PALMYRA NEWS

Miss Emma Johnson had a bad fall on the ice one morning this week sustaining a broken arm.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Sparkes, of Camden, visited Mrs. Mary Cooke on Sunday.

Mrs. Annie Horst, an old resident and a sister of Mrs. Lothrop Jackson, spent the week-end with friends in Palmyra.

The trains have resumed their regular schedule time after about two weeks of abnormal irregularity.

Mr. John White, of Fourth and Chinnaminson avenue, celebrated his ninety-second birthday on Wednesday.

On Saturday, January 5, 1918, at the M. E. Parsonage, at Elmer, N. J., Mr. George R. Evans and Mrs. Elizabeth W. Thomas, both of Palmyra, were united in marriage by the Rev. Samuel Sargent, former pastor of the Epworth M. E. Church.

Mrs. F. G. McMahon, of Columbia avenue, has suffered an attack of the grippe the past week.

While working at his daily occupation, the plumbing business, George Bonsall finished the small finger on his right hand, from which he has suffered intense pain during the past week. He has been unable to attend his duties since.

The Masonic Association of Beverly has issued invitations for a dance to be given in Masonic Hall in that City on Friday evening, January 18, for the benefit of the Red Cross.

While skating on the Delaware River on Sunday, Frank E. Chambers received a cold plunge when he unknowingly struck a thin piece of ice and fell in. Mr. Powell Thatcher, who was near by, discerning the predicament Chambers was in rendered him immediate assistance.

Sunday, January 27, will be Patriotic Day in Pennsylvania. The object of which is to bring to the full realization of the people the many dastardly acts of the German propagandists. It has been the experience of

Keep your eyes and ears open!

After having suffered the inconvenience of frozen pipes in their heating system inflicted during the cold spell, the management of the Broadway Palace Theatre desires to announce that repairs have been completed and that the system is in good working order. Every one visiting the theatre will be given a warm reception from now on.

A number of friends of Mr. Alonso Bonsall were entertained on Thursday evening by Miss Jennie Weart at her home in celebration of his birthday anniversary.

The lovers of ice skating have certainly had their craving satisfied during the recent cold spell as could be seen by the vast throngs that have gathered on the river for that sport this week.

Miss Rebecca Stiles spent Wednesday in Bridgeboro, N. J., with friends.

Dr. Arthur Hartley, of Philadelphia, a former resident and well known here, now stationed with the U. S. Medical Corps at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., has received his commission as captain.

The horse owned by John Whelan having become pinned in the table it was necessarily killed by Chief of Police Beck this week.

Mrs. William Powell, of Broad street, has been confined to her bed several days this week suffering from the grippe.

Are you a member of the Home Defense League of Palmyra? If you are, do you attend regularly? If not—start the new year by keeping your pledge.

A near sugar riot was the result of a barrel of sugar arriving in town on Saturday afternoon. When it was opened it required the assistance of the police to aid in its distribution.

Joseph Jones (colored) was sentenced to from one to three years in the State Prison at Trenton on Thursday, as his compensation for stealing chickens. Chief of Police Beck having questioned Jones at 1:10 o'clock Saturday morning when he met him carrying a grip, found that instead of clothing the grip contained two chickens. Upon being questioned Jones gave confusing answers which led to investigation by Officer Beck. It was found that the chickens belonged to L. A. Wellman, of Broad street, and were missed from the flock on Sunday morning. Beck immediately placed Jones under arrest. Chicken thieving has been going on some time and it is now thought that Jones is perhaps responsible. He is a former resident here, but has been living in Camden recently. He would come here late in the evening and would return with his booty early in the morning.

ROOSEVELT DELIVERS PATRIOTIC ADDRESS TO GRADUATES

At the 53d Annual Commencement of Peirce School, Philadelphia

Colonel Theodore Roosevelt was the chief speaker at the graduating exercises of Peirce School, held Wednesday evening, January 9, 1918, in the Academy of Music, Philadelphia. The class was the 52d in the history of the school and numbered 216 young people, representing the following States and foreign countries: Delaware, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Tennessee and Texas; Colombia, Cuba, El Salvador, Honduras, Santo Domingo, and Santo Domingo.

PRINCIPAL BAKER TO SPEAK AT PARENT-TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION MEETING

"Your Public School" to be His Subject

The regular monthly meeting of the Parent-Teachers' Association of Palmyra will be held on Tuesday evening, January 15, in the auditorium of the high school.

Mr. George C. Baker, principal of the Moorestown public schools, will be the speaker of the evening and will address the association on the subject of "Your Public School."

In connection with this, the entertainment committee has arranged a suitable and interesting program for the remainder of the evening.

Mrs. Wm. Rudy will be the soloist and the pupils of the eighth grade, under the directorship of their teacher, Miss Ellen Griffling, will present a fascinating sketch.

Realizing that a speaker, especially of Mr. Baker's ability, does not like to address a small audience, also that the entertainment committee has spent no small part of their time in arranging their program, it is not only hoped, but earnestly requested that the members of the association will be present to their full strength and will bring all their neighbors and friends who are not members, with them.

If you or they once "get the habit," we feel sure the time consumed in attending these meetings will not be ill-spent, but rather wisely spent and much enjoyed. Everyone invited.

