RIVERTON.

Station agent Ivin D. Jessup has been down with the grippe.

Mrs. Grice is quite ill.

Miss Booth, of New York City, is visiting, for some time, at Mrs. John Parry's.

Mr. J. Haines Lippincott is spending the holidays at home.

Rev. C. W. Nevin preached in the Presbyterian Church on Sunday, filling Mr. Houghtaling's place, who was sick.

The festival of Christ Church was held on Monday evening last, and the church was quite full. The infant school was in charge by Mrs. Cornelius and Miss Kate Cowton. Rev. J. H. Converse read a charming Christmas carol, the distribution of gifts was of course much enjoyed, each child receiving a box of candy and some fruit. Miss Wright gave each of her Sunday School class a small clock.

Several members of Mr. C. T. Woolston's family are down with the grippe.

Mr. E. H. Pancoast was the recipient of a very sweet Christmas present from his brother, Barzillai, at Hartford City, Indiana, in the shape of a fifty pound case of honey.

Mrs. Houghtaling had quite a serious fall on Christmas afternoon. She was taken with dizziness when coming down stairs and fell, hitting her head and bruising her up very much, so that she was insensible for several hours. Luckily no bones were broken and beyond the bad bruises it is hoped no further injury was received.

Mr. and Mrs. John B. M. Howell gave a large family dinner party on Christmas day. Many of the same guests will celebrate New Year's Day at Mr. Edward Howell's.

Mr. E. E. Esmer had a narrow escape at the railroad crossing on Christmas evening. He had crossed the railroad and having forgotten something hastily recrossed without noticing the train that was just running into the station until warned of his danger by the engineer of the locomotive. He was jumped quickly aside but not before he was hit by the cylinder of the engine and thrown into the gutter. It is a wonder that he escaped with only a bad bruise and shaking up and no broken bones.

The services in Christ Church on Christmas morning were much enjoyed. The principal decoration is a Road Screen of very fine design in laurel leaf decoration. It is desired to make the design permanent in the church.

On Dec. 28th, Jos. H. Gest, constable, arrested David Anderson, Wm. Quigley, Walter Holvick and John Flinn on a warrant sworn out by Jno. W. Rudderow, of Riverton, for blaspheming and calling him names while passing along the public highway. Anderson and Quigley were discharged there being no evidence to convict them. Holvick and Flinn were convicted and after paying the costs were discharged. Justice Lins gave them a severe lecture and told them what they were to do.

John Matthews, who has been ill with the grippe is able to be about again.

Poles are being erected on Chapel street by the Electric Light Company to supply the residents on the lower end of Chapel street with the electric current.

Samuel Burroughs, of Cove road is still looking for the thief that stole that large turkey from his farm last Tuesday night.

On Wednesday morning at the closing of Mrs. Anne M. Way's private school for the holidays the pupils gave a very enjoyable entertainment to an appreciative audience of parents. The entertainment consisted of singing, recitations and piano solos. The pupils were drilled by their teacher, and the happy manner in which they acquitted themselves amply repaid Mrs. Way for her labor. After the exercises the doors of the school room were thrown open and the children were pleasantly surprised by the sight of a beautiful Christmas tree upon which was found a gift for each child from their teacher. While Mrs. Way was engaged in handing them out one of the older scholars stepped up to her and in behalf of the pupils presented to their teacher a handsome lamp, in testimony of their love and appreciation of her labors with them.

M. J. Pickering, of Walnut avenue, has just arrived home from Huntington, Pa., where he has been for some time attending to business matters for his firm.

A. R. Mutchler who has been very ill with the grippe is able to resume business.

Miss Maud Allen was the fortunate person who drew that tea set.

Miss Bertha Eno, of Forked River, a former resident of this place, is spending a few days with her many friends in Merchantville.

It is rumored that there will be three tickets in the field for the spring election.

Thos. Pancoast, wife and child, who have been victims of the terrible grip, are all recovering.

Miss Treva Peris, of Philadelphia, who was the guest of Miss Pauline Mick, of Chapel street, last week, has returned to her home.

Christmas services will be held in the Presbyterian church next Tuesday evening when a very delightful program will be given.

Clark, who has been spending some time in the interest of the light company, returned to his home last Saturday.

CHRISTMAS CELEBRATIONS IN RIVERTON.

CALVARY CHURCH.

The heavy storm of wind and rain on Tuesday evening did not prevent the Sunday school children of the Presbyterian church from attending the Christmas exercises appointed for that time.

The classes entered singing the professional "Shout the Happy Tidings." Rev. Mr. Nevin invoked a blessing. Carols and recitations followed. The "Praise Ye," rendered by the choir, "Looking Backward" was participated in by Maude Hemphill, Laura Hibbs, Effie Tuberville, Edith McMullen and Ella Eastwood, the latter singing a solo for her part and the others joined in the chorus. This musical addition rendered the recitation quite attractive.

