, sweet potatoes, cranberries, pumpkins, and almost anything that you might wish for a Thanksgiving dinner are nowhere any finer than this State boasts. Superior gas, electric and telephone service, pure water, and adequate transportation facilities are ready to serve you at an instant's notice.

 DAY and NIGHT SERVICE

BRIEF ITEMS from ABOUT TOWN

Due to the length of the picture at the Broadway Theatre on Friday and Saturday nights of last week, streets in the vicinity of the show-house presented a very busy appearance until nearly midnight.

Tomorrow is the day when the expert turkey carvers will bask in full glory, while the amateurs will flounder about as in years past.

Practically the entire populace will descend upon Riverside tomorrow morning for the annual football classic between the high schools of the two communities.

Many college students have returned home for the Thanksgiving holidays.

Despite the fact that the entrance is not all that could be desired, a considerable number of residents are using the parking lot on Main street, Riverton.

Linden avenue will soon be amissed from Broad street all the way to Fourth street.

Grass fires have not been as prevalent this year as heretofore. Evidently local citizens are paying more attention to the precautions advised by the firemen.

Large audiences attended the production of "Little Women" staged by members of the Palmyra High School dramatic classes on Friday and Saturday of last week.

The Blue Comets basketball team will hold a card party this (Wednesday) evening in the parish hall of the Palmyra Episcopal Church. Proceeds will be used in obtaining suits for the team.

OBITUARIES

MRS. LIDY BANFF

Mrs. Lidy Banff died at her home on Randolph avenue, East Riverton, Sunday, November 20.

Funeral services will be held today (Wednesday) at 2 p.m. from the Snover Funeral Home the Rev. A. J. Harke officiating.

Interment will be made in Asbury M. E. Cemetery.

The deceased is survived by three children, Mrs. Elizabeth Freeman, of Merchantville; Mrs. Laura Scoggy, of East Riverton and David Banff, of Riverton.

MRS. MAGDELINA SCHMIDT
 Mrs. Magdalena Schmidt, died at her home 122 Garfield avenue, on Wednesday, November 23.

Funeral services were held on Saturday from her late residence, at 8 a.m., with High Requiem Mass at the Church of the Sacred Heart, at 9 a.m.

Interment was made in St. Peter's Cemetery, Riverside.

The deceased is survived by her daughter, Mrs. Peter Lambing, with whom she made her home.

RIVERTON

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Nesbitt, of Thomas avenue, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Mount, of Beverly, on Sunday.

R. M. Hollingshead, R. M. Hollingshead, Jr., and Stewart Hollingshead, of Riverton, left last week for a hunting trip to Blackstone, Virginia.

Mr. and Mrs. Watson Richman, of Thomas avenue, will entertain at a family dinner on Thanksgiving day.

Mr. and Mrs. John Goodwin, of Highland avenue, have moved to their new home at 612 Thomas avenue, Riverton.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hullings and sons Robert and Donald, of Thomas avenue, were visitors in Seaside Park on Sunday.

Miss Elizabeth Evald, of Harrison street, and Miss Mary Kerrigan, of Charles street, Palmyra, were members of a theatre party visiting the Erlanger on Saturday.

Mrs. Edwin Evans, of Thomas avenue, spent several days last week visiting friends in Philadelphia.

Robert Hullings, of Thomas avenue, is driving a new Chevrolet.

Thanksgiving Day 1938

By RAYMOND PITCAIRN

No other great national festival is quite like our American Thanksgiving Day.

That is because the celebration expresses so eloquently the fundamental — and unique — American spirit.

What is that spirit? Basically it is one of reverent trust in the ultimate goodness of Providence, blended with the sturdy self-reliance which only such faith can assure. This is precisely what the first Thanksgiving Day expressed. On that bleak and historic November morning its celebrants thanked no earthly king for political gifts or favors. They thanked God for the opportunity granted them by their labors to help the soil yield its harvest. They voiced the confidence of an able people grateful for the strength to fulfill their appointed responsibilities.

That was — and is — the American spirit.

In recent years, however, there have been attempts to weaken or misinterpret it. In recent years there have been efforts to convince descendants of those hardy forefathers that the key to Nature's bounty lay no longer in faith or in labor, but in economic theory and political expediency. In recent years there have been efforts to supplant the fundamental American instinct for constructive cooperation with a program based on hatreds and governmental hand-outs.

