CHILDREN'S FLAG AND BABY COACH PARADE MOST SPECTACULAR EVENT IN RIVERTON'S FOURTH OF JULY CELEBRATION

Morning Races Called Off Owing to Lack of Breeze

Patriotism to the letter was exemplified on July 4th when Riverton held one of the most spectacular children's flag and baby coach parades that has ever accompanied any celebration of its kind in this vicinity.

In former years this event was participated in in a half-hearted fashion, but the "Spirit of 1917" was exceptionally manifested this year with the ring of American citizenship.

At 9:30 the parade moved down Main street headed by the Riverton fire truck most patriotically decorated.

Then followed the Boys' Brigade, led by R. Biddle Frishmuth.

A huge American flag, borne by 20 little girls, dressed in white wearing sashes of National colors, preceded the band.

The speakers of the day, Mayor Edw. H. Flagg, Jr., Rev. N. F. Stahl and Rev. John Riggs, took this part of the line and were followed by 500 children carrying flags and 26 of the Red Cross contingent of Riverton in uniform with Miss Mabel Cook bearing the handsome Red Cross banner and Dr. G. L. Alexander, medical instructor, in the lead.

The new feature then presented itself in the decorated baby coach parade. There were about 35 entries, all making a very handsome showing.

The prizes for these were awarded as follows: First, silver soup, most patriotic—Virginia Mattis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William N. Mattis, Jr. Second, silver napkin ring, most original—Clarence W. Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chillian Jones. Third, silver bib holder, most artistic—Richard Barclay, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Barclay (nee Speakman).

Honorable mention—Herbert Richmond, son of Mrs. Eleanor Richmond.

On arriving at the bank the assembly was addressed by Mayor Flagg and Dr. Stahl.

After the parade, the children were made in the afternoon, but was not successful.

At 2:30 the swimming, tub and canoe races afforded much amusement to the vast throngs that visited the bank this year.

The results were as follows: Swimming Junior—First, Clois Loreaux; second, Daniel Clifton; third, Rex Bell.

Swimming (senior)—First, Guy Lloyd; second, Mr. Whitman; third, Benedict Showell.

Tub races—First, Vincent Zelskie; second, John Corry; third, John Graff.

Together with these events the band concert on the lawn attracted many.

At 7:30 P. M. church services on the lawn were held by Rev. John Riggs, which were more largely attended than any previous year.

The band then played patriotic airs until 9:30 P. M., this ending a well celebrated occasion.

Mr. Frank Day, who belongs to the National Guard of Illinois, and who has been employed in Chicago for some time past, surprised his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis S. Day on Sunday when he returned home to make them a visit previously to being called into Federal Service. He left on Thursday for Chicago.

THE SIGN OF THE CROSS

Y. M. C. A. Building, Broad and Garfield Avenue, By M. W. Wislam

At the monthly meeting of the Executive Board of Palmyra Branch Red Cross the various reports showed considerable progress had been made in this very important work. The membership has increased to 271; over $400 had been received in dues, donations and gifts of material; $171 has been paid over to the county chapters for national work in compliance with the rules; 1536 gauze compresses, rolls, wipes, sponges, drains and laparotomy pads, and 316 maslin, crinolines and flannel bandages, slings, hospital shirts and pajamas are completed or in course of finishing. The work rooms are open from 10 A. M. to 5 P. M. Tuesday and Wednesday.

Material and workers are constantly needed. You may readily see it requires considerable money to operate a work of this character. It is needful and pressing; a serious problem confronts the people of this community. More than two score of our own boys have gone and more will go. Every person is kindly asked to always have a warm spot in their heart for the support of the Palmyra Branch Red Cross, which has done nobly in such a short space of time. The ladies are willing to do greater things for our soldier and sailor boys. They will need money and money; give them an appreciative assistance when they require help.

A cash donation of $5 from Mr. William E. Russell was handed the treasurer this week.

Mrs. C. H. Crowell was made chairman of the Entertainment Committee. First Aid Class meets Monday evening, July 9, at 8 o'clock in headquarters.

Mr. Jacob P. Warner has been appointed chairman of Finance Committee.

Don't forget the receptacles in the stores and post office. Every little helps. Thanks for the money that has been reported through this channel.