"Little Miss" by Theo. Forrester brought a smile to nearly every face. Arnold Beckenbach, John McMillan, Willie Forrester, Fred Hemphill and Arthur Brown carried banners marked respectively, Wonderful, Counselor, The Mighty God, The Everlasting Father and The Prince of Peace. The Rev. Mr. Nevin based his address on these five titles of Christ.

The "Children's Prayer" was given by four members of the infant school. Rewards were distributed by the superintendent for attendance, golden text, catechism, etc. Toys for the infant school, candy and oranges were next on the program and then the singing of the Carol "Glory to God."

The exercises closed with the benediction.

CHRIST CHURCH.

The 31 annual Christmas festival of Christ Church Sunday school, Riverton, was held on Monday evening, Dec. 28, Holy Innocents' Day. The church was comfortably filled and the exercises commenced promptly at 7:30 with the singing of the professional "Angels from the Realms of Glory," this was followed by the Lord's Prayer and Versicles, after which was rendered the Magnificat. The first lesson was taken from St. Luke 2nd, 8th to 14th verses and the second was from St. Matthew 2nd, 16 to 18th verses. The infant school sang a carol entitled "Ringing for Jesus." The pastor, Rev. J. H. Converse delivered the address and was listened to with a great deal of interest. After the distribution of gifts the hymn "Wonderful Night" was sung. The exercises closed with Gloria Patri and the benediction.

MISSION SCHOOL.

The last little edifice in West Palmyra where mission services are held under the management of Mrs. James Hemphill of Riverton, was the scene on Wednesday night of a bright and happy entertainment. During the past six months an addition has been made to the building and in this the scholars were seated while parents and friends occupied the main room. A fine Christmas tree loaded with presents for the children made one corner very attractive, while in another were oranges and cakes for all present. Laurel festoons ornamented the place, and music made it cheerful. The programme was very good, and rendered principally by children less than ten years of age. Special mention is made of the exercises by the choir, which by prayer by Mr. Hemphill after which recitations and solos were given. A case was presented to Mr. Isaac Foster. Services are held at the Mission at 8 o'clock on Sunday and Friday evenings, and all who are interested are cordially invited.

METHODIST.

The annual Christmas celebration of the Methodist Episcopal church was held in Morgan Hall on Monday evening and was attended by a crowd of about 600 people. The program was very good, and rendered principally by children less than ten years of age. Special mention is made of the exercises by the choir, which by prayer by Mr. Hemphill after which recitations and solos were given. A case was presented to Mr. Isaac Foster. Services are held at the Mission at 8 o'clock on Sunday and Friday evenings, and all who are interested are cordially invited.

On the road leading from Mays Landing to Egg Harbor City, and near the latter place, is a body of water, now as the Hay Pond, which is several acres of low land. The pond has no outlet and is fed by rains. Owing to the deficiency of rainfall during the past six months, the pond has dried up. Bushes of dead catfish, carp and pickrel can be seen in the mud. Some of the fish measure five inches in length and weigh from one to three pounds.

The Pennsylvania Railroad company has begun the preparatory work of elevating its four tracks through Elizabethtown, a distance of two miles. The tracks will be laid on an embankment running the entire length of the city. Most of the streets will be arched over with stone at a cost of over a million dollars. Strong objections are made by property holders on some of the streets.

Andrew D. Jennings, of Plainfield, received a bullet in his ear on Monday night, at the hands of his son, a boy scarcely ten years old. Mr. Jennings had just presented a toy rifle to the boy, when the youngster pointed the muzzle of the weapon at his father, exclaiming: "Papa, I'll shoot you." He followed up the remark by pulling the trigger, and his aim was so true that the parent's ear was perforated. The ball flew away a portion of the ear.

C. H. Henry L. Potter of Linden, who is a man of wealth, a day inspector in the Custom house in New York City, and the owner of a handsome house in Linden, was examined before United States Commissioner Muirhead at New York, on an accusation made by Postmaster Stone of Linden, that he had used "washed" stamps and defrauded the Government.

Henry D. Parnham, of Philadelphia, a postoffice inspector, testified that he had examined the stamps on the envelopes which were represented to him as being "washed" and had found them to be genuine. He had also examined the stamps on the envelopes which were represented to him as being "washed" and had found them to be genuine. He had also examined the stamps on the envelopes which were represented to him as being "washed" and had found them to be genuine.

Measles and grip have caused the death of several inmates and attendants in the New Jersey Home for the Education of Feeble-Minded Children, at Vineland.