And for a while it looked as if the new preachings might have their effect. For a while the voices which echoed the fears and hysteria of Central Europe seemed to drown out the deep, true voice of America.

But today that threat seems to be passing.

Today the people are reasserting the faith, the strength and the essential integrity that found expression on the first Thanksgiving morning. Today they realize again that it is Providence, not Politics, that enriches the harvest of the fields, that lends strength to the arms, and courage to the hearts of men.

And if that renewed knowledge continues to prevail, this can be not only a great, but a lasting Thanksgiving.

SOFTBALL DINNER IS FINE AFFAIR

Many Persons At Festivities; Champion Oakwood Team Awarded Cup

A large number of players, officials and invited guests attended the annual banquet of the Memorial Park Softball League last Thursday evening at the Red Hill Inn, as the affair officially wound up the season for the year.

The president of the league, Walter C. Wright, acted as toastmaster for the lengthy program which followed a bountiful full-course roast turkey dinner.

Presents Cup

Mr. Wright first introduced Councilman Robert W. Knight, who is chairman of the borough property committee of the Riverton governing body. Mr. Knight, after brief remarks, presented the cup, symbol of the season's championship, to John W. Dawley, president of the Oakwood Chevrolet sponsors of the winning team.

Mr. Dawley responded in a fitting manner, praising the efforts of his team and also the other entries in the league.

At the conclusion of Mr. Dawley's remarks, Edward O'Neil, local representative of Oakwood, in behalf of the management, presented handsome cigarette lighters to each member of the winning ten.

Speaker

Mr. Wright then introduced the speaker of the evening, Dr. R. C. Webb, of Philadelphia, who held the rapt attention of his audience as he delivered a most interesting talk on the subject "Work and Play."

"Batter Up," official American League baseball talking picture was secured for the affair through the cooperation of Lena Blackburne, coach of the Philadelphia Athletics, who was also a guest at the banquet.

Unfortunately, after a portion of the film had been shown, it was found that the current available was not sufficient to continue the exhibition.

Entertainment

The next item of the entertainment was a lengthy performance of a magician whose extensive repertoire delighted the gathering.

Following this, the full Red Hill floor show took the stage and continued the program until a late hour.

Those in attendance voted the affair to be one of the most successful of its kind ever staged in this section.

COUNTER-SUIT IS FILED BY COUNTY

At a recessed meeting of the Burlington County Board of Freeholders held recently at Mount Holly, the board solicitor, Christopher N. Peditto, of Palmyra, reported that he had filed an answer to the suit brought against the county by the Bridgwell Engineering Company.

The suit is for the amount of $15,200 in engineering fees alleged to be due the company from the Delanco-Riverside bridge project.

Peditto stated that, in addition to filing an answer, in which a debt was denied, the county had also inaugurated a counter-suit to recover fees that had already been paid.

ON UNBEATEN SCHOOL TEAM

Richard Coe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Coe, of Cinnaminson, and Robert Stover, son of Mr. and Mrs. Evan Stover, of Riverton, are members of the George School soccer team that closed its season last Saturday with an impressive record of 11 straight victories.

Coe, who played center forward on the team, was responsible for scoring more than one-half of the 48 goals that his team registered during the season. Stover held down the post of right wing.

Opponents Get Nine
The George School opponents were able to score only nine points against them and, in five games the enemy was held scoreless.

Included among the wins racked up, were decisions over Moorestown Friends this being a 2-1 affair, and over Girard College P.G.

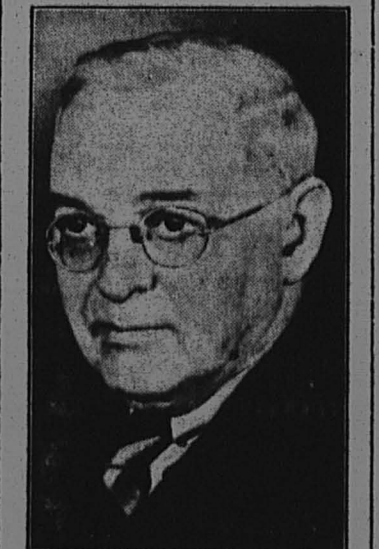

The season was the most successful experienced in this sport at George School.

Pupils living more than two miles from Loughrist, England, public schools are to be supplied with bicycles, capes and leggings free.