THE PARENT-TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION OF RIVERTON

Dr. J. J. Savitz, principal of Trenton State Normal School, will address the Parent-Teachers' Association in the Riverton Public School Auditorium on next Thursday evening; his subject will be "The Parent and the Teacher." Invitations have been sent to Palmyra, Cinnaminson and Riverside, Parent-Teachers' Associations, principals and teachers.

Economist of the Public Ledger. All those interested are invited.

PALMYRA GENERAL IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION

The Improvement Association has sent out a number of their annual bills this past week and it is earnestly requested that the members will act promptly upon them, as the association is badly in need of funds to plan the spring improvements; also postage is too expensive to issue duplicate bills. The following citizens have recently joined the General Improvement Association: Messrs. Walter E. Smith, Warren F. Pine, Frank E. Chambers, N. F. Betty, Stephen S. Cook, Albert R. Zelly, Fred E. Trudel.

The appearance of Colonel Roosevelt at the head of the line of guests was the signal for tremendous applause.

The exercises were opened with prayer by Right Reverend Monsignor Drumgoole after which William Draper Lewis, Esq., the Presiding Officer. The members of the graduating class were, then called to the stage in two divisions, and were presented with their diplomas by Professor J. A. Luman, the vice president of the school.

Colonel Roosevelt then followed with his patriotic and inspiring address. He spoke of the absolute necessity of our keeping the needs of the war steadily in mind and of our pushing it to the utmost, without relaxing any effort. He paid his respects to the citizen who tries to make excessive profits out of anything during the war, and invoked shame on the man, whether capitalist or wage-worker, who subordinates the welfare of the nation to the interest of himself.

The following young people from this locality were members of the graduating class: Springfield county: Anne G. Folmer, Moorestown; Anna V. Dugan, Moorestown.

CALENDARS

We Have a "Date" for You!

In past years we have made a practice of delivering one of our calendars to each home in Riverton and Palmyra. In the majority of cases we believe they are appreciated and looked for each year, but, with all our efforts, there are many who have never visited our store and we hear many expressions like this: "We did not imagine you had such a nice store and such a variety of household utensils." So this year we want YOU (an adult member of each family) to visit our store and take one of our calendars home with you. You will be under no obligations to make a purchase. We simply ask you to favor us with a call and we believe the stock will be of interest to you.

THE SIGN OF THE RED CROSS

Y. M. C. A. Building Broad and Garfield Ave.

(BY M. W. WISHAM)

The Red Cross stirs a strange emotion in the human heart that is heroic. It brings out the noble qualities of men and women. It lifts the human mind to a great height. In the "Great War" its work has been wonderful. As you a member of Palmyra Branch Red Cross? Join now!

The burdens of the people who have felt the cold hand of the heartless tyants over the sea cannot be enumerated. Death may stare our boys in the face who have gone to their graves. Myriads of God's Angels of Mercy, "Red Cross" men and women, stand there with good cheer. Help Red Cross.

Have you given testimony of your patriotism? It is foolish for you to think no one can demand that you give your loyalty if so you are making a mistake. This country is called to wage a long and costly war. Men requests come from the Government that we co-operate as citizens in Red Cross work it surely has the right to expect us to be ready to service in works of mercy.

Several more names have been added to the membership roll this week. Considering the number who have elected themselves with nearly a thousand persons in Palmyra are members of Red Cross. We had hoped, however, that our own local branch would reach that number and gone.

An attempt may be made in the near future to reach this goal for Palmyra. Why not?

Have containing sweaters and knitted articles, hospital shirts, suits, shoulder wraps, etc. Present this week to county headquarters by the Knitting and Garment of next Red Cross patriotic meeting.

American Red Cross sent the following Christmas greeting to the Army and Navy overseas: "We hold them in our love and prayers and pledge ourselves to reflect at home their courage and spirit—afraid and aloof."

In reply General Pershing sends the following cablegram: "Please express to women of American Red Cross sincere thanks of all ranks for Christmas greetings. The love and confidence of our women will make us all better soldiers, and hold us firm in courage and determination to win."

Admiral Sims requested the Red Cross in London to transmit the following: "Officers and men of the United States Naval forces operating in European waters deeply appreciate cordial message of love and sympathy from women of American Red Cross. The message and senders are alike an inspiration to the Navy."

Seventy ladies found time this week to work making supplies on Wednesday evening. Thirty-two reported for duty. We have a large room and can accommodate you. Come and lend your help. The Nation needs your service.

W. C. T. U.

Next Tuesday will be the superintendents' report day; every superintendent requested to be present.

When Billy Sunday was informed that Congress had adopted the Constitutional Amendment providing for National Prohibition, he said: "I am shouting happy to think I am going to live long enough to preach the funeral services of the liquor business in America. General Pershing in command of the American force in France has forbidden the use of strong liquor by the men and all camps and regimental commanders will be held to a strict accountability for the fullest compliance of this order."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

FIRE COMPANY IS APPRECIATED

WARREN C. PINE SENDS GIFT TO FURTHER THE CAUSE

In appreciation of the services of the Independence Fire Company of Palmyra, rendered during the recent fire at his pharmacy, Warren C. Pine, sent the following letter to James T. Weart, foreman of the company: Warren C. Pine, Apothecary, Riverside, N. J., Jan. 7, 1918.

