PEOPLE URGED TO OBSERVE ARBOR DAY

The attention of the people of New Jersey to the proper observance of Arbor Day, Friday, April 12, was called on Friday in a statement issued jointly by Commissioner of Education Calvin N. Kendall, of the State Department of Public Instruction, and Alfred Gaskill, Director of the State Department of Conservation and Development. They said Arbor Day this year has a special significance, because the nation's forest resources are proving to be so large a factor in winning the war.

In a statement issued by the Department of Conservation and Development to all the shade tree commissions, highway and park officials and owners of shade trees, a warning was given out that with the coming of the warm weather the shade trees in parts of New Jersey are in danger of being defoliated by a caterpillar pest. The pest is the "tussock moth," and eggs from which the caterpillar will hatch are on the trees, or adjacent structures, in flat white or grayish masses, each about one-half an inch wide by three-quarters of an inch long.

JURY EXONERATES LIEUT. McMAHON

Evidence Brought Out Proves Accidental Death

The Coroner's inquest into the death of Fred Monach was held in the fire house on Monday morning at 10.30 o'clock, when the evidence furnished by the witnesses, Dr. H. W. Bauer, James T. Yeart, C. Morris Beck, Joseph G. Seel and Cordi Stokley, led the jury to arrive at the verdict of accidental death, thus exonerating Perez G. McMahon, by whose gun Monach came to his death.

The jury rendered the following decision, which will be held for the grand jury the latter part of April: Palmyra, N. J., April 4, 1918.

We, the Coroner's jury, do find that F. W. Monach came to his death at the High School building, Fifth street and Delaware avenue, Palmyra, N. J., about 4.20 A. M. on the morning of March 23, 1918, from a gunshot wound accidentally fired at the hands of Perez G. McMahon while on guard duty at the Palmyra High School.

We, the Coroner's jury exonerate Perez Grant McMahon from all blame.

A SPECIAL EASTER CHURCH SERVICE

All churches at Easter tide have special features for this day, but such an innovation as given at the Epworth M. E. Church at the evening service merits special mention.

"An Evening in the Orient" as given last Sunday evening at the M. E. Church, was appropriate to the occasion, impressive in effect and, we believe, inspirational in its achievement.

Miss Jennie Weart read in narrative form the ever-beautiful story of "The Resurrection," as associated with its oriental atmosphere. At appropriate intervals the choir gave incidental

The choir under the able leadership of Mr. Thomas Griffenberg is now a well-balanced, capable organization and their work was more than commendable.

The Greeks in their ceremonials of a religious character gave prominence to "The Vestal Virgins." Miss Weart with her beautiful voice has that elusive quality of purity so appropriate for this part. Her reading was distinct and so "toned" as to add to the impressiveness and grandeur of the "greatest story ever told."

The choir, Mr. Griffenberg and Miss Weart are indeed doing God's good work when they so beautifully present to us this story that is indeed "an ever-present help in times of trouble."

Next Tuesday will be the regular mothers' meeting. Every lady welcome. Quite a war is being fought in Philadelphia about making the city safe for the marines and sailors who visit the city. The Baptists ministers' meeting suggested not only a five-mile dry zone, but a ten-mile safety zone. The clergymen pledged the Government their support in every effort to safeguard our men in the national service. Secretary Daniels is certainly interested in surrounding the boys with healthful influences.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

First Church of Christ, Scientist, Riverton, N. J. Services at the church, Thomas avenue and Seventh street. Sunday services: Sunday school, 9.30 A. M.; church services, 11 A. M. and 8 P. M. Wednesday, 8 P. M.

Mr. Smith—I see that Mrs. McQue has just passed without speaking. I thought you were great friends.

Mr. Brown—No, we are not on the best of terms just now.

Smith—How's that?
Brown—Well, you see, it's like this. You remember the fire that took place at their house about a fortnight ago. Well, I ran for a long plank to put up at the window, so that she might slide down before the fire brigade arrived. But how was I to know there was a nail in it?

