FOOD FOR THOUGHT.

"The more we think the less we have to fear."

ADVERTISERS will be interested in the following:

In remarks upon the comparative value of advertising space, George P. Rowell & Co.'s "Newspaper Directory" speaks as follows of the advantages which weekly newspapers offer to advertisers:

"In daily papers, advertisements are worth about one-third the price which a weekly issuing the same number of copies can demand. Sunday papers, semi and tri-weeklies and all publications issued more frequently than once a week are usually classed with dailies in fixing the value of their space."

THE interests of the town and country districts are widely different, and without doubt, both will be better served by being separated and having their own committees, who will do as they are instructed by the voters. It is not only unfair, but it would be unjust to expect the town to pay for what the country wants. The roads are good enough for the use of those town people who have horses and if they do not want an expensive, hard riding stone road, how inconsistently oppressive for the country districts to ask to have the township burdened with a $25,000 dollar debt. The compromise proposition to give the township $2,500 for electric lights for $25,000 for stone roads, which some are trying to have considered, is too ridiculous for serious consideration. The town people are willing to have the taxes they pay spent for their towns. Are the country districts willing to grant an equitable distribution. If not, why?

DR. JANNEY last week again relieved his mind on the township division question with about the same wild statements—unsubstantiated by facts—that he did when he was biased down at town meeting. Now that his pet project of bonding the township has fallen through, and as he begins to realize what the union of Riverton and Palmyra in a new township will mean to the back country, he is getting desperate.

WE are informed that the late Josiah Wallace did not, nor do his administrators, pay any tax on his half million estate of stocks and bonds. It cannot be possible that some of it is not taxable. Is the assessor doing his duty in the matter?

THAT person who claims the citizens of Riverton and Palmyra are on the same social, moral or mental level as the hoodlums who were carried in by the wagon load on town meeting day should be treated as such a slanderer deserves. The majority of our citizens are earnest workers, who have come here and invested their money, and are interested in every possible way in having the best they can get for as little as is honorable. They are as good citizens as can be found, and to class them with transient farm laborers is a slander and should be resented by every honest person.

THE citizens of Palmyra desire a low tax rate, and propose to have it. A number of Palmyra residents have about all they can do to pay their building loan and other expenses, and will not consent to a higher tax rate except for pressing necessities or impositions.

THE WEEKLY NEWS has produced reliable facts and figures to prove its statements as to the cost of a stone road, built properly, to wit: $5000 per mile and an average cost of $250 per mile for repairs, which makes the total $5000 per mile per year, including interest. This, as we have said before is too expensive, considering we have as good roads as we have, also a great injustice to the larger part of the community who do not use the roads. If it is proposed to build a narrow and inferior road of course the cost of construction would be less, but the cost of repairs would after a short time. As Senator Perkins says: "It is towns should be fixed up first" and then it would be time enough to consider stone roads.

The value of property within the Fire District, which embraces Riverton and Palmyra, is proven by the assessor's look to be $853,860. This is based on the fire tax rate of 1890 and the $31040, which the collector added last year. Therefore Riverton and Palmyra contributed last year 30c. rate on $802,840, assess. value in Fire District, $2407; $133 on property added by collector ($1040), $4128. License money $475; Property of Poll and dog tax (est.) $625; total $7835. In return we received Fire Plugs $650, crockings $400, Polls $375, Total $1425.

Winter has seemed very loath to yield to spring this year, but the annual frog concert is now in full blast and we may venture to hope that spring will soon be the same. The theory that our winters are gradually becoming less rigorous, seems to be gaining scientific support but if it be founded on fact we must conclude that the past winter arrived fifty years behind time.

MY WIFE PAINTS in the Spring most everything she can lay her hands on, and if your wife does the same, she wants to recommend to her the Chilton Paints. She says, tell her they are easy to put on, and that brush-full goes a wonderfully long way. She says she does not know or care what the paint is made of, as she knows that after it's once on it lasts longer and looks better than any paint she has used, that she can get any shade of color she wants, and any quantity from a pint can to a barrel.

We have a Color Card for your wife.

SPECIAL OFFER.

In looking over our entire business we find ample cause for congratulation in the degree of success attained; but the feature of the business that we contemplate with greatest satisfaction is the marvelous reputation secured by

HOMESTEAD FLOUR

We feel very sure of this growing reputation because of the largely increased sales of this article that we note. The popularity is not without reason; on the contrary there is good and sufficient foundation for the esteem in which it is held. In the first place, the quality is at least as high for strength and purity as that of any other high grade flour on the market. In the second place the price has, as a rule, been lower than the price of other first class flour.

While the "HOMESTEAD" has been going into many new homes recently, and going to stay, we are still ambitious that others who have not yet tried should be made familiar with its merits. Therefore, as an inducement for you who have not yet tried the "HOMESTEAD FLOUR," we make this special offer. During the week beginning with Saturday, April 2nd, and continuing until the following Saturday, we will sell a large bag of HOME-STEAD FLOUR at the reduced price of 75c. The usual price of this flour is 85c, and the offer at the reduced price will hold good only during the week named.

We have two reasons for making this offer. First: If you try the flour and like it, it will result in an increase of our sales. Second: It will make you acquainted with what is at present the leading flour of the town.

THE ROAD AGENT.

The pull is up hill for almost three miles along here, and the horse goes along slowly. It is just as if he were carrying a load of lead.

But now, instead of having to go on, as it did while ago, it hangs close around the stage in a thick, dense, reddish yellow cloud, almost shutting off the view from the passengers inside. It is a strange sight to see a horse and carriage, and where there was a full score of Terence's friends and acquaintances to toast his memory and console with each other. And grief was out to tell the day Jewett "struck it" in that hole he had been peering away at over the other side of the gulch, and excitement and surprise were in the air.

In the midst of the confusion, the telegram came, and went flying—brought and sent by special courier—telling of the death of Terence. It was a blow to the heart, and the company was in a state of great excitement. The road agent, who was in the car, was the first to get up and go to the station. He looked remarkably well, even for a person whose health and spirits had always been of the very best, and I told him so, adding that in my opinion he must have drawn a capital prize in the matrimonial lottery.

