

THE PALMYRA RECORD

A PAPER FOR THE PEOPLE

VOL. IX.—NO. 28.

PALMYRA, N. J., FRIDAY, AUGUST 3, 1917.

3 CENTS PER COPY

PALMYRA NEWS

—Miss Helen English, of Germantown, is spending the week as the house guest of Miss Alice McCormick, of Washington avenue.

—Mrs. Elvin Powell and daughter Marjorie spent from Tuesday until Thursday at Wildwood, N. J. They will leave Monday for Wildwood, where they will spend the balance of the summer. Mr. Powell will accompany them over the week-ends and will also spend the last two weeks in August here.

—Mrs. Walter Gibson will entertain the afternoon "500" at her home on Wednesday of next week.

—Ensign James Ryan, of the U. S. S. Michigan, was entertained several days this week as the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. James T. Weart. A card party was given in his honor on Tuesday evening.

—Miss Florence Thackara, of Camden, and Miss Della Teak, of Medford, passed Sunday here with their aunt, Mrs. C. H. Powell, of Horace avenue.

—Miss Anna Van Buren returned on Saturday from Arcola, Pa., where she has been attending the summer school there for the month past.

—Mr. L. A. Weikman is having a new concrete block office and feed house erected on his property at Arch street.

—Mrs. Arthur Hunt and daughter, Miss Beatrice, are making an extended stay with relatives in Ex More, Va.

—Mr. and Mrs. Leon Joyce, former residents here, now of Virginia, have issued announcements of the birth of a son, Charles Leon.

—Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bramall returned on Saturday, after enjoying a week's stay at Atlantic, N. J.

—Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Day and daughter, Miss Bertha, are spending this week at Wildwood, N. J.

—Mrs. J. B. Van Buren attended the funeral of her brother-in-law held in Philadelphia to-day.

—Mr. Forrest Rudderow and mother, Mrs. W. W. Rudderow, spent Wednesday and Thursday at their home in Philadelphia.

—Mr. Joseph Land was rendered surprise party at his home on Saturday evening last by a number of his little friends.

—Mrs. Fannie Parrish, of Cranford, N. J., is the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Blackburn, of Broad street.

—Mr. Wilford Craft spent Sunday with friends in Olney, Pa.

—Owing to the intense heat during the past week the foundry at Arch street was necessarily closed several days at an early hour in the forenoon.

—Mrs. Falkenstein, of Philadelphia, is being entertained this week by Mr. and Mrs. Emil Seifert, of Garfield avenue.

—Mr. and Mrs. George Wiggins, after being registered at the "Chalfonts," Ocean City, for the past fortnight, have returned to their home on Garfield avenue.

—Mrs. George Pearce, who is summing at Ocean City, spent Monday here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Windish, of Broad street.

—Mr. and Mrs. John Barrie, of Rutledge, Pa., were the guests of Mrs. A. G. Barrie and daughter on Sunday.

—Mrs. M. Prutzman, of Altoona, Pa., is spending the week as the house guest of her granddaughter, Mrs. H. B. Gilpin, of Lenola road.

—Miss Eleanor Day is being entertained this week as the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Green, of Washington avenue.

—Mrs. C. H. Powell, of Horace avenue, spent Friday with her sisters in Camden, N. J.

—Mrs. Victor E. Kummerer, of Fourth and Garfield avenue, will entertain a number of her friends from Philadelphia at tea this afternoon.

—Mr. H. Russell Gibson, of Hightstown, N. J., was a visitor here several days this week, spending the time among relatives and friends.

—Mrs. Amelia Wood paid a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kemmerle, Sr., on Sunday.

—Mr. Arthur Hunt, of Morgan avenue, returned to his home on Sunday, after spending some time with relatives in Ex More, Va.

—The Afternoon Bridge will be entertained on Thursday next by Miss Carolyn Jackson at her home on Elm Terrace.

—Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Hill returned home on Tuesday evening, after passing a month at a summer camp near Williamsport, Pa. Mr. Hill states that he is feeling the better for his vacation.

—The Committee on Arrangements for the Red Cross carnival to be held this Saturday evening has planned for a novel feature which will take place on a portion of the new concrete road. It will be a dance and Contractor Martinet will have things put in the proper shape for the event.

(Continued on Eighth Page)

ROLL OF HONOR

The Three Colors that Will Not Rust: Red-White-Blue

In commendation to those that are serving and have offered their services to the country in the timely hour, we publish the following Roll of Honor. We ask the kind cooperation of our readers in keeping this list most complete at all times:

PALMYRA

Forrest Buck, First Penna. Cavalry.
Ellis Reeves Morgan, Naval Coast Defense Reserve.
William Cook, Aviation Corps.
Bramson Cook, Aviation Corps.
Bilworth Bates, U. S. Navy.
Raymond Bailey, Battery B, Camden.
Watson Mervine, Naval Coast Defense Reserve.
Benjamin Jamison, First Regiment, N. G. P.
John Fisher, First Regiment, N. G. P.
Paul Van Buren, Naval Coast Defense Reserve.
Hamell Woodman, Co. M. N. G. N. J.
John McEliskey, Naval Coast Defense Reserve.
William M. Kooker, U. S. Navy.
Charles C. Kelton, Naval Coast Defense Reserve.
Charles Bates, U. S. Navy.
Harry Shaffer, U. S. Army.
Riley Donahy, Coast Guard.
Lewis Forrester, Ambulance Corps.
Fred Rapp, Ambulance Corps.
John Sutton, Ambulance Corps.
Charles Hawke, Jr., Aviation Corps, 15th Regt., U. S. A.
Gordon Andrews, Naval Coast Defense Reserve.
Arthur Earling, Battery B, Camden.
William Miller, First Penna. Cavalry.
J. F. Cline, 3rd Medical Corps, U. S. A.
Emory Bowker, Hospital Corps.
John Haas, Naval Coast Defense Reserve.
Robert B. Smith, Battery B, Camden.
Theodore D'Aurechy, Ambulance Corps.
Joseph Rodgers, Troop 1, 14th Cavalry.
Maurice McLaughlin, Aviation Corps.
Theophile M. D'Aurechy, Palmyra, Ambulance Corps.
Frank S. Day, Engineer Corps.
Edward Weikman, Engineer Corps.
Clinton Gibson, Engineer Corps.
Furness Rush, Engineering Corps.
Anthony S. Foster, 8th Penna. Infantry.
Arthur Wright, Ambulance Corps.
Edward L. Smith, 1st Medical Corps, U. S. A.
Raymond Berry, Hospital Corps, U. S. A.

RIVERTON

John P. Allison.
George Comer.
Franklin D'Orler.
John Flynn.
Thomas J. Ford.
Eugene Hattell.
Wesley Lloyd.
George MacMillan.
Charles W. Nevin.
Alpha Scott.
Howard Washington.
Lawrence Bell.
Amanda Faunce.
American Friends' Service Committee.
Edith A. Cole.
Navy.
Edward Bennett.
Robert Chesterfield Clay.
Alexander Cole.
Francis Holvick.
Harry W. Johnson.
Frederick MacLean Jones.
Robert Jones.
James Johnson.
George W. Kretschman.
Walter Kennedy.
Arthur Lieb.
Lawrence Murdoch.
Hannon Powers.
Thomas Robert Reath.
Royal Smith.
C. Benedict Shovel.
Miffina Stevenson.
Anquilla W. Teter.
Clarence Tucker.
Ralph Wolcott.
George Foster Woodberry.
Emerson Wolfchmidt.
Clarence Woolman.

TAUGHT MANNERS

Poole, the famous West-end tailor, was making holiday at Brighton, and one morning, on the pier, he met one of his noble customers.

"Good morning, Mr. Poole," said the peer.

"Good morning, my lord," replied the tailor, who then passed on.

"Stay, Mr. Poole, I want to show you this coat," replied the aristocrat. "It doesn't fit me at all."

Poole was a man of ready wit. He stopped, looked carefully at the coat, and then, drawing a piece of chalk from his pocket, said:

"Your lordship is right: the coat wants to be taken in here and let out there, and shortened here and just a bit lengthened there," and at each "here" and "there" he made a heavy chalk-mark. "Now, my lord," he continued, "as he saw a curious crowd had gathered round, 'If you will just take that coat up to London, marked as it is, my manager will see that it is altered to your satisfaction.'"

His lordship did not again commit the impertinence of "talking shop" to Poole.

The shores of Great Britain are growing in size. During the last thirty-five years about six thousand six hundred and forty acres have been lost by coast erosion, while forty-eight thousand acres have been reclaimed from the sea.

If wishes were automobiles, beggars might kick for airships.

THE SIGN OF THE RED CROSS

Y. M. C. A. Building

Broad and Garfield Avenue

By M. W. WISHAM

(Important)

Time—Saturday afternoon and evening.

Place—Y. M. C. A. lawn.

Event—Street market and carnival.

Beneficiary—Red Cross.

Participants—Palmyra branch and the general public.

In honor of our soldier and sailor boys let this be a great outpouring of the people in appreciation of "our boys," the Nation's defenders. There will be patriotic singing. Permission has been granted (by the authorities) the use of a portion of the new concrete roadway for those who wish to trip the "Light Fantastic." A space will be roped off to be in charge of a committee. A small fee of 5 cents will be charged those who wish to participate.

Several new members were enrolled this week.

Notice

In case of storm the carnival will be held indoors.

Notwithstanding the very torrid weather about thirty ladies braved the heat to sew articles for the hospitals on Tuesday and Wednesday. War goes on in warm weather and many things are required for immediate use. Ten willing fingers can accomplish much. How many willing fingers have you to use for this work?

Donations will be received at headquarters Saturday.

MEMBERS OF HOME DEFENSE LEAGUE MISSED A COOL RECEPTION BY NOT ATTENDING DRILL ON TUESDAY EVENING

Last Tuesday evening there were two kinds of members of the Home Defense League, those who stayed home to keep cool and didn't, and those who came to drill in spite of the heat and probably expected to be overcome—but they weren't. Virtually those eleven men who appeared at the Temple gymnasium because they thought it their duty, unknowingly came to the coolest spot in the town.

While the mercury stood at 95 degrees everywhere else the thermometer in the gymnasium actually registered 75—at least 15 or 20 degrees below its nearest rival. One man who came to drill with his coat over his arm put it on inside. So don't let the weather keep you away from drill next time, for you need all the training you can get and we need your presence to help make the work a success.

A delegate from our organization was sent to a meeting of a newly formed confederation of the Home Guards of this State at Newark on Wednesday and will have something interesting to report at the meetings on Friday and Tuesday.

WHY IT WASN'T WASHED

A battery on parade at—was being inspected by the sergeant major. In the center of a wagon a driver in a "tub" had a haversack on which was none too clean. The following dialogue took place:

Sergeant Major—Out of cells again, Brown?

Brown—Yes, sir.

Sergeant Major—That's a very dirty haversack you have got.

Brown—Yes, sir. I only got it from the stores yesterday, and have not had time to wash it.

Sergeant Major—Get it washed immediately after parade, and show it to me.

Just then the commanding officer came on parade, and the sergeant major called the battery to attention.

The commanding officer, riding along, followed by the sergeant major, came up to Driver Brown (who was of a dark complexion).

Commanding Officer—Have you had a wash this morning, Brown?

Driver Brown—Yes, sir.

Commanding Officer (turning to the sergeant major)—Do you think he has washed his face this morning, sergeant major?

The sergeant major, not having caught all the sentence, and thinking the commanding officer was referring to the haversack, blurted out—No, sir. It is an entirely new one; he only got it out of stores last night.

Forgetfulness is the noblest remedy for injuries.

ALL RESIDENTS URGED TO STAND AGAINST THE BUYING OF COURT PLASTER FROM PEDDLERS WITHOUT EXAMINATION

Several arrests have been made during the past week, it is asserted, of peddlers who have been selling or giving away infected court plasters, most noticeable in the smaller towns.

A warning has been issued to the residents of Burlington county to be on their guard against peddlers who try to dispose of these goods and to investigate their acts.

If purchases are made, it is urged that the plaster be turned over to officials in their respective towns for laboratory examination.

EXEMPTION BOARDS CHOSEN FOR JERSEY

The Exemption Boards who will pass on the claims for exemption presented by men drawn under the Army Conscription Law, were appointed by President Wilson and announced last week.

The State has been divided into three districts, that of South Jersey being our district, and for which has been named, Charles R. Hires, Salem, agriculturist; John A. Campbell, Trenton, manufacturer; Arthur S. Quinn, Seward, labor representative; Dr. Paul M. Macray, Camden, physician; Adrian Lyon, Perth Amboy, lawyer.

Paterson, Mercer, Middlesex, Monmouth, Burlington, Ocean, Camden, Gloucester, Atlantic, Salem, Cumberland and Cape May counties compose the third district.

AUGUST COSMOPOLITAN

One of the most striking features of the August Cosmopolitan is the beginning of a new three-part story, "Blue Africa," by Cynthia Stockley. The story is set in Africa, a part of the world with which the Cosmopolitan is familiar. Love and mysterious stories are also featured.

By Robert W. Chambers, the story appears in August Cosmopolitan. If you did not start this new novel with the July number, start it now. It is the greatest novel of the year.

Elizabeth Robins' "The Tortoise and the Cat" is this famous writer's debut in Cosmopolitan. Her unusual story is a real treat.

Samuel Merwin is there with a delightful Henry the Ninth story, entitled "Salvage." It is another episode of Henry's puppy loves.

Lilly Langtry continues her reminiscences. In August she writes of her experiences with English royalty, particularly of the late King Edward, who was noted for his patronage of the stage.

Arthur Reeve has written a great mystery story for August Cosmopolitan, entitled "The Nitrate King," in which Craig Kennedy puts all his energy and intellect into the fathoming of a great mystery.

George Ade is there with a great Fable in Slang.

Jack London's "Michael," one of the greatest dog stories ever written, is continued.

Herbert Kaufman writes of Thomas Edison.

C. N. and A. M. Williamson's wonderful motor car romance, "The Adventure of Jose," is continued.

Mary Roberts Rinehart's trip through the Northwestern Rockies takes the reader of this issue on a pack train through the Cascade Mountains.

John Galsworthy's "Beyond" is continued.

Ella Wheeler Wilcox has written a wonderful poem called "The Hour," with decorations by W. T. Benda.

These are only a few of the big features in August Cosmopolitan, America's Greatest Magazine.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE.

First Church of Christ, Scientist, Riverton, N. J. Services at the church, Thomas avenue and Seventh street, Sundays, 11 A. M. Wednesday, 3 P. M.

Reading room open on Tuesday and Friday afternoons from 3 to 5 o'clock. All welcome.—Adv.

In a recent rabbit-drive near Escalon, California, about five thousand of the pests were slain. More than five hundred men armed with shotguns, forming a line eight miles in length participated.

SPECIAL MEETING OF THE TOWNSHIP COMMITTEE HELD TO DISCUSS ROAD PROBLEMS

A special meeting was called by chairman of the Township Committee, John M. Davies, on Thursday for the purpose of discussing the various problems that have been encountered during the laying of the new road on Broad street.

The most important of these was the problem of having the Public Service Company rush their work on the road bed of the trolleys in order to facilitate matters for the continuance of the work by Contractor Martinet and thus bring this road work to a finish.

It had been originally planned to have the trolley tracks so arranged as to have a more gradual curve around the station. This would necessitate new guard rails which representatives of the Public Service Company, who were present at the meeting, stated were hard to get.

After considerable discussion and taking into consideration the fact that a more gradual curve would make the trolleys center on Broad street on both sides of the station for quite a distance and also that the tracks would be very close to the station and would interfere with the cement step to the station platform that is planned by the railroad company, not forgetting the time that would be consumed in waiting for the guard rails, it was finally decided that the tracks be left in the position they are at present.

The trolley company will repair the road thoroughly between Morgan and Leconey avenues and will have laid between the rails a granite block bed.

A sewer pipe large enough for a main sewerage is being laid perpendicular to Broad street from Cinnaminson avenue to the railroad so as to eliminate the tearing up of the road at a time when Palmyra would have a sewer.

In addition to this road on Broad street the graveling of Garfield and Main avenues from Wallace to Main street is to be placed among the recent improvements.

John M. Davies, who has been in charge of the work, stated that this work will be completed by the end of the month.

With the Broad street road.

With the Broad street road.

With the Broad street road.

With the Broad street road.

With the Broad street road.

With the Broad street road.

With the Broad street road.

With the Broad street road.

With the Broad street road.

With the Broad street road.

With the Broad street road.

With the Broad street road.

With the Broad street road.

With the Broad street road.

With the Broad street road.

With the Broad street road.

With the Broad street road.

With the Broad street road.

With the Broad street road.

With the Broad street road.

With the Broad street road.

With the Broad street road.

