IF YOU USE A FRENCH COFFEE POT you should use Pulverized Coffee. Do you know that there is a vast difference in Pulverized Coffee? When Pulverized Coffee is dark in color it shows that the coffee has been heated in the process of pulverizing, which has "sprung" the oil, giving to the coffee a slightly rancid taste, thus spoiling the flavor.
When coffee is rightly pulverized it should be a beautiful golden brown and almost as fine as flour.
THE HOME BRAND JAVA COFFEE is pulverized by our new roller process, which does not heat the coffee, but leaves it beautiful in color of the required fineness, rich in flavor and with a delicious aroma. Try a cup of it free of charge at Messrs. Strawbridge & Clothier's. Ask your grocer for it.

HOUSE CLEANING.
A great "hush and cry" thing all over. The annual cleaning of Spring. Men help us, Up carpets come. In our eyes, on our clothes, they dust cling. With broom and with pail, With brush and with ball, We beat and we scrub until tired; The water we splash, Sometimes china we smash, When in confusion we're apt to get tired. No callers to bother, No grumbles from "father," All things go smoothly and finely; The house-cleaning done There's an end to the fun! And house and grounds shine now brightly.

LITTLE MAID OF POVERTY FLATS.
Babette thrust a hat pin into Marie Antoinette's thin, clad sawdust body. "I'm so lonesome," she said, appealingly. But Marie Antoinette's classical face remained solidly indifferent. "An' we can't have any supper until mademoiselle gets those vests done. We didn't have very much for dinner," she added reflectively.
Marie Antoinette, propped up in one corner of the little, dingy, upper hall, showed no sympathy. Babette rested her chin in her hands and watched the two children on the floor below fight over the possession of a gorgeous tomato can. The contest was not a very exciting one, and soon her interest waned. Crossing the hall she softly opened a door and looked in.
"Are they most done, mademoiselle?"
Mademoiselle Cecilia, sewing by the window, smiled bravely at the childish face above the faded, brown pinafore. Then she looked at the pile of heavy vests on the chair beside her and sighed.

"Not yet, cherie," she said. "Have patience. We'll have a good supper after I get the money for them; perhaps, some sweet crackers, too."
Babette nodded gaily. She closed the door again and went back to her seat on the top stair.
"We mustn't bother mademoiselle when she is so busy," besides it hurts her to talk," she carefully explained to Marie Antoinette.
Ah, yes! Babette remembered how mademoiselle used to sing in a church and at concerts, and earn such a lot of money—till she lost her voice.
"That was after she'd 'doped you' an' me. We're wiser, you know, Marie," Marie Antoinette listened with resignation.
"An' she 'doped all her money, an' they did not seem to make her voice any better, an' now there's a big doctor come an' she hasn't any money to go an' get cured."

Babette's unchildlike eyes grew big and solemn.
"An' she don't tell us about the 'loket man' any more. He's a nice man. When he was a little boy he lived right next door to mademoiselle, 'way off in the country.'"
She rocked her knees and sang part of a lullaby to Marie Antoinette, but Marie wasn't sleepy.
Babette grew tired of the stillness and the darkness. She wondered if it was too cold to go out. She opened the door again, and looked coaxingly into Mademoiselle Cecilia's tired eyes.
"We're going up to the corner, an' an' Marie, to see the birds," she said.
Mademoiselle nodded.
"All right, cherie, run along. Don't go any further and come back soon."

Babette jumped into her home-made jacket and cap, and went down the four flights of stairs, past the children, now peacefully at play, and a little baby amusing itself with a wonderful scarlet colored dog, that sprang up an indigo skirt when you pulled a string. Babette liked the little baby, and its mother made such nice, spicy, ginger bread men with cranberry eyes.
Out upon the street boys were playing marbles, their dirty hands very blue with the cold, and the first hand organ of the season was grinding out a wheezy dance.
Babette listened a moment, then, tucking Marie Antoinette securely under one arm, she went on up the street, and stationed herself before the window of a bird store. She could watch the yellow songsters for hours at a time, taking to Marie between whiles, and playing she was going to buy one, only it was so hard to decide which one was the prettiest. Sometimes she almost forgot that she was only a little French waif adopted by Mademoiselle Cecilia, who lived in two rooms on the top floor of Poverty Flats, and sewed vests at nine cents a dozen. If mademoiselle might only get her voice well again! If she only had money to go to the new doctor!

Babette swallowed a lump in her throat. She knew mademoiselle cried nights some times, and grew so thin and white.
Perhaps the "loket man" might make her well, but he never came. He looked so nice, too—in mademoiselle's pocket.
From a church a little further on came the sound of singing. The choir boys, who were practicing for Easter, chanted triumphantly.
"Break forth into joy, sing together, Sing, ye angels, sing ye saints, sing ye men, sing ye women, sing ye children, sing ye old, sing ye young, sing ye all ye people, sing ye all ye creatures, sing ye all ye things that have life, sing ye all ye things that have breath, sing ye all ye things that have soul, sing ye all ye things that have heart, sing ye all ye things that have mind, sing ye all The event is one long to be remembered as a pleasant evening by those present. The club realized a handsome sum from the party.

OBSERVATIONS.

I observe the letters W. L. M. are prominent in the history of our country in that they appear in the six names of presidents.

Washington, Lincoln, McKinley, being prominent in the name of William McKinley also are they associate with the words.

We Liberate Mankind, a combination which together with the patriotism of the whole people seems significant and prefigures victory and a new era of civilization as the 19th century passes away with the memory of bloody battles and heroes for "Right."

I observed in the Epworth Methodist Church at Palmyra on Sunday, a scene that puts to flight all infidelity theory that the church is good enough for women and little children it was the occasion of sacrament at one table I noticed sixteen men and two women and from out the large number of communicants from casual observation nearly fifty per cent of the participants were men. This speaks well for the preacher in charge, Rev. Marshall Owens.

I observed in a recent editorial in the Philadelphia Public Ledger the intimation that "Spanish" spies have been detected prowling around many places of importance in this country should put every community on its guard against suspicious character. If there is good ground for suspicion against them they should be arrested and searched. If not suspicion is still attached to them they should be sent away from the place with a warning no chances should be taken with this class of characters. While we may have no powder magazine or arsenal in Palmyra remember Bridesburg arsenal is near our shores.

C. F. SLEEPER.—Dear Sir:—Yours of 3rd inst. received and will endeavor to keep you posted up to date with our doings with the assistance of H. B. Miller. We left Camden 10:30 Monday we received a most patriotic send off all along the line we arrived here 12:30 and found our quarters at our quarters. BOARD OF FREEHOLDERS.

The regular May meeting of the Board of Freeholders, which was held in the Court House at Mount Holly, on Wednesday, was a very lame affair as compared with the last meeting of the Board when the trolley franchises were under consideration.

Director Mitchell was elected owing to the death of his mother, and Freeholder Younker, of Lambertown, was called to the chair. The morning session consisted of the consideration of bills.

The afternoon session showed that there was a balance of $17.01 due the State and from the county for the support of the institution during the last quarter. The inmates numbered 250, 24 having died since last report. Three inmates died and one having been admitted during the last three months.

Among the bills paid were the following: Court House and Grounds, $945.17; small bridges, $2,725.22; County Road of Edgemoor, $394.43; Corner Street, $12.14; Grobler, $21.04; Fisher, $42.24; members' personal bills, $1,827.37; Sheriff Pleistwood, $2,119.83; Solicitor Chambers, $194.35, of which amount the county is to be reimbursed by the two counties of the two counties in consideration of $143.40.

The bill of Sheriff Pleistwood exceeded the unexpended balance of the appropriation and on motion of Mr. Jones it was ordered that a sufficient sum to pay his bill be transferred from the fund for the support of the institution.

On motion of Mr. Packer $100 was appropriated to the Asinicum Meadow Co. for the use of the county for the year 1897-98. Clerk Antrim was voted $75 for extra services during the past year and $15 was voted to Mr. Michelson on the same account.