He smiled happily, and took my arm to walk outside the train enclosure as he said: "That I did—that I did, my boy; just wait till you see her, and you'll be sure of it." He called a cab, gave the driver some brief instructions, and leaped in after me. We rode several minutes in silence; then Hallegan turned to me in a rather embarrassed way, and said, in a strained tone: "Billey, my boy—it's very near dinner time at our house—and there's no time for explanations. Only—if you think you've seen—my wife's face is familiar to you, isn't it? You'll remember it as though you noticed it. I'll explain after dinner."

I acquiesced wonderingly, and went to my room after I had met Mrs. Hallegan, for I was quite positive that I had never seen her before, and there was ample opportunity during the course of the excellent dinner we presently ate to study her. Now, she was of a medium height, and of a perfect, though rather slight figure. Her hair and eyes were dark, setting off her face in a clear olive complexion, and her features were of a fine, refined type. She was wearing a simple, elegant dress, and her manner was one of quiet dignity and refinement.

"I had never seen her before," I said to myself, "but she was a beautiful woman, however. She would be the better woman to be a wife to, than any I have ever known." "There was something about her," I thought, "that made me feel as if I had known her before. It was a feeling that I could not explain, but it was there."

WEDDING CARDS.

It was the first time I had heard from him for a year, and had any one else told me Terence Hallegan was a marrying man I should have derided him, but when Terence himself, in his own peculiar chirography, directed me to an envelope containing such startling news, all set forth in the highest style of the engraver's art—well, it was too much, and I went down into the camp, where surges of sorrow was obtainable in quantities to suit the purchaser, and where there was a full score of Terence's friends and acquaintances to toast his memory and console with each other.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT.

There is that scattereth, and yet increaseth; and there is that withholdeth more than is meet, but it tendeth to poverty. Proverbs, xxiv 11.

DR. JANNY'S latest effusion is not worthy a reply. Take the following for instance: "If Palmyra is selfish enough to block the wheels of all progress, save what her factional element in its narrowness conceives to be important for her, it is probably time her ability to destroy the chances of other sections of the Township to develop, had ceased." How ridiculous! The facts of the case are just the opposite. The back district adopts a dog-in-the-manger policy and then cries "Wolf! Wolf!"

The subject of a well covered and dark green lawn has been frequently discussed by our residents and many inquiries are made as to how to get the best. All kinds of fertilizers have been experimented with, giving varying results. Gibbs & Bro., Front below Market street, claim to have a grass seed which is specially adapted to this soil. What do our readers know by experience about a good lawn? If you have a good one, tell our readers how you did it.

The appeals which come to us from Russia are more touching as they become more thoroughly understood. A number of our people have subscribed and others will no doubt as the opportunity remains open. Send your subscriptions direct to the committee and they will forward it for you.

In giving the township figures last week we were led into an obvious mistake. Instead of the amount $4128.00, it should have been $4128.00. But this still leaves over $2000 of the total receipts unaccounted for.

The action of Mrs. Dornou in donating books to the Y. M. C. A. library is commendable and should be followed by others who have the ability.

To the Editor of the News:

I desire to publicly thank the Young Peoples' Alliance, King's Daughters and the many kind friends for their assistance and sympathy in my bereavement.

PEACE.

What a soft, subdued, kind, precious sound has that word so often heard from the lips of Him who spoke as never man spoke, whose advent into this world of commotion and strife, was heralded with "Peace on earth and good will to men," and whose first word of salutation to His anxious disciples after His Resurrection was Peace, and during all His stay upon earth words and acts of comfort and peace to His followers was constantly flowing from His life and lips, subduing their anxious fear of the howling storm on the lake with "Peace, be still." Great peace have they that love Thy law, and nothing shall offend them. Peace is eminently the Christian's heritage, being one of three elements that constitute the Kingdom of God set up in the heart. Righteousness, peace and joy in the Holy Ghost, peace of conscience, peace of mind, peace in the family, peace in the community, peace in business, peace in the church, peace in the world, to all who love the law of God which is perfect, converting the soul. I knew a good and faithful minister of the gospel who chose and selected, as a text from which he wanted his funeral sermon preached, those precious words of Isaiah xxxiii, 17: "And the work of righteousness shall be peace, and the effect of righteousness quietness and assurance for ever. But there is no peace to the wicked with my God, but they are like the troubled sea when it cannot rest, whose waters cast up mire and dirt." Unconverted man, try this with your own experience. Have you peace, real and solid under all circumstances, that even flows like a river, and in the rough paths of peevish nature even and opens in the breast a little heaven?

We are aware that there were some in Riverton, who would probably be willing to be set off with the country districts, but they are few, and are getting less every year. Riverton and Palmyra have mutual interests and the country districts should be allowed to flock by itself.

The following announcement has been received by many of our residents: Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Roberts request the honor of your presence at the marriage of their daughter, Augusta Meade, to Mr. Theodore Wood Keith, on Wednesday, April 20th, 1892, at 12 o'clock, Christ Church, Riverton, N. J. A special train will leave the city at 11:15 a. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Hardman have the sympathy of their many friends in the loss of their little boy William Leigh, who died suddenly of convulsions on Wednesday. The funeral will be held at 11 o'clock this Saturday morning at his parents' residence on Thomas avenue below Fourth street. Interment will be at New Cathedral cemetery, Philadelphia.

The services in the Episcopal Church next week will be unusually interesting. The Holy communion will be celebrated every morning at 9 o'clock, except Good Friday. There will be evening prayer with address daily except Friday, when the services will be morning prayer and litany at 9 a. m., the three hours devotion beginning at 12 m., and evening prayer and sermon at p. m.

TRIP TO WASHINGTON.

Leaving Broad street station at 8:31 a. m., a comfortable ride of three hours and four minutes finds us rolling into the 6th street depot at Washington. Here a star in the floor and a tablet in the wall marks the spot where our beloved father fell when shot by the assassin Guiteau.