My Dear Mr. Weart:—I desire to express my grateful appreciation of the service rendered by the Palmyra Fire Company at the small fire that occurred at our store on New Year's eve.

The prompt response and the careful and efficient manner in which the work of extinguishing the fire was conducted is worthy of special commendation.

In enclose herewith my check as a token of my appreciation. Yours respectfully, (Signed) WARREN C. PINE.

In acknowledgment of these words of praise and financial contribution Mr. Weart issued the following letter: Palmyra, N. J., Jan. 9, 1918.

My Dear Mr. Pine:—I beg to acknowledge receipt of your very kind letter of the 7th inst., enclosing check for ten dollars, as a token of appreciation of Independence Fire Company No. 1, of Palmyra, N. J., for services rendered at the small fire which occurred on the evening of December 31, 1917, at your store in Palmyra.

Your check has been turned over to the secretary, Mr. Herbert Kemmerle, who will on behalf of the company, make proper acknowledgment in due course.

What you are used to term careful and efficient service, is exactly what we need.

It is always gratifying, however, to know that such volunteer service is appreciated, and your very substantial acknowledgment will, I am sure, be an incentive to the members of the Palmyra Company to continue to render such aid to those in need, as it is in their power to give.

Permit me at this time to personally thank you for your very gracious letter and the accompanying check.

Very truly yours, JAMES T. WEART, Foreman, Independence Fire Company No. 1, Palmyra, N. J.

INDIAN HUMOR

The popular notion of an Indian is that of a dull, lazy fellow, with little or no intellectual power. On the contrary, a writer, who knows them "like a book," says that the Indian has a keen appreciation of humor, and is like a child in his mirthfulness. No orator can silence a foolish speaker more quickly.

Old Shah-bah-skong the head chief of the Mille Lac, brought all his warriors to defend Fort Ripley in 1862. The Secretary of the Interior and the Governor and Legislature of Minnesota promised these Indians that for this act of bravery they should have the special care of the government and never be removed.

A few years later a special agent was sent from Washington to ask the Ojibways to cede their lands and remove to a country north of Leech Lake. The agent asked my help. I said:

"I know that country. I have camped on it. It is the most worthless strip of land in Minnesota. The Indians are not fools. Don't attempt this folly. You will surely come to grief."

He called the Indians in council, and said:

"My red brothers, your great father has heard how you have been wronged. He said 'I will send them an honest man. He looked in the north, the south, the east and the west. When he saw me, he said 'This is the honest man whom I will send to my red children. Brothers, look at me! The winds of fifty-five years have blown over my head and silvered it with gray, and in all that time I have never done wrong to any man. As your friend, I ask you to sign this treaty.'"

Old Shah-bah-skong spring to his feet, and said:

"My friend, look at me! The winds of more than fifty winters have been over my head and silvered it with gray; but they have not blown my brains away."

The council was ended.

—Misses Charlotte and Evelyn Giberson will be the week-end guests of their uncle in Germantown, Pa.

RIVERTON NEWS

—Mrs. Charles Kline (nee Showell), of Oak Lane, Pa., will entertain at a luncheon and kitchen shower in the Arcadia, Philadelphia, Saturday afternoon in honor of her cousin, Miss Gertrude Showell, of Bank avenue. The luncheon will be followed by a tea party in the afternoon.

—A civil service examination will take place in the Riverton Postoffice on January 26, for the purpose of obtaining a substitute clerk for service at that office. The examination will consist of spelling, arithmetic, letter writing and reading. As to the requirements of this office those desiring to take this examination can obtain application forms from the local secretary, Lawton Steedle, at the Riverton Postoffice.

—Miss Gertrude Showell was tendered a miscellaneous shower and card party on Wednesday afternoon by Miss Mabel Cook at her home on Main street.

—Quite a number of the Shepherds of Bethlehem of Riverton attended a reception in Camden last evening, given in honor of Mrs. Eva Wyckoff Hall, supreme scribe and founder of the Shepherds of Bethlehem.

—The review of the events of the year 1917, as published in last week's issue, has caused many favorable comments by our readers who appreciate the value of such an article in years to come.

—A license court on Friday Judge Lippincott granted the license of Catherine Keating, hotel, at East Riverton.

—The Red Cross dance given in the Country Club on last Saturday evening was well attended. Excellent music was a special enjoyment; about $75 was realized.

—Mrs. Charles B. Showell will give a bridge party in honor of Miss Gertrude Showell on Saturday afternoon.

—Miss Helen McDermott has been suffering from tonsillitis this week.

—Mr. James Brown was a glimmer last week.

—Mrs. Edward Showell has issued invitations this week for the marriage of her daughter, Miss Gertrude, to Mr. Earle Kline, of Oak Lane, Pa., on January 24, at 7 o'clock in the Christ Church, a reception will follow at the home of the bride's mother.

—All men from Riverton in the conscripted army have now filled their questionnaires.

—Houston Ingram has been confined to his home this week with the grippe.

—Miss Mae Brown and Mr. Edward Mongean participated in a musical given by the Episcopal Church of Riverside, N. J., on Monday evening last.