The Monmouth Traction Co. and the New York and Philadelphia Traction Co. were each requested by resolution to deposit $500 with the County Collector by next Monday at ten o'clock, A. M., that additional amount being necessary to pay the bills incurred on account of the two companies.

The specifications for the stone road from Burlington to Mount Holly were approved and ordered filed.

The bill from the Children's Home for the support of 14 children for the past 3 months, $210, was ordered paid.

An adjourned meeting of the Board will be held next Monday to consider the trolley franchise and the new Board will meet for organization next Wednesday.

DELANCO.

James P. Eoney, who has been confined to his bed for sometime with illness, is improving somewhat.

The little folks at the public school enjoyed Arbor Day exercises on Friday. Principal Quigg and his assistants had been working with them for some time and the results were excellent. Among the features were a Contest of the children, in which the children in appropriate costume with flags. The only rule that the principal met with was to get any one to take the flag of Spain.

BRIDGEBORO.

The 7th anniversary of Odd Fellowship was celebrated in grand style by the members of the Bridgeboro Lodge, No. 111, on Saturday evening.

Frank Austin, on Saturday, was shot accidentally in the face by a carter operative at Lambert's shoe factory. The employees of the factory had a flag-rising, and patriotism ran high. One of the operatives who had a gun pointed deliberately at Austin, who was at small inside, and fired, blowing broken glass and powder in the workman's eyes and face. Dr. Small attended the sufferer and hopes to save the sight.

Miss Sara Adele Neill, of Emerson College of Oratory, Boston, will give a reading at Rancocas Hall, on Saturday, May 7th, at eight o'clock P. M., under the auspices of the Rancocas Friends' School Committee. Miss Neill's reputation as an elocutionist is very high and you should not miss the opportunity of hearing her—her selections are all new. The musical part of the entertainment will be conducted by the "Powellton Banjo, Mandolin and Guitar Club," of Philadelphia, composed of noted musicians, who alone are worth going miles to hear. The committee has spared neither time or expense to make this an occasion to be remembered, and their effort should be rewarded with a large and appreciative audience. Admission only 25 cents to assist in defraying the expenses.

A few more Cuban flags combined with the American would show a little more patriotism.

—YOUNG.

A western paper recently requested answers to the question: "What do you regard as the most common fault of present day young men?" Perhaps the most pithy reply of the hundreds received was this: "Preference for a white shirt job."

The three volunteer cavalry regiments authorized under the new law will compare with the best troops of horses in any army of the world.
These regiments are to be made up entirely of volunteer western border men, unerring marksmen, undisciplined in their nerve and endurance, experienced in perils and knowing no fear.

Fitzhugh Lee little thought thirty-three years ago, when the civil war ended, that he would ever be a Major General in the United States army, as he had hoped when a Cadet at West Point, and the same may be said of Representative Joseph Wheeler, of Alabama. Both distinguished themselves in the Confederate army and have been conspicuous in public life since its surrender.

In selecting Senator Sewell to be a Major-General in the army, President McKinley did not get a figure head or a play soldier, but one who has been active work, has smelled powder and carries evidence of having been in more than one conflict. In August, 1861, he was mustered into the service of the United States as a captain of a New Jersey regiment, participating in several sharp engagements. At Chancellorsville Gen. Mott was compelled to retire owing to a severe wound, and Gen. Sewell took charge of the brigade, and achieved one of the most brilliant successes of the war, capturing several stands of confederate colors and regaining those which had been lost by a New York regiment. He was twice wounded. At the close of the war
Gen. Sewell was made Major-General for meritorious services, but that was not his only promotion, as he had been advanced several times during the war.
This appointment will not necessitate the withdrawal of Senator Sewell from the U. S. Senate. He will ask for leave of absence, which will undoubtedly be granted.

The picnic girl is the next in line.

The season of strawberry festivals is approaching.

Walter Miller gave up stage driving last Saturday.

Frog hunters are in the midst of their harvest time.

Don't forget E. H. Hancock's sale
this Saturday afternoon.

Early peaches from the West are on sale in fruit stores.

Miss Lizabeth Davis has been suffering from a sprained ankle.

An interesting session of the Borough Council was held on Thursday evening.

Miss Beck and Miss Harrison, of Bloomfield, are visiting; Miss Kate Reese.

Robert Biddle's residence on the Bank looks very fine in its new colonial colors.

The L. A. W. Bicycle Club will make a run to Pemberton on Sunday, if fair, starting at 8 o'clock.

Miss Trappell, of Charleston, W.
Va., and Miss Hays, of Newark, are visiting Miss Helen Walnut.

The Government steamer Fish Hawk is making the annual collection of shad roe from the Delaware river fisheries.

Charles W. Davis presented the L.
A. W. Bicycle Club a fine flag which was flying to the breeze on Wednesday.

As a result of the stormy weather on Saturday and Sunday, many of the row boats on the river were swamped.

Riverside is building a handsome $3000 fire engine house, which will be surrounded by a tower 65 feet high.

The Faunce's fishery had to teleshad down to the city. There were so many of them.

Mrs. E. H. Ogden is interested in the work of getting extra supplies for three serving at the front, representing the Colonial Dames Society.

at 3 P. M.

chased a large flag and will raise it on a big pole this Saturday. They hope to have a brass band for the occasion.

BOROUGH BUSINESS.

The regular monthly meeting of the Riverton Borough Council was held on Thursday evening at the fire house.
Mr. Hardman was not present.

The Treasurer's report showed a balance of $110.89 in the general fund.
The Highway Committee reported favorably the petition to change the grade of Fourth street, which was done, but against Mr. Brown's protest.

In reference to the $250 charge of the Borough Engineer for furnishing grade lines to L. G. Graff, Jr., it was decided the price was not exorbitant when it is considered he has to come to Riverton to furnish grade for a lot or two.

The Auditing Committee reported having examined the accounts of the Treasurer and found them correct and the books kept in handsome shape.

The special committee appointed to investigate the bill of the Riverton Fire Co. for $1500 for rent of room for the election reported the bill had been voided, as the regular rental covered such a charge.

The special committee appointed to investigate the bill of the New Era of $23.00 for printing the annual statement, reported having seen the Solicitor, who showed them the law governing such charges, which would only allow $13.80. H. G. Dole, of the West Jersey Press, informed the committee that six copies of nonpareil type would equal $16.50, and they recommended the latter amount be tendered for the bill, which was adopted.

An ordinance was introduced and passed first reading to pave Broad street from Fulton to Elm, on the North side, with cement, four feet wide at the expense of the property owners.
This is proposed to connect with the Palmyra walk and also the other avenues which are already or about to be paved.

The ordinance to amend the Lippincott avenue paving ordinance, allowing an option as to materials to be used and exempting C. M. Biddle was taken up on final passage. Mr. Brown would not allow the favoritism shown in this ordinance go by without protesting against it. He also endeavored to change the section so that only cement would be allowed, and, also, to fix the date from 90 days to 30 but he was unsuccessful except in the latter, which was compromised on 60 days.

In this connection a communication was read from C. L. Flanagan in which it was shown council treated Main street people different from sometimes and entering his protest. The ordinance nevertheless passed by a vote of 3 to 1. Mr. Brown still voting
"nay."

The ordinance to lay crossings on Lippincott avenue, from Broad to Bank, of asphaltum blocks, 5 feet wide, was taken up on final passage and unanimously passed.

The Thomas avenue ordinance, to construct a 5 foot asphaltum block walk from Broad to Fourth, also a curb of yellow pine, 3x12 was passed without division.

Gen'l James verbally reported the progress of the gas franchise matter and it was decided to have an ordinance prepared and introduced at an adjourned meeting May 26.

A vote of thanks was tendered the Board of Freeholders and the Penn R.
R. Co., for their promptness in fixing the grading near the station.