On Friday evening, July 13, the degree team of Cinnaminson Lodge, No. 201, will travel to Beverly to exemplify the first degree of Odd Fellowship on a class of candidates for Beverly Lodge. The Grand Lodge officers will be present at this meeting. All brothers of the order are invited to go with us.

ROGERS—ABBOTT

With the Friends' ceremony in the Friends' Meeting House, at Moorestown, N. J., the marriage of Miss Ruth Abbott to Mr. Robinson Walker Rogers, both of Moorestown, N. J., took place on Saturday afternoon last at 2:30 o'clock. A reception immediately followed the ceremony at the newly remodeled and furnished home of Mr. Rogers, on Bank avenue and Main streets, Riverton.

Mr. and Mrs. Roberts left that evening on a 1000 mile wedding trip and were last heard from Manchester-in-the-Mountains of Vermont.

The bridal couple will be at home after September 1, at 501 Bank avenue, Riverton.

HUNOR OF DRAFT STIRS RIVERTON AND PALMYRA RESIDENTS

Riverton and Palmyra, not unlike all other towns and cities throughout the United States, became all a stir on Thursday when the news reached here that the drafting had taken place in Washington, the numbers being 1, 11, 17, 61, 62, 67, 97, 100, 107, 109, 111, 145 and 148. There was a scramble for the registration cards. Some were pleased upon realizing their number had not been drawn, a few were sorry and those who held numbers corresponding to those published also were of various attitudes.

But alas, this news that purported to have originated in Chicago was all a rumor and emphatically denied by Secretary Baker and Provost Marshal General Crowder.

The selection of draft will, however, take place shortly, but new numbers will be given everyone registered; the number of the registration card to be used as identification only.

FIELD CLUB TAKES TWO

Taubel Humbled, 10-1—Beverly Walloped, 10-3

By "Hap" Mathews.

The Field Club inaugurated "clean-up" day at Field Club Park last Saturday by defeating Taubel, 10-1.

J. Howard Berry, who has an iron bound arm on the title of "World's Greatest Athlete," mounted the mound for the home guards and pitched gilded ball for the entire afternoon.

The Field Club was full of the real pep and the lathered that old pill for further orders. Manager Williams smiled, shouted, danced and then found time to throw a few fits on the bench. The populace of the stands howled, stamped, turned purple with it all, and choked with the exertion of pulling one shriek on another the bleachers row in right cheered their "Town Talk," smoked their "Piedmonts" and cursed right merrily; so taking it all in all we had a quiet afternoon of it.

MacMullin was back on the job for the second time and was gladly received by the "Mendies" place has yet to be seen and I doubt that it will be.

MacMullin was married for one thing, and played all elsewhere for another; so it's a good-night for us.

The nature of this game was Stack never a hand capture of Hime in a killing line drive in the sixth inning. This hit looked good for a single through second, so much so that Hubbs, who was playing out, could not get back to the bag in time to prevent a double play.

Roy Hubbs, a former Field Club man, made the best game for Taubel, hitting safely on two occasions and dragging down several hard chances in the center garden. Score, 10-1.

that scored MacMullin, Foulks and Somers, and set the crowd wild; Kemmerle kept up the good work by plunking out a single; then Hienle Baker fanned, making two down and apparently ending the rally; but no it was not to be, for Simpson laid one down to short who pegged poorly to Borden, the ball going to the bleachers and two more runs came clattering in amidst the frantic shouts of the multitude. Borden duplicated his error on Fichter and Stack walked, filling the bases for the second time. Babe MacMullin made his second single to the inning, scoring Simpson and Fichter. Stack ended the inning by his failure to steal home. Seven runs.

The final score was 10 to 3, which is some drubbing I'll say.

The Field Club plays Stetson this Saturday at Philadelphia.

Notes of the Game

Polis certainly had his eye on the pill for fair. Three safe ones for "Larrie."

"Babe" MacMullin banged out two singles in the third inning which is going some.

"Herb" Kemmerle looks foolish for two strikes and then comes through with a single—sometimes.

Familiar sentences: Baker fanned.

Palmyra got away with several double plays in the "Fourth" game. Fast fielding.

There's always a punch left in Foulks, who is far from retiring just yet.