With the Broad street road.

With the Broad street road.

With the Broad street road.

With the Broad street road.

With the Broad street road.

With the Broad street road.

With the Broad street road.

With the Broad street road.

With the Broad street road.

With the Broad street road.

With the Broad street road.

With the Broad street road.

With the Broad street road.

With the Broad street road.

With the Broad street road.

RIVERTON NEWS

—Miss Gladys Wyman, of Lippincott avenue, left to-day for West Point Pleasant, N. J., where she will be the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hawley for a number of weeks at their summer cottage.

—Mr. and Mrs. C. Morris Steedle have announced the marriage of their daughter, Helen Christine, to Dr. Robert D. Miller, of Norristown, Pa., on Saturday, July 14, at Philadelphia, Pa. Dr. Miller has recently received the commission of first lieutenant in the army and will leave shortly for Augusta, Ga., where he will be accompanied by his bride.

—Mrs. Reeves returned to the home of her niece, Mrs. J. W. Sylvester, of Seventh street, after having spent four months in Minnesota visiting relatives.

—Ensign Calvin Durgin was home during the past week on a furlough and has joined Mrs. Durgin at the home of her mother, Mrs. Carrie Fest, of Linden avenue.

—Owing to the severe heat during the past week, the Executive Board of the Riverton Red Cross, at a meeting on Thursday, decided to hold their meeting every Thursday from 9 A. M. to 12:30 P. M., thus abandoning their all-day meetings until further notice.

—Lieutenant and Mrs. John Allison and family are occupying their home on Linden avenue during Mr. Allison's furlough.

—Mrs. Harry P. Wyman, of Lippincott avenue, entertained the Afternoon Bridge Club on Monday of this week.

—Dr. and Mrs. Samuel Collin, of Fourth and Thomas avenues; Mrs. Charles S. Mills and niece, Miss Beatrice Brown, of Philadelphia, Pa., left on Wednesday on a two weeks' motor trip to Maine.

—Mr. and Mrs. Casper Padmore returned from their wedding trip and spent the week-end here with her mother, Mrs. A. R. Cavanna, of Main street.

—Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Cook and daughter, Miss Ethel and Mabel, will leave on Monday for a short stay with their parents in Philadelphia.

—Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Cook and daughter, Miss Ethel and Mabel, will leave on Monday for a short stay with their parents in Philadelphia.

—Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Cook and daughter, Miss Ethel and Mabel, will leave on Monday for a short stay with their parents in Philadelphia.

—Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Cook and daughter, Miss Ethel and Mabel, will leave on Monday for a short stay with their parents in Philadelphia.

—Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Cook and daughter, Miss Ethel and Mabel, will leave on Monday for a short stay with their parents in Philadelphia.

—Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Cook and daughter, Miss Ethel and Mabel, will leave on Monday for a short stay with their parents in Philadelphia.

—Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Cook and daughter, Miss Ethel and Mabel, will leave on Monday for a short stay with their parents in Philadelphia.

—Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Cook and daughter, Miss Ethel and Mabel, will leave on Monday for a short stay with their parents in Philadelphia.

—Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Cook and daughter, Miss Ethel and Mabel, will leave on Monday for a short stay with their parents in Philadelphia.

—Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Cook and daughter, Miss Ethel and Mabel, will leave on Monday for a short stay with their parents in Philadelphia.

—Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Cook and daughter, Miss Ethel and Mabel, will leave on Monday for a short stay with their parents in Philadelphia.

—Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Cook and daughter, Miss Ethel and Mabel, will leave on Monday for a short stay with their parents in Philadelphia.

—Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Cook and daughter, Miss Ethel and Mabel, will leave on Monday for a short stay with their parents in Philadelphia.

—Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Cook and daughter, Miss Ethel and Mabel, will leave on Monday for a short stay with their parents in Philadelphia.

—Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Cook and daughter, Miss Ethel and Mabel, will leave on Monday for a short stay with their parents in Philadelphia.

—Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Cook and daughter, Miss Ethel and Mabel, will leave on Monday for a short stay with their parents in Philadelphia.

—Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Cook and daughter, Miss Ethel and Mabel, will leave on Monday for a short stay with their parents in Philadelphia.

—Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Cook and daughter, Miss Ethel and Mabel, will leave on Monday for a short stay with their parents in Philadelphia.

—Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Cook and daughter, Miss Ethel and Mabel, will leave on Monday for a short stay with their parents in Philadelphia.

—Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Cook and daughter, Miss Ethel and Mabel, will leave on Monday for a short stay with their parents in Philadelphia.

—Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Cook and daughter, Miss Ethel and Mabel, will leave on Monday for a short stay with their parents in Philadelphia.

—Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Cook and daughter, Miss Ethel and Mabel, will leave on Monday for a short stay with their parents in Philadelphia.

—Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Cook and daughter, Miss Ethel and Mabel, will leave on Monday for a short stay with their parents in Philadelphia.

—Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Cook and daughter, Miss Ethel and Mabel, will leave on Monday for a short stay with their parents in Philadelphia.

—Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Cook and daughter, Miss Ethel and Mabel, will leave on Monday for a short stay with their parents in Philadelphia.

—Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Cook and daughter, Miss Ethel and Mabel, will leave on Monday for a short stay with their parents in Philadelphia.

—Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Cook and daughter, Miss Ethel and Mabel, will leave on Monday for a short stay with their parents in Philadelphia.

—Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Cook and daughter, Miss Ethel and Mabel, will leave on Monday for a short stay with their parents in Philadelphia.

—Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Cook and daughter, Miss Ethel and Mabel, will leave on Monday for a short stay with their parents in Philadelphia.

PULPIT TOPICS

HE SAID TO-MORROW

Exodus viii:10. "And he said to-morrow." "And he said to-morrow." For four hundred and thirty years the Jews had been in Egyptian bondage. They had made brick without straw and baked bricks in the oven of the taskmasters, and they had been compelled to submit to all the barbarities and cruelties that a powerful and heartless nation could inflict upon those who were their vassals and slaves. God had told Joseph that he would come and lead them out. Generation after generation had been born, matured to manhood and womanhood, developed into age and decrepitude, and still God had not come, until they had imagined that God had forgotten and that He would leave them forever to be the slaves of their masters.

But if God tells you that He will bless you if you do a thing, He will bless you, and when He tells you He will damn you if you don't do it, He will damn you. His judgment may be delayed, but it will come. He will wait until your hair is gray, but His judgments will surely come or His rewards will follow.

And at the appointed time, the very day that God said He would come He appeared under the leadership of Moses to lead them out, and old Pharaoh, the king, refused to let the people go, and God was compelled to afflict him, and the people with plague after plague, and it was during the prevalence of one of these that the colloquy between Moses and Pharaoh of which my text is a fragment, occurred.

It was the plague of frogs. They were to be seen in found everywhere. "The land stinketh because of them," said Pharaoh. "I will let the people go," said Moses. "When shall I entreat the Lord that he take away the frogs?" And he answered in the words of my text: "And he said to-morrow."

"I never thought that argued much for the common sense of Pharaoh, because he had sent for Moses often, and Moses had answered his prayer, and the plague had been stayed, and he knew from experience that there stood the only man in the nation that held the secret of the touch with God, and that man of all men could utter the words that God would hear and God would stay His hand and remove the plague."

And he said to-morrow. "I will let the people go," said Moses. "When shall I entreat the Lord that he take away the frogs?" And he answered in the words of my text: "And he said to-morrow."

And he said to-morrow. "I will let the people go," said Moses. "When shall I entreat the Lord that he take away the frogs?" And he answered in the words of my text: "And he said to-morrow."

THE PALMYRA RECORD

CHRISTIAN ENDORSEMENT

For August 5, 1937

THE FOLLY OF BEING TOO SELF-CONFIDENT

Prov. 16:18 and 14:12-15

Paul tells us that "in the wisdom of God the world is not wise." The wisdom of the world is of vanity, based upon the experiences of the present life, and it always tends to exaggerate the importance of outward things. It seeks happiness in outward success or achievement, or in some form of amusement or of sensual pleasure, or in the acquisition of knowledge; it cannot bring forth a realization of the truth that the joy can only be found in the love that turns away from all kinds of selfish seeking and devotes itself unreservedly to the service of others.

The highest wisdom is to obey the highest law, and the most satisfying pleasure that is possible to us is to be found in a consciousness of honest effort to do the will of God. It is only by getting into harmony with the laws of our physical nature that we can hope to enjoy good health of body, and it is only by getting into harmony with the laws of our spiritual nature that we can hope to enjoy the peace of mind and the joy of the spirit.

There are many questions to be considered in choosing a college, but the most important one is the nature of the influences to which you would be exposed. If you want to come out a confirmed skeptic, rebellious in heart and mind against God, Father Rockefeller's Chicago University would be a good place to go, I think, but there are other colleges which might do almost as much for you in that line.

It is probable that the spiritual atmosphere of the smaller colleges would be more conducive to the advancement of the student in the larger colleges, and if the smaller colleges do not possess all the advantages and appliances to be found in the great ones, that disadvantages may be more than offset by closer relations with the professors and the students.

One of the advantages which college life affords is the chance to form friendships which may last for life, but of course there is another side to this advantage, there is the possibility of choosing unworthy friends, or friends with wrong views of life and its responsibilities. In the college it must be easier to form a correct estimate of the character of one's associates.

The young man should know his own mind before he goes to college. He should have a plan and purpose in life and that plan should affect his choice of a college. For instance, if he intends to be a farmer, an agricultural college would be worth far more to him than any other college. This is an age of specialization. Every man should wish to know a little about everything, but he needs to know a great deal about some one thing.

Now, you ought to say "I will" for several reasons. First, because by so doing you will be relieved of the burden of sin in this life as well as the dread of the future consequences of sin, and every man and woman ought to know that the only way to be relieved of the burden of sin is to stand in the awful peril of God's judgment. There is not a person here this minute that doesn't know that you could forsake the vilest sin if you would submit to God by faith in Jesus Christ.

THE PALMYRA RECORD

CHRISTIAN ENDORSEMENT

For August 5, 1937

THE FOLLY OF BEING TOO SELF-CONFIDENT

Prov. 16:18 and 14:12-15

Paul tells us that "in the wisdom of God the world is not wise." The wisdom of the world is of vanity, based upon the experiences of the present life, and it always tends to exaggerate the importance of outward things. It seeks happiness in outward success or achievement, or in some form of amusement or of sensual pleasure, or in the acquisition of knowledge; it cannot bring forth a realization of the truth that the joy can only be found in the love that turns away from all kinds of selfish seeking and devotes itself unreservedly to the service of others.

The highest wisdom is to obey the highest law, and the most satisfying pleasure that is possible to us is to be found in a consciousness of honest effort to do the will of God. It is only by getting into harmony with the laws of our physical nature that we can hope to enjoy good health of body, and it is only by getting into harmony with the laws of our spiritual nature that we can hope to enjoy the peace of mind and the joy of the spirit.

There are many questions to be considered in choosing a college, but the most important one is the nature of the influences to which you would be exposed. If you want to come out a confirmed skeptic, rebellious in heart and mind against God, Father Rockefeller's Chicago University would be a good place to go, I think, but there are other colleges which might do almost as much for you in that line.

It is probable that the spiritual atmosphere of the smaller colleges would be more conducive to the advancement of the student in the larger colleges, and if the smaller colleges do not possess all the advantages and appliances to be found in the great ones, that disadvantages may be more than offset by closer relations with the professors and the students.

One of the advantages which college life affords is the chance to form friendships which may last for life, but of course there is another side to this advantage, there is the possibility of choosing unworthy friends, or friends with wrong views of life and its responsibilities. In the college it must be easier to form a correct estimate of the character of one's associates.

The young man should know his own mind before he goes to college. He should have a plan and purpose in life and that plan should affect his choice of a college. For instance, if he intends to be a farmer, an agricultural college would be worth far more to him than any other college. This is an age of specialization. Every man should wish to know a little about everything, but he needs to know a great deal about some one thing.

Now, you ought to say "I will" for several reasons. First, because by so doing you will be relieved of the burden of sin in this life as well as the dread of the future consequences of sin, and every man and woman ought to know that the only way to be relieved of the burden of sin is to stand in the awful peril of God's judgment. There is not a person here this minute that doesn't know that you could forsake the vilest sin if you would submit to God by faith in Jesus Christ.

THE PALMYRA RECORD

CHRISTIAN ENDORSEMENT

For August 5, 1937

THE FOLLY OF BEING TOO SELF-CONFIDENT

Prov. 16:18 and 14:12-15

Paul tells us that "in the wisdom of God the world is not wise." The wisdom of the world is of vanity, based upon the experiences of the present life, and it always tends to exaggerate the importance of outward things. It seeks happiness in outward success or achievement, or in some form of amusement or of sensual pleasure, or in the acquisition of knowledge; it cannot bring forth a realization of the truth that the joy can only be found in the love that turns away from all kinds of selfish seeking and devotes itself unreservedly to the service of others.

The highest wisdom is to obey the highest law, and the most satisfying pleasure that is possible to us is to be found in a consciousness of honest effort to do the will of God. It is only by getting into harmony with the laws of our physical nature that we can hope to enjoy good health of body, and it is only by getting into harmony with the laws of our spiritual nature that we can hope to enjoy the peace of mind and the joy of the spirit.

There are many questions to be considered in choosing a college, but the most important one is the nature of the influences to which you would be exposed. If you want to come out a confirmed skeptic, rebellious in heart and mind against God, Father Rockefeller's Chicago University would be a good place to go, I think, but there are other colleges which might do almost as much for you in that line.

It is probable that the spiritual atmosphere of the smaller colleges would be more conducive to the advancement of the student in the larger colleges, and if the smaller colleges do not possess all the advantages and appliances to be found in the great ones, that disadvantages may be more than offset by closer relations with the professors and the students.

One of the advantages which college life affords is the chance to form friendships which may last for life, but of course there is another side to this advantage, there is the possibility of choosing unworthy friends, or friends with wrong views of life and its responsibilities. In the college it must be easier to form a correct estimate of the character of one's associates.

The young man should know his own mind before he goes to college. He should have a plan and purpose in life and that plan should affect his choice of a college. For instance, if he intends to be a farmer, an agricultural college would be worth far more to him than any other college. This is an age of specialization. Every man should wish to know a little about everything, but he needs to know a great deal about some one thing.

Now, you ought to say "I will" for several reasons. First, because by so doing you will be relieved of the burden of sin in this life as well as the dread of the future consequences of sin, and every man and woman ought to know that the only way to be relieved of the burden of sin is to stand in the awful peril of God's judgment. There is not a person here this minute that doesn't know that you could forsake the vilest sin if you would submit to God by faith in Jesus Christ.

WILLIAM E. HIRES
Real Estate
Mortgages Insurance
BROAD ST. AND GARFIELD AVE.
Palmyra, N. J.

"A WORD TO THE WISE IS SUFFICIENT"
Have Your Goods Expressed by
O'NEILL'S EXPRESS
RIVERTON PALMYRA PHILADELPHIA
PHONE 67-W
129 MARKET STREET
Bell Phone

TOLLINGER
McCAFFREY
When your eyesight fails See TOLLINGER & McCAFFREY
214 MARKET STREET, PHILADELPHIA, PA

Every one of us
Some day must die.
So while life lasts
Let's hope we'll live to
Clean, mend and dye for you.
THE HANDY SHOP
Market Street Cleaners & Dyers
R. & Co. 214 Market St., Philadelphia
"Just at the top of the bump."
Where you often get the bump.

PATENTS
TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS
SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN
In 1881 Schwab left a grocer's counter in Bradok to drive a stake for the Carnegie Company at a dollar a day. Six months later he was drawing a thousand a year as superintendent of the Edgar Thomson Works, and before he reached his thirtieth birthday he was earning the salary of the President of the United States, with an army of 8000 men under him.

T. LACEY AKINS
Candidate for the Republican Nomination
FOR SHERIFF
GOOD GOVERNMENT AND HONEST POLITICS
To the People of Burlington County:
I am an American citizen, born in Burlington County, and a Republican who has supported the ticket for 25 years. My fight in the war of '91 for the Stars and Stripes. I am affiliated with no faction, but am of the people and I am sure that the people are seeking support. If nominated and elected I shall have no pre-election promises to fulfill and I shall not spend a cent of money, except through legitimate channels, to further my candidacy. Should I be chosen for the office, I will look after the women's ward of the jail, as matron, without expense to the taxpayers.