WHO WROTE IT?

"Shine On Harvest Moon"

Oh, shine on, shine on

MANY of the American song-writers of this era began their careers as interpreters of song, as singing waiters or vaudeville artists. The composer of "Shine On Harvest Moon," native of Philadelphia, began as a blackface artist. He wrote his own songs and patter, and developed both talents until the fateful day when with Nora Hayes he sang his most famous song in the Ziegfeld Follies. The ovation to the song rather than to the male singer sent him over the borderline from acting to song-writing. He wrote a London revue, whose premier was marked by a Zeppelin raid. Our composer then went back to America, trouped with a vaudeville skit, married his pianist and made a series of short films in Hollywood in the pre-double feature days.

The early song hit was picked up recently by a little orchestra in Texas, where Ruth Etting heard it and gave it added lustre in later renditions, and so, after twenty years the song again became a hit.

During the years the composer wrote many other numbers, including "Smari", "Good Evening Caroline", the lyrics to "Take Me Out To The Ball Game"—enough to earn him membership in the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers.

His name is Jack Norworth

Spook Party At Fox Theatre Sunday Night

If you are a sissy you better not come—

That's the admonishment given all faint-hearted who plan to attend the midnight ghost show scheduled for the Fox Theatre on Sunday night.

So filled with ecstasies will this special show be, that it is even predicted that those who attend alone may be afraid to venture home by themselves: that is why the Fox Theatre Management urges all who attend, to be accompanied by one or more friends.

The special spook show will consist of any number of weird, shuddery, spine-tingling episodes. On the stage that Master of all that's weird, Clifford, will present his unfathomable collection of Spirits moving inanimate objects, spooks that talk and ghosts that walk. Some of Clifford's Ghouliah assistants will even wander into the audience to mingle—socially, though—with the guests.

Before the mysterious stage spooks appear to frighten the patrons, the screen will glue them to their seats with the showing of The Ghoul Walks.

The Fox Theatre doors will open at 11 p.m. and show starts at 11:30 Sunday night for this special spook show. The admission will be 30 cents for any seat in the house, no children's tickets will be sold. This promises to be one of the most unforgettable of all midnight theatrical experiences.

YMCA BRIEFS

County Board Meeting

James L. Bethune, popularly known as "Jim," new State Y.M.C.A. secretary for New Jersey, will be present and speak at the November 29th meeting of the county Y.M.C.A. board, at the Community House, in Moorestown, following a dinner at which various leaders of Y.M.C.A. groups all over the county will be guests of the County Board members.

Such board meetings are held the last Tuesday of September, November, January, March and May. Benjamin J. Roberts, of Marlton, is the president; R. C. B. Parker, Mount Holly and A. E. Hargett, Riverton, vice presidents; Louis B. Forsythe, clerk and Howard C. Darnell, treasurer.

Beside Mr. Bethune's address and regular county Y.M.C.A. business items, President Roberts will call on the various subcommittees of the county board for reports. That on finance is headed by Howard C. Darnell; camp, Henry F. Stockwell; transportation, C. William Haines; public relations, John W. Thacher; world brotherhood, Maurice W. Haines; camp attendance promotion, Irving Hollingshead; district organization, Lewis M. Parker; endowment, Judge Harold B. Wells; executive committee, chaired by President Roberts.

County Hi-Y Council Meeting

The November meeting of the County Hi-Y Council will be held at the Baptist Church, Garden street, Mt. Holly, Sunday afternoon, November 27th at 3 p.m.

The council will be augmented by the presence of older boys who will be this year's delegates from Burlington county to the annual State Older Boys' Conference at Trenton, December 2, 3, 4.

This year's conference will conduct a "model legislature" and participate in various functions of government which will be explained to the delegates at their pre-conference session Sunday afternoon.

The "boy senators" and "boy assemblymen" who have been designated from the various counties of the state will actually sit in the seats of the regular senators and representatives from their counties. They, in turn, will be divided into various committees and will present and discuss bills for good government drawn up by local Hi-Y clubs, thus working practically on the conference theme "Christian Citizenship in a Democracy."