Bills were ordered, paid as follows:
Geo. Faust, Marshal, $33.33
Chas. Armstrong, lamp lighter, 30.00
W. L. Bowen, printing, 2.75
Lippincott, advertisement, 2.00
Lippincott, work on road, 50.74
Crew Levick & Co., oil, 28.20
Wm. King's Sons, wicks, 2.25
U. S. Station, C. E. searches, etc., 35.00

A bill from Standard Oil Co., was referred to the Lighting Committee for verification.

A communication was read from Chas. Armstrong, lamp lighter, requesting an increase of salary he having 10 more lamps than at first. The question of allowing him $10 extra per month for this and special police duty was referred to the Lighting Committee.

The Mayor called attention that the balance $444.12, due Krouse & Co., on the Main street cement walk should be paid over if the work was accepted and had the amount of the Borough Engineer read. As only trivial defects were shown, the amount was ordered paid.

Gen'l James offered a resolution that the By-Laws be amended and a Finance Committee be appointed, which was done, the Mayor appointing Messrs. MacCarroll, Thomas and James.

Gen'l James also thought the By-Laws should have a general revision and the Mayor appointed Messrs.
James, MacCarroll and Rudderow.

Mr. Brown offered a resolution, which was passed, declaring the manure cans which were stored on the Broad street siding a nuisance and asking the Solicitor what could be done to abate the stench.

Two maturing notes were referred to the Finance Committee to wrestle with.

$500 was ordered borrowed to pay bills.

Adjourned to May 26th.

And now the "kinder" are loading up on violets.

The Photograph Exhibition at Mrs.
Pierson's was both entertaining and profitable.

Abe Bennett has been grading, fertilizing, seeding and rolling the lawn around the Methodist Church.

Our place is so peaceful that Justice
Frank Russell won't make trees enough to buy salt for his sackel.

One of the gentler sex had a race with the eight o'clock train in Monday morning, but she "got there all the same," as the slang phrase goes.

"Nellie Bly" makes her daily visits to our town, but she gets somewhat out of breath getting over the grade and curve from Morgan to Derwette avenue.

Prof. Brown gave an excellent talk on "Standard of Measurements," at the Methodist Church, Sunday night. It is the intention to have different speakers each Sunday night, with various subjects.

Captain Long's well has been dry for some time. It is the irony of fate that the most faithful Prohibitionist in the town should be without water, however, he is boring deeper, having discovered that the plug had not been taken out of the bottom of the well.

The Successful Remedy for NASAL CATARRH
must be non-irritating, easy of application, and one that will by its own action reach the inflamed and diseased surface.

ELYS CREAM BALM combines the important requisites of quick action and specific curative powers with perfectly yield to it. In acute capillary inflammation the most distressing symptoms quickly relieve.

By Absorption
Catarrhal sufferers should remember that Elys's Cream Balm is the only catarrh remedy which is quickly and thoroughly absorbed by the diseased membrane. It does not dry up the secretions, but changes them to a limpid and odorless condition, and finally to a natural healthy character.

The Balm can be found at my drug store, or by sending 50 cents to Elys Brothers 56 Warren St., New York, it will be mailed.

Full directions with each package.
Cream Balm opens and cleanses the nasal passages, allays inflammation, relieves itching, soothes the membrane and restores the sense of taste and smell.
The Balm is applied directly into the nostrils.

CARPETS

A PROCLAMATION OF ECONOMY.

Hard work to push a wagon up hill. There must be frequent pauses; and wheels are scotched to hold the progress made.

Carpets have been marketed at a loss. A few months ago prices prevent a serious break. We could be depended upon to bring about the result most quickly. Hence—

It is the scotch to hold the wheels on the hill.

It is your opportunity—if you can

Levis Wallace, Antone Beckenbach, Robert Hunter and George Wallace went out the Rancocas shad fishing on Wednesday and caught forty.

William Strang's youngest boy fell into a wash boiler full of hot water on Monday morning and was badly scalded. Fears are held of his recovery.

Special Officer Saar locked up two colored women who were disturbing the town after midnight on Wednesday, and Justice Gorrell fined them $4.50 each.

Joseph G. Reeve expects to move to Norristown, Pa., in the near future, having been appointed superintendent of the Metropolitan Insurance Company at that point.

The Epworth League, of the Methodist Church, will have their anniversary on Sunday evening. J. W. Kemble will speak on "Lift Up," and Pastor Owens on "Lift Up."

The P. O. S. of A. will celebrate their fifth anniversary by a banquet on Monday evening and will also tender an entertainment to their lady friends on Tuesday evening.

Those who have forgotten the text book lessons of their youth, so far as geography is concerned, have been brushing up considerably on that subject since the war with Spain started.

Geo. T. Williams has bought out the Strode's drug store, corner of Broad and High streets, Burlington and took charge on Tuesday. He still will be in the bicycle business in Palmyra for some time.

It is now "Doctors" Arthur Hartley and Samuel B. Clover, as they received their diplomas on Thursday from the Hahnemann Medical College. Dr. Hartley has been appointed on the hospital staff.

Druggist Creighton's store was entered sometime early last Friday morning by thieves, and quite a lot of cigars and some silver spoons taken. Entrance was probably effected through a cellar window.

The Palmyra Dramatic Association will doubtless draw a good house this Saturday evening, at Morgan Hall, when they play the farce "Somebody's Nobody," and the comedy drama "Confusion." Mr. and Mrs. Irve M. Jones will take prominent parts. See adv.

The bicycle path leading from Mount Holly to Burlington is in need of some repairs, but it is quite possible that very little more money will be expended on it, in view of the proposed stone road that will be built next year running from Mount Holly to the former city.

"I would not be without Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for its weight in gold," writes Dr. J. Jones, of Holland, Va. "My wife was troubled with a cough for nearly two years. I tried various patent remedies, besides numerous prescriptions from physicians, all of which did no good. I was at last persuaded to try a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which promptly relieved the cough. The second bottle effected a complete cure." The 25 and 50 cent bottles are for sale by G. T. Williams, Druggist.

A meeting was held in Society Hall on Monday evening, of representative committees of the various organizations meeting in Society Hall, to consider the purchase of a large flag to present to the Society Hall Association. It was decided to procure a flag and pole which will be raised in the near future. An effort is being made to have this flag and the new Township flag and the Fire Company's flag raised at the same time with public ceremony.

P. O. S. of A. When the camp attends anniversary services at the Baptist Church on May 15th we hope all members will go who possibly can. Leave your own church for one night.

We hope that our reunion on May 16th will be attended by every member of the Camp. This only happens once a year and surely we all owe that much to our organization.

There will be no initiation on May 16th but about twenty five persons will be obligated on that evening.

The entertainment to our lady friends on May 17th promises to be one of the best ever given by our organization.

NEW OFFICERS. V. McCurdy; secretary, George N. Wimer; treasurer, W. S. Ayres; solicitor, John E. Horner; Charles H. Crowell, Alex. Marcy, Jr., M. D., George T. Williams.

COMMUNICATED.

A OARD.

PALMYRA, May 11th, 1898. EDITOR WEEKLY NEWS:—How thankful we are for the kindness shown by our friends and neighbors in our recent bereavement.

Respectfully, JOHN BELLEBEAU AND FAMILY.

OUR BASE BALL CLUB. The Palmyra Base Ball club under the management of J. Harvey DeJoyce has organized for the season with the following players: G. Lacey, J. Mood, I. H. Beck, C. Faust, W. Brennen, E. Fisher, G. Clemm, H. Faurier, W. Jones, T. McGinley, W. Stewart.

The proceeds of the entertainment after paying all expenses, were turned over to Mr. Douglas, which amounted to $19.65 which is but half the amount needed to purchase the new uniforms, which the manager has ordered. Several gentlemen have signified their willingness to contribute toward raising the balance to pay for the new uniforms. They would like to have them by Saturday, May 21st, as they play a game on the 28th and it would be advisable to timber the new uniforms before going on the field for the first game.