—Mr. and Mrs. Ross Mattis are receiving congratulations upon the birth of a son on Monday.

—The Annis Chapter, N. S. D. A. R., met at the home of Mrs. Joseph W. Roberts, on Lippincott avenue, on Monday afternoon last. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Regent, Mrs. Richard Holman, of Mt. Holly; vice regent, Mrs. H. H. Murray, of Riverton; secretary, Mrs. Fred Blackburn, of Palmyra; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Lawrence Fixary, of Riverton; treasurer, Mrs. Firth, of Burlington; Registrar, Mrs. David Baird, of Beverly; assistant registrar, Miss Helen Baird, of Beverly; chaplain, Mrs. William Baggs, of Beverly; historian, Mrs. J. M. Roberts, of Riverton. Mrs. Roberts read a very interesting paper telling of the origin of the N. S. D. A. R. and also the Colonial Dames. She gave the dates of the first marriages, deaths and births that occurred in Burlington.

THE INVENTOR OF SPECTACLES

All European references to the use of spectacles before the year 1270 are dubious. Pliny's description of Nero looking at the gladiatorial combats through an emerald means at best only a lorgnette, or most probably a reflecting mirror. Roger Bacon seems to have known of magnifying lenses—1276—which soon became common enough, but the probable inventor of spectacles as such was a Florentine worthy on whose tombstone in the Church of Santa Croce is the inscription:

"Here lies Salvino d'Armato degli Armati, of Florence, the inventor of spectacles, Anno Domini 1317."

PARAGRAPHIC WAR HISTORY

Events at Washington Which Loom Large as Crucial Happenings—Industrial Activities at Home and Abroad.

WAR BULLETINS

German newspapers begin a quarrel among themselves over President Wilson's message to Congress published attacking a Socialist organ for its despicable backslowness.

French troops repulsed two German attacks north of Verdun, forcing the enemy to withdraw under fire.

Dr. Von Kuehlmann, the German foreign secretary, declared null and void the peace terms offered to Russia at the Brest-Litovsk conference on the ground that the question originally contemplated a general peace, but inasmuch as the entente allies had not answered the proposals of the Central Powers, there was no longer possible the negotiation of a general peace, but only a separate peace with Russia.

A separate peace agreement has been signed by Russia and Bulgaria, the Berna Bund reports.

General expectation of a Teuton offensive in the west was heightened by the report from Switzerland that the Germans have again closed the Swiss and Dutch borders. These frontiers will be virtually hermetically sealed for 30 days.

The British hospital ship Reva was torpedoed and sunk without warning in Bristol channel. All of the wounded were saved, but three men in the crew perished.

Political chaos engulfs Berlin. A rap apparently yawns between the military and the anti-militarists so wide and so deep that it seems unbridgeable.

German troops which attempted to advance on the Verdun front after a bombardment were driven back by the French fire, it is announced officially.

WASHINGTON

Republicans in the senate and house begin preparations for the autumn congressional campaign in which they hope to win control; the democratic administration will be attacked for its "extravagance, waste and incompetency."

Railroad executives arranged to fight government control or ownership after the war at a meeting held to discuss freight congestion.

Dr. Harry A. Garfield, federal fuel administrator, announced that fuel shortage would continue for another sixty days and warned the nation that all users of coal must curtail consumption.

A bill for government regulation of all issues of private securities, in order to prevent confusion with new Liberty bonds, is being drafted and soon will be introduced in Congress.

Representative Sabath of Illinois introduced a bill to prohibit gambling in cotton or wool futures.

Without a vote to spare, the federal woman suffrage resolution passed the house. The vote was 274 to 130.

Secretary Baker warmly defended the war department's conduct of the war. The personnel of the army now is 1,530,000, he said.

All of the 1,500,000 railway employees of the United States are out of the work because of the strike.

The Swifts Union is the first of numerous brotherhoods to state its demands to Director-General of Railroads McAdoo.

President Wilson unexpectedly went before Congress and made a clear, concise statement of America's aims in the war. He denoted, among other things, the evacuation of all Russian territory by the Germans, the evacuation and restoration of Belgium, a free Poland and the return of Alsace-Lorraine to France.

GENERAL

Senator James H. Brady of Idaho died in Washington of heart disease.

House investigators found navy's Ordnance Bureau fully prepared to supply all the needs of the nation's fleets.

George Kotter, superintending engineer of the Hamburg-American line, was sent to Ellis Island for internment for duration of the war.

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States submitted a referendum to American business men on the warning to Germany that the country must become democratic or suffer from a lasting after war boycott by America.

Cleveland (O.) tax official promises to aid New York city officials in effort to put John D. Rockefeller and the personal staff tax for $400,000,000.

The food administration in Washington is preparing to send to Europe 90,000,000 bushels of wheat, because the food situation there is regarded as so critical.

FEARS FOR STATE TAXING RIGHTS

Government Control of Railroads Involves Serious Phase of Revenues.

GOV. EDGE WIRES CAUTION.

As President of Council of State suggests Congress Safeguard Interests—Considerable Concern Felt Throughout State.