EYES NEEDED FOR THE NAVY—HERE'S YOUR OPPORTUNITY TO HELP

Eyes for the navy—field glasses, lenses, sextants and other instruments possessing lenses of strong magnifying power—that is the crying need of the day. Photographic lenses, too, are needed. If you possess such, you will be performing a patriotic duty by forwarding them to the navy recruiting office at 86 Park Place, Newark, N. J., or any of its branches throughout the State. Branch offices are located at 202 Market street, Paterson, N. J.; 323 Grove street, Jersey City, N. J.; and 2 North Broad street, Trenton, N. J., or you may send them direct to Assistant Secretary Franklin D. Roosevelt, care of Naval Observatory, Washington, D. C.

Pack glasses so as to prevent breakage in transit and attach your name to them. The Navy Department will pay for each glass accepted the sum of $1, and will return them to their owners at the termination of the war, if that be possible.

It is impossible to manufacture sufficient glasses of this nature to meet the demand. There will be no need for vessels to navigate the seas with an under supply, however, if the patriots inclined to give to the Government instruments of this kind which they possess and perhaps never use.

The need for glasses to search out the lurking submarine is actual and imperative. Many have given their sons to the Government. You are being asked only to give these instruments. Will you?

NEWPORTER'S FARM IMPLEMENT FACTORY AGAIN ON FIRE

A fire broke out in the paint room of the McWhorter Farm Implement Factory in East Riverton on Monday afternoon last, but, through the prompt action of the Riverton Fire Company, the flames were soon extinguished with but little damage.

The Independence Fire Company of Palmyra also responded, but their services were not needed.

This is the second fire in the McWhorter plant in a year.

THE WRONG BOY

One day Charlie and Papa took a trip to Aunt Jennie's farm, which was 200 miles away from Charlie's home, and the boy was wild with delight at the anticipated long car ride and novel experiences. After they were comfortably seated and the train began to puff out of the station Charlie's papa said: "Now, son, I'm going to be away just a few minutes. I have to see the baggage master. You sit where you are and don't move a bit; if you do I'll spank you. Don't stick your head out the window; you will have trouble if you do. Be a good boy or I'll—"

Charlie nodded his head and sat as still as a mouse.

The father went away; found his man; attended to his business, and returned within five minutes.

There was the boy with just his feet and the seat of his trousers left in the car, the rest of him hanging out of the window. Every time a telegraph pole whizzed by the boy would make a lunge for it, and he almost fell all the way out trying to catch it.

The father did not hesitate long. He made a grab for the child, pulled him in by the heels, laid him over his knee and began to fulfill his promise. The little fellow screamed and yelled until he almost drowned the noise of the train; but during the lull in the uproar the father heard a laugh behind him. He angrily turned to see the cause, when, seated quietly on two benches in the rear, his son laughing heartily over the plight of the other boy.

His father rubbed his eyes to dispel the illusion, but there was no mistaken Charlie. Then he looked at the boy on his lap. Behind the tears was a face that he had never seen before. He had spanked some other man's son.—Philadelphia Ledger.

BOYS ENTERTAINED BEFORE LEAVING

Field Club Rooms Scene of Merriment as Boys Play and Sing

The boys who left for Camp Dix on Monday were very nicely entertained on Monday evening as the guests of the Field Club in the club rooms, where, with readings by Miss Ellen Griffenberg and piano selections by Miss Carol Becker, together with an informal party, they enjoyed the hospitality shown them.

During the festivities they were served with refreshments and presented with half-dozen silk khaki handkerchiefs by the Home Guards, the usual box of stationery and fountain pen, by the township of Palmyra. The Palmyra Branch A. R. C., in connection with the customary knitted outfit, presented each man with a comfort kit, fully equipped.

OUTWITTING THE SHARK

Persons who know the coastal aboriginal of Australia say that he is not greatly afraid of a shark—that he is indeed a match for the big sabre-toothed fish when he is not taken unawares. He may lose a leg or an arm, or he may be carried off bodily; but, in any event, writes Mr. Norman Duncan in Australian Byways, the damage will be owing rather to the cunning approach of the shark than to the limitations of the diver. Fairly warned, he will dive to the bottom, roll the water, and thus elude the attack; and if he is pugnaciously disposed at the moment, he will fight.