W. O. T. U. The Mother's meeting at Mrs. Sherman's on Wednesday afternoon was very interesting. Mrs. Heulings, County Superintendent, gave a talk on "Crucially to Women." Women should consider the means employed to secure such plumage, they certainly would find a substitute for millinery purposes. Some very practical thoughts were given on "Purity," which were very helpful to mothers.

The meeting next week will be at Mrs. Wilbraham's, on Cinnaminson avenue. Reports of Superintendents. PRESS SUPERINTENDENT.

A OARD. The undersigned desires to thank the many friends who have so kindly tendered their assistance during the winter months of trial and bereavement when death came into my home. I have had much consolation from the hands of those whose sympathy has been so kindly expressed, by bringing before them and tendering their kind assistance when it was so much needed.

Very respectfully, Mrs. WM. HAMMONS. Palmyra, May 10, 1898.

The case of David Cole vs. George B. Lloyd, in ejectment, was added to this list and was called on Wednesday.

No. 20, of the Supreme Court list, the case of Anna R. Barr, of Mount Holly, vs. the Pennsylvania Railroad, Judge Gaskill announced that the plaintiff was a relative of his and that he had secured Allen Strong of New Brunswick, to try the case, but that it would go off for the term.

Charles Ewart Merritt asked to have judgment set aside in the case of George E. Hancock vs. Hester E. Stevens on the ground that the plaintiff was insane against one while the warrant was against two.

Rule was granted by Judge Garrison. George S. Gilliland, Clayton Chance and Samuel Robbins were appointed commissioners to make the 10 per cent assessment on the improved road through Moorestown, and Charles K. Argument on motion of Samuel K. Robbins to divide the estate of Owen Gallagher, deceased, was participated in by Messrs. Robbins, Sooty and Shinn, representatives of the heirs.

Court then adjourned.

Anderson Shinn, Burlington City; Samuel McCormick, Camden; Caleb Wright, Chester; Charles Gilbert, Mount Laurel; R. L. Thompson, Medford; Wesley Shumard, New Hanover; Henry C. Claypool, Northampton; James J. Yonke, Palmyra; William H. Thompson, Pemberton.

WOODSIDE PARK. Woodside Park, that annex of the people's pleasure park, Fairmount Park, Philadelphia, will be opened with a multitude of attractions on the 28th of May. Last year was inaugurated the initial season of this pleasure resort for the stay-at-home, and it jumped into instant favor, by Superintendent Wallack was an important factor in its success. This year the variety and number of attractions will be increased. The vaudeville in its best estate will occupy the stage of the theatre for early weeks of the season to be followed by comic opera and concert attractions. Then there will be, of course, the miniature lake, with its pleasure boats of all descriptions, the scenic railway, moving pictures, the merry-go-round, the observation tower of 150 feet high building, and there is also being built a casino—a large building on an oval plan, whose extreme measurement is 200x100 feet, and in which building there will be a dancing floor, a gallery from which to view the moving scenes of the park and the surrounding country, and above all, there will be a roof garden at an elevation of about 350 feet above the level of the sea. There will also be an observatory, from which on a clear day a complete bird-eye-view of Philadelphia can be had, as well as of Germantown, Camden and other well-known localities. The Park is approached by the Fairmount Park Transportation Company. Line that traverses the most beautiful route existing in Fairmount Park. The ride itself is a delightful pastime, and when the Park is reached a veritable fairyland is disclosed. Flowers and shrubbery, knolls and ravines all attract the eye that delights in nature's beauty—and man's artificiality will be shown in the numerous devices for entertainment that will be placed in it. The Park is reached by a most excellent road, and will be made equally as home with the most of means with the power to purchase unlimited luxuries. The Park can be reached from the City Line Trolley Cars at Deshler street, or from the second, and at Elm avenue, near Fifth street, in West Philadelphia.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

May 9th, 1898.

Congress will now add its thanks to those of the President and the people called to Commodore Dewey by Secretary Long as soon as the official report of his extraordinary victory in Manila harbor reached Washington—a victory resulting in the destruction of a fleet of eleven Spanish vessels carrying more than one hundred guns and more than 2,000 men, the capture of heavy shore batteries, and the subsequent control of the Philippine Islands, all without the loss of a man and without the serious injury of a ship and with only six men wounded—by adopting the joint resolution reported from the House Committee on naval affairs extending the thanks of Congress to Commodore Dewey. It will also supplement the promotion to Acting Admiral, called to Commodore Dewey by Secretary Long, by passing the bill providing for an additional rear admiral in the navy, which will enable the President to further promote Commodore Dewey. The feeling in Washington is that nothing is too good for him. Troops are to be sent to aid him in holding the Philippine record as quick as a star can be assembled in San Francisco and the ships prepared to transport them.

Good news is daily, aye hourly, expected from Admiral Sampson's fleet, which is off on a mission known only to the President and Cabinet. There are good reasons for the belief that Sampson's first object is the Spanish fleet reported to be headed for Porto Rico, and that if he fails to find the fleet he will turn his attention to the capture of Porto Rico. Naval officials will be surprised if he finds any more Spanish warships than the three or four that are known to be in the harbor. The general belief is that Spain is afraid to send her big fleet into American waters. But the capture of Porto Rico will of itself be a great victory and will help to shorten the war.

The Senatorial opponents of the bond clause in the war revenue bill are sparing for time, so to speak. They believe that the Spanish side of the war is about to collapse, and that if they can hold up the bill until the collapse comes, they can prevent bonds from being issued. If the matter was put to a vote now there is little doubt that a majority as large as that which voted against an income tax last week would vote for the bonds, not because all who would so vote are approving of the issue of bonds; but because they realize that as the only sure and speedy way in which the government can raise a very large sum of money, and that is the war is to continue even for a few weeks a larger sum than can possibly be produced in time by taxation will be needed. Those who have so far succeeded in preventing the reporting of the war revenue bill from the Senate committee on finance, where it has been more than a week, have not said that they were trying to delay action until they could ascertain whether the end of the war was in sight, and are not likely to say so, but this is the true ground.

Under the new volunteer army law confirmation of the nominations of regimental officers by the Senate is not required, as it is for similar officers in the regular army. The President appoints them, and in the case of all those so far appointed he has delegated the appointing authority to Secretary Alger.

Senator Sewell has not qualified as major general in the volunteer army, although his nomination was confirmed by the same time that those of Generals Fitz Lee, Joe Wheeler, James H. Wilson, and the seven brigadier generals of the regular army, and it is not probable that he will if he becomes general he cannot retain his seat in the Senate, and the present understanding is that he prefers the latter.

Few Americans have any idea of the extent of the Philippine Islands, a footing upon which was so gallantly captured by Commodore Dewey, and over which the American flag now flies. Saturday's issue of the daily publication of the Department of State known as "Advance sheets of Consular Reports," is devoted entirely to the Philippine Islands, which are ten per cent larger in area than New England, New York, New Jersey, Maryland, and Delaware combined, and which have an estimated population of from 8,000,000 to 10,000,000. But probably the most astonishing fact of this publication, to most people, are the official figures showing that the United States has more commerce with the Philippine Islands than does all the rest of the world combined.

There is great rejoicing at the War Department concerning the movements of the army in connection with the invasion of Cuba. Many conflicting stories are in circulation, some of them probably started by our officials to confuse the enemy, but the world is liable to learn that the United States' troops have secured a Cuban port and are making drawings of many of the coast fortifications in the vicinity of United States ports. He was followed here from Chicago.

A horse belonging to Isaac Conover, Sr., got loose in the stable on Sunday and in roaming around found a large pan of meal to which it helped itself freely before being discovered. The meal contained a large quantity of arsenic and placed there for rats. But Dr. A. E. Conover hopes to save the animal.

The severe storm on Sunday morning blew down a large tree in front of the M. E. Church. In falling it broke the electric wires of the church. IF YOU USE A FRENCH COFFEE POT you should use Pulverized Coffee. Do you know that there is a vast difference in Pulverized Coffee? When Pulverized Coffee is dark in color it shows that the coffee has been heated in the process of pulverizing, which has "sprung" the oil, giving to the coffee a slightly rancid taste, thus spoiling the flavor.