Trenton.—That a very serious situation is presented in the government control of the railroads of the country with respect to the rights of the several states to levy taxes upon the corporations is brought to the front in the action of Governor Edge as president of the Council of State, organized last year for the purpose of considering problems involved in federal and state taxation laws. It was the governor's first action as the head of the body when he wired Vice President Marshall as president of the senate and Speaker Clark of the house at Washington urging that they exert their good influences to have committees of Congress give this important matter the utmost consideration, in any contemplated legislation in connection with government control.

The governor's telegram, which is understood to express the views of the executives of the other states, was passed within the council, was as follows: "As president of Council of State in Taxation I respectfully draw your attention to the great importance of feeling that any congressional action with regard to government control of railroads should not interfere with existing methods or privilege of individual states or local units of taxation on railroad property and receipts. At the present time this source of taxation in many states constitutes a large portion of state revenue, and to amend the system in any form would greatly embarrass many states, necessitating but a declaration of war on the Kaiser."

Nathan Hyatt at the national army tournament at Camp Devens was sentenced to 15 years for refusing to go on guard duty and military duty.

In all quarters the president's message was regarded as a great step in the advancement of American diplomacy in its first year in office.

NEW JERSEY STATE BRIEFS

A woman entered the naval recruiting office at 86 Park place, Newark, and urged that she be accepted for enlistment as a Yeoman in the navy. The lieutenant said he would try to place her in some position where her experience as a stenographer would be of assistance to the government. The woman, Mrs. William A. Abrams of 42 Cathedral avenue, Nutley, her husband had determined to enlist, and she wanted to go.

Jack Frost got several thousand baskets of white potatoes which certain farmers in the vicinity of Columbia were hoarding to unload at big prices in the belief that there is a scarcity. There will be a scarcity, all right, and as a result of the big freeze upon some of the growers themselves will be in the market to buy potatoes for their own tables at what might be termed "their own" prices.

George W. Bastedo, for 30 years transfer agent on the Gould system of railroads, died at his home, Ridgewood, where he resided for ten years. He was widely known in railroad circles.

Newark saloon keepers are up in arms over the order of Richard C. Jenkinson, state fuel administrator, in the form of a "request" that they close their places at ten o'clock every night, Saturdays excepted, beginning January 10.

A number of potato buyers have been going the rounds of farms near Westville anxious to buy in bulk, although the prices offered are nowhere in comparison to those of last year at this time. The buyers claim there will be a big shortage because of thousands of bushels having been frozen. Cabbage, turnips and sweet potatoes have also been hoarded to some extent.

The Paulsboro Red Cross is receiving many letters of appreciation from local boys in the service for kits sent them during the holidays.

Jacob N. Kier, one of the heaviest shippers of poultry in south Jersey and who uses vast quantities of ice during the summer, has a large force of men at work gathering ice from Moore's lake. He not only filled his outfit with a large portion of state revenue, but to amend the system in any form would greatly embarrass many states, necessitating but a declaration of war on the Kaiser.

Washington views President Wilson's war speech as an offer of peace to the German people but a declaration of war on the Kaiser.

Nathan Hyatt at the national army tournament at Camp Devens was sentenced to 15 years for refusing to go on guard duty and military duty.

In all quarters the president's message was regarded as a great step in the advancement of American diplomacy in its first year in office.

Republicans in the senate and house begin preparations for the autumn congressional campaign in which they hope to win control; the democratic administration will be attacked for its "extravagance, waste and incompetency."

Railroad executives arranged to fight government control or ownership after the war at a meeting held to discuss freight congestion.

Dr. Harry A. Garfield, federal fuel administrator, announced that fuel shortage would continue for another sixty days and warned the nation that all users of coal must curtail consumption.

A bill for government regulation of all issues of private securities, in order to prevent confusion with new Liberty bonds, is being drafted and soon will be introduced in Congress.

Representative Sabath of Illinois introduced a bill to prohibit gambling in cotton or wool futures.

Without a vote to spare, the federal woman suffrage resolution passed the house. The vote was 274 to 130.

Secretary Baker warmly defended the war department's conduct of the war. The personnel of the army now is 1,530,000, he said.

All of the 1,500,000 railway employees of the United States are out of the work because of the strike.

The Swifts Union is the first of numerous brotherhoods to state its demands to Director-General of Railroads McAdoo.

President Wilson unexpectedly went before Congress and made a clear, concise statement of America's aims in the war. He denoted, among other things, the evacuation of all Russian territory by the Germans, the evacuation and restoration of Belgium, a free Poland and the return of Alsace-Lorraine to France.

Senator James H. Brady of Idaho died in Washington of heart disease.

House investigators found navy's Ordnance Bureau fully prepared to supply all the needs of the nation's fleets.

George Kotter, superintending engineer of the Hamburg-American line, was sent to Ellis Island for internment for duration of the war.

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States submitted a referendum to American business men on the warning to Germany that the country must become democratic or suffer from a lasting after war boycott by America.

Cleveland (O.) tax official promises to aid New York city officials in effort to put John D. Rockefeller and the personal staff tax for $400,000,000.

The food administration in Washington is preparing to send to Europe 90,000,000 bushels of wheat, because the food situation there is regarded as so critical.