Hearings on Bills

Burlington county's delegates will attend hearings on various bills, some of which to be introduced in

PLANTS FOR YOUR GARDEN

By A. C. McLean
Extension Service, N. J. College of Agriculture

The Dependable Begonia

Every year about this time, begonias come to the fore again as old favorites for indoor gardening. They are easy plants to grow, for the most part, particularly the forms of Begonia semperflorens. Their bright clusters of bloom do much to add color to a room in winter.

Several of the Begonias, as well as numerous others, do well under house conditions, although there are some hybrids, such as those of the Melior group so popular at Christmas, which are somewhat difficult to grow.

The beginner should try Begonia semperflorens the Perpetual Begonia. Grow them in a sunny window, water moderately and not permit them to bloom too regularly. To prevent too frequent blooming, keep the seed buds, which form quite freely, and the ends of the shoots pinched off, so that growth down near the roots will be encouraged. There are many varieties of this type, ranging in color from pure white through pink to bright red. Some bear flowers an inch to an inch and a half across. One variety, Indian Maid, has very attractive dark green leaves.

Begonias prefer a rather light soil. While this should not become too dry, do not keep in soaking wet, either. Probably more begonias are spoiled by too much watering than by anything else.

Begonias are very easily propagated from cuttings. Place them in sand and guard against wilting. Some begonias may also be rooted from leaves.

The Problems Of American Youth

The Parent-Teacher Association of Riverton held their regular monthly meeting in the auditorium Monday afternoon. Echoes from the convention at Atlantic City were brought to the meeting by the president, Mrs. Charles H. Yost.

Mention was made of the gifts to the American Legion for toys and to the Welfare Association for Christmas.

Speaker

Dr. Mary Roberts, principal of the Moorestown High school, was the speaker of the afternoon. Her theme was "The Problems of American Youth." She said American youth is faced with problems for which many have not been prepared, one of which is earning a living. A large majority have prepared themselves to earn their living in an intellectual field only to find it overcrowded and only menial positions open with small salaries.

Dr. Roberts stated youth needs a recreational program to build character. Those who find recreation too expensive are apt to turn to crime as an outlet.

Overstimulation is another problem. According to statistics the young people between the ages of twenty and twenty-nine do not take advantage of their vote. They lack interest in civic affairs.

According to Dr. Roberts, the greatest need of young people is the "Rebirth of Interest in Spiritual Values."

The prize for best attendance was awarded to Miss Paulding.

Events

A candy sale will be conducted by the P.T.A. during the first week of December, the proceeds to go to the Hannah Chew Library for new books.

The next activity of the P.T.A. will be the Christmas party, Thursday, December 22, at 10 a.m.

MILE OF PENNIES

In an end-of-the-year effort to raise funds for their Christmas basket and equipment fund, the Lincoln Hi-Y, of Palmyra, will conduct a "Mile of Pennies" campaign in the borough.

The object of the group is to procure an amount of pennies that if laid end to end would stretch a mile. Envelopes will be distributed by the boys this weekend and it is asked that any odd pennies you might have be placed in the envelope for collection at a later date.

As this is the first Christmas the group has been organized, an effort is being made to make it a successful one in regard to the group's charitable offerings.

GUEST FROM MEXICO

Ned Echeverria, a student at the Moorestown Friends School, spent last weekend with David N. Blyler, of Riverton.

Know Your Government

Tax-Free Property

The total value of property levied upon for taxes in New Jersey is $5,667,877,713. In addition, the total value of property exempt from taxation is $1,058,536,661.

Exceedingly liberal in granting exemptions, the New Jersey Legislature has permitted the growth of tax exemptions until it has reached tremendous proportions. Government buildings, school buildings, colleges, fraternal orders, veterans, churches, charitable institutions and many other groups are included in its wide scope.

Local taxing districts must, of course, sustain the greatest amount of revenue loss. In Trenton, for example, because of the considerable number of government buildings, Federal, State, county and municipal, more than one-quarter of all property valuation is non-taxable.

Service for All

Nevertheless, municipal governments are obliged to provide public services for all properties, whether or not they are subject to taxation. Police and fire protection, street lighting, and many other necessary functions must be supplied at the expense of local taxpayers.

When tax exemption is carried to excess, it places an additional burden upon taxable property and compels the owners to pay an increased amount of taxes. It is another striking example of minority interests receiving special consideration from the government at the expense of the vast body of taxpayers.