One young diver, who was taking a crawfish to the surface, all at once found himself in a furious engagement. It was incautious of the diver to have a crawfish in his possession, for the sharks are inordinately fond of crawfish; and this indiscreet diver came out of the encounter with a lacerated thigh and one arm missing. Another story seems credible.

HELPS

An important help is to keep a pencil and pad in the kitchen, hanging within convenient reach, and on it let everything that is to be remembered be written, so that no one will have to keep her memory on the stretch to get the groceries, or lock the store room door, or buy nails or to do some important work about the house. We have found this an invaluable help for years. All of us know that we look there for the things to be remembered.

A pair of shears in the kitchen is a blessing. We have two pairs, because we have to keep one pair for the lamps alone. But we use the other pair every meal about the cooking. They cut meats, strings, lettuce, celery, all things for salad and for more things than we can mention, and they do all of these things better than the best knife, and I keep the knives sharp, too.

Corn meal mush, or any of the fine grained cereals, makes a very good fried dish to use with syrup. To make it pretty as well as good, pack such mush in pound baking-powder cans. When it is turned out, the round slices look very attractive, browned and overlapping each other on the platter.

Buttermilk is good to clear the complexion, but great care must be taken afterwards, as it makes the skin tender and it tans much easier.

Quick relief for a cough is to wring a thickly folded flannel from real hot water and sprinkle lightly with turpentine. This applied to the chest or well up on the throat will stop most coughs.—Grist.

A man named Dodgin had recently been appointed foreman in a brickyard, but his name was not known to all the employees. One day while on his round he came across two men sitting in a corner smoking, and stopped near them.

"Who are you?" asked one of them.

"I'm Dodgin, the new foreman," he replied.

"So are we," replied the other workers. "Sit down and have a smoke."

ORIGIN OF THE MUSKELON

It is much easier to explain where the muskelon gets the name of muskelon than it is to answer some other questions about it, as, for instance, if the Rocky Ford cantaloupes, which come from Rocky Ford, where under the sun does it come from, as a general thing? The muskelon is of Armenian origin. Its seeds were planted in California, Italy, about four centuries ago. Previously it had not been raised in the United States. There are times, even in the present period, when people hesitate so to regard it, and this is another thing which Mr. Hooyer will perhaps like to look into when he has leisure—Christian Science Monitor.

BUTTONS ARE NOW MADE AS A BY-PRODUCT OF BEER

The spent yeast which collects in breweries and distilleries is put through a process which turns it into the form of buttons, doorbell plates and other articles. Formerly this left-over material was considered to be a by-product of beer, and it is utilized, every bit of it. As it is gathered from the yeast in the beer, it is of a brown color. The first operation is to dry it and then to work it over into the form of powder and then to press it into the shape of buttons. It is called "ornithol." It may be sawed, scraped, filed, drilled, engraved, turned on an edge, and polished. Popular Magazine.

IT WAS LINCOLN

In the autumn of 1830 a traveling book-peddler, who afterward became a successful publisher and the head of a firm whose name is well known in the United States today, came to the door of a log cabin on a farm in eastern Illinois, and asked for the courtesy of a night's lodging. There was no inn near. The good wife was hospitable but perplexed. "For," said she, "we can feed your beast, but we cannot lodge you unless you will sleep with the hired man." "Let's have a look at him first," said the peddler.

The woman pointed to the side of the house, where a lean, six-foot man, in ragged but clean clothes, was stretched on the grass, reading a book. "He'll do," said the stranger. "A man who reads a book as hard as that fellow seems to be a good fellow. He'll do." The peddler went in and slept with the hired man. The next morning he found the man sitting up, reading a book. "What's the matter?" he asked. "Oh, yes," replied Marjorie, "I like it, but I thought I'd let it cool for a little while."

Flame and gauze. To Sir Humphry Davy belongs the credit of discovering that the flame of burning gas will not pass through a fine gauze having 28 meshes to the square inch. This contention may be tested by bringing a flame in contact with the gauze.