SABLE FISH ON THE MENU

Since the war began the high price of food has given previously unknown or obscure fishes an opportunity to be pushed to the fore and to demonstrate that they are entitled to regard at least equal to that accorded to those of longer standing in the community. The sables has established an assured position and the grayfish is living down the reputation which it has acquired as a pirate and is acquiring respectability as a fish whose acquaintance is worth cultivating.

Barbecued sables, is one of the most delicious sea foods, says a report issued by the United States Bureau of Fisheries, which now recommends to the general public the sables, for no reason of its own making has lived heretofore under the alias "black cod." It is not related to the members of that family by lineage, structure or edible qualities.

When it was discovered on the Alaskan coast in 1811 the only name it bore was the one used by the Indians, and the early white settlers and explorers, with the unconventionally common in new communities, gave it a nickname based on superficial appearance. So long as the fish was practically unutilized the misnomer was of little moment, but now that it should be allowed to stand unduly long in water and that it should be handled carefully in cooking, as the fishy character of the cooked flesh causes it to break apart readily.

Culinary experts advise that the fish should not be allowed to stand unduly long in water and that it should be handled carefully in cooking, as the fishy character of the cooked flesh causes it to break apart readily.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR TOPIC

For January 27, 1918

HOW TO WIN MEN

Romans 12

The true goal of life, the only thing that is living, is to be useful. "Man's chief end is to glorify God." It was for that purpose that man was created. And there is only one way in which we can glorify God. That is by doing the will of God. We are His workmanship, created in Christ Jesus for good works, which He prepared that we should walk in them. (Eph. 2:10)

Jesus said He had glorified God by doing the work that God had given Him to do (John 17:4), and we all know what sort of work Jesus did, and therefore we know how we, too, can glorify God.

But those of us who have tried it know that the work which God has given us to do for His glory, is not easy work, and that even our earnest efforts are very liable to prove fruitless. The reason is that we ourselves are not up to the mark. We must cultivate in our own hearts the character of Christ, or we cannot do the work that God has given us to do. It is in the wisdom and in the power of the Holy Spirit that we must work, and we need the same wisdom and power. But we cannot have it unless, like Him, we make the service of God our chief object in life. "I beseech you, therefore, brethren, to perfect your bodies as living sacrifices, holy, acceptable to God, and be not fashioned according to this world, but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is the good and acceptable and perfect will of God." (Rom. 12:1-2)

That Munger & Long's announce a big distribution of merchandise, beginning next week. It's to be a big

Notable January Sale
We consider it a pleasure to make this announcement, because we are never so pleased as when we are saving our patrons money. It's our entire business aim next to selling good merchandise. We are in a better position than many stores through anticipation of advances in merchandise, and that is why this sale will be a noteworthy one.

These Good Warm Suits and Overcoats for Men should at least be $25, but you may choose any at $18

These days above everything men should be warmly and well dressed. It took herculean efforts on our part to land such good clothes to sell at this price—but here they are, and you are the gainer.

The same sort of savings prevail on boys' suits for school and dress purposes as well.

PAID HIS DEBT
But Murphy had run up a small bill at the village store. He went to pay it and wanted a receipt.

"Oh, we never give receipts for these small amounts," said the proprietor. "See, I will cross your account off the book," and he drew a pencil across it. "There is your receipt," he added.

"Do you mean that settles it?" asked Pat.

"Certainly," said the proprietor. "I'll never ask you for it again."

"Faith, then," says Pat, "and I'll be after keeping my money in me pocket, for I haven't paid it yet."

"Oh, well," says the angry proprietor, "I can rub that out."

"Pat, slyly," said the proprietor of that establishment, "I never issue a receipt for the smallest amount."

NO NEED TO HURRY
An excited-looking man burst into the doctor's surgery, where several patients were waiting.

"I say, doctor," he began hurriedly, "I've got a bad cold."

"Pardon me, sir," said the doctor coldly. "It is not your turn."

"You must wait," said the man of medicine coldly, as he conducted another patient into his consulting-room.

The caller took a seat near the window, and waited for thirty minutes with obvious impatience. Then the doctor, having dismissed all his waiting patients, turned to him condescendingly.

"Now, my man, your turn has come. What can I do for you?"

"Oh, nothing special," was the calm reply. "I only called in to tell you that Farmer James' three cows had broken into your garden, and were smashing everything down. But I see they have been caught again."

The many new customers that we are greeting in this department, especially from the suburbs, is proof of the excellent service we are rendering.

THE TRIUMPH OF THE CROSS
To all appearances the death of Jesus Christ was His utter and complete defeat; the final extinction of all He stood for. No intelligent spectator of the events of the first Good Friday could reach any other conclusion. However sympathetic he might have been with Jesus and His mission, he could read in the happenings of that day nothing but a disastrous and tragic failure. He would say, regretfully, that the episode was now closed. The last word had been spoken. The fair dawn had brought forth its promise of splendid noon. The sun had vanished forever in clouds of shame and passion and wrong, and there was no more to do but to go home and weep for "the grace of a day that was dead" and "the sound of a voice that was forever." From the point of view of ecclesiastical and political Jerusalem, the issue of the business was completely satisfactory. A troublesome fellow had been put out of the way; he would be no longer worried by his untimely preaching and his dangerous influence with the crowd. Cephas was happy, and Pilate passed on his bored, Roman way to the next affair of State. Neither anticipated any further complications; this Galilean affair was palpably at an end.