Vineland canines have been ordered tied up or thirty days owing to a mad dog scare occasioned by a rabid animal from Newfield running amok in town.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From our regular correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28, 1891.

Texas has the honor of having sent a young man to Congress—Representative Baily—who has, before his Congressional service, been a member of the House of Representatives.

The House committee in future selected by a party caucus, instead of by the Speaker. That the idea did not occur to Mr. Baily until his candidature, Mr. M'ills had been defeated for Speaker by Mr. Baily, but that does not detract in any way from his excellence. The Senate has always found the caucus method of selecting its committees satisfactory, and there is no good reason why the House would not have the same experience.

But the principal reason why the Texas idea ought to be adopted is, that it would deprive the Speaker of the House of the autocratic power he now wields through his ability to control and direct legislation by means of the make-up of the various committees, without the concurrence of which

THE HAZARDOUS custom of stepping from the train upon the railroad track will some day result in a serious accident. No later than this week there came near being an accident of this kind to a chronicler. An elderly lady while alighting from the cars was thrown violently to the ground, but fortunately without any serious result on account of timely assistance. The train crew would not be held responsible for this as the company have erected platforms, upon which it is the duty of passengers to alight.

The remark made in the News that any one that "bucked" against it would have a "long row to hoe," has been verified. C. W. Brewster, the originator and quondam owner of the News has sold his interests in the same to Walter L. Bowen, a young man of Riverton. Mr. Brewster did not disguise the fact that he intended to "down" this journal, but instead his mismanagement forced his own re-irement. Although the facts show he was not competent to manage successfully a small local journal, yet he now has the audacity to announce that he intends to start a national paper.

THE EDITOR OF THE NEWS:

I notice in your last issue a card signed by John S. Scheidell, in which he announces that he will allow his name to stand for justice of the peace at the next election. I am sure the editorial comment on the desirability of such a man for the office is heartily seconded by a large number of voters in this township. We want such men of good sense and unprejudiced qualities for so important an office. We have found in Mr. Scheidell a man who is fearless in the discharge of his duties and who will see the peace preserved on all occasions. He should receive the unanimous support of all parties concerned irrespective of party affiliations. JACKSONIAN.

To those who delight in writing long new postal cards are half again as large as the old ones.

Just think, what an extra claim it will

The annual election of officers of the

The bank starts on the business of another ices. It is well officered by men well tried and proved and with harmony of views, which is a most desirable feature in the management of the large interests committed to their care.

The Burlington County Agricultural Society held its annual meeting on Saturday last at Mt. Holly. A number of points were discussed, and it was shown that the conducting of fairs is becoming yearly a matter of greater complication. The most successful fairs are apparently those that exercise the greatest latitude in the character of the entertainments furnished to visitors, and the fairs conducted on a moral basis don't succeed in drawing numbers enough to allow of large and numerous premiums for exhibits which of course cause a loss of attractiveness in the exhibition. After a general talk over this and other matters, officers were elected as follows: Henry I.
Budd, Benjamin E. Deacon, Joseph Wills, John B. Collins, Henry Collins, Henry Ellis, Samuel H. Chambers, William R. Lippincott, Davis C.
Trotter, Edward B. Jones, Wm. D.
Crisden, Edward Wills and Joseph C. Kingston. The receipts from admission were $177.85 in excess of 1891, being $71,854.56.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From our regular correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11, 1892.

The Damon and Pythias arrangement between Senators Hill and Gorman, which began with the swearing in of the former, and which promises to become permanent, is furnishing food for thought to those who are studying the currents of national politics.

It requires no special shrewdness to predict that this intimacy bodes no good to the political fortunes of Mr.
Cleveland, although the fact has been reiterated with great persistency in certain quarters that Mr. Gorman was in favor of Mr. Cleveland. Mr. Gorman's sentiments towards Mr. Cleveland were too well known here for any such statement to obtain many believers. It is believed that the astute Maryland Senator thinks that "Gorman" would sound well at the head of the democratic ticket, and if he can bring Senator Hill around to the same way of thinking the Gorman boom will at once assume formidable proportions.

Several important Farmer Alliance conferences have been held here during the last few days. The national conference of State presidents adopted a memorial to Congress setting forth the unsatisfactory conditions of the Agricultural interests of the country and asking for remedial legislation, and asking that money be issued directly to the people at a low rate of interest, and that silver be given all the legal coinage rights possessed by gold.

A resolution was also adopted to present the Ocala demands to the National Conventions of the republican, democratic and people's parties, and to carefully refrain from committing the Alliance to the support of any of them. As soon as the legislative committee, which is now in session here, decides on the programme a number of Alliance bills will be introduced in Congress.