"EVERYWOMAN"

The Most Elaborate and Artistic Production of a Play by the Palmyra High School, taking the form of one week commencing Monday, April 8, by Henry W. Savage, is described as a commingling of drama and music.
The play is performed in five acts. In particular represents Broadway, New York, on New Year's Eve, during the height of the riot and the fare which always attends the going out of the old year in the metropolis. One hundred and fifty people are required in this set.
The music of "Everywoman" was especially composed by George Whitfield Chadwick, dean of the New England Conservatory of Music. It includes twenty-six separate musical numbers and they are interpreted by a special symphony orchestra, which is carried by the organization. The play is an extraordinary one and in the opinion of the most striking personalities of the drama. It is a sort of mixture of Mephisto and Prologue of the Green, one of the most beautiful leading women of the day, interpreting the role of "Everywoman." She is accompanied by Youth, Beauty and Modesty, played by Margaretta Bateson, Martha Voigt and Berta Donn. The characters of Truth, as played by Helen Diano, and King Love, by Melville Anderson, are magnificent. And intermingled with all are hosts of pretty girls and wonderful costumes.

BUT SHE LIKED IT

Very strong peppermints are grand. Father's favorite confection. One day he gave the Christian Herald, he gave one to four-year-old Marjorie, and she slyly to see what she would do with them. She should discover the pungent flavor of the candy. A few minutes later he saw her take a pinch of salt, or rather, a quarter of a teaspoonful, can be added to the drinking water.—Detroit News-Tribune.

The United States has been an active participant in the great world war for one year. At the opening of the second year the government committee on public information has issued a report on the progress of the war.

Men between forty and sixty years, experienced in either chemical work or mechanical engineering, are wanted for service in the ordnance department of the army.

In solemn manner and in carefully chosen words President Wilson at Baltimore sounded the new note that keys America's participation in the war—no peace with Germany unless it is with the lasting for domination; no peace with those whose words are belied by their action.

Son, made a woman, made the law,"

The good estate Paulus said, "For Christ was a minister of the circumcision for the truth of God to confirm the promises made unto the fathers." And again, he says: "For all of us were promised before him that we should receive adoption as sons by Jesus Christ our Lord, ye and amen unto the glory of God."

In every chapter of the two Epistles to the Thessalonians there is referred to the death of Jesus, and of Jesus, and these all are but the repetition of the great and precious promise of His second advent. Perceive how He has been waiting for our Lord's promise of the return of our Lord to earth than that in Acts 1:1; I shall see Him again, and will be glorified along with His disciples.

And now He leads them out to Mount Olivet, and we read that "while they received, and took up their journey, He bade them stand firm, and wait until He should come back, and while they looked steadfastly toward heaven as He went up, behold, two angels—stood by them in white apparel, saying unto them that He would so come again."

Gallie, why stand ye gazing up into so come in like manner as ye have seen Him go into heaven.”

This is a promise delivered by two heavenly messengers sent from the very courts of heaven to the Church

Next to a man-eating tiger there were nothing like the natives or Indians of these parts frequented a hillside in the Western Ghats near which Mr. Arnold, a well-known sportsman, had a residence in the Cornhill Magazine, had camped. The lion slept in the woods and during the day he came out to feed only at morning and evening. One day it chased and nearly killed a native.

"Unless," he says, "helps us we shall all be killed," the people complained, and Mr. Arnold, determined to kill the tiger, set out on his expedition in the morning. He followed the jungle path up the hill for five miles and then he saw a shadow of a tiger. He set down to wait for daylight. Half an hour had passed when he looked back and saw a tiger standing in a clearing. He fired and the tiger was killed. He then went to the water of a mine away, standing in a rocky pool, a huge form was silhouetted against the sky. Just below where the hunter was sitting ran a shallow stream, and two hundred yards down its course grew a clump of bushes.

But he charged again with extraordinary swiftness. The hunter stepped aside and the beast lunged into him with his horns as he passed. As the bull floundered by, another shot struck point-blank behind his ear. He went down with a tremendous thud.

The "special" entered the bar of the local house of refreshment a little about nine o'clock and informed the landlord that it would probably be necessary to use his premises for the holding of an inquest.

Thinking that it would interfere with trade, the landlord thought out a means of transferring the obligation to a rival house.

He took the "special" round to his private room and proffered suitable refreshment, pointing out the inconvenience to which he would be put if the inquiry was held in his establishment.

"Thanks!" said, the landlord. "But by the by, who is it to be held on?"