When coffee is properly pulverized it should be a beautiful golden brown and almost as fine as flour.

THE HOME BRAND JAVA COFFEE

is pulverized by our new roller process, which does not heat the coffee, but leaves it beautiful in color of the required fineness, rich in flavor and with a delicious taste, thus spoiling the flavor.

Try a cup of it free of charge at Messrs. Strawbridge & Clothier's. Ask your grocer for it.

THE COLONEL'S DAUGHTER.

It was hot—hot—hot everywhere

On June 29, 1878. Even Colonel

Winthrop's last embowered house in the beautiful valley of the Shrewsbury was at least twenty degrees warmer than the comfort of the occupants demanded.

Mistress Betty Winthrop, followed by a colored maid, walked slowly up through the shrubbery. She had been out on the river in search of a stray breeze. Mistress Betty was the one thing on the Winthrop place whose appearance the elevated temperature did not affect unpleasantly. Indeed, if anything, it seemed to heighten her

The last robbery was at Imlaystown, where he not only threw books and papers around but also threw a lighted match on the floor, which ignited some books. The flames however, were smothered, owing to the leaves being tightly pressed together. Most of the schools looted are in Chesterfield township. A Man Who Is Tired

All the time, owing to impoverished blood, should take Hood's Sarsaparilla to purify and enrich his blood and give him vitality and vigor.

This condition of weakness and lack of energy is a natural consequence of the coming of warmer weather, which finds the system debilitated and the blood impure.

A good spring medicine is a necessity with most everyone. Hood's Sarsaparilla is what the millions take in the spring. Its great power to purify and enrich the blood and build up health is one of the facts common experience.

A NEW PATRIOTIC MARCH.

We have received from J. Fischer & Bro., 7 Bible House, New York, a copy of a new patriotic march (Two-step), entitled, "The Patriotic American," composed by George H. Fischer. Price, 50c.

This is undoubtedly one of the most effective marches published this season. The melody throughout is bright and catchy, and combined with a good martial rhythm, which makes this composition excellently adapted to either dancing or marching purposes. Also, arranged for band and orchestra.

OBSERVATIONS BY PENN.

I observe that Palmyra is again in the front rank of suburban towns, this time in the professional world.

No other town in the country had such an honor conferred upon it by the "Homesopath" at their semi-centennial.

Two brand new doctors from our midst in one day. May success crown the labors of these sons of Palmyra (Drs. Hartley and Clover) and may humanity be blessed through their instrumentality.

I observed several gentlemen trying to pick their way through the mud on Fifth street, between Leconey and Horace avenues, on a recent rainy night. As they knocked the mud from their boots their brains commenced to foggy, as they tried to perceive the usefulness of existing sidewalks on these avenues. When so large a number of people were inconvenienced by this abominable nuisance of a mud-hole, their prayers on behalf of the municipality officers and abusing property owners, were not of the kind to cheer a man in distress.

I observe the bicycle ordinance is a "dead letter" in some sections of this town. An observant officer may yet get some of these sidewalk riders in the meshes of the law, and there will be none to sympathize with them, for they are not strangers to regulations for wheelmen.

I observed a few days ago on Market street, Philadelphia, a maiden who attracted widespread attention by the novelty of her head-dress, which was composed of a large red, white and blue hat. Secretly, she may have known of her own folly, but her indifference to the situation appeared to make some of the stay-at-home young men feel that their patriotism was lacking as compared to hers.

I observe the "Riverton" borough fathers have done a noble act, which must bring their names down to posterity. The decided movement which they have taken, looking to the abolition of the cars upon the siding opposite their town, whose odoriferous vapors have disturbed the olfactory nerves of the residents of Riverton, but of Palmyra as well, should meet with hearty approval.

TEACHERS' MEETING.

The regular monthly meeting of the Burlington County Teachers' Association was held in the High School building, Mt. Holly, on Saturday, May 14.

County Superintendent Stees announced that he had been requested to furnish the names of all public school scholars to be deposited in a vault in a monument to be erected in honor of those killed when the battleship Maine was blown up. Blanks will be sent to each teacher, who will please furnish a list of his or her scholars.

The National Educational Association will hold its annual meeting at Washington, D. C., on July 7th to 12th inclusive. The B. & O. R. R. Co., will sell excursion tickets for a single fare plus $2.00 which will entitle the holder to membership in the Association. The New Jersey State Board of Education has established a "Teachers' Bureau" for the convenience of Teachers desiring situations and school Boards desiring teachers. The Bureau will serve teachers and School Boards without charge. The matter of laying out the work of the Association was then taken up. A proposition was made to hold but three meetings during the year, but the majority were in favor of nine meetings as heretofore. It was decided not to divide into classes as has been done this year but that the whole Association pursue Algebra and Arithmetic at the morning sessions and English Literature at the afternoon sessions. Milne's High School Algebra, Brooke's magazine Arithmetic and Kelly's English Literature were selected as the text books to be used. Wilbur Watts consented to act as teacher of both Arithmetic and Algebra. The Literature teacher was not decided upon. In order not to lose any time at the September meeting lessons were assigned. The Algebra lesson will begin with a radical equation, the Arithmetic lesson at Ratio and Proportion. The lesson in Literature will begin at the reign of Queen Elizabeth and embrace lessons 17-21. Before adjourning a vote of thanks was passed to those who have acted as instructors during the year.

THE OUTLOOK.

The annual Recreation Number of The Outlook has for many years been one of the finest illustrated issues of magazine literature. This year it will have as prominent features three articles by the winners of a contest instituted by The Outlook for the three best articles dealing with vacation life, illustrated by photographs taken by the authors. Twenty-five pages are devoted to these articles, and the many pictures are really extraordinary specimens of amateur photography. A novel and beautiful cover is also featured.

I was at last persuaded to try a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which promptly relieved the cough. The second bottle effected a complete cure." The 25 and 50 cent bottles are for sale by G. T. LOVE MAKING.
"You are an old fool, Kingsbury," said Mr. Madison, rapping the bowl of his meerschaum against the edge of the chimney piece to empty it of its treasured crust of tobacco ash.
"Forty-seven last week," said Major Kingsbury, smiling. "Is that such a venerable age?"
"To think of marrying a young girl—yes! Do you suppose she really cares for you?"
"She says she does!"
"Only a caprice—only a caprice, Kingsbury, depend upon it. What does a child of seventeen know of her own mind?"
Major Ralph Kingsbury was silent, but his grave smile betokened quiet reliance upon the affection of the beautiful young girl who had promised to be his wife.
"Of course," added Mr. Madison, vindictively, "I might know better than to expect you to take any one's advice on the subject. There's no fool like an old fool, I've all my life heard."

"I am much obliged to you," said Mr. Kingsbury, smiling. "But you will come to my wedding?"
"Oh, of course—on exactly the same principle all the friends and relations attend a Hindoo widow's suit!"
And Mr. Madison filled his meerschaum a second time and began meditatively to smoke.
Major Ralph was silent also. Somehow the words of his old college friend had left a drop of bitterness in his heart. Was it true that pretty Ida Caserly was too young to unite the fair current of her life with the stronger, deeper stream of his own mature destiny? Was it possible that he had allowed himself to be influenced by the remembrance that he was a rich man? Why had he never thought of these things before? Surely they were sufficient to make him pause. And he sincerely wished that Nicholas Madison had held his tongue.
"She's pretty, I suppose," said the latter, abruptly, after a long interval of silence.
"Yes!" Major Kingsbury answered.
"What style? Dark or fair?"
"Very fair, with golden curls, and eyes as blue as the bluest summer heaven you ever beheld!"
"Ah!" said Mr. Madison, nodding his head with a sort of gloomy mystery. "And you are fool enough to believe she loves you?"
"Madison," said the Major, with some irritation in his voice and manner, "suppose I stop to let this discussion. It may be very agreeable to you, but I confess that it annoys me not a little."