There is a great big disappointment for somebody concealed somewhere about the much discussed silver question. Either willfully or from ignorance some prominent men are mis-tating the situation. Not being giving a prophecy your correspondent will not attempt to say which of those who made statements are wrong, but it is evident that some of them are.
Representative Springer, who occupies the position usually filled by the leader of the majority of the House, says in the most positive language that no free coinage bill will be passed at this session of Congress, and that no amendment to the present silver law will be adopted. On the other hand the National Silver Executive committee, which has just issued an address to the country and Congress in favor of free coinage, say that the passage of the free coinage bill at this session is an assured fact. Senators Mitchell of Oregon, and Wolcott of Colorado, both republicans and both free silver men, express the belief that the House will pass a free coinage bill, and they are both certain that it will pass the Senate.

The successful inventors of the country have been trying for years to get legal protection from Congress, and at last there seems to be a fair prospect of their succeeding. Under the present laws the man who willfully patents another cannot be punished for the theft, for such it is. The only redress of the inventor is to bring a suit for damages, and in nearly all of such cases, when the judgment is given, it is found that the rogue has no viable property to satisfy it. The House committee on patents will probably soon report an amendment to the patent laws, making it a criminal offense to knowingly infringe a patent. Then the rogues can be jailed.

The Chilean business is not progressing as rapidly towards a satisfactory and as the administration desires. A gentleman who is in position to know whereof he speaks says of the situation:
"Chili can indict all the men she wants, she can hang half of her population if she desires, yet she will be far from satisfying the demands of the United States. She may hold trials from now until dooms day and keep her executioners busy night and day, but until she tells this government that she apologizes for what has occurred she has made no reparation." Chili is evidently trying to satisfy this country without having to undergo the humiliation of making an apology, but she will find that it will not work.

There is no truth in the sensational rumors concerning Mr. Blaine's health.
He is daily attending to business that it would be impossible for a man who was not in good condition, mentally and physically, to handle.

The democratic majority of the House is securing because of the lack of a recognized leader on the right side of the house. The need is fully recognized, but there is a wide diversity of opinion as to the remedy. It may be that speaker Crisp, who is rapidly recovering, will be able to solve the problem.

STATE NEWS.

Patrick Langanfelder of Trenton, has lost three children from smallpox, within five days. His son Jacob, twenty-six years old, died last Wednesday; his daughter Lena, nineteen years old, died on the same day, and John, his twenty-one-year-old son, also died. Another daughter is now down with the disease and likely to die.

Thieves broke into St. Patrick's cathedral, Newark, and carried off the contents of eight alms boxes. They also visited the House of Prayer, looted the boxes and smeared the vestments with filth. Thieves also entered the Central Methodist church, in Market street, but failed to find anything of value. They left the place in great disorder. There is no clue to the perpetrators of the robberies.

Prof. L. M. Haupt of the University of Pennsylvania, Thomas Martindale and a representative committee of Philadelphia merchants will be present, by invitation, at the meeting of the New York Board of Transportation, to discuss a proposition to construct a ship canal across New Jersey, connecting New York harbor and Long Island Sound with Delaware and Chesapeake Bays, and their tributaries.

William F. Binn, Jr., was committed to the Ocean county jail Tuesday morning, charged with breaking and entering the store of George S.
Shinn, at New Egypt, on New Year's night, and stealing goods to the value of $40. Binn was held, in default of bail, for the April term of court.

"Old Preacher," a veteran war horse, died in Vineland on Wednesday, aged thirty-four years. The animal passed his declining years on all the parades that took place during the past ten years. "Old Preacher" has all through the war and did good service for his country.

Aubury Park N. J., Jan. 11.—The Monmouth county grand jury have indicted Louis Harriott for murder in the first degree. Harriott is the Frenchman who about seven weeks ago brutally murdered Mrs. Charles E. Leonard, wife of his employer, at Atlantic Highlands, by choking her with a rope and then smashing her head with a hammer. The murderer says he will plead guilty to the indictment. Chief Justice Mercer Beasley will insist on Harriott's lawyers interposing a plea of not guilty.
The murder and the circumstances surrounding it are being investigated to realize the enormity of the crime.

Because of the severellness of Son-ders Corson and his family, of Ocean View, neighbors volunteered to do the winter's butchering for them, and two large hogs weighing 400 pounds each were slaughtered Saturday morning.
Upon investigation the butcher discovered that the hogs were in consideration of this loss and the distressed condition of the family a substantial purse was made up by the neighboring farmers to cover this misfortune. Mr.
Corson is living very dangerously sick with pneumonia, and his wife has been confined to her bed for twenty months with a large tumor on her neck, while both grown up daughters are helpless with a severe attack of the grip.