"Nobody, as I know of, now, but I would have been me if I hadn't got those drinks. Good night!"

WATER COLORS

Water color painting was gradually raised from the hard, dry style of the eighteenth century to its present brilliancy by the efforts of Nicholson, Copley, Stanley and others. The Water Color Society's exhibitions began in 1805 and may be said to mark the real beginning of modern water color painting. The great master, if not creator of the art was the celebrated Turner, of whom we read so much in the works of John Ruskin.—Argus.

In the East it is supposed that dreams are the actual happenings to the soul when it leaves our body while we are asleep. They believe that the and the moment we relax our vigil in sleep it leaves the body to attend to

As it was, the first time the little country cousin visited a schoolhouse in the city. During the class recitations he sat respectfully, as a guest, at one of the vacant desks near his city relative. His eyes were busy taking in the unfamiliar surroundings. "I think it's all fine," he remarked, "only I can't figure out how you build the fire in these stoves," indicating the radiator.

The young man was taken to the basement and the mysterious modern steam-heating plant were explained to him by the teacher with the aid of the janitor.

Time Changes.

"We no longer have the soliloquy on the stage," "No," the telephone conversation has taken its place."

PALMYRA SERVICE FLAG RAISING
A number of representative men of Palmyra, N. J., met at the home of Mr. Maurice H. Schwartz and formed a committee to arrange plans to carry out the giving of this flag for our boys. Those present were: Messrs. Davies, Wanger, Frimhurst, Becker, Wimer, Curry, Beck, King, Land and Schwartz. Mr. Davies was elected chairman, Mr. Becker, secretary, and Mr. Curry, treasurer.
There will be a parade to start about 7:15 P. M. to be participated in by the Home Guards of Haddon Heights, Riverton and Palmyra. Invitations have been extended to have representatives from the P. O. S. of A., the I. O. O. F., the Artisans, Knights of the Golden Eagle, Palmyra Fire Company, Riverton Fire Company, the Field Club of Palmyra and the Red Cross of Palmyra. There will be a band of music and some very eloquent speakers. The work of the patriotic women must play an important part. The call will not only come to the woman and her home, but the white-haired men and women of the town, as this there will be strength; prosperous work depends upon union for its accomplishment. Prizes and funds will be needed for the host that they seek to help. The work may be done in many ways, but the most important is the giving of the service flag.
Copy of a letter received from a Palmyra boy serving with the American Patrol:
March 27, 1918.
Dear Dad—We played our first game of football on Monday, March 27, 1918. We won and lost by the score 14-7. This was a number game. Our pitcher walked five in the first inning, but we had a hit in the next batter hit a three-bagger. They scored eight runs in the first and six in the second, after that we played regular ball.
We should have held them down after the second, but a liner through the center fielder's hands. We had an exception of the second we have a hit. Our first went to a preparatory school in New York, and the third went to a preparatory school in New York.

than hanging, I do not believe I could have ordinarily vaulted. The dog and Jose became apparently a part of the cyclone, though no mortal eyes could have followed their movements or their gymnastics. I do not know how long this lasted. I saw a flash of fire, and through the roar of it all heard a shot. Then the whirlwind seemed to fall upon Jose. I saw the gleam of his machete somewhere in its very core. Then a Cuban yell went up that set the tree limbs vibrating, and I descended to find the board dead."

SALT OF THE EARTH
There are a thousand and one uses for salt. Here are a few of them: A little salt sprinkled over parsley while chopping will make it chop finer. Salt rubbed on the blades of knives will remove all kinds of stains. A pinch of salt added to the water knives will remove all kinds of stains when boiling a cracked egg will prevent when washing colored clothes will prevent it from fading. A little salt added to a glass of hot milk improves the flavor greatly.