Williams seems to have a good bunch together again. Go get 'em, Eddie.

"Eddie" King certainly keeps the ball park and tennis courts in wonderful shape. He deserves credit.

Stetson this Saturday. All out.

George MacMullin was with us for a few innings at third. Greetings, George!

NEW METHOD OF DETERMINING STAR COLORS
 Photovisual magnitudes of stars are the visual magnitudes determined by a photographic process, the Scientific American. An isochromatic plate is used, combined with a yellow filter, instead of the ordinary photographic plate and used for determining photographic magnitudes. The difference between the photovisual and visual magnitudes of a star and its photographic magnitude is known as the star's "color-index," and is commonly used as a measure of the star's color. The color of a star may be determined also by spectroscopic methods. A new method, recently proposed by F. H. Seares, of the Mount Wilson Observatory, consists of determining the ratio of exposure-time necessary to produce photographic and photovisual images of the same size. An isochromatic plate exposed behind a yellow filter gives the photovisual image, and the same plate without filter gives the photographic image. As it is not feasible actually to produce images of the same size, a single photovisual image is compared with a series of three or four photographic images, the exposure times of which increase in geometrical progression. The diameters of the latter series, or their scale readings, are plotted against the logarithm of the exposure, and from the nearly linear curve thus derived can be read the exposure-time for a photographic image of the same size as the photovisual. The ratio of the interpolated exposure thus obtained to that which produced the photovisual image compared with similar ratios for stars of known color gives the color-index of color-class of the star.

ENEMIES BY NATURE
 Very strange is the instinctive dislike shown by certain animals for each other. A notable instance is seen in the hatred which cattle bear towards dogs. In all probability, however, this is a survival of the fittest which the wild cattle of early days felt regarding the wolves and savage dogs which preyed upon them. In other words, it is an inherited instinct.

The precise cause of the natural enmity which exists between cats and dogs is more difficult of explanation, but that the feeling extends to other branches of the feline tribe is shown in the fierce hostility which tigers also display where dogs are concerned. This can hardly be associated with hostility to wolves—as in the case of cattle—because the tiger has no particular prejudice against the wolf. The feeling, however, is evidently quite reciprocated by the dogs, for although a single dog will fly from a tiger, a pack of savage dogs would, it is said, attack a tiger with as much gusto as they would worry a domestic exposure time of which increase in geometrical progression. The diameters of the latter series, or their scale readings, are plotted against the logarithm of the exposure, and from the nearly linear curve thus derived can be read the exposure-time for a photographic image of the same size as the photovisual. The ratio of the interpolated exposure thus obtained to that which produced the photovisual image compared with similar ratios

DOING THE DOCTOR

Bobbs always was a quick-witted chap. Only one other possession of his was as valuable as that wit of his, and that was his money. He was always broke, and always reckless withal. He took a cab once, being a bit uneasy, to convey him from the club to his dwelling, the latter some distance. The cold night air blowing through the open windows sobered him enough to permit of his realizing that he had no money to pay the cabman's fare.

Just at that moment the driver made that very usual inquiry: "What address did you say, sir?"

"And Bobbs said, promptly, 'Dr. So-and-so's, 27th and Chestnut, and number 12, 13th and Chestnut, and number 14, 15th and Chestnut, and number 16, 17th and Chestnut, and number 18, 19th and Chestnut, YOUTH'S COMPANION
SERIALS FOR 1917

The serials in The Youth's Companion this year are almost worth the subscription price, $2. As a matter of fact, the seven serials yet to appear will sell for $1.50 each in book form after they have delighted a million readers of The Companion. The Crystal Hunters is by Frank Little Pollock, who can be counted on always to tell a stirring tale of adventure. Arthur Stanwood Poir, who was a Flatbush "rookie" in 1915, has used his experience as the foundation of The Flatbushers, a serial that has all the wholesome vigor of his fine stories of school life. Then there is Ralph D. Paine's serial, The Fluffy Freshman, whose hero begins his college course on a total capital of eleven dollars. C. A. Stephens' takes the hero of the Old Home Farm to Anticosti, the huge island in the Gulf of St. Lawrence, and James W. Schultz contributes a serial of Indian life, Lone Bull's Great Mistake. Serials of special interest for girls will be Ransby's Portion by Joslyn Gray, and In Aunt Stella's Pocket by William T. Whitlock, a story of ranch life. 2102. A PRACTICAL WORK DRESS. This style is popularly known as a "cover all" apron or dress and is indeed a useful, desirable garment. It is pretty and becoming enough to be worn as a porch dress, if developed in appropriate materials. The pattern is cut in 4 sizes: Small, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46 inches bust measure. It requires 6-1/2 yards of 36-inch material for a 36-inch size. A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps.