THE PALMYRA RECORD
Founded 1888
PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY
SEEL BROTHERS, Publishers and Proprietors
Record Building
311 Channamin Avenue
Palmyra, N. J.
Subscription, $1.00 per year in advance
Communications of general interest to the public will be welcome to our columns. Be brief and to the point.
Display advertisements, 50 cents per inch. Classified advertisements, 1 cent a word. Special notices, 10 cents per line. Precedence, if the space is secured in advance.
Entered as second class matter, January 31st, 1912, at the post office at Palmyra, New Jersey, under the act of March 3d, 1879.
RATES FOR NOTICES
Church Notices, per insertion, 2 cents per line. Advance Notices of entertainments, sales, etc., where admission is charged, a collection or offering is taken, will be charged at the rate of 4 cents per line, per insertion.
This paper represented for foreign advertising by the
AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION
NEW YORK AND CHICAGO
BRANCHES IN ALL THE PRINCIPAL CITIES
LEARN THE RULES OF THE ROAD
Almost the first rule which every apprentice in business finds necessary to his happiness and welfare is the rule of "The Golden Rule." It is the rule which should be the basis of all business and of all life. It is the rule which should be the basis of all business and of all life. It is the rule which should be the basis of all business and of all life.

THE PALMYRA RECORD
Founded 1888
PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY
SEEL BROTHERS, Publishers and Proprietors
Record Building
311 Channamin Avenue
Palmyra, N. J.
Subscription, $1.00 per year in advance
Communications of general interest to the public will be welcome to our columns. Be brief and to the point.
Display advertisements, 50 cents per inch. Classified advertisements, 1 cent a word. Special notices, 10 cents per line. Precedence, if the space is secured in advance.
Entered as second class matter, January 31st, 1912, at the post office at Palmyra, New Jersey, under the act of March 3d, 1879.
RATES FOR NOTICES
Church Notices, per insertion, 2 cents per line. Advance Notices of entertainments, sales, etc., where admission is charged, a collection or offering is taken, will be charged at the rate of 4 cents per line, per insertion.

"A WORD TO THE WISE IS SUFFICIENT"
Have Your Goods Expressed by
O'NEILL'S EXPRESS
RIVERTON PALMYRA PHILADELPHIA
PHONE 67-W
129 MARKET STREET
Bell Phone

TOLLINGER
McCAFFREY
When your eyesight fails See TOLLINGER & McCAFFREY
214 MARKET STREET, PHILADELPHIA, PA

Every one of us
Some day must die.
So while life lasts
Let's hope we'll live to
Clean, mend and dye for you.
THE HANDY SHOP
Market Street Cleaners & Dyers
R. & Co. 214 Market St., Philadelphia
"Just at the top of the bump."
Where you often get the bump.

PATENTS
TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS
SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN
In 1881 Schwab left a grocer's counter in Bradok to drive a stake for the Carnegie Company at a dollar a day. Six months later he was drawing a thousand a year as superintendent of the Edgar Thomson Works, and before he reached his thirtieth birthday he was earning the salary of the President of the United States, with an army of 8000 men under him.

T. LACEY AKINS
Candidate for the Republican Nomination
FOR SHERIFF
GOOD GOVERNMENT AND HONEST POLITICS
To the People of Burlington County:
I am an American citizen, born in Burlington County, and a Republican who has supported the ticket for 25 years. My fight in the war of '91 for the Stars and Stripes. I am affiliated with no faction, but am of the people and I am sure that the people are seeking support. If nominated and elected I shall have no pre-election promises to fulfill and I shall not spend a cent of money, except through legitimate channels, to further my candidacy. Should I be chosen for the office, I will look after the women's ward of the jail, as matron, without expense to the taxpayers.

THE PALMYRA RECORD
Founded 1888
PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY
SEEL BROTHERS, Publishers and Proprietors
Record Building
311 Channamin Avenue
Palmyra, N. J.
Subscription, $1.00 per year in advance
Communications of general interest to the public will be welcome to our columns. Be brief and to the point.
Display advertisements, 50 cents per inch. Classified advertisements, 1 cent a word. Special notices, 10 cents per line. Precedence, if the space is secured in advance.
Entered as second class matter, January 31st, 1912, at the post office at Palmyra, New Jersey, under the act of March 3d, 1879.
RATES FOR NOTICES
Church Notices, per insertion, 2 cents per line. Advance Notices of entertainments, sales, etc., where admission is charged, a collection or offering is taken, will be charged at the rate of 4 cents per line, per insertion.

THE PALMYRA RECORD
Founded 1888
PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY
SEEL BROTHERS, Publishers and Proprietors
Record Building
311 Channamin Avenue
Palmyra, N. J.
Subscription, $1.00 per year in advance
Communications of general interest to the public will be welcome to our columns. Be brief and to the point.
Display advertisements, 50 cents per inch. Classified advertisements, 1 cent a word. Special notices, 10 cents per line. Precedence, if the space is secured in advance.
Entered as second class matter, January 31st, 1912, at the post office at Palmyra, New Jersey, under the act of March 3d, 1879.
RATES FOR NOTICES
Church Notices, per insertion, 2 cents per line. Advance Notices of entertainments, sales, etc., where admission is charged, a collection or offering is taken, will be charged at the rate of 4 cents per line, per insertion.

"A WORD TO THE WISE IS SUFFICIENT"
Have Your Goods Expressed by
O'NEILL'S EXPRESS
RIVERTON PALMYRA PHILADELPHIA
PHONE 67-W
129 MARKET STREET
Bell Phone

TOLLINGER
McCAFFREY
When your eyesight fails See TOLLINGER & McCAFFREY
214 MARKET STREET, PHILADELPHIA, PA

Every one of us
Some day must die.
So while life lasts
Let's hope we'll live to
Clean, mend and dye for you.
THE HANDY SHOP
Market Street Cleaners & Dyers
R. & Co. 214 Market St., Philadelphia
"Just at the top of the bump."
Where you often get the bump.

PATENTS
TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS
SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN
In 1881 Schwab left a grocer's counter in Bradok to drive a stake for the Carnegie Company at a dollar a day. Six months later he was drawing a thousand a year as superintendent of the Edgar Thomson Works, and before he reached his thirtieth birthday he was earning the salary of the President of the United States, with an army of 8000 men under him.

T. LACEY AKINS
Candidate for the Republican Nomination
FOR SHERIFF
GOOD GOVERNMENT AND HONEST POLITICS
To the People of Burlington County:
I am an American citizen, born in Burlington County, and a Republican who has supported the ticket for 25 years. My fight in the war of '91 for the Stars and Stripes. I am affiliated with no faction, but am of the people and I am sure that the people are seeking support. If nominated and elected I shall have no pre-election promises to fulfill and I shall not spend a cent of money, except through legitimate channels, to further my candidacy. Should I be chosen for the office, I will look after the women's ward of the jail, as matron, without expense to the taxpayers.

THE PALMYRA RECORD
Founded 1888
PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY
SEEL BROTHERS, Publishers and Proprietors
Record Building
311 Channamin Avenue
Palmyra, N. J.
Subscription, $1.00 per year in advance
Communications of general interest to the public will be welcome to our columns. Be brief and to the point.
Display advertisements, 50 cents per inch. Classified advertisements, 1 cent a word. Special notices, 10 cents per line. Precedence, if the space is secured in advance.
Entered as second class matter, January 31st, 1912, at the post office at Palmyra, New Jersey, under the act of March 3d, 1879.
RATES FOR NOTICES
Church Notices, per insertion, 2 cents per line. Advance Notices of entertainments, sales, etc., where admission is charged, a collection or offering is taken, will be charged at the rate of 4 cents per line, per insertion.

THE PALMYRA RECORD
Founded 1888
PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY
SEEL BROTHERS, Publishers and Proprietors
Record Building
311 Channamin Avenue
Palmyra, N. J.
Subscription, $1.00 per year in advance
Communications of general interest to the public will be welcome to our columns. Be brief and to the point.
Display advertisements, 50 cents per inch. Classified advertisements, 1 cent a word. Special notices, 10 cents per line. Precedence, if the space is secured in advance.
Entered as second class matter, January 31st, 1912, at the post office at Palmyra, New Jersey, under the act of March 3d, 1879.
RATES FOR NOTICES
Church Notices, per insertion, 2 cents per line. Advance Notices of entertainments, sales, etc., where admission is charged, a collection or offering is taken, will be charged at the rate of 4 cents per line, per insertion.

"A WORD TO THE WISE IS SUFFICIENT"
Have Your Goods Expressed by
O'NEILL'S EXPRESS
RIVERTON PALMYRA PHILADELPHIA
PHONE 67-W
129 MARKET STREET
Bell Phone

TOLLINGER
McCAFFREY
When your eyesight fails See TOLLINGER & McCAFFREY
214 MARKET STREET, PHILADELPHIA, PA

Every one of us
Some day must die.
So while life lasts
Let's hope we'll live to
Clean, mend and dye for you.
THE HANDY SHOP
Market Street Cleaners & Dyers
R. & Co. 214 Market St., Philadelphia
"Just at the top of the bump."
Where you often get the bump.

PATENTS
TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS
SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN
In 1881 Schwab left a grocer's counter in Bradok to drive a stake for the Carnegie Company at a dollar a day. Six months later he was drawing a thousand a year as superintendent of the Edgar Thomson Works, and before he reached his thirtieth birthday he was earning the salary of the President of the United States, with an army of 8000 men under him.

T. LACEY AKINS
Candidate for the Republican Nomination
FOR SHERIFF
GOOD GOVERNMENT AND HONEST POLITICS
To the People of Burlington County:
I am an American citizen, born in Burlington County, and a Republican who has supported the ticket for 25 years. My fight in the war of '91 for the Stars and Stripes. I am affiliated with no faction, but am of the people and I am sure that the people are seeking support. If nominated and elected I shall have no pre-election promises to fulfill and I shall not spend a cent of money, except through legitimate channels, to further my candidacy. Should I be chosen for the office, I will look after the women's ward of the jail, as matron, without expense to the taxpayers.

THE PALMYRA RECORD
Founded 1888
PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY
SEEL BROTHERS, Publishers and Proprietors
Record Building
311 Channamin Avenue
Palmyra, N. J.
Subscription, $1.00 per year in advance
Communications of general interest to the public will be welcome to our columns. Be brief and to the point.
Display advertisements, 50 cents per inch. Classified advertisements, 1 cent a word. Special notices, 10 cents per line. Precedence, if the space is secured in advance.
Entered as second class matter, January 31st, 1912, at the post office at Palmyra, New Jersey, under the act of March 3d, 1879.
RATES FOR NOTICES
Church Notices, per insertion, 2 cents per line. Advance Notices of entertainments, sales, etc., where admission is charged, a collection or offering is taken, will be charged at the rate of 4 cents per line, per insertion.

Munger & Long's-Camden's Largest Department Store
This would be a good week to pay a visit to Munger and Long's-Camden's Leading Department Store.
Because just at the present time there's additional savings to be effected by you in the many odd lots about the store of various sorts of merchandise. No chance to buy economically should be overlooked by you.
What Makes Our Main Attraction Most Interesting This Week are These Three Items
1. A Tableful of Striped and Figured Voiles, also Floral patterns that will delight the heart of every woman.
2. A Tableful of Novelty Nylons, in the loveliest kind of patterns.
3. A Tableful of Novelty Nylons, in the loveliest kind of patterns.

Munger & Long's-Camden's Largest Department Store
This would be a good week to pay a visit to Munger and Long's-Camden's Leading Department Store.
Because just at the present time there's additional savings to be effected by you in the many odd lots about the store of various sorts of merchandise. No chance to buy economically should be overlooked by you.
What Makes Our Main Attraction Most Interesting This Week are These Three Items
1. A Tableful of Striped and Figured Voiles, also Floral patterns that will delight the heart of every woman.
2. A Tableful of Novelty Nylons, in the loveliest kind of patterns.
3. A Tableful of Novelty Nylons, in the loveliest kind of patterns.

Munger & Long's-Camden's Largest Department Store
This would be a good week to pay a visit to Munger and Long's-Camden's Leading Department Store.
Because just at the present time there's additional savings to be effected by you in the many odd lots about the store of various sorts of merchandise. No chance to buy economically should be overlooked by you.
What Makes Our Main Attraction Most Interesting This Week are These Three Items
1. A Tableful of Striped and Figured Voiles, also Floral patterns that will delight the heart of every woman.
2. A Tableful of Novelty Nylons, in the loveliest kind of patterns.
3. A Tableful of Novelty Nylons, in the loveliest kind of patterns.

Munger & Long's-Camden's Largest Department Store
This would be a good week to pay a visit to Munger and Long's-Camden's Leading Department Store.
Because just at the present time there's additional savings to be effected by you in the many odd lots about the store of various sorts of merchandise. No chance to buy economically should be overlooked by you.
What Makes Our Main Attraction Most Interesting This Week are These Three Items
1. A Tableful of Striped and Figured Voiles, also Floral patterns that will delight the heart of every woman.
2. A Tableful of Novelty Nylons, in the loveliest kind of patterns.
3. A Tableful of Novelty Nylons, in the loveliest kind of patterns.

Munger & Long's-Camden's Largest Department Store
This would be a good week to pay a visit to Munger and Long's-Camden's Leading Department Store.
Because just at the present time there's additional savings to be effected by you in the many odd lots about the store of various sorts of merchandise. No chance to buy economically should be overlooked by you.
What Makes Our Main Attraction Most Interesting This Week are These Three Items
1. A Tableful of Striped and Figured Voiles, also Floral patterns that will delight the heart of every woman.
2. A Tableful of Novelty Nylons, in the loveliest kind of patterns.
3. A Tableful of Novelty Nylons, in the loveliest kind of patterns.

Munger & Long's-Camden's Largest Department Store
This would be a good week to pay a visit to Munger and Long's-Camden's Leading Department Store.
Because just at the present time there's additional savings to be effected by you in the many odd lots about the store of various sorts of merchandise. No chance to buy economically should be overlooked by you.
What Makes Our Main Attraction Most Interesting This Week are These Three Items
1. A Tableful of Striped and Figured Voiles, also Floral patterns that will delight the heart of every woman.
2. A Tableful of Novelty Nylons, in the loveliest kind of patterns.
3. A Tableful of Novelty Nylons, in the loveliest kind of patterns.

Munger & Long's-Camden's Largest Department Store
This would be a good week to pay a visit to Munger and Long's-Camden's Leading Department Store.
Because just at the present time there's additional savings to be effected by you in the many odd lots about the store of various sorts of merchandise. No chance to buy economically should be overlooked by you.
What Makes Our Main Attraction Most Interesting This Week are These Three Items
1. A Tableful of Striped and Figured Voiles, also Floral patterns that will delight the heart of every woman.
2. A Tableful of Novelty Nylons, in the loveliest kind of patterns.
3. A Tableful of Novelty Nylons, in the loveliest kind of patterns.

J. S. Collins & Son
Incorporated
COAL RIVERTON, NEW JERSEY
What we have to offer in AUTOMOBILE TIRES

We Are Selling
Automobile Tires
WE HAVE THEM IN STOCK
WE HAVE THE RIGHT PRICE
See Us Before Buying Elsewhere

DR. SAMUEL W. COLLIN
Dentist
4th and THOMAS AVE. RIVERTON

"The Sign of Good Teeth"

NEW DISH
A Yorkshireman who had come into a little money visited London for the first time and sat down in a rather "swagger" restaurant to dinner. The menu revealed dishes beyond his experience, and he did not know at all what was the correct thing to eat. Not wishing to appear ignorant, however, he carefully waited at every course till a little man at the table next to him had given an order, and then called for exactly the same thing.

The other man turned round on him. "Command me, sir!" he said, eagerly. "How dare you repeat every order I give to the waiter? What do you mean by it?" "Well," remarked the Yankee, "for the other up contemptuously. 'If that can eat a Brindshaw,' so con't it."

WHY NOT THIS WEEK?
Most of the common troubles are caused by neglecting the eyes. The symptoms of eye strain are plainly marked.

OUR GREATEST HAPPINESS is derived from serving our satisfied patrons with the best meats ever carved. That dinner you are planning will be a happy affair if you purchase the meat constituents here.

ZELLEY'S MEAT MARKET
Haas Building
Palmyra

COFFEE SALE
ROASTED FRESH DAILY
Home Blend 20c
Plantation 25c
Shaw's Superior 30c
Special Grant 35c

FEELMAN & CO.
Opticians and Optician
1029 CHESTNUT ST. PHILA.
Annual Water Rates of the RIVERTON and PALMYRA WATER
Persons wishing to connect with the public water supply are required to sign an application permit, pay $5 to make the tap, which includes the cost of ferrule and labor.
1-2 inch tap, kitchen $4.00
Rath tub 3.00
Wash basin 2.00
Wash tub 1.00
The above is for either hot or cold water or both.
Water closed, self-acting, pan, valve or reservoir 3.00
Outside tap, 50 feet or less 6.00
Water rent due in advance, November 1st and May 1st.

JOSEPH MORGAN, President, Secretary and Treasurer.

WIT AND HUMOR
"I'll have you understand, sir," said the bustling little chap. "That I am a self-made man."