CHOOSING A MACHINE
In purchasing a machine one should consider the use that it will be put to, and buy the one which will do the work most effectively and easily if a machine is to have constant use there's absolutely no economy in buying a cheap one; the smaller expenditure will soon be increased by frequent repairs and increasing disastation. Though a cheaper machine will probably do for occasional use, the prospective purchaser should carefully consider all the "whys and wherefores" of differently constructed machines.
Double thread machines may seem to do more secure stitching, but a single thread machine can do secure stitching if good thread is supplied and the machine is used with intelligent care.
There is this to say for an automatic machine: It is light running, and its chain stitch is on advantage to home sewers, especially if running a sewing machine is not a thoroughly acquired accomplishment, and the ripping of seams is frequently necessary. A chain stitch will not rip if securely fastened at the end of the seam; this is done by tying the threads or by running one or two stitches beyond the material, then drawing the thread tightly. Automatic machines have an automatic tension which regulates itself to the stitch and the material being used.
The sewing machine with a rotary hook is very simple in construction and has a continuous movement which makes it easier to run than other lock-stitch machines.
The advance made in improvements to treadle machines has also extended to the hand machines, and today their practicability and usefulness make them a great advantage to the woman who for various reasons, does not desire a foot power machine.

EXPECTING A RUSH
"Chester, now that you're through college, you must begin looking for employment of some kind."
"But don't you think, father, it would be more dignified to wait until the offers begin coming in?"

A DAMP BETROTHAL
The Tarascan Indians of Mexico, says the National Geographic Magazine, have one of the strangest betrothal customs in the world. The land of the Tarascan lies due west of Mexico City, and the natives retain many of their practices that were well established before the Spaniards landed at Vera Cruz.
The accepted method of courtship sends the lover to the spring where the object of his affections is accustomed to fill her water jar. He holds her shawl until she accepts him, and then, with a stick, he breaks the jar that she holds on her head, and gives her a betrothal baptism of water.

DONT LEAVE OFF UNTIL YOU'VE WON
When you must engage in fight, Put forth all your pluck and strength;
Striking always for the right,
You will beat the foe at length.
Never mind how hard you're hit,
Cowards only cut and run,
Summon all your native grit,
Dont leave off until you've won.

HOW TO AVOID BACKACHE AND NERVOUSNESS Told by Mrs. Lynch From Own Experience.

Providence, R. I.—"I was all run down in health, was nervous, had headaches, my back ached all the time, I was tired and had no ambition for anything. I had taken a number of medicines which did me
no good. One day
I read about Lydia
E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and what it had done for women, so I tried
it. My nervousness and backache and headaches disappeared. I gained in weight and feel fine. So I can honestly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to any woman who is suffering as I was."—Mrs. ARTHUR E.
LYNCH, 100 Plain St., Providence, R. I.
Backache and nervousness are symptoms or nature's warnings, which indicate a functional disturbance or an unhealthy condition which often develops into a more serious ailment.
Women in this condition should not continue to drag along without help, but profit by Mrs. Lynch's experience, and try this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—and for special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Med. Co., Lynn, Mass.

To be effective sympathy should always be backed by a little capital.

FOODS TASTE BETTER COOKED
—TOBACCO TASTES BETTER
TOASTED

Since the day of the caveman, who liked his meat raw, civilization has learned a lot about the scientific treatment of the things we eat.
Naturally none of us would now prefer to have our meat raw, our potatoes as they come from the ground, our coffee unroasted.
And naturally follows the great discovery recently made by The American Tobacco Co.—that tobacco tastes better TOASTED!

This wonderful new idea—simple like all great inventions—was first used in producing the famous LUCKY STRIKE Cigarette—made of toasted
Barley tobacco.

Barley has a mellow flavor, entirely different from the tobacco usually used for cigarettes. It is a pipe tobacco and LUCKY STRIKE Cigarettes taste like a pipe. Adv.

—Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Donaghy have received word from their son Alton, who is with the U. S. Naval Force in Europe since last August, that he will not return to the States when his term of enlistment expires in May. He is now standing quartermaster watch and is first man in line for promotion as ensign on his ship. Although having some exciting experiences on a few occasions throwing bombs at submarines, he says the navy is tame, and he is going to try to enlist in the American Aviation Corps over there. Since being abroad letters have been received from him eight different times.

THEY MET AGAIN

Colonel C— and a certain hotel proprietor were much alike. A commercial putting up at this hotel had the kind of feet the fear of doing wrong on the fifth floor. Meeting, as he thought, the landlord as he ascended the stairs, he roundly accused him of treating an old customer shabbily, and hinted that he would not come again. "Sir," said the supposed landlord, "you forget yourself. I am Colonel C—."