The first object to attract the tourist's attention upon alighting in this city of magnificent distances are the streets. Think of 700 miles of streets paved with asphalt 80 feet from curb to curb and sidewalks 30 feet wide. The avenues are still wider. What a paradise for bicyclists! Taking the street car on Pennsylvania avenue to Georgetown, thence by electric car on Tenleytown road, four and a quarter miles for five cents, over the spurs of the outlying foot hills of the Blue Ridge, we pass Oak View, the former summer residence of Grover Cleveland, and the proposed site of the Methodist University, Bishop Hurst being the chief promoter of the movement.

But it is of the Washington monument I wish to speak principally in this letter, besides which for size all other obelisks are insignificant. Commenced by subscription in 1848 it was abandoned in 1885 when 175 ft. high. The Government took charge of the completion in 1876, and the cap stone was placed in position Dec. 6th, 1884. It is built of Maryland marble, and is 555 feet 4 inches high, 55 feet square at the base and 34 feet 6 in. at the 500 ft. mark. The walls are 16 ft. thick at the bottom and 18 in. at the top. There are 900 iron steps, and until three years ago were the only means of reaching the top. Since then an elevator has been running from 9:30 until 5 o'clock each day, making its trips half hourly, carrying thirty passengers each time and consuming eleven minutes in the ascent. This monument to Washington is a landmark on approaching the city, and is large enough to command attention at short range, but it is not until you arrive at the base and look up that the immensity of the structure impresses itself upon you. At this season of the year the warm air on the outside causes it to sweat to an extent that requires mopping up occasionally. As we ascend we observe the stones with appropriate inscriptions engraved that were sent by the states, civic societies and foreign countries as a tribute to our illustrious and immortal Washington.

There are two windows in each side of the apex. These are closed in stormy weather with blocks of marble that by an ingenious device are easily handled. From these windows the finest view of the city and surrounding country may be obtained. The altitude is so great that the city lies beneath you as it were, and every object of interest in and around Washington can be plainly seen without a glass. There are more objects of interest in Washington than in any other place in this country, but don't go there without making a trip to the top of the monument.

MORE AMON.

MRS. ELLIS.

Mrs. Ellis, in the M. E. church, on Wednesday night, gave a remarkable address, reviewing her life as told how a farmer's wife became the match for the shrewdest politicians of our state. She stated that the scientific bill, of New Jersey, was virtually killed by Sen. Voorhees, of Union Co., and that New Jersey is the only state north of Mason and Dixon's line, save

In liana, but what has the law upon its statutes. The touching picture told by Mrs. Ellis of the final interview between Senator Voorhees and the late Mrs. Downs will surely never be forgotten by her hearers.

Keeping House.

Just at this time of the year when so many burdens fall upon the housekeeper that the days seem all too short to accomplish the work, we would call to mind the idea of a kind word to those who are helping, a gift of a dress to the cook, a ticket for a charity concert for the young maid, a picture book for the whitewash man. These things seem all so cheap and small, yet they will lighten the burden of housekeeping in a most wonderful degree. The kind word going with the gift endows the jaded spirit with new strength, electrifies the muscle, and beside, at once repaying the giver more than the cost is a practical following of the life of Christ.

Cut off their Credit.

The above heading was suggested by a letter which was received during the past week at the Grocers' Collection Bureau from a delinquent in answer to a first notice. It stated "as soon as my instalments on my furniture are paid up I will try and pay up the bill you speak of." Just think of it; here is a person who when hungry was fed by the grocer, and when the grocer asks for his money he is told that he must wait until the instalments on his furniture are paid. There is every probability that long before the furniture is paid for some other article will be running on the instalment account and that some other grocer will receive a "standoff" until that is paid for.

Golden Eagle Feathers.

Palmyra Castle will visit Doran Castle, of Philadelphia, on this Saturday evening. Members will take 7:39 train from Palmyra.

The Pilgrims degree was conferred on one candidate last Wednesday evening. Next Wednesday the 2nd degree will be conferred.

There will be a meeting of True Knights Commandery next Wednesday evening.

W. C. T. U.

The subject for next Thursday will be Sanctity.

The meetings this week have been great benefit to those who have attended them, it is hoped the circles may keep on widening until there shall be such a strong temperance sentiment in this town that the time may come when no liquor can be bought or sold in our town.

Mrs. Ellis, gave a good talk to mothers at the meeting on Thursday afternoon.

WANAMAKER'S.

PHILADELPHIA, April 4, 1892.

Fully seventy-five styles of the 18-cent half wool Challis. Nothing we ever had in such goods could look back at these. The cloth is right, thoroughly light—so it has been before. But the printing! There is where 1892 jumps ahead. Notice these sweet briars—natural as if a careless hand had dropped them. And all on an 18c Challis!

Just across the Main Aisle is another realm of roses and posies caught in the folds of dainty Dress Stuffs. Take one, the Javanese—a sublimated Challis. Foamy, fairy-like as the Challis and with the added softness of satiny stripes, almost ethereal. Ablaze with blossoms, as if Titania and her train had held a Feast of Flowers there. Violets, ragged robins, hollyhocks, pansies, lilacs, what-nots, tossed and tumbled over them with witching wildness. 85c a yard seems trifling for so much beauty.

Like painting the lily you say to try to tie another grace to those ravishing French Crepons? Then you haven't seen the very latest—finest of the fine with a sprinkling of silk-embroidered figures. It really has made loveliness lovelier. Ten of the dreamiest shades, $1.25.

You can best get a mental grasp on the greatness of our Gingham gathering by taking a single style, one of the littlest in the lot—Polka Dots, for instance. Six sizes of Polka Dots in Scotch Ginghams alone anywhere from pistol-bullet to bouncing apple bigness. Thirty-four distinct patterns in the spots. See counter end for an object lesson. 25, 50 and 60c.

That unexpected and unprecedented host of 15c Ginghams brightens the next segment—Have you noticed the quality of the cloth? .25c grade by any test you choose to try. And the colors, four blues counting in the very last dye victory. Then such rosy pinks, and melon grays, and soft tans; such reds and black and whites! And all criss-crossed and checkered in the Gingham way of highest tone.

Take the best 65c Black Cashmere you ever saw and put it beside this at 55c—38 inches wide. You won't hesitate to make choice—the 55c grade every time.