THE LICENSE QUESTION.

The subject of the licensing of the sale of intoxicating drinks, and the question of its advantage or otherwise is so well shown in a recent letter by Mark L. Sooy, Esq., to the Mt. Holly Mirror, that we give the following extracts, as they contain a great deal of truth put in a plain way:

Mr. Editor.—It has seemed to me that public attention should be directed to the license system, as it now exists in Mount Holly. I may assume that the traffic in intoxicating beverages is an unmitigated evil. The highest judicial tribunal in the land has declared that "the statistics of every state show a greater amount of crime and misery attributable to the use of ardent spirits obtained in retail liquor saloons than to any other source." Crowley v. Christensen, 137 U. S. R., p. 86.

The language of the second section of the laws and tavern act is, "and thereupon (that is, upon a proper application) the court may, in their discretion, grant the license prayed for by the applicant."

The discretion thus reposed in the judge is not an arbitrary one. It is subject to certain limitations imposed by the law itself. No person can be licensed to keep an inn and tavern, unless the judges are satisfied (1) that the applicant is a fit person, (2) that such an inn and tavern is necessary, and (3) that it will conduce to the public good. It is also expressly enjoined upon the judges, "to license no more inns and taverns than their respective counties, than shall be necessary to accommodate and entertain travelers and strangers, to serve the public occasions of the said county, and for the convenience of men's meeting together to transact business; and to prevent as much as possible, inns and taverns to be kept for the encouragement of gambling, tippling, drunkenness and other vices."

Prior to March 7, 1888, there were but three hotels and three saloons in our town. We all remember how our license court, composed of Judges Lee, Black and Glasgow, resisted the great pressure brought to bear upon them to have one additional place licensed.
The refusal of Judge Lee probably cost him his reappointment. His retirement was a great loss to the bench and to the county. On the seventh of March, 1888, the legislature passed an act commonly known as the High License law. It provided that in townships, towns, boroughs or cities, having by the census last preceding a population exceeding three thousand and not exceeding ten thousand, a license fee of not less than $150 should be paid by the licensee. Under this law the number of licensed places in Mount Holly has more than doubled.
We now have four hotels, four wholesale saloons and nine retail saloons, seventeen licensed places in all, one for every eight voters in the township. Why have our present judges more than doubled the number of licensed drinking places in Mount Holly within the past three years?

Was it because of the increased revenue to be derived therefrom? I understand that at least one of the judges has given this as the reason.
His theory seems to be that the license laws are simply tax laws, which permit anybody to engage in the sale of liquor who can pay the tax. If this be the explanation of the increase, then I have two answers to make: (1)

The county has no right to grant licenses for the sake of the revenue. The law was not made for that purpose.
It is the duty of the government "to make it as hard as possible for a man to go wrong, and as easy as possible for a man to go right." (2) As a revenue measure, it is not a success.
The following table shows the revenue derived from license in Mount Holly for one year:

Benjamin W. Zelly, Hotel, $300 William H. Penobscot, " 300 Samuel P. Richmond, " 300 James W. Offspring, " 300
James L. Fitch, Saloon, 200 Jesse Wells, " 200
Samuel J. Smith, " 200
Charles Hays, " 200
Daniel Harrington, " 200
Nicholas J. Harrington, " 200 Charles Seaman, " 200
Peter J. Coddigan, " 200
Joseph Tull, " 200
Nicholas J. Harrington, Wholesale 150 Saloon, 150
K. B. Barry, Wholesale Saloon, 150
Peter J. Coddigan, " 150
Daniel Harrington, " 150

Total revenue, $5500

The following statement shows the expenses due to intemperance in Mount Holly:

Fees paid justices of the peace, constables and policemen in Mount Holly for committing to the county jail 361 drunken and disorderly persons, from January 1, 1890 to November 1, 1891, as shown by the commitments on file,

$6000 30

Cost of boarding same in the jail and jailor's fees, 2411 37

Total, $8411 67

Then the account stands thus:

Expenses due to intemperance in
Mount Holly, $8411 67

Revenue derived from license in Mount Holly, 5500 00

Excess of expenses over revenue, $2911 67

This sum is a direct loss. The indirect loss—the amount of life absolutely destroyed, the amount of industry sacrificed, the sorrow, the poverty, the brutality, the waste of vital and financial resources—no arithmetic can calculate, no mortal powers can declare.

The purchase and absorption of "American," the vigorous exponent of American principles, by the Chicago Graphic, has given a further impetus to the remarkable growth in which this celebrated illustrated weekly of the West has experienced.