TRAPPED AT LAST. The minister of L— is one of those quietly humorous characters of whom there are many in the church. He has a deal to contend with in his preaching, and the chief matter is to combat it alone. Many of his hearers begin to doze the minute he starts preaching. The minister, arranged with the deacon that in future he should endeavor to waken sleepers from the pulpit. He managed this successfully for some time, but one Sunday he failed almost entirely. He made no effort to rouse an old woman, a well-known member of the church, who was sitting in the front row. The deacon, who was sitting next to her, said to her: "You are asleep, aren't you?" She replied: "Coming, coming!"

THE DOCTOR KNOWS. A friend went to the undertaker to order a coffin for his father. "What size?" asked the undertaker. "Is poor father dead?" "No, he's not dead yet," the friend answered. "But he'll die to-night, for the doctor says he can't live till morning, and he knows what he says."

The imports of cigarettes into China continue to increase notwithstanding greater production by Chinese tobacco factories.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS. Allow cabbage water to become quite cold before pouring down the sink, and there will be no unpleasant smell. Mice do not like the smell of pepper, and a little oil of pepper placed about their haunts will soon make them look for other quarters. Baking soda gives instant relief to a burn or scald. Applied either wet or dry to the burned part immediately the sense of relief is magical. If an article has been scorched in ironing, wet in cold water and lay where the bright sunshine will fall directly on it. This will take the mark entirely out. Don't throw away burnt milk; pour it into a clean jug and stand in cold water. By the time the milk is quite cold the scorched taste will have disappeared. If, when baking, the oven should get too hot, place a basin of cold water in it. This will cool the oven, and the steam which rises from the water will prevent the contents from burning. To make glassware glisten, after washing rise in hot water and then place in cold water in which a handful of starch has been dissolved. Drain on towels until quite dry, and polish with a dry cloth. To make a candle burn all night, put a piece of candle in a tin can, and light it. The smoke from the wick will keep it all night by means of a small piece of candle. To remove creases from clothes which have been packed away for some time, hang in the bath-room, then turn on the hot-water tap. Press afterwards if necessary. If a teaspoonful of glycerine be added to every four pounds of any fat or marmalade a quart of an hour before bottling is completed it will be found to remove the fatty appearance and make the preserve transparent and firmer than the usual home-made jam. A little dry mustard rubbed on the hands will remove the smell of fish from them. To remove dirt from white paint use the water in which two or three onions have been boiled.

AN AIDY STORY. "The meanest chap I ever knew," said a little man, who made a point of out-taking his neighbor's power for his own, "was a cove who lived in that red house next to mine. Reddied city man he was. I forget his name. Mac some/at or other, I fancy. You wouldn't 's'count him for was mean, neither, 'cos he used to have quite a big party down for the shooin'."

"He had five fields, but the only blessed thing in the shape of a game about 'em was an old hare that was born there, and kept round the spot for safety. Lor, there warn't a danger. Mac's friends couldn't hit a elephant at ten yards, so the hare used regular to enjoy the fun. There was a catastrophe one day, though. A gun went off by accident, and over went puss, dead as a door-nail. What d'ye think Mac did?"

"Got another hare," suggested somebody. "No, he didn't," was the response. "He wrote for a free sample of some patent hair-restorer and brought the old 'un round again."

There was a sudden rush for the little man, but he had vanished.

SAVED HIS BREATH

Two boys, one large, the other small, had become involved in a misunderstanding, and the big bully was pouring out the vials of his wrath upon the little chap in all the abusive epithets he had ever heard, and some that were manufactured especially for the occasion. His small antagonist meanwhile was standing calmly in front of him, with his hands hankly idly by his side, and his eyes fixed upon his opponent with a curious expression of reserved power, and he seemed to be gazing over every word, as if it were a personal compliment. Finally, when the large boy had exhausted his vocabulary and his breath at the same time, the little mite delivered himself in the gravest and most perfectly unexcused tones after this fashion: "All them things you said I am 'you're them yourself!'"