There's a story back of that 55c Black Cashmere. Not to be told in words, however. The stuff itself must do the telling. Right eloquent those yards are. Fineness with weight. It's the wool that adds cost. A thin-blooded Black Cashmere is a poor affair.

We have had rare bargains in Black Cashmeres before, but nothing to equal this 55c lot in real values.

Close by is a Black All-wool Challis, 38 inches, 50c. Elegant.

And black Silk Wrap Clarlette, dainty and wide (44 inches), $1, $1.25, $1.50, $1.75.

The filmy folds of Grenadine and Hernani are near neighbors. Each with a very pleasant price presence. Black Bordered Camel's Hair Grenadines 45 inches, that were $1.75 last season are $1 now. Black Silk-and-wool Hernani with gros grain border that was $2 last year is $1.25. Width 45 inches.

No wonder the new Bell Skirt is such a favorite. Graceful in its lines. Helpful to all in any figure. Such Skirts are a part of all the newest-style Costumes that have been admired so much in our Ready-made Suit Room.

At $5, Handsome costume of Wool Cloth in navy blue and black; correct shape Bell Skirt with Bodice, Outing Coat and Vest, finished with pearl buttons.

At $5, Women's Muslin Dress, handsomely trimmed with Swiss embroideries and neatly finished.

At $6, Handsome Costumes of All-wool Cloth, tan, brown, navy blue, black, light gray, and coaching drab; made with the new and correct Outing Coat and the perfect fitting Bell Skirt with Bodice Belt. Fresh this morning.

At $12.50, costumes of All-wool cloth, Bell Skirt in its perfection, finished with beautiful Bodice Belt. The coat is the "Margate," half lined with changeable silk; seams all finished with satin, sewed throughout with silk, both Skirt and Coat made and finished entirely by men tailors, thus insuring a properly pressed and finished garment.

When we say English, German and American Suitings in the Merchant Tailoring store we mean just exactly that. You'll never find a London ticket on Yankee Cloth here. It isn't a question of "just as good" or "just as stylish," it's a question of getting just what you pay for. Ask to see the English Worsteds for Coat and Vest and English Trouserings. They're a closing lot at a closing price. A suit from them, complete, $28. That's a fair measure of what your money may be made to-order Clothing. You can't go wrong on the Suit at $25, the one at $50 or any of the between.

The most amusing incident of April first, that we heard of, was an exclamation by one of a company of workmen, on Morgan avenue, who said "what a flock of geese!" All looked up and finally it dawned on them that the geese were those who were looking for them.

Last Saturday night some of the latter class destroyed the street lamp that is always kept burning brightly at the residence of C. H. Stackhouse, corner Broad and Elm. This is the second time within a few months. It is pity that the perpetrators of such outrages cannot be punished as they deserve.

Mr. Geo. F. Stackhouse had a party of twenty-one at his house last Saturday evening, probably the number was to remind him they thought he was just as young as he used to be. They had a pleasant time of course, and those who remained over Sunday had a pleasant drive over our pleasant country roads.

The services last Sunday at the Methodist Episcopal church were very well attended. In the morning extra seats had to be provided and even standing room was at a premium at night. Franklin Butler; Looking Toward Sandown, by Mr. Childs; a dozen Happy Hours magazine, and Scribner's magazine.

There is a prolific supply of busy-bodies in this vicinity. If a neighbor attends to his business and provides for his family he is spotted and called selfish and tendered a liberal dose of advice as to the proper course for him to pursue. If talkative, or gossiping, he is rated as a conceited chap, etc. Such intruders should be taught that everybody's business is their own business and to mind their own affairs first.

Rev. John F. Fenton, in charge of Christ Church, was advanced to the priesthood by Rt. Rev. Bishop Scarborough last Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock, in Christ Church. Rev. C. M. Stewart, of Trenton, one of the examining Chaplains presented the candidate and Rev. J. H. Converse, of Riverton, preached the sermon, which was highly spoken of as an able presentation of the importance of a three fold order of the ministry, such as the Protestant Episcopal Church has. The other clergy present were Rev. R. G. Moses, of Merchantville, Revs. Messrs. Underhill, Hall and Evans, of Camden, N. J.

Mr. Chas. H. Stackhouse has been in Washington, D. C., this week painting a map of the world on the window of the Western Union Telegraph office. This map shows all the sub-marine cables and their overland trunk lines with the names of all places at which cables land, about 200 in all. On the window adjoining is over one hundred feet of silver lettering, explanatory of the map. The first one of the kind was placed on the windows at 10th and Chestnut, Philadelphia. It was found to be such an excellent advertisement that the company have decided to use the same in other cities. One can have but a faint idea of the extent of telegraphic communications around the world until they see this map.

A petition has been signed by the proper number of freeholders and placed in the hands of the township clerk, calling upon the township committee to appoint a time for the holding of a meeting of the Palmyra Side-walk District, which includes the whole of the Palmyra sidewalk district to go to the amount to be expended on sidewalks. It is proposed to lay sidewalks on nearly all the streets, as then the expense can thereby be lessened and the improvement be in a uniform manner. Broken stones are proposed, laid four feet wide and five inches deep, which makes a very hard and durable pavement. That of Mr. Blydenburgh's has been down two or three years and is very satisfactory. The cost will only be about twelve cents per foot or $4 per each lot. We hope every one will carefully consider this matter and decide for this improvement.

The bell will be rung for the daily Lenten services at Christ Church, Palmyra, half an hour before each service, and again immediately before the service begins.

ARGUMENT.

Brisk competition in business frequently severs life long friendships; it sometimes it disrupts families. It is related that two brothers, agents for rival railroads, became embodied in a discussion as to which line hauled the most lumber out of a certain territory. Words ran high, and much bad feeling was engendered, matters reached a point where a personal encounter seemed inevitable, and both men were more or less badly marked. It was nonsensical of course and unworthy of grown men, but it was the result of argument. Now there is no argument so convincing as FACTS. Now as a matter of fact, we have in stock, of fancy and staple groceries, goods that are strictly up to the standard, and as we have always found in the past that it pays to handle this class of goods, we will so continue in future. We think this is a fact that any argument will find hard to turn down.