We are in receipt of a The Exposition Graphic, a new quarterly issued by the Graphic Company of Chicago, devoted to the World's Columbian Exposition. Por-trails of the principal officers of the commission and local directory scenes of the work of construction in progress at Jackson Park, magnificent views of all the great buildings, the exhibits, the engravings showing the principal buildings of Chicago and the other leading cities of the Union, fine full page portraits of the Exposition and Secretary Blaine, engraved by Lautenschlager, and an imposing type page bird's-eye view of the Exposition grounds and buildings from designs by the Bureau of Construction, are some of the more prominent features of this truly ambitious work. The succeeding issues shall continue in excellence with the initial number. The Exposition Graphic will become one of the recognized features of the coming exposition event. It is now on sale at all the principal news stands of the country at 50 cents a copy.

WANAMAKER'S.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 11, 1892.

The entire Autumn season has been a record of how cheap we sell fine Blankets.

There is a chance now to add to what has gone before—this time cheaper grades.

Four hundred pairs full double size Blankets, good weight, pure wool filling on fine cotton warp. We value them at $4.50 but we sell them at $3.35 a pair.

One hundred and twenty-five pairs full double size Blankets, soft silver grey, clover leaf border, good weight, all wool filling on fine cotton warp, at $3.75, used to be $5, and never less than $4.50.

It might amuse you—seems funny to us—that some of our friends, our competitors are advertising a great Bargain in Damask Table Linen at $2.50 which we are offering in the January Fair at $1.85. Found it out accidentally. Comical, isn't it?

The Bleached Damask 68 inches at 50c would be incredibly elsewhere. Beats all history in the Linen trade.
Worthy associate the finer grade, 72 inches, at $1.

Just out to-day. A fresh lot Bleached Damask Table Cloths, deep colored borders.
They, too, are novelties of cheapness. Thought them good, cheap. The bargain is better than expected. 8-4 square $1.
8-4x10-4 $1.35, 8-4x12-4 $1.65.

There is news of Towels, Underwear Linen, Napkins and other Linens to tell. The goods are ready and on sale, but the telling must be on the serial plan.

A combination of our own stock with that of one of the best clothiers of New York enables us to keep the Clothing in step with the rest of the stores. Here are suits at three prices. $5.50 from $10, $8.50 from $12 and $15, $12 from $15 and $18. The sizes are from 31 to 35 inches chest and the materials are honest and durable.

It is a conservative statement that the offering of Two Thousand and Women's Wraps, Reckers, Coats and Jackets at one-third prices was unprecedented. We never accomplish such an operation before—nor do we expect to again.

The forms and finish, qualities and elegance, combine all the latest touches of Paris and Yours respectfully,

To the Editor of the News:

Frequent complaints are made that children are going to our public school while some of the family are suffering from some contagious disease. There should be some effective way of preventing this if possible.

The Trustees and Teachers of Riverton public school, from whence this complaint comes, have always tried to guard the school against this danger.

No child is permitted to come to school where there is any malignant or contagious disease in the family. It is known to the School Board. We learn at times when too late, that parents have disregarded this rule, and have sent their children to school when convalescing from some malignant fever. There are some schools closed on account of epidemics pre-valing in the districts caused by carelessness of parents—it is worse than carelessness, it can well be classed as a crime, for a person to be guilty of the crime of spreading any malignant disease and death through a community!

Is there a remedy? How are the Trustees to know of families affected?

Should the Doctor report these cases to the Trustees? or the Board of Health, and they to the Trustees? It is through these guardians of health that we look to for help to keep out of our schools and community these malignant diseases.

Of all the pronounced evils that affect humanity there are none more destructive of human happiness than the sin of distraction. It is the more dangerous on account of its extremely insidious and vily nature. The detector moves in the best as well as the most abandoned of society—smiles, doubt, hypocritical professions, confidential friendships, etc., are the mediums through which detractors act.

How the slanderous tongue delights to blacken the fair fame of promising youth people through envy and jealous hate, and the embarrassed circumstances are made the ridicule of a neighborhood to satisfy the res-tle nature of trying busybodies. O that the law could reach these cruel cold blooded parasites of social life.

Charity speaketh no evil of his neighbor.

THE WALLACE WILL CASE.

The administration of the Judge Wallace's case was practically closed before Commissioner Miller, at Camden, last week, but the O'Neill case has further evidence that has been lately found, and that the attorneys think will aid them in establishing their client's claims of relationship to Joseph Wallace.

William F. Morgan, with whom

Wallace lived for some years prior to his death, and with Morgan's father before, when on the stand some weeks ago declared that he had frequently seen Wallace scribble upon slips of paper and a slip of the names of his relatives and friends, with amounts of money marked beside each name presumably denoting the sums he expected to will them. The attorneys for the administration demanded the production of these papers and Mr. Morgan was withdrawn to permit a search.