Dorothy (aged nine, who is anxious to get a present)—Mother, if you do not give me a doll, I shall not love you. Mother—Dorothy, we do not love people for what they can give us. If that were so, your father and I would not love you at all, for you give us nothing.

Bridge, left, instead with an excellent letter of recommendation from her last mistress, but on the way over the letter fell into the sea and was lost. Not knowing how to get work without her recommendation, she appealed to a friend to write one for her, and he gave her the following:

"To the General Public: Bridget Fishery had a good reputation when she left Ireland, but lost it on the way over."

"I," said the temperance man, "strongly object to the custom of obstinate ships with champagne."

Anybody can tell you what to take for a cough. The man who can cure one has not yet appeared.

At a dinner party the cookman had come in to help to wait at the table. The man at the head of the table, the cookman, in handing vegetables came to the door.

"Pass, mum!" (fonder). Still no answer from the deaf lady, but she had been so long in the car that she lifted it to the man.

"Well," muttered James, "it's a funny way of taking peas, but I suppose the thick of them is here."

Office boy—Here is a pocketbook, sir, which dropped.

Honest lad! What shall I do to you, my friend?

Boy, winging under his tutelage, went on, "I got my hair, sir, and we'll call it square."

An officer, who had "lost touch" with the troops and "faded" in the ranks, was called to the aid of a sergeant, who had the honor of being the only one of the company who had not "faded."

The sergeant replied: "Sure, and I don't know, sir; it seems we're the only two left."

A little girl was asked by a lady how many brothers she had.

"Only John," was the quiet response, "and he ain't my brother. But he's just as nice, though," added the child, naively.

Mrs. Callow—Have you taught your baby to say "mamma" yet?

Mrs. Southard—Yes, I've been very busy teaching him to love his tricycle. I said, stand up for the lady.

THE HOOP POLE MAN
The Maine hoop pole man makes even better wages than his brother, the gum picker. The hoop pole man follows along the waka of the loggers. He carries the pole of the hillside of stuff that no one else wants. He is after the second growth, as the young birch and ash are called which spring up around the rotting stumps of great trees. The hoop pole man takes a horse with him on his tour. He cuts the pole and the horse hauls them to camp by daylight. Evenings the pole man fashions the hoops with a draw-saw, sitting beside a roaring fire. Sometimes the poles are sold round, but the harvester who trims his stuff and shaves the hoops receive two or three cents each for the material, and product, and that pays—Belfast Republican.

SHAW'S Gash Grocery
Broad and Morgan Ave., Palmyra

WIT AND HUMOR
"I'll have you understand, sir," said the bustling little chap. "That I am a self-made man."

Dorothy (aged nine, who is anxious to get a present)—Mother, if you do not give me a doll, I shall not love you. Mother—Dorothy, we do not love people for what they can give us. If that were so, your father and I would not love you at all, for you give us nothing.

Bridge, left, instead with an excellent letter of recommendation from her last mistress, but on the way over the letter fell into the sea and was lost. Not knowing how to get work without her recommendation, she appealed to a friend to write one for her, and he gave her the following:

"To the General Public: Bridget Fishery had a good reputation when she left Ireland, but lost it on the way over."

"I," said the temperance man, "strongly object to the custom of obstinate ships with champagne."

Anybody can tell you what to take for a cough. The man who can cure one has not yet appeared.

At a dinner party the cookman had come in to help to wait at the table. The man at the head of the table, the cookman, in handing vegetables came to the door.

"Pass, mum!" (fonder). Still no answer from the deaf lady, but she had been so long in the car that she lifted it to the man.

"Well," muttered James, "it's a funny way of taking peas, but I suppose the thick of them is here."

Office boy—Here is a pocketbook, sir, which dropped.

Honest lad! What shall I do to you, my friend?

Boy, winging under his tutelage, went on, "I got my hair, sir, and we'll call it square."

An officer, who had "lost touch" with the troops and "faded" in the ranks, was called to the aid of a sergeant, who had the honor of being the only one of the company who had not "faded."

The sergeant replied: "Sure, and I don't know, sir; it seems we're the only two left."

A little girl was asked by a lady how many brothers she had.

"Only John," was the quiet response, "and he ain't my brother. But he's just as nice, though," added the child, naively.

Mrs. Callow—Have you taught your baby to say "mamma" yet?

Mrs. Southard—Yes, I've been very busy teaching him to love his tricycle. I said, stand up for the lady.

THE HOOP POLE MAN
The Maine hoop pole man makes even better wages than his brother, the gum picker. The hoop pole man follows along the waka of the loggers. He carries the pole of the hillside of stuff that no one else wants. He is after the second growth, as the young birch and ash are called which spring up around the rotting stumps of great trees. The hoop pole man takes a horse with him on his tour. He cuts the pole and the horse hauls them to camp by daylight. Evenings the pole man fashions the hoops with a draw-saw, sitting beside a roaring fire. Sometimes the poles are sold round, but the harvester who trims his stuff and shaves the hoops receive two or three cents each for the material, and product, and that pays—Belfast Republican.

SHAW'S Gash Grocery
Broad and Morgan Ave., Palmyra

WIT AND HUMOR
"I'll have you understand, sir," said the bustling little chap. "That I am a self-made man."

Dorothy (aged nine, who is anxious to get a present)—Mother, if you do not give me a doll, I shall not love you. Mother—Dorothy, we do not love people for what they can give us. If that were so, your father and I would not love you at all, for you give us nothing.

Bridge, left, instead with an excellent letter of recommendation from her last mistress, but on the way over the letter fell into the sea and was lost. Not knowing how to get work without her recommendation, she appealed to a friend to write one for her, and he gave her the following:

"To the General Public: Bridget Fishery had a good reputation when she left Ireland, but lost it on the way over."

"I," said the temperance man, "strongly object to the custom of obstinate ships with champagne."

Anybody can tell you what to take for a cough. The man who can cure one has not yet appeared.

At a dinner party the cookman had come in to help to wait at the table. The man at the head of the table, the cookman, in handing vegetables came to the door.

"Pass, mum!" (fonder). Still no answer from the deaf lady, but she had been so long in the car that she lifted it to the man.

"Well," muttered James, "it's a funny way of taking peas, but I suppose the thick of them is here."

Office boy—Here is a pocketbook, sir, which dropped.

Honest lad! What shall I do to you, my friend?

Boy, winging under his tutelage, went on, "I got my hair, sir, and we'll call it square."

An officer, who had "lost touch" with the troops and "faded" in the ranks, was called to the aid of a sergeant, who had the honor of being the only one of the company who had not "faded."

The sergeant replied: "Sure, and I don't know, sir; it seems we're the only two left."

A little girl was asked by a lady how many brothers she had.

"Only John," was the quiet response, "and he ain't my brother. But he's just as nice, though," added the child, naively.

Mrs. Callow—Have you taught your baby to say "mamma" yet?

Mrs. Southard—Yes, I've been very busy teaching him to love his tricycle. I said, stand up for the lady.

THE HOOP POLE MAN
The Maine hoop pole man makes even better wages than his brother, the gum picker. The hoop pole man follows along the waka of the loggers. He carries the pole of the hillside of stuff that no one else wants. He is after the second growth, as the young birch and ash are called which spring up around the rotting stumps of great trees. The hoop pole man takes a horse with him on his tour. He cuts the pole and the horse hauls them to camp by daylight. Evenings the pole man fashions the hoops with a draw-saw, sitting beside a roaring fire. Sometimes the poles are sold round, but the harvester who trims his stuff and shaves the hoops receive two or three cents each for the material, and product, and that pays—Belfast Republican.

SHAW'S Gash Grocery
Broad and Morgan Ave., Palmyra

WIT AND HUMOR
"I'll have you understand, sir," said the bustling little chap. "That I am a self-made man."

Dorothy (aged nine, who is anxious to get a present)—Mother, if you do not give me a doll, I shall not love you. Mother—Dorothy, we do not love people for what they can give us. If that were so, your father and I would not love you at all, for you give us nothing.

Bridge, left, instead with an excellent letter of recommendation from her last mistress, but on the way over the letter fell into the sea and was lost. Not knowing how to get work without her recommendation, she appealed to a friend to write one for her, and he gave her the following:

"To the General Public: Bridget Fishery had a good reputation when she left Ireland, but lost it on the way over."

"I," said the temperance man, "strongly object to the custom of obstinate ships with champagne."

Anybody can tell you what to take for a cough. The man who can cure one has not yet appeared.

At a dinner party the cookman had come in to help to wait at the table. The man at the head of the table, the cookman, in handing vegetables came to the door.

"Pass, mum!" (fonder). Still no answer from the deaf lady, but she had been so long in the car that she lifted it to the man.

"Well," muttered James, "it's a funny way of taking peas, but I suppose the thick of them is here."

Office boy—Here is a pocketbook, sir, which dropped.

Honest lad! What shall I do to you, my friend?

Boy, winging under his tutelage, went on, "I got my hair, sir, and we'll call it square."

An officer, who had "lost touch" with the troops and "faded" in the ranks, was called to the aid of a sergeant, who had the honor of being the only one of the company who had not "faded."

The sergeant replied: "Sure, and I don't know, sir; it seems we're the only two left."

A little girl was asked by a lady how many brothers she had.

"Only John," was the quiet response, "and he ain't my brother. But he's just as nice, though," added the child, naively.

Mrs. Callow—Have you taught your baby to say "mamma" yet?

Mrs. Southard—Yes, I've been very busy teaching him to love his tricycle. I said, stand up for the lady.

THE HOOP POLE MAN
The Maine hoop pole man makes even better wages than his brother, the gum picker. The hoop pole man follows along the waka of the loggers. He carries the pole of the hillside of stuff that no one else wants. He is after the second growth, as the young birch and ash are called which spring up around the rotting stumps of great trees. The hoop pole man takes a horse with him on his tour. He cuts the pole and the horse hauls them to camp by daylight. Evenings the pole man fashions the hoops with a draw-saw, sitting beside a roaring fire. Sometimes the poles are sold round, but the harvester who trims his stuff and shaves the hoops receive two or three cents each for the material, and product, and that pays—Belfast Republican.

SHAW'S Gash Grocery
Broad and Morgan Ave., Palmyra

WIT AND HUMOR
"I'll have you understand, sir," said the bustling little chap. "That I am a self-made man."

Dorothy (aged nine, who is anxious to get a present)—Mother, if you do not give me a doll, I shall not love you. Mother—Dorothy, we do not love people for what they can give us. If that were so, your father and I would not love you at all, for you give us nothing.

Bridge, left, instead with an excellent letter of recommendation from her last mistress, but on the way over the letter fell into the sea and was lost. Not knowing how to get work without her recommendation, she appealed to a friend to write one for her, and he gave her the following:

"To the General Public: Bridget Fishery had a good reputation when she left Ireland, but lost it on the way over."

"I," said the temperance man, "strongly object to the custom of obstinate ships with champagne."

Anybody can tell you what to take for a cough. The man who can cure one has not yet appeared.

At a dinner party the cookman had come in to help to wait at the table. The man at the head of the table, the cookman, in handing vegetables came to the door.

"Pass, mum!" (fonder). Still no answer from the deaf lady, but she had been so long in the car that she lifted it to the man.

"Well," muttered James, "it's a funny way of taking peas, but I suppose the thick of them is here."

Office boy—Here is a pocketbook, sir, which dropped.

Honest lad! What shall I do to you, my friend?

Boy, winging under his tutelage, went on, "I got my hair, sir, and we'll call it square."

An officer, who had "lost touch" with the troops and "faded" in the ranks, was called to the aid of a sergeant, who had the honor of being the only one of the company who had not "faded."

The sergeant replied: "Sure, and I don't know, sir; it seems we're the only two left."

A little girl was asked by a lady how many brothers she had.

"Only John," was the quiet response, "and he ain't my brother. But he's just as nice, though," added the child, naively.

Mrs. Callow—Have you taught your baby to say "mamma" yet?

Mrs. Southard—Yes, I've been very busy teaching him to love his tricycle. I said, stand up for the lady.

THE HOOP POLE MAN
The Maine hoop pole man makes even better wages than his brother, the gum picker. The hoop pole man follows along the waka of the loggers. He carries the pole of the hillside of stuff that no one else wants. He is after the second growth, as the young birch and ash are called which spring up around the rotting stumps of great trees. The hoop pole man takes a horse with him on his tour. He cuts the pole and the horse hauls them to camp by daylight. Evenings the pole man fashions the hoops with a draw-saw, sitting beside a roaring fire. Sometimes the poles are sold round, but the harvester who trims his stuff and shaves the hoops receive two or three cents each for the material, and product, and that pays—Belfast Republican.

SHAW'S Gash Grocery
Broad and Morgan Ave., Palmyra

WIT AND HUMOR
"I'll have you understand, sir," said the bustling little chap. "That I am a self-made man."

Dorothy (aged nine, who is anxious to get a present)—Mother, if you do not give me a doll, I shall not love you. Mother—Dorothy, we do not love people for what they can give us. If that were so, your father and I would not love you at all, for you give us nothing.

Bridge, left, instead with an excellent letter of recommendation from her last mistress, but on the way over the letter fell into the sea and was lost. Not knowing how to get work without her recommendation, she appealed to a friend to write one for her, and he gave her the following:

"To the General Public: Bridget Fishery had a good reputation when she left Ireland, but lost it on the way over."

"I," said the temperance man, "strongly object to the custom of obstinate ships with champagne."

Anybody can tell you what to take for a cough. The man who can cure one has not yet appeared.

At a dinner party the cookman had come in to help to wait at the table. The man at the head of the table, the cookman, in handing vegetables came to the door.

"Pass, mum!" (fonder). Still no answer from the deaf lady, but she had been so long in the car that she lifted it to the man.

"Well," muttered James, "it's a funny way of taking peas, but I suppose the thick of them is here."

Office boy—Here is a pocketbook, sir, which dropped.

Honest lad! What shall I do to you, my friend?

Boy, winging under his tutelage, went on, "I got my hair, sir, and we'll call it square."

An officer, who had "lost touch" with the troops and "faded" in the ranks, was called to the aid of a sergeant, who had the honor of being the only one of the company who had not "faded."

The sergeant replied: "Sure, and I don't know, sir; it seems we're the only two left."

A little girl was asked by a lady how many brothers she had.

"Only John," was the quiet response, "and he ain't my brother. But he's just as nice, though," added the child, naively.

Mrs. Callow—Have you taught your baby to say "mamma" yet?

Mrs. Southard—Yes, I've been very busy teaching him to love his tricycle. I said, stand up for the lady.

THE HOOP POLE MAN
The Maine hoop pole man makes even better wages than his brother, the gum picker. The hoop pole man follows along the waka of the loggers. He carries the pole of the hillside of stuff that no one else wants. He is after the second growth, as the young birch and ash are called which spring up around the rotting stumps of great trees. The hoop pole man takes a horse with him on his tour. He cuts the pole and the horse hauls them to camp by daylight. Evenings the pole man fashions the hoops with a draw-saw, sitting beside a roaring fire. Sometimes the poles are sold round, but the harvester who trims his stuff and shaves the hoops receive two or three cents each for the material, and product, and that pays—Belfast Republican.

SHAW'S Gash Grocery
Broad and Morgan Ave., Palmyra

For Health's Sake Ko-Ba-Leen

THE UNIVERSAL DISINFECTANT
This Kitchen Sink, Garbage Can, Cesspool, Drains, Toilets, Sinks, etc., are full of deadly disease breeding germs. KO-B-A-LEEN when sprinkled in these places freely every day will protect your home from disease breeding germs. Cook-rooms, Bed-rooms, etc., cannot exist where KO-B-A-LEEN is present.

PRICE 25 CENTS
AT ALL DRUGGISTS
Manufactured by
FIELD, ZEITZ & GRUMAN
COMPANY
Philadelphia, Pa.

A Meat Market For The People THEREFORE BUY PEOPLE!

Our foremost object in conducting this Market is to give Service to the public. With this in mind we have made arrangements to have our meats REFRIGERATED DAILY. Our full line of Vegetables will always be found fresh and appetizing.

We Give Service in Exchange
For Patronage
PEOPLES MEAT MARKET
Phone 458
111 E. Broad St. Palmyra

Palmyra News
(Continued from First Page)

Mrs. Daniel Duffield and son, Mr. Daniel Duffield, Jr., of the Palmyra, Pa. branch of the United States National Bank, were in the city last week.

Mrs. John Bellinger, of Morgan avenue, and Mrs. George J. Bellinger, of the Palmyra, Pa. branch of the United States National Bank, were in the city last week.

Mrs. Harry De Stiffled, who has been visiting his sister several days in the city, is expected to leave for his home in the city last week.