If the opinion of those who have availed themselves of the special offer made last week is what we have every reason to expect it to be, we anticipate a still larger increase in our sales of "Homestead."

We can furnish "Homestead" either by the barrel or in sacks at all times.

The most amusing incident of April first, that we heard of, was an exclamation by one of a company of workmen, on Morgan avenue, who said, "what a flock of geese!" All looked up and finally it dawned on them that the geese were those who were looking for them.

Last Saturday night some of the latter class destroyed the street lamp that is always kept burning brightly at the residence of C. H. Stackhouse, corner Broad and Elm. This is the second time within a few months. It is pity that the perpetrators of such outrages cannot be punished as they deserve.

The services last Sunday at the Methodist Episcopal church were very well attended. In the morning extra seats had to be provided and an extraordinary room was at a premium at night. There is a prolific supply of busy-bodies in this vicinity. If a neighbor attends to his business and provides for his family he is spotted and called selfish and tendered a liberal dose of advice as to the proper course for him to pursue. If talkative, or gossipy, he is rated as a conceited chatterbox. Such intruders should be taught that everybody's business is their own business and to mind their own affairs first.

The duplicates of Mrs. Marsha Washington and Mrs. Benjamin Harrison will be present at the Ladies Auxiliary entertainment, Easter Monday evening, in Morgan hall. All young men between 18 and 28 years of age who believe in the principles of the Republican party are invited to join the club. The membership at present numbers about 30, 10 of whom will cast their first vote this year. The club will hold a benefit at the Chestnut Street Theatre on April 21st. The play is entitled "A Texas Steer" Help the boys along.

The Jefferson Club has now furnished all the rooms in their building on Broad street. The first floor will be used as a general club room, the second floor as a pool room, and the third story will be used as a directors room and for general private business purposes. All the rooms are furnished with oak chairs and tables, and the floors covered with Brussels carpets. The regularly quarterly meeting of the club was held 1st Monday night, when, among other things, the club unanimously voted to endorse ex-president, Grover Cleveland, for re-nomination.

Rev. John F. Fenton, in charge of Christ Church, was advanced to the priesthood by Rt. Rev. Bishop Scarborough last Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock, in Christ Church. Rev. C. M. Stewart, of Trenton, one of the examining Chaplains presented the candidate and Rev. J. H. Converse, of Riverton, preached the sermon, which was highly spoken of as an able exposition of the importance of a three fold order of the ministry, such as the Protestant Episcopal Church has. The other clergy present were Rev. R. G. Moses, of Merchantville, Rev. Messrs. Underhill, Hall and Evans, of Camden, N. J.

Mr. Chas. H. Stackhouse has been in Washington, D. C. this week painting a map of the world on the window of the Western Union Telegraph office. This map shows all the sub-marine cables and their overland trunk lines with the names of all places at which cables land, about 200 in all. On the window adjoining is over one hundred feet of silver lettering, explanatory of the map. The first one of the kind was placed on the windows at 10th and Chestnut, Philadelphia. It was found to be such an excellent advertisement that the company have decided to use the same in other cities. One can have but a faint idea of the extent of telegraphic communications around the world until they see this map.

A petition has been signed by the proper number of freeholders and placed in the hands of the township clerk, calling upon the township committee to appoint a time for the holding of a meeting of the Palmyra Side-walk District, which includes the whole of the Palmyra street district, to vote on the amount to be expended on sidewalks. It is proposed to lay sidewalks on nearly all the streets, and the expense can thereby be lessened and the improvement be in a uniform manner. Broken stone is proposed, laid four feet wide and five inches deep, which makes a very hard and durable pavement. That of Mr. Blydenburgh's has been down two or three years and is very satisfactory. The cost will only be about twelve cents per foot or $4 per each lot. We hope every one will carefully consider this matter and decide for this improvement.

The bell will be rung for the daily Lenten services at Christ Church, Palmyra, half an hour before each service, and again immediately before the service begins.

Holy Week.—Daily Morning Prayer (Friday excepted) 10 a. m., daily Evening Prayer and address, 8 p. m.; Friday, Morning Prayer, 9 a. m., Meditation, 12 m. to 3 p. m., Easter Day—Holy Communion, 7:30 a. m., Morning Prayer, Sermon and Holy Communion, 11 a. m., Children's Festival, 3 p. m., Evening Prayer and sermon, 7:30 p. m.

Mr. Thomas Fields has just completed a very handsome bathhouse on Pensauken creek at Kie-le's bridge, consisting of four rooms, that he has furnished in elegant style, for his summer residence. He has three fine boats that he intends using for the pleasure of himself and friends. Mr. Fields was for many years in the wall paper business in Philadelphia, from which he has just retired with a competency. He is well known to a great many of the older residents of our town, and his presence will be welcomed by them. He has also purchased a splendid driving establishment and we hope to see him speeding along our roads as soon as the good weather sets in.

He has also purchased a splendid driving establishment and we hope to see him speeding along our roads as soon as the good weather sets in.

Mr. Thomas Fields has just completed a very handsome bathhouse on Pensauken creek at Kie-le's bridge, consisting of four rooms, that he has furnished in elegant style, for his summer residence. Miss Lizzie Glover, of Garfield ave. was at Atlantic City Easter Sunday and Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Smith, mother, and father, came from Frankford on Monday evening, to attend the past and present tea.

Mr. Lonnie T. Vanbrunt and Miss Lizzie S. Vanbrunt were united in matrimony at the F. Imry's Methodist parsonage on Thursday evening, April 21, 1892, by the Rev. Geo. H. Heal jr. Both of Beverly, New Jersey.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Barcus sympathize with them in the sudden death of their sweet little 8 year old daughter, Ethel Wilson, on the morning of the 21st, of scarlet fever. She was only sick about thirty-six hours and the sudden loss causes great grief. The interment was strictly private on Friday afternoon.

Mr. John Stackhouse of Morgan avenue, who has been suffering from mental trouble for some time became violently insane early on Wednesday morning so that it took twelve men to hold him down to prevent him doing injury. It seems he had a delusion that he would murder his wife and he had made an attack on her that night. Dr. Sharp was called in and after administering some sleeping medicine the delirious man became more docile. He was taken to Trenon asylum the same day.