The search revealed nothing and last week he again went upon the stand and re-testified to the papers. Among the names so written was that of "Alphonso Wallace," with "$10,000" marked beside it.

Enoch Dudley, seventy-four years old, said that Wallace in 1846 paid attention to his estate, and they were undoubtedly to have been engaged to be married. Her death in 1845, however, prevented a consummation of any matrimonial plans they may have had. Up to this time Wallace had been generally supposed to be a single man, but after his girl's death her mother received a letter which caused some talk on this score. He was not permitted to testify to the contents of the letter, but it stated that it was an anonymous communication in which

Wallace's trouble with O'Neill's alleged grandmother and their subsequent marriage were set out.

Ann S. Riddow, Wallace's aged sister, said that while her father and mother attended Friends' meeting, neither they nor any of the children were members of the society.

Charles Joseph, 80 years old, produced a copy of the "Book of Discipline" of the Hickeys Friends and the portion especially relating to marriage was put in evidence—Camden

WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18, 1892.

Secretary Blaine gave the members of the House Committee on foreign affairs, when they adjourned, the call upon him which always paid to the Secretary of State at the beginning of the new session of Congress.

They had expected that the Secretary might have something to say on Chilean matters, but not a word did he say about Chile. Instead he made what was evidently a carefully prepared argument urging the commercial importance to the United States of the speedy building of the Nicaragua ship canal, and asking that the committee use its influence to have the bill now before Congress on that subject disposed of. This proposition—endorsing the bonds of the canal company—has at no time stood what would be considered even a fair chance of being passed by the House, and the first of the Holman resolutions, which was adopted by the vote of all the Democrats, all the Alliance members and a number of Republicans, hits the bill a knock down blow, square between the two eyes of the people.

The Chilean business has passed the talking at, and President Harrison's message and the correspondence which were ready to go to Congress two weeks ago, but were withheld on account of representation made by Congressmen, and so as to be sent to Judge Advocate General Bemmer, who

WHY READING'S STOCKHOLDERS CHEERED.

The Road's Splendid Showing for Last Year.

Corporation meeting are not usually demoralizing. On the contrary, as a rule, such gatherings are characterized by cold-blooded and business-like reticence. It must, therefore, have been peculiarly gratifying to President McLeod, of the Reading Railroad, when, at the annual meeting of that corporation the other day, the stockholders applauded the unexpectedly favorable report of his administration for the past year.

At a comparison with 1890, the business of the railroad for 1891 shows an increase in net earnings of $1,669,216.44, and an increase in profits of $1,510,038.81, while the Coal and Iron Company's operations exhibit an increase of $633,232.94 in net earnings, and a total gain over the previous year of $940,453.67, making a total gain for the two companies of $2,150,492.49.

The net amount set aside as profits for 1891 is considerably more than double that of 1890. Out of this there will be paid the full interest, 5 per cent, on the first preference income bonds, and 4 per cent on the second preferences. That the management did not strain a point to pay the full 5 per cent on the latter securities is evidence that Mr. McLeod will not descend to questionable methods in order to make a good showing.

Many interesting facts are to be gleaned from the President's report. From it we learn that the Reading Company is one of the greatest land owners in the Union, its vast estates, comprising coal, iron ore and timber lands, aggregating upwards of 194,000 acres. The Company owns at least 50 per cent of all the anthracite coal remaining unmined in Pennsylvania.

The Reading is also a landlord on a very large scale, owning 2734 dwelling houses, built upon its lands, and for the most part occupied by miners and other employees.

To operate the mines there is employed a force of 24,754 men and boys and it will surprise most people to learn that "freight" on this number only 9709 are foreign born. 2800 horses and mules, 18 locomotives and 7275 mine cars are in use underground to move the coal from the chambers to the breakers. Among the commodities used at the mines annually are 2000 tons of blast furnace gas, 140,000 barrels of coal, and for horse feed 250,000 bushels of grain and 6200 tons of hay.

There are 16,783 men on the railroad's rolls; these added to the army employed about the collieries made a total of 41,537, to whom were paid for wages during the year $13,237,292.91. It may be estimated that fully 200,000 persons depend directly for support upon the earnings of the Reading's employees. For supplies of various kinds the Company disburses millions of dollars annually, and the re-distribution of these vast sums among the population in general is suggestive of the interdependent relations existing between this corporation and the communities in which it operates.

The Loyal Legion was well attended. The children are receiving good instruction. The place of meeting will be at the Methodist church, beginning next Monday at 4 o'clock.

The subject for the ladies of the Union next week, will be "Power."