Correction of the tax exemption problem may be attacked from two angles. First, rigid examination of all properties claiming exemption, to eliminate those which do not comply with the tax law. For example, exemption of charitable institutions is open to gross abuse, because such institutions have performed incidental charitable work, then claimed complete exemption on all their property. According to the General Tax Act charitable institutions are exempt only if operated exclusively for charitable purposes.

Too Liberal Exemptions

Second, where exemptions are too liberal, tax exemption laws should be revised to eliminate these exemptions. Since the public assumes the expense of tax exemptions every exemption should be justified by public policy. Unless there is a definite and obvious public advantage in every exemption, that exemption stands on doubtful ground.

Sponsored by the joint action of the New Jersey Taxpayers Association and the New Jersey State League of Municipalities, Assembly Joint Resolution No. 2, enacted this year, offers a constructive approach to tax exemption reform. Recognizing the evils of an unwise and over-liberal system of tax exemptions, the resolution provides for a strict check-up of all tax exempt properties.

It directs the State Tax Commissioner to demand from every taxing district in the State a detailed list of all tax exempt properties, together with complete reasons as to why they have become exempt, and under what sections of the law such exemptions were allowed.

With these returns completely classified and analyzed, the commissioner is directed to order back on the tax assessing rolls those which do not clearly come within the meaning of the law.

Rigid Enforcement

Further requirements of the resolution direct the commissioner to report to the Governor, the Senate and Assembly, setting forth what he has accomplished in connection with such tax evasions. At the same time, he is required to recommend changes in the law where exemptions are too liberal, inequitable, or unjustifiable.

Enactment of this resolution has created a starting point toward the correction of tax exemption abuses. Rigid enforcement of its provisions should lead to relief of taxpayers from inequitable tax discrimination.

At present the Tax Revision Commission is making a survey of the tax situation throughout New Jersey, with the purpose of bringing about

ONE OPINION

At the request of a number of our readers, the following communication is reprinted from the People's Column of a Philadelphia newspaper:

"A large percentage, if not a majority of our citizens, including many eminent public men, are denouncing Germany for its alleged ill-treatment of the Jews. Refusal to join in this popular clamor exposes one to imputations of race hatred, or secret Nazi sympathies.

"Yet a patriotic American, free from all such taints will, for an altogether different reason, unhesitatingly condemn these denunciations as most ill advised. Why? Because they are likely to put us where we must either swallow public insults or go to war! And for a cause in which, after all, we have no direct interest.

"Are we prepared to go to war, if Germany tells us—as she is very likely to tell us, possibly in diplomatic language, possibly in blunt words—to go mind our own business?"

A British observer says that flying fish fly by dipping the lower blade of the tail repeatedly in the water to propel themselves, using their fins as planes.

The Marathon race was so named because after the battle of Marathon a messenger ran twenty-two miles to Athens to announce the victory of the Greeks.

"Ignorance is never bliss," said Hi Ho, the sage of Chinatown. "It is only an anesthetic which prevents a person temporarily from being aware of a painful condition."

tax reforms in this state.

In the field of tax exemption lies a splendid opportunity for the commission to recommend extensive tax reforms. Complete overhauling of the entire system of exemption should ease some of the pressure of taxation upon all taxpayers.

AMERICAN WELL-BEING DIDN'T 'JUST HAPPEN'

Made Better Use of Resources, Encouraged Enterprise, Gifford Says

"America's leadership of the world in well-being did not just happen. Neither is it just because of an abundance of natural resources," Walter S. Gifford, president of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, stated recently in responding to presentation to him of the Gold Medal of the National Institute of Social Sciences.

"It is largely because we have made better use of our national resources," he declared. "It is because we have kept opportunity open to all. More than anything else it is because of our encouragement of enterprise and to management, produced more often than not from the ranks.

"I like to feel that this medal is a recognition that business is an activity which plays an important part in the betterment of mankind and that a business man in tending to business can render distinguished humanitarian service thereby. I should like to suggest that business men, like others, do not live by bread or material comforts alone and that they, like others, will respond and do their best for the betterment of mankind when their efforts to that end are encouraged."

Mr. Gifford received the medal in recognition of his services "as Director of the Council of National Defense; President of the Charity Organization of New York; Trustee of Johns Hopkins University, General Education Board, Carnegie Institution of Washington; Director of the President's Organization on Unemployment Relief; President of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, the greatest non-governmental organized service in the United States; and as trustee of numerous educational and scientific foundations."