The Easter services at the Methodist church passed off very nicely. Acting on the suggestion of the pastor the chancel was profusely and beautifully decorated with growing plants and flowers, palms and calla lilies.

Rev. Mr. Neal preached a forceful sermon in the morning to a very large congregation, some even went away without obtaining a seat. The sermon was on the argumentative line, proving the resurrection of Christ. The arguments, as the pastor brought them forth from Josephus and the secular historians of that period, and from sacred history, were very conclusive and assuring. The Easter service of songs and recitation by the Sunday school in the afternoon was very interesting.

MARRIED.

Comfort-Golcher.—At the residence of Frank Walter, Leconey avenue, Palmyra N. J., April 20th 1892, by Rev. C. S. Powelson. Taylor G. Comfort to Miss Mary A. Golcher, both of Philadelphia.

OBITUARY.

Mr. Clayton R. Cole, of Westfield who had lived to the advanced age of nearly 78 years was buried last Sunday afternoon. The relatives met at the house, but the funeral service which was largely attended by numerous friends and neighbors were held at the Ashbury M. E. Church. The Rev. Geo. H. Neal, Jr. of Palmyra, M. E. Church, preached the sermon. Mr. Cross, a school teacher who formerly boarded in the family, now of Dover, Del., spoke very feelingly and at considerable length concerning the character of the deceased. Mr. Henry Vanvane a life long friend, also alluded to his remarkable evenness of temper and to his many excellent traits and few faults.

Mr. Cole was a successful farmer and much respected by everybody who knew him. He leaves a widow and four children who will inherit the estate valued at about $50,000.

PAST AND PRESENT TEA.

The past and present tea, given by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A., in Morgan Hall, on Monday evening was a success. The hall was very tastefully decorated with bunting and flags. The chairs were grouped together in the centre of the room and the various tables arranged around the sides of the hall, with the fancy dresses and costumes of the aids, producing a very pretty effect. The Ladies' Auxiliary deserve the warmest thanks, not only of the Association, but of the whole community, for the creditable entertainment, and in giving us a chance to spend an evening in such a delightful manner. The following are the tableaux given: Brial families, of which will you choose; Miles Standish Courtship, or who don't you speak for yourself, John; Elaine; The gipsy fortune teller; Popping the question—old style; The proposal—new style; Eve's clock—old style; Eve's clock—new style; Reading from a sense of duty; The three graces. Goddess of Liberty. The full wing were the aids in charge of the tableaux. Mrs. A. G. Appel, matron of "Present" tea table. Aids—Misses E. Manire, M. Lemaitre, E. Thompson, C. Cole, Horner, E. King. Candy table—Misses Mame King—Donnelly, Emily Russell, Ida Fodell.

The subject for next Thursday will be Just. How much could be done if every member was impressed it was her duty to attend each meeting. By being present each week one can learn what is being quietly done by the Union. Can not the household duties be arranged so an hour and a half could be given to aid in this grand work? The reward for good works is so sure, the suppression of the liquor traffic so desirable; how necessary then at each women's club be at her post of duty.

The May Century, in addition to the serials now running, will contain complete stories by Thomas Nelson Page and Wolcott Balestier, and a humorous skit by Harry Stillwell Edwards, author of "Two Runaways."

FOOD FOR THOUGHT.

A man may get along without advertising so can a wagon without grease—but it goes hard.

Our friends will be glad to know that our paid subscription list is larger than at any previous time. It will also be seen that our advertising patronage is not only of the best kind but is crowding our reading matter so much that we are contemplating an enlargement.

Is there any partiality shown by the township committee in fixing up several miles of sidewalks, in the country district, and then raising the question of legality of doing a small amount of street grading to prevent the water from running over the new improved sidewalks in Palmyra that are to be put down at the expense of the property owners?

DR. JANNEY has not awakened to the fact that bonding the township to get improved roadways is a thing of the past. The boards of freeholders are now recognized as the proper ones to do this work, and assess the cost and repair on the county at large. But no thanks are due him because we are not saddled with a $25,000 bonded debt.

WE are glad that many of the substantial men of the country district are willing, and even urging, a division of the township on about the same lines urged by this journal. They recognize the divergence of interests and opinions between the towns and their district, and will accept the only true solution of the subject.

Why is the township committee so averse to accepting the streets of Riverton and Palmyra as public roads? They certainly have the authority and expressed request to do so and there is no reasonable excuse why this act of justice should be longer delayed. Is it because the real estate fronting on the country roads pay so much more taxes (1) per foot frontage than that of our towns do, or is it flagrant partiality?

WE are glad to notice that the residents of Palmyra were the first to take advantage of the act for the improvement of sidewalks, which they did at a meeting called for that purpose on Saturday evening. This shows a progressive spirit, and yet not an extravagant one, as the nature of the improvement is substantial but not expensive. The crushed stone, when purchased in such large quantities, costing little, if any, more than gravel.

WE regret to see a movement on foot in Riverton towards incorporation. The Riverton village act and the borough act, passed in 1891, are being considered. If Riverton sets off by itself as a borough, then the back district would undoubtedly cut off into a new township for self protection for fear Palmyra would pay them in their own coin, so that it is probable that a new township will be formed anyhow. Would it not be a wise move on the part of Riverton to defer any action for a separate government until facts prove that Riverton and Palmyra cannot get along together in a new township harmoniously?

Rev. C. W. Nevins, who has charge of the Presbyterian church during the absence of Rev. Mr. Houghaling, preached last Sunday night, on the Power of Woman's Influence, from the text found in Judges xvi chapter, 16 and 17 verses.

He called attention to the names of two men, who were known to the world chiefly and only through woman's influence—Barak and Samson—one for good and the other evil. Barak did not attempt to fight the battles of the Lord until urged by the holy and persistent Deborah. Samson finally fell into the hands of his enemies, and for ever lost the power of seeing, by listening to and being led by that wicked woman Delilah. The preacher called attention to the real cause of Samson's weakness, which was the abandonment of his Nazirite vow, as shown by allowing his hair to be cut, which he had vowed he would not do, while he remained a Nazirite. What would Samson have been, with all his power, had he had a Deborah instead of Delilah?