I imagine that if you and I had been there we should have agreed with them, for we are all, more or less, at the mercy of the obvious, though I think that professional politicians and ecclesiastical statesmen see the mass of odds that they can conceive of no other way of dealing with the nonconformist, the dissenter, the moral pioneer, but that of setting him as quickly as possible out of the way. Shut him down, silence him, do away with him, and if there is no other way, crush him to death. That lay in one thing written large and deep in the history of mankind it is that the last thing to do with the moral pioneer or the dissenter is to suppress him. If you want infallibly to give him historical immortality, then extinguish him. If you want him to live, then let him die. That lay in one thing written large and deep in the history of mankind it is that the last thing to do with the moral pioneer or the dissenter is to suppress him.

THE TRIUMPH OF THE CROSS
To all appearances the death of Jesus Christ was His utter and complete defeat; the final extinction of all He stood for. No intelligent spectator of the events of the first Good Friday could reach any other conclusion. However sympathetic he might have been with Jesus and His mission, he could read in the happenings of that day nothing but a disastrous and tragic failure. He would say, regretfully, that the episode was now closed. The last word had been spoken. The fair dawn had brought forth its promise of splendid noon. The sun had vanished forever in clouds of shame and passion and wrong, and there was no more to do but to go home and weep for "the grace of a day that was dead" and "the sound of a voice that was forever." From the point of view of ecclesiastical and political Jerusalem, the issue of the business was completely satisfactory. A troublesome fellow had been put out of the way; he would be no longer worried by his untimely preaching and his dangerous influence with the crowd. Cephas was happy, and Pilate passed on his bored, Roman way to the next affair of State. Neither anticipated any further complications; this Galilean affair was palpably at an end.

I imagine that if you and I had been there we should have agreed with them, for we are all, more or less, at the mercy of the obvious, though I think that professional politicians and ecclesiastical statesmen see the mass of odds that they can conceive of no other way of dealing with the nonconformist, the dissenter, the moral pioneer, but that of setting him as quickly as possible out of the way. Shut him down, silence him, do away with him, and if there is no other way, crush him to death. That lay in one thing written large and deep in the history of mankind it is that the last thing to do with the moral pioneer or the dissenter is to suppress him.

If you want infallibly to give him historical immortality, then extinguish him. If you want him to live, then let him die. That lay in one thing written large and deep in the history of mankind it is that the last thing to do with the moral pioneer or the dissenter is to suppress him.

morning Monday, January 28. They will last for a period of two weeks, ending on February 17. The Rev. B. F. Campbell will come at this time to be the speaker at these meetings. Mr. Campbell is an eloquent preacher, a pleasing soloist, and is tactful and winsome in his methods. He has great success in many of the large churches and his appearance here in Palmyra should result in a large attendance at all of these meetings. Here is one of the many expressions of comfort and encouragement that have been furnished by the Men's League of St. John's Church, there has not been an equal to that of last evening when the Rev. B. F. Campbell gave his humorous lecture on "How to Kill a Church."

Mr. T. W. Land is to be commended upon the faithful work that was done toward the cleaning of the pavements of snow during the recent storm. Working in the early hours of the morning, Mr. Land started out again at eleven o'clock and covered the entire pavement area by finishing this cold and tiresome journey at five o'clock the next morning.

The Philadelphia Class of the Central Baptist Church held their regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Nathan S. Young, of Pottsville and Morgan avenue, on Thursday. This meeting was to have been held at the home of Mrs. George Murray, as was the case with the previous arrangements were made necessary.

Mr. Elvin I. Powell, who has been suffering from an attack of the grippe, is improving nicely.

Owing to Monday being declared a holiday for the purpose of conserving coal, the Broadway Palace Theatre management have arranged to have a machine every Monday afternoon during the ten weeks' period in order that those meeting a brain fatigue remedy may find this means very helpful.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac D'Autechre spent Sunday with his cousin, Mr. Theodore D'Autechre, of New Jersey avenue.

Mr. Clifford S. Roray, of Parry avenue, suffered an attack of heart trouble on Tuesday and is now being cared for by a trained nurse. We are pleased to state that his condition is improved at this writing.

In spite of the efforts made by Mr. William H. Buck, of the River-ton and Palmyra, there are still a number of fire plugs that are still frozen up due to the continued cold weather. As a precaution against fire, the Independence Fire Company have arranged to have stationed at the fire house from seven o'clock in the morning until seven in the evening one of the firemen who can operate the auto truck, in order that they may receive calls for fire and act immediately. By this provision the use of the chemical large damage can be averted. In the meanwhile Mr. Buck is hard at work remedying these conditions by the use of the new electrical thawing apparatus. It is doing good work, but the bursting of pipes while the thawing is being done has now become the difficulty to overcome. Since this is only natural, whether pipes are thawed out by forced heat or left to the weather to do the work, we must put up with this inconvenience. It is quite fortunate that the Fire Company have in their possession a large number of feet of hose which will enable them to obtain water at a greater distance should the fire plugs be frozen in the immediate vicinity of a fire. Should a fire occur, phone Riverton 20 and you need not feel alarmed about the service you will receive.