Mrs. Harry De Stiffled, who has been visiting his sister several days in the city, is expected to leave for his home in the city last week.

Mrs. Harry De Stiffled, who has been visiting his sister several days in the city, is expected to leave for his home in the city last week.

Mrs. Harry De Stiffled, who has been visiting his sister several days in the city, is expected to leave for his home in the city last week.

Mrs. Harry De Stiffled, who has been visiting his sister several days in the city, is expected to leave for his home in the city last week.

Mrs. Harry De Stiffled, who has been visiting his sister several days in the city, is expected to leave for his home in the city last week.

Mrs. Harry De Stiffled, who has been visiting his sister several days in the city, is expected to leave for his home in the city last week.

For Health's Sake Ko-Ba-Leen

THE UNIVERSAL DISINFECTANT
This Kitchen Sink, Garbage Can, Cesspool, Drains, Toilets, Sinks, etc., are full of deadly disease breeding germs. KO-B-A-LEEN when sprinkled in these places freely every day will protect your home from disease breeding germs. Cook-rooms, Bed-rooms, etc., cannot exist where KO-B-A-LEEN is present.

PRICE 25 CENTS
AT ALL DRUGGISTS
Manufactured by
FIELD, ZEITZ & GRUMAN
COMPANY
Philadelphia, Pa.

A Meat Market For The People THEREFORE BUY PEOPLE!

Our foremost object in conducting this Market is to give Service to the public. With this in mind we have made arrangements to have our meats REFRIGERATED DAILY. Our full line of Vegetables will always be found fresh and appetizing.

We Give Service in Exchange
For Patronage
PEOPLES MEAT MARKET
Phone 458
111 E. Broad St. Palmyra

Palmyra News
(Continued from First Page)

Mrs. Daniel Duffield and son, Mr. Daniel Duffield, Jr., of the Palmyra, Pa. branch of the United States National Bank, were in the city last week.

Mrs. John Bellinger, of Morgan avenue, and Mrs. George J. Bellinger, of the Palmyra, Pa. branch of the United States National Bank, were in the city last week.

Mrs. Harry De Stiffled, who has been visiting his sister several days in the city, is expected to leave for his home in the city last week.

Mrs. Harry De Stiffled, who has been visiting his sister several days in the city, is expected to leave for his home in the city last week.

Mrs. Harry De Stiffled, who has been visiting his sister several days in the city, is expected to leave for his home in the city last week.

Mrs. Harry De Stiffled, who has been

Vacation Occupations

or College Girls

Story Book Children

LIP, clip, clip, clip. Marjory's scissors worked busily on the squares of many colored paper spread out upon the shady porch beside her. Neatly one by one the results of her clipping were fastened down under the paperweights to keep the eastern breeze from blowing them away.

"Marjory! Whether, what ever can you be doing that keeps you there upon the porch all the morning when the river is calling to be canoed in," called her next door neighbor, Tom Allison, leaning over the garden fence.

"Earning money," Marjory called back cheerily, taking an end of the brown paper in her hands with the scissors.

"Sounds interesting, think I'll come over and see how you do it since I've heard for the coin myself sometimes," and Tom was over the neighborly fence with a bound.

"Doesn't sound any more interesting than it is," commented Marjory, as she took up a piece of pink paper and began to fold it.

"Only paper dolls," was all her neighbor had to say as he surveyed her work. "I thought that you had given those up long ago."

"Oh, no," teased Marjory. "Playing with paper dolls is my favorite pastime."

"Eating is mine," Tom commanded, as he helped himself to one of the two tarts that were cooling on a plaid by his cousin's side.

"Leave the other one for me," and Marjory having known Thomas Allison all of her nineteen years, put down her scissors at once and ate the other tart with haste, born of many past experiences.

"Squabbling over the tarts as usual," laughed Marjory's mother as she came out across the porch and stooped to pick up the paperweight from a folded brown paper book. "Have you one finished?"

"Yes, this one," Marjory answered, holding out another book to her mother. "That one does not have the verses in it yet."

"Verses," commented Tom, "and so cousin you have turned poet."

Marjory ignored the remark and opened the book in her hands.

The book was made of heavy brown paper, bound together with ordinary paper rivets pushed through and securely fastened down. There was only one unusual thing about the fastening. Two rivets had been put through each hole and the ends of each rivet had been turned into a smooth fastener, exactly alike on either side. The title of each book was done in lettering across the front. The book in Marjory's hand was called "The Sunbonnet Twins and Their Great Adventure."

OPENING THIS first page, one made at once the acquaintance of a sunbonnet twins, two adorable damsels with checkered, pink sunbonnets and dresses, whose blue eyes met the gaze directly. From beneath each sunbonnet showed a yellow curl. They stood hand in hand, evidently ready for any kind of an adventure. Behind them there was a printed jingle of four lines.

The Sunbonnet Twins were the kindergarten variety of paper doll made by folding into shape squares of art paper. Eyes and the other necessary features had been supplied by the artist, and the scissors had been used to cut out their sturdy feet.

Through eight pages of adventure, told in merry jingles, the doings of the two were told until upon the last page one found only a little white gate, securely closed, through which the two had passed beyond the reader's power to follow.

"That is the first one I made," said Marjory, as she took up another one. "These are the Overall Lads. The front page of this book had no title, simply a paper box pasted upon the title page. Within were two very sturdy-looking paper boys in blue jeans and big straw hats—and a little garden and a verse that told about the gardens and what the two had done in it. This book ended with a mannered salute."

The next book was the story of a Chinaman, and a very interesting Chinaman he was, with his long, black pigtail, his shiny black coat and his yellow trousers. The Chinaman was a laundryman, of course, and he and his patron shared an interest in the story until a big dog entered the scene. Marjory looked up and laughed at the two staring the book. "Look foolish, don't they; but I am sure that they will sell at Mary's tea house. Don't you think that they will, mother?"

"Indeed I do," her mother reassured her. "What are all these other pieces of paper for that you have cut out?"

"Other books. I am going to make six to begin with, and all of them different. Then if they sell I can cut several at the same time over the pattern that I am making later. These green and white ones are for a fairy book. The fairies are to have real soft fluffy dresses of chiffon. Then there is to be a butterfly story. See, those are the butterfly wings; in the butterfly book I am going to tell the story of the butterfly from the time he is a caterpillar until he spreads his wings and flies. Last of all is the story of a seed that grew and grew until it became a flower."

WHAT did you say that you were going to do with them?" asked Tom.

"Take them to Mary's tea room in the village and try to sell them as I sold the bean bags. Oh, you were away, and perhaps you did not hear about the bean bags?"

"No; I did not hear about the bean bags," said Tom.

"I made those in the winter out of pieces of cloth. Mother helped plan them. We took them unbleached muslin and cut them into all sorts of shapes—elephants, bears, dogs, cats and little Dutch boys and girls. Then after we had cut them out I painted in their eyes and ears and clothes, etc. After the two coats of paint had dried we outlined all the lines with embroidery silk, doing a very small cut stitch. When the paint was dry we turned them right inside and left with beads."

"Just as I am doing with the books, we made one of each kind first. The bean bags sold very well. We had orders for more at the end of the first week. The second time that we made them it did not take quite so much work because we cut three of each kind—and there are still some of them to be sold, so I decided that we had enough of bean bags and moved for something else to make. That is why I am making paper doll books now."

"If you will help pick do the things, Thomas Allison, I might consider going canoeing with you."

It was a week later that Tom came across the garden fence. The gate was always open, but he never used to carry the first of the wooden animal figures.

"What in the world have you there?" asked Marjory as she looked at the wooden things she brought.

"Giraffe," was the answer. "I don't see why giraffes would not sell at Mary's tea room as well as paper dolls and bean bags."

"They would, if they were painted and they weren't so large," criticized Marjory. "Here, let me see the giraffe. How did you make him?"

"With a giraffe did I cut him out of a board," quoted Tom. "Pretty fine paper," he said.

"How do," granted Marjory. "That is how he would do if he were smaller."

"But he will sell when he is finished just as he is. I am going back to the shop to paint him now."

"The big giraffe did sell just as he was, but when Tom carried over to Mary's tea room two other big animals and they stood there for two weeks without even the chance of a sale he took the advice that had been offered him and made half a dozen smaller animals from the same pattern, and the smaller ones sold because, as Mary put it, 'the big thing is not so good as the small thing and art shop is a small article for a moderate price, that is a sum not more than two dollars, and the small one is just that, it is attractive and catches the eye of the diner.'"

He heard the murmur of another voice, and his shaking hands went to his head while he remained as if carved in stone. Something in the tone had bridged the years with memory. Surely!

"Robert, will you not open the door? It is I—Mary Ridgway."

Gropingly, he crossed the room. "Mary?" he cried, with a sob in his voice, and drew the door wide open.

White Sullivan was waiting at the door, Jacob began to knock, the door with plates. The bear backed out; but then she accepted Sullivan's invitation and went round to the door. Both Sullivan and Jacob jumped to close it. They were not quick enough and instead of one bear they saw three!

Sullivan and Jacob threw their weight against the door, and it slammed against the big bear's nose. She gave a savage growl, and turned on the other bears, apparently blaming them for hurting her nose. A fight started in the doorway. The man pushed against the door with all his might; the struggling bears rolled outside and the door shut with a bang. The heavy crossbar shot into place, but not a moment too soon for an instant later the old bear, growling furiously, flung herself against the door; it seemed as if the boards would give way. The men knocked their heads to pieces and used the sticks and sleds to prop the door.

For a time things were calmer. Sullivan and Jacob, with their heads in, stood guard at the window. They heard the bears clashing and digging under the door.

"They are tunnelling for us," said Sullivan. "They want those hams."

After a time the bears got discouraged and started off. Just as Jacob was saying, "I hope they are gone for good," there came a thump on the roof that told the prospectors that the bears were still hungry for ham.

The bears began to claw the earth off the roof. It would not take them long to tear off the earth and reach the hams. Sullivan did not notice the whole roof to give way. Something had to be done to get them off the roof. The men took bundles of hay out of the manure, and the bears were fighting the hay. Sullivan set fire to one of these bundles, leaned out through the window, and threw the blazing hay among the bears. So long as he kept these fires going, the bears did not dig; but they stayed on the roof and tore and eat, Sullivan and Jacob tore up a part of the floor. The young bears soon found hot drills too warm for them and scrambled or fell off the roof. But the old one persisted. In a little while she had clawed a large patch of earth and now, looking at the poles with her teeth, she Sullivan threw both hams out of the window. The young bears at once set up a row over them, and the old bear, hearing the noise, jumped off the roof and soon had a ham in her mouth. While the bears were fighting and eating, Sullivan and Jacob tore up the remainder of the floor and barricaded the window. With both door and window fastened, they could give their attention to the roof. They heated all the drills red hot, but the bears did not get back on the roof. After eating the hams they walked round to the cabin door, scratched at it gently and lay down.

It was two o'clock in the morning. The inside of the cabin was in utter confusion. The floor was strewn with wreckage; bedding, drills, broken boards, broken plates and hay were scattered about. Sullivan gazed at the chaos and remarked that it looked like poor housekeeping. Toward the door as if to tell Sullivan that they were there, ready for his hospitality. They whined a little, when no one admitted them, and finally went off, leisurely smelling their way down the trail—YOUTH'S COMPANION.

"English as she is written!" Bonmay sends a copy of an amusing petition which he has received from one of his Babu clerks, asking for an increase of salary on the ground of his large and growing family. The petition concludes thus: "This family which I have generated, God knows every year she does my wife make incremental success in the ramifications of this generation. My age was nineteen when I did commence to have children; and now my age is thirty-four and only one child dead, and by the Lord there will be no end to the mischief."

At a railway station, a few days ago some youths were discussing a gentleman in a foreign-looking, gold-braided uniform.

They agreed that he must be a French or Belgian colonel, but while some thought he belonged to the cavalry, others were of opinion that the absence of epaulettes showed that he belonged to the infantry.

Presently the object of their interest passed close by them, and they had the opportunity of reading the legend on his cap. It read: "Station Hotel."

"Father," said little Ruth, appealingly, "why don't you stay at home to work as other little girls' fathers do?"

Father, who, as the business manager of a great corporation, has to travel extensively, smiled fondly at his little daughter. "I'd love to, Ruth," he answered, "but you see I have to earn a lot of money to take care of my little girl and her mother, and I can't get enough work to do here at home."

"O, father," cried Ruth, reprovingly, "I don't believe you've ever tried hard enough. Why, I have seen a sign out, 'Men Wanted,' lots of times. There was one over in front of our grocery store this very morning."

"WANTED FATHER AT HOME"

"Father," said little Ruth, appealingly, "why don't you stay at home to work as other little girls' fathers do?"

Father, who, as the business manager of a great corporation, has to travel extensively, smiled fondly at his little daughter. "I'd love to, Ruth," he answered, "but you see I have to earn a lot of money to take care of my little girl and her mother, and I can't get enough work to do here at home."

"O, father," cried Ruth, reprovingly, "I don't believe you've ever tried hard enough. Why, I have seen a sign out, 'Men Wanted,' lots of times. There was one over in front of our grocery store this very morning."

"WANTED FATHER AT HOME"

"Father," said little Ruth, appealingly, "why don't you stay at home to work as other little girls' fathers do?"

Father, who, as the business manager of a great corporation, has to travel extensively, smiled fondly at his little daughter. "I'd love to, Ruth," he answered, "but you see I have to earn a lot of money to take care of my little girl and her mother, and I can't get enough work to do here at home."

"O, father," cried Ruth, reprovingly, "I don't believe you've ever tried hard enough. Why, I have seen a sign out, 'Men Wanted,' lots of times. There was one over in front of our grocery store this very morning."

"WANTED FATHER AT HOME"

"Father," said little Ruth, appealingly, "why don't you stay at home to work as other little girls' fathers do?"

Father, who, as the business manager of a great corporation, has to travel extensively, smiled fondly at his little daughter. "I'd love to, Ruth," he answered, "but you see I have to earn a lot of money to take care of my little girl and her mother, and I can't get enough work to do here at home."

"O, father," cried Ruth, reprovingly, "I don't believe you've ever tried hard enough. Why, I have seen a sign out, 'Men Wanted,' lots of times. There was one over in front of our grocery store this very morning."

"WANTED FATHER AT HOME"

"Father," said little Ruth, appealingly, "why don't you stay at home to work as other little girls' fathers do?"

DESIGNED BY BEARS

The log cabin in which Sullivan and Jacob lived was small, with Mr. E. A. Mills in Wild Life on the Rockies. It had a door in the side and a small window in one end. The roof was made of a layer of poles thickly covered with earth. A large shepherd dog often shared the cabin with the prospectors. He was a playful fellow, and Sullivan frequently romped with him.

One evening after supper Sullivan sat smoking on the edge of the bed while Jacob washed the dishes. Suddenly there was a rattling at the window. Thinking the dog was outside, Sullivan called, "Go round to the door!"

As he spoke, a small piece of earth and fragments of window glass flew past him and rattled on the floor. Sullivan jumped up. In the dim candlelight he saw a bear's head coming in through the window. He threw his pipe into the bear's face, and then grabbed at some steel drills that lay in the corner. The roof had leaked, and the drills were ice covered and frozen fast to the floor.

While Sullivan was working at the drills, Jacob began to knock, the door with plates. The bear backed out; but then she accepted Sullivan's invitation and went round to the door. Both Sullivan and Jacob jumped to close it. They were not quick enough and instead of one bear they saw three!

Sullivan and Jacob threw their weight against the door, and it slammed against the big bear's nose. She gave a savage growl, and turned on the other bears, apparently blaming them for hurting her nose. A fight started in the doorway. The man pushed against the door with all his might; the struggling bears rolled outside and the door shut with a bang. The heavy crossbar shot into place, but not a moment too soon for an instant later the old bear, growling furiously, flung herself against the door; it seemed as if the boards would give way. The men knocked their heads to pieces and used the sticks and sleds to prop the door.

For a time things were calmer. Sullivan and Jacob, with their heads in, stood guard at the window. They heard the bears clashing and digging under the door.

"They are tunnelling for us," said Sullivan. "They want those hams."

After a time the bears got discouraged and started off. Just as Jacob was saying, "I hope they are gone for good," there came a thump on the roof that told the prospectors that the bears were still hungry for ham.