Woman should not become man's rival or competitor. She saves the world in a way peculiarly her own. She need not become more manlike. As man's helpmate she rules supreme. She surpasses man in enduring trial. Her intuition reads character while man is detecting. Woman's field is indirect influence. The nearer woman draws to manliness, the less she has. She need not meet man on his own level. The world of the future depends on what the women of the day are. She has more power than all the armies of the world. Women move men, and men move the world. Is she realizing her power and trying to use it? Man loves and fears her as nothing else. Let this mighty power of your influence be for God and the right.

OBSERVATIONS.
Uncle Josh, the funny man, should get his articles copyrighted then take to the platform and shoot them off, they might attract a few small boys, and Farmer would be a big attraction. Some of our organizations should try and secure them for a benefit. A number of our citizens will then lay in a supply of decomposed eggs.

When the squatters of Squattersville, (termed so by little brains) get their new sidewalks made they should serve notice on two or three of the backwoods farmers that their company is not wanted in a way. We want our walks kept clean from the kind of grime that sticks to their boots. May they hereafter and forever perambulate in Buzzard's Glory.

At the public sale of the school house, last Saturday afternoon, Mr. C. E. Price became the purchaser. The price paid was $75. Mr. Zisak bought the big store for $7.

It is reported that Mr. C. C. Rianhard contemplates purchasing several lots on Fulton street, overlooking Dray's nursery, on which to build a larger and finer residence.

A pleasant entertainment was given on Thursday evening last by members of the mothers' meeting of Christ Church. Those interested were Mrs. Faunce, Mrs. Faust, Mrs. Converse, Miss S. Seckel, Mrs. J. C. Davis, Mrs. Reese and others. The young ladies of the parish rendered valuable aid also.

A pretty little family wedding took place at the residence of Mr. W. J. Thomason, on Main street, at 4.30 o'clock, Wednesday afternoon. The bride was the handsome niece of Mr. Thomason, Miss Jennie F. Snyder, of Toronto, Canada, and the groom was Mr. J. Lindsay Sells, of Baltimore. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. H. Converse, rector of Christ Church. The happy pair left on the 9.16 p. m. train for a trip to Washington, returning to Baltimore, where they will reside.

Mr. Cowperthwait, contemplates putting up two mail boxes, for the collection of mail, making four in all. One will probably be at Fourth and Thomas avenues, and the other at the wharf. Three collections are made daily. The cost of the collection from these boxes is not born by the mail department but by Mr. Cowperthwait personally.

The fourth Assembly will be given at the Riverton Lyceum, on Monday evening, May 2d, with the following patronesses, Mrs. Edwin Stevens, Mrs. A. H. Gungwer, Mrs. Herbert Keen, Mrs. C. Howard Clark, Mrs. Geo. W. B. Roberts, Mrs. Edward C. Grice, and the following managers, Mr. Chas. W. Davis, Mr. Walter E. Robb, Mr. J. Warren Coulsten, Jr., Mr. Craford Coster, Jr., Mr. William Chase Stevens, and Mrs. Julian Wilson. Special cars will leave Philadelphia at half-past seven on the evening of the assembly.

A meeting was held at the club house, on the wharf, on Tuesday night, to consider incorporation. Mr. E. H. Ogden was called to the chair. The discussion was an informal one but there was a decided feeling manifest that Riverton should derive the benefit for her taxes. Dr. Hall placed himself on record as favoring the proposed division of the township, by which Riverton and Palmyra were retained under one form of government. He also offered the borough act of 1891, as a substitute for the Riverton village act, as being one of the best forms of government for our town. By it both Riverton and Palmyra could be incorporated together, as two wards, each having two councilmen, and the mayor being elected at large. The outcome of the meeting was the appointing of a committee of five to look into the various forms of local government and report at a meeting to be called May 15th. The committee is as follows: Dr. Hall, chairman; Messrs. S. B. Coale, C. C. Rianhard, A. J. Borie, John C. S. Davis

STEPHEN FLANAGAN DEAD.
Mr. Flanagan died at his city residence 1509 Arch street, on Tuesday, after a lingering illness. He leaves a wife and the following children: Mrs. Charles W. Davis, Mrs. Albert Foster, Mrs. Albert Cook, Dr. Henry Weyman, Mrs. Stephen Poyr, Messrs. Louis & Charles Flanagan. There are none but those who have words of praise for this loyal citizen, earnest friend, good adviser, and kind father. He was a member of the Vestry of Christ Church, Riverton, his Summer home. Our town will miss the useful service of this valued resident.

Sonnet or Mrs. Lura, Mr. Flanagan was born on January 17, 1819, on Front street below Christian, and at the age of thirteen he entered the office of the Saturday Evening Post, located in Carter's alley, near Third st., at a salary of $100 a year.

In 1835, when sixteen year old, he entered the dry goods house of Edward Rowley, on Third street above Market, as a clerk, he remained there a year, after which he went into the employ of C & F King, importers of Lagayra coffee, hydes, etc., on South Delaware avenue.

In 1841 Commodore Stockton's attention was attracted to the business abilities of Mr. Flanagan, then only twenty two years old. The Commodore sent him to Albany to look after large coal interests. The result was that Mr. Flanagan made Com. Stockton's Albany interest a very solid business on his own account on South Delaware avenue, associating with him his brother, James M. Flanagan, some years deceased.

The new firm prospered as every one expected it would, for Mr. Stephen Flanagan was a man of solid and to facing and overcoming difficulties, and making money out of anything he touched. The principle business of the house was building and operating tugs and steamboats; and, though steam-towing then was much smaller business than now in this port, the firm of Stephen & James M. Flanagan, managed to get a good run of trade.

At the end of each year the books of the house showed large profits, more tugs were built, more men employed, the quarters improved and firm began to have the reputation of a very solid and well-to-do concern. Financial storms destroyed or crippled scores of other firms, but the Flanagans weathered them all, without important losses, and when the war came, in 1861, it found the concern on a sounder basis than ever, doing a great and profitable business and prepared to increase its energies, and build more vessels than ever, as the exigencies of the time demanded.