Then there is Ralph D. Paine's serial, The Fluffy Freshman, whose hero begins his college course on a total capital of eleven dollars. C. A. Stephens' takes the hero of the Old Home Farm to Anticosti, the huge island in the Gulf of St. Lawrence, and James W. Schultz contributes a serial of Indian life, Lone Bull's Great Mistake. Serials of special interest for girls will be Ransby's Portion by Joslyn Gray, and In Aunt Stella's Pocket by William T. Whitlock, a story of ranch life. THE PALMYRA RECORD

The serials in The Youth's Companion this year are almost worth the subscription price, $2. As a matter of fact, the seven serials yet to appear will sell for $1.50 each in book form after they have delighted a million readers of The Companion. The Crystal Hunters is by Frank Little Pollock, who can be counted on always to tell a stirring tale of adventure. Arthur Stanwood Poir, who was a Flatbush "rookie" in 1915, has used his experience as the foundation of The Flatbushers, a serial that has all the wholesome vigor of his fine stories of school life. Then there is Ralph D. Paine's serial, The Fluffy Freshman, whose hero begins his college course on a total capital of eleven dollars. C. A. Stephens' takes the hero of the Old Home Farm to Anticosti, the huge island in the Gulf of St. Lawrence, and James W. Schultz contributes a serial of Indian life, Lone Bull's Great Mistake. Serials of special interest for girls will be Ransby's Portion by Joslyn Gray, and In Aunt Stella's Pocket by William T. Whitlock, a story of ranch life. Besides these there will be many story groups—one group, Stories of the San Diego Range, having an unaccustomed scene. The Companion offers all this and ten times more—all for $2. Subscribe now, before the next serial begins.

AUTO TRUCK HITS AGED MAN

Submits to Injuries Later in Cooper Hospital

D. Woodrow Clark, familiarly known as "Woody," caretaker of Bethel Cemetery, Burlington Pike, and Cove road, was hit by a passing auto truck on Saturday evening last and sustained a broken pelvis bone, a splinter of which having severed a blood vessel and a broken leg.

The truck was driven by George Church, who resides near Folsom and who is employed at the Pomona Nurseries. It was first reported that Church had driven on leaving the man in the road, but an act of this kind was discredited by all who knew him.

By investigation it was found that Church was driving from Philadelphia to Camden, and that he had struck Clark, realizing that the man's condition needed prompt attention and that the speed of the truck would probably impair his life.

As it was Clark was immediately treated at the hospital, but died shortly after.

Taking the necessary steps Church was held in $1000 bail for court by Justice of the Peace Hyatt, of Camden.

WIT AND HUMOR

Mamma (reprovingly, at supper-table)—Myra, I am surprised. Little girls should not be so bisterous.

Myra (after chiding the other girls, and then looking at her mother): I see. They only ought to be girls-tous.

Teacher—Johnnie, I am amazed at such an exhibition of poor spelling. You seem to be falling off in your scholarship.

Johnnie—Well, teacher, they keep changing the spelling so much of late years that a person cannot really tell where he is one week after another.

Mamma—Did you give your little brother any of your candy?

Little Dot—No, mamma. I was afraid it'd spoil his teeth.

There's no need to get angry for the more you get mad.

Why, the more people laugh.

A rainstorm is really no excuse for keeping a healthy, strong child from school; at least, teachers assert.

Johnnie—Well, teacher, they keep changing the spelling so much of late years that a person cannot really tell where he is one week after another.

Teacher, mother says I needn't come to school to-day, 'cause it rains.

And down stairs the little maid fled like a frightened deer.

Chief Officer Beck made an important arrest on Thursday morning at a school where he apprehended George Green (colored), aged fifty years, of New York. The prisoner has been around here about three weeks working on the farm of Tony Taperoni on Hylton road near Burlington Pike, where he succeeded in stealing a number of chickens and a large amount of fruit and produce, selling it in this community. Beck, upon questioning his prisoner, who he is holding in the Palmyra jail, found that he had been doing this some time and upon investigation, recovered thirty-seven of the chickens which he sold as live stock. They were identified by Tony Taperoni as his chickens. Green is being held here previous to being handed over to the Camden Police for trial.