Madison laughed a chuckling laugh. "Oh, certainly, certainly," said he. "Only if anything should happen, you will, at least, do me the justice to remember that I warned you."
Major Kingsbury did not answer, but he could not help thinking to himself how very disagreeable these "old friends" were.
And when Mr. Madison had smoked out his meerschaum for the second time, and gone, he sat for a moment or two gazing into the red gleams of the embers of his pipe.
"Fah!" he exclaimed aloud, rising and giving himself a shake, as if he would shake off this strange mood of misgiving. "What should a poor old bachelor like Nick Madison know about a young girl's heart? I must make haste, or I shall miss the last train up tonight, and Ida made me promise I would come without fail!"
Dear little Ida!

And he opened a small velvet box that he carried in his pocket, and glanced admiringly at a tiny pearl cross that lay therein.
Ah, it was quite evident that Major Kingsbury was very much in love, indeed!
The scarlet billows that closed over the keel of sunset had long since faded into evening, when Major Ralph climbed the hill that led up to Rose Villa, the summer residence of Mrs. Caserly and her three pretty daughters, just where an occasional gleam or two in the Hudson could be caught, through lowering masses of elm trees, cedars and drooping willows.
The wide veranda was empty and deserted, but at the sound of the bell Bridget, to whom the major's countenance was familiar, met him with a broad smile.
"The young ladies is out in the garden, sir," said Bridget. "Shall I call 'em?"
"Oh, no, certainly not!" said the major. "I'll join them out there!"
And he smiled to himself at the idea of surprising Ida among her flowers, the fairest blossom of them all.

Ida Caserly stood just where the dying light shone full in her face, as lovely a young creature as heart could imagine, with eyes and hair like violets and sunshine, and a rose red mouth all wreathed in smiles. Her white dress, so relieved by a scarlet sash, was fluttered softly in the evening breeze, and she held a bunch of vivid salvia in her hand.
"Why, Ida!" Kate Caserly, her younger sister, was exclaiming, "I am astonished at you! I thought you liked the major so much!"
"The major!" Ida echoed, with a contemptuous motion of her pretty head. "A horrid, old-fashioned thing. Well enough when you can't get anything else, but—"

"Then you really prefer Alexander?"
"As if there could possibly be any comparison!"
Major Kingsbury felt the angry scarlet rise to his cheeks, while a sharp pang of jealousy shot through his heart. Who was this Alexander for whom Ida Caserly expressed so decided a preference?
"Well," cried Flora, the younger of the three sisters, "I didn't think you were one to throw over an old favorite just because a later novelty has appeared!"
"Don't be sentimental, Flo!" cried Ida, with a little grimace, which made her mouth more like a ripe cherry than ever. "I tell you I won't have the major about the place any longer!"
Our hero stood appalled. What hateful influence had changed his shy, delicate Ida into this resolute vixen? He was no Petrarcho, to undertake the "Taming of the Shrew," and he bit his lips.

"Alexander, by all means!" cried Ida, waving her little hat around her head excitedly. "Alexander as I the admiral!"
"New friends," bitterly thought the major, as he turned away and noiselessly retraced his steps. "Madison was right; she never could have cared for me. Well, I'm glad I have found it out before it is too late. Alexander—Alexander—if I knew who the villain was I would punch his head for him!"
And Major Kingsbury just succeeded in catching the last down train for New York by running himself into a violent perspiration.
The first person he stumbled over as he entered the hotel corridor was Nicholas Madison.
"Ida!" ejaculated Madison. "Did you go over looking up the river?"
"Give us your hand, old friend!" said Kingsbury, impressively. "You were right—about—about what we spoke of this afternoon. I have been a fool. But I don't think I shall repeat the experiment!"

And he passed a wretched and sleepless night, alternately raging at Ida Caserly's treachery, and wondering who "Alexander" and the "Admiral" could possibly be.
The next morning brought a little scented note in Ida's dainty hand-writing.
"How have I offended you?" it ran. "You came last night, but you went away without seeing me. What has gone wrong? Surely you will not deny me the opportunity of pleading my own cause. I shall be at home this evening again."
"Ida!"
"She's right," said the major. "Of course, she never will be anything to me again, but I ought certainly to allow her the chance of explanation."
Major Kingsbury took the evening train once more. Ida was waiting for him on the veranda this time.
"Ralph!"
Her pretty, pleading eyes—her outstretched hand. Ralph Kingsbury would have been either more or less than a man to have resisted them.
"What has offended you, Ralph?" she asked pitifully.
"Tell me," he said, still striving to speak sternly. "Who is Alexander?"
"Alexander?"
"Yes, and the Admiral!"
Ida looked at him as if she believed him to be crazy.
"Ida, I accidentally heard you talking to your sister on the lawn last night. You distinctly stated that you preferred the before mentioned gentleman—and that the major was—was—"

Ida burst into a merry peal of irrepressible laughter.
"Stop, Ralph, stop!" she cried. "I understand it all. I remember it now. Yes—I did say so!"
"You did?"
"And I mean it, too, Ralph!" she added, with eyes that sparkled roguishly. "But you misunderstood the matter altogether. We are going to have a new border of tulips—the 'Duc Major' is an ugly brown, old fashioned bulb and 'Alexander' and 'The Admiral' are beautiful double yellow varieties! Look at Vick's catalogue for yourself, if you don't believe it."
Major Kingsbury's face cleared up as radiant as a spring morning.
"What a goose I have been, Ida!" he cried rapturously.
"Of course you have, you dear old darling!" said Miss Caserly.
And when they parted, the pearl cross hung round Ida's neck, and the day for the wedding was set! Mr. Madison was scandalized when he heard that his friend was determined to persist in his infatuation.
"But there's no accounting for these things!" quoth he.
Miss Caserly changed her mind about the tulips, however, and for Major Kingsbury's sake, the ugly brown tulip still keeps its place in the bulb bed, although "Alexander" and "Admiral Kingsbergen" are planted in the places of honor.

NO NEGATIVE VOTE.
There is a certain Representative in the House from a Western State whose secretary is a young woman. She is pretty and she is as bright as she is good looking, being so the possessor of a beautiful pair of brown eyes.
The other day she called on a Cabinet official to ask a favor for a constituent. The grave and dignified head of the department looked at her and said:
"My dear young woman, I am afraid I cannot do what you ask, although your big brown eyes."

SOMEWHAT MIXED.
"Mister, do you write the 'Answers to Correspondents' for this paper?" asked the stranger with the despondent countenance, as he leaned across the desk and heaved a ryeing sigh through the atmosphere, says the San Francisco Examiner.
"Yes, sir. What can I do for you?"
"Can you answer a little question of relationship?"
"Give me the facts and I'll try."
"Here you are: When I was a baby my mother, a widow, married the brother of my father's first wife. He was my uncle, of course, but that made him my father, didn't it?"
"Your stepfather, you mean?"
"Yes, well, my mother got a divorce from my uncle-father, and then she married the oldest son of my father's first wife. He was my half-brother, wasn't he, and also my stepfather?"
"It looks as if he was."

"That made mother my half-sister, didn't it?"
"—I—I—I guess it did."
"That's what I thought. Well, you see, my uncle-father had a daughter before he was married mother. She was my half-sister, too, wasn't she?"
"—I—I—I guess she was."
"That's the way I put it up. Next thing was my mother got a divorce from my brother-father, and he—my half-brother, you know—married my half-sister. That made her a kind of stepmother of mine, didn't it?"
"—I—I—I—"

"Well, never mind answering yet. My half-brother-stepfather died, and now my half-step-mother and I want to get married, but we can't figure out if we can without being arrested for some kind of thingamy. We don't want to have our fire punctured just as we get to corching on the matrimonial tandem. What I want you to tell me is, what is my relationship to my brother, my uncle, my stepfathers, my half-brother, my stepmother and myself, and if I can marry her with-out why, what's the matter?"
The "Answers to Correspondents" editor had become unconscious.