The concern went on through the war steadily increasing its volume of business and emerged from the trying period still rich and prosperous.

SIDEWALKS.
The meeting to take action on a sidewalk for Palmyra was fairly well attended on last Saturday night. Mr. E. H. Ogden was elected chairman and Mr. R. L. Temple was chosen secretary. Mr. Temple read a part of the laws governing the making of new sidewalks and after some comments offered the following:

Resolved, That the township committee be and is hereby requested to have constructed, within the limits of side walk district, a side walk of not less than 4 feet in width, and not less than 4 inches in depth, to be constructed of material known as crushed blue stone, at a cost not to exceed 2 cents per lineal foot, and to be laid at a standard grade, to be established by the Township committee.

Resolved, That the following sidewalks fronting or abutting on the streets named and so constructed: North side of railroad, 4th street to 5th side Elm to Delaware Ave.; 5th both sides, Elm to Delaware Ave.;

Mr. R. M. Garrell suggested the vote be by ballot. Mr. C. E. Price was allowed to address the meeting. Mr. A. H. Walton called attention to the irregular grade of the streets and showed the necessity of grading that as well as the sidewalk. Mr. J. S. Scheidel made a motion that the price should not exceed 12 cents per foot, which was incorporated in the original motion.

Mr. Garrell claimed the township should establish a grade, Mr. James Forrest asked what the township committee could do to establish a grade. Mr. M. W. Wisman believed if the township committee had a right to lay out the streets they had a right to grade. Capt. Hall called attention to some sidewalks which are not 5 ft. wide. Mr. Thos. Hawks asked if all sidewalks would have to be relaid to be approved by township committee. Before the vote was put the following amendment was added by vote.

Resolved, That the township committee be requested to establish a grade at the expense of the township, according to the resolution passed at the town meeting of 1891.

The vote was by ballot and resulted in favor of the resolution. It was decided by vote to appropriate eight thousand dollars to cover the expenses of the construction.

It was resolved that the Township committee be and is hereby requested to pass an ordinance for sidewalk district No. 1, requesting the construction and repairing of sidewalks therein, and that all sidewalks constructed or repaired after the passage of such ordinance shall not be of less width than 4 feet, constructed of crushed blue stone, flag stone or cement, and laid at the grade established by the Township committee.

Weight, quality and lustre every whit as good as we've had. $1 a yard for—thousands of pieces. The price is 75c. Across the aisle, one from hundreds—All-silk and Wool Mexican mesh Black Grenadine at 65c, imported to sell at $1.

Clap a glass on this Printed Scotch Crape. See why it's crinkly? Some threads loose where others draw. But notice the threads; plump, round, even. Honest work in every twirl that changed that cotton into cord.

Such a Crape will stand banging wear and hold its beauty. Maybe a dozen designs; as many more colorings. Price? Fifteen cents. But the makers never meant it. Imported to sell at 35c.

Crafter still, a trifle lighter, American, and also 15c. Thirteen plain colors, counting daintiest pinks, blues, heliotropes, reds and tans. Many a bewitching evening dress comes from those pretty pieces.

We've passed Sateens, silky Sateens, too long. While all the world of printed Dress Stuffs—Challis, Organdies, Mousselines, Jaconets, Brandenburghs—has been getting ahead as never before, Sateens have been keeping close step with the leaders.

After the delightful softness and finish the glory of Sateen is in the color work. French art takes a high flight there. Such mosses and chrysanthemums and pinks! Daisies, real enough to worry a thrifty farmer. Dark grounds or light and all aglow with tints that tell of master-work in picturing. 35c a yard.

Pekin Stripes—Sateen with satin stripes and blossom bits. Modest but masterly. New shade of tan, blue-gray, reseda, lavender, Nile, ashes of rose, gray. Chintz colorings coming. 37 1/2c.

French Organdies catch fresh brightness with every dawn. Two of the last comers show a dreamy scattering of chrysanthemums and bits of lilac on the gauzy film of cobwebby cotton. 37 1/2c.

Linen Lawns, 37 styles, at 30c; 35 styles, at 35c. That tells variety—their cool, crisp beauty is beyond words.

White grounds touched with black or blue or red (or two of them) into fine ferny fronds, bits of grasses, heads of grain, plant sprays, gradings of shadings, in wiggly shapes.

New art in them—beyond the finess of Linen and the wit of weaving—artists' art; soft, shadowy, refreshing as the shade of a tree.

If you ever liked Linen Lawns you will love them now.

Linen for the Summer bed—interesting if you court coolness in such clothes.

Full 90 in. bleached Linen Sheet at 90c, equal of any $1 Sheet elsewhere.

Hamstitched Linen Pillow Cases, 22x36 in., 1 pair. Bolster Cases, $1.25 each.

The heavy German Table Linens are plenty once more—at least 25 per cent under the regular retail market.

6 patterns, 60 in. heavy Drill at 50c.
6 patterns, 62 in. fine Damask at 70c.
8 patterns, 70 in., at 80c.
6 patterns, 68 in. heavy Single Damask at 85c.

7 patterns extra heavy German Barnsey Double Damask, 62 in., $1; 72 in., $1.20.

These two sorts of Shoes will cost you $3 a pair if reproduced. The sizes are complete, the fit perfect. They are great bargains at the prices.

Bargain No. 3—Boys' Stout Shoes, sizes 11 to 2, widths A to D, spring heels, buttons, good quality, worth regular $1.75, to-day $1.

The Dardanells

is perhaps the most important water passage in the world, politically. It is the channel which joins the sea of Marmara and indirectly the Black sea with the Grecian Archipelago, a d so with the Mediterranean and the Atlantic beyond. It is forty seven miles in length and one to four miles in width, and is under the control of the Sultan of Turkey. It is strongly fortified on both sides. It is the portal of Constantinople, and for centuries it has had a great military and political importance and the extensive fortifications on either side of the Dardanells are necessary for Turkey's own protection.

These are whole cakes, each weighing a full pound, made of the best material and in the best manner, and so wrapped to keep fresh and moist for two weeks, if necessary.