It was also found that Green is afflicted with the drug habit.

Miss Anna Van Baun spent Sunday here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Van Baun. Miss Van Baun is teaching at the summer camp for children in Arcadia.

In response to a call by Chairman of the Township Committee John M. Davies to organize a Woman's Service Committee of the Council for National Defense, a meeting was held in the evening with eight women and the Township Committee in attendance. The organization work then began.

Mrs. Forest Walcott was appointed chairman of the committee and entered upon the first steps of the work by assigning every lady present, district where they were to distribute food conservation cards, in accordance with the plan launched by Food Administrator Hoover for obtaining the services of every housewife for food economy. These cards, which are being out, signed and sent to Washington, this work was able to do. Chairman Mrs. Walcott promises a hard task to find workers, as many women have made other plans for vacations, etc., during the summer and there should be a stop put to such daring, irreverent and low acts.

New electric lights will be provided about for the traffic signs on Broad street and Cinnaminson avenue, thus doing away with the oil lamps which protect your home from disease breeding germs.

the Spirit chooses His own times and methods.

Every man who really wants to know God, instead of merely trying to make himself good to suit himself—must begin by asking himself whether his man can be trusted to fathom the depth of the being of his Creator, he cannot expect to be wiser as his Creator, and he is not competent to sit in judgment upon his Creator and say what His Creator would or should not do. Shall the creature say to his Creator, "Why didst thou make me thus?" (Gen. 3:12).

God's thoughts are not like our thoughts for two reasons. One is that we have a very narrow and restricted knowledge of facts and conditions, and we are ignorant of the workings and motives of many of the things which we see every day. Our acts and our thoughts at or experience will have on the future—either on our own future or on nature of other persons and of the world. God does know, and in the light of His knowledge of the future He shows what is right and good. He shows our nature far better than we know it, and just what sort of training and experience we need. The other reason why God's ights are not like ours is that our judgments are influenced by the defects of our nature. We are at our best when we reflect to vanity. We see everything from the light of its present effect upon ourselves or upon others in whom we are interested and our judgment often errs because it is influenced by more or less unworthy considerations. God is not only infinitely wise, but He is absolutely good. No unworthy motive influences His judgment. God and love seeks to do good always; therefore He cannot in the end do good to those who persistently choose evil as their portion.

"Sure it's water?" queried the dame.

"No, ma'am," he replied, "it's lime used. No evidence was found that canalic lime causes the loss of soft protein by the destruction of organic matter by any serious extent." The Rhode Island Experiment Station has, during the past twenty-two years, conducted experiments on the effects of lime on 280 different varieties of flowers, trees, small fruits, grasses, clovers and miscellaneous crops. Lime is used to neutralize ac-

At the Iowa station the lime requirements of the soil were found to amount to from 3-12 to 5-12 tons per acre. After the acidity of the soil has been neutralized, the addition of one ton or two of limestone per acre every five years appears to be sufficient.

NUMBERS DRAWN IN DRAFT LOTTERY

One Million, Three Hundred and Seventy-four Thousand Men Called, Subject to Exemptions, to Make up the Necessary 687,000 National Army.

EACH EXEMPTION DISTRICT GETS TWICE ITS QUOTA

Drawing Determines Order in Which Registered Citizens Between 21 and 31 are to Be Called for Examination as to Fitness for Army.

[Explanation:—In the draft every number from 1 to 10,000 was drawn and each number called for service the man bearing that red ink number in every one of the 4,887 districts in the United States. Although the high number recorded is 10,391, the full 10,500 were drawn. When a number was drawn higher than the high serial number in any district it operated as a blank. For instance, all numbers above 4,686 in New York City were blanks, and the same applied above 6,711 in Arizona, 6,811 in Connecticut, 6,765 in New Jersey, 4,177 in New Mexico, 7,685 in Pennsylvania, 4,068 in Rhode Island, and so on. The highest serial number in New York State is 7,543 in Niagara Falls.]