VALUE OF ACCURACY.
A man of business-like aspect invaded a downtown shoe shop recently and said:
"I see you claim to do invisible patching. Can you put an invisible patch on this shoe?"
"Yes, sir," replied the proprietor.
"Sure? I don't want it done unless you can, because this is one of my swell shoes and I don't want it to show."
"If I don't put an invisible patch on it, I won't charge you anything for the job."
"All right. Go ahead."
The shoemaker took the shoe, and in about fifteen minutes brought it back to him neatly repaired.
"I'm!" ejaculated the customer. "I think the bargain was that if you didn't put an invisible patch on it you wouldn't charge anything, wasn't it?"
"That's right."
"This is the patch, isn't it?"
"Yes."
"Well, it's perfectly visible. What you meant was, I presume, that you could make the evidences of its being a patch invisible, but you ought to have said so. A bargain's a bargain. Let this be a lesson to you. Good morning!"
"Hold on. I can fix that all right," said the shoemaker.
He took the shoe again, ran a sharp knife under one edge of the patch, applied a pair of sharp nippers, dexterously ripped it off, threw it behind a work bench and handed the shoe back again.
"There," he said, "is your shoe, and the patch, as you'll notice, isn't visible now. Let this be a lesson to you. Good morning—Oh, he's gone!"—Chicago Tribune.

IT WAS ALL RIGHT.
The gray-haired stranger bent over the desk.
"Are you the society editor?" he questioned.
"I am the identical," said the flippant young man.
"Are you the person who wrote up the account of the Mann reception?"
"Yes. Anything wrong about it?"
"That's what I want to find out." Look here. You notice that in speaking of my daughter you use this paragraph: 'She swept about the room with an inherited grace that caught every eye.' Now, what was your purpose in writing that?"
"Why, it struck me as a first class chance for a neat compliment to her esteemed parents; that's all."
"Sure you didn't mean to insinuate that her father laid the foundation of his fortune by peddling brooms?"
"Certainly not."
"Because I did, you know."
"Then that's all right. Good night."

ALL ABOUT BACHELORS.
A bachelor is usually the result of a woman who dislikes a bachelor that she will marry a man to prevent his becoming one.
Bachelors are about as useful as they are beautiful.
A compulsory bachelor is to be pitied in the same ratio that a voluntary one is to be condemned.
A bachelor, though quite unhappy, may be severely satisfied.
A lonely old man, a gray cat and a trothless dog don't make a home—Truth.

A MUSCULAR MISSIONARY.
Away up on the crest of the Cumberland range I sat talking and smoking with a mountaineer in front of his cabin, after the humble meal called supper, when a 'native' came down the trail on a mule and halted to say:
"Howdy, Dan? Folks all peart?"
"Yes, rather peartish," was the reply.
"Got a Bible yet?"
"Noap."
"I'm selling Bibles for a dollar now."
"Hain't got no dollar to buy with."
"Sho! Say, Dan Hawkins, yo' orter hev a Bible in the house. It's monstrous like a heathen not to hev a Bible. Yo' jess orter be ashamed of yo'self."
"I reckon I kin git along."
The man on the mule was a combination of preacher, circuit rider and colporteur, and he seemed considerably chagrined at not making a sale. He presently got off his mule and began to take off his coat, and then nine host inquired:
"What yo' gwine to do, Tom?"
"Look-a-here, Dan Hawkins, yo' has gin out that no man in this country has ever laid yo' on yo' back!"
"That's true."
"If I lay yo' there will yo' buy a Bible?"
"I will."
"Then with the help of the Lord, I'm going to do it! The Scripture says that the stiff-necked and high-headed must be brought low and that's what I'm goin' to bring yo' here. Come over yere and be laid!"
"Tom, ye can't do it—can't do it now!" replied the settler as he rose and prepared for the conflict.
"I've got to, Dan!" said the preacher as he pulled off his vest. "I'm commanded by the Lord to sell yo' a Bible, and the Lord will strengthen my arms to lay yo' flat!"
"I'll be laid!"

AYDELLOTTE HELD TO COURT.

John B. Aydelotte had his hearing before Justice Gorrill, on Thursday night. The charge of assault and battery was fully substantiated on the evidence of the plaintiff.

This is the third time this fellow has been arrested for beating women and he seems to be unable to be reformed.

Mrs. Mary Coggin testified that she called on a neighbor, Mrs. Brown, and found Aydelotte there. She asked him for some money for nursing his wife in her last confinement, whereupon he cursed her and shoved her out of the door, tearing her dress. She then started for Aydelotte's house to see his wife, when defendant followed her and threw her down on the ground and dragged her through the mud and tore her clothes and left her in a fainting condition.

The Justice considered the evidence sufficient to hold defendant to court, and he was put under $200 bail, which was furnished by Joshua Wilkins.

Several witnesses were present for the defense but they will not be heard until the case comes up to court.

A CORRECTION.

PALMYRA, N. J., MAY 25, 1898. MR. C. F. SLEEPER.

Dear Sir:—The article in last week's issue of your paper in reference to the return of the Naval Brigade, will stand corrected.

First, it stated that the men didn't think they were treated right which is entirely wrong as the men were loud in their praise for the treatment received from their officers and accordingly, in regards to joining the regular navy the Camden Division, which is the one that took the Montezuma to Portland, Me., simply followed the example set by the other divisions and refused to enter the navy unless as a body which the Naval Board refused to allow us to do, consequently we were returned home to take our own monitor the Ajax, which is nearly repaired. Hoping the above will explain the situation I am

Respectfully Yours, J. A. FAUNCE, 3rd Div. N. R. N. J.

BASE BALL.

The Palmyra Club will play the first game of the season this Saturday, May 28th. Their opponents being the Willow Club of Philadelphia, they have strengthened their team considerably since last season, consequently a good game can be expected.

The management has deemed it advisable to make a change in the admission prices this year, in view of the fact that last year there was not one game during the season but what the managers were compelled to go around on a begging tour, and this extra assessment always fell on the shoulders of just a few of our townspeople, for this reason it has been deemed advisable to make the price of admission as follows: Gentlemen 15 cents and ladies 10 cents. These prices will include the grand stand and at the same time it will distribute the running expenses of the club among many instead of saddling four or five with the extra assessment. These prices are the same as are in force in all the suburban towns where in many cases the class of sport is far inferior to that which the Palmyra club gave their patrons last year.

OBSERVATIONS BY PENN.

I observed a litter run through the large audience in the Methodist church Sunday evening where Rev. Marshall Owens was discoursing upon Sabbath observance. He was illustrating upon the great city of "London" with its vast business interests and millions of residents existing without Sunday mail delivery while the little town of "Riverton" must be a part to the backing down of the American Sabbath by mail delivery on this day of rest. I doubt if this gentlemanly preacher intended to wound "Riverton's" pride but it would be well for the inhabitants to moralize upon this subject.

I observe the beauty to be gained by the transformation of the grounds surrounding the Pennsylvania R. R. station would be greatly enhanced by the demolition of the "public comfort building" and new sanitary arrangements adopted.

I observe in the continuance of a custom at funerals in this section (the sending of private carriages) and act though presumably of small moment to the general observer is one in which is displayed thoughtlessness that cannot fail to be appreciated by every thinking person and shows that men have time in the busy affairs of life to stop for a brief season to help in affliction. May the custom continue.

I observe since the great naval victory of "Dewey" that some of Philadelphia's policemen spend part of their early morning hours in the parks upon "dewey grass" looking for four leaf clover similar to the kind "Dewey" carried with him to Manila. Philadelphia policemen are sure to be wide awake when there is anything like "luck" around.

BEVERLY.

Mrs. F. Walter Toms, wife of Superintendent Toms, of the Camden Water Department, visited Mrs. Toms, of Cooper street, on Sunday.

Captain Harry Hulse, will take the Beverly Wheelmen on a run to Mount Florence, on Sunday, where they will witness the athletic sports at the old fair grounds.

Dr. Taylor has remodeled the Warren Street Pharmacy, tearing out the partition wall between the store and the old postoffice building, thereby enlarging the store and a new front has been put in and all the fittings in the interior are new and up to date.