On account of the inclemency of the weather, not many of the delegates to the Bordentown convention were able to attend. Mrs. Boole who lectured so lately in our town, was to be the speaker. These conventions are very interesting. By attending them a deeper insight into the work is gained.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company announces that for the better accommodation of patrons, of the road who may need to be transferred between Broad Street Station, Philadelphia, and Market Street Wharf, a line of Union Transfer coaches has been placed in service between the two stations. Coaches leave both stations every twenty minutes from 6:30 a. m. to midnight, and on all trains all transfers are made free of charge.

This arrangement greatly facilitates travel between points in Pennsylvania and New Jersey. Excursion tickets bearing a coupon for transfer through the city are also sold at all stations.

Don't forget that advertising in our cent-a-word column costs little and profits much.

STATE NEWS.

The first Chinaman ever naturalized in the Union, got his papers in Elizabeth yesterday. He is Jo Kee, an Elizabethian, and he wants to go to China to get money which is coming to him by inheritance.

A call has been issued for a road convention, to take place at the State House, Trenton, on January 22. The idea is new, as New Jersey has never made an organized effort to secure better roads. The call is issued by the Executive Committee of the State Board of Agriculture, and the invitation is extended to all citizens of the State interested in the road question to be present.

MERCHANTVILLE.

E. W. Morris, the President of the Electric Plant has been delayed in putting up the alarm system on account of the severe weather. He has everything in readiness to go ahead as soon as the Jack Frost will permit him to do so.

A branch of the Epworth League was organized at the M. E. church last Wednesday evening and the following officers were elected: President, Mr. Gilmore; 1st vice-president, G. W. Hanley; 2d vice-president, J. E. Kilburn; 3d vice-president, Harry Marple; 4th vice-president, W. C. secretary, R. Murray; treasurer, Mr. Schmitzer.

Ice is making rapidly at present and it is possible that those who gather their crop after this may have the best stock after all.

On Monday, Feb. 1st, the annual meeting of the New Jersey Editorial Association will be held in Trenton.

At last comfortable mattresses have been provided for Camden county jurors, who are compelled to remain all night in reaching a verdict. Now let us have a new Judge when Hugg's time expires and we will all be happy.

In the last issue we named James Brian as one of the newest elected trustees of the M. E. church. This was a mistake, as Mr. Brian term had not expired. It should have read D. S. Stetson re-elected. Mr. Stetson has been a trustee for several years and has proved an earnest worker for the welfare of the church, and his reelection is doubtless to be attended with continued good service.

The iron bridge recently built by Burlington and Mercer counties over Crosswicks creek is reported to be in danger of collapse through the sinking of the Mercer county end. Poor work is said to be the cause.

A good deal of ice has been gathered from the pond, near the post office. The present outlook is for cheap ice next summer, as most of the houses are already filled and plenty of opportunity still to gather as much more.

ADVERTISEMENTS OF THE MOVEMENT.

Every word that helps to eliminate personal bitterness from the mighty struggle we are in ought to be cherished. In this conviction we publish the following letter from a Boston liquor dealer to a Boston paper, which repeated the untrue statement that our English leader leased her property to inn-keepers.

To the Editor of the Record:

Please find room for this expression of regret that an untimely allusion to Lady Henry Somerset appeared in last night's Record.

I am in the liquor business, and certainly have no sympathy with the opinions on temperance which this lady holds; but she has a right to be thought sincere, and even if the fact stated in the parliamentary statement is true, it is to be assumed that some satisfactory explanation can be made. Let us be sincere enough to suppose her honest, and respect and admire the self-sacrificing life she leads, however widely we may differ from her conclusions. LIQUOR DEALER.

Boston, Dec. 22.

In a note to one of our editors this liquor dealer (who gives name and address) writes:

Of course no one who was privileged to attend your recent meetings here would do the lady the injustice to suppose that she was capable of double dealing. I stood up for about two hours in Trenton Temple to be present at her sermon that Sunday afternoon, and would have been glad to hear for another hour. It was one of those things that touch the heart. If she owns a saloon, I am sure it must be through oversight of her business manager and not by her direction. I am sorry to read that your National President is sick; I hope and trust she will soon be well again. Wishing you ladies the happiest of New Years, I remain,

YOUR FRIEND AND ENEMY.

THE DRINKING HABIT

At meal times is so universal that it is a question as to whether we shall drink or not, but simply the question as to "what shall we drink?" Of course we are well aware that in any community there is a wide diversity of likes and dislikes relative to almost all the concerns of life and particularly in this case concerning the foods that we place upon our table. In an age when there is so much adulteration in food products practiced, and when this fact is evident to all intelligent people, it is important that you get such goods that you may know to be absolutely pure. We take great pride in offering you such a line of goods that we can guarantee to be pure and of qualities of strength and flavor to suit all tastes.