Horror-stricken, the commercial hastened to apologize, the colonel being one of the important personages whom he was anxious to please. Half an hour after the commercial descended the stairs and saw, as he thought, the same work, making its own power amount of it, and costs nothing to run; no bother with cords, connecting or disconnecting, when labor on the stairs, and thought he was you.

PALMYRA WINS HONOR FLAG

Gets One Star and is Now Working for Another

Through the untiring efforts of the Woman's Committee, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Edward Becton, and the firm determination on the part of the citizens of Palmyra to stand by the President, the Liberty Loan drive in Palmyra has reached the $50,000 mark.

Not only has this amount been subscribed, but it represents the willingness of 550 of our population to help win this great war.

Having doubled the quota and also over the 10 per cent. of the population having subscribed, Palmyra has won the honor flag and a star.

This is not all Palmyra can do, is the belief of the committee, and they are driving on to $80,000, which they hope to have by Saturday. If this is made possible another star will be added to the honor flag.

On this Saturday evening, all of the women of our branch are invited to meet at West Palmyra Station at 7 o'clock and march in parade, celebrating the event of the unfurling of a community service flag, in honor of our Palmyra boys who are making such tremendous sacrifices for us.

A very important part of the work of the American Red Cross in France and Belgium is among the refugees. They are looking to America for food, shelter and clothing.

—In addition to the saving habit that has been inculcated among the school children by the purchasing of these Thrift Stamps, thirty-one third Liberty Loan Bonds have been sold.

It looks as if Palmyra school children have the patriotic spirit and are lending great need of little bags of sundries to the boys in the trenches.

THE SIGN OF THE RED CROSS

Broad and Garfield

By MARGARET M. WILLIAMS

Many of our women are disappointed that the arrangement of the program at the State conference at Atlantic City to be held Saturday makes it impossible for them to attend, as the speakers they were desirous of hearing are booked to appear in the late afternoon and evening, so it is doubtful if our branch is represented at the meeting.

On last Sunday evening, Mrs. William Russell, chairman, and other officers of our church visited the Moravian Church and organized an auxiliary (No. 1). Miss Frank was elected chairman of this auxiliary; Mr. Charles Davidson, financial secretary of the booster fund, was present, and in a few helpful remarks, suggested how the auxiliary could be best financed.

His talk proved effective, for following a plea for funds, after the check-up came it was found the number had reached 100. Miss Frank and other members of the auxiliary visited our workroom on Tuesday and were shown the work which is being accomplished by our women. They decided until they were more fully equipped for general service they would continue their efforts on the making of hospital garments.

Wallace and Mrs. Bauer are to instruct them in this line of service. On this Saturday evening, all of the women of our branch are invited to meet at West Palmyra Station at 7 o'clock and march in parade, celebrating the event of the unfurling of a community service flag, in honor of our Palmyra boys who are making such tremendous sacrifices for us.

Mr. Walter Mitchell, of Cornell, has enlisted in the army and will leave for officers' training camp on May 15.

A Red Cross conference will be held on Saturday afternoon and evening in the Hotel Breakers, Atlantic City, when a number of the members of the Riverton Branch Red Cross will attend.

—Miss Gertrude Crippen is entertaining her cousin from Port Chester, New York, as her house guest.

—Mr. David Sager and friend, of Connecticut, passed the week-end here with his parents, 4 Lippincott avenue.

—Quietly at noon on Monday Miss Gertrude Daniels, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Daniels, of Fourth and Main streets, was united in marriage to Mr. Perot Nevlin, son of Mrs. Charles Nevlin, a former resident of Riverton, now residing in Philadelphia.

The ceremony was performed at the residence of the bride by Rev. John Rigg, rector of Christ Church, this place. The bride wore a handsome gown of white crepe de chine trimmed with seed pearls and an entrained veil caught with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. The bride was accompanied by her niece, Miss Helen Childster, as flower girl, and preceded by her nephew, Master Samuel Bond, as page. Mr. Fred Jones, of Riverton, acted as best man. A touch of militarism accompanied the ceremony, as the groom wore his uniform, he having entered Princeton University, where he will enter upon a special course in aviation.