Mr. J. Hance, of Parry avenue, who has been seriously ill at his home, still remains the same. His condition does not seem to improve, although he rallies at times.

Mr. Russell Gibson, of Hightstown, N. J., was a visitor here on Tuesday.

Mrs. C. H. Crow, who has been on the sick list, is much improved.

Miss Anna Van Buren, who is passing the winter at Riverton, Pa., will spend Friday evening as the guest of Mrs. Walter Gibson, of Garfield avenue.

Mr. Forrest Dager delivered his humorous lecture on "Getting There," on Thursday evening, in the Central Baptist Church, to an assemblage that filled every available seat. He kept his audience in an uproar from start to finish. The humor, however, served its purpose for it brought out the more serious side of his subject. The audience was more than pleased and very few faces when the lecture was brought to a close.

Mr. Baldwin Prickett, a former resident, now employed at Marcus Hook, spent the week-end as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur R. Harman, of Morgan avenue.

Miss Ethel Wright is spending some time with her cousin in Edgewater Park, N. J.

Mr. R. W. Gilpin returned home to-day on Saturday from a business trip through New York State.

A number of the friends of Miss Emily Horner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Horner, of Delaware avenue, tendered a surprise party on Friday evening last in celebration of her twelfth birthday anniversary.

Miss Elizabeth Lewis will entertain the next afternoon 5:00 on Wednesday, February 6.

Mr. Seward Leck has rented the Marcy property on Main street, Riverton, and will vacate his present home on Roland street shortly.

Mrs. J. T. Price, of Parry avenue, was the star of the last week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Williams were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Johnson, of Highland avenue, on Thursday evening.

Miss Anna Corson spent Wednesday with her brother, Captain Wesley Corson, who is still critically ill in the Stevens Hospital, Philadelphia.

The Stevens Hospital and staff have been opening a week at Atlantic City.

Mr. John A. Hobart and daughter, Elizabeth, of Vineland, N. J., will spend today and Saturday as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Johnson, of Highland avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Rod Landrum, of Cinnaminson avenue, gave a birthday party in honor of their daughter, Anna's seventh birthday on Saturday afternoon last. The little guests were more than delighted when, after spending some time in playing games, music, etc., they were ushered into a beautifully decorated dining room.

The table was set with a variety of different rhymes with tiny flags and other patriotic designs, presenting a delightful scene. About twenty guests were present from Riverton, Palmyra and Audubon, N. J.

Aden seems to be losing the importance it once occupied as an ivory market. In 1912 it imported ivory to the amount of $49,943 pounds, valued at $137,023, and exported 77,132 pounds, valued at $199,524. There has been a steady falling off until in 1916 Aden imported only 15,660 pounds of ivory, valued at $38,102, or an average of $2.94 a pound, and exported 19,237 pounds, valued at $46,377, or an average of $2.18 a pound.

Abyssinia is the principal source of supply for the Aden ivory market. At times much Abyssinian ivory has been exported through the Egyptian Sudan and East Africa. The prohibition, some years ago of the export of female or immature ivory by the governments of the two districts named has caused the bulk of the Abyssinian ivory, a lot of which is female or immature, to come out of the country through Djibouti. Some goods direct to Europe from Djibouti, but much of it comes to Aden.

Ivory hunting is a government monopoly in Abyssinia, and permission must be obtained to kill elephants, although no permission has been necessary to go to the ivory.

All of the ivory obtained must, however, be shared with the government, this share ranging from one-half to three-fourths.

Hunters and buyers, when possible, have the ivory smuggled out to the coast in order to avoid giving the government its share.

The ivory is then smuggled to the coast and is sold to the European market. The ivory is then sold to the European market.

value. It is stated that this practice of smuggling has been responsible in part for the order prohibiting the killing of elephants. Another reason was, doubtless, the fact that the Abyssinian elephant herds have been seriously reduced by hunters in recent years.

Notwithstanding the prohibition of ivory hunting in Abyssinia, considerable quantities still arrive in the Aden market, a good part of which is said to be from stocks buried in past years.

HOW SAVAGES MAKE FIRE

It is rather difficult for us to imagine people who know nothing about fire, and, as a matter of fact, there are no people now on the face of the earth, no master-bow fishermen, who do not know how to make fire. We make it easily enough by striking a match, but years ago our ancestors were compelled to resort to flint, steel and tinder.

He strike sharply, remove the sparks, and the tinder is lit.

Mrs. Wilson, who is a member of the Navy Department as an expert in this line, has been doing those kind things under their instruction to our soldiers and sailors throughout all sections of the country. This will be an open meeting and a cooking and can prepare better meals at a much less cost.

Mrs. Wilson, when addressing this meeting, will give practical demonstration to illustrate her lecture on the art of cooking which should be of interest to every housewife at this time.

This will be an open meeting and not only is an invitation extended to the public at large to attend, but they are urged to be present.

The regular monthly meeting of the Parent-Teachers' Association will be held on February 21.

A case of linen goods and knitted articles was sent to headquarters this week by Palmyra branch.