The whistle at E. B. Jones & Co.'s canning factory blowing at 11:30 o'clock in the morning, has aroused the wonder of our residents. It is explained by the fact that the apparatus does not arrive until a late hour and the whistle is a sign for the employees to go to work at one o'clock.

The members of the new organization, J. R. Ridgway Camp Sons of Veterans, who are drilling in the City Hall every evening, under the charge of their elected officers, bids fair to become an excellent company. They expect to receive suits, guns and etc., to be bought out of the proceeds of the fair of a few weeks past. We wish them good luck.

Following is a list of Beverly soldiers in Co. K, 3rd Regt., N. J. Volunteers, who were Camp officers, Sea Girt. It is of interest and will be more so as the boys grow older.—Thomas Cain, Charles Elmes, Howard L. Fish, Roland A. Hatcher, Daniel N. Perkins, Thomas W. Snick, Edward F. Swanson, George A. Vanderrive, William H. Ward and James Cannon.

An enjoyable dinner was tendered by the members of the Beverly Singing School to their instructor, the Rev. T. S. Fritz, at the residence of Mrs. Joseph Ballor, on Cooper street, on Monday evening. A large number were present. Music and other amusements constituted the course of the evening. At a late hour an excellent collation was served after which the scholars departed well pleased with the evening's social.

The Dramatic Entertainment in the Odd Fellows Hall on Thursday evening, at which the play "Emeralds," in four acts by Francis Hodgson Burnett and William H. Gillette was produced was largely attended by our residents, Miss Helen Bates, of Philadelphia, sang several solos and Miss Grace Wilson played several petrotic airs between the acts. It was the best of the Free Kindergarten and a large sum was realized.

Milton Hansel, well known in this city, who lived near Riverton, died at his home on Saturday afternoon in the sixtieth year of his age, after a short illness. Funeral services were held in the Quaker Meetinghouse at Ranococas, and interment was made in the Monument Cemetery, this city, on Tuesday morning. A number of the deceased friends and relatives followed his body to its last resting place. He leaves a son and a daughter to mourn his demise.

LAWN PARTY.

A lawn party for the benefit of St. Luke's Homeopathic Hospital, (non-sectarian) 3326 North Broad street, Philadelphia, will be given at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Baldwin, Edgewater Park, on Saturday afternoon, June 4th, from four to six o'clock. There will be music on the lawn attended by an organ recital in the house.

Among the amusements there will be games of croquet, the net imported from England and ball and dancing on the lawn. Mr. Harrison, who holds the championship of long distance golf ball driving, having won that honor in the tournament held in Chicago last year, will give exhibitions in that line and in other parts of this increasing favorite game. He will have on sale an excellent variety of golf sets, balls and sticks.

A number of raffish on useful articles will take place, of which we mention the following: lady's and gentlemen's bicycles, golf sets with caddy bags, ton of coal, (if the winner lives in Edgewater Park or Beverly it will be delivered free of charge, but if the lucky one resides at some distance, he or she will receive the equivalent of the coal in money) a commutation forty-six trip ticket to Philadelphia, from the place where the winner lives. Books will contain fancy articles, flowers, bon-bons, bric-a-brac and other useful articles which will be on sale at moderate prices. Luncheon fifty cents, served from four to nine o'clock. Ticket of admission 25 cents, which can be procured from the managers or ladies of St. Luke's Homeopathic Association. Slaves will meet trains to and from Edgewater Park station.

Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin wish it to be understood that this entertainment is for everyone of the surrounding towns. Every small amount spent in tickets or on the grounds will most heartily be thanked and be of great help to a most worthy cause, as now in these times of war there will be a heavy expense on the hospital in taking care of the sick and wounded.

The idea is to give everybody a good time, which seldom happens, and to let them feel that while they are enjoying themselves they are at the same time contributing to a worthy object.

Let the words be passed along the line "Come one and come all."

WASHINGTON LETTER.

May 23rd, 1898.

There is more expectation than war news in Washington, so far as the public is concerned. That is why the hourly rumor finds believers no matter how wild it may be. There is no important news—but it is of contemplated movements rather than of battles fought and things accomplished; consequently it comes under the ban of the censorship which has been established by the government and is not allowed to be made public. It relates to the movements of our warships which are trying to get that Spanish fleet which is dodging around Cuba, and there are reasons for expecting the success of the efforts.

Talk is again prevalent of postponing the invasion of Cuba until fall. The reasons given are that the rainy season will begin in Cuba about the tenth of June, during which it will be impossible to carry on an aggressive campaign, and that it will require several months time to manufacture enough of ammunition that will be needed by the army. The fact that talk is semi-officially encouraged, instead of being rebuked, makes it probable that it is intended to throw the Spaniards off their guard. It is only the Spaniards who have contended that military operations could not be carried on during the rainy season; the insurgents have proven the contrary by making their most active campaigns during that season. United States troops may be landed in Cuba any day. What else are the troops being hurried south for?

Speaker Reed's vote in the committee on Rules, of which he is chairman, will decide whether a special rule shall be reported to the House for the consideration of the joint resolution for the annexation of Hawaii, the other four members of the committee being equally divided. Although Speaker Reed is opposed to annexation, he probably will vote against the resolution, it is expected that in deference to the wishes of his party he will vote for the rule. If he does, the resolution will at once be adopted by a large majority.

President McKinley must have succeeded in getting exceptional men in his Cabinet. When everybody else is engaged in trying to hook or crook to get a pointer on the plans of the army and navy, the members of the Cabinet decided that it would be best to confine such knowledge to the President and the Secretaries of the War and Navy, and in accordance with that decision requested the President not to discuss intended movements at Cabinet meetings. The gentlemen who have thus cut themselves off from opportunities to know everything going on and to go on say they did not do so from any lack of interest, but from fear that they might, if they knew the plans, in an intended movement say something in jest or in earnest, which would be a foundation for publications that might result in frustrating those plans. A factious Congressman says the members of the Cabinet merely advertise their ignorance of war plans to escape being questioned by their friends and families, especially their wives. Though spoken in jest there may be some truth in that idea.

Although the Senate has devoted practically an entire week to the consideration of the amended war revenue bill, it has not acted upon a single one of the disputed clauses of the bill, each of them having been passed over "by request" as reached. The only real fight that is likely to occur will be over the substitute offered by Senator Allison, restoring the bonds and interest bearing certificates of indebtedness as provided for in the bill as it passed the House, place of the issue of greenbacks the coins of the silver, signiorage, and the issue of silver certificates, put in the bill by the silver majority of the Senate Finance committee. The disputes over all the other clauses are upon details rather than principles, and can easily be settled. It is still believed that a majority of the Senate will vote the bonds, although political pressure is being used to combine all the silver votes against bonds. It is claimed that enough democrats have pledged themselves to defeat this movement; and one silver republican—Mantle, of Missouri—is counted for bonds.

The administration thinks it will be a good policy for Congress to clinch the friendliness expressed for this country by the officials of France by making an unusually large appropriation for American representation at the big Paris Exposition in 1900—something like $1,000,000.

P. O. S. of A.

Thirty-two candidates obligated on Monday evening, May 16th, and one initiated on last Monday evening, with five more propositions handed in on same evening, is a great record for Washington Camp.

Rev. Mr. Calp will be the orator of the day. You all know him by his great oration on Camp Reunion on Monday evening, the 16th inst.

Don't fail to help the P. O. S. of A. on their Strawberry Festival in the grove on Decoration afternoon; and evening. Tickets, 15 cents.

"I would not be without Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for its weight in gold," writes D. J. Jones, of Holland, Va. "My wife was troubled with a cough for nearly two years. I tried various patent remedies, besides numerous prescriptions from physicians, all of which did no good. I was at last persuaded to try a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which promptly relieved the cough. The second bottle effected a complete cure." The 25 and 50 cent bottles are for sale by G. T. Williams, Druggist.