The bears began to claw the earth off the roof. It would not take them long to tear off the earth and reach the hams. Sullivan did not notice the whole roof to give way. Something had to be done to get them off the roof. The men took bundles of hay out of the manure, and the bears were fighting the hay. Sullivan set fire to one of these bundles, leaned out through the window, and threw the blazing hay among the bears. So long as he kept these fires going, the bears did not dig; but they stayed on the roof and tore and eat, Sullivan and Jacob tore up a part of the floor. The young bears soon found hot drills too warm for them and scrambled or fell off the roof. But the old one persisted. In a little while she had clawed a large patch of earth and now, looking at the poles with her teeth, she Sullivan threw both hams out of the window. The young bears at once set up a row over them, and the old bear, hearing the noise, jumped off the roof and soon had a ham in her mouth. While the bears were fighting and eating, Sullivan and Jacob tore up the remainder of the floor and barricaded the window. With both door and window fastened, they could give their attention to the roof. They heated all the drills red hot, but the bears did not get back on the roof. After eating the hams they walked round to the cabin door, scratched at it gently and lay down.

It was two o'clock in the morning. The inside of the cabin was in utter confusion. The floor was strewn with wreckage; bedding, drills, broken boards, broken plates and hay were scattered about. Sullivan gazed at the chaos and remarked that it looked like poor housekeeping. Toward the door as if to tell Sullivan that they were there, ready for his hospitality. They whined a little, when no one admitted them, and finally went off, leisurely smelling their way down the trail—YOUTH'S COMPANION.

"English as she is written!" Bonmay sends a copy of an amusing petition which he has received from one of his Babu clerks, asking for an increase of salary on the ground of his large and growing family. The petition concludes thus: "This family which I have generated, God knows every year she does my wife make incremental success in the ramifications of this generation. My age was nineteen when I did commence to have children; and now my age is thirty-four and only one child dead, and by the Lord there will be no end to the mischief."

At a railway station, a few days ago some youths were discussing a gentleman in a foreign-looking, gold-braided uniform.

They agreed that he must be a French or Belgian colonel, but while some thought he belonged to the cavalry, others were of opinion that the absence of epaulettes showed that he belonged to the infantry.

Presently the object of their interest passed close by them, and they had the opportunity of reading the legend on his cap. It read: "Station Hotel."

"Father," said little Ruth, appealingly, "why don't you stay at home to work as other little girls' fathers do?"

Father, who, as the business manager of a great corporation, has to travel extensively, smiled fondly at his little daughter. "I'd love to, Ruth," he answered, "but you see I have to earn a lot of money to take care of my little girl and her mother, and I can't get enough work to do here at home."

"O, father," cried Ruth, reprovingly, "I don't believe you've ever tried hard enough. Why, I have seen a sign out, 'Men Wanted,' lots of times. There was one over in front of our grocery store this very morning."

"WANTED FATHER AT HOME"

"Father," said little Ruth, appealingly, "why don't you stay at home to work as other little girls' fathers do?"

Father, who, as the business manager of a great corporation, has to travel extensively, smiled fondly at his little daughter. "I'd love to, Ruth," he answered, "but you see I have to earn a lot of money to take care of my little girl and her mother, and I can't get enough work to do here at home."

"O, father," cried Ruth, reprovingly, "I don't believe you've ever tried hard enough. Why, I have seen a sign out, 'Men Wanted,' lots of times. There was one over in front of our grocery store this very morning."

"WANTED FATHER AT HOME"

"Father," said little Ruth, appealingly, "why don't you stay at home to work as other little girls' fathers do?"

Father, who, as the business manager of a great corporation, has to travel extensively, smiled fondly at his little daughter. "I'd love to, Ruth," he answered, "but you see I have to earn a lot of money to take care of my little girl and her mother, and I can't get enough work to do here at home."

"O, father," cried Ruth, reprovingly, "I don't believe you've ever tried hard enough. Why, I have seen a sign out, 'Men Wanted,' lots of times. There was one over in front of our grocery store this very morning."

"WANTED FATHER AT HOME"

"Father," said little Ruth, appealingly, "why don't you stay at home to work as other little girls' fathers do?"

Father, who, as the business manager of a great corporation, has to travel extensively, smiled fondly at his little daughter. "I'd love to, Ruth," he answered, "but you see I have to earn a lot of money to take care of my little girl and her mother, and I can't get enough work to do here at home."

"O, father," cried Ruth, reprovingly, "I don't believe you've ever tried hard enough. Why, I have seen a sign out, 'Men Wanted,' lots of times. There was one over in front of our grocery store this very morning."

"WANTED FATHER AT HOME"

"Father," said little Ruth, appealingly, "why don't you stay at home to work as other little girls' fathers do?"

Father, who, as the business manager of a great corporation, has to travel extensively, smiled fondly at his little daughter. "I'd love to, Ruth," he answered, "but you see I have to earn a lot of money to take care of my little girl and her mother, and I can't get enough work to do here at home."

"O, father," cried Ruth, reprovingly, "I don't believe you've ever tried hard enough. Why, I have seen a sign out, 'Men Wanted,' lots of times. There was one over in front of our grocery store this very morning."

"WANTED FATHER AT HOME"

THE PALMYRA

A PAPER FOR

VOL. IX.—NO. 30.

PALMYRA, N. J., FRIDAY

ROLL OF HONOR

The Three Colors that Will Not Run: Red-White-Blue

In commemoration to those that are serving and have offered their services to the country in the timely hour, we publish the following Roll of Honor. We ask the kind co-operation of our readers in keeping this list most complete at all times:

PALMYRA
Forrest Buck, First Penna. Cavalry.
Ellis Reeves Morgan, Naval Coast Defense Reserve.
William Cook, Aviation Corps.
Brewster Cook, Aviation Corps.
William Hall, U. S. Navy.
Raymond Bailey, Battery B, Camden.
Wilson, Battery, Naval Coast Defense Reserve.
Buckley, Battery, First Regiment, N. J.

PHILADELPHIA
John Fisher, First Regiment, N. J. P.
Paul Van Riper, Naval Coast Defense Reserve.
Hannell Woodman, Co. M, N. O. N. J.
John McCloskey, Naval Coast Defense Reserve.
William H. Keeler, U. S. Navy.
Charles Bates, U. S. Navy.
Harry Shaffer, U. S. Army.
Alvin Donahy, Coast Guard.
Lloyd Forester, Ambulance Corps.
Fred Hays, Ambulance Corps.
Charles Taylor, P. Aviation Corps, 15th Regt., U. S. A.
Gordon Bering, Battery B, Camden.
William Miller, First Penna. Cavalry.
J. P. Chish, 3rd Medical Corps, U. S. A.
Eugene Bowler, Hospital Corps.
John Hays, Naval Coast Defense Reserve.
Robert H. Smith, Battery B, Camden.
Joseph Kellum, Ambulance Corps.
Brewster Cook, Aviation Corps.
Thompson, M. D'Aitche, Palmyra, Ambulance Corps.
Frank & Day, Engineer Corps.
Edward Wilkinson, Engineer Corps.
Clinton Clifton, Engineer Corps.
Furness, 3rd Medical Corps.
Arthur Wright, Ambulance Corps.
Edwin Paul Hunter, 8th Regiment, N. O. N. J.
Robert Hunter, 8th Regt.

NEW YORK
George M. Becker, 781 Morgan Avenue, Palmyra, has been appointed chairman.

All who are favorably inclined please enclose a dollar in an envelope addressed to Mr. George M. Becker, Box 553, Palmyra, N. J., and accept the thanks of the league in advance with the assurance that every dollar sent in will be honestly cared for and will be properly applied in the pursuit of the object it is intended for.

Very respectfully,
GEORGE M. BECKER,
Chairman Home Defense League Finance Committee, Drill Instruction Department.

CENTRAL BAPTIST CHURCH

George M. Becker, 781 Morgan Avenue, Palmyra, has been appointed chairman.

All who are favorably inclined please enclose a dollar in an envelope addressed to Mr. George M. Becker, Box 553, Palmyra, N. J., and accept the thanks of the league in advance with the assurance that every dollar sent in will be honestly cared for and will be properly applied in the pursuit of the object it is intended for.

Very respectfully,
GEORGE M. BECKER,
Chairman Home Defense League Finance Committee, Drill Instruction Department.

CENTRAL BAPTIST CHURCH

George M. Becker, 781 Morgan Avenue, Palmyra, has been appointed chairman.

All who are favorably inclined please enclose a dollar in an envelope addressed to Mr. George M. Becker, Box 553, Palmyra, N. J., and accept the thanks of the league in advance with the assurance that every dollar sent in will be honestly cared for and will be properly applied in the pursuit of the object it is intended for.

Very respectfully,
GEORGE M. BECKER,
Chairman Home Defense League Finance Committee, Drill Instruction Department.

CENTRAL BAPTIST CHURCH

George M. Becker, 781 Morgan Avenue, Palmyra, has been appointed chairman.

All who are favorably inclined please enclose a dollar in an envelope addressed to Mr. George M. Becker, Box 553, Palmyra, N. J., and accept the thanks of the league in advance with the assurance that every dollar sent in will be honestly cared for and will be properly applied in the pursuit of the object it is intended for.

Very respectfully,
GEORGE M. BECKER,
Chairman Home Defense League Finance Committee, Drill Instruction Department.

CENTRAL BAPTIST CHURCH

George M. Becker, 781 Morgan Avenue, Palmyra, has been appointed chairman.

All who are favorably inclined please enclose a dollar in an envelope addressed to Mr. George M. Becker, Box 553, Palmyra, N. J., and accept the thanks of the league in advance with the assurance that every dollar sent in will be honestly cared for and will be properly applied in the pursuit of the object it is intended for.

Very respectfully,
GEORGE M. BECKER,
Chairman Home Defense League Finance Committee, Drill Instruction Department.

CENTRAL BAPTIST CHURCH

George M. Becker, 781 Morgan Avenue, Palmyra, has been appointed chairman.

All who are favorably inclined please enclose a dollar in an envelope addressed to Mr. George M. Becker, Box 553, Palmyra, N. J., and accept the thanks of the league in advance with the assurance that every dollar sent in will be honestly cared for and will be properly applied in the pursuit of the object it is intended for.

Very respectfully,
GEORGE M. BECKER,
Chairman Home Defense League Finance Committee, Drill Instruction Department.

CENTRAL BAPTIST CHURCH

George M. Becker, 781 Morgan Avenue, Palmyra, has been appointed chairman.

All who are favorably inclined please enclose a dollar in an envelope addressed to Mr. George M. Becker, Box 553, Palmyra, N. J., and accept the thanks of the league in advance with the assurance that every dollar sent in will be honestly cared for and will be properly applied in the pursuit of the object it is intended for.

Very respectfully,
GEORGE M. BECKER,
Chairman Home Defense League Finance Committee, Drill Instruction Department.

CENTRAL BAPTIST CHURCH

George M. Becker, 781 Morgan Avenue, Palmyra, has been appointed chairman.

All who are favorably inclined please enclose a dollar in an envelope addressed to Mr. George M. Becker, Box 553, Palmyra, N. J., and accept the thanks of the league in advance with the assurance that every dollar sent in will be honestly cared for and will be properly applied in the pursuit of the object it is intended for.

Very respectfully,
GEORGE M. BECKER,
Chairman Home Defense League Finance Committee, Drill Instruction Department.

CENTRAL BAPTIST CHURCH

George M. Becker, 781 Morgan Avenue, Palmyra, has been appointed chairman.

RECORD

PEOPLE

AUGUST 17, 1917.

3 CENTS PER COPY

CLAIR NEWS

The storm on Thursday lightning struck the barn of Mr. and Mrs. A. Leide avenue, reducing it to a pile of ruins. The Merchantville Fire Company was summoned and reached the scene to avert serious damage. Riverton and Palmyra Companies were also on hand but their services were not needed.

The Clair Branch of the Red Cross was highly commended on the shipment of the large box of supplies which were sent recently to headquarters. The box contained 1000 pairs of socks, 75 comforters and other necessities.

QUOTA PASSED EXAMINATIONS WITH BUT TWO EXCEPTIONS

As well for Riverton as a whole to produce sturdy young men upon making the examination for the new national army, it was found that only two out of twenty-two were rejected. William E. Woldill seems to be the only one.

Passing were:

Corner
Leinaw am C. Young Dillon
Willits
A. Bradley
F. Jones
Armstrong
F. Cooper
Rosenberg
Gale
C. Cole
Somersatt
D. Tomlinson
T. Flynn
Shoester
Richson
Peters
Wathin

THE SIGN OF THE RED CROSS

Y. M. C. A. Building

Broad and Garfield Avenue

The Ship Moskegon, 5600 tons dead weight, single decks, with two tiers of beams, will leave this country within a month for a port in France laden with hospital supplies furnished by the National Red Cross. It will carry the insignia of the society to minimize the danger of the submarine zone. It is probable that on this ship will be a number of articles made by the Palmyra Branch.

A bowl was unclaimed at the street market and carnival. Owner may have same by notifying Mrs. William E. Russell.

Women who do not generally take an active part in public-spirited activity, whose household duties prevent them from interesting themselves ordinarily are appealed to at this time to enlist in Red Cross work. All are able to give help of some kind. You are urged to join. The Nation will need your service.

Mr. Forrest Rudderow, Mrs. M. W. Wisam, Mrs. C. H. Crowell and Mrs. J. A. Hoepfner motored to Burlington Monday and delivered a case of bandages, etc., to be forwarded to the battle fields.

A consignment of blankets has been received to be made up into robes.

Mrs. William E. Russell, chairman of the local branch, attended a meeting of the County Executive Committee held at Burlington Monday evening.

A call has been sent out for knitted sets consisting of sweaters, mufflers, wristlets and socks. Everyone in this community that can or will learn how to knit and so help this work along is requested to send their names to the secretary, Mrs. H. Kennedy, or to headquarters, or notify any member. This work may be done at home and by persons not members of the society.

To Mrs. Allen Potter, of Kalamazoo, Mich., belongs the distinction of being probably the first woman who is actively engaged in the work of the Red Cross.

RIVERTON NEWS

—Mr. Harry Brunt has been a successful candidate for the second officers training camp to start at Fort Myer, Va., this month. Mr. Brunt will report on August 23 at the fort. Norman P. Rogers, of Moorestown, N. J., who is well-known here, is among the other five successful candidates of Burlington county.

—Miss Katie MacDonald has returned to her home, after enjoying a week's vacation at Wildwood, N. J.

—Misses Edythe and Lillian Moore, of Thomas avenue, are spending the week at the "Chalfonte," Ocean City, N. J.

—Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Woolman and Mrs. Cutter spent last Sunday with Corporal Hammel Woolman, Camp Edge, Sea Girt, N. J.

—Lieutenant J. W. Allison is spending several days at his home on Linden avenue.

—Mr. and Mrs. Robert Coles are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son on Tuesday.

—Mrs. Conrad Becker and Miss Cecilia Becker spent Thursday with friends in Sewell, N. J.

—Mrs. Johnson and daughter, of East Orange and granddaughter, Mary Collings, will spend the week-end at Atlantic City.

—Miss Frances Anderson, of East Riverton, is spending the week-end with friends in Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

—Miss Margaret McDermott will leave on Saturday to spend a week with her grandparents near Wilmington, Del.

—Mrs. Charles Wanger is entertaining her mother from Philadelphia this week.

—Miss Mabel Adams spent Tuesday and Wednesday with her sister, Mrs. H. E. Brown.

—Mrs. William White, Miss Rebecca White, Miss Margaret McDermott and Miss Kathryn Rice spent Sunday last at Atlantic City.

(Continued on Eighth Page)

FRIENDLY CALLS

AUG 1917

THE saloon bar of the Goose and Gridiron hummed with the chatter of about a score of men, each of whom apparently regarded himself as something of an authority on the more or less vital matter under discussion at the mo-

"The wedding of the season will probably be that of young Lord Horleybank and Miss Pauline Condine, which will take place at the end of the month. In view of the fact that the bridegroom inherited the vast wealth of the late peer, as well as the title, those in the party will be quite a select one to take the place. The wedding is due to take place some time in July, and Miss Condine—and so on. Sounds interesting," said Harry Fordick.

"There are possibilities. Know anything about them?"

"A little. Here are their portraits," said Jake, handing the paper to his companion. When they separated Jake had undertaken to find out all he could about Lord Horleybank, and he and the other guests had agreed to make a plan in detail. They had a clear month before the wedding to be necessary to take action.

It was not long time Jake had pleased many particulars. He had discovered that his lordship had certain little peculiarities, which his double would have to imitate. Also that the young man was a very capable writer. He had written several books which commanded a ready sale. But he had failed to find out where their victim was, and he had been unable to Lester supplied that information.

"By Jove! Now know who it is you remind me of! Look, Harry, our friend here is almost exactly like this photo of Lord Horseybank!"

Harry admitted the striking likeness and handed the paper on to the stranger.

"I dare say you are right," said the latter. "But I am no judge of my own features, you know."

approaching marriage, and I want a few little things for—well, the bridesmaids, you know, and a present for the bride. Show me some diamond brooches first, please."

The manager, bowing and smiling, hastened to oblige his customer. He had seen his lordship once before, and recognized the keen, clear-cut features.

"Splendidly. Shall I pay for these other trifles now?"

He drew a fat pocketbook from his inner jacket, but the manager waved it aside.

"No need, your lordship, no need at all. You can let me have a check for all together, when you have made your choice."

He helped him to a light. So skilfully was the manoeuvre carried out that the man could not possibly have detected her lordship in the act of making the exchange. Yet when she stood before the mirror and applied the mirrors in turn to her head the confederates knew that the real gemmes were safely in her capacious pocket.

OH, JOHN, DON'T STAY AWAY ON THAT HUNTING TRIP FOR A WHOLE MONTH BUT COME BACK SOON LIKE MY FIRST HUSBAND DID - HE STARTED ON A LONG HUNTING TRIP TOO, BUT RETURNED UNEXPECTEDLY WITHIN A WEEK!

The genuine taras were quickly forthcoming, and confronted with this evidence of their guilt the two men were further convinced. Frank had noticed that Frank Lester's hands were still free.

"Why do you not take him to the hospital?" "He is the real chief, and we were only helping him."

The detectives laughed.

"You traitors!" Shouted Harry, stepping forward. "You have just betrayed us. You shall pay for this!"

"Yes, my friends," was the calm reply, "I have betrayed you. I give you credit; it was certainly a neat little thing, though."

"At your expense? What do you mean?"

And the portions that we labored at were made by someone whose it's grand to see who clothing helped someone else along; And along life's hill assisted who'er we found less strong;

That he claimed none of the darkness and sang a cheery song.

That when our work is finished, and we down our tools for eyes, Perhaps some time our cooler will pause upon his way To watch at the beauty of the flower we set so free-day.

Or perhaps, some day, near neighbors, looking o'er the garden wall, Will think within their garden to

The chaplains started at the ladies, and no one could have been more surprised than the young lady, when she saw that there was no mistake in the identity of the younger lady, for the photo in the paper had been an excellent one. "You were good enough to discover that I had not been so completely in my lordship," But you apparently did not suspect that I might sometimes even visit such a place as the Gosses and see a great deal of the world in color. This time I chanced to hit on a very interesting little plot, and was well rewarded."

"And now, gentlemen, while you remove your hats, I will have another look at those tires. Miss Contine, being here, shall make her own choice. Come along, my dear."

There was no mistaking that Pauline chose.

certificates of health for a life insurance policy. The other was a certificate of illness to be sent to the chief with a petition for two weeks leave of absence."

"You have nothing to do," said the yellow-clerk. "I've done that myself."

"Yes," continued the other; "but put the certificates in the wrong envelopes. The ill-health one went to the wrong chief, and the healthy one to the chief of good health."

"What a wicked world, isn't it?"

School Teacher—"What little boy came to me where is the home of the swallow?"

Answer—"Please, teacher, I ken. Teacher—Well, Arthur?"

Arthur—"The home of the swallow is in the stomach."

Most of the severe cases of eye trouble are caused by neglecting the eyes after the symptoms of eye strain are plainly marked.

An immediate examination by an Oculist (Registered Physician) and the relief of the strain will in every case prevent further trouble.

Our service includes such an examination by our Oculist as well as a careful adjustment and fitting of the public water supply are required sign an application permit, pay $3 make the tap, which includes the cost of ferrule and labor.

1-2 inch tap, kitchen	$6.00
Bath tub	4.00
Wash basin	1.00
Wash tub	1.00

The above is for either hot or cold water or both.

Water closet, self-acting, pan valve or reservoir	$6.00
Outside tap, 50 feet or less	6.00

Water rents due in advance. No member 1st and May 1st.

JOSEPH MORGAN,
President.

HOWARD PARRY,
Secretary and Treasurer.

some meats. Their safety-first dining style. So the sanitary shop whose quality and courteous service encourage their appetites and whose punctual delivery—when promised—does not delay their dinner.

ZELLEY'S MEAT MARKET

Haas Building

Palmyra

COFFEE

Special Grant 55c

Coffee Demonstration
! All Day Saturday
A Bag of Peanuts With Each
Pound of Coffee on Saturday

STAW'S

Cash Grocery

Broad and Morgan Ave. Palmyra

ping place he looked over to see if someone had alighted, but no such luck.

At length the bus reached his corner, and, wet through and disgusted, he picked up his tool-bag and went down the steps.

Pausing on the footboard for a moment, and glaring at the dry passengers in the still full interior, he burst out:

"Ain't none of yer got no bloom'n'
'omes't!"

And away he went dejectedly into the dark and stormy night.

LOTS OF THEM

A LARGE MOUTHFUL

ken some o' them. There's the Allan Line and the Cunard Line, and the Anchor Line and the White Star Line, and a hale lot mair o' them."

ALWAYS IN THE LEAD

The Morning Star announced the death of William B. Jones when he was not dead, writes Mr. Simon Armstrong in the New York Evening Post. The next day it printed the following notice:

"Yesterday we were the first newspaper to publish the news of the death of Mr. William B. Jones. To-day we are the first to deny the report. The Morning Star is the next best leading."

But Mr. Jones, who is known in his neighborhood as Mrs. Jennifer Jones, said: "There is."

"By Jove! Mary, I wish you only had the presence of mind to the horse and trap there as we answered John."

THE SAYING QUESTION

Counsel: "Mr. Jenkins, will you be the goodness to answer me, gentlemen?" and categorically, a few plain questions? Witnesses: "Certainly, sir."

Well, Mr. Jenkins, is there a Jennifer Jenkins, who is known in her neighborhood as Mrs. Jennifer Jones? "There is." "Is she under your protection?"

Take no substitute—there is nothing
"Just as Good!"

Guaranteed by the maker
Installed by all first-class
Plumbers.

S. V. REEVES

Haddonfield 45 N 2nd St
N. J. Phila.

PATENTED

tion?" "Yes." "Do you support her?"

"I will try—I will try," nervously enquired the old man.

"Will you describe to the court just how the stairs run in that house?" went on the lawyer.

For a few minutes the German looked puzzled, and bit his nails nervously.

"How ze stairs run?" he interrogated a little dazedly.

"Come, come, my good man! How the stairs run, if you please!" said the lawyer, in an exasperated tone.

"Vell," ventured the witness plausibly, "veh I am coqshtairs say run down, and vee I am downstairs zay run oop!"

VISITED BY A LION

There is plenty of danger in training wild animals; nevertheless, in many cases those who work among the carnivores owe their lives to the good instincts of the animals. In the case of the lion, the incident which inspired the picture Mr. Carl Hagenbeck recorded in Beasts and Men an adventure that would alarm even the most courageous of men.

In the beginning of the sixties, writes Mr. Hagenbeck, I was bringing from Cologne to Hamburg a large lioness and a lion. The lioness was a four-year-old lion. It was placed in a great kennel and, together with the lioness, was kept in a cage in the railway van. A man named Druard was in charge of the animals during the journey. When everything was going well, the lioness would open the door of the van and make itself comfortable.

The train rumbled on through the night and the unemployed crowd kept applauding. Suddenly he felt a great weight upon his chest, and woke with a start. In the darkness, not a light was visible, and he could not see the fish lights, and he could dimly see the shadowy outline of the lion's mane. In the darkness, he felt the lion's paw. He thought his cage had become rearranged and that the beast had escaped.

Druard was a trainer of long experience and knew that the lion was good-tempered. So he decided at once that the best thing to do was somehow or other to tie the animal up. Fortunately, he found the lion's mane in the lion until the station, and make the best of his awkward situation.

Fortunately, no trouble broke out until the lion was tied up. The lioness bled. Had anything of that sort occurred, the man would never have been able to take the lion to the station. He untied a sack that he wore round his body and placed it round the lion's neck. Then groping his way through the darkness, he went on to the lion's cage in fastening the other end of the sack to the handle of the door. At the next station he sounded the alarm, and what was brought led the lion took up its cage.

SURGEON IN THE STONE AGE

The appearance of the first chapter of a new medical surgery was due to the eminent French surgeon, M. Lucas Champerniere, recalls the ever fascinating discovery of a prehistoric skull in the cave of Vindogones, which showed traces of having been opened by mechanical means and the possibility of a trepanning operation.

This discovery was completed in 1852. When other skulls were found bearing the round bone excrescences which are the result of trepanning. These discoveries were made at the time that the particular operation of trepanning had fallen into disuse, and it was not until Ferriar's discoveries concerning the localization of brain functions that the scientific basis of a new prehistoric surgery, the trepan, was restored on a firm scientific basis and found favor abroad. Nevertheless it has been the subject of much controversy since the seventies that trepanning was practiced with frequency, in the prehistoric age. The method and the purpose of the operation, however, have been much disputed.

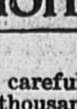

Various methods have been suggested as to those of the neolithic surgeons who practiced the operation, and the use of a sharpened flint, which does not naturally suggest itself at first.

The best method of the operation, according to M. Broca, and that it was performed by persistently cutting round the skull in a circle with a flint. M. Broca, however, was the first to perform an experiment that by boring holes at regular intervals the section would be made in thirty-five minutes.

Several variations of the purpose suggested. Some have supposed that it was a part of some religious rite and performed after death. M. Broca, however, was the first to suggest that the operation was performed during life, was often successful, and was performed for medical purposes.

THE WORLD'S GREATEST CHOIR

In many departments Russia has

Telephone Hints

Here are eight, carefully chosen, that are endorsed by thousands of employers.

1. Always make sure of the number to be called by consulting the directory.
2. Give the number to the operator unhurriedly by digits, as "one-two-three," not "twelve, twenty-three."
3. Speak slowly and distinctly with the lips about half an inch from the mouth-piece.
4. When your call is answered, announces your name as "Black Company, Mr. Jones wishes to speak with Mr. Smith."
5. Answer incoming calls promptly and cordially.
6. Answer with your firm name and your own, as "White Company, Mr. Smith speaking."
7. To recall the operator, work the receiver hook SLOWLY.
8. Be sure to hang up the receiver when finished.

All eight contribute to a more effective service.

The Delaware & Atlantic Telegraph & Telephone Co.
 T. R. McClain, District Manager
 Camden, N. J.

THE PENALTY OF LIBERTY

In the matter of discipline John Ruskin's mother was a Spancerian before Spencer. "Let your penances," she would say, "be your punishment." The penalties inflicted by inanimate nature, inevitable. The jot-dropt rain burns a child's forehead; the ice-blast burns him the second time; it burns him every time; and he very soon learns not to touch the hot chimney. The wind blows the leaves off the trees. The sun burns the skin. To illustrate her way of teaching lessons, Ruskin need to tell the following incident of his early childhood, which was the first of his penances.

One summer, when I was very young, my nurse, Anna, I wanted to touch the iron stove. It was boiling, terribly. It was an early taste for bronzes, I suppose; but I was resolute about it. My mother heard me keep my fingers back. I insisted on putting them forward. My nurse would have taken me away from the urn, but my mother said: "Let him touch 't, nurse."

"So I touched it, and that was my first penance. I was told the method 'liberty.' It was the first piece of liberty I got, and the last that for some time I asked for."

ALL HED EARNED

"Jimmy," said the gentle old lady noddily to the young man, the lay with a broken leg in the hospital, "the nurses tell me that you have been a good boy all winter."

"Yes, missus," acknowledged Jimmy, his sunburnt face and tousled head half hidden in the pillow.

"You've done a goodly amount of work," said the gentle nurse.

"Can't 'elp it, missus," shamefacedly whispered Jimmy.

"Now, look here," said the old lady. "I shall be at the hospital again next week, and I want you to promise me to be a good boy till then, and if so, you shall have what I want."

Jimmy fervently promised, but, on the old lady's first visit, resented itself, and when she came the second time, she said: "You've been a good boy."

"Well, little man," she said, mildly. "I'm not going to ask the nurses to tell me what a good boy you are. You yourself. Now, do you deserve that quarter I promised you?"

"Slowly Jimmy turned his brown eyes to her face, and then lowered them again.

"Gimme a penny," he said, in a low voice.

THE SCALE

In a confidential talk to a group of medical students, an eminent physician took up the extremely important matter of the maximum fee. "The best way," he declared, according to the Post Magazine, "of securing the maximum fee is to establish a 'specialist.' For instance, I charge twenty-five dollars for a consultation, and I sell at fifty dollars for an office consultation, and five dollars for a telephone consultation." There were very appreciative and perceptive, and a few, however, came from the back of the amphitheatre spoke.

"What," he asked, "how much do you charge a fellow for passing you on the street?"

The less a man talks, the more others may appreciate him.

DISGUISED PASSENGER

It was raining in torrents, and the weary way he had been compelled to ride on the outside of the bus, which was full inside. At every stop he would jump down, and if anyone had alighted, but no such luck.

At length the bus reached his corner, and he, wet through and disgraced, he picked up his tool-bag and went down the steps.

Peeping on the footboard for a moment, and glaring at the dry passengers in the full interior, he burst out:

"Ain't none of yer got no bloomin' ones?"

And away he went dejectedly in the dark and stormy night.

LOTS OF THEM

The child who reading school days around the sentence: "Three days afterward the shroud covered the line."

"What line is there meant?" asked the teacher.

"The Equator," responded the child.

"No," said the teacher. "I mean the line if there is any other line at all besides the Equator?"

After an awkward pause so solemn and so long that the teacher, "Up," "Well, Peter," said the schoolmaster, encouragingly, "do you know any more?"

"Yes, sir," glibly replied the boy: "ten some of them. There's the Allegheny and the Cuyahoga Line, and the Anchor and the White Star Line, and a hale lot mair o' them."

ALWAYS IN THE LEAD

The Morning Star announced the death of William B. Jones, who was not only a member of the firm, Simco Strunsky in the New York Evening Post. The next day it printed the following notice:

"Yesterday we were the first newspaper to publish the news of the death of William B. Jones. To-day we are the first to deny the report. The Morning Star is always in the lead."

The course in business administration is designed to prepare his graduates to become successful business men. It forms an admirable substitute for a college education, and saves from two to three years of time.

The secretarial course is designed particularly for young women who wish to be self-supporting, or to prepare themselves to be useful to their families or to their country in case of need.

SPLENDID NEW BUILDING. FALL TERM BEGINS IN SEPTEMBER.
Old Year Book and Illustrated booklet will be sent upon request.

PERCE SCHOOL
Pine Street, West of Broad. Phone 1111.

The Home Victor
Hot Water Stove
24 to 30 gallons hot enough for domestic use at a price of 1 cent

A new principle—circulates water under pressure. Used extensively in HOUSE HEATING as well as furnishing water for the kitchen and bath.

Also used in combination
Take no substitute—there is nothing
"Just as Good!"

Installed by the master
Guaranteed by all first-class Plumbers.

S. V. REEVES
Haddonfield 45 N 2nd St. N. J. Pails

PATENTED

A LARGE MOUTHFUL
Farmer Johnson and his wife were riding across a moor in a horse and trap one night when they were stopped by some footpads.
"Your money or your life!" cried one of them, producing pistols.
"All right, take my money, but spare my life!" replied the terrified Johnson.

They did, also the horse and trap, and rode off, leaving Johnson and his wife to tramp the rest of the journey.
"Well, that's a scorcher," said the farmer to his wife. "We have lost all!"

"Oh, no, we have not, John," replied his wife. "I had the presence of mind to put that gold watch and chain in my mouth whilst the robbers were searching us!"

"By Jove! Mary, I wish you had only had the presence of mind to put the horse and trap there as well!" answered John.

THE SAVING QUESTION
Counsel: "Mr. Jenkins, will you have the goodness to answer me, directly and categorically, a few questions?"
Witness: "Certainly, sir!"
"Well, Mr. Jenkins, is there a female lying with you who is known in the neighborhood as Mrs. Jenkins?"
There is. "Is she under your protection?"

"Yes, you ever hear married men say 'I have not.' Here there was a sensation among the jury." The judge said: "Opposing counsel: 'Stop one moment, Mr. Jenkins, is the female in question your mother?'" "She is!"

NEXT WITNESS, PLEASE!
"Witness, will you please answer my questions a little more plainly?" queried the lawyer, who was cross-examining an elderly German as to the position of the door, windows, etc., in the house where a crime had been committed.

"I vill try—I vill try," nervous enervated the old man.

"Will you describe to the court just how the stairs run in that house when on the lawyer.

For a few minutes the German looked puzzled, and bit his nails nervously.

"How so stairs run?" he interrogated a little dazedly.

"Come, come, my good man! How the stairs run, if you please!" said the lawyer. In an exasperated tone.

"Well," ventured the witness platonically, "ven I am upstairs stairs run down, and ven I am downstairs stairs run up!"

THE PALMYRA RECORD

Founded 1885
Published Every Friday
SEEL BROTHERS, Publishers and Proprietors
Record Building
311 Cinnaminson Avenue
Palmyra, N. J.
Phone 274-J
Subscription, $1.00 per year in advance

Communications of general interest to the public will be welcome to our columns. Be brief and to the point.
Display advertisements, 50 cents per inch. Classified advertisements, 1 cent a word. Special notices, 10 cents per line. Discounts made on time insertions and enlarged space.

Entered as second class matter, Jan. 4th, 1912, at the post office at Palmyra, New Jersey, under the act of March 3d, 1879.

RATES FOR NOTICES

Church Notices, per insertion, 2 cents per line. Advance Notices of entertainments, fairs, etc., where admission is charged, 2 cents per line. If offering is taken, will be charged at the rate of 2 cents per line, per insertion.

THE ANSWER

President Wilson has started the glorious old American eagle flying towards Europe with his reply to the Pope's peace proposal. The nature of this message was accurately foretold in our editorial of last week. Yes, America has again spoken, and in a way which leaves no doubt in the mind of the world that our cause is just and conquer we must. It is right there is always right.

There is nothing hysterical in the President's message; no, it is plainly evident that the voice comes from a calm, far-seeing, staunch and truly great leader. We have started on a long tedious journey, but because the road is rough and the traveling portions, we have set out to reach the goal with renewed determination. We will make the world safe for future generations—safe for democracy, and in so doing uphold the standard of righteousness, freedom and humanity or we will fight to the bitter end. There is no turning back when a principle is at stake, thus we have put ourselves on record, so shall the answer always be.

HE DIDN'T WAIT FOR THE PICTURES

Attacked by a gale of wind, the railway bridge across an American valley had been blown down. In haste the bridge engineer and his staff were sent to the spot.

Two days later the superintendent of the section assigned from his special train and sought out the engineer.

"I say, Bob," he began, his voice quivering with energy, "I want this job rushed through. Every hour of delay costs us thousands. Have you got the chief engineer's plans yet?"

"Dunno if he's got the little pictures drawn yet," said the bridge builder, a plain-spoken old chap; "but that bridge is up and the trains is passing over it."

THE DOMESTIC LIFE OF THE CARLINES

It is certain that the Carlins were an act of concession on her part. The sister of a country doctor, she had descended from the skies, like Diana to Endymion, to marry the son of a stone-mason. But she loved her and was happy in his love.

Not so the jealous of him as she was—fervently jealous—not as a lover for there she knew she was safe. But she could not bear to think that if

REPAIR POSITION at ALMER Business School

Where students receive actual business experience, in conjunction with the most up-to-date business teaching methods.
Employment department, 251 graduates placed since January last.
Big government demand for graduates.
Individual instruction. Day and evening sessions. Call, write or phone for Catalog.
16 South Tenth Street
PHILADELPHIA

T. LACEY AKINS

Candidate for the Republican Nomination
FOR SHERIFF
GOOD GOVERNMENT AND HONEST POLITICS
To the People of Burlington County

I am an American citizen, born in Burlington county, and a Republican who has supported the ticket for 35 years. My father fought in the war of '61 for the Stars and Stripes. I am afflicted with no faction, but am of the people and it is among them that I am seeking support. If nominated and elected I shall have no pre-election promises to fulfill and I shall spend no money except through legitimate channels, to further my candidacy. Should I be chosen for the office my wife will look after the women's ward of the jail, as matron, without expense to the taxpayers.

Respectfully yours,
T. LACEY AKINS.
This adv. ordered and paid for by T. Lacey Akins about July 30, 21.

BROADWAY PALACE THEATRE
Palmyra, New Jersey

PROGRAM

Week of September 2, 1917

On Saturdays and Holidays the First Show Will Start at 7 o'clock and the Second at 8:30 Sharp.

MONDAY

Bryant Washburn
in
"Skinner's Dress Suit"
Essanay Feature, 5 Parts
Extra Reel
Admission, 10c and 15c

TUESDAY

Ruth Roland
in
"The Neglected Wife"
Ninth Episode
Valeska Suratt
in
"The Slave"
Fox Feature, 5 Parts
Admission, 10c and 15c

WEDNESDAY

Bryant Washburn
in
"The Prince of Graustark"
Essanay Feature, 5 Parts
Extra Reel
Admission, 10c and 15c

THURSDAY

Geraldine Farrar
in
"Maria Rosa"
Paramount Feature, 5 Parts
Extra Reel
Admission, 10c and 15c

FRIDAY

Jackie Saunders
in
"Twin Triangle"
World Feature, 5 Parts
Pearl White
in
"The Fatal Ring"
Second Episode
Admission, 10c and 15c

SATURDAY

Montague Love
in
"The Brand of Satan"
World Feature, 5 Parts
Extra Reel
Admission, 10c and 15c

SUNDAY

"A Soft Tenderfoot"
Fox Comedy, 5 Parts
Admission, Children 10c, Adults 15c

FOREWARNED

Jenkins is a superstitious sort of chap; he wouldn't walk under a ladder or sit down thirteen to table for quite a lot.

One morning recently Simpson met him at the station at nine o'clock in the morning, just when he should have been starting for the city.

"Hallo, Jenks!" he exclaimed, in surprise. "Aren't you going to the office this morning?"

"Not much," replied Jenkins promptly. "It's me for home! On the platform just now a red-headed opticalologist started at me."

"An opticalologist?" exclaimed his friend, in surprise.

"Yes; man with one eye, you know. Bye-bye!"

UTILIZING TIME

"Ladies," announced the president of an afternoon bridge club, "It has been moved and seconded that there shall be no conversation at the card-tables. What shall we do with the motion?"

"I suggest," said a sprightly member, "that we discuss it while we play!"

The man who marries a garrulous woman for her money soon begins to realize the fact that money talks.

Special PASSENGER LAWN SWING $5.75

Delivered to your home

AWINGS HUNG

CARPETS AND STRAW MATTINGS LAID

FURNITURE REPAIRED

AND REUPHOLSTED

SHADES MADE AND HUNG

MATTRESSES MADE OVER

ALL KINDS OF BICYCLES REPAIRED

BART CARRIAGE WHEELS RE-RUBBERED

ALL KINDS OF STOVES REPAIRED

FOSTER'S

Furniture & Department Store

145-147 Bridgeboro Street

RIVERSIDE, N. J.

Opposite St. Peter's Catholic Church

THE PALMYRA RECORD

THIS PAPER REPRESENTS FOR FOREIGN ADVERTISING BY THE
AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION
GENERAL OFFICES
NEW YORK AND CHICAGO
BRANCHES IN ALL THE PRINCIPAL CITIES

WANTED GIRLS SIXTEEN YEARS and over to learn trade; good wages to start. Apply Conlow Dorworth Co., cut glass factory, West Palmyra, N. J.

WANTED—MALE OR FEMALE stenographer, one experienced in clerical work preferred. Apply in writing, or at office Cambridge Company, Cambridge, N. J.

TOURIST CARS TO HIRE—$2 PER HOUR.

Special rates on long trips. Write Warren Mullen, P. O. Box 105, Palmyra, or phone 187-R. 8-10-17.

LADY CLERK WANTED—TWENTY-one years or over; good salary. Apply Eastman's, Riverton, N. J. 8-10-17.

FOR SALE—$2300. 317 LEONOREY avenue.

Apply to William S. C. Rorer, 708 Parry avenue, Palmyra. Phone 2-23-17.

RELIABLE WOMAN WANTS LAUNDRY work at her home.

Address Mrs. Esther Dashiell, Palmyra, R. F. D.

TO HIRE AT 50 CENTS A DAY—Sweeper Vac., one person machine; will clean out that rug instead of wearing it out. Address 312 Cinnaminson avenue, Palmyra.

A PRACTICAL NURSE will take a few more engagements.

Address S. Palmyra Record office. 3-10-17-17.

FOR SALE—A WHEELING CHAIR; can be seen at 430 Delaware avenue. 8-18-17.

FOUR LOTS CHESTNUT AND Spring Garden, each 100 feet each; $175 apiece. George N. Wimer, Palmyra.

FOR SALE—A HOUSE, 12 ROOMS, in good condition. Apply 718 Morris avenue, or address P. O. Box 137, Palmyra.

JOHN WAS TOO CAUTION

Gone was the lovechild from the young wife's eyes—drowned in bitter tears as she faced her anxious mother.

"Oh, Ethel darling, what's the matter?" asked the old lady.

"He—he—he—look!—John doesn't trust me any more!" gasped the girl, between her sobs.

"Doesn't trust you?" exclaimed the mother, the light of battle shining in her eyes. "The brute! What has he done?"

"I cooked my first dinner for him last night, and—oh, mother, her grief broke out again; then, with a great effort, she continued—"he brought a bottle home to dinner with him, and—oh—oh—he was a doctor!"

BRAVERY ON THE BATTLEFIELD

The testimony of all brave soldiers is to the effect that in their first and several subsequent battles they were dreadfully afraid, which feeling gradually wore away until they could face a cannonading unmoved. Is this

The Latest Creations in Straw and Panama Hats

$2 - $3 and $4

H.M. LAW

137 South 13th Street PHILADELPHIA

MUNGER & LONG—Camden's Largest Dry Goods Store—Right at Broadway & Station

HERE'S Refreshing reduction news from Camden's active up-to-the-minute modern department store. These prices will be an added incentive to get off at Broadway Station (Camden). Our stores a few steps away.

The Munger & Long Record and Victrola stock will meet with your idea of what a complete stock should be.

A Great Saving on Bed Sheets, $1

Most stores are asking $1.50 for this splendid seamless sheet, made of heavy bleached muslin free from dressing. Size 81x90 inches. Get your supply at this great saving in price.

25c Grade Swiss Embroideries 12 1/2 yd

New and very attractive embroidered Swiss and Gainsborough edgings; widths 4 to 12 inches in great variety of patterns. Economical mothers should share this bargain.

$2.00 Chiffon Taffeta at $1.50 yd.

Splendid stylish Taffeta Silks for suits, dresses and skirts. All wanted colors for evening or street wear. You can save money here.

Munger & Long Broadway & Federal Camden, N. J.

Poultry Feed of all kinds
Joseph T. Evans

This Advertisement and 19c

Entitles you to a 25c JAR OF REXALL COLD CREAM

Pine's Rexall Drug Store

BROAD AND CINNAMINSON AVE. PALMYRA

Before Buying Ice Cream

For that Strawberry Festival, Lawn Fete, Picnic, etc. you must first consider the best quality at the lowest price. It can be done if you will bravery, or is it the contempt that comes from familiarity? Something of both, perhaps, or else we cannot account for the coolness in the face of death so often displayed.

LET US SHOW YOU THE ECONOMIC WAY MAURICE H. SCHWARTZ

A captain in the late Civil War, after an engagement, seated himself under a tree and was smoking a pipe, when a stray bullet knocked off the bowl of the pipe, leaving the stem in his mouth. He continued to puff for a moment, and then said to his orderly:

"This pipe draws too well, Robinson. I wish you would bring me a fresh one."

The second anecdote is an incident told of the French General Custine and his aide-de-camp, Baragay d'Hilliers. "But a word seems to have been blotted out here. Well, I will go on with the next."

This may have been affection, but most people will incline to call it bravery.

"I beg pardon, general," said Baragay d'Hilliers; "but a word seems to have been blotted out here. Well, I will go on with the next."

"Sure, sir, as know that," replied the cautious yokel; "but ah don't know how soon he's going to stop barking!"

NOT BOTH AT ONCE, BUT—

"Come right in, Tom!" a farmer called out. "He won't hurt you. You know a barking dog never bites."

"Sure, sir, as know that," replied the cautious yokel; "but ah don't know how soon he's going to stop barking!"

hands and cut a hole through the paper.

He passed in his reading and looked closely at the riddled page.

"Go on—go on," said General Custine.

"I beg pardon, general," said Baragay d'Hilliers; "but a word seems to have been blotted out here. Well, I will go on with the next."

This may have been affection, but most people will incline to call it bravery.

"I beg pardon, general," said Baragay d'Hilliers; "but a word seems to have been blotted out here. Well, I will go on with the next."

"Sure, sir, as know that," replied the cautious yokel; "but ah don't know how soon he's going to stop barking!"

water closet, self-acting, pan valve or reservoir. $5.00

1-2 inch tap, kitchen. 1.00

The above is for either hot or cold water or both.

Water closet, self-acting, pan valve or reservoir. $5.00

1-2 inch tap, kitchen. 1.00

The above is for either hot or cold water or both.

Water closet, self-acting, pan valve or reservoir. $5.00

1-2 inch tap, kitchen. 1.00

The above is for either hot or cold water or both.

Water closet, self-acting, pan valve or reservoir. $5.00

1-2 inch tap, kitchen. 1.00

The above is for either hot or cold water or both.

Water closet, self-acting, pan valve or reservoir. $5.00

1-2 inch tap, kitchen. 1.00

The above is for either hot or cold water or both.

Water closet, self-acting, pan valve or reservoir. $5.00

1-2 inch tap, kitchen. 1.00

The above is for either hot or cold water or both.

Water closet, self-acting, pan valve or reservoir. $5.00

1-2 inch tap, kitchen. 1.00

The above is for either hot or cold water or both.

Water closet, self-acting, pan valve or reservoir. $5.00

1-2 inch tap, kitchen. 1.00

The above is for either hot or cold water or both.

Water closet, self-acting, pan valve or reservoir. $5.00

1-2 inch tap, kitchen. 1.00

The above is for either hot or cold water or both.

Water closet, self-acting, pan valve or reservoir. $5.00

1-2 inch tap, kitchen. 1.00

The above is for either hot or cold water or both.

Water closet, self-acting, pan valve or reservoir. $5.00

1-2 inch tap, kitchen. 1.00

The above is for either hot or cold water or both.

Water closet, self-acting, pan valve or reservoir. $5.00

1-2 inch tap, kitchen. 1.00

The above is for either hot or cold water or both.

J. S. Collins & Son

BUILDING MATERIAL LUMBER
COAL RIVERTON, NEW JERSEY FEED
What we have to offer in AUTOMOBILE TIRES

We Are Selling
Automobile Tires
WE HAVE THEM IN STOCK
WE HAVE THE RIGHT PRICE
See Us Before Buying Elsewhere

DR. SAMUEL W. COLLIN

Dentist
4th and THOMAS AVE. RIVERTON

"The Sign of Good Teeth"

SLIGHTLY BEWILDERING
"Dad, what is a rooster?" asked Charlie. "A rooster, my son, is a pole upon which chickens sit at night," replied his father. "And what's a perch, dad?" "A perch is what chickens perch on." "Then I suppose, dad, a chicken could roost on a perch?" came the further inquiry. "Of course!" was the smiling reply. "And they could perch on a rooster." "Why, yes!" answered Dad. "But if chickens perched on a rooster, that would make the rooster a rooster, wouldn't it?" "Just after chickens had perched on a rooster, then the rooster would be a perch and the perch would be a rooster, and some of the chickens would be perchers and others would be roosters—and—well, there!"

BE A LITTLE CAUTIOUS

It is perfectly safe to "make light" of an electric wire, provided you don't take hold of the live end of it.

Many a woman's new store teeth are responsible for the smile that won't come off.

WHY NOT THIS WEEK?

Most of the serious cases of eye trouble are caused by neglecting the eyes at the first signs of trouble. Every eye should be examined by a specialist at least once a year.

As a moderate case is treated by an Oculist (Registered Eye Doctor) the strain will be removed from the eyes and the patient will be able to see better.

Our service includes such examination by our Oculist as well as a careful adjustment and fitting of the frames by an expert Optician for the same charge—that for the glasses, $2.50 or $3 a pair.

See Agents for Auto Glasses Eye Glasses

FELLMAN & CO.

Oculists and Opticians

1029 CHESTNUT ST. PHILA.

ANNUAL WATER RATES

the RIVERTON AND PALMYRA WATER CO.

Persons wishing to connect with the public water supply are required to sign an application permit, pay $3 to make the tap, which includes the cost of ferrule and labor.

1-2 inch tap, kitchen. $6.00

Bath tap. 4.00

Wash basin. 4.00

Wash tub. 1.00

The above is for either hot or cold water or both.

Water closet, self-acting, pan valve or reservoir. $5.00

1-2 inch tap, kitchen. 1.00

The above is for either hot or cold water or both.

Water closet, self-acting, pan valve or reservoir. $5.00

1-2 inch tap, kitchen. 1.00

The above is for either hot or cold water or both.

Water closet, self-acting, pan valve or reservoir. $5.00

1-2 inch tap, kitchen. 1.00

The above is for either hot or cold water or both.

Water closet, self-acting, pan valve or reservoir. $5.00

1-2 inch tap, kitchen. 1.00

The above is for either hot or cold water or both.

Water closet, self-acting, pan valve or reservoir. $5.00

1-2 inch tap, kitchen. 1.0

